Film crew brings a downpour to Hines Drive

Don't be surprised if something about this fall's television commercials for Dodge cars looks vaguely familiar. One was filmed in Northville's own back yard only last Tuesday.

A close look at a spot to be aired nationally in mid-to-late October will reveal that the maroon Dodge Aries flashing down a rainy, tree-lined road was filmed on Hines Drive just south of Seven Mile

That the commercial was situated here was partially a matter of "a tight deadline, the need for a quick location and the fact that I knew it (the area)," said John McIntosh, producer of the spot, who not coincidentally lives in a Highland Lakes house on Swan Harbor Drive.

"Actually, my wife came up with the location the Friday before," McIntosh explained. "She said, 'why don't you look in Hines Park?

When he did, McIntosh found just what he needed — the section of road just south of Seven Mile "had the right look, the tree-lined lane with a hint of fall color. Plus, the trees were close to the

Petition to add land delays sewer district action

The latter was important because McIntosh, his production crew (including persons who traveled from Colorado Springs, New York and other places) and the off-duty township police and fire officers hired for the day couldn't count on the site to provide one vital element — rain.

'If it had been sunny that day," McIntosh noted, "the trees would have given us enough relief to film the rain. Out in the sun, it just wouldn't

As it turned out, Tuesday was generally overcast and nature did provide some of its own rain late in the afternoon. By that time, however, McIntosh and the production crew from Kenyon and Eckhardt Advertising had finished most of the exterior shots, employing fire hoses and "rainbirds" — portable sprinklers specially designed to create a rainy appearance for the camera.

Timing was so tight, McIntosh, whose job as executive producer is conducted out of the Birmingham offices, had scheduled a flight to New York at day's end Tuesday to begin two weeks work toward completion of the spot.

State okays sale of prison parcel By KEVIN WILSON Acquisition of almost 39 acres of state land to be used for recreation and, possibly, fire department facilities is one signature and one election away in

The signature is the governor's, the election would authorize the expenditure of $1 to "purchase" the property and the acreage is the northernmost portion of former Detroit House of Corrections land on which the state is building a new prison.

Both the state house and senate have approved the sale of the excess land to the township for $1, contingent on its use for recreation purposes. Authorization by the governor is expected before October 1, township clerk Susan Heintz told the board of trustees last week.

But it is already too late to ask voter approval of the purchase this year. Heintz, noting that general law townships such as Northville cannot purchase land without a vote of the peo-ple, said she is still exploring possible dates for such an election. Preferably, she said, the township would not conduct a special election only for this item but would "piggyback" the issue on another ballot.

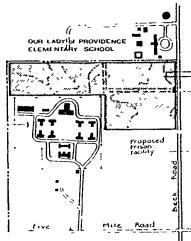

With November out of the question (September 14 was the last day to add local issues to the ballot), the next regular election is slated in June for school board members but that one poses problems since the school and township precincts and boundaries dif-

The recreation master plan, dated January, 1980, estimated the cost of developing the parcel, as envisioned, at more than $300,000 and projected spreading that cost over three years.

The township's own long-range planning has included establishment of a second fire station to serve the western portion of the community, but the location of that station is not firmly established, nor is the timing.

Whether or not a fire station could be built on the property is questionable, since the legislative authorization of the land sale includes a clause stating "if the property. . .is used for other than recreational purposes, title will immediately revert to the state of

Northville ISEP student sues actor Yul Brynner

BY MARGARET MILLER

A student in Northville's Institution Special Education Program has named actor Yul Brynner in a $55,000 suit, charging that he wrongfully had her removed from Masonic Temple in Detroit during a performance of "The King and I."

The suit was filed Friday in Wayne Country Circuit Court on behalf of Jane Abler, a 21-year-old resident of Plymouth Center for Human Development and a student at Moraine School. Attorney Ronna J. Stevens of the Michigan Protection and Advocacy Service for Developmentally-Disabled Citizens, Inc. filed the suit.

In a press conference at Plymouth Center, Stevens described Abler as "not retarded" but victim of a condition like cerebral palsy, characterized by poor motor control and lack of intelligible speech.

"The suit was filed under the Michigan Handicappers Civil Rights Act," she said.

The act provides a person "shall not deny an individual the full and equal enjoyment of the ... advantages and accommodations of a place of public accommodations or public services because of a handicap that is unrelated to the individual's ability to utilize and benefit" from such services.

"We contend Jane acted appropriate lv." Stevens said.

SELECTION of a new city attorney will be one of the agenda items at Northville City Council meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in city hall. The council is expected to schedule a special session to choose from several candidates for the post. Monday's agenda also includes four public hearings — to change the penalty period on water bills, amend the handicap ordinance, and to charge two property owners under the nuisance ordinance to clean up premises.

revised estimate by McNeely, which noted that a portion of the system as presently designed would be paid for by the township water and sewer department rather than by the property owners. The department is to pick up the estimated $87,800 cost of installing sewer lines that will enable the system to be reversed, flowing downhill to an anticipated Haggerty Road interceptor line to be built (if ever) in the next five

McNeely also explained the anticipation that the township would allow SAD participants to include construction costs for house connections in their assessments, at the homeowner's op-

Homeowners often find the cost of installing their own connecting line plus the standard $400 tap-in fee is á large additional expense difficult for the average household budget to accommodate. By including those costs in the assessment district, they would be spread over 10 or 15 years, depending on the bonds sold to finance the district.

Hovagian Manoogian and Gedros Sarkhanian, representing owners of the two large parcels seeking addition to the district, told the board they had long supported efforts to have sewers installed and were offended when the final version of the petition, which once included their property, eliminated them from the district.

"We were the driving force behind this project the past 12 years," Manoogian said. "Today, I see everybody else seeing their dreams come true, except us."

Bud Taylor, an officer of the Park Gardens association, said he would object to the addition of the property if it is "handled like two parcels." While the properties front on Five Mile, they both extend northward the full length of the Park Gardens streets and Taylor suggested the 20 acres could be subdivided into many parcels. If Manoogian and his partners paid only for service to one house and then subdivided the parcel, Taylor suggested, they would not be accepting the full share of their costs in

But Manoogian said the desire was only to connect the Five Mile Road frontage properties and asserted that the human pollution and health hazards existing in the subdivision affect his buildings also.

"All the earlier engineering included those two parcels," Manoogian said. "At one time the drawings even showed a pumping station on our properties. Now we are left out. We were never even approached."

Reassured that the addition would not jeopardize the project's capacity in the county interceptor, Park Gardens association vice president William Basse said, "I don't think we can really object. We left it out because we didn't have a good feel for what the impact of their cost would be."

Later discussion revealed that extension to serve the Manoogian property would likely bring the sewer system within range of Tanger Elementary School and the Michigan National Bank branch at Haggerty and Five Mile.

Both have agreements that allowed them to tie into Plymouth Township's

Township receptive to ambulance idea Northville Township leaders are generally receptive to a city proposal that could result in a change of ambulance providers.

Supervisor John MacDonald said Thursday night he would "certainly support" a proposal from the city that neither of the governments exercise its option to renew a contract with Novi Ambulance, instead soliciting bids for ioint service.

"I'm not prepared to renew it right off," MacDonald said, repeating earlier statements that "there is no secret we are interested in looking at other ambulance services.'

He said the selection of a contracted joint service with the city is the most feasible route for providing ambulances in the township.

Discussing Plymouth's current exploration of employing outside emergency medical services (ambulances in that community are presently operated by the fire department), MacDonald said prospects for the local fire department(s) to conduct routine ambulance duties are not high.

"It subtracts from the number of men available to fight fires, for one thing, MacDonald said. "It demands a lot of manpower and a lot of time. I don't think you'll see much support for that."

The township fire department purchased a "fire rescue" vehicle earlier this year and has equipped it for ambulance duty through a combination of donations and volunteer work. Most township firefighters are qualified as emergency medical technicians Fire chief Robert Toms said earlier last week that the vehicle is primarily intended for use in emergency runs the department does routinely. He has most frequently cited the example of a cave-in last year when a basement waterproofer was buried chest-high in clay.

Firefighters got the man out, but
Toms said the job would be accomplished more swiftly with the equipment now available in the rescue truck. Similarly, persons injured at the scene of a fire or accident might receive preliminary treatment from the fire department crew before arrival of the contracted ambulance provider.

Dissatisfaction with the services provided by Novi Ambulance has frequently been entered on the records of the township board, with most complaints referring to overcharging or what residents felt were overly long response

Novi Ambulance owner John Early once appeared before the board to answer those charges and others, saying the response times would be improved once the township and city provided local quarters. That has been done, and Novi Ambulance has use of the old fire hall at the abandoned Wayne County Child Development Center. Officials have privately expressed doubts that the facility is being used as they intended, but decline comment for attribution.

Early and his firms have recently been embroiled in controversy regarding advertising practices. Operators of Community EMS, a competing firm likely to be among the bidders if the city

Bill would allow county exec control over road commission

Planning ahead to the time when he's Wayne unity executive, sheriff William Lucas is gearing , a drive to win voter approval of a charter nendment to end the autonomous life of the road mmission

The state senate last week put the finishing uches on a pair of bills which will allow homeile counties with more than 1.5 million population amend their charters to bring the road commison under the county executive's office. The act Il apply only to Wayne County.

'There was not a single negative vote," Lucas ud after Thursday's senate action. Lucas had stified in Lansing for the bills.

Similarly, the pair of bills sponsored by epresentative Jeffrey Padden (D-Wyandotte) id sailed through the house of representatives in a ngle day the previous week. .

The proposed charter amendment must be placd on the ballot by either of two methods: a majorivote (eight) of the county board of commisoners or 85,000 petition signatures.

Lucas said he was confident he could get the ght commissioners' votes; if not, his campaign rganization was already planning how to get 15,000 signatures to win a ballot slot.

Lucas is hoping for an election early in 1983 for the charter amendment.

Representative Thomas Alley (D-West Branch) reported road commissions in his northern district were embarrassed by the WCRC's action. The WCRC was left without a defender in Lansing, and the Padden bills sailed through committees and both houses of the legislature unanimously.

School Open Houses mark beginning of new year

EDITOR'S NOTE: The monthly Northville PTA-PTSA News, which appears the last Wednesday of each month September through June, will be compiled this year for Northville Public Schools by volunteer Linda Handyside. She is responsible for coordinating material from the publicity persons in each elementary and junior high

In addition, Carole Litzelman of Our Lady of Victory's Parent-Teacher Organization will be compiling information about OLV's activities, and Nancy Lawrence will be writing about upcoming events at William Allan Academy.

AMERMAN

Amerman children are enjoying climbing the rungs, crawling through tires and sliding down the rope of a new wooden pole and metal pipe playground structure purchased with funds from the Northville Mothers' Club and the Amerman PTA. The equipment was purchased during the summer and installed by Bob Michaelis, an Amerman parent, and Hugh Forman. Our thanks to these two men for their generous donation of time.

Our annual school Open House was held September 28. While children viewed a film in the gymnasium, teachers greeted parents in the classrooms, explaining goals in math and reading for this school year. The Open House also launched the PTA membership drive, which will continue throughout the month.

The first PTA-sponsored roller skating party of the year is planned from 6:30-8 p.m. next Tuesday at Skatin' Station in Canton. Admission is $3 a person; the event is open to Amerman students and their families.

Vision screening is planned for kindergartners as well as first, third and fifth graders during school hours October 20-22. Screening is done by the Wayne County Health Department, and parents will be notified of any vision problems which need further examination or correction.

The Amerman library now has a parent-teacher reference collection available for circulation. This is a selection of books on child growth, development and psychology and is located in the library workroom. Parents are invited to utilize this special section of our library.

Next PTA board meeting will be at 10 a.m. October 18 in the school library. Parents are invited to attend.

MORAINE

Moraine's 342 students are back to the work and enjoyment of another school year. To give parents some idea of what goes on at school, our year begins with the annual Open House program. Kindergartners, first, second and sixth graders will have their Open House tomorrow. Third, fourth and fifth graders will hold their Open House

Roller skating continues to be a popular family event; so the PTA again will sponsor several evenings at Bonaventure Skating Rink. The first is scheduled on October 7. Students should bring a parent to this event.

Fifth and sixth graders will have an opportunity to participate in an instrumental music program being offered for the first time in many years. Those students interested in the program will have an opportunity to select the instrument they wish to work with during the next few weeks.

Want to help build a sandbox? Principal Donald Van Ingen and PTA members are working on a plan to renovate the playground and could use some help. Anyone with ideas on construction or materials, please contact Mr. Van Ingen.

PTA officers for the 1982-83 school year are: Brenda Garner, president; Joan Kolassa, vice president; Karen Poulos, recording secretary; Barb Kowalski, corresponding secretary and Pat Stringer, treasurer. PTA meetings are at 9:30 a.m. the first Monday of the month. Anyone interested is welcome to attend.

SILVER SPRINGS

Principal Marcia Scarr reports that the school year is off to a smooth start! The new Silver Springs handbook has been published and distributed to all students during the first week of school. The handbook relates school policies and procedures, along with a school calendar which the students carefully are following. Even the lunchroom has become quieter and more pleasant since the institution of new rules during lunch time.

We are pleased to have Bess Miller join our faculty. She is teaching a 1-2 class. Chris Modrack has elected to teach a full kindergarten in the mornings along with Cheryl Rosinski. We all had an opportunity to meet Mrs. Miller along with the full teaching staff at the Open House suppers.

The Open House series features a potluck dinner so parents can meet the teachers with their children. Each classroom features a curriculum presentation while the children are entertained in the Media Center. An open house will be held Tuesday for children and parents in the classes of Mrs. Rosinski, Ms. Modrack, Patricia Lyons and Mrs. Miller. Other open houses were held September 21 and 28. The PTA membership drive is in full swing. Cost is $1.50 per person. All parents are encouraged to join the PTA and get involved with all PTA activities during the school year.

The Silver Springs Book Fair will be held October 18 and 19. Students and parents may view the books on the 18th and purchase books on the 19th. Parents will find a wide selection of books to choose from at a very reasonable cost.

Next PTA board meeting will be held at 9:30 a.m. October 19. All parents are welcome to attend.

Chairperson Linda McMillan has announced that the Children's Holiday Shoppe projects are well under way. Flyers announcing specific workshops will be sent home on a timely basis so parents can better plan their time. If you are interested in hosting a workshop in your home, call Linda McMillan at 349-7456 or Linda Handyside at 349-8407. Your help is needed! All projects are set for completion by November 1 so they can be inserted in the Holiday Shoppe Showcase in the school lobby during the month of November.

from leaves of absences. The 34 students and families new to Winchester were welcomed by Principal Milt Jacobi and given a tour of the building September 3.

An enthusiastic group of mothers attended the first PTA meeting and had an opportunity to meet School Superintendent George Bell and the Winchester PTA executive officers Nancy Trabin, vice president; Betty House, secretary and Barb Weix, treasurer. The PTA, with 33 ambitious chairmen, is busy accomplishing its goals for the year. Having purchased a video system including camera, tripod, receiver and recorder, blank tapes will be provided for each classroom to record events for the year in the Winchester Archives.

Parents of kindergartners are invited to attend a Parent Education meeting a 7:30 p.m. October 14. Other grade level meetings will follow. Cafeteria losses cause deficit

Schoolcraft College's cafeteria is a great place to eat, but it's a drain on the general fund budget, says the college's auditor.

"I don't mind eating there at all. The prices are lower and the food quality higher than other colleges and universities," said John M. Sirhal of the firm of Plante & Moran, certified public accountants in Southfield.

But the food service ran a $37,320 deficit last year, Sirhal told the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees. Only $25,000 of the amount was covered by aid from the general fund. The $11,600 unfunded loss, added to five years of losses, amounts to a cumulative deficit of $108,000.

The auditors noted the administration is taking steps to correct some of the loss but warned the college to find a way to fund the accumulated deficit.

"It's an instructional program," said President Richard McDowell, explaining the use of generalfund money to pay for the food service. "It's a positive morale factor."

McDowell added that the food service might have made a profit if it weren't for unemployment compensation paid to personnel laid off for the summer. "Unemployment compensation wiped out the profit," he said.

Controller A.H. Rabe added the college had increased prices and has taken cost-control steps in order to reduce the deficit.

The food service's revenue was about $309,000 last year, with the $37,000 loss amounting to nearly 12 percent of the total.

The food service was the only continuing major problem in Schoolcraft's otherwise rosy audit. Chairman Harry Greenleaf noted that most problems spotted in past years had been dealt with.

Sirhal's "management letter" to the board reported the administration had made most of the recommended procedural changes, and "there are no new significant items that we feel warrant your present attention.

In other business at the September meeting the board learned from McDowell that a donor who wishes to remain anonymous pledged a total of $50,000, in $5,000-a-year gifts, to the Schoolcraft College Foundation. The money will go into an endowment fund whose earnings will give financial aid to students and help the college with equipment purchases.

It accepted gifts of four automatic transmissions worth about $1,200 from Ford Motor Company's ivonia transmission plant to be used in the utomotive technology program.

A metallograph worth $2,200 from a Ford plant in Dearborn was received for use in the metallurgy and materials science department.

A gift of $100 was received from Dale and Jeanne Compton of Birmingham for the welding department. In addition, Compton has applied for matching funds from the Ford Motor Company Educaional Aid Program.

EXCUSES

Dr. James H. Luther

Church faithfulness has fallen on hard times. For some it is a weak substitute for golf on a rainy day For others, it becomes a bothersome attempt to maintain appearances.

Excuses seem as plentiful as quarters in the collection plate. "Sickness," we say, but we are at work on Monday. "Busy, I've got to have one day off," we complain. But we always find time to do what we really want to do. Excuses can be lies stuffed into the skin of reason.

The truth for some is they do not think church is important. We decide that intellectually we are advanced beyond the level of the sermon. Spiritually, we are sure we can be "perfectly good Christians" without being active in a local congregation.

The New Testament book of Hebrews strongly disagrees! Your own spiritual welfare is NOT the total of your concern. You should attend not only to get but to give. For the sake of others, when a church is true to the Scriptures, it deserves our complete loyalty.

But do not kid yourself! No one can be "a pious particle," a believer in isolation. We need common prayer and praise, common fellowship, and joint effort for the cause of the

You see, attending church is a life and death matter! Stop snoozing through the excitement of these last days that are upon us. The cause of Christ needs faithfulness from true believers more than ever before!

Lot division finalized, Docksey to get assist for one group of homeowners last

Thursday. Residents of the Docksey subdivision off Ridge Road in the township will receive some assistance from supervisor John MacDonald in their fight to have drainage ditches cleaned out by the county road commission.

What they will not receive is the delay they asked for in final approval of a lot split of a five acre parcel to the immediate north of their homes - a lot split Docksey residents contend poses a risk of increased flooding in their

Actually, the township planning commission had already given final approval to the lot split, which would create four residential parcels and a small access road. All the township board of trustees had before it last week were easement agreements that will govern the storm drainage layout on the parcel owned by Al Pearson.

The easements themselves had been an unusual requirement set forth by the commission in response to the grave concerns about potential flooding problems expressed by Pearson's neighbors to the south.

But Docksey homeowners group representatives stepped forward once again - as they have on at least four appearances before the planning commission — to try to stop the lot split.

This time, they argued, the easement agreements should not be accepted until the county road commission had done sorely-needed repairs on drainage ditches beside Docksey Avenue and Ridge Court.

Elected as a spokesman for the group, H.B. Henderson said homeowners would like to see the split delayed to "use this as a lever to get Wayne County to clean our drains. If this proposal is passed, then any leverage we've got is gone.

But several board members expressed doubt that holding back development of Pearson's property would give the township any sort of leverage against the road commission, which is responsible for the ditches.

"I don't know that Mr. Pearson's lot split is much of a hammer, in fact I know it isn't much pressure to hold over the road commission," said Supervisor John MacDonald. "The road commission is autonomous and whether or not Mr. Pearson ever develops that property is probably a matter of great indifference to them.'

He asked engineer Edward McNeely to review the situation in Docksey for the benefit of the board, since most of the previous discussion had been before the planning commission. 🤄

McNeely related that the drainage plan for Pearson's property would adequately route stormwater away from homes to the south, and would most probably make a great improvement to area drainage, providing that the road commission opened a ditch that has become filled and no longer carries

Should the road commission not improve the ditches, he said, current drainage problems for parcels near Ridge Court and Ridge Road would improve but even heavier flooding could be expected along Docksey Avenue.

Residents of the area told the board they had been "fighting this thing for over 20 years" and had yet to receive

It was a good news, bad news night the area to be improved but never returned to do the work.

McNeely said the road department now proposes only to repair the situa-tion and will not do the optimum job unless the township or homeowners agree to share the costs.

Pressed for reasons for the commission's stance, McNeely outlined what he had heard.

"They say they have no money to do it," McNeely said. "I don't know. I don't like defending the road commission's arguments. . . I'm not prepared to defend their arguments because I don't know what their real situation is and, mostly, I don't find them all that defensible.

"That's neither here nor there in practical terms. They will do the minimal work for free and if you want anything more some sort of arrangement will have to worked out."

MacDonald first suggested that the board table consideration of the easement agreements until its October 14 meeting, allowing him time to speak with the road commission and try to resolve the drainage issue. That idea did not draw much support from the board, however, and Pearson said he would not appreciate the wait.

The property owner had expected board approval of the agreements at the regular meeting of September 9, but attorney review of the documents had not been completed and Pearson had told the board the two week delay was acceptable only because "you can't do the job without the paper work from the lawyers." He had also said he had a potential buyer for the property and could not stand much more delay.

"This is delay after delay," Pearson said. "I can't see the reason for any further delay. I've done everything you people have asked me to do, even some things I shouldn't have had to do.

The first time I came in here, I didn't have my paperwork in order," he continued. "So the plan was rejected. Fair enough, but when I filed it again I was charged another $585 for another review. Since then, I've been stalled and stalled and stalled. Nobody's paying me $585 for my time."

Trustee Richard Allen, who as the board liaison with the planning commission was most familiar with the situation, said tabling the easements would not be productive.

"I have a problem seeing how holding him up is going to pressure the Wayne County Road Commission," Allen said. "If we have a problem, let's deal with the problem, but I don't think tabling this is going to solve it."

Trustee C. James Armstrong (Allen's alternate as liaison) agreed. "The plan-ning commission has okayed the split," he reminded the board. "Our responsibility is to review the easement agreements, and they are all in order."

Trustee Thomas Cook noted that MacDonald could contact the road commission regardless of board action on the easement agreements.

The board voted 4-2 to accept the agreements, with MacDonald and Clerk Susan Heintz voting against the action. They cast the last two votes on the roll call. Trustee James Nowka was

... In the Township

A Walled Lake motorcyclist was injured and received a traffic citation as result of an accident at Eight Mile and Beck late Friday night, township police reports indicate.

Michael Scott Paulson, 22, received a out in his left shin in the accident, which dolice determined was the result of improper passing on his part.

According to the police report of the incident, a 16-year-old Lexington Avenue resident was driving westbound on Eight Mile and began a left turn onto Beck when her car struck the motorcyclist at around 11:30 p.m. Friday. Paulson, who was charged with improperly passing in a "no passing" done, was also westbound but had crossed a solid yellow line and was traveling the eastbound lanes.

The motorcyclist declined police offers to seek medical treatment for the gash on his left leg.

A prowler who scared a Jamestown Çircle resident by peering through a glass doorwall at 11:45 p.m. Thursday escaped with a 10-speed bicycle, the owner reported.

The resident, who said she had fallen asleep on the couch and woke to a tapping sound on the window, screamed when she saw a man's face looking in the window. The man fled, she told police, taking with him the yellow 26inch Schwinn Varsity bicycle that had een left unlocked on the patio.

A search of the area was to no avail. Police have no suspects in the case.

A $130 bicycle was stolen September 20 while its young boy owner played nearby just off Scenic Harbor, his mother told police.

A resident of Farragut Court, the mother said her son was playing and had left the 20-inch Murray bicycle near a creek. It was gone when he returned. The incident occurred sometime between 6:30 and 7 p.m., she said.

Youths playing near the site told police they had not seen the bicycle, described as blue with yellow mag wheels, yellow handlebars and blue

One man suspected of robbing the Michigan National Bank branch at Five Mile and Haggerty has been arrested in Florida while police and FBI authorities continue their investigation with an eye toward uncovering any accomplices he may have had.

aptain/detective Phil Presnell, William Bruce, 41, whose last known àddress was in Farmington was arrested recently in Tampa, Florida. Exradition proceedings are under way, resnell related.

The August 20 robbery involved at least two and possible three persons, according to earlier statements by police and witnesses. Investigators are withholding other information regarding the case, but said the amount stolen was "in the thousands" of house, after being found guilty of a breaking and entering in the township. Items were stolen from the interior of a house on Haggerty near Five Mile.

According to Presnell, the burglary was September 1, 1981, and a jury found Dreher guilty February 22, 1982. Sentence was passed September 14.

Anthonty Hines, a 19-year-old township resident, was convicted on charges stemming from a break-in on Ridge road in which police caught the man in the residence. Hines entered a plea of guilty as charged and was sentenced to probation. Presnell noted that the man was already on probation from an earlier offense and had received a 90-day sentence for probation violation locally.

Presnell reported he had also received a report last week that the court had determined Donald (Donnie) Clark, accused of breaking and entering a home in the Lakes of Northville subdivision, is incompetent to stand trial and the man had been remanded to the custody of Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital.

Clark, now 27, was discovered in a Fairbrook residence October 23, 1981, shortly after he walked away from the the Seven Mile Road state mental health institution. He was on a grounds pass at the time, and had left the hospital grounds on four other occasions in the preceding 18 months.

Citizen pressure resulting from the incident led the state to promise to plant a hedge to provide a barrier to walkaways from the hospital, though that hedge has yet to be planted.

Presnell said he was confused by the latest notification that Clark would not stand trial due to mental incompetence, since he believed an earlier ruling had determined he was, indeed, competent. The ruling, made by Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Richard D. Dunn, removes Clark from the criminal justice system and returns him to the custody of the department of mental health.

Clark has been at the state hospital since early November last year when a judge denied Presnell's request that he be sent to the state's Ypsilanti facility which is reserved for the criminal men-

A former mental patient suspected of soliciting sexual favors was evicted by police from a Seven Mile Road tavern near Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital September 15, barely a week after her release from that institution.

Responding to a complaint from the bartender, police asked the 32-year-old Harper Woods woman to leave the premises after the bartender said she had dropped her pants to show a patron a tattoo on her hip. The bartender also told police another patron, who had left the eatery, had complained the woman had "propositioned" him.

A record check revealed the woman had a history of mental problems, had been arrested for soliciting in Harper Woods and had been released from the hospital September 7, according to township police reports.

According to police, the complainant came to the station to report he was kicked in the left side of the face by another youth while standing in the establishment's parking lot. The officer noticed the complainant's face was swollen, but that the victim had not sought medical attention.

The complainant said there was an argument between himself and the subject at which time the subject began pushing him after the subject kicked in the face twice, the report said.

The complainant said the argument was a result of an earlier incident David Mark Dreher, 23, of Canton where the complainant said the subject was sentenced to five years' probation, had cut in front of his vehicle while the first year to be spent in a halfway southbound on South Main near Beal Street, the report said.

After the incident, the complainant said he left. He decided to make a complaint after discussing it with his father, police said.

Police talked with the subject two days later, the report said. The subject said his vehicle was cut in front of by the complainant's vehicle on South Main. At the Electric Light Room lot, the subject said he did approach the complainant.

The subject said he asked the complainant why he cut in front of him, but pushing began between the two of them and he was kicked in the knee by the victim. He retaliated by kicking the complainant, in the chest, he thought; then all parties left, the report said.

WHO NEEDS BRACES?

Q. How can I tell if my child needs braces?

A. Let your dentist be your guide in making the decision whether your child needs orthodontic treatment. But in general crowded, unevenly spaced, protruded or rotated teeth, and occasionally mouth breathing indicate a need for treatment. If the teeth do not fit together properly when the mouth is closed, or if the lower teeth bite outside the upper teeth, orthodontics is needed. Also if front teeth do not meet when back teeth meet, or if they do not chew properly consult your dentist.

Grant review requested

Pressure is building on the Wayne County federal block grant Advisory Democrat Thomas Presnell opposed Council to reconsider its August determination that Northville and Sumpter Township proposals were not deserving of federal funds the county allocates on a discretionary basis.

Acting on a proposal by Wayne County Commissioner R. William Joyner (a Plymouth Democrat whose district includes Sumpter Township and a small portion of Northville Township) the county board's Human Resources Committee last week passed a resolution requesting reconsideration of the denials.

Commissioner Mary Dumas (R-Livonia, whose district includes Northville and most of the township) was among the five members voting in the action.

The decision to reject both Sumpter's request for funds to cover engineering studies of a proposed landfill site and Northville's petition for $70,000 to be applied to sewer construction in Park Gardens while approving a beautification project in Grosse Pointe Woods' business district was widely criticized when the advisory council met last

A regular meeting of the advisory council is set October 21 in Riverview City Hall, 17700 Fort Street and consideration of the township's block grant application is on the agenda, according to the county public information office.

Board action came on a motion by treasurer Richard Henningsen, who called for a hearing regarding the addition of Manoogian's properties to the district. The board established that hearing for 7 p.m. October 14, one hour before the regular monthly meeting of the board.

Presuming board determination of the district boundaries on that date, plans by those outside bodies that must see or approve them - the Wayne County DPW, probably the health department, the DNR."

A late winter start is not impossible, he said, if there is a mild winter, but early spring is more likely. "We'll probably bid it this winter for spring construction," McNeely explained. "If the winter is mild, the contractor might decide to get started and begin construction then."

The suit charges that on November 12 the production company manager ordered Abler taken out of the theater because Brynner complained she was making "inappropriate noises."

The manager, the suit continues, "indicated that if the plaintiff was not removed Yul Brynner would not perorm and 'somebody would be embar-

The comment, it adds, "was made in the plaintiff's presence without any concern for her feelings."
The action was said to have caused her "embarrassment, humiliation, loss of self-respect and mental distress."

Participating with the attorney in the appearance at the Plymouth Center were Abler, her parents, William and ary Abler of Brownstown Township. clizabeth W. Bauer, a member of the center staff and executive director of Michigan Protection and Advocacy Service, George Ebling, administrative assist and Margaret Bachman, staff psychologist.

HIt's difficult for a parent to allow one of his children to be put in a position like " William Abler said, "but Jane is a strong-minded girl and she is adamant that she wants this action.

She knows she has legal rights in ofte of her handicap. We are not going to be here all of her life, so we are supporting her.

Jane Abler also made a statement, using with her father's help, a device containing symbols for words. She shows what she wants to say by raising her eyes when the correct word is in-

Her statement was: "The man (Brynner) makes me pain, and I want ohelp handicapped people go to the ovies and theater and not feel humiliated."

Ebling pointed out that visits into the community are common for the residents still in the center. "These made them better able to enter community life later and enhance their life while they are here," he noted.

Bauer noted Abler is a discussion group member and it was she who suggested taking in "The King and I."

Tickets for center residents and staff were purchased in advance and the theater was informed some users would be in wheelchairs, said attorney Stevens. The developmentally-disabled theater-goers paid for their orchestra section tickets, she added.

The group arrived well before curtain time and was seated. Abler cannot leave her wheelchair, so her chair was located "toward the back of the front section" where it would not obstruct anyone's vision, Stevens said.

According to the suit, staff member Rose Granger was asked just before intermission to take Abler out because Brynner had complained. She asked that the usher inform the actor that Abler was physically impaired and ask for his compassion.

The response was the action by the production company manager.

The suit said the incident caused Abler to become ill, and she was treated by a Plymouth Center physician. She still gets angry when she reads anything about the actor or the show, the suit added.

The advocacy service, said Bauer, is one mandated by both state and federal laws and funded with money from both levels:-Independent-of of Michigan's-Mental Health Department, it represents the handicapped in matters both legal and non-legal.

'Last year we intervened on behalf of the handicapped in more than 3,000 cases, only 30 of which required legal action," she said.

The day started at 9 a.m. with the arrival of the truck and trailer carrying two identical 1983 Dodge Aries in what Chrysler calls "crimson" paint. Minor cosmetic work on the road (cleaning dirt off a sign, for instance) and setting up the rain system and the camera angles occupied most of the morning Serious filming of the moving car began in early afternoon and "worked out really well," McIntosh related. Interior shots were done on the second car, which also would have acted as a back-up had the other failed (which it

The production company paid the offduty officers and rented what equipment was necessary (notably fire hose and a police vehicle). Police kept the location clear of traffic during filming while firemen worked the water

The practice of hiring off-duty of-ficers and renting the equipment need-ed, McIntosh said, is an industry standard. "We pay the guys an extra day's pay, essentially; it's done in Hollywood, San Diego, Chicago. You don't want to take people away from their jobs to do this, and you don't want to tie-up any equipment that's needed on the job,

Regional airing of the spot is no more than two weeks away, when people in some parts of the country will see that small portion of Northville as a backdrop in the central portion of the commercial. McIntosh said the opening and closing segments "where the car is standing still" were filmed over the weekend at Chrysler's Chelsea Proving Grounds.

Narration of the commercial was done at the same time by William DeVane, known for his television appearances as John F. Kennedy in "The Missiles of October" and as the sergeant in television's "From Here to Eternity." There is no firm date, as yet, for the first nationwide broadcast of the commercial, but McIntosh said, "it definitely will go national by the end of October.

Overall, McIntosh concluded, the shooting in Northville turned out to be "a good day. We got what we were after. It had a good look in the screening room, where it really pays off."

in August of last year.

The company was along the residental progranted a zoning change in order to build a new road, establish a formal parking area and outside building renovations, which include a stair tower with a formal waiting room and receptionist area, at that time last year.

The new road was to be built after a land swap deal between the city and the Wayne County Road Commission. The company wants to move the present Rural Hill Drive east 50 feet and construct a new drive to its parking

Final approval for the land swap, Tkacz explained, has not been accomplished. There have been numerous delays, he added, with the road commission.

The initial request for 200 feet of road to be transferred was denied, but another request for 80 feet was approved only after it had been discovered the request was sitting on a lawyer's desk for five months, Tkacz said.

The company now is awaiting approval from the Department of Natural Resources and the state on the land

The commission queried Tkacz why the rest of the renovation has not started. He repsonded the company has not been able to get any loans until all of its plans, including the land swap deal, are approved.

Not the EDC (Economic Development Corporation), nor the banks, will handle it until everything-is approved," said Tkacz, noting the project costs an estimated $785,000.

Planning Consultant Ronald Nino expressed some reservations about the whole project. He explained he was amazed at the variances granted to the company over the years, and believed it has 'gotten of of hand".

New fencing encloses Hunter House garden

Worth joining

In a letter to Northville Historical Society members, membership chairman Kathleen Otton comments, "Surprisingly, our membership fees constitute a large percentage of our budget." The fall membership appeal letter notes that the modest dues are tax deductible and "will allow us to continue to improve our unique Mill Race Village."

The historical society has 400 members, counting individually husbands and wives who have couple memberships. The membership chairman is concerned because to date only 50 percent have renewed. To some extent, the economy may be responsible, but we agree it is easy to forget membership dues during summer recesses. Otton also would like to have new members for the organization which is open to everyone interested in preservation. It is not necessary to be a local resident to belong, she emphasizes.

While many members are enthusiastic workers on such projects as the annual historical society-sponsored Tivoli Fair being held this Friday and Saturday at Northville Downs, participation is not a requirement of membership. Everyone who may have wandered along the paths in the village, visited the buildings or enjoyed the Fourth of July celebration there should agree with Kay Otton that the village is indeed "unique" — and deserving of the support needed to complete and continue it as a visible part of our local past.

Recent visitors have seen how funds have been used. The buildings have been painted — the Yerkes House and the Wash-Oak Schoolhouse now are a slate blue and soft putty, respectively. The outhouse is restored and anchored. There is a distinctive new fence in front of the Hunter House garden. President Fran Gazlay reported last week that flooring soon will be installed in the schoolhouse in the ongoing restoration.

An individual membership in the Northville Historical Society is $8; couple membership is $12; and for students and senior citizens who would like to support its work and participate in activities, memberships are one dollar. Docents, volunteer guides who relate histories for visitors and open the buildings on Sunday afternoons, pay a $5 membership fee. There also are four categories of special memberships: contributing $35, sustaining $100, annual patron $500, patron $1,000 or more.

With a good number of renewals and some new memberships, the society could begin to plan for a blacksmith shop next to the schoolhouse, which President Gazlay feels is needed to "keep the village alive and growing." Checks may be sent to Northville Historical Society, P.O. Box 71, Northville, 48167.

It's coming

It is a genuine pleasure to see the township's Park Gardens sewer project getting closer to resolution every day, but a bit of a disappointment to run into further snags. This time, at least, those involved did not resort to petty invective trying to place blame for the obstacle.

The addition of property to a special assessment district — a proposal for which is the present hang-up — is usually a benefit to those in the district. Certain costs are fixed, and it is inevitable that as the number of people covering those costs increase, the individual shares decrease. We understand the fears that led the original SAD petitioners to delete property once considered for inclusion, but suspect those fears should now be remote and may soon be proven unfounded.

What scems to have happened is that supporters of the drive to solve Park Gardens' problems have been properly concerned about the grant funding that makes the entire project feasible (without it, few homeowners anywhere would find the costs of the system affordable), but forgotten the more traditional methods of cutting costs to the homeowners. By targetting the dollars toward Park Gardens proper, the grant process appears to have set up an insular mentality by which homeowners became overly protective of "our" project and "our" money — probably to their own deficit.

Which is not to say either that we whole-heartedly agree with the addition of land to the district (details are sketchy, so informed opinion is impossible), or that we disagree with efforts to find more grant money. As always, we believe Park Gardens to be a special circumstance demanding special handling. As we stated recently, county authorities should review the grant distribution process to see if Park Gardens was not unfairly treated and the township should support efforts to have this done.

We are pleased with the township water and sewer department's acceptance of a portion of the project cost that is rightfully its own. Recovery of some of the earlier expenditures that appear to have been mismanaged would please us even more, and that seems possible in the present atmosphere. Now that homeowners and township authorities seem to be working more in harmony than we have ever seen, and progress is at hand, we caution both parties to handle this latest issue with equanimity.

Off the record

Animal House

For the past few weeks, I have attempted to recall the location of an array of items which for some reason or another have been misplaced. For instance, I can't remember what I did with a box of odds and ends my grandmother gave to me years ago. Then there are my favorite childhood books which I clearly remember putting away but haven't the foggiest notion of where.

I actually cleaned out a closet this weekend in the hopes of finding some of these things. However, my efforts were to no avail. While most people would say, "Ah, they'll turn up somewhere," I can't be so certain. In fact, the reason I have been scouring the house with such persistence for the past few days is that I fear they may be gone forever.

I've come to the conclusion that my most treasured possessions have gone the way of most of the memorabilia packed away in what once was safe storage. In other words, they've been eaten by the rabbit.

That's right, a foot-long, gray creature with long ears who thumps around its own private living quarters — our basement.

The little hopper definitely has the best of all possible worlds. We are the only house on the block (for that matter anywhere) where the pet rabbit has a room of its own. Occupying a full basement, it sneaks around the pool table and freezer in search of the most desirable feeding ground. Unfortunately, it has found its favorite food to be my four-years of college notes and my mother's first edition Nancy Drew books.

Despite my rantings and ravings and countless threats to make rabbit stew, the bunny still remains a permanent fixture in the basement. My younger sister, the rabbit owner, has made it clear that if I want to keep my Melville essays and Civil War notes then it would be wise to put them somewhere other than the bunny's abode. Well, excuse me.

Of course, that's easier said than done. My room already is filled with boxes of books, stacks of newspapers and several pieces of unfinished furniture — all hidden away from hungry

Actually, I shouldn't give the rabbit such a bad rap. It is a fairly cute little critter and despite its ferocious appetite it isn't much of a bother. Besides, it probably acquired its taste for fine books from our dog—or rather one of our two dogs.

It's been almost two years since my younger sister — the same one who owns the rabbit — brought home a hand-sized furry brown puppy with droopy ears and big brown eyes. Of course, she brought the dog home while my mother was on a business trip in New York.

My mother, who stands like a tower of Jello when up against puppies with big brown eyes, agreed to let my sister keep the little pooch provided that she train it.

Needless to say, it still can't tell the difference between our 4 bright green living room carpet and the front yard. It appropriately goes by the name of "Poopers." $_{\rm i}$

As if this problem isn't enough, the dog seems to have a split personality. After eating a pair of $85 shoes, ripping the binding off an antique book and devouring an open bottle of Comtrex, the mutt waltzes around the house without a care in the world—pretending it's done nothing wrong. It will jump on your lap, bat its big brown eyes and lick your ear.

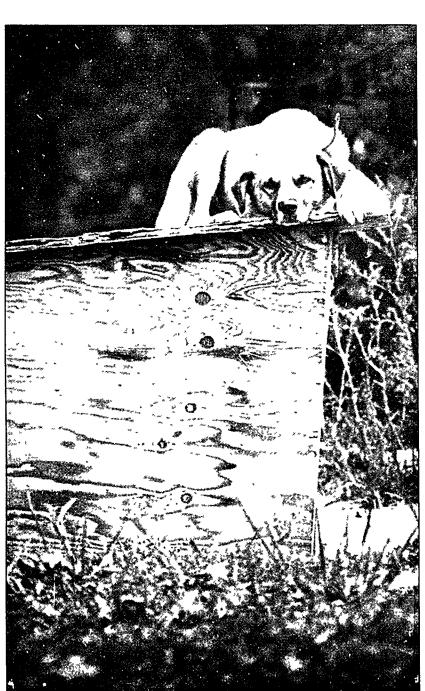

After months of wanting to strangle this creature, I have come to realize that's it's not such a bad little pup. To quote my mother, "It fits in with the rest of the family." As you can well imagine, that really says a lot for the rest of us.

To be more optimistic, we're hoping that in the months ahead our schizophrenic dog may learn from the gluttonous rabbit.

The rabbit is house broken.

AND THE PROPERTY OF THE PROPER

Editorial opinions of The Record are developed and written by Editor Jean Day and staff members Kevin Wilson, Michele McElmurry and John Myers.

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

Jean Day, editor of the Northville Record, hasn't learned her lesson yet. I know that's true because she keeps volunteering to drive whenever our mutual attendance is required at a meeting.

Frankly, I'm a crummy passenger. Take the worst backseat drivers you can imagine, roll them together and what you end up with is something like me.

"Jean, move over a lane and you won't get sandwiched behind those cars," I advise her as we head down the expressway.

Or, "Jean, speed up a little and we cap get away from those lead-footed truckers speeding up behind us."

Mrs. Day, bless her heart, believes a speed limit is something to be obeyed. And, just to appease local law enforcement agencies which are probably at this moment put; ting out BOLs (be on the lookout) for my eight-cylinder, 342 Mustang, so do I. In principle. Practice is a different matter.

If there's one thing I dislike it's going slow. Whereas Mrs. Day feels guilty about going 56 when the limit is 55, I take being passed by another car as a personal insult.

I know my obsession with getting places as quickly as possible is not very admirable. And I do consider myself a basically good driver except for my heavy foot.

I've received darn few speeding tickets as well, primarily because I'm a selective speeder. "Never speed in subdivisions, residential areas or near schools" is rule number one. "Be aware of shift changes" is another. You can't be ticketed when police are signing in, signing out or writing reports.

Despite my dislike for bumper stickers, I've given serious consideration to putting one of those "Support Your Local Police" stickers on my car for those occasions when I do get pulled over.

There are times when you can and when you can't put the pedal to the metal. But be advised no plan is foolproof. I was ticketed recently at I a.m. near Five Mile and Pontiac Trail by a state policeman. Discretion being what it is, I didn't ask. But I still wonder why a state cop was watching for speeders out in the sticks at one in the morning.

Taxpayer against summer tax

Your headline article on September 15 and the indepth editorial concerning a proposed eight-month pull ahead of tax payments were very interesting, informative and eloquent. Your writings and coverage appear to have considered all aspects of improved revenue and reduced cost to the school district. In fact, throughout all of the coverage allotted to this subject only one interest group seems to have been ignored, the taxpayer.

While Mr. Bell and the school board have studied the interest expense to the district, they apparently forgot that this expense was included in the millage collected from the taxpayer.

They also appear conversant on the benefits to the district of an eight-month earlier collection, but the interest cost to the taxpayer to support the earlier payment was never mentioned. At the current money market rate of 12 percent, this early payment would cost the taxpayers an additional eight percent per year.

I do not support an eight percent increase in cost at this time, and I resent the implication that the early payment is good for the community without considering the real cost to the taxpayer.

Last year the voters approved a millage level that the voters thought they could afford and was sufficient to operate the district.

A change in collection practices should not change the cost to the taxpayer. Cost increases should result from voter approved millage changes, not by creative collection schemes.

If reducing the substantial interest expense to the District can be achieved, these funds should be returned to the taxpayer by a millage reduction.

Pollution protested

To the Editor:
First of all, I must tell you that I am a new resident here, and I love Northville. It is a delightful

I am responding to your article of September 16. I regret this, but you misunderstood an area of my letter to the Northville City Council or the Northville Planning Commission. Let me explain my protests against the Northville Laboratory.

1. I was protesting the damaging steam of pollution, emitted periodically, daily, from roof vents, which are approximately 120 feet from my bedroom window.

2. I was protesting the fact that Northville Laboratory "may" (?) have once been "just a lab," but is now a full-fledged factory with semitrailers there daily. It is not fumes from trucks, but fumes from their plant operation I spoke of.

3. I was protesting the fact that Northville Planning Commission had recently issued a go-ahead for a large expansion. I felt a disservice done to many residents. Because expansion entails opening a smoke stack, (or dryer or vent) that that will increase the hazards of breathing, I began seeking help for this situation in June, 1982, and I notice a big improvement has taken place. There is less acrid burning sensation in nose and throat and the odors are now almost nil. So, I believe they must be now using collectors. Things have improved so far.

4. I have received assistance from Mr. William G. Bentson, Wayne County Pollution Control enforcement section. As discussed in my letters to city council and planning commission, the smoke .stacks/vents/dryer emitters should be relocated at the far end of this lengthy structure and face them towards Rural Hill Cemetery, whose residents they can not harm. Mr. Bentson agreed.

5. Granted Northville Lab was here before my residence, but if they insist on expansion, then the city should demand they consider the little person, who has no pull, but must lie in bed and breathe these irritants. Even after closing hours, the emis-

o 6. I feel the Northville Laboratory (factory) has no right to jeopardize my air space. I may be very unimportant, but I am entitled to breathe, and I resent the fact that they profit from the use of my air space. (It was a pleasant thought planting a hedgerow of evergreens, but that will not deter damaging pollution.) Moving the smokestacks will greatly reduce the problem. More collectors will reduce the problem.

7. I trust you will see that my correct statements are printed.

5 Thank you very much indeed.

Boosters thankful

To the Editor:

The Northville Athletic Boosters want to publicly thank Northville Charley's for the generous donation of $868 to the Boosters' club treasury.

'John Cleveland, manager of Charley's, contacted Dr. George Bell with the pledge that Charley's would donate four dollars from each ticket sold to Northville Charley's first annual birthday clambake held Sunday, September 19, to an appropriate school organization.

Dr. Bell recommended the Boosters be the recipient of Northville Charley's generosity.
Twelve members of the Northville Athletic Boosters sold tickets to the clambake as did the restaurant personnel over the counter. Two hundred and seventeen people purchased tickets and enjoyed fine food (lobsters, mussels, potatoes, corn and beverages) plus music, drawings and games at Northville Charley's clambake.

The Boosters give much time, energy and support to the high school athletic program. Last year they purchased over $5,000 of needed athletic equipment. The $868 donated by Northville Charley's will certainly be used by the Boosters with the best interest of the students in mind.

Thanks to all the people from Northville Charley's for a fine afternoon and for the generous

Kiwanis day great

On behalf of the Northville Kiwanis Club and Kiwanis clubs throughout Michigan I want to extend my sincere appreciation to the Northville High School Band for its splendid performance in the annual Kiwanis Day at Tiger Stadium recently.

As fans gathered to watch the Tigers battle the Boston Red Sox, Northville band members entertained prior to the game. Their march and their music was enjoyed by all, including the professional ballplayers who watched, too, Naturally, the Northville Kiwanis Club and its busload of handicapped Northville area youngsters were especially proud of the local band.

Kiwanis Day salutes handicapped children everywhere. It provides Kiwanians with an opportunity to bring a little extra joy into the lives of those special children we love.

Northville Kiwanians, who annually participate in the Tiger Stadium funfest, participate yearround with handicapped children of our community. You can, too. If you're interested, join us at one of our regular weekly meetings and learn how you can help make the handicapped laugh. We meet at 6:30 p.m. each Monday at O'Henry's on Seven Mile at the railroad crossing.

Thanks again, Northville bandsmembers. You helped make Kiwanis Day an extra special event. And thanks, too, to the A & P and Chatham stores of Northville for permitting us to sell peanuts on their premises this past weekend. Selling peanuts is one of the ways we raise money to aid the handicapped.

Sincerely, Mitch Deeb, Northville Kiwanis Secretary and 1982 Kiwanis Day at Tiger Stadium chairman

Crimes against the elderly and the handicapped would carry stiff mandatory sentences if legislation recently introduced is passed into law.

The bill, which I strongly support, would require a minimum of one year to a maximum of five years in prison, depending on the crime.

Our senior citizens and handicapped men and women are often easy targets of criminals. Because they are least able to defend themselves and their property, those who victimize them must be dealt with harshly.

Murders, rapes, beatings and muggings are always vicious crimes. But when they are committed against people who cannot fight back they are especially hideous.

A sure sign that winter's on the way is the annual purchase of road salt by the city.

City council accepted the low bid of Morton Salt Company, based in Chicago, of $20.12 per ton. Only other bid was for $20 84 per ton from International Salt Company of Clarks Summit, Pennsylvania.

Morton also was low bidder for the city contact last year, but the price ($19.15) was slightly less then.

Mall exhibit focuses on pro football greats

Twelve Oaks display focuses on Pro Football

"Touchback on history with the ton Hall to the shopping mall. Chevrolet/NFL Pro Football Hall of Chevrolet's new and Fame exhibit at Twelve Oaks Mall beginning tomorrow and running through Sunday, October 3," invites the Novi shopping center at 275000 Novi

Road at the I-96 expressway.

Called the "most extensive travelling professional football exhibit ever assembled," the Chevrolet Travelling Pro Football Hall of Fame features highlights from the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio, considered one of the world's premier sports showcases.

The traveling exhibit offers a generous sampling of what the Hall of Fame is all about.

There are three taped television "Fantastic Finishes," "Super Bowl Highlights" and Pro Football Hall of Fame mini-tour that provide continuous action.

A memento-filled showcase and 16 colorful display panels bring some of pro football's most interesting and important moments direct from the Can-

Chevrolet's new and exciting passenger cars and light duty trucks are interwoven throughout each traveling unit.

The idea of joining the leading name in passenger cars and light duty trucks with a renowned Pro Football Hall of Fame was conceived as a unique way of offering, live and direct, a view of the hall of fame to millions of people coast to coast.

Focal point of the traveling unit is a simulation of the Pro Football Hall of Fame dome emblazoned with the Chevrolet logo, symbolizing the cooperation that has made the massive touring exhibition possible. Inside is an exact replica of the Vince Lombardi niche at the hall, including a mural of Lombardi being carried off the field by his team after a Super Bowl victory.

Small photos of all 114 Hall of Fame inductees are included in the exhibit. This year's inductees - Doug Atkins, George Musso, Sam Huff and Merlin

Jerseys, helmets, shoulder pads, footballs, uniforms and Super Bowl rings will be on display from the Canton Hall of Fame's priceless collection, representing the evolutionary stages of pro football paraphernalia and those worn by champion players.

A spokesperson for the exhibit will be available to answer questions throughout the weekend.

In conjunction, other football activities include a "Kick-Off in Stadium Styles" fashion show at Twelve Oaks Friday and Saturday at 2 and 4 p.m. in the Center Court. Latest in fall sport-swear, coats, activewear, suits and partywear will make football enthusiasts winners this fashion season.

This action-packed fashion show will highlight dynamic designs and styles for football enthusiasts. Exciting fashions for pre-game activities, the game and halftime, executive suite dressing and victory celebrations will be showcased for a spectacular

The 1982 Twelve Oaks Mall Teen Fashion Panel will be featured in the team spirit as they model sportswear. The scene will come alive with cheerleaders, pom poms and pennants.

A football weekend for two giveaway to the Sheraton Oaks in Novi also is a feature of the football season. A lucky shopper will win two nights ac-commodations for Friday and Saturday, November 12 and 13, with two complimentary cocktails and breakfast in Anthony's Lounge as well as two tickets. to the Lions football game on Sunday, November 14, with preferred seating and VIP parking.

Twelve Oaks will present the winner with a $50 gift certificate redeemable in any store or service in the center. Entry blanks are available at the Twelve: Oaks Mill information booth. The winner will be announced on Saturday, October 2, at 4 p.m. in the Center Court.

Twelve Oaks hours are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Housing industry seen ready to turn upward

Michigan's housing industry is ready to turn upward after months of depressed sales, according to an industry

Herman Frankel, president of the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan, said his optimism is based on

• The rapidly lowering interest rates The recent sharp improvement in stock values

• The general confidence shown by many of the experts who make the economic forecasts "Ironically, a demand for new hous-

industry," Frankel said recently in remarks prepeared for a news con-

"Because of the desperate situation in our industry during the past couple of years, many builders were forced out of business and many of our skilled-trades people left for other states. The result will be a shortage of qualified people as the demand for new housing in-

Union opposes ballot proposal

Representatives of several Michigan labor unions have announced the organization of a coalition to defeat a proposal on the November ballot which, they say, would "threaten the recovery of Michigan's economy.

Stanford Arnold, secretary-treasurer of the Michigan State Building and Construction Trades Council, announced the formation of Labor for Michigan Jobs and Energy.

"If the initiative backed by the Michigan Citizens Lobby (MCL) is passed on November 2, it will deal a devastating blow to the alreadydepressed economy of our state and particularly to Michigan's workers.' said Arnold.

'It is our responsibility as labor leaders to make sure that voters understand the consequences of this misguided in-

The MCL proposal, which would require a full "cost of service" rate proceeding before utilities would be allowed to adjust rates to reflect changes in the cost of fuel, "sounds attractive," said Arnold, "however, it is based on empty promises.'

Arnold said the MCL initiative, if passed, would increase unemployment in Michigan, threaten union wages, weaken pension funds and undermine basic labor protections.

'This plan would discourage industry from locating in our state," he said. "Industry needs energy, and this initiative raises serious questions about whether the utility companies will be able to satisfy the needs of new and expanding businesses."

The 36-year old Iowa City resident was named executive director of the Hoover library association in 1976 and has served as the educational foundation's chief administrator since that time.

Angove said he and his wife Kathy had become RAVC members first with the intention of upgrading the quality of their family vacations, leading to the decision to become affiliated. Lucky winners

Winners of a trip to Mexico City, Acapulco, Cancun or Puerto Vallarta are Tony Gelardi, Dennis Swaney, right, both employed at Showerman's IGA in South Lyon's Brookdale Square. They entered a national contest sponsored by Campbell's Soups and Old El Paso products and won the trip of their choice for two. They plan to pay their wives' expenses to accompany them and probably will go in February, although they have until July, 1983, to collect their prize. To win the contest, Swaney, grocery department manager at the store, and Gelardi, produce manager, built a distinctive display of Campbell's Mexicali bean soup and El Paso items. The contest was based on tying the products into other store items, such as fresh produce, and was judged on size of the display and originality of composition. The winners are pictured getting in the mood for the trip with Douglas McDonald, sales representative for Campbell Soups.

Don't be a heart breaker

Numerous studies have shown that many people who exhibit no evidence of heart disease increase their risk of heart attack by eating a daily diet high in saturated fats and cholesterol.

Most people can reduce their risk of heart attack by controlling the amount of cholesterol-rich foods and the amount and type of fats they eat. You also can reduce risk by avoiding overweight, exercising regularly, not smoking, and following medical advice if you have high blood pressure.

Booters stun Athens; win Carmen title

In what has to be termed one of the team's biggest victories of the season, the Northville boys' soccer squad stunned defending Class A state champion Troy Athens 4-1 en route to capturing the Flint Carmen tournament title

The Mustangs claimed the championship with two late second-half goals to down Lansing Waverly 4-2. Waverly reached the finals with its 4-1 victory over host Flint

'Co-coaches Dan Swayne and Marvin Gans tried to downplay the fact the Athens victory might be the biggest of the season, yet they conceded it felt good to gain the victory over an Athens team they believe is not the same as

Still, the coaches credited a tenacious defense as golding the Mustangs over Athens and into the championship contest. The Mustangs continually denied Athens a chance to set up any kind of an offense with their swarming defense, and they were continually taking the ball away from Athens, the coaches said.

Also, they credited all 31 players who saw action as givig a total team effort to pull off the triumph even though there were some excellent individual efforts.

Greg Marshall booted in three goals and goalies Jeff Metz and Chris Sixt held Athens off board until late in the

Marshall added another goal late in the second half to make it 4-0 before Athens finally scored on a penalty kick

Goals by Marshall and Joe Mackle spotted Northville a 2-0 halftime edge against Waverly. However, Waverly rebounded for two second-half goals to knot the score at 2-

Marshall headed in a corner kick in the second half to give the Mustangs a 3-2 lead it would never relinquish. Randy Etters scored an insurance goal on a breakaway. Metz was in goal the entire game and earned the victory.

The coaches thought it was a good win, and that the team felt good about winning the title.

The tournament victory capped the best week yet for the Mustangs, who also recorded triumphs over Livonia Franklin and North Farmington.

The Mustangs drilled Franklin 4-1 last week Tuesday with Marshall scoring twice and Etters and Fabio Nielsen each adding a goal.

Franklin tallied its lone goal late in the game on an indirect kick from the penalty area, which the coaches said could not have been stopped. Northville continued its winning ways with a 4-0 blanking of North Farmington last Thursday. It was the first shutout of the season for the Mustangs, and it was a combined effort by Metz and Sixt. Marshall was the key figure offensively, again, as he tallied two more goals. All told, Marshall found the net an amazing nine times in four games last week.

Adam Danes and Nielsen scored the other goals for the

Harriers remain unbeaten

Northville's boys' cross country team added another victim, Farmington Harrison, to its list of foes it has beaten over the past five seasons without suffering a dual meet loss.

Northville topped the Hawks 19-42 in a Western Lakes Activities Association Western Division match up. The Mustangs now are 2-0 in the Western Division and 3-0 overall.

"We're gaining confidence," veteran coach Ed Gabrys proclaimed. "These were the best times we have run so far."

But, in the same breath he cautioned the harriers were running on a flatter course at Harrison than the muchtougher home Cass Benton course.

"We did what we wanted to do. We placed our top three before their top two and put our next seven runners in before (Harrison's) number three, man," explained Gabrys of the Har-

Salem stops Mustang win streak at five

Plymouth Salem became the first cam this season to defeat the Northville girls' tennis squad as the Rocks osted a 6-1 Western Lakes Activities ssociation triumph last week Monday. While it may seem like Salem crushed the Mustang netters, coach Uta Filkin noted this was the best Northville has played against the Rocks in some

"I wasn't disappointed," the veteran mentor said. "To watch it, there were some super rallies. It's too bad the score doesn't indicate that."

The Mustangs, however, rebounded for a non-league victory over Novi 6-1 last Friday to raise their overall mark to 6-1. A WLAA match against Livonia Churchill was rained out last week Wednesday and has been rescheduled or October 11. The Mustangs are 3-1 in lęague play.

Both Marnie Dillow and Gail Engelmeyer were downed in straight 6sets by Salem's Chris and Wendy Gilles in first and second singles, respectively.

Jill Stevens was topped by Carol ets at third singles, while Holly Hubbard was defeated by Carol Hathaway 6-1, 6-0 at fourth singles.

All three doubles teams battled strongly against Salem with only the third doubles squad of Vicki Robins and Amy Nieuwkoop gaining a victory. Robins and Niuewkoop downed Salem's Barb Hanosh and Chris Kordick 6-7, 6-4, Jeannine Cook and Jean DuSablon lost a tough three-set match 7-5, 3-6, 3-6 to Kathy Greyhound and Michelle Howell. The first due of Jackie Nicols and Denise Colovas were 2-6, 4-6 losers to Kristie Rane and Marge Maggio.

While Robins and Nieuwkoop were the only winners against Salem, they were the only losers against Novi. The duo fell to DeeDee Malila and Jennifer Bugrajski in straight 6-4 sets. However, both players were battling the flu, according to Filkin, and she believed this affected their play.

Dillow scored an easy 6-1, 6-0 triumph over Linda Piotrowicz at first singles, while Engelmeyer went to three sets to down Kathi Malila 3-6, 6-3, 6-3. Stevens also went three sets before recording a 2-6, 6-1, 6-2 triumph over Dana Reynolds. Hubbard completed the singles sweep with a 6-4, 6-2 decision over Lisa Polinsky at fourth singles.

Same old story: Hawks top gridders

Farmington Harrison continued its mastery over Northville with a 17-0 thumping Saturday at Buller Field. It was the Hawks' 12th consecutive victory over the Mustangs. "They were just a better football team," a disappointed Mustang head coach Dennis Colligan said. "I don't think there was any doubt about that."

Harrison capitalized on three early Northville mistakes to put 17 points on the board, and then used its defense continually to shutdown the Mustang offensive attack to win the Western Lakes Activities Association opener for both Northville drops to 1-2 overall and 0-1 in the Western Division, while Harrison ran its overall mark to 3-0 and 1-0 in the Western Division.

Northville mistakes, there were eight in total, and the Hawks' stingy defense were the downfall of the Mustangs in this contest played partially in the rain.

Harrison blocked two punts, intercepted two passes and recovered four fumbles while choking off the Mustangs' offense to 82 total yards.

"You can't do that against a good team," Colligan said. "I think that (the turnovers) was the ball game."

Turnovers were in abundance in the opening moments. Northville took the opening kickoff, but was forced to punt. Harrison blocked the kick, but was intercepted in the endzone by Steve Smith on its third offensive play. However, the Hawks recovered a Northville fumble and sophomore tailback John Miller bulled into the endzone from five yards out and a 7-0 lead.

Northville almost had a golden op-portunity to knot the score in the first quarter. Harrison's punter snared a ball snapped two inches over his head and successfully booted the pigskin away from his own 11-yard line.

"If the snap goes one inch higher, we might get six points. It just goes to show our breaks went one way and theirs another," Colligan said.

The Hawks parlayed two other Northville miscues into points in the second quarter as Miller scored from three yards and Dave Blackmer added a 26yard field goal. The 17-0 advantage stood for the remainder of the contest.

Field position played an important role in the second half. Northville was pinned deep in its own end, while Harrison came away with excellent field position on each change of possession.

"The field position speaks for itself," Colligan offered. "We started drives from our 7, 17 and 11 yard line. We just couldn't get out of that hole."

The fourth-year head mentor credited Harrison's defense for creating Northville's offensive pro-

"Their defense stuck it to us. Their defense won the game for them," he praised. "They shut us down completely offensively.'

While he praised the defensive work of Harrison, he also put part of the blame on the offensive line for the dismal showing. "I wasn't pleased with our offensive line. If there was an area which broke down, it was the line," he

The Mustangs were limited to a mere 40 yards rushing and 42 passing, with all of the passing yards coming in the

"We got 42 yards off the bat and we were pretty optimistic. But, then (Harrison) started coming on with blitzes and because our line wasn't picking it up, we weren't getting any time to throw (the rest of the game)," Colligan explained.

Quarterback Dave Longridge connected on four of 11 aerials for 42 yards with two interceptions. Longridge's completions came early, but Harrison was chasing him in the backfield the rest of the afternoon to shutoff the air game, Colligan said.

The lone bright spot for Colligan was the work of his defense - especially the secondary. In addition to Smith's interception, John Quinn came up with two second half thefts.

·Also, the Mustang defensive unit stopped numerous Harrison drives deep in Northville territory to prevent further scoring in the second half. Our defense buckled down when it had to. That part of the team I was pleased with," Colligan remarked. Northville will look to snap its two-game losing streak against WLAA

Western Division foe Plymouth Canton at 7 p.m. Friday at home. The Chiefs have one of their best teams in seven years, according to Col-ligan, and he knows his gridders will have their hands full. Canton enters the contest with a 2-1 overall mark and 1-0 in the Western

"We're looking to get back into the flow of things," Colligan offered. "The key to beating Canton is to get our of-fense going. We need to get some points on the board."

will dive back into the pool against Livonia Bentley at 7 p.m. Thursday.

This will be the season-opening Western Lakes Activities Association meet for the Mustangs, who surprised a lot of people at the Western Lakes Relays September 18.

The Mustangs cruised into second place with strong performances in the final heats. Alwaystough Livonia Stevenson won the meet with 88 points and Northville collected 76. Bentley, along their placing in four events, while staying even in the remaining six. Also, Northville shaved 12 seconds off as team for all the combined events.

Those two statistics were most pleasing to second-year coach Bill Dicks.

Northville, which has one of its largest teams in recent years, won its first two meets of the season against non-league opponents. The Mustangs also face a tough non-league team in Brighton at 7 p.m.

Pallas to attempt another Triathlon

By JOHN MYERS

After Tom Pallas completed his first Hawaiian Triathlon in February of this year, he explained then he probably would not participate in the October event because of the closeness of the two dates.

"It's going to be in October, and I'm not mentally prepared. Maybe sometime in the future. It's like getting through final exams and having to start studying all over again," said Pallas in February.

But, then is then, and now is now. The 34-year-old Hamtramck resident and Northville Elementary physical education teacher is ready to take another crack at the October 9 World Hawaiian Iron Man Triathlon at Kailua-Kona after being presuaded to do so during the Memorial Day weekend. He left last Saturday to give himself two weeks of training in Hawaii

The race directors changed the date of the Triathlon to give the participants from the Midwest and East a more equal chance against West Coast participants who can work out outdoors year-round. The change in dates is why Pallas hedged in the first place.

"I don't know," responded Pallas regarding what changed his mind.

The best explanation Pallas could come up with for the change of heart was that, when he was talking with people over the Memorial Day weekend, the discussion centered on Pallas getting a better bicycle and doing more extensive road work on hills.

"It got me motivated, again," he related. "So, I just kept going."
The application was filled out the next day, Pallas said, after he naturally asked his wife if he could go it again.

As a refresher to what the triathlon consists of, it is a 2.4 mile swim in the ocean, a 112-mile bike ride around part of Hawaii and a 26 mile, 385 yard marathon all completed in one day - one event after the other.

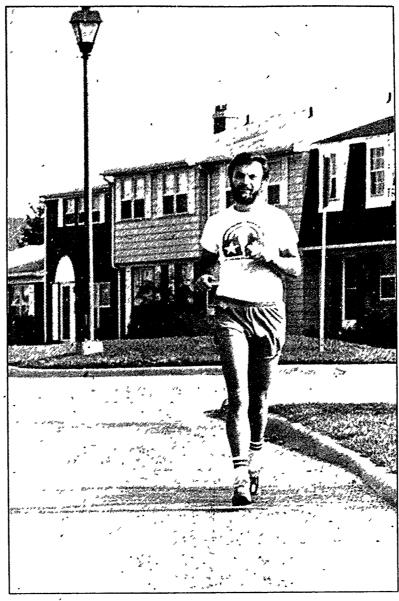

And it was the bike part of February's race which gave Pallas the most trouble. Since a major part of his training was done during the winter months, he set up a bike in his home's basement, removed the front tire and attached two small blowers to the back wheel to simulate road conditions. He thought that was not enough since actual road work would have been more beneficial

However, for this race, Pallas has been able to get out for more actual road work on his new Raleigh professional bike. "I've been doing about 200-300 miles a week on the bike. It's all been road work with a lot of hills and such," Pallas

The swim training has consisted of five to nine miles a week in the Detroit River, and some lakes, for most of the summer. The marathon training, he said, consisted of 40-55 miles a week running around Belle Isle to the Ambassador Bridge in addition to running the spiral car ramp for roof parking at Cobo Hall.

"Hopefully, I'll get a better time and, of course, make it," Pallas said.

"I just enjoy doing it," he said.

Pete Wojcicki paced the next set of Northville runners with a 17:28, while Kurt Assenmacher was not far behind at 17:35. Dave Nase recorded a 17:49 and Doug Doyle was clocked at 17:53.

There was a minute and 30 seconds between the top three Mustang runners, but Gabrys would like to get five harriers within a minute of each other, yet.

"We would like to get as close to minute as we can, but that may be dif-ficult as Jim O'Neill seems to be taking charge," he said.

The junior varsity squad also downed Harrison with sophomore Rich Naszradi the top reserve runner for Northville at 17:57. Freshman Ken Booth was next at 18:10 and sophomore Mike Siefkin checked in at 18:12. This is the point in the season where

Linkers need wins for shot at title

Northville's boys' golf team is in control of its own destiny if it wants to claim the Western Division championship in the Western Lakes Activities

The Mustangs currently stand 3-3 in league after last week's action, and coach Joe Blake realizes his team must win its remaining three league matches if it has any hopes of capturing the divisional cham-

"A 7-2 or 6-3 record might be good enough to win the division," he said.

Northville split a pair of league matches last week. The Mustangs lost to unbeaten Farmington 200-213 Monday, but downed divisional foe Walled Lake Western 212-213 last week Wednesday.

The Falcons, leaders of the Lakes Division, were simply too good for the Mustangs. Farmington's Dave DeWulf fired a two-under par 34 to pace his team to victory.

"They're (Farmington) a very good team," Blake praised. "DeWulf shot a two-under par, and the playing conditions weren't really ideal. It rained most of the day Monday to make the

Godwin Glenn course soggy, but that didn't deter Dave Pohlod topped the Mustangs with a 40, while Bob Pegrum carded a 41. Kip Mack, Ray Nutter and Gary Metz all fired 44. "It's going to take a real good team to beat Far-teams' linkers shot consistent scores.

When it rains, it pours. That is what happened at the Third Annual "Discover Northville" Rotary Run Saturday as a steady rain fell throughout the race. Cagers improve despite losses

While it may not be noticeable in the score, the Northville girls' basketball team is making some improvements.

The Mustangs suffered a tough 23-18 loss to non-league Oak Park Thursday, and was soundly defeated by Western Lakes Activities Association Western Division opponent Walled Lake Western 53-16 last week Tuesday. The double loss puts Northville at 1-5 overall and 1-3 in the Western Division of the WLAA.

So, while most might be pressing the panic button at this point, first-year coach Rick Hurst has tried to keep things in perspective. "When you look at our scores, you can't see the improvement, but it's there," he offered. "The structure of the team is improving and the basic fundamentals are improving," he added.

What has been the Mustangs' biggest drawback to this point is their inability to improve their field goal accuracy. Northville has been a horrendous four of 49 from the field against Western and seven of 49 against Oak Park.

"Offensively, we're really not playing badly. I'm reasonably proud of what we're doing on offense. They're getting up shots, but they are just not falling," Hurst explained.

Oak Park was equally as bad from the field, only hitting seven of 49 shots, but was more successful from the free throw line to win it.

Oak Park nailed nine of 16 charity tosses, while the Mustangs had their troubles by only connecting on four of 18. "The free throws were the difference," Hurst noted.

"Oak Park was the first time we have had any extensive zone defense applied to us, and we played reasonably well against it," he said.

"All things considered, we played pretty well," Hurst added.

The squad was without the services of starting forward Denise Liddle, who was bothered by an illness, and two players who were sent down to the junior varsity for a couple weeks for disciplinary reasons unrelated to the team. Sophomore Tricia Campbell was called up to the varsity as a replace-

"But that's no excuse," Hurst said.
"The players are all about the same in talent anyway.'

More aggressiveness on defense by Northville to force Oak Park into more errors is one thing Hurst would have liked done Thursday.

Better offensive rebounding is another area Hurst sees needing improvement. "When Denise (Liddle) is not in there, it leaves it all to Tracy (Wilkinson)," he said.

Kathy Korowin was the leading Northville scorer against Oak Park with six points, while Sue Terwin and Kelly Parker each had four. Pat Wazny added three points.

Even though the Mustangs were throughly beaten by Western, Hurst said the squad played decent man-toman defense in the first half.

'We played a huge team that is capable of scoring a lot of points," he explained. "We ran our offensive patterns pretty well."

Parker was the top Mustang scorer with four points, while Terwin added three. Wanzy, Korowin, Liddle and Jenny Gans all added two points.

The play of Wilkinson, Terwin and Korowin received praise from the rookie coach. "Tracy Wikinson is doing just a remarkable job. She didn't score any points last week, but she played two tremendous games in terms of rebounding and helping out on defense," Hurst praised. Korowin was involved in many outside activities at the start of the season which tired her out some, Hurst said, but he has seen her come around in the last few games.

"She's a factor out there. She annoyed Oak Park to no end," he said.

One of the teams Hurst would like to finish ahead in the Western Division is Livonia Churchill, whom the Mustangs battle against Thursday. The first-year mentor knows a victory over the Chargers would help obtain this goal. Also, Northville hosts Farmington Harrison at 6 p.m. Tuesday in another Western Division clash.

The freshmen were held to 51 yards in total offense as Steve Bastian scored the lone touchdown on a 32-yard scamper in the third quarter.

Three fumbles and a pass interception kept the Colts' offense at bay most of the afternoon. Jay Wardell, Ersmus Morfe, Jeff Todd and Matt Smith were solid on defense for the Colts.

The junior varsity now is 1-1-1 and the freshmen 2-1 for the year.

Friday and Saturday in the Northville Historical Society's Tivoli Fair.

The popular crafts show, the biggest fund-raiser for the historical society's preservation projects, will open at 10 a.m. Friday in the Northville Downs stands. The show will continue until 8 p.m. Friday evening and will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

This year, the society will feature an expanded bake sale booth featuring a variety of home baked goods as well as jams, jellies, pickles and relishes. This year's bake sale booth replaces the historical society's Country Store

Society memberships aid Mill Race Village projects

By JEAN DAY

More than the trees are changing color at Northville's Mill Race Historical Village. The Yerkes House now is painted a soft blue. The trim is rich cream, the elaborate carpenter's lace" is highlighted with white and the shutters are a brown-red. Near the entrance, the Wash-Oak Schoolhouse has been painted a pale putty shade with white Northville Historical Society President Francis Gazlay reported that it has had a "lucky buy" of wood flooring appropriate for the schoolhouse and that a work bee will be starting to install it this Saturday. "It's old wood that had been stored in a lumber warehouse — look, it even has knotholes," he pointed out. Gazlay added that two large stones are needed to form typical steps at the doorway.

On a stroll through the village last week, he pointed out latest of the ongoing improvements. The outhouse behind the caramel-colored Hunter House finally is anchored — after a six-year history of being toppled regularly. It boasts a cedar shake roof and a lattice-screen entrance.

The pile of boulders just beyond the schoolhouse, he confided, may be the beginning of another building in the historical village. He has been collecting information and hopes to present a plan for a blacksmith shop for the village to the historical society board soon.

"This will be an operating exhibit that will add an active new dimension," he explained. "Every new thing draws new people to the village — and that's what we need to keep it alive," he stressed. A retired teacher, Gazlay is one of the faithful society member-workers in the village.

The Northville Historical Society currently is conducting its annual membership campaign. Membership chairman Kathleen Otton cited the many tasks that have been undertaken by volunteers while noting, however, that materials and some labor must be purchased. "Surprisingly," she appealed, "our annual membership fees constitute a large percentage of our budget."

Memberships are tax deductible, she added, "and they allow us to continue to improve our unique Mill Race Village." Members, the application states, are encouraged Publicity chairman Susie Korte, however, is worried that women who may have attended in years past will not be aware there still are tickets available. Mrs. Richard Lyon, ticket chairman, may be contacted or tickets may be ordered directly from Northville Town Hall, P.O. Box 93, with a self-addressed envelope included.

Oscar-winner Celeste Holm will open the 1982-83 year at 11 a.m. October 14 at the Plymouth Hilton Inn where all lectures and celebrity luncheons following are held. Miss Holm recently returned from an extensive run of

"Lady in the Dark" in England and has played in supper clubs and hotels across the country. She stars in such musicals as "The King and I."

Her now legendary portrayal of the lusty Ado Annie put a star on her dressing room door during the run of "Oklahoma." She has appeared on Archie Bunker's Place on television and also is an active worker for many causes. She is a native New Yorker who has never left that city.

She will be followed in the new series by Stan Cloud, former managing editor of the Washington Star, on November 11; by Irwin Weil, Northwestern University professor who taught in Russia, on March 10, 1983; and actress Polly Bergen, on April 14, 1983.
