Jelly sellers

store and on Main Street in town. City and township firefighters will be assisting in selling the jelly at a dollar a jar with all proceeds earmarked for the burn center. Firefighting equipment of the community will be on display from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. as the Jaycettes hope to raise $120 for the center dedicated to saving lives of burn victims and reducing the degree of disability and disfigurement suffered. ## 300 crowd township hall to support appeals

Erroneous advice given township taxpayers interested in appealing property valuations resulted in a busy emergency session of the board of review Saturday morning.

More than 300 property owners appeared before the board of review during the three and one-half hour session to make personal testimony supporting written appeals submitted earlier, according to clerk Susan Heintz.

Township board members staffed a desk to handle paperwork for the review board which swiftly processed the appeals. Police directed parking, but reported little need for their services as people arrived in a relatively steady flow without overwhelming the lot or township hall. Supervisor John MacDonald said the process was orderly from its 9 a.m. start until the last appeal was heard at around 12:30 p.m.

The flood of personal appearances before the board came in response to a township letter suggesting that such appearances might be in the taxpayers' best interests.

After advising property owners for over a month that appeals of assessments could be done by letter and petition without appearance before the board of review, the township discovered that such a route might negate the petitioner's right to redress from the Michigan Tax Tribunal.

Heintz said the discovery was made while research was being done to support MacDonald's planned appeal to the tribunal on behalf of the entire township.

The tax tribunal can reverse the decision of the local board of review, but a 1980 court case resulted in the tribunal rejecting an appeal on grounds the petitioner had not made a personal appearance before the local board.

'Grease' players honored

"Grease," the spring musical at Northville High School, is being "held over" for an extra performance at 8 p.m. Saturday in response to acclaim that resulted in sellout performances last Friday and Saturday.

Cast of the "shooby-doo-wop"-era musical played to capacity audiences in the high school auditorium last weekend and to almost full houses the opening weekend of March 19-20.

Announcement that there would be a fifth evening of "Grease" was made last weekend as director Kurt Kinde announced the awards for participants.

"George" awards, given for professional backstage, went to Doug MacDonald, who supervised set construction, and Paula Folino, the assistant director.

"Oliver" awards, for onstage performances, were presented to Kurt Hoffmeister and to Tom Yanoschik, chorus leader. Hoffmeister had won a George award last fall for his set work in "Frankenstein."

For the first time since "Olivers" were originated after the production of "Oliver," the award went to a group — the Greasers: Mark Olgren, Seth Swallow, Jeff Weaver, Tom Zielke and Craig Zollars. Zollars has a previous award for his performance in "Oklahoma!"

The "Something's Afoot" award this time was specially presented to three people who "came in at the last moment to rescue their respective crews from chaos." Winners are Pam Mastantuono, props, Sandra Moore, programs and tickets, and Rory Savageau, programs and video taping.

Tom Siffer received a special award in recognition of his "overcoming cultural and lingual barriers to make a significant contribution to the show."

General admission (no reserved seating) tickets for Saturday's performance are on sale at the high school office between 7:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. school days. Tickets are $3 for adults, $2.50 for students.

NEWS BRIEFS

CITY WORKERS will be voting on whether they wish to continue to be represented by the AFSME union in a special election set up by the state labor department from 4-5 p.m. next Wednesday at city hall. Unfair labor practices charges and a petition by clerical workers to withdraw from the union were dropped earlier this month, paving the way for the election.

APRIL BRINGS Daffodil Days, this Thursday through Saturday, an American Cancer Society promotion; Tootsie Roll

Drive of Knights of Columbus to aid the mentally retarded, Friday through Sunday; and Rotary Easter Seal campaign April 9-10. Northville City Council approved proclamation of the annual benefits at its March 22 meeting.

NORTHVILLE'S GIRLS' soccer team is favored to win the West Suburban Soccer League title this season. The Mustangs open their season against defending champ Livonia Stevenson 7 p.m. Tuesday on the road. See page 5-C for more details.

Egbert 'graduates' to political activist

By JEANDAY

Had there been a teenage Democratic club at Northville High School a dozen years ago, Mari Egbert might never have become a Republican "force to reckon with," as she was labeled by People magazine last year.

The young woman who grew up in Northville received national attention when she masterminded the GOP campaign resulting in the defeat of four-term Georgia Senator Herman Talmage. This major coup in getting Mack Mattingly elected brought her record of winning campaigns to an impressive eight-to-one.

In early February Mari Egbert came north to work as a consultant on the gubernatorial campaign of Richard Headlee. She since has been asked to be campaign manager for the president of Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Company who formally entered the race for governor February 25, and has accepted the challenge.

She did so, she says, because she already knew Dick Headlee, believes he is a leader who can win and feels his focus on jobs is the right issue. She is quick to point out that Headlee is a businessman who took on a floundering company and cut the payroll from 270 to 110 until it got on its feet. "Now it is in financially good shape and has 490 employees — I think that's the bottom line."

When Mari transferred from Our Lady of Victory Catholic School to Northville Public Schools, she asked to help in the high school bookstore as a way to get acquainted. On a recent visit to Northville, she remembered querying a fellow student, Betty Klein, about what groups she could join to meet people.

"Betty, who at the time was president of the Young Republican Club, invited me to join. It was just a $1," she recalls.

"I went home and my parents, who were Democrats, said I should see about a Young Democratic Club, but there wasn't one; so I joined the Young Republicans."

That happenstance at age 14 ultimately shaped her thinking. Egbert now recalls, and has led to a rising career in politics that has her marked as a political "force to reckon with" in this New Era of political conservatism," the assessment made by People magazine a year ago.

In 1969 there was new hope on the Republican horizon in Michigan, and people like George (and Lenore) Romney and Robert Griffin were making stops in Northville.

As a Young Republican, Mari remembers finding herself seated next to Carl Pursell, who was running for state senator in the 1970 election.

"I asked if he needed volunteers and he said he did," she continued.

She followed up her offer with a telephone call, and Pursell personally picked up the student volunteer and took her to his Farmington campaign office where she became campaign youth coordinator.

"This was mostly hanging around headquarters licking stamps. If you're willing to do anything, there is work. I sure didn't have any political interests then, though."

She may not have had "political" in-

Township readies to purchase new computer system

Purchase of a new computer system for the township hall is in the planning stage but could be delayed if the water and sewer department and township general administrators do not come to an agreement on a cost-split between them.

The water and sewer commission last Wednesday night and that body agreed in principle with the purchase but expressed concern about how much the department would be expected to pay for participation. An order has been placed, but can be canceled until June 1.

The water and sewer department will finance the purchase from its funds, with the township general fund to pay back its share with interest. The water and sewer department operates on an entirely separate budget from the rest of the township.

But both township administration and water and sewer operations would be served by the computer system made by Nixdorf, a West German firm with production facilities in Massachusetts. Business Manager David Leiko and Treasurer Richard Henningsen investigated several computer systems over the past two months and recommended the Nixdorf. They cited an independent study done by consultants to Canton Township, which supplied the township with copies of the study.

Canton's decision to purchase Nixdorf equipment, which was installed there 14 months ago, was also a key to the township's decision in another way. Canton has agreed to supply software programs — to Northville Township for its system in exchange for an aid agreement. Under the agreement, Canton would supply roughly $16,000 worth of software in exchange for use of the Northville hardware in the event Canton's system crashes at a crucial time. The system to be purchased would, in addition to the basic data processing unit, include three CRT terminals and one printer. It would replace components purchased from various sources over the past few years and allow both general administration and water and sewer work on a time-sharing basis. The current system does not allow both activities to go on simultaneously, Henningsen explained, so one department or the other often has to have people working nights or weekends. While the township does not pay overtime, it does give compensatory time off which saps staffing levels during regular hours, he said.

Additionally, Water and Sewer Department Superintendent Walter Holmstrom said the system would eliminate the need to hire a third clerical worker in his department. That hiring, authorized by both the water and sewer commission and the township board, was never done since the need was relieved by the housing market slump. Once building begins again, Holmstrom related, a third clerk would be needed without the new computer system. He also estimated that about 10 percent of his own time would be saved for other activities by virtue of decreased paperwork demands due to the new computer system.

As of Monday night, Henningsen and Leiko said they were still pursuing alternatives that might save money. Loss of word processing and letter-quality printing capabilities in the present IBM equipment may require purchase of a small word processing device in addition to the full computer system.

Leiko said he is investigating the costs of such devices, which Nixdorf salespersons advised him would be cheaper than appending the capacity onto the computer system in question.

Oakland cites evidence to support assessment

By KATHY JENNINGS

Information from boards of review across Oakland County appear to substantiate claims that property values are dropping, according to county equalization director Herman Stephens.

County officials have submitted as much information as possible to the Michigan Tax Commission to demonstrate that property in Oakland County has been properly assessed, Stephens said. The State Tax Commission has taken issue with the manner in which those assessments were determined.

September sales and then made a forecast of November and December sales. The 30-month average worked in the past, but it won't work this year," Stephens said.

The problem with accepting Oakland County assessments at this time is that they do not conform with methods used in other parts of the state, according to Roland C. Andersen, manager of research and education for the Michigan State Tax Commission.

However, Andersen said the state is continuing to discuss the matter with Oakland County equalization officials.

"Our position toward them has been 'get us your information, give us your ideas, let us know your position; we will receive and consider the information you have on the subject.' There may be no decision until the fourth Monday in May," Andersen said.

"Uniformity is the key item. We have an established program that will work for everyone. If we change it for one we have to change it for all. That is one consideration," Andersen added.

"There is no unanimity of opinion as to what is correct," Andersen added.

In addition to the dispute over which sales study should be used is the problem of removing tax exempt items from the selling price of the property. Previously, assessors have been allowed to subtract a certain percentage from each sale to account for personal property included in many deals. This year the state has indicated such reductions are not allowed.

Despite the disagreements, Stephens said he believes the matter will be resolved after the state has had time to review the county's information.

"They don't want to violate the constitution; they'd be personally liable themselves," Stephens said.

But if the county and state can't see eye to eye by May 23, state equalization day, county officials are posturing themselves for a federal court fight.

Stephens said the finance committee of the Oakland County board of commissioners has discussed the possibility of setting aside $10,000 for "seed money" in case the matter has to be resolved in federal court.

"Going to court will be a last resort, no one wins when you go to court, because it's the people's money being spent," Stephens said. "We know this will cost hundreds of thousands of dollars, but we have the backing of the full county board and the county executive Daniel T. Murphy. There is no question the county will do everything possible to make sure tax assessments are not over 50 percent of market value. We hope this can be settled."

"We are doing everything we can to prove that their procedure will put us over the 50 percent constitutional maximum," Stephens said.

According to Stephens, information gathered from boards of review shows that homebuyers are paying for many things besides property and a home. Everything from boats and cars to precious gems have been included in some deals, Stephens said.

"We are finding a lot in the selling price that shouldn't be there. I've seen one case where they sold five opals. I'd hate to have to start appraising the price of precious stones."

State officials are reviewing the information prepared by the county to determine whether assessments have been set at 50 percent of true cash value. If they find the assessments are low they can impose a "factor." The assessed value of a piece of property is multiplied by the factor to bring it to 50 percent of true cash value.

Reportedly, the state believes residential assessments in Sliger-Livingston communities are three percent low in Commerce Township and Milford, four percent low in Lyon Township, five percent low in Northville (Oakland County portion of the city) and South Lyon, six percent low in Novi and Wixom and eight percent low in Walled Lake.

Specifically, the state is questioning the methods used by Oakland County to determine 1981 property values.

Stephens explained the county was told last year by the chairperson of the state tax commission that assessments could be based on an average of property sales over either 30 months or 12 months.

"We found that if we used the 30-month average we would be (assessing property) over the 50 percent limit," Stephens said. "We started getting enough sales in, so we determined that we really better do something. We looked at the third quarter sales. We put a lot of weight on July, August,

Loch Ness monster is topic

Exploring Loch Ness in search of the mysterious creature believed to inhabit the Scottish waters will be the topic of a presentation by Mark McPherson tonight (Wednesday) at 7 p.m. in the Novi Public Library.

McPherson will tell the history, geography, folklore and humor surrounding "Nessie." His presentation will be illustrated with maps, photographs and discoveries from his explorations.

McPherson has made five expeditions in search of the animal. Travelling originally on assignment for the Detroit News, McPherson has made subsequent trips under the auspices of the Academy for Applied Science of Boston, an organization interested in the scientific study of unusual phenomena.

McPherson has lectured extensively on his travels, research and results. He is on the Board of the Cranbrook Writers Guild, a member of the St. Andrew's Society and Director of Public Relations for Wayne County Community College.

The presentation, designed to be suitable for both parents and children, is sponsored by the Novi Association for the Talented and Gifted and the Northville Association for the Academically Talented as the first of their Kaleidoscope Series.

The program is being funded in part by Glynn Travel, which specializes in travel to the British Isles.

In conjunction with the first program, suggestions on "How to find Nessie" can be submitted on forms available at the Novi Library. Suggestions will be forwarded to the Academy for Applied Science in Boston, Massachusetts. Suggestions of merit will receive a certificate and serious consideration for use in future Loch Ness explorations.

The Novi Library also is preparing a bibliography of Loch Ness-related materials which are available through the library.

Township ends year in better condition

With last year's priority of setting the township government on firm fiscal footings apparently accomplished, Supervisor John MacDonald set three major administrative goals for the coming year in his annual report to the board of trustees Monday night.

Atop the list is beginning construction of the Park Gardens area sewer development, followed by making progress toward having a senior citizens' housing complex built at vacant Wayne County Child Development Center and a recently-joined fight to have current tax year property valuations reduced.

Of Park Gardens, MacDonald said "there is no question in anyone's mind that it is a necessary project and that all attempts will be made by this administration to cooperate with the citizens of the area in getting this system underway."

The senior citizens housing project "could be the most exciting develop-

Senior Citizen housing project 'could be most exciting development in Northville area'

Supervisor John MacDonald

ment in the Northville area both now and in the years to come," the supervisor said.

"This projected $70 million project will generate 2,000 construction jobs and employ on-site 600 employees and will have a major economic impact on this area," he continued. Noting that progress is being made (three developers will present plans next week) he added that "it is particularly gratifying to have such a development underway in light of the poor economic times."

Pursuing the SEV reductions, primarily for residential areas, will occupy much of his time, MacDonald said. Meanwhile, the township has pledged to make every effort to reduce millages by the same percentage as the valuation increases.

"It is reasonable to expect that we will continue to have the revenue from both the federal and state government," he said, "however, absent unforeseen expenses we intend to hold the line and not take advantage of increase in SEV. It will not be an easy task, but we are prepared to do it."

Earlier in his address MacDonald cited improved fiscal position and said "this remarkable turnaround can be attributed to the fine work of our treasurer, Mr. (Richard) Henningsen, our business manager, Mr. (David) Leiko and each of the department heads for staying within their budgets."

Jaycettes to rent child car seats at nominal fee

Effective tomorrow, April 1, it not only will be unsafe to drive with an unrestrained child in your car, it will be illegal as well in Michigan.

While the state law is new, a child restraint seat rental program offered through the Northville Jaycettes is not. Over the past several years the Jaycettes have run a program called BUBS—buckle up babes for safety.

Northville city or township residents can rent a car seat that meets state requirements for as long as nine months through the program. Jaycettes report current inventory is low (four GM Loveseats) but that more seats will be acquired if the new law increases demand as expected.

Rental terms require a $25 deposit, $15 of which is refunded when the seat is returned to Jaycettes in good condition. The low cost, the organization states, is because the program is offered as a community service and not as a profit-making venture.

The law applies to children from birth to age four. Those between birth and one year must be restrained in a protective infant restraint seat regardless of seating position in the vehicle. Children from age one to age four must be in a restraint seat if they are riding in the front of the vehicle, in the back seat they may be restrained by either the seatbelts or a seat.

According to state accident statistics, there were 26 fatalities and 3,331 serious injuries to children in this age group as a result of traffic accidents last year. If all children were properly restrained, supporters contend, deaths could be cut by 90 percent and injuries by 80 percent.

There are basically three kinds of restraint seats. Those designed solely for infants under 20 pounds are always used in a rear-facing position. Toddler seats face forward and are designed for the child who can sit up alone. These are useable until the child weighs about 40 pounds. There are convertible seats that can be used in both positions.

The law requires use of a "safe" car seat. All child restraint seats manufactured after January 1, 1981, must meet a federal standard for safety by passing a crash test. The date of manufacture will be stamped on a label attached to new seats.

Many older seats are considered safe also, and various state agencies (the Secretary of State and the Office of Highway Safety Planning in the state police department, for example) stand ready to advise drivers of them. Lightweight home carrier seats, however, are not considered safe, nor are cloth infant carriers worn on an adult chest.

Michigan's law joins those on the books in several other states. A recent study in Kansas indicates children actually behave better when restrained than do those free to roam inside the car. Costs for seats range from about $25 up to $45 or over. Low cost rental programs such as that offered by the Jaycettes can allay this expense for those who cannot afford these amounts or those who have only occasional need for such a seat.

Violation of the law carries a $10 civil fine for each offense. No points are to be assessed on the driver's record. There is also a provision allowing the court to waive the fine or cost if, before the appearance date on the ticket, the driver supplies the court with evidence a seat has been acquired for use in the vehicle.

The state's new law does not apply to nonresident drivers or in the case of a child being nursed in the car. The state police, however, "highly recommend" a rest stop be made for the purpose of nursing a baby since a child held in the mother's arms can be crushed between her body and the dashboard in an accident.

Court overrun questioned

After notification earlier this month of budget overruns for 35th District Court, Northville City Council members responded critically at last week's council session.

Court administrator George R. Wiland had reported to Henry E. Graper, Jr., Plymouth city manager, that during the annual audit of the court's financial status for the budget year 1981, it was determined that the court's spending exceeded its budget appropriation by approximately $36,000.

In addition to questioning how the city's share of the overrun is being determined, council members were critical of some of the start-up costs to which part of the overrun was attributed.

City manager Steven Walters commented that the city "simply does not have additional money" right now and suggested that the City of Plymouth Building Authority (which was in charge of the building construction) make the payment and add it to payments being made by participating units over a five year period. It was pointed out that this is a more usual method of dealing with start-up costs.

Under the caseload formula in effect in 1981 the city's share of the start-up and overrun costs would be about $80,000. The formula is based on percentage of the total court load.

While the council studied items attributed to start-up costs amounting to $2,887, it questioned how the overrun of more than $50,000 occurred.

Comment also was made that it was unusual that it took a year-end audit to uncover the deficit situation.

"Do we pursue costs, such as chairs costing $850?" was another question.

Councilmember J. Burton DeRusha, liaison with the court, was asked to make additional inquiries.

In a related matter, it was decided to take up with presiding judge Dunbar Davis the matter of having a local violations bureau again.

Until recently, violation tickets could be paid locally at city hall. Wiland changed the procedure, making it necessary now for all tickets to be paid at the district court building.

Study Senior Village plans

Three firms have submitted formal proposals for development of a senior citizens housing complex on county land in the township.

The three proposals will be presented to the Wayne County Economic Development Corporation Monday, April 5, according to John MacDonald, township supervisor and recently-appointed member of the EDC board of directors.

MacDonald said the prospects for construction of such the complex on more than 100 acres of vacated county child development center property

"are looking good."

The EDC holds a lease on the property and will coordinate development of the project, including possible sale of tax-free bonds to finance a portion of the development with the developer responsible for payment of the bonds.

MacDonald said all three proposals to be discussed include restoration of buildings already on the site to one degree or another. He noted the rising level of support for restoration of older structures rather than demolition and said all the interested parties have submitted plans taking that into account.

Tap Gaul for senior post

Dorothy Gaul, a Highland Lakes resident, has been appointed the township's senior citizen liaison to the joint community recreation commission.

Making the appointment Monday night the township board passed a resolution saying "it is hoped by this appointment that better communications will result between the Northville Township Board of Trustees, Senior Citizen Advisory Council, Northville Recreation Commission and the senior citizens of the Township of Northville."

A TOAST TO FLUORIDE

Q. How important is fluoride in water?

A. Very important! Although fluoride is found in many places in nature, water is the main source. When it is said fluoride is being added to a water supply, it doesn't mean it is being introduced because all water contains some fluoride. However, some water supplies need the proportion raised to obtain a level that will strengthen tooth enamel. In 1956 Chicago was one of the first major cities to fluoridate its water and it was estimated that decay among school children dropped by 50 percent in the first fifteen years. Fluoridation of water is a major health achievement.

Poet Kaye Kicknosway, right, and Mary Freydl discuss poetry

Poetry appreciation focus of Cooke project

Cooke Junior High English teachers and students are appreciating poetry a little more these days — thanks to the teachings of poet Kaye Kicknosway.

As part of a Poetry Life Project, Cooke students have had an opportunity to discuss and critique poetry with Ms. Kicknosway in a series of three separate sessions.

The Poetry Life Project is sponsored by the Wayne County Intermediate School District with funds granted by the Michigan Council for the Humanities. The project is designed to train English teachers to be more effective teachers of poetry and help students better appreciate poetry.

Northville Public Schools was one of 10 districts selected from 36 in Wayne County to receive a grant for participation in the project.

Since the Northville grant application was requested by the Cooke English Department, the project has been housed at the junior high.

Ms. Kicknosway has been teaching students in the classes of English teachers Mary Freydl and Nancy Brown. Teachers Dorothea Bach and Gerda Burnside have been observing the sessions.

Ms. Kicknosway directed sessions

March 3-5 and March 17-19. Her final sessions at Cooke will be April 19, 22 and 23.

A resident of Bloomfield Hills, Ms. Kicknosway has published six poetry books, six anthologies and has written for several magazines and journals.

Her latest book, published in the fall of last year, is entitled "Asparagus, Asparagus, Ah Sweet Asparagus."

In addition to her books and publications, she taught at Wayne State University from 1970-77, was a visiting lecturer at San Francisco State University in 1975 and 1977, taught an MFA Writing Program at Goddard College in 1977-79 and was an instructor at Oakland University.

She has conducted several workshops and readings and was a writer-in-residence at the University of Arizona last year.

The culmination of the Poetry Life Project will be a poetry festival scheduled for 7:30 p.m. April 27 at Northville Public Library. The festival is open to all project personnel, local librarians, teachers, students and community members. In addition, an anthology of student writing produced during the project will be compiled and contributed to the local libraries.

Booster's support aids NHS

The Northville High School Boosters Club has had one of its most successful years ever with this year's donations totaling more than $2,000.

Under the direction of officers Wade Deal, president; John Quinn, vice president; Jo Ann Dayton, secretary; and Joyce Liddle, treasurer, the club has raised funds for various sports teams and projects at Northville High School.

Some of the donations made this year include lane lines and a storage reel for the high school pool at a cost of $1,200, vests for the pompon squad totaling $350 and uniforms for the junior varsity cheerleaders at a cost of $350.

The club is awaiting the arrival of a batting practice cage which has been purchased for $900 for use by the girls' softball and boys' basketball teams.

The club also donated money for the boys' basketball team to have dinner prior to the regionals.

Boosters Club membership is open to anyone interested. For further information contact the high school office.

Dennis Day's Town Hall guest speaker

Veteran show business entertainer Dennis Day, star of stage, screen, radio and television, will be Northville Town Hall's final guest as its 21st season comes to a close tomorrow.

Day, who can talk and sing in 25 different accents, has one of the greatest talents for mimicry in the entertainment world. Adeptness at comedy and straight dramatic acting are other facets of his show business prowess.

Born Owen Patrick McNulty in Bronx, New York, he was the third eldest of five sons and one daughter. He attended Cathedral High School in New York before entering Manhattan College to take a pre-legal course.

While at school, he made an inconspicuous appearance with other students in Larry Clinton's "Campus Club" aired on NBC. The station received so much mail about the "wonderful Irish tenor" that he was recalled three times.

Day was graduated with honors from Manhattan College in 1938 after having won the Mayor's Scholarship. Though he did not go on to law school, Day received an Honorary Doctor of Law degree from the University of Portland in 1956.

During his summer vacations from school, Day earned extra money by singing on a New York radio station and made several records. One of the records, "I Never Knew Heaven Could Speak," was heard by Mary Livingston, who recommended the singer to her husband Jack Benny.

In September, 1939, Day joined Benny and worked with him thereafter, except for two years during World War II when he served as an Ensign giving 300 shows on ships and islands throughout the South Pacific.

He worked with Benny for 24 years and also did several films. His portrayal of "Johnny Appleseed" in Walt Disney's "Melody Time" is his favorite.

He is the father of 10 children and very much a family man. During 1979-80, he toured the country in the hit "Big Broadcast."

Tomorrow's program begins at 11 a.m. at the Plymouth Hilton Inn. Tickets for Town Hall's 1982-83 season will go on sale tomorrow at $20 for the series.

Oscar-winning actress Celeste Holm will open Town Hall's 22nd season next fall when she appears at the Plymouth Hilton Inn October 14.

Holm, who has performed on Broadway, for the screen and in night clubs will be followed by Stanley Cloud, former managing editor of the Washington Star, on November 11, and by Irwin Weil, currently a professor at Northwestern University, who also has been a guest professor at Soviet universities in Moscow and Leningrad. Weil will be Town Hall's guest March 10.

Ending the 1982-83 series will be Polly Bergen, award-winning actress of screen and television and author of books on beauty, fashion and charm.

After the sale at tomorrow's program, mail orders will be accepted.

Orders should be sent with check and self-addressed envelope to Mrs. Richard Lyon, P.O. Box 93, Northville, 48167.

Luncheon prices also will remain at $8 each. While reservations may be made individually for the luncheons, the Town Hall program tickets are sold only by the series. It is necessary to be a ticketholder to make luncheon reservations.

Dance raises funds for MD

Northville and Novi High School students found long hours paid off when they toted up figures from their annual 24-hour dance marathon for Muscular Dystrophy.

Students in the two communities raised $15,080 this year, topping last year's mark.

Students danced from 6 p.m. Friday to 6 p.m. Saturday, March 19-20, in the Commons area at Novi High School to raise money for the Muscular Dystrophy. They were allowed two hours of sleep between 4 and 6 a.m., but organizers report few students actually were able to nod off.

Bands and disc jockeys provided music non-stop for the continuous dancing, explained coordinator Joan Hayes. Students were given breaks in which they were allowed to "sit down and catch their wind" every two hours, Hayes said.

Students signed up sponsors who will donate funds to the fight against Muscular Dystrophy based on how long the student danced.

"Every penny goes to Muscular Dystrophy," Hayes said.

There also were contests during the breaks. Students swallowed gold fish, blew bubbles in a bubble gum contest and held a talent contest complete with singing acts and comedians.

Hayes reports that more students participated in this year's marathon than expected. "We had hoped for 200 students and more than 300 participated."

There were about 35 Northville students who participated with Novi students. Novi teacher Doug Holder coordinated the dance with Hayes at Novi High.

Hayes noted there was a great deal of community cooperation from businesses and service clubs this year.

Hundreds show up for special appeals

When the error was discovered, township officials sent a letter to more than 300 petitioners March 23 advising them that if they wished to retain rights to appeal to the state body, they should appear at the emergency session of the board Saturday between 9 a.m. and noon.

"There are lots of other governments advising their people they can appeal in writing, and that's true," Heintz said. "But there was a case back in 1905, I think, and then in 1980 the decision was tested again. The court said the local board of review has authority to waive personal testimony on its own behalf but could not waive testimony for the tax tribunal, so the man's appeal was rejected."

MacDonald said the township decided to advise all those who had submitted petitions but had not appeared personally before the board of review. "We don't want these people to lose anything on a technicality," he said, "so it made sense to notify them."

More than 280 letters were mailed the evening of March 23 advising the petitioners of the situation and suggesting they stop by township hall to appear before the board Saturday morning.

Those who own property in the township but reside elsewhere are not bound to make personal appearances, Heintz said, as the law clearly allows them to petition for reduction by letter. Some of those who made appeals before the board of review Saturday had not previously submitted petitions, but said they had planned to pursue the issue by letter.

The last-minute rush added another stack of work to the township review board's activity this year. Several hundred appeals on behalf of Highland Lakes condominium owners were received Friday, Heintz said, bringing the total number of property parcels where assessments were being appealed over the 1,000 mark.

This number represents 25 percent or more of the number of parcels in the township, and the widespread activity on this front is one reason MacDonald is appealing assessment levels township-wide. It is also one of reasons cited by township board of trustees members supporting a total reassessment of property values.

Monday night MacDonald extended special thanks to the three board of review members during his annual report to the board, noting that the job usually requires only three or four meeting sessions but this year more than 20 sessions were required.

The board is currently making its determinations on the appeals. MacDonald called their performance "truly a service beyond the call of duty."

He also had praise for the citizens of the township, who "have been patient with us throughout these recent meetings. Citizens have conducted themselves in an orderly and intelligent manner and they are to be commended for that."

Treasures

Here are identifications of the buildings featured in last week's "Hidden Treasures" quiz. Those who looked up along Main Street will know that the weather vane is atop the Masonic Temple building; the pole with classic ornament holds traffic light wiring at Main and Center; the mask in the arch window decoration is above the marquee at the Marquis Theatre; and the handsome Victorian buildings on the south side of Main belong to Lapham's and Freydl's. Photos by John Galloway.

Egbert — 'Young Republican' to political activist

terests but she did have thoughts about government and her country. As a high school junior she won the Lloyd H. Green American Legion Post oratorical contest with a speech, "What Freedom Means to Me," and went on to win at district level.

At age 16 she was a high school senior and an active TAR (Teen Age Republican). With classmate Sherry Hackmann, she attended the 1970 TAR camp and there met and had her picture taken with U.S. Senate candidate Lenore Romney. She was graduated from Northville High School in the Class of 1971.

She became one of the 18-year-olds who were willing to accept the challenge in those years of using the new freedoms being granted to young people. "Through Carl while I was at Michigan State I got an interview with Doyle Dodge, executive director of the Nixon campaign in Michigan, to become the first statewide coordinator of volunteers. It paid $500 a month between my freshman and sophomore years."

Then, when the Nixon-Griffin campaign offices merged, Egbert found herself setting up a telephone bank center for the combined Nixon-Griffin staffs. This meant she set up and supervised 22 telephone banks in Michigan in 1972. She stayed out of school the first semester of her sophomore year to finish the job.

"I worked with a lot of county chairmen, involving women, students and blue collar workers," she explains.

As she was graduating from the James Madison College at Michigan State University with a degree in political science and economics, Mari Egbert already was part of a political "winning streak." She had run Cliff Taylor's sixth district campaign and served as third vice-chairman of the Republican party.

After graduation she worked for Daniel Murphy on the Oakland County executive race and did organizational work.

In 1978 she ran the campaign of Congressman Joel Decker of Indiana, going with him to Washington, D.C., as an administrative assistant. She terms her six-month Washington stay "a frustrating" experience.

Her election "win" record continued to include John Porter in a special Illinois 10th district election that took him to Congress. The Mattingly campaign followed.

After the Mattingly win, Egbert stayed on in Georgia, opening her own political consulting business.

There also has been another reason for making Georgia a home base.

Just prior to taking the consultant post with Headlee she became engaged to an Atlanta lawyer, Jim Patterson.

"If it weren't for very strong feelings about Dick and his ability, I wouldn't be here," she admits. She explains that she first met Headlee in 1972 doing Republican campaigning and then worked at the Alexander Hamilton firm while in school.

"He (Headlee) has 80 percent name identification and his image is very favorable," she ticks off his pluses.

She adds that Headlee has been national president of the Jaycees, and is effective in communicating. At 52, he also has "nine kids and 14 grandkids."

Right now Egbert is working 14-15 hour days setting up his campaign office at 1877 West Ten Mile, planning strategy with as many as 150 volunteers — and starting to spend $1.2 million during the primary campaign.

The race, she predicts, probably will be won or lost in Oakland County.

The slim, blond campaigner in grey wool pantsuit adds that she is planning her wedding for the Saturday after the primary — August 7. It will be in Michigan, but all arrangements are long distance with calls going to her fiancé and to her parents, Earl and Mary Egbert, who moved to Tecumseh with General Motors.

Trustees okay new $1.3 million budget

over into the new year, as does other money allocated in case a second portion of the same suit is lost.

What extra cash there was at year-end allowed the township to purchase a $7,400 car for the police department from 1981-82 funds (the order was approved Monday night and entered Tuesday morning). This was a budgeted expense for the 82-83 year in earlier versions of the budget.

Primary concern of the township's fiscal officers is potential reductions in state shared revenues. Actual dollars delivered to township coffers last year from this source totaled $338,987. The new document projects income of $372,061 from this source. The increase is based on new population figures the state did not start using until late last year.

But elimination of one state payment of shared revenue (which come from sales and business taxes) could throw a wrench in the township's plans to increase salaries, purchase a computer system, reassess the township and restore full funding to the recreation department.

But for now, township officials are much more optimistic than they were a year, or even three months, ago.

Largest expenditure for the coming year will be for the police department, which at $475,451 absorbs one-half of the township's total tax levy. General fund support to the department has been reduced minutely this year, even though the total budget rises from the $433,413 spent last year.

General administration at $22,250 is the second largest category of expenditure listed. This item includes $132,840 in payments to the 35th District Court as its major item. Income from this source is expected to exceed the cost.

At $142,984 shared services is the third largest expense the township is committed to, including the library, recreation department, ambulance service and senior citizens programs.

The fire department, which is allocated one-half mill property tax revenue plus minimal support from the general fund (federal revenue sharing dollars pay fringe benefit costs) totals $93,194. Last year's total was $85,540 — repairs and renovation of equipment is a major part of this department's budget.

Legislative items total $90,700 and include the $37,000 appropriation for settlement of the legal case (involving township hall construction) and another $25,000 to cover legal fees for the coming year.

This item also includes salaries of the township trustees ($1,200 for all four trustees for the year) the cost of preparing board minutes, charges of the consulting engineer to attending board meetings, costs of professional services, and of memberships and dues for the township. Memberships in SEM-COG and the Michigan Municipal League are projected at $3,000.

Actual expenses in this category last year were slightly over $70,000. Biggest addition is $12,000 allocated to pay for reassessment of the township.

Other appropriations made Monday night include the building department at $55,000 (this department generally produces sufficient revenue to cover its costs), township hall and grounds at $53,850 (utilities, communications, maintenance and supplies are examples).

Below $50,000 are the business manager at $45,307 (Lelko's salary and that of the administrative assistant comprise about 75 percent of this amount, with fringes additional), treasurer department at $40,552 (Henningson gets $4,500. His deputy, and the costs of collecting taxes are the biggest parts), clerk expenses projected at $39,344 was permitted to retain his residence because of the proximity to Northville Public Schools.

However, board members cited that should a candidate live in an area a considerable distance from the district, a move would be required. If a candidate is expected to move, the board has stipulated that such a move be made to Northville.

Other contractual considerations to be negotiated include salary, a contemplated three-year contract, annual performance evaluation, fringe benefit package and moving expenses should they be incurred.

The board requires that candidates for the superintendent's post be certified in the State of Michigan and capable of meeting North Central requirements. The superintendent must have an earned master's degree with evidence of advanced study in the areas of administration, finance, curriculum and personnel relations.

Teaching and administrative experience at both elementary and secondary levels is desirable and central office administrative experience is required.

The application deadline will be 4 p.m. Friday, May 7. Interested applicants will be required to submit a letter of application, file a completed application form available on request, instruct college/university placement offices to send up-to-date credentials and submit a current resume.

All communications should be addressed to Karen Wilkinson, President, Northville Board of Education, 45871 Fermanagh, Northville, 48167. Envelopes should be marked "Superintendent's search."

Screening of applicants will be conducted by placement officials from Michigan universities.

In accordance with Michigan Public Act 267, all applicant interviews will be open to the public. The board has scheduled interview dates May 17-20 with approximately two interviews each day. Interviews will be one-hour-and-half beginning at 7 p.m. with a half-hour break between interviews.

The board has not yet decided on the public's input during the interviewing sessions. However, the board currently is in the process of composing a letter to community groups and organizations urging their participation in the superintendent's search and selection.

Nichols, who accepted the superintendency in the Royal Oak district, will be leaving his Northville post effective July 1. He was hired as Northville's superintendent in August, 1978, replacing Raymond Spear who resigned to head the DeWitt school system.

During the board's last search for a superintendent four years ago, 87 applications were filed for the post.

Nichols noted that "this year is a year of big turn over" for school superintendents. The board is expecting at least as many applications this year as it received in its last search.

Township board votes salary hikes

Salary increases for township personnel averaging just over eight percent for the fiscal year were approved by the township board of trustees Monday when the budget was passed.

The salary increases, which will increase hourly rates by 11 percent by the end of the year, will be phased in with 10 percent increases effective April 1 and a 1 percent October 1. Total annual salary of township clerical workers this rises 8.2 percent year-to-year.

Last year, township employees got three percent wage increases across-the-board.

Trustees said they exceeded the five percent across-the-board increases recommended by the township wage and salary commission out of a conviction that pay rates in the township lag far behind those in surrounding communities and in the private sector.

"If we don't do something we're going to lose some awfully good people," Supervisor John MacDonald said during budget planning sessions. "And I don't think we can afford that."

Treasurer Richard Henningsen, himself a former wage and salary commissioner, said Monday night he had "painted a much bleaker picture" for the commission several months ago than is his present perception of the township's financial standing.

He said the wage and salary recommendation was a good one for the township given the outlook he had when presenting the township's needs to the commission, but that he has seen several of the best employees leave in the past 18 months.

"If they still go to other places, more power to them," he said during one meeting, "but I think we've got to do what we can to hang on to them. We've got good, efficient, trained people out there and I don't think we can lose them without it costing us."

Township elected officials receive no increases in the current budget except for Henningsen, who was voted a $500 increase (from $4,000 to $4,500) against his own objection. MacDonald continues to receive $11,000 and Clerk Susan Heintz $7,500.

Department heads are to receive increases of six percent and six percent instead of the 5/6 split given other employees. Business manager David Leiko, who in effect received a five percent increase January 1, gets a single six percent raise in April but gets no October increase. The difference occurs because he is the sole contracted employee (except for unionized police) and his pact began in January, 1981. Leiko's raises will henceforth be related to the fiscal year rather than calendar year.

Mill Race classes open — spring pruning upcoming

This Saturday local residents will have an opportunity to learn basic pruning techniques for deciduous ornamental shrubs and trees.

John Brugeman will hold a spring pruning workshop from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday at Mill Race Historical Village. Brugeman, who planned the landscaping for the village, will lead participants in a "hands on" practice session on the grounds of Mill Race.

Participants should come dressed for the weather and plan to spend the morning outdoors. Those attending the workshop should bring hand shears, a small pruning saw and gloves. Cost of the workshop is $7.50. Participants should meet at the New School Church. For registration information call 349-2659.

The Historical Society also will offer two art workshops for children taught by local artists Heather and Don Fee. A Montage workshop, exploring unusual media, will be held from 9:30 a.m. to noon April 24 in the Wash Oak Schoolhouse. The workshop is open to children 7-12 years-old. Cost is $5.

Participants should wear old clothes, bring $1 for supplies and expect the unexpected.

A Fabric Painting and Printing workshop will be offered from 9:30 to noon May 8 at the Wash Oak Schoolhouse.

Children ages 7-12 will design a motif and print or paint it with permanent fabric dyes on a T-shirt of other fabric. Participants should wear old clothes, bring a T-shirt or other cotton fabric, $1 for materials and rubber gloves.

Cost for the workshop is $5.

To enroll in the two children's workshops, send a check payable to the Northville Historical Society with name of workshop, child's name, address and phone to: NHS Classes, 46040 Nine Mile, Northville, 48167.

Two Gods?

Dr. James H. Luther

Godfrey Davis, the biographer of the Duke of Wellington, noted that the Duke's financial records provided far more insight into his thought than his letters or speeches. Indeed your attitude toward money reveals your attitude toward life. Jesus was speaking of money when he said, "No man can serve two masters..." (Luke 16:13).

Two questions will help us to see the place of money in our lives:

1.) Do I sacrifice things more important than money in order to acquire money? If I sacrifice my honor, reputation, a clear conscience, my family, or my spiritual life in favor of money, than I am a loser. "A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favor rather than silver and gold" (Proverbs 22:1).

2.) Am I seeking to buy with money what only God can give? Many of the things that we once prayed for are now paid for. We give to the cancer fund, but do not stop smoking. We decry juvenile crime, but do not take our family to church. ("Let's send a donation!") If we throw enough money at our problems, they will all be solved. How sad!

A bank book has never given salvation from sin, peace of mind, real friendship, or true honor. But money has often been the source of misplaced priorities, improper values, sorrow, strife and heartache. When I rely on money to do what only God can do for me, then money has become my God! Which master do you serve?

Oakland solid waste plan presented

In a 2½-hour hearing March 23, lawyers, township and city officials, environmental consultants, professionals and just plain old residents gave their opinions on Oakland County's solid waste plan to the county's solid waste planning committee.

Some of the speakers supported the waste plan but more often than not, the person at the microphone either wanted something added to the plan or was critical of one portion of the plan. And the members of the Oakland County Solid Waste Planning Committee (OCSWPC) just sat back and listened to them all.

The public hearing on the waste plan was just one of the steps that is needed before the plan can be sent to the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR) for its approval.

Although the public hearing is complete, county residents may still submit their written comments on the plan to the OCSWPC for a period of 30 days following the hearing. The deadline for those comments is April 22.

The OCSWPC is slated to consider the verbal and written comments, make the appropriate changes and vote on the plan at a May 10 meeting in Pontiac. Once the OCSWPC's okay is secured, the waste plan needs the approval of the county board of commissioners and at least two-thirds of the municipalities in the county before going to the DNR, probably in July.

At it currently stands, the county waste plan will dispose of Oakland's non-hazardous solid waste for the next 20 years through a combination of landfills and resource recovery stations.

At the public hearing, the Weber landfill site in Orion Township and the SOCLA landfill in Avon Township were both criticized by the respective local residents and township officials.

SOCIA is an acronym for the Southeastern Oakland County Incinerator Authority, an organization of several Oakland communities which operates its own waste disposal system.

George Schutte, supervisor of the county's solid waste unit, also reported on three changes in the waste plan since it was released for public inspection in December.

Ben Zayti receives veterans blessings

Medical caring made Zayti cruise possible

"We just never dreamed we could go on a vacation like that," Marian Zayti said last week of the seven-day Caribbean cruise she and husband Ben took. What was special about the cruise, beyond the exotic ports of call, was that the Zaytis were part of a group for whom the vacation became reality only because of some special effort by medical personnel at University of Michigan and Veterans Administration hospitals.

Ben Zayti and six others on the cruise require hemodialysis by artificial kidney machine on a regular basis, which until February meant a week-long cruise far from hospitals was virtually impossible.

But thanks to a U-M Hospital nurse who had a brainstorm, and wouldn't give it up," Marian said, seven of the machines, three nurses and one doctor went on the cruise with the patients.

Zayti was the only VA patient among the seven. The tour total of 27 persons including spouses, friends and family left Saturday, February 6, from Metropolitan Airport on a flight to Tampa, Florida, where they boarded the S.S. Veracruz and set sail for Cancun, Cozumel and Key West.

Preceding them by air freight were the kidney machines, borrowed from the Kidney Foundation of Michigan and U-M Hospitals, yards of sterile plastic tubing, syringes, bandages and all the complex paraphernalia necessary for the blood-cleansing hemodialysis procedure.

The tour was brought about largely through the efforts of nurse Tillie MacLaren, clinical supervisor of the Hemodialysis Unit at the U-M Hospitals. She served as coordinator of the trip and worked out the complex logistics beginning last May. In addition to MacLaren, other staff members from U-M Hospitals were Richard D. Swartz M.D., medical director of the hemodialysis unit, Barbara Jackson, LPN, Carole Dorr, unit secretary, Geraldine Parrot, R.N. dialysis coordinator with the V.A. Hospital also made the trip.

"What really impressed us," Marian said Friday, "was the terrific way the staff took their own vacation time and paid their own fares to go with us." The Zaytis extended their vacation afterward with a visit in Florida.

The cruise was a vacation for the patients' spouses, too, MacLaren explained. "They have to run the machines at home. On board the ship...we handle the medical end."

Marian said dialysis was done during the three days the ship was at sea so the vacationers would not have to miss anything ashore.

She noted that the couple has been able to take vacations to visit family in both Vermont and Florida, but that each trip requires planning three weeks in advance to arrange dialysis at a hospital at the destination. In Vermont, Marian said, the nearest hospital is in Massachusetts "so you spend three days of a seven day vacation driving."

Calling the trip itself "a lovely time," Mrs. Zayti said it was the type of thing they had ruled out since Ben began dialysis five-and-one-half years ago at the V.A. hospital.

"We were disappointed more veterans couldn't go," said Gerri Parrot of the VA unit. "We really appreciated that (two veterans organizations) were able to contribute to Benny's trip. Only someone who understands the limitations created by hemodialysis can really appreciate what this meant to these patients and their families."

Marian summed it up for those who don't know, calling the cruise, which may be a nationwide first, "the dream vacation of our lives."

Olivan wins first Cube Contest

Northville's Dennis Olivan was the overall winner in the Westland Center's first Rubik's Cube contest which took place March 13.

Olivan solved the cube in a time of 40.95 seconds, which also won the 15 year-old-and-up category. Dan Werner, of Northville, placed third in the same division with a time of 53.75 seconds.

More than 300 youths matched their wits against clock and the cube. Winners in each category received a cube trophy, second place winners a T-shirt and third place winners a ribbon.

Small sewer plan costs drop

Reduction of size in a small Beck Road sewer project has reduced the expected cost of construction in township Special Assessment District 10, the township water and sewer commission learned last Wednesday.

The sewer project, serving a handful of parcels on Beck presently served by illegal connections to a county sewer, was absolved of the need for two tap-in locations for houses that were found on the back of a lot during design.

The houses, township engineer Edward McNeely said, are more than 500 feet from the road and therefore are not bound by legislation requiring homeowners to connect to a sewer when it becomes available.

Another reduction in the total cost, though not in the amount assessed each of the parcels, was one homeowner's decision not to have an extra tap-in location installed to service a planned lot split. Donald Thomson asked to have the tap-in made during construction, but when presented with the cost opted out. He was to pay the full cost of that design feature.

Total cost of the project was thus brought down to slightly more than $36,000. Since the amount is too small to be bonded, commissioners decided to finance the project from water and sewer funds.

Pending board of trustees approval, the project would be financed at eight percent over 15 years. Property owners would be assessed based on a formula that assesses one-half the cost by parcel and the other half by frontage on Beck Road.

PUBLIC NOTICE

To the Northville Township Water and Sewer Customers. As of April 1, 1982, the Water and Sewer Billings will be Monthly rather than Bi-monthly.

Program aids divorced adults with children

The YWCA of Western Wayne County is offering a program of Phoenix Divorce Support Groups for Women. The groups meet semi-monthly at various sites.

A talk at 7:30 p.m. April 5 at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church on Five Mile by Mary Ann Currie, a volunteer with Credit Counseling Centers, is to focus on "Financial Planning." She will offer tips on budgeting and setting realistic goals.

The support groups serve as a vital support system for women who are separated, divorced, in the divorce process or contemplating divorce, the YWCA reports. New members are welcome at any time, and participants may remain in the group for an unlimited time. Pamela Cronewett, area director, may be contacted at the YWCA, 561-4110.

COUNTY OF OAKLAND STATE OF MICHIGAN 1982 SPECIAL ASSESSMENT LIMITED TAX BONDS

SEALED BIDS for the purchase of the above bonds will be received by the undersigned at the City Clerk's Office in the City Hall located at 45225 West Ten Mile Road, Novi, Michigan 48050, on Monday, the 5th day of April, 1982, until 4:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read. Sealed bids will also be received on the same date and until the same time by an agent of the undersigned at the offices of Bendzinski & Co., 601 Standard Federal Savings Bldg., 409 Griswold, Detroit, Michigan 48226, when, simultaneously they will be opened and read.

BOND DETAILS: Said bonds will be coupon bonds of the denomination of $5,000 each, dated April 1, 1982, numbered in direct order of maturity from 1 upwards and will bear interest from their date payable on October 1, 1982, and semiannually thereafter.

Said bonds will mature on the 1st day of October as follows:

|----------|--------------------------|
| $10,000 | 1982 and 1983;           |
| 25,000   | 1984 to 1988, inclusive; |
| 15,000   | 1989, 1990 and 1991;     |
| 10,000   | 1992, 1993 and 1994.     |

PRIOR REDEMPTION: Bonds maturing in the years 1982 to 1989, inclusive, shall not be subject to redemption prior to maturity.

Bonds maturing in the years 1990 to 1994, inclusive, shall be subject to redemption prior to maturity, at the option of the City, in such order as the City shall determine, on any interest payment date on or after October 1, 1989. Bonds called for redemption shall be redeemed at par and accrued interest to the date fixed for redemption, plus a premium expressed in percentage of par value as follows:

|    |   |
|----|---|
| 2% | of the principal amount of each bond redeemed prior to October 1, 1992;                           |
| 1% | of the principal amount of each bond redeemed on or after October 1, 1992, but prior to maturity. |

Thirty days notice of the call of any bonds for redemption shall be given by publication in a paper circulated in the State of Michigan which carries, as part of its regular service, notices of sale of municipal bonds. No further interest payable on bonds called for redemption shall accrue after the date fixed for redemption, whether presented for redemption or not, provided the City has money available for such redemption with the paying agent.

INTEREST RATE AND BIDDING DETAILS: The bonds shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 13% per annum, to be fixed by the bids therefor, expressed in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of 1%, or both. The interest on any one bond shall be at one rate only, all bonds maturing in any one year must carry the same interest rate and each coupon period shall be represented by one interest coupon. The difference between the highest and lowest interest rate on the bonds shall not exceed two percent (2%) per annum. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than 100% of their par value will be considered.

PAYING AGENT: Both principal and interest shall be payable at a bank or trust company located in Michigan qualified to act as paying agent under State or United States law, to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, who may also designate a co-paying agent, which may be located outside of Michigan, qualified to act as paying agent under the law of the State in which located or of the United States, both of which shall be subject to approval of the undersigned.

PURPOSE AND SECURITY: The bonds are issued in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for paving improvements in certain special assessment districts in said City, as set forth in the bond authorizing resolution. The special assessments and interest thereon are sufficient to pay the principal and interest on the bonds when due. The liability of each special assessment district is limited as set forth in the bond authorizing resolution. The bonds are a limited tax general (full faith and credit) obligation of the City, and the City is obligated to pay debt service thereon as a first budget obligation from its general funds, including any collection of ad valorem taxes, but the ability of the City to levy such taxes is subject to charter, statutory and constitutional limitations.

The rights or remedies of bondholders may be affected by bankruptcy laws or other creditors' rights legislation now existing or hereafter enacted.

GOOD FAITH: A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $4,400, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the City must accompany each bid as guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

AWARD OF BONDS: The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid produces the lowest interest cost computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified in the bid, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from May 1, 1982, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium.

LEGAL OPINION: Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified approving opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, a copy of which opinion will be printed on the reverse side of each bond, and the original of which will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds at the delivery thereof. The fees of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone for services rendered in connection with such approving opinion are expected to be paid from bond proceeds. Except to the extent necessary to issue their unqualified approving opinion as to the validity of the above bonds, Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone has not been requested to examine or review and has not examined or reviewed any financial documents, statements or materials that have been or may be furnished in connection with the authorization, issuance or marketing of the bonds, and accordingly, will not express any opinion with respect to the accuracy or completeness of any such financial documents, statements or materials.

DELIVERY OF BONDS: The City will furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bonds will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at Detroit, Michigan, Chicago, Illinois or New York, New York. The usual closing documents, including a certificate with no litigation is pending affecting the issuance of the bonds, will be delivered at the time of the delivery of the bonds. If the bonds are not tendered for delivery by twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Daylight Time, on the 45th day following the date of sale, or the first business day thereafter if said 45th day is not a business day, the successful bidder may on that day, or any time thereafter until delivery of the bonds, withdraw his proposal by serving notice of cancellation, in writing, on the undersigned in which event the City shall promptly return the good faith deposit. Accrued interest to the date of delivery of the bonds shall be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

CUSIP NUMBERS: CUSIP identification numbers will be printed on the bonds, at the issuer's expense, except payment of the charge for assignment of numbers which will be the purchaser's responsibility. Neither the failure to print such numbers on any bonds nor any error with respect thereto shall constitute cause for a failure or refusal by the purchaser thereof to accept delivery of and pay for said bonds in accordance with terms of the purchase contract.

FINANCIAL CONSULTANTS: Additional information may be obtained from Bendzinski & Co., Municipal Finance Advisor, 601 Standard Federal Savings Bldg., 409 Griswold, Detroit, Michigan 48226; telephone: (313) 961-8222.

THE RIGHT IS RESERVED TO REJECT ANY OR ALL BIDS.

Texas man arrested on felony charges

In the township...

A Texas man has been charged with carrying a dangerous weapon with unlawful intent and commission of a felony with a firearm after he allegedly threatened a man in a Northville Road tavern and was apprehended in the parking lot in front of the bar carrying a loaded rifle Sunday night.

Police said the incident followed an altercation in the bar revolving around a woman and that the arrested man stated he would "solve this myself" before stepping out to his motorhome, where police arrested him carrying the hunting rifle.

A witness told police the man had been outside the vehicle with the rifle, in the parking lot of the bar. He was held overnight in the police department cell. Police obtained a warrant early Monday afternoon and the man appeared in the 35th District Court later Monday. He was released on $1,500 bond pending preliminary examination at the district court April 8.

State police made an earlier weapons violation arrest in the township. A 22-year-old St. Clair Shores man was arraigned at 35th District Court Thursday on charges of carrying a concealed weapon without a permit, and of carrying a loaded shotgun. Bond was set at $2,000 and he is being housed at the Wayne County Jail awaiting a pre-trial examination, according to Northville Michigan State Police.

According to police, troopers spotted a car on the shoulder of Seven Mile east of Haggerty without its lights on at 12:20 a.m. March 25. As they pulled their car behind the suspect's vehicle, he sped his car away with its lights off.

However, state police did stop the car. The trooper noticed a long gun case in the car when he asked the suspect to exit his car, police said. Also, the trooper noticed a bulge near the left front portion of the suspect's jacket and found a handgun. The suspect was placed under arrest, police said.

The suspect was carrying a Colt .45 caliber semi-automatic series 70 handgun with seven live rounds. Also, the troopers found two clips of seven live rounds each for the Colt .45, a Remington Wingmaster model 870 12-gauge shotgun with magazine extender, six 12-gauge shotgun shells, a set of knumchucks, gloves and a ski mask, police said.

Goods valued at more than $1,800 were reported stolen from a Smock Road residence between 1-5 a.m. March 25.

The owner told police a $1,300 generator and tools valued at about $500 were missing from his unattached garage. Also missing were a pair of $9 gloves left in a vehicle in the structure.

Police believe entry was made by lifting a sliding window out of the wall of the garage. One window was found on the ground outside the garage, and another on the floor inside.

A $700 air compressor was reported stolen from a garage at a township residence March 23. The owner told police the theft must have occurred between 6 p.m. the previous evening and 9 a.m. that day.

Police noted that the garage door was found open in the morning. It had been left closed but unlocked the night before.

An estimated $250 damage was done during an apparent attempt to steal a vehicle parked at an Inlet Court residence March 22. The owner reported the damages must have occurred between 1:30 a.m. and 8:30 a.m.

Police noted the passenger-side door window was broken out, the windshield was cracked and the ignition punched out of the vehicle.

Two wire wheel covers were reported stolen from a car parked in front of a Jamestown residence. The owner told police the $160 covers were taken sometime during the week of March 18-25.

...In the city

Unknown suspects stole four wire wheel hubcaps, worth $280, from a 1978 Chevrolet Monte Carlo parked in city lot number four between March 22 and 23, city police report.

A gold class ring, worth $170, was stolen from a locker at Northville High School sometime March 25, police report. Unknown persons used an unknown object to break the lock off the locker, police said.

A 22-year-old Northville man was bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court for an April 23 trial on charges of malicious destruction of police property. He was released after posting 10 percent of the $10,000 cash bond, city police said.

Jon Murray was arrested by police March 21 after he drove his car into a city police vehicle twice, causing $1,300 in damages.

School Notebook

Kalamazoo College named 17 high school students as winners of 1982 competitive scholarships with a student from Northville being among the honorees.

Michael Grover, of 21473 Beauford, received a $500 scholarship for taking third place in the Social Science category.

He had the third highest score on an essay examination dealing with certain aspects of the first year of the Reagan Presidency.

The competition is open to all high school seniors who have applied to Kalamazoo College. Selected applicants are invited to compete in areas of English Essay, Fine Arts, Math/Science or Social Science. Applicants qualify for the invitations on the basis of test scores and grade-point averages reflected in their applications to Kalamazoo.

The University of Dallas announced Lora Brigid Higgins of Northville was named to the Dean's List. Students completing 14 or more credit hours with a grade point average of 3.5 or higher qualify for the Dean's List. A grade point average between 3.0 and 3.49 for 14 or more credit hours qualifies a student for the Honor Roll.

Higgins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Higgins.

Three Northville students were among the approximately 368 graduate students who received master's and specialist's degrees from Eastern Michigan University this past December.

Mary E. Hart of 40 Brookside Place received a master of arts degree; Nancy K. Heaton of 18588 Jamestown Circle received a master of science degree; and Peter Karros of 44075 Galway Drive received a master of business administration degree.

Northville resident Jeanneanne Marie Maisonville was among the Madonna College students receiving scholarship awards from the Order of Alhambra, Ordono Caravan 129, to pursue a program in teacher education.

The Alhambra Scholarship is usually in the amount of $200.

Two Northville residents have won Upperclass Achievement Scholarships at Oakland University for the 1982-83 academic year.

Scott Steven Freydl of 221 North Rogers and William B. Lockwood of 201 North Rogers will each receive $250 in recognition of their superior achievements.

Winners must be undergraduates and have maintained at least a 3.5 cumulative grade point average based on a 4.0 scale.

Three Northville students have been named to the dean's honor roll for the winter day term at Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Northville residents named to the honor roll include Kimberly A. Derusha, Kent R. Derusha and Laurie J. Ewald.

To be named to the honor roll, a student must maintain at least a 3.5 grade point average and be a full-time student.

Our Opinions

Different expertise for superintendent

The resignation of School Superintendent Lawrence J. Nichols March 22 has left the Northville Board of Education with the awesome task of selecting a top administrator to head the district in the midst of declining enrollment, financial uncertainty and program reductions.

When selected to Northville's superintendency in August, 1978, Nichols was regarded as "right for Northville." There's little doubt that during his four-year tenure he has calmed a somewhat tumultuous district and has achieved the board's initial directive of improving the instructional program within the schools.

Nichols' resignation comes at a time when Northville schools are facing vast — and often difficult — changes in order to retain the quality of education which the community expects. In the past year alone, the district has endured a millage renewal defeat and consequently the successful passage of a lesser millage package, has faced a multitude of cutbacks from transportation to supplies and has seen a steady decline in state and federal funds to education.

With the administration currently looking into the possibility of closing a school in the coming year, reorganizing the grade structure to accommodate fewer students and examining future programming needs, it will be essential for the Northville Board of Education to select a superintendent able to deal with the complex challenges facing the district in the years ahead.

While the focus was on strengthening curriculum when the board tapped Nichols, we feel that today the new superintendent's major expertise will have to lie in finance. Sustaining a quality system with less money will be no easy task. Business acumen is needed.

At a study session Monday night, the board outlined criteria for hiring a new superintendent. While many of the specifications stated in the board's brochure are reasonable, there are a few contractual considerations which we believe the board should reconsider before its search process is fully underway.

The defeat of the millage renewal last year brought to light a need for more interaction between school officials and the community. Respondents of two surveys conducted after the millage defeat — one by this newspaper and the other by the citizen's advisory committee — cited a need for more school administrator visibility within the schools and community.

With this observation in mind, we are disappointed with the board's residency provision for its superintendent. As stated in its brochure, "the board expects the Superintendent to reside within the Northville Public Schools District." This means that should the board select a candidate who resides in Grosse Pointe Farms or Lansing, a move to Northville would be required in light of the distance from his-or-her residence to our district.

However, should a candidate live in an area such as Plymouth or Livonia, within a 10-15 minute distance of Northville, a move to Northville would not be required. Such was the case with Superintendent Nichols, who retained his residency in Livonia while serving as chief executive of Northville Public Schools.

The board has indicated that a superintendent who lives in proximity to the district is close enough to "keep in touch" with the community outside the administrative offices. However, we disagree with this reasoning. "Keeping in touch" with the community is not the same as "becoming a part of it."

We believe that proximity to Northville should not be the exception in the board's residency requirement for its next superintendent. It should make little difference whether a candidate lives five minutes or five hours from the district. As one of the community's leaders, we firmly believe the school superintendent should be required to live in Northville and urge the board of education to reconsider its provision.

Customarily, a new superintendent does not start at the salary of his-or-her predecessor (Nichols will not in Royal Oak). In the light of depressed economic times, it is hoped that the board will not be overgenerous. In some districts, including Plymouth, superintendents are accepting pay freezes. It is important to be aware that the superintendent's salary sets the base for salaries of other administrators — several of whom now receive salaries well over $40,000, termed by many "generous" for a district that may have only five schools if one is closed, as planned.

'Grease' a winner

That the Northville High School spring musical "Grease" is being held over for a fifth performance this Saturday night is a tribute to Director Kurt Kinde, his exuberant cast — and the interest of the community in a high school event.

Ticket sellouts for both last Friday and Saturday night performances caused the decision to schedule the additional night. In this case, spring slid in with "Grease" and was welcome.

Off the record

Spring fever hits Record staff

Along about March 20 comes the onset of Spring Fever, that malady characterized by a special lethargy sometimes defined as a "state of pathological drowsiness toward what has to be done." As it afflicted The Record staff this week, we decided to share our observations.

Spring fever (as opposed to things that have to be done in Spring, like window washing) is ... thinking it's time to visit Aunt Pauline in the Indiana Amish county ... feeling your fishing arm twitch ... opting for a new hairdo (and finding the person in your life liked it the way it was).

Spring fever is going into a blue funk over a few snow flurries after a winter in which you shrugged off blizzards ... eyeing the kites in the drug store ... scraping the accumulated gunk from your car, then doing it again when it rains ... reading the classified ads for boats you know you can't afford ... watching the first Tiger ballgame into the 13th inning only hours after telling friends TV baseball is like watching paint dry.

Spring fever makes one read the travel sections in eight Sunday newspapers from across the nation ... stare out the window at work ... pause on the way from the parking lot to watch men working outside ... switch from dark ale to light beer ... buy cones for the ice cream that's been in the freezer since October ... switch the positions of the hot chocolate mix and the lemon extract on the kitchen shelves without using either.

You know you have spring fever when you leave the windows open on the first 55 degree day because it's "warm" out ... and you kick the top blanket off the bed ... and you worry about the pale visage that greets you in the mirror ... and trip over the tricycles on the walk without complaint.

Spring fever has hit you when you realize for the first time in four months that your car is not white but a shade of muck brown and deserves a run through the local car wash ... you start poking around nurseries and flower shops ... store away the snow shovel and haul out the garden hose and hedge clippers.

It's a sure sign of spring when you're contemplating giving all your wool suits, coats and gloves to the nearest charity ... you've taken a close look at the house and realize a paint job is long overdue ... you have the lawnmower repaired.

You know it's spring when you can tolerate the Beach Boys on the radio without smashing the dial ... start looking for the Good Humor truck — or at least listen for its bell ... check for holes in your sneakers and rips in your thongs.

And you're on the critical list with spring fever when you're ready to take your lunch break at 10 a.m. and head for home about 2:15 p.m. ...

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

There was a time during my journalism career when I used to feel extremely guilty about the fact I always turned first to the sports pages.

All kinds of important things were taking place around the world, and I was turning first to find out what happened to the Tigers.

I got off that guilt trip several years ago at the Michigan Press Association convention in Lansing. All the bigwigs from newspapers across the state had just purchased their morning paper as they waited for breakfast. I, too, had my paper and, concerned about looking foolish in the eyes of fellow journalists, turned to the editorial page.

After reading the lead edit, I glanced over the top of the page to see if everyone else was reading the editorial page as well. You guessed it, only one person in the group was reading the editorial page — me. Everyone else had turned to the sports section.

Despite that incident, I no longer need to be concerned about reading the sports section first — because I don't read the sports section first, and sometimes I don't read it at all.

Presently, the section of the paper which I read first is the financial section. What did Donald Regan have to say last night? What's happening to M1? Anything new with the Federal Reserve?

I not only read things like that, but I think I'm beginning to understand things like that.

And now I have reason to believe that I'm not alone when I turn first to the financial section. My father-in-law visited Sunday. He's retired now after working 30 years in a foundry, but still manages to work 10 hours or so per day on his farm which he also has been doing for the last 30 years.

What I'm trying to say is that my father-in-law is a working man. A man of the soil. Somebody who would never read the financial pages under normal circumstances.

So what did he want to talk about? The Tigers? The Pistons? The Lions' draft picks? Not by a long shot.

"What do you think of M1?" he asked. "Did you hear what Regan said last week? You know, I was watching Wall Street Report last night and ..."

He disputes salary figures

To the Editor:
Your recent report regarding the proposed Northville Township budget indicated township employees would receive a substantial increase, if the board adopts the proposal on Monday evening.

The Northville Record (March 17) stated, "wage increases of just over eight percent were budgeted, split into a five percent rise April 1 and six percent increase October 1." Apparently your reporters have difficulty with arithmetic, because the actual amount is a whopping 11 percent increase for most employees, while department heads are scheduled to receive a 12 percent increase for this fiscal year. Clearly, the proposal advanced by the Northville Township Board is extravagant and unfair to the taxpayers.

On the other hand, the Wage and Salary Review Commission recommended an increase of five percent for most of the township employees. During this period of depression in Michigan, we concluded our proposal would be fair for the majority of taxpayers in the township. Is our recommendation being ignored by the township board?

Director's alarmed about bus behavior

To the Editor:
(This is a copy sent to The Record of a letter to Northville School Superintendent Lawrence Nichols.)

I feel I should bring to your attention an incident that took place on bus 16A on the afternoon of Tuesday, March 16.

It would appear there have been several incidents concerning this boy with regard to physical abuse of other children (hitting) which culminated Tuesday in one of my students having her finger dislocated. This indicates a serious behavioral problem which needs immediate attention.

I would appreciate it if you would let me know what steps have been taken to ensure such a situation does not arise again.

Yours sincerely,
V. R. Hambleton

Incorrect spelling upsets essay winner

To the Editor:
I am sending this note to tell you how upset I am prior to The Northville Record (March 24, 1982) article on the DAR essay winners. I was one of them.

My name was spelled wrong. It's Lynn not Liz and I won second place not third. This happening of me being pictured in the paper was very special but destroyed by your irresponsibility.

Sincerely,
Lynn Taylor

EDITOR'S NOTE: Like you, Lynn, we think the DAR award is a special honor. The Record regrets that the first mention of your name was incorrect (but the second time was right), and that the awards were not in the order pictured. Your essay, indeed, did place second.

The four trustees — Richard Allen, C. James Armstrong, James Nowka and Thomas Cook — sacrificed their monthly stipends of $25 in the middle of last year when the township was in its deepest fiscal straits.

With the township carrying a small surplus into next year, Treasurer

Richard Henningsen and Clerk Susan Heintz moved to pay the four the combined $600 they had given up.

Both they and Supervisor John MacDonald praised the work of the trustees, who volunteered much time not only to their duties but to such additional tasks as stuffing envelopes and mowing lawns when the township needed a job done.

But the roll call vote (required by board policy for issues pertaining to money) came up 4-3 with the four trustees saying "no" and Henningsen, Heintz, MacDonald on the losing "yes" side of the tally.

The regular stipend of $300 per year, per trustee is included in the new budget for the next fiscal year adopted Monday night, but the money they gave up last year remains in the township general fund.

OCC sets Shaw play

The Oakland Community College Foundation is sponsoring a special theatrical production of George Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man" at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at St. Dunstan's Guild of Cranbrook. Tickets are $15 per person and $25 per couple. Refreshments are included.

All proceeds from the play will be used to sponsor scholarships as well as support OCC programs and special activities that are not adequately being funded through traditional sources.

For reservations, visit OCC Foundation Headquarters or call Suzanne Reynolds, executive director and secretary of the OCC Foundation, at 647-6200.

Oakland Community College recently established articulation agreements with the University of Michigan-Dearborn and the University of Detroit. These agreements will enable OCC students who have completed associate degree requirements in specific areas to continue their studies toward a bachelor's degree without loss of credit.

OCC students who earn an associate degree in applied science in one of more than 60 specified career programs including alternate energy, communication arts, data processing and health care administration, may transfer into the baccalaureate degree program in general studies at the University of Michigan-Dearborn. All credits up to a maximum of 62 credits will be accepted.

The program is designed so that students who do not deviate from the program guide can complete bachelor degree requirements within the same time frame as students who begin their studies at the University of Michigan-Dearborn.

Nursing course scheduled at Schoolcraft

Schoolcraft College will offer an eight-week refresher course beginning May 3 for licensed registered nurses wishing to re-enter the profession or update their knowledge and skills.

The course involves 80 hours of classroom study on campus and 120 hours of clinical practice on medical-surgical units of area general hospitals.

Students will have an opportunity to acquire greater knowledge of the nursing process, current diagnostic studies, management of patients and trends in nursing, functions and responsibilities of various members of the health team in team nursing, review of previously learned nursing skills and review of new skills and equipment.

Clinical facilities scheduled for student assignment are arranged with local general hospitals. Students' preferences for hospital assignments will be considered in the order that course registrations are received.

In-district tuition is $221 and non-residents pay $293. Registrations will be accepted on a first-come, first-serve basis and must be received by April 26.

Registration materials and further information may be obtained by calling Continuing Education at 591-6400, extension 404.

Bilenko earns merit award

Army Reserve staff sergeant Helen Bilenko, of Northville, has received the Army's newest merit award, the Army Achievement Medal. Bilenko belongs to the G-3 operations and training section of headquarters, 300th Military Police Command (U.S. Army Reserve) in Inkster. The part-time soldier's civilian employment is as a legal secretary with Planin, Graber and Paul in Southfield.

They're air force graduates

One Northville man in the United States Air Force has been graduated from one of its courses, while another was transferred to a base in California.

Airman First Class James P. McGraw was graduated from the Air Force course for electronic computer systems repairmen at Keesler Air Force Base in Mississippi.

Graduates of the course learned to inspect, operate and maintain electronic computers and related equipment, and earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

McGraw now will serve with the 46th Communications Squadron at Barksdale Air Force Base in Louisiana. He is a 1980 graduate of Northville High School, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney B. McGraw, 16185 Tiverton Court. His wife, Lisa, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sansone of Bay Village, Ohio.

Airman First Class James P. Dault has arrived for duty at McClellan Air Force Base in California. Dault, a telecommunications control specialist with the 2849th Communications Group, was previously assigned at Lajes Field, Azores.

Obituary

CLYDE W. WHITTLESEY

Memorial service for former Northville resident Clyde W. Whittlesey, 67, will be held at 11 a.m. March 26 at the Congregational Church of Suttons Bay. The Reverend David A. Fleming officiated.

Mr. Whittlesey died March 24 at Leelanau Memorial Hospital in Northville after a lengthy illness.

Born in Houston, Texas, January 19, 1915, to Clyde and Sara (Hall) Whittlesey, he moved to Northville in 1940 when he joined the Ford Motor Company. He worked in Ford's Research and Development division until his retirement in 1973 when he moved to Suttons Bay.

He is survived by his wife Constance (Sifton), daughter and son-in-law Susan and Richard Schumacher of Arlington, Virginia, and son Mark of San Francisco.

The family suggests memorials be sent to Leelanau Memorial Hospital or the Arthritis Foundation. Envelopes are available through the Ray and Robert Martinson Funeral Home of Suttons Bay.

Kensington offers five family programs in April

There are five different family nature programs being offered in the first few weeks of April by the Kensington Metropark near Milford.

A combination dinner-program, "Calling All Owls," is being offered at the Farm Center restaurant 6:30 p.m. Friday, April 2.

Park naturalist Bob Hotelling will conduct a one-and-a-half hour program showing persons wild owls they may never have seen or heard, yet which are reasonably common birds.

Persons should meet at the Farm Center restaurant for dinner (optional). An indoor presentation on owls will take place, followed by a trip outdoors in an attempt to locate some owls in the park.

A family program titled "Amphibian Symphony" will be offered at the Nature Center at 10:30 a.m. Sunday, April 11.

Hotelling will conduct a one-and-a-half hour program of discussion, observation and listening for the sounds in the ponds, now alive with the voices of resident amphibians. They are brought together during the annual courtship ritual.

A family nature walk titled "Spring — The Awakening Woodland" will take place at the Nature Center at 2 p.m. Sunday, April 11.

Naturalist Mark Szabo will conduct a one-and-a-half hour walk welcoming the coming of spring. He will help participants explore the woodlands as they become alive with the call of birds, frogs and toads.

An indoor/outdoor program called "Nature's Night Life" will take place at the Nature Center at 7:30 p.m. Monday, April 12.

Szabo will help participants explore the night life along the woodland trails. He pointed out walking at night helps sharpen the senses — like the eyes growing accustomed to the dark and noses detecting scents which may elude them during the day.

Another family nature program, "Amphibian Serenade," will take place at the Nature Center at 7 p.m. Wednesday, April 14.

Naturalist Julie Cerbus will discuss the annual serenade of the songs of frogs, toads and salamanders that live in ponds, through the use of slides, tapes and a visit to the ponds. Persons can listen to and observe the inhabitants of the ponds.

All of the above free programs require advanced registration. There is a charge only for the combination dinner-program.

For more information, call the Nature Center at 685-1561. A vehicle entry permit is required. The cost is $7 annual or $2 for both senior citizens and daily.

Gwendolyn Niemisto has new tailoring shop

'A stitch in time' is Gwen's credo

By PHILIP JEROME

How do you build a recession-proof business?

It's a question many would like to be able to answer, but Gwendolyn Niemisto appears to have come up with a solution that has a good chance of success.

After selling Mary Kay Cosmetics for seven years, she counted her savings, summoned up her courage and last November opened a store that specializes in clothing alterations and repairs, as well as custom-made clothing for men and women.

"I looked at the economic conditions and decided that people would have to make do with what they have," said Niemisto, owner of Gwendolyn's, Ltd., at the corner of Ten Mile and Haggerty Road in Novi.

"It appeared to me that there was a real need for someone who could repair things.

"There aren't that many tailors any more and a lot of stores have stopped doing alterations. When you put all those factors together, I felt there was a demand for the kind of tailoring shop which could help people get a lot of mileage from the clothes they already own."

Niemisto said she is doing well under the present conditions and expects things to get better as the economy recovers.

She presently employs three fulltime seamstresses — Mary Peterson, Luanne Williams and Mary Loeffler, as well as a part-time seamstress — Debra Fisher.

"There were a lot of people who told me this kind of business would never make it," said Niemisto, who admits that she, herself, is not a seamstress.

"But I think they're surprised that we've stayed in business as long as we have and are doing as well as we are."

The only thing that surprises Niemisto, however, is that the others are surprised at the success of a business which was started in the midst of the state's current recession.

"Clothes cost a lot of money these days, and when times get tight, people start taking better care of what they have," she said.

"It's that way for automobiles, and the same holds true for clothing.

"Although we do a lot of alterations on new clothing, we also do a lot of clothing repairs," she continued. "We can put leather patches on the elbows of a sportcoat and the man can get two or three more years out of a garment which is otherwise in good condition."

"It makes a lot of sense. It's good value."

Gwendolyn, a tall, handsome woman whose husband is an inspector with the Farmington Hills Police Department, said her seamstresses specialize in repairing leather coats and putting zippers in nylon parkas and sleeping bags.

"Leather coats are usually pretty expensive and we can help prolong their life. That makes our service valuable to people who are trying to get their money's worth out of everything they buy," she said.

In addition to alterations and clothing repair, Gwendolyn's, Ltd., also will make custom-made clothing for men and women.

They can come in, select the materials and fabrics they want and Gwendolyn's will make them virtually anything they want from top coats and suits to shirts, slacks, blouses and casual clothes.

The custom-made clothing is one aspect of the business which Niemisto expects to blossom and bloom when the economy regains strength.

She said she anticipates changes in the way people buy clothing in the future, and to take advantage of those changes, she presently is attending classes in marketing and design at the Fashion Institute of America in Southfield.

"A lot of people would be skeptical about starting a business at the time we did, but I'm pretty confident," she said. "People still have money and they still need clothing; they just want to make sure that they get good quality and good value."

"Gwendolyn's, Ltd., is designed to meet both those needs."

Do It Yourself

Northville resident offers real estate hints in new book

"Real Estate by Yourself" is the newest do-it-yourself offering from J. James Hasenau's Northville-based Holland House Press.

"Many of the emotional things are hang-ups when you try to sell real estate yourself," explains Hasenau as he points out the first edition, 124-page paperback includes a chapter on such realities as "dirty deals."

Through his Holland House Press at 6215 Six Mile in Northville, Hasenau also has published "Build Your Own Home, a guide for subcontracting the easy way," and "Building Consultant," which he calls "an encyclopedia of building language that every prospective home owner must know."

Hasenau's building and real estate books are based on personal experiences in the construction and selling of hundreds of homes. He joined his father in building homes and apartments, starting, he recalls, "from the sewer up," as his two sons now are doing.

As a young man, Hasenau served a trade apprenticeship, starting at 12 years old, in wood model and pattern making in the Detroit area. After service as a celestial navigation teacher in the Air Force, he obtained a master's degree in education with majors in science and engineering.

His book, which includes copies of forms for offers of purchase and mortgage applications, is subtitled, "If you sell it fast, you sold it too cheap — what you should know about selling property."

There are chapters covering basic selling procedures, dealing with defects, impulse buying, adjusting for inflation and land contracts and closings.

Warning that many people sell their homes "too cheap," Hasenau writes, "I believe that when real estate is put on the market it should be priced too high. Then there should be a knock down, drag out, last straw battle to sell it. If not, you as a seller aren't getting top dollar."

However, he adds, "that long dicker-and-deal process is just what most sellers and real estate salesmen try to avoid. They want a sale, and they try to speed the process along by not listing too high."

As he encourages home owners to try to sell themselves, Hasenau tells them, "you should be aware that there are people out there, particularly real estate agents, who are going to want to discourage you from even thinking about becoming your own salesman."

He emphasizes that a seller can always list the house after trying to market it himself and recommends an "open listing," which means, he says, "that you can continue to try to sell the house, and,

'I believe that when real estate is put on the market it should be priced too high. Then there should be a knock down, drag out, last straw battle to sell it. If not, you as a seller aren't getting top dollar.'

— J. James Hasenau

If you succeed, you don't owe any commission."

Hasenau writes in an informal, chatty style, sprinkling his advice with many examples.

"What's special to you is special to someone else," he explains as he deals with "impulse buying."

"An oversize garage may really set apart an otherwise average house," he illustrates.

"No matter how hardnosed and business-like they are, home buyers are not just purchasing shelter. They're buying a home, with all the emotion that implies," he writes.

He recalls the time "an elderly, single lady bought a house hardly looking at it because the back yard had a high ravine owned by the state and abounding in pheasants and birds."

Given the tight, 1982 real estate market, Hasenau says he thinks his chapter warning of "dirty deals" is particularly important for the would-be seller.

He says "below-the-belt punches are thrown as someone slugs away to knock out your deal." This may happen, he explains, as a real estate agent wants a chance at the customer.

Rumors spread about flooding basements, street widenings or too small furnaces are examples listed by the author.

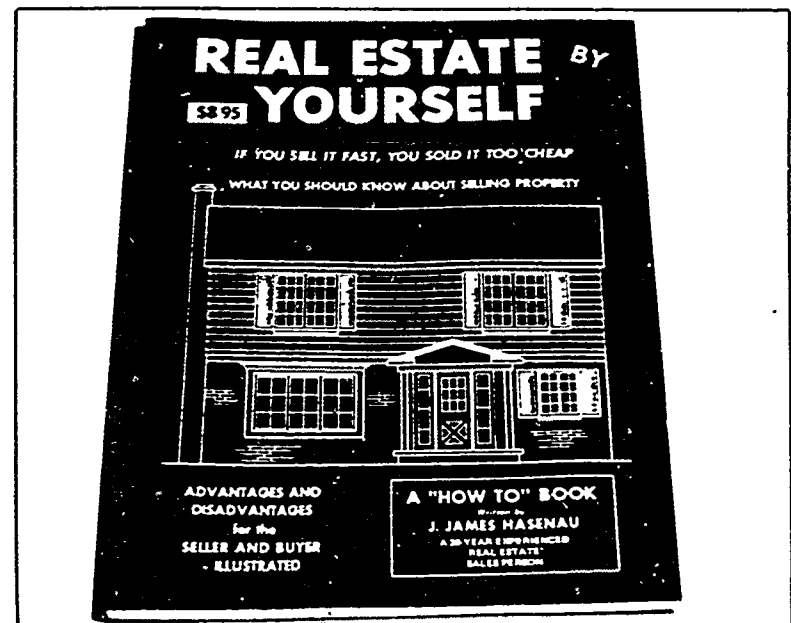

"The best deal is one in which each party goes away thinking he's the winner," comments Hasenau of "basic bargaining."

"Never react angrily or reject out-of-hand a buyer's offer, or go to the opposite extreme and leap at an offer for your full asking price. Stay cool," he advises.

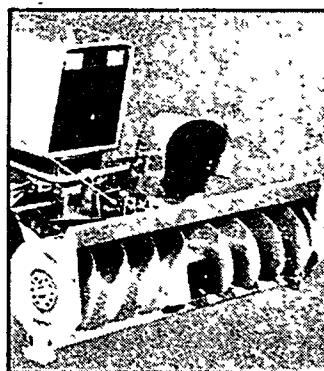

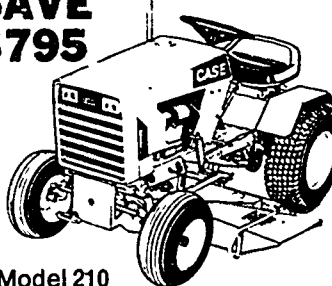

In answer to an offer, "Would you accept $65,000?" he suggests replying, "If you would like to put the offer in writing, we would be glad to consider it."

Hasenau points out that "it is the written offer that counts and will let you look at any conditions the buyer may want to attach to his price. Perhaps what sounded like an attractive, full-price deal turns out on paper to include part of your furniture and your garden tractor, your dog, and would require you to pay VA or FHA points."

The book is available by mail for $8.95 plus $1 postage from Holland House Press, Box 42, Northville, Michigan, 48167.

Tschirhart's job will entail concept development, design and layout, and supervision of outside suppliers. He brings to Starr Advertising a wide variety of experience gained as a free-lance designer and as art director for Barkley and Evergreen, Incorporated, and senior art director for CTS Associates. He and his wife Kathryn live in Dearborn.

New Highland-Milford photo studio offers portrait services with a twist

When Grace Zimmerman and her partner Donna L. Williams open their Gracon Studio, Incorporated, April 1, in the Highland-Milford area, they will offer traditional photography services with a new twist.

Along with complete portrait services for families, individuals, children and graduating seniors, Gracon Studio will have some specialties.

Equine photography, commercial, environmental and animal photography as well as black and white business photos will all be available. But the wedding service offered by these two experienced women may be one of the most unique features of their new business venture.

"We will offer four types of wedding coverage," Zimmerman explained. "Couples can arrange exactly what they want in advance. They can also create their own package to fit their budget."

"We think this kind of service is much more individualized and more sensitive to people's needs, especially in these hard economic times," Their new studio, located at 1419 South Milford Road, between Highland and Milford

Village, will be the first business in a new center known as "Colonial Village."

Williams, a professional photographer with several years' experience at studios such as Winship's in Union Lake, studied at both the University of Detroit and the Center for Creative Studies in Detroit.

In addition to her studio work, Williams has taught basic and advanced photography for the Redford YWCA and Lincoln Park adult education programs.

Zimmerman's specialty is horse photography, although she has 20 years' experience in both candid and wedding photography.

PSYCHOTHERAPY and Counseling Services, P.C., at 511 North Center in Northville, announces a Family Seminar Series with sessions starting in April and May.

The series of workshops begins with a four-week skill training program, "Couples Communication," April 6 with a $45 a couple fee. Other topics are "Parenting Children of Divorce," a five-week session beginning May 11 with a $25 fee; and "Communication Workshop for Parents of Adolescents," a four-week program at $25 a person or $45 a couple. All sessions will be held from 7-9 p.m.

DR. JEFFREY ZELDES (above) has joined the staff of the Novi Veterinary Clinic at 43377 Grand River Avenue in Novi.

A 1974 graduate of Oak Park High School, Dr. Zeldes earned a BA degree in zoology from Michigan State University in 1977 and graduated from Michigan State University's College of Veterinary Medicine in 1980.

He worked at the Allen Park Veterinary Hospital and the Oakland-Orchard Veterinary Clinic before joining the staff of the Novi Veterinary Clinic recently.

He and his wife Lisa reside in West Bloomfield.

The Novi Veterinary Clinic is an extension of the Beech Road Veterinary Hospital in Redford and is staffed by four veterinarians. The clinic has been in Novi 11 years.

TED ZEBROWSKI of the Pontrail Apartments in South Lyon recently earned a safe driving award for 1981 from Shedd's Food Products of Detroit. Zebrowski, who drove over 100,000 miles last year for his company, was one of 17 drivers receiving awards at a safe drivers' dinner at the Shenandoah Country Club.

Questions? Write to Attorney Larry Korn, care of Sliger-Livingston Publications, Post Office Box 160, Northville, Michigan 48167. Questions will be answered on a space-available basis. Answers in this column are directed at specific facts and may not apply in all situations.

Q. My son has been in and out of mental hospitals during the past one to two years. I felt that due to his condition he should be receiving Social Security benefits. When I applied for them at the Social Security office, Social Security sent their doctor to examine my son. The doctor said he found nothing wrong, so the benefits were denied. One week later my son was back in the hospital.

A. You should reapply for the benefits. If you need some help in expediting your application, call your congressman.

Q. I am named as sole beneficiary in my sister's will. Since there are other relatives that live closer to her and she has been sickly, I am concerned that some of her belongings might be taken from the house. What can be done to prevent this from happening?

A. If the items are taken with your sister's permission before her death, they could be considered a gift. If they are taken from the home after her death, your relatives would be stealing from her estate. You might want to take an inventory of the assets as a preventative measure.

Q. I have been off from work collecting workman's compensation due to a hip and wrist injury. My doctor says I will be under his care for at least five years and has assigned me to light duty upon my return to work. What if I find I cannot do the work when I return? Should I see a lawyer or return to work?

A. Go ahead and try to do the work. If you find that your injuries are being aggravated, go to the First Aid office at your place of employment and document the problem.

Your personal physician should then provide you with a letter to your employer which, if honored, should assist you in having your benefits reinstated. If you reaggregate your injury, you are entitled to file again for workman's compensation.

Q. A car, without a driver, went through our garage, wrecking two of our cars, and finally landed in our garden. We have been told by the police that because the car had no driver, we would have to find out all the necessary information. They have refused to give us the name of the owner.

A. Take the numbers off the license plate and contact the Secretary of State, Motor Vehicle Division, and they will tell you the owner's name. Have your homeowners insurance carrier handle it from that point.

Q. My husband and I are separated. I have the fiscal custody of our minor child. He wants me to file suit for divorce. He has agreed to give me fiscal custody of the minor child, but he wants joint custody. Is this wise?

A. In as much as he has abdicated the marital home and literally abdicated fiscal custody of the minor child, it is quite likely if the divorce case is tried, you would get the care custody control maintenance and education of the minor child.

If you and your husband have a very empathetic relationship and both care a great deal for the welfare of the child and you can handle the joint custody, then you might go along with your husband's suggestion. If your husband is argumentative and demanding and arbitrary, then it would be to the best interest of the minor child that you keep the complete care custody control and education of the minor child, permitting him the right of reasonable visitation.

See a good divorce lawyer and get his opinion as to what is to the best interest of the child and what is to the best interest of yourself.

Through the help of the Veterans Administration and his own courage, a paralyzed veteran has been able to pursue a career in banking.

Donald Metz had been in the Air Force little more than a year in September 1954 when the F-86 Sabrejet he was piloting broke out in flames, forcing an aborted takeoff. Metz was climbing out of the burning plane when the ejection seat threw him into the air without a parachute.

Except for limited use of his hands and arms, the fall left him paralyzed from the neck down. For the next year and a half he was a patient in the spinal cord injury center of the Veterans Administration Medical Center in Richmond, Va. The Richmond Center is one of 20 VA spinal cord injury centers across the nation.

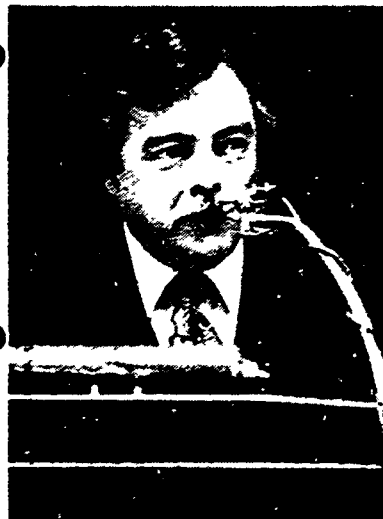

When Metz returned to his home in North Augusta, S.C., he refused to stay home as an invalid. Instead, he helped to organize a bank and drove himself to and from work as the assistant cashier when it opened in 1959. Metz, 50, today is assistant vice president and branch manager of the First Atlanta Bank in Augusta.

Founders Day's PTA tribute

LAWRENCE J. NICHOLS

To honor school officials, staff members and community volunteers who have devoted their time and energy to Northville Public Schools, a capacity crowd turned out last Thursday evening for the PTA Founders Day Banquet held at Schoolcraft College.

Approximately 250 persons attended the buffet dinner in Schoolcraft's Waterman Campus Center with Northville City Manager Steve Walters as guest speaker.

Coordinating Council President Sandra McRae presented honorees with their awards. This year's presentation of Distinguished Service Award was given to Northville Board of Education treasurer Chris Johnson.

Other honored guests were Eunice Martin and Madeline Crawford, Amerman; Bill Mills and Karen Poulos, Moraine; Glenna Davis and Evelyn Suddendorf, Silver Springs; Judy Couits and Sandra McRae, Winchester; Cindy LaChance and JoAnn Cook, Cooke; Ronald Horwath, Meads Mill; William McLaughlin and Roy Pedersen, Northville High School; and Clark Kelly and Leonard Rezmierski, Special Education Program.

PTA-PTSA News

Spring events set

EDITOR'S NOTE: The monthly Northville PTA-PTSA column which appears the last Wednesday of each month September through June is compiled by volunteer Deb Lau. She coordinates material from publicity persons in each elementary and junior high school.

In addition, Joan Best of Our Lady of Victory's Parent-Teacher Organization compiles information about OLV's activities.

AMERMAN

Everything's coming up roses. Karen Brown and Kathy Skrade, flower sale chairpersons, can confidently make such predictions. The Amerman PTA Flower Sale, scheduled for May 27, is a perennially successful event.

Amerman's March 10 roller skating party provided an enjoyable evening of recreation for the entire Amerman family—staff, parents and students.

A special "thank you" is extended to the parent volunteers who ably assisted at the Amerman Book Swap March 15-18. Many students took advantage of the opportunity to recycle favorite books.

The Amerman Publishing Center is completing a rewarding task—that of converting to print the stories, novellas and poetry of Amerman's young authors. Amerman students soon will be able to see their own writing on the school library shelves.

MORAINE

Plans are underway for Moraine's Spring Carnival scheduled for April 8. It will feature games of chance, snack counters and Dusty the Clown. To add to the excitement, a MacDonald's lunch is being planned the day before the carnival. PTA representative Jacki Burkowski is helping teachers to coordinate this event.

Moraine students are enjoying a visit by folk singer Wayne Willingham today. His visit is part of our Junior Entertainment Series.

Parents and guests were treated to a fine musical program March 18 by Moraine's second and third grade classes.

Organizations seek special volunteers

By JEAN DAY

Helping one another is what a great deal of volunteering is all about. Two different organizations are seeking special volunteers who will be trained to assist others while a local foundation is inviting district residents to become involved.

The WISER (Widowed in SERVICE) program sponsored by the Women's Resource Center at Schoolcraft College needs widowed persons who are willing to give of their time to help other widowed persons through the grief process. A group interview will be held at 10 a.m. April 28 at the Women's Resource Center on campus. Training sessions will be held for four weeks, beginning May 7, from 7-10 p.m. in the liberal arts building, room B-200. There is no fee but those interested are asked to call 591-6400, extension 430, to indicate this.

The Cancer Information Service, housed at the Michigan Cancer Foundation (MCF), is recruiting volunteers to become Information Specialists for its toll-free telephone information and referral system.

Potential trainees do not need prior knowledge of cancer although this is helpful, sponsors say. The training schedule will consist of six sessions of four hours each, beginning April 20 and continuing until April 29. On completion of the course volunteers will be asked to make a commitment of four hours a week as Information Specialists.

The MCF explains that throughout the training volunteers will acquire a number of useful skills. "They learn active listening, empathy responses, cancer facts and research trends as well as referral techniques for community resources and services," Jane Hoey, manager of the program explains. The Cancer Information Service is part of a national network of cancer information centers and has telephone lines, accessible to all Michigan residents, that are open from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays.

Volunteers will provide useful, accurate and compassionate assistance to callers. Persons interested in becoming part of the volunteer effort should call the MCF at 833-0710 and ask for volunteer services.

SILVER SPRINGS

Staff and parents of the Silver Springs community were pleased to honor Gienna Davis and Evelyn Suddendorf March 25 at the Northville PTA Founders Day Dinner held at Schoolcraft College. The efforts of these beautiful people have helped to build our school and community. Thank you for your time, patience and understanding.

Parents should look for student report cards to go home on April 6.

Students will be entertained on April 7 by the Meads Mill Choir. April 8 is Silver Springs' Annual Talent Show—a chance to find out the "hidden" talents of our youngsters. The last roller skating party of the year is scheduled from 6:30-8:30 p.m. April 22 at Bonaventure Roller Arena. Tickets will be on sale in the classrooms the three days prior to the party.

May 4 and 5 are the big days for next year's kindergarten students. It's orientation day—a chance to visit the school, meet the teachers and participate in a mid-kindergarten day. In addition to all this, the preschoolers will have a snack and some of their skills checked out. All of this helps the staff in planning next year's program. If you have a child who will be five-years-old on or before December 1, 1982, then he/she should participate in the kindergarten orientation. Please call the school office with the names of all children who will be attending. You will be contacted with the specific day to come to orientation.

The May 6 Spring Musical will be joined this year with the Silver Springs Fine Arts Festival. Ms. Ann Jarvi has been working hard with our "middle elementary" students and the Silver Springs Glee Club for an evening of fine entertainment. Mrs. Shirley Talmadge has been working with the children so that all will have art work on display for the Fine Arts Festival. All parents will enjoy their efforts as they participate in the Spring Musical and Fine Arts Festival.

Our appreciation goes to the Special Education Office for its sponsorship of the "Kids on the Block" puppets presented to the third and fourth graders on March 23. This fine presentation on handicapped persons will help our students to better understand and communicate with such a large portion of our society.

COOKE

Cooke's PTA is asking for nominations for the PTA Board for the 1982-83 school year. If you are interested, please call Cindy LaChance at 348-9077.

Today is our Book Fair. Students are selecting and purchasing their books.

Second Annual Mother-Daughter Luncheon with a fashion show by Claire Kelly will be at 11:15 a.m. May 5. The menu will feature maureice salad. Everyone is invited—aunts, grandmothers, sisters and neighbors.

Ninth grader Karen Weaver placed second in the National French Competition at Eastern Michigan University March 13. The finals of the seventh and eighth grade Spelling Bee were held March 23. The eighth grade winners were Beth Ross, who took first place and Scott Peterson, who came in second. First place winner from the seventh grade was John Llewellyn.

On March 16, our eighth and ninth grade students were treated to a sneak preview of "Grease" being presented by the high school. Cooke's PTA donated $100 to the NHS Drama Department to help finance these productions.

Our girls' volleyball team is having a successful season thus far. Under the direction of Coach Cy Nichols, it has won three games and lost two.

MEADS MILL

Among the administrators, parents and community members honored at the Second Annual Founder's Day Banquet was Meads Mill Principal Ronald Horwath.

Robert Stover of the Meads Mill staff attended a three-day workshop on Cable-TV. Future plans will have the Northville schools included on a Cable-TV channel.

Last Thursday, the ninth grade class journeyed to the high school for the drama department's presentation of "Grease."

Another bake sale featuring home baked goodies was held March 18.

The Meads Mill counselors, David Adair and Jeffrey Radwanski, attended a two-day conference on career education in Ann Arbor March 16 and 17.

The PTSA Nominating Committee presented its slate of officers for the 1982-83 PTSA Board at the March meeting. It will be voted on at the April meeting.

On March 13, the combined Concert and Symphonic Bands attended a Band Festival at Slauson Junior High School in Ann Arbor. Under the direction of Gary Gandolfi, the band earned a II rating and the performance was well received.

March 10 was Career Day at Meads Mill. Approximately 30 guest speakers participated in the program. Students were able to select the speakers they wished to hear from a wide variety of professions.

Parent conferences were held March 9 and 11 at the school. Teachers reported they were very pleased with the parents' interest. Parents unable to attend the conference who wish to discuss their child's progress may call the school for appointments with the teachers.

OUR LADY OF VICTORY

Mrs. Sally Swift's first grade reports it is celebrating the Lenten season with the fourth grade through weekly paratiturgies. These ceremonies consist of songs, prayers and activities centered around the Life, Death and Resurrection of Christ. This activity will culminate with an Easter celebration.

First through eighth graders are sharing their talents during Lent in creating stories that first graders dictate to the eighth graders. We have many future authors at OLV.

The eighth graders are sponsoring a drawing for their trip to Washington. A 17-inch color TV, an AM-FM portable cassette stereo and $25 will be awarded Friday.

Congratulations to Katie Fagan, the winner of the sixth, seventh and eighth grades Spelling Bee and to Amy Nehs, the runner-up.

Landscape Planning is now yours for the asking!

At no cost! No obligation!

Yes it's true! On Saturday, April 3rd and Saturday, April 10th only, we're offering the services of our Landscape Designers free of charge.

Here's What you do!

Simply bring in a photograph of your home along with a plan or sketch of your property with dimensions showing the location of any existing trees, shrubs and garden areas. Be sure to mark in over-all house property dimensions too.

We will do the rest.

Taking into consideration any suggestions or preferences you might have, one of our experienced personnel will develop for you a suggested landscape plan. He will recommend the types of evergreens, deciduous trees, shrubs, perennials, hedges or whatever else you might require to have a beautifully landscaped home. Of course, you may complete your planting over a number of years if you wish. We will also supply you with a cost estimate of the plants. There is no obligation for this design service. But remember, we can only offer it free on Saturday, April 3rd and Saturday, April 10th, 1982.

Young people at First Methodist Church rehearse the musical "... And There Was Light!" in preparation for Sunday's performances

Local churches observe Holy Week

And when He was come nigh, even now at the descent of the Mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works that they had seen;

Saying, Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord: peace in heaven, and glory in the highest.

St. Luke, 19
King James version

Palm Sunday, the beginning of Holy Week, is being celebrated in local churches this Sunday in commemoration of Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem.

At First United Methodist Church 57 young people in grades 7-12 will be presenting "... And There Was Light!" in performances at 10 and 11:30 a.m. at the church on Palm Sunday.

By Cam Floria and Jeff Kennedy, it is described as "a youth musical about the greatest force in the universe ... Light and the Light of the World, Jesus Christ!"

Directed by Gary and Stacey Becker, the musical uses song, dance and narration to tell the story of Palm Sunday and Easter.

Director Stacey Becker explains that "a mixture of musical styles is presented, including light rock, ballad, folk and light dance music. Instrumentation will be with piano, organ, percussion, trumpet, baritone and flute."

Following last Sunday's church service, those attending were served soup in fellowship hall with donations going to a fund to send the young people to Indiana to perform the spring musical there in May.

The Reverend Guenther C. Branstner announces that special hymns for the Palm Sunday services have been pasted into the front covers of the church hymnals.

They are old-style versions with "much better tunes," he explains, noting that Judy Baltz, Gary Harper, Kyle Boring, Amy Mathis and Julie, Mindy and Ricks Watkins assisted him in the pasting project.

The April general meeting of the United Methodist Women will be an Easter meditation, led by the Reverend Branstner, and Communion followed by brunch in fellowship hall at 10 a.m. Tuesday. At 11 a.m. the Livonia Stevenson High School Choir will present a program in the sanctuary. All women of the church are invited to participate.

First Presbyterian Church has scheduled the "Seven Last Words of Christ" by Theodore Dubois to be performed by the chancel choir of the church at 5 p.m. on Palm Sunday.

It will be sung under the direction of David Heinzman, director of music at the church. Soloists are Beth Jones, John Merrifield and Bill Williams. Alice Chamberlain is organist. A reception will follow in fellowship hall.

At Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church Holy Week will open with the Blessing of the Palms at all masses Sunday. A communal penance will be held at 3 p.m.

There will be masses at 8 a.m. Monday; at 9:20 a.m. Tuesday with individual confession at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m., and communal penance at 7:30 p.m.; and 8 a.m., 6:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday.

At St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church Palm Sunday is Youth Confirmation Day with 27 young people being confirmed by the Reverend Charles Boerger at the 10:30 a.m. service.

Christian Community Church will be welcoming the Reverend Jim and Louella Hance, currently missionaries serving the Assemblies of God as area representatives for the Pacific Islands, at the 11 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Palm Sunday services.

In addition to advising missionary families serving 16 island countries in the South Pacific, the Hances were involved in pioneering and constructing churches in Western Samoa.

Prior to missionary service Mr. Hance was assistant pastor at Christian Community Church at its Detroit location in 1958, as well as in pastorates in the state of Washington.

Presbyterian Women slate White Breakfast April 7

"Better Living Through Rejection" is the theme of the talk to be given by the Reverend Larry McMellen, former interim pastor, at the annual White Breakfast at First Presbyterian Church in Northville at 9 a.m. April 7.

An innovation for this year's Lenten event will be Communion served by four ministers before the breakfast. Chairman Kay Hendricksen announces that the church pastor Dr. Lawrence Chamberlain will be joined in offering Communion by the Reverend McMellen, the Reverend John Mishler, associate pastor, and the Reverend Lloyd Brasur, minister emeritus.

Men of the church are serving the brunch. Fourteen men have volunteered for this service, the chairman announces.

Charlene Frellick is in charge of food preparations for the brunch-type breakfast which will feature quiche. All women of the Northville-Nowi community are invited to attend, but reservations are necessary. They may be made with the church office, 349-0911.

Dr. Campbell visits in west

Longtime resident Dr. Stuart F. Campbell has returned from a two-month visit with his daughter Jane (a columnist and assistant editor of the View section of the Los Angeles Times) and her son in Santa Monica, California.

The trip also included travel to Phoenix, Higley and Tempe, Arizona, to visit Alice Hull, an old friend; nephew George Peck, head of the mathematics department at Arizona University and an authority on computer programming; and Mrs. Campbell's brother Joseph H. Austin and his wife Gaye.

Sightseeing included a short trip to Morro Bay (California) and visits to the Getty Museum and Hearst Castle as well as a special reunion with a boyhood friend, Burt Fleming. Mr. Fleming died a shortly afterward from congestive heart failure, after having lived with a heart condition for many years, Dr. Campbell reports.

On return he found several improvements to his optometry office, which had been closed for the six weeks but is open again on Dr. Campbell's four-day-a-week schedule.

Northville gourmet slates cooking classes

Anyone who would like to improve, or expand her (or his) cooking skills can do so by signing up for any of the five classes offered by Northville's Judy Antishin through the Farmington Community Center.

The first class is called "Gourmet Dinner with Judy" (formerly called "Make Ahead Gourmet") 6:30-8:30 p.m. April 7. The cost is $12 to learn how to prepare a seven-course sit-down dinner.

For salad lovers, there is a class called "Super Salad II" 10 a.m. until noon April 21. The $10 workshop will teach how to prepare five salads, beverage and dessert.

For those who would like to add a little "spice" to lunch, there is a class called "Gourmet Luncheon with Judy" 10 a.m. until noon April 28. The $10 workshop will place an emphasis on Nouvelle Cuisine and cooking with vegetables.

Another class is "Hor D'oeuvres - Easy and Elegant" 7-9 p.m. June 1. The $10 workshop will explain how to prepare six appetizers, two punches and a mini-cocktail party.

"Buffet Entertaining", which is designed for large and small formal and informal parties, is being offered 7-9 p.m. June 9. The cost is $10.

All of the above courses include recipes, lecture, demonstration of preparation, complete five-course luncheons and seven-course dinners. Appetizers are presented with a party. The salad and buffet classes include complete meals.

The Northville Record

Mustangs take aim at soccer title

By JOHN MYERS

With a strong nucleus of returning players, combined with a good mix of talented first-year players, coach Ron Meteyer believes this could be the best season ever in the short three-year history of the Northville girls' soccer team.

"I think we're going to be dynamite," Meteyer offered. "If we come off well against (Livonia)

Stevenson, I think there will be no stopping us."

The Mustangs face last year's West Suburban Soccer Association champion, Stevenson, at 7 p.m. Tuesday night on the Spartans' home field.

Northville, which placed second in the league with a 14-2-3 mark overall, split a pair of games with the Spartans last season. The Mustangs lost the opening contest of the 1981 season for both teams, 4-0, but upset Stevenson, 2-1, at the halfway mark.

However, if Meteyer had not found a quirk in the schedule, the two squads would not be playing each other at all this season. Farmington High School Athletic Director Frank Cotton was in charge of forming the league schedules for all teams this year, but Meteyer is miffed at how Cotton devised the schedules which originally did not have the Stevenson/Northville match up.

The WSSL is divided into two divisions, and, Meteyer explained, each team plays its divisional opponent twice during the year. But, there was not a consistent form used in scheduling opponents from the other division. Meteyer said his club plays some of the opposite division opponents either twice, once or not at all.

Playing Stevenson the first game of the year does

Wagner resigns as coach

By JOHN MYERS

Add Gene Wagner's name to the list of coaches who have stepped down from a varsity coaching position at Northville High School.

The second-year head mentor of the Mustang girls' basketball team has decided to let Meads Mill coach Rick Hurst take over the coaching reins.

"He seems to have a great interest in the girls' program, and he was at all of our games (last year). He also has helped create some interest in the program," Wagner said.

"My feeling is that I would only be around a couple of years more at the most, so why not move him up," he said.

Hurst was thankful for the opportunity Wagner made for him by stepping down. "I was to the point I was looking for an opportunity to move up somewhere else. This is a big step for me," he explained.

"I've had pretty good luck at the ninth grade level," said Hurst, who has been coaching at Meads Mill for four years.

Wagner indicated he has told Northville Athletic Director Ralph Redmond he would be interested in the taking over Hurst's job of coaching the Meads Mill girls' team.

"I think I can be helpful, and concentrate on the fundamentals at that level. Also, I could help generate interest in the program," Wagner explained.

First, the job must be posted within the school system to see if any teacher would like the position before it can be offered to anyone outside the system.

It probably will not be known until late spring who will have the Meads Mill job, Redmond said.

The Mustangs enjoyed one of their best seasons in nine years when Wagner guided the team to a 13-9 overall mark. Northville lost to Livonia Bentley in the Class A district final.

Mustang tennis team young, inexperienced

It seems like déjà vu for Northville's boys' tennis coach Dick Norton as he begins preparations for the 1982 season.

Before the five-time Western Six Conference champions began the 1981 season, Norton had only three returning letterwinners to fill the 10 starting slots on the team.

With such a young and inexperienced team, Norton's squad finished the season in third place in the W-Six with a 5-8 overall mark, 5-4 in league play, and placed fourth at the league meet.

This year is really no different. Again, only a handful of returning lettermen grace the squad as it prepares for the upcoming W-Six season and its first meet of the year against non-league foe Livonia Stevenson 4 p.m. Tuesday on the Spartans' courts.

"We're really an inexperienced team...really young team," Norton understated.

Only four returning lettermen are back this season. They are seniors Chris McCormick, Steve Ouellette and Matt Abraham and junior Rich Schohl.

Both Schohl and McCormick are being counted on by Norton to be singles players. Last season Schohl was the Mustangs' number-three singles player, while McCormick was teamed with Abraham to form the number-two doubles tandem.

Abraham, again, is being looked on as a doubles performer along with Ouellette, who was on last year's number-one doubles team with Tony Nader.

Another senior, John Vanderwoor, will be counted on by Norton to handle some doubles team responsibilities.

Junior Omer Anisoglu, who made to the semifinals of the junior varsity W-Six meet in singles last year, and Jeff Jamison are being slated for some singles play.

"He (Anisoglu) did very well at the jayvee tournament," praised Norton. But, Jamison is out with mononucleosis and will not be able to practice until next week, he said.

There is a group of promising sophomores in Arvan Sreedharan, Chris Sixt and Scott Werdeil.

The team was going to have challenge matches Monday, Norton said, in an attempt to find out where everyone stands. The Mustangs have been working out for the past two weeks, and until the past couple of days had only been able to get one workout outside.

A scrimmage against Ypsilanti has been slated for Thursday by Norton to see how his players perform under match conditions.

As for the Western Six race, Farmington Harrison should repeat as champions according to Norton. "They are an awfully strong team," he explained.

However, the fifth-year coach believes it will be a dogfight among Northville, Livonia Churchill, Walled Lake Western and Plymouth Canton for second place.

"We can take second, but it all hinges on how well we come along," he cautioned.

not please Meteyer, especially since there is not a chance for a rematch until tournament time, but the 22-member Mustang squad will be ready.

"This is the wrong time of the season to have this game. The game should be later in the year because it should be building up to a climax. However, we're going into the game very confident," Meteyer said.

"You could fill the stadium if it was played at the right time of the year, but not now. Tuesday it could be cold, windy and rainy," he added.

No matter, Meteyer is looking toward the start of the season with great anticipation.

"We'll be a very physical, very aggressive team," he assessed.

Also, the Mustangs will have more firepower on offense to complement an already strong defensive unit, according to Meteyer.

Of the 22 players who made the team, after 34 tried out, 10 are seniors headed by captains Marge Muller and Melissa McDaniel.

Most of the Mustangs' offensive scoring last year came from Muller, who has tallied more than 20 goals in each of her first two seasons on the varsity to lead the squad in that category.

McDaniel shared the goalie position last year with the now-graduated Karen Irwin, who was only one of two Mustangs to graduate from the squad.

Meteyer describes McDaniel as a strong goalie with good ball control. She will be backed by junior Jenny Gans, which prompted Meteyer to say, "We're in good shape at the goalie position."

The second-leading goal scorer for Northville last year was Elizabeth Bohan, while Jacques Nixon was one of the team's more dominate midfielders. Sharing up the defense will be Melinda House.

The rest of the seniors on the squad are Michele Mathes, Michele Waldman, Sara Nowka and Carol Sinner, who is a transfer from Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, but originally is from Livonia.

"I'm looking for a lot of leadership from our seniors. They have never known a losing season or bad season," Meteyer said.

The junior class is headed by standout Martina Millen, who also is a captain. "She has exceptional speed and good skills," praised Meteyer of the all-league defender.

Janice Irwin, Angie Butterfield and Christine Kreutzberg all are slated for some front line duty, while Tish Johnson and Joan Robins will be playing defense.

"I think this junior class is a real strong group of players," Meteyer praised.

Only five sophomores were placed on the squad, but Meteyer boasted, "this is a better group than any group any other team will have on the field."

Sue Borthwick is regarded as a scorer and good ball handler while Kim Petit has a lot of the same qualities as Millen, according to Meteyer.

Kelly Couits, Kim May and Amy Nieuwkoop round out the list of sophomores.

"We have a very, very strong and equally balanced team," Meteyer assessed. "I don't think we have any weak spots."

The Mustangs have scheduled two scrimmages at home this week. North Farmington, a team Northville will not face during the regular season, battles the Mustangs at 3:15 p.m. Thursday. Southfield will play Northville at 4 p.m. Friday.

Wagner steps down; Hurst named successor

Wagner directed the team to six wins in 21 outings during the 1980 campaign. His overall ledger for two seasons was 19-24.

"I'm very satisfied with the two years," he said.

Moving the ninth grade up to the high school would help the girls' basketball program, according to Wagner. It would help increase the number of participants, and allow for more playing time for the seventh and eighth graders who currently play with the ninth grade at the junior highs.

Hurst was not sure if that would be a good move at the present time. "I don't think it would be the best thing in the world. The kids in Northville don't get serious about basketball until they are in the ninth or 10th grade," he said.

Hurst plans to teach the players a lot. He complimented them on being smart. "We have smart kids. They learn fast and think fast on their feet," he said.

Hurst said he likes to have his teams run and press full court, which will be different from from what fans saw last year.

Benefit cage game scheduled

There will be a benefit basketball contest at 7 p.m. Tuesday, April 6, in the Northville High School gymnasium between a team composed of NHS faculty members against a team from rock radio station WLLZ-FM. Tickets can be purchased in advance at the high school office for $1, or for $1.50 at the game.

Proceeds from the benefit game will go toward the 1982 Senior Class fund.

Late baseball registration ends

Late baseball registration will end today. Coaches still are needed for C. F. and E League teams.

Softball registration for new teams ends Friday. Registration will be conducted on a first come, first serve basis. For more information, call 349-0203.

The winning 50/50 drawing number is 0196621. The prize money must be claimed at the rec office by Saturday, April 3.

Almost anybody can learn something from a Home Energy Analysis.

Including the president of Consumers Power.

You may think you've done just about all you can to make your home energy-efficient. John Selby, president of Consumers Power Company, did. Until, that is, he decided to take part in the Residential Conservation Services Program and have a Home Energy Analysis.

Conducted under guidelines set down by the Department of Energy and the State of Michigan, a Home Energy Analysis is possibly the best way yet to determine precisely what you can do to get the best energy performance out of your home. It features a thorough inspection by a specially trained energy Consultant who'll feed the pertinent data on your house into a computer that will give you back, on the spot, such information as the cost of improvements, how much you'll save, and how long it will take you to recover your investment. That way, for example, you won't waste money under-insulating or over-insulating.

And that's only one feature of a Home Energy Analysis. There'll be tips on do-it-yourself conservation measures, advice on alternate energy sources, help on applying for home improvement loans, free inspections, and much more.

A Home Energy Analysis costs $10, but odds are it can show you how to cut your fuel bill substantially. The fact is that no matter how sophisticated your knowledge of energy and energy conservation, a computer-analysis of your house will almost certainly turn up a thing or two that can save you money on energy.

Even if you happen to be the president of Consumers Power. As well insulated as John Selby's house is, a Home Energy Analysis showed that he could benefit from the following: caulking, a clock thermostat and a water heater wrap.

Call us today for a Home Energy Analysis and let us show you some of the same.

Hard work pays off for skier Getzen

Although Rick Getzen has been cross country skiing competitively for four years, this past season was one of the most rewarding for him.

The senior at Northville High School won the under 17 year old division at the North American Vasa Race at Traverse City February 13. He took fifth overall in the 27 1/2 kilometer race.

He also competed in the prestigious American Birkebeiner at Cable, Wisconsin, February 27, but was unsure of his standing due to errors made by officials in recording finish times for the 6,500 skiers competing in the event. Getzen competed in the 27 1/2 kilometer Korteloppet for his age division.

His success this season came after a lot of hard work and help on his skiing technique from Northville's Tom Berry.

"I enjoy it (cross country skiing) a lot," said Getzen, who began racing competitively when he was in eighth grade. "I do it for fun. I wouldn't be out there if I didn't enjoy it."

"You have to train for (racing). It's not something you pick up at winter time," Getzen noted.

Some of his training methods include daily calisthenics, jumping rope, weight lifting and running. Getzen also used "roller skis" (ski which have small wheels attached to the bottom) during the summer to work on his technique.

Running on the Northville cross country team last fall helped Getzen improve his cardiovascular system as well.

However, he noted there is more room for improvement on his technique, and that is where Berry fits in.

"He's brought me along the right way," praised Getzen, who added he consults with Berry often in addition to training with him at Maybury State Park.

"Tom's been real good for my attitude. He's been my source of anything I've derived out of the sport," said Getzen, who also appreciates the support his parents have shown him.

One of the best ways to improve technique, Getzen believes, is by watching a person using proper cross country skiing form.

"The best teacher is the eyes. You have to be around people who have proper technique," he explained.

Both Berry and his wife, Marianne, are licensed cross country ski instructors who agree with Getzen.

"The only way you get better is by practicing," Tom said.

The pair also said they learned the proper technique by working with Yugoslavian Olympian Vojin Biao one year at Traverse City. So, to put back into the sport what they had learned, they decided to become instructors.

"That's what we need...more teachers," Getzen observed.

Getzen also believes more work has to be done with the younger ages to generate more interest in the sport, which is where Marianne Berry is making some headway.

She has formed a Billy Koch League, initiated by the great U.S. Olympian who won a Silver Medal at the 1976 Winter Games in Austria, for children ages 13 and under.

The young skiers work on technique, Marianne said, and the parents are asked to participate in as many sessions as possible.

"It's fitness for the family," she explained.

All three agreed the sport is for everyone. "The average person can really enjoy themselves. The sports lend themselves to everyone's style," Tom said.

"I see people 60- and 70-years-old still skiing, and they ski well. Skiing has made them stay young, and it's so neat to see," he added.

It's also been fun for Berry to watch the improvement Getzen has made in cross country racing. "He's always showed the potential," Tom said.

However, Getzen is unsure if he wants to make the commitment required to try to become a member of the United States cross country ski team with the hopes of making the Olympic team because there is no guarantee of making it.

He is just satisfied with how things have progressed to this point.

"I'm not a glory seeker...everyone likes to win. Just being competitive is fun. I've had my share of winning races. I just love the chance to match wits," Getzen explained.

NOW, Being a Non-Smoker Can Do More than Just Improve Your Health

It Can Reduce Your Homeowners Insurance Rates By 10%, Too!

We've known for years that not smoking was a good idea for health reasons, and now, it's a good idea for homeowners insurance reasons, too. Citizens Insurance Company of America is offering a 10% discount on homeowners insurance for non-smoking households.

All you have to do to qualify is to verify that no one residing in your home has smoked for the past year, and your Citizens homeowners premium is reduced by 10%. It's that simple.

For all details on the Citizens 10% discount for non-smoking homeowners, stop in or call your local Citizens Agent today.

Baseball tryouts slated

Tryouts for the Northville Junior baseball program will take place Saturday at various fields.

H-League tryouts will be held at the township hall field, while G-League will conduct tryouts at Fish Hatchery field number one. The Primary and Intermediate softball tryouts will take place at Fish Hatchery field number two. All tryouts start at 10 a.m.

Also, the F-League tryouts begin 1 p.m. at Fish Hatchery field number one. The E-League tryouts will be scheduled at a later date.

Any 15- or 16-year-old boy interested in trying out for the Mickey Mantle team should contact Jim Newman at 349-1374 or Bob Frellick at 349-2840. Boys must not be 17-years-old before August 1.

Local soccer clinic scheduled

Schoolcraft College is offering a four-day soccer clinic beginning April 5. Designed for boys and girls ages eight through 14, the clinic will meet from 4-6 p.m. in the Schoolcraft Physical Education Building. Enrollment is limited to 40 participants.

A $20 fee must accompany the registration form. For more information, call the physical education office at 591-6400, extension 480.

Color and name our Easter Bunny!

Help our bunny get ready for Easter and you could be a winner. Just color this picture and give our bunny a name. Then bring your entry to our store...no purchase is necessary.

Here's what you could win:

A Loveable Plush Bunny

Official rules:

1. Color the bunny and give it a name.
2. Complete the official entry form by printing your name, age, address and phone number.
3. Deposit the entry blank in our store no later than Saturday, April 10.
4. Entries will be judged on neatness, appropriateness and originality. Decision of the judges is final.
5. Contest is open to children 12 years of age or younger. Three age categories: Age groups 3-6; 7-9; 10-12. Employees of the store and their families are not eligible.
6. No purchase necessary. No substitution of prizes.
7. A list of winners will be available in the store after completion of the contest.

TG&Y family centers

TG&Y's policy is to always have advertised merchandise in adequate supply in our stores. In the event the advertised merchandise is not available due to unforeseen reasons, TG&Y will provide a Rain Check, upon request, in order that the merchandise may be purchased at the sale price when it becomes available, or you may purchase similar quality merchandise at a similar price reduction. It is the policy of TG&Y to see that you are happy with your purchases. It is TG&Y's policy to be priced competitively in the market. Regular Sale Prices may vary market by market, but the sale price will always be as advertised. We will be happy to refund your money if you are not satisfied with your purchase. VISA® and MasterCard® accepted.
