Veterans from American Legion, VFW post lead parade

City, township, state officials march behind flag bearers

Holiday observed locally by parade, prayer, speech

"Let these headstones remind us of the hundreds of thousands, yes, millions, in alien countries who sacrificed for the freedom we enjoy today," reminded the Reverend Charles Boerger as he prayed at 11 a.m. Monday in the sunlit glade that is the veterans' plot in Rural Hill Cemetery.

The Memorial Day service followed the annual parade through town to Oakwood Cemetery on Cady where a wreath was placed in memory of veterans and then to Rural Hill Cemetery where local officials, American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars representatives spoke in tribute to those who died in service.

While not appreciably larger than those of other years, the parade was impressive. Northville High School Marching Band under Michael Rumbell in new uniforms drew comments for playing well and marching well.

A large group of uniformed Brownies, carrying six United States flags, joined Boy and Girl Scouts in the parade. The prohibition of bicycles and horses, observers noted, added to the solemnity.

At the cemetery "Fat Bob" Taylor sang "God Bless America" and, at the conclusion, "Battle Hymn of the Republic." The words of both songs rang out as the audience was invited to join in the singing.

The Reverend Boerger of St. Paul's Lutheran Church reminded that "those who sacrificed for freedom we enjoy today were not adventure seekers but men who had left families."

The day, he said, "reminds each of us of the shortness of life here on earth." Henry Gardner, commander of American Legion Post 147, welcomed those who ringed the veterans' plot in the cemetery, saying it was heartwarming to have so many turn out.

It was a day for veterans. Eighty-seven year old VFW member Walter Fox and Dr. Waldo Johnson, 86, a Legion member, were present, along with Dave McDougall, Department of Michigan Legion Vice Commander John L. Hacker, Joseph Andrews, Seventh District Committeeman and VFW Post 4012 Commander George Bays.

Veteran Everett McCullum and former Mayor A. M. Allen were parade grand marshals.

Merle Hoag served as master of ceremonies, introducing Mayor Paul Vernon, Township Supervisor John MacDonald, Councilmember J. Burton DeRusha and Senator Robert Geake as well as veterans' officials.

Former Mayor Allen was a special guest speaker.

He related how the veterans' plot came into being after World War II when a mother wished to have her son brought back and there was no more room in the nearby Civil War soldiers' plot.

The area at one time had been a gravel pit at the east side of the cemetery, providing the gravel for the cemetery roads. In 1952, Allen recalled, the veterans plot had been created and was dedicated. It has 250 grave spaces with provision for more if needed.

A committee was formed, Allen said, of a city representative and one from each veterans' post to administer the area. All three contribute to its guest speaker.

NEWS BRIEFS

A CANDIDATES forum is slated tomorrow night (Thursday) at the high school cafeteria by the League of Women Voters. The three candidates for the school board — Glenna Davis, Leland Haines and Jean Hansen — will speak and answer questions beginning at 8 p.m. "In view of the economic situation facing the school district, it's especially important that people know the people who will serve on the school board," a spokesman said.

A SPECIAL MEETING to discuss several matter concerning police operations has been called by the township board of trustees Thursday, May 28 at 8 p.m. in township hall. The agenda for the session, open to the public, includes discussion of future millage policy in the wake of last week's defeat of new police tax, opening negotiations with the police union (the contract already expired) and discussion of police handling of the Swan Harbour murder case.

RAILROAD buffs will have an opportunity to see a "Chessie" train of 20 cars pulled by a 1948 steam locomotive pass by Northville at the Seven Mile-Northville Road crossing about 9 a.m. Saturday. The train will be enroute from Detroit to Clio and Saginaw on a special tour with stops in Plymouth and Holly. Beginning in Detroit at 8:30 a.m., the trip is one of several special ones offered the railroad-loving public.

CITY COUNCIL moved its meeting night to Tuesday this week because of Memorial Day.

School committee to make millage recommendation

After more than six weeks of intense budget review sessions and cost analysis examinations, the Northville Board of Education Citizens Advisory Committee will discuss tonight its final millage recommendation to be made to the school board for the July school millage election.

The committee will make a recommendation to the board based on what it believes the Northville community will support and what level of funding will be needed to maintain an adequate program.

At the committee's meeting last Wednesday, a millage subcommittee was established to formulate a millage proposal based upon information compiled by the group's various subcommittees throughout the past six weeks.

The committee will make its recommendation to the board of education by June 3.

A June 3 deadline was established to give the board adequate time to review the committee's recommendation and give final approval on the millage request before it is placed on the ballot.

Though there has been no formal discussion about how many mills the committee will recommend or for what length of time, committee members have voiced concerns about going back to the Northville voters with another 9.5 mill package — the original request defeated in April.

"We have to realize we may be defeated again," Committee Co-chairman Phil Phillips said Wednesday.

However, the committee, while realizing that a recommendation for another 9.5 mill request may be defeated by voters as soundly as the first request, also faces the realization that a lesser millage request will mean lesser funding and ultimately a cut in some programs.

The committee's recommendation also must have the board of education's approval. The board will review the recommendation at three separate meetings on June 8, 11 and 15.

In the wake of the defeat of the 9.5 mill request in the April 4 election — which resulted in a loss of approximately $2.7 million to the school district — the board of education unanimously supported the formation of a Citizens Advisory Committee to help open the lines of communication between the schools and the community.

Since that time, the committee has been working on a strict deadline in order to provide the board with necessary information before it goes back to the voters with another millage request.

The board of education decided at its May 11 meeting to seek approval to hold another millage election July 28. If that date is not acceptable, the board will try for a July 21 election.

One of the committee's first attempts to gauge the community's opinions about the Northville Public Schools was through a community-wide telephone survey which included 483 persons chosen randomly from the phone book.

At Wednesday's meeting, the results of the telephone survey were presented by Joe Lickman, chairman of the survey subcommittee.

The results of the survey are as follows:

Of the 483 people surveyed, 95.5 percent of those persons were registered voters.

Of those responding to the survey, 91.1 percent were homeowners and 8.9 percent rented their dwellings.

54.2 percent of those surveyed had no school age children. 45.8 percent had children either in the Northville Public School system or in private schools.

Of the 483 persons surveyed, there was a total of 373 children in the survey group.

This is equivalent to .78 school age children per surveyed household, or 1.70 children in the homes of persons with children.

The distribution of the children by school is as follows:

— Amerman — 12.6 percent
— Moraine — 8.3 percent
— Silver Springs — 5.6 percent
— Winchester — 11.0 percent
Total Elementary — 37.5 percent

— Cooke — 12.3 percent
— Meads Mill — 8.1 percent
Total Junior High — 20.4 percent

Northville High School — 24.1 percent

Other — 18.0 percent

Of the persons surveyed, 49.7 percent said they voted in the April 4 election. 50.3 percent said they did not vote. Of those that did not vote, 71.8 percent said they were aware of the election, 28.2 percent said they were not aware of the election.

56.7 percent of the persons surveyed thought the request was a renewal. 20.3 percent thought the request was an increase. 21.9 percent said they were unsure if it was an increase or a renewal, and 1.1 percent thought it was both an increase and a renewal.

37.1 percent of those surveyed said they knew the value of the request to the school district, 47.7 percent said they did not know the value of the request to the school district and 15.2 percent were unsure of the value of the request to the district.

The following issues were thought to have influenced the result of the millage request as follows:

1. The editorial position of The Northville Record — yes — 35.6 percent; no — 38.5 percent; unsure — 25.8 percent.

2. Recent property tax assessment increases — yes — 83.5 percent; no — 7.7 percent; unsure — 8.8 percent.

3. Current economic conditions — yes — 82.7 percent; no — 11.4 percent; unsure — 5.9 percent.

4. The announced administration salary increases — yes — 66.8 percent; no — 16.8 percent; unsure — 16.4 percent.

5. The size of the administrative staff — yes — 38.7 percent; no — 31.9 percent; unsure — 29.4 percent.

6. The condition of the schools — yes — 38.7 percent; no — 35.2 percent; unsure — 26.1 percent.

Slim majority defeats township 'Proposal C'

By KEVIN WILSON

Township voters approved continuation of 1.5 mill property tax for police services by a nearly 3 to 1 margin last week, but rejected one additional mill for the same purpose by a handful of votes.

Proposal C, the township's request for an additional mill of police funding, was defeated by 81 votes, a mere two percent of the 3,753 votes cast on the issue.

Long lines were reported at the polls Tuesday evening, and it was 11:30 p.m. before officials had firm knowledge that Proposal C had been defeated. The final three precincts counted came almost simultaneously, and it was not until that point the millage request was virtually even, with only 15 more no votes than yes votes counted.

The total turnout of 3,947 voters exceeded expectations somewhat, as sunny skies and seasonal temperatures drew electors to the polls state-wide.

Locally, the voting percentage fell slightly below the early estimates of over 50 percent. Township officials reported a turnout of between 48 and 49 percent of the more than 8,000 registered voters.

The final tally, certified by the board of canvassers Wednesday night, on Proposal B, a 1.5 mill renewal, was 2,772 yes, 998 no. On the new millage question, the count was 1,917 no to 1,836 yes. The local canvass of Proposal A must be confirmed by the county before it becomes official.

Proposal A was defeated almost exactly 2 to 1, with township voters turning down the state tax realignment in the same proportion that prevailed state-wide.

The count on Proposal A locally was 2,541 no, 1,261 yes.

The renewal millage for police received broad support, with no precinct voting against the question. The margin of victory was more than 2 to 1 in every precinct.

The new millage question, however, split the community. Proposal C was rejected in seven of 11 precincts (10 polling precincts and one for absentee ballots), passed in four, with margins varying widely.

Predictions that multiple-family housing areas would be in favor of the proposal and that single family areas, particularly the most recently developed ones, would oppose new taxes, were borne out.

Below are precinct counts, with references to the location and character of the precincts (note: total voter counts do not always match the vote on any one issue, because some people do not vote some part of the ballot):

PRECINCT 1 — Proposal A was defeated 265 no, 122 yes, out of 389 total voters. Proposal B (the 1.5 mill renewal) was approved, 258 yes, 125 no. Proposal C (new mill) was defeated soundly, 237 no, 145 yes. Precinct 1 surrounds the city and is primarily the western end of the township between Seven and Eight Mile, out to Ridge.

PRECINCT 2 — Proposal A received 229 no votes to 139 yes in this precinct, which had in total 371 votes cast; Proposal B 278 yes votes and 125 no votes.

Murder suspect bound over to circuit court, bond set Jeanette M. Peterson, 41, suspected of murder in the shooting death of a Detroit man May 11, was bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court Thursday after examination in 35th District Court.

The court, moved to Canton from its scheduled Northville City Hall location, determined there is reason to believe Peterson committed a criminal act in the death of Yusuf Abdur Karriem, 36, of Detroit.

Peterson was bound over to the circuit court on the original charges of homicide in the second degree, and sent to Wayne County Jail. Bond was set, and reduced to $35,000.

Whether Peterson posted bond was unknown at press time, as county jail officials, claiming to be understaffed, could not reply to inquiry before The Record deadline.

Arraignment on the evidence, basically a repeat of Thursday's examination at circuit court level, is scheduled June 2.

Autopsy reports from the Wayne County medical examiner, completed last week, show the cause of Karriem's death as a gunshot wound to the abdomen. Township police, searching Peterson's apartment on a warrant obtained the day of the murder, found a .22 caliber pistol believed to be the weapon involved.

Karriem died at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital, where he was taken when mistakenly believed to be an escaped resident of the mental health facility.

Peterson stood mute at her first arraignment, shortly after turning herself over to police, in the company of her attorney. Her lawyer contacted police even before an arrest warrant was issued, asking to be notified if a warrant was obtained.

Free ads offered to area students

Looking for a summer job? How about a full-time job?

If the answer is yes, then here's an opportunity for high school and college students to make their needs known.

For two weeks, beginning June 3, The Green Sheet will publish free want ads for high school and college students seeking employment.

The only requirement for this special want ad feature is that the ad be limited to 10 words.

The free ad will run in both the June 3 and June 10 editions of The Green Sheet which is circulated through The Novi-Walled Lake News, Milford Times, Northville Record and South Lyon Herald.

In addition to assisting students, this free ad feature is a great opportunity for employers to find those persons they need for their businesses.

Look for it in the classified section June 3 and 10.

In new subdivisions

New subdivisions in the township will have to use "cluster mail boxes" from now on, the board of trustees heard last week.

Tim Cooper, of the Northville Post Office, was at the board's Thursday meeting to explain the system, recently mandated by the U.S. Postmaster General as a cost-saving move.

Under the new system, Cooper explained, individual homes would no longer have separate mail boxes. Cluster boxes, with 8, 12, or 16 separate, lockable boxes would serve as many homes from a central location.

Cooper said the post office would like to cooperate with township planners and developers to find central, unobtrusive locations for the cluster boxes in each new subdivision. Subdivisions currently under construction would be completed under the old system, he said, but any development which does not have houses already under construction would have to be equipped with cluster boxes.

The system is expected to cut costs in half over the door-to-door method of mail distribution, and by nearly 50 percent over current curb service distribution.

Boxes would be paid-for, installed and maintained by the post office, Cooper said. One advantage to the population over current systems, he said, would be that mail delivery to a subdivision would begin when the first house is occupied.

Presently, he explained, mail delivery to residences does not begin until a subdivision is 50 percent occupied. The first 50 percent of the population has to pick up mail at the post office as general delivery mail.

That requirement would be waived under the cluster system, he said, which would particularly welcome during housing slumps, when he can take a couple years before a development reaches 50 percent occupancy.

There was criticism of the plan from both residents and developers attending the meeting, but Cooper said the local post office has little choice in the matter, and that the postal service would like to cooperate with planners to avoid some of the problems forseen.

Cooper and former acting postmaster Robert Arnold, in his last day in the local post, said some multiple family developments in the township already have the cluster boxes.

Large drop boxes for parcels would be available in each cluster, and individual boxes would be supplied in various sizes to suit needs of residents, the postal officials said.

To charges that the boxes shown in a slide presentation were "ugly," Cooper circulated a post office pamphlet depicting several designs.

Cooper said the program is only starting now, so there has been very little publicity, but that as it becomes more common he expects to see more widespread knowledge of the system.

Homestead affidavits kept, despite pledge to destroy

What is happening to the homestead affidavits mailed to local property owners before the election?

Residents were urged to fill them out in advance of the election with the understanding they would be used if Proposal A passed.

City Manager Steven Walters reported that he was asked to return those of city residents living in Wayne County to the county. He hand-delivered them Friday.

Home owners in the Oakland County portion of the city had been instructed to mail theirs directly to the county; so the city had received very few Oakland returns, he added.

Township officials had not been contacted by Wayne County, however, by last Friday.

"I think they (Wayne County officials) are going through to check ownership changes," Walters said, indicating it was a chance for the county to update records.

"Then they'll wind up throwing them away," he added.

Property owners had been urged to return the affidavits in advance of the election so that, had Proposal A with the 50 percent property tax reduction passed, they would have been filed before the May deadline. Officials had stated that should Proposal A be defeated (as it was), they would be thrown away.

Township business manager David Leiko, when contacted, said the township has "a huge box of the affidavits, and we're still receiving them." He said the township would just wait to see if the county called. However, he anticipated they would be thrown out if not requested.

Walters said he was taking the affidavits in person as he was hand-delivering the election results to the bonding attorney at the same time.

This, he said, is part of the city's desire to expedite the Main Street paving program which has to be completed in good weather. While Proposal A was soundly defeated here, city residents just as soundly supported bonding to pave South Main from Griswold to Seven Mile this year.

maintenance.

"I am familiar with many cemeteries," he told those attending, "but I know of no cemetery with a veterans' plot that compares to this."

Many of those participating in the program and those in the audience facing the well-kept plot centered with the flagpole and carved out of the hillside banked with trees and flowers murmured agreement.

Mayor Vernon reminded the audience that "as we meet in this hallowed place to pay our respects we must lend our support to those who work for lasting peace. Let us rededicate ourselves to the faith for which they gave their lives."

MacDonald addressed his comments to the young people attending, recalling for them the days of World War II when a blue star in a window meant a serviceman in the family — and a gold star one who had died in service.

"I delivered papers to a house where there was a blue star. The mother told me where her son was each week. On the last day of World War II the blue star was replaced by a gold one — I never forgot how it affected the mother. It was a story that could be told many times."

General James Pelton of the U.S. Army Reserves returned this year to give the keynote address. He stressed that the nation was founded on freedom — "freedom to think, freedom to speak, freedom to act and freedom to worship."

He recalled that most recently the 52 hostages were greeted by a sign on the airplane that read, "Welcome to freedom."

"Today," he continued, "our Armed Forces should be the pride of our nation, an example of the men and women we honor here today. Did they really win the freedom they fought to achieve? Yes, they did."

After auxiliary members placed poppies on the graves and a memorial wreath in the center of the plot, the ceremony concluded with "Taps," played by marching band members Phil Benstein and Tom Rothermel, echoing across the hills.

Marchers and those attending the service were invited to return to the American Legion Post Home at 100 West Dunlap where the Northville Community Band under the direction of Robert Williams played.

Ice cream bars were presented to all in a tradition continued by Casterline Funeral Home.

LELAND M. HAINES
for Northville School Board
Vote Monday June 8

Let's Make Our Schools Better By:

1. Promoting good communications, school trustees should listen and communicate with the public and educational personnel
2. Improving the high school image; student accountability can be improved by guiding all students to constructive activities. This will improve order and school cleanliness. An attendance policy requiring make-up time for unexcused absences will result in improved attendance and fewer suspensions.
3. Avoiding a "business as usual" attitude; keeping school expenditure increases below the consumer price index, which is possible because of a 3.5% yearly decline in enrollment and by better operations in school facilities. This will result in a lower millage which the community will support.

VP was due to retire

McNally tapped as Schoolcraft's interim president

Edward V. McNally, at 63, was scheduled to retire at the end of the summer as Schoolcraft College's vice president for student affairs.

Instead he will serve from July 1 to about December 1 as interim president while the board of trustees seeks a replacement for President C. Nelson Grote.

At their regular board meeting, trustees congratulated Dr. Jewell E. Stundt, provost and vice president for instructional affairs on her appointment as president of the Northwestern College Chula Vista, California. No date has been set for her departure.

McNally's retirement and Dr. Stundt's resignation means the new president will immediately be able to name two top vice presidents of his/her choice. If there are promotions from within current staff, there could be a major administrative reshuffling.

The vote to appoint McNally was 4-0, with Trustee Rosina Raymond abstaining and Trustees Michael Burley and Mark McQuesten absent.

Mrs. Raymond scolded the board majority for making up its mind in advance and preparing a written resolution appointing McNally. "I expected, until I received my materials at 6 p.m., there would be two candidates. Where and who determined this motion?" she asked.

Informed by Chairperson Harry Greenleaf the motion had been prepared by a three member ad hoc presidential search subcommittee, Mrs. Raymond chided the board's procedure for being "undemocratic. You don't make a motion where there's an election. You make nominations."

The second candidate she referred to was Kenneth Lindner, 61, vice president for business affairs. Mrs. Raymond proposed the two long-time vice presidents, sharing the top job's responsibilities. Her motion died for lack of a second.

McNally joined Schoolcraft in 1962, before classes were started, as assistant dean of student affairs. He became dean in 1966 and vice president in 1968, succeeding Lois Waterman.

He was with Bay City Junior College and Delta College from 1955-62. He has an AB from Seton Hall University and an MA from the University of Minnesota.

Under his wing in the student affairs office are the student activities counselor, health services, director of admissions, registrar, directors of counseling, financial aids, placement and day care center.

As interim president, he will receive additional compensation of $500 a month.

In related business, the board set-up the following procedure toward hiring a new president:

— Today, May 20, the board will approve a profile of characteristics to be sought in a new president.

— On June 15, trustees will review the applications of 20 to 25 persons screened from more than 300 applicants by a consulting team from the Association of Community College Trustees. The board will winnow these down to 10 or 12.

— Those applications will be referred for comment to a campus advisory committee which will include one representative each from the Schoolcraft Foundation, the executive administrators, the administrative and professional staff, the Faculty Forum, classified personnel, the office personnel union, physical plant employees, food service employees and students. The board of trustees will select the advisory committee's chairperson.

— About June 16 or 17, the advisory committee will meet and review the 10 or 12 applications with names omitted. With applicants identified by numbers, the committee will record its impressions, i.e., weak or strong, of each. No priority ranking will be done by the committee, according to the board's policy.

— About July 1, the committee's impressions will be presented to the board of trustees for consideration on paring the list down to four or five finalists.

Cost of the presidential search, to be spread over two budget years, will be about $40,000.

Major budget items include: $6,500 for advertising, $6,000 for the ACCT consulting services, $4,000 for the finalists' first interviews, $4,000 for their second interviews and $4,000 for visits to the finalists' current towns of employment.

Police Blotter

Truck, cycle stolen in township

A pickup truck and a motorcycle were reported stolen last week, township police said.

A 1968 Ford pickup was stolen from a Marilyn Street residence, township police report.

The owner said the vehicle was taken from his driveway between 4 p.m. May 20 and 5.30 a.m. May 21.

The pickup is maroon with a green tailgate, a dented passenger door and no front bumper, the owner told police. There are no suspects, police said.

A 1978 Yamaha motorcycle was stolen from a barn at a Westview Street residence, township police report.

The yellow and black motorcycle, valued at $818.56, was stolen between 6 p.m. May 18 and 8.30 a.m. May 19, police said.

The owner told police someone stole the cycle from his barn and that he didn't see or hear anything. He also is unsure of the exact time or how the cycle was removed, police said.

The cycle had approximately 40 miles on it and had no plates, the owner told police. There are no suspects, police said.

Two license plates were stolen last week, township police reported.

An Ironton Court resident told police his automobile license plate was lost or stolen sometime between May 14 and 21.

The owner also told police the license plate was on his car when he washed it May 13 and reported no damage to the car.

The owner feels the plate was stolen, police said.

There are no suspects in the case.

A rear license plate with tabs was stolen from an automobile parked on Northridge Street, township police report.

The plate was stolen between 6 p.m. May 15 and 4 p.m. May 16, police said.

The owner told police his vehicle was parked at his Northridge residence and that unknown suspects stole the rear plate. Police said there was no damage to the car.

Police have no suspects.

Four wire wheel covers valued at $160 were stolen from a 1981 Ford Granada parked in the driveway of a Bedford Road residence overnight May 18, township police said.

Neither the owner nor neighbors reported seeing or hearing anything suspicious, police said.

There are no suspects in the case.

A glass storm window of a Homer residence was broken sometime between last week Tuesday and Wednesday, township police report.

Police report it appeared the window was shot out by a BB gun. The owner said she didn't see anyone in her backyard and has no neighbors to the rear. Damage to the window was valued at $150, police said.

Police have no suspects.

The front door window of a Northville Road party store was broken during the morning May 18, township police report.

When the window, valued at $180, broke, it triggered an alarm and summoned police to the scene where they noticed the damage, police said.

The owner told police nothing was taken and that there was no trouble with employees or customers.

The report said an officer noticed a red Oldsmobile Cutlass parked at 6 Mile Road near Waterford Pond, but the vehicle was gone upon returning to the location.

Police have no suspects at this time.

A Dearborn Heights man was arrested for driving under the influence of liquor on Seven Mile May 21, township police said.

Steven Donald Papp, 21, of Dearborn Heights, was arrested early Thursday morning on 7 Mile west of Haggerty, police said.

The Michigan State Police were called on a possible personal injury accident and found Papp with his head on the right front floorboard of the car and was unconscious, but there was no evidence of injury, the report said.

The car had three flat tires due to running over an eight-inch curb, the police said. The driver regained consciousness after township police arrived. When questioned, Papp thought he was at Goddard and Telegraph, the report said.

He was placed under arrest for driving under the influence of liquor and taken to the state police post to be given a breath test, the report said.

The test confirmed that Papp was legally drunk, and he was ticketed.

Papp was held overnight by township police, posted a $100 cash bond and was released, the police said.

A Garden City woman was ticketed after a two-car accident at 8 Mile and Randolph May 20, city police said.

A car driven by Carrie Taubee, 18, 31560 Kathryn, Garden City, hit a car driven by a Northville woman. The police report shows Taubee was northbound on Randolph, stopped for the stop sign, thought it was clear and started to pull out and struck the other car in the side.

There were no injuries. Both cars were damaged but drivable.

Police cited Taubee for failure to yield right-of-way.

City garage sale brings out crowd

Biggest and best yet, Northville's third annual city garage sale sponsored by the chamber of commerce was aided by a sunny day May 9.

Things old and used were sold by vendors like Sandra Richards, below. Allen Terrace residents Lillian and John Daley are purchasing, center, while Caryn Cogar and Amy Beth, 1, rest in the M.A.G.S. building shade.

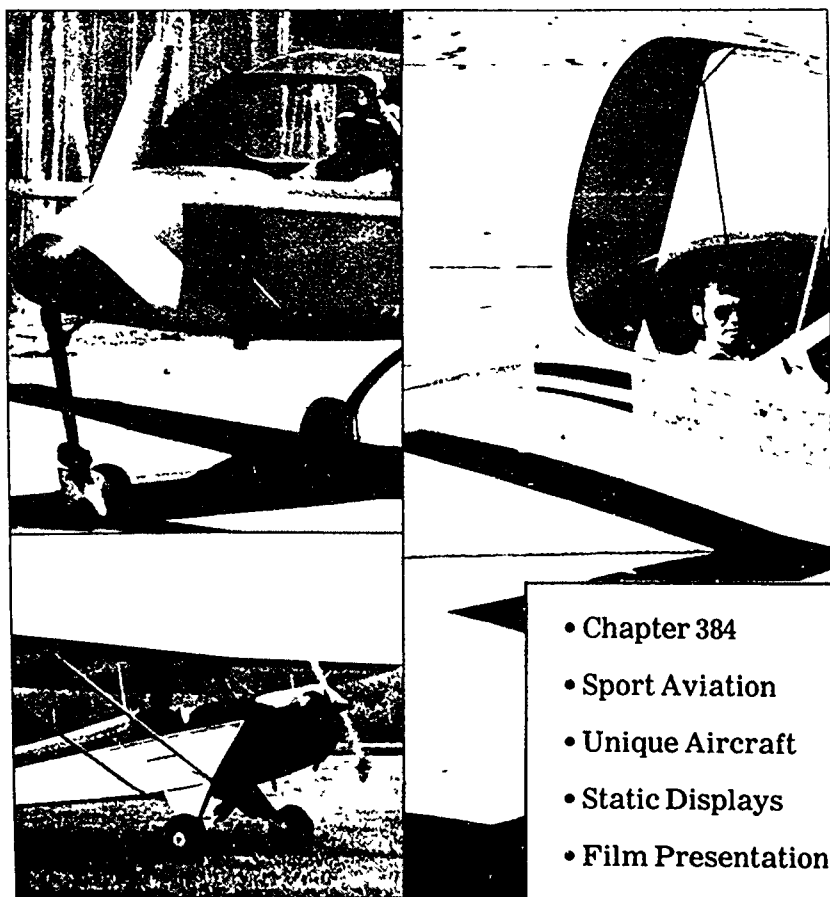

Chris Kaley and Russ Parker, both 13, check out baseball cards, right. Balloon holding Rob Runco watches the scene. Street space was sold by sale chairman Scott Lapham on Main and Center for residents to sell "unwants." Profits, expected to double the $500 raised last year, fund chamber projects. When the Amerman first graders in Maryanne Bourne's class decided to spread the word about the evils of greed, they found the best way to convey their message was through music. The first graders' recent musical production entitled "The Poppy Seed Cakes," outlined the story of the Greedy Green Goose and his self-destruction. One day, the goose, played by Jason Stolberg, above, becomes so greedy that he snatches up some poppy seed cakes from a little boy and his mother, gobbles them up and BOOM — blows up. Upper right is Dana Goscinski as the mother and Rod Caster as the little boy. Upper left, the townspeople dance and sing when they learn that the Greedy Green Goose is no more. Bottom left, the village women sing of their woes. Record photos by Jim Galbraith.

Local view atop list

Small business after Lansing's ear

Local owners of small businesses found their interests well-represented in a list of recommendations to state government prepared at a recent statewide conference on small business.

Charlie Bakkila, proprietor of Bump Shop Charlie's on Old Novi Road in Northville, carried the local concerns about labor costs, taxes and over-regulation to Lansing as one of 300 owners of small businesses to attend the conference May 11 to 13.

In discussion with other local owners of small businesses, Bakkila said, he found the pet peeves about operating in Michigan were worker's compensation regulations, unemployment regulations and the single business tax.

At the Michigan Conference on Small Business a list of 60 issues was prepared from those presented by local representatives from around the state.

And high atop the list of 15 priority concerns were the three listed by Bakkila. In fact, reform in all three areas were the top priorities.

The conference was the outgrowth of the 1980 White House Conference on Small Business, which was followed by a series of local meetings organized by the Michigan Department of Commerce.

Those attending the culminating conference May 11-13 paid their own way. Bakkila was quick to point out, noting that the representatives are estimated to have spent nearly $500,000 of their own money to participate.

In addition to creating a list of recommendations to the state legislature, the conference also saw the founding of a Michigan Small Business Alliance, a 24-member group devised to follow through on the lobbying effort.

According to the Bakkila, the group's arguments that small businesses create more than 90 percent of all new jobs, that more than 95 percent of all state businesses are small and that they employ nearly 60 percent of non-farm laborers in the state are gaining an ear in Lansing.

Both Lieutenant Governor James Brickley and Senator Robert Geake (R-Northville) were enthusiastic about the proposals, the local proprietor said. Brickley addressed the conference the last day.

"The whole thing is, I think they are finally realizing that small business is really the key to this state," Bakkila said. "These kinds of reforms (as recommended) really help us, they would help business expand, create new jobs, keep jobs in the state."

Despite recent changes to workman's compensation and unemployment laws, the group was strongly critical of those operations in Michigan. Of 215 voting delegates to the conference, 171 pumped for lowered workman's compensation insurance costs and stricter eligibility rules, while 169 said they favored similar changes in the unemployment program.

The single business tax, delegates contend, is actually a small business tax and by assessing the levy based on the number of workers employed, acts as a disincentive to new hiring.

A business income tax was recommended as a replacement by 165 delegates. As written, such a switch would likely result in a loss of revenue to the state, and the delegates recommended that the change be accompanied by state cutbacks.

A "Sunset Law" coupled with "tiered regulation" was another high priority item on the list. Under the sunset concept, which has drawn much attention in recent years, state regulations would be reviewed annually and those that could not be "justified" abolished.

Tiered regulation is a relatively recent idea which would grant exemptions or require lower levels of compliance with regulations for smaller businesses. Calling the idea "flexible regulation" the conference delegates said the aim would be to make regulation costs proportionately equal, and recommended establishment of three levels of small business based on the number employed.

Tax incentives for small business investments, and a call for an all-out effort in the state to improve the business climate were among other top recommendations.

"What we want to do," Bakkila said, "is change (Michigan) from a welfare state to a working state."

Other recommendations within the top 15 are:

- A Michigan right-to-work law;
- Cuts in state spending;
- Strict state monitoring and enforcement of banks and lending institutions to encourage more sympathetic treatment of women seeking loans for small businesses;

- Educational efforts from grade school to college to train students in economics and small business acumen;
- Elimination of state programs furnishing services or goods in competition with small business;

- Tax credits and abatements for those investing in minority-owned small businesses;
- State policy encouraging small business and deregulation on the broad front;

- A separate export division within the state's Department of Commerce be created to help small businesses sell products overseas;

- State reimbursement of legal fees and court costs should a business owner successfully challenge a citation claiming he violated a regulation.

Among the other 60 recommendations are reductions in state paperwork requirements (for those regulations not abolished), a lowered minimum wage for teens under 18, and state assistance to firms beginning high-technology operations in Michigan.

Bakkila said the recommendations are well written and in current form could be adopted into law swiftly.

The program begun by the department of commerce continues through the end of this year when the Small Business Alliance is expected to take over the organizing efforts.

Bakkila said another meeting of Detroit area small business owners is scheduled for May 28 to communicate the results of the Lansing conference and continue discussions of how the state business climate could be improved.

Schoolhouse fair attracts tots

The Second Annual Book Fair at The Little Red Schoolhouse-William Allen Academy provided tiny tots and their parents with more than just an opportunity to browse through reading materials. As most of the prospective schoolhouse students discovered, going to school is more than just learning the A,B,C's. Along with a school tour, there was a bake sale, a hot dog and popcorn stand, coffee and doughnuts, a raffle and plenty of games. Timothy O'Flynn, 4, and his mom Diana, upper left, browse through one of the many sale books; Greg Brown, 5, and John Haupt, 4, center, check out the duck pond; Diane Kovacs, upper right, conducted the cake walk; and Lindsay Duputat, 1, above, found the hot dogs to be the best part of the fair. School committee to make millage recommendation schools — yes — 36.8 percent, no — 40.5 percent, unsure — 22.7 percent Responses to three concluding questions on the survey are as follows:

Would you support future millage renewal requests if you were given data substantiating the need?
Yes — 60.7 percent; no — 15.8 percent; unsure — 23.5 percent
How do you perceive the quality of education in Northville Public Schools?
Average — 45.7 percent; above average — 23.1 percent, below average — 16.1 percent; unsure — 15.1 percent

Is there a relationship between a quality educational system and the value of property within that system?
Yes — 58.1 percent; no — 22.0 percent, unsure 19.9 percent
The committee compiled several of the comments made by those responding to the survey and summarized them according to the four major areas of concern:
Some of the comments from the survey respondents compiled in the summary include:
Quality of Education — the quality of the school system was the topic most referenced by individuals answering the survey. As shown in the survey results, 69 percent of the people surveyed felt that the quality in Northville schools was average or above; however, there is a strong indication that it is no longer perceived to be as high in quality as it once was.
Generally, comments directed at specific elementary schools, or elementary schools in general were favorable. The same was true of the junior high schools.
However, comments pertaining to the high school were overwhelmingly negative. Negative comments were made with specific reference to open campus, discipline, attitudes and a need to motivate students.
Administration — the second most discussed area was that of the board of education, the administration and other personnel in the school system. The topic mentioned most often was the increase in administrative salaries. It brought a totally negative response.
The second most mentioned topic was the number of administrators in the school system. Once again, the general opinion was totally negative and indicated that people want changes made starting from the top of the school system.
Generally, it was felt that the public relations, communications and general administration of the school system need substantial improvement. The community wants solid information about both finances and the school program. They want feedback on the positive, as well as the negative events that are happening in the school system.

Millage — there were a wide range of reasons given for the recent defeat. These covered areas such as increased taxes, increased assessments, change in school financing, better management of the budget, reductions of or increases to various programs and current economic conditions in general. There were also comments of "political backlash," "morale problems" and "a message to the board of education."
Generally, the opinions received were favorable toward support of the school system. However, a majority of the respondents said that any future requests would have to be substantiated with data explaining the need for and where the money will be spent.
There were a large number of people who said they would support a pared down request, but once again this carried a demand for justification of any request made by the board of education.
Conditions — another area of concern

In the school district were conditions, both physical condition and psychological or attitudinal conditions.
Comments were made about the physical appearance of the buildings, grounds and equipment in the school system. By far, the most negative and most often referenced problems concerned the high school and its appearance. These comments ranged from upkeep of property to attitudes, both of the maintenance and janitorial staff, as well as, that of students and teachers.
There were several comments concerning discipline, vandalism, control and motivation of students.
The results of the survey will be used as a basis for the committee's final millage recommendation to the board of education.
The committee's meeting is open to the public and will be held at 7:30 tonight at the board conference room in Village School.

PROPOSED ORDINANCE No. 18.345

ZONING MAP AMENDMENT No. 345

New police mill loses narrowly in election

Proposal C won here, with a margin of 53 votes — 209 yes to 156 no. Precinct 2 was expected to support Proposal C more solidly; it includes much of Highland Lakes and Swan Harbour apartments.

PRECINCT 3 — Of 355 votes cast, Proposal A took 235 yes and 116 no; Proposal B passed 229 to 117. Proposal C went down in the primarily single family/rural area with 225 no votes over 116 yes. Precinct 3 is bounded by Seven Mile, Six Mile, Ridge and Northville Roads.

PRECINCT 4 — Sparsely developed, with a proportionately high absentee tally, this precinct had 24 voters visit the polls, but the group voted nearly in proportion to other single family areas with 8 votes for Proposal A, 16 against; Proposal B tallied 16 yes votes, 8 no; and Proposal C was defeated with 17 no votes to 7 yes. The area is bounded by Hines Drive, Ridge, Five and Six Mile.

PRECINCT 5 — 352 voters defeated Proposal A 271 to 68 here; Proposal B tallied 288 yes and 52 no. Precinct 5 was the hotbed of Proposal C support, with voters here giving the new millage 255 yes votes to 80 no. The precinct is wholly comprised of Kings Mill Cooperative Townhouses west of Northville Road, south of Seven Mile.

PRECINCT 6 — Second highest vote total in the township was here, where 409 voters rejected Proposal A 243 to 161; Proposal B was heavily supported, 318 to 81, and Proposal C was narrowly defeated 212 to 189. The precinct is immediately across Six Mile from township hall and the police station and includes only the Northville Commons subdivision.

PRECINCT 7 — 352 voters trounced on Proposal A, rejecting it 239 to 110; supported Proposal B heavily, 244 yes to 98 no; and gave a six vote approval to Proposal C, 173 yes to 167 no. The precinct is in the southeast corner of the township and is bounded by Five and Six Mile, Hines Drive and Haggerty Road. Precincts 6 and 10 are within the area.

PRECINCT 8 — Proposal A was defeated 175 to 95 with 274 voters going to the polls, Proposal B took 181 yes votes and 86 no, and Proposal C was defeated 167 to 102. The precinct is between Northville Road and Haggerty, Six and Seven Mile. Virtually all single family, the precinct includes the Lakes of Northville subdivision, an area where many residents believe their new homes are overassessed.

PRECINCT 9 — 318 voters turned out election day and 201 of them voted no on Proposal A, while 113 punched yes. Proposal B passed 251 to 58 and Proposal C won this precinct 196 yes to 113 no. This another Highland Lakes-dominated area and was expected to support C more heavily than it did.

PRECINCT 10: Largest turnout here, with 449 voters rejecting Proposal A 328 to 118, passing Proposal B 318 to 127, and turning down new millage in a 239 to 202 tally. The precinct is Northville Colony subdivision, another center of heated tax assessment protests.

PRECINCT 911: This "precinct" is actually the absentee ballot count, and there were 554 of them cast. Proposal A went down 339 to 211, Proposal B passed 391 to 157 and Proposal C lost with 304 no votes over 242 yes votes. Some observers had expected the absentee vote, which includes many senior citizens, to approve the millage increase for more police. Precinct 4 and 911 were the first to report, and gave the indication that approval was not going to be as sure a thing as some thought.

The township board of trustees will consider future millage actions, in light of the defeated Proposal C, at a special meeting May 28 at 8 p.m. in township hall.

City vote canvass certified

City election returns passing South Main bonding proposal by 1341 to 521 and defeating state Proposal A 525 to 1369 have been confirmed by Clerk Joan McAllister.

The returns were tabulated last week Tuesday within half an hour after the polls closed at 8 p.m.

Voting returns by precinct are: Wayne County Precinct I, Proposal A, yes, 262, no, 539; absentee ballots, yes, 35, no, 50; Proposal B (bonding), yes, 581, no, 211; absentee, yes, 56, no, 29.

Oakland County Precinct II, Proposal A, yes, 144, no, 512; Proposal B, yes, 458, no, 211.

Oakland County Precinct III, Proposal A, yes, 72, no, 244; Proposal B, yes, 222, no, 87.

Oakland County precincts absentee ballots, Proposal A, yes, 13, no, 23; Proposal B, yes, 24, no, 10.

Our opinions

Phil Benstein plays "Taps" at cemetery program

Remembering

Our community's observance of Memorial Day 1981 Monday was one in which to take pride. The parade and program following in Rural Hill Cemetery had dignity and solemnity.

The audience, too, was respectful and attentive.

While the parade was about the usual size, it drew admiring comments — it was a Memorial Day event — with bicycles and horses left for the July 4th celebration. In new uniforms the Northville High School Marching Band performed smartly under Director Michael Rumbell. Many Brownies in their tan uniforms came out to march, joining older Boy and Girl Scout marchers.

The speeches were relevant — not the "canned" veteran-association produced kind audiences have had to suffer through in some past years.

Former Mayor A. M. Allen was right when he observed of the veterans' plot in Rural Hill that he knows of no other cemetery with one that compares. It reflects the caring of both the Northville American Legion Post 147 and Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4012, as well as the contribution of the city.

Many of those standing in the sunlight Monday in the glade amid the cemetery's rolling hills were paying tribute to loved ones as well as to the nation's military dead. Graves all through the cemetery were decorated with geraniums and other flowers.

It was a day for remembrance with our local veterans' groups to be commended for making it so meaningful.

Postal geometry

Ah, the sadness and the mystery of it all.

Another old tradition appears destined for the trash pile with the announcement by the U.S. Postal Service that separate mail boxes for houses in new subdivisions are to be discontinued.

It won't be long, we suspect, when all individual mail boxes will be banned along with the friendly mailman (or mailwoman) who delivers cheer and heartaches to our doorstep.

According to the Postal Service, hereafter houses in new subdivisions are to be served by "cluster mail boxes" as a means of cutting costs. The new delivery system is expected to cut costs in half over the door-to-door method of mail distribution, and by nearly 50 percent over current curb service distribution.

Unaffected, we are told, are those individual mail boxes already in place. But we wonder how much longer they can resist postal geometry.

Just as we were beginning to understand that the shortest distance between a Dunlap Street house and a house on Yerkes is a straight line to Detroit and back, we are handed a cluster-to-Detroit-to-cluster puzzle.

Pardon our lack of understanding, but it does seem that as the zip gets longer the distance between sender and receiver gets longer and the price fatter.

Fund can help

Ever since its beginnings in 1961 Northville Town Hall has been a "sharing" organization, dividing its profits equally with the sponsoring Lady's League of Our Lady of Victory Church and the communities which support it.

Last season, which opened with Marlo Thomas, was another successful one, and the Board of Awards expects to have substantial funds to allocate shortly. Normally, it would have a host of applications to consider from area charitable organizations needing funds for special projects. However, it has received less than half the normal number of requests.

Since these are leaner-than-usual times, it doesn't seem possible to town hall — or to us — that the need is not there to fund many projects. In the past allocations have been made for such worthy causes as hospital work, historical renovation and Friends of the Library. They still can be.

Northville Town Hall Board of Awards thinks the deadline of May 30 will come without some organizations making application for funding; so the message is out: send requests to Frances Mattison, Northville Town Hall Box 93, now.

Speaking of ...

A 'violation'

"You have no idea of the violation you feel when your private sanctuary has been invaded," declared the caller who had telephoned The Record with concern about the removal of the direct alarm service to township police headquarters, reported in last week's newspaper.

Because of her feeling of vulnerability from having had her home ransacked and its isolated location on a mile road, the caller related, the alarm system had been installed, one of 24 hooking into police headquarters.

HOWELL — A "serious problem" with "created" property value losses in the county's 1981 equalization report has stunned some county commissioners and could result in a nearly three percent state imposed factor increase in residential assessments.

HOWELL — The Livingston County Road Commission has named County Planning Director Michael Craine as its new managing director.

GREEN OAK — Green Oak Township Board has voted to "close the door completely" on a Brighton wastewater treatment facility within its boundaries, according to Supervisor Ronald Niece.

BRIGHTON — Shipments of high level nuclear waste from a Canadian experimental reactor appear likely to pass through Brighton, according to state officials.

HARTLAND — School Board Trustee Thomas Green labeled the book, "Our Bodies, Ourselves," as "filthy," prompting its withdrawal from the high school library until questions about it have been resolved.

Area Newsbeat

GREEN OAK — Sunday package liquor sales are now legal in Green Oak Township in the wake of unanimous action by the township board.

BRIGHTON — The board of education approved the purchase of computers for high school classes, but later heard a report that said the public places higher priority on 30 other improvements.

MILFORD — A local resident has been forced to tear down a garage being built on his property because township officials gave conflicting directions, the builder is claiming.

SOUTH LYON — The board of education voted 4-0 to pink-slip 44 teachers, with layoff of all 44 slated July 24.

"We still feel we are being spotted; people case houses like this," she continued, telling of seeing vans parked on the main road.

"They took everything that was not nailed down — a leather jacket, hi-fis, television sets, jewelry. Everything in the house was ransacked."

The caller was giving a vivid description of a situation that almost anyone today could return to discover. Her message was that the alarm service was needed. It is an easy way to augment the small police force, she felt, and officers had confirmed that it is not a problem. The caller also had a warning for residents to take precautions, and never to leave a house unlocked — even for a short trip to the store or to a neighbor's.

Like many who call, she wanted the newspaper to hear her side. We did — and she transmitted well the sense of loss that comes with the "violation."

But the newspaper is not where she should turn for action. The action to cancel the alarm service came from the township. She should take her story to the board of trustees, and they should listen.

Jean Day

SOUTH LYON — If the recommendations of City Manager Fred Yockey are adopted, the South Lyon City Council could reduce the proposed 1981-82 budget by $49,000 and apply the savings towards the city's water and wastewater system debts, easing the burden on city residents.

LYON — An effort to move the water tower currently planned for the Blue Cross/Blue Shield (BCBS) complex at Old Plank and Grand River in Lyon Township has been dropped because of a lack of time.

SOUTH LYON — The high school and middle school bands participated in the National-International Music Festival in Washington, D. C. over the weekend, and while there they were filmed by NBC for possible inclusion in a May 28 or June 4 TV program.

NOVI — Three four-year terms on the council are up for grabs, and with Mayor Romaine Roethel bowing out to serve as national president of the American Legion Auxiliary the two-year mayoral seat also will be vacant. Incumbent council members, who initially indicate they were unsure as to whether they would seek re-election, have now announced intentions to run.

Reflections on a Spring morning

Editorial opinions of The Record are developed and written by Publisher Jack W. Hoffman and Editor Jean Day with occasional contributions by other Record staffers.

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

For Pete's sake, I don't have to read James Herriot's new book, "The Lord God Made Them All," to start blubbering. All I have to do is pick up the Green Sheet of this newspaper to have myself a good cry.

Pete's gone; so is Suzie and Coke.

They're probably wandering around out there, someplace, lost and lonesome and hungry. And all the while their owners...the kid searching the neighborhood for the umpteenth time and the lady who keeps the porch light burning...worry, advertise and wait.

There's more love and sadness in the lost and found column than most of the books my wife has piled beside our bed. If she can get misty-eyed over Kate's 18th century affair, her husband ought to be able to cry a little over real-life tragedies in our Green Sheet.

Has anyone seen Mandy? Medium size black and white shaggy dog?

And what about Rusty? He's a rust and white colored Britany Spaniel.

I don't have to know the names of their owners to know they're my kind of people.

They are the pet owners who empathize with the letter writer who describes the sad creatures abandoned in a parking lot; who love the TV ad in which puppies bury a youngster in fur and kisses; who detest the waltzing cat ad; who are repulsed by shopping center pet cages; who, when a pet dies, promise themselves "never again" and then go out and buy another; who feel panic whenever they see a loose dog tread its way through traffic; and who don't like to visit dog pounds for fear of taking home the whole batch of dogs and cats.

There's a lot of love wrapped up in the lost and found column. A whole lifetime of caring.

Have you seen Coke? A Saint Bernard who limps on the right rear leg due to surgery?

Coke, Mandy, Rusty, Suzie and Pete are more than just names in a want ad. Each is a story of love and comfort, and even the stranger can appreciate their loss and wish their owners a happy ending.

Walk for Mankind needs community's support

To the Editor:
The Northville Jaycees and Jaycettes have worked long and hard to prepare for this year's Walk for Mankind. Last year Northville raised thousands of dollars for the underprivileged of the world.

We were the second largest in the state in contributions to Project Concern. We're hoping to top that this year in spite of the economic times.

There have, however, been some setbacks. Northville Downs has given over its lot to an auto dealers' show, necessitating a change to the Big Boy parking lot for starting the walk.

And, more seriously, Dr. Petter has withdrawn its support from all walks. This means that in order to provide lunch for our walkers as we've done in the past the Jaycees must foot the entire bill themselves.

When you're talking about 500-800 walkers, that's a lot of money. In an effort to help offset expenses we have solicited from local businesses for contributions. Mr. and Mrs. Long of Long's Plumbing generously donated and we sincerely thank them.

I only hope the other business contacted will have second thoughts and call Bob Korr, 349-8769, to offer their support. We need you to help us help the underprivileged of the world. We who have so much need only give a little of our time, our money and ourselves to make a great impact on the wonderful world around us.

Michele Buelow

She's concerned for dogs

To the Editor:

I would like to address the increasing stray and abandoned dog problem in this area.

Friday night, May 15, a black and white shaggy mixed breed female dog was abandoned at the NBD office on Seven Mile Road. This dog was in deplorable condition and refused to leave the parking lot, perhaps waiting for her owners to return. A concerned individual waited with her for some time until I got off work. I then brought the dog home for the night and took her to the Humane Society the next morning. I have two dogs of my own and cannot take in any more.

The following Monday, again on my way home from work, I spotted a pregnant stray that I had seen running at large for several weeks, crossing Seven Mile Road at Northville Road. One had a badly cut pad and could not walk very well. I coaxed these two into my car, took them home for the night and in the morning turned them over to the township police.

The two incidents mentioned above are indicative of the many irresponsible pet owners that we have in this area, and herein lies my complaint. The innocent animals are not at fault here, people are. I'd like to point out that it is a misdemeanor to abandon an animal in the state of Michigan. Anyone witnessing such a crime should record the license number of the vehicle and call the police immediately. These people can and should be prosecuted!

Also, freeroaming dogs can cause automobile accidents, bite people, suffer from diseases such as distemper and mange, and worst of all add to the overpopulation problem through indiscriminate breeding. Strays also suffer from hunger and lack of proper shelter. This suffering will end only when pet owners recognize and accept responsibility that goes with ownership. The only way to attain the desired result is to spay or neuter. Those who cannot afford the standard veterinary fees for sterilization may utilize the low cost spay and neuter facilities that local humane societies provide.

Lastly, the most common example of irresponsibility is a dog without tags. The dog without tags cannot be returned to its owner and is likely to be euthanized at the Humane Society or dog pound. Domestic animals cannot fend for themselves; they must depend on people who care.

Libby Williams

Poll soliciting protested

To the Editor:

At the November, 1980 election, I was handed information to influence my vote approximately 60 feet from the entrance of Moraine School where I vote.

Upon entering the school, I made this fact known to an election official who agreed that the law forbids such activity within 100 yards of a polling place. The official stated that several people were asked to move but their replacements slowly encroached on the entrance to the school. I suggested that perhaps the police should be called.

At Tuesday's election, I was again subjected to the same experience the same distance from the Moraine School entrance.

It would have been ridiculous to suggest that the police be called since I believe the individual handing out the information was a policeman and he had the support of two township officers in scout cars at his side at the time.

Does such a law exist? If so, who is responsible for its enforcement?

Sincerely,

(Name Withheld by Request)

She supports schools

To the Editor:

I was very surprised to read in The Northville Record that people did not want the millage to pass because our school system is not good.

Our schools certainly will not get any better by cutting our budget to one-third its original size.

In fact, they will become much worse. If the millage on July 28 does not pass, what will happen? Maybe less hours in a day, less classes to choose from, less teachers, more students in classes, or no sports.

Who knows for sure to what extent the cuts will be.

Darlene Zuby

Support Good Friday closings

To the Editor:

The King's Daughters sent the following letter to the Northville Chamber of Commerce:

This letter is concerning the signs which the Mizpah Circle of the King's Daughters places in windows of the Northville business places for Good Friday closing.

In distributing these signs this year, questions were raised as to why some merchants close and some do not.

In view of the meaning of Good Friday the King's Daughters Society feels it would be most appropriate if all businesses would close between the hours of noon to 3 p.m. We would appreciate it if the Chamber of Commerce would give this consideration and pose the suggestion to the local merchants.

Marge Bolton,

president;

Ruth Stroh,

corresponding secretary

Letter writer questioned

To the Editor:

This is in reply to Ellen Sponseller (May 20, 1981) who was so appalled at the actions of the Northville Township Police Department with their racial overtones.

I would like to know why she is living in Northville and not in Detroit. There are many homes for sale reasonably priced as well as reasonable rents. In addition she would not see anybody walking the streets.

As usual, the police are damned if they do and damned if they don't.

Yours truly,

Dorothy M. Preston

Getting Down to Brass Tacks

By CHRIS JOHNSON
School Board President

Introductions are the hardest part

This is the start of a new column in which I will address issues that affect the Northville Public Schools. This is a chance for me to give you information and facts about our school district. I want to detail for you some of the events that occur inside and outside of the school district which affect the children in the classroom. I'll be putting the cards out on the table so that you will be able to evaluate the performance of the school board and your school system.

There are many decisions which must be made soon by the school board. During this time there is a need for straight talk and willingness to listen. The school board and the community must carefully examine the actual financial condition of Northville and its school system. There is a need to define the goals, resources and expectations of the community and the schools.

The board realizes that the millage defeat represented a significant message. The board also is aware that this leaves the school district an operating millage of 25.9 mills. The board will adopt a balanced budget for the 1981-1982 school year reflecting this millage rate. There are no threats in this budget, just the facts of what will happen with a 25.9 mill budget.

After examining this kind of program, the school board has decided to ask the community for help in assessing the resources and expectations of the district. The Citizens Advisory Committee will be presenting recommendations to the board in the first week in June.

The board will be taking a look at those recommendations at meetings scheduled for June 8, 11, and 15. The school board is hoping to detail a proposal for the voters after those meetings. An election has been scheduled for the end of July if approval is given from the Wayne County Election Commission.

If there are particular questions or issues you would like to see discussed in the column please write to me at home: 47234 Dunsany, Northville, or at the schools: 501 West Main Street, Northville.

Board adopts two resolutions

The township board of trustees, not usually given to passing resolutions of opinion or declaration, considered eight of them last week and adopted two.

Resolutions are often adopted by a government and sent to other bodies which may be concerned about an issue. The township had six such items on its agenda, and simply received and filed them, taking no action.

That is the usual procedure.

But it adopted two of its own — one declaring the first two weeks of June "Wayne County Charter Awareness Weeks" and another proclaiming May "Save a Life Month."

The first was at the request of the county charter commission, which has until mid-June to draft a wholly-revised charter for the county, to be voted on in November.

The second was formal recognition of a program the township has been participating in since the beginning of the month in which health information packets are made available to residents.

Supervisor John MacDonald requested passage of the charter resolution, while the board was acting on the recommendation of Business Manager David Leiko in the "Save-a-Life" resolution.

News from Lansing

Geake favors tax relief legislation

By R. ROBERT GEAKE
State Senator

Following last week's resounding defeat of Proposal A by Michigan voters, Governor Milliken and members of the legislature are taking a serious look at the immediate and long-range implications of the special election results.

There have been increasing demands by overburdened taxpayers for property tax relief. Yet over 35 percent of Michigan's registered voters went to the polls and turned thumbs down on a quarter billion dollar tax saving proposal by a resounding 72 percent to 28 percent. Northville voters followed the state trend with the same 72 percent to 28 percent in the city and 67 percent to 33 percent in the township. Seven other property tax relief proposals also have been rejected by state voters.

I believe the taxpayers of Michigan want property tax relief. But they want a property tax cut, not a tax shift as Proposal A would have invoked with an increase in the sales tax from 4 percent to 5.5 percent.

They also want a responsible tax cut package that would reduce both property taxes and the size of government without completely gutting important state programs. I believe the Tisch proposals are too extreme in that they slash some $2 billion from an already meager state budget, the result of Michigan's ailing economy.

So far, the governor and the legislature have not come up with an acceptable "mix" for this extremely complex and highly emotional issue.

Will there be a tax cut after Proposal A? I believe there will.

Most members of the legislature, as well as the governor, agree that property tax relief legislation must be enacted. However, there is disagreement over how the cuts should be made and how deep the cuts can be.

Discussions already are underway which center on several proposals that would implement a property tax cut without providing for any replacement revenue to the state.

In a speech to my colleagues on the senate floor on the day following the vote, I recommended that the legislature adopt a tax cut program which 1) reduces the assessments to some level below the current 50 percent of true market value, 2) does not ask the people to give up constitutional protections by voting for an increased sales tax or graduated income tax, and 3) applies to all classes of property so as not to require the expensive and cumbersome homestead affidavits, and helps businesses as well as homeowners.

There is no question that the issue of property tax relief must be resolved by the legislature in a manner that is responsible and has credibility with the taxpayers.

It is unfortunate, however, that the legislature's time will continue to be occupied with the property tax issue while the extremely serious problems of restoring Michigan's faltering economy and rebuilding the state's declining business climate and vanishing job market go unattended.

Mary Lou Battley

Local delegate attends AAUW meet

Mary Lou Battley, a delegate representing Novi and Northville members of the local branch of the American Association of University Women, attended the Michigan Division's 59th annual meeting in Traverse City May 1-3 and, as a delegate, voted to take the state AAUW position on "Freedom of Choice."

The Northville branch delegate was among 250 women from 74 state branches attending.

The local Branch reports it is proud that Mrs. Patricia Francek was one of those recipients to be awarded a grant for graduate study at the University of Michigan for a Master of Social Work degree.

One of AAUW's priorities has been to raise money for scholarships. It was announced that Michigan members are second only to California in per capita giving, and second to California in receiving grants for projects and scholarships from the association.

Delegates now are encouraging their members to inform their legislators that "the Michigan Division of the AAUW opposes any action taken in the name of morality or righteousness which threatens the individual freedoms guaranteed by the Bill of Rights."

They also state, "Michigan Division AAUW opposes any legislative or congressional action which designates the time at which human life begins."

President Mary A. Greife pointed out, "It's not popular taking on the Moral Majority, but if we don't stand up, who will?"

She also noted, since government will be looking to the states to provide services and programs for its citizens, AAUW members must be active to help states set up the framework for these programs.

"As educated women," she stated, "we must work to be part of the decision making in this country."

After much debate, Ms. Battley reports, a vote for "no position" was made on Proposal A. It was felt the membership and division were too varied across the state to take a stand.

Developers sought for senior citizen's complex

With fingers firmly crossed in the hope that the economic climate is not totally against them, backers of a proposed senior citizen's complex for unused county land in the township are sending out proposals to potential developers this week.

The Wayne County Economic Development Corporation (WCEDC), holders of a 99-year lease on over 100 acres of the child development center on Sheldon between Five and Six Mile, has developed a list of prospective developers with the experience and ability to take on the project and is contacting them this week, Township Supervisor John MacDonald said Thursday.

"They're going to try to generate some enthusiasm for the idea among the people who could make it reality," he told the board of trustees.

Original plans for the complex relied heavily on federal and state revenue sources to back construction, but a long delay in obtaining lease approval from the county pushed application for such funds back and makes such funding tougher to get in light of new federal and state policies.

But a new proposal, still hopeful that some public monies may be found, though in smaller amounts, has been developed and the WCEDC is pushing ahead with original plans while continuing to study potential sources of funding.

Trustees call meeting to discuss police issues

Police millage, contracts and handling of a recent murder case at Swan Harbour Apartments will be discussed in a public session of the township board of trustees May 28

The board called the special meeting last Wednesday to consider the three issues dealing with the police department

Defeat of a requested one mill increase for police services by only 81 votes last week virtually assures the lay off of one township police officer, perhaps two. A CETA employee working for the department was to be laid off in September, regardless of the outcome of the vote.

The close vote may inspire the board to try to gain a millage increase at a later date this year. The department would have to lay off one officer according to the current year budget, but since that layoff has not yet occurred, if the township waits until October, as planned, it may have to lay off two.

The union contract with police officers expired earlier this year but the labor negotiations were postponed pending the results of the election. With a firm understanding of the funds available, the board is expected to ask that negotiations begin soon.

Charges of racism in police procedures that may have contributed to the death of a Detroit man May 11 spurred the board to discuss the matter publicly to "clear the air" according to Clerk Susan Heintz.

A statement by township police chief Ronald Nisun that state hospital security forces are called whenever blacks act suspiciously along Seven Mile drew charges of racism from some quarters, particularly at the hospital

Yusuf Abdul Karriem, 36, was pronounced dead at the mental health facility May 11. He was taken to the psychiatric hospital when a security man from the facility, called to Swan Harbour under the procedure Nisun outlined when Karriem was seen acting strangely in the parking lot, claimed to recognize the man

It was not until after Karriem had died after suffering an apparent cardiac arrest in the admitting area of the hospital that township police Patrolman John Sherman found a bullet hole and determined that the man had been shot. Sherman had been looking for identification Karriem was not a patient at the mental health facility.

Nisun blamed the circumstances of the incident — latest census counts show that of just over 700 blacks in the township, over 500 are residents at the hospital, while another 150 are inmates at Phoenix Correctional Facility on Five mile.

Nisun said department contact with blacks is largely limited to escapees from the hospital, saying that the average one-per-day "walkaway" rate is the reason for the police procedure, followed not only by the township but also by other local police agencies.

The chief said the location, lack of blood from the wound and the security force's claim of recognition were all contributing factors in the error.

There was no board discussion of the incident at its May 14 meeting, the Thursday following the murder. Nisun's comments were published May 13.

Board passes law 6-1 to regulate self serve

Gasoline stations in Northville Township have four months to install fire safety equipment in compliance with a new ordinance approved by the board of trustees Thursday night.

The board less-than-enthusiastically adopted the ordinance in a 6-1 vote with all members present. Clerk Susan Heintz was the only one to oppose institution of the controls, but was not alone in expressing some concern about it.

"I have some reservations about it," said Trustee Richard Allen. "I think it might be a little overkill; it's quite an expensive installation."

Moreover, he said, the time frame allowed in the draft of the ordinance was much too short.

"I would think anyone would be hard-pressed to comply within 60 days," Allen said.

His objections to the ordinance proper echoed, somewhat, those of Heintz, who asked more careful consideration of law, drafted at the request of township fire chief Robert Toms.

"Here we go again," Heintz said, "passing another ordinance. Is this really a problem? We've only got three gas stations right now, and we're requiring these people to comply with fairly extensive requirements in 60 days."

The ordinance requires gas service islands be covered with a canopy arrangement containing fire extinguishing equipment, that pump hoses be shortened so that they cannot be pulled out from under the canopy, and that stations with combined self-serve and full-serve operations locate self serve pumps closest to the offices.

Toms was not present for discussion of the ordinance, although he was present earlier in the meeting (the agenda item did not come up until nearly 11 p.m.), but had argued forcefully for regulation in earlier sessions, citing heightened fire hazards in the increasingly common self-serve operations.

Board discussion followed the line set by Heintz and Allen, with Supervisor John MacDonald and Treasurer Richard Henningsen wondering at the necessity of such a law.

"I've never heard, or read about, any of these things burning up," MacDonald said. "That's not to say it doesn't happen, of course. Some sort of control seems to be in order."

Trustee James Nowka pumped for the ordinance, however, laying his belief in the fire chief.

"I look at it this way: it doesn't cost us, the township, a thing — except to publish it of course. I feel comfortable with the fire chief's recommendation," Nowka said. "You have to keep in mind that self-serve operations present a greater fire risk than most stations. People pump gas into bottles, they smoke while they're pumping, they spill it, it's unbelievable some of the things you see in these places."

After further discussion, Nowka made the motion to adopt the ordinance, extending the time limit for compliance to 120 days instead of 60. Henningsen seconded and the board voted it into law.

The 120 day provision follows normal publishing requirements for institution of new laws.

At Cooke PTA fashion show

Moms and daughters in style

Cooke Junior High School mothers and daughters were treated to a preview of spring-summer fashions last week at a mother-daughter luncheon sponsored by the Cooke PTA.

Approximately 300 women and students attended the event which featured fashions by Claire Kelley.

Mrs. Kelley served as fashion show coordinator/announcer while Cooke mothers and daughters modeled the latest spring and summer styles.

Cooke student models were Stephanie Hoover, Lesley Lane, Karen Hoffmann and Lisa Felicelli. Cooke mothers modeling spring fashions were Sonja Lane, Susan Anger, Sheila Hoover and Nancy Roffelot.

Fashions ranging from beach wear to evening dresses were featured in the show.

The women and students also enjoyed a lunch consisting of Maurice salad, rolls, coffee, milk and dessert.

Many Cooke students whose "moms" could not attend the event, "adopted" moms for the day or brought grandmothers and friends.

The event, deemed a "roaring success" by PTA members and Cooke students, will most likely be held again next year, according to show coordinators.

The cost of the luncheon was $3 for adults and $1.50 for students. Proceeds will go to the PTA which will use the funds for purchasing video tapes.

King's Mill club plans June event

By JEAN DAY

Plans for a rare day in June are being completed at King's Mill cooperatives. A gigantic flea market with circus entertainment is in the works. King's Mill's 450 families have been invited to participate in the big event from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. June 6 in the center of the complex behind Jamestown Circle units.

The newly organized Women's Club of King's Mill is sponsoring the day which will include an auction and several cake walks.

Planned as a project for the entire cooperative, members are hoping the public also will attend. In addition to usual flea market wares, there will be arts and crafts items and home baked goods. Dorothy Hadac, general chairman, is assisted by Bernice Henk and Kay Keegan. They report that hot dogs, coffee, cold drinks, popcorn and cotton candy will be sold "at nominal prices" while the King's Mill circus wagon sets the fun mood with music.

In case of inclement weather, the event will be postponed until the following Saturday, June 13.

Bernice Henk also is president of the King's Mill Women's Club, which was organized in February of this year. Marilyn Rhotor is treasurer and Jane Wise secretary. Various projects and activities have been planned to get members together. In April Mrs. Keegan, executive director of the Northville Chamber of Commerce and a King's Mill resident, spoke on the goals of the chamber; in May Berenice Ellis, another cooperative resident and co-owner of Bookstall on the Main, spoke on current books.

A dinner theater outing, cards and Christmas decorating demonstration already are on the schedule for the future. Club meetings are held on the second Monday of each month at the clubhouse.

Country Girls head for 'the barn'

Barbara Williamson, whose husband Daniel converted a barn on West Nine Mile into an eye-catching home last year, will be hosting the annual potluck picnic of Country Girls Garden Branch at noon Tuesday. The Williamson home will be one of the attractions on the September 24 Northville Home Tour co-sponsored by First Presbyterian Church Women's Association and Northville Historical Society.

New officers of the garden branch will be installed at the meeting Tuesday with Zo Chisnell assuming presidency. Other new officers are Pat Eden, vice president; Flo Morris, secretary; and Pat Nixon, treasurer.

In May the Country Girls toured the Birmingham gardens of Mrs. Hans Schjolin, which were started in 1951 on swamp land by the Rouge River. The banks now are filled with wildflowers and spring bulbs. The hostess told club members that towering 50-foot evergreens had grown from seedlings transplanted from a shoe box. It is Mrs. Schjolin who supplies wildflowers sold at the annual Cranbrook plant sale.

Herbs for cooking and smelling on sale

Pat Kitchen, a member of the Herb Society of America's Southern Michigan Unit along with another Northville resident Jamie Hove and former resident Barbara Scantlin, is inviting local herb fanciers to attend the free herb plant sale being held by the unit from 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. this Thursday at Franklin Village Community Church.

She promises the sale will include a wide variety of herbs for both culinary and fragrance gardens, including such favorites as chives, thymes, mints and scented geraniums. An information center and sale of unusual books on herbs also are planned.

The bride-elect is a 1973 graduate of Walled Lake Western and graduated from Schoolcraft College in 1978. She is employed by Providence Hospital.

Her fiancé, a 1973 alumnus of Northville High School, graduated from Mo-Tech in 1977. He is employed by Novi Motive.

A wedding date has been set for June 20.

WNFGA hosts state president at annual meet

The Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association hosted Michigan Division President Mrs. Paul (Millie) Machuga at its 45th annual meeting celebration at the home of Veronica Daraban.

Mrs. Machuga cited the Northville WNFGA chapter as "a working branch and one to be proud of" and presented pins to new officers.

She noted the branch's many achievements in civic improvements, scholarships, and charity donations.

During the past few years, the Northville branch has won many first place awards in both the Michigan and National divisions for civic improvements, horticulture therapy and flower shows.

The branch also has contributed to Mill Race Historical Village, donated funds for junior high school improvements and most recently has donated $1,000 for improving the high school entrance.

Each year the chapter offers scholarships to high school seniors who live in the district.

For the past few years the branch's Greens Mart, selling wreaths in November, has been the source of income for the scholarships, civic improvements and other charities. For 1981-82, the group has budgeted $2,100 for Mainstreet '78 contributions and $1,143 for scholarships.

Pictured at left are newly installed officers — front row, Karen Ross, treasurer; second row, from left, Olga James, secretary; Barbara O'Brien, civic improvements chairperson; Pat Kitchen, second vice-president; back row, from left, Helen Single, ways and means chairperson; Mary Whiteside, corresponding secretary and June Lafferty, president.

PTA-PTSA News

Parties, concerts fill last days of school year for students

EDITOR'S NOTE: The monthly Northville PTA/PTSA column which has appeared in The Record the last Wednesday of each month since September has been compiled by volunteer Jackie Payne. She has coordinated material from the publicity persons in each elementary and junior high school throughout the year. The following is the last column for the 1980-81 school year. The PTA-PTSA news will resume in the fall.

June 2. Karen Hooper and Jayne Hillinger have planned a special salad and dessert menu that will be provided by the PTA for the Amerman staff.

The following day, June 3, will bring two special activities. In the morning there will be the Sixth Grade Breakfast for those Amerman students who will be going on to junior high in the fall. This is an important time for these students as they prepare to move on to the next phase of their education and their personal development.

COORDINATING COUNCIL

As the school year draws to a close, so does our 1980-81 PTA/PTSA.

Our year encompassed the following:

- disseminating voting information for the November 4th election (for the school involved portions);
- Founders' Day Dinner (March 26th), the success of this function due to the expert chairing by Sandy McRae;
- dispersing information for the April 4 millage election;
- dispersing ISEP data pertaining to Northville Public Schools Special Education Programs in regard to federal budget cutbacks.

I thank each council member for their time and efforts (and their understanding family members). My appreciation and thanks goes to each principal and teacher in our district and to the board of education and administrative staff of the Northville Public Schools.

My appreciation also goes to The Northville Record and staff for its cooperation in allowing our organization to inform the community of our functions and activities.

I thank the community for its support and interest in the young people of Northville.

Wishing next year's council members a successful year.

MaryAnne Russell
President

AMERMAN

Special activities are scheduled for these final weeks of the school year. Some of them are "thank you's" for jobs well done.

The teachers' luncheon will be held

That afternoon the Safeties Party is scheduled. Those many dependable students who have stood at street corners even on cold or rainy mornings and helped to insure the safety of our students are being feted as a small thank you for their big efforts over a long period of time.

On Friday, June 5, comes the annual ice cream social that all Amerman families look forward to. This year's event will feature two cake walks and a clown toss, as well as the usual generous servings of ice cream. Sandy Trosien, Nancy Smith and Sheila Norgren have planned the social, but many other parents have contributed their time and efforts including baking cakes, scooping ice cream, selling tickets, etc. — this is truly an All-Amerman activity.

Our PTA has had a productive year under the very able leadership of Sharon Lang. Such activities as the Book Fair, the Science Fair, the Young Authors' Program and the visit by the "colonial lady" are the product of efforts and funding by the PTA. And the social activities it has sponsored have encouraged interest in the school and furthered the spirit of community among our families.

Peg O'Doherty

MORAINE

An Art Fair and Ice Cream Social will be held June 2 from 5:30-8 p.m. Art projects of sketching, sculpture and painting by students of Shirley Talmadge can be viewed while enjoying hot dogs and ice cream sundaes sold at pre-inflation prices. The Pepsi Challenge

TIPS ON TOOTHBRUSHES

Q. My husband insists on keeping the same old worn out toothbrush. Can't this be harmful?

A. Worn and unclean toothbrushes can indeed be harmful. Worn bristles do not clean the plaque from teeth effectively, and the frayed ends can irritate gums. Toothbrushes not rinsed properly, and put away damp make excellent breeding grounds for bacteria and mildew. Brushes should be rinsed well, and after removing any excess water, left to dry thoroughly between uses. Buy your husband a new toothbrush. The price tag is small for helping keep his teeth healthy.

This column is presented in the interest of better dental health. From the office of A. Allen Tuchklaper, D.D.S.

PTA-PTSA groups plan final events of school year also will be offered. Taste the two colas at no cost and let your tastebuds decide which one you prefer. Jeanne Parkinson and Pat Stringer are heading the event.

A fifth and sixth grade track meet under the direction of Karen Turner will be held June 6 from 4-6 p.m. at the Northville High School track. The events are the 50-yard dash, softball throw, one-mile run, running long jump and 440-yard relay (two boys, two girls). Ribbon awards will be given for the first through fifth places in individual and relay events. There will be separate competitions for fifth and sixth graders and girls and boys.

A Recognition Day assembly will be held June 10. Students will receive certificates for perfect attendance, physical education awards, service squad certificates, etc.

A PTA sponsored all-school roller skating party will highlight the morning of June 11. In the afternoon, class picnics at school and nearby homes will celebrate the final day of classes.

The annual PTA luncheon will be June 12 in the library. Shari Daniels heads the event which will include Maurice salad on the menu. The luncheon is in appreciation to the teachers and staff for all the extra things "beyond the call of duty" they have done for our children throughout the school year.

Officers are Margie Sievert, president; Cndie Metz, vice president; Karen Poulos, recording secretary; Barb Kowalski, corresponding secretary and Carolyn Abramovich, treasurer. Installation of these officers was held today at an Appreciation Tea, where more than 100 parent volunteers, school helpers and bus drivers were honored by the school and PTA. Principal Donald Van Ingen presented honorees with Alumni Association cards in appreciation of their unselfish help and time.

Kathy Elick and Julie Goebel have arranged for an assembly tomorrow entitled "Kids On The Block." The program is produced by the Wayne County Intermediate School District. Educators and mothers of handicapped school children put on the program using life size puppets — each of which has a different handicap.

The puppets interact with the students explaining their handicap and answering questions. There will be two performances of an hour each.

The last monthly PTA meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. June 1. Thanks to all who have worked with President Karen Poulos to make this a very successful year. Welcome to anyone who would like to serve on the board this fall. Contact Margie Sievert, president elect.

SILVER SPRINGS

The "Helping Hand" program is now being implemented. Parents should take the time to explain the program for the safety of the children.

The mud is leaving Silver Springs — the grounds committee has met with William Hood. The first order of business will be to eliminate all "muddy" areas to make the playgrounds a cleaner place for children to play. Upon completion of the safety requirements, the grounds committee will address its attention to the playground equipment.

As the school year winds down, the Silver Springs students are involved in many projects:

The students are publishing a magazine through the S.S. Media Center. As of this writing, authors have been interviewed and the final publication date is slated for next week.

The student council has been formed and will continue in September. The purpose of the student council is to improve relationships within the school.

The R.I.F. (Reading I Fundamental) Program has been completed with the children participating in various programs toward the receipt of free books for themselves.

The PTA has discussed a number of plans for the sixth grade annual picnic to be held within the next two weeks.

All of the Silver Springs business staff will be honored at the annual PTA luncheon June 3. The luncheon will be held in the Media Center and will recognize the extra-special work the Silver Springs staff has contributed to make the 1980-81 school year such a success.

Upper elementary students will be participating in a spelling bee. First prize is a dictionary.

We are pleased to note that one of our parents, Glenna Davis, is running for the Northville School Board. She is a past PTA president and has contributed greatly to the various programs of our school.

Many thanks to Phil Demsky, Janet Rigney, Maggie Oxley, Ray Balutowitz and Dwight Seagreen for the huge success of the upper elementary musical, "Pictures at an Exhibition," May 7.

Michigan Week was celebrated by school groups performing in the Sawmill parking lot with Silver Springs students participating Friday in gymnastics and music. Student art projects have been on display during May in various downtown business locations.

Silver Springs students also enjoyed the Children's Balloon Lift. Balloons were sent aloft with the name of our school and the child. Last year we heard from people in Ohio and New York states who had received balloons.

Janice Henderson and Chris Modrack are mothers of sons. Janet Rigney still is waiting for her baby's arrival. Mrs. Modrack and Mrs. Rigney are planning to return to Silver Springs in September; we hope Mrs. Henderson also will join us again.

The school has received a letter from Governor Milliken commending the students and staff for their achievements attained in the Michigan Educational Assessment Program.

The Holiday Shoppe committee has published a list of items needed for the 1981 Children's Holiday Shopping Day. Items — all made by parents — may be brought to school any day through October.

Special thanks for all the time and effort expended on behalf of Silver Springs by our out-going PTA President Barbara Ibach. She has contributed much of herself to the smooth running of PTA projects during the 1980-81 year. She is already involved in many projects for next year.

The entire Silver Springs community extends best wishes to Principal Marcia Wiss on her pending marriage to Marc Scarr on June 28. She will be rejoining us in September.

WINCHESTER

Winchester School welcomes its new PTA officers for the 1981-82 year. They are Betty House, president; Sherry Pearson, vice president; Nancy Woods, secretary; Sue Eppers, treasurer. We are happy to have them and know they will do an excellent job.

Winchester School announces its art and science fair to be held from 6-8 p.m. Thursday. Contributions will come from students in all grades. Parents are invited to come to view our children's works of art and marvel at their creativity.

Headed by Mary Price, Winchester Elementary Glee Club had its last performance of the year in Northville on Main Street May 20, singing for parents and passers-by. Mary Minors' movement education class did some numbers with bamboo rods and parachutes.

The performers moved on to serenade Allen Terrace senior citizens during lunch. Songs were ethnic and of springtime. Children then were treated to lunch at Little Caesar's.

What beautiful flowers were sold at the annual plant sale. Everyone involved worked hard to make it a success. Children helped grounds chairman Judy Bowman plant flowers in beds around the school for beautification.

Career Day was fun for all. A breakfast for teachers and career representatives opened the event. Some career choices were veterinarian, actress, state policeman, engineer, reporter and airline stewardess.

Kindergarten round-up has been completed and most recently the activities have moved to the other extreme — our departing sixth graders. They visited Meads Mill Junior High and were given a tour of their future school, meeting their future counselors.

Parents of sixth graders were invited to do likewise May 21, making the transition from Winchester to Meads Mill easier because of the orientations.

The departing PTA wishes to thank all the wonderful moms and dads who were so generous with their time and talent and so willing to help in an exciting and successful school year. We wish all a happy and fun-filled summer. See you next year.

Deb Lau

COOKE JUNIOR HIGH

Sixth graders from Moraine were given a tour of the school May 15. David Longridge met with the future students and explained some of the rules of the school.

Cooke's first mother-daughter fashion show luncheon was held May 20. Claire Kelly presented the show as those attending lunched on Maurice salad. The turn-out was great and it is hoped this will become an annual event.

At a potluck dinner last night for Cooke Band members and their families certificates of participation were presented.

Our PTA will honor our teachers June 4 at a luncheon. Outgoing and incoming PTA members will prepare many delicious salads and desserts.

Hope everyone has a very happy summer.

Sue Hinds

MEADS MILL

A very positive and successful year is drawing to an end at Meads Mill Junior High, thanks to the leadership of our excellent principal Ron Horvath.

Sandy Craig, director of the Cooke-Meads Mill mixed chorus, will direct her group at Meads Mill May 28 and at Cooke June 4.

The band under the leadership of Gary Gandolfi and the chorus held a joint concert here May 26. Both the band and chorus have been busy during May. They performed in the city May 19 and 21 for Michigan Week and on May 17 at the dedication of Old Village School. They and the jazz band performed in the Meads Mill Festival of Arts May 6. The jazz band is a group of volunteer students who practice at 7 a.m., an hour before school begins.

Gary Gandolfi volunteers his time to direct these students — and the result is exceptionally good music.

Parents of students entering Meads Mill for the first time in the fall of 1981 had an orientation night May 21. Their children had toured the building earlier.

The PTSA slate of officers has been approved at the meeting preceding the Festival of Arts. Executive officers for 1981-82 are Nancy May, president; Ronnie Cambra, vice president, Ann Guldberg, treasurer, Sarah Deal, secretary.

A group of Meads Mill authors went to the University of Michigan April 29, participating in the Young Authors program. They were Heather Davis, Cathy Sawyer, Michelle Khoury, Sharon Savageau, Kelly Wool and Steve Kozler.

Michiganians needn't travel to California to see Hollywood stars in person this summer since they'll be performing in Michigan theaters.

Suzanne Somers of television's "Three's Company" and Garvin MacLeod of "Love Boat" are just two of the big-name performers who will be appearing in the state.

From now to Labor Day, Michiganians can choose from hundreds of theatrical performances ranging from light-hearted musicals to comedies and dramas. The settings are just as diverse; renovated barns, open-air pavilions, historic opera houses and university playhouses.

Here are details on 15 popular Michigan summer theaters, prepared by the Automobile Club of Michigan in alphabetical order:

—ADRIAN: Crosswell Summer Musical Theatre, Crosswell Opera House, 129 East Maumee Street. "West Side Story," "Kiss Me, Kate" and "Hello, Dolly!" each run for two weeks, Wednesday through Sundays, in Michigan's oldest opera house. Curtain time is 8 p.m. Tickets are $6 adults, $4 for students and senior citizens. Phone: (517) 263-5674.

Incredible bread machine at Twelve Oaks

The Incredible Bread Machine, a modern-day fairy tale now on a one-year nationwide tour, will be presented at the Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi on May 28, 29, 30 and 31.

The free 15-minute play is performed by two mimes, narrated by an elfin baker and features magic, mechanical wizardry and many animated special effects. Children as well as adults marvel at its many lights and moving parts.

"The Incredible Bread Machine" is the legend of Tom Smith, a toy inventor whose goal in life is feed the hungry people of the world. Tom accomplishes this task by inventing the Incredible Bread Machine, a fantastic device that brings him much fame and fortune.

However, Tom does encounter some unforeseen intervention. He manages a magical escape, and the story ends on a happy note which also offers an educational message in free enterprise for the audience.

This modern day fairy tale also deals with two very newsworthy topics: individual freedom in contemporary society and the relationship between business and government regulation.

"Tom Smith and His Incredible Bread Machine" is totally sponsored by the Free Enterprise Institute of the Amway Corporation as family entertainment. The show contains no commercial or product mentions.

The Amway Corporation's Free Enterprise Institute is sponsoring the show for the following reasons:

- Free enterprise offers "the little guy a chance."
- Promoting free enterprise is a personal commitment based on the company's founders' philosophies.
- The "Incredible Bread Machine" helps to further Amway's commitment to educating the public on the free enterprise system.

Show times on Thursday, Friday and Saturday (May 28, 29 and 30) are 11 a.m. and 2, 4, 6, 7 and 8 p.m. Show times on Sunday (May 31) are 12:30, 1, 2, 3 and 4:30 p.m.

Business Briefs

WILLIAM H. HEBERT has been named assistant center manager of the Twelve Oaks Mall regional retail development in Novi. The announcement was made by Robert C. Larson, president of The Taubman Company, Inc., co-developer and leasing/management agent of Twelve Oaks.

Hebert will assist Center Manager William Clogg in the direction and administration of management activity and daily center operations at Twelve Oaks.

Hebert brings an extensive background in retail management to his new post. Previously, he was associated with Hudson's Northland and Sturwald's Apparel Showcase in Brighton in positions ranging from security investigator to assistant store manager.

Originally from Detroit, Hebert holds a bachelor of science degree in business administration from Wayne State University. He and his wife reside in Brighton.

Located at Twelve Mile and Novi Road, north of Interstate 96, Twelve Oaks features the merchandise of four major stores — Hudson's, Lord & Taylor, JCPenney and Sears — as well as a comprehensive mix of some 180 specialty shops and services.

TWO NOVI COMPANIES were among the five state winners in the Michigan Week Product of the Year competition. Presentations were made at the Historical Society of Michigan "Salute to Business Pioneers" dinner at the Pontchartrain Hotel in Detroit on May 20.

The Redford Fireplace Corporation of Novi won the "Consumer Product" of the Year award for its energy-oriented fireplace insert, designed to fit into existing masonry fireplaces. The award was accepted by President Roland T. Gerhart.

The state winner in the "Non-Consumer Product" of the Year category was Emblematic Products of USA, Inc., of Novi for its colorful line of personalized organizational emblems — pins, badges and logos that tell a story. Company artist Cally Thompson accepted the award.

William Clogg, manager of the Twelve Oaks Mall and a director of the Novi Chamber of Commerce, was in charge of the local competition for the Product of the Year Awards.

Fencing enhancement

Traditional post-and-rail fencing defines space for a landscape yard within this homeowner's extensive property. A similar fence around the property line is unpainted to emphasize its natural look. The International Fence Industry Association suggests that homeowners consider how their new fence might be designed to blend in with surrounding landscape.

Whack blossoms to keep 'em flowering

For best results with petunias, take your shears to them — they'll love you for it.

"It sounds drastic, but sometimes the best thing you can do for a petunia is whack off its head," says Lowell Ewart, Michigan State University horticulturist.

The first occasion for cutting the plants back is on planting day, he says. "The best plant for transplanting into the garden are the short, stocky green ones that have no flowers yet," he says. "But people don't like to buy them that way. They want to flowers on the plants so they know what they're getting."

So buy the flowering plants, he says. But when you are ready to pop them into the garden, pinch or snip off the main flowering terminals. A plant with a single dominant flower stalk tends not to produce a lot of side branches, he explains. By July, it's tall and spindly-looking and usually flopped on the ground.

Cutting off the flower top of the plant at planting time stimulates it to produce lots of side shoots. The result is a fuller, more upright plant and more flowers.

The second occasion for drastic measures usually comes around mid-July, when most petunias are beginning to look a little ratty. Cut them back to within about eight inches of the ground, Ewart advises. Feed them with a solution of one tablespoon 20-20-20 per gallon of water and water them well if the weather is dry. All this forces them into a new flush of growth, and in about 2 1/2 weeks, they'll reward you by coming back into flower. They should continue to bloom until they're killed by a hard freeze in the fall.

This midsummer shearing is especially valuable for the large-flowered (grandiflora) petunias, but the smaller-flowered (multiflora) types also will benefit, Ewart notes.

Any kind of petunia will perform best if planted in fertile soil and full sun, he points out. Spade one pound of 10-10-10 or two pounds of 5-10-5 into each 200 square feet of soil before planting, he advises. Work the soil to a depth of six to eight inches. Then plant the plants at the same depth they have been growing, and water well.

You don't have to wait until Memorial Day to plant petunias, Ewart notes. Petunias are classified as hardy annuals — that is, though they won't be able to survive a hard freeze (temperatures of 22 to 24 degrees F), properly conditioned plants will tolerate frost and temperatures between 28 and 32 degrees. (To condition petunias, grow them in a coldframe for a week or two at temperatures around 40 degrees.)

Early planting is not only possible but advisable. Plants bought in late April or early May generally are smaller and stockier than plants bought later in the month, which usually are getting spindly and are in full flower. Small plants planted early tend to produce more side shoots and flowers.

Insects are rarely a serious problem on petunias, but slugs can be devastating. Poison baits are available that can be placed around the bases of plants to intercept slugs on their way to a midnight snack of petunia foliage. Families with young children or inquisitive pets in the yard might choose to set out saucers of beer instead. Ewart says this approach is just as effective in controlling slugs without posing a threat to anything else.

To avoid late summer and fall problems with fungus diseases, choose varieties that are classified as weather-resistant, Ewart advises. This may mean either that they bounce back quickly after heavy rain or that they are not actually disease resistant.

Generally these traits occur most often in multiflora petunias, such as the satin and resisto series and the varieties sugar plum, blue mist, cover girl, rose joy and cherry tart. The grandiflora recoverer series and the varieties happiness, pink cameo, white frills, blue lace and penny candy also show weather resistance.

A good way to check petunia performance for yourself is to visit the All-American Selections all new variety trial garden at Michigan State University, Ewart suggests. This year more than 100 petunia varieties will be on trial and display there. A visit to the garden will enable you to see for yourself how the varieties stand up under Michigan conditions.

The garden is located east of the horticulture building on the MSU campus.

Borers can destroy landscape birches

Planting a European white birch in your front yard is like putting out the welcome mat for the bronze birch borer.

And chances are good that, sooner or later, this small metallic beetle will take you up on your invitation.

The first sign of a birch borer usually is wilting and dieback of the uppermost branches. Unless the insect is controlled, the tree gradually declines and in two or three years is dead.

Keith Kennedy, Extension entomologist at Michigan State University, explains that tree injury is caused by beetle larvae's tunneling and feeding in the inner bark or sap-conducting vessels and in the cambium, the region of tree diameter growth.

The girdling of the trunk or branches interrupts sap flow downward to the roots and destroys the tree's growing tissue.

The larva is white, slender and legless, with a light brown head capsule and two brown, hardened, pincer-like parts on the tip of the abdomen. Mature larvae may measure up to 1 1/2 inches long.

Larva hatch from eggs laid beginning in mid- to late June. Areas of recent mechanical injury or other damage are most attractive to the adults as egg-laying sites. Eggs hatch after about two weeks and the young larvae bore into the tree and begin to feed.

Most larvae mature by fall and construct oblong cells just below the cambium or in the thick bark. They pupate in late April or early May of the following spring and emerge as adults in mid-June to start the cycle again. The 1/2 inch, D-shaped exit holes of emerging adults are a positive sign of borer activity.

Once larvae are beneath the bark, most insecticides available to homeowners can't touch them, Kennedy points out. Therefore the adult stage must be the primary target of any chemical controls. The aim is to prevent egg laying or control the newly hatched larvae before they enter the bark.

The recommended chemical for borer control is Lindane. Kennedy advises applying one spray to the bark and foliage the first week of June, to catch emerging adults. The adult flight period may last for six weeks or more, so he also advises spraying twice more at three-week intervals.

Combine chemical controls with recommended cultural practices, Kennedy adds.

"Trees under stress are more susceptible to borer attack than trees growing vigorously," he points out. "Fertilize susceptible trees yearly and water deeply during dry periods to reduce stress and promote growth."

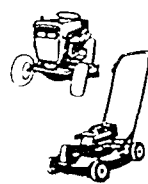

Mulching around the base of the tree serves two purposes: it eliminates the need to mow close to the tree and so helps prevent mechanical injuries; and it helps to retain soil moisture and so reduces stress from dry weather.

Heavy infestations of other insects, particularly birch leaf miners and aphids also can stress birch trees and lower their resistance to borer attack. Controlling them can be an important step in preventing or reducing the severity of borer attack.

All dead branches or trees should be removed and destroyed or used as firewood before adults begin to emerge. This will prevent overwintering borers from infesting new trees.

The best and easiest way to avoid birch borer problems is to avoid planting susceptible trees. European white birch is extremely susceptible to borer attack.

Questions? Write to Attorney Larry Korn, c/o Sliger-Livingston Publications, 104 West Main, Northville, Michigan 48167. Questions will be answered on a space-available basis. Answers in this column are directed at specific facts and may not apply to all situations.

Q. Is a will typewritten by the deceased and witnessed by only one person a good will?

A. I doubt the will is a good will. The typewritten instrument should have been signed by the testator (the person making the will) in the presence of two subscribing witnesses. The two witnesses should have witnessed and signed their names in the presence of the testator. I would suggest that you see an attorney because if the testator had hand written a holographic will, it might have been admitted to probate as a good will.

See an attorney who is familiar with probate law and wills to go into this matter more thoroughly. It is sad that so many people are penny wise and pound foolish. Most attorneys will assist clients in preparing wills for relatively small estates with fees from $35 to $100.

A will is a very important document since it is your instrument giving away earnings of a lifetime. See an attorney have it done properly.

Q. I know that it is too late for 1981 to protest the increased tax assessment on my house. What can I do to keep the taxes from going up? The assessor seems to raise my house by thousands of dollars every year.

A. Next January when the tax rolls are in and the property assessor has filed the amount that your house is to be assessed for the following year, go to the assessor's office and ask to look at the new assessment. While you are examining the assessment for your house, also ask to examine the assessment for the houses of your neighbors. Go around the neighborhood and check houses that are comparable to yours, take their addresses, and go back to the assessor's office and check those assessed valuations.

Go to your local realtor and ask if they could get you a computer printout of the prices that houses have sold for in your community that are comparable to yours. This will give you an idea of what the actual market value of your house is.

If houses are selling for close to what your house is assessed, and the houses are comparable, then you have a legitimate complaint to make to the assessor. Also, if you find that houses comparable to yours are being assessed at a lower valuation than yours, this is another area for which a complaint can be made to the real estate assessor for your city or community.

If the assessor does not reduce the assessment on your property, then you may protest his assessment and ask for a hearing before the board of review in your community. They will give you notice of the time and place to appear. If you can get a group of neighbors together to file a protest on their assessment along with yours, this might assist you in obtaining a lower valuation of the assessment. It might also be a good idea to retain an attorney who is familiar with real estate assessments and hearings before the board of review. You also will have the opportunity to appeal the decision of the board of review to the Tax Court of Appeals.

Jesus

As children we are taught to love and adore Him.
As adults we often forget and ignore Him.
In our hour of need and despair
We call upon Him to be there

Why is it that we are so blind
Only to call Him at this time.

Look around where ever you are
See His love near and far.

We should learn a valuable lesson
From His love without question

Jesus died on the cross
Showing His love for all of us.

So let us now bow our heads
Not asking but thanking Him instead.

Patricia Garafola

A Special Someone

Never I had
A man treat me so kind,
Your caring and giving,
Those wonderful times,
Although much did we lose
Suffering many a day
But together we stood,
No one stood in our way.
When you sometimes were gone,
It's your eyes that I missed,
Like Bahamian oceans
Carrying greyish-blue mist.
Please don't ever leave me
For I'll need you, my love
Forever and ever,
Be my special someone.

A forward look

Well, it's over.
Christmas has been and gone.
The tree is down, lights are out,
Festivities done.

We've got a brand new year
With sales and resolutions,
A couple of wars and maybe revolutions.
A new boss man to see us through,
Promising Utopia for me and you.

Spring will soon be here,
When a young mans' fancy
Turns to what the girls have been thinking about all year.

So let's look past the snow and ice,
And think of beautiful green.
Mainstreet '78 will start again soon,
And that will be something to be seen.

The Man

He came as a stranger unnoticed by the world rejected and despised
The apple of God's eye
He spoke the word and many were cured.
He spoke of love and peace and freedom for all mankind with a mind full of peace and a heart full of love.
He spoke of his father up above.
He was gentle, peaceful, and kind.
He healed the lame.
He healed the blind.
He never condemned or criticized sympathy was in his eyes.
He could easily understand.
He had no name
but, was known only as the man.

Buddy Dennis

The Game

(No, I'm Not God)

It's not up to me
To play God
Or to try and save all mankind.
I can only search to try
And find my own peace of mind
But, for you my brother
I wish you the very best
And you my sister
I wish you sweet blessed eternal rest
This you can know
Love can only grow
When from our hearts
We all truly give
For love is the key -
And love will set us all free.
(God is love— love your neighbor as yourself)

Buddy Dennis

Fall

Crunching crackling gold under my feet,
Falling softly, wavering, into the street,
Some still linger, holding onto their host
Seeing which ones can stay the most.
Winds whirl them round,
Out of their piles,
Children sweep and rake
And chase them with smiles.

Some crushed to powder,
Some still green,
All of them beautiful,
A joy to be seen.

Rain makes them slippery, soggy and soft,
Waiting for others to drop from aloft,
The trees no longer bear their weight,
But Spring will come, and they can wait.

Kit Henderson

The Pipes of Pan

I kiss you where you're golden.
I caress you where you're green.
I dance upon your grasses and whistle with your winds.
I pray before your arbors and psalm about your dawns.
I praise your moon and starlight and whisper with your eves.

I steal
your leaves for garments.
your flowers for my wreaths.
My nest is of your rushes.
My drink comes from your springs.
I pluck
my food from branches and the tiny hidden straws.
You are my life
my mother.
You are my Earth
I love.

Mustang netters down W-Six rival Harrison

By JOHN MYERS

Northville boys tennis team "closed out" its dual meet season on a positive note when the Mustangs downed Western Six Conference foe Livonia Churchill, 5-2, last Wednesday at home.

The Mustangs may have one more dual meet, though, and that could change the meaning of the so-called last dual match. Northville's contest with Farmington Harrison May 14 was rained out and only if that meet has a direct bearing on the league race will it be rescheduled.

Northville's overall record now is 5-8 and it is 5-4 in league action.

Against Churchill, the Mustangs split the four singles matches, but made it a clean sweep in the doubles.

The team of Tony Nader and Steve Ouellette defeated Churchill's John Galligan and Chris Flaherty, 6-3, 6-0, in number-one doubles. In number two, Matt Abraham and Chris McCormick hooked up to down Andy Vassallo and Jim Corbett, 6-1 and 6-0, while in number three Dave Babich and Brian Shake teamed up to defeat Jeff Olds and Benny Cheung in straight sets of 6-1 scores.

At number-two singles, Rick Getzen beat Paul Gothard, 6-2 and 6-3, while at number three Richard Schohl downed Pete Diamond, 6-4 and 6-3.

The only losses of the day occurred in number-one singles when Jeff Williams was defeated by Dean Nascimben in straight 6-4 sets. Northville's Tim Frader lost a tough battle when Jerry Yamarino defeated him in the longest match of the day, 6-2, 4-6, and 8-6.

In summing up the year thus far, Mustang coach Dick Norton has been pleased by the play of his doubles teams.

"I thought at the beginning of the year that if our doubles teams didn't improve we would be in some trouble. We didn't win a doubles match in the first three meets, but since that time our doubles teams have been the most consistent winners," Norton praised.

"I've been most pleasantly surprised," he added.

In other action for the Mustang netters, last week Monday they were downed in a tight match by Western Six opponent Waterford Mott, 4-3.

In the top three singles matches, all of them went to three sets and all were won by Mott. In each of those matches, the Mustang netter would win the first set, but would drop the next two.

All three doubles teams were winners, though. At number one, Ouellette and Nader downed Brooke Davis and Laine Reynolds, 7-5 and 6-3. Abraham and McCormick defeated Ken Klestine and Mark Kelley, 7-5, 4-6, 6-3, while Babich and Shake were victorious at number three by prevailing over Hicken Bourouri and Greg Durocher in straight sets of 6-1.

Norton noted, though, the team should have won the number-two and number-three singles matches against Mott.

During the May 15-16 weekend, the team competed in the Michigan High School Athletic Association Class A Regional at Ann Arbor Huron.

The doubles team of Babich and Shake performed the best by reaching the semifinals before losing to the number-two seed team of John Devine and Berend Schmit of Ann Arbor Huron, 6-3 and 6-2.

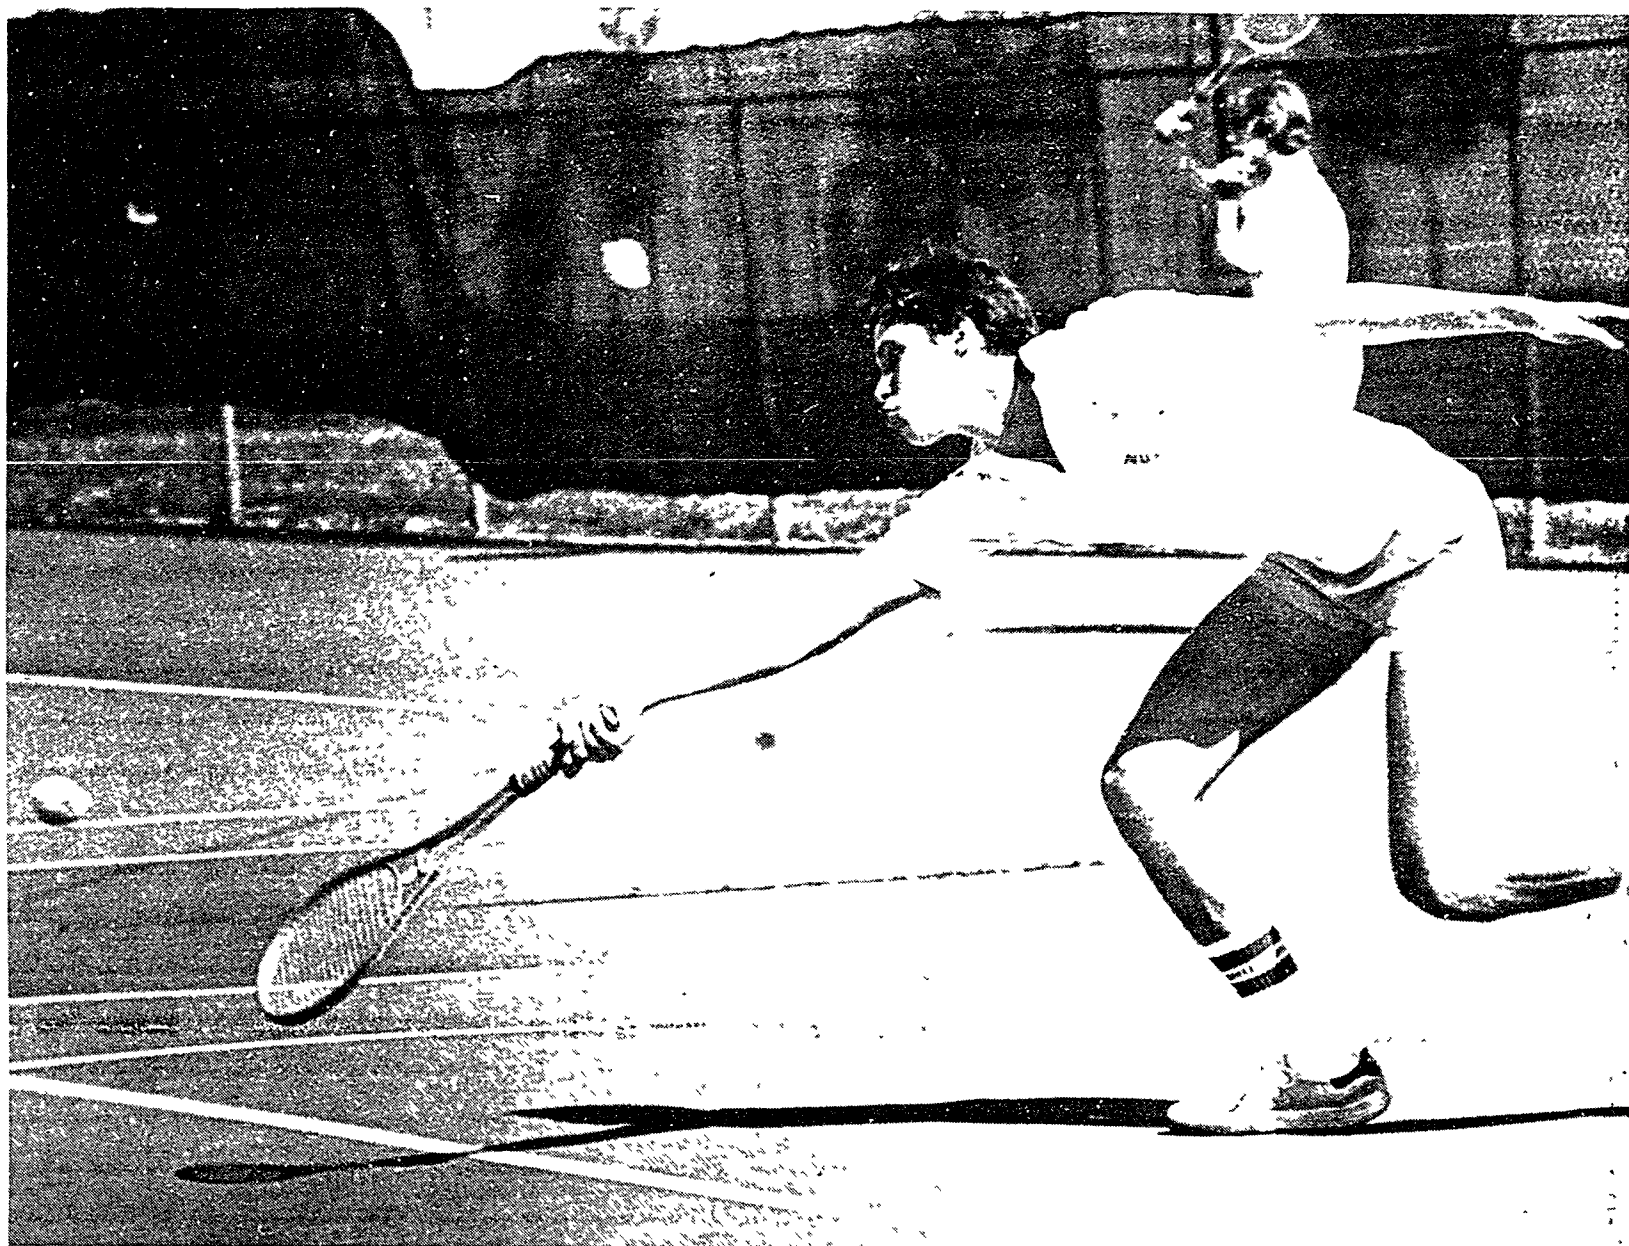

Babich and Shake defeated the team of Hal Phillips and Troy Wisheart of Temperance-Bedford and the team of Phillip Burgard and Sameer Desai of Ypsilanti to reach the semifinals.

Soccer team still in race for crown

Instead of being in the driver's seat heading into its last league game of the season, the Northville girls soccer team needs a little help from Livonia Churchill today to claim the West Suburban Soccer Association title.

The Mustangs, now 10-1-3, had another successful week by winning two of three contests, but it was a tie against Bentley last week Monday which has put Northville one point behind league-leading Livonia Stevenson.

Today, the Mustangs battle against Livonia Franklin, while Churchill takes on Stevenson and Northville coach Ron Meteyer is hoping for some help from Churchill.

"It's hard to say. If (Churchill coach Ed Dudek) has everybody there and healthy, they have a chance," Meteyer said. "Last year (Churchill) beat Stevenson."

"It's hard to assess an intercity rival. Churchill has a chance to determine the champion even though they can't win it themselves," he added.

"They will want the victory not necessarily for us, but for themselves. There is no love lost between the two schools," Meteyer said.

He added Churchill is an aggressive team and if Churchill takes the play to Stevenson, then Stevenson might back off which, he said, it has a tendency to do.

"That's how we beat them (Stevenson)," Meteyer said.

In order for Northville to win the title Stevenson must lose. If Stevenson ties and Northville wins, then they both share the title. If they both win, then Stevenson wins the title and Northville remains in second place.

Last Friday, the Mustangs thoroughly dominated against Brighton and won 4-0. But, Meteyer said the game could have been more lopsided if Northville could have connected on its numerous first half scoring opportunities.

"If we would have kept the ball low, instead of up high, the score might have been something like 6-0 or 8-0 in the first half," Meteyer said.

Northville scored right from the opening kick off with Elizabeth Bohan netting the goal on an assist from Tish Johnson, who passed the ball from the extreme right side of the field.

At 19 minutes into the first half, Jacques Nixon tallied another Northville goal as she pulled the goalie off to one side and shot the ball into the open net.

Meteyer said Brighton pulled into a defensive stance in the second half and it took a while before the Mustangs got another goal on the board.

Kris Petit scored her second goal of the year at the 27-minute mark of the second stanza. She netted her goal into an open net after a corner kick by Jenny Gans.

The final Northville goal was netted by Chris Keutzbeg on a pass from Marje Muller. Keutzbeg's goal came at the 34-minute mark of the second half.

For the game, Northville had 20 shots on goal compared to none for Brighton. The Mustangs had four corner kicks to Brighton's one and no goal kicks to Brighton's 21.

Mustangs ousted from district play

It was an even week for the Northville girls softball team as it won two and lost two games last week with its season ending at the pre-district tournament. Plymouth Salem defeated the Mustangs 16-6 in a pre-district contest last Friday and eliminated Northville from further district play in the Michigan High School Athletic Association Class A Softball.

However, the Mustangs did sweep a doubleheader from Farmington Harrison, 12-1 and 15-10, last Thursday in a Western Six Conference matchup. In the squad's only other game of the week, the Mustangs were edged 9-8 by Livonia Churchill last week Wednesday in another league contest.

In the pre-district contest, the Mustangs were leading 6-5 after three innings of play, but Salem came up with two big innings to seal the victory.

"I think if we had our whole team against Salem it might have made a difference," Mustang coach Tim Lutes said.

Lutes said he was working with a patch-work lineup and was missing Sherry Robis and Amy Abraham.

However, the team jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the top of the first inning. Judy Orr had the big hit in the inning by slamming a two-run double and Darcy Lovelace followed with a run-batted-in single.

Salem came right back in its half of the first by also scoring three runs on a couple of walks, a single and an error.

Despite getting two hits in the second inning, Northville couldn't score again until the third when it tallied its final three runs of the game.

Robin Miller had the big hit of the inning when she pounded a two-run double and then scored on a single off the bat of Carol DeBoutte. Salem also didn't score in the second, but added two in the third on a couple of hits.

Salem broke the game open in the fifth with five runs on a couple of errors, walks and hits. It ended the game in the bottom of the fifth with six runs on a couple of walks, two singles, a triple and a pair of errors errors.

Against Harrison, the Mustangs ended their league play with a 4-6 record by sweeping the doubleheader.

"Defensively we were pretty consistent... pretty sound. Especially in the first game," Lutes said. "We were able to hit the ball consistently."

Pitcher Sue Keiser went the distance in both games and Lutes complemented the job she did.

"I thought she did a real good job. She was always in the strike zone. She got a little tired, but she hung in there," he praised.

In the 12-1 rout of the first game, Northville scored twice in the first inning with Matteucci and Robis picking up the RBIs. The Mustangs added three more in the second with Keiser getting one RBI and the others scoring on a fielder's choice and a passed ball.

In the third, the Mustangs exploded for five runs with Abraham getting an RBI single, DeBoutte getting an RBI on a groundout and Orr smashing a two-run homer.

Northville added two more in the fourth, but Harrison broke the shutout bid of Keiser by finally crossing home plate for one run in its half of the inning.

In the second game, Northville opened its top half of the first with two runs on a run-scoring single by Nancy LaPlante and an RBI double by Miller.

After being blanked in the second and third innings, Northville exploded for eight runs in the fourth with Abraham, Keiser, Orr, Robis and LaPlante each batting in a run and Matteucci driving in two with a double.

The Mustangs scored four in the fifth with a two-run triple by Orr being the big blow. Northville closed out its scoring by adding one run in the seventh when Robis scored on a groundout by LaPlante.

Harrison scored one run each in the first, second and fifth innings, added six runs in the third and two in the sixth.

Northville lost a tough game against Churchill and Lutes thinks the team might have been a little overconfident in the contest.

It took awhile for the Mustangs to put any runs on the board against Churchill.

Ward to participate in roundball classic

Northville boys basketball standout Dave Ward will join many of the area's finest high school players, which includes two Michigan All-Americans, to participate in the Fourth Annual International Basketball Classic Saturday and Sunday at Schoolcraft College.

Joining Ward on the Michigan Amateur Athletic Union Junior Men's team will be Sammy Vincent of Lansing Eastern, Eric Turner of Flint Central, both All-Americans, and Livonia's Greg Wendt of Detroit Catholic Central.

The Michigan squad will battle its Canadian counterpart from Quebec at 8 p.m. Saturday and again Sunday at 3 p.m.

The Detroit AAU and the Metro AAU teams will play each other in preliminary games both days. The games are being sponsored by the AAU and American Basketball Association with the proceeds going to the athletic fund at Schoolcraft and towards sponsoring the Michigan team in the National AAU Championships.

Advance tickets, $4 for adults and $2 for students, are on sale at all Sears stores and the Schoolcraft Bookstore. Tickets at the door are $5 for adults and $3 for students.

Further information may be obtained by calling the physical education office at 591-6400, ext. 480.

Application forms are available at all junior high and elementary schools for the Third Annual Northville Summer Basketball Camp.

Cost of the camp is $25. It is open to fourth through 12th graders. The camp begins June 22 and runs until July 15.

YOU CAN USE A SNAPPER AS A "MULCHING" MOWER OR AS A SUPERIOR "BAGGING" MOWER.

That's an important option to have when grass gets too tall or lush for mulching. When you add an inexpensive Mulcherizer to your SNAPPER you convert it to a mulching mower. It then chews up cuttings so fine they become lawn food and you don't have to rake or bag. But unlike one function mulching mowers you can remove the Mulcherizer and use your SNAPPER as a superior bagging mower. Built in quality features on every SNAPPER mower includes full length solid steel axles, large rear wheels and easy cutting height adjustment.

SNAPPER mowers are worth more because they do more and their price is competitive with other quality mowers.

Jill Matteucci stretches to make the grab

It wasn't until the fourth inning when the Mustangs scored twice on a single by Matteucci, a double by Robis and a single by Lovelace.

Northville added four more in the sixth with the big blow coming on a grand slam by Lovelace. The Mustangs finished their scoring by adding two more in seventh on a two-run homer off the bat of Robis.

Churchill scored three times in the first, four times in the fourth and added single tallies in the fifth and seventh innings.

It was a tough loss to take since the Mustangs had beaten Churchill earlier in the year 18-8.

"We entered the game flat and a little overconfident. It took us awhile to get scoring," Lutes said.

However, the coach was pleased with the fourth-place finish in the league by his squad.

"That is pretty good for all of the young kids," he said.

Mustangs unsuccessful

It wasn't a very good week for the Northville boys baseball team.

The Mustangs lost four games in all and they could have easily won a few of them if they had received the right breaks.

Northville started with a 5-2 loss to Walled Lake Western last week Tuesday in a Western Six Conference battle. Then, last Wednesday the Mustangs fell to defeat at the hands of Livonia Churchill, 4-2, and were downed by Redford Union, 3-1 the following day. The final loss of the week came in the pre-district tournament last to, again, Walled Lake Western, 14-8.

In the first Walled Lake Western contest, Western won the game by scoring all five of its runs in the bottom of the first inning.

"We have always had one bad inning. In general, it's been a pattern and it usually includes a lot of walks," Mustang coach Bob Kucher said of a trouble which has plagued the team all season.

Northville opened the scoring in the first inning when Andy Dimitroff walked, stole second, then stole third and came home on the overthrow by the catcher.

Western tallied its five runs in the first on three walks, two hits and an error.

The Mustangs scored their final run of the game in the fifth inning when Steve Norton singled, was sacrificed to second by Greg Wolfe, stole third and came home on double steal after Dimitroff had walked.

"We lacked hitting. We had only four hits and they were by four different people," Kucher said.

Bob Thompson went the distance for Northville. He allowed five runs, two of them earned, walked seven, struckout two and allowed seven hits.

"Basically, outside of the first inning he pitched well and settled down," Kucher said.

In the Churchill contest, Northville scored a single run in the second inning after Churchill had taken a 2-0 lead in the top of the inning.

Steve Denhoff walked, stole second, moved to third on grounder and scored on a suicide squeeze by Brian Pratt. Northville scored its final run of the game in the third after again Churchill had scored twice in the top of the inning.

Dimitroff was hit by a pitch, stole second and moved to third when the ball went to centerfield and scored on the same play when the throw from center hit him in the back and bounced down the leftfield line.

"He's (Dimitroff) been playing real good. He's responded well and is our lead-off hitter. He has good speed and has stolen quite a few bases," Kucher said.

Joe Peters went the distance in this contest by allowing nine hits, four runs, of which three were earned, walking three and striking out three.

"He pitched a pretty decent ball game," Kucher said.

The Mustangs broke the ice first against Redford Union by tallying once in the first on a walk to Dimitroff, who stole second and went to third on wild pitch, then scored on a single off the bat of John Ackley.

Klausler places 29th at Indy

Northville's Tom Klausler's first appearance in the Indianapolis 500-mile race Sunday was a short one as he fell out early and placed 29th in the 33-car field.

Klausler went out on the 60th lap with gearbox trouble. His 60 laps covered a total of 150 miles on the 2½-mile track. His 29th-place finish earned him $27,372 for the day.

Klausler was one of 10 rookies entered in the field with the Rookie-of-the-Year award going to Mexico's Josele Garza, who crashed his car on lap 138.

Another Michigan rookie, Scott Brayton of Col-dwater, placed 16th in the field. He went out of the race on lap 174, but he earned $32,176 for his effort.

Veteran Mario Andretti was awarded first place in the race after it was ruled the unofficial winner, Bobby Unser, passed eight cars during a yellow caution flag.

The penalty for passing under the yellow is one lap. A protest was lodged by the team's of Andretti, teammate Gordon Johncock of Hastings, Mi., and A.J. Foyt.

Their protest was ruled valid Monday and Andretti was declared the winner of the race. However, Bobby Unser's team also filed a protest against Andretti claiming Andretti passed four cars under the same caution flag, but it was disallowed.

Andretti, who was disappointed about the way he won his second Indy 500, won $262,424 for the day. Unser won $168,674.

Redford won the game in the bottom of the fifth when rightfielder Denhoff tried to make a shoestring catch, but the ball got by him for a homerun.

Thompson was on the mound for the Mustangs and went the first three innings before having to leave the game because of a sore arm.

Joe Peters relieved Thompson and took the loss by giving up all three runs on six hits.

In the district game, Kucher had to use a makeshift lineup because he lost a few players to the prom night at the high school.

However, he said his team hung in there well against Walled Lake Western with the five boys he called up from the junior varsity squad.

Thinclads look toward league meet

Western Six Conference foe Livonia Churchill proved to be too much for the Northville boys track team to overcome as the Mustangs fell to defeat 95-37 in the squad's final dual meet of the season last Wednesday.

The Mustangs held their own in winning events by taking seven of a possible 16 first-place finishes, but it was a lack of depth that provided them with only two third places to close out their scoring.

Mustang coach Ed Gabrys noted the four big men he is counting on for the league meet today at Churchill were the prominent scorers.

Dave Ward, Scott Robins and Scott Dayton were all double winners with Clark Couyoumjian picking up the other first-place finish.

Ward again scored his victories in the field events by winning the long jump with a leap of 20-2, which Gabrys said was one of best this season. He also took first in the high jump with a height of 6-2.

However, Ward was shut out in shot put and the discus. Gabrys attributed lack of victories in those events to Ward's tendency to "roll his wrists over." But he should be alright for the league meet, according to the coach.

"Ward should be able to be in there at the league meet. We're hoping he has a good day."

Racing to victory in both the 100- and 200-meter dashes was Robins. He won the 100 in a time of 11.8 and took the 200 in a 23.6 clocking.

This is Robins' first real action since injuring his knee a few weeks back, but Gabrys said Robins should be ready for the league meet.

"The knee looked good," noted Gabrys, who observed that he would like to use Robins in both the long jump and high jump — the two events Robins normally competes in — but he's still unsure if the athlete will be up to it.

Distance runner Scott Dayton was the other double victor for the Mustangs as he took the mile (4:48.3) and the two mile (10:26).

"He's been ailing a bit. He has some allergies so his times were a little off," Gabrys said. Couyoumjian took the final first place for Northville by taking the 800-meter run in a time 2:00.5.

Gabrys said there was really no competition in the event. He added he wanted to see how Couyoumjian would run the 800 without having to double in another event.

Taking the third places for the Mustangs were Bruce Burry in the 100-meter dash in a 12.0 clocking and Dan Vogt in the 400-meter dash in a time of 55.2.

"(Burry) just got edged out," the coach said. "There was only two tenths of a second separating first, second and third in the 400."

Gabrys is pretty confident about the showing the team will turn in at today's conference meet and he is hoping to get a few breaks along the way.

"The guys who took first in (the Churchill meet) should do well. They are quality people. We're hoping to grab a few firsts," Gabrys said.

He added the team should get anywhere between two and four firsts in the meet and if the Mustangs can pull off a few other key places they might finish in the middle of the pack.

Gabrys also is looking for some key performances from his two seniors Ward and Robins.

"As seniors, I'm sure they're looking at this last meet as (a way to) go out with a blaze of glory. I think the seniors will do some amazing things," he said.

Mustangs lose final dual meet

Unfortunately for the Northville girls track team, the dual meet season ended just the way it began — with a loss.

The Mustangs fell victim to Western Six Conference rival Livonia Churchill, 85-38, in a meet last week Tuesday.

Despite losing, the girls made Mustang coach Bob Prom proud of their performance.

"Carol Bargert finally broke the 14-minute mark in the two mile. For her, that was her goal this season. The relay teams did a good job and Jeanne Stoddard looked very good in the 110 low hurdles," Prom said.

Bargert took one of the six first-place finishes by the Mustangs as she won the two mile in a time of 13:54.7. Paquette also claimed a first in the 220-yard dash with a 29.2 clocking. Mary Nutter copped a first in the 220-yard low hurdles with a time of 35.62.

Both the mile relay and 440-yard relay teams took first with the mile relay team winning with a clocking of 4:33.4 and the 440 team winning with a 56.59 clocking.

The only other first was secured in the field events when Hollie Raycraft claimed first in the shot put with a toss of 28-3 1/2.

Northville could only muster one second-place finish with Stoddard in the 220 hurdles with a time of 35.68.

The Mustangs took five third-place finishes to round out their scoring. Patty Jose was third in the long jump with a leap of 14-1, while teammate Stoddard was third in the 110 hurdles with a time of 18.4.

Vicky Arwady was third in the 110-yard dash with a 12.9 clocking. Tammy Selfridge was third in the 440-yard dash with a time of 1:06.74 and Laurie Coolman took the final third of the day in the 220-yard dash with a 29.92 clocking.

Today, Northville will compete in the Western Six Conference meet at Harrison and Prom is hoping the girls can finish in the middle of the pack.

"We would like to finish in the middle," he said. "It looks like it could well be Churchill and Walled Lake (Western) again for the championship."

"Plymouth Canton looked quite impressive. They could be a darkhorse," Prom added.

...Tennis

Abraham and McCormick won their opening doubles contest against Ron Payne and Rob Nystrom of Jackson in straight 6-3 sets, before losing to Dave Kimball and Todd Trout, 3-6, 6-2, 0-6.

The doubles team of Ouellette and Nader, along with Williams, Getzen, Schohl and Frader in singles, lost their opening round matches.

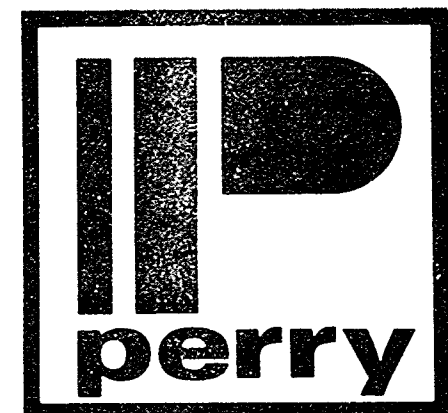

Against Plymouth Canton, Northville could muster only one victory in the 6-1 defeat.

Detroit Country Day proved to be too much May 12 as it defeated the Mustangs, 5-2, with both wins again coming in the doubles matches.

The Mustangs topped Walled Lake Western, 4-3, in a May 11 match which saw Northville win two singles and two doubles matches.

Northville had a scrimmage against Plymouth Salem Friday and will be participating in the conference championships today at Plymouth Canton. Action begins at 9 a.m.

The open swim hours are as follows: Monday through Thursday 7-8 p.m. for adults only; Monday and Wednesday is open swim from 8-9 p.m.; and Saturday is open swim from 1-2 p.m. and 4-5 p.m. The cost is 50 cents at the door.

Reye's run scheduled

Greenfield Village again is the site for this year's "Run for Reye's Syndrome" June 6 presented by the Livonia Family Y.

Persons interested in running in the five-mile race may stop by the Livonia Family Y, 14255 Stark Road, to pick up a registration form or may send in a self-addressed stamped envelope to have one mailed to them. Deadline is June 1.

Cost of the race, and to enter Greenfield Village, is $8 for each adult, $5 for the first child under 12, $4 for any additional children under 12 and $6 for children between the ages of 12-17.

Persons also may enter the day of the race, but the cost is $10 per adult and $7 per child.

The Livonia Family Y selects a children's disease each year to receive all of the funds and contributions made to the race.

Reye's Syndrome is a child's disease affecting all of the body organs — sometimes resulting in coma or possible death in some severe cases.

Lindsey Huehl is this year's Reye's Syndrome child and will be present at the race to share in the post-race activities. She has been affected by Reye's Syndrome since 1978 and has made remarkable progress since then in fighting the disease with the aid of drugs and rehabilitation.

Participants will be eligible for raffles after the race. Also, awards will include boat and train tickets to the grand champion male and female runner (four tickets each) and to the first through third-place finishers in all divisions (two tickets each).

All runners will receive a specially-designed T-shirt, refreshments, village admission ticket and discount coupons.

The Livonia Family Y is requesting participants come one-half hour before the race to Greenfield Village to pick up their packets and walk to the starting line at the athletic field, a quarter-mile from the main gate.

Soccerfest

A member of the Northville Charlie's Angles girls recreation soccer team battles her way between a couple of defenders. The Charlie's Angles team along with four other area squads competed in the Soccerfest '81 tournament at Schoolcraft College during the weekend in which 3,200 kids participated.

Area gymnasts place at state

Northville's Mandy Walts won an eight-place ribbon at the recently completed Amateur Athletic Union's State Gymnastics Meet that took place at the Gerald Ford Field House in Grand Rapids.

Competing for the Class II juniors team of the Farmington Gymnastics Center, Inc., Walts claimed her ribbon in the floor exercise event.

Kathy Heitert, also of Northville, competed in the AAU state meet in which a total of 64 girls were entered.

Walts and Heitert were two of four girls which qualified from the Farmington team to compete.

H-League leadership jammed

In H-League action the Mets, Expos, Braves and Pirates are all tied for the top spot with 3-0 records. The Padres and the Reds are next with 1-2 records, while the Cards and Cubs are tied with 0-2 records and the Giants and the Rangers are tied at 0-3.

In F-League the Astros and the Angels are tied for first with 2-0 records, while the Reds and Dodgers trail closely behind with 1-0 marks.

The Mets and the Pirates are tied at 1-1, while the Giants and Braves are tied at 0-1 and the Phillies and Padres are tied with 0-2 ledgers.

Here are H-League scores during the past week:
Expos 9, Cards 0: Randy Jones drove in three runs with a bases-loaded triple. David Felicelli got the only Cardinal hit.

Braves 13, Cards 8: John Frisbie hit a grand slam homer in the second inning for the Cardinals, while Chris Bowman collected three hits for the winners.

Pirates 5, Giants 1: Robert Richcreek's two hits and three runs-batted-in led the Pirate offense. Paul and Matt Smith collected the hits for the Giants.

Padres 12, Cubs 0: Mark Stephens and Darren Kehoe both hit two-run homers in the third inning to pace the Padres. Eric Billimoria and Jim Luther had the hits for the Cubs.

Mets 18, Rangers 0: A 17-hit attack by the Mets was led by Ray Jacques' four hits and five runs batted in. Siefried Shyu scored four runs.

Expos 11, Reds 8: Heath Meyers scored three runs and hit a homer to pace the Expos.

Braves 5, Giants 4: The Braves came from behind with four runs in the fifth inning. Mark Szalay led the attack with a two-run double. Matt Smith had two RBIs for the Giants with a first-inning double.

Pirates 4, Padres 0: Ricky Abramovich's second-inning single with the bases loaded proved to be the key hit in a pitchers dual. Robert Richcreek had three hits for the Pirates and Darren Kehoe got one for the Padres.

Expos 10, Rangers 3: Two hits each by David Huff and Mike Karfis were not enough offense for the Rangers as the Expos won their third straight. Zack Voelker's double and Randy Jone's triple in the fourth inning broke the game open for the Expos.

Mets 12, Reds 0: Brian Frellick and Steve Ventura each scored three runs as the Mets continued their heavy hitting and strong pitching.

Kuhnke honored

Northville's Elizabeth Kuhnke recently was voted the Most Valuable Player of the girls tennis team at Ladywood High School in Livonia.

Kuhnke will be attending Hillsdale College in the fall and will play for the women's tennis team.
