Ogilvie's service terminates after primary

By JEAN DAY

Date for termination of City Attorney Philip Ogilvie's services was set for August 11 at Monday night's council session after the attorney agreed to serve at the city's primary election August 14.

The action followed criticism by Mayor Paul Vernon of The Record's editorials accusing the handling of the resignation as a violation of the intent of the Open Meetings Act.

City Manager Steven Walters announced that Charles Lowe, Plymouth City attorney, had been contacted and has agreed to handle the City of Northville's court cases in 35th District court, effective immediately. He then asked Ogilvie if he would handle the election as part of his July retainer fee of $1,100 as the city attorney opens and closes the polls officially on election day.

Ogilvie said he had no objection, noting, "I have never charged the city extra for this duty," but pointed out that his termination date would have to be the day following the election rather than July 31 to enable him to do so as city attorney.

Mayor Paul Vernon asked for a motion making termination effective August 11, which was moved by council member J. Burton DeRusha and seconded by G. Dewey Gardner. It passed unanimously.

Vernon asked Ogilvie to submit to the city any bills pending as soon as possible.

He also reported to council that he and DeRusha were meeting with an attorney Tuesday who had expressed interest in the position. He said the city has received "firm inquiries" from four different attorneys, two of whom live in Northville.

"We have resumes from two or three and will get them for you from all," he told council.

The discussion on the city attorney came at the end of the two-and-a-half hour council session during which Mayor Vernon read a seven-page statement criticizing Record editorials of July 14 and 21.

In the statement, Vernon explained, "The purpose of my approach to the city attorney was to allow him to resign, or retire, gracefully rather than be dismissed publicly by city council. However, since the city attorney chose to resign under protest, and The Northville Record has questioned the integrity of city council while readily accepting the city attorney's resignation letter at face value, I feel compelled to assure our citizens that our proceedings were done properly and in an effort to be fair and kind to a long-time public servant.

"The Northville Record is wrong in the editorial statement that 'only council as a whole could request a resignation.' Anyone, including The Northville Record, could suggest the city attorney, or any other city official, resign and the question would then be the degree to which the request could be taken seriously. The person receiving the suggestion could simply ignore it or accept it and submit a resignation to city council for consideration.

Vernon reveals in the statement that

"the matter of the city attorney's performance was discussed at a closed meeting of city council on April 26, 1982."

"The official purpose of that meeting was union contract negotiations and at the end of the closed meeting councilman DeRusha reminded the council that the city attorney had submitted a request for an increase in his retainer fee and that it should be officially acted upon before July 1 so that the new budget appropriation could be set accordingly.

"I responded that I was not satisfied with the city attorney's performance but the minutes specifically record that I pointed out 'official action cannot be taken because it is not on the agenda.'"

"I indicated that I did not feel any council action should be taken anyway until the city attorney was offered the opportunity to resign. The city attorney had served the community in many ways.

"I naturally took the lack of objection by the rest of council as a willingness to let me proceed on my own. I then asked councilman DeRusha to join me in

Police, family mourn trooper

More than 300 family members, relatives and officers attended a funeral mass for Michigan State Police Specialist/Trooper Vicki Ann Moreau-DeVries at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church, 770 Thayer, at 11 a.m. Monday.

Moreau-DeVries, 28, who formerly had been assigned to the Northville post and who lived in Novi in Echo Valley subdivision, was killed at 1:30 a.m. Thursday when her police car overturned on I-696 near I-275.

State, city and township police as well as sheriff's officers representing most of lower Michigan, along with Ohio and Indiana State Police, made up a majority of the three mile procession with family and "relatives" to the Holy Sepulchre Cemetery in Southfield where she was buried.

They assembled first at Casterline Funeral Home in Northville where visitation was held and then proceeded to the church.

According to state police, Moreau-DeVries apparently fell asleep at the wheel causing the car to veer left, hit the median on I-696 at I-275 and flip end over end.

Police said she was returning to the Northville post from a criminal investigative assignment near the end of her afternoon shift when the accident occurred. Also, police confirmed there was narcotic evidence in the car which

Tax tribunal rejects township petition

By KEVIN WILSON

Hopes for a small reduction in property valuations were dashed recently when the Michigan Tax Tribunal rejected a Northville Township appeal for correction of an error in calculation for 1982 taxes.

The township argued that an error in the sales study used to compute valuations resulted in a state equalized valuation for township homes approximately 0.8 percent too high. County officials did agree to correct the error for use in future years' tax collections.

But the tax tribunal ruled that the township board of review had reduced the 1982 total township SEV by more than $4 million while the error totalled roughly $1 million. The tribunal opinion was that the error had been compensated for on an individual basis in evaluation of tax appeals by the local board.

Clerk Susan Heintz said the township is pursuing alternatives that might allow for a second board of review to grant the 0.8 percent (or less) reduction to homeowners who did not file appeals and therefore did not benefit in March.

Michael Gibson of Kerr, Russell and Weber, attorneys to the township, wrote a letter to township officials explaining the tribunal's stand and the townships options in response.

Essentially, Gibson related that the tribunal may have granted the reduction had Wayne County petitioned with the township for correction of the error, which he said was the way such appeals "historically" have been handled.

"However, in our case the county felt and was upheld by the tax tribunal that notwithstanding the error, equalization for Northville Township was 50 percent of true cash value," Gibson wrote.

He said the key point in this argument was the township board of review actions reducing total equalized value by about $4.7 million.

Heintz's greatest concern was addressed by county tax officials, however, he noted.

"One brighter point is that George McEachren of Wayne County (Bureau of Taxation) has indicated the error will not be cumulative," Gibson wrote. "He told me that the error will not be rolled forward into subsequent years, if the 30-month equalization sales study is used in the future."

To gain any reduction in the current year, however, Gibson advised that the township has only two alternatives. The Tax Tribunal's decision may be appealed before the Michigan Court of Appeals.

He advised "it would be difficult to win an appeal...because we would have to show an abuse of discretion by the Tax Tribunal."

The deadline for filing such an appeal was Tuesday. On the attorney's advice, township officials chose not to call a special meeting to authorize an appeal.

The remaining option is to use legal provisions allowing the local board of review to conduct a special December session to correct the error. Section 211.53b of Michigan property tax law allows such corrective sessions when "there has been a clerical error or mutual mistake of fact" between assessors and taxpayers.

"The County may not react favorably to such a mass correction of errors," Gibson wrote. "However, I feel that this section can be used to correct the errors for those persons who did not go to the (March) Board of Review and receive reductions in their assessments."

Heintz said the township is exploring this option for feasibility. It would be a "massive" undertaking to notify all property owners who did not file in March that they may bring cases in December, she said.

While the township has not yet established its millage rate for the 1982 tax year, most board of trustees members have gone on record supporting a roll back of last year's levy to offset increased assessments.

The board met earlier this month to establish a millage rate, but tabled the issue until its August session while awaiting the outcome of the tax tribunal hearing. Rejection of the petition means the township millage rate will likely be 3.56 mills.

This includes 2.86 mills rolled back from the 2.98 mill levy from last year, plus an addition 0.7 mills authorized by voters in November for funding of the police department. The rollback might have been smaller had the petition for reduced assessments been granted.

Sidewalk sale will feature bargains, crafts, antiques

All 178 spaces for this year's downtown sidewalk sale being sponsored by the Northville Merchants' Association Saturday have been sold, Charles Lapham has announced.

He said the remaining two were taken early last week and he now has a waiting list started.

Saturday's sale from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. will be the first since the Mainstreet '78 project was completed. Because of the narrowed streets, Lapham explained, spaces have been somewhat redesigned with several added along the side of Northville Drugs.

Lapham added that all that is needed now is good weather. In event of a downpour before the sale begins, he said, it probably will be delayed a week to August 7.

The annual sidewalk sale, a summer clearaway with local merchants offering bargains in their stores and at outdoor tables in front, Lapham said, has become known also for its craft and antique booths.

Primarily, craft spaces have been sold along Main Street and antiques along Center. Both streets will be closed to traffic during the sale.

Lapham said he anticipates "a good antique show this year as many spaces have been sold. Some regulars like the man who sells old tools come every year—in fact, he has rented two spaces this year."

In addition to craftsmen and antique dealers, several "businessmen-for-a-day" who indicated they will have items like telephones and stained glass have taken about 30 percent of the

Two residents vie for post

Two Northville residents are among the 12 applicants to be interviewed by the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees in its search for a new board member to replace Nancie Blatt.

Lois Winters of 1046 Bristol Court and Paul R. Dawson of 21219 Chigwidden are among the candidates to be interviewed for the post August 9 and 11.

Three of the candidates will be interviewed at the board's meeting tonight beginning at 9:30 p.m.

Livonia resident Gerald J. Goode, a teacher/counselor in the Livonia Public Schools, will be interviewed at 9:30 p.m. tonight followed by Sharon Sarris of Livonia at 10 p.m. Mary Killeen, a registered nurse at Henry Ford Hospital, will conclude tonight's interviews at 10:30 p.m.

Other candidates to be interviewed between August 9 and 11 include Wesley L. Berry, Jr. of Livonia, Mary Uhl of Plymouth, William Warren of Livonia, Carol Juarez-Beach of Garden City, Lawrence Schweiger of Livonia, Shirley Kinsler of Plymouth and Richard Zimmerman of Livonia.

Board of Trustees also will consider acceptance of a $330 Scholarship Fund established in memory of former Northville resident Jean Johnson.

NEWS BRIEFS

TOWNSHIP PLANNING Commission cancelled its regularly scheduled meeting Tuesday night due to lack of business. The commission session has been rescheduled for next Tuesday, August 3 at 8 p.m. in township hall, 41600 Six Mile Road. To be considered are site plans for a church and associated school proposed for a large parcel of property on the west side of Haggerty Road just north of Five Mile.

ANTIQUE CAR SHOW and automotive flea market is scheduled at the Downs from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Sunday, August 1. Organized by the Northville Antique Car Club, the annual show will feature more than 350 cars on display at the track and a flea market dominated by automotive items. Admission is $1.

FEATURED IN this week's free Sunday Concert-in-the-Park sponsored by the Northville Arts Commission will be the Northville Community Band under the direction of Robert Williams. The concert will be held from 2-3 p.m. on the lawn behind city hall. Residents are invited to bring blankets and a picnic. In event of rain, the concert will be in the community building at 303 West Main.

Absentee ballots mailed to voters

Absentee voter ballots have been mailed to all area residents requesting them to date, City Clerk Joan McAllister and Township Clerk Susan Heintz report.

Heintz says that the township is mailing out the absentee ballots as applications are received, adding that applications have been sent to a permanent list of about 700 residents who have signed forms requesting them. Another 50 to 100 applications, she says, were mailed to people who expect to be on vacation on primary election day, August 14.

"We always have a huge amount of absentee ballots," she observes, reporting Tuesday morning that 364 absentee ballots have been mailed to date.

McAllister says she has a permanent list of about 100 absentee requests, all but two (for persons out of the country) are for senior citizens. She had only two requests by last weekend from persons who expect to be on vacation.

August 7 at 2 p.m. is the last day to apply for absentee ballots by mail. Those qualified to vote absentee in the primary election August 10 may vote in person in the clerk's office in either the city or township until 4 p.m. Monday, August 9.

Election regulations stipulate also there may be emergency absentee voting for the primary up to 4 p.m.

August 10 at the clerk's offices.

McAllister explains that absentee voting on August 9 is for persons who discovered over the weekend that they will be out of town all during election day, and for anyone who suddenly became ill and would not be able to go to the polls.

Any senior citizen 60 years old or older is entitled to vote by absentee ballot, she adds.

City voters in the consolidated precinct 1 in Wayne County will find names of two precinct delegates, Velma Belasco and Steve Folino, on the ballot. Since two may be elected from the precinct by Wayne County regulations, it will not be necessary for voters to make a choice, the clerk points out.

In precinct 2 in Oakland County portion of the city, only Robert Brueck's name appears on the ballot. In Oakland County only one delegate may be chosen from a precinct, McAllister states.

Payne named Hudson's president

Reportedly looking for a home in Northville is former resident Thomas Payne, who was named president of the J. L. Hudson Company yesterday by Hudson's chairman Gerald P. Mills.

Payne, president and chief executive officer of John A. Brown, a department store in the southwest, is a native Detroit and former resident of Northville.

A 1952 St. Mary of Redford High School graduate, Payne also attended University of Detroit.

He began his retailing career with Hudson's in 1957. He has served as divisional merchandise manager of the men's division, general manager of the Southland store and vice president and general merchandise manager of Hudson's Rainbow Division.

Josh White Jr. to perform at bluegrass festival

By KEVIN WILSON

Josh White Jr. will definitely appear in Northville at the Sixth Annual Folk and Bluegrass Festival Benefit for Huntington's Disease August 7-8.

Those who have attended the event in its five previous incarnations may be saying "Sure he will. They said that before and he didn't show up."

But Giftfiddler Music Store owner and festival sponsor Tom Rice said this year is different, for one important reason: White's appearance was arranged through his agency and the popular folk singer has a contract to appear.

"Josh White is absolutely going to be here," Rice said. "I got smart this time. I worked through his agency and we have a signed contract. The date is on his calendar, so they won't schedule something else."

Rice explained that White appeared at the second festival and was a major attraction. The appearance was highlighted by an audience participation rendition of Tobacco Road that Rice said "still really gets to me, just remembering it."

Slated to appear in the third and fourth editions of the benefit event, White made late cancellations in favor of revenue-producing appearances.

Rice said White was not the only performer ever to cancel an appearance for that reason, although he may have been the biggest name draw to the event who has done so.

"Last year I even put notices on my flyers that cancellations could occur," Rice explained. "It's just in the nature of the event, being a charity performance, that entertainers will often say they'll come and be sincere. Then they get offered a paying date and they just can't turn down the money."

Booking the charity date as if it were a part of the singer's regular tour, however, avoids that problem.

Josh White, Jr.'s return to the festival is given added emphasis with Rice's decision to lean more toward the folk music side of the festival after a bluegrass-dominated event last year.

White will appear in the late afternoon Sunday, August 8, at Northville's Ford Field from 1-9 p.m. Sharing the Sunday bill of performers, all of whom have significant reputations in their fields, will be folk singer Dean Rutledge, blues performers Rich and Maureen Del Grosso, some old-time music from the Ruff Water String Band, Larry Stevens singing the blues, more folk by Calico, and bluegrass by Home Grown Grass.

The festival begins on Saturday, August 7 with a lineup of performers that includes folk guitarist Neil Woodward, Allen Z and his dulcimer, the Bluegrass Generation, more folk music from Banjo Betsy Beckerman, old time by Northern Comfort, still more folk by Nexus and bluegrass from Wild Clover and Flash in the Pan.

Minimum donation to the Huntington's Disease benefit is $4 per day for adults, $2 for children under 12 and seniors. Infants in arms are admitted free. The field is located behind the Ford Motor Company Northville Valve Plant, just off Hutton immediately north of Main Street.

Getting down to brass tacks

By CHRIS JOHNSON

This past school year, the board of education was involved in three very important tasks. Those were selecting a new superintendent of schools, working with a citizen's committee to work on program standards and their effectiveness and working with a citizen's committee to help determine how to best utilize our district's facilities.

The board has completed the selection of the new superintendent. Dr. George Bell began work on July 1 after his selection by the board. The board encourages you to meet and get to know Dr. Bell. We think you will see many of the same qualities that people asked the board to look for when the board began searching for a new superintendent.

In May of this year, the citizen's committee on program standards and their effectiveness presented a comprehensive report to the board of education.

The board asked the board's curriculum subcommittee to review the report and set up a timeline to monitor future progress. At the same time, the entire administration was reviewing the report.

At the last school board meeting in June, the curriculum subcommittee reported back to the board. The administration found the report to be very workable and a plan was developed to start the work needed to implement the report.

In August of this year, two teachers from each building will begin meeting with an administrative group to study the citizen's report. In September, the citizen's report will be reviewed by the entire staff at each school. Those teachers and administrators on the committee will then present program recommendations to the board's curriculum subcommittee in October.

The board feels this committee helped move the district toward setting standards and evaluating in our most important area: educational program.

School board members assigned to subcommittees

Northville Board of Education announced board subcommittee assignments for the 1982-83 school year at its regular special meeting Monday night.

Subcommittee assignments include:
Curriculum — Chris Johnson, chairperson; Jean Hansen and Douglas Whitaker, members; Nancy Soper, administrative liaison;

Facilities — Glenna Davis, chairperson; Gerald Munro and Douglas Whitaker, members; Burton Knighton, administrative liaison;

Finance — Jean Hansen, chairperson; David Llewellyn and Karen Wilkinson, members; John Street, administrative liaison;

Personnel — Karen Wilkinson, chairperson; Christopher Johnson and David Llewellyn, members; Burton Knighton, administrative liaison;

Policy — Gerald Munro, chairperson; Glenna Davis and Karen Wilkinson, members; Nancy Soper, administrative liaison;

Economic Development Corporation Representative — Chris Johnson;
Recreation Commission — David Llewellyn;

Title IX — Glenna Davis;
Legislation — Jean Hansen.

The board also agreed Monday to revamp the format of its regular special meetings held the fourth Monday of each month.

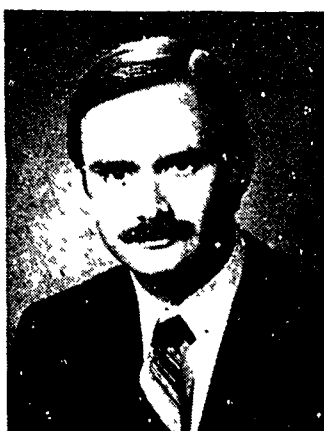

The board has traditionally rotated the location of its regular special meeting among the seven Northville schools to make board members more visible to the community.

The board agreed Monday that each host school will be responsible for presenting a brief program about the school's activities and goals.

The board is hoping the programs will help members better understand what is going on in the district's schools and give parents some idea of what the schools are doing.

Board members said they also hope to encourage parents to attend the meetings in their area.

meeting with the city attorney and exploring other ways to meet our legal requirements which we did during the next two-and-a-half months, while council waited without taking any action concerning the city attorney."

In his prepared remarks, Vernon quoted The Record's statement that "...requesting the attorney's resignation and only constitutes action, but is arguably tantamount to dismissal."

Vernon disagreed, saying, "Actually, councilman DeRubeis and I did not request the city attorney's resignation, which his subsequent letter indicates clearly. At our June 14 meeting with him we first asked whether he might be considering resigning. Then we indicated that we felt the council was dissatisfied with his performance and

"suggested" he resign. When he asked for examples of his unsatisfactory performance, we cited some and suggested he could request a closed hearing with the council if he wished to discuss it in more detail."

Vernon continued in his statement, "Although I indicated to the city attorney that I expected city council by a majority vote would move to dismiss him if he did not choose to resign voluntarily, this was based on the past expressions of dissatisfaction and not on any formal decision or poll."

"Although he chose not to take advantage of that opportunity I believe the city is better for having offered it and I would do it that way again."

Vernon's complete statement appears on Page 11-A.

spaces, Lapham estimated. Merchants, such as Moonkin Toys, not located downtown, also have taken space, Lapham noted.

"They are showing ingenuity," Lapham observed, relating that some residents are renting pop and ice cone machines. In addition, there will be an ice cream wagon and a hot dog stand, he said.

Several local organizations annually use booths at the sale to raise funds. This year, Lapham counted, there are three high school groups (including the senior class selling head boppers), Friends of Northville Library, Northville Historical Society (chances on the Hunter House dollhouse and class sign-up) and the city fire department auxiliary.

A group that always has a sellout is Mizpah Circle of King's Daughters. President Marge Bolton stressed that the baked goods sale is the circle's only fund-raiser for its support of King's Daughters and for its local welfare work.

Sale chairman Libby Kohring, who also is the circle's new vice president, reported that the emphasis is on homemade pies and breads this year. Circle members are baking more than 125 nine-inch pies in rhubarb, apple, cherry and blueberry fruits to be sold for $3.25. In addition, there will be more than 100 small pies selling at 75 cents, she promised.

White, whole wheat, oatmeal and fruit breads and cookies will be sold at Lapham said that, if the ideal summer weather continues, he expects a record sale day. When spaces went on sale July 1 on a first-come, first serve basis, he recalled, people were lined up along the sidewalk waiting for his store to open to sign up. "We were half-filled with about 75 spaces taken by noon." His total count, he said, of 178 includes merchants' displays.

He also noted that he encountered little opposition to charging $20 a space, up $5 from last year. This charge, Lapham noted, pays for publicizing the sale. He said he feels the new first-come reservation plan has eliminated objections raised last year by some who did not like their booth locations.

Mill Race classes slated

Northville Historical Society members will take turns manning the society's booth at the northeast corner of Main and Center at Saturday's Sidewalk Sale.

On display will be the Greek Revival Dollhouse, a replica of the Hunter House at Mill Race Village. The house was constructed for the Historical Society's July 4 float to commemorate the 10th anniversary of Mill Race Village.

Tickets will be sold Saturday and all through the summer for persons interested in participating in a drawing to be held at the society's Tivoli Fair October 2. The dollhouse will be the top prize and tickets are 50-cents each.

At Saturday's Sidewalk Sale, the society also will be selling colored postcards of Mill Race Village and will be accepting new memberships as well as registering students for the upcoming fall classes and workshops at Mill Race.

Nine classes and eight workshops are outlined in the society's brochure which is being mailed to 800 homes this week. Brochures will be available at the Sidewalk Sale booth and beginning August 2 at IV Seasons, Two's Company on Main and at the Northville, Plymouth and Novi libraries.

Classes to be offered this fall include American Samplers, Basketry, Calligraphy, Chair Caning, Clock Repair, Contemporary Historic Landscapes, Quilting, Porcelain Doll and Woodcarving.

Saturday workshops will be held in Genealogy, Market Basket, Mother/Daughter Patchwork, Natural Dyeing, Rug Braiding, Stenciling and Wreath of Wheat.

Police, family honor State Trooper Vicki DeVries

Moreau-DeVries was bringing to the crime laboratory at the Northville post.

Moreau-DeVries enlisted in the state police in February of 1977 and was first assigned to the Mount Pleasant post in May of the same year. She was transferred to the Northville post in May of 1978, before serving with the Criminal Investigative Section in Livonia since November of 1980.

She was born in Detroit and was graduated from high school in Bloomfield Hills. Moreau-DeVries earned a bachelor of science degree in criminal justice from Michigan State University which she attended from 1971-74.

She is survived by her husband, David, a state police trooper at the Brighton post whom she married just over one year ago, and by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Moreau of Jacksonville, Florida.

Police Blotter

Two Livonia residents killed in motorcycle accident

In the township...

Two Livonia residents died in a single motorcycle accident late Thursday night at Hines Drive and Northville Road, township police chief Kenneth Hardesty said.

Jeffrey Craig Miller, 41, of 9175 Houghton in Livonia and Edith Jane Manus, 23, of the same address were pronounced dead at the scene by Botsford Hospital doctors in radio contact with ambulance paramedics.

Police believe Miller lost control of the Harley-Davidson motorcycle while negotiating a sharp bend on southbound Hines just before it intersects with Northville Road. The motorcycle left the right side road, striking a curb, investigating officers said. Manus was a passenger on the motorcycle, riding behind Miller. The bodies of the two victims were found at roadside; the motorcycle continued approximately 150 feet beyond the curb before coming to a stop.

Hardesty said police do not have a firm calculation of the vehicle velocity except to say it was "traveling at a high rate of speed." Police believe the bike first fell to the pavement in the middle of the road before continuing to the curb. The chief said the left side plates covering the transmission and clutch were torn off the bike by the force of the accident.

Hardesty said he anticipates no criminal charges in the case.

A $100 television and unknown other items were stolen from a Bantury Court residence burglarized July 25.

Police reports indicate the thieves gained entrance by tapping, then breaking, a window pane in the front door near the door handle. The owners of the house were on vacation, and the man's parents were staying at the residence.

The parents reported the bedrooms were ransacked, but that they did not know what might be missing. They reported they left the home at about 5:30 p.m. and returned at 1 a.m. the following morning to find the damages.

Police found two electric clocks lying on the floor by a doorway. Both showed midnight as the time they were unplugged from the wall. The residents were contacted by telephone and informed of the burglary and said they would contact police with a full list of missing items on their return.

A breaking-and-entering at a Ladywood residence resulted in $330 damage but little was stolen, according to police reports.

Residents of the home left on vacation July 3 to July 11 and discovered the damage upon their return. A neighbor watching the home for the vacationing family discovered a bathroom window screen removed and the window pane open July 5.

Damage to the window was placed at $330. Also damaged was the co-axial cable to a video recorder unit, which was not stolen. Missing were two blank checks, 16 U.S. quarters dated 1949-59 and 10 Kennedy half-dollars dated 1964-71 (both sets of coins were removed from collectors' books), and a key.

Police suspect a neighborhood youth may have been involved in the break-in, as neighbors report he told other children in the area he had been in the home.

Gasoline belonging to Jack L. Dobson Supplies, Inc. was stolen from Silver Spring Drive yard July 29-31, police reports indicate.

The thieves cut a fence to gain access to the gasoline tanks near the city DPW yard and escaped with about 140 gallons of the Dobson fuel, valued at $138. Damage to the fence was estimated at $75.

Police investigated a potential assault and battery case July 23 at Northridge Apartments. The female victim declined to press charges against her ex-husband.

According to police reports, the woman left her apartment to purchase cigarettes and on her return found her ex-husband in the home. When she asked him to leave, he knocked her to the ground and began kicking her in the head and side.

The woman also told police three rings, with a total value of $1,710, were missing from the apartment after the man left. The man returned to the apartment while police were investigating, seeking, he said, his wallet. According to the report, the man told police he did not know where the rings were. Police could not find his wallet in the apartment.

The woman was treated and released from St. Mary hospital, having suffered contusions to the face and left side.

Township police statistics show the number of escapes from Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital continues to exceed the one-per-day average of recent years.

According to a report from the chief of police to the board of trustees, 69 patients were reported on "unauthorized leave" during June. Of those 29 were returned to the hospital during June and 40 were considered "at large."

Of the June walkaways from the Seven Mile Road mental health institution, six were apprehended by township police who spent a total one hour and 35 minutes assisting hospital security forces. None of the six was involved in criminal activity.

The June totals bring year-to-date figures (on the township fiscal year beginning April 1) to 164 escapes with 111 returned, and 54 "at large." All the June figures represented increases from May, which chief Kenneth Hardesty said is expected in summer months.

Hospital figures do not match those tallied by the township due to differences in the classification of mental health regularly disputes the one-per-day average cited by township officials. That the walkaway situation continues was illustrated again last week, when township police reports showed township forces responding to four escape reports in five days.

One escapee was found at Seven Mile and Meadowsbrook at about 3:30 p.m. July 21, another walking northbound on Haggerty north of Seven Mile at about 3 p.m. that date. An escapee was also apprehended on Soenic Harbor Drive June 29 at 2:20 p.m. Police responded to a call that an escapee was in the A&P store on Seven Mile at about 5 p.m. July 25 but hospital security forces had already returned the patient to the facility when police arrived.

... in the city

Unknown suspects stole items worth $485 from a vehicle, which also was damaged, parked on Hutton sometime July 21, city police report.

Taken were a $350 Audiovox power booster, $100 Audiovox speakers and $35 in cash. The rear side window was broken, resulting in $100 damage, police said.

A $1,200 Aqua King automatic swim pool vacuum cleaner and 100 feet of electrical cord were stolen from the Northville High School swimming pool office between July 3-5, police report.

The complainant said an older model was left in its place, the report said.

Unknown suspects stole a $400 26-inch 10-speed Schwinn Varsity bicycle from a Morgan Circle residence's garage between July 20-21, police said.

A $136 Bogen camera tripod was stolen from a person working at the Mill Race Historical Village sometime June 27, police said.

The complainant explained she was photographing a wedding party when five white males and a white female took the tripod, which was located 30 feet away from her. The complainant said the suspects left in a large black vehicle, the report said.

Unknown suspects stole a $100 Bug Zapper from a Dunsany Court residence between July 16-17, police said.

Jaycees plan August Summerfest, Salem Air Show

Northville Jaycees are not resting after hosting Fourth of July activities here. They have scheduled their annual Salem Air Show and Fly-In for August 8 while also planning a first Summerfest August 26-29 at Northville Downs.

A delegation of Jaycees attended city council meeting Monday night to explain plans for the new Summerfest and seek permission to use city signs to announce it.

Most of the proceeds will be earmarked for a Jaws of Life mechanism to aid in removing accident victims from vehicles with the remainder going to support muscular dystrophy work, council was told. The Jaycees added that they were seeking a one-day license from the state to sell beer at the event and also are asking for a permit to hold a Las Vegas night, explaining that the latter is a popular attraction.

Council member Paul Folino, noting that the VFW and Alhambra had held similar events, warned that there are carnival skill games that are illegal. The Jaycees said they had investigated several carnival operations and that the one hired, Pugh Shows, Incorporated, from Ohio had operated successfully in Michigan, including a recent carnival in Novi.

A representative of the firm assured council, "We will do nothing to cause problems," and noted they have operated in Birmingham and Rochester as well as twice in Novi.

City Manager Steven Walters said the event would be regulated by the city noise ordinance which has an 11 p.m. deadline. It was agreed to close the carnival at 11 p.m. on Thursday and Sunday with midnight closing for Friday and Saturday if there were no citizen objections.

Operators said that 80 percent of their business comes on the weekend nights as they promised to try to control the noise later in the evening.

Civic organizations are being invited to take booths at the Summerfest tent to be set up in the Downs parking lot for the first time. Jaycee-sponsored Summerfest, Bruce Hackmann, chairman, announced. A planning meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. August 2 at the American Legion Home on Dunlap.

Any interested civic groups are invited to attend. Hackmann also may be contacted for information after 9 p.m.

In addition to the tent with game attractions, there will be a beer tent and carnival rides on the grounds to be offered at $5 for an all-day ticket. Sponsors report the rides will include the popular "Zipper."

The all-day fly-in at Salem Airport on Six Mile in Salem will include a flea market and garage sale with 300 participants. Starting the fly-in will be a pancake breakfast served from 8 to 11 a.m., according to Greg Dawson, chairman.

The show will feature displays of am-que experimental aircraft, new aircraft, vintage planes and U.S. Air Force and Navy exhibits.

During the day there is to be a parachute jump show, an ultra-light display and demonstration as well as a fly-over by Selbridge Air Force Base and the U.S. Coast Guard air and sea rescue helicopter.

Prizes will be awarded for the oldest plane, an E.A.A. competition, for the most unique aircraft, for the longest flight in, the oldest pilot and the coolest co-pilot, reported Dawson who may be contacted at 349-4567.

• OBITUARIES •

MARY MANETTY

Funeral service for area resident Mary Manetty, 86, was held at noon July 20 at St. Gerard Church. The Reverend John Mennor officiated. Burial was at Holy Sepulchre Mausoleum.

Mrs. Manetty, a Livonia resident, died July 18 at Botsford General Hospital. She was born in Italy, March 13, 1896 to Michael and Filomena Franchi.

A homemaker, she also was a member of St. Gerard Church of Farmington.

Mrs. Manetty was preceded in death by her husband Frank, who died in 1950.

She is survived by her daughters Mrs. Theresa (Anthony) Tabacchi of Northville, Mrs. Margaret (Sam) LoCicero and Mrs. Edith Renzi of Livonia and Mrs. Frances (John) Longo of Boca Raton, Florida.

Other survivors include her brother Beneditto Franchi of Livonia and her sisters Mrs. Anna Montemurri and Mrs. Rose McCarthy of Cass Lake and Mrs. Assunta Roberts of Allen Park.

She also is survived by four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Rosary and prayers were recited at Harry J. Will Funeral Home in Livonia.

ANTHONY POSNIK

Funeral service for former Northville resident Anthony "Tony" Posnik, 89, was held at 1 p.m. July 22 at Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home under the direction of Detroit Commandery No. 1, Knights Templar. Burial was at Acacia Park Cemetery.

Mr. Posnik died July 19 at Dearborn Heights Convalescent Home. Born in Lublin, Poland, May 6, 1893, he emigrated to the United States in 1909. In 1914, he founded A. F. Posnik and Company — a transportation business.

He enlisted in the United States Army during World War I and served overseas before he was honorably discharged in 1919. During the war, he married Vera Bretzki in Archangel, Russia.

In addition to A. F. Posnik and Company, he also operated the Northville Riding Academy. Although he retired in 1971, the business still remains in the family, having been acquired by his son Ralph of Northville.

Mr. Posnik was a life member of Detroit Lodge No. 2, F. and A.M.; Detroit Commandery No. 1, Knights Templar; Valley of Detroit Consistory; Moslem Temple Shrine and a life member of its Arabian Horse Troop and a veteran of its patrol unit and the Royal Order of Court Jesters No. 28.

He also was an active member in the YMCA, the Polar Bear Post No. 436 of the VFW, Church by the Sea in Bal Harbour, Florida, King Cyrus Chapter No. 133 R.A.M. and Bushnell Congregational Church.

He is survived by his wife Vera, his son Ralph and his daughters Mrs. Dorothy Dasher and Mrs. Julie Pettelle.

He also is survived by seven grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

NICHOLAS WALTER BECKER

Graveside service for area resident Nicholas Walter Becker, 76, was held at 1 p.m. July 21 at Mt. Hope Cemetery in Livonia. The Reverend Irving M. Mitchell of Northville Christian Community Church officiated. Burial was at Mt. Hope.

Mr. Becker died July 19 at Botsford General Hospital after a long illness.

Born in Chicago, Illinois, January 22, 1906, to Nicholas and Ida (Daniels) Becker, he was a retired electrician for Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

A member of Christian Community Church of Northville, Mr. Becker had been active with the Boy Scouts of Southfield and participated in the annual Southfield fairs. He was given the key to the City of Southfield for civic work, and a day had been proclaimed in his honor.

Mr. Becker is survived by his wife Dorothy, his son Robert of Livonia and three grandchildren.

Travel in drum corps

Ten Northville residents are members of the Plymouth Fall and Drum Corps which participated in Fourth of July activities here before going on a successful performance tour of the East.

During the two-day tour of Connecticut and Pennsylvania the corps performed in two parades, a master, a competition and three concerts, and was reported receiving a "warm reception everywhere."

The young participants, aged 12-18, earned a "best all-around musical unit in parade" citation in Umoval, Connecticut, and were awarded a plaque and several trophies for performance excellence.

Appearances also were made in Deep River and Cromwell, Connecticut, and in Stroudsburg, Elizabeth Fort Ligonier and Fort Pitt Pennsylvania.

Northville city and township members include Judy Bunkamiller, Jennifer Cox, Melissa Francour, Kevin Murray, Mike Culling, Scott Martin, Keith Surman, Sheryl Burns, Kevin Martin and Kim Norman.

The fall and drum corps will be performing at the Canton County Festival August 7 and at the Plymouth Fall Festival September 12.

Marquis features film trivia contest

Do you know who first played Flash Gordon in the screen?

If you do and had you been at the Marquis Theatre's Movie Trivia program in Northville when the question was asked this month, you'd be a winner.

The between-shows attraction at 9 p.m. every Friday and Saturday in the restored theater at 133 East Main is a feature begun this spring under the direction of B. Armetland, who describes himself as "a movie buff for more than 40 years."

Armetland, a Windsor resident, has lectured on movies at the University of Windsor.

Earlier this month he showed clips from Popeye films and followed through on the trivia quiz with questions on movies that came from the comics.

"Comic strip movies," he comments, "go back to the silent film days." He cites such titles as "Maggie and Jiggs."

Weekend movie goers who know the trivia answers can win such prizes as a toaster oven or a garment bag from displays of prizes in the lobby.

Armetland also has a "potluck" question each week with members of the audience invited to "take an envelope." Each week that the question is not answered the prize goes up $14.

Armetland adds that all contestants receive prizes. The trivia feature proceeds to give away a total of $546 in prizes.

Because many old movies have been shown on late night television, Armetland has found that movie-goers are knowledgeable about the older, too.

The trivia quiz is timed so that those viewing the early movie featured at the Marquis may stay to participate while late-show patrons may arrive a half-hour early to take part.

Movies are shown at 7 and 9:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday nights in the theater originally built in 1926 as a vaudeville house for shows such as Movie Trivia.

It was restored by Inge and Jay Zayti in 1978. They preserved the original feeling of the theater which now is a Northville feature — and one of the few remaining movie houses with a marquee.

The Movie Trivia game has been a free "bonus" for weekend movie goers attending such recent attractions at the theater as "Clash of the Titans" and "Pink Panther Strikes Again."

All seats at the theater are $1.50.

In addition to relying on his memory of movies for the questions, Armetland says, he checks his knowledge in the library he has collected of movie books.

If you said Larry Buster Crabbe was the first Flash Gordon, you were right. Sam Jones was a later Flash.

Our Opinions

August primary: important, complex

Primary elections in the off-year (meaning there is no presidential contest) have long had the reputation for low voter interest and even lower turnouts. We would hope this will not be the case at the upcoming August 10 statewide primary since it could be one of the more significant pollings of recent years.

There is no getting around the fact that this election can also be confusing. This will be the first tally of the electorate conducted with the rearranged district boundaries demanded by population changes revealed in the 1980 census. Michigan voters will also be asked to choose candidates for the November selection of William Milliken's successor as governor, and potential challengers to U.S. Senator Donald Riegle.

While those two glamor posts attract most of the attention, in the longer term the results in county, state and congressional races could carry as much impact on the future of the state and our area. Northville will have to choose a new state representative from a field of relative unknowns (at least in this area). Whoever is selected will have big shoes to fill since the community has become accustomed to the strong performance of Jack Kirksey, whose district no longer includes this area.

State Senator Robert Geake faces primary opposition from another Northville resident, Norman Kinzel. U.S. Congressman Carl Pursell has a challenger from Jackson. Wayne County voters have another important selection to make — from a broad field of candidates they must pick a nominee for county executive. The shape of future Wayne County government will be governed to a great extent by the choice, since the new charter leaves a great deal up to the first executive.

Also, with the new county government and its reduced number of commissioners, each individual could gain greater clout making the choice of commissioner more important than it has been. Incumbent Mary Dumas faces opposition in the primary and if she makes that cut, will find a Democrat gunning for the seat in November.

Of course, primary voters can, and must, narrow the vast array of potential choices by confining votes to one party. This can add to the electorate's confusion, however. The most common example is that of the voter who wishes to help pick the Republican nominee for governor yet finds a Democrat the best candidate for Wayne County executive. There is no way to reconcile these options, and which choice voters make could have a great influence on the outcome of the primary, particularly in the county race.

To help voters sort out the candidates, we will include an election supplement in next week's editions. We will also make our customary endorsements in some local races, based on staff interviews conducted with the candidates in recent weeks. We do not expect every voter will agree with our choices, but do hope our efforts provoke some thought and discussion that will help sort out the possibilities. We also urge voters to take advantage of every opportunity to study the candidates and the issues in this election. We believe our role as a local paper is to issue as much information as possible about local races, assuming voters will gather the in-depth information on statewide and national offices from other news sources. Our guide will include outlines of those wider races, of course, to make it as useful as possible.

We believe current conditions in Michigan and the region demand more than politics-as-usual. To force something more requires an informed and interested electorate. Sure, this is an off-year primary and the nominees will be back in November. It is important, however, that voters make careful selections now to insure meaningful choices later in the year. We think voters realize the situation and hope next week's editions can help spur an active interest and participation in the results.

Sidewalk sale — fun and bargains

Shoppers who detoured around barricaded and avoided partially-completed sidewalks last year will reap the benefits of that inconvenience at the annual Northville Merchants' Association sidewalk sale this Saturday.

They will browse along Main and Center streets where trees planted this spring already offer some shade and benches beckon tired shoppers. The completed Mainstreet '78 beautification project is the backdrop for an annual bargain event that also has become known as a crafts and antiques fair.

In addition to tables of clearaway bargains offered by merchants in front of their stores, the sale boasts booths of craftspeople's handmade work along Main and antiques on Center as both streets are closed for the day-long event.

Again this year Charles Lapham and his son Scott have taken on the volunteer task of selling street spaces to craftspeople and antique dealers and then arriving early Saturday morning to mark off the streets. The Laphams explain that the sale of spaces for antiques and crafts pays for promotion of the merchants' clearaway and adds interest to the sale.

Through the years, sidewalk sale day has been a growing community attraction as neighbors pause to visit while picking up bargains. It also has become a fund-raiser for organizations like Mizpah Circle of King's Daughters whose homemade baked goods sell out quickly and for Friends of Northville Library who have 2,000 used books to sell.

It's a great way to enjoy a sunny summer day in our town. Don't miss it.

The high cost of higher education

With the recent announcement of tuition increases at Michigan's institutions of higher learning, it only seems fitting that next year's crop of college graduates receive their diplomas on silver platters.

Having left the ivy-covered walls of Michigan State University only two years ago, it is alarming to learn that by the time this year's freshmen class completes its graduation requirements, the cumulative cost of tuition, room and board most likely will exceed my total earnings for the past two years.

The board of trustees at my alma mater announced last week that costs to next year's students will increase 15 percent over last year. Costs for the 1982-83 academic year are projected to be $3,985 for lower classmen and $4,165 for juniors and seniors. Of course this only accounts for tuition, room and board. It says nothing for books costs, lab fees, club and organization dues and a host of other expenses.

Costs at other public institutions within the state also will skyrocket once September rolls around. The University of Michigan leads the pack with fees projected at $4,475 for freshmen and sophomores and a whopping $4,711 for juniors and seniors.

Looking at the other side of the coin, private colleges and universities will fare little better. Fees at private institutions will increase at approximately the same rate this coming September as their public counterparts. With tuition rates already far above those of public colleges, it's a wonder the bottom hasn't dropped out of private school enrollment.

Many argue that higher education has become a luxury unaffordable to many Americans. This observation, unfortunately, may not be that far from the truth. While student loan monies, scholarships and grants still are available to those who qualify, the depressed state of the economy has taken its toll on the amount of available student aid.

I have considerable empathy for today's student trying to work his or her way through college. Washing dishes, mowing lawns and delivering newspapers used to earn many students enough money to pay for their terms' tuition. However, with college costs at their present high, it seems close to impossible for even the most enterprising student to make ends meet.

I also can't help but wonder about the dilemma facing the parents of a straight-A Merit Scholar who is accepted into Harvard, Yale or any other $10,000-plus per year institution. The exorbitant cost of attending one of the country's finest private colleges makes it not only unaffordable to most Americans but affordable to only an elite few.

The high cost of a college degree poses many questions about the future of higher education. With fewer students able to afford the cost, colleges and universities are finding it more difficult to function. In Michigan, state funding for higher education has increased over the past five years. However, inflation has swallowed up most of those dollars — leaving many colleges and universities to slash budgets and cut programs.

Many colleges are wiping out entire departments or consolidating schools just to maintain operations. In the meantime, it is becoming increasingly more difficult to retain quality faculty members when so many are being lured away by wealthier private industry groups.

The irony — and perhaps the saddest commentary on the plight of higher education — is that today's college degree no longer is a ticket to fame and fortune. The job market is stuffed to the gills with MBAs and PhDs — who in many cases are overeducated for the jobs they hold. On the other hand, many college graduates never find the jobs they studied years to attain. Many, simply don't find jobs.

It's a hefty price to pay to stand in an unemployment line.

Alms for the blind

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

It may be the way I was raised, but whatever the reason I have a confession — I pay my bills.

In fact, I don't rest comfortably until all my bills are paid. The ideal situation, as far as I'm concerned, is to not owe anything to anybody.

I don't think there's anything unusual about this quirk of mine. I like to believe just about everybody does it.

But a recent study by the federal government's General Accounting Office has caused me to reconsider. Specifically, the study showed that federal employees have defaulted on at least $20 million and perhaps as much as $40 million in government loans.

The computer study showed that approximately 17,000 federal employees had defaulted on student loans and roughly 66,000 more had not repaid Veterans Administration loans.

These are "federal" employees, mind you, including one individual, an attorney, who defaulted on a $4,000 student loan in 1978 and now collects an annual pay check of $35,000 from Uncle Sam.

The press release which crossed my desk didn't say how many loans to "non-federal" employees had not been repaid. But it did say some 5,000 doctors are among those who have defaulted on government loans.

As I get older, I find that I have become somewhat less forgiving of such transgressions. I'm sure there are some who would be inclined to think those federal employees ought to be fired and those 5,000 doctors should have their licenses yanked.

Not me. As I said before, I've become a hard-liner in my advancing years. How about boiling in oil for starters?

Here's Vernon's text on attorney action

In a prepared statement regarding the resignation of City Attorney Philip Ogilvie and the Record's editorial comments, read at city council meeting Monday night, Mayor Paul Vernon stated:

"Many years ago someone told me that reasonable people, equally informed, seldom disagree and I've found that to be generally true. If people are reasonable in their thinking and take time to get the whole story, they will seldom disagree.

"The policy of The Northville Record, as explained to me by its editor, is to not get both sides of an issue but to editorialize on the facts as the writer perceives them.

"Whether or not this policy of The Northville Record is accepted as good journalism practice I wouldn't know but I do know it is inflammatory, distorts the actual news, as a disservice to the readers who expect the truth and breeds disagreements because it gives unscrupulous writers a license to write whatever they want.

Certainly a gross abuse of that editorial privilege and an example of sick journalism was the article by Kevin Wilson in the Wednesday, July 14, 1982, issue of The Northville Record.

"As suggested by a long time resident of Northville, I should perhaps just consider the source and forget it because personalities and writing styles like Kevin Wilson's are generally associated with dissenters and rabble-rousers who delight in creating turmoil which may sell newspapers in large communities but which usually cause smaller local newspapers to lose credibility and the respect of local residents.

"However, because those who create turmoil can just move on and leave those with deep roots in a community to heal the wounds they have opened and because of the viciousness of his irresponsible comments with gross distortion of the facts I feel an obligation to reply.

His July 14 article included comments such as 'sickly orchestrated maneuvers' and 'secretly and slyly little deals that entail bald-faced lies on the public record' which have no basis in fact at all. They are merely one-sided opinions of an immature writer obsessed with a need to write inflammatory articles while feeling strongly protected by his constitutional rights as a journalist to write whatever he pleases without fear of legal reprisal.

He also makes the candid observation, 'I do know most public bodies complain about slow attorneys,' which is totally irresponsible because he has no way of knowing if 'most' public bodies complain. His editor defended it by telling me he is certain it happens in Northville Township which perhaps in their minds constitutes 'most' public bodies.

"The only really factual comments I could find in the entire article were 'since I don't entirely cover the city beat, I don't feel qualified to offer an opinion' and 'whether Phil Ogilvie is a good city attorney or not, I don't know, but we have seen lately that he is an admirable man, regardless.' I've known that he is an admirable man for many years.

"In closing my comments about that article let me make it clear to Kevin Wilson and his editor that there is absolutely no embarrassment to me because our city attorney chose to make a public statement about his resignation. That was his prerogative and having seen him function as city attorney for more than 10 years I expected him to respond as he did, but the point is that it was his decision.

"Now I'd like to comment on the editorial that was in the Wednesday, July 21, 1982, issue of The Northville Record.

"Although the writer was not identified, the editorial style resembled that in the earlier attack by Kevin Wilson and accused the city council of violating the spirit as well as the letter of the Open Meeting Act. The editorial would have you believe that city council members are forbidden by law from talking about city business at any time except in an open public meeting. That obviously is not true. Council members frequently meet at various functions and it is not illegal to express opinions to each other about matters that may be acted upon at subsequent city council meetings but that does not constitute an 'action' of city council. I talk frequently with our city manager and city council members, as well as others not connected directly with city administration, to keep everyone equally informed and aware of concerns that come to my attention. I will continue to do so because that is my role as mayor.

"The purpose of my approach to the city attorney was to allow him to resign, or retire, gracefully rather than be dismissed publicly by city council. However, since the city attorney chose to resign under protest, and The Northville Record has questioned the integrity of city council while readily accepting the city attorney's resignation letter at face value, I feel compelled to assure our citizens that our proceeding were done properly and in an effort to be fair and kind to a long-time public servant.

"The Northville Record is wrong in the editorial statement that 'only council as a whole could request a resignation.' Anyone, including The Northville Record, could suggest the city attorney or any other city official, resign and the question would then be the degree to which the request could be taken seriously. The person receiving the suggestion could simply ignore it or accept it and submit a resignation to city council for consideration.

"As mayor and presiding officer of the city council I had both the authority and responsibility to suggest to the city attorney that he resign. He chose to accept my suggestion and submitted his resignation to city council.

"I did not need the approval of city council to do that, the city attorney was not obligated to submit his resignation as the result of my suggestion and I did not know if council would accept the resignation, although I was reasonably certain they would based on past reactions to his work performance.

"The editorial speculates that 'presumably, the entire council, or a majority membership thereof, somehow made the decision without anyone having to take a public stand on it.' Obviously, council had to take a public stand in its consideration of the resignation statement.

"A meeting, private discussion, straw vote, or anything of the sort was not required for me to know that city council was not satisfied with the performance of the city attorney and was prepared to consider making a change. That should have been obvious to anyone attending city council meetings on a regular basis and certainly to The Northville Record representative.

"The matter of the city attorney's performance was discussed at a closed meeting of city council on April 26, 1982.

"The official purpose of that meeting was union contract negotiations and at the end of the closed meeting councilman DeRusha reminded the council that the city attorney had submitted a request for an increase in his retainer fee and that it should be officially acted upon before July 1 so that the new budget appropriation could be set accordingly.

"I responded that I was not satisfied with the city attorney's performance but the minutes specifically record that I pointed out 'official action cannot be taken because it is not on the agenda.'

"I indicated that I did not feel any council action should be taken anyway until the city attorney was offered the opportunity to resign. The city attorney has served the community in many ways.

"I naturally took the lack of objection by the rest of the council as a willingness to let me proceed on my own. I then asked councilman DeRusha to join me in meeting with the city attorney and exploring other ways to meet our legal requirements while we did during the next two-and-a-half months, while council waited without taking action concerning the city attorney.

"The Northville Record states it believes that 'requesting the attorney's resignation not only constitutes action, but is arguably tantamount to dismissal.' This is merely an opinion on the part of the newspaper. Actually, councilman DeRusha and I did not 'request' the city attorney's resignation, which his subsequent letter indicates clearly. At our June 14 meeting with him we first asked whether he 'might be considering resigning.' Then we indicated that we felt the council was dissatisfied with his performance and 'suggested' he resign.

"When he asked for examples of his unsatisfactory performance, we cited some and suggested he could request a closed hearing with the council if he wished to discuss it in more detail.

"Although I indicated to the city attorney that I expected city council by a majority if not unanimous vote would move to dismiss him if he did not choose to resign voluntarily, this was based on the past expressions of dissatisfaction and not on any formal decision or poll. In fact, the city attorney fully understood that to be the case as demonstrated by his actions because it was at least two days following the June 14 meeting, after he had contacted various individuals to 'test the water' and find out more about the feelings of individual city council members, before he decided that a discussion with the city council would be fruitless. The city attorney himself took our comments not as an action but as a suggestion which might or might not be the final word on the matter.

"In closing, I'd like to say that it is unfortunate The Northville Record embarked on a 'witch hunt' and tried to influence its readers with inflammatory remarks, unfounded accusations and gross inaccuracies.

"During my six years as city councilman and more than four years as mayor I have never known city council to be subversive, under-handed, dishonest or illegal and I would resign from the office of mayor before becoming part of such activities. Residents of the City of Northville should be pleased that they have a city council with a heart that would temper their concerns with a dose of charity to support my decision to offer the city attorney an opportunity to retire gracefully in recognition of his nearly 30 years of service to the community.

"Although he chose not to take advantage of that opportunity I believe the city is better for having offered it and I would do it that way again.

Vacation saved by honest man

To the Editor:

I would like to say a very special thank you to the gentleman who found my money on the street in town and returned it to the Northville Community Credit Union.

I took it out to go on vacation having saved it for a year, so I was very grateful to get it back.

Sincerely,

In Touch...Representative Kirksey

Hoping to save the state money, I am supporting a bill that would allow landlords to obtain money directly from the Department of Social Services to pay for ADC recipients behind in their rent.

Currently, ADC recipients who already have received their checks can come back to the state to ask for an emergency allotment if they are facing eviction.

This is costing taxpayers money. Welfare recipients receive money, some of which should be used for rent. After some spend their checks on other items they return to the state and ask for more. I want guarantees that the funds will go directly to the landlord. In fiscal year 1980-81 the state spent approximately $3.3 million to prevent the evictions of welfare recipients. During the first two quarters of this year the state has already spent $2.5 million.

If that rate continues, we'll have spent $5 million this year. It's time we pass legislation to keep this kind of spending from getting out of hand.

Shooting Better Landscapes

A fine landscape photo, dramatically enlarged and carefully framed and hung, can be an inexpensive and a very personal means of decorating your home.

Lovely settings are within walking distance of all of us, waiting to be discovered by you and your camera. Dramatic clouds add immeasurably to the drama of a landscape. Don't think you must shoot only in bright sunlight. You can use fine grain films which make perfect 8 x 10 or 11 x 14 enlargements.

Try bracketing your exposures. Try two or three shots with different lens openings to change the mood. Photograph the same landscape just after sunrise or before sunset for a burst of exciting reds and oranges. For ponds, lakes or open water, try shooting in the sun rather than with the sun at your back, to bring out highlights.

Black and white landscape photography can be richly startling. You'll need the proper filter to bring out sky and water detail.

Pay attention to composition. Instead of shooting a far-off mountain, frame that same mountain against a nearby tree and see how the perspective is enhanced.

In landscape photography, your only limitation is in your own ingenuity.

See us a 1-stop, 43220 Grand River, Novi, 348-9355 for all your photo needs.

Shopping center issues raised

By KEVIN WILSON

Township trustees sent a ringing reiteration of their opposition to convenience shopping at Six Mile and Sheldon Roads last week, and carried the opposition further to include all such shopping centers in general.

In a joint meeting with the planning commission July 20, trustees questioned the need for convenience shopping in general, but left room for compromise.

Planning consultant Claude Coates explained the rationale behind his recommendation that the planning commission adjust the master plan to show convenience shopping centers at three Six Mile intersections: Haggerty, Sheldon and Beck. The present plan, only two years old, calls for such centers at Haggerty, Sheldon and Ridge.

Only the Beck road site, unlikely to be developed soon since the roads are unpaved, gathered much sympathy from trustees who allowed that it might be needed in the long term.

Some board members indicated they might accept a Haggerty Road center, but stated support less certain than that for the Beck location, with most noting that two miles away — Eight Mile and Haggerty — is the planned location of a Meijer's Thrifty Acres development.

Planning commission chairman Kenneth McLarty set the tone for the discussion, noting that the commission is only considering action on Coates' recommendation and "the priorities Claude has put on these are his priorities and not necessarily ours."

Trustee Thomas Cook asked if, based on present growth rates in the township "do you really think we need all these convenience centers now?"

Coates response was that his study is based on the ultimate capacity of the township in order to allow long-term planning. "We really don't deal with timing here," he said. "Timing is another factor difficult to pin down. I think all you can do is plan and leave it pretty much up to the market to determine when something is done."

"You can deal with it to some extent when zoning requests come up, but these things are really governed by when the developer believes there is enough of a market to support it," he added.

Trustee James Wickma he could understand the rationale of the recommendation and the selected intersections but still "cannot see a need for a center at Sheldon."

Coates said the determination was basically a "process of elimination."

A market study conducted in the late '70s, based on standard planning analysis systems, determined the total area needed to serve the anticipated needs of the township at the limits of its population growth (more than 40,000 persons compared to today's official 13,000 count).

Calculations of present land use and future building indicate "a need for another 30 acres of convenience shopping. Of the six most accessible sites in the township, those are the three best locations," he said.

Trustee Richard Allen said he was concerned that the study does not appear to address the shopping availability just outside township borders.

Such items as downtown Northville and a convenience store in Livonia on Six Mile just east of I-275, near the proposed township Haggerty Road site, "have a definite effect," Allen said.

"It seems to me we're taking a very narrow, provincial view," he added.

Nowka disagreed with Allen's comment that the Livonia store should influence township planning, noting that the freeway acts as a barrier of sorts. Noting that drivers leaving the freeway on the way home from work are unlikely to head east on Six Mile

"I think if you ask the residents you'll find they do not want convenience centers every two miles."

— John MacDonald

for a bottle of milk, Nowka said the Livonia store "may as well be on the other side of Grand River" for planning purposes.

He supported Allen's view that much of the market area for the Sheldon site could be expected to shop downtown. "I'm not sure it's necessary to have a center there," he said. "I'm not sure; how many do we need?"

Supervisor John MacDonald drew applause from the many audience members representing homeowners association when he stepped in with his view of the situation.

"We are primarily a residential community," the supervisor said. "I think if you ask the residents you'll find they do not want convenience centers every two miles."

Clerk Susan Heintz said she, too, believes residents are satisfied without shopping centers on Six Mile. "I haven't heard any hue and cry from people who have to drive three miles to buy milk."

Both MacDonald and Heintz expressed concern that Six Mile and Haggerty is a major entrance to the township and that they felt a shopping center there would not be an appropriate entrance to a residential community.

"Northville Township has the image of a terrific residential area," MacDonald said. "Nobody says to me, 'Boy, you don't have any stores in Northville.' I don't hear any complaints about them not being there. I think any great influx of convenience stores would deter from that."

Commissioner Marvin Gans suggested that perhaps the board reasoning means "throw them all out, or perhaps keep one, centrally located. I submit that perhaps the only viable commercial center in the township is Six Mile and Sheldon at this time."

MacDonald asked Jeff Orley, of Elro Corporation, how many homes his firm's two planned developments at the intersection would contain. He was told roughly 500 houses are called for in the approved plans.

The company has filed suit against the township as a result of the previous board of trustees decision not to grant commercial zoning at the corner. The firm planned a 16-acre center on the northeast corner of the intersection.

"Is that a selling point?" MacDonald asked. "Do you take a prospective buyer and say 'Look, right there you can buy your milk and get your hair cut.' I can't believe that. I've lived here many years now and never missed it."

When board discussion seemed to center on banning shopping, Coates noted that zoning decisions must be reasonable and should stand a court test on those grounds. "Maybe your public policy is no shopping. The question you will hear is, 'Is that reasonable?' I think none would be very difficult (to defend). You're going to get the pressure there."

McLarty suggested, also, that the planning function is to look at the long term, not only the immediate effect.

"If you can envision houses from Haggerty to the dump, from Eight Mile to Six Mile, that's our capacity," McLarty said. "We've been saying those people are going to have convenience needs. I think I'm hearing a rejection of that policy."

MacDonald said he believed that was the case, noting that "if you ask the people why they live here, I think it's the rural atmosphere."

When McLarty said that "clearly conveys no more convenience," MacDonald said he felt such a choice could be defended if challenged, noting that there is already some commercial property in the township.

Commission Vice Chairman William Bohan related that in several reviews of the master plan "we reduced the number of convenience centers every time we look at it."

He said his understanding is that placing such centers at certain points on the plan prevents "strip zoning" that would allow applications for commercial zones anywhere in the township.

Other commissioners, notably Pat Wright, related that they felt including three sites on the master plan would defend against such applications. "I would not be opposed to seeing those three locations looking at the master plan," Wright said. "We might not agree that way. We might not want all three."

McLarty read a letter from the Northville Township Homeowner's Association, an umbrella organization of subdivision associations purporting to represent nearly 4,000 homeowners, into the record. The letter called for a moratorium on the development of convenience centers until "population dictates a reconsideration of the need for them."

The argument put forward in the letter is that the population is at only 30 percent of township capacity while convenience shopping is built to 42 percent of the projected need. Total retail acreage, the letter said, is at about 49 percent of project need.

The letter was signed by representatives of seven homeowners groups covering Northville Commons, Grandview Acres, Lakes of Northville, Whisperwood, Silver Springs, Northville Colony Estates I and II, Park Gardens and Highland Estates.

The issue remained unresolved at the end of the session, and McLarty explained that a public hearing will be scheduled to allow further discussion from the residents. He said the board of trustees input would be useful to the commission as it tries to determine what action to take on Coates' recommendation.

MacDonald added that there should be no misunderstanding of the difference of opinion between the board and the commission. From his point of view, he said, the differences "should not be construed as a conflict, or that there is any animosity."

CONGRESSMAN CARL PURSELL LEADERSHIP FOR WESTERN WAYNE COUNTY

Congressional district boundaries have been redrawn. But Plymouth, Northville, and most of Livonia remain in the 2nd District, represented by Congressman Carl Pursell.

For the past six years, Carl has provided strong representation in Congress, and excellent service to people here in Western Wayne County.

Carl's top priorities are creating business and job opportunities, and helping to lower interest rates.

He has supported programs to reduce taxes and control the growth of government. He has sought to balance the federal budget in a way that is fair to Michigan and the Midwest.

Carl is an effective leader on the influential House Appropriations Committee. His participation is often sought in top-level policy meetings at the White House and in Congress.

Yet Carl is one Congressman who remembers he works for the people here at home. Just as he promised, Carl has maintained his home and family in Plymouth, not Washington, D.C. He has never lost touch with the people of his home area. He never will.

Darlene Szostkowski of the Milford Body Shop shows staffer Jeffrey Frank the ups and downs of the new Gravity Guider oscillation table. Frank survived the ordeal, despite suffering the sensation of looking at his feet and seeing the sun, and actually reported feeling somewhat better after his topsy-turvy experience. (Photos by Steve Fecht)

Try hanging around (by your feet) to cure problems with backaches

By JEFF FRANK

Darlene Szostkowski spent most of her time just hanging around during the Milford Sidewalk Sale (July 14-15).

By her ankles.

At least three dozen times during the two days, Szostkowski buckled herself onto the Gravity Guider oscillation table being demonstrated in front of the Milford Body Shop and turned her world upside down.

Explaining every step as she went, Szostkowski rocked the table back and forth, each time getting closer to completely inverting her body. Finally hanging upside down, she went through a few exercises which according to doctors and exercise professionals should help the average person avoid back problems.

The Body Shop introduced its Gravity Guider to the Milford area during the sidewalk sale, inviting passers-by to hop aboard and give inversion a try.

Close to 100 people did just that during the two days, according to Body Shop owner Dave Zimmerman.

"It's good for people who have backaches," Zimmerman remarked as Szostkowski, a Body Shop employee, helped yet another curious shopper on the table. "But it's more important to use when you don't have a backache so the spine becomes more flexible."

The Body Shop is the local distributor for the oscillating table and the inversion boots that make up the Gravity Guider system. However, Zimmerman wants people to give the apparatus a try before they spend $780 on the table and another $80 for inversion boots. A chinning bar, to which the boots can be attached, is $25.

The sidewalk sale demonstrations served as an introduction. Zimmerman also is offering free tryouts of the new machine at The Body Shop this Friday (July 30) from 6 a.m. until 9 p.m.

Regular use of the machine, according to Zimmerman, helps improve pelvic mobility, realign spinal vertebrae, improves circulation and increases flexibility.

It works by changing the position of the body relative to the pull of gravity. A few simple exercises help stretch the spine and strengthen supporting muscles in the back.

Zimmerman recommends the system for anyone, although emphasizing that people with high blood pressure should see a physician before mounting the table.

There is no harm in using the system several times a day, although the dozen plus demonstrations by Szostkowski was going a bit far, she admitted.

So how does it feel?

"It's really very relaxing," Szostkowski commented while attempting to convince a hesitant reporter to climb aboard. "It takes two or three thoughts to get used to it. The first time I was on it I thought I was getting sick. I was as white as a ghost."

Reassuring words as she buckled the inversion boots around my ankles and showed me how to hook them to the table.

"Okay, you are in complete control of your movement. Move your arms back and forth until you get a rocking sensation going," she said.

"Are you ready to go upside down?"

"Ready as I'll ever be, I guess," was the shaky answer. "Okay, the next time you swing down, grab the bars at the side and use your head to push the table back," she instructed.

Seconds later I was looking right down into the sun — my first disconcerting experience.

"Now," Szostkowski continued, "arch your back toward the table. . . No, not like that, the other way."

A disoriented reporter moved the wrong way while trying to get his bearings in an upside down world. But after the original loss of direction, following instructions was easy.

Especially the instruction to do an inverted situp. It looks impossible, and it certainly isn't easy, but by pulling up on my legs I was able to just about touch the boots before the stress on my unconditioned abdominal muscles proved to be too much.

"We're going to bring you back up now," I heard Szostkowski say. "Push on the bars and then start rocking with your arms again. Get a rhythm going. This is important because all your blood and fluids have rushed to your head and if you get up too quickly, you might get dizzy."

A little more rocking and I was ready to dismount — ready to test my sea legs on solid ground again. Outside of a slight queasy feeling from hanging upside down, I felt no ill effects.

And the effects of the short stint on the table was evident when I reached to touch my toes. My fingers easily lay flat on the ground. Usually several stretches are necessary before I can do that.

The same early hesitation was apparent in passers-by who satisfied their curiosity by hopping on for the same five-minute demonstration.

"You wouldn't hurt me, would you," asked Dana Shaw of Milford as she lay down on the table.

"What's this for, anyway?"

Climbing off was a different story.

"I think it's neat," remarked Shaw. "I would do it again. It's really relaxing."

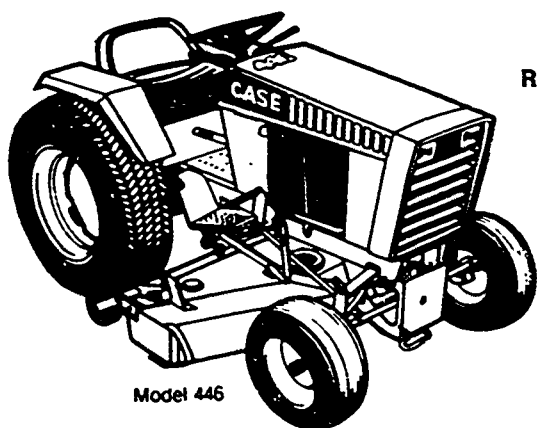

That's precisely the reaction that Zimmerman expects from most people who try the Gravity Guider. He wouldn't want a person to put out money for the machine without trying it, but he figures that once initial fears are overcome, there's nothing to worry about.

"I'd be lying to you if I said I wasn't scared the first time I got on it," Zimmerman admitted.

Dori LaMarra Matkowski has opened new dance studio in Walled Lake

Young dancer shares expertise with opening of new studio

Dori LaMarra Matkowski likes to dance. And she also likes teaching others how to dance. So much so, in fact, that she's opened a new dance studio at 2153 North Pontiac Trail in the Welch Road Plaza in Walled Lake.

Dance Dynamics, the name of the studio, is Matkowski's first commercial venture, if you're willing to overlook the fact she taught dance lessons at the Stonecrest Building when she was 16.

But even though Dance Dynamics is the first time she's struck out on her own, the 23-year old Matkowski is an experienced veteran in the world of dance and teaching dance.

"Dancing has always been a big part of my life," says the former Dori LaMarra, who now is married to Mark Matkowski of Wolverine Lake Village.

"I've had 15 years of training as a dancer and six years of teaching experience at various dance studios throughout the area. I guess I just thought it was time to strike out on my own."

She started her teaching career six years ago at the Julie Adler Dance School in Oak Park and then moved to Southfield where she taught at Miss Barbara's Dance Center. Most recently, she has worked at the Fox School of Dance in Novi.

Matkowski's list of credentials are not necessarily limited to the field of dance, however.

She was Miss Farmington in 1977 and was second runner-up and talent winner in the Miss Michigan Scholarship Pageant — a division of the Miss Michigan Pageant — in 1978.

She currently serves as head choreographer for the Miss Farmington Pageant and has done a lot of professional modeling — appearing this year as a model at the auto shows in Detroit and Chicago.

Although she's seems somewhat hesitant about admitting it, she also reaped more than her fair share of honors at Disco Dance Contests. "It was fun," she says, "but the disco scene is behind me now. I'm going to concentrate my efforts on teaching others to dance."

Matkowski maintains that Dance Dynamics will be somewhat different than other dance studios. Recitals will be given in May before Little League baseball starts and June activities, such as graduations, move into full swing.

The new studio will offer instruction in tap, jazz and ballet for everyone from four-years old on up, including adults.

Although Matkowski will be doing much of the teaching herself, she has two other instructors on her staff — Roxanne D'Ascenzo will teach tap and jazz, while Lori Vechazone will teach ballet.

D'Ascenzo, a student of dance for 14 years, has toured the United States as a dancer with Hector's Dance Caravan, and both she and Matkowski have studied with some of the best-known jazz instructors in the country, including Joe Tremaine of Hollywood, Luigi of New York and Gus Giordano of Chicago.

Vechazone has had extensive experience in ballet. She has studied at Ohio State University and in Florida and Chicago. She also has danced with the Southwest Regional Ballet Company.

During the summer, Dance Dynamics will be open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Classes in the fall begin September 8 when the hours will be 4-10 p.m.

"It's pretty exciting to finally be opening my own studio," says Matkowski, a pert brunette, who knows what she's talking about when it comes to the world of dance.

"We've got a nice studio and some excellent teachers. It's going to be a lot of fun."

Flat-rate tax proposals may affect homeowners

The lawgiver forming for a flat rate income tax should be a matter of concern for most homeowners, according to the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors (WWOCBR).

"I think nearly everyone would like to see a more simplified tax system, particularly one that would eliminate some of the present loopholes," said WWOCBR President Lloyd Mason.

"Many of the proposals currently being debated in Washington look good on the surface, but when it comes down to the bottom line, middle income taxpayers would again bear the brunt. Some of these proposals would eliminate such deductions as those for home mortgage interest paid. This would be a sad mistake and bring further harm to many citizens already hard hit by current economic conditions."

Mason said there appears to be little expectation that a flat rate system will be adopted any time soon, but that both present and prospective homeowners should be made aware of the potential impact of such action.

"In recent years, most home buyers have had to rely on the tax benefits of ownership to make such a purchase possible," he said. "They made such commitments with the expectation that the tax saving would continue through the life on their mortgage. If such benefits were suddenly dropped, many of these owners could no longer afford the payments even at a lower prevailing tax rate."

Mason noted that some current proposals recognize this fact and would continue to permit deductions for mortgage interest payment.

"The modified flat rate plan being advanced by Senator Bill Bradley of New Jersey and Missouri Representative Richard Gephardt seems to be the best of the current crop in our view," he said.

"While setting a flat rate between 14 and 28 percent depending on income, it also would retain many present tax deductions. Included would be those for mortgage interest, income from social security and veterans' benefits, state and local tax payments and donations to charity."

"Home ownership and this year's Individual Retirement Accounts represent the only real tax shelters available to most middle income taxpayers. Adoption of any plan that would further threaten the ability to own a home, particularly at a time when high interest rates make this an impossibility for most Americans, would be a total abandonment of long-standing federal policy."

Mason said he anticipated increased discussion of flat-rate tax proposals as we move nearer to fall elections.

"Homeowners should be prepared to judge which — if any — of the plans are really in their best interest," he said.

Comerica acquires bank

Comerica, Incorporated, formerly DETROITBANK corporation, has announced that it has received approval from the Federal Reserve System to acquire the National Bank of Jackson. It is anticipated that the consolidation will be completed in the latter part of August or early September.

The agreement provides for shareholders of The National Bank of Jackson to receive approximately 1.224 shares of Comerica, Incorporated common stock in exchange for each of the 1,015,597 outstanding shares of The National Bank of Jackson.

"We are very pleased by this approval," said Comerica Chairman Donald R. Mandich, "and we look forward to participating in the continued growth of the Jackson market."

Robert L. Condon, president of The National Bank of Jackson, said he viewed the affiliation as a positive step for operations. "The combination of our resources with those of Comerica, Incorporated will allow us to increase our scope of services and become an even more important competitive force in the Jackson financial market."

The National Bank of Jackson is the largest bank in that city with 18 branch offices and assets of $226 million at June 30, 1982.

Business Briefs

JACQUELINE LEONARD of Wixom has been promoted to assistant manager of the Twelve Oaks branch of the Detroit Bank of Novi. The promotion was announced by Branch Manager Barbara Hepp.

Detroit Bank of Novi is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Comerica, Incorporated.

Mrs. Leonard has been affiliated with Comerica for the past 11 years. She has been at the Twelve Oaks branch since it opened in February 1980 and previously has worked as a teller and head teller. She is the wife of Wixom Police Chief Philip Leonard.

MANUFACTURERS NATIONAL CORPORATION reported net income of $6.6 million ($1.30 per share) for the first six months of 1982. Net income for the first half of 1981 was $7.3 million ($1.44 per share).

Manufacturers National Corporation is a bank holding company with subsidiary banks in Novi as well as Detroit, Bay City, Coopersville, Lansing, Livonia, St. Clair Shores, Saline and Southfield.

Due to the persistent high cost of funds and the large component of fixed-rate assets held by the corporation, the net interest margin improved only minimally between the first and second quarter. The average second quarterly rate for the corporation's funds was 11.52 percent, compared to 11.58 percent for the first quarter.

SECURITY BANCORP, INC., of Southgate has announced that net income for the quarter ended June 30, 1982, increased 1.2 percent compared to the second quarter of 1981. Net income for the six-month period ended June 30, 1982, increased 6.2 percent compared to the previous like period.

Security Bancorp, Inc., is the parent company of Security Bank of Novi as well as Security Bank and Trust Company, Security Bank Monroe County, Security Bank of Richmond, Security Bank Oakland County and SecureData Corporation.

According to Security Bancorp officials, the results represent a reasonably satisfactory performance in view of the adverse level in general business activity that prevailed during this period for the country as a whole and Michigan in particular.

OMNICOM OF MICHIGAN's parent company, Capital Cities Communications, has appointed Peter Newell, formerly president of Omnicom to the position of Senior Vice President of its Cable Television Division.

Operating from corporate offices in Bloomfield Hills, he is responsible for all cable television systems in the division's northern region, including Omnicom.

Newell's successor, Betsy Seeley, started with Capital Cities in their Bloomfield Hills office as a financial analyst. She was transferred to their cable television operations in Denver as manager of marketing services. In that position, she directed new product launches, promotional marketing activities and customer service and sales training programs. Most recently, Seeley served as director of finance for the division's southern region. Before joining the company she received an MBA from Harvard Business School.

She has recently returned to the Detroit metropolitan area, and will be relocating in Northville, to assume her new responsibilities as vice president and general manager of Omnicom of Michigan.

Do you have a medical question or problem? Write to Woodland Medical Center/Novi, care of Stiger-Livingston Publications, Post Office Box 101, Northville, Michigan 48167. Personal replies are not possible.

Woodland Medical Center/Novi stresses that individual treatment begins with a physician's first-hand diagnosis; information in this column is not a substitute for a physician's first-hand diagnosis. Woodland provides the information in this column in conjunction with Stiger-Livingston Publications as a public service only; no physician-patient relationship is created.

Q. I am presently taking medicine prescribed by my doctor for my high blood pressure. I am told that maybe an exercise program would help me. Is this recommended for all high blood pressure patients? Could it mean I could take less of my medicine eventually? Also, please discuss the difference between the two numbers used for a blood pressure reading.

A. The doctor uses two numbers in describing a person's blood pressure. The numbers, known as Sounds of Korotkoff (after the Russian physician, Nicolai Korotkoff, who first explained their significance) represent two different stages of pressure, based on the heart action.

The first number in a reading of, say 150 over 85, is also called the systolic pressure. That is the pressure created as the heart beats, pumping blood into the aorta. It represents the maximal pressure against artery walls. The second Korotkoff sound is called the diastolic pressure. That is the pressure remaining when the heart rests momentarily between its pumping beats. It is the lowest pressure in the arteries.

Both numbers are important, and although much significance is attached to a high level of the second (resting phase) artery pressure, if either pressure number is high, it can bode ill for the arteries and for general health. Serious damage from this constant extra pressure can be done to organs, such as the brain, eyes, kidneys and the heart itself.

A great deal of interest has been shown in recent years to the value of exercise in maintaining a healthy heart and arteries. Certainly, this is the goal of any exercise program.

The great interest in aerobic fitness exercise of recent years is based on this. When the heart and arteries, even in a perfectly well person, are exercised regularly, they improve. The heart becomes stronger and the vessels more efficient and resilient. And, of course, the benefits for lung function are well known.

It is also true that many doctors today look upon exercise as a potential part of a general blood pressure control program for their patients. But there is an important difference in approach between the person with high blood pressure and the person without any heart or vessel problems. That difference lies in the need for careful evaluation — of the patient and of his proposed exercise program. It is foolhardy for the high blood pressure patient to go ahead and prescribe his own exercise program.

The first step begins with the doctor. He is the best judge of the patient's current health status and just how much exercise would be prudent for him to undertake and when. And there are other factors that might be worked into such a general control program — weight loss if needed, and quitting smoking, just to name two. However, the need for control medicine continues until the doctor is assured that control of these other factors is doing the job.

Certainly, it is true that through such a total program of high blood pressure control, one result might be a diminished need for drugs to control the problem. But the program begins with the doctor, who has ways to evaluate the situation and to tell which parts of any control program are appropriate for each individual.

Q. I am a runner and have what are called plantar warts on my left foot. Can these spread? What is the best way to get rid of them? I have been advised that some kind of surgery is the best solution. Can you comment on this?

A. Warts always represent an actual viral infection of the skin, no matter where they appear. It is the same virus family that causes all types of warts. The different appearances of particular warts may result from differing types of skin on which they appear, or to differences in the way different people react to the virus.

Some people may have different degrees of immunity to wart viruses, which would explain why some people never get them and others are troubled repeatedly.

The plantar wart, often mistakenly referred to as "plantar's warts," have nothing to do with an agricultural occupation. The word "plantar" refers to the part of the body on which they appear. In this instance, it is the plantar (bottom) part of the foot.

Any person may be prone to plantar warts. However, they are most commonly seen in ages four to 24. Plantar warts are particularly painful ones because of their location. They can get pressed down deeply into the skin. The person may complain of having the sensation of walking on a stone or with a stone in his shoe.

Warts can be spread from one person to another among susceptible individuals. However, they are more commonly transferred from one point on a person's body to another point. Locker rooms may be one of many common places for transmission and spread, because warts proliferate more readily on moist as opposed to dry skin.

The first step in treatment is to have a correct diagnosis. What a person thinks may be only a callus may actually be a plantar wart or scar, and vice versa. The physician looks for a telltale appearance of the ridges to distinguish warts from other growths.

When diagnosis is arrived at, the doctor has a variety of treatments available to him. The warts can be burned off, a process called cauterization. This can be accomplished by a variety of chemicals, from mild to quite strong. Other doctors prefer to use electrical burning of the area with special instruments.

Cryocautery is another method. In this, material is used to freeze the area. It is actually a form of burning of the skin. Some physicians prefer to actually surgically remove the wart, cut it out. Another process favored by some doctors is shrinkage of the wart with various drying agents.

Generally, the goal of treatment is to get rid of the warts with minimum of pain and minimum of scarring. Usually, use of chemicals, the cold treatment and the drying method are thought best in those respects. Electrical and surgical excision usually will leave some degree of scarring.

However, you cannot prescribe any one method for all warts. For example, if the wart is in an area where considerable weight is placed by the foot, scarring should be avoided as much as possible to avoid future annoyances. This is particularly true of runners and other athletes or people with jobs that require long periods of standing.

When possible, treatment for plantar wart should not incapacitate an individual. If activity can be maintained, then there is less likelihood of problems from decreased mobility. This is especially true for the athlete. Activity can usually be maintained during treatment (several sessions may be required for successful wart removal) by use of moldable accommodative insoles or other padding and cushioning devices which are relatively inexpensive.

Teams still unsuccessful against Jaycees

While the Northville Jaycees continue to roll along the exhibition trail in the National League, Sheehan's on the Green and Winner's Circle Bar continue their seesaw battle for first place in the American League in Northville adult softball action.

It seems as if no one in the National League has figured out a way to defeat the Northville Jaycees, who currently rest in first place with an 11-0 mark.

It is probably only fitting O'Sheehan's and Sheehan's Little Caesars should have played to a tie last week and, thus, deadlock themselves into a tie for second place behind the Jaycees at 8-3-1.

Sheehan's moved back into first place in the American League with the help of Aberdeen's upset of Winner's Circle. Sheehan's controls first with an 11-3 mark, while Winner's Circle fell back into second at 10-2. Long Mechanical stays in third at 8-4.

Meanwhile, over in the Women's League, Getzie's Pub and Winner's Circle Bar remain tied for first with 8-3 marks.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

After giving up a run in the first inning, the Jaycees broke loose for 11 runs over the next five innings to down Thermal Sash 11-1.

Jim Moran and Ron Barbour paced the winners with two singles each, while Jim Rhodes was the top run producer with two. Thermal Sash scored its lone run when Mike Lauck ledoff with a double and scored on John Hale's sacrifice fly. Gary Beason tripled for the losers' only other extra-base hit.

Despite playing eight innings, Sheehan's Little Caesars and O'Sheehan's played to an 8-all deadlock in a game called because of the time limit.

O'Sheehan's scored a run in the bottom of the seventh to force the extra inning. The team was led by three hits from both Scott Dewitt and Jack Mianeki, while Chris Pariseau drove in three runs. Little Caesars was paced by two hits each from Paul Steckley, Bob Kehoe, Jim Barbour and Robert Martin.

Sheehan's Little Caesars won its only contest of the week with a forfeit over P.S.I. Hydraulics, who also forfeited a win to Belanger's.

O'Sheehan's did not have better luck against Our Lady of Victory, which defeated the second-place club 11-10.

The winners were paced by two hits and two runs batted in each by Bill Johnson and Dave Penrod. O'Sheehan's had two hits and four RBI's from Dewitt, two hits and three RBI's from John Maffesoli and two hits and two RBI's from Joe Staknis.

However, OLV was unable to come up with a victory against the Eagles, who were 12-5 winners.

The Eagles' hitting attack was paced by three hits and two RBI's from Keith Nadusky and Dave Vaughan. Rick Dodson added a triple and two RBI's. OLV was led by Johnson's three hits and two RBI's and two hits from Doug Cook and Ron Renault.

St. Paul Lutheran used a 14-run fourth inning to power itself past Urban's Partition 20-10.

Bob Bannatz had a big night at the plate for the winners with two homers, a single and eight RBI's. Kenn Cobb added three hits and two RBI's, while John Mueller collected two hits and three RBI's.

Urban's was paced by two hits each from Tom Charboneau, Mark Sims and Ed Maas.

McNeely & Lincoln record only its third win of the season with 10-6 six inning triumph over Phoenix K.C.F. in another game called because of the time limit.

Steve Fecht paced the winners with three hits and three RBI's, while John Griffin added two doubles and two RBI's. Ed Smith and Reid Creager each had two hits.

Cindy Panowicz in one of the rec track club's top runners

Local thinclad chosen to regional track squad

Cindy Panowicz has been selected to the 25-member Great Lakes regional team that will be competing at the Hershey's National Track and Field finals August 12-15 in Charleston, West Virginia.

She was selected to the team after her winning girls' 13- and 14-year-old 400-meter dash time of 60.8 at the Michigan State Finals track meet at Michigan State University July 9 was compared with other runners from surrounding states.

By being selected, Panowicz receives an all-expense paid trip to Charleston for the national finals at Laidley Field, the future site of the National Track and Field Hall of Fame.

Matt Smith was a winner in the boys' 9- and 10-year-old 200-meter dash and 50-meter dash at MSU, but he was not selected to the regional team.

Also, preparations are complete for the Northville recreation track team as it conducted its last inter-squad meet for Thursday's Detroit Metropolitan Youth Fitness meet at the Kensington Metropark near Millford.

The Detroit Youth Fitness meet has various teams from across lower southeast Michigan competing. Seven different events have been scheduled in the meet.

The mini-meet conducted by coach Brian Turnbull and assisted by Scott Dayton had four running events and two field events.

Here are the results of the mini-meet:

BOYS' 10-11 YEAR OLD

Mark Klokenga was first in the mile (6:29); Greg Paler claimed second (6:59) and Jeff Cass was third.

Matt Smith won the 50-yard dash (7.45); Scott Steckley was second (7.6); Mark Kiraly was third (7.95); John Byrd was fourth (8.5) and Cass sixth (8.8).

Kiraly took top honors in the 440-yard dash (1:15.6); Smith was runner-up (1:21.5); Paler third (1:23.5); Klokenga was fourth (1:24.0) and Cass fifth (1:33.5).

Late rally powers Mets to league title

In one of the closest races this season, the Mets put together a seventh-inning rally to come from behind and win the Braves 3-2 for the F-League championship Thursday night.

It came as no surprise the two teams went down to the wire to decide the contest. The teams had met four times previously, with each winning twice by the closest of margins.

The championship contest ran true to form with seventh-inning fireworks being provided by both squads.

The Mets, held in check by George Daraban, finally broke loose in the seventh when Mark Redinga, John Meadows and Mike Darrow scored on an error, fielder's choice and ground out.

The Braves' battled back in the bottom half of the frame when Don Norton walked and scored on a two-out single by Rutime Kucharski. However, winning pitcher Chris Domingue struck out the final batter to seal the championship for the Mets.

The Braves jumped out to an early 1-0 lead in the fourth inning when Steve Cody scored on Dave Hall's walk.

The Braves had a chance to score some runs in the bottom of the third with runners at second and third and one out. However, Domingue got out of the jam by striking out the next two batters.

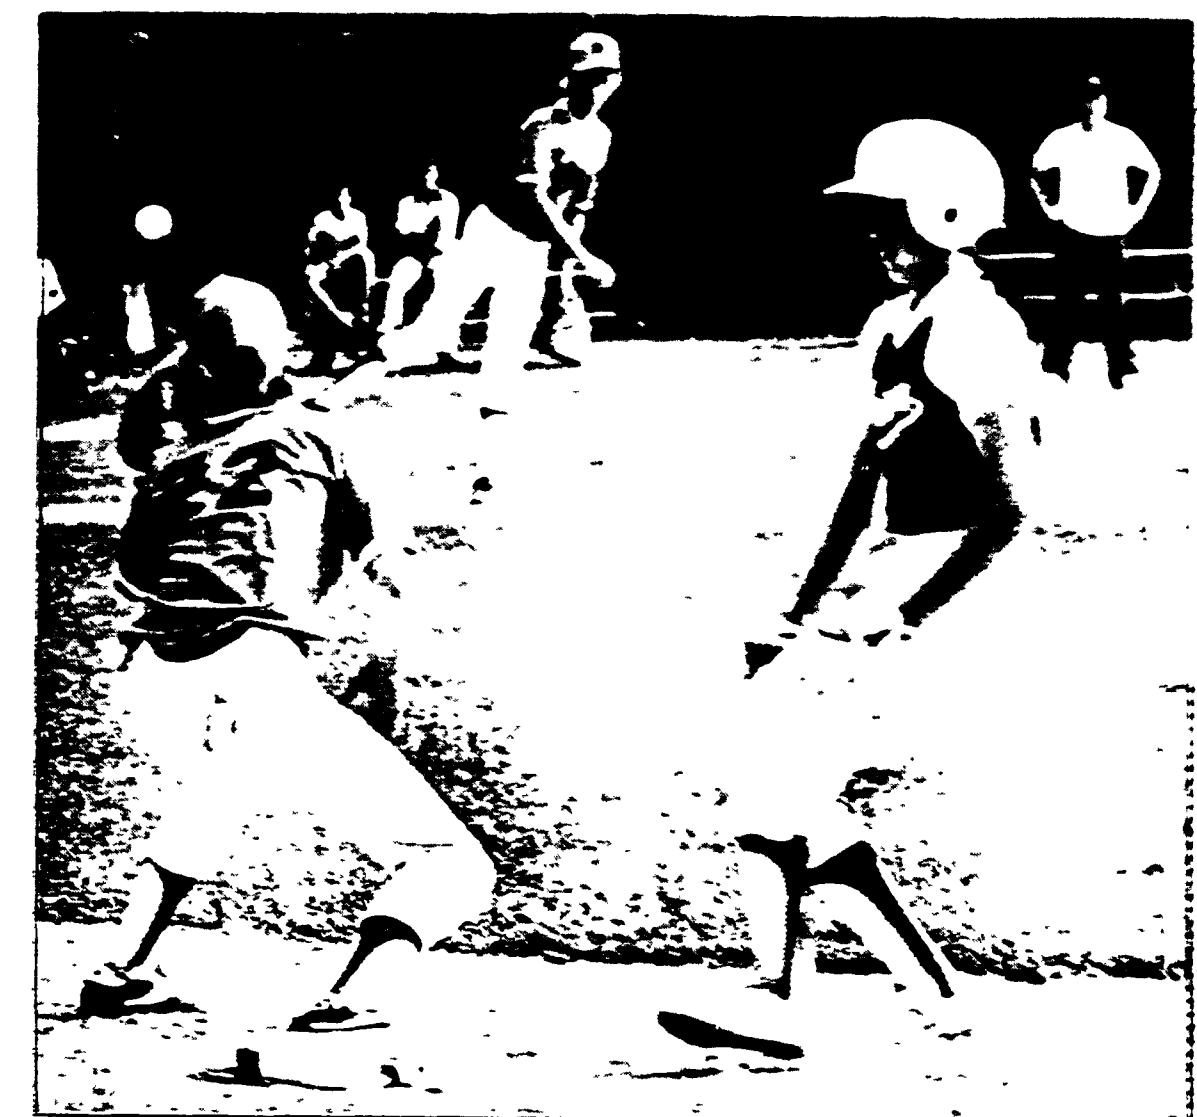

Domingue worked out of another close call in the fifth when the Braves had a runner at third with one out, but he again struck out the next two batters to end the threat.

Meanwhile, the Braves' George Daraban was equally tough on the mound, cruising through the first six innings with little trouble.

Daraban fanned nine Mets batsmen with the only serious threat coming in the top of the sixth. Sean McLaughlin led off with a double and advanced to third on a wild pitch. However, Daraban beared down to fan the next three batters to end the inning.

But, the Mets were not to be denied and the Braves' own seventh-inning rally fell short.

The title showdown was made possible when the Braves outslugged the Angels 13-7. The winners were paced by three hits each from John Mark Anderson, Scott Peterson and Daraban. Keith Dutkiewicz was the losing pitcher, while teammate Paul Newitt belted a homerun.

Steve Cody (right) made it safely back to first despite a pick off attempt by pitcher Chris Domingue (center) and Mike Darrow (22).

The Angels did record a victory over the Reds 9-3 behind the excellent pitching of Doug Martin. Dutkiewicz collected two hits, while Fred Cahill led the attack with three. The Reds' Scott Swenkowski took the loss. Chris Drew paced the losers with three hits.

The Pinnies finished the season in second place, percentage points ahead of the Braves, when they downed the Expos 4-1 Monday night.

Mantle squad wins two, battles Detroit PAL next

After recording two victories over the weekend, Northville's Mickey Mantle baseball team will turn its attention toward the American Amateur Baseball Federation tournament beginning today at Northville High School.

Northville will be battling Detroit PAL at 6 p.m. at the NHS baseball diamond. The cost is $1 for persons 17 years old and over. Three other games are scheduled today starting at 9 a.m. The district winner will advance to the state tournament in Coldwater August 5-8.

The Mantle squad defeated Novi 3-2 and Livonia Churchill 6-5 to finish the regular season at 16-4 for the fourth-best mark among the 30 teams in the Little Caesars Division.

Dan Nielsen hurled four innings of scoreless ball to register his second triumph of the year. Steve Frellick singled home Todd Deal with the winning run.

In the victory over Churchill, Nielsen was again the winning pitcher in a relief role. Northville bats boomed in the first inning for five runs with both Bob Pegrum and Deal drilling two-run singles. Jay Bartling had a run-producing single, while Frellick, Mickey Newman and Steve Schrader all collected two hits.

Victories help Koufax team gain momentum for district's Northville's Sandy Koufax baseball team won its final two games of the season to give itself some momentum for the AABC district playoffs at Thomson Field today through Saturday. The squad's first game is at 5 p.m. today at the Training Center located on Sheldon Road between Seven and Six Mile.

The team will be battling squads from Washtenaw, Macomb County, Tecumseh, the Detroit PAL City League and three teams from the Northwest Suburban Little Caesars' League for a trip to the regionals in Battle Creek.

Northville closed out its season with a 2-0 victory over second place Birmingham last Friday on Mark Deal's eighth inning homerun. Pitcher Keith Dutkiewicz hurled the shutout for the victors.

Tony Craig and Chris Domingue combined for a four-hit 6-2 triumph over Detroit West Seven Saturday.

The Koufax squad finished the season with a 12-4 mark for fifth place in the 27-team league.

Local players key Kicks' effort to Bonanza division championship

Five Northville players were part of the Kicks soccer team which won the Bonanza Express Soccer League under-12 year old divisional title for the second consecutive year this spring.

The West Suburban Soccer League representative, coached by Tom Russell, went undefeated after playing teams from Livonia, Troy, Ann Arbor, Sterling Heights and Orchard Lake.

The local members on the team were Chris Anderson, Pat Balai, John Harris, Jeff Higgins and Brad Metz. There also were players from Plymouth, South Lyon, Livonia, Southfield and Dearborn Heights.

In addition, the squad took first in the Wolverine III soccer tournament at Schoolcraft College during the July 4th weekend. The Kicks won six games over three days to win the under-12 title over 28 teams representing Michigan, Ohio and Canada.

The team's final season record was 26-3-1 with two of the losses coming in the final games of invitational tournaments in Cincinnati, Ohio, and Washington, D.C.

Scott Worth will try to help the Northville Swim Club win the league title

Swim Club dunks two league rivals

Records keep falling in the backyard as the Northville Swim Club tankers continue to dominate their opponents.

The Northville tankers dished their most recent victory in winning a pair of dual meets last week. The two victories raised their record to 5-0 with one dual meet left before the league meet Saturday.

Andy Wayne, Chris Solen and Mike Lang joined the assault on the record book by breaking two records apiece last week in triumphs over Burton Hollow and Newburgh, both Levens dived swim clubs.

Wayne broke the under-eight 25-yard butterfly mark with a time of 11.3 against Burton Hollow, and then eclipsed the 25 freestyle mark with a 21.5 clocking against Newburgh.

Lang broke set his records against Burton Hollow as he established under-eight records in the 25 backstroke (23.6) and freestyle (26.5) events.

Solen broke the 11-12 year old 50 freestyle record with a 34.2 clocking against Burton Hollow and then topped the 11-12 50 freestyle mark with a time of 33.4 against Newburgh.

Shari Thompson also established a new record during the Newburgh meet as she registered a 32.7 clocking in the 11-12 50 freestyle.

Other record-breakers against Burton Hollow were Craig Smith (42.7 in the 11-12 50 backstroke), Tom Valade (30.3 in the 50 free style for 13-15 year olds) and John Gass (40.2 in the 50 freestyle for 13-15 year olds).

Arsenal booters claim Midwest Regional title

For the second time in three years, the Bonanza Arsenal soccer team has won the Midwest Regional tournament. The squad captured the under-16 year old title with a 2-0 triumph over Washington July 23 at Schmalecraft College.

Securing the championship meant the team, which features three Northville players, will compete with their other United States regional winners and four Canadian teams for the North American championships August 29-31 in Victoria, British Columbia, Canada.

Steve Starzewich, Jeff Metz and Scott Galt are members of the first Michigan team to be competing for the North American title. The Arsenal team currently sports a 20-2 record.

This same team lost in the Midwest Regional under-16 semifinals last year in Minnesota, but won the Midwest title in 1986 as an under-14 team. It also won the national championship in 1980. In all, the Arsenal squad has won 16 major championships in the past two years.

In the victory over Minnesota, they accounted for one of the goals, while Starzewich assisted on one of the two goals scored by Coachman's Peter Hysanovich.

The Arsenal team edged a tough St. Louis Blues (Gordon 2-1) to reach the final. The teams were tied 1-1 after 90 minutes of action, then enough under the deadlock with a goal eight minutes into the second 15 minute overtime period.

Seven different players had a hand in defeating Minnesota 2-0 in an opening round match. Starzewich accounted for one of the goals.

The team is leaving Friday for the Toronto Cup tournament which takes place July 31 through August 2. The Arsenal contingent will be the only United States team competing in the tournament.

From Toronto, the team will travel to Long Island, New York for the Smithtown Kickers International soccer tournament August 7-9.

Sheehan's, Winner's Circle continue first-place fight

Sheehan's hitting attack was led by two trips and an RBI from Cliff Taylor, and two hits from both Mike Hasey and Ken Jackson.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Sheehan's moved back into first with pair of triumphs over J & S Steel 14-3 and Canterbury Cleaners 15-6.

Sheehan's used the long ball to down J & S Steel as Pete Wright, Don Thomas and Bill MacDonald all slammed home runs. The losers were led by two hits from both Gary Bartlett and Bill Carlson, who drove in a run along with Norm Kuntzsky.

Runners were again prevalent in the triumph over Canterbury as Andy Reichel and McDonald each blasted one, while Wright and Jeff Norton each added three hits. Canterbury was led by two hits apiece from Jeff Mason, Dave White, Jerry Rothmund and Mike Kramer.

Adairmen's was able to outslug Winner's Circle 14-15 in an eight inning contest. Adairmen's scored twice in the bottom of the eighth with two out to upset the former league leaders.

Jerry Dentler and Tom Eis each blasted homers for Adairmen's while Jim O'Brien collected four hits and Fred Stenkuft added two hits. Winner's Circle was paced by three hits from Bob McGuire and two hits from Gary Gersach, Mike Cloney, along with Gersach, added two RBIs.

Long Mechanical witnessed an eight run second inning by Butler leading to post a 16-10 triumph and momentum to the leaders.

Lang's hitting attack was paced by the Sinclair brothers, John and Bill, who combined for six hits and seven RBIs. Ben Tim added three hits and two RBIs, while Jim Lang and John Bates each added three hits. Butler was led by two hits and three RBIs apiece from Richard Tarrow and Ann Kuttler. Joe Watson added three hits for the losers.

A 10-run fourth inning helped J & S Steel cruise past Dunbar Chrome Process 15-2 to avenge a loss earlier in the week.

The winners were led by two hits from Butland. Fred Barker, Jerry were paced by a two-run homerun by Ed Strickland and two hits from Matt McLaughlin.

The Juniper League 10-run 11th game being stream with a slim 11-10 triumph over Canterbury Cleaners. It was also the Juniper League's first win of the season.

The winners were paced by three hits each from Dave Jensen and John Major and three RBIs from Dave Brewer. The losers were paced by three hits and two RBIs from Bill Shipp and two hits each from Miller Stratum, Steve Dungan, Robin Shaver and Rick Balak.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Getzer's Put scored six runs in the top of the eighth inning to secure a 15-7 triumph over One Hour Martinizing and remain tied for leadership of the league.

Getzer's hitting attack was led by three hits and four RBIs from Ann Gorchak, four hits and two RBIs from Sharon Philips and Theresa Manning and three hits and two RBIs from Karen Marzmar and Julie O'Brien.

The losers were led by Gwen Jacques' homer and three RBIs and two hits from Lynn Schumacher. Mary Huntington added an RBI.

Winner's Circle had little trouble in dispatching Arnie Ford 25-0 as the winners scored 10 times in the first, six in the second, two in third and five in the fourth.

Winner's Circle hitting onslaught was led by Louise Spigumill's homer, double, single and four RBIs. Laura Callen's homerun, three singles and three RBIs, Denise Horner's two triples, double and three RBIs, Kim Thesdale's homer, single and three RBIs and Kim McBain's two singles and three RBIs.

Arnie Ford had singles from Michelle Kaman, Denise Christensen, James Koch and Jackie Ekstrom.

A. Do you have a favorite movie actress whose smile you want to emulate? In the old days movie stars routinely had their teeth capped, but today that is no longer the case. More and more people, including entertainers, are opting for a healthy natural image. Slight imperfections in the placement, size, or color of teeth are natural for all of us. Of course, if you have "crooked" teeth that cause an improper bite you will want to consult an orthodontist who

Mets' late rally nips Braves 3-2 for title

The Phillies used a strong pitching performance from Steve Carlton to secure the win. Carlton allowed just one hit and struck out six batters. Tony Craig paced the hitting attack with a two-run homerun. The Expos also mounted a strong pitching effort from Kirk Morrison who fished a four-hitter and struck out 10 batters.

The Expos used a nine-run fourth inning to power themselves past the Giants 13-7. The winners were paced by two hits from Keith Eric Galt and Dave Leland. The Giants had good relief pitching from David Stutzman near the final three innings.

Spade nets Dearborn, Monroe tennis crowns

It was not enough that Tom Spade won one United States Tennis Association tournament in one week. He added one more just for good measure.

The 16-year-old Northville native captured the Monroe Open singles title, played July 20-22, and he won the same title in the Dearborn Open, played July 12-14.

Spade, who is ranked 13th in boys' 16 and under in Southeastern Michigan, won four matches en route to winning the Monroe championship. He defeated Dearborn Heights' Mark Egnatus 6-1, 6-4 in the championship match.

In the semifinals, he downed Allen Park's Rick Egnatus 6-3, 6-4. Ironically, it was these two players who hooked up in the Dearborn championship contest. Spade won that match 6-1, 6-4, 6-2.

In his third-round match at Monroe, Spade battled his Detroit Catholic Central doubles partner, Northville's Bob Martin, and won 6-4, 6-1. He was victorious in his second round match over Bob Moore, of Toledo, Ohio, in straight 6-0 sets.

Adray Sound wins Thomson tourney

Adray Sound came out of the losers bracket to defeat Slogmo's twice to win the 1982 Thomson Memorial softball tournament during the weekend.

Adray Sound thumped Slogmo's 10-4 and 23-13 to win the championship.

In the 10-4 triumph, Adray used the homerun ball to power itself to victory. Mike Tyranski belted a pair of two-run round-trippers, while Bill Bowie, Tim Wacha and Ken Wadley all blasted two-run homers. David Pohl also added three singles.

Slogmo's was led by a two-run homerun by Jerry Holbrook and solo shots by Tim Johnson and A.J. Vaughan.

In the 23-13 victory, Adray again went to the long ball to secure the triumph. Wadley slammed three homers and drove in four runs, while Bowie belted a first inning grand slam homer. Wacha blasted a pair of homers, while Tyranski, Andy Soborowski and Joe Brainer nailed round-trippers. Pohl added four hits and Craig Vassini added three singles.

The losers were paced by a pair of homers from Holbrook and round-trippers from Bob Goodlow and Jim Kholmman. Pat Kelly, Dennis Rogowski and Vaughan all collected two hits.

Baldos attends Meeker camp

Northville's Jason Baldos was one of the more than 200 players who attended the Howie Meeker Hockey School at State University College in Potsdam, New York, July 4-17.

The hockey school is directed by Meeker, a former National Hockey League Rookie of the Year and general manager who now serves as commentator on "Hockey Night in Canada" telecasts.

Besides ice hockey, players at the camp were involved in soccer, swimming, softball, lacrosse, tennis and racquetball.

Plymouth-Canton sets hockey registration

The Plymouth-Canton Hockey Association will be conducting registration for players' ages six through 17 years old from 6-9 p.m. August 9 at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

The fee is $40, and players are asked to bring their birth certificates. Beginning skaters are welcome. For more information, call 459-6394.

Photocutline correction

In last week's Record sports section, a cutline under the F-League picture should have said the batter was Ron McDonald. The Record regrets any inconvenience the error may have caused.

Football conditioning slated

Conditioning workouts for all grade 9-12 Northville football players will begin Monday at the high school weight room. The program runs 6:30-7:30 p.m. Monday through Friday for two weeks.

Parson to Person...

Communion

Dr. James H. Luther

It is important to remember that salvation does not come through the taking of communion. The believer, who is already forgiven, rather celebrates the reason for his salvation: the death of Christ on the cross.

The communion service should look both backward and forward. We look back to the cross and remember the great sacrifice necessary for us to be forgiven. We realize that without our trust in the work of Christ (rather than our own "good works"), we would still be in our sins.

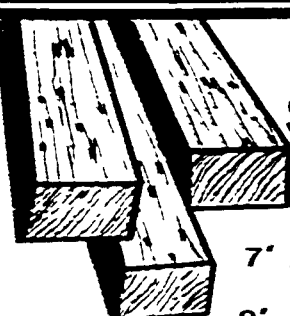

We look forward and rejoice in the promise that our crucified Savior is living and coming again—soon: "For as often as ye eat this bread... ye do show the Lord's death till he come" (1 Corinthians 11:26). We anticipate meeting our Savior. We feel the warmth of Christian fellowship.

Yet, there is a solemn note to this sacred time. We are to judge ourselves (1 Cor. 11:31). Each Christian must analyze his spiritual condition and confess any known sin to Christ. In such confession, spiritual fellowship with the Lord is restored, and the activity of communion is complete. How wise it was of the Lord to give us a ceremony that moves us to remember his act of love, rejoice in his soon appearing, and restore our fellowship with Him. See you next Sunday evening at our communion service!

Donations awarded by Town Hall Series

Twenty-one area organizations have been awarded donations from the Northville Town Hall Lecture Series to help maintain programs and costs.

A list of organizations receiving donations was announced at Northville Town Hall's Board of Awards annual meeting in June.

Town Hall profits for the 1981-82 season totaled $6,500 with $3,250 donated to the various organizations seeking assistance.

Organizations receiving donations include the Plymouth Woman's Club for support of a Special Olympics program and Girls Town-Loch Rio; Our Lady of Providence to send two girls to camp; Community Commission on Drug Abuse, financial assistance to support a substance abuse program; New Horizons of Oakland County for support of its program to evaluate, train and place disabled adults in their highest attainable employment.

Farmington Community Center, for support of its fund drive for monies to operate center; Plymouth Symphony Society, for support of symphony program and other programs; International Order of Alhambra, financial assistance for picnic for retarded children in the Northville area; International Order of Kings Daughters and Sons, aid to the needy in the local area.

Novi Friends-of-the-Library, film strip and view collection for juvenile selection; First Step - Western Wayne County Project on Domestic Assault, contribution to a shelter program to meet counseling and advocacy needs of children of spouse abuse; Northville-Novi FISH, donation for operational expenses.

Plymouth Community Arts Council, contribute to setting up music program in Plymouth School system; Silent Citizens, support film program attended by deaf families in Metro Detroit Area; Northville Historical Society, funds to carry on restoration work at Mill Race Village; South Lyon Area Youth Assistance, support camping program; Junior Entertainment Series - PTA-PTSA Northville Public Schools, support cultural enrichment program in elementary and junior high schools.

Plymouth Fife and Drum Corps, apply to purchase of hats; Friends of the Northville Public Library, funds to expand puppet collection; Novi Youth Assistance Committee, summer camp program for children with special needs; Northville Community Band, purchase music for library and Community Living Centers, Inc., contribute to purchase of furnishings within apartment building for retarded citizens.

Area homes get summer spruce up

Northville's historic downtown area, with its vast array of older homes, has proven to be an employment haven for a group of enterprising students.

Greg Bach, a University of Michigan student, has recruited fellow classmates and his younger brother Dave, a senior at Northville High School, to help him in his summer painting business - Bach Painting Company.

Bach and company currently are working on two of the district's older homes on Main Street. Presently stripped to the wood, they soon will be coated with fresh paint.

Joe McGraw, at left, uses a disc sander to scrape old paint while Wally Pearson, below, uses the same technique on the window trim.

Heirloom quilts being sought for show

By JEAN DAY

Call them quilts, counterpanes, coverlets — the hand-stitched bed coverings in Dresden Plate, Double Wedding Ring, Lone Star and just plain patchwork patterns have as much appeal today as they did when they covered four posters a generation ago. Northville Quilters, a group that has been meeting at First Presbyterian church to stitch together on the third Wednesday of each month, decided to capitalize on local interest in quilting by scheduling a Northville quilt show.

Sybil Kerr displays Dresden Plate quilt to be on display

"Your Heirloom and Mine — Old or New" is the name and theme of the two-day show to be held September 23-24 at First Presbyterian Church. Sybil Kerr of the Northville Quilters reports that the event will include a mini-bazaar of patchwork and quilted items as well as booths for dealers of quilt supplies. Quilting demonstrations will be given during the show, she adds, and a quilt will be awarded.

Entries for the show will be accepted between August 1 and September 15 with both heirloom and newly sewn quilts accepted. Lois Winters, 349-3892, and Mrs. Kerr, 349-3173, may be contacted about entering.

In preparation for the event, the Northville Quilters are scheduling extra weekly "bees" through August. The women are meeting from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. today at Mrs. Kerr's home at 121 West. Usually from 12 to 20 quilting enthusiasts attend work sessions, Mrs. Kerr reports, bringing brown bag lunches and staying as long as they wish. She invites any area quilters to join the group.

The quilt show for which there will be a $1 admission charge, she adds, will be the fall fund-raiser for the church women's association. "We're very excited about it," she says, noting that it replaces the home tour project this year. The home tours, co-sponsored by the Presbyterian Women's Association and the Northville Historical Society, now are being held only on alternate years with the next scheduled for fall, 1983.

Teacher invites whittlers to club's show

Charles Plunkett, who teaches woodcarving for Northville Historical Society in Mill Race Village classes, is hoping area residents will attend a free show of the Livonia Woodcarvers' Club to see the fine carvings of some 90-100 woodcarvers. Northville carvers in the show will include Jerry Davis and Gordon A. Culpert. For those who think of ducks and birds as woodcarvings, Plunkett is quick to list abstracts, statues and balls-and-chains as other exhibits. At the Mill Race, he teaches beginners to pare blocks of wood into shoes, a dog and such folk characters as a sea captain.

The club, which until recently was the only one in the metropolitan area, has sons of carvers who are as young as seven years old and a senior carver age 83. The show at the Eddie Edgar sports arena, 33841 Lyndon off Farmington Road in Livonia, will be open from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. August 7 and from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. August 8. There is no admission charge, Plunkett emphasizes, and hourly prizes carved by members will be awarded.

They're biking their way to the fair

Seven area young people are in a group using pedal power to get to the World's Fair in Knoxville, Tennessee. Eschewing the freeways, the bikers planned to take secondary roads south from Dayton. The 53-member group of young people and staff from Ward Presbyterian Church left by bus July 15 for Dayton.

Northville and Novi members include Cathy Young, Todd Lincoln, Chip Huber, Greg Young, Khris Korowin, Melissa Becktold and Greg Place. They are expected back August 1.

Carol Kulha's representing Michigan in Florida

Carol Kulha, Miss Michigan Teenager, and her parents, the Frank Kulhas of 16807 Old Bedford, and sisters Diane, Chris and Lisa are flying to Florida tomorrow where Carol will be one of 52 candidates competing in the 11th annual National Miss Teenager Contest in Lehigh near Fort Myers. The pageant August 5 will culminate a week of activity for the Northville resident. With Pat Boone as master of ceremonies, the show will be televised nationally later.

Joining the Kulha family in Florida will be their next-door neighbors from Northville. Chris and Mary Ann Markatos with daughter Cathy are driving south for the pageant.

Last week, Carol, 18, and a graduate of Our Lady of Mercy High School, was in East Lansing attending orientation sessions for Michigan State University, where she is enrolled for fall.

CEILING INSULATION LOANS. NO INTEREST. NO FOOLIN'

When you take a loan from Consumers Power to insulate your ceiling, you can forget about the interest, all of it, if you qualify for an interest-free loan.

It's simple. Borrow up to $1,000 for adding ceiling insulation to your home. Then take five years to pay it back — and never pay a penny of interest.

So now while the temperature's up and heating bills are down, think winter, insulate. Call your local Consumers Power office for details of the ceiling insulation loan that lets you keep the interest.

MR. AND MRS. DONALD EVERHART

MR. AND MRS. MARLIN HANSTAD

Hanstad-Freeman vows exchanged

Susan Louise Freeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lee Freeman of 8775 Center, daughter of the late of Martin Eugene Hanstad of Wixom May 29 at Detroit First Church of the Nazarene in Farmington Hills.

The bridegroom is the son of the Reverend and Mrs. Gordon E. Hanstad of Rockford, Illinois.

The double ring ceremony was officiated by the bridegroom's father and the Reverend James Cunniff pastor of Detroit First Church of the Nazarene.

The bride wore a white chiffon gown embellished with a Venice lace bodice styled with an illusion neckline. Her chapel-length veil also was trimmed in Venice lace.

The bride's sister Mrs. Linda Bouton of Livonia was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Donna Jensen of Orland Park, Illinois, Linda Crabtree of Orland Park, Illinois and Teri Ditt of Plymouth.

The bride's attendants wore apricot gowns with overlays trimmed in Venice lace. Each carried long stem roses.

The bride's mother Heather Freeman was flower girl.

The bridegroom's brother Mark Hanstad of Rockford was best man. Groomsmen were Dana Mark and Russ Davitt of Rockford and the bridegroom's brother-in-law the Reverend James Spun of El Dorado, Kansas.

Ring bearer was the bride's nephew Todd Freeman.

Receptions were held in Farmington and Rockford.

Following a two-week wedding trip to Florida, the couple returned to Wixom where they will reside.

Birth announced

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Mattison of Livonia announce the birth of their son Jordan James July 7.

He was born at New Grace Hospital in Detroit and weighed eight pounds.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mattison of Northville.

Mr. and Mrs. James Peters of Livonia are maternal grandparents.

The couple's other son Justin is three-and-a-half.

Viki Purcell speaks vows in East Lansing service

Viki Purcell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Purcell of 44855 Thornapple, became the bride of Donald Everhart of Spring Lake June 26 at Trinity Church in East Lansing.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Everhart of Spring Lake.

The double ring ceremony was officiated by Pastor Eddie Eggerichs. Former Northville resident Randy Casteel was one of two trumpeters heralding the bride down the aisle. A brass quintet played both before and after the ceremony.

Satin bows and lace ruffles graced the hoop skirt of the bride's gown which extended in a long train. She wore her mother's tiara and heart-diamond necklace.

The bride's cascade bouquet contained white sweetheart roses and carnations, purple statice, baby's-breath and greens.

Maid of honor was Debbie Dechant, and bridesmaids were Margaret Wagner, Michele Francis, Pat Piersma and former Northville resident Linda Youngquist of Oklahoma.

The bride's attendants wore purple gowns with lavender lace overlay. The gowns, made by the bridegroom's mother, were enhanced with purple ribbons at the neck, waist and wrists.

Kathy Everhart was mistress of ceremonies, and Mary Wheatley assisted with the guest book.

Best man was bridegroom's brother Dave Everhart. Ushers were the bride's brother Eric Purcell, Ted Nelson, Steve Ilf and Jeff Bailiff.

A reception for 150 guests was held at the Hoffman House in Lansing. A wedding trip to Toronto, Montreal, Quebec City and the New England states followed the reception.

The bride is a 1982 Michigan State University graduate. The bridegroom, a 1980 Michigan State University graduate, currently is a science teacher at Plainfield High School in Illinois.

The couple will reside in Johet, Illinois.

Creative Day entering 14th year of operation

Creative Day Nursery School will begin its 14th year in Northville this fall, offering a developmental program to meet the social, emotional and cognitive needs of preschoolers, director Ellen Wahi announces.

The program, which operates in Room 206 of Main Street Elementary School, is licensed for 25 children and has a one-to-eight ratio of students to teachers.

A new tuition schedule is being offered for the fall program with a reduced tuition rate for parents who would like to help out in the program two mornings each month, Wahi reports.

In the fall, the nursery will be offering morning sessions from 9:30 a.m. to noon Monday through Friday.

Registration may be handled through the mail by contacting Wahi at 349-2161. Registrations also will be accepted from 10 a.m. to noon September 9 and 10 at the center. Classes are scheduled to begin September 13.

In addition to the morning preschool, Creative Day sponsors a creative drama workshop twice each year for children ages four to six.

The drama workshop is designed to introduce young children to the many aspects of the theater arts. The workshop includes shadow theater, puppetry (hand, stick and marionette) and actual stage presentations using soft sculpture as scenery and costumes.

The first drama session will be held from 10-11:15 a.m. October 19 with afternoon sessions from 1-2:15 p.m.

Wahi has extensive experience both teaching preschool and conducting workshops for preschool educators.

This past spring, she conducted workshops in creative drama for the Michigan Association for the Education of Young Children Conference, the Michigan Council of Cooperative Nurseries Annual meeting in Lansing and for groups of university students at Central Michigan University.

She is scheduled to speak about creative drama in November at the National AAEYC Conference in Washington D.C.

Two attend Blue Lake arts camp

Two Northville residents attended the second summer session at Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp July 12-25.

Enrolled at the camp were Nicole Forman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Forman of 117 North Rogers, and Mary Widak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Widak of 44889 Thornapple.

Blue Lake, which hosts more than 3,800 elementary through high school students during the summer, offers instruction in a wide variety of fine arts.

Students attending Blue

Lake's second two-week session had the option of majoring in art, band, dance, jazz ensemble, orchestra, organ, piano and theatre.

Three couples announce engagements

Patterson-Egbert

Former Northville residents Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Egbert of Tecumseh announce the engagement of their daughter, Mari to James R. Patterson of Atlanta, Georgia.

He is the son of James P. Patterson of Atlanta.

The bride-elect currently is managing the campaign of Richard Headlee for Governor of Michigan. A 1971 graduate of Northville High School, she also is a graduate of Michigan State University with a degree in political science.

Her fiancé is a practicing attorney in Atlanta.

An August 14 wedding has been set at Faith Covenant Church in Farmington Hills with the reception at the Fairlane Club in Dearborn.

Duggan-Beagan

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Beagan of 42113 Scenic Lane announce the engagement of their daughter Celeste to Timothy Duggan, petty officer Third Class, U.S.N.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Duggan of Livonia.

The bride-elect is a Northville High School and Adrian College graduate.

She currently is the sportswear manager at Alberts in Livonia.

Her fiancé is a Redford Union High School graduate and also was graduated from Adrian College. He currently is in the U.S. Navy's nuclear propulsion program.

A wedding date has not been set.

Pickard-Sanders

Mr. and Mrs. James Russell Sanders of 21256 East Glenhaven Circle announce the engagement of their daughter Lori Jayne to Bruce Alexander Pickard.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Russell Pickard of Ann Arbor.

The bride-elect is a 1975 Northville High School graduate and was graduated from Western Michigan University in 1979. She currently is a manager at Jacobson's in Ann Arbor.

Her fiancé is a 1976 Ann Arbor Huron High School graduate and was graduated from Western Michigan University in 1980 where he was a member of Sigma Pi Fraternity.

A November 6 wedding is planned.

Open Door hosts candidates

The Open Door Christian Church of Northville will hold a "Meet the Candidates Night" at 8 p.m. August 3 at the church.

The panel will be composed of both the Democratic and Republican candidates for the office of State Representative from the 16th District. The moderator for "Meet the Candidates Night" will be Judge Dumbur Duns of the 15th District Court.

The forum will begin with opening statements from the candidates, followed by a 45-minute question and answer period from the audience.

"Create a mood, a feeling. Design a room that reflects your personality. Choose colors as current and exciting as any forecasted for the new season's clothing, and enjoy them on your sofa and chair for years to come."

Tom Burak, Fashion Director for Pennsylvania House makes it that easy. His discerning eye pinpoints what is foremost in home fashion fabrics. Adding new choices to the Pennsylvania House collection each season, he offers you an almost limitless variety of fabrics that are both beautiful and beautifully made. Fabrics you can use with complete confidence: Over 700 perfectly correlated, exquisite designs. And this year you'll create with more versatility, design a more sophisticated home. Because even basic colors have new texture to add depth and dimension. Brilliant new patterns enrich the classic lines of Pennsylvania House furniture and distinctively different room settings can be achieved with just a change of fabric. Tom's collection of wonderful fabrics are all here waiting for you to express your personal style... while you save 25%.
