

Feathered friend

There's no doubt in a baby duck's mind that the hand that feeds it is the one to love. Jeni Gautz, manager of Belanger Car Wash on East Main, discovered about two weeks ago that an egg in a nest on the car wash property was cracking even though it had been abandoned by the mother duck after invasion by a dog. She placed the egg in an incubator contrived from an aquarium and an electric light bulb. The result is "Cricket," photographed last week by Jim Galbraith as the one-and-a-half week old duckling followed Jeni's every move. Fed baby duck starter food from a farm feed store, Cricket has been thriving — so much so that Jeni parted with her pet Sunday at the Children's Farm at Kensington Park, placing Cricket among the baby chickens. "He cried, at least he chirped real loud," Jeni reports, adding, "I'm going back to be sure he's all right."

Council seeks strict law on arcades

of the problems arcades present, Northville City Council members Monday took first steps toward adding a new section to the city ordinance for their control.

Memories of the arcade on the lower level of Northville Square when it operated as a shopping mall flooded council as the members indicated the city "already has been burned."

'It (the arcade) contributed to the demise of the shopping center," said City Manager Steven Walters who declared he finds the arcade operations frightening.

'There's so much money in this it's frightening," he told council, adding, organized crime is interested — 25 to 50 cents goes into machines every few minutes and becomes big money.

As the council relived days of the Northvill Arcade Five in the shopping mall, Mayor Paul Vernon recalled that it presented a policing problem for the city. It was noted that the operator had tried to run the business well but that it attracted "idle young people."

Vernon also noted that its end "made a tremendous difference in the amount of trash around the building." He reported that DPW head Ted Mapes said trash disappeared as soon as the arcade closed.

an ordinance drafted by City Attorney Philip Ogilvie, it was concerned that a definition be written that would encompass all types of arcades. Coin or token-operated amusement devices, as a definition, was felt to be limiting as some game places operate by charging admission fees.

It was agreed that in terms of the ordinance "arcade" will mean any place of business or establishment wherein three or more devices are operating. One or two machines, therefore, would be permitted in such places as drug stores without coming under restrictions of the ordinance. In such locations they are not the primary use, it was

Indicating that they are all too aware quire a license from the city and payment of an annual fee.

After discussion of how to limit the number of machines by square footage of the building in which they would be operated, the council was told by the attorney that it would be difficult to have such a restriction stand up in court.

Vernon suggested that safe occupany should be the requirement.

Referring again to the arcade that had operated here, he declared he had 'documented reports that parents used it as a baby sitting service, dropping children off there while they shopped."

Council member J. Burton DeRusha mosphere." stated he would be willing to try to prohibit completely admission of anyone under 16 years old, pointing out that minors are not allowed to bet at the race track.

Vernon suggested putting the arcades in the same category as pool halls. Council member Carolann Ayers asked, "Are you're saying this (arcade) is an adult place?"

"We have had the experience," Vernon replied. "I'm prepared to accept an arcade in the same category as a pool hall. It creates an unhealthy at-

As the attorney mentioned that pool halls are "almost a thing of the past," Vernon said, "Sure, they have been replaced by arcades - they're part of he new morality."

DeRusha, agreeing that the council should support as tight an ordinance as possible, said, "We ought to be prepared to accept that challenge. If the court decides to tell us it is not proper, okay, but to give up before challenging is not right.'

Arcade regulation grows in area

By KEVIN WILSON

"Some interesting developments" in the regulation of games arcades led Northville Township to delay implementation of its licensing ordinance last week, Clerk Susan Heintz said.

The township board of trustees had the ordinance on its Thursday agenda for final action, but recent developments in surrounding communities caused the township attorney rcade closed. to request time for a more thorough As the council turned its attention to review of the proposed law.

Licensing and regulation of arcades has become one of the hottest issues in this region in the past few months, with governmental bodies from Canton north to Commerce Township either considering regulation or carrying such a law on the books. The City of Northville is the latest entry into the field (see related story).

The city commission in Plymouth Monday passed a stringent law setting license fees at $200 per machine for pinball and video games. The city had considered several alternatives. The final version excludes earlier proposed regulation applying to cigarette machines and juke boxes.

The game operator's association said The proposed ordinance would re-recently that fees as high as Plymouth's were excessive and that the high charges would result in a lawsuit.

Plymouth's ordinance also allows arcades to operate until 2:30 a.m.; prohibits location within 300 feet of a school and allows no more than seven machines per building.

Northville Township's proposed ordinance is mild by comparison — it sets no maximum on the number of machines. A location is not considered an arcade (meaning licensing is not required) until there are five machines in one location and the fee is $10 per machine to a maximum of $150.

While some have construed arcade regulations as methods being used to either exclude the operations from a community or to make money from them, Heintz said the township's intent is only to maintain control over the operations - which have been known to cause policing problems. "Our focus is not to exclude them from the township," Heintz said, "just to retain some control."

To that end, the proposed law prohibits gambling, gives police authority

City pushes paving project

Northville City Council Monday guaranteed the Wayne County Road Commission that, if the city fails to sell its bonds for the South Main paving project by September 30, the city will reimburse the commission for costs of publishing the bid advertisement

"We had to promise this to get them moving. They were looking for any excuse to put it off until spring," City Manager Steven Walters explained.

"They are apparently nervous about our ability to make the payments under the agreement prior to their being ready to award a contract," Walters told council.

Help from home mechanics sought in oil recycling

By KEVIN WILSON

Caught between skyrocketing oil prices and steadily rising labor rates, many car owners have taken to changing their own oil and doing other maintenance tasks themselves.

Then they discover there are some problems they never thought of before - like what to do with a gallon or more of dirty, used-up motor oil. An organized answer to that problem is on the way, according to Marcie Colling of the Rouge River Watershed Council (RRWC), and five Northville area locations are participating (see related

Service stations long have used large tanks to collect the oil from changes, which is later picked up a hauler and taken away for recycling. But the home mechanic rarely accumulates enough of the stuff to warrant a call from recycling firms.

Recent studies show fully 80 percent of the do-it-yourselfers dump the oil in locations posing hazards to the environment — not to mention the loss of a potentially valuable resource. Consider that the number of people changing their own oil is estimated between 40 and 60 percent (it was only 7 percent in 1960) and the quantities involved become clear. Together, home mechanics handle roughly a third of the nation's waste oil. Some claim oil dumped by do-it-yourselfers poses a

Five Northville area businesses have agreed to participate in the oil recycling program conducted by the Rouge River Watershed Council

Sites display a bright yellow sign (18 by 22 inches) in their windows, with the logo seen here. Information about recycling is available at the locations, as are free bumper stickers. Each has an easily accessible collec-

She also noted that the collection sites can expect to collect 15 to 25 cents per gallon when selling to a recycler, which should cover their costs for participation in the program.

homeowner's association McCarville said she merely wished to illustrate the problems of the area, and invited board nembers to "take our guided tour." Township treasurer Richard Henningsen and Business Manager David Lelko have been on a walking tour of supervisor John MacDonald was slated to go yesterday afternoon. The subdivision in the southeast cor-

the area with MacCarville already, and

ing septic fields and a high water table that flushes septic tank contents to the surface.

McCarville said she had discovered a 'natural drain" in the area unknown to most officials until they walked the site including representatives of the county road commission and department of health in addition to the township officers.

'You say you understand our problem," she said, "but no one really understands it until you've seen it firsthand."

The drain, she said, collects waste from the entire area and empties into Tanger Pond, near an elementary school in the Plymouth Community School system.

School officials have been notified, she said, but the problems extend throughout the area.

'I collected this (bottle of waste) ner of the township is plagued with fail- within less than 100 yards of my house," McCarville said. "Children play

Septic failure problem illustrated

While accepting township explanations that the current board is trying to address the problem within its available resources, she also pressed for swifter action and more township pressure on the county health department and road commission.

"I understand that you are trying to be cooperative," McCarville said, "I'm trying to get across the point of view of area. They (Park Gardens residents) feel they've been wronged, and I want you to understand that.'

While township officials were willing discuss attempts to bring sewer service to the area, and to make every effort to mitigate the problem in the meantime, they were less receptive to McCarville's pressing for a law requiring inspection of used homes before sale.

She was told such a program involved both financial and philosophical difficulties for the township, and that one would be forthcoming soon.

'Can I assume that you would be willing to discuss both sides later, when it might be financially possible?" she asked, and was told the board would be willing to review the issue whenever it seemed feasible to institute a program. McCarville argued that inspection prior to sale would have revealed the septic problems to persons who purchased in the subdivision recently, unaware of the situation.

The homeowner's association is drawing more attention to the problems of the subdivision than it has received in several years. It has contacted officials and legislators from the local to state and federal levels. Meetings of the township water and sewer commission (one is scheduled tonight) have included representatives of the association and the organization is gaining membership.

For liquor license

Does Northville qualify as a resort city?

In "a very broad sense" the City of Northville may be a resort community, City Manager Steven Walters told city council Monday night.

In a resolution Walters had prepared, the attractions of the renovated downtown, nearby Maybury State Park, the Michigan Associated Gifts Sales merchandise mart and the Northville Downs race track were cited as lures for tourists and visitors.

Reason for seeking a resort designation became apparent as the resolution further stated that the number of liquor licenses allowed under the city population formula all are in active use, and are not sufficient to provide the city's commercial district with restaurant licenses to meet the growing demand.

It asks the Liquor Control Commission to consider the city for such licenses in the future.

Walters explained that the LCC apparently has some 20 resort licenses which are available to be issued to new applicants each year. He said Genitti's (Hole in the Wall) has applied for one and appears able to qualify (certain size operation is needed).

He said that at present it is illegal for customers to bring their own wine for dinners served by unlicensed restaurants, such as Genitti's.

Asked about the situation for Elizabeth's restaurant, the city manager said he understood it does not qualify by size.

Mayor Paul Vernon noted that it has been difficult for the Open Door Church to find a purchaser because of the lack of a license available. It formerly was the Drawbridge Restaurant after being sold by the Methodist church. That license now belongs to Mainstreet (Old Mill) restaurant.

Vernon added that he understood that in the recent sale of the restaurant the license sold for $90,000.

He urged adopting the resolution to try for one of the 20 resort licenses. It passed unanimously.

Walters warned, however, that the city would be competing with other applicants throughout the state for the limited number available in the resort category. He said the council still would be asked for specific approval of a license if it is granted.

Trustees give up pay to retain CETA clerk

Faced with another blow to the personnel to conduct an upcoming electownship's tight fiscal position, the board of trustees voted Thursday to cancel the salary of four trustees.

The trustees had collected $25 per month since the April meeting under the 1981 budget approved in March. Previously, they had been unpaid.

But the $100 per month will be useful to retain an employee in the clerk's office who is currently paid under the federal CETA program. The employment terminates in September and the clerk's office, which already has suffered staffing cuts due to attrition and loss of other CETA employees, needs tion in November, Clerk Susan Heintz told the board.

"If we delay purchases of filing cabinets and continue to use boxes, and delay some other purchases, and the trustees give up their salaries," she said, "I think we can keep her going until early next year and get ourselves through the election."

The employee, she explained, is primarily engaged in updating voter registration records and other tasks needed in running elections.

The board voted unanimously to cancel the salaries of trustees for the remainder of the current fiscal year.

Polish refugee housed here, others offer aid

It's a long way from Wroclaw, Poland to Northville, Michigan, but Paul Wisniewski, 19, is well on the way to starting a new life here, less than two weeks after arriving in America.

Wisniewski has a job as a watchmaker at Northville Watch and Clock Shop and, as of last week, he has a place to stay right in town.

Anderson and the family involved requested that Wisniewski's location not be publicized because the young Pole is rather shy and needs time to adjust to

Anderson said the names of those who called offering monetary or translating Wisniewski moved into a new home help (one woman offered to pay tuition

Land lease completed

Outside of final technicalities, Northville Township has virtually acquired a reservoir and the three acres of land it sits on (southwest of Six Mile and Beck) from the City of Plymouth.

Although general law township's in Michigan are not allowed to purchase land without a vote of the people, the reservoir and property were recently deeded to the township by Plymouth.

Despite that deed, which makes records show the township as owner, the community's legal interest in the property does not extend beyond a 99 year lease through the water and sewer payment earlier this year for the lease to the reservoir, which will be needed for future growth in the west side of the township. The agreement carries an option to purchase the facility at any time for one dollar.

The commission paid $24,000 in one

In notifying the board of trustees of the arrangement last week, township attorney Donald Morgan wrote that land is not technically purchased until the township receives voter approval for the one dollar expense and accepts delivery of the property from Plymouth.

He included a draft ballot proposal the township may place in any upcoming election.

Less money may be spent on heating costs this winter for the community building if a couple of proposed ideas materialize for the recreation commis-

Administrative Director Edward Krictzs said at last week Wednesday's meeting, Bach Engineering of Northville has offered to donate four ceiling fans to be installed at the community

The only item holding back installation, Krictzs said, was to find an electrician who would hook up the fans at a reasonable price

Continuing on the same subject, Krictzs explained he had received a price quote from Bach about fixing the thermostats in the community building.

The company said it could adjust the thermostats and install an electrical timer clock for about $2,000, Krictzs

The commission noted the price is considerably cheaper than those they have received and asked Krictzs to call back Bach to do a study to provide figures on how much the commission would save this coming winter with that type of system.

The commission received a letter the Department of Natural Resources saying it would no longer be getting funds for completion of phase

No

two on the Fish Hatchery Park building project

Therefore, hopes of enclosing the structure and installing restrooms and a concession stand have been dashed. Since funds are no longer available the project had been put on the back burner, Krictzs said, with the structure to be used now as a shelter.

In another matter concerning possible use of land, member James Nowka wanted to know what the status was with the 40-acres of land given to the township by the state for recreational

The land, located on Beck across from Our Lady of Providence, was turned over to the township by the state two years ago, but because of economic conditions was never developed into the proposed soccer and baseball fields, Krictzs said. Also, a fire station was to have been established.

Member L.T. Sylvestre suggested writing State Senator Robert Geake about the matter to see if things can't get rolling again.

Not wanting to put the issue on high key, the commission asked Krictzs what his status was regarding recent letters that have appeared in The Record which have made accusations against Krictzs.

Krictzs said he has sent a letter to his

ment and its administrative director The commission wondered why the individual who wrote the letter has never attended any of the meetings to voice his/her concerns.

Chairman William Bingley said the individual who wrote the letter had a lack of information and has not known what has transpired at recent commisdiscussion on an anonymous letter-to-sion meetings. One of the accusations in the letter said junior football, soccer and baseball were organized and administered privately, but the commission responded the youth soccer and baseball programs are a joint effort with the recreation department, while help has been given to the youth football program when needed.

'Let me say on the record, the attorney and is waiting to hear from recreation department and youth football have dealt with each other in the past amicably," Krictzs said.

The commission went into a lengthy After discussion was completed, the commission decided to write a letter-tothe-editor which appeared in the the-editor to The Record asking the in-August 5 issue of The Record. The letter dividual who wrote the anonymous letcontained a number of accusations ter to attend the next meeting and pre-about the work of the recreation departsent the accusations. In other action, the commission asked Krictzs to look into a new alternative to hand out the recreation brochures. Currently, the brochures are mailed through a permit with the United States

> Post Office here. Also, a different way to sell tickets for squares on the basketball court will be analyzed. The commission had hoped to sell tickets at the sidewalk sale, but Bingley, who was in charge of the proiect, had to attend to some personal > matters. Discussion on the recreation's master plan was table until the joint meeting at 7 p.m. August 27 at township hall with the city council and planning commission and the township board of trustees

Nisun questions posed before township board

Even as former township police chief Ronald Nisun was entering into a grievance process in an attempt to save his job as a patrolman, residents of the community were still raising questions about his demotion at board of trustees meetings.

For the second month in succession, the board fielded questions and challenges from the audience during the public comment segment of the regular meeting Thursday from those seeking reconsideration of the action demoting Nisun to a patrolman rank a position he lost when he refused orders from both the township supervisor and acting police chief to submit to a physical examination before star-

Patrick Coyne, a resident who has previously appeared before the board to argue against growth of the township police force and increased millages to accomplish growth, wanted to know if a petition presented to the township board would allow the Nisun matter to become a ballot issue.

Michigan law does not allow for direct referendum in townships, meaning all elections must be called by the board.

Coyne suggested that he may begin circulating a petition calling on the board to allow voters to consider the demotion matter. If the board did not allow such an election after petition, the only alternative left to residents wishing to press the issue would be a recall drive.

Reading from a letter published in The Record, Coyne challenged Supervisor John MacDonald on a number of previously accepted points. The responses carried no evidence of change in the published versions of Nisun's resignation from the chief post while accused of releasing police stationery to an arms dealer who used the paper to order handguns.

Coyne, referring to the letter from Nisun's daughter, asked MacDonald if it were true that while the supervisor was a trustee from 1972-76 he tried to have Nisun ousted through "back door manuevering."

"Absolutely untrue," MacDonald responded. "I was not aware of any attempt to remove Mr. Nisun, and if there was such an effort, I was not part of it."

Asked if the chief's personnel record contained any disciplinary action prior to the incident leading to his demotion, MacDonald said he did not know.

"I haven't even looked at his record." MacDonald said. "The decision was made on the basis of what we had before us." Personnel records of law specifically to address a single issue.

enforcement officers are excluded from requirements of the freedom of information act, and are legally secreted from public view.

Coyne then asked the supervisor if Nisun had engaged in actions that were 'illegal or dishonest," justifying the demotion.

"It was a closed meeting," Mac-Donald said. "It was closed at his (Nisun's) request. We can't go into that. I am not about to speak publically about what when on during a closed meeting.'

Coyne continued to press the issue, asking what "redress we have as citizens."

Informed that Nisun's action was viewed as a voluntary resignation, Coyne said he did not believe that "I think his resignation was a little forced, Mr. Supervisor," Coyne said. "I want to know what the citizens can do about that.

"I don't think you're in a position to know that," MacDonald responded. 'You were not here, number one, he (Nisun) is represented by a lawyer number two, and it was a closed meeting. The action taken was done in a democratic fashion, under all the proper procedures. Coyne was told citizens could file a petition seeking to have an advisory vote on the issue. Such a petition would be reviewed by the board, which would decide whether or not to place it on a

The vote would likely be only an advisory one, to give the board a clear view of the people's opinion on the topic without binding it to any action.

Coyne also asked if the township had established an escrow account for Nisun's salary in order to assure monies available should the township lose during any court case or binding arbitration resulting from the demotion. He was told no such account exists, nor is the board contemplating establishing one. Coyne exited the meeting hall in a shouting match with another resident, who accused him of hypocrisy for arguing for "law and order" while parked illegally in front of township hall. Coyne said he was aware that he was parked in an illegal spot, but had intended to only be in the hall for a few minutes.

Public comment is one of the first agenda items, after roll call and a pledge to the flag, but had been delayed last week when the board chose to move several later agenda items forward for the benefit of persons attending bold, felt letters on a bulletin board at Northville's Old Village School.

The author of the poem is not known, yet these words could have been written by any one of the staff members of Northville's Institution Special Education Program.

There is a special caring, love and understanding which exists between ISEP teachers and aides and the students which, in many ways, have become the focus of their lives.

Last Thursday, six ISEP students said farewell to teachers, friends and classmates at the Old Village School's fourth annual graduation ceremony.

For Kenney, Lena, Debbie, Danny, Mary and Lynda, graduation from Northville's ISEP program marked the end of their school days. All six students have reached the age of 26 and in compliance with Michigan's Mandatory Special Education law, are no longer eligible for state-funded education.

Graduations are generally happy occasions - and this one was no exception. The pomp and circumstance which one associates with commencements was evident. Music was provided by the Cardinal Brass, refreshments were served to parents and guests and classmates cheered as the six graduates, clad in gold robes and black caps, received their diplomas.

However, along with the laughter and joy were tears and sorrow. The six graduates, all of whom have been in the program since its inception in 1975, face an uncertain future. Without ISEP, these students will have to make considerable adjustments back at Plymouth Center.

Yet, their futures have been made a little more secure with the help of dedicated teachers, aides and staff members who have opened doors once closed for these special students.

Though their accomplishments may seem minimal to those of us who take much of life for granted, these students have come a long way in the past six silent world. All these graduates have made progress behaviorally, academically, socially and in daily living, Old Village School Principal Beth Flack pointed

However, in addition to the skills they have learned, these students will take with them an even greater gift - the gift of love and caring.

The staff at ISEP has been left with the same gift — touched with the care and love of these Very Special Students.

Lawn damage, amounting $150, to two Dundalk residences occurred between August 8 and 9, township police said.

An officer saw approximately 80 feet of tire tracks across the two lawns, and it appeared the car was travelling southbound.

The report stated the incident occurred between 9 p.m. August 8 and 9 a.m. August 9. The owners did not see or hear anything during that time.

State police save woman

It was no laughing matter for a Northville woman who was having some coffee with a friend at the Copper Kettle Restaurant at 11:50 p.m. last Thursday.

The woman, whose identity was not disclosed, said she had just taken a drink of coffee and was laughing at the same time, when she began choking. Her friend, Vickie Lee Lyke, noticing her turning blue in the face and grabbing for her throat, stood up in the restaurant and screamed for help, Northville Michigan State Police sai J. MSP policemen Albert Boyce and Richard Percy, who were seated only 20

Before you discard the church as a relic of a bygone age, please consider these facts:

2. The church is presently owned and operated by Christ (Eph 5 23, 24).

3 The local church is God's method of dealing with the world during this present age (I Timothy

It is true that the church has many failures Anything associated with human beings is bound to have shortcomings. The best of us are but sinners saved by God's grace.

There are also many different kinds of churches today. This is mainly due to people being rebellious and fickle. If we see or hear something that displeases us or runs counter to our way of thinking, we simply go to another church or start a new one. Of course we should seek to protect what we believe is right, but our beliefs should be founded on the unchanging truth of God's Word, not our own opinion. Heaven will not be partitioned! True believers are all one body (Eph. 5:30). We should all be active in a Bible believing, Bible teaching church, that seeks to honor Christ, and Afterall, it only has been slightly more than 24 hours since Jill Berquist stood behind the pulpit to deliver her first sermon to a congregation she has been a part of for more than 11 years.

"It was really touching," reflects the 20-year-old Berquist, "when I looked up from the pulpit I noticed that everyone had handkerchiefs out. I thought, 'Gee, everybody has a cold this morning,' then I realized they were crying."

For Berquist, Sunday's sermon marked a major step in her already Studying English and anthropology at Albion College, participating in the Albion College Choir and drama club and being an avid water skier, could be a composite of any number of young people However, in addition to all these activities Jill Berquist has at the top of her list the lifetime ambition which she already is beginning to fulfill.

As a candidate for the United Methodist ministry, Berquist has been doing considerable soul-searching and is more or less "testing the waters" before making any final decisions about her future vocation.

However, reflecting on Sunday's sermons, she says, with little hesitation, that she believes she has found her niche in life and will continue her pur-

"I worked for three months on that sermon," she says, half jokingly. The Reverend Guenther Branstner, head minister of the Methodist Church, had asked Berquist in May to deliver Sunday's sermon for him while he was on

Though she admits to having the jitters before delivering her message, she explains that it was a "thoroughly enjoyable experience." In fact, she confessed that by the time she took her stand behind the pulpit, "I was so unrattled it was embarrassing."

In talking with this vivacious, articulate young woman, it's easy to understand why she has been so well received by the congregation.

For Berquist, about the only thing she had to worry about Sunday morning was whether or not she would be able to see the congregation. At five-foot, twoinches, she only is visible from the neck up when standing behind the massive Berquist, the daughter of George and Jane Berquist of Branbury Court, has been active in the First United Methodist Church since the family join-portive of what I'm doing.' Berquist said the support of the congregation as well as the support of her family has been a tremendous boost for

She explained that her desire to go into the ministry has mostly been influenced by the Methodist church.

"This church has been fantastic for me," she explains. "It has been a big infeel most comfortable.'

As she explains, her great-grandfather, Thure Jakobson, was one of the founders of the Covenant Church. An emigrant from Sweden, he helped found the church with fellow Swedes and eventually became minister.

Jill describes the Covenant Church as 'very conservative." In fact "too conservative" for her parents who left that church for the Methodist Church when they moved to Northville.

The path has been paved for me — but there are some women today in the ministry that are making the history books

She explains that her greatgrandfather was regarded as a "flaming radical" because he was one of the first ministers to deliver a sermon in the Covenant Church in English. This was looked down upon by the entirely Swedish-speaking congregation, she Berquist explains that the Methodist church is "traditional but liberal" and that the philosophies of the Methodist church are closely representative of her own views.

In a vocation which traditionally has been dominated by men, Berquist said the Methodist church has made tremendous strides to include women.

According to Berquist, the Methodist church has the largest number of women in the ministry. "This is a field where they are seeking women in the pulpit," she explains. Though more and more women are standing behind the pulpit, Berquist said her decision to pursue the ministry was not made on the feminist platform. "I'm not doing this because I'm a woman," she explains, "it's because I feel a calling from God."

However, she's quick to point out that among some congregations, women still have a long way to go — especially in the more conservative churches.

"The path has been paved for me," she explains, "but there are some women today in the ministry that are making the history books.'

She added that the graduate seminary she is interested in attending is 50 percent female.

Should Jill Berquist continue her pursuit, life after graduation from Albion will be three years of graduate school, and two years as a deacon before being ordained into the ministry.

Though she has two years left at Albion, she says she already is looking at graduate schools and is most interested in Northwestern University's Garrett Evangelical Graduate Seminary.

Though two years seem like the distant future, Jill explains that her candidacy for the Methodist ministry keeps her constantly in touch with the church despite the fact that she now is focusing mostly on football games, 20th century fluence on my life - its really where I American literature and drama club activities.

She explains that a strong liberal arts active in the church and have headed education will help her in her future endeavors and that her many activies keep in her contact with a variety of

Used oil recycling efforts create a growth industry

But the environmental hazards alone were not enough to stir action to resolve commodity rather than as waste.

the problem. Economic changes in the petroleum marketplace, however, are provoking a new look at used oil as a

With the rising price of oil, recycling used oil has become a viable, potentially profitable, proposition and many new technologies promise to make it more so in the future. Combined with 20 percent virgin oil, used oil can be made to perform as well as the new product for auto lubrication. The latest techniques promise to recover up to 70 percent of are supplied, and the collection sites act waste oil for re-use.

Colling, also a township resident, noted that only five years ago many service outlets had to pay to have used oil collected — now they are paid 15 to 25 cents per gallon by recyclers. But it is becoming tougher for recyclers to find use for it.

Instead of using such simple techniques as spreading it on roads and burning it for fuel (both discovered to be environmental threats) the recyclers are developing new technologies to recover the oil for safe, clean uses. And still managing to see profits on the horizon, so large is the demand for oil in

The potential resource is considered great. Given the proper technology and marketing techniques, it is estimated used oil could meet 50 percent of the nation's future needs for lubricating oils and one percent of the total energy de-

The state legislature mandated creation of a used oil recycling program through the Department of Commerce. Already underway in many Michigan counties, the program has proven effective in drawing participation from businesses and do-it-yourselfers.

In Wayne County the program is a cooperative effort managed by the Rouge River Watershed Council. In most counties the program is managed by cooperative extension services, but the local body handed the program over to RRWC. Both city and township have endorsed the program in resolutions.

It operates by soliciting local businesses that already collect used oil (service stations, car dealerships, department store auto centers) to act as collection sites and then publicizing those locations.

as information sources to the public

The watershed council is coordinating the start-up of the program. but it is expected the program will become nearly self-perpetuating. Only quarterly evaluations will have continued involvement from quasigovernmental bodies.

Incentives for recycling are being created at all levels, from local to federal, Colling said. Labeling requirements for reprocessed or rerefined oil are being relaxed since the label meets with consumer resistance, Colling said.

Instead, oils will have to meet 'equivalency standards' based soley on performance of the product, not its source, she explained.

Tax requirements, which formerly gave the advantage to new oil, are being revised to remove economic disincentives in that area.

With all that activity underway, Colling said the only obstacles to the program have been businesses that fear opening their tanks to the public may lead to contamination of the oil with paint thinner or other hard-to-dispose of fluids. Such contamination ruins the oil for reprocessing, she said, and efforts are underway to inform people about the hazard.

The only other resistance from the business community, Colling said, involved those who do not think they can meet the requirements for accessible disposal sites and the personnel time to dispense information about the pro-

Such sites, she indicated, may come around when recyclers pay enough to cover all costs. As it stands, she said collection sites stand to recover their costs for the program from the amount of oil brought in by home mechanics.

to lift a license for cause, restricts hours to those between noon and midnight (excepting those operations regulated by the liquor control commission) and sets penalties of $500 plus court costs and/90 days in jail for viola-

Other regulations would set an 11 p.m. curfew on those under 17 in arcades, unless with parent or guardian, and require that employees be 18 or

Restrictions on location would be handled in the zoning ordinance, where arcades would be prohibited from sites within 300 feet of any residential area (schools are in such zonings).

The township ordinance is patterned after one adopted in Ypsilanti two years ago, which according to officials of that city has worked well. Games operators in that community are generally supportive of the law, which was instigated by them.

Yet the threat to sue issued in Plymouth had its effects here. The attorney wished the delay to study further the implications of the law and the possibility it might be construed as excessive, Heintz said, particularly since a representative of the game operators association cited the township as a community likely to face a suit — apparently misunderstanding the licensing pro-

The City of Novi also is discussing revisions to its existing ordinance, which is comparatively mild. More strigent regulation of games located in buildings where the primary business is in unrelated fields has been requested of that city's attorney. A draft amendment prohibiting public school-age youth from arcades during the school day was presented > recently in Novi. Heintz said she plans to review Northville Township's proposal with attorney Nels Carlson this week and have a final draft for board of trustees approval at its September session.

City council ponders strict arcade control law

Vernon added that when the arcade here flourished, he used to wonder if there couldn't be a better recreation program for young people. Today, he said, he feels the community has "one

"I think we have done a great deal in the city and township to create programs for young people," he said as he advocated a strict ordinance.

Council member G. Dewey Gardner agreed that close restrictions were needed and asked that the planned ordinance include a specific statement on loitering, even though this is covered in other ordinances.

The council discussed restricting students during school hours if they are under 16, but decided complete restriction of those under that age would be preferable.

Walters endorsed the restriction, telling council, "If you went into the typical arcade, you would not think it suitable for junior high students. It's not the machines - it's the incidental atmosphere - it's a drug and sex environment when you become aware of the signs and posters and their meanings. It's not two machines at TG& Y."

The council is to study the proposed ordinance further. It was suggested that a special meeting for the purpose could be set up soon.

Lansing may give approval of election reimbursement

An order from Lansing many had viewed as political arm-twisting from Governor William Milliken on behalf of his favored tax reform package last

May may be rescinded to some extent. As the election on Proposal A, the gubernatorial/legislative tax shift plan, approached, word came down from Lansing that communities adding local tax issues to the ballot would not receive the customary reimbursement

Since the township had two police millage issues on the ballot, the interpretation was that no state monies would be allotted.

"I received a call last week from the treasurer's office or budget department, I'm not sure which, but they told me the attorney general would be reviewing the issue and that it might pay off to contact them," Heintz told

The attorney general is expected to rule on whether the state was within its legal rights to deny reimbursement for the election on the basis that the local community had a proposal of its own on failure.

The bids. Walters said, are being advertised now and will be received by the Wayne County Road Commission September 4. He added that up to this point the commission has been extremely cooperative in the paving project approved by voters in May.

The bids will be due at 3 p.m. September 3 at city hall.

Council set a special meeting for 6 p.m. September 4 to take official action

City voters by 2-1 passed the bond issue May 19 for $455,000 to pave South Main from the well to Seven Mile. In an agreement with the Wayne County Road Commission the city will pay all costs for the first five years in a 60-40 cost split. Then the county will begin to pay its share

Although South Main is a county road, the paving was a low priority item on the Wayne County Road Commission list. The city had tried unsuccessfully for years to have it repaved, and entered into the agreement because it appeared it would be 10 years, if then, before it might be done.

In seeking the voter approval, the city council went on record that it would earmark at least half of the race track revenues to pay the costs.

First of Michigan was hired to sell the bonds as the council felt a better interest rate might be obtained outstate.

WAYNE COUNTY City of Northville Northville Township City of Plymouth

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1981 AT 7:00 P.M. Northville Township Hall 41600 Six Mile Road (between Haggerty & Northville Roads, a mile west of I-275

The Wayne County Board of Public Works will conduct this Public Meeting to discuss the "six best aternatives" for providing wastewater treatment services in the Huron Valley North Service Area, which consists of the above communities. These 6 alternatives were selected from 32 "Initial" alternatives, and include a "No-Action Alternative". (Note that an outline description of the 32 initial alternatives, with maps, are still available for public review at the libraries listed below, or by notifying the Contact person for this project.)

In addition to considering public comments made at a Public Meeting held in June 1981, the 32 alternatives were evaluated in terms of:
-how practical they would be in a technical sense;

-how easily they could be carried out and put into practice; -what the building costs would be, and how they would be paid for; -what the environmental aspects of the alternatives would be; and

 -what impacts each of the alternatives would have on energy resources. On September 1, 1981, the Wayne County Board of Public Works will identify the six alternatives that will be described and discussed in detail at the September 23rd Public Meeting. (Note above location and time.) These "6 best alternatives" will be announced in a newsletter to be distributed in mid-

September. It is intended that one recommended plan will be chosen from

TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE. WAYNE COUNTY, MICHIGAN ORDINANCE NO. 73

An ordinance enacted pursuant to Act No. 235 of the Public Acts of 1969, as amended, for the purpose of providing for parking spaces specifically designated for handicappers; providing for civil infraction penalties for the violations thereof; and to provide for the public health, safety and general welfare of persons and property within Northville Township.
THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE HEREBY ORDAINS:

SECTION 1. SHORT TITLE. This ordinance shall be known as the "Handicappers Parking Ordinance".
SECTION 2. PURPOSE. Pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 235 of the Public Acts of 1969, as amended, being Section 257.941, et. seq., of the Compiled Laws of the State of Michigan, the Township of Northville, Wayne County, Michigan, by and through its Board of Trustees, enacts this ordinance for the purpose of providing parking spaces specifically designated for handicappers in such numbers as set forth herein; providing for civil infraction penalties for violations of this ordinance; and to promote, secure and regulate the public health, safety and general welfare of persons and property within the Township of Northville.

SECTION 3. DEFINITION. Certain words utilized in the provisions of this ordinance shall be defined and mean:

(a) "Parking area" mean an area used by the public as a means of access to and egress from and for the free parking of motor vehicles by patrons of a shopping center.

(b) "Shopping center" means a minimum area of three (3) acres of land on which there is located one (1) or more stores or business establishments and where there is provided a parking area.

SECTION 4. DESIGNATION OF HANDICAPPED PARKING

SPACES. In each shopping center parking area within Northville Township there shall be established parking spaces specifically designated for handicappers in accordance with the following provi-

Total Parking in Lot

Required No. of Spaces

up to 25 26 to 50 76 to 100 101 to 150 151 to 200 201 to 300 301 to 400 401 to 500 2% of total 501 to 1000 20 plus 1 for each 100 over 1000 over 1000

SECTION 5. LOCATION, SIZE AND SIGNAGE DESIGNATING PARKING SPACES. Parking spaces for the physically handicapped shall be located as close as possible to elevators, ramps, sidewalks and entrances. Parking spaces shall be located so that the physically handicapped persons are not compelled to wheel or walk behind parked cars to reach entrances, ramps, walkways and elevators. Each reserved parking space shall be not less than twelve (12) feet wide. All such parking spaces for the physically handicapped shall be identified by an above grade sign as reserved for physically handicapped persons.

SECTION 6. RESTRICTION ON USE. No vehicle shall be permitted to use a handicapper parking space except those vehicles which display prominently a certificate issued by the Michigan Department of State under the provisions of MCLA 257.675(5) or who displays special registration plates pursuant to MCLA 257.803D.

SECTION 7. PENALTY. Any person, persons, firm, partnership, association or corporation, or anyone acting on behalf of said person, persons, firm, partnership, association or corporation, violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed responsible for a civil infraction. Violations of this ordinance shall be processed in the same manner as a civil infraction under Act No. 300 of the Public Acts of 1949, as amended, being Section 257.1, et. seq., of the Michigan Compiled Laws.

SECTION 8. CONFLICTING PROVISIONS REPEALED. Any ordinance or parts of ordinances conflicting or inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance, to the extent of such conflict or inconsistency only, are hereby repealed.

SECTION 9. SEVERABILITY. If any clause, sentence, section, paragraph or part of this ordinance, or the application thereof to any person, persons, firm, partnership, association or corporation, legal entity or circumstance, shall be for any reason adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be unconstitutional or in error, said judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of this ordinance and the application of such provision to other persons, firms, partnerships, associations or corporations, legal entities or circumstances, but said judgment shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, section, paragraph or part of this ordinance hereby directly involved in the case in controversy in which said judgment shall have been rendered, and to the person, persons, firm, partnership, association, corporation, legal entity or circumstance then and there involved. It is hereby declared to be the legislative intent of this body that this ordinance would have been adopted had such invalid or unconstitutional provision not been included in the or-

SECTION 10. EFFECTIVE DATE. This ordinance is declared effective on September 18, 1981. This ordinance was duly adopted by the Township Board of Trustees of the Township of Northville at its regular meeting, called and held on the 13th day of August, A.D., 1981, and was ordered to be given publication in the manner prescribed by

Mayor Vernon had discussed this with the City Manager and it looked like everything was pro-ceeding according to schedule He mentioned a formal response had not been received from the Township concerning paving Wallis Street from Main St. to the border. This could be added or eliminated without a major change. He stated Wavne County was agreeable to doing that and they are aware it is included in the bid. Thay have also offered their inspection services. POAM REQUEST FOR AR-BITRATION:

Notification from POAM they did not accept the City's decision on Grievance 81-0197 and have requested arbitration REFUSE COLLECTION. CITY
COLLECTION VS. CONTRAC-

The City Manager noted in his communication that he and the Public Works Superintendent have been reviewing contracted refuse collection with various substantial cost saving to the City without a significant reduction in the quality of service. He also mentioned it could be an answer to the problem of future landfill capacity for the City. Mayor Vernon expressed his growing concern re the landfill. He commented the City was advised a number of years ago they had limited capacity.

He mentioned the group of communities who formed an alliance a few years ago and may want to have a revival of tha group to consider the problem of solid waste disposal. He would like to authorize the City Manager and Superintendednt of DPW to come back with statistics re contracting for refuse collection. He mentioned the City might be able to save between $20,000 to $30,000 a year there was a need to continue searching for a solution to the landfill problem and to find a disposal for solid waste.

Discussion followed

Additional expenses became known in June, in particular the 1980 District Court settlement, and an additional contribution fron the PIF to the General Fund authorized, amounting to 134 Since this amount was beyond the projected deficit balance for 1980-81, an amend-

He noted they like to stay in the easement if at all possible and explained the eason for it

Mayor Vernon explained the easement was specifically for putting in utility lines. Anything on the easement is vulnerable to damage and that legally the tree could be taken out. He thought it was commendable that nicom have tried to bypass trees and shrubs. He noted that Om-nicom have been extremely responsive when they have been He mentioned they responded very quickly to Mr. Wilhelm's problem Mr. Wilhelm mentioned he had

Mr Pruitt stated it was not the intent to trespass The City Attorney noted that from a legal point of view, if cable is laid outside the easement and the next owner wants it removed, they have that right Mr. Pruitt stated they want these people as customers, that they do not gain anything by leaving a mess. They want to put everything back He mentioned in every case so far they have been able to do so. Councilman DeRusha asked

SEALED BIDS for the purchase of the above bonds will be received by the undersigned at the office of the City Clerk located at 215 West Main Street, Northville, Michigan 48167, on Thursday the 3rd day of September, 1981, until 3:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Daylight Time, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read. The bonds will be awarded to the successful bidder at the City Council meeting to be held at the City Hall, 215 West Main Street, Northville, Michigan at 8:00 o'clock p.m. on the same date.

IN THE ALTERNATIVE sealed bids will also be received on the same date and until the same time by an agent of the undersigned at the offices of the Municipal Advisory Council, 2135 First National Building, Detroit, Michigan 48226.

BOND DETAILS: Said bonds will be coupon bonds of the denomination of $5,000 each, registrable as to principal only, dated July 1, 1981, numbered in direct order of maturity from 1 upwards and will bear interest from their date payable on September 1, and March 1, commencing September 1, 1981 and semiannually thereafter.

Said bonds will mature on the 1st day of September in the amounts and years as follows:

Years	Amount
1982	$20,000
1983	20,000
1984	20,000
1985	25,000
1986	25,000
1987	65,000
1988	70,000
1989	70,000
1990	70,000
1991	70,000

PRIOR REDEMPTION: Bonds of this issue maturing in the years 1982 to 1988, inclusive, shall not be subject to redemption prior to maturity. Bonds maturing in the years 1989 to 1991, inclusive, shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity, at the option of the City, in such order as the City shall detemine, on any interest payment date on or after September 1, 1988, at 102% of par if redeemed prior to September 1, 1990, at 101% of par if redeemed on or after September 1, 1990, but prior to September 1, 1991.

Thirty days notice of the call of any bonds for redemption shall be given by publication in a paper circulated in the State of Michigan which carries, as part of its regular service, notices of sale of municipal bonds and in case of registered bonds thirty days notice shall be given by mail to the registered holder at the registered address. Bonds so called for redemption shall not bear interest after the date fixed for redemption provided funds are on hand with the paying agent to redeem said bonds.

INTEREST RATE AND BIDDING DETAILS: The bonds shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 13% per annum, to be fixed by the bids therefor, expressed in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of 1%, or both. The interest on any one bond shall be one rate only, all bonds maturing in any one year must carry the same interest rate and each couponperiod will be represented by one interest coupon. The difference between the highest and lowest interest rates bid shall not exceed 3%. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than 100% of their par value will be considered. PAYING AGENT: Both principal and interest shall be payable at a bank or trust company located in Michigan qualified to act as paying agent under State or United States law to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, who may also designate a co-paying agent, which may be located outside of Michigan, qualified to act as paying agent under the law of the State, in which located or of the United States, both of which shall be subject to approval of the undersigned. PURPOSE AND SECURITY: The bonds were authorized at an election held May 19, 1981, for the purpose of paying the cost of highway improvements in the City. The bonds will pledge the full faith and credit of the City for payment of the principal and interest thereon and will be payable from ad valorem taxes, which may be levied without limitation as to rate or amount. To rights or remedies of bondholders may be affected by bankruptcy laws or other creditors' rights legislation now existing or hereafter enacted GOOD FAITH: A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $9.100 drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the City Treasurer must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly retured to each bidder's representatives or by registered mail. AWARD OF BONDS: The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid produces the lowest interest cost computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified in the bid, the total dollar value of all in terest on the bonds from October 1, 1981, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium.

LEGAL OPINION: Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified approving opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, a copy of which opinion will be printed on the reverse side of each bond and the original of which will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds at the delivery thereof. The fees of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone for services rendered in connection with such approving opinion are expected to be paid from bond proceeds. Except to the extent necessary to issue their unqualified approving opinion as to the validity of the above bonds, Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone has not been requested to examine or review and has not examined or reviewed any financial documents, statements or materials that have been or may be furnished in connection with the authorization, issuance or marketing of the bonds, and accordingly will not express any opinion with respect to the accuracy or completeness of any such financial documents, statements or materials.

DELIVERY OF BONDS: The City will furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bonds will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at Detroit, Michigan, Chicago, Illinois or New York, New York The usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending affecting the issuance of the bonds, will be delivered at the time of the delivery of the bonds. If the bonds are not tendered for delivery by twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Daylight Time, on the 45th day following the date of sale, or the first business day thereafter if said 45th day is not a business day, the successful bidder may on that day, or any time thereafter until the delivery of the bonds, withdraw his proposal by serving notice of cancellation, in writing, on the undersigned in which event the City shall promptly return the good faith deposit. Payment for the bonds shall be made in Federal Reserve Funds. Accrued interest to the date of delivery of the bonds shall be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

the bonds, at the City's expense, except payment of the charge for assignment of numbers which will be the purchaser's responsibility. ### Constitution: Use — not misuse

Pastor Mark Freer takes us to task for ignoring the Open Door Outreach Center's confrontation with the state over First Amendment rights.

If his letter-to-the-editor was meant simply to publicize the problem we can appreciate it; if it is meant to deliberately flay The Record, we're disappointed because the pastor knew upon writing the letter that the confrontation has been kept "private" by his church. Not until now has Pastor Freer seen fit to bring it to the public's attention; yet he suggests we've ignored the plight of his church.

Now that he has brought it to our attention, we remind him that the First Amendment does not exempt churches — nor this newspaper — from obeying laws of the land. We may not like laws and voice strong objections to them are he has done but until them, as he has done, but until they are changed or until the Supreme Court strikes them down we are obliged to obey

Frankly, it would be upsetting to us if fire code regulations for church or other privately operated schools were less stringent than those for public operated schools.

The First Amendment says, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof..." We do not, nor has the Supreme Court thus far interpreted this "freedom" to mean that parochial schools - or for that matter churches — are free to ignore safety regulations.

The First Amendment says, Congress shall make no law "abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press." We do not interpret this amendment to mean, as Pastor Freer suggests, that we have the right "to say and do what (we) please, free from governmental controls and regulations." Press freedom is no more absolute, perhaps less so, than religious freedom. If that were not so we could ignore business tax notices and a host of other costly governmental requirements, which in many respects are as confiscatory as fire regulations (which we must also obey) are to Pastor Freer.

We find it rather ironic that Pastor Freer, in denouncing enforcement of fire codes in this instance and in interpreting that enforcement as "a personal vendetta" against his church school, was voiceless a year ago when the state fire marshal imposed even more costly requirements on a Northville public school building — a building, incidentally, which also had been used for many years.

Finally, we note that the bumper sticker Pastor Freer saw said "use" — not "misuse" — the Constitution.

Welcometo freedom

Although the events were unrelated, it was refreshing to see a local family and business offering help to a refugee of Poland last week even as the 20th anniversary of the Berlin Wall pass-

The wall, as real as it is, is most significant as a concrete manifestation of what Winston Churchill first called the "Iron Curtain." The evidence locally last week was that the barriers to freedom are not impenetrable we saw the glimmer of hope as counterpoint to the horror of the wall.

As troublesome as America's problems are when seen at the close range of day-to-day life, the wider perspective demonstrates our greatest strength. Say what you will about inflation, recession, bureaucracy or any number of other concerns, the fact remains that you are free to say it.

That the Berlin Wall, and the rest of the Iron Curtain border, is intended not to prevent invasion but to halt emigration is the single most damning evidence against the Communist system. That a man who made the crossing against the odds chose our country as destination, and found individuals willing to lend a hand when he got here, is the most praiseworthy evidence for freedom.

When Paul Wisniewski was born in Poland, the Berlin Wall was already standing cold vigil over the border. He grew up with its image, and the reality of the Iron Curtain for which it stands. A wide assortment of Americans, including people in Northville, took a stand last week against that horror and Wisniewski's life will never be the same. That is just cause, we think, for hope.

Off the record

By John Myers

Being from East Detroit (not the east side of Detroit), I had many thoughts running through my mind about the town. Was it an old city trying to rebuild? Was it like East Detroit, a large number of buildings and houses compacted into a small two-mile radius? Was it a new city with lots of modern structures?

Some of the questions were being answered as I drove along I-275 into Northville; the change from the rat race of the city to the more peaceful setting of Northville was easily apparent. I could see hilly countryside with numerous trees and just a few houses dotting the scenery here and there. Not at all like the town I come from where each house is about six feet apart and there are 17 dwellings to each side of the block.

Then, when I made that bend around South Main and came into the central business district I felt like I was going back in time. It was like going through a culture shock: where were all the modern structures? All I could see was one building after another keeping with the turn-of-the-century image. I kept waiting for the horse and bugging to pass my car on Main Street.

It was a refreshing change from the rundown buildings intermingled with the modern; absent were the "Going out of Business" signs prevalent in the area through which I do most of my traveling.

Don't get me wrong, I like East Detroit and what it has to offer (remember, be true to your hometown and, besides, my parents still live there). Also, most of the buildings I'm referring to are in Detroit along a stretch of Eight Mile. But Northville has struck a soft spot in my heart with its image.

It's funny, I feel like I'm crossing an imaginary line when I drive along Eight Mile which thrusts me out of smoggy ol' Detroit into the clean, refreshing atmosphere of Northville and its surroundings. It's truely amazing. Try it next time you head into Detroit from here. You can really tell the difference and be proud of

Now, the next question was what are the people of Northville like? I can honestly say the citizens in the city and township are friendly and caring individuals concerned about what happens to their surroundings.

It's nice to know you can walk around the streets of Northville, practically at any time, and receive a friendly hello from almost any passerby.

It's pretty hard to find a city that is so closely knit as Northville. Practically everyone knows everybody. Whether your eating at a local restaurant or just walking around one of the parks, you can always find someone you know.

Even the local merchants get into the act. How many towns do you visit where the business owner, who usually can be found inside the establishment, greets you with a hello and asks about your well being?

Also, everything seems more laid back here. I have a feeling everyone around me is moving in slowmotion. By the same token, people here probably question my sanity as I sprint from one spot to another. But I'm slowly getting into the groove. I guess it's hard to shake a habit that has been developed over 22 years.

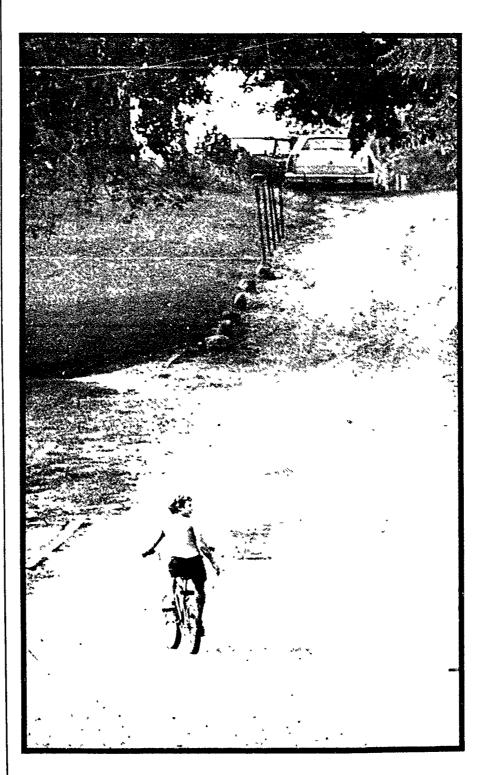

And that's what bothers me about my hometown. I know it could be made greater if local officials rejuvenated its downtown district and if most of the citizens dropped their "me only" attitudes. Maybe I'm being too idealistic; after all, East Detroit has 35,000 residents, nearly twice the number of Northville.

Meanwhile, the pluses of Northville (and those killing gasoline bills for travel from E.D.) are making me

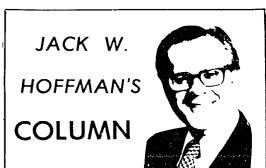

I have many people yet to meet but I'm sure our paths will cross eventually. And when it happens, don't forget to say hello.

"Uphill bound"

For those of us who need the bottoms of Coke bottles to see beyond the length of our arms, the visit to the barber shop is one insult after another.

What's more, it's often embarrassing,

One of our secret wishes is to be able to sit in the barber chair and read a magazine as those with normal vision sometimes do. But, alas, it will never happen.

No sooner have we climbed into the barber chair and we're asked to part with our goggles. Usually, before we can react, the barber snatches them from our face and purposely places them out of reach on a nearby blurry counter.

Having effectively removed our contact with the world around us, the barber spins the chair so we're pointed at the television. The voice of Tarzan comes through loud and clear but the jungle is missing. In fact the whole screen is little more than a glob of winking

"Not much on today. Would you rather see Gabby Hayes?" the barber asks. (Frankly, we'd rather be pointed at the window; at least the glob of white is larger).

Then the door opens. And a voice says, "Hello, Jack, how have you been?"

"Fine, and you? comes the reply as we try vainly to identify the faceless voice before the conversation becomes more specific. Too

"Are you coming Sunday?"

Oh, ye of normal vision, take pity on us who have difficulty in replying to a simple question without knowing who is asking it. If we say "yes" we've committed ourselves to attending a church social we wanted to avoid. Say "no" and we've just kissed goodbye to that free Lions game at the Silverdome.

And then the final insult. Having finished, the barber twirls the nearsighted customer around to face a mirror. "How's that," he

Church charges violation of first amendment rights

For many years we have heard a host of minority groups screaming discriminatory violation of their Constitutional rights and for an equal number of years, this news media has supported those claims by boldly speaking out in their behalf.

The Bill of Rights contained in the II.S. Constitution is, without question, unique in all the world, and is the body of law which provides these minorities and this newspaper the right to say and do what it pleases, free from governmental controls and regulations.

Recently, I saw a bumper sticker which said, "U.S. Constitution — Use It or Lose It," and I thought for a moment, does this news media truly believe in Constitutional rights for all citizens or just those they happen to agree with? Sad to say, I concluded that not all Constitutional rights have been defended with equal vigor by your establishment.

You have vigorously defended your First Amendment right to freedom of 'speech and press," but rarely, if ever, have you spoken out in defense of the "religious liberties" contained in that very same amendment. Why?

At this very moment there is a discriminatory violation of the First Amendment rights, unparalled in our nation's history. The very religious liberties our forefathers took for granted are now being attacked by a handful of bureaucrats who answer to no one, and your establishment says nothing. Why?

In April of this year, an educational bureaucrat from Lansing, Mr. Ralph Turnbull, wrote a letter to the State Fire Marshal regarding the educational ministry of our church. He stated in that letter, "We are operating a school in our church," and asked the fire marshal to inspect our building for fire

Upon his arrival Dectective Sergeant Walter Davenport of the State Fire

Marshal Division, announced that our . building was not going to pass inspection, and for that reason a detailed inspection was a waste of time, wherein he promptly departed.

A few weeks later, we received a letter from the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office demanding that we begin immediately certain building alterations or have our church doors padlocked. Short of moving from our building, there is no way of meeting these unreasonable demands the state is now coercively imposing.

The hyposcrisy of this whole issue becomes glaringly apparent when you consider that on a Sunday morning we have over 300 students in the building and it is considered safe; but on Monday morning with 25 students in the building we are a fire hazard?

Why? Our church building was built in 1885, and to the best of our knowledge, there was never any complaint by the state; but now when we begin operating our educational program on a Sunday through Friday schedule, rather than Sunday only, we are threatened with prosecution. Why?

It is our belief that Mr. Turnbull's real motive is not the life safety of our students, but rather a personal vendetta against the church. In our instance he is using the School Fire Code regulations in an attempt to close our doors. but in other instances he has used teacher certification, and compulsory attendance statutes as his weapons of

To date, he has failed in his attempt to close church doors, but the financial cost of defending these First Amendment rights to "freely exercise one's faith" is enormous and has in one instance resulted in financial ruin.

If Mr. Turnbull succeeds in destroying First Amendment rights for the church, then it's only a matter of time before other bureaucrats like himself destroy First Amendment rights of "free speech and press."

Gentlemen, your failure to speak out on behalf of our First Amendment rights is an issue you can no longer ignore, and for that reason (I) urge you to begin exposing this governmental violation of Constitutional liberties

Yours in Christ Jesus,

Reconsideration asked in removal of chief

To the Editor:

At the Northville Township board meeting last night (August 13), it appeared that the subject of Chief Nisun or ex-Chief Nisun was a closed subject.

Why is this? When Mr. MacDonald was asked if Mr. Nisun had ever done anything in his 15 years that even warranted a memo in his personnel file, Mr. MacDonald said that he didn't know since he had only been on the job since December and he (Mr. MacDonald) had no knowledge of Chief Nisun's record.

This seems a strange answer for a supervisor who appears to have virtually forced Chief Nisun to voluntarily

Mr. MacDonald's answer was that, since this was handled at a closed session, the subject was closed.

When asked what we the public could do to express our opinions or disapproval, Mr. MacDonald's answer was that we should get an attorney to research the law.

Is this the answer?

I don't believe so. The township type of government was meant to have input from the citizens who the trustees are supposed to represent. It appears that Mr. MacDonald wishes to interpret the law as he - a lawyer - wishes with no input from the township he is supposed to represent.

And what about the arbitration liability the township faces from the firing of Chief Nisun?

Mr. MacDonald's answer is that he doesn't know since that will go to the arbitration board. If it drags on for two or three years (not an abnormally long time for arbitration) and Chief Nisun is found to have been unjustly discharged, where will the township come up with the back pay and benefits of $60,000 to $90,000 for two or three years' lost

We just went through the same "head in the sand" philosophy on the nonpayment of bills on the new township hall and had to finally pay that bill after the old supervisor had left.

It appears that Mr. MacDonald is putting his head in the sand now in regard to the future liability the township will incur on Chief Nisun's back pay.

Please reconsider, gentlemen. One minor discretion in 15 years does not warrant ruining a man's career nor indebting our future township liabilities to the tune of $60,000 to $90,000.

School rules revisions, enforcement required

To the Editor:

Parents you will be receiving a Northville High School Handbook. In this handbook there are long and lengthy documents and procedures to follow.

The past three years no one that I have known has followed or obeyed the student handbook. It has been a hit or miss procedure.

We have followed some of the codes in the school district. Others, for example, whether you would be able to stay in the class or be dropped from the class.

The school itself has not been following this system. They have been changing the rules so that when the student reaches eight he/she is dropped without a conference. If the Northville High School Hand-

tle bit the teachers and students would be able to understand it more clearly Furthermore, the attendance policy has changed just about every year and book was rewritten and shortened a lit-the enforcement has changed. Parents should take more of an interest in the school district and its rules and procedures so that their students have a consistent and fair system to follow for a better education.

Genitti's an asset to Northville area

To the Editor:

I just had to write to you so I could let people know what a fantastic place John and Toni Genitti have in the "Hole in the Wall" restaurant. My brother was married July 31 and we had his rehearsal dinner there July 30. It was marvelous.

We had a five-course meal that was superb. Not only was the food delicious and plentiful but the hospitality of John and Toni made us all (20 of us) feel like we were among friends and family. And the price for all of this was unbelievably low (in these days of inflation).

We are lucky to have this establishment in Northville. Believe me, they'd have been completely ignored. You are allowed eight absences and then a parent conference and that determines have no trouble setting up business in Birmingham, Grosse Pointe or such. I just hope people from this area appreciate and use what we have here! it's really a fun place, too!

I know all of our family and friends enjoyed our evening there.

Thanks, John and Toni!

Sincerely. Sharon Johnson Gail and Eric Johnson

Arts council's plea spurs budget transfer

Northville Arts Commission, its budget severely pared in recent city cutbacks, found Monday night it pays to beg. Or, depending on the viewpoint, council action might be called "robbing Peter to pay Paul." After hearing past chairperson Cheryl Gazlay's appeal for funds to implement programs of the year-old commission, the council agreed that the current allotment of $500 was not sufficient. Noting that much of the beautification commission's work was being accomplished with the present Mainstreet '78 development, council agreed to 'rob" that budget and to give the arts commission $1,725 to stage dual art shows and a second Offthe-Wall exhibit.

It endorsed the one-time purchase of artistic display panels at a cost of $1,320.

However, the council asked the arts commission to pursue other avenues for two other projects for which funds had been sought.

For an Art in the Schools program, estimated to cost $500, it was suggested that the PTAs be contacted. For music to be played during the annual Christmas Walk, at a cost of $150, it was suggested the Chamber of Commerce be contacted.

Tax collection fee retained by township

Taxpayers will continue to be charged a one percent collection fee on property tax bills in Northville Township, the board of trustees decided last week.

Acting on the advice of Treasurer Richard Henningsen and auditors Plante & Moran, the board voted 6-1 Thursday to continue charging the fee, which brings in an estimated $60-to-$65,000 annually.

The collection fee has been subject of much litigation state-wide. The township was recently excluded from such a lawsuit. Established by state law for communities in which there is no paid treasurer or assitant treasurer. the fee is made optional for communities with such officers.

Henningsen is paid $4,000 per year and there is a full time deputy treasurer.

'I'd like to cut tax (bills) as much as the next person," Henningsen said, while half-heartedly recommending continuation of the fee, "but $65,000 is a

Noting that administrative staff has been pared to bare-bone levels through attrition (earlier discussion revealed concern that the community is understaffed to conduct an election), Henningsen said dropping the one percent addition to tax bills would mean serious cuts elsewhere in the budget."

He equated the amount at stake to the ownship's contribution to joint recreation and library programs ($59,000 apiece) or at least two full-time police

Trustee Thomas L.P. Cook noted that the first time he appeared in township hall "was to complain about this very fee," and that he is philosophically opposed to charging a collection fee while paying the personnel doing the work.

Cook, however, voted for continuation of the fee, on the basis of its imortance to maintaining services.

Clerk Susan Heintz, while calling roll for the vote, paused at her own name, tapping the table with her fist, biting her lip, and voted against the fee.

She later said she is opposed to any the board to levy up to five mills in protax collection not voted upon by the people, and equated her vote to last year's discussion of adopting the charter township form of government, to which she was also opposed because it allowed perty taxes without a vote of the people. Heintz was the sole dissenting vote. The collection fee will appear on bills mailed late this fall and due in

Native runs correctional program

Pete Spagnuolo, a 58-year-old native of Northville, has given up retirement to head a federally funded lawn care program in Ingham County where he

More specifically, he is coordinator of a program in which first time offenders volunteer their energies to assist others namely senior citizens who are unable to do their own yard work.

Spagnuolo, who left Lansing Candy and Cigar Company after 19 years, couldn't stand the inactivity. That's when he started looking for new pursuits, eventually finding his niche with the Greater Lansing Urban League's CETA program.

Persons assigned to his program are troubled young people who are able to work of their debts to society like Northville probationers who Township.

the law can be placed in the Ingham program in lieu of criminal persecution. Participation means making restitution to both the victim and the community by performing as much as 200 hours of volunteer work.

And work, under Spagnuolo's supervision, not only means lawn care activities for senior citizens but also other kinds of chores such as renovation of the Olds Museum and assistance for the Impression Five Children's Museum, 4-H, Beckman Center, Salvation Army and other charitable groups.

Spagnuole, who is the son of the late Jim Spagnuolo of Northville, is a former beer wholesaler and candy salesman.

Services are held for two: Oka George, Pierce Tilley

Funeral service for longtime Northville resident Oka C. George, 77, was held August 15 at Salem Bible Church. Pastor Richard Denig officiated the service and burial was at Thayer Cemetery.

Mrs. Oka died at her home August 12. She was born in Kansas, November 17, 1903, to Burley and Mary Emily (Perkins) Castle.

A homemaker and member of Salem Bible Church, Mrs. Oka moved to Northville in 1936.

She was preceded in death by her husband Damon, who died December 29. 1963. She also was preceded in death by her two brothers and three sisters. Survivors include her son Milan

George of Northville and daughter Mrs. Mary Bertera of Wixom. Other survivors include her brother Mr. Walter Conley of Kentucky and three grandchildren. Funeral arrangements were made by Casterline Funeral Home and memorial contributions can be made to Salem Bible Church.

Funeral service for Northville resident Pierce Tilley, 74, was held August 11 at McCabe Funeral Home L. David McCabe officiated the service. Burial will be in Missouri.

Mr. Tilley died August 7 at William Beaumont Hospital.

He was born January 29, 1907, in Bethany, Missouri, to Oliver and Bertha (Brown) Tilley.

Mr. Tilley was regional sales manager for Continental Baking at the time of his retirement in 1972. An avid golfer, he had been a member at Meadowbrook Country Club since 1961.

He is survived by his wife Laurinda.

Audit finds township sound — for present

Township accounting and financial procedures are on a sound basis, but future operations are clouded in doubt, auditors Plante and Moran told the board of trustees last week.

The annual audit conducted by the firm showed few problems and the list of recommendations for improvement is short, Plante and Moran representative Kenneth Kunkel told the board.

"Your income for the coming year is largely in flux," he added. "Shared revenues, as usual, are in doubt and there is apparently a move afoot in Lansing to cut taxes somewhat. Together those make up 70 percent of your income for the general fund."

He noted that the water and sewer commission, a virtually independent operation, faces no such doubts.

Kunkel commended township employees and officers for their cooperation in audit, noting that in a first year audit such as the one just completed (the township used another firm previously) there are usually more problems.

Recommendations of the auditor include charging workers' compensation premiums for water and sewer workers to water and sewer budgets rather than the general fund, having the general fund collect an administration fee from the interest earned on water and sewer special assessment accounts, formal approval of millage levies as rolledback under the Headlee Amendment of 1978 (previously included in budget adoption), formal policy defining budgeting, and formal action regarding investment of water and sewer monies.

The latter recommendation bore immediate fruit as the board passed a resolution instructing that all interest from water and sewer restricted account be reinvested in that account.

As with most of the recommendations, Kunkel noted that the township already was following the correct procedures but had not formally adopted

The executive council (supervisor, clerk and treasurer) have already met with Kunkel to review the audit and learn to interpret it.

A similar meeting for trustees is slated tonight in township hall.

On September Home Tour

Cottage is Gothic treasure

sent owner.

BY MICHELE McELMURRY

Home Tour participants walking through the little Gothic-style structure on the corner of Dunlap next month, most likely will concur with the owner's granddaughter who referred to the house as an "enchanted cottage."

For indeed, this small two-story structure with its brick walk and wood porch appears to be just that.

The home of Hilda Veinott, who purchased the house a year ago last February, it is among the oldest on this year's tour. For home tour enthusiasts, this house may seem familiar. It is making its second appearance on the tour - having first been featured in

In fact, it was at the '76 tour which Mrs. Veinott first caught a glimpse of her future home. However, it only was a glimpse. A former Birmingham resident, she had come to Northville for the tour but was unable to get inside the Gothic cottage due to the long lines.

"I wanted to go inside so badly," she explained, "but the line was all the way down the street."

Yet four years later, her daughter and son-in-law, Katherine and John Allen, who recently had moved to Grace Street, noticed the house was up for sale and with little hesitation Hilda Veinott became the 41st owner of this tiny property in Northville's Historic District.

"I guess I was crazy when I bought it," explained the 78-year-old owner who has spent a lifetime designing and decorating houses. Some of the homes she has designed include a former residence in Rosedale Park and an authentic Austrian chalet in Torch

"It's been a lot of hard work," she "there always seems to be the land. From the Daniel's research it was discovered that the property's first owners were Alvah Smith and his wife Lavina, who received land from the U.S. Government in 1825 extending from Linden Street all the way to the

The Smiths held the land only three months, selling to John Miller, who started the mill at the race.

In 1840, records show, William Dunlap plotted the land with Daniel Cady.

In 1871, a man named John Bishop mortgaged the land which was owned by a widow Beale. At that time, the house was built with a basement, two main floor rooms and two second story

Mrs. Veinott said she is familiar with the history of the residence from the Daniel's research and added that the house originally was sold for $800.

house of its size. Like the outside of the home, the blue color scheme is used throughout the interior. "There isn't any color but blue," Mrs. Veinott remarked.

An avid antique buff, Mrs. Veinott has furnished most of her house in period pieces.

Light blue carpeting extends throughout the lower level and are complimented with several oriental rugs.

The living room, located directly beyond the front entrance, is furnished in several styles. The upholstery on the sofa and chairs is in various shades of blue with off-white and pink accents.

A carved walnut table and Victorian marble-top table are among the many antique pieces in the living room. Several Japanese prints — many which were gifts from her daughter Katherine and son-in-law John, who lived in Japan for six years - adorn the living room

The lancet windows are covered with sheer lace curtains in both the living room and the parlor - which adjoins the front room.

The parlor, used primarily as a study, is lined with shelves along one wall and contains a small couch and table. Mrs. Veinott, who has written several articles about house design and horticulture — specifically the art of growing roses which are her "passion" does most of her work in this room.

The dining room, which is beyond the living area, is the most spacious of the lower-level rooms. The walls are papered in a blue flowered print and most of the furnishings are antique.

Mrs. Veinott, who has been collecting antiques since 1927, mentioned that many of her pieces have come from some very unusual places.

She pointed out that a chest in the dining room was found in a chicken coop and she managed to retrieve a tiger maple chair from a bonfire in Detroit. "I burned the soles of my tennis shoes trying to get that chair," she remarked. In the corner of the dining room, Formerly caretaker of the Cranbrook Institute's expansive rose gardens which contained 350 rose bushes - Mrs. Veinott's backyard is filled with a variety of roses.

Her garden also includes a Japanese maple tree, a pink chestnut and a weeping hemlock.

Mrs. Veinott's home at 417 Dunlap is one of seven houses to be featured on the September 24 home tour.

Historical society sets fall workshops, classes

The Northville Historical Society has announced its schedule for its fall workshops and classes. All will be held in Mill Race Historical Village on Griswold Street south of Eight Mile in Northville.

The workshops will be on Saturdays and run from two to five hours. Classes are slated for weekdays and those run from four to six weeks. Among the offerings:

Instructor Ellen Wilson will teach eight students how to hook a picture in

Bradner Road resident Don Sober will teach chair caning

old English letters November 7. Workshop begins at 10 a.m. and runs to 4 p.m. Students should take along a sack lunch; beverages will be provided. Tuition fee is $12 and a complete kit

Two three-hour workshops on band box construction will be led October 17 by Betty Abraham and Jan Moylan. Students will learn how to construct, line and cover a medium-size oval box. All materials, including take-home patterns, will be provided in the $10 entrance fee.

Children's weaving techniques will be taught October 10 and October 17 to students age eight and older. Instructor Heather Fee will lead the workshop both weekends from 10 a.m. to noon. Class limit is 15 students and the workshop costs $10.

Mother-daughter teams can get in on a quilting workshop October 24, where mothers will make patchworks pillows and and their youngsters will begin a doll quilt. Jo Krause's seminar costs $15 for mother and daughter; for extra daughters, add $5.

Jo Krause also will teach a rugbraiding workshop October 3 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. in New Church School at Mill Race. Tuition is $12 and enrollment is limited to 10.

Karen Poulos and Elva Asquini will conduct basic wheat-weaving workshop October 31, while Barbara Scantlin will lead a workshop on colonial herb wreath construction November 21.

Natural dyeing will be taught by Wanda Lou Huber October 3 in Cottage House at the village. Twelve different color variations will be produced from natural materials. Students should wear old clothes and bring a large open container.

A class in chair caning will be offered by Plymouth resident Don Sober Monday evenings from 7-9 p.m. beginning October 5 at New Church School. Sober will cover the traditional seven-step method of caning. Students must provide their own chair frames. The course costs $25 and $3 for cane and pegs.

Mel Anderson is holding a clock repair class as a hobby course for individuals wishing to repair Americanmade pendulum movement clocks. His class will begin January 6 and runs six weeks. Cost is $35.

Beginning and advanced basketry classes will be taught by Helen maki beginning October 9. The Friday course lasts four weeks and is limited to 12. Fee is $16.

Sharon DeAlexandris will teach calligraphy from 7-9 p.m. Thursdays beginning October 6. The six-week

A six-week quilting course will be taught by Jo Krause, while Ellen Wilson teaches a five-week rug-hooking class. Charles Plunkett will teach 20 students wood carving Friday nights at

Zimmermans host royal reception

There's been a distinctly international flavor to summer entertaining — especially among local young people.

Fun-loving Judy Zimmerman and her brother John took note of the British royal wedding and sent the following invitation to some 75 friends:

Did your invitation to the Royal Wedding get lost in the mail? Well, don't feel snubbed because you are cordially invited to the social event of the season: the Royal Reception....That's right Lord John and Lady Judy are hosting a royal wedding reception to be held August 8, Saturday, at 7 p.m...unfortunately Lady Di and the Prince will be unable to attend. However, we are hoping for a guest appearance by Her Majesty the Queen.

Formal dress is required; however, feel free to bring a swimsuit and towel in case it is royally hot. The event will be held at the Zimmerman estate in Northville.

The invitations brought friends from Traverse City and Manistee as well as local collegians. Judy will be a senior at University of Michigan this fall and her brother, a sophomore at Eastern Michigan University.

The crowd showed up in formals and suits, as requested, to carry out the mood of the party, Judy related. There was a wedding cake and a champagne toast to the royal couple who inspired the fun.

An oversize crown rested in a "regal-looking chair" all evening waiting for the queen - "but she didn't show," reported Judy.

Spanish travelers compare trip-pics

The 11 Northville schools' Spanish students who traveled to Spain (with London and Paris as added attractions) this summer were invited by Sarah Conlon to compare pictures and regale each other and their parents with stories of the trip. The get-together was held August 1 at her home in

The group with Spanish teacher Emily Serafa-Manschot and her husband Peter, who served as the second chaperone, left June 22, flying to London and continuing to Madrid. Sarah detailed that the travelers "worked our way back to London with a stop in Paris" during the three weeks.

While it was cool in Spain, she recalled, those days in London were sunny. Sarah had followed her sister in the foreign language excursion, which the teacher escorts from Northville every other year.

In addition to comparing pictures the travelers brought to the party such souvenirs as a sword bought on a visit to a Spanish factory.

At the end of the reunion the decision was made: all plan a return trip to Spain.

Folino family's partying

Paula Folino, 15-year-old daughter of the Paul Folinos of Clement Road and a talented soprano singer, has been singing on some very special occasions this summer. For more than a week she has been practicing daily to sing in the top Show Choir at Macomb Community College this Friday evening. She auditioned for the honor after attending Blue Lakes Fine Arts Camp in June. At the camp she was in the back-up choir for William Warfield and also had the fun of meeting comedian Red Skelton.

This Saturday she will be singing at the silver wedding celebration for her grandparents. Mrs. Folino's mother remarried here 25 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Constance Santavenere now are in town from Lake Mead, Pennsylvania, to renew their vows at Our Lady of Victory Church and have a reception afterward at Monaghan Knights of Columbus hall in Livonia.

After their marriage, the Santaveneres moved to New Hampshire where he operated a store. They since retired to

With them are, from left, Tim Walker, Jan Waller, Michael Platt, Debbie Liddle, Sarah Conlon, Beth Ross and Anne Albrecht. Also on the trip, but not in the picture by Steve Fecht, were Lisa Trano, Amy Sorenson, Bob Foster and Andy Cocagne.

A. Nothing for now. Thumbsucking in a child's early years is a natural instinct that provides pleasure and a sense of security. Try to develop a re-laxed attitude because attempting to break the child of the habit too early will only cause frustration for both of you. If thumbsucking is continued after the permanent incisors erupt (around six years of age) an uneven bite can occur which is correctable with orthodontic treatment. Chances are your child will give up the habit when other more interesting activities capture his

Laurie Day is married in Saturday ceremony

Sprigs of Scottish heather tied with tartan ribbons marked the pews of First Presbyterian Church at 4:30 p.m. last Saturday as Laurie Jean Day became the bride of Eric William Egeland in a double ring service.

Sounds of bagpipes greeted guests as they approached the church and were "piped" into the sanctuary by John Goodenow. David Heinzman was

The Reverend Lloyd G. Brasure, minister emeritus, officiated at the altar decorated with a basket of sum-

The bride wore an ankle-length gown of voile sashed with lavender ribbon. Narrow bands of eyelet and lace decorated the bodice, full sleeves and hemline. A floral wreath held her fingertip veil.

She carried rosebuds, heather and baby's-breath in an antique Victorian silver nosegay holder, a gift of her mother, Mrs. Douglas Day of Woodhill Road. She also is the daughter of the late Mr. Day in whose memory she walked alone down the aisle.

In her shoe was a sixpence from Mrs. William B. Crump, a former Northville resident now living in Florida.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Frank Williams of Debra Lane and Daryl Egeland of Farmington Hills.

Karen Andersen was honor maid. The bridegroom's sisters Karyn Egeland and Kristen Black of Colorado, and Catherine Foust, who came in from Washington, D.C., were bridesmaids. All wore ankle-length voile dresses in gray-and-white fioral mini- print with lavender accents and carried pink-and-lavender bouquets. Keith Eckstein was best man. Ushers were Dean Kuester, Robert Eicher and Charles Hartman.

Soloists were Dennis Brownlee and Timothy Kelly, friends of the bridegroom and his fellow members in the Singing Statesmen choral group at Michigan State University.

A buffet champagne reception for 150 guests followed at Ann Arbor Women's City Club where the bride's sister Roberta Day of Seattle assisted her mother as hostess.

The couple left on a 10-day wedding trip to Montreal and Quebec.

The Frank Williamses hosted a rehearsal dinner party last Friday at Genitti's. Mrs. H. O. Evans and Mrs. William Davis gave a bridesmaids' brunch the day of the wedding at the Evans home.

The couple had been honored earlier at couple dinners and showers given by the maid of honor and her parents, the Hans Andersens of Brookland Farms, and by the Ray Casterlines II at their

Mrs. Herbert Weston and Mrs. Bernard Bach also entertained at showers, and Mrs. Russell Atchison and Mrs. William B. Chase hosted a bridal tea at the home of the latter August 7.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Northville High School. The bride received her BS degree in June from Michigan State University where the bridegroom is completing his studies. They will be living in Okemos.

Engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Curtis of Livonia announce the engage ment of their daughter Elizabeth Ellen to William Todd Lysinger of Savannah, Georgia.

He is the son of former Northville Commons residents Mr. and Mrs. Mark Lysinger of Savannah.

The bride-elect is a 1980 Stevenson High School graduate and currently is a senior at the Oakland Institute of Cosmetology in Union Lake.

Her fiance attended Northville High School and was graduated from Savannah Christian Prep School in 1980. He presently is a student at Armstrong State College in Savannah and is employed by Sandpiper Supply, Inc.

Tivoli Fair plans underway

This year's Tivoli Fair sponsored by Northville Historical Society will be 20 percent larger than last, reports chairman Martha Nield.

All 120 booths for artisans were sold in April, she adds, noting that the number is a record.

The fair will be held at Northville Downs again on October 2 and 3.

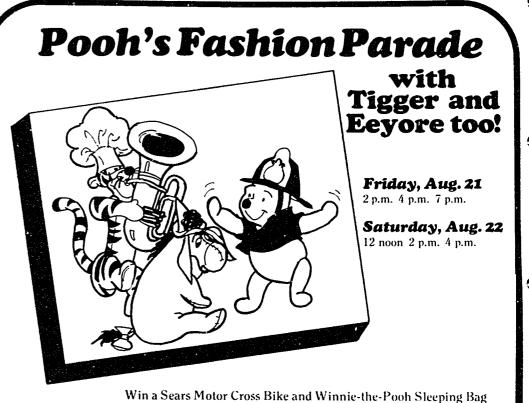

All proceeds of the annual benefit for Mill Race Historical Village this year are being earmarked for furnishing Wash-Oak schoolhouse. The school is to open for classes and workshops October 1. School benches, slates and other furnishings still are needed, however.

Booths at the fair traditionally are filled with wares of area craftspersons. The society's own popular Country Store booth always is filled with handmade items created by members and friends.

Country Store chairman this year is Jeanne Parkinson. Donations of sewn items, baked or canned goods, dried flowers and herbs, she says, will increase the success of the fair. Mrs. Parkinson may be called at 348-0032, or Mrs. Nield at 349-1079, by those planning donations.

Food at the fair is being arranged by Shirley Millard and Hazel Coon. Pat Stringer is in charge of fair activities while Camille Bloomberg is hostess chairman. Others working on the event are Polly Kurowski, publicity, and Judith Sechler, Marion Frohreip and Joyce Ziegler, raffle.

Two-day air show stars local Thunderbird pilot

A Northville man, Captain Jim Jiggens, will be flying left wing when the U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds perform at Selfridge Air National Guard Base Saturday and Sunday.

The base near Mount Clemens (25 miles north of Detroit on I-94) will be holding a two-day open house and air show featuring the aerial demonstra-

Admission and parking are free. In his third year as a Thunderbird, after a year as team narrator, Captain Jiggens is in his second year as left Captain Jiggens entered the Army's Warrant Officer Rotary Wing Aviation course in 1966. He served a tour of combat duty, flying 589 hours in the OH-6A Scout and AH-1G Cobra in 1968.

In 1971, he graduated from Eastern Michigan University with a bachelor's degree in business administration. He attended officers training school and graduated first in his pilot training class at Moody Air Force Base, Jiggens returned to Southeast Asia, this time flying F-4s.

Thunderbirds, Jiggens was assigned to Seymour Johnson Air Force Base, North Carolina, as chief of weapons and tactics for the 334th Tactical Fighter Squadron. He attended the Air Force Fighter Weapons School at Nellis Air Force Base, Nevada and has logged more than 2,000 hours in Air Force jet fighters and more than 3,400 hours in total flying time.

Captain Jiggens and his wife, Barbe, have two daughters, Jamie and Kayce. The Thunderbirds will be flying both days of the open house and air show

Also on the program are demonstrations by Army, Navy and Air National Guard aircraft. There will be modern and vintage (Warbirds) aircraft on display, weapons loading demonstrations, army tanks and vehicles, and performances by "Sky," the rock contingent of the Air Force Band.

Food and souvenirs will be for sale. Gates open at 9 a.m. both days; the air show will end about 4 p.m.

"Plan to arrive early and bring your camera," advises base public affairs officer, Lieutenant Colonel Donald E.

"We should see a move to smaller," more compact housing with elimination of some traditional areas," said WWOCBR President Robert D. Shimmin. "Recent reports confirm that downsizing already is beginning to occur, reversing the trend toward larger homes that was prevalent during the past decade.'

Shimmin foresees living and family rooms being combined into one large room with a similar approach taken with kitchens and dining rooms. Future homebuyers also will encounter space more designed for function than roominess, he added.

Such changes will be dictated more by the rising costs for heating and cooling than by increased construction costs, he said, however, the latter will

National Jamboree more than scouting

By JOHN MYERS

Even though one might think the primary emphasis at the National Scout Jamboree would be to learn scouting, that is not necessarily true.

According to the five Northville scouts who attended the Jamboree at Fort A.P. Hill near Fredericksburg, Virginia the main emphasis was on meeting other people and learning their different methods of scouting.

"You're already supposed to know a lot about scouting Everybody does stuff differently and you are supposed to learn from that," said Alan Griffith, who just recently earned the rank of Eagle Scout.

"There was a lot of see and do," Charles Gross explained. "You would go around and taste foods. You would virtually eat on the way back (to their camp site) from wherever you walk around."

And there was ample opportunity to meet different people as approximately 30,000 scouts and adult leaders from all 50 states and about 30 foreign countries were on hand for "Scouting's Reunion With History.'

In all, for Thomas and Martin Broderick, Michael Lapham, Gross and Griffith, the Jamboree, which takes place about every four years, was a worthwhile experience

"I think it (the Jamboree) was great. I think of how many scouts would like to have been in my shoes and wanted to go," said Griffith, with the rest of the group nodding in agreement. "I'm really glad I can come back and show my troop (755) what we did and get them more interested in scouting.'

Lapham added it was a real adventure, while Gross explained he learned how to cook better.

"We used charcoal all of the time to cook with," Martin Broderick added.

About the only requirement the boys had to fulfill to participate in the Jamboree, which took place July 29 through August 5, was raising enough money.

None of the boys received any type of financial assistance other than from their families to attend the Jamboree.

The boys did note some troops and large amount of scouts from other parts of the country received financial help from either large corporations or from their own scout troop.

However, that did not detract from them the opporunity to get involved in the other main attraction at the Jamboree - patch trading.

"No one ever came away from a patch trade disappointed," Griffith said.

There were about 200 different contingents, he added, all armed with their troop, area council and regional patches which were specially designed for the Jamboree to trade among one another.

People like to stock up on them to trade in the future," Gross said.

The boys said items such as hat pins, tie tacks, neckerchiefs and neckerchief slides were more valuable along with regional and area council patches than some of the National Jamboree items.

"Everything with a Jamboree emblem will be valuable later on," Lapham said.

Neckerchiefs which are still in their wrappers and have not been worn are valuable as are stamp cancellations with the Jamboree seal, Gross said.

Among the more interesting items which had the Jamboree emblem were sunglasses, towels, shirts, wooden nickles and, yes, even the paper plates from which they ate.

The Scout Guide book printed for the Jamboree is a real collector's item among the scouts, the boys said, because not many of them were printed and only one was given to each scout.

"People were less willing to trade them," Griffith said, "unless people were giving you a good offer.

"People were hanging on to them until the end of the Jamboree to make them more valuable," Gross added.

Winner's Circle clinches first place

It gets more complicated by the week. And with only one week remaining in adult softball regular-season play, it is anyone's guess who will be in first place in the National League.

Action Dry Wall and J&S Steel still are deadlocked in a first-place tie in the National League with identical 14-3 records. Hanging tough are the Eagles who trail by one game with a 13-4 record.

. So it will be a real dogfight for the top honor of the league. The adult softball tournament will begin at 8 a.m. Saturday at Thomson Field.

Winner's Circle Bar has clinched first place in the American League with its 16-1 record. Sheehan's on the Green is in second with a 14-3 mark, but is followed closely by one-time leader Long Mechanical, which has a 13-4 record.

Five local scouts participate in National Jamboree

One of the more interesting items Martin Broderick picked up at the Jamboree was some volcanic ash from Washington's Mount St. Helen

But, the biggest wheeler-dealers at the Jamboree were the scouts from

According to the boys, the Koreans would trade many of their more valuable items to Americans and receive in return items of less value.

"They (Koreans) think quantity is better than quality," Gross said "They want to take back a lot of American stuff to trade in their country," Griffith chipped in.

The Koreans were even trading their native uniforms in some of their transactions, the group said

One of the popular ways to meet people, aside from trading, was to exchange with another scout a business dress and phone number on it.

When asked if they though they would hear from any of the other secuts in the future Lapham said, "That's never going to happen.'

But Gross quickly broke in and said, 'Yeah (they will call), and I would tell them to bring their patches over (for

Through all of the trading and meeting other people, the boys did have an opportunity to participate in other activities and to take tours their councils had prepared.

The scouts could engage in activites such as archery, canoeing, rafting, hunting and safety and even take a hike through the conservation trail.

"I went in the conservation trail five times," Thomas Broderick said 'That was the best set activity," said merit badges at the Jamboree since there was a merit badge midway set up.

Such corporations as Zebco. Stanley Tools and Crossman Air Guns had tents set up to provide information and to help the scout work on a particular merit badge.

"There wasn't enough time to work on getting a merit badge. You would have to sacrifice a lot of time in order to earn one," Griffith said.

Mostly, the midway was established to get scouts interested in a merit badge and if the scout wanted to receive partial credit, he could do so and complete the merit badge requirements within six months, Gross said.

Lapham said he has received partial credit for his hiking merit badge, while Gross said he received partial credit for merit badges in hiking and handicap

Hitting, defense key to Liberties success It is extremely difficult nowadays in sports to go through a season without losing a game.

In fact, it is sometimes hard to go through a schedule and lose only one, maybe two games. Such is not the case for the Liberties girls 14 and under softball team. In 18 games played during Intermediate Division action this summer, the Liberties did not lose a single contest enroute to its championship. It came close a couple of times, but Liberties always came up with the win, not the loss.

"We're extremly proud of them," coach Ed Stephens said of his 14-member team.

A balanced team, some sensational hitting and flawless defense were the keys in winning all 18 games, according to Stephens.

"We had extremely good batting and played flawless defense. We made very few errors," Stephens explained.

I knew we were a tight team and I thought we could go all of the way. We had a balanced team and each girl could play every position ' The closest the Liberties came to losing a contest during the season was when they tied the Sunbirds and had to resume the contest the next day. Final score: Liberties 20, Sunbirds 12.

Lots of scoring was the Liberties main offensive weapon as they crossed the plate 352 times while belting an amazing .714 average.

"We had a .770 average going into the last two games," Stephens said. "The girls really had the

Top batter for Liberties was infielder Mary Booms with an .870 average, followed by outfielders Renee Rosselle at .850 and Kim McRae at

With such a hot trio of batters, and with the remainder of team members bunched behind them. Liberties forced other teams to rely on forced outs to end an inning.

"The majority of plays were force outs,"
Stephens explained. "There were a few fly outs."

Main pitcher for the Liberties was Jenny Nadeau, who was backed up superbly by Julie Kaestner and Julie Chrzanowski. Handling a majority of the catching duties was Kristin Marrone with Traci Talbot also seeing some duty.

Around the tough defensive infield was Jane Hodgson at first, Sandi Stephens at second, Booms at shortstop and sharing the duties at third were Kim Harrigan and Tracy O'Dell

Stephens employed the use of a roving infielder since most of the balls hit against his team were ground balls. Handling this position was Kim

Playing in the outfield, but not seeing many fly balls, were McRae, Rosselle and Mary Stilson.

"It was a good season and we enjoyed ourselves. We played a lot of hard baseball," Stephens said. The only downbeat note of the season for

Stephens was only four members of the team will be returning next season. Marrone, Nadeau, Kaestner and O'Dell will return, but the remaining 10 players will be moving on to another division. Stephens said.

"It's kind of sad to see the team break up. They (players) made a lot of close friendships," he add-

Recreation track closes with Octathlon event

Consistency was the key for Dan Magdich in winning the three-day Octatholon event which closed out the 1981 Northville recreation track club

There were eight events to compete in with Magdich accumulating 630 points to outdistance Jane Thompson and Scott Stephens, both of whom had 615 points.

Amy Spaman was fourth in the competition with 550 points, followed by David Balok with 530, Paul Stoecklin with 505 and Nina Wilkiemeyer with an

Athletes were awarded points dependent on their finish in each event, plus bonus points for attending practice night and being in the 10- and 11-yearold bracket.

Magdich only took two firsts in the meet, but claimed a second and five Magdich was in third place heading into the final event, the standing broad jump, but a first-place finish in the 12year-old and up group earned him the title. Wilkiemeyer was second and Spaman claimed third.

For the 10- and 11-year-olds, Stephens was the victor and was trailed by Randy Jones and Greg Paler.

The only other first for Magdich came in the softball throw. He was followed by Spaman and Wilkiemeyer. Stephens was first in the 10 and 11 group and was followed by John Larabell and Jones, respectively.

Stephens took more firsts than Magdich, but was not as consistent.

In the 220-yard dash, Stephens took first with a time of 32.8 to head the 10 and 11 group. Jones was second at 33.5 and Stoecklin and Larabell tied for third with a 34.0 clocking.

Thompson was first for the 12 and up group with a time of 30.7. She was followed by Dave Balok at 30.9 and Magdich at 31.3.

Stephens claimed another first in the 60-yard low hurdles with a time of 9.2 which was followed by Stoecklin at 9 3 and Scott Howard at 9 35

For the 12 and up bracket, Balok was first with an 8.7 clocking. He was trailed by Thompson at 8 8 and Magdich at

In the triple jump, Stephens took first for 10 and 11 with a leap of 24-1, while Thompson claimed the 12 and up title with a jump of 26-8

Paler and Stoecklin were second and third, respectively, for the 10 and 11 group, while Magdich and Spaman did the same for the 12 and up bracket.

Stoecklin was another double winner for the 10 and 11 group by winning the mile run (5:53) and the 440-yard dash (1:12 2) Stephens was second in the 440-yard dash (1:12 6) and third in the mile run (6:22). Skip Davidovich was second in the mile run (5:56).

In the 12 and up group, Thompson claimed firsts in the mile run (6:27), the 440-yard dash (1:08.5) and the 100-yard dash (13.0)

Balok was second in both the mile (6:57) and the 440-yard dash (1:09.1), while Spaman was second in the 100yard dash (13.4).

Magdich was third in all three of the events. His time in the mile was 7:04. while he was clocked at 13.5 in the 100yard dash and 1:13.9 in the 440-yard

NHS tankers All Americans

What is better than being named an All State high school athlete?

Answer: Being selected a high school All

American athlete, naturally.
For Four Northville High School girls swimmers, word finally arrived two weeks ago they were selected as All American tankers for the 1980 season.

According to former girls swim coach Ben Lauber, the individual medley relay team of Tammy Selfridge, Allyson Farquaar, Kim Storm and Kathy Bainbridge were named All American with their time of 1:52.51. That time also placed the relay team second in the state finals.

Storm also was selected All American in the 50yard freestyle with her time of 23.93, which broke the state record, but was only good for second in the state since East Lansing's Heather Strang broke the national record with a time of 23.44 to

"We kind of thought this would happen. We were just waiting for the official word," Lauber said. 'We are really happy for them.

"These are four great girls. We are really excited for them," he added.

To be nominated for All American selection, the girls' times were submitted to a national committee, which compiles the statistics and awards All American status for the top 30 clockings.

· Unfortunately for the girls team, Selfridge, Farquhar and Storm have all graduated. Only Bainbridge will be returning as a junior this season.

Storm has accepted a scholarship to Northern Michigan University, while Farguhar has decided to enroll at the University of Georgia. Lauber said Selfridge still is undecided at this time where she is

Two squads tied for National League leadership

Leading the offensive punch for the Raiders' was John Hale with a homer, single and double in four trips to the plate. BoB Powell added three hits and Al Tanski went three-for-three Canterbury, which was aided by a number of walks, could only pound out seven hits with Dan Carpenter collecting two. Dave White, Rick Balek and Mike Lang each added singles.

Northville Gallery of Flowers 9, Court Time Racquet Club 0: this was the second shutout of the week recorded in American League action as Gallery of Flowers won its seventh contest of the year.

Pacing the hitting attack for Gallery of Flowers were Ed Broderick, Ken Glowski and Gary LaFond with two hits apiece. Glowski added three rbi.

Hitting was not a strong point for

Court Time as Mike Williams, Joe D'Agostino, Bob D'Agostino and Kevin Daley each banged singles

NATIONAL LEAGUE

First United Methodist Church 10. J&S Steel 0: in probably the biggest upset this season, First United recorded its fourth win and thus created the three-way for first for J&S Steel.

Gary Beason had an excellent night at the plate with a homer, double and single for First United. Al Burling, Doug Cook and Al Benedict each added two hits. Clark Keutzberg was the winning pitcher. J&S Steel could only manage three hits at the plate with Dennis Belleperch, Gary Batzloff and John Muir each getting singles.

Northville Jaycees 3, Eagles 1: the Eagles had a chance to take over first in the National League, but saw hopes Al Runge, Lenny Zywick and Jon Day, dashed when the Jaycees pulled a mild surprise in defeating them.

The Jaycees scored twice in the first inning, which proved to be all the runs they needed, and added an insurance run in the third. The Eagles could only scratch the scoreboard for a run in the

The Jaycees had 12 hits, but could not cash in on their opportunities that often Bill Howe, Jim Helper and Mike Cameron paced the Jaycees with two hits aniece.

Like J&S Steel, the Eagles could only collect three hits as Ron Rinder homered and Lenny Zywick and Dave Vaughan each singled.

Eagles 8, Our Lady of Victory 5: the Eagles won its first game of the week by scoring six times over the final three innings to pull out the triumph.

The 16-hit Eagle attack was paced by all of whom had three hits. Rick Dodson added two rbi for the winners.

O.L V., which had a 4-2 lead at one time, was paced by the batting of Ron Renault, Randy Prokop, Tom Prokop and Bill Brielmaier, all of whom had O'Sheehan's 21, Action Dry Wall 7: another opportunity for a team to take control was blown when Action Drv Wall was thumped by O'Sheehan's. O'Sheehan's started the barrage with seven runs in the first inning and 11 runs in the second to take an insurmountable 18-3 lead after two innings of Joe Stankis led the powerful

0'Sheehan hitting attack with a homer, double, single and seven rbi, while teammate Bob Macioce had two triples, a single and four rbi. Scott DeWitt also banged three hits and Rick Pariseau added a pair of singles and four rbi.

Action Dry Wall was paced by Steve Harris, who had a double and single, a Ted Gores double, and singles by Chuck Morris and Larry Werner.
Action Dry Wall 8, L&H Players 7:

Gary Globish's single drove in the winning run with one out in the bottom of the seventh inning to give Action Dry Wall the slim victory.

Globish also was responsible for the big five-run sixth inning which tied the game for Action Dry Wall by slamming a one-out homer. In all, Globish had two hits and three rbi.

Mike Nave and Steve Harris both added a pair of singles to help lead the 11hit Action Dry Wall attack.

L&H Players, which jumped out to a 6-2 lead after three innings, was led by the hitting of Rick Giraud, Jerry Thompson, Bill Turner and Les Harmon, all of whom had two hits in four plate appearances.

Urban's Partition & Remodeling 12. St. Paul's Lutheran Church 1: a big four-run first inning and seven-run second powered Urban's past St. Paul's.

Brett Young was the top batsman for the winners with a three-for-three performance and drove in one run. Ed Maas also collected three hits for Urban's, while Pat Carducci and Bob Clark each added two hits.

St. Paul's could only muster up five hits. Roger Schultz had two singles in two at-bats, while Bob Bannatz belted a triple and Ernie Edick and Frank Meyers added singles.

Long Mechanical's Ron Tini awaits the throw while Canterbury Cleaners' Jerry

Rothermel slides into the bag Meadowbrook golf foursome headed to state tournament

It came as no surprise when three foursomes of women golfers from the Meadowbrook Country Club took most of the top honors at the Sixth Annual Babe Zaharias Invitational Golf Tournament last Reason was the 12 women were playing on their home course in the benefit tournament for the American Cancer Society. In all, approximately $50,000 was raised by the 288 golfers from 22 clubs representing Wayne and Oakland counties.

Capturing the overall low net and afternoon group low net was the Meadowbrook team of Novella Zinkon, Joy Holloway, Cecyl Herguth and Gisela McCabe.

For winning overall low net, the group took home the Ray McGuire travelling trophy and will compete in the Walter Hagen-Babe Zaharias State Finals next month at the Boyne Highlands.

Also competing in the state finals will be the Wabeek Country Club team of Exie Ochier, Candy Johns, Catherine Jackson and Mary Lee Allan. The four were the overail low gross winners with a

Winning the low net title for the morning group was the Meadowbrook foursome of Dorothy Malasky, Barb Shaw, Edie Doheny and Carol McMann.

Right behind them was another Meadowbrook team. Maureen Wegryn, Kay Heuer, Bobbie Buesser and Betty Hussey were runners-up for the morning group

There were five foursomes in all competing from Meadowbrook. Julia Lefler, Nancy Blay, Bette Brady, Mary Ann Coopes, Carol Timmer, Ann Padmos, Barbara Chenot and Shirley Seymour were the other golfers from Meadowbrook competing in the 18-hole best ball tournament.

Other country clubs sending teams to the tournament were Farmington CC; Orchard Lake CC, Pine Lake and Tam O'Shanter of Orchard Lake; Franklin Hills; Birmingham CC and Oakland Hills of Birmingham; Wabeek and Knollwood of West Bloomfield; and Red Run of Royal Oak.

Also competing were Edgewood and Twin Beach of Union Lake; Plum Hollow of Southfield; Stonycraft of Bloomfield Hills; Forest Lake of Bloomfield; Great Oaks of Rochester; and Western Golf & Country Club and Detroit Golf Club of

For Your Family

"Life is God's gift to you, what you do with your life is your gift to God."

Families that are healthy are more apt to have better dispositions and this makes for a closer unit, a happier family. At our office we encourage families to participate in spinal health care. If you or a member of your family is sick, you need chiropractic care.

Most people don't know what chiropractic is for, or don't know its full potential. Chiropractic removes the cause of disease within the body. Organs become sick or diseased because the flow of nerve energy to them is blocked by vertebrae being out of alignment.

The brain makes everything work by supplying it with nerve impulses or energy. If the energy reaches the organ at 100 percent the organ will function at 100 percent or it will be healthy. Organs don't know how to function (they don't have brains of their own), they must receive impulses from the brain. If this flow is decreased to less than 100 percent, the part will function less than healthy or sick. The chiropractor finds and removes this interference to the flow of nerve energy. That's why so many people get well under chiropractic care who otherwise had no hope.

Let chiropractic help you, 40 million people got well last year, join that ever-growing number and be well.

You'll never know if your functioning at 100% unless your spine is checked

You could feel great, but unless your spine is free of nerve strangulation you can't stay that way for long. Nerve strangulation (nerve pressure) must be present first before sickness can exist. Chiropractors find these nerve strangulations in the spine and free them, sometimes you don't even know they exist.

I Wish Someone Had Done This For Me

I found out about the Mashike Chiropractic Center in the yellow pages. I bless the day I did. Every few months my back would go out and I experienced terrible pain so I decided to do something permanent about it.

I had migraine headaches, spent whole weekends in a darkened room in bed, could not even eat, vomited violently, had lower back pain so severe, it felt as though I was plugged into an electrical socket and for both of these types of pain I was dependent on pain killing drugs for relief. I also had leg and foot cramps and my nerves were bad.

They certainly did interfere with my work and my family had to be self-dependent when I went through this terrible pain. I didn't even want to be bothered for anything.

I had what Dr. Mashike called an acute condition, so it took somewhat longer than it may have others. I think I noticed a definite change after three weeks of adjustments.

My headaches are easing up and less frequent, my back pain is almost completely gone. . I had a lump on the back of my neck that is not there anymore. My leg and foot cramps are gone and I an not nervous like I used to be. I am a new woman and feel years younger.

I certainly would recommend chiropractic to others, in fact I already have and they can see the resuls I've had. I wish someone had done this for me years ago. I wouldn't have suffered so much needlessly.

I actually believe Dr. Mashike has performed a miracle on me because I feel great now and believe me that is pretty wonderful to be able to say. The Life Center has one terrific staff, everyone there is efficient, caring, loving and have your best interest at heart. They are special people. and I consider my priviledge and duty to give my testimonial for them. I just hope and pray by giving it, others may benefit and learn.

Problems Gone, Saved Money, No More Excederin

EDITOR'S NOTE

These testimonials do not mean that chiropractic cures or guarantees a cure. They are to prove that, by removing nerve interference, the body heals itself.

we both go to Dr. Mashike and don't have the problems we use to. The medical doctor told me I had arthritis in my hips and shoulders causing pain in my legs and numbness in my hands. Paula was very tense with backaches and terrific headaches. She would take Excederin three or four times a day.

Paula received immediate relief from her headaches and low back. I am now feeling great. Paula said, "I found that relief I felt caused me to relax and my personality improved making me a happier woman, my kids like it too.'

We absolutely recommend chiropractic care. Our entire family goes and we are all healther and have saved money in the process. Chiropractic is one avenue of hope that everyone should try.

LeRoy and Paula Nelson /

I Got Up Tired Everyday

My mother has used chiropractis as a way of maintaining health for many years. So I decided to try it myself because of severe headaches, tension, sinus and numbness of the right leg.

I had no energy and got up, tired everyday. I wasn't sick but never felt good (headache, bodyache and tension).

Dr. Mashike examined my spine and tound the cause of my problem, he told me he could help. After the first aajustment the ıntense headache was gone. It was as if the lights were turned on and the fog lifted.

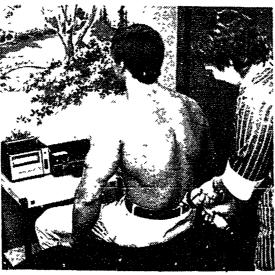

My energy level has greatly improved and my sinus headaches are gone even on' rainy, damp days. A bad fall brought me to Dr. Mashike, now the problem is gone and so are many other problems. I definitely recommend chiropractic to others.

Facilities for corrective care

1. Information is taken after registration.

2. Complete chiropractic spinal examination.

3. X-rays are then ordered by doctor based on examination.

4. Preliminary consulation with doctor.

5. Corrective adjustment.

6. Re-evaluation after adjustment.

7. Dr.'s report with complete outline of condition and schedule. Wednesday at 7:00 p.m.

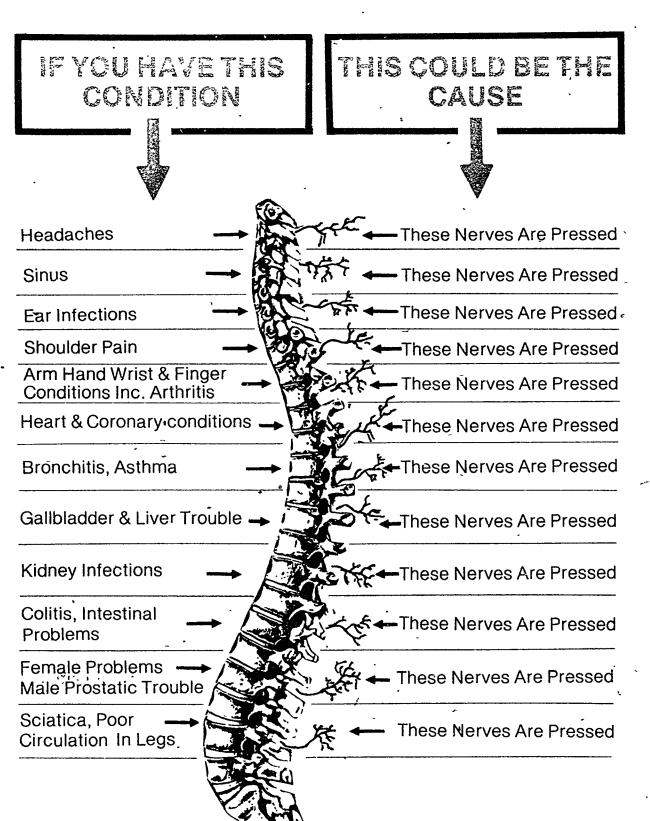

8. Scheduling all appointments as outlined by report.

Intensive care for acute conditions

Patient may receive several adjustments with alternate resting periods in our spinal stabilization ward until it is determined condition will correct. Care may be from 20 minutes to 8 hours depending on necessity at the doctors discretion.

STOP BRING SIGN

Normally all vertebrae in the spine are in alignment or "straight", (see picture at left) this allows nerve impulses to flow through the nerve to whereever they are needed to make that portion of yor body function or "work" normally.

If through a fall, jar or bump these vertebrae are knocked out of alighment (see picture at right) the vertebrae will press on the nerve exiting between it consequently blocking the flow of nerve impulses, resulting in loss of normal function which leads to sickness as mentioned in the chart at left.

Pain in the spine or neck need not be present to have the cause of your problem there. Symptoms are signs or signals, which are the result of a cause. They need not be located in the same area. For instance, pain and swelling in the hands can be caused by pressed nerves in the base of the neck.

Chiropractors correct these mis-alignments thus allowing the body to function normally again.

I your have any of these problems mentioned above in the chart and want the cause corrected, make an appointment now

Chiropractic is growing at a fantastic rate. In only 85 years we have become the number one drugless health care provided in the world. Why?! Because chiropractic delivers results.
