Governor Milliken tours Main Street during his dedication visit

Milliken lauds city for downtown project

By JEAN DAY

What Northville has done in its downtown renovation "will be a model for other towns and cities for years to come," observed an obviously pleased Governor William G. Milliken last Friday as he officially unveiled the dedication plaque in the new town square opposite the theater.

The ceremony shortly before 10 a.m. followed a breakfast program at First Presbyterian Church. Local, state and national officials as well as those who had worked for more than four years to make the downtown renewal a reality formed the capacity crowd in fellowship hall of the church.

As Governor Milliken walked the short distance from the church to the town park, he paused to inspect a bench and view the new clock, commenting to Mayor Paul Vernon and others in the crowd strolling along from the church.

"It is an occasion I would not have missed," he told the breakfast assembly, mentioning he had risen at 5:30 a.m. to be able to attend.

He departed from his prepared notes to acknowledge a brief tribute a few minutes earlier from Representative Jack Kirksey who lauded the governor as a man "who has had to take some difficult stands on different issues."

Kirksey, who had voted against the state income tax, said he "always has admired the courageous way he (Milliken) has provided leadership." Rather than gathering laurels for his record 14 years as governor when he knew he was not running again, Kirksey said, he continued to press for what he believed.

It was noted that Governor Milliken has strongly promoted the legislation in 1975 that made possible financing of the Downtown Development Authority project.

Bell's top contender for superintendent post

By MICHELE McELMURRY

Van Dyke Public Schools Superintendent George Bell is the Northville Board of Education's top contender for the district's superintendent's post following week-long interview proceedings which came to a close last Thursday.

Bell, who met with the board last night at the Hillside Inn in Plymouth, is thus far the only one of eight candidates to be called back for a second interview.

The board reached its decision in an informal discussion session last Friday. According to board president Karen Wilkinson, there was no formal motion made on the selection because board members "reached a consensus where we all felt comfortable."

Prior to Friday's meeting, there was some speculation as to the number of finalists the board would call back for second-round interviews.

In addition to Bell, other candidates interviewed last week were Burton Knighton, Assistant Superintendent of Northville Public Schools; George

Public hearing set tonight on proposed city budget

Northville City Council indicated at its meeting Monday night that it probably will pass a proposed $2,690,472 budget for 1982-83 that includes a millage increase following a public hearing at 8 p.m. tonight (Wednesday) at city hall.

The budget includes a two-mill additional property tax levy that raises the proposed city operating millage to 15.68 mills, an increase from the 1981 operating rate of 13.68 mills.

This proposed tax rate would result in an increase of 14.6 percent over the tax revenues which could be levied by the city without holding a public hearing. The hearing notice states the city council has the authority under city charter to set the millage rate within its maximum millage rate, which is 19.25 mills for 1982 as a result of the Headlee Amendment provisions.

City Manager Steven Walters has based the proposed millage rate on a state equalization factor of 1.00. If the state imposes a higher factor, the proposed millage rate will be reduced to offset the factor increase.

At Monday's special council meeting a hearing was held, as required by law, on proposed use of federal revenue sharing funds expected to total $48,000.

Council member J. Burton DeRusha stated at the hearing that he felt the city had made a commitment to fire inspection for all commercial buildings at an

Crash kills three near school

Overcast skies apparently were a major factor in the crash of a small plane that exploded in a wooded area of the Northville High School grounds early Saturday afternoon, killing all three occupants. Hundreds were gathered in the streets downtown at the time and two little league ball teams played on a nearby diamond.

Killed were pilot Mitchell A. Williams, 55, of Flint, his 22-year-old daughter Michele Ann and family friend Mayme Lou Kilby, 59, of Miami, Florida. The county medical examiner's autopsy Monday determined all three died on impact of multiple injuries.

The National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB, part of the Department of Transportation) with the assistance of the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) is investigating to determine the cause of the crash on the heavily overcast, rainy day. Such an investigation often takes several months, the local FAA office reported.

Police Chief Rodney Cannon told city council Monday night preliminary evidence indicates the pilot was probably lost, perhaps circling, after "losing his horizon" in a case of pilot vertigo. The plane was seen several times in the area, flying in and out of the clouds.

The plane took off from Lapeer County Airport, bound for Kentucky to visit a friend of Kilby's, according to a relative of the Williamses in Flint. Williams had been a World War II flier and was licensed to pilot the single-engine, four-passenger Beechcraft Musketeer he purchased in February, the same source said.

NTSB Air Safety Inspector James Michaelangelo said Tuesday that Williams was licensed for non-instrument flying but Saturday's weather was classified for instrument flying only. "The weather was a very big factor," the inspector said. "He should not even have been flying that day." The aircraft was not equipped with the type of instruments called for in such weather.

The plane crashed at 1:24 p.m. Saturday. It may have circled the area or flown a curved path in the densely clouded sky. It was heard or seen by a few participants in downtown dedication family fun day on Main Street before it crashed into the trees on the south side of Eight Mile just west of Sheldon Road. Most of those in the downtown celebration continued activities, apparently unaware of the tragedy only blocks away.

The little league Phillies and Mets teams, composed of about 25 children under seven years old, were playing on a diamond at Amerman Elementary School, about 200-250 feet away from the crash site across Eight Mile.

A wrought iron arch graces the new entrance to the veterans' plot

The faithful who annually walk the shaded roads through Rural Hill Cemetery to the veterans' plot on Memorial Day will find a new tribute to the community's war dead next Monday.

Marchers in the parade that begins at 10 a.m. will be passing through a wrought iron arch erected at the entrance to the veterans' plot by Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4012 and Lloyd H. Green American Legion Post 147.

Inscribed "Veterans Memorial," the arch is topped with a simple cross. It was erected three weeks ago. Members of both posts were working last weekend, as usual, to prepare the plot for the Memorial Day ceremonies.

Again this year the voice of Fat Bob Taylor will echo across the cemetery as he sings the National Anthem and other selections during the program.

Keynote speaker will be General James Pelton of the U.S. Army, based at Detroit headquarters.

State seeks bids for proposed hospital barrier hedge

By KEVIN WILSON

State mental health authorities are seeking bids on the proposed planting of a barrier hedge surrounding Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital. The hedge presumably would act as a deterrent to patients of the hospital who often "walk away" from the Seven Mile Road institution.

Hospital director John Reynolds said last week he had been instructed to solicit bids for the project shortly prior to legislative approval of the temporary increase in the state income tax. State representative Jack Kirksey had earlier speculated that the hedge proposal had been linked to the income tax plan.

"Mr. (C. Patrick) Babcock (director of the Department of Mental Health) instructed us to send it (the hedge proposal) out for bids," Reynolds said Friday. "We have sent it out for bids, and expect them to be returned in about two weeks."

While the bidding process does not commit the state to planting the hedge, Reynolds noted, "it's a step in that direction. It's a matter of getting estimates of what it would cost and so forth. It's my impression that if the bids are reasonable we would go ahead."

Kirksey said Tuesday morning he understands there has been only one bid received but the state likes to have three to compare. If no other bidders are found in the next week to 10 days, he indicated, the single bid could be accepted.

The hedge was first proposed last year in the midst of heightened concern about walkaways after a mental patient entered a home in the Lakes of Northville subdivision. Donnie Clarke, the escapee, was prosecuted for trespassing and was fined, police report.

The barrier hedge was perceived as a compromise between nearby residents who have long advocated a fence around the facility and those within DMH who contend such a fence would be counterproductive to treatment.

By avoiding the prison-like appearance of a fence while posing a barrier to some walkaways, it was argued, a dense, tall hedge would answer the needs of both residents and DMH.

The specific type of hedge proposed is a type of rose bush that has been used for traffic barriers and in other applications similar to the one at the hospital. Once mature, it is said to be virtually impenetrable.

Kirksey said current planning, as he learned Monday at a monthly hospital security meeting, would be a for a fall planting. "The present bidder could plant in spring, but would not guarantee survival of the plants because of a watering problem," he said.

Either expensive watering on the very lengthy hedge would be required, "or we'd have to hope for the right weather." In fall climatic conditions would be best, he related, "and they'd be on their way come spring."

A change to proposal resulted from surveying the job, Kirksey related. "They found when they got back in the woods, they could not plant the hedges there because there isn't enough sunlight," he said. In those areas, a cyclone fence will connect the hedge line.

He cautioned that, when planted, the hedge "might look a little ridiculous," as the plants would be single shoots about 18 inches long. City police chief Rodney Cannon, who has seen the full-grown hedge, reportedly said there was no doubt in his mind as to its efficiency as a barrier in the long run "but it might draw ridicule at first from those who thought the hedge was not the best solution in the first place," Kirksey said.

The plant to be used grows very swiftly, according to those involved in the planning. Kirksey also noted that the hospital plans to build a guard house at the main entrance on Seven Mile. This project would be done in-house, so does not require bidding."

Continued difficulties with walkaway patients from the hospital were noted by Police Chief Kenneth Hardesty at the May 13 township board of trustees meeting. According to police figures, the department apprehended four escapees during April. Between the apprehensions and time spent assisting hospital security forces in returning patients to the hospital, the police department expended one hour and 49 minutes of employee time.

One of those apprehended during April was suspected of criminal activity—attempted auto theft. More recently, an escapee last week is suspected of breaking and entering two Seven Mile road dwellings (see police blotter).

More than 45 escapees were reported to police in April, with 25 of those being returned to the hospital. The figures include patients who have strayed from the facility but did not leave the grounds.

For the previous year (ended April 1), the department report notes 703 escapees with 672 returned and 18 at large.

Township and hospital figures disagree as to the extent of the problem, as state calculations do not count missing patients later recovered on the grounds as escapees. Escapees who do not return by their release dates are listed as early releases rather than escapes.

Parade marchers ready for Memorial Day events

Paul Vernon and city council member J. Burton DeRusha, Township Supervisor John MacDonald, Representative Jack Kirksey, Senator R. Robert Geake and Wayne County Sheriff William Lucas.

"This will be one of the most impressive parade ceremonies in years," promises Dixie Carr, coordinator for the VFW post which is in charge of this year's planning. The veterans' posts take turns arranging the Memorial Day programming.

Because this is an observance, not a celebration, says Carr, bicycles are prohibited.

General Pelton will be accompanied here by a marching platoon. There also is to be an Army Reserve band in the parade as well as a piper from St. Andrew's Society.

Northville High School Band will be participating as will the local Masonic lodges.

Parade Grand Marshals will be David McDougall, representing the American Legion, and Everett McCallum, representing the VFW.

Both township and city police and fire departments will participate. Dignitaries will ride in automobiles being supplied by Massey Cadillac.

The parade is to form at Ford Field and proceed along Main through downtown to Wing.

It will turn left on Wing to Cady, stopping as it proceeds west to place a memorial wreath in Oakland Cemetery on Cady Street.

Marchers will continue along Cady to Rogers, turning south into the cemetery. At the cemetery bridge the parade traditionally pauses to honor those who died at sea by throwing a wreath into the stream.

After the ceremonies in the cemetery, the paraders will return via Rogers to Main, going east to Cady and south to the Casterline Funeral Home parking lot by the American Legion.

Again this year Ray J. Casterline will supply ice cream bars at the end of the march.

(Left to right) Police Chief Rodney Cannon, Corporal Donald Landcaster and Sergeant Al Cox survey the tail section of the plane

Plane crash near high school kills three

Witnesses said the plane came out of the clouds nearly parallel to Eight Mile east of Sheldon crossed the road and clipped a tree and a power line, cut a swath through the stand of trees and slammed into the earth under power.

When I saw him he was going straight down, offered Greg Kemp who was chopping wood at his Randolph home northeast of the site at the time. I lost it in the trees and about two seconds later I heard the explosion.

City police Corporal Donald Landcaster and his partner were on routine patrol in the area when the plane crashed.

We had just turned out of (the high school driveway) onto Sheldon. As soon as we made our turn we heard the engine cough. I told it was losing power, Landcaster said.

It came out of the clouds about roof top high. I looked at Tony (Tilger a dispatcher) and he said, I think the plane is coming down. It was like it just jumped out of the clouds.

There was a wire which I don't even know whether he flew over or under it. Then the wing clipped a tree, losing part of it. The plane then made a sharp bank to the right and took out a power line. The plane started to explode on impact.

One of the Little League players reportedly told a parent he thought a bomb had gone off according to Chuck Collins, Mets manager.

I didn't see it right away one of the adults helping me yelled and I turned, Collins said. I saw it going into the trees and I saw the debris coming across Eight Mile. Then it exploded. It was a ball of fire as high as the tree tops.

Collins said at the time the biggest scare was the explosion and turning attention to keeping the kids back they were all pretty scared. He did not immediately identify the debris he saw come across Eight Mile, but police confirm that the plane's propeller was found leaning against the fence surrounding the ball diamond more than 100 feet from the point of impact. The door to the plane was found on Eight Mile Road.

The coach said he and the 10-12 other adults at the scene saw to the children

'The weather was a very big factor. He should not have been flying that day'

— James Michaelangelo, NTSB Air Safety Inspector

then went to see if they could assist those in the plane.

Kemp too went to the scene immediately upon hearing the explosion and seeing the smoke.

I was one of the first ones there, he said. One guy ran up with a fire extinguisher from his truck, the first body we found was burning a little, he trained the extinguisher on that. There were a lot of people, a lot of onlookers but there was really nothing to do.

Jim Gatti parent of one of the young ballplayers and co-coach with Collins had a similar impression when he arrived at the scene. As soon as we got there it was obvious they were dead, he said.

The flames according to most witnesses were dramatic but short lived. "I'd imagine most of the fuel went up in the crash, Gatti elaborated. By the time we got across the road there were just a few flames here and there on the ground."

Cannon told council it seemed the plane may have been circling for a long time since it left Lapeer with a full fuel tank yet the short duration of the fire at the crash indicates there was little fuel left when the plane hit.

Kemp said a green volunteer fire truck arrived soon after the crash and with the aid of some bystanders put out what flames there were before the bulk of the fire department arrived.

The low flying plane was heard for a long time before it was seen according to most of those interviewed. Kemp related a second-hand report a call was placed to Pontiac Airport when a witness heard a plane in trouble over his place at Grand River and Taft.

Michaelangelo said witnesses were found five and six miles away "who saw him ducking in and out of the clouds on his way toward Northville."

The direction of the flight led most observers to speculate the pilot was lost ed, noting the crowds on Main Street, closed to traffic for the final day of the downtown dedication celebration.

Reports differed on whether the sound of the plane might indicate mechanical problems. Kemp who served his time in the Army in an Airborne Division and has acquaintances with planes said the engine sounded healthy and was "running at high RPMs (revolutions per minute) I think that was probably because any plane in a dive, its engine will run fast."

Steve Nichols, who served as a pilot in Vietnam, speculated that the pilot may have been doing aerobatics, an idea rejected by most others at the scene. "I heard him up there fooling around," said Nichols, who was tending his North Center Street lawn. "He was coming in under power."

Sergeant Cox, FAA inspector Joseph Mastro, Corporal Lancaster and Chief Cannon seek clues to accident

Plane crashes, explodes near ballgame

There was agreement on the latter point among those who noticed anything about the engine's sound. "The plane was full throttle after it hit the tree," said Lancaster.

Gatti said he heard no evidence of mechanical difficulty. "He seemed to be under full power, he came across the road and kind of banked it to the right and went into the trees."

Angelo said Tuesday his examination of the wreckage indicates the plane struck the ground at between 90 and 110 miles per hour with the engine running at high RPMs. He found no indication of any mechanical difficulty, he said.

Family members in Flint reported that Williams, the pilot, was a truck driver with Earl C. Smith, Incorporated of Flint. Michele Ann, the daughter killed in the crash, was the youngest of four, a 1978 graduate of Flint Northern High School and studying to be an X-ray technician at the St. Joseph Hospital School of Radiology in Flint.

Williams' wife Cleo died last year. Survivors include daughters Lovette Norman of Arkansas, Clara Crowley of Fenton and Dale Gross of Flint. The Florida woman, Mayme Lou Kilby, was a family friend from vacation trips the Williams family had taken in the last year of Cleo's life, the relative reported.

The flight Saturday was to visit friends of Kilby for the weekend in Lawrenceburg, Kentucky, near Lexington.

Collins and Gatti said Monday they are concerned about the children's reaction to having seen the crash.

"We have a game out there (at the same diamond) Wednesday (today)," Collins said. "I've been talking to the parents, to see how the kids are doing, and they say they'd be more disappointed if there wasn't a game."

Gatti said he thinks affects on the children will be minimal. "Very few of them, I think, really know what they saw. Some of them do, but we kept them back away from it, so they didn't see much."

"The explosion was quite dramatic, most of the kids probably reacted most to that. They weren't looking that way, they were looking at the coaches, we were trying to get our lineups in order."

Michaelangelo said the investigation was hampered somewhat by the plane having gone through the trees, but that he is certain of his facts. "You go through trees it's like going through a cheese shredder," he said. "So I can't tell you if he was going 102.22 miles per hour, but I can determine basically what happened."

The NTSB inspector must produce a report of the accident within 48 days, which then must be approved by a board in Washington, D.C., before official determination of the cause of the accident can be made.

This story was reported by Record staff members John Myers and Kevin Wilson, by Editor Jean Day and Photographer Steve Fecht. It was written by Wilson.

Propellor, wheel and door were scattered far from point of impact

City absorbs minor costs from plane crash clean-up

Cost of protecting the plane crash site on the high school grounds and then of storing remaining wreckage will not be a burden on the city budget, Police Chief Rodney Cannon said Monday.

"We'll recover just about all — the bulk of the costs — from the FAA and from the insurance company," he explained. The police department won't come out totally free, he continued, as there will be some charges. He noted that an officer had to spend time Monday at the county medical examiner's office.

However, cost of having an officer on the scene until the middle of the day Sunday to keep the wreckage secured, he said, will be borne by either the FAA or the plane's insurer.

DPW charges for removing and storage of the wreckage for the FAA also will be paid, he noted. Chief Cannon said that it was helpful in the situation that extra police already were on duty because of the downtown celebration.

The airplane crash was not the first in the city's history. Also in May, but in 1959 — 23 years ago — an Air Force National Guard jet nosedived to the ground in the back yard of the home of the then-newly appointed Police Chief Eugene King.

The home was located 100 yards from Main Street Elementary School.

Two of King's children playing in the yard, three-year-old Elizabeth and her brother David, 9, however, suffered second and third degree burns. Major John L. Moutier of Belleville bailed out safely and landed in Cass Benton Park. He told reporters the plane had gone "completely out of control."

Inspector praises police

National Transportation Safety Board inspector James Michaelangelo had nothing but praise for the professionalism of local police departments he encountered investigating the airplane crash here Saturday.

The Chicago-based air safety inspector said the city department "did a very good job, especially Lieutenant James Petres. He's a pilot himself, he did very well. He got everybody out there quickly and secured the scene immediately."

He said the crash site is "like a crime scene, anytime something gets moved or touched, it makes my job more difficult. I was really impressed with the police work there, sometimes you get into a small town and the police are kind of squirrely, but your police forces there are very professional."

Chief Rodney Cannon returned the compliment in his remarks to City Council Monday night, saying it was regrettable his department only contacted professionals such as the FAA and NTSB inspectors in the event of tragedy.

Cannon also praised the assistance given by township and Michigan State Police forces at the scene.

Milliken's visit makes downtown dedication official

"In many respects this has been my toughest year," Governor Milliken acknowledged.

"But I have every conviction that a year from now we will see a different state. There's no question that Michigan has been hit, but we are resilient, resourceful and have enormous talent."

"There are trends that indicate, before this year is out, Michigan will be in the forefront, if not actually leading the states in recovery."

Milliken stated he was "especially pleased" to attend the dedication of the first city in the state to begin a project under the state Tax Increment Financing Law of 1975. He called the result "the product of the creative joining of state programs with local energy and imagination."

He continued, "It is gratifying to know that even in these economically depressed times the state was able in some small way to help you rebuild and preserve your community."

"It is a real thrill to see a law translated into bricked sidewalks, trees, shrubbery, parks, Victorian agencies such as graceful street lamps, park benches, and a charming four-sided town clock. We, in government like Representative Kirksey and Congressman (Carl) Pursell don't always get to see dry legislation converted into reality."

"But you have taken the best that your past had to offer, preserved it, developed it and built upon it to produce what we see today."

As he referred to the tax increment financing law, the governor explained that it is based on the assumption that the improvements made downtown will result in increased property values. The increased values will result in increased tax revenues. The law, then, allows the city to keep these increased revenues downtown until the improvements that started the whole process are paid.

"It is an imaginative approach to public improvement financing and it has been imaginatively applied here in Northville, allowing the city to launch the most ambitious project in the community since the first settlers staked out their claims some 155 years ago."

Governor Milliken drew laughter as he observed, "I also was impressed with the wisdom and tenacity of Mayor Paul Vernon and other city leaders who did not let one rejection at the polls discourage them. When a light voter turnout resulted in rejection of bonding for public improvements in the downtown development area, the mayor, the city council, the chamber of commerce, and others embarked on a public information campaign that got out the vote and won approval by a nearly four-to-one margin the second time around."

"If it hadn't been for that second effort, we would not be gathering here this morning."

"Let me say in passing that I am familiar with second efforts...and thirds...and fourths...when it comes to trying to win votes to your side."

"It is easy to forget as we bask in the limelight of general public approval on a happy occasion like this, that the decisions made along the way were not always popular and that someone had to stand up and defend them."

Governor Milliken concluded by offering his congratulations, saying, "I am happy for all of you...I hope that this three-day celebration is just the start of a long and bright future, and I am proud that the state had a hand in your success."

Before Governor Milliken addressed the breakfast gathering, the Reverend Guenther C. Branstner of First United Methodist Church in his invocation saluted officials attending and those who had made the downtown project a reality.

"Heavenly Father," he prayed, "we are grateful for men and women who are willing to take high visibility positions in state and community, who despite personal disadvantages, are willing to make decisions that cannot possibly please all factions. For this kind of courage, sometimes walking hand in hand with drudgery, we are grateful. Without such patient tenacity little would be accomplished."

"For dreamers, for doers, for those who bring imagination to the ordinary, we thank thee. May your blessings be upon us as we share these moments about the tables. Use us in the building of a better world."

The rain that had been threatening all morning held off as the procession led by the governor and the head table party of council members moved out to Main Street.

Fat Bob Taylor sang the Star Spangled Banner in the park to the accompaniment of the Northville High School Band under the direction of Michael Rumbell.

The breakfast was hosted by Northville Rotary Club.

Police seek warrant for arrest of hospital escapee

In the township...

Township police are seeking a warrant for a Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital patient suspected of breaking and entering at two Seven Mile Road homes May 20.

According to Chief Kenneth Hardesty, the owner of one of the homes called police to say his house had been broken into and "the complainant felt the subject may still be inside the residence."

Before police arrived, Hardesty continued, the complainant saw a man flee from the back of the residence. Both the chief and a state trooper were dispatched to back up the township patrolman on the scene.

The suspect, an escapee from the state mental health facility, was found sitting in a Corvette at a nearby residence. In the course of the investigation, police discovered a neighboring house had also been broken into and entered.

The hospital resident was returned to the institution pending issuance of a warrant. Police are suppressing other information while they seek a warrant for the man's arrest.

A pay telephone valued at $350 was reported stolen from a back room at Meadowbrook Country Club May 18, police reports show.

The phone and an unknown quantity of coins inside it was in a section of the bag room partitioned off for use of caddies at the golf course. The door to the area may have been left open due to a failure in communications between parties using the key, police discovered. The incident reportedly occurred between 6:15 p.m. May 17 and 1 p.m. May 18.

Theft of a $300 moped from behind a Jamestown Circle residence was reported May 19. The owner told police the moped was parked in front of a car, with the wheel chained to the frame.

It reportedly was in place at 8 a.m. but gone by 9:20 a.m. A neighbor reported seeing a suspicious looking pickup truck with another moped in the bed, driving with its lights out, in the early morning hours that day.

A man's watch valued at $40 and $150 cash were reported stolen from the inside of a car parked in a garage at a Fry Street residence May 21.

The owner told police the doors to the building and vehicle were both closed but not locked between 9:30 p.m. May 20 and 9:30 a.m. May 21, when the theft probably happened.

A gas tank valued at $150 was reported stolen from a truck at a Seven Mile Road business sometime last week.

The owner told police the tank was in place on the dump truck at noon May 15 and found missing at 2 a.m. May 20. Investigation revealed an opening cut in the chainlink fence.

...in the city

Thieves stole more than $1,200 worth of items from an Ely Street residence between May 15 and 17, city police reports indicate.

Taken in the breaking and entering of the home were a $200 instant movie projector, $53 and $20 instant cameras, $100 35mm camera, $88 gold watch, $60 men's gold plated watch, three gold chains worth $30, $100 man's gold ring, $30 man's ring with green birthstone, two silver candle sticks worth $25, four 1920 silver dollars and miscellaneous silver and Canadian coins worth $24.

The person who was watching the home for the vacationing owners noticed the abode had been vandalized, the report indicates.

In talking with the owner, police were told the screen from a window leading to a rear bathroom had been removed and was lying on the floor. Also, the window was slightly ajar, the report said.

It appeared the suspects attempted to gain entry through the window prior to prying the door open, the report states.

Police also questioned a neighbor who said on the night of May 17 her baby had trouble sleeping. The baby was crying and she went into the baby's room, which faces the victim's home, and turned on a light at 4 a.m.

It appeared this may have startled the suspects, since police saw a rifle and other items were left in the home after being taken out and placed on the floor, the report said.

Arson is believed to be the cause of a fire in a four-foot diameter plastic swimming pool at an Allen Drive residence May 19, city police report. The pool was valued at $15.

The owner said the suspects poured gas into the pool and set it on fire. Two gas cans had been removed from an unlocked back porch. Also, they removed a gas cap from a lawn mower on the back porch, the report said.

Police found a beer can near the pool which smelled as if there were gas in it. A neighbor stated seeing some kids around the pool before the fire, the report indicated.

Damage of $250 to nine headstones at Rural Hill Cemetery took place sometime between May 14 and 17, police said. An employee noticed the headstones were knocked over when he entered the work area.

Unknown persons broke the plate glass door window of Getzie's Pub, 153 East Main Street, (formerly Joe's Little Bar) May 20, police said. No amount of damage was listed.

The windshield of a 1979 Corvette was broken while the car was parked on Hutton Street May 20, police said. Apparently, a large stone broke the window, causing $200 damage, according to the report.

Reapportionment nearly done, precincts still holding Splitting election precincts for upcoming elections in Northville township is becoming a concern of the township clerk's office.

A May 28 deadline for division of precincts has been ordered by the elections division of the Secretary of State. At Wayne County commissioner districts are still not apportioned. The extended deadlines only apply with written request and when precincts are split by apportionment.

Precinct divisions in accordance with reapportioned legislative office districts are normally done in March, but delays in the reapportionment process have postponed the redrawing of precinct lines.

"We can't really do anything until we know what our districts are," Clerk Susan Heintz explained. "Now the state legislative districts look firm, but they're still studying the county commissioner and congressional ones."

Congressional districts were formed up Monday, with the township (and Wayne portion of the city) firmly ensconced in Carl Pursell's 2nd District. The township is not split by any districts thus far proposed.

If boundaries are drawn that split the township into one or more districts for any type of elective office, the new precinct lines must reflect that division. Different ballots would then be prepared for the precincts in each district.

The city must do something similar because of the split at the Wayne-Oakland County boundary. The city has only two precincts, however, one in each county. The township has 10 voting precincts to portion off.

If no splits are created by county commission apportionment (which seems likely) the present 10 precincts will remain as is, Heintz said Tuesday.

She noted that one township precinct, number four, has a low population in relation to the others, but likely will be retained in its present form because it includes the Wayne County Child Development Center. Added population to the district is expected in the next 10 years due to the proposed senior citizens' village on the site.

Training of election workers is scheduled in the township this year, and many persons new to the polls will be at work.

One week delay of the slated August 3 primary election to August 10 also complicates the situation a little, Heintz noted. The delay was ordered by the state Supreme Court to allow adequate time for nominating petitions and campaigns following the delays in final apportionment.

The delay also applies to anyone wishing to file as a precinct delegate to the county conventions of political parties, with the June 1 filing deadline pushed back to 4 p.m. June 8.

Heintz noted that the township frequently has no candidates for the precinct delegate posts and that serving as a precinct delegate might serve as a good entry-level position for those interested in politics.

The filing deadline for state representative, state senator and U.S. representative has similarly been pushed back from June 8 to June 15. Candidates for all offices in the 1982 primary ballot are still bound by the June 1 deadline.

Withdrawal of candidacies for all posts must be done by June 18 under the new elections calendar. Petitions must not be circulated prior to May 21, the date of the supreme court decision, a memo from the state elections director states. Signatures gained prior to that date will be disallowed.

Student architects show ideas for senior village

Five plans for utilization of vacated Wayne County Child Development Center as a senior citizen housing project were presented to a packed house in Northville Township Hall main meeting room Wednesday night.

The township trustees, planning commissioners, EDC members, a newly-appointed oversight committee for the project and other interested parties viewed the plans — four of them created by students in a preservation architecture class at Lawrence Institute of Technology and a preliminary one presented by the chosen developer for the project.

All four plans shown by the students entailed use of all 41 buildings now on the site and each included both a restaurant and an art gallery among the offerings in what would be a nearly self-sustaining community.

The plans of the developer — Saperstein Associates and Amurcon, Corporations, whose architect is Progressive Associates of Southfield — by contrast, include rehabilitation of 15 buildings on site and do not address the restaurant idea first put forward by township building official Troy Milligan.

LIT instructor L. Betty Sweatt explained that she had assigned renovation of the center as a 10 week project for the 20 students in her course. The class, she said, divided into four teams of five students, each of whom tackled the project independently and presented a different proposal to the township board last week.

Using slide projectors and one model, the students showed their concepts of how best to renovate the existing structures and add new buildings to complete the "senior village" concept.

The plans were all similar in that they entailed use of the central core of the campus-like center for recreation/community purposes and tried innovative approaches to use of service facilities on site.

Cottages that formerly housed the residents of the center would be renovated into apartment buildings of six to eight units each under the students' proposals. Three of the four proposed opening a skylight in the center of the cross-shaped two-story buildings and open balconies on the second floor looking down onto the first.

The students also tried to deal with the dilemma of trying to maintain contact between the senior village and the community at large while addressing the security needs of the residents. One plan proposed a controlled entry, but included both a restaurant and recreation center that would be open to the community-at-large.

Site plans by Progressive Associates show a central corridor to the "downtown" area of the development that would be used by the community for access to the recreational facilities therein.

One group of students placed a restaurant in the former power plant, while another used the glass-walled plant for an art gallery and put the restaurant in a nearby storage building. A third employed the present fire station, now used to house Novi Ambulance, as a restaurant and put an art gallery in the central cluster.

The final student proposal suggested cutting into the boilers in the power plant to serve as seating area for the restaurant, with patrons seated directly inside the former heating plant.

The developer intends to use the fire house as a fire house, and renovate the power plant and nearby laundry building for use as the administrative and maintenance center of the development.

Representatives of the developers thanked the students for their ideas, and suggested that the final plan shares much with the students' ideas. It was noted that the developer was faced with the additional difficulty of insuring that the cost of the project be kept within bounds so that the housing is affordable and the total development a financial success.

Supervisor John MacDonald noted that a formal, more detailed presentation of the actual proposal for the site will be presented "probably within a month or so," in a forum open to all.

Vehicle sticker fee proposed for Hines Park users

Users of Hines Park may be required to buy a $10 sticker for their vehicles shortly if a Wayne County Board of Commissioners subcommittee recommendation is approved.

The special Public Safety subcommittee made the recommendation May 14, and it was introduced to the full board in a resolution by Commissioner Kay Beard. If implemented, the move would provide $2.50 to the county road commission for administering sticker sales and $7.50 to the county as earmarked funds for law enforcement in county parks.

posals to its Ways and Means Committee to be drafted into ordinance form before approval. After that, two public hearings and signing by Governor William Milliken would be required before it could become law.

According to Beard, the intent is to defray costs of park patrols now costing local communities $125,000 per month in overtime to provide police patrols at Hines Park and at Elizabeth Park in Trenton.

Sheriff William Lucas' plan to beef up deputy road patrols would cost the county general fund $742,000 during the balance of the season. County commis-

Motorists driving through the 18-mile parkway would not be required to purchase stickers, which would be similar to those used in the state and national park systems.

Mayor Donald Bishop and police chief Donald Loose, Westland Mayor Charles Pickering, Jr. and police chief William Rechin, Trenton Mayor Robert Bovitz and police chief Angelo Abate, and police lieutenant James Petres of Northville.

Inspector Fred Dansby of Westland was the only member to object to the proposal at a May 13 meeting, asserting the sticker fee was just another tax on the public. Police Chief Carl Berry of Plymouth, Chief Loose and Chief Abate considered the plan feasible, provided a way could be found to sell the stickers at one central location easily accessible to the public.

Donald Cox, president of the Sheriff's Deputy union, said if the revenue were earmarked solely for hiring or paying overtime to the police departments of affected communities it would amount to hiring outside help and he would have no alternative but to bring suit against the county. "If the funds were directed towards financing sheriff patrols in the park, then I would support the project," he said. A tiebar resolution from commissioner Richard Manning would assign the funds to the cost of a 26-man sheriff's deputy park patrol at a lesser cost of $389,235.

Minor changes in the original Beard proposal include color-coded stickers to be sold on an annual basis, $25 fines for violators with $5 to go to local municipalities and $20 to the county "to enable the county to have additional financial resources to be used only for properly policing the county parks." Local district courts would retain court costs involved in adjudicating the violations.

While there was some initial concern whether the county and local government could retain the citation revenues, County Corporation Counsel George Cross told committee members Friday morning that the procedure was perfectly legal.

The committee decided to let the road commission sell the stickers rather than individual communities, when some local officials balked at having to expend manpower to oversee sales. The County Road Commission, in addition to having convenient locations for sales of stickers, also is legally responsible for the parks and administers them along with the Warren Valley Golf Course through its Board of Trustees.

Beard said sale of stickers hopefully could begin as soon as the county board of commissioners approves the plan and a proper ordinance is prepared and signed by the Governor.

Superintendent finalist selected

Superintendent of South Haven Public Schools; James Carlil, Assistant Superintendent of Livonia Public Schools; Stan Fortuna, Superintendent of Caledonia Community Schools and Norman Katner, Superintendent of Saline Area Schools.

Bell, 54, has been superintendent of the Van Dyke Public Schools in Warren since January, 1980.

He began his career in education in 1951 as an instrumental music instructor in the Wayne-Westland School District. In 1959, he was named music coordinator for Wayne-Westland Schools.

He was named principal of Wayne Memorial High School in 1966, serving in that position until his selection as Van Dyke Public Schools Superintendent.

He holds a doctorate of education degree and an education specialist degree from Wayne State University. He also received his bachelor's and master's degrees in instrumental music from Wayne State.

He serves on the executive board of the Metropolitan Detroit Bureau of School Studies — a service organization for more than 100 school districts — and has been an instructor at Eastern Michigan University.

In addition to being a member of the Michigan Association of School Administrators, the Michigan Association of School Boards and the Michigan

Association of Secondary Principals, he also serves on the Warren Research and Development Council and the South Warren Neighborhood Improvement Organization.

He lives in Canton with his wife Ruth, a preschool supervisor in the Wayne-Westland Schools, and his youngest son Robert, a junior at John Glenn High School. His oldest son Steven is an assistant professor of mathematics at Princeton University and his daughter Kathy is an executive accountant for Unistrut Corporation.

According to Wilkinson, the board's dinner meeting last night provided an opportunity for Bell and board members to further discuss the operations of the Northville Public Schools.

Wilkinson did not rule out the possibility of calling back other candidates, however, such a move seems unlikely as the board hopes to make a decision by June 14.

During his initial interview last Monday, Bell told board members Northville "is the kind of place I'd like to work."

Selected Van Dyke's Superintendent during one of the district's more tumultuous periods, Bell indicated he helped "turn around the Van Dyke Public Schools."

Noting the deteriorating state of the area, Bell said the Van Dyke school district has experienced "several changes similar to those currently facing the Northville schools. Included in those changes is a grade structure realignment currently underway in the Van Dyke Schools to better utilize facilities in light of the district's declining enrollment.

Among his strongest managerial skills, Bell noted enthusiasm, the ability to keep many things going at one time and a desire to know what's going on all the time.

"I believe in visibility," he said. "I spend a great deal of time in buildings and classrooms."

"The superintendent has to be the person who gains the trust of the community. I will get to know the community by being involved in every facet of it," he said. "I have the enthusiasm to do it."

At the conclusion of Bell's interview, concern was raised in regards to the board's residency provision for the district's superintendent.

While the board does not mandate its chief executive to reside within the district, it expects its superintendent to do live within close proximity to the area. If a move has to be made to the area, the board requires that move be made to Northville.

Bell expressed to the board his desire to remain in Canton until his son is graduated from high school and until the housing market turns around.

Should the board select Bell as its next superintendent, the residency provision will have to be negotiated along with several other contractual considerations.

He's new college president

Dr. Daniel H. Pilon, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Pilon of Northville, was inaugurated April 23 as the ninth president of the College of St. Scholastica in Duluth, Minnesota.

Pilon, 39, assumed his presidential duties August 1, 1981, and is the second lay person and third male to hold the position.

He came to St. Scholastica from his post as vice president for campus services for the Council for the Advancement of Small Colleges, where he held the responsibility for the council's national consulting network.

Formerly, he had been assistant to the president at Aquinas College in Grand Rapids, and taught at Shrine High School in Royal Oak.

He holds a bachelor's degree in philosophy.

from Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit, a master's degree in education from Marygrove College and a doctorate in administration from the University of Michigan. He had done additional graduate work in theology and has led numerous workshops and served as a consultant in general college administration and management.

City slates budget adoption after tonight's hearing crease from Detroit for water and a 7.8 percent increase in sewage disposal rates.

City officials pointed out that, ironically, water rates also were a casualty of the Ford valve plant closing that overshadowed loss of property taxes.

The plant, Walters said, had used from 70,000 gallons to 140,000 at peak times, an amount which represented 15 percent of the city's total purchases. Since the city did not have a corresponding responsibility to make plant repairs, the city repair reserve had benefited.

Wilhelm asked if it might not be better to by-pass using the water tower and buy directly from Detroit.

Walters replied that in addition to allowing the city to buy water at off-peak periods the tower insured having water pressure when Detroit pressure is low during hot weather.

The necessity for the increase also was questioned by Elmer Balko while Colin Dunbar asked for an explanation of the published rates.

The proposed budget that citizens may view at the hearing tonight has been available for inspection at city hall. It includes a current year deficit repayment of $349,105 incurred by repeated cuts in race track returns and revenue sharing cuts by the state.

Walters Monday told council that additional race track return cuts can be anticipated. They will be discussed further tonight. Monday the council assessment was that in the future it will be a drawback to the community to have a race track in its midst and that consideration should be given to encouraging other uses for the property.

During budget study sessions the council also studied higher than envisioned circuit court costs. Monday night Walters told council he and Betty Lennox had met with court officials and would have a report tonight.

The city levy for 1982-83 also will include .50 mill for South Main paving and 1.20 mills for the Randolph Drain-estimated cost of $12,000. Walters suggested that the remaining $36,000 be tagged for police operating costs.

After a public hearing Monday on adopting an amendment to water and sewer rate ordinances increasing rates approximately 20.9 percent to the average customer, the question was raised from the audience whether the federal revenue sharing funds could not be earmarked to eliminate $48,000 budgeted in the increase.

At the water and sewer hearing attended by six residents it was explained that the increase included $48,000 to retire a debt to the department incurred by a severe break in the Fairbrook main near Rural Hill Cemetery. The amount also includes some funding to paint and repair the city water tower.

Richard Wilhelm, explaining he represented Lexington Commons homeowners concerned about the increase, questioned whether the water tower repair could not qualify for the federal revenue sharing. City Manager Walters said there was some possibility it might but that the city currently was supporting police programs with the revenue sharing.

Mayor Paul Vernon said that not to do so might require laying off two police officers.

During the discussion Vernon pointed out that the increase last November was the first from Detroit that the city had passed along to users since 1978.

"We're pretty much at the mercy of the Detroit water board," Vernon conceded as he agreed the new increase probably is not the last. He pointed out that a coalition of suburban communities that buy Detroit water are challenging Detroit's right to make these increases.

Wilhelm told the council that more of his subdivision's residents would have attended the hearing but felt "they would be wasting their time" as the increase was certain to be made.

The increase includes a 15 percent in-

The city levy for 1982-83 also will include 0.50 mill for South Main paving and 1.20 mills for the Randolph Drain.

Cannon named officer in chapter

City police chief Rodney Cannon has been elected secretary/treasurer of the Michigan Chapter of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's National Academy.

The 300-member chapter installed its new officers in April. Cannon explained the positions are progressive, meaning that next year he will be the chapter's second vice president.

The National Academy is an extension arm of the FBI to help its agents with any information they may need on state and local levels, Cannon noted. The academy is located in Quantico, Virginia, and graduates of the three month training school come from all over the world.

The Michigan Chapter also conducts two conferences a year for its members.

The April conference is for the new officers and recognition of officers who have retired or been promoted.

Oscar Frenette kicks off dedication events at lunch

Northville's three-day celebration officially dedicating the new downtown was kicked off last Thursday by Oscar Frenette, introduced by City Manager

Steven Walters as "a speaker who is no stranger to your ears."

Frenette, host of WJR radio's "Ske-ches and Comments" program, congratulated the audience at the luncheon at First Presbyterian Church honoring contributors, saying, "You're the ones who dreamed the dream and brought it to fruition.

"The life of the business community is the life blood of the greater community and that life blood comes from its commerce. There are all kinds of ghost towns that attest to the fact that when resources died out so did the town."

Frenette, a member of the board of the Historical Society of Michigan, told the audience of about 140 that he feels communities need "a lively sense of history."

This history, or sense of continuity, he continued, is something that can't be manufactured.

"Attempts to build whole new cities didn't work," he said, "nor do shopping centers and malls when they try to create a semblance of a village square — there has to be a downtown there to begin with."

Frenette called Northville's new downtown unique, saying it has charm and integrity.

Under the direction of Mary Kay Pryce, the Meads Mill Choir sang for the luncheon audience, beginning with "Day by Day" from Godspell.

History of the downtown renovation project was outlined by Mayor Paul Vernon and Walters. As members of the Northville Downtown Development Authority, city council and the Downtown Dedication Steering Committee and luncheon committees were introduced, Walters announced that more than $33,000 in donations had been received toward the purchase of the clock, benches, trees and guards and other beautification. Dr. Lawrence Chamberlain of the host church gave the invocation.

Luncheon arrangements and the dessert table were the project of the Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association with Schoolcraft College culinary arts department catering the luncheon. An added surprise to the committee was a cake that was decorated with a picture of the new town clock, a gift of K&S Family Bakery.

Northville City Council Minutes

NORTHVILLE CITY COUNCIL MINUTES SPECIAL MEETING April 26, 1982

Mayor Vernon called the meeting to order at 7:30 p.m. ROLL CALL: Present: Vernon, Ayers, DeRusha, Gardner, Folino (late).

BUDGET WORK SESSION: Budget session an overview asked City Manager to bring up to date.

City Manager when cuts occurred first week in April started over. Finished with tax note application. History of current budget year work sheets also on table have been revised. He explained the cuts.

He summarized the major causes of the 1981-82 year-end deficit of $343,000 as follows: Loss of racing revenue due to state cuts ($142,500); Loss of racing revenue due to drop in attendance ($154,700); Loss of state-shared revenues by State cuts ($21,000); Loss of revenue from District Court ($36,792); Net balance of expenditures and all other revenues ($12,092). Total projected general fund deficit ($343,000).

Discussion on the cuts followed.

The Difference between what the City's share turned out to be for our fiscal year compared to what the cuts turned out to be.

Discussion on the cut budget followed. The $80,000 would be accrued payable.

DeRusha suggested cuts on a per capita basis.

The City Manager advised the City is presently making all possible expenditure reductions, including reduction of services and from layoffs or wage/benefit concessions from employees if they can be obtained. He noted the reductions will not produce much of a savings in May and June only, but they will be a foundation for extending the reductions into 1982-83 as necessary.

The City Manager explained the relationship of the tax note obligation to the 1982-83 fiscal year budget.

He noted the surplus in the Public Improvements Fund in effect appropriation by the General Fund and offset 2/3 of the deficit may be more than could be back to zero fund balance by the end of the year.

Mr. Kirkwood noted that Rep. Kirkwood again responded to the City's request for help. He has helped set up a meeting with the Governor to discuss the race track revenues which should be most productive.

The City Manager mentioned the work sheets were reflective of the new cuts from the State in April. He noted the only area doing well was the interest earnings on investments, and even those were down. He pointed out that the Police Department has done a good job re watching their overtime. Other General Fund balances were discussed.

He mentioned the Major and Local Street funds were fairly routine and the winter budget was over because of the hard winter experienced. There was a drop in revenues in the Water and Sewer funds of $81,000 largely due to the closing of the Ford Valve Plant.

Discussion followed on the rest of the budget.

Max Robertson asked if he could speak re his layoff position.

Mayor Vernon advised that City Council could not take any official action because this was a special meeting and he was not on the agenda.

Max voiced his concern re being laid-off on Friday, April 30 and would not have a chance to speak before then. He stated he understood the resolution for decertification which states that all rights during the transition period remain in effect until such time an association or union is formed. He advised that could happen while he is on layoff and he would not be a part of any association if he is not employed. He asked the City Manager for a statement with recall rights.

Mayor Vernon agreed it is conceivable that another bargaining unit could be formed and enter into a contractual agreement and not require those laid off to be hired back. He advised that the plea should be to those who would represent the DPW and make them aware. Mayor Vernon also advised Max the City would have to abide by what was presented beyond that it could not be discussed at this meeting.

Max stated the only reason he brought it to this meeting was the fact that he would be laid off before the next regular Council Meeting. He advised he intended to go to MERC.

Meeting adjourned at 9:00 p.m. Respectfully submitted, Joan G. McAllister City Clerk

POLICE REPORT: Chief Cannon discussed the two police cars that were damaged in a ramming.

Mayor Protem Gardner thanked the Chief for a fine report.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITIZENS: There were none.

AGENDA REVISIONS: It was asked that agenda item number 11 be heard next. There were no objections.

Mr. Richard Engle, Project Engineer, and Robert Carr, Asst. Project Engineer, with Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout, Ltd., discussed the Sewer System Evaluation Survey (SSES).

Mr. Engle updated Council and advised a summary facilities plan has been prepared.

Mr. Carr discussed the onsite disposal in Northville Estates and advised the final conclusion was that there wasn't any pollution problems and sewers were not being proposed for that area. He explained how the SSES was done and its purpose, i.e., to determine the quantities of infiltration and inflow and to determine if it is cost-effective to rehabilitate any of the infiltration or inflow sources in the City's system. He mentioned the peak flow during a 5 year-one hour storm from the City is estimated at 7.88 cfs. The figure includes the peak domestic, infiltration, inflow and all commercial and industrial establishments except the Ford plant. The City currently owns 3.6 cfs in the Rouge Valley Interceptor.

Mr. Jack McNeely, City Engineer, stated he had read the reports and did not have any problems. He noted, there may be some additional costs that may change the final figure.

Mr. Engle advised they would prepare a draft facilities plan and submit it to Wayne County, City Council and the DNR for review, if all are agreeable they would then hold a public hearing on it. After the public hearing they would submit the final plan by July of 1983. He stated they would like to get City Council's approval this evening to go ahead and finish the plan.

The City Manager noted City Council would review a draft of the plan with Mr. Engle in June. Mr. Carr advised when they get approval from the DNR they automatically get approval from the United States EPA.

City Council concurred Finkbeiner, Pettis & Strout should proceed.

RESIDENTIAL PARKING DURING RACING: The City Attorney presented an amendment to the Zoning Ordinance which would allow certain uses to be permitted by the Planning Commission and subject to the granting of a permit by City Council re residential parking during racing. He also submitted a resolution for City Council's review.

City Council was in agreement to defer action on this until after the budget hearings to ensure more careful consideration of the matter.

Mr. Robert Cole, 356 Fairbrook, asked why this was still being discussed.

Councilman DeRusha advised that the Planning Commission was asked to consider a rezoning. The City Council is discussing whether they can get a better handle on the parking by this approach, however, in the process they may be expanding the use.

Mr. Cole mentioned there were approximately 1,000 cars parked at the Downs last Sunday. He also inquired if there were something that could be done about the abandoned house on S. Center.

The City Attorney explained if the house is properly boarded up the City cannot legally do anything about it.

Mayor Protem Gardner mentioned Council would have a public hearing in June or July to discuss the ordinance.

County Commissioner. Oakland County Commissioner Calandro advised a factor of 1.0508 was being placed on Oakland County by the State Equalization.

The City Manager noted this would take the City over the statute limit.

Commissioner Calandro also advised a solid waste plan would be coming before the commissioners shortly.

He mentioned the Senate District would probably remain the same, 15th, however, the Representative District might be a district, 80th.

Meeting adjourned at 10:45 p.m.

Respectfully submitted, Joan G. McAllister City Clerk

NORTHVILLE CITY COUNCIL MINUTES SPECIAL MEETING May 11, 1982

Mayor Vernon called the meeting to order at 7:30 p.m. ROLL CALL: Present: Vernon, Ayers, DeRusha, Folino, Gardner.

WATER RATES: The City Manager presented the water and sewer rates increase schedule effective June 1, 1982 as follows:

Detroit Water Supply Rate — increased from $3.20/mcf to $3.68/mcf equals 15.0% increase.

Wayne County Sewage Disposal Rate — increased from $4.137/mcf to $4.46/mcf equals plus 3.32%.

The excess flow formula is expected to produce a net cost to the fund which must also be met.

The above rate increases are estimated to require the following revenue increases for the next fiscal year:

Water rate increase $20,000
Sewer rate increase 8,000
Sewer excess flow — 25,000
$3,000

This revenue requirement amounts to 10.8 in excess of the present revenues generated by the present rate schedule. The rate schedule which could produce the necessary additional revenue would be as follows (present rate follows item with proposed rate in parentheses):

Water
Service Charge $1.45 ($1.60),
First 5,000 gals. 1.05 ($1.14), Next 5,000 gals. 1.88 ($2.05), Over 14,000 gals. 1.14 ($1.24).

Sewer
Service Charge 1.45 ($1.60),
First 14,000 gals. 1.88 ($2.12), Over 14,000 gals. 1.43 ($1.63).

The last City increase in water and sewer rates was in November, 1981.

Mayor Vernon expressed concern at being caught in a bind with no funds to do any of the repair with. He mentioned the City has absorbed the City of Detroit water increases for years. The last increase was in 1981 and was the first increase in four years.

Councilman DeRusha noted that next year there wouldn't be any sewer or water taps either. He also commented that the City of Detroit send rate increases every six to eight months.

Councilman Gardner stated he did not like paying any more either but have to look at the repairs for the water tank.

Councilwoman Ayers expressed the need to have capital to use in case of an emergency.

Mayor Vernon suggested they could earmark the additional money for the water tower repair, however, it would not be sufficient for all of the costs of the repair.

Councilman Folino asked if the engineer had a report on the water tower.

The City Manager would get one.

Discussion on the excess flow followed.

Mayor Vernon advised that City Council would prefer to wait to get some definite kind of report from the engineer. He would not feel comfortable increasing rates to take care of all costs.

Councilman Folino stated he would be very concerned if McNeely came back with a bad report on the tank and asked what they would do.

Mayor Vernon commented it wasn't the structural strength of the tank that was the concern but the corrosion within the tank.

Councilman DeRusha asked they develop figures recovering 50% more and see how it would affect the rates.

Councilman Folino agreed with Councilman DeRusha that there was a need to start from somewhere. He stated that bonds would be hard to sell if that were necessary. He suggested a need to tell the users what the problem is.

Motion by Councilwoman Ayers supported by Councilman Folino to publish for Public Hearing the water and sewer rate increase schedule effective June 1, 1982 at 8:00 p.m.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Revenue Sharing: The City Manager advised a revenue sharing proposed use hearing should be called for May 24 to take public comments on what the money will be used for. If the City continues the use as last year, it will be used for payment on the debt.

Motion by Councilman Gardner supported by Councilman DeRusha to publish for Public Hearing for the proposed revenue sharing funds.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Budget Hearing Date: Discussion followed on the date to hold the budget hearing.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilwoman Ayers to change the date of the next regular meeting from May 24 to Wednesday, May 26, 1982 at 8:00 p.m.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

Mayor Vernon called a Special Meeting for Monday, May 24, 1982 at 8:00 p.m. to discuss the following:

Public Hearing on Water and Sewer Rates; Public Hearing on the Revenue Sharing; Tax Anticipation Note Bids; Budget discussion.

Budget Discussion: The City Manager explained the general budget. He also explained that the biggest single problem area in the budget was the District Court. He and the Controller would be going over and talk with the Court and discuss our budget with them.

The City Manager stated they were looking at a projection of approximately $58,000 shortage. He would try to have something back for the hearing.

The City Manager noted the City would be sharing the cost of the crossing guard with the schools in the fall. They might also look at the cemetery rates and revise them. He suggested they have a funeral director and Jim Allen discuss rates which should be charged to non-residents. He noted there were no wage increases built into the budget for employees.

Councilman Gardner asked if they could see copies of a police report re layoffs which was presented to them last fall.

Mayor Vernon asked if Council was prepared to act and establish a millage since they have been through the General Fund and any more cuts would be insignificant. The only other way would be to drastically curtail government. He noted a need to resolve the $354,000 deficit the City has.

Discussion on the millage followed.

The following resolution was offered by Councilwoman Ayers and supported by Councilman DeRusha:

RESOLVED, that the 1982 City operating millage rate be proposed at 15.68 mills, an increase of 2.00 mills over 1982, for the purpose of partially offsetting the cuts by the State of Michigan in the race track revenue and other state-shared revenues.

RESOLVED further, that the public hearing on the 1982-83 City Budget be held at 8:00 p.m. on Wednesday, May 26, 1982.

Resolution Carried Unanimously.

The City Manager advised he would have a report ready of what would ultimately be cut if the mills are not levied.

Meeting adjourned at 10:20 p.m.

Respectfully submitted, Joan G. McAllister City Clerk

NORTHVILLE CITY COUNCIL MINUTES SPECIAL MEETING May 10, 1982

Mayor Vernon called the meeting to order at 7:10 p.m. ROLL CALL: Present: Vernon, Ayers, DeRusha, Gardner (late), Absent: Folino, exc.

WATER AND SEWER RATES: The City Manager stated he would have the rates for the meeting tomorrow night at which time a Public Hearing would have to be called.

4TH OF JULY PLANS — JAYCEES: Ron Barnum, representing the Northville Jaycees, stated the theme of the 4th of July Parade would be "Say Yes To Northville — On The Way Back". He and Dick Kozelle will be co-chairmen of the parade. He explained the parade would start at 10:30 a.m. and explained the reason for this. He stated letters have been sent to all area churches asking them to either participate in a non-denominational church service or, if they would consider holding their services individually, at 8:30 or 9 a.m.

Ron advised he would be meeting with the Township Board on Thursday and he was requesting $1,250 from both communities. He asked for any questions.

Discussion followed.

Mayor Vernon advised that Councilman DeRusha and he would give up their salaries to make up the $250.

Councilwoman Ayers stated that as far as the City Council could go, in the financial situation, can only officially contribute the $1,000 for the 4th of July.

Discussion on the time of the starting of the parade followed. One suggestion was starting the City's parade after the City of Plymouth's since both Cities share some of the parade participants rather than at 10:30 a.m. Ron stated he would take Council's comments and suggestions back and would work out the time.

Mayor Vernon complimented them on the good job they have done in the past.

Motion by Councilwoman Ayers supported by Councilman DeRusha that the $1,250 be appropriated to the Jaycees for the 4th of July activities.

Motion Carried Unanimously.

The Finance Department would work out the details of transferring Mayor Vernon and Councilman DeRusha's salaries to pay the $250 addition for the 4th of July activities.

Motion by Councilman DeRusha supported by Councilman Ayers to approve the fireworks display permit for the Northville Jaycees to be held at dusk on July 4

Council authorizes sewer system survey

After hearing a progress report on a city sewer system survey, city council this month gave approval to the firm of Finkbeiner, Pettis and Strout to prepare a final plan.

Richard Engle, project engineer, and Robert Cara, assistant engineer, appeared before city council May 3 to discuss the survey being prepared under Michigan Department of Natural Resources and United States EPA guidelines.

"Presently," Engle stated, "there is no pollution problem."

He said the 109 septic and leech fields used by homes in Northville Estates and 12 others in the West Main area present no pollution problem.

With the systems doing an adequate job, he added, the city would not be eligible for federal funding for sewers in the area.

It was explained to council that the firm had metered and evaluated flow and infiltration. In the engineers' evaluation, Detroit was overestimating the infiltration.

The engineers reported to council that they did not find it cost-effective to get rid of the minimal inflow they found. A leaky manhole and two instances where caps were off were noted.

Peak flow was measured at 7.89 cfs, including domestic and commercial and industrial, except the Ford plant. The survey will be determining the amount of interceptor the city will need to buy.

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie noted that the 3.6 cfs currently owned by the city in the Rouge Valley Interceptor was purchased in the 1960s.

Engle said with the council's approval the firm now will draft a facilities plan, recommending it be submitted concurrently to the council, Wayne County and the DNR.

The council is to review a plan draft in June. A public hearing will be scheduled later with the intention of having a final plan by July, 1983.

Metropark offers holiday programs

For the family looking for something new and unusual to do during the Memorial weekend holiday, the Kensington Metropark Nature and Farm Centers may be of service.

The center has slated four different types of family programs during the weekend.

The first is "Animal Problems: Mammals" which will take place 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. this Saturday. Each spring there is a serious problem from the raising and releasing of orphan animals.

Naturalist Bob Hotaling will conduct a one and a half hour program concerning proper diet, handling, attitude, animal bites and the law, with special mention of raccoons. Persons should meet at the Nature Center.

If one is into music, then "Music of Spring" may be of interest. The program takes place at 10 a.m. Sunday.

Throughout history "music composition" often has been inspired by nature. Naturalist Mark Szabo will make stops along the trail and interpret spring with the use of guitar music during the one hour walk.

For wildlife lovers, there is a program called "Making Your Own Backyard Sanctuary" in which Hotaling will conduct a two hour program concerning plants that are best for attracting wildlife. The event begins at 2 p.m. this Sunday.

Also, the Farm Center has slated a program called "From Sheep to Sweater" from 1-3 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday.

According to the Farm Center, the sheep give the "shirt" off their backs during "sheep-shearing demonstrations" and visitors will see how those shirts are converted into people's sweaters during wool spinning demonstrations.

For those into bicycling, there is a program called "Nature by Bike" to take place 9:30 a.m. Monday and 6:30 p.m. Friday, June 4.

Burnham, Lau cited by Air Force

Two Northville residents were cited for their achievements recently by the United States Air Force.

Airman Robert A. Burnham recently completed basic training, while Airman First Class Valerie A. Lau participated in the U.S. Readiness Command exercise "Gallant Eagle '82".

Burnham has been assigned to Chanute Air Force base in Illinois since completing basic training.

Lau participated in the Readiness Command in the desert environment of California and Nevada.

This year's exercise used a desert environment to test the Rapid Deployment Joint Task Force in command, control and communications; joint suppression of enemy air defenses; electronic warfare deception operations; tactical intelligence collection.

Lau is a law enforcement specialist with the 4th Security Police Squadron at Seymour Johnson Air Force Base in North Carolina.

Both Lau and Burnham are 1980 graduates of Northville High School.

Lau is the daughter of Robert E. Lau, 41805 Rayburn Drive. Burnham is the son of Richard Burnham, 19565 Mariner Court.

Our Opinions

Proper direction in village project

We are pleased to see the amount of emphasis being placed on rehabilitation of existing structures at the Wayne County Child Development Center property in the senior village project planning phase. Everyone, we think, is united in the desire to see that this development is not given over to the precast-concrete, steel-and-glass-towers school of architecture that dominates many such housing projects in the area.

Preservation of present buildings is one sure route to avoiding that mentality, and also provides incentive to the developer to make sure that added structures have a similar flavor. Economic reality dictates that, if the project is to live, it cannot entail complete rehabilitation of all structures, despite the attractiveness of the idealized proposals shown last week by students of architecture.

But within that reality there is plenty of scope to have a particularly charming use of the property arise in our midst, and both the consideration given the students' proposals and the appointment of a group of citizens to oversee the project are encouraging signs that it will happen.

Perhaps the greatest challenge facing planners revolves around simultaneously meeting seniors' legitimate concerns about security while allowing for interaction between the residents of the center and the community at large. The latter exchange is valuable to both potential residents (all of us) and those outside and we hope to see some innovative responses to this challenge.

Determination of which buildings will be saved and which razed must be done early in the planning stages. While this is unfortunate in that it does not allow a lot of time for those concerned with preservation, it is necessary because the first residents of the village should not be faced with vacated, derelict structures.

Like Supervisor John MacDonald, who appointed the preservation committee, we urge those interested in this project to step forward and contribute to it now, while there is still flexibility in the proposal. Done properly, the senior village could be a model of its kind. Airing of the many ideas surrounding the project would go far toward that end.

We salute citizen givers

Generous donations of time and money have been made many times over by many individuals to benefit our community. Recently, however, some special donations — in addition to and separate from the ones that make the downtown renovation a great success — have been made that deserve recognition.

Northville Jaycee Fourth of July chairman Ron Barnum appeared at the May 10 city council meeting seeking $1,250 as the city's contribution for the annual parade and other Jaycee-sponsored festivities. City council had been paring budget items throughout the year but had earmarked $1,000 for a Glorious Fourth. As Barnum explained he was asking a like amount from the township board, council members had to state the money "just wasn't there" in the city budget. (Last year the city had doubled its usual donation to $2,000 to make the celebration possible when a tight township budget made any donation out of the question in the township.)

Aware that even with the $1,250 donations the Jaycees expect to lose $200 as they plan the holiday, council member J. Burton DeRusha observed that the festivity on the Fourth always "makes me glad I live in this kind of town." He then offered to make up the difference from his council salary. Mayor Paul Vernon joined in to share the offer as he noted, "You Jaycees have established the reputation of having one of the finest parades anywhere." They asked to have arrangements made to deduct the amount ($125 each) from their salaries as $1,250 was voted for the Jaycee project. Since Vernon, as Mayor of the City of Northville, receives $150 a quarter (every three months) and Councilman DeRusha $125 quarterly, the donations are generous.

The other donation that added to our Michigan Week celebration and will again add patriotic meaning on Memorial Day and the Fourth of July is one of time. Those who noticed the American flags flying throughout downtown in special holders in sidewalk flower beds may not be aware that they were taken down each night and replaced each morning last week by Bob Hock and Jerry Olson, both members of Northville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4012.

That the veterans' plot in Rural Hill Cemetery is in top shape for Memorial Day ceremonies there is due to faithful work of many veterans — Jack Miller, Dick Carr, Jim Knight, Gene Mahoney, Ed Fitzgerald, Eddie Fisher, Hock, George Bays, Gordie Cole, Larry Burnett, Mike Myers, Cabby Myers, Merle Hoag, Vernon Bidle, Olson, Merton brevik, William Widmaier and Earl Session.

Off the record

By Michele McElmurry

Tracing the roots of Goldilocks

Last week, a colleague of mine attempted to tell me about a rather "flighty" female she recently had encountered on her beat. "She was your typical dumb blonde," she explained, while tapping the keyboard of her VDT.

I tried to smooth down the hairs on the back of my neck calmly before stifling a groan. It wasn't that I disputed her observation about the woman; it was, however, the "dumb blonde" description which sent my blonde head into a tizzy. I'm not absolutely certain where or when the term "dumb blonde" came into vogue. However, I am quite certain that most of us would be far better off if it were banished from the vocabulary.

Having been born with blonde hair, I suppose I take this phrase a little more personally than some people. However, what makes it even more offensive is that 99 percent of the time it's used in reference to members of the female sex. You would think that being referred to as broad, chick, doll and a host of other equally as horrid labels would have sufficed. But no, fair haired women also are left to contend with the "dumb blonde" syndrome.

For some strange reason, women with yellowish hair never have failed to fascinate a large portion of society. They have been ogled, modeled, copied and labeled — all because of a few blonde genes or a bottle of bleach. Through the years, countless women have gained notoriety because of those golden locks. Unfortunately, most people rarely looked beyond their hair color.

America capitulated on the blonde craze long ago — bombarding society with a variety of different blondes to fit the images which fashion designers, cartoonists, Hollywood studios and others had created. First and foremost was Blondie herself. How this tireless soul managed to keep her always flustered husband Dagwood — the original dumb brunet — out of her hair is anyone's guess. However, she must have done something right to have managed to keep her youthful appearance for more than 50 years.

The "golden" age of Hollywood produced the first of the so-called "blonde bombshells" (yuck). Granted that actresses such as Mae West, Jean Harlow and Marilyn Monroe had more than blonde hair to knock the socks off most male moviegoers, the platinum blonde hair definitely added to their appeal.

Perhaps it was the favorable reception to women such as Monroe and Harlow which led other females to give their red, brunette and black locks a touch of the bleach treatment. Enter the age of the bleached blonde.

It should be pointed out that natural blondes got the last laugh in the 1960s when it was announced that "blondes have more fun." Other than "does she or doesn't she," there most likely has never been a more successful advertising ploy to get hordes of women running off to their hairdressers — hands clenched around a bottle of Clairol.

In this age of pseudo-enlightenment, I am hoping that society soon will stop assuming that all women with fair hair are either intellectually limited, have "more fun" or hang around with hairdressers all day. After all, the first woman to serve on the United States Supreme Court is a blonde. I'm not sure how much fun she has, but I'm more than certain there isn't a hairdresser hiding beneath her robe.

As for this blonde, if having more fun means covering four consecutive night meetings in one week, spending an entire Saturday changing shelf paper in the kitchen and finding that the dog has made a new toy out of my best pair of shoes, I should have been born a redhead.

Rainy day patriot

Not even rain showers could keep Ian McLaren, 3, from enjoying himself at Saturday's dedication events. Though early morning festivities were rained out, Ian occupied his time as official Stars and Stripes guard — at least until the sun came out. Record photo by Steve Fecht.

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

One of the rules I attempt to adhere to in writing this column is "keep it general."

The reason is simple. "After the fact" appears in both the Northville and Novi-Walled Lake papers, which means that it appears in the communities of Northville, Novi, Walled Lake, Wixom, Wolverine Lake and Commerce Township. And, I have a deep-rooted belief that people in one community don't really care all that much about what is happening in another community.

Thus, I try not to force Northville readers, for example, to read about Novi events or Walled Lake readers to read about Wixom events. In short, I try to "keep it general."

But an event occurred Thursday in Northville which I think may be of interest to readers in all communities. Specifically, Northville leaders gathered for a luncheon at the Presbyterian church to celebrate the dedication of their downtown revitalization project.

Guest speaker was Oscar Frenette, community affairs director for WJR radio. One of the themes of his speech revolved around the importance of dreaming.

He told a story about Mrs. Albert Einstein, who told her husband one day: "It's all in your head, Albert."

"Of course that's where it was," said Frenette. "That's where all ideas start. The importance of what has been accomplished in Northville is that a group of people had an idea — a dream — which was "all in their heads" and then worked hard to make it become a reality.

This column may sound like it's all about Northville, but it isn't really. Novi, Walled Lake and Wixom are all talking about downtown development or redevelopment projects. Work is already underway in all three communities.

I liked what Frenette had to say about the importance of dreaming — and then working to make those dreams become a reality.

I guess my hope is this: Let's keep dreaming ... and working ... to make sure each of our communities becomes all it is capable of becoming.

Township board slates hearing on raising taxes

By KEVIN WILSON

Despite the board of trustees' pledge to roll back millage rates in order to negate tax revenue increases due to rising assessments, the township will have to conduct a public hearing on the issue of raising taxes.

That seeming contradiction results from a coincidence of timing between voter approval of a 0.7 mill property tax increase to fund the police department and state legislation regarding "truth in taxation."

The new act requires governments to conduct hearings and take a board vote in any year in which it intends to collect more money (dollars) than it did the previous year, exclusive of new construction and property improvements.

It was designed to make local government either roll back millages to negate assessment increases or to go on the record endorsing the increased revenues resulting from inflation-caused valuation rises.

While the township board has stated its intention to roll back the three mills levied last year, keeping that portion of the tax bill level year-to-year, it also has made clear its intent to collect the new millage for police voters approved in November.

Since the new millage was passed before the truth in taxation act became law, but will be levied for the first time after that law entered the books, there is some confusion regarding the requirements.

"For one month I have been trying to find out what this means in terms of holding public hearings, etc.," Clerk Susan Heintz told the board May 13. "The act itself seems silent on voted millage...The law is so new and untested that the final interpretations are not in and won't be for some time. That leaves us with somewhat of a dilemma."

Heintz recommended that board conduct a hearing in order to comply with the technicalities of the act, although one might not be required.

The public hearing notice, at Heintz's recommendation, would be worded carefully to make the distinction between voted tax increases and those resulting from increased assessments.

"This public hearing will propose to the citizens of Northville Township a zero percent increase in property taxes except for the additional levy of .7 of a mill as already approved by the electorate...The only increase to the taxpayers of Northville Township (in terms of township taxes; that is, excluding schools, county, etc.) would be from the additional voted millage," her recommendation states.

Other board members concurred with Heintz's conception that the hearing would be a cautious move. "Although there is a strong possibility we do not have to hold such a hearing," the clerk related, "I feel that 'when in doubt' we should go ahead and comply, even if it is on such a technicality."

She also pointed out that, had the township taken advantage of some late session legislation passed last year, it could have levied the extra millage on December, 1981, tax bills. It did not do so since it had promised voters the new taxes would not be levied until December, 1982. Had the township taken advantage of the opportunity presented, the law clearly would have allowed the board to avoid the public hearing provisions simply by rolling back the total (hypothetical) 3.7 mills.

Most other communities that passed millages in November did use the special legislation to levy the tax last year, so the township is one of few faced with the quizzical problem of trying to figure out what the new act requires in this case.

The board determined it would conduct the public hearing on the issue immediately prior to the June board meeting.

Harrison died shortly after midnight May 15, within an hour of his involvement in a fight on Parklane north of Five Mile in which the deceased man allegedly employed a length of chain as a weapon against six younger men who reportedly used a tire iron and automotive jack during the altercation.

Harrison had left the scene before police arrived in response to a disturbing the peace complaint. The fight evolved, at least in part, from a dispute over right of way on the road.

No charges have been filed as a result of the fight. According to police reports and statements to police by those involved, Harrison had a history of heart ailments and complained of chest pain hours before the fight. During the brawl, all parties to the incident agreed, the deceased man was swinging a four-foot length of chain over his head and chasing the others involved.

Accounts of the incident differ as to whether Harrison was ever struck with the weapons carried by the younger men. The medical examiner noted no signs of injury outside of a bruise to the upper chest that could have resulted when Harrison sought medical treatment at St. Mary hospital in Livonia shortly after the fight.

Harrison died at the hospital of cardiac arrest within an hour of the first call to police regarding the noise in the neighborhood.

A 12 year resident of the township, Harrison was a carpenter for the E.F. Hauserman Co. in Southfield. Survivors include his wife, Linnie Park; sons James, Gregory and Tim; daughter Cynthia, brothers Ronald and Calvin of Pontiac and Donald of Kenova, West Virginia; sisters Louise Thompson and Frances Napier of Detroit, and Lorena Johnson of Columbus, Ohio; and one grandchild.

Funeral services for Mr. Harrison were last week at Schrader Funeral Home in Plymouth with burial at United Memorial Gardens.

Water, sewer rates rise with Detroit, local hike

Township water rates will rise 47 percent June 1 from the current 91 cents to a charge of $1.34 per thousand gallons used. Sewer rates will rise 15 percent from the current 79 cents to 91 cents per thousand gallons.

The new rates were approved by the board of trustees May 13 on the recommendation of the water and sewer commission. The water increase includes pass-along of the 44 percent (32.5 cent) increase meted out by Detroit plus a 10 cents per thousand gallons increase to local coffers.

The sewer increase includes 1.9 cents additional to the Wayne County rates plus the same 10 cent rise locally. Both were rounded up to the next penny, effectively adding 0.5 cents to the township margin.

There was little discussion of the issue when it came up before the board late in the four-hour meeting.

Both increases were presented as recommendations from the township water and sewer commission. It was noted that local charges have not been increased in many years while costs have been rising.

The water and sewer department would post an operating deficit if the 10 cent local increase was not passed.

During the brief discussion, it was noted the township pays Detroit water rates that are more than twice those the city pays, yet charges township customers an amount somewhat less than that in other nearby communities.

Township board members asked department superintendent Walter Holinoty when the water tank purchased last year from Plymouth might be placed on-line, to allow water to be pumped in on off-peak hours, hopefully capping the steeply increasing rates charged by the Detroit system.

Holinoty said it could take a year or more to complete a study needed before the tank can be renovated and placed on line, a time span that was greeted less-than-enthusiastically by the township board.

He also said the affects of such storage on water rates, "are sometimes exaggerated," though the impact would be significant.

The rates also include costs for pumping losses and other factors not influenced by the storage system, Holinoty pointed out.

Planners approve minor changes for Petrides office

"There aren't too many options on this property." That was the opinion given by City Planning Consultant Ronald Nino as the city planning commission studied plans for property on North Center.

The property to which Nino referred is Dr. Alexander Petrides' office located at 511 North Center. Petrides had submitted a site and landscape plans for minor changes to a plan approved in 1975.

The commission unanimously passed the plan at its meeting last week Tuesday. The motion also called for Petrides to raise the area around the handicapped ramp and to move a maple tree from the parking lot to the northwest corner of the lot.

One of the biggest concerns of the site plan committee of the commission was the drainage of the parking lot. The plan calls for water to drain from the south to the east side of the lot and down the driveway to Center Street.

The reason for this type of drainage, said Engineer Harold Penn, was the only catch basin is located on Center Street. "There is none (catch basin) on Walnut because of the slope. There is no storm sewer to tie into," he added.

However, the possibility of water congregating around the handicap ramp entrance, which could freeze during the winter, was another concern of commissioner Jay Wendt.

Nino questioned whether the ramp could be raised in some way to eliminate this, and Penn responded affirmatively.

The maple tree is located in the parking lot, but Wendt asked if it could be saved and moved to the green belt area in front of the office.

"That could be moved over into the green belt area, which would be a good spot for it," Penn remarked.

The plan also called for a reduction in the number of parking spaces the office needed. The original plan called for eight spaces because it was determined the offices were used for medical purposes. The current plan calls for only four spaces because it was felt the offices fell under professional and business office requirements in the zoning ordinance.

City Manager Steven Walters cleared the question by determining the psychiatrist/psychologist office is more closely associated with other professional offices, such as lawyers and accountants, because of scheduling appointments for confidentiality and has lower traffic volume.

The lighting will be handled by an adjustable shielded flood light in the north end of the lot. "It can be tipped down enough so as not to bother (the neighbors)," Penn explained.

CROWNS SUPERB DENTISTRY

Q. What is a crown?

A. Crowns are used to restore teeth that are badly broken down and can no longer support a filling, or when a support is needed for fixed bridgework. In some cases crowns, sometimes called "caps," are used to cosmetically restore the appearance of teeth. Crowns can be made of plastic or porcelain and may or may not have a metal base. The dentist prepares the natural tooth for the crown by shaping it into the form of a peg. A temporary crown is worn while the final product is being made. Finally the finished product is permanently cemented over the stub of the natural tooth.

Consumer confidence shows further decline

Consumer confidence in the U.S. economy fell in the fourth quarter of 1981, nearly reversing all the modest gain recorded since mid-1980, according to a recent survey of Consumer Attitudes conducted by the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research (ISR).

"High interest rates couple with heightened concerns about spreading unemployment have not only directly resulted in less favorable evaluations of current business conditions, but also have dampened confidence in the ability of government economic policies to promote more favorable future prospects," said the report.

"Buying attitudes remained near record low levels during the entire year of 1981 and foreshadow no better prospects for the first half of 1982.

"Large discretionary purchases will continue to be responsive to the trends in interest rates, but more favorable employment and real income trends are necessary before sustained growth in housing and vehicle sales can be expected.

"In addition to the effect of interest rates, domestic car sales have been adversely affected by consumer reactions to high prices as well as consumer willingness to buy imported cars based on price comparisons."

The October-December 1981 surveys of a national sample of more than 21,000 respondents recorded the ISR Index of Consumer Sentiment at 65.7, a decline of 9.1 index points from the third quarter 1981 figure and 6.4 points below the year earlier reading.

The report noted that the fourth quarter decline reversed nearly all the improvement in consumer sentiment recorded since mid-1980.

Highlights from the fourth quarter 1981 survey include:

- An increased awareness of unfavorable business developments was recorded in late 1981 with spreading unemployment the dominant concern. Seventy-one percent of all families thought business conditions had worsened during the past year, a sharp rise from the 51 percent recorded in the prior quarter. With lower inflation rates, consumers more frequently viewed unemployment as the most serious economic problem now facing the nation.

- By the close of 1981, nearly two-thirds of all consumers expected bad times financially in the country as a whole during the next 12 months. On balance, confidence in government economic policies designed to combat both inflation and unemployment declined from mid-year levels, but remained substantially higher than prior years.

- Attitudes toward buying conditions for houses started 1981 at an all-time low level and by year-end established a new record low level. In the fourth quarter of 1981 just 18 percent of consumers rated house buying conditions favorably. At the last peak level in second quarter of 1977, some 63 percent of respondents held favorable attitudes toward house buying.

- Car-buying attitudes were unfavorable throughout 1981 and at year's end were somewhat more depressing than at the start.

Greater Media to link cable systems

Greater Media, Inc., has announced plans to construct a Metropolitan Cable Television Transmission Center for the Detroit area, linking as many as 60 present and future cable television systems serving up to 1.2 million households in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

The center will be located at Greater Media's telecommunications complex in Royal Oak Township, which already is the site of Michigan's first common carrier satellite communications earth station, the 1,000 foot Motower radio-TV communications facility and the studios and offices of the company's radio stations — WMJC-FM and WHND-AM.

As designed by Stern Telecommunications Corporation of New York, the Detroit Center will connect the area's local cable systems to facilitate the sharing of locally-originated programming, ranging from community theater and sports events to educational and in-service training and regional-wide access to information including job opportunities, area weather updates and government emergency advisories.

In addition, the Metropolitan Cable Television Transmission Center will link the area's cable systems in a joint advertising sales effort which will dramatically increase the impact and accessibility of advertising on local cable television.

The heart of the proposed transmission facility — Greater Media's "Great Star Link" — is already in place. Providing both video uplink and down link to and from satellites in space, Star Link served as Detroit's video outlet to the world during the 1980 Republican convention and Super Bowl XVI in Pontiac. The facility includes two 10-meter and one seven-meter "dish" with provision for construction of up to nine such satellite antennas.

These earth station facilities, coupled with a microwave network interlocking cable television systems within a 20-mile radius, will allow television commercials to be inserted in satellite-delivered programming prior to re-transmission directly to those local systems.

In addition, the facility will provide back-up to satellite receiving antennas at the local cable systems and also provide the opportunity for metro Detroit area cable viewers to have access to special programming, including major events on a "pay-per-view" basis even if their local cable system does not have receiving facilities oriented to the particular satellite from which the programming is transmitted.

The initial phase of the Center's development will provide a full interchange capability through four channels "outbound" from the hub and two channels "inbound" from the local cable systems. Ultimately, the Greater Media concept could provide up to 60 outbound and as many as 10 inbound channels.

Local coordination of the development of Detroit's Metropolitan Cable Television Transmission Center is being handled by Vané McCormick.

Jr., Greater Media's regional manager of Cable Television Development, from the firm's regional headquarters in Troy. Marketing plans are being formulated under the direction of Herb McCord, former president and general manager of CKLW radio in Windsor and currently Greater Media's Group vice president for radio.

Stern Communications, which is designing the project, is a leader in telecommunications engineering and has designed New York's Metropolitan Transmission Center which now is under construction. Joseph L. Stern, president of the firm and former vice president of engineering for CBS Television Services Division, is directing the Detroit effort.

In addition to its Detroit communications operations, Greater Media owns and operates radio stations in Los Angeles; Philadelphia; Boston; Central New Jersey; Long Island, New York; and Washington, D.C.

Greater Media's Starnet Corporation, headquartered in San Diego, is launching a nationwide communications network utilizing satellite facilities and communications processors being installed in major cities from coast to coast.

Greater Media is an applicant for cable television franchises in a number of communities in the Detroit area, but McCormick said the Metropolitan Cable Television Center is a separate enterprise and will be developed regardless of the disposition of the company's franchise applications.

Business Briefs

FRED WALKER, a technical service representative for Fram/Autolite, will be at Auto-Wize, Inc., at 43287 West Seven Mile in Northville on Thursday, June 3 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. to show motorists how to save fuel and keep their cars running longer through preventive maintenance.

Walker gives car care tips on radio and television, and also conducts free engine analyses and emissions checks for motorists. He also teaches clinics for professional and do-it-yourself mechanics.

According to Walker, simple maintenance can save motorists money. For example, it takes only a few minutes to inflate tires, but this easy job can save five cents on a dollar of gasoline. Changing air filters is about as easy as changing a coffee filter and also will stretch the gasoline dollar.

Prior to joining Fram/Autolite, Walker diagnosed engines as a technician for the Ford Motor Company. He also has diagnosed engines as an engineering technician for Bendix Autolite.

He is certified by the National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence, the country's leading certification program for mechanics. He attended Terra Technical College in Fremont, Ohio, and graduated from Sun Electric School where he learned to conduct electronic engine analyses.

SOLAR WORKSHOPS are again being held by Star Pak Solar Systems of Novi on solar pool, water and home heating. The workshops are free.

The class lasts two hours and investigates solar costs, tax credits, applications and actual hands-on examination of different types of equipment.

If you're building or planning to build a solar home, the workshops will be beneficial. A June workshop will be taught by top solar experts topped by a tour of a near-by solar home. There is a charge for this workshop.

MOUNTAINTOP TREE COMPANY in Northville has diversified its services to include tree and shrub spraying. The company is located on Baseline Road.

Treetop President Douglas Boor said there's a need for a conscientious program that targets disease and insect problems without unnecessary applications of pesticides.

The program stresses timely application, customer education and helpful cultural practices. For example, if applications are made as problems arise or are anticipated, and, if customers are aware of pests, better controls are possible. Pruning and removal of disease or insect-infested material also can improve control, Boor said.

"With the new appointment of Rick Cassidy as vice president, we have increased our knowledgeable personnel to offer improved, prompt professional service," said Boor.

Boor and Cassidy hold degrees in forestry from the University of Michigan and Michigan Technological University respectively.

WILLIAM CLOGG, manager of the Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi, has announced the appointment of 12 new store managers.

New managers at Twelve Oaks include Kathy Gillin (Alcove), Lou Marchesi (Charlie Chan), Ann Ostrander (Children's Place), Jim Sobanski (Docktor Pet), Jim Collins (Hardy Shoes), Randy Cook (Joyce Selby Shoes) and Bill Gibson (Raimi's Shoes).

Other new managers are Barb Rowe (Raimi's Curtains), Mary Rodriguez (Tiffany's), Sandy Hawley (Tuerkes), John Hall (United Shirt), Laura Young (Waldenbooks) and Patti Young (Yankee Peddler).

According to Kuster and D'Angelo, associate brokers and co-owners of the office, business volume has steadily increased each year despite the generally slow real estate market.

During the last 12 months Century 21 Hartford South-West has out-sold all other area realtors by at least 25 percent with a total sales volume of nearly $5,500,000 for this time period, according to the United Northwestern Realty Association. Kuster said that 63 percent of this business has been the sale of the office's own listings.

DON GLADDEN, a South Lyon entrepreneur, will be offering area residents a chance to get into the computer age through the sale of Astrocade, a home video game computer, and accompanying tapes and cartridges. Gladden will be demonstrating Astrocade every Saturday, beginning May 29, between the hours of 1-4 p.m. at the Soft Water Works at 345 North Lafayette, South Lyon. According to Gladden, Astrocade is a game-based computer that hooks up to a television set. He added that programs are available for 800 games. Other programs will help keep track of the household budget, taxes or a checking account. For more information, call 437-3984 or 437-7501.

DR. BRUCE DUBIN

Pulmonary clinic added in Milford

A new dimension has been added to the Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Health Center in Milford. It is the clinic for the treatment of pulmonary disorders, spearheaded by Dr. Bruce Dubin.

Dubin is the director of Michigan Pulmonary Laboratory in Madison Heights and serves on the board of directors of the American Lung Association.

The specialty clinic now offers emergency care in the field of immunology and obstructive lung disease on Wednesdays from 9 a.m. to noon.

"We hope to provide Milford residents with proper care for allergic and respiratory disorders," explained Dubin.

"The emphasis is on the treatment of emergency patients because there is no hospital within 35-45 minutes of Milford," he added.

The pulmonary clinic will facilitate physical therapy, x-rays, counseling, inhalation therapy and patient information.

Dubin is a national authority on the treatment of asthma, a disease from which he has suffered personally. Once medical treatment is completed, he is able to offer valuable insight through counseling.

"Asthma affects not only asthmatics, but also the family, friends and associates with whom they come into contact from day to day.

"It's an enigmatic disease for which there is no absolute cause or cure. Even the symptoms vary among individual patients," Dubin said.

Dubin, who is the fourth specialist to work at the Milford clinic, added that his goal will be to help patients lead normal, productive lives by carefully controlling lung disorders.

The Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Health Care Center was established a year ago for the convenience of Milford residents. Other departments include pediatrics, OB-GYN and Ultrasound. Dermatology and podiatry units are expected to open within the next several months.

The natural garden at the Rex Spencer home in Novi's Connemara Hills subdivision has been selected as the May Garden of the Month. The rocks which edge the large pond were hauled to the site by Spencer, while clusters of strategically-placed tulips and daffodils held create a natural setting enjoyed by ducks and humans alike. (Staff photos by Steve Fecht)

'Natural' look sets off May's leading garden

A garden landscaped around a large pond has been selected by Country Girls Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association as the Garden of the Month for May.

This is the garden of the Rex Spencers in Connemara Subdivision near Nine Mile west of Center Street at the Novi-Northville border.

"He's the gardener," says Mrs. Spencer, giving all the credit to her husband for the landscaping. She adds that all the rocks which edge the pool and help create the natural look throughout the yard were hauled to the site by her husband.

Clusters of tulips and daffodils have been planted strategically. Wood chips and ground cover are used generously throughout the yard. Railroad ties form the steps up the hillside to the front door.

The Spencers bought the house new in 1973, and he has nurtured the garden in the nine years since.

Ducks as well as humans have been appreciating the Spencer pond. "They arrive 'most every spring," Mrs. Spencer notes. "We think they're nesting nearby this year." In past years the ducks have nested right in their yard, she adds. They're providing a colorful interest along with the bright splashes of spring flowers that the Spencers are hoping will last a few days longer.

The garden club selects a garden of the month to cite as outstanding from April through September. Marie Schultz may be called at 349-6571 by anyone who wishes to nominate gardens for later months.

The project has been a popular one of the club's. Mrs. Schultz says the committee has several nominations to inspect.

Money Management

Moving your home, family and possessions can be a chaotic experience even if you're an efficient organizer.

Research shows that one of every six American families moves once a year. For some it's around the corner. For others, the move is across the country; but, for moving companies, it's a billion-dollar business. Therefore, finances should be planned well before moving day.

If you're moving a long distance, your cost of living might be different. Budget readjustments may be necessary for housing, education, food and clothing. If you move to a less expensive area, you might have to recognize income on the sale of your house. Plan in advance if you anticipate a large capital gain. Check tax regulations regarding the amount of time allowed to reinvest any profit and avoid taxes and the $25,000 exemption for those 55 or older.

About two months before you move, begin looking for a mover. Get several estimates and compare rates. Make sure you understand how costs break down according to distance and weight or space, packing, pick-up and delivery. Since no all bids are binding, ask if the cost is estimated or set.

Check the mover's liability for your possessions. Although all movers are insured, the liability coverage may differ. Movers may offer limited liability based on a set amount per pound, added-value protection covering the depreciated value of the goods, or full-value protection. In order to support any claims of damage, you'll need an inventory of goods transported by the movers and an estimate of their worth.

According to the Census Bureau, approximately 65 percent of all interstate moves are job-related. In addition, some relocating expenses are tax-deductible if you qualify. For example, the job must be new, although a transfer does qualify. However, the new job must be at least 35 miles farther from your old home than your old job was. In addition, you must be a full time employee at the new location for at least 39 weeks during the first 12 months after the move.

If you are self-employed, you might still qualify for moving expense deductions. While the mileage test remains the same, the time test is extended to 78 weeks during the next 24 months following the move. But unless you intend to begin work at the new location, your deductions may be limited.

Keep track of expenses for pre-move househunting trips and temporary living expenses. Up to $1,500 of these can be deducted. A total deduction of $3,000 is allowed for buying and selling your home, including the $1,500 already mentioned. Any reasonable cost of shipping household goods also is deductible.

Of course, any expense for which you're reimbursed is excluded from the deduction allowance. And, in spite of rising costs, corporate transfers are on the upswing after slowing down since the late 1970s. Although employers might not pay the entire cost of the move, there are some perquisites for transferred employees.

According to a recent survey, the average cost for relocating employees is $40,000. If you are transferred, check ahead of time what financial assistance your employer will give so you can plan for other expenses. You might ask if the difference between a new and an old mortgage will be made up or if the company will help secure a mortgage or assist in selling your old house.

As two-income families continue to increase, companies are becoming more aware of the need to assist the spouse in finding a new job. If your budget depends on two paychecks, investigate employment opportunities before you agree to the move.

If you have young children and are caught up in the expenses of setting up a household, college costs and your retirement may not seem to be an immediate problem. Without long range planning, however, your future financial worries could multiply.

If you can't save for both items simultaneously, investigate savings methods that generate savings for education and can then be used to plan for retirement.

Of parents who expect their children to attend college, 36 percent have no savings plan to meet college expenses. Of the other 64 percent, many have no formal plan and simply hope their savings will be enough. College costs may double by the time 1982 babies enroll. And, with federal aid possibly being reduced, the money you put aside might not be enough.

There are several savings plans available to investigate. Ideally, your plan will allow you to save the most and pay the least tax. One way to do this is to transfer the assets or cash to your children who pay tax on interest and earnings at a lower rate, if at all.

As a parent, you can make interest-free demand loans to your child who, through a trustee, invests the money. All dividends and interest are payable to your child and the first $1,000 of unearned income is tax-free, plus whatever exclusion applies.

Another, more formal means, to transfer assets to your children is through a Clifford trust. Instead of loaning money to your child, set up a trust fund for cash or income-producing assets, such as stocks and bonds.

The dividends and interest, again, are charged to the beneficiary and you avoid paying taxes at your bracket. Although the new, lower tax rates might reduce your tax liability anyway, Clifford trusts can still be beneficial.

For example, if you put $10,000 in a Clifford trust and the cash is invested to yield 10 percent compounded annually. After the 10 years, parents in the 40 percent bracket would have only $7,908 interest income after taxes. The child, on the other hand, would have about twice that if he or she had no other income.

The assets must remain in the trust for 10 years and one day minimum, although the trustee can transfer assets among investments. So, if you intend to use a trust to pay for college, you'll want to arrange the trust by the time the child is eight or nine. Because of the administrative and legal work involved, you should start the trust with an appropriate amount of money, such as $10,000.

It is also good to remember that income received from the trust can't be used to pay expenses like food, clothing, shelter or education that you're obligated to provide. After the trust is dissolved, however, the assets return to you. And, if the original investment has appreciated, your capital will be larger.

Once you regain your capital, you can use it in one of two ways. You can, for instance, add some of the initial $10,000 to the interest income of your son or daughter and help him or her pay for college. Or, you can put the entire amount aside for your own needs.

For example, let's say you set up a trust or make an interest-free loan to your child. When the money reverts, you use $6,000 of the $10,000 to help your child pay for college. The other $4,000 is put aside for your retirement.

Since the IRS limits deductions on contributions to an Individual Retirement Account up to $2,000, the entire amount can't be immediately placed in the fund, without paying an excess payment tax.

If you're planning to get married and raise a family, don't wait to find out if two, three or four can live as cheaply as one. Thinking ahead is the key to financial stability, especially for couples.

During the months that you're planning the wedding, you should also be planning your budget. Even though over 50 percent of married couples have two incomes, that larger cash flow won't lessen the need for financial planning.

One of your first concerns should be your tax status. Because your tax bracket is established by the top dollar of your income, separate withholding allowances might not meet your tax obligation for the year. Although the marital deduction, which begins in 1982, allows a tax deduction of five percent up to $1,500 for the lower income spouse, check your projected tax liability and your withholding to guard against owing the government money.

If you are a young couple with no deductions, other than your personal exemptions, it may be necessary to shelter some of your income to avoid paying high taxes. Two-income couples might look into Individual Retirement Accounts or purchasing tax-exempt bonds to get deductions and reduce their taxable income.

Of course, the amount of discretionary income for people getting married depends on their budget. Some costs, such as clothing and possibly transportation, might remain the same for each person. Other costs, such as food, utilities, housing, insurance and health may increase — but probably would not double. It may be wise to forecast a budget for the first few months of married life, then revamp the budget later with real figures.

Only 25 percent of American families have working fathers as the sole income source. While you may live comfortably on two incomes, you might want to consider what effect having a family could have on your lifestyle. In 1980 the cost for raising a child, including four years at a public university, for a middle class family was estimated at about $85,000. These costs rise every year.

If you plan to raise a family, costs should be anticipated and money set aside. Assets could be acquired, but if they must be converted later on, make sure they are liquid and readily accessible. Couples planning to buy a home may want to forecast how much more they would have to pay by delaying that purchase. Although home prices are high, interest on mortgage payments is deductible.

You might also consider whether both spouses should continue working. Because your tax bracket is based on the total income, the second income might not add much to the family income.

Additionally, you should also tally those benefits which the second job carries. For instance, if the second spouse stops working, would your insurance premiums rise? Does that job offer benefits unavailable from the other employer, such as a dental plan or a more comprehensive medical program?

Generally, the higher your income the more complex long-range financial planning becomes. While the second income may make only a modest contribution now, it could increase significantly with future promotions. Additional Social Security benefits may be available for later in life, and your IRS contribution — and subsequent tax exemption — may be higher. In planning for marriage and a family, consider your income and expenses, your tax status and the tangible benefits that add to your compensation.

Doctor's HOUSE CALL

Do you have a medical question or problem? Write to Woodland Medical Center/Novi, care of Sliger-Livingston Publications, Post Office Box 160, Northville, Michigan 48167. Personal replies are not possible.

Woodland Medical Center/Novi stresses that individual treatment begins with a physician's first-hand diagnosis; information in this column is not a substitute for a physician's first-hand diagnosis.

Q. Can you discuss varicose veins, the treatment, and when surgery is advisable? How long is the hospital stay when big ones are removed? Are they hereditary?

A. Varicose veins are dilated (expanded) veins, usually occurring on the leg, and usually along the inside of the leg. Frequently, they can be seen against the lighter skin background as a "river" with "tributaries" extending across the calves.

Why varicose veins develop is not really known. However, we do know that man's upright posture is probably one contributing factor once they've begun. It's a case of inefficient hydrodynamics of blood flow in the veins. Blood in veins is controlled to some extent by valves, and they may become weakened, causing a kind of pooling effect. Also, nearby tissue that support veins deep in the legs may lose supporting capability.

It is not widely understood that men may develop such veins as well as women. In fact, the incidence is about equal. Because of the cosmetic problem they represent, women seem most conscious of them. Otherwise, except for perhaps a feeling of heaviness in the legs, they often exist with no untoward symptoms.

Most cases of varicose veins can be controlled conservatively, as with support stockings. The kind most often prescribed are those that extend from the foot to the knee. However, in more severe cases, stockings extending up to the thigh may be required. And in some instances, compression leotards may be worn that fit both legs and extend across the pelvis and lower abdomen. It is wise for the person with varicose veins to have such items prescribed by some expert in the problem.

Surgery is not the common treatment. However, very small veins that are cosmetically unbearable and which are superficial (very close to the surface) can be taken care of in a doctor's office in a special procedure done under local anesthetic. One justification, beyond the cosmetic one, is that such small veins, being close to the surface, may be easily bumped or otherwise traumatized, and bleed.

For larger veins, when surgery is necessary, a thorough examination is best, and hospitalization for from three to four days may be required. Such surgery is usually performed by a general surgeon who has had a good deal of experience with this particular problem. The patient is usually walking about very shortly after the troublesome vein is removed. Indeed, most physicians advise a quick return to ambulation during the post-operative period to hasten recovery.

It is also advisable for patients who have had surgical treatment of varicose veins to continue to wear the support stockings afterward. They should do this especially when they must stand for extended periods. Because they have had surgery does not mean they have lost their proneness to develop the varicosities. The compression from the stockings will assist whatever inefficiency there is in the existing veins and prevent, to some degree, further varicose vein development.

The question of heredity usually arises. Other than the fact that it seems to occur in some families more than others, there is little concrete evidence to indicate one will, or will not, be susceptible to the condition based on heredity.

The best advice for the person with varicose veins is to be examined. Then, if there is a question of surgery, the physician can advise from first-hand knowledge based on the individual's situation.

ASK THE LAWYER

Questions? Write to Attorney Larry Korn, care of Sliger-Livingston Publications, Post Office Box 160, Northville, Michigan 48167. Questions will be answered on a space-available basis. Answers in this column are directed at specific facts and may not apply in all situations.

Q. If I wished to give a lawyer a letter with instructions to either open it when I asked him to do so or upon my death, would he hold my confidence and not open that letter?

A. Yes. Absolutely.

Q. My husband started operating a new business six months ago which I know nothing about. If he decides to file a joint income tax return, can I refuse to sign the form? Would I be held liable for any possible fraudulent information if I do sign the income tax form?

A. You are not required to sign anything. If you sign that return, it indicates that you have read the return, and the statements contained in the return are true. If you are unsure about the accuracy of certain figures, you don't have to sign that return.

If you have income, you must still file a return. You can choose to file separately from your husband, even though you are married. If you have not earned income over and above $1,000 for the year, you need not file a return.

Q. My husband and I signed a lease for renting a home which we have been paying on faithfully. The lease does not expire for another five months, yet we one day found a foreclosure notice on our door. This indicates to me that our landlord has not been making his payment to the bank. Must we continue to make our rental payments to the landlord until the lease expires?

A. I would suggest that you contact the individual who is foreclosing and ask that individual what he would like done because he is ultimately the party of interest in terms of payment of rent. As long as you occupy the property, you must pay rent.

If you should decide to move and break the lease, and the landlord decides to sue you, you could use the foreclosure as the basis for the move and very likely not be required to honor the balance of the lease.

Q. I have an unemployment compensation problem which started in Boston, Massachusetts. How would I obtain an attorney to represent me?

A. First, you must retain an attorney from the area in which the problem arose. The reason for this is that an attorney is generally licensed to practice law only in the particular state in which he resides, although some lawyers are licensed in more than one state.

You can obtain a list of names by writing to the Massachusetts Bar Association, which would be located in the state capital. They would refer you to a lawyer who handles that particular area of law.

Q. My husband died three years ago and the attorney handling the probate is also the executor of the estate. I am questioning his fee, which seems high, but have no basis from which to compare.

A. The new probate code states that the lawyer shall charge a reasonable fee. Most probate lawyers bill on an hourly basis, but there are other considerations which ought to adjust that hourly rate up or down.

For example, if it is an estate where the family has agreed on everything and everybody has consented to the proceedings, perhaps the attorney would adjust his fee downward. On the other hand, if it is an estate where there are a lot of claims, contests, court proceedings and tax problems, the hourly fee may be adjusted upwards.

If you really feel his fee is excessive, you should not consent to the final accounting that he has prepared. Your lawyer must then notice it up for hearing in front of the probate judge and give you notice of what date this is going to be heard in the courtroom.

At that time, you can tell the judge you feel the lawyer's fee is excessive and the reason you feel it is excessive. The judge will then decide whether or not the fee should be adjusted.

Q. I sold a house two years ago at 11 1/2 percent interest on a land contract and since then I have been reading that I have done something illegal and could possibly be taken to court by the buyer wherein he could get all his interest paid back to him.

A. We do have usury laws which prohibit individuals from selling property on land contract in excess of 11 percent. There is a new exception. If you own property free and clear and you then sell it, you are not limited by the 11 percent ceiling.

However, if you have an outstanding mortgage balance and you are selling to someone else, the law in the State of Michigan requires that you only charge 11 percent.

If the broker drafted the contract and the purchaser decided not to pay you the interest, the broker would have the liability for drafting an improper instrument.

You should retain a lawyer who specializes in real estate law and he will explain what action you might take to correct this situation.

Q. My ex-husband and I were living together after our divorce. Before his death, he wrote on a piece of paper what his wishes were as far as his assets were concerned, but failed to sign the paper. Is it valid?

A. Since the new Probate Code has been in effect, a will made out in a person's own handwriting is now accepted in Michigan. However it must be signed and witnessed by two parties to be considered a valid will.

The piece of paper drafted by your ex-husband was not properly executed and therefore has no validity as a will. For all practical purposes, he has died intestate (without a will).

Under the laws of intestacy (laws which determine the descent and distribution of property), an ex-wife would not receive anything. The assets would descend to the surviving children.

Preserving the present

By KATHY LAVEY

What will things be like in 2082? Most of us will never know, but if the students in Dorothea Bach's journalism class at Ida B. Cooke Junior High School have their way, the people of 2082 will have a pretty good idea of what life is like today.

The 16 students Friday buried a time capsule in the school courtyard under a stone tablet that reads, "Time Capsule: 1982-2082". According to Bach, the students buried the capsule to give the teenagers of the future an idea of popular culture not usually passed on by history books.

"Usually social studies books have war and politics in them," said Chris Hauser, editor of the Cooke Junior High newspaper, which is written by the class. "We want them to know what we're like."

"We want to make our mark on the world," another student agreed.

Bach got the idea for the time capsule after reading about a similar project, and says the three-week process of collecting items to put into the capsule has been thought-provoking for the students.

"It makes them think about what their lives are like," said Bach. "Their reaction then was a little bit of sadness ... they were cognizant of the fact that they would probably not be here when it was opened. They started thinking about the future and realized that this is not going to be the same world at all."

When asked to imagine the world of 2082, the students themselves admit they are hard pressed to make predictions. "They'll have things we never dreamed of," said one student. "They'll think our stuff is really un-modern," said another.

The students prophesized that the world of 2082 may have such things as electric or flying cars, classrooms staffed by computers instead of teachers, and news delivered on tape instead of paper.

The students also hope that some of the things they're burying may be valuable materially or as artifacts in one hundred years.

Items in the cache include photographs of the students, their teacher, and Cooke Junior High; fast food packages, a bubblegum wrapper, and bottle caps from Coca-Cola and Pepsi; a pair of tennis shoes, pockets from designer jeans and a photo of different hair styles; as well as newspapers, a letter from each student, and cassette tapes of each student speaking about a different aspect of contemporary teenage life.

The students admit that they would rather open a time capsule than bury one, but insist that they will fight it if anyone tries to open their capsule before 2082.

The location of the capsule in the Cooke courtyard will be noted on the deed to the property, and the students are hoping that the people of 2082 will be able to find the tablet and realize that the capsule is there for them to dig up.

Maybe, the students say, those who open the capsule will be their descendants. And who knows? With higher life expectancies and improved medicine, maybe some of them will be around to witness the event, too.

The students who participated in the project are: Nancy Albanese, Kim Ballard, Kelly Bell, Dino Candela, Scott Craig, Lisa Dye, Cathy Foster, Kim Harrigan, Chris Hauser, Alicia Hickman, Kathy Lilburn, Darius Mikalonis, Amie Moore, Traci O'Dell, Mary Parkinson, and Kelli Pence.

Schools plan ice cream socials

EDITOR'S NOTE: The monthly Northville PTA-PTSA column which appears the last Wednesday of each month September through June is compiled by volunteer Deb Lau. She coordinates material from publicity persons in each elementary and junior high school.

"Celebration Time" is an appropriate theme for Amerman's end of year activities.

As part of the Michigan Week festivities, Amerman students prepared for the first all-school musical review entitled, "This Is My Country." The production involved students and staff who coordinated efforts under the able direction of Sandra. Craig. The Gail Raben, Amerman art teacher, has planned a truly representative Art Fair; each student will have a work of art on display. Come and celebrate creativity. Viewing time is 5:30-7 p.m. in the Amerman corridors.

Kudos to the 1981-82 Amerman PTA officers for their outstanding commitment to school programs and progress. Congratulations, also, to all parents who have contributed time and energy to the growth and well-being of Amerman.

1982-83 officers for the Amerman PTA were elected at the April 28 annual meeting. They are: President Darlene Ussel; Vice President Sherry Duff; Secretary Karen Brown; and Treasurer Mary Carrington.

Sandy Trosien

Our last PTA-sponsored Family Roller Skating event at Bonaventure is scheduled for this evening. Throughout the school year, many families have discovered the fun of roller skating together.

Next year's PTA officers have been elected. They are: Brenda Gardner, president; Joan Kolassa, vice-president; Karen Poulos, recording secretary; Barb Kowalski, corresponding secretary; and Pat Stringer, treasurer. It isn't too late to indicate your interest in working with next year's PTA members. Contact Brenda Gardner, 348-1883, for details.

Moraine students are looking forward to the annual Track and Field Day, planned for June 3 at the high school athletic field. Students will be putting presentation to the school board to hang in the board office.

The Awards Assembly will begin at 10:00 a.m. June 17. All parents are invited to attend.

The PTSA has recently purchased a new playscape for student use on the playground and a new transcription machine for staff use. It also has announced a new fund for teachers' use for purchasing rainy-day materials. Monies for these projects have been raised through the efforts of last year's spice sale, Holiday Shoppe, PTSA dues, plant sale, roller skating and swim night profits, etc.

The May 20 Swim Night held at the high school was another success for our students and parents. We look forward to continuing roller skating and swim night activities in the 1982-83 school year.

This Thursday the annual PTA-Teacher luncheon is being held in the multi-purpose room. This is our opportunity to thank our fine staff for their cooperation and work throughout the year. We are very fortunate to have received excellent parent-teacher cooperation this year and many thanks to the new parents who came forward to help with PTA projects. Your help has been immeasurable! Looking forward to seeing you in September.

May 19 recognition luncheon and afternoon performance of "This Is My Country" reaffirmed that Amerman is a very special place. The day included a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Amerman. Mr. Amerman, for whom the school was named, is a former superintendent of the Northville Schools.

Everyone's invited. The Amerman PTA's Art Fair and Ice Cream Social is an annual event for community families to enjoy. Scheduled for June 11 from 6:30 until 8 p.m., this year's social, promises JoAnne Kinnelly, social chairperson, will be an entertaining evening.

MORaine

Science projects are on display this week at Moraine. Many projects have been completed by students in grades one through six. The Science Fair is open to the public all day today (Wednesday) and tomorrow. Kay Kepner is coordinating this event.

Moraine's annual Ice Cream Social will be held Thursday evening from 7-8:30 p.m. in conjunction with the Science Fair. Come visit our school, eat a sundae, and see what out talented students have been busily preparing in science and also in art.

their physical skills to the test at this once-a-year outdoor event.

Michigan Week was a busy time at Moraine. May 19 was Career Day. Parents and community members came to share information about their occupations with students. Featured occupations included a detective, a veterinarian, a computer technician, a model, a nurse, a stewardess and a carpenter.

Moraine's Talent Show was held during Michigan Week. On May 20, talented musicians, dancers and performers of all kinds took to the stage for the enjoyment of their fellow schoolmates. Michigan Week seems to be a time to appreciate the many talented people that surround us, in our school and in our community.

PTA members are planning a special luncheon June 18 to honor our hard-working teachers and staff at Moraine. This is the PTA members' opportunity to say thanks for a good school year and have a happy summer.

WINCHESTER

Coming up soon is Winchester's Art-Science Fair to be held at 6 p.m. June 3. This fair is open to all grade levels. Students are responsible for completing their own projects and setting them up at the school. A ribbon will be awarded each participant.

A "Thank You Coffee" will be held at Winchester June 10, at 2:30 p.m. Committee chairperson Carol Halverson issues a special invitation to the parents of all Winchester students in appreciation of their efforts during the year which have contributed to making the school year a success. An additional thanks is extended to all those who have served as PTA officers or committee chairpersons and to those who helped on committees or with specific projects.

The last week of school will be an enjoyable one with a great diversity of class picnics and parties scheduled. During the afternoon of June 17, the fifth and sixth grades have planned a roller skating activity at Bonaventure Skating Center in Farmington Hills.

Through the efforts of Winchester parents and children, the school was able to make some very welcome and needed acquisitions recently. Purchased were: a camera and tripod for the video unit, tape cassettes for each grade level, new games to be used during inclement weather, and display rails for the hallway. Money was also allocated for a Safety Promotional Campaign and for initiating a fund for eventual purchase of draperies for the Little Theater.

Michigan Week kept Winchester students busy indeed. Principal Milton Jacobi worked with the Brownies, Cub Scouts and Student Council to get the grounds into good condition. Students also participated in a "Clean-up, Fix-up, Paint-up" competition between classrooms by completing work projects at home. Winning classrooms were awarded an extra gym period complete with games and prizes. The fun began Monday morning with an outdoor assembly followed during the week by the spring music program, "A Walt Disney Revue," Career Day; and a school visitation period. That week, also, elections were held to choose the school mascot, and the kindergartners enjoyed a train ride field trip.

MAKE A 4 YEAR INVESTMENT IN YOUR CHILD'S FUTURE

The study of music expands the total person—instilling a love of life as well as a love of the arts. The child who learns to play for pleasure learns to enjoy his own company as well as the company of others. He also develops skills and discipline that will prove invaluable on whatever path he chooses to follow in life.

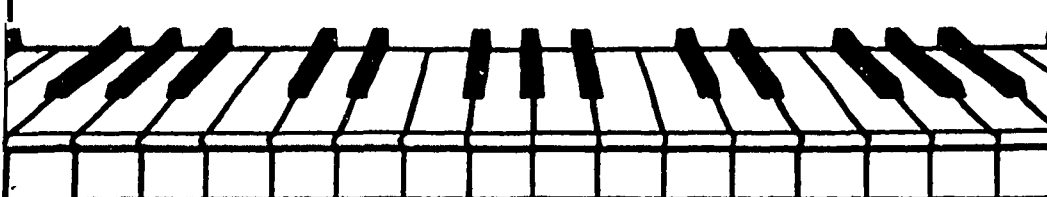

Long after the toys reside in the attic and the games of youth are gathering dust, music remains—an integral part of the person—the adult your child will so quickly become.

Boom or Bust?

Dr. James H. Luther

Some think the current recession (or depression) indicates the return of Christ is near. They are wrong! Don't misunderstand, Christ may receive His own at any moment, but economic hardship in America is not required before the trumpet sounds.

While Jesus mentioned famines, earthquakes, war, and disease, there is no way to connect these with the current woes in our economy. In fact Biblical prophecy ignores our land, concentrating instead on the world at large and the mid-east in particular.

One prophecy that does bear on world economic conditions is given in Matthew 24: 36-39:

"But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only. But as the days of Noah were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark. And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be."

Sounds like business will be booming. Whether boom or bust, make sure your confidence is in Christ. What else is there in the dangerous and uncertain day in which we live?

In Our Town

Here's recap of downtown festivities

By JEAN DAY

Besides boasting an impressive "new look," our town is a fun place in which to live. Beginning with the city garage sale and auction May 15 and continuing through last weekend's dedication there has been much to enjoy.

Strolling through the downtown has become a popular pastime. Visitors and residents alike are seen licking ice cream cones and reading the new dedication plaques on benches, trees and the town clock. Last week they also paused to admire the store windows featuring work of local student artists from first grade through high school. Many merchants donated their entire window space to displays.

City Manager Steven Walters reports that by the middle of last week donations had been received for every tree on Main Street as well as for many on Center. There still are tree guards available on Main Street, he added, and both trees and guards on Center, Dunlap and in park areas. Donors' names are inscribed on plaques placed on the tree guards. Trees are a $100 donation and guards, $240.

Scott Lapham, chairman for the downtown garage sale May 15, says he and Ron Barrow, Hartland auctioneer who officiated at the auction which was a new feature of the garage sale, were satisfied with the outcome. Lapham says he was most pleased that the crowds "stayed all day long." He thinks the auction was an inducement and plans to repeat it next year.

At the Downtown Merchants' Association meeting last week, President Diane Fisher reports, merchants who joined in by offering sidewalk sale merchandise found the day was a plus for them, too. Among these was the Little People Shoppe which had its new sign installed just in time for the festivities. Owner Dottie Cain joined other merchants who have been changing store signs to attractive, painted flat-front designs in keeping with the town's new look.

Consensus of the merchants' meeting was that parking had been the major difficulty. The suggestion will be made to require that those taking spaces in future sales park at the Downs to free parking lots for shoppers.

Residents still can purchase mementos of the Mainstreet Dedication and help the recreation program at the same time. Director Ed Kritczs and his staff are selling T-shirts with the Mainstreet logo depicted. They're available for $5 in a rainbow of bright colors at the recreation department office and at city hall.

Commemorative bricks in the interlocking pattern used throughout the downtown are available from the Chamber of Commerce at $5. A small plaque on each is inscribed Mainstreet 78, Northville, May 21, 1982. Chamber President Betty Allen suggests they can be used as patio or fireplace decoration or as a bookend or doorstop.

Terry Andrews and Beth Lawson model commemorative T-shirts being sold by the recreation department for director Ed Kritczs

Both a T-shirt and brick were presented to Governor William G. Milliken at Friday's dedication ceremonies.

The flags that have been flying all week in holders in Main Street flower beds, incidentally, have been placed there by local veterans' groups who have taken responsibility for seeing they are flying on special occasions.

JCPenney Memorial Day Sale Circular Correction Notice

The women's swimwear on the cover of the JCPenney Memorial Day circular was incorrectly described as 50% off, on sale. While representing an outstanding value at $12.99 to $15.99, this merchandise was purchased specifically for this event. Early bird service scheduled Beginning June 6, Northville's First Presbyterian Church will schedule an 8:30 a.m. worship service in addition to its regular 9:30 a.m. summer service.

According to Dr. Lawrence Chamberlain, "the golfers special" service will be approximately 45 minutes in length and feature a less formal liturgy.

"This will be a preaching service," Chamberlain says. "Dress is informal so that those who are on their way to the lake, golf course or countryside need not return home before embarking on their trip.

"Nursery care will be provided for the youngest children and the service is short and fast moving enough that the rest of the family can worship together."

Regular Sunday School programming and a complete formal worship service is planned for 9:30 a.m. during June, July and August.

The final school dance of the year is an evening one, 6:30-9 p.m. June 9.

Present sixth grade parents have been visiting the school during the month of May. A group will be meeting with Principal Ron Horvath June 1; another group was at the school today.

June 1 marks the last band concert of the year under the direction of Mr. Gary Gandolfi. All bands will be performing and the public is invited to attend at 7:30 p.m.

The Board of Education Meeting was held at Meads Mill May 24.

Sixth grade students from Silver Springs, Winchester, Moraine and Amerman visited the school during the past few weeks.

May 22 Meads Mill vocal group participated in the entertainment in Northville for Michigan Week. They were followed by a performance by the combined concert and symphonic bands.

Meads Mill Choir was invited to sing at the Dedication Luncheon during Michigan Week. Recently the combined Meads Mill and Cooke Chorus also performed the musical comedy, "Alice," for students at both schools as well for parents and friends at evening performances.

During the last week enthusiastic school cheers have been heard in the building when cheerleading tryouts for the 1982-83 school year were held.

Two successful bake sales were held in May. Thanks to all parents who baked for these sales and to students who supported them. Proceeds from the sales will be applied toward purchase of a computer for the school.

Nancy May, PTSA President, hosted a luncheon at her Fermaugh Drive home May 19 for board members. On behalf of the board members, I thank Nancy for her guidance and leadership this past year and congratulate her on her successful term as president of Meads Mill PTSA.

At the PTSA evening meeting May 12 the officers for next year were installed. They are: President Sandra McRae; Vice President Carol Rahimi; Secretary Gwen Olsen; Treasurer Ann Guldberg.

Mile record falls as Couyoumjian wins regional title

Clark Couyoumjian was not disappointed this time around. The senior distance runner for the Northville's boys' track team broke his own record in winning the Class A regional mile title at Brighton Friday to advance to the state meet in Flint Saturday, June 5.

Last year at the Class A regional at Livonia Churchill, Couyoumjian turned in a record-setting performance, only to be denied a chance of advancing to the state meet.

He placed fourth with a school record time of 4:20.1; however, only the top three finishers and those whose time equaled or bettered the average time of the fifth place finisher over the last five years advanced to the state meet.

But, there was to be no disappointment this season.

Already placed in a fast heat at Brighton, Couyoumjian blazed around the track to break the tape at 4:19.0, which was two and a half seconds better than the second place finisher.

"He blew everyone away," understated coach Ed Gabrys. "It wasn't a fluke thing. It was a good time."

It was the second fastest time recorded in the state this year, and it was a full 16 seconds better than any time turned in by Couyoumjian.

"I'm not surprised," declared Gabrys of the time drop. "A couple of things came together. His mind was ready, the conditions were right and the competition was there."

"We knew it was coming and we're glad it came this day (Friday)," he added.

What was equally impressive was Couyoumjian's 2:01.0 clocking in the 800 meter run for fifth place. However, he did not qualify in that event for the state meet.

High jumper Tim Wagner just missed advancing to the state meet when he took third with a leap of 6-feet-2. He actually was tied with the second place finisher, but fell to third because of more misses.

Only the top two finishers or anyone who equals/better the average of the sixth place finish over the last five years advances to this year's state meet.

"He was only one of four to clear the opening height of six feet," Gabrys noted.

"He's been jumping well the last couple of weeks. He finally has it all together," he added.

Another senior distance runner, Scott Dayton, shaved 16 seconds off his previous best time in the two mile when he took seventh at Brighton with a 9:56.4 clocking. He also ran the mile in a time of 4:38.

Northville took 12th place at the regional with 18 points, 12 of those being scored by Couyoumjian.

Farmington ended Northville's dual meet season on a losing note, 79-53, last week Wednesday.

Hurdler Mark Knoth recorded his best time in the 120 yard high hurdles at 15.6 for one of the few first places taken by the Mustangs.

Couyoumjian won the two mile in a time of 9:52.0, while Dayton won the mile in 4:39.0 and the 880 yard run in 2:07. The only other first came from the mile relay team of Dayton, Knoth, Pete Wojcicki and John Letarte in a time of 3:43.4.

The Western Six Conference meet is slated for Wednesday, June 2, at Livonia Churchill, and Gabrys sees a tight battle among his squad, Plymouth Canton and Walled Lake Western for second place. Churchill is favored to defend successfully its title.

"We'll cross our fingers," responded Gabrys to the prospects of placing second.

"Third place, though, would not be disappointing because we finished the dual meet season in fourth place," he added.

Schoolcraft soccer title still eludes Northville

Bon Meteyer had a feeling the cards were stacked against his Northville girls' soccer team heading in to the championship contest of the Schoolcraft Invitational Saturday.

Playing its fifth game in two days, and third of the afternoon, the state's second ranked squad was nipped by fifth ranked Livonia Stevenson 1-0 to earn runner-up honors the second consecutive year to the Spartans.

In addition, it was the fourth straight contest in which Northville played a team which was ranked in the top 10 in the state. Equally, Stevenson was playing its third game of the day, and fifth overall, but only played two teams which were ranked in the top 10.

"I kind of thought we were in trouble from the beginning," Meteyer declared. "The girls just couldn't get up for the game."

"They were making an effort, but they were tired," he added.

Stevenson's Mary Kay Hussey tallied the contest's lone goal at 2:24 of the first period. She nailed a shot just over the hands of Northville goalie Melissa McDaniel. It was only one of five shots on goal taken by the Spartans.

Northville was only able to get three shots on goal, one by Marge Miller and two by Jacque Nixon. And it was Nixon who missed a penalty kick with three minutes left in the game for the Mustangs' best scoring opportunity.

"The kids felt bad," Meteyer said.

"They put up a real good effort."

"There is no reason to be ashamed," he added.

The Mustangs gained revenge in a semifinal contest over top ranked Livonia Churchill 3-0. It was Churchill who stunned Northville 2-1 May 5 to hand the Mustangs their first loss of the year. Northville now is 17-2 overall.

The Chargers were stunned early by the Mustangs when Muller nailed a shot into the net 30 seconds into the game. She added another goal 12 minutes into the half to give Northville a 2-0 lead.

McDaniel came up with one of the biggest plays of the game, though, when she stopped a penalty kick by Churchill's Terry Veeches, who hadn't missed such a shot before McDaniel's key save.

Elizabeth Bohan closed the scoring for Northville with a goal nine minutes into the second half.

The long day began with another 3-0 victory over Plymouth Salem, who is ranked 10th in the state.

Of the two contests played Friday, only one was against a ranked squad.

There were two West Suburban Soccer Association contests played by the Mustangs last week. Northville easily topped Livonia Franklin 4-1 and Plymouth Canton 2-0.

The Mustangs final regular season contest was played Monday night against Churchill.

Netters tune up for W-Six meet with Waterford win

Northville's boys' tennis team will be looking to hold onto its second place standing at the Western Six Conference meet today at Plymouth Canton.

After finishing second in the dual meet standings at 5-3, coach Dick Norton believes his squad has a legitimate shot at retaining such a lofty position. Farmington Harrison is favored to defend successfully its championship.

"It's possible for us to take second," Norton explained. "It looks pretty good if we play up to performance."

The regular season came to an end for Northville Monday with a convincing 7-0 triumph over non-league foe Waterford Township. The victory gave Northville a final overall mark of 8-6, which was its first winning season since capturing the W-Six title in 1980.

The entire line up was changed for the Waterford meet since Norton wanted to give some non-starting netters a chance to play.

Arvind Sreedharan won his first singles match 6-1, 6-2, while Scott

Werdell was victorious at second singles 6-2, 6-4. Rick Vach won his third singles match 6-1, 6-0, while Kip Mach had little trouble at fourth singles 6-1, 6-2.

Chris McCormick and Chris Sixt easily won at first doubles, 6-0, 6-1, while Jeff Smith and Tim Campbell cruised at second doubles in straight 6-0 sets. Dave Jelso and Bill Harmon won by default at third doubles.

Harrison showed why it is the favorite to win the W-Six crown again when it easily handled Northville 6-0 last week Wednesday.

Sandwiched between the two dual meets was a regional meet in Ann Arbor Friday and Saturday. Only the second doubles team of Sixt and Anisoglou advanced as far as the semifinal round.

"On a whole, we didn't do too bad," Norton said. "I was only disappointed our number one and number three doubles teams didn't win their first round matches."

Eventual champions Tim Peterson and Martin Topless, of Ann Arbor Huron, downed Sixt and Anisoglou 6-0, 6-1 in the semis.

The pair had advanced with wins over Monroe's John McCaffery and Mark McPeak and Temperance-Bedford's Hal Phillips and Eric Hoogendorn.

The first doubles pair of Ouellette and Abraham lost their first match as did the third doubles team of John Vanderwou and Mark Olgren. Also losing a first round match was fourth singles player Werdell.

Back playing first singles for the first time in weeks, Richard Schohl won his first round match over Howell's James Hysen, but lost to Jackson's Eric Omen. McCormick was victorious over Howell's Mark Renaud, but lost to Ann Arbor Pioneer's Charles Tein in the second round. Sreedharan also won his first round match over Monroe's Brad Blohm, but lost to Wayne Memorial's Alan Spencer.

Baseball team downs Novi

Things have not improved much for the Northville baseball team lately.

The Mustangs now have lost nine of their last 10 games, with the only win coming against Novi 12-4 last week Tuesday. Northville's overall mark stands at 5-11 and 1-7 in the Western Six Conference.

"We seem to be duplicating (last year)," remarked coach Fred Holdsworth. Northville completed the 1981 season at 5-12 overall and 1-5 in W-Six action.

"Pitching and defense still are haunting us," he added. "We compete in a really strong conference, but we haven't been playing well."

Even in the lone win over Novi, which snapped a seven-game Mustang losing skid, neither team played well.

Northville tallied 12 runs on only seven hits, while Novi garnered four runs on seven hits.

The Newman brothers, Willie and Mickey, were a couple of key cogs in the Mustang offensive output. Willie slammed a homerun for one of three hits, while Mickey nailed a double and triple.

Mickey Newman doubled and scored on a ground out in the second inning, while Willie Newman drove home Todd Bartling in the fourth for a 2-1 advantage.

The flood gates were opened in the fifth inning when Northville touched home six times on only three hits, one being a two-run homer by Willie Newman.

The contest was sealed in the sixth when Northville tallied four times without the benefit of a hit. Novi pitchers walked four batters and committed a couple of errors.

Jim Thomson, in his first varsity start, earned the victory.

Harrison limited Northville to only four hits in its 5-4 triumph over the Mustangs last week Wednesday. Dave Malinowski was the losing pitcher.

"We just haven't given him much support," Holdsworth noted.

Northville battled Waterford Township Monday before hosting Milford at 2:30 p.m. Friday for a district contest.

Rec briefs

Open swim hours at the high school are Mondays through Thursdays 7-8 p.m. for adults only and 8:30-9:30 p.m. for everyone. Cost is 50 cents.

Additional recreation news is broadcast on Northville cable television's Channel 10.

There will be a men's Class C softball tournament June 11-13 at Thomson Field. Rosters and the $100 entry fee must be submitted to the rec department by June 7. Call Pete Talbot at 349-0203 for more information.

The rec office will be closed Monday, May 31, for Memorial Day.

Mustangs win two

One of the goals Northville girls' softball coach Mary Minor hoped to obtain this year was a .500 record.

As the season draws near a close, that goal still is attainable after the Mustangs won two of three contests last week to raise their overall mark to 6-8 and 3-5 in the Western Six Conference.

Northville gained revenge on Farmington Harrison 12-0 last week Wednesday, while dumping Novi 6-3 for the second time this year. The only loss came to Plymouth Canton 13-7.

"The kids were ready," explained Minor of the Harrison contest. "They realized they beat themselves in the first game."

This time, it was Harrison that beat itself as Hawks' pitching allowed at least 17 walks to account for eight of the 12 runs scored by Northville.

Leading hitter Sheri Robins drove home four runs, while winning pitcher Sue Keiser aided her own cause with two runs batted-in.

Also, Jan Roberts, Jill Matteucci and Chris Heary all drove in two runs.

"We didn't play good ball. We made a lot of errors," lamented Minor on the Canton contest.

One of the few highlights for Northville was when Robins drilled a homer over the outfield fence 190 feet away. According to Minor, Robins is only the second player to accomplish such a feat.

Northville completed its regular season against Waterford Mott Monday. The Mustangs play the district game in Milford at 2:30 p.m. Friday against a strong Lakeland squad.

Klauser not in Indy

Tom Klauser will not be participating in the Indianapolis 500 race this year because the man who sponsored him last year did not enter a car this time around.

The Northville resident explained Doug Schultz of Scottsdale, Arizona, who sponsored Klauser last year, did not enter a car for this year's 66th running of one of the world's greatest automobile races.

However, Klauser noted he was offered opportunities to qualify in other cars he termed "second-rate," ones he thought did not stand a chance of making the 33-car field.

Thus, it was a big disappointment for Klauser not to be in the thick of things to qualify for the May 31 race. "I wanted to do (qualify) with a real good car," he remarked last Thursday.

But, it would have been a waste of time to try to qualify with the record speeds being turned in, according to Klauser. "There are a lot of new cars out this year and the speeds are fast. It will make for an excellent field. Guys are worried they won't qualify with speeds of 193 (miles per hour). It will probably take about 194 (to qualify)," he observed.

Which is exactly what happened on the final day of qualifying at Indianapolis. The field of 33 cars established a record qualifying average speed of 197.740 miles per hour. The "slowest" car in the field belongs to rookie Roger Mears at 194.154.

An employee at McLaren Engines, Incorporated, in Livonia, Klauser noted his company had engines in seven cars trying to qualify for the Indy 500. "Business is booming," he said.

As for the Michigan 500 mile race which will take place later this summer, Klauser said he will not be trying to qualify for this event.

Despite not competing in any Indy-type car races this season, Klauser has been driving in endurance races this year. So far, he has competed in the Daytona, Sebring and Riverside 24-hour races with a couple more events slated for this August and September.

Baumann ties dash record

When the Northville girls' track team looks back on this year's season, it will be able to pinpoint a couple of bright spots.

The Mustangs, who finished the year winless in dual meet competition, had a couple of stellar individual performances in the Class A track regional at Brighton Friday.

Becky Baumann tied a school record in the 220 yard dash at 27.3 to place fifth in the semifinal heat. She now holds the record with Ann Dayton, who the assistant coach. Baumann advanced to the semis with a third place finish at 27.9 in the preliminary heat. Kim Campbell, who also competed in the shot put, took sixth in her heat.

Kelly Wool dropped about 12 seconds off her previous best time in the two mile at the meet with a 12:47.5 clocking which placed her 14th.

Marge Wojcicki was clocked at 6:11 in the mile, and Kim Assenmacher was timed at 18.3 in the 110 yard hurdles. Assenmacher also competed in the 220 yard hurdles.

Other competitors for Northville were the 880-yard relay team of Cathy Sawyer, Michele Musial, Sharon Savageau and Liz McLarty and the 440-yard relay team of Campbell, Baumann, Assenmacher and Musial.

The Mustangs lost a dual meet to Novi 78-44 last week Monday even though they garnered six first place finishes. Baumann won both the 100 and 220 dashes, while Wool captured the two mile and Assenmacher the 110 hurdles. Also, the 880 and 440 relay teams were victorious.

Northville will host the Western Six Conference meet next Wednesday. Preliminaries begin at 4 p.m. with finals starting at 7 p.m.
