Council passes self-service gas ordinance

Self-serve request was initiated for Shell station, now closed

Manager of Boron station at Eight Mile-Taft wants self-serve

Asher gives full-service at Seven Mile-Rogers, opposed change

After taking a long look at the economics of the times, Northville City Council Monday unanimously passed an ordinance to provide for self-service islands at full-service gas stations in the city.

It also repealed the present ordinance enacted in 1976 prohibiting self-service operations.

The council had studied the matter since January 5, calling and continuing a public hearing that again drew two local station operators to the meeting Monday.

Council member J. Burton DeRusha commented as the ordinance was passed that it included the "most stringent requirements" possible.

The ordinance will not permit solely self-serve stations and does require an attendant to be on duty.

"You can't just put a cashier in a cage (under the city's ordinance)," commented Mayor Paul Vernon.

An objection was registered by Cal Cross, owner of a Main Street station, who told council, "You have a very unique city — why do you want to change the ordinance?"

Vernon said that the council "doesn't feel people should be obliged to drive outside the city limits if they want self service."

Cross replied that the Boron station at Eight Mile and Taft would be the only one the new ordinance would benefit and noted that the Shell station at Seven Mile and Northville road already was closed.

The mayor replied that it was not closed by council action.

The matter of permitting self-serve operation in the city had first been raised in January by a representative of Shell who then told the council that self-service was the economics of survival.

The station was still open at the time, but, Richard Truzzi said, might not continue in operation. Renewal of the company's lease also was a factor in the situation.

At the hearing in February Truzzi and James Davis, manager of the Boron station at Eight Mile and Taft, both declared the self-serve option was necessary to be competitive.

Council members were told there could be as much as seven cents a gallon differential. Truzzi declared that instituting self-service islands was a very expensive proposition and that the companies would not be doing so if it were not necessary. Truzzi was not at Monday's meeting.

The council was told that 70 percent of today's gas customers want self service.

William Asher, who operates a full-service station at Seven Mile and Rogers, attended Monday's session. At the earlier hearing he had objected to changing the ordinance, noting that many residents, especially older ones, need and want his full-service operation.

Asked if the self-service ordinance would endanger his business, Asher said it would not.

As the council continued the hearing, it held a special study session February 23 to assess problems. It was noted that the three in-town stations would find it difficult or impossible to place a self-service island on limited lots. Cost also was a factor as it was estimated that a self-service island with safety controls demanded in the ordinance could cost upward of $25,000 to install.

The ordinance becomes effective March 11 and will be published that day, City Clerk Joan McAllister said.

Drafted by City Attorney Philip

Ogilvie who studied those of neighboring communities and had input from Michigan Municipal League, the ordinance was reviewed item-by-item by the council.

It requires a license to operate a self-serve island that may be issued only after fire and building official investigations.

Plans for the installation must be inspected and approved by the city with location of the attendant-served and self-service islands located with equal visibility and accessibility.

City continues opposition to equalization assessment

Don't be surprised if those much-publicized Wayne County residential assessment increases and the commercial assessment reductions here are changed — perhaps before the month is up.

Meeting with county assessing officials this past week, city officials received assurances their objections will receive careful consideration.

Unofficially, a regional state assessment spokesman has indicated that preliminary findings given him suggest that the newer homes in the Wayne County section of the city may be unfairly assessed because of equalization.

And if Wayne County assessing officials do nothing about it, the state may press the county to roll back the equalization increase to a more reasonable level.

Similarly, the equalized assessments of businesses in the downtown area may be boosted back to their 1980 levels or higher.

Meeting with county assessing officials of Wayne and Oakland counties and with board of review members, City Manager Steven Walters pointed out that random comparisons of similar newer homes in Wayne and Oakland counties suggest that when the equalization increase is considered the Wayne homes are significantly over assessed.

More specifically, Lexington Commons South houses appear to be assessed, when equalization is applied, substantially higher than comparable houses in Lexington Commons North. The latter is located in Oakland County, the former in Wayne County.

According to Walters, this same pattern appears to exist elsewhere, particularly close to the county line.

Based on the comparisons seen by Oakland's assessing chief, George Stevens, he concurred that some of the Wayne housing assessments appear to be "way out of line." A spokesman for the Wayne County assessing department insisted, however, that its studies support its assessments-equalization.

Wayne County's data, upon which it based its equalization increase, were not immediately available.

What appears to have happened, board of review members concluded, is that while the county's overall residential increase in the Wayne County section may be justified a major disparity appears to exist between housing units — especially between newer and older houses — when the equalization factor is applied.

In other words, application of the factor may put some of the Wayne County houses close to the constitutional 50 percent level, but it boosts others far over 50 percent, according to board of review members.

The problem arises because Wayne County failed to reassess residential properties as it promised to do last year, said Walters.

City Board of Review Chairman

James Cutler guessed similar unfair disparity exists in Northville Township even though the equalization increase in the township was not as great as it was in the city.

Upon examining Oakland County's sales data and comparing housing assessments in the Oakland County section, local officials concluded that most of the assessments appear close to the 50-percent level. The average, according to Stevens, is a little under 50 percent.

Thus, it likely will be more difficult for the Oakland County homeowner to appeal an assessment than it will be for the Wayne County homeowner. Oakland completely reassessed city properties this past year, thus accounting for the absence of an equalization increase.

Walters said the city is prepared to carry its objections to the Wayne residential equalization increase and the business equalization decrease all the way to the state tax tribunal if necessary.

"If Wayne County's equalization factors stand," Cutler told county officials, "it will kill this city. People, especially young people buying their homes here, just can't afford a 42 percent increase in taxes; they'll have to sell and move. And if the houses are boarded up, who will be left to shop downtown? The county's not helping business; they're killing it."

It's tight

Township to revise proposed budget

Taking a cue from the federal administration's latest efforts, Northville Township this year is clamping down tightly in an effort to live within its means.

Waste, inefficiency and willingness to throw money at problems are all out. Business-like frugality is in.

Preliminary budget hearings Friday and Saturday ended with a determination to totally revise the proposed budget, Clerk Susan Heintz said.

The projected budget studied over the weekend was vastly out of balance, despite the absence of some spending projections, business manager David Lelko said. The clerk and treasurer's office, he said, are allocating resources to department heads and telling them to submit a proposal within that allocation by Thursday.

Total revenues projected are $1,070,940, Lelko said. He noted that only $483,000 of that amount comes from property taxes. The total township property tax roll of over $7 million is largely collected by Northville schools and Wayne County.

For example, Heintz said, the police department will be expected to budget within the income from the 1.5 mill property tax levy designated for police and other related income sources (court revenues, etc). More than 40 mills of the tax paid by township residents goes to schools.

Other sources of township revenue include licensing and enforcement (nearly $50,000), building department fees and permits ($40,700), state shared revenues (nearly $340,000) and federal revenue sharing ($65,000).

These revenues are being allocated to the departments which do the work that brings them in (licensing and enforcement income goes to police, for instance), Heintz said.

The water and sewer commission, as another example, is virtually self-sustaining through fees and charges.

The general fund will no longer cover expenses incurred by departments, Heintz said. In the past, she explained, salaries came out of each departmental budget while fringe benefits and unemployment insurance costs came from the general budget. Department heads will have to include these costs in their own budgets this year, Heintz said.

Township officials' major concern for the year is the police department, which is primarily supported by a 1.5 mill property tax levy up for renewal May 5.

In the previous fiscal year, the police budget was intended to allow for two patrol cars on the road at all times, but inflation and rising fuel costs cut into the projection so heavily that there was only a single car much of the time.

In his original budget request, police chief Ronald Nisun proposed the addition to the force of four more officers, increasing a part-time dispatcher to full time employment (serving the fire department as well), three new cars (two replacements and one additional), and an assortment of equipment.

The board of trustees frequently has heard complaints about slow response time from the police department, and during last year's elections improved police service became an issue.

Heintz said the tight budget year may prompt the board to ask voters to approve a millage increase, on top of the renewal, in order to finance better police services. She said it is most likely such a request would be on the same May 5 ballot as the renewal issue.

Even if such a millage increase were passed, along with the renewal, Lelko said, it could not be applied to the police department until late this year or early next year, when the current year taxes are collected.

Treasurer Richard Henningsen said in January that residents' desire for police services would probably lead to approval of the renewal request, but that he was wary of requesting added millage in the current tax climate.

Lelko said the general administration budget, operated on a single mill, has been "pared to the bone. We're down as far as we can go here, I think. There are certain things we are required to do by law, and those things cost a certain amount."

Paring costs from the general fund may allow some year-end balance in that account that could be used to supplement police, fire or other departments.

Lelko said the township has been "very fair" in its estimations of revenues and expenses, neither underestimating revenue nor padding expense projections to leave room for error.

"It's really tight," Lelko said. "I

Planners approve Highland Pointe site

Construction may begin this year in a 65-acre multiple-family housing development on Eight Mile near Lake Success.

Northville Township planners granted approval to the final site plan for Highland Pointe, a 314 unit townhouse and condominium development at Eight Mile and Griswold, at their February 24 meeting.

The developer, Pulte Homes of Michigan, had to submit its preliminary plans four times before gaining the go-ahead to prepare final site documents, but the final plan virtually flew past the planning commission on its way to the board of trustees.

Recreational areas to be supplied by the developer were a primary concern of the commission, and Commissioner Marvin Gans said he was pleased at the indications of such facilities on the plans.

"I think if what is on paper is applied when you build it," Gans told the developer, "we will really have accomplished something. Something innovative and something that speaks well for future developments in the township."

The complex includes a jogging path routed through it, a large open space designated for recreation and a shelter adjacent to the lake for fishermen.

Pulte agreed not to advertise the lake as a recreational asset because of its danger to swimmers. Swimming in the former gravel pit is not to be allowed, because of the steep incline of the lake bed to great depths.

Despite fences and warnings, the lake has been the site of several drownings in recent years.

Concern about meeting the recreation needs of residents in the new development centered around its proximity to Highland Lakes — if no recreational outlets were provided in Highland Pointe, the planning commission argued, the people would go to Highland Lakes facilities.

Disputes between residents of the adjacent developments was only one of the factors that worried planners. Inadequate recreation space for residents of the township generally was another, and the added population of Highland Pointe would aggravate the situation.

The planning commission, however, did not have the power to enforce its desire for recreational facilities. Through the zoning ordinance, however, an incentive is provided in the form of higher densities allowed for developments containing open space.

Final site plan review before the planning commission resulted in only minor changes to the plan, and it was approved unanimously.

Most of the needed detail changes can

CITY COUNCIL Monday reluctantly accepted the resignation of Council member G. Dewey Gardner from the Economic Development Commission. Effective immediately, the resignation was made, he said, due to press of other matters, including his upcoming presidency of Northville Rotary Club.

NORTHVILLE voters should register now for two upcoming special elections. All eligible voters must register by 5 p.m. tomorrow for the board of education's April 4 special election. Through the election, the board is seeking to renew 9.5 of the district's voted 26.5 mills which expire this year. No person whose registration is received after 5 p.m. tomorrow will be entitled to vote in the election on April 4. The last day to register for the City of Northville's special election is 8 p.m. April 20. The purpose of the special election, which will be held May 19, is to approve bonding for South Main Street paving.

LORRAINE STEIMEL, widow of Northville Postmaster John Steimel who died in January, was appointed to fulfill his term as a member of the Northville Housing Commission (which administers Allen Terrace) on recommendation of the commission and by unanimous action of city council Monday.

Sauce samplers

Though the spaghetti and sauce aren't quite ready, five members of the Northville Athletic Booster Club recently decided they wanted a taste. In fact, one sampler, John Quinn (right) decided to add himself to the sauce. The boosters will host a spaghetti dinner tomorrow (Thursday) from 5-7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria — during the district basketball tournament. Tickets, priced at $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for students, may be purchased at the door. Sauce samplers at left include William Greer (left), Ralph Handley, Quinn, Lee Holland and Don Morgan.

Bond election May 19

Council seeks approval for cost of Main paving

Convinced that if the city waits for Wayne County Road Commission to pave South Main from Griswold to Seven Mile, the pot-hole filled street will be in impossible condition, Northville City Council Monday set a special election for May 19 to approve bonding for cost of paving.

Voters will be asked to approve borrowing an amount not to exceed $455,000 for paving and related costs.

Residents have until 8 p.m. April 20 to register for the election.

Action was taken by the council after discussion on the low-priority state of the road in the county's planning. The council felt it could be at least 10 years, and maybe never, before the county would repave.

Council members are aware that actual costs will run close to three-quarters of a million dollars with interest charges. They stated, however, that delaying the paving work could prove even more costly as costs have risen yearly.

As it adopted the resolution calling for a special election, the council also voted unanimously to submit a proposed agreement to Wayne County Road Commission seeking a splitting of costs with the city paying 60 percent and the county 40 with the understanding that the city will fund the project now and pay all interest costs.

It is the interest charges, estimated by City Manager Steven Walters on the $455,000, that will take the total to a split more like 75-25.

The county then will begin to pay its portion the fifth year following the award of the construction contract.

Council member Carol Ann Ayers expressed the hope that after the paving is completed, the boulevard could be made a more attractive entrance to the city.

She also asked if poles and wires on the median strip could be placed under ground. Walters said he does not think so as they are main lines. However, he suggested, they might be moved to the east side of the road.

The proposed agreement with the Wayne County Road Commission had been studied at a special session February 23 when it was stated that a similar agreement had been accepted with Livonia for Middlebelt road.

The motion was moved by Ayers and seconded by Dewey Gardner. Council member Stanley Johnston was absent. Mayor Paul Vernon announced he had been excused for illness.

Doheny building plan cleared by commission

Plans for industrial warehouses to be constructed on the banks of Lake Success have cleared the township planning commission, and now must traverse a route through two other organizations before construction can begin.

Jack L. Doheny would like to add three warehouse buildings to his complex on Gerald Avenue. He currently operates Jack L. Doheny Supplies, Inc., an environmental clean-up firm, and rents warehouse space to other industrial concerns.

He is expected to apply for financial support from the township Economic Development Corporation (EDC). A meeting to consider the application is tentatively scheduled March 11, but would be cancelled if Doheny is unable to present sufficient evidence that financing might be obtained soon.

With tax free municipal bonds granted by the EDC to support a loan, Doheny could move forward, with permits issued by the building department, to the construction phase.

If he chose to finance the project himself, the planning commission's approval of a final site plan February 24 means he could apply for building permits at any time.

When reviewing a preliminary plan in January, the commission expressed concern that two major driveways were dead ends. The final plan still offers no second outlet from the site, but does include automobile turn-around space not indicated previously.

Doheny said he understood the planning commission's concerns about access, but that he did not want to surround the building with driveways (it abuts the lake) for a specific reason.

"Right now, in the building we have, our alarm goes off frequently at 3 and 4 a.m. and the police tell me its kids throwing rocks through the windows," Doheny said. "I don't want it to be too easy to circle that building and get out before there is a response to the alarm."

Doheny said similar concern was the reason required trees will be planted in boxes in the middle of parking lots instead of at the edges.

"At our place now, we have enough problem with kids turning the circle around the building into a race track," he said.

A 20-foot-wide green belt surrounds the parking areas and is planted with trees and shrubs. Because it borders on the lake, its appearance from lake side also was a concern.

Doheny told the board he had discussed his plans with Pulte Homes, developers of the proposed Highland Pointe multiple family complex which will border the northern and eastern sides of the lake.

"We want it to be as attractive as we can make it," Doheny said. "I don't think there will be any complaints about our appearance."

FIRST IMPRESSIONS ARE BEST

Q. When should I bring my children for their first dental check-up?
A. Usually by the age of two or two and a half years, because at that time all the baby or deciduous teeth have erupted. It is a good idea to bring your child in early before problems develop, to become familiar with the office, get acquainted with the dentist, and learn to associate the dental visit as a pleasant experience. Studies show that the first visits to the dentist form the basis for the child's attitude the rest of his life, so make your dentist's first impression a good one.

Happy Birthday!

Planners outline new zoning code

Regulations governing mobile home courts, environmental impact statements and other details of Northville Township's cover-to-cover revision of its zoning ordinance were determined at the February 24 meeting of the planning commission.

Remaining issues, including a thorough examination of a revised zoning map and whether or not to include regulations to govern noise, were to be considered at a meeting Tuesday, March 3—after The Record deadline.

At the earlier meeting, planners reviewed state rule governing mobile home courts. The township adopted stricter standards than those required by Michigan's Mobile Home Commission.

Such stricter regulations are permitted only with the mobile home commission's approval prior to adoption, planning consultant Claude Coates, of Villan-Leman Associates, told the commission.

"You have to submit your entire zoning ordinance to the state commission for review of your mobile home standards after your first public hearing," Coates said.

"They have 60 days to respond to anything they think is out of line. If they don't say anything, you can assume it's all right," he continued. "You have to send the entire ordinance because they want to see if you apply similar restrictions to other zone classes. If you do, they allow you to be tougher than the state standard, but you have to show you are not attempting to exclude mobile home parks through the zoning ordinance."

Mobile home courts could be located in industrial or multiple-family zones only, the new ordinance states.

Setback requirements, densities and other regulations in the township ordinance exceed the demands of the state commission but are probably allowable, Coates said, because the township's multiple family and single family zonings also are more restrictive than most.

The commission decided to use a less restrictive set of requirements for those petitioning for a zoning change than was written by Coates.

Upon the request of the commission, the consultant had drafted a regulation requiring such petitioners to submit an environmental impact assessment and an economic impact study of what might result from the rezoning.

The commission decided to adopt the environmental provisions, which basically demand topographical and plant life information, while deleting the economic assessment.

"We all complain about government paper work and what it is doing to our businesses," said commissioner Bernard Baldwin, "I think we ought to seriously consider that we could be part of that problem if we imposed this requirement (for an economic study) merely to satisfy our own curiosity."

Trustee Richard Allen, the board's liaison with the planners, had drafted a noise control regulation based on Chicago and Oregon statutes, but was not present to explain it.

Baldwin, among others, questioned the wisdom of including any such regulations because there is "no one in the township qualified to do the tests required."

Baldwin also cautioned that noise standards are a very technical item and that it would be unwise to adopt a standard without fully understanding it.

"You don't want to find yourself outlawing the noise of your range hood," he said.

Allen was not expected to attend the March 3 meeting either, but the commission was slated to consider whether or not to include a noise regulation anyway.

The zoning ordinance will be submitted to a thorough review by township attorneys and go before the board of trustees before it becomes law.

It is being revised under a federal grant, which last year produced a new master plan of land use and next year is slated for revision of subdivision regulations, and study of environmentally sensitive areas and location of historic sites.

Public hearing slated for rezoning question

Commercial zoning at Six Mile and Winchester may be changed to OS-1, for office uses, despite opposition from the owners of the property.

Northville Township planners will consider the rezoning question at a public hearing March 10. The planning commission initiated the question itself.

The site was actually rezoned OS-1 in April 1980 by vote of the commission and board of trustees, but the township clerk failed to comply with publication requirements and the zoning reverted to B-2, business.

Planners originally petitioned for the change in zoning class upon completion of the township's new master plan for land use last April. It was one of many zones to be changed in order to bring the current zoning into closer compliance with the master plan.

The master plan actually indicates the 10 acre site, eight acres of which belong to Elro Corporation, should be zoned for residential use. During discussion of the issue in April the township, residents of nearby Northville Commons subdivision and Robert Haas, owner of a smaller part of the site, agreed to the OS-1 zoning as a compromise between those who wanted the parcels to be zoned R-3 and the owners who wished to retain the business zoning.

Elro, however, filed suit when the township turned back its attempts to construct a convenience center at Six Mile and Sheldon. Between that denial, and the Winchester-Six compromise, they contended, the firm had been denied the opportunity to develop property zoned for commercial use when purchased.

This claim of "confiscation" of the firm's property has not yet reached the courts, and, if it did so tomorrow, would actually be moot, because the B-2 zoning exists at Six and Winchester.

The township clerk's office failed to publish, in a newspaper, notification that the zoning had been changed. That lapse allowed the office zoning to revert to business.

Normally, the township board could simply have conducted a "reaffirmation vote," confirming its earlier decision, published the rezoning as required, and it would take effect.

The interim between the original board action and the discovery of the publishing oversight, however, included the addition of Richard Allen to the board, replacing John Swienkowski, who resigned.

The switch meant the board had to conduct a completely new consideration of the matter. Allen, due to a commitment made before he was named to board, could not attend. The board vote came up 3-3, and the zoning was retained.

Under the new administration that began in November, however, the board suggested to the planning commission that it examine the question again.

Property owners' outcries heard by board of review

Phones are ringing off the hook in Northville Township Hall this week, as some homeowners get a glimpse at what rising prices and equalization by class are doing to property tax rates.

"Every time I turn around," said Connie Slagle, deputy treasurer, "there's another call from somebody angry about their taxes."

She said many callers do not have a firm understanding of what is happening, "but they're all mad."

The local board of review, like those throughout the state, began meeting Tuesday to hear property owners' protests of assessments. The board has the power to adjust assessments to bring them in line with the 50 percent market value mandated by state law.

The market value being used in establishing adjustments to assessments, however, may not be in line with what a real estate agent might offer for a house.

The 30-month market survey, which established local home values, began in 1978. It does not take into account the recent slump in the housing market.

Any attempt by the local board of review to make assessments comply with genuinely current market values will have to be substantiated with several accounts of sales of similar property or the county is likely to deny the changes made by the board of review.

Implementation of Public Act 114 of 1979 has increased 1981 residential property taxes some 21 percent in the township and 42 percent in the city. In the township, 15 percent of the rise is due to general property value gains and 6 percent is the impact of PA 114.

The factor used in calculating taxes is reported at the bottom of change of assessment notices sent to homeowners who improved property in the past year. The assessment multiplied by the factor should produce a valuation near 50 percent of market value.

If it does not, the boards of review may adjust the assessment but not the factor. Change of assessment would change total valuation and thus the taxes charged.

In the township, and the Wayne County portion of the city, only residents whose homes were improved in the past year have received notice of new assessments. Others may wish to check their previous assessments and how the new factors will affect total valuation.

Boards of review were designed to give property owners who believe, and can prove, that their assessments would result in improper tax rates a chance to have them changed.

The township deputy treasurer said it is important that people not misunderstand the effects of PA 114. The 21 percent valuation increase is the total rise in the township, it is not an addition to the 15 percent rise that would have happened without PA 114.

The township board of review meets again today from 3-9 p.m., March 9 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., and March 10 from 3-9 p.m. The city board meets from 1-4 p.m. and 7-10 p.m. March 10 and from 9 a.m. to noon and 1-4 p.m. March 24 at city hall.

'Chapter Two' auditions set

Plymouth Theatre Guild will hold auditions for its upcoming production of Neil Simon's "Chapter Two" at 7:30 p.m. March 11 and 12 at Central Middle School in Plymouth. The play will be directed by Ves Spindler and will run April 24 and 25 and May 1 and 2. For tickets or further information call Karen Groves at 420-2161.

Township's new group home granted license February 13

A group home for six mentally retarded persons above age 16 has been licensed at 42777 Eight Mile in Northville Township.

Operated by Northwest Regional Residential Training Centers, Inc., of Utica, a non-profit corporation, the home was licensed by Michigan's Department of Social Services (DSS) February 13. Notice was sent to the township February 25.

Placement of residents from Northville Residential Training Center (NRTC) on Seven Mile began February 13, according to Carol Park, education recruitment coordinator for the center.

The center completed placement the following week, she added.

The home is the first of its type to be licensed in the township.

An earlier application for a home at Seven Mile and Meadowbrook was withdrawn when neighbors argued that the proximity of state institutions fulfilled whatever obligations they might have to mental health programs.

The firm operating the home also runs 13 other such homes in Michigan. The addition of the newest makes four operated by this firm in the tri-county (Wayne, Macomb, Oakland) area.

The Eight Mile home had to meet a long list of DSS requirements, pass fire code and safety inspections and meet other standards before receiving its license.

DSS and the department of mental health (DMH) have adopted a philosophy of community placement which will result in closing NRTC this year and other such centers for the retarded soon.

Proponents argue that group living in the community allows learning and development among the retarded that is not possible in the institutions.

When the Seven Mile application was withdrawn, NRTC officials said the township would still be required to accommodate such a home (the homes are being spread throughout the state) and a search was begun for a site further away from the large institutions on Seven Mile.

Former township supervisor Donald Thomson worked with NRTC to find the relatively remote location now licensed.

Although many had thought the best location might be in the sparsely populated western end of the township, the new board of trustees November 20 welcomed the Eight Mile application as suitable.

Supervisor John MacDonald and other board members offered broad support to the application and voiced no opposition.

More recently, Northville City Council voted to oppose an application to locate a group home in the city.

Generally, the state has taken over the location of group homes, allowing only the protest that another home is located within 1500 feet as legitimate. Local zoning authority, which had been used to keep the homes out of some communities, was taken over by the state.

Al Nichols, chief operating officer of Northwest Regional, told the board of trustees in November that his company would not be making money by running the home — a private investor owns the home and the corporation holds a lease on the house. However, it has been pointed out that executives and employees of such non-profit corporations are paid salaries.

A recent audit showed that group homes cost DMH and DSS more than institutionalizing the retarded. The benefits of the arrangement, however, are aimed at allowing the residents to live independently.

Some people, DSS argues, will always be limited to being cared for in the homes, but others may be able to move out on their own, thus reducing state costs.

Fuel consultant's guest at next AAUW meet

"Energy Sources and Alternate Fuels" is the topic to be presented by fuel and engine consultant Harold Gibson at the March 10 meeting of the Northville AAUW Branch at the Cooke Junior High School library.

Gibson, who obtained both his bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Michigan, retired five years ago as manager of the Ethyl Corporation Research Laboratories.

At Ethyl, Gibson was responsible for research on fuels, engines, exhaust emissions and other aspects of the interrelationship between fuels and engines.

He also has traveled extensively to consult on technical service work with the domestic and international sales staff of the Ethyl Corporation.

At the AAUW meeting, Gibson will discuss present and future energy sources and their uses, with emphasis on hydrocarbon fuels from petroleum, coal and oil shales. Gasohol will be mentioned in some detail as well as synthetic and natural gas.

His talk will include slides and a question and answer period will follow.

A mini-fundraiser entitled "Spring Sampler" will be an added feature of the evening to raise additional monies for scholarships. Members should bring baked goods and special food items, as well as a few small crafts to be sold during refreshment time at 7:30 p.m.

Members may bring guests and persons interested in joining the AAUW, who are graduates of an accredited four-year college, also are invited to attend.

Library budget given approval by city council

The 1981-82 library budget proposed by the Library Advisory Commission was approved by the Northville City Council unanimously at its February 16 meeting.

Council members commented that the increase of $4,807 in the funding request of $107,578 was only 4.7 percent over the previous year with 82 percent ($3,947) attributed to the reduction in state aid.

The budget report noted that circulation last year increased by 26 percent over the previous year following the opening of the new library quarters January 21, 1980.

The staff under head librarian Anne Mannisto includes one full-time assistant librarian, three part-time aides and two part-time student pages.

It noted that the rental book collection begun in October, 1980, is self-supporting with rental fees buying new books. Friends of the Library provided the initial capital.

A $3,000 Kellogg grant will offset initial costs of installing a computer system for an automated library circulation to be implemented early in 1982.

Cooke concert to aid Gitfiddler cause

The musicians who will be playing folk, blue grass and country music in a concert from 8 to 10:30 p.m. this Friday in the Cooke Junior High School cafeteria will be younger than usual — and more scared.

They are students at the Gitfiddler studio in Northville who will be performing in a recital for a favorite cause of owner Tom Rice.

Audience donations will be given to the fight against Huntington's Disease. The disease which affects the nerves and muscles claimed the life of Rice's sister.

Rice invites all interested to enjoy the varied talents of 24 young musicians and their teachers.

Students performing include Randy Mills, Rob Mills, Sherrie Gilbert, Colleen Hoffman, Chris Katke, Jenny and Mike Campbell, Jared Thompson, Mike Pittinger, Janet Neyer, Steve Champagne, Chris Connolly, Lori Neff, Lori Sanka, Glenda Beltcher, Eric Fogel, Jordan Beltz, Tom Walters and Jeff Stuart. Beltz, Walters and Stuart will perform as a trio.

Others are Jamie Mussat, Judy Whible, George Smojner, Jamie Hernandez, Derek Nelson, Lesley LaRou, Chris Falkowski and Susan VanderBok. Claire Langran and Heather Martin will play a duet.

Teachers who will play include Al Bray, Fran Murphy and Rice.

Trombonist is symphony guest

Trombonist Dennis Smith, currently will be the featured associate professor of soloist in the March 8 concert of the Plymouth Symphony.

Smith, principal trombonist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra for three years, also has been a member of the New York City Opera Company and the Utah and Los Angeles orchestras.

The program for the March 8 concert opens with "Overture to Oberon" by von Weber, followed by "Fantasy for Trombone and Orchestra" by Paul Creston.

The finale will be Schubert's "Symphony No. 9 in C."

The concert is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. at the Plymouth-Salem High School Auditorium.

Tickets for the concert will be available at the door.

Tickets are $4 for adults and $2 for senior citizens and full-time college students. Kindergarten through 12th grade students are admitted free.

A Girl Scout troop will provide baby sitting for preschoolers during the concert.

The concert is made possible with the support of the State of Michigan through a grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts.

Planners examine bikeway along Six Mile Road

Bicyclists could travel from Edward Hines Parkway to I-275 on a special path along Six Mile Road under a proposal being examined by township planners.

The planning commission last week instructed consultant Claude Coates to prepare a sketch indicating whether the bikeway should be routed along the north or south side of Six Mile.

The plan to link existing bike paths beside Hines and I-275 was put forward by commissioner Marvin Gans, long a supporter of a Northville Jaycees proposal to lace the entire community with such paths.

"I received a call from Carl Pursell's people asking me where we wanted bike paths and offering their help," Gans said. "I think this particular link would be most productive and provide our residents with a bicycle route to Plymouth, Livonia, and other communities."

area with his staff to examine local needs.

The bicycle path along Six Mile most likely would be built when the road is widened, in accordance with county plans, from its present two lanes to five. Eight feet of the right of way would be reserved for the path when Wayne County draws up plans for the widening, Gans suggested.

Such reservations of right of way for bicycle routes has worked well in Oakland County, he said.

The path would not require additional land acquisition, Gans said, because it could be included within the easements or property already owned by the road commission.

"If we want this to happen, though," Gans insisted, "we have to move now and make our desires known while there is still plenty of time for the county to include it in its plans."

The commission agreed to have Coates study the matter and prepare a sketch showing the most appropriate location for the bikeway.

Police Blotter

Burglars hit lounge, escape with handgun

The new owner of Aberdeen's (formerly The Glass Crutch Lounge), 18730 Northville Road, was a victim of breaking and entering for the second time in less than two weeks February 22, township police reported.

While on patrol township officers noticed the front door of the bar had been pried open.

The owner told police the coin boxes of a pinball machine and electronic arcade game were broken.

A 45-caliber Colt semi-automatic pistol reportedly was taken from the office and an undetermined amount of quarters also was reported missing, police said.

The coin boxes on several pinball machines and an electronic game also were broken into in a similar incident February 18. Also, a juke box was vandalized in that reported breaking and entering, police said.

In another reported case of breaking and entering, 20-30 pairs of blue jeans were taken from World Jeans, 43275 Seven Mile February 26, police said.

The front-door window was broken out, the cash register pried open and the coin tray dumped onto the floor, police said.

No money was believed missing.

Damage is estimated at $245.

Police said the front door of Eddy's Tin Fu, which is located a few doors from World Jeans, also had been pried.

"It looks like the burglars tried to get into Eddy's but when they couldn't pry the door open they went down to World Jeans and broke in," theorized Ronald Nisun, township police chief.

A Northville woman suffered minor injuries February 25 when her vehicle, traveling westbound on Seven Mile, rear-ended another westbound vehicle just west of Orchard Drive, city police reported.

Shelley Fasing, 6685 Six Mile, told police she was looking away from the road and when she looked back the car in front of her had stopped.

The driver whose vehicle was struck, Rebecca Cohen of Petoskey, was not hurt. She told police she had stopped her vehicle because the car in front of her had stopped to let some ducks cross the road.

Fasing was ticketed for failing to stop in an assured clear distance.

A 1980 Cadillac Seville was reported stolen from a private parking lot at 254 South Center sometime during the early morning hours of February 22, city police said.

The trunk lock was popped out, police said.

The stolen property is valued at $400.

The Equine Associates office trailer in the barn area at Northville Downs, 301 South Center, was broken into February 22, city police reported.

Unknown persons entered the office trailer through the front door which was damaged in a previous breaking and entering, police said.

The subjects then pried open the drug room door. Nothing was believed missing, police said.

Three torpedo explosive devices were found at the Northville Schools' bus yard on Eight Mile west of Center February 25, city police said.

Two explosives were located near the right rear wheel of a bus, while another was found under a bus tire, police said.

Two 16-year-old suspects reportedly were seen throwing rock at similar explosives in the area prior to the discovery of the three torpedos.

Police are investigating the vandalism of a 1975 Ford parked at the Northville High School lot February 25.

The left front window was smashed and a streak of silver was painted along the left side of the vehicle, police said.

A large rock apparently was used to smash the double-glass doorwall of a Swan Harbour apartment on Silver Springs Drive February 21, township police said.

Damage is estimated at $200.

think we will find that this is a fair estimation of what is going to be coming in in the next year, as near as can be told now."

Budgeting, he noted, is something of a guessing game at times, due to the unpredictability of some necessary costs and revenue sources.

For instance, he said, state shared revenue projections are based on the current levels, but could drop or rise with the economy and steps by the state to control its own budget.

The budget, thus far, is based on continuation of the 1.5 mill levy for police, he added, and the anger of taxpayers makes renewal of the tax somewhat uncertain.

"We really have to examine the possibility of that (not being renewed)," he said. "I couldn't really tell you what we could or would do if that happened. We have to look at it. We would have to start (budgeting) all over again."

Complicating the process even further is that any tax actions this summer would not be reflected in township revenues until early next year.

Taxes are collected on a calendar year basis, but the fiscal year runs from April 1 through March 31.

The board of trustees will meet again this Saturday at 9 a.m. in township hall to discuss the budget, at which time the recreation department budget (which is split between city and township) will be first considered.

Last weekend's sessions began with police and fire budget reviews Friday night, while library, water and sewer, and general budgets were considered Saturday.

"It wasn't a waste of time," Lelko said of last week's sessions. "It made clear to us that things weren't going to work that way and that we should try another method."

That recognition led to the orders confining each department head to projected revenues by department. Fire services have 0.5 mill to work with, the general fund a single mill and police its 1.5 mill.

Members are reminded that March 9 is guest day.

Auto-Owners for Car Insurance

If your brand new car is totaled, will your insurance company pay you for a brand new car?

Auto-Owners will when you have comprehensive and collision coverage. If you have an accident anytime within 90 days and your new car is a total loss, we'll pay you the total cost of your new car. And with Auto-Owners, your new car is covered immediately, automatically, under your policy.

So if your present policy doesn't give you this kind of total coverage, maybe you better scrap it.

Camp director, student, former paper owner die

WILLIAM SCHLIEF

William Schlief, who became lovingly known as "Papa Buggs" by Girl Scouts and adults for whom he cared at Huron Valley Girl Scout Camp Linden, died February 12 after a long fight with cancer at the age of 56.

In 1971 he joined the Huron Valley staff as part-time caretaker. In 1976 he became full-time camp administrator, carrying out a range of responsibilities that included maintenance and development of all council campsites and serving as resident summer camp director.

He and his family were Northville residents until moving to Linden in 1971 when he joined the camp staff.

A graduate of the University of Michigan in chemical engineering, he said at the time he was changing his life goals. Most of his interests were in the out-of-doors.

Camp officials report that he constantly was studying and learning more about wildflowers, wild edibles, birds, geology, stars, the environment and ecology.

These were interests, they explain, that he shared with scouts, volunteers and camp staff.

He died at Flint Osteopathic Hospital of lung cancer. At his request there was no funeral service, but in the spring there will be a memorial tree planting in his memory. A grove of oaks is to be planted at Camp Linden near the Deerfield Unit.

Mr. Schlief's wife Fran has been known to campers as "Buggs," the camp cook for the past 13 years. She is the former Frances Dunn. They had five children, Stuart, Stanley, Susan, Sally and Sharon. His mother Theresa Schlief of Ypsilanti also survives.

He was born June 23, 1924.

"Bill gave much to Camp Linden and his absence from camp will be felt across the council," council officials stated this week as they saluted him "for all you have been and are to Camp Linden and Huron Valley Girl Scout Council."

Girl Scouts in the Northville troops are members of Huron Valley Council and attend Camp Linden.

MICHAEL MUZZIN

Michael Muzzin, who was graduated with honors from Northville High School in 1979, died February 26 in Bethesda, Maryland, at the age of 19. He had been ill for some time.

Funeral mass was held at 1:30 p.m. Monday at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Woodstock, Ontario, Canada, with burial following in St. Mary's Cemetery there.

A native of Canada, the young man had been a resident of Northville for about eight years, entering the school system in 1973. He was born December 23, 1961, in Woodstock.

He was a member of Our Lady of Victory Church.

His parents, Adelchi and Sharon (Ares) Muzzin, and sister Melinda live at 21355 Beck Road in Northville.

Survivors also include his grandparents, J. A. Ares of Woodstock and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Muzzin of Windsor, Ontario.

NAT W. HOPKINS

Nat W. Hopkins, owner of the Hopkins Agency in Detroit and Ann Arbor and former co-owner of The Northville Record, died unexpectedly February 24 at his home at 15410 Lakeside Drive in Northville Township at the age of 83.

He was born March 30, 1897, in Alton, Illinois, to James Herbert and Mary Wallace. He married his wife Genevieve October 23, 1920.

He was a World War I veteran and a graduate of Ypsilanti Normal College and the University of Michigan.

He had been an area resident since 1941.

In addition to his wife he leaves sons Frederic W. and John M.; two brothers James F. and James Herbert; a sister Ellen Thomas; eight grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Memorial tributes may be sent to the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Plymouth, where Mr. Hopkins was a member.

He was co-owner of The Record from 1952 to 1956 with Glenn H. Cummings, who last year moved to Texas.

The Novi News, also a Sliger Home Newspaper today, was conceived and started during their ownership. Both men operated a public relations and advertising agency in Detroit at the time.

HELEN CAVIN

Funeral service for Helen Cavin of Jamestown Circle will be held at 9 a.m. today at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church. Father John O'Callaghan will officiate and burial will be at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery in Southfield.

Mrs. Cavin, 67, died February 28 at Hospice of Southeastern Michigan in Southfield after a lengthy illness.

She was born in Detroit June 7, 1913 to Walter and Euphemia (Monastyrskas) Huzar.

She is survived by her husband Albert and her mother Mrs. Euphemia Huzar of Detroit.

She also is survived by her daughter Mrs. Elaine C. Rollins of Northville and Miss Valerie L. Cavin of Chicago, Illinois.

Other survivors include her sister Mrs. Ned (Stephanie) Fuller of Florida, her brothers John and Walter Huzar of Detroit and a grandson.

Mrs. Cavin moved to Northville in 1975 from Detroit. She was a member of Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church.

A rosary was held Tuesday evening at Casterline Funeral Home.

Memorial contributions can be made to the Michigan Cancer Foundation or to Hospice of Southeastern Michigan.

F. GERALDINE GILLESPIE

Funeral service for Northville resident F. Geraldine Gillespie, 75, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Casterline Funeral Home. Pastor V. F. Halboth will officiate. Burial will be at Glen Eden Memorial Park in Livonia.

Mrs. Gillespie died unexpectedly March 2 at Botsford General Hospital.

She was born in Detroit September 1, 1905 to David and Julia (McCarthy) Churlotte.

She was preceded in death by her husband Edward Charles Gillespie who died in June 1970.

Mrs. Gillespie is survived by her daughter Mrs. Beverly Deeb of Northville and her son Raymond of San Diego, California.

Other survivors include her sister Mrs. Charlotte McGee of Boyne City, her brothers Edward Churlotte of Georgia, Jack Churlotte of California, six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Mrs. Gillespie moved to Northville in 1976 from Farmington. She was a member of the Grace Lutheran Church in Redford.

GLENN HAGLE

Funeral service for Glenn K. Hagle, 74, of Sarasota, Florida, was held March 2 at Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home. Mrs. Helen Hopkins of the First Church of Christ Scientist officiated. Burial was at Grand Lawn Cemetery.

Mr. Hagle, a retired Chrysler Corporation engineering inspector, died February 26 in Sarasota.

He was born in Michigan March 5, 1906 to Frank and Junia (Dempsey) Hagle.

He is survived by his wife Marion and son Robert.

Other survivors include his sister Mrs. Georgia Baird of South Lyon and four grandchildren.

JOSEPH PAVLASEK

Funeral service for former Farmington resident Joseph R. Pavlasek was held February 28 at Our Lady of Sorrows Church in Farmington. Father Kean D. Cronin officiated. Burial was at White Chapel Cemetery in Troy.

Mr. Pavlasek died February 23 at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base Hospital in Tucson, Arizona. He was 71.

He was born in Illinois September 30, 1909 to Jack and Betty (Olach) Pavlasek. He was preceded in death by his wife Thelma who died in 1967.

Mr. Pavlasek was a retired aerial engineer with the Army Air Force and was a member of Our Lady of Sorrows Church.

Funeral arrangements were made by Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home.

Shared Services — $3,410.48.
Payroll Fund — $22,249.40.
Recreation Fund — $8,639.98.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

COMMUNICATIONS Mr. Joe Tomaskas, 349 First asked if anything were being done re road conditions specifically Northville Road and Rogers.

Mayor Vernon informed Mr. Tomaskas that S. Main (Northville Road) has been under constant study and in fact, a report is before Council tonight. He mentioned other roads in the City which were under survey by the DPW and would be cold packed, weather permitting. He also explained the limitations placed on the City by the economics, weather and the County.

Mr. Tomaskas stated he realized it was a bad time to fix the roads but wondered if anything were being done.

Mayor Vernon thanked him for his concern.

AGENDA REVISIONS There were none.

HEARING SMALL PUBLIC HOME A complete transcript is available at city hall.

PUBLIC HEARING TO CONSIDER THE REPEAL OF AND SUBSTITUTION OF TITLE 4, CHAPTER 14, REGULATIONS AND SALE OF FLAMMABLE LIQUIDS OF THE CODE OF ORDINANCES OF THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE The City Attorney explained the changes he had made in the Ordinance to provide for the attendant and self serve use. A full service facility would be required at all stations. He explained the definitions which were changed and the deletions made.

Mayor Vernon opened the Public Hearing and asked if anyone in the audience wished to be heard.

Mr. Cal Cross, owner of the Gulf Station, stated he felt it was a waste of time for him to come but asked why the present ordinance should be changed. He explained the services he offered which would not be offered at a self-serve station and stated there was only a 2 cents or 3 cents difference in price of gasoline at his station.

Councilman Gardner commented that full service would still be maintained.

The City Attorney explained this was a compromise between going self serve. There must be a full service island along with a self-serve one.

Mr. Cross agreed it has proven to be successful in some cases.

The City Attorney explained the safety factor in having an attendant on duty.

Mr. Cross asked why the City of Northville wants the self serve type business.

Councilman Johnston mentioned the calls he had received from residents who wanted the choice. He also mentioned there was a 10 cents price spread at Clark's.

Mr. Cross explained the three different types of gas stations, i.e., a pumper, full serve and gas and go. He stated he was a full serve and Clark was a pumper.

Mayor Vernon commented the ordinance would not permit a "Speedway type" operation or self serve only, there would have to be a full service island also.

Mr. Cross stated the 2 cents spread in gas prices would not be there. He suggested taking a price reading from Clark and Boron. He stated he felt the door was already shut as far as the ordinance was concerned.

Mayor Vernon commented his mind was not made up and asked Mr. Cross to explain what he meant by the door being shut.

Mr. Cross stated he liked the present ordinance as is. He mentioned that fact that 10 years ago there were 12 full service stations in Northville and now there are 3.

Mayor Vernon asked if Mr. Cross believed that people who patronized his station and other full service stations would quit.

Mr. Cross mentioned he had spoken with Asher and Phil's 76 and they feel the same way as he does. There are older people who cannot pump their own gas.

Andy Sambrone, of Cal's Gulf Service, stated he lives in the City and works for Cal's. The present ordinance is approximately 5 years old and Mr. Sambrone asked what is to keep Council from opening this up again in 5 more years.

Councilman Johnston explained that was the function of Council.

Mr. Sambrone remarked that if a person wanted to purchase from a self serve they could drive down to Seven Mile Road and buy gas.

Mayor Vernon asked if people should not be permitted to purchase this in Northville. He also mentioned the cost of converting would be very expensive. However, if a station wanted to convert they could. He stated he was also opposed to total self serve where someone collects money and sits in a cage. He explained the City's ordinance is intended to prohibit that type of operation.

Mr. James Davis, Boron Station at 8 Mile and Tait, stated several people were commenting on the lack of service available and explained what service he had and would have available. He felt the split concept was the way to go. He thought it was a safe way of offering the service and people want it.

Mayor Vernon asked if there were any more comments from the audience, there being none he closed the public hearing and opened it for discussion of Council.

Discussion followed and several changes were suggested. It was decided to call a work session to work on the Ordinance changes.

Mayor Vernon reopened the Public Hearing on the Regulation and Sale of Flammable Liquids Ordinance.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Johnston to adjourn the Public Hearing until March 2nd. Motion Carried Unanimously.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Gardner to schedule a work session for February 23, 1981, at 8 p.m. for the purpose of considering the Regulation and Sale of Flammable Liquids Ordinance changes.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

PROPOSED ZONING ORDINANCE TEXT CHANGE SECTION 12.2 CENTRAL BUSINESS DISTRICT-PRINCIPAL USES PERMITTED.

Mayor Vernon suggested Council discuss this at the next regular meeting to give them more time to review the Ordinance.

Discussion followed on the changes and it was decided to table the matter until the next regular meeting.

CYSTIC FIBROSIS WEEK — FEBRUARY 8-14, 1981 A notice would be put up on the bulletin board in City Hall calling attention to Cystic Fibrosis Week.

SEMCOG DELEGATE UPDATE The City's delegate and alternate would remain the same, Burt DeRusha and Steve Walters.

MICHIGAN MUNICIPAL LEAGUE ANNUAL LEGISLATIVE CONFERENCE, March 18, 1981 Next Agenda.

APPOINTMENTS A notification would be placed in the newspaper advertising that a vacancy exists on the Planning Commission.

MICHIGAN WEEK Saline would be exchanging Mayors on May 18, during Michigan Week. The employees recognition dinner would be held May 20 of that week also.

FINANCIAL REPORT The City Manager advised the budget deficit had been reduced from $63,000 to $23,000 and an update and report would be sent out.

A performance report of the parimutuel taxes over the past ten years and for fiscal 1980-81 was prepared and it was noted that it would probably hit the $800,000 figure.

IMPACT OF PROPERTY ASSESSMENT EQUALIZATION BY CLASS IN 1981 The City Manager commented on the unlikelyhood of the Governor signing the bill which would delay the equalization by class except on a phase in the structuring in 1981. He explained both the House and Senate are discussing but not committing at this point in time.

1981-82 LIBRARY BUDGET The 1981-82 Library Budget was submitted for Council's approval. The total funding requested is $107,578 which represents an increase of $4,807 or 4.7% over 1980-81. Of the increase $3,974 or 82% is attributed to the reduction in state aid.

Mayor Vernon commented that the Library has tried to hold the line. Discussion on the budget followed.

Motion by Councilman Johnston supported by Councilman Gardner to adopt the library budget for 1981-82 as submitted.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

COMMUNICATIONS Correspondence from Rep. Fessler re HB4244 which would defer implementation of equalization by class until 1982.

Correspondence from Senator Geake re our resolutions concerning HB4044.

Letter from City of Westland re HB4044.

Letter from US Postal Service advising City of expansion of our existing US Postal Facility in Northville.

Letter advising City of meeting at Schoolcraft College on Feb. 19, 1981. Governor Milliken's tax relief proposal.

Councilman DeRusha would attend.

1. Communication from Mayor McNamara, City of Livonia, re water rate suit.

2. Notification of Wayne County DPW Advisory Council Meeting on Feb. 19.

3. Letter re establishing a Hines Park Task Force.

MISCELLANEOUS Communication from Chief Cannon re parking at Allen Terrace.

ALLEN TERRACE DRIVE PARKING Mayor Vernon commented that Council should get a recommendation from the Police Department.

The City Manager suggested a sign on the hill of the Allen Terrace drive stating no parking.

CETA ALLOCATION TO THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT COUNCIL OF WESTERN WAYNE COMMUNICATION FROM THE City Manager re CETA fund of Title VI funds which explained that we have not succeeded in obtaining any potential applicants through the Wayne CETA central intake office to fill positions. This has resulted in our not spending any of the 1980-81 CETA funds to date. An additional problem with federal cut-backs is causing some local units to withdraw from the program. It was recommended that the City of Northville agree to request Wayne

CETA to transfer our CETA Title VI funds in the amount of $11,850.00 to the Local Government Council of Western Wayne, for use in the Displaced Homemakers' grant project which is being implemented as of April 1st.

Motion by Councilman Gardner supported by Councilwoman Ayers that Title VI CETA funds be allocated to the Local Government Council of Western Wayne in the amount of $11,850.00 for the Displaced Persons' Program.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

S MAIN STREET PAVING A meeting was held on Feb. 13, 1981 between the City Attorney, City Engineer, City Manager and representatives of the Wayne County Road Commission to discuss further a joint project to re-surface S. Main.

It was indicated that the City might obtain agreement of the Wayne County Road Commission to participate in the resurfacing of S. Main in the 1982 construction season, if the City proposed doing so on the same basis as was agreed to with the City of Livonia for a Middlebelt widening project.

The terms of the agreement were as follows:

(1) City provides entire funding of construction project, including county engineering and construction inspection costs, upfront.

(2) County repays City for 40% of the construction costs (but not including interest and financing costs) over 5 years beginning with the fifth year after the construction contract is awarded.

(3) County designs, constructs and administers project.

(4) City advances funding to County on a fixed schedule, including a small initial payment upon signing of the agreement.

Discussion on the cost and ways of funding followed.

ROUND TABLE Councilwoman Ayers asked about the lot sale on N. Rogers, the claims reimbursement and the insurance consultant.

The City Attorney stated he had a meeting with the DPW and City Engineer and a letter was sent out to the people involved asking for a verification of their claims.

Councilwoman Ayers noted that Allen Terrace had gone through their waiting list and that ordinance at this time are not interested in moving because they have homes to sell.

Councilman DeRusha mentioned the meeting tomorrow night with the Planning Commission to review the Master Plan.

Mayor Vernon mentioned he had a copy of Dec. 24, 1980 report — An Assessment of 1980 Census Results in 10 Urban Areas.

Meeting adjourned at 12:00 a.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Joan G. McAllister,

NORTHVILLE CITY COUNCIL MINUTES
February 23, 1981

Mayor Pro-Tem Johnston called the meeting to order at 8:00 p.m.

ROLL CALL Present: Ayers, DeRusha, Gardner, Johnston, Absent: Vernon, Late, exc. out of the City on assignment as Mayor.

SELF-SERVICE GAS STATION ORDINANCE The following changes were made in the proposed ordinance:

Sec. 1401 remains the same.

Sec. 1402 becomes Business License Required — no other change.

Sec. 1403 becomes Definitions — no other change.

Sec. 1404 becomes Self-Serve Island Allowance Notice of Attendant-Served Island — no other change.

Sec. 1405 becomes License Required to Establishment of Self-Serve Island — the words "or not" were added under Sec. A 11th line Sec. B, 3rd line, the words "the licensee has complied with" were added.

Sec. 1406 becomes License Revocation — no other change.

Sec. 1407 becomes State Fire Marshall Code Shall be Followed — no other change.

Sec. 1408 becomes Self-Serve Plan Approval Required — The last sentence was added.

Sec. 1409 becomes Gasoline Stations Allowed in Proper Zoning Districts — no other change.

Sec. 1410 becomes Dispensing of Motor Fuels Warning Notices Required — Completely new.

Sec. 1411 becomes Requirements of All Gasoline Stations — Reference to Canopy was deleted from this Section A and B remain the same, C the words "self-service" were deleted, D the words "during the hours that the station is operating" were added.

Sec. 1412 becomes Requirements for Gasoline Stations With Self-Serve Islands — Sections A and B were added.

Sec. 1413 becomes Hours of Attendant-Served Operation — no other change.

Sec. 1414 becomes Installation of Shut-Off All Dispensing Devices At Remote Control Closes — no other change.

Sec. 1415 becomes Automatic Closing Nozzle Required — no other change.

Sec. 1416 becomes Communication System Required — no other change.

Sec. 1417 becomes Unrestricted View Of All Self-Serve Dispensing Islands — no other change.

Sec. 1418 becomes Repeal of Conflicting Ordinances — no other change.

Sec. 1419 becomes Authority — no other change.

Sec. 1420 becomes Severability — no other change.

Sec. 1421 becomes Violation, Misdemeanor, Penalties — no other change.

Mayor Pro-Tem Johnston stated he had talked with gas station owners and had not made up his mind as to how he would vote.

Councilwoman Ayers commented on the fact that the original ordinance was passed strictly for safety reasons, that this ordinance would not make it any more difficult to operate a full serve station.

Councilman DeRusha commented the City has one limited station, Clark. He suggested that you would find the majority of the people buy gas at a self serve station. He felt, if this were true, people should have the same opportunity in the City.

Councilman Gardner stated he did not see how the new ordinance would close up the full serve stations.

S MAIN STREET PAVING The City Manager discussed the idea that the City do the necessary engineering on the S. Main project rather than face a delay by waiting for the County to proceed. He mentioned the County's involvement with the paving of the roads for the Cadillac-Hamtramack project as a source of delay. He suggested the City propose that it would be a minor variation from what the County would normally do and show the costs and perhaps the County would go along with it. He mentioned that in addition the City could go to the voters for bond issue approval. He noted the school was having an election in April and felt from a cost standpoint, he would encourage them to go with the State election.

Mayor Pro-Tem Johnston felt the sooner they could do it the better. He asked if it would be costly and time consuming from an engineering standpoint.

The City Manager explained what would be involved and stated he thought it would be a pretty straightforward and a routine project.

He stated the election could be scheduled and by the time it came about they would know more the budget issues. He stated it was not to the City's advantage to wait to pave S. Main because of the economy and costs going up.

Councilman DeRusha remarked that if the City goes along with the County's schedule to do the paving next year, it would seem that Council were indifferent.

Councilwoman Ayers asked how the engineering study would be paid for if the County were to do it.

The City Manager explained the County would do it on an hourly cost basis. He thought that quite likely the costs would be lower if we used our own engineering. He stated he felt the County might want their own field inspector however.

He suggested, by the first meeting in March, Council should be able to say when they want to call a special election. He mentioned the need to get a bonding attorney in order to get the ballot wording.

Councilman DeRusha asked if the figures as shown in the City Manager's report would still apply if the City hired an engineer.

The City Manager answered yes. The figures were as follows: Construction $350,000, Engineering, Inspection $70,000, Contingencies $35,000, for a total of $455,000. The City's share (60%) would be $273,000, the County's share (40%) would be $182,000.

The City Manager stated he has discussed this with our engineering firm and they would be agreeable, there would be at least one firm who would be willing to do the work.

Councilman DeRusha commented from what he sees there is no way that Wayne County would do the paving in the next five or ten years.

Mayor Vernon arrived at 9:10 p.m.

Councilwoman Ayers asked if a motion were necessary.

The City Manager stated it was not, this was for discussion tonight and would be discussed further with Wayne County.

1980-81 BUDGET REVISIONS: The City Manager explained he could not find the necessary $23,000 and felt half of the problem could be dealt with by the employees.

Discussion on the budget cuts and alternatives were discussed.

Mayor Vernon instructed the City Manager to make the initial contact with the employees and if a discussion were needed a meeting with the negotiation committee could be held.

Councilman Johnston left the meeting at 9:30 p.m.

PROPERTY TAX EQUALIZATION The City Manager stated the Board of Review was meeting with the Wayne and Oakland County equalization people. He suggested they could take formal action on Monday, the next regular meeting, such as legal formal objection to the factor. He explained the alternatives they could follow.

Councilman DeRusha commented on the meeting he attended last Thursday at Schoolcraft College called by the legislators to discuss the Governor's tax proposal. He agreed the average taxpayer is looking for relief from his tax bill. He felt they should reduce the 50% state requirement as the basis for assessing to 45%. He thought that was the place to start.

Discussion on the Governor's tax proposal followed.

Mayor Vernon commented he will write a letter to John Patriarche, Director of the MML, imploring him to establish a blue ribbon committee and explore our resolution. He stated he attended a similar meeting at Schoolcraft.

Meeting adjourned at 10:00 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,
Joan G. McAllister,

Thinking Day

Program unites scouts

Northville Girl Scouts celebrated Thinking Day February 19 in an evening of international fashions, skits, songs and dances.

The festivities, held in the Northville High School Auditorium, began with a flag ceremony with representatives from all troops participating.

Junior Troop 379 and Brownie Troop 220 from Amerman Elementary presented a skit from Kenya, Africa, taught to them by Mary Jane Sousy. Sousy had been a Girl Guide leader in Kenya.

Following the Kenya presentation, Brownie Troop 220 led the audience in a Thinking Day song brought back from the Girl Scout World Headquarters in London, England.

A Scottish Folk Song was sung by Junior Troop 234 and Brownie Troop 643 from Amerman under the direction of Betty Cowie, a former Girl Guide in Scotland.

Moraine Brownie Troops 116 and 644, along with Junior Troops 331 and 573 presented a Mexican song and gave the Girl Scout motto "Siempre Lista" in Spanish.

Brownie Troops 473 and 474 from the Silver Springs sang a French song, while Silver Springs Junior Troop 737 presented a song and dance routine from Peru, taught to them by Barbara Ibach. For the presentation, the girls dressed in the native costumes of Peru.

Winchester Brownie Troops 336, 710 and 715 sang a song from the Canadian Girl Guides, taught to them by former Canadian Girl Guide Ann Durocher.

Brownie Troops 204 and 621 and Junior Troop 702 from Our Lady of Victory represented the United States with a Thinking Day cheer and skits.

The VFW then presented an American flag to Judy Parker, chairman of the Plymouth-Northville-Canton Area Association.

The program closed with all the girls singing "Girl Scouts Together" and taps.

Girls from Amerman Junior Troop 530 served as ushers. Girls accompanying songs throughout the program were Beth Brugeman, Leanne Cote, Sunny Diehl and Kathy Best.

Guests included Girl Scout mothers, June Clinton, field director of Huron Valley Council; Ken Brown, community organizer at Huron Valley Council; Judy Parker, area association chairman; and Peg Hoag, president of the VFW Ladies Auxiliary.

Dr. John Romanik serves Reyes panel moderator

Dr. John H. Romanik, a Northville resident of 2000 Beck, of the department of pediatrics at Providence Hospital's Novi Ambulatory Care Center, will serve as panel moderator for a panel discussion on signs and symptoms of Reyes' Syndrome.

It is to be held from 7-9 p.m. March 11 in the Puert Room at the Novi Public Library on Ten Mile.

Other panel members include Dr. A.A. Sarnaik, director of the intensive care unit at Children's Hospital of Michigan, and two sets of parents — one that lost a child to Reyes' and the other that had a child recover.

"We want parents to learn how to recognize early signs of Reyes' Syndrome in order to act promptly," explains Rita Kaminski-Godfrey of the Providence community health education department.

Dr. Sarnaik will discuss signs and symptoms while parents will share their own personal experiences. A question and answer period will follow.

The disease is a non-communicable one which attacks generally healthy children 18 years old and younger. While the cause is unknown, it usually follows a viral illness such as flu or chicken pox.

A $2 donation per person or family will go to the Reyes' Syndrome Study Center at Children's Hospital of Michigan. For additional information call 424-3068.

Foot surgeon attends conference

Dr. Robert A. Yagobian, a podiatric surgeon with offices in the Northville Family Medical Center Building, a new facility located in front of Highland Lakes Shopping Center, has returned from a two-day conference in Washington, D.C., which dealt with important health care issues.

The top level conference, convened by the Academy of Ambulatory Foot Surgery, covered such issues as the cost containment of health care, especially methods for allowing surgery to be successfully undertaken without the cost of hospitalization.

The Academy of Ambulatory Foot Surgery, an affiliate of the American Podiatry Association, is a leading organization in the trend for office-based surgery.

Recently, the Blue Cross and Blue Shield associations called for a dramatic increase in the use of "same day surgery" for many procedures, citing the figure of $30 billion that Americans are now spending for hospital surgery each year.

Dr. Yagobian, as a member of the board of trustees of the Academy of Ambulatory Foot Surgery, has been a leader in developing same day surgery systems.

Our opinions

It's water over the dam

Announcement by Burroughs Corporation, a major employer of Northville residents, that it will eventually close its Plymouth plant is another blow to our community, coming on the heels of Ford Motor's planned closing this year of its Northville plant.

Coincidentally, it was 25 years ago that The Record carried a story that announced Burroughs would build a major addition to its Plymouth plant. What's more, it was exactly a quarter century ago that Ford Motor began excavating for its major addition to the valve plant here.

Few would have dreamed in 1956 that these two industrial giants would be brought to their knees within the next 25 years. But few would have dreamed that some of the other changes would occur here in those intervening years between 1956 and 1981.

For those of you who were living in Northville 25 years ago some of the events of 1956 have been forgotten, some may seem like they occurred "just yesterday," and still others may surprise you. For them and the "newcomers" we offer this sampling of what made news here a quarter century ago.

MOTHERS, who were understandably frightened each time a child complained of an ache, mounted a major campaign to raise funds to combat polio. A polio vaccine was introduced a year earlier but its effectiveness was still questionable.

CONTROVERSY flared with rezoning of St. Lawrence property southwest of Seven Mile and Sheldon to accommodate the construction of "winter barns" for Northville Downs. The barns were built, but except for the horses which periodically share the intersection with motorists most residents probably have never seen these barns, which are hidden behind the hills. If you can't get a Downs's pass to visit them, your best view is from Rural Hill Cemetery.

C&O RAILROAD sped construction of a new line to serve what was to become the largest industry of the area — the Lincoln Plant in Wixom, then under construction. Not only did Ford give birth to this giant factory, it spawned the City of Wixom, which at that time was still part of Novi, and it was the impetus for the incorporation of Novi as well.

IN THE TALKING STAGE was a proposal to establish a gigantic housing development for mentally retarded on the property of the thriving Wayne County Child Development at Five Mile and Sheldon. Ironically, the development, Plymouth Center for Human Development, eventually became a reality while the child development center itself was closed. Today, the "talking stage" includes turning the closed facility into a senior citizens housing development, the phasing out of the Plymouth Center, and the construction of a new state prison on what once was farmland of the child development center.

TWO NEW housing developments were announced in Novi, one to be called Northville Estates (now part of the City of Northville) and the other named Connemara Hills. Incidentally, back in 1956 the land north of Base Line was still part of Novi — including what now is the Northville High School-water tower hill and the subdivision where the Northville mayor and city manager live. The land's annexation to Northville, putting nearly half the city's territory in two counties, provided some of the hottest controversies in the past 25 years.

FINANCIAL RECORDS fell, as the city approved the community's largest budget ever — $275,560, the township overall winter tax roll hit $232,000, a four-mill increase for schools was improved so teachers' salaries could be increased to an average of $4,200 per year, and the township increased its millage to two mills to cover a budget which wasn't submitted because the supervisor was "out of town." By contrast, the city's 1980 81 general fund budget is $2,118,932, the township 1980 winter tax roll approximates $7,795,000, and the average BA teacher salary is $18,625 today.

CONSTRUCTION of the new Farmington-Brighton expressway was underway in Novi. Called US-16, it eventually would be extended from Detroit to Holland and be called I-96.

NORTHVILLE'S FIRST city manager, John C. Robertson, was named. In the next 25 years fewer than a half dozen other managers would serve Northville, which became a city in 1955. Until then, a village, it was technically a portion of Northville Township. Can you remember the names of the other city managers?

FINANCING for the construction of a new high school was approved by voters, thus setting the stage for the eventual move of high schoolers from the building on Main Street to the new facility in the gravel pit area near Base Line and Center. The Eight Mile bypass was not yet constructed, and the main route between Northville and Novi was Base Line and along what now is the "dead-end" old Novi Road. Those traveling east and west through the city used Base Line and Randolph streets.

And for those of you who like to punish yourself: chuck roast was 33-cents a pound; pies were 39 cents each; two heads of lettuce cost 29 cents; top quality shoes were $10.95; and a two-year-old, brick house with three bedrooms, hardwood floors and carpeting sold for $15,800.

A lot of water has spilled over the Ford dam in the past 25 years, hasn't it?

Photographer

STEVE FECHT

Staff photographers often are a newspaper's best public relations people. With cameras clicking, they're highly identifiable as they report visually what's happening in the community in sports, social events, government — and catastrophes. Steven Michael Fecht at six-foot-three and weighing 200 pounds is hard to miss. It's his natural friendliness, however, that has made him popular with fellow staffers and those he meets on the varied beats.

On April 11, 1980, Steve came to work for Sliger Home Newspapers (photographers work area beats, covering events for other papers in the organization as well as for The Record), taking the place of David Turnley as he left for The Detroit Free Press. Steve actually received his BS degree later in August from Central Michigan University where he majored in journalism with a specialty in photojournalism and with "emphasis areas" in math, chemistry and business. As a photographer for the college newspaper he says he "covered everything on campus and in Mount Pleasant."

A member of the national and Michigan press photographer associations, Steve currently is on the ballot for a trustee position in the Michigan Press Photographers Association. He is a charter member of the newly founded Detroit Metro News Photographers Association.

Camera ready, Steve's at work shooting gymnastics

Steve is a native of Westland where his parents and younger sister Sue still live. Steve, Gary Caskey (a photographer for the Plymouth-Canton Observer papers) and Tony Pizii share a house in Plymouth Township.

Steve interned and worked temporarily for the Observer & Eccentric newspapers. He also was a stringer for the Saginaw News and Mount Pleasant Buyer's Guide.

"I thoroughly enjoy photojournalism because I see it as a way for me to communicate visually to others, things that I see and feel, but could not possibly put into words ... and because every day seems different from the last. There are always new people and new faces everywhere I go," explains Steve, adding, "I guess I've always been a 'people' person and my job gives me a chance to get out to where those people are and record moments of their lives which, hopefully, they will always be able to look back upon."

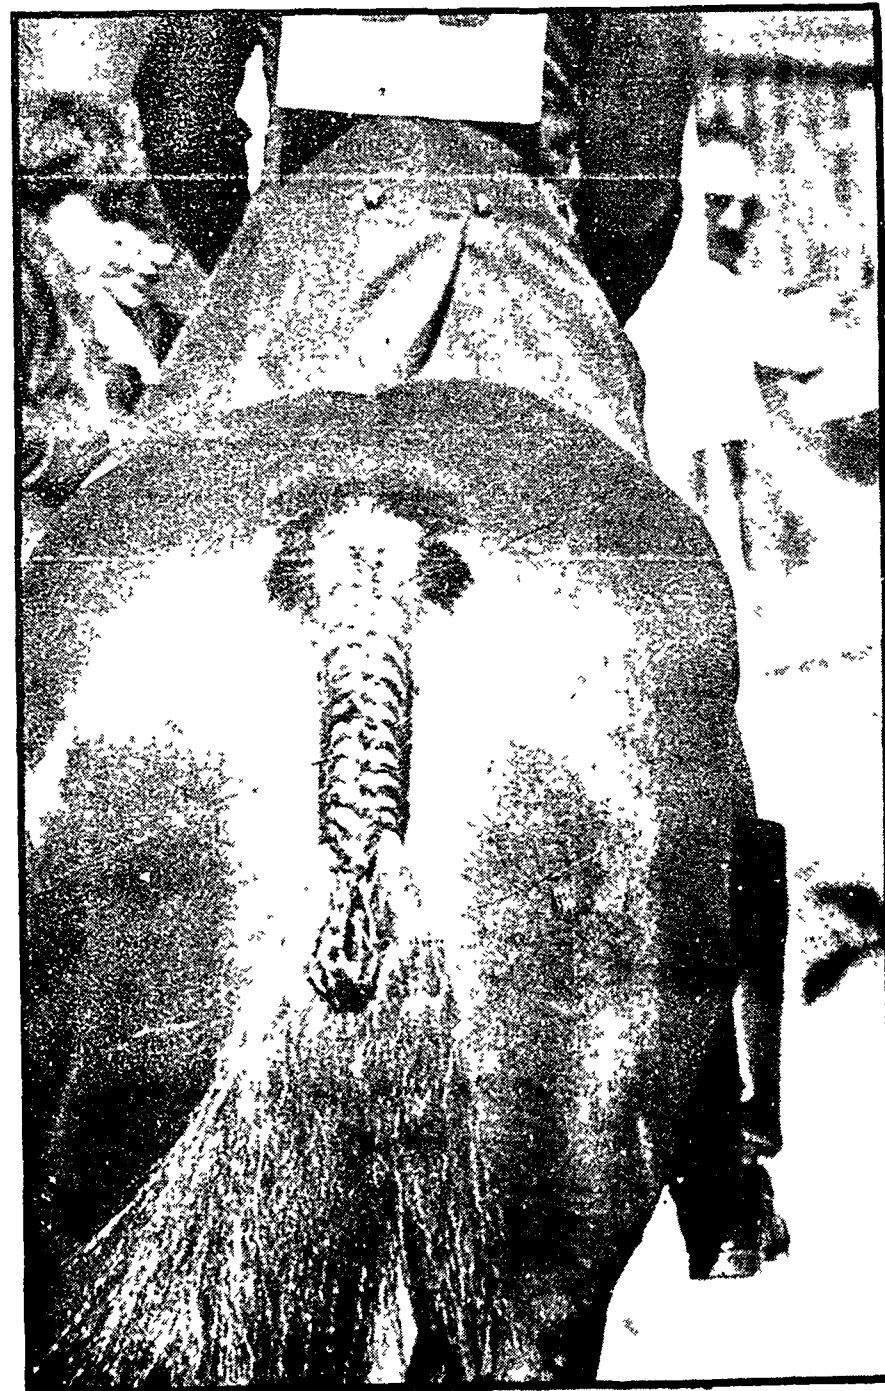

When he's not taking pictures Steve says he usually can be found on a racquetball court or at home playing the guitar. He admits to enjoying all sports and "reading when I have time."

Record readers have seen some of Steve's talented work in photo stories that are photographed, composed and laid out by the photographers.

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

If you're enroute to appeal your 1981 property assessments you'd better go prepared with some documents to prove your case — that's the word from the county assessing departments of Oakland and Wayne counties.

More specifically, county officials say boards of review should be given some sale prices of comparable properties in the same general area. County officials have made it clear to local boards that reductions they make based on fewer than two or three such sales are not likely to be approved by the county.

A single sale, they pointed out, could be a "family" sale between a father and a son, for example. Such a sale would not necessarily represent the market value of the property.

If the county believes the local board of review has granted an "unwarranted" reduction, it can refuse to accept it. If too many such reductions occur, the county can order an equalization factor increase yet this year. All factors publicized to date are still "tentative" and subject to change.

In other words, what the local review board grants the county may take away.

Concerning equalization factors, it was pointed out that boards of review can consider equalization factors in reviewing assessment protests. For example, even though a property may be underassessed, if the equalization factor boosts it above the constitutional 50 percent level the owner may lawfully argue this point and local boards must consider it. Boards are not restricted to consideration of the assessment; they also must consider the impact of the equalization factor.

Another point stressed this past week is that contrary to a widely held belief land contract sale prices are not off limits to assessing officials. While it may be true that the sales price of a property may be omitted from papers filed at the county level, under the law assessing officials can demand the sale price. Some property owners use the land contract procedure to "hide" sale prices to avoid tax increases.

Tax law designed to correct assessment inequities

To the Editor:

Your analysis of the equalization by class law is all out of whack. The law was designed to correct inequities among classes of property equally, not just to "correct an inequity in some communities where residential land was underassessed while commercial and industrial land was overassessed." (Northville Record, February 25, 1981, Page 1).

Indeed, Steve Walters has already proven that commercial property in Northville City was underassessed, when compared with residential property in the city. Fairness would require the commercial property to have an increased multiplier applied under the new law. Instead, figures released by the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation indicate the multiplier factor for the city of Northville commercial property will be only 1.2544, while the residential multiplier will be 2.2392. Therefore, this decision (by the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation) is the exact opposite of the original intention of the law.

Furthermore, an examination of commercial and residential multipliers, in all of the cities and townships of Wayne County, reveals that an overwhelming majority have a significantly higher residential multiplier applied, while the commercial multiplier is significantly lower. Northville Township is typical in that we have a multiplier of 2.6428 applied to residential, while commercial only has a factor of 1.8485.

In California, during the three years preceding Proposition 13, residential property tax assessments increased by 110 percent. In contrast, valuations on commercial and business property increased by only 26 percent for the same period.

Draw your own conclusions.

Clothes and furniture needed for hospital

To the Editor:

With Mr. Stockman on President Reagan's staff everyone is feeling the pinch. Will it ever end?

I have had several requests for clothing. These are not welfare cases, but the money doesn't stretch for luxuries like clothing.

New baby clothes for a soon-to-be born beautiful little girl. Three size nine winter and spring car coats. Men's shirts, neck sizes 14 and 15½.

A dining room table and four chairs. A small kitchen table and two chairs.

Yesterday, I went out for the first time in months. (My wallpaper was getting to me). With the help of a very kind friend, our mailman George, I got to visit a good friend who has a broken leg. The trip back home was much easier. My friend's husband and son took me home.

With the help of the Veterans' Administration in Ann Arbor I will relearn to walk again. They are providing a physical therapist. Great people out there.

Many thanks for caring for these people's needs. What is not needed will be sent to the patients at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital. Please leave your donations on the porch of 605 Grace.

Any furniture you may want to donate will be picked up.

Many thanks again.

Thanks for help on MD fundraiser

To the Editor:

The Northville-Novi Muscular Dystrophy Committee would like to take this opportunity to thank you for publicizing our dance marathon. This helped make this event a success.

Also, we would like to inform you that we raised well over $10,000.

Again, thank you.

News from Lansing

By R. ROBERT GEAKE
State Senator

By R. ROBERT GEAKE

It wasn't really all that long ago, historically speaking, that the 26th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution was adopted, giving 18 year olds across the nation the right to vote.

The 1971 enactment of that right superseded our state constitution's requirement that Michigan electors be at least 21 years of age.

Senate Joint Resolution C, passed by the senate this week, seeks to amend our state constitution so that all persons eligible to vote be also eligible to hold the office of state senator or representative. As presently written, the constitution retains the 21 years age requirement for those offices.

Continuing to deny access to the office of state legislator is a partial disenfranchisement, according to the judiciary committee which recommended passage. Most committee members feel the right to vote granted by the U.S. Constitution is not completely fulfilled in Michigan if the right to this representation is denied.

If the house concurs in passing Joint Resolution C, the issue will be placed on the ballot, probably during the next general election in 1982 as constitutional changes require direct approval by the people.

The Michigan electorate, even after 1971 when the 18 through 20 year old age group was given voting privileges, has not demonstrated a will to see 18 year olds regarded as adults. Even their right to vote did not come through a consensus of Michigan voters, but rather through adoption of the U.S. 26th Amendment. That amendment was ratified, ironically, only one year after Michigan voters defeated a statewide ballot proposal on the issue.

Yet this age group is considered adult under Michigan law in trial proceedings and in sentencing when a crime is committed. Our young men must also register for Selective Service, as the national law requires, upon reaching age 18. Many citizens in this age group also are paying state taxes.

Allowing these young voters the right to be represented in their age group in the state legislature will not automatically produce a youthful look to the senate or house the following election. Those who run for office, regardless of age, must win the approval of a majority of the voters in their districts. All candidates, inevitably, must stand the test of election.

I support a change in our state constitution to remove this partial disenfranchisement of 18 through 20 year old electors.

Highland Pointe site approved by planners be handled during engineering review, township engineer Edward McNeely said. Among these is a water distribution system the engineer said might be prone to freezing or disruption.

"Basically, water is run through a single meter to each cluster of townhouses. After going through the meter it enters a distribution manifold which deliver to the individual dwellings," McNeely said. "I am not entirely sure I approve of this system. If, upon review of engineering plans, the...system is not allowed, the conventional 'individual service per dwelling unit' distribution system can be accomplished with minor modifications to the water main layout."

The final site plan clears the way for an application for building permits. For residential developments, approval of the board of trustees also is needed.

Pursell opposes imports

Against a backdrop of possibly favorable administration sentiment on auto import restrictions, Michigan Congressman Carl Pursell has introduced a proposal urging a limitation on Japanese imports.

Pursell's plan is the same one approved by the House Foreign Affairs Committee late last year. It calls for a negotiated, voluntary agreement to limit imports from Japan. The Pursell resolution also seeks fairness from the Japanese on export subsidies and trade barriers.

for American products in the Japanese market.

"The comments of Transportation Secretary Drew Lewis in Detroit give me some hope that the Reagan Administration will be more receptive to this type of proposal than was the Carter Administration. I certainly agree with Secretary Lewis that 'the present level of Japanese imports is unacceptable' and appreciate his stated willingness to consider recommending limitations," Pursell said.

"I believe a temporary restriction on Japanese imports is a legitimate goal, considering the epidemic unemployment and financial losses in our domestic auto industry. In the interest of long-term trading relationships, a mutually agreed limitation would be much better than one imposed unilaterally by our government.

"With over one-quarter million American auto workers laid off, and with Japanese imports at unprecedented levels, urgent action to reach an agreement is necessary. This can be an important part of the administration's economic recovery program.

OLV welcomes visiting team

Our Lady of Victory Parish will welcome the LaSalette Renewal Team from Ipswich, Massachusetts on Saturday.

The team includes Fathers Ron Gagne, Kevin Gunning and Jim McGlone and Mrs. Joanne Manfra and William Hale.

The renewal will begin with a community-building exercise from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday for the parish council, commission members and the pastoral team.

The visiting priests will speak at all masses both weekends.

William Hale will discuss "Getting Out of the Middle: Establishing Time Priorities in Our Day-to-Day Life" at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the OLV

Social Hall.

From Monday to Thursday, morning mass will be at 9:15 p.m. The morning talks will be from 10 to 11:30 a.m. and afternoon sessions will run 1-2:30 p.m.

Mass will be held at 7:30 p.m. each evening and 8:30-10 p.m. there will be four different lectures offered by LaSalette team members.

On March 13, mass will be held at 9:15 a.m. followed by morning and afternoon discussion sessions. There will be a parish-wide potluck that evening.

The community building exercise will be repeated from 9 a.m. to noon March 14 for all parishioners.

A special session for all high school students will be held from 7-10 p.m. March 9 in the OLV Social Hall.

Topics to be covered during the week include:

Monday — "Establishing Money Priorities as a Christian Today; Jesus was a Single Adult; Self-Love as a meaning of finding God and as a basis for all loves; and Whatever Happened to Ecumenism?"

Tuesday — "Lay Ministry: The Work of Evangelism; Self Acceptance and Sexual Feelings; What the Church Overlooked; Family Prayer.

For additional information call the OLV Parish Office at 349-2621, from 9 a.m. to noon or 1-5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

"I'll be honest, I don't like to think about my own death or that of somebody I love but one day, I was looking at my will and it occurred to me, what will my family do if I die? And I thought, the first thing they'll want to do is plan a funeral and hey, we haven't ever even talked about one!

"So we discussed it and figured it's gonna be important one day, so why not get what I want and the family wants down on paper. Now I know there won't be any confusion over what 'Daddy' would've wanted. Actually, I'm surprised I didn't think of it before..."

Founders' Day planners

With the PTA Founders' Day Dinner only weeks away, PTA committee members have been busy planning menus, booking the entertainment and organizing seating arrangements. The dinner, to be held at 6:30 p.m. March 26 in the Northville High School cafeteria, is sure to be one of the most successful PTA events of the year. Members are stressing that it is both a school and community event and urge residents to make reservations now by calling 348-1586 or 348-9077. Tickets are $9 per person. Looking over the final program for the event are (from left to right) Sandy McRae, dinner chairman; Cindy La Chance, ticket chairman; Lee Baumann, program chairman and Mary Anne Russell, PTA president.

You can donate at Bloodmobile

With modern medical technology and therapy, a single blood donation can save as many as four lives, according to the American Red Cross.

The Southeastern Michigan Region's blood services are the sole supplier of blood for 75 hospitals in five counties. It must collect between 950 and 1,000 pints of blood each day to supply the patients at those hospitals.

Bloodmobiles and donor centers are in near constant operation to keep up with the demand for blood in hospitals in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw and St. Clair counties.

The Red Cross accepts blood from anyone in good general health between the ages of 17 and 65. Seventeen-year-olds need parental consent. A donation takes less than one hour. Appointments are available at most locations in order to help speed the process.

The Livonia Donor Center in the Belle Creek Office Plaza, 29691 West Six Mile, Suite 100 C, is open Monday, Wednesday and Thursday from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m.; Tuesdays and Fridays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Appointments can be had by calling 422-2787.

March bloodmobile locations and hours are:

- Thursday, March 12 at Motor City Eagles Lodge, 24401 Five Mile, Redford, from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. For an appointment, call 531-7393 during blood drive hours.
- Sunday, March 15, at Newburgh Methodist Church, 36500 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Two enter pageant

Two area residents — Lori Young, 20, and Kathy Whalen, 19 — were among participants in the Miss Michigan-U.S.A. competition last weekend in Allen Park.

The final pageant was March 1, following swim suit and evening dress competitions.

Lori's parents, Donald and Wilma Young of Nine Mile Road, report that she decided to enter at the suggestion of Austin School of Modeling which she attends.

It was the first competition the 1979 graduate of Northville High School had ever entered, her mother reports, saying the girls felt it was a good experience even though they were not winners.

'Oklahoma' cast selling tickets

Cast members, who are busy rehearsing the Northville High School spring musical "Oklahoma," also are ticket sellers.

They now have tickets on advance sale for the performances at 8 p.m. April 3-4, 10-11. Prices are $3.50 for students and $4 for adults.

BRIGHTON — Claiming the county did not follow the proper guidelines, the state has told the county it must raise 1981 residential and agricultural property assessments higher than it already has.

BRIGHTON — Meijer has gotten the nod of approval from the City of Brighton, and construction of the Thrifty Acres store on Grand River Avenue is expected to proceed full speed ahead.

HOWELL — A former deputy treasurer made almost $10,000 in overtime pay last year, despite a county policy prohibiting such payment to managerial employees, county commissioners have learned.

PINCKNEY — Livingston County Prosecutor Frank Del Vero has cleared Putnam Township Trustee Murray Kennedy of charges of election irregularities leveled by one of Kennedy's opponents in the November 4 election.

HOWELL — City council went on record loud and clear last week in strong opposition of a U.S. Postal Service proposal to locate a new post office on West Grand River Avenue next to the Howell firehall, far removed from the downtown area.

MILFORD — A storm of complaints by Milford area residents sparked an organized effort in West Oakland to demand property tax reform at the state capitol.

MILFORD — The village's consulting engineer said the village intends to renovate a dam on the Huron River using turbines and generators to supply power to the Milford's waste plant after the plant is expanded.

NOVI — Plans for the residential development of an 89-acre parcel on the northeast corner of Ten Mile and Beck will be reviewed by the planning commission tonight.

NOVI — A proposed "aesthetics ordinance" which would give the city council special powers over developments in the Planned Development (PD) District has been sent back for further revision by the Novi Planning board.

SOUTH LYON — An Oakland County Circuit Court judge has ordered that some of the charges contained in recall petitions be dropped because they are too vague. Recall of four board members was launched in the wake of the firing of the school superintendent.

Seniors may get help with repairs

Senior citizens living in Western Wayne County south of Eight Mile in both the city and township of Northville may be eligible to receive help for minor home repairs.

The City of Livonia, department of community resources, has received a grant from the area agency on aging, I-C, to provide home repairs for senior citizens living in Western Wayne County.

The area served includes all communities north of Van Born Road and south of Eight Mile.

Type of repairs done by the program include such work that would prevent or remedy a sub-standard condition in a senior citizen's home that threatens his health, safety and-or welfare.

Priority is given to those seniors who are handicapped and-or of low income. All repairs are done at no charge to the clients. However, if they choose, they may make a donation to the program.

Pat Clark, 522-2710, may be called for information.

He's accepted for AF Academy

Phillip J. Beaudoin of Northville has been appointed to the United States Air Force Academy, Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Birmingham) announced last week.

Beaudoin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Beaudoin of 44119 Brookwood Drive. He will graduate from Catholic Central High School in June, after which he will enter the United States Air Force Academy in Colorado as a member of the class of 1985.

Broomfield said there are still other local nominees in contention for possible appointments.

Norma Vernon finds antique hair decorations are a brush with the past

BY MICHELE McELMURRY

If one were to draw a composite of the American woman at the turn of the century, she would most likely be wearing a shirtwaist, highbutton shoes, kid gloves and a large, brimmed hat resting upon a mass of perfectly coiled hair.

Years ago, a woman's hair was regarded as one of her most attractive features — along with an 18-inch waist and a freckle-free complexion.

So appealing were these dangling locks that even Henry Wadsworth Longfellow wrote that — "Not ten yoke of oxen, have the power to draw us, like a woman's hair."

However, taking care of these precious manes wasn't always an easy feat. Women seldom — if ever — cut their hair and 19th century curling irons were a far cry from today's 1200 watt blow dryers.

Throughout the years and up until the Jazz Age — when daring "flappers" sheared their tresses in favor of the "bobbed" style — women used an assortment of pins, clips, barrettes and anything else which could hold up chignons, Pompadours and Gibson Girl hairstyles.

Yet, what proved to be one of the most functional — and later ornamental hair tools — was the comb.

Hair combs, whether fancy and decorative or simple and functional, are once again becoming popular and many people are discovering that these antique hair ornaments are highly collectible items.

One individual who has been an avid comb collector for more than 12 years is Norma Vernon, wife of Northville Mayor Paul Vernon.

Mrs. Vernon, who said she began her collection because of her "love for fixing hair," has a variety of more than 125 combs in all shapes, sizes and designs.

Displayed in velvet-backed frames in the Vernons' home on Allen Drive, it's easy to see why these hair decorations are fast becoming a collector's item.

The combs range in size from about two to six inches across and contain from two to a dozen teeth — with some teeth three or more inches long.

Many are carved with intricate designs or embellished with brilliant and some have gilt gold inlays.

Mrs. Vernon explained that most of her comb collection is the product of the Victorian, Edwardian and art nouveau periods when fancy combs were at their peak in popularity.

Most collectible combs are dated from 1820-1920 — few earlier ones survive outside of museum collections.

Mrs. Vernon explained that beginning her collection was simple and that her first two combs were given to her by her great-aunt Irene Conant, who is now 92-years-old.

During the early 1900's, using combs as hair ornaments was a custom reserved to women older than 16.

A young woman's 16th birthday was often regarded as her coming of age and at that time she was allowed to discard her ribbons and pigtales and wear her hair up with combs.

Mrs. Vernon said she began her collection before the comb craze caught on and that many of her combs were purchased for as little as 50 cents.

However, with the resurgence in comb collecting over the past few years, the cost now ranges from an average of $15 to $30 a piece.

Mrs. Vernon said she has found most of her collection pieces by scouring antique shops and shows, as well as flea markets and auctions.

"They are really becoming hard to find," she remarked.

Being the mayor's wife and keeping active in a host of committees and organizations has left Mrs. Vernon with little time for her hobby.

Though she mentioned that she no longer actively looks for additions to her collection, friends and family members continue to find unusual pieces for her.

On a trip to New Orleans, her husband Paul brought back two elaborate combs which Mrs. Vernon described as "among her favorites."

Other combs have come from Pennsylvania, Hawaii, Texas, France and a score of other places.

The origin of many combs can be distinguished by their design, style and Scorched and singed hair was a very frequent sight, Mrs. Vernon commented.

Though early hairpins are becoming collectible items, combs still remain more highly prized.

Though combs are rarely dated or bear any markings, Mrs. Vernon said it isn't too difficult to distinguish the difference between an antique and contemporary comb.

She said the "quality of workmanship" usually distinguishes the new from the old, but added that she has not found a book on the subject in her more than 12 years of collecting.

Many of the combs in Mrs. Vernon's collection appear to be in perfect of near-perfect condition. She mentioned that such perfect antique combs are the type of material used.

Earlier combs were made of tortoise shell, bone, sterling, gold and silver. However, after 1900 and as the industrial age came into full swing, many imitation materials such as Celluloid were used.

As combs became more popular and the Gibson Girl and Pompadour hairstyles became the "rage," factories began producing combs for the masses.

In addition to combs, women also could purchase hairpins by the box.

Along with her comb collection, Mrs. Vernon has a set of hairpins made of bone and wood — which sold for five cents a dozen, and a small collection of early curling irons and moustache combs.

Among the curling irons in her collection is one she used as a girl. Made of metal with a wood handle, the iron was heated over a kerosene lamp and then curled around a lock of hair.

"really quite scarce" because many combs broke after continuous use.

The teeth on many of the combs often were not strong enough to grip tight masses of hair, she explained. However, some combs were hinged, making it easier to insert the comb and more comfortable to wear.

She also said hair would be wrapped around the teeth of the comb to keep it in place.

The interest in combs dwindled as women's hairstyles changed throughout the 1950's and 60's. Creations such as the "poodle" cut, the pixie and the shag did not leave a whole lot of need for hair decorations.

However, as more and more women are growing their hair long again, combs are suddenly back in vogue.

As far as Norma Vernon is concerned, that's good news. She now spends time putting up her granddaughter's hair — the same way she once did her grandmothers.

Town Hall hosts economist

With the country's economy uppermost in the news, Northville Town Hall's third speaker on the 20th season lecture series has proved to be a most timely choice.

Economist and investment counselor Frank Cappiello will be discussing the national economy, inflation, investments and politics at 11 a.m. March 12 at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

A regular panel

member and sometimes host of television's "Wall Street Week," Cappiello is a recognized authority on almost any current economic problem and has commented on taxation, inflation, consumer attitudes, investments, the economics of politics and even sports as big business.

"In the long run politics dictates economics — in the short run it is economics that dictates the kind of politics we have," he observes.

A graduate of Notre Dame (AB degree) and Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration (MBA), Cappiello has lectured extensively on current economics before professional groups, colleges and lay audiences.

In addition, he is a faculty member at Johns Hopkins University in its evening division.

He is president of Monumental Capital Management, Incorporated, which provides investment management services for its subsidiary companies, as well as for outside institutional clients.

It manages $640 million in assets for two sister life insurance subsidiaries of which Cappiello is financial vice president.

Reservations for the celebrity luncheon following the lecture are being taken by Florence Booms, a past Town Hall chairman who is handling the luncheons for Mrs. Frank Shokaluk for this lecture.

Tickets are $8 each and may be reserved by calling Mrs. Booms at 349-0170, or by sending a check and self-addressed stamped envelope now to Northville Town Hall, P.O. Box 93, Northville, 48147. They must be received a week prior to the lecture.

Reception Sunday to open local professor's art show

By JEAN DAY

Long-time Northville resident Wilfred C. Becker, professor of art and history at Wayne State University, has a sabbatical exhibition opening Sunday at Community Arts Gallery, Cass at Kirby, on the WSU campus.

After the opening reception from 3-5 p.m. Sunday at which his "Fabriniques" (pictured) first will be viewed, the exhibit will continue through March 21. Gallery hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. week days, 1-4 p.m. Saturdays.

The "Fabriniques," done during his sabbatical from last January to June, involve a very intricate technique. WSU staffer Leontine K. Cadieux reports that "the backs of the designs are as handsome as the fronts." Becker's technique is considered unique. He says he doesn't believe anyone else in the country is creating quite this way. Becker terms it a very satisfying art form for him and comments that its uniqueness make it "my thing."

Becker, a Northville resident since 1953, has been an active member of the community, serving terms on the Northville school board in the 1960s. He and his wife Audrey, who are parents of four, live at 543 Dubuar. He is a graduate of Redford High School and received his BA and MA degrees from Wayne State University.

Sons are invited with daughters this year

In 1974 Northville Woman's Club changed one of its regular Friday afternoon programs to a Saturday — so that daughters might attend and have tea with their mothers. This has become an annual event, and this year sons as well as daughters are invited in a spirit of equality, reports program chairman of the day Virginia Kaiser.

The young guests will be entertained at 1:30 p.m. this Saturday in the fellowship hall of First Presbyterian Church by the Jan-San puppeteers of Birmingham who will present a hand-puppet show, "The Prince and the Dragon." The producers have been puppet guild members for 15 years and in their program invite their audience to become participants.

Oops — we goofed and got the wrong house

In announcing three of the homes to be open on the 1981 Northville Home Tour September 24 in last week's column, one of the homes was identified incorrectly. Pat Meyers and her husband will be opening their home on Walnut, but they are Mr. and Mrs. John M. Meyers of 146 Walnut, NOT Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Meyers of 145 Walnut, as stated. The families are not related but the name is spelled the same, and both live in red houses located across the street from each other.

The Meyers home that will be on the tour is burgundy with caramel trim at Walnut and East.

Their talents helped 'Call Me Madam'

Three Northville residents participated in a production of the Irving Berlin musical, "Call Me Madam," last weekend at Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church in Livonia. Bill and Caroline Dunphy and Tom Beyersdorf contributed musical and artistic talents.

Artist Caroline Dunphy designed the sets and supervised construction — even painting some herself — and then became a cast member, one of the natives of "Lichtenburg." Her husband had the male lead, the foreign minister who fell in love with Madam Ambassador. Beyersdorf played the French horn in the 20-piece orchestra.

Kathy Danias, Richard Ambler exchange vows

A wedding trip to Hawaii followed the marriage of Kathy Danias and Richard W. Ambler, Jr., on January 24. Father Philemon Karamonas officiated at the 6 p.m. double ring service at St. George Greek Orthodox Church.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Danias of Wyandotte, was given in marriage by her father.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Ambler of 47033 Timberlane.

The bride's gown of candlelight organza featured a fitted bodice with stand-up collar and brief sleeves. Beading adorned the bodice. A matching cap held her triple-tier veil of illusion.

She carried a silk arrangement of stephanotis and roses with calla lilies.

Mrs. Donald Coates was matron of honor for her sister. The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Anthony Danias, the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Robert D. Smeed, and friends of the bride, Sue Schloff, Carol Bush and Peggy Loucks were bridesmaids.

All wore matching gowns in shades of burgundy and pinks and carried silk flower arrangements.

David Marino was best man. Ushers were Anthony Danias, Tony Welsh, Robert Curran, Walter Foraker and Robert Smeed.

The bride is a 1977 graduate of Wyandotte Roosevelt High School and currently is employed as a medical assistant at Blanz Clinie in Wyandotte.

The bridegroom, a 1972 graduate of Northville High School, attended Eastern Michigan University where he was a member of Kappa Phi Alpha fraternity.

He is employed with Exotic Rubber and Plastics Company as a sales team leader.

Antiquing grows into show business for local couple

Just a year ago this month Carol Nordell with her husband Eric carefully transported some primitive furniture from their home at 15746 Bradner to the Northville Antique Show in the community building on Main Street.

They were taking a show booth for the first time.

As "Countryside Antiques," their venture proved to be a success — so much so that 12 months later they have a shop by that name in the Old Village Country Store in the old section of Plymouth and, more amazingly, the Nordells are originating and managing an antique show at the Dearborn Inn adjacent to Greenfield Village-Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

They are putting together a show that is featuring 30 distinguished Midwestern dealers specializing in 18th and 19th century period and country furniture on March 21 and 22.

In conjunction, Carol Nordell reports, they are having three seminars on antiques on the Saturday afternoon, which will be presented by staff members of Greenfield Village-Henry Ford Museum. She admits to adopting the seminar concept of the prestigious Liggett Show in Grosse Pointe.

There also is to be an invitational champagne preview reception from 8-11 p.m. Friday, March 20. It is $20 a couple, $10 a person by reservation only. Mrs. Nordell adds that any local resident interested in receiving a preview invitation is most welcome to call her at 420-3237 to receive one.

"It's a very big commitment," Carol Nordell admits as she confides that they plan to make the show in the area landmark inn a semi-annual one.

"We felt there was a great need for an antique show of this calibre in the Detroit area — one in which the patron can feel confident that he is purchasing guaranteed quality antiques exhibited in conducive surroundings."

The surroundings of Dearborn Inn's Greenfield Room on the main floor indeed are impressive. Mrs. Nordell says

Church Women United set World Day of Prayer

Church Women United in Northville and Novi will sponsor a 10 a.m. service March 6 at Holy Cross Episcopal Church in celebration of World Day of Prayer.

Ann O'Grady, lay chaplain at Henry Ford Hospital, will be the guest speaker at the event.

Women from 150 countries will be celebrating World Day of Prayer Friday as an opportunity to focus concern and prayer for the ecological awareness and action needed to rest world health.

The theme of the service is "The Earth is the Lord's...." and was written by American Indian women of Church Women United from six tribes — Cherokee, Choctaw, Hopi, Seneca, Sioux and Winnebago.

Their service brings out their sensitivity to nature, the earth and its creatures and the rich spiritual heritage of the American Indians.

The service is described as having four main parts: "The Sorrow of the Earth, a remembrance of the pain inflicted upon the earth and her children by exploitation and pollution; The Healing of Earth's Wounds, a call to God to bring healing and transformation; The Offering of Gifts of Self and Substance, a recognition of the critical need for reconciliation of persons with each other, nations with nations, and humanity with the earth's ecosystem; and The New Earth, a statement of Christian hope that a new sense of responsibility and appreciation for the earth and its people is possible."

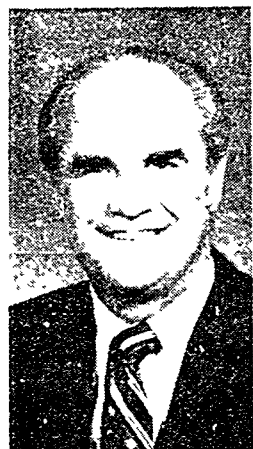

The vocalist for the day will be Joanne Bailey, a member of the Novi Choraleers and Holy Cross Episcopal Church and organist will be Ruth Ann Zimmer of the Novi Methodist Church.

Various women participating in the program are from local Catholic, Methodist, Presbyterian, Lutheran and Episcopal churches.

Church Women United is a national, ecumenical movement of Christian women "witnessing to their unity and faith in Jesus Christ through worship, study, celebration and action."

The Holy Cross Episcopal Church is located on Ten Mile Road in Novi.

REVEREND CHAFFEE

The Reverend Glen A. Chaffee will be holding a series of Sunday evening discussions on the understanding of love beginning at 6 p.m. Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Chaffee, formerly associate professor of psychology at Point Loma College and co-director of the Point Loma Guidance Center in San Diego, California, currently has a private psychology practice in Livonia and Hartland.

He earned his doctor of philosophy degree in counseling psychology from Michigan State University and has had four years of post-doctoral study at Merrill-Palmer Institute in Detroit.

Prior to specializing in clinical and counseling psychology, he served for 15 years in the pastoral ministry.

The Sunday evening series will be held March 8, 15, 22 and 29 from 6 to 7:30 p.m.

The series is free and open to the public. Reservations can be made by calling the church office at 349-0911.

Gospel singers featured in Sunday program

The new Detroit First Church of the Nazarene located on Haggerty just north of Eight Mile will host the Speers — "The First Family of Gospel Music" — at 6:30 p.m. March 8.

The Speers' singing career has lasted 60 years and has spanned three generations. Although their sound is contemporary enough to please the most progressive listener, the group still retains some of the flavor of the old-time gospel singing conventions.

The group has been named to the Gospel Music Hall of Fame and has been twice nominated for the Grammy Award from the National Association of Recording Arts and Sciences for their albums "Cornerstone" and "Interceding."

The group's year-round schedule takes them all over the United States and Canada where they are top attractions at the best of the gospel music gatherings.

For several years, the Speers have received the Gospel Music Association's (GMA) "Dove" award for the best mixed gospel group.

The Reverend James Conner, pastor of Detroit First Church, has extended an open invitation to the community to attend the free concert.

she is as surprised as anyone that the inn previously has not been the location for such a show.

It will be the background for booths at which dealers will be featuring quilts, folk art, early Americana and appropriate accessories.

The three Saturday seminars will begin with "Fact and Fancy: 200 Years of American Quilts" at 1 p.m. with Mary Kay Davis, instructor at Greenfield Village, lecturer and co-author of "Needlepoint from America's Great Quilt Designs."

At 3 p.m. "American Folk Art" will be the topic with J. Jordan Humberstone, appraiser, lecturer, antique consultant and instructor at Greenfield Village.

At 7 p.m. "Introduction to American Furniture" will be presented by Humberstone.

Admission on Saturday and Sunday of the show will be $2 and includes the Saturday seminars. Mrs. Nordell adds that anyone attending the preview is entitled to return without added charge on the following days.

"This show," she states, "is specifically oriented toward the quality-minded collector of fine early antiques; the majority of the antiques to be exhibited are required to be at least 100 years old and are guaranteed authentic."

Exhibitors from Ohio are American Antiques, Columbus; Antiques in a Country Manner, Shaker Heights; Jo Ashby-American Antiques and S & S Americana, both of Dublin; Joan R.

Coulter and Merry Street Antiques, both of Milan; Foot's Antiques, Jeromesville; Nancy K. Johnson, Woodstock; Nancy Peebles, Westlake; Salt Box in Ghent, Akron; Bill and Jane Woodring, Westfield Center.

Michigan shops are Auburn Cottage Antiques, Northville; The Colony Peddlers, East Lansing; the Nordells' Countryside Antiques; Ehrle Bird Antiques, Westland; Galerie de Boicourt, Detroit; Jinny's Antiques, Troy; Mary Magdelene Roberts, Birmingham; Shoppe of Antiquity, Pontiac; Sign of the Windsor Chair, Orchard Lake; Sutton Barn Antiques, Ann Arbor.

Indiana dealers are Carol Bowie, Columbia City, and Maggie Cox, South Bend.

Coming from Hopkinsville, Kentucky, will be James R. Humphries and Ray B. Stump.

Coming from Missouri will be Hope Antiques, Morrison, and Patchwork Antiques, St. Louis. Completing the list are Sugar Creek Antiques of Galena, Illinois, Turkey Tracks of Knoxville, Tennessee, and Tom Rawson of Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Specific, choice items that will be in the show, Carol Nordell mentions, include an 1840 inlaid walnut corner cupboard, an unusual eight-drawer Sheraton chest, a Pennsylvania grain-painted cupboard and many antique quilts, including those collected by Auburn Cottage dealer Margo Mendelssohn of Northville.

The Nordells are calling the show The Olde Inn Antique Show — and they've already reserved November 21-22 at Dearborn Inn for their second one.

Baskets are museum exhibit

Area residents are invited to see a special exhibit on baskets at the Plymouth Historical Museum at 155 South Main in Plymouth on view until April 19.

The collection includes a diaper basket, sewing baskets, a hamper which held feathers, an egg basket, market baskets and Indian baskets. There also is a sweet-grass thimble basket.

Twice a year, the museum staff explains, feathers were collected from the geese and put into the hamper until enough were collected to make a feather ticking.

Egg baskets were used to carry the eggs home from the general store before the days of egg cartons.

Because sewing was done at home and when visiting, the sewing basket was used extensively. It enabled mother to carry her needles, threads and scissors at all times.

Of the many kinds of baskets made, one of the most unusual was the basket that held clean diapers for baby.

The museum is open from 1-4 p.m. Thursday, Saturday and Sunday. Admission is $1 for adults; 50 cents for youths 12-17; and 25 cents for children 5-11.

Special educational tours may be arranged by calling the museum, 455-8940.

Breakfast meet set March 14

Women's Aglow of Plymouth will hold a breakfast at 9 a.m. March 14 at Cyprus Gardens Restaurant.

The speaker will be Mary Titeca and the cost is $4 per person.

Lenten service at St. Paul's

St. Paul's Lutheran Church will hold a series of mid-week Lenten Services entitled "Jerusalem at Passover: A Lenten Tour," beginning at 7:30 p.m. today.

Each Wednesday during Lent, the congregation will be led by a typical travel agency "tour guide" on an imaginary visit to the Holy City in the year A.D. 30.

The "tour guide" will offer historical, cultural and religious commentary on the sights visited.

The itinerary for this tour will include stops at the Temple, the Upper Room, the Garden of Gethsemane, the Palace of the High Priest, Fortress Antonia and Skull Hill.

Selected members of the congregation will provide the "sound effects" such as the voices of Jesus, Judas, Peter, the High Priest, Pontius Pilate, the Centurion, etc.

The service tonight will include the celebration of communion and the choir of St. Paul's will offer special music for each of the Wednesday services.

Also included each week will be a five-minute sermonette by the pastor.

Lithograph prints

John Lennon art lives on here

By ELAINE W. COURT

John Lennon, the long-haired 'kid' from Liverpool, England, did more in his lifetime than break musical and cultural convention with the other three Beatle lads. Music, to be sure, was obviously Lennon's forte, but as his music progressed, his desire to expand and express himself in other art forms also increased.

In the last years of his life, Lennon invested himself heavily in what could be called the 'art of family life'. Tiring of the mundane existence of success, Lennon cast aside the hit songs carved in gold and among other things, set about chiselling his nuptial impressions in stone.

A collection of 12 stone lithographs by Lennon portraying the early years of his marriage to Yoko Ono is currently on display for interested buyers and curious fans at the Wright Gallery, 22910 Pontiac Trail, located in King Plaza, South Lyon.

Reflecting Lennon's infatuation with Ono, the pictures show her in a variety of situations — walking down the street donned in the floppy-hat, short-skirt 'threads' of the time, standing out in a crowd, sketched nude with soft, maternal lines or just sitting in bed.

But one of the most striking prints recalls a scene which infatuated and put a spell on the media for weeks when the couple first married. In this print, for all the world to see, are Lennon and Ono sitting in bed with a 'peace' sign over them with media people crowding around hawking pictures.

Besides the sheer value of the prints to any Beatle memorabilia fan, the lithographs are all individually signed by Lennon himself, an asset which adds legitimacy to the price of the prints — between $1,200 and $1,800 each.

The lithographs at the Wright Gallery are part of Lennon's 'Bag One' collection which made its debut in a Soho art gallery in New York in 1970 shortly after the star's marriage to Ono, said Judy Wright, gallery owner.

Three hundred sets of 14 lithographs were sold as 'Bag Ones' by Cinnamon Press, a New York publishing house, mostly to investors on the east coast, Wright said. Many of these sets will never emerge on the popular market again but will remain submerged in private collections — if not for the aesthetic pleasure they provide, then at least for the collateral, Wright noted.

The Wright Gallery set, owned by a South Lyon resident, is one of the first 100 prints made which puts it on the top of the pile for clear, distinctive lines, Wright said, adding that the higher the number of a particular print, the less clear the lines will be on the individual prints.

Lennon first sketched the pictures on paper, transferring them onto stone plates later. In lithography, the image on the stone plate is treated to retain ink, while the surrounding area is treated to repel it. The stone is then used like a stamp to transfer the image back to paper again. However, after a few hundred printings the stones become worn and less distinct, Wright said.

Once the printing is completed, the stones are smashed, never to be reproduced, creating a demand for the artists work which exceeds the supply and jacks up the price of what is available, Wright explained.

The Wright Gallery is selling 12 of the original 14 since the owner of the prints sold one, while another was stolen, Wright explained. When Bag One first aired in Soho, the show was closed down because of objections that two of the prints are excessively erotic, Wright said. She added that of the 12 prints she has these two are not on display, even though they are still available.

Lennon's pictorial art may not be as innovative as his musical talent, but because there is such a tremendous market for signatures, these lithographs are collectors' items, Wright said.

Included in the Bag One set is a poem created, written and signed by Lennon. Rather than its literary value, it is the combination of these three magical elements which turns the poem into gold for many an investor.

The poem itself is partly a mocking rendition of the inane method of teaching the alphabet in the schools of northern English cities, in this case, Liverpool. With a touch of Liverpudlian sarcasm, the poem starts out "A is for parrot, which we can plainly see. B is for glass which we can plainly see. C is for plastic which we can plainly see" and then with a deliberate twist reverts to the logical and rational — "D is for Doris."

Predictably, the poem defies logic almost all the way through with lines like "Z is for apple, which we can plainly see," and like many of Lennon's songs, includes a fairytale element, this time from Humpty Dumpty. "This is my poem, humble and true, take it to pieces and mend it with glue," he writes.

The show, which has been running since mid-February, will continue through mid-March, Wright said.

Poetry

Let the blessings fall

Let the blessings of God fall
Yes, let them fall upon one and all let there be peace across the land let all men as brothers walk hand in hand let us all understand love and peace
the brotherhood of man
and may there be unity amongst the human race
May God's love radiate from each and every face
May freedom's bells ring aloud across the land
And may there be joy and gladness in the heart of each and every man
So, let the blessings of God fall let them fall upon one and all.

Buddy Dennis

Harmony

Ego, what's that?
Confidence in mind.
The thought to have,
Or stay behind.

Empathy is hard To display when Security is threatened Everyday.

Humbleness,
It's got to be
For those who Have helped constantly.

Security is warm,
The colds coming in.
Begone the storm brewing
The anchors within.

Love and sacrifice,
Have lived for years;
With a bit of happiness
A bit of tears.

Advice, is something That's hard to take
When it's coming
From someone filled
With hate.

Respect is something
That has to be earned,
It comes in life
At every turn.

Selfishness,
Where does it begin,
Here we go back
To the ego again.

The big I
Is frightening
In so many ways.
The we is important
To fill in our days.

Life is a team
Wherever it may be
With each little Molecule in God's Harmony

Advice to Lovers

Ask not a lot of love.
Let it well like water for your roots.
Let it spill like sunshine for your leaves.
Seek it not nor strive to hold it long.
It is the air
you breathe.
You cannot capture it nor keep it prisoner.
It dies like butterflies
are smudged with fingering or hares and hawks who stare and starve
when caged, or wild flowers that wilt the moment
they are plucked.
Do not lock love
from freedom.
Do not grasp it tight to keep it safe.
or you will find a lump of fur, grey feathers,
limp brown stems are all that's left in your sweaty hand.

Mercury's 1982 LN7

Ford's EXP Two-Seater

TWO SLEEK sportcoupe models, featuring fuel efficiency of 46 highway miles per gallon of gasoline, will be introduced this spring by the Ford Motor Company.

Representing the industry's first 1982 models and American's first two-seaters intended for high-volume production, one is Ford's EXP and the other Mercury's LN7.

The front-wheel-drive little cars are designed around similar lines but with distinctive interior and exterior styling.

Built on a 94.2-inch wheelbase with an overall length of 170.3 inches, both offer 37 inches of headroom and 42 inches of legroom. They are powered by 1.6L four cylinder engines.

The EXP and the LN7 go on sale in April.

MICHAEL A. RICKER, gifted young sculptor and designer for Pewter Plus, will be at Twelve Oaks Mall this Saturday and Sunday, March 7-8, in the Centre Court from 1-4 p.m.

Ricker will be giving seminars on the production of his world famous pewter artwork, sculpting and signing pieces, talking about the investment of art collectables, answering questions and presenting the Limited Edition of "Carousel Animal with Child" to be given away at 7 p.m.

To enter the contest, fill out an entry blank at Pewter Plus at Twelve Oaks Mall or at the mall information desk.

Ricker, a maverick with an independent spirit, became self-employed at the age of 20. Since that time, over $30 million worth of Ricker's designs and sculptures have been sold.

His Limited Edition sculptures have become one of the leading collectables in the country today. The main appeal of his work is the execution of his creations. He believes in meticulous attention to overall form, eloquence in details such as hand and bone structure, and a combination of beauty and integrity.

His sculptures are consistently unique, sometimes whimsical, often powerful, but always honest. Ricker's philosophy is to create art which pleases him while offering quality at a moderate price. The success of his sculpting has provided the collector with an enjoyable piece of artwork in addition to a sound investment.

Ricker-Bartlett Casting Studios and its representatives have established a multitude of quality stores to not only distribute Ricker's sculpture, but to provide a service for the collector to re-sell any closed limited edition piece they may have acquired. The nearest store in the Detroit area is Pewter Plus at Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi.

THE WESTERN WAYNE OAKLAND County Board of Realtors (WWOCBR) will hold the next of its series on public home-buying seminars in Southfield.

It is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, March 24, in the gym of the Brace Lederle Community Education Center, 18575 West Nine Mile, just west of the Southfield Freeway overpass.

Registration will be limited to the first 300 callers making reservations through WWOCBR on 478-1700. The seminar is offered with no charge.

Previous seminars in Farmington and Livonia have attracted nearly 1,000 persons from throughout the metropolitan area. Each session features a panel of experts discussing such subjects as home affordability, methods of financing, working with Realtors, the buying process and the lawyer's role.

Each attendee is given a kit of background materials and the session is opened to both written and oral questions.

"These are really educational programs for potential buyers who may move into the market anytime within the next few years," said WWOCBR President Robert D. Shimmin. "Early familiarization with the home buying process in a non-sales setting such as we provide will aid their planning and make them better shoppers when they are ready to make a move."

Shimmin said the main thrust of questions at previous sessions dealt with such areas as new financing options, mortgage qualification guidelines and the establishment of a sound credit record.

Officials interested in sponsoring one of the WWOCBR seminars in their communities should contact the WWOCBR's communication office at board headquarters in Farmington. Facilities to be used should be capable of seating between 200 and 300 people.

WWOCBR has some 400 Realtor offices and covers Northwest Detroit and major portions of Wayne, Oakland and Livingston counties.

TWO NOVI RESIDENTS have been elected officers of Delta Dental Plan of Michigan.

Larry W. Chunovich, an educator with the Southfield Public Schools, was elected secretary. He previously held the position of member-at-large of the executive committee. Chunovich, who is president of the Southfield Education Association, has served on several Michigan Education Association task forces. He is currently a National Education Association delegate.

Robert L. Walker was elected member-at-large of the executive committee. Walker is administrator of Benefit Plans for the General Motors Department of the UAW and is responsible for active employees and retirees. He also is a past president of GM Local 735.

Both Chunovich and Walker were elected for one-year terms. Delta, a nonprofit service organization, administers prepaid dental benefits programs for nearly 1.5 million people in Michigan including the UAW bargaining employees of General Motors and Chrysler.

STARR ADVERTISING of Northville has been assigned the account of Independence Health Plan, Southfield-based health insurance carrier.

"Starr will be responsible for the company's total advertising and promotional efforts," announced Bruce Mullican, president of Independence.

Independence Health Plan, a privately owned, state licensed and federally qualified Health Maintenance Organization, is one of the fastest growing HMO's in Southeastern Michigan. Presently it serves more than 1800 members through 120 employers in the area.

"Starr has been commissioned to begin work immediately to develop a totally new broadcast and print program for the health carrier," states Henry Starr, president of the agency based at 18600 Northville Road.

GUARDIAN INDUSTRIES CORPORATION'S Board of Directors have declared the payment of its regular quarterly dividend of 10 cents per share on April 15, 1981, to stockholders of record March 23, 1981.

The board of directors also authorized a 3-for-2 split of the company's common stock to be effected as a 50 percent stock dividend.

The proposed distribution is subject to stockholders' approval of an amendment to the company's certificate of incorporation which would increase authorized shares from 11 million to 17 million. At year end 1980, 10,168,809 shares of Guardian Industries Corporation common stock were outstanding.

The distribution of the stock dividend will be made July 15, 1981, to stockholders of record June 24, 1981.

DELTA AIR LINES announces this week that local travel agents can help those planning spring vacations to Central Florida participate in a special individual tour basing excursion fare which provides a 50 percent discount from standard tourist class fare levels on flights from Detroit to Orlando.

This special fare is applicable for travel from February 24 through June 18, according to A. J. Moreau, Delta's district director for marketing. He noted that return travel must commence prior to midnight June 18. Southbound is permitted Monday through Thursday, except April 15 and 16, he said, with northbound travel permitted any day except Sunday and April 22, 23 or 28. A minimum stay of five days but not more than 21 is required. The program requires a ground package of hotel, meals, auto rental, etc., of at least $99.

Ask the attorney

By LAWRENCE D. KORN

Q. My husband and I are selling our home and the potential buyers want to assume our mortgage. If we let them assume, will we still be liable for the mortgage payments in the event the purchasers default?

A. When someone assumes your mortgage, the bank is putting a second person on the hook for the payments. Your purchaser will be the first in line for the bank to go after in the event of default. You will be the second in line. The only way you could relieve yourself of the responsibility for payments is to work out a novation with the bank. A novation is a legal word which means that you are relieved from the responsibilities under the contract and the bank is substituting a new individual in your place.

Q. My husband recently had a heart attack. I signed a number of papers to get him admitted into the hospital. One of those papers was a financial responsibility form. After he died, the hospital sent me a bill for over $6,000. My husband had good medical coverage where he works but the insurance company has denied my claim stating that because my husband was over 65, he should have applied for Medicare. Is there anything I can do?

A. First a note of caution to all of our readers. Never, never, never sign a financial responsibility form for anyone but yourself. If you had not signed this form, your husband would have been personally liable for his own medical bills. When he died, the hospital would have to look to his estate to collect.

Generally speaking, most married couples have most of their assets, such as their homes and their bank accounts, jointly held. Therefore, at the instant of death, all of the assets pass to the surviving spouse, by operation of law, and there are no assets left in the probate estate that creditors can go after.

Now that you have the problem, there are two ways of dealing with it: First of all, you can try and compromise the debt with the hospital. By that I mean you can try to negotiate a settlement of the claim for .25 or .50 cents on the dollar. Sometimes, just to avoid the cost of collection and litigation, the hospital will settle.

Another alternative would be to go after the insurance company. If your husband had group life insurance in effect at the time of his death, and he relied on that coverage, and had no notice from the insurance company that his benefits would be offset by medicare (whether he actually signed up or not), the insurance company is liable for the medical bills. When insurance companies balk at bonafide claims, Michigan law provides that the unlucky consumer who has to sue or file a complaint with the insurance commissioner (if successful), can collect 12 percent interest and a 6 percent penalty.

Q. My husband put an ad in a newspaper that states he is no longer responsible for my debts. Can he do this?

A. Michigan courts have held that a husband is responsible for the reasonable necessities of his wife. Therefore your food, shelter and reasonable clothing must still be provided for by your husband. The law applies to the reverse situation where the wife is working and the husband is not. The wife, under these circumstances, would be responsible for the reasonable necessities incurred by the husband.

Girls still do better than boys

By WARREN M. HOYT

The state department of education recently reported Michigan students continue to score higher at all grades in reading tests than in math tests.

Phillip Runkel, superintendent of public instruction, in releasing the results of the 1980-81 assessment tests, noted more than 70 percent of the students in each of the tested grades — four, seven and ten — received satisfactory scores.

The test was revised this year to better reflect what is taught in schools and thus results were not directly compared to results of prior years.

Runkel, however, did declare the Michigan students have made great progress in the basic skills during the past decade.

The best scores in the math test were achieved by fourth graders, with 72 percent of the students getting satisfactory scores.

That level fell sharply to 59 percent in the seventh grade and 58 percent in the 10th grade.

Although fairly consistent at each grade level, reading scores were highest at the seventh grade level, with 77 percent of the students achieving satisfactory scores, compared to 71 percent of the fourth graders and 73 percent of the 10th graders.

A satisfactory score indicates a student achieved at least 75 percent of the test objectives.

Girls continue to do better on the tests than do boys, although the department said the gap is narrowing, compared to tests over the past three years.

The tests also showed the most serious reading problems occurred among both sexes at the fourth grade level, where six percent of the students received less than 25 percent of the objectives.

After years of government growth, government now is sensitive to the needs of business and the creation of jobs, Lieutenant Governor James H. Brickley said at a conference on small business.

Brickley called upon those present to offer their ideas on what can be done to improve the business climate in Michigan and create jobs.

"I do not propose to tell you what I think ought to be done to help business because the purpose of this conference is for you to tell us," he said.

Brickley said the political climate now is receptive to the notion of creating jobs.

He added that to create jobs, government has to be sensitive and receptive to the needs and concerns of those who create jobs.

"The message is now very clear that we can best help the working people by developing a good business climate," Brickley said.

He concluded that "government and business under the right conditions can make rather beautiful music together," and that "government, through its taxing and regulatory powers can stimulate the creation of wealth and can distribute and redistribute the wealth."

Momentary Glory

Listen to the fire
Can you hear the sparks speak?
They hiss and spit at you. Flames dance like angels from Hell.
They burn with desire, reaching higher and higher. They suffocate from their own smoke. Their black eyes glaring and glowing at you from their gray faces.
You can see their lies rise to the heavens. They live only to turn into ashes.

My prayer

That we all might be of one spirit and one mind
Tis is my prayer for all mankind
That we all might walk hand in hand
That we all might understand
Love and peace
The brotherhood of man
I pray that we all might find
The fulfillment of life
That our dreams might unwind
Yes, this is my prayer for all mankind.

Confident cagers conquer Chargers, share W-6 title

By KEN KOVACS

Tim Lutes wiped the sweat from his brow.

The Northville coach had repeated the ritual several times during the game, but now he and his Mustang cagers could enjoy the results of their hard work and bask in the sunshine of glory.

They had just battled to a 55-51 victory over the Chargers of Livonia Churchill (in a rescheduled game Thursday) to boost their league mark to 8-2 and insure themselves of at least a tie for the Western Six Conference championship.

Farmington Harrison got by Waterford Mott 48-43 the following night to push its record to 8-2 and claim a share of the league title.

But to Lutes and his never-say-die bunch, having to share the title did not dim the moment of glory.

"I am really happy to have won it," a more subdued Lutes said later. "The kids really did a good job of regaining the momentum they lost after the loss to Canton.

"We had three must-win games (against Walled Lake Western, Waterford Mott and Churchill) and we had good performances in each."

The Mustangs, now 15-4 overall, had to play the final five minutes against Churchill without the services of 6-foot-7 center Dave Ward who was sidelined with five fouls.

"Without Dave in there Churchill could do just about whatever they wanted offensively," Lutes admitted. "But we kept our momentum going and held on to win."

Northville was up by 13 points (47-34) when Ward was forced to the bench. Churchill took advantage of the situation, scoring several baskets inside, then their guards hit from the outside.

Spikers face Mercy in pre-district

The odds that the Northville High School volleyball team would draw a pre-district game were very slight.

With nine teams competing for eight spots, only two would be required to play a pre-district contest.

But the Mustang spikers, who have not had the best of luck this year, got the draw February 23 and will host Livonia Our Lady of Mercy today at 6 p.m.

Therefore, the Mustangs could be eliminated from a tournament which they are to host — at Schoolcraft College Saturday — before it even gets underway.

But Northville coach Steve McDonald hopes that is not the case.

"If we play our best, we can win on any given day," he said. "I don't know much about Mercy, but if we are on our game, I know we have a good chance to win."

The winner of today's game will take on North Farmington in one of two games at 9 a.m. Saturday at Schoolcraft.

Other teams entered in the Class 'A' volleyball district include Churchill, Bentley, Stevenson and Franklin from Livonia, Southfield and Farmington.

"Whichever teams come out of our district tournament should go far in state competition," McDonald predicted.

The Mustangs wrapped up their regular season last week with a three-match victory over Livonia Ladywood (15-3, 12-15 and 16-14) and a Western Six Conference loss to Churchill (13-15, 15-11 and 8-15).

McDonald praised the play of his entire squad in the win over Ladywood, specifically pointing to the play of Tammy Chew and Lori Mitchell.

"They both played served well and played super defense," the coach praised.

Mitchell had 12 good serves in 13 attempts, while Mitchell served 14 good serves in as many attempts.

McDonald also praised the play of Stacy Hoover, Geri Grzena, Tenley Magdich, Sara Nowka and Sandy and Sharon Knauss.

"The girls played well for not having a lot of game experience," McDonald said. "They played a little sloppy in the third game, however."

In the loss at Churchill, Northville was up 12-8 in the first game before losing.

"We had some problems serving," McDonald said. "We hit them short, long or into the net."

"We were up 13 to 11 and had three bad serves in a row," he continued. "It was simply a lack of concentration."

A bright spot for Northville was co-captain Kim Maguire who was spiking consistently well. The coach also praised the defensive efforts of Grzena.

Following the loss to Churchill the spikers are 4-6 in the Western Six and 8-6 overall. A contest scheduled between Plymouth Canton and Livonia Churchill will determine how the five squads finish.

Overall, McDonald said he was pleased with the season.

"We lost some matches early in the season that I thought we should have won," he said. "But we beat every non-league opponent. I guess it all balanced out."

District 21 basketball semi-finals slated here

District basketball continues tomorrow night at Northville High School.

Crosstown rivals Walled Lake Central and Walled Lake Western will meet for the third time this season at 6 p.m.

Milford will take on the survivor of the Northville-Lakeland contest at 8 p.m.

The two winners will meet for the championship game Saturday at 7 p.m.

Central has been improving steadily the last four or five games, evidenced by its recent 59-58 upset of state-ranked Pontiac Northern.

Meanwhile, the Western Warriors are hoping to pull an upset of their own by knocking off the Vikings. Central has won both previous contests between the two squads, but both coaches agree it is tough to beat any team three consecutive times.

Milford coach Don Palmer got some good news Friday when Rob Sharpe returned to the lineup. The 6-foot-6 center and Milford's "Mister Everything" has been out with mononucleosis since January 23.

But the talented senior pivotman played 13 minutes in Milford's loss to Waterford Kettering last week and appears to be regaining his strength.

Palmer said Sharpe, who scored 31 points for Milford in his last appearance, will be involved in intense physical training this week to prepare him for Thursday's game.

Tickets for the district tournament are available at the door.

Bobcat swimmers led by Brian Wohlfeil

Brian Wohlfeil claimed four first-place finishes to pace the Northville-Novis Bobcats swim team in a recent "mini meet" with the Livonia Spartans. He beat all competitors in the eight-and-under 50-yard and 25-yard free style events with respective times of 43.10 and 18.00.

Wohlfeil also claimed first place in the 25-yard butterfly (26.0); 25-yard breast stroke (25.4) and 25-yard back stroke (23.3).

James May, also competing in the eight-and-under division, finished second in the 25-yard free for the Bobcats, with a time of 16.5.

May also finished fourth in the 25-yard back, 50-free and 25-yard butterfly, took fifth in the 25-yard breast stroke and sixth in the 50-yard back.

The 200-yard free style relay team of Lisa Felicelli, Karen Hogue, Noreen Langkil and Debbie Wohlfeil paced the Bobcats in a recent 'B' meet with the Warren Woods Jaguars, claiming a first place in the 13-18 year-old competition. The squad was clocked at 1:53.72.

The same foursome also finished second in the 400-free relay (open) and third in both the 200-free and 800-free relays. Both were open events.

Langkil also took a fourth place in the 400-yard individual medley for 13-18 year-olds with a time of 5:38.5 and finished fifth in the 100-yard butterfly (1:12.5).

Julie Hilfinger, competing in the 10-and-under 100-yard breast stroke, was clocked at 1:38.7 to finished fourth.

Felicelli achieved an 'A' time in the 100-yard free style for 13-18 year-olds, posting a time of 1:01.4.

Lynn Wohlfeil earned second place in the 200-yard butterfly, posting a time of 2:45.4.

Also competing in the 13-18 year-old category for the Bobcats was Karen Hogue.

She finished third in the 100-yard back stroke (1:13.2) and fifth in the 400-yard individual medley (5:38.6).

rest of the way to clinch the win.

The senior cager had a field day at the foul line hitting eight of 11 charity tosses.

Forward Tim Wagner and guard Gary Kucher also took advantage of their free tosses, netting six of six and four of six, respectively.

Ward contributed 10 points — four field goals and two of five foul shots — prior to fouling out. Kucher and Wagner added eight apiece.

The win was particularly sweet for the host Mustangs since they were defeated 59-50 at Churchill the last time the squads met.

Earlier in the week Northville crushed South Lyon 66-38 behind the leadership of seniors Ward and Tim McLaughlin.

Ward netted 17 points, while McLaughlin scored 10 from his guard post.

Steve Handley came off the bench to add seven points, while Greer, forward Greg May, Wagner and forward Duke Dusablon pumped in six apiece.

Northville posted a 20-12 lead after the first quarter of play and led throughout the contest. The halftime mark was 34-20.

"We were a little impatient in the first half and threw the ball away a lot," Lutes said. "But our man-to-man defense was outstanding all night. And we didn't make stupid mistakes in the second half."

The Mustangs were hot at the free throw line, cashing in on 10 of 11 attempts.

Ward hit three of three, Greer and reserve guard Dave Malinowski each netted two of two and Handley hit three of four attempts.

Crush Churchill, 48-35

NHS tankers seek second place

By KEN KOVACS

A second place finish in the Western Six league meet Friday would be just fine with Northville High School swim coach Pete Talbot.

Following a victory over Livonia Churchill (48-35) and a loss to Plymouth Canton (106-62) last week the Mustang tankers currently boast a 4-2 record in the league, which puts them second only to undefeated Canton.

But dual meet victories in swimming competition don't count for anything in the Western Six — except to give opponents an idea of what they will be up against in the league meet.

Northville will play host for the Western Six meet at the Farmington Harrison pool tomorrow and Friday.

Preliminaries are scheduled to begin at 5 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday), while the finals are slated for 7 p.m. Friday.

The Mustangs avenged an earlier loss to Churchill Thursday (although Northville later was credited with the win due to an inaccurate Churchill eligibility list) claiming eight first place finishes in 11 events.

Seniors Tony Nader and Char Ramsey swept two events apiece to pace the Mustangs.

Nader won the 200-yard individual medley with a time of 2:14.3 and was clocked at 1:06.8 to claim the top spot in the 100-yard breast stroke.

Ramsey, who continues to amaze his coach, swept the 200-yard free style (1:54.3) and 100-yard free (50.9).

The senior free styler has bettered his time in each individual event in which he has competed this season.

His time of 50.9 is only .6 seconds off the school record in the 100-yard free and 1.2 seconds from the state meet qualifying time.

"I can't explain it," said Talbot. "I had hoped Char would do well this year, but I never expected him to do this. Every time he has gotten into the water he has scored a better time."

Other first place winners for Northville were Nader, Gary Lauber, John Burchard and Tom Moore in the 200-yard medley relay (1:52.1); Doug Iverson in the 500-yard free style (5:43.83) and Tim Walker in the 100-yard back stroke (1:06.1).

The 400-yard free style relay team of Burchard, Dave Copp, Lauber and Ramsey also scored a first place in that event, clocking in at 3:44.9.

Seven Northville swimmers — Ramsey, Copp, Burchard, Tom Frader, Iverson, Walker and Mike Klein — posted their best time in at least one event in the win over Churchill.

Ramsey swept the 50-free (24.92) and 100-free (51.7), while Nader grabbed top honors in the 100-breast (106.54).

"Our goal was to keep them under 100 points," Talbot related following the meet. "It would have been a moral victory, anyhow."

Talbot said he is pleased with the overall performance of his squad so far this year.

"I thought we would win a few more dual meets," the coach said. "If things would have been a little different I think we would have."

Talbot says Canton is virtually a shoe-in for the Western Six title, but said he is confident his tankers can take second if they swim up to their potential.

College cagers ousted

Schoolcraft College cagers were eliminated from the state community college basketball tournament last week, as they bowed to Macomb CC 63-62 in the opening round at Jackson Community College.

The Ocelots had a shot at a victory when they took a three-point lead with 45 seconds remaining.

But Phil Blevens, who led Schoolcraft with 21 points, missed a pair of free throws and the Ocelots turned the ball over numerous times in the next several seconds.

With nine seconds left Macomb scored a layup off an inbounds pass to seal the victory.

In regular-season play the two squads split. Schoolcraft downed Macomb 68-65 in December, while Macomb triumphed 69-60 February 4.

In the tournament contest, Macomb shot 65 percent from the floor, while Schoolcraft hit only 49 percent of its shots.

Coach Rocky Watkins' squad, now 17-11 on the season, has a final game scheduled for 6 p.m. March 5 at Jenison Field House against the Michigan State University junior varsity cagers.

The two teams will compete prior to the MSU-Iowa Big Ten clash.

Mustang JV cagers finish with three losses

It probably was the best team effort put together by the Northville High School junior varsity cagers.

Despite this fine performance, led by John Foley's 16 points and Tim Hendra's 13, the Mustang JV basketballers suffered a 60-56 defeat at the hands of Livonia Churchill Thursday.

The contest, which preceded the Mustang varsity game, ended what has been an up-and-down season for the junior varsity squad.

The Mustangs stayed with the Chargers throughout the first three quarters, which ended with the score knotted at 11, 23 and 40, respectively. But the roof fell in the final period.

"A flurry of bad passes in the fourth quarter was the turning point in the game," coach Omar Harrison recalled. "Churchill has a really good ball club. I don't know why my guys waited until the last game to play their best."

Harrison praised the play of center Hendra who showed signs of excellence early in the season, but slowed up after that.

"Tim had his best game all year," the elated coach said.

Besides scoring from the floor, the junior cager pulled down nine caroms and hit seven of eight free throws for the Mustangs.

Dave Bach added 12 points, hauled in six rebounds and hit six of seven charity tosses.

The loss dropped the Northville cagers to 3-7 in the Western Six and 8-11 overall.

The Mustangs suffered previous losses to Waterford Mott (42-25) and South Lyon (72-63).

Foley led Northville scorers with eight and 22 points, respectively.

The junior forward also led the team in scoring for the season, scoring 305 points in 19 contests, an average of 16.1.

Bach led Mustang rebounders, collecting 8.6 per game.

Hendra was the second leading scorer and rebounder, averaging 8.6 points and 7.4 rebounds per contest.

Guards Tim Hansen and Ray McDonough led the squad in assists, averaging two per game.

OLV claims crown

Todd Thomas recently led Our Lady of Victory's seventh and eighth grade boys' basketball team to an undefeated CYO season and the squad's second consecutive league championship.

His 21-point scoring average was among the best in the league. Todd also averaged 12 rebounds per contest for the Cougars.

The Northville youth will attend Catholic Central High School this fall.

Top of the Key

There's a lot more at stake than a District 21 basketball title this week when Northville and Milford Lakeland clash in post-season play at Northville High School.

The two teams, which were slated to duke it out last night (Tuesday) after this paper's deadline, feature the players who currently are running one-two in the race for the Top of the Key.

The Mustangs' Dave Ward remains the number one scorer in the Sliger Home Newspapers circulation area with a 17.2 average, and Lakeland's Dean Danek is right on his heels with a 16.6 norm.

Meanwhile, Milford center Rob Sharpe — the SHN scoring leader through most of the season before his bout with mononucleosis — got into action last week but could muster only four points in the game he played in.

The Redskin ace now totals 209 points in 12 games for a 17.4 average, but chances are he'll fall short of the minimum 15 games necessary to qualify for the scoring title.

Here's how they line up after the regular season (minimum of 14 games played):

1. DAVE WARD, NORTHVILLE: (Games 19, Total Points 327) Average 17.2.
2. DEAN DANEK, MILFORD LAKE: (Games 17, Total Points 282) Average 16.6.
3. DAVE RICHMOND, WHITMORE LAKE: (Games 20, Total Points 312) Average 15.6.
4. JOHN LANG, MILFORD LAKE: (Games 18, Total Points 263) Average 14.6.
5. STEVE WRIGHT, NOVI: (Games 15, Total Points 212) Average 14.1.
6. ERIN HILL, WALLED LAKE CENTRAL: (Games 20, Total Points 281) Average 14.05.
6. MIKE XENOS, WALLED LAKE WESTERN: (Games 20, Total Points 281) Average 14.05.
8. TODD PARSONS, NOVI: (Games 16, Total Points 223) Average 14.0.
9. MIKE KELLEY, WHITMORE LAKE: (Games 18, Total Points 240) Average 13.7.
10. JIM KINNEY, MILFORD: (Games 18, Total Points 242) Average 13.4.

Cougars win first CYO game

Our Lady of Victory's fifth and sixth grade basketball team last week took a spirited 34-23 conquest of Birmingham Holy Name in their first matchup in the CYO cage tourney at Our Lady of Refuge.

The Cougars started fast, exploding for 14 first-period points to post an early eight-point lead.

The Hurricanes made repeated runs at OLV, but could not take away the Cougars' lead.

The Hurricanes' second-half press upset the locals and caused numerous turnovers, but the Cougars' defense also was stingy.

Sean McLaughlin, who scored 25 points and nabbed 22 rebounds, led the Northville squad to its 13th win in 14 outings.

Doug Martin chipped in with four points, while John Larabel and Tom Orlowski added two apiece and Joe Briemlaier accounted for a single point.

Orlowski grabbed seven rebounds for the winners, while Martin was credited with six assists.

The Cougars will continue their quest for the CYO tourney crown when they play the host Refuge squad, a 37-34 victor over Clawson Guardian Angel, Tuesday at 7:15 p.m.

In other first-round games, powerful Birmingham St. Regis smashed Pontiac St. Benedict 38-25 and will meet Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows in the other semi-final match.

Sorrows came from behind to edge Detroit St. Matthew, 26-25.
