Bell envisions expansion

By MICHELE McELMURRY

As the newest occupant of the office in the southeast corner of Main Street Elementary School, Superintendent George Bell has spent the past seven weeks trying to familiarize himself with everything from the operation of the Xerox machine to complicated budget procedures.

"It's interesting being the new kid on the block," he admits, while fumbling through the mounds of paper piled on his desk.

"I think I've been approached by every single special interest group in the district. Not that that's bad. I'm learning a lot.

"However, at this stage I'm just trying to keep everything in perspective."

With the start of the 1982-83 school year only weeks away, keeping "everything in perspective" has been a formidable task for the district's new chief administrator.

As "the new kid on the block," Bell acknowledges that he "generally has been doing a whole lot of listening."

Despite the fact that many of the district's central office administrators and building heads were on vacation his first month on board, Bell says he is "beginning to get a feel for the district."

The former Van Dyke Public Schools' Superintendent slid into the seat once occupied by Lawrence Nichols slightly less than a month after signing a three-year pact with the Northville Board of Education.

Chosen from a field of more than 100 applicants, Bell's selection as Northville's superintendent culminates a 30-year career in education. He began his career in 1951 as an instrumental music instructor in the Wayne-Westland School District and was named the district's music coordinator in 1959.

In 1966, he was named principal of Wayne Memorial High School, serving in that position until his selection as Van Dyke Public Schools Superintendent in January, 1980.

The board of education's overwhelming choice for superintendent, Bell brings to Northville considerable enthusiasm, a strong commitment to community involvement and a successful achievement record as the head of the Van Dyke Public Schools.

Township favored runners-up

By KEVIN WILSON

Township voters of both parties bucked the trends in last Tuesday's primary elections.

Republicans narrowly favored lieutenant governor James Brickley over statewide victor Richard Headlee in the gubernatorial runoff while Democrats showed heavily for Livonia Mayor Edward McNamara over landslide victor William Lucas in the Wayne County executive race.

The 2,862 electors who made the Tuesday trip to the polls included a larger-than-normal 39 percent Democratic total, clerk Susan Heintz said, probably as a result of interest in the county executive race. The total Democratic vote in that race was 1,021 or 48 percent of those voting for county executive candidates.

Heintz said the total turnout represents nearly 30 percent of the approximately 10,000 registered electors in the township. She said she "doesn't trust" the registration count as it might be a little high.

Township GOP voters chose Gerald Law over Gary Wolfram and Ron Fisher in the 36th District State House race, incumbent Robert Geake by a tremendous margin in the 6th District

State Senate contest, gave a similar margin to incumbent Carl Pursell in the local congressional race, chose statewide favorite Philip Ruppe in the U.S. Senate race, agreed with the rest of the county by choosing Robert FitzPatrick to square off against Lucas for county executive, and tapped incumbent Mary Dumas in a Wayne County commission showdown.

Democrats had fewer choices to make after favoring James Blanchard in the gubernatorial contest and McNamara. The only other contested Democratic primary was for the 10th District Wayne County Commission nomination, where William Ryan won the right to face Dumas in November. Democratic vote totals fell off significantly as voters proceeded down the ballot after casting 1,017 ballots for governor and 1,021 for county executive.

Of the latter, 54 percent (552) punched ballots for McNamara while only 37 percent (323) chose county sheriff Lucas. Among the also-rans, Detroit City Councilman Mel Ravitz led here with

City chose Headlee among other victors

City voters in the primary followed the state-wide trend to give the gubernatorial nod to Democrat James Blanchard and Republican Richard Headlee in the August 10 election. Of the city's 3,977 registered voters, 1,260, about 30 percent, went to the polls with 622 votes cast in Wayne County Precinct 1 and 638 in Precinct 2.

In Wayne County Precinct 1 Republican voters also followed the county vote to give the greatest number of votes for County Executive to Robert FitzPatrick, but the Democrats supported Livonia Mayor Edward McNamara over Wayne County sheriff William Lucas who won the party nomination in the county.

For 36th District Representative, a race with much interest as voters are naming a new representative as a result of redistricting, Wayne city voters also gave successful Republican candidate Gerald Law the greatest number of votes — 160 to Gary Wolfram's 103 and Ron Fisher's 27. Democrat R. William Joyner, unopposed, received 101 votes.

District-wide Law won with 57 percent of the vote while Wolfram received 34 percent and Fisher nine. The district includes the city and township, both Plymouths, and much of Canton.

City voters in Wayne County also overwhelmingly defeated the proposition to raise property taxes one mill for one year 366 to 65. County-wide it was rejected 255,750 to 56,260.

Millage, open campus will be meeting topics

School Superintendent George Bell said Monday he expects to propose a revision of the high school's open campus policy to the Northville Board of Education next Monday.

The board also is expected Monday to establish its millage rate for the 1982-83 school year.

The board opted in June to hold off on establishing a millage rate until the district's fund equity figures were more complete. However, the board is required to set the rate before September 1.

Without detailing the open campus proposal, Bell said the revision may include modifications in building and grounds areas where students can congregate and in the possible implementation of hall monitors.

Bell is expected to meet with high school principal George Aune sometime this week to outline details of the revision.

Aune said last Friday that he hopes to have a new policy in place before the start of the school year September 7.

If the proposal is placed on the board of education's agenda for its Monday meeting and receives board approval, such a plan could be instituted before students head back to the classroom.

The high school's open campus policy has received considerable criticism through the years by both parents and residents who have argued that there is little control over students.

Last June's beating of a student in the school hallway by a gang of Farmington youths drew even harsher criticism.

The parents of the student assaulted have protested to both school administrators and the board of education. At a recent meeting, board members assured the family that the policy would be examined.

Ford on verge of decision

Formal announcement of Ford Motor Company plans for the future of the firm's Northville wheel plant is expected within the month, sources close to the operation said this week.

UAW Local 896 has scheduled its first meeting in two months August 24, presumably to discuss Ford's decision regarding the plant's role. Early indications are that the plant will no longer produce engine valves but will receive some work that was previously done by an outside supplier.

Both Ford and union sources were reluctant to speak for publication but confirmed that recent discussions indicate reopening of the facility is near.

Ford spokesman George Trainor said "I can assure you discussions are going on" but said he could not yet report a decision.

The company has since been engaged in a study to determine a "best use" for the location that has been used by the company for 63 years.

Handrail proposal need questioned at Allen Terrace

By JEAN DAY

A campaign started by Nick Serkalan to raise funds to install a handrail along the driveway to Allen Terrace is receiving a mixed response at best from residents as well as directors and the Northville Housing Commission which is in charge of administration of the city-owned senior citizen center.

Most expressed dissatisfaction with the fact they had not been consulted.

"It was a surprise to all of us," said Vance Masters, newly elected president of the 12-member residents' council board, who said last week that she had inquired if any board members had received a request for a handrail.

No one, she said, reported any discussion on the subject. She said she would be taking the question of the need for the handrail to the residents today and would report their feelings to the Northville Housing Commission. She added that a letter had been written to the commission stating that an opinion would be forthcoming from the residents' board (See letters to the editor).

Both housing commission chairman Ray J. Casterline II and Allen Terrace Director Fran Yoakam stressed that Allen Terrace "is a senior citizens' residence, not a nursing home."

"If I have an objection," Yoakam explained, "it is to the presumption that someone is saying, 'you need this.'"

"It may be a fantastic idea," she declared, stating that her objection lies in the way the campaign was initiated. She stressed that residents are consulted about changes and improvements, saying, "This is their home. We respond to their requests. They should be asked if they want or desire it."

Serkalan began his campaign for the handrail, he said in a letter in The Northville Record of August 4, because "there are countless citizens living in the Terrace who would appreciate it ... those who would enjoy walking back and forth to town but find the walk very tiring..."

Serkalan, a township resident whose mother-in-law is an Allen Terrace resident, wrote a check to the city for $25 to begin the campaign and appeared at the August 9 meeting of city council to enlist support for the project. He told city council that he often picked up senior citizens who were having difficulty returning to the apartment complex at the top of High Street.

Council member Carolann Ayers pointed out that the residents' council gives priority to residents' requests presented to the Northville Housing

Krictzs, commission slate meeting

In hopes of solving various problems which have arisen between the recreation department and a local karate club, a meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday between the club, Recreation Director Edward Krictzs and a few members of the recreation commission.

The decision came at last week Wednesday's recreation commission meeting since the club and the rec department have haggling about back rent the past few months, in addition to other matters.

The club came to last week's meeting because its lease agreement for use of the community building was terminated at the end of July by the recreation department due to failure to pay back rent. The club has been practicing outside since that time.

The commission was advised of the situation at its July 14 meeting. Krictzs presented the commission with a copy of a letter he had written in June to club instructor Bob White about termination of the lease in July because of back rent. The letter noted eight previous warning letters about the back rent problem were sent to White.

According to Krictzs, the club owes the department more than $1,100 in back rent.

Also, he outlined in a letter to the commission other problems concerning the club. They include failure to pay rent on time; using more time than that scheduled; department not advised of hours used; rent short of amount due for hours used; students improperly supervised when in building and also destructive; members being abusive to other renters and staff members; and parties held with alcoholic beverages without knowledge or permission of department.

The start of the meeting, though, was a little unusual as Krictzs left after waiting half an hour for enough commissioners to arrive to form a quorum. Commissioners Carolann Ayers, Jerome Mittman, Jane Watts and Dave Llewellyn were the only members present at 8 p.m.

The four members still decided to start an informal discussion with the club shortly after Krictzs left. Chairman L.T. Sylvestre arrived about 9 p.m., but the commission continued its informal discussion until 9:40 p.m. when Sylvestre officially started the meeting.

Deficit plan approved for recreation program

Recreation commissioners unanimously approved a five-year deficit financial plan to be filed with the state treasurer at its meeting last week Wednesday.

The plan was necessary because the recreation program has been in a continual deficit and state law requires a body which operates with deficits to file a plan with the state treasurer showing how it intends to rid itself of the deficit.

The commission was told it would have to develop a plan at its July meeting when Kenneth Kunkel, of Plante & Morane, presented the audit for the April 1981-March 1982 budget year. The audit showed the department lost another $2,622 to run the total deficit to $42,303.

According to Chairman L.T. Sylvestre, he, Recreation Director Ed Krictzs, Township Treasurer Richard Henningsen and City Manager Steve Walters met last Friday to develop the plan.

"This is the format which could be utilized the best way," he said. "It gives specifics without putting it into stone."

The first part of the plan explains how the deficit has become so large. It explains the commission obtained the community building for a 25-year lease from the Northville School District with the intent the building be operated on a self-supporting basis, if possible, with rentals financing both operating costs and renovation of the building.

The plan goes on to explain major repairs were needed, including a rebuilt gym floor, and there was delayed rental income. Thus, by March, 1981, the deficit was $39,681 with $34,492 being building operations and $5,189 incurred from program operations, the plan noted.

Since this past year showed a near stabilized operation, the plan stated the 1982-83 year is expected to operate without adding to the deficit.

The plan proposes to eliminate the deficit by no later than March, 1987, and it listed three points:

•Add a surcharge of 50 cents to all recreation program fees as of April 1, 1981, which already has been put into effect. A surplus of approximately $12,500 will be generated during the five-year period.

•Add an additional surcharge of $1 to all recreation program fees as of October 1, 1982. A surplus of approximately $20,400 will be generated during the five-year period.

•Adjust building rental rates and obtain additional tenants to generate approximately $12,000 in surplus rents during the five-year period.

The plan states a total of $44,900 will be generated to add to the recreation fund, and eliminate the current deficit-balance by March, 1985.

However, it noted the deficit would make it necessary to continue to draw cash advances from the city and township as needed until the deficit is eliminated.

"The alternative as far as Mr. Henningsen is concerned is to do this (the plan) or close this thing (recreation program) down," Sylvestre said.

However, if the program ever closed down, Sylvestre explained, everyone realized it would be hard to recoup much of the program.

The plan now will be given to Kunkel to review and then send to the state treasurer. The motion approved also allowed Kunkel to make any changes in the plan he might perceive necessary.

Schoolcraft offers course for CPS exam preparation

Schoolcraft College, in cooperation with the Town and Country Chapter of the Professional Secretaries International, is offering a series of review courses to help persons prepare for the Certified Professional Secretaries Examination.

According to coordinator Lea Allison, the Saturday morning classes will begin September 11 and will cover the six subject areas included in the CPS examination.

Courses offered during the fall semester are Behavioral Science, Business Law and Office Procedures and Management. In the winter semester, the courses will be Accounting Review, Economics and Secretarial Skills and Decision Making.

The mail-in registration deadline is August 20 and walk-in registration is from 3-8 p.m. September 8 and 9 in the Waterman Campus Center. It is possible to register for one, two or all three of the fall classes.

Additional information and registration forms may be obtained by calling Lois Collins at the Continuing Education Office at 591-6400, extension 404.

The CPS Examination is recognized as a measure of the highest level of proficiency for secretaries. Application deadlines for the 1983 CPS Examination are December 1, 1982, for new candidates and February 1, 1983, for those retaking exams.

"I believe both sides have a gripe to be presented, but there needs to be a common ground to meet. That's my feeling," Sylvestre said.

This matter might have been discussed at the last meeting, but one club member reported being unaware of the July meeting. Otherwise, they would have been there to discuss the problem, she said. According to Krictzs last Friday, the club was having a party at the building at the time.

Also, a large part of the back rent bill is from a karate tournament at the community building hosted by an association of Michigan coaches, to which White belonged. The association is no longer in existence.

The club claimed it should not have been charged the rent for the tournament because the association is a separate entity. However, Krictzs explained White was the one who signed the agreement, thus, "he is responsible."

In regard to running over scheduled time (the karate club practices on Mondays and Wednesdays), the club said it has all of its dates and times recorded, but that the department does not have such documents. Krictzs countered Friday that the department had such records.

Commissioner Watts made a motion to have the commission direct Krictzs to extend the community building facilities to the karate club until the September 8 meeting. The motion also instructed that there be a meeting between the club, Krictzs and at least two recreation commission members to solve the problems.

"I think we owe it to them to give them another chance," Mittman said.

However, Llewellyn said he was going to vote against the motion because it would not be supporting a previous decision made by the director, to whom the commission entrusts making decisions. He felt the commission should support Krictzs.

Sylvestre agreed with Llewellyn. "I'm going to vote against it because, number one, I was late and Ed wasn't here and, number two, because the motion goes against the decision we reached at the last monthly meeting," he said.

"But, there has to be a meeting," Sylvestre said. "There must be an amicable solution."

The motion failed, however, 3-2 with Watts, Sylvestre and Llewellyn voting no and Ayers and Mittman voting yes.

Dawson, Leinonen are trustee finalists

Two Northville residents are among the five finalists for the one vacancy on Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees. From the five the board will choose an appointee August 25.

The board of trustees took its first vote last Thursday after interviewing 16 candidates, narrowing the field to five people with the largest number of votes. The vacancy was created when Trustee Nancie Blatt resigned effective July 31 to move to Chicago.

At 7:30 p.m. next Wednesday the five finalists will be discussed and a vote taken.

The appointee is expected to seek election next June to the final two years of Blatt's term.

Schoolcraft board will appoint one of five candidates August 25

Candidates are:

- Paul R. Dawson of Northville, a retired senior claims representative at the American Insurance Group. He is a member of the senior adult advisory committee at Schoolcraft College and a volunteer tutor at the Learning Assistance Center.
- John M. Leinonen of Northville, an executive engineer at Ford Motor Company in Dearborn. He stated he can offer the board analytical and problem-solving skills. As an engineer, he has special insights to emerging technologies and has management and administrative skills.

- Carol Juarez-Beach of Garden City, a part-time student at Schoolcraft. She is a PRESCAD coordinator at Wayne County General Hospital. She said education is not parallel with today's technology and would like them to be equal.

- Armen Barsamian of Garden City, a senior cost analyst with Ford Motor Company and a member of the Garden City Board of Education. He would like to improve the quality of curriculum in education by broadening the program, get increased financing from the Legislature and improve relations between community colleges and four-year institutions.
- Sharon Sarris of Livonia, employed in franchise development for Harron Cable TV in Southfield. She has been employed in the Livonia School District, has been active in legislative groups and is a member of the Livonia Commission on Children and youth. She supports a strong alumni association to contribute funds to the college.

Park Gardens hearing to be set

Establishment of a date for a public hearing regarding the Park Gardens special assessment district is expected at tomorrow night's meeting of the township board of trustees.

Engineer Edward McNeely is expected to notify the board of when he will have completed engineering drawings and a cost estimate, both of which are needed prior to the hearing. Park Gardens residents last month said they had expected the estimate prior to this meeting, but were told it would not be available until the hearing.

Among the correspondence items on the board agenda is a McNeely estimate for the entire project, dated July 22, that totals nearly $1.2 million. The preliminary estimate does not break down the cost as to what portion would be paid by the special assessments.

estimated to cost $124,000, while a new lift station at the southeast corner of Park Gardens will cost an estimated $128,000. Renovation of a similar station near the Northville Forest apartments, already completed, is set at $126,850.

Cost estimates have been frequent in the course of planning the project, which is to be partially funded by federal grant money. Each grant application requires an estimate of total project cost.

According to the estimate, which includes cautions regarding the changeable nature of costs, the gravity sanitary sewer system for the four-street subdivision would cost $820,000. A force main line in or near Five Mile is

What is awaited by residents is an estimate of what portion of the total will be spread across the owners of property in the district. Until that is complete, the board cannot proceed to a hearing.

New Toyota car stolen

In the township...

A new 1982 Toyota valued at $7,700 was stolen from the driveway of a Woodhill residence August 14, township police reports show.

The owner told police the yellow car was parked in the drive at 2 a.m. Saturday and was noticed missing at 8:30 a.m. The car, which had black and red pinstriping on it, was left in the drive unlocked with the keys inside, the owner told police.

He also said the new car was nearly out of gas, prompting a police search of the immediate area and notice to neighboring departments. The owner said a pair of blue and yellow University of Michigan mittens was left in the back seat and a black rainhat was in the trunk. Police have been unable to locate the car.

Two automotive batteries were stolen from vehicles in the township the night of August 12 and 13, police reports show.

The Northville Forest apartment-resident owner of a Chevy pickup truck told police he parked the vehicle in that complex's lot at 11:30 p.m. August 12 and upon his return at 8:20 a.m. August 13 found the hood ajar, the battery cables cut (20 damage) and the $60 battery missing.

That same evening, a Lyric Court resident told police, the $75 battery for his Mercury Lynx was stolen between 11 p.m. and 7:30 a.m. the following morning.

Police have not formally linked the thefts.

Unknown suspects stole a $30 wallet, $80 leather cassette case and a $35 cassette holder from a 1980 Ford Van parked at an East Chigwidden residence sometime August 8, police said.

Unknown suspects damaged a rear passenger window ($100) on a 1978 Honda Civic parked at a South Chigwidden residence sometime August 11, police said.

Unknown suspects stole a $182 Mongoose 20-inch bicycle which was parked in front of a North Center residence sometime August 10, police said.

Vance Masters heads Allen Terrace Residents' board

VANCE MASTERS

Terrace handrail needed?

Commission. She asked that city council get a report from the commission on the need.

Casterline related that the most recent request from the residents had been for more planting in an area at the front of Allen Terrace. Planting materials were purchased, he said, from a fund for improvements, and they were planted by the Northville Kiwanis Club last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Masters confirmed that this had been a request from residents for beautification of the area south of the entrance drive. She related that a request for carparks had been handled through the residents' council who turned down the suggestion after costs were explored by the housing commission.

"Most people who have lived in this area," she explained, "have learned to accommodate to the weather."

She estimated that close to 60 residents have cars at Allen Terrace. She said they decided against carparks both on the basis of extra costs involved and where the carparks would be placed. If they were placed in front of the building, which now is the parking area for residents (visitors park in a more-distant lot to the east), Mrs. Masters said, the view would be disturbed for many. If they were placed farther away, there would be added walking, she explained.

"I just wonder about the need (for the handrail)," she continued, saying she feels "the majority (of residents) are quite able and manage well."

"Very often people stop to ask if residents want a ride and are told they are walking because they enjoy it."

Soft-spoken Vance Masters, elected president of the Allen Terrace Residents' Council board in June, is taking the question of the need for a handrail along the pathway leading to the senior citizen center to its members today.

She thoughtfully weighs her words while admitting she is "quite concerned" about the issue, and, especially, the way it was raised without consultation with the board.

The attractive widow in her 70's has assumed the presidency of the board that speaks for residents after previously serving as first vice president, treasurer, for a short time as secretary, and as social director. She took over the office from Margaret (Sallee) Johnson, who served for two years.

Vance Masters has strong ties to both Allen Terrace and Northville.

She has lived in Northville since she was seven years old and recalls when the family home was located on Dunlap across from Casterline Funeral Home, now a parking lot site.

"If you live in Northville," she observes, "you know it's hilly."

An Allen Terrace resident for three-and-a-half years, Mrs. Masters chose apartment 232 because it has a walk-out level patio in a north location looking toward the wooded hillside.

"I came up every Sunday after church," she confides, "watching the building and deciding where I wanted to be." She selected her apartment for its woods view.

"I like the animals," she says, pointing out a child's swimming pool by the patio that offers a drink to birds and animals. "We used to have a coon," she mentions, "that brought her litter of five to bathe."

As she talked, Mrs. Master's own pet, Petie, a gray cockateel, strutted across the tops of the kitchen cupboards adding his chirps to the conversation.

An Australian parrot, Petie has a round white face with two rouge-red circles on his cheeks and bright, beady eyes. He roams the apartment living room-kitchen area most of the time, entering his cage mainly to eat. He was the gift of her grandchildren, Mrs. Masters says, explaining with a slight smile, "they thought I needed a pet."

A listing of her current activities makes it appear doubtful that Allen Terrace's new president needs much to keep her busy.

"I've tried some painting, and I play a lot of bridge," she notes.

She also is a Red Cross blood bank worker, a Docent guide at Mill Race Historical Village and works with the Presbyterian Women's Association serving Rotary lunches on Tuesdays.

Her volunteering also has included service as a teacher's aide at Silver Springs Elementary, a volunteer project she thinks she will continue.

She's making plans for fall programs at Allen Terrace and is working on an "Allen Terrace in review" for October.

She previously served as president of the Sealarks, an organization of single, Christian women that meets at First Presbyterian Church.

A widow for 33 years, Mrs. Masters is the mother of two sons. One lives in Dearborn; the other in California. She mentions that she spent a month visiting in California.

Vance Masters is familiar to many local residents who met her while she worked at Northville Doctors' Clinic for 15 years in lab and x-ray technology.

She also has had unusual preparation for her new post: she served as assistant administrator for five years of St. Anne's Mead, a retirement home in Southfield at Greenfield and 12 Mile. Her career also included being house director for two years of Alpha Epsilon Phi sorority in Ann Arbor.

As she expressed her concern about the need for the handrail that was being much-discussed last week at Allen Terrace, Mrs. Masters said she felt the question was "debatable" and pointed out that it "might be acceptable if it was attractive and added to the landscape" but added that "this would be expensive as maintaining it might also be."

The new council president, who obviously enjoys her Allen Terrace home, leaves no doubt that any situation is going to be considered thoughtfully and carefully — with residents' input sought.

Vance Masters isn't shouting, but she's definitely a senior citizen to be heard.

Faxon got the district Democratic nod with 52 percent of the vote and will face GOP victor Anderson, who had 40 percent in his race.

State Representative:
Oakland County, 60th District (former 24th), Democrat (unopposed) Robert F. McCall 106; Republican, Willis Bullard Jr. 202, Martha L. Hoyer, 97, Allen C. Ingle 44, John J. Roethel 8, John VanDyke 15. District-wide Bullard was the overwhelming winner.

County Commissioner:
Wayne County, new 10th District, number change only from 16th, Democrat, Walter Roesler 26, William Ryan 82; Republican, Mary Dumas 250, Berry Sherman 58. Ryan and Dumas also won district-wide.

Oakland County, 24th District, both unopposed, Democrat, Celeste Miller 113; Republican, John Calandro 281.

Republicans, Robert FitzPatrick 179, J.C. Johnson Jr. 7, Gary Salisbury 12, Lawrence Schiewer 13, Harry Stearnes 17, Stephen Wrobel 17.

While McNamara only won 26 percent of the Democratic vote in the primary county-wide compared with Lucas' 55.3 percent, he led the local vote—but only by six votes.

Party delegates chosen

Township voters in eight of the 10 precincts selected delegates to party conventions in last Tuesday's primary election.

Dependent on certification of the vote, delegate race vote totals were as follows:

Precinct One — Timothy Lemon, Republican, 124 votes. Unopposed, no Democrats.

Precinct Two — Kathleen McNally, Republican, 145 votes. Unopposed, no Democrats.

Precinct Three — John Leinonen, Republican, 113 votes. Unopposed, no Democrats.

Precinct Four — none.

Precinct Five — Republican Myron Casey 65 votes over Ira Louise Wolf with 61. No Democrats.

Precinct Six — No Republicans. Three write-in votes for Democrat Robert Patrick Adams III.

Precinct Seven — Republican Marion K. Lockhart with 78 votes over Wesley Rogalski's 76 and Rise Burke's 17. No

Democrats.

Precinct Eight — none.

Precinct Nine — Republican Irving Benson, 130 votes. Unopposed, no Democrats.

Precinct Ten — Republican Timothy Walter Mizerowski with 94 votes over Jean H. June's 67.

Township clerk Susan Heintz explained that there were several write-in votes as well, but election law requires three such votes for selection. Only Adams in precinct six accumulated three write-ins.

Heintz also made special mention of the outcome in the three-way precinct seven race. Lockhart's victory is attributable to a better showing on absentee ballots, Heintz said, since Rogalski took more votes at the polling place on Tuesday.

The chosen local Republicans will meet in Livonia tonight, she said, in preparation for the party convention in Grand Rapids later this month.

Three win precinct duties

As local voters indicated their primary choices last week, they also elected convention delegates.

In Wayne County Precinct 1 of the city Velma Belasco received 169 votes and Steve Folino 198, qualifying both as Republican delegates.

In Oakland County Precinct 2 Robert Brueck (R) received 268 votes.

No write-in votes received the necessary three to qualify Democrats, City Clerk Joan McAllister said. In Precinct 1, Laura Hixon received two and Elizabeth L. Lockwood and Robert Whitehair each received one. There was none in the Oakland portion qualifying, but votes were received by Marla Holle, Don Lindemier, Robert Wildish and R. Duane LaMoreaux.

Brickley, McNamara, Law favored in township vote

95 votes, followed by Anthony Jaworski with 14, Charles Youngblood's 13, Helen Gotowka with 12, Buck Rogers with 6, Casimir Senkowski with 4 while Arthur Sumeracki and James Baxter each picked up one vote. County-wide, Lucas walked off with 55 percent of the vote to McNamara's 26 percent and Ravitz's eight.

On the GOP side, Robert FitzPatrick simply ran away from the field as he did county-wide. FitzPatrick ran up 722 township votes for 65 percent of the total in a six-way race. The nearest competitor locally, Harry Stearnes, took only 9 percent of the vote with 106. He was the only other candidate to exceed 100 votes. Lawrence Schweiger had 98, Steven Wrobel 96, Gary Salisbury 56 and J.C. Johnson Jr., 40. County-wide, FitzPatrick was victorious with a 59 percent tally.

Brickley was a bare favorite in the township gubernatorial polling as he took 572 votes (35 percent) over statewide-upset victor Richard Headlee's 545 (34 percent). Oakland County Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson also made a strong showing here, garnering 466 votes (29 percent). Jack Welborn, odd-man out in what turned out to be a tight three-way-race-plus-one statewide, tallied 39 votes in the township. Patterson received the majority of GOP votes in Wayne and Oakland counties overall.

Democratic voters were more consistent with those statewide as 451 punched the card for James Blanchard, giving him 44 percent of the total 1,017 cast in the party's gubernatorial race. Second locally was William Fitzgerald with 196 votes (19 percent) and perennial candidate Zolton Ferency drew a 149 tally (15 percent) for third. State Senator Edward Pierce of Ann Arbor took a 10 percent tally at 103, trailed by David Plawecki at 76, Kerry Kammer with 38 and John Safran with 4 votes. Statewide the order was Blanchard (50 percent), Fitzgerald, Plawecki, Ferency, Pierce, Kammer and Safran.

The high-interest 36th District State Representative race resulted in a strong Northville Township showing for district-wide victor Gerry Law, who outpolled runner-up Gary Wolfram in every precinct. Law took 818 votes for 56 percent of 1,463 total votes cast while Wolfram gathered 498 or 34 percent. Ron Fisher trailed with 147 votes for a 10 percent showing.

District-wide, percentages were almost identical to those locally (57, 34, and nine respectively), though economics professor Wolfram did win some Plymouth and Canton precincts. The Cantonite took 6 of 15 precincts in his hometown and three of five in the city of Plymouth while losing the absentee tally throughout the district. Most observers called his 34 percent vote total overall a very strong showing for a candidate making his first appearance in elective politics.

But it was Law who earned the right to face Democrat R. William Joyner come November. Law swept his Plymouth Township home base with wide margins in every precinct and ended up with 57 percent of the district-wide vote and strong majorities in all five communities — putting the lie to pre-election expectations that the race might be close. Overall, Law had 3,711 to Wolfram's 2,219. Fisher's nine percent total amounted to 558 votes district-wide.

Meanwhile, Democrat Joyner, unopposed in his primary, ran up only 685 votes on the more than 1,000 ballots cast in Northville Township. Voters in the Canton portion of the district showed a decided Democratic preference, however, promising the possibility of a close-fought race this fall.

State Senator Robert Geake beat challenger Norman Kinzel soundly, racking up 1,319 votes to Kinzel's 180 in the township. Both are Northville residents. The incumbent senator ran up similar margins of victory in the Livonia, Plymouth and Canton communities in the 6th Senate district. Come November, Geake will face Democrat Noel Culbert, who ran unopposed this time and took 645 township votes. Culbert is a former Canton Township supervisor, unseated by a Republican in 1980.

Township voters also agreed with the rest of the Second Congressional District electors that Plymouth's Carl Pursell should be the GOP nominee. Locally, the incumbent congressman took 1,349 votes (highest individual total in the township) to challenger Walter Long's 170. Ann Arbor Democrat George Wahr Sallade ran unopposed and earned 500 township votes on his way to meet Pursell in November.

GOP voters seemed to have little trouble selecting a challenger for incumbent Democratic U.S. Senator Donald Riegle (who took an unopposed 803 votes here) — Philip Ruppe outpolled his nearest competitor nearly 2-1 in the township. Ruppe's 619 tally compares to Robert Huber's 327, William Ballenger's 282 and Deane Baker's 207. Huber and Baker both took a larger percentage of the township vote than they did statewide where Ballenger was second to Ruppe with Huber third and Baker a distant fourth.

The township vote on a Wayne County proposal to increase taxes one mill to eliminate the current budget deficit was in line with that county-wide — a ringing rejection by a count of 2,021 to 333.

The county's problems didn't harm incumbent commissioner Dumas however, as she fought off a challenge from Livonia police officer Barry Sherman. In the township, Dumas was the third-highest vote-getter (after Pursell and Geake) with 1,105 to Sherman's 295. District-wide, Dumas won 3-1, with a 7,681 total over the challenger's 2,762.

On the Democratic side, William Ryan ran up 527 township votes to Walter Roesler's 189 on his way to a 7,350-to-3,240 victory district-wide. Keen-eyed observers may note that the district had as many Democrats as Republicans and that Ryan and Dumas had similar vote totals, perhaps indicating a tight race come fall.

Vote counts for each of the 10 township precincts, plus two absentee ballot precincts, are posted in township hall this week, giving a more detailed breakdown of the township vote.

Advertising fuels feud over ambulance names

By KATHY JENNINGS

When one company has a name it doesn't use, another company uses a similar name and the first company starts using the name it didn't use before, who is stealing whose name?

Since the announcement of the August 1 start up of Community Emergency Medical Service, Inc., a non-profit ambulance company and subsidiary of Botsford Hospital, competitor John Early has begun advertising a division of his company named "Community Ambulance Service."

Fliers distributed in Novi and Farmington bear an EMS logo (Emergency Medical Service) following the word Community. Early's address and telephone number appear on the literature.

A coupon for a $10 discount for any ambulance service offered by the company also is attached.

Officials at the newly-formed Community Emergency Medical Services, Inc. have taken offense at Early's advertisement, since the name he is using so closely resembles their own.

Director of Operations Greg Beauchemin says: "This flier has not been issued by our company and, in fact, has been distributed by Novi Ambulance Service, Inc. This is an obvious attempt to confuse the public and brings into question the business ethics of the issuer. It is our feeling that the provision of EMS to the public is not the proper forum to indulge in such competitive games, inclusive of ambulance service discount coupons."

Early objects that there is nothing irregular in his advertisement.

"We've been registered as Community Ambulance Service for the past two years. St. Joe's Hospital in Ann Arbor wanted to use the name last year. They contacted us and said they wanted to use the name. But since it was ours they decided to go with the name Huron Valley Ambulance."

Joseph Hull of the Michigan Department of Public Health, reported Community Ambulance Service was registered as a division of Novi Ambulance on July 8, 1981.

Community Ambulance Service is one of 13 names Early has registered as divisions of Novi Ambulance. Most of the divisions are named according to the communities Early serves. He also has divisions named Alert, Community Ambulance and Imperial Ambulance.

Early said that many ambulance companies advertise their services and coupons are not uncommon.

"I've done this kind of advertisement for 10 years. I used to run Christmas advertisements in the Livonia Observer," Early said.

Beauchemin said that before naming the company Community Emergency Medical Service, Inc. their attorney checked with the Department of Commerce to determine what names were registered to Early. The attorney was told the name was not being used, according to Beauchemin.

"We found out after we had named the company that he was using a similar name," Beauchemin said.

Beauchemin also questioned state policies that allow a company to use 13 different names.

"When will the state regulate how many names you can use?" Beauchemin asked. "In an emergency people don't have time to shop around for an ambulance company. It's not right to confuse them like this."

Early's attorney Allen Ingle said the other ambulance company's complaints about the advertisement is "an obvious attempt to hurt Novi Ambulance; they are trying to take over."

Ingle said he is drafting a law suit against Botsford Hospital for taking Early's name, among other things.

As part of the lawsuit he will question whether the new company can use Emergency Medical Service as part of its incorporated name since "EMS" is terminology set by the State of Michigan, Ingle said. "We question whether they have the right to incorporate that way."

A task force studying ambulance service in Novi and four other communities has been notified of Early's advertisement by the new company.

Previously, the possibility of developing a regional ambulance system to serve the communities has been discussed. Should the committee recommend going with a regional system it is likely both Novi Ambulance and the Botsford subsidiary Community Emergency Medical Service, Inc. would offer proposals.

McLaughlin at convention

Bill McLaughlin of Northville, president of the Metropolitan Detroit Convention and Visitors Bureau and Dennis Miriani, executive vice president, were among more than 300 participants in the International Association of Convention and Visitor Bureaus' 69th annual convention in Philadelphia.

Held July 24-28, the convention's theme centered on how developments in high technology and telecommunications affect individual convention and visitor bureaus and the industry at large.

In addition to computer-related seminars and workshops, McLaughlin and Miriani also took part in sessions focusing on convention sales, tourism promotion, international marketing and membership.

The international association was founded in 1914 for the purpose of promoting sound professional practices in travel marketing and in the solicitation and servicing of meetings and conventions. IACVB comprises 171 member bureaus in the United States and 13 other countries.

Community education expands offerings

Northville residents will be hard pressed not to find some topic which strikes their fancy in this fall's selection of community and adult education classes being offered by Northville Public Schools.

As a result of a consortium agreement recently approved between the Northville and Garden City Public Schools, this year's selection of courses will include everything from Japanese Embroidery to Nutrition Awareness.

Upon the recommendation of School Superintendent George Bell, the Northville Board of Education approved a cooperative agreement August 9 with Garden City Public Schools for community and adult education services.

The expanded program will offer Northville residents adult basic education, G.E.D. classes, high school completion classes, classes for post-graduates (under 20 as of September 1) and non-credit, leisure-time classes for adults.

Daytime, evening and after school classes are among this fall's offerings. Brochures for the community and adult education classes are expected to be available the first part of next week.

The following is a sampling of some of the class offerings which will be available.

Daytime classes will include Calligraphy, Fabric Painting, Crochet, Handwriting Analysis, Drapery, Japanese Embroidery, Needlepoint, Money and Women, Kids Korner, Job Hunting, Quilting, English Smocking, Time Management, Christmas Crafts, Wallpaper and much more.

A variety of G.E.D. or high school credit classes also will be available during the day including Typing, Shorthand, American History, English for Everyday Living, American Government, Accounting, Basic Composition, Psychology, Career Planning and more.

After-school courses for students include

Young Investigators, Crewel, Kindergarten Arts and Crafts, Watercolor, Guitar, Woodcraft, Spanish, Drama and Computer.

The selection of evening courses fills the majority of the schedule with courses offered Monday through Thursday evenings.

Classes include Furniture Finishing, Cabinet Making, Home Wiring, C.P.R., Ballroom Dance, Slimnastics, Computer, Cake Decorating, Interior Design, Picture Framing, Multi-Media First Aid, Japanese Embroidery, Self-Psych Hypnosis, Travel Agent Career Night, Basketry, Lamaze, Parenting Workshop, Aerobics, Stained Glass and much more.

A greater variety of G.E.D. classes also will be offered in the evening including courses such as Modern Detective, Computer Theory, Career Planning, Biology, Slim and Gym, Medical Office Assistant, Women in History, Metric Math, Auto Shop and Ecology.

Community education classes are scheduled to begin September 20. Fees will vary according to the course and its duration. High school completion courses are offered free. Brochures are expected to be mailed to residents next week and will be available at the Board of Education offices at 501 West Main.

For further information, phone the community education office at 349-3400.

Bell views communication as key to program success

Sitting in his office adorned with music mementos and ski posters, Bell says he believes his tenure as Northville Schools' Superintendent "could be the most exciting challenge of my career."

"It's another mountain to climb," he admits. "I enjoy the challenge."

While he acknowledges that "it's a little early for me to make any judgments about the education level of Northville," he notes that "from everything I've heard it's good."

"Northville has always had a fine reputation," he says. "The problem I see now is that you have to balance the concern with quality with the concern for fiscal responsibility."

"It's going to be difficult to keep both sides content," he admits. "I'm amazed you're still on a full-program after cutting $700,000 from last year's budget."

Bell points out that the district will "have to take a good hard look at quality vs. quantity" during the coming school year.

"Northville is caught in a dilemma of desiring and needing a quality program with very limited resources," he contends. "We'll have to try to cut expenses and not limit what happens in the classroom."

While he admits "there is a potential for further cuts," Bell says he is hoping to supplement next year's program through the new community and adult education consortium agreement with Garden City Public Schools.

The cooperative agreement, approved by the board of education at its August 9 meeting, will offer Northville residents a much more varied and ample program.

As the so-called "pet project" of Northville's new superintendent, the newly revamped program is expected to bring additional revenue to the district as well as offer educational opportunities to community members beyond grades K-12.

Having successfully implemented a similar community education program in Van Dyke, Bell says his goal for this year will be to "generate enough revenue through community education as we would in closing a school building."

"Everybody talks about declining enrollment," he notes. "Granted K-12 enrollment is declining — but beyond K-12 is increasing."

"If public education is going to service the community, we have to realize the educational needs of the entire community."

The declining enrollment problem, which has plagued the Northville school district for almost a decade, has forced school officials and the community to examine cutbacks in both curriculum and staffing as well as the possibility of shutting down school buildings.

A Facilities Subcommittee, primarily composed of community members, spent several months last year examining the district's buildings and the potential for enrollment growth. After concluding its study, the subcommittee directed the Northville Board of Education to designate a school building for closing sometime during the 1982-83 school year with plans to shut down the facility during 1983-84.

Bell says he has not had the opportunity to meet with members of the Facilities Subcommittee to discuss the closing of a school building, but says he hopes to offer them some alternatives.

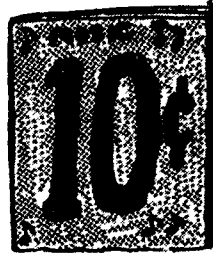

"We have beautiful buildings in this district," he notes, "I would prefer to use the buildings to serve the function of

Dental Dialogue

of A. Allen Tuchklaper, D.D.S.
PLASTIC PROTECTION

Q. Is there a spray plastic that coats the teeth and prevents cavities?

A. There is a new plastic sealant that keeps plaque and bacteria off the teeth, but it isn't actually "sprayed" on. It is applied directly to the surface of the tooth so that it flows into the crevices where it acts as a barrier against decay. It is usually applied to a child's posterior teeth and has a limited life of from one to four years. Although the sealant is past the experimental stage for the biting surfaces of the molars, it still is under study for use on the smooth surfaces of anterior teeth.

This column is presented in the interest of better dental health. From the office of

Residents, officers question need for Allen Terrace rail

She said a handrail "might be acceptable if it was attractive and added to the landscape. In order to do that, it would be expensive, however."

Casterline suggested that to be in keeping with the attractive entrance the handrail would have to be in a complementary stone wall.

"Actually, we are trying to create independence rather than dependence," Yoakam said, questioning if handrails then also wouldn't be needed en route to town along steep side streets such as Walnut and also on Wing going to the post office.

"We require all residents be able to care for themselves on a daily basis," she continued, explaining that some do so by having someone clean and shop for them. "I love to see them function," she added. "I would rather get each resident a four-prong cane."

She pointed out there is a great variance in abilities of residents with some spending almost all their time in their rooms.

"They should be consulted," she emphasized, saying most residents "have a fine mental capacity" and asking if, "in trying to do good, are we doing harm by making them less self-sufficient?"

Mrs. Masters added that a main project achieved by the residents was the Allen Terrace beauty shop, "which has been very convenient." It has been a cost-saving addition for residents who had to pay for transportation to and from town, she said.

Mrs. Masters said there is "a substantial fund for improvements" and that a current request of residents for equipment in the community kitchen is being met now.

Instead of a handrail, she smiled, "I have a wild idea — why not a chair lift?"

Oakland County solid waste plan ready

By SUZIE ROLLINS SINGER

After two roadblocks have been removed, the Oakland County Board of Commissioners is expected to adopt the county's solid waste management plan later this month.

The 20-year plan, which proposes rubbish incineration and landfill sites, has been on the drafting table for four years.

Commissioners recently raised two objections and asked the Solid Waste Planning Committee to review the proposal a final time. The committee was asked to report back with its recommendations August 26.

First, the board objected to the inclusion of the Weber landfill (in Orion Township) as a 190-acre site and recommends that it be included as a 28-acre site, the acreage currently licensed by the state Department of Natural Resources.

Second, in efforts to strengthen local governmental involvement, the board asked that representatives of municipalities have the opportunity to accompany county Health Department or Michigan Department of Natural Resources officials on daily inspections of landfills within their towns.

"We felt, as the plan stands now, that the amount of local input was insufficient. We want to give host officials the opportunity to inspect sites daily," said Commissioner Anne Hobart (R-Pontiac).

By law, the objections must be returned to the Solid Waste Planning Committee for approval before the plan can be adopted by the board.

During the Republican caucus prior to the board meeting, Milton Handorf, director of county public works, stressed the importance of getting the plan adopted.

"We have a crisis situation in the county," he said.

"We only have three active landfills in the county and a fourth one coming up next month. If the board doesn't approve a plan, the municipalities, SEMCOG or the DNR will do one," he added.

The plan is to provide for Oakland's non-hazardous solid waste disposal for the next 20 years. The capital cost for the entire plan is estimated at $150 million.

Once the plan is approved, no sanitary landfill site or other disposal facility may receive a state construction permit unless the proposed facility is indicated on the plan.

The plan calls for developing four landfills, one of which is currently under construction in Lyon Township. There also will be four energy recovery facilities (where garbage is burned and turned into steam to heat adjacent buildings) and construction of two transfer stations.

One of the energy recovery facilities is proposed for Wixom, adjacent to the Ford Motor Company Assembly Plant.

The three landfills are proposed for Holly, Orion Township and Pontiac Township. All will be privately owned.

Incinerator stations will continue to operate in the south end of the county and in Pontiac. The remaining Oakland County communities will be served by energy recovery facilities.

Here's how First Federal's Idle Assets program works. The cash value of your insurance contracts is usually available at a low rate of interest, 5% or 6% in many cases. We estimate the cash you have available in your insurance contracts and show how this money can earn money-market-type interest for you in an Idle Assets Certificate of Deposit for 30 months.*

Certificates are available for a minimum of $1,000. The interest rate, which is determined when funds are received at First Federal and the account is opened, is guaranteed for the full term.

Your total insurance protection remains the same or may even increase (see chart).

You will also be provided with additional life insurance for the full 2½-year term in the amount of your certificate.

So come into your nearest First Federal office. And bring your life insurance policies. We'll do all the work and return your insurance policies on the spot. Then we'll put your idle assets to work!

Tom Spade won Novi tourney but lost in two others

Spade defeated in final matches

After winning three previous tournaments, Northville's Tom Spade found the going a little rough in his last two outings this month.

In late July, Spade won his third consecutive tournament of the summer when he captured the Novi Open title. The 16-year-old netter downed Livonia's Bill Swanson in the finals in straight 6-2 sets.

He advanced to the final with straight 6-3 wins over Northville's Arvind Sreedharan. Spade was victorious in his opening round match over Novi's Dave Palmer in straight 6-0 sets.

August, though, has been a tough month for Spade. He lost in the semifinals at the Fairlane tournament August 6-8, and he dropped out after the fourth round in an 80-player tournament in Ann Arbor.

In the Fairlane tournament, Spade defeated Farmington's Jim Agah in straight 6-1 sets in the opening round. Ann Arbor's Kevon Scherer also fell to Spade 6-3, 7-6 in the second round. However, Birmingham's Dave Cosgrove stopped Spade in the semifinals 5-7, 6-2, 6-3.

Even though he lost in the fourth round, Spade still finished in the top 16 at the Ann Arbor tournament which drew 80 players from around the midwest.

After winning by default in the first round, Spade cruised past Lansing's John Mackey in straight 6-1 sets. Ohio's Doug Lindon fell to Spade 6-1, 6-3 in the third round.

However, Flint's John Solik, the tournament's number-five seed stopped Spade in straight 6-3 sets.

Conditioning clinic slated at YMCA

Swim enthusiasts between the ages of six and 18 are invited to participate in a pre-season conditioning clinic offered by the West Oakland and Farmington YMCAs, according to Debbie Austin, physical director of the West Oakland Y.

The clinic, which runs the week of August 23, is designed to help get youngsters in shape for tryouts for the Devil Rays, a competitive swim team.

Austin said the clinic will be held at the Farmington YMCA from 9 a.m. to noon each day next week, with daily workouts. Fees run $18 for members and $25 for non-members.

The clinic will focus on breath control, stroke technique, starts and turns, strength and conditioning, flexibility training, endurance swimming, sprints and nutrition.

Following the clinic, the YMCA will conduct open tryouts for places on the Devil Rays on September 8 from 5:30-7:30 p.m.

Swim practice for team members will begin the week of September 13, with workouts slated Mondays and Wednesdays from 6-7:30 p.m. and Tuesdays and Thursdays from 5:30-7 p.m.

The season actually begins in mid-November, Austin said, and will culminate with regional finals in April 1983.

For more information on the clinic or team, call Austin at the West Oakland YMCA, 685-3020.

'Run for Reyes' set October 16

It's not too early to start getting in shape for the "Run for Reyes."

The five mile race and fun run will be held on the Bob-o-Link Golf Course at Grand River and Beck Road in Novi on Saturday, October 16.

The race is sponsored by the Security Bank of Novi and presented by the Novi Jaycees and the Novi Parks and Recreation Department.

Entry fees are $4 for the fun run and $6 for the five mile race before October 8. The registration fee for the five mile run on the day of the race is $8.

The first 350 entrants will receive a free T-shirt and trophies will be awarded to the first male and first female finisher in the five mile race. In addition, the top three male and female finishers in each age group in the five mile race will receive awards, and everyone who finishes the fun run will receive a patch.

There will be seven age-groupings for males and five age-groupings for females in the five mile race. Males will compete in 12-and-under, 13-18, 19-24, 25-29, 30-39, 40-49 and 50-and-over. Females will run in the following divisions: 18-and-under, 19-29, 30-39, 40-49 and 50-and-over.

For more information about registration contact the Novi Parks and Recreation Department at 349-1976.

Trial date set for suspect

A 33-year-old former Union Lake resident has been bound over for trial on second-degree murder charges following an August 6 preliminary hearing.

An August 19 trial date is scheduled for Thomas Patrick Carl II, who is charged with murdering Nancy McDougall of Highland Township. Oakland County Circuit Court Judge James S. Thorburn will hear the case.

After a preliminary examination August 6 before 52nd District Court Judge Martin Boyle, Carl was remanded to Oakland County Jail. Bond was set at $200,000.

Charges were lowered from first-degree murder to second-degree.

Carl allegedly beat McDougall to death and left her body in an undeveloped subdivision in Milford Township, according to police records. He then apparently drove south and flagged down Wixom Fire Chief George Spencer, reportedly confessing to having murdered McDougall, police said.

Carl then allegedly led police to the murder scene.

McDougall and Carl met in 1981 when both were employed by the Oakland County Health Division. Carl, a graduate of Walled Lake Central, moved to Arizona and persuaded McDougall to join him there in February 1982.

However, McDougall returned to Highland this past spring and later attempted to end her relationship with Carl, according to her mother, Erceell McDougall. Carl apparently was in Michigan in an attempt to convince Nancy McDougall to return to Phoenix with him.

DeMathia wins at Meadowbrook in junior tourney

Not even the rain could keep four Northville youths from their appointed rounds in the Sixth Annual Junior Invitational golf tournament at Meadowbrook Country Club last week Tuesday.

Only one in the group, Amy DeMattia, was able to come away a champion as more than 100 junior golfers from various clubs participated in the tournament.

DeMattia won the 14-year-old girls' 18 hole competition. Runners-up include Trish Settles in the 17-year-old girls' division; Bob Pegrum in the 16-year-old boys' group; and Brian Reid in the nine-year-old boys' division. Settles and Pegrum played in 18 holes, while Reid played nine.

Meadowbrook had four other winners to enable the club to capture the trophy for most winners from one club. Grosse Ile was second with five winners.

Amy DeMattia, left, was low champ while Bob Pegrum, photographed by Record photographer Steve Fecht, right, was one of two boys' runners-up.

Closing rumors false; Paragon's in business

A report aired on radio that said Novi's Paragon Railcar Operations facility in Novi is being shut down is not true, according to company officials.

Dean Morrow, manager of employee relations for Paragon, said Monday that the report was erroneous.

"There's no truth whatsoever that we're shutting down," said Morrow, adding that he had no idea how the rumor got started in the first place.

Morrow reported, however, that Portec is reducing its operations to a four-day week and issued the following statement:

"Due to the continued downturn in the economy in general and, specifically, the marketplace for railcar builders, we are reducing our operation to a four-day week effective August 23, 1982.

"We will continue to maintain our customer service operations until additional new car work becomes available," the statement continued.

"This reduced work week, although unfortunate, is necessary due to the continued depressed conditions facing the markets we serve."

Paragon Railcar Operations is located on Grand River Avenue in Novi and is the railcar division of Portec, Inc. Paragon manufactures railroad cars that carry automobiles.

The Novi plant was constructed in the mid-1950s and employed approximately 500 workers in 1979. Morrow said Paragon currently employs approximately 110 people, but that additional lay-offs are scheduled in conjunction with the reduction to the four-day week.

Morrow also said Paragon has no intentions of relocating to another location.

"Our decision to cut back to a four-day week is merely a reflection of the economy," he said. "We just don't have the business right now, but we're here and ready to do business as soon as we can get business to do."

Community education plan among Bell's key projects

the community which never has an opportunity to see them."

His eventual goal is to use each school building as a community education center to serve the different neighborhoods.

Bell says he is "pulling out all the stops" in his promotion of the new program.

"The sky is the limit as to what we can do (with community education)," he contends. "Rather than bemoan that K-12 is diminishing, I can get very excited about serving the population that is not in school."

Keeping true to his earlier promise of keeping the lines of communication open between residents and the school district, Bell says he hopes to spark interest in the new program by getting out into the community.

"I have to get out in the community enough so I can be trusted," he says. "The name of the game is communication and I feel that is my strong point."

"I guess that will be the tone of my tenure in Northville."

New phone system at OCC

Oakland Community College is in process of installing new telephone equipment to provide better service and significant savings.

A major feature is direct lines. Listings for each of the college's campuses are available from Michigan Bell informations and will be in the new directory.

Orchard Ridge campus numbers are: main number, 476-9400; admissions, 476-4425; counseling, 476-4214; financial aid/veterans, 466-4649; and registration, 476-4497.

The college reports some problems during the change-over, including no provision for a busy signal. If a line presently is tied up, the caller still hears a ring instead of a busy signal.

The college asks callers to understand until this and other problems are eliminated.

Schoolcraft sets adult workshop

The third workshop for mature adults who are thinking of beginning or returning to college will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Room D100 of the Physical Education Building at Schoolcraft College.

The workshop is designed to erase the fears about returning to a classroom after being away for a period of time. Statistics show the average age of the Schoolcraft student is 30 and that a majority of the more mature students make the highest marks.

Classes are arranged to fit a busy schedule, counselors explain. Help always is at hand through counseling and the Learning Assistance Center, which offers tutoring and workshops on notetaking, study habits and many other topics.

The August 19 workshop will be the last session offered this semester.

For further information, contact counselors Gary Hershoren or John Witten at 591-6400, extension 312.

Our Opinion

Open campus needs restraints

Next Monday night, School Superintendent George Bell will propose to the board of education a revision of the present "open campus" policy at Northville High School. While the specifics of the plan have not yet been disclosed, Bell has acknowledged that the proposed modifications will result in a more closely monitored operation.

We certainly hope Dr. Bell's observation is correct and that immediate attention is given to this ongoing problem by board members, staff and the community. It also is our hope that a comprehensive plan be implemented before the start of the new school year September 7. Delaying this decision only will bring about further problems once classes resume.

The "open campus" policy long has been a thorn in the side of school administrators, staff members, parents and students. Initiated to allow students more flexible scheduling with the implementation of the seven-hour day, the so-called "open campus" policy has given students the option of using their "free" period as they choose.

Through the years, parents and visitors have complained of students roaming the halls and "hanging out" in the parking lot at all hours of the school day. Many have argued that the policy's flexibility has triggered excessive class skipping and subsequently fueled the unexcused absence problem.

School officials have countered these criticisms by pointing out that high school-age students are regarded as responsible adults and therefore should be allowed the freedom to make their own decisions.

In our opinion, both arguments have merit. However, while it might have seemed feasible to examine the philosophies of continuing such a policy at one time, a recent incident has brought a sense of urgency to resolving the problem.

This past June, a student was beaten in the school hallway by a gang of youths from outside the district. The incident, understandably, outraged many residents as well as raised questions about the types of precautions being taken to insure that another tragedy would not occur.

We have considerable empathy for the young man assaulted and for his parents, who have approached both the board of education and administration about their concerns. As expected, the incident has brought to light the need for more control at the high school, and we believe now is the time it should be addressed.

However, while we recognize the need for a more monitored policy at the high school, we caution against disposing of the "open campus" concept. It should be pointed out that the open campus policy has served to benefit many students — particularly those with part-time jobs, extra-curricular activities or other commitments. The policy has allowed students flexibility to schedule other activities around their classes and has not locked them into a rigid schedule.

We recognize the complexity of this problem and concur with Dr. Bell's observation that we shouldn't "jump on a simplistic solution to a complicated problem." We do not advocate a policy which bars students from leaving the premises during the school day. However, we do believe there should be accountability for all students. We suggest the board examine options such as monitoring the hallways during class periods, assigning study halls or implementing a check-out system at the main office.

We do not believe in the total abolition of the open campus policy but strongly support tightening the ship.

Off the record

By Kevin Wilson

New life aids 'discovery' of truths

Sean Michael Wilson is two weeks old today. That means his parents have finally settled down enough to count their blessings: fatigue, a funny smelling room in the house, odd waking hours, rubber pants on the side of the bathtub and a long list of jobs-around-the-house that somehow didn't get done and bills that somehow didn't get paid.

It also means their first-born has settled down a bit and is beginning to show signs of being something other than a warm fuzzy with a cry at one end and a wet diaper on the other. It's only a matter of days since he figured out that being awake and alert is not something worth screaming about. Monday night he learned to roll over from stomach to back while lying on dad's chest as we reclined in the big chair. Just to prove it was no fluke, he did it twice more.

I know, it seems early. Perhaps I overstep father's bragging rights by pointing out this is the same crib-cuddly that was doing push ups on dad's lap the day he was born, holding his head up for what seemed an incredible 5-10 seconds at one-day-old and astonishing doctors with his strength at two days. His mother, Toni, is not surprised. In the previous month she contended the then-unknown creature within her was in training for the decathlon.

Speaking of athletic events, Sean was born by the Lamaze method, with everything going pretty much according to plan. His dad was there to greet him with the immortal words "Look Toni, Sean's here" followed by "You look like Uncle Lou." Somehow, hard as we try, the words we want never come. The line about great-uncle Lou Commer at least has been good for a few laughs. When last seen in my youth, Uncle Lou was in his late 90s and seemingly intent on proving the adage that old people look like newborns, or vice versa. All the same, I wished later that I'd said something more appropriate, such as Grandma Wilson's simple "Welcome."

Now that he's an "old" baby, Sean's head no longer looks like that old abused softball dad once played with. He doesn't yet look like the chubby pink cherubs in the baby-product ads either, but he's getting there. At a long 21.5 inches at birth, he's already earned the moniker "Stretch" but seems to interpret it as a command to do so, proving that he's all arms and legs.

We brought him home to be with both his parents last week during what is now laughingly referred to as "dad's vacation." This period sometimes drove me to distraction, but it turned out to be the best thing we could have done. During Sean's early "I want to be fed and diapered every 45 minutes and after you do that I'm going to cry for the next 45" stage, only the presence of a second pair of loving arms with a fresh supply of patience saved his barely-visible neck. I came to the conclusion that those first days are God's way of notifying parents to start stocking up on patience and persistence.

It was during this time we also made the discoveries all new parents somehow make alone, despite others' best efforts to prepare them. For instance, newborns feel insecure laid on their backs in the middle of a full-size crib with nothing within touching distance. The poor little guy probably felt like an ant on the deck of an aircraft carrier. Every parent knows this, but none remembers until the new parents remind them. We also "discovered" the universal soothers — music and rocking motions. If these don't work, then something's wrong.

Underlying it all are the simple joys. How can one not love the only person in the world who doesn't cover his ears and groan when dad starts "singing?" How can a father look at that tiny hand, so close a duplicate of his own from general proportions down to the shape of cuticles and knuckles, and not speak of small miracles? How is it that at 2:30 a.m., as dad walks the floor for the third hour straight and his frustration rises, the baby knows to gaze at that face and let loose a gas-pain "smile" that turns angry mumbles to outright laughter?

All this is by way of thanks to all those in Northville who've taken an interest and been so supportive in recent months and weeks. Toni and I appreciate it, and will be sure to teach young Sean that, despite all the worldwide strife on the front pages of the papers we saved from his birth day, there were people around who hadn't lost sight of the really important things.

Nothing but time

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

I knew it was inevitable that Jane Fonda and I would eventually get together. She doesn't know it, of course, but I've been something of a Jane Fonda fan ever since "Barbarella."

It's true that we had a falling out of sorts during the Vietnam War. My viewpoint was quite different from hers, and frankly I broke off our relationship when she started doing U.S.O. shows for the Viet Cong.

But I knew old Jane and I were bound to get together again after she played a journalist in "The Electric Horseman." And now that she's re-channelled her rhetoric from anti-Americanism into physical fitness, we have common grounds once again.

As the years keep piling up, the thought has occurred to me that I have to do something to improve my physical health other than engage in games of Pac Man.

That thought was re-enforced when I recently picked up a press release from a Michigan State University professor who predicted that newspapers are going video.

In 10 years, the popularity of newsprint will decline and in 20 years half the newspapers in this country will be delivered via a cable system, according to the professor.

The release doesn't explain exactly how we're going to deliver the news, but it seems possible that some day 10 or 20 years from now I might be reading your local newspaper to you over cable television.

And, having read about the importance of the physical appearance of newscasters, it occurs to me that I had better do something quickly to preserve what's left of my youthful appearance. That's where Jane Fonda and her physical fitness program come in.

I hate to say it, but it looks like I'm going to have to start doing odious, painful things like jogging and exercising if I'm going to any market appeal as one of those "video newspaper broadcasters" 10 or 20 years from now.

Of course, certain ethical questions will have to be resolved before that time. After all, would you invite someone like me into your living room every week?

Readers Speak

Question handrail suggestion, way it was made

To the Editor:
How few think truly of the thinking few; how many never think, who think they do.

After reading the opinions expressed in the most recent issues of The Northville Record regarding the need for a handrail to assist residents of Allen Terrace to scale the heights of their abode, I am reminded of the little stream that winds around the base of our mini-fountain, narrow, shallow and somewhat shady.

The other evening 10 or 12 of us were in the foyer discussing the benefits to be derived from erecting a handrail, and it was agreed that the project was more idealistic than practical and would not justify the expense.

How a handrail would assist one with an armful of merchandise or pulling a shopping cart was not quite clear. What about a ski-lift or a cable car?

The benches along the walk provide excellent rest stations although one or two more might be beneficial to weary wanderers who might overestimate their ability to wander. A person who could not make it from one bench to another (about 50 feet) probably should not be out without an escort.

Come to think of it, I'm probably not qualified to speak for the old folks living at Allen Terrace being only in my early eighties.

MORAL: If you want to go for a hike, call a taxi.

Russell Bingley

To the Editor:

The following is a copy to The Northville Record of a letter sent by the Allen Terrace Resident Board August 12 to the City of Northville Housing Commission regarding the proposed handrail for the driveway to Allen Terrace.)

In answer to Mr. Serkaian's appeal for construction of a handrail along the driveway to Allen Terrace, to quote Mr. Serkaian, "speaking as the voice of residents," and remarking, "many cannot make it back to their apartments." Untrue, to our knowledge as board members. We question Mr. Serkaian's authenticity, regarding his remarks.

Allen Terrace Board meets the second Wednesday of each month. Allen Terrace Resident Council meets the third Wednesday of each month. If the board were petitioned on any matter that would involve petition of the Housing Commission, it would be placed before the Resident Council for approval or rejection, whatever the case may be. Then it would proceed through regular channels to its conclusion.

Since the matter was called to our attention, August 11, courtesy of The Northville Record, this matter will be presented to the Resident Council Wednesday, August 18, for approval or rejection.

It would seem that Allen Terrace residents do not need Mr. Serkaian as spokesman. We are quite capable of making our own decisions without the help of Mr. Serkaian.

Be assured you will be informed of the outcome of this issue. Acknowledgement of this letter before August 18 would be appreciated.

Respectfully yours,
Allen Terrace
Resident Board,
Marie J. Montgomery,
Secretary

Praises improvements in Allen Terrace area

To the Editor:
The City of Northville (and) the Housing Commission are to be commended on the installation of a split fence, planting trees and bushes on the grounds of the Allen Terrace on August 12.

This adds a great deal to the beauty of Allen Terrace. As a new resident, I appreciate this addition to an already beautiful senior complex.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Florence Martin

Pursell's efforts draw thanks from Madonna

To the Editor:

We live in a time when many people are critical of government and its politicians. I believe criticism is a valid form of communication but also feel that we should give credit to our officials when it is due.

I would like to publicly thank United States Representative Carl Pursell of the Second Congressional District and his staff for the excellent work they did recently in assisting Madonna College in the preparation of a proposal submitted to U.S. Department of Education. Approval of the competitive proposal led to the awarding of a three-year grant for the Madonna College Interpreting Program, which will be used to train 75 skilled manual and oral interpreters for deaf persons.

At the completion of the project, the interpreters assisted by the grant will be available for employment in public and private agencies serving the health, education, welfare, rehabilitation, employment and related needs of deaf people in Michigan and Ohio.

In addition to expanding the Madonna College baccalaureate program in interpreting, part of the first year's grant of $78,208 will be used to provide workshops and training sessions to strengthen and expand the skills of in-service interpreters who work in legal, medical, mental health and other specialized settings.

Representative Pursell took the time to learn about our interpreting program, then assisted our staff in gathering the material necessary to describe the need for a regional center at Madonna College. It is heartening to see a public official and his staff give time to a worthwhile project and help to make it work.

Madonna has one of the few baccalaureate-level interpreting programs in the nation. In addition to 100 students studying sign language, interpreting and communication, it has 50 hearing impaired or deaf students and three deaf instructors. It is an important program that will expand to meet the needs of the deaf community. Thanks to Representative Pursell and the grant, we will be able to do that.

Sincerely,
Sister Mary Francilene, CSSF
President

Litigation's not all it's cracked up to be

By KATHY LAVEY

Concrete cracks with age. Trees have roots. People are sometimes clumsy. These are facts.

An Oakland County woman is suing the city where she lives for $10,000 damages because she tripped on a sidewalk, part of which was "substantially raised."

The woman in the lawsuit claims she was walking in a "careful, reasonable and prudent" manner when she tripped, sustaining "serious and permanent injuries." This caused a number of reactions, including "physical pain and suffering," "mental anguish," "fright and shock," "denial of social pleasures and enjoyments," "embarrassment, humiliation and mortification...."

That's not all. The woman's husband also wants ten grand, claiming he was "deprived of companionship" and also deprived of the "services and society" of his wife.

I have a case too. On a recent weekend camping trip in Kentucky's Daniel Boone National Forest, I also suffered an injury.

While "reasonably and prudently" climbing a trail in the Red River Gorge, an area famous for its geologic formations, I tripped over a "substantially raised" tree root growing across the path. Even though I was walking in a "careful, reasonable and prudent manner," I slid off the path, bouncing down a steep incline on my derriere.

I sustained a "serious" injury in the form of two gigantic bruises in a very important place, and a "permanent" one to my pride.

These dual bruises caused me "physical pain and suffering" for the next week — every time I tried to sit down. And that's not all.

It caused me incredible "mental anguish" wondering if anyone but my two close companions had seen me ungracefully descending the hill; I was also in anguish every time I thought about sitting down, knowing how it would feel. Listening to the others titter over my misery on the eight-hour car trip home is a trauma I'll probably never get over.

I was denied the "social pleasures and enjoyment" of sitting around the campfire with the others — my injury made it comfortable only to stand or kneel.

If it sounds like I'm exaggerating the extent of my injury, well, I am — and I think the sidewalk tripper is, too. It would be foolish for me to sue the state of Kentucky, the forest service, or anybody else because I tripped over a tree root. Accidents do happen, and I consider myself really lucky I didn't fall farther down the hill.

I hope the woman doesn't win her case. Rough sidewalks and tree roots are part of life, as are tripping over them.

It's not the city's fault the woman tripped on the sidewalk; it's not the forest service's fault I tripped on the root. For her or me or anyone else to try to make them pay for our own occasional clumsiness or momentary inattention is, I hope, expecting entirely too much of our legal system.

If she wins, I think I'll file.

Fresh Batteries For Better Shots

The right battery will give you maximum performance, enjoyment and safety from your camera, flash unit or light meter.

Many cameras use the long-life silver oxide battery. Replacement is usually recommended once a year (see your camera manual). Handle the battery as little as possible and wipe it dry before placing it in the camera. Used batteries should be disposed of with caution; they might be ingested by a child or explode in the incinerator. When the camera won't be used for a while, remove all batteries to avoid corrosion.

Most electronic flash units will accept anything from the low-cost carbon type to the more expensive alkaline batteries. Some use rechargeable batteries such as nickel-cadmium. Follow manufacturer recommendations for the flash you own. Carbon batteries are not recommended except for a few flash shots. Alkaline offers the best all-around performance. If use is infrequent, store the batteries separately in a cool dry place. The nickel-cadmium rechargeable is a great idea but rechargeables lose their capacity if used infrequently.

For a full selection of photographic batteries, come see us at f-stop, 43220 Grand River, Novi, 348-9355.

Area residents can sign up for South Lyon 'Hat' run

Jogging enthusiasts and those who run just for fun will meet at the starting line next month for the second annual Witch's Hat Run, slated for September 11.

This year's runs are a co-operative effort between the Kiwanis Club of South Lyon and the South Lyon High School Athletic Boosters Club.

Runners may choose from one of two courses certified by the Athletic Congress. Those with more endurance may opt for the 10-kilometer (10K) course, a little over six miles, while others may choose the five-kilometer (5K) route, just over three miles.

The five-kilometer run will start at 8:30 a.m. September 11 on Nine Mile near Centennial Middle School. The longer run will begin an hour later on Nine Mile across from the high school track.

Both courses will head runners west on Nine Mile, turning north at Dixboro to Ten Mile. There, the longer distance runners will again head west, following a route through Daleview, Sumac Lane and Ponderosa, bringing them back to Ten Mile where runners will travel east. The four-mile mark will be reached shortly before Woodland, where the course again jogs north, taking the 10K participants to Chester and south onto Hagadorn. Runners will be directed eastward on Ten Mile to Pontiac Trail, where they will turn south proceeding to the finish line on the South Lyon High School Track.

The short course will route runners east on Ten Mile from Dixboro. They will then proceed to Pontiac Trail, turning south to head back to Nine Mile Road and the finish line. Kiwanis Club member and race co-ordinator Joel Allen said the Oakland County Sheriff's Department has agreed to assist with traffic management on the race course this year.

Racers are divided into eight age divisions for both males and females. Runners under 14 years of age will compete in one grouping, while those between 14 and 19 comprise another division. Other divisions have been established for runners between the ages of 20-29, 30-39, 40-49, 50-59, 60-69, 70 and over.

Winners in each division will receive handcrafted pottery awards, bearing the Witch's Hat Run logo, Allen said, adding that as many as six awards may be given out in some age categories. The logo was designed by South Lyon resident Carroll D. Tietz. The awards are being made under the supervision of South Lyon Elementary School principal and avid runner Walter Herrala.

The awards ceremony will follow the Kiwanis Club's famous pancake breakfast September 11. Runners and spectators may feast on pancakes, sausage, juice, coffee or milk at low prices. Adults will pay $2 for the breakfast, while children under 13 will be charged $1. Those wishing to take advantage of the low breakfast cost must preregister for the breakfast. Those attending the breakfast without preregistration will be charged an additional $1, Allen said. Breakfast tickets may be picked up the day of the run, beginning at 7:30 a.m. Breakfast will be served beginning at 8 a.m. the day of the run.

After breakfast, the awards ceremony and a prize drawing are scheduled. The racing number of participating runners will be placed in a hopper and winning numbers will be drawn. Allen said the Mizuno running shoe company is helping offset expenses by contributing the numbers and providing a gym bag and running shoes as prizes. Dennis Marbury from Run 'N Stuff is also helping by donating other prize items. Runners must be present to win, Allen said.

The awards ceremony and drawing will take place in the high school cafeteria.

The co-sponsors are receiving a lot of help from local organizations, Allen said. The South Lyon Amateur Radio Club will be on hand to help facilitate communications. The South Lyon Ambulance Division will have a vehicle at the ready, should any emergency arise. A doctor will be on hand from Providence should such services be necessary.

"It seems that a lot of local people are interested in the race this year," Allen said. "I look for a lot more local involvement. Last year we had 422 entries in the race and I'm hoping we'll do as well or better this year."

"With the course going through the center of town, we are encouraging spectators. I hope the people turn out this year to support the runners and cheer them on."

Allen said a guest runner will attend this year's race—Debby Froehlich, a 22-year-old Midland resident and Michigan State University student. Froehlich was the first female finisher in the Detroit Free Press Marathon last year. She will tackle the 10K course.

Allen said the athletic boosters will be in charge of the race itself and credits Jim Tomneck from the organization with much of the preparatory work. Dick Benson from the Kiwanis Club will supervise the cooking, a feat which Allen said Benson is imminently qualified to do.

The South Lyon community will benefit from all funds raised by the Witch's Hat Run, Allen said. One-quarter of the proceeds will be used for the restoration of the historic Witch's Hat Depot Museum. The high school athletic booster's club will receive another 25 percent of the proceeds. The remaining 50 percent will be entrusted to the Kiwanis Club, which reallocates the funds to community-wide projects throughout the course of the year.

Applications for the race are available at South Lyon City Hall, Run 'N Stuff and The Herald office. Participants handing in their entry fee and application before September 1 will be given a Witch's Hat Run T-shirt, bearing the race logo. There is a $6 entry fee which is non-refundable.

Holding the record times for the 10K race are Dave Hinz, 31:15, and Kris Zdanowski, 40:05.

Vintage Wine Shop owner stays up on customers' preferences in wines

By KATHY LAVEY

When he was five years old, Morey Gergis was washing wine bottles in the back of his father's store in Baghdad.

Today, he looks forward to the time when his son, now almost five, can take over his store, the Vintage Wine Shoppe in Novi.

Gergis and his wife, Renee, also a Baghdad native, have run the Vintage Wine Shoppe for almost five years, but their experience — and contacts — in the wine business go far beyond that.

"I know everything that goes on in this business," Gergis says. "At this shop, there is nothing that is out of my hands."

Most of the Gergis' relatives are involved somehow or other in the wine or liquor retail business. Brother Pete runs a Vintage Wine Shoppe in a suburb of San Francisco, where he maps new trends at the nearby vineyards and keeps the rest of the family apprised of new developments in the wine industry. That inside track, Gergis says, helps him to decide what kinds of new wines to stock for his Novi customers.

Gergis is happy to help customers select the appropriate wines for special occasions. "My business is like a hobby," he said. "Tell me what you're having, I can help you decide what you need. I'm not going to recommend a $20 bottle of wine when a five or seven dollar bottle will do. I recommend only the best to the customer ... a quality product that they can afford is the best advertising."

Recommending, Gergis says, is one of his favorite jobs because it helps him get to know his customers. He and Renee know all their regular and high-volume patrons by name.

My customers — I get to know their business, get invited to their houses. My top priority is my customers. I make all kinds of effort to keep them happy."

Efforts Gergis makes to keep customers happy include giving discounts on quantity purchases, keeping chilled wine and "the coldest beer in town," selling food and convenience items and cigarettes, and having as big a stock as possible of wine, beer and liquor.

Gergis says the Vintage Wine Shoppe carries 35 kinds of foreign beers, including Mexican and Chinese beers, and more than 150 different liquors. That's in addition to his stock of wine, which includes almost every variety ranging in price from $2 to $100 or more per bottle.

"People depend on us to have things other stores don't have," Gergis explained, "so I try to keep a little of everything."

"If I don't have something I will special order it, and if it is available in the State of Michigan I will get it," he promises.

Usually, he says, the only special requests that he is unable to fill come from people who try to get a wine, liquor or beer in Michigan that cannot be sold here due to liquor control commission regulations.

Gergis used to run a similar store in Detroit, but was looking to relocate when another brother sold him the Novi store, which was not doing very well at the time.

"We (Gergis and Renee) doubled business in the first three months," he said.

Renee agrees. "A couple of years ago he was thinking of selling out the store," she said. "I told him 'no, how can you think of doing that?' I like it here too much."

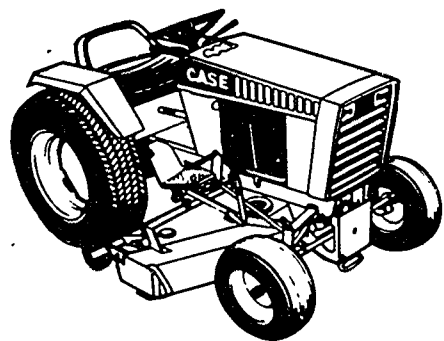

Morey Gergis must have listened to his wife — he recently renewed his lease on the building for many more years.

"I feel like I'm dealing with my own people here," says Gergis. "As long as we can make a few pennies and keep the doors open, we'll do it."

York, 41, formerly was district manager for Suburban Mobile Homes. Prior to that she handled sales for Novi Optics.

Also appointed to a sales representative position was Karen Lund, 29, of Southfield. Lund previously was self-employed in sales and has been a dental assistant.

BARBARA DRAPER MARTIN, senior vice president and group head for the Bank of the Commonwealth, was elected to the board of directors of Citizen's Insurance Company of America in Howell at the company's annual meeting.

Martin, who resides in Milford with her husband George and two children, holds a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration from Michigan State and a Master's degree in business administration from the University of Michigan.

She began her professional career in 1970 at New England Merchant's National Bank in Boston. She joined Bank of the Commonwealth in 1973 and held a variety of positions prior to her promotion to senior vice president. THE POPULAR "FOXY LADY" Dancers from the Fox School of Dance in Novi performed a selection of authentic Hawaiian dances recently at a luau held by residents of the Providence Towers in Southfield.

The girls from Fox Studio of Dance in Novi will perform again at the studio's annual open house on August 29.

HELENA M. WOODWARD, D.V.M., well-known in local horse circles, has announced the opening of her veterinary practice specializing in horses.

Dr. Woodward, a recent graduate of Michigan State University College of Veterinary Medicine, said she is opening her practice in this area because of the need "of a veterinarian that understands not only the health of horses, but also the training and management of horses."

Dr. Woodward said her attendance in earning her Master of Horsemanship at Meredith Manor in West Virginia was of great value during her education at Michigan State University. Professional training and experience in the training and management of horses is a great advantage in the entire herd health program of horses, she said.

Dr. Woodward, a graduate of Bloomfield Hills Andover High School, said the Bloomfield Hills School District is fortunate in having the school farm to help students become acquainted with the care of horses and become aware of careers available in veterinary medicine and related fields.

Dr. Woodward was one of the first eight students to help develop the school farm when it began. She is opening her practice in the Oakland County area and will be based in Orchard Lake.

LINDA RUST of Lynn's Apparel at 20 Barker Road in Whitmore Lake is "counting stitches" these days as an eight-foot pair of Wrangler Jeans took up residence in her store last week.

The person submitting the closest guess on how many stitches it took to put the Jeans together will win a free pair of Jeans in the size of her choice. Second place guess will receive a $10 certificate on any pair of Jeans in Lynn's.

The contest, sponsored by Wrangler, continues through August 21. Shoppers are invited to stop in and submit an estimate of stitches on the displayed eight-foot Wranglers. No purchase is necessary.

Lynn's has been open in Whitmore Lake for seven years and specializes in personalized service such as free alterations. Rust carries misses and junior sportswears and accessories.

COMMUNITY NATIONAL BANK'S second quarter and mid-year net income results were dramatically improved over last year's performance, according to Warren Eierman, chairman of the board and president.

Net income for the second quarter ending June 30 was $603,000 and net income for the first six months of 1982 totaled $735,000 — a significant turnaround from the income figure generated during the first half of 1981.

Eierman said other performance categories also showed signs of continued growth. Total deposits reached $424 million, a 3.4 percent increase over the second quarter of a year ago. Total assets, when compared against 1981 totals, increased $23 million and finished the quarter at $502 million. Shareholders' equity stood at $26.7 million, a 2.8 percent increase over the preceding year resulting in a book value of $26.70 per share.

Eierman said he was encouraged by the results, but certain long-standing conditions continue to play a major role in adding constant pressure on the interest rate margin. He said the continuing high cost of funds, coupled with diminished loan demand, requires the bank to continue to seek alternative methods of producing positive results.

Results for the remainder of 1982 are difficult to predict, Eierman said. Optimistically, the July 1 tax cut may serve as the catalyst needed to establish the foundation for an economic recovery. "The sound condition of the bank, along with its highly liquid position, provides an enviable opportunity for future earnings improvement," he said.

Danielle LaFond earns honors as 'Carrier of Month' for July Something unusual happened to Danielle LaFond recently — she got a complaint about a late paper. But complaints come few and far between for Danielle. She's had very few in the three years she's been delivering The Novi-Walled Lake News to residents of the Chateau Estates Mobile Home Park ... and has been named Carrier of the Month for her conscientious and dedicated performance.

Danielle, 16, lives with her mother Barbara and sister Lynette in Chateau Estates. In September she will enter her junior year at Walled Lake Western High School, where she carries a 3.3 grade point average and is on the honor roll.

She has received an engraved plaque and a check for $25 from Sliger-Livingston Publications for being named "Carrier of the Month."

"The complaint about the late paper really bothered her," said Mrs. LaFond. "I think it was the first complaint she's ever received in the three years she's had a paper route. She felt so badly about it that she went right over to the lady's house and apologized."

"That's just the way Danielle is," her mother added. "She's extremely conscientious and extremely responsible. I'm very, very proud of her."

Danielle had her own route in Chateau Estates for 1½ years before taking over her sister's route as well. She now handles two routes every Wednesday, delivering approximately 120 papers per week.

In addition to being a conscientious carrier, Danielle also thrives on carrier contests. In one recent contest she signed up 75 new subscribers. Although eligible to take a trip to Toronto as a prize, she opted instead for a television set and several other prizes.

"I can't tell you how many prizes Danielle has won through subscription contests," admitted Mrs. LaFond. "After she won the television set, she went out and won an Atari game for it and I don't know how many other things."

"She really lives for those contests. I'll bet everybody in Chateau Estates has received at least one visit from Danielle whenever there's a contest going on."

Danielle apparently likes to keep busy. In addition to holding down two paper routes, she has a regular babysitting job, is taking driver's education and is working part time as a custodian for the Walled Lake Schools this summer.

Danielle LaFond has more than 120 customers

Local athletes shed insight on themselves

EDITOR'S NOTE: In a series of articles, sports reporter John Myers has been examining the changes, attitudes and participation in sports of today's high school athlete. In this third segment, the players share their views on the subject.

Who better to talk about today's high school athlete than the athletes themselves.

Undoubtedly, they best are able to give insight into the attitudes, changes and participation in sports of today's athlete.

The players agree there are many factors which affect an athlete's decision of sports in which he or she will participate.

The factors range from the coach of the team, to the record, to summer and junior high programs and to parents.

Some players agree a coach of a team can make a difference in whether an athlete will come for a sport.

Former Northville tennis and softball standout Sheri Robins notes a coach makes a difference, especially in softball. "Not so much tennis, but more so for softball. Does the coach play everybody in their best position? — and how does she treat the players?"

"I think so because of their attitude and relationship with the players," Walled Lake Western senior Kathy Artley adds. "Also, by the way they coach."

"Definitely," notes former Novi football star Chris Caudell. "In terms of my training program, how much will the coach do for me and how knowledgeable are they about the sport. If a coach gets into it and goes looking for players, most people will feel good about it."

However, some of the other players believe the coach has no bearing at all on an athlete's decision to come for a sport.

"I like to have total confidence in my coaches," former Walled Lake Central basketball standout Amy Rembicz says. "I always believe they know more than me about a sport."

"I usually try not to be against a coach, but rather work with a coach. It makes things a lot easier," Novi senior Eric Deline says.

The players are fairly well split as to whether the record of a team makes a difference in an athlete's decision.

"It does a little," says Deline, who plays football, basketball and baseball. "I'll do the best I can to improve it (record), but I want to play sports, and I'm not going to stop because of the record."

"That doesn't matter," says former Northville standout Melinda House. "You're there to play, and you always try to put forth your best effort."

Summer and junior high programs, though, can help make an early difference in an athlete's decision to participate in sports, according to the players.

the changing athlete

"It helps a lot if they have a good coach and a good program," Robins notes. "We didn't have softball, and I had to play softball with the boys in junior high. (A junior high program) would have helped a lot. A lot of people would be better prepared for softball."

"I think it's a good idea," adds Deline. "It helps you get a feel for the game. But, just teach them the fundamentals. It doesn't have to get into the finer threads of the game."

Despite all of these factors, the players know the parents can have a major influence on their offspring's decision to participate in sports, as well as affect their attitudes.

"Some parents want the glory for themselves," former Northville standout Tim McLaughlin says. "My parents never forced or hinted to me to play sports, but there are those that do."

Parent pressure can become so great, he adds, that a player will continue to play a sport in which he may not be particularly good only because he doesn't want to let down his parents.

Also, players might become rebellious and quit sports if parents continue to push their child, Robins says.

Therefore, most players believe parents should be supportive of their children in sports, rather than being "pushy."

House, who played basketball, volleyball and soccer, used her parents as an example. "My parents helped me a lot. They came to all of my games all three years. Even when we lost, they still were giving me a pat on the back."

So then, just what do the athletes think the attitudes are like today. While coaches and athletic directors say there are good, positive attitudes, some of the athletes believe there are negative attitudes mixed in with the good.

McLaughlin feels there were not enough positive attitudes to offset the negative.

"I wished everyone had an excellent attitude because that would have made things a lot better," he explains of the football team.

"I'm not cutting down the team or anything, but I wish they could have been more serious," adds McLaughlin, who also cites the school and what sport an athlete plays as having an affect on his/her attitude.

"It's very negative," says House. "We really don't get players out for the sports or to cheer at the games. None of the student body comes out. There is no school spirit...none at all...not even at the pep assemblies."

While negative attitudes seem to override the positive at Northville, Novi athletes see almost a balance between the two.

"There is a real good attitude, but it's not as good in the lower classes," says Deline.

"Some are great and some are terrible," Shankel says. Of the negative attitudes, most players seemed to be rebellious, she adds.

"The coach would say 'Why don't you try it this way' and the player would say 'Why should I?'," explains Shankel.

Unlike Novi and Northville, the attitudes are positive over in Walled Lake.

"I think we had positive attitudes," Rembicz says.

"We have the attitude — I think it's just great," Artley says.

"It's getting better. We're getting more people interested (in basketball)," Walled Lake Western senior Fran Cullen says.

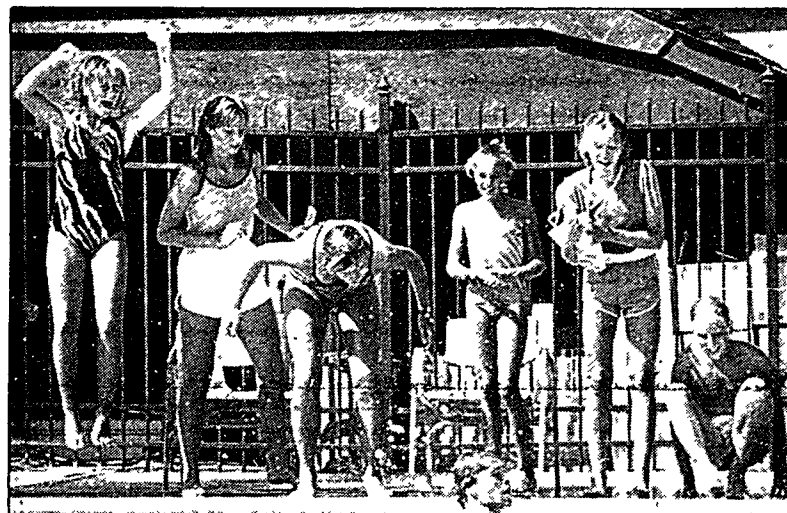

Despite whether there are positive or negative attitudes, the players all confirmed they have fun participating in the sports in which they play.

Not only that, they also realize what sports can do for them in terms of a college education. A lot of the athletes hope to obtain an athletic scholarship to help get them a college education while playing sports.

"Without high school sports, a lot of kids wouldn't be able to have the chance to go to a big name (university). It opens a lot of doors for many teenagers. I think that's great," Rembicz says.

Kings Mill rebounds for swim meet win

Despite falling behind early, the Kings Mill Swim Club roared back to take its second consecutive triumph over the Highland Lakes Swim Club in the second annual summer meet between the two teams at Kings Mill Saturday.

The 35-member Kings Mill team came out on top 93-52 over Highland Lakes. Kings Mill is under the guidance of pool staff personnel Tony Nader (coach), Gary Beason (pool manager), Seth Swallow (lifeguard) and Russ Gans (lifeguard).

Two special events were added to the competition this year. There was a staff race and a two year old and under category. Highland Lakes won the staff event, while 22-month old Michael Ginger won the latter event by jumping off the diving board and swimming to the side of the pool.

Here are the meet results:

11 YEAR OLD & UNDER

Angela Garzia won the 25 freestyle (16.9), while Highland Lakes teammate Larry Osiecki was second. Gretchen Cryderman was third for Kings Mill. Also, Scott Weiger won the same event (15.7) for Kings Mill, while teammate Sarah Winquist was third. Highland Lakes' Mike Reitenga was second.

Kings Mill swept the 25 breaststroke. Chuckie Taylor was first (21.2), while Steve Weiger was second and Clare Cryderman was third.

Kings Mill took first and third in the 25 backstroke. Pat Balai was first (19.2), while Jimmy Craig was third. Theresa Michels was second for Highland Lakes.

Kings Mill swept the 25 butterfly with Josh Winquist first (20.8), Balai second and Taylor third. Osiecki won the 50 freestyle (43.5) for Highland Lakes, but Kings Mill's Matt Leggat and John Irwin took second and third, respectively.

The Kings Mill 100 freestyle relay team of Winquist, Taylor, Weiger and Balai took first (1:09.9). Teammates Joe Sperandio, Sara Winquist, Clare Cryderman and Gretchen Cryderman took third. The Highland Lakes team of Dan Conway, Mike Reitenga, Carzia and Kenny Schultz took second.

Local USS program idea approved

By JOHN MYERS

There is a new swim team in Northville — the Northville Aquatic Club. The Aquatic Club is part of the United States Swimming program, and Northville girls' swimming coach Bill Dicks received permission from the Board of Education August 9 to get the project rolling.

"Northville swimmers are some of the better swimmers in the area, but they are on four or five other (club) teams. This way, they will be able to swim together to represent Northville," Dicks explained. "The kids have been asking for it."

The program is available to boys and girls ages eight and under through 18 years old and over. Dicks, who has been working on this project for two years, said interested swimmers can sign up beginning September 1 at the high school pool.

The cost is $10 for swimmers 10 and under and $20 for 11 years old and up. However, a family only can be charged a maximum of $50.

One of the biggest reasons to get the program started, according to Dicks, was to get the Northville swimmers together instead of being scattered around at different clubs.

"One of the advantages for the swimmer will be to work under one coach," said Dicks, who along with NHS boys' swim coach Pete Talbot and one other coach will run the club. The coaches will be working free of charge, Dicks said.

"They will have the ability to swim and train year round," he added. "They will be able to continue to work to make themselves better."

"The (high) schools who have dominated their leagues also have a corresponding USS program coached by the same coach," Dicks related.

Another advantage of the program, Dicks noted, will be its ability to benefit the high school program with equipment purchases.

In a letter to the board proposing the program, Dicks said any equipment purchases would be considered improvements to the pool facility and be available to the high school programs.

In exchange, Dicks was asking for free pool time, to which the board agreed.

However, one concern of the board was enough down time to clean the pool. A schedule is being worked out by Dicks to accomplish this goal, while allowing enough time for the various teams and recreation program to use the pool.

As for the program itself, it will give the swimmers an opportunity to compete in local, state, inter-state and international age group meets, Dicks said.

The short-course season, which is conducted in 25-yard pools, runs from September until March. The long-course season is conducted in a 50-meter pool from March until August.

Enjoyment is the main objective for the 10 and under swimmers, he said. "To learn through playing games, and have a good time," Dicks added. "No way do we want the kid to get burned out. We want it so they look forward to practice because they think it will be fun."

The objective is slightly different for the 11 and older group. It is based on skill-level improvement and setting goals to reach by the swimmer. "I think there are some Northville kids who have the potential to qualify for the junior and senior national meets," Dicks said.

Workout schedules for the 10 and under group will be two to three days a week depending on the skill level and the number of participants, while the 11 and up group will practice five times a week depending on skill level and number of participants.

"The swimmer is not obligated to more than one month," Dicks said. "But, the more consistently the kid sticks to the program, the greater chance at greater improvement."

"We're going to try to make it as individualized as possible," he added. "Everything that is done is for the kids."

Also, this program differs from the Northville Swim Club program, conducted in the summer. "The Northville Swim Club is a private club in which people pay a membership fee. It provides a relaxing atmosphere, and there is a playground area for the kids. One of its sub-functions is to have a competitive swim team," explained Dicks, who also coaches this squad.

"The USS program is strictly for the kids," he added.

As it stands now, Dicks said the USS club will be run by the coaches. Once the wrinkles are smoothed out, he said he would like to get some kind of a parent organization to help with certain club matters.

Aberdeen's slows Sheehan's drive to title

Despite losing only its third game all season, Sheehan's on the Green still controls its own destiny in the American League race in Northville adult softball action.

Sheehan's was upset by Aberdeen's 11-0 which prevented the front-running club to claim the American League title. The magic number still is one victory for Sheehan's to be named American champs.

There also were some major changes in the standings below Sheehan's. Long Mechanical jumped into second place, while Winner's Circle Bar fell into a tie for third with J & S Steel.

Over in the National League, Urban's Partition finally came up with a winning formula to hand the Northville Jaycees their first loss of the season after 15 straight wins.

Currently, O'Sheehan's, Thermal Sash, Sheehan's Little Caesars, the Eagles and Urban's all are in a tight battle for second place.

Winner's Circle Bar has opened up a two-game edge over Getzie's Pub in Women's League action.

Here are this week's results:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Aberdeen's limited first-place Sheehan's to one hit in cruising to an 11-0 triumph. Jerry Detter smashed a homerun and triple for three runs-batted-in, while Tom Eis knocked in three runs with two singles for the winners. Pete Wright had the only hit for Sheehan's.

Long Mechanical won a pair of contests to move into second place. Long's first downed Ductile Chrome Process 13-4, then proceeded to defeat the Junkyard Dogs 13-3.

Long's was paced by four hits from Bill Sinclair, while Ductile was led by Carl Ingrad's single and two RBIs. Long's was led by Ron Tini's homer, single and two RBIs against the Junkyard Dogs, while the losers were led by John Wiggard's triple and single.

J & S Steel split a pair of games last week when it downed Baber Roofing 14-9, but dropped a 10-7 decision to Rush. In the victory over Baber, J & S Steel was paced by Ron White's three hits and three RBIs, while Baber was led by Mark Richmond's two hits and four RBIs. In the loss to Rush, the losers were led by Al Cox's three singles, while the winners were paced by Rodney Florika's two homers, double and eight RBIs.

Canterbury Cleaners won a forfeit contest over Winner's Circle Bar.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Urban's Partition became the first team to defeat the Northville Jaycees 11-7.

Baber's Jimmy Watson is tagged out by J&S Steel's John Muir.

The winners were led by Tom Charboneau's two hits and three RBIs. The Jaycees were paced by Carl Lang's homer, single and four RBIs.

The Eagles had little trouble in handling Sheehan's Little Caesars 11-4 as Dan Zywick collected three hits and two RBIs

Arsenal soccer club to battle for North American crown

Three Northville players will try to help their Michigan Arsenal under-16 year old boys' soccer team capture the 1982 UTC North American Youth Soccer Championship in Victoria, British Columbia, Canada this weekend.

Steve Starcevic, Jeff Metz and Scott Gala, along with 11 other players, are part of the first Michigan team competing for the North American title. The team is coached by John Starcevic.

The Arsenal squad is one of eight United States and Canadian, four each, teams to compete for soccer supremacy in North America. The four United States squads will battle each other for one of the finalist slots, while the Canadian clubs will do the same.

The Arsenal team won the right to compete in the three-day single elimination tournament when it won the Midwest Regional Cup in July.

The Columbia Kick from Columbia, Maryland, is the Arsenal's first-round opponent at noon this Friday. The victor will square off against the winner of the Southwest Springboks, of Houston, Texas, and the Upland Astros, of Upland, California, contest at 5 p.m. Saturday.

The championship match is slated for 1 p.m. (4 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time) Sunday.

The Arsenal squad is carrying a 43-4 record into the championship. It has won three consecutive state championships along with capturing 17 major championships in the last three years. One of those championships was the boys' under-14 year old national title in 1980.

This year, the Arsenal squad has won the Smithtown tournament in New York earlier this month and claimed the Hancock Invitational title in Findlay, Ohio.

The Columbia Kick sports a 27-2 record, and it won its second straight Maryland state championship this season. Its only two losses this season have come in the Arlington, Virginia, Thanksgiving Tournament and the Columbia Memorial Day Tournament in which the Kick placed second in both.

The Southwest Springboks sport the best record of the group at 59-6-4. The team won the South Texas State championship for the right to compete in the North American Championship. It also won the Klein Rotary Tournament in Houston.

The Upland Astros sport a 33-3 mark, and won the Far West Regional Tournament in Las Vegas, Nevada, to earn a spot in the North American Tournament.

The Astros won the Vegas West Invitational Challenge Cup, but finished second, with only 10 players, in the Orange Junior Soccer Club Tournament.

There still were eight Canadian teams competing for the final four slots in the North American Tournament.

So far, both the United States and Canada have won three North American championships since its inception in 1976.

Local players win national championship

Both Mickey Newman and Dave Longridge provided some steady hitting and fielding in helping their Westland Wayne-Ford Mickey Mantle baseball team win the National Amateur Baseball Federation Junior World Series for 15 and 16 year olds in Plymouth this weekend.

This was the second consecutive national championship for Newman. Last year he played with the Detroit West Seven squad which won the Sandy Koufax World Series for 13 and 14 year olds. This is Longridge's first time playing for a national championship squad.

Longridge played solid defense at shortstop and contributed consistent hitting, while Newman, who played leftfield, came through with timely hitting with four runs-batted-in in the last two games.

In the championship contest against Baltimore, Maryland, Saturday, Newman tripled, singled, had two RBIs and scored twice. Longridge added a single, an RBI and scored twice.

Westland outslugged Plymouth Canton 10-7 to move into the finals as Newman singled in two runs to bring the squad back from a three-run deficit. Longridge added an RBI.

Both Longridge and Newman doubled and scored once in defeating Baltimore 9-2 in a second-round contest in the double-elimination tournament.

In the team's opening contest, Westland slipped past Bayside, New York, 4-3 as both Longridge and Newman added a hit apiece. Also, Longridge helped the victory with his defense as he started two double plays and handled eight chances without making an error.

Mets eliminated

Errors and walks doomed the Mets against a tough Livonia squad 16-7 which eliminated them from the state regional F-League playoffs.

The Mets made six errors, and the pitchers issued nine walks and 14 hits in losing to Livonia. The losers' hitting attack was paced by two hits each from John Meadows, John Taschner and Rob Cannon.

The Mets won their opening contest over an Ann Arbor team 10-2 behind a one-hitter from Tony Craig, who also struckout 11 batters in seven innings. In addition, he led the team in hitting with four singles.

Rotary Run slated

Runners and joggers should note the only thing different about the Third Annual "Discover Northville" Rotary Run is the date.

Unlike in the past two years, the run will take place Saturday, September 25, beginning at Northville Downs. There will be a 10 and five kilometer race along with a one mile run for runners 12-years-old and younger. The fee is $6, and $9 after September 17.

Trophies will be awarded to the overall male and female winners in the 10 kilometer race with trophies for the top three runners and medals for the fourth and fifth place runners in each division. T-Shirts will be given to all entrants. For more information, call Tomczyk at 348-1505 or 420-2777.

Tryouts scheduled

Tryouts already have begun for the Northville High School girls' tennis and basketball teams. All interested ninth through 12th grade students may come out for either team.

Tennis practice is from 9-11 a.m. each day at the high school tennis courts, coach Uta Filkin said.

Basketball coach Rick Hurst has slated workouts from 8-11 a.m. every day at the high school gymnasium.

NHS, athletic physicals set

Northville High School is conducting health physicals for any 10th grade students and athletes who have not had one from 4:30-6 p.m. Thursday at the high school. The cost is $5. For more information, call 349-3400.

Area preschools ready for new school year

With the start of a new school year only weeks away, Northville parents already are beginning to ready little ones for their journey back to the classroom. For parents of toddlers, one of the most important decisions is choosing a preschool.

To assist parents in deciding which preschool is right for their child, the following is a listing of area schools accepting enrollments for fall.

CREATIVE DAY NURSERY

In its 14th year of operation, Creative

Day Nursery School offers a developmental program with activities geared towards the social, emotional and cognitive needs of preschoolers.

Under the direction of Ellen Wahi, the program operates in Room 206 in Main Street Elementary School in downtown Northville.

The nursery is licensed for 25 children and has a one-to-eight ratio of students to teachers.

According to Wahi, the fall sessions will run from 9:30 a.m. to noon Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Fees are approximately $6 per session; however,

Wahi indicated that a new reduced tuition rate has been established for parents who would like to help out in the program two mornings each month.

Free brochures, tuition rate schedules and registration may be handled through the mail by calling Ellen Wahi at 349-2161. Registrations also will be accepted at the school from 10 a.m. to noon September 9 and 10. Classes are scheduled to begin September 13.

In addition to the morning preschool, Creative Day sponsors a creative drama workshop twice yearly for preschoolers and kindergartners.

The workshop is designed to introduce young children to many aspects of theatre arts including shadow theatre, puppetry, stage presentations using soft sculpture as scenery and costuming.

The first drama session will be held from 10-11:15 a.m. October 19 or afternoon sessions from 1-2:15 p.m.

Director Wahi has extensive experience both teaching preschool and conducting workshops for preschool educators. This past spring she conducted workshops in creative drama at the Michigan Association for the Education of Young Children Conference and the Michigan Council of Cooperative Nurseries annual meeting in Lansing. She is scheduled to speak about creative drama at the National AAEYC Conference in Washington, D.C., in November.

LITTLE RED SCHOOLHOUSE

Founded in 1977 by owner and director Valerie Hambleton, the Little Red Schoolhouse offers a preschool program for children ages three to five.

The program emphasizes social skills, self-help skills, small and large motor skills, eye/hand coordination, visual and auditory discrimination skills, left to right progression and sequential skills.

Enrollment is limited to provide an individualized approach to each child through smaller class sizes. Fully certified teachers instruct all programs.

Enrollments currently are being accepted for the afternoon Monday, Wednesday, Friday program for four year olds and the Tuesday-Thursday afternoon program for three and four year olds.

Hours for the Monday, Wednesday, Friday program are 12:30-3:30 p.m. and hours for the Tuesday-Thursday afternoon program are 12:30-3 p.m.

Tuition is payable in 11 monthly installments August through June. Fees are $40.15 for a two half-day program and $71.50 for the three-day program. There also is a $35 registration fee per student.

A continuation of the Little Red Schoolhouse program is the William Allan Academy for children in kindergarten through sixth grade.

The William Allan Academy offers an academic program with the teaching of the basic "3 Rs", music, art, drama, science, sports and foreign languages.

The entire kindergarten and elementary program is patterned after the European style of teaching. Emphasis also is placed on socially oriented self-discipline and organized work habits.

Tuition for the elementary program is $176 plus a book fee which will be billed according to grade.

Little Red Schoolhouse and William Allan Academy are located at 49975 West Eight Mile. Persons requesting further information should contact Valerie Hambleton at 348-2466.

NEW MORNING SCHOOL

New Morning School is a preschool through eighth grade parent cooperative located at 14501 Haggerty in Plymouth.

Established in 1973, the school offers day care from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. for all grade levels and has daily preschool classes from 9-11:30 a.m.

Each child's program is planned individually by the teacher and students. Basic skills are related to each child's interests.

Parent involvement is important to the school's operation. Parents are involved in working as teacher aides, building maintenance, fundraising, secretarial work and in other roles.

Preschool class sizes are limited to 12 children, and each class has a parent aide in addition to the teacher or teachers.

Open registration is scheduled from 1-7 p.m. August 26 at the school. For further information about the preschool, call 981-2537.

NORTHVILLE COOPERATIVE PRESCHOOL

Northville Cooperative Preschool, which has been in existence for 36 years, offers four programs for children ages 18 months to five years.

Located in new rooms in Main Street Elementary School, the preschool's fall offerings include a toddler class, a three-year-old class, four-year-old class and an enrichment group for "almost kindergartners."

The Toddler Play Group, for children 18-months to 2½, meets from noon to 1:30 Tuesdays and Thursdays. Fees are $15 a month or $135 for the year.

The Tuesday-Thursday Group is for children three years old by December 1 and meets from 9-11:20 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. Fees are $20 per month or $180 for the year.

The Monday-Wednesday-Friday Group is designated for children who are four years old by December 1. Limited to 20 children per classroom, the group meets from 9-11:20 a.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Tuition is $25 per month or $225 per year.

The Enrichment Group is intended for those children who will be five years old by March 1. The group acts to enhance the child's preschool experience without borrowing from the kindergarten curriculum. The class meets from 12:40-3 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and is limited to 12 children. Fees are $35 a month or $315 per year.

The preschool recently hired Lyn Reese to teach its four year old program. A Kent State University graduate, she has taught vocational home economics in Mansfield, Ohio. She recently moved to the area from Kansas City.

Northville Cooperative Preschool will hold a welcoming coffee at 10 a.m. September 1 for parents of children who will be attending classes in the fall. The coffee will be held at the home of Kathi Jerome, this year's executive board president, at 46270 Bloomcrest.

The coffee will provide parents with the opportunity to meet with teachers, board members and other co-op parents. Parents also will receive information about fall classes.

Child-parent interviews are scheduled for the week of September 7. School will begin the week of September 13.

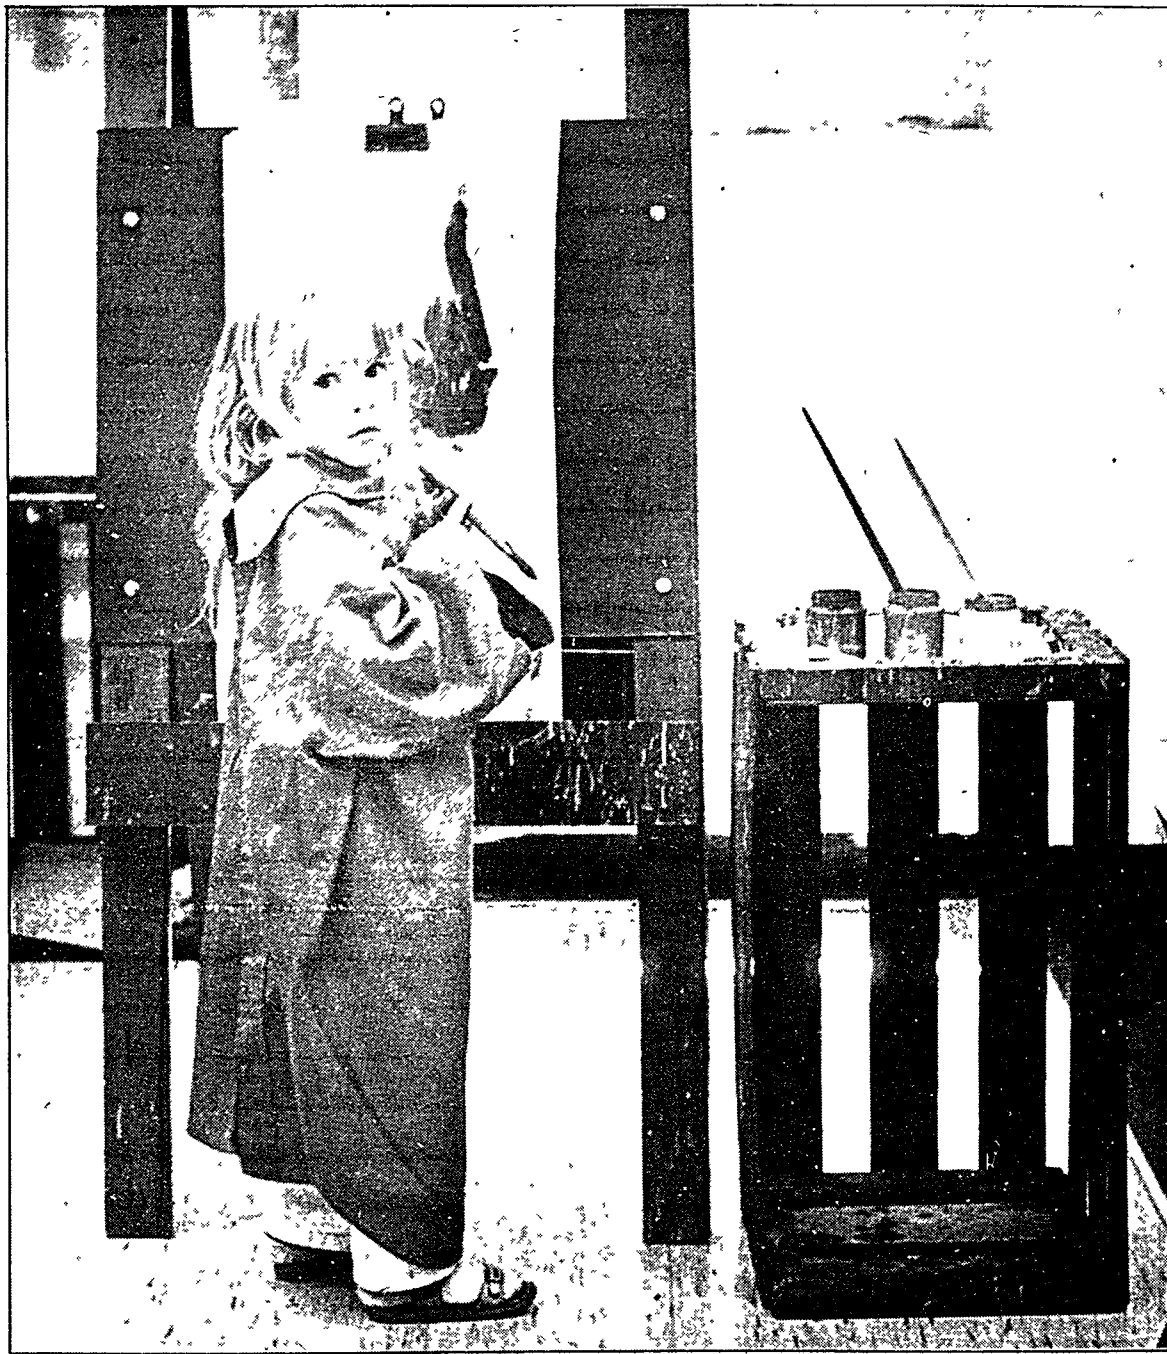

For further information and application forms, contact membership chairperson Brenda Pescia at 349-4982.

Father Wittstock visits former parish from Nevada

By JEANDAY

"He looks great!" That has been the consensus of former parishioners of the Reverend John J. Wittstock who was priest at Our Lady of Victory Church for 18 years. Father Wittstock is returning today to his retirement home in Las Vegas after a two-week visit here with Rita and Bruce Turnbull.

The trip to Michigan was timed for Father Wittstock to attend the 50th wedding anniversary celebration of his brother and sister-in-law in Detroit. He officiated at the marriage mass.

Rita Turnbull reports they have been having "good discussions" and that Father Wittstock has conducted early morning mass at OLV during his visit. Last weekend a niece hosted a family reunion in his honor on Harsons Island, and Father Wittstock also visited Queen of Peace Church in Harper Woods where he came out of retirement to serve as associate pastor after he recovered from surgery for cancer.

Now 73, Father Wittstock has had no problems with the cancer that brought his retirement from OLV, Mrs. Turnbull says. He had retired at mandatory retirement age of 70 to Las Vegas since he had family living in the area and now is "sold" on the Nevada climate.

Last winter the Las Vegas Sun featured his woodworking accomplishments in a two-page article that showed an eight-foot china hutch he had crafted of aromatic cedar which he termed his "proudest accomplishment in wood" as well as his driftwood sculptures. The feature story noted that the priest now spends 12 hours a week in spiritual ministry at St. Joan of Arc Church in downtown Las Vegas.

The priest credits his interest in woodworking to the 20-year period when he served as chaplain at Juvenile Court in Detroit before coming to Northville, recalling that he would observe construction going on at the courthouse and ask questions. "I always tried to pick up ideas; now I enjoy going to new housing developments to get ideas."

Among his ideas has been the conversion of a $10 headboard of a bed that has become an elegant fireplace mantel in the living room of his townhouse.

Clara and Jack Farmer admire town's new look

"They loved it," reports Dottie Cain of the Little People Shoppe, telling how former owner Clara Farmer and her husband Jack admired the renovated downtown when they were in town last week. The Farmers left last Thursday for North Carolina en route to their home in Port Charlotte, Florida. The Farmers told Mrs. Cain they like their retirement choice in Florida very much and do not mind the summer heat at all.

They had been here for two weeks visiting her brother Fred Robinson at the family home on Taft Road. The trip was planned so that they could attend the wedding of Mrs. Farmer's nephew Jerry Irland of Walled Lake.

Parson to Person...

The Big Hold Up

Dr. James H. Luther

An interesting event is recorded in the Bible about a war between Israel and the Amalekites. The tide of the battle tipped from one side to the other. One moment victory seemed certain, than defeat would threaten. Read the outcome of the struggle:

"And it came to pass, when Moses held up his hand, that Israel prevailed: and when he let down his hand, Amalek prevailed. But Moses' hands were heavy; and they took a stone, and put it under him, and he sat thereon; and Aaron the Hur stayed up his hands, the one on the one side, and the other on the other side; and his hands were steady until the going down of the sun. And Joshua discomfited Amalek and his people with the edge of the sword" (Exodus 17: 11-13).

The lesson is clear. Victory for the work of the Lord comes when we hold up one another's hands.

Look around and see someone struggling in the battle. Think of the many times you have been in conflict with temptation, depression, and evil. Give your fellow Christian some encouragement. Then, go to your knees and pray for him or her.

Any pastor can tell when his people are holding up his hands in prayer. Let's not let down. Too much depends on the outcome of the battle.

Thank you for holding up my hands in prayer!

Double-ring ceremony unites couple

Evelyn Karen Beck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Beck of 20643 Lexington Court, became the bride of David John Thorpe in a double ring ceremony July 31 at Northville's First United Methodist Church.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Bonnie J. Fish of Howell.

The Reverend Guenther Branstner officiated at the ceremony which included a candle lighting and a presentation of long-stem yellow roses to the mothers of the bride and bridegroom.

Vocalist Barbara Stewart sang "Sun Rise, Sun Set" and "The Wedding Song."

The bride's gown was enhanced with a Queen Anne neckline and rosepoint lace bodice with re-embroidered lace trim. Ruffled tiers of re-embroidered rosepoint lace trimmed the skirt which extended into a chapel train. She wore a matching walking-length veil of bridal illusion and re-embroidered rosepoint lace.

She carried a cascade bouquet of fresh bridal white roses, glamelias and baby's-breath with ivy.

Lucy Barrett served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the bride's cousin Judy Beck of Ohio and the bridegroom's sister Nicole Thorpe.

The bride's attendants wore off-shoulder lilac organza gowns with double flounces at the necklines and tied at the waists with satin ribbons.

Each carried a crescent bouquet of fresh yellow sweetheart roses, lavender miniature carnations, silk violets and baby's-breath.

Steve Gregory was best man and ushers were the bride's brother Tom Beck and George Gregory.

A wedding trip to Niagara Falls followed a reception for 150 guests at Meadowbrook Country Club.

The bride is a 1979 Northville High School graduate and currently is employed by GMAD Willow Run.

The bridegroom is a 1979 Howell High School graduate and is employed at Redman Roofing Company.

WE SPECIALIZE IN FAMILY HEALTH CARE!

SCOLIOSIS

Toni has scoliosis, its not a disease but a structural fault beginning in the base of the spine. The medical doctors were doing nothing to halt the condition, simply because they know of no technique to use.

They were waiting until the scoliosis reached a certain point at which time major surgery would place a steel rod in her spine.

Toni's doing better, here is her mother's testimonial.

Dr. M

Toni's scoliosis after three months of chiropractic care has not gotten worse. We had watched her spine curve more each month knowing when it reached a certain point surgery would be necessary. We had heard of Dr. Mashike by word of mouth, feeling we had nothing to lose we went and talked to him. He told us chiropractic had helped others and he would take care of Toni for 3 months re-x-raying at that time.

The results were good, the scoliosis had stopped, we were all greatly relieved. Dr. Mashike has shown us the value of chiropractic care, now we are all patients.

Kay Coral

MY FAMILY IS GLAD I'M COMING

My sister recommended chiropractic because she felt ill all the time until she started. I didn't want to take pills for my migraines because I have worked in hospitals and nursing homes and I am fed up with pill pushers.

My migraines were so bad they made everyday miserable even when I didn't have one, just the fear and expectation of one ruined the day.

I went to Dr. Mashike because he gives no pills, he says pills cover symptoms and don't correct what's causing them. Well after the second adjustment I started feeling better. I feel like I'm walking on cloud nine since I have no migraines, I can breathe better and no back pain.

My husband is coming now, I don't want him on pills the rest of his life. And I hope our children start after seeing how well we both are doing. The rest of my family are glad I started because of my better disposition.

Diane May

4 GENERATIONS WITH CHIROPRACTIC CARE

This is our family, we all are happy with our results and we will continue with scheduled good health maintenance.

I started chiropractic care ten years ago. I went for awhile got results and then quit. Several months ago I began with severe headaches, neck pain and always tired. Aspirins no longer worked and made me ill. I knew a medical doctor would just push pills. My condition made me irritable which made life difficult to enjoy.

My results were fantastic all my headaches and tiredness are gone. I can't remember feeling so good with so much energy.

I recommend chiropractic, I now have my wife, son, married daughter, grand-daughter, father and mother-in-law coming in. I brought them all in after attending the Wednesday evening doctors report because I now have a better understanding of chiropractic. It's for all kinds of problems, it will keep us healthy.

Dan Krzysik

TWITCH GONE

I took Vera to Dr. Mashike after repeated visits to medical doctors. The medical doctors could do nothing to help. They didn't even know what was causing the problems.

Vera had neck spasms like a tick. Her neck would twitch so often she became unaware she was doing it.

I told Dr. Mashike Vera's problem started after a fall. After examination he said he could help her.

Well, in a few weeks the problem was better and in about 6 months Dr. Mashike had the vertebra in her neck realigned and the problem is completely gone.

I also became a patient, chiropractic has helped me greatly. I recommend it for your children and yourself.

Mary Petrov

ENTIRE FAMILY HEALTHIER...

We were not sure at first about chiropractic. My mother was going to see Dr. Mashike with some long-standing problems. When she started getting results, we decided to go.

We all had problems of one kind or another. My main problem was low back pain. Carole's was low back pain, sinus, allergies and high blood pressure. Lyn, our oldest, had allergies. Eric had a loss of smell and asthma. Heather, as young as she is, had headaches.

Carole is familiar with medications because she is a registered nurse now working in private practice. She knows of its drawbacks and side effects. None of us like taking drugs, that is why we started with chiropractic care.

Our entire family is better now, and we wanted the chance to tell others. Dr. Mashike has really done wonders with the kids. (Note: Children usually respond very fast to our care.) We definitely think you should give chiropractic a try. You will be surprised at the results.

Paul and Carole Nordbeck

SEE FOR YOURSELF

I was leary of chiropractic at first but I suffered so that I had to do something about it. I had migraine headaches, low back pain and menstrual problems.

Dr. Mashike said he could help by adjusting the vertebrae back into place. He said these were pinching on nerves and that was causing my problems. Within just a short time I was feeling better. Now I even have more energy.

I am very glad that I decided to go to Dr. Mashike because not only did I save money by not going to all those other special doctors but I felt much better sooner without having to go to bed and rest from all the medication the other doctors administered.

Patricia Williams

P.S. It doesn't hurt to try and see for yourself, what have you got to lose.

CONFIDENCE

We have only been coming to Dr. Mashike for a short time. A friend of ours gave us his name. I became a patient first wanting to make sure he was a good doctor before we all started.

I had low back and left hip problems which were much better after a few adjustments. I liked Dr. Mashike and have confidence in him. Now after three weeks I have my family seeing him.

Our daughter Colleen has headaches and sinus, Greg our younger son is in for general health care having no symptoms, Matt our oldest has a slight sinus, hayfever and low back problems for years.

We're all starting to feel better. Dr. Mashike's Wednesday night report has shown us that chiropractic is for good health not just sore backs.

Rose Rogers

WE'RE ALL BETTER

A friend of mine had gotten good results and suggested we see Dr. Mashike. I came in first because of upper back pain radiating into migraine headaches. Dr. Mashike explained what the problem was and started to correct my spine at the pinched nerves. He said pressure in my upper neck was causing the headaches. Well, in just a short time, I was better.

Seeing the value of this for health, I brought my youngest daughter, Stacy in, who has allergies so bad she had to have shots each week. The shots made her listless. But, if she missed her shot, she experienced much discomfort.

I noticed significant improvement after only a short period of time. The amazing part is that after 6 weeks, Stacy's condition cleared up and she no longer has to have any shots.

With these results, I started the other children. Bryan had frequent runny noses and congestion and Robyn had a history of kidney infections.

The results are amazing. All of use are better, in the 9 months we have been coming to Dr. Mashike we have not been sick.
