City council taps Detroit firm for attorney

By JEANDAY

James R. Kohl, 38, a Northville resident, and the legal firm of Plunkett, Cooney, Rutt, Watters, Stanczyk and Pedersen with which he is affiliated will become legal counsel for the City of Northville by unanimous action of city council Monday night.

The unanimous choice, however, came after defeat of an earlier motion to select a Livonia firm represented by Christopher Johnson, also a Northville resident and a current member of the board of education.

Selection of the 82-member Detroit firm was made after council members heard presentations from the two other finalists for the post that has been vacant since August 10 when Philip Ogilvie completed his service with the city.

Council member J. Burton DeRusha and Mayor Paul Vernon, who earlier had interviewed six candidate firms to narrow the selection to the three finalists, emphasized repeatedly that "the city would be well-served by any of the three."

An hour was scheduled for each firm's presentations Monday night; afterward, council members Carolann

Ayers, G. Dewey Gardner and Paul Folino stated they agreed that all seemed exceptionally qualified.

A Northville resident since 1974, Kohl and his family live at 1034 Springfield Drive. His selection was made contingent on City Manager Steven Walters and Police Chief Rodney Cannon being able to "resolve the distance" between Kohl's Detroit office and police headquarters in preparation of police and 35th District court legal work.

When this is done, the council officially will enter into agreement with the firm.

Close contender for the post was the Livonia firm of Cummings, McClorey, Davis and Acho which would have been represented by Johnson, a Northville resident at 312 West Main.

It was Johnson's association with the board of education that caused Ayers and Gardner to have concerns about his being able to vote on school-city related matters.

"We would be losing both ways," Ayers said, explaining she as a council member would not feel he could advise the city on school matters and that as a taxpayer she would not feel he could vote on the board of education in city-school issues. She cited the tentatively upcoming matter of a summer school tax collection as an example of possible conflict of interest. She added she would not feel right in asking him to resign his board post, as he indicated he would if council requested.

Gardner also emphasized he felt Johnson's contributions on the board have been too valuable to lose.

It was this concern, stated by both, that caused the initial motion of DeRusha, seconded by Folino, to appoint Johnson's firm to be defeated by a three-two vote.

Vernon voted against the motion with

Gardner and Ayers, stating he felt Kohl's firm had to be his first choice for the expertise it offered.

Ayers then made the motion to appoint Plunkett, Cooney, Rutt, Watters, Stanczyk and Pedersen, which was seconded by Gardner and passed unanimously.

All three firms received high ratings in different areas from council members. Also considered was Sempliner, Thomas, Tiplady and Boak of Plymouth. John Thomas, one of the four partners, made the council presen-

Bell proposes new plan for schools

By MICHELE McELMURRY

Renovation of Northville High School, realignment of the present grade structure and future facility use for the institution Special Education Program are the primary components of a long-range plan proposed for the Northville School District by School Superintendent George Bell last Tuesday evening.

The superintendent outlined his proposed plan to approximately 125 residents, staff members and ISEP parents attending the open meeting at Northville High School. His proposal will be brought to the Northville Board of Education October 25 for its approval.

Bell's proposal complies with a charge set forth earlier this year by the board of education. The board requested in April that the school administration formulate a "long range facility use plan by October 1982 which would include ... a recommendation grade level realignment, identification of a building or buildings for closure and a definition of the impact of increased use of district facilities by the ISE Program."

The board's recommendation was made in response to a Citizen's Advisory Committee report directing the administration to identify an elementary school for closing and study a restructuring of the present grade level to help offset the district's declining enrollment.

In presenting his outline last Tuesday, Bell said he felt the October deadline established by the board of education was "a tough one to follow" especially in light of his recent arrival in the district. Bell has been Northville's superintendent about 13 weeks.

'Instead of closing schools, we should be opening schools to part of the community which presently isn't being serviced by them.'

George Bell,
School Superintendent

However, he pointed out that "it is clear a long-range plan is long overdue for this district."

"As I go through the Northville Public Schools' archives, I see the board constantly criticized for not having a long-range plan."

"The proposal presented here tonight may give us something to begin with."

Unlike earlier proposals which included plans to close down one of the district's seven schools or incorporate the Institution Special Education Program into the four elementary schools, Bell's long-range plan entails a further expansion of the Community Education Program, retention of all facilities, both K-12 and ISEP, implementation of a middle school grade structure and a renovation of Northville High School — which would necessitate the approval of a bond issue.

In prefacing his remarks, Bell emphasized the schools' responsibility to the community and the necessity to keep pace with future educational trends.

"If we are to believe the futurists," he explained, "then we must realize our society is going through the 'third wave.'"

"We are moving from an industrial society to an information society," he noted. "Within the next 10 years, we'll be retraining our work force from an industrial society to an information society."

"I firmly believe public schools will be the center of that retraining operation."

Noting the increased number of women returning to the work force, and in particular, Northville's substantial senior citizen population, Bell stressed the need for an expanded community education program.

"Instead of closing schools," he said, "we should be opening schools to part of the community which presently isn't being serviced by them."

He noted that the expansion of the "neighborhood school concept" would

Proposals crowd November ballot

There are seven proposals facing Michigan voters in the November 2 election.

Three deal with utility rates and the public service commission. One is a proposed constitutional amendment to guarantee minimum staffing of the state police department, another would allow the legislature to restrict its own constitutionally-granted privileges, and still another would ban enforcement of "due on sale clauses" in home mortgages.

Michigan is also one of eight states and several local governments conducting a referendum on the nuclear weapons freeze proposal.

Sliger/Livingston reporters have prepared stories regarding the campaigns on each of the seven issues which will be presented in The Record in two parts. Today, proposals A, B and C are examined.

Next week, the remaining proposals will be outlined.

PROPOSAL A

After losing a ballot proposal two years ago to restrict legislative immunities, supporters will try again this November.

Proposal A, as it is known this year, would allow state legislators to reform their existing constitutional exemption from civil arrest and civil process during legislative sessions.

Legislators who backed restricting legislative immunity two years ago—known then as Proposal G—said attention was drawn to the civil protection enjoyed by lawmakers after some of the state's traffic laws were changed from criminal to civil infractions to free up district court dockets.

Unforeseen was the possibility that legislators could invoke their civil immunity for those offenses as well as others, such as the decriminalization of possession of small amounts of marijuana in some cities.

The proposal to restrict legislative immunity that was on the November 1980 ballot did not get much publicity at the time as three controversial tax-cut and tax-shift proposals dominated public debate.

Voters also seemed confused by the ballot wording, said Fred Anderson, an aide to State Senate Majority Leader William Faust, Democrat-Westland.

"I think a lot of voters perceived it was giving immunities that don't exist now," Anderson said. "The purpose is to allow legislators to restrict them."

He said supporters of the proposal are hoping to raise enough money to buy a couple of advertisements to explain the issue, which was passed by state legislators with "no real opposition."

"We're just hoping to do a good job of educating the voter," he said.

Norman Witt with the sawmill he renovated from a 'pile of junk'

Witt sets sawmill buzzing again

By KEVIN WILSON

Keeping busy has never been a problem for Ford Valve Plant retiree Norman Witt.

In fact, Witt has been a veritable buzzsaw of activity lately, restoring an old portable sawmill to like-new condition in his backyard at 236 South Center.

The saw, of uncertain vintage but from a design patented in 1892, was carefully reconstructed from a "pile of junk" Witt's son Fred bought from a Bad Axe man and brought south for his father.

"It took about 14 months," Witt relates, standing beside the results last Friday, only hours after a test run had impressed both him and Fred with the machine's efficiency.

"It was a mess," he says, sweeping his arm to show the length of the more than 20-feet of wood and metal parts, the latter gleaming in fresh fire-engine red paint under a bright mid-day sun. "I had to scrape it all down, it was all rusted, and paint it."

Actually, there was a bit more to the restoration than Witt lets on at first, but Fred remembers well the day he brought the sawmill home to serve as his father's next backyard project.

"It looked like an archeological find," Fred explains. "It had been sitting out in an open field for who knows how long — years and years. It was all coated with dirt and rust — it was really a mess."

But Fred well knew his father's propensity for mechanical magic. The South Center garage is occupied by an earlier "project" — a 1935 International Harvester FarmAll tractor that looks, save for the lack of a tire, as though it just rolled out of the factory doors.

"I thought certain the tractor would keep him busy for a year," Fred laughs. "Two months later, there it was, just as you see it."

The garage walls are lined with tools, and the Witts busy themselves hoisting an automobile engine into a trailer to be towed away. They work quickly together, a few words being all they need to move from one task to another, each man aware of what the other is about to do.

Student enrollment drops for 1982-83 school year

Northville Public Schools student enrollment once again has dropped about four percent with an estimated 114 fewer students attending classes this fall.

Fourth Friday enrollment figures show 3,421 students enrolled in this year's K-12 program in comparison to last year's 3,535 students.

According to Assistant Superintendent Burton Knighton, enrollment figures still are being audited and may change slightly later in the year. However, the traditional Fourth Friday student count gives the school district its best indication of how many students are enrolled in the system.

The largest decline in student enrollment occurred at the elementary level with 88 fewer K-6 graders enrolled in this year's program.

With 44 fewer students, Amerman Elementary School experienced the largest enrollment decrease. Amerman's enrollment dropped from 406 students in the 1981-82 school year to this fall's 362.

Moraine Elementary School lost 25 students from last year's 368 enrollment and Winchester Elementary School is 13 students shy of its 1981-82 enrollment of 491.

Silver Springs Elementary School's enrollment has dropped by only six students this year in comparison to last. However, with 310 students, it has the lowest enrollment of all four elementary schools.

Of the two junior high schools, Cooke has shown the largest enrollment decrease with 32 fewer students than last year. However, Fourth Friday figures show a decline of only two students at Meads Mill.

Combined junior high enrollment is 921 in comparison to last year's 955.

The high school is the only grade level to have shown an increase. This year's 1,007 10th through 12th graders is an increase of eight students over last year's count.

Student enrollment in Northville Public Schools has decreased by about four percent for the past six years. The largest decline has been at the elementary level with fewer students entering kindergarten than graduating from high school.

DeHoCo land transfer awaits voter approval

Michigan Governor William G. Milliken has signed a capital outlays bill that includes the proposed $1 sale of 39 acres of surplus former Detroit House of Corrections land to the township for recreation use.

The land transfer now must await approval of local voters for the expenditure of the one dollar. Under state law, general law townships such as Northville are prohibited from acquiring land without a vote of the electorate.

Senator Robert Geake (R-Northville) who has been a supporter of the land transfer in Lansing, linked proposal's merits to the high proportion of township land (roughly one-third) occupied by state and other public properties.

"The residents of Northville and Northville Township have aided the state of Michigan a great deal by accepting mental health and correctional facilities in their area," he said. "This cooperative spirit should be a two-way street, and I'm pleased that my legislative colleagues and the governor agree with me."

Geake called the approval of first the legislature, then the governor, the "major governmental hurdle" in transferring the land and urged township voters to approve the purchase when it appears on a future ballot.

A rumored election regarding changes in the Wayne County Road Commission next spring could provide the earliest opportunity to "piggyback" the issue on another election. Clerk Susan Heintz related that a special election just for the land transfer is not in the cards, since even such a one-issue election would cost roughly $4,000 to $5,000 to conduct.

Supporters of the transfer were relatively certain the governor would approve it, but were aware of his authority to delete items from the capital outlay bill. He did, in fact, eliminate four such line items approved by the legislature but the local transfer remained in the bill as signed.

The township earlier allocated $9,000 of federal community development block grant funds to a study for a recreational park on the land. The 39 acres is the northernmost portion of the former DeHoCo property owned by the state. The southern portion is occupied at present by Phoenix Correctional Facility and is the future site of a new, as yet unnamed, regional prison.

Local Kiwanis, Lions and Jaycees chapters are helping solidify plans for proposed multi-purpose fields to be used for soccer and baseball diamonds, Geake said.

Preliminary plans also call for a community building to house rest rooms and other support facilities.

Geake noted that the agreement with the state includes a reverter clause authorizing use of the land solely for recreation purposes. "However, it is within the realm of possibility that further negotiations may permit the township to establish a second fire station to serve the western portion of the community. We will examine this possibility further."

A second fire station is one of the proposed uses of the land contained in a master plan prepared for the joint community recreation department in 1980. The possibility of obtaining the property from the state has been known since that time.

After planning for the new regional prison showed that the northern sector would not be needed by the corrections department, the property was released to the state and its availability was made known to all other state departments and agencies.

None of those agencies claimed the land or proposed a use for the property, clearing the way for the legislative action allowing the land transfer.

Harden granted conditional approval

William Harden received unanimous conditional approval to change a house at 416 South Main into an engineering office from city planning commissioners at their meeting last week Tuesday.

The planners conditionally approved the site, landscape and change of use plans submitted by Harden, pending revisions in the parking, handicap ramp, lighting, curbing around the chimney, building entrance at the back of the building and a dedication of the north side easement.

Commissioner Jay Wendt explained the concerns found by the site plan review committee before approval was given. One of the major concerns, he said, was that the house maintains its natural surroundings and not look like an office.

As for the handicap ramp, he said it should be brought back behind the house, instead of being located at the front as the plans showed. There also should be another entrance/exit door behind the house, Wendt said.

The parking would be enhanced if the garage would be torn down, Wendt said, to make it easier for persons parking in the western side of the lot to exit and for snow removal in the winter.

There were a number of concerns about the driveway, one of which was that the chimney extended about a foot into the drive. Commissioner Stewart Kissinger suggested curbing be put around the chimney to prevent cars from hitting it. Harden was agreeable.

Since the driveway does not meet the 20-foot ordinance code, Wendt said, "I think (Planning Consultant) Ron (Nino) had a good idea to have the house at 410 (South Main), when it goes to Professional Office, bring its driveway over to join (Harden's), to eventually meet code."

"I will make the necessary changes to conform with code," Harden said. "I will even go double on the driveway."

Harden explained since he eventually intends to expand the home, he will tear the garage down within the next few weeks to help solve the parking problems.

Wendt and Kissinger also had concerns about a row of hedges along the drive which lead to the street. The hedges extend into the drive, they said, and also hinder a driver's view of the oncoming traffic and pedestrians.

They asked Harden if the bushes could be trimmed and cut back 10-feet from the sidewalk; however, Harden noted the bushes are on the adjoining property and he would have to ask permission to cut the hedge.

Commissioner James Cutler expressed his doubts the joining of two properties would enhance the residential surroundings. Nino, who again proposed the commission make some kind of master plan in this area for future use, did not agree.

Cutler believed by requiring properties to join driveways in professional business office zoned area, the commission was making law. Again, Nino disagreed, and the discussion closed when chairperson Lesa Buckland said, "We all have different viewpoints."

The commission again tabled action on site, landscape and architectural plans for Seaman's Body Shop, 114 High Street, since it did not meet commission requirements.

Owner George Miller has to build a spray booth to meet fire code requirements. Miller also went before the Zoning Board of Appeals to get rear and side yard setback variances for the addition of the spray.

Kissinger suggested to Miller, since he needed to provide a 10-foot greenbelt as required by the ordinance, that he do something to tie in the with Mainstreet '78 theme. The commission also pointed out other items Miller needed to address on the plans before approval would be given.

NEWS BRIEFS

HALLOWEEN will be celebrated in the city Sunday, October 31, with trick-or-treat hours from 5-7 p.m. The time officially was set by city council last week. The city fire department will have an open house program for youngsters afterward. Northville/Plymouth Jaycees will operate a Haunted House October 21-31 at the Old Wayne County Training Center school on Sheldon Road between Five and Six Mile. Hours are 7:30-10:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 7:30-11:30 p.m. Friday through Sunday.

HOMECOMING will be celebrated with a parade beginning at 6 p.m. Friday in the recreation department parking lot at the Community building. The parade will travel east on Main to Sheldon to Eight Mile and the football field. The Northville High School marching band will escort the floats and cars containing the members of the homecoming court, city council was informed Monday as parade permission was given.

COOKE Junior High School's Second Annual High School Homecoming Dinner will be held this Friday at the school. Dinners will be served between 5:30-7:30 p.m. Spaghetti, salad, bread and butter, dessert and beverage will be on the menu. Cost is $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for students. Tickets may be purchased at the door or from chairpersons Janyne Hillinger at 349-6408 and Liz Brining at 348-1094.

A CANDY SALE to raise funds to help needy families at Thanksgiving and Christmas will be held by the Northville City Fire Department Ladies Auxiliary from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. this Saturday in the Town Square park on Main Street by the clock.

EIGHT THOUSAND tulip bulbs arrived here Monday and will be planted by volunteers from local clubs, reports G. Dewey Gardner of the Northville Beautification Commission which purchases the city plantings. This will make a total of more than 20,000 tulip bulbs planted in city flower beds, he adds.

TOWNSHIP BOARD of trustees meets in regular monthly session at 8 p.m. Thursday in township hall. Agenda items include proposed joint ambulance service with the city, Park Gardens sewer resolution of intent and complaints regarding uncompleted homesites. Public hearings precede the meeting at 7 p.m. and 7:50 p.m.

ALBION COLLEGE Choir will be making its first appearance in the new sanctuary of First United Methodist Church, Eight Mile at Taft, in a free concert at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. The public is welcome.

First stage 'Super Sewer' plan nearly finished

First stage planning for the Huron Valley Wastewater Disposal System is nearing completion in this, the north service area of the project.

Selection of the best alternative to provide for sewage disposal for this area under the so-called "super sewer" project has been selected and will be presented twice in the coming week.

Wayne County Board of Public Works officials are calling the selection a "major decision-point" in the federal and state studies of wastewater service needs in the townships of Northville, Novi, Commerce, Plymouth and White Lake and the cities of Northville, Plymouth, Novi, Walled Lake and Wixom.

Citizens Advisory Committee members will review the plans this morning, Wednesday October 13, in Northville Township Hall at 10:30 a.m. A public hearing for the submittal of public comment for the record is slated at 7 p.m. next Tuesday, October 19 in the Northville High School cafeteria.

The hearing will begin with a presentation of the selected treatment method — which involves both on-site (septic tanks or package wastewater treatment) and a regional treatment plant — conducted by Wayne BPW personnel and consultants.

In between, the Northville Township Board of Trustees will discuss the issue and its local impact in a public hearing beginning at 7:50 p.m., Thursday, October 14. Action regarding the proposal is expected during the board's regular monthly meeting, immediately after the hearing.

Documents detailing the projected plan for installation and renovation of sewers in this region — which includes Plymouth Township, Northville Township, Novi, Commerce, and Wixom — are on file in area libraries.

Communities not presently participating in the plan but likely to be affected by the determinations include the cities of Northville, Plymouth and Walled Lake and Wolverine Lake Village.

The selected plan would involve construction of new sewer interceptors routed to a new sewage treatment plant in downriver Brownstown Township. At present, those areas within the region presently served by sewers are participants in Wayne County's Rouge Valley system, which employs a treatment plant in Detroit.

Novi and Walled Lake also have local treatment facilities, which the new plan proposes to shut down.

The participating communities will have to agree to a cost-sharing plan for the local portion of construction costs, while state and federal dollars are expected to cover a majority of the costs.

Action on the sewer planning had been stalled for months while awaiting federal and state grants delayed by recent budgetary changes at both levels.

The southern portion of the Huron Valley system, from Canton south and east to Brownstown is one step ahead of the north service area.

Construction of the new treatment plant, designed to provide secondary treatment to an eventual capacity of 49 million gallons per day, is expected to begin in the near future. The plant is to be located at the mouth of the Huron River.

Absentee ballots prepared

Requests for absentee ballots for the November 2 election are being processed in city and township hall.

Ballots were received last week and workers were sending them to those voters who have already applied.

Deadline to vote by mail is Saturday, October 30 at 2 p.m. and clerk's offices will be open that day.

Emergency procedures are also available to those who discover the necessity to file an absentee vote after the deadline but such ballots must be returned to the clerk's office in person, not by mail.

Township clerk Susan Heintz reports a total registered voter count of 8,563. She said she is "positive" of that total, as it was recently updated by the removal of nonvalid registrations.

First class mailing of updated registration cards allowed a reduction from the August total of more than 10,000. Return of such cards because voters had moved or died meets legal requirements for removal of the person's name from the registration lists.

Heintz said in August she was "uneasy" about the higher counts.

The township customarily has a higher percentage of absentee voters than is usual for this area and Heintz said more than 500 applications for absent voting had already been filed by Tuesday.

Election preparation, she noted, includes training of poll workers and testing of the township's punchcard machines, ballot boxes and the calculators that total the votes. Heintz was also trying to keep an eye on political signs to insure they meet legal restrictions.

Deputy Clerk Georgina Goss noted that the township's new computer system now includes the full voter registration list, which should speed election preparation in the future. At present, however, the old system is still being used.

Bray, Groves to perform in Theatre Guild play

Northville residents Patricia Bray and Karen Groves are among the cast members in the upcoming Plymouth Theatre Guild production of "Dirty Work at the Crossroads."

The production, which opens the Guild's 1982-83 season, will be performed at 8 p.m. this Friday and Saturday and October 22 and 23 at Central Middle School in Plymouth.

Tickets are available at the Plymouth Cultural Center or by calling Ann Schaffer at 453-7505.

Among the cast and crew of "Dirty Work at the Crossroads" are co-directors Chuck Miller and Bray.

Chuck Miller began his acting career at Ann Arbor Pioneer High School and continued through Baldwin Wallace College in Berea, Ohio, where he was assistant student director of "Tall Story" and "The Andersonville Trials." He joined PTG in 1977 and has continued to be active in shows such as "Love Rides the Rails," "Sunshine Boys," "Night of January 16th" and "Chapter Two." He also was set construction chairman for "Godspell."

He extended his acting experience with Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild in "Habeas Corpus," "Dirty Linen" and "Everything in the Garden" and with the Farmington Players in "South Pacific."

Patricia Bray is in her eighth season with PTG and has served on many boards for the group as well as its president for two years.

In addition, she has directed "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," "Play it Again, Sam" and "Gentleman and Scoundrel" for the Mayflower Dinner Theatre. She has acted in "Mary, Mary," "Love Rides the Rails," "Hello Out There" and last year's "Harvey."

In addition to co-directing "Dirty Works at the Crossroads," she also will play the role of Ida Rhinegold.

Assistant Director for the production is Lisa Risko, who also will portray Widow Lovelace.

Her backstage efforts include "Barefoot in the Park," "The King and I," "Pale Pink Dragon" and "Wait Until Dark."

Playing the role of Munro Murgatroyd in the production is Bob Gregory. A graduate of Eastern Michigan University — where he received a bachelor's degree in theatre — he currently is drama director and teacher at Clarenceville High School.

Gregory has spent five summers at Cranbrook and one season with Greenfield Village in theatre. He also is the director of "Gregory's Performers" (his own drama studio), technical supervisor of the Allen Park Civic Auditorium, staff instructor in the theatre department of Schoolcraft College and is a free lance stage manager.

Northville resident Karen Groves, who will play the role of Nellie Lovelace, has been involved with the past three productions of PTG — "Love Rides the Rails," "Godspell" and "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown."

She has been a past board member of PTG and served as ticket chairman for several plays. She presently belongs to a show choir called Renaissance and also is taking voice and jazz lessons. She has been singing on stage since the age of 10 and has sung in several local choirs including Canton Singers, Suburban Chorale and the Schoolcraft Community Choir.

Making his first appearance with PTG, Ken Swiantek will play Adam Oahkart in the season opener.

Gerard L'Heureux, a 1979 Livonia Churchill High School graduate, will play the role of Mookie Muggings.

Other cast and crew members for "Dirty Work at the Crossroads" include Ann Schaffer as stage manager, Donna Case as Mrs. Upson Asterbilt, Mary Schwalm as Leonie, Adrienne Greer as Fleurette, Tani Secunda as Little Nell, Donna Belzer on costumes and Dennis Schlicker on set construction.

College Night at Schoolcraft

Northville High School students and other local senior high students and their parents will have an opportunity to get first hand information from representatives of nearly 50 colleges at the College Night to be held at Schoolcraft College next Tuesday, October 19.

In addition to public and private Michigan colleges and universities, representatives of the service academies and several out-of-state schools will be present.

Participants should arrive on campus by 7 p.m. to learn about room assignments and locations. Parking will be available in both general lots and guides will be on duty at each building to provide directions.

Three, 35-minute sessions will be conducted during the evening and are scheduled at 7:20, 8:05 and 8:50 p.m. This will enable students to learn about more than one college.

In addition, there will be three sessions devoted to information about financial aid — who qualifies, how to apply and what is available.

Schoolcraft College has canceled all campus classes after 5 p.m. for that evening. Classes which meet in Garden City and Plymouth will be held as scheduled.

The College Night program is chaired by John Tomey, Schoolcraft's director of admissions and financial aids, in cooperation with high school counselors.

For further information, students should consult their high school counselor.

School Board appoints three to tax study committee

Northville Board of Education unanimously approved the appointment of board vice president Karen Wilkinson and treasurer Jean Hansen to a summer school tax collection study committee. Superintendent George Bell also will serve on the summer tax collection committee.

The school board representatives will join both city and township officials on the joint committee for summer tax collection study.

Both city and township appointed three members to the committee. Representing the township are Treasurer Richard Henningsen, Business Manager David Lelko and Trustee C. James Armstrong.

City representatives include J. Burton DeRusha, Carolann Ayers and City Manager Steve Walters.

Bell approached both the city and township earlier about collecting property taxes in summer rather than winter to save interest costs resulting from school system borrowing.

Police Blotter

Arrest warrant sought for man unlawfully firing gun

In the township...

Township police are seeking a warrant for the arrest of a Richards Court resident suspected of unlawfully firing a handgun repeatedly the evening of October 3.

Called to the scene about 7:45 p.m. by neighbors who had seen and heard the man firing a handgun inside his home and out the front door, police (assisted by city and state police) surrounded the residence before telephoning the man. He left his home and was taken into custody without incident, telling police the .22 caliber handgun could be found under his pillow.

The man, a prison guard at Phoenix Correctional Facility, told police he had "had trouble with the gun" and "test-fired" approximately six rounds out the front door, aiming into the ground in a field to the north.

Police also found 10 spent rounds in a garbage can in the basement of the residence. Several neighbors told police they had heard shots inside the home, and at least one said he saw the man firing the pistol out the front door.

According to police reports, the suspect had been drinking at the time of the incident. After processing the arrest papers and taking the man's statement and confiscating the gun and ammunition, police returned the man to his home pending issuance of a warrant.

Township police were told by a Phoenix lieutenant that the man's job as a guard sometimes entailed issuance of a state weapon, but that he does not have a permanent weapon, nor was he authorized to have one.

Arson destroyed a stolen car in the parking lot of Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital late October 4. Hospital security guards told police the vehicle had been on hospital grounds for more than one year.

The 1972 Ford, valued at $500, was at one time worked on by hospital patients in the auto shop, the guard told police.

The vehicle was last seen in good condition at 9 p.m., hospital security forces said, and was discovered with the interior and engine compartment engulfed in flames at 11:55 p.m. The guard who first saw the fire told police the passenger side door of the car was open.

Fire chief Robert Toms said the case was classified as an arson because "stolen cars don't often sit around for six months and then burst into flames." He noted that such fires are sometimes caused by a careless smoker leaving hot ash on a seat which "smolders for five or six hours, then the whole car is involved."

After township firefighters extinguished the blaze, a police check on the vehicle identification number revealed it had been reported stolen in Detroit and that department asked that police impound the vehicle.

Three persons suffered serious injuries in a two-car accident at Eight Mile and Silver Springs at 2:25 a.m. October 9, when one car was hit in the rear by another while attempting to slow for a "fender bender" accident at the same corner.

Christina Davis, 29, of Woodbine in Detroit was issued a citation for failure to stop within the assured clear distance ahead. She and her nine-year-old daughter/passenger Alanna Kristina Davis suffered severe injuries and were transported to Providence Hospital by Novi Ambulance.

Also injured was the driver of the vehicle Davis' car hit — Ronald B. Johnson, 26, of Southfield. Johnson told police he was eastbound on Eight Mile approaching Silver Springs when two men flagged him down to warn him of another accident at the intersection.

There were no injuries in the earlier incident.

As he slowed, both Johnson and witnesses told police, Davis' car struck his in the rear end. Davis told police she noted the green light for Eight Mile Road traffic but when she noticed the brake lights on on Johnson's car she was unable to stop.

Johnson's injuries were also judged severe and he, too, was transported to Providence Hospital via Novi Ambulance.

Marian Jane Harper, of Marilyn Avenue, suffered severe injuries in a two-car accident at Haggerty and Five Mile October 5. The driver of the other car suffered moderate injury.

Harper told police she was northbound on Haggerty Road, having cleared the intersection at Five Mile, and signalled and stopped to make a left turn into the driveway of the Michigan National Bank branch at the corner.

Her car was struck in the rear by a vehicle driven by 18-year-old William Troy Moore of Evergreen in Plymouth.

Moore, who was ticketed for failure to stop within the assured clear distance ahead, told police he was driving at 40 miles per hour and was unable to see Harper's brake lights or turn signal due to glare from the sun. He said when he realized the car ahead was stopped, he hit the brakes, but it was too late to stop his car.

Wayne T. Coyle, 39, of Novi was cited for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of intoxicants at the scene of an accident and also charged with assault and battery on a police officer October 3.

Coyle was the driver of a car that slid off the roadway on westbound Five Mile west of Bradner. He told police he was driving at 40 miles per hour when the car slid out of control. Police measured a skid of 200 feet before the vehicle struck the guard rail at a curve, then slid another 75 feet along the rail. Coyle was uninjured in the 4:24 a.m. accident.

When taken into custody for drunk driving, police reports state, Coyle resisted and was belligerent. When placed in the back of the township patrol car, the man lay on the back seat and kicked the arresting officer in the chest, the report states, relating that the driver rejected breathalyzer tests, shouting obscenities at the officer attempting to take the test. Refusal to submit to a breath test carries a mandatory suspension of the driving license.

A $300 Toro lawnmower was stolen from the garage of an Appleby residence, the owner told police.

She said she heard a noise about 9:10 a.m. December 9 and, upon looking out her window, saw a large light blue car, possibly a Pontiac, driving away with a red lawnmower in the trunk.

Upon checking her garage, the owner told police, she found the mower had been stolen.

The $300 rear window of an American Motors Pacer parked in a Ludlow Court drive was broken when unknown suspects dropped a large landscaping rock through it October 6, the owner told police.

Two golf carts were removed from the Dun Rovin golf course storage area, driven around the course, and left damaged to the tune of $125 October 2 or 3, an employee told police.

The carts were parked in a drive west of the clubhouse and both had suffered damage to the bodywork. The incident occurred sometime between 10 p.m. October 2 and 1 a.m. October 3, the employee said.

...In the city

Unknown suspects stole a 1982 Ford Escort from the McDonald Ford Farm dealership on Seven Mile between October 5-6, city police report. The car was valued at $7,000.

The complainant said the car was locked and the keys were still at the dealership at the time of the theft, the report indicated.

A $550 gold bracelet with two antique lockets was stolen from an antique shop on North Center sometime October 4, police report.

The owner said she left the bracelet on the work table while waiting on several customers. However, she noticed the bracelet missing when she finished helping the customers, police said.

Unknown suspects damaged the right front fender and door of a 1981 Oldsmobile Omega while it was parked at the Mill Race lot sometime October 2, police report. Damaged was placed at $250.

The owner said he and his wife went for a walk through the Mill Race. When they returned, he said he saw the damage which he said appeared to be done with a hammer, police said.

Three men's and one women's Lorus quartz watches, valued at $153, were stolen from a display window at one of the suite's at the Michigan Association of Gift Salesmen (MAGS) building on West Main between October 3-4, police report.

A motorcycle helmet, valued at $140, was cracked by unknown persons while it was locked to a 1971 Honda motorcycle parked at the Northville High School lot sometime October 8, police report.

Special assessment district considered for Park Gardens

Township trustees will again consider designation of a special assessment district for sewers in the Park Gardens region at the board meeting Thursday night.

In its second review of the district the board will determine whether or not to add two parcels of land fronting on Five Mile, previously deleted from the district, but plans do not include the full 20 acres of the two parcels.

Only the southernmost 273 feet of tax parcels 13L1 and 13L2 would be included in the revised plans. The portion in question, although presently occupied by a residence, is zoned for commercial use. The remainder of the parcels, from the 273 foot mark north, is zoned for residential use.

Cost estimates for the total project have been upped to $1.1 million — an increase of roughly $28,400 to accommodate the two parcels plus a required link to Tanger Elementary School immediately east of the Five Mile parcels.

Public hearing regarding the district begins at 7 p.m. Another public hearing (about an application for federal funds for the so-called super sewer) is slated at 7:50 p.m. The regular board meeting, begins at 8 p.m.

Bayerl in REFORGER program

Army Private Joseph G. Bayerl is one of more than 100,000 United States soldiers and airmen participating in the United States Army REFORGER, or return of forces to Germany, and the United States Air Force Crested Cap exercises in Europe.

United States service members in Europe, as well as those from the United States, join their NATO partners in ground exercises centering on central West Germany east of the Rhine River.

Bayerl is a military police specialist with the 209th Military Police Company at Fort George G. Meade in Maryland. He is the son of Richard J. and Mary C. Bayerl, 43646 Westridge.

Rakoczy, Klein complete training

Two Northville residents have completed training in the United States Air Force recently.

Airman Matthew A. Rakoczy has been assigned to Keesler Air Force base in Mississippi after completing United States Air Force training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

The 1980 graduate of Madison Heights Bishop Foley High School is the son of Thomas Rakoczy, 20896 West Glenhaven.

Kurt P. Klein completed an Air Force ROTC field training encampment at Dover Air Force base in Delaware.

During the encampment, cadets received survival and small arms training and aircraft and aircrew indoctrination.

The cadet, who is a student at Michigan State University, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis P. Klein, 20230 Rippling Lane.

Carolyn Kugler displays Depression Glass to Mildred Dunlop at the recent Northville Community Quilters Show

Depression Glass show slated at Schoolcraft

Northville resident Carolyn Kugler will be among those participating in the Michigan Depression Glass Society's 10th Annual All Depression Era Glass Show and Sale from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. this Friday and Saturday at Schoolcraft College.

Twenty dealers from throughout the United States will be exhibiting glass in multitudes of patterns and colors from the depression era.

American-made glassware from the early 1900s through the 1940s and early 1950s will be featured.

Special guests appearing at the show will be author Gene Florence of Lexington, Kentucky; Nora Koch, editor and publisher of the Depression Glass Daze, and Hazel Marie Weatherman, noted author on Depression Glass from Ozark, Missouri.

Glass repair will be available at this year's show by Richard Hendenbrand, and there will be the sale of Depression Glass jewelry made by Richard and Vicki Hendenbrand.

The Michigan Depression Glass Society was founded in 1972 and is devoted solely to the preservation of Depression Era Glass. Meetings are held the first Monday of each month at the Livonia Senior Citizen's Building. Guests are welcome.

Food and beverage service will be available both days of the sale under the direction of Robert Breithaupt, director of food service at Schoolcraft College, and Michael McConnell of Schoolcraft College's Culinary Arts Program.

This year's show chairman is Shirley Beyrand.

Admission to the show is $1.50 per person. For further information, contact Kathleen Fox at 533-0349 or Shirley Beyrand at 455-3286.

Hayrides available at Metropark

Here is a rundown of the events being conducted by the Nature and Farm Centers at the Kensington Metropark near Milford in the coming weeks.

Horsedrawn hayrides now are available at the Farm Center, and there are three different programs from which to choose. There are 20-minute Sunday hayrides for the general public between 11 a.m. and 4 p.m. The cost is $1 for adults and 75 cents for children.

No reservations are needed.

There are evening hayrides for groups by advanced registration Tuesday through Sunday from 6-10 p.m. Charges are $50 per hour.

There are day hayrides for groups by advanced registration Wednesdays and Thursdays from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m. Charges are 75 cents per person and generally involve school groups. Call 685-1561 about evening hayrides or 685-9105 for day hayrides.

Proposal supporters, objectors define views originally intended to protect legislators from being sued for remarks made on the House and Senate floors to ensure the most complete discussion possible, and to prevent frivolous lawsuits designed to keep a lawmaker from voting.

In the horse-and-buggy days, it was possible for someone to start a frivolous lawsuit against a legislator and force the legislator to stay home and defend himself instead of traveling to the capitol to vote on an important issue.

At the time the proposal was on the November 1980 ballot, Faust said state police had reported instances of legislators invoking their civil immunity for some civil traffic offenses.

One legislator, Faust had said, even used his civil immunity to avoid a lawsuit seeking payment for $2,000 worth of remodeling work the legislator had done on his kitchen.

Passage of a ballot proposal is needed before legislators can make the restrictions law, according to Faust, because the Constitution is being affected.

personal integrity."

That's why the troopers association collected 450,000 signatures to place the proposal on the November ballot. "It's the ultimate in democracy," Putney said.

In addition to providing for 114 more troopers—which would bring staffing levels up to those of April 1, 1980—the proposal would bring the state police director under more civilian control, Putney said.

"Right now, Hough is semi-autonomous," Putney said.

PROPOSAL C

Backers of Proposal C—the "due-on-sale" issue on the November 2 ballot—say its approval will spur home sales by allowing buyers to assume mortgages with lower-than-prevailing interest rates.

But opponents, including the state Realtors association, say Proposal C will dry up out-of-state sources for mortgage money and push up interest rates to a level that will make it virtually impossible for new buyers to afford homes.

Opponents also say Proposal C's appearance on the ballot was spearheaded by the Detroit Bond and Mortgage Corporation, a firm that stands to profit from its passage because it deals extensively with land contracts.

Proposal C would prohibit lenders from invoking "due-on-sale" clauses in mortgage contracts when homes are sold through assumptions or land contract sales.

Currently, if a homeowner who mortgaged his home at eight percent wishes to sell, his lending institution can recall the original loan and refinance at today's higher interest rates. Proposal C backers want the new buyer to be able to assume the lower rate.

"This most basic consumer right has already been taken away from us by many Michigan financial institutions who foreclose on mortgages simply to rid their mortgage loan portfolios of as many of their low-interest mortgages as they can," said Sandy Eichenhorn, treasurer of the Consumer's Committee to Protect Mortgage Rights.

"Lender abuse of the due-on-sale clause is one of the biggest reasons thousands of 'For Sale' signs are rusting on front lawns all over Michigan," Eichenhorn added.

Eichenhorn, a commercial real estate investment broker, said Proposal C was a consumer issue that offers protection for lenders. "Invoking due-on-sale at every opportunity is just immoral," he said.

Critics of Proposal C say its passage would have a devastating effect on home mortgages in Michigan.

"If it passes, chances are we will be out of the real estate business," said Walker Aaron, president of First Federal Savings of Livingston County.

Lenders say that the due-on-sale option is necessary to provide money for new home buyers. As it is, lenders are now paying more interest on savings accounts than they are receiving from older mortgages. As a result, they must prop up the interest rate for new loans.

"New borrowers are now subsidizing the old borrowers," said Aaron. "If we had had due-on-sale for the last 10 years, we could be making mortgages at (about) 13 percent."

"If we don't have due-on-sale loans, kids won't be able to afford to buy a house."

Proposal C would allow due-on-sale foreclosures only if the lender can prove the new buyer is a security risk. But even then the redemption period would be extended from six months to four years.

PROPOSAL B

Proposal B, a constitutional amendment backed by the Michigan State Police Troopers Association, would provide for the hiring of 114 new troopers if passed November 2.

The proposed amendment would:

- Change the Michigan Department of State Police from a department created by law to a department created by the constitution.

- Make the director of state police head of the department.

- Set out powers and duties of the department and its officers.

- Permit reduction of enlisted personnel below the number employed as of April 1, 1980, only in the event of and in proportion to a decrease in the state's population.

The Department of State Police and its director, Colonel Gerald L. Hough, oppose the amendment.

According to state police officials, the department opposes the amendment because it would make the department part of the state constitution and guarantee minimum levels of staffing.

Opponents ask if the state police becomes part of the state constitution, what will happen if other departments do the same?

State police officials say the guaranteed level of staffing could come at the expense of civilian support personnel.

"The director is opposed because he doesn't like a department constitutionally set up where it can't be reduced," said Captain Richard Group of the state police executive division.

No provisions for funding the minimum staffing levels are provided, Group said, and civilian support people such as secretaries, radio operators and lab technicians could be laid off to fund trooper staffing.

Richard Putney, executive director of the troopers association, said his group led the petition drive for a constitutional amendment because the cost of lobbying the legislature for political support was too high.

"We could have done like the UAW and lobbied the legislature and made a convincing case for our position," Putney said. "But then legislators come back to us when they're up for re-election and ask for money and votes from our membership."

On top of that, Putney said, legislators have asked for other favors in the past. "We call it the 'Uncle Harry' syndrome," he said. "When Uncle Harry gets a ticket, can you take care of it? It's an encroachment on our

Local members attend DAR meet

Seven members of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution attended the DAR's 82nd state conference at the Jalamazoo Center Hilton Inn September 24-26.

Attending from the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter were Mrs. Bruce

Richard, Mrs. Robert Willoughby, Mrs. Harry Deyo, Mrs. Donald Baumhart and Mrs. George Merwin. Chapter members Mrs. William Gonterman and Mrs. Thomas McDonald, in charge of state conference pages, also attended.

A highlight of the conference was a discussion entitled "Secrets of a Museum Curator" presented by Mrs. Joseph Tiberio, Curator-General of the National Society of the DAR.

Chief Justice Mary Coleman, the first woman elected to the state Supreme Court, was designated by the DAR as the woman most historically important in Michigan. Mrs. Coleman briefly addressed the conference and has donated her ceremonial robe to the DAR Museum in Washington, D.C. It will become part of a traveling exhibit which will tour the country.

Mrs. Coleman was the 1978 National DAR medal of honor winner.

Also present at the state conference were two candidates vying for the presidency of the NSDAR, Mrs. Walter Hughey King of Tennessee and Mrs. Richard Henry Thompson, Jr. of Illinois.

The Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter will hold its sandwich luncheon at noon October 18 at the home of Beverly Dohel.

The program is entitled "Our Investment in Youth, DAR Schools." The speaker will be Mrs. Walter Fysh of the John Sackett Chapter.

For more information about the DAR, contact Christine Campbell at 464-1154 or Virginia Simpson at 348-2198.

Betty Ridley's church guest

Betty Ann Ridley of Oklahoma City will offer "a fresh look at the Scriptures" in a public lecture at 8 p.m. Sunday at the Church of Christ, Scientist in Plymouth.

Her lecture, entitled "Exploring the Unlimited Dimensions of Spirit", will illustrate how to gain and maintain a spiritual point of view by using the Bible as a "chart" and will include instances of physical healings, a drug use healing, lax morals and career stagnation.

Since 1973 Mrs. Ridley has devoted full time to the public healing ministry of Christian Science. She now is a member of the denomination's Board of Lectureship, in which capacity she travels throughout the country, speaking to Christian Science branch churches and college organizations.

King's Daughters host convention

Fifty-first annual convention of the Wayne County Branch of the International Order of the King's Daughters and Sons will be held here next Monday.

Mizpah Circle will be the hostess for registration and coffee hour opening the convention at 9 a.m. at First United Methodist Church at Eight Mile and Taft roads.

The business meeting will be called to order at 10 a.m. by Wayne County President Marge Bolton, a Northville resident and member of Mizpah Circle.

Mrs. Walter Session will be in charge of the devotions and the memorial service.

Following the noon luncheon, Mrs. Howie Anderson-Somerville will be guest speaker. She is director of Camp Missaukee, the King's Daughters and Sons camp on Lake Missaukee near Lake City, Michigan. She also is a graduate student at Central Michigan University.

GROUND BREAKING—Attending last Sunday's ground breaking service for Meadowbrook Christian Church were from left Wanda Morelli, Nancy Denney, Dennis Fitzsimmons, C.A. Smith, Ralph Berger, Ar-

Church breaks ground on new site

Meadowbrook Christian Church held a ground breaking worship service at 2 p.m. last Sunday at its new site at 21900 Meadowbrook Road.

Currently housed at its temporary location in Livonia, the congregation anticipates its first worship service in the new Northville structure before Christmas.

The church is part of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), a main line Protestant denomination with its world headquarters in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Among the worshippers at last Sunday's ground breaking were Barbara Schnarr of Livonia, chairman of the board, and Jim Eddy, vice-chairman of the board. Delivering the Dedicator Prayer was Art Smith of Livonia, building committee chairman. The Reverend Austin C. Denney is minister of the church.

Northville resident Harold Penn is planning engineer of the project and the Orr Brothers of Livonia are in charge of construction management.

Other members of the building committee are Charles Smith of Northville, Ralph Berger of Plymouth, Sharon Eddy of Livonia, Glenda Distler of Plymouth, Richard Zimmerman of Livonia, Don Huseman of Novi and Chuck Denney of Novi.

Neighbors

It's especially because families come to us during their most difficult times that we feel our responsibility so deeply. We've formed some very close friendships here and after being a part of this community for so many years, our commitment to its people is stronger than ever.

Just as our own families know they can count on the support and friendship of our neighbors, we're proud that families here know they can feel confident in the services we provide.

Services offered to help students with SAT tests

Three new services to help students and school officials better understand and interpret scores on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) have been introduced by the College Board to coincide with this year's test date of October 23, according to Northville High School counselor Jack Wickens.

The three services include the following:

— A Summary of Answers and Reports, which indicates how many students in each school district, or state chose each answer to each question on the test, as compared to all students taking the test nationally;

— State Summary Reports of Sophomores, which show career choices, intended college majors, ethnic background and similar demographic data — identical to information currently provided for juniors;

— A Counselor's Guide to Helping Students Learn from the PSAT/NMSQT, a new publication designed for counselors to help students more clearly grasp the general nature of the tests and the implications of the results.

Before taking the test, students receive a Student Bulletin containing a complete test with an answer key and scoring instructions; a Report of Student Answers, in December, including the corrected answers and their own responses and scores; the test booklets so students can review the original questions and a booklet entitled "About Your PSAT/NMSQT Scores, which helps students interpret their test results and plan for college.

The PSAT/NMSQT provides students with a preview of the College Board's Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT). The PSAT/NMSQT also is the qualifying test for students wishing to participate in competitions of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

JOSEPH C. ADAMS

Retired machine operator Joseph C. Adams of 226 South Wing died October 4 in Ypsilanti after a month-long illness. He was 86.

Born in Indiana, November 20, 1895, to James and Jennie (Schell) Adams, he had been a Northville resident for 20 years.

He was preceded in death by his wife Auzie Mae, who died in July 3, 1977.

Survivors include his daughter Ethel Crofts of Scottsdale, Arizona, and his four sisters Mary Jones, Ruth Harmon and Mae Heck, all of Indiana, and Jenieve Hupp of Auburn Heights.

He also is survived by two grandchildren, 12 great-grandchildren and eight great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were private and burial was at Rural Hill Cemetery. Arrangements were made by Casterline Funeral Home.

The family suggests memorials be made to the charity of the donor's choice.

JAMES HERBERT FOSTER

Retired newspaper circulation manager James Herbert Foster of Davisburg, Michigan, died at age 90 in Botsford Hospital Saturday. Mr. Foster, father of Mrs. Dorothy (Willard) Gaul of Northville, suffered a cardiac arrest.

Born February 2, 1892, to James and Anna Foster in Bellville, Illinois, he married Lillian Schau in 1917. His wife of 75 years survives him.

The former Detroit News circulation manager also leaves a sister, Mrs. Hazel Powell of Houghton, Michigan, two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services were at 1 p.m. Tuesday at Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home. Officiating was Pastor Charles F. Boerger of St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Northville. Burial was at Rural Hill Cemetery. Pallbearers were Eugene Wilson, Frank Caddy, Frank Stutch, Willard Morgan, Larry Lauer and Larry Tilney.

HESTER POWER GOW

Longtime Northville resident and school teacher Hester Power Gow died at age 85 in Balmoral Nursing Home, Trenton, Sunday. She had long been ill.

Born November 6, 1896, in Detroit to G. Sumner and May (Holcomb) Power, Mrs. Gow was an active member of the Northville Chapter of Business and Professional Women in earlier years.

She leaves her daughter, Mrs. Mary Elliott of Trenton, sister Marion Power of Trenton, 12 grandchildren and many great-grandchildren.

Services were scheduled at 10 a.m. today, Wednesday, at Ralph W. Ridge Funeral Home, 2272 West Jefferson, Trenton. The Reverend Robert Orr of Grosse Ile Presbyterian Church, where Mrs. Gow was a member, will officiate. Burial is to be at Rural Hill Cemetery in Northville.

HAZEL F. HICKS

Hazel F. Hicks, 70 years a homemaker in Northville, died at her Horton Street residence at age 88 last Thursday. She had been ill several years.

Mother of Fred J. Hicks of Northville, Mrs. Hicks was preceded in death by her husband Fred V., who died in 1966. She also leaves two grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Born October 9, 1893, to Charles and Maude (Emery) Wilcox of Olive Township, Michigan, Mrs. Hicks moved to Northville more than 70 years ago. Survivors include brother Carl Wilcox of Williamston and sisters Erin Van Sickle of Fowlerville and Mrs. Helen Potter of Fremont, Ohio. One brother predeceased her.

She was an active member of the Royal Neighbors of America.

Services were at 11 a.m. Saturday at Casterline Funeral Home. The Reverend Martha Cargo of St. Andrews First United Methodist Church of Detroit officiated. Burial was at Novi Cemetery.

The family suggests memorial contributions to the Heart Foundation or First United Methodist Church of Northville.

GRACE E. LOWER

Longtime Northville resident Grace E. Lower, a retiree who worked at the local Kroger store before it closed here, died last Friday at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia at age 70. She had been ill several months.

Mrs. Lower, who moved to the area in the 1930s, was the mother of Mrs. Barbara Figueiredo of Northville, Joan Bennet of South Lyon and Arnold Lower of South Lyon. Her husband, James Lower, died in 1978. Mrs. Lower also leaves eight grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

Born January 14, 1912, to William and Gertie (Brown) Spangler, Mrs. Lower also leaves brothers Earl Spangler of Howell and Norman Spangler of Gladwin; and sisters Gathel Grandsen of Flint, Ila DeNoyer of Arizona and Iva Price of South Lyon.

Services were at 11 a.m. Monday at Casterline Funeral Home, with Pastor Richard Denig of Salem Bible Church in Salem officiating. Burial was at Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens in Novi.

The family suggests memorials to the church or the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

Singles to host dance

Westside Singles will be hosting a singles dance from 8:30-1:30 p.m. October 22 at Roma's of Livonia for all area singles interested in attending.

The dance, a monthly event, will include Disco, 50's and 60's and contemporary music, an open bar and free snacks.

Cost is $4 per person and open to anyone 21 years and older.

Dressy attire is requested. For further information contact Ed Stempien at 562-3129 or Larry Roberts at 592-4638.

Bloodmobile arrival scheduled

Lying down on the job may not seem a productive way to do volunteer work, but the American Red Cross is asking that the community do just that — donating blood to give someone a chance to live.

October's blood drive includes one stop in Northville, two nearby and the area donor center is not far away either.

A Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at Our Lady of Victory Church, 770 Thayer, Thursday, October 21 from 2-8 p.m.

For a bloodmobile appointment at OLV call Betsy Fagan, 420-0048.

The Red Cross advises donating blood is simple, painless and takes less than an hour from registration to post-donation snack. Donors can be anyone in good general health between the ages of 17 and 66. Regular donors older than 66 may continue to donate, but must have recent, written approval from their physicians.

Other bloodmobile stops this month are:

— Monday, October 18, at K of C Monaghan, 19801 Farmington Road, Livonia from 3-9 p.m. Call Russell Steele, 261-5938 for an appointment;

— Wednesday, October 20, Plymouth Elks, 41700 Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth, from 3-9 p.m. For an appointment, call Erwin Kersten, 525-2621.

Donations are also accepted at the Livonia Donor Center, Bell Creek Office Plaza, 29691 West Six Mile, Suite 100 C, on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 2-8 p.m.; Tuesdays and Fridays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Appointments at the donor center may be obtained by calling 422-2820.

Backyard workman renews old sawmill

Norman Witt relates that he worked 30 years at the valve plant, but has lived at his present home only the ten years since he retired. "Before that, I lived up on North Center, across from Ely's."

Back outside the garage, Norman Witt raps one of the sawmill's many pulleys with his knuckles and smiles.

"See? That's the secret of how it lasted so long," he says. "It's all cast iron. You could bury it in the dirt 99 years and scrape off the rust and there you'd have it."

NORMAN WITT

Still, restoring aged machinery isn't exactly a little tinkering in the garage. "When you have one of these things," Fred explains, "you don't just run down to the corner hardware store for parts."

Witt made his own bearings to replace the worn ones supporting the numerous wheels and shafts that make up the saw mechanisms. Melting babbit in a little blowtorch furnace he devised himself, he poured each bearing to suit. "That's the way the old sawyer's did it, too," he notes. "This is portable, it'd go out where they were lumbering and the operator had to know how to take care of the mill."

The days when such portable mills powered by steam traction engines and other portable power sources moved about where needed are long gone, and so, it might seem, would be most of the men who knew anything about the machinery.

But Witt knows of two or three others in this area alone. "It's funny how when you get one of these things, you get to know everybody who has a sawmill for miles around," Fred relates.

One of those men whose opinions the Witts regarded highly is Ken Bassett of 12 Mile near Novi Road. Bassett sharpened the mill's saw blade recently, putting the finishing touch on the project for now. And Witt couldn't wait to see how it works. With his tractor, one possible power source for the mill, temporarily incapacitated by the lack of a tire and a manifold, Witt's impatience got the better of him Friday morning and with Fred he committed sawyer blasphemy — they ran the mill with an electric motor.

With the blade rotating at between 500 and 600 rpm (revolutions per minute), the sawmill cut as straight and clean a line as it might have been expected to when new. The saw kerf isn't exactly slim, though, and the operation produced more than a little saw dust for a single cut the length of an eight-foot log.

"See there, that's why you have the blower there, to get rid of the sawdust," Norman Witt explains, as his son notes the one pass that morning created "a bucket load of sawdust."

The blower, a separate acquisition also from the Bad Axe area, isn't connected just yet, but Witt isn't quite done with the project either. He said he'd like to move the sawmill to family-owned property in Pinckney. "You think the city might get a little upset if I started operating a sawmill in my backyard?" he explains.

While some details about the mill's heritage are sketchy, it is known it was originally manufactured by the Knight Manufacturing Company of Canton, Ohio. The blower was made by the Ramey Manufacturing Company.

With its chains and belts, pulleys and levers the sawmill looks every bit a turn-of-the-century machine, and the wonder that it must have seemed in its heyday clings to it still.

"You go to one of these antique threshing meets," Fred Witt relates, "and the sawmills are what everybody wants to see. Something about it attracts people — they get amazed how you can take a nasty old log and turn it into useable lumber so fast."

Even in its inoperative state, Witt's sawmill has attracted more than its share of attention, father and son note.

"We had a garage sale here a while back and it looked like Greenfield

Norman Witt demonstrates sawmill operating technique

Village back here," Fred explains. "Everybody who came through wanted to stand around and look at the sawmill."

Now that the restoration is near complete, Fred is looking for another project to place in his father's hands. "I'll have to find something more difficult," he says. "He just keeps working on this stuff and gets it done. I keep saying I'm looking for a shingle mill, so when he gets that done he can start making houses."

Norman Witt chuckles a little and modestly offers that his handiwork is the product of enthusiasm for keeping himself mechanically occupied.

"I have a lot of fun doing things like this," he says. "As long as you don't have a boss, the day isn't long enough."

Landfill location a sticky issue

Second in a series prepared by the Wayne County Public Information Office

Residents of such uncluttered communities as Livonia, Dearborn, Wyandotte, Harper Woods and the Grosse Pointes pay as much as $200 to have their refuse hauled to landfills in Sumpter, Huron or some other area willing to accept it.

The day is dawning, however, when each of these cities may be forced to whack out a piece of their own property to make way for their own leftovers.

Officials might consider 50 acres off one end of the Dearborn Country Club, or a 45-acre hole off Moross, 60 acres on Belle Isle and perhaps 100 acres adjacent to Madonna College. There's lots of room in Southgate, Dearborn Heights and Redford.

The problem is residents of those areas are not the least bit interested with who takes their solid waste — as long as it's somebody else, someplace else.

Fear of hazardous waste deposits and confusion over State Public Acts 641 and 64 are hindering the ability of county officials to develop new landfills in Wayne County. With residential refuse piling up at the rate of 35,000 cubic yards daily and two of the five county sites nearly full, collection may grind to a halt in the foreseeable future.

Until the state legislature enacted PA 641, local communities maintained control over landfill developers under an earlier act. Now, however, zoning boards are finding that their — until now — inviolable ordinances may be superseded through the actions of the recently-created Wayne County Solid Waste Management Committee. This committee is charged with developing a county-wide plan by July, 1983, to control solid waste disposal and develop resource recovery programs.

The 13-member committee includes Ray Kellas, Virgil Eller, Michael Ferrantino and Robert K. Line representing landfill management industry; Francis P. Bennet and Liz Maury Dean, environmental interests; Patrick Brunett of SEM-COG; James W. Watts for cities; Canton supervisor Jim Poole for townships; county commission Clarence Young and three citizens-at-large: Hershal Clover, Charles E. Hunter, Ph.D. and George Tattre.

Developers — either solid waste or hazardous waste — are required to submit complete administrative application proposals to the committee. The proposals are, in turn, sent to the county health department, an agent of the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

The health department has 15 days to determine if the proposal is complete and 120 days to review it. If approved, it is returned together with a construction permit to the committee. If the committee also approves, the proposal goes back to the health department, which checks the construction when completed.

If the construction is considered correct, a license to operate is issued by the DNR and the landfill becomes a part of the county solid waste management plan.

Clarence Young, chairman of the committee, said the plan must win approval of two-thirds of the county's 43 communities and the DNR before the July, 1983, deadline.

Collectively, Wayne County communities spend nearly $50 million annually for pick-up and disposal of solid wastes and costs have risen roughly 10 percent each year since 1975. Costs range from $20 per home annually in Sumpter to $200 for Grosse Pointe residents.

Rubbish collected from county residents alone could fill Tiger Stadium every two weeks, so the need for additional landfills is becoming desperate, said Maurice Roach, director of the county's planning commission.

"State legislators enacted PA 641 to consolidate the dozens of local ordinances being used to control landfill development," Roach explained. "The action will result in uniform zoning throughout the county."

Superintendent unveils long-range plan for district necessitate the utilization of all existing school buildings.

While he acknowledged the steady four percent decline in Northville's K-12 student enrollment since 1976, he said this fall's community education enrollment has more than tripled that of the 1981-82 school year.

Last fall, some 232 participants were enrolled in community education classes and workshops. This fall, 737 are participating in the program.

The increase in participants is due for the most part to the expanded offerings provided this year through a consortium agreement with the Garden City Public Schools.

The consortium agreement with Garden City was approved by the board of education in August upon Bell's recommendation.

The superintendent noted at Tuesday's meeting that the enrollment increase in community education will provide a substantial revenue increase to the district. He said that increase will save the district the same amount of money that it would have saved had it closed an elementary school.

According to administrators and the citizens' committee report, an estimated $70,000 would be saved by shutting down a school building.

Bell also emphasized the potential for an even greater enrollment increase next semester and in the following year.

"Next year would could double the enrollment in community education," he added.

In regards to the K-12 program, Bell concurred with the citizens' advisory committee's recommendation to realign the present K-6, 7-9 and 10-12 grade structure to a middle school concept of K-5, 6-8 and 9-12.

However, he warned against implementing a new structure without careful planning and program restructuring.

"In terms of a middle school," he noted, "it's more than just a junior high school."

"It's more than just little football players, little cheerleaders and little marching bands," he emphasized.

GEORGE BELL

"The middle school must be quite structured."

"To operate a middle school will take a great deal of inservice time and community input."

Bell also commented on the advantages of placing the ninth grade in the high school. He noted in particular that a "richer curriculum could be offered... and that more students could benefit from a higher technology program earlier."

Yet, he cautioned that "if you threw the ninth graders in the middle school concept now, you would find you would not be servicing the needs of those ninth graders."

Bell said that before any type of grade structure change can be made, a study of both curriculum and facility needs must be made to insure that the middle school concept is serviced in the best possible way.

He stated that should his proposals be approved by the board of education at its October 25 meeting, he would like staff members and administrators to begin studying both the curriculum and facility needs of the district sometime this school year.

He said a comprehensive study of both areas will be needed and pointed out that the area requiring the most thorough examination will be the high school structure.

Referring to the high school building as an "architectural nightmare," Bell proposed the district "look at a renovation of the high school."

While there has been some discussion about constructing a new high school, Bell said a renovation would be more feasible.

One of the primary problems with the high school building is energy efficiency, Bell noted. In 1980-81, high school energy costs totaled $158,000 — or approximately $1.15 per square foot.

Last August, the board of education approved the administration's recommendation to conduct an energy audit of the high school and granted a contract to Harley, Ellington, Pierce and Yee Associates. The firm began its comprehensive energy study this fall and is expected to complete the project by early summer.

Bell cited the energy audit as the first step towards making the high school more energy efficient.

However, he noted that energy efficiency is not the high school's only problem. In addition to making the building more energy efficient, he said the district will have to look at making it more educationally sound for students.

"The educational needs of the students are the prime factor in the high school renovation," he observed. "I'm less concerned about the energy saving costs as I am about the kids who come through this building only once."

He noted that an architectural study of the building would have to be conducted to determine how space could best be utilized to benefit the educational needs of the students.

Bell proposed the renovation of the high school be funded through a bond issue.

Acknowledging that the bond issue proposal will not make him "uniformly popular," Bell said it will be needed "for the kind of programming the district will have to offer in the future."

Another component of Bell's long range proposal is the facility usage of the Institution Special Education Program. Currently experiencing the same enrollment decline as Northville's K-12 program, the administration proposed last March the possibility of closing ISEP's out-of-district facilities and moving the program into the four elementary schools.

The proposal was met with considerable community opposition and has been on hold for the past six months.

Noting the excellent facilities currently used by the program, Bell has proposed leaving ISEP in separate buildings from the regular K-12. However, he noted that should the ISEP enrollment continue to decline, there may be a need to close one of the two out-of-district facilities and consolidate the program into the other two facilities.

Northville Public School's Institution Special Education Program currently leases space at Taft School and Bryant School, both in Livonia. In addition to those facilities, it also has a small program located at Plymouth Center for Human Development and at Northville's Old Village School.

Bell presented an outline of his proposal with a tentative timeline beginning in this school year.

He emphasized that his plan is only a proposal and must receive the support of the board of education and the community. He encouraged residents, students and staff members to contact the board or the administration with suggestions.

The superintendent's long range plan is outlined as follows:

- High School Energy audit — 1982-83;
- Staff Curriculum/Facilities Study — study of future needs of Northville's student population — 1982-83;
- Bond Issue Report to Community — examine 1978 $1 million bond issue — 1982;

—High School Architectural Feasibility Study — architectural plans for making high school more educationally sound — 1983;

—Middle School Inservice — full year planning for realignment of grade structure — 1983-84;

—Millage Renewal and Bond Issue Campaign — six week campaign for passage of bond issue — amount to be determined based on architectural study of high school — 1983;

Renovation and construction of Northville High School — Cooke Junior High School to be used as buffer while high school is being renovated — mid 1983-85;

Implement grade restructure — 1985; Bell noted that should enrollment continue to decline in Northville and the economic forecast remain bleak, the district would have to consider possibly combining the junior highs and moving the ISE Program into the vacated junior high school. However, he said a determination on the possibility would not be made until October, 1984.

City appoints Kohl firm to serve as legal counsel tation.

The firm's smaller size was a factor the council weighed as it concluded the Detroit firm chosen, officially a professional corporation, offered exceptional resources available because of its size.

Kohl told the council that his corporation employs a full-time legal librarian and is part of a nationwide computer system that gives access to law "virtually as soon as it is written."

"We are 100 percent current," he told council. In response to a question by Clerk Joan McAllister, he assured her and the council that election-day duties of opening and closing the polls and being available for any questions would not present a problem and that he would be on hand personally.

In its review of candidates, the council observed that all were close in fee schedules, eliminating that as a consideration.

Kohl listed his firm's fees as $75 an hour for partners' services, $55 an hour for work by associates and $25 an hour for para legal services.

In reviewing the candidates, Vernon remarked that Kohl, who is active in the community, had indicated previously he "has a personal desire to serve the city." Kohl already knows some of the police officers, Vernon mentioned, as he had played on a local ball team with them.

Kohl, like both other candidates, told the council he did not feel it necessary to have the city attorney present at routine council meetings.

In discussion, city officials indicated it probably would be better not to have a legal representative present as "it is a temptation to seek an immediate opinion" which might be given without sufficient research.

Kohl's firm, founded in 1914, now employs 82 lawyers and is the largest legal professional corporation in the country, his resume stated. It is active in all areas of law with emphasis in litigation. In the past, Kohl told the council, it has represented the City of Taylor.

The staff includes a lawyer whose specialty is drafting of ordinances.

The council had indicated it intends to continue using its present counsel for labor negotiations but noted it was aware Kohl's firm would be able to handle this work.

Kohl and his wife Judith have four daughters, aged 14-3. They are members of the First Presbyterian Church here.

He received his BA degree from Michigan State University in 1966; his JD degree from Detroit College of Law in 1969. During his senior year, Kohl was winner of the alumni scholarship for academic achievement.

Admitted to the State Bar of Michigan in 1969, Kohl was employed by the City of Detroit as an assistant corporation counsel from 1970-73. He joined Plunkett, Cooney, Rutt, Watters, Stanczyk and Pedersen in 1973 and became a shareholder in 1978.

He is a member of the American Bar Association, American Judicature Society, State Bar of Michigan and currently a council member of the Negligence Section. He also is a founder and the current president of the Michigan Defense Trial Counsel, Incorporated, a statewide organization of attorneys who regularly represent defendants in civil litigation.

Kohl also is a member of the Association of Defense Trial Counsel, a group of lawyers in the tri-county area that normally represent defendants in civil litigation. He is on the board of directors of the Oakland Citizens League.

OFFICIAL NOTICE OF SALE $1,750,000 CITY OF NOVI COUNTY OF OAKLAND STATE OF MICHIGAN 1982 SPECIAL ASSESSMENT LIMITED TAX BONDS, SERIES II

SEALED BIDS for the purchase of the above bonds will be received by the undersigned at the City Clerk's Office in the City Hall located at 45225 West Ten Mile Road, Novi, Michigan 48050, on Monday, the 25th day of October, 1982 until 4 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read. Sealed bids will also be received on the same date and until the same time by an agent of the undersigned at the offices of Bendzinski & Co., 601 Standard Federal Savings Bldg., 409 Griswold, Detroit, Michigan 48226, when, simultaneously then will be opened and read.

BOND DETAILS: Said bonds will be coupon bonds of the denomination of $5,000 each, dated October 1, 1982, numbered in direct order of maturity from 1 upwards and will bear interest from their date payable on October 1, 1983, and semiannually thereafter.

Said bonds will mature on the 1st day of October as follows:

$100,000	1983;
225,000	1984;
200,000	1985 to 1990, inclusive;
225,000	1991.

PRIOR REDEMPTION: Bonds of this issue shall not be subject to redemption prior to maturity.

INTEREST RATE AND BIDDING DETAILS: The bonds shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 13% per annum, to be fixed by the bids therefor, expressed in multiples of 1/8 or 1/20 of 1%, or both. The interest on any one bond shall be at one rate only, all bonds maturing in any one year must carry the same interest rate and each coupon period shall be represented by one interest coupon. The difference between the highest and lowest interest rate on the bonds shall not exceed five percent (5%) per annum. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than 97% of their par value will be considered.

PAYING AGENT: Both principal and interest shall be payable at a bank or trust company located in Michigan qualified to act as paying agent under State or United States law, to be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds, who may also designate a co-paying agent, which may be located outside of Michigan, qualified to act as paying agent under the law of the State in which located or of the United States, both of which shall be subject to approval of the undersigned.

PURPOSE AND SECURITY: The bonds are issued in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for various public improvements in certain special assessment districts in said City, as set forth in the bond authorizing resolution. The special assessments and interest thereon are sufficient to pay the principal and interest on the bonds when due. The liability of each special assessment district is limited as set forth in the bond authorizing resolution. The bonds are a limited tax general (full faith and credit) obligation of the City, and the City is obligated to pay debt service thereon as a first budget obligation from its general funds, including any collection of ad valorem taxes, but the ability of the City to levy such taxes is subject to charter, statutory and constitutional limitations.

The rights or remedies of bondholders may be affected by bankruptcy laws or other creditors' rights legislation now existing or hereafter enacted.

GOOD FAITH: A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $35,000, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the City must accompany each bid as guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

AWARD OF BONDS: The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid produces the lowest interest cost computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified in the bid, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from November 1, 1982, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium or adding thereto any discount. In no event shall the net interest cost on the bonds exceed 18% after giving effect to any discount.

LEGAL OPINION: Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified approving opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, a copy of which opinion will be printed on the reverse side of each bond, and the original of which will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds at the delivery thereof. The fees of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone for services rendered in connection with such approving opinion are expected to be paid from bond proceeds. Except to the extent necessary to issue their unqualified approving opinion as to the validity of the above bonds, Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone has not been requested to examine or review and has not examined or reviewed any financial documents, statements or materials that have been or may be furnished in connection with the authorization, issuance or marketing of the bonds, and accordingly, will not express any opinion with respect to the accuracy or completeness of any such financial documents, statements or materials.

DELIVERY OF BONDS: The City will furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bonds will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at Detroit, Michigan, Chicago, Illinois or New York, New York. The usual closing documents, including a certificate with no litigation is pending affecting the issuance of the bonds, will be delivered at the time of the delivery of the bonds. If the bonds are not tendered for delivery by twelve o'clock noon, Eastern Standard Time on the 45th day following the date of sale, or the first business day thereafter if said 45th day is not a business day, the successful bidder may on that day, or any time thereafter until delivery of the bonds, withdraw his proposal by serving notice of cancellation, in writing, on the undersigned in which event the City shall promptly return the good faith deposit. Accrued interest to the date of delivery of the bonds shall be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery. Payment for the bonds must be made in Federal Reserve Funds.

CUSIP NUMBERS: CUSIP identification numbers will be printed on the bonds, at the issuer's expense, except payment of the charge for assignment of numbers which will be the purchaser's responsibility. Neither the failure to print such numbers on any bonds nor any error with respect thereto shall constitute cause for a failure or refusal by the purchaser thereof to accept delivery of and pay for said bonds in accordance with terms of the purchase contract.

FINANCIAL CONSULTANTS: Additional information may be obtained from Bendzinski & Co., Municipal Finance Advisors, 601 Standard Federal Savings Bldg., 409 Griswold, Detroit, Michigan 48226; telephone: (313) 961-8222.

THE RIGHT IS RESERVED TO REJECT ANY OR ALL BIDS.

STATE OF MICHIGAN
MUNICIPAL FINANCE COMMISSION

ADDENDUM: Payment of the principal of and interest on the above bonds, when due, will be unconditionally and irrevocably guaranteed under and in accordance with the terms of a policy of insurance to be issued by the American Municipal Bond Assurance Corporation, a subsidiary of MGIC Investment Corporation, the premium on which policy will be prepaid by the City. All bids for the purchase of said bonds will be conditioned upon the issuance of said policy.

Our Opinion

Future chefs serve in new college restaurant

Culinary program's outstanding

Schoolcraft College's new $13 million Culinary Arts Building is exceptional, but so is the program for which it was built. In a depressed economy with tight college budgets, the State Legislature appropriated for the expansion which now enables 120 full-time students, 22 co-op students, 60 apprentices and 15 continuing education students to study there.

his guidance and with the quality of instruction provided by pastry chef Leonard Stec and chefs Richard Benson and James VanVuren the program has gained a fine reputation.

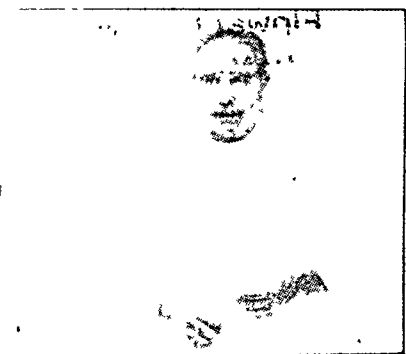

Two weeks ago Schoolcraft President Richard McDowell invited a group of Northville representatives of local organizations to breakfast in the new Culinary Arts building. After touring the gleaming new facility and sampling some of its output, visitors asked Breithaupt what the placement rate is for graduates of the program. "One hundred and ten percent," he smiled proudly, explaining that he could have placed about 10 percent more graduates than he had.

The Schoolcraft Culinary Arts program is designed primarily as an associate degree curriculum leading directly to employment, the college catalog states, outlining that it provides entrance into food service occupations at advanced levels. In the technical portion of the curriculum students become involved in quantity food preparation, advanced food preparation, cost and portion control, quantity baking, pastry, meat cutting and gourmet cooking. The catalog notes that "decorative culinary skills" are included. Handsome ice sculptures are created in this category.

With the opening of the Culinary Arts building has come opportunity, too, for first-hand dining room operation. Last month "LeGastronomique," a restaurant open to the public, began operation, giving students experience from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Monday through Thursday in operating a full-service training restaurant.

Reached from the Waterman cafeteria, LeGastronomique is a pleasant dining spot with student waiters like Keith Wasinski and Elizabeth Toth-Nowak eager to please. Staff supervisor last week was Kevin Gawrowski. His students explained the menu of the day — from cream of chicken soup a la reine to pommes del monico, cod creole, Swiss steak printenere and roast sirloin of beef. Even confirmed dieters were weakening as the pastry cart was rolled to the table with three-layer chocolate torte, pumpkin cheese cake and raspberry cream pie.

We encourage a visit to the student restaurant, both for good dining and to view the new Culinary Arts building located at the north end of campus on Haggerty. A treat from the pastry cart alone is worth the trip.

ROBERT BREITHAUPT

The addition, which opened this school year, is the first major construction on the Schoolcraft campus in almost 10 years — and is a tribute to the quality of the culinary arts career program and, most of all, to its director, Robert Breithaupt. Breithaupt, a certified executive chef and assistant dean — applied sciences and director of food service at Schoolcraft, since 1966 has guided the culinary arts program to its position of respect today. Until the expansion this fall, students waited as long as four years to be admitted to the popular two-year course.

That the culinary arts course gained such esteem while being conducted in the cafeteria of Waterman Center (student headquarters on campus) attests to Breithaupt's leadership. Under

Campaign heats up — as predicted

As predicted, we have now heard from Gerald Law. Actually, we heard from him a few weeks back, shortly after the mention in this space that he had become temporarily invisible. A release from Law campaign headquarters indicates he was simply being quiet about his drive for votes here.

Seems Mr. Law had "informal" contact with some 300 people in the 36th House District — which includes both Plymouths and Canton as well as Northville. Top voter concerns he heard expressed were the economy and education.

Law appeared in our office in person last week to tell us he has taken a leave of absence from his job through October, allowing himself more time to campaign at the expense of a few lost paychecks. Door-to-door campaigning in Canton, Law related, revealed another voter concern — PBB and its continued influence in the Michigan food chain.

Like PBB, Bill Joyner won't go away and leave Republicans alone. He still works the post office, standing on the sidewalk greeting folks and passing out brochures updated every week at least. Must take an enormous amount of time and money. Law, as stated, holds down a regular job with Ford in Dearborn, so had to concede the visibility race to his Democratic opponent through September.

Joyner, on the other hand, is employed as a Wayne County commissioner; that he has ample time to spare for campaigning might be among the better arguments for the new charter's reducing the number of such seats from 27 down to 15. As a supporter of county reform, Joyner might be expected to agree.

The absence of an incumbent generally makes for more interesting election contests, and the 36th is no exception. In addition to the Joyner-Law battle, there is Libertarian Keith Bilby. With less money than the major-party candidates, Bilby has been less visible than either of his opponents but recent contact indicates he is preparing to do something about that in the next couple of weeks. Locally, this is the race to watch.

Ron Milam doesn't scare me. And neither does Karen Rice, although I think the two may be working together to psych me out.

To make sense out of that introduction, you've got to understand that Novi will hold its annual Run for Reyes this Saturday at the Bob-O-Link golf course on Grand River and Beck Road. It's a good event because it raises funds for research into Reyes Syndrome and also promotes physical fitness by encouraging people to get out and do a little running.

At any rate, the organizers of the event are trying to raise a little more money for Reyes Syndrome by staging a "celebrity" fun run prior to the real race and asking people to guess the winner and the winning time at 50 cents a guess. All sorts of local officials have been invited to participate in the celebrity run; and I got an invitation, too — probably because I get my picture in the paper a lot.

That's where Milam and Rice come in. Milam, a member of the Novi school board as well as an alleged runner, also will run in the celebrity run.

While performing my job of editing copy, I ran across a story by Rice about Milam's participation in the big marathon in Detroit recently. According to Rice's alleged story, Milam allegedly ran in the marathon and allegedly completed all 26 miles.

Frankly, I don't believe any of it. And even if it were true, I don't think it would make much difference because I am determined to destroy the competition Saturday and win by a large margin, reducing Milam and the rest of the field to specks on the horizon as I flash across the finish line.

Not many people know it, but I was quite a runner back in high school and also did some distance running in college. Sure, it's been a while since I've run competitively, but I figure running is something like riding a bicycle — once you learn how....

Besides, I plan to begin training any day now. I'm sure there will be those who'll plunk down their 50 cents on Milam or some other pretender to the crown. But remember this, it's only a mile, practically a sprint. I promise to be humble in victory.

City salary hikes bring objections

To the Editor:
As a lifetime resident of the City of Northville and a laid off employee of this city's D.P.W., I am utterly disgusted with the recent action of the city council, who decided behind "closed doors" (as stated in last week's front page story) to "grant raises to the top administrative posts."

The recent economic crunch experienced by our nation, and especially our state, has caused employee concessions, loss of benefits, reduction of wages, layoffs and a general "tightening of the belt."

But not in Northville. Not when it comes to the top brass of our city administrators.

Five of our D.P.W. employees are laid off because of a lack of money, yet somehow funds are found to give raises, with the exception of the D.P.W. foreman, to those who are overpaid to begin with.

The city council's action was behind closed doors without giving us, the residents and taxpayers, an opportunity to discuss in a democratic process our views, pro or con.

Behind other "closed doors or without the public's knowledge" other decisions have been made that you are not aware of.

1. Within the past 2½ years the city has paid approximately $18,000 to have two employees quit — one from the D.P.W. and one from city hall.

2. The city, since last April 30, has been paying me and one other laid off employee $197 per week not to work, while contracting with Green Ridge Nursery to do work we could be doing.

3. Every winter from around December 1 to March 1 there are approximately 75 homes or places of business that keep their water running 24 hours a day at no cost to themselves. This is about 270,000 gallons of water per day or more that the city pays for without reimbursement. There is also a fire hydrant that runs continually during this same period of time.

4. Winter before last the city had three water main breaks at the same time. One on South Main Street near the Clark gas station, one on Griswold near Pennell and one on Novi Street near Allen Drive. These breaks were allowed to run for about a week. If the D.P.W. had repaired them, even at double time pay, it would have cost about $1,500. After one week, the D.P.W. repaired two of the water mains and a contractor repaired the other one and charged about $750. That month the City of Northville paid the City of Detroit about $10,000 more for water than they did the same month the year before. These are the kinds of decisions that are made by the top administrators.

5. The D.P.W. has a superintendent, a foreman, a working foreman and a clerk that supervise and keep records for seven people (almost as many chiefs as there are Indians). The wages and benefits for those four chiefs amount to over $100,000 a year.

6. The City of Northville has a trash truck that they are still making payments on, but do not pick up any trash with it.

7. I think we should be told how many total dollars were paid the contractor for trash pick-up from October 1981 to October 1982, not how much per stop. Also we should be told how much money was spent on containers that were purchased to accommodate the contractor front end loading truck.

As a responsible newspaper I ask you to investigate the above mentioned facts. They are not allegations.

Expose the truth and let this community know how our money is being wasted and squandered.

I am available to talk to any of your reporters at any time. Phone 348-3733.

Sincerely yours,
Max Robertson

Editorial appreciated

To the Editor:
I have just read the editorial and am really pleased and frankly moved at its content and message. Thanks very much for the support and recognition.

Michele McElmurry and John Myers have helped to contribute to the positive affect of Northville High School. They are fine writers and professional reporters.

Thanks again.

Landfill stories good

To the Editor:

I have read the first of the three articles about landfills. I think it is a very good idea to inform the public facts regarding sanitary landfills.

I have worked for a landfill for four years and hope someday to make it my career. I have seen how landfills have given everybody the "Not in my backyard" attitude.

I would like to make a suggestion — the League of Women Voters have put on seminars or workshops to help educate the public. Disposing of our waste is a problem and is becoming a much bigger one. Something must be done.

I would like to help any way I can, please contact me if I can help.

Sincerely,
Suzan Cook

Sympathy appreciated

To the Editor:

This letter is to friends and neighbors.

Words cannot express our gratitude for your help and kindness before and after the tragic loss of our beloved daughter Janet. These words come from the heart of our whole family.

This letter is meant for all the people of Northville. The special people who knew, loved and cared for Janet already know who they are.

A special thanks to Reverend Eugene Sims of Calvary Church of Livonia for his help and guidance and thoughtful, beautiful eulogy.

And to Reverend John Mischler of Northville Presbyterian Church for his friendship and many acts of kindness he gave to us and our family.

After these words, so much is still left unsaid.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Roger Matthews and family

Quilt show was great

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Northville Community Quilters a heart-felt "thank you" to all those who helped make the "Your Heirloom and Mine" quilt show a success.

The generous coverage of The Northville Record, the loan of precious heirlooms, the loan of display materials, and uncounted hours of donated labor all contributed to a unique event.

The Dresden Plate quilt was awarded to Mrs. Joan Weber of Livonia. Again thanks, all of you.

Lois Winters,
Sybil Kerr,
co-chairmen of NCQ

Awards warranted

To the Editor:

I noticed on the front page of The Record of October 6 that The Record won a bunch of awards in the annual Michigan Press Association contest.

Why not? If anyone would have read the three editorials by Kevin Wilson, namely, "Welcome to Freedom,"

"Park Gardens deserved better" and "Ford closing has human cost," these editorials alone would put The Record on top of my list.

The general layout and in-season pictures do the rest.

The Detroit Free Press is another name for a paper, but their editorials make no bones about letting the public know who they are for and against in politics.

Quite different from The Northville

Record, I must say. To read The Record, one would never know the political leanings one way or another. Carry on, Record.

And I think this is quite a tribute coming from the Editor-in-Chief of The Dion Post, Michigan's smallest monthly. Don't forget, you all, that October 10-16 is National Newspaper Week.

John Lazor
Editor, Dion Post of Canton

They agree Polish jokes were inappropriate

To the Editor:

The letter of Mr. Marian Szczepanski, in "Readers Speak" of the 6 of October edition, relative to Polish jokes has been noted.

I agree with the tenor of Mr. Szczepanski's comments. Polish jokes are told by and repeated by bores who, through lack of talent and abysmal ignorance, try to continue that which has died a natural death, especially since the advent of Pope John Paul II.

Unlike Mr. Szczepanski, I would hold the Northville Police Association responsible. They are the one who hired the offender and they are the one who should have assured that the entertainment would not be offensive, crude or obscene.

It would follow that the association owes an apology to everyone who was subjected to this degrading entertainment, Poles, non-Poles and those of Polish extraction. The editorial comment at the end of the article was likewise noted. It did comment on the length of the letter, but failed to comment on its content.

Was it intended to be snide? If it was, it too is not appreciated.

Sincerely,
Oleg Z. Zaleski
Lieutenant Colonel, USA retired

To the Editor:

I sold Mr. Szczepanski tickets to the Northville Police Officers dance. I was at this dance myself. I am not of Polish origin, but I regard the "Polish Jokes" as told by an entertainer Frankie Rapp as an insult to anyone who has Polish blood in their veins.

Had I known in advance about those insults I certainly would not have promoted the Northville Police Officers Ball.

I myself apologize to Mr. Szczepanski and his guest for selling tickets to them. May I close by saying that next year I and others will think twice about attending, let alone promoting this event.

Sincerely,
John M. Myers

To the Editor:

My name is Barbara Lewinska, and not long ago I came from Poland to visit your country.

I was invited by Mr. Szczepanski to the Northville Police Officers Association Ball in Plymouth Hilton Inn.

As a newcomer I do not understand English very well, but I understood it well enough to comprehend — to my astonishment and indignation — insults of Poles and people of Polish origin in the form of "Polish Jokes."

I have traveled extensively, but in no other country did I come across insulting "Polish Jokes." This must be exclusive to your country.

I was shocked, not only by "Polish Jokes," but also by the enthusiastic applause of the audience.

One of the "Polish Jokes" indicated that Polish males are undersexed (A "joke": Adam was probably a Pole. He was eating an apple while a beautiful Eve was standing nude in front of him.) I can assure you, as a woman, that this is not true. We women of Poland admire and respect our men not only for their virility, but also for their heroism in defending, against overwhelming odds, our country, our homes, their women and children.

Poles were fighting for freedom of Poland, but for freedom of many other countries, including your own. In your war of Independence, two Polish generals Kosciuszko and Pulaski were fighting together with you against British. Pulaski sacrificed his life for your freedom. He was killed at Savannah, Georgia, while leading a charge of your cavalry against (the) British.

In Poland we believe that you are on our side and that you will help us in our struggle for freedom, especially that your President Roosevelt — as the participant of Yalta Conference in 1945 — is to a large extent responsible for the tragedy of the Polish nation.

I am proud to be a Polish woman and no derogatory and discriminatory "Polish Jokes" will change that.

I am a guest in your country and I was a guest at the Northville Police Officers Association Ball. In Poland, we do not offend our guests, but we honor them and show them Polish hospitality.

People of Poland have no idea about discrimination against our brothers and sisters in your country. Poland is a key to changes, not only in Eastern Europe, but also in the world, including your country. The best friends you have are Poles. Through your attitude and your own fault you may change us from your friends into your enemies.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Long Plumbing Co. is not on strike. All of our employees are working and we are open for business as usual.

The construction division of Long Plumbing Co. is currently being picketed by a Detroit labor union at our offices on Main Street in Northville. Long Plumbing Co. is being picketed because our plumbers and pipefitters, by their own choice, do not want to be a part of this Detroit labor union. This labor union is trying to intimidate us and restrict our business because of our freedom of choice.

We are open for business as usual and look forward to our customers visiting our store.

Your Photos
by Wayne Loder

Is A Motorized Camera for You?

A "motorized film advance" camera allows you to shoot your pictures in rapid sequence, fast as four or five frames a second. Some can hold up to 100 feet of film!

In photographing sporting events, motorized cameras are invaluable. Somewhere in that five or ten frames you've taken while your finger was pressed down on your shutter release, the basketball player has been at the most dramatic point of his jump shot, the tennis player has been in the middle of a savage backhand. You can select the photo that best captures the moment.

Motorized cameras are also of great value in taking candid shots. They capture that fleeting expression or gesture which makes a picture special.

They are wonderful in nature photography, freezing a wave at its curl, an elk about to run, a horse in the midst of his leap.

We would be happy to show you our full line of motorized equipment and demonstrate what it can do for you at I-stop, 43220 Grand River, Novi, 348-9355.

County finds no evidence of EEE here

It looks like Eastern Equine encephalitis (EEE) has left this alone this year. That's the word from Richard Parker, the Oakland County Environmental Health Division, who reports that the county's EEE surveillance program, which ended September 17, has turned up no evidence of the deadly mosquito-borne disease in the county.

"We've wrapped it (the program) up for the year," Parker said. "There's no reason to think that in our part of the state we've had any virus activity at all."

The health division carried out two EEE testing programs in Novi. The programs, which started in midsummer, included an experimental program using caged quail as "sentinels" of EEE.

Although the disease, which primarily affects birds, is fatal to horses and humans, most birds recover and form antibodies in their blood against the virus.

Since birds are affected several weeks before horses or humans would contract EEE, testing the blood of birds in the area for those antibodies allows health division workers to spot the disease early and warn residents to take precautions against contact with mosquitoes carrying the virus.

Since several cases of EEE appeared in Novi horses last year, the city was chosen as one of five locations for the experimental caged quail program.

That program, Parker reported earlier this summer, was unsuccessful, but although the quail died, it was not of EEE.

Proposals offered

Backers say that is to insure that federally-chartered institutions will have to comply with Proposal C. Opponents say it will discourage outside investors—who currently supply more than one-third of Michigan's mortgage money—from investing in the state.

"Good luck trying to get a mortgage," said Aaron. Investors, he said, cannot let their money sit for four years.

Proposal C is opposed by the Michigan Association of Realtors, the Michigan Home Builders Association, the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, the Michigan Savings and Loan Association and the Michigan Bankers Association.

Its backers include the UAW, the AFL-CIO, the Michigan State Building and Construction Lobby and Attorney General Frank Kelley.

Novi slates arts show

Many area artists and craftsmen will be exhibiting their wares at the 1982 Novi Arts and Crafts Fair to be held November 6 and 7.

The fair will take place at the Novi Middle School North Activity Complex located on Taft Road, north of Ten Mile Road.

The exhibits will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. November 6 and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. November 7. There is no admission charge.

Hourly drawings also will be held, as well as a grand drawing on the final afternoon. Entertainment will be provided throughout the course of the fair.

All proceeds from the fair will be donated to the Novi High School Student Art Scholarship Fund.

The YWCA of Western Wayne County is looking for volunteers interested in working at the Wayne County Detention Annex at Eloise from two to five hours each week.

Volunteers are needed to work with female inmates in areas such as values clarification, problem solving, decision making, self-help groups, self-awareness and female issues and concerns.

The Annex of the Wayne County Jail presently houses between 75-100 female inmates whose average stay in jail is 60-90 days.

Persons interested in volunteering should contact Susan Cadwell, area director of the YWCA, at 561-4110 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Comedy Club featured

Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community College is sponsoring a "Comedy Club" series featuring local Detroit and Michigan comedians.

Fast and Massad, a lively musical duo will be spotlighted at 8 p.m. October 14 in J-306. Refreshments will be provided "a la carte" by OCC's Culinary Arts Department. Admission is $3 for the general public and $2 for OCC students.

William Thomas, a member of the Detroit Comedy Series, will complete the "Comedy Club" series November 11.

For more information, call the Office of Student Activities at 476-9400.

Troop 277 meets Wednesdays

Boy Scout Troop 277 sponsored by Bushnell Congregational Church now is meeting Wednesday nights at the Silver Springs Elementary School on Silver Springs Drive in Highland Lakes Subdivision.

All boys between the ages of 11-13 years old are invited to attend along with a friend. All parents and friends of scouting are invited to attend as well. For more information, call Scoutmaster Harvey Seymour at 535-4206 or the District Scout Executive at 897-1965.

Nature programs set

Two nature programs have been scheduled for Sunday, October 24, by the Kensington Metpark near Milford.

At 9:30 a.m., an "Autumn Nature Bike Ride", covering five miles in two hours, will be conducted by naturalist Mark Szabo who will take participants for a tour along the paved bike trail and discuss the activities of plants and animals during this transitional time of year. Participants should bring a bike.

Eatery celebrates by sharing profits

By SUSAN KAUPPILA

At a time when many businesses are floundering because of tough economic conditions, Stach's Restaurant in Highland Township is thriving.

In fact, Stanley Osdras, better known as Stach, and his wife Pat are so pleased that their business has prospered they recently gave away more than $1,000 to local charitable organizations in appreciation for the community's support.

"It's a two-way street. They (local residents) have supported me and I try to help them, too. We're successful because of them," Stach commented.

As part of their third anniversary celebration, Stach invited charitable groups to sign up for the give-away contest. Persons patronizing the restaurant could then designate their favorite organization on the back of their checks. For every food purchase over $1, one "charity point" per person was recorded for the registered groups.

At the end of the month-long contest, Stach and Pat presented $500 checks to the winning church organization and to the winning civic charity, as well as $10 checks to the 12 runners-up.

The Christian Service Committee of Holy Spirit Catholic Church in Highland and the Palmer Drug Abuse Program—Huron Valley Branch were the major recipients.

A former ice cream truck driver for 29 years who was forced to quit due to arthritis in his back, Stach had never been in business prior to his restaurant adventure.

"I had no track record. In my travels though, I use to pick out the good points about each restaurant I visited. It is knowing what you want and telling someone how you want it done.

"It has been a day by day learning experience, believe me. We have had our problems like buying the wrong equipment at first. I would get frustrated and down in the dumps. Then Father Howard (former priest at Holy Spirit) would come in and give me a boost," Stach recalled.

Although the business is named after him, the amiable Stach attributes most of the success to his wife Pat who owns the restaurant.

"Pat has been tremendous. She greets people with a smile and listens to their troubles. Without her, this place couldn't operate," Stach remarked.

When they first decided to embark on the restaurant venture, the couple knew they had to fight a "losing or poor image" because of the six preceding restaurants that were located in their building on North Millford Road, south of M-59.

"This place had a bad reputation. We could have gone under like the rest. It took a lot of hard work, but now groups like Rotary, Lion's Club and the Viet Nam Vets meet here monthly.

"At first, I worked the back and Pat worked the front. Now I have a good cook plus a manager," Stach explained, noting that his back continues to plague him.

Looking ahead, Stach and Pat want to expand. They also hope that their children will become interested and join them in the business.

Offering breakfast, lunch and dinner from 7 a.m. until 10 p.m., Stach's moderately priced menu includes a wide range of meals designed to attract families. Chicken and fish and chips are the house specialties, according to Pat. The restaurant does have a liquor license, but "liquor isn't pushed. It is especially for meetings," Stach noted. In addition to hard work, the couple points to guidance and blessings from God.

"What's happened with our business has been just overwhelming. I find myself saying, 'Why us, God?' It's fantastic. No one can do anything without the Lord," Stach concluded.

Stach's restaurant in Highland caters to families

Christian Service Committee of Holy Spirit, Nora and Dick Wilson, promoters of the Palmer Drug Abuse Program, and Stach's wife Pat Osdras.

Workshops set to aid business

Area organizations are scheduling fall meetings and workshops focusing on business and management.

Edward Leader, nationally recognized authority on professional selling, will conduct a workshop on "How To Develop Successful Sales Skills" October 19 at the Sheraton Southfield Hotel, 17017 West Nine Mile.

The seminar is sponsored by Eastern Michigan University's division of continuing education. For more information Patrick Barley may be contacted at EMU, 487-0312.

Special Problems in Management: Employee Evaluation Techniques is the topic of a workshop being offered October 22 at Madonna College. Call the college, 591-5049, for information.

James J. Leisenring, CPA, a former Michigan resident who recently was appointed director of research and technical activities of the Financial Accounting Standards Board, Stamford, Connecticut, will be the featured speaker at a dinner meeting honoring new CPAs October 27.

Sponsored by the Metropolitan Detroit Chapter of the Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants the meeting will be held at the Main Event, Pontiac Silverdome.

The chapter invites CPAs who have been certified with the last year to an orientation at 5 p.m.

Chapter chairman Robert S. Sher, executive vice president of Schostak Brothers and Company of Southfield, will preside.

PSYCHOTHERAPY AND COUNSELING SERVICES, 511 North ter in Northville, announces the development and implementation of phobia and anxiety disorders clinic.

According to Clinic Director Stephen Paul Stocker, phobias and emotional reactions are among the most common emotional ailments — and also are the most responsive to treatment. In recent years, highly specific treatment techniques, such as hypnotherapy, systematic desensitization, grade practice experiences, have been applied to phobias and anxiety reactions.

Stocker indicates that these approaches are all available at the clinic. Medication is available on a case-by-case basis to assist the patient in coping with extreme anxiety or panic reactions.

Staff members include Stocker, Dr. Alexander Petrides, Diane and Arnold Keller.

THE MILL GALLERY located at 100 West Commerce Road one block west of Main Street in Milford is holding an anniversary mixed media show through November 13. It features work of 44 artists. Hours are Tuesday through Saturday from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

THE WORLD'S LARGEST SELLING CHAIN SAW

MILLION DOLLAR SALES — Northville residents Ron Barnum, left, and Harry Millnamow (owner of Northville Insurance Exchange with John Maloney) display awards recognizing the agency's outstanding insurance sales record in 1981. They were presented recently by Carl Lyngso, life sales manager for American States Insurance, and Bill Given, property and casualty sales manager, at the Northville Insurance Exchange office at 160 East Main. It marked the first time the agency had sold more than $1 million of life insurance with one company in a single year. The actual total was $1,100,000. In making the presentation, American States noted that it was unusual for an agent specializing in property and casualty insurance as Barnum does to rank so high in life insurance sales.

RUTH BARD, LPN, has been named administrator of the Williamsburg Convalescent Center, 21017 Middlebelt Road, announced Regional Supervisor Connie Schwaderer, RN.

The Novi resident comes to the 112-bed skilled nursing home with experience in long-term care as a nurse and social worker. Before becoming administrator at Williamsburg, she underwent an administrator-in-training program with Beverly Enterprises, a national health care company. She participated in the training program at Beverly Manor Novi, where she was also a social worker for three years.

"The program is designed to familiarize potential administrators with all areas of nursing home operation before they take over a facility," Schwaderer said. "It also insures that each of our administrators is knowledgeable of Beverly policies that uphold quality patient care."

Besides being a licensed practical nurse, Bard has a bachelor's degree in business administration from Madonna College and is a social work technician.

In her new position, she will oversee the operation of Williamsburg Convalescent Center in every aspect — from patient care to administrative duties. She will supervise about 100 employees and be responsible for the care of more than 100 elderly and handicapped residents.

Intensive housing study to survey future market

The old law of supply and demand that generally controlled home sales and prices in the past appears headed for serious changes.

The National Association of Realtors and as many as 50 housing-related organizations are launching an industry-wide research project to forecast market conditions to the year 2000. While examining a wide variety of topics affecting future housing, the research will have a marketing orientation with heavy stress on consumer needs and preferences.

Called "The Housing Futures Study," the three-year project will be conducted by researchers at the Joint Center for Urban Studies at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Harvard University.

The prospectus outlining the study points out that housing forecasts in the past have been based on long term demographic extrapolations and seldom addressed consumer needs and desires.

"One of the significant aspects of this much-needed study is that it will receive support from all elements of the housing industry," said Lloyd Mason, president of the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors.

"It will include government agencies, lending organizations, builders and supplier industries, as well as Realtors. In the past, most research has been done independently by these varied interests and was never combined to give a complete picture."

Mason said the future of housing finance and federal housing policies would be covered in the study, along with such subjects as industrial organization, technological change and analysis of shifting housing inventories.

"Perhaps most importantly," he said, "it will closely address the needs of future homebuyers. Done in sufficient depth, this should present a more accurate solution for satisfying the growth in housing demand."

Mason said the study results could provide the key for smoothing out the peaks and valleys in housing availability by permitting informed strategic planning throughout the industry.

"We hope it can take us out of the boom or bust cycles historically faced by our industry," he said. "When the bottom drops out of the market — as it has during the past three years — everybody suffers from the decreased business activity and resultant unemployment."

"Of course, in the middle are the prospective buyers and sellers trapped by the affordability squeeze. Improved planning should place affordable homes on the market to meet known demand without causing artificially high prices that stem from an overly competitive market."

Consumers benefit with lower prices in beef market

All kinds of good food buys greet shoppers this month.

Food shoppers will find lower retail beef prices at the meat counter during October, according to Ada Shinabarger of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Supermarkets are cutting prices and promoting beef more heavily to reflect price decreases that have filtered down from producers and packers in recent weeks, she said.

Consumers have already responded to the lower beef prices and heavier promotion by purchasing five percent more beef. Beef prices should continue to weaken for another month or so and then stay at the lower levels for a while, Shinabarger said.

She cites cheap feed and heavy marketing of cattle as reasons for the drop in prices.

Retail pork prices, on the other hand, are anything but low. The high price of pork is not expected to drop significantly before mid-1983.

Broiler prices have strengthened in recent weeks and retailers will likely use them for an occasional featured item. But beef will be the main meat promotional item for quite some time.

Fresh mushrooms are a likely ingredient in some favorite beef recipes and national output of them is rising.

Excellent quality fresh mushrooms now are available in most supermarkets. The 1982-83 national output is up to 10 percent, continuing an upward trend that started about 15 years ago. Michigan is the number three producer of fresh mushrooms and production here is up about five percent, according to the Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service.

A huge crop of California table grapes will be on the market this month. Choose from pale green Thompson seedless or red Tokay varieties. Michigan Concord and green Niagara grapes also are available.

Bartlett pears from California and Michigan also will be on the scene. Homegrown pears will be smaller, but they will make up for their size in flavor.

October is the month to search out novel varieties of apples, such as the Gala, a large yellow apple blushed with pink. Other attention-getters are Newton Pippin, a huge cooking apple, and Cortland, excellent for salads because its snow-white flesh stays bright longer.

After October, shoppers will be limited to Michigan varieties grown in commercial quantities, including Jonathan, Ida Red, Delicious, McIntosh, Spy and Rome.

As for fall vegetables, the biggest eye-catchers are pumpkins and hard-shell squash. Even the names of the squash are unusual — turban, hubbard, butternut, acorn and spaghetti, which cooks up much like the pasta product.

Cauliflower peaks in October. Excellent quality broccoli, Brussel sprouts, Chinese cabbage and other cabbages will be featured at markets this month.

A good crop of potatoes, both in the state and nationally, means fresh potatoes will be featured often by budget-minded cooks. Onions and carrots, key ingredients in many dishes, are also in good supply.

013 Card of Thanks
I would like to thank each and everyone for the beautiful flowers, cards and gifts that were sent to me while I was in the hospital. Also the acts of kindness that were given after I came home. Marie Cooper.

MAY we take this way of saying to all our family, friends and neighbors how much we enjoyed and appreciated your calls, cards, flowers and gifts which we received on the occasion of our 50th Anniversary. And a special "Thank You" to our kids, and our brothers and sisters for an enjoyable day. It was great! May God bless you all. Willard and Agnes Wiltse.

014 In Memoriam
In memory of Stanley S. D. Bates, Passed away October 16, 1979. I cannot say, and I will not say that he is dead. He is just away. With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand, he has wandered into an unknown land and he left us dreaming how very far it needs must be, since he lingers there. And you-oh, you, who the wildest yearn for an old-time step and the glad return, think of him faring on, as dear in the love of There as the love of Here. Think of him still as the same. I say, he is not dead, he is just away. His wife and children.

Gramma's Grape Jelly

Of all the things I remember
Now that Gramma's passed away,
Is picking her luscious grapes
On a cool September day.

They grew on a fence
And up into a tree.
The tree was fun to climb
And oh, how far you could see!

Later we'd wash the grapes
And put them in a pan.
After cooking them awhile
Got out the jars to can.

The jelly was a special treat
Our family loved so much.
It was tart, it was sweet,
It had Gramma's special touch.

But the best part of all
Could not come from a shelf.
It came right from Gramma,
The love she gave from herself.

Bentley runs out clock on Mustangs, 16-10

By JOHN MYERS

The name of the game in football is tail control. Northville's football team watched Livonia Bentley effectively run out the clock in the fourth quarter to fall for the third time this season 16-10. The Bulldogs held the ball for nearly 11 of the 12 fourth-period minutes to hand Northville its second Western Lakes Activities Association loss in three contests. Northville now is 1-2 in the Western Division, while Bentley improved its mark to 3-0 in the Lakes Division.

Bentley's Keith Perine bulled in from four yards out with 10:59 remaining to give the Bulldogs a 16-10 advantage. Northville's Jim Thomson, who scored the lone Mustang touchdown in the second quarter, punted the ball to the Bentley 16 after the Mustangs were unable to get a first down in three plays after the Bentley score.

From there, it was all Bentley as the Bulldogs used 17 running plays in marching down to the Northville five-yard line to seal the victory.

"It was like a nightmare standing on the sidelines watching them drive the ball," head coach Dennis Colligan lamented. "We were just praying to get the ball back."

The fourth-year mentor noted he had quarterback Dave Longridge beside him explaining what to do on offense when the Mustangs got the ball back, but it never happened.

"We just couldn't hold them," he explained. "When Thomson punted the ball down to the 16, I told the coaches 'That's good. We'll get the ball back around midfield if we hold them'."

"But, it was like a nightmare just waiting to get the ball back," Colligan added.

Defensively, the Mustangs tried just about everything from blitzes to a goal line defense at midfield for one play, but could never come up with the big play.

"That's too bad," Colligan said.

"I can't take anything away from Bentley. They're not a great football team, but they played well Friday. They are well-coached, and Bentley did a nice job," he added.

The Mustangs also were without the services of standout running back and linebacker Andy Dimitroff after he was kicked in the right knee (not the one he injured last season) late in the third quarter. Colligan admitted the team had a flat spot after Dimitroff went out, but that he wasn't going to put him back in the game to risk a more serious injury.

Dimitroff should be ready for action against Livonia Churchill at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Colligan said. The game is Homecoming night for Northville.

Northville also had its moment of ball-control offense in the first half as the Mustangs rattled off 18 plays before Bill Kinnard nailed a 32-yard field goal with 15 seconds left before halftime to knot the score at 10-all. It was Northville's first field goal since the 1978 season.

The score came after Bentley's Chad Darke hit a 42-yard field goal to go up 10-7. It was set up by a nifty punt return to the Northville 28, but Bentley was unable to move the ball in three plays.

The Bulldogs got on the scoreboard first when Perine ran in from one yard for a 7-0 first-quarter lead.

Northville came right back to tie the score on its next series when Dimitroff on the halfback option pass hit Thomson for a 32-yard touchdown.

The closest Northville came to scoring in the second half was when the Mustangs drove to the Bentley 38 but were stopped on downs. Northville had one other possession stopped at midfield.

After the Northville punt, Bentley started its winning touchdown drive from its own 26.

"They (Bentley) dominated the fourth quarter, and we dominated the second quarter," Colligan said.

"For all practical purposes, it was a pretty close game until (Bentley's) last drive," he added.

The Bulldogs ran off 50 plays, while Northville was able to run 49. The Mustangs finished with 214 yards in total offense, while Bentley accounted for 244. Dimitroff rushed for 125 yards in 25 attempts.

"We were pretty evenly matched," Colligan observed. "These were two evenly matched teams."

Northville will be looking to square its 2-3 overall and 1-2 divisional record against Churchill Friday on Homecoming night.

"It will be a good ballgame. They're better than an 0-5 ballclub," Colligan warned. "They're always a good ballclub, and you can always expect a great defensive effort from them."

"They have to be charged after coming off the Western contest," he added.

Churchill lost a close 14-7 game to Walled Lake Western last Friday. In fact, the Chargers had a brief 7-0 lead before the Warriors came back to win.

Tennis team nets two wins

Both Northville's girls' tennis squad and Farmington Harrison's traded sweeps on each other last Friday, but it did not work out to the Mustangs' advantage.

The Hawks swept the four singles matches, while Northville cleaned up in the three doubles matches in this Western Lakes Activities Association encounter. The result: Harrison 4, Northville 3.

The loss came at the tail end of a busy week for the Mustangs who won earlier matches against Walled Lake Central last week Wednesday 6-1 and Milford Lakeland 6-1 last week Monday. Thus, Northville stands at 9-3 overall and tied for first in the Western Division with Harrison and Canton.

"I'm a little disappointed," veteran coach Uta Filkin said. "I figured it would be close. We came close in fourth singles, but not close enough."

Holly Hubbard was downed by Harrison's Theresa Moleman in straight 6-4 sets at fourth singles. It was the closest Northville came to winning a singles match all afternoon.

Marnie Dillow was defeated by Kelly Davidson in straight 6-2 sets at first singles, while Gail Engelmeyer was blanked in straight 6-0 sets by Julie Lukasiewicz in second singles. Jill Stevens was defeated by Sharise Berk 6-3, 6-1 at third singles.

While Harrison had the relatively easy time in singles, Northville cruised through the doubles matches.

Jackie Nicols and Denise Colovas were 6-4, 6-1 winners over Jill Birs and Ann Jacobson at first doubles. The second tandem of Jeannine Cook and Jean DuSablun were 6-2, 6-1 winners over Amy Harris and Maria Grigilo, while Vicki Robins and Amy Nieuwkoop were straight 6-1 victors over Deanie Kool and Laura Welling at third doubles.

Northville had little trouble with either Central or Lakeland. In fact, Filkin shuffled her line-up against Central to include three junior varsity players seeing varsity action.

Soccer team extends unbeaten streak

Not since early September has the Northville boys' soccer team tasted the agony of defeat. The Mustangs still stayed away from the loss column last Thursday as they recorded another victory and tie to stretch the string of unbeaten games to eight.

Northville allowed a late second-half goal to Livonia Bentley which forced a 3-all tied last Thursday and thus change the term of undefeated streak to unbeaten. Also, the Mustangs tripped Farmington Harrison 3-2 last week Tuesday.

Livonia Stevenson, one of the top rated teams in the state, was the last team to defeat Northville 5-2 back on September 15.

Since then, Northville has been one of the hottest teams in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

The Bentley contest was a seesaw affair with the Bulldogs grabbing an early 1-0 lead. However, Northville stormed back with goals by Tom Gribbell and Randy Eppers to take a 2-1 lead.

Bentley knotted the score with a goal from 30-35 yards, according to co-coaches Marv Gans and Dan Swayne. Greg Marshall, who has been on a scoring tear, netted a penalty kick to give the Mustangs a 3-2 advantage. But, Bentley came back with another goal from about 30-35 yards with five minutes remaining to tie the contest.

The coaches believed, though, that was a game the Mustangs should have won. However, they noted the team had some injuries it was playing over.

Northville also outshot the Bulldogs 25-12.

Marshall tallied two goals and Fabio Nielsen added another to pace the victory over Harrison. Northville also had a goal called back for a reason which the coaches were never given a good answer, they said.

The Mustangs netted an indirect kick, but the official blew his whistle. After Harrison protested, the ball came back for a drop ball not near where the indirect kick took place. The coaches said they didn't understand the call.

The Mustangs were seeking revenge against Plymouth Canton yesterday, and will battle Livonia Franklin at 3:30 p.m. Thursday at the Northville football field.

Also, the Mustangs will travel to Stevenson Monday for a first-round Class A regional contest against the team they were last beaten by. If the Mustangs win, then they probably will play again October 22.

Northville also has a non-league contest against Dearborn Edsel Ford at home at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

With all of the games coming up, the coaches noted it will be a critical week, but the team will take the games one at a time.

Linkers cop two wins; place sixth at WLAA

BY JOHN MYERS

At least Joe Blake received what he was hoping for last week.

The veteran golf mentor wanted his Northville linkers to triumph in its last two meets to complete the regular season over .500.

The Mustangs did that with Western Lakes Activities Association victories over Lakes Division foe Walled Lake Central 213-215 last week Tuesday and Western Division rival Plymouth Canton 199-207 last week Wednesday.

The double wins enable Northville to complete the season at 7-6 overall and 5-4 in the Western Division. The Mustangs tied with Walled Lake Western for second in their division behind divisional champion Livonia Churchill, which finished at 6-3. Farmington won the Lakes Division with an 8-1 mark.

Northville, however, did not do quite so well in the WLAA meet Monday at Rolling Meadows finishing in a sixth-place tie with Plymouth Salem at 415.

"I thought we could have been in the top four or five," Blake lamented "If we could have had a couple of scores in our potential of 70s...but our best score was an 81."

Dave Pohlod was the top Mustang golfer with an 81, while Bob Pegrum carded an 82 for the 18 holes. Bob Justus toured the course for an 83, while Ray Nutter came in with an 84 and Gary Metz an 85.

Blake noted those were the kinds of consistent scores he has been looking for, but he would have liked to see that kind of scoring down in the 70s.

Livonia Stevenson won the league meet with a team total of 392, which was six strokes better than Central's 398. Churchill was third at 399, Farmington was fourth at 403 and Western was fifth at 405.

After Northville and Salem, Canton was eighth at 424, Farmington Harrison was ninth at 430 and Livonia Bentley was last at 434.

Blake was somewhat surprised at Central's finish considering Northville had defeated the Vikings just six days earlier, but he explained, "I understand they were an up and down team all season. They played fairly well today (Monday)."

In that Central match, Pegrum was the top Northville linker with a nine-hole total of 38. Pohlod, Justus, Kip Mack and Eric Morfe all carded 44s to complement Pegrum's round.

The next day was Northville's best of the season as the Mustangs broke 200 for the first time as a team.

Pegrum, Pohlod and Nutter carded 38s, while Mack had a 42 and Justus a 43.

Ray Nutter carded an 84 at the WLAA meet

Churchill harriers hand NHS first league defeat

Livonia Churchill showed Northville's cross country why it is the team to beat in the Western Lakes Activities Association as the Chargers easily handled the Mustangs 15-48 last Thursday.

It was the second loss of the season for the Mustangs, now 4-2 overall and 3-1 in the Western Division.

"Churchill is a really good team. It will likely contend in the state meet if it keeps improving the way it has been," Northville coach Ed Gabrys said.

The Chargers, behind Don Miller's winning 16:55 clocking, put five runners across the finish line before the first Northville runner. The Mustangs' Pat Campbell ran his, and the team's, best time on the tough and demanding Cass Benton course. Campbell took sixth with a 17:43.

Jim Willoughby was eighth across the finish with an 18:10, while Dave Nafe was next at 18:24.

Jim O'Neill, Northville's top harrier for most of the season, did not run well against Churchill. Part of the reason, Gabrys explained, was O'Neill found out after the meet he had pneumonia. The junior runner will be out of action for a while, and Gabrys is hoping to have him back in time for the Livonia Bentley meet October 21 and the WLAA meet October 26.

There were some bright spots, according to Gabrys, as many of the Mustangs had their best times of the season. "We had some good times, but not good enough," he offered.

The reserves lost to Churchill 22-33, while the girls' team fell 21-36.

Kelly Wool was the first Mustang, and second overall, across the line in a time of 19:56, which was her best of the season at Cass Benton.

You will notice that each square below is also numbered from 1 to 14 and each contains a football game to be staged this coming weekend. To complete your entry you must do the following:

- (1) After each number on your paper write the name of the sponsor of the corresponding square.
- (2) Following the sponsor's name—write the name of the winning team
- (3) In addition you must pick the total points scored on the outcome of the game in square 14. This will be used in the case of a tie and then the contestant whose score is closest to the actual score will be declared the winner

Be sure to write your name, address and phone number plainly on your piece of paper (your entry). In case of a tie, prize money will be split.

NOTE: Only ONE entry per HOUSEHOLD family per week. Prize money paid only to name on entry. PLEASE do not enter several times using friends' names. Such entries will be disqualified if discovered.

Copies of the contest will be posted at the Northville Record office at 104 W. Main, each week.

Entries should be addressed "Football Contest" Northville Record, 104 W. Main, Northville and must be postmarked or brought to our office no later than 5 p.m. each Friday.

Employees of the Northville Record and The Novi/Walled Lake News or sponsoring merchants are not eligible

Tankers overwhelmed by Brighton

It is a rare exception when the Northville girls' swim team does not take at least one first-place finish at a dual meet — win or lose. But, that is exactly what happened to the Mustangs against Brighton last week Tuesday.

The Bulldogs were simply awesome in claiming firsts in all 11 events in handing Northville an 81-46 defeat. The Bulldogs had two swimmers reach the state qualifying time in two events, and just missed by tenths of a second in five others.

"With rare exception we swam poorly," second-year coach Bill Dicks said. "They (Brighton) swam very well. Even if we had (swum) better, they still could have won the meet."

However, the Mustangs rebounded for an easy 87-36 win over Western Lakes Activities Association opponent Farmington Harrison last Thursday. Northville now stands at 3-2 overall.

"Harrison has 11 swimmers, but only swam with nine because two were out sick," Dicks related. "They have the same problem we had last year. They don't have the numbers."

Also, Dicks noticed the Mustangs swam better than they did against Brighton in addition to having a better attitude.

"They were having fun. They were up to swim," he explained.

Unlike the Brighton meet, Northville took 10 of the 11 possible first-place finishes.

Both the 200-yard medley and 400-yard freestyle relay teams took first place. Khris Korowin, Cindy Panowicz, Kathy Bainbridge and Tish Johnson composed the medley relay, while Shawn Bales, Kim Thompson, Kristin Nelsen and Trish Settles composed the freestyle relay.

Both Nelsen and Thompson took two individual firsts. Nelsen claimed the 100-yard breaststroke and the 50-yard freestyle. Thompson won the 200-yard individual medley and the 100-yard butterfly.

Other winners included Bales in the 100-yard backstroke; Bainbridge in the 100-yard freestyle; Cathy Heitert in diving; and Settles in the 200-yard freestyle.

Northville also took six seconds with Holly Sellen doing so in the 100 freestyle; Johnson in the 500-yard freestyle; Bainbridge in the 100 backstroke; Kim McRae in diving; Bales in the 200 individual medley; and the 200 medley relay team of Stacy Sweitzer, Dawn Biondi, Karen Brining and McRae.

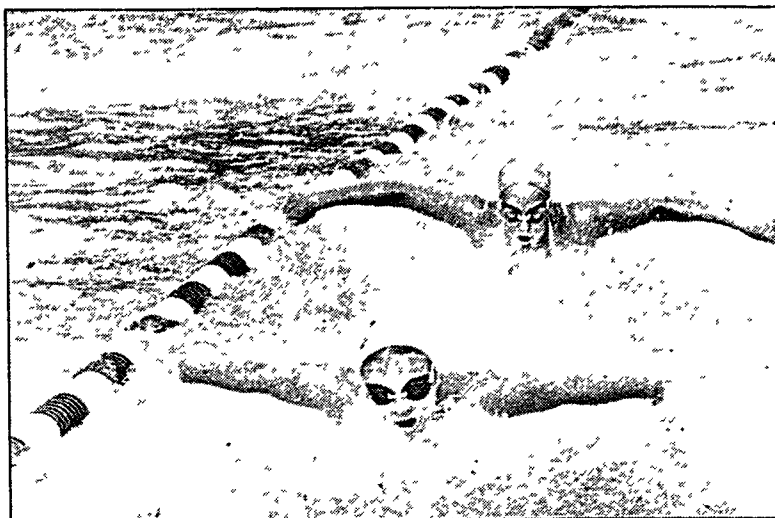

Taking thirds in the meet were Kim Brining in the 200 freestyle; Linda Shott in the 50 freestyle; Mandy Watts in diving; Kim Brining in the 100 butterfly; Panowicz in the 500 freestyle; Settles in the 100 breaststroke; and the 400 freestyle relay team of Watts, Kim Brining, Thompson and Panowicz.

Northville took eight second-place finishes in the Brighton meet. The 200 medley relay squad of Korowin, Johnson and Kim and Karen Brining started things off with a runner-up finish. Also, the 400 freestyle relay squad of Thompson, Settles, Nelsen and Lisa Felicelli was second.

Individually, Thompson copped two runner-up slots in the 200 individual medley and the 100 butterfly. Settles was second in the 50 freestyle, while Nelsen was runner-up in the 500 freestyle. Felicelli claimed second in the 200 freestyle, while Bainbridge did the same in the 100 backstroke.

Thirds were taken by Peggy Herald

Mustangs trade sweeps in loss to Harrison, 4-3

Dillow, Engelmeyer and Stevens all won their respective matches, while Jennifer Trausch won at fourth singles.

Colovas and DuSablou teamed at first doubles for victory as did Laura Mitchell and Jenny Cass at second doubles. Robins and Nieuwkoop were defeated at third doubles.

Against Lakeland, Dillow, Engelmeyer, Stevens and Hubbard all were victorious. Cook and DuSablou were victors at first doubles, while Colovas and Trausch were second doubles winners. Robins and Nieuwkoop were defeated at third doubles.

The Mustangs also had some junior varsity matches against Lakeland with Julie Kiehfuss winning her pro set singles match 8-1. Mitchell and Cass were 8-2, 8-1 doubles victors over two different opponents. Trausch and Kiehfuss also were 8-3 winners, while Cyndi DeHoff and Lori Housman were 8-4 victors.

The freshmen team of Mandy Olgren and Melinda Paffel were 8-3 winners, while Kris Kazyak and Sue Shureb were defeated 8-4.

Northville was in action against Western Division foe Livonia Churchill Monday and participated in the WLAA meet Tuesday at Plymouth Canton. Northville hosts non-league Brighton before heading to the Class A regionals at Ann Arbor Friday.

Junior Varsity gridders fall, 15-13

Despite a second-half rally, the Northville junior varsity fell to unbeaten Livonia Bentley 15-13 last Thursday in a Western Lakes Activities Association match up.

Rick Van Buren scored the Mustangs' first touchdown on an 85-yard kickoff return after a Bentley score in the third quarter. Doug Hartman added another six-pointer on a nine-yard run in the fourth quarter. Jeff Bush added the extra point conversion.

Defensively, Northville was paced by Mark Deal with nine first hits, while Phil Pendleton added eight. Also, Ken Rossetot had two pass interceptions.

O'Sheehan's Run to help recreation

O'Sheehan's is sponsoring the First Annual Fun Run in conjunction with the Northville Trotters Running Club and the recreation department Saturday, November 6. All proceeds will go to the recreation department.

The five kilometer race will begin at 9 a.m., and the 10 kilometer race at 9:30 a.m. by O'Sheehan's Tavern, 43333 Seven Mile. Medals will be awarded to the first and second place male and female finisher in each age group.

Early registrations must be received by Friday, October 29. The cost is $4 for 12 years old and under, $5 for running club members, $6 for 13 years old and older and $9 for late registration. For more information, call 349-0203.

There is an information packet at the recreation department for all interested skiers between the ages of 12 and 17 years old. The club is open to 350 members, and registration will take place the month of November only. The club will ski at Alpine Valley on Friday evenings.

Youth basketball league registrations still are being accepted until October 22 for interested third through ninth grade boys and girls. Coaches are needed, and games are played from January until March on Saturdays and/or Sundays.

There is open swim at the high school Mondays and Wednesdays from 8:30-9:30 p.m. and Saturdays from noon until 2 p.m. and 4-6 p.m. The cost is 50 cents for one hour and $1 for two hours.

There will be a Northville Running Club meeting at 7 p.m. Wednesday, October 20, at city hall. Current and new members are encouraged to attend.

Ayers claims grid contest over Booth

For the first time this season, a woman has come out on top in the weekly Northville Record-Novi-Walled Lake News football contest.

Carolann Ayers, of Northville, claimed the $10 top prize as she correctly picked 10 of 13 winners. Her only misses were taking Walled Lake Central, Ohio State and Bishop.

Northville's Kenneth Booth also had 10 correct winners, but took the $5 second-place prize money by virtue of Ayers' closer guess on the total points scored Michigan/Michigan State tie-breaker. She selected 42 points, while Booth picked 31. The actual was 48.

Seven persons tied with nine correct answers with Novi's Steve Kroetsch taking the $3 third-place prize.

The Central Michigan/Western Michigan game had to be disqualified because it ended in an 18-all tie.

The games which created the most trouble for contestants were Wisconsin-Ohio State; Bishop-Prairie View; and Texas-Oklahoma. Only six persons thought Wisconsin would pull off the upset, while 12 believed Prairie View could gain a triumph. Also, only 10 persons thought Oklahoma was capable of beating Texas.

Cagers bested by Bentley, Harrison

It really should not come as too much of a surprise that the Northville girls' basketball team dropped two more games last week.

The Mustangs ran into two stronger Western Lakes Activities Association squads in Farmington Harrison and Livonia Bentley, and the results were basically the same as Northville met a tougher squad.

Harrison began the week Tuesday (October 5) with a 55-18 thumping and Bentley, ranked second in the Class A, handed the Mustangs a 53-21 beating last Thursday.

First-year coach Rick Hurst noted it was basically the same story as in past games with stronger opponents. But he did get to try some different players in the Bentley contest because of an injury to Kathy Korowin — and the results were rather pleasing to Hurst.

"Julie Maliszewski I was real impressed with at point guard," Hurst praised.

Maliszewski was filling in for Korowin who is out with a back injury for at least another week. Korowin hurt her back in a recreational soccer contest October 1, and was unable to practice all last week.

"That didn't help," said Hurst of not having Korowin. "She was at the point where she could contribute some points."

The defensive work of Lisa Cahill, who had to guard All Stater Kim Archer most of the evening, was commended by Hurst.

"She did as respectable a job as anyone could ask of her," he offered.

The intimidation factor of Bentley already had the Mustangs thinking they were going to lose against the highly-regarded Bulldogs. And it showed most of the first half.

Bentley stormed to a 20-4 first-quarter lead, and led 27-10 at the half. Northville played even with starters for about three minutes into the game before the Bulldogs started to steal the ball from Northville for some easy lay ups.

around was rebounding, according to Hurst.

"We couldn't rebound," Hurst said. "They absolutely crushed us on the

"We couldn't rebound. They absolutely crushed us on the boards."

Rick Hurst,
 NHS cage coach

"We fell back into the routine of the point guard bringing the ball over half-court hesitantly and getting trapped before the ball was stolen among other things," Hurst related.

A halftime talk explaining the team can't be intimidated and the guards should bring the ball over half-court with more authority worked, according to Hurst. He said Maliszewski started to run the ball over the half-court line in the second half, thus reducing the opportunities to be trapped.

Bentley played its starters for part of the third quarter before going to mass substitutions the rest of the contest. The Bulldogs were ahead 42-15 after three quarters.

"We were really impressed with Bentley. I was real impressed with their coach, and he ran the team with a lot of class."

Harrison broke open a close contest with 21 second-quarter points to record the triumph over Northville.

The Hawks held a slim 8-4 first-period lead before they started to soar in the second stanza. The key for the tur-boards." Harrison was especially dominant on the offensive end as Hurst noted the Hawks' Sue Ferguson was underneath to receive either a pass from Alice Short for a two-pointer or to grab a missed shot and put it back in the bucket.

The Mustangs host WLAA Western Division rival Walled Lake Western at 6 p.m. Thursday before hosting non-league Dearborn Tuesday.

Northville stands at 1-9 for the season and 1-7 in the Western Division.

Colts battle Westland in Pontiac Silverdome

For the second consecutive year, the Northville/Novi Colts will take its gridiron game to the den of the Detroit Lions — the Silverdome in Pontiac.

The Colts will battle the Westland Comets Sunday with the freshman contest starting at 2 p.m. if the National Football League Players' Association still is striking. If by chance there is a quick settlement and games are scheduled Sunday, the Colts will not start until 6:30 p.m.

There is no cost to see the game.

The Colts tuned up for Sunday's encounter with two wins and a loss.

The freshmen behind two touchdowns from both Matt Smith and Doug Cody trounced Belleville 25-12.

Smith rambled 65 yards with the opening kickoff for the first score, while Cody got the offense clicking with a 25-yard touchdown run. Smith then raced 50 yards on a nifty double reverse for another six pointer.

Cody completed the scoring with a 58-yard touchdown run in the fourth period as the Colts had 215 yards in total offense.

The freshmen now stand at 4-1 overall. The junior varsity also won its contest over Belleville as it recorded a 26-20 verdict. However, the varsity lost to the Cougars 24-6.

Gators sign-ups continue

October registrations still are being accepted for the Northville Gators United States Swim Club team at the Northville High School pool 5-8:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The cost per month is $10 for swimmers 10 years old and under and $20 for swimmers 11 years old and older. The maximum charge is $50 per family per month.

Berlin forward at Albion

Northville's Kevin Berlin is a forward wing on the this season's Albion College soccer team.

The freshman is being counted on, along with the rest of the Briton squad, by head coach Brian McPheely to turn the tables after Albion produced a 4-8 record in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association for fifth place.

Berlin is a 1982 graduate of Detroit Catholic Central High School.

Schoolcraft offers fitness

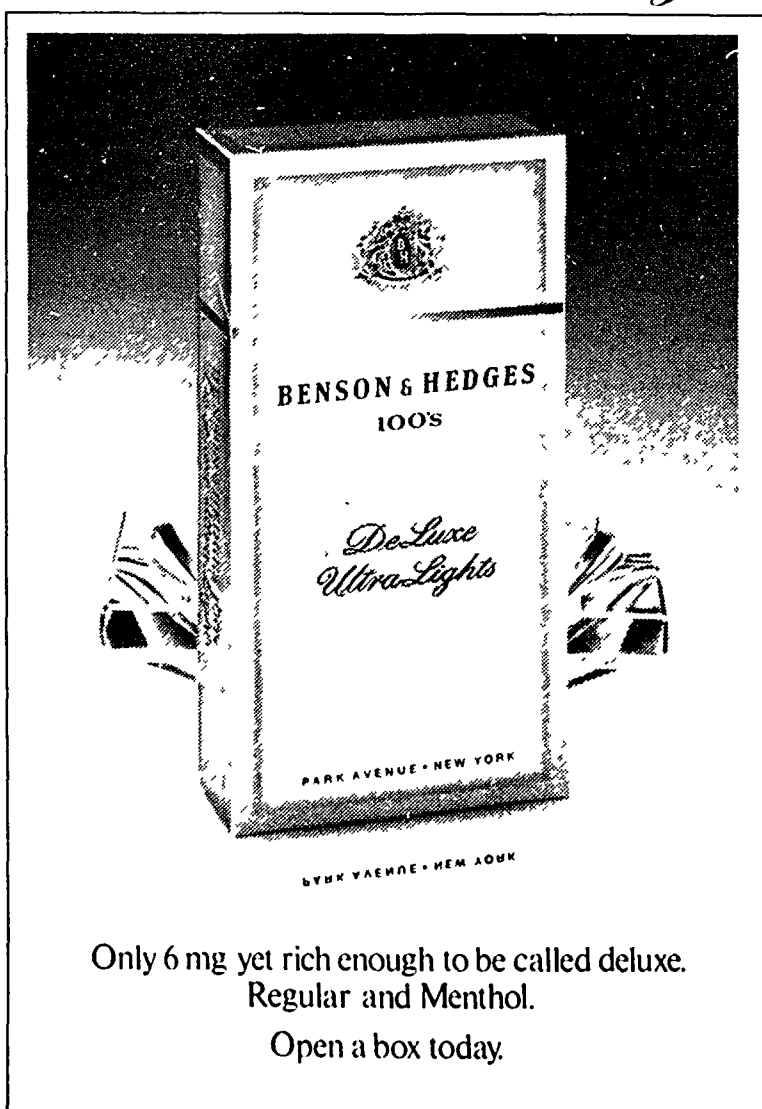

Schoolcraft College's fully equipped physical education complex is helping families and individuals keep trim and fit Sunday afternoons.

Membership in the club is by each 13-week semester and costs $20 per individual membership, ($38 for both semesters) or $55 per family membership ($99 for both semesters).

To apply for a membership, phone the Office of Community Service at 591-6400, extension 409.

Winning garden is family recreation area

The three-and-a-half acres surrounding the home of James and Dorothy Sullivan on Beck Road contain much more than landscaped gardens. As planned by the owners, the land surrounding the black-shuttered yellow home is a recreation area for the whole family.

"It's a wonderful, exciting home," commented Marie Schultz as she announced that the Sullivans were winners of the year's final Garden of the Month award of Country Girls Garden Branch.

In the four years since Jim Sullivan, his wife and daughters Jeanne, 11, and Renee, 8, he has installed a new tennis court as well as a light and sound system and has built a gazebo and bridges and fences.

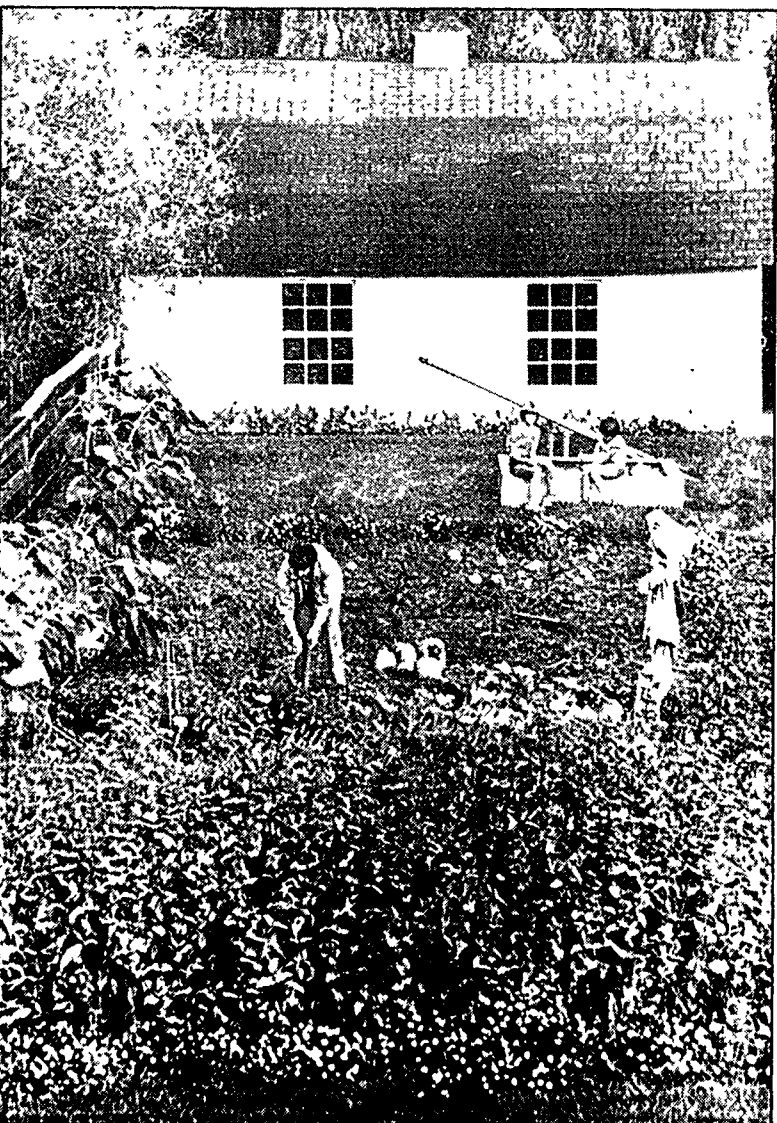

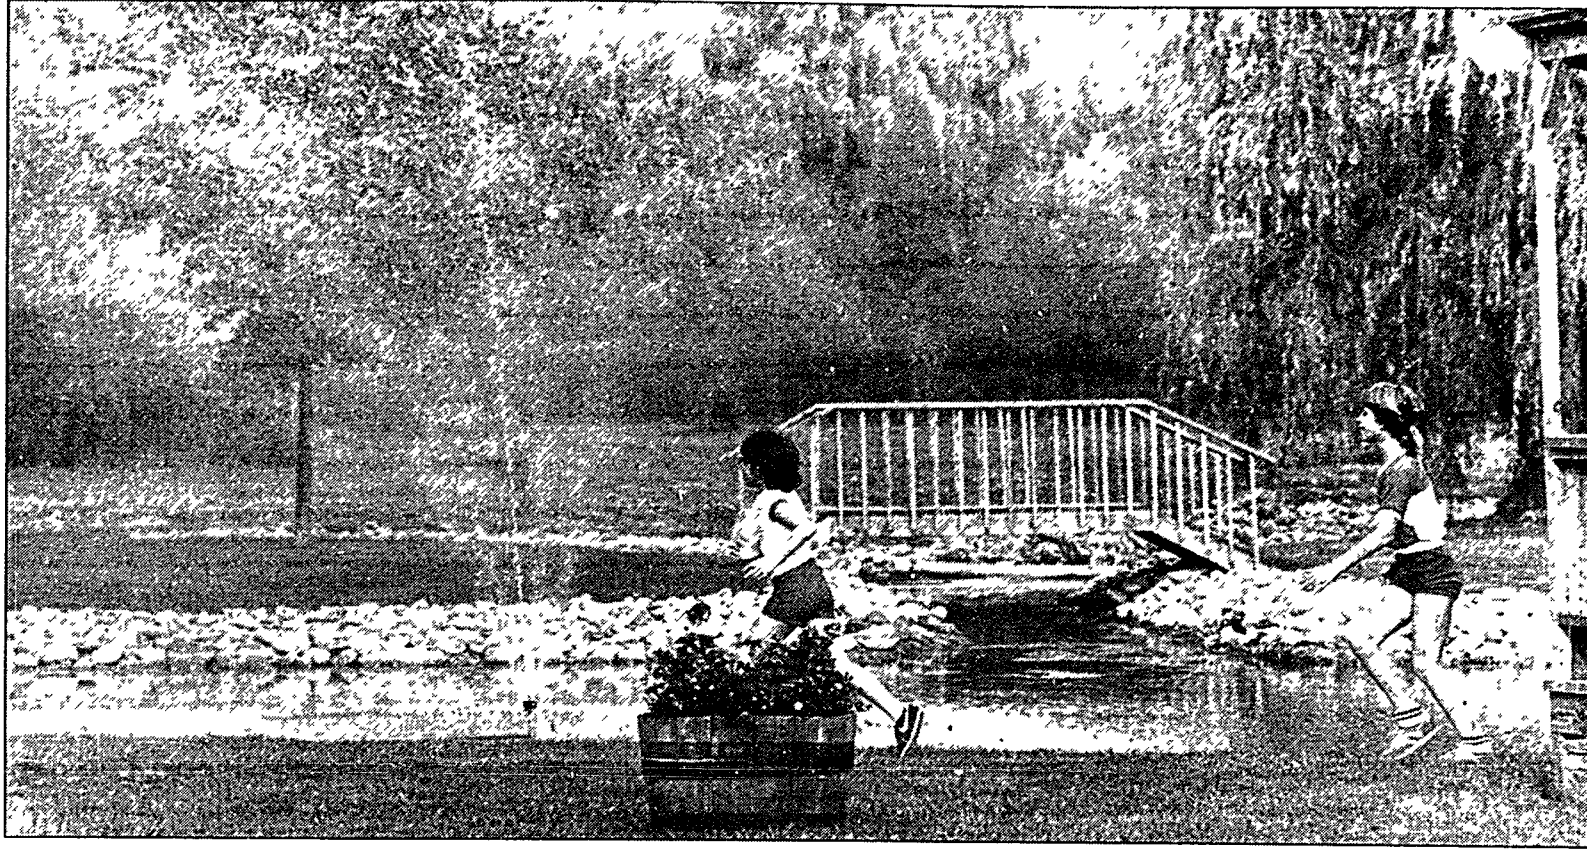

At the side of the house there's a flower and vegetable garden where pumpkins are growing as well as four-foot zinnias. Adjacent is the girls' playground.

During the summer hanging baskets decorated the large deck across the back of the home.

As the garden branch made its award, it commented that "this truly was Jim Sullivan's hobby — although he lists golf as another." Sullivan has landscaped around an artesian well and brought in quantities of rock to edge the ponds. There also are bird houses and bird feeders throughout the property.

Future plans include planting an orchard.

Record photographer John Galloway, who has photographed several of the award-winning gardens, endorsed the club's choice as he photographed the Sullivans at their home.

'Night Watch' tickets sold

Tickets now are on sale for the Schoolcraft College Players production of Lucille Fletcher's mystery drama "Night Watch."

The dinner theatre production will be presented November 12-13 and November 19-20.

"Night Watch" is the story of an insomniac who, while pacing the living room at 4 a.m., witnesses a murder through her window in the building across the way. When she tells her husband, best friend and others, they believe she is crazy.

After investigations, even the police believe she is crazy since no body can be found. Is she crazy? Or, is she being led to insanity by others? After all, her husband and her best friend are more than just friends.

The Schoolcraft College production is under the direction of James R. Hartman, a professional stage and film actor. Hartman holds bachelor's and master's degrees from the University of Cincinnati and an A.B.D. on a Ph.D. from Indiana University. In addition, he is a member of the Screen Actors Guild and Equity and has directed more than 50 productions and performed both on stage and in film. In Michigan, he was seen at Meadowbrook Theatre and filmed two CBS-TV movies here.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. and curtain time is at 8 p.m. in the Waterman Campus Center. The buffet will include Braised Beef Steak Marsala, Boneless Breast of Chicken with Creole Sauce, herbed rice or potatoes du jour, fresh green vegetable, fruit compote, salad bar, rolls and butter, pastry chef's dessert and beverage.

Tickets are $12 and must be purchased in advance at the College Bookstore. For further information, call the Theatre Department at 591-6400.

Tell me about your high gas heating bills and I'll tell you how you can save up to 20%* with Ameri-Therm.

For years I've talked with people who are tired of wasting fuel and money. Gas rates keep going up, so they come to me for advice.

Every day, for homeowners like you, I correct the money-wasting problem of gas energy loss with Ameri-Therm® Vent Dampers.

The problem is very common:

When a furnace, boiler or water heater shuts off, warm air is quickly lost up the chimney. Energy escapes, but you still end up paying for it.

People want to save as much as they can, so I tell them to keep heat inside with an Ameri-Therm Vent Damper.

Ameri-Therm is the thermally actuated vent damper that's:

- Proven in millions of locations
- Saves up to 20%* on fuel bills.
- Popular choice of American homeowners
- Five year limited warranty.
- Thermally actuated to operate efficiently with no wires, electricity, or other power source.
- Eligible for 15% tax credit.
- Available for gas furnaces, boilers and water heaters.

JoAnn Kissel admires an autumn arrangement created by Donna Marrow, right, of Donna and Lou's Hallmark Florist on Seven Mile for the Holiday Walk planned by Northville Mothers' Club. In addition to Mrs. Kissel's home, two others will be open and decorated for the walk, a new fund-raising project of the club scheduled for November 4. Record photo by John Galloway.

In Our Town

Kids' pumpkin-painting contest coming

By JEAN DAY

Autumn is a fun time to live in Our Town. There's a host of special activities scheduled during the next few weeks.

In conjunction with the annual retail merchants' "Autumn in Northville" promotion next Friday and Saturday, October 22-23, a pumpkin-painting contest is slated for young people. It will be supervised by Northville Kiwanis Club with youngsters encouraged to "create your own" Halloween pumpkin designs. Pumpkins will be supplied by the retail merchants.

Youngsters will have from 1-3 p.m. on the Saturday to paint pumpkin faces in the Town Square park on Main Street by the town clock. All participants will receive ribbons, and gift certificates will be awarded the three artists creating the most unusual pumpkin designs, Diana Fisher, president of the retail merchants association, reports. It won't be necessary to register in advance to participate, she adds, encouraging youngsters "just to come."

Next Friday evening the merchants are planning free hayrides through town during the autumn festival. Hours will be until 9 p.m. on Friday and 6 p.m. Saturday. There also will be free cider and doughnuts, and merchants are planning store specials.

Holiday Walk's new project of Mothers' Club

A "Holiday Walk" through homes of three members of Northville Mothers' Club that have been decorated by professional florists is the new project of the mothers' club. The homes of Kathi Jerome, 46270 Bloomcrest, JoAnn Kissel, 787 Springfield, and Martha Lyon, 710 West Main, are to be open from 2-6 p.m. Thursday, November 4, on the walk with holiday refreshments being served at all three.

Cooperating with the club in the new venture will be IV Seasons Florist decorating the Jerome home; French's of Livonia, the Lyon home; and Donna and Lou's of Seven Mile with Heidi and Bill Ruehr of Plymouth, the Kissel home.

A large committee headed by President Barbara Willoughby and Nancy Rosselot is planning the walk. Invitations are being sent to local groups, including garden clubs, with tickets to be $4 a person. Life members are being invited to attend as guests of the club.

In announcing the new project, Joy Holloway stresses that it does not replace other fund-raising events the club sponsors to raise money for projects in the public schools. Marathon bridge is in play; the Christmas cocktail parties are set for December 4; and the ski and skate sale is to be held November 6.

Questers plan Chicago jaunt to see Tiffany exhibit

Baseline Questers are canceling their previously scheduled October 21 meeting to take an overnight trip to Chicago October 19-20 to see a special Tiffany glass exhibit.

Ruth Klein is making arrangements with the help of former Northville resident Carolyn Middleton who recommended the special exhibit as "well worth viewing."

Leos conduct workshop

Northville residents Kathy and Victor Leo will conduct a workshop on "Publishing: Pursuit of Excellence" at the 21st Annual Writer's Conference October 22-23 at Oakland University.

The conference, co-sponsored by the Detroit Women Writers and the Division of Continuing Education at Oakland University, will offer 33 workshops conducted by professionals from Detroit and across the nation. Workshops will focus on various phases of writing including the business and publishing aspects and word processing.

Details may be obtained from the Continuing Education office at 377-3120.

BABY'S FLUORIDE

Q. Does my baby need to be given fluoride if he's being breast-fed?

ceives vitamins you may be directed to give him those that also contain fluoride

A. Mother's milk contains almost no fluoride. If your child is being completely breast fed he may need to be given a fluoride supplement. First check with your dentist. Some experts are now questioning fluoride for infants under six months of age. If fluoride is prescribed find out the proper dosage, the type to be used, and how to administer it. Usually it is given to infants in a liquid form from a drip type bottle. If your child re-
