Pumpkin hunter

Chelsea Meyers, 1½, won't have to wait up on Halloween waiting for the Great Pumpkin — she's already found hers at Northville's Farmer's Market. With her stuffed duck by her side, she scoured over the first pumpkins of the season last Thursday until she found a tiny one just her size. Pumpkins at the market were selling for 35 to 50-cents each. Farmers most likely will have a bigger selection in the weeks ahead — before the market closes for the season October 28. Record photo by Steve Fecht.

Field narrowed to three for city attorney position

By JEAN DAY

A special meeting has been set for 7:30 p.m. next Monday by city council to interview three firms that have applied to handle city legal matters.

Decision to hold the special session was made after council member J. Burton DeRusha reviewed with the council Monday night the six resumes from applicants he and Mayor Paul Vernon had interviewed.

The three firms selected as finalists are Sempliner, Thomas, Tiplady and Boak of Plymouth; Plunkett, Cooney, Rutt, Watters, Stanczyk and Pedersen of Detroit; and Cummings, McClorey, Davis and Acho of Livonia.

While none is located in Northville, it was noted that James Kohl, a Northville resident at 1034 Springfield, is a member of Plunkett, Cooney, Rutt, Watters, Stanczyk and Pedersen, and Christopher Johnson, a Northville resident at 312 West Main and member of the Northville board of education, is with the firm of Cummings, McClorey, Davis and Acho.

Vernon, who is on vacation this week, had prepared a statement noting that resumes also have been received from five other applicants.

He added that he and DeRusha had not planned to continue the interviewing. In earlier discussion at council the decision had been made to cut-off consideration of candidates at the six inasmuch as Vernon and DeRusha felt they had qualified applicants already.

"I think we will be well served (by selecting) from among the six," G. Dewey Gardner, mayor pro tem, observed.

In narrowing down the choice to three, council member Carolann Ayers pointed out there was a "cross cut of large and small with a fairly representative (cost) range."

It was decided in council discussion that the city "would be better served by a firm than an individual."

Among the resumes viewed by council Monday was that of the firm of Connelly, Jacques, Reilly and Ziem of Wall Lake. Council member Paul Folino questioned if it should not be considered as Emery E. Jacques is a city resident. DeRusha said there had been a question whether this was a firm or "an association of attorneys." It was agreed that the question would be clarified by the special session.

In reviewing the application of township resident David E. Jerome,

Council grants raises for administrative posts

Salary increases ranging from 6.7 to 10.2 percent for administrative employees of the city were voted unanimously Monday night by city council.

The raises were granted after the council held a closed session at 10:30 p.m. to discuss the first adjustments for the non-union administrative employees since July 1, 1980.

The city manager, city clerk and executive secretary received increases of 7.9 percent while the DPW superintendent and foreman were increased by 6.7 percent and the police chief by 10.2 percent.

The raises and fringe benefit adjustments to conform to union contracts were to be effective retroactively to July 1.

With the new schedule, the city manager's salary will go from $36,899 to $39,815; city clerk, from $22,506 to $24,294; police chief, from $31,450 to $34,652; DPW superintendent, from $32,074 to $34,236; DPW foreman, from $18,512 to $19,760; executive secretary to city manager, from $17,597 to $19,011.

In moving the increases, the council also instructed that the library and housing commissions be notified of the action in order to set salaries for the head librarian and the housing director of Allen Terrace and her staff, consistent with their budget and "in the light of the council action."

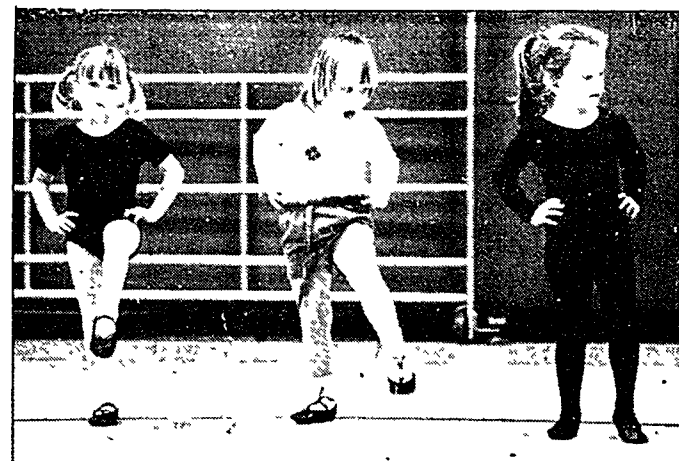

In his memo to council on the administrative salary recommendations, City Manager Steven Walters noted that the affected employees also had given up a portion of their cost of living payments of June, 1981, resulting in a lower gross income in 1981 than in 1980.

He recommended the higher percent increase for the police chief as union officers have received two five percent pay increases, July 1981 and 1982, creating "an inequity between the chief and his officers' pay rates."

In the closed session, the council reviewed pay salaries of surrounding communities noting population similarities. Northville currently has a population of 5,693.

South Lyon (population 5,238) is paying its city manager $37,128; police chief, $28,121; clerk, $17,535. Plymouth (population 9,984) city manager receives $49,202; police chief, $32,802; clerk, $28,865.

Record wins MPA awards

Again this year, The Northville Record has won its share of awards in the annual Michigan Press Association contest. Among the six certificates awarded The Record in the 1982 competition was second place for General Excellence for weeklies in its circulation class.

Last year The Record captured first place in General Excellence. The 1982 winner is the East Lansing Towne Courier, an affiliated newspaper in the Suburban Communications Corporation.

Tied for third place were two other papers in the organization, the Brighton Argus and the Mason Ingham County News.

The Record was awarded first place for local news reporting for 1982 for continuous coverage by Kevin Wilson of events at the Northville Ford Valve Plant. The entry contained stories beginning November 18, 1981 with Ford's closing announcement and ran through the March reopening stories and an analysis published in the Green Sheet in April.

Wilson's three-part series last September examining Park Gardens' sewer problems won a second-place award for enterprise stories. Judging criteria included "initiative or enterprise on the part of the reporter..." along with originality, significance and news value.

Three editorials by Wilson took second place in editorial writing for The Record. They were "Welcome to Freedom," as a Polish refugee found work as a clockmaker here; "Park Gardens deserves better," on the subdivision sewage problem; and "Ford closing has human cost."

Committee to study summer school tax collection

Both city and township officials have appointed three-member committees to study summer school tax collections upon the request of School Superintendent George Bell and the Northville Board of Education.

Summer school tax collections will be studied by a three-member township committee appointed September 23 by Supervisor John MacDonald.

Named to the committee, which is to meet with city and school officials, were Treasurer Richard Henningsen, Business Manager David Lelko and Trustee C. James Armstrong.

MacDonald said Henningsen and Lelko were chosen because the addition of a summer tax collection would most affect their roles in township government.

Armstrong, the supervisor related, was selected because of his understanding of school system operations. Prior to moving to the township, Armstrong was for 12 years a member of the Allen Park Board of Education. He served two of those years as president of the board.

Mayor pro tem G. Dewey Gardner, presiding in the absence of Mayor Paul Vernon at the city council meeting Monday, asked council members J. Burton DeRusha and Carolann Ayers to serve on the committee with City Manager Steve Walters.

The school system request that city and township collect property taxes in summer rather than winter is intended to save the interest costs resulting from school system borrowing.

The school budget year coincides roughly with the school year and expenditures must be made months before tax revenue is received under the current system. By billing taxpayers in July rather than December, school superintendent George Bell told the township board last month, the system could have saved more than $1 million in interest payments made in the past decade.

Township board members discussing the issue were most concerned about two potential problems — added collection costs for the township and the impact on taxpayers of the switch, particularly in the first year.

Bell told them those were the kinds of issues he wished to have considered by the joint committee.

Bell said he would approach other local governments that collect Northville school taxes (notably Novi, Salem and Lyon Township) with the same request that they join in a study of the summer collection proposal.

DeHoCo named as possible site for sludge dumping

Detroit House of Corrections (DeHoCo) land in Northville and Plymouth townships is among possible dumping sites for sludge from a Detroit sewage treatment plant, the judge who will make the determination said last week.

DeHoCo property is now at least partially state-owned and lies in both Northville and Plymouth townships.

Federal District Court Judge John Feikens said the property along Five Mile between Beck and Napier is among locations being considered as alternative sludge disposal sites.

Feikens is considering a court case stemming from apparent treatment plant violation of Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) air pollution standards.

Unable to use its incinerators to dispose of the sludge (remnants from the sewer filtering system) Detroit must find alternative means of disposal. Currently, sludge is dumped at a site just east of Willow Run Airport on property Ford Motor Company leases to Wayne Disposal Company.

Feikens, government officials report, has been on a walking tour of the DeHoCo land and was reportedly impressed with the space available.

Northville Township clerk Susan Heintz related that the township attorney has been alerted to the potential decision and is "keeping an eye on it for us."

Preliminary indications, she said, did not reveal whether sludge would be disposed of in Northville, Plymouth or both townships.

No determination of which alternative means of sludge disposal might be used has yet been made, and no date for the selection is set.

Test incinerations were conducted Tuesday at one Detroit location as part of a study of the alternatives.

Plymouth Township is preparing to file a motion to ask the court to hear objections to use of the DeHoCo site. That township's supervisor, Maurice Breen, said the court should not order use of the property without following routine procedures.

Those include compliance with local zoning codes, he said, and state laws regulating waste disposal. The Plymouth portion of DeHoCo is zoned agricultural and Breen said waste disposal is not permitted in such a zoning class.

The Northville Township portion is zoned for residential use, and the local ordinance does not permit waste disposal in that classification either.

Recent state legislation, however, could allow an overriding of local zoning codes, and there is some question whether Feikens might not, in his role as a federal judge ruling on an environmental violation, have wide-reaching authority to make a determination regardless of state and local regulations.

Park Gardens public hearing set

Costs of adding two more parcels to the proposed Park Gardens special assessment district sewer project would be roughly $28,400, according to a revised estimate and plans filed by township engineer Edward McNeely.

A public hearing on the proposed addition is scheduled at 7 p.m. October 14 in township hall. The township board last month elected to postpone final establishment of the district boundaries until after the hearing.

Most of the added cost is for the extra sewer pipe needed to connect two parcels fronting on Five Mile east of the area originally proposed for service. The figure does not include some $3,200 in additional sewer tap fees and house lead connections the owners of the added property would have to assume themselves.

Excepting tap and house lead fees, which are charged individually to each property, the project is estimated to cost $1.1 million as opposed to the earlier figure of $1.072 million.

That total is the amount that must be paid through a combination of federal grant funding (committed to over $400,000), township water and sewer department (about $96,500) and the owners of the 170-odd parcels in the service area (who will be assessed the cost of the remaining costs — estimated at about $600,000).

Objections were lodged to the addition of 20 acres of land some Park Gardens residents believe could be divided and developed, thus putting a greater load on the system than the owners would pay for with a simple assessment on the narrow Five Mile frontage. McNeely's plan indicates the only additional area to be included in the district is that presently occupied by houses.

Another concern of homeowners association representatives at the earlier session were potential connections to Tanger Elementary School and Michigan National Bank.

The addition of the parcels under consideration would bring the township sewer system within reach of Tanger Elementary, a part of the Plymouth system on the north side of Five Mile east of Park Gardens. An agreement with Plymouth allowed the school to connect to that township's sewer system with the proviso that Northville Township sewers would be connected when available.

As a consequence, McNeely's revised estimate includes an added $8,600 cost to the township sewer department to pay for connecting lines to Tanger. Thereafter, sewer fees would be paid to the township's system rather than Plymouth's.

Not indicated in the plans or estimate is a link to Michigan National Bank's branch at Five Mile and Haggerty. The bank is similarly served through Plymouth and has an agreement to connect to Northville sewers when available.

All township water and sewer department funds presently committed to Park Gardens are to pay for items not strictly needed to serve the area, but advantageous to the township system.

In addition to the, Tanger link,

McNeely's plans include provisions that will allow the system to be reversed in order to flow downhill to a Haggerty Road Interceptor anticipated in the next decade.

Until such an interceptor is built, however, Park Gardens can only be supplied with sewers by pumping the flows uphill to the east — an expensive proposition that, combined with the relatively low average income (by township standards) in the region, qualified the project for federal grant aid.

Planners conclude school's site plan

Township planners cleared their agenda in a swift 50-minute session last week Tuesday evening, taking only one vote on action, and that appeared unnecessary.

The planning commission voted unanimously to conclude its review of site plans for Little Red Schoolhouse, acknowledging that approval of a parking variance by the Zoning Board of Appeals fulfilled the only outstanding requirement.

While the school issue was on the agenda under old business, the commission already had given the plans final approval, conditional only on the granting of the variance. The ZBA action, most commissioners contended, concluded the review and no further planning commission action was needed.

But vice chairman William Bohan said there was some uncertainty regarding the process and asked for a vote "just in case."

Consideration of a lot split request filed by former supervisor Donald Thomson was tabled for the fourth or fifth time due to the absence of a final plan. Review of previously-rejected Montessori School site plans was also tabled to a later meeting, with commissioners noting the death of directress Lynn Gall's husband recently.

An ongoing page-by-page review of subdivision regulations was concluded with planners choosing not to require sidewalks or bike paths anywhere in the township. It had been suggested such a requirement be made where a development borders a major or secondary thoroughfare (examples of the former are the Mile roads, Sheldon, Haggerty and Northville Roads; secondary roads include Bradner and Winchester, among others).

Complete copies of the revised subdivision regulations will be supplied commissioners before their regular November session where final review is expected.

The commission also took under advisement, and referred to planning consultant Claude Coates, a proposal made by the Lakes of Northville homeowners group that setback requirements be increased on multi-family or commercial property bordering on single-family zones.

As explained in a letter from the homeowners, the proposal would require more space (75 feet was suggested) between single family lots and other types of structures. It would also require a landscaped greenbelt 20-feet wide to screen the other use from view of the single family homeowners.

Adoption of such a proposal would require amendment of the zoning ordinance, only completed earlier this year. The Lakes of Northville subdivision borders on a proposed condominium development at Waterford Lake and several homeowners have expressed anger at how closely the law allows the buildings to approach their yards.

Collision kills Northville woman

A single-car accident on Napier south of Twelve Mile claimed the life of 22-year-old Janet Matthews of 605 Grace Street, Northville, a week ago.

According to the Oakland County Sheriff's department, Matthews' vehicle drove off the west edge of the roadway and hit head-on into a tree at an unknown rate of speed at approximately noon last Wednesday.

Novi police, first on the scene, reported no vital signs evident when they arrived and found the woman behind the wheel. Both police and Novi Ambulance personnel attempted resuscitation at the scene to no avail, and Matthews was pronounced dead on arrival at Botsford Hospital at 12:53 p.m.

There were no witnesses to the accident proper, a spokesman for the sheriff's Lyon Township substation said. Another driver passing the scene noticed the driver still inside and called police.

A second witness told investigators he saw Matthews' car when it passed him southbound on Napier near 12 mile (just north of the accident scene) and noted her car seemed very close to the right side of the road.

Police reports of the incident said no skid marks were observed at the scene.

Martha Griffiths to address BPW

By CINDY HOOGLASIAN

Democratic Nominee for Lieutenant Governor Martha Griffiths will speak in South Lyon October 21.

The former Congresswoman will be the special guest speaker for the Tri-County Business and Professional Women's Club in celebration of National Business Women's Week, October 17-23.

Griffiths' topic will be "The Economic and Political Status of Women." She will speak at 8 p.m. in the banquet room of Jimmy Two, on the corner of Ten Mile and Pontiac Trail.

Tri-County BPW President Susan G. Bailo contacted Griffiths shortly after Democratic gubernatorial candidate James Blanchard selected her as his running mate in the November 2 general election.

"I called Mrs. Griffiths at home and asked her if she could find time to speak to our club in honor of National Business Women's Week," Bailo said. "At that time, she had not yet received her campaign schedule, but she said she would be delighted to speak to us."

Bailo, a South Lyon attorney, said Griffiths was firm in her commitment to address the BPW at Jimmy Two on October 21, despite possible campaign scheduling conflicts.

Anyone interested is welcome to attend the meeting, Bailo said.

A buffet dinner is planned before Griffiths' speech. Seating is limited to 100. Reservations for the 6:30 p.m. dinner may be made by contacting Donna Smith at 437-6214. The cost is $12, including tax and tip, Bailo said. Those interested in hearing Griffiths' address, but not wishing to dine, should contact Smith to learn if space is available.

Bailo said the BPW has both male and female members and invites people from South Lyon and surrounding communities to attend the meeting and consider joining the BPW.

"The public, male or female, are invited to attend to listen to Mrs. Griffiths' speech," Bailo said. "This is not intended to be a campaign speech. The National Federation of Business and Professional Women sets goals for the clubs to address throughout the year and one of those objectives is the political and economic status of women."

"I asked Mrs. Griffiths to speak because she is the woman who introduced the Equal Rights Amendment to Congress. She has always promoted women's rights."

Griffiths sponsored the E.R.A. and successfully guided its passage through the U.S. House of Representatives in the 91st Congress. She argued to include the word "sex" in the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

Griffiths served in the Michigan legislature from 1949 to 1952 and was judge and recorder of the Detroit Recorder's Court in 1953. She was the first woman to hold that post.

From 1955 to 1975, Griffiths represented Michigan's 17th Congressional District. She conducted a series of hearings on the economic position of women during the late 1960's, when she served on the joint economic committee. Griffiths conducted a three-year study of all the income maintenance programs in the country, which she began in 1971. Griffiths' study is reportedly the only such study done by any government worldwide.

Griffiths was born in Pierce City, Missouri, and received her bachelor of arts degree from the University of Missouri and attended the University of Michigan, where she received her law degree. She was admitted to the state bar in 1941 and was admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court in 1955.

Griffiths is the recipient of 26 honorary degrees, including degrees from the University of Michigan, Wayne State University and Michigan State University.

Apart from her considerable political achievements, Griffiths' voice also is heard in the business world. She is a member of the boards of directors of the American Automobile Association of Michigan, Burroughs Corporation, Consumers' Power, K-Mart, National Bank of Detroit, Greyhound and Verex.

Bailo said she heard Griffiths speak in 1977 at the National Women's Conference in Houston, Texas. Her strong vocal stylings impressed Bailo at that time.

Bailo enthusiastically anticipates Griffiths' speech and said she hopes a full audience will attend the pre-election event. The scheduled appearance of Griffiths coincides with the club's annual membership drive, she noted.

Women interested in joining the BPW must be employed, Bailo said. They need not be working in a professional capacity, as long as they hold a job outside the home.

Men are welcomed as associate members, Bailo explained. Membership dues are $25 per year. The Tri-County BPW membership area covers 13 communities, including South Lyon, Brighton and Howell. It encompasses portions of Oakland, Livingston and Washtenaw counties.

The BPW provides an annual scholarship to a female high school senior who wishes to further her education for a career objective, Bailo said. Because of declining membership in recent years, the scholarship has dwindled from $500 to $400. Bailo said increasing educational costs make the scholarship a minimal aid to the student and hopes more funds can be earmarked for that purpose in the future.

The BPW has many other programs that are beneficial to the community and club members, Bailo said. The BPW Foundation offers grants to club members seeking funds for career advancement and continuing education. Each club donates $2 per member annually to the Foundation, Bailo said.

A cancer fund is also established for BPW members and families, she explained. Donations are made on behalf of the BPW for cancer research, Bailo said. Additionally, each club donates $1 per member annually toward a fund to help with medical expenses and needs of BPW members or families stricken with cancer.

Prospective members may call Judith Pastula at 437-1905 for further information about the BPW.

County borrowing okayed

Wayne County has borrowed $10 million in a sale of tax anticipation notes authorized by the State Municipal Finance Commission (MFC) to provide for payroll and other expenditures until December 1 when new revenue will be available.

The notes were sold two weeks ago to the National Bank of Detroit in a transaction which County Auditor Richard T. Kelley called "an expression of NBD's value to the community." With the lowest bid from among six offers, NBD bought the notes at 9.7 percent interest rate for a cost to the county of about $352,000 for the four-month loan period specified by the MFC.

"The willingness of NBD to buy our notes at this low cost shows that the business community has a lot of faith in the assets of the county and its ability to repay. They realize that, although we are short of cash, Wayne County has never defaulted or come close to bankruptcy," said Auditor Ted Mrozowski.

The county needed to borrow because of a projected $17.6 million deficit and a $2 million payroll each week, along with other financial obligations. Originally the county asked for permission to borrow $20 million but the MFC authorized only $10 million with the possibility of another $10 million contingent upon a revision of plans for eliminating the deficit.

Part of the current plan calls for 258 layoffs over a 20-month period, but the MFC wants the deficit eliminated in just 14 months, not later than the end of the next fiscal year, November 30, 1983.

The county board authorized the board of auditors to devise a new plan for submission to the MFC and to "comply with the stipulations."

Parson to Person...

Worldliness

Dr. James H. Luther

The true Christian is actually a citizen of another world (Philippians 3:20), even while traveling through this one. That presents some real problems.

He is surrounded on every hand with enticements, yet he must not take those opportunities. He is besieged by many material "toys", yet he must not set his heart on them. He is constantly encouraged to place his roots in the here and now, yet the Bible calls him a "pilgrim" and a "stranger."

Some have assumed that this separation refers to non-participation in a few rather famous practices: eg. smoking, drinking, swearing, etc. Yet that concept misses the main point.

It is not what we hate as much as what we love. We are separated from the world because we love God. The Lord Jesus Christ becomes the focus of one's life. This is not legalism but dynamic life!

Wesley once said: "Whatever cools my affection toward Christ is the world." Thus, the scriptures command us to "love not the world." For if anyone loves the world, "the love of the Father is not in him (1 John 2:15)."

Finally, this separation is not isolation. It is one thing to be entangled in life, it is quite another thing to be involved with life. Let's involve ourselves in the needs of others by reflecting the love of God to a world gone mad with materialism.

Tivoli Fair, quilt show attest to interest in crafts here

Work of crafty fingers brought out even larger crowds than anticipated at two local shows here.

Tivoli Fair, held annually at Northville Downs, last weekend featured such booths as that with dough ornaments made by Judy Berlinski, with daughter Mandy, at left. Below, Becky Culver is sketched by artist Lisa Stout. Bottom, Marcella Taulbee inspects booth of artist Wanda Cutchins.

Quilt show at First Presbyterian Church September 23-24 was a first-time event here and featured rows and rows of quilts. Hostess Margie Sievert inspects some, at right, with Michelle Dillard. Chairman Lois Winters, below, wore a quilt-pattern skirt to welcome visitors.

Police Blotter

Four children, driver hurt in two-car mishap

In the township...

Four children aged 7-12 and a Plymouth driver were injured in a two-car collision at Northville and Six Mile roads September 30 caused when a South Branch driver ran a red light, township police reported.

Injured were driver Mary Elizabeth Albertson, 34, of Plymouth; 12-year-old Koiyan Dasgupta of Ladywood in Northville; Erick Albertson, 7, of Robinson in Northville; Nick Sulimsky, 7 (residence unreported); and Shumit Dasgupta, 8, also of Ladywood.

All were taken for medical treatment of cuts and bruises of varying magnitude by Albertson. Only the younger Dasgupta and another young passenger had no visible injuries.

According to the police report, Albertson was driving westbound on Six Mile and entered the intersection at Northville Road with a green light. She and another motorist both said a car driven southbound on Six Mile came through the red light and struck Albertson's car.

Police issued a citation for failure to obey a traffic signal to Isaac Kelly, 51, of South Branch, who told police his brakes had failed. Police noted skid marks 32 feet prior to the point of impact and another six feet after the collision.

A five-year old girl suffered facial cuts, scrapes and bruises when she was hit by a car on Lake Success west of Silver Springs September 21.

According to police reports, the girl ran out into the street between parked cars, despite the warnings of an older child that a car was coming. She was hit by a car westbound on Lake Success moving at a speed witnesses estimated at 10-15 miles per hour.

Before the 17-year-old driver got out of the car, the girl had gotten up and ran into her home. She was treated for the injuries at Botsford Hospital, and the girl's mother and the driver reported the incident to police the following day.

Four witnesses all reported the driver had no opportunity to stop as the five-year-old ran between parked cars into the street immediately in front of his car. The car's speed was not excessive, the report states, the driver was proceeding in normal fashion and did make an effort to stop as soon as the girl stepped into the street.

The youth was ticketed for driving with a suspended license.

A Farmington woman allegedly ran a red light at Six Mile and Sheldon September 29, causing an accident that injured a Canton woman and her 10-year-old daughter.

Police issued a citation for disobeying a traffic signal to Heidi Fernandez, 24, of Farmington who told police she was driving westbound on Six Mile, had had two beers shortly before driving at 7:10 p.m. and did not remember the color of the traffic signal at Sheldon when she entered the intersection and was hit by another car.

Both Gloria Miller, 30, of Canton, and another driver told police the light was green for Sheldon Road traffic at the time. Miller and Kelly Miller, 10, were both taken to Providence Hospital by ambulance. The driver complained of pain but suffered no visible injury. The 10-year-old had cuts and bruises sufficient to require ambulance and emergency room treatment.

A short chain-reaction accident at about 1 p.m. September 30 on southbound Haggerty at Penn resulted in minor injury to a Westland driver and a traffic citation for a Canton man.

Two cars stopped on southbound Haggerty waiting for a third car to make a left turn onto Penn were struck in the rear when a vehicle, driven by Lawrence J. Hierholzer, 22, of Canton hit the car at the end of the line.

The turning car had just crossed Haggerty when the accident occurred. It left the scene. Susan Y. Applegate of Westland, whose car was between Hierholzer's and the first car in line complained of an injured knee, but police saw no visible sign of damage to the joint.

A breaking-and-entering complaint at a Swan Harbour apartment was resolved when a 10-year-old neighbor confessed to the theft of $45 cash from purses and a wallet left in the residence October 2.

The resident told police the family had gone to play soccer nearby between 4:30 and 5:30 p.m. Saturday and upon their return found the cash missing from two purses left sitting on the living area floor and one wallet left on a bedroom dresser.

The glass doorwall to the apartment was left standing open with the screen portion closed and locked, the resident told police. A small tear in the screen, he said, made it possible for anyone to turn the latch with a finger.

The victim of the theft told police he suspected one or both of two 10-year-olds living in the area. Confronted the next day, one of the boys confessed and returned the cash. The man elected not to press charges against the sixth-grader.

An attempt to walk out of the A&P grocery without paying for a cartload of Coca-Cola and cigarettes resulted in the capture of Northville State Hospital walkaway September 29, police reports show.

Called to the store by the manager, who had apprehended the man as he attempted to leave the store without paying for the merchandise, police discovered a person identifying himself as "Earl Flinn" who would not answer further questions. The manager said he would prosecute for shoplifting unless the culprit turned out to be an escapee of the mental institution.

Hospital security forces could not positively identify the man but took him back to hospital admissions where workers recognized him as a present patient.

Two escapees were returned to the hospital September 30 after police noted that two men sitting on the curb outside the McDonald's on Five Mile at 7:45 p.m. answered descriptions sent out by the hospital. One of the men was picked up again October 2 when the same officer noticed him walking south on Haggerty near the hospital service drive at about 6:45 p.m.

Less than one-half hour earlier, a walkaway was apprehended on Rayburn near Robinwood.

...In the city

Unknown suspects stole $280 worth of stereo equipment from a 1977 Mercury parked at a Stansted residence sometime September 25, city police report.

Taken were a $150 stereo cassette and $130 speakers. The complainant said he parked his car in the drive and locked the doors. However, the next morning he noticed the driver's side door open and the property missing. There were no signs of forced entry, the report said.

Unknown suspects stole a $100 leather jacket from a 1977 Chevrolet parked at an East Main residence sometime September 26, police said.

Five departments to close afternoons

Five departments of the Wayne County Clerk's office will be closed afternoons until further notice, Clerk James R. Killeen announced last week.

Killeen said the closings are necessary due to layoffs effective in October. A total 260 county employees were laid off under a plan to reduce the budget deficit.

Except for the marriage license office, those departments affected started closing at 12:30 p.m. each day Monday, October 4.

The marriage license office will only operate all day through today, October 6, to accommodate those who applied for licenses before October 1. After today, marriage licenses can be obtained only during the clerk's office morning hours.

Other departments involved include birth and death records, gun permits, notaries and assumed names, Killeen said.

For more information, contact Killeen's office at 224-5516.

Dental Dialogue

of A. Allen Tuchklaper, D.D.S.

DENTAL TRIVIA

Q. Here are some dental facts and trivia you might find interesting.

A. Sometimes a baby is born with a tooth. It usually has no roots and is extracted right away. • There is a rumor that Mick Jagger has a diamond set in his front tooth. • There is a new program to correct "buck teeth" that encourages playing musical instruments such as the trumpet. • Long ago people believed decay was caused by a tiny demon or toothworm who bored into the tooth and did damage. • 15% of Americans have none of their natural teeth by age 35. In Great Britain one out of three over 35 have no natural teeth left.

This column is presented in the interest of better dental health. From the office of A. Allen Tuchklaper, D.D.S. 24101 Novi Road, Novi 348-3100

Superintendent's AAUW speaker

Northville Public Schools Superintendent George Bell will discuss "Issues and Answers" next Tuesday at the October meeting of the Northville-November Branch of the American Association of University Women.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Amerman Elementary School library.

Chosen from a field of more than 100 applicants, Bell was the Northville Board of Education's overwhelming choice for Superintendent.

Beginning his career in 1951 as an instrumental music instructor in the Wayne-Westland School District, he was named the district's music coordinator in 1959. In 1966, he was named principal of Wayne Memorial High School, serving in that position until his selection as Van Dyke Public Schools Superintendent in January, 1980. Bell is known for bringing to Northville considerable enthusiasm, a strong commitment to community involvement and a successful achievement record as the head of Van Dyke Public Schools.

The public is welcome to attend the AAUW meeting and hear Bell's views of the challenges and opportunities of the next decade in education and how they can be accomplished in our school district.

The American Association of University Women is open to any woman who was graduated from an accredited college or university. Interested in joining the AAUW or in attending the branch meeting should contact Jean Hansen at 348-6096 or Jay Ward at 349-3456.

Madonna College slates open house

Prospective students can explore career opportunities by attending Madonna College's Open House from 2-4 p.m. October 17 in the Activities Center at the campus.

The Open House will offer students the opportunity to review the college and its programs and allows them to speak with college administrators and faculty about career programs, financial aid, scholarships, veteran's benefits and cooperative educational positions.

The Open House will include tours of the academic buildings and the residence hall.

Madonna is a four-year co-educational liberal arts college that offers more than 50 areas of study leading to associate or bachelor degrees. It also offers a Master of Administration degree with specialties in business or nursing.

Flexible scheduling allows day, evening and weekend classes, in addition to seminars designed to meet students' educational needs.

Some of the career-oriented liberal arts programs which will be discussed at the open house include accounting, computer systems, art, fashion merchandising, gerontology, legal assistant administrator, security and loss prevention, nursing, teacher education and social work.

Information on degree programs is available from the Admissions Office at 591-5052.

One of Madonna's unique areas is the sign language studies program. The only one of its kind in a liberal arts college, this program involves the study and interpretation of manual communication systems for deaf and hearing-impaired persons.

Madonna encourages enrollment by deaf students who may receive educational support services at no added cost.

The college also has an extensive Career Resource Center which assists students with career and life planning. It provides self-assessment information opportunities designed to assist students in developing self, academic and career awareness, as well as work values and job hunting skills.

Plymouth Symphony Society opens new season October 17

The Plymouth Symphony Society will open its 1982-83 season with guest artist Steven de Groote at 4 p.m. October 17 in the Plymouth-Salem High School Auditorium.

Under the direction of conductor Han van der Merwe, the symphony's opening program will include Rossini's Overture to the Barber of Seville, Beethoven's "Emperor" Concerto and a Vinsky's Berceuse and Finale from the Firebird.

de Groote, Grand Prize Winner of the 1978 Van Cliburn International Adrenaline Piano Competition in 1977, he featured in the Overture to the Barber of Seville and the Beethoven Piano Concerto No. 5.

Studying with Eduardo del Pueyo at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Brussels, de Groote graduated in 1971 with the First Prize in Piano with highest distinction. From 1972-75, he studied with Rudolf Serkin and Mieczyslaw Horszowski at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia.

Since 1977, de Groote has performed throughout the United States — both in recital and as soloist with orchestras in Boston, Detroit, Philadelphia and Cleveland. During the 1977-78 season, he completed an extensive tour of Europe that included performances in Belgium, Germany, the Netherlands, Norway, Spain and England, where he made his much-acclaimed London recital debut at Queen Elizabeth Hall.

In addition to numerous orchestral and recital appearances in the United States and Canada during the 1980-81 season, he made two separate tours of Europe as well as a tour of the Far East. The 1981-82 season included tours of Europe, as well as South America and South Africa.

Tickets for the concert will be available at the door. Single and season advance ticket sales will be at Four Seasons Flowers in Northville, Beitner Jewelry in Plymouth, Arnoldt Williams Music in Canton and Liberty Music in Ann Arbor.

Single concert tickets for regular season concerts are $6 for adults and $3.50 for senior citizens and all full-time college students. Every student must have a ticket to be admitted to this concert.

There will be free baby sitting for preschoolers during the concert.

Red Cross schedules blood drive

Lying down on the job may not seem a productive way to do volunteer work, but the American Red Cross is asking that the community do just that — donating blood to give someone a chance to live.

October's blood drive includes one stop in Northville, two nearby and the area donor center is not far away either.

A Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at Our Lady of Victory Church, 770 Thayer, Thursday, October 21 from 2-8 p.m.

For a bloodmobile appointment at OLV call Betsy Fagan, 420-0048.

The Red Cross advises donating blood is simple, painless and takes less than an hour from registration to post-donation snack. Donors can be anyone in good general health between the ages of 17 and 66. Regular donors older than 66 may continue to donate, but must have recent, written approval from their physicians.

Other bloodmobile stops this month are:

— Monday, October 18, at K of C Monaghan, 19801 Farmington Road, Livonia from 3-9 p.m. Call Russell Steele, 261-5938 for an appointment;

— Wednesday, October 20, Plymouth Elks, 41700 Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth, from 3-9 p.m. For an appointment, call Erwin Kersten, 525-2621.

Donations are also accepted at the Livonia Donor Center, Bell Creek Office Plaza, 29691 West Six Mile, Suite 100 C, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 2-8 p.m.; Tuesdays and Fridays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Appointments at the donor center may be obtained by calling 422-2820.

Landfill locations raise furor

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of three articles produced by Wayne County's public information office to give residents background information concerning the search for new landfill sites. Under state law the county must soon produce a long-range solid waste disposal plan. As recent Oakland County experience has proven, the decisions to be made could affect every resident of the county.

With two of five landfill sites in Wayne County nearly filled and residential rubbish piling up at the rate of 35,000 cubic yards per day, enough to fill Tiger Stadium every two weeks, collection may grind to a halt in the near future unless new locations are found soon.

Public confusion over Michigan Public Acts 641 and 64 is interfering with attempts by local officials to find appropriate landfill acreage to dispose of rubbish normally picked up from residential areas.

Add to that confusion licenses that have already been issued the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (M-DNR) under previous Act 87 and a county waste management plan that won't be completed until July, 1983, and the result is a number of communities, landfill developers and public watchdogs heading for the solace of circuit court.

"It's important to educate the public on the variances of these three public acts," Wayne County Commissioner Clarence R. Young, chairman of the Solid Waste Management Committee, said. "Or we'll have rubbish and garbage up to our armpits. The problems affect every resident of Wayne County."

Misunderstandings became obvious during a regular meeting of the 13-member solid waste management committee in Wayne September 22, when Canton Township spokesman James Kosteva insisted that Canton Recycling Center's proposed 47-acre landfill site at Lilley and Michigan Avenue conform to a local ordinance restricting height to 10 feet.

Then Lyon Development Company's application for a Huron Township landfill was recessed because of its failure to submit proper papers to the township's zoning board.

Adding to the consternation was Dr. Charles Hunt's comments concerning a lawsuit in Sumpter Township to bar construction another landfill by MJW, Inc. under the provisions of act 641.

The audience began cheering him on thinking he was referring to a hazardous waste site in the same community.

"In a nutshell," Young explained, "PA 87 was the original state ordinance enacted to control the licensing and disposal of solid waste and included a proviso that community ordinances would determine whether a landfill developer qualified for a license."

"Public Act 641, enacted in 1979 to replace PA 87, stipulates that a county solid waste management plan and its attendant ordinance supercedes any city or township ordinance. PA 64 deals solely with hazardous waste material. In every case, it is up to the M-DNR to issue licenses."

Committee members agreed to include the Canton landfill project in the proposed county plan, opening the door to DNR approval. They also agreed to allow the township and Canton Recycling time to compromise on the landfill's eventual height.

Another Canton developer, however, Waste Management of Michigan, refuses to abide by Canton Township ordinance and has taken the community to court challenging its right to limit the Woodland Meadows landfill site to 10 feet. Canton Recycling, with one eye on the court action, has prepared two alternate plans just in case.

Landfill developers, without exception, must include plans for future reuse of the property. "A classic case," Young said, "is the Riverview landfill which is now a recreation complex complete with ski slope and golf course. That community has even prepared plans to extract methane gas to heat nearby city buildings."

Canton Recycling has included a 100-foot isolation belt around its 47-acre site with 300 feet across the frontage for future use as industrial or commercial property. Kosteva said landfill property returns about $750 acre in tax revenues while in use and $2,400 when it is later developed for construction.

Lyon Development has offered to turn its land over to Huron Township for a park after it's filled.

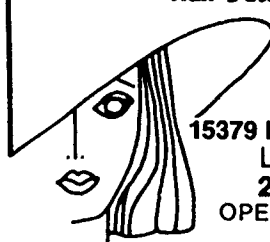

"Horror stories of poisoned water due to hazardous waste leakage has made the public gun-shy," Young said. "Now, at the mere mention of a landfill, residents come out shooting before they know the facts. This is hampering efforts to find places to deposit rubbish and garbage these same residents help to generate."

"It's important for them to understand that materials deposited in landfill sites under PA 641 contain no hazardous wastes and the property can be reused for recreational or industrial purposes."

Young continued: "PA 641 also provides for greater control over operations of sanitary landfills and should, in time, give Michigan residents the protection they are demanding not to mention the fact that it allows local officials to adequately dispose of the community's waste materials."

The solid waste management committee is composed of four members from industry, two from environmental concerns, one from Region 1, SEMCOG; one from cities, one from townships, one from the county board and three citizens at large.

Our Opinion

Northville High School's looking better than ever

School pride grows at Northville High

Last Wednesday, Northville High School opened its doors to anyone in the community interested in spending the day with students and teachers. The open house, which proved to be a "modest success" according to high school principal George Anne, marked the first time in recent history that such an invitation has been extended to the community. It was an invitation long in coming — and those who worked to make the open house a reality deserve to be commended for their efforts.

Many remember the old NHS

Like no other school in this district, Northville High School has had more than its fair share of hardships. For the past decade, critics have protested everything from the condition of the building to the high absentee rate of students. Yet, little attention has been paid to the good things happening "on the hill."

There are few who would disagree that the building's appearance is much improved over five years ago. Considerable restoration work has made the building more attractive to visitors and more habitable for students and staff members. Though more improvements need to be made, the high school is in its best shape in years and efforts still continue to enhance the structure.

In addition to physical improvements made to the high school building during the past few years, several policy changes also have been implemented. The most noteworthy of these changes is the recent revision of the open campus policy. While it is too early to determine the new policy's impact, there is little doubt that its revision has led to a marked improvement not only in student accountability — but responsibility.

It also should be pointed out that this year marked the reopening of the student book store — an integral part of the high school's marketing program. Also back by popular demand — after a six year absence — is the NHS Drama Club's community wide talent show slated October 20-23.

With the many positive things happening at the high school, it's no wonder students, teachers and administrators were eager to open the doors to the community last Wednesday. It is not surprising that the 75 residents who toured the building, ate lunch in the cafeteria and observed classes came away with good things to say about Northville High School.

In our opinion, last Wednesday's open house symbolized a renewed pride in Northville High School. It's a pride which deserves to be shared by the entire community — not just high school students and staff members.

The favorable reception of those attending last Wednesday's open house has prompted high school administrators to consider hosting another in the near future — possibly later in this school year. If you missed the open house last Wednesday, make an effort to attend in the future. It's an event which should be shared by the entire Northville community.

Off the record

By JEAN DAY

Trying harder

"Then you're really the typesetter, proofreader and copyreader," the caller observed as I attempted to explain the process by which The Record gets into print via computer each week. He is right. The last person who reads copy of reporters is the editor who transfers it from a master working disc to a production one that produces the copy just as the reader views it in an issue.

Last week it was brought to my attention that a recreation brief earlier listed swimming at "50 cents a pound," a price not many of us could afford. "Pound" instead of "person" slipped by. It's very easy to miss such errors, especially since most copy is written and read near deadline. But they certainly are visible.

Even though former publisher Bill Sliger used to tell proofreaders "you're not writing the Bible" as he hurried them at deadline, we would prefer our mishaps not make it into print. We do know that accommodate has two m's, that resuscitate has two s's, that Wedgwood does not have two e's nor does Qiana have a u. These are a few of the words that always make a proofreader-editor pause — and hope they don't get by incorrectly.

Actually, the stories that are clipped and saved are those deserving special attention. That means weddings with tricky words like Caribbean (two b's and one r) honeymoon, statice and stephanotis or phallopopsis in the bouquets.

Such terms are most familiar to me because those are the stories I used to write for Jack Hoffman as women's editor. He substituted when I vacationed — and committed (two t's) one of our most-laughed about bloopers. The wedding form did not allow sufficient space for one bride to describe her gown and bouquet. She, therefore, wrote in the space provided, "flowers on the back." Jack then typed, "the bride's gown had flowers on the back."

Seriously, we all work hard to produce a good product for our community. That's one reason it was especially gratifying last week for The Record to receive the half-dozen certificates of excellence in the Michigan Press Association contest, reported in this issue. The Record staff has been proud to have the 1981 first-place award for General Excellence on the editorial page banner this past year. For 1982 we won second place in General Excellence, still not a bad show. But we're back working for Number One in 1983.

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

This column is dedicated to Anne, Countess of Winchelsea.

At least I think her name was Anne. And to the best of my recollection she was Countess of Winchelsea. I'm not really sure where Winchelsea is, but it's some place in England.

Good old Anne came to mind recently while reading a survey of high school graduates conducted by the Walled Lake School District. (And you thought editors spent all their time playing Pac-Man, didn't you?)

I was pleased to see graduates say English was one of the courses they found most useful in their present activities. Results like that are good news to someone who earns his living by pounding away on a typewriter.

I also was pleased to see English rated highly because I confess I had my doubts back when I was pursuing an education and trying to decide what to do for a living.

I majored in English Lit for no other reason than I liked it. At the risk of sounding like a quiche-eater, I get excited about good literature. Reading Shakespeare turns me on.

But there were moments back in college when I questioned the relevance of my major field. And nobody raised those doubts more than the Countess. My first advanced level course was 17th Century Poetry, and the first poet in the book was good old Anne.

As I recall it, Annie wrote two poems in her whole life and we had to study both. My misgivings were perceived by the professor who asked me to stay after class one day.

"Mr. Jerome," she said, "I get the feeling you're less than excited about the Countess' poetry."

And I let her have it. I told her I thought it was a gigantic waste of time to study the poetry of some obscure 17th Century poet who I had never heard of before and would never hear of again. That hopefully the field of English Literature had more to offer than Anne, Countess of Winchelsea. And that I wished we could move on quickly to a poet of more consequence than this frustrated member of the nobility who had nothing better to do than sit in her castle and write mediocre verse.

Dr. Jackson knew how to handle impudent, young scholars like myself. She responded simply that the study of English Literature was filled with little-known poets and I should give serious consideration to changing my major if I found it of little consequence.

I didn't change majors. I stuck with English Lit and have never regretted it. It's brought me a lot of enjoyment over the years. And, in retrospect, even the study of Anne, Countess of Winchelsea, came in handy. At least I got a column out of the old girl.

Guest offended by entertainer's 'Polish jokes'

To the Editor:

As an owner of International Diamond Tool Company located in Northville, and also as a citizen of Northville since 1960 who put this suburban community on the map of the world, through my inventions in the field of diamond tools and a scientific book acclaimed throughout the world, I was invited by Northville Police Association to their annual dance in the Plymouth Hilton Inn on the border of Northville and Plymouth.

During the entertainment section, the so-called "entertainer" whose name is Frankie Rapp was telling jokes. Unfortunately, the majority of those jokes were so-called "Polish Jokes." Two of them stick in my mind:

A Pole captures a child for ransom. He sends a child home with note for ransom money. This joke indicated the stupidity of a Pole. Who will pay ransom for a child that is already home? We Poles are not stupid, and we do not capture or burn children, as the Germans did.

Second, so-called "Polish Joke" — Adam was probably a Pole. He was eating an apple while looking on a nude Eve. This joke indicates that Poles are undersexed.

If males of any nation are undersexed, they, for sure, are not Poles. I lived in England for 11 years. English women preferred Poles to their own countrymen whom they considered unromantic and undersexed. I myself married a beautiful and intelligent English lady. Unfortunately, she died of cancer seven years ago.

I have come to the Northville Police Association dance with a Polish lady from Krakow to be entertained, not to be insulted and ridiculed, or to be made a laughing stock as evidenced by laughter and applause of the audience.

I am from Warsaw, Poland, and, although I am a U.S. citizen, I am very proud to be a Pole, and I risked my life fighting for Poland.

In fact, if I were to be born again and if I had my present knowledge of the world (I visited 34 countries in a motor home), I would without any hesitation choose to be a Pole. We Poles, located in the world's worst geographical position, have a thousand-year history of struggle for freedom and independence against Tartars, Turks, Germans and Russians. President Roosevelt called Poles the inspiration of nations.

Coming back to the so-called Polish jokes at the dance, I have some remarks that apply to any similar events.

1. The name, "Polish Jokes" is misleading. They were rather jokes about the Poles introduced by the Germans after World War II to create a suitable atmosphere to regain Polish territories.
2. I request an entertainer to apologize for insulting Polish People.
3. The Northville audience at the dance rewarded with tremendous applause. Let that be a certificate of their mentality, prejudice and racism.
4. I do not blame the Northville Police

Association because, I hope, they did not know in advance what an entertainer will say. However, I suggest that in the future they instruct entertainers not to insult people of any nation, creed or color.

5. The discrimination of Anglo-Saxons against Poles and other minority groups was and is deeply imbedded in the minds of Anglo-Saxons. For example, Polish emigration quota was 5,000 when an English quota was 60,000. How many U.S. citizens of Polish origin are on the boards of directors of major U.S. companies, including an auto industry full of Smiths, Joneses and Fords. Be a genius, but, if you are a Pole, and because you are of Polish origin, you can only climb a corporate ladder so high, but never to the top.

We Poles and people of Polish origin are sick and tired of discrimination against us. We will no longer permit (ourselves) to be treated as second class citizens. Do not force ethnic communities to demand their rights in the same way as Negroes demanded their rights in 1967 by burning Detroit.

No more so-called stupid "Polish Jokes."

Early street sweeping objected

To the Editor:

Will someone please tell me why it is necessary to run that so-called street sweeper at 6 o'clock in the morning, when we the people are trying to get some sleep?

That noisy, smelly, air polluting rig even operates while it is raining! I happen to be one of the natives in this town, and the stinky fumes from that rig come into my house.

Now, you talk about cars polluting the air, yes, but the cars pass on through. This foul-smelling device travels along at about two miles per hour, making sure that the stink lingers on. How stupid can we be?

So, please listen to this. The sidewalks, where we the people walk, are not even swept by a broom. So, who needs the the road washed anyhow? Saturdays and Sundays that infernal machine rests up to attack the environment the following week. I hope that that rig gets struck by lightning while there is nobody driving it.

Now, you take it from here. While you're at it, take it to some distant land very far away.

John Lazor

Thanks community for Tivoli Fair support

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Northville Historical Society, I would like to thank the community for its support of this year's Tivoli Arts and Crafts Show.

A profit of nearly $10,000 far exceeded our expectations. This money will be used to purchase furnishings for the Wash-Oak Schoolhouse, such as a pot belly stove, benches, a teacher desk, readers and slates so that the schoolhouse can be opened and used by area children.

Specifically, we appreciate the use of the Northville Downs Racetrack granted by the Northville Driving Club; the cooperation of the staff of the Downs, especially George and Cheryl; the assistance of Sports Venture; the Genittis from Hole-in-the-Wall restaurant and Parmenter's Cider Mill for the delicious food served at the Country Cafe; and the excellent publicity given by The Northville Record in numerous articles.

Lastly, we would like to thank the 80 hostesses, the set-up and clean-up volunteers, the many people who contributed to the bake sale and the doll house raffle and the 2,000 people who attended the fair.

It was a pleasure to work with every one of them.

Help appreciated on Rotary Run

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Northville Rotary Club, I wish to extend our appreciation to a number of local businesses and governmental agencies for their cooperation in supporting the "Run." This year's 383 runners attest to that fact, and it tells us that the annual "Discover Northville" Run is here to stay.

The ultimate goal of this Rotary project is to show off our community, making everyone aware that Northville is a beautiful place to live or visit.

Getting down to brass tacks

By CHRIS JOHNSON
School Board Secretary

At the September 20 meeting of the board of education, the board decided to try a new approach to student suspension at the two junior high schools. This program is designed for suspensions of three days or less.

Suspensions for minor rule violations are going to be served at school instead of having the student sent home. The student would be under the direct supervision of a substitute teacher and a building administrator. Rather than having a few free days at home the rule breaker now will be required to keep up with all of his or her assignments and to be sure that each suspended student will have enough work to do during the entire time of the suspension. A new condition of the suspensions will be the completion of all of this assigned work. The old method of dealing with minor rule violations seemed to encourage some students who wanted to have some "time off."

It should be obvious to anyone reading the report that the final decisions are made by the Advisory Council of 19 member communities of the 31 participating communities, which includes the Grosse Pointes as well as all of the Western Wayne County communities.

The decisions made by the Advisory Council are made after considering all available information from staff as well as personal information from various representatives sitting on the council and previous history of the community making the application.

There obviously are differences of opinion as evidenced by the split votes on Park Gardens application, rejection of the county revolving fund, rejection of Melvindale Library System and approval of Grosse Pointe Woods proposal as well as eight other programs submitted, all of the proposals submitted being determined for eligibility within the framework of the criteria established.

In my humble opinion, the Wayne County Community Development Block Grant Program is the best administered plan in the United States. Wayne County staff does an excellent job and the Advisory Council, in spite of many differences, are able to reach the necessary decisions.

This is done under very difficult circumstances and will be more difficult as funding decreases. Obviously, some communities are disappointed and that is regrettable.

I hope the above will be of some value to you in the future.

Sincerely yours,
Lorenzo D. Browning

Your Photos by Wayne Loder

How to Care for your Photographs

You've put a lot of effort into taking those special photographs. Rather than just put them away in a drawer, consider these storage and display suggestions:

Remember that heat, humidity, dirt and light shorten the life of photographic materials. So, damp basements and hot attics are not ideal places for storing your cherished pictures.

Avoid dirt and fingerprints by handling your photos as little as possible. Slides can be put in acetate sleeves or in glass mounts. If stored in projector trays, keep the trays in dust free boxes. Photo-albums will protect small photographs and provide hours of enjoyment.

Larger photos can be framed or dry mounted. Custom framing is seldom necessary now that a variety of ready-made frames are available with or without mats. Dry mounting tissue can be applied with a small iron with the right technique. Cold mounting is also an effective method. To avoid discoloration, use only those adhesives that are recommended for photographs.

We'll help you keep your photos looking good at F-Stop, 43220 Grand River, Novi. 348-9355.

Attorney choice narrows to three

DeRusha reported that he was not interested in representing the city on criminal or traffic matters in court and would be "farming out" this portion of the city business.

The city also received an application from Kerr, Russell and Weber of Detroit which represents the townships of Northville and Plymouth. City Manager Steven Walters mentioned that there could possibly be a conflict if there ever were litigation between the city and township.

DeRusha told council he and Vernon had spent two to three hours with each applicant. He felt that the time could be narrowed to 45 minutes next Monday for each.

Application of the firm of Sempliner, Thomas, Tipplady and Boak noted that it has been in existence since 1968 with all partners living in Plymouth.

The resume of Plunkett, Cooney, Rutt, Watters, Stanczyk and Pedersen stated the firm was founded in 1914 and with 82 lawyers now is "the largest legal professional corporation in the country." It represents the City of Taylor presently.

As the application of Cummings, McClorey, Davis and Acho was reviewed, the council made comment on the young age of Johnson, one of 13 attorneys in the firm, who had written the letter of application.

The firm is general counsel for the Township of Milford as well as for Michigan Municipal Risk Management Authority and Michigan Road Commission Risk Management Authority.

It represents the City of Bay City, Livingston County, City of Plymouth and Township of Redford in labor matters.

DeRusha pointed out that the fees were in a similar range for services, about $60 an hour with the maximum structure $75 an hour, ranging downward. He added that he felt the fees quoted by any of the firms being considered were "within our ability to pay."

Record wins press awards

An October 7, 1981 photograph taken by staff photographer Steve Fecht of flooding on Northville Road south of Six Mile won a third-place spot news picture award. It showed residents being rescued with their dog in a row boat towed by township firefighters.

Fecht also won a third place award for The Record with a page one feature picture of three young ballet dancers in the community education program. It was published March 3, 1982.

Judging of the 1982 contest was by members of the Kansas Press Association. More than 200 certificates of excellence were awarded to both daily and weekly newspapers throughout the state.

Judges worked with 1,098 entries from 68 weekly newspapers and 35 daily newspapers. Entries were submitted from editions published between May 1, 1981 and April 30, 1982.

Announcement of the winners is being made in conjunction with National Newspaper Week October 10-16, a time when a concentrated effort is made to stress the community service role of a newspaper and the relationship between personal freedom and a free press.

Both Jack Hoffman, general manager of the Sliger-Livingston County Publications of which The Record is a part, and Roland Peterson, executive editor of the newspaper group, commended the staff for its achievement.

"Dedication and hard work are evident; and so are the pride and professionalism," said Peterson as he pointed out that The Record had won the greatest number of awards of a single newspaper in the group.

Candidates Night set October 12

A "Candidates Night" for local, state and national candidates is slated Tuesday, October 12 at the Cambridge Club, 28301 Cambridge Street, Garden City. The event is sponsored by the Association for Retarded Citizens (ARC)/Northwest Communities. The organization's membership area includes Northville.

The program will begin at 6 p.m. with a buffet dinner and the opportunity to meet informally with the candidates. After dinner, each candidate will be given a chance to give his or her viewpoints or ideas. A question and answer session will follow.

ARC, concerned about a perceived threat to legislation dealing with human services, suggests those of similar opinion could use the night as an opportunity to meet with and talk to candidates seeking election November 2.

To make reservations for either the dinner and program, or program only, call 937-2360.

Three new shops open in South Lyon area offer specialized services

By CINDY HOOGLASIAN

Small businesses are opening in the South Lyon area almost as quickly as trees are shedding their leaves.

Three of the most recent additions to the local business community are Garofalo Cleaners, Hatz-Craft and Finders Keepers.

Finders Keepers will open for business this week, according to the three South Lyon women who call the store their own. Elaine von Berge, Janice Sparks and Joan Jones are long-time friends and the proprietors of Finders Keepers.

Jones explained that the store, located at 557 South Lafayette in the rear of Spark's Plaza across from McHattie Park, will offer several unique services to its patrons. Finders Keepers is intended to be a reasonably-priced quality gift and collectibles store which obtains its merchandise on a consignment basis.

The businesswomen said only high quality previously-owned merchandise is accepted, with an emphasis on collectible and antique items. Individuals who have collections of items, like thimbles, may wish to update their assemblage and weed-out pieces they wish to replace. Finders Keepers is designed to permit collectors who are overburdened with items to place the goods for sale and realize a cash return on their pieces.

Jones explained that offering undamaged collectible items for resale allows beginners to accumulate quality pieces at affordable prices. At the same time, the original owner gets two-thirds of the price the resale shop receives for the items.

Not only will Finders Keepers offer collectible and gift items, but it will be a haven for those seeking old, odd pieces of furniture. In their pre-opening stock, Jones pointed out two wooden "fireside pouting chairs," bearing a sticker price of $30 each. The child-size chairs, Jones speculated, were once used for reading or contemplating by hearthside. Perhaps the chairs were where mothers placed their ill-tempered youths when they got to be too much to handle.

Both Sparks and Jones belong to the South Lyon Fine Arts Society and their original artworks will be offered for sale at Finders Keepers. Additionally, handmade wooden decorative and utilitarian items will be included in the store's stock.

Perhaps the most unusual aspect of Finders Keepers is the "Finders" part. Jones explained that the proprietors will keep a catalog of people who have specific skills, such as calligraphy, stenciling or caning, so that the they can match individuals who need such services with skilled craftspeople who are able to fulfill that need.

Additionally, there is a separate listing of people who have need of specific items. While Finders Keepers will not carry the standard resale shop goods, the storekeepers will take down names and needs and notify people if they know of someone who has the merchandise or service desired.

Jones said they need a bit of professional help where the Finders part is concerned. People who are willing to provide such skills are asked to call Finders Keepers for an appointment to discuss the business arrangement. Jones said the craftspeople will be charged a small commission by the store owners for their match-up service.

"We have also made arrangements to have an interior decorator available for our customers on an appointment basis," Jones said. The decorator will help solve problems with unusual rooms or decorating needs, Jones explained.

"We are counting on our customers to tell us what they want to receive in terms of service," she said. "They will also be providing our stock. The people will show us what they are interested in and where there is a need."

In celebration of the grand opening, Sparks will draw eight-by-10 inch pastel profiles of patrons, for a $3 fee. Store hours will be 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday, 11 a.m. until 7 p.m. Friday. The shop will be closed Sunday and Monday. Skilled craftspeople and potential consignees are asked to call 437-7205 for an appointment.

Home business to be focus of workshop

Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service is sponsoring a five-part series of workshops on starting a small home-based business.

The program will be held at the Oakland County Facilities and Operations Department building, 1 Public Works Drive, in Pontiac beginning October 21.

The seminar will be held each Thursday through November 18 from 7-9 p.m. Cost of the workshop series is $10, which includes materials.

The course will explore preliminary steps to setting up a business, including determining the market, characteristics of a successful business and why businesses fail or succeed.

A certified public accountant will explain cash flow, bookkeeping, taxes and tax advantages available, credits and loans, sales tax and start-up costs.

Irene Hathaway, a resource management specialist for Michigan State University, will discuss merchandising and advertising, identifying the market and the consumer, and pricing.

A representative from a Pontiac law firm will speak on legal aspects of starting a business, including zoning, registration, insurance, liability, franchising, copyrights and bankruptcy.

In addition, the final session will focus on time management and finding resource people.

wish to visit Hatzi-Craft, South Lyon's ceramics center.

Located at 138 East Liberty, less than one block east of Pontiac Trail and south of Ten Mile, Hatzi-Craft opened its doors September 9. Julia "Hatzi" Smith runs the business, with some help from her husband Al, whom she affectionately calls "The Fat Artesian."

Mrs. Smith's interest in ceramics began about only three months ago, but it took her by storm. Her first project was a replica of her pet Lhasa apso, Charlie. Upon the completion of her first piece, Hatzi knew she wanted to invest in the craft. "I call this my $10,000 dog," she remarked.

Hatzi-Craft carries the full line of Duncan products, including brushes and every color of glaze. "That's part of the reason my investment in the store is so high," Mrs. Smith said.

In the basement of Hatzi-Craft, the Smiths pour and mold the greenware. A large selection of molds, including seasonal items like pumpkins, are on hand for orders. If, despite their large collection of molds, a desired item is not in stock, Mrs. Smith said she can obtain the object within a week.

Two kilns are also housed in the basement, along with the slip machine, which agitates the soupy clay for molding.

By having the two kilns, Mrs. Smith said her customers can usually have their pieces fired to the bisque and final stages within two days.

"People may take two weeks or more to glaze their pieces, but when they're ready to fire them for the final time, they want to see the finished product as soon as possible," Mrs. Smith said.

Hatzi-Craft has rooms full of greenware just waiting to be decorated. To assist beginners in their effort to master ceramics, Hatzi-Craft also offers classes. Currently classes are being conducted Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, as well as one afternoon each week. While some of the classes are full, Mrs. Smith said registration is still taken for Wednesday and the afternoon session.

Instructional fee is $1.50 per session, she said, plus materials. For the first class, Hatzi-Craft supplies a piece of greenware for beginners.

"Greenware is very delicate and must be handled with a light touch," Mrs. Smith explained. "We provide the first piece so that if it is broken, the beginner is not out any money."

Cost of greenware is inexpensive, she said. The lowest priced item can be purchased for a dime, while the most expensive pieces cost only about $6. Mrs. Smith said Hatzi-Craft charges half the purchase price for each firing. If a customer bought a $2 piece of greenware, the first firing to the bisque stage would cost $1 and the final firing runs another $1, bringing the cost to $4, plus glazes.

Mrs. Smith's enthusiasm for ceramics is obvious, and her joy is something she wishes to share with others. She is interested in sponsoring ceramics classes through South Lyon Community Education, although nothing is definite yet.

Both young and old can take up ceramics, Mrs. Smith said. Hatzi-Craft offers a 10 percent discount to anyone over 60 years of age. Another goal of Hatzi-Craft is to bring the world of ceramics to nursery school students.

"I feel that I will be successful in my business if I am able to make expenses and make new friends," Hatzi said. She and Al have lived in South Lyon for just over three years. "I love it here," she said. "I wish we had lived here for the past 20 years."

Hatzi-Craft is open from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday. The shop is closed Friday during the daytime, but opens from 6-9 p.m. Presently, Hatzi-Craft keeps weekend hours, being open from noon until 3 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

A family success story has been brought to South Lyon by Pete and Audrey Garofalo, who recently opened their eighth dry cleaning store.

Garofalo Cleaners, located in Brookdale Square at Nine Mile and Pontiac Trail, got its start in a small store in Detroit eight years ago. Garofalo said they got into the cleaning business by mistake. Originally, he purchased a building to expand another business in which he was involved. However, after the sale was complete, he found the space would be inadequate for his needs. Since the store had been a dry cleaning facility previously, Garofalo learned the business and continued the operation.

Garofalo Cleaners can now be found in Farmington Hills, Commerce Township, Livonia, South Lyon, Royal Oak, Detroit and two locations in Warren.

Watch for the grand opening of the newest Garofalo Cleaners in Walled Lake at South Commerce and Pontiac Trail sometime in October.

"Eventually, we hope to expand further toward Ann Arbor, including the Brighton-South Lyon area," Garofalo said. "We came to South Lyon because we have always liked the country. We now live in the Wolverine Lake area, but even that is beginning to be too built-up. We may even move to the South Lyon area, as a central location."

Garofalo is a member of the Dry Cleaning Institute, which he said is an advisory group. He has taken instruction in cleaning techniques and regularly attends seminars and refresher courses to keep up-to-date on new procedures.

There is an expert silk finisher on duty at Garofalo Cleaners, he said. She has 30 years' experience in working with silks and is one of Garofalo's most valued employees, he explained.

"Additionally, I am always available for consultation if any customer wants to speak to me," Garofalo said. "There is a telephone number where I can be reached, which is available at the store."

"I think we are doing quite well in South Lyon, considering that we are located at the very end of an unfinished shopping center. I am impressed with the merchants of the area, who have welcomed me into the community."

Garofalo Cleaners is open from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Monday through Wednesday, until 7 p.m. Thursday and Friday and from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. Saturday.

Mustangs pull off dramatic overtime win

By JOHN MYERS

In a game filled with lots of drama and suspense, the Northville football team squeezed past Plymouth Canton 27-26 in double overtime Friday night in a key Western Lakes Activities Association match up.

"The storyline was we were going to entertain the people," head coach Dennis Colligan quipped.

And entertain they did as both squads made numerous standout plays offensively and defensively throughout the contest.

Two of the biggest plays came in the second overtime. Andy Dimitroff broke tackles on his way to a 10-yard touchdown run and Bill Kinnard's extra point gave the Mustangs a 27-20 lead.

The Chiefs came right back with a Pat Murphy to Matt Santilli 10-yard scoring pass, but Dimitroff's blitz forced Murphy to throw early on the two-point conversion attempt and give the Mustangs the hard-fought win.

He (Dimitroff) looked great on the play (the blitz)," Colligan said, "but our two down linemen (Randy Kratt and Ron Winters) deserve some of the credit because they took (Canton's) line people with them to let (Dimitroff) bust through."

Dimitroff also scored two third-quarter touchdowns on runs of 80 and 22 yards, and finished the night with 191 yards in 29 carries. Quarterback Dave Longridge, who completed four of nine aerials for 32 yards, scored on a one-yard dive in the second period to account for Northville's other scores.

Canton's Murphy had a superb evening by hitting 15 of 28 passes for 209 yards and three touchdowns, and he scored on an 11-yard run in the fourth quarter.

The win, which now puts Northville at 2-2 overall and 1-1 in the Western Division, was a crucial one for the Mustangs, Colligan agreed.

"It was big," he declared. "Coming off of two losses, we had to have a win."

"If we would have lost, I would have been hesitant as to the rest of the year. We knew Canton was a good ballclub, but I would have been concerned what would have happened to our players if we lost. It was a very crucial win," he added.

"In my opinion, we beat a good team. They have a fine passing game, a fine quarterback and a fine set of receivers," Colligan said.

That was never more evident than in Canton's first drive to a touchdown. The Chiefs went 74 yards in five plays with Murphy hitting Bob Wasczenski for a nine-yard score and a 7-0 Canton lead early in the second quarter.

The Mustangs tied the score at 7-all when Longridge capped a four-play, 28-yard drive with a one-yard sneak at the 4:20 mark.

Dimitroff got the Mustangs rolling in the third quarter. On Northville's first play from scrimmage after the kickoff, the senior tailback raced 80 yards for a six-pointer and a 14-7 lead.

The Mustangs then recovered a Canton fumble at the 22-yard line, and Dimitroff again broke loose for a touchdown on the first play. Net result: two plays, 102 yards and a 20-7 Northville lead.

The Mustang defense had a tough forcing a Canton punt which John Quinn returned to the Canton 32 yard-line. However, the Chiefs stopped Northville at fourth-and-one at the 23 and Colligan believes this was the turning point of the game.

Streaking soccer team downs Churchill, 3-1

By JOHN MYERS

The dramatic turnaround of the Northville boys' soccer continues as the Mustangs scored another big victory over Livonia Churchill 3-1 last Thursday.

Churchill had entered the contest unbeaten in six contests and resting in first place in the Western Division of the Western Lake Activities Association.

But Northville ended all of that with its convincing triumph over the ing foot around. The senior forward has totaled 14 goals in the squads last six games to give him 19 for the season.

However, his ability to get the shots to score has been enhanced by the play of Chris Koenig, Randy Eppers, Bob Guldberg and Fabio Nielsen.

The coaches noted Nielsen dominated the middle of the field against Churchill, while wings Eppers, Koenig and Guldberg helped open up the middle of the field in the Chargers' defensive zone. Churchill's defense was spread open, thus giving Marshall the room he needs to operate to put the ball in the net, the coaches said.

Also cited for his play was center-forward Scott Gala who caused Churchill some headaches with his play.

All of this has boiled down to one important trademark of the Mustang squad — team work — the coaches said.

Northville has been playing better soccer lately, the coaches noted, with the players making better passes, working better combinations, moving around the field better and overlapping better to open the field up more.

Also, the Mustangs have played a swarming style of defense the past few weeks which has caused problems for numerous opponents.

Marshall tallied all three goals against Salem with Metz handling the goal duties for another triumph. The coaches noted a strong defense and continually beating Salem to the ball were key factors in the win.

Northville had a tough contest against Farmington Harrison Tuesday, and it will battle a strong Livonia Bentley squad Thursday.

The Mustangs will have revenge on their minds when they travel to Canton Tuesday. The Chiefs came from behind with two second half goals to nip Northville 3-2 September 13.

Greg Marshall has been red-hot of late by netting 14 goals in the last six games

Chargers. The Mustangs, coupled with a 3-1 win over Plymouth Salem, now are 9-3 overall and have won their last six contests.

Senior Greg Marshall powered in two goals and junior Steve Starceovich added another to give goalie Jeff Metz the victory.

Co-coaches Dan Swayne and Marv Gans could not spread enough accolades around to the players who were instrumental in securing the victory.

Tops on the list was Metz, who the coaches noted made some keys saves to keep the Mustangs in the contest until the offense could get untracked.

The offense of late has consisted of Marshall, who has had the hottest scor-

By JOHN MYERS

If it ever rains again, it will be soon enough for Northville girls' tennis coach Uta Filkin.

Rain forced the Mustangs to reschedule last week Tuesday's match against Livonia Bentley to last Thursday. That's not so bad, right? Wrong.

Northville had numerous tough matches in a 7-0 triumph over Plymouth Canton last week Wednesday that took its toll on the Mustangs against Bentley — to enable the Bulldogs to secure a 6-1 verdict.

The split against the Western Lakes Activities Association foes put Northville at 7-2 overall and 4-2 in the Western Division.

While it looks like the Mustangs rolled over Canton, they had to come up with key victories in either tie-breakers or three-set matches for the victory.

"Canton was a hard, tough match," Filkin observed. "I expected them to give us a tough match."

Marnie Dillow set the pattern in first singles with a 6-3, 7-5 triumph over Kris Harrison. Gail Engelmeyer went three sets to defeat Julie Lloyd 1-6, 7-5, 6-5 at second singles.

Jill Stevens won in straight 7-6 sets over Lisa Schultz at third singles, and Holly Hubbard was a 6-3, 2-6, 6-0 winner at fourth singles.

Engelmeyer, Stevens and Hubbard all had matches which went over two hours and this affected their play against Bentley, Filkin said.

"It really proved to be a mistake (playing Thursday). I was a little saddened because we have a good team and we were obviously overtaxed," she assessed.

"Some of the those matches I think we could have turned around (in Northville's favor)," she added.

Stevens suffered leg cramps during her match, and two other players had some kind of ailment which hindered their play, according to the veteran coach.

The junior varsity won six of eight pro set matches against Canton. Jennifer Trausch and Julie Kiehuss won in straight 8-1 sets over two different opponents. Also, Lori Housman and Jill Jensen won in straight 8-1 sets over two different foes.

Kim Stiles and Cyndi DeHoff were 10-8 winners, while Sue Shureb and Kris Kazyak won their first match 8-6. Laura Mitchell and Jenny Cass dropped an 8-6 decision, while Mandy Olgren and Melinda Paffel lost 8-0.

The Mustangs have a busy couple of weeks ahead of them. Northville battled non-league Milford Lakeland Monday, and will host WLAA rival Walled Lake Central 4 p.m. today. The Mustangs then battle last year's Western Six Conference champion Farmington Harrison Friday.

Northville has its final WLAA match slated for Monday against Livonia Churchill before participating in the WLAA meet at Canton Tuesday.

North Farmington pins first loss on harriers in five years

All good things must come to end, and that is what happened to the Northville boys' cross country team against North Farmington last week Tuesday.

The Mustangs lost their first dual meet in nearly five years when the Raiders topped them 24-33. However, Northville got back on the winning track with a 22-34 triumph over Western Lakes Activities Association rival Plymouth Canton last Thursday.

"If we were going to lose, I would rather lose a non-league meet," veteran coach Ed Gabrys said. "We don't like losing, but we knew it was going to be a close meet."

"It was kind of an off day for us. We were flat, but North Farmington has a strong team and deserved the victory," he added.

Also contributing to the team's first loss was North Farmington's ability to place two runners between Northville's top three harriers.

The Raiders came across the line in first, third and fifth place, while the Mustangs took second, fourth and sixth. North Farmington's Brian Hobart was first in 16:37, while Northville's Jim O'Neill was next at 17:35.

Jim Willoughby was fourth at 18:08 and Kurt Assenmacher was sixth at 18:18 for the Mustangs. Pat Campbell crossed the line in 18:31 and Dave Nafe finished at 18:57.

The girls' team, however, came away with a 24-31 victory over the Raiders with Kelly Wool breaking the tape first in 19:58. Kim Assenmacher was second at 21:14, while Wendy Nuechterlein was fifth at 23:13 and Marge Wojcicki was sixth at 23:39. Sharon Savageau came across in 23:19.

The key to the triumph over Canton was the "pack finish" by four of the Mustangs after the first Chiefs runner.

Canton's Mike Collins won the race at Cass Benton in 17:45 and O'Neill was right on his heels at 17:48. Campbell was next at 18:08 and was followed by Willoughby at 18:19 and Doug Doyle at 18:23. Rich Naszardi finished at 19:04.

"That's the way we like to run meets," Gabrys said. "It was a good meet all-around. We were able to bounce back."

Sophomore Mike Siefkin also ran in the race and came across the line in 19:13. Gabrys explained Siefkin came in front of Canton's fifth man which helped add a few more points to the Chiefs' score.

The girls' team won a tight one over Canton 26-29 as it claimed every other finish after Wool's first-place finish.

Wool recorded her best time, yet, at the Cass Benton course with a 19:59. It was nearly two and a half minutes better than her best time of last season.

Assenmacher was third at 22:07, Nuechterlein was fifth at 24:09, Wojcicki was seventh at 24:48 and Michele Ryan was 10th at 31:55.

The Mustangs also competed in the Ann Arbor Pioneer Invitational Saturday. Wool placed eighth in the girls' division at 18:53 over the three-mile course. O'Neill was the top Northville boys' finisher as he took 53rd with a 16:37.

Northville has one of its biggest dual meets of the season Thursday when always-tough Livonia Churchill comes to Cass Benton.

Churchill looks like the team to beat this season, and Gabrys said his team will put forth its best effort against the Chargers.

"We want to give them the best possible meet. Because of the tradition and long rivalry, we want to make this a premier meet," he offered.

The Mustangs will then participate in the Redford Union Invitational Tuesday.

Mustang tankers drop slim meet to Bulldogs, 64-63

Bill Dicks knew it was going to be one of those close meets. Only the second-year Northville girls' swim coach did not figure his squad would be on the bottom end of the score against Western Lakes Activities Association rival Livonia Bentley last Thursday.

"We expected it to be a one point meet. It came down to the last relay, and we needed to go one-two in order to win. Instead, we went one-three and lost 64-63. It was that kind of a meet," offered Dicks, whose teams stands at 2-1 overall and 0-1 in the Western Division of the WLAA.

"They had to do their best times in key events in order to win, and they did that. We were off just a touch," he added. Bentley turned in season-best performances in the 200-yard individual medley, 100-yard breaststroke and 400-yard freestyle relay, according to Dicks.

The Bulldogs' individual medley swimmer shaved four seconds off her previous best time to win the event in 2:22, while the backstroke went 1:15, which was two seconds better, to win, he said. The relay team took second with a 3:57, which was the first time under four minutes all season, Dicks explained.

"I'm not disappointed in any of our swims. There are a couple of things we need to work on, but I think we're coming along nicely," Dicks said.

Kristin Nelson was one of the bright spots for the Mustangs as she established a Bentley pool record in winning the 200-yard freestyle in 2:03.

Nelson also won the 500-yard freestyle in 5:28.9, and Dicks noted that was just shy of the state qualifying mark. She also was part of the victorious 400 freestyle relay team which included Kim Thompson, Lisa Felicelli and Trish Settles (3:55.7).

Settles also was an individual double winner as she claimed the 50-yard freestyle (26.2) and the 100-yard freestyle (57.8). The only other individual first came from Holly Sellen in the 100-yard backstroke (1:08.8).

Northville took five second-place finishes with the 200-yard medley relay team of Sellen, Cindy Panowicz, Jill Roth and Peggy Herald leading the way (2:08.9).

Panowicz was runner-up in the 100 breaststroke (1:20.8), while Kathy Bainbridge did the same in the 100 backstroke (1:09.9) and 100-yard butterfly (1:05.6).

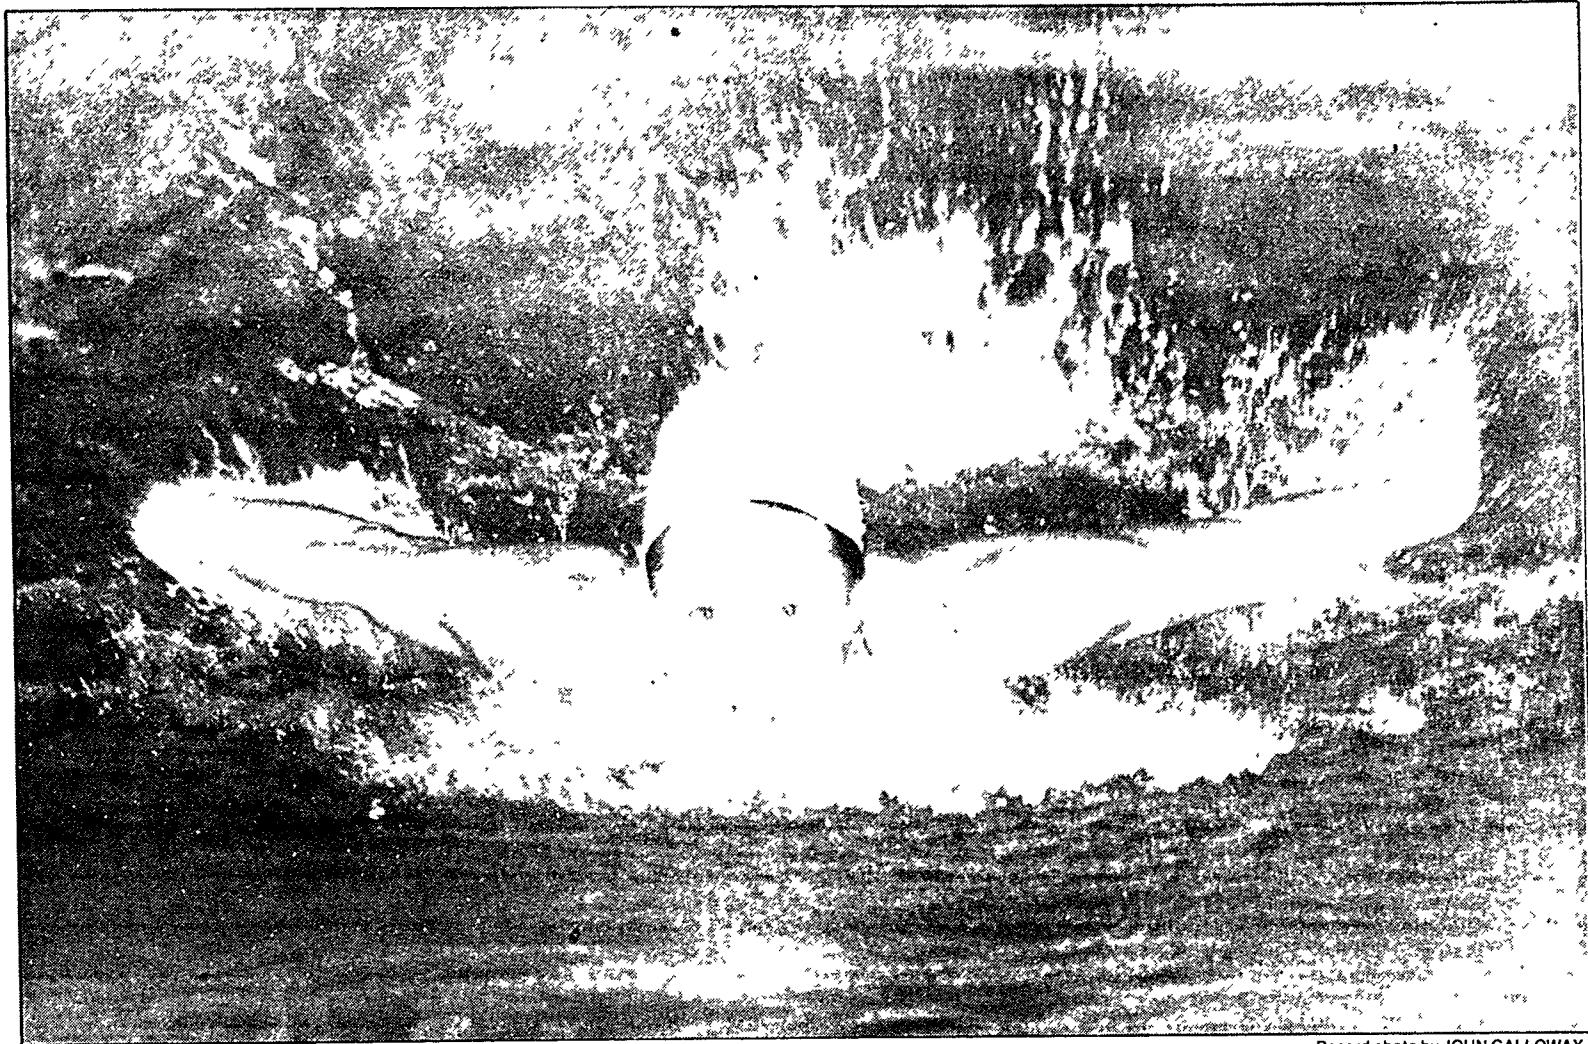

Cathy Heitert was second in diving with 149.1, while Mandy Watts was third with 147.1. "The divers did exceptionally well. They were getting a lot of 6.0 and 6.5 (judge's marks)," Dicks praised.

Taking thirds in the meet were Karen Brining in the 100 breaststroke and Kim Thompson in the 200 individual medley. Fourth places were grabbed by Sellen in the 200 individual medley; Panowicz in the 50 freestyle; Roth in the 100 butterfly; Thompson in the 500 freestyle; and Felicelli in the 100 freestyle and the 200 freestyle.

"We swam everything as strong as we could," Dicks said. "The kids swam really strong."

"We had some real good times, and we swam a strong line-up," he added. "Our (butterfly swimmers) went their best times. Our two freestylers went their best times, and both our backstrokers swam well."

Northville was in action against non-league Brighton Tuesday, and will travel to Western Division foe Farmington Harrison Thursday for a WLAA meet.

Tax-Free All Savers Certificate

It's Time To Renew

Purchase or Reinvest

RENEW October 1, 1982 marks the first year the All Savers Certificate has been available. And, according to law, you only have from October 1 to December 31 to take advantage of this certificate that offers such great tax benefits. That's right. If you haven't earned your full tax exemption with your original All Savers Certificate, now is the time to renew since these certificates will not be available after December 31.

But remember—you must redeem the certificate and purchase another at the prevailing rate since it is not automatically renewable.

PURCHASE If you have never had an All Savers Certificate, this is your last chance to purchase one. By law, you're allowed tax-free interest up to the first $2,000 of interest earned (for married couples filing jointly) or $1,000 for individuals. This is a one-time lifetime exemption, regardless of the number of certificates purchased or the number of years in which exemptions are taken.

The term of the certificate is only one year and there's only a $500 minimum. Your rate, the highest allowed by law, when you open your certificate remains fixed until maturity. Early withdrawal results in a substantial interest penalty and elimination of the tax-exempt status.

REINVEST Anyone who has earned the maximum exemption will want to reinvest his/her funds in high-earning, secure investments.

At Security Bank you'll find many Money Market Certificates offering flexibility and insured safety to $100,000 by the FDIC

Certificates to consider are the 26 Week Money Market Certificate with a $10,000 minimum, the $7,500 minimum 91 Day Certificate and the $20,000 7 to 31 Day Certificate. (Substantial interest penalty required for early withdrawal from certificate accounts.)

Visit your nearest Security Bank office for complete details on all of Security's certificate plans. You'll be glad you did!

Churchill drops Mustang cagers in cellar with loss

Despite scoring its greatest number of points in one game this season, the thville girls' basketball team came short against Western Division rival Omaha Churchill 49-40 last Thursday. The loss, coupled with a 56-29 defeat by Plymouth Salem, dropped Northville 7 overall and to 1-5 in the Western Division in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Coach Rick Hurst was hoping to down Churchill in order to keep his team from falling into the basement, but it was not meant to be Thursday.

In fact, the rookie coach felt the team had been better in losses to Salem last Tuesday and to Oak Park two weeks ago than it did against the Chargers.

"We didn't play very well," he admitted. "Churchill came out shooting real well in the first half. Churchill would not miss anything. They are an impressive team," he added.

The Chargers used their hot-shooting to grab a 12-11 first quarter advantage and a 30-21 lead at halftime. Churchill was ahead 38-30 despite the Mustangs' third period charge, and finished with the nine-point win.

"Churchill was pretty weak inside and we got shots from Tracy (Wilkinson) and Denise Liddle which helped us a lot," Hurst said.

Wilkinson finished with a team-high 13 points, while Liddle pumped in 10. Kathy Korowin added five points.

What gnawed at Hurst most about the Churchill contest was the amount of unforced errors the Mustangs committed.

"In this game we had too many unforced mistakes," he observed.

The Salem contest was being called the "last preseason contest" by Hurst, who explained he was still doing some experimentation, and now expects the squad to play even with the rest of its opponents.

"I wasn't displeased with the game. I had players in positions they didn't belong in, but that was planning for the future," he said.

The Rocks, ranked fifth in Class A in one newspaper poll, raced to a 17-4 first-quarter advantage and was ahead 38-12 at the half.

The Mustangs held their own in the third period by outscoring Salem 11-10, and the Rocks went with their starter for about six minutes in that stanza.

"The third quarter is what I liked best. They had their starters in for about five or six minutes, and we did pretty well. It was no disgrace," Hurst declared.

Salem, though, outscored the Mustangs eight to six in the final period with mostly its second team.

Still, Hurst was not downcast about the squad's performance. He noted the Rocks use a similar style of play to his team, which he said players noticed.

"There were a couple of things Salem skill-wise uses and we could see it. The kids would be on the bench and say, 'Oh hey, they're practicing what we're doing,'" he added.

Korowin was the top Mustang scorer with 10 points, while Wilkinson tossed in nine and Liddle eight.

The Mustangs travel to Livonia Bentley Thursday and to Plymouth Canton Tuesday for two more WLAA contests. Lakes Division leader Bentley is ranked second in Class A, and is led by All State forward Kim Archer.

Western Division rival Canton easily handled Northville the last time these two schools met on the court.

With two formidable opponents coming up, Hurst said the team will be out there to play them as even as possible. He also notes the team has been making more improvements with each contest.

"It's just a matter of execution. I have confidence the kids will excel, and they'll start doing things right soon," he offered.

"The kids are shooting better, and they're getting confidence," he added. "Liddle and Wilkinson are playing real well and have been doing a nice job."

O'Sheehan's, Martinizing second

Aberdeen's, Getzie's Pub capture adult softball titles

Both Aberdeen's and Getzie's Pub came away with championships in the Northville Community Recreation softball league playoffs in September.

Aberdeen's captured the men's title with a 13-4 triumph over O'Sheehan's, while Getzie's Pub nailed One Hour Martinizing twice to claim the women's title.

Aberdeen's and O'Sheehan's met three times during the double-elimination playoffs with Aberdeen's winning two of the three contests.

In the championship contest, Aberdeen's pulled away with four runs in the third inning and five in fourth to claim the title, 13-4.

The key blow in the fourth was Tom Eis' grand slam homerun, while brother Todd scored another run after slapping a triple. The pair also added singles to complement their other hits.

Kerk Philpott laced three singles and scored three times for the winners, while Scott Zubly and Jerry Dettter each added two hits.

O'Sheehan's scored single runs in the first, fourth, fifth and seventh innings.

Joe Staknis was the top batsman with a single, triple and scoring once. Scott Dewitt added two singles and scored once, while Bill Binder and John Mafesoli each scored.

O'Sheehan's forced the title game showdown when it trounced Aberdeen's 9-1. A five-run first inning did the trick for O'Sheehan's.

Key hitters for O'Sheehan's were Staknis and John McNally with three hits apiece. Chris Pariseau and Tom Brand each slapped two hits.

Fred Steinkopf scored the lone Aberdeen's run, while Todd Eis collected two hits.

Other team's competing in the men's tournament were Thermal Sash, Urban's Partition, Sheehan's Little Caesar's, Baber Roofing, Canterbury Cleaners, the Eagles, Rush, J&S Steel, Long Mechanical and Our Lady of Victory.

Getzie's Pub had little trouble disposing One Hour Martinizing 10-1 and 16-2.

Getzie's scored four times in the first and five times in the fourth to win the crown. Sharon Filips, Carol Brand and Julie O'Brien carried big sticks for the winners.

Filips singled and knocked in two runs, Brand laced two singles and had three runs-batted-in and O'Brien banded three singles and drove in three runs.

Karen Marzonie added a pair of hits, while Ann Gerlach drove in a run with a single.

One Hour Martinizing scored its lone run in the seventh when Terese Fox touched home plate on Lori Holland's single. Nancy Huntington and Cindy Langley each rapped a pair of singles. Getzie's iced the first meeting between the two squads, 16-2, with an 11-run fourth inning.

Gerlach was the big swinger with two singles and three RBIs, while Rose Marie Knecht slapped three hits. Kathy Holliman and Elizabeth Lafferty each added two hits for Getzie's.

One Hour Martinizing scored twice in the fourth when Cindy Shannon and Nancy Reeve each crossed home plate. Reeve and Stelmach were the only batters to collect singles in the contest.

Linkers fight for winning year

By JOHN MYERS

If nothing else, Joe Blake would like his Northville boy's golf team to win its final two dual meets of the season in order to finish with an above .500 record.

The Mustangs lost two matches last week. The first loss was to tough Livonia Stevenson 201-210 last Wednesday and the second defeat came from excellent non-league Brighton squad 156-167 Monday. Northville also placed 12th out of 36 squads at the Mid-Western Tournament at Hilltop in Livonia Friday.

The double setbacks put Northville at 5-6 overall and the Stevenson defeat put the Mustangs at 3-4 in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association.

"We have two matches left which we need to win to get over .500. It would be nice if we could do well in the league meet, too," veteran coach Joe Blake said.

"I'm encouraged by our play in the Mid-Western Tournament. If we play that well or better, we could do something at the league," he added.

However, Blake has his sights set on downing WLAAs rivals Walled Lake Central (yesterday) and Plymouth Canton today. The league meet is at Rolling Meadows Monday.

"I would like to win the last two dual meet matches," Blake reiterated.

The Mustang linkers toured the Hilltop course for a team score of 330 to place 12th out of 36 squads. "I was pretty pleased with our performance," Blake offered.

Detroit Catholic Central won the meet with a phenomenal 304 total. Lansing Sexton was second at 316.

Bob Pegrum had a 76 for the 18-hole round, and he drew praise from Blake.

"Bob Pegrum has really been playing well the last two weeks," he said.

Kip Mack was next at 82, while Dave Pohlod and Gary Metz each carded 86.

Stevenson was just a little too strong for the Mustangs, even though Northville shot one of its better team totals since early September.

Pegrum and Pohlod topped the Mustangs with 40s, while Mack came in with a 41, Ray Nutter had a 44 and Metz carded a 45.

"We have played a little bit better than that, but we haven't had a score of 201 all year," Blake noted.

Brighton had three linkers shoot under 40 for the nine-hole round to pace its victory over Northville. The Bulldogs had scores of 37, 38, 39 and 42 which Blake said "is very difficult to beat".

Pegrum had another good round as he came in with a 38 on the Burroughs Farms course. Eric Morfe scored a 41, while Bob Justus had a 43 and Nutter a 45.

Martin, Viers share grid contest prize

For the second consecutive week Bruce Martin has come out a winner in the Northville Record-Nov/Novi/Walled Lake News football contest. Only this time, he had to share the top prize with Dave Viers.

Both Viers, of Novi, and

Martin, of Northville, selected 13 of 14 winners and predicted 41 total points to be scored in the Pitt/West Virginia contest. Thus, the two will divide equally the $10 first place and $5 second place prizes.

The only game both men missed was Florida State's upset of Ohio State. But, that was not uncommon as a majority of the contestants sided with the Buckeyes.

Northville's David Trent also had 13 winners, but he predicted 48 total points to be scored and claims the $3 third place prize. The contest which Trent misfired was taking Walled Lake Western to upend Farmington Harrison. However, he was one of the few entrants to take Florida State over Ohio State.

For years I've talked with people who are tired of wasting fuel and money. Gas rates keep going up, so they come to me for advice.

Every day, for homeowners like you, I correct the money-wasting problem of gas energy loss with Ameri-Therm® Vent Dampers.

The problem is very common:

When a furnace, boiler or water heater shuts off, warm air is quickly lost up the chimney. Energy escapes, but you still end up paying for it.

People want to save as much as they can, so I tell them to keep heat inside with an Ameri-Therm Vent Damper.

Gridders cop dramatic triumph over Canton

"If we get that score, we would have been up 27-7," said Colligan, adding that probably would have put the game out of reach for Canton.

"I think that turned them (Canton) on," he said.

The Chiefs' comeback started when they capped a nine-play, 65-yard drive early in the fourth quarter when Murphy hit Wasczenski with an 18-yard touchdown aerial on a fourth-and-seven play. The missed extra point made 20-13.

Three minutes later Canton went 49 yards in three plays with Murphy scampering in from 11 yards. Santilli nailed the extra point to knot the score at 20-all.

Neither team could score before regulation ended, thus forcing the overtime. Canton went on offense first, and Davis rambled from the 10 to the one-yard line. However, the Mustangs recovered a fumble on the next play.

The Mustangs couldn't end the game on their possession as Longridge was sacked at the 14 on a third down play. Kinnard pulled the field goal attempt wide to the right.

Thus setting up the exciting and dramatic second overtime.

Northville will look for league win number two against a vastly-improved Livonia Bentley squad at 7:30 p.m. at the Bulldogs' home field. Bentley currently is tied with Plymouth Salem for the Lakes Division lead at 2-0.

Junior varsity downs Chiefs

Northville's junior varsity football team used a balanced attack in blanketing Western Lakes Activities Association rival Plymouth Canton 18-0 Thursday.

The triumph evened the Mustangs' overall mark at 2-2 and their Western Division ledger at 1-1.

Northville got on the board first in the second quarter when Jeff Bush hauled in a five-yard pass from Dave Denhof. That stood until halftime as neither team could produce another score.

The Mustangs iced the contest with two fourth period touchdowns. Doug Hartman galloped 18 yards for a six-pointer, and Phil Pendleton provided the clincher with a nine-yard run. All three conversion attempts failed.

Hartman was the leading Northville ground gainer with 149 in 22 attempts. Phil Van Buran added 94 in 11 carries, while Rick Pendleton raced 77 yards in 12 carries.

On the defensive side, Phil Pendleton had six first hits, while Tim Millen and Robert Bugar each had four first hits.

Northville's next contest is at home at 7 p.m. Thursday against WLAA Lakes Division foe Livonia Bentley.

Colts win twice, lose

Lead by a rugged defense, the Northville/Novi Colts posted a 13-0 triumph over the Ann Arbor Packers during the weekend.

The Colt defense not only posted a goose egg on the scoreboard but also in the statistics when it held the Packers to zero yards rushing.

The defense was paced by Garnett Potter, Mike MacDonell, Jeff Todd and Robert Forte.

Steve Bastian ran 22 yards for a first-quarter touchdown with Doug Cody adding an insurance touchdown in the final period. Matt Smith added both extra points.

The victory raised the Colts' overall mark to 3-1. The junior varsity, however, fell to Ann Arbor 22-6 to drop its overall mark to 1-2-1.

After a defensive struggle in the first half, the Packers scored twice in the second half to seal the triumph. Ann Arbor led 9-6 at intermission with the Colts' only score coming on a 20-yard jaunt by Tom Whelan in the second period.

Excellent defensive performances were turned in by Bop Smith and Ed Walsh.

It was a one-man show for the varsity as James Cerretani scored all three touchdowns in a 20-6 victory over the Packers of Ann Arbor.

Cerretani sprinted 60, 63 and 40 yards and added two extra points in leading the Colts. Cerretani ran in one extra point ad caught a conversion pass from Wade Soroya for another. He also had one touchdown jaunt called back because of a holding call.

The triumph evened the varsity's record at 2-2.

90-year-old club still going strong

"When I joined woman's club 21 years ago, we came to the opening luncheon wearing hats and gloves," Phyllis Slattery recalled last Friday.

As new president of Northville Woman's Club, she welcomed some 208 members and guests to the opening luncheon marking the beginning of the club's 90th year. It was held at the Livonia-West Holiday Inn.

Noting that the club is the second oldest in the Wayne County Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Slattery continued the tradition of honoring past presidents and honorary members at the luncheon-fashion show. Vice-President Lois Winters paid tribute to those attending. Past President Araminta Ellison responded.

Mrs. Slattery pointed out that much of the club's early history, including its beginnings, was not mentioned in print. "Perhaps they kept the news under their bonnets," she speculated, "because it was unusual for women in that day to have intellectual pursuits." She then presented a certificate of appreciation to The Northville Record for its present-day coverage of club programs.

Fashions from Fashion Cents in Farmington were modeled by members with commentary being given by shop manager Rachel Oliver, a former Northville resident. Margie Davis, program chairman, and Alice Chamberlain of her committee were in charge of arrangements.

An economist, Leon W. Pratnicki, will be speaking on "Decision Making in a Disintegrating Social Order" at the club's next meeting at 1:30 p.m. October 15 at First Presbyterian Church.

The speaker holds degrees in business administration, economics and sociology from the University of Detroit. For the last 15 years he has taught university-level classes, specializing in management and marketing. He is on the faculty of the Air Force University, Central Michigan University and Madonna College. He currently is on the lecture circuit and addresses groups from the United States Office of Personnel Management, University of Michigan as well as corporate staffs.

Meadowbrook, Highland Lakes style shows coming

By JEAN DAY

It doesn't take a flip of the calendar to October to know at it's autumn. There's a plethora of fashion news as local organizations schedule fall style shows.

Tomorrow members of Meadowbrook Country Club will be parading down the runway in fashions from Dittich Furs and Designs on You. The show will be preceded by cocktails and luncheon, chairman Virginia Schueler reports.

Northville members modeling include Jean Meeker, Gene Liberi, Marlene Bond, Jerry Costella, Marian Kehrl and Peggy Davis. They will be joined by Carolyn Lane, wife of sportscaster Ray Lane, of Orchard Lake. Working on arrangements are Adele Behren and Lyn Still of Northville.

The annual dessert fashion show of Highland Lakes Women's Club already is a sellout — and it's still two weeks away. It will be held at 1 p.m. October 21 in the clubhouse.

Fashions from Highland Lakes' resident Jean Vanham's shops and from New Gal in Town will be modeled.

Mothers' Club Life Members plan harvest party

Life Members Group of Northville Mothers' Club will be baking, stitching, canning and growing for their annual fall scholarship project. It's called a harvest gathering with members' donations to be sold to raise funds for the scholarships presented each spring to graduating seniors at Northville High School.

Gwen Marburger is opening her home for the semi-annual meeting at 8 p.m. October 18. Members are invited to bring guests.

Reunion responses bring news of former residents

When Hazel Kunz discovered that the Stanley Dahlagers were flying in for the Northville High School Class of 1952 reunion Saturday, October 23, at the Plymouth Hilton Inn, she immediately made plans for an open house the night before at her home. It's a separate celebration because she and Mrs. Dahlager (the former Janet Spiers) were members of the Class of 1951 and are getting together with classmates.

In her reunion response from Noblesville, Indiana, Helen Bowser reported that her father Merritt Meaker is seriously ill. His daughter added that cards or notes from Northville friends would be very much appreciated now by the retired long-time Northville teacher. His address is room 412-B, Riverview Hospital, Noblesville, Indiana, 46034.

Former supervisor's moving to Texas

Former Northville Township Supervisor George L. Clark and his wife Wilma were preparing to take off for Harlingen, Texas, last week. They have been Northville residents since 1945, living on West Main until they moved to an apartment.

After operating a hardware business here, George Clark had a real estate office for several years. An active Rotarian, he also was a strong supporter of Schoolcraft College.

Celeste Holm opens Town Hall's season

Oscar-winning actress Celeste Holm will open Northville Town Hall's 22nd season October 14 at the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

Known as an inexhaustible performer, she has won countless professional awards and has been honored by some 26 organizations including the March of Dimes, the United Jewish Appeal, the National Association for Mental Health and many others.

The daughter of a portrait painter and an insurance executive, Celeste Holm came to the theater via a Paris boarding school education and a drama education at Chicago University.

She made her stage debut in the Theatre Guild production of William Saroyan's "The Time of Your Life". Her part was small, but her creation of "Mary L" brought her to the attention of theater critics and the play won the Critic's Award and the Pulitzer Prize.

Following her debut, she appeared in five resounding flops, including "Return of the Vagabond" for which she was selected by George M. Cohan as his ingenue.

CELESTE HOLM

Transport Service. In the course of her varied career, Miss Holm has played in major supper clubs and hotels around the country. While appearing in Las Vegas, she received a call from Richard Rodgers asking her to step in for the ailing Gertrude Lawrence in the role of Anna in "The King and I". She was widely acclaimed for her version of the challenging role.

Both Celeste and her husband, Wesley Addy, are enthusiastic about the development and the growth of the Regional Theaters. In 1966, they broke all boxoffice records at the Ivanhoe Theater in Chicago in "Not Even in Spring". Later, in the first production of the 50th Anniversary of the Pasadena Playhouse, Miss Holm's Lady Cicely in "Captain Brassbound's Conversion" resulted in her being selected for the national tour of the phenomenally successful musical "Mame". She received the coveted Sarah Siddons Award for best performer and performance of the year.

She has appeared in several major television shows — both dramatic and musical. Noteworthy are her original portrayal of the Fairy Godmother in "Rodger and Hammerstein's 'Cinderella'", her reading of Phyllis McGleney's poems on New York's Channel 13 and her performance as Mrs. Warren G. Harding on the NBC Special "Backstairs at the White House" for which she received an Emmy Award nomination.

On May 13, 1979, she opened in the Broadway musical, "The Utter Glory of Morrissey Hall" and on May 17, 1979, was knighted by the King of Norway.

Between movie and theater appearances, Miss Holm continues to enchant American audiences with a theater-in-concert-program that explores the relationship between men and women from the points of view of 22 different writers. "Interplay — An Evening of Theater in Concert" also has been presented as part of the U.S. Cultural Presentations Program under the auspices of the State Department.

Her repertoire of lectures and concerts has now expanded to include six different programs. One of these, "A Very Personal Tribute to Oklahoma" was recorded in Midland during her performances last summer with the Northwood Symphonette, which has just been released. She recently has introduced a new character on Archie Bunker's Place and now is in rehearsal for a new play.

Celeste Holm is heralded for her continuing commitment to community and public affairs. She is vice president of the New York Arts and Business Center and was elected a permanent board member for the National Mental Health Association.

Celeste Holm is a native New Yorker who never left. She is deeply concerned with revitalizing New York City, particularly her playground — the Times Square area.

He's speaker for WISER

Attorney Barry LaKritz will offer advice to widowed persons about estates, insurances, contractual obligations and other matters at the October 12 meeting of WISER — Widowed in Service — at Schoolcraft College.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. in Room B200 of the Liberal Arts Building on the Schoolcraft campus.

Glass shown at museum

The Depression Glass Society of the Greater Metropolitan Area will be exhibiting Depression Glass at the Plymouth Historical Museum until November 15.

Included in the exhibit is the Decagon pattern — given for wedding gifts, etc. during the Depression by those who still could afford "nicer" glass.

On the lower level is an exhibit of glass made by the Akro Agate Company. Originally this company made marbles, but went into producing dishes, lamps, powder boxes, children's dishes, etc.

The Plymouth Historical Museum is open from 1-4 p.m. Thursday, Saturday and Sunday. Admission is $1 for adults, 50-cents for youths 11-17 and 25-cents for children 5-11.

When the play, "The Damask Cheek," in which she was appearing closed, Celeste auditioned for Richard Rodgers' musical version of "Green Grow the Lilacs". She got the part and the show opened on Broadway as "Oklahoma". Celeste Holm's now legendary portrayal of the lusty Ado Annie put a star on her dressing room door.

Darryl Zanuck signed Miss Holm to a 20th Century Fox contract and she appeared in many important films, including "Come to the Stable" and "All About Eve" for which she won Academy Award nominations. She won an Oscar for her outstanding performance in "Gentlemen's Agreement."

Between film appearances Miss Holm toured extensively, entertaining the G.I.'s via USO and the Military Air

It just means that if you have personal possessions, lost or stolen, we'll pay you the replacement cost (up to 400% of its actual cash value) not just the original cost. And with inflation, that can add up to a big difference.

It's another reason why there's a big difference between Auto-Owners and some other insurance companies.

Dovey-Herald vows recited

Kathleen Marie Herald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Herald of Northville, exchanged marriage vows with Michael John Dovey in a Nuptial Mass September 3 at the Shrine of the Little Flower in Royal Oak.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dovey of Franklin.

The double ring ceremony was officiated by Father Edward Prus.

Escorted down the aisle by her parents, the bride wore an ivory gown of taffeta and chiffon, banded with inserts of re-embroidered Alencon lace. Her chapel-length veil was held by a wreath of tiny silk flowers which matched her bridal bouquet of peach and ivory silk flowers.

The bride's sister Peggy served as maid of honor and her sister Lynn was bridesmaid. The attendants wore antique beige chiffon and taffeta gowns with lace bodices. Their silk flowers were in deep shades of peach.

Dennis Dovey was his brother's best man. Jerry Bommarito and Roy Spates were ushers.

A buffet reception in Southfield followed the ceremony with 175 guests attending. Guests applauded the bride party as it was piped into Behnan Hall by Irish piper Joe Patterson.

The couple is residing in Southfield following a honeymoon to Canada.
