Barron resigns, Peltz not running

Two board posts to be open

Northville Board of Education Trustee Richard Barron, in an anticipated move, resigned from his position at the board's meeting Monday night.

Citing that "the demands of other duties" made it necessary for him to step down from the board, Barron told surprised board members that he had "enjoyed" his three years on the board but would be unable to finish his four-year term.

In addition to Barron's resignation, board vice president Charles Peltz announced that he would not seek re-election in June for another term.

Peltz, who was elected in June 1977, told board members that job travel assignments and other commitments were making it increasingly difficult for him to schedule board meetings.

Barron's resignation and Peltz's announcement not to seek re-election will leave two vacancies on Northville's Board of Education.

Barron, whose resignation was effective immediately, was unanimously appointed by the board at its Monday meeting to serve as an interim member until the annual school election on June 8.

In his letter of resignation to the board he stated that "with the requirement for an election on June 8th, my announcement at this time will make it possible for other citizens to take steps prior to April 6th to secure a place on the ballot, and two vacancies can be filled rather than one."

The 50-year-old trustee, who was elected to the board in June 1978, was recently appointed general manager in the sales division of Michigan Bell.

He is a past president and an active member of the board of directors of the Western Michigan Alumni Association and has lived in Northville for 10 years with his wife Nola and family.

Peltz, an executive with Federal Mogul Corporation in Southfield, lives with his wife Norma and two children at 21739 Rathlone

Delay attempt dies—tax bills will rise

Attempts to delay implementation of property tax equalization by class failed last week, and 1981 property tax bills will reflect average increases of 42 percent in the Wayne County portion of the city and 21 percent in the township.

A bill to delay implementation of Public Act 114 of 1979 died in the House Taxation Committee last Wednesday, clearing the way for application of the law.

The equalization by class law was introduced in 1979 by Representative Roy Smith (R-Saline), whose district includes Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

It was intended to correct an inequity in some communities where residential land was underassessed while commercial and industrial land was overassessed.

Having assessors go around and evaluate property values is expensive, so communities do full assessments only rarely. Oakland County did one in Northville last year, according to City Manager Steve Walters, but Wayne County residents are still seeing assessments based on work done many years ago.

The rising market value of property is accounted for by application of a state equalization factor in between actual assessments, calculated on the basis of recent property sales, to create a state equalized valuation for the community.

That multiplying factor is used to calculate individual property valuations. The new law creates different factors for different kinds of property in order to correct past injustices and reflect differing rates of increase in differing types of property, proponents contend.

Under the old method, for instance, all assessments in the township would have a factor of 2.19 assigned to them, which would, theoretically, bring valuations up to 50 percent of market value. The 2.19 factor represented a 15.7 percent increase over the previous year.

Under the new process, the factor for residential property will be 2.64, for commercial property 1.85, for industrial uses 1.93 and for agricultural property, 1.96.

In reality, Clerk Susan Heintz noted, there are only two agricultural parcels in the community, both owned by the state's Department of Natural Resources and the factor applied will be 1.0 because the state assesses them annually.

Overall, the total township valuation still rises the same 15.7 percent, but residential property sees a 21 percent rise and other properties increase by a rate less than that of inflation.

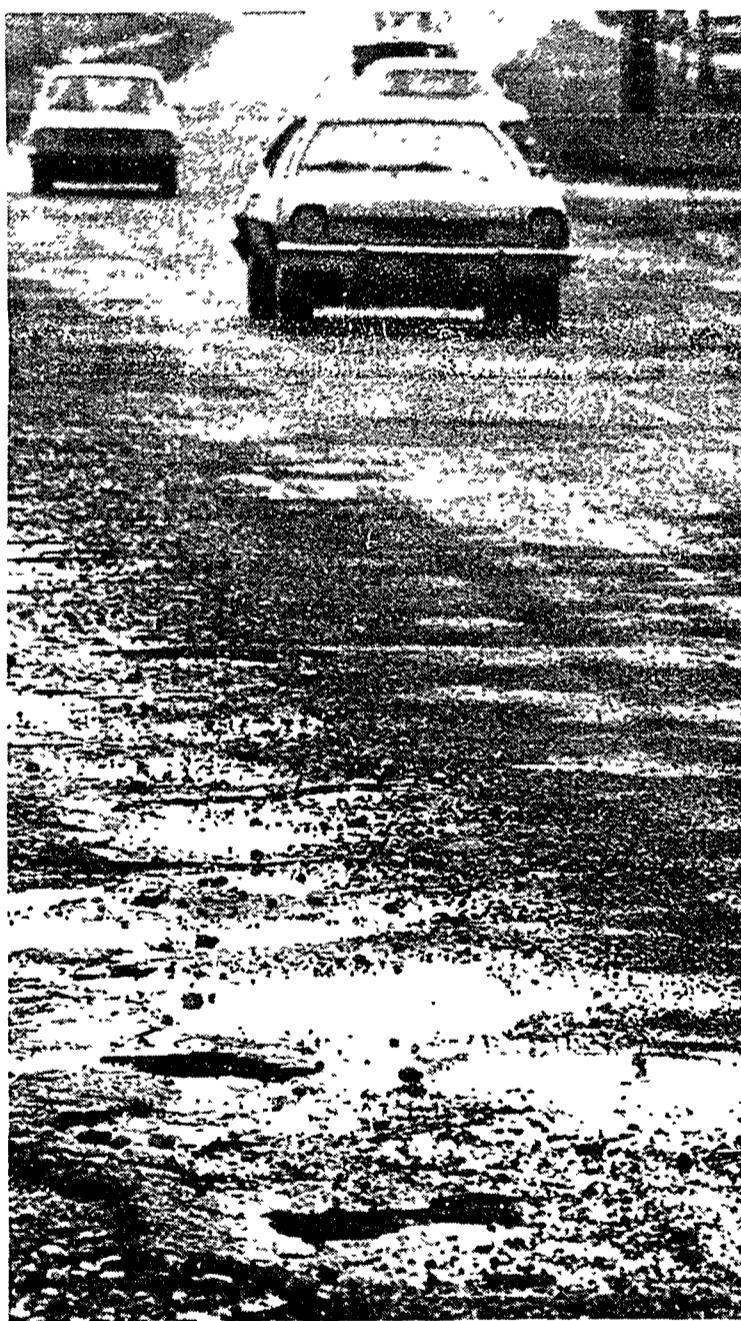

Northville City Council will consider official action in protest of the way the factors have been determined for city residents in Wayne next week.

Walters has argued that recent sales figures used in determination of the factors are not accurate reflections of market conditions and result in excessive increases to residential property valuations.

Things are a little different for homeowners in the Oakland County portion of the city. The reassessments done recently result in a factor of only slightly above 1.0, according to Walters, reflecting inflation since the assessment was conducted.

The new assessments, he noted, include the average 15 percent rise often quoted for the Oakland portion. The requirements of P.A. 114 will not be as clearly demonstrated because the new assessments are assumed accurate and virtually no equalization is being done.

South Main potholes are familiar sight to motorists

City studies cost for paving street

"Is anything being done about road conditions along Northville Road before Seven Mile? Can anything be done?"

The question may be asked by every motorist who drives along South Main (often called Northville Road) in the city trying to avoid potholes, but it was directed to city council by a citizen at the February 16 meeting.

Coincidentally, the council already had a report from City Manager Steven Walters regarding possibility of resurfacing the road as a joint project with the Wayne County Road Commission, which has jurisdiction of the road.

The matter was placed on the agenda of a special meeting Monday night.

Walters recommended Monday that the council take action at either its March 2 or March 16 meeting to make plans for a spring election in order to get permission to sell general obligation bonds.

Walters reported that he, City Attorney Philip Ogilvie and City Engineer Edward McNeely met with three representatives of the Wayne County Road Commission on February 13 to discuss further a joint project to resurface South Main.

The county road commission's declining revenues, especially gas and weight taxes, it was reported, have caused drastic cuts in its capital improvements program. This also caused the road commission to reduce its percentage participation from 60 to 40 percent in recent joint city-county ventures, the city learned.

This has been the percentage ratio in projects where local governments are interested in completing a project now rather than in the indefinite future. The road commission, Walters reported, also has required local financing and a delayed repayment by the county.

It was indicated that the city might obtain agreement of the Wayne County Road Commission to participate in resurfacing of South Main in the 1982 construction season if the city proposed doing so on the same basis as was agreed to in the City of Livonia for a Middlebelt widening project last fall for construction this year.

Because of interest costs involved, Walters estimated that the percentage split ultimately would be more like 75 city and 25 county.

The Livonia agreement provided that the city fund the project, including county engineering and construction inspection costs up front; that the county repay Livonia for 40 percent of the construction costs (but not including interest and financing costs) over five years beginning with the fifth year after the construction contract is awarded; that the county design, construct and administer the project; and that the city advance funding to county on a fixed schedule, including a small initial payment upon signing of the agreement.

The South Main project, constructed on the above terms would cost the city somewhat more than 60 percent because of the interest costs of obtaining the funding and carrying the county's share for five years in full, and in declining amounts out to 10 years, it was noted.

Because it appears the county road commission will be so involved with roads in the Cadillac-Hamtramck project, Walters suggested at the study session Monday that the city could offer to do the necessary engineering and hopefully have the offer accepted, giving a go-ahead for 1981.

Walters also noted that this spring may be a good time to get better construction prices than later.

South Main costs were estimated at $350,000 for construction; $70,000 for engineering and inspection; $35,000 for contingencies for a total of $455,000.

Walters broke the total into $273,000 (60 percent) for the city's share and $182,000 (40 percent) for the county's.

'Fresh approach' wins her JA title

By MICHELE McELMURRY

The young woman sitting in the executive dining room at Ford Motor Company's Sheldon Road plant is discussing the introduction of Ford's newest economy car with a plant engineer.

As befitting of a businesswoman she is wearing a tailored blazer, skirt and button-down vest and appears completely at ease talking about Michigan's economic woes and President Reagan's proposed budget.

Just another bright, young woman moving up the executive ladder, right? Well, not really—at least not yet.

Despite her apparent interest in business and her quick response to some headline questioning about the corporate world, the young woman readily admits that she's not interested in being a possible recruit—at least not at this time.

After all, when you're 15-years-old and a Northville High School sophomore, getting a driver's license takes first priority above everything else.

The young woman honored at the luncheon at Ford last week was Northville resident Tina Stoecklin—the new 1980-81 Junior Achievement Outstanding Businesswoman for Southeastern Michigan.

The tenth grader, who has been in JA's Northville student business location since its opening last fall, was chosen the winner out of a field of approximately 150 students from throughout southeastern Michigan.

Though she is not the youngest JA member to win the honor, Jim Jones of JA's office in Detroit points out that Tina's selection "was very unique."

"The award usually goes to a junior or senior or someone with three or four years of JA experience," Jones said.

Yet, as Tina explains, it may have been her "fresh outlook" that won her the honor.

"I think I might have been chosen because I put forth a fresh view point on things," she said. "I also had just taken an American Government course which had kept me up on current events."

The annual competition is open to all students involved in Junior Achievement programs throughout the state.

The competition mostly involves a question and answer period with questions focused on business, industry and national and international current events.

Jones explained that a real plus for Tina was that "she presented herself very well."

Tina was chosen as one of 12 finalists after winning the regional competition in Plymouth.

Supervisor denies 'deal' was part of engineer hiring

By KEVIN WILSON

Township supervisor John MacDonald said last week he authorized the delivery of site plans to McNeely & Lincoln Associates prior to the firm's appointment as township engineer, while denying allegations that the appointment was pre-arranged.

"I was interested in maintaining some degree of continuity," MacDonald said. "There were no deals, no secret arrangements."

Plans to be reviewed by the engineer in preparation for the February 24 planning commission meeting were sent to McNeely & Lincoln February 10, two days before the board of trustees voted 5-2 to adopt the firm as township engineer.

The appointment made February 12 displaced long-time engineer William Mosher with the same firm used by the city. Edward McNeely was a township water and sewer commissioner until February 18, when his resignation was accepted by the commission.

Mosher said last week, and MacDonald confirmed, that the engineer was asked to resign February 5 because the board was about to end the agreement. No plans were sent to Mosher after that date. Mosher was not asked to submit a proposal.

Mosher said MacDonald offered him "the opportunity to put my resignation in writing, because the board had made a decision." MacDonald said, at that point, that the decision to drop Mosher had been made, but the replacement firm was not yet decided upon.

But McNeely & Lincoln was being prepared for the position before the board of trustees tapped the firm from a field of eight invited to submit proposals for consideration, documents show.

Plans for Highland Pointe and an industrial development on Gerald were submitted to the clerk's office February 9, in accordance with township regulations which require a 15-day lead time for review of plans prior to the planning commission meeting.

Documents for another development, Northville Landings, were given to Mosher February 3 at a special planning commission meeting. He returned them to township hall February 13, the day after McNeely was hired. Despite its timely submittal, the plans were not on the planning commission's agenda February 24.

MacDonald said he received a call from the township clerk's office February 9, during which he authorized delivery of plans to McNeely for review.

"(Township employees) knew McNeely was the one I was considering most seriously and asked if the plans should be sent to McNeely. I okayed that, in the interests of maintaining some continuity."

Other sources contend it was MacDonald's idea to send the plans to McNeely & Lincoln, and it was not a proposal made by township employees.

The supervisor contended that delivery of plans did not represent selection of the firm from the field of eight invited to submit bids because it was not binding.

McNeely & Lincoln's proposal was dated February 9 and was one of the last to be submitted. MacDonald said he had examined the firm's contract with the city in the first week of the month.

"In all honesty," he said, "my choice all along probably was McNeely, because I knew the guy, and I want to be able to communicate well with the consultants. I wanted the consultant to be someone who understood the community and who we, as a board, can get along with."

But his favoritism toward McNeely was not a demand for board approval, MacDonald said.

had been made.

"I don't know if that is right or wrong," MacDonald said. "I think it was a legitimate thing to do. Perhaps I should have sent them to all the firms, I'm not sure."

His refusal, at the board meeting, to divulge reasons for dropping Mosher, he said, was based solely on reluctance to "denigrate Bill Mosher in any way."

The decision, he said, was taken as a result of discussions with chairmen of

MacDonald said he also had McNeely contact City Manager Steve Walters to see if city officials objected to the appointment or saw any conflict in the engineer working for both communities.

In making the switch, MacDonald said, he believes the board also was fiscally responsible.

"All these firms run very much the same fees," he said. "I think McNeely will, in the long run, come up cheaper, or at least no more expensive, than Mosher did."

The township has not had a contract with the consultants in the past, and Clerk Susan Heintz said one is not contemplated in the arrangement with McNeely & Lincoln. Payments are made based on the work done, so direct comparison is impossible, MacDonald said.

The township board adopts the fees paid to consultants for attending meetings and such, and approves payment for other work done when reviewing the month's bills payable report.

Furor resulting from MacDonald's reluctance to explain the switch was unwarranted, the supervisor said.

"I don't view the changing of consultants in the same light as something affecting everyone in the township, where, I agree, it would be important for us to lay it all out in front of the people," he said.

"I think the majority of people would say that 'whatever the board needs to do its job' would be okay with them," he said. "No one rose up in anger when we changed accountants, auditors, if you will, and they had been here even longer than Mosher."

"I'm not trying to draw the comparison with how visible the accountant is compared to Mosher but I just can't believe there is any great concern among the residents at large about this move. We have received very few calls here."

"I think I am elected to make decisions and the decision, in my mind, was a legitimate thing to do. We are trying to take a business-like approach to the job, and part of that is devising a workable relationship with consultants."

'There were no deals, no secret arrangements'

"I never met with the board in private, I didn't get on the phone and start arranging to hire McNeely," MacDonald said. "I basically turned it over to David Lelko (business manager) and had him get proposals from some firms (that had been suggested)."

"It was no secret that McNeely was the guy that I favored," he continued, "but I in no way tried to force that choice on the rest of the board, that would be presumptuous of me. My choice didn't mean McNeely was hired."

He pointed to the dissenting votes of Trustee James Nowka and Trustee Richard Allen (incorrectly reported last week as an affirmative vote) as evidence of "room for disagreement" on the board.

Submission of plans to McNeely & Lincoln for review did not require payment to the firm, MacDonald said.

"If they got the appointment, I thought, there would some continuity, if not, then any work McNeely had done would have been more or less gratis, for his own benefit."

MacDonald said he did not consider sending plans to all of the firms that had sent proposals to maintain continuity in the event a different selection other township boards and commissions dealing with Mosher and had been "in the works for three or four weeks."

"Despite what some people are saying, when I came in I had no preconceived notions about getting rid of people, or of 'sweeping the place clean,'" he said. "I believe that we have the right to pick the consultants—we hire the consultants we feel are necessary."

Once he decided a change was in order, MacDonald said, he launched the process of appointing a new engineer.

"I came to the conclusion that it's not 'you get rid of Mosher and then start looking for someone.' I couldn't see any sense in delaying the appointment for a month."

Early in the process, he said, he asked McNeely to withdraw his request for a controversial lot split on property the engineer owns in Whipple Estates.

"I told him, 'look, if you want to be considered for this thing, you've got to withdraw on the lot split,' and he did that," MacDonald said. "I'm not entirely sure that is fair to him, but I think it's what had to be done."

McNeely resigned his post on the water and sewer commission after winning the appointment as engineer.

Death of boy, 15, ruled accidental

Wayne county medical examiners Saturday ruled the February 15 death of Scott Friedman "accidental."

Examiners said the 15-year-old Highland Lakes resident died from "exposure with contributing alcohol intoxication."

The toxicology report showed .13 blood alcohol content and .26 urine alcohol content.

(A driver whose blood alcohol level is determined to be .10 is considered drunk by state police standards.)

There were no other drugs noted in the report, according to Sergeant Philip Presnell, township investigator.

Friedman's body was found behind Silver Springs Elementary, less than 300 yards from his home (20101 Silver Springs Drive) at approximately 10:20 a.m.

His body was discovered by one of three friends who had been out drinking with Friedman the night before, after Friedman's father had phoned the friend in an attempt to locate his son.

Township Police Officer Michael Panagotides responded and called in Presnell.

The autopsy report puts to rest earlier suspicions of possible homicide and assault.

According to Presnell, the abrasions found on Friedman's forearms, hands and face were attributed to his "falling down previous to his death."

Police were investigating the possibility of sexual assault, due to the fact that Friedman was found partially clothed.

But Friedman's companions told police his jacket and shirt came off while the foursome was goofing around.

Friedman had been a student at Northville High School since September. His parents are divorced and he completed junior high last year in Farmington Hills, where he lived with his mother.

He moved into his father's township

Presnell said despite the medical examiner's findings, he is continuing investigation.

"There are more facts we want to check out," Presnell said. "There are some questions concerning the events surrounding the death that are still unanswered."

The state police crime lab is assisting police in the investigation, but Presnell refused to discuss details.

"I don't know where the investigation will take us," he said. "I am always pleased when the corner's office says the cause of death wasn't homicide. But I still have some things that I want to find out."

WILLIAM ZHEMENDAK ALBERT SASS VERNON BELLOLI

Firefighters promoted by township trustees

Promotion of three township firefighters was approved by the Township Board of Trustees February 12.

Chief Robert Toms was granted permission to promote Lieutenant Vernon Belloli to captain; Sergeant Albert Sass to Lieutenant; and Firefighter William Zhemendak to sergeant.

In a letter to the board of trustees, Toms wrote, "All of these men, through their actions and competence have shown that the fire safety of the citizens of Northville Township is of paramount importance to them. They have continuously worked for the township and have shown the type of leadership that is needed."

Chief Toms told board members the promotions will result in a more efficient department by putting a captain in charge of each station and provide a lieutenant as a training officer.

The two sergeants, he said, will work for all the other officers.

Getzen's newest fireman

DAVE GETZEN

Dave Getzen recently became the newest member of the Northville Fire Department.

The 20-year-old Getzen, who has lived in Northville for 18 years, graduated from a 66-hour Firefighters' Training Council conducted at the University of Michigan.

Getzen was among nine students — his eight classmates now serve the Novi Fire Department — who graduated from the academy.

The new fireman, who serves the city on a part-time, part-paid basis, said he would like to become a full-time fireman as soon as an opening is available.

He said he also is considering a career as a policeman.

Township joins legal suit in pursuit of fire monies

Northville Township has joined a lawsuit against the State of Michigan seeking restoration of state fire protection reimbursements canceled by Governor William Milliken.

The township was invited to join the suit, at no cost, by the original plaintiff, the city of Ann Arbor.

Milliken executed his line-item veto powers over the state budget to eliminate payments to local governments with state institutions within their borders.

The monies reimburse the communities for costs incurred in fire protection services to the state facilities. Ann Arbor, like Northville, must extend its services to many state buildings.

Northville Township Fire Chief Robert Toms delivered a report of runs to state facilities made in December, 1980 and January 1981 showing a cost to the township of $672.60.

Toms noted that though many of the fire runs to state facilities, notably Hawthorn Center, are in response to false alarms, the cost to the township is not diminished.

The Ann Arbor suit argues that reduction or elimination of the shared revenues is a violation of provisions of the Headlee Amendment that require maintenance of state funding to local communities.

Based on that argument, the suit seeks compliance with the amendment and restoration of funding to 1978 levels.

In the 1977-78 fiscal year, the last for which figures are readily available, Northville Township received $15,954 in such state reimbursements. The 1980-81 budget sent to the governor allotted over $17,000 to the township. Both figures are based on state-owned property totalling 30.33 percent of township land.

Ann Arbor figures, based on a 35.69 percent proportion of state land, added up to over $458,000 in 1977-78.

Ann Arbor's city council instituted the suit January 19 by resolution. Northville Township joined the suit February 12.

A letter from Ann Arbor Mayor Louis Belcher solicited township support in the suit. Similar letters were sent to more than 30 other communities that received money under the program.

"We will carry the cost of the suit," Belcher said in his letter, "but would appreciate your support as a plaintiff in this matter."

EPIC will move

Court okays mental health moves

Regional offices of the Michigan Department of Mental Health (DMH) will move into quarters at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital as soon as a program housed in the building can be moved, DMH officials said Monday.

EPIC Center, which occupies the former nurses' quarters the regional office plans to utilize, will be housed in the main building of the hospital to make way for the Metropolitan Regional Office (MRO) of DMH, currently in leased facilities in Oak Park.

A federal court judge Thursday denied a request filed by parents of the adolescents in the EPIC program to place an injunction against the move.

The request for an injunction was based on the argument that moving the program into the main hospital would deny the teens in the programs their rights to equitable care.

The judge sided with DMH arguments that the location of the program will not affect the quality of care offered the mentally retarded-emotionally disturbed youngsters.

MRO had ordered the program moved into a portion of the main hospital February 10 in preparation for the offices to move in March 1, but that plan was scuttled when the judge issued a temporary restraining order to stop the move until last Thursday's hearing.

Kenneth Stockton, of MRO's community relations department, said Tuesday EPIC Center will not be moved immediately.

"We expect to have the program moved as soon as possible, but Dr. (Walter) Brown said he wants to notify all the parents and guardians of the children that the move is coming, in writing," Stockton said.

"We also plan to have a couple informational sessions for the families so that they can understand the move and what it entails," he added, "and assure them that there will be no diminishing of services involved."

Reluctant to set a date for the moves of either EPIC Center or MRO, Stockton said it would be as soon as possible.

"If I had to hazard a guess, I'd say (EPIC will move) around the middle of March," he said.

Planning for installation of MRO facilities in the building is continuing, he said, with orders for telephone installations and other organizational efforts underway.

MRO estimates an annual savings of $20,000 by using the state building rather than continuing its lease in Oak Park. Savings are to be realized in administrative costs, maintenance staffing and incidentals, Stockton said.

There is no pressure to move MRO to Northville immediately, he said, but savings could begin sooner. The Oak Park lease has been extended on a month-to-month basis while MRO hunted for alternative quarters.

DMH budget cuts in the past year have resulted in extensive layoffs throughout the system, and the department is still expending at a rate exceeding budget.

Further layoffs are possible, Stockton said, so the number of employees to be moved to Northville is in doubt. He estimated that 35 to 40 administrative employees would make the move.

Planning for the next year's budget includes a DMH proposal to delete funding for EPIC Center, a high staff ratio, low population program. The program is unique in the state and serves 15 youth with special needs. It has acted as a model for similar programs nationwide.

1980 tax payment due Friday of this week

Deadline for 1980 property tax payments in Northville Township is this Friday, February 27. City deadline for school and county property taxes also is Friday.

Township taxes may be paid at the township treasurer's office or at Manufacturer's Bank branches at Winchester and Six Mile and on Main Street through Friday.

Beginning March 1, late payments will be accepted by Wayne County Treasurer Raymond Wojtowicz at the City County Building in Detroit. The county charges a four percent collection fee and there is a late penalty of one percent per month. Township collections carry a one percent collection fee.

City property owners paid city taxes on a July billing, so the bills due Friday include county and school taxes only. Similarly, late payments are to be made to the county treasurer's office with collection charges and late penalties.

Both communities extended the mid-February deadlines to the end of the month, using Friday as the last business day. Taxes will not be collected in either office Saturday, February 28.

Police needed to patrol park

State takeover of Hines Parkway burden proposed

Concern that Wayne County budget cuts will lead to insufficient policing of Hines Parkway this summer has prompted a move to give park jurisdiction to the state.

The county board of commissioners created a special Wayne County Park Task Force to look into possible solutions to the policing issue, following reductions in the sheriff's department. The task force learned Thursday that local police agencies could not provide the services needed.

All communities bordering the park, the task force learned, had signed an agreement abdicating responsibility for the park to the sheriff's department in 1955.

Tim Ford, Plymouth police chief, told members of the committee February 19 that the agreement in 1955 was consummated with a one dollar payment to each community.

"Even so," Ford said, "none of the communities have the manpower or the training to cope with the huge crowds."

Up to 40,000 persons flock to the park daily in spring and summer.

The park corridor through Northville, Northville Township, Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Livonia, Garden City, Dearborn Heights, Detroit, Westland, Redford Township and Dearborn has been the source of drug and drinking problems in the past and the number of persons congregating in the parkway has presented a constant load to sheriff's patrols.

"We have a mutual aid group of 16 community agencies," Ford said, "but we haven't had occasion to form for the past 10 years."

"Crowd control requires especially trained police," he added, "and most of these agencies are having problems with cutbacks due to the economy."

Letters sent by the Dearborn, Plymouth and Westland departments all agreed there would be urgent need for park patrols this year, but denied they had the staffing to contribute much beyond what is done now in the course of normal patrols.

A resolution from the task force introduced by Commissioners R. William Joyner of Plymouth and William Runco of Dearborn seeking legislative approval to use nearly $1.2 million in secondary road funds to provide park patrols was bogged down Thursday afternoon before the full board. It was eventually referred to the Public Safety Commission.

Other commissioners attempted, in vain to explain that the fund could only be used for roads and parks, not for the county jail.

The commission is following up on the issue, awaiting further reports from police agencies bordering the park and information regarding uses for the secondary road fund applied elsewhere, but the focus shifted late last week to handing the park over to the state.

Commissioner Thomas Presnell Friday said he would introduce a resolution to the commission supporting a plan by State Representative Richard Young of Dearborn Heights that would make Edward Hines Park a state park.

Young said in a letter sent to bordering communities Friday that it is apparent Wayne County is not in position to fund the parkway and that it would be logical for the state to assume a greater role in developing parks closer to urban areas.

March 10 in city hall

Republicans slate meeting on tax plans

A tax meeting, featuring an explanation of the governor's proposed tax reform proposal, is planned here Tuesday, March 10.

Co-sponsored by the Northville Chamber of Commerce and the Greater Northville Republican Club, the meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Northville City Hall.

"This meeting," announced Robert Brueck, "also has the support of the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs. 'We hope to fill the city hall, with standing room only, to impress on our elected representatives that we regard this (taxation) a very serious subject.'"

Explaining the governor's proposal will be Douglas Roberts, director of the state office of management and budget. He also will answer questions by the audience.

According to Brueck, representatives Jack Kirksey and Richard Fessler and senators Robert Geake and Doug Ross, who serve this area, have promised to be present. They'll be given an opportunity express their thoughts on the subject.

"Taxation is a very timely subject," said Brueck, "since Northville is right in the middle of a very complicated mess caused by reassessment by 'class' and the differing standards of Wayne and Oakland counties when establishing state equalized valuation."

Although he represents the GOP club, Brueck said the issue is non-partisan as is the meeting itself.

Council to consider tax objection Monday

Northville city council at a special meeting called as a study session last Monday indicated it will take some formal action objecting to the Wayne County assessment factor at its March 2 meeting.

City Manager Steven Walters said he would make a recommendation on what the city might do, suggesting a formal legal objection might be considered.

As an alternate, he said, the local boards of review might try to change values or the city may wait until April when an election on the governor's proposed tax relief (tied to a sales tax hike to five percent) is anticipated.

The council also is expected to take further budget tightening measures to bring the more than $22,000 deficit still remaining from previous cuts into line. At a study session Monday Walters observed that the city is facing a situation similar to that of many others who also have been cutting back on overtime and services.

In addition, the ordinance that would permit self-serve islands at full service gas stations as well as plans for paving South Main will be on the agenda.

Councilmember J. Burton DeRusha at Monday's session warned that "citizens are angry with their tax bills and are looking for reductions."

He said he fears that if the governor's proposed five percent sales tax — tied to reduced property taxes — is approved that citizens "will see their property taxes float right up again."

Stating he is against the governor's plan, DeRusha suggested tax relief could come from changing the equalized value from 50 percent to perhaps 45.

He also questioned state legislators' salaries, saying he doesn't recall ever having had a vote on whether the posts should be full-time and doesn't see the need for them to be.

Some of the council members had attended a briefing on the state of the state last Thursday at Schoolcraft College hosted by local state legislators.

Correction

A page one story in The Record last week recounting Northville Township's decision to hire McNeely & Lincoln Associates, Inc. as township engineer, displacing long-time engineer William Mosher, erroneously reported that the board of trustees voted 6-1 to make the switch.

The actual vote was 5-2. Trustee Richard Allen joined Trustee James Nowka in opposition to the hiring. The Record regrets the error and apologizes for any problems it may have caused those involved.

Charter commission seeks public participation

Wayne County Charter Commission is seeking public participation in its efforts by conducting a series of meetings throughout the county through April.

The commission, authorized by the voters August 5, consists of 27 members elected from each of the 27 county districts November 4. It is assigned the task of drafting a new county charter, including a chief executive officer — either appointed or elected.

The commission must produce two proposals, one including an appointed chief executive, the other an elected one for submission to the attorney general by June 16. Voter approval would be required before it would be adopted.

Picture Story

by Steve Fecht

If the shoe fits . . .

Have you ever pared a sole? When was the last time you trimmed with nippers or rasped with a file?

Are these terms recognizable to you? As a suburbanite I had a problem trying to understand these terms, although they probably are very familiar to a person who works with horses — particularly to one who trims and shoes horses for a living. One like John Stanford. While traveling around the countryside in his red pick-up truck with anvil and forge in tow, Stanford sometimes must drive as far as Ohio to accommodate regular customers in need of his services.

Stanford began to learn the farrier trade about four years ago when he was helping Jim Schweighawser, a local farrier who has since retired.

"I'd probably still be working for him now if he hadn't quit," said Stanford. "I guess I sort of inherited his business."

According to Stanford, paring a sole, trimming and rasping are all important steps in preparing a horse's foot for a shoe. After the preliminaries are completed, Stanford will shape the shoe to fit the foot then "hot-shod" the shoe to the horse's hoof. This looks like it may burn, but the horse doesn't feel anything, I was assured. The shoe is then nailed in place to complete the job.

Stanford doesn't think much of trade schools because they can be deceiving.

According to Stanford, "To be a good shoer you've got to get in about 10 years. Anytime you think you know everything, you better get out of the business because you'll screw something up."

Applicants sought for plan commission

Northville City Council this week is seeking civic-minded citizens who would like to serve on the city's planning commission.

The city normally considers those who have applied for positions on various boards and commissions when a vacancy occurs, asking the body itself to make recommendation.

After William Tucker resigned from the planning commission in January, the city found the applicant suggested by the planning commission for the vacancy does not meet the charter requirement for residency, which is two years.

Police Blotter

Burglars strike twice at local businesses

Township police are investigating the breaking and entering of two businesses last week.

Burglars entered the Quik Pik, 41106 Five Mile, February 18, apparently by breaking a front window with a brick, police said.

Ten cartons of cigarettes were reported missing along with a book of Michigan "High Score" Lottery tickets. Employees told police the building was locked at midnight February 17.

One hundred thirty dollars in coins was reported stolen from the Glass Crutch Lounge, 18730 Northville Road February 18, township police said.

The cash was stolen from the business office, police said.

Also, a juke box was vandalized and the coin boxes of two pin ball machines and an Asteroids electronic game were broken into, police said.

The amount of money taken from the coin boxes has not been determined. Damage is estimated at $445.

More than $600 in various currency was reported stolen from a file cabinet at the Equine Associates trailer on River Street in the barn area at Northville Downs February 16, city police reported.

The file cabinet was pried open, police said.

A 1979 Ford station wagon parked at the Northville High School lot during a basketball game February 13 was vandalized by two youths, city police said.

The owner told police the youths jumped onto the roof and hood of his car from the roof of the high school, causing large dents in the vehicle.

Damage is estimated at $250.

Four wire wheel hub caps were taken from a 1978 Mercury Cougar parked at Fifth Avenue Hair Bending, 41116 Five Mile, February 17, township police reported.

Stolen property is valued at $300.

Police are searching for a black and brown German shepherd which bit a pedestrian walking east on Seven Mile, west of Clement at approximately 1:15 p.m. January 17.

The woman told police the animal bit her twice. One bite on the shin punctured her skin.

Since the dog has not been located, the victim is afraid of the possibility the animal may have rabies.

Anyone who may own a dog fitting the above description, or happened to see a shepherd in the area at the time is asked to call Ken Van Dam, township community service officer at 349-9400.

Bad bills passed at track

A 54-year-old Detroit man was arrested for attempting to pass counterfeit money at Northville Downs February 17, city police reported.

Joseph Brode was found in possession of $440 worth of counterfeit $20 bills, police said.

He was apprehended when he tried to buy a ticket with the phony money, police said.

But Downs teller Theodore Gould refused to accept the bills and stalled Brode while a fellow employee phoned auxiliary police.

Brode told police he bought $500 worth of the phony $20 bills from a black man, believed to be in his mid-30s, in the Downs parking lot that evening.

He said he paid $200 for the fake currency.

Federal secret service agents, who confirmed that the bills were counterfeit are questioning him further, city police said.

Two additional phony $20 bills were found later, one at the Downs' main admission office and a second in the program department, police said.

The teller told police he knew they were not genuine because they had identical serial numbers

Take your pick

Michael Sipkoski of Brighton won $250 in merchandise from the Sawmill unfinished furniture store on Main Street in a drawing February 7. He visited the Northville store February 14 and picked out this rocking chair as his winnings. The store's drawing was a promotional effort launched by new owner John Colizzi.

Board of education seeks two new members in June

Peltz told board members that he had "given a lot of consideration" to seeking re-election but felt that an eight year term would be too long.

In his remarks at Monday's meeting, Peltz said he felt the Northville Board of Education was not fairly representative of the district in terms of the residency of its members.

Of the seven board of education members, most are city residents and Peltz said he hoped that persons from both the township and city would "step up to the responsibility of serving on the board" to give fair representation to all areas of the school district.

Positions to be filled during the June election will include a one-year term, which would complete the term vacated by Barron, and a full four-year term.

Board members stressed that persons interested in a possible candidacy for election to the board should indicate which position they are interested in filing for.

All Northville city and township residents interested in running for election to the board must file nominating petitions no later than 4 p.m. April 6.

Qualifications for prospective school board member candidates include:

- Citizen of the United States.
- At least 18 years of age.
- Resident of the State of Michigan for at least 30 days.
- Resident of the school district on or before the 30th day prior to the annual election.

For the 1981 annual election candidates will need a minimum of 20 valid signatures of registered school electors of the district. It is suggested that five additional signatures (for a total of 25) be obtained in the event some signatures do not meet registration requirements.

Petitions should not be circulated in more than one city or township. Therefore, persons interested in circulating a petition in the City of Northville and the Township of Northville must file two nominating petitions within each unit of government.

The last day to file a petition will be 4 p.m. April 6.

Inquiries about petitions and the June 8 election should be directed to Harold Hines, director of business and finance, at 349-3400, extension 221.

Call toll-free for tax aid

Local residents have a toll-free number to call for help with their 1980 federal income tax forms.

In the 313 area code (Northville's) call 1-800-462-0830.

For tax forms and publications the number is 1-800-462-9910.

Phone assistance hours are 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays.

The Internal Revenue Service suggests that taxpayers can follow their 1979 returns as a guide when preparing 1980 returns as the forms 1040A and 1040 closely resemble last year's.

The IRS suggests gathering income and expense records and grouping them by categories of income and deductions.

Most people, the IRS says, should be able to do their own returns, and their help is as close as the telephone.

Meads Mill musicians take honors in festival competition

Meads Mill band students participating in the 1981 Solo and Ensemble Festival in Livonia last month proved that hard work pays off.

All 18 Meads Mill students participating in the annual event took first, second and third division ratings in solo, duet and quartet performances.

Steve Kozler, Wendy Warner and Cheryl Yant each received two first division ratings for their performances. Other first division winners were Jeff Benefiel, Saumya Bhavsar, Betsy Buckmaster, Randy Chisnell, Kim McRae and Anne Wertheimer.

Students receiving second division ratings were Ira Benstein, Brian Burgett, Richelle Herrington, Audrey Kazaleh, John Kiplinger, Carrie Lis, Kim McRae, Sandy Reh and Cheryl Spaman.

Third division ratings went to Richelle Harrington, Carrie Lis, Kim McRae and Angela Munsell.

The 1981 Solo and Ensemble Festival was held at Franklin High School in Livonia. The event is sponsored by District Twelve of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association.

Approximately 500 students from Wayne, Monroe and Washtenaw counties performed solos and ensembles and were graded on tone, rhythm technique and interpretation.

Tina Stoecklin, center, a Northville High School sophomore, is the 1980-81 Outstanding Businesswoman for Southeastern Michigan. Ford executives, sponsors of Northville's JA company, honored Tina at a luncheon last week. From left to right are Meads Mill Assistant Principal David Schopp, Bob Carter, Doug Shelly and John Georges. Record photo by Steve Fecht.

She's outstanding businesswoman

The final judging took place January 30 at Mercy College and each of the finalists — all students from different high schools — were asked questions by last year's winners and members of the Junior Achievement Board of Directors.

When the judges announced the two winners of the competition, Tina explained that she was probably the most surprised person in the room.

"I was totally shocked," she explained. "I didn't expect to win. All the other finalists were very sharp."

Her male counterpart, the 1980-81 Outstanding Businessman for Southeastern Michigan, is a Livonia student who has been involved in Junior Achievement for three years.

Along with her new title, Tina received a trophy, a $100 savings bond and a travelship to the Junior Achievement National Conference to be held in August at the University of Indiana.

Her new position also will give her a seat on the Junior Achievement Board of Directors. She will serve in a semi-official capacity at the board's monthly meetings at the Detroit Athletic Club.

Tina explained that the competition has been a "tremendous experience" for her and has kept her busy.

As a finalist in the competition she was among the 11 other students seated at the speakers table at a recent luncheon at the Detroit Economic Club with guest speaker Robert J. Buckley, chairman, president and chief executive officer of Allegheny Ludlum Industries, Inc.

Yet, Tina is quick to point out that her interests go beyond discussions of monetary policy and the cost of living index.

Her hobbies include playing the violin and piano as well as reading. She is an active member in the Northville High School Drama Club and has been busy rehearsing her part in the chorus for the spring production of "Oklahoma."

The Stoecklin family moved to Northville last June from Coral Springs, Florida and Tina explained that she had "never heard of JA until moving to Northville."

However, Northville's JA center, "Jafo," wasn't initiated until last October. Its current membership includes about 18 students in grades 9-12 and is sponsored by the Ford Motor Company — Climate Control Division.

Tina works in the production division of the company which to date has grossed approximately $2,000 through the sales of trivets, trouble lighters and jewelry boxes.

The group meets every Monday at Meads Mill Junior High with advisors from Ford.

Tina explained that after a flurry of meetings and activities things are beginning to wind down.

As for her future goals, the articulate 15-year-old explained that it's a little too early to tell.

However, as one might expect, she plans to go on to college and is "leaning toward a business major with a foreign language minor."

Appeal tax next week

Oakland County residents are seeing increases based only on actual assessments, neighborhood by neighborhood, house by house. Instead of a 15 percent rise applied uniformly as a factor, individual properties will all see differing changes that result in the 15 percent total valuation change.

Home improvements and additions are included in new assessments. In Wayne County, only homeowners who have made improvements or finished a house are receiving change of assessment notices this week. The handful of homeowners receiving such notices will see the factor to be applied to the assessment at the bottom of the billing.

Other homeowners will not see the factor until receiving tax bills from the city in July or the township in December. No taxpayer will know the total tax bill prior to those billings.

The Wayne County assessor waited for the results of the Lansing action before sending the change notices, because it wanted to include correct equalization factors along with the assessments.

Any inequities resulting from the system are to be addressed first at the local board of review, and, if the property owner still feels wronged, pursued upward to the Michigan Taxation Commission.

Local boards of review may change an assessment determined to be unjust, but have no power to change the factor used in equalization. Those protesting assessments must be able to demonstrate that the assessment is inaccurate.

Boards of review state-wide beginning meeting March 3. The city of Northville established March 10 as the official starting date in its charter, superseding the state rule.

Township dates are 9 a.m.-3 p.m. March 3 and March 9; 3-9 p.m. March 4 and March 10 at the township offices, 41600 Six Mile.

City sessions are 1-4 p.m., 7-10 p.m. March 10; 9 a.m. to noon, 1-4 p.m. March 24 at city hall.

Council discusses street paving

Costs with a 10-year city bond issue sold at nine percent were detailed by Walters, who added $278,000 interest to the $273,000 for a total of $551,550 (or 75.2 percent), reducing the county percentage on $182,000 to 24.8 with the total cost of the project rising to $733,550.

At the Burton 16 meeting council member J. Burton DeRusha questioned the city manager about what sort of money would be available for the South Main work.

Walters said an election will be required before selling construction bonds. He added that it will be necessary to consult a bonding attorney, suggesting that the same arrangement might be made as was done for the library construction.

Monday night DeRusha said he felt it was best for the city to go ahead as he saw no way Wayne County would be doing so in the next few years — probably not in the next 10.

The council recalled that delays in constructing the Randolph Drain with Novi caused the cost to triple.

Motion Carried Unanimously. POLICE REPORT Councilman DeRusha questioned the death accident totals which showed two.

Chief Cannon explained there were two accident deaths but three fatalities altogether. Discussion on the other fatality followed.

Mayor Vernon noted the larcenies were up.

Chief Cannon commented on the cooperation of the proprietor of the coin exchange in the recovery of stolen silver and gold items. He also mentioned he had sent letters to the local legislators endorsing a bill re precious metals.

Councilman Ayers asked if he had any suggestions for home owners.

Chief Cannon suggested a fire proof container stored either in the floor or in the basement.

Mayor Vernon thanked the Chief for another fine comprehensive report.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITIZENS There were none.

AGENDA REVISIONS Tim Lambert, U of M Comprehensive Plan Group, asked to speak to item 22 on the agenda.

He briefly updated Council on the meeting that would take place tomorrow night between the Planning Commission and the U of M. The inventories would be reviewed at this meeting and from this they intend to build the Master Plan update. He stated the delivery of the document should occur at the end of February or the beginning of March. He again invited Council to the February 10 workshop.

PUBLIC HEARING TO CONSIDER THE REPEAL OF AND SUBSTITUTION OF TITLE 4, CHAPTER 14, REGULATION AND SALE OF FLAMMABLE LIQUIDS OF THE CODE OF ORDINANCES OF THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE "The Clerk read the notice of public hearing as published."

Mayor Vernon opened the public hearing and asked for any comments from the audience.

Mr. Richard Truzzi, Shell Oil Company, stated he had reviewed the proposed ordinance and had some comments. Section 4-1403 re diesel and gasoline being provided at the same island with leaded and unleaded — it was his opinion they should be provided for at a separate island.

Mayor Vernon suggested "as permitted by state statute" should be inserted after the word "public" to clarify the sentence under Section 4-1403.

The City Attorney agreed with Mayor Vernon.

Mr. Truzzi commented on the requirement of the canopy, which, in his opinion, the cost could prohibit some stations from putting them in. He mentioned that the Shell Oil Company have put a lot of money into canopies and will continue to do so. He suggested they might reconsider requiring canopies and the fire extinguisher system in Section 1411.

Mr. Bill Asher, 357 S. Rogers, stated he has had a full service station for 30 years. He mentioned the City of Northville used to have approximately 12 to 13 full service stations and there are only 3 or 4 now. He asked how many full service stations would there be if you eliminate them.

He mentioned they answer service calls help senior citizens and perform other services. He stated there was more service given, however the gas is a little cheaper with the self-serve.

Mr. Leonard Klein, a Township resident, stated the man from Shell Oil Company was talking as if the Ordinance was already a fact. He hoped the Council would not pass it. He also agreed with Mr. Asher that the City needs a full service station. He asked how many people from "76" Clark, Boron and Gulf were looking to the government to bail them out. He again pleaded, as a township resident, that Council not pass this ordinance.

Mr. James Davis, representing the Boron Station on 8-Mile & Taft, stated the customers would not be losing services but adding another service. He stated the majority of people buy their gas in other cities. He mentioned the economics involved and they could not stay in business and not offer what the public wants. He stated he would have a full service and a split island that way he would be able to offer what the public wants.

Mr. Klein commented that Boron was strictly a market organization and Cal's Gulf, Ashers and the "76" stations were full service stations in his opinion.

The City Attorney mentioned that the Township does not prohibit self service stations.

Mr. Klein stated he buys from the City and likes the full service station.

Mr. Davis mentioned all the services his station offered and stated it was a full service station. Mr. Truzzi added that the lack of self service was instrumental in their decision to terminate. He also commented on the need for that ordinance in the City of Northville.

Councilwoman Ayers mentioned that she would like to be able to purchase gas as cheaply as possible and would like the residents to be able to shop completely in the City of Northville and not be forced out of the community to purchase gas.

Councilman DeRusha stated it was not the intent of Council to benefit or penalize anyone. He thought the ordinance was worthwhile.

Discussion followed on the wording of the ordinance.

The City Attorney asked Council to write out their problems or suggestions and he would revise the ordinance. He advised that the Public Hearing would have to be adjourned to give the public a chance to give their input. He stated if there were substantial changes the ordinance would have to be published, if minor it would not have to be. Mayor Vernon officially reopened the public hearing and asked for any comments from the audience, there were none.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilwoman Ayers to adjourn the public hearing until the next regular meeting, February 16, 1981.

The meeting was recessed at 9:40 pm and reconvened at 9:50 pm.

RURAL HILL CEMETERY DRIVE The City Manager explained the trade of property was practical with the Wayne County Road Commission, however they would require a full road survey. He received prices from McNeely Engineers to do the survey at a cost of $3,000.

Paul Newman, Northville Laboratories, stated, as a measure of his good faith for the relocation of the Rural Hill Cemetery Road, he was willing to expend the maximum sum of $1,500 as a contribution to the cost of a survey for the land exchange.

It was the feelings of Council that, in view of a proposed $60,000 budget deficit, if Mr. Newman wants to do this, he should want to invest the full amount. The City could not bear any part of the cost.

Mayor Vernon instructed the City Manager to communicate the feelings of the City Council to Mr. Newman.

Constables aid DNR officers

Conservation efforts in Northville Township were given a boost last week when the board of trustees formally recognized its constables' authority as conservation officers.

Constable James Schrot appeared before the board to solicit its support in attempts to quell poaching and pollution in the area by having himself and Joseph Lukomski aid the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

A single DNR officer patrols the area, and is overloaded, Schrot said. The two constables will be under the supervision of the DNR officer and attempt to enforce conservation laws.

A dog census is among the tasks assigned to them, and Schrot said four deer carcasses had been found in the western end of the township and that the DNR would like to stop deer poaching.

Gas tax revenues drop in 1980

Fuel and weight tax revenues declined again the last quarter of 1980 compared with 1979, but in Northville's case the dip was minimal.

Northville's share of the tax receipts came to $25,533 down only $66 for the same quarter of 1979.

In Novi, on the other hand, that community's share increased from $60,142 to $99,601.

State-wide gas tax proceeds decreased 9.2 percent from the October-December period of 1979 and weight tax (license plate) fees fell by 7.5 percent.

Net income for distribution to the state, counties and municipalities and to public transit and rail systems was down by nine percent. That's a slight improvement from the third quarter distribution, which was off 10.9 percent from a year earlier.

Gas tax revenues in Michigan totaled $108,071,236, down by $10,920,047.

The yield from the diesel fuel tax, which was reduced last April 1 from nine to five cents a gallon for truck operators, fell from $7,992,285 in the first quarter of 1979 to $3,533,565 last year. The loss was partially recovered through $2,546,492 in special fees paid by truckers receiving the full tax discount.

Weight taxes produced $32,631,130, a decline of $2,663,464.

Gross receipts in the Michigan Transportation Fund for the last quarter, including interest earnings and miscellaneous revenue, totaled $152,541, a decline of $15,548,148.

Deductions for various grants, including collection costs, left $144,253,246 for distribution for state and local highway, road and street programs and for other transportation, off $14,185,630 from 1979. The money is divided according to formula set by state law.

Townships of Michigan, such as Northville, receive no direct aid from these taxes. Their share is built into the revenues paid to counties, which are charged with maintaining roads in townships.

Wayne County, responsible for Northville Township roads, received $7,022,074, down from $7,800,877.

Oakland County receipts fell from $4,831,761 to $4,398,683.

Our Opinions

Don't ignore review meetings

Don't ignore those board of review meetings slated to begin here next week.

If your property assessment is greater than 50-percent of its market value you'd better think seriously of protesting the unfairness at one of the scheduled meetings. An over-assessed property will only compound the gigantic State Equalized Valuations (SEV) increases pegged for most of Northville.

Only property owners who challenge assessments at a local board of review meeting may appeal to the state assessment tribunal. Thus, if you're planning to carry your fight to the state level, which often times can mean trying to cut through bureaucratic redtape, you must first appeal to the local board of review.

Board of review members are local residents, like most of us, and they will listen courteously to any complaint or questions that you may have. It's important, however, that your challenge of an assessment be backed up with factual information — not assumptions or assessment philosophy.

Among the kinds of evidence that can best support a complaint are documented sale prices of similar properties in the neighborhood and comparisons of your property assessment with assessments of similar properties in the neighborhood. Photographs to dramatize similarities can be helpful.

Property owners should be aware that the boards of review cannot roll back an assessment because of the announced huge increases in the SEV. "We can sympathize with the owner but there's just nothing we can do about it," says James Cutler, chairman of the city's board of review. "All we can consider is the local assessment itself."

Thus, the owner whose property is properly assessed at the 50-percent level faces the same SEV increases that under-assessed owners face. "Those are the people who will really be getting it in the neck," notes Cutler.

"They can't complain about their local assessments and they can't protest the state (SEV) increases. It's unfair...we (boards of review) know it...but under the law there's nothing we can do about it."

The first homeowners to get hit with the announced SEV increases — 42 percent in the Wayne County section of the city and 21 percent in Northville Township — will be city residents. That's because city taxes come due in July.

But city taxpayers, like township taxpayers, will not experience the major impact of the SEV increases until next winter when the next round of school taxes come due. School taxes, in both the city and the township, represent the lion's share of the tax bill.

(The earlier announced average 15 percent increase in the Oakland County section of the city is built into the higher assessments received by property owners this week. Reassessment of Oakland properties occurred this year, which theoretically puts properties at the 50-percent level, so no SEV increase is contemplated in the Oakland section, according to the county).

The only way taxpayers can escape the full impact of the SEV increases is if the city, township and the school district roll back their millage rates to offset the SEV increases. And this year, perhaps more than in any previous year, municipal and school officials will be under the taxpayer gun to do just that.

All of which places the school district and the township in the awkward position of asking for millage renewals (not increases) at a time when property taxpayers are looking for ways to vent their frustrations. Convincing taxpayers that a renewal tax is necessary will require the wisdom of Solomon. Somehow, officials must convince taxpayers that they will not reap additional tax revenues produced by SEV increases if they hope to gain approval of the renewal issues.

If you want to appeal your local property assessment, here's when to do it:

In the city, board of review meetings are scheduled at city hall on March 10 from 1-4 p.m. and 7-10 p.m. and on March 24, 9 a.m. to noon and from 1-4 p.m.

Members of the city board of review are James Cutler, Robert Brueck and William Milne.

In the township, board of review meetings are scheduled at township hall on March 3 and 9 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and on March 4 and 10 from 3-9 p.m.

Members of the township board of review are Charles George, Marilyn Donovan and Dorothy Johnson.

MICHELE McELMURRY

Michele McElmurry gets student's comment

Whenever a photographer accompanies Michele McElmurry on a school or library assignment on her beat, the pictures taken are likely to include this young reporter surrounded by the youngsters whose activities she is covering. It's easy to see why as she expresses a positive, pleasant interest in stories she's writing — evident in the accompanying picture taken when she interviewed youngsters at Amerman elementary during an anti-smoking campaign presented by high school students.

Michele joined The Record staff July 7 of last year after being graduated from Michigan State University in June with a BA degree in journalism, a minor in English and a cognate in Soviet Foreign Policy and Russian history. She was campus editor of the Michigan State News during her senior year. She had been campus reporter for a year, covering the academic council, board of trustees' meetings and ever-controversial President Cecil Mackey.

She says her reporting experience at the State News, especially covering the council and trustees' meetings, really help in her present beat — Northville board of education — especially in the areas of school financing and budgets.

"I enjoy the diversity of the school beat — whether it's talking to a group of first graders or discussing a millage renewal with the school superintendent. However, the aspect of the beat I find most enjoyable is the countless feature stories which can be developed. The district has some outstanding programs often unnoticed by the community," McElmurry observes.

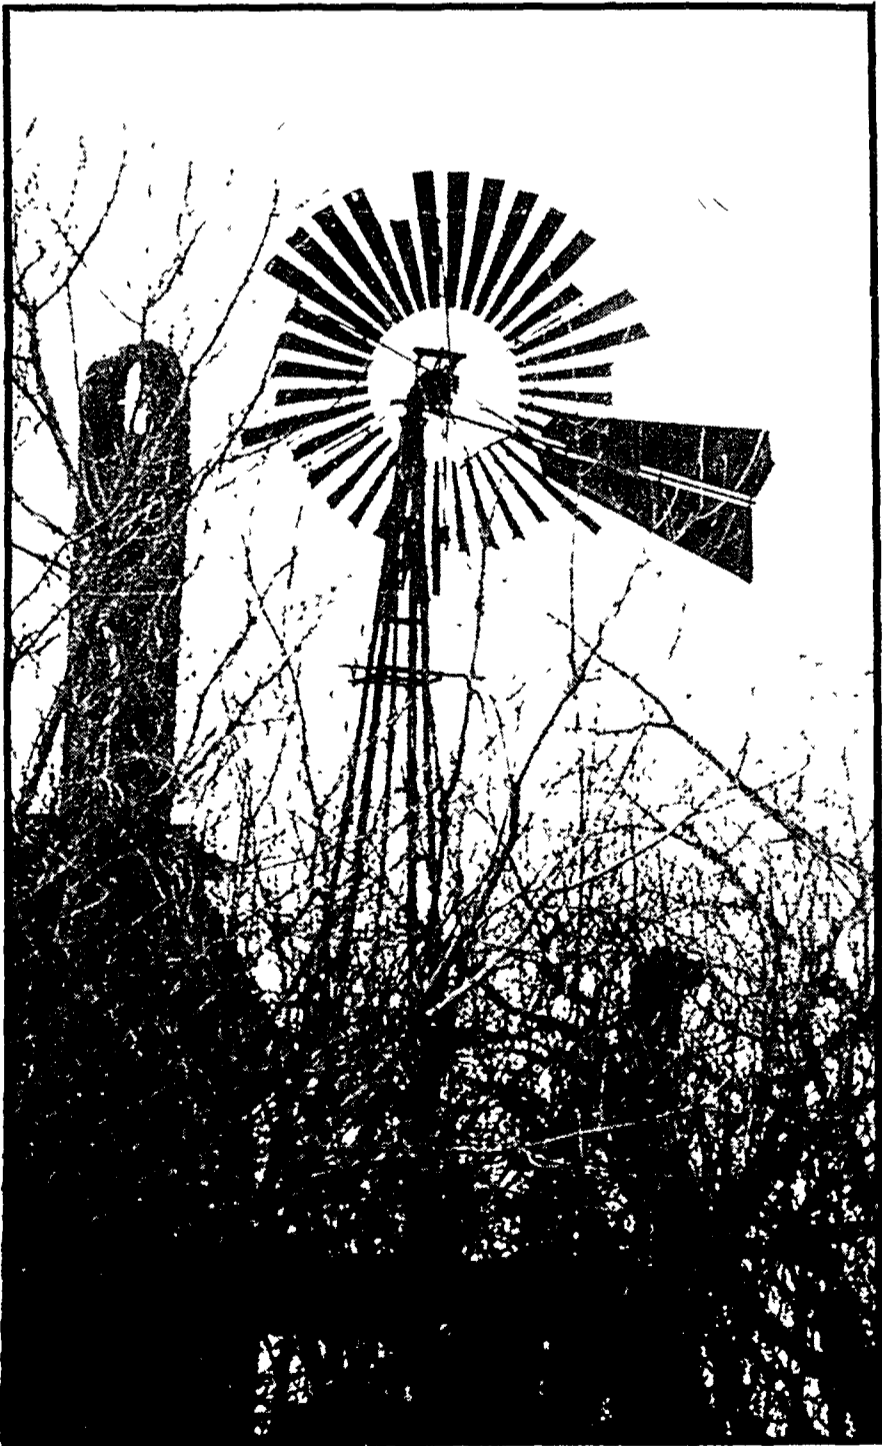

All staffers on a weekly paper get what might be called "walk-in" experience as the reporter on hand often gets the assignment when a story or release arrives. Therefore, she is writing obituaries as well as weddings and other club news for the Our Town section of the newspaper while primarily covering the education beat.

The 22-year-old reporter commutes to Birmingham area, where she lives with her mom, sister and brother. She admits to being a real antique and history buff, especially of the Civil War period. "I'm a collector of Civil War photographs," she adds — and that ought to be a story in itself some day.

VanderMolen voices opposition to annexation issue

To the Editor:

One of the most insidious forms of land-grabbing has made its presence felt in recent years. As we have seen, strip annexation allows a city the right to annex a small portion of a township without giving a majority of the township residents an opportunity to vote on the matter.

Consequently, the cumulative effect (of this bits and pieces approach) is to remove commercial centers, industrial parks, and other tax-producing goodies from the township base and add them to the city. If this is the form of annexation favored by the mayor of the City of Northville, then township taxpayers should begin to hang on to their wallets.

Accompanying this movement toward piecemeal annexation is a carefully orchestrated psychology designed to force township residents to accept unification in total.

Recent tactics include hiring of the city engineer to replace the township engineer, cooperative meetings between the city manager and the township manager, planning for more joint services, League of Women Voters seminars discussing annexation, attempts to hornswoggle the residents the residents to accept a charter township form of government, slanted editorials by this newspaper about problems in the township hall, and onward the orchestra plays until we are expected to dance to the tune.

Amazingly, at some future date, all of these so-called independent groups will submit studies favoring annexation.

Meanwhile residents of the city are overburdened by high taxation rates on their property because of recent changes in the state law and due to the loss of part of its local tax base, then ultimately it becomes the victim of reduced revenue sharing funds, which compounds the burden on residential homeowners.

Should city and township homeowners become sacrificial lambs, placed upon the altar of escalating tax rates? Why should we be drawn into such a quagmire without having the right to vote on the issue?

Larry D. VanderMolen

They express thanks for story and pictures

To the Editor:

I have been reading The Northville Record most of my life and have always thought that it captured the essence of our community.

However, it was not until you featured our old fashioned candy stores in your February 11 issue did I appreciate the accuracy of your reporting. The photographs by Steve Fecht of our home made candies were superbly representative. The reporting by Michele McElmurry was wonderful, and caught the flavor (no pun intended) of Northville-Plymouth Sweets 'N' Treats. I was never misquoted and your reporter's observations and side comments were well integrated into the feature. A job well done.

We express our appreciations and congratulations.

Respectfully,

Community invited to Founders' Day event

To the Editor:

What is Founders Day? Why is the Northville PTA-PTSA Coordinating Council having its first annual Founders Day dinner on Thursday, March 26, at 6:30 p.m. in the high school dining room?

In answering these questions perhaps we will be answering your queries about Founders Day.

Founders Day commemorates the organization of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, which was on February 17, 1897, in Washington, D.C. Celebration of this day was conceived in 1910 by Mrs. David O. Mears, one of the original members of the First Congress of Mothers, and this observance has been a part of the parent-teacher program since that time.

Our Founders Day dinner will honor and recognize those people in the school and/or the community who have done an outstanding job of service for the school and/or the community. It is the effort of PTA-PTSA and that of the building administrators and the central administration to honor those persons affecting the education and the lives of our children in Northville.

We sincerely invite you to attend and see for yourself the efforts of your business community and your public school system.

To purchase tickets please contact Judy Kramer, 348-1586, Cindy LaChance, 348-9077.

Give master plan input

Residents agree on city's problems

What are the five most important problems facing the City of Northville in the next five to seven years and what are some possible solutions?

Approximately 25 residents, including members of the city planning commission, recreation commission, library commission, city council and various businesses, as well as representatives from the local newspaper, attempted to answer that weighty question February 17.

A nine-member student planning group from the University of Michigan, currently in the process of updating the city's master plan, called the informal group discussion at city hall in an attempt to get further input.

Results of the two-hour discussion were similar in each of the four groups.

Among the major problems which emerged were maintaining a viable

She commends efforts of Northville hospital

To the Editor:

I have been collecting clothing, candy and other items for sick patients of Northville Regional State Psychiatric Hospital.

I have suffered with the same illness when my children were very young. Believe me, I wouldn't wish this illness on Richard Nixon. It's hard to cure and my whole family suffered because of it.

So Mr. Stockton doesn't like the green paint. Sir, get yourself a brush and a gallon of paint and get to work! Northville hospital is not a country club. The director, John Reynolds, tries very hard to run a good hospital. The last time I saw him (when I was a member of the citizens' advisory committee — had to resign because of illness), Mr. Reynolds looked like our presidents do after being in office for four years. He is a caring person with nothing but the Lansing office giving him cutbacks and criticism.

The patients have to be given five changes of clothing — by law.

Mrs. Jennifer Bolenbaugh, who dispenses free clothing, has to depend on donations of clean, usable clothing. Many of you have been very generous. Mr. Geake, have you ever donated any clothes (washable) that you weren't wearing?

Congratulations to the mother who is trying to get her child decent care in the EPEC program. Lady, you are a brave woman, but you are fighting the so-called knowledgeable bureaucrats! Good luck to you — although my heart goes out to you in your struggle to protect your child.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Shirley Matthews

Clothing is now being collected by Bill Kuntz at 759 Grace, corner of Eight Mile.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The quote from an unnamed employee in The Record story to which this letter refers was attributed to Harold Brown, director of the metropolitan regional office of the department of mental health, not to Kenneth Stockton.

Geake sponsors legislation to assist elderly

Persons 65 and older with incomes of $8,000 or less now qualify for deferral of special assessments on their property through legislation sponsored by State Senator Robert Geake (R-Northville), and signed into law (Public Act 403) in January by Governor Milliken.

The $8,000 annual income ceiling for deferments of special assessments will go up to $10,000 in 1982, and will rise with inflation after 1984. Previous law limited the deferral to senior citizens with incomes of $6,000 or lower.

"I sponsored the income level raise to enable more of our senior citizens on fixed incomes to deal with special assessment improvement projects, such as street pavings, without being forced to sell their homes," said Geake.

The legislation also covers permanently disabled citizens.

Senator Geake said the need to raise the qualifying income level was brought to his attention by Livonia's city engineer, G. E. Siemert.

An amendment of Geake's bill provides additional relief in the form of a loan available from a special revolving state fund to seniors who had borrowed money to pay assessments for local improvements such as sewers, roads or curbs.

The deferral on special assessments against homestead property is lifted one year after the death of the homeowner or surviving spouse. Upon the sale or transfer of property, the deferral is immediately due, plus some interest. A 12 percent penalty is set against the property which is sold, but the deferral not lifted.

Noting that smoking is the single most preventable cause of illness and death in the United States today, State Senator Robert Geake (R-Northville) introduced legislation in the Michigan

Senate on February 24 to prohibit smoking by both minors and adults in public schools.

"A ban on all smoking in public schools in our state would go a long way toward eliminating the temptation among young people to start smoking and to reduce the peer pressure to take up the habit," Geake said.

Senator Geake pointed out that statistics compiled by the American Cancer Society indicate that some 4,000 children become smokers each day of the year in the United States.

Under the proposed legislation, pupils, teachers, school officials, school employees and any other persons would be prohibited from using tobacco in public schools, except in the course of classroom instruction. Violators could be fined between $25 and $100.

The Geake bill is more stringent than the present non-smoking policy in most schools in that it includes a total ban on smoking by all persons while on school property.

"The time has come for the legislature to take what steps it can toward eliminating from our schools the unconscious example to children that smoking is okay," Geake said.

Senator Geake, who holds a Ph.D. in educational psychology, added that he is convinced that students of all ages look to their teachers and school administrators as role models.

"That role model should be a positive one and not smoking on school property is one sacrifice I believe anyone who really cares about kids should be willing to make," Geake concluded.

A similar bill by Geake passed the Senate in 1980 but died in the House Committee on Education.

Dental Dialogue
of A. Allen Tuchklaper, D.D.S.

SQUEEK CAUGHT IN MOUTHTRAP

Q. It sounds stupid, but my mouth squeeks ever since I had a number of new fillings. Have you ever heard of such a thing?

A. Yes, and you are definitely not alone with your problem. It is not uncommon for patients to complain of a "squeaky" sound after having silver fillings. This occurs when the contact between the teeth is not very tight, and allows the fillings to rub against each other causing a squeaking noise. It usually goes away, but sometimes you may need a new filling wedged closer to its neighbor to solve your problem.

This column is presented in the interest of better dental health. From the office of A. Allen Tuchklaper, D.D.S.

For Vernice Lyons

Duck decoys are collector's game

For centuries, the vast expanse of American land has provided hunters with an abundance of game — whether wild fowl, buffalo, passenger pigeon or grizzly bear.

Though laws were passed proclaiming closed seasons as early as 1795 to control the growing scarcity of game in some sections of the country, hunting remains a thriving pastime — whether for sport or necessity.

Hunters in pursuit, use a variety of methods such as rifles, traps, hooks, and spears in their quest to snare animals and fowl.

However, luring game is not always simple.

One hunter who has always been at an advantage when it comes to luring his catch is the duck hunter.

Though "duck calls" can be effective, it is the decoy which most often brings those feathered friends flocking.

Duck decoys, developed by the Indians during the colonial period, are used by hunters to attract the birds to water.

However, today these carved, life-sized decoys, painted in a variety of colors are attracting more than just ducks.

For many collectors and antique buffs, decoys have come to be regarded as an original American folk art and people seem to be snatching them up everywhere — and in some cases for a fairly hefty price.

For Northville Township resident Vernice Lyons, decoy collecting has been a favorite pastime for almost 10 years.

As guest speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Silver Springs Quilters last Wednesday, Lyons explained the art of decoy collecting and

The average passerby taking a quick glance at decoys may not notice their variety, however, at a closer look one can't help but notice the distinctiveness.

Most decoys are made of wood with cedar or pressed balsa bodies. Pine often was used for the heads.

Decoys vary in everything from size, weight and shape to color and the turn of the head.

Lyons explained that it is frequently difficult to distinguish decoys because most carvers did not sign their work.

"In all the decoys I've ever had, only about 10 have had initials," she said.

Most initials or markings found on decoys are those of the hunter, Lyons explained. Many hunters initialized their decoys so they could find them while hunting.

However, she said that most collectors can distinguish decoys by their shape and design.

"Each carver had his own particular way of carving," she said.

Lyons explained that regular carvers could usually make a decoy in a day. However, not all decoys are carved — some are factory made.

The Detroit area boasted two of the largest decoy factories in the country — one of which was the Mason factory.

Lyons explained that Mason decoys, manufactured between 1900 and 1940, were shipped all over the country and used to sell for $12 a dozen.

However, "today people have gone crazy over Masons," she said, "if you have one it could go for $3,000."

Lyons said that most decoys range from $25 to $150 in antique shops, but pointed out that prices vary according to the carver and the type of decoy.

If it has a good contour and it pleases you — buy it.

shared with members a sampling of her collection.

A former antique dealer, Lyons was initially exposed to decoys while living in New Jersey's Barnegat Bay area where she said she "would come across decoys very often."

She and her husband moved to Northville about three years ago.

However, it was not until she attended the auction of famous decoy collector William Mackey that she really "caught the decoy bug."

Mackey, whose book on decoys is regarded by many collectors as one of the best on the subject, had between 3-4,000 decoys in his collection.

At the time of his death, his collection was sold at auction and it was there that Lyons found her niche.

While living in New Jersey, Lyons said she became familiar with many of the eastern decoy carvers and learned to distinguish the difference in carvers by the shape and markings on the decoys.

She pointed out that there is a definite difference in decoys according to the area from which they were made and the waters they were used in.

For instance, she explained that decoys made in Michigan are mostly heavy and bulky — to suit the choppy lake waters surrounding the state.

However, she explained that Lake St. Clair decoys were "very light."

Another characteristic of Michigan decoys is the canvas back which was "very prolific in the state," she said.

She said smaller decoys are usually more valuable than the larger ones and explained that decoys of now extinct fowl are "very valuable."

In 1918, the United States government passed a law prohibiting the shooting of many birds.

"A passenger pigeon decoy would be very valuable," she explained. "Shore birds which haven't been shot since 1918 go for about $8,000."

Lyons explained that decoy carving has made a comeback and that there still are factories manufacturing decoys.

She said there are many good carvers in Michigan and that new decoys can be as good an investment as antique decoys.

For the beginning collector, she said the most important thing to look for is original paint. "When they have been repainted they lose a lot of their value," she added.

Lyons explained that decoys were "used in Europe very rarely" and that decoys now are regarded as one of the original American folk arts.

She explained that an Indian decoy dating back to 1,000 A. D. was discovered on a dig in 1924.

Hunters usually carved their own decoys and they became more widespread as market gunners, who would kill as many as 500 ducks a day, began using them more frequently.

Lyons explained that fish decoys are now "the up and coming thing" in decoy collecting.

Fish decoys, which can range in size from one-inch to two-feet, are mostly used for ice fishing.

Though not as old as duck decoys, Lyons pointed out that fish decoys are gaining in popularity and are easier and cheaper to find.

Fish decoys also were made in small factories in Michigan, she explained.

Lyons said she currently has about 30 decoys in her collection and only sells them on occasion.

For the potential collector Lyons had a few words of advice.

"If it has a good contour and it pleases you — buy it.

"All I can say is jump in, do it — it's a lot of fun. There are still many good things to be found in decoys."

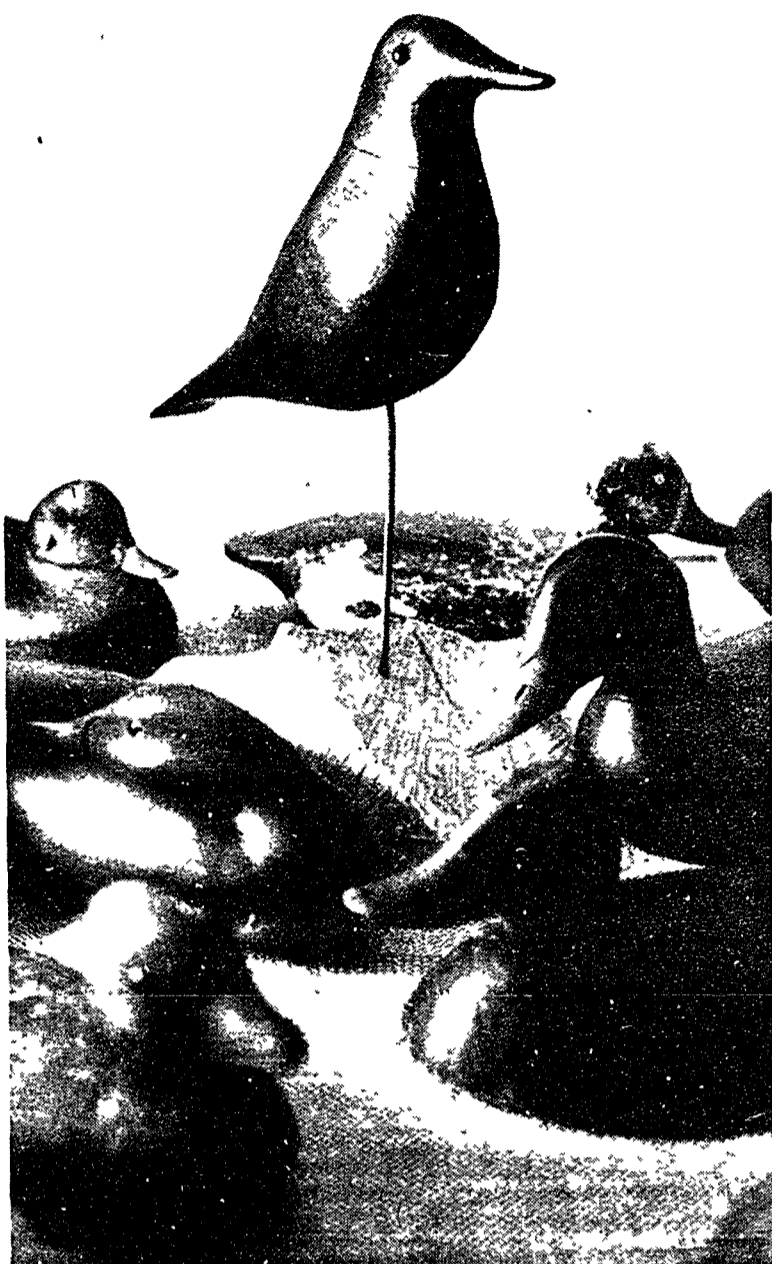

She also recommended the following books for anyone interested in decoys or decoy collecting:

— "American Bird Decoys" by William Mackey;

— "The Art of the Decoy (American Bird Carvings)" by Adele Ernest; — "Wild Fowl Decoys" by Joel Barber;

— "Decoys of the Atlantic Flyway" by George Ross Starr, Jr.

Decoys come in a variety of shapes and sizes

Restored barn, historic homes to be open on fall tour

By JEANDAY

Planners for the 1981 Northville Home Tour to be held September 24 already have commitments for three homes —

The Daniel Williamsons added a three-car garage as they restored a barn on Nine Mile near Taft last year as their home. It will be open September 24 on the Northville Home Tour.

all of which should rate as "don't miss" attractions. This will be the community's 14th home tour and is the first since 1979 when sponsors decided to make them an every-other-year event.

Theatre again (unless it is sold — it is on the market). It was a downtown attraction on the 1979 tour.

Surprise party was for Alfred Parmenter

Some 38 guests came from Armada, Lost Lake Woods, Farmington and Northville last Saturday evening to surprise Alfred Parmenter who is retiring tomorrow from Standard Products Company as sales engineer. There will be a company luncheon Thursday, but the real celebration had to be the surprise party given by his brother and sister-in-law, the Lawrence Parmenters of Ridge Road in Plymouth, for long-time friends and family. Included were the Parmenter daughters and husbands, Pam and Jim Correll and Sandy and Art Forth, all of Farmington.

"He's lived here all of his 65 years," says Pearl Parmenter of her husband, a University of Michigan engineering grad. Mrs. Parmenter has lived here a while, too — 50 years. Retirement will change their life style as they're planning to take off immediately for a vacation in Florida at Sarasota and Jensen Beach.

They'll return to make their home in the new chalet-style house they have built at Lost Lake Woods Club near Lincoln, Michigan. The club has a large Northville membership, including the William Daveses, Richard Amblers, Orson Atchinsons and former residents, the Edwin Langtrys. While the Parmenters are vacationing, the Jack Blackburns, former Northville residents, will be in from Florida to occupy their home on Thayer.

Dancin' should be good at society ball

A new band has been signed for this year's Northville Historical Society dinner dance March 7 at Meadowbrook Country Club. Judith Sechler, who has been heading up arrangements, is excited about the music of Chris Nordman and his four-member group. "They play everything from Big Band to disco," she notes. Nordman, a GMI Institute graduate, has studied at Interlochen and is a pianist. "They're highly recommended," Mrs. Sechler says, "and have played at all the major country clubs in the area as well as at General Motors industrial shows."

Tickets are the same price as last year — $32 a couple — and are available at Bookstall on Main or by calling Mrs. Sechler, 349-5137, or Camille Bloomberg, 348-0313, of the dance committee. Proceeds will go toward restoration of the Wash Oak Schoolhouse in Mill Race Historical Village.

Chris Nordman Group will entertain at benefit dinner dance

Pat Stringer is heading arrangements for First Presbyterian Church women, co-sponsor of the tours with the Northville Historical Society. Alice Pooley is society chairperson.

Area residents who have been watching the restoration work (including addition of a three-car garage) to the barn on Nine Mile west of Taft will have an opportunity to see what's been done inside on the tour. Barbara and Daniel Williamson were living in a Lexington Commons condo when they bought the barn two years ago.

"We were playing along with it doing structural renovations before a building permit could be issued," Barb Williamson recalls, "when our son said he would like to be married there."

The Williamsons actually started work October 5, 1979, she remembers, and they were in and hosting the wedding for 150 guests by August 9. To accomplish this, she mentions, her husband took four months off, working with carpenters and others who "did what he couldn't do himself." Located in the Northville school district with a Northville mailing address, the barn actually is in Novi; so Daniel Williamson had to appear before that city's boards for variances. The fire inspector, Mrs. Williamson illustrates, required rope ladders be placed in the lofty bedrooms.

Also featured on the tour will be one of the older homes in town. The home on Walnut at Hill that Pat and Charles Meyers have painted burgundy with caramel trim so attractively will be open.

Third home signed for the 1981 tour is that of historical society president Robert Daniel and his wife Jackie. Now located on Five Mile, this is the house that was a landmark on Seven Mile at Haggerty (on Schoolcraft College property) which the Daniels moved to preserve. It is a spacious home furnished with antiques.

The tour committee still is making arrangements for two other homes and would be delighted to have home owners volunteer. Inga Zayti has agreed to open the Marquis

Dunphys' 60th anniversary celebrated at open house

Allen Terrace residents Bernard and Luella Dunphy celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary February 8 at a reception and open house at the home of their son Bill and his wife Caroline of Dubuque Street.

At the celebration were their three children and their spouses, Muriel and Ronald Rice of Winston-Salem, North Carolina, Maurice and Suzanne Dunphy of Westland and Bill and Caroline.

Also attending were seven of their 10 grandchildren and one of their six great-grandchildren. Seven nieces and nephews and also attended.

Bernard and Luella were married February 3, 1921 at the Immanuel Baptist Church in Detroit. They moved to Northville last year from Canton.

They are active members in the Calvary Baptist Church in Plymouth. Bernard retired from Ford Motor Company 26 years ago after 32 years of service.

Newcomers' fashion show set

Latest fashions for men as well as for women will be featured at Northville Newcomers' Fashion Extravaganza at 6:15 p.m. March 10 in the cafe at Lord&Taylor in Twelve Oaks Mall.

Professional models, upbeat music and wine as hors d'oeuvres are attractions planned.

Alumnae as well as current members and guests are welcome, reports President Chris Williams. Cost is $6 each with reservations to be made through March 4 with Barbara Weix, 349-0065, or Marilyn Swinghammer, 420-3217.

Dental Dialogue

of A. Allen Tuchklaper, D.D.S.

SQUEEK CAUGHT IN MOUTHTRAP

Q. It sounds stupid, but my mouth squeeks ever since I had a number of new fillings. Have you ever heard of such a thing?

A. Yes, and you are definitely not alone with your problem. It is not uncommon for patients to complain of a "squeaky" sound after having silver fillings. This occurs when the contact between the teeth is not very tight, and allows the fillings to rub against each other causing a squeaking noise. It usually goes away, but sometimes you may need a new filling wedged closer to its neighbor to solve your problem.

This column is presented in the interest of better dental health. From the office of

AMERMAN

Amerman's Science Fair will be held

March 17-20. Projects by the budding fourth and sixth grade scientists will be displayed in the library on those days so students and parents can see the results of the students' efforts.

The PTA is considering nominations for guests to be honored at the Founders' Day Dinner March 26. This is an opportunity for the community to publicly express its gratitude to those who've been truly supportive of Northville's schools. Teachers and administrators can be nominated — as well as other persons who have given outstanding service to the schools.

The recent upper elementary Book Swap was such a success that Karen Brown and her committee are planning one for the lower elementary classes this spring.

Mona the Puppet and P.J. Raggs from the Hot Fudge Show were at Amerman last week. Their visit was arranged by the Junior Entertainment Series, a group coordinating special programs for all our schools.

Peg O'Doherty

MORAINE

Future scientists in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades soon will be putting the finishing touches on their science projects to be displayed during Moraine's Science Fair to be held March 16-20 in the school library. Cheryl Hanson, fair chairperson, reports there will be three judges awarding ribbons for first, second and third places in each of the four categories — Math and Computation, Earth and Space Science, Physical Science and Life Science. All entrants will receive a ribbon for participation.

Parents can view displays while in the building for teacher conferences that week.

Val Cook, art appreciation chairperson, and her committee of 13 volunteers have begun their lectures to the first through sixth graders this week. Students are being introduced to periods and artists in the once-a-week, 20-minute lectures. Val Cook will show her appreciation to the committee with a coffee and dessert party in her home at the culmination of the lectures in April.

The PTA Junior Entertainment Series sponsored program entitled "Catalogue Capers," will be held March 30. This program is produced by the Michigan State University Department of Theatre. They present an entertaining approach to the use of the card catalogue in the library.

The Livonia Family YMCA is presenting an after school program called GRA-Y for both boys and girls. The school gym is used for playing organized team sports and teaching individual skills. The groups also go on field trips.

Our president, Karen Poulos, announces that the Moraine PTA Board voted to take over the position of the chartered organization sponsoring Cub Scout Pack 721. The cub scouts are third, fourth and fifth graders living in the Moraine school district. Pack 721 is the oldest existing pack in Northville and one of the oldest in the state.

Physical Education Plus under the supervision of Karen Turner meets on Friday afternoons with fifth and sixth grade girls and boys to develop gymnastic skills.

SILVER SPRINGS

March at Silver Springs will feature parent-teacher conferences starting on March 17. Concurrent with the conferences will be the Silver Springs Science Fair and the PTA-PTSA Executive Board elections. Be sure to come early to your conference so you can browse through the gym and observe the hard work of our students and fill out your PTA ballots.

Tickets are available at the office for the First Annual Founders' Day Dinner to be held at Northville High School March 26. The Committee of Eight has met to select the Silver Springs honored guests of the event.

Fond farewell

Silver Springs teacher Janet Henderson received quite a surprise from her third and fourth graders on her last day of class. Mrs. Henderson, who is expecting her baby this week, was given a surprise party by her students as a farewell present. The educator, who has been teaching in the Northville school system for 11 years, said she hopes to be back next September. Was she surprised? "I couldn't believe they kept it a secret," she exclaimed. (Record photo by Steve Fecht.)

Northville congregation aided

Dedicate Novi Presbyterian church

Dignitaries from the Detroit Presbytery gathered in Novi February 15 to attend official dedication ceremonies for the Faith Community Presbyterian Church.

Among those attending were members of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville which had aided in establishing the new church in Novi, including pastor emeritus, the Reverend Lloyd Brasure, who headed the Northville church at that time.

The new church is located on Ten Mile, across from the Novi Municipal Complex. It is the first Presbyterian church in the city.

"For too long we have treated prayer and worship as optional requirements of being a Christian," said The Reverend Paul Sutton, pastor of the Southfield United Presbyterian Church and moderator of the Presbytery of Detroit, in his dedication sermon.

"A church should provide for the prayer and worship of people. This is a house of God, where He can approach us and we can approach Him."

Sutton also said people should think of their church as a home, a place where people feel comfortable and welcome, just as they do in their own homes.

Dedication of the new church marks another milestone in the life of the young Novi congregation.

Reverend Richard Henderson, who previously served as assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville, began gathering data about the need for a Presbyterian church in Novi in the spring of 1975.

A survey of several Novi subdivisions in the late summer of 1976 determined the need and desire for a church. The first worship service of the Faith Community United Presbyterian Church was held in the Village Oaks Elementary School on November 21, 1977.

More than 100 people signed petitions for the official organization of the church, and the church was officially chartered with 119 members in a large tent on the Ten Mile property in October of 1977.

Presently, the church has about 230 members, and Henderson notes that the congregation is young and energetic. Approximately 60 percent of its members are between 30 and 40 years old, he reported.

The congregation began plans to build their own church during the summer of 1979 and appointed a building committee, headed by James Ernst. Other members of the building committee were Wilma Perry, Sheila Henderson, Charles DuBois, Linda Crawford, James Kushman, Dirk Thompson, Douglas Lilak, Len Marselak and Brad Mathers.

The new building was designed by Jack Brown of the firm of Brown, Deyo and Associates of Bloomfield Hills. Brown had won a citation from the Church Architectural Guild of America for his design of the Antioch Lutheran Church in Farmington and an award of honor from the Michigan Society of Architects for his design of the St. Regis

Catholic Church in Birmingham.

Groundbreaking ceremonies were held in May 1980, and the young congregation held its first services in the new building on January 25 of this year.

The 8,450 square foot building contains a large worship center as well as church offices, Sunday school rooms and kitchen facilities. Cost of the church was approximately $530,000.

Henderson emphasized that the church has been designed with utility in mind.

For example, the sanctuary is designed so that the chairs can be removed and dinners can be held in the room.

"We didn't feel it was a good use of space to have a room which is functional only one day per week," said Henderson.

"We want our church to be a true community facility, and we plan to make it available to community service groups which need a place to meet.

"We consider our new church a home for the congregation, and we want it to be a home for the community."

ty Many thanks to Donna Veil, Barb Ibach and Linda Handiside for their organization of this social event.

The Campbell Soup Label Drive ended February 20. Proceeds will help provide needed classroom and playground items. Should you find that you "forgot" to send in your labels, they will be accepted next year. Just drop them off at the office for handling.

The J E S program continues to offer the students program enrichment. Mona the Puppet visited the school February 20 to the delight of the students.

COOKE

Our first annual pizza dinner will be held tonight. The cost for adults will be $2.50 and children under 12 will be charged $1.50. A volleyball game between teachers and students and the Pepsi Challenge contest also will be part of the activities.

Parent-teacher conferences are March 11 and 12. The PTA will be holding a bake sale during this time. The seventh grade class is being asked to donate the baked goods.

On March 13, the "Blue Pigs," the Detroit Police Band, will be entertaining the entire student body. This band entertains at many schools in the Detroit area and always is a big hit.

The Northville Board of Education will hold its March 23 meeting at Cooke. These meetings are open to the public and everyone is encouraged to attend.

On Thursday, March 26, the Northville PTA will hold its Founders' Day Dinner. Anyone interested in attending may obtain tickets by calling 348-1586, 348-9077 or by calling any Northville public school.

Cooke's swim team, under the coaching of Bill Dicks, continues to remain undefeated. New school records were set in the meet against Belleville February 6. In the 400-freestyle relay, Adam Swallow, Kim Thompson, Lisa Felicelli and Darius Mikalonis set a new record of 4:05.8 beating the old record of 4:07.8. Congratulations!

MEADS MILL

The Meads Mill PTSA wishes to congratulate our seventh and eighth grade basketball team on their completion of an undefeated season.

The French class is planning a field trip on February 26 to the Detroit Institute of Arts.

On March 3 Cooke and Meads Mill will have a combined band concert at 7:30 p.m. The date for the band festival is March 14.

The event of the year — School Spirit Week — ended in victory for the Meads Mill seventh graders. Each class compiled points for participation in planned events such as 50's day, hat day, school colors days, dress up day and wild and crazy day. The two classes with the most points, the seventh and ninth grades, competed in an assembly on February 17. They engaged in a tug-of-war, a scooter race and an egg race. Our congratulations go to the seventh grade — Meads Mill's most spirited class.

Nominations for the 1981-82 PTSA offices are open. Anyone interested may call Mary Higgins at 420-2231.

At Schoolcraft center

Offer child care, therapy

Women who have undergone breast surgery can receive both emotional and physical rehabilitation Thursday evenings at Schoolcraft College through a two-hour program called Encore.

The film is open to all school age children and there is no charge for admission.

For more information call the library at 349-3020.

Women who have undergone breast surgery can receive both emotional and physical rehabilitation Thursday evenings at Schoolcraft College through a two-hour program called Encore.

Encore, a nationwide YWCA program developed in 1972 by a registered nurse, is offered in cooperation with Schoolcraft's Women's Resource Center and Physical Education Department and the Western Wayne County YWCA.

The enrollment fee of $20 includes $10 annual YWCA membership dues, transferable to any Detroit-area branch, and a pass to Schoolcraft's pool.

Activities include gentle floor exercises, water exercises and group discussions.

The water therapy in the shallow end of Schoolcraft's pool does not require swimming skills. Women should bring their own suits and towels.

The Women's Resource Center of Schoolcraft College provides up-to-date information on child care facilities and nursery school programs available in Western Wayne County and parts of Oakland County.

Lindsay Cantoni, Child Care Referral Service Coordinator, attempts to match families and services including those with special needs, such as facilities open at 6 a.m. or a nursery for a physically handicapped child.

For information on child care services call the Women's Resource Center at 591-6400, extension 431.

Mizpah Circle lists potluck lunch

After a two-month vacation members of Mizpah Circle, King's Daughters, will meet for a potluck luncheon at 12:30 p.m. March 3 at First United Methodist Church.

Marion LeFevre will present a travel program on the European trip she took last year.

Mrs. Douglas Bolton, circle president, urges members to attend, noting, "It will be good for us all to be together again."

In recent years the circle has not met during the mid-winter months.

Billiard champ admission

'Great ones make mistakes, too'

A billiard exhibition by Nick Varner, 1980 World Pocket Billiard Champion and the BCA National 8-Ball Champion, will be hosted by Schoolcraft College Student Activities on Friday, March 6 at 8 p.m. in the college gymnasium.

Varner began playing pool at the age of five when his father bought a pool hall. Nick wasn't tall enough to see over the edge of the table, so he stood on a soft drink case to take his first shot.

The Owensboro, Kentucky native has been a steadily ascending star on the professional scene since he won the last of his two ACU-I Intercollegiate championships in 1970.

As a junior at Purdue University, Varner beat Joe Balsis, the world champion at the time when Balsis visited the campus for an exhibition.

"I figured guys like him never missed, but I found out they miss just like everyone else, just not as often," Varner said.

After that, Varner started playing pool professionally.

As a professional, Varner's credentials include winning the 1972 Minnesota Fats Challenge Match, the 1974 and 1976 Midwest Open, the 1975 Texas and Kentucky Opens, the 1980 Illinois and Kentucky Derby Opens.

To date Varner's lifetime high run is 307.

Pocket billiards is expected to be one of the fastest growing activities of the '80s. According to the Nielson ratings, pocket billiard ranks as the number two participation sport in the nation with more than 40 million players.

Tickets for the Nick Varner Trick and Fancy Shot Exhibition are $2.50 and are available at the Schoolcraft College Student Activities Office and at the door.

For further information regarding the exhibition, phone 591-6400, extension 380.

Schoolcraft College is located at 18600 Hagerty Road between Six Mile and Seven Mile roads.

Scottish dancers to perform Sunday at Madonna College

Wee bit of dancin' coming

March may be identified with the Irish, but at Madonna College in Livonia, March belongs to the Scots.

The U.S. Highland Dancing Association performs at Madonna March 1 (Sunday) at 3 p.m. in the campus activities center.

To the beat of bagpipes, more than 50 kilned members will dance such Scottish favorites as the "Blue Bonnets," the "Highland Reels," the "Fling," the "Earl of Errol," and the "Sword Dance," among others.

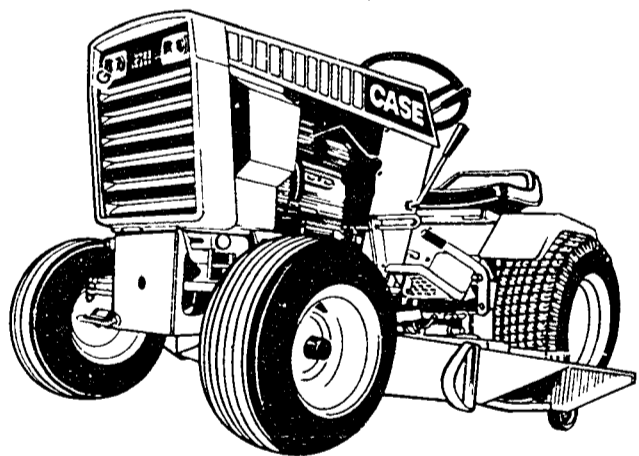

After the performance, on March 16, 23 and 30, the troupe will conduct free workshops on highland dancing for those who wish to experience "a wee bit" of Scotland for themselves.

Formed in 1966, the association is the recipient of international dance competition honors and has performed in England and Scotland, in addition to the United States.

Their performance at Madonna is the second presentation co-sponsored by the college and the Michigan Council for the Arts.

Persons wishing more information may call 591-5124.

Homogenized Harmony

*How yellow the roses
Printed on my bedsheet.
I shut the sun
Away with drapes
But it shines through
And finally impelled
I draw back
The drape to Harmonize with
The yellow roses—
Then Aurora makes
A halo for each rose.*

TOM ADAMS (left), Realtor associate at Rymal Symes Realtors, concluded 1980 on "a very positive note," says Conrad Jakubowski, president of Rymal Symes.

Adams produced a record setting 1980 sales volume and won out as top salesperson at the firm's Novi office.

Jakubowski said he is "especially proud of Tom Adams' 1980 record volume because in a year remembered mostly for sky high interest rates and severe economic recession, Adams simply refused to be beaten."

The firm's president attributed Adams' success to his "genuine desire to render a real service to his clients and a positive tenacious attitude that sees adversity as a challenge rather than a roadblock."

THE NEW AMBICO CREATIVE Filter System has been added at f/Stop of Novi.

"The system is a step forward for the serious amateur or professional who wants to utilize filters but questions the cost of purchasing glass filters for all or his or her lenses," said f/Stop Owner Wayne Loder.

"An assortment of filters to fit lenses with several different filter sizes could amount to a small fortune," Loder continued. "The Ambico System allows the purchase of a single filter to fit all lenses for the 35mm or larger format camera."

Most of the filters are square, fitting into a filter holder which affixes to lenses through use of filter mounts.

"While there are two other similar filter systems on the market, ours has definite advantages," Loder said. "The Ambico filters are lower cost, can be used with all lenses using filters from 49mm to 77mm, and are of a size which allows their use in darkroom enlargers."

A low cost matte box for special effects is available as well as some 60 basic filters for use in black-and-white or color photography. Multi-image, star highlight, soft focus, close up, graduated color and diffusion effect filters are included in the Ambico System.

Besides the Ambico system, f/Stop carries a complete selection of optical quality glass filters of almost all types at discounted prices.

"Filters have become a way of life for most 35mm photographers who want their pictures to be different than everyone else's," said Loder. "The use of the correct filter can make or break an otherwise lackluster picture."

F/Stop carries accessories for all brands of 35mm cameras and, with the services of three high quality processors, offers more photofinishing services than any photographic store in the Detroit area.

F/Stop is located at 43220 Grand River Avenue in Novi.

Donations and your taxes . . .

It may be time to consider your charitable donations and tax planning techniques.

You are permitted to deduct charitable contributions paid within the year, subject to certain limitations based on your adjusted gross income. The limitations are rather generous and seldom apply. However, if large gifts are contemplated, you should consult a tax specialist to avoid partial loss of deduction. This is particularly true for gifts other than cash where special limitations apply.

Usually you have considerable flexibility in controlling your charitable contributions. Sometimes it is feasible to make a large contribution in a high income year which will satisfy your charitable commitments extending over a number of years.

Contributions of appreciated capital gain property, such as securities held over 12 months, will provide a tax deduction equal to the full market value. Therefore, a gift of appreciated securities has the advantage of market value deduction without payment of the capital gain tax, which would result if you sold the securities and contributed the cash resulting from sale.

Conversely, securities that have depreciated in value below cost should not be the subject of charitable donations since you would forfeit the tax loss. In that case, it is better to sell the securities, take the tax loss, and contribute the cash proceeds.

Gifts of securities to provide foundations such as a family charitable trust should not be made without consulting a tax adviser. Special rules could reduce the anticipated deduction.

Charitable remainder trusts are vehicles permitting you to make a gift to charity and retain a lifetime income interest. The gift creates an actuarially computed charitable deduction, lowering tax in the year of the gift. This fact coupled with the special rules for taxing the lifetime payments can actually increase your lifetime after-tax income.

Although charitable remainder trusts may be appropriate for only a minority of individuals, they warrant additional consideration by those interested in benefiting a favorite charity in a meaningful way.

NORTHVILLE Real Estate Companies dominated the Northville market through 1980, a departure from previous years when several companies located in other cities penetrated the local market regularly, according to Anthony V. Rizzo, president of Rizzo Realty, Inc., Gallery of Homes of Northville.

Rizzo said nine companies located in Northville — city and township — were most effective in selling homes in the $80,000 and higher price range where they were responsible for nearly three fourths of the $11 million volume.

"Three companies accounted for half of that volume," Rizzo said, naming his own firm, Real Estate One, and Century 21. The six other companies, he said, accounted for another 24 percent and at least 50 outside companies divided the remaining 21 percent of sales in the $80,000 and higher market.

PERRY DRUG STORES, Incorporated, the Pontiac-based drug store chain with stores in the Northville and Brighton areas, told an AMEX Club of New York audience the company will report record sales and earnings for its fiscal 1981 first quarter ended January 31.

Perry currently operates 70 drug stores and one discount auto parts store in Michigan, 13 drug stores in Metropolitan Chicago and 13 leased drug departments in four states — Illinois, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Texas. The total of 97 units is up from 66 a year ago and includes 26 units acquired by Perry last July 31 from Chicago-based DeKoven Drug Company. Perry has said it plans to open 10-12 additional stores in fiscal 1981. One, a combination drug and auto-home center store, already opened in Albion.

Preliminary tabulations on sales and earnings rose more than 47 percent to upwards of $50 million from $33.9 million in the same year-ago quarter, said Jack Robinson, chairman and chief executive officer. He said he expects final figures to show "good improvement" over the $1.1 million, or 72 cents a share, Perry earned in the same year-ago period.

CHATHAM Complete Food Centers have begun to offer fresh beef cuts in completely transparent vacuum sealed packages. "We're now able to bring to retail beef cuts added freshness and convenience never known before and at no additional cost to consumers," explained Chatham chief executive officer Bernard Weisberg.

"By using a vacuum sealing process developed by the American Can Company, we're removing the oxygen that causes meat in conventional tray and film packaging to lose its freshness." He said meat is packaged immediately after cutting for this process. Rewrapping for freezing is eliminated with the new, tougher packaging. The new wrap is being offered initially at selected stores, including the Northville store.

Mustangs to meet Eagles in district opener

By KEN KOVACS

"I would rather be Walled Lake Central."

That's the way Milford Lakeland basketball coach Lynn Reed responded to the results of the District 21 draw Monday night.

Reed and his towering cage crew, which lost to Northville in overtime the first time the two squads met this year, will face the host Mustangs in the opening game of the tournament Tuesday, March 3 at 7 p.m.

Lakeland is 9-7 on the season, but the record is very deceiving. Each of its four losses to Inter Lakes Conference competitors Pontiac Northern and Waterford Township has been by less than five points.

"We could easily be 14-2 right now," Reed said. "But we have had everyone healthy for only three games all year. If it's not the flu or ankle injuries it's the measles."

Six-foot-6 forward John Hazen, who Reed calls his "nucleus," missed two games and a week of practice due to the measles but should return to the court this week.

Hazen leads a front line which averages more than 6-foot-5.

Senior center Dean Danek (6-foot-7) scored 19 points in the loss to Northville, while forward John Long (6-foot-4) gives the young Lakeland squad even more scoring and rebounding power up front.

Northville coach Tim Lutes knows quite well that the Lakeland height could be a real problem for his squad.

"We are giving away about three inches at each forward spot," Lutes said.

"We will have to overcome that if we are going to win."

"And they also have the revenge factor on their side," he continued. "They played a real tough ball game against us last time; everything just fell into place for us."

On Northville's side is senior center Dave Ward.

The 6-foot-7 leaper poured in 22 points in the last matchup.

Lakeland could not contain the Mustangs' quick big man and Reed admits that his squad will have to do a better job to beat Northville.

Mustang guards Dave Greer and Tim McLaughlin also gave the Eagles fits last time, scoring several clutch free throws in overtime.

Strong performances by Northville forwards Todd Jennings, Tim Wagner and Duke Dusablon (in a reserve role) are a must if Northville is to get by Lakeland.

Watching the first matchup intently Tuesday night will be the three other squads scheduled to face their first opponents Thursday night — Milford and Walled Lake Central and Western.

Crosstown rivals Central (10-8) and Western (5-11) will take the court at 6 p.m. for their third matchup of the season, while Milford is slated to face the winner of the Northville-Lakeland contest at 8 p.m.

The two squads that emerge victorious Thursday will play at 8 p.m. Saturday for the district championship.

Central has beaten the Warriors by more than 10 points both previous meetings, but the respective coaches — who also happen to be good friends — agree the emotional factor must not be overlooked.

"I look forward to playing Steve (Emert)," Western coach Ted Felegy said following the draw. "It is always a highly emotional game."

"And yet we're not crazy about playing each other again," Emert jested.

Central may be in the best position to win the district tourney, having only to get by Western. And some knowledgeable basketball followers insist they are the favorite.

The Vikings, who have won six of their last eight games, are led by junior center Jeff Sewell.

In the last Central victory, forwards Tom Nicklin and Erin Hill combined with Sewell to account for virtually all of the Vikes' 48 points in an upset over Livonia Stevenson.

Though Western and Milford have to be considered long shots, one victory will get them into the finals.

Milford (5-11) may have the services of senior center Rob Sharpe, who recently sat out nearly six weeks with mononucleosis.

A checkup Friday will determine if the 6-foot-7 pivotman, who was averaging almost 19 points per game previously, will be able to dress.

Though Western (3-15) has had its problems this season, senior guard Mike Xenos recently poured in 25 points to lead all scorers in a loss to Northville.

Lynn Reed knows his team must contain Dave Ward to win

Stayin' alive

Northville cage quintet gets by Waterford Mott, 48-40

By KEN KOVACS

Tim Lutes certainly would be the most ecstatic coach around if his Northville cagers could pull off a Western Six Conference Championship this year.

If the Mustangs (currently 7-2 in league play) can handle Livonia Churchill tomorrow night (Thursday) they will at least tie for the top spot.

(Farmington Harrison, also 7-2, is scheduled to visit Waterford Mott Friday. A Harrison loss coupled with a Northville win would give the Mustangs an outright Western Six title.)

But Lutes already was bubbling over with joy following his squad's 48-40 win over Waterford Mott February 18.

"That was the first time that we have won at Mott in the three years that I have been here," the elated coach said.

"I have always said that it is tough to win on the road in this league and Mott has always proved me right."

Until last Wednesday.

This time Lutes can savor the victory — which boosted the Mustangs' overall record to 13-4 and kept their title hopes alive — for a full year.

Northville center Dave Ward came through with his second straight 22-point performance to pace the Mustang win, hauling down 17 rebounds along the way.

The 6-foot-7 senior scored nine of Northville's 11 points in the first quarter. He added 13 in the second half.

But he didn't score a single basket in the second period of play, the Mustangs' sloppiest.

"We threw the ball away in the second quarter," Lutes said. "We were impatient and tried to force the ball inside. Fortunately, we settled down and recovered in the second half."

Point guard Dave Greer added six points, grabbed five caroms and led the Mustangs in assists with five, most of which were shoveled off to Ward.

Northville also got some good performances off the bench, particularly from Gary Kucher, who sat out the previous game due to a mild case of bronchial pneumonia.

The senior guard hit one field goal and converted five of six free throws for a total of seven points.

And Kucher was only one of several Mustangs to cash in at the foul line.

In fact, charity tosses accounted for more than half of Northville's scoring, as they netted 26 of 36 attempts.

Ward sunk eight of 14 at the charity stripe, while Greer was two for two, Tim Wagner — who had five points — and Tim McLaughlin (three) each hit three of four and Duke Dusablon converted four of four.

Dusablon also pulled down five misdirected shots for the Mustangs.

While Northville should have its hands full preparing for Churchill, which knocked off the Mustangs, 48-40 when the two squads met at Churchill, Lutes emphasized that South Lyon (scheduled for last night) must not be overlooked.

"They have improved a lot over the past few years and we have to take one game at a time."

The junior varsity tipoff against Churchill is set for 6:30 p.m.

The varsity contest will follow a pre-game ceremony honoring retiring girls swim coach Ben Lauber.

Greer picks Northwood

Local gridders win scholarships

DAVE GREER

Two Northville residents have signed letters of intent to play college football.

Dave Greer, quarterback for the Mustangs for the past two seasons, has agreed to play football for Northwood Institute in Midland.

James Harding, a tight end from Detroit Catholic Central, recently signed with Northwestern University in Illinois.

Greer, who was offered a scholarship which includes full tuition and books each of the four years — if he makes the squad — will study business at Northwood.

He will compete for the starting spot at quarterback, according to his high school coach, Dennis Colligan.

"Dave had other offers, but decided on Northwood because of the fine business program," Colligan said. "And I think he will do well in the Great Lakes Athletic League."

Harding, a 6-foot-6 end for Catholic Central, has been guaranteed a full ride for four years, according to his parents.

Harding is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leouis Harding, 42363 Beacon Tree.

Greer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Greer, 42110 Baintree.

Candela beaten at regional, but sets new season record

The season ended Saturday for Northville wrestler Vince Candela.

The junior heavyweight suffered two losses in regional competition at Ann Arbor Huron, ending his hopes of making it to the state finals.

Candela finished the season with 34 wins and 10 setbacks, to set a new school record for single-season record for wins — the previous record was 33 set by Jack Lancaster.

Candela scored a 4-2 win over Steve King of Waterford Kettering in his first match.

The Mustang grappler scored on a takedown and a near fall and held King scoreless until the final period.

In his second match Candela was pitted against his district conqueror, Marty Piper of Plymouth Salem.

Candela scored first with a takedown and led 3-2 for a short time.

"But he couldn't control Piper who got a reversal and went on to win 8-2."

"Vince hasn't lost too many matches where he scored the first takedown," said Northville coach Gary Emerson. "But I can't take anything away from Piper. He wrestled the best of anyone there that day."

The Salem heavyweight had eight wins without a loss in regional competition.

Candela's final match was against Daryl Simpson, a 5-foot-5 340-pounder from Pontiac Northern.

Simpson emerged the victor, 3-0.

Since this year only those who finished first or second at the regionals advance to the state tournament, Piper and Simpson will compete against the state's best high school grapplers Saturday at the University of Michigan's Crisler Arena.

Last year four of eight regional competitors advanced to the finals. But due to lack of space at Crisler, the number of wrestlers was cut back.

"There are a lot of people upset about this," Emerson said. "There are a lot of good kids in our regional who won't be able to go now. I don't think that will help wrestling a bit."

Northville gymnasts knocked off twice on the road

By KEN KOVACS

Couch Jack Townsley's charge that both Plymouth Canton and Dearborn were "laying low," planning an upset of Northville may or not be valid.

But both gymnastics squads certainly came through with superb performances to hand the Mustangs setbacks in their respective meets last week.

Northville scored well at Canton Monday (91.55), but could not top the Chiefs' score of 96.55 points — the highest point total ever amassed by a Canton team.

Earlier in the week Dearborn emerged the victor 92.9-90.5.

The loss to Canton came despite an all-around score of 33.05 by Mustang standout Paula Broderick.

The senior gymnast hit an 8.0 or above in every event and still placed second on the uneven parallel bars and balance beam.

Canton's strong showing was aided by some Mustang gymnasts' problems with the equipment.

Broderick scored an 8.0 on the bars, while Anita Hodge earned a 7.6 and Amy Aaron had a score of 5.65 for Northville.

Broderick scored her meet high 8.4 on the vault, the only event the Mustangs won.

Stevens came in with a score of 8.15, while Aaron posted a 7.9 and Hodge managed a 7.3.

Broderick took top honors in the floor exercise with an 8.35, while Stevens scored at 7.8

and Holly Raycraft posted a 7.3.

Northville's poorest showing was on the balance beam.

Broderick finished second with a score of 8.3, but then the bottom fell out.

Stevens posted a score of 7.55, Aaron had a 6.95 and sophomore Laura Kiraly earned a 6.7 in her first performance of a new routine.

"It was a very good showing for Laura," Townsley praised. "She has been working hard and really is improving."

Townsley also had much praise for his squad's opponents.

"They have some super kids," he began. "They have two or three good athletes competing in each event. That's tough to match."

Dearborn was the first nemesis for the Mustangs last week.

Again, the only event Northville won was the vault, despite some good scores.

Broderick posted an 8.05, Stevens earned a score of 8.2 and Aaron had a 7.4.

On the beam, Stevens scored an 8.05, Broderick posted an 8.0, Holly Raycraft earned a 6.6 and Kiraly had a 6.3.

The bars gave the Mustangs problems here, too, Hodge posting a 7.4, Broderick earned a 7.3 and Stevens was issued a score of 6.75.

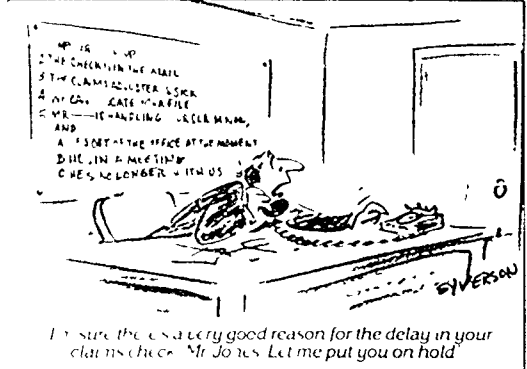

Broderick had to settle for second place in the floor exercise despite an 8.45 — the winner had an 8.6.

Stevens scored 7.8, while Tish Johnson and Raycraft posted identical scores of 6.5.

The Mustang gymnasts now boast a 7-3 mark and one more dual meet scheduled.

They will host Farmington Harrison next week, possibly on Monday, March 2. (Townsley is attempting to change the day of the competition due to lack of school on Monday).

Talk about a hard act to follow.

He boasts nine league championships, one state championship and an overall record of 147 wins and 12 losses in 11 years of coaching swimming at Northville High School.

Anyone who can repeat those accomplishments in that amount of time should be given a place in somebody's hall of fame somewhere.

(By the way, Ben Lauber also coached five boys state champions and six All-Americans in his stint at Northville.)

Well, it may not be the hall of fame, but parents, teachers and particularly the students will pay tribute to this talented coach and teacher who has decided to turn in his trunks after 20 years of coaching, prior to the start of the Mustang varsity basketball game tomorrow night.

He will be honored along with parents of graduating seniors in a short ceremony in the gymnasium.

Ben's coaching days at Northville included six seasons at the helm of the boys' teams and four as girls' head coach.

He posted a dual meet record of 98-7 as boys' coach and was 49-5 as the girls' head mentor.

His 1973 boys team won the Class 'B' state championship.

Ben's swimming success began at his high school near Sandusky, Ohio, when he set a record in the 150-yard individual medley and was named All-American in 1955.

The record never will be broken since the event was discontinued the year after he set it.

Ben studied and swam at Ohio University before transferring to Bowling Green where he earned his teaching degree.

He coached at North Robinson in Ohio, Mount Clemens and the Canton Central YMCA (or was it the YWCA) before coming to Northville to 1969.

A few of his previous swimmers who have gone on to college careers include Tim and Sue Cahill and Vida Mikalonis.

Tim, a sophomore at Ferris State College, set a school record in the 200-yard breast stroke with a time of 2:13.76, shattering his previous mark by more than two seconds.

Sue, a freshman at the University of Michigan, set a new Big Ten record in the 200-yard butterfly with a time of 2:05.05. She is slated to compete in the AIAW National Championships in Columbia, South Carolina.

Meanwhile, Mikalonis continues to excel in the 100-yard butterfly at Illinois State University.

Two members of this year's Western Six Championship team, Kim Storm and Allyson Farquhar, recently were named two pair of All-State teams.

Both Mustang standouts were named high school All-Americans as sophomores last year.

At the state meet this year, Farquhar claimed a first place in the 100-yard breast stroke, while Storm broke the state record in the 50-yard free style.

The list of accomplishments achieved by Ben's proteges goes on and on.

But all those who knew Ben as a coach should be grateful for that acquaintance.

And those who know him as teacher and friend, fear not, he said he will continue teaching at the high school.

And if you have a hard time locating Ben, just check down at the pool.

Mustang spikers claim pair of W-6 victories

Three wins in as many contests last week boosted the Mustang spikers' record to 7-5 overall and 4-5 in the Western Six.

The Northville High School volleyball squad tripped Waterford Mott, 15-10, 12-15 and 15-5 and Farmington Harrison, 15-11, 12-15 and 15-7 in a pair of league matches.

The Mustangs knocked off Pinckney 15-10, 11-15 and 15-5 in a non-league contest.

The Northville squad also competed in the Schoolcraft Invitational Saturday, but did not fare as well, dropping all eight matchups.

"The girls played pretty well all week," said coach Steve McDonald. "Even though we didn't win a game at Schoolcraft, we were competitive in every game but one."

McDonald cited the play of Sandy and Sharon Knauss, as well as Tenley Magdich.

Kim Maguire led the Mustangs in the three match wins, placing 37 accurate serves in 39 attempts and scoring 43 good hits in 54 attempts.

"She really is the mainstay of our team," McDonald praised.

Junior spiker Melinda House also excelled for the Mustangs, claiming 27 good serves in 29 attempts and scoring 35 good hits in 41 attempts.

Another steady performer for Northville was Tammy Chew who had 20 good serves in 21 attempts and scored 27 good hits in 32 spike attempts.

McDonald also praised the play of seniors Stacy Hoover and JerGerzuna.

"They haven't seen a lot of action this year," he said. "But when they played last week they did a real good job for us."

Hoover scored nine good hits in 10 attempts and Gerzuna had seven good serves in eight tries.

Lori Mitchell and Diane Hrubciak, Northville's top setters, also continued their steady performance.

Northville, now in fourth place in the Western Six, was scheduled to take on Livonia Ladywood Monday.

The Mustangs will host Livonia Churchill for their last league contest today.

Top of the Key

It's been a long climb back to the top of the key, but Northville's Dave Ward has finally made it.

The Mustang center became the number one scorer in the Sliger Home Newspapers circulation area last week following his 22-point, 17-rebound performance in Northville's 48-40 conquest of Waterford Mott. Ward, who had first assumed occupancy of the penthouse suite January 14, regained the position after Milford's Rob Sharpe — currently recovering from mononucleosis — failed to meet the current minimum of 13 games played.

Not that the Northville standout has backed into the number one spot, though. Ward has led the Mustangs to their current 7-2 standing atop the Western Six Conference (they're tied with Farmington Harrison) with both his scoring and rebounding prowess. The senior has amassed 225 caroms in 1980-81 for an average of 13.2 per outing.

Here's the entire top 10 as we head into the final week. Remember, a cager must play in at least 15 games (including post-season action) to qualify for the SHN scoring title at the end of the campaign.

Cruise to win over Cooke

Meads Mill cagers post 12-0 season

Some athletes never have the good fortune to play on an undefeated team.

But the members of the Meads Mill seventh and eighth grade basketball team will be able to cherish their 12-0 season the rest of their lives.

The junior high cagers culminated their 1980-81 season February 17 with a 61-36 trouncing of crosstown rival Cooke Junior High.

It is the first time in the five-year history of Meads Mill that a cage team has gone an entire season without a loss.

Coach Dennis Colligan said his 17 boys worked hard to post an unblemished record.

"Once they won five or six straight games they started thinking how nice it would be to win them all," the proud coach said. "And they set that as their goal."

Leading the way for the Meads Mill squad were eighth graders Scott Gray, Doug May and Bob Gulberg. Each of the three starters averaged 10-12 points per contest.

Dave Denhof, also an eighth grader, and seventh grader Mark

Deal rounded out the starting five.

Deal, a six-foot center, controlled the boards for Meads Mill and also contributed an average of six points a game.

Doug Hartman and Tom Ross also saw considerable action throughout the season.

"We pressed all the time," Colligan said. "We would start every game with a full-court press."

In the win over Cooke, Goldberg sunk nine of 10 free throws in the fourth quarter.

The two junior high schools switched roles this year, as Cooke enjoyed an 11-1 record last year.

Colligan said the Northville recreation junior basketball programs had a lot to do with his team's success.

"There are no basketball programs offered at the elementary school level, so the kids play rec ball," he explained. "I think both the girls and boys programs will benefit greatly in the long run."

Cougars claim CYO cage crown

The Cougars of Our Lady of Victory captured the Northwest CYO basketball championship Sunday with a 29-24 victory over Redford St. Valentine.

The win was particularly sweet for the fifth and sixth grade cagers since St. Valentine issued OLV its lone loss earlier in the season.

The Cougars' triumph was their seventh in eight league outings and ran their season record to 12-1.

The Northville quintet started slowly, but exploded in the second quarter, outscoring the visitors 15-2 during one stretch.

The Volts netted the final two buckets of the half to narrow OLV's lead to 20-10 at intermission.

St. Val's turned hot in the third period and cut the Cougars' lead to four, pushing the score to 26-22 as the squads entered the final six minutes.

But the OLV defense tightened in the final period, allowing only one basket the rest of the way.

Sean McLaughlin notched eight of his game-high nine points during the fourth-quarter surge. Joe Brielmaier and Doug Martin added eight apiece and Tom Orlowski netted four.

Orlowski led the Cougars in rebounds with 12, while McLaughlin pulled down nine caroms and Martin hauled in seven errant shots.

OLV will begin post season play Sunday in the annual Our Lady of Refuge tournament.

The Cougars are scheduled to take on Birmingham Holy Name in the opening round at 3:30 p.m. at the Orchard Lake School at Orchard Lake and Commerce roads.

Schoolcraft ends season with wins

Schoolcraft College men's basketball team ended its regular season with a pair of victories last week to finish at 17-10.

The Ocelots came from behind Saturday to nip Oakland County Community College 73-71 in a game at Oakland. Schoolcraft trailed the entire game before Jim Harkrader knotted the score at 71 with 47 seconds remaining.

Oakland missed its next attempt at 34 seconds and Dan Brown grabbed the rebound.

Schoolcraft played its cut-away-delay offense until Dennis Freeman hit the winning bucket from the top of the key just before time ran out.

Freeman led the Ocelots with 19 points. Phil Blevins added 18, Mike Williams had 16 and Harkrader collected 10.

Blevins led Ocelot rebounders with 12, while Williams pulled down 14 errant shots.

Manual Smith was credited with 11 assists and drew Coach Rocky Watkin's praise for his defensive efforts.

Earlier in the week, Williams tossed in 31 points and nabbed 13 rebounds to pace Schoolcraft in a 112-72 triumph over the University of Windsor.

The Ocelots took an early lead and never faltered. Blevins had 18 points, while Freeman and Harkrader added 14 apiece, Smith collected 12 and Darren St. Ledger netted 10.

Brown scored nine points and picked up 15 caroms.

The Ocelots finished third in the conference with a 10-8 record. They are scheduled to take on the winner of Tuesday's Macom CC-Washtenaw CC match at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Schoolcraft's women's basketball team was humiliated 100-34 by Henry Ford Community College February and lost at Highland Park CC 82-48 Saturday.

The Lady Ocelots were led by Sherri Sikes' 13 points against HFCC. Val Harben collected 12 points in the loss at Highland Park.

Coach Karen Beers' squad will finish its season Saturday at Madonna College.

The Ocelot gymnasts scored 162.85 points to finished second in a tri-meet at Central Michigan University Saturday.

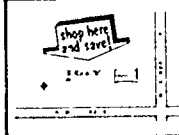

Central took top honors with 194.3 points and Notre Dame was third with 113.3.
