Boy found dead

Scott Friedman, 15, found behind school Sunday

The "suspicious death" of a 15-year-old Highland Lakes resident is being investigated by Northville Township police this week.

Scott Friedman, of 20101 Silver Springs Drive, was found dead behind Silver Springs Elementary School Sunday morning, less than 300 yards from his home.

Police said Monday there was no firm evidence of assault or homicide and early media reports that Friedman had been beaten to death were "blown out of proportion."

"I don't want the people to be alarmed," said Northville Township Police Chief Ronald Nisun.

Reports that Friedman had been beaten were based on abrasions appearing on his forearms, hands and on his face, police said.

"We do not know what they are from at this time," said Lieutenant Kenneth Hardesty. The report of the county medical examiner's autopsy is expected Friday, after toxicology examinations are completed.

A spokesperson for the Wayne County Medical Examiner's office said there were no significant injuries to the body.

Investigation revealed that Friedman and three other Northville teens had been "drinking quite heavily" Saturday night, according to Hardesty.

The three were held for questioning Sunday morning. Police classified the teens questioned as two juveniles and one adult, ages 14-18. No charges were filed and the township residents were released that afternoon, Presnell said. The detective declined to state whether they were residents of Highland Lakes.

Friedman's body was found near a doorway on the northwest side of the elementary school. He was nude from the waist up. His shirt and coat were found beside the body, Presnell said.

The detective would neither confirm nor deny reports that the youngster's trousers were found around his knees, saying only that he was found on his back, "partially clothed."

Presnell said Ronald Friedman, the boy's father, reported making telephone calls Saturday night, but failed to locate Scott, and gave up for the night.

When his son was still not home Sunday morning he called one of the teens who, it was later determined, had been drinking with Scott. The youth said he had last seen Scott around midnight, when they left him behind the school.

The youth found Scott's body and the father phoned township police. A uniformed officer responded and called in Presnell, the township's only detective, at 10:22 a.m.

School records show Scott had been a student at Northville High School since September. His parents are divorced and he completed junior high last June in Farmington Hills, where he lived with his mother. He moved into his father's township home prior to the new school year.

Although police are moderating reports that the death was a homicide, Presnell said they are "not ruling anything out" in the continued investigation. He left open the possibility that one or more persons may be arrested following completion of the autopsy.

State police and the county medical examiner are assisting the township force in the investigation.

The story above was reported by Ken Kovacs and Kevin Wilson. It was written by Wilson.

State lottery provides 'better' way to $50,000

By KEVIN WILSON

"It was down to me and one other guy over who would get $1,000 a week for life," Steve Smigielski says, explaining the Michigan Lottery drawing January 20.

The "other guy" took the big prize, but Smigielski didn't exactly lose either. He took the second largest of the prizes that day — $50,000.

The 23-year-old Northville resident says he "was standing in the middle of this huge mall and screaming at the top of my lungs," which drew some strange looks, he recalls.

Following a three-week Florida "blow out" the 1975 Northville High School graduate has returned to the Highland Lakes home his mother, Barbara, shares with him. He has also returned to his job at Joe's Pantry.

In a way, working at the counter of the Eight Mile party store is what brought Smigielski his good fortune.

"It was the first day of the 'Surprise Package' (instant lottery game), so it must have been in November, and this guy came in and wanted to play the new game," Smigielski recalls.

"I told him I still had three tickets left to the old game, the football game, and had to sell those first. But no, he had to have the new game. 'But sir,' I said, 'I'm sorry, but that's just the way it works.'"

"But he just kept on (complaining)... so I said 'what the h—' and bought the last three tickets in the book myself," he explains. "The last one in the book was the $100 winner, and it just went from there."

The instant lottery games include 30,000 winners of $100, from whom 10 finalists are drawn. Prizes are awarded in increments of $5,000 from that figure up to the $1,000-a-week-for-life grand prize.

"I got the call from Lansing two days before Christmas telling me I was going to make at least $5,000," Smigielski says. "I said, 'This has to be a joke' and hung up after he gave me the number and called him back. It was for real."

January 20, Smigielski and the other finalists went to a Lansing shopping mall, where the final drawing was held. Each finalist drew a sealed envelope and placed it in position on a rack. Each slot on the rack designated a specific prize.

"It was really exciting," he says, perching himself on the edge of his seat. "They just kept drawing, and each time it wasn't your name, you knew you had won another $5,000 for sure. When it finally happened, it was better than hitting the trifecta at the Downs."

(By way of comparison, the largest single payoff at Northville Downs on the trifecta was March 20, 1974, when a single bet paid $7,312, making Smigielski's return on a $1 ticket look mighty hefty indeed. For perspective, "double-doubles" at other Michigan tracks have paid more than $50,000.)

So, what do you do when you win $50,000?

If you're Steve Smigielski, you call up four friends from around the country, visit your local travel agent, and have everyone flown to Florida to three weeks of fun and frolic.

You visit Daytona Beach, take a chartered flight to Ft. Lauderdale (the pilot lets you take the wheel for awhile) and take a four-day Emerald Seas cruise to the Bahamas. You go to Paradise Island and play roulette, followed by $500 a hand blackjack, at which you win nearly $7,000 and then lose it back.

"They set up a special table for me and one other guy, an executive from Exxon, it was great," he says now. "I was up around $6,900 before I lost it. It was their money anyway, I just gave it back. The guy from Exxon, though, he lost $20,000 of his own money."

Smigielski estimates the Florida party set him back some $5,000. He enjoyed it, but says it isn't something he would do again.

"I never thought I'd say this, but when all you do is party it gets to be boring. And Florida, it was nice, but my family owns some land up around Traverse City and I wouldn't trade Traverse Bay for the whole Atlantic Ocean," he explains. "Florida reminds me of Manhattan, it's always go, go, go — high pressure. It's over-commercialized."

He figures if he had won a game show contest, he would have received a trip, so he took one. But he also thinks his other recent expenses will be useful for a while to come.

He did not own a car before, now he has a 1978 Sunbird with stereo and sunroof. His desire to own a Corvette has waned somewhat after hearing about insurance costs, the car's popularity with thieves and the costs of body work. He says he thinks he will just hang onto the car he bought

Township turns down request for multiples

The township board of trustees Thursday voted 6-1 to deny a request for additional multiple family zoning on Seven Mile, despite the likelihood that legal suit would result.

The vote ran against the recommendations of the planning commission, the county and the township planning consultant but was basically in sympathy with desires expressed by residents of surrounding developments.

Rezoning of the 22-acre parcel from its current R-3, single family, class to RM, multiple family residential, was first requested by the owner, Frances Graham, in mid-1979.

Protest from surrounding residents and other delays repeatedly pushed back a final decision on the request.

For a moment Thursday, it looked as though the decision would be delayed again.

Edward Wilkie Meyer, Graham's brother, addressed the board and initially requested that the matter be tabled once again so he could meet with angered residents of Highland Lakes and Grandview Acres.

Wilkie Meyer said he thought he could convince them that their arguments that RM zoning would increase traffic hazards along Seven Mile (the parcel is on the north side of Seven Mile, at the crest of the hill in front of the state police post) were incorrect.

Following that request, the board granted Plymouth attorney John Thomas, counsel to the petitioners, several minutes in the hallway with his client, after which Thomas returned and requested that the board vote on the question.

Clerk Susan Heintz made the motion to deny the request, which six of the seven trustees voted for; James Nowka, the only trustee who served throughout the preceding administration, was alone in his vote to support the planning commission recommendation that half the acreage be rezoned as a compromise.

Most township officials agree that there is too much multiple zoning along Seven Mile, but do not agree on how it happened or what should be done now.

The township master plan of land use indicates that the southern portion of the property lies in an area designated multiple while the northern segment lies in an R-3 area.

That served as the basis for the planning commission's recommendation to split the zoning on the parcel, granting the requested RM on the southern 11

City Council denies group home

Northville City Council Monday voted unanimously to recommend denial for a small group home for the retarded at 364 Wing on two counts.

Councilmember J. Burton DeRusha made the motion after it was brought out during a public hearing that the house — for which application is being made to house up to six persons plus two supervisors — is located on the rear of a lot that also contains a two-family dwelling and does not meet city lot size requirements.

His motion also pointed out that the city already has facilities nearby for retarded students. The Institution Special Education Program (ISEP) is housed in the school on Main Street located less than two blocks from the proposed group home.

During the hearing the city heard from five residents who live or own property near the proposed home. Most expressed concern for the closeness of the quarters there.

Outnumbering residents were members of the staff from the Northville Residential Training Center and others supporting group homes, including one man who said he was employed in a home elsewhere.

The training center at 41001 West Seven Mile is the sponsor for the proposed home to be licensed under Homes of Opportunity, Incorporated.

City Manager Steven Walters told the training center representatives that the homes are considered nonconforming under present zoning but that they predated residential requirements of the zoning ordinance passed in the 1940s.

The lot size (181.97 by 69.17 feet), Walters said, is not sufficient for two homes today.

Wilma Albrecht, stating that she lives next door at 350 South Wing, pointed out that the back yard is extremely small and that the two houses on the lot share a drive in an "almost impossible situation."

She said her concern was loss of her privacy and for her children's privacy and safety in such close quarters. She added that she was aware "the city can't touch them (those instituting placements) but our rights are being violated."

Mayor Paul Vernon agreed that the city does not have the right of refusal but said he felt it has the right to object. He stressed that the community has not been prejudiced against mentally handicapped and has worked with students in the ISEP.

Thomas Kennedy, named as consultant from the training center on the application dated January 14, said that he first visited the home last week and had not realized its location.

However, he told council and the audience under Public Act 218 passed in 1979 the only requirements given are capacity of bedroom footage — 80 square feet for a single and 70 per person for multiple use up to four persons in a room.

This house, he said, met the administrative requirement.

It was noted that the house has one bath on the main floor and a half-bath upstairs.

De Rusha asked if there were no other requirements, and when told not, said the cramped quarters (totaling about 1200 square feet) with small baths would be a "terrible" situation.

Tom Stark, identified as the group home developer for the program, said he initially had been contacted by the home owner, listed as Mike Stafford of 25822 Sierrra Drive, Novi. Stark said Stafford told him he lives near such a facility in Novi and owns both the houses on the lot in Northville. Stark explained the State of Michigan will rent the dwelling from Stafford.

Vernon wondered if this were the area in Novi where residents were supposed to be seeking reduction in their

Township to replace Mosher

By KEVIN WILSON

McNeely & Lincoln Associates, Inc. was named township engineer Thursday, displacing William Mosher, who had served for more than 19 years.

The new firm was chosen from a field of eight invited to submit bids. McNeely & Lincoln recently was named city engineer and, like Mosher, has offices in Northville while the chief officer lives in the township. Mosher was not among those invited to bid.

The board of trustees voted 6-1 Thursday to hire McNeely, despite many protests lodged by residents sitting in the audience.

The reason for ending the agreement with Mosher was unclear, and township officials declined to offer details, spurring the audience protest.

Mosher was appointed township engineer February 6, 1962, retroactive to February 1 of that year. Thursday was his last official day in that capacity. There was no formal contract governing the relationship, and annual reviews or bid solicitations had not been township practice. Mosher was not in attendance at the meeting.

When the item came up at the meeting, residents almost immediately began asking for an explanation.

"I am not going to state a reason," said supervisor John MacDonald, "nor do I believe we have to do so."

He said the change in engineering consultants, "does not reflect on Mr. Mosher's competency or ability in any way," and that he wished to reveal no more details of the decision.

"If it does not represent a decision based on cost or competency," said resident William Gaul, "then it looks like there is a personal or political motivation."

MacDonald denied that such motives existed, but declined to comment further.

ther. Treasurer Richard Henningsen, however, added some insight, saying "one engineer is very much like another. They are like accountants in that way; they are trained in the same things and when you take one out of a

For police services

Township seeks 1.5 mill renewal

Northville Township has scheduled a special election May 5 for renewal of 1.5 mills in property taxes allocated to police services.

The board of trustees set the date Thursday after trying unsuccessfully to reduce expenses several different ways.

It left open the possibility of adding other issues to the May 5 ballot.

"We tried to 'piggyback' on the school election (April 4) but their district and ours don't coincide enough to make it feasible," said clerk Susan Heintz.

Margaret Tegge, former clerk and occasional administrative consultant, said the community's request to use a paper ballot was denied because precincts contain more than 400 registered voters.

"You mean we have to go to the expense of those punch cards and all that just for a single question?" asked trustee Richard Allen.

Heintz said the board could vote to set the election date without designating the full ballot, leaving the way open to add other items during the budget hearing process, if the need arises.

Renewal of the 1.5 mills (one mill equals one dollar per $1,000 state equalized valuation) was cited as one of the most important township issues during last year's election.

Treasurer Richard Henningsen and Clerk Susan Heintz also cited it as one of the more important issues to be resolved in 1981.

"The residents of the township must be convinced to support this renewal, and perhaps an increase, if they continue to demand better police services," Henningsen said.

The idea of additional millage for police has been debated throughout the past year. In January, the board decided not to ask for a police special assessment district, which would have allowed levies up to 10 mills at board discretion.

Most trustees have expressed concern that asking for increased millage on the same ballot with the renewal would jeopardize the renewal.

It appears unlikely that any increased tax would be requested in the May election.

The 1.5 mills for police expires this year. The township also collects one mill for general operations and .5 mills, approved by voters in August, for fire protection.

The police millage was passed by the voters in 1976. It applied for five years, 1976-80 inclusive. The renewal request will probably also be for five years, 1981-85, both inclusive. The taxes collected are set aside solely for police uses and comprise the largest part of the police budget.

State and federal revenue sharing funds, which have added to the police budget, are falling off and appear threatened, making renewal of the millage more important to the department.

Board opposes property tax issue

Northville Township joined the outcry against state property tax laws requiring "equalization by class" last week, passing a resolution opposing immediate implementation of the law.

The board of trustees lodged its opposition to Public Act 114 of 1979 in its regular meeting Thursday, mere days before the "deadline" imposed by laws demanding preparation of tax bills for 1981 during February. The legislature had been expected to consider two bills delaying full implementation by last weekend.

The bills, introduced by Senator George Hart (D-Dearborn), are still languishing. They had not come to a vote prior to the February 15 deadline established to have the delay take effect this year. Governor William Milliken said last week he would veto Hart's bill if approved, but might be amenable to proposals phasing in implementation of the law over several years.

Under P.A. 114 township homeowners would see property valuations rise by over 20 percent. Without the law, the inflation-caused increase in valuation (reflecting 50 percent of market value) would be 15.7 percent.

"Actually, when you consider what is happening in many communities, including Northville city, we are not being hit too badly," township supervisor John MacDonald said. "Valuations here have been pretty close to the mark, and although it hurts, we are facing nothing like the 40 percent and better increases seen in some places."

Under P.A. 114, which is the technical implementation of a philosophy put forth in Public Act 381 of 1978, residential valuations rise faster than do commercial or industrial ones.

The legislature intended the law to address an inequity found in some communities where business and industry is carrying a "disproportionate share" of the tax burden.

Many Wayne County communities have lodged objections to the law, contending that the increase should be phased in over a period of years.

Some communities, Northville in-

Township joins city in 'good will' effort

Northville Township has joined city attempts to foster a concept of "community" among local units of government.

Mayor Paul Vernon appeared before the township board to solicit its support and cooperation in attempts to share services and equipment among local governments and to open lines of communication so that each government can understand the impact its decisions have on its neighbors.

Vernon said the idea was sparked both by budgetary concerns and his recent appearances before Novi planners to object to their intention to change the master plan and rezone for convenience shopping at Eight Mile and Griswold Roads.

"In my presentation, I attempted to convey the thought that people live in communities, not necessarily in cities or townships, and that a convenience center at that location would not be in the best interests of the four communities of the city of Novi, the township of Novi, the city of Northville and the township of Northville considered as a whole," the mayor explained.

"That point was strongly supported by many residents of each of those governmental units who also attended and spoke at the meetings," he continued.

"They were virtually unanimous in their contentions they live in the Northville-Nowi community, regardless of where their homes are located, and in that community there are ample shopping facilities to take care of most of their needs."

Vernon was appearing with the support of the city council as a good will gesture, he said, because "cooperation between local units of government is vital" for maintenance of the living environment in the community.

He squelched any thoughts that his appearance was the first step in renewed efforts to annex the township to the city.

"...There are some who will say I am once again proposing unification," Vernon said, "Nothing could be further from the truth."

"My support of the One Northville Plan (several years ago) was because I firmly believed it would have been in the best interests of both communities to unify, but that is no longer the case because circumstances have changed dramatically."

He did not rule out petitions "for annexation from specific parcels, but any such petition would be carefully examined to make certain they would serve the interest of city taxpayers as well as the petitioners before they would be given any serious consideration."

Vernon referred to the pressures on local government resulting from cuts in state and federal aid. Continuation of services citizens demand, despite the loss of financial resources, could be accomplished through cooperation.

He cited the present city-township cooperative arrangements for library and recreation services as a good example. He also referred to the city's recent agreement with Plymouth to share building inspection services (a similar agreement between the city and township was ceased last year).

Vernon said he and the council had directed city manager Steven Walters to act as a liaison with township business manager David Lelko to "explore with us any possibility of cooperative effort" if the township board approved.

He suggested that completion of the road under the viaduct off South Main Street to link with Silver Springs Drive would be a "major step in tying our communities closer together and we hope that can be done soon."

Agreements to share services and equipment were among many items discussed at a meeting of western Wayne County communities in Westland last month. Lelko, Walters, and Vernon were among those attending. Lelko already had expressed a desire to explore the possibilities.

The township board voted to endorse the concept, and thanked the mayor for his approach.

Self serve gas debate to continue in special session

As details of an ordinance which would permit a split island concept for self-service gas along with full service in the city became more like heavy oil than gas in an hour-long discussion Monday at city council, members voted to devote a special study session to the matter next Monday night.

Again, for the third consecutive council meeting, members heard from both sides of the self-serve debate as they considered whether to repeal the ordinance banning self-service stations within the city limits.

Decision to hold the study session and to continue the public hearing at the next regular council meeting March 2, however, was not unanimous. Councilmember Carolann Ayers stated she had studied provisions of the ordinance drawn up by the city attorney and was ready for the vote.

The matter had been brought to the council's attention as a representative of Shell Oil Company asked the city to consider the split island concept in January. Richard Truzzi stated it is necessary to be competitive.

Monday night Cal Cross, owner of one of two stations on Main street, told council that older people do not want to pump their own gas and said that "for two or three cents difference" customers will be losing service, especially for repairs.

He said he hoped the city would not permit "gas 'n' go" operations.

Mayor Paul Vernon told Cross his mind was not yet made up on rescinding the ordinance and assured him that self service alone would not be permitted.

Councilmember Stanley Johnston questioned the cents per gallon differential, saying it was more like seven cents.

"If you permit self service," Cross predicted, "you'll have Boron nailing up the back room and where will you get repairs?"

James Davis, manager of the Boron station at Eight Mile and Taft, said that Boron is changing its mode of operation and that he is a single businessman and "is well aware that people want it (self service)."

As the council delved into details of the ordinance spelling out attendant duties, it was decided to hold the work session at 8 p.m. next Monday.

Council also will go over budget revisions submitted by the city manager during the session.

Township previews self serve law

Gasoline stations offering self service islands would be required to install fire extinguishers over the pump islands under a proposed Northville Township law.

A draft of the regulation was presented at the board of trustees meeting Thursday and was sent to township attorney Donald Morgan for review. It is similar to a Plymouth Township ordinance.

An amendment to the fire prevention code, the law would require a permanent, dry chemical fire extinguishing system with both automatic and manual controls.

It would be installed over all self service islands and the system approved.

The regulation also demands that all self serve pumps be in direct view of the attendant and that if a station combined full service and self service operations, the self service island be closest to the attendant.

Back-up extinguishers accessible to the attendant also would be required. Hoses on pumps would be limited in length to keep all dispensing operations under the overhead extinguishing system.

In response to a citizen question as to why such requirements would be limited to self serve stations, trustee James Nowka said the law would provide protection under the most dangerous conditions while imposing the least possible regulatory burden on businesses operating in the township.

There currently are two gasoline stations offering self-service in the township, both Boron stations. One is at Six Mile and Haggerty, the other at Seven Mile and Northville Road.

The city of Northville, which has prohibited self serve operations, is still considering allowing them under similar regulations as those proposed in the township. The city would prohibit stations from operating only with self serve islands. However, it would demand at least one full service island at each city station.

A city Shell station on Northville Road, ironically within the line-of-sight of one of the township Boron stations, has shut down, saying it cannot make a profit without the ability to offer self service.

The two stations in the township, and any others that may offer self serve prior to passage of any regulation, would be given 60 days to bring their operations into compliance. All new self serve stations would have to meet the requirements prior to beginning business.

Township attorney Donald Morgan is expected to make his recommendations to the board of trustees at its March meeting.

At Cooke, Meads Mill

Students named to class honor rolls

A list of junior high students receiving grade point averages of 3.5 or better for the first semester has been released by Meads Mill and Cooke junior high schools.

Approximately 24 percent of the 7th, 8th and 9th graders at Meads Mill earned grade point averages of 3.5 or better, according to Counselor Dave Adair.

Ravines site plan okayed

Tentative preliminary approval was granted Thursday for Stage II of Ravines of Northville, an Elro Corporation development slated for construction at Six Mile and Sheldon.

The subdivision earlier received such approval for its first phase. Elro representative Jeff Orley said the company wishes to be ready to begin construction "as soon as market conditions improve."

The board of trustees approval was in line with a recommendation from the township planning commission.

He's 'alumni extraordinaire'

Hillsdale honors glass inventor

Northville-Novu area resident William B. Chase, founder and president of Shatterproof Glass Company, received Hillsdale College Detroit Alumni Association's "Alumni Extraordinaire" award February 7 at the association's annual dinner dance.

The award was presented in recognition of his business accomplishments, community involvement and loyal support of his alma mater, Hillsdale, stated Georgine Bashara Hayes, Detroit alumni association president, in making the presentation.

The 19th annual alumni dinner dance was held at the Detroit Athletic Club and was attended by 200 alumni and friends.

The citation called Chase "a true American pioneer and inventive genius," saying, "He has had a great impact on the lives of all of us gathered here this evening."

"His lifelong commitment to the improved safety of the motoring public, through the invention of safety glass, has drastically reduced the number of personal injuries and saved countless lives over the years. For this very vital feature on today's transportation vehicles, we are all deeply indebted."

It related how the honoree "had a fairly typical, uncomplicated childhood, growing up in a small town in central New York."

"His budding entrepreneurial spirit kept him busy at a variety of tasks — mowing lawns, milking cows, selling peanuts and working on a farm in the summertime for $3 a week."

"Chase attended a one-room school, and in 1910, at the age of 14, was sent away to Hillsdale College to study for the Baptist ministry. Judging the ministry too severe, he transferred to the University of Michigan in 1914 to earn a teaching certificate and to study medicine."

After a brief stint at the Ford Motor Company, a job as a stenographer and as a teacher in Murphysboro, Illinois, William Chase went into the paper box business in Detroit, buying used boxes from the automobile plants and selling them to drug, hardware and department stores.

His business expanded to the point where he rented a four-story building to house all the boxes.

Then, his story continues, quite by accident, a man came into his office, saying he had a carload of glass on a rail siding but didn't have money to pay the freight bill so the contents could be released to Fisher Body. Chase paid the freight charges and split the profit on the glass with his new friend, launching a new career in the glass business.

The IXL Glass Company was founded in 1922, with three employees and an area of 1,600 square feet. The main purpose of this new company was to supply glass to car manufacturers and auto glazing shops.

back windows for the 1940 Studebakers and Willys-Overlands. Production for curved automotive windshields was in full swing a year later.

An affiliate, Shatterproof de Mexico, was incorporated in 1955, and exports now reach more than 65 countries around the world. Insulating glass was added in 1962; automotive air conditioning in 1964; and oven door window units in 1965.

In addition to the innovative techniques involving production and expansion of the safety glass market, Chase can claim a number of other "firsts," it was pointed out at the testimonial dinner program.

They include safety glass for the school bus industry, formation of the Safety Glass Association in the mid-'40s, which promoted safety glass laws requiring inspection of windshields, guaranteed replacement service, publication of a national directory of authorized safety glass replacement shops, windshield code of ethics and provision for a windshield warranty.

Today Chase's firm occupies more than a million square feet of plant and office space and employs more than 1,500 employees.

Almost from the beginning, the company has been directed toward the replacement glass market. Thanks to its continued growth under Chase's leadership, the award pointed out, Shatterproof is today the world's largest independent manufacturer of automotive replacement glass.

"Take care of your customers and the rest will take care of itself" has been the formula guiding the unique company through more than 50 years of service to the automotive industry.

After detailing the accomplishments of the company, the testimonial program cited Chase himself as "a person whose values are deeply rooted in the rewards of hard work, high moral standards, and individual liberty."

"As graduates of Hillsdale College," said Mrs. Hayes, "we all know of how closely his views parallel those of our alma mater, and we share his concern for the preservation of traditional American values."

Chase was an avid fisherman and long had been a bird hunter and cook. He is considered a top authority on wine and actually holds a wine importer's license. He and his second wife Georgianna live at 43300 West Eight Mile.

During the alumni presentation Chase's contributions to Hillsdale College were listed. He has provided a substantial number of students with the means to attend Hillsdale, it was pointed out, and has hired at least 40 Hillsdale graduates at Shatterproof over the years.

"Because of his enduring commitment to the college, he has worked tirelessly and in so many ways to 'sell' Hillsdale's philosophy to others," the citation read, noting that he twice before has been honored for his loyalty to the college — in 1967 he was recognized by an alumni achievement award and in 1972 he was conferred an honorary Doctor of Business Administration degree by the college.

The third — the Alumni Extraordinaire Award — came at the dinner.

Another distinguished Hillsdale alumni, Congressman Philip M. Crane of Illinois, who is a member of the college board of trustees, was the speaker of the evening at the dinner. Dr. George C. Roche, Hillsdale president, also spoke.

Blizzard of '81

Picture Story
by John Galloway

Never since the Blizzard of '78 were things so white. While things came to a standstill for most everyone, there were those who had to go on, like press photographers. Trying to drive around the city looking for good images was not easy. Besides avoiding ditches and sliding cars, keeping the lens dry was a real chore. Mail carrier Betty Karsten is seen trudging through the snow in the far left photo. Shoveling snow in front of Sandie's Hallmark is Carole Henson. An unidentified pedestrian, below, is trying to get across Main Street. Scenes like these were everywhere Tuesday afternoon.

Kellogg grant aids library

The grant will be used to train librarians in cable television programming and to test cable television transmission of automated library services.

owned by the 72 member libraries serving Wayne and Oakland counties.

The location of any book will be immediately known through computer terminals located in member libraries. Messages will be sent on line to transfer materials to libraries where readers use them.

Part of the Kellogg grant will go to utilize cable facilities now being installed in the WOLF service area for library data transmission. A pilot program will test the value of access to the WOLF data base from specially modified television sets located in homes, schools and government offices. As an incentive for smaller libraries to participate in the automated system, WOLF plans to use $51,000 of the grant to partially underwrite entry cost for about 17 libraries.

In 1976, the Kellogg Foundation awarded

WOLF libraries a grant of $167,800 which was used to prepare library collection records for conversion to automated handling.

The Wayne Oakland Library Federation (WOLF), whose membership includes Northville

Public Library, has received a $102,475 grant from the W. K. Kellogg Foundation of Battle Creek.

WOLF is evaluating proposals for an automated system, linking a common data base of the three million books

Police distribute ordinance copies

City warns that sidewalks must be clear of snow, ice

The City of Northville means business when it says it intends to have safe, clear sidewalks -- but police really weren't issuing citations after the storm last week.

They were distributing copies of Article IV of the city ordinance covering snow and ice removal.

Earlier this winter city council had observed there was an ordinance in effect requiring removal of snow and ice from the sidewalks within 24 hours of accumulation.

It provides a stiff penalty. Those cited may be subject to a fine of not more than $100 or to imprisonment for a period not to exceed 90 days, plus court costs, or both at the discretion of the court.

But Police Chief Rodney Cannon said last week the copies of the ordinance were being given to downtown area property owners by officers as a warning.

He urged property owners to sprinkle ashes, salt sand or kitty litter on iced pavements. Acknowledging that it could be impossible to remove the solid ice, he said he was just asking that sidewalks areas be "made abrasive."

He added that only one citation actually has been issued this winter; it was to the owners of the vacant Friendly Ice Cream building on Center. In this case, he said, the city has cleaned the walks and will add charges to the tax bill.

The city ordinance also states that no snow or ice removed from private parking lots and driveways can be deposited into or across any street or alley to impede traffic or reduce roadway surface.

Police Blotter

Charges brought in apartment fire

Michael Collins of Ypsilanti will be arraigned in Wayne County Circuit Court March 13 on charges of burning an occupied dwelling.

The 23-year-old man, charged with the Christmas Day arson of four apartments at the Swan Harbour complex on Seven Mile, was bound over by Judge James Garber of the 35th District Court February 9.

Collins was arrested by township police at his home January 14.

He was released later that day after posting 10 percent ($5,000) bond.

Collins currently remains free on bond.

Damage in the fire was estimated at more than $300,000.

A Northville woman received minor injuries February 9 in a two-car accident at the intersection of Haggerty and Six Mile, township police reported.

Holly Slanaker, 19369 Silver Spring Drive, was stopped at a red light on southbound Haggerty at Six Mile, waiting for the light to change, she told police.

When, after more than two or three minutes the light did not change, she proceeded into the intersection and was struck by a vehicle westbound on Six Mile, driven by Rose Marie Petti, 15480 Sheldon, police said.

Police investigation proved that the lights were malfunctioning. No citation was issued.

A Northville driver suffered minor injuries February 10 in a two-car accident on Taft near Eight Mile, city police reported.

Nadine Lester of 22258 Taft told police she lost control of her vehicle, which was traveling southbound on Taft, due to the icy conditions.

The car slide down the hill, crossed the center line and struck a northbound vehicle, driven by Roy Andrews of Pontiac, police said.

Lester suffered a bruised left thigh, while Andrews was unhurt, according to police.

No citation was issued.

Police are investigating a rash of incidences of vandalism February 8 at Kings Mill subdivision on Northville Road.

A 1972 Chevrolet Impala Wagon, 1980 Chevrolet and 1977 Oldsmobile each had rear windows smashed while the vehicles were parked in the lot on Jamestown Circle, police said.

Total damage is estimated at $550.

Four wire-wheel hub caps were reported stolen from a 1980 Chevrolet parked in the driveway of an Arcelot residence February 8, township police said.

Stolen property is valued at $200.

A Warren driver and her passenger suffered minor injuries February 13 when their vehicle, stopped at a red light on South Main, was rear-ended by a car driven by Larry King of South Lyon, city police reported.

The driver Paulette Bassin and passenger, Kitty Lynn Bulman, 8660 Napier, both complained of soreness to their head and neck.

Both women, apparently, struck their heads on the windshield when the crash occurred, police said.

King, who was not injured, was ticketed for failing to stop in a clear assured distance.

Police said a third vehicle, stopped at the light just south of Bassin's car, was not damaged. The vehicle left the scene before police arrived.

SALINE will be the exchange city with Northville in the annual Mayor Exchange Day of Michigan Week, which will be May 18, city council learned Monday. Ann Brueck has agreed to serve as local chairman again this year as the festivity has been reinstated in the city's budget. Plans also are being made for the annual dinner honoring employees.

One man's better way to $50,000

"I always wanted a Seiko watch, so I got that," he continues, reaching into the pocket of a new Bill Blass suit, "and this Dunhill lighter I just picked up."

Clothes were the other major expenditure Smigielski made. The tax man hit him up for an immediate $10,000, which he expects to get back by claiming gambling losses (the $50,000 is considered income from gambling, losses are business costs to a gambler) and averaging his income over the past few years, which have been rather lean.

With the crispness wearing off the money, Smigielski is coming back to earth and planning for the future.

"I have the bulk of the money in a fairly good investment with an insurance company, it pays the prime rate," he says. "I'm also looking into a couple of business deals I can't really talk about now. I've always wanted to own my own business and it shouldn't be long now."

The phone rings.

"That's happening all the time, now," he says. "I'm going to have to have the number changed, there are just too many people calling. All they want is my money. I think I know what I'm going to do with it."

Meanwhile, he went back to work at Joe's Pantry Monday.

"I figured, heck, I've got to do something. I can't just sit around and watch game shows and soaps," he says. "But, you know, I can really identify with those people who win on the game shows now. The way they scream and get excited. I can understand that."

Smigielski has only one other expense planned — his mother's birthday is April 13 and he intends to take her to Hawaii, another trip common in the game shows.

The odds against winning in the Michigan Lottery are fairly steep, especially on the last ticket, in the last book in the store, on the last day of an instant game. Smigielski says he thinks he will quit gambling.

"I'm finally really ahead of the game," he says. "I've given up gambling. I'm tired of gambling. It's good to be home now."

He says he plans no more trips to Northville Downs, but immediately tells about all the tracks in Florida.

"There's this horse I saw there, it's going to the Kentucky Derby, you know," he says. "What a horse. I think it may take the Derby."

Will he bet on the Derby? Smigielski says he doesn't know, and shakes his head.

His gambling days are through, he insists.

Will he buy more lottery tickets?

"Maybe $5 or $10 a week in dailies," he says. "It was funny, I hit on that, you know, picked the three numbers, just before all this. I won $83."

"I never really won anything before this, just $1 or $5, a few free tickets"

He notes that he isn't really used to money, wonders how the man who won the $1,000 per week for life is doing, then points out some quirky things that happened during the drawing.

"I was the ninth one to put an envelope in the slot, I put it in the $5,000 slot, the bottom one, and I was the ninth one to be drawn. Kind of funny, you know," he says. "The other guy, the guy who won the big prize, he put his own envelope in the $1,000 a week slot. He didn't know it was his, of course. They were all sealed."

"I wonder what that would be like. But, you know, the other guy was already rich. He owns some restaurants and things like that up there. He's used to money."

NHS teacher takes role in 'Tribute'

Northville High School teacher Pat Dorrian Sandbothe is playing the role of Dr. Gladys Petrelli in the Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild production of "Tribute."

Dorrian Sandbothe, who teaches English, humanities and creative writing at NHS, has worked with a variety of community theatre groups and the Greenfield Village Players.

"Tribute," which opened in Redford February 13, also will be presented at 8:30 p.m. this Friday and Saturday. Other performances are scheduled for February 27 and 28 and a matinee will be at 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

The theatre guild playhouse is located on Beech Daly Road, one block south of Five Mile and opposite the Redford Fire Department.

"Tribute," a major motion picture with Jack Lemmon in the lead role, has recently opened in major cities throughout the country.

The story focuses on a terminally ill entertainer and his estranged son.

In addition to asking parents to "kiss your baby" to see if the skin has the salty taste that is an indicator of Cystic Fibrosis, the Metropolitan Detroit Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation encourages fund raisers for research work.

Joy Rice of Northville is in charge of a bowling benefit to be held March 8 at Novi Bowl on Novi Road. Twenty lanes have been set aside for the benefit which is to have prizes for adults and children.

She's asking bowlers to pick up pledge sheets now from her at 349-3580 and to seek sponsors.

The program is designed to give early diagnosis and obtain treatment to prolong the lives of children with the incurable lung disease.

Township to consider zone request fee raise

Fees for planning commission reviews of site plans and rezoning petitions may be in for an increase.

The township board of trustees directed the commission to review its fee structure in light of a study that showed fees were not keeping up with processing costs.

"This shouldn't be a 'for-profit' operation," said treasurer Richard Henningsen, "but it should be in its own way."

While preparing its annual report to the board, the planning commission requested a review of its costs and its collections in fees during 1980.

Township consultant Margaret Tegge reported that commission operations, including township costs, and payments to its planning, engineering and legal consultants, cost nearly $33,000, while fees collected totaled $21,405.20.

Tegge cautioned that, due to pressures of time, the review was not complete and accurate but provides a "rough idea" as to the operation's financial standing.

The major expenses incurred in the processing of more than 20 various projects over the year were for engineering and planning consultant reviews, reports and attendance at meetings.

William Mosher Associates, last year's engineering consultant, was paid roughly $17,500 and Villican-Leman Associates, planning consultants, nearly $12,000.

The commissioners themselves were paid a total of $2,080 for the year's work and secretarial services cost $750.

The planning commission will review its fees, most particularly in regard to recouping township costs for reviews and reports not connected with developer's requests.

Fees to developers usually cover the connected consultant charges, but extra charges for work requested by the commission or the board made up more than 50 percent of the consultant costs.

Census figures draw objection

Northville Township's fight with the U S Census Bureau over 1980 figures continues, despite discouraging word from the bureau's Detroit offices.

Clerk Susan Heintz told the board of trustees Thursday that she had received a call from the Detroit office February 9.

"They advised that our census population is down (from expected levels) because our institutional population has decreased," Heintz explained. "They admit that our residential population has increased 95 percent over 10 years (1970 to 1980)."

The decline in institutional population is a result of the closing of Wayne County Child Development Center, decreased population at Plymouth Center and what township officials are calling a sly move on the part of Detroit.

At the time census workers were tabulating populations in Wayne County, Phoenix Correctional Institution was due to open. The opening was delayed, however, and the inmates were not sent to the prison until 24 hours after the census count was taken.

The inmates were housed in Detroit until after the census sweep, and were counted in Detroit's census count.

Institutional populations totalled 3,745 in 1970. The 1980 count was 1,698. With a stable institutional count, Heintz said she was told, the township would have approached the 15,000-plus census count it expected instead of the 12,970 reported, which is only a few hundred more than shown by a special census taken in 1976.

There is still some consternation among township officials, however, because they believe the residential population has climbed by more than is being allowed.

Specific tract information has not yet been released, so it is impossible for township officials to pinpoint any errors that may have been made.

Heintz said the Detroit office told her the 12,970 figure has been adopted as the official one by the census bureau.

"If we have any further complaints," she said, "We should direct them to Washington. The man I spoke with, however, claims this would not do much good."

Nonetheless, township officials are determined to carry the fight as far as possible without going to the expense of a court battle. Census figures are used in figuring state and federal revenue sharing funds and in a number of other financial programs.

Senator Carl Levin sent a letter to the township, saying he had contacted the Census Bureau in Washington and is making inquiries about the count. Representative Carl Pursell also has contacted the township, saying he, too, is pursuing the issue.

Heintz has said previously that the township would, if the need arises, foot the bill for a special census to be conducted to establish a more accurate figure — as was done in 1976.

Paying for such a census would be cheaper than taking the bureau to court and would probably pay for itself in increased state and federal revenues.

Another problem now facing the township as a result of the census figures is that the state is using 1980 total population numbers with 1970 institutional counts to figure state revenue sharing to the township.

Institutionalized population is divided in half and subtracted from the total population — thereby crediting the community with one-half its institutional population for revenue sharing purposes.

The larger 1970 count is decreasing the 1980 total by a larger amount than it would be cut if 1980 figures were used, and Heintz said the most immediate battle is to get the state to use the proper figures.

NORTHVILLE CITY COUNCIL MINUTES January 19, 1981

Councilman DeRusha called the meeting to order at 8:00 p.m. ROLL CALL Present: Ayes, DeRusha, Gardner, Absent: Vernon, (late, etc.) absent from the Counties of Wayne & Oakland, Johnston.

MINUTES OF PREVIOUS MEETING The Minutes of the Regular Meeting of January 5, 1981 were approved with the following correction:

Page 4, 7th paragraph, the date of the MML, Region III meeting should read "January 22."

The Minutes of the Special Meeting of January 8, 1981 were approved after discussion of the motion was held.

The City Attorney would review the letter from Mead Reinsurance Carrier and have a report for Council at their next regular meeting.

MINUTES OF BOARDS & COMMISSIONS The following minutes of boards and commissions were placed on file: Northville Beautification Commission Minutes, October 7, 1980, Northville Beautification Commission, November 10, 1980, December 8, 1980, Northville Community Recreation Commission, December 10, 1980.

APPROVAL OF BILLS Motion by Councilman Gardner supported by Councilwoman Ayers to approve the following bills:

General Fund, $72,349.15, Equipment Fund, $4,013.23, Construction Fund, $94,864.30, Public Improvement Fund, $7,145.26, Water Fund, $5,473.28, Major Street, $3,894.53, Local Street, $3,212.19, Shared Services, $2,339.28, Recreation Fund, $3,800.18, A.T. Operating Fund, $5,540.25, Payroll Fund, $24,072.60.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

POLICE REPORT There were none.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITIZENS: Mrs. Rosemary Hagge, 700 W. Main, stated the flooding of property was not confined to the immediate area of Potomac and N. Rogers, that her property was also badly flooded.

She came to the meeting to find out if anything has been done to relieve the problem.

The City Manager explained he had discussed the problem with the DPW and the Township re the drainage patterns coming from Beacon Woods. He stated he would have the DPW Superintendent and the engineer look at the area and have a report for the next meeting.

Councilwoman Ayers asked Mrs. Hagge if she felt the problem was related to the Potomac problem.

Mrs. Hagge answered yes, that her lot had always been dry until this year.

AGENDA REVISIONS. Mr. Truzzi, Shell Oil Co., asked that Item No. 13 be moved up, but would wait until Mayor Vernon arrived.

PUBLIC HEARING TO CONSIDER AN APPEAL TO TITLE 5, CHAPTER 10, RESTRICT THE PARKING OF CERTAIN COMMERCIAL VEHICLES UPON RESIDENTIALLY ZONED PRIVATE PROPERTY ORDINANCE: The Clerk read the notice as published.

Councilman DeRusha opened the public hearing and asked for comments from the audience.

Mrs. Becker, 543 Dubuair, stated she wanted to be sure of the intent of the appeal and what would be granted. She asked exactly what they were agreeing to.

The City Attorney explained that the Frid boys, doing business as Normar Landscaping, have asked for an appeal to permit them to park their trucks on the designated properties.

He also explained that Mr. Frid had furnished lease agreements from the property owners stating they had no objections to parking the trucks on their properties. He stated he does have this in writing, however, he wants to obtain a specific lease form. It was his recommendation that no more than one truck be parked at 374 and 383 N. Rogers, however all three could be parked at 515 Dubuair.

Mrs. Becker inquired if anyone else could do this.

The City Attorney answered no, that Mark Frid is the only one to whom the appeal is granted.

Mrs. Becker asked if she wanted to sell her property, could she ask that they be undone.

Councilwoman Ayers asked if there were any time limit on the granted appeal.

The City Attorney answered negative to both questions.

Councilman DeRusha suggested they might be more inclined to look at this on a yearly basis.

The City Attorney stated they have the preview to grant the appeal for six months or a year and at that time look at it and extend it, or they could condition the granting of the appeal and review it later.

Mrs. Becker hoped that Council would look at this later and review it.

Mrs. Hagge, W. Main, asked if this didn't set a precedent, and could anybody park their truck there.

Councilman DeRusha answered no and explained an appeal would have to be made.

Mr. Norman Frid, 374 Rogers, spoke and updated everybody on the history behind the appeal.

He stated the City and the neighbors had been very cooperative in the past and hoped they would be in the future.

Mayor Vernon arrived at 8:30 p.m.

Councilman DeRusha updated Mayor Vernon on what had taken place up to this point of the meeting.

Mayor Vernon asked if there were any more comments, there being none he closed the public portion of the hearing.

It was Councilman Gardner's feeling that Council would want to review this at the end of the year.

Councilman DeRusha commented that the appeal was for an open end approval, however, he would like to discuss reviewing it within a year.

Mark Frid asked if he could obtain a 2-year permit.

The City Attorney informed him that they would have to go through all this again. Council would review it and notify the neighbors of a hearing.

Mayor Vernon asked if there would be a problem if the trucks changed it was his feeling there should be a limit on the number of trucks.

Discussion followed.

Mrs. Becker commented she had no problem with the two-year request.

Mayor Vernon thought it might establish a precedent.

Motion as amended by Councilman Ayers supported by Councilman Gardner to grant the appeal for three trucks to be not larger than 1-ton capacity to be parked at the following areas: 515 Dubuair Street — one or all trucks, 383 North Rogers — one truck, 374 North Rogers — one truck, for a period of one year. The rights granted under this appeal are not transferable.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

SELF-SERVICE GAS STATIONS Councilman DeRusha explained about Mr. Truzzi's wish to have this item moved.

Mayor Vernon asked if there were any objections to moving this item up. There were none.

The City Attorney explained he had received copies of ordinances from the MML and from the Township of Canton re the split island concept. He stated that all state and county regulations would be followed as well as local requirements and suggested that Council repeal the present ordinance and substitute the new one. He stated that Council can approve for a public hearing and can adopt, amend and incorporate any suggestions made at that time.

Mr. Truzzi stated the effort would be appreciated and also gave figures on the cost of converting the gas station. He also mentioned it was entirely possible they would not be able to do anything.

Discussion followed.

Mr. Frid, N. Rogers, mentioned he would hope that City Council would not preclude this type of station from operation. He commented that now people have to drive out of town to get this type of service. It was his hope that self-service station would be allowed.

Mayor Vernon asked that a copy of the ordinance be sent to the Fire Chief for his input.

Motion by Councilwoman Ayers supported by Councilman DeRusha to publish for public hearing for February 2, 1981 for the purpose of repeal and replacement of Title 4, Chapter 14, Regulation and Sale of Flammable Liquids of the Code of Ordinances of the City of Northville.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

PUBLIC HEARING ON THE WAYNE COUNTY COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT SPECIAL NEEDS PROGRAM The Clerk read the notice as published.

Mayor Vernon opened the public hearing and asked for comments from the audience, there being none, he closed the hearing.

The City Manager stated he had not received any written communications from citizens with suggestions and he would recommend the money be added to the revolving fund for the DDA project.

The Mayor and City Manager would be attending the Chamber of Commerce meeting and would show the DDA film and explain the program at that time.

Motion by Councilman Gardner supported by Councilman DeRusha to approve the Special Needs for the $33,000 Revolving Fund for the DDA Project.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

The meeting was recessed at 9:25 pm and reconvened at 9:35 pm.

SET A PUBLIC HEARING DATE TO CONSIDER PROPOSED INDUSTRIAL WASTE SURCHARGE ORDINANCE Motion by Councilman Gardner supported by Councilwoman Ayers to publish for public hearing for February 2, 1981 for the purpose of repeal and replacement of Title VII, Chapter 15, Industrial Waste Surcharge Ordinance.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

TRAFFIC CONTROL ORDER NO 81-01: Communication from the State Department of Transportation asking for a justification of multiple stop intersections, explaining that the Federal Highway Administration has taken a position that the sign upgrading projects cannot receive final acceptance until the multi-stop locations are either shown to be warranted or reduced to two-way stop.

The Police Department conducted a survey on Baseline at Grace and Novi Streets and recommended they be changed to a two-way stop since speed nor traffic volume were factors.

was brought out that Baseline used to be a speed track, however, since the stop signs have been in place, this is not the case.

The City Manager would write a letter to the State Department stating the City's reasons for keeping Baseline a 4-way stop at Grace and Novi Streets. He was also asked to mention the playground in his letter.

Council did not take action on Traffic Control Order 81-01 to rescind Traffic Control Orders No 74-20 & 74-25 in keeping with the above.

81-02 Motion by Councilwoman Ayers supported by Councilman DeRusha to approve Traffic Control Order 81-02 as follows:

Under Section 236 of said Traffic Code the following location is hereby designated "No Parking Here to Corner": East side of North Center Street from Dunlap to thirty feet south of Dunlap.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

81-03 Motion by Councilman Gardner supported by Councilman DeRusha to approve Traffic Control Order 81-03 as follows:

Traffic Control Order No 74-24 is hereby rescinded, thereby returning Park Place to E Main Street to Cady Street to two way street and Cady Street from Park Place to Griswold to a two way street.

Also, under Section 230 of said Traffic Code the following location is hereby designated as a stop intersection:

Northbound Park Place at East Main Street.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

GROUP HOME License Application Notice was received from the Michigan Department of Social Services notifying the City of the possibility of a Small Group Home to be located at 364 Wing Street. The facilities would care for 6 or less persons under 24 hour supervision. The City is required to notify all residences within 1,500 feet of the proposed facility either by direct mailing or a publication in a local newspaper.

The City Attorney explained the ordinance and suggested calling a Public Hearing.

Mayor Vernon commented on some of the problems that have occurred, and his concern re residents of the home wandering free. He also mentioned the law precludes any local control, is a fire or building inspection authority.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilwoman Ayers to publish for a Public Hearing on Monday, February 16, 1981, at 8:00 pm on the license application by the Michigan Department of Social Services on the Adult Foster Care Small Group Home to be located at 364 Wing.

Mayor Vernon requested approval of a statement he would like to read at the next Northville Township Board meeting re cultivating a spirit of cooperation between City Council and the governing bodies in neighboring communities.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Gardner to endorse the statement as printed.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Communication from Mayor Vernon to Mr. James Karow re H B 4747.

Snow Removal Councilwoman Ayers asked that the Snow Removal Ordinance be printed with an encouragement to remove the snow also to remind the citizens not to shovel snow from the driveway into the street.

At this point, discussion followed on the small violations bureau bill. Mayor Vernon asked the City Attorney to reintroduce the bill again. He also asked the City Attorney about the practicality of not picking up trash where sidewalks had not been cleaned.

Mayor Vernon asked Councilwoman Ayers to wait on her request.

Councilman DeRusha asked if any contact had been made re S Main paving.

The City Manager stated he would have something for the next meeting on that.

Mention was made of the height of the bushes at the corner of High and Main which create a traffic hazard.

A question was asked re an ice skating rink at Ford Field.

The City Manager commented that an attempt was being made to build one behind the Recreation Building.

Michigan Week Councilman Gardner suggested the Michigan Week Chairman should be appointed.

Mayor Vernon asked Ann Bruck to propose a budget for the Michigan Week activities and he suggested just agreeing to participate in the Mayor's Exchange.

Motion by Councilman Gardner supported by Councilman

DeRusha to appoint Ann Bruck as Chairman for Michigan Week.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Mill Race Mayor Vernon mentioned he performed a number of weddings at the Mill Race Village and has arranged for the library there in lieu of a charge. He suggests a contribution to the Mill Race.

He mentioned the Board at the Mill Race have a $100 fee for just the use of the building. It was his feeling, the price was a little unreasonable. He stated he talked to some of the Board members and they did agree the charge would be $35.00 if not more than 10 people were involved and they would be in the building less than an hour. He wondered, since the City owns the land, whether they should have some voice in the fees and activities. He had discussed this with the City Manager and City Attorney, and both answered yes.

The City Attorney commented the City recognizes the time and effort put in by the Board, but they still feel it is the City Council's prerogative to set up guidelines.

Councilwoman Ayers stated she would like to know what the Board's rationale might be for this type of charge.

It was mentioned the fees cover the opening, setting up and cleaning of the building.

Mayor Vernon remarked on the tremendous hours of work that have been put in by the Board. He asked if Council were agreeable, he would set up a meeting between Bob Daniels, Mill Race Chairman, the City Manager, City Attorney and himself.

Mayor Vernon mentioned that John Stimmel had passed away last Saturday, and felt he should be accorded the Final Tribute to City Servants and those residents who had served in an outstanding and dedicated manner. It was noted that John had been chosen Citizen of the Year in 1977 and had worked with the youth of this community for many years.

Motion by councilman Gardner supported by Councilman DeRusha to fly the City Hall flag at half mast on January 21 in honor of John Stimmel.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Article in the Plymouth Observer, January 15, 1981 re 3-way safety inspections noting that the Township of Plymouth had joined the Cities of Plymouth and Northville in sharing the building department.

Meeting adjourned at 11:30 pm.

Respectfully submitted, Joan G. McAllister, City Clerk.

property taxes as a result of a home located in their neighborhood.

Baltasar Capote, who said his property backs up to the lot in question, noted that he understands many good things can be said for group homes but that he would like to know more about the administration.

"Who does the cooking? Are these people under medication? My concern is for my family," he told the council.

Timothy Lemon, who said he does not live on Wing but owns the home at 361 Wing, stated he was opposed to having the group home located there for the sake of his renters.

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie confirmed that the house was a non-conforming structure and cited lack of recreation space as well as the location of the ISEP school within 1500 feet.

On the application the only responses asked of the city were to check whether the proposed facility was located more than 1500 feet from an existing similar facility, or a proposed other one; whether, if it were, the issuance of a license is recommended; and whether, if it were, the issuance of a license is not recommended.

J. E. Naar of 374 South Wing stressed that "this is a family neighborhood" and added he didn't know "the state had the right to come in and set up a business."

Donald West, who said he has worked in several group homes and presently is with Mida, Incorporated, objected, saying "It's not like a business." The state, he said, pays people to come in and initiate a lifestyle that is a family norm.

"Group homes," he observed, "are looked at now like long hair was in the 60s. Today it is accepted in society."

Joseph Tomasak of 349 First expressed the concern that most residents mentioned of safety. He said he grew up in Detroit and had lived here more than six years, saying, "It's a little better life out here, but we have enough at our back door with the hospital (Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital), Plymouth Home and DeHoCo and the handicapped going to school here.

"We already had an animal (state hospital patient) running loose who killed a lady."

"Put yourselves in our place, how would you feel?" he asked.

In pointing out that the house does not meet Northville zoning standards, Walters said he felt it is surprising the state from a common sense viewpoint would not feel it unsuitable.

Councilmember Dewey Gardner also cited the security and well being of the neighborhood and questioned a facility on such a small lot. Stanley Johnston stated there is a group home facility on Beck Road that he feels is the type that is suitable as it has space. This, in his opinion, is not.

"The quality of life for six adults and two supervisors in this size home has to be substandard," agreed Carolann Ayers.

Kennedy introduced Liz Peterson, saying she was the applicant for the license for the facility. She said she had examined the facility and it met requirements.

Kennedy said his concern was that the city listed the property as non-conforming.

"Everyone wants them (group homes) somewhere else," he stated.

Vernon said the council was in agreement with the group home concept but feels in this instance it is imposing a hardship on a community in that location.

"I don't think that is what the act was intended to do," he summed up.

Mosher moved out in favor of McNeely

slot you should be able to plug another one in and get pretty much the same results."

Then why, one audience member asked, should one exchange Mosher for McNeely?

"I felt that a change should be in order," said MacDonald. "It is much like changing auditors (which the township did recently) or lawyers. We are not firing (Mosher); it is not as though we had a contract with the man. 'You ought to know, too, that whoever we pick,' MacDonald continued, before the vote, 'we would have to bring in other consultants from time to time and there is no reason the new engineer could not bring in Mr. Mosher.'"

Margaret Tegge, former clerk, also asked the reason for ending the long relationship with Mosher.

"He knows the terrain, he has the background and the experience and he knows the township," Tegge said.

"I can't quarrel with that," MacDonald responded. "I can't answer you."

Henningsen said he would not "be so sure someone else does not know the terrain, or could not learn it from all the drawings there are around here."

Business Manager David Lelko said the eight firms invited to submit bids were all recommended to him by members of the board, and that he was operating under board direction.

Lelko said most of the firms offered similar services at similar costs.

Trustee James Nowka made a statement supporting retention of Mosher, but did not ask why the former engineer was not invited to bid with the other eight firms.

"I'm familiar with Bill Mosher," Nowka said. "I've been around here for 12 years and had some experience, some professional experience ....

"It's been my feeling that Mosher has been very competent and complete, perhaps complete to a... greater extent than is absolutely needed in some cases."

"You have to get the most competent engineer you can get, and I still believe Bill Mosher is probably the most competent one around," Nowka said. "If it came up, I would vote to retain Mr. Mosher."

Like Mosher, Edward McNeely, of McNeely & Lincoln, is a township resident. He is a water and sewer commissioner whose term expires in July, 1982.

He also had a long-standing request with the township for a controversial lot split. Asked if the as-yet-undecided lot split request might represent a conflict of interest, MacDonald said McNeely had withdrawn his request "two weeks ago."

Others considered for the position were Wade Trim & Associates of Taylor; Spaulding & De Decker of Madison Heights; Hubbel, Eckstien, Westrick of Clinton Township; Orchard, Papke & Heltz of Livonia; Detrich & Associates of Plymouth; and Ann Arbor's McNamee, Porter, Seeley.

Henningsen made the motion to choose McNeely & Lincoln, based, he said, on the firm's proximity to the township.

"There are times when being nearby can be important," he said. MacDonald seconded the motion. The supervisor usually does not make motions, and even seconding another board member's motion is rare.

There was virtually no discussion among board members regarding the choice of McNeely & Lincoln outside of Henningsen's explanation. Henningsen, MacDonald, clerk Susan Heintz, and trustees James Armstrong, Richard Allen and Thomas Cook voted in favor of hiring McNeely. Nowka was alone in opposition.

Board of trustees rejects Seven Mile multiple zone

acres while leaving the rest R-3.

The county road commission and county planners, however, recommended approval of the full rezoning requested. The road commission based its recommendation on difficulties in providing access roads to the split property.

The rezoning petition, and the recommendations, reached the township board in January. Residents opposed to the rezoning presented their case that traffic problems would increase at that time.

The board referred the issue back to the planners, for review of the traffic issue "in light of new information." The planners voted to retain its original recommendation.

When the issue reached the board again Thursday, Thomas and Wilkiemeyer argued for the full rezoning and, as they have done throughout the debate, made reference to taking the issue to court if it were disapproved.

"I would request that this board approve the rezoning for the entire parcel," said Wilkiemeyer. "We have waited a long time to develop this land, and it cannot be developed as R-3."

"Our original intent was to build residential there," he continued, "but let's call a spade a spade; the planning commission was mistaken when it started giving multiple zoning along Seven Mile."

"At first, an area was zoned for nursing home, but in court they were allowed to develop multiple. That was prime residential land, but now there is so much multiple around there, there is no choice for our parcel but to go multiple."

He suggested that if the residents of Highland Lakes and Granview Acres who were opposing the petition were to go out to the land and examine it, they could be convinced that multiples were the only alternative available.

He then requested that the board table the issue until he could meet with the residents. Thomas was then allowed to consult with Wilkiemeyer.

The board vote came without discussion, though many of the members in earlier debates of the issue had expressed concern about the traffic situation.

Nowka said he voted against the rest of the board out of a belief that the planning commission's split zoning recommendation represented the best possible compromise "in an admittedly difficult situation."

As for the possibility that denial of the request might result in a lawsuit against the township, most trustees said such decisions cannot be based on the presumption of legal action.

Our Opinion

This time silence is not golden

The township board has erred in assuming that its right to have a secret outweighs the public interest in governmental affairs.

Supervisor John MacDonald is correct in saying he does not "have to" speak his reasons for asking that William Mosher be replaced. We believe, however, his silence causes more harm than good.

Mosher had been township engineer so long that one resident attending the board of trustees meeting was moved to say he had become an institution. MacDonald insisted that Mosher's competency was not being questioned, (he even said Mosher would be welcomed as a consultant to the new engineer if need should arise). It could be seriously argued that the new engineer's services will cost more than did Mosher's; it is difficult to say because Mosher was not invited to submit a bid.

In that light, it is hard to believe MacDonald's assertion that there was no personal or political basis to the decision. At various times, he eliminated incompetency and financial concerns. Take out personal and political motives and what is left?

Residents of the township are now left to speculate, perhaps wildly, as to the reasons for the board's decision. Treasurer Richard Henningsen contends engineers can be switched around, much like identical computer chips, to give similar results.

Perhaps, over time, this is true. But many residents who are comfortable with Mosher wonder why the time and effort must be made to acquaint a new engineer with the background lost with Mosher. Few computer chips become community institutions. Few computer chips are trusted to steer a wise course in a storm of alternatives.

Mosher's extensive knowledge of the township is undisputed, even by the board. His tendency to present more information than was asked for may have annoyed some, but it was effective in making sure the board had as much background as it needed to make a decision.

We also question the choice of McNeely & Lincoln as a replacement. The combination of Edward McNeely's personal involvement and acquaintance with township government (he is a member of the water and sewer commission) with the silence surrounding the departure of Mosher leads to questions about the propriety of the choice.

That McNeely's request for a lot split was withdrawn two weeks before he was named township engineer leaves an impression that "the fix was in" and the review of seven other engineering firms was merely a formality. Without a full and public discussion of the change, it is impossible to know otherwise.

McNeely also was recently named city engineer. While moves toward a smoother relationship are apparent, the township and city have had some fierce disagreements in the past and similar ones cannot be ruled out in the future. If push comes to shove, would McNeely support the city he works in or the township where he lives?

The proximity of the firm's office is, perhaps, a benefit to the township, but it is hard to believe it is much advantage over firms located in Plymouth or Livonia.

McNeely's knowledge of the community may very well rival Mosher's, but his ability to separate his personal and business affairs from what is best for the township is more questionable.

Moreover, Mayor Paul Vernon and Supervisor MacDonald both are former supporters of proposals to annex the township to the city. Both have issued vehement denials of continued support for the idea, contending that changed conditions mitigate against annexation. Their words would carry more weight if residents were not left free to make their own interpretations of events.

There is probably a lot more smoke than fire in these concerns. MacDonald is probably acting out of some feeling that to speak his reasons would be ungentlemanly. McNeely probably withdrew his lot split request because he knew he was being considered for the post, not as part of some "deal." City and township are most likely entering an era of cooperation without aims to unite.

The concerns expressed above, however, are not the wild-eyed speculations of a wayward press. They are real worries, as expressed by residents of Northville Township alarmed by government secrets, as expressed to us. However unpopular MacDonald's reasons might prove to be, the courage to air them would serve to extinguish the of rumors touched off by his secrecy last week.

Secrecy in government, however "minor" the government thinks the issue may be, almost always causes more problems than it solves.

Editorial opinions of The Record are developed and written by Publisher Jack W. Hoffman and Editor Jean Day with occasional contributions by other Record staffers.

Township's his beat

KEVIN WILSON

This week I'd like to introduce our readers to The Record staffer who, in just under nine months, has earned for himself the title of "investigative reporter." Kevin Wilson says his favorite stories are "multi-faceted news pieces that require some digging to put together."

Kevin Wilson was hired May 27 to cover Northville Township, but spent his first month temporarily on the school beat — a situation that benefited us later when he filled in for another ill staffer.

Kevin had just been graduated from Eastern Michigan University with a BS in English Literature and language and a minor in journalism. He had been news editor of the Eastern Echo, EMU's thrice-weekly paper, covering Ypsilanti city and university news. He was born September 18, 1955, at Selfridge Air Force Base and grew up in the Detroit, Livonia, Dearborn area. He first attended Michigan Technological University with the intention of getting a mechanical engineering degree but found he enjoyed working on the college paper more.

One of the first things Kevin did after joining the staff was to begin planning his wedding with Toni Corley who became his wife October 25 of last year. She is a nurse assistant at Oakwood Hospital in cardiac care unit, a folk singer and songwriter.

When Hines Park was closed to winter sports, it was an indignant Kevin who followed the story. The planned moves of the EPIC Center, a program for emotionally disturbed adolescents, in last week's paper were just rumors when he began tracking them down. The result: four stories on the Northville Regional Psychiatric Center. This week he's writing about the surprise action of township trustees in changing township engineers.

Before becoming a reporter, he worked as an auto mechanic, truck driver, ice cream truck driver, in an auto plant "and just about any position you can name in the bowling industry." His interests include automobiles (apparent when he wrote about a local red Corvette), photography, Great Lakes shipping and Michigan history.

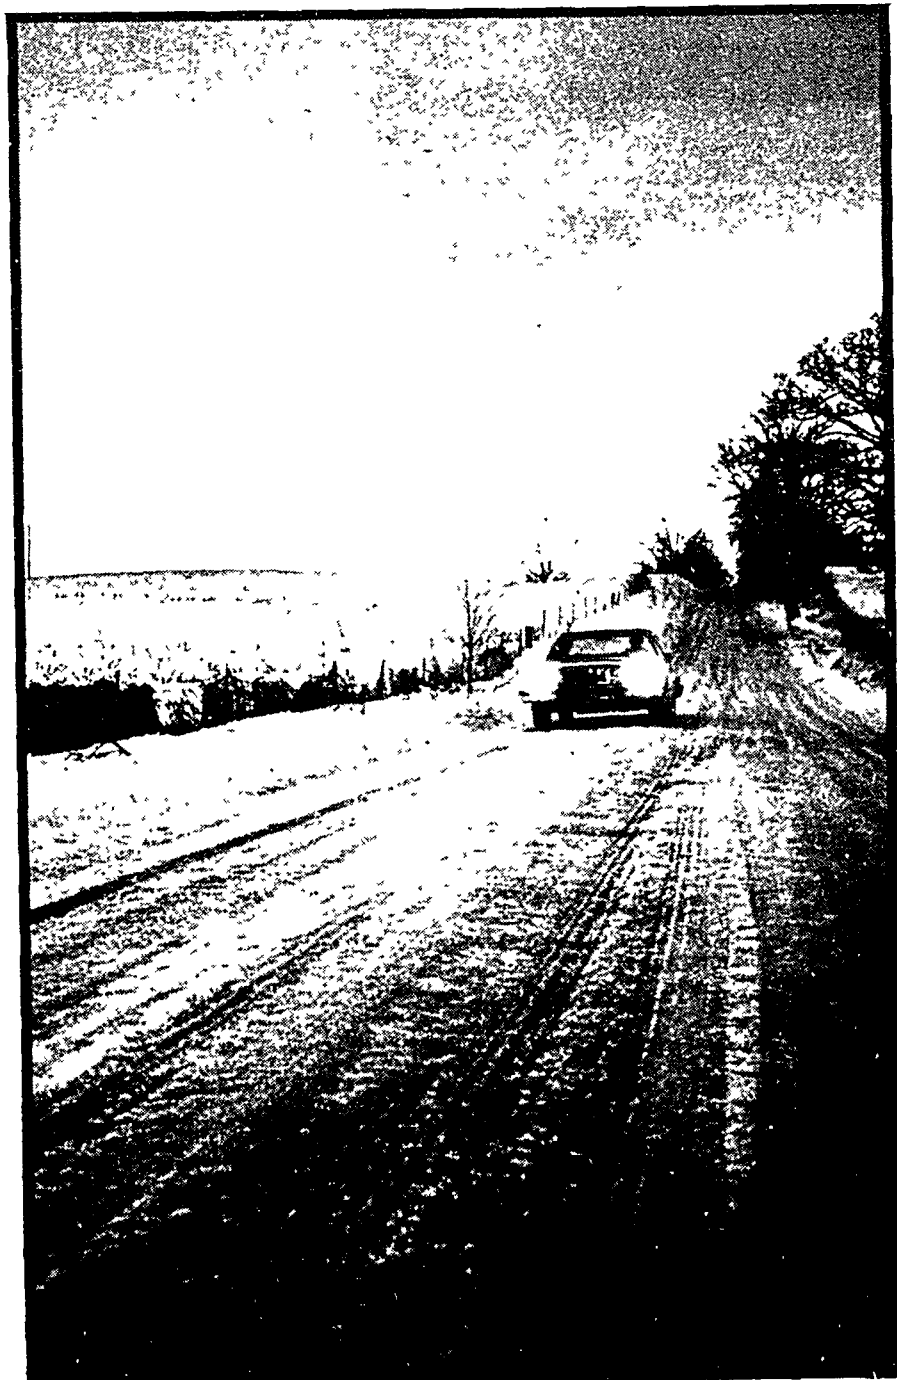

"What I like about the job is the variety of people and topics you become involved with," says Wilson; he also comes right to the core of what newspapering is all about when he observes, "Doing the job right requires a curious blend of sensitivity and hard-nosed tenacity to balance one person's rights against the public interest. If both sides of a dispute are equally pleased or displeased, you probably pulled it off."

"The township beat is probably the best slot for me here," he agrees. Do read his story on our local lottery winner this week.

HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

Good newspaper reporters attending governmental meetings are seen but rarely ever heard — that's because the reporter is there as an observer, not as a participant.

In my case this unwritten tenet of print journalism usually has been a blessing since verbalizing thoughts is a whole lot harder than writing them.

All of which is a way of backing into a hang-up I have with ice. My wife will tell you, for example, that if there is but one icy spot in the vicinity another unwritten tenet, Murphy's Law, demands that her husband execute a pratfall on it.

It was nearly two decades ago when the journalism tenet and Murphy's Law ganged up on me. It began in the old Salem township hall where angry citizens crowded the hall to shout insults at members of the board over a now forgotten controversial issue.

Understandably shaken, the besieged supervisor searched the crowd for a sympathetic voice. His eyes stopped at me.

"Mr. Hoffman is here from the newspaper. He can verify that we acted properly; he's aware of the background and can explain it to you," he said.

Unprepared and flustered, I gathered my wits, said, "I'm sorry, gentlemen, I'm here as an observer not a participant," and then sat down. Just as quickly, the crowd turned its wrath on me. "Either tell us or get out!" was about the kindest remark that followed as I cowered in my seat.

Somehow the board and the reporter escaped their lives.

Enroute home, I was still shaking when my car skidded on a patch of Murphy's Law and plunged into a ditch. To make matters worse, the ditch was so icy I couldn't climb out of it. Struggling, I waded for help at an approaching car.

The supervisor leaned out of the window of his car with obvious pleasure said, "I'm sorry, I'm just an observer not a participant," and then, smiling, drove on.

Finds assessment law fair

To the Editor:
(Copies to Senator Douglas Ross, representative Richard Fessler.)
For the past few weeks, local newspapers have published the anguished pleas of Wayne County residents requesting delay in implementation of PA-114. This act would, according to some writers, raise their taxes to an "unconscionable level" because present millage rates would be applied to the actual 50 percent market value of their homes instead of the lower value which they are currently assessed.

As a resident of the Oakland County City of Novi, my home is assessed at 50 percent of market value and, because I pay school taxes to the Northville school system at their millage rate, I have been paying school tax at an "unconscionable level" since moving to this area. My neighbors and I are, in effect, paying unfairly high taxes because Wayne County and particularly Northville residents are assessed at an artificially low value.

Implementation of PA-114 will raise the City of Northville assessments and set the stage for a lowering of the millage rate, either by the voters or the city administration, so that all Northville school system taxpayers pay their fair share.

Based on the demonstrated inability of some taxing districts to evaluate property at its market value in the grace period prior to the present PA-114 effective date, I see no reason to believe the proposed three year delay in its implementation will lead to an honest assessment of business and residential property. Therefore I am in favor of PA-114 implementation as planned so we can get on with the difficult task of achieving equitable taxation in Michigan.

Likes trustees stand against multiples

To the Editor:

We wish to thank the Northville Township Board (members) for their responsible and responsible decision Thursday night in denying additional multiple zoning along the north side of Seven Mile Road, east of Highland Lakes.

We applaud their recognition of the long-term effects of the issue and their concern for the safety and welfare of township citizens.

The willingness of the board to listen, carefully, to the presentation of the developer, and to the citizens, before reaching a decision is refreshing and encouraging.

Wants officials to explain hiring

To the Editor:

Secrets! Secrets! Secrets!

Why did Township Supervisor MacDonald and Treasurer Henningsen initiate dismissal of Mr. Mosher, longtime township engineer? — in spite of finding no fault with his performance or person.

Why the response, "We don't have to give a reason," when questioned? Why was Mr. Mosher replaced with the City of Northville engineer? When a conflict of interest arises, which master will be served, the city or the township? Why the secret? Is it personal? Is it political? Is it financial? Why? Why? Why?

Lauds DPW work in clearing snow

To the Editor:

We would like to commend the Department of Public Works for their excellent work on Tuesday and Wednesday. The streets of Northville were kept free of the accumulating snow and ice. This was a job of noteworthy proportion.

We live at the bottom of a hill and there was never a time during either day that we could not get up the hill.

Thank you, men, for a job well done.

City passes ordinance on wastes

In accordance with federal regulations, Northville City Council unanimously adopted an Industrial Waste Surcharge Ordinance at its February 2 meeting following a public hearing.

The ordinance is effective immediately and includes computation formulas.

The standards and regulations of the ordinance are in accordance with the basic service agreement between the city, Wayne County and Wayne County Board of Public Works.

It provides that any person, firm or corporation discharging wastewater into the publicly owned sewer system shall comply with rules and regulations outlined. The surcharge will reflect industries' equitable costs of wastewater treatment in excess of the strength of domestic sewage.

Kirksey discusses tax law relief

State Representative Jack Kirksey (R-Livonia, Northville) said Thursday that the effects of the state's controversial new "equalization by class" law, which will cause "astronomical" property tax increases in Wayne County when it goes into effect this week, can be tempered by local communities.

"Livonia and Northville citizens face staggering property tax increases that have been blamed on this new law," Kirksey said, "when in fact it is not the fault of the new law, which I have attempted to postpone, but the fault of Wayne County's assessing practices."

"Nevertheless, the citizens and local governments do have options. First of all, the boards of education can lower the school operating mills, and the cities can lower their millage rates. This would have the effect of reducing property taxes despite the implementation of Public Act 114 (the equalization by class law.)"

Kirksey emphasized, however, that assessments would increase by about 12 percent because of the inflation spiral built into the State Equalized Valuation factor.

"This is a complicated problem, but people must realize that even without the new equalization law, assessments in Livonia would increase 12 percent just because of inflation. The new law increases the assessment another 8.66 percent, but that's because Wayne County has not been assessing correctly."

Kirksey said that Wayne County communities are the only ones in the state whose assessments will increase more than about 12 percent when P.A. 114 becomes effective.

"The problem is most dramatically illustrated by the City of Northville," he said.

"The Wayne County portion of the city will be one of the hardest hit in the state. Residents there see their assessments increase 41.72 percent, which includes the inflation factor."

"But Northville residents who live north of Eight Mile Road — in Oakland County — will have a tax increase of only 15 percent. These figures clearly prove that the problem is not with the new law, but with the county's assessing practices."

Kirksey said he had tried to postpone implementation of the act, but was unsuccessful because Wayne County is the only county in the state adversely affected by it.

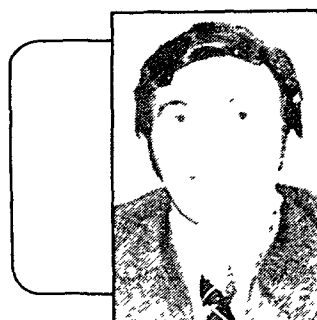

Kirksey said he had co-sponsored a bill to postpone implementation of the act until 1984 so assessments could be phased in to minimize the abrupt increase in taxes. He was unsuccessful, he said, because Wayne County is the only county in the state adversely affected by the new law.

"I know it is very frustrating for people to be hit with the kind of tax increases we're talking about for Wayne County, but steps can be taken to reduce the tax burden, and the citizens must look to local government for action on their behalf," Kirksey continued.

"If the Governor's proposed 35 percent property tax cut plan is put up for a vote of the people and approved, it would counterbalance the effects of P.A. 114 on residents of Livonia and Northville."

News from Lansing

By R. ROBERT GEAKE
State Senator

Michigan homeowners now have another phrase to add to their already large lexicon of tax terminology.

Move over, "SEV," "true cash value" and "circuit breaker!" "Equalization by class" is going to be the term most discussed and cursed by property owners this tax season.

Although enabling legislation, Public Act 114, passed in the fall of 1979 (I voted against the bill), property tax equalization by class is just beginning to be felt throughout the state, as it was not scheduled to go into effect until this year.

Local tax jurisdictions with traditionally unequal assessing practices are being hit with equalizing factors that will cause huge tax increases for some property owners.

The property tax, by the way, is a local tax which supplies revenue to local units of government and local school districts, but practically none to the state. Legislators get nothing from the property tax but headaches, and lately, some irate constituents.

Senate Bill 74, presently before the Senate Finance Committee, seeks to repeal the new equalization by class law, and Senate Bill 73 would delay its implementation.

The problem has been with us a long time. The issue was first introduced as a bill in the state senate back in 1959. The legislature is mandated by the constitution to see that property throughout the state is uniformly taxed, but an income-producing farm, an industrial plant and a two-story home in the suburbs cannot be taxed fairly by merely counting square footage.

Uniform taxation of property is only easy in theory. In practice, the property tax compares apples to oranges, and the legislature must come up with ways to make it all fair.

Setting criteria for "true cash value" is one way the legislature provided assessors the means to compare the apples and oranges of differing kinds of property. Equalization, as formerly enforced, is another.

When local taxing jurisdictions do not assess property in their locale at the mandated 50 percent of true cash value, counties and/or the state "equalize" that area's assessment roll.

All property in that local unit is multiplied individually by an "equalization factor," such as 1.58 in the Wayne County portion of the City of Northville, to make that unit meet its requirements.

While this system seems to work for property in a local unit taken as a whole, it compounds the problem of classifications which have been traditionally under or over-assessed in certain areas of the state.

The six classifications of property are as follows: agricultural, residential, developmental, commercial, industrial and timber cutover.

Multiplying all property in a local unit by the same equalizing factor does not solve the problem of under-assessed residential property, for example, compared to over-assessed industrial property. In fact, the "factor" multiplies the disparity within the local unit.

The new law designates each property class to receive a separate factor designed to increase that classification assessment to 50 percent.

I am against the new law being implemented. Repeal of Public Act 114 is the appropriate response of the legislature to property owners of all classifications at this time. In the middle of an unprecedented statewide recession, it is unthinkable that any property owner would receive the huge adjustment in billing that Public Act 114 is causing.

Equalization by class complicates an already complicated issue. With property tax reform about to be enacted by the legislature in one form or another, implementation of Public Act 114 is completely unnecessary, untimely and unthinkable.

Something's fishy

Northville workers hook 'em in ice

By KAREN RICE

Pete Darocha wasn't having any luck

There just weren't any fish near either of the two holes Darocha had chopped in frozen Walled Lake. Or if there were, they certainly weren't interested in the bait on Darocha's hooks. Besides, it was darn cold out there. No shanty. No wind shield. No portable stove.

Only a pair of insulated coveralls, a lot of jumping around and a few nips of peppermint schnapps helped Darocha keep warm. Whipping across the snow-covered lake, those winter winds were pretty nasty, although it was a beautiful, sunny day.

And Darocha had his work cut out for him keeping up with his 9-year-old fishing enthusiast son, Peter, who knelt by one of the holes calling, "Here fishy, fishy, fishy. Here fishy. Here fishy."

Unfortunately, even Peter's persuasive whispers weren't enough to lure any fish toward the Darochas' holes.

"Daddy, where are all the fish" asked Peter. "Why aren't we catching any?"

Those were the same questions everybody else on Walled Lake was asking that day.

Everyone, that is, but Ralph Silver. He couldn't pull them in fast enough.

That was a little frustrating for Darocha, whose two holes were located only 12 feet or so away from Silver's hot spot. "Wow, Daddy!" squealed Peter. "He got another one. Let's fish over there."

Over where Silver was, it seemed like the perch were falling all over themselves to get hold of his line. Maybe it was the bait — corn grubs and meal worms — that did the trick. Maybe it was the location.

Whatever it was, it was working. And Silver had really come prepared for the elements. He'd brought a chest-high screen to reroute the winds and a small stove to warm his hands over.

In fact, there was only one problem. The fish were small. Real small. Most of them were only five or six inches long — hardly worth cleaning. But still, better than nothing.

Darocha sighed. "I'm what you'd call a real expert fisherman," he said. "When I go out fishing, everybody else gets 30 or 40 fish. I get one. Yep, I'm a real expert."

"But I'll tell you what. I'm going to get a fish before I go home today. I'm not leaving until I get a fish."

for a few grubs and some liquid antifreeze is negligible. That's an important concern for men like Darocha and Silver, both of whom work at the Northville Ford valve plant, slated to shut down permanently later this year. The way things are going, they say, the odds that they will be placed in another Ford plant aren't particularly favorable.

It can be tough to forget about that uncertain future, even out waiting patiently for fish on Walled Lake. That's where shanties come in handy. Once inside one of the little shacks that seem to spring up overnight on lakes, usually clumped together like miniature villages, there is a certain mesmerizing atmosphere that really makes ice fishing seem fascinating. Peaceful, in fact.

Dave Cariveau, who used to work at the Northville Ford plant, says it's easy to sit for long periods of time in the little shanties, most of which cover large holes in the ice that were removed so fishermen can spear pike through the openings. With the door to the shanty closed, it's warm and quiet inside.

Plus, there's a strange glow that comes up from the water and ice and is visible in the darkness of the shanty. Says Cariveau: "It's sort of hypnotizing to sit here, like looking into an aquarium."

Cariveau and Dale Woolfram of Northville weren't having much luck attracting fish to their location either.

It's sort of hypnotizing to sit here, like looking into an aquarium.

The experts will tell you there are all kinds of ways to catch fish, whether you go out in a boat, stand on the shore or chop a hole in the ice to do it. But the truth is that while you can plan your attack strategy all you like, unless you are actually out there spearing pike or other big fish, you are pretty much resigned to playing the waiting game.

You can pick your location, your lures or bait and the time of day or year. But it finally comes down to the fish's decision as to whether or not he's going to go after your hook.

So when ice fishermen get ready to go out on one of Michigan's frozen ponds or lakes, they know they're going to spend a lot of time sitting around waiting for the fish to find them. That gets cold. And, some would say, it probably gets boring.

But the fishermen don't see it that way. According to Darocha, "You've got to do something in the winter other than sit in front of the tube. This is a good way to get outside and do something fun."

It's also pretty inexpensive, especially for individuals who do a lot of fishing in the warmer months and already have all the equipment they need. Cost

They were waiting for pike, ready to snare one with evil-looking spears. Attempts to lure the pike consisted of using a sucker — a pond-raised fish blissfully unaware of the predatory nature of pike — stuck to a line that was attached to a reel on the ceiling of the shanty. Eight or nine perch drifted near the sucker, ready to move out at the first sign of danger.

But the pike never appeared. The sucker swam happily around in circles and the perch rested on the bottom. "Not much going on," declared Woolfram.

Not much was going on out in the open where Darocha and Peter were standing, but Silver was doing alright. "Let's go in there, Daddy," Peter called out, pointing to the shanty. "They've got lots of fish."

That thought appealed to Darocha. "If I could see them, at least I could move my hook toward them," he laughed. "This is like fishing blind." He considered chopping another hole in the ice, this one closer to Silver's hole.

But as it turned out, it wouldn't have done any good. The perch were suddenly sniffing at even Silver's bait and turning away. "They've stopped biting," he said. "But they'll come back." Some days are like that.

In Our Town

Local women are 'doers' in organizations

By JEAN DAY

Sharon Lineman of Northville is more than a joiner — she's a doer. When she becomes part of an organization, she soon is deeply involved. Not surprisingly, she was installed as president of Our Lady of Providence League at the annual meeting of the 475-member organization at Southfield's Providence Hospital in January.

During her four-year affiliation with the league, Mrs. Lineman has served in the outpatient surgical lounge and in the labor and delivery area. She was a service representative on the OLPL board before being chosen president-elect last year.

She and her husband J. Joseph live in Lexington Commons and have a son 16 and daughter 13. In town Sharon Lineman is an active member of Northville Historical Society and a past president of the Mill Race Docents (village guide group). She is secretary of Northville Mothers' Club and belongs to the Detroit Country Day School parents' organization.

She has taught at Detroit College of Business and in the South Haven public schools.

Working with the new OLPL president on the board of directors will be another Northville resident, Carol Crabill, who will be legislative chairman.

She's representing gardeners

Phyllis Slattery, long-time Northville resident, is another active "doer." A member and past president of the Northville Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, she is among local branch members planning to attend the state meeting of the Michigan Division of 91 branches Thursday at Warren Royalty House. She also will be a program participant.

Theme of the gathering is "Spring is just around the corner..." The program is based on the Associated Country Women of the World triennial meeting held in Hamburg, Germany, and is titled "We were there" as it is being presented by Michigan Division members who attended, including Mrs. Slattery. She also had been associated with Country Women of the World while living in England and has served as editor of the WNFGA national magazine.

A resident of Lexington Commons North on Morgan Court, Phyllis Slattery also currently is serving as vice president of Northville Woman's Club.

Club invites Greenfield Village expert

Kottie Hagler, staff member at Greenfield Village-Henry Ford Museum, will show slides of antiques in a "Treasures from Yesteryear" program of Northville Woman's Club at 1:30 p.m. Friday at First Presbyterian Church. President Evelyn Harper announces this will be a guest day.

Members are invited to bring one of their own antiques for the speaker to comment upon — although she doesn't profess to be an authority on all antiques. She attended Edison Institute through high school at Greenfield Village and has worked for 31 years at Henry Ford Museum where she recently was made furniture curator. One of her main interests is historical homes. Her main experience is in this area.

Mrs. Robert DeHoff and Mrs. C. Earl Eden, Jr. are chairpersons for the day.

A gorilla came to their anniversary party

Seven couples in a local wine-tasting group that meets monthly knew they were gathering on Friday the 13th, but they didn't expect a gorilla to crash the party at Genitti's Hole-in-the-Wall last weekend.

It was all part of Marge and Bob Ercoli's anniversary celebration. They were married 16 years ago on February 13; so Marge hired the "gorilla" to present Bob with a bouquet — of bananas. "After all," says fun-loving Marge, "you don't give a man flowers."

In on the party were the Richard Browns, Bob Eppers, Phil Paynes, Tom Cooks, James Turnocks and Charles DeLands.

'Kon Tiki' set

"Kon Tiki," the story of the famous voyage from South America to Polynesia made by six Scandinavian scientists aboard a raft, will be presented at the Third Thursday Film Series for senior citizens at 2 p.m. tomorrow.

Sponsored by the Friends of the Northville Library, the film is open to all senior citizens in the Northville area.

Top officers

Northville resident Marlene Danol (left), president of the Michigan Chapter of the Business and Professional Women's Club, was among the 175 guests at a gala dinner at the Plymouth Hilton Inn commemorating the newest BPW chapter in Canton. The Canton chapter received its charter last month, and state and national BPW officers were on hand for the occasion. With Mrs. Danol is Phyllis Harrison, national president of the BPW. With 33 charter members, the Canton club is the largest newly organized group in BPW history.

SQUEEK CAUGHT IN MOUTHTRAP

Q. It sounds stupid, but my mouth squeeks ever since I had a number of new fillings. Have you ever heard of such a thing?

A. Yes, and you are definitely not alone with your problem. It is not uncommon for patients to complain of a "squeaky" sound after having silver fillings. This occurs when the contact between the teeth is not very tight, and allows the fillings to rub against each other causing a squeaking noise. It usually goes away, but sometimes you may need a new filling wedged closer to its neighbor to solve your problem.

Quilters invite stitchers to make friendship quilt

"We meet in order to encourage the art and craft of quilting," explains Lois Winters of the Northville Community Quilters.

All quilters in the area are invited to attend any time, she adds, noting that the group meets the third Wednesday of every month in the fellowship hall of First Presbyterian Church.

This month the quilters are beginning to stitch a sampler quilt.

"By making one square a month, by next February we each will have 12 squares, or enough for a quilt top," Mrs. Winters explains.

The Community Quilters invite each person attending the quilting bees to bring a favorite pattern to work on and to share with the other quilters. Stitchers also should come with fabric scraps and pieces of their choice.

"By making one square at a time, we will learn which one we may wish to use as the pattern for a complete quilt. It is always best to make one square of a quilt before purchasing all the material — in case the pattern chosen turns out to be too difficult."

"This gives you an opportunity to try others you will be more comfortable with — and then you won't abandon the quilt midway through completion," says the quilting expert.

Mrs. Winters, 349-3892, or Sybil Kerr, 349-3173, may be contacted for more information.

Some quilters spend the whole day together, bringing a brown bag lunch (coffee and tea are furnished), while others come just for the morning or afternoon to revive the old-fashioned skill.

Historical society offers classes, workshops in spring program

Spring will come early to Northville: Mill Race Historical Village as the Northville Historical Society-sponsored spring education program begins March 1.

A full curriculum of eight classes and five workshops will be offered, including some classes being repeated for the second and third times by request.

New this season are a course in local history, an all-day workshop on herbs, one on edible wild plants, drawing for children, plantings for the older home and rug braiding.

The society announces that "a new and exciting addition" to the schedule of classes is Jack Hoffman's "Adventure into Our Past," a four-week lecture-type review of Northville's history.

"It promises a fascinating look into our past for newcomers and old-timers alike," comments Lucia Danes in announcing the new schedule. Students who sign for the lectures are asked to read Hoffman's book, "Northville — the First 100 Years." The class will run for four Monday evenings, from 8-10 p.m. Hoffman, publisher of The Northville Record, is known for his research and interest in local history.

Sandy Hicks, noted Ann Arbor herb consultant, will present an all-day workshop on "Herbs for Flavor, Fragrance and Fun." She will advise the beginning herbalist on planning and planting an herb garden and on how to gather and use those herbs for flavoring, fragrance and in decorating.

Other new workshops to be conducted by local residents include "Edible Wild Plants" taught by Helen Maki; "Drawing for Children" by Mrs. Danes and Carol Jean Stockhausen; "Plantings for the Older Home" by John Brugeman; and "Rug Braiding" by Jo Krause.

Brochures outlining the full program will be available at IV Seasons on Main and at Northville Public Library next week.

Northville Historical Society is planning to mail a brochure to all who have registered for classes or workshops in the past.

Prearrangement can spare your family some difficult decisions.

If you should die, your family would be faced with making some important decisions concerning the funeral. And the strain of such a great loss could make it especially difficult for them.

One way you can give your family the guidance they would need is by planning the details of the funeral in advance. Both you and your family would have the comfort of knowing that the service would meet your wishes.

If you would like more information, our counselors are available to discuss preplanning with you. Please feel free to call or stop by anytime.

OLV open house

In honor of Catholic Schools' Week, Our Lady of Victory School invited the community to an open house February 5. Both staff and students were on hand to guide guests on tours of the building and explain OLV's curriculum and enrichment programs. Luke Stockhausen (above) and his

Scout council sets workshop

The Huron Valley Girl Scout Council will present a Substance Abuse Awareness Workshop from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. February 21 at its headquarters in Ypsilanti. The program utilizes a small group discussion format, facilitated by a volunteer presenter. Saturday's workshop is a training session for interested volunteer presenters. Those who wish to attend the session should make reservations by today. Persons interested should contact Susan Bairley or Annette Myles, S.A.F.E. program coordinators at 483-2370.

From bar freebies to Bigtime?

Casey singing impossible dream

By KURT MADDEN

If you've ever been struck suddenly with a nearly uncontrollable urge to stand up in the middle of a crowded bar and sing your heart out to the music booming from the juke box, you should meet Kevin Casey of Milford.

Casey, a 24-year-old unemployed auto worker, has cultivated the art of impromptu singing to a point where he has developed a following at Milford entertainment spots and sitting down for a quiet beer with friends is, at times, difficult.

He is now considered a professional, and on a paid and non-paid basis Kevin has sung to audiences at the Minnick's Post and Paddock, 780 North Milford Road, Norton's Landing, 131 South Milford Road and Timm's Red Doggie Saloon, 449 North Main, Milford.

Casey's talent has been obvious to bar patrons who have heard him perform, but the rewards — other more than the thrill of seeing an audience being caught off guard by his talent — has been nil.

That may change for Casey. In fact, if his singing pays off the way his new-found mentor hopes it will, Casey might have to pinch himself to make sure he's not dreaming.

Last year, Bart Reed, owner of Lanev Publishing Company in Las Vegas, heard one of Casey's impromptu performances in Las Vegas and was immediately impressed.

"He came across like gangbusters. He's the type of guy I've been looking for for the last 10 years," said Reed in a recent telephone interview.

Casey is scheduled to begin studying under Reed this month, and the veteran entertainment executive thinks there is a place in the country music industry for Casey's talents.

"He's got a phenomenal voice box. He could be another Elvis Presley, but there are already too many Elvis impersonators."

"The thing I really like about him is his willingness to learn and to work hard. There are a lot of people in this business who think they know it all and will never be anything more than honkey-tonk singers... Kevin's got the drive and the discipline to make something out of himself," Reed said enthusiastically.

Aside from his voice and his willingness to learn, Reed calls Casey a real "band stand performer" whose good personal qualities are projected to the audience.

"Kevin can really interact with the audience. He doesn't just stand there stiffly and sing like you think he would because of his lack of experience."

Kevin Casey of Milford has made a reputation for himself

He has a bandstand flair, and comes off like the All-American boy.

"He a good person morally; he doesn't smoke, he drinks very little and he's got his head screwed on right," Reed explained.

The son of Richard and Betty Casey, 1814 Burns Road, Kevin began singing for fun when he was 6. "He'd always be singing songs around home just for the enjoyment of it," recalled Mrs. Casey, Kevin's biggest booster.

"Right now, Kevin really doesn't want to talk to reporters. He doesn't want to toot his own horn. I think he wants to wait and see how things work out in Las Vegas," said Mrs. Casey.

As far as Reed is concerned, Casey's willingness to work hard and his natural talent make him a good bet to fill a significant vacuum in the country-western recording business.

ORDINARY CARPENTER'S NAILS that will be worth $20,000 to the Builders Home Flower Furniture Show visitor who comes closest to estimating the total are being used to fill the "House of Nails" by, from left, Tom Briscoe, chairman of the Detroit Recreation Advisory Commission; Dave Pink, president of the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan and Northville- Novi area resident of West Eight Mile; Dennis Miriani, executive vice president of the Metropolitan Detroit Convention and Visitors Bureau; and Ron Sinclair, senior vice president, First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Detroit. Every ticket holder for the show March 14-22 at Cobo Hall has a chance to estimate the number of nails in the clear plastic model house. It is on display at the main office branch of the First Federal Savings until the show opening. Advance tickets entitle showgoers to two entry forms plus $1 off the regular $3 admission price. They are on sale at Hudson's, Sears, most florists and at branches of many banks and savings and loan associations.

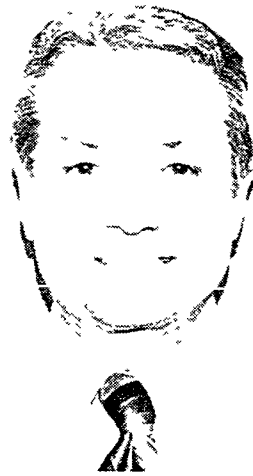

RIPLEY KNICKERBOCKER, who has worked for Michigan National Bank for the past seven years and was previously with a national public accounting firm, is setting up his own consulting firm. Knickerbocker, a five-year resident of South Lyon, can be reached at his home office at 60460 Lillian Street, evenings, or at his business office, 6995 Highland, Suite 101, Pontiac, during the day.

G.I.C. Financial will be headquartered in Rosemont, Illinois, a suburb of Chicago. Guardian Industries President William Davidson said, "Our new financial subsidiary will provide a good opportunity to enhance our return on shareholder investment. We are fortunate to enter this new business area with an assembled management team having extensive experience and well-demonstrated achievements. "Based on such factors, we are optimistic that our new financial unit will successfully meet the challenges of developing a strong position in its marketplace." ## His freebies could lead to Bigtime

Continued from 1-C "There's no outstanding voice in the industry, and Kevin, with some adjustments, could really fill that void," Reed predicted. "I don't have a large distribution system like RCA or Columbia, but I'm hoping to interest the large company's in distributing our label with Kevin's recording," Reed said. Reed hopes to book Casey in Las Vegas, and plans to have him record the lyrics of songs written by Reed, himself. In time, Reed hopes Kevin will be able to mold his sonorous voice into a composite of some of the best country-western singers. In short, Reed believes that if anyone can carve himself a niche in the entertainment industry, it will be Kevin Casey — the guy who gets a kick out of singing for free in Milford's bars.

HEAT RECLAIMERS COMPANY, a newly established Northville business at 224 South Main, reports that business is good. Paul Milhizer, president, explains the company sells energy conservation equipment. Milhizer, a Detroit who brings a technical background to the firm, reports he has been in the energy conservation business for some time and decided to open his own business in Northville.

He states his "number one item is the energizer heat exchanger," adding that "we can save home and business owners up to 25 percent on heating bills by extracting 50 percent of the heat going out the flu pipe." Milhizer says he has installed the exchangers in the area and that some homeowners report up to 30 percent saving.

Poetry . . .

Spoken and Sung

We sing with open mouths and hands like the wind like far seeing eyes that are braced for the truth
we sing for our spirit
we sing, even, for our supper

We speak with closed teeth and ears like folded wings left to sleep like anonymous bugs that live in the dug out holes in rocks
we speak in drought
we speak in frost, in riddles
we speak with broken bones hanging out of our mouths

We sing to ourselves and speak to others

Only children sing all the time until we teach them to speak.

Cagers stuff Western, 61-56

By KEN KOVACS

Ward scores 22 points to pace Mustang win

The backboard shook following the slam-dunk by Dave Ward.

This display of dominance Friday night, something not seen often during recent Northville High School basketball games, was a message to the Wall Lake Western Warriors: Don't mess with the Mustangs.

The Northville cagers, led by Ward's 22 points and 11 rebounds, repelled Western 61-56 Friday night to put them at 6-2 in the Western Six and 12-4 overall.

The Mustangs now share the top spot in the league with Farmington Harrison, which defeated Livonia Churchill last Thursday.

Churchill dropped to second with a 5-3 mark, while Plymouth Canton, now 4-4 was upset by Waterford Mott (2-6). Western is 1-7.

Northville coach Tim Lutes said he told his 6-foot-7 center to dunk the ball when he noticed a slight let-up in the senior's play.

"He wasn't taking the ball up aggressively and missed a few easy shots because of it," the coach explained. "So I told him when he had an open lane to take it up strong and jam it. When he plays aggressively he is really tough."

Ward followed his coach's advice and brought the fans to their feet, yelling for a replay.

By the end of the third period the Mustangs were ahead 41-26.

Despite the 15-point advantage, Northville didn't have the Warriors totally in hand until the final buzzer.

Western, led by Mike Xenos' 15 fourth-quarter points (he had a total of 25 to lead all scorers), closed the gap to five points, taking advantage of the Mustangs' change in defense.

"I made a mistake by going to a zone defense," Lutes said. "Our man-to-man defense had been working real well. I shouldn't have switched."

"We gave them the opportunity to shoot from the outside and they took advantage of it," he continued.

Western hit 12 of 16 shots in the final period, while Northville put the ball up only eight times, finding the mark seven.

Forward Tim Wagner hit five shots from the field and three of five free throws to add 13 points to the Mustangs' cause.

Guards Dave Greer and Tim McLaughlin added eight points apiece and led the team in assists with five and four, respectively.

McLaughlin also led Northville in steals with four.

Todd Jennings, senior forward, grabbed six rebounds for the winners, while adding four points and a pair of assists.

Wagner and McLaughlin had five caroms apiece.

Northville will travel to Mott for another Western Six matchup today, while Harrison is scheduled to take on Canton tomorrow (Thursday).

The Mustangs will travel to South Lyon for a non-league contest Tuesday. Northville will host Western for the final league contest Friday, February 27.

Candela takes second in wrestling districts

Heavyweights beware. Vince Candela is watching you.

The results of district high school wrestling at Ann Arbor Huron Saturday were predictable. Only one Northville wrestler got past the first two rounds.

Those that didn't get pinned in the first round, lost by a fall or decision in the next round.

But junior Candela pinned three of his four opponents for a second place finish and earned an opportunity to compete in regional competition Saturday at Ann Arbor Huron.

And the determined grappler nearly copped the district championship.

Candela jumped out to a 5-0 lead over Brian Piper of Plymouth Salem, but could not put him away.

The Salem heavyweight scored a pair of escapes and Candela was penalized for stalling, resulting in a 6-5 victory for Piper.

"Vince could have beaten him, but just didn't have enough time to come back," said Northville coach Gary Emerson. "If he had another period (two minutes) I think he would have won."

With the three district wins, Candela tied former Northville High School wrestler Jack Lancaster at 33 wins in a single season.

One victory at the regionals, where six heavyweights will compete in a two-loss elimination meet, would give Candela the new season victory total.

A regional championship match between Candela and Piper is possible, Emerson said.

Candela already has set a new record for pins in one season with 21. Lancaster set the previous mark of 20.

Should Northville's stellar heavyweight win in regional action, he would advance to state competition at the University of Michigan.

"There are some tough heavyweights in Michigan, but I think Vince can make it to the state level if he puts out his best effort," Emerson said.

Big Vince is among the best there is —

Spikers lose in two straight

A crucial line call in the first of two games with Plymouth Canton appeared to be the breaking point for the Northville volleyball squad.

The call, which went against the Mustangs, came when the score was knotted at 13.

"The girls just never recovered after that call," said coach Steve McDonald. "It was a judgment call and the official overruled the other two girls who called it out."

"We felt the other judges had a better view, but what can you do?" Northville succumbed 15-13 in that game and dropped the second contest 15-4.

The only bright spot for the Mustangs was the serving of Kim Maguire.

The senior spiker scored 12 points in the two games, 10 on her serves.

"Most of her points were scored on aces," McDonald said.

She had 14 good serves in as many attempts.

The Northville spikers, now 2-5 in the Western Six and 4-5 overall, have three more league contests remaining.

They will travel to Waterford Mott today for a contest at 3:30 p.m.

The Mustangs are scheduled to host Farmington Harrison Friday and will participate in the Schoolcraft Invitational Saturday.

Their final home contest is set for Wednesday, February 25 at 6 p.m. against Livonia Churchill.

Tankers score second conference win, 49-34

The Northville High School swim team recorded its second Western Six Conference victory Thursday, outdistancing Farmington Harrison, 49-34.

The Mustangs took six first place finishes in 11 events and scored seven seconds.

The 200-yard medley relay team of Gary Lauber, Tom Moore, Tony Nader and Char Ramsey swept that event with a time of 1:51.2.

Char Ramsey chalked up two victories in individual events, taking the 100-yard free style in 52.1 and the 100-yard breast stroke in 1:08.5.

Other first place winners include Tony Nader in the 200-yard individual medley (2:14.2); Lauber in the 50-yard free style (24.8) and Chris Behen in diving.

It was Behen's first individual triumph of the season.

Tim Walker, Dan Burchard, Mickey Nader and Jeff Evans teamed up to finished second in the 200-yard medley relay with a time of 2:00, while the 400-yard free style relay team of Doug Iverson, Burchard, David Copp and Lauber was clocked at 3:48.2 for a second place in that event.

Individual second place finishers include Copp in the 200-free (2:06.0) and 500-free (5:53.3); Tony Nader in the 100-yard butterfly (1:03.2); Walker in the 100-back (1:09.8) and Mickey Nader in the 100-breast (1:12.3).

The Mustang tankers now stand at 2-7 overall.

Northville will attempt to upset league-leader Plymouth Canton Tuesday and are scheduled to host Livonia Churchill February 26 in the Mustangs' final dual meet.

"We should have beaten Churchill last time and I guarantee we will take them this time around," predicted coach Pete Talbot.

The location of the Western Six meet, tentatively scheduled for March 5, remains undetermined.

Bobcat swimmers list times

The Northville-Novl Bobcats managed several notable finishes in five meets since January 17.

During an 'A' meet against the Golden Serpents of East Lansing February 14 and 15, Mark Hughes led the Bobcats with a third place finish in the 100-yard breast stroke. His time was 1:08.95.

Hughes also placed fifth in the 200-yard free style and sixth in the 100-yard back stroke and 200 individual medley.

Several other Bobcats achieved 'B' times at the Centerline Swim Club the same weekend, in a 'B'-C' meet.

Julie Hillfinger posted a time of 1:27.58 to take a third place in the 100-yard free style in 10-and-under competition.

She also swam 'B' times in the 100-yard back stroke, 50-yard free style, 100-IM and 50-yard breast stroke.

David Felicelli was clocked at 1:39.95 in the 10 and under 100-IM, while Kim Brining posted a 2:44.32 in the 200-free competition for 11-12-year-olds.

In the 200-yard free style relay the team of Brining, Sheila Albers, Sue Johnson and Kris Blom clocked in at 2:00.87 to claim third place.

In a 'B'-C' meet with the East Detroit Seals in January, Lisa Felicelli achieved an 'A' time of 5:39.1 in the 400-IM competition for 13-14-year-olds.

Brother David Felicelli swam a 'B' time in the 10-and-under 50-yard back stroke, clocking in at 46.00.

Karen Brining recorded 'B' times in the 100-yard back stroke, 100-free, 200-breast, 200-IM and 200-free, while Kim Brining posted 'B' times in the 50-yard back stroke and 100-IM in the 11-12-year-old event.

The 400-yard medley relay team of Chal Balk, Dan Norton, Hughes and Dave Messink took a third place in a recent meet with the Bulldog Aquatic Club of Livonia.

Ocelot cagers win pair

The Schoolcraft College basketball team ended its home season with wins over Alpena and St. Clair community colleges last week.

The victories boosted the Ocelots' record to 15-10 overall and 9-8 in the conference.

Mike Williams scored 18 points to pace the Ocelots in a 71-64 win over Alpena on February 12.

Four other Schoolcraft cagers also scored in double figures. Danny Brown had 14, Manuel Smith netted 13, Dennis Freeman collected 12 and Phil Blevins scored 10.

Schoolcraft dumped St. Clair 85-73 on February 14, as Williams scored 28 points, netting 14 of 20 shots from the field. He also pulled down 11 rebounds.

Freeman added 14 points and Blevins and Smith collected 10 each.

Coach Rocky Watkins' squad is scheduled to play at the University of Windsor today. They will travel to Oakland C. C. on February 21.

District play is slated to begin February 24 at Jackson Community College.

NHS gymnasts boost mark to 7-1

By KEN KOVACS

If this is a slump, there aren't too many teams that could beat the Northville High School gymnastics squad when it is at its best.

"We've been going through the mid-season blahs lately," said coach Jack Townsley following the Mustangs' 92.2-83.55 victory over Farmington Harrison. "But the girls did pretty well, considering the nagging injuries."

The meet, originally scheduled for Tuesday, was postponed until Thursday due to severe weather conditions which made travel difficult, if not impossible.

But the delay did not hamper the Mustang gymnasts who swept all four events, two by a spread of more than four points.

Paula Broderick started things off on the right foot, winning the vaulting competition with a score of 8.25.

Teammate Pam Stephens nearly matched her score, posting an 8.2.

Amy Aaron was third with a score of 7.85, while Anita Hodge finished fifth at 7.4.

Northville took the top four spots in the uneven parallel bars competition, as sophomore standout Stephens dominated the field with a score of 8.15.

Hodge was runner-up at 7.3, while Broderick took third with a score of 7.1 and Amy Aaron followed with 6.8 points.

The Mustangs had some problems on the balance beam, but still managed to win the event 21.85-21.75.

Aaron took first place with a score of 7.65, while Broderick tied for fourth at 7.15 and Stephens managed a score of 7.05.

"A few falls cost us some points on the beam," Townsley said. "We have been having most of our problems in that event. But the girls came back in the floor exercise."

Broderick, testing out a new routine, swept first place with a score of 8.4.

Harrison took second place with a score of 7.85, but Northville managed a tie for third place (Stephens scored a 7.75) and took fourth (Tammy Selfridge scored a 7.35).

The Mustang gymnastics currently sport a 7-1 dual meet record and have assured themselves of a winning record.

But the competition will be tougher the rest of the way, Townsley said.

The Northville squad is scheduled to travel to Plymouth Canton for a meet today.

They will face Dearborn February 23 and then must contend with a former All-State all-around champion from North Farmington.

Junior baseball seeks recruits

The Northville Junior Baseball Association has openings for several more players for the upcoming season.

Registrations will be taken through March 3 at the recreation department, located in the community building.

The association hopes to have two travel teams in both the Mickey Mantle and Sandy Koufax age-groups. But approximately 30 more ball players are needed to staff the four squads.

Additional players also are needed to fill the rosters of the various other leagues, according to John Swienkowski, association president.

A junior baseball coaches meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. March 10 at the First Presbyterian Church, 200 East Main.

JV cagers drop three contests

"We reached our peak about six or seven games into the season and have been going down hill ever since."

That was how coach Omar Harrison described the progression of his basketball team which recently dropped three more games to even its overall mark at 8-8 and fell to 3-5 in the Western Six Conference.

The Northville junior varsity cagers were not even in the game against Livonia Franklin (66-54) or Plymouth Canton (54-42).

But the 66-65 loss to Walled Lake Western Friday set off some steam from the coach's corner.

"We led the whole game and still managed to lose it," explained the frustrated Harrison. "We still had a chance to win it in the final minutes, but our big guys did not block out at the foul line. We ended up giving Western several free shots and that cost us the game."

The Mustangs were outrebounded 63-36 by the Warriors, who made 18 of the 29 free tosses awarded them by Northville.

"If Western would have made just half of their field goal attempts they would have blown us off the court."

One of the few bright spots for the Mustangs against Western was forward Dave Bach, who accounted for 21 points and grabbed nine rebounds, his best performance of the season.

John Foley added 14 points and five rebounds, while Tim Hendra scored eight points and pulled down nine caroms.

Foley hit 24 points in the loss to Franklin, while collecting nine misdirected shots.

Bach added eight points and hauled in six rebounds.

"The guys didn't play bad against Franklin," Harrison said. "They just had a better ball club."

Against Canton Bach led Northville rebounders with 11, while Foley had eight and Hendra collected six.

Hendra led Mustang scorers with 10 points, while Havalala netted eight and Foley, who is averaging nearly 16 points per game, was held to six — all in the first half.

The Northville junior varsity squad will travel to Mott for a Western Six contest today.

Top of the Key

Because of the snowstorm that began last Tuesday, many Sliger Home Newspapers area teams played only one game last week (Milford saw both of its games wiped out). Consequently, the same SHN top 10 that was listed last week appears this week.

But the players aren't necessarily in the same order. Walled Lake Western's Mike Xenos leap-frogged from 10th to fifth place — thanks largely to his 25-point game against Northville — for the biggest climb this week.

Meanwhile, Whitmore Lake's Mike Kelley joined Milford's Rob Sharpe as a Top of the Key member who may be sidelined for the season. Kelley fractured his jaw in a practice last week, and his return this winter is questionable.

Here's how they stand this week (at least 11 games played):

1. ROB SHARPE, MILFORD: (Games 11, Total Points 205) Average 18.7.

2. DAVE WARD, NORTHVILLE: (Games 16, Total Points 278) Average 17.3.

3. DAVE RICHMOND, WHITMORE LAKE: (Games 17, Total Points 263) Average 15.5.

4. DEAN DANKE, MILFORD LAKE: (Games 13, Total Points 196) Average 15.1.

5. MIKE XENOS, WALLED LAKE WESTERN: (Games 16, Total Points 227) Average 14.2.

6. ERIN HILL, WALLED LAKE CENTRAL: (Games 16, Total Points 223) Average 14.0.

7. STEVE WRIGHT, NOVI: (Games 11, Total Points 153) Average 13.9.

8. JIM KINNEY, MILFORD: (Games 15, Total Points 205) Average 13.7.

9. MIKE KELLEY, WHITMORE LAKE: (Games 15, Total Points 204) Average 13.6.

10. KEITH HODGENS, SOUTH LYON: (Games 15, Total Points 217) Average 13.6.

Big Vince

He rates among the best

He is a mammoth human being. At 6-foot-1 and 240 pounds there aren't too many people who would stand in his way.

A certain 5-foot-5, 165-pound sports writer I know certainly would not consider such a foolhardy stunt.

This Hercules-like man — who actually is only 16 years old and a junior in high school — has drilled fear into many of his wrestling opponents.

In fact, one wrestler (from a school which will remain nameless in an effort to preserve the fragile frame of this writer), chose to forfeit his match at the Western Six League meet this year, rather than risk bodily injury in a bout with this certain Northville heavyweight.

Those who are at all familiar with the Mustang wrestling team undoubtedly know that the massive human described thus far is none other than Vince Candela, the main attraction at Northville meets this year.

For those few who do not know Vince the wrestler, you may know Vince the humanitarian.

When he is not slamming an opponent to the mat or knocking an offensive lineman on his can — Vince also plays defensive tackle for the Mustang football team — this massive human structure is one of the most gentle human beings you are likely to encounter.

But whichever of Vince's personalities you happen to be acquainted with, it is my pleasure to inform you that he is one of the best wrestlers ever to wear a Mustang uniform.

In fact, he has the potential to become the winningest wrestler in Northville High School history.

At district competition Saturday in Ann Arbor he scored three wins to boost his season mark to 33-3. This puts Vince in a tie with Jack Lancaster — who posted 33 wins, along with 12 losses and a tie — for the most wins in a single season.

And Vince didn't fool around with points or decisions. He pinned three of his four opponents to claim second place and advance to regional competition at Ann Arbor Huron Saturday.

That puts his total number of pins this season at 21, one better than the previous season mark of 20 set by Lancaster.

If Vince, who also recently won the Western Six Conference heavyweight championship, continues his winning ways in regional competition and continues to dominate his weight class next year he has a chance to break Bill Blanchard's record for most career wins.

Blanchard, who competed at 105 pounds during his sophomore and junior years and moved up to 112 in his senior year, posted 92 wins in his three-year career.

Vince had only 17 wins as a sophomore, but could end up with as many as 38 or 39 victories this season, pushing his total over 50 with a year to go.

And nobody is pulling for Vince more than his coach Gary Emerson.

"Physically, he can do just about anything he wants," the coach boasted. "And I think he is finally getting the confidence he needs."

"He has a better perspective since he won the league and took second at the district. I think he realizes now that he can beat some of these guys."

But, whether or not Vince can avoid injury and move on to the state finals at the University of Michigan's Crisler Arena Saturday, February 28, he has earned the respect of this writer as a true competitor and fine individual.

Go get 'em Vince.

Pool shot artist slated at college

Area pool enthusiasts will have an opportunity to observe the talents of trick shot artist Nick Varner at Schoolcraft College next month.

The 1980 World Open Pocket Billiards champ will visit the campus Friday, March 6 for a clinic and trick shot exhibition.

Varner, also the current BCA National 8-Ball champ, will conduct a free clinic for beginners through advanced players at 1:30 p.m. in the College Games room, located on the lower level of the Waterman Campus Center.

At 8 p.m. he will perform a trick and fancy shot show on the upper level of the Waterman Center.

Tickets for the exhibition, priced at $2.50, are available at the Schoolcraft College Student Activities Office and at the door. Further information is available at 591-6400, ext. 380.

During Varner's professional pool career he has won several tournaments. His victories include the 1972 Minnesota Fats Challenge Match; the 1974 and 1976 Midwest Open titles; the 1975 Texas and Kentucky opens; the 1980 Illinois Open; the 1980 Kentucky Derby Open; the 1980 World Open and the 1980 BCA National 8-Ball Championship.

The Owensboro, Kentucky native won the last of his two ACU-I Intercollegiate championships in 1970.

As a junior at Purdue University, Varner beat Joe Balsis, the world champion at the time, when Balsis visited the campus for an exhibition.

BEFORE YOU OPEN AN INTEREST-EARNING CHECKING ACCOUNT... COUNT TO TEN.

If you think all interest-earning checking accounts are the same, you haven't been reading the fine print. Just one example: Major financial institutions in this area require minimum balances ranging from $500 to $2000 for such an account. In order to avoid monthly service charges, First Federal Savings of Detroit requires only $300.

So if you're about to open an interest-earning checking account, count the advantages you get at First Federal. You may get some of them elsewhere. But only at First Federal do you get all ten. Count 'em.

1. Your First Federal interest-earning checking account earns 5 1/4% annual interest.

2. First Federal compounds this interest continuously and pays it monthly providing an effective annual yield of 5.467%.

3. There is no monthly service charge as long as you maintain a minimum balance of just $300.

4. First Federal offers overdraft protection. (You must apply for this benefit separately.)

5. First Federal gives you your first 50 personalized checks free. No strings attached.

6. First Federal returns your cancelled checks with each monthly statement. Free.

7. First Federal has over 60 offices conveniently located near where you live, work or shop. You can transact your First Federal business at any one of them.

8. First Federal provides fifteen 24-hour Night Owl Windows (automatic teller machines).

9. First Federal's Prestige Emergency Cash feature entitles you to nationwide, out-of-town emergency cash withdrawals from your interest-earning checking account.

Ten advantages that explain why thousands upon thousands have already opened their interest-earning checking accounts at First Federal. Just drop in at any First Federal office, and one of our friendly staff will help you open your account almost before you can count to ten. You'll find it a very interesting experience and one more reason to make First Federal your Center for Family Financial Matters.

This service is available for sole proprietors, partnerships and some nonprofit organizations on a special arrangement basis.
