City buys First Street lot for house

City-owned Kerr House will be moved this month — but not to the lot originally selected at Randolph and High streets.

At a special meeting called following a closed session at 7 p.m. last Friday, city council unanimously approved purchase of property at 311 South First Street with the intention of moving Kerr House there as soon as possible.

Kerr House, purchased to serve as a senior citizen center, will be moved in an agreement with the postal service. The timetable calls for construction of an addition to the post office building, at Wing and Cady, to the west along Cady beginning August 1 on the property the house now occupies.

Originally, the city purchased the vacant lot on Randolph from former Northville resident John Canterbury for the move.

Federal funding for the post office addition contract, which provides the postal service will move the house, however, was delayed. When funding was approved in January of this year, the council found neighborhood opposition to the relocation had developed.

Residents of the Randolph area in the city's historic district strongly opposed the move when the city attempted to renew a variance granted by the board of appeals so that the house, when relocated, would face on High Street. Delays in funding the addition had caused the variance to expire.

The residents also attended council meetings to voice opposition to moving the house, a traditional one-story design, into the historic district to be placed amid Victorian-era dwellings.

Pressed for time, the council had two closed meetings last week to discuss buying alternate lots in the city.

Apparently, the First Street site was agreeable to the council, but the owners, Henry E. and Dorothy M. Hartshorne of 1031 Grace Court, had been away.

Following the closed session Friday, the council called a special meeting to accept the Hartshornes' offer to sell the property at 311 First for $29,500. Identified as lot No. 300, assessor's Northville Plat No. 4, the property now contains a house with a deep set-back. The council indicated Friday this would be removed.

The house is a shell-type garage home typical of those built during the depression-era to be lived in until a house could be constructed on the front of the lot. Its occupant for many years was Clara S. Spencer who died March 31, 1980, at the age of 91. The Hartshornes purchased the property from her heirs. The house has not been occupied since her death.

City Manager Steven Walters said Tuesday the move to the First Street location will save $5,000 to $6,000 over the initially planned move and restoration at the Randolph site. While mover's costs will be approximately the same, there will not be the charges to raise utility wires in the shorter move. The city also will save utility connection charges at the First Street location as sewer and water taps already are there.

Walters added that landscape and filling costs also will be less. These costs, he said, influenced the council in its decision to purchase the First Street site. He said the city had "looked at" a couple of other properties, but that this was the closest and offered the savings on moving and restoration.

Walters mentioned that the Hartshornes would have been interested in buying the Kerr House and moving it to the lot themselves. The city would have had to put the house up for bids and would have had timing problems with the post office contract, Walters said.

The Hartshornes had purchased the property as an investment from Carl Johnson Realty after Mrs. Spencer's death.

Name Wilkinson board president for second term

For the second time in her seven-year tenure on the Northville Board of Education, Karen Wilkinson will serve as president and chief presiding officer to the board.

She was unanimously elected to the post at the board's organizational meeting Monday night.

Wilkinson was elected to the board in 1974 and ran for a second term in 1978. She served as board president during the 1979-80 school year.

In addition to serving on the Northville Board of Education, she also is a member of the board of directors of the Michigan Association of School Boards, a post which she has held since 1978.

Wilkinson assumes the role previously held by Christopher Johnson, who was unanimously elected board treasurer at Monday's meeting.

Other board members unanimously elected to offices were David Llewellyn, who will serve as vice president and Douglas Whitaker, who will serve as secretary.

Newly-elected board members Jean Hansen and Glenna Davis attended their first official board meeting Monday. Hansen and Davis, elected to the board in June, replaced former board trustees Charles Peltz and Richard Barron.

The new board members had been administered the Oath of Office at the June 22 meeting.

One of Wilkinson's first tasks as president is to select board members to the five subcommittees — finance, policy, personnel, facilities and curriculum.

Subcommittee selections will most likely be made at the board's July 27 meeting. In addition, board members will be chosen to serve as representatives to the Economic Development Corporation and the Recreation Commission as well as serving as Title IX representative and MASA liaison.

In other business Monday, the board re-established the fourth Monday of each month as the regular special board of education meeting to be held at 7:30 p.m.

The board also will continue to rotate its meeting locations among the seven schools.

The board also readopted its bylaws and policy manual for the 1981-82 school year, renewed the district's membership in the Michigan Association of School Boards and its membership in the MASA Legal Trust Fund, renamed Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit as the official depository for the Northville Public Schools and authorized the superintendent or director of business and finance or appropriate principals to sign account checks.

Is there a Ford in our future?

Ford Motor Company's Northville Valve Plant will remain in operation "at least through September," according to a Ford spokesman.

Ford announced in November that the picturesque plant at the South Main bend would be closed by July with layoffs beginning in January, but the operation has been given a reprieve.

Woody Haines, of Ford's Dearborn public relations office, said Tuesday the decision of when, or even whether, to close the plant is not yet made.

"All I can really tell you is that it is operating and will continue to operate at least through September," he said.

He said he could not release a specific reason for the delay in the closing.

"It's a complicated decision, closing a plant," he said. "We really haven't made a decision on whether it will close, or if so, when it would close."

In making last year's announcement, Ford said valves would be supplied by outside firms. Asked whether Ford still considered that its best alternative, Haines said he was not sure.

"That much may be true (that outside suppliers could do the work of the plant)," he said. "There are a number of things involved here, one of them may be how and when to make a transition."

The valve plant, with its waterwheel and duck population, is the last of the village industries plants built by Henry Ford to remain in operation.

It employed 230 hourly workers and 25 salaried in November. Earlier in the week, a Ford PR person said he could not answer questions regarding the plant because "that's with our labor relations people."

Sanctuary or hazard?

Weeds fuel Silver Spring dispute

Rippling Lane residents oppose weed growth around this path to beach at Silver Spring Lake

Plants — either weeds or wildflowers depending on who is speaking — are growing as fast as tempers and fears in the Highland Lakes area.

"That's what they're calling a 'wildlife sanctuary,'" says David Craik, pointing to a wide strip of weeds and brush between his Rippling Lane home and Silver Spring Lake.

Craik's home is one of 15 Rippling Lane single-family residences abutting what the owning Highland Lakes Condo Association protects as what it calls a "natural area."

In some places, the growth is head-high.

"They (the condo association) won't trim 'em, won't let us trim 'em at our own expense, and now they're threatening to put up a fence between our 'lake-view' property and the lake...probably at our expense."

As of this week, the fence is no longer just a threat. Ray Thompson, Highland Lakes manager, said about 205 feet of chain-link fence is being erected along the southern edge of the area in dispute. The fence is going up as the result of an association board vote in June, he said, and is being paid for by the condo association, not the Rippling Lane homeowners.

Silver Spring is the only natural lake in Wayne County. Unlike the other bodies of water in Highland Lakes, which were created by gravel mining operations, Silver Spring is not new. It was here long before man arrived.

The controversial weed problem isn't new either.

Some Rippling Lane homeowners have been fuming about it for five or six years — ever since the condo association ordered Craik and his neighbors to stop cutting the weeds and demanded that their kids and kids of condo owners stop playing ball on a home-made diamond.

Craik and his neighbors argue that they paid a premium for their homes because of the lake view (the weeds weren't there at the outset, they note) and their homes carry resulting higher assessments, but they are unable to see the water because of the growth.

What's more, they claim angrily, "we've got to put up with a health and safety hazard that even the health department says is bad."

Condo association members retort that they are charged with the maintenance of property owned by the association, and that the area is a haven for birds and other wildlife that could not live there without the growth.

The dispute might not exist if the single-family property lines ran down to the lake. They don't. The condo association, which preceded the single family homes, controls a football-field-wide common "greenbelt" for use as park, recreation and open space around the lake.

The condo association, president Robert Russell notes, cooperates with homeowner's associations from sur-

Kerr House to be moved to First

The house at 211 Cady was purchased by the city in 1971 to be used as a senior citizen center. The official opening was in February, 1972. After seniors' activities were transferred to Allen Terrace, the house was rented to the Montessori program and later to individuals.

The city retained the name of the Kerr family, who had built the house, for it. One of the sons of the well-known family, Dr. Donald Kerr, an oral pathologist and cancer research specialist, died in 1979. He was preceded in death by Richard Kerr. Another brother, Frederick, is a Northville resident.

DPW Superintendent Ted Mapes said Monday he expects to have Kerr House moved by August 1. In the move, he said, the brick exterior will be replaced with aluminum siding. Mapes said he thought the house, which could be called a Cape Cod design, had been built in the early 1950s by Harley Cole.

He said New Era Construction Company already has been contracted for the move, which will be an easier one to the First Street site than to the Randolph one.

"It won't take a day to remove the First Street house," he declared, noting it does not have a basement. He said the lot, about 60 feet wide and 120 feet deep, will accommodate Kerr House nicely. Should arrangements not be closed in time for the August 1 move, he added, Kerr House temporarily could be moved to city property next door.

In discussions of the planned move, city council indicated it intends to move the house to the new property and then offer it for sale in order to realize the greatest amount of profit from the sale of the property to the post office.

The city intends to insulate the Kerr House and replace the bricks with aluminum siding, making it more similar to other houses on the street.

Kerr House is ready to for move around corner to First from Cady

She's board president

The board appointed Harold Hines, director of business and finance, to serve as the board's deputy secretary for the July 28 millage election in the absence of the board secretary.

In an update report on the millage campaign, Assistant Superintendent Nancy Soper told the board she was "a lot more encouraged this week than I was a couple weeks ago."

According to Soper, the millage campaign is well underway with members of the Citizens Advisory Committee going door-to-door to solicit support and more than 200 people making phone calls to remind residents of the upcoming election.

In addition, she said many people are stopping by the administration's offices to inquire about the millage and get additional information.

In other action, the board unanimously awarded a $28,987 bid to Lynn Equipment Company for the Cooke Junior High underpinning.

For the past few years, the northwest corner of Cooke has been plagued by a foundation settling problem which is causing a heat loss in two classrooms due to shifting in the building's foundation.

Funds for the bid approved by the board will come from a 1978 bond issue. Originally, $38,404 was encumbered for the purpose of resolving the Cooke settlement problem. The remainder of the funds not used on the project will later be used elsewhere.

City sends proposal for paving of Wallis

City and township officials are discussing methods to provide a paved street connecting Silver Springs Drive in the township with South Main in the city.

First proposed by owners of the industrial properties on Wallis Street, the idea is nearing reality as a result of city voter approval of bonds to repave South Main. The Wallis paving could be accomplished at the same time as the South Main at a lesser cost than if done separately.

The property owners along Wallis offered to pay for the work if bids are satisfactory.

But there are complications to the proposal due to the overlapping authorities of the two communities and the county.

Wallis, usually considered an extension of Gerald Avenue, is a part of the only street under township administration. All other township roads are either private or under county authority.

Attempts to have the county take over responsibility for the street have failed, township officials said. The railroad viaduct over the street fails to meet county standards for access by emergency vehicles, despite the evidence at a recent fire in the industrial park there that such vehicles have no problem entering or leaving the area.

A private trail on Highland Lakes property leads toward Wallis to a recreational vehicle parking lot and exits on Wallis. A few industrial sites border Wallis. The city owns and maintains a short segment beginning in front of the municipal DPW yard, under the viaduct to South Main.

When proposing the paving, Highland Lakes offered to include its portion in maintenance work done on its private streets. The township, however, has no DPW and no equipment to maintain or plow streets.

Three alternatives for long-term maintenance of such a street are proposed in a letter from city manager Steven Walters to be considered by the township board of trustees at a meeting July 16.

The alternatives have been sent to the township attorney for his opinion.

Walters writes that the alternatives are a private street, a county street, or city street. Application of traffic regulations and control of the street varies with each alternative. Also at stake are state gas and weight taxes for local road maintenance.

As a private street, standards for construction would be lower but the road would not be eligible for tax receipts.

As a county road, if the county road commission could be convinced to accept it, higher construction standards would have to be met. The county would receive the gas and weight taxes and would be responsible for maintenance. Township officials have said they are less than satisfied with road maintenance in this corner of the county.

If the proposed road were a city street, it could be built to state major street standards (less stringent than county requirements and therefore less expensive). The city would receive the gas and weight taxes and provide maintenance.

Walters proposes that the city and township could enter an agreement providing for joint approval of matters involving use and regulation on the street.

The manager proposed a four point agreement: 1) The township would build, or cause to be built, (probably at the cost of the landowners) the proposed road according to state standards; 2) The township would deed the street to the city for road purposes only; 3) The city would include the street in its system, collect the taxes and maintain the road; 4) A joint agreement would be reached regarding application of traffic regulations and other use matters.

It is unlikely that the township board will make an immediate decision on the proposal, instead preferring to have its attorney study all legal ramifications of such an agreement.

Growth Works students aid in school beautification

When Northville students head back to class next fall, they will be walking through freshly-painted classrooms and hallways — thanks to the efforts of some hard working students.

For the past month, students in Growth Works have been painting the interiors and exteriors of Northville's schools.

The Growth Works program helps students learn a skill as well as earn high school credit.

Sixteen students are painting the interiors of Amerman Elementary School and Northville High School throughout the summer to insure that the buildings will be ready for the fall opening.

At left, William Hood, administrative assistant for operations, displays painting technique to John Jones in one of the high school's corridors.

Pilon's named college president

Dr. Daniel H. Pilon, son of George and Rita Pilon of Northville, has been named the ninth president of the College of St. Scholastica in Duluth, Minnesota.

Announcement was made May 23 by Thomas Holloran of St. Paul, chairman of the board of trustees.

He is the third male president of the independent liberal arts college in Duluth and will succeed Dr. Bruce W. Stender, who resigned to go into private business.

The new appointment is effective August 1.

In commenting on the appointment of Dr. Pilon, Holloran said, "The entire board is enthusiastic about the appointment of Dr. Pilon. We are sure he will bring exciting new ideas to our campus and will uphold the 1,500-year-old Benedictine tradition of educating the mind while developing the body and nourishing the soul."

Dr. Pilon, 38, was employed by the Council for the Advancement of Small

DR. DANIEL PILON

Colleges, Washington, D.C., in 1976 and has been its vice president for campus services since 1979.

Prior to this appointment, he was director of the council's national consulting network.

He holds a bachelor's degree from Sacred Heart Seminary and a master's from Marygrove College as well as a doctorate in administration from the University of Michigan. In addition he has done further graduate study in his field.

Previous to his service with the council, he had been assistant to the president at Aquinas College in Grand Rapids.

He also has served as consultant to many small colleges and other educational organizations throughout the country.

He is married to Janice Alumbaugh Pilon. They have three children, Mark, 13, Christopher, 10, and Margot, 7½.

Dr. Pilon said he hopes his future will be in helping small colleges "prepare student leaders who are essential to a world which is humane as well as productive."

He added he would be glad to return to a college campus in a leadership role.

Since January the presidential search committee had been interviewing several of the many candidates from throughout the country.

Greenleaf to head Schoolcraft board

Harry G. Greenleaf was reelected chairperson of the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees at its organizational meeting July 6.

A Livonia resident, he has served as chairperson for the past two years and is in the next to last year of a six-year term on the board which began in 1977.

Trustees also reelected Nancie Blatt as vice chairperson and voted for two new officers, Rosina Raymond as treasurer and Michael W. Burley as secretary.

Newly-elected trustees Paul Y. Kadish and Laura M. Toy took their seats on the board after the oath of office was administered by Leonard E. Wozniak who served as chairperson pro tem for the meeting.

In other action, Joyce Ludwig was appointed acting associate secretary to the board, Blatt was reelected trustee director to the Michigan Community College Association (MCCA) and Burley was elected delegate to the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEM-COG).

The board also established the fourth Wednesday of each month as regular meeting dates, with these exceptions: it will meet on July 15, November 18 and December 9.

Parson to Person...

"About the Devil"

Dr. James Luther

We have an enemy. His name is Satan. The world's image of him is far from the truth. He is NOT in hell tormenting lost souls. Neither does he have horns nor a long tail (although he does have a tale to tell).

His great specialty is deception. His first contact with man dealt death and destruction through deception. He suggested that the tree of the knowledge of good and evil was "to be desired to make one wise..." (Gen. 3:6). Actually the tree was to be shunned; for the wisdom it gave dethroned innocence, destroyed the perfection of creation, and delivered man to the realm of sin and sorrow.

Today Satan's most dangerous form of deceit is still religious. He causes men and women to believe that he only tempts us to wicked and immoral acts. He makes mankind accept that morality and good works is in itself all that is necessary to take one to heaven. Others he deceives into believing that the practice of certain rites and ceremonies will provide salvation.

Terrible delusions these, for they lead men to substitute works for Christ and self-righteousness for the grace of God. "By the works of the law shall no flesh be justified" (Gal. 2:16); for "All our righteousnesses are as filthy rags" (Isaiah 64:6). Salvation comes through faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, who shed His blood on the cross. This is God's way, all the delusions of Satan to the contrary notwithstanding.

Don't let Satan deceive you.

Takin' it to the streets

There are obviously hundreds of ways to play Frisbee, but there is only one way to play it on High Street. That way is "Tip-It."

It's a game created by a group of Northville guys bored with regular Frisbee. Tip-It is played with two teams consisting of up to four players per side. Each team takes turns throwing the Frisbee to the other team, whose players attempt to tip it to a teammate before catching it. The more times you tip the Frisbee before catching it, the more points your team scores.

To tip the Frisbee with your foot counts as two points. The first team to score 20 points wins.

It sounds simple, but it's a lot of work. Just ask Greg Behrens (left) or Doug Horst (right).

Pinball regulations bouncing around in township

By KEVIN WILSON

Trying to follow proposals to regulate arcades in Northville Township is something akin to watching a pinball bounce between the bumpers, setting lights flashing and bells ringing.

There are actually three balls in play at the same time. While the planning commission reviews proposed zoning restrictions, the township board is tackling a licensing law, and the zoning board of appeals opposes the single existing arcade in the township.

Planners propose to require that arcades be located more than 300 feet from a residential zoning, and ingress and egress be to a major thoroughfare.

Township Clerk Susan Heintz drafted a licensing ordinance, closely patterned after an existing one in Ypsilanti, while on a recent vacation.

Still to be settled, however, is how many coin-operated amusement devices (pinball machines, video games and the like) constitute an arcade.

Planning consultant Claude Coates defines the devices in a proposal presented to planners June 30 and sets the limit at "five or more."

The Ypsilanti ordinance Heintz is using as a base sets the limit at more than five, (effectively calling anything with six machines an arcade).

The clerk took over the task of drafting an initial licensing proposal because building inspector Troy Milligan, who brought the idea to the two bodies, has been hospitalized.

Her proposal includes fees (per machine), limits on hours of operation and age limits for employees at arcades. It calls for police inspections and prior approval by the township for locations of arcades.

The planning commission instructed Coates to draft a final version of zoning restrictions incorporating their desire to make sure juke boxes and other "passive entertainment" are not included in the amusement device count. The zoning portion of the regulations would be included in a new zoning ordinance in preparation.

In the past month, the township zoning board of appeals has denied a zoning variance for Morland Landscaping to operate an arcade already in place. The firm is in an industrial zone at Gerald and Seven Mile.

It had an earlier variance to allow retail nursery sales, but the operator told the board of appeals the business is now wholesale — a permitted use in an industrial zone. The arcade, however, is defined as a retail business (although such operations are not mentioned at all in the current zoning laws, Coates said they are similar to billiard halls, also retail operations).

The consultant told planners arcades, when considered from a land use standpoint, do not differ from other retail operations. He said most regulations are attempts to contain crowds of youth, which sometimes present policing problems.

Township records show Morland Landscaping was ticketed last week for continuing to operate its arcade without a zoning variance allowing the use.

Weeds fuel lake dispute

rounding single family areas and the Swan Harbour Apartment complex.

But Craik and some of his neighbors are not members of the Rippling Lane Homeowner's Association, which is apparently satisfied with some recent changes that do not include weed cutting.

Russell said the decision to fence along the Rippling Lane side of the lake was one he opposed but it was passed by the board because some of its members believed there is a likelihood of "encroachment on our property."

Last year, he noted, some of the Rippling Lane residents went out and cut weeds down themselves, a job which — if it is to be done — is the responsibility of the owning condo association.

"I don't believe in fences," Russell said. "I think most of the people out there are very nice and I get along well with most of them. But, majority rules."

And the fence goes up
Craik and his immediate neighbors are among those whose homes most closely about the condominium units. From his home, one can see grassy lawns sloping down from the units on Silver Springs Drive to the water's edge. Except for the "natural area."

"What's really grating," says Craik, "is that we are forced to pay a $50 a year maintenance fee to the condo association...and for our money we get nothing but misery. One of our people took the fee matter to court and lost, and the condo association takes that as their right to grow weeds and rapists behind our houses, and grass and safety behind their condos."

Deed covenants demanding the fees say they are to be used to "preserve and maintain (the greenbelt) for park, recreation and open space purposes."

The association has stated in writing that the fee is paid for "the privilege of using Silver Spring and Swan Harbor Lakes."

Unlike the Rippling Lane single family homeowners, the owners of the newer Pulte homes to the east of the lake are not bound by the covenants requiring the $50 association fee.

Russell said those homeowners have the option to either pay the fee to use the lakes, or not pay the fee and be excluded.

Most pay nothing. Those who do pay $150. Behind their homes, there is another fence. And between the fence and the lake (a narrower strip than near Craik) weeds and undergrowth are untouched.

Those Pulte owners with lake access must use designated paths, and there are openings in the fence to allow them through. According to Thompson and Russell, the new fence will have a similar arrangement.

Russell says he thinks members of the Rippling Lane Homeowner's Association are basically pleased with compromise arrangements reached in quarterly meetings of the two bodies.

More than $3,000 was invested in creating an attractive walkway through the area, Thompson says, and more was invested in paving a road through and a sidewalk with sod laid alongside.

"We can work out with them what has to be done, and then it's up to us to do whatever it is," Russell says. "The trouble has been that some people have taken it upon themselves. We, as owners of the property, could be liable if anyone goes out there to mow the area and gets hurt."

Craik and his neighbors, however, don't find the path attractive, and sense a greater danger than lawnmowers.

Says another resident, Mitchell Deeb, "They give the single-family people their lake privilege by forcing them to use this path. Look at these weeds. Would you want your wife and kids to go through here? You'd worry, too. Any kind of degenerate could be hiding in there."

Craik claims the condo association's decisions are dominated by a small group, while the majority of the condo owners are apathetic.

"Most don't get involved," he says, "So what you've got are a few association people who bend the laws and rules to fit themselves."

"The township (officials) ignore our pleas. Some of them are members of the condo association or are influenced by it. As long as the weeds are in someone else's yard, they don't care about health and safety until someone gets hurt. When that happens, mark my words, they'll come running like it's all a surprise to them."

Township Clerk Susan Heintz, a Highland Lakes resident and once a member of the association, says township officials are well aware of the problem, but their hands are tied since the dispute is over private property.

She recalls an attempt last fall to draft a weed control ordinance applicable to the situation, and notes that it failed because of complications with its effects elsewhere in the township.

"It's just impossible to draft an ordinance to apply in only one area," she said. "We tried every way we could think of, but there were always problems."

The township abandoned its attempts to write a weed ordinance and suggested that the various groups involved try to find a compromise agreement.

Thompson said Highland Lakes relationship with other groups sharing the lakes and common areas is generally good, but that the Rippling Lane situation is more complex than most.

"The unorganized Rippling Lane people are the dissidents," Thompson said. "Communications are open with the homeowner's association. They don't choose to belong, don't choose to get involved with the decision making. They sit on the sidelines and then complain when decisions are made."

"They call it weeds, our people call it natural area. One side appreciates it for wildflowers and animals, the other side sees only weeds and rodents."

Craik says there is more to it than a mere dispute over the value of unmowed areas.

Initially, when the condo association demanded — at the insistence, says Craik, of former township engineer William Mosher, who lives in a nearby condo — that Rippling Lane property owners stop cutting the weeds, "we were told that the association would be liable if we hurt ourselves with a mower. Then Mosher said we couldn't touch it because it's a wildlife preserve."

"The other excuse was that there was a lawsuit going on between the developer (Levitt) and the association and that if we cut the weeds it would increase property values and jeopardize the lawsuit. Just administrative doubletalk."

"Look over at his place (Mosher's). Do you see any weeds in the commons area? It's nothing but lawn to the lake."

The single-family homeowners argue that they "appreciate wildlife as much as the next guy. We don't want to remove the swales nor the trees where the animals live...just the weeds."

"What we fear is the 'wildlife' nut lying in the weeds in wait for one of our kids or wives."

The condo association argue on their side that the "weeds" are an important part of the habitat and attract ducks and pheasant to nest in the area.

As for the fence, Thompson said he believes the long range intent, as demonstrated in the order for some 800 feet of fence in two locations this week, is to fence all the way around the lake.

But Russell finds that idea unattractive. "I would strongly recommend that not be done," he says. "I'm, personally, certainly not in favor of it. I dislike fences. I don't think the fence will help relations."

"I was disappointed they took this step. Maybe there is a happy medium somewhere. If they were all members of the association, maybe we could reach one."

Thompson, however, was less hopeful.

"It's just a difference in perceptions," he said. "When we (managers) do something we try to take both sides into account, but I don't think they'll ever see eye-to-eye on this thing."

The area in dispute at Highland Lakes is the shaded area indicated on the map. Residents of single family homes at the bottom of the map protest that they cannot see the lake because of head-high weeds. Photographer Steve Fecht did discover a rabbit, lower right, in picture he took at the site Tuesday. Below is the path to the lake that residents say may not be safe for children.

Bomb threat made against business over holiday

A possible bomb threat at a local business was called in to city police during the holiday weekend.

The threat occurred at 8 p.m. July 3 when a man, using a gruff tone of voice, phoned a local business on East Dunlap and said there was a bomb in the store, police said.

Police evacuated the building in order to conduct a search, but found nothing in the store, police said.

There are no suspects.

A 1971 Kawasaki 900 motorcycle was stolen from the parking lot of a Novi Road residence between June 25 and 26, city police report. The cycle was valued at $1,500.

The owner said he parked the cycle in the lot at 11 p.m. June 25 and removed the key, police said.

The owner said he placed a heavy duty chain and lock on the rear wheel and secured it to the frame so the wheel couldn't be turned, police said.

The fork on the cycle also was locked. The owner found the chain in the grass on the south side of the lot with the lock still locked, police said.

It appeared a bolt cutter was used to cut the chain as a cut chain link was found in the lot, police said.

Police have no suspects.

Jewelry and a pair of binoculars were stolen from a Novi Street residence between July 4 and 5, city police report. Total value was $1,475.

Taken were a diamond and emerald gold ring ($750), a gold watch ($500), a gold pendant chain ($100), a gold wedding band ($50) and binoculars ($75).

While the owners were out of town, their daughter had a party July 4. The daughter said many people were in and out of the house. She made a list of the people she remembers being there. It is believed the items were taken during the party, police said.

Police have no suspects.

Items worth $113 were stolen from a Yerkes residence between 11:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. June 29, city police report.

Taken were a calculator ($50), a silver necklace chain with charm ($25) and a gold chain necklace ($38), police said.

The owner said she left her apartment and closed the front door unlocked because it cannot be locked. Upon returning, she saw the front door open and called police. It couldn't be determined if there was forced entry, police said.

Police have no suspects.

Two incidents of stolen bicycles were reported to city police last week.

A 10-speed Murray bike, valued at $130, was stolen from a Beal Street residence between June 29 and 30, police said.

Unknown suspects took the bike from the west side of the residence, police said.

A Murray Spectra 10-speed bike, valued at $122, was stolen from a River Street residence between 5:10-6:50 p.m. July 5, city police said.

Unknown persons took the bike from the north side of the house while the residents were gone, police said.

In both cases, police have no suspects.

A Northville youth sustained a foot injury when he was hit by a car driven by a Northville woman at Dunlap and Center June 22, city police report.

The woman said she had just started driving the car forward after waiting for the light on Dunlap and Center when upon reaching the crosswalk saw a child run from the sidewalk and into the left front wheel, police said.

All witnesses at the scene said the child ran across the street against the light and into the vehicle, police said.

The youth sustained an injury to his left foot and was taken to St. Mary Hospital by his mother, police said.

Two incidents of stolen bicycles were reported to township police last week.

A Mosbros 10-speed bike, valued at $100, was stolen from a Pinebrook residence between 6 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. June 26, police report.

Unknown suspects entered the owners' garage, which was open, and stole the bike. The family was at home at the time of the theft, but didn't see or hear anything suspicious, police said.

A Schwinn Varsity bike, valued at $185, was stolen from a bike rack of a local business on West Eight Mile between 6:25 a.m. and 7 p.m. June 28, police report.

The owner of the bike said he was working at the time it was stolen, police said.

In both incidents, police have no suspects.

Four wire wheel hubcaps, valued at $300, were stolen from a 1979 Mercury Capri while it was parked in a lot June 28, township police report.

The owner said he parked the car in the lot at 6 p.m. and when he returned at 9 p.m. the hubcaps were missing, police said.

There are no suspects, police said.

Items totaling $913.45 were stolen from a Woodhill residence June 28, township police said.

Taken were a toolbox and various pieces of hockey equipment, police said.

Unknown persons stole the property from the garage which is attached to the home. The garage doors were closed, but not locked, police said.

Neglect charged, 1-year-old taken

A one-year-old baby girl, daughter of a Mount Clemens couple, was taken into protective custody by Wayne County Protective Services after a Northville woman called township police June 27 about an alleged child neglect case.

The Northville woman, an acquaintance of the mother, had been asked to care for the child at the time. She decided to call township police because she believed the infant was abused and neglected due to having personal knowledge of various occasions the couple failed to care for the infant's needs, police said.

The parents also are wanted by Macomb County Protective Services for neglect of the infant, she added, according to police.

At 8 p.m. June 26, the mother asked the Northville woman to watch the child for awhile and at 1:30 a.m. June 27 left the apartment and did not state when she would return, police said. A note was left also by the mother saying the same thing.

The Northville woman talked with police at 11 a.m. June 27. Police took the infant into protective custody and eventually talked with Wayne County Protective Services, who told them to take

Police have no suspects.

Items totaling $780 were stolen from a Northridge residence June 30, township police said.

A woman's silver watch ($150), a silver cross, two rings and two necklaces, bracelet and earring (combined total of $440), ski boots ($150) and liquor and beer ($40) were taken, police report.

The owner said unknown suspects entered his residence and stole the items. Police saw the sliding door on the patio had been pried open with a flat screwdriver-type tool and noticed some type of pry marks on the front door to the apartment, the report said.

A neighbor had been home until 5 p.m. and at approximately 1 p.m. heard someone knocking on the door downstairs persistently. When the neighbor's baby began crying, the knocking stopped, police said.

There are no suspects.

Seven clown dolls, valued at $132.16, were stolen from a West Seven Mile business May 1, township police report.

The owners said the dolls were taken from a display self in the interior of the business, police said.

Police have no suspects.

Items worth $241.20 were stolen from a Northridge residence June 30, township police report.

Taken were a watch, 24 cassettes, four quarters, two dimes and a pillow case, police said.

The owner said unknown suspects broke into the apartment via a doorway by prying over the stationary panel, lifting the slide and then prying open the door, police said.

There are no suspects.

A Northville Road resident had $428 in cash stolen between June 30 and July 1, township police report.

The owner said he left his home June 30 and locked the door. He said he lives in a house which has been divided into upper and lower apartments, police said.

The apartments are connected by a stairs, but the door at the top doesn't lock. When the owner returned July 1, he found the front door open and the lights on in the house, police said.

The owner checked the upstairs, found the door locked and lights on. The money was taken from a wooden box on the dresser and from a dresser drawer, police said.

The investigation is continuing.

An antique watch, valued at $350, and some gold coins were stolen from a Savoy Court residence July 1, township police report.

The owner said he left home at 8 a.m. and when he returned at 7:30 p.m. found the last window wall door had been pried open apparently with a screwdriver, police said.

Police have no suspects.

Frozen meat worth $200 was stolen from a Ridge Road residence between June 30 and July 1, township police said.

The owner said he accidentally left his root cellar door unlocked at the time and unknown persons entered the cellar and took the meat from the freezer, police said.

There are no suspects.

A Livonia woman was ticketed after a two-car accident June 26 on Seven Mile at Clement, township police report.

Polly Anne Adzema, 17, of Livonia, was cited for failure to yield right of way. Adzema said she was stopped at a stop sign on Clement at Seven Mile waiting to turn. She said she checked traffic, but didn't see the car driven by a South Lyon woman until she was into her turn and struck by the other car, the report said.

The South Lyon woman said she was westbound on Seven Mile traveling at 35 to 40 miles-per-hour when she saw Adzema in her lane. She said she tried to stop, but couldn't and struck the Adzema car, police said.

Witnesses at the scene said the Adzema car pulled out in front of the South Lyon woman's car, police said.

Three passengers in the Adzema car, excluding the driver, were injured and taken to St. Mary hospital, police said.

Honored

Charles A. Smith (left) receives the Paul Harris Fellowship Award from Michigan State Police Lieutenant William Tomczyk, of the Northville Post, at the Northville Rotary Club meeting this month. Tomczyk said a $1,000 contribution will be made in Smith's name to the Rotary International Paul Harris Foundation. The money is used to promote Rotary people going to foreign countries on exchange programs. Smith is a 23-year member of the Rotary and is only the second person to receive the award in the local Rotary's 55-year history. Russ Amerman was the first in 1976.

Popcorn donation

Local merchant Tony Ventimiglia (left) and Assistant Township Fire Chief Donald Riffenburg dig into a fresh batch of popcorn. The merchants of the party store on Six Mile and Northville Road donated the popcorn machine to the township fire department July 2 since the fire department's other popcorn machine was breaking down. The fire department operates the machine at most community events and uses any profits for the Fireman's Mutual Benefit Fund. The fund is set up to help various community groups or individuals who might need financial assistance. (Record photo by Steve Fecht).

Township police talks continuing this week

Contract talks continued last week between Northville Township and its police officers union.

David Leiko, business manager, declined comment on the substance of the negotiations, but said meetings between the township negotiating committee and representatives of the Northville Township Police Officers Association (NTPOA) are scheduled to continue this week.

NTPOA, a local unit of the Police Officers Association of Michigan (POAM), has been working without a contract since March 31.

Talks were forestalled initially while both sides of the table awaited the results of two police millage questions on the May 21 special election ballot.

Voters overwhelmingly approved renewal of the department's basic 1.5 mill property tax support, but narrowly rejected a request for an additional 1.0 mill.

Although there has been discussion at the board of trustees level of conducting a second election seeking the additional millage, negotiators must consider the current support level, which officials said is insufficient to maintain the force at its present size.

Without a millage increase, it was said when the township prepared its current fiscal year budget, at least one police officer will have to be laid off.

Leiko said he would know better this week if the parties were near a settlement on the contract.

The township's basic starting point was expressed in the budget process, in which raises of just over 3 percent were calculated into the department expenditures. That was the same level accorded non-unionized township employees.

NTPOA is unlikely to have accepted that figure. In light of the millage situation, job security is likely to be another matter on the table.

Richard Ambler, a labor consultant to the board negotiating committee, has attended at least one meeting, Leiko said. When the board elected to name a consultant, it was said Ambler would be contacted for the more delicate discussions.

Supervisor John MacDonald said at the time that he would prefer an outside person present for the "toughest periods" since Leiko must work with the department personnel on a daily basis.

Leiko noted that the township faces more police talks after those in progress. Supervisory personnel formed their own union late last year, and will seek a contract after NTPOA settles.

The Command Officers Association (COA) includes Lieutenant Kenneth Hardesty and the township's three sergeants as a bargaining unit.

The business manager said some of the delay in settling the NTPOA contract was caused by the recent demotion of former chief Ronald Nisun to patrolman rank.

Hardesty was named acting chief, and Leiko noted that since the chief is part of the negotiating team, the lieutenant had to be educated in the issues under discussion.

The board of trustees placed no time limit on the acting chief role, nor has it yet established the procedures to be followed in naming a new chief.

The COA has granted its permission for Hardesty to "step out" of his union role while negotiations proceed. His inactive union status was sought so he could be included in the process. The township board of trustees will examine the issue at its regular monthly session this Thursday.

Nisun is slated to return to work at the conclusion of his accrued vacation time Monday, July 20.

Our opinion

Schools need seven mills

The July 28 school millage proposal, pared from 9.5 to 7 mills, reflects a real effort to maximize our education dollar. And we support it.

We're pleased this compromise represents thoughtful study by citizens who would have preferred more and by those who would have preferred less. It is not, we believe, an administrative pie-in-the-sky proposal. Passage will not permit "business as usual." Neither will it destroy quality education. It will, however, require on-going economies.

In opposing the 9.5 millage issue in May, we recognized that the district would not be able to continue without some renewal. We urged the board to come back to the people with something less...a more realistic package. Frankly, we were surprised but pleased it accepted the 7 mill recommendation of the citizens committee even though most board members, if not all, wanted more.

To operate within the constraints of this 7-mill proposal, the school district will be forced to economize throughout the three-year length of the levy. It will be a challenging three years in which a host of potential ways to maximize income will have to be explored and implemented to satisfy the public's demand for quality education.

Thus, even though we do not agree with all of the initial cut-backs proposed by the board — the trimming of only one central office administrator, for example — we enthusiastically endorse the 7-mill proposal knowing other cuts must come.

By asking for 7 mills the board and administration with guidance from the Citizens Advisory Committee indicate they are aware of personal "cuts" many taxpayers are taking in their lifestyles. The district will be working harder to maintain a school system of good, basic quality as, hopefully, residents give it priority in their spending. There is no question that the largest portion of our tax dollars go to educate our young people — and Northville citizens have a long record of recognizing the importance of investing in the future.

Journal

By KAREN RICE

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following observations on the work-in-progress in Mainstreet renovation of Northville's downtown are by Karen Rice of the Novi News-Walled Lake newspaper staff headquartered in The Record office at Main and Center. They are an "outsider's view" of the beautification project that is due to bloom at the end of summer. Then, Karen, decorative benches will be in place near trees and flower beds.

Oh, the pains one takes in order to look beautiful.

Facelifts are not to be taken lightly — especially when one's face is made of brick and concrete. What I'm talking about here is something easily as challenging as prodding a human face or body into presentable terms. Imagine overhauling an entire city, an awesome task, which is what they're doing in Northville.

Since we moved our office to Northville in December, our staff has had a rather fun time of watching the townspeople meander through their town. We've been known to make a few jokes about the Northvillains, although we brook no ill humor about our townspeople.

Sharing a newsroom with The Northville Record staff also means we enjoy the position of knowing about nearly everything that happens in the city without having to worry about reporting on it. Let's face it, news is news anywhere you go.

Nothing we'd seen in Walled Lake, however, could have prepared us for the beautification project we landed in when we came to Northville. The city started the project three years ago and will undoubtedly be caught up with it for several more years (if not forever).

But "beautifying" Northville seemed more like a hazardous undertaking than an improvement to our staff.

For months, every day we would walk along the streets inspecting the progress of the beautification project. And every day we would go back to our office and chide the Record reporters about the lack thereof.

We told them we guessed beautification must mean ripping up old sidewalks and replacing them with mushy asphalt. Removal of the parking meters was a definite improvement, we conceded. We figured Novi and Walled Lake were just as well off being unaware of such beauty. It wasn't much to look at, we sniffed.

But the joking stopped when Rock Haulers of Wixom entered the picture to work on the streets. It took tandem dump trucks, backhoes, asphalt spreaders, tractors and awesome-looking hooks to do it, but the crew accomplished the seemingly impossible: they made us believe there actually was a beautification project going on.

Moreover, we found out it was pretty interesting. Fascinating, in fact.

We pressed our noses against the second-floor windows staring in amazement at the machines they had been brought in to do the job.

We watched a machine with a big hook on the end of a crane slice through foot-thick concrete like a knife through tight Saran-Wrap.

We winced every time a piece of broken street accidentally fell from a machine's grip. (Not because of sympathy for the machine operator; dropping the chunks of concrete made our building shudder.)

Everyday they ripped up a little bit more of the town's main streets, moving ever closer to the central intersection and then edging out to the ends of the business district.

The Northville townspeople were as interested in the project as we interlopers were. They did better than peer out windows at the road crew: they sat right there on benches, stood on gangplanks and even insisted on driving right up next to the trucks to get a good look.

Somehow, the thought of all those massive machines rebuilding Main and Center streets seemed out of sync with Northville's historical bent. There is something ironic about using modern machines to get a turn-of-the-century look.

However, we realize all this activity has got to end sometime. In fact, already the streets are quieter. I have a hunch Northville is going back to its former style of beautification, which is not nearly as visible as what the road crew had in mind.

And someday, if the city ever completes its beautification project, there are bound to be a lot of non-chalant Northvillains who will swear they have never even dreamt of giving the city a facelift. "Northville's always looked like this," they'll shrug.

If I hadn't seen the road crew in action, I'd believe that.

HOFFMAN'S
COLUMN

Maybe it's just as well they've ended it.

The freshness was gone; it was becoming as stale as Sunday's leftover picnic fare.

But the announced abandonment of the annual chicken flying contest in Plymouth bothers me just the same. Not because I'll miss all of the fowl rhetoric and brash claims of national prominence, but because the promoters called it quits for all the wrong reasons.

They proved to be more chicken than the birds they flew.

Like TV sponsors and chicken-livered lawmakers, who tremble and run for cover when Moral Majority's about, Plymouth's fliers fled in panic when a Humane Majority threatened retaliation if the flying contest continued.

What happened in Plymouth, I fear, is becoming commonplace. We're becoming a society afraid of a roasting by any bully majority that pops up. We've got religious majorities, welfare majorities, gun majorities, prison majorities, pollution majorities, race majorities, sex majorities, and we've got majorities within majorities. And they all carry big sticks.

Overnight, it seems, so many people have become majorities that there's nobody left but me and thee and I'm not sure about thee.

In actuality, all of these majorities are just chicken minorities who get their bravado in numbers, not in substance.

That's why I wish the Plymouth chicken fliers had told the humane majority to go fly a kite. The contest was a glorious outing for the chickens, a reprieve from hot coops and and frying pans. The truth is the birds never had it so good. They were coddled and pampered and treated a whole lot kinder than most.

I say foey on them. If we allow this majority's outrageous charges of cruelty to stand, they'll muster courage to threaten our other all-American pursuits. And nobody, just nobody, better miss around with The Celebrated Jumping Frog Jubilee.

Readers Speak

Former teacher offers advice on school problems

To the Editor:
I have just returned home after a visit to Northville. It's been almost three years since my last visit. My interest in good education for Northville continues even though I have been retired five years.

What did I find — same old policies of former superintendents Nelson and Spear in the past while a member of the teaching staff, mainly ungraded K-12, and year-round school at the high school. I guess I'm being consistent by opposing what's going on now. Besides, I have no ax to grind on my own behalf in any way, only good sound educational practice.

I had hoped that with a new superintendent a new opportunity might produce a positive, energetic, and constructive program. This does not seem to be the case. The same old tactics of "the treat (sic)" (threat?) are still being applied which will only result in splitting the community and produce scars that will take years to heal.

Pardon me if I suggest some things I know can prove helpful if applied by interested, fair-minded, intelligent people.

First of all, "the program" is the most important factor in the whole scheme of things. I use the term program rather than curriculum so as to include all the elements which are included in the educational process of your children. I'm so tired about hearing about "extra-curricular." There is no such thing.

If part of your program, any part, is good enough to be considered valuable enough to be a part of the whole process, then it should have equal status with all other parts. Examine your total program. If that's what you, the people, want for your kids, then you must be willing to support this program both philosophically and financially. If it's not what you want, then the superintendent and school board better find out darn quickly what is wanted.

Now for the philosophy of "cutting the program," if that's the wish of the community. You don't do this by trying to "blackmail" the taxpayers through use of threats. You can't gain community support by trying to force people to back you up and vote increased millage. If cuts have to be made, it seems to me that they should be uniform throughout the entire program.

Cut back every program a little bit. Don't eliminate any whole part of anything. You have been threatened with losing all sports, music, plays, band, forensics, etc. If there is anywhere you can get your money's worth, it's got to be in this area.

Teachers who are willing to coach or supervise these activities don't do it for the money. They usually love helping their kids. Those who do it just for the money are usually poor at what they do and don't last long.

If cuts have to be made here, do it by hiring one less coach; buy less equipment; schedule a few less games; have the students help raise some of the money needed to keep going. On bus routes maybe kids nearer school will have to walk; those farther away establish pick up areas to shorten bus routes.

Instead of 50-60 sections of math-English-science-social studies, maybe only 40-50 can be scheduled with some of the less popular, enrollment-wise, sections having to be eliminated.

Now let's look at a very sensitive area that to my way of thinking needs cutting badly — administration. I can't believe how much this segment of your system has grown since the retirement of Mr. Amerman. Sure, you've gotten larger and education has become more complex, but not as much as some people would have you believe.

I think you're overloaded with high salary experts who have to find ways to justify their jobs which in turn creates many barriers and red tape to good honest teaching.

It's hard for me to understand what the superintendent does to justify his high salary with all the help he has — assistant superintendent, business manager, curriculum experts, transportation, etc., etc.

If he is only an up-front p.r. man, I think you can find someone to do that kind of job at less money. When is the last time a Northville superintendent acted as an educational leader and didn't fight the teachers at the bargaining table to the point of hiding from them until next year's battle began?

I would like to make one more point, and this is directed at the community as a whole. You've got to be actively interested if you're going to solve your problems. You must be willing to give time and thought. Once you agree on a program, you must support your board, administration and teachers.

Probably the one most important factor in philosophically running a school system is discipline. Nothing can upset morale more than the failure of parents to back up their teachers and administrators where discipline is involved.

Decide what you want, then support it. The other most important support factor involves finances. Remember when you turned down the millage renewal you asked your school system to operate on much less money than a year ago plus the additional factor of inflation.

If you as an individual head of a household were put in the same position, could you continue to provide your family with the same standard of living? Of course not — neither can your schools. Again decide what standard you can afford. Then support!

She did win contest

To the Editor:
On the Fourth of July, there was a watermelon eating contest for ages five to 13. I won the watermelon eating contest for the 10 year olds, but my name was not in the newspaper.

It was replaced by someone else's name.

I am from Virginia, and I came for the watermelon eating contest to win because all of my brothers have won in the last six years, and now I won, and, if you don't believe me, I have proof — my first-place ribbon.

P.S. Was it just because I am a Confederate? Please write again explaining why.

Elizabeth Alberts
McLean, Virginia

EDITOR'S NOTE: Elizabeth Alberts, who was visiting her grandmother, Ruth Alberts, here, is being assured that, indeed, she is a winner. Doug Boor, Jaycee chairman for Fourth of July festivities, says he doesn't know how the slip occurred, but has informed Elizabeth's grandmother that she joins her brothers as a champion. On Independence Day, there are no Union-Confederate lines.

Thanks, firefighters

To the Editor:

It seems like the trend today is to criticize our national or local government. However, we would like to give a vote of appreciation to the Northville Township Fire Department.

Our four children received a great thrill when they were allowed to ride on the fire trucks during the July 4th parade a week ago Saturday. It is something they will never forget. It would have been easy for the fire department to have said "no," but we feel it cared enough to give our children this opportunity.

Our family says thank you to Fire Chief Toms for making the day special for our children, and a special thanks to Dennis Ireland for holding our two-and-a-half year old on his lap throughout the parade. We really appreciate it.

Shocked by demotion

To the Editor:

I was shocked and struck with disbelief when I learned of the action taken by the Northville Township Board after conducting the disciplinary hearing of Chief Nisun. In my opinion, demotion to patrolman status was totally unjustified and grossly severe in light of the relatively minor nature of his alleged transgression.

Over the past 25 years I have enjoyed a close personal and professional relationship with Mr. Nisun in two police departments and have always been pleasantly impressed with his moral and ethical standards, both on and off duty.

Although, during his tenure with the Northville Township Police Department, I have to say that there wasn't much time in any day that he wasn't "on duty." He consistently exhibited extraordinary devotion to the welfare of the department as well as the community — working far beyond the normal work day and returning to duty at any hour of the night to provide assistance and leadership to both the regular and reserve forces during numerous instances of potential or actual crises within the township.

He has also been successful, through sheer perseverance, in building a fully equipped, professional and effective police force as well as a fully trained and active reserve support group from an original force of only one officer who was dispatched by another department. And, I must say, this has been an exceedingly difficult task considering that it appeared to be constantly and rigorously opposed by pro-annexation forces within the township government. Apparently, these forces are alive and well today.

No, Chief Nisun did not, in any way, receive fair treatment from the township board at his hearing and was apparently the victim of political overkill.

If he did, in fact, commit the indiscretionary act he was charged with, the disciplinary action should have been much less severe, such as loss of leave time or time off without pay, not demotion or dismissal. Chief Nisun is much too valuable an asset to the community and the department to lose his services as chief of police.

In view of this, I sincerely believe that the township board should reconsider their action taken at Chief Nisun's hearing and reinstate him, posthaste, to the rank of Chief of Police.

Joyner backs charter

To the Editor:

Despite the many obvious shortcomings in the proposed Wayne County Charter, I feel that the residents of the third largest county in America would best be served by its passage. A "yes" vote this fall would place the residents of Wayne County firmly behind a reform and reorganization that is necessary for our county.

I further urge all the voters of Wayne

County to support an elected county executive over that of a proposed appointed county manager. It will be through the election of an executive county wide that we see, for the first time, all the elements of the divisive city/out-county split have the opportunity to work together for the common good of all.

The charter abolishes the board of auditors and reduces the number of county commissioners from 27 to 15. I strongly support both moves. County government cannot work efficiently with the anachronistic board of auditors or an over-weight, incestuous board of commissioners.

With an elected county executive and a smaller board of commissioners, we will be in a better position to define priorities, budget money, and operate an efficient and necessary level of government.

My regret with the charter is that it does not abolish the register of deeds and the drain commissioner. It also does not go far enough in reforming the Wayne County Road Commission. As one commissioner who has fought hard for county reform, I encourage every voter to help county government take the first step toward accountability. Vote "yes" on the county charter.

I welcome your comments and encourage anyone desiring to pass along information to do so by writing to me at 726 City-County Building, Detroit, 48226.

Yours in community service.

Gas purchase study urged

Two Livonia lawmakers have called for a special committee to investigate the purchase of foreign natural gas by Michigan utility companies.

State Representatives Jack Kirksey (R-Livonia, Northville) and Sylvia Skrel (R-Livonia, Westland) introduced a resolution in the Michigan House urging the creation of a joint committee to serve through 1982.

"Michigan customers are very concerned about recent reports that utilities are buying natural gas for the winter heating season from foreign countries at very substantial prices, which of course increases their utility bills," Kirksey said.

"The issue here is whether or not there really is a need to purchase such large quantities of foreign gas. An independent, legislative investigation would undoubtedly shed light on the subject, and might result in some recommendations for legislation."

Representative Skrel, who serves on the House Public Utilities Committee, said because estimates of natural gas supplies in Michigan and the rest of the United States vary, "It's prudent to determine how necessary it is for a Michigan utility to purchase expensive foreign supplies."

"The best interests of our citizens should be foremost in a decision to purchase foreign fuel," she said. "If the need can't be proven, then those best interests are clearly not served."

The two legislators said that until now Michigan has not suffered severe shortages as have other states — such as Ohio.

For the past 18 months a House utilities reform task force has been working on utilities issues. It will introduce a package of reform bills in the fall.

Getting Down to Brass Tacks

By CHRIS JOHNSON
School Board

The Headlee Amendment to the state constitution is one of the most difficult concepts that the board of education has to explain to the taxpayers. Part of the reason is due to the complex manner in which the district is affected and the other reason is due to the overselling of Headlee when it was passed.

The Headlee Amendment does not work to keep down the assessments of the individual taxpayer. It was designed to restrict the amount of tax dollars the school district may legally collect. That restriction is based upon the total state equalized value (SEV) or total property value of the entire district. The theory behind this kind of approach is that if the school district is required to restrict its growth to the inflation rate, each of the individual taxpayers will benefit indirectly.

In putting this theory to practice, the result to individual taxpayers has been far different than most people expected. The Northville school district covers all or part of seven distinct taxing units. The school district also has several classes or types of property in it. For example, the classes include residential, commercial, farming and industrial. The Headlee Amendment does not consider the differences between the classes of property or the various taxing unit.

For that reason, an individual homeowner will be paying a 30 percent higher assessment while the owner of some farm property may only be paying the same assessment as last year. The school district may not consider the differences between these individual property owners.

These are the various terms and actual dollar amounts that the board of education used to determine the local tax levy: (1) Prior year SEV was $253,062,658; (2) This year's SEV is $295,506,977; (3) Additional value due to growth in the district this year is $23,538,629; (4) Reductions in tax assessment order by various tax tribunals was $12,020,798; (5) Consumer Price Index (inflation rate) this year was 3.5 percent and (6) The prior year millage reduction factor (MRF) or Headlee rollback factor was .9364. The following formula is required by the State of Michigan for determining the MRF:

Prior year SEV times 1.135 (CPI) divided by current year SEV minus additions plus losses.

The actual computation of this formula is:

253,062,658 x 1.135 divided by 295,506,977 minus 23,538,629 plus 12,020,798.

This would equal 287,266,177 divided by 284,989,186 for a total of 1.0078.

The current year MRF is therefore 1.0078.

The current year MRF is then required to be multiplied by the prior year MRF and results in the following computation:

.9364 (prior year MRF) multiplied by 1.0078 (current MRF) equals .9437.

The new compound millage reduction factor (CMRF) which the district is required to use will be .9437. This new CMRF is then multiplied by the district's authorized operating millage of 25.9 mills.

.9437 (new CMRF) multiplied by 25.9 (authorized millage rate) equals 24.4418 mills (maximum levy).

The rollback on all classes of property in all of the taxing units is the difference between the authorized millage rate and the maximum levy of the school district.

25.90 (authorized millage rate) minus 24.4418 (maximum levy) equals 1.4582 (millage rollback).

The amount of the rollback in actual dollars to the entire school district is $432,366.

As you can see, the formula is complicated. Understanding the Headlee Amendment is the key in understanding why the school district has not received a windfall from the high assessed values of the local residential taxpayers. The school district is required to look at the entire SEV of the district and may not take into account the lower assessments in other areas or other property classes of the district.

Paul Vernon gains 'marrying mayor' fame

By JEAN DAY

Paul Vernon's reputation as energetic, efficient, hard working mayor of the City of Northville is in danger of being eclipsed by a newer image: the officiant at meaningful marriage services.

Since he was elected mayor in November, 1977, Vernon has married 35 couples.

However, he's not by any means just a "marrying mayor" through powers granted by his office.

"If he's not a Methodist minister, he should be," observed a parent of a just-wed couple recently, guessing correctly that Vernon's service stems from a Methodist background. He and his wife Norma have continued their association with Metropolitan Methodist Church in Detroit.

It is Norma who confides how seriously Paul Vernon takes this duty of office. "He meets with the couple beforehand to get to know them and to determine what kind of service is appropriate — but he doesn't marry everyone who asks," she says, explaining he had refused a couple who had "just wanted to make the union legal after living together."

He has been sought out by couples who have different faiths, by those who have been married previously and did not want a large church service the second time around, and by those who had heard his service at another wedding.

"It was a very sacred, very beautiful service — I couldn't hold back the tears," relates Gary Lisowski's mother as she talks of her son's marriage to Martha Agemy performed in the gazebo of the Mill Race Village June 12.

She explained that it was Gary's first marriage but the second for the bride. Gary was impressed with the service as it was so sincere, his mother says.

Those who have come to the mayor to be wed include a couple who had divorced after 19 years of marriage, had been apart for four years and then had decided to remarry.

There was a couple who came to Vernon because he had married the bride's sister and they had been impressed.

Couples aren't all youngsters by any means. The oldest couple tying the marriage knot listed the bridegroom as 62 years old.

The marriages have taken place in the Mill Race Village gazebo — a favorite summertime location for many brides — and in the New School Church in the village. Vows also have been recited in condominium meeting rooms and homes as well as at city hall and in the park behind the building.

Norma Vernon assists her husband in making ceremony arrangements and remembers once even borrowing flowers from city councilman Dewey Gardner's store to decorate the city hall.

As might be expected, the second weekend of June, the traditional wedding month, brought a high of three services, enough to keep even a minister busy. Since Vernon spends time both meeting the about-to-be-weds and planning their services, it is a real dedication.

"I tie the knot quite tight," he acknowledges, smiling. "They know they've been married."

Vernon likes to incorporate passages on "Love" and "Marriage" from The Prophet, well known work by the mystic poet Kahlil Gibran. "Love one another, but make not a bond of love fill each other's cup but drink not from one cup."

Vernon also quotes frequently from First Corinthians — "and the greatest of these is love."

In one recent ceremony, after charging the couple that "love and loyalty alone will prevail as the foundation of a happy and enduring home," Mayor Vernon said, "No other human ties are as tender, no other vows more sacred, than those you are now ready to assume."

He continued, "But marriage is not based on sentiment alone. It is also a civil ceremony. Not surprisingly, its dual origin in law and sentiment makes it seem a curious institution, but even so profound a skeptic as Bertrand Russell was persuaded that the institution was worth preserving."

Vernon quotes Russell: "There must be a feeling of complete equality on both sides; there must be no interference with mutual freedom; there must be the most complete physical and mental intimacy; and there must be a certain similarity in regard to standards of value. Given all these conditions, I believe marriage to be the best and most important relationship that can exist between two human beings."

The seriousness with which he takes his duty was exemplified, Norma Vernon confides, in a recent merger which included an Irish Catholic bridegroom and a Jewish bride.

"Paul spent all day during the weekend composing this service, which incorporated vows chosen by the couple," she says.

The simple words were effective: "I want to live with you just as you are. I chose you above all others, to share my life with me, and that is the only evidence there need be that I love you."

"I want to love you for yourself in the hope you will become all that you can be. I promise to honor this vow as long as life and faith endure."

At the conclusion of this service, held in the church building in the Mill Race Village, the ancient Jewish tradition of the crushed glass was observed with Vernon saying, "We wish the years of your marriage be not less than the time it would take to fit these fragments together again."

Mayor Vernon confers with Max Rosenberger, father of the bride, and Thomas Brennan, bridegroom

Vernon remembers he initially agreed to a request to marry a couple after he succeeded Mayor A. M. Allen in office, noting that Allen had officiated at marriages while mayor. That first service was for realtor Ann Roy's former son-in-law. Since then requests have come from 34 others, including a Channel Two television producer, a former priest, a Chinese student, a widow and an executive secretary. In one case the wedding was an elopement.

Because the State of Michigan vests Vernon with the power to marry, as mayor of the City of Northville, he does have some limitation. The service must be performed within the city limits.

Vernon does not benefit monetarily from performing these weddings. He accepts no money for his services but has suggested a donation to the Mill Race Village if the ceremony was held there and he is pressed.

Vernon is required by law to keep a registry of those he has married and must mail the copy of the marriage certificate to the county clerk.

His reputation is growing — in 1980 he performed 10 marriage services; by the end of June this year he had officiated at 13.

When the 35th District Court office is vacated as the court moves to its own building this fall, Vernon has been thinking of asking city council to convert that space to a more appropriate setting for such services.

Those who hear the mayor's services often wonder if he is in a social services occupation. Actually, he is vice president of special accounts for Allen Testproducts, a division of The Allen Group, a conglomerate that is auto-related. Group president is Walter Kissinger, Henry Kissinger's brother.

The Vernons came to Michigan 15 years ago from Missoula, Montana, moving to Northville 12 years ago.

As couples stand before him to be joined in matrimony, Vernon charges that the estate is not to be entered into lightly and does his best to make the service one to be remembered before the final words:

"By power vested in me by the State of Michigan, as the mayor of Northville, I now pronounce you man and wife."

Mayor Vernon officiates as Gary Lisowski gives ring

Gary Lisowski takes bride in June rites in gazebo

Martha Agemy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Walker of Wayne, exchanged marriage vows with Gary Lisowski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lisowski of 9735 Napier, in a 6 p.m. ceremony June 12.

Setting for the wedding was the Victorian gazebo in Mill Race Historical Village in Northville. Mayor Paul Vernon officiated at the double ring service.

The bride wore an ivory organza gown fashioned with lace yoke and long, sheer sleeves gathered at the wrists. Her hair was styled in a French braid adorned with flowers.

She carried a nosegay of carnations, dusty rose-hue silk roses, baby's-breath and orchids tied with streamers.

Bridal attendant Patty Suliman wore a mauve-colored dress with ivory chiffon jacket and carried a bouquet similar to the bride's.

Mark Lisowski returned from Australia just in time to serve as his brother's best man.

A reception followed for 40 family members and guests in the Country Room of the Hillside Inn in Plymouth.

After a wedding trip to Mackinac Island, the newlyweds are living in the home they have built at 9212 Hickory Ridge in Northville.

The bride is an associate claims representative for All State Insurance while her husband is claims manager. They met through work. The bride is a graduate of Wayne Memorial High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of Northville High School and Schoolcraft College.

Grand Hotel still classy isle living

Just as this tiny, automobileless island preserves a small town from the days when the century was young, so Mackinac Island's Grand Hotel retains the style and life of the great grand hotels of fact and fiction.

The island, with its white storefront main street, historic fur trade buildings, original 200-year-old fort, and acres of woods and trails, lies in the Straits of Mackinac between Michigan's upper and lower peninsulas.

State Highway 185, the shore road (gas tax-supported for horses!), is only seven miles around. There are no cars, only horse clip-clopping through the streets to deliver the residents to dinner, parties, guests to their hotels, golfers to their fate. Most everyone rides bicycles, the speedy, modern transport. But the Grand Hotel commands all, for both overnight guests and day visitors.

High on a hill overlooking the meeting of Lakes Huron and Michigan (which in the Straits flow both east and west) the hotel is like a mother eagle hovering over the village below.

Built in 1887, the stately six-story, white building is faced by an 880-foot veranda under a roof supported by three-story pillars. Its 600 guests roam lush gardens of flowering plants and the famous Grand Hotel lilacs (from Paris, via Quebec, long ago). They may wander (or job) the Grand Woods Trail, saunter its boardwalk, relax in the summer sun in the swimming pool gardens, or dip in the serpentine pool.

The Grand Hotel golf course is "sporty" and close at hand. Wawashkamo, oldest nine hole course in Michigan, with its wicker-furnished, F. Scott Fitzgerald clubhouse is in the center of the island.

There are shuffleboard and tennis courts, a fine croquet green in front of a bubbling fountain (site of a spring tournament and fall croquet meet), nearby riding stables and bicycle liveries.

Room rates include three meals a day from lavish menus.

Dinner is the acme. The six-course dinner includes more than 50 items. There are various seafood cocktails with the famous Grand mustard sauce, smoked Nova Scotia salmon, double consommé and gazpacho, among many appetizers and soups. The Grand salad bowl with sliced mushrooms, and the beefsteak tomato-bermuda onion salad have both achieved modest fame.

CAPPING OFF two weeks of grand opening activities in celebration of its new headquarters building at 26222 Novi Road, Manufacturers Bank of Novi held a grand prize drawing for a handcrafted grandfather clock. After Charles E. Wood, the bank's president, rotated the barrel containing the hundreds of entries collected during the two-week celebration, Ray Stephens, general manager of Acromag Viking, Inc., the clock's manufacturer, drew the winning entry. Novi resident H. Dean Morrow took the clock home.

EUGENE WAGNER of Northville, president of Target International, a coin-operated machine company, is one of three Michigan inventors receiving a patent for a machine which, if utilized, can handle returned beverage containers with little or no cost to the consuming public.

The patent is for a "reverse" vending machine which reads the U.P.C. code on the beverage containers as they are inserted by the consumer, vends a coin or receipt to the consumer, sorts the containers, keeps a record for later reimbursement by the beverage companies, then can crush the cans and place them in a container which can be picked up by a front-end loading disposal truck for return to the smelter.

The newly patented machine also can handle containers made of plastic or other materials.

The machine provides a cleaner environment without millions of dollars in handling costs by supermarkets and beverage companies, says Wagner, who coaches Northville girls varsity basketball.

The inventors currently are searching for sufficient start-up capital to get the system into full production. They are optimistic that the production of this equipment can remain an in-Michigan operation, since the state is hard hit by the current slump in the automotive market.

Besides Wagner, the two other inventors sharing the patent are Fremont Thompson, former corporate vice president of Borman's Inc., a large supermarket chain, and L. P. Vogel, semi-retired supermarket engineer.

E. G. O'Brien of Northville has joined Zinder Engineering, Inc., a subsidiary of Zinder Companies, Inc. as vice president, according to James M. Iocca, P.E., president of the Ann Arbor based engineering and architectural consulting firm specializing in energy systems.

Iocca stated that O'Brien will be responsible for the company's marketing activities as well as those relative to financial and management consulting.

O'Brien previously worked for Ford Motor Company, where he held senior management positions in marketing, manufacturing, financial control and forward planning, in both the United States and Canada.

O'Brien earned degrees in economics and business administration from the University of Michigan and Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

Zinder Engineering, Inc. provides engineering and architectural design services to the electric, petroleum, natural gas, manufacturing and chemical industries covering power generation, fuel conversion, transportation, distribution, utilization, conservation and supply. Zinder is headquartered in Ann Arbor.

Zinder Companies, Inc. provides economic studies for energy companies, financial institutions and government agencies, rate and regulatory services, general management consulting and financial counseling.

Zinder Companies, Inc. has offices in Washington, D.C.; Houston and Dallas, Texas; Albany and New York City; Menlo Park, California; Portland and Salem, Oregon. H. Zinder & Associates Canada, Ltd. is located in Ottawa, Ontario and Calgary, Alberta. An affiliate organization, Zinder-Neris, which is engaged in services related to coal, operates from Washington and New York City.

O'Brien and his family reside at 18341 Laraugh Drive.

JOHN NORTHUP, a former Northville resident and developer of Taft Colony and Shadbrook subdivisions in Northville Township, who now lives in Charlevoix, is announcing plans for a major retirement-vacation development at Antrim Dells subdivision 10 miles south of Charlevoix. Antrim Dells covers 1,800 acres, has 600 feet of beach on Grand Traverse Bay, an airstrip and championship 18-hole golf course.

Plans call for construction of 70 single family homes, priced from $45,000 to $80,000; a group of 20 to be priced over $100,000; and 270 condominiums from $29,900 to $80,000. Northup plans to use manufactured homes and units produced by Wausau Homes of Wausau, Wisconsin, citing their energy saving features.

In the future there will be rental arrangements available for those who buy vacation dwellings and wish to have a return, Northup's mother, Northville resident Rita Young, explains. Because of the proximity of such ski resorts as Shanty Creek and Boyne Mountain, she points out, the area is a year-round vacation site.

The $29,900 condominium units, she adds, are designed as an open area studio with hidden bed as low cost vacation homes. There also are low maintenance homes planned for those intending to retire in the north. The development is a five year program. The golf course already has been expanded from nine to 18 holes and is used for qualifying tournaments. Northup has built the clubhouse.

Wausau Homes has a new design concept that lets the customer draw part of the plans for his house, the developer states. There are 12 different basic types from which to choose, ranging from tri-level to ranch or rustic.

A portion of the development already has been sold. The roads are in and the first four Wausau homes have been built. Antrim Dells was acquired by the developers in the late 1960s and early 1970s. Northup, who has flown his own plane for a long time, now has passed the tests for instrument flying and flies all over the country, his mother reports, noting the airstrip feature of the development.

BILL McLAUGHLIN, Northville resident who is president of the Metropolitan Detroit Convention and Visitors Bureau, reports that delegate attendance at Detroit area conventions through May, 1981, ran a record-breaking 47 percent over the same five month period in previous years. Some 299,782 delegates spent $39.9 million at 259 conventions throughout Metropolitan Detroit.

In addition, the bureau reports a 10 percent increase in sales activity during the five month period, with 327,725 delegates slated to attend 311 future conventions. They are expected to spend more than $81.6 million in the Detroit area.

Much of this increased activity can be attributed to the successful GOP convention in Detroit in 1980, according to McLaughlin. "The high number of delegates attending Detroit conventions, as well as our record sales figure, reflect the improved image we achieved nearly one year ago during the Republican National Convention," said McLaughlin. "We have seen, and will see for years to come, the positive effects of the tremendous effort put forth to assure the success of the 1980 convention."

"Another indication of this success," he continued, "are the types of conventions we are booking." He pointed to the recent booking of the 1983 World Scout Conference. This prestigious conference is the General Assembly of the World Organization of the Scout Movement whose membership represents 116 nations. The biennial World Scout Conference, at the Hyatt Regency Dearborn July 18-22, 1983, will be the first held in the United States since 1967. Attended by 700 international scouting leaders, it will be conducted in both English and French.

ROBERT M. SCHERER, Sr., five year resident of Northville Township, has been added to Robert Gariepy's staff of the Metropolitan Insurance Company.

Gariepy, also of Northville, serves as a sales manager in the Plymouth Road-Livonia office.

Since joining the Metropolitan Insurance Company in September, Scherer now leads the sales force in property and liability insurance sold in 1981. Specializing in auto and homeowners insurance has given this former Livonia public school teacher the competitive edge over his sales colleague, said Gariepy.

Scherer earned his master's degree in administration in administration from Eastern Michigan University. He also is a licensed minister serving one of the area's Christian churches.

JEFFREY A. KNIGHT of Milford has been promoted to the position of controller by Guardian Industries Corporation (NYSE) of Novi.

Knight, 30, joined Guardian in 1977 as manager of accounting systems. He was appointed assistant corporate controller in 1979. Before joining Guardian, Knight was employed as an audit supervisor at Coopers & Lybrand. He is a CPA and has a BBA degree from Western Michigan University.

Guardian Industries Corporation is a leading manufacturer and fabricator of flat glass products used in construction and, to a lesser extent, automotive applications. Other building products manufactured by the company are fiberglass and mineral wool insulation.

Guardian also services the amateur photography market through a nationwide network of 13 photo processing facilities.

Whitefish, caught the same day, and aged prime rib of beef head a list of entire specialties which includes sweetbreads and chicken shortcake. There's dinner sherbert to cool the palate between courses.

For dessert, selected from 20 — perhaps the butterscotch pie or exclusive Grand Pecan Ball, nut encrusted ice cream in fudge sauce. Finish up with coffee and roquefort or camembert on thin wafers.

After coffee, guests often adjourn to the long parlor where complimentary demi-tasse is served while a violinist, pianist and harpist play Viennese waltzes and popular show tunes. On nice nights, they step out to the front porch and walk along in the moonlight, sipping brandy from balloon snifters.

Winner's Circle sets leader with first loss

What couldn't be done 11 previous times to Long Mechanical in American League adult recreation softball action finally happened last week Tuesday when Winner's Circle Bar handed Long Mechanical its first loss of the season, 16-5.

Winner's Circle was powered by the explosive bat of Craig Forhan, who had three homeruns, a single and five runs-batted-in.

In fact, Winner's Circle had homers in every inning but the fifth. Forhan belted homers in the first, fourth and sixth innings. Mark Lisowski had a round-tripper in the second and fourth innings. Dave Zima in the third and Rob McGuire in the sixth.

Jim LaPlante also had a big night with three singles in four plate appearances for Winner's Circle.

Long Mechanical was paced by Rick Bingley (two singles) and John Sinclair (double and single). Mechanical scored once in the first and four times in the second to account for its runs.

In other America League action Canterbury Cleaners edged Northville Lab, 6-5, when it withstood a three-run rally by Lab in the top of the seventh inning.

Russ Gans had a big night at the plate with three singles in four trips to the plate to help Canterbury even its record at 5-5. John Taube and Jerry Rothermel each contributed two hits.

Bill Nowland and Bob Potter each went three-for-four at the plate for Northville Lab, while John Major was two-for-four.

Canterbury scored single runs in the first and seventh innings and two each in the third and fifth stanzas. Northville Lab scored two in the opening frame and three in the seventh.

Court Time Racquet Club forfeited its game against the Recycled Raiders in the final American League action of the week.

Kenny Miller in the second produced the runs, while a double off the bat of Gary Globish was the big blow in the fifth.

Sheehan's scored all of its runs in the bottom of the fifth on consecutive singles by Jim Barbour, Bob Kehoe, Ray Janisse, Stan Tarowski, John Osborne and Jim Eathorne.

J&S Steel 12, Belangers 3: A big sixrun first inning propelled J&S Steel to victory and gained it a second-place tie with Sheehan's Little Caesars in the standings.

Russ Barnes and John Muir each went three-for-three with Barnes driving in two runs and Muir one. Al Cox, Ron White and Ed Bolinger each contributed with two hits.

Belanger was limited to six hits for the evening with Lee Belanger picking up two of those and Mike Calahan getting one and driving in two runs.

Eagles 14, Urban Partition & Remodeling 1: It was no contest from the beginning as the fourth-place Eagles keep gaining on the leaders in the National League.

Pacing the 17-hit attack for the Eagles were Rick Dodson, who was perfect at the plate with four hits in four plate appearances; Dave Vaughan and Paul Koslakisiewicz, both with three-for-four performances; and Al Runge, Dan Zywick and Len Zywick each contributing two hits. Dan Zywick also blasted a homerun.

Urban's could only manage five hits against the Eagles as Bob Clark, Pat Carducci, Vic Carducci, Steve Dehnbostel and Brett Young each hit singles.

Eagles 8, Our Lady of Victory 4: The Eagles made it two consecutive wins for the week as a four-run first inning was the difference in the ball game.

Ken Nadolsky and Ron Runderknecht each went two-for-two, while Al Runge was three-for-four for the winners. Paul Koslakisiewicz banged out two hits including a homer.

O.L.V. connected for 10 hits but could only push across four runs. Randy Prokop and Gary Tuz banged out half of the hits with Prokop connecting for three and Tuz two.

Belanger 10, L&H Players 9: Belanger had to withstand a four-run upsurge by L&H Players in the bottom of the seventh inning to preserve the triumph.

Mark Vivyan, who smacked two triples and a single, and Pat Alger, who collected three hits, paced the Belanger offensive attack. Harvey Stettke, Chris McCoskey, Greg Lawrence, Mike Calahan, Mike Edgerton and Pat McGauldin each banged out two hits.

L&H Players' Steve Harmon had a good night at the plate with three hits, including a homer and a double, while teammate Don Barrett also connected for a round-tripper in two hits. Dwight Huffman had two hits for the losers.

Belanger 8, St. Paul's 2: Belanger overcame a 2-0 first inning deficit and scored eight times in the last three frames to win going away.

Big hitters for Belanger's include Mike Calahan with a perfect four-for-four performance and Harvey Stettke and Yee Wesley with two hits apiece.

St. Paul's could garner only five hits in the contest with Dave Dundek, John Mueller, Doug Helmick, Bob Bannatz and Wayne Loontjer each hitting singles.

Urban's Partition & Remodeling 9, First United Methodist Church 3: In a battle between a couple of lower-division teams, Urban's prevailed for its second win of the season.

Thoughts on a Wednesday:

For the past few weeks, I have stopped by the Northville High School gym to see the fourth through sixth grade basketball camp conducted by NHS boys basketball coach Tim Lutes.

The camp, part of three conducted during the third annual summer camp, was a joy to watch. It was great to see the determination of approximately 40 kids trying their best to master the fundamental basketball skills.

As Lutes put it, "I really enjoy working with the fourth, fifth and sixth grade kids. I think it refreshes me toward the game of basketball through their enthusiasm. They're so natural, so unassuming. I think it reflects off on me."

That basically was the same feeling I had when I went to watch these kids perform. Their sheer determination and enthusiasm were about enough to make you want to get out on the roundball court and try some of the drills they were attempting to master.

If you were like me and went to watch these youngsters a couple of times, you also could see the improvement they made. I'm sure this held throughout the seventh through ninth grade and 10th through 12th grade camps as well.

Lutes already has noted the improvement kids attending his camp have made. He said kids who have been in the camp for two or three years really have been developing their skills. He added the recreation program and junior high programs have helped as well.

The players have been making progress athletically as well as physically, Lutes said. The coordination and balance and the hand-to-eye coordination have improved, he explained, especially among the young group.

With all of this improvement and work with the summer camp, Lutes has begun establishing a firm feeder program for his high school squad in order to maintain respectability on the court. This year Lutes had 120 players attend camp, which ended Tuesday.

However, with the school millage coming up July 28, a defeat would hinder the hard efforts Lutes has put forward. In fact, a millage defeat would wipe out what he has already established since he does not have enough seniority to stay with the school.

But not only would Lutes be affected, other teams like football, baseball, track, swimming and so on would be hurt by a millage defeat.

The kids would be affected also. Because, I believe, most of them are in these types of camps, or participate in recreation programs, in hopes of making the varsity when they reach the high school level. Fan interest and participation in general developed among the kids might be affected. If there are no varsity sports, a goal has been taken away from them.

Other aspects the millage defeat would have are changes in the programs. As Lutes said, the entire basketball program would undergo a change, the summer basketball camp would most likely die and, if the school did have sports, it would have to build all over again.

However, Lutes has definite optimism the millage will pass this time around because he feels the people of this town are too smart to allow this to happen.

Even though I have only been here about two months, I would tend to agree with Lutes. I already found out how seriously the people of Northville take their recreation programs and I can only guess the same about the high school athletic scene.

With all of the hoopla over the escapades of John McEnroe on the tennis courts at Wimbledon I wonder how much of an affect this will have on the young players of the game?

Namely, the kids who play in tournaments right in our own back yard like the Northville Junior Classic.

Because of the sometimes enormous effect professional players have on the young athletes today, I wonder how many will begin to copy the antics of McEnroe.

Arsenal makes regionals

For the second straight year the Bonanza-Express under-16 boys Arsenal soccer team will be heading to regional competition in Minnesota this week to represent Michigan against other state champions from around the Midwest.

Arsenal, which has four players from Northville on the squad, will battle against Nebraska Friday in the opening round of competition. Last season, the Arsenal team won the national championship.

Representing Northville on the team are Scott Gala, Steve Starcevic, Greg Marshall and Jeff Metz. Arsenal is coached by John Starcevic.

Playing the basics in soccer will be the key to how the team does in the regional competition, John Starcevic said. "We have to go to the ball, be aggressive and just play good sound basic soccer," he added.

One of the aspects which makes the regional competition difficult is there is no prior knowledge of the team one faces and Starcevic noted a team determines its game plan during the contest.

"But, everyone else has to do the same thing," he said.

To reach the regionals Arsenal had to win the Michigan Cup Soccer Tournament. It did so by downing the Warren Bulldogs, 4-1, but not before receiving a break to get back into the tournament.

Arsenal had been defeated earlier in the tournament by the Troy Rams, but when a referee discovered the Rams had an ineligible player the tournament was resumed from the point of the infraction.

Quarterfinal and semifinal games were replayed with Arsenal defeating the Livonia Sabers and Troy United.

This brought some protests from the Troy United team which was to head for the state championship before the discovery was made, but Starcevic said the matter has gone through all the proper legal channels and the decision has been upheld by the Michigan State Board of Soccer.

So it is on to Minnesota where Starcevic will be taking a young, but talented, group of players. The team Starcevic is taking is comprised mostly of 14- and 15-year-olds. He said most of the other teams in the tournament will have players around 16.

But that does not deter the optimism of the squad, Starcevic said, since the same situation existed in league play.

Arsenal has compiled a 29-4-1 record to this point in the season. It also has won the Buckeye Invitational in Cincinnati, Ohio, for the second consecutive year and was second in the Reston International Tournament in Reston, Virginia. Arsenal lost to host Reston in the championship contest.

The team has a Canadian tour scheduled in August when it will play in International Tournaments in St. Catherine's, Hamilton and Toronto.

Bicycle winners

Everyone likes a parade. The four-through 10-year-old kids in the Northville recreation day camp had fun participating in the annual bike parade July 2.

Before the youngsters headed out on Main Street, they decorated their bikes and heard a small speech on bike safety from three members of the Northville city and township police departments.

Winning bike excellence awards in the four-to-six age group were Andy Genitti and Katie Kernohan. In the seven-to-10 age group Kevin Gill, Julie Norback, Justin Ord and Jason Ord all received bike excellence awards.

Astros cruise toward local championship

With only a week left in the season the Astros continue to skyrocket toward the F-League baseball title as they hold a comfortable five and a half game lead over their nearest competitor.

The Astros lead the division with a sparkling 17-1 mark. The Padres are in second place with an 11-6 mark followed by the Dodgers at 10-8.

Astros 13, Angels 9: In their only game of the week the Astros slipped past the Angels in a run-scoring duel. Chris Hauser paced the Astros hitting attack with three hits and teammate Steve Smith added two more. For the Angels, Jeff Bainbridge banged out two hits.

Braves 17, Padres 5: John Mark Anderson pitched a four-hitter in leading the last-place Braves past the second-place Padres. Dan Norton was the hitting standout for the Braves by rapping out two hits.

Mets 26, Giants 5: It was no contest as the Mets thumped the Giants. Jeff Busch had three hits and five runs-batted-in and Dan Totten collected three hits and four rbi to pace the Mets hitting machine. Mike Crawford also banged out three hits for the Mets. Mike Davis was on base three times (two walks and a triple) to lead the Giants.

Reds 6, Phillies 4: The Reds' Greg Abraham gave up six runs on four hits in pitching just over six innings to receive credit for the win. Mark Deal drove in the tying with a single and scored the go-ahead run on a wild pitch for the triumph.

Angels 9, Reds 3: Keith Dutkiewicz hit a homerun and Kelly Bell pitched an excellent four-hitter in helping the Angels even their overall record at 9-9.

Magic Show

Fourteen-year-old magician John Hovanesian performs feats of illusion before a group of Northville day camp youngsters last week Thursday. When the container was removed not a single drop of milk had been spilled on Huff's head.

Meadowbrook to host tourney

Junior golfers from 20 clubs in southeastern Michigan will head for Northville July 28 to compete in the Fifth Annual Junior Invitational at the Meadowbrook Country Club.

The annual inter-club event has grown in popularity. It also has resulted in keen competition during the qualifying rounds at the home clubs of each participant. Meadowbrook juniors played their qualifying rounds July 14 with the winners in each age bracket slated to play in the tournament. Juniors from other clubs are selected in similar qualifying rounds at their own courses.

The competition will be within the players' own age bracket. The competition will be for boys ages nine through 12 playing nine holes and for both boys and girls ages 13 through 17 playing 18 holes.

Approximately 125 boys and girls will be on hand for the 8:30 a.m. shotgun start, according to Sue Fortenberry, the chairperson of the event.

Record corrects errors

It was incorrectly reported in last week's Record sports section that Long Mechanical defeated Canterbury Flowers, 17-4. It should have read Long Mechanical defeated Northville Gallery of Flowers, 17-4.

Also, it was incorrectly reported in the July 1 Record sports section that horse show rider Lisa Grunheid was graduated from Northville High School this past June. It should have read she was graduated from Gabriel Richard in Ann Arbor.

The headline about the new Western Lakes Conference incorrectly said it was to begin this fall. It should have read the fall of 1982.

The Record regrets any inconvenience the errors may have caused.

Liberties near division title

Barring a minor miracle the Liberties have all but wrapped up the Intermediate Division girls softball title with only four games left to play in the season.

The Liberties have an unblemished 14-0 mark and their nearest opponent, the Travelers, are in second with a 10-4 ledger. The Sunbirds are in third with a 9-6 record.

In two games played last week the Liberties had no trouble in disposing the Gems, 16-10, and the Sunbirds, 20-12. The Gems evened their record at 7-7 by outslugging the Phillies 16-10.

The Sunbirds rebounded from the defeat at the hands of the Liberties by slipping past the Gems, 13-10, while the Aztecs recorded only their third win of the season in downing the Travelers, 20-16.

In Primary Division action, the race remains close between the Phillies and the Liberties. The Phillies are in first with an 11-3 record and are closely followed by the Liberties at 10-4. In third are the Falcons at 6-8.

Thursday night the Phillies and the Liberties will play for first place in the division. Last week, the Phillies trounced the Travelers, 22-10, but lost to the Falcons, 14-6.

The Liberties also split a pair of contest last week. They defeated the Travelers 11-2, but fell to probably the hottest team in recent weeks, the Gems, 12-6.

Last week alone, the Gems picked up three victories to total four over the past two weeks without suffering a loss.

Mets hold slim E-League lead

Four teams are all bunched up at the top of the E-League baseball race with the Mets holding a slim game and a half lead over the Cardinals and Reds after action last week.

The Mets sit atop the E-League division with a 9-2 record followed by the Cardinals and Reds, both with 8-4 marks. The Phillies are right in the thick of the race with a 7-4 ledger. Bringing up the bottom of the pack are the Angels, 2-10, and the Padres, 1-11.

Phillies 9, Mets 8: The Phillies handed the Mets only their second loss of the season in a see-saw battle. John Collins scattered seven hits for the Phillies while Dave Longridge allowed only five hits for the Mets. Mickey Newman had a double and triple for the Mets.

Padres 12, Angels 5: The Padres scored their first victory by beating the Angels behind the six-hit pitching of Kevin Kolb and Mike Ross.

Reds 3, Cardinals 1: Dave Yarmuth of the Reds went the distance by pitching a four-hitter and striking out 11 Cardinal batters. A run-batted-in triple in the fifth inning by Bill Kinnaird proved to be the winning margin for the Reds.

Phillies 7, Reds 6: John Collins and Jim Ziegler allowed only four hits as the Phillies squeezed past the Reds for the victory. The Phillies were down by one run in the last inning, but pushed across two runs to steal the victory.

Kids' enthusiasm refreshing to all

My dad and I got into a heated argument the day McEnroe was playing Bjorn Borg for the men's singles title. The argument was whether McEnroe was entitled to his spot in center court due to the way he argued judges' calls during the week.

To refresh your memory, McEnroe was fined more than $12,000 for remarks to judges, like, "You guys are the pits of the world," when he thought they made the wrong call.

My dad felt a guy like McEnroe should not have been there because of the manner he handled himself and should have been thrown out of the tournament. My opinion was Wimbledon neglected the proper channels to expel McEnroe and, because he won all of his matches, he deserved to be in the final.

I'm not condoning what McEnroe did, but I believe everyone is entitled to question a call he/she thinks was incorrectly made. An athlete can "calmly" ask the judge to explain his reasoning for the call and accept it for what it is worth.

If the athlete still feels the judge's decision was wrong, then he or she should take the matter to the next highest authority.

McEnroe, at age 22, is probably the best player in the world right now and deserves to be where he is, but, he needs to clean up his sportsmanship act.

I only hope the tennis players around here, and for that matter all athletes, represent Northville with the most sportsman-like conduct possible, not imitating John McEnroe.

Koufax squad downs Detroit

Northville's Sandy Koufax blue baseball team may have used all its scoring power in one game last week as it trounced Detroit Mic Mac, 19-1, as was then blanked by Garden City, 8-0.

Northville banged out 19 hits in its victory over Detroit Mic Mac. Hitting standouts for Northville were Paul Havala with two triples and four runs-batted-in; Jay Bartling with two doubles and a triple; Mickey Newman with three hits, which included a long homerun, and four rbi; and Mike Wissman with three hits and three rbi.

Rick Van Buren belted out two hits and Kelly Bell knocked in three runs with a sacrifice fly and a double.

The infield played errorless ball in aiding the victory.

However, all of the offensive punch and sparkling defense were not to be found against Garden City.

Northville was limited to four hits with Newman rapping out two of them while Garden City pitchers fanned 17 Northville batters.

Unlike the game against Detroit Mic Mac, Northville committed six errors in the field.

Northville team victorious twice

It took a clutch two-out run-scoring single by Eric Gala in the bottom of the seventh inning to propel Northville's Pee Wee Reese baseball team past Garden City, 3-2, Sunday and break the deadlock for first place.

The Northville squad and Garden City had entered the contest tied for first. The victory was the ninth straight, compared to three losses, for Northville after it had downed Plymouth Sport Shop, 10-3, Saturday.

It was the win over Garden City which has the team riding high and thinking of the national finals in Atlanta, Georgia, in August. With only four games left in the season, Northville is almost assured a spot in the state tournament, which, if it won, would send Northville to Atlanta, coach Nick Trapani said.

With Northville leading Garden City 2-0 in the last frame, John Lobbia relieved starter George Daraban, who pitched six strong innings by allowing only one hit. He had to leave the game because of the league rule which states a pitcher may only throw seven innings during the weekend and Daraban had already pitched one inning Saturday.

Garden City immediately scored two runs off Lobbia. Garden City started the inning by putting two men on base via a single and an error.

However, Lobbia beared down on the next two batters with a strikeout and a flyout, but a two-run single tied the game before Lobbia struckout the last batter of the inning.

Northville came right back when pinch hitter Scott Griggs singled, his fourth straight for the weekend. Pinch runner Joey Brielmaier then stole second and went to third on a groundout by Sean McLaughlin.

That set the stage for Gala's winning heroics. Northville could only muster up six hits in the contest with Gala connecting for three of them on two singles and a triple. He also scored one run and drove in two more.

Brian Baldrica had the other big rb: when he singled home Gala in the fifth. Gala had tripled home pinch runner Eddie Walsh for the other run of the inning.

Trapani, who was not at the games, cited the efforts of assistant coaches Bruce Griggs and Bill Pye in guiding the team against Garden City and Plymouth.

In the Plymouth contest, Baldrica received his first pitching start of the year and did not disappoint anyone by hurling six good innings. He allowed three runs on five hits and struckout three batters. Daraban came on in relief to close the door in the seventh.

Griggs was the top batsmen for Northville with a three-for-three performance and driving in four runs in the 17-hit attack. McLaughlin connected for three hits (single, double, triple) and drove home three runs.

Bill Pye had two hits as the number seven, eight and nine hitters in the order collected nine hits altogether. Pye, pinch hitter Adam Beehan, McLaughlin and Griggs comprised the group.

Area swim club still unbeaten

After reaching the halfway point in its season the Northville Swim Club remains unbeaten in four meets.

According to the team's coach Bill Dicks, the defending league champions have defeated Burton Hollow of Livonia, 207-181; Plymouth Colony, 209-184; Fairway Farms of Livonia, 207-178; and Newburg of Livonia, 240-146.

Northville has four meets remaining with each of the above teams. The league meet will take place August 1 with the Northville Swim Club hosting the event.

There are 125 swimmers on the team, Dicks said, and range in age five to 18. The team practices every morning from 7-9 a.m. The meets are Tuesdays and Thursdays at 6 p.m.

Summer cage camp names contest winners

Not only were fundamentals taught during the Third Annual Summer Basketball Camp, but various contests took place as well.

Camp Director Tim Lutes, who also is the Northville High School boys basketball coach, said the Wolverines of the fourth through sixth grade group and the Mavericks of the seventh through ninth grade group won their respective team tournaments.

Members of the Wolverines are: Steve Myers, John Kissinger, Matt McDonald, Chris Olsen, Kelli O'Neill and Jeff Higgins. Members of the Mavericks are: Jeff Anderson, Kevin Downs, Matt Hinds, Tim Isom, Doug May, Sean McLaughlin, Kirk Morrison and Fred Cahill.

Winners of the free throw shooting contest were Brad Metz for the fourth through sixth grade group and John Regan for the seventh through ninth grade group.

In the fourth through sixth grade group Steve Pote won the shooting contest, while Dave Denhoff won the basketball game version of golf.

In the seventh through ninth grade group Dave Denhoff, Tom Ross and Doug Hartman won the three-on-three team championship.

Lutes scheduled all-star contests Tuesday with teams of equal strength playing against each other.

Soccer squads next

In an effort to bring readers team photographs of the summer league recreational champions, The Record sports section begins this week with the H-League baseball champions.

Next week watch for Northville youth soccer teams which won championships in the Western Suburban Soccer League.

A&P Economy Shop...

...where good products and lowest prices come together

ADVERTISED ITEM POLICY Each of these advertised items is required to be read available for sale at or below the advertised price in each A&P Store except as specifically noted in this ad.

Prices effective Monday, July 13 thru Saturday, July 18, 1981
Items offered for sale not available to other retail dealers or wholesalers

ECONOMY CORNER

GOOD PRODUCTS

LOWEST PRICES

Economy Shop is a special section of unbranded Economy Products priced at substantial savings over national brands for sale at A&P.

Now, you can save a lot on the items you use a lot! Economy Products give you real economy choices on the products you can use most. You'll find a limited selection from sweet peas to green beans to paper towels, packaged with plain black & white labels with no brand name and sold in their own special selection. And A&P's money back guarantee stands behind every product.

How can A&P do it?

These are the kinds of products you use everyday... all available at rock bottom prices. You'll notice some differences, for example, sweet peas are of mixed sizes, and the green beans come in non-uniform lengths. But they offer good nutrition and value. And you'll find that our economy household products such as paper towels and detergents do get the job done. A&P has always given shoppers a wide selection of famous national brands and A&P's own private label brands. Now, with the new Economy Shop products, A&P gives you another way to save! Look for the special Economy Shop section at your A&P.
