Valve plant workers first to ratify UAW-Ford pact

By KEVIN WILSON

Members of United Auto Workers union Local 896 at Ford Motor Company's Northville Valve Plant became the first in the nation to ratify a proposed UAW-Ford agreement Sunday.

Voting 126-5, local 896 members cast ballots Sunday afternoon, the first day of ratification voting. The tally was completed by 4 p.m. and the results telephoned to UAW headquarters a full hour before polls closed at the only other Ford facility (Ypsilanti) making a bid to be first.

Local president Norm Fultz said he was pleased at both the turnout of members and the results, particularly since he viewed the quick response as a boost to hopes Ford will reopen the plant.

was encouraging since a majority of the membership has been on indefinite layoff since April, 1981, and most of the remainder since November.

"In a way it's really amazing my people came through this big," Fultz said Sunday of the 96 percent affirmative tally. "A lot of the best things in the agreement, they won't be eligible for unless they get back to work.

The results of the national ratification vote, which most observers expect to strongly favor the agreement, should be in by 6 p.m. this Sunday, Fultz said.

Assuming the agreement is adopted,
Ford has pledged to credit the Supplemental Unemployment Benefit (SUB) fund with $70 million. If the Northville plant does not reopen, the restoration would likely be the only benefit to Local 896 workers.

But pladges made by Ford as part of

There were roughly 200 local 896 But pledges made by Ford as part of members eligible to cast ratification the agreement will also require a votes, Fultz said, and the 131 turnout thorough review of the feasibility of retaining the Northville plant as a production facility.

Fultz and others have indicated that review may include consideration of producing an additional small engine part beyond the intake valves that have been the sole concern of the plant since exhaust valve manufacturing moved elsewhere. Ford's determination that the plant was not economically viable was based on valve production only and also on pre-agreement labor rates. Fultz said the union hope is that the changes could swing the economic balance in favor of a reopening here.

The local president told his members Sunday the chances for continued work at the valve plant are stronger than they have been in many months and that the national agreement he helped negotiate has many more pluses for workers than talk of concessions might indicate. "We never could have done this good in September," Fultz said. The 1979 contract which would be supplanted by the new agreement expires September

Looking back on more than eight months of discussions with Ford regarding the Northville plant's future, which appeared to end in defeat but were revived when national negotiation began, Fultz noted the attention focused on the plant nationally, within the union and the company.

"When we started out, people would ask where Northville was," he said. "Everybody knows where Northville is now, and they know what we're trying to do."

fast approaching, taxpayers and collectors alike are finding recent legislation has changed the rules of the property tax game in Michigan. Notices informing all township property owners of assessment increases was mailed early this week, after county tax authorities gave them to the township at the end of the work day Monday. City notices were expected later in the week.

Clerk Susan Heintz said the notices finally arrived between 5:30 and 6 p.m. Monday and township officials had an 'envelope stuffing party" until after midnight in order to post the notices immediately. Some property owners received them yesterday, many others should get them today, she said.

The assessment increase, which averages between seven and eight percent, she said, is being protested by the township, but individual homeowners may file their own appeals May 2-3 and 8-9 at board of review sessions. Before they go, however, Heintz suggested they try to understand the new rules.

Under new truth-in-assessment legislation, the multiplication factor in Northville Township for assessed valuations, as recently published, is 1.0, even though assessments have increased by over 7 percent.

For township residents, under the former method of calculating taxable property value an assessed valuation (AV) would have been multiplied by 2.84 to determine a state equalized valuation (SEV) accounting for value increases since the property was last

But the truth in assessment provisions would require massive millage rollbacks if the SEV differed from the AV by that amount. So county tax authorities simply made "new" assessments by using the multiplier and calling the result an AV instead of an SEV. There was no door-to-door examination of properties, the basic assumption of an increase was applied township-wide. A door-to-door reassessment in the city this year minimized the impact of this legislation, where AVs are presumably up-to-date.

All property owners should receive notice of "new" assessment this week, barely in time to protest if the AV does not reflect 50 percent of the home's market value. The township has added a board of review session Saturday, March 6 to accommodate an anticipated swarm of appeals.

Supervisor John MacDonald plans to protest the assessment increase in the township of roughly seven percent, arguing that the three-year sales study it is based upon does not accurately

With March board of review meetings reflect market values in a depressed economy, that the notices were published too late for effective appeal by homeowners, and, basically, that the assessed valuations are inaccurate reflections of true property values.

Once the furor over assessment practices subsides and a decision is made, taxpayers and collectors can then turn their attentions to millage rates as governed by recently approved truth in taxation measures. Even if the seven percent increase governments will then be required to vote either to rollback millages to collect the exact dollar amount realized in tax receipts last year or 'to endorse increased tax payments by a roll call stands, officials explained, local

"What I'm getting here," Heintz said, "is a feeling in favor of a rollback to last year's level, but that's no help to people on assessments."

She noted the township board does not yet have complete tax roll in order to evaluate such a decision, and is not required to vote on the rollback provision until September. The school system, which gets the vast majority of tax dollars, can not make any rollback decisions until after the board of review, either, she noted.

School boards oppose transfer request

By MICHELE McELMURRY

A request by a group of Novi homeowners petitioning to transfer from the Northville Public Schools to the Novi Community Schools was turned down last Thursday night in a joint session of the Wayne and Oakland County Intermediate School Boards.

Citing that such a transfer would not be a sufficient educational benefit to the students of the district and would have no impact on the racial make-up of the district, the two intermediate school boards denied the request by a 5-4 vote.

Wayne County (which includes Northville) board members Carl Morris, Boyd W. Arthurs, Geraldine Joyner, Richard Muse and Mary Blackman voted against the transfer. The property owners requesting the Seventy-nine percent of the homeowners in the area just south of the Novi School District border, in the Dunbarton Pines and Brookland Farms subdivisions between Nine Mile, Nine and-a-half Mile, Novi and Taft roads, signed petitions requesting a shift in school district boundaries.

The group requested the transfer to establish a more logical school district boundary, safer student transportation conditions and a more cohesive identity between school and community.

Neither the Northville nor Novi school boards have the authority to decide the outcome of such a transfer request which is made in joint agreement between the two county intermediate school districts.

Though the Novi School Board has not taken a formal position regarding the transfer petition, it has given its unofficial support to accepting the boundary shift should it be approved.

However, facing a potential loss of approximately $130,000 from next year's program and the possibilty of future dismantling of the district, the Northville Board of Education unanimously opposed the request at its January 25 meeting.

In township department

Wage increase at heart of water budget

A three-year plan to bring salaries in the Northville Township Water and Sewer Department up to the average of those in surrounding communities is included as part of the department's proposed 1982-83 budget.

Department head Walter Holinoty and Water and Sewer Commission Chairman Robert Terwin presented the plan, calling for a minimum 15 percent increase in each of the three years for each employee, to the township board in a budget hearing Saturday.

Holinoty would receive 11 percent increases each year under the proposal, while the department foreman would receive increases of 16, 16 and 15 percent. The newest serviceman would receive 15 percent increases in each of the three years.

Terwin and Holinoty said the salary increases were justified, and proven necessary, by a study of 11 similar-sized departments in the region. "It's a matter of supply and demand," Holinoty said. "There is a nation-wide shortage of qualified water and sewer men, and our wage scale is way below the average.

He said if the township department were within nine percentage points of the average "I wouldn't even be ask-ing" but that the discrepancy is large, and he fears the imminent loss of highly-trained personnel.

"We may be a township, but our system is large," he continued. "Our pay scale — it across the board is the lowest in the region. My men are aware

More important than the size of the water system, Holinoty said, is the quality of the work done.

"We do all our own major repairs whereas most the systems we surveyed farm that work out at incredible costs," he related. "Some even farm out what we consider basic maintenance."

He emphasized that, while the department is part of the township, it is also self-sustaining business venture. While the township proper may be facing very tight economic times, the abundant finances.

Terwin said the township department well-managed and likely the most efficient in the region, and the workers who make it that way deserve the proposed raise.

"We think, we know, we're the best around here, and we don't like to be at the bottom of the barrel," Holinoty add-

While he has fears of losing well-trained personnel, he said, he also is 'trying to keep the union out. Most of these other departments are unioniz-

The township's wage and salary review commission, which recommends pay levels to the township board, recommended a one-year five percent wage rise in the department, and it had heard Holinoty's arguments.

The department head noted that his budget projections do not include wage scales for clerical workers in the department. Those, he told the board, might be better set in accordance with pay rates for other township clerical

Supervisor John MacDonald pointed out "three matters of concern" as the township considers the budget pro-

"First, the clerical people. We have to consider their positions separately along with the rest of the township, MacDonald said. "Second is the con-dependent on tax dollars, has more cept of 'rewarding' the quality of your abundant finances. cept of 'rewarding' the quality of your men. There are other departments where quality is high, but we can't at-ford to offer them a reward. 'Finally, there is you (Holinoty) versus the other department heads, who are also doing a good job, but whom we can't afford to pay as well." Holinoty said the clerical workers were separated from the rest of the budget in part because "the men feel they have been held down in part because of the clerical. They feel that whatever is determined is based on that (wage decision).'

As for the inability of the township to offer similar rewards in other departments, Holinoty said he realized it was a problem for the board but that his department could afford it and, as a business, could ill afford not to increase

"I really think my men deserve it;" Holinoty said. "Many communities are hiring young engineering graduates to be engineering advisors at fairly substantial costs. Unfortunately (one of them) calls us for advice about what to do. You simply could not replace our work force at this price."

The township board must vote on the budget proposal, or revise it, before April 1. Sessions in the last week of March are scheduled for approval of all township budgets and determination of the water and sewer program will be made at the same time.

County boards vote 5-4 to deny school transfer

level. There aren't a lot of differences in distance."

Wilkinson said the Northville School Board's primary opposition to the boundary shift was the fear that it would lead to future transfer requests causing a "possible piecemeal dismantling of

She pointed out that approximately 17 percent or 586 of Northville Public School's 3,500 students reside in the City

"The educational opportunity to the rest of the Northville students could be a problem," she remarked.

'I think all districts, in order to plan good school system have to be assured the boundaries won't change."

Several residents requesting the transfer said they had been told by real estate brokers at the time they purchased their homes that their children would be attending Novi Public

When Brookland Farms was established 20 years ago, there was only one elementary school in Novi and no secondary schools. Therefore, children in that area attended Northyille schools.

However, several residents of Dunbarton Pines, built three years ago, said they were led to believe that they resided in the Novi school district and were not told their children would be attending Northville Public Schools until after they had purchased their homes.

Other problems which petitioners brought to the boards' attention included taxation complications, lack of cohesion between the community and the schools and a communications lag between residents and the school system.

After almost two hours of debate, Wayne County board member Geraldine Joyner made a motion to deny the transfer request.

"I don't think we need to fragment the district," she noted. "I see problems with taking and fragmenting districts in this state with the economic conditions that we have and the fact that 600 districts have less than 2,000 students. "I think there is a communications problem between the Northville School district and the parents involved," she remarked.

Northville School Board trustee Jean Hansen proposed establishing a citizens' committee to iron out some of the transportation problems which exist in the Dunbarton Pines and Brookland Farms area.

Noting that "safety problems in that area were never addressed until the petition was well underway," School Superintendent Lawrence Nichols said the problem could be looked into.

In opposing the transfer request, Wayne County board member Boyd Arthurs said "from the standpoint of educational opportunity, which I think is the primary issue, my concern has consistently been with educational well-being of youngsters. "I have failed to see this evening how this transfer would effect the educational well-being of the youngsters."

Prior to last Thursday's joint session, the issue of improved educational opportunity had been purposely omitted from the petitioners' argument.

Gordon Parker said the residents' group had been advised not to use educational opportunity as an argument in seeking the transfer request because the "quality of education is judgemental.
"We did not want to discredit the Northville schools," he noted. "We were not out to mudsling."

Angered by the intermediate school boards' reasoning for denying the request, Parker said the group would not hesitate to appeal.

'If you'd like for us to do so," Parker told board members, "we can give you a lot of reasons why the Novi schools are better than Northville's.

Roger Little, whose 29-year seniority could get him work at Ford's Rouge facility, said the agreement met his standards too.

"I don't think the concessions are that great," he said. "I want to work. The job is harder but, I don't know, there's something about it out here that's nicer than anyplace I've worked. I really hope it reopens.

Pete Darocha had concerns that some younger workers might not see the value of the job security measures negotiated in the agreement: "For seniority people, this is a terrific thing. It really goes after our biggest worries. Some of the younger guys don't understand that."

All those present agreed that the contract proposal was a masterful compromise, a blend addressing both their needs and those of the company, and they foresaw something new in labor management relations.

But none disagreed when Nady offered the thought that "there's something different coming up."

They also agreed that dissident union members still exist.

"They're the kind of people who snipe at everything and then just want to lay back and think the company owes them something," Nady said. Derocha added: "You're always going to have people like that."

As for contentions that the job security promises are vague, Local 896 members offered the suggestion that Ford needs some flexibility simply to Ogilvie said the removal of the house would not terminate the nonconforming status of the land. However, if parking is permitted on the space where the house once stood, Ogilvie said this would mean an expansion of the land use which would first require approval of the Board of Appeals.

Also, the parking on the property is an incidental and occasional use, Ogilvie said, subject to the limitations of the non-conforming uses and can be permitted in residental areas.

The city only could terminate the noncomforming uses by condemning the property or reaching an agreement with the owners of the property with respect to the financial loss they they would suffer by reason of the termination of the non-conforming use, Ogilvie Commissioner Thomas Wheaton questioned Ogilvie at the meeting why the city would have to make a financial agreement with the owners of the land if the non-conforming use was ter-minated:

Ogilvie responded someone received income from the parking of cars and suggested perhaps the Driving Club was looking at its total investment. Chairperson Lesa Buckland noted the

"Anything could happen there,"

The motion fell by an 8-1 count. Chairperson Lesa Buckland and commissioners Luke Durst, Stewart Kissinger, Fred Joels, Charles Freydl, Bruce Turnbull, Jay Wendt and Wheaton all voted no. Commissioner James Cutler voted yes.

Pallas receives honor from school board

A resolution "commending highly" Northville elementary movement and physical education teacher Tom Pallas for his successful participation in the Hawaiian Ironman World Triathlon February 6 was passed unanimously by the Northville Board of Education Monday night.

Pallas and his wife attended the board session to describe his experiences on the rugged course in Kailua-Kona, Films of Pallas as he swam the 2.4 miles in the ocean, biked 112 miles and then ran the 26.2 mile marathon were shown.

"I'm very, very proud," a smiling Pallas told board members, explaining his goal had been to complete the Triathlon but not to try for records. The event began at 7:30 a.m., and Pallas finished at 10:30 p.m. The board's resolution cited Pallas as "an example to the youth of our community to see and admire - a super athlete.'

Amerman families enjoyed an inexpensive form of winter exercise at Bonaventure Roller Rink during the evening of January 21. Chairpersons Kathy Skynar and Pat Howard report. that this event was not only fun and healthy but that it was profitable, too. A repeat performance is scheduled from 6:30-8:30 p.m. March 10.

Although frigid storms upset school schedules, Amerman's Student Project Exhibit provided an exciting reason for braving the elements. Student exhibitors demonstrated that Amerman's fourth through sixth graders are ingenious, inventive and industrious.

Looking ahead to balmier breezes, Amerman's Annual Book Swap chairpersons have designated March 15-18 as the days avid readers can trade fiction favorites.

Not just good reading, but quality writing also is an integral activity at Amerman. Shiela Norgren and Lynn Martin, as well as many parent volunteers, are busy printing the Publishing Center works.

Is there a PTA Board position in your future? The Amerman PTA invites you to consider the possibility. There are many capacities in which to serve; the rewards are worth the effort.

MORAINE

Moraine students are enjoying some worthwhile new exposures, thanks to the Junior Entertainment Series and its chairperson Phoebe Klain. On February 10, students were treated to a lively gymnastics exhibition by Schoolcraft College students. On April 26, a group from Lansing called the Impressions Five Museum will be putting on a science presentation entitled, "The Zap Energy Show."

Moraine families should mark their calendars with another roller skating evening scheduled from 6:30-8:30 p.m. March 4. This event, at Bonaventure Rink, also will be Cub Scout Night.

A second family movie night was held February 19 with Karen McCreadie heading the event. The Walt Disney offering, "Bedknobs and Broomsticks," was enjoyed by all who attended this PTA fundraiser.

Valentine's Day had a slightly different emphasis in Bess Miller's kindergarten classes this year. The classroom was temporarily converted to a "mail room" and students addressed, mailed, sorted, stamped and finally to post office procedures was the beginning of a study on occupations. Parents are encouraged to share information about their occupations with the kindergarten class. Today is Western Day at Moraine. Western garb was the style for the day. To help get things started, there was a hoedown under the direction of music teacher Mary Kay Pryce.

Teacher Exchange Day will be held at Moraine March 23.

SILVER SPRINGS

February has been a busy month at Silver Springs in spite of all the snow. Our annual science fair took place during parent-teacher conferences with 150 students participating. Parents, delivered Valentines. This introduction teachers and students enjoyed all of the displays. Students will receive their awards at two assemblies today.

Thirty-three service patrol students and 15 adults made a trip to the Silverdome February 6 courtesy of the PTA. They toured locker rooms, participated: in a basketball clinic and watched the: Detroit Pistons basketball game. All comments indicate this was an outstanding trip honoring our students for their. service to the school.

On February 10, Tom Rice of the Git-fiddler entertained students with an introduction to many stringed instruments and their sounds. At the same assembly students heard from. movement education teacher Tom: Pallas about his successful completion: of the Triathalon — 14 hours, 55

It's a big game to these little guys!

Kids stuff phooey, basketball is important business to these fellas.

It's got to be important. Did you ever miss Saturday morning cartoons when you were nine-years-old? Bugs Bunny certainly had an affect on my life.

This was a big game though, the Celtics (in white) needed a victory against the first-place Piston team (in black) to move into a tie for the top slot. With the score tied 6-6 at halftime, the pressure was unbearable.

Following a flurry of turnovers and missed shots, the Celtics pulled away to a commanding two-point lead to start the fourth quarter. It was two points more than the Pistons could muster though. Final score: Celtics 10, Pistons 8. A tough loss for the Pistons.

I didn't miss The Jetsons very often either.

The OLV Publishing Center begins tomorrow to provide young authors with an opportunity to write and publish their own works.

Registration for the 1982-83 school year at Our Lady of Victory will be March 15-19.

Parson to Person...

Redeeming The Time

> Dr. James H. Luther

We waste a lot of time! Yet scripture charges us to make good use of every moment (Ephesians 5:16). If Jesus said we must give account for every idle word, surely we will also be accountable for every idle mo-

I am convinced that many hours of important life-time are gathering in the loss column of the ledgers of our lives. A sure way to avoid wasting time is to get our priorities right, then do the most important thing first. Quality time spent in spiritual endeavor will increase our effective time for other pursuits. When God is honored, He often removes time-wasters from our lives:

1. Do you have time to read your Bible, or is that low on your priorities?

2. Do you have time to pray, or are others more important than God?

3. Do you have time for church, or do you lack faithfulness? 4. Do you have time to witness for Christ, or do you live for self?

The delay in which God instructs us and builds us saves our time, never wastes it. Time given to God is a life invested in eternity. What are you doing with your time?

'Susie's Salvo' strikes commission nerve

"Susie's salvo" struck a nerve at the Wayne County Road Commission, even though its accuracy was found less than perfect.

The "salvo" was a three-page January 27 letter penned by township Clerk Susan Heintz taking the road commission to task for reports that a lack of political clout was to blame for inadequate road service here during recent snowfalls.

The road commission has responded with a salvo of its own, citing innaccuracies and misunderstandings, asking for names of employees who may have made the statements, and setting up a meeting between county road officials and township ones.

Signed by six township board members, Heintz's missive was sent to Freddie Burton, managing director, with copies sent to a page-long list of political and governmental figures.

It also contained several references to property taxes paid by township homeowners to Wayne County. But the response, which County Highway Engineer John Kinville sent to The Record, notes that the road commission receives no property tax dollars.

"It should be pointed out," the esponse states, "in an effort to response states, eliminate any confusion on the part of the Township, that the Wayne County Road Commission receives its revenues from the Michigan Department of Transportation through the 'use tax' which is obtained from gasoline and license plate fees."

Commission staff noted that such revenues have been declining because of more fuel efficient automobiles, conservation efforts and lowered license plate fees associated with lighter cars.

"The decline in actual dollars to the Wayne County Road Commission, over the past two years," the reply states, "has been 15 percent or $5 million." Michigan road commissions, it points out, must have balanced budgets by law so the reduced revenues have meant cuts in service.

As for the central issue of Heintz's letter - a perception that "political clout" was being used as a criterion when determining where to work - signatories called it a matter of "major concern to us."

Citing Heintz's report that "someone" from the road commission was telling callers the township lacked political clout and that requests from the township were treated as a "joke" spurred the board to ask for the name or names of the employees involved.

It suggested a meeting at the Wayne County Road Commission Central Maintenance Yard in Romulus at 10:30 a.m. February 24. The letter was signed by road commission vice chairman Grace Hampton and commissioner Claude Dukes.

Heintz said she has "no quarrel with the first part of the letter" citing the erroneous perception regarding taxes.

She said Township Business Manager David Lelko was researching the issue and Supervisor John MacDonald would attend the meeting this morning. "We don't have a name for them, but David is trying to find out what number was called. We already know when the calls were made."

Every occasion catered with a flair. You'll be proud to show off the grand array of foods... that you select and we prepare to perfection. Estimates. Call!

Blue fox coat stolen from patron at Downs

In the city...

A blue fox coat, valued at $619, was stolen from Northville Downs February 16, city police report.

The complainant said she had been sitting in the grandstands and left the coat on her chair. She left for awhile and said the coat was gone when she returned, police said.

A friend sitting in the chair next to her did not see anyone take the coat while she was gone, police said.

A 1977 Monte Carlo was damaged between February 13 and 14 while parked in the Northville Downs employees lot, police report. Damage was estimated

The employee said she parked the car at 4 p.m. February 13 and returned at 1 a.m. February 14 when she noticed the damage, police said.

Unknown person(s) broke all four headlights and scratched the passenger side of the car from the front fender to the door and to the driver's side front fender, police said.

...In the township

Assault and battery charges are pending after a Friday night fight in front of a Silver Springs residence, township police reports show.

According to the statements of witnesses, an 18-year-old male neighbor came the door of the residence carrying a 30-inch baseball bat at around 10:30 p.m. Friday. He dropped the bat after a 20-year-old man inside said he would only come outside if the younger man did so.

A verbal argument ensued between the younger man and a 17-year-old girl and the 20-year-old came outside. A fist fight followed and police were called. The report states the 18-year-old was bleeding from a wound above the right ear when police arrived. The other man suffered scratches to the chest and side and his shirt was torn. The case is still under investigation.

Wire wheel covers stolen from a Cadillac parked on Silver Springs February 17 were valued at $300. The owner also told police the hood ornament of the car was damaged to the tune of $25. The car was parked overnight and the damage and theft discovered in the morning.

Four wire wheel hubcaps valued at $150 were reported stolen from a Chevrolet parked in a Silver Springs parking lot February 15.

Wire wheel covers stolen from a Mercury parked in Northville Charley's parking lot February 18 were valued at

The owner told police the hubcaps went missing while the driver was inside the restaurant.

Three escapees from Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital were ap-prehended by township police near Winchester at around 11 p.m. Friday.

A passing motorist notified police patrol officers that two unknown persons wearing nightgowns were hiding in a snowbank on Winchester north of Six Mile. Police picked the two up on Farmcrest Drive east of Winchester. They informed police a third escapee from the hospital N Building was hiding at the rear of a Waterfall residence. All three were returned to hospital security per-

Former supervisor, wife unharmed in robbery

An armed thief bound former township supervisor Lawrence Wright in his home Wednesday morning and escaped with money and appliances, township police report.

"He was lucky," Detective Sergeant Philip Presnell said of the 74-year-old victim. Neither he nor his wife, recently released from the hospital, was injured in the incident.

Presnell said the robber apparently entered through a back window of the Fairway residence off Meadowbrook Road shortly after 4 a.m. Wednesday. Wright told police he was awakened by a noise in the house and sat up in bed. "The next thing he knew, there was a flashlight in his face, and the guy said he had a gun," Presnell said.

The intruder tied Wright and left him in bed, telling him he was taking his car but it would be left where it would be

"They cut the phone lines," Presnell said, and told Wright to wait a few minutes before getting himself untied. Police said Wright woke his wife, who had returned from the hospital the week before, had her cut the bonds and called police from a neighbor's home. Mrs. Wright slept through the incident, police reported.

The couple's car was later recovered near where the intruder told Wright he could look for it. Presnell said he is still investigating the crime and asked that persons who may have related informa-

State Fire Marshal warns of dangerous extinguishers

The State Fire Marshal has issued a warning that certain fire extinguishers being promoted for use in fundraising efforts are dangerous and illegal for sale in Michigan.

The extinguishers, which can prove toxic in use, have been sold through innocent Boy and Girl Scout troops in parts of Wayne and Oakland counties. The warning is intended to aid such troops in evaluating fundraising ideas as well as to protect the health and safety of the public at large.

Township fire chief Robert Toms said there is no evidence the extinguishers have been sold in the Northville area but said the nearby activity concerns

"We want to let people know about these things before they get involved with this," the chief said. "They produce a toxic chemical when discharged on a fire.

Toms said the fire marshal's warning and discussion among Wayne County fire chiefs disclosed the danger of the extinguishers, which are illegal for sale in Michigan under Public Act 207.

The 20-ounce extinguishers in an aerosol-type can are marketed by Collegedale Diversified Enterprises, Inc., a Tennessee firm. In its advertising the company also shows a 40-ounce fire extinguisher of the more familiar type that is legal for sale in all states.

The latter product is advertised as non-toxic and approved by several agencies. Advertising for the spray-can like product, called Save A Life Fire Extinguisher, carries neither claim.

Advertising flyers claim the product controls "all types of incipient fires." Toms said when the perchloroethelene and carbon dioxide mix is sprayed on a fire, it can form poisonous tetrachloride compounds.

"We just don't want any of our local kids to get mixed up with this stuff," he concluded. "It's dangerous and it's il-

Merit "Easy Switch"

National Smoker Study confirms MERIT taste sparks switch from higher tar brands.

The bottom line: taste.

That's the result of the latest wave of research with smokers who have switched from higher tar cigarettes to 'Enriched Flavor,' MERIT.

MERIT Earns Taste Trophy.

Nationwide survey reveals over 90% of MERIT smokers who switched from higher tar are glad they did. In fact, 94% don't even miss their former brands.

Further Evidence: 9 out of 10 former higher tar smokers report MERIT an easy switch, that they didn't give up taste in switching, and that MERIT is the best-tasting low tar they've ever tried.

Warning: The Surgeon General Has Determined That Cigarette Smoking Is Dangerous to Your Health.

MERIT By Wide Margin.

In addition, extensive unmarked pack tests confirm that MERIT delivers a winning combination of taste and low tar when compared with higher tar leaders.

Confirmed: The overwhelming majority of smokers reported MERIT taste equal to—or better than—leading higher tar brands.

Confirmed: When tar levels were revealed, 2 out of 3 chose the MERIT combination of low tar and good taste.

Year after year, in study after study, MERIT remains unbeaten. The proven taste alternative to higher tar smoking—is MERIT.

On recommendation of the architect, the board accepted the bid of Sheridan Construction at $7,990, which was the lowest of the 12 received.

to do the project without payment until completion as assurance of finalizing the work.

The architect recommended this method, Walters added, to insure completion, and because the firm was substantially lower than others in the bidding. Bids ranged from Sheridan's low to a high of $14,950.

In other action at the February 15 session, the council approved the police department's amendment request to the city traffic control orders to move stop sign: back a block to the intersections of eastbound and westbound Baseline at Carpenter.

The request came at the February 1 meeting of council as Cabbagetown residents appeared to ask for the stop sign at the corner and to seek a street light by the park at Baseline and Carpenter.

The city manager was to contact Detroit Edison to request the street light as a safety measure.

AFSCME representation. Mannisto, the only non-unionized library employee, said concessions granted by AFSCME last year led to an agreement whereby employees would receive 10 percent wage increases this June and that the city has pledged to follow through with those increases regardless of the representation.

She said there are two full-time workers and three permanent parttime employees. Four of the five have master's degrees, she related. The wage scale ranges from more than $9 per hour down to a minimum $5.96 per hour. The part-time (21 hours per week) employees pay half the cost of benefits commensurate with those paid full-time employees she said.

Our Opinions

Kudos due workers, Ford

It is fitting that Northville Valve Plant workers be the first to ratify the proposed agreement with Ford Motor Company. By voting heavily in favor of the agreement, UAW Local 896 members were the first to endorse what may prove to be a new era in labor-management rela-

By all accounts, that relationship always has been far above average at the small waterwheel plant, carrying less evidence of the prevalent workers-versusmanagement attitude of the industry. Now, it appears, both the national union and the company are prepared to tone down that conflict and seek a more cooperative future. Who better to show them the way, then, than a tight little band of workers who call themselves "family." Who better, indeed, than a local that tried to make concessions last tried to make concessions last year, then went so far as to propose becoming the valve plant rather than simply being employed by it?

It is precisely this atmosphere of cooperation and of laying the foundations for a new era that is missed by those analysts who would conclude that nothing has changed, that the company will soon padlock the valve plant as an obsolete facility, that the review is little more than a "ploy" to gain union compliance. Certainly the plant is old and small and, in the land of multi-national corporate giantism in which Ford dwells, unimportant. But the giving of these portant. But the spirit of these workers and the rare qualities of cooperation exhibited are not obsolete, they are the future of the auto industry.

We commend company officials who pledged to reevaluate the closing and to "look at the figures" in the light of changed economic factors as a result of the contract. It is important to believe it was an honest one, and not mere window dressing for a contract.

We believe those who say there is a substantial chance the plant could reopen, even if only for a few years. Those who claim otherwise, we think, do a real disservice both to Ford and to the men and women who have tried to save their jobs in many ways and who showed such foresight in offering to lower labor costs long before national talks began. To discount the possibility of reopening is not only to ignore gathering evidence, it is to actively undermine an effort to set laudably high goals in an atmosphere of What puzzles us about such naysayers is the apparent deter-mination to ignore the reality that Northville lies in Southeast Michigan, the most economically hard-pressed region in the entire nard-pressed region in the entire nation. Were Ford to pull out of Northville, the local impact would be apparent but not devastating. This is no Hamtramck, certainly. The more important consideration, however, is that our fate is tied to that of the region and the auto industry as a region and the auto industry as a whole. This will be the case for years to come and it is faulty reasoning to think one can ad-vocate the demise of even the smallest, oldest plant without paying a price.

The decision, in the end, is Ford's alone and, of course, will be the result of a close economic examination. Our hope, and that of this region, is that the spirit of the new agreement can forge economic conditions unforseeable when the closing decision was first made. If jobs could be saved here, it would speak well not only for Ford Motor Company, but for the auto industry as a whole and the new era of cooperation Local 896 members exemplify. Congratulations are part of a new commitment to president Norm Fultz, regardless save jobs when possible — we of the ultimate outcome.

Unfair reasoning

When the Wayne and Oakland County Intermediate School Boards sat down last Thursday to hear arguments for and against a proposed school boundary shift, reasons for the request appeared to be cleary Proponents wishing to transfer from Northville Schools to Novi Community Schools cited a need for a more logical school boundary, safer student transportation conditions and a more cohesive identity between school and community.

The request was given consideration by both Northville and Novi school boards and the resident's group was commended for working with both districts in trying to keep what could be a very ugly issue as fair as possible.

In other words, those seeking the request had left out the most obvious reason for desiring a boundary switch — better educational opportunity for their children. Resident spokesperson Gordon Parker acknowledged that on the advice of a school official the group would avoid any ficial, the group would avoid any mudslinging or namecalling and repeatedly said the residents "were not out to discredit the Northville Public Schools."

Quality of education is judgmental and in our opinion is not an appropriate reason for making a boundary change. It appears that all parties involved in this dispute have concurred on this point. That is, all parties except the two intermediate school

Though we support the intermediate school boards' decision to deny the transfer request, we can find little logic in their reason for doing so.

By opposing the transfer request on the basis that there was insufficient evidence to show it would improve the educational well-being of the children involved is, in our opinion, irresponsible and unfounded reasoning.

By using the "quality of education" argument as its principal reason in denying the request, the two boards appear to be advocating the mudslinging which transfer proponents tried to avoid.

Since the decision has been appealed, there is a good reason to believe that Northville schools will be facing some harsh criticism in the weeks ahead. It's unfortunate that the Wayne and Oakland County Intermediate School Boards did not pay Northyille the research of the school thville the same respect offered to them by those wishing to leave the district.

. This, that and everything'

While it may be a little late in saying, it is hoped the Northville boys' basketball team learned a valuable lesson Thursday.

The Mustangs got caught looking past Western Six Conference cellar-dweller Plymouth Canton, who shocked Northville, 47-43, on the Chiefs' home court, to what would have been a showdown against Livonia Churchill Tuesday to clinch a share of the title.

But the loss leaves the Mustangs hoping Walled Lake Western can upend league-leader Farmington Harrison Friday.

The Mustangs should have remembered the old cliche, "On any given day, anyone can beat anyone."

Northville coach Tim Lutes tried to stress a similar warning to his club before the game, but it may not have sunk in as well as he would have liked.

Where will this lesson benefit the Mustangs with so little left of the regular season?

Come district tournament time at Milford High School the second week of March.

The Mustangs will be battling against Walled Lake Central and Western, Milford and Milford Lakeland for the district crown. Northville won its first Class A district title last season against these same teams; so it better beware everyone will be gunning to knock them off.

It looks as if Vince Candela will be heading to the state wrestling tournament after all.

Candela, who gained a lot of confidence at the Temperance-Bedford district, placed third at Bedford to advance to the Ann Arbor Huron regional Saturday. His coach, Gary Emerson, believes Candela can place in the top four at Huron to advance

According to Emerson, Candela has defeated every heavyweight wrestler, but two, scheduled to participate Saturday at Huron. All of which points favorably for Candela to finish in the top four in his weight class.

However, should Candela not advance from the regional he should be proud of his accomplishments over the past two seasons in which he has won the Western Six Conference heavyweight title two consecutive years.

Speaking of Candela, he made a wise choice to attend Grand Valley State College for football after Central Michigan University was unable to offer any kind of scholarship.

The 6-foot-2, 252-pound defensive lineman may be a starter sooner Grand Valley. Unlike CMU, where it may have taken Candela longer to grab a starting berth if he played for the Chip

Also, Grand Valley has had a strong grid program the past couple of seasons. Last year, the Lakers won the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference title, and beat league rival Hillsdale, who qualified for the National Association for Intercollegiate Athletics Division III playoffs.

Also, Grand Valley lost a tough early-season game last-year to National Collegiate Athletic Association Division H semifinalist Northern Michigan.

Plaudits go to coach Debbie Heck and her Mustang gymnastics team. Northville has won six of eight dual meets and has two gymnasts qualified for regional competition.

This is Heck's first year at coaching the Mustangs, and she has continued the success the team has enjoyed the past couple

So far, both Paula Broderick and Amy Aaron have qualified for regionals in all four events, but Heck is feverishly working at trying to qualify the whole team.

Knowing Heck, who also is a gymnastics official, she probably will be able to accomplish the task.

Smith, Swallow, Shimp and Evans. Doesn't this sound like a typical set of names for a law firm?

Actually, Jeff Smith, Adam Swallow, Vince Shimp and Jeff Evans are not lawyers, but members of this year's Northville boys' swimming team.

Editorial opinions of The Record are developed and written by Editor Jean Day and staff members Kevin Wilson, Michele McElmurry and John Myers.

I'm writing this column under protest. Karen Rice, our new Walled Lake editor, told me I had to in order to halt the barrage of inquiries about the photographic portrait of our The Bowser, which I gave my wife as a Christmas present.

As you may recall, I revealed in my December 23 column that I was giving the portrait to my wife on Christmas and asked people not to say anything so it would be a surprise. I figured that would teach her for not reading my column every week.

Well, she didn't read my column, nobody told her and she was quite surprised when she unwrapped the gorgeous portrait of The Bowser on Christmas morning.

Actually, she was stunned. "Is that really The Bowser? No, that couldn't be The Bowser. The Bowser would never sit still long enough to have her picture taken."

In fact, she was so impressed with the portrait of The Bowser in all her leonine magnificence that she decided to honor one of my longstanding requests and have a photo portrait done of herself.

And that's where the trouble started.

Everything was fine until she brought back the proofs. "I don't find any I really like," she said after looking through them "They're just not me."

Tearing my magazine from my hands she insisted that I examine the proofs to see what I thought.

''You're right,'' I said, hoping to promote marital harmony by agreeing with her. "I guess The Bowser is just a lot more photogenic."

In retrospect, it was the wrong thing to say. She didn't take kindly to having me tell her the cat was a better model than she.

Still, I can take pride in the fact that I told it like it was. I can face "the man in the glass" when I shave in the morning...when I fix my supper at night...when I wash the dishes after supper at night...when I do the laundry...when I iron my shirts...when I make the bed...when I wash the floors....

To the Editor:

Northville Township taxpayers will soon receive a notice from the Township of Northville as mandated by the State of Michigan (Act 361 of 1976 as amended). This may reflect a change in their property assessment. These forms were just received at the Northville Township Hall the evening of February 22, 1982. The Northville Township Board strongly protests this last minute action and will vigorously oppose any steps taken to implement the equalized difference.

How can township taxpayers fight against the county tax officials' unfair application of the high multiplier of 2.84? The solution is found in the new truth-in-assessment law. (Michigan P.A. 213 of 1981). It specifically outlines the procedure for appeal to the state tax tribunal.

For one thing, the township super-visor initiates the process by filing a protest petition with the clerk of the tribunal. Next the tribunal holds a hearing to determine if the equalization factor is unfair, unjust, inequitable, or discriminatory.

Then the tribunal may order a further investigation, and if it decides valuations of the county were improperly equalized, it can correct the error.

That action would constitute the equalization of the county for the tax year. In other words, a direct appeal could be made to the state tax tribunal. without the necessity of playing silly games with county tax officials.

Apparently the county has already made an error by failing to provide taxpayers with proper notice regarding the multiplier. Clearly, the law (MCLA 211.34a) specifies that the county shall publish the tentative multipliers by the third Monday in February each year, which would have been Monday, February 15.

If the county mails forms raising our local assessed valuations (by 2.84) after February 15, this type of mailing is clearly in violation of the proper notice deadline for proposed tentative multipliers.

Moreover, the county tax officials published a chart indicating the multiplier factor to be 1.00 for Northville Township, in the Detroit Free Press on Monday, February 15. Not only was the chart buried in the ads in the paper, but which set of statistics are we as taxpayers supposed to accept?

Incidentally, I wrote the Wayne County Bureau of Taxation a personal letter weeks ago, requesting a chart in-dicating all of the tentative multipliers for the cities and townships in Wayne County. They have refused to reply, so we can only ponder at what they are attempting to hide.

If we receive a mailing this week indicating our assessed valuations have been raised by 2.84, it would not be received in time to allow the taxpayer ample opportunity to prepare his case for an appeal to the Board of Review. Property values are declining, but proving the point within a few days is impossible because the research task is overwhelming for the homeowner.

Whatever course we take, the obvious conclusion is that the property tax appeals process is unfair, complicated, and confusing. We need substantial revisions within the near future.

Blame post office, not mail carriers

To the Editor:

This is in response to a letter in last week's Northville Record from Harry German, a former (now retired) letter carrier at the Northville Post Office.

Mr. German complained about poor postal service. I have to agree with him. The service HAS deteriorated. It's not the same anymore at the Post Of-

I had the pleasure of working with Mr. German for several years. As a young, green carrier I learned a great deal from him about how to "carry the

Now that I am retired I can, like Harry, look back on 32 years of delivering mail in Northville. We are proud of the fact that we always tried to deliver the mail accurately even if, as Harry said, it had no address. And (it was) delivered on time. If we didn't, we were in trouble with our supervisor.

But in defense of postal workers and any faults some of them might have in the way they are doing their job, let's put most of the blame for poor service where it belongs: with the postal management.

Instead of service to the public the USPS wants to minimize service while forcing more production from the employees with the least expense. Combine this attitude with harassment of employees by supervisors and insufficient training for beginners, and the result can be poor service.

Despite these morale-deflating conditions I think postal workers are doing a

FISH organization needs clothing, help

If you, dear readers, have lived in Northville for some time, I hope you know about a terrific organization called FISH. I was an active member for many years until I became incapacitated by illness.

FISH arranges rides to places like doctors' offices, hospitals, etc. This is all arranged by volunteers. They try to belp anyone in Northville and Novi.

I don't need to remind you that many people in this area are in trouble trying to make ends meet (in) these days of unemployment, high cost of living (Edison and Consumers Power just announced rate increases). Many of our local citizens are existing on a fixed in-

Now FISH needs help from all of us. They have an urgent need for baby clothes, baby furniture, an electric stove and refrigerator. Please take a half-hour of your time and see whether you can help. You may call FISH at 349-4350 and tell them what you have to donate.

They are also low on funds to pay their phone bill and groceries for the needy.

Please try to donate articles in good, clean condition.

A volunteer who can type is needed, and maybe someone who can help straighten and sort clothing would be good enough to offer their services.

Please open your hearts to this worthy cause. You won't get a monetary reward, but a sense of being a worthy human being.

Board gets Salem request on assessing

A letter from Salem Township clerk Nancy M. Geiger requesting that the Northville School District in the future "levy all millage on the County Equalized Value and not on the State Equalized Value should the state add value to the county because of the county's use of these methods and procedures' was reviewed by the school board Monday. Superintendent Lawrence Nichols told board members this was the only information he has received regarding this year's assessment practices and said he does not know if the board has a right to use other figures.

The district will investigate the matter. Treasurer Chris Johnson suggested the letter be referred to the finance committee for study.

A nostalgic remembering

Northville again remembered today at the Northville reunion at ivi Sarasota — Ed Barnes says 98 of us. Lots of reminiscing — "Oh, my gosh, I hadn't thought of that for years," "You've got to be kidding, has it really been that long?" "Don't read The REcord anymore 'cause the only ones I know are in the obit column."

Someone said, "You ought tobe writing those memories down." In bed tonight, couldn't sleep for thinking of that; so arose to put pen on paper. Maybe someone write something. Here goes:

Thump ... zzzpppppmmm ... BOOM! A rocket bomb announcing evening activities at a spectacle called the Wayne County Fair. To young eyes, something special, arabesque, about night lights at a fair. Bill Forney says the guy has got to clean up the girlie show or close up. Sheriff Wilcox' crew putting on a crime-stopping act with uniformed deputies in hi-speed cars, sirens, badmen, and everything, on the track before the grandstand. (Was he reelected?) Howard Fuller's prize chickens tucking head under wing for the Glass-blowing on stage at the high school and a guy who pumped Bob's arm and got milk from his other elbow. Warner Neal of the prize-winning debate team being called on for one thing or another before the student body. Who didn't guess he'd go far. And how he Parades. Back then the America flag somehow meant more, maybe because it was displayed just on certain occasions. Kids given flags at parades, putting colored crepe paper strips on bike wheels ... almost always a Civil War veteran in an honor care. Who was the last? Lived down on Cady near Church Street.

The stately old Lapham home which became city hall (Should never have been torn down). The way a sidewalk would veer around an old tree. The old opera house ... did someone say it's been restored? Hope so. (But they didn't have real operas ... plays, maybe, and musicals and Chautauquas.)

The new grade school ... what a teapot tempest ... its simple design now accepted as classic. New macadam streets with curbs and elegant cast-iron lampposts. The new Ford factory with water wheel. (Can't be closed ... just opened!) The new parkway touching Cass Benton Park on the way to Plymouth. (Careful planning by landscapist T. Glenn Phillips has left some of the most beautiful vistas this old vagabond has seen.)

The original soap box cars with tin can headlights and steering gear made of clothes line and broomstick. Walking across the dam. Sucking on pieces of ice from the back of Ely's truck (cards in the window for 10, 25, 50 pounds). Tree houses and caves. Cutting whistles from a slippery elm branch... slingshots too.

One summer we built a dam on the Rouge crick and had a dandy swimming pool into which we jumped, dived, and what-have-you, Tarzan-style from wild grapevines. Those were the days, my friend, we thought would never end.

Manufacturer's Bank marks opening of new branch

RIBBON-CUTTING CEREMONIES for the new branch office of Manufacturers Bank of Novi at Ten Mile and Meadowbrook Road were held recently despite frigid weather which forced participants to re-

Following the ceremonies, Wood presented the "ribbon" of 50 $1 bills to Gladden for the use of the Novi Historical Society. The bank had pledged to donate $1 to the historical society for each new account opened during the two-week grand opening celebration.

The new office, the bank's first branch, is located at 41720 West Ten Mile in Novi. Manufacturers Bank of Novi was established in October 1979.

FOOTE GRAVELY TRACTOR of Novi has announced the addition of the Kubota diesel tractor line to their Grand River Avenue dealer-

The Kubota tractor is a four-wheel drive diesel tractor that ranges from 12 to 80 horsepower, according to Foote Gravely Owner Charles Foote.

The Kubota dealership in this area formerly was held by Sinelli Tractor.

Foote Gravely Tractor is involved in the sale and repair of lawn and garden equipment, including string-line trimmers, push rotary mowers and lawn and garden tractors. It features the Gravely line of lawn and garden tractors. Gravely is the oldest tractor manufacturer in the United States.

Foote Gravely Tractor is located at 46401 Grand River in Novi.

GERALD A. GIALANELLA has been promoted to president of Pyles Industries in Wixom. The appointment was announced by Roland Gerber, vice president of operations of Kent-Moore Corpora-

Gialanella is a 17-year veteran with Pyles Industries and Kent-Moore, having joined the company in 1965. He has held various sales, engineering and management positions in his career with Pyles, including product engineer, technical service manager and chief

He has served as general manager since 1979. Gialanella received his BSE degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Michigan-Dearborn in 1964. He and his wife and their six children reside in Highland.

JEFF SHAFER was recently appointed as the new manager of the D & C Variety store at 200 North Lafayette, South Lyon. He was previously the assistant manager at the Howell D & C store and has been employed by the chain for a total of four years. Shaffer, who currently resides in Howell, attends Lansing Community College where he is enrolled in the marketing curriculum on a part-time basis. He replaces former South Lyon manager, Ken Ely, who has been assigned to manage the Milan D & C store.

MARTHA WAINIO of the Highland Outdoor Center, 1135 South Milford Road in Highland, is congratulated by former grand prix race driver and Wheel Horse Products Inc. spokesman Jackie Stewart at a recent Las Vegas dealer conference.

Wainio was awarded the trip to Las Vegas based on her sales of Wheel Horse lawn and garden tractors. The top 265 dealers in the country were brought to the conference, which featured a trade show, numerous seminars and a chance to meet other people in the industry.

NEW APPOINTMENTS in the program department of WJBK TV-2 are announced by David Bieber, director of broadcasting. Stuart Pollock, son of Stuart and Ruth Pollock of Northville, has been appointed executive producer and will be responsible for all TV-2 program production.

Dick Dietrich of Northville has been appointed senior producer/director. Dietrich has won several local Emmy awards for his production of the local Jerry Lewis MDA telethons and will be responsible for special program production.

Pollock, a Farmington Hills resident, has produced and directed "Kidsworld MAgazine," "Morning Magazine" and other TV-2-originated programs. Before joining TV-2, he was producer/director at WKYC-TV in Cleveland and KDKA-TV in Pittsburgh.

Walled Lake firm expands by using co-op program

Not everyone can go to college. Not everyone should.

The opportunity for success, however, is not denied students who do not go on to college, especially those who are part of the Walled Lake School District's Co-op Program.

Trade and industrial co-ops have played an important role in the success of Delwal Corporation, a participating employer. The Walled Lake company, which specializes in metal stamping and assemblies for tractors, trucks and automobiles, began in 1974 with two machines and one co-op student -Chris Reimer.

After seven years, and 29 co-ops, the company has expanded many times and grown into a multi-million dollar corporation. Of the 25 plant employees, 12 are former co-ops, including Reimer, who now is in charge of shipping and

Other former co-ops in supervisory positions at Delwal are Dave Aussiker (welding and assembly), Mark Krzyskowski (transportation), Keith Tillinger (quality control) and Mike Krzyskowski (overali plant opera-

Delwal recently was named the number one company for quality from among 2,000 suppliers to Ford Tractor; an award that Delwal President William Walker attributes to Tillinger.

Asked what high school training helped most on the job, Tillinger replied, "Besides the metal working class, I use math every day — especially trigonometry and algebra for laying out jobs.'

Tillinger also said he was surprised at how much he needed English for report writing and phone work.

Tillinger said he has stayed at Delwal because he likes the management's way of doing things, including fair treatment and advanced opportunity.

"They also taught me how to handle he added. Tillinger now is in charge of the current crop of Walled Lake co-op students, John Arnold and Roland Aubry.

Walker, a Northville High School graduate where he starred in football, has invested both financially and emotionally in the co-ops. He has paid for students to attend various technical schools to enhance their skills. "We try to operate as a family, helping each other, even with personal needs," said the Delwal president.

Co-ops are given raises as they are earned, he added, so that by graduation, if they stay, they are almost at starting full-time wages.

"I've found the stereotype teenager to be the exception, not the rule," said Walker. "For those who don't have a

Walker said the employees participate in the company's success and are able to see the profits and losses.

Wayne A. Bell, trade and industrial coordinator for the Walled Lake School's co-op program, said Walled Lake's co-op students have been ex-tremely fortunate in having a employer like Walker in the community.

"He has shown the true spirit necessary for a co-op program to provide meaningful learning experiences for its young people," Bell said, adding that Walker also has served on the school's Trade and Industry Advisory Committee.

Walker, who started his business in his garage in 1973, now owns two buildings, but will move soon into the renovated Novi Ice Arena on Eleven Mile to house his entire operation under one roof. He plans to continue his business partnership with the Walled Lake School's co-op program.

Sluggish business conditions in the first half of 1982 will be followed by second-half recovery and business growth which will make 1983 the best year yet for the American economy, a University of Michigan economist predicts.

J. Philip Wernette, U-M professor emeritus of business administration, expects improvement in a number of economic measures in 1982, as compared to 1981 figures: real gross national product (GNP) up one percent, GNP price index up 8 percent, gross national expenditure (GNE) up 10 percent, employment up one percent, corporate profits up 3 percent

His predictions are detailed in "1982, A Pivotal a monograph published by the Ohio Citizens Bank of Toledo.

Professor Wernette examines five factors which affect GNE, the total outlays of goods and services by consumers, government and business

 "The total stock of money (mostly in the form of deposits in banks) is influenced by Federal Reserve policy, which is expected to be slighly expan-· "Fiscal policy of the federal government will be moderately expansionary, thus affecting governmental and private purchases.

· "Consumer purchases of durable goods, nondurables and services amount to 63 percent of GNE. Surveys of consumer sentiment and buying intentions have displayed an irregular trend, which will be offset by people's rising disposable income, leading to somewhat increasing purchasing.

 Surveys indicate a modest rate in business outlays on capital times.

• "A steady and continuing growth of private li-quid asset holdings facilitates and foreshadows an increase in GNE

These strands of influence," Wernette concludes, "suggest a small growth of the American economy in 1982, characterized by sluggish business in the first and second quarters, followed by recovery in the second half, fueled by lower inflation, revived demand for cars and houses, higher after-tax incomes and accelerated capital recovery

The factors that will propel business growth in the second half of 1982, he adds, "may be expected to continue in the following year, making 1983 the best year yet for the American economy.

Wernette dismisses the "gloom and doom" books of recent years which have been prophesying a great depression.

"These books," he explains, "offer grim forecasts based on mere assertions but without any recognition that the Great Depression was deepened by the awesome collapse of the national money stock between 1929 and 1933. Such a collapse will not be permitted to occur in the future, hence there is no deep depression in sight."

Wernette points out that the standard of living of the American people (average real family income) is 10 times as high now as it was in George Washington's time because productivity (output per manhour) is now 20 times greater while the average work year (in hours) has declined 50 percent.

The U-M economist notes that long upward trend of rising American productivity stopped increasing and actually declined in 1978-80, "thereby undermining our well-being and contributing to inflation via rising unit labor cost of production as wage rates continued to advance."

Wayne County EDC offers business loans

"People automatically assume that because of budget cuts in Washington there are no more Small Business Administration (SBA) loans or Industrial Revenue Bonds available," reports Gary Bingamen, chairman of the board of directors of the Economic Development Corporation of Wayne

"This simply is not so," he states, noting that Wayne County businesses in financial need are no longer taking full advantage of available federal and state funding assistance. 'Market conditions have made it more difficult, but the Wayne County EDC is continuing to package and provide SBA loans and industrial revenue bonds for businesses across the county, he says.

Any business seeking information or assistance from the Wayne County EDC may call 336-3306.

WEDNESDAY?

We've got a job for you!

Once a week, on Wednesdays, our community newspapers are home delivered by young people just like you (minimum age eleven years old). They're earning money every week and are eligible for our contests for prizes and vacations. More people are reading our newspaper in Pinckney, Howell, Hamburg, Hartland, Brighton, Milford and Highland and therefore, we need additional carriers. So if you live around here and aren't doing anything on Wednesday...

Call our Circulation Department TODAY and leave your name, ad-

Some professional tips on your tax return

future of your spouse, children or heirs. Gift-giving also can be a way to transfer wealth and reduce taxes. Whatever your reason, whether you plan to give regularly or occasionally, you should know the tax regulations governing gifts.

Although 1981 rules are unchanged by the new tax law, changes will occur in 1982. Familiarize yourself with the present standards and next year's changes to take advantage of gift exemptions.

The current limit for annual tax-free gifts is $3,000. In addition, each person has an exemption for $175,625 which can be used over the course of his or her life to offset estate taxes.

For example, if you give your child $5,000 in 1981, only $3,000 of the gift falls under the annual gift tax exclusion. The other $2,000 can be deducted from your lifetime exemption which then leaves you $173,625 to distribute, plus your annual gifts.

Gifts above these amounts are taxed at the gift rate which can run as high as 70 percent. As of January 1, 1982, this rate is 50 percent.

Remember, the gift exclusion is figured per individual. If you and your spouse agree, you can double your gift to any recipient. For 1981, your allowed exclusion actually totals $6,000 per reci-

How much impact does the exclusion for a gift really have? A lot depends on your income and tax bracket. If you and your spouse have one child and a combined income of $50,000, without any deductions, you are in the 49 percent tax bracket. If you save $6,000 for your child (the maximum gift allowable) and invest this at 12 percent interest compounded annually, you will have $4,800 in interest, or approximately $10,800 at the end of 10 years, after

If the point of your giving is not to reduce your taxes, but to provide for your children or heirs, you also benefit by giving an annual gift. The gift tax is made not on the property, but on the transfer of the property, whether it be cash, stocks or bonds.

While the worth of the gift need not be reported for income tax purposes, any income produced from the gift is taxable. Even so, because of the recipient's low income, he or she will not have a high tax bill to pay. Additionally, no taxes will apply until interest income exceeds $1,000.

Depending on the size of the gift and the accumulation of the fund, you may or may not benefit by opening an account in trust for the recipient. There are different kinds of trusts and varying degrees of control which the giver exerts over the fund. With most trust funds, the recipient can gain control at age 18 or 21.

To qualify for the exemption neither the principal not the interest should be used to pay for ordinary parental obligations such as food, clothing or shelter. The money can be used, however, to advance the education of the child. Under the new law, gifts for school or health care do not decrease either the annual gift limit or the lifetime limit.

Most trusts accept stocks, bonds, securities and life insurance annuities as contributions. In some states, however, acceptable contributions

In addition, the gift or transfer of stock is not taxable until the stock is sold. Dividends, except for the $100 tax exclusion, are taxable; but, once again, the recipient will probably pay a lower tax on the income than the giver. When

Annual gifts can provide for the the stock is sold, the capital gains are ture of your spouse, children or heirs. the stock is sold within two years after being given to the trust. In such cases, the donor's rate applies.

In 1982, gift tax allowances will increase. After January, the annual gift tax exemption applies to gifts of up to $10,000 per spouse, while the lifetime allowance increases to $250,000. That amount continues to increase until it reaches $600,000 in 1987.

When giving gifts, keep in mind not only your estate and tax planning, but also your present finances. Gifts should not leave you financially strapped.

Economic

Recovery Act

The Economic Recovery Act of 1981 allows taxpayers whose income does not increase to be taxed in a lower bracket for the next few years. This helps to keep up with inflation and bracket creep.
The tax tables for 1981 will be changed slightly to accommodate the tax cut from October to the end of 1981. However, if you use Schedule X, Y or Z to calculate your tax, you will be required to subtract 1.25 percent from your final tax computation.

Tax Schedules X, Y and Z are used if your taxable income is over $50,000. There are other instances when you need these schedules, such as the use of income averaging. However, it is the IRS's interpretation that the 1.25 percent reduction in rates does not apply to the maximum tax calculated.

The tax cut for individuals works through marginal tax brackets. The marginal rate is what you pay on the top dollar of income. But if you are in the 40 percent bracket, this does not mean all income is taxed at 40 percent. Only the last few income dollars are actually taxed at that rate.

Your total income is taxed at several brackets. The first $2,300 of taxable income (after exemptions) for a single taxpayer is in the zero bracket — no tax at all. Even if you make millions, your first $2,300 is untaxed.

Taxable income over $2,300 is taxed at 14 percent until it reaches $3,400 when the rate climbs to 16 percent. At $4,400 it rises to 18 percent and keeps on at that rate until taxable income passes $6,500. One begins paying over 39 percent when taxable income reaches

$28.800. All the fuss about brackets is because the highest tax rate applies to the last income dollar. That's why the marriage penalty has been so devastating: a second income is added to the first income and taxed at that rate. The marriage penalty reduction will ease that in

However, the marginal rate applies to the last deduction or adjustment as well, and that's where the most important action is for a person preparing a tax return. If you are in the 40 percent bracket, for example, a $10 deduction can put $4 into your pocket. Fifty dollars of income that can be reclassified from taxable to nontaxable is worth $20 in cash. A $1,000 exemption translates to $400 in cash.

Here's how the brackets will change. irrently, the 15 brack filers range from 14 percent to 70 per-cent. In 1982, brackets will begin at 12 percent and go to 50 percent. There will be 12 brackets.

Following is the breakdown for 1982. Check taxable income for this year and see where that figure fits next year if your salary remains the same.

The brackets for married filing joint returns work this way:

Up to $4,300 you pay no tax Up to $5,500 you pay 12 percent

• Up to $7,600 you pay 14 percent • Up to $11,900 you pay 16 percent

 Up to $16,000 you pay 19 percent Up to $20,200 you pay 22 percent

 Up to $24,600 you pay 25 percent Up to $29,900 you pay 29 percent

 Up to $35,200 you pay 33 percent Up to $45,800 you pay 39 percent

 Up to $60,000 you pay 44 percent Up to $85,600 you pay 49 percent After that you're in the 50 percent bracket. Previously, there was not a 50 percent bracket. The percentage was 49 and then 54. In 1983 and 1984 the brackets drop down a little more with the biggest breaks going into the higher income brackets. For instance, a couple with a taxable income of $60,000 is in the 49 percent bracket, and in 1983 they will be in the 40 percent bracket. In 1984, they will be in the 38 percent bracket, if their income does not change.

Help for married couples

The disparity requiring a married couple to pay more tax than two single people will be eased, but not in time to affect 1981 federal income tax returns. Therefore, it benefits married people to search for every available tax break on federal returns.

Since tax rates tend to be highest for married people filing separate returns, it is usually not advisable to file in that manner. However, there are exceptions, such as when one of you has high medical or dental expenses. Then, you should compute your taxes both jointly and separately, and compare results.

It's possible that by filing separately, one of you may exceed the three percent limitation necessary for medical expense deductions, which you would not reach with combined incomes.

Don't forget to take work-related deductions, too. If one of you looked for a job in 1981 and paid employment agency fees, the cost of printing resumes, or traveled to and from job interviews, these expenses may be deductible, even if you didn't find a job.

If one of you was unemployed during 1981 and received unemployment benefits pushing your income past the-$25,000 mark, part of those benefits are subject to income tax. If you file separately, all unemployment compensation is subject to tax.

If your income increased significantly in 1981 because one of you went back to work, or you both received large raises, you may be able to cut your tax bill by averaging your income. This lets you total the current year's income with that of the previous four years, average it, and possibly avoid the much higher tax rate.

To qualify for income averaging, add up your taxable income for the previous four years. Take 30 percent of that and add $3,000. If your 1981 taxable income exceeds that amount, you may qualify for income averaging.

The credit for child care expenses may provide tax relief if both you and spouse work. You can percent of expenses for a tax credit of up to $400 for one child and $800 for two or more children. A credit reduces your tax rather than your income, and is worth more than a deduction.

For 1982, thanks to the new tax law, this credit will increase at a graduated rate according to your family income. Here's how it will work: If your income is $10,000 or less, claim a credit for one child up to a maximum of $720 or 30 percent of the first $2,400. For each additional $2,000 in adjusted gross income, the tax credit will decrease by one percentage point, but not below 20 per-

You can have as much as $200 in qualifying interest and dividends on your 1981 income ($400 on a joint return) without paying federal income tax on it. Beginning with your 1982 return, however, that amount will be cut in half and apply only to dividends. These inclusions are now on a return basis and no longer limited to each spouse's dividend income.

Until April 15 or your filing date, you can contribute to an Individual Retirement Account to shelter up to $1,500 in income ($1,750 with a non-working spouse). If you both qualify as employed individuals, deduct up to $3,000.

These benefits will increase with your 1982 tax return. Each working spouse can contribute up to the lesser of $2,000 or 100 percent of income to an IRA, and then can qualify even if they are covered by an employer plan.

Retirement puts her back in the classroom

By MICHELE McELMURRY

The daughter of an Indiana coal miner; Hannah Fritz had little choice when she dropped out of school after the ninth grade. In 1928, jobs in the mines were scarce and her father, seeking some way to make a living, packed up his family and moved to Detroit.

To help make ends meet, Hannah quit school and took a job in the kitchen at Highland Park Hospital. She was 16. Though she hoped to someday complete her schooling, it would be almost 50 years before she would have the opportunity to take up where she left off.

In 1975, at the age of 64, Hannah finished high school by receiving her GED certificate. Her decision to go back to school was made in part by her desire to see her daughter finish her education. Of Hannah's seven children, only one had not finished school. In the summer of '75, after three months of preparation, mother and daughter passed their high school equivalency tests. For Hannah Fritz, however, finishing high school was just the beginning.

Today, only two months shy of her

70th birthday, she is back in the classroom — and well on her way towards earning an associate's degree at Schoolcraft College.

For this determined, vivacious 69year-old, being a full-time college student has been much more than a learning experience. Going back to school has added a new dimension to her already fulfilled life and has provided her with a much welcome challenge in her retirement.

"Who wants to sit home and worry," says the 20-year resident of 46470 Ten

To occupy her time after retiring two years ago, Hannah took up painting at Allen Terrace under the instruction of Canton artist Sandy Daly.

After working exclusively in acrylics at Allen Terrace, Hannah enrolled in Schoolcraft's continuing education program in order to try her hand at other art forms.

Having exhausted most of the art offerings in the continuing education program, she applied for admission as a full-time student last year.

Hannah explains that Schoolcraft's tuition-waiver for persons 60 and older prompted her to enroll as a full-time

"When I found out the classes were free," she notes, "I just took it from there."

Since 1980, Schoolcraft College has been providing tuition-frée credit classes to senior adults. "Our main thrust in to integrate seniors so they're involved in the regular classroom situation," Community Education Assistant Dean

Elizabeth Andrews explained. Andrews, who also directs the senior adult program, said there has been an increase in senior citizen enrollment

I'm still going to enjoy the classes."

While Hannah may pose a sharp contrast to her 18-year-old classmates, she has settled in quite comfortably in her since the board of trustees' approval of the tuition-waiver two years ago.

However, Hannah's quest to earn a degree has set her apart from many of the students in her age group.

Hannah claims she was prompted to pursue a degree by Art Instructor Lincoln Lao, who has taught most of her art classes.

"Lao really kept after me," she reflects. "I kept saying 'no, you don't know how I'll be at written tests."

Hannah admits to being apprehensive about her regular curriculum courses - such as English, history and social science - which are required for her degree.

Afterall, it's been more than 50 years since she's had to prepare for a vocabulary test or debate a current political issue.

"I'm not sure at my age how good my memory is," she says. "Sometimes I get up at 5 (a.m.) to study — it soaks in a little better then."

Despite her misgivings, Hannah's had few problems thus far in any of her courses. In fact, last semester she made the dean's list earning a 3.8 grade point average while carrying 12 credits. However, she explains that though her grades are important, she is more interested in how the course will improve her understanding of a particular subject rather than her academic ranking.

"When I went into this," she notes, "I said that even if I don't get good marks

At the end of the current semester, Hannah will have 27 credits towards her 60-credit associate's degree. She is not quite sure when she will complete all her requirements, but anticipates her graduation to be sometime next role as a college student.

She explains that being the most senior student in Basic English has not bothered her because she's worked with younger people all her life. In addition to raising seven children, Hannah also worked as a part-time waitress at the former Old Mill Restaurant. "I was the only older person in there," she

Due to Schoolcraft's increasing

The Waterman Campus Center offers Hannah the perfect place to study senior citizen enrollment, however, Hannah isn't always the only senior citizen in class.

"In my drawing class there are two fellas who are retirees," she observes, "but they're not as old as I am."

Carrying a tote bag filled with art supplies and books, Hannah usually comes prepared to spend most of her day on campus. When not in class, she usually can be found in the library, improving her English skills at the Learning Resource Center or studying in her favorite spot by the window in Waterman Campus Center. In the classroom, Hannah's vitality towards her work has been refreshing to her professors and has posed a challenge for her much younger classmates.

"What's exciting about her is I can give her an assignment and she'll do more than she's expected to do," art instructor Lincoln Lao explains. "I ask her to do one assignment and she turns in three."

Hannah's philosophy is that "you're never too old." As a 69-year-old college freshman, she has shown that age is not a restriction in pursuing life to the

In addition to being a college co-ed, Hannah's a dedicated gardner, enjoys square dancing and as a passion for romance novels.

Lao attributes Hannah's age and experience to her refreshing outlook on life and her work. "You can have a very youthful person who is 70 and a very old person who is 17." he commented.

"Hannah's the most youthful person I Unlike the traditional college student who feels pressured to do well in the hopes of landing a job, Hannah is thoroughly enjoying herself - taking pleasure in her college days.

"People go through college to get a degree in order to make a living," Lao remarked. "Hannah goes through to make a life."

Persons 60 years and old are qualified to take credit classes at Schoolcraft College without paying for tuition. A senior adult tuition waiver verification card must be completed prior to enrolling. This can be accomplished in the Office of Instruction, Admissions or the Registrar's Office on campus. Persons need register only once.

Their identification card enables them to take traditional and continuing education classes tuition-free. However, they must pay any required

Proof of age is required of persons requesting waiver status. The college accepts a birth certificate, driver's licence of Michigan Personal Inden-. tification Card.

SMOKING DANGEROUS FOR TEETH

Q. My Dad doesn't want me to smoke, he even told me it's bad for my teeth. Is this true?

A. Yes! Smoking discolors your teeth with yellow and brown stains. After an extraction or oral surgery smoking can de-lay healing. Your, taste buds are affected by tobacco smoke and your sense of taste diminished. Smokers are more prone to gum disease and this can lead to tooth loss. If that's not enough the American Dental Assoc. tells us smokers have a four times greater risk of oral cancer. In this instance, father definitely knows best.

In Our Town

Waterford Bend Questers formed

By JEAN DAY

With streets of well-kept Victorian homes in our town, it's not surprising to find a lively interest in antiques among women of the community. The formation of the Waterford Bend Chapter of Questers, the national antiques study society, here brings the number of local chapters to six.

The new group has organized under the name Waterford Bend Chapter with its 15 members taking the name from the area south of Northville along the parkway, reports Sue Holstein, area Quester coordinator who helped start the group, assisted by Jeanne Langtry, state membership chairman and a former Northville resident who now lives in New Baltimore.

The new Questers plan to meet in the daytime on the second Tuesday of the month. Shirley Sharp is president; Helen Hopping, vice president; Ruth Jacobs, second vice president; Frances Mattison, treasurer; Claudene Kinnaird, secretary; Marian Roller, historian; and Janet Ellison, publicity chairman.

Waterford Bend joins Baseline, Silver Springs, No. VI Station, Bell Foundry and Mill Race chapters. Baseline, the oldest, was organized in 1965. Bell Foundry and Mill Race were formed the end of 1981 as a result of Sue Holstein's conviction that there were many women interested in studying antiques in the community.

Her business is decorating with stencils

Former Northville resident Rose Marie Smith, who was president of the Baseline chapter of Questers in 1976-77, was in town last week telling about her new venture, "Decorating with Stencils." She and Carolyn Shea, a fellow resident of Richmond, located southwest of Port Huron, are combining forces in the business and have amassed a collection of stencils to decorate walls, floors and carpeting.

After doing walls of the home the Smiths bought in Rich: mond, a three-story stone house called "The Castle" by local residents, Mrs. Smith found there is a great deal of interest in the art. She and her partner have stenciled a decorator studio in Grosse Pointe and now have a commission to decorate a mansion on Boston Boulevard built in 1915 by the Kresge family. It has been bought by a couple after being owned for many years by Sacred Heart Church, she says.

The Smiths' daughter Valerie is being married April 17 in St. Paul's Cathedral in Detroit and plans to wear a wedding gown of 1865, her mother reports. Valerie began her col-lection of vintage gowns while living here and was instrumental in getting the Northville Historical Society collection of clothing started.

Gloria Teeter's tapped to judge weaving

Northville resident Gloria Teeter, owner of Traditional Handcrafts in Mary Alexander Court, has been asked to jury pieces submitted for the annual exhibit and sale of the Michigan Weavers' Guild being held March 4-7 at Somerset. Mall in Troy during mall hours.

She also will give spinning demonstrations throughout the opening day of the exhibit. "It's an excellent show of fine. quality work and very high standards," she says, inviting residents to view the work of more than 100 weavers. Exhibits will feature all facets of fiber art, including techniques. of weaving, spinning, basketry, sculptural crochet, knotting, felting and bobbin lace. Articles, she notes, will range from fine art objects to functional accessories. There is no admissi sion charge.

Gloria Teeter is a member of the guild of women and men from the greater Metropolitan area, Ontario and as farout-state as Grand Rapids. It is a non-profit group formed to promote excellence in handweaving and related fiber technical

Canton shocks Northville cagers

By JOHN MYERS

NOT ONE OF THOSE "UP TO" SALES
THIS MEANS 50% TO 70% OFF WHILE SUPPLIES LAST Once in control of its own destiny, the Northville boys' basketball team now is for looking for a SKI & TENNIS BARN Heading into Thursday's night encounter with Western Six Conference cellar-dweller Plymouth Canton, the Mustangs were two games away from clinching at least a share of a second consecutive league championship.

But things changed in a hurry after Canton shocked the Mustangs, 47-43, on the Chiefs' home court. It was Canton's first W-Six win of the season in seven tries, while Northville dipped to 4-3 in league play and 10-7 overall. Canton's overall

"It was a very disappointing week," Mustang coach Tim Lutes said.

League foe Livonia Churchill, who played the Mustangs Tuesday night, gave Northville some help by upending Walled Lake Western, 51-33, Friday night to create a possible three-way tie for the championship.

Conference leader Farmington Harrison battles Western on the Warriors' home court Friday (February 26) in the final league game of the season. Northville is on the road at Waterford Township at 6 p.m. Friday.

Providing Northville won its game Tuesday and Western can pull off the miracle against Harrison Friday, all three schools would tie for the league title with 5-3 records. Churchill could tie for the title if it beats Northville and Canton, while Western Currently, Harrison sits atop the conference with a 5-2 record. Both Western and Northville hold 4-3 marks, while Churchill is 3-3 and Canton is 1-6.

But, the Mustangs let themselves get caught into believing Canton would be easy pickings for a win.

"There was no reason to get caught. Too many people said Canton would be an easy win and they (players) tended to believe that," Lutes assessed.

'I felt like a voice in the wilderness. I was the only one who said Canton was going to be tough, especially after they had won Tuesday against Redford Union," he added.

The key play in the contest came with 16 seconds left when Canton's Mike Scarpello went to the foul line with the Chiefs leading, 44-43. He nailed the first free throw of a one-and-one situation, but missed the second. However, Matt Thomas tipped in the misfire to give Canton the 47-43 victory.

Missed free throw opportunities down the stretch hurt both teams, more so Canton than Northville. Again, with Canton holding a slim 44-43 lead, the Chiefs' Tom Harris, the game's high scorer with 16 points, went to the foul line with 34 seconds left, but he missed the front end of a one-and-one situation.

Northville hauled down the rebound, but Tim McLaughlin drove the length of the court and missed a lay up attempt which set up Canton's game-

Harris came out smoking in the first period against Northville by connecting for 12 of Canton's 17 first-quarter points, while the Mustangs could

"I believe Tom Harris had his best game ever," Lutes praised.

The Mustangs outscored Canton, 9-5, in the second stanza, but missed free throws hurt their chances at taking a lead before intermission.

"That was a key to show we weren't mentally ready," Lutes observed.

Coming out strong in third period, Northville forged its first lead of the game, 25-24, at the 5:59 mark. After Thomas put Canton on top, 26-25, a Steve Schrader basket put Northville back in the lead for the rest of the third quarter.

The Mustangs took a 34-30 lead into the final quarter where things slowly started to go wrong. The Mustangs led throughout most of the final quarter and had taken a 39-34 lead on a Carl Lang bucket with 4:28 to play.

But, Canton netted nine straight points to take a

"Maybe the players have forgotten, I have forgotten and the public has forgotten we are a different ball team away from home," explained Lutes, whose team has not won a road contest since December 8 against Farmington.

'We just are not as mentally tough on the raod as. we are at home," he added.

Lang was the top Northville scorer with 15 points, while Steve Handley and McLaughlin each netted 8 points. John Foley had six, Schrader, four and Tim Wagner, two.

Lang, Handley and Foley played well, according to Lutes, but he added, "We can't win with three of our top eight players playing well."

Canton beats JV, again

NHS gymnasts gear toward regional meet

With only three meets remaining, Northville girls' gymnastics team has changed its emphasis from winning to qualifying as a team for regionals.

Northville coach Debbie Heck said the squad is just two scores shy of qualifying as team. A team needs to score 112 points or better four times during a season to qualify everyone for regional competition. All qualifying marks must be completed before the end of February.

"It's better for a team (to all participate in the regional)," Heck said.

The first-year coach explained the team also will try to win, but qualifying as team for regionals is more important. "It's an opportunity for the whole team, even the low-level gymnasts, to go," Heck added.

The Mustangs accomplished the goal of 112 or more points twice last week, against Ypsilanti in a 122.25-113.65 loss and against Hartland in a 118.3-117.55 triumph.

Northville is at home twice this week against Dearborn at 7 p.m. tonight and against Walled Lake Western at 7 p.m. Thursday. The Mustangs travel to North 'armington Tuesday for their final dual meet of the season.

"Hopefully, we'll be able to do it. Both are home meets which is a plus in our favor," Heck assessed.

The Hartland victory Saturday snapped a modest two-meet losing streak for Northville. The Mustangs' overall mark stands at 6-2.

Paula Broderick and Amy Aaron, both of whom have qualified for regionals in all four events, paced the way against Hartland.

Broderick posted scores of 8.45 in the vault, 8.5 in uneven bars, 8.15 in balance beam and 8.55 in the floor exercise. Aaron scored an 8.25 in the vault, 7.2 in the uneven bars, 7.6 in the balance beam and 7.85 in the floor exercise.

Both Wendy Wobermin and Tish Johnson competed in all four events. Wobermin recorded scores of 6.2 in the vault, 6.75 in the uneven bars, 6.8 in the balance beam and 7.5 in the floor exercise. Johnson posted marks of 6.4 in the vault, 4.85 in the uneven bars, 6.25 in the balance beam and 7.35 in the floor exercise.

Other gymnasts competing were Katie Sherman in the vault (4.1), Lisa Whitmyer in the uneven bars (4.5), Laura Kiraly in the balance beam (7.4), Tia Rathburn in the balance beam (3.4), Marian Rothermel in the floor exercise (6.5) and Kim Nitke, who performed for the first time, in the floor exercise

Ypsilanti handed the Mustangs their first loss of the season after five wins last week Monday.

The balance beam event gave Northville some trouble in its close loss to Canton. Also, Heck believes her team was shaken a little when the order of events was changed to help accommodate some Canton gymnasts who had to leave the

With only a week left in the regular season, the Northville boys' swimming team is beginning to gear itself toward the Western Six Conference. meet to take place March 3 and 4.

The Mustangs have one dual meet remaining, against W-Six foe Livonia Churchill at 7 p.m. Thursday at the Chargers' home pool. Northville also will participate in the Brighton Invitational Friday and Saturday in preparation for the league meet.

For only the third time all year, the Mustangs won a dual meet last week. The victim was W-Six rival Farmington Harrison Thursday, who also was beaten by Northville January 21. However, the Mustangs lost to Inkster Cherry Hill, 113-60, last week Tuesday. Northville's overall mark is 3-9 and 2-3 in league action.

Mustang coach Pête Talbot was pleased with the performance of his squad against Harrison. "We swam better as far as performances, There were not a lot of good times, but consistent times," he explained.
"It was nice to win a meet like that," he offered.

The Mustangs were able to secure five first-place finishes against the

Any new idea worthwhile, that does a worthwhile job in a worthwhile cause is never permitted to do so without some has been, has was, or stick in the mud who still believes in oxen, mules, kerosene lamps and buggies, trying to reduce that idea down to size, by traducing it with criticisms, irony and abuse; but when an idea who's time has come has fought the battle and has come to terms with truth, it's justified in carrying on no matter how small the number of its believers. For in time it will be the majority.

THE NEW 10

Are you in one of the following three categories?

- 1. Only feel good as long as I take my medication.
- 2. Still sick even though I am on medication.
- 3. I was told I would have to live with my condition.

People come into our office daily who fit into these three categories. We help them. Why? Because we have a different approach to health.

We move vertebrae of the spine back into alignment. Why? Because when they're out of alignment they pinch nerves which lead to some area of your body. With this "pinching" nerve impulses are blocked. What's important about that? If the "pinched" nerve leads to your stomach you have ulcers, if it leads to your pancreas you have a "sugar" problem. If the nerves lead to your colon you have colitis or constipa-

In other words, wherever the "pinched" nerve leads to will malfunction. What does malfunction lead to? Sickness or disease develops. Then what? Then symptoms are produced. Symptoms are signals, signals which are necessary to warn you of a potential life threatening problem.

Why not use medication? Two reasons, one medication masks over the symptom and two all medications have harmful side effects. Then what can be done?

See us, we analyze your condition and give you a diagnosis which is the cause of your problem. By correcting the cause the symptoms (signals) automatically go away.

If this is true why doesn't everybody go to chiropractors? Turn to the front page again and read it ... that's why.

Start now, come in and see what the "new idea", chiropractic, will do for you.

IF YOU HAVE THIS CONDITION

THIS COULD BE THE CAUSE

Headaches These Nerves Are Pressed Sinus These Nerves Are Pressed These Nerves Are Pressed Ear Infections Shoulder Pain These Nerves Are Pressed Arm Hand Wrist & Finger These Nerves Are Pressed Conditions Inc. Arthritis Heart & Coronary conditions These Nerves Are Pressed ►These Nerves Are Pressed Bronchitis, Asthma Gallbladder & Liver Trouble -These Nerves Are Pressed Kidney Infections These Nerves Are Pressed Colitis, Intestinal These Nerves Are Pressed Problems Female Problems These Nerves Are Pressed Male Prostatic Trouble Sciatica, Poor These Nerves Are Pressed Circulation In Legs

Normally all vertebrae in the spine are in alignment or "straight", (see picture at left) this allows nerve impulses to flow through the nerve to whereever they are needed to make that portion of yor body function or "work" normally.

If through a fall, jar or bump these vertebrae are knocked out of alighment (see picture at right) the vertebrae will press on the nerve exiting between it consequently blocking the flow of nerve impulses, resulting in loss of normal function which leads to sickness as mentioned in the chart at left.

Pain in the spine or neck need not be present to have the cause of your problem there. Symptoms are signs or signals, which are the result of a cause. They need not be located in the same area. For instance, pain and swelling in the hands can be caused by pressed nerves in the base of the neck.

Chiropractors correct these mis-alignments thus allowing the body to function normally again.

I your have any of these problems mentioned above in the chart and want the cause corrected, make an appointment now.

Chiropractic is growing at a fantastic rate. In only 85 years we have become the number one drugless health care provided in the world. Why?! Because chiropractic delivers resuits.

YOU TOO. CAN FIND RELIEF!

NO OPERATIONS FOR ME...

Before going to a chiropractor my health was very poor. From taking so much medication, I became allergic to all of it. I had been in the hospital to have my appendix removed. After the operation, I almost bled to death. The doctors said I was a "bleeder". The same thing happened when I had some teeth removed.

I had a real problem. I was allergic to medication and I was a bleeder. A few years later the doctors said I needed my gall bladder removed. On the way to the hospital I changed my mind. I was also told of a possible bloodclot or tumor in my brain. At this point I didn't know what to do.

I had heard of a neighborhood chiropractor and started with him. I was certainly glad afterwards I didn't have those last two operations. In the course of treatment my chronic ear infections never returned. That was 15 years ago.

Just recently I started having severe headaches and lung problems. I had moved away from my old chiropractor, and by chance, I heard of Dr. Mashike from a friend but had no way of getting there. As luck would have it, another lady in my apartment building was going and I started riding with her. She said that her blood pressure was going down since starting with Dr. Mashike. My problems have cleared up now. My headaches are gone, my lungs are clear and my digestion is good.

Chiropractic is the best and safest way to be healthy. I have used it for years. I have sent many people to chiropractors and they have been happy with the results.

Lillian M. Lang

RELIEF AFTER FIRST ADJUSTMENT...

I found out about chiropractic through my cousin. His son suffered from allergies and chronic diarrhea since birth, and it was chiropractic care that eliminated both of these problems.

I had several health problems when I first came to Mashike Chiropractic Life Center, which includes a spastic colon, a chronic sinus problem and pain in the upper back from an injury. These problems did interfere with my daily routine, especially the upper back pain.

After only one adjustment of my spine the back pain felt better. In time chiropractic care improved my sinus problem and spastic colon. I also noticed that the adjustments gave me more energy which is an important factor as an expectant mother. Because of the results I have had I would definitely recommend chiropractic care to others.

Also, I would like to mention that I was two months pregnant at the time of my first adjustment. Chiropractic back pain experienced at this time.

Deb Tabor

NOTE: We have taken care of many expectant mothers with great success. Not only have they felt better during their pregnancy, their deliveries were uncomplicated. The reason for this is that nerves of the lower spine are unvolved in dialation and contraction during delivery. Therefore, if they are free of nerve pressure delivery will be much more natural.

Chiropractic Works.....It Gets Results....and that's what is Important!

I FEEL FÁNTASTIC...

I first went to a chiropractor as a teenager when my parents took me. Recently I moved to Michigan from Ohio, and while trying to move my boat into the garage, I hurt my lower back. The pain in my low back became so severe after a few days that I couldn't bend over or stand without extreme pain.

Since I had been to a chiropractor before, I knew it was the way to correct the cause of the problem. Having just moved here from Ohio and not knowing who to see, an ad of Dr. Mashike's prompted me to come to his office. Almost immediately after my first adjustment there was a reduction in the pain and I was able to continue my daily routine. After about three weeks of chiropractic care the pain was completely gone.

Because of the results I have had with chiropractic, I recommend it to others for their health problems. In my case I feel chiropractic helped me where medical treatment couldn't have cured the problem.

Adjustments are only made after an examination and x-rays are studied to determine the cause of the problem. Chiropractic adjustments are painless, quick and very professional.

I feel fantastic!

ENTIRE FAMILY HEALTHIER...

We were not sure at first about chiropractic. My mother was going to see Dr. Mashike with some long-standing problems. When she started getting results, we decided to go.

We all had problems of one kind or another. My main problem was low back pain. Carole's was low back pain, sinus, allergies and high blood pressure. Lyn, our oldest, had allergies. Eric had a loss of smell and asthma. Heather, as young as she is, had headaches.

Carole is familiar with medications because she is a registered nurse now working in private practice. She knows of its drawbacks and side effects. None of us like taking drugs, that is why we started with chiropractic care.

Our entire family is better now, and we wanted the chance to tell others. Dr. Mashike has really done wonders with the kids. (Note: Children usually respond very fast to our care.) We definitely think you should give chiropractic a try. You will be surprised at the results.
