Horsin' around

There's something about the sun shining on your face and the cool wind whipping through your hair that stirs the adventurous spirit. For Northville residents Christine Zayti, 12, at left, and Jennifer Bates, 13, last weekend's mild temperatures proved perfect for horseback riding at Maybury State Park. For more Record photos by Steve Fecht, see Page 5-A.

Public hearing Thursday

Park Gardens project to get final okay

The long-awaited response to waste disposal problems in the Park Gardens subdivision could be at hand. A residents' movement begun more than a year ago to solve problems in the area will likely gain results this week.

Board of trustees action this Thursday night could lock in place a sewer construction program to alleviate the septic failure difficulties that in recent years have reached such magnitude that they pose a threat to human health, according to a county consulting engineer.

Establishment of a special assessment district to finance residents' share of the $1.2 million sewer project is slated for public hearing at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, with a special session of the board to follow. Slightly more than $400,000 in federal block grant monies have been allocated to the project.

Plans and cost estimates for the project serving Parklane, Fry, Maxwell and Marilyn just north of Five Mile have been on file in township hall for more than week. As expected, the plan laid down by township consulting engineer Edward McNeely calls for a force main sewer near Five Mile road to pump sewage flows uphill to a lift station at Northville Forest apartments, where Park Gardens sewage would join the rest of the township system being routed to a Rouge Valley interceptor line paralleling Hines Drive.

Township officers said Monday they expect objections to the project to be lodged by residents of surrounding property not included in the district. Verbal protests have been made at township hall, they said, from those wishing to obtain sewer service but not included in the district.

District boundaries were defined in a petition circulated by homeowners last spring and turned in to the township in April. The township board has the legal authority to expand the district if conditions merit.

Clerk Susan Heintz said she expects five owners of parcels bordering or near Park Gardens to request inclusion in the special assessment district.

Under the terms of an SAD, property owners are assessed for a share of the cost of the public improvement. Thursday's third public hearing on the matter has been called the "point of no return" in the SAD process by Supervisor John MacDonald.

The board vote tomorrow will likely establish the district and approve the plans. McNeely would be instructed to prepare a method of splitting the cost among the property owners and to get ready to solicit bids on the project. Any move to expand the project would likely require some alteration or additions to plans as well.

Costs may be split among property owners by several methods. The township has most frequently divided the method — charging 50 percent of the cost against "benefits" (which breaks down to a charge per buildable lot) and the other 50 percent on a per frontage foot basis.

Either technique could be used for 100 percent of the SAD or the board may opt to split the methods.

Soil and groundwater conditions in the area have led to regular failures of septic systems, sending human pollution into drainage ditches and above ground. Plans to address the problem, known for decades, were stalled by the expense of routing sewage flows uphill to the west.

Attempts to gain the cooperation of Plymouth Township or Livonia failed and by the mid-70s the township began allocating its federal block grant money to the project.

McNeely's estimate includes the $126,800 already spent to renovate a lift station at Northville Forest apartments to carry the anticipated increase in flows, $128,000 for an added lift station in the southeast corner of the region served, $124,000 for the force main line near Five Mile and $820,000 for the installation of lateral lines in the four streets.

Unlike earlier plans, McNeely's call for the gravity line from the northern end of Marilyn to run to the southeast along the Sly Drain and meet a similar line in Maxwell.

Homes and businesses at the south end of Marilyn would be served a north-bound line in that street. The routing avoids duplication of sewer lines in Marilyn, and therefore cuts costs.

City, township to explore shared ambulance service

Indicating that it does not intend to exercise its option to renew its service agreement with Novi Ambulance Service for an additional five years, Northville City Council also is contacting Northville Township Board of Trustees about the possibility of seeking ambulance service proposals on a joint basis.

In a letter dated September 16, City Manager Steven Walters wrote the township suggesting drawing up proposal specifications and advertising together for a service to both local governments.

He asked township business manager David Lelko to see if the township trustees would be interested in pursuing a revised service agreement on such a joint basis and requested an indication of the board's position.

The council previously had discussed going out for bids on the ambulance service at the end of the present three-year contract, which runs through February 18, 1983.

At the time, it was noted that the city has been successful in cutting costs through recent competitive bidding for trash collection and insurance.

Walters also has discussed with Lelko and township officials the city's intention of looking at other ambulance company services at the end of the contract.

City records show the present ambulance service agreement was approved February 18, 1980, for three years with option to renew for an additional five years.

This option, Walters said in his letter, must be exercised by all parties at least 90 days prior to the expiration of the original agreement, which would be by November 20, 1982, and not more than 120 days prior to the expiration, which would be after October 21, 1982.

The other parties involved, he said, must exercise their respective options within 30 days from receipt of the notice to exercise the option by the first party, according to the agreement.

"The Northville City Council feels that it would be in the best interest of the city taxpayers to open the ambulance service to the market for consideration of new proposals, from Novi Ambulance Service as well as other services, if interested."

Walters added that the council has indicated it would be in favor of seeking the ambulance service proposals on a joint basis with the township by drawing up specifications and advertising together for a single service to both local governments.

The township board has not yet received the city proposal, but discussions during the past year have often been critical of the ambulance service and its charges.

A resident complaining that he believed he was overcharged for ambulance service was told at the last board meeting by Supervisor John MacDonald "it's no secret" the board is interested "in looking at alternatives to Novi Ambulance."

School audit examined

Northville Board of Education received kudos from its auditors Monday night for "watching its budget so closely" during the 1981-82 school year.

The district's auditors, Plante and Moran, told board members that its "extremely close monitoring of the budget" left a less than one percent variance in the school's year end financial statements.

Of the $10.7 million 1981-82 school year budget, an $80,000 variance existed in expenditures over revenues.

Auditors also credited acting business director John Street for his improvements of the district's accounting procedures and controls during the past year.

Incorporated into the district's financial statement for the year ended June 30, is an estimated $550,000 of reimbursements for Institution Special Education Program expenditures.

Though the ISEP reimbursements still are subject to final acceptance by the State of Michigan, the district's auditors and school administrators feel confident that the monies will come through.

Last year, Plante and Moran had given the district a qualified opinion on the school's year end financial statements due to the pending settlement of a state audit of the district's ISEP expenditures for the 1978-79 school year.

Northville Public Schools have been battling with the Michigan Department of Education for almost two years over the state's audit findings of the district's 1978-79 ISEP expenditures.

Northville administrators and officials of the Michigan Department of Education have met in countless meetings since the audit first was conducted in July, 1980, to try and resolve the disputed expenditures.

The $550,000 reimbursement expected from the state represents the outcome of the that settlement.

Of last year's approximate $10.7 million K-12 budget, an estimated 98 percent of revenues came from local sources with less than one percent funded by the state and slightly less than two percent by other sources.

Approximately $9.8 million of local tax dollars went into last year's school budget. State funding for the K-12 budget totaled approximately $650,000.

An estimated $5.5 million in expenditures went towards instruction with $4.5 million spent in support services. Capitol outlay expenditures totaled $86,000.

Expenditures per pupil for the 1981-82 school year were $2,850 with revenues per pupil totaling $2,879.

Pipe sales smokin' for area tobacconist

By KEVIN WILSON

If you think you're seeing more pipe smokers around town, you're probably right — and the local tobacconist is expecting a continued rise in the use of pipes as cigarette costs increase.

"it makes a man look handsome." Still, Zuyus said she believes many potential pipe smokers are lost to beginners' mistakes that detract from the pleasures available.

"They (beginners) buy an inexpensive, dimstore pipe, which will usually burn hot," she explained. "And use drug store tobacco, which is often stale by the time they get it."

Pipe and tobacco sales jumped as much as 20 percent recently when Michigan increased cigarette taxes, and with a doubling of the federal tax on the horizon, the outlook is for further growth, according to Jan Zuyus of Trader Tom's Tobacco Shop on Seven Mile Road.

As Northville's only tobacco shop, Trader Tom's is likely the source of a great many of the pipes seen around town, and Zuyus said she is engaged in what amounts to a "crusade to get cigarette smokers to switch to pipes."

Among the advantages of pipes over cigarettes, she notes, is that pipe tobacco contains fewer chemical additives than cigarettes; most notably, cigarettes contain salt peter which pipe tobaccos do not, she said.

The tobaccos sold at Trader Tom's, she said, use natural casings (additives for flavor or the retention of moisture). The majority of pipe tobaccos also contain less nicotine than cigarettes.

Pipe smokers don't inhale the smoke, tasting rather than breathing the smoke, and some studies show health advantages to making the switch from cigarettes to pipes. Most medical authorities try to discourage all forms of smoking, citing a risk of mouth problems despite lessened lung diseases, but those same authorities usually admit that pipes are less harmful than cigarettes.

Other enticements to switch, according to Zuyus, are that smoking a pipe is:

- "More relaxing, you have a whole series of hand movements, you have to be totally relaxed to smoke a pipe . . . whereas with a cigarette it's all very fast. If you're not relaxed when you start a pipe, you usually are by the time you light it and relight it;"
- Less expensive than cigarettes over the long term (though the initial investment can be high);
- More socially acceptable as the smoke smells better because of the lack of chemicals, and besides, she added,

Those making the switch should buy a briar pipe "at least in the $10 range," she said.

"A lot of people don't give themselves enough time to get used to smoking a pipe," Zuyus added. "They've got a whole new set of hand motions to learn. It usually takes about 30 days to get used to the motions and really feel comfortable."

"Then they don't try enough types of tobacco," she continued. "There are so many available, and it's really a matter of individual taste, they are so very different."

It also takes a while for the new pipe owner to learn to load the bowl properly — too loose and the pipe burns too hot, too tight and it keeps going out. Ideally, the tobacco should be most loosely tamped near the bottom of the bowl and tighter at the top. This is especially so in the case of new pipes.

Which brings up another obstacle Zuyus noted: new pipes must be broken in, allowing a layer of carbon to build up in the bowl before the full benefits are extracted.

"That's no fun for the new pipe smoker," Zuyus said. "It's no fun for anyone. Mark Twain used to pay people money to break in his pipes, because he hated it. Once the carbon builds up in the bowl, the smoke is cooler and the taste better."

Which is not to say a pipe should be allowed to accumulate all the residues it would if left to its own devices. "You've got to keep it clean," Zuyus explained. "It's better to clean it every time it's used than to let it get really dirty and have to work at it — usually you'd end up having to take it to a tobacco shop to really clean it right again."

NEWS BRIEFS

OCTOBER 4 is the last day to register to vote in the November 2 election, City Clerk Joan McAllister and Township Clerk Susan Heintz remind residents.

PARK GARDENS sewer project plans and cost estimate are to be presented and discussed in public hearing at 7:30 p.m., this Thursday in Northville Township Hall, 41600 Six Mile. Special meetings of the township board will precede (7:15 p.m.) and follow the hearing.

HIGH SCHOOL seniors have until October 1 to register for both the ACT and SAT tests. Test dates are October 30 for the ACT and November 6 for the SAT. Students can register for either test at the Northville High School main office.

Lucas, FitzPatrick debate qualifications

By TIM RICHARD

William Lucas says that if he is elected Wayne County executive, the $17 million deficit will be eliminated with "innovative ideas presented at the proper time."

Robert FitzPatrick, his rival, says he left county government in 1974 with a surplus and already has been producing innovations to make county government more efficient.

Lucas and FitzPatrick last week had their first face-to-face confrontation in a meeting of the Suburban Bar Association in Canton.

The soft-voiced Lucas, 53, sheriff since 1969 and the Democratic nominee, assured the group of 40 he would implement "general reorganization" and "efficiencies."

The fired-up FitzPatrick, 48, executive director of the Wayne County Economic Development Corporation, a quasi-public entity, said he had been championing innovations and reforms for more than a decade, later charging Lucas had not.

FitzPatrick, a Democrat who ran as a Republican in order to "get into the finals," continued to advocate that county government be nonpartisan.

FitzPatrick hammered at Lucas' record as sheriff, saying the Sheriff's Department had grown in a decade from "400 and some odd employees to around 800."

The four-time chairman of the county board of commissioners said the jail, when completed, will require new staffing. "We can save 30 to 40 percent of the cost by using correctional guards rather than deputy sheriffs," FitzPatrick said.

FitzPatrick said that when he became chairman in 1971, the county had a $1.8 million deficit; when he left county government in 1974 it had a $12.4 million surplus ("its last surplus") and today it's $17 million in the red.

"Believe me, we're in such serious trouble... There are no funds," FitzPatrick said. "Anybody in county government who doesn't believe he's going to have to sacrifice is in for one big, rude awakening."

Lucas didn't discuss the new jail or respond to FitzPatrick's charges until asked about the proposal to use correctional guards rather than deputies.

Lucas said that six years ago he submitted a proposal to the Wayne County Efficiency Task Force that "a separate classification of deputy," at a "significantly lower" salary scale be created.

The sheriff said the plan is "in limbo" and "gathering dust" before the Board of Commissioners.

After the session, FitzPatrick said Lucas didn't advocate the plan to the charter commission in 1981 and hasn't advocated it on the campaign trail this year.

Lucas said he ran for the newly-created county executive post because "I'm in the admirable position to lend my credentials (to) a job that needs doing."

Nuclear freeze meeting set

Proponents of a nuclear weapons freeze proposal on Michigan's November ballot are sponsoring an "educational and informational" meeting from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Wednesday, September 29, at Novi United Methodist Church, 41671 10 Mile Road (between Novi and Meadowbrook roads).

Sponsors are the Novi-Northville chapter of "Freeze," a national coalition that contends national security is impaired by the nuclear arms race.

Arms freeze advocates successfully petitioned to place Proposal E on the November 2 ballot. Michigan joins seven states having a popular vote to determine whether state leaders should communicate state support of a freeze to federal officials.

If the voters approve, the state would advocate to Washington the proposal of a mutual nuclear weapons freeze to the Soviet Union, covering testing, production and deployment verifiable by current means of detection.

The freeze proposal will be examined in depth at the Wednesday meeting which will feature the film "Anatomy of the Nuclear Arms Race." Also offered are educational reading material, refreshments and an open discussion period.

Local chapter members are inviting those supportive of, antagonistic toward, or bewildered by Proposal E to attend the session. Area chairman Lee Riebling is available at 349-8243 to answer further questions about the meeting.

Numerous studies have shown that many people who eat high fat diets increase their risk of heart attack by eating a diet high in saturated fats and cholesterol.

Most people can reduce their risk of heart attack by controlling the amount of cholesterol rich foods and the amount and type of fats they eat. You also can reduce risk by avoiding overweight, exercising regularly, not smoking, and following medical advice if you have high blood pressure.

FitzPatrick said he had better credentials because he served four one-year terms as chairman of the county board, had been on the board of the National Association of Counties, had been first vice-chairman of the Michigan Association of Counties, had been chairperson of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, had helped produce 13,000 new jobs in his 3 1/2 years as executive director of the EDC and had testified before legislative committees on the first bill which created the county executive post.

"My background has been one of reform, and new and innovative changes," he said.

FitzPatrick said that among his accomplishments are:

- Closing down the child development center in Northville Township in the early 1970s when it appeared children were getting no treatment;
- Finding investors who will reopen it as a complete senior citizens' village.

Implementing a plan to allow private investors to renovate the old County Building as an historic building.

• Suggesting to Lucas, back in the early 1970s, that the sheriff contract to furnish services to cities and townships in the western suburbs. The City of Romulus made a contract for some years, but today the local units have set up their own police departments.

• Getting supplemental funding, during his years as board chairman, for CETA job training which no other county in the nation received.

Challenged by a county employee on his charge that Wayne County has the "highest wages and best pensions in the United States," FitzPatrick replied:

"There are positions which shouldn't be there. I'm not suggesting every position is overpaid. ... But we can no longer have the union negotiate with the union —" a reference to charges that union officials control the civil service apparatus and, in effect, negotiate with themselves."

Site plan approved

Northville township resident David E. Jerome was granted site plan approval to open a legal office at 436 North Center at the September 7 meeting of the Northville City Planning Commission.

Jerome, who lives at 46270 Bloomcrest with his wife Kathi and son, said he hopes to begin practice in the former residence of Madeline Crawford next Monday. It is located on the southeast corner of Center and Lake streets.

He told the planners he had purchased the property, which is zoned for business and professional office use, because he wished to practice in Northville.

As it gave unanimous approval, the commission stipulated that the parking lot lighting shown in the plan would include lights on eight-foot poles on the northeast and northwest corners.

Planning consultant Ronald Nino said the trees on the property would shield the lighting at that height, preventing it from disturbing neighbors. He asked Jerome if he were aware that there would be a road widening assessment from already-installed turn-in lanes. Jerome said he was prepared to pay this.

The commission also was informed that conditions had been met for site plan approval for an addition at Belanger's, 455 Cady.

Being informed that the company had variances approved by the board of appeals for 40 feet at the rear and 20 feet in the front and that the historic district commission had approved the firm's plans for an addition August 24, the commission unanimously reaffirmed its approval.

The company earlier had explained it was seeking an addition to expand its manufacturing operation.

City approves two-year budget plan

Budget amendments are getting to be a routine item on city council agendas.

Monday night city council acted on City Manager Steven Walters' recommendation to submit to the state an amended 1982-83 budget that will leave a $48,457 deficit in a two-year plan to achieve a balanced budget.

At its September 13 meeting the council studied the first amendment to its 1982-83 budget based on the city manager's suggestion that the $125,157 general fund deficit be dealt with in a two-year plan.

He pointed out that the deficit increase primarily was caused by the 1981 year-end allocation of 35th District Court costs.

Stating that the city must report a plan for dealing with the 1981-82 deficit by September 30 to the state treasurer's office, Walters suggested the two-year approach which would leave a deficit of $48,457 for the second year.

Since the millage increase was adopted with the expectation that the total anticipated deficit would not be offset in one fiscal year (1982-83), he recommended that the plan be submitted to the state on this basis with the amendments studied at the meeting.

These included a revision of the city retirement provision in expenditures, decreasing the budgeted $168,000 by $22,700 to $145,300 based on latest actual report; a revision of district court costs of $120,000 downward by $42,000 to $78,000 based on current experience that shows the city having 10.3 percent of the total caseload; and, added Monday night, a revision of tax note interest revised downward from $15,000 to $5,200.

The revision, however, also reflected the revenue sharing decrease from $48,000 to $43,000 and district court costs going from a budgeted $52,800 to $60,000.

Walters told council he believes the revisions will be accepted as a reasonable two-year plan, adding that additional adjustments may be possible to reduce the figure further, if severe cuts are not made by the state during the balance of the fiscal year.

He warned council as it approved the two-year approach that this plan has not been tested.

any changes that might be required in the drainage arrangements.

The five members of the nine-member commission present at the special meeting voted unanimously to grant the conditional approval.

Vice chairman William Bohan, leading the session in the absence of Ken McLarty, later said he believed the approval should not have been granted, given the amount of detail missing from the plans. He said the approval had been granted "in good faith" that the requirements would be met, but that he would likely have argued for outright rejection were it not for the time factor involved in the church's desire to proceed.

"I was really uneasy about that," he said. "They've been here three times and yet they still haven't met all the requirements."

Construction to begin now

Church building receives approval

Construction of a Seventh Day Adventist church on Haggerty Road north of Five Mile, began last Wednesday morning, after township planners granted conditional approval to site plans Tuesday night.

The planning commission action cleared the way for the issuance of building permits, which SDA representative Tom Gott said would allow the church to pour foundations before winter weather puts a halt to activity.

Although the final approval was granted, planners had several concerns, primarily in regard to site drainage, which are to be resolved as conditions of the approval. Failure to meet the conditions would stop the issuance of an occupancy permit when construction is complete, building official Troy Milligan assured commissioners.

High atop the priority list is the acquisition of a series of soil borings to demonstrate two retention basins on the site will be able to disperse storm waters they are designed to accumulate.

Gott said earth-moving activity on the site has revealed "a large vein of pea gravel under sand" and at the six-foot depth of the basins large quantities of water "percolate away in a matter of hours."

Township engineer Edward McNeely said he believed that to be possible, and noted that the basins are more than two times the size required. But, he said, there is not at present any information on file at township hall to confirm the soil conditions that would allow the church to retain and percolate all the drainage it generates.

McNeely and Gott also discussed construction of a method of releasing water in the ponds to roadside ditches in the event of flooding that exceeded the site's ability to handle its own runoff. No such method shows on the plans, Gott said, because Wayne County Road Commission approval is being sought and the possibility exists permission might not be granted to employ the ditches for overflow.

McNeely said the likelihood is that county road officials would approve the overflow arrangement since the site can accommodate so much of its own water that usage of the ditches would be minimal. Controlled output might be required, he added.

Gott urged the commission to grant a conditional approval so setting of the church foundations could begin immediately. He noted that construction of the foundations would not impede any changes that might be required in the drainage arrangements.

Vice chairman William Bohan, leading the session in the absence of Ken McLarty, later said he believed the approval should not have been granted, given the amount of detail missing from the plans. He said the approval had been granted "in good faith" that the requirements would be met, but that he would likely have argued for outright rejection were it not for the time factor involved in the church's desire to proceed.

"I was really uneasy about that," he said. "They've been here three times and yet they still haven't met all the requirements."

Two work at Yellowstone

Lorne Demrose and Paul Cook, both Northville residents and Michigan State University juniors, have returned to school following an adventurous summer spent working at Yellowstone National Park.

Demrose, head lifeguard at Northville Swim Club the past two years, was employed as a bartender, and Cook worked in accounting at the park's Grant Village (the recently completed replacement building for Yellowstone Lodge), according to Mary Ellen Demrose, Lorne's mother.

When not working, Mrs. Demrose reported, the young men enjoyed the outdoors, using their leisure hours hiking in the Tetons, mountain-climbing, rafting on the Snake River and taking sidetrips to view a glacier and Lake Louise. Bear-sightings were not uncommon, Mrs. Demrose said.

The friends were employed at the park from June through September and reported it "the best experience of their lives," she said.

Cook is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Cook of 16448 Winchester Drive. His summer accounting work fits in with his studies in the field of international business.

Demrose is majoring in marine biology and is a resident assistant (RA) at MSU's Holmes Hall this year, his mother said. His Northville home is at 18459 Jamestown Circle.

Church hosts baritone

Northville's Christian Community Church will host Swedish baritone Carl Olivebring in his ministry of song at its 11 a.m. worship service this Sunday.

Known as "Sweden's Singing Ambassador," his ministry has been received in both the United States and Canada. His travels have taken him to sing for the American soldiers in West Berlin and Frankfurt, Germany, North Africa, the Holy Land, Great Britain, France, Switzerland, Spain, Holland, Iceland, the Scandinavian countries and others.

There is no admission charge, however, a free will offering will be taken at the conclusion of the service.

School Notebook

Three Northville residents are among the 183 Kalamazoo College students named to the spring quarter dean's list.

Students named to the dean's list include JANE FIELD, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Field of 43558 Six Mile; LINDA SCHNEIDER, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horst Schneider of 47105 Stratford Court, and AMY VARGO, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Vargo of 118 Linden.

Students named to the dean's list must achieve a 3.5 grade point average or better on a 4.0 scale.

Northville resident J. CHRISTOPHER WEST, son of Mrs. Harriet West of 21800 Connemara, is one of 190 students participating in Kalamazoo College's Foreign Study Program during the fall quarter.

He is living in Strasbourg, France.

Foreign study is a standard curricular feature of the four-year Kalamazoo Plan and nearly 85 percent of the college's students study abroad before graduation. As of Fall, 1982, more than 5,000 students will have studied in 32 countries since 1958.

PHILIP M. MAJEWSKI, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Majewski of 21855 Connemara, is enrolled as a freshman at Northwestern University for the 1982-83 school year.

Majewski is a graduate of Catholic Central High School in Redford where he was active on the chess team, the school newspaper and the intramural bowling league. A Michigan Mathematics finalist, Majewski also was a departmental award winner in mathematics and science.

He is enrolled in Northwestern's College of Arts and Sciences in the Integrated Science Program.

NHS slates open house

Northville High School will host a day-long open house September 29 for all members of the community interested in visiting the school.

High School Principal George Aune said staff members are encouraging both parents and non-parents to attend, including NHS alumni, senior citizens and parents of youngsters in both the elementary and junior high schools.

Aune said the emphasis of the open house will be on classroom visits and said teachers will be inviting participants to observe classes throughout the day.

He emphasized that the open house is not designed for parent/teacher conferences which are scheduled October 12 and 14.

Visitors may have breakfast in the school cafeteria at 7:30 a.m. and are welcome to stay for lunch at 11 a.m.

Student Council representatives will serve as hosts and class schedules will be available in the school lobby. Students also will serve as guides and will be assisting with parking.

Army announces moves of three local residents

One Northville native has graduated as an armor crewman, while another is participating in peace-keeping force in the Sinai and another has been accepted into the Class of Cadets.

Private first class Phillip A. Reed as graduated as an armor crewman at the United States Army Armor School in Fort Knox, Kentucky. The training was conducted under the station unit training (OSUT) program, which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training into one 13-week period.

During the course, students received training in the duties of a tank crewman, including firing the tank's armament and small weapons. Instruction also was given in field radio operations, map reading, and tank maintenance and repair.

Reed is the son of Donald E.A. Reed, 46049 Neeson.

Private Sandra M. Goss is a member of the 1st Battalion, 502th Infantry from Fort Campbell, Kentucky, participating in the multi-national peace-keeping force and observers as the primary United States military contingent in the Sinai.

The MFO, an independent agency responsible to the governments of Israel and Egypt, was established as a result of the 1979 Egypt-Israel peace treaty.

The mission of the airborne unit is to establish and operate checkpoints and observation posts and conduct reconnaissance patrols along the Sinai peninsula. The peninsula is located on the southeast shores of the Mediterranean Sea and extends eastward from the Suez Canal to Israel and southward from the Mediterranean to the Red Sea.

Training for the special assignment included learning observation and reporting techniques; checkpoint and escort duties; counterterrorism; security and outpost training; landmine identification, navigation and driver training.

Goss is the daughter of David E. and Georgina F. Goss, 8882 Napier Road.

James R. Belanger has been accepted officially into the United States Military Academy's Corps of Cadets as a member of the class of 1986 during the annual acceptance parade.

The parade followed six weeks of rigorous basic cadet training at the West Point academy in New York. Training in military customs and courtesies, drill and physical conditioning, tactical exercises and the firing of weapons introduced the basic cadets to military life with special emphasis on leadership, duty, honor and country.

The academy is a four-year educational institution graduating men and women to serve as career Army officers. In addition to military training the academy offers athletics and an academic curriculum which includes basic engineering sciences, social sciences and the humanities.

Belanger is a graduate of Detroit Catholic Central High School. He is the son of James A. and Nancy G. Belanger, 370 South Rogers.

City buys computer of Ann Arbor firm

Northville City Council has accepted the recommendation of City Manager Steven Walters to purchase an Arizala computer for the city. The Ann Arbor firm submitted the low bid of $79,530. Seven computer companies presented bids.

Six-year grand total cost with maintenance was listed at $135,010 by Arizala.

As the purchase was approved at its September 13 meeting, the council was told that, with approval by that date, the equipment can be expected to be installed in approximately 90 days. Basic applications (budgetary accounting, payroll, water billing and data management system) will be installed and operating within six months after installation.

Walters said he and city comptroller Betty Lennox had met with representatives of the firms bidding and feel the Arizala Corporation's bid "is the lowest and best bid." Walters said it satisfies all the evaluation criteria of the city and meets or exceeds all specifications.

The new computer will replace Phillips equipment that no longer is made. While the city bid asked for trade-in quotations, Walters said the winning bidder did not want the equipment. Walters indicated he feels it can be sold to a community which currently has the equipment for replacement parts.

"It will be possible to do a water billing that now takes a day and a half in one-half hour," council was told.

Walters was to bring back a resolution on financing. He told the council he felt the bank loan could be delayed for 90 days in the expectation that interest rates will be lower.

The council previously had authorized the city manager to seek bids as the alternative to the purchase would be another employee at a cost of $12,000 to $15,000 and fringes.

Walters recommended that the city purchase the computer software at a cost of $17,500 from the appropriations in the 1982-83 budget, and that the hardware cost of $62,030 be financed with a bank loan to be repaid over the next five fiscal years, based on a proposed bank loan of 12 percent.

He said initial supplies, which will not exceed $2,000, also are provided for in the present general fund budget.

Walters pointed out to council that the bid of CADCO of Livonia appeared competitive at $82,835 for purchase and $133,940 for six-year total but said, however, it did not actually meet the specifications in important areas.

He added that the bid of Wang Laboratories in Southfield ($80,017, $145,311) also appeared competitive, but was less so when annual maintenance costs were studied.

Other bidders were Burroughs in Detroit, NCR in Detroit, Dedicated Business Systems in Plymouth (Nixdorf) and Para Data in Southfield (Honeywell).

As background for the Arizala Corporation, council was told, it will use hardware and operating software supplied by Data General Corporation.

The Arizala Corporation will provide all application systems design and installation with supporting services. It will act as liaison between the city and Data General.

Arizala Corporation, which was represented at the council session, is a management consulting and systems development company providing management-related services. It was incorporated in 1973.

Its staff has had experience developing information systems for public and private organizations since 1969.

It was through one early project of computerizing labor relations for all Michigan cities over 4000 population with the Michigan Municipal League, the firm notes, that its initial concepts of generalized, updating and reporting originated.

Arizala said that during a feasibility study for the city of Alma in 1975 it found that generalized software for minicomputers was virtually nonexistent. This resulted in development of a generalized system for cities.

Trash contract extended

Midwestern Sanitation will continue to collect city trash for another year as Northville City Council has approved a new contract with the firm.

Acting on recommendation of City Manager Steven Walters, the council at its September 13 meeting unanimously moved to waive bids in the best interest of the city and to accept the extension offer.

The new contract will run from October, 1982, through September, 1983. It reflects a small upward revision. New rate per residential and commercial stop will be $2.90 instead of the present $2.85.

Commercial unit stops will go from $22 to $22.40 and the charge for emptying the 40-yard trash container at the DPW yard will increase to $118 from $112.

In its letter seeking the extension, Midwestern Sanitation reported it has experienced increased landfill costs at Holloway Sand and Gravel landfill in Wixom in the amount of 15 cents per cubic yard, increasing the cost of use to Midwestern by $1755 a year.

The firm also pointed out that "the current recession has resulted in reduced volume in refuse generated by your residents."

"Therefore, Midwestern Sanitation was able to keep its refuse disposal costs to your municipality to a minimum."

By extending this contract, Walters told the council, the 1982-83 budget for refuse collection of $121,000 should be sufficient for the fiscal year.

He compared the expenditure level with the 1980-81 city crew collection cost of $183,046.

Ted Mapes, superintendent of public works for the city, prepared a comparison of the city's costs with those of other communities. Plymouth Township rate was $2.71 per unit; City of Plymouth, $3.60 (also from Midwestern); City of Westland, $2.90; City of Livonia, $4.79; City of Wayne, $3.08.

Society publishes 'Early Northville' book

"Early Northville" by Laura Smyth Hixson is the latest publication of the Northville Historical Society.

The Northville resident and historical society member has compiled a 120-page pictorial booklet of old pictures of the community.

The booklet includes pictures of the original frame buildings of downtown Northville, early settlers' houses, all the old schools, street scenes and events.

Collecting, documenting and compiling the book was a one-person effort by Hixson.

The book sells for $5 with all proceeds earmarked for restoration use at the Mill Race Historical Village, Hixson announced.

"Early Northville" will be on sale at the Tivoli Fair October 1-2 at Northville Downs.

It also is available from the Northville Historical Society, Box 71, Northville.

Singers come to Bushnell

The Treble Ensemble of Adams High School in Rochester will be guest of Bushnell Congregational Church in its 9 a.m. service this Sunday at Mill Race Village.

Under the direction of Bushnell's Chancel Choir Bass Section leader/soloist Timothy Lentz, the ensemble of nine girls will sing "O Taste and See" by Vaughan Williams and "Open Our Eyes" by Macfarlane.

The Treble Ensemble received statewide recognition for these two anthems in competition last season.

Novi Township hall dedicated

Next Tuesday will be a big day for the Novi Historical Society.

That's the day when the Society holds formal dedication ceremonies for the Old Novi Township Hall.

Ceremonies will be held at the old Novi City Hall/Fire Station on Novi Road, just south of Grand River Avenue, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Dedication speaker will be U.S. Congressman William Broomfield.

The program will consist of musical numbers by the Novi High School Band, skits, displays and special remarks by Society President William Gladden and Frazer Staman, former Novi Township supervisor who "sold" the old township hall to the Society at a price of $1.

Everyone's invited to attend; refreshments will be served.

Gladden said the Society has big plans for the Old Township Hall, which they acquired earlier this year from Staman. Society members, along with volunteers and Novi Rotary members, have been working hard throughout the summer to spruce up the old building with a new coat of paint.

And the Society hopes ultimately to move it to another site, possibly the city-school-library complex at Ten Mile and Taft Road, where it will be converted into a museum.

Staman, who served as Novi Township supervisor through most of the 1950s, reported that the original township hall was constructed in 1876.

"The original center of town was at the Grand River/Wixom Road intersection," he told The News in an interview back in 1972. The center of town later moved back to the Novi Road/Grand River intersection, primarily because of the Walled Lake Amusement Park and the trolley line which ran out from Detroit.

"Novi became a township in 1853 and for the first 24 years the town hall meetings were conducted in various homes and taverns in the community. Finally, the township officials decided they needed a building of their own," he said.

The lot on which the building was constructed was donated to the township by C.C. Gage. According to Staman's records, the total cost of construction was $800.

The original township hall was destroyed by fire in 1912.

Both Staman and his wife Irene remember the occasion well. "There was no fire department in those days," recalled Mrs. Staman. "When they rang the bell everybody came out to fight the fire."

"We had a very bad electrical storm that night," she continued, and "both a church and the hall caught on fire and burned. They rang the bell and everybody came out and formed a bucket brigade, but they weren't able to save either building."

The present town hall was rebuilt on the same site in 1914, two years after the fire, and it remained the official "seat of government" in Novi until it was abandoned in 1951 for new quarters on the east side of Novi Road.

Police Blotter

Motorcycle stolen from carport in Silver Springs lot

In the township

An apartment resident of Silver Springs Drive told police his $3,200 motorcycle was stolen from the complex parking lot, September 19, according to township police reports.

The man told police the 1982 red Honda Sabre VF-750-S had been parked in a nearby carport at 6 p.m. September 18 and was gone at 10 a.m. the next morning. There were no leads in the case.

Landscaping materials were stolen from two yards in the township September 14, and one homeowner reported he also had been victimized almost a week earlier.

Sixteen lawn shrubs (yuca and yews) were reported stolen from the front yard of a Fallbrook Court home September 8 and 14. The owner told police four newly-planted yucas went missing the 8th, and 12 yews the 14th. Total value of the stolen property was placed at $450.

A waterfowl resident reported the September 14 theft of six two-foot-tall crabapple trees planted in the front yard only two weeks before. Together, the trees were valued at $600.

Novi police reports show a similar incident the same day.

The 15-year-old owner of a $374 moped told police it was stolen near Lake Success, where he had left the moped bike unattended while he

"explored" the gravel pit area September 14.

The youth said the red-and-black Yamaha Yamahopper QT-50, in fair condition, was left in the bushes near the gravel pit and was missing upon his return at about 4:30 p.m.

He neither saw nor heard anyone else in the vicinity, the owner said.

A township woman was ticketed for failing to yield after an attempted left turn from Seven Mile onto Silver Springs Drive ended in a two-car collision September 13.

According to township police reports, the scenic Harbour Drive resident was eastbound on Seven Mile, making a left onto Silver Springs about 5:30 p.m. last Monday and pulled in front of a west-bound car which hit her vehicle broad side.

The other driver told police he was doing about 40 miles per hour when he saw the car turn in front of him. He braked but could not stop before striking it. There were no injuries reported.

Another driver in the left turn lane of westbound Seven Mile witnessed the accident and told police the woman pulled out in front of oncoming traffic when making the turn.

A "flasher" suspected of exposing himself to women working at the Gas-N-Go station at Northville and Seven Mile Road was traced and warned last week, police reports show. The gas station employees had not yet decided whether or not to prosecute the Plymouth resident.

A clerk at the station wrote down the license number of the car the man was driving when he purchased cigarettes at the station, then exposed himself.

van parked in a Northville Downs lot overnight August 30-31, police report. The damage was placed at $508.

A window was damaged ($500) at an East Dunlap's doctor's office between August 28-29, police report.

Police were sent to the office to investigate an attempted breaking and entering, but found the window cracked. Also, police found nine cement blocks had been knocked over, but no damaged.

Two are arrested for thefts

Both a Northville and Plymouth man have arraignments scheduled within the next two weeks on breaking and entering charges stemming from their arrest for an incident at the Plymouth Center for Human Development.

September 13, Northville Post Michigan State Police said.

Daniel George, 23, of Northville, and Jaymie Schrot, 24, of Plymouth, will be arraigned at 35th District Court on separate dates. George's preliminary examination is set for Thursday, while Schrot's is slated for October 7, police said.

According to state police, they were called by the Plymouth Center September 13 after their safety officers had spotted a subject on a possible breaking and entering of the kitchen storage area. Also, the center said a vehicle believed to belong to the subject was parked at the Northville Fire Station, which is a short distance from the kitchen area.

State police met the safety officers at the fire station where there was a Ford pickup truck parked. Safety officers explained they saw a suspect by the kitchen storage building, carrying something and then ran off dropping items on the ground, police said.

Two troopers stayed hidden in the shrubbery near the pickup, while two other troopers went with the safety officers to the kitchen area.

The troopers who stayed near the pickup sometime later saw a subject moving from the bushes to the truck. Police stopped the truck attempting to leave and arrested George. A short time later, Schrot was arrested at his residence after state police had obtained a search warrant.

Police recovered approximately $1,200 in video equipment at Schrot's trailer. State police believe the video recorder and 35 tapes were stolen in an earlier incident. Also, police recovered approximately 40 pounds of food items worth $265 dollars they believe had been stolen at various times.

Township Police Chief Kenneth Hardesty and Captain Phillip Presnell told state police September 15 more stolen property was being stored in a freezer at an abandoned building of the Wayne County Child Development Center, which is about 100 yards from the Plymouth Center storage buildings. State police found approximately 20 pounds of food items worth $313.

City 'hot pursuit' police policy reviewed for council

"Whatever's reasonable is the bottom line," Northville Police Chief Rodney Cannon told city council Monday night as council members queried him on the city's policy on "hot pursuit."

The discussion followed a previous council meeting question of whether the police department had a local policy on the somewhat debatable concerns regarding police chases. Cannon assured the council the department has a policy and that the officers are aware of it. The policy in effect since May 22, 1980, was read Monday by council members.

"With modern communication and cooperation between departments," Cannon said, "officers do not need to chase."

Police chase youths on Hines, into woods

A Redford Township man has been fined more than $100, placed on probation and prohibited from driving for six months after he led city police on a short high speed chase down Hines Drive last Thursday.

Jeffrey Perkins, 17, pleaded guilty to charges of fleeing and eluding a police officer Friday. According to city officer David Fendeleit, the incident started around 10 p.m. Thursday when he was driving a scout car eastbound on Seven Mile, just east of Hines.

Perkins was driving his orange 1970 Chevrolet Malibu westbound on Seven Mile and crossed the center line, forcing the patrol car off the road, according to Fendeleit. The suspect car, with three passengers besides the driver, continued in the wrong lane at Hines Drive, where it turned south as the city car gave chase.

Perkins' car increased speed as it proceeded south, and was traveling at an undetermined "high rate of speed," according to township police reports.

The vehicle spun and skidded off the road onto grass, hitting a fire hydrant before crossing Northville Road and coming to a stop against a utility pole in the parking lot of Multi-Feed Company, according to police. Perkins and his three passengers (ages 17 and 18, and one of Redford Township) got out of the car and fled toward the east (back) side of the Multi-Feed building, Fendeleit reported.

The city officer had radioed township police for assistance and Sergeant John Sherman was first at the scene. Sherman reported he heard noises in the underbrush on the east side of the Rouge River and followed the sounds.

He spotted the four walking northbound on the C&O railroad tracks and radioed township patrolman Clyde Anderson before calling out to tell the youths to stop. When he did, Sherman reported, the four began running but were stopped at Mill Street by Anderson.

Fendeleit said Perkins entered a guilty plea on the charge of fleeing and eluding at the 35th District Court Friday morning. Sentence was a $105 fine, 12 months probation and a six-month revocation of the driving license.

Fendeleit said police did not have enough evidence to state a reason for Perkins' behavior in forcing the police car off the road.

He added that "television programs are one of our problems — but it just doesn't happen like that (shown on television). Our policy on what's reasonable goes hand-in-hand with the use of firearms."

He added that a chase "might last a block or two" but definitely is not to be of the type that ignores traffic signals and roars through intersections, often leading on television to additional crashes.

Asked by council member Carolann Ayers what would determine justification for such a chase, Cannon replied that "probably a hostage situation" in which someone was being held would qualify.

The council noted that the policy holds the officers involved in a vehicular chase "fully accountable" for the continuance of the chase when common sense (rationality) indicates the chase should be discontinued.

"If the officer feels the chase is justified and can be accomplished in a safe manner, the chase should continue with the intent to apprehend the subject exercising maximum safety to all concerned," the policy states, underlining the words "maximum safety." Cannon explained the policy letter was written to "relate my concern regarding police chases of traffic violators. The danger element of a police chase intensifies the possibility of death and injury to the participants of the chase and jeopardizes the safety and welfare of the general public."

He told the council that use of smaller, less-powerful police cars probably will result in more traffic violators getting away but added, "eventually they'll be caught up with, as, if they do it once, they'll do it again."

The policy cited the Michigan Vehicle Code 257-632, Vehicle in pursuit of criminal, fire apparatus, ambulance, stating, "The speed limitation set forth shall not apply to vehicles when operated with due regard for safety under the direction of the police when traveling in emergencies or in the chase or apprehension of violators of the law or of persons charged with or suspected of a violation."

The code also gives exemption from speed laws to fire department or fire patrol vehicles when traveling in response to an alarm and to public and private ambulances when traveling in emergencies.

It specifies that the exemption applies only "when the driver of the vehicle while in motion sounds an audible signal by bell, siren or exhaust whistle as may be reasonably necessary or when the vehicle is equipped with at least one lighted lamp displaying a flashing, oscillating, or rotating red or blue light visible under normal atmospheric conditions from a distance of 500 feet to the front of such vehicles."

It does give an exemption — "unless the nature of the mission requires that law enforcement officer travel without giving warning to suspected law violators."

"This exemption shall not, however, protect the driver of the vehicle from the consequences of a reckless disregard of the safety of others," the code states.

A place for special students

Story by Michele McElmurry/Photos by Steve Fecht

Second in a three-part series)

When Andrew Burke was admitted to the Plymouth Center for Human Development in March of 1974, he had little formal education. The few skills he had learned were taught at home under the care and guidance of his family.

For Andrew and his fellow residents at Plymouth Center, there seemed little hope for any educational training. The institution was not required to provide a sound educational program for its handicapped residents — and had neither the funds nor staff to do so.

Prior to 1971, educational programs and services for Michigan's handicapped were minimal at best. For the approximately 900 residents living at Plymouth Center in 1971, there were six teachers.

However, the successful passage of the Michigan Mandatory Special Education Act — Public Act 198 — made education for the handicapped a reality.

Signed into law in December, 1971, Public Act 198 contains three major provisions which require local school districts to (1) provide special education programs and services to all handicapped persons through age 25 who have not completed a formal course of study and graduated from high school; (2) establish procedures for accountability for providing services to handicapped persons and (3) require that the plans for delivery of special education programs be written by the state and intermediate school districts.

While Public Act 198 proved to be a milestone in the development of educational programs and services for the handicapped, it did not force implementation of special education programs for institutionalized children or provide the funds necessary to do so.

However, in 1975, a lawsuit was filed against the state by the Michigan Association for Retarded Citizens (MARC) to make special education available for the institutionalized handicapped.

MARC's action resulted in the amendment of the Michigan Special Education Act in the Spring of 1975 to include Section 53 which guaranteed the educational rights of the institutionalized handicapped children in the 10 state institutions. Section 53 also guaranteed 100 percent funding by the county intermediate school for the necessary programs.

The amendment of Public Act 198 brought a whole new meaning to education for the institutionalized handicapped. It also brought a new responsibility to several local school districts and communities which committed themselves to educating area institutionalized children.

In August, 1975, Northville Public Schools agreed to assume the responsibility for conducting the educational program for all eligible institutionalized children residing in Plymouth Center and the Northville Residential Training Center.

The district's new program was called ISEP — Institution Special Education Program.

By the Spring of 1976, some 800 institutionalized children would become students of the Northville School District. Among those students was Andrew Burke.

Andrew, along with some 140 other students, began his school days in ISEP at Parkway in north Dearborn Heights. With the inclusion of some 800 students in the district's program it was deemed necessary for Northville Public Schools to lease buildings from surrounding districts with declining enrollments.

In developing a sound educational program for its new student population, the district hired hundreds of new staff members, equipped buildings for handicapped students and implemented teaching methods for students with special problems.

Looking back on ISEP's early days, Director Leonard Rezmierski says the progress made over the past seven years has been remarkable.

Referring to the program's first year as "a mad scramble," Rezmierski reflects that a major difficulty in developing ISEP centered around its uniqueness — there were no similar programs from which to learn.

"I recall writing in the first year that getting from chaos to order was getting the job done," he remarks.

A bulwark behind the program since 1976, Rezmierski is among those credited with making Northville's ISEP Program one of the most highly acclaimed schools for the handicapped in the country.

However, Rezmierski credits much of the success to the school district and the community's willingness to accept the program — and its special students.

"This district has a lot to be proud of," he observes. "We're proud of this town for what it has done."

"If we're (ISEP) not accepted, there's no way the kids will be."

He notes that many of the attitudinal "barriers are coming down" with regards to the handicapped and says that acceptance comes more easily today than it did 20 or 30 years ago.

Though Rezmierski acknowledges the program's achievements in many areas, he contends the best indicator of ISEP's success can be measured by the impact it's had on its students.

For Andrew Burke, Northville's Institution Special Education Program had considerable impact — it was a new beginning.

The same love and acceptance offered to Andrew by his family now was given in large doses through the caring and guidance of dedicated teachers committed to helping those unable to help themselves.

From his early days at Parkway to his graduation last month from Old Village School, Andy grew to be a model pupil.

Having transferred to four different facilities in five years, Andrew spent his last two years in ISEP at Old Village.

Among the higher functioning students in a class for the severely mentally impaired, Andrew's lessons evolved around the development of some very basic skills — including many once forgotten.

Functions such as feeding, toilet training, dressing, gross motor skills, hand and eye coordination and other self-help needs were included in the daily lesson plans along with special activities like music, art and pancake making.

Andrew's progress in mastering such skills over the past year has been closely observed by teacher Art Lennox.

"Andrew has come quite a long way," Lennox notes. "He wants to learn — and he enjoys learning."

For Andrew, this past year in ISEP proved to be especially rewarding. Comfortable with the familiar faces of teachers, aides and classmates, he seemed content in his surroundings.

Throughout the school day, Andy often displayed his concern for others by putting an arm around the shoulder of a teacher or aide and asking, "Are you okay?" Typical of the man who was classified as the "gentleman of Old Village School."

His simple gestures of kindness would be sorely missed when the school year came to a close.

In the early afternoon of August 19, Andrew boarded bus No. 116 after an eventful day at school. Unbeknownst to Andy, it would be his final bus ride from Old Village.

There had been a class picnic in the courtyard that day and Andrew was heading home with his pant leg soaked in mustard — victim of a fumbled hot-dog.

While the picnic had been filled with laughter and fun, a quiet stillness seemed to overcome staff and students as buses crept into the parking lot.

Sitting quietly on a swing clutching a music box, Andrew glanced at his close companion Albert sulking alone near the school fence. It was an unknowing and bitter end to a loving friendship.

Andy slowly approached the bus, accepting but uncertain of the embraces offered him by Art and Flo — one of many aides who had nurtured Andrew's progress through the year.

For Andrew, it wasn't just the last ride home — but the final farewell to his family at Old Village.

Having turned 26 three weeks before the end of the school year, Andrew no longer is eligible for Northville's ISEP Program under the provisions of the Michigan Mandatory Special Education Act.

As he waved goodbye to teachers and aides as the bus pulled away from the old brick school, Andrew started another journey in his quest for love and acceptance.

NEXT WEEK: A graduate faces his future.

Business going up in (pipe) smoke

While crediting pipes with relaxing the smoker, Zuyus recommends that a pipe be allowed to rest itself as well. "Many people get a favorite pipe and they smoke it all the time; they never let it dry out," she said. "Ideally, you'd give it a 24 hour rest after it's used. Really ideally, the pipe should rest for a week — in other words you'd need seven pipes, one for each day."

One of the advantages of pipe smoking over cigarettes, she continued, is that "usually when you smoke a pipe, you smoke less. You take your time, light it once, relight it (it goes out partially because there are fewer chemicals to keep it burning) and enjoy it."

Pipes and tobaccos come in such wide variety, Zuyus continued, that most people can find a combination(s) suited to their own personality and tastes. Female pipe smokers are becoming more visible — "You could almost say they're coming out of the closet" — and Zuyus admits to "enjoying a bowlful myself once in awhile."

Female pipe smokers do not, she added, favor the heavily jeweled and decorated pipes many people expect them to, instead opting for smaller pipes in traditional briar shapes and styles.

The tobacconist urges that the smoker choose a pipe flattering to his (or her) appearance. Short straight-stem pipes are best suited to young men, larger styles for tall men. Curved stems are advised for smaller men or those with a studious appearance, with bowl sizes suited to the face.

The dozens of styles of pipes also come in several materials. Most popular is briar, carved from a burl of the heath bush root. Heath grows in rocky Mediterranean shore areas and the burl from which briar pipes are made is one of the most closely-grained woods.

Briar is graded according to quality (grain, color, weight, flaws) and price reflects those qualities as well as the quality of workmanship, size of the pipe and stem type. A high-quality pipe can last a lifetime.

Meerschaum is another popular material, whose main disadvantage is fragility, according to the folks at Trader Tom's. Hand-carved beauties or natural meerschaum both have their beginnings in tiny sea creatures changed into a porous, lightweight substance by geological processes.

Clay, porcelain and cherry wood are also used to make pipes, each offering its own distinct perceived advantages by certain smokers. There are also Calabash pipes, made from a gourd with a clay or meerschaum bowl.

Cheapest of pipes are likely the corn cob ones. Trader Tom's advises that the corn cob pipe does not last long, but is good for what it is — a cheap pipe.

Adherents to cob pipes relate a special taste imparted by the cob. Besides, the cob pipe is a boon to the absent-minded, for the loss of one does not constitute a great expense.

Regardless of the smoker's preference, Zuyus said the range of pipes and tobaccos available can accommodate him. Trader Tom's, concerned that pipe smokers not be stuck with an unhappy choice of tobacco, also invites its many regular customers to light up a bowlful in the store to taste the prospective purchase.

"We like to offer personal service," Zuyus concluded. "I wish I could get all the cigarette smokers to switch to pipes."

Schoolcraft workshops slated beginning September 25

In this era of great changes in lifestyles, most people are finding that traditional answers are not adequate solutions to present problems, explains the Women's Resource Center of Schoolcraft College as the impetus for offering a series of workshops to introduce some new coping skills.

On September 25, Judith Friday will facilitate a one-day workshop entitled "The Other Man/Woman Workshop." Participants will explore some of the facts involved in mid-marriage crisis, jealousy, the need for intimacy and changing social roles. The workshop will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Room 21 of the Garden City Center. Participants should bring a bag lunch. Cost is $25.

Developing patterns for your holistic health and happiness will be the focus of a workshop entitled "Design Your Own Holistic Lifestyle." Sessions will be offered from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. September 25 and October 29 in Room B200 of the Liberal Arts Building. Participants should bring a bag lunch. Cost for the session is $25.

"Women and Depression" is a one-day workshop designed to help women better understand the dynamics of depression and learn to change their responses to life. The workshop will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. October 2 in Room B200 of the Liberal Arts Building. Participants should wear casual clothes and bring a bag lunch. Cost is $25.

Many successful women face a common dilemma — even though successful in their business and/or personal lives, they have a feeling all is not well. "If I'm Doing So Well, Why Am I Feeling So Bad?" will explore myths, fears, facing changes, etc. The workshop is scheduled from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. October 30 in Room 21 of the Garden City Center. Participants should bring a bag lunch. Cost is $25.

The title of the workshop "Androgyny: Survival Tool for the 80s" sends one scurrying for a dictionary. Androgynous means having both male and female characteristics and the workshop will present new behavior patterns needed for successful living and working today.

Designed to break ancient rigid molds of prescribed behavior and response, the workshop, which meets from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. October 9 in Room B200 of the Liberal Arts Building, will emphasize that the capable individual needs both problem solving skills and human relationship skills. Cost is $25.

For registration information on any of the above workshops, call the Women's Resource Center at 591-6400, extension 430.

Examine ambulance service

The man's letter of complaint and request that the board explore alternative services were placed on file "with many other complaints we have received," MacDonald said.

One alternative the resident proposed was having the township fire department run emergency medical services. The department last year purchased an ambulance-type van that had been used for that purpose in Plymouth. Through donations and volunteer work, it has been equipped as a fire rescue vehicle licensed by the state.

Fire chief Robert Toms has said his volunteer department has been trained and licensed to serve ambulance functions almost to a man. The township's official position is that the vehicle is being equipped only for use in fire department-type rescues. Beyond authorizing the purchase of the van, the board has not endorsed the idea of the township operating its own ambulance service.

Revival

What is revival? For some of us it conjures up images of superficial fanatics who suddenly "get religion." But like most stereotypes, this one is false.

True revival happens to those who already know the Lord as savior. Thus, they do not "get religion," they already possess it. What they do receive is new encouragement and motivation to allow the Lord to work through their lives.

The greatest evidence of real revival is a manifestation of Christian love: love of Christian for fellow Christian, and love of Christians for those who are lost. Does the exercise of love bring revival? It can. But the converse is true: revival always brings Christian love.

The believers at Thessalonica were special. Most of the New Testament books addressed to churches urged the believers to stop bickering, put away old hurts, stop seeking self-advancement, and to start loving like God loves. Yet, consider how wonderful it was for them to receive Paul's commendation:

"But, as touching brotherly love, ye need not that I write unto you; for ye yourselves are taught of God to love one another! And, indeed, ye do it toward all the brethren who are in all Macedonia" (1 Thess. 4:9).

Would you have been comfortable in that church, or convicted? Would your cold heart have hurt the spirit of that church? Is your heart cold now?

D.L. Moody said: "There are two ways to be united — frozen together, and melted together. What Christians need most is to be united in brotherly love."

Next Sunday through Wednesday our church is having old fashioned revival meetings. Why not come, join us, and have your heart warmed?

Implementing solid waste plan needs communities' approvals

By JEFFREY LAPINSKI

George Schutte may be seeing a little light at the end of the tunnel.

As supervisor of Oakland County's main waste unit, Schutte has been the county's spokesperson for its recently-approved solid waste master plan. As such, Schutte has had to confront angry residents and government officials as the waste plan progressed through the planning process.

But Schutte may be breathing a little easier after the county board of commissioners okayed the master waste plan at its August 26 meeting.

However, the county's approval does not signal an end to Schutte's work. While the county commissioners said yes to the plan, state law says that two thirds of the municipalities in the county need to support the plan before it can be submitted to the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR) for the final okay.

To achieve those local approvals, Schutte said the county will be sending the municipalities updated appendices to the waste plan. After giving the communities time to react to the plan, the county will follow up with resolutions to adopt the plan, he added.

Schutte said he will be setting up regional presentations on the waste plan, meeting with officials from several municipalities at one time to answer questions on the waste plan. He anticipates that the local approval process will consume October and November and plans to submit the county's waste plan to the DNR by the year's end.

Over the next few weeks, Schutte will also be working on the details necessary to implement the waste plan.

As approved by the county board of commissioners, the master waste plan is a unique blend of traditional landfilling and futuristic resource recovery.

According to Schutte, Oakland County's master waste plan is out of step with other waste plans in the metropolitan Detroit area. The other plans rely heavily on landfills for waste disposal but Oakland intends to burn 50 to 60 percent of its waste to produce steam and energy, said Schutte.

Oakland's master waste plan, and other similar plans across the state, are mandated by the Michigan's Solid Waste Management Act, commonly known as Act 641. Under the act, counties are required to plan and implement a system for the disposal of its non-hazardous solid waste for the next 20 years.

The law is not the only reason for the waste plan. Presently, over 4,000 tons of solid waste are generated by county residences and businesses each day, according to county statistics. That figure is expected to reach 5,000 tons per day by the year 2000.

While waste generation is growing, the available landfill space is shrinking, according to the county. That shrinking necessitated the goal of reducing the need for landfilling by using recycling, incineration, resource recovery and energy conversion processes, stated county documents.

Blending those factors, the county came up with a master waste plan that is actually three sub-plans:

- The City of Pontiac will continue to operate its own waste disposal system with its own landfill. Schutte estimated that Pontiac's landfill has an eight- to 10-year life expectancy. After that time, Pontiac would be joined to the county plan.

- The Southeastern Oakland County Incinerator Authority (SOCIA) will be the second sub-system. SOCIA has its own incinerator and landfill and will continue to operate as it does now, said Schutte. SOCIA members include Hazel Park, Madison Heights, Troy, Clawson, Royal Oak, Royal Oak Township, Pleasant Ridge, Ferndale, Oak Park, Huntington Woods, Beverly Hills, Birmingham and Lathrup Village.

- The rest of the county will be part of the third sub-system. That system includes six landfills, two transfer sites, two modular combustion units (MCUs) and one resource recovery processing center at the county's service center in Pontiac.

According to Schutte, the six landfill sites that are part of the county waste plan are:

- The Lyon Development Company (LDC) site in Lyon Township, at Milford Road and I-96. The 112-acre landfill is due to open soon.

- The L.E. Marlowe and Sons site in Rose Township. Schutte said the site has reached its permitted limits and is not now in operation. However, plans are being explored to expand the site.

- The Waterford Sanitary Landfill in Waterford Township. According to the county, this 50-acre site would accept just special wastes, such as concrete or construction rubble.

- The Underwood Sand and Gravel Company site in Pontiac Township. It encompasses 60 acres.

- The Weber landfill site in Orion Township. Schutte said the county commission limited this site to the 28 acres currently under permit. He added that litigation between the fill operators and Orion Township may eliminate this site.

- The Charles J. Rogers site in Holly Township. It covers 90 acres.

Along with those six sites, Schutte said two special landfill sites will also be included in the county plan. An eight-acre fill in Avon Township will be used for steel slag only. The Stablex facility in Groveland Township will only receive its own non-hazardous product. Schutte said Stablex converts hazardous waste into a non-hazardous mixture.

Of the six landfills designated in the county portion of the waste plan, only two—LDC and Marlowe—were part of the county's preliminary waste plan released in March 1981. Three other preliminary landfill sites, including a 300-acre site in Lyon Township, were dropped from the waste plan in favor of other existing sites.

"We had so many people step forward with a 'Hey, have I got a site for you' type of thing," said Schutte, explaining the relocation of the fill sites.

The preliminary waste plan also called for the construction of two MCUs, one at Parke Davis in Rochester and another at the Ford Wixom plant. The MCUs would burn solid waste and create steam for industrial use.

But Schutte said the MCU picture has turned "shaky." When the plan was first released, Ford Wixom was operating at a higher production rate. Parke Davis has also built some new facilities at its site. Consequently, the steam market is not all that hot.

Schutte said if the county cannot find steam customers, it will not build the MCUs. And no MCUs mean more waste to landfill.

"The more (waste) we lose on the burning side, the more that will have to be landfilled," Schutte explained. "But it's a never-ending process. We expect to keep looking for steam customers."

One potential customer may reside in Farmington Hills. There, an industrial developer is interested in incorporating a solid-waste-burning, steam-producing facility. If that happens, it might work in with the county's resource recovery goal. "That's just the kind of thing we'd like to see happen in the future," said Schutte.

The key burning facility is planned for the Oakland County Service Center in Pontiac. It would burn 1,200 tons of solid waste per day to produce marketable steam and electricity. If the MCUs drop out, Schutte said the county may want a bigger central plant. He also added that the county might build another incinerator in the future to generate electricity.

While the incinerators will reduce the waste to ashes and generate steam, they will also give the county a hedge on the future. According to Schutte, the initial costs of a resource recovery system will be high, compared to an all-landfill system. But as landfills become scarce, the costs will rise. The incinerators, however, will allow Oakland to hold its prices at a steady level.

"Landfill costs in the future are not going to be $4 a ton," said Schutte. "Landfill is cheap, combustion is high but the county's cost will be somewhere in between."

According to the county, the cost of dumping waste with a landfill-only plan would be $9.15 per ton in 1984 but would rise to $18.24 by 1992. The county's plan, blending landfills with resource recovery, would start out high, costing $12.15 per ton in 1986. But the county cost would remain fairly level, rising to just $12.83 per ton in 1992. According to the county, its waste plan would give residents a savings over an all-landfill plan after 1988.

But the waste plan will not work without waste and one of Schutte's next tasks will be to secure contracts with the different municipalities for their waste flow. As Schutte pointed out, the county cannot acquire the landfills or incinerators unless it can guarantee that waste flow.

At present, municipalities may operate their own waste pick-up service, contract with a private waste collector or allow several waste collectors to operate in their borders. South Lyon, for example, bids out its waste collection needs to one hauler. But Lyon Township allows its residents to contract with collectors on a one-to-one basis.

Under the county waste plan, the municipalities may elect to maintain their present waste collection systems or they may award a bid to one hauler, said Schutte. But the county will be contracting with each community for its waste, assuring that the waste stays in the county's system. "That's flow control by contract," he added.

Schutte emphasized that guaranteeing the waste flow is necessary because the county wants to contract with private industry to handle its landfill and resource recovery needs. Instead of being county-owned, the landfills and incinerators would be privately-financed and privately-owned, said Schutte. The county would then contract with the private operators. Without a guaranteed waste flow, private industry might get a little nervous about investing in the county plan, Schutte said.

Schutte stressed that the county plans to get into its waste program on a gradual basis. "We just want to cautiously get into this," he said adding that the county will be venturing into new territory with its waste plan.

"You're going to see some phasing here," Schutte explained. He said the landfills would come first, followed by the transfer stations, MCUs and the main Pontiac plant.

In addition to the nuts and bolts, the county plan incorporates several ideas aimed at townships, in particular. As okayed by the county commission, the waste plan:

- Establishes a one-landfill limit for each community in the county. The limit can be waived if no other sites are available in the county.

- Establishes a royalty payment to each community with a landfill. The payment would come from the waste disposal fees collected by the county.

- Sets up daily inspections of landfills by the county health department and allows for the chief elected official of each affected municipality to accompany the inspector. Schutte pointed out that the state mandates just quarterly inspections.

Arts commission compiling artist directory

Northville Arts Commission currently is compiling a directory of working artists living in the area.

Local artists who would like to be included in the directory are asked to send information to Northville City Hall, 215 West Main.

The directory will include the artist's name, address, telephone number and pertinent information regarding his or her work.

Artists interested in being listed should furnish information about the medium in which they work, whether they accept commissions and whether they are available for teaching and demonstrations, commission member

Heather Fee explains. There is no fee for this service, she adds. The working artists' directory will be made available to art galleries, local businesses and the general public upon request to the council.

Our Opinion

House deserves top priority

No one — not the city council, the city planning commission nor the new owners of the boarded up house at 254 South Center — is pleased with its appearance. As neighboring residents have told both the planning commission and city council, it is an eyesore on a main approach to the community.

The events that led to its present condition are a tangled web that is unlikely to be brushed away until the city hires a new attorney. We hope it will be in early October, as was indicated Monday to council.

The unanimous action taken by council last week to make the decision on the fate of the building "top priority" for the new attorney is a right one. Like the residents of the South Center-Wing Street area who have appeared at commission and council sessions, we hope this promise is taken seriously.

Right now, it is pressure from the residents living in the area that has kept the building from being demolished. They are objecting to the planned use of the entire site for racetrack parking.

When the house, in poor condition after having been rented, was purchased, the new owner (Northville Driving Club) assumed tearing it down would not make a difference to the non-conforming parking use of the property.

City Manager Steven Walters says the ordinance is "fuzzy" on the exact interpretation in this instance. The question raised is whether the non-conforming use, racetrack parking, in the now-residential zoned neighborhood refers to the land or whether it also is tied to the structure.

We agree that is a matter for the attorney to decide as soon as possible.

Interestingly, the Northville

Downs management has stated it does not presently need additional parking. Long-range plans of the Downs have been announced as a parking deck on the property it already owns. Covered parking is not available now at the racetrack.

As has been apparent in the past, the Downs and the Driving Club, which actually owns the track itself, ultimately have the same goals of promoting racing — but do not always take the same route to that end. The club also apparently is in process or has purchased another piece of property on the southwest corner of Fairbrook and Center.

Perhaps, as a resident suggested at last week's council meeting, there will be possible a commercial use of the property across from the track, one apart from parking, that could be a long-range asset. As the resident commented, the present condition of the house certainly is not one.

There are many possibilities that could be explored but not until the legal decision is forthcoming. It is good that the action giving it priority was taken — and it must not be lip service to appease the residents attending.

Indications are that it will not be. At Monday's council meeting the city manager exhibited to council members copies of letters going out to property owners living south of Northville Square between Center and Wing streets. They explain that information on the non-conforming uses under the "grandfather clause" is being gathered by the city in preparation for a review by the city attorney as soon as he is appointed. The letters list present zoning, uses and home occupations the city records show being carried on at each address. The city manager asks for corrections by October 8 — hopefully, about the same time as the new city attorney is due on the scene.

Off the record

By John Myers

John's gas-guzzler's going

What a pain it has been trying to sell a gas guzzler in order to purchase a more economical, gas-saving means of transportation. Good thing this usually only has to happen about once every three years — which is about the same time the payments run out on the mobile you're trying to unload and start more, and higher, payments on the new set of wheels.

The search for this ideal gas-saver began when my wife Debbi started going to the University of Detroit Dental Hygiene school on Jefferson near the RenCen. The 1976 Granada we own burns gas as fast as we can keep filling the tank; so the cost of her driving there five days a week is starting to burn a hole in my pocket because I have to reach in there so often to pay $20 for each tank-full. But, see, that is because she does mostly long distance driving, and the car is not known for its highway economy when it comes to gas. However, it still is an ideal second car for some family who needs it for their son or daughter to cruise around school, or for the spouse who needs a car for some quick trips to the store.

Therefore, it is time to unload the hog on someone else and we get ourselves something in the order of a Chevette, Escort or whatever small, fuel-saving auto we can afford to pay for the next three or four years. Thus, the odyssey begins to sell the Granada while at the same time we try to find this elusive low-priced, gas-saving motor vehicle for which we can afford to pay.

Naturally, the first thing to do is list the Granada in the used car section in the classifieds with an enticing ad to lure prospective buyers. I am finding out what the new car dealers are going through; buyers are too few and far between. We had six calls in an hour last week Tuesday, but not even one other call since then. And out of those six prospective buyers, only one has any kind of interest to buy the gas pig. Unless something happens in the next few days, I just might take him up on his offer.

In the meantime, I have been scurrying around to different dealers to find out their offerings on a 1982 Chevette with all of these incentive deals. Unfortunately, I was unable to come up with the right deal to meet my pocketbook.

But what a trip that was going around to the different dealers trying to make my "best" deal with them. Naturally, when you inquire about the type of car you want, they somehow don't have any more stock. Such was the case when I saw a Chevette advertised for around $4,500, but the dealer said they were fresh out of those cars.

Since the plan for a new '82 just was not going to materialize, it was time to start scanning the classified ads myself for a 1980 or 1981 model. Once again, I practically had to drive halfway across the state in order to look at some car which I might not even want. I must say, though, the price range is more suited for my pocketbook.

After checking an various possibilities, where do I stand? Well, I still have not sold the gas guzzler, but I think I am close to purchasing a nice yellow 1981 Chevette. If I do buy it, I intend to call it my "Little Yellow Submarine." In the meantime, the smoke still will be coming out of my pockets for all the money I continue to dole out for the Granada.

I'm lucky in the respect that I know what mine is — I have an abiding faith in my ability to write sports.

I know my prose is not always the greatest, my columns leave something to be desired, there may be occasional gaps in my ratiocination and that never — I mean absolutely never — will I be confused with Tom Sellick.

But don't tell me I can't write sports. Shonta, Apap, Osborne and the rest of the coaches used to call me "Falls" (after you know who) back in the days when I was holding down a regular sports beat. It was a valid comparison.

And, at the risk of spoiling my image as a truly humble person, I confess that every sports reporter who has passed through our chain has had to listen to my orations on what a good sports writer I am.

"Here's how 'Old Falls' would do it," I'd tell them. Or, "You know you're good when you can turn out the quality stuff people were accustomed to seeing when 'Old Falls' was sports editor."

It was worst when I was called on to pinch hit while a sports reporter was about to go on vacation. "Go on vacation, if you want," I'd warn them, "but be aware that people are going to be pretty disappointed with your writing after they've had a chance to read 'Old Falls' again."

My comeuppance came last week. Although it's not my regular beat, I volunteered to fill in for John Myers for one week and write the Novi football story. After watching the game, keeping copious stats and interviewing the coach, I sat down at my VDT and rapped out a catchy lead: "Forget 'Air Cornell.'" The new game in town is 'Air Osborne.'"

I almost compared the Novi quarterback with Dan Fouts and the Wildcat receivers with the San Diego Chargers' pass catching corps.

The only problem is that the pass-minded coach of the San Diego team is Don Coryell, not Don Cornell. It should have been "Air Coryell," not "Air Cornell."

Needless to say, I heard about this minor mistake when I walked into the news room Wednesday morning. I'll spare you the gory details; suffice it to say "Old Falls" was subjected to considerable amounts of verbal harassment.

But, I'm not going to let one little typographical error dissuade me — I can still write sports. Besides, I thought Sid Gillman was coach of the San Diego team.

Reader Speaks

Glad soccer posts installed

To the Editor:

The Northville recreation department is to be commended for their timely construction and installation of the new goal posts that the Northville Soccer Association has purchased.

Recreation Director Ed Kricitz and supervisor Pete Talbot along with the Northville DPW were able to install 21 new goal posts in time for our season opener, September 11.

This was a sizable task considering that each goal, when welded together, weighed in excess of 500 pounds.

With the continued support of the community, the Northville Soccer Association board and coaches, the recreation department and Little Caesars, I anticipate that the new goal posts are just the beginning of the improvements that will be occurring to the youth soccer program in Northville.

Policy explained

Here's letter-writing rules

The Northville Record welcomes letters to the editor. We ask, however, that they be issue-oriented and confined to 300 words.

They must be signed and include address and telephone number of the letter writer.

Names will be withheld on request, but a brief explanation of why the request is being made should accompany the letter.

Deadline for the submission of letter is 3:30 p.m. Monday.

We reserve the right to edit letters for brevity, clarity and libel.

During political campaigns, letters that are political endorsements only will not be used. Neither do we use political statement letters the week before election, unless they clarify or correct a previous comment.

Control of commission sought

The State House last week approved legislation co-sponsored by Jack Kirksey (R-Livonia, Northville) that could put the future of the Wayne County Road Commission to a public vote as early as next spring.

Kirksey said the legislation is the first step toward long-awaited reform for the controversial road commission.

"The commission has needed restructuring or reform for quite some time," Kirksey said. "I think direct public involvement by Wayne County voters is the best way to decide this issue."

The representative said that such a vote could take place after supporters of the bill gather the necessary signatures. To place the measure on the ballot would require approximately 286,000 signatures.

"I am going to work hard in my district to get the sufficient number of signatures and put get this question on the ballot," Kirksey said.

Kirksey and other Wayne County legislators co-sponsored the bills addressing the future of the commission. With a budget of more than $145 million, the commission employs 1,300 people and enjoys autonomy from the Wayne County executive. Both major party candidates for county executive are supporting moves to restructure or abolish the agency.

Senate action on the measure may not come until after the November 2 election. Kirksey said he is hopeful the measure will pass quickly.

Bill to change defense

By JACK KIRKSEY
State Representative

The use of the insanity defense in criminal cases would be substantially reduced if a Republican-sponsored bill becomes law.

The legislation (HB 6072) which I cosponsored, is modeled after a California law, but it was prompted by a 1980 case in which a Ferris State College student shot and killed a teacher in front of 30 students.

The bill would require the defendant to prove by a preponderance of the evidence that he or she was insane when the crime was committed. Right now, once the question of insanity is raised by the defense lawyer, the prosecution must prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant was sane. This bill actually reverses our present law, and makes great strides in tightening our definition of insanity.

Although the prosecution in the 1980 Mecosta County case agreed that the student was mentally ill at the time of the offense, the question of legal sanity was not resolved. The court found under our present laws that although the young man knew at the time of the crime it was wrong, he didn't have the capacity to conduct himself by the letter of the law.

This bill doesn't abolish the insanity defense, but it makes it more limited. At the same time, it still recognizes a basic concept of criminal law — a person is guilty only if he has committed a crime he intended to commit.

The recent Hinckley case has a specific application to this proposal. The federal law also places the burden on the prosecution to prove that the accused is sane once the defendant raises the question, as do we in Michigan. The jury in the Hinckley case decided that the prosecution hadn't done that beyond a reasonable doubt, and so the insanity plea was successful.

Concern over the insanity plea, I believe, is growing. In California, the people amended the state law with a victims' bill of rights, and the Legislature passed a law as well, to tighten their plea. I think people in Michigan have the same interest in the question.

There was good news for our state when the U.S. Treasury Department recently exempted still more of Michigan from federal regulations that limit Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA) mortgages to first-time homebuyers.

The latest federal ruling went into effect on July 30. It means that residents in 66 state counties now can qualify for a MSHDA mortgage on a new house even though they have previously owned a home. Included are all counties in the Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Michigan.

The restriction also will be lifted in 29 cities and 28 townships in the remaining 17 counties, although parts of these counties will stay under the old rule, according to Richard Helmbrecht, MSHDA executive secretary.

Approximately 52 percent of Michigan's population lives in the areas covered by the new ruling. Until recently the Treasury Department allowed only 20 percent of a state's population to be included in exempt areas.

Exempt localities are those that meet certain economic criteria, including low per capita income, high unemployment, and a greater than average number of substandard housing units. I think that lifting the prior home ownership restriction in the qualifying counties, cities and townships is a tremendous method of encouraging home building and related economic activity.

MSHDA has been working for some time to have the federal rules eased. In mid-April, President Reagan announced his support of measures to stimulate the housing industry, including expansion of targeted areas where homeowners could qualify for mortgages like those offered by MSHDA and other state housing finance agencies. In May, Michigan was authorized to exempt localities up to the 20 percent population level.

MSHDA financing for single family homes is governed by the federal Mortgage Subsidy Bond Tax Act, passed by Congress in 1980 and administered by the Treasury Department. The act lists such mortgages to first-time homebuyers except in targeted areas approved by the federal government.

Your Photos

by Wayne Loder

HOW TO PHOTOGRAPH A CHILD

Never pose a child. Let him pose himself. This is true whether you are taking a quick snapshot or attempting a more formal portrait.

Be patient. Let the child become engaged in something which interests him—sailing a toy boat in the bathtub or romping with the family pet in new-fallen snow. Tag along with your camera ready but not obvious. Don't nag at the child to look at the camera or smile.

Keep your backgrounds uncluttered. Move close to the child so that he fills out your photograph.

When photographing a very young child, have some other member of the family working off-camera to entertain him and catch his attention.

Use fast film and available light for natural pictures. The correct filter can help give the effect you want.

Plymouth Symphony opens new season October 17

Plymouth Symphony Society will be offering six concerts plus two special events in its upcoming 1982-83 season. Johan van der Merwe, on staff at the University of Michigan, will be returning as conductor for the third season. Before joining the U-M staff, van der Merwe headed orchestras in Europe and South Africa.

Steven de Groote, Grand Prize Winner of the Fifth Van Cliburn Quadrennial Piano Competition in 1977, will be featured in the Beethoven Piano Concerto No. 5 (Emperor) at the Plymouth Symphony's opening concert October 17.

De Groote has performed throughout the United States, both in recital and as soloist with orchestras in Boston, Cleveland, Detroit, Philadelphia and Washington. He also has completed an extensive tour of Europe that included performances in Germany, Spain, Denmark, Norway, Belgium and England, where he made his much-acclaimed London recital debut at Queen Elizabeth Hall. His recordings include the Deutsche Grammophon 1980 release of Beethoven's Eroica Variations and Schumann's Symphonie Etudes.

The remainder of his program for the opening concert will consist of music by Rossini, Stravinsky and Elgar.

World renowned saxophone virtuoso Donald Sinta will be the guest artist with the symphony on November 21. Following his tenure with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, he joined the faculty at Ithaca College in New York and now is professor of saxophone at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

Sinta will be performing the music of Glazunov and Villa-Lobos. The remainder of the concert will consist of music by Dvorak and Mussorgsky's Pictures from an Exhibition.

On December 5, the Northern Ballet Theater of Livonia will perform 'The Nutcracker' Ballet by Tchaikovsky. There will be two performances at 2 and 5 p.m. All students and children, regardless of age, must have a ticket to be admitted.

The Northern Ballet Theater, now in its seventh season, has evolved into an acclaimed performing company with a unique repertoire of classical and contemporary ballets.

The first concert of 1983 will be February 6 and will highlight winners of the Young Artist's Competition. The competition includes orchestral, voice and piano categories with two first prize winners and a second prize winner featured on the program.

The intent of this competition is to encourage young musicians who are not yet "seasoned" solo performers. The Michigan Foundation for the Arts and The Oliver H. Wagner Memorial Award both carry $1,000 first prize awards. The second prize is $500.

Cellist Sarah Cleveland will be the featured soloist in the March 13 concert. A University of Michigan Music School graduate, she currently is a member of the Toledo Symphony Orchestra as well as the Amati String Quartet in Ann Arbor. She will perform the Haydn Concerto for Cello and Orchestra in C Major. Music by Wagner and the Dvorak "New World" Symphony will complete the program.

The six-regular season will conclude on April 17 with the internationally acclaimed soprano Barbara Rondelli. A prize winner of such major competitions as the Bavarian Radio International Competition in Munich and the Tchaikovsky International Competition in Moscow, Rondelli has performed Madama Butterfly with the New York City Opera and the Honolulu opera as well as in many West German opera theaters.

She presently is associate professor of voice at the University of Toledo. Barbara Rondelli will be featured in compositions by Beethoven, Wagner and Ravel. The Planets by Gustav Holst will complete the program.

In addition to the regular season, two special events are being offered. On April 24, the Young People's Concert will be held and on May 7, the Pops Concert, featuring conductors Johan van der Merwe and Wayne Dunlap, will be presented.

The six regular Sunday concerts will be held in the Plymouth Salem High School Auditorium and are scheduled to begin at 4 p.m.

Tickets for all concerts will be available at the door. Single and season concert tickets will be available at Four Seasons Flowers in Northville, Beitner Jewelry in Plymouth, Arnoldt Williams Music in Canton and Liberty Music in Ann Arbor.

Single concert tickets for regular season concerts are $6 for adults and $3.50 for senior citizens and full-time college students.

Free transportation for senior citizens is provided from Tonquish Creek Manor the afternoon of each concert and there will be free babysitting for preschoolers during the concerts.

Information about Plymouth Symphony memberships may be obtained by contacting the Plymouth Symphony Society, P.O. Box 467, Plymouth or call Mrs. Barbara King at 453-8356.

Bell visits city council

As he promised when he accepted the superintendency of the Northville Public School System in June, George Bell is getting acquainted with the district community.

With board president Douglas Whitaker he dropped in at the Northville City Council meeting September 13 at the conclusion of the school board's own meeting about 10 p.m.

As Whitaker introduced him, he noted that Bell was visiting official bodies "as early in the school year as he could."

Bell told the council he is "delighted to be in Northville" and plans to be "very visible and very accessible." He assured the council he will be "receptive to hearing from you."

Services held for three lifelong residents

LEONA M. BOGART

Funeral service for Leona M. Bogart, a life resident of Northville, was held at 10:30 a.m. Monday at Casterline Funeral Home with the Reverend Guenther C. Branstner, minister of First United Methodist Church, officiating.

Burial was in Rural Hill Cemetery. Mrs. Bogart, who had been a resident of Allen Terrace at 401 High, died September 16 at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia after an illness of several months.

She was born April 14, 1912, in Northville to Fredrick and Blanch (Hotelling) Moffitt.

She leaves one son Lawrence, brothers Gordon and Jack and one grandchild.

A homemaker, she was a member of the Northville Senior Citizens' Club.

The family suggests that memorial tributes may be made to the Michigan Heart Association.

FRANK N. JUNOD

Lifetime Northville resident Frank N. Junod, of 523 W. Dunlap, died September 19 at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. He was 69.

Born in Northville December 1, 1912, to Arthur C. and Alice (Litsenberger) Junod, Mr. Junod is survived by his mother, a Northville resident. His wife, Vivian, died January 24 of this year.

Mr. Junod, a Northville High graduate, was retired from L.A. Young Spring and Wire Company. In addition to his mother, he is survived by brothers Jack of Royal Oak and Sidney of Florida; and sister Mary Jane Rayson of New York. One brother, Dick, is deceased.

Mr. Junod was a VFW member and a member of Masonic Lodge 139 in Northville.

JACK D. TAGGART

Jack D. Taggart, a lifetime resident of Northville, died at home September 15, following a 10-year illness. Mr. Taggart was 56.

Born to Cecil and Albina (Elbi) Taggart, August 5, 1926, in Northville, Mr. Taggart is survived by his mother.

A retiree from Chevrolet, Mr. Taggart was affiliated with the Northville Eagles. Divorced, he leaves brother Robert of Arizona, son Randy of Southfield and two grandchildren, John and Jim.

Services were Saturday at Casterline Funeral Home. The Reverend Guenther Branstner of Northville First United Methodist church officiated at the 10 a.m. service. Burial was at Glen Eden Memorial Park in Livonia.

Skubick joins Omnicom

Suzanne Skubick joined Omnicom of Michigan last week as Community Affairs and Program Director. Omnicom vice president and general manager Betsy Seeley announced.

Omnicom, a division of Capital Cities Communications, holds and operates cable television franchises in Northville, Plymouth and Canton.

Skubick, a former staff member of the Michigan Senate Special Committee on Cable TV, will act as a liaison with communities served by Omnicom and will oversee local programming operations.

"Suzanne has had extensive experience working with communities in their efforts to understand cable television," said Seeley. "She has a thorough knowledge of the cable television industry as well as an understanding of the franchised communities' concerns."

Skubick has advised many municipalities around the state regarding franchising and refranchising. She wrote "Citizens Guide to Cable Television," a publication of the Senate Cable Committee.

"I have always been an advocate on the state level, and am excited to work with the Omnicom communities toward establishing a noteworthy local programming operation," Skubick said.

High school band performs at Tiger Stadium Sunday

Normally the words "marching band" and "September" would conjure up images of a football gridiron someplace like Pontiac or Ann Arbor, but the Northville High School Marching Mustangs were stepping to a different drummer Sunday.

The 42-member ensemble did its half-time routine all right, but the drums, sousaphones and trombones were parading at Tiger Stadium in Detroit before more than 16,000 baseball fans attending a late-season home game with the Boston Red Sox.

The band, under the direction of Michael Rumbell and led by drum major Deborah Salisbury, performed prior to the September 19 ballgame as part of a national effort by the Kiwanis Club to increase awareness and concern for the handicapped.

According to band member Steve Chisnell, the Mustang Marching Band is still growing and accepting new members in grades 9-12. Those interested may contact Mr. Rumbell at 348-7908 or Chisnell at 349-3121.

Job placement service available

Employers in the Northville area who need reliable temporary part-time or full-time help can now use the free job placement services of Plymouth-Canton Community Education.

Students and former adult students of Community Education have been registering in Room 130 at the Plymouth-Canton High School. Job placement specialist Sharon Streen said the service is saving businesses time and money because of its careful screening and referral process.

Northville employers with job needs can contact Streen at 459-1180.

Cub Scouts meeting Thursday

There will be a School Cub Scouts. The program is open to all boys eight to 10 years old in the area including students at Amerman, St.

Paul's and Our Lady of Victory Schools. For more information, call Pack 755 Cubmaster Terry Wayne at 349-7643.

MacKinnon's participates in Lansing feast

By JEAN DAY

The "spread" that 35 Michigan restaurateurs offered 1,000 legislators and their staffs from noon to 2 p.m. September 15 on the lawn of the capitol in Lansing was far from a hot dog picnic.

Greg Goodman, one of the owners of MacKinnon's restaurant on Northville's Main Street, reports that each of the participating restaurants was serving "samples of its specific specialty."

Goodman, MacKinnon's chef Dean McHenry and restaurant employee Peggy Hodgson were offering triangles of farci of duck as well as corn & clam chowder.

This is the second year for the Taste of Michigan event sponsored by the Michigan Restaurant Association with participation by invitation.

It required some special effort, Goodman adds, as the capitol gardens have no electricity. He solved the problem of sauteing the farci of duck with a curbside grill.

"We were pleased that both Senator (R. Robert) Geake and Governor William Milliken sampled," Goodman mentions.

Geake, he notes, "was one of the few senators seeking out participants from their districts."

"Governor Milliken remembered being in Northville for the dedication of Mainstreet '78 renovation, and we reminded him that he had his picture taken on a bench right in front of our restaurant," Goodman reports, adding that the governor commented he was impressed with the Mainstreet results.

MacKinnon's was participating in the Lansing spread along with such well-known eating establishments as the Golden Mushroom in Southfield, the historic Holly Hotel, the Hathaway House in Blissfield, Anton's in Grosse Pointe Woods and the King's Table in Cadillac.

There also was participation by chain restaurants with Elias Brothers offering strawberries and cream, Bill Knapp's au gratin potatoes and shrimp with cocktail sauce, and the Holiday Inn of Traverse City cold cherry soup and cherry bran muffins. The Alpena Holiday Inn dish was smoked lake trout.

MacKinnon's, which opened in Northville in October, 1981, at 130 East Main, is one of the newer restaurants in the state.

Owners Goodman and Tom MacKinnon both are in their mid-twenties and are graduates of the Schoolcraft College culinary arts program. Third partner is West Bloomfield orthodontist Leonard Wades.

Goodman and MacKinnon gained experience in the United States and Europe before opening the Northville restaurant which features country French food served in a Victorian atmosphere.

MacKinnon was chef at the Holly Hotel and also worked in Brussels. Goodman was with the Clarkston Cafe for four-and-a-half years.

The Michigan Restaurant Association explains it selected the 35 restaurants to participate in the Taste of Michigan presentation to represent, as fully as possible, their 14 chapters and all areas of the state — ranging from Holly's Landing in Grand Rapids to the Exit Restaurant and Bakery in Birch Run. The latter, located just off the I-75, served up cheesy-potato soup, bean with ham soup and fresh baked French bread.

Headquartered in Southfield, the MRA represents some 1800 members and 3000 foodservice establishments in Michigan.

"Our legislators are always interested in the problems and progress of the foodservice industry because more than 360,000 Michiganders are employed in it."

"It's our largest retail business with sales of $3.8 billion last year," states Dick Cregar, this year's chairman of MRA, an owner of three foodservice businesses in Detroit, Warren and Troy.

"This (Taste of Michigan) is our way of saying thanks and of getting the legislators together with restaurant operators one-to-one to better understand each other."

Each restaurant served one or two of its specialties in its own booth.

The event, Cregar adds, is designed to cook up interest in the coming Michigan Restaurant/Hospitality Month of October.

"We think the restaurant and food service business is the most exciting, most dynamic thing happening in Michigan, of course."

"One look at the number of young people entering the food service schools, and the quality of young chefs and managers they're turning out will tell you how healthy our industry is today in Michigan," Cregar points out.

Sales for 1982 in Michigan's largest retail industry — food service — are expected to equal last year's $3.8 billion in spite of the recession, according to estimates by the MRA, which notes that is triple the sales recorded in 1970.

"The average Michigan resident will spend 37 percent of his-or-her food dollar dining outside the home this year, an amount up from 25 percent in 1955," the MRA says.

Nationally, restaurant sales are estimated to be 116 billion dollars, with Michigan eating establishments accounting for four billion, making Michigan one of the top 10 states in food sales.

"By the year 2000, we'll be spending 50 percent of our food dollar away from home," predicts Henry Montague, MRA president.

The sales estimates and predictions cover Michigan's 25,000 foodservice operations and are made annually as MRA observes Michigan Restaurant/Hospitality Month in October.

Montague points out that Americans spend a larger portion of their disposable income on "eating out" — four percent — than they do on new cars, education or medical services.

"This is a fiercely competitive business in these tough economic times," he says, however.

"The restaurant business is pure supply and demand, with survival depending strictly on the operator's ability to provide consistent quality in food and service and be innovative and up with

Fuel-efficient new furnace now available at South Lyon firm

With winter coming on, the cost of heating is gaining importance in family budget planning. A revolutionary new gas furnace made by Lennox Industries that can reduce heating bills as much as 42 percent may therefore be of interest to homeowners.

The G15 Pulse furnace, as it is called, is the most energy efficient gas furnace on the market today, according to Max Gates, the Lennox distributor in the South Lyon area.

The Pulse utilizes a new technology to achieve heating efficiencies ranging from 91-96 percent. The average furnace installed in homes throughout the United States today is 55-60 percent efficient, Gates noted.

Lennox, a major manufacturer of heating and air conditioning products, developed this new unit which is now on the market through its dealers.

The Pulse furnace operates on the principle of pulse combustion where minute quantities of natural gas or propane are ignited at a rate of 60-70 times per second within a closed combustion chamber. In addition, the unit uses a series of heat exchange surfaces to recover nearly all of the heat produced.

Conventional furnaces heat with an open flame, sending nearly half of the heat produced up the chimney, Gates explained.

Available in five capacities, ranging from 40,000-130,000 British thermal units (BTU) output, Pulse can meet the heating needs of any home, Gates said.

The new furnace was designed so that it can replace most of the estimated 30 million forced-air gas furnaces installed during the past 20 years. The units are compatible with central air conditioning and all other furnace accessories.

The major feature of the Pulse is its energy efficiency. The winter of 1981 forced many homeowners to pay hundreds of dollars in monthly gas heating bills, Gates points out. Based on its 91-96 percent efficiency rating, the Pulse could reduce a homeowner's gas bill by as much as 42 percent, according to a Lennox press release.

These energy savings quickly pay back the cost of installing a Pulse unit, Gates said. In fact, where heating demands are high, the unit can pay for itself in as little as 4.5 years, he added.

The Pulse has been under development for six years and has undergone extensive field testing in the United States and Canada during the past four winters. During field tests, the new furnace proved its efficiency and reliability, Lennox Industries claims. Efficiencies reached 96 percent and analysis of units after thousands of heating cycles revealed little wear on component parts, the company added. The heat exchange section of the Pulse carries a 20-year warranty.

The exhaust of the unit is only 100 degrees Fahrenheit and can be vented out the side of the house, much like a clothes dryer. This eliminates the need for a costly chimney, according to Gates.

The design of the furnace also makes it the safest gas furnace Lennox has ever produced, said company officials. A failsafe lockout system shuts the unit off should any irregularity in operation occur. The Pulse unit is fully approved by the American Gas Association, according to Lennox.

"The new Lennox Pulse furnace is a technological breakthrough that will help preserve precious supplies of natural gas," Gates said. "It is also an immediate benefit to homeowners in the United States looking for ways to reduce their utility bills."

WATER FUN ABOUNDS at the recently-opened Michigan Water World of Lyon Township. Located at 56558 Pontiac Trail, just east of Milford Road, Michigan Water World features twin 30-foot high water slides. Constructed of single steel reinforced poles, the 250-foot-long slides give riders exciting turns, dips, tunnels and banks before ending their slide in a 2½-foot-deep pool. The slides are the first phase of a five-phase plan for Water World, according to co-owners Ken Nelson and Terry Nicholas. The slides are engineered for safety, and supervisors are stationed at the top and bottom of the slides. In addition to the slides, Water World has a concession stand and eating plaza. September hours are 4-8 p.m. Fridays and 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. Before noon or after 6 p.m., prices are $2 for five rides or $3.25 for 12 rides. Between noon and 6 p.m., prices are $2.50 for five rides or $4 for 10 rides. Group rates will be available. Call 437-7550 for more information.

Surface Treatments is a subsidiary of Widger Chemical Corporation (formerly Tuff-Kote Incorporated).

KARL'S RESTAURANT on Gotfredson Road at North Territorial in Salem Township opened recently under the ownership of Karl and Sophia Poulos, residents of the township. Although American food is featured, the restaurant also offers a wide variety of foods from the Pouloses' homeland of Greece. A salad bar, surrounds the charcoal broiler in the rustic-styled dining room where patrons can watch the chef prepare steaks, spare ribs and chicken. Poulos, who has been in the restaurant business for 27 years, formerly owned Karl's Beef Buffet on Maple Road in Birmingham. A children's menu and diet specials are among the foods available. Adult dinners range in price from $3.25-$12. The restaurant is open from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m., Tuesday through Sunday.

FREE HOT AIR BALLOON rides will be one of the features when the West Oaks Shopping Center in Novi holds its Moonlight Madness Sale this Friday from 6-11 p.m.

Promotions Director Arlene Wilson said free trips in a hot air balloon will be offered at West Oaks from 7-10 p.m. during Midnight Madness hours. In addition, entry forms will be available at all West Oaks merchants for a free hot air balloon ride. The prize is being donated by Highamerica Balloon Center and the winner of the drawing will be notified.

In addition, all West Oaks merchants will be offering special prices on high-quality merchandise during the Midnight Madness Sale which will include displays on the sidewalks outside the stores.

West Oaks is located on Novi Road, immediately opposite Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi.

PAT KRESIN of Earl Keim's Northville office has not been convinced that real estate sales need to continue to be depressed. In a recent single week's activity, her sales exceeded $500,000.

Combining dedication and sales ability with hard work and long hours, Kresin's sales for the year are nearly $1.5 million and her personal goal of passing the $2 million level is within easy reach at her current pace.

Kresin said a personal love affair with the Northville area is an added plus when selling Metro Detroit newcomers to seek residence on the far west side.

The sales team at Earl Keim's Northville Realty office is continuing to succeed in a depressed market by meeting the needs of both buyer and seller and being able to communicate that commitment.

STARR ADVERTISING, INC. of Northville has been appointed agency of record for Helin Tackle Company of Detroit and Riviera Marine and Tackle Company of Austin, Texas. The announcement was made by Henry A. Starr, president.

Raymond P. Rinke, president of the two companies, said Starr will be responsible for all consumer and trade advertising efforts effective immediately.

Helin Tackle manufactures and markets fishing lures including the world's best-selling lure, the Flatfish. Riviera is the producer of fishing down-riggers and equipment. Account management for both firms will be handled by Starr's senior account executive, Bruce Masters.

BIG LOUIE'S PIZZA now is open for business at 445 North Main Street in downtown Milford. Big Louie's offers pizza, subs and nachos for sit-down or carry out dining.

The new restaurant is owned by Robert Lincoln Lewis and managed by Karen L. Cockin. The kitchen has been remodeled, while the restaurant itself gives a taste of an Italian atmosphere, according to Lewis.

Currently Big Louie's is offering a "buy one pizza, get a second one free" promotion, which includes free quarts of pop. Lewis claims that "it's the cheapest way to feed a family."

Big Louie's is open Monday through Thursday from 11 a.m. to 12:30 a.m., Friday from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Saturday from 4 p.m. to 2:30 a.m. and Sunday from 4 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

Poet's Corner

Bananas Flitting

 happily from rail to cobweb sitting on slight asian rugs flying on yellow puffs of air laughing at jokes without rhyme jumping higher than the ground running past the confusion singing over the din kissing under the water loving

A White Mouse Named Jim

In a pet store a white mouse named Jim
 Took a knife his long whiskers to trim,
 But the knife caught his tail:
 Now his price is wholesale
 For the owner cannot retail him!

Friends

Friends around the fireside
 Laughter and cheer abound
 Inside the logs are blazing Outside the snowflakes tumble down.
 We gather here in friendship
 To eat and drink and dance
 For time is short in this busy world
 So we make use of every chance.
 Precious is our time with friends.
 Moments to remember as we look back
 Funny stories and warm handshakes
 For too soon we all lose track.

Sue Cook

Love

Like an eagle in flight
 Wings spread, soaring upward
 Love enjoys its freedom
 No one can bind or, imprison it
 To exist at all, it Must have its own way
 At will the mighty eagle Sweeps earthward
 Gracefully
 Loves pleasure may bring
 A little sadness, hope deferred
 Yet no other emotion
 Gives so much to Those who allow it to be Soaring free!

Agnes Caldwell

Summer Storm

Humid and hot
 All around
 Steam on the rise
 Up from the ground
 Clouds drift in
 The air cools
 Rain pours down
 Forming pools
 It rains for a while
 And then it stops
 Leaving only
 Lingering dewdrops.

Lynne E. Harrison

Not A Star Dims

Warming air, a rising star glows.
 Life stirs in a mist—

Alarms blare, shavers shave, machines rip the flesh of a succulent globe.
 A race consumes the juice.
 The skeleton of a globe is transformed—rusting, crusting shells.

Rats race, a planet shrivels.

Union of socket and plug brings forth artificial power, in artificial caves, celebration
 of self proclaimed brilliance.

Decayed life burns, graveyard voices go unheard.

In a void.
 Amongst countless pinprick stars,
 from a speck of dust,
 simultaneously,
 ore billion toasters pop up!

And make not a sound, and not a star dims.

Doubtful Desertion

Only the flowers didn't move—
 Vacant windows
 Broken out,
 Flaked paint
 On the old grey house
 But Orange Tiger lilies
 Stood arbor on guard,
 Across the front.

City with Streets of Gold

I'm looking forward to that city
 With streets of gold
 Home sweet home
 Where angels worship about the throne
 Where children walk hand in hand
 And the heavenly choir sings of peace on earth — goodwill towards man
 Seraphim and cherubim sing
 Praises unto the Lord God most high Yes, I'm looking forward to that
 City with streets of gold
 Where no one ever grows old
 And no one ever has to die
 City with streets of gold
 And home sweet home

A Questing

Caress the sky's azure blue, with the wings of golden thought.
 Search the horizons' far distant hue, and find for which you have sought.
 And when you perceive your sublime goal, rejoice to the world, which rises up.
 Tell them of your ever searching soul, and the fulfilling quest of your cup...

Mike Hager

Children of Society

They say we only have one life to live
 They say we should learn to love, and give
 They say we're fools in our own little ways
 They did the same things in their day
 They tell us to grow
 Then they tell us no
 We choose the way our lives will go
 They say we're wrong, But what do you know
 They're still growing to this very day
 Pretending they're happy, carefree, and gay They've got their cars, their homes, and their boats
 They change our world so quickly every day
 They tear down nature to build it their way
 What's wrong with the world the way it use to be
 This is something I fail to see
 So learn to love, to care, and see
 Fore this is the only life God has given to me.

All Wet

Distant breezes before me blow, to the rhythm of whispering leaves.
 Caressing the meadows, the winds do go,
 from the spent nor'wester off the seas.

The texture of the mood is one of light, with the warm gentle fragrance of the field, and the never too distant crispness of night.
 This to me, is what life doth yield.

Where would we be if it never rained, especially in the far off distant plains of Spain?
 No water to throw, no water to drink,
 no water to wash your big stinky feet.

And all the peoples faces would look like granite.
 gosh! Oh Gee! I don't think I could stand it.
 But, alas, no fear, the rain is about due,
 now we won't wind up looking like poor ole'
 Aunt Sue.

Mike Hager

Time (eternity)

Time and eternity
 All my dreams have been lost at sea yet, the dim light of hope still shines in me light for all the world to see Life and love from above beauty expressed in words of poetry
 Oh, who will set us free from our madness and insanity
 Who, but the lamb of God
 He who died for you and me
 Yes, he will break the bonds and set us free —!

Buddy Dennis

Ode (or new) To Gayle

Gayle is a girl whom I know,
 Though true it has not been for long
 And really its kind of quite simple
 As if forsooth one sung yon song

It bea thich yon Gayle is a person
 That Capricorns Brussel sprouts fly
 It can be a wondrous sight
 When he swoops and — lands in China

Oh Gayle my dear my darling
 I ode and I sometimes yes new
 For though I am wise and yes charming
 I cannot comparith with you

The Album

opens to a page of you Group shot your back is turned all laughing
 at a joke I cannot hear Another swimming your head pink dot in blue
 The car you loved you're there somewhere
 with windows shut
 View of mountains foreground your legs on chaise
 A glass of wine your right hand
 raising it salut!
 Ah, yes, the portrait that must show—
 but, no.
 Where you were is only space, white space
 your face—
 not you.

The Life and Times of Elmer Greenbourn

Eating cherries in the night
 Loving lively style
 Reaping willows blinded right
 Walking for a mile

I ran into a little lad
 Kadafi was his name
 Wearing armor iron clad Fighting was his game
 I asked him "Why you fight?" I say
 "Who is your enemy?"
 He said "I fight for what I play"
 "I'd like a drink of tea"

I let him drink from my canteen
 Then asked him "death is play?"
 His face then changed from kind to mean
 He turned his gun my way

His eyebrows narrowed he looked at me
 His gun was in my face
 He killed me as I began to see
 His hate of the human race

And so I go to the clouds
 In ever lasting light
 But I'll never forget the shroud
 Of a man I met one night

For Donna Jean

Three years ago a wish was expressed
 To lead a life that would contain much happiness
 The wonderful thoughts your heart held that day
 You've proven out in every way.
 Graduation! Your day finally was here
 Eyes all cloudy, do I see a tear?
 Names were called you jump a little
 For soon you'd be walking down that middle
 Your name was called by a voice loud and clear
 Oh Golly, Oh Dear! Your time was here
 You jump from your seat with a start
 To receive your diploma and a hand shake from a heart
 Who knew you deserved every bit of cheer
 And clapping your ears did hear
 As you turned your heart again fluttered Sitting there was Mom, Dad, Dan and John your big brother
 With eyes all cloudy I hope you were still able to see
 The many, many smiling faces God had put there for you from me.

Autumn in Ohio

The rain trailed water vapor across the fields.
 The clouds dipped low like heavy-bellied cows above the gathered trees.
 The corn, plucked clean of cobs, had gone to stalk.
 And hawks rode up-drafts
 of the nudging wind.
 The moment hung slight as a leaf about to sail its final voyage down.

Memories of the Past

Somehow, somehow I have to stop these pains of anxiety
 Worrisome memories race from past to present
 Sending me farther from the worries of today
 They come back from within the past
 But when they come it's far from on time
 We're suppose to learn from our mistakes
 So how come the memories don't come back in time
 We go through the pain again and then some more
 Yet it's the same mistake we made before
 And it's a mistake we'll make many times more.

Missed chances hinder gridgers in 12-7 loss

By JOHN MYERS

It was a most bitter defeat for the Northville football team and head coach Dennis Colligan Friday night at Westland John Glenn.

The Mustangs invaded the Rockets' home field with loads of enthusiasm and determination, but fell short in downing highly-regarded John Glenn 12-7.

"People were coming over after the game and telling me how good we played. I wanted to win it; the kids wanted to win," Colligan related. "It has to be somewhat of a disappointment to lose."

No doubt because the Mustangs had three opportunities throughout the game to put some points on the board, only to come away empty-handed. Turn one of those miscues into a six-pointer and the Mustangs go home upset winners.

The epitome of this frustration, though, came late in the fourth quarter when the Mustangs were driving toward a possible game-winning touchdown.

Northville started its last-gasp drive with just 4:47 remaining in the contest after John Glenn went ahead on quarterback Jeff Hawley's six-yard run. The try for the two-point conversion failed.

The Mustangs proceeded down the field, and reached the Rockets' 31-yard line with just over a minute to play. On third down and five, Northville quarterback Dave Longridge threw an incomplete pass. Again, on fourth down, Longridge lofted an aerial to tight end Mike Weber who couldn't quite catch the pigskin with two Glenn defenders also battling for it. The ball fell to the ground, and with it, Northville's chances to continue its drive for a six-pointer.

"Late in the game, that was our biggest downfall. Our inability to complete a pass," Colligan noted. "When we needed it, we didn't have it."

Longridge finished the night with only one completion in 11 attempts for 49 yards, but Colligan blamed part of that dismal total on pass protection and the periodic rainfalls during the game.

"I think there were a combination of things (for ineffective passing). Our pass blocking breaking down and the ball was a little slippery," he explained.

Still, Colligan admitted it was the team's inability to provide a balanced offensive attack — passing and running — to get the Mustangs the win.

"The offense...it's just an imbalance," he said. "We need to improve our passing game."

The Mustangs looked impressive on their opening drive of the night when Jim Thomson returned the kickoff to the Northville 38-yard line.

Northville moved the ball effectively down the field to the Rockets' 16-yard line. But, a motion penalty pushed the ball back to the 21, and Northville stalled there when Andy Dimitroff's halfback pass to Thomson on fourth down was deflected by a John Glenn defender.

"We used about every trick we had," Colligan declared.

In the second quarter, Northville drove deep into Rocket territory but the drive was stopped at the 19-yard line. It was here John Glenn mounted its first touchdown drive.

Running back Todd Jennings found huge holes opened by his offensive line and churned out big yardage on nearly every play. He capped the 81-yard scoring drive by bulling over the goalline from two yards out.

Jennings also was the workhorse in the eventual win-ing drive for John Glenn as he finished with a school-record 222 yards on 37 carries.

"We gave up some huge yards to Jennings," Colligan lamented. "The secondary made some good plays on him. That shows our defensive linemen were getting handled."

"But, I really can't blame the defense," he added.

Northville scored its lone touchdown late in the third quarter. The key play in the drive was a Longridge to Brian Jennings pass for 49 yards to get the ball deep in Rocket territory. Jennings almost broke the play for a six-pointer, but he was tripped up by a diving John Glenn defender at the last minute.

Eventually, Dimitroff pounded his way into the endzone on a fourth and two play on a left end sweep to knot the score at 6-all. Bill Kinard's extra point gave Northville a slim 7-6 lead. Dimitroff finished the night with 116 yards on 26 carries.

The Rockets were driving again on Northville when they were behind 7-6 early in the fourth quarter, but Matt Meyer sacked Hawley and recovered the loose ball to give the Mustangs some new life.

"I thought we were in great shape when we recovered that fumble," Colligan said. "Matt Meyer did a great job on that play."

"That should have given us some incentive," he continued. "I thought we could move the ball down the field and maybe kick a field goal."

"But, we only got one first down and we had to punt," Colligan said.

John Glenn scored its eventual winning six-pointer after Thomson's punt.

"They're (John Glenn) good. We were up to the task, but we failed in a few areas. But, I can't fault the kids," Colligan assessed.

"We really cut down our mistakes. I knew we would have to play a near perfect game to beat John Glenn," he added.

Unlike the 15 penalties for 170 in the opener against Redford Thurston last week, the Mustangs had only three penalties for 15 yards.

The defensive secondary work Colligan raved about was spearheaded by Kevin Hite's 14 tackles, while John Quinn added seven.

The Mustangs do not get it any easier as they open Western Lakes Activities Association play 2 p.m. Saturday against defending state Class B champion Farmington Harrison.

Harriers continue winning ways against Farmington

By JOHN MYERS

Farmington gave the youthful Northville boys' cross country all it could muster last week, but the Mustangs ne out on top once again to keep their beaten streak alive.

Northville clipped the Falcons 28-29 Thursday for its first Western Lakes Activities Association triumph, 1 second for the season. The Mustangs are 1-0 in the Western Division, while the Falcons are 0-1 in the Lakes Division.

We knew we were going to have a close one with Farmington," head coach Ed Gabrys said. "We did it the way we have to win."

And what the Mustangs are relying heavily this season is finishing in as close a pack together as possible — which is the way they have to do it to win.

Farmington's Lenny Ditzel came across the finish line first in 16:27 at the Island Community College course used by the Falcons for their home meets.

Jim O'Neill and Jim Willoughby followed in respectively for Northville behind Ditzel. O'Neill was clocked at 16:50 for second place, while Willoughby was close on his heels at 16:55.

with only one Falcon among them.

Kurt Assenmacher placed sixth with a time of 17:45, but it was the pack of Doug Doyle, Pete Wojcicki, Dave Nafe and Rich Naszardi which helped gain the victory.

Doyle was eighth at 17:54, Wojcicki was ninth at 18:00, Nafe was 10th at 18:07 and Naszardi was 11th at 18:11 to prevent the Falcons from winning the meet.

One thing which encouraged Gabrys was his runners were all within a little over a minute of each across the line, but he does want to improve on that aspect.

"It would be nice to get within a minute, and to get that minute faster," he noted.

Nonetheless, he liked chalking up the first win in the new league. "Farmington is a good cross country team. It makes the victory kind of sweet," he added.

In the junior varsity meet, Northville came out on top 26-36 behind the winning performance of freshman Ken Booth. He crossed the line first at 18:21.

The girls' team ran a non-scoring meet against North Farmington and Royal Oak Dondero, but Gabrys believes his squad would have won it if the runners could have scored.

Kelly Wool was the top Mustang harrier with a time of 19:29 with Kim

Both the girls' and boys' team took seventh place finishes, but it was their performance against other WLAA squads which had Gabrys encouraged. Eight of the 10 WLAA squads were at the meet, excluding Walled Lake Western and Central, and the girls' team ran even with everyone but Churchill, which won the meet.

Wool made the All Invitational team with her fifth place finish at a time of 19:52. Assenmacher was 23rd (21:56), Nuechterlein was 31st (22:19), Margie Wojcicki was 51st (23:39) and Eleanor Trumbull was 83rd (26:26).

"I feel confident for the girls to finish at the league in the top five," Gabrys declared.

The top seven boys' runners all raced within a 1:10 of each other with O'Neill taking 28th overall in a 17:46 clocking. Pat Campbell was right behind at 17:47, while Willoughby was 34th at 17:54. Other runners included Wojcicki (18:36), Doyle (18:39), Nafe (18:44) and

Booth took third overall in the junior varsity with an 18:51 clocking. Also running in the junior varsity were Mike Siefkin (19:11), Chris Jones (19:36), Matt Morarak (19:46) and Scott Yeakle (19:56).

Even though the runners have turned in faster times than the previous week, Gabrys noted those were on flatter courses than the home Cass Benton course.

"The one thing to remember is that Cass Benton (has more hills). It's kind of hard to compare (times on different courses) because there are a lot of variables," he explained.

"The spread is encouraging, but we have to get faster times," Gabrys added.

The Mustangs face WLAA Western Division foe Farmington Harrison Thursday. Northville will face non-league North Farmington Tuesday.

Surprising tankers second at Western Lakes Relays

By JOHN MYERS

Northville's girls' swim team made more than a few waves at the first Western Lakes Activities Association Relays Saturday.

The Mustangs turned in a strong performance to place second behind champion Livonia Stevenson, but second-year coach Bill Dicks noted many people were impressed with his squad.

"I think Northville surprised people. I don't think they thought we are as strong as we showed," he explained. "They're (Mustangs) swimming hard."

Stevenson took the championship trophy with 88 points, and Northville was close behind at 76. Plymouth Salem and Livonia Bentley tied for third at 73, while Plymouth Canton took fifth with 61 points. Farmington was next at 18 and Livonia Churchill was last with eight points. Farmington Harrison did not compete.

"Stevenson I expected to win it. The battle was between the first four teams and it was who got the breaks, who pushed harder and the girls (Northville) did that," Dicks added.

The Mustangs proved the strength of their squad when they improved upon their fourth place preliminary standing and swam 12 seconds faster as a team in the final heats. "That's a heck of a drop. They were really going strong," Dicks declared.

"We were little more pumped up and we put it together for the finals," he observed. "In four of the 10 events, we moved up a place while we stayed even in the rest."

The 200-meter breaststroke relay team of Cindy Panowicz, Jill Roth, Holly Sellen and Shawn Bales was one of those squads to improve both their time and place.

The squad finished first with a time of 2:06.8, which was nearly four seconds better than the preliminary clocking.

The 200-meter butterfly squad of Tish Settles, Kathy Bainbridge, Kim Thompson and Kristin Nelsen took first in the finals with a 1:56.6 clocking. That was two seconds better than their first-place preliminary clocking.

The Cresendo relay team of Khri Korowin, Settles, Panowicz and Nelsen were runners-up in a time of 5:10.6, nearly a second off their second-place preliminary time.

The diving tandem of Mandy Watts and Cathy Heitert took third with 260.20 points. They were in fourth place after the preliminaries.

Two relay teams also took third-place finishes. Bainbridge, Sellen, Bales and Thompson claimed top honors in the 400-meter medley relay at 4:37.14, nearly two seconds better than their preliminary time. The 400-meter freestyle relay squad of Dawn Biondi, Tisha Johnson, Peggy Herald and Roth was third in a 5:10.1 clocking.

The 200-meter freestyle team of Jill Kilner, Sue VanderBok, Herald and Biondi finished fifth, up one notch from the preliminary heat.

Both the 200-meter breaststroke squad of Karen Brining, Cathy Sawyer, Johnson and Vanderbok; and the 200-meter medley relay team of Sawyer, Korowin, Karen and Kim Brining took fourth in the finals. The 400-meter freestyle relay squad of Kilner, Kim Harrington and Kim Mobarak took sixth

All four of these squads improved their times from the preliminaries as well.

The Mustangs were riding the crest of a two-meet win streak heading into the WLAA Relays Saturday. Northville opened its season with a 73-54 triumph over Ypsilanti last week Tuesday and followed it with another verdict over Redford Union 89-34 last Thursday.

Both non-league wins give the Mustangs an overall mark of 2-0.

Northville was engaged in a lot of close races with Ypsilanti, and the Mustangs usually came out on the better end. Also, there is a new dual meet scoring rule in effect in which no team can score more than two places in one event.

This will eliminate a team in events from outscoring its opponent even though it lost the race but took the next three positions in a four-lane pool.

Such was the case last year for the Mustangs, who had only 11 swimmers, who would win an event, but their opponent would take the next three slots to outscore Northville.

Northville swam away with six of a possible 11 first-place finishes against Ypsilanti. Leading the way was Nelson with top finishes in the 500-yard freestyle (5:34.5) and the 200-yard freestyle (2:23.0).

Other firsts were taken by Heitert in diving (134.5); Panowicz in the 100-yard breaststroke (1:19.5); Bales in the 100-yard backstroke (1:10.3); and the 200-yard medley relay team of Sellen, Kim Brining, Nelson and Settles (2:03.7).

Gail Engelmeyer won a couple of tough three set matches

Tennis team downs two WLAA rivals

The streak is at five and counting for the Northville girls' tennis team. The Mustangs pulled out a squeaker against Western Lakes Activities Association Lakes Division foe Livonia Stevenson 4-3 last week Monday, and then blanked Western Division rival Walled Lake Western 7-0 last week Wednesday to extend its unbeaten string.

Northville now stands at 5-0 overall and 3-0 in the Western Division in the Western Lakes, but that unblemished record was almost dented by Stevenson. Gail Engelmeyer won a close three set match at second singles against Gilda Kleer 6-2, 2-6, 6-3 to snare victory from defeat for the Mustangs. It was the last match to finish for the day.

"All of them (sets) were played in blistering hot weather," coach Uta Filkin noted.

The only other singles triumph came from Holly Hubbard. She downed Toni Skatkat in straight 6-3 sets at fourth singles.

Both the second and third doubles won their matches to help set up Engelmeyer's clinching verdict.

Jeanne Cook and Jean DuSabolon were victorious at second doubles with a 6-3, 6-2 decision over Michelle DuBukue and Stacy Quartermone. Vicki Robins and Amy Nieuwkoop defeated Karen and Sharon Porter 6-2, 7-6 at third doubles.

Northville's first singles netter, Marnie Dillow, had to default against Sue Gjernes because of a minor muscle pull in her arm.

Gjernes had won the first set 6-3 and was leading 5-0 in the second when Dillow was forced to default.

The first doubles team of Jackie Nicols and Denise Covolas lost to Kathy Skaisgr and Connie Wielosinski 3-6, 4-6 in "a very tough match," according to Filkin.

The veteran mentor was surprised at the ease with which her squad handled Western after the close match with Stevenson. "Stevenson had beaten Western 4-3, so I expected a little closer match," she said.

Dillow won in straight 6-3 sets over Julie Jenkins to prove her arm was better than it was Monday. Engelmeyer won another three set match, this time over Lisa Roselle 6-3, 1-6, 6-3.

Like Dillow, Jill Sien won in straight 6-3 sets over Marcia Bryant, while Hubbard stroked a 6-2, 6-1 win over Tracy Schweizer.

All three doubles teams were victorious, and leading the way were Nicols and Covolas who downed Western's Lori Kiffner and Jen Sorrentino 3-6, 7-5, 6-4.

Cook and DuSabolon were 7-5, 6-2 winners over Colleen Ithue and Terri Palizzi, while Robins and Nieuwkoop downed Lori McGovern and Diane Mecham 7-5, 6-3.

Northville has a busy week as it played Western Lakes foe Plymouth Salem Monday; travels to Western Division rival Livonia Churchill today; and hosts non-league Novi at 4 p.m. Friday.

Cagers humbled by two WLAA foes

Rick Hurst told his young Northville girls' basketball team there would be times like last week.

"Since the summer I've tried to be honest with them, and I told them there will be days like this," he explained.

Both Western Lakes Activities Association foes Plymouth Canton and Livonia Stevenson taught the Mustangs some basketball lessons last week.

Canton limited Northville to zero points in the third quarter to coast to an easy 50-20 triumph last week Tuesday, while Stevenson held the Mustangs to two third-quarter points in a 53-21 thumping last Thursday. Northville now stands at 1-3 overall and 1-2 in the Western Division.

"We ran into people who knew how to play," Hurst offered. "Both teams do the same things. They were pressing us full court. Both are quick enough, and good enough, and we had trouble bringing the ball down the court."

"We just can't break the press and make them pay for it," he added.

"Stevenson showed us a full, three-quarter and half-court press and we just don't have one or two guards that have seen it before," Hurst continued.

The first-year coach also is shouldering some of the blame for the low third-quarter output in each game. Part of the reason, Hurst said, was the team has been busying working on its defense, rebounding and bringing the ball up the court, thus not spending a lot of time working on its offense.

In both games last week, Hurst noted, the Mustangs were not able to get organized offensively to get decent shots off because of the constant pressure being applied.

Also, he declared the other teams are better able to make adjustments at halftime, while his squad just goes back out doing the same things it knows.

One thing that bothered Hurst about the performance of the Mustangs against Stevenson was the lack of poise and maturity; it had begun to show against Canton.

"It was discouraging my youngsters went down against Stevenson," he said. "They lost some of the poise they had gained against Canton. They became frustrated at times and threw the ball away."

Stevenson held a 31-12 halftime advantage over the Mustangs with senior center Tracy Wilkinson tossing in eight of the 12. "Tracy Wilkinson played well against Stevenson. She scored pretty well in the first half," Hurst commended.

However, Wilkinson was unable to add to her total in the second half. Denise Liddle finished with four points and Jenny Gans added three for Northville's other top scorers.

The play of Liddle against Stevenson pleased Hurst. "It was good to see her play well on Thursday. I was pleased with her effort," he praised.

In that infamous third quarter against Canton, Northville did manage to launch 16 shots but none fell through the basket to give the Chiefs an insurmountable 45-8 lead. Most of the shots came from medium range around the hoop, but Hurst explained "either we were shooting in situations we were not familiar with or we didn't get the solid rebound for some reason. That was because our offense was being rattled."

Kathy Korowin topped the Mustangs with five points, while Kelly Parker, Gans and Wilkinson all chipped in four.

There were a couple of silver linings found by Hurst in the dark clouds of defeat. One is handling an opponents man-to-man defense and the other is coping with steals which lead to easy lay ups for the opposition.

"They do show signs of figuring out

Tankers place second

Diving was the only event in which the Mustangs did not take a first-place finish against Redford Union. However, both the 200 medley relay team of Sellen, Kim Brining, Karen Brining and Kliner (2:10.0) and the 400 freestyle relay squad of Kim Brining, Harrington, Herald and Kliner (4:35.0) started and finished the meet, respectively, with firsts.

Individual firsts were recorded by Nelson in the 200 freestyle (2:05.0), Thompson in the 200 individual medley (2:27.1), Bales in the 50 freestyle (26.1), Settles in the 300 freestyle (5:33.8), Fellicelli in the 100 freestyle (1:01.8), Bainbridge in the 100 butterfly (1:10.2), and Sawyer in the 100 breaststroke (1:32.8).

Second-place finishes were recorded by Denise McBae in diving (136.45), Bales in the 100 butterfly (1:14.0), Linda Short in the 100 breaststroke (1:35.57), Johnson in the 50 freestyle (1:03.73), Korowin in the 50 freestyle (1:02.61), Bainbridge in the 200 individual medley (2:38.7), and the team of Bales, Fellicelli, Herald and Settles in the 200 medley relay (2:17.2).

The team has a long lay off before encountering WLA Lakes Division rival Livonia Bentley Thursday, September 30.

Old bugaboo hurts soccer team against Canton

An old bugaboo reappeared in Northville's boys' soccer match with West Suburban Soccer Association rival Plymouth Canton last week Monday, but unlike previous contests, the Mustangs were on the short end of the score.

Northville also fell to a strong WSSA Livonia Stevenson squad, 5-2, last week Wednesday which evened the Mustangs' overall mark at 3-3.

The Mustangs outshot the Chiefs 22-7, but allowed two second-half goals to fall 3-2. Northville has twice before outshot opponents by a wide margin only to come away with a slim victory. Not this time.

Tom Wright drilled in two goals in the second half, the last one coming late in the game, to pace the Chiefs to their second win in as many tries.

Co-coaches Marvin Gans and Dan Swayne noted the game seemed to run longer than normal. The coaches estimated the second half ran anywhere between 45-48 minutes, while the first half went about 45 minutes. A normal contest has two 40-minute halves.

Wright also tallied Canton's first goal in the opening half on a penalty kick. However, Northville's Fabio Nielsen connected twice to give the Mustangs a 2-1 halftime advantage.

Even though the Mustangs played better against Stevenson, the Spartans scored quickly and held on to record a 2-0 verdict.

The Mustangs will face another tough WSSA rival in North Farmington Thursday before heading to the Flitt Carmen tournament Saturday.

Aside from host Carmen and Northville, last year's state champion Troy Athens and Lansing Waverly will be participating. The coaches acknowledge it will be a tough tournament.

Northville faces Athens at 11 a.m. Saturday for its first match. The first game between Carmen and Waverly begins at 9:30 a.m. The consolation contest will start at 3 p.m. and the championship contest is slated for 5 p.m.

Rotary Run

These are just a few of the many awards Lieutenant William Tomczyk will be handing out at the Third Annual "Discover Northville" Rotary Run Saturday at Northville Downs. There still is time to enter race as applications will be taken the day of the race. The cost is $9. There will be a five and 10 kilometer race along with a one mile run for runners 12 years old and under. Trophies will be awarded to the overall male and female winners in the 10 kilometer race with trophies for the top three runners and medals for the fourth and fifth place runners in each division. T-Shirts will be given to all entrants. Tomczyk reports he has received entries from Canada as well as one wheelchair runner. For more information, call Tomczyk at 348-1505 or 420-2777. # Linkers look to turn fortunes around

Joe Blake certainly hopes Monday's performance by his Northville boys' golf team is an indication of better things to come.

Even though the Mustangs dropped a 205-208 decision to Western Lakes Activities Association foe Plymouth Salem, it was the first time in nearly two weeks Northville had scored under 210 as a team.

The Mustangs, however, linked together two victories last week to raise their overall mark to 4-3 and even their Western Division ledger at 2-2.

Northville downed Lakes Division rival Livonia Bentley 219-221 last week Wednesday and topped non-league Livonia Clarenceville 226-234 Thursday. "Neither team scored very well," said coach Joe Blake, indicating his displeasure at Northville's scores despite the triumphs.

But the tough loss to Salem has Blake thinking the team may be turning around in time before it gets too late to challenge for the divisional title.

"It's early on, but we have to start winning matches (league) before it gets too late," he explained.

Gary Metz carded his best round of the season against Salem as he came in with a 39 to top Northville. Both Ray Nutter and Bob Pegrum carded 40, while Dave Pohlod had a 44 and Eric Morfe a 45.

"We had some players with good scores, but we couldn't add to that," said Blake, adding the search continues for a consistent fifth and sixth golfer.

"Salem has a good team, and played well," he praised. "It would have been quite an accomplishment to beat Salem, and we almost did it."

In the match against Bentley, Pohlod topped Northville with a 41. Kip Mach carded a 42, while Pegrum had a 43, Metz a 45 and Nutter a 48.

Against Clarenceville, both Mach and Pohlod recorded 43 to lead the Mustangs. Pegrum had a 45, while Metz carded a 47 and Nutter a 48.

Northville is hosting Western Division opponent Walled Lake Western today at Salem Hills Golf Course, and travels Thursday to play Lakes Division rival Farmington.

Fall registration continues

Here is a brief rundown of some of the programs offered:

O'Sheehan's is sponsoring the First Annual Fun Run in conjunction with the Northville Trotters Running Club and the recreation department Saturday, November 6. All proceeds will go the recreation department.

The five kilometer race will begin at 9 a.m. and the 10 kilometer race at 9:30 a.m. by O'Sheehan's Tavern, 43333 Seven Mile. Medals will be awarded to the first and second place male and female finishers in each age

Early registrations must be received by Friday, October 29. The cost is $4 for 12 years old and under, $5 for running club members, $6 for 13 years old and older and $9 for late registration. For more information, call 349-0203.

There is an information packet at the recreation department for all interested skiers between the ages of 12 and 17 years old. The club is open to 350 members, and registration will take place the month of November only. The club will ski at Alpine Valley on Friday evenings.

There is a basketball league for all boys and girls in third through ninth grades. All games will be played on Saturdays and 1/2r Sundays with the season running from January until March. Practices begin in late November. Coaches are needed. Registration will last until October 22.

For those into physical fitness, Peg Kozler will once again conduct an aerobic dance class and total conditioning class.

Pode victorious in grid contest

Only one contest kept both Ron Pode and Art Thompson from recording perfect selections in the second week of the football contest.

Both Pode, of Northville, and Thompson, of Farmington, showed their Maize and Blue colors by going with Michigan to defeat Notre Dame. However, the Fighting Irish came away with a 23-17 victory which prevented the pair from selecting a perfect 13 out of 13 games correctly.

Pode, though, came away with the $10 top prize as he was closer to the Houston/Arizona State score on the total points tie-breaker. Pode said 38 points as Arizona State won it 24-10. Thompson predicted 45 points, and claimed the $5 second prize.

Northville's Laurie McLeod beat out last week's winner Derek Osborne and Rick Marrone, both of Northville, for the $3 third prize. All three picked 11 winners, but McLeod was closest on the tie-breaker with her guess of 45 points. Osborne predicted 51 and Marrone 53.

The Michigan/Notre Dame gave the contestants the most problems as only 10 sided with the Fighting Irish. Another contest to cause problems was Bowling Green's upset of Central Michigan University as only 16 entrants felt the Falcons could pull off the triumph.

Surprisingly, 34 of 45 contestants predicted Miami of Ohio would be victorious over hapless Northwestern. Also, Walled Lake Central received little support as the Vikings only had 21 believers think they could beat North Farmington, which they did 14-6.

Colts winners over Plymouth

All three Northville/Novi Colts junior football squads were victorious over Plymouth Sunday.

The varsity slipped past the Plymouth Lions 7-0 on a 77-yard touchdown run by running back James Cerretani. He also carried in the ball for the extra point. As indicated by the score, it was a defensive struggle all the way.

The win evened the team's record at 1-1 after it had fallen to Ann Arbor 6-0 the previous week.

The junior varsity also won a tight ball game 6-0 over Plymouth as quarterback Scott Stephens tossed a 52-yard scoring pass to Bop Smith early in the first period.

The freshmen raised their record to 2-0 with a convincing 20-6 triumph over Plymouth. The Colts struck paydirt on the first offensive play when Matt Smith scampered around left end for 49-yard scoring run.

In the second quarter, Smith turned a bungled Colts' punt attempt into a 56-yard touchdown run. Steve Bastian ran for both extra points.

Ocelot sports wrap

Both the Schoolcraft College men's soccer and women's volleyball teams were successful during the weekend.

The Ocelot soccer team posted a 2-1 victory over Henry Ford Community College as Allen Bates tallied once in the first half and John Gray connected on a diving header in the second half to win it.

The volleyball squad placed second in the Eastern Michigan Invitational. The Ocelots lost in the championship match to Northern Illinois, a member of the Mid-American Conference. The squad defeated Michigan State University, of the Big Ten, and Bowling Green State University, of the Mid-American, to reach the finals.

Host Eastern and Oakland University also participated in the tournament.

Culinary Arts addition is a chef's delight

By SUZIE ROLLINS SINGER

It's a cook's dream. Scores of 20-quart mixing bowls, five-gallon containers of ingredients and dozens of ovens are scattered between kitchens separated for pastry, meat slaughtering and quantity food production.

Every inch of the 7,500 square feet of culinary space is being used by the 120 full-time Schoolcraft College students studying to be professional chefs.

The new $1.3 million Culinary Arts Building, an addition to the original cafeteria in the Waterman Campus Center, brings the structure's size to 12,000 square feet, said Robert Breithaupt, the certified executive chef who directs one of Schoolcraft's most popular and famous programs.

"Prior to this year, we were only able to handle 30 new students a year. We had a three and a half year waiting list. Now we can handle 120 full-time students, 22 co-op students, 60 apprentices and 15 in continuing education," Breithaupt said.

In an era when expansion is rare, Schoolcraft's culinary addition is the first major construction on the campus in almost a decade. The culinary addition is at the north end of the campus at 18600 Haggerty in Livonia.

A visitor couldn't doubt for a moment the professionalism whipping through the kitchen. The atmosphere is alive with talk of fluffiness, quality and perfection.

The former cafeteria kitchen, where all classes were once taught, is now used only for quantity food preparation — its original purpose.

By mid-morning about 15 student chefs clad in white jackets and toques scurry around the 700-square-foot kitchen busily preparing lunch for the college community.

One hovers over a frying pan with 15 German pancakes while another prepares an egg-based dish. Chatter fills the air.

"This is all a hands-on experience. Everything is geared to simulate the industry," Breithaupt said proudly.

The curriculum includes courses on quantity production, advanced (a la carte) dining room procedures, French service, baking and pastry procedures and laboratory work.

"It's a two-year associate's degree program with two 16-week semesters a year," explained Breithaupt, a 35-year veteran chef and assistant dean of applied science. Each course is eight weeks long.

Future chefs get a taste of meat cutting in the kitchen's butcher shop. Whole steer, veal and lamb arrive for students to cut up, Breithaupt said.

"Our only requirement is that the animal must be dead and gutted," he added.

Job offers abound, the chef said, from restaurants around the state, as well as several from neighboring states.

If culinary arts students decide to further their education, they have the option to transfer their full credits to Grand Valley State College or portions of them to Michigan State University, Cornell or University of Nevada for degrees in hotel, restaurant and institutional management.

"Most of them will go into industry as line cooks, saute or broiler cooks or assistants to chefs. Some may even go to Europe," Breithaupt explained.

Breithaupt is quick to point out that while neighboring community colleges like Henry Ford and Oakland Community College have culinary arts programs, theirs are more management oriented. Schoolcraft's is entirely career oriented.

It's no longer a man's world in the kitchen either. "We're running about 50-50 men and women," he said.

Consumption of their delectable delights isn't confined to students. The general public may stop by the Waterman Campus Center between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. for lunch and sample a diverse menu at reasonable prices.

MR. AND MRS. DONALD BAKER

Couples exchange June, August marriage vows

Roggenbuck-Frankenbach

Adrienne Probst Frankenbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Probst of La Grange, Illinois, became the bride of Tobin Roggenbuck June 19 at Fox Valley Presbyterian Church in Geneva, Illinois.

The bridegroom is the son of former Northville residents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Middleton of Geneva.

The double ring ceremony was officiated by the Reverend Thomas Estes. The bride was attended by her bridesmaids Leslie Boyer and Sharon Smith, both of Chicago. The bride's sister, Beth Yearian of Dixon, Illinois, served as matron of honor.

Rand Roggenbuck was his brother's best man. Ushers were Bill Kefelas and Tom Summerdyke, both of Chicago.

The bride wore a cream colored lace, street-length dress, while her attendants wore mauve organza dresses.

Bouquets were of fresh spring flowers in shades of purple, pink and blue.

A reception at the Middleton home in Geneva followed the ceremony. Among the 60 guests in attendance were many of the bridegroom's former classmates from Northville High School and Michigan State University. Also in attendance were Dr. and Mrs. Richard Kelly and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Eis, former neighbors of the bridegroom's family in Northville.

The bride is a graduate of La Grange High School and Northern Illinois University. She is employed as a school teacher in Chicago.

The bridegroom is a 1975 Northville High School graduate and attended Michigan State University. He currently is employed as a manager at Holiday Health Clubs in Denver, Colorado.

The couple plans to reside in Denver.

Niedfeldt-Olsen

Karen Olsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raphael N. Olsen of North Hollywood, California, exchanged marriage vows August 21 with Gary C. Niedfeldt at the Provo LDS Temple in Provo, Utah.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Niedfeldt of 47105 Timberlane.

A wedding luncheon in Orem, Utah, followed the ceremony.

The bride is a 1976 North Hollywood

Engagement announced

NANCY SCHRONCE,
JEFFREY MARSH

Mr. and Mrs. Bob L. Schronce of 613 Novi Street announce the engagement of their daughter Nancy Ann to Jeffrey Thomas Marsh of New Hudson.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Marsh of Holly.

An October 1, 1983, wedding is planned.

Fashion show will open 90th year of Woman's Club

By JEANDAY

Reservations now are being made for the opening luncheon-fashion show of Northville Woman's Club October 1, which is being held in the new Livonia-West Holiday Inn and Holidome. Mrs. William Davis, program chairman, reports that she and her committee have compiled a varied program "mix" to celebrate the 90th year of the club, which is one of the oldest in the Wayne Federation.

The guest day luncheon (Chicken Provencal, chocolate mousse) following cocktails is being held at 12:30 p.m. in the Plantation Room decorated with a New Orleans-type elegance. Mrs. William Slattery, president, will continue the tradition of honoring past presidents and honorary members.

Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Lawrence Chamberlain are chairmen for the day's program in which club members will model fashions from Fashion Cents of Farmington. The shop is known for designer discount fashions.

Economist Bernard Landuyt will follow on October 15; Dr. Ruth Needham, a psychologist, will speak on "Stress" November 5; Alice Wilson, a former resident and interior designer with Jacobson's, will talk on antiques November 19; Evelyn Edgar of the Detroit Audubon Society is to be the speaker December 3.

A "Visions of Sugarplums" Christmas tea will welcome new members December 17; Men's Night with a musical revue will be January 7. Completing the list of twice-monthly programs held from October through March will be Dr. Michael Farrell of the Detroit Institute of Arts on Victorian arts and crafts; Karen DeChiera on the Metropolitan Opera season; a panel on volunteering; William Sliger on investments; and U-M Professor Lee McNamera, readings in Irish poetry.

Make-it, Bake-it, Sew-it, Do-it auction coming

Members of the Northville-Nowi branch of the American Association of University Women discovered a few years ago that their talents are marketable. Since then they have been stitching, baking and canning for the annual Make-it, Bake-it, Sew-it, Do-it auction. This year's event will be at 7:30 p.m. November 9 at Amerman Elementary School.

At a workshop October 16 members will be working on quilted Christmas ornaments, picture frames and other handmades. The auction, a scholarship fund-raiser, will be open to the public.

Historical society seeks set-up volunteers

Workers on the annual Tivoli Fair, popular crafts show that is the biggest fund-raiser for Northville Historical Society's preservation projects, are planning to get an early start this year. Booths will be set up and marked this Sunday in the Northville Downs stands to be ready for the show October 1 and 2. Martha Nield is appealing for helpers for the Sunday preparation. It's not necessary to be a historical society member — everyone interested in the society and the Mill Race Historical Village is welcome.

Mrs. Nield adds that there is an exceptionally high interest in the craft show this year which will include work of area craftspersons, including that of 23 Northville residents. "I could have sold the booth spaces three times over," she reports.

Shower continued Greek tradition

A bridal shower honoring Peggy Tsoucaris was given by her sister-in-law Ann Tsoucaris and her sister Tina Sellas September 11 at Meadowbrook Country Club. It was a champagne luncheon for 50 guests. Each went home with gifts of a tiny handmade ceramic heart filled, in the Greek tradition, with Jordan almonds, and with a little rice umbrella. The umbrellas made by Betty Colovas of Northville held the rice to be used at the bride-elect's wedding in October.

At the luncheon the bride-to-be reminisced with her family and friends and expressed her gratitude to both mothers.

Armenian church to be setting for state WNFGA tea

Phyllis Slattery of Northville, Michigan Division president of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, announces that St. John's Armenian Church, a Southfield landmark with its golden dome, will be the locale of this year's International Tea being given by the Michigan Division from noon to 4 p.m. next Wednesday.

In addition to viewing the chapel and interior of the unique church, members and visitors will see 30 display tables of flower arrangements created by state garden branch members in ethnic, holiday and special occasion themes. The International Teas were originated to promote interest in an exchange program between college-age youth of the United States and other countries through the 4-H farm youth program.

Mill Race Weavers' sale this week

Northville Arts Commission is sponsoring a textile show and sale to be held in city hall council chambers from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. this Thursday and Friday. The show will display the work of members of the Mill Race Weavers' Guild.

Both functional and non-functionals pieces will be shown, including clothing and home decoration items, wall hangings and tapestries.

A two person show will feature the fine batik work of artist Katie Fox and the handmade jewelry of Katherine Fitzpatrick on October 30, from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m., and October 31, from noon to 5 p.m. All articles will be for sale.

Come explore innovative and dynamic ways to make your home "ideal".

Dental Dialogue

of A. Allen Tuchklaper, D.D.S.

TOTAL WELL BEING

Q. Why did my dentist check my blood pressure at my last appointment?

A. Your dentist is in a vital position to recognize and alert you to problems that effect your overall health. He is concerned with not only the condition of your mouth, but your total well being. More than twenty-three million Americans suffer from high blood pressure, and the disease is frequently present without any symptoms. If left untreated it can cause stroke and heart damage. When your dentist checks your blood pressure he can decide whether you need to be referred to a physician for further evaluation.

This column is presented in the interest of better dental health. From the office of

Oakway Symphony opens 10th season

celebration of its 10th anniversary, Oakway Symphony Orchestra will offer Polish Spectacular as its first concert 3 p.m. Sunday, September 26, at Madonna College.

Featured performers in the concert are the Gajda Song and Dance Ensemble. The group is directed by John Sidor, music director Jozef Cysz.

The ensemble has made 500 appearances throughout the United States, Canada and Poland. Its essential purpose, aside from entertainment, is to preserve the style and authenticity of Polish folklore. Sunday's performance will honor the heritage of the Polish people, their courage and perseverance.

Sister Francilene Van de Vyver, president of Madonna College, will serve as guest conductor. Sister Francilene holds both bachelor's and master's degrees in music and has served as guest conductor for various symphonies in the area.

Single ticket prices are $6. Senior citizen and student tickets are $3.

In addition to its season opener this Sunday, the Oakway Symphony will feature a variety of talents in its additional five concerts throughout the year.

Among this season's performers will be Samuel Mayes, former principal cellist with the Philadelphia Orchestra and Boston Symphony. Mayes will present a program of Schumann in the symphony's second concert.

Metropolitan Opera Company basso, Ara Berberian, will headline the third concert in Oakway's 10th anniversary season. This concert will feature the music of Alan Hovhanness and Richard Yardumian, two contemporary Armenian composers.

The Contemporary Civic Ballet, pianist Ruth Burczyk and the music of Beethoven also will be featured this season.

In addition, highly talented young artists will participate in Oakway's annual competition which features prizes totaling $3,000 provided by the Michigan Foundation for the Arts.

Oakway will close its season at Orchestra Hall with pianist Ralph Votapek, winner of the First Cliburn International Competition. Votapek has appeared throughout the world and includes in his folio performances with the Chicago Symphony and the Boston Pops.

Tickets are available at Madonna College, Hammel Music, Botsford Inn and at the Southfield Cultural Arts Division. For information about becoming a season subscriber, call the Oakway Symphony office at 476-6344 or send a request for season ticket information to: Oakway Symphony Society, P.O. Box 171, Farmington, 48024. Symphony members include area residents. The group derives its name from its composition of Oakland and Wayne county performers.

Depression Glass show scheduled at Schoolcraft

The Michigan Depression Glass Society's 10th Annual All Depression Era Glass Show and Sale will be presented from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. October 16 and 17 at Schoolcraft College.

Twenty dealers from throughout the United States will be exhibiting glass in multitudes of patterns and colors from the depression era.

Among the participants will be Northville resident Carolyn Kugler. She also will be exhibiting her collection of quilts and Depression Glass at the Northville Community Quilters Show tomorrow and Friday.

This year's Depression Glass show is of particular interest due to the strong comeback of colored glassware in the home fashion industry. American-made glassware from the early 1900s through the 1940s and early 1950s will be featured.

Special guests appearing at the show will be author Gene Florence of Lexington, Kentucky; Nora Koch, editor and publisher of the Depression Glass Daze from Otisville and Hazel Marie Weatherman, noted author on Depression Glass from Ozark, Missouri.

Glass repair will be available at this year's show by Richard Hendenbrand and the sale of Depression Glass jewelry made by Richard and Vicki Hendenbrand.

The Michigan Depression Glass Society was founded in 1972 and is devoted solely to the preservation of Depression Era Glass. Meetings are held the first Monday of each month at the Livonia Senior Citizen's Building. Guests are welcome.

Food and beverage service will be available both days of the sale under the direction of Robert Breithaupt, director of food service at Schoolcraft College, and Michael McConnell of Schoolcraft College's Culinary Arts program.

This year's show chairman is Shirley Beyrand.

Admission to the show is $1.50 per person. For further information, contact Kathleen Fox at 533-0349 or Shirley Beyrand at 455-3286.

BPW meets Monday

Women with questions about investing their money, combining work with motherhood or advancing in the workplace may want to look into the Northville Business and Professional Women's Club.

The Northville BPW will be addressing these issues and more in its upcoming year. Composed of professional women who either live or work in Northville, the BPW hosts dinner meetings the fourth Monday of each month.

Its first meeting of the new year is scheduled for September 27 with financial planning consultant Marcia Strokl discussing "Charting Your Financial Future."

At the local level, the BPW is involved in fundraising projects such as the Silent Auction, held last February and to be repeated again next year. With the proceeds from the auction, the club awards a scholarship each year to a woman who is re-entering school or the working world. The 1982 winner of a $300 stipend was Laura Hixon, a self-supporting nursing student at Schoolcraft College.

BPW also sponsors the Young Careerist competition open to working women between the ages of 21 and 30. Local winners, judged on professional accomplishments, public speaking ability and poise go on to compete at state and national levels.

The BPW is tied to district, state and national chapters which comprise one of the largest organizations of women in the nation. At the state level, the club is one of 28 women's organizations involved in Women's Assembly III, formed after the defeat of the Equal Rights Amendment to battle for improvements in the position of women in Michigan. Nationally, the BPW is working to become a powerful lobby on behalf of women's issues.

Officers this year for the Northville club are: President Margaret Mahoney, a supervisor at the Social Security Administration; Vice President Marilyn Maher, an accountant with Holland, Newton and Associates; Secretary Judith Lombardo, personnel coordinator for Complete Auto Transit and Treasurer Pat Cucchetti, a retired school teacher.

The BPW is open to all working women. Current members work in a variety of professions including banking, medicine, accounting, teaching, communications, art and others.

Anyone interested in finding out more about the BPW or in attending the September 27 meeting should contact membership chairman Lisa Nirider at 348-0196.

Church slates Bible study

First United Methodist Church will host a "get acquainted coffee" from 9:30-11:30 a.m. tomorrow for all persons interested in learning about the New Life Bible Series and signing up for a study of the Bible.

Marilyn Ganskow of San Diego, California, the author of the New Life Bible Study, was in Plymouth Monday to discuss "Soaring Spirituality."

The New Life Series Bible Study has been held at the First United Methodist Church for the past three years. The study is non-denominational and all are welcome to attend.

Correction

Last week, The Record reported that Kent R. Hunter, author of the recently released book "Foundations for Church Growth" was graduated from Northville High School in 1975.

Dr. Hunter is a 1965 Northville High School graduate and received several doctorate degrees prior to writing his book.

Church plans rummage sale

The women of the Church of the Saviour in Livonia will hold their Annual Bake, Plant and Rummage Sale from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. October 8 and from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. October 9.

The sale will include an assortment of good-as-new clothing for infants, children and adults, as well as many other miscellaneous items. A men's "Locker Shop" also will be featured as well as a large supply of fresh, homemade baked goods.

The church is located at 38100 Five Mile between Newburgh and Haggerty Roads.

Fast on her feet

Nicole Bush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Mailloux of 487 Welch, proved to be fast on her feet when it came to raising money for Muscular Dystrophy. Nicole was the top money raiser in the Bonaventure Skate-a-thon August 28 — collecting $183 for MD. The Avernman sixth grader presented her donation on the Jerry Lewis Telethon Labor Day weekend. ## WRC sponsors sobriety series

The Schoolcraft College Women's Resource Center will present the first session of its Open Forum Series on Women and Alcohol at 7 p.m. tonight in Room B230 of the Liberal Arts Building on campus.

Therapist Pam DaLuca will conduct tonight's session on "Women and Alcohol: Special Concerns." Her presentation will focus on changing lifestyles, the "superwoman" complex, reasons women drink and myths and reality.

The Open Forum Series, aimed at helping women avoid problems with alcohol and reinforce refusal skills, is open to the public at no charge.

Other sessions are scheduled September 29, October 6 and October 13. Each session is held from 7-9 p.m. in Room B230 of the Liberal Arts Building.

On September 29, Debbie Ruboyianes of the NCA/Greater Detroit Area will present a program on the "Fetal Alcohol Syndrome." Mona Forbes and Margaret Robinson from W.O.M.A.N. Center will discuss "Drinking to Relax: How to Say 'No' Any Way You Want To" at the October 6 meeting.

A Dignity Party, hosted by Johnnie Gantt of NCA/Greater Detroit Area, will be held in conjunction with Jane Breslin's Women For Sobriety program on October 13.

For further information, contact the Schoolcraft College Women's Resource Center at 591-6400, extension 430.

Tax-Free All Savers Certificate

It's Time To RENEW

Purchase or Reinvest

RENEW October 1, 1982 marks the first year the All Savers Certificate has been available. And, according to law, you only have from October 1 to December 31 to take advantage of this certificate that offers such great tax benefits. That's right. If you haven't earned your full tax exemption with your original All Savers Certificate, now is the time to renew since these certificates will not be available after December 31.

But remember—you must redeem the certificate and purchase another at the prevailing rate since it is not automatically renewable.

PURCHASE If you have never had an All Savers Certificate, this is your last chance to purchase one. By law, you're allowed tax-free interest up to the first $2,000 of interest earned (for married couples filing jointly) or $1,000 for individuals. This is a one-time lifetime exemption, regardless of the number of certificates purchased or the number of years in which exemptions are taken.

The term of the certificate is only one year and there's only a $500 minimum. Your rate, the highest allowed by law, when you open your certificate remains fixed until maturity. Early withdrawal results in a substantial interest penalty and elimination of the tax-exempt status.

REINVEST Anyone who has earned the maximum exemption will want to reinvest his/her funds in high-earning, secure investments.

At Security Bank you'll find many Money Market Certificates offering flexibility and insured safety to $100,000 by the FDIC.

Certificates to consider are the 26 Week Money Market Certificate with a $10,000 minimum, the $7,500 minimum 91 Day Certificate and the $20,000 7 to 31 Day Certificate. (Substantial interest penalty required for early withdrawal from certificate accounts.)

Visit your nearest Security Bank office for complete details on all of Security's certificate plans. You'll be glad you did!

WOODLAND MEDICAL CENTERS

OVI 348-8000

Mary Smith had been experiencing agonizing headaches for some time. The pain was a constant torment that made normal tasks of everyday life nearly impossible.

She knew she needed to see a doctor but didn't know what kind of specialist to see or even where to find one.

One evening at 7:00 P.M., ten-year-old Billy Thompson was running bases in a neighborhood baseball game. He tripped and fell, twisting his arm.

Within minutes the arm was swelling and turning vivid shades of blue and purple. Billy was in pain and his worried parents did not want to wait until the following day to seek medical attention. But they also knew that hospital emergency rooms were very costly. What could they do?

John Williams awoke one morning to an excruciating pain in his foot. When he attempted to get out of bed, the pain became so intense that he stumbled and nearly fell. He knew he must see a doctor immediately, but wondered where he could make an appointment on such short notice.

IN EACH OF THESE CASES A PAINFUL AND PERSONALLY TRAUMATIC PROBLEM WAS CONVENIENTLY RESOLVED BY A VISIT TO A NEARBY WOODLAND MEDICAL CENTER.

Mary Smith contacted Woodland on the advice of a friend. She made an appointment for the following day. A physician examined her and was able to order immediate diagnostic tests for her on the premises.

Within days he had determined that Mary needed to consult an additional specialist, had set up an appointment for her with another Woodland staff doctor and was able to begin aggressive treatment for the relief of her pain.

Billy Thompson's parents had driven by Woodland Medical Center many times. But until their son needed immediate attention they did not discover that the Center's WALK-IN EMERGENCY SERVICE is open seven days a week including evenings.

THEY WALKED IN WITHOUT AN APPOINTMENT. Billy was immediately examined by a doctor and had x-rays taken inside the building. His broken arm was diagnosed and treated that evening — and at a far greater savings than would have been possible in a hospital emergency room.

John Williams called Woodland hoping that a doctor could see him that day. He was surprised that he did not need an appointment but could come in immediately to the WALK-IN EMERGENCY SERVICE.

Within a few hours, John was examined, tested and the attending physician was able to give a diagnosis: John had gout, a form of arthritis.

The physician referred him to a rheumatologist, another Woodland staff specialist. The very next day John was examined by the rheumatologist, who outlined a plan of treatment to control the illness and relieve the pain. He also suggested that John register for a WOODLAND MEDICAL CENTER COMMUNITY HEALTH INFORMATION PROGRAM (CHIP) seminar on arthritis.

One of a regularly scheduled, FREE series about health problems, the hour-and-a-half long program gave John basic information about his ailment and its most effective treatment.

During the informal film and lecture session, he was able to voice some of his concerns and receive immediate answers and advice from the physician discussing the topic.

Mary, Billy and John realized what thousands of patients have found out during Woodland's 20-year history. At Woodland Medical Centers, medical and dental care for the entire family is available whenever patients need it — and in the most convenient time and money saving ways possible.

ARE YOU UNEMPLOYED and NEED HEALTH CARE?

WE CAN HELP!

We have been open for 6 years in the Plymouth-Canton area, we have been very successful, our practice has grown from the smallest to the largest in that short time. The people of this area have been good to us, and now we wish to return the favor.

We have a great need to serve the public. Chiropractic can do so much good for the health of our community. We want you to have that health, so this is our offer.

Dr. Carlton R. Mashike
Director

FEES FOR ALL SERVICES To Those Unemployed Without Insurance ARE REDUCED 50%

In a humanitarian gesture, we are making this offer at a time when consideration for others should be at its highest. In these times of great inflation and high unemployment, we hope this offer comes as a breath of fresh air.

Everyone has needs. Our need is to serve, to give to those who need us, those who need their health returned.

WE SPECIALIZE IN FAMILY HEALTH CARE!

SCOLIOSIS

Toni has scoliosis, its not a disease but a structural fault beginning in the base of the spine. The medical doctors were doing nothing to halt the condition, simply because they know of no technique to use.

They were waiting until the scoliosis reached a certain point at which time major surgery would place a steel rod in her spine.

Toni's doing better, here is her mother's testimonial.

Dr. M

Toni's scoliosis after three months of chiropractic care has not gotten worse. We had watched her spine curve more each month knowing when it reached a certain point surgery would be necessary. We had heard of Dr. Mashike by word of mouth, feeling we had nothing to lose we went and talked to him. He told us chiropractic had helped others and he would take care of Toni for 3 months re-x-raying at that time.

The results were good, the scoliosis had stopped, we were all greatly relieved. Dr. Mashike has shown us the value of chiropractic care, now we are all patients.

Kay Coral

MY FAMILY IS GLAD I'M COMING

My sister recommended chiropractic because she felt ill all the time until she started. I didn't want to take pills for my migraines because I have worked in hospitals and nursing homes and I am fed up with pill pushers.

My migraines were so bad they made everyday miserable even when I didn't have one, just the fear and expectation of one ruined the day.

I went to Dr. Mashike because he gives no pills, he says pills cover symptoms and don't correct what's causing them. Well after the second adjustment I started feeling better. I feel like I'm walking on cloud nine since I have no migraines, I can breathe better and no back pain.

My husband is coming now, I don't want him on pills the rest of his life. And I hope our children start after seeing how well we both are doing. The rest of my family are glad I started because of my better disposition.

Diane May

4 GENERATIONS WITH CHIROPRACTIC CARE

This is our family, we all are happy with our results and we will continue with scheduled good health maintenance.

I started chiropractic care ten years ago. I went for awhile got results and then quit. Several months ago I began with severe headaches, neck pain and always tired. Aspirins no longer worked and made me ill. I knew a medical doctor would just push pills. My condition made me irritable which made life difficult to enjoy.

My results were fantastic all my headaches and tiredness are gone. I can't remember feeling so good with so much energy.

I recommend chiropractic, I now have my wife, son, married daughter, grand-daughter, father and mother-in-law coming in. I brought them all in after attending the Wednesday evening doctors report because I now have a better understanding of chiropractic. It's for all kinds of problems, it will keep us healthy.

Don Krzysik

TWITCH GONE

I took Vera to Dr. Mashike after repeated visits to medical doctors. The medical doctors could do nothing to help. They didn't even know what was causing the problems.

Vera had neck spasms like a tick. Her neck would twitch so often she became unaware she was doing it.

I told Dr. Mashike Vera's problem started after a fall. After examination he said he could help her.

Well, in a few weeks the problem was better and in about 6 months Dr. Mashike had the vertebra in her neck realigned and the problem is completely gone.

I also became a patient, chiropractic has helped me greatly. I recommend it for your children and yourself.

Mary Petrov

ENTIRE FAMILY HEALTHIER...

We were not sure at first about chiropractic. My mother was going to see Dr. Mashike with some long-standing problems. When she started getting results, we decided to go.

We all had problems of one kind or another. My main problem was low back pain. Carole's was low back pain, sinus, allergies and high blood pressure. Lyn, our oldest, had allergies. Eric had a loss of smell and asthma. Heather, as young as she is, had headaches.

Carole is familiar with medications because she is a registered nurse now working in private practice. She knows of its drawbacks and side effects. None of us like taking drugs, that is why we started with chiropractic care.

Our entire family is better now, and we wanted the chance to tell others. Dr. Mashike has really done wonders with the kids. (Note: Children usually respond very fast to our care.) We definitely think you should give chiropractic a try. You will be surprised at the results.

Paul and Carole Nordbeck

SEE FOR YOURSELF

I was leary of chiropractic at first but I suffered so that I had to do something about it. I had migraine headaches, low back pain and menstrual problems.

Dr. Mashike said he could help by adjusting the vertebrae back into place. He said these were pinching on nerves and that was causing my problems. Within just a short time I was feeling better. Now I even have more energy.

I am very glad that I decided to go to Dr. Mashike because not only did I save money by not going to all those other special doctors but I felt much better sooner without having to go to bed and rest from all the medication the other doctors administered.

Patricia Williams

CONFIDENCE

We have only been coming to Dr. Mashike for a short time. A friend of ours gave us his name. I became a patient first wanting to make sure he was a good doctor before we all started.

I had low back and left hip problems which were much better after a few adjustments. I liked Dr. Mashike and have confidence in him. Now after three weeks I have my family seeing him.

Our daughter Colleen has headaches and sinus, Greg our younger son is in for general health care having no symptoms, Matt our oldest has a slight sinus, hayfever and low back problems for years.

We're all starting to feel better. Dr. Mashike's Wednesday night report has shown us that chiropractic is for good health not just sore backs.

WE'RE ALL BETTER

A friend of mine had gotten good results and suggested we see Dr. Mashike. I came in first because of upper back pain radiating into migraine headaches. Dr. Mashike explained what the problem was and started to correct my spine at the pinched nerves. He said pressure in my upper neck was causing the headaches. Well, in just a short time, I was better.

Seeing the value of this for health, I brought my youngest daughter, Stacy in, who has allergies so bad she had to have shots each week. The shots made her listless. But, if she missed her shot, she experienced much discomfort.

I noticed significant improvement after only a short period of time. The amazing part is that after 6 weeks, Stacy's condition cleared up and she no longer has to have any shots.

With these results, I started the other children. Bryan had frequent runny noses and congestion and Robyn had a history of kidney infections.

The results are amazing. All of use are better, in the 9 months we have been coming to Dr. Mashike we have not been sick.
