City streets cleared swiftly after onslaught

As city road crews resanded and salted intersections and hills yesterday and began plowing streets again, city officials assessed the situation after last week's triple-header storm.

A pleased city manager Steven Walters observed, "It's when you travel out of Northville that you realize what a great job the DPW has done."

City plows were out Tuesday morning plowing main streets in subdivisions, keeping them open as they had last week. Walters' comment referred to the fact that in some communities subdivision roads had not yet been plowed out.

DPW head Theodore Mapes said this week that the city has an adequate supply of salt "provided we don't get hit with too many more storms."

He said city crews to date have used about the same amount of salt as last year at this time but explained that the department has cut back on salting, mainly doing intersections and hills.

He noted that the city crews also are sprinkling a mix of sand and chloride. He said this is more effective when the temperature falls to 20 degrees or less.

Mapes declared the city had received more snow this winter than he had seen in the 12 years he has been on the job.

The city this year is getting its salt from Morton Salt Company, low bidder for the contract. Mapes said getting salt is a problem for all communities. He related that he will call to place an order for three 55-ton loads, but that delivery will come in three shipments, each delayed a few days.

The city stockpiles 400-500 tons of salt in a shed in the DPW yard, Mapes added. As soon as the supply gets a little low, he said, he places an order.

Therefore, the city is not in short supply at present.

He mentioned the city has sold about 16 tons to the school district which does not have storage facilities to store salt.

Mapes said the current supply of salt delivered by Morton is coming from Canada. This is not unusual, he added, as the salt companies tap their Canadian firms, but generally it is later in the winter.

While snow storage is "starting to get tight" in the DPW yard on Silver Spr-

Wallace Nichols, 73, dies, councilman until 1979

W. WALLACE NICHOLS

W. Wallace Nichols, who served as a city council member for more than 10 years, died at his home at 219 South Ely about midnight Saturday at the age of 73.

A memorial service is scheduled for 2 p.m. Saturday, February 20, at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church where he was a member. Pastor Charles Boerger will officiate.

Mr. Nichols, who had been a collection manager, moved to the community 22 years ago this month.

His record of service to the city included membership on the zoning board of appeals from September, 1961, to July, 1963, when he was appointed to the city planning commission. He served until January, 1967, when he was named to the city council to fill a vacancy on the resignation of Fred Kester.

He subsequently was elected to three council terms, serving until November 12, 1979.

He did not seek reelection because of health problems.

On November 5, 1979, city council honored Mr. Nichols as he retired with a resolution citing his "outstanding dedication and effort for the betterment of our city" and noting his 14½ years of service to city government.

Despite ill health Mr. Nichols continued his interest in city affairs, occasionally attending a council session.

With council member J. Burton DeRusha he completed an in-depth study of the community's school system after leaving office.

He was succeeded on the council by Carolann Ayers.

In St. Paul's church, Mr. Nichols had assumed responsibility for the monthly newsletter several months ago and was serving as editor at the time of his death.

Mr. Nichols was born November 14, 1908, in Jackson, Michigan, to Melville H. and Mable (Wallace) Nichols.

He married Katherine Neeb, who survives, on March 22, 1941.

He also leaves a daughter Elizabeth Baldwin in Indiana, a brother Mel in Jackson and three grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements were by Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home.

Ford, still holding, draws coverage

Employees of Ford Motor Company's Northville Valve Plant are still dangling, awaiting the results of on-going negotiations between the firm and the United Auto Workers (UAW) union.

A third "temporary" layoff was given the remaining skeleton crew of workers and a "hold" order still pertains on equipment being transferred to other facilities of the nation's second largest auto company, according to plant officials here.

"Indefinite" layoffs already have hit the jobs of nearly 200 employees of the plant, which had operated as a valve-production location for 62 years when work stopped November 20.

All await word from Dearborn, where the union seeks job security provisions in exchange for wage and benefit concessions in a renegotiated contract. Discussion of the company's proposal and the union's response was reported to have entered "high gear" this week, but there is no deadline for completion.

Meanwhile, local 896 members hope the Northville Plant may reopen. News reports of the company's proposal indicate that is an unlikely, but not impossible, event. A one-year moratorium on plant closings "not already announced" was reportedly a part of the company's proposal. If the UAW accepted that proviso as is, the Northville Plant would still close, since it has been announced not once, but several times; the first time being in November, 1980.

Members of the Northville local might find themselves eligible for additional benefits, however, if an agreement providing them is reached. Security provisions in the form of a new benefit plan for high-seniority employees, of which the valve plant had many, are also reported elements of the talks.

Local president Norm Fultz is a member of the national bargaining committee that has spent most of the past several weeks at the table with Ford, hitting its stride when talks failed at General Motors at the end of January.

Fultz has since been virtually unavailable for comment, usually behind closed doors in Ford's Dearborn World Headquarters.

The valve plant closing is continuing to receive national attention.

Interest has continued since the January 18 issue of The New Yorker magazine outlined the situation and commented on the plight of the ducks.

Last week NBC television news crews were in town photographing the ducks and interviewing City Manager Steven Walters and Mayor Paul Vernon.

Saying it...

As Ken Brundage ordered a Valentine Day bouquet for his wife from his friend Ed Broderick at Northville Gallery of Flowers last weekend, he found congratulations also were in order. Ed's wife Kris, who usually operates the Main Street shop, is the new mother of the couple's second son Jason. He was born February 2 at Providence Hospital weighing eight pounds, 12 ounces, and joins brother Ryan at the family's Country Place home. Ryan also is celebrating — he was two years old Sunday. Ed temporarily was minding the four-year-old business taking orders for roses, daisies and carnations to be delivered before Sunday — which, of course, is Valentine's Day.

JOINT SESSION of the Wayne and Oakland County Intermediate School Boards canceled last Thursday due to bad weather, has been rescheduled for 7:30 p.m. February 18 in the board conference room at Old Village School. The two intermediate school boards will meet to discuss a proposed school district transfer requested by residents of the Northville school district who live in the Brookland Farms and Dunbarton Pines subdivisions in Novi.

ing, Mapes said he is sure the crews will "fit it all in."

The city has an arrangement with Zayti Trucking by which the firm's trucks pick up the snow piled in parking lots and along streets by city plow crews. It is taken to the DPW yard in exchange for Zayti being allowed to dump snow there that it removes from the racetrack.

City Police Chief Rodney Cannon had high praise Tuesday for the community's senior citizens. "They do a remarkable job of keeping their walks clean," he observed.

He pointed out that the city has an ordinance requiring that walks be cleaned or covered with salt or sand within 24 hours of a storm.

"Most of the city's walks were cleared until last week," he said, adding that city police have been going door-to-door asking residents to clear them. Those with uncleared walks are given 24 hours to clear or to cover them with salt or sand. Then, if this is not done, the officers have been issuing citations.

While they give residents a copy of the ordinance with the warning, Cannon commented, his officers are unpopular as they do so. He said residents have told the officers they see loose dogs and other violations go without penalty and wonder why the city is enforcing this one.

City council earlier had passed the ordinance because of concerns for pedestrians' safety.

Postmaster Wallace Cates reported his carriers "hadn't missed a day" delivering last week, noting that almost 80 percent of Northville residents received their mail.

Only if they can't reach a mailbox for drifts do carriers bring the mail back to the post office, he said.

Any resident who knows his mail can't be delivered because of the snow, Cates added, may call the post office before 9 a.m. to have it held for pick-up. Mailed being returned by the carrier usually is available after 4:30 p.m.

This week most residents were going about their business as usual. Even joggers were out Tuesday. Cannon had a word of caution for those who jog in the streets. Because most seem to concentrate on rhythm, he warned they must also be aware of ice under the snow that can be dangerous — both from the joggers' standpoint and for motorists who could have difficulty stopping.

As Mapes observed, "It won't be so bad if it quits now."

Most residents digging out agree. But then Mapes added, "The six-week forecast doesn't look that good."

Winter takes its toll on school's budget

Bitter cold temperatures coupled with the recent onslaughts of snow have put a fairly hefty dent in the Northville Public Schools' budget.

According to Assistant Superintendent Burton S. Knighton, the school district already has spent $1,000 more on maintenance, transportation and snow removal in the past two months than in all of last winter.

Knighton told the board of education at its meeting Monday that the administration has spent close to $6,000 this winter in bus transportation, snow removal, heating buildings and maintaining equipment. Last year's rather mild winter cost the district $4,800.

Knighton said the largest costs have come in the areas of snow removal, transportation and bus and equipment maintenance.

The district currently is hiring a contractor to remove snow from school parking lots and sidewalks due to the limited capacity of the school's snow removal equipment.

The administration already has spent almost $1,500 this winter in repairing the district's aging snow removal equipment, according to William Hood, administrative assistant for business operations.

Longer bus runs due to slippery road conditions have added considerably to the district's fuel bill, according to Transportation Supervisor Clyde Barrett.

In addition, the recent conversion of school buses to propane has caused a few unanticipated problems.

Barrett explained that in extreme cold temperatures the "propane would turn to lead" causing engines to freeze. However, he noted that since switching to a higher propane oil buses have been starting with few problems.

For Northville students, the recent barrage of snow has resulted in a little unexpected vacation time.

School Superintendent Lawrence Nichols mentioned at Monday's meeting that this winter's school closings are unprecedented for Northville.

"I cannot recall when we have closed school on four different occasions," he said.

Northville's first school closing of the winter was after the December 23 snowstorm when the district's closed the ISE program.

Schools shut down again January 11 due to bitterly cold temperatures and closed twice last week because of the snow.

While students have been enjoying the aftermath of Mother Nature's fury, teachers and administrators have been scrambling around schedules to make up for lost hours.

Assistant Superintendent Nancy Soper said last week's Parent-Teacher conferences currently are being rescheduled and that teachers and building principals will be notifying parents of changes.

Schoolcraft College, too, reported that its two-and-a-half day closing last week was a record in the college's 18-year history.

When Demons
Flee

Dr. James H.
Luther

Do you know the story of our Lord casting a great number of demons out of the miserable creature who dwell in the tombs, cutting himself with knives and "no man could bind him, no, not with chains" (Mark 5:4-5). Strangely, the demons entered a herd of swine which plunged off a cliff into the sea. Now, when the people of the city arrived at the scene, they found the man sitting at the feet of Jesus (being encouraged and taught), clothed and in his right mind! The people "were taken with great fear" (Luke 8:37), and asked Jesus to depart from their country.

Those citizens were like many people today. Instead of rejoicing at the freedom of the one who is wonderfully changed, they fear the power of God and reject Christ. Why?

1. People tend to fear what they do not understand. What a pity that man's fear of the life-changing power of the gospel results in fighting the work of God. Had Jesus stayed in that country, how many others whose lives were blighted by sin and ignorance would have been healed. Instead of experiencing revival, they asked Jesus to leave.

2. They loved money more than the souls of men. The Gadarenes were more interested in pigs than men. Anyone who traffics in that which debases souls is like those Gadarenes. They do not want Jesus around, or the preaching of the gospel lest it hurt their business.

Do not fear the Lord, or you will reject love itself. Make sure you care for men more than money, lest the curse of God fall on you.

Block grant proposals set for both counties

City Manager Steven Walters warned city council at concurrent public hearings February 1 for Oakland and Wayne County block grants that amounts still are uncertain and that the city "should not expect any extra" as in previous years.

The city expects to receive approximately $80,000 from Wayne County and $15,000 from Oakland County.

Asked by council member Paul Folino about the possibility of using grant monies for a police service garage, Walters explained that it is not possible to receive grant money funding for police or fire buildings unless such projects are part of a neighborhood renovation.

It was suggested that police department renovations would be a good project from the city's standpoint as modernization of the jail area had been discussed in conjunction with shared dispatch.

Mayor Paul Vernon observed that it is "kind of ironic" that the city is trying to find acceptable uses for grant funds while it is facing a budget deficit.

City hall-library bond redemption was suggested as this is a $60,000 item. Walters said then a second project also would be needed to use this coming year's $80,000 from Wayne County.

He outlined the four basic criteria the projects have to meet in filling a critical community need, as, a revitalization of the central community; housing; housing rehabilitation; or general rehabilitation of blighted neighborhoods.

The expansion of Mainstreet '78 project to Griswold and the parking for Cady Street were discussed as possibilities for the Wayne County grant by the council. There was no audience for this agenda item.

Walters told council that it really is more of a problem to use the Oakland County grant as that county wants more specific projects.

He noted, however, that federal regulations have been changed to permit funds to be spent outside the county.

Council member Carolann Ayers suggested Ford Field, pointing out that only a small portion of planned renovations has been completed. "There's lots to do there," she observed.

It was agreed that the application could be made for this project and funds be held until the outcome of the Ford Valve Plant sale is known.

The field has been used for recreation purposes for years with the city giving Ford a tax credit. Vernon and Walters both have said that they feel any purchaser probably would be willing to continue the arrangement.

The city also has asked Ford Motor Company for the field as a direct gift.

It also was suggested that a proposal from Police Chief Rodney Cannon for a public shelter in event of a disaster be added to the Oakland grant request.

He reported that he has been working on emergency contingency plans for the city in case of a natural or a man-made disaster, and proposed that the city hall be designated as a public shelter to house citizens on a temporary basis in such an event.

He noted that the building has several large open rooms that could be utilized as reception areas that could contain cots and offer food service. In addition, his report stated, first aid, a kitchen, shower and barrier-free rest room facilities are available. The rest room facilities were installed with previous block grant funds.

Cannon said the city is deficient, however, in having auxiliary electrical power. The present generator, he told council, is "totally incapable of supplying emergency power for our needs today."

He pointed out that in the past two weeks the emergency power has been used on two occasions for a total of seven hours. The generator only supplied enough power for minimal lighting and radio service in the police department, he reported. It was not possible to operate the warning siren used as a back-up to alert volunteer firemen as well as a warning of an oncoming tornado or attack.

Cost of a gasoline powered generator that would supply complete auxiliary electrical power for the total city hall, Cannon said, would be in the area of $15,000 with cost including complete installation of a concrete slab, electrical tie-in with an automatic relay and housing for the generator in a shelter located outside city hall on the west side of the building.

The hearings were conducted as part of the requirement that citizen input be sought. Walters now will make specific recommendations to council.

Working to solve a nuclear disaster

Picture Story

by

John Galloway

It had been a long day, and when Operations Chief Duane Trombly rang the bell at 3:10 p.m. to say the nuclear disaster was over, everyone simultaneously breathed a huge sigh of relief.

The 29 experts had gathered at 7:30 a.m. at the Northville Michigan State Police post's Emergency Operations Center to perform their respective duties in the Fermi Nuclear simulated disaster Tuesday, February 2.

The exercise was part of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission's licensing process. The Fermi Nuclear Plant is located near Monroe, and the Northville headquarters is part of the overall operation in handling any disaster at the plant.

The Northville headquarters received information from the state police post in Flat Rock, and representatives from state, federal and Canadian governments worked on solving the various problems that arose.

Ted Nastel (upper left) was responsible for tracking the radioactivity released into the atmosphere, while Tricia Klausling, Governor representative Dennis Payne (wearing glasses), Trombly and Captain Peter Basolo, director of emergency services, (lower left) confer on a problem. Public Information's Peter Peterson (lower right) checks his memos.

The NRC and the Federal Emergency Management Agency, which observed the exercise, said it went well except for a few minor snags which would not alarm federal officials.

"Disaster" over, Detroit Edison hopes to have the plant in commercial operation by the fall of 1983.

She's Good Citizen

Shelly Wiley receives a Michigan State Police Good Citizenship award from Northville post Lieutenant William Tomczyk. The 14-year-old Meads Mill student was cited for her help in finding an intoxicated youth, who had been subject to exposure, last September across the street from the Northville Plaza shopping mall on Seven Mile. Wiley helped stabilize the youth from the time police arrived until the youth was taken to the hospital. Tomczyk explained Wiley could have left after police arrived, but commended her for staying with the youth until taken to the hospital.

Ten year debate ends as board vacates street

The last chapter should soon be written on an issue that has faced township boards for the past decade — whether or not to vacate a stretch of road less than 300 feet long.

Elk (also known as Elm) Road west of Bradner in the Plymouth Gardens subdivision has been at issue since early 1971, at least.

The segment in question is 40 feet wide for most of its length and is a dedicated county road. Unusual development of lots in the region just east of Phoenix Lake led to the request to vacate the street. That is, the residents wanted the county to release its claim to the land as a road so a driveway could be built to provide access to owners.

The unimproved "road" has not really served as one since 1977, but so long as it remained on county road commission rolls development of the last lot adjacent the lake and Elm/Elk would require construction of a road to county standards — at a cost too great for the landowners to bear.

Simple enough on its face, the plan ran into a snag when one homeowner, fearing his property would be landlocked, did not agree to it. Without such agreement, the township board declined to endorse it and the county held onto the road easement.

Change of ownership over the intervening years, and the 1977 cessation by all parties of using the "road" broke the logjam and all parties (five in all) agreed to the plan recently.

The township board of trustees filed the necessary motions with the county road commission, which is expected to vacate the property shortly.

Trustee James Nowka, one of the involved landowners, said "abstain" when the roll call vote was taken January 14. The abstention may not have been legal, however, since meeting rules state the rest of the board must vote to allow or prohibit abstention on an issue, but after 11 years, no one was seemed willing to quibble over details.

Burglaries rising, police suggest home security steps

By KEVIN WILSON

"Complainant states unknown persons gained entry by kicking in door between house and garage, removed listed items between above stated dates and times."

That's a typical line from a police report of a breaking and entering — a rather matter-of-fact way of stating that a family's privacy has been violated, its home damaged, its most prized possessions stolen.

If you don't believe it can happen to you, check the crime reports in each week's edition of The Record. It happens frequently to your neighbors and the dollar values placed on missing items and home damage can be staggering to contemplate, despite insurance coverage.

What is rarely reported is the number of attempted breaking and enterings. For some reason, the burglar never got inside, but left his mark. People who come home to a broken door or face a degree of the same shock faced by victims of actual burglary. Suddenly, they must question the safety of their own homes. They feel vulnerable, which they were.

What can you do before it happens to make you and yours less vulnerable? Local police are eager to help, as are most insurance firms.

Detective Sergeant Phillip Presnell, of the township police, conducts security surveys in township homes on request and frequently speaks to homeowners associations about how to discourage burglars.

"It's just not like it used to be out here," Presnell said. "People used to leave their doors unlocked and have no trouble. Now we have a lot more people and, let's face it, these are pretty nice homes here, they're attractive targets. We also have some quick access to freeways, its pretty much easy-in, easy-out."

When doing home surveys, which take roughly an hour, he said, the most common fault found is inadequate door and window locks.

"We see a lot of very expensive homes with cheap or inadequate locks," Presnell said.

Thieves usually enter homes through a door or window hidden from view, he added. "It's usually an obscured location, not very often the front door."

Which means extra-strong locks are needed throughout the house, since the intruder is often able to spend some time getting around them.

If locks are found inadequate, and most standard ones are, a consultation with a locksmith is usually a good idea, he related. In general, a lock with a one-inch throw — the bolt sliding one-inch into the jamb — is a minimum recommendation, Presnell said.

Building official Troy Milligan notes that when shopping for locks, homeowners should keep in mind there is a basic conflict between measures recommended for safety from break-ins and from fire.

One of the most effective locks, he explained, is a so-called deadbolt that requires a key to open from either side. This means a burglar cannot break a window and reach in to unlock the door. But it also means people caught in a burning structure need a key to get out the door to safety.

His recommendation is to seek a compromise that offers high security without jeopardizing safety during fire.

Presnell noted the best locks are useless if the door jamb is too weak — the intruder simply kicks the door open, tearing the bolt from the door jamb. Locksmiths now offer massive striker plates, he said, to combat this difficulty.

Solid-core doors are favored over hollow ones, small door windows over large ones and steel sheathing is a plus, according to information in an State Farm Insurance brochure.

Presnell noted that a primary weak spot is doorwalls. They can be lifted out of their tracks rather easily if locks are inadequate and they provide the intruder with a large opening through which he can remove most anything, or everything, inside.

By contrast, if a burglar's only available access is a small bathroom window, say, he is restricted to taking rather small items and increasing his risk of being caught by making several trips.

Regardless of how tough the door or locks, Presnell said, if homeowners don't take basic precautions burglars can find their homes very attractive.

"One of the big mistakes is people leaving garage doors open or unlocked," he said. "We're having a rash of snowblower thefts right now. It happens every year about this time. You go by on patrol and you see a lot of garage doors left open, bicycles, lawn mowers, tools just waiting to be taken."

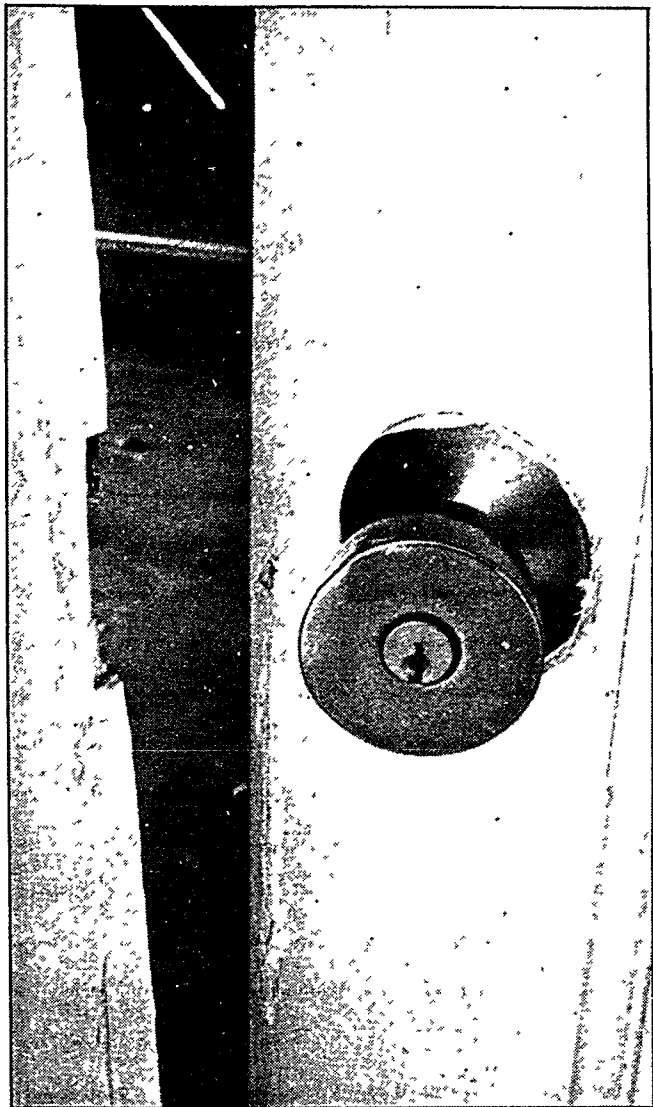

Besides, which, he added, a burglar can enter an open garage door in the middle of the day, close the door to conceal his activities and spend all the time it takes to break through connecting doorways into the house.

Most break-ins occur during the day, he said, because there are fewer people around and houses are more often empty during that time. Despite people's worst fears, a vast majority of burglars will avoid encountering people at all costs and much prefer to simply take what they want without confrontations during the day.

"No one's home, they're all at work or someplace," Presnell explained, "and someone prowling through the

Former higher tar smokers affirm MERIT choice for taste, ease of switch, and long-term satisfaction.

The research results are overwhelming.

New National Smoker Study provides solid evidence that 'Enriched Flavor' MERIT offers a satisfying alternative to higher tar cigarettes.

MERIT Taste Sparks Switch.

Nationwide survey reveals over 90% of MERIT smokers who switched from higher tar are glad they did. In fact, 94% don't even miss their former brands.

Further Evidence: 9 out of 10 former higher tar smokers report MERIT an easy switch, that they didn't give up taste in switching, and that MERIT is the best-tasting low tar they've ever tried.

MERIT Clear Choice In New Tests.

In addition, extensive unmarked-pack tests confirm that MERIT delivers a winning combination of taste and low tar when compared against higher tar leaders.

Confirmed: The overwhelming majority reported MERIT taste equal to—or better than—leading higher tar brands.

Confirmed: When tar levels were revealed, 2 out of 3 chose the MERIT combination of low tar and good taste.

Year after year, in study after study, MERIT remains unbeaten. The proven taste alternative to higher tar smoking—is MERIT.

Vandals take 400 gallons of oil from Seven Mile firm

In the city...

Unknown persons stole 400 gallons of oil, valued at $1,600, from a business located on Seven Mile between January 2 and 28, city police report.

The complainant said the culprit(s) broke the master lock off an underground tank where the oil is stored. No evidence was found, nor was the master lock, police said. The complainant said the tank is checked once a month.

A wood door was damaged at a South Main business sometime January 31, police said. Damage was placed at $300.

According to the report, the suspect got mad when a drink was spilled, stormed out of the bar and broke the door off the door jamb when he left.

A hallway wood banister, window pane, two door latches and two window blinds were broken, and a 12-inch hole made in the wall of an apartment on South Center February 4, police report.

Northville Downs recently bought the apartment, but had not seen it until the night of the incident. The complainant said the last tenant left the apartment the end of January, according to police.

However, police could not determine if the damage was caused by the last tenant or occurred that night. The complainant's brother had checked the apartment earlier in the day and reported all doors were secured, the report stated.

Two tenants who live next to the apartment said they heard nothing, police said.

Two Canton youths, both 17, were injured while tobogganing on a hill east of Sheldon February 2, police report.

The two were injured when the toboggan hit a large bump and threw the girls off, police said. One youth complained of a back pain and the other hurt her tailbone. Both were taken to Novi's Providence Hospital.

Two motorists were treated for injuries in a two-car collision on Eight Mile at Novi Road February 2, police said.

Larry Henry, 38, of Union Lake, and Margaret Fenton, 58, of Livonia, were both injured when Henry's car slid across the center line on Eight Mile and hit Fenton's car, the report said.

A witness and Fenton said she was traveling approximately 20 miles per hour through a green light. Henry was traveling approximately 50 miles per hour and sliding lane to lane, the report said.

Fenton said she tried to avoid a collision, but was unable when Henry crossed the center line. Henry said his brakes locked causing him to slide across the center line, according to the report.

Henry was ticketed for speed too fast for the conditions (of the road), police said.

...In the township

More than $2,800 worth of jewelry, clothing and coins were reported stolen from a Crystal Lake residence between January 25 and 31.

Owners told township police most of the items had been kept in a grey metal security box only discovered missing from a closet February 1. There were no signs of forced entry to the dwelling, and the only lead police have in the case is that a son lost a door key about six weeks ago, shortly before joining the Air Force.

The box contained jewelry and coins, owners told police, including a $900 man's diamond ring, a $300 antique cross and chain, 69 silver U.S. half-dollars valued at $400, and a $200 gold and pearl ring.

Also reported missing were a new $56 angora sweater and two women's blouses valued at $74 and $64.

A snowmobile was reported stolen from an Eight Mile Road business location February 4.

The $800 blue-and-white Polaris snowmobile was parked inside the business with keys in the ignition, the owner told police. Entry to the area was made by cutting open a padlock valued at $5, between 5 p.m. Wednesday and 11 a.m. Thursday.

Police found a neighbor who reported hearing a snowmobile traveling on Eight Mile around 11 p.m. Wednesday, but the man had not seen the vehicle and so was unable to identify it as the stolen one.

A Dundalk Lane resident reported the theft of a $330 snowblower from his garage January 30.

The man told police the red-and-white Toro snowblower was left in the garage and went missing between 9 a.m. January 24 and 9 a.m. January 30.

He reported the garage door is occasionally left open and there was no indication of forced entry to the garage.

Another snowblower was reported missing from the garage of a Dunswood residence January 31.

The $250 red-and-white Toro went missing overnight January 30-31. Also missing was a $15 battery charger also stored in the garage.

Weather conditions were blamed for a traffic accident on Silver Spring

February 3 that resulted in injuries to a 16-year-old driver.

The youth sustained moderate injuries when her car collided head-on with another vehicle at a curve just east of Silver Springs Elementary School.

Police reports state neither driver could see the other car due to snow piled up beside the roadway and that the youth had to drive in the wrong lane because of snow and ice conditions on the outside of the curve.

No citations were issued. The injured driver was taken to Botsford Hospital for treatment to cuts and bruises sustained in the relatively low-speed collision.

Three other injury-accidents attributed to weather conditions were reported last week. No deaths or severe injuries were recorded, according to police chief Kenneth Hardesty. Detail reports were not yet completed at press time.

A tire slashing incident in the parking lot of a Northville Road bar resulted in $250 damage.

Police reports state two steel belted radial tires mounted on the right side of a car in the lot were slashed between 11:30 p.m. February 6 and 2:30 a.m. February 7. Each Goodrich tire was valued at $125.

Buick wire wheel covers valued at $360 were reported stolen from a car owned by a Silver Spring resident.

Suggestions offered to combat burglary

neighborhood in the daytime is less likely to raise suspicions and there are fewer people to see him.

What we wish people would do is, if they see a suspicious person or car, call us a call," he continued. "Now, they say they don't want to bother us if nothing, but it's not a bother to us, it's what we're here for."

Organized or informal neighborhood watches coordinated by homeowners can help spot potential intruders and give time for police to either scare them away from the area or catch them in the act.

Attempt also to make the house look occupied, Presnell said.

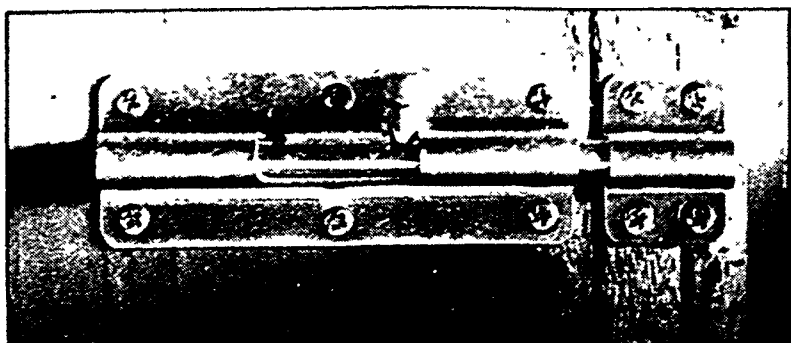

Leave a radio on during the day, put lights on timers, don't close drapes and shades all the way," he said. Even if a homeowner tackles a house despite these tips, he is more likely to be nervous and shy discouraged if he cannot be sure. While the possibility of people inside a dwelling can make burglars bypass a house, dogs, Presnell said, are not as effective as some might think.

"A dog might stop some, but the good burglar will often feed the dog some found dogs haven't been that much of a deterrent to burglars, even dogs kept inside the house."

In the event the burglar does make it inside your home, a second line of

Hefty screws are needed in this kind of installation

hamburger patties or something and go on about his business," he said. "We've defense is in order. Local police departments participate in "Operation Identification." Etchers are loaned free from the department to inscribe drivers' license numbers on televisions, stereos and other items so that police can trace the property if recovered.

Insurance companies advise keeping an inventory of all valuables in the household — record serial numbers, date of purchase and price for each item. An additional photographic record, stored outside the home, is the most thorough but a simple listing with a copy to your agent now can be a great help when attempting to recover losses from a burglary.

Both the police and insurance firms advise that homeowners should not expect to hide anything within the house. "A professional knows everyone's favorite places," an insurance company handout states. "And yours is not likely to be as unique as you thought."

Very expensive jewelry, they advise, should not be kept in the home. Insurance may not fully cover theft of items such as furs, guns or boats. Agents can explain "riders" to homeowner policies that can protect these items more thoroughly.

Careful consideration of other security systems, discussions with locksmiths, your insurance agent and police could make a home virtually as safe from burglary as one with an alarm system. Presnell said he willingly devotes much time to home surveys as a crime prevention measure and will arrange one with anyone calling and asking for him at the township police station.

Digging out together

"He helped push us out yesterday — so we're glad to be able to return the favor today," commented a neighbor as he and his son finished shoveling and pushing a car.

A local businessman related that his wife had gotten to know their elderly neighbor for the first time because of the snow. Explaining they recently had moved, he said his wife had felt the neighbor was not friendly, but, aware that she was alone and elderly, he had helped. As she thanked them, his wife discovered she had unusual, interesting activities and it appears a friendship is developing.

If nothing else, the triple onslaught of three crippling snowstorms last week seems to have brought us all together.

Those who live and work in the city also have been expressing appreciation for the fast action by city DPW crews in keeping streets cleared and salted or sanded. Road crews worked quickly to clear main streets and then continued through side streets and subdivisions after each storm. Residents, too, responded by shoveling or sanding sidewalks. Like Police Chief Rodney Cannon, we have high praise for the community's senior citizens who were among the first to be seen out with shovels clearing their sidewalks and driveways.

In all, Northville seems to have fared much better than many surrounding communities. Now, if as DPW head Theodore Mapes hopes, the worst is over, we'll make it into spring.

Roaming the community to record scenes in the aftermath of last week's snowstorms, Fecht found Scott Spaman, left, and Doug Eaker out with snowblower. The young businessmen were offering to plow drives and walks.

State's human resources up to snuff

Question of the week: enough snow for ya?

Mixed among the tales of highway derring-do and narrow escapes from snowy disaster last week were several conversations with people wondering about my or others "position" on Michigan. Snow does that to people.

For example, another reporter related that a Richmond (Va.) radio station was heard Thursday night airing pleas for donations to a relief fund for Southeastern Michigan — Detroit in particular (to a Virginian, of course, Northville might as well be 12th Street). There we were, being spoken of in the same tones normally reserved for those occasions when earthquake, tidal wave or other volcano strikes some poverty-stricken third-world nation (the Nicaraguan earthquake comes to mind).

While several snows — each barely kind enough to leave us time to clean up from the one before it — blew into town last week, Ford revealed its second billion-dollar-plus loss in as many years, and unemployment was reaching for the stratosphere. From Richmond, where folks used to speak of moving to Detroit for the big money on the line, it must have looked as though the region was headed for the dark ages in record time.

That's understandable — save for the Pollyannas among us, no one would call this prosperity. Snow isn't the only thing we're hip-deep in around here.

Few here are ignorant of that, and the walking wounded are among us everywhere, but there was something else going on last week. Forget silly "say yes" promotions — they are not really for us, they're for the people in places like Richmond who, looking at last week's news, are more likely to "say yuck to Michigan."

What was instructive about last week was to see the people dealing with the storm. Within the realms of sanity, they were going on about their business, getting to work, hitting the storm back as hard as it hit them.

There were only two of us left in the office late Wednesday afternoon and, as the snow piled ever higher, we talked about how people were helping each other, digging out cars, taking a pass at the neighbor's walk with the snowblower.

On my way home, I was among several drivers caught on an entrance ramp that was seemingly determined to stop everything. A bus stalled, and once it got going, the car in front of it got stuck and no one could get by. A few us (not all of those stuck waiting, but enough) went out and got it cleared.

What is remarkable about this incident is that it is unremarkable — anyone commuting between Northville and Dearborn or Detroit can come up with a similar tale. There are always a few people in the crowd willing to tackle anything, and the sight of them brings others forward. That's how we got home early Wednesday evening.

Shortly beforehand, that other person in our office (whose ruminations appear in the space below right) had suggested the historical evidence was that the people of the northeast and midwest were more productive and healthier than the sunbelters. He speculated that it was because people just have to be tougher to survive here.

Well, maybe. Then again, maybe we're just stubborn. When others throw up their hands and head for the sunbelt, those who stay have to make some adaptations, among them realizing that none of us will make it through alone.

It saddens me to think we could need financial aid from Richmond, yet the storm makes one realize we have something no one else can donate — the human resources to rise to a challenge.

Our economic plight is a bit trickier to handle than a few blizzards, of course. To beat this mess will take something more to motivate those almost-instinctual responses, and I'm not at all sure government, business or industry is being innovative enough in doing so. But that's a topic for another day. For now, keep shoveling, it's always cleared up before.

I'll probably be heading down to the Fisher this week to take in a performance of "Twigs" ... if I ever want Cloris Leachman to talk to me again.

I'd better explain. Cloris, er ... Miss Leachman, did a publicity spot out at Twelve Oaks last week. And Linda Anderson, promotions director at the mall, invited me to view her performance and join them for lunch.

Anderson takes good care of me. When Flip Wilson came to town with the Hot Air Balloon Tour last fall, it was Anderson who arranged for me to go ballooning with him.

Or, when designer Charles Kleibacker showed up with a bevy of beautiful models for a fashion show, it was Anderson who set me up with an interview. I almost got to interview him in the dressing room where the models were changing.

"The models won't mind — they're used to it," I was told. But I told them I wasn't used to it and opted for an interview in a conference room instead.

At any rate, back to Cloris, er ... Miss Leachman. We had a lively conversation going over lunch and I even mentioned that I once had a role in the Northville High School production of "The Night of January 16th." I could tell she was impressed.

Everything was going along fine until she suddenly looked at me and said, "You haven't seen 'Twigs' yet, have you? I can tell by the look on your face."

I confessed she was right. Which I probably shouldn't have done because she then wanted to know when I was going to see it.

"I prohibit you from writing a story about me without having seen the play," she said. "If you write a story about me without having seen 'Twigs,' I'll never talk to you again."

Understand that Cloris Leachman is one of my favorite actresses. And the last thing in the world I would want is to have her never talk to me again.

That's why I'm headed for the Fisher this week. "Twigs" is a heckuva play, she tells me, and everybody should see it. So, if any of you bump into Cloris, er ... Miss Leachman, down at the Fisher, just tell her Phil, er ... Mr. Jerome, sent ya.

Calls for protest of township property tax factor

To the Editor:

As we have seen, if the proposed tentative multiplier factor of 2.84 (for Northville Township) is allowed to slip into place without a squabble, then local tax revenues will continue to rise, which essentially becomes a huge tax increase.

Township homeowners should band together to fight the proposed multiplier factor, because it is an aggregate figure which applies to all homeowners in Northville Township.

Certainly, individual taxpayers can appeal to the local board of review to challenge their local assessed valuation. However, this type of appeal is only a drop in the bucket, because it has no effect on the floodtide of escalation built into the property tax system, namely SEV multiplier increases.

Part of the problem is that the individual taxpayer is apparently required to anticipate the effect of state equalization on his assessment. For one thing, the application of the multiplier factor is placed into effect after the deadline has passed for appeals by private homeowners.

For another thing the homeowner cannot determine whether the after-equalization valuation of his property will be inordinately greater than he believes it should be. Furthermore, he may not be able to learn about the enormous increase until after it becomes fixed. In reality, the tax statement may be the first notification of any escalation in his total valuation related to SEV increases.

To be sure, the township supervisor is given the authority (by state law) to challenge the multiplier factor through the appeals process.

What happens if he makes an attempt, at the county level, and they brush our representatives aside, as we observed a year ago? The private homeowners are left with no recourse.

Not only is this taxation without representation, but it is a denial of due process rights under the Fourteenth Amendment. Moreover, since the private homeowner has no possible opportunity to challenge the multiplier factor through a normal appeals route, he is unable to fulfill the requirements of the doctrine of exhausting administrative remedies.

Courts might refuse to hear the case on the basis that the individual has not followed proper administrative procedures. Therefore, the merry-go-round continues, with the taxpayer taken for the ride.

Jaycettes week marks 22 years activity here

To the Editor:

Young women all over the United States are celebrating Jaycette Week February 7-13. Here in Northville the Jaycettes are proud to be completing their 21st year in the community.

During the past years Jaycettes have offered young women between the ages of 18 and 35 opportunities to learn and grow as a person while serving our community. Projects such as the community Blood Drive, Reyes Awareness Program, Babysitting Clinic, BUBS (Buckle Up Babies), Kiss Your Baby (Cystic Fibrosis Awareness), Northville (Regional Psychiatric) Hospital birthday cakes, Wishing Well (Manor) bingo, and Hospice Help make the community of Northville just a little richer for them having been run.

The women who run these projects and those who help to manage a huge Walk for Mankind or July 4th barbecue have gained valuable experience that they can carry on into their future endeavors.

The awareness that there are thousands of women across the nation who care deeply about the community in which they live is extremely gratifying.

At this time of celebration we would like to extend an invitation to any young woman who is interested in helping herself to grow and become experienced in managing projects, and who enjoys the companionship of vital, energetic women of varied experience and backgrounds. If you think you might be interested in visiting us, please call 348-2246.

We have a general meeting with a program on February 17 and a special Friendship Brunch on February 14 and would welcome your visit.

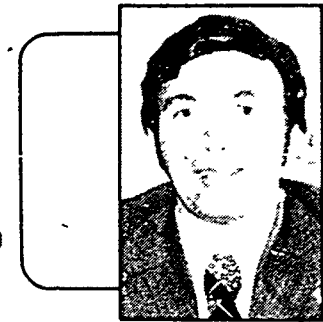

We would like to thank the community of Northville for supporting us in all our endeavors these past 21 years. There are always willing citizens to participate in any project we undertake and we have complete support from The Record, the city council, local businessmen, the township board and the many township and city employees. Thank you all.

As we look forward to our 22nd year, we would like to encourage any suggestions from the community. We were able to do some wonderful things at Christmas because we were made aware of needs; and we hope the input continues so that we can serve our community's needs.

News from Lansing

By R. ROBERT GEAKE
State Senator

Now that it's time to begin figuring out how much we owe the government or the government owes us for last year's taxes, I urge my constituents to take a look at their property tax bill to see if they qualify for the "circuit breaker."

Public Act 20 of 1973 was nicknamed the circuit breaker because it can trigger a tax relief payment when household income is overloaded by a property tax bill, similar to electrical circuit breakers which trip a switch to prevent power overloads. The state steps in to help when local property taxes take more than 3.5 percent of a household's income.

Although this property tax relief system became law nine years ago, some Michigan residents still are unaware of the dollars they could be saving.

For senior citizens, veterans, the blind or disabled, the homestead property tax credit provides even greater relief than that allowed the general population, but the circuit breaker is meant to help everybody who owns or rents their home.

For the 1980 tax year, the program returned about $441.8 million to around 1.358 million households with the average relief for general taxpayers coming to $275. For senior citizens, the average was $459. It is estimated that Michigan residents will be returned about $430 million for the 1981 tax year, and I know many of my constituents' property tax bills are high enough to make them eligible for this relief.

To see if you should be getting some of your money back from the state to help you with your local taxes, take 3.5 percent of your total 1981 income. If you paid more than that figure in local property taxes, the State of Michigan wants to help.

The state will reimburse you 60 percent of the difference remaining after you subtract that 3.5 household income percentage from your 1981 property tax bill. Senior citizens and disabled persons can receive 100 percent of the resulting sum back. Renters can make the same calculations, only subtracting their 3.5 percent of income from 17 percent of their paid rent. For very low income levels, the circuit breaker triggers in at a lower percentage than 3.5 percent.

The circuit breaker is not entirely automatic — taxpayers have to be aware of it and file the Michigan state income tax return to take advantage of it. In setting up the program years ago, the Legislature could not simply return money from local property tax collections; this revenue belongs to, is collected by, and goes to local units of government and school districts, not the state.

So the Legislature had to find a source of revenue that came into the state (the state income tax) to help people with their local property taxes. Hence the necessity for filing the state income tax return.

As the Governor mentioned in his State of the State message, legislation is being considered to make the circuit breaker "front-loading." Rather than have homeowners wait so many months between the pay out of the local property tax bill and the reimbursement through the state income tax credit, the law could be amended to eliminate this waiting period for the taxpayer.

So, even if you earned no wages this year and are on a fixed income, file a state income tax return if you are eligible for this property tax relief. The state does not want your local property tax bills to be allowed to take a limitless amount of your income, no matter what it is.

Women's rights bills supported by Pursell

U.S. Congressman Carl D. Pursell (Republican — Second District) presented testimony on the economic status of women at a February 3 hearing conducted by the Joint Economic Committee.

Pursell, whose district includes Plymouth and Northville, presented the committee of senate and house members with consensus proposals for a "Women's Bill of Rights" which were gathered last year in a series of study meetings with women in the district.

A number of these proposals, he noted, are included in the "Economic Equity Act (EEA)" being considered by the joint committee.

The February 3 hearing was conducted at the request of the Congresswomen's Caucus and co-sponsors of the EEA.

Pursell said the EEA, which he co-sponsored last year, "appears to be the most workable and effective vehicle presently available for meaningful legislative action toward the goal of eliminating sex discrimination."

Also a supporter of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA), Pursell voted for it when he served as a state senator in Lansing and voted in the U.S. House to extend the ratification deadline.

"I have been distressed that the ERA has not yet become a part of the Constitution," Pursell testified. "Nevertheless, enactment of the ERA would not overnight do away with sex discrimination. With or without it, governments at both the state and federal levels need to make comprehensive analysis of their statutes and take action to ensure that the general concept of equal rights proclaimed in the ERA is embodied in laws and regulations dealing with specific matters affecting women."

He pointed to progress in the past year in the form of a reduction in the "marriage penalty" included in the Economic Recovery Tax Act that also addressed inequities in Individual Retirement Accounts (IRA) and estate tax exemptions.

He said the EEA would expand women's rights on several fronts. Comprised of seven titles in 11 legislative areas, he told the committee the bill would:

— Under Title I, allow homemakers to open IRAs, reform private pensions, provide equal zero bracket amount for heads of households and married persons filing jointly, entitle former spouses of military members married 10 years or more to a portion of public pensions, and allow a tax credit for hiring displaced homemakers;

— Under Title II allow employers to offer day care service as a tax-free fringe benefit;

— Under Title III eliminate gender-based distinctions for promotion and separation standards in the armed forces;

— Under Title IV, revise agricultural estate taxes to help widows who inherit farms retain family ownership;

— Under Title V, prohibit discrimination in all types of insurance on any basis;

— Under Title VI, eliminate some federal regulations reflecting unequal treatment of men and women;

— And under Title VII provide for a study by the Department of Justice regarding enforcement of alimony and child support payments.

In addition to testifying on behalf of the EEA and submitting the consensus list devised with his constituents, Pursell also noted one proposal he has submitted as a separate bill.

The "Tax Averaging Equity Act," he said was actually created by a tax force in his district and is aimed primarily at women who have been career homemakers and are displaced by divorce or death of the spouse. "In essence," Pursell explained, "H.R. 5234 would allow qualified individuals to disregard the income of a former spouse in the computation of base period income for income-averaging purposes and figure taxable income on their own earnings only."

Pursell concluded his testimony saying the goal of all the efforts discussed is "to provide the women of our society with economic and political equality. Such a goal is not only just, but pragmatic."

"Until equality is achieved we as a people will continue to be deprived of valuable contributions women have to make. All too often, much of the hard work, talent and brainpower of women is forsaken. It is in our country's best interest to tap that natural resource to the greatest degree possible."

State budget priorities criticized

State Senator Robert Geake (R-Northville) said last week Governor William Milliken may be hard pressed to find a Republican legislator to introduce his budget bills.

The governor's proposed $4.984 billion 1982-83 state budget, which he presented to the legislature earlier in the week, reflects a 14 percent increase in spending over current year estimates.

"We have some very serious differences of opinion," Geake said. "I believe the revenue estimates are too high, given the current economic condition of the state and the projected forecast for recovery."

Geake, a Republican member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said the budget proposal must be more realistic.

"I feel strongly that we should begin with a lower estimate of revenues rather than start high as the governor is doing and then be forced to come back later in the year and make drastic cuts in department programs and operations. That would be a more responsible approach to what, admittedly, is a difficult problem."

Geake was also critical of the continued de-emphasis on state aid to education.

"The proposed budget continues the trend of reduced state aid to education and increased spending in the area of social services. Education is being cut more while previous cuts in aid to dependent children and general assistance grants are being restored,"

Geake said.

Geake also urged prompt action to adopt a sound responsible budget. "I realize this is an election year and difficult, unpopular decisions will have to be made."

Court store owners seek sign

Shop owners on Mary Alexander Court would like to have the world — or at least shoppers — be more aware of their existence.

A request signed by Gloria Teeter, owner of Traditional Handcrafts, and Marje Stormont, owner of the Printed Word, seeks a sign similar to the one announcing Farmers' Market.

In a letter to the city manager Teeter suggested that the green color and lettering of the farmers' market sign be used to call attention to the court shops and parking behind South Main. The court extends from the rear of the Presbyterian Church parking lot west to Center.

At the February 1 city council session it was pointed out that the chamber of commerce had the farmers' market sign designed and paid to have it made.

Noting, however, that the city needs directional and parking signs at the court, both at the park area and by the Presbyterian church, it was suggested that the shop sign might appear on the same post.

City Manager Steven Walters was instructed to contact Teeter to see if the court shop owners would be interested.

73 NHS grad completes study at Reese AFB

Lieutenant Jay Letarte, of Northville, member of the United States Air Force, has been graduated from Reese Air Force Base, where he earned his pilot's wings, in a ceremony which marked the end of a year's intensive study and training on T-37 and T-38 aircraft.

The 1973 graduate of Northville High School now will report to Altus Air Force Base in Oklahoma. He will receive further training there on the Fairchild C-141 aircraft. From Altus, he will be assigned to Norton Air Force Base in San Bernardino, California.

Letarte attended Schoolcraft College and was graduated from Michigan State University in 1978 with a degree in science. He earned his pilot's license and instructor's rating while a student at MSU.

He was one of two Michigan residents elected from a group of 30 applicants in a competitive examination to attend the undergraduate pilot training school at Reese Air Force Base in Lubbock, Texas.

Transfer pact signed

Schoolcraft College and the Specs Howard School of Broadcast Arts in Southfield have entered an articulation agreement which will enable students to combine studies at each institution towards an associate degree at Schoolcraft.

"Under the agreement, Specs Howard graduates will be able to apply 15 semester hours to complete an associate in arts degree in broadcast," Dr. Richard Saunders, Schoolcraft's Assistant Dean for Fine Arts, said.

"Students could opt to attend Schoolcraft first, or take courses at both schools concurrently," he added. Saunders was aided by speech instructor Charles Castillo in working out the arrangement with Dr. William Kennedy, director of education at Specs Howard.

Specs Howard students take an intensive 30-week program which includes the study of radio and television production, vocal techniques and news writing.

The curriculum at Schoolcraft will include studies in speech and theater, English, business, psychology, sociology, political science, geology, geography and suggested electives.

College trustees were pleased with the agreement, giving it 5-0 approval.

"The quality of their graduates is high, and they have a good record of job placement in the Detroit area," trustee Michael Burley said. "Our broadcasting program is down. We don't have one."

Added trustee Rosina Raymond: "Our speech department needs a shot in the arm. I heard 'way back, 'If we only had some way to do real broad-

'Kiss Your Baby' week promoted

"It could be the most important kiss of your life," declares Marty Barnum, chairman of the Northville Jaycettes' Kiss Your Baby Week informational promotion.

The local Jaycettes are taking part in the state Jaycette project to assist the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation campaign against the disease during Kiss Your Baby Week, February 8-14.

The local Jaycettes are passing out warning flyers and putting up posters in various locations in the community.

They are urging mothers of young babies to take the kissing test seriously. One of the signs of Cystic Fibrosis is a salty taste to the skin.

Prompt diagnosis and treatment are necessary; mothers are invited to call a toll-free number, 1-800-292-7169, if they have questions.

The Jaycettes point out that Cystic Fibrosis treatment centers are located at University of Michigan Mott Hospital in Ann Arbor and at Children's Hospital of Michigan in Detroit.

Jaycette Barnum explains that the perspiration, a sign of cystic fibrosis in a baby, leaves the salty residue on the skin that the kiss can detect.

"It is one of the earliest signs of the disease," she reports.

Plus A $10 Cash Bonus

RIGHT NOW... with a $500 deposit in an IRA 30-Month Money Market Certificate you receive a high 14.00% annual interest rate that earns 14.49% annual yield. Plus, at Security Bank you get an extra benefit — a $10 cash bonus — so, come and get it!

For those who prefer to have their funds in an IRA 18-Month Certificate, you can receive the $10 cash bonus with an opening deposit of $200 or more.

When you select the 30-Month Money Market Certificate for your IRA contributions, the high rate you receive is fixed to maturity. Interest is paid and compounded semi-annually. However, when deposits are made to an 18-Month Certificate, the rate is set periodically by the bank. Add-on contributions do not extend the 18-month maturity and can be made in amounts of $25 or more. (Remember, an opening deposit of $200 or more qualifies you for the cash bonus.) There's a third instrument, the 26-Week Money Market Certificate*, in which you can place your funds. For details and rates, ask at any Security Bank office.

Federal regulations provide certain limits on your annual IRA contributions, and also require substantial interest penalties and I.R.S. penalties for early withdrawal.

As a working person, you can now be covered by a qualified pension plan and also make annual tax-deductible contributions of $2,000 ($2,250 spousal) or 100% of income, whichever is less, to an IRA. Interest earned is tax-deferred until retirement, when your tax bracket should be lower. You pay taxes, then, only on the funds as you withdraw them. The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insures your IRA deposits to $100,000 — which is above and beyond the coverage for your other Security Bank deposits.

Check the table to see how your contributions add up... then come and get an IRA and $10 from Security Bank.

Mrs. B — children keep her life fulfilled

To hundreds of Northville children she's known as Mrs. B.

An active, vivacious 80-year-old, Louise Binhammer has been grandmother, teacher and friend to a host of local children who have come to regard her as much more than a babysitter.

Equipped with bag of knitting and a memory full of stories, Mrs. B has spent the past 12 years delighting children with anecdotes from her past while keeping them in line during mom's and dad's absence.

"Babysitting has kept me young," Mrs. B explains while carefully watching her four-year-old charge.

"I began babysitting 12 years ago when my husband passed away and I'm still at it."

Mrs. B quite frequently is an "overnight sitter" — babysitting children for a week or two at a time. "You become quite close to children when you're with them for days," she noted.

In many cases, Mrs. B has become a vice.

In addition to providing her adopted siblings with lots of TLC, she probably is best known for her stories.

Along with the yarn and needlepoint in her bag, Mrs. B carries with her a small journal filled with entries of her many experiences.

"I have about 150 stories I relay to children," she said. "When a story comes to my mind, I jot it down."

When it comes to storytime, Mrs. B never is at a loss for a captivated audience.

"Some will sit for hours and listen to these stories," she noted. "I try to teach and tell at the same time — leaving them with something to think about."

Many of Mrs. B's stories are reflections on her long life and the many experiences she has had.

There are stories of her childhood in Ann Arbor, where her father was a mail carrier and drove his horse and buggy throughout the town delivering mail.

She also talks of her marriage and her children and her career as an accountant.

A resident of Welch Street, where she lives with her daughter Charlotte, Mrs. B explained that teaching the young has given her a tremendous vitality for life.

"So many people feel when they get old they can't do anything," she reflected. "You've got to keep going."

"I find there is never a dull moment when you have kids around."

When she isn't tying shoelaces, putting on sneakers or baking cookies, Mrs. B can be found working on her stamp collection, tending her more than 100 violets, or sewing quilts for people in convalescent homes.

Another of her favorite pastimes is football. "I don't watch television," she remarked, "except when there's a football game on."

She still drives her car and frequently can be seen picking up a four-year-old at preschool or driving another to a piano lesson.

Judy Whitmore, whose son Ryan, 8, and daughter Shana, 4, have spent much of their young lives under the care of Mrs. B, said that she's like part of the family.

"The kids request her as the number one babysitter," she explained. "She's a wealth of information for both the kids and parents."

Mrs. Whitmore, who knew of Mrs. B long before her own children were born, explained that "families are appreciative of consistency in their children's lives."

She noted that with Mrs. B, consistency is a guarantee.

"She's always terrific with the kids."

Poet hangs wallpaper to publish 'Valentine'

Northville resident Mike Simney might be called a Valentine poet.

The poetry he writes is upbeat — like its creator. His first book of poetry, called "For Someone Like You," has to have been written for someone like the 27-year-old poet himself.

"Words have to speak for themselves," Mike explains, noting that each verse is designed to capture a thought and create a vision.

He has coupled the verses with strong photographs of people and scenes.

Since being published is the goal of almost every creative writer, the Michigan native who grew up in the Redford area and now lives in an apartment on Randolph is pleased to have his first effort on sale at several local bookstores.

Getting his words in print was no easy accomplishment, admits Mike. Explaining that he supports his poetry project by working as a professional paperhanger, he recalls that he sold one of his vans in order to become a self-publisher.

"College didn't seem right for me," the paperhanger-poet relates with honesty; "so I knew I had to find a trade to make a living while I wrote. This works out fine as I am my own boss."

He has taken creative writing classes, but Mike says he always has written.

"Back in early high school I wrote a lot — the girls liked my poetry and kept urging me on."

In Our Town

Her sleigh's on view in state's 'Say Yes' commercial

By JEAN DAY

With Valentine's Day being celebrated Sunday, it's an appropriate time to talk about anything and everything romantic.

The State of Michigan's new promotion, "Say Yes to Michigan," launched during the Superbowl airings, had an assist from a Northville resident. The shiny black sleigh that streaks across the snow in the commercial belongs to Lois Godfrey. Ultramedia Productions in Bloomfield Hills contacted her, seeking to lease the restored two-seater that boasts crushed red velvet seats and the original brass rail.

Mrs. Godfrey, who owns another cutter that she stores in South Lyon where her Morgan horse is kept, saw a "for sale" ad for her prize one six years ago. She bought it and had the finish professionally restored by Carl Holstein to "almost an auto finish in black with gold striping." Mrs. Godfrey's blacksmith, John Sweet of Manchester, was hired by the agency to transport the sleigh to Boyne Highlands where the filming was done. There, Morgans were rented to pull it across the snow. Mrs. Godfrey says she tried to influence the company to have the scene photographed locally with her horse, but the background of ski chalets was wanted.

The sleigh, like travelers, then was a casualty of the blizzards and now is in Manchester. Mrs. Godfrey hopes it will be back at the family's home at 47253 Battleford in Northville Estates soon.

She just returned last week from a trip east to see her new granddaughter, Jennifer Mary, born January 20 to Mr.

and Mrs. William Gilbert of Lakeville, Massachusetts, weighing seven pounds, two ounces. Mrs. Gilbert is the former Luanne Godfrey. The baby is the couple's first child but the eighth grandchild for Dr. and Mrs. Hugh G. Godfrey. Mrs. Godfrey flew from Boston Airport where she viewed the sobering sight of the World Airlines plane that crashed still in the water when she arrived — and resting at the airport when she departed.

Martha Lyon planned a party for his birthday

Dick Lyon knows he has a lot of friends. In spite of a winter storm, about 70 attended the birthday celebration his wife Martha planned for him at their West Main Street home last month. Dick marked his 50th year January 28. "He can't keep it a secret," observes his wife of the milestone. She adds that she was delighted that friends came for the open house from as far away as the Soo.

Not a Northville native, Dick who operates C. Harold Bloom Insurance here still is a longtime resident, moving to the community from Bay City with his aunt Rhea Wilcox when he was a high school senior.

Can you help him locate a picture of his mother?

Last month a tall young man came into The Record office to ask if he could inspect the newspaper files from 1947. On the top of page one of the June 13, 1947, issue he found what he was seeking. It was the notice of the death of Jacqueline Hartzell, 21, of Plymouth, and her sister Joyce Clark, 22, of Royal Oak. Both died when a jeep went out of control on Novi Road near the railroad tracks.

Dick Hill was hoping there would be a picture of his mother Jackie Hartzell with the story, but there was not. A baby at the time, he lost contact with the family as his aunt also was killed in the accident. Anyone who might have a picture of his mother, who had been a Plymouth schools' student, may contact him at 862 Springwood, S.E. Kentwood, 49508, near Grand Rapids. That would be an appreciated Valentine.

Post office marks Valentine's Day with stamp

Just in time for Valentine's Day, the post office has issued the second "love" stamp in its history. Northville Postmaster Wallace Cates reports there is a good supply of the new stamp that spells out the word "love" in multi-colored pastel flower letters. Issued in Boston, it is the work of artist Mary Faulconer.

Cates relates that the first "love" stamp issued in 1973 bearing the famous heart design was one of the most successful in the history of stamp collecting. For the new edition that spells love delicately with flowers, the post office returned to the larger inch-by-inch and a half size.

Happy Valentine's Day.

"OLD" TOOTHPASTE SUFFERS LOSS

Q. Is it true that the fluoride in toothpaste can be lost when it gets too old?

A. Yes. According to some new research at the University of Illinois College of Dentistry, toothpaste does lose some of its fluoride content if it sits on the store shelves too long. The research concluded that after a six month shelf life the loss, depending on the brand, can be anywhere from 4 to 28 percent. The loss jumps to 15 to 63 percent after 28 months. So to be safe do your shopping at a busy store where the turnover of products is great.

This column is presented in the interest of better dental health. From the office of

Getting Down to Brass Tacks

By CHRIS JOHNSON
Board Treasurer

Often a small item on a board of education agenda slips by without much comment, especially when large contract matters face the board. At its January 11 meeting, the board made a decision which will save tax dollars, even though the final amount will not be in the millions of dollars.

During the millage campaign of 1981, the board asked a citizens' advisory committee to formulate methods for the school district to save costs. One idea coming from the committee was that the Northville school district join with other school districts to purchase items in bulk to reduce costs.

The board formally agreed to this concept on January 11 and contracted with Livonia Public Schools to buy school supplies in bulk. The contract involves a wide range of items from paper to thumbtacks.

The savings on an individual item might be pennies, but the overall savings next year is expected to be thousands of dollars. This is the result of savings of five to 40 percent on some items.

The same idea also was used by the administration in selecting the Livonia program for purchasing and serving hot lunches at our elementary schools. That program was detailed in an earlier column during the past fall.

The board of education agrees with the opinion of the citizens' advisory committee that new methods must be used to reduce costs wherever possible. Buying in bulk with other districts is proving to be an effective method of cutting our fixed costs.

While this contract may involve only 17 heavily used items, the district is exploring other items which may be purchased in bulk. The board is attempting to reduce these costs even in the face of inflation.

Walled Lake firm hopes to cash in as convertibles make comeback

By PHILIP JEROME

Bob Spradlin admits that it's been a struggle.

But the owner of the I.W.M. Corporation in Walled Lake believes 1982 is going to be his year.

The reason for his optimism? The return of the convertible.

Spradlin, 36 years old and a Milford resident, has played an important role in the production of the new Chrysler LeBaron convertible which will be manufactured at Cars and Concepts, an automotive specialty firm in Brighton.

And he hopes to pick up additional work on converting conventional automobiles to convertibles this year.

"Ford's going to make a Mustang convertible and Chevrolet's coming out with convertible models of both its E and J cars," said Spradlin.

"They say that 1981 was a bad year, but it was the best year I've ever had by far. And 1982 is going to be even better. I know I'm going to gross $500,000 for sure and I'm shooting for a gross of $750,000 to $1 million."

"My time has finally arrived."

Times have not always been good for Spradlin and his Walled Lake industrial welding and machining corporation. Born and raised in Oklahoma, he graduated from the University of California at Santa Barbara in 1970 with a degree in mechanical engineering.

He worked in various tool shops as a foreman and designer for the next several years until "one day I got mad, quit my job and opened up my own business."

"It was a struggle at first," he concedes. "When we started out in 1975, all we had was a drill press and one heliarc machine."

"There were times that the guys working in the shop made more than I did. There were weeks when I didn't issue myself a pay check — just took out enough for some groceries."

"But I always made a living. I.W.M. is the only business of its type in this immediate area and we did welding for everything from bicycles and tricycles to ice skates."

"Everything I made, I poured back into the business," he added.

Today I.W.M. is still a small opera-

Bob Spradlin fine tunes a fixture for convertible conversions tion, employing eight people in half a building on Decker Road in Walled Lake. But Spradlin points with pride to his complete specialty welding facility and tool room as well as a computerized welding machine which contains robotic attachments.

Another branch of the business is a machine moving and trucking service which enables him to transport heavy machinery across the country.

It was The Green Sheet — the classified advertising section of Sliger-Livingston Publications — which provided him with his connection to Cars and Concepts, Inc., and convertible conversions.

"I saw an ad in The Green Sheet for tool makers and fixture designers at Cars and Concepts, and went out to talk to them," he said. "The result was that I convinced them that I.W.M. could do the work they needed to make the convertibles."

Specifically, the work involves fixture-making — a specialized branch of machining.

Automobile companies find they can't do specialty work as efficiently "on the line" as they can by shipping the work out to specialty companies such as Cars and Concepts or Wixom's American Sun Roofs Company, Spradlin explained.

In the case of the Chrysler LeBaron convertible, Cars and Concepts needed fixture makers to design and build the equipment which will shear the tops off standard automobiles so they can be converted to convertibles.

Additional fixtures must be designed to compensate for the structural integrity which is lost by removing the roof from the conventional chassis. Fixtures also are needed to stretch the convertible tops over the frame.

Spradlin believes the work he has done on the Chrysler LeBaron for Cars and Concepts will lead to additional business with other auto makers. Talks to make fixtures for the Ford and General Motors convertibles presently are underway.

"So far, they're very impressed with our work," he said.

Spradlin also believes that convertibles are on their way back. Cadillac made its last convertible in 1976 and Chrysler has not made a convertible since 1973, he reported.

"I think they're going to be big," said the Walled Lake businessman. "Chrysler's LeBaron convertible is being billed as a completely-loaded, luxury economy car. It looks really slick and gets great mileage."

"They're making a limited edition of 12,500 and they're selling like hotcakes. I think the demand will be greater than the supply and they'll have to increase their order."

"Wait till you see the Mustang convertible," he added. "It's going to be a high-performance, completely-loaded muscle car with a 289 engine."

"I think the auto makers temporarily lost sight of the fact that Americans love their automobiles. What they're doing now is putting the romance back into their automobiles, and the American public is going to eat it up."

And Bob Spradlin is ready, willing and able to design and manufacture all the fixtures they'll need.

Realtor predicts upward trend for housing industry

By JACKIE KLEIN

Government is stymying the American dream of home ownership. Despite that, real estate is a good investment in today's "buyer's market."

That's the appraisal of Paul M. de Brow, 38, recently-named director of the Southfield-based Century 21 of Michigan, Inc. De Brow also predicts a gradual upward trend in the economy.

"With pressure on the government, mortgage rates are sure to go down in this election year," he said. "But buyers will pay less today than when construction picks up and prices go up."

"Even though mortgage rates drop, for many it makes good financial sense not to wait. It might well be advantageous to buy today and refinance later."

The financially-distressed automobile industry also has jarred the American dream, said de Brow. With jobs in jeopardy, many consumers now lack the ability and the desire to buy.

But there's a pent-up demand for housing, de Brow said. And as interest rates begin to decline this spring, it should create a more positive attitude and public confidence.

"When you consider that, nationwide, 85 percent of persons between the ages of 35 and 65 own their own homes, you can't dispute that's the American dream," de Brow said.

Despite current high mortgage rates, this is an excellent time to buy property, he maintained. Buyers have a wide variety of homes to choose from, with many more on the market than a year ago.

Interest rates have held prices down in the "buyer's market," de Brow said. But those could be the calm before the price storm. And, he noted, there actually is a housing shortage because of the lagging building industry.

The fixed-rate 30-year mortgage is becoming obsolete as lending institutions are wary of committing themselves to a certain percentage for that length of time, de Brow said.

"Mortgage terms must be more creative," he said. "Alternative financing methods to help buyers have a positive effect on market conditions."

"Land contracts are becoming as commonplace as 30-year mortgages. And even with the 11-percent fixed rate, land contracts aren't offering greater selling prices."

One financing method, negative amortization, would enable young persons born during the baby boom of the 1950s to afford to buy the house they've been deprived of in this economy, he continued.

As an example, a person could buy a house at 15-percent interest and pay 9 percent a year until they can afford to make up the deficit. It's the concept of "buy now, pay later," de Brow said.

"Many young couples are doubling and tripling up or living with their in-laws. New homes aren't being built.

"Buying a home on affordable terms is a good investment and has tax advantages as well. Real estate is the only investment that appreciates. The key elements are location, price and terms."

The average house bought in this area in 1969 for $29,000 will sell for $80,000 in 1982 and $210,000 in 1990, according to a regional data report.

There's more flexibility being exercised today than ever before, de Brow said. Some sellers are subsidizing buyers' mortgage payments. In some cases, this allows buyers to qualify, and the plan effectively cuts the interest rate, he said.

Some lending institutions are structuring "blends." The underlying mortgage might be at 9 percent. The institution will establish a new rate that yields the same income to the lender and at the same time keeps the interest on the new mortgage at a minimum, de Brow said.

Homeowners with a Federal National Mortgage Association, "Fanny May," mortgage can borrow up to 95 percent to rewrite the existing mortgage and apply the equity to a new house, de Brow said.

"The overall effect (of the recession) is positive. With the changes in real estate, the general public will demand more professionalism and more comprehensive service."

"The 'bad apples' in the industry will be weeded out. The recession is a good cleansing agent, and only the reputable professional will survive."

Even though mortgage rates drop, for many it makes good financial sense not to wait. It might well be advantageous to buy today and refinance later.

BOOKSTALL ON THE MAIN, a sliver of a shop only eight feet wide at 116 East Main Street in downtown Northville, has won recognition in a nationwide contest. Owner Berenice Ellis' unique use of the shop's window space for a promotion of James Herriot's book, "Lord of Made Them All," last October brought a special honorable mention citation from St. Martin's Press in New York which sponsored the contest.

"He's one of my favorites," explains owner Ellis of the English veterinarian-author who lives and writes from Yorkshire; so she borrowed veterinarian instruments from Dr. Carol Geake, Northville veterinarian, and miniature black-faced English sheep, tiny china houses and even a Belleek porcelain pig from other local residents. A allhanging of the poem, "All Things Great and Small" completed the acknowledging display for the book.

"Out of a whim," concludes the shop owner, "I took a picture and entered the contest, explaining that my display was created in a window nine inches wide at the front and extending back to 18 inches." The winner was to have dinner with Herriot. Ellis thinks the size of her window display was for her special notice.

She opened the shop in November, 1979, and fills the shop only with books — there are no cards or magazines.

SECURITY BANCORP, INC., announced record fourth quarter consolidated income before securities gains or losses of $2.002 million, an increase of .5 percent over the 1980 fourth quarter.

Security Bancorp, Inc. is the parent company of the Security Bank of Novi as well as Security Bank and Trust Company, Security Bank of Monroe County, Security Bank of Richmond, Security Bank of Oakland County and SecureData Corporation.

For the full year 1981, consolidated income before securities gains or losses was $7.942 million compared to $7.508 million for 1980, an increase of 5.8 percent. Consolidated net income for the full year 1981 increased 1.3 percent from the full year 1980.

GUARDIAN INDUSTRIES CORPORATION of Novi reported record earnings in both its fourth quarter and fiscal year ending December 31, 1981.

Revenues in the fourth quarter were $86.1 million, six percent higher than $81.3 million in 1980. Earnings rose four percent in the quarter to $6.8 million, compared with $6.6 million the previous year.

For the 1981 year, revenues totaled $364.5 million, 19 percent higher than the $305.7 million reported in 1980. Earnings were 14 percent higher, rising from $27.6 million in 1980 to $31.4 million in 1981.

Commenting on the company's record performance in 1981, William Davidson, president, said "our sixth consecutive year of progress... is particularly noteworthy given the depressed conditions in the overall construction and automotive markets."

"Considering the existing economic environment, we expect that 1982 will be a difficult year, particularly without improvement in industry conditions in the second half," Davidson added.

Guardian Industries is a leading manufacturer and fabricator of flat glass products used in construction and, to a lesser extent, automotive applications. Other building products manufactured by the company are fiberglass and mineral wool insulation.

Guardian also services the amateur photography market through a nationwide network of 12 photo processing facilities.

Ali Sheena prepares a submarine specialty

A NEW DELI DEPARTMENT is now open and serving made-to-order sandwiches at the Northville Party Shoppe at 680 West Eight Mile in Northville.

Ali Sheena, owner of the party store, purchased the Northville Party Shoppe in April 1981 and has just completed an extensive remodeling job that includes the new deli department.

Sheena is part-owner of two other party stores: the Farmington Hills Market in Farmington Hills and the Troy Winery in Troy.

Sheena says the new deli department offers lunch meats, imported cheeses and smoked bacon. Submarine sandwiches are a specialty and can be made in three and six foot lengths in addition to standard sizes.

Full catering services for parties also are available through the new deli department, Sheena said.

Northville Party Shoppe also sells beer, wine and groceries. Sheena said he plans to add a full carry-out pizzeria in the near future. A specialty of the pizzeria will be a "Mexican pizza" which is "out of this world."

The Northville Party Shoppe is open seven days per week: 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. Monday through Saturday and 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday.

The fireplace insert, which was voted Michigan's consumer product of the year last year, was designed and patented by Gerhart, a Milford resident.

The warehouse is open Monday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

MAUREEN PORTER of Northville was honored for outstanding achievement at the Mary Kay Cosmetics, Incorporated, Emerald Seminar attended by nearly 8,000 in Dallas in January.

She was cited as one of the top sales directors for 1981 in the independent field marketing organization of Mary Kay Cosmetics, achieving recognition for "outstanding leadership" which resulted in her unit becoming one of the top in the company's Emerald Division.

She was awarded a walnut plaque and a 14 karat gold and diamond bar pin, displaying retail unit achievement for 1981.

This year's $2.5 million seminar at which the awards were presented was the largest in the company's history. During the three-day event comprehensive classes including sales techniques, product knowledge, recruiting and motivation were conducted. The firm explained, "Seminar is the elaborate showcase we use as a vehicle to pay tribute to the outstanding performances of our sales force." Company policy is to provide momentum builders through contests and rewards.

The company's net sales were $91.4 million in 1979 and $166.9 million in 1980. Net sales for the first three quarters of 1981 showed a 48 percent increase over the same period in 1980 — $174.3 million compared with $118.1 million in the prior year. Mary Kay products are marketed in the United States and its territories, Canada, Australia and Argentina.

WWOCBR president pledges to campaign for tax benefits

As federal income tax forms are filed over the next few months, most Americans should gain new appreciation of the built-in benefits that have helped make us a nation of homeowners, according to Lloyd Mason.

Mason, president of the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors (WWOCBR), notes that the tax deductions allowed homeowners often mean the difference of what type of home may be bought and if a prospective buyer can qualify for a loan.

"Without such tax law provisions, the ranks of present owners would be seriously thinned, most of us would be living in less comfortable housing and the hopes of most prospective buyers would be in jeopardy," he said.

"Realtors were instrumental in convincing government in 1920 that home mortgage interest should be tax deductible and we have continued to carry similar battles. In the early '50s we helped pass the real estate tax deduction."

"In the same era, we pushed the legislation that allowed home sellers to defer capital gains on the sale if another home of equal or greater value was purchased. The time limit for this has now been extended to two years."

"Either activity permits fix-up costs and broker commissions to be made deductible in computing capital gains, and moving costs related to job transfer also are now allowed as deductions."

Mason said Realtors also promoted expansion of relief to the elderly in home sales starting in 1964 when many of those 65 and older were permitted to exclude a portion of the realized gain from taxes.

This once-in-a-lifetime exclusion was increased to a maximum of $100,000 in 1978 and the qualifying age was lowered to 55. Last year the maximum was increased to $125,000.

"When several of these benefits are figured in at tax-paying time, it helps soften the bite of a monthly mortgage payment and increased property taxes," said Mason. "Furthermore, they are benefits within the reach of most taxpayers."

"We keep hearing rumblings along the Potomac that efforts will be made to dissolve or limit many of these benefits to increase tax revenues and decrease expected deficits. If any such effort is made, millions of present and prospective homeowners will join Realtors to counter it. It could well account for the biggest flood of mail to ever hit Washington."

Mason lauded earlier Congresses passing enabling legislation to create the homeowner tax benefits. "The resultant rise in home purchases," he said, "has done much to bring stability to communities and neighborhoods, establish a solid local tax base and build a governmental foundation of established, concerned citizens with deep roots in the community of their choice."

Chocolate/Chocolat offers tasty delights for chocolate lovers

Chocolate/Chocolat has opened its newest boutique of superb quality sweets at Twelve Oaks Mall.

Sumptuous imported hand-made chocolates boast a satiny sheen and velvety texture. A rich-tasting, perfectly-fresh chocolate that contains no preservatives is the special attraction at the store. Special care and attention is given to the chocolate to produce a natural sweetness and flavor, a fresh taste and simple elegance for each recipe.

The use of quality chocolate, however, is just the beginning. There also is an impressive list of ingredients that become the centers for each chocolate, including brandies and liquors such as Kirsch... choice, in-season fruits... and fresh, raw nuts such as almonds that are shelled, roasted and ground on Chocolate/Chocolat premises.

Chocolate/Chocolat creates eight different truffles, each one geared to send taste buds soaring. Edible, sculptured "masterpieces" such as an all chocolate baguette, Eiffel Tower or Eifel Tower are the specialized creations available.

Individual orders to commemorate special occasions such as birthdays and anniversaries account for a large portion of the Chocolate/Chocolat industry. Chocolate/Chocolat stocks a full line of gift cards, boxes and hearts to complement each other. Pretty, oriental silk chocolate boxes are an example of their specialized packaging techniques.

Chocolate/Chocolat prices range from $.70 for a single, creamy truffle to $20 for a one pound assortment of the painstakingly prepared confections. Simple chocolate "cards" with an inscribed message will cost anywhere from $20 to $25 depending on size and weight.

Store Manager Sally Sears said Chocolate/Chocolat's imported Tobler Swiss Chocolate is irresistible in taste sensations.

Located on the upper level near Center Court, Chocolate/Chocolat's unique decor creates an ambience for the chocolate connoisseur. Wall-to-wall mirrors and chrome, glass and marble display units reflect the supremacy of the Chocolate/Chocolat kitchen.

This, coupled with soothing tones of brown and rose, enhance the luxury of the select assortments. An extraordinary chocolate sculptured castle, complete with 16 neon lights, is showpiece to exhibit the craftsmanship and expertise of the chocolate makers.

Chocolate/Chocolat is headquartered in Toronto, Ontario, and has stores in Manitoba, New York and Massachusetts. Other outlets will emerge throughout the United States.

Now located at Twelve Oaks Mall, Chocolate/Chocolat is a unique and memorable way to celebrate any occasion.

To open February 19

Outdoor lovers will love Outdoorama

If you haven't already done so, draw a big circle around Friday, February 19. That's the opening date for Outdoorama which will run for 10 days at the State Fairgrounds in Detroit.

Tom Washington, executive director of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC), which sponsors the state's largest sportsmen's show, claims that everyone who likes the outdoors will love this year's Outdoorama.

Included in the annual show will be a variety of seminars, clinics, movies and stage shows designed for outdoor sportsmen and their families.

Tickets are priced at $3.75 for adults and $1.50 per children. Outdoorama will be open noon to 10 p.m. on weekends and 4-10 p.m. on weekdays.
Stage shows are scheduled at 3:30 p.m. on weekends and at 7:30 p.m. every night.

FAMILY DAYS will be featured opening night
(Friday, February 19) and through the weekend.
Clinics by fishing and hunting experts will take place, along with continuous demonstrations of fishing skills in the casting pond and archery lessons at th range.

The Outdoorama stage show in the coliseum will feature the Great American Lumberjack Show, the Oak Ridge Retrievers exhibiting extraordinary hunting dog skills, highwire act with King Arthur and his Lion, and escape artist Mario Manzini.

Starting Monday (February 22), Fred Trost of "Michigan Outdoors" TV show will present special programs during the week for sportsmen on stage, in seminars and in the Craft Corner, Washington reports.

ARCHERY NIGHT, also on Monday, will be highlighted by guest speaker Tom Jennings, one of the original developers of the modern compound
bow. Stage demonstrations of longbows, recurves and the "world's fastest compound" will be supplemented by seminars on bowhunting and a debate on the legalization of crossbows in Michigan.

Master Angler Night on Tuesday will point up Michigan's biggest trophy fish of 1981. Trost will interview the lucky anglers with the biggest fish as part of the stage show. Seminars on how and where to catch trophy fish in Michigan, a discussion and demonstration of how to prepare fish to avoid any possible chemical hazards and a debate on salmon snagging are scheduled. Demonstrations of fly-tying, rod-building and other fishing skills also will be featured.

The biggest trophy buck racks of 1981 will be on display on Big Buck Night on Wednesday. They also will be part of the stage show with Trost. Experts will show how to butcher a deer at home and conduct seminars on trophy deer management and managing Michigan's army of hunters. Other special activities will be provided for novice as well as experienced deer hunters.

SPORTING DOG Night on Thursday will feature setters, pointers, spaniels, retrievers and hounds of all types as part of the stage show. The public is invited to the Craft Corner where all breeds will be on display and hunters will be available to answer questions.

Nationally-known author and dog expert David Michael Duffey will be a part of the stage show and provide seminars on dog selection, care and training.

"Michigan Outdoors" Night will highlight the new public television program hosted by Trost.

Washington said Trost will be present during Out-doorama and he hopes sportsmen will come down to visit with him and support his new show.

"Trost will put on a special program during the stage show, which will include an appearance by Department of Natural Resources Director
Howard Tanner on stage and in a special seminar where the public is invited to ask questions about the DNR — it's past, present and future,"
Washington said.

WILDLIFE DISCOVERY Day on Saturday will be of interest to kids and their parents who can learn about Michigan wildlife in continuous education sessions.

Outdoorama will wrap up Sunday, February 28, with Travel Day. Films, seminars on traveling and special prices offered by travel exhibitors will highlight the day.

Washington said he believes this year's Out-doorama truly offers everything for the outdoor sportsman and he is looking forward to an exciting and successful show.

At the Tone...

*I wonder about time.
How it stands still
When there's nothing to be done.
How it flies
When you're having fun.
The slow motion of the pendulum
Of the clock in the hall,
Relentless, perpetual,
What's the meaning of it all?*

*Our lives,
Divided into years, months, days,
Hours, minutes, seconds,
Passing in waves.*

*In contrast to the age of the universe
Our time on earth
Is nought but a blink of an eye
How can anyone assess our worth?
Why are we here? Why?*

*Meters in music,

And here I'll stay,

ASK THE LAWYER

A. It's not enough to call. Have him make an appointment to see his lawyer and require the lawyer to explain the status of the case. If at any point he is unhappy with his lawyer, he can always go to another attorney for a second opinion as to how the case should be developed.

Q. My son has been in and out of mental hospitals during the past one to two years. I felt that due to his condition he should be receiving Social Security benefits. When I applied for them at the Social Security office, Social Security sent their doctor to examine my son. The doctor said he found nothing wrong, so the benefits were denied. One week later my son was back in the hospital.

A. You should reapply for the benefits. If you need some help in expediting your application, call your congressman.

Q. I am named as sole beneficiary in my sister's will. Since there are other relatives that live closer to her and she has been sickly, I am concerned that some of her belongings might be taken from the house. What can be done to prevent this from happening?

A. If the items are taken with your sister's permission before her death, they could be considered a gift. If they are taken from the home after her death, your relatives would be stealing from her estate. You might want to take an inventory of the assets as a preventative measure.

Q. I have been off from work collecting workman's compensation due to a hip and wrist injury. My doctor says I will be under his care for at least five years and has assigned me to light duty upon my return to work. What if I find I cannot do the work when I return? Should I see a lawyer or return to work?

A. Go ahead and try to do the work. If you find that your injuries are being aggravated, go to the First Aid office at your place of employment and document the problem.

Your personal physician should then provide you with a letter to your employer which, if honored, should assist you in having your benefits reinstated. If you reaggregate your injury, you are entitled to file again for workman's compensation.

Q. A car, without a driver, went through our garage, wrecking two of our cars, and finally landed in our garden. We have been told by the police that because the car had no driver, we would have to find out all the necessary information. They have refused to give us the name of the owner.

A. Take the numbers off the license plate and contact the Secretary of State, Motor Vehicle Division, and they will tell you the owner's name. Have your homeowners insurance carrier handle it from that point.

Cagers ready for showdown with Hawks

Tim McLaughlin (34) was the floor general against Franklin

By JOHN MYERS

It is showdown time in the Western Six Conference at Northville High School Friday night.

Conference leader Farmington Harrison invades the Mustang gym for an 8 p.m. contest against second place Northville with a lot at stake for both teams.

The Mustangs need a victory to stay alive in the W-Six title chase, while a triumph by Harrison would put them in the driver's seat once again to win the championship outright.

Currently, the Mustangs are 3-2 in league play while the Hawks enter the contest at 5-1. Harrison won the first meeting between the two schools earlier this season, 60-52, on its own court.

Because of the two snow storms last week, Northville's equally important contest against Livonia Churchill last Thursday was canceled. It tentatively has been rescheduled for February 23 at Churchill.

Northville coach Tim Lutes would have liked to play the contest since his team is on a five-game winning streak and has the momentum going its way.

"It would have been to our advantage to play then," he explained.

Lutes realized it would have been better to play Churchill Thursday because his team has been improving and gaining momentum, but, he noted, so were the Chargers.

"Churchill has been playing some of their best ball lately. I'm sure they would have been sky-high for us," Lutes surmised.

The Mustangs will be entering the Harrison contests with injuries to certain key players. Lutes said Doug Eaker was not going to play against Brighton Tuesday because of an ankle sprain, while Tim Wagner, Tim McLaughlin and Carl Lang are all nursing tender ankles.

Also, Rod Kurzawa sustained a slight knee injury, but Lutes said he has been practicing with the team this week and has not experienced any pain.

"We hope to get these people back for Friday and have everyone healthy," Lutes said.

One of the keys in the game for Northville will be the work of its reserves players against Harrison. Lutes said Harrison's team basically uses six players, while he uses 10 to 12 of his own.

With the two home games this week, the Mustangs are working on expanding a five-game winning streak and 23-game home winning streak.

Both those streaks were kept alive last week Tuesday with a 67-59 triumph over non-league rival Livonia Franklin.

The two keys in the win for Northville, according to Lutes, were controlling the tempo most of the contest and outbounding Franklin.

"I think the other team really tried to push the ball up the floor on us," Lutes said.

The Patriots were concentrating hard on getting into their fast break offense, Lutes explained, but did not concern themselves with getting the rebound in order to accomplish their objective.

Lack of rebounding concentration enabled the Mustangs to control both the offensive and defensive boards in gaining a 23-15 lead after one quarter.

Lang was the main benefactor in the first quarter as he scored nine points in a row at one point. Also, he connected on nine of 10 shots in the first half en route to a game high 27 point performance.

However, Northville let itself get caught into a transition game in the second quarter which helped Franklin cut the Mustangs' lead at the half to 35-34.

Mustang college grid recruits still undecided

While most of the state's high school football recruits are signing national letters of intent today, four Northville grid standouts still are uncertain where they might play their collegiate football.

Mustang head football coach Dennis Colligan said Vince Candela, Tim McLaughlin, Neil Fitzpatrick and Chris Dimitroff probably will make final decisions by the end of this week.

Candela visited Central Michigan University last week Wednesday with his family, Colligan said, and is being sought by Grand Valley State University.

CMU had Candela, who stands at 6-foot-1 and weighs 252 pounds, in a field of four remaining players fighting for three scholarships the Chipewas had left. But it was uncertain as of Monday afternoon whether Candela would receive one.

Both McLaughlin and Fitzpatrick are being sought by Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association schools Albion and Adrian. However, the MIAA, which is placed in Division III by the National Collegiate Athletic Association, does not offer scholarships.

Running back and defensive end Chris Dimitroff is being looked at by various schools, Colligan said.

NHS wrestlers darkhorse for W-6 mat championship

Two weeks of inactivity ends Saturday for the Northville boys' wrestling when it hosts the Western Six Conference championships.

The Mustangs have had only one meet in the last two weeks — that a win over Waterford Township January 28 at home.

The preliminary matches begin at 2:15 p.m. and the finals will begin approximately at 6:15 p.m. The league championships are being broadcast by Omnicom cable television.

The Mustangs were to have been in action last week Monday against non-league rivals Howell and Belleville, but it was canceled due to last week Sunday's snow storm. Also, a non-league match at Brighton Tuesday was canceled.

Northville coach Gary Emerson said he will try to reschedule the triangular meet with Howell and Belleville, but not the Brighton contest.

The two-week lay off has given some injured Mustangs wrestlers time to heal, and Emerson a chance to teach some techniques to his squad before the championships.

"But, you can only teach so many new tricks right now," he explained.

"From an injury point of view, it has been kind of nice," Emerson added.

While the 14-year coach said two injured wrestlers may be back, he lost another top wrestler last week.

John Collins, who has been a consistent winner in the 132-pound category, had to have surgery for appendicitis last week Monday. With the surgery, Collins would not be able to wrestle for six weeks.

However, Emerson said John Narr, who wrestles at 119, and Jack Wallace, who wrestles at 138, will be practicing this week in hopes of being able to compete Saturday.

Both wrestlers went out with shoulder injuries during the month of January. Wallace's injury was not as severe as Naar's, and he is seeded number one in the 138-pound division for Saturday.

Defending heavyweight champion Vince Candela is seeded number one and will be looking to avenge an early season loss to Walled Lake Western's Rich Richardson.

Neil Fitzpatrick, at 185 pounds, is seeded number one, and Dan Sackllah will be battling for the 167-pound championship against Western's Aldo Butazoni, according to Emerson.

Ypsilanti downs Mustang tankers

For the seventh time in nine meets, the Northville boys' swim team fell to defeat. This time it was to Ypsilanti, 102-59, last week Tuesday in the team's only competition.

A dual meet against Western Six Conference rival Livonia Churchill Thursday at the Chargers' pool was canceled due to a second major snowstorm Wednesday that hit the area last week. Mustang Athletic Director Ralph Redmond said the meet tentatively has been rescheduled for February 23.

The tankers are in action at home twice this week starting with non-league foe Detroit Catholic Central 7 p.m. Tuesday. The Mustangs battle W-Six rival Plymouth Canton 7 p.m. Thursday. The Chiefs downed Northville in their own pool earlier this season.

"I would like to give them (Canton) a little scare. I would like to make them think a little bit before the league meet," Mustang coach Pete Talbot said.

He said the team's main goal is to work on dropping times for the league meet in hopes of capturing a second-place finish. Canton looks like the favorite to win the W-Six championship.

Catholic Central will bring a powerhouse team to Northville, Talbot explained.

"We'll shoot our best shot at both of them. It will be a little better swimming against them in our own pool," he added.

The main reason for Ypsilanti winning the meet by a large margin against Northville, Talbot offered, was the long lay off between meets for his team.

The Mustangs had not been in competition for a week when they dove in the pool against Ypsilanti. Northville's last meet was a triumph over W-Six foe Farmington Harrison January 21.

"We had some good times, but we also had some bad times," Talbot assessed.

Dave Copp was the only Mustang tanker to take a first-place finish in the meet. He took top honors in the 100-yard freestyle with a 54.8 clocking.

The junior tanker also took a third in the 50-yard freestyle (24.5) and was part of the second place 200-yard medley relay team with Tim Walker, Mickey Nader and Jon Burchard (1:59.47).

Adam Swallow was second in the 500-yard freestyle (5:54.61). Nader was runner-up in the 100-yard breaststroke (1:12.88) and Chris Behn did the same in diving with a score of 148.20.

Numerous third- and fourth-place finishes were taken by the Mustangs. Taking thirds were Swallow in the 200-yard freestyle (2:07.2); Nader in the 200-yard individual medley (2:38.9); Burchard in the 100-yard butterfly (1:08.93); Walker in the 100-yard backstroke (1:13.27); Evans in diving (143.05); and the 400-yard freestyle relay team of Swallow, Evans, Vince Shimp and Jeff Smith (4:09.59).

Leading the parade of fourth-place finishes was the 200-yard medley relay team of Gary Lauber, Greg Capote, Blake Anderson and Behn (2:06.10); Shimp in the 200-yard freestyle (2:11.6); Burchard in the 200-yard individual medley (2:46.1); Walker in the 100-yard freestyle (59.7); Behn in the 100-yard backstroke (1:15.50); and the 400-yard freestyle relay team of Capote, Lauber, Gil Allen and Jeff Metz (4:21.7).

Evans was fifth in the 200-yard individual medley, while Metz in diving and Smith in the 50-yard freestyle and 100-yard backstroke did the same.

Taking sixth-place finishes were Capote in the 50-yard freestyle, Allen in the 200-yard freestyle and Anderson in the 100-yard backstroke.

Table hockey tourney scheduled Saturday

It may not be as popular as video games, but it still holds an appeal for a certain number of people.

Table hockey, the game where players are controlled by metal rods, will be the main attraction at the Southfield Michigan Inn Saturday, as approximately 60 entrants will battle for the 10th Annual World Table Hockey Association Championship. Action gets underway at 10:30 a.m.

There are two divisions — a novice and professional, according to WTHA President Sidney Stutz. Entry fee for the novice group is $17.50 and it is $30 for pros, said Stutz, who lives in Northville.

For further information on registering, call Stutz weekdays between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. at 871-7500. Advanced registration is required.

Cagers ready for showdown with Hawks

"They really got us into a transition game. We simply didn't get the shots. We made some bad passes, forced some shots and took some bad shots," Lutes analyzed. "We were lucky to come out with a one-point lead at the half."

McLaughlin keyed the Mustangs' resurgence in the third quarter when they took control of the game again for good.

Northville outscored Franklin 12-8 in the third stanza and 20-17 in the final quarter. The Mustangs nailed 14 of 16 free throws in the final period to secure the win. "We hit 12 in a row at one point. The kids really showed a lot of poise," Lutes commended.

Also, Franklin went stone cold in the third stanza by connecting on just four of 17 field goal attempts to aid the Mustang cause.

"Tim McLaughlin took charge in the third quarter and controlled the tempo of the game," Lutes praised. "We took good shots and hustled back on defense."

While Northville capitalized on its fourth quarter free throw opportunities, Franklin squandered a similar chance early in the game.

The Patriots had Northville in early foul trouble but were only able to convert on 11 of 27 charity tosses for the game. The Mustangs connected on 15 of 20 free throws for the contest.

Following Lang in the scoring department was Steve Schrader with 14 points and Dave Malinowski with 10.

McLaughlin had seven, Kurzawa five and Eaker four points.

NHS grapplers prepare for W-Six mat crown

"The rest (of the Mustang squad) is marginal. We'll do what we can," Emerson assessed. "Anything is possible...you never know what might happen."

Even though Emerson thinks Western and Plymouth Canton are the favorites to win the title, wrestling on their mats will be beneficial for the Mustangs.

"We always wrestle better at home than we do away. If there is any advantage, it will be wrestling on our own stuff," Emerson explained.

He explained the team has a good attitude and it realizes what it has to do.

"Western has more depth and will be able to score all the way down the line. Canton has six good wrestlers at the start, but does not have enough in the upper weights," Emerson said.

Ocelot cagers, gymnasts down Alpena, Norte Dame

Both the Schoolcraft men's basketball and gymnastics teams were victorious, but the same could not be said for the women's basketball team.

The men cagers topped Alpena Community College, 52-48, at home as Bill Keyes led a balanced scoring attack with nine points.

The gymnastics team downed Norte Dame, 141.5-128.05, in South Bend as Bruce Schaffer, Brian Malone and Chuck Thompson placed first, second and third, respectively.

The women's basketball team dropped a 74-39 decision to Alpena as Kathy Peck paced the losers with 10 points.

Two Mustang gymnasts hit regional qualifying marks

One girl from the Northville gymnastics team qualified in three events and another in two Saturday at the Ann Arbor Pioneer Invitational. Paula Broderick and Amy Aaron both qualified for regional competition in the vault and floor exercise events, while Broderick also qualified in the uneven bars. In addition, Broderick took a third-place medal in a pairs competition at the meet.

A scheduled meet against Walled Lake Western last week Wednesday was canceled due to a second major snow storm to hit the area. The meet will be made up February 20 at Northville. Also, Hartland will be competing at the meet.

The Mustangs are in action tonight against Western Six Conference rival Farmington Harrison at Harrison.

Aaron scored an 8.65 and Broderick an 8.6 in the vault which qualified them for regionals in that event. Broderick had an 8.7 in the floor exercise and Aaron an 8.2. Broderick scored a 7.75 in the uneven bars, while Aaron tallied a 6.2.

Broderick teamed with Alpena's Mike Wimber to take a third place with a combined score of 61.60.

Wendy Wobermin, Tish Johnson and Marian Rothermal also competed at Pioneer, but did not qualify in any events for regionals.

There was no team scoring kept at the meet, coach Debbie Heck said, but rather it was a chance to try to qualify for regionals on an individual basis.

Johnson has become another all-around performer for Northville as she competed on the balance beam for the first time Saturday. "She did fairly well," Heck said.

Northville spikers trounced by W-Six rival Western

Northville volleyball coach Steve Donald was not at all happy with the performance of his squad Monday night as it lost to Western Six Conference rival Walled Lake Western at home.

The Mustangs were thoroughly outplayed by the Warriors in two straight sets, 15-3 and 15-5, which dropped their overall mark to 2-5 and 1-3 in Western Conference play.

Northville will try to rebound 6 p.m. in its final home game of the season against another W-Six opponent, South Lyon Monday and hit the road for a conference match Wednesday for a conference match with Farmington Hills.

The Mustangs had two matches canceled last week because of the two major snow storms which hit the area. Last week Wednesday's match with Livonia Churchill will be rescheduled, but a date has not been determined. The tri-meet with Howell and Ann Arbor Huron, canceled last week Monday, will not be rescheduled.

McDonald offered no excuses for the performance of his team against Western. He said the long lay off between the Mustangs' last match (January 27) and Monday night was part of the problem, but he quickly pointed out the Warriors had about the same time off.

Lack of a total team effort hurt the Mustangs, again. Only five Mustangs gave a good effort, according to McDonald, who noted the team is at a breaking point in the season.

"They either have to start playing like a team or continue to get blown off the court," he explained.

Lack of a killer instinct and the desire to win and play hard are still hurting the team, McDonald said. "I'm not sure as a coach how to instill that because anyone who knows me knows I'll do anything to win."

"I still think this group has talent, but they haven't found their niche, yet," he added.

Juniors Mary Richcreek, Whitney Hyatt, Leslie Kucher, Jenny Gans and

Judy Morgan, along with senior Melinda House, were cited by McDonald for their play against Western.

Both Richcreek and Hyatt played well offensively and defensively, McDonald said, while Morgan set well. Gans and Kucher played strong along the front row, he said.

"House played her usual steady game," McDonald added.

He was especially pleased with Richcreek and Hyatt. Both have not seen much action this year, McDonald said, but put forth good efforts Monday night in roles off the bench.

"Upnote? I don't know if there is one," McDonald mused. "The juniors did a good job."

"I think if the girls get mad, they'll be competitive," he added.

Northville's junior varsity team came from behind to down Western, 4-15, 15-8 and 15-7. Kim Petit was the key figure in the decisive third game. She nailed 13 consecutive serves for points to help seal the triumph.
