Post haste

The long-awaited addition to Northville post office now is progressing on schedule as workmen this week are brick-laying the exterior. Extending along Cady from the building at Wing and Cady, the addition may be occupied before Northville gets its new postmaster. See related story on page 2-A.

Shared revenue cut and tax plan worry local governments

By KEVIN WILSON

State budget reductions and a property tax cut plan — both put forth by Governor William Milliken last week — have city and township officials scurrying to figure out their losses and examine their budgets.

Most immediate blow comes from the governor's executive order, issued September 16, to cut state expenditures by a total of $76 million as it scrambles to balance its budget.

Of that amount, some $27 million is coming from a state revenue sharing payment that was due August 30 but was delayed until September 30.

Although the order was rejected at the legislative level, largely because it also included further cuts to education, it is likely that Milliken's reductions in revenue sharing will go through.

The chop represents nearly 50 percent of the $56 million due by statute to local governments from the state's April through June income tax collections. Counties absorb $9.5 million of the cut, with $17.5 million coming from the monies due cities, villages and townships.

City Manager Steven Walters told council Monday night the executive order will slice nearly $9,000 from the amount projected, and budgeted, for Northville's shared revenue receipts.

Township Clerk Susan Heintz consulted auditors Plante and Moran yesterday and found the projected $5,852 payment would be sliced 53 percent to $2,791.16 — a $3,000 loss in projected income out of a budget from which township officials have been struggling to pare sums in the hundreds of dollars. Whether the reductions would also affect some $900 in monies due the township due to previous calculation errors is, as yet, unclear.

The city would lose more because it receives more state shared revenue monies to begin with — the formula used pays per capita based on a "relative tax effort (RTE)" figure.

The RTE is a reflection of the amount of tax levied by the local government. More revenue is shared with communities where the local tax burden is higher.

Of more long-range concern were the implications of Milliken's tax reduction proposal, which would take 10 percent off property tax bills and be retroactive to July billings.

The city collected its own share of property taxes in July. If forced by legislative act to reimburse 10 percent of that amount, Walters said, the cost would be more than $33,000.

City arcade law hearing Monday

An ordinance to regulate the operation of arcades in the city will be studied at a special meeting of city council set for 8 p.m. Monday.

Mayor pro tem G. Dewey Gardner asked for the special session and suggested that a temporary licensing agreement requested by James Rea for a 20-machine operation at the rear of 135 North Center be held in abeyance until the city has a regulatory ordinance.

Rea earlier had appeared before the council to request that he be allowed to purchase additional parking credits necessary for the operation. The agreement will be needed for him to do so, Gardner pointed out, although the city does not have to give him permission to operate an arcade as it is legal to do so.

Several merchants who have businesses located adjacent to the proposed arcade were in the audience, apparently expecting Rea would be on hand. Since he was not, Gardner delayed consideration of the temporary agreement, saying he was "not comfortable" entering into a special agreement when the city was in process of formulating an arcade ordinance.

Funeral held today for Mary Alexander

One of Northville's oldest and most dedicated city employees died Sunday at her home in Wishing Well Manor.

Funeral service for Mary Alexander, 90, who served almost 30 years as city clerk — from 1934-61, will be held at 2 p.m. today at First Presbyterian Church. The Reverend Lloyd Brasure and Dr. Lawrence Chamberlain will officiate the service. Burial will be at Rural Hill Cemetery.

At Monday's city council meeting, a single white rose was placed on the council table in her memory and mayor pro tem G. Dewey Gardner gave a eulogy in tribute to the longtime city employee.

Born in Germany in 1890 to William and Hilda Kunkel, Mrs. Alexander came to Northville around 1906 to seek employment. In 1913, she married Paul Alexander, a practicing dentist in Northville. The family lived at 220 Linden.

Paul Alexander died June 4, 1934, at the age of 46. Dr. Alexander, who was at that time, one of Northville's most respected citizens, died after an appendectomy operation.

It was shortly after her husband's death that Mary Alexander began her long career as village clerk. When the village of Northville incorporated as a city, the clerk's post became appointive and Mrs. Alexander, who was working as a secretary for the city, was chosen for the clerk's position by the city council.

For 10 consecutive elections over a period of 20 years, Mrs. Alexander was re-elected as village clerk — always unopposed.

Howard Burkart was village president when Mrs. Alexander began her career. Throughout her 27 years as clerk, she served under the administrations of Arthur Nichols, Elmer Perrin, Adelbert Hohn, Forrest Doren, Carl Bryan, C.E. Langfield, Claude Ely and A.M. Allen.

For a quarter of a century, Mrs. Alexander recorded all the births and deaths in Northville. And from 1934-54, she managed "city hall" alone. In 1954, an assistant clerk was appointed.

In 1961, after 800 meetings and nine presidents and mayors, Mrs. Alexander retired. She was 71.

After her retirement, Mrs. Alexander spent time traveling and visiting with relatives and friends. A frequent visitor was her brother-in-law Edgar Eisenhower, brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

On September 5, 1972, the Northville City Council paid tribute to Mrs. Alexander's many years of service by voting to name the alley off Main in her honor.

On April 1, 1974, the street was officially dedicated by the council as a public thoroughfare.

The city proclaimed last November 18 "Mary Alexander Day" in recognition of her 90th birthday.

In addition to serving as city clerk, Mrs. Alexander also was a member of the First Presbyterian Church, the Kings Daughters, the Northville Business and Professional Women's Club and the Order of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. Alexander is survived by her daughters Mrs. Louise Angove of Novi and Mrs. Frances Bray of Boyne City.

Other survivors include five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

The family suggests memorial contributions be made to Kings Daughters. Funeral arrangements were made by Casterline Funeral Home.

Northville carrier's first contest winner

After only two weeks, Paul Stoecklin, 11, has signed up 24 new Record subscribers to become the first winner in our carrier contest.

Paul, the son of Tom and Rita Stoecklin of 21856 North Center, has won a free trip to Toronto and Niagara Falls by hurrying to sign-up 23 new subscriptions.

Paul must have a pretty smooth sales pitch because he not only was the first carrier to sign-up new subscribers in the Northville area, but was first among the other paper carriers who deliver to affiliated newspapers in Milford, South Lyon, Novi and Walled Lake.

The Amerman Elementary sixth-grader, whose paper route covers the area from Welch to Eight Mile and Old Novi Road to Center, said he will most likely take the four day-three night trip to Niagara Falls and Toronto because he's never been there.

Record staffers had a hard time luring Paul to the office after notifying him that he had won the contest. Paul, who has only had his paper route about six months, was hoping to spend the afternoon selling more subscriptions.

In addition to his paper route, Paul also enjoys track, soccer and baseball. His favorite school subjects are science and social studies.

Other Northville carriers coming close to the 23-minimum mark at the beginning of this week were Chris Beecher of 46131 Norton with 20 new subscriptions, Ricky Abramovich of 45748 Clement with 19 and Phil Haines of 16416 Sutters with 21.

Newspaper carriers for The Northville Record, South Lyon Herald, Milford Times, and Novi-Walled Lake News have until October 21 to sign-up at least 23 new subscriptions to win a trip to Toronto or Niagara Falls.

Carriers who surpass the minimum in attaining new subscriptions will also be eligible to win a host of other prizes from a special prize catalogue.

Carrier winners who are unable to take the Toronto-Niagara Falls trip November 19-22 will be able to choose prizes instead.

We're helping carriers by offering subscriptions sold by carriers at half-price ($6). Residents have four more weeks to take advantage of this half-price offer and help their newspaper carrier win a trip to Toronto and Niagara Falls.

State men's prison planned here

State plans to construct a 548-bed men's prison in Northville Township will be presented to the public in an informational meeting October 1 in township hall.

Located on 38 acres of state-owned land bounded by Beck Road on the east and Five Mile to the south, the prison would be largely occupied by medium security prisoners with other facilities for "close custody" and minimum security inmates.

The Michigan Department of Corrections has proposed the facility in order to add prison capacity. Overcrowding has become a problem in Michigan prisons in recent years. The regional facility has been planned for some time, and is the second of a three-phase project in the area.

The state owns some 155 acres in the area where the prison would be built. Formerly the site of Detroit House of Corrections, some of the land now is used for the medium security Phoenix Correctional Institution immediately west of the site of the proposed regional prison.

Citizens can ask questions and express their concerns to be added to an already-prepared environmental impact statement written about the site at the 7:30 p.m. session October 1 in Northville Township Hall, 41600 Six Mile.

Security for the prison will consist of two 12-foot high cyclone fences, special razor wire and an electronic detection system.

The projected cost is $35 million and the prison would employ about 250 people. Estimated construction time is three years.

Land for the prison projects was chosen after considerable opposition was raised to state intentions to build a prison on the Wayne County Child Development Center property. That parcel currently is being planned as a senior citizens housing facility.

Shared services needed

By JEAN DAY

Township treasurer Richard Henningsen hit the core of both the city and township's problems — money — at the conclusion of the joint meeting of city council and township trustees with recreation commissioners last Thursday as he quipped, "Is bingo out?"

"I vote for bingo!" seconded City Manager Steven Walters.

The exchange came at the conclusion of an hour-and-a-half session in which it was evident that money — or lack of it — is the main problem for both recreation and library, the community's joint services.

During a session aided by an obvious attitude of trying to understand each other's problems the need for funds for both growing library and recreation programs was reiterated by spokesmen for each.

While sympathetic, city and township officers could not offer hope for additional revenues from their budgets. They could and did reaffirm the opening statement of Mayor pro tem G. Dewey Gardner emphasizing the importance of the shared services.

As Township Supervisor John MacDonald gave his personal endorsement to the shared programs, he warned the recreation officials, however, that he saw a need to "go out and justify a recreation program."

Chairman William Bingley responded, "We're open to any recommendation."

Henningsen and Walters both stressed that one of the biggest helps would be to see the recreation department's next year's budget requests as soon as possible. Director Edward Kriczys promised it would be ready within six weeks.

The request came after Kenneth Kunkel of Plante and Moran, auditor for both city and township, reported that his review of recreation department books and records showed they "are completely kept and documentation is very good."

He pinpointed the department's problems as 1.) uneven monetary needs that are at a peak from April to September, and 2.) managing the present deficit.

The department audit in March showed a year-end 1980 deficit of $33,000. He termed the under-run in raising revenues as well as the cash flow demands the department's continuing problem.

Disappointing sales of signature squares in the new floor of the community building gymnasium was pointed out as a major disappointment. Kriczys said, "We'd be out from under (the deficit) if all the squares were sold."

Walters pointed out that part of the recreation department's problem is the lack of a "cushion," such as the library has, to carry the department for even a month.

"We aren't going to be able to bail out the situation (as the city did this year) by spring. We're now talking about farming out services in the city. You'll find us much poorer. The surplus in funds we had doesn't exist now," he warned.

Gardner opened the session with fellow council members J. Burton

DeRusha and Jerry Mittman present. All township trustees were on hand. In addition to MacDonald and Henningsen were clerk Susan Heintz, and trustees James Nowka, Richard Allen, James Armstrong and Thomas L. P. Cook with business manager David Leiko.

Anne Mannisto appealed for library consideration although Henningsen observed the library services appeared in good order at present because there is not a cash flow problem. The funding had been cut to $59,000 from the township and $42,897 from the city, a reduction of $5,681 from the original budget request.

"Circulation is up 22 percent, the summer reading program drew 400 in contrast to 250 the previous year. We can get through one year (with the reduced budget), but, if we face another year with cutbacks we have no choice but to cut staff and hours and the book budget."

"We are committed to an automated circulation system and have qualified for a $3,000 grant," Mannisto told the session.

In contrast to the deficit situation of the recreation department, however, the library appeared in good condition.

Kunkel pointed out that the recreation department started the year with a $33,000 deficit. Revenues have not been coming in as expected, he said.

Kriczys reported he had contacted the 27 renters of the community building, increasing the rent one dollar an hour to offset gas price hikes. The janitorial services have been cut to half time, he added, pointing out that the recreation department's taking over the building was projected as a five year program.

Bingley said the commission was exploring "every way to increase revenues — from pancake suppers on."

"Although there have been two raises (in program costs), to this point we have not seen a decline in participation," Bingley reported.

Gardner questioned whether greater use of the building could produce more revenue, noting that the chamber of commerce was returning to hold its dinner meeting there.

Kriczys said there have been more requests including one from the M.A.G.S. for a dinner meeting for 700, but that lack of equipment, especially tables and chairs, is the problem.

"We're trying our best to get new (tenants), but we have to watch out for our regular renters," he said.

"Our renters have been very gracious about changing schedules for special events, such as the fall three-day antique show, and have said they will make up lost dates at the end of their year. I don't think we're leaving any money on the table, but we have to realize we're not Roma Hall."

"Rock concerts have been money makers — we're thinking of anything." With the city and township contributing roughly half of the recreation budget representative of both emphasized that early budget projections this year are essential.

Kunkel outlined the recreation department's cash flow problems as acute from April until September when income exceeds outgo. In October, he stated, more is spent than taken in and then spending levels out with program revenues balancing expenditures.

Township treasurer Henningsen noted, "That (cash flow) leaves us in a position we don't like (for funding), but there isn't a thing we can do about it."

Allen agreed that it would be easier to fund in 12 equal payments as has worked out well for library services.

Kriczys was questioned about the possibility of groups handling their own programs, as the Colts do. He said this has been explored but most groups do not want to get into it.

Speaking for the soccer program, Don Bisdorf said that it already uses about 80 volunteers and "it would be asking a lot for them to cut the grass and use a tractor."

He said the program already is "pretty much self-supporting."

Nowka noted that the joint services are a saving over each body having its own but said "they're not a major part of our budgets."

Kunkel said the only way he could see help for local units of government was "if the state comes back economically and retail sales are back on track." In the meantime as MacDonald observed, "it's extremely tight for all departments."

Postmaster appointee declines offer Friday

Northville came within a day of having a permanent postmaster last week. At the 11th hour, however, the man who was to have been sworn in at 9 a.m. Friday declined the post.

The appointment of a postmaster to succeed John Steimel was to have become effective last Saturday. Steimel, who died in January, had been postmaster since 1965.

After his death, notice of the vacancy was posted by the postal service and examinations and interviews were conducted. James E. O'Beirne's appointment was announced September 8 by Paul N. Carlin, regional postmaster general for the 13-state central postal region. Since May, 1977, he has been serving as manager of the Teleford station. He started his postal career as a part-time Flex carrier in 1967 and has spent the majority of his career at Dearborn.

He notified the postal service last Thursday that he wasn't accepting the position. While the reason given was not announced, a post office source said O'Beirne did not feel he could afford to move to Northville, but noted that it is possible to seek a waiver of the requirement if the appointee lives within a close radius.

Thomas Pegram, second acting postmaster in the interim period, said Monday he expects to be here until a replacement is named.

It was not known yet whether the postal service would select from the remaining applicants or whether the vacancy would have to be posted again with examinations and interviews repeated.

Pegram, a Detroit career postal worker, already has been given a new managerial assignment in the city, but will not transfer until replaced. He says he is anxious to begin his new assignment but is enjoying his work here. He has praised the local staff and its cooperativeness.

He's in service

Northville's Phillip J. Beaudion has entered his freshman year at the U.S. Air Force Academy in Colorado.

The cadet was one of more than 1,400 freshmen who were officially accepted into the cadet wing after completing six weeks of intensive field training, physical conditioning and survival training.

Beaudion goes to the academy with four years of academic study and military training which will lead to a bachelor of science degree and a commission as a second lieutenant in the Air Force.

Artisans are putting the final details on items to be sold at next week's Tivoli Fair which begins at 10 a.m. October 2.

Committee members report that 120 booths will be open at this year's fair — an increase of 20 percent over last year.

This popular event, sponsored by the Northville Historical Society, will be held from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. October 2 and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. October 3 at Northville Downs.

All proceeds from the fair will go towards furnishing the Wash-Oak Schoolhouse at Mill Race Village. Though the schoolhouse is scheduled to open for classes and workshops October 1, several furnishings still are needed such as school benches and slates.

Committee members for this year's fair include Martha Nield, chairman; Jeanne Parkinson, country store; Polly Kurowski, publicity; Judith Sechler, Marion Frohriep and Joyce Ziegler, raffle; Shirley Millard and Hazel Coon, food; Pat Stringer, activities and Camille Bloomberg, hostesses.

The Tivoli Fair committee is accepting donations of sewn items, baked or canned goods, dried flowers and herbs for the Country Store Booth. Persons interested in making a donation should contact committee chairman Martha Nield at 349-1079 or Jeanne Parkinson at 348-0032.

Sewer plans presented in hearing here

Six alternative methods of wastewater treatment for the North Service Area of the Huron Valley Wastewater Treatment Facilities Plan will be presented in public session tonight, September 23, in Northville Township Hall, 41600 Six Mile Road. The alternatives represent the results of a study that began with more than 30 possible methods of providing service to the planning area — the so-called "super sewer" project.

Super sewer, as originally envisioned, is no longer, but some of the alternatives now being considered bear a distant relation to the plan to run a large interceptor sewer from southeast Oakland County south then east to a treatment plant in Brownstown Township, serving all western and southern Wayne County communities.

The southern portion and the treatment plant were approved and are under design now, but the north service area, from Plymouth to White Lake Township is under study. The alternatives are those developed to serve this area.

Of the six alternatives being presented, one is basically a "do nothing" approach that must be considered under federal Environmental Protection Agency guidelines.

A second calls for minimal improvements. The other four play variations on the sewer theme, routing sewage flow either to the Detroit system or the Brownstown treatment plant, including and excepting different communities.

Most significant result of the study is complete elimination of White Lake Township from consideration for inclusion in sewer construction. All six final alternatives call for "local treatment" of various types. Septic systems, package plants and the like are included, as is more vigorous inspection by county health and drain departments.

Extension of the sewer lines through Commerce Township to the southern edge of White Lake Township was trimmed from the alternatives list because of cost. Such an interceptor had been included in 20 of the 34 alternatives from which the final six were chosen.

"That (elimination of White Lake Township from sewer service) is the one thing, really, that has happened," said Michael Selak of Black and Veatch, leading consulting engineers on the project. "From this point in our study, we will not be considering handling flows from White Lake. As you go up (north) into Commerce, there is quite a jump in the cost of interceptors."

Also included in the final six alternatives are provisions for the city of Wixom, previously not participating in the plan. Of the four plans containing extensive interceptor construction, flow from Wixom would be sent to Detroit in two and to the new plant in Brownstown Township in the other two. To be considered in the selection of a final plan will be Wixom's stated intent to connect to Brownstown, not Detroit.

Although the choice of which alternative to implement is to be made among the six finalists, "minor variations" could be accommodated — combining some aspects of one alternative with another.

One of the variables is service to Wolverine Lake Village. Although some of the final six proposals would eliminate the village from sewer service in the system, one of these could be chosen and "adjusted" to accommodate that community.

"Wolverine is so small, and so closely related to Walled Lake and Commerce, that we could add it or delete it from any of the alternatives without great impact. It would be a minor variation we could accommodate," Selak told the citizen's advisory committee last week.

Tonight's hearing will include projected per capita costs per community for each alternative, the advisory committee was told.

Price would be assessed by selling capacity in the sewer to local water and sewer departments, with the cost per unit of capacity rising as the distance from the treatment plant increases.

Many communities, it was noted, have contracts with the Detroit Water and Sewer Department. If, as many communities desire, the new system is used to send sewage to Brownstown, there could be considerable cost involved in getting out of those contracts with Detroit.

Those costs will be included in cost estimates, Selak said.

Also to be considered are the six preferred alternatives are pared into one plan is the capacity of the Detroit system and whether it will meet the needs of outlying communities. While some alternatives include continuing to route flow to Detroit, it is unknown if that system will be able to accept anticipated flows.

Under all six alternatives, a key provision is addition of a relief sewer running through Northville Township, Plymouth Township and the city of Plymouth en route to the Detroit system.

Flows from points north would go through this system, which in its present state is taxed near capacity as the city of Northville, Novi and other users have discovered.

Added flow from the north into this system, whether routed to Brownstown or Detroit, would require added capacity so the relief sewer is included in all six alternatives, including the "do nothing" one, as it is proposed regardless of the super sewer activity.

Four of the six alternatives would include continued operation of the Walled Lake Sewage Treatment Plant. In the other two, northern Novi and Walled Lake would connect to the Brownstown system.

The rest of Novi is routed alternatively to Detroit or Brownstown in all six choices made.

Routing of an interceptor through Commerce varies depending on what is done with the Walled Lake plant.

Noise ordinance passed by board

By KEVIN WILSON

Peace and quiet has long been the rule in Northville Township. Soon it will be the law as well.

The township board of trustees September 10 approved its long-awaited, much-debated noise abatement ordinance, complete with specific sections intended to augment the ability of police to respond to complaints of "disturbing the peace."

The law, effective October 16, sets objective noise standards for stationary sources such as industrial operations, air conditioning units and the like. It also spells out several "objectionable" sounds and outlaws them during certain hours of the day.

Most likely to affect residents directly are the latter provisions, which are included in the first portion of the ordinance.

Specifically prohibited are 13 potential sources of annoying noise in addition to a general statement outlawing "any activity...so loud, noisy, boisterous or offensive in nature as to endanger the safety, health, comfort or repose of the public."

Included in the list of restricted noises are:

- Sounding of horns, or other audible signals, in motor vehicles, except as an emergency signal;
- playing radios, televisions, phonographs or musical instruments at high volume, particularly between 11 p.m. and 7 a.m.;
- yelling or other vocal sound disturbing to the public, again with specific reference to the hours of 11 p.m. and 7 a.m.;

- hawking goods or papers so loudly as to disturb the public;
- keeping of animals or birds that make objectionable noise;
- loud blowing of whistles or sirens, except to signal work start and stop times or as a danger warning;
- erection, excavation, demolition or repair of buildings or streets except between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. unless a permit is obtained from the building department;
- excessive noise connected with loading or unloading vehicles or the destruction of shipping crates or boxes;
- use of drums, loud speakers or amplifiers to attract attention;
- operation of a loud motor vehicle;
- operation of a sound truck, unless permission of the clerk is secured;
- operation of gasoline-powered lawn maintenance equipment or chain saws between 10 p.m. and 7 a.m.

These provisions were actually late additions to the law, made to give township police a more specific law for use in cases in which prohibitions against disturbing the peace have been insufficient to address a concern.

Trustee Richard Allen, who drafted the original document, said he wished to make clear that the final restriction deliberately states "lawn maintenance" and should not be construed as placing time restrictions on residents' ability to plow snow.

Penalty for violation of these parts of the law is a maximum $100 fine. Those portions of the ordinance that spell out the hours of 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. were the only items discussed by the board before it granted final approval to the law, which it had already reviewed once and sent to the township attorney.

Unchanged by attorney review, the ordinance passed unanimously, as written. Acting police chief Kenneth Hardesty had suggested the hours be changed to coincide with park quiet hours of 10 p.m. to 7 a.m.

While some trustees expressed sentiment for that provision, James Armstrong voiced strong objection to such a change.

"That's rolling up the sidewalks," he said. "As a parent, and a neighbor to other parents, I think 11 is a reasonable time on a Saturday night for kids to play a stereo or something."

Others concurred and Trustee James Nowka's motion to revise the hours died for lack of support.

Virtually undiscussed was the original intent of the law, which Allen vigorously campaigned for in his role as a planning commissioner and township board member.

Section 4 of the ordinance sets stationary source sound limits. When the receiving property (adjacent land to the property on which a sound is created) is zoned for residential use, the law allows a maximum sound level of 55 decibels, as measured on the A scale (dBA).

If receiving properties are business or commercial in nature, the limit is 62 dBA.

The decibel is a unit of sound measurement that can be metered. The A scale is one used when attempting to replicate the reception of the human ear — other scales exist which have different uses. The scales are logarithmic, and a difference of a few units can represent doubling or tripling of sound levels.

The law also anticipates the possibility that ambient noise (that existing because of nearby roads, waterworks, or the like) will approach or exceed the limit. In such cases, stationary sources which exceed the ambient noise by 3 dBA or more would be in violation.

In all cases, sources that emit "pure" tones or impulsive sounds must meet standards 5 dBA lower than those for random sounds.

Penalty for violations of the stationary source sound limits are a maximum $500 fine. For both sections of the ordinance, each day of prohibited activity constitutes a separate offense.

Planners and council discuss roles, methods, issues in joint session

Concerns of Northville City Council and the nine members of the city planning commission were aired in a lengthy special session September 14 in an attempt to resolve differences that have become increasingly noticed recently.

Extent of the planning commission's authority and lack of follow-up on its directives were two issues aired repeatedly in the two-and-a-half hour session.

Mayor Paul Vernon opened the meeting, citing the review process as one of the most visible concerns. He emphasized that those who wish to build and renovate in the community should not be "turned off" by the review process.

He defined the commission's function in this area as "keeping the process as orderly and functional as possible."

How far the planning commission should go in accommodating an applicant was questioned as planner Bruce Turnbull explained, "Occasionally we get an application that is hand-drawn — the applicant may already have talked to the city manager and then comes to us."

Commission chair Lesa Buckland told the council the commission has been trying to accommodate applicants, sometimes having plan changes initialled at the meetings.

"I feel the tools are there for an applicant to come prepared," she told the council, however.

In the discussion of the course of an application, the commissioners told the council that they often see the applicant's plans and the recommendations of city planning consultant Ronald Nino only when they arrive at the meeting.

Council member G. Dewey Gardner asked if the distance from Nino's office in Grand Blanc was a problem in getting information.

Buckland said not, but added the commission does not know when plans are sent to Nino. Phyllis Bell, building department employee, said plans are sent the day received but the department requires they be filed 15 days prior to a planning commission meeting.

Commissioner Stewart Kissinger told the council that the city is much more lenient than most communities in accepting applications.

He pushed for a clearer definition of what is needed, saying, "We get applications with bits and pieces of paper attached. There ought to be some kinds of standards for submission. In some communities if your application information is on the wrong side of the sheet it's rejected."

Kissinger, who is in the architectural field, stated he understands it is not the commission's function to judge on building codes — "but what do you do when you view definite code violations?"

Vernon responded that occupancy permits are not issued by the city's building inspector unless the building meets requirements.

City Manager Steven Walters warned that, if he and Bell as city employees have more review work to do on applications, an increase in staffing will be needed.

Buckland stressed that applicants wanting direction have been welcome at the commission meeting but said that is not the usual situation.

"Most people have a time factor — they want everything overnight."

Commissioner Thomas Wheaton said, "We are not empowered to make variations, but most of the plans we see are not correct." He said he feels the commission must give equal treatment to all and should not have situations of favoritism.

Council member J. Burton DeRusha, a former head of the planning commission himself, said he feels there is a need for understanding of the role of the planning commission. He suggested that concerns could be "red flagged" for the building department.

He questioned whether drawings (renovations) should be reviewed by the building department before planners viewed them.

The role of the planning consultant and question of greater utilization of his expertise was raised along with the query of whether the city was getting its money's worth. The city consultant receives a flat fee of $300 monthly for work done.

Kissinger stated he felt Nino's reviews are "very professional" and better than many he sees.

Vernon asked the commission to "work up information on what you require and develop what you see" as sound planning. Find out from Nino what he thinks he should be doing.

The commission now has a "check list" that developers are required to complete before coming for approval.

A prime concern was lack of enforcement of commission requirements. Asked to be specific, the commissioners cited lack of paving in parking lots of buildings long ago approved. Some businesses, it was conceded, have been a city problem as owners in a few instances have ignored city requirements.

Walters said the city has tried to work with these situations rather than have to take them to court.

Buckland indicated that Nino has made suggestions for long range city planning and said she would pursue "what we should be doing down the road."

As Vernon suggested that commissioners consult with Nino for his suggestions and reformulate application procedures, Turnbull told council, "We're not on different teams — we're all on one — but you're first team and we're second."

Police auction offers steals on wheels

It surely was not a record turnout September 12 when the Northville City Police held their annual auction, but those who were there definitely got a bargain on everything they purchased.

Abandoned bicycles in varying grades of shape, style and appearance were auctioned off anywhere from two dollars to $65. Mag wheels, an office chair, even an air hockey table went for under $10.

Russ Barnes, (right) a cadet with the department served as auctioneer. Bill and Karen Doehr (below) purchased a bike for five dollars, claiming that the rack on the back cost twice as much at the store. Ann Marie Romanik and her mother Carol (bottom) eventually outbid the competition for a new bike. Dick and Lynda Marshall (bottom right) also got their bids in.

Those who missed the bargains will have another opportunity at 4:30 p.m. Thursday, September 24, when the Northville Township police auction off similar items in township hall 41600, Six Mile Road.

Walkaways

Debate hospital issue, township seeks action

Are walkaways from Northville State Hospital dangerous people or "just ill?"

Both opinions were expressed before the township board September 10. Regardless of who won the debate carried out before them, the trustees decided to pursue, once again, some solution to the problem.

In a letter to Senator R. Robert Geake (R-Northville) the township asks assistance "in scheduling a meeting with Mr. Babcock, the new director of the Department of Mental Health, as soon as possible."

Charles R. Yessiaian, of 40860 West Seven Mile, appeared before the board to urge the board to seek a solution to the walkaway situation.

Yessiaian, whose home is directly across the street from the hospital driveway, has a rezoning petition before the township to change his house to an office zoning. The issue will not reach the board level until at least October, and Yessiaian did not mention it in his address to the board. His neighbors did, however.

His wooded, two and one-half acre parcel has become "an unofficial halfway house for escapees" of the hospital, Yessiaian told the board.

"The walkaways hide in my woods and wait for their chance to escape," he said, and his wife averages three calls a week to hospital security forces regarding escapees at his house or yard.

He recounted several encounters with escapees trying to steal his car, hiding behind his barn, sleeping on neighbors' lawns and a possible assault on his lawn. He has made an investment of $5,000 in security measures, Yessiaian said, and still does not feel the yard is safe for his two preschool children.

A neighbor, present to inquire after the board's decision to grant office zoning to Joseph Petro, a resident immediately to the west of Yessiaian, downplayed the escapee problem.

Ellen Lewis, whose home is at Smock and Seven Mile, one block east of Yessiaian, said the problem is not as bad as her neighbor depicted it.

"What I want to know," she said, "is why the board went ahead and approved the Petro zoning when two commissions (township planners and county road) opposed it."

Supervisor John MacDonald, who did not answer the question when first posed, but returned to it later, said it was the board feeling that offices were the only reasonable use for the property.

"Nobody we know of is going to build on this section of Seven Mile," he said. "Particularly with regard to the hospital situation. We know of the problem. If you are not getting it, you are fortunate."

"I still think you sold us out," Lewis said. She was supported by Mrs. Andrew Briggs, whose home lies between Lewis's and Yessiaian's.

"We've lived there 26 years," she said. "We had a problem once, about 15 years ago, and that was it."

Briggs said she chose the home partially because it was located across from the hospital grounds. "We knew it was state property," she said, "and that it would always be well maintained."

"Many of us bought the homes as homes. It gives you a very bad feeling when half your block goes offices," she concluded.

"Perhaps you don't understand Mr. Yessiaian's position with young children," MacDonald noted.

Yessiaian and Briggs got into a brief exchange regarding the severity of the problem.

"Most of these people are not dangerous," Briggs said, "they're just sick."

"Lady," Yessiaian responded, "there was a murder (by an escapee) two years ago. That's not dangerous?"

"One," Briggs answered. "You can have one murder without a hospital."

"One isn't enough?" Yessiaian asked. "What if that one was you?"

"Then I wouldn't be here, would I?" Briggs concluded.

MacDonald noted that the township police department frequently is involved with returning escapees to the hospital and called on acting police chief Kenneth Hardesty for a rundown.

In August, Hardesty said, 68 escapees were reported, and 35 returned, leaving 33 presumably "at large."

His own department, which handles about 30 percent of the cases, he estimated, apprehended six escapees in August. None were involved in criminal activity.

The police spent one hour and 46 minutes directly assisting hospital security forces.

Clerk Susan Heintz noted that the township had, as it has since February, prepared a bill to the state for police time used in assisting hospital security.

None has been paid. From February through July 18 hours and 39 minutes of police time at a cost to the township of $1,136.41 has been attributed to the state hospital.

Water and Sewer meeting fee set

Persons requesting a special meeting of the township water and sewer commission will be charged a $500 fee to offset costs of calling such a session, the board of trustees decided September 10.

Similar policies exist for the township board of trustees ($500) and planning commission ($600) to cover the extra costs of special meetings called by a petitioner.

Board members said the policies are necessary not only to cover expenses, but also to prevent the bodies from being loaded down by petitioners seeking faster action for some personal reason or because the petitioner is late in filing for an appearance.

"Regular monthly meetings are going on all the time," explained Supervisor John MacDonald. "Some people would just like to rush us along for their own reasons instead of working toward appearing on the regular agenda."

At the same meeting, the board approved the request of the water and sewer commission to postpone its regular September 16 meeting to September 30.

A public hearing is scheduled September 23 for discussion of proposed sewer facilities in the Huron Valley Wastewater Treatment plan. The meeting, in township hall, is of interest to the water and sewer commission.

Any required township action or discussion could be conducted one week later by delaying the water and sewer commission meeting to the later date.

A Special Offer...For One Week Only

Aren't you tired of going from doctor to doctor looking for relief, trying to find someone or something to ease your pain and suffering? Have you been told your pain is just in your head and caused by your nerves (but YOU know it's real)? Why not try chiropractic care.

Chiropractic is the natural health science. Chiropractors realize that when your body suffers from aches, pains and discomforts these symptoms are actually warning signals of your declining health and not the central underlying problem. Chiropractors are "cause doctors" and seek to locate and correct the cause of your health problems and thereby eliminate your symptoms.

This one week only offer gives you the unique opportunity to find out if your health problem is due to a pinched nerve.

Why be sick when you can be well.

CHINA GIFT — Ed Jamieson, center, receives a plaque from Northville Kiwanis Club to be presented on his current trip to the Republic of China as a message of friendship from the people of Northville. John Genitti, Kiwanis president, left, and Salim Abraham, vice president whose idea it was, display the plaque with its brass outline of the state and star for Northville.

Kiwanis Club plaque sends China greetings

As Northville Kiwanian and local travel agent Ed Jamieson boarded a plane for China last week with 40 Michigan rural leaders, tucked in his luggage was an impressive plaque that is to be a gift for the people of the Republic of China.

The one-of-a-kind plaque was created for Northville Kiwanis to send with Jamieson after the club learned of his planned trip. The wood plaque boasts a brass map of Michigan with Northville starred.

As he departed with the group of dairy farmers, hog raisers and fruit and vegetable growers, Jamieson said he will display the plaque throughout the trip and then hopes to present it to the vice-chairman of the Republic of China.

Jamieson, owner of Northville Travel Plans at 112 West Main, has been handling the rural leaders' Friendship Travelers' trips since 1976.

The group, he said, will be meeting with top agricultural leaders in China viewing their methods and teaching about American ones. The 17-day trip, including a visit to Hong Kong, was sold out in 10 days, he noted.

The travelers, at a cost of $2,899 a person from Detroit, will be gone 17 days. Hotels and all meals will be included as they visit communes and farms.

After flying Detroit-Seattle, the group is to stop at Tokyo enroute to Hong Kong. From there it will continue to Beijing and be briefed on customs and courtesies for the other four cities to be visited. They are Nanjing, Wuxi, Suzhou and Shanghai.

Beijing will be more familiar to Americans as Peking, the 3000-year old city that has been the capital of China for 700 years. The farming area southwest of the city is irrigated with an eight month growing season for wheat, rice, maize, barley and fruits, Jamieson explained.

Pig breeding and fishing are important at Wuxi, Jamieson said, while Suzhou (Sochow) is famous for its gardens and canals.

In Nanjing (Nanking), considered a city of agriculture, the travelers will learn about 63 communes, Jamieson added, with grain, tea, vegetables, apples, cherries and watermelon important products.

In China, Jamieson explained, the China International Travel Service handles all arrangements for visitors, assigning hotels and providing all meals, dictating how many days and cities to be visited. He said the facilities will be "very adequate but not luxurious."

When he returns, Jamieson, a veteran travel agent, will begin planning a February trip for the rural leaders to Australia and New Zealand.

Earlier this month Jamieson had made arrangements through his Northville travel agency for a trip of 200 physicians to England.

He has planned trips for the rural leaders previously to Hawaii; England, Scotland and Ireland; Germany, France, Luxembourg, Switzerland, Italy and Austria; California; and Washington, Oregon, British Columbia.

Drug program tomorrow for senior citizens

A drug education forum for senior adults will be presented at 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Northville Public Library.

The program, entitled "What You Always Wanted to Ask Your Druggist", is part of a Schoolcraft College pilot program designed to inform seniors on how to take medication wisely, how to ask their doctor about prescriptions and how to share health information with their physician.

Pharmacist Tom McKernan of Mercy Wood Hospital will be on hand at tomorrow's program to answer questions about prescriptions and will explain ways to manage your medication, how to save money on drug purchases, the action of drugs on nutrition and the side effects of prescriptions and over-the-counter drugs.

Seniors are encouraged to bring their medicine containers or a list of all the prescriptions and over-the-counter drugs which they take regularly or on occasion.

The film, "Wise Use of Prescription Drugs," will be shown and a free booklet will be available for keeping a record of medications.

There is no charge for the program which will last about two hours. All Northville senior adults are welcome to attend.

City will contract refuse pick-up

Beginning next month residential trash collection in the city will be by a private firm rather than the Department of Public Works.

At Monday night's council session the city approved the low bid of Midwestern Sanitation of Inkster at $64,467 — or $2.85 a household — for residential collection.

Noting that the bid was a savings of $7,000 compared to cost for the city to perform the service, Walters advised the council that he could not see "any hope of not doing so. The amount of money we're saving will be needed just to offset cuts coming."

He referred to his analysis included in the council's agenda of what the governor's proposed 10 percent property tax reduction would do to city financing.

Mayor pro tem G. Dewey Gardner in voting to farm out the collection service said he felt "obligated to do so because of the amount of the savings."

"If it were not significant, it would be different," agreed council member J. Burton DeRusha as he and Jerome Mittman voted for the low bid. Mayor Paul Vernon and council member Carolann Ayers were noted as excused absences.

"This is probably just the beginning of a series of hard decisions," DeRusha said. Mittman asked what the outlook was for the low bidder hiring the three DPW workers it had been projected might be laid off.

Walters said Midwestern Sanitation was committed in the bidding to hire them if vacancies occurred in the first six months of the contract or if added personnel were needed. However, he warned, it appeared the bid was lower than expected because the firm needed work to keep present employees on the payroll as it had lost a portion of a contract.

He said he would not expect the renewal to be as low, but noted that the present bid could help offset any unemployment payments.

Walters said it was entirely possible the city may be able to transfer some of the DPW employees to different duties, depending on costs. He mentioned increased maintenance projected in the Mainstreet renovation but also noted the city presently is negotiating contracts with employees.

The council went into closed session at the end of the meeting to discuss arbitration and a police grievance.

In making the decision to seek refuse collection bids, the council was aware the savings would be in the areas of fringe benefits and landfill charges.

DPW Superintendent Theodore Mapes, who was in the audience along with DPW members, said the charges now are about $1,000 a month. The city also has been aware that it might have difficulty finding a landfill at the expiration of its contract with Holloway landfill.

Under the terms of the bid, the landfill is Midwestern's responsibility.

Midwestern Sanitation said it would have no trouble in beginning service October 5 and would be willing to purchase a city packer, as specified in the bid, at the average cost of two appraisals. Midwestern is a union contractor, Teamsters Local 247.

The firm presently holds municipal contracts in the cities of Plymouth, Wayne and Harper Woods.

The community education program has been expanded this year to include courses for persons of all ages. Registrations are still being accepting for the G.E.D. classes scheduled for Monday and Wednesday mornings and evenings and other high school completion classes. For more information call 349-3400.

Tax rates determined for bills

Millage rates to be levied by local governments in Northville Township have been established for December billings.

(Township residents pay all taxes through the single billing, while city residents pay in two smaller billings in July and December).

As computed under the Headlee Amendment to the state constitution, the millages have been reduced from the amounts authorized by voters. Official resolutions to establish the billings were adopted by the township board last week.

The township, for instance, has 3 mills of approved property tax to levy, but after the Headlee rollbacks can collect only 2.95 mills. This represents an increase over last year's allowable levy of 2.93 mills, because the 1.5 mill renewal of police millage approved in May is not subject to Headlee provisions in this, its first year. The full 1.5 mills compares to 1.47 allowed in 1980.

For the first time, however, the 0.5 mill approved in 1980 for fire services is subject to the rollbacks, letting taxpayers recoup .02 of the .03 mill gained by the police renewal. Fire millage is 0.48 of the total.

The township's one mill operating levy has been reduced to .9759 mill under Headlee.

Given a township state equalized valuation of $173.6 million, the local tax is expected to generate $512,300 in revenue to the township — up from the $483,000 of last year.

Overall, most township residents will find the total millage reduced, offsetting any rise in valuations to some extent.

Total millage in that portion of the township in the Northville School District should be in the neighborhood of 51 mills, as compared to 54.03 mills last year.

The total is made up of the township's 2.95 mills, the school district's 38.4418 mills (down from 41.06 mills last year), 1.1 mill for the Wayne County Intermediate School District (special education), 1.894 mills for Schoolcraft College.

Wayne County millage is not yet established, but was 7.57 mills last year. It should decline somewhat under the Headlee provisions.

City residents will be paying the county and school tax bills in December. City taxes were billed in July.

Township residents in the Plymouth-Canton Community School District will pay slightly less than others in the township because the millage there is 38 mills — 0.4418 mill less than Northville School District's.

That area is relatively small, however, as evidenced by the breakdown of state equalized valuations. Township area in the Northville district is to be equalized at $162.7 million and in the Plymouth district at $10.9 million.

Still to be accounted for is any legislative action to reduce property taxes state-wide. Governor Milliken is slated to propose a reduction plan this week in Lansing. Whether it would apply to tax bills now being prepared for December mailing is, as yet, unknown.

The township has a November election to consider a 0.7 mill increase for police, but even if passed it would not be applied until billings in December, 1982.

Depression

Dr. James Luther

Depression is a dreadful thing. It drains your strength, demoralizes your ambitions, and clouds your thinking. People who end up in the "slew of despond" need more than a little cheering up. In fact, sometimes attempts at happiness make matters worse. The writer of Proverbs groans: "As he that taketh away a garment in cold weather, and as vinegar upon soda, so is he that singeth songs to a heavy heart" (Proverbs 25:20).

Backtrack a little: What was the thought pattern that led you downward? What triggered your despair? Were you worrying over mere possibilities? Has this happened before? The Apostle Paul urged the Philippians to dwell on the things that inspire praise: "... if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things" (Phil. 4:8).

Don't allow your fantasies to feed your fears! There are more than enough "fear nots" in the Bible to get you through the year. Try Isaiah 41:10, 13 for beginners.

If yours is no imaginary trial, but a real cause for concern, remember that your present circumstance has not taken God by surprise. Depression over sinful failure is easily cured. Faith in the substitutionary death of Christ for our sins provides forgiveness and cleansing (read John chapter three). If you are already a believer and yet suffer depression, remember nothing can separate you from the love of Christ (Rom. 8:38-39). NOTHING!

Thieves cut hole in roof to enter township store

Township police are investigating a break-in at a Five Mile road convenience store early Saturday morning in which entry was made through a hole cut in the roof.

Items valued at more than $2,700 were stolen from the corner business between 12:10 and 6:50 a.m. Saturday, police reports state. Damages totalled over $300.

Police speculate that the hole in the roof, over a storage room, was made with an axe or hatchet. Once inside, the thieves smashed several glass display cases and other items.

A safe, attached to the underside of a counter, was removed from the premises and the cash register was moved slightly. A 30-foot segment of the counter was also missing, and police said the countertop was probably cut away with the same type of instrument used to open the hole in the roof, and removed with the safe attached.

Police chief Kenneth Hardesty said there is a suspect in the case, and police had evidence that will not be released until later in the investigation.

For the third week in a row, township police were involved in an automobile chase, and this time they made the arrest themselves.

William Allen Bowman, 20, of Livonia was cited for fleeing and eluding police, improper license plates and no insurance and will appear before the 35th District Court October 15 on those charges.

Police reported seeing Bowman driving westbound on Five Mile, from I-275, at 3:45 a.m. with no left headlight. After falling in behind the car, a 1967 Ford Fairlane, they noted no tags visible on the rear license plate.

When police turned on the patrol car's rooftop and search lights, the chase began. Bowman turned left, and allegedly accelerated southbound on Ingham to a speed of around 50 miles per hour, dousing his lights in the process.

The patrol car siren was turned on as police gave chase, following the car as it turned left on Ivywood, accelerating to 60 miles per hour and bouncing off a curb.

At Haggerty, the pursued vehicle, still without lights, turned south and accelerated to 70 miles per hour, police reported.

The officers saw sparks coming out of the back of the car as it slowed and came to a stop on the shoulder north of Schoolcraft Road and the driver got out of the car. A small fire caused by a battery in the trunk was observed by a patrolman, who used a fire extinguisher to put it out.

Bowman was arrested and reportedly told police he fled because his car was improperly registered. The license plate was found to be the front plate from the man's father's station wagon.

The car had never been registered in Bowman's name, nor had a title in his name been taken out, though the previous owner had signed off the title to Bowman. The man could not provide proof of insurance.

Police impounded the car until proper license is obtained. They also confiscated a pair of karate sticks found in the front seat of the vehicle. Bowman was released the next morning after posting $100 bond.

In the two previous weeks, township police had aided departments from Plymouth and Livonia in auto chases beginning in those communities. In both cases, the citations and arrests were concluded by other agencies.

Four pinball machines were damaged and an estimated $75 in coin stolen in a Sunday morning break-in at a Seven Mile game room.

The owner told township police he closed the arcade shortly after 11:30 p.m. September 19 but realized on his route home that he had left the cash box in the office.

Upon returning to the business and entering through the back door, he saw a shadowy figure, exiting through the open front door, the owner reported.

Police were called when he discovered a small window pane broken and the locks to coin box doors on four machines damaged. The doors and locks to the machines were broken open and the coin boxes rifled.

The owner told police he did not know the exact amount stolen, but estimated it at between $50 and $75 in assorted coins.

An 18-year-old woman reported being assaulted in the enclosed dumpster area of a Five Mile Road fast food outlet shortly after dark September 18.

The woman, an employee of the restaurant, told township police she entered the dumpster area, enclosed by brick walls, to retrieve a milk crate and was assaulted.

A man wearing a ski mask knocked her to the ground, sat on her, unbuttoned her blouse and scratched at her chest before telling her to remain where she was until he had left, the woman told police. She said the assailant threatened her, saying he knew who she was and where she lived, though he did not call her by name. He said he would "get her" if she tried to get help before he had left the area, she reported.

He walked away and the woman stayed in the dumpster enclosure for several minutes before running to the side door of the restaurant and seeking help.

Beyond red marks on her chest, the woman suffered no other physical injury, police reported. There are no suspects, but police consider it an open case.

Four suspects were arrested on suspicion of breaking and entering at the Wayne County Child Development Center gymnasium building September 16.

Names are being withheld by township police pending warrants that could be issued if the county chooses to prosecute the charges.

Alerted by Novi Ambulance Chief John Early, whose company has a station on the grounds, that he had seen flashlights moving in the upper story of the building, township police responded in time to find the four shortly after they left the building.

Early, after calling police, saw the suspects leaving the structure and called to them to halt and place their hands on a pickup truck at the site.

Police saw a hemp gym rope lying in the bed of the pickup and all four suspects said it had come from the gym. All in their early 20s, the suspects said they had been walking through tunnels connecting the structures of the center.

The rope was the only item found missing from the buildings. The suspects, two Redford residents, one from Garden City and one from Westland, were released pending issuance of warrants.

About $120 in cash was taken from a North Center business between September 17 and 18, city police report.

The owner said the money was missing from the walk-in cooler where it was kept. An employee went to get the money after opening the store, but found it missing, police said.

A television, worth $300, and a decorative dish were taken from a Dorisa Court residence after the house had been ransacked between September 5 and 7, city police report.

The owner said after he finished cutting the lawn he walked past the side door and noticed it ajar. He pushed the door open and saw the house was ransacked and called police, the report said.

Police found a window leading into the bedroom had been broken and a basement window was open, police said.

The house belonged to the owner's sister, who recently passed away, police said. The owner and his brother's now own the house with the complainant having the only key.

A Pro Thunder bike, valued at $140, was stolen from outside a Northville Plaza business sometime September 12, Northville Michigan State Police said.

The boy said he and his friend went into a store to buy some batteries and left the bike unlocked outside, police said.

Civil suit filed in July strangling case at Northville State Hospital

Civil suit has been filed against several employees of Northville State Hospital regarding the apparent death by strangulation of an inpatient there in July.

Stephen Karchefsky, 24, of Detroit died at St. Mary Hospital the morning of July 18. County medical examiners determined cause of death as strangulation and manner of death as indeterminable.

Karchefsky, who had been in and out of the state mental health facility over the past three years and was diagnosed schizophrenic, required restraint the evening of July 17, state police investigation shows.

Several attendants and security officers restrained the man and a physician administered a sedative, police discovered. When the patient first exhibited problems breathing and later began to collapse into coma, he was taken to St. Mary.

Although the sedative was first suspected, the coroner's report shows no trace of the drug present in the body. The medical examiner asked state police to look into the incident.

State police said their investigation, which included interviews with most of those involved, will remain inconclusive unless further evidence is uncovered. None of the interviews turned up a witness to strangulation.

The injuries to Karchefsky's neck region were consistent to pressure from a large object, such as an arm, police said.

The death was the second attributed to strangulation at the hospital this year. Edward Robinson, 29, another patient, died February 4 after a similar incident regarding restraint. Different groups of employees applied the restraints to the two patients, state police investigation showed.

Karchefsky's mother, Margaret, has filed civil suit in Wayne County Circuit Court against the two physicians on duty at the time, David Frye, safety officer at the hospital, and any hospital attendants who may have been involved in the death.

The suit seeks compensatory damages beyond $10,000 and punitive damages of $2 million. A second suit is to be filed in the state Court of Claims against Northville State Hospital itself.

Northville post police win state pistol match

For the third consecutive year, Northville's Second District of the Michigan State Police department claimed the team championship in the annual departmental Fletcher Pistol Match which took place September 9 at the R.V. Gray Range in Jackson.

The Northville district retained the championship by firing a score of 1,140 out of a possible 1,200. The second district also won titles in 1975 and 1973.

Members of the winning Northville team were Trooper Wayne McKalpain, and Sergeants Melvin Zalud and Ronad Lapp, all of the Detroit Freeway Post, and Sergeant Tilman Crutchfield of Erie.

Team runners-up behind Northville were the Investigative Services Division in second and East Lansing Headquarters in third.

The match is named after former Alpena businessman Harry Fletcher, who died in 1956 at the age of 71.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Constantine Kitras asked if Agenda Item 10, Liquor License Transfer could be moved up.

Mayor Vernon asked if Council had any objections, there were none.

Mr. Don O'Callahan, Attorney, asked that Agenda Item 11 re: Arcades be moved up.

There were no objections by Council.

LIQUOR LICENSE TRANSFER, 126-130 E. Main Street, Mayor

Vernon noted the City had received a communication from the Liquor Control Commission re-transfer of the Liquor License.

He mentioned the report from the Police Chief advising that the owners had passed police investigation and the building now meets the building code requirements.

All necessary forms have been completed and filed by the Police Department with the Liquor Control Commission.

The new owners were present and introduced as Tom McKinnon, Greg Goodman and Leonard Wades.

Mr. McKinnon stated they were happy to be there and discussed their similar adventures in Clarkston and Holly.

Motion by Councilman Gardner supported by Councilwoman Ayers to adopt a resolution that the request from Goodman-McKinnon-Wade Enterprises, Inc. for transfer ownership of 1981 Class C licensed business, located at 126-130 E. Main St., Northville, from Daniel U. Collins and Constantine Lambros Kitras be approved.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Request for Parking Credits for Arcade: Request from James D. Rea for permission of use of part of the premises which he owns at 135 N. Center for an arcade. Mr. Rea was in the audience to answer any questions.

Councilman Mittman asked Mr. Rea what was presently in the building.

Mr. Rea commented there were four tenants upstairs and a beauty salon in the front half and the back half was previously occupied by Lila's Interiors.

Mr. Don O'Callahan, Attorney for Mr. Rea, explained Mr. Rea had purchased the property in February 1981, and would like to place an arcade there. There would be a maximum of 20 machines which would determine the zoning ordinance. If the arcade was a detriment to the community, Mr. Rea would remove it. Mr. Rea would not have anything to do with the management of it but would be close by and responsible for it.

Mayor Vernon had a question concerning ownership of the machines.

Mr. O'Callahan stated that usually machines are owned and operated by a company who maintains them. The owner of the machines receive 50% of the take and the owner of the arcade would receive 50%. It was his feeling the arcade could be properly operated.

Mayor Vernon asked if it were individuals, groups, or syndicates who own the machines.

It was Mr. O'Callahan's experience that most machines were owned by individuals.

Mr. Steve Palatin, President of the New Way Leasing Co., who would manage the arcade, stated his business was a small corporation and he was in it with his brother. He stated he has been in business for 10 years.

Discussion on the machines and how and where they were placed in localities.

Mayor Vernon mentioned that this was big business and he was just expressing concern re. who owns the machines.

The City Attorney suggested it might be appropriate if Mr. Rea give City Council a sketch re: the placement of the machines then he and Mr. Rea's attorney could meet regarding a temporary license type of thing. If there were a sketch to work with, they would know where the entrance, etc., to determine whether or not the business could go in there.

Mayor Vernon agreed the number of machines would determine the number of parking spaces required. Then the City would know whether they had the parking spaces to sell.

Mr. Rea stated the store has a main entrance in the back of the building. He mentioned a drawing of the floor plan had been given to Chief Allen of the Fire Department showing the location of machines. He stated it, within a year's trial, it was a detriment, the business would be removed. He owns the building and he has to protect himself. He has tried to lease it and has not been able to.

Mayor Vernon explained that the City Council was in the midst of developing an arcade ordinance. He would suggest to Council to accept the City Attorney's recommendation to meet with Mr. Rea or provide a sketch.

Mr. O'Callahan stated he would be glad to meet with the City Attorney.

PUBLIC HEARING TO CONSIDER AMENDMENTS TO THE ZONING ORDINANCE TO COMPLY WITH FEDERAL FLOOD HAZARD REQUIREMENTS: The City Clerk read the notice of public hearing as published.

Mayor Vernon opened the public hearing and asked if anyone in the audience wished to be heard. Hearing no response he closed the public hearing and opened it for Council action.

The City Attorney stated the proposed ordinance had been revised by the Dept. of Natural Resources and the Flood Management Agency.

It was advised that Council adopt a temporary moratorium on new construction, substantial improvements and other developments in the City for a two day period (Sept. 16-18) as required.

Motion by Councilman Ayers supported by Councilman Gardner to adopt a Resolution declaring a temporary moratorium on new construction, substantial improvements and other developments in areas of special flood hazard in the City for a two day period, Sept. 16-18, 1981.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Mittman to adopt an amendment to Article 9, Article 10, new Article 19, and renumber Articles 19 &amp; 20 as Article 20 and Article 21 respectively, regarding the Flood Plain Management, of the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Northville.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Arcade Ordinance: It was Mr. O'Callahan's feeling that a special meeting for the express purpose of discussing an ordinance controlling arcades. He suggested scheduling a work session to give it careful review.

Meeting dates were discussed but because of the heavy meeting schedule during the next two weeks, a meeting date would be decided at the next regular Council meeting.

The meeting recessed at 9:05 p.m. and reconvened at 10:05 p.m.

p.m.

A. Recommendation of Salary Schedule for District Court Administrator: Communication from Mr. Henry Graper, City Manager of Plymouth and Chairman of the District Court Advisory Board, re: adoption of a proposed salary range for the Court Administrator. The suggested salary range was a 7 percent increase per year through three steps, also a provision for making adjustments if the cost of living far exceeds the 7 percent increase.

Councilman Mittman advised this would be discussed at the next meeting of the Court Advisory Committee meeting. He was looking for guidelines from Council and asked if it were a normal step increase. He explained what the Court Administrator does.

Discussion followed and Mayor Vernon stated he would like to have job description since it has been the understanding that the Clerk and Administrator's job were done by one person.

Councilman Mittman would check on the function of the new Court Administrator and function of the old clerk/administrator.

b. Court Completion &amp; Occupancy Schedule: A report on the completion and occupancy schedule was presented and it was noted that the dedication would be held in October or early November of this year.

OAKLAND COUNTY — RESOLUTION OF INTENT — RE: NATURAL RESOURCES USE INVENTORY: The City Manager noted the City has just adopted a land use plan when the new Master Plan was adopted.

Motion by Councilman Mittman supported by Councilman Gardner to adopt a resolution of the City's intent to perform our own land inventory.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

PLANNING COMMISSION RECOMMENDATIONS: a. Reasons from R-3 to PR-1 Northville Lab and a portion of Rural Hill Dr. A Public Hearing was held by the Planning Commission on Sept. 1, 1981 to consider the rezoning. It is their recommendation to Council to rezone the property.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

b. Consider an Amendment to the Zoning Ordinance re: Special General Provisions, Section 5.15.5, Uses Permitted by Special Use Permit: At the Planning Commission's regular meeting, Sept. 1, the Chamber of Commerce Information Center was discussed. It was pointed out that an amendment to the Zoning Ordinance re: Special Uses would have to be adopted to accommodate this use.

The City Manager mentioned the Chamber of Commerce had appeared before the Board of Appeals and were granted variances on the site, however, the special use would have to be resolved.

Motion by Councilwoman Ayers supported by Councilman DeRusha to publish for public hearing for October 5, at 8:00 p.m. to consider an amendment to Article 5, General Provisions, Section 5.15.5, Uses Permitted by Special Use Permit.

3. Adjournment: The meeting was adjourned by G. Dewey Gardner at 9:40 p.m. THIS IS A SYNOPSIS. A TRUE AND COMPLETE TAPING of this meeting may be listened to at the Township Clerk's Office at 41600 Six Mile Road, Northville, Michigan 48167, Susan J. Heintz, Clerk. Mildred Hudolin, Deputy Clerk.

The meeting was called to order at 4:30 pm by Mayor Pro Tem Gardner.

ROLL CALL: Present: Gardner, Ayers, DeRusha — Thomas Gawn, Jerry Ruppe, Bill Rock. Absent: Vernon, Eric, Matman, Eric.

BIDS ON SOUTH MAIN PAVING BONDS: Mayor Pro Tem Gardner turned the meeting over to Mr. Thomas Gawn, First of Michigan, who explained the bond market was not good. He did not think any bids would be received until, with the City Manager's assistance, bond insurance was purchased.

The following bids were received:

Bidder: Manley Bennett, Asst. of Premium: $38.00; Years of Maturity: 82-88, 89, 90, 91; Coupon Rate: 13, 12.45, 12.25; Net Interest Cost in $: 386,733.54; Average Net Int. Rate: 12.6881.

Bidder: Merrill Lynch et al., Asst. of Premium: $21.00; Years of Maturity: 82, 83-88, 89, 90-91; Coupon Rate: 13, 12, 5/8, 12.50; Net Interest Cost in $: 391,264.21; Average Net Int. Rate: 12.7100.

Bidder: First of Michigan Man. Nat'l Bank, Asst. of Premium: None; Years of Maturity: 82-88, 89, 90, 91; Coupon Rate: 13, 12.25, 12.50, 12.75; Net Interest Cost in $: 390,161.25; Average Net Int. Rate: 12.6958.

Discussion on the bids followed.

The City Manager noted the bond insurance would be less than $7,000 and would be on a one time payment basis.

Mayor Pro Tem Gardner advised that with the prices, City Council might not be able to do this in another year.

The City Manager agreed that the costs would double.

It was Councilman DeRusha's opinion that because of the condition of the road the City could not afford to postpone doing the work.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilwoman Ayers to adopt a resolution accepting the bid of Manley Bennett of $386,733.54 at 12.581% interest as written and direct the good faith checks be returned by the Council to the losing bidders with a letter of thanks.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

The City Manager briefly updated Council re the construction bids to be received the next day on S. Main at Wallis Street. He pointed out the City would know their construction costs. He would notify the Board of Commissioners about the results of today's bond sale. He thought the construction could start in two weeks.

Councilman DeRusha asked if there were any restrictions on the starting and completion dates for the construction.

The City Manager stated the construction could start within 10 days of signing the contracts. He also mentioned there was a requirement in the contract to complete the work this season and that Wayne County Road Commission has to inspect the project. He noted it would not be to the City's advantage for them to inspect Wallis Street. He mentioned there would be two separate bids taken, one for S. Main and one for Wallis.

PARMENTER SIGN REQUEST: Request from Parmenter's Color Mill, Inc., 714 Baseline, for permission to use their small directional signs at strategic corners in the City of Northville as follows:

Main at Griswold, Sheldon at Old Baseline, 8 Mile at Novi and Novi Street at Old Baseline.

Motion by Councilwoman Ayers supported by Councilman DeRusha to allow Parmenter's to use their directional signs on the corners as listed.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

CONTRACTOR REFUSE COLLECTION — ADVERTISE FOR BIDS: A refuse collection permit was presented and Mayor Pro Tem Gardner asked that a bid closing be set.

The City Manager stated it had been brought to the Council now because of the publishing date for the paper and the timing involved.

Councilman DeRusha stated it would provide Council with information to determine whether or not the savings in contracting refuse collection is worthwhile.

Mayor Pro Tem Gardner stated the purpose was to set the bid date for 2:00 pm, September 21.

Max Robertson, Chairman of the Union negotiating team, stated the DPW are very concerned because it was stated in the paper there were three people to be laid off. He commented that it was not entirely correct that money could be saved especially during the 1st year.

He noted there would be savings in the cost of employee benefits. He compared costs and stated the City could lose $9,000 instead, the first year.

Mayor Pro Tem Gardner mentioned that bids would come in at the next City Council Meeting, September 21 where they will be discussed and it was entirely possible Robertson could be right.

Max Robertson voiced concern about the possibility of three people finding themselves without paychecks coming in.

Mayor Pro Tem Gardner stated it was premature discussion at this time.

Al Zielinski, DPW, asked if it were open to discussion at this time. He asked about the Downs run and who would pick it up or if it would be a special trash run.

The City Manager stated they had a copy of the specs which outlined the collection. He mentioned there would be copies available of the bid for anyone who wanted one. He noted that special pickups would probably be eliminated.

Al Zielinski stated he wanted to save them money and did not want to crucify anyone.

There was more discussion and Bill Rubeaux, DPW, wanted to know as a collector if all avenues will be exhausted. He also asked if anybody asked the DPW how they could improve on the trash pickup and save money.

The City Manager commented that for the past two months the City has been begging for the unions to show ways to save money to avoid layoffs.

Mr. Rubeaux stated he just wanted to know that all avenues were being exhausted and he would like to see better cooperation. He would like to be more informed before anything drastic occurs.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilwoman Ayers to publish on September 8, 1981 a notice to receive sealed bids Monday, September 21, 1981 for Municipal Collection and Disposal.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

MEETING ADJOURNED: Meeting adjourned at 5:07 pm. Respectfully submitted, Joan G. McAllister, City Clerk

Shared revenue cuts, tax plan, worry officials

percent cut would be $51,000, and absorbing 35 percent of that amount locally would mean nearly $12,000 less.

Tax cut impacts and revenue sharing reductions come atop those already applying pressure at the local level. The state's economic plight has drastically reduced state's own revenues from sales taxes, business taxes and income taxes as all three declined in real terms.

Those reductions translated into reduced revenue sharing to local government. The township, before any cuts were made, had projected state shared revenue receipts for the current budget year at $320,000 total, less than a 3 percent increase over 1980 levels while inflation was measured in double digits.

With earlier reductions, and the latest round, subtracted, 1981 revenue sharing will likely be less than the $311,000 collected in 1980.

Although the governor's tax plan can be enacted by the legislature, without the need to conduct an election, it also would be more susceptible to alteration than the constitutional amendments that faced voters in the recent past. The plan to reimburse local government for 65 percent of the tax cut is viewed as little more than a promise — like other appropriations mandated by legislation (reimbursement for fire service to state buildings and revenue sharing among them) the amount could vary with the state's own fiscal position.

The state is constitutionally mandated to have a balanced budget. Additional pressure to balance this year's budget, and soon, comes from the New York financiers who have agreed to buy $500 million in short term notes at 14.3 percent.

Buyers of those state notes insist on a balanced 1980-81 budget by September 30 before the borrowing measure is completed.

TO GROW OR NOT TO GROW

By now the list of problems is distressingly familiar to us all — inflation, unemployment, the energy crisis, decline in the steel and auto industries, stagnation in the housing market, competition from foreign manufacturers, the cost of health care and education. But above all, there is the troubling prospect of the future. How do we face it? Prepare for it? How do we ensure that there will be jobs for the young, that there will be new opportunities for those reaching up from the lower rungs of the economic ladder, that a home and a car will not become luxuries available only to the wealthy, and — perhaps the key to all those other problems — that there will be energy in sufficient quantities to support future economic growth.

It is an awesome challenge. But, oddly enough, there are some whose answer to our concerns over future growth is a simple, "Don't bother." Growth itself is the problem, they say, and what we need to do is not to find new and better ways to keep ahead, but simply to cut back. And cut back. And cut back. And if we just keep cutting back long enough, pretty soon we'll reach a style of life we can maintain with no great problem.

There's no denying that it's a unique outlook. For centuries men have dreamed of Sharing the Wealth. Now, it seems, our dream is to become Share the Scarcity.

We suspect that not very many people are going to buy that dream. Certainly, those who have yet to achieve what we call "the good life" are not going to agree. But aspects of this "no growth" philosophy occasionally turn up in subtle form, and, at first glance, seem quite reasonable. The notion that conservation alone is the solution to our energy concerns is one noteworthy example. It has become virtually impossible in recent years to build new facilities of any kind in the energy industry without hearing the protest that new facilities are unnecessary, that they encourage and perpetuate waste, that if we all just used less we would need no new facilities.

There's no denying the need for conservation; there's no arguing with the fact that we can do better when it comes to consuming wisely and eliminating waste and excess. Those are important, even noble, goals for us all.

But it is naive — it is an acceptance of the "no growth" outlook — to believe that in a world where the majority of human beings still haven't even enough food to live full lives, that we can solve all our present and future problems simply by using less ourselves. We can — and must — do that; it is the least we can do. But we must also continue to produce — produce more, and produce it more efficiently — not to maintain a gross and wasteful life-style for the few, but to ensure a decent life-style for all. Now — and in the future, at home — and in the world-at-large.

To those who think otherwise we can only say that we've already seen what "no growth" is like. We've seen it this year, in fact.

Only most of us call it Recession.

Our Opinions

Home tour's a plus

This Thursday hundreds of women and even a few men will queue up in lines at seven homes in the community as the 14th annual Northville home tour begins at 10 a.m. During lunchtime downtown businesses will be extra busy and there will be traffic congestion at St. Paul's Lutheran and First United Methodist churches as lunches are served.

All of this is great — for the community's image, for the causes the tour benefits and for local business. We are pleased to see the home tour alive and well after a year's absence. The homes open are varied and unusual. Five were constructed before this century (see Record section B). These are the homes that make the tour a far-flung attraction, drawing visitors from as far away as Flint and Marshall in years past.

The tour proceeds enable the sponsoring women's association of First Presbyterian Church to fund many benevolences. Co-sponsoring Northville Historical Society has earmarked its half of the proceeds for final work on Wash-Oak Schoolhouse in Mill Race Historical Village. This, to us, is one of the most awaited restorations in the village because plans call for its use by teachers and school children in the community. Youngsters will be able to attend a one-room school for a day and visualize what readin', writin', and 'rithmetic were all about 100 years ago.

We applaud board's stand

It's been less than two weeks since Northville students returned to the classroom and already the Northville Board of Education is facing the wrath of angry parents.

The board's decision to eliminate busing for Colony III junior high students certainly didn't win its members any popularity contests. After agreeing to consider an exception to its new transportation policy for Colony III, the board last week voted down the exception in light of the $3,466 expense to bus 30 students to Meads Mill.

We support the board's decision to adhere to its transportation policy. In fact, we couldn't see it any other way. To have made an exception for one not only would have set a dangerous precedent, but would have damaged the board's credibility as well.

We sympathize with overburdened taxpayers and can understand their anguish when more and more of their hard earned dollars are going for fewer and fewer services. However, the demand for more services and better education from our public schools is equally as great and the finances are dwindling down to a bare bones level.

It is important to remember that the board of education made a change in its transportation policy to comply with the wishes

Open on Dunlap

It is to the credit of the sponsoring organizations that they have encouraged participation by others. Women at St. Paul's and First Methodist churches add to their association funds with luncheon revenues.

As with any successful community event; hundreds of hours of planning and work by volunteers have gone into the 1981 tour. Willingness of owners to open their distinctive homes, of course, makes it all possible. The Williamsons, Daniels, Sixts, Toors, Harrisons, Henriksens and Mrs. Veinott deserve special thanks.

As the first leaves of big trees in town are edged with gold, let's all hope for a sunny autumn day Thursday to bring crowds that make the effort so worth while.

of the community to reduce the budget. When voters said "no" to the school's 9.5 mill renewal last April, it was clear that the taxpayers were telling the board to reduce its spending.

Upon the recommendation of the Citizens' Advisory Committee to reduce the millage request by $700,000, one of the areas cut from this year's budget was transportation. To whittle away more than $50,000 from its transportation budget, the board changed its policy and eliminated busing for six areas within one and one-half miles from their assigned schools.

Though many critics have accused the board of lending unsympathetic ears to the pleas of dissatisfied residents, we believe the board has acted in the community's best interests. In spite of a lean budget, the board has upheld its commitment to quality education by keeping the basic program intact.

The board should be commended for adhering to the community's demands for better education. It should be pointed out that instead of reducing the transportation budget, the board could have opted to eliminate elementary art or part of the English curriculum. There would be few benefits to either the schools or the community in transporting students to school — if there were little worth to the program once they arrived.

reader questions

In addition to producing news about what is happening in our community, this newspaper serves as an informational source for area residents. Because it is our business to know what is transpiring within the borders of the city and township, this is a logical function.

It is to be expected that we know the outcome of the school, city or township election the next morning. Other questions fall into the public service category. We should know that city council meets at 8 p.m. on the first and third Mondays; school board at 7:30 p.m. on the second and fourth Mondays; and the township board at 8 p.m. on the second Thursday. These governmental meetings are among those listed in the weekly community calendar.

It is logical also to expect that we can supply the home telephone (425-6594) of our state representative Jack Kirksey in Livonia.

Popular events, such as the Northville Home Tour being held this Thursday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., bring their share of questions. Since, for the first time, tickets are being sold in advance at a $1 reduction, we have been receiving questions this week on where to buy them — Gifts by Marison, Bookstall on the Main, Connie's Stitchery, Donna and Lou's Florist and Northville Gallery of Flowers. Thursday they go on sale at 9 a.m. at First Presbyterian Church and Mill Race Village.

Readers may be interested in other recent questions.

How are planning consultants paid? The city pays Ronald Nino a monthly retainer of $300. The township has switched from a $400 monthly retainer to a flat $50 an hour for Vilcan-Leman services.

When does town hall start and who is the speaker? It's former Miss America Bess Myerson, now better known as a consumer advocate, on October 8. Season tickets at $20 may be ordered by mail to Northville Town Hall, Box 93.

How much does it cost to rent the buildings in Mill Race Village? Only the New School Church (old library building) is available for private groups. It now rents for $100 for the first hour-and-a-half and $60 for the next hour-and-a-half and $60 for each hour thereafter. Eula Plunkett, 349-6258, is in charge of scheduling events there. If you want to take a chance on the weather, however, you can just walk over and use the gazebo — free.

How can I find a home for the stray cat I picked up on Eight Mile? We have a special solution for this kind of question — our Absolutely Free want ads through the classified ad department at 349-3022.

Another question we feel strongly about is — how much does an obituary cost in your paper? Our obituaries are news stories and treated as such. There is no charge.

JACK W. HOFFMAN'S COLUMN

Camping isn't what it used to be.

There was a time not too many years ago when even the covering of a tent was too great a separation from the elements. Those days are gone forever.

"I don't believe it," she said as I gathered our gear in preparation for a weekend in northern Michigan. "You're actually going to sleep in a tent again?" she asked.

"Yup," I said, trying to pump some old forgotten enthusiasm into the trip. The priming wouldn't work. I dreaded it. Gone was the thrill of anticipation that years earlier carried two young sons, a dog and myself into the interior of the Canadian bush country and into countless other wilderness areas; in my mind the sound of night rain slapping canvas, once an unmatched joy, now conjured up nothing but misery.

As I piled food and clothing and bedding into the boxes, she she needed. "You're only going for two days. Why on earth do you need all that stuff?"

Ignoring her, I checked the tackle box and laid out my waders. They leaked. I remembered. The water would be cold, and inside a tent wet clothes would dry slowly.

"More underwear?" she nagged as I stuffed a few more things into a box. "You've got enough to change twice a day for a week."

The September sun had not yet risen when we carried the boxes to the car. The grass was wet. In the north it would be frost. I shivered and headed back into the house.

"Haven't you gone yet? I'd like to get some sleep," she complained as I turned on the light.

"I need more quilts," I said.

On the way out it occurred to me. I flipped on the light again, ignoring her outburst, and dug through the drawer. Finding what I wanted, we left as she fired a final salvo: "I don't believe it; a heating blanket in a tent!"

Camping isn't what it used to be. It's more comfortable.

She calls city's request for resort license 'favoritism'

To the Editor:
In looking over the minutes of the City of Northville as printed in The Northville Record on 9-16-81, I was somewhat dismayed to read that the LCC (Liquor Control Commission) was working with John Genitti to help him obtain a Resort License, and the impression is also conveyed that the city fathers are pushing for Resort License(s). I want it put on record that I object.

Since when does the city get involved with a particular individual to obtain a license, and since when does the LCC work with an individual to obtain a non-existing license? When we applied for our Class C license, we were thoroughly scrutinized both by the LCC and the city, which is just the way it should be, but we got it on our own, not by having the way cleared for us. We also paid dearly for the business and the privilege of having a license.

I am under the impression that Class C liquor licenses are issued on the basis of population figures. Northville is a city of 6,000 to 7,000 population, and within its borders there are nine known liquor licenses (four Class C, two resort and three clubs), all situated in one general area, some within 300 to 500 feet of each other. (And, my dear city council, why worry about Arcades when downtown Northville will soon look like the Las Vegas strip with all the bars — with resort licenses).

Furthermore, if a resort license can be so easily obtained, and all other regulations can be by-passed, there is little reason to have a regulating agency such as the LCC because their effectiveness and credibility is badly damaged. And when the city government takes such an interest in obtaining Resort License(s) for preferred individuals, then it is clearly time for a change.

It bothers me to write this letter, but I feel compelled to do so, because I feel that everyone within the city with a Class C license has been wronged. The competition in Northville is formidable as it is, without the issuance of Resort License(s). Licenses are based on population for just such reasons.

Foregive me, but I get the feeling, Gentlemen, that this whole Resort License affair smacks of favoritism being shown, but the question is why?

To the Editor:
After the treatment Northville Colony III residents received at the September 14 meeting of the Northville Board of Education, I felt it necessary to express my feelings as to the outcome.

The Northville board has given us the distinct impression that it does not care how our children get to school, safely or otherwise!

We live in one of the newer single-family subdivisions in the community with one of the highest assessed evaluations for property tax purposes. Other areas, and there are many, such as, Highland Lakes, Innsbrook and King's Mill, have an extremely high density of children per square mile, whereas, our subdivision has much fewer children.

An apartment complex houses four families versus one family here and the taxes paid by one homeowner here do of compare with those paid per square foot by the owners of such apartment complexes. Result — a single-family dwelling pays much more in taxes. Yet, they are bused with our tax dollars and we are not.

Just the property taxes of one homeowner in our subdivision would almost pay for bus transportation needed this year. Two homeowners' property taxes would give an excess.

It is apparent that the Northville board willingly accepts our dollars with outstretched hands to spread throughout the surrounding communities but when a small consideration such as a bus for the safety of our students is requested, we are flatly and smugly denied. It is not a heartwarming welcome to their community as many residents here feel that we would have been wiser not to move here.

Speaking of moving here, at the time of purchasing our home we were assured that bus transportation was provided for Meads Mill students.

I think it is time for the board of education to make public the exact amount of tax dollars collected, by location, from its taxpayers and a complete itemization of all dollars spent.

The board may rest assured that I am totally dissatisfied with their decision and uncaring attitude for the safety of the children of Colony III and especially for the unequal treatment we have received.

News from Lansing

By R. ROBERT GEAKE
State Senator

As the Legislature returns for the fall session (began September 15) the major task facing all of us will be how to turn Michigan's economy around and revive the job market for nearly 500,000 unemployed Michigan workers.

alive, even though it was sent to the House Appropriations Committee for "safe keeping" just prior to the summer recess. House Bill 4390 requires large employers to give a year's notice before closing a plant or ordering large layoffs.

REVISED JUVENILE CODE — Although it has received considerable discussion, but little action up until now, Senate Bill 174 is likely to be reported out of the Judiciary Committee this fall. The legislation restructures the Juvenile Court's handling of abused and neglected children, juvenile delinquents, and minors who are truants and runaways. The big problem here is the price tag, which may be too great, given the state's current fiscal condition.

CONGRESSIONAL REAPPORTIONMENT — The Legislature is mandated to redraw Michigan's Congressional Districts prior to the 1982 elections. There have been 19 Congressional districts in Michigan, however, because of the drop in state population, state lawmakers this year face the task of eliminating one of those districts.

PRAYER IN SCHOOLS — House Bill 4017 requiring public schools to provide time for prayer may well be the key vote on which Michigan Moral Majority forces target their campaign interests next year.

PROPERTY TAX PLANS — There are several. The House Republicans have endorsed a 20-10-10 plan which would deal with property taxes and the single business tax, cutting state revenues by $560 million. House Democrats have discussed a $335 million tax cut plan. And the House Taxation Committee has approved a "front loading" property tax circuit breaker proposal allowing taxpayers who qualify to get a credit on their taxes before they pay them.

In the Senate, Senator Jack Wellborn (R-Kalamazoo) has offered a 10-10-10 tax cut plan, reducing state revenues $1.7 billion over the next two years. The Senate Democrats have endorsed a $1.2 billion tax cut over a three year period.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The governor's proposal is a 10-5-5 plan, giving a total 20 percent property tax reduction in a package that would cut property taxes $1.25 billion).

The state's business climate is not healthy for several reasons and the cure, in my estimation, lies with the Michigan Legislature. Governor Milliken, in an unprecedented move, delivered his major economic recovery package before a rare special joint session of the Legislature shortly after lawmakers returned to Lansing.

As expected, it includes reform of Michigan's costly workers' and unemployment compensation systems, revisions in the single business tax and other business incentive legislation as well as property tax relief for homeowners and renters. The program will amount to about $2 billion in individual and business tax cuts phased in over the next three years.

I am sure that with 1982 being an election year, a "labor-oriented" Legislature which has over-regulated and over-taxed Michigan business and industry during the past 20 years will suddenly take many of the business community's concerns to heart. But in addition to the overall economic problems, the Legislature is likely to address the following issues this fall:

TRANSPORTATION — A five-bill package introduced in the House on the eve of summer recess would increase fuel taxes and vehicle registration fees to bolster Michigan's declining highway and mass transportation revenues. The measures would change computation of the gas tax from the current flat rate of 11 cents per gallon to 11 percent of the wholesale price per gallon.

Registration fees would be set at a flat $28 on cars. Truck license fees would be increased 30 percent. With the sharp drop in gas tax revenues due to fewer miles being driven by more efficient vehicles, some method is needed to increase the revenues needed to maintain or roads and highways. This package is sure to generate heated debate in both the House and Senate.

PLANT CLOSINGS BILL — Representative Perry Bullard's (D-Ann Arbor) pet legislation is very much

Help's coming for rec fields

Help is on the way to refurbish the ball fields at township hall and the Fish Hatchery Park, according to Recreation Director Edward Kritzcz.

Because of growing concern about the poor field conditions at the two locations, Kritzcz said the youth soccer and junior baseball programs have volunteered their help to reseed and top dress the fields.

The matter of how the fields would be reconditioned was solved at the commission's special meeting September 17 before its joint budget meeting with city council and the township board of trustees.

The final course of action was prompted by an idea Commissioner James Nowka presented at the board's September 9 meeting.

Nowka suggested the commission look into the feasibility of using prisoners from the Phoenix Correctional Facility to recondition the fields, since the township board of trustees had done so for a similar project.

The prisoners are trustees of the prison and near the end of their prison sentences, Nowka said. Before the commission could get the prisoner, it would have to submit a detailed program.

But with the soccer and baseball programs helping, the idea has been shelved.

Also at the special meeting, the commission unanimously approved a $2,450 expenditure to save on heating costs at the community building this winter.

Kritzcz told the commission at the September 9 meeting Bach Engineering of Northville said it could adjust the thermostats and install an electrical timer clock for about $2,000.

The firm had donated four ceiling fans, total value $1,800, and would install them for $450, he added.

Commission rejects city petition

As was expected, the state boundary commission last week rejected a four-year-old proposal to make Northville Township into the city of Northville Hills.

By unanimous vote Thursday, the boundary commission denied the petitions presented in 1977 by a group led by then-Supervisor Hovson Grier.

The proposal, however, is not quite a closed book. A report of findings and order will be prepared by staff for approval at a later date, according to James Hyde, executive secretary to the commission.

Hyde said the commission speaks only through the findings and order report, so he could not supply the reasoning behind the commission's denial of the petitions.

It is known, however, that no one has spoken to the commission favoring the plan since its inception. It is generally acknowledged that the petitions for city status were filed as a delaying tactic during an era when township's felt threatened by "piecemeal" annexation by cities.

A standing petition for cityhood would forestall any and all annexation attempts so long as it remained undecided.

Another boundary commission decision last week was illustrative of the fears that gave rise to the 1977 petitions.

Approval was granted for annexation of a portion of Commerce Township to the city of Walled Lake.

Similarly, backers of the 1977 petition drive said it was motivated, in part, by a perceived threat that the city would annex township industrial properties along Wallis and Gerald streets.

Williamsons restore 19th century barn

BY MICHELE McELMURRY

If Novi township settler Samuel White could see his 1830s barn today, he'd most likely tip his hat in gratitude to present owners Daniel and Barbara Williamson.

After more than 150 years, the 19th century barn still stands on its original lot at Nine Mile and Taft Roads. Yet, with the tremendous dedication and determination of the Williamsons, this one-time livestock shelter has been renovated into five-level house with much of the original edifice preserved.

One of the seven houses featured on tomorrow's home tour, the Williamson residence undoubtedly will be popular with both decorators and historical buffs alike.

Purchased by Northville residents Barbara and Daniel Williamson in 1979, the barn has undergone massive renovations — from waterproofing the rock and mortar "Michigan basement" to constructing a 43-foot solid brick chimney.

For the former Lexington Condominiums residents, the decision to embark on such a vast renovation project is one they have never regretted. However, Barbara Williamson admitted that there "were some moments" of doubt.

Mrs. Williamson explained that it was her husband's interest in dollhouse construction which actually spurred their interest in refurbishing an older home.

After constructing an authentic New England dollhouse for the Junior Goodwill Antiques Market and Sale two years ago, Daniel Williamson decided he'd like to try his hand at renovating a structure slightly larger than the miniature designs he was used to.

However, Mrs. Williamson admitted the decision to renovate the old White barn was not exactly what she had in mind.

She confessed that she first heard about the barn through a realtor friend.

"I went out to look at it and thought 'No, this isn't what Dan had in mind,'" she recalled of her first look at their future home.

She even took her son to see it on a return visit from college and he concurred that it wasn't what his father was looking for.

"I just never even bothered to tell Dan about it," she exclaimed, "I couldn't imagine that this was what he had in mind."

However, Daniel Williamson apparently had other ideas. A few months after his wife's inspection of the structure, Mr. Williamson came home and announced that he had found the perfect house to renovate — or in this case, the perfect barn.

Describing her initial reaction to her husband's plans to convert the barn, Mrs. Williamson said "all I could think about was the moldy hay hanging down from the loft."

When the Williamsons bought the structure in May 1979, it had been given a few modern conveniences by previous owner John Chaffee, an artist who used the barn as his residence and studio for eight years.

Prior to that, in fact, up until 1970, the building was used as a dairy barn.

The few conveniences installed prior to the Williamsons' purchase of the structure included running water, a septic system and fiber glass insulation.

The heating system consisted of two radiant heat panels and a Franklin stove — which kept the building just above the freezing level.

Working with an architectural student from Lawrence Institute of Technology, the Williamsons planned the layout and design for their home with the intent of preserving as much of the original structure as possible.

With a vast amount of space to work with the Williamsons divided the structure into five levels which are connected by a winding staircase reaching from the lower-level foyer to the top floor.

Barbara Williamson explained that the building's height initially caused a delay in construction. Because the building is in excess of two stories, permission had to be granted from the board of appeals before any work could begin on the structure.

The Williamsons received a starter's permit on October 5, 1979, and immediately went to work tearing down the interior partitions which Chaffee had constructed in order to work the barn back to its original post and beam structure.

"We took everything out," Mrs. Williamson recalled, "all the way down to the bare walls."

Starting with little more than the shell of the original barn, the Williamsons began converting the structure into a three-bedroom, four bath home.

The house is easily recognizable as one travels along Nine Mile to its entrance.

The once red painted exterior now is covered with cedar siding and asphalt shingles have replaced the original cedar shake roof. The Williamsons also added a three-car garage off the side of the house.

While reroofing the house, Daniel Williamson discovered that the original roof was of gable design but had been replaced with a gambrel roof sometime around 1890.

The front walk off the driveway, designed by a landscape architect friend, includes wood steps inlaid with bricks surrounded by a myriad of foliage.

An old 19th century sleigh bought at a farm auction across the road sits in front of the house.

One will note the preservation of the barn immediately upon stepping into the foyer — once the farm wagon entrance. Barbara Williamson pointed out that the wide plank floors in the front hall were once rode upon by wagons

A stain glass replica of the barn was a housewarming gift and buggies.

During the restoration, the Williamsons had pulled up the planks and stored them for later use. The floor on the first level was so uneven that new joists had to be installed to alleviate pitches of up to three inches.

Once the new floor was in place, the Williamsons refinished the original wood planks and installed them with oak pegs.

Farmer White's old hay track, pulleys and hay bale fork are suspended from the 32-foot ceiling above the foyer.

Tracing the roots of Samuel White

For Daniel and Barbara Williamson, half the fun of converting a 19th century barn into a 20th century home was tracing the roots of its original owner.

Fortunately for the Williamsons, the inscription "White, S" located on a support post in the barn gave them a head start in their research.

The Williamsons found much of the history of "White, S" in Samuel Durant's "The Early History of Oakland County" published in 1875.

Durant's book revealed that among the first white settlers in the Novi area were Samuel White and his family who came to the Novi from Royalton — a town in Niagara County, New York.

To unravel the history of this family, Daniel Williamson visited the National Archives in Washington, D.C., where he obtained a copy of the 1820 census.

From the census, Williamson discovered that Royalton, New York, was the home and birthplace of Samuel White.

Further research revealed that Samuel White was born in 1798 and married his wife Amanda in Royalton. The family made the trip from New York following the waters of Lake Erie. After arriving in Fort Detroit, Williamson concluded they traveled by foot or animal to the Novi area.

On June 25, 1827, 160 acres in the south east corner of the township were granted to Samuel White; although the actual recording of the document in the Oakland County Records did not take place until August 1827.

Williamson found in the 1840 Oakland County Census that the Whites' had seven children — three daughters and four sons.

From Durant's book, Williamson found that Samuel White was active in community activities. He was the second supervisor of Novi Township and served four one-year terms in 1830, 1832, 1834 and 1835.

In addition, he served as one of 12 delegates from Oakland County to the State's Constitutional Convention held in Ann Arbor in December, 1835.

At the 1835 convention delegates approved the constitution and Michigan officially became a state on January 1, 1836.

From 1842 to 1844, Samuel White served as one of three supervisors of the Oakland County Alms House — the equivalent of a poor house. In the 1860s, he was one of the petitioners and developers of the public water system for the Village of Northville.

From his research, Williamson has concluded that the farm house was built in 1834.

It is presumed that Samuel White died around 1872. Durant's book revealed that the Samuel White burial ground was located in the northwest corner of Taft and Nine Mile Roads. This property eventually adjoined the early school house and had been enclosed with a fence.

While investigating the northwest property, Williamson discovered the footings of the old school but could not find the White family's gravestones.

Barbara Williamson said the next step in their historical research would be to try and find any survivors of the Samuel White family.

Research material is limited, however, because township records were destroyed in a fire.

In the Williamsons' living room hangs a copy of the original land grant issued to Samuel White along with several other historical documents.

Also within the former White family barn is the post which bears the inscription "White, S" — the mark of the 19th century farmer whose existence has been revealed through the preservation of his 150 year-old barn.

Woman's Club sets fashion show for season opener

By JEANDAY

Northville Woman's Club is among the many groups taking note of fashion's "elegant" look for fall. The club is beginning its 89th year with a fashion show October 2 at Meadowbrook Country Club.

Program chairman Kathi Jerome reports that a special guest and model will be Mrs. Michigan — Sally Peters of Farmington. She and two professional models will join club members Marie Louise Capote, Dorothy Crain, Gail Gross, Lola Alexander, Lois Winters and Harriet Wheaton to model fashions by Designs on You of Farmington.

Club president Evelyn Harper will be welcoming past presidents and honorary members during the meeting. A cocktail hour at 11:30 a.m. will precede the guest day luncheon.

Second guest day of the year will be October 16 when "Dolls Through the Years," a history of American Dolls from 1900 to 1981, will be presented by Suzanne Kaley. The program at 1:30 p.m. will be held in Mill Race Historical Village.

Mrs. Jerome reports that a trip to the Detroit Institute of Arts, a Christmas program presented by Greenfield Village, a history of the club by Mary Yahne as it approaches its 90th year and "Creative Dynamics," an exercise program by Joan Akey, are among other attractions.

"Banjos of Michigan" will entertain at the annual dinner program at which husbands are among the guests. Dan the Magical Man will be the feature attraction at the mother-children program. At the annual year-end luncheon the Sweet Adelines will sing.

Among the year's attractions will be an informative program, Women and the Law — What Every Woman Needs to Know. It will be presented by David E. Jerome. This program undoubtedly is possible because he is the cooperative husband of the program chairman — although Kathi refuses to claim credit for the idea.

Meadowbrook women slate fashion festival

Women of Meadowbrook Country Club will see a Fall Festival of Fashions presented by Chudiks Fine Furs and Apparel October 1. Club members will be among the models wearing the new, fuller fall lines at the luncheon show.

Fortunately, this year, the annual event is not a conflict with town hall, which opens a week later on October 8 with Bess Myerson.

Gardeners to have tea at Ford estate

Members of the local branches of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will be assisting with arrangements for the 28th International Tea of the Michigan Division being held September 30 at the Edsel and Eleanor Ford estate on Lakeshore Road in Grosse Pointe Farms.

Mrs. J. Clayton Lafferty, Northville Branch president, has been invited to pour. Other branch members on the tea committee are Mrs. William Slattery, receiving line chairman, and Mrs. William Gaines, publicity chairman.

Honor guests will include Mrs. William Milliken, wife of Michigan's governor, and Ruth Gray from Old Town, Maine, the national association president.

Local club members report they have been awaiting the visit to the Ford house, famed for its architecture based on that of the Cotswolds in England, and retaining the original family furnishings. The home is set amidst almost-90 acres of landscaping designed by Jens Jensen.

Proceeds from the tea are earmarked for the International Farm Youth Exchange which is part of the 4-H program. Leaders of 4-H will be other guests. The youth exchange program has been supported by the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association since 1948.

Lionesses extend tea invitation

The Northwest Lioness Club, just a little more than a year old, has been meeting in Northville City Council Chambers. It is holding a membership tea there at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Vice President Joanne Gearn invites any woman interested in the club or attending the tea to call her at 348-9696.

The club hopes to increase its membership to enable it to do more community-oriented projects. President is Ruth (Pullen) Mejia. Jodi Stearns is secretary and Arlene Zalewski treasurer.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN STUEF

MR. AND MRS. KEVIN CORCORAN

In August 28 ceremony

Dianne Townsend married here

Dianne Elaine Townsend, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon L. Townsend of 4666 Seven Mile, exchanged marriage vows with Kevin Mark Corcoran of Highland in an all-white wedding ceremony August 28 at Northville's First Presbyterian Church.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Corcoran of Highland.

The Reverend John Mishler officiated the double-ring service while the bride's younger brother Bob Townsend lit the altar candles. The bridegroom's brother and sister-in-law, Jim and Pat Corcoran, sang "Wedding Song" during the service.

Escorted by her father down the aisle, the bride wore a full-length white Qiana gown with a Queen Anne neckline and bodice trimmed in Venice lace. The bride's fingertip veil, designed and made by her mother and grandmother, was trimmed with matching lace.

She carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, miniature carnations, mums and baby's-breath.

The bride's sister Sue Townsend of Northville served as maid of honor and bridesmaids were the bride's sister Linda Townsend and the bridegroom's sister Brigid Corcoran of Highland.

Wearing white Qiana floor-length gowns, the bride's attendants carried nosegays of white roses, miniature carnations and baby's-breath.

Dan Corcoran of Highland served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Dan McMann of Northville and the bridegroom's brothers Mike and Jim Corcoran of Highland and Joe Corcoran of Louisiana.

A buffet dinner at the church fellowship hall was held after the ceremony for 175 guests. Following the dinner, guests attended an open house at the bride's parents' home. Among those attending the wedding were guests from New York, Chicago, Connecticut, Canada, Texas, Florida and the Philippines.

The bride, a 1978 Northville High School graduate, is a senior at Michigan State University and working toward a degree in elementary education.

The bridegroom, a 1978 Northville High School graduate, currently is employed by Consumer's Power in Fenton.

Following a wedding trip to Ludington, the couple made their home in Highland.

Nominations for this year's award should be mailed no later than October 5 to Mildred Hudolin, 42298 Ladywood Drive, Northville.

Tammy Wolfe wed in OLV ceremony

Tammy Ann Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Doyle Wolfe of Northville, became the bride of John Michael Stuef in a double ring ceremony August 28.

The bridegroom is the son of William Stuef of Dearborn Heights and Mrs. Janice Stuef of Canton.

The ceremony was held at Our Lady of Victory Church with Father Ronald Thurner officiating.

The bride's gown was enhanced with a ruffle bib front adorned with Alencon lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white and peach sweetheart roses and baby's-breath.

Maid of honor Valerie Grey and bridesmaids Renate Cahill and Lori Thompson wore peach gowns and carried bouquets of peach roses, baby's-breath and white baby mums.

Jeff Liddell served as best man and ushers were Gregory Wolfe, David Stuef and Mike Gordon.

A reception was held at the Highland Lakes Clubhouse following the ceremony with 100 people attending.

The bride has been employed as a dental assistant in Novi and the bridegroom is working for AMF Tuboscope in Casper, Wyoming.

Dental Dialogue

of A. Allen Tuchklaper, D.D.S.

HAIRY TONGUE HAPPENS

Q. My tongue looks sort of hairy, and has a dark area in the middle, what can this be?

A. You should of course see your dentist right away so your condition can be properly diagnosed and treated. However, the condition you are most likely describing is known as hairy tongue. This occurs when the papillae (small elevations) of the tongue elongate and somewhat resemble hairs. The dark area may be caused by stains from food and tobacco clinging to the "hairs." Hairy tongue may develop following the use of antibiotics due to a disruption in the balance of the flora in the mouth. In this case the tongue returns to normal when the medication is stopped.

This column is presented in the interest of better dental health. From the office of

1830s barn converted into 20th century residence

the Williamsons have been placed along the walls of the front foyer to accompany those of Farmer White's.

Along one wall in the foyer is the original ladder used to reach the hayloft. To illuminate the front-level

Kitchen features custom built oak cabinets and cupboards

A 43-foot all-brick fireplace is focal point of living room foyer a skylight was installed in the barn ceiling.

To highlight the barn's original hand hewn beams and rafters, a stucco-texture drywall was used throughout the house to cover the massive walls.

All of the old beams and timbers were sanded with a power sander and varnished.

The three rooms on the first level of the house include a living room, dining room and kitchen and a small bath of the side of the foyer.

Barbara Williamson has combined both contemporary and antique furnishings throughout the house.

The focal point of the living room is a massive solid brick fireplace which also extends to the second level family room.

A bay window in the dining room illuminates Mrs. Williamson's antique cruet and tumbler collections.

The Williamsons opted not to use curtains or shades on the windows in order to keep the original wood trim uncovered.

The custom built kitchen off the side of the foyer contains oak cupboards and cabinets. Barbara Williamson has added accents such as a reproduction crank telephone, several stoneware pitchers and an antique oak table and chairs.

The stained glass in the corner kitchen cabinets, designed by Northville's Tiffany Art Glass, match a pattern in the rust, blue and white flowered wallpaper.

Barbara Williamson pointed out that many of the materials used in the home came from local merchants — such as bath fixtures from Long's Bath Boutique and wallpaper from Green's.

The four-level staircase is covered with beige shag carpeting which extends through to the master bedroom on the second level.

Another wall ladder, similar to the one in the foyer, pokes through the master bath off the bedroom. A small sewing room was also added next to the bedroom.

The glass paned wood doors which grace the entrance to the bedroom were found in the basement during the restoration. Barbara Williamson explained that after peeling off green paint, they found the doors to be walnut with each handmade piece intact.

A paneled wall on the second level disguises a bathroom and closet which lie beneath.

The family room on the third level contains a brick fireplace and is equipped with a small kitchen and bar.

The mantel over the fireplace in both the living and family rooms is a piece of an original support beam which had to be cut to make access for the master bedroom.

Mrs. Williamson noted only one beam had to be removed in the restoration and that what wasn't used for the fireplace mantels was transformed into a countertop in the family room bar.

The Williamsons moved into the house a year ago last July. Mrs. Williamson said that due to the light winter in 1979-80, the couple was able to do many of the renovations right through the colder months.

After only 10 months, the Williamsons had transformed the old barn into a contemporary residence — without losing its original qualities.

With all four of the Williamson children living away from home, it would seem quite easy for only two people to get lost in this spacious structure.

However, Barbara Williamson pointed out that they entertain frequently and look forward to holidays when all their children and relatives visit.

She noted that their first visitors to the house were 150 friends and relatives attending the wedding and reception of the couple's son.

"The Christmas before the house was complete our son came home and announced he wanted to be married here," Barbara Williamson explained.

"So on July 26 we moved in and on August 9 we had the wedding."

They also had three housewarmings after the house was completed.

Despite the meticulous restoration and countless hours which the Williamsons have put into converting the barn,

Barbara Williamson said the building's beauty lies in the beams, posts and planks built by its original owner Samuel White.

Seven houses open on tomorrow's home tour

BY JEAN DAY

After a year's absence, Northville's popular home tour is back. In addition to being a pleasant day out, the tour is a boon for its sponsors — Northville Historical Society and the founding Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

Tickets for the 14th annual tour — being held from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday) — will go on sale at 9 a.m. at Mill Race Historical Village and First Presbyterian Church. They are $5.

By acting fast, however, it's still possible to save $1 today, as advance sale tickets at $4 are available at Town Square Gifts in Novi. In Northville, they may be purchased at Connie's Corner Store, Bookstall on the Main, Gifts by Marison, Donna and Lou's Florist and Northville Gallery of Flowers.

Visitors will view seven distinctive homes in the community — including four Victorian homes, a barn conversion and two present-day homes filled with innovative ideas.

Tour maps with the tickets indicate the homes to be open.

In-town vintage homes include one of the community's oldest — the white frame home of the Wes Henriksens at 247 West which predates the Civil War. The beautifully restored Victorian Gothic cottage of Hilda Veinott is nearby at 417 Dunlap, and the red farmhouse the Ken Harrisons have renovated and filled with antiques is across Center at 119 Rayson.

The 17-room home Bob and Jackie Daniel moved from Haggerty and Seven Mile will be open in its new location at 42500 Five Mile. And the huge barn that Dan and Barbara Williamson have renovated at 46010 Nine Mile will be a prime attraction.

On the east side of the township, the idea-filled homes of the Gary Sixts at 16736 Dundalk and the Stan Toors at 42411 Roberta will be open.

As has become a tradition, women of both St. Paul's Lutheran and First United Methodist churches will be serving lunch from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Tickets are $3.50 for either and will be available at First Presbyterian Church tomorrow or at the door.

St. Paul's women are planning a menu of assorted salads with rolls and butter and homemade cookies. A smorgasbord of salads, including meat and fish recipes, is offered at First Methodist Church.

As an added attraction, all buildings in Mill Race Historical Village will be open during the tour. Costumed docents will be on duty to give histories of the village and its buildings.

In the rust-red Mill Race Weavers' Guild cottage, weavers will demonstrate their craft and sell hand-woven articles.

The Michigan Depression Glass Society is setting up an exhibit in the Yerkes House while Mill Race Embroiderers' Guild will have a needlework display in the New School Church.

During the day, Helen Maki will be demonstrating rug hooking and Ellen Wilson rug hooking in the church building. Both are craftsmen who have taught classes offered by the historical society.

Best of all, the Mill Race Village exhibits and buildings will be open without charge to anyone who wishes to visit.

Headed by Pat Stringer and Alice Pooley, the home tour committee began its work when snow still covered the ground. Others with major jobs are Marion Roller, hostesses; Jean Parkinson and Bev Warren, tour booklets; Mary Ann Cardno and Carol VanSoest, publicity; Barb Weix and Kathi Jerome, corresponding secretaries; Lois Winter and Karen and Carl Stephens, posters and art work; Orla Hamilton and Dottie Crain, street staging; and Margaret Spigarelli, tickets.

Proceeds from the event will be used by Northville Historical Society for completion of the renovation of Wash-Oak Schoolhouse in the village. The Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church uses its profits for charities in its budget.

The association conceived the idea for the home tour and held the first one in 1967. Five homes were open, including the house on West that is open again this year with new owners. It formerly was the Charles Ely home.

Jaycee Auxiliary sets membership meet

The Northville Jaycee Auxiliary will hold an open membership meeting at 7:30 p.m. September 28 at Northville City Hall.

Membership in the auxiliary is open to any woman between the ages of 18-35.

The women's group is active in the community as an auxiliary in several events such as the Easter Egg Hunt, July 4th activities, Toys for Tots and the Walk for Mankind. Other projects include support for Muscular Dystrophy, Reyes Syndrome, Cystic Fibrosis and Burns Awareness.

A calligraphy demonstration will be conducted following the membership meeting. Persons interested in attending should call 348-2826.

Bess Myerson opens Town Hall

Ticketholders will meet a woman who "says what she means and does what she says" as Bess Myerson opens the 21st season for Northville Town Hall at 11 a.m. October 8 at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

BESS MYERSON

Women in Communication.

Known as a consumer advocate and expert on urban challenges, the comment quoted about Bess Myerson was made editorially as she campaigned for the United States Senate from New York in 1980, losing in the Reagan landslide.

The woman who was read about nationwide as she instituted pioneering programs while Commissioner for Consumer Affairs of New York City now runs her own business and also is a consultant to a variety of industries on internal efficiency and community relations.

She has been appointed to three presidential commissions — on productivity and quality of working life, mental health and world hunger. She also participated in the White House Conference on violence and crime.

Born in the Bronx, with exceptional musical talent in piano and flute, she was chosen to attend Music and Arts High School, one of New York City's most prestigious high schools, and went on to earn a BA degree at Hunter College. She did graduate study at Columbia University.

The career she intended to pursue in music began promisingly when her talent brought an invitation to perform as piano soloist with the New York Philharmonic. Although the reviews were encouraging, music was set aside as a career, but not for personal satisfaction, because other opportunities became available through winning a national contest (Miss America—1945).

She is National Commissioner of the Anti-Defamation League and has been made honorary chairperson of the women's division-State of Israel Bonds, after many years of active leadership.

Following Ms. Myerson during the 1981-82 season will be the psychic Char on November 12. Men's fashion expert Robert L. Green is slated for March 11, 1982, and entertainer Dennis Day for April 1.

Town hall committee announces that some tickets still are available for the four-lecture series at $20.

Mrs. Richard Lyon, ticket chairman, may be called at 349-2152, or checks with self-addressed stamped return envelopes may be mailed to Northville Town Hall, P.O. Box 93.

Celebrity luncheons will follow each lecture and may be purchased at $8 each in advance. Mrs. Severo Armada, 349-7255, is luncheon reservations chairman. Checks must be received no later than one week preceding each lecture.

She began a career in radio and television where her "personality" image changed to one of earned respect as a reporter and commentator.

She developed a skill in writing and has had articles in Redbook, Vogue, Reader's Digest, New York Times, Coronet and the NEA Syndicate.

She has received the Clarion Award from

JUDY ANTISHIN

Cooking class set

If you're looking for an easy but elegant way to entertain or prepare holiday appetizers, the Northville Recreation Department has the class for you.

Gourmet cook Judy Antishin will be conducting three cooking workshops at the Community building beginning October 15.

Antishin, whose cooking expertise is the culmination of 12 years of compiling a cookbook collection, will share recipes, demonstrate cooking techniques and prepare a tempting cuisine for workshop participants.

The October 15 and November 17 workshops will focus on ways to prepare a complete dinner the day before a party. Participants will make an appetizer, complete main course and dessert.

The October 15 and November 17 workshops will focus on ways to prepare a complete dinner the day before a party. Participants will make an appetizer, complete main course and dessert.

To help plan holiday menus, Antishin also will conduct a workshop on planning and preparing holiday appetizers.

The workshop will be held from 10 a.m. to noon December 10 and participants will prepare and taste several appetizers and a "spicy" beverage. Fees are $8 per person.

TOUR 1

MONROE COUNTY

★ Historic Sites ★ Parks
★ Sport Fishing ★ Duck Hunting

Portal to Southeast Michigan from Ohio is Monroe County where the coloring is magnificent. Traverse almost any of the byways leading from I-75 and US-23-24 and M-50. In the City of Monroe, historic points of interest abound and are carefully identified by markers. A new, expanded Monroe County Historical Museum at 126 S. Monroe St. is fascinating to visit, and new exhibits are being added as time permits. Also see historic River Raisin, Old Wayne Stockade, Anderson Trading Post, General Custer Monument. Visit sites of paper mills, learn about the nation's two great tree and plant nurseries, enjoy Sterling State Park and Plum Creek Bay State Game Area on shore of Lake Erie, stroll or picnic in many parks. Visit furniture showplace of Michigan, up-to-date fashion and specialty shops, St. Mary's Academy. Fall duck hunting abounds along Lake Erie in either the Erie State Game Area (south of Luna Pier) or the Pointe Mouillee State Game area at the mouth of the Huron River (near the northern edge of the county). For additional information contact Greater Monroe Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 1176, 22 West Second St., Monroe, Michigan 48161, phone (313) 242-3366, or State Highway Information Center on I-75 south of Monroe.

TOUR 2

LENAWEE COUNTY

★ Irish Hills Panorama ★ Antiques
★ Attractions ★ Fall Festivals

It's a scenic playground in the Irish Hills. Follow I-94 to US-23 just west of Ypsilanti, or take US-12 from Detroit through Ypsilanti. Just west of Clinton you are in the Irish Hills. The area abounds in activities and sights for the fall traveler — lakes nestled in tree-covered valleys — a countryside of rolling hills in glorious color — attractions (open week-ends generally) that amuse and inform both youngsters and adults. Historic sights include three churches that are among the oldest in Michigan — twin towers, providing a fascinating panorama of the countryside — a tavern of stage coach days still operated as a private restaurant — Cambridge Junction State Park is the site of the historic Walker Tavern currently undergoing restoration and offers picnic and other day use facilities, or tour leisurely through Walter J. Hayes State Park on Wampler's Lake.

From Cambridge Junction, M-50 leads south to the unusual Hidden Lake Gardens maintained by Michigan State University.

The City of Adrian, at the junction of M-52 and US-223, is rightfully called the Maple City. Adrian with its 16,000 spreading maples turning gold, the streets of historic old homes and the campuses of Adrian and Siena Heights Colleges, will hold the attention of both young and old. From Adrian, head south on US-223 to Blissfield for a fine dining experience at an age old restaurant that is a historical site. Then back to Adrian and north on M-52 to M-50, then turn right to Tecumseh. Then take Tecumseh-Clinton Highway north to US-12 and back to Detroit.

AUTUMN

With the arrival of fall and soon the arrival of exhilarating colors, the Southeast Michigan Travel and Tourist Association is recommending some color tours in our own backyard.

Following are two of thirteen available in a free brochure.

If you'd like the brochure write the association at P.O. Box 1590, 64 Park Street, Troy, 48099.

Squeezing profit from collectibles requires care

In the struggle against inflation more and more people are investing in coins, stamps, antiques or other collectibles with the expectation that increases in their value will offset inflation's impact.

Because this is becoming an important facet of personal money management, it is wise to learn about the investment potential of collectibles, advises the Michigan Association of CPAs.

Predicting the growth in value is hazardous and the prudent collector must patiently await the reward. Nevertheless, collectibles do hold advantages as tangible and practical assets.

One advantage is that while stocks or commodity prices fluctuate daily, the value of collectibles changes over longer periods of time. The holding period for a known piece of art is generally from five to 10 years, with more substantial profits being made between 30 and 40 years after the initial purchase.

To increase the value of a collection, expert collectors advise accumulating a complete set of rare or limited items. If, for example, you buy a set of four vases created by a particular craftsmen, one piece at a time, the price of the fourth vase will be higher than the first three already purchased. Possession of the complete set makes the vases more rare and the collection more valuable.

However, caution should be exercised when collecting rare items because limited editions meant to produce instant collectors items do not appreciate automatically. Many editions are limited by time. If a large number of people order before deadline, the number produced will be large. If the edition is limited by size, the manufacturer could produce many coins, plates or prints. Always ask the dealer how many of the edition are available, if it's the only edition and whether reproductions were done by the original artist.

If you are thinking about collectibles as a way to protect your money, it's good to decide which collectibles you like and their possibilities for appreciation before you buy. To make the most of any opportunities for growth in your collectibles' value, you should concentrate on a line of quality items by consulting either a catalogue or an expert.

By LAWRENCE D. KORN

Q. I am a veteran of World War II. I was laid off almost one year ago, and no longer have enough money on hand to make my mortgage payments. I am two months behind in my payments to the mortgage company. What should I do to save my house?

A. Since you are a veteran of World War II, I would immediately contact the Michigan Veteran Trust Fund, and make an application for them to give you enough money to catch up your back mortgage payments. The Michigan Veteran Trust Fund was established to handle the emergency needs of veterans. It is quite likely that they will give you a check to cover your unpaid mortgage payments.

In the meantime, if you have an equity in the house, I would suggest that you list the house with a reputable broker and attempt to sell it as quickly as possible. When you no longer can afford to keep up the mortgage payments, that is time to sell and salvage whatever monies you can. I would then look for a smaller house with lower mortgage payments that you might be able to handle.

You might also contact the Department of Social Services to see whether or not they will provide you with enough money to cover your mortgage payments if you decide to make every effort to save your home from foreclosure.

Q. I work as a door-to-door salesman, and recently I was robbed and beaten by an unknown person. Since the injury occurred while I was in my car, can I collect benefits under my no-fault automobile insurance company?

A. In the recent case of Ciaramitaro vs. State Farm Insurance Co., Michigan Court of Appeals case 52449, the court held:

"An assault by an armed assailant upon the driver of a commercially insured vehicle no matter what the nature of the business, is no more foreseeably identifiable with the normal use of the vehicle than an assault upon the driver of a privately insured vehicle." I doubt under these circumstances that you could recover under your no-fault automobile insurance policy.

Q. My son's wife recently filed suit for divorce. She obtained an order for temporary child support. Shortly after the case started, my son had a nervous breakdown, and as a result, has not been working. Does he have to pay the child support ordered by the court?

A. Until such time as the temporary order for payment of child support is set aside, your son is liable under the court order to pay child support. A motion should be filed by your son's attorney to modify the temporary order requesting that the temporary order be suspended, abated, terminated or reduced until such time as your son returns to work.

Q. I recently purchased a home on land contract. Nothing was recorded. Is it necessary to record the land contract?

A. Your land contract does not have to be recorded. However, I would strongly suggest that when you are purchasing property under a land contract, you should record the land contract. This would put your land contract on record.

Q. This protects you against any liens that might be levied against the property for debts owed by your vendor.

Further, if you lost the land contract, the recorded contract is on record, and you can always obtain a photocopy. Further, when buying a piece of property on land contract, it might be advisable that the deed from the sellers be placed in escrow with the title company so that when the property is paid off, you will not have to look for the sellers, but can go directly to the title company and obtain the deed.

Q. Two years ago I co-signed on a note at the credit union so that my brother-in-law could borrow money to buy a new car. Recently, my brother-in-law was laid off, and he is not making his credit union payments. The credit union is now threatening to sue. What can I do to prevent this from happening?

A. Once you co-sign on a note, you are personally liable as a co-maker. For this reason, be very careful before you undertake to guarantee the payment of another person's account as you did for your brother-in-law.

At the present time, I would go to the credit union and try to work out a payment plan that is acceptable to you. If this cannot be done, it would be in your best interest to let the credit union sue you and obtain a judgment. Then you can go to the court and ask to be placed on conciliation. The court will review your financial condition, and as a general rule, permit you to make payments that are within your means. Also, the interest paid on the judgment is usually less than the interest owed to the credit union.

Q. I am in the process of selling my house. Friends of mine have suggested that the offer to purchase show that the current taxes are to be adjusted under due date instead of fiscal year. Is this correct?

A. When taxes are paid ahead such as in Wayne County, an adjustment under either fiscal year or due date would give you the same result. However, here taxes are paid behind, it is to the seller's advantage to demand that current taxes be adjusted under due date. This gives the seller a savings of several hundred dollars by not having to adjust taxes that already have been used up on the city, county or school district's fiscal year. Under these circumstances, it is to the buyer's best interest to demand that current taxes be adjusted on a fiscal year basis.

Q. I presently own a home with a small existing mortgage at 7 3/4 percent. The value of my home is approximately $100,000 more than the amount of my mortgage. I cannot seem to find a cash customer with the present conditions. What can I do to sell my home?

A. You could try to find a customer who would purchase the property on a short term land contract at 11 percent where the customer pays a down payment of 20-30 percent, and monthly payments equal to or more than your monthly mortgage payment. At the end of a short period of time, say, three to five years, the contract would have a final balloon payment for the outstanding principal and interest, and the purchaser would then assume your existing mortgage and obtain a new mortgage refinancing the home.

Couyoumjian wins Schoolcraft Invite title

It was quite a week for Northville Mustang boys cross country runner Clark Couyoumjian. Frankly, it also was quite a week for the team in general. The Mustangs racked up their initial dual meet victories of the season last week and fared well at the Schoolcraft Invitational Saturday.

Northville downed North Farmington, 22-33, for its first dual meet triumph of 1981 last week Tuesday and promptly tacked on another verdict by downing Western Six Conference rival Livonia Churchill, 23-33, Thursday.

The 16th Annual Schoolcraft Invitational drew many teams from around the area with the Mustangs taking a fifth-place finish overall.

However, the story of the week belongs to Couyoumjian, a senior, who not only took first at the dual meets, but was the invitational champion as well at Schoolcraft.

"Clark did very well. He was our most consistent performer. It was really a great week for him," Northville head coach Ed Gabrys praised.

"It was quite an accomplishment (first at Schoolcraft). He has been working very hard toward that goal," he added.

Couyoumjian was the first runner across the line with a time of 16:10. His teammate, Scott Dayton, was the 10th man across the tape overall with a 16:48 clocking.

For their efforts, both runners were placed on the All Invitational squad which is determined by the 10 fastest times.

Dave Malinowski placed 19th overall with his time of 17:09 for the Mustangs. Other Northville runners competing were Seth Swallow (18:09), Jim O'Neill (18:10), Rick Getzen (18:21) and Jim Willoughby (18:27).

The Mustangs might have been able to win the title, Gabrys said, if Northville could have placed three runners in the top 10 and the remaining men placing higher—like around the low 30s.

Winning the team championship was Wayne with 68 points, followed by Westland John Glenn (100), Redford Union (109), Livonia Franklin (123) and Northville (155). Last year's champion, North Farmington, was sixth with 165 points.

While Gabrys saw some good performances at the meet, he also noted the team needs to get more improvement out of their fourth and fifth runners.

It was a cold and rainy day for the Mustangs when they went onto the course against Churchill, but it did not stop them from taking the first three places.

Of course, Couyoumjian was the first to break the tape with a time of 15:37. He was followed by Malinowski (16:14) and Dayton (16:30).

Churchill took the next four places before Swallow came across for eighth with a time of 17:16. Willoughby was ninth at 17:23 and O'Neill, only a sophomore, was 10th at 17:30.

Northville gained another automatic win (by taking the first three positions) when it did the same against North Farmington.

Couyoumjian was first with a 15:25 clocking which Gabrys said was the best time run in two years on the Cass Benton course, the home trail for the Mustangs.

Malinowski and Dayton came across the finish line together with identical 16:15 times.

Taking seventh overall for the Mustangs was O'Neill at 17:25, which impressed Gabrys. He was trailed by another sophomore, Doug Doyle, who was ninth at 17:58.

Gabrys is hoping to get seven of his runners under the 17-minute mark on the Mustangs' home course which will enable the team to fight for the regional and state titles.

So far, Gabrys has three runners under the mark and he thinks it is possible with many of his runners turning times under the 18-minute mark this early in the year.

"We're on target on what we're plotting at this moment," Gabrys said.

The Mustangs battled Farmington in a dual meet Tuesday and is on the road Thursday to clash with W-Six opponent Walled Lake Western.

The girls team ran against a number of schools last week Tuesday such as North Farmington, Plymouth Canton, etc.

Once again, leading the way for Northville was Kim Assenmacher with a time of 21:22. Kelly Wool was second with a time of 22:19 with Margie Wojcicki next at 23:14. Also running were Karen Sledz (23:36) and Libby Dietrich (24:46).

The girls were soundly defeated by Livonia Churchill, 18-41, in a dual meet Thursday.

Assenmacher was first for Northville with a time 20:52, followed by Wool at 21:42, Wojcicki at 23:04, Dietrich at 24:02 and Jill Carmichael at 24:23.

John Glenn blitzes Mustangs, 37-7

By JOHN MYERS

There were two key differences in the clash between Westland John Glenn and Northville Friday night—passing and return yardage.

Unfortunately for Northville, the Mustangs were not on top in either category and John Glenn was in spoiling the home opener for Northville, 37-7.

The Rockets had 89 yards passing and 150 return yards in five attempts compared to a minus 13 yards passing for Northville, now 1-1 overall, and 105 return yards in nine attempts.

"Our passing game was disastrous," Northville head coach Dennis Colligan said.

Mustang quarterback Tim McLaughlin completed only one of nine passes and threw two interceptions for the minus 13 yards passing. (Yards lost on quarterback sacks are deducted from passing yardage).

"He had an off night," Colligan defended.

Since the Mustangs could not move the ball through the air, John Glenn reared back and stopped the Northville running game (144 total yards). Scott Spanan was the top Northville rusher with 94 yards in 14 carries.

"They would send nine people sometimes," Colligan said. "When you have minus 13 yards passing, I don't care what kind of running game you have...you need some passing."

Early in the game, McLaughlin threw a couple of passes behind tight end Steve Schrader, who was open on the plays.

"If we could have completed those throws it would have loosened up their linebackers. But we didn't and they just poured in on us," Colligan explained. "Their line beat ours off the ball."

One reason Colligan thought

Northville's passing was below-average was because the team did not have to throw much against Redford Thurston in its season-opening win.

"That (passing) is definitely a phase of the game we have to work on," Colligan offered.

While Colligan was bemoaning his team's passing game, he had much praise for the Rockets return man Armand Varona and quarterback Rick Wilson.

"That one punt return, we got caught. We knew it was coming and we worked on it in practice, but we got caught. (Jim) Thomson had his best punt, but they

Northville tankers take dunking twice

And Northville girls basketball coach Gene Wagner thinks he has it tough.

Just like Wagner, Northville girls swimming coach Bill Dicks has to battle a numbers problem.

With only 11 tankers, sometimes 12, Dicks knows his team is at a disadvantage when it faces an opponent with a larger squad in a six-lane pool.

Before the season began, Dicks said his team could win every event in a dual meet in a six-lane pool and still lose because he does not have enough swimmers to go around.

However, he felt the Mustangs stood a chance in their pool, which is only four lanes, since a victory in every event would assure Northville the win.

Well, the season has begun and the Mustangs have been swamped twice in dual meets, but made a respectable showing at the Plymouth Salem Invitational Saturday.

The Mustangs took fourth place at the Salem Invitational and missed finishing third by a mere two points.

"That's our depth problem again," Dicks said.

If Northville could have had at least two more swimmers, Dicks explained, the Mustangs would have been able to make it over the hump for third.

Still, there were record-setting performances by two Mustang swimmers.

Trish Settles established two meet records—one in the 200-yard freestyle (2:05.8) and one in the 500-yard freestyle (5:32.3).

All American Kathy Bainbridge set another meet record for the Mustangs in the 100-yard butterfly with a 1:05.36 clocking.

According to Dicks, Northville owns nine of the 11 meet records since the Salem Invitational began. He said six of the records were established last year under former head coach Ben Lauber.

"There's only two more to shoot for," he added.

Northville took three seconds at the meet. Kim Thompson was runner-up in the 100-yard butterfly, Holly Sellen was second in the 100-yard backstroke and the 200-yard medley relay team of Sellen, Settles, Thompson and Bainbridge were runner-up.

Taking fourth were Vickie Grice in the 200-yard freestyle and Thompson in the individual medley.

Livonia Bentley came into the Northville pool with 36 team members and promptly dunked the Mustangs, 56-26.

Even with the advantage of swimming in its own pool the Mustangs took only three firsts.

Tish Johnson claimed the top spot in the diving event with Settles swimming to first in the 500-yard freestyle and Sellen taking the top spot in the 100-yard backstroke.

The medley relay team of Sellen, Settles, Bainbridge and Linda Shott was second as was Settles in the 200-yard freestyle and Thompson in the 100-yard butterfly.

Thompson also took thirds in the 200 freestyle and 100 butterfly, while Grice was third in the 50 and 100 freestyle and Bainbridge was third in the 200 individual medley.

Ypsilanti blitzed Northville, 107-59, as the two teams met at Ypsilanti's six-lane pool.

Taking first for the Mustangs were the 200 medley relay team of Sellen, Thompson, Bainbridge and Grice; Settles in the 200 and 500 freestyle; and Sellen in the 100 backstroke.

Thompson was runner-up in the 200 individual medley, Grice was second in the 50 and 100 freestyle, and Bainbridge was runner-up in the 100 butterfly.

Placing third were Bainbridge in the 200 individual medley and Johnson in the 50 freestyle.

The Mustangs are at Livonia Churchill Thursday and also on the road against Redford Union Monday.

Soccer team bounces back with win

By JOHN MYERS

Unlike two weeks ago, the Northville boys soccer team came up with a goal late in the game to hand West Suburban Soccer Association foe Farmington Harrison a 2-1 loss last week Thursday.

In a contest September 19 against Livonia Churchill, the Mustangs suffered their first loss of the season, 2-1, when the Chargers scored with only a few minutes left to play.

However, the Mustangs were not about to be denied their fourth victory in five contests as Greg Marshall tapped the ball past the Harrison goalie with nine minutes left to play. The goal proved to be the game winner.

The play began when Marshall's brother, Doug, took a shot from 18 yards out that skipped off the thick grass at Northville High School's football field and hit a defender.

Craig Lafferty tries to beat his opponent to the ball

The Harrison goalie came out to try and clear the ball, but Greg came charging in to kick the ball into the net.

It should be noted, however, both Marshall boys did not play in the first half due to missing practice the night before. Northville coach Ron Meteyer also was missing the services of German exchange student Rolf Ehrhardt and goalie Steve Ouellette, both of whom are out with injuries, for the entire contest.

While a couple of players were lost to injury, one Mustang returned. Omar Anisoglu played in his first game this year. He had been out with torn foot muscles and was not expected to play for another week.

The injury healed quicker than anticipated, Meteyer said, and Anisoglu played for 57 minutes against Harrison.

Even though Meteyer admitted it was a sloppily-played contest, he praised the work of sophomore goalie Jeff Metz.

"Metz stopped a couple of point-blank shots. He played a superb game. He guessed right all of the time," Meteyer said. "He was the one who cut them (Harrison) down."

Only once did Metz guess wrong against the Hawks when they had a breakaway opportunity early in the second half and scored to tie the contest at 1-1.

"That was the first time they have ever scored on us. They got a little excited," Meteyer said.

"They have improved more than any team we've faced," he added, noting the Mustangs downed Harrison last year by a 12-0 count.

"This year we had to scrap our way to a 2-1 win and that is not good," Meteyer said. "But, we played better than the Churchill game."

The Mustangs opened the scoring in the contest with a goal by sophomore Steve Starcevic at 29 minutes into the first half. It was his first regular-season goal of his high school career.

The score was the result of an indirect kick when Steve Ross tapped the ball, Jeff Dyer stopped it and Starcevic punched it into the upper right-hand corner of the net from 20 yards out.

For the game, Northville had 13 corner kicks to none for Harrison; eight goal kicks compared to the Hawks' 14; and 12 shots on goal to seven for Harrison.

"We were able to control the ball. We had a lot of shots on goal, but we were not able to put them in," Meteyer said.

"In fact, I don't know how many (shots) we hit off the goal post," he added.

Meteyer was disappointed in not scoring off any of the corner kicks. He said after the ball was kicked toward the net, most times Northville was able to get the first hit, but the ball then would hit off of a Harrison defender to thwart the opportunity.

While Meteyer admitted the team still had some things to work on, he noted halfback Doug Ross and wingers Dave Yarmouth, Chris Koenig and Craig Lafferty all played well.

One of things the Mustangs have to work on is adjusting to the thick grass conditions at the football field for home games.

When the Mustangs kick the ball, the grass slows the speed of the ball dramatically when it begins to roll after the first skip off the ground.

The Mustangs played Livonia Bentley Tuesday and are at home 4 p.m. Thursday against Plymouth Salem.

Streaking cage team claims second victory

There have been a lot of lean years for the Northville girls basketball program lately. But, that all seems to be changing now.

For the first time as long as anyone can remember, the Northville girls cage team has started the season with straight wins without a loss.

The Mustangs used a strong second-half effort to defeat neighboring Novi, 48-37, last week Tuesday. Northville dumped Milford, 55-36, two weeks ago to start the year. Both wins have come on the road.

The Mustangs opened their home season against Redford Thurston Tuesday night and Mustang coach Gene Wagner knew his team was in for a big test.

"It will be a tough game. They (Thurston) have an exceptional squad," Wagner assessed. He added the game would be a true test as to the development of this year's squad.

"Last year they beat us by like 20 or 30 points," he added. The scoreboard read last year: Thurston 55, Northville 29.

Northville has two more games on the road for the coming week. Thursday, the Mustangs travel to Livonia Churchill for their first Western Six Conference match up and heads to North Farmington next Tuesday in a non-league contest.

"We have good shot at beating Churchill," Wagner predicted.

The game did not start well for the Mustangs in the first quarter against Novi. Northville could only muster one point in the first 10½ minutes of the game.

The Wildcats led 6-1 after one period and 17-12 at the half against Northville.

One of the keys in the contest was Mustang Marge Muller shutting down the Wildcats' top scorer, Jane Jordan.

Jordan tallied 10 points in the first half and quickly added four to start the third quarter. It was then Wagner had Muller defend Jordan and try to deny her the ball the rest of the game.

The tactic worked as Jordan finished the game with 16 points, but was held scoreless in the final period by Muller.

Leading the way for the Mustangs, again, was senior guard Jacque Nixon with 18 points. She connected on four field goals and made 10 of 15 free throws. She was named captain this week by her teammates.

Melinda House added 14 points and hauled in a team high 12 rebounds.

Colts triumphant twice

Two of the three Northville/Novi Colts football teams came away with wins Sunday, with the varsity squad shutting down Ann Arbor, 20-0, for its second straight win.

Using a strong first half performance, the Northville/Novi Colts junior varsity team used it as a springboard for a 19-7 victory over Ann Arbor Sunday.

Unfortunately for the Colts' freshmen squad, it could not produce any points in getting blanked by Ann Arbor, 12-0.

In the varsity contest, Eric Terlecki recovered an Ann Arbor fumble on the opening kickoff.

It did not take Northville long to score as Dion Earehart scored on a reverse play and Eric Morfe scored the extra point for a 7-0 advantage.

Northville fumbled on its own 15-yard line, but John Taschner intercepted the Packer pass. Earehart then raced 74 yards for a touchdown, but it was called back on penalty.

Earehart scored in the second quarter from four yards out and Morfe scored the extra point to give Northville a commanding 14-0 lead. The final Northville tally came in the same period when Mike Hilfinger connected with Jamie Craik for a touchdown pass.

The Ann Arbor Packers struck quickly against the Colts junior varsity when Maurice Johnston scored on a 70-yard run on the game's first play.

However, Northville came right back with a 51-yard touchdown run by Wade Zoroya, who was aided by a key block from Brent Heppner.

The first half ended with Northville trailing 7-6. But, that suddenly changed in the third period.

A long Northville drive ended with Bob Smith sprinting seven yards for the go-ahead TD. Heppner threw to Mark Koronka for the extra point and a 13-7 advantage.

Northville's final score came when Smith intercepted a Packer pass and ran 20 yards for the six-pointer.

The Colts' freshmen squad began the game impressively by stopping Ann Arbor on its opening drive, and then marching the ball all the way down to the Packers' two-yard line.

But that was as close as Northville would come to scoring as Ann Arbor held and the Packers promptly ran 98 yards for its first touchdown of the game.

Neither team moved the ball well in the second period until Ann Arbor broke off another long TD run—this one covering 85 yards.

All three Northville teams are in action Saturday for Homecoming games against the Plymouth Lions at the Northville High School football field. First game begins at 4 p.m.

Northville linkers fall prey twice

Like almost every other Northville High School sports team (except cross country and soccer), the boys golf team fell to defeat twice last week.

The Mustangs were nipped by a stroke against Redford Thurston, 215-216, and soundly beaten by Livonia Stevenson, 204-220.

Northville hopes to raise its 3-2 overall record with matches against Livonia Bentley today and Western Six Conference foes Plymouth Canton away Thursday and Farmington Harrison home 3:30 p.m. Friday. The Mustangs are 1-0 in W-Six action.

Tuesday, the Mustangs were participating in the Plymouth Best Ball tournament. Linkers Steve Handley, Mark Goodson, Greg Wolfe and Kip Mack represented Northville to gain some 18-hole tournament experience.

"I try to give different people a chance to play (in tournaments)," Northville coach Joe Blake said.

By letting as many of his players participate in tournaments it will help them prepare for the 18-hole league and regional matches, Blake said.

The Mustangs are up against a strong Bentley team according to Blake, but he knows little about conference foes Canton and Harrison.

"Farmington Harrison lost a few people. I don't know if they will be real strong. Hopefully, we'll have good days," Blake said.

The days last week were not so good to Northville.

Goodson was the top golfer for Northville with his nine-hole total of 40 against Thurston. He was followed by Dave Pohlod at 42, Handley at 44 and Bob Pegrum and Mack, both of whom had 45s.

Blake said the course was unfamiliar to his Northville team, but that should not have created a problem.

"They weren't that strong. They had one outstanding score that made the difference," he added. "That's the way it goes."

Thurston had its top golfer tour the course with a 37, followed by scores of 42, 43, 44 and 49.

The difference in the Stevenson match was Northville had to count a nine-hole total of 53 from its fifth golfer.

Mack was the top performer, though, with a 40. He was followed by Terry McMann at 41, Handley at 42 and Pegrum at 44.

It is that consistent fifth scorer Blake is hoping to get relatively soon to make a difference later in the season.

He also noted the weather has made some difference in the performance of the golfers. He explained due to cold weather and rain, the golfers have to adjust to the conditions.

"(It weather) affects the scores more than anything else," he explained.

If there is one positive aspect to the weather, it is that it could help the team when it plays some of its more important matches in late October.

However, all is going well according to Blake.

"I think they are coming around," he said.

Stars blank Sunrise in youth soccer game

It was a good week for the girls under-12 division in the West Suburban Soccer League during the past week.

In games played during the weekend, three of the five girls squad came away with impressive victories, while the fourth and fifth teams were shutout.

UNDER-12 GIRLS

Northville Stars 4, Northville Sunrise 0: in a match-up between city teams, the Stars prevailed on a three-goal performance by Karen Baird and another tally by Jennifer Barber.

Stars goalie Jeanean Sullivan recorded her second shutout of the season. Playing well defensively were Jennifer Dragon and Neysa Colizzi.

Jennifer Lewis and Carrie Hardin were cited for their play in a losing effort.

Northville Pink Panthers 6, Plymouth No. 5 0: Heather Sixt and Maureen Morrissey each tallied two goals and teammates Karen Baidas and Erin Martin each scored once to pace the winners. Mary Orlowski was credited with good defensive play.

Northville Wildcats 6, Plymouth No. 3 2: the Wildcats' Lisa Irwin really beat Plymouth by herself with a four-goal effort. Jennifer Beyersdorf and Amy Bowes also scored. Kristen Abitz, Denise Akroush and Jodi Smalax were credited with good defensive play.

Lakes No. 2 6, Northville Lynx 0: Despite the efforts of Julie Legner, Tracey Nawrot and Jennifer Trabin, the Lynx could not break the goose egg on the scoreboard.

UNDER-14 GIRLS

Northville Fillies 3, Lakes No. 1 1: goals by Lynn Bills, Jenny Schuermann and Lisa D'Alexandris proved to be enough for the winners. Robin Wisely played well defensively.

Northville Cougars 3, Plymouth No. 2 0: Michele Cross scored a hat trick to pace the winning Cougar effort. Goalie Kris Cassidy received credit for the shutout.

Northville Aztecs 4, Lakes No. 2 3: it was a slim margin of victory but the Aztecs prevailed on three goals by Julie Angry and one by Julie Brady.

Northville Blue Steaks 5, Northville Foxes 4: in another city clash, the Steaks battled back from a 4-1 deficit at halftime to win.

Linda Bachagalupi scored twice with single goals coming from Mary Coseo, Alison Kugler and Margaret DeMattia. Scoring for the Foxes were Sheryl Skolarus, Rozanne Serkaian, Mary Parkison and Carol Olsen.

UNDER-16 GIRLS

Northville No. 2 Charlie's Angels 6, Northville No. 3 Foxes 0: the winners cruised to an easy victory with Lucy Petrides scoring twice with single goals scored by April Karl, Donna Selman, Sheri Cordero and Kim Abraham.

The Foxes, despite not scoring, were led by Belinda Cureton, who made numerous saves in goal.

Northville No. 2 Blue Racers 2, Northville No. 1 Aztecs 1: Jill Jensen's goal off a penalty kick with seconds remaining proved to be the difference for the Blue Racers. Denise Colvas netted the other goal.

Hartland, rain get best of Mustang tennis team

Not only did Hartland get the best of the Northville girls tennis team, but the rain did as well.

The Mustangs lost their first meet of the year to Hartland, a heartbreaking 4-3 decision which saw many matches go to three sets or the tie-breaker.

Also, rain forced the cancellation of two Northville matches.

Last week Wednesday's encounter with Plymouth Canton was washed out as was Monday's battle against Farmington Harrison. Both were Western Six Conference matches.

Today, the Mustangs hope things will be a little better as they tangle with Livonia Stevenson at 4 p.m. on the high school courts.

The match against the Patriots was scheduled since the original opponent, Pontiac Northern, had to cancel because all Pontiac schools have dropped sports.

Now back to the Hartland match.

The Mustangs won the first three singles matches, but could not find a fourth victory to clinch a team triumph.

"We lost a squeazer. I have yet to see a match that could be any closer. It was very long and very well fought," Northville coach Uta Filkin said.

Odom almost perfect

If only Northville had not lost to Westland John Glenn.

That is what this week's football contest winner Chris Odom must be thinking as that was the only game which prevented him from correctly picking every winner.

Odom, 797 Springfield Drive, of Northville, had 17 winners out of a possible 18 with the Northville game being the only blemish.

The key to Odom having so many correct answers was the ability to predict Clemson would upset previously unbeaten and defending national champion Georgia and for Minnesota to upset Purdue in a Big Ten confrontation.

However, there was not such a clear cut winner for second and third place.

Not even the tie-breaker could separate Northville's Paul Caroselli, 770 Bradburn, Farmington's Art Thompson, 39603 Blakeston, Novi's

John Glenn pass Mustang gridders for 37-7 triumph

returned the ball all the way to the 10," Colligan said.

The play the third-year head mentor was referring to was when Varona took a hand off from his teammate on a nifty reverse after Thomsons punt and raced all the way down to the 10-yard line.

Five plays later, Wilson hit Varona with a five-yard scoring pass with 1:32 left in the half to put Westland ahead, 19-7.

It was that return and subsequent touchdown that turned the ballgame around to John Glenn's favor in Colligan's opinion.

"We had a morale letdown when that kid returned the punt. It really turned the game around," he explained. "We were two touchdowns down at the half instead of one."

Northville looked unimpressive throughout much of the game. On their opening drive, the Mustangs gained three yards, then lost four on a bad pitch out and a McLaughlin pass fell incomplete forcing a punt.

Except for a couple of instances, that was story of the game for Northville—practically three plays and punt.

"There weren't too many bright spots," Colligan said. "We had a few drives stall because of fumbles."

After Wilson connected on a five-yard TD pass to give John Glenn a 6-0 first-quarter lead, Northville received a break early in the second stanza for one of its few bright moments.

John Glenn fumbled at their own 49-yard line and Northville marched smartly down the field for the go-ahead touchdown with 8:41 remaining in the half.

McLaughlin bulled over from the one after running backs Scott Spaman and Andy Dimitroff kept the drive alive with runs of 20 and 12 yards, respectively.

Unbeknown to the partisan Mustang fans at the time, it would turn out to be the one and only lead of the contest for Northville.

On the ensuing kickoff, Varona again hurt the Mustangs with a stunning 52 yard return to give John Glenn the ball at the Northville 38.

Six plays and two Northville penalties later, running back Todd Jennings skated in on a one-yard run to put the Rockets back in front for good 12-7. The two-point conversion failed.

Northville had another good drive early in third period, but was stopped when a pass fell incomplete and McLaughlin was sacked to force a punt.

John Glenn wasted no time moving the ball after the punt when Wilson connected with Varona on a 43-yard pass to the Northville 37. Five plays later Jennings ran in from five yards out for a 27-7 John Glenn lead.

The Rockets added a field goal early in the fourth quarter and added insult to injury when the Rockets' second team punched the ball into the endzone with only two seconds left to play.

"I anticipated a high-scoring game, but I thought we would have put a few more points on the board," Colligan offered.

Next up for the Mustangs is its opening Western Six Conference contest against Walled Lake Western at 7:30 p.m. Saturday night. The game is being played at Walled Lake Central's field located at Commerce Road and Oakley Park.

Colligan believes the Mustangs are in for a tough ballgame against the Warriors, coached by former Northville assistant Chuck Apap.

"They're impressive. They have some big running backs. They have four runners who are all capable of running the ball well," he added.

"I think they'll be the favorite and I don't mind being the underdog," Colligan said.

Northville JV tie Westland

There was neither a winner nor a loser when the Northville junior varsity football team battled against Westland John Glenn Thursday night.

Both teams scored touchdowns in the first half which resulted in the game ending in an 8-all deadlock.

The Mustangs will take their 1-0-1 record against Western Six Conference rival Walled Lake Western at home 7 p.m. Thursday.

Northville began the game with a bang on its first offensive series.

After forcing John Glenn to punt, the Mustangs took control of the ball at their own 20-yard line. Then, on the first play of the game, Northville running back John Quinn ramblmed 79 yards to the Westland one-yard line.

Mike Sylvestre scored on a quarterback sneak the next play to give the Mustangs a 6-0 lead. Quinn took the ball in the endzone for the two-point conversion.

But, that turned out to be all the scoring Northville could muster offensively.

The second quarter saw John Glenn knot the score when they scored on a five-yard run which was set up by passes of 23 and 15 yards. The Rockets ran in for the two-point conversion.

Neither squad could come up with a score in the second half and the game ended in a tie.

Quinn led all Northville rushers with 136 yards on 17 carries. In addition to his big gainer in the opening stanza, Quinn ran for a 30-yard pick up in final period.

Sylvestre punted the ball four times for an average of 32.4 yards.

The coaches, Lee Holland and John Horwath, named Quinn's 79-yard jaunt the play of the game and Ed Bowman was honored with the hit of the game. Bowman led the defense with six tackles and two assists.

Aren't you tired of going from doctor to doctor looking for relief, trying to find someone or something to ease your pain and suffering? Have you been told your pain is just in your head and caused by your nerves (but you know it's real)? Why not try chiropractic care.

Chiropractic is the natural health science. Chiropractors realize that when your body suffers from aches, pains and discomforts these symptoms are actually warning signals of your declining health and not the central underlying problem. Chiropractors are "cause doctors" and seek to locate and correct the cause of your health problems and thereby eliminate your symptoms.

Why be sick when you can be well.

CHECK YOUR POSTURE

Correct posture is attained when your muscles hold your body in balance. To check your posture try this simple test: Stand with your back to the wall with head, shoulder blades, calves and heels touching the wall. Place your hands at your sides. Flatten the hollow of the back by pressing the buttocks back against the wall. The space at the back of your waist should not be greater than the thickness of your hand.

Now stand facing the wall with palms of hand on front of thighs. If your chest touches the wall first, your posture is excellent or at least quite good. If your head touches first, your posture is only fair. If your abdomen touches first, your posture is poor.

Ask your doctor of chiropractic to tell you how important good posture is to good health. He will explain in detail how bad posture affects the functions of your entire body. More important, he will help you to correct your postural problem.

What Does Good Posture Do For You?

1. Improves appearance and makes clothes fit and look better.
2. Aids in personality development by instilling confidence and pride.
3. Promotes better health since body organs have room to work properly.
4. Makes it easier to work and play since the body is better coordinated and more comfortable.
5. Lessens possibility of accidental injury since the body is in balance.

What Are The Causes of Poor Posture?

1. Poor eyesight.
2. Foot problems or ill-fitting shoes.
3. Weak muscles which cannot hold the body in proper position.
4. Improper nutrition leading to a deficiency in vitamins and minerals.
5. Poor bedding which does not properly support back muscles.
6. Negative physical and mental attitudes.
7. A distortion in the body from failure to develop properly.
8. An injury to muscles, ligaments, tendons or bones.
9. Excessive weight which the body cannot adequately support.
10. Emotional and physical stress.

MOST POSTURAL FAULTS CAN BE HELPED

You cannot be really physically fit without good posture, for health and efficiency are affected by posture. Poor posture contributes to shallow breathing, a cramped chest cavity, faulty digestion and poor elimination. It often results in lack of energy. Working efficiency is impaired. Employers and teacher, as well as parents, should be constantly on the alert for opportunities to improve the postural environment of those under their supervision. Better and more scientifically designed chairs, better positioning of work materials, a more informative program of postural education...all will contribute to more and better production.

Children Need Chiropractic

Children need spinal check-ups early in life, for very obvious reasons. In the formative years, little ones are most susceptible and most exposed to the human and natural influences which could affect their health. Preventative maintenance can ward off disease and illness. Children love chiropractic, because it is gentle and effective. No foul-tasting medicines to force down, no painful and dangerous injections. And no financial drains on the parents.

The diseases of children are many and varied, but virtually all of them can be avoided through regular scientific health care service.

Why should your children be sick when they can be feeling well?

WITHOUT PILLS OR DRUGS

Things like leg pains, headaches, fevers, poor appetite, nervousness, nightmares, asthma, ear aches and the like can be cured without pills or drugs by chiropractic care and, better yet, prevented by chiropractic care and early spinal check-ups.

A very important part of your children's health program should be back-to-school spinal check-ups, usually in the late summer. Your chiropractor can check your children's spines and determine whether there is a problem, and if so, correct it. Spinal check-ups are not only a good physical measure, but can help your children be more mentally alert and therefore better students.

Any activity in which the structure of the human frame is thrown out of normal balance can cause distortion of the spine. Since it is impossible to restrain a child from participating in the numerous normal activities that may cause stress and strain, the correction of faulty body mechanics during the early stages is important. This is why doctors of chiropractic recommend that children have periodic spinal health examinations.

Active children are particularly prone to spinal subluxation because they are energetic, impatient, and have an innocent disregard often for caution. Spinal disorders often are the result of twists, sudden turns, awkward lifts and postural positions, and shocking body contact during play. If not corrected, spinal problems may lead to interference with normal nerve function and body mechanics causing or contributing to severe illness.

Chiropractic Gets Results

It's Up To You . . . To Make The Next Move

A game of checkers take a lot of thought and consideration as to which move to make next.

The decision you make may result in winning or losing the game.

Every day you have to make decisions. The wrong move may casue unhappiness to yourself or others.

These are the moves we all have to make for better living conditions, easier work, and fullest enjoyment of our lives.

These are the luxuries we all want and can have if we can afford the price.

But, the greatest luxury we can possess is good health.

In all the activities of life, in everything we do, health is an ever present consideration.

Yet few of us give any thought to the intricate functions of our bodily machinery, or do we realize the importance of the nervous system as a controlling factor.

Every part of your body depends upon the nervous system to produce the power and strength to function properly.

Interference with nerve transmission by a displaced vertebra somewhere in the spinal column causes one or more organs of the body to cease functioning properly.

Good health results from proper regulation of body function in its nervous system. If the organ is not receiving the normal quantity of nerve power inside, it cannot function efficiently.

The inside power must express itself in a normal and natural manner.

The important factor in maintaining that healthy, happy feeling is giving nature an opportunity to heal.

All matter has a breaking point, it can withstand just so much force without breaking down. So it is with the human body. Its component parts can take just so much abuse and no more.

Back of every ailment is a fundamental cause. In the correction of this cause, it is essential to utilize the method which will be most effective.

The chiropractor is specially trained to locate and remove dangerous nerve pressure. He is an expert at correcting displaced vertebra and releasing nerve pressure in the spinal column.

The spinal factor warrants thoughtful consideration, especially if other methods have proven ineffective.

Effects Of Spinal Misalignments

The chart at left shows just a few conditions which can be caused by "pressed" nerves. How do these nerves become "pressed"?

Normally all vertebrae in the spine are in alignment or "straight", (picture below left) this allows nerve impulses to flow through the nerve to wherever they are needed to make that portion of your body function or "work" normally.

If through a fall, jar or bump these vertebrae are knocked out of alignment (picture below right) the vertebrae will press on the nerve exiting between it consequently blocking the flow of nerve impulses, resulting in loss of normal function which leads to sickness as mentioned in the chart at left.

Pain in the spine or neck need not be present to have the cause of your problem there. Symptoms are signs or signals, which are the result of a cause. They need not be located in the same area. For instance, pain and swelling in the hands can be caused by pressed nerves in the base of the neck.

Chiropractors correct these mis-alignments thus allowing the body to function normally again.

If you have any of these problems mentioned above in the chart and want the cause corrected, make an appointment now.

Chiropractic is growing at a fantastic rate. In only 85 years we have become the number one drugless health care provided in the world. Why? Because chiropractic delivers
