Concerns focus on recreation plans

Land acquisitions and implementation of recreation programs were the main topics of a city-township meeting Thursday.

After several delays, the Northville Community Recreation Commission met last week with members of the township board of trustees, city council and their respective planning commissions at township hall to discuss the recreation master plan.

Recreation Vice-Chairman L.T. Sylvestre, who chaired the meeting, opened it by stating copies of the master plan were delivered to the governing bodies only a few days earlier.

The plan originally was drawn in 1979 and adopted in 1980, Sylvestre said, and the commission has been "sticking with it" since that time.

"However, it is not the Bible or chiseled in stone. It is only a guideline. Unless there are some money changes, it will be the plan for a long time," Sylvestre added.

Township planning commission member Marvin Gans questioned the recreation commission on how imaginative it has been in acquiring new land and added, "What I'm looking for are specifics on how to get the program off the ground."

"Imaginateness is an interesting question Marv. We have been so hand strung because of funds," Sylvestre replied.

The recreation commission should check with the Economic Development Corporation, which had helped with senior housing projects, to get some recreation land along with the facilities, suggested Gans.

Volunteer help was another point raised by Gans, who wanted to know if the recreation commission has approached other people to help donate their time and energy in getting projects started.

"I know there are people out there who have ideas, but how do we get them out of the woodwork?," Sylvestre asked.

Gans responded by saying the recreation commission should go out and ask people, to which Township Board Trustee Richard Allen said, "That's the point we're trying to make."

Park Garden Association member Elizabeth McCarville wanted to know if the recreation commission had approached any neighborhood associations to ask for their help on any projects.

Recreation member John Buckland said there is a need for a community-wide task force to work on land acquisitions.

Township Planning Commission Vice-Chairman William Bohan suggested the recreation commission approach Ford Motor Company about the purchase of Ford Field for a dollar or two since the company is planning to close its valve plant here.

Recreation Director Edward Kritczs said Northville Mayor Paul Vernon and City Manager Steven Walters are talking with Ford about such a deal.

Township Treasurer Richard Henningsen wanted to know if any portion of the master plan program is underway.

"Some portions are done," said Mark Hornung, landscape architect and planner of Grand Lodge.

He said work has been completed at Ford Field and the Fish Hatchery Park, and the commission is working on obtaining land on Baseline and Carpenter and the Beck Road site.

"Some land acquisitions are being monitored in case funds become available," Hornung said.

Henningsen asked if any land was coming from the state and Hornung replied the Beck Road site was placed on a backburner by the state for the past year.

"That's a proposed northern site for a community buffer," Hornung stated.

"We did direct Bill Bingley at our last meeting to reopen the lines of communication to Senator (Robert) Geake (R-Northville) to get it going," Sylvestre added.

Also on the subject of land acquisitions, McCarville wanted to know what block grants were available to the recreation commission.

Kritczs responded that such funds, which were coming from the State Department of Natural Resources, were used for the Fish Hatchery Park project.

However, the commission recently received a letter from the department saying no more funds would be available, thus dashing hopes of installing restrooms, a concession stand and enclosing the building, Kritczs explained.

Because federal and state funds for recreation projects are more difficult to obtain, Bohan suggested the commission speak to land developers to see if

Township to put police millage on ballot again

By KEVIN WILSON

Township ballots November 3 will include a request for increased police millage, but voter approval would not save the department from a lean year in 1982.

Meeting in special session last week Thursday, the board of trustees voted unanimously to place a proposal on the ballot that is both smaller than the one mill issue narrowly defeated in May and could not be collected until a year later.

The amount in question has been altered downward to 0.7 mill (May's ballot asked for a full mill) and would not appear on tax bills until December, 1982.

Officials had hoped to receive increased millage in time for inclusion on 1981 tax bills, used for operations in the 1982-83 fiscal year, but discovered late that new millage must be reported to the county by September 15.

Time constraints prevented that, so the board opted to place its decreased request on the November 3 county home rule charter ballot, hoping to recoup some of the operating costs for the election.

Acting Township Police Chief Kenneth Hardesty, speaking in favor of the proposal, said the department will be reduced to eight patrol officers (from 10) by January. He said another layoff might be needed during 1982 if inflation continues to eat into the department's operations.

"It's going to be a really lean year, but it would help morale if the force knew it would only be for one year," he said, referring to the possibility that passage of the millage increase would allow increased revenues for the 1983-84 fiscal year.

Hardesty said the 0.7 mill increase would allow the force to keep two officers on the road at all times (though not necessarily the two cars pledged during the May campaign).

The police chief was the only member of the audience during the board discussion of the issue. Citizens for Township Police, the group which conducted the May campaign, had been asked to present a petition indicating citizen interest in increased police service, but had not done so.

Supervisor John MacDonald, who earlier said a second millage request was contingent on the indication of interest, altered his stand in consideration of a strained township budget.

"While at one time we talked about citizen support being needed," he said last week, "many times we have to take the leadership role and do what we think is best for the township."

The supervisor also said township operation without increased millage would force cuts in other services, citing the recreation program and library.

"We've cut as far as we can everywhere else," said treasurer Richard Henningsen. "Administratively, I think we've cut more than we can. I think we are working ineffectively — we need at least one more person, as in our last communication (regarding loss of personnel) it appears we may not have enough help to run an election."

"I don't think that's the kind of operation we were put in office to run," Henningsen said. Noting that any new millage would not be collectable for more than a year, he said of the police operation, "it will be a very, very tight year, no doubt about it."

Schoolcraft elects head

BY TIM RICHARD

Schoolcraft College will attempt more "community outreach" with its new president Richard McDowell, who will move here from Pittsburgh perhaps as early as mid-September.

"I think Schoolcraft, in its third decade, needs a shot in the arm, someone fresh — a little more pizzazz, charisma, zip, community outreach," said trustee Rosina Raymond, summing up the board's mood.

McDowell, 45, currently vice president for strategic planning at the Community College of Allegheny County, Pittsburgh, impressed board members with his "knocking on doors" to offer industry a community college's services in training workers and supervisors.

McDowell, whose doctorate is in bionucleonics, was selected over a second semifinalist, Lyle Robertson, academic vice president of Macomb County Community College. Board members rated him extremely close, giving Robertson slightly higher marks for internal planning and dealing with the faculty.

McDowell choice was made last Tuesday after 90 minutes of a closed-door session and 45 minutes of open statements from trustees. Board chairman Harry Greenleaf contacted him by telephone and reported he "has enthusiastically accepted."

The official board vote was 6-0. In a preliminary ballot, trustee Paul Kadish favored Robertson but switched his vote to make the result unanimous.

McDowell succeeds C. Nelson Grote, who resigned to become president of a larger community college system in Spokane, Washington.

McDowell was selected from a field of 43 applicants who were pared down to five quarter-finalists and two semi-finalists with the help of outside consultants, a campus advisory committee and two visitation committees.

The visitation committees gave their entire reports in closed session although Greenleaf's agenda had indicated only "privileged and confidential information" would be received.

The Michigan Open Meetings Act requires such reports to be made publicly unless they contain "material exempt from discussion or disclosure by state and federal statute." The state Freedom of Information Act exempts information of a personal nature about an individual when disclosure would

Health threat widely known, answers few and far between

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles examining sewage disposal problems in Park Gardens subdivision. Last week we presented some examples of what the residents must face, and their impressions of what the authorities term a threat to health. This week we study official explanations of the situation and what is being done to alleviate it.

By KEVIN WILSON

There is near unanimity among officials from the local to state level that the septic and drainage problems of Park Gardens are serious, that they pose a threat to health in the area and that the situation has reached a near critical point.

Among those same officials are many who agree with Susan Norton of the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR) who said "the solutions to this kind of problem are not working, or not working fast enough."

Echoing the statements of the county health department, the county drain commission, the township, and a contractor with the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), Norton said "this is really serious, there are little children living there. We've exhausted all the possibilities (for DNR action). I find this extremely dismaying. Right now, there is no end in sight."

In her last point, Norton would find an argument from some others contacted. Although the Park Gardens health problem has long existed, it is only in the past few years that an active effort has been made toward a solution.

Perhaps one is visible now. But Park Gardens has been disappointed before. In the early to mid-1970s the township tried repeatedly to find solutions.

"We had meetings with Livonia and Plymouth (trying to seal an agreement to connect sewers) on an almost continuous basis," said township water and sewer department head Walter Hollnity. "It all boiled down to technical difficulties or dollars."

Although the system now being planned for installation has long been considered the least cost-effective means of providing sewer service to Park Gardens, after other means were exhausted, the township sought and received federal block grant monies (through the department of housing and urban development) to build it.

Routing sewage from the homes on Marilyn, Maxwell, Fry and Parklane to Five Mile is common to all systems proposed. From there, officials explained, there are three alternatives — east to Haggerty Road and Livonia, south to Plymouth Township or west, uphill, to tap into a county interceptor within the township.

The $1.2 million project now on the drawing boards takes the western route and will consume over $400,000 in federal grants accumulated over the past five years without improving the Park Gardens situation at all. Under current plans, the residents will have to assess themselves over $750,000 to make the system useable.

And in the meantime, water and sewer officials say with a sigh, the cheaper route may open in a few years. The Huron Valley Wastewater Treatment plan, better known as super sewer, would run an interceptor down Haggerty Road — downhill to the east less than one-half mile away from the planned location of a pumping station to send the sewage westward.

But no one is willing to count on super sewer as a solution for Park Gardens anymore. The promise has been in the air for over a decade, and current federal policies threaten the entire program.

Even without super sewer, however, Park Gardens has gained some benefit from the program. A facilities plan being prepared for the township as part of the program provides the most graphic depiction of the problem to date.

The draft report of the facilities plan being done under an EPA grant for the township by Finkbeiner, Pettis and Strout, Ltd. involved a thorough analysis of the Park Gardens area and detailed studies of the human pollution.

Noting the near impermeability of the clay soil in the area and the high water

Colony III residents protest school bus cuts

The Northville Board of Education may make an exception to its recently approved transportation policy in light of protests from parents in Northville Colony III Subdivision.

Approximately 25 persons turned out at Monday's board meeting to voice their complaints about the board's policy change which resulted in the elimination of busing from particular areas which lie within a one and one-half mile distance of the assigned school.

The coalition, calling itself the Concerned Parents in Northville Colony III, presented the board with four petitions — bearing the signatures of 58 families — opposing the elimination of busing for 25 Northville Colony III students to Meads Mill Junior High School.

Spokesperson Joan Brining told the board that "our main concern is the safety of our children."

The group's protests were focused on several conditions which parents believed posed safety hazards for children walking to school.

As one parent told the board, "the issue here is not distance, but safety."

Without sidewalks in the Northville Commons subdivision, students will most likely walk in the streets. The group argued that this could pose a problem during the winter months when roads are snow covered and icy.

Due to a lack of association funds, snow removal has been a continuing problem in Northville Commons. Last year, the Wayne County DPW removed snow only twice, it was noted.

However, greater concern focused on the possibility of students "short cutting" the route to school by walking along Six Mile Road.

When the board approved changes in its transportation policy August 10, Lakes of Northville subdivision was excluded from the reductions due to the safety hazard which could result from students crossing Six Mile Road.

Colony III residents argued that they should be given the same consideration as Lakes of Northville due to the safety hazards of children walking along Six Mile.

On Eight Mile near Haggerty

Bank asks approval at Meijers site

Development of the Meijer's Thrifty Acres property on Eight Mile near Haggerty could begin with construction of a bank in the parking lot of the proposed shopping center by the end of this year, township planners learned last week Tuesday.

Detroit Bank and Trust received conditional approval of a preliminary site plan to locate a bank on an outlot of the proposed development. As the plan includes construction of two driveways to Eight Mile Road which would eventually serve the larger development, the planning commission requested a master plan for the whole parcel as a condition for final approval of the plan.

John Higgins, representing the bank, said the cooperation of Meijer, Inc. is integral to the plans, and said he foresees no difficulty in obtaining the company's master plan for the entire parcel.

Construction of the Meijer's store, he noted, is not imminent yet, as the company is still awaiting a more favorable economic climate. First word that Meijer's had acquired the property came in 1974 when projections held that it would be in place when the nearby freeway (I-275) was completed in 1976.

The bank plan, however, is the first move toward development of the parcel.

Occupying an outlot of the property, the bank, including drive-in windows, would have no independent access to Eight Mile Road. Two stub driveways to what will eventually be a large parking lot would be built to allow access. The area is not yet tied in to water or sewer services, and would rely on a well and septic field. Meijer's is expected to assume some sewer development. Plans for a large interceptor sewer in Haggerty Road, on the books for over a decade, would facilitate the installation.

Township planning consultant Claude Coates noted that, due to curvature of Eight Mile road at the location, setback requirements at one end of the bank are not complied with. Higgins said he hopes to receive a variance on setbacks from the board of appeals and said approval of such a variance, or a revised plan complying with the requirement, would be presented with the final plan.

The Wayne County Road Commission demands construction of a passing lane on the north side of Eight Mile. Without such a lane, the road commission said, left turns into the westerly drive would be prohibited. This conflicts with the bank's apparent plans for drive-thru service, the commission noted.

All planners and consultants noted satisfaction with the amount of room allowed for cars to line up for the windows. Higgins said there would be a two-hour wait for service (a highly unlikely event, he implied) before the line of cars would intrude on any other traffic lanes than those belonging to the bank.

Township engineer Edward McNeely had several concerns regarding storm water drainage — most relating to permission to drain onto adjacent properties. Assured such permission would be shown (from Meijer's) the engineer also recommended an alteration of grading to prevent storm water from entering the backyards of the adjacent subdivision.

Planners approved the preliminary plan on condition that all consultant criticisms be corrected and that the full plan for the parcel be submitted at the time of final site plan review.

Peterson convicted in Swan Harbor death

Jeanette M. Peterson, of 19242 Swan Harbor Drive, was convicted of manslaughter and commission of a felony while in possession of a firearm at the conclusion of a five-day trial before Judge Charles Farmer in Wayne County Circuit Court August 27.

Peterson, 41, originally charged with second degree homicide in the shooting death of boyfriend Yussuf Abdul Karim May 11, faces a sentence of up to 15 years on the conviction. The firearms conviction carries a mandatory two year jail sentence with no possibility of parole.

Trial began Thursday, August 20, and the conviction handed down Thursday, August 27. Sentencing date was set by Judge Farmer for September 24. Peterson was released on $10,000 bond until the sentencing date.

Township detective sergeant Phillip Presnell said the verdict for manslaughter rather than homicide was the decision of the presiding judge — there was no jury.

Presnell said over 30 items of evidence were presented for the prosecution in the trial, including the .22 caliber weapon used.

Peterson turned herself over to township police at the end of the week in which her crime was committed, one day after a warrant for her arrest was issued on the basis of evidence found in a search of her apartment.

Karim, 36, a Detroit scrap dealer, was mistakenly transported to Northville State Hospital when police found him in the parking lot of the apartment complex. He died at the mental institution. No one noticed the bullet wound in the large man until after he had died.

Township police officials said they were satisfied with the verdict, particularly noting the mandatory sentence on the firearms conviction.

In special session Thursday

Council to discuss refuse collection

A special meeting to open bids for the paying of South Main has been moved up to 4:30 p.m. this Thursday in city council chambers. In addition, the council officially will be considering replacing the present practice of having the Department of Public Works collect refuse and giving the contract to a private firm.

City Manager Steven Walters suggested to council a few weeks ago that having private contractors bid for the work could save the city money.

He was asked to investigate further. Thursday night he will recommend that the city advertise for bids to be received by 2 p.m. September 21, reserving the right to accept or reject any or all.

In the proposal the bidder will furnish complete labor, equipment, machinery and provide a disposal site.

If the city finds the bids acceptable,

Walters said, the city then will be terminating three DPW employees when a private contractor is hired.

Terms of the bid proposal include the requirement that the bidder agree if he is successful to offer employment to the terminated employees prior to hiring any other persons during the first six months of the contract.

The city also would require the bidder to purchase its truck with a 25-yard Heil packer for the average of two appraisal prices, mutually approved.

If council approves, the refuse collection contract will be for one year, effective October 1, with provision for extension by mutual agreement of the city and contractor.

The successful bidder would be required to begin operations within 10 days of the awarding of the contract.

When he suggested the possibility of having a private contractor do the work, Walters pointed out that the cost savings to the city would be in the area of fringe benefits, such as insurance and pensions.

Walters also noted that in future years it is certain to be more and more difficult to find landfill places for the city to dump its trash.

The proposed contract specifies that the bidder must be familiar with federal, state and city provisions regarding trash collections.

Alcoholism's NOW topic

Deborah Ruboyanes, a Detroit based social worker and educational consultant to the National Council on Alcoholism, will present a program on "Women and Alcoholism — An Emerging Issue," at the opening meeting of the Western Wayne National Organization for Women September 9.

Included in the program will be a 40-minute film entitled "Opening Pandora's Box."

The program begins at 8:30 p.m. following the business meeting which will begin at 7:30 at Hoover Elementary School's little theatre in Livonia.

Commission sees flaws in condo development

Road layouts in the latest plan for a townhouse-style condominium development proposed on a site north of Six Mile adjacent to the C & O railroad track are satisfactory, township planners said last week Tuesday, but other facets of the final site plan submitted for review led to rejection.

Planners cited inadequate building setbacks where the development abuts the railroad track and Lakes of Northville subdivision and the lack of building elevations and floor plans as reasons for the rejection.

Planning commission approval of a final site plan is the last step before enforcement of township regulations is turned over to the building department.

The inadequacies of the submitted plan mitigated against approval of any sort, vice chairman William Bohan said, because the planning commission would have no later review to insure that its concerns had been answered prior to construction.

Development would occur on both sides of an extension of Bradner from a stub leading out of Lakes of Northville south to Six Mile.

During a pre-preliminary review, planners cited concerns that the figure-8 layout of roads made some units too remote for emergency access and snow removal.

Skipping the preliminary review stage, Bradner Associates submitted its final plan based on the preliminary items — and learned it would have paid to take the extra step.

Jeff Orley, representing the firm, noted some confusion regarding the way the township's zoning ordinance spells out setback requirements and blamed a vague footnote for the non-compliance of the plans.

Orley stated that the layout of the parcel, with all housing units facing internal streets, resulted in confusion regarding the requirement for setbacks along exterior boundaries of the parcel.

Planning consultant Claude Coates scoffed at the complaint, however, noting that other developers had complied with the requirement without citing any confusion.

Bohan said lack of elevation drawings and floor plans alone is sufficient reason for him to reject a site plan. The other difficulties, he noted, virtually mandated rejection.

In a note to the commission, acting police chief Kenneth Hardesty suggested that the extension of Bradner, where it veers nearly 90 degrees south from a stub into Lakes of Northville and connects with Six Mile, creates two Bradner-Six Mile corners on the north side.

With one intersection on the south side, as well, he noted, the layout could cause "location problems" for emergency services. Bradner representatives pledged to seek a name change in the revised plan to be submitted later.

Reservoir's on November 3 ballot

Township voters will be asked to authorize the expenditure of $1.00 for the purchase of a reservoir at Beck and Six Mile on the November 3 ballot also carrying Wayne County's Home Rule Charter issue and a township police millage proposal.

The reservoir, and the three acres of land it sits upon, is not quite the bargain the ballot question might make it appear to be, however, since the township water and sewer department already has expended some $23,000 for the facility.

Michigan townships are not allowed to purchase land without a vote of the people, so in order to acquire the reservoir, which the department contends is needed to supply water to the west side of the community, the township signed a 99-year lease with the city of Plymouth, which included an option to buy for $1.00 at any time during the term.

In fact, except for legal technicalities, the reservoir and its site are virtually township property. Plymouth has deeded the property to the township, but attorney Donald Morgan noted that the deed transfer is not official until the township goes on record as receiving it.

Northville Township does appear as owner of record for the property, and is responsible for insurance costs on the land.

When entering the lease agreement, township officials said it was the only method by which the acquisition could be assured, as the city of Plymouth was in a hurry to dispose of the property and was unwilling to await a township vote. The board of trustees voted unanimously, with two members absent, to place the final purchase on the November ballot. When the proposal was read aloud, Elizabeth McCarville, of the Park Gardens homeowner's association asked "how did you guys manage that one?" when the price of the property was noted. There was no response from the board.

The lease monies were expended from the water and sewer restricted account — a nest egg of nearly $1.5 million designated for acquisition or repair of water and sewer facilities.

City police to issue parking warnings

City residents who have been careless about parking at crosswalks, over sidewalks or in front of driveways will find warnings placed under their windshields for the next few days. Then, if the situation occurring in residential neighborhoods is not cleared up, there will be tickets, city police warn.

The police department reports it has been responding to complaints of residents about the parking, especially that obstructing driveways and over sidewalks.

The warning being used is a copy of the Uniform Traffic Code section 8.10 dealing with stopping, standing and parked vehicles.

The ordinance specifically prohibits parking on sidewalks, in front of a public or private driveway, within an intersection, within 15 feet of a fire hydrant and on a crosswalk.

Police say the offenses are occurring primarily in the residential sections of the city. They now are being instructed to issue warnings.

This section of the traffic code also prohibits parking within 20 feet of a crosswalk, or if none, within 15 feet of the intersection; within 30 feet of any flashing beacon, stop or yield sign or traffic signal at the side of a street; within 50 feet of the nearest rail of a railroad crossing; and within 20 feet of the entrance to a fire station. It's also a violation to park on any bridge or other elevated structure or in front of a theater.

The city police are leaving the copy of this section of the ordinance marked "warning" and dated August 31 on vehicles in violation for the present in the hope, they say, that this will take care of the complaints.

If the warning is not sufficient, tickets will follow.

Jaycees host benefit to help Jerry's kids

Labor Day weekend and the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy telethon are pretty synonymous terms.

And with Labor Day weekend here, so too is another Jerry Lewis telethon.

As part of the last big weekend of summer, the Northville Jaycees have scheduled a host of activities to help raise money for Jerry's kids in the effort to fight muscular dystrophy.

The Jaycees will be conducting various events at the First United Methodist Church of Northville, 777 West Eight Mile, from noon until five Friday and Saturday and from 1-5 p.m. Sunday.

According to Jaycees President Bruce Hackman and Chairman Ali Sheena, the group is hoping to raise about $3,000 this weekend.

Some of the events scheduled are a dunk tank, an opportunity for someone to smash one of five cars, a bottle collection, a car wash, and three bands will be playing.

Also WJBK-TV's (Channel two) Robbie Timmons and WDIV-TV's (Channel four) Jim Brandstatter will be at the event sometime Saturday to greet the crowd.

The Jaycees have asked the city and township police and fire departments, the city mayor and township supervisor, the state police, the Cooke, Meads Mill and high school principals, the recreation department and the Plymouth Jaycees to take a swim in the dunk tank.

One of the autos at the car smash will be a 1976 Lincoln Continental.

For the bottle collection, five vans of pickup trucks will be roaming the city and township honking their horns to signify to people they are looking for bottle donations. Sheena said each truck and person will have the proper identification.

Both the Bad Axe and Jean Harlow Bands will be playing Sunday while New Image will play Monday.

The Cooke Junior High ninth grade cheerleaders will be conducting a car wash at the Auto Service, Eight Mile and Taft, Sunday and Monday from noon until 5 p.m.

Also, there will be plenty of food and drinks for people to enjoy at the event and both Hackmann and Sheena are looking forward to an excellent turnout this weekend.

Sheena, who also owns the Northville Party Shoppe, is donating many items for the event, Hackmann said.

Northville's giant jigsaw

It's beginning to look different. The renovation of downtown Northville is moving right along. Despite the inconveniences of closed streets, torn up sidewalks and the like, it should be well worth the trouble.

One of the more fascinating aspects of the job was laying the new sidewalk. Like a giant jigsaw puzzle, bricks had to be cut and laid by hand to fit the spaces.

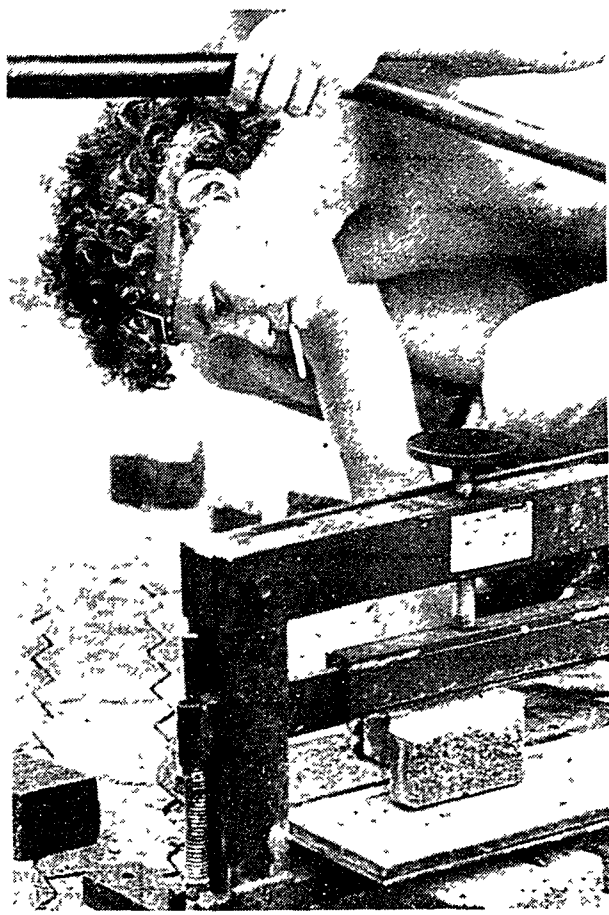

An estimated 80,000 bricks will be used when finished. According to supervisor Roger Benz, the job is about half done.

Four inches of crushed stone with one or two inches of sand are used under the brick. After laying it out, sand is compacted between them, sweeping afterward.

And who said jigsaw puzzles were just for kids?

Missionaries will be church guests

The Reverend and Mrs. Howard Hawkes, Assemblies of God missionaries to Bangladesh, will be guest speakers at 11 a.m. Sunday at Christian Community Church.

The Reverend and Mrs. Hawkes were appointed as missionaries to Bangladesh in 1946 and since that time have pioneered churches in Khulna, Dacca and Chittagong.

Before the war, Reverend Hawkes served as Director of International Correspondence Institute (ICI) program in Bangladesh.

Following that, the couple supervised a massive relief program which included supplying food to starving mothers and children and providing medical relief to refugees.

At Sunday's service, Reverend Hawkes will discuss the revival and Pentecostal outpouring in Bangladesh today.

The public is welcome to attend.

McDowell named president at Schoolcraft College

amount to an invasion of the individual's privacy.

The visitation team to Robertson's Macomb campus consisted of vice chairperson Nancie Blatt; trustee Michael Burley; David Heinzman, director of college relations and Shirley Lepler, an alumni representative who now works in the college's student activities office.

Visiting McDowell's Allegheny campus were Greenleaf; Mrs. Raymond; Kadish; Agnes Johnson, personal technician; and Sylvia Vukmirovich, a counselor.

Burley, a Northville School District administrator, rated McDowell and Robertson equally on facilities planning, instruction, negotiations and working with faculty. He rated Robertson ahead on institutional planning and knowledge of Michigan's political process.

Burley rated McDowell higher on community involvement, knowledge of budgeting, political experience, public relations and marketing.

Mrs. Raymond, a college instructor and political activist, said McDowell's "open door impressed me. He is good at delegating and gives people freedom to act."

"When program proposals were denied, reasons were always given and documentation."

She quoted Allegheny faculty as saying, "He treats us with respect. He listens. He leads. He isn't Hitlerish."

Mrs. Raymond added, "He's very outreach" — citing his work establishing nighttime "brown bag" courses for workers, his membership in Rotary, his board membership in a chamber of commerce and his contacts which led to a $100,000 gift to his college.

She quoted two McDowellisms: — "Don't fix it unless it's broken" and "I don't have to have the credit, just so it gets done."

Kadish, a Livonia insurance agency president, said of McDowell, "Everyone was enamored of him. I wanted to find out (in the campus visit) if he was for real. He's for real."

Kadish gave an edge to Robertson, however, because "the problem at Schoolcraft College is faculty and employee groups in relation to the administration. We've had strikes. I liked Dr. Robertson's lowkey personality. He's best equipped to handle this problem."

Mrs. Blatt, a former teacher who works in an oxygen supply firm, said "either could do a good job. You almost have to go back to instincts. Dr. Robertson might deal a little bit better with internal problems."

"But I see Dr. McDowell as having one added characteristic — charisma, freshness. I see the outreach into the community — the way he sells himself can be translated into selling this college."

Wozniak computer products salesman, less than a minute: "There is no difference. One is able to get a community."

Greenleaf personnel manager at Ford, echoed Blatt that the decision "is down instinctive level." He called McDowell "human, not haughty, not arrogant. Dick likes to achieve and did 90 percent of the time."

"Do we need internal individual? Both can do but who can present the college elly?"

McDowell married, has three daughters and is concerned about relocating and enrolling them in schools.

He has been in his present post since 1980 and from 1972-80 was vice president and executive dean of the Boyce campus at Allegheny. In 1971-72 he was academic dean and acting president of the Community College of Beaver County.

McDowell taught biology in a Pennsylvania high school from 1960-67 and joined the Allegheny faculty in 1969. He served in the U.S. Marines from 1954-56.

He has four college degrees; a bachelor of science in biology and a master of education in biology from Indiana University of Pennsylvania; a master of science in biology and a Ph.D. in bionucleonics from Purdue University.

Community outreach will be his major goal

Where newly hired President Richard McDowell wants to take Schoolcraft College is exactly where the community college trustees want it to go.

"My major goals will be community outreach, developing specific courses for business and industry," he said. He wants to offer more job market-tailored courses.

McDowell, who turned 45 last week, said he plans to do those things "by going out and marketing the college's programs, by asking business and industry what they need (and) by talking with people who are going through some recessionary times of unemployment and layoff."

In a telephone interview, he called Schoolcraft "already good internally. And I think in order to make us great, we have to be able to better relate to the community and have the people relate to the college. And of course, the more you get people involved in programs, short term or whatever, the more they relate to the college."

"I'm pleased with the whole operation," summed up McDowell. "I think there's several things we need to do and I'll be sharing those with the faculty in a meeting when I arrive."

"I think we do an awfully good job there in preparing people for their life's work. They do a super job in the classroom, they do a good job in counseling, and they're starting to do a good job in community outreach."

McDowell said he has had discussions with Harry Greenleaf, chairman of the college board, about when McDowell expects to start work.

"We really haven't firmed that up," said McDowell, who served two years in the marine corps in the mid '50s. "I explained to Greenleaf some things I still have to do here and he of course is quite anxious for me to begin work. I expect it'll be sometime around mid-September."

McDowell and his wife of 20 years, Ann, have three daughters — Sue, 19, Kathy, 16, and Karen, 11. McDowell said he wants to find "temporary housing until we can sell our house down here" so the younger children can enter school.

A recent national real estate price survey showed the Pittsburgh area had the most reasonably priced housing in the country. McDowell noted that "Detroit wasn't that far behind it. My wife and I have been there and looked at housing, and it's really not that much different, which surprised us."

McDowell said he has planned for years to become a community college president.

"I began to prepare myself with a variety of experiences to one day be the president, and I am pleased that the goal is now being fulfilled," McDowell said.

Asked if he had planned to become a college president at 45, McDowell said, "I really didn't have a specific (age) goal because I've always enjoyed every job that I had. Yet I knew at some point I would go to the next level and I always have."

"I think 45 is a good age to become a president."

The Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees approved a tentative contract for McDowell last Wednesday.

Included in the tentative agreement is the use of a new car, $5,000 in moving expenses and a $56,000 a year salary.

Also included in the tentative contract is the college's first written residency requirement for its president.

McDowell, who must pass a physical exam for the contract to take effect, hasn't yet agreed to contract provisions approved by the board last Wednesday night.

Trustees quickly allowed McDowell all medical insurance and holidays generally available to college administrators, but balked at how much life insurance and temporary living expenses should be provided to the incoming president.

Most top administrators receive a $50,000 life insurance policy as a fringe benefit, administrators told the board. Trustees also were told last night that McDowell had asked for that as a minimum.

But it's cost Schoolcraft some $19,000 for the search that ended in McDowell's hiring, and administrators asked that an added insurance amount be tagged on the policy in case McDowell dies before his two-year, nine-month contract expires June 30, 1984.

There followed a series of discussions among board members over how much added life insurance to buy, what kind of insurance to get and whether it should be available to McDowell as a benefit in some future year of employment.

Trustees finally agreed to provide a $50,000 policy to McDowell and to take out an additional three to five year, $50,000 term policy which would revert to McDowell's name at the end of its initially contracted life.

Police officers sponsor ox roast

The Wayne County Police Lieutenants, Sergeants and Corporals Association is conducting its 20th Annual Ox-Roast from noon until 7 p.m. Thursday, September 10 at the Wayne County Sportsman Club on Inkster Road between Shelby and Pennsylvania in Huron Township.

Tickets can be purchased from the Northville Police Command Officers Association at the city police department for $12.50 each prior to September 10.

The menu includes prime beef, kielbasa and sauerkraut, steamed clams and oysters, sweet corn and all the beer and pop one can drink.

Proceeds from the event, which is the only fund-raising effort staged by the police group, are used for financing several projects and outings for the handicapped and underprivileged youngsters throughout Wayne County.

Police Blotter

Bullet-ridden auto found in pond

Township police are investigating to discover how a bullet-ridden automobile came to be in Waterford Pond between the dam and C & O railroad tracks last Friday.

According to police reports, a Chessie System train engineer spotted the car with its front bumper under two-to-three inches of water and standing nearly vertically. The engineer reported the car to C & O security forces, which called in the township police.

Upon investigation, the car was found to be a 1977 Chrysler Newport with six holes in it police believe were caused by bullets fired from a .357 caliber or 9 millimeter weapon. Three holes were found in the trunk lid near the lock, two in the right rear fender and one in chrome molding surrounding the left rear window.

There were no occupants, nor was there any evidence of tampering with the locks or ignition switch. Police opened the trunk with an ax, and found only a spare tire within.

Ownership was traced to a Dearborn man, who told police the car had been missing from his home since 7:30 p.m.

the previous day. Police reports state the man was in possession of the keys to the vehicle, and had no response when told there was no evidence of tampering with the ignition.

Acting police chief Kenneth Hardesty said the investigation is continuing and police have a suspect.

More than $800 worth of valuables was reported stolen from a Ridge Road residence August 26, township police said.

The owner told police the items were stolen from his bedroom. Missing were a wine bottle containing roughly $100 in U.S. coins, a 1964 class ring valued at $200 and a man's ring containing seven diamonds worth $500.

An automobile and mailboxes were damaged to the tune of $725 during a theft of $35 worth of music tapes from an automobile Saturday, township police said.

Unknown persons broke two mailboxes on Old Bedford and used them to break out all the windows of a brown 1980 Chevrolet Citation — from which seven cassette tapes valued at $35 were stolen.

No residents in the area reported hearing or seeing anything untoward.

Four separate incidents of tire slashing were reported on Ludlow Court Saturday.

Township police responded separately to each incident as residents discovered the tire slashings, believed to have occurred overnight.

Damaged were one K-mart tire valued at $50 at one residence, two General radial tires ($225) mounted on a Cadillac and one Firestone radial ($75) on a Chevette at another home, and one $100 Goodyear and one $80 General tire at the two other residences.

None of the victims reporting seeing anything out of the ordinary overnight. Some told police a vehicle with a loud muffler was heard during the night, but none had seen it.

A front door window was broken at a Silver Spring business during the evening of August 27, township police report.

A passer-by reported the broken window to police, and said he observed a green pick-up truck leaving the scene just as he drove past.

Value of the smoked, shatterproof safety glass window was placed at $300.

Township police responded to four calls regarding escapees of the state hospital in the past week. None was charged with any crime; all were returned to the hospital.

A six string electric guitar, valued at $800, was stolen from an East Main Street business sometime August 19, city police report.

The owner said unknown persons may have entered the store with an empty case when it was busy and taken the guitar out in the case, police said.

Damage of $150 to a 1981 Toyota occurred on Griswold north of Butler sometime August 24, city police said.

The owner said she was driving north on Griswold by Butler when an unknown object hit her car on the right door, causing a scratch and dent, police said.

Future recreation plans discussed

"I would be willing to reduce the size of their lots in exchange for some recreational land at the site. The planning commission finds this initially attractive and so do most of the developers," Bohan said. Hornung advised the city council and township board to update their charters to include a provision for acquiring public land. He said, should include land policy for the acquisition, protection and development for the present and future recreational needs of the community. "Where we see a need is for more facilities for longer periods," Hornung said. "It's not if you have it, but a question of how long you have it for."

Another suggestion was for more use of the school buildings to conduct certain programs.

"When I was a kid," McCarville said, "the Livonia Parks and Recreation had things like art and crafts and ping pong as part of the school. My parents paid (for them) through their tax dollars."

"Is there any action in this area?" she asked.

"What it comes down to is the attitudes and goals of the school board," Hornung replied.

"All of our programs were asked to be made self-supporting," Krietz added.

Township Board Trustee Thomas L.P. Cook argued there needs to be a more active-type program that avoids jamming everything into one building.

"There is a need to coordinate with other facilities to serve the recreation needs," Hornung said.

Another point made by Henningsen concerned the township's payment of funds to the recreation project. He said the schedule goes contrary to what the township can handle.

However, Henningsen said the matter will be discussed at a September 17 meeting between the township board of trustees, city council and the recreation commission.

A concern of Township Planning Commission Chairman Kenneth McLarty was the adoption of the master plan without the approval of either government.

He thought the commission assumed a lot of authority in adopting the master plan without any consent.

Krietz pointed out that the recreation commission was organized by the city and township as an advisory and administrative body and was given the task of developing a master plan.

Therefore, when the plan was completed it was put before the commission and adopted, he said.

And it was money which caused the delay in printing the master until now.

"Perhaps if we had the dollars we wouldn't have had to have this meeting tonight," Sylvestre said. "I had to beg the (Northville) Kiwanis Club to help us print this plan."

If it were not for the efforts of Joyce Banks, of the Plymouth-Canton Schools, and the Northville Kiwanis Club, Sylvestre said the plan would not have been printed.

The trouble in putting the meeting together, aside from obtaining money to print the 1980 master plan, was a mutually-convenient date for all parties involved. The township planning commission has been trying for four months to set a definite date.

An August 19 meeting date was thought to have been the answer, but it had to be switched to last week Thursday in order to avoid the vacation schedule of recreation planner Hornung.

However, that date was not convenient for Recreation Chairman William Bingley, whose daughter's wedding rehearsal was scheduled that night, and for recreation member David Llewellyn, who was on vacation.

Our opinions

Park Gardens kids Matt Basse and Hayley Meiks start school soon

Park Gardens deserves better

"The people have lost faith in government" is nearing cliché status in modern America, and the situation in the area known as Park Gardens is a near perfect example of the reasons why.

Ineptitude, ignorance and an excess of red tape all play a part in describing why the septic and drainage problems of the subdivision have been allowed to continue until they pose a threat to the public health and a constant worry to parents of young children.

It is not our intention to fix blame here — culpability is widespread and ranges from township hall to various branches of county government and, to some extent, to the state and federal level. Even this newspaper deserves some criticism, for failing to pointedly draw attention to the situation for so long a period.

In this instance, fingerpointing is epidemic, as each branch of government, each individual, claims he would have solved the problem long ago, but the other guy, or "technicalities," fouled it up. What is clear is that the residents of the subdivision are suffering for the failure of any system to respond.

More to the point, however, Park Gardens is being asked to pay for the failures of those who were supposed to be minding the store. What is being asked is that the homeowners assume costs that rightfully should be paid by others who stand to benefit — including the entire township and future developments.

This is not only unfair, but it jeopardizes the entire project. Federal money targeted to aid the people is being used to serve other interests, while the residents are told they may have sewer service if they assume a much larger proportion of the cost than is proper. The area designated as low-income in order to obtain the grants is being told it must help itself while others share in the bounty. At best this is gross hypocrisy; at worst it is greed.

Faced with the massive costs of the project, fearful Park Gardens homeowners may figure it is better to have a home with problems than to be forced to sell. In which case the township would still have a system useable for nearby developments while the subdivision would await the day some court or agency forces the sewer system on it.

We believe Park Gardens residents have waited long enough. The money obtained from federal grants was received to serve their need, and theirs alone. The water and sewer restricted fund, created to expand township facilities, can afford a few hundred thousand dollars to fund some part of the outlet system, freeing the grant monies to go where they belong. Interest on the account would pay back the expense swiftly. Future developments may be billed to recoup some of the cost.

We do not suggest that Park Gardens sewers be installed free of charge. Only that an area designated as needy receive the aid meant for it. Certainly other areas of the township have assumed their full burden. But the township should not hold the double standard of accepting federal dollars because the area is needy, while refusing township dollars on the basis each individual must pay his own way.

With the reductions in federal and state aid, people are expected to turn more to local government. That is what the powers in Washington and Lansing keep telling us — that cuts in federal dollars mean cuts in federal meddling, and a return to local control.

If that is the case, and we believe it is, then the test for Northville Township is Park Gardens. Can local government address citizens' needs responsibly, without favoritism and with courage and the will to take some risk? We believe it can, and we believe the township has the assets and power to do so. All it lacks to this point is the will.

That the present administration has at last put the grant monies to use is commendable, but it is not enough. Extensive and expensive township planning documents were possible only through participation in the block grant program, and qualification was through Park Gardens. The project has been virtually cost-free, with the township collecting an administration fee at each stage. Tax assessments will increase with installation of sewers, as will the potential for other development.

Allowing the Park Gardens situation to continue gives a shortsighted black eye to the community. It is past time the township, and its citizens, recognize this and resolve to meet the problem vigorously, with every asset available. Anything less would be a failure to live up to responsibilities inherent in government, community and humanity.

Speaking of... curriculum

By Michele McElmurry

For the past two days, Northville High School students have been huddled together in the cafeteria with pencils in hand and noses in course outline booklets deciding their curriculum for the upcoming year.

For many students, registration can be a grueling, discouraging and an all together horrifying experience. In other words, it's a rotten way to start the school year.

I have considerable sympathy for the distraught students who after being "bumped" from the only required course they'll need all year — are left to choose between Genius Calculus or Beginning Swahili. While at Michigan State, I virtually "camped" out at the IM Building for the first week of every term trying to put together some kind of schedule. At MSU, the registration arena was affectionately known as "the pit" — it was a place where glassy-eyed students wandered around trying to pick-up a four-credit humanities class which met first hour and wasn't six miles from their dorm. The chances of finding such a course were slim and none.

Though registration is not quite as awesome at NHS, it nevertheless is one of the most important responsibilities students will face in their high school careers.

It's nice to know that, after nine years of spelling, fractions and the "landing of the Mayflower," administrators have decided you are finally ready to chart your own course.

However, a word of warning needs to be issued to the high school student who believes that constructing his or her own schedule means discarding World History for Macrame I — because the latter is an easy 4.0.

In the past few years, society has branded public education as the principal culprit in the dilemma of "why Johnny can't read or write."

Many argue that schools are flunking in the education of young people and that today's high school graduates know considerably less than their predecessors.

However, though many of the criticisms bear some truths, the problem with why Johnny can't write may be found in the fact that he doesn't want to — or for that matter — doesn't believe he has to.

In other words, Johnny has been misguided. He's been hit by a barrage of elective courses such as "Advanced Yoga" and "Caring for house plants" and has chosen many of these courses over the more traditional Algebra, English and History.

Last week, I picked up a master schedule at the Northville High School main office. After glancing over the 130-some courses, the only question I had was "where can I sign up?"

The list of classes seems endless and runs the gamut from Data Processing and Introduction to Marketing to Nobel Prizes and Medieval History.

One would think that with such a choice selection of courses, students should be getting more than just a well-rounded education. However, for the incoming high school student choosing classes often takes a back seat to other more important concerns such as buying a class ring, memorizing locker combinations and getting a driver's license.

Many students shy away from taking classes with titles they can't pronounce because of the horror stories they hear from those who have suffered through such courses. Students obsessed with keeping a high grade point average often times will take the class which guarantees them a good grade rather than risk getting a "B" in a tougher, more challenging course.

The responsibility of keeping students on the right track has been more or less left to the high school counselor. However, counselors often have difficulty convincing students that they're taking them out of "Basket Weaving" and enlisting them in Humanities because it's for their own good.

As one who suffered through more than her fair share of harsh punishment in high school, let me give a word of advice to high school students — the course you dread the most will undoubtedly be the most beneficial in the long run.

I spent many of my high school hours pleading with my counselor to "give me a break." Every semester he would convince me to fill my schedule with courses such as Advanced Chemistry, Modern European History and Russian Literature. And every semester I would try to drop one of these "impossible" courses for something easier like Personal Health or Badminton.

Needless to say, I was never granted the privilege of taking one of the so called "fun" classes. My counselor, who at the time was about as sympathetic as Attila the Hun, would veto my requests for anything less than five classes by saying "you'll thank me in the end."

While my friends cruised to McDonald's on the fourth-hour study hall, I was stuck in economics watching taped episodes of Wall Street Week and listening to Lou Rukeyser and his panel of experts banter back and forth about the market.

I was certain that I would never survive high school and thus branded myself a teenage martyr.

I fretted about going through life looking like Quasimodo because I had to haul a five-pound Western Civ book to and from school each day. I thought I'd die of fatigue typing essays on Kafka into the wee hours of the morning.

However, looking back now, I am more than grateful for the advice that Attila the Hun dished out.

When I entered Michigan State, I was better prepared than many of my classmates. I was able to construct a decent thesis, write a somewhat intelligent essay and didn't break out in a cold sweat over my first "blue book" exam.

For Northville High School students planning a schedule, perhaps the best advice can be taken from former NHS graduates.

The results of a graduate follow-up survey, conducted by the Northville Public Schools last year, showed that courses which students in the Class of '79 regarded as most helpful were Advanced Composition, Humanities and Advanced Biology. Courses which '79 graduates thought "should be required" included Advanced Composition, Humanities, Mathematics and English.

The students responding to the survey included those in college and those who were working both full-time and part-time. Many of those graduates who went into the work force right out of high school thought that courses such as Chemistry, Advanced Physics and Computer would have "better prepared" them for what they are doing now.

Shakespeare, Locke and the Renaissance are not only for the college-bound, the intellectuals or the geniuses. They are for everyone — and parents, teachers, and counselors should make sure no student is deprived of the wealth of learning which is there for the taking.

The students who graduate from high school not knowing the difference between Antioch and Antietam or thinking Euripides is a social disease and Robelais is a new way to spell "relief" certainly have missed the opportunity offered them.

For the discouraged NHS student who has just been dropped from a sixth hour "Recreation" class, don't fret — there's a great Economics class offered at the same time or what about Modern American Literature or Advanced Biology, maybe Nobel Prizes or ....

Jack Hoffman's Column

Observations:

ALTHOUGH the photography of Voyager II was fantastic, what impressed me most was that the satellite confirmed those old drawings we saw as kids. The same ringed planet, in all its splendor, was fairly accurately portrayed by comic book artists decades ago — long before humans of Earth began probing the skies with close-up satellites.

NOW THAT the cost of gold and silver has plummeted from its pinnacle prices, the precious metals sales law is set to go into effect next week. The new law, aimed at putting a damper on burglaries spurred by last year's sky-rocketing prices, proves an old adage, "Better late than never."

THE BUILDING boom has subsided but its housing production still staggers the imagination. Take a drive in Novi, from 10 Mile to Eight Mile, east of Novi Road, and try to imagine the cornfields, pastures, and orchards that dominated the landscape just a few years ago. The late Art Heslip, last dairy farmer in that area, would have bet his last cow it couldn't happen.

ALL LIVING THINGS must go sooner or later. So it shouldn't have come as shock upon discovering that the aged tree — focal point in the book, "Northville...The First Hundred Years" — apparently is dead. Not a shock, perhaps, but nevertheless a surprise. The gnarled black maple in Novi had been a sentinel here for nearly 270 years — the oldest living thing of our area.

PEOPLE have insisted I cannot write, and I've written a thousand columns to prove it.

A FRIEND of Ray Casterline was barely concerned when told recently that his children had scarlet fever. The doctor expected them to be healthy within a week, the disease being no more serious, apparently, than chicken pox. But, for me, the mere mention of scarlet fever is still frightening. As a youngster, it meant a month in bed...or worse. While I was recuperating, a sister and a brother died of the disease.

Readers Speak

School busing, programs, pay are writers' concerns

To the Editor:
Congratulations are in order to the school board, the Citizen's Advisory Committee and the citizens of Northville for passing the three year seven mill renewal which was clearly necessary in the short term to maintain a quality Northville school system.

The renewal, however, should prove to be a first step in a long term program to guarantee the viability of a quality system while operating the system with fiscal integrity.

The reasons the renewal was absolutely necessary are explained by the nature of the two major cost areas in the school budget which could not be reduced in the short term without severely jeopardizing quality education.

The costs related essentially to 1) the operating cost and debt service of the system's schools, and 2) personnel cost of administrators and teachers.

The school board now had three years in which to develop and implement a long range plan to loosen the straight jacket they were operating within in attempting to reduce the school budget for the upcoming fiscal year.

Overcapacity of the School System
It will require a great deal of courage to close schools in Northville, but it is obvious that closing at least one school is necessary in the next two years. The new schools built in the mid-1970's were required to meet anticipated increases in enrollment, and not for the decrease that has materialized. It is difficult to be critical of the planning in the mid-1970's that resulted in the "under-crowding" of our schools in the early 1980's — no one could have anticipated the catastrophic economic events which depressed the housing industry, or the reduced family size of new home owners in the township. We can be critical, however, if prudent actions are not taken in the long term to reduce our excess school capacity and the cost to operate and support these schools.

A school closing is an extremely emotional issue because some students will not enjoy the present level of commuting convenience. The management challenge for the school board and superintendent is to 1) make the difficult decision to close a school or schools, and 2) work aggressively to sell off the vacant facilities or lease part of the space to produce some revenue to offset maintenance costs.

Salaries
It was not reasonable or practical to request teachers or administrators to accept a pay reduction from the levels included in present contracts to reduce cost in the 1981-82 fiscal year.

Present wage levels result to a great extent from the economic conditions which existed in the area prior to 1979. The area was enjoying an economic boom and family incomes and savings from increasing at a faster rate than inflation — particularly if escalating home values are included.

This boom condition has changed dramatically. This was one of the fundamental reasons the initial millage renewal was rejected and should not be forgotten when new contracts are being negotiated for Northville teachers and administrators. The citizens of Northville voted in a responsible manner to approve a school millage which will maintain the quality of education in the township in spite of the poor economic climate. It is now incumbent on the teachers and administrators to demonstrate good faith in moderating future wage requests.

It is now critical that the school board use the next three years to correct the long term overcapacity of the school system, and the teachers and administrators demonstrate responsiveness to the adverse economic conditions affecting the (community) in future wage requests. If this is accomplished, there will be an opportunity to further reduce future millage requirements.

money than anyone else. As a woman on the Citizens Committee told me in June, "you made that choice when you left college." I made the choice to be poor by becoming a teacher, her husband made the choice to be prosperous by becoming something else — anything — else.

I, as a teacher, do not accept you or that woman's consigning me or my colleagues to the role of pauper. Teachers have families even as you normal mortals do. These families wear out shoes, bicycles and refrigerators full of food at the same rate as do the families of non-teachers. I want as much money as I can make for the same reason as the rest of you. What I do in the classroom determines whether I am a professional or not — not what I do at the negotiating table.

Your teacher-baiting was especially disappointing because I had heard it all before at the citizens committee this summer. People young enough to be my children who make twice what I do were enraged that teachers should continue getting cost-of-living when they had had their bonuses — not salaries — cut. They demand that teachers, many of whom can't even afford to live in this town, subsidize taxpayers whose homes are worth three times what mine is worth.

I urge you to consider changing your editorial attitudes, to include teachers as part of this community. I know it is popular with many taxpayer-revolt hawks to attack every public institution these days. But we need to be a community. We need to work things out together in this town.

Teachers will be reasonable if they are dealt with reasonably. But you cannot convince them to be reasonable or moderate in their demands by abusing them, by setting up a war between taxpayers and teachers, by assaulting them a whole year ahead with intemperate demands.

The Record should not fish in these troubled waters any more.

To the Editor:

Congratulations! You have just earned a B.S. in ignorance. I speak for hundreds of professionals who once again find themselves maligned by the press. I, for one, can no longer stand silently by while the public is fed uneducated opinions such as the one you printed last week (August 12) concerning the teachers' "misuse of public funds." It's time the public was given some insight into realities of teaching. It's time to look into our public school system beyond the teacher's desk to find out where our (yes, our) because teachers pay taxes, too) tax dollars disappear.

As an educator of seven years who has spent five years in the secondary public school systems of both Ohio and Michigan and who has volunteered personal services to preschool and primary educators, I feel it is time for a personal catharsis.

I am tired of hearing how teachers should remain after hours to sponsor clubs and/or activities out of the spirit of benevolence of their profession. How many other professionals willingly put in unpaid "casual time" and then go home to care for families or off to universities to take classes to increase their qualifications or to update themselves for their job?

Teacher training does not end with a B.S. degree. Many of us continue our education years after graduation in order to earn the master's degree. Many of us simply go to improve ourselves or because of state requirements. For all of those "replacements waiting in line for every position available" ask the personnel people for our schools how many of them they would consider hiring. The public cries for "quality" education (myself included...I have children in the Northville system) not simply a body behind each desk. I do not deny the lack of jobs, but any employer will attest that few of those who apply for a position are qualified to be good at it even if their resume suggests that they may be educationally prepared.

With the present salary schedule, many of us find the financial burden of further education too great to be able to afford a master's degree. Also the intense type of work that a teacher does ranks the profession among the top in degree of stress. Teacher "burn-out" is a reality. For this reason many dedicated professionals are forced to leave a field they love for health reasons long before they reach your touted $30,000. Why don't you print the starting salary? And why don't you get some statistics to find out how many of us ever reach the $30,000 plateau? Most of us do not "vacation all summer, at Christmas, Easter and between semesters" because we are either going to school ourselves, catching up on paper grading or working part time to make ends meet on salaries well under $20,000.

Furthermore, I'm sick of hearing about 180 work days. I work 186; but try counting hours of work not school days and you will come up with a totally different set of statistics. I do not know one teacher who does not devote evenings and weekends to lesson plans and paper grading. In addition, the class loads of 30 to 40 students and mountains of paper work required by the school system put a tremendous time burden on a teacher.

When will you wake up and realize you should applaud the devotion of the individual who raises your children for you during the majority of their childhood and adolescence? Teaching is much more than talking and grading papers. It's caring, giving, loving, disciplining and persevering. It's shaping and forming the character of all our youth. There would be few doctors, lawyers, engineers or journalists if it were not for the dedication of many excellent educators who have worked for years to achieve a salary they could live on and the right to provide input into the conditions under which they work.

The old image of a teacher as a public servant desperately needs to be buried, along with the whipping stick and the one room classroom. It's time to realize that the future of our town, our state, our country depends on the people who reach out to our children in the classroom.

TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDINANCE NO. 47, '81

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ZONING ORDINANCE BY AMENDING THE TEXT THEREOF. THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:

PART I. The Township of Northville Zoning Ordinance No. 47 is hereby amended by amending Article XIV by the addition of a new section to be known as Section 14.30 and to read as follows: SECTION 14.30 — FLOOD PLAIN CONTROL

1. Certain words utilized in the provisions of this Section shall be defined and mean:

(a) "Area of Special Flood Hazard" means the land in the flood plain within a community subject to a one percent (1%) or greater chance of flooding in any given year.

(b) "Base Flood" means the flood having a one percent (1%) chance of being equalled or exceeded in any given year. For purposes of this ordinance, this shall also be considered as the "100 year flood."

(c) "Development" means any man-made change to improved or unimproved real estate including, but not limited to, building or other structures, mining, dredging, filling, grading, paving, mobile home placement, excavation or drilling operations located within the areas of special flood hazard.

(d) "Flood Insurance Rate Map" means the official map on which the Federal Insurance Administration has delineated both the areas of special flood hazards and the risk premium zones applicable to the community.

(e) "Flood Insurance Study" means the official report provided by Federal Insurance Administration that includes flood profiles, the flood boundary floodway map, and the water surface elevation of the base flood.

(f) "Variance," as used in this Section 14.30, means a grant of relief from the requirements of this ordinance which permits construction in a manner that would otherwise be prohibited by this ordinance. Such variance need not meet the usual tests for a variance as set forth in Section 17.4, paragraph 4.

2. The areas of special flood hazard within Northville Township have been identified by the Federal Insurance Administration in a scientific and engineering report. Those areas so designated have been mapped on the Flood Insurance Rate Map and said map is hereby superimposed on the official zoning district map so as to delineate the special flood hazard areas as they relate to each district concerned. The flood insurance study dated March 16, 1981 and maps dated September 16, 1981 are on file at the office of the Township Clerk.

3. Where, due to the scale or lack of detail of the Flood Insurance Rate Map, there is any uncertainty, contradiction, or conflict as to the intended location of any flood area boundaries shown thereon, interpretation concerning the location of said boundary lines shall be determined by the Township Engineer after referral from the Building Inspector or Planning Commission as follows:

(a) When compliance with this ordinance requires site plan review by the Planning Commission, a determination shall be made by the Township Engineer, as to whether or not the development proposed is affected by the provisions of this Section.

(b) In those instances where site plan review by the Planning Commission is not required, the Building Inspector may refer applications to the Township Engineer when it cannot be determined if certain land is located within an area of special flood hazard. In such instances, the applicant shall submit engineering data to the Township which will aid in determining the location of the boundary. Such data shall be reviewed by the Township Engineer who shall provide his findings to the Building Inspector.

4. All development within any area of Special Flood Hazard shall be subject to the provisions of Section 60.3(d) of the Rules and Regulations of the National Flood Insurance Program (44 CFR 59, etc., formerly 1901).

5. The Zoning Board of Appeals of the Township of Northville is hereby empowered to hear and decide appeals and requests for variances (as defined in this Section) from the requirements of this Section. In rendering a decision on such a requested variance, the Board of Appeals shall insure consistency with the standards of Section 60.6(a) of the Rules and Regulations of the National Flood Insurance Program (44 CFR 59, etc., formerly 1901).

PART II. CONFLICTING PROVISIONS REPEALED
Any ordinance or parts of ordinance in conflict herewith are repealed save that in all other respects Ordinance No. 47 is hereby ratified and reaffirmed.

PART III. EFFECTIVE DATE

The provisions of this ordinance shall be in full force and effect on and after September 3, 1981.

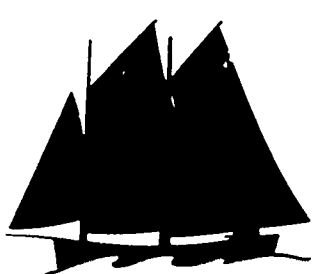

PART IV. ADOPTION

This ordinance was adopted by the Township Board of the Township of Northville pursuant to the authority of Act No. 184, Public Acts of 1943, as amended, at a meeting duly called and held on the 27th day of August, A.D., 1981, and ordered to be given publication in the manner prescribed by law.

"Quality Education at Prices You Can Afford"

Readers Speak

To the Editor:

The majority of the electorate this summer reduced school revenues by 2.5 mills. This obviously means cutbacks and I for one am glad the effort is to keep as many educational opportunities as possible.

I cannot classify busing as educational. It's a service provided because legislators in their infinite wisdom have made it law. I would suggest that parents accept the responsibility of getting kids to school safely instead of sitting on their hands while demanding more and more services which have nothing to do with education.

If the community as a whole doesn't want to finance all the frills then don't expect them.

Marge Sliger

To the Editor:

My family and I live in Northville Township, a beautiful and growing community. Unfortunately, where we live it's not so pleasant. Recently, it's been a bad dream grown into a nightmare, scary and full of helplessness: trying to contend with daily living in Park Gardens subdivision, where the septic problems people have experienced for many years make life miserable.

Ever since this area was platted and the first soil borings were taken or the first well drilled, I'm sure problems with septic failure were anticipated. The impermeability of the clay and high water table violate the acceptable standards for unsewered regions of development.

Problems were documented over 20 years ago, building was allowed to continue, sewers were a constant promise that remains unfulfilled. Why? Good Question!

As many people know, our township officials, both past and present, have been trying for years to find a feasible solution to the terrible conditions which people have endured. Endured — even as our township officials have exploited this critical issue as campaign propaganda to win votes for election and re-election; even as the township collects a handsome sum of taxes from this area while giving nothing in return.

Sewer solution sought

table, the firm cited evidence from stream samplings and other tests indicating "tremendously high contamination levels and gross pollution."

In drafting the report, the consulting engineers contacted the county health department. According to Mike Prybyla of that department, the last septic permit issued in Park Gardens was for repair work in 1979.

"The situation over there is critical," he said. "Even though we give out septic permits (in the county), septic systems are considered temporary until sewers can be installed." Under no conditions, however, Prybyla said, would the county issue permits for new septic systems in the area now.

With the problem amply documented, and so many agencies aware of it, it would seem some solutions would be forthcoming.

For the purposes of block grant funding, the subdivision has qualified as a distressed low income area — meaning there is a serious need residents are unable to meet with their own resources. But what is available to date in the form of aid is both slow in coming and imposes expenses on the homeowners equivalent to what is paid by those in more prosperous township neighborhoods when sewers are installed.

"One alternative at this point," said Norton of the DNR, "is for the residents to pay for sewers themselves (through a special assessment district) but I hardly think many of them can afford it. Many are senior citizens, disabled persons or unemployed."

Early in the project, it was thought enough federal money would come in that some assistance to individuals would be possible. Some residents recall political promises to the effect that sewers would be installed without charge to them. But loss of some of the federal money ($14,566 of the 1978 grant) and inflation ate away at the funds while the township was trying to accumulate enough to construct the sewers under a single contract.

Terry Jarvis, Wayne County grant coordinator, said the township has received five grants totaling $452,434 in the years since 1977. The total Jarvis cited is after subtraction of the lost 1978

One can tell by their slowness of response and the inability to find solutions that the health and welfare of this area's residents have been shamefully neglected. It's not that the people haven't tried, or have been unwilling to work with the township over this issue. I'm very willing to pay, as are others, for the lateral lines to our homes at a reasonable cost. This low income area is being asked to assess itself for more than its fair share!

Since the beginning of the year, and for the first time in years, township officials have done something. Of course, if they hadn't started somewhere we couldn't congratulate them for not failing as in the past.

They've used this low income area to apply for federal grants which benefit the township as a whole. The federal grant monies are to be used for lift stations, which are necessary for capacity for Park Gardens, along with present developments such as Northville Forest apartments, Northville Commons, Northville Colony I-IV, etc. And, any future development along Five Mile Road and Haggerty Road would benefit.

It has been the view of the township that sewers for Park Gardens has been economically unfeasible. Now, when economics have affected everyone, the present officials put the burden back on the people, who have been stripped of any hope and secure environment in which their children are to grow.

How unreasonable can you get?

The Water and Sewer Department recently purchased a reservoir for "future" use to benefit the community. This is typical — not that the township shouldn't grow, but again, our thoughtless administration is forgetting its priorities!

Haven't you heard that Park Gardens sewer project is "first in priority?" I would like to think that, as long as this project has been anticipated, it is only reasonable to take care of the first things first.

Today, we are crippled by our unwillingness to help this financially burdened area by giving assistance from the water and sewer restricted account, which presently holds $1.49 million.

It appears the township wishes to cover up its fumbles by this last effort of "pass the buck" onto the people who have been paying dearly for legislative incompetence.

Mrs. Elizabeth McCarville money (withdrawn because it had not been used by December 1980).

While the Five Mile Road segment (not necessarily in the road, but nearby) is being funded by HUD grants, there have been for several years EPA grants targeted specifically for environmental concerns such as Park Gardens.

Such a grant could have helped the residents pay the special assessment portion of the cost, but the township, while waiting for the other money to accumulate, did not apply for the EPA grants.

Now, said Brady Boyce of the DNR's grants administration division, which oversees the program for EPA locally, the outlook is dim. Changes in the federal grant program are likely to remove sewers from the funding eligibility list.

With all outside sources of funding apparently exhausted, Park Gardens homeowners are casting an eye toward the township's own healthy water and sewer department.

Given a clean bill of health in a recent auditor's report, the operation includes a $1.49 million (July figure) "restricted fund," allocated by 1975 resolution to be "used solely for purposes of debt retirement, replacements of plant, major repairs, acquisition of necessary capacity and facility expansion of the Northville Township water and sewer systems."

Township supervisor John MacDonald said the government is currently studying the possibility of tackling some of the cost with the restricted fund.

"It probably can be done," MacDonald said yesterday. "The auditor is studying it for us. I don't want to say it's definite, but I think we're moving in the right direction."

Citing the earlier promises made to the residents, MacDonald cautioned against placing too much trust in the restricted fund as an answer.

"I don't want anyone thinking there will sewers going in there for nothing," he said. "Other people in the township have paid for their sewers. I want to help those people (in Park Gardens). I'm hopeful that we can do something soon, but I don't want it to sound like I'm promising the world."

One of city's oldest homes will be on tour

By JEAN DAY

A wicker swing is suspended from the ceiling of the master bedroom.

An antique child's rocker that had belonged to the owner's grandmother and an 1840s slant-top desk vie for attention with a wall arrangement of eight contemporary mirrors in the living room.

In the brown-blue paisley papered dining room a macrame wine rack hangs from the ceiling, an arm's length away from a pedestal butcher block dining table.

Upstairs the original beams of the house at 247 West meet the sloping ceilings.

In all, the home of Wes and Sally Henrikson and daughters Holly, 17, and Suzi, 13, is an individual reflection of the family that moved in less than four years ago in October, 1977.

The house at the northwest corner of West at Randolph is one of the community's oldest and is open on the September 24 Northville Home Tour for the second time.

The Charles Elys, from whom the Henriksons bought the white house, had occupied it since 1945. They opened it for the first home tour here in 1967.

At that time it was speculated that President Lincoln probably had not begun the Stephen Douglas debates when the hand hewn timbers were hoisted into place for the house. Now painted, they still are visible in the girls' bedrooms under the eaves. They also are seen in the low-ceiling basement.

Many remodelings have changed the Cape Cod lines of the house which still sits among towering pine trees. The Henriksons have enlarged the first-floor master bedroom, which was an earlier addition, and have added a master bath. They also have created a spacious brick patio off the study on the West Street side.

Visitors on the 14th Northville Home Tour, co-sponsored by the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church and Northville Historical Society, will see many interior changes but still can note early glass in uneven panes in the windows.

The front door welcoming guests has been painted yellow, instead of red, and is adorned with a decorated straw wreath.

The dining room to the right of the entrance now has glass doors on the built-in cupboards. The tea wagon with intricate wood inlay was found on a trip to Colombia, South America, by the Henriksons. The unusual macrame wine rack was a housewarming present when the family moved into town from a home in Northville Estates.

Sally Henrikson's expertise with a needle is apparent everywhere in the house. The dining room wall features a tree design done in petitpoint.

In the living room she has worked a reproduction candle screen which bears a verse attributed to John Adams in 1800: "I pray heaven to bestow the best of blessings on this house and all that shall hereafter inhabit it."

Mrs. Henrikson says she believes this verse hangs in the White House in Washington, D.C.

The original abstract for the property shows it given to Alva Smith by J. Q. Adams September 1, 1825. Smith sold the farm to John Miller, Northville's first settler, who sold to William Dunlap and Daniel Cady.

At one time, the history indicates, an unpaid $50 mortgage was taken to court.

Harold Bloom's grandmother was a later occupant of the house.

One of the first things the Henriksons did after becoming owners was to take up the carpeting and expose the wood floor. In the living room a blue rug continues the blue color scheme used throughout the home.

A satin-stripe wallpaper and sheer tie-backs give a light, airy look. An addition earlier enlarged the room. In this area the Henriksons have a game table. Mrs. Henrikson thinks the addition may have been built soon after the house itself as the windows here also have the early glass panes.

A chopping block in the center of the kitchen provides added work area.

Over it hangs a kitchen witch to bring luck to the cook. A bright blue bandana-print wallpaper contrasts with the wood cupboards that have wood countertops, which Sally Henrikson says have proved practical.

Adjacent to the kitchen is the pine paneled study with comfortable plaid sofa and chair. A cedar closet contains the television set and the family's trophy collection, most of which are tennis winnings.

With a "wall pushed out to permit a master bath," the Henriksons' first floor bedroom is a spacious room with bold-stripe beige and blue wallpaper.

Over the bed are needlepoint silhouettes of Holly when she was nine and Suzi at five. Mrs. Henrikson has used tiny golden frames in rows to display some 28 of the girls' class pictures.

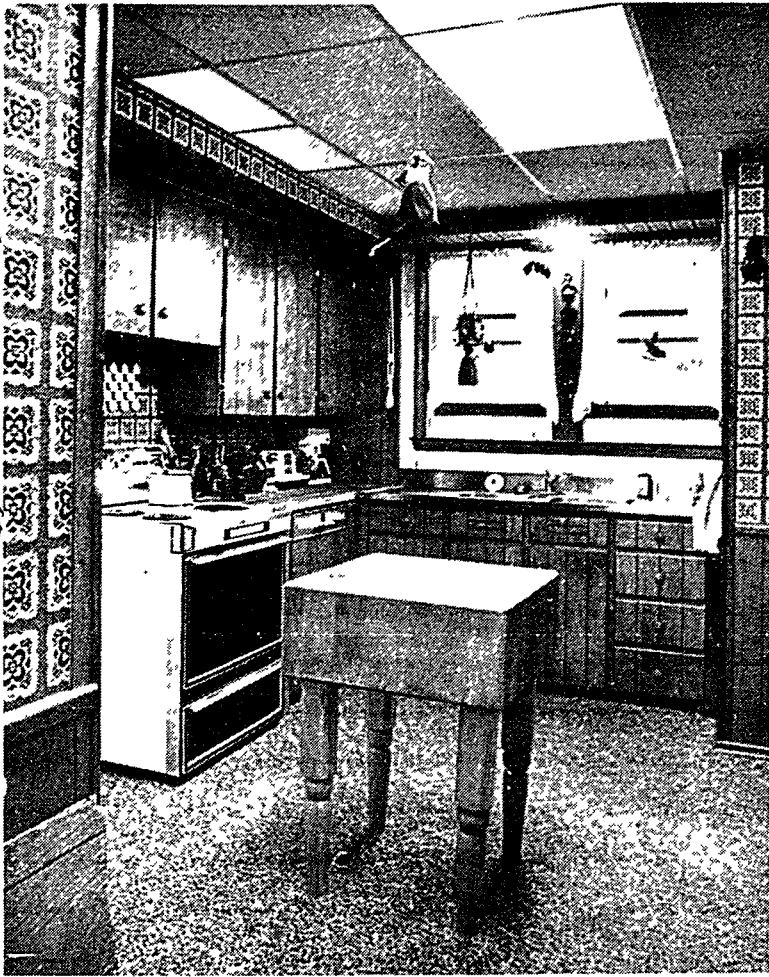

The new bathroom is decorated with a small, beige-background provincial stripe paper.

Going upstairs, Holly's room features an electric fireplace — the Henriksons' solution for the two unheated upstairs bedrooms. The room is papered in a blue floral stripe. Here Holly studies at a roltop desk.

Across the hall Suzi's room is papered in a tiny blue-and-white stripe. A sprigged comforter covers her white-painted bed. An elaborate dollhouse sits on an old trunk.

Visitors will notice the window treatment of pastel ribbons marked with little buttons at the points forming a valance. It is a practical solution that

She's researching need for new Quester chapter here

By JEAN DAY

A dozen years ago Northville could count at least seven antique shops in the Northville area. Sally Thomas and Eleanor Lowell were proprietors of the Barn Door (now Little People and Northville Camera shops); Heritage House was in a handsome home on Wing (now a parking lot); Jean Magee (of the Ypsilanti Schmidt family) operated the Stone Cellar in the basement of the early home at 335 North Center; and there also was a Little Gallery, Village Pump, Main Street Antiques and Northville Antiques.

Rising rents generally were attributed to the shops' leaving — not a lack of local interest in antiques. Today Auburn Cottage Antiques and West End Company at 144 and 142 North Center as well as The House at 422 East Main attract antiquers, as does the Weather Vane at 48120 West Eight Mile near Beck.

Owners of many Victorian homes in town have furnished them with pieces of the period while even those with homes built in this century have browsed to find accessories, if not furniture.

Given this acknowledged interest in antiques, Sue Holstein called last week to wonder if there is a possibility of forming another Quester group in Northville. Former resident Jeanne Langtry, now living in New Baltimore, is state first vice-president and membership chairman of the Michigan Questers, affiliated with the national antiques study organization. She contacted Sue Holstein, area Quester chairman, to suggest the possible expansion.

At present this area has five chapters, Base Line, the first, was formed more than 10 years ago; there also are Silver Springs and Novi VI here, along with the Antiquarians in Plymouth and Quakertown in Farmington. Because monthly meetings are held in members' homes, membership generally has been limited to 20, with the result that some groups are filled and have or have had waiting lists.

If there is sufficient interest, Mrs. Holstein reports she will be glad to help a new chapter get started. Anyone interested may call her at 349-4909. In addition to presenting study papers on everything from early architecture to mustard pots, the groups invite experts on topics of interest (rare books, Currier and Ives prints, etc.) and take field trips to historic restorations and other antique shops. The idea of Questers is to learn while enjoying antiques — and each other's company.

Litsenbergers gather at reunion

Summer is peak reunion season, especially for those that draw as many as 100, as did the Litsenberger Reunion August 16 at the home of Ken and Lynn Beyer.

Fran and Joann Smith with son Harold and daughter Virginia came from Lemoore, California; the Smiths' oldest son, the Reverend Craig Smith with his wife Vicki and son C.J. came from Sangor, California. Former residents Sid and Pat Junod returned from Florida. Lois Simons and son Bill were here from Peoria, Illinois; Harvey Cooper from Hinsdale, Illinois; Bud and Mary Jane Raysor, Sid and Georgia and Julie Raysor, all from Lockport, New York. Ron and Maja Linderman and son R.C. came from Houston, Texas; Jennifer Thomas from New Carlisle, Ohio, is the great-granddaughter of John Litsenberger.

While younger family members enjoyed pony cart rides and a candy hunt, the adults had a glimpse of the family history being compiled by Mary Lou Barry.

Eldest living member of the family is Mary Whipple, who is living in Whitehall. Alice Junod was the oldest member at the reunion while the youngest was Samantha Junod, her great-granddaughter, reports Carolyn Beyer.

VFW members attend meet

Seven members of Northville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4012 and Auxiliary headed by Post Commander and Mrs. George Bays attended the VFW National Convention in Philadelphia August 14-20.

Attending with the Bays were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. William Widmaier and Mrs. Lawrence McArthur.

They heard Vice President George Bush address the joint opening session and received a news bulletin report on the plane shooting as the Secretary of Defense spoke at a VFW meeting.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard E. Smith of Novi announce the engagement of their daughter Susan Mae to Jacques Houle of Novi.

The bridegroom elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Houle of Toronto, Canada.

The bride-to-be is a 1974 Novi High School graduate and is employed as a medical assistant for Dr. Shafgat Ali of Northville.

Her fiancé is employed by Farmer Jack's.

An October 16 wedding is planned.

Stephens baby given name of grandfather

Peter Denton Stephens, first child of Karen and Carl D. Stephens of 204 Fairbrook, carries on the name of his late great-grandfather Joseph Denton, who was a longtime Northville chief of police.

The baby was born August 24 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor and weighed seven pounds, three ounces at birth.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John K. Winters and Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Stephens, all of Northville. Maternal great-grandmother is Mrs. Grace Wolfe Weir.

Mrs. Carl W. (Pearl) Stephens is the daughter of the late Chief Denton for whom Joe Denton Park is named.

Before settling here, Chief Denton had led a colorful life, living in the west after coming from England with service as a bugler boy in the British Army. An expert with a rope, he had met Buffalo Bill. He died in 1979 at the age of 91.

A baby rose was placed on the chancel rail of First Presbyterian Church in honor of the Stephens' new son at the Sunday service.

Q. What's the best kind of toothpaste to use?

A. First it's the proper brushing of your teeth and not the toothpaste you choose that's important. However, fluoride toothpastes can decrease decay in children, and there are several good ones available. Abrasive dentifrices, usually advertised as "whiteners", can cause wear of the enamel and shouldn't be used on a daily basis. And if your teeth are very sensitive there are desensitizing pastes your dentist can recommend. Just remember toothpaste is meant to keep your teeth clean and free of plaque, and not to insure your popularity and sex appeal.

COAL: AN EMBARRASSMENT OF RICHES

You've almost certainly heard "has so much" of something that he or she "doesn't know what to do with it." Well, absurd as it may seem — indeed, absurd as it is — that is precisely the situation this country finds itself in today with regard to our vast reserves of coal.

Looking at the picture logically, it would seem that destiny could not have dealt more kindly with us. At a time when we must drastically curtail our use of oil and develop alternate sources of energy, our untapped coal reserves are the largest in the Western world — in fact, they are the envy of the Western world. And this wealth of energy riches is no new find. We've known for years how blessed we were with coal, but as long as oil was available and cheap — and because oil burned more cleanly — we could afford to leave the bulk of our coal in the ground. Now, however, when oil is no longer either plentiful or cheap, we are rapidly making the best possible use of all that coal we've been sitting on for years, right?

Wrong. In fact, our progress in expanding the mining, transportation, and burning of coal has been maddeningly slow. Problems and delays seem to beset us at every turn. A large percentage of our coal lies under federal lands in the West, and there have been seemingly endless wrangles over the strip-mining of those lands and how much must be done — and at what cost to the customers — to return strip-mined land to its original state. We are far short of the number of railroad cars we need to transport coal in increased quantities. Proposals to develop pipelines able to transport coal have been mired in controversy. Some environmentalists oppose any increase in coal burning because, they believe, it would raise the amount of sulfur dioxide in the atmosphere to dangerous levels. Others cite the phenomenon of "acid rain" — one of our least understood pollution problems — and oppose increased coal use because there may be a connection between fossil-fuel burning and the incidence of acid rain — although far more research must be done before we can begin to fully understand that problem. The list runs on and on, the clock runs on and on, and through it all, too much of our coal remains underground. It is a national embarrassment.

And it has to stop. To see us through our short-term energy difficulties and into the next generation of fuels, whatever those may be, we must exploit our available resources to the fullest. We must not only burn coal, we must also liquefy and gasify it. And we must begin now, because already we've wasted far too much time.

Some look at the problems connected with increased coal use and seem to conclude that "it just won't work." Such people are willing to let this incredible resource stay in the ground. To that we say, "Nonsense." Are the difficulties associated with coal use insurmountable? Have we really even scratched the surface when it comes to finding new ways to burn and convert coal more cleanly? Are costly and waste-producing "scrubbers" the last word in coal-burning technology?

We think not, and we think it's time a true national effort was mounted to expand research and development in these areas, to provide for the increased mining and transportation facilities we need, and to support fair, realistic environmental regulations covering all phases of the coal fuel cycle, from mining to waste disposal.

We know very well what to do with this resource which we have so much of. For all our sakes, let's get moving.

Dr. James
Luther

A church in Copenhagen has a statue by Thorvaldsen depicting Jesus giving His invitation, "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest" (Matt. 11:28). When a great art critic came to see it, his face revealed great disappointment and disapproval. A child standing near by said, "Oh, no, you are not looking at it right; you must go close and kneel and look up!" Taking the advice of the child, the critic knelt and caught from that angle a full view of the sculptured figure and was entranced by the sweetness and lifelike beauty of the face.

In accepting Christ's invitation to "Come unto me..." we must come like those to whom the invitation is addressed: the heavy laden, those who are burdened and needy, who come in simple faith expecting the burden to be lifted and the need to be met. It is the pure, not the proud in heart, who see God. The greatest position for your soul is kneeling before Christ, for it is only when you bow before Him that you find the position in which the burden can be lifted from your back.

Both girls have stereos in their rooms. The adjoining rooms do not have doors, but their mother says they seem to have worked out an arrangement so that each can play her favorite music.

Mrs. Henrikson says she thinks one of the charms of the house is that "every bit is lived in." When her husband recently suggested the possibility of moving to a larger home, the three Henrikson women all vetoed such an idea, she relates.

Visitors will view its great appeal in three weeks on the tour which aids work of the Presbyterian Women's Association and restoration of the Wash-Oak Schoolhouse in Mill Race Village.

Northville K of C aid Providence school

Just a week before Northville Council No. 6762, Knights of Columbus, prepared to celebrate the Knights' 100th anniversary officers of the council visited Our Lady of Providence to present a check for work with the retarded to the residential center on Beck Road.

Support of programs for the retarded is one of the Knights' programs, Grand Knight Glen Kassel emphasized.

An anniversary open house was held in the Walnut Room of Our Lady of Victory Church administration building last Wednesday to explain projects of the council as part of its membership drive.

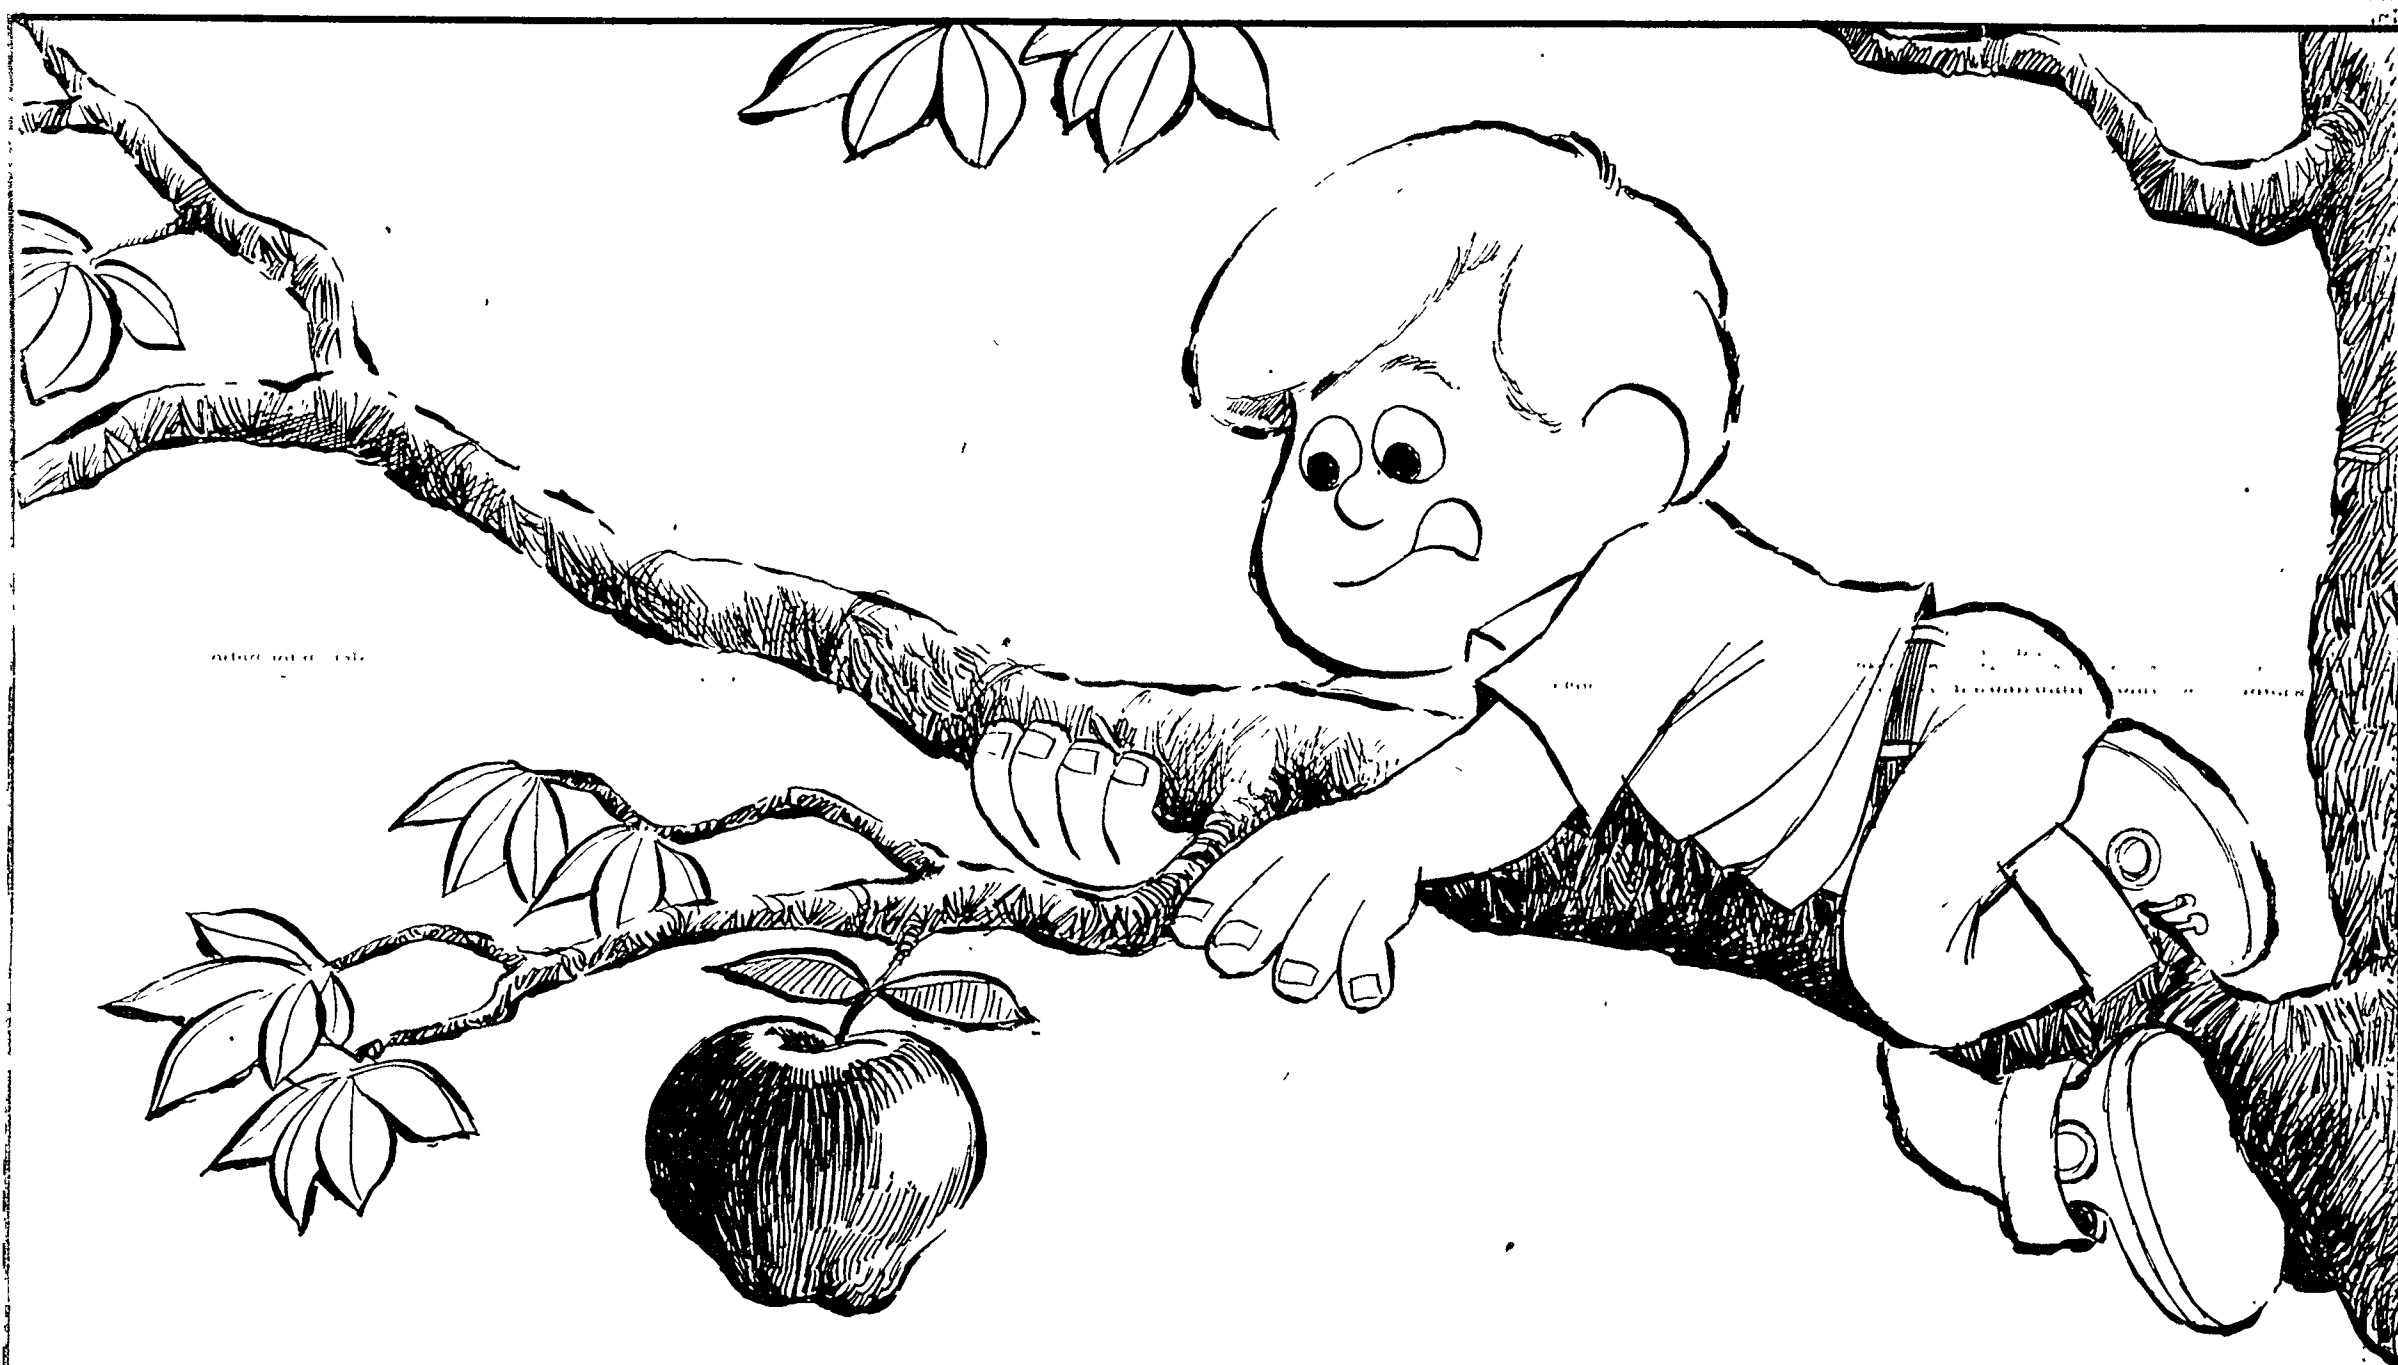

Kassel said that to qualify to be a member of the group it only is necessary to be "a practical Catholic male, 18 or older." He added that many Knight functions are geared to the family. Membership includes a life insurance plan.

Tootsie Roll drives are among the national fund raisers of the Knights, raising more than 29 million dollars for charitable groups throughout the country.

Students Gail, Gretchen and Kathy are pictured demonstrating games for the visitors.

Other officers of the Northville Council are Adolph Henk, deputy Grand Knight; Ricky R. Pary, financial secretary; Laurence Blockno, recording secretary; Richard Formella and Robert Krueger, trustees; Lee Pescia, advocate; Harry Weaver, outside guard; and Father John O'Callaghan, chaplain.

WE PUT THINGS WITHIN EASY REACH !

Reaching people is the goal of all forms of advertising... some are successful and some are not. But of all forms of advertising available, only one has the distinction of being able to consistently reach those people who are ripe for responding to the advertiser's message. This, of course, is the Classified Advertising section of your newspaper. Why? Because your Classified section is aimed at a pre-sold audience... people read the Classified Ads because they are already in the market to buy! It isn't necessary to convince them that they should buy a home or an automobile or rent an apartment, or look for a job or engage the services of a professional... they are already convinced of that need.. what they want is someone who can ANSWER that need.

It is also the only people-to-people medium that is available to every member of the community! Individuals turn to the Classified Ads every day to buy or sell items ranging from pets to power mowers and bicycles to motor boats. And the Classified section is the only place they can reach so many people at such a low cost.

So if you're a businessman or an individual who wants to reach out and pick people who are ripe for your messages, put that message in the Classified Advertising section of this newspaper.

Library tracks past's riotous railroads

A section of railroad track is part of a current exhibition at the University of Michigan's Bentley Historical Library, home of the Michigan Historical Collections.

But pieces of Michigan railroads have been found in even more unlikely places.

Years ago railroad track was hijacked, greased by irate farmers whose cows were victims of the great iron horses, and wrapped around lampposts by enraged citizens protesting the rerouting of a railroad outside their town.

Such railroad legacy was recorded in-depth by the late Dexter resident Claude T. Stoner, whose papers and extensive photograph collection were donated to the Bentley library by his children and by others.

Michigan's railroad history is splashed with violence, according to May Davis Hill, who wrote an illustrated booklet based on the Stoner collection.

"Crossing wars occurred when one railroad had to cross the right of way of another," she writes of the almost predictable tugs-of-war. "Though courts were supposed to settle rights of way, the controversy often ended in a pitched battle at the site."

"As many as 300 men might take part," she continues, "using anything from axe handles to dynamite as weapons. Once a single car managed to run over the crossing, warfare stopped and the crossing was considered established."

The Michigan Central Railroad, which completed its inaugural run from Detroit to St. Joseph on February 3, 1838, was the focus for what has been subsequently termed the "Great Railroad Conspiracy," according to Hill. When the state-owned railroad was sold to private interests, a new policy to pay farmers one-half the price of their cattle injured by trains was introduced.

"Local opposition was quick to arise, and when words failed, the farmers greased the tracks with tallow, stoned passenger trains, shot at rail employees and derailed cars," the account continues.

Hostilities culminated in arson. The Detroit freight depot of the railroad was burned down in 1850, resulting in "one of the longest and bitterest criminal trials in the history of the state," the author records. She quotes the letters of anti-railroad activist Abel Fitch, whose letters also are part of the Michigan Historical Collections.

Although 12 men were found guilty of the offense, they eventually received pardons. Hill concludes: "...This important and confusing story has since faded into a mixture of myth and memory, as have so many of the participants and so many of Michigan's early railroads."

The Stoner collection includes 3,600 prints and negatives.

The Bentley Historical Library is open to the public from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

College choir, youth symphony rehearse

Schoolcraft College Community Choir will hold auditions for the 1981-82 season prior to its first rehearsal Tuesday.

Meanwhile, Livonia Youth Symphony is announcing a new home.

Choir Director Marilyn Jones asks women to audition at 6:30 p.m. and men at 7 p.m. in Room 310 of the college's Forum Building. Choir officers will be available to speak with prospective members and ask questions about the group. Light refreshments are planned and rehearsal will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The fall season will feature Christmas works by Buxtehude, Britten, Vaughan Williams, Holst and others.

A December 4 concert will include works with solos for all voice parts, and feature accompaniments for harp, piano and harpsichord. Early in January, work will begin on Beethoven's Mass in C Major, which will be performed with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra in April.

The 60-member choir is designed for those with previous singing experience and represents a wide range of ages and musical backgrounds. Rehearsals combine sight reading, voice training, music theory, practice of concert music and a social "coffee break."

Offered through continuing education at the college, the choir is a credit-free class available at a $25 semester fee, regardless of residence. Participants may register at the September 22 rehearsal.

Other information: 349-8275.

Livonia Youth Symphony, which is making Churchill High School its permanent home, soon begins its weekly rehearsals.

The three orchestras of the symphony will rehearse weekly at Churchill from 9 a.m. through 12 p.m.

Auditions will be held at the former rehearsal site, Stevenson High School, on September 12.

The symphony is enjoying its largest membership and concert following in its 23 year history.

Last year the orchestras performed to a sell-out audience at historic Orchestra Hall and near sell-out audiences for all of the season's concerts. Another Orchestra Hall appearance is scheduled March 21.

Local area members of the board of directors include:

Jane Francoeur of Northville, corresponding secretary; Bob Lewis, Wall Lake; and Harold Noffz of Northville.

Conductors for the 1981-82 season are Donald Lewsader, Lansing, Symphony Orchestra; Judith Culler, Redford, Strong Orchestra; and William Benson, Union Lake, Concert Orchestra.

More information: 531-5292.

Detroit area housing costs relatively low, report says

Housing costs are continuing to increase nationwide, but a new report from the National Association of Realtors shows the Detroit area offers bargains compared to most other major centers.

Nationally, monthly principal and interest payments on the average priced existing home financed at prevailing rates in 15 major metro areas reached $810 this year. This is a 112 percent gain from the same $382 payment in 1978.

For the Detroit metro area, the equivalent 1981 figure is $625, about an 83 percent jump from $342 in 1978. The current figure ranks Detroit costs below 12 other cities with only Pittsburgh and St. Louis offering lower costs.

The highest monthly principal and interest payment was in San Francisco with $1,403. Los Angeles was second with $1,234 and Washington, D.C., ranked third with $1,408.

Robert D. Shimmin, president of the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors (WWOC-BR), noted that home affordability must consider other factors as well.

"While our overall affordability ranking remains unchanged, we don't compare as well with many other cities in areas such as real estate taxes, utility and hazard insurance costs," said Shimmin. "Thus, our monthly tax cost of $187 ranks behind only Boston at $300 and New York at $257."

Monthly utility costs of $101 and hazard insurance costs of $20 are both halfway in the 15 cities studied. Shimmin said the study showed total monthly housing costs in the Detroit area including these factors reached $934. Such costs were highest in San Francisco at $1,731 and lowest in St. Louis at $815.

Detroit also reflected the smallest percentage gain in total housing costs from 1978 at 62.2 percent. San Francisco again led in this category with a 106.3 percent increase followed by Houston with a 105.3 percent gain.

In terms of total housing costs at a percent of average gross family income, Detroit continues to rank at the lower end of the scale at 35.5 percent. San Francisco at 66 percent represents the high point with St. Louis at 32.8 percent, the low.

Shimmin pointed out that mortgage payments used in the study were based on the average price of homes which actually sold in the various areas rather than any standard home with similar characteristics. Differences in average prices, therefore, reflect to some extent differences in size and quality.

"The study clearly indicates how a combination of rising prices and high interest rates has made home ownership more difficult, particularly for first-time buyers," he said. "It also demonstrates that buyers today are willing to make a greater commitment of disposable income to housing both as shelter and as a hedge against continuing inflation."

Total Monthly Housing Costs:

Los Angeles	$1,441
New York	$1,371

Builders cite policy for boost

Michigan's economy, new home buyers and Michigan home builders have benefited from a timely decision by the State Treasurer's office last winter to invest in home mortgages, according to leaders of Michigan's home building industry.

"I don't know what we would have done without it," said Wilber Zylstra, president of the Michigan Association of Home Builders (MAHB).

"Though high interest rates have made this past year a vicious one for those who need housing and those of us who supply it, it would have been much worse without the foresight of the Governor and State Treasurer."

The Michigan Department of Treasury announced January 30 a plan to invest up to $100 million in residential mortgages in Michigan. Mortgage rates to the homebuyers were pegged at 12-7/8 percent and builders throughout the state flocked to their lenders seeking commitments for the funding.

PROMOTIONS AND APPOINTMENTS of three officers at Security Bank of Novi have been announced by Donald Grevengood, president of the bank.

Paul Wilson has been promoted from branch manager to assistant vice president and branch manager; Patricia Rippey has been promoted from assistant branch manager with Security Bank & Trust Company (an affiliate bank of Security Bank of Novi) to branch manager of the Nine Mile office; and Nancy Jarrait has been promoted from branch manager of the Nine Mile office to manager of the new office at Ten Mile and Taft Road.

Wilson began his career with Security Bank & Trust Company (an affiliate bank) in 1974 as a manager's assistant. He was reassigned and promoted to assistant manager at Security Bank of Novi in 1977 and became a branch manager in 1978. He is a graduate of Michigan State University with a Bachelor of Arts degree in business and has attended the American Institute of Banking.

Rippey's background includes eight years with the Security Bank organization where she began as a teller. She later became assistant manager of the Security Bank & Trust Company branch office in Bingham Farms. She is a graduate of the American Institute of Banking.

Jarrait was appointed to the position of manager at the new Ten Mile/Taft Road office scheduled to open in late September. Prior to her new assignment, she was manager of the Nine Mile office. Jarrait, who has seven years with the organization, has attended Henry Ford Community College and the American Institute of Banking.

Edward Erwin (right), representing Erwin Farms Incorporated of South Lyon and Novi, recently received a dividend check for more than $4,900 from Farm Bureau Insurance Group agent John Woodward of Highland. The check was one of the five largest of nearly 2,500 checks issued to Michigan Farm Bureau members participating in the agricultural workers compensation safety group program. In total, Farm Bureau Mutual of Michigan paid more than $713,000 in dividends to safety group policyholders. The dividend equaled nearly 21 percent of the premium these members paid for agricultural work compensation coverage in 1980, the ninth and largest dividend declared in the 10-year history of the safety group. The large dividend was the result of the group's excellent safety record and low work compensation losses during 1980. Farm Bureau Mutual, the state's largest farm insurer, introduced the safety group in 1971 for Michigan Farm Bureau members who employ agricultural workers. Since then, safety group policyholders have received $1.6 million in dividends.

Questions? Address your letters to Ask the Lawyer c/o this newspaper.

Q I was injured on the job and have been off work now for over three weeks and have not received a workmen's compensation check. What should I do?

A You should first check with your employer to determine whether the employer has reported the injury to the workmen's compensation insurance carrier. If the report has been made, then you should contact the insurance carrier to determine why you have not received your first check. If the insurance carrier, or the employer, refuse to provide you with the necessary information, then you should seek the advice of an attorney to assist you in filing a petition for hearing for the benefits to which you are entitled.

Q I was involved in an automobile accident while I was on the job and I am receiving workmen's compensation benefits. Am I also entitled to no-fault benefits for my wages?

A You are entitled to the difference between the amount of money that you are receiving from your workmen's compensation insurance company and 85 percent of your gross wages not to exceed $1870 for each 30 day period of lost wages. You must file an application for benefits form with your no-fault insurance carrier and supply them with information about the amount of money that you are receiving from your workmen's compensation carrier before they will pay you the benefits to which you are entitled.

Q I was in an automobile accident and I have submitted my medical bills to the insurance company and they have not paid me for the bills, and more than 60 days have gone by. What should I do?

A You should obtain the services of an attorney to file a lawsuit against the no-fault insurance carrier for the benefits to which you are entitled together with 12 percent statutory interest which starts after 30 days from the date that your proof was submitted to the insurance company.

Q I am considering selling my home on my own and would like to know what legal documents are necessary?

A Once you have found a purchaser it is necessary to prepare a purchase agreement to be signed by both the seller and purchaser, outlining all of the terms and conditions of the sale. Depending upon the terms of the financing, various other documents will be needed — either in the form of a land contract, or for the assumption of an existing mortgage, or for the application of a new mortgage.

In addition, at the time of closing, you will need your paid tax bills, last paid water bills, a closing statement and a warranty deed. It is recommended, whenever you are buying or selling real estate, that you utilize the services of an attorney rather than trying to sell or buy the real estate on your own. The time to hire an attorney is before you sign the offer to purchase.

Q I own vacant land in northern Michigan and I am interested in acquiring the oil, mineral and gas rights to the property. What can I do to purchase those rights?

A If the deed which you have to the property excludes oil, gas and mineral rights and those right are owned by another individual, you can only purchase those rights directly from the individual who owns them.

If the oil, gas and mineral rights have been retained by the State of Michigan, you can make application to the Department of Natural Resources and a determination will be made whether or not you qualify to purchase the oil, gas and mineral rights from the State of Michigan. Usually, if the state does sell you the rights, they will only sell you 50 percent of the rights and reserve 50 percent unto themselves.

Q Why does a person need a will?

A If a person dies in Michigan leaving assets in his or her own name and there is no will, the law of intestate succession dictates which person or persons will receive the property. If there is no will, there is no way that you can direct the inheritance of your property.

Q What is intestate succession?

A If a person dies without a will, Michigan's probate code writes a will for you. This law is called the law of intestate succession.

For example, if a man dies leaving a widow and two children, both of whom are children of the marriage or who have been legally adopted, the widow would get the first $60,000 of the estate and the balance would be divided one-half to the widow and one-half to the children after all expenses of estate administration have been paid.

Q Who may make a will?

A Any person over the age of 18 years who understands the nature of his or her estate (what the assets consist of and how much they are worth) and to whom he or she wishes to give his or her property, can make a will.

Q Do I need a lawyer to draft a will?

A Since the adoption of the Revised Michigan Probate Code in July of 1979, holographic (hand written) wills may be valid. However, because certain legal requirements must be followed when drafting and executing a will, it is safer to consult with an attorney. The preparation of a simple will is one of the least expensive services offered by attorneys.

Q What is a personal representative?

A The personal representative, formerly referred to as the executor or executrix, is the person named by the testator to handle his or her affairs after death. The personal representative is responsible for collecting and inventorying the assets of the deceased, accounting for these assets to the court and to the heirs of beneficiaries, and for otherwise administering the estate.

Q Who may serve as personal representative?

A Any person over the age of 18 years who is willing to accept the responsibilities may serve as personal representative. It is wise to select a responsible person who has common sense with money, preferably a close family member.

Q What are the material provisions of a will?

A The material provisions of a will include the naming of those persons who will inherit assets (beneficiaries), the naming of a personal representative, the naming of guardians and conservators for minor children, the signature of the testator and two independent witnesses. Additional clauses which might be helpful include burial instructions, preferences regarding life support systems, powers to sell assets including real estate and clauses concerning the payment of debts.

Q To whom should I give a copy of my will?

A It is recommended that there only be one original will. Copies, however, should be provided both to the next of kin and to the named personal representative.

Q Where should I keep my will?

A A person has several choices with respect to the safekeeping of a will. The probate court in each county maintains facilities for the depositing of a person's will. There is a one time fee of $5 for this service.

The will cannot be withdrawn except by the person who has written it (testator), or the personal representative of the testator upon presentation of the testator's death certificate to the probate court. It also is acceptable to keep your will with other important personal papers at home, preferably in a fireproof container. It is not advisable to keep your will in a safe deposit box because a probate court order would be necessary to open the box. This would entail opening an estate without the will and then returning to the probate court to admit the will to probate.

Q Can a will be contested?

A Yes. If an heir (one who inherits property) believes that the decedent (the person who dies) either did not have the requisite mental capacity to make a will, or was unduly influenced in the making of a will, he or she has the right to contest the validity of the will in the probate court. Because such matters usually involve litigation, the heir should have counsel.

Q On a land contract sale, who holds the deed to the property?

A On a land contract sale, the seller holds the deed to the property until such time as the land contract has been paid in full. If you are the purchaser, it is a good idea to provide in he purchase agreement that the deed will be executed by the seller and placed in escrow with a title company until the land contract has been paid in full. Upon proof that the land contract has been paid in full, the title company will either release the deed to you or record it for you in the appropriate county.

Would You Believe?

*If you were blind, would you believe
That skies are blue and clouds are gray?
Would you believe there are such things
As skies or clouds or a sunny day?*

*If you were deaf, would you believe
The songs of birds, or a waterfall?
Would you believe there are such things
As sounds of nature to enthrall?*

*How would you know of sound and sight;
Of songs of spring in rare delight?
A blind man said to me one day,
"I see and hear in my own way."*

*"There is an inner eye
That speaks to an inner ear
For us who have no outer sight
Nor normal means to hear."*

*"Thus, you must believe
As we believe in you...
You say you see the stars...
We see and hear them, too."*

Charles E. Hutton

You

*Love.
Two rings of gold.
The lovely green and gold bird in a brass cage.
A marriage... you've given me the dream that swam eternally around the islands upon my mind...
you...and only you.*

Patricia Anne Keith

Orchestrated Outcome

*The music sweetly, softly rose
Like a hundred whispering birds—
Crescendoing to crashing horns,
More eloquent than words.*

F.A. Hasenau

Rebirth

*Self-righteous I once thought due life smooth grained and brightly hued.
Then, blinded by its darker side, screamed rage at hope denied and cursed His name in prayer.*

*But He,
Unmindful of my blasphemy, time tempered my despair with litany and forged in faith's rekindled flame my pain with joy.*

Bereft Bard

*Why can't I keep the Poet inside?
Will it walk away? Outside of me?
Will I look to bills, work, daily problems
While the eye for beauty dims?
Or do I just need two lifetimes?*

F.A. Hasenau

Through the Looking Glass

*Mirror, mirror on the wall,
Your image pleases me not at all.
Some distort,
Some have a tint,
Stores have flatterers, just to give a hint
That what you're buying
Is best,
Even though it costs a mint.*

*A two-way mirror is the spy's crafty tool,
Fair grounds have mazes of them,
Try to get out without feeling a fool.*

*Reflect on their uses,
Their burning powers,
Their hypnotic ability to hold for hours
A girl gazing soulfully at her face
And finding the flaws no-one can erase.*

*Seven years bad luck if one breaks,
So turn to the wall, for all our sakes.*

Kit Henderson

The Thief Wins

*A man with every key Runs loose tonight...
Cracking "safe and sound," from poor houses of the rich in trust.*

Five minutes is all doors lock out, now.

Margaret O'Brien

Happy Birthday Mother

*I love the way you bake your cakes, and your cookies too.
The delicious meals you cook,
I'm very proud of you.*

*What's more you seem to understand,
The troubles I have had
We have shared, We have cried,
We shared the good and bad.*

*I know my children feel the same,
about their Grandma Brown.
They have a lot to brag about,
When were gathered round.*

*Our Picnics, Our Thanksgivings,
Our Christmas's you see
Without your Pies, cakes, salads.
They would not be complete.*

*All of us appreciate your tender loving care.
And wish you the best Birthday
With a Love that we all share.*

Ardis Gruenwald

Fancied Fame

*Each time I see someone of fame
I'll be like them, I proclaim
And try to emulate the same
Sure now that I'll make a name.*

F.A. Hasenau

Evidence

*We cannot see the winds that blow,
We can only see their power
In trees that bend
In waves that flow,
Or clouds that whirl and tower.*

*We cannot see the power that flings
A leaf away on high,
Or that on which the eagle soars,
While upward still, a man with wings
Climbs higher in the sky.*

*We cannot see the force that moves
The earth on which we stand.
How great its strength on land and sea;
We only know it proves*

*That faith is but the evidence
Of things unseen or known,
Like the harvest of a mystery seed
That floats to earth alone.*

*We aren't aware that time has passed
Until the sun has set.
The years go by Until at last
Our life's decree is met.*

Charles E. Hutton

The Last Dream (Part II)

*Flying high on crimson wings against a painted sky
In search of dreams that will never die
So I'll try and find my peace of mind with God all things are possible or so I've been told.
Yet, at times the world seems so cold
Love is in my mind and I still love you and always will
Flying high on crimson wings
In search of a love that will never die
So I'll search for my dreams at the rainbow's end
Dreams and dreamers all have to die like a poet without his pen
But life, love, and peace never have to end
In the Kingdom of God Dreams all come true and broken-hearted lovers never have to cry again.*

Buddy Dennis

Tommy

*We used to be so close, you and me,
We never fought, but you see,
I long for your love and sharing,
your closeness, and most of all caring.
I know you're married and gone away,
but in this poem, I must say
I love you Tom with all my heart and hope to God we never part.
Because you're a very special brother to me and I hope in this poem you'll see That I miss the times we've had and it's making me really sad.
Plus all the things we used to do.
That's why I wrote this Tom, because I miss you!!!!*

Love your Sister, Carol

Purchased Print

(for Jack & Jackie)
Florists are the artists of the world,
They print beauty in color —
They convey the notes of love;
Fleet of foot to international doors
They leave only love even in death
With the memory of the giver
That bridges an empty gap,
That gives a needed lift,
That speaks the unspoken thought
With messages cut clearly
Through a design, a poetic symbol —
A chance to say without speaking,
A chance to offer the deepest Meanings of a heart.

Mustang gridders ready for four-way scrimmage

By JOHN MYERS

Three weeks of practice has zipped by for the Northville High School football team and tonight it has a chance to see what it can do against Wayne Memorial, Dearborn Divine Child and Bloomfield Hills Lasher in a four-way scrimmage at 7 p.m. at Lasher High School.

"All three are good ballclubs and all three are tough," Mustang head coach Dennis Colligan said after Monday's workout.

"All three teams are bigger than us, but I would rather scrimmage them than somebody else that is smaller," he said.

"It will give us a better idea of what we have. You're against yourself for three weeks and this will give us a chance to see who is going to hit or not," Colligan added.

After the junior varsity squad is finished with its scrimmage (it begins at 5 p.m.), the varsity Mustangs will take the field against Divine Child.

"They are a Class B powerhouse," Colligan praised.

Each team will run 20 consecutive offensive plays before meeting its next opponent of the evening.

The next squad Northville will face after Divine Child is Lasher, which finished last season at 7-2 overall.

Both Colligan and the Bloomfield Hills Lasher coach have made an agreement whereby both of the schools second units will battle against each other.

"It will give the kids some work. It is better than coming along and sitting around for an hour and a half," Colligan explained.

In the final match up of the night, Northville will take the field against Wayne Memorial, which had an overall mark of 8-1 for 1980.

"It (scrimmage) will help us get ready for the Thurston game," Colligan said of the squad's opening season contest September 12 at Redford Thurston.

"It will be interesting. I'm knocking on wood there are no major injuries," he added. "We haven't lost any first stringers to injuries, yet."

However, the Mustangs depth at tackle was depleted when back-up John Collins sustained a separated shoulder.

"I'm keeping my fingers crossed we don't have any serious injuries. With a school like Northville, injuries can hurt us.

"We're going into the scrimmage healthy and we want to come out that way. We want to go full tilt, but we hate to get any serious injuries," Colligan said.

While trying to remain injury free as possible is one goal for Colligan, so is how the team has progressed since practice began.

"We want to see who will play ball with us. We're not out there to outscore anybody, but it is important that we execute the plays and show mental discipline in carrying out the plays," Colligan explained.

Lasher High School is located on Lasher Road just off of Long Lake Road in Bloomfield Hills.

Northville soccer team looks for third Country Day crown

Detroit Country Day has to be wondering why it keeps asking the Northville boys soccer team to participate in its eight-team soccer invitational each year. The Mustangs have claimed the championship of the Country Day Invitational for the past two seasons and each time defeating the host school in close matches.

In 1979, Northville's first year of soccer, the Mustangs nipped Country Day 1-0. Then, last season in a classic rematch, Northville and Country Day went two overtimes and a shootout before the Mustangs took home a hard-fought 3-2 triumph.

Can the Mustangs repeat the feat one more time?

Head coach Ron Meteyer is not sure, since he had no knowledge Monday of which eight teams besides Northville, Novi, Birmingham Brother Rice, North Farmington and, of course, host Country Day would be participating.

Northville opens tournament play against Novi at 5:30 p.m. Friday and will play at either 9:30 a.m. or 11 a.m. Saturday.

"We're going to try for the hat trick," Meteyer said.

Meteyer also saw Country Day head coach Paul Bartoshuk at a meeting in Lansing in March in which Bartoshuk posed a question.

"He said, 'Are you guys coming back (to the tournament) this year,' and I said yes and he responded, 'That's what I was afraid of,'" Meteyer said.

However, both Northville and Country Day have suffered some major graduation losses from their starting lineups of last season.

"So far, we have a couple of standouts, but we don't have a group of stars like last year. We have an awful lot of young players. We're kind of in a rebuilding stage," Meteyer said.

Gone from last season's state playoff squad is All Midwest and All State standout Kevin Swayne, who is playing at Alma College, and second-leading scorer behind Swayne, Rick Marshall, who is trying out for the Michigan State University soccer team.

"Between Swayne and Marshall, they scored 31 of the team's 45 goals last year," Meteyer said.

Also having departed due to graduation are Honorable Mention All State player Dave McElroy, Eric Lindemier, Greg May and Les Neal, all of who were starters.

"We lost two all staters, seven all league and five Oakland County players. You can't lose all that without it hurting you," Meteyer said.

So it is up to the seniors and underclassmen who have played under the graduated standouts for a couple of years to fill their shoes.

"We'll see how quickly they develop," Meteyer offered.

One of the pluses of the Mustangs this year will be versatility.

"We're switching many people around. I think everyone on the team has played at least two positions," Meteyer said.

The Mustangs were scrimmaging a strong Brighton squad Tuesday, but without its two wings players to provide some scoring.

One of them is junior Greg Marshall, the only returning front-line player for Northville, and Omar Anisoglu, who might have a broken foot.

According to Meteyer, Marshall is starting to develop into the finisher on goal-scoring opportunities.

"We didn't have a finisher, just a lot of people who could put the ball near the net, but Marshall seems to be able to produce for us," Meteyer said.

CLIP FOR BIG SAVINGS

Ed Gabrys has his cross country team ready to defend its Western Six Conference title

Cross Country team out to win fifth W-Six title

By JOHN MYERS

If opponents thought last year's edition of the Northville Mustangs boys' cross country team was tough, they better think twice about this year's group.

Head coach Ed Gabrys has his top four runners returning from last year, in addition to eight other returnees and four newcomers, and he thinks his 1981 squad is more balanced than last season's.

"We're more balanced. With cross country, it is something you mature with as you go along, sometimes you get a predominate sophomore who will move to the top, but it takes time to understand the race and your body," Gabrys said.

"We knew last year was a building year, but we have them all back now," he added.

Leading the pack for the Mustangs is All State senior runner Clark Couyoumjian, who turned in his best time at the state meet for fifth place and was the ninth fastest runner in Michigan.

"He holds the Cass Benton record, also," Gabrys said. The Cass Benton course is the Mustangs' home turf.

Holding the number-two position on the team is senior Scott Dayton, who also runs the two mile for the spring track squad.

"These two guys took one-two at the (Western Six) league meet," Gabrys said.

The number-three runner for Northville is senior Dave Malinowski, who was the fourth-place finisher at the conference meet.

"With those three guys coming back, that's not too bad, huh?" Gabrys offered.

But it may mean trouble for other teams at Saturday's Marshbank Invitational at West Bloomfield.

There are six races run in three divisions at the invitational, Gabrys said, with Northville competing in the middle division. "You usually see the better teams in the state," he said.

"We want to get rid of the opening jitters. Traditionally, we have not done well early, but because of our training methods we usually finish the season strong," Gabrys explained.

Anchoring the number-four slot is senior Seth Swallow.

"We're pretty confident those four will help us out," Gabrys said.

Other runners who will make a contribution to the varsity this season are seniors Rick Getzen, Dan Vogt and Mark Olgeren.

"They look like people who might move into the varsity lineup," Gabrys said.

Other runners include seniors Paul Smith, Scott Anderson, Brian Mance, Larry Gonda, junior Jim Willoughby, and sophomores Jim O'Neill, Doug Doyle, Chris Jones and Kurt Assenmacher.

"We're top heavy in seniors. It will great for this year, but not next year," Gabrys sighed.

Great years have become commonplace for the Mustangs cross country team in Western Six Conference competition. Northville has won the last four titles in a row and with this being the final year of the W-Six before the new league begins in 1982, Gabrys is hoping to make it five straight.

"The league has had eight years of cross country competition. (Livonia) Churchill won the first four years and Northville has won the last four. We would like to win the rubber match," Gabrys said.

And it is Churchill who will give Northville its toughest league competition this season, according to Gabrys.

"Churchill is returning quite a few good runners and we face them early in the year. The big challenge in the league is from them. We'll soon see," he added.

At the state meet, the Mustangs finished 22nd out of 24 teams and obviously the Mustangs would like to improve their state position, but Gabrys provided a few words of caution.

"You have to get there first," he said.

Rec briefs

Teams still can sign-up for a Fall Men's Class C slow-pitch softball league. The first eight teams to enter will comprise the league. Cost is $280.

Open swim has been canceled, but will resume in mid-September.

The regular recreation commission meeting is at 8 p.m. next Wednesday at city hall.

The recreation department offices will be closed Monday due to the holiday.

Registration for fall recreation classes will take place September 21-25. Brochures will be mailed the week before registration.

Ticket price increases

Ticket prices for all Northville High School varsity football and basketball games have been raised to $2 per contest. Athletic Director Ralph Redmond announced.

Redmond said the ticket price increase is in accordance with the rest of the Western Six Conference schools in order to establish one uniform price.

Future looking brighter for NHS girls cage team

Things are looking better for Northville girls basketball coach Gene Wagner.

Which stands to reason, since last season the Mustangs finished the year with an overall record of 6-15 and Wagner had only six to seven players at his disposal at one time or another.

Ah, 1981 is a new year and the upcoming season brings on new hopes and ambitions. All of which has Wagner beaming with optimism about this year's squad.

Even though Wagner currently has eight girls on varsity, he thinks this might be his best team.

"For the first time, I have eight girls I feel confident enough with I can go in and out with without losing much," the second-year head mentor said.

"The program had been lacking for several years averaging only one or two wins. Before me coach (Dave) Schoopp won five games and last year I won six games.

"I'm enthused. I think this is the best squad in a number of years," he added.

The Mustangs open their season at Milford at 8 p.m. next Tuesday, but Wagner does not know what to expect from the Redskins.

"I have no idea. I haven't seen them and we didn't play them last year," Wagner admitted.

But he has his Mustangs ready to win its first game of the year and psyched to win every game.

"We're going out to win them all. The biggest thing I see this year are the girls are starting to put the program together," Wagner said.

There are four seniors on team, each of whom has been under the direction of Wagner for three years from junior varsity to varsity, and he said each girl has been in a learning process for two years.

Leading the Mustangs is unanimous All Western Six Conference guard Jacque Nixon. The senior has been selected to the first team two straight years and also has led the league in scoring during that time.

"Nixon, in fact, is definitely a major college candidate guard. We have a summer program and the coach from (Dearborn) Divine Child said she was best guard he had seen all summer," Wagner praised.

Nixon averaged 16.8 points a game last year in 21 contests.

Another senior returnee is Melinda House, who made second team all conference last season. She averaged 10.7 rebounds per game for the Mustangs.

Two other-seniors on the squad are Melissa House and Marge Muller. Juniors on the squad include Ginny Gans, Tracy Wilkinson and Leslie Kucher, who transferred back from Livonia Ladywood.

One sophomore who has made the team because of her performance in the summer program and her hard work is Donna Ackley.

Wagner said he has one other junior, but would rather have her play on the junior varsity squad to gain some needed experience.

The Mustangs scrimmaged against South Lyon last Friday and won, which was a good confident booster for the team according to Wagner.

Young Mets squad uses pitching, hitting to win E-League title

It is not too often an expansion baseball team can come into a league and win the title in its first try.

But, that is exactly what the Mets of the Northville E-League diamond circuit did this summer.

Under the direction of coach Tim Doyle, the Mets shook off three other teams in the middle of the season to win the crown with a 16-2 record.

The Cardinals placed second at 13-5 followed by the Phillies at 11-7, the Reds at 10-9, the Angels at 4-14 and the last-place Padres at 1-18.

"We were an expansion team. I picked (the players) through a draft and I kind of got lucky through the draft pick," Doyle said. "By the time the draft was over, I knew I had a good team."

When the season started, Doyle did not know what to expect from the other teams in the league, but he knew what his team was going to accomplish.

Unlike most teams, Doyle had six different pitchers to call on during the course of a contest — which is a luxury all coaches dream to have.

Heading the pitching staff for the Mets were Doug Doyle, Dave Longridge, Brian Bidwell, Mike Sylvestre, Todd Deal and Dan Perlich.

One of the main keys in helping the Mets roll along in winning the title was hitting.

"The one thing that helped us was everyone hit the ball," Doyle offered.

"Everyone who came in did the job. So many people contributed at so many times," he added.

Mickey Newman was the top batsman for the Mets and one of the most steady hitters on the team according to Doyle.

Other batsmen who made contributions were Jerry Poloskey, Craig Beaudon, Dave Naar, Ray Nutter, Gil Allen and Todd Lincoln.

"We weren't hurt by subs,"

Doyle explained, who was assisted by Scott McMillan, Tom Doyle, John Horwath and Craig Wisliski.

A good defense was another strong aspect of the Mets as was knowledge of the fundamentals.

"We were real sound defensively...just super fielding. The players were real smart fundamentally and they had real good attitudes.

"There was good harmony between the players, all were friends and they played well together," Doyle added.

"We did dominate the league and all the players were good athletes. That makes it all the easier for me," he said.

"The parents were good, too and a real help," Doyle praised.

Currently, all but one of the Mets players is eligible to return next season and Doyle is pretty certain he will return to coach the team.

Which only means good things are in store for the Mets and bad things for its league foes.

Rain hampers local net tourney

About the only thing which put a damper on the End Of Summer Doubles tennis tournament played here this weekend was, naturally, the rain.

Tournament Director Kerry Hlady said all of the matches but one were played Sunday and said things were kind of hectic all weekend.

"We had to clean the courts off three times (because of the rain). It all worked out in the end," Hlady explained.

Once again, the top representatives for Northville in the tournament was the Horst family — proving it is probably one of the formidable tennis families in the area.

Doug Horst, Sr. and Doug, Jr. made it all the way to the semifinals in the men's doubles division before losing to eventual champions Jim Bajor and John Chapman 1-6 and 2-6.

Bajor, of Wyandotte, and Chapman, of Grosse Ile, took the title by defeating Plymouth's Tom Fisher and Ann Arbor's Ed Miller 7-5, 2-6 and 6-0.

Fisher and Miller made the finals when Carl Russell and Frank Bagdon, both of Southfield, had to default the match because of a prior commitment.

The Horsts in reaching the semifinals downed Dearborn's Ben Hykema and Ken Gobel 6-4 and 7-5. In another match, the Horsts were victorious over Jim Reynolds and Dick Collins, both of Northville, 6-1 and 6-3.

In the ladies doubles competition, Northville's Lennis Horst and Dearborn's Carol Hykema were defeated by Allan Park's Betty Fesko and Ann Arbor's Karen Miller 4-6, 6-2 and 3-7 (tie-breaker) in the finals.

To reach the finals, Horst and Hykema downed Westland's Beth Redmond and Marsha Lukomski 6-1 and 6-2.

Miller and Fesko defeated Southfield's Shirley Russell and Fay Keller 7-5 and 6-3 to make the championship match.

In mixed doubles competition, the finals were scheduled for Tuesday night between Ann Arbor's Pierre St. Amor and Claire Fingerle, and Plymouth's Tom Fisher and Betty Fisher.

Doug, Sr. and Lennis Horst lost a semifinal match to St. Amor and Fingerle 6-4 and 6-3. In another semifinal match, Fisher and Fesko downed Dearborn's Ben and Carol Hykema 6-7 (7-2 tie-breaker), 6-2 and 6-2.

In a quarterfinal match up, Tom Borton and Delores Aaron lost to the Horst husband and wife team 6-2 and 6-3, but what makes the match special is Borton plays with one arm.

Hlady says Borton has an artificial arm, but he only uses the good arm to play with.

"Man, can he hit the ball. And he is a super nice guy," Hlady said.

In all, 43 teams participated, but many defaulted because of the weather causing schedule conflicts, Hlady explained.

Feel Your Best During The Holiday Season

Because of our hectic schedules, many times we have a tendency to take our health for granted and ignore or cover up with medicines, warning signs (symptoms) that are produced by the body to let us know that a problem exists.

Generation after generation we have been taught that symptoms are "the bad guys" and the thing to do when they are present, is to take something to get rid of them. Every year in this country we spend millions of dollars trying to get rid of symptoms and yet each and every year our people get sicker and sicker. Sometimes without even knowing it.

Do you really believe that we are born onto this earth to go through life getting progressively sicker as we go, only to end up a senior citizen so riddled with sickness and disease that we use the rest of our time spending the fruits of our labors trying to buy back that which we had in the beginning, our HEALTH.

I hope by now you are asking yourself why? The answer is quite simple. Those symptoms that we've been talking about are not your problem at all. The real problem that you should be concerned about is what is causing those symptoms. When that cause is found and corrected the symptoms disappear, because they are no longer necessary.

This is what your Chiropractor does for you. His day is spent locating the cause of those symptoms and correcting it. Thereby assisting the body to regain your health. As many of you have heard me say, "There are no incurable diseases known to the body, but there are incurable patients." These are the people who continue to ignore signs (symptoms) of failing health for so long that by the time they act, perhaps it's too late. I hope you will not allow you or your family to fall into that category.

Yes, our health is truly our most precious gift. I ask that you take a little time during this year to maintain and preserve it.

INSURANCE Questions & Answers

A. Yes.

Q. Does my health insurance pay for chiropractic X-Rays and any other examination?

A. Yes.

Q. Does my health insurance pay for regular chiropractic office calls?

A. Yes, many major insurance companies, including Teamsters, Blue Cross-Blue Shield Master Medical Program (General Motors salaried employees, Ford Motor Company salaried employees, Great Lakes Steel, etc.). Aetna Insurance, Metropolitan, Prudential, and Travellers pay a portion if not all regular chiropractic office calls.

Q. If I receive injuries due to an automobile accident, does my no-fault auto insurance cover any chiropractic care that I may need?

A. Yes, all auto insurance coverage in the state of Michigan pays chiropractic care due to injuries sustained in accidents.

Q. I am a senior citizen. Will my Medicare pay for chiropractic adjustments?

A. Yes.

Q. Are chiropractic services covered by Workmen's Compensation Insurance, such as on the job injuries?

A. Yes, the Workmen's compensation law allows you to seek the doctor of your choice after the first 10 days following occupational injury. During the first 10 days, you may require employer authorization.

Q. Does Medicaid cover chiropractic adjustments and do you accept Medicaid patients?

A. Yes, Medicaid covers chiropractic adjustments and our office will be happy to accept Medicaid patients and any other patient who requests adjustments.

What You Should Know...

About on the Job Injuries

The health of the American workingman is of great importance to all people. As a result, extensive research has been done to study all aspects of occupational injuries.

On the job injuries, which cost American businesses 100 million man hours annually, represent a tremendous loss in production and revenues.

But our concern is with the pain and anxiety suffered by the American workingman—our family, friends and neighbors—when such injuries occur.

The most common occupational injury is sacroiliac strain. It occurs when the sacrum or tailbone slips from its normal position in relationship to the bones of the hip. There may be extensive muscle and ligament strain. The pain is sharp and movement of the legs is restricted. Often the sciatic nerve becomes involved which produces even greater disability.

A person suffering from sacroiliac strain may not be able to stand straight. Any attempt to stand tall results in a sharp and stinging pain. This type of strain is serious. If not corrected a sacroiliac strain can lead to chronic weakness and pain of the region. This injury results from improper lifting, straining when pushing heavy objects and poor working posture. It can be felt anywhere along the spine. There may be an injury to one or more vertebrae. If the strain occurs in the upper back, shoulders and arms may become involved. There is muscular tension and soreness. Any type of motion causes increased pain and all positions, whether sitting, standing or lying, may be uncomfortable.

Spinal and sacroiliac strain are only two of the disabling conditions a worker may suffer as a result of an on the job injury. But since back injuries account for one-tenth of the total time loss injuries in industry, it is this area which deserves attention. And it is this area in which Chiropractic do achieve great success. Chiropractic care can quickly reveal the involved vertebrae and corrective adjustments can bring about relief of the symptoms and a rapid correction of the disorder.

The spine is the life line of the body and good general health depends upon good spinal health. If you or one of your loved ones are hurt on the job, consult our Chiropractic Life Center immediately. Modern scientific chiropractic procedures reduce suffering, time loss and the possibility of permanent serious injury.

A HEALTHY Spine...

Like Money

in the Bank

FOR, as is your spine, so is your health. Never was there a more scientific FACT brought to the attention of the SICK world. Never was there a more important FACT for you to investigate to YOUR satisfaction and upon which YOU should act in ALL Matters of Sickness.

THE SPINE is the switchboard of the entire anatomical structure and since nerves that supply ALL organs and minute parts of the body EMIT between the little bones or vertebrae of the SPINE, it is here ONLY the pressures upon these SPINAL segments. This is the PRIMARY CAUSE of many problems. The work of the scientific Chiropractor is to LOCATE and REMOVE these pressures so that sick folks can get well.

As we have solved the Health Problems for others, we at the Kotila Chiropractic Life Center just may have the very answer you have been looking for. Let us help you get well.

What Some Of Your Neighbors Think

Being a nurse I must admit that I was more than a little skeptical when someone told me that Chiropractic Care might very well be the answer to a sinus problem I've had for years. My husband called me the "VICKS KID" as I went to bed every night with vicks salve on my face. Now that I've been under Dr. Miller's care at the Kotila Chiropractic Life Center of Northville, my sinus problems are almost completely gone. I am no longer called the "VICKS KID". I heartily recommend that all people try Chiropractic for all their health problems. It sure convinced me.

Violet Hoppe

It Really Helped Me

I decided to try Chiropractic Care after my brother experienced good results with his problems while under Dr. Miller's care at the Kotila Chiropractic Life Center of Northville. I am happy to state that my problems are now completely gone. I would recommend that anyone with health problems should really try Chiropractic care. It really helped me.

Terri Raczkowski

"I'm Never Tired"

in my lower back was increasing more and more, making it almost impossible to get out of bed some mornings.

After treatment at Kotila Chiropractic Life Center of Northville, I am entirely out of pain and my energy level is the highest I can remember.

This has greatly affected my enthusiasm and efficiency for my full time job in real estate. Its also made my family life much more fun because I'm never tired and I can keep up with all the activities of a large family.

Sincerely,
Mary Kelly

P.S. I planned on writing you a note to say thanks for your wonderful care and this just spurred me on to do it now. You're the greatest!

Dear Dr. Miller,

Just want to say thanks for helping me back to the peak of health.

I had been feeling less & less well over a period of time and the pain

Low Back Pain Gone

I suffered from low back pain and a limp on my right side for over 20 years. I heard about Dr. Miller from a friend who experienced excellent results previously, so I decided to give chiropractic a try. After just a short period of time I noticed a significant improvement of my problems. I can enjoy everything now that I have no more back pain. My limp from a 20 year old injury is almost gone too. I would recommend chiropractic care to anyone looking for an answer to any problems they may be having. I thank the Kotila Chiropractic Life Center of Northville.

Gus Hoppe

11 Danger Signals

Editor's Note

These testimonials do not mean that chiropractic cures or guarantees a cure. They are to prove that, by removing nerve interference, the body heals itself.

Hey Doc. . . What about my family?

That's a question that we have heard for years and we have now devised a plan to enable your whole family to enjoy the many benefits of good health.

Many times in the past we've suggested that patients bring in their families for treatments. We've heard patients say, "I'll wait until I get better." What they were really saying was "I just can't afford to have the entire family treated at the regular office fee." Even though our office call is the lowest in the area, we realize that it can be a burden to large families.

So, to serve the needs of patients who do not have full family health care insurance, we are proud to announce the Family Health Care Plan which will make good health a family affair.

We have designed this plan to extend good health to everyone. There is a genuine concern that families should stay healthy together. Good health is, indeed, a family affair and it is an affair to be remembered.

Take advantage of our new plan today. Call now — 348-3500 and ask about our Family Plan.
