Trustees approve $2,500 rec loan

By KEVIN WILSON

Recreation department employees will be paid this week, but the operation's creditors will have to wait a while longer.

Township trustees approved a loan of $2,500 to the department, just enough to cover this week's payroll, at the board's second special session within a week Monday night. Directors of the joint city-township department had asked for a "line of credit" up to $20,000 through February, citing a need for more than $8,000 immediately.

Fall-winter borrowing has become almost routine for the department and is necessary because of a cash flow problem. The department's major expense (energy for the community building, mostly) is made in the winter months while most revenues come at other times of the year.

Participation fees charged for junior baseball and soccer, both of which register during late January and early February, will allow repayment of the loan and cover operations through spring when other revenues come into the department.

But this month the financially-distressed recreation program was so short of cash, director Ed Kritcz told the township board Wednesday at the first special meeting, that without an immediate infusion of $8,500 it would be unable to make this week's $2,500 payroll or pay two months of bills totaling $7,200.

Kritcz and recreation commission chairman L.T. Sylvestre told the board of trustees that the city (which funds the department jointly with the township) did not have the money to lend the program. The city has covered the operation's fall-winter cashflow shortage the past two years. The township last year declined a request to cover half the department's needs.

But the township's general fund is in no position to extend $20,000 of credit, Treasurer Richard Henningsen said last week. "If we're going to do it, it's got to come from the water and sewer fund."

Supervisor John MacDonald, acknowledging the trustees have authority over the fund, said he would prefer to have the water and sewer commission approve the loan first. But, MacDonald explained Monday, a review of water and sewer funds Thursday night revealed that department did not have the liquid assets needed, either. A scheduled Friday morning special meeting of the water and sewer commission was canceled.

The loan of $2,500 approved Monday came from the township general fund, which Henningsen said can afford no more at this time of year. The recreation department is to repay the money with 5.5 percent interest by February 2, according to the motion approving the

Council acts to resolve problems with planner

After meeting for an hour at 7 p.m. Monday with city planning consultant Ronald Nino in closed session, city council convened its regular session with Mayor Paul Vernon appointing a committee of two to meet with Nino "to resolve our difficulties and report back to council."

Council members J. Burton, McRusha, council liaison member to the planning commission, and Carolann Ayers accepted Vernon's appointments and agreed to meet with the planner.

The Monday night special session an hour before the council meeting was called "to discuss possible termination of the planning consultant's contract with the city."

As permitted by the Open Meetings act when personnel matters are being discussed, Nino requested the meeting be closed to the public and the press. Lesa Buckland, chairman of the planning commission, and other commission members were present.

Nino, in his letter of request, noted, "In view of my long association with the City of Northville, I would appreciate it if this matter could be discussed with me in a closed session."

Nino has his own firm, Ronald F. Nino and Associates, now located in Burton, Michigan.

In calling the special meeting council members had indicated they have concerns regarding "a negative attitude" some applicants had felt at planning commission meetings.

Vernon said Tuesday, however, that he had told Nino in the closed session he "was not prepared to accept his resignation," which Nino had offered.

However, he said, Nino also had told council Northville was the first city he had served as planning consultant and that he "treasured that relationship."

"I think it's going to turn out all right," Vernon added, saying it possibly could result in an expansion of the planner's services, which, Vernon said, had been somewhat minimal.

He said he expects the committee's study may indicate that his arrangement with the city should be expanded.

Morning vote

Early turnout at polls may predict big vote

Election officials were adjusting their voter turnout projections upward Tuesday morning, citing intensive activity at the polls even as election day dawned foggy and damp with a promise of afternoon rain.

Reporting that voters were lined up outside Precinct Two at Amerman Elementary Tuesday morning waiting for the polls to open, City Clerk Joan McAllister said that she could anticipate "a pretty good turnout — if the rain stays away."

Initial voting, she said, was much heavier than at the primary, leading to her hope for a good percentage of the city's 3,600 registered voters going to the polls.

She added that more than 100 voted in the first hour the polls were open at both Amerman and Precinct One at city hall.

"It's moving along well," she observed, "after the first rush."

Township Clerk Susan Heintz was more emphatic in her assessment of the turnout as of 10:30 a.m.

"The lines are incredible, they're voting their little hearts out," she said. "I think my (voter turnout) projections are going to be too low."

Heintz had predicted a 45 percent turnout for the election. She said there were 30 people waiting to vote before the polls opened at Moraine school at 7 a.m. "and it was raining then."

"I've talked to Plymouth (clerks) also and they're having a very large turnout there, too," Heintz added.

State election officials were calling for a turnout of roughly 3 million voters or 57 percent of the state electorate to travel to the polls in the first selection of a non-incumbent governor in 14 years. That projection was made Monday, despite weather forecasts of afternoon and early evening rain.

Absentee voting, often a leading indicator of the turnout election day, was heavy in both city and township. Heintz reported more than 1,000 ballots had been mailed out. As of yesterday morning, with two mail deliveries yet to come, roughly 200 had not yet been returned.

Since the township voter registration totals just over 8,500 the absentee turnout alone nears 10 percent of the electorate or better.

As of 10:45 a.m., Heintz reported a total vote of 2,260 including absentees — more than 25 percent of the total registered.

Novi Ambulance asks city contract renewal, defends service

Angered at recent publicity indicating dissatisfaction with Novi Ambulance Service, John T. Early, its president, appeared with his attorney at city council Monday to discuss emergency procedures used and seek renewal of his contract with the city.

Early and his attorney Allen C. Ingle questioned action of the city in contacting the township regarding going out for joint bids for ambulance service when the Novi Ambulance contract expires next year.

City Manager Steven Walters, noting that the council was operating under provisions required by the Open Meetings act, said it felt it was preferable to open the bidding from the start of October to the end of November.

Early said he had expressed a desire to renew the option, but Walters said the city had not received a letter from the ambulance company.

The city had received a response from township business manager David A. Lelko indicating the township board feels it is in the interest of citizens of the community to open the ambulance service contract to the market for new proposals as well as from Novi Ambulance. The letter also reported the board is in favor of seeking service proposals on a joint basis.

Mayor Paul Vernon emphasized to Early that the city "is not going out for bids to sever relations (with Novi Ambulance)" and asked to be provided with a copy of the letter offering renewal Early mentioned.

Ingle objected on behalf of his client to comments at a previous council session at which Vernon reported a citizen had called him to object to life support measures used, and the costs.

Vernon agreed that the report from the citizen was not completely accurate and said he had since received clarification on the statement. Ingle had provided the council with a copy of the actual bill for $256.50 which included oxygen, first aid supplies, linen and shock trousers.

He pointed out it was a life support run with a paramedic crew with the patient in full cardiac arrest.

At the request of council member Paul Folino, Early detailed life support procedures, saying that on such a run the ambulance service must take the patient to the facility ordered by the doctor monitoring the service.

He explained that Botsford General is the cooperating hospital with Novi Ambulance on life support runs.

In the incident in question, Early's attorney said, the service was under radio control with the emergency room doctor at Botsford and the patient had to be taken there. This procedure is stipulated by state law and Oakland County regulation, he said.

In such a case, he said, it would not be possible to transport the patient to the Providence Novi facility even though it was closer. If the patient is to be hospitalized, he pointed out, he or she must be taken to a hospital with facilities — Botsford, St. Mary and Providence.

"The papers have said we're double dipping," objected Early, "with two ambulance rides."

He stated these occurred when patients were first taken to facilities like Novi Providence without bed space, and then had to be transported to another hospital to stay.

"Most complaints are from people that do not have insurance," Early told council. He added that his service stays in the Novi, Northville Township, Northville city and Farmington Hills area to give fast response time to emergencies. He said runs to Northville township and city "do not amount to one call a day."

Early said, with two paramedics on each life support unit, his service lives up to county and state criteria.

"If I've done something wrong, I'd like to know where I've failed," he told council. Ingle added that with a doctor at Botsford as an investor in the Botsford group (competing service), "you know it essentially would dictate where they'd (patients) go."

With her shiny antennae and little hooded suit, bumble bee Alexis Troshinetz, center, walked away with the first place title in the 1-5 age group during the city fire department's first Halloween Costume Contest Sunday night. Her sister Andrea, at right, took third in the category and Aaron Siuda, alias ET, took second. For more pictures of costume party winners, see Page 5-A.

NEWS BRIEFS

NORTHVILLE PTA Coordinating Council has rescheduled its 9:30 a.m. meeting November 18 to 1 p.m. The meeting will be held at Silver Springs Elementary School.

BREAKFAST will be served from 6:30 a.m. throughout the morning next Thursday, November 11, at the American Legion Home at 100 Dunlap to mark Veterans' Day. Families and business persons are invited to come for pancakes, sausage and beverage at the annual event. A donation will be taken.

RACING DATES for the 1983 season at Northville Downs will be from January 1 through April 2, the track announces. The Jackson season, now in progress here, is doing well, it was reported to city council Monday, with betting up more than 30 percent from last year and outdistancing Windsor's track.

NADC resumes meetings

After about two years' inactivity, the Northville Area Development Corporation will meet at 8 p.m. next Tuesday in the meeting room at city hall.

A.M. Allen, chairman of the group that includes city, township and school appointees as well as appointees of the corporation itself, called the meeting to set some long-range goals for the corporation.

The corporation's tax base is the school district, City Manager Steven Walters explained this week as he noted this is not a fixed-size group. Allen, he said, felt the NADC should meet to see which members still were interested.

Last activity of the corporation, Walters recalled, was the purchase of the Miller Dodge dealership and the eventual building of the Downriver Federal Savings and Loan.

Council accepts bid for Kerr House

While it didn't bring anywhere near its asking price, the city-owned house at 311 First was sold Monday to the highest cash bidder for $51,101, a price City Manager Steven Walters said was not quite enough to break even.

Buyer was Vincent Marino of New Hudson who presented one of three offers to buy at bid deadline Monday.

Action was by unanimous vote of city council. As it was decided to accept the high cash bid over a higher land contract offer with a contingency clause, council member J. Burton DeRusha observed he felt a cash offer was better and noted, "the city isn't in the real estate business."

Mayor Paul Vernon echoed DeRusha's comment and agreed it was better not to have the city's money tied up.

As the city advertised for bids on the house, the suggested asking price was $69,500, but Walters at the time noted that "few bring the asking price."

He told council Monday night that the city has $55,000 invested in the house but that the figure includes "everything spent, even utilities."

Council member Carolann Ayers said she would consider the land contract offer of $65,000 with $25,000 down from Mario R. Viscosi of South Lyon if it did not contain the contingency that it be made subject to the sale of his home on or before February 1, 1983.

The council speculated that it could lose a year's taxes if this sale were not completed this year. Concerns about vandalism if the house remains vacant also were expressed.

Third bid of $37,505 was a cash offer from Robert and Lydia Zwarka of Westland.

Noting that the cash offer from Marino would be completed within 30 days, Walters told council that the money could then be invested at eight percent.

"Unfortunately," he said, "market conditions have not been favorable for the city's sale plans."

The city, he itemized, has $21,000 invested in the purchase of the house, originally located at 215 West Cady. Known as the Kerr House, it was purchased in 1971 as a senior citizen center. It was moved to the present location and completely renovated on a new foundation last year as the lot was sold to the post office for $41,800. Purchase of the First Street lot and renovation of the home cost $76,000, according to Walters.

Walters pointed out, that while the city did not realize what it hoped, the tax base has been significantly improved with the sale to the post office and relocation of the home.

He said in 1980 the post office and Kerr House were listed at $135,564 and projected the 1983 value would be $278,040 on the property. The First Street property was valued at $13,304 in 1980 and the projected value for 1983 is $30,000, raising the total tax base from $148,864 to $308,040.

Zoning hearing slated

A proposal to rezone a small residential parcel at Seven Mile Road and Pierson Drive for business use will be discussed in public hearing December 7, the township planning commission determined last week.

Howard and Howard Real Estate, Inc., owners of the old red house at that corner, petitioned for rezoning of the less-than-two acre parcel from R-1 (residential) to B-1 (commercial) so that a retail business may be operated in the building.

The house, more than 100 years old, would be renovated for use as a boutique, Howard and Howard representatives told the planning commission. No new construction is anticipated.

The petition to amend the zoning map noted that the request "is contingent upon not requiring an impact assessment." The township's latest zoning ordinance revision includes a clause demanding a study be done to determine the impact on the area of a rezoning to business use in certain cases.

The small size of the parcel in question likely makes it exempt from that requirement, unless the planning commission chooses to impose it.

Revised sewer ordinance approved

Residents of newly sewered areas will have up to two years to connect to the sanitary system under a revised ordinance approved by the township board of trustees last week.

The law, requiring connection to an available sewer system within 24 months after township notification to the property owner, replaces an old ordinance that allowed only 90 days for the connection.

"The primary reason for doing this," supervisor John MacDonald told the board, "is that other communities have put in large sewer districts and nobody has hooked up."

"There is one in Plymouth that is designed to serve something like 140 homes, about the size of our Park Gardens area, and only something like five or six houses are hooked up, years later."

While the cost of constructing such a sewer system is assessed against all property owners in the district, sewer operating and maintenance costs are offset only by those served.

Clerk Susan Heintz noted that enforcement of the ordinance would be anticipated in cases where continued septic system failures or the illegal use of cesspool or outhouse facilities poses "a threat to the health, safety and welfare of residents."

She said the 24-month "clock starts to run when the township sends notice or one of the other things listed here happens."

Other "triggers" included in the ordinance are "publication of notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the township; modification of the structure...to become a structure where sewage originates; or posting of notice on the property."

Notice by any method is to specify a date by which the structure must be connected to the sewer system and advise the resident of fees involved. At present, there is a $400 "tap-in" fee paid to the township water and sewer department.

The property owner is responsible for the cost of constructing the connection between the structure and the available sewer collector.

Modification of the ordinance to allow two years rather than 90 days, according to MacDonald, was believed necessary with particular attention to the anticipated construction of a large sewer system in the Park Gardens area.

The township's intent, MacDonald said, is to apply the ordinance to future sewer districts and not to those already constructed. L.T. Sylvestre, recreation commission chairman and a resident of Grandview Acres, noted that while a sewer district was established in his subdivision a decade ago there are homes still not connected to it.

MacDonald said he did not anticipate enforcement of the ordinance in such situations.

Our Lady of Victory social studies teacher Richard Steele shows campaign materials that influenced his students' votes

Students pick winners in school elections

By JEAN DAY

While the 26 students in Jeff Lightfoot's fifth-sixth grade class at Amerman Elementary Monday "elected" Democrat James Blanchard Governor over Republican Richard Headlee by a two-vote margin, the 38 students in Richard Steele's eighth grade social studies class at Our Lady of Victory school went Republican.

"They looked at the important issues Monday and then decided, if they could vote, Headlee would be their choice for governor," reports their teacher. The vote was close, however, with Blanchard trailing by only some three votes, according to the Steele.

Lightfoot's students voted on two candidates and ballot proposal D, but it was "an educated vote," he emphasizes.

They voted to elect Blanchard over Headlee by a 14-12 decision; Philip Ruppe-R over Donald Riegle-D for U.S. Congressman 18-8. Proposal D went down to defeat 11-15.

Lightfoot explains that he appointed four students to be Blanchard, Headlee, Ruppe and Riegle and took each to the candidate's campaign headquarters to gather information to present to the class. He also named two students to research each side of Proposal D.

"They learned that D is a lot more than 'dumb,'" he observes, relating that the students became very aware of the election. As they voted, the teacher required they give their reasons for their choices.

"They were aware that there was a discrepancy in the money being spent," Lightfoot reports, noting that his students noticed the Democratic party does not have the resources of the Republicans as Blanchard's Ferndale office did not have a computer as did Headlee's and Ruppe's and was far from elaborate. Students, Lightfoot says, "really tore into indecisiveness" in campaign statements.

He added Monday that he feels their research made independent voters of the students so that the vote was not a reflection of parents' views.

Some of the "courses" that will be offered include: "Programming Your Future" (computer science); "Predicting Fashion Trends: How Does the Buyer Know?" (fashion merchandising); "Science and Crime" (forensic science); and "Nontraditional Roles in Nursing" (nursing).

Introductory classes in anatomy, biology, business administration, dietetics, education, food service management, medical technology, pre-law, psychology, respiratory care and social work also will be given.

ACT career program slated

The American College Testing (ACT) Career Planning Program will be given from 6:30-9:30 p.m. Monday on the Schoolcraft College campus.

The Career Planning Program is a series of questions and short tests which summarize and interpret an individual's responses in a report. The interpretation is designed to help participants identify job skills, such as reading and number skills, assess interests and identify appropriate career clusters.

Accompanying the report is a booklet, "Planning Your Career," which shows how to use the results as the starting point in career planning.

Adults who are thinking about going to college or need a starting point, or those who are thinking about a new career direction and need clarification on their abilities and/or interests may want to consider taking the test.

For reservations or more information, contact the Schoolcraft Counseling Office at 591-6400, extension 312.

The fee for the ACT Career Planning Program is $8.

Candy making at home class set

Schoolcraft College has scheduled two separate workshops for persons interested in making homemade candy in their own kitchens.

A chocolate molding workshop, offered November 13, will teach participants how to melt and temper chocolate, mold candies and suckers and make and use fillings and hand-dip chocolates.

A second workshop focusing on holiday candymaking will be offered December 4.

Participants will learn to make old-fashioned fudge, whipped cream caramels, broken glass candy, mocha marzipan and cream cheese mints.

The fee for both workshops is $25. Workshops will begin at 9 a.m. and participants should bring a notebook to jot down recipes and a box to take home samples.

Early registration is recommended as space is limited.

For reservations or further information, call the Office of Community Services at 591-6400, extension 409.

Costume winners

With more than 1,000 youngsters attending the Northville City Fire Department's Halloween Party last Sunday night, it's no wonder judges Betty Snow, John Early and Jack Hoffman had a tough time choosing winners in the costume contest. In addition to the winners shown on The Record's front page, there also were three winners in the ages 6-9 and 10-12 categories. Pictured at left are winners in the

ET's pumpkin winner

"ET" pumpkin's extraterrestrial telephone call is handled by his creator, Lisa Gordon, 9, of 18171 Jamestown Circle. Lisa, who worked for several weeks before Halloween to design the lighted creature, captured first prize in the annual contest sponsored by McDonald's. She was a second-time winner, taking first place honors last year with a Miss Piggy Pumpkin creation. "ET" first went to class at Silver Springs School with Lisa, who had cooperation from her mother, Maryanne Gordon with the project.

Variety

Robert Y. Mangin

Variety is the spice of life. Variety is "the absence of sameness or monotony, a different form of the same thing" according to Webster's dictionary. Who among us thrills over monotony? Perhaps the death of creativity would come if everyone were the same. Try to imagine calling home and all the phone had on it was the digit seven. Think what the piano would sound like if, instead of having four fingers and one thumb, we were all thumbs. How boring the novel would be if the novelist repeatedly wrote chapter one.

These absurd pictures establish the obvious need for variety. Yet even in variety there is a pattern of limitation. When this pattern is broken, an imbalance occurs to our lives. For instance, when we look at our hand we see that no two fingers are the same. It would be abnormal if they were. Numbers are different yet math is impossible as a science if numbers represent different values from one day to the next. So the pattern allows for variety, but variety must maintain its own pattern.

The pattern of church attendance is a critical one in our lives. There is only one person who suffers when church is neglected—you. Too much variety in life is when we neglect God and ignore His Word. The family that is too busy for God on Sunday is too busy.

Trustees approve loan for recreation to meet payroll

loan. "My primary concern," MacDonald said, "is to help the people working there."

Henningsen said he would continue to search for a source of additional funds to loan the department, perhaps up to the $20,000 limit sought.

According to Kriteczs and Sylvestre, the department last year borrowed a total $18,125 from the city during a similar period. Borrowing did not begin until December, however, so Kriteczs said he expects a higher total will be needed this year.

The borrowing pattern last year, he said, was $6,700 in December; with a $2,000 loan January 4, another $1,000 January 6, $3,700 January 18, $3,000 January 28 and $1,725 borrowed February 10.

"The bottom line as I understand it is this," MacDonald said at the October 27 session. "The city can make no contribution. It's not going to be able to be paid from township monies. A water and sewer loan is actually the only way to do it."

But Thursday's discovery was that the water and sewer operating fund does not have the money to loan, though it has had similar sums at other times of the year. Further, most of the roughly $3 million the department has invested in "restricted funds" which can be used only for water and sewer purposes.

Under the legal restrictions governing the funds, Henningsen explained, borrowing for another department is illegal.

The treasurer related two possible sources for future loans to the recreation department. More than $55,000 is due the township from delinquent property tax payments owners made to Wayne County. Henningsen has been awaiting that county payment for months and said the latest word is that it will be paid December 1 (first day of the county fiscal year).

Another possibility is administration fees charged against the same water and sewer restricted funds which cannot loan money to recreation. Auditors

'The $2,500 is going to hurt. We're sort of caught between a rock and a hard place, though'

— Richard Henningsen,
Township treasurer

Plante & Moran in last year's audit report recommended the township general fund receive administration fees from the interest earnings on those funds.

"When we checked on that, it looked like about $19,000 (could be collected in administration fees)," Henningsen related. The problem, he continued, is that the assets are invested in certificates of deposit at better than 12.5 percent interest due next spring.

Removing the funds would result not only in interest penalties, but it would be unlikely that they could be reinvested at similar interest rates. The $19,000 involved may already be committed to other uses, also, Clerk Susan Heintz said. She said it was to be used for repayment of a loan the water and sewer department made to the township for purchase of a computer.

No more can come from the township general fund until the cash flow crunch on that fund is relieved, the treasurer stressed. Henningsen related that "our own situation is always tight in November and December. My position has been that I would always pay the township employees first."

Board grants truck buy

Purchase of a $10,000 four-wheel drive truck from McDonald Ford in Northville was approved by the township board of trustees last week.

The truck is to replace a 1975 Ford pickup used by the water and sewer department since new, department superintendent Walter Holinoty told the board. He said the old truck has more than 100,000 miles showing on the odometer.

The McDonald Ford price of $10,344 was the lowest of nine bids from Ford and Chevrolet dealerships throughout the western metropolitan area and the purchase was recommended by the water and sewer commission. Bids ranged up to $11,722. The new pickup will be the second new four-wheel drive vehicle added to the township fleet this year. The township police department purchased a four-wheel drive Bronco earlier this year. The building inspector's Jeep is his own, but was also replaced this year.

Availability of four-wheel drive vehicles was a major concern during budget sessions last winter, when police, fire and water and sewer departments all noted that winter operations were being hampered by long delays in subdivision snow removal.

Nurse orientation slated

Madonna College in Livonia will hold an orientation at 10 a.m. this Saturday for registered nurses interested in obtaining a bachelor's degree in nursing.

Prospective students will have an opportunity to meet with advisors and review the degree program.

The orientation will be held in Room 287. For more information, call 591-5155.

"Techniques of Managerial Presentations" is the topic of a workshop to be held from 6-10 p.m. Friday and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday at Madonna College.

The seminar, to be taught by Charles V. Roman, assistant professor for business administration, will focus on methods of speaker introduction, gaining rapport and handling controversial issues.

Participants will learn and practice oral presentations in typical business situations. Presentations also will be aided by videotaping.

For more information, call 591-5049.

Works by Beethoven, Mozart and Chopin will be among those performed when the music department at Madonna College presents a vocal-instrumental recital at 3:30 p.m. November 14 in the Activities Building at Madonna.

Students studying instrument and voice at Madonna will give piano, flute, guitar and voice performances. Instrumental and voice solos along with chamber music will be featured.

The recital will be presented in conjunction with Madonna College's Open House to be held from 2-4 p.m. The open house is for prospective students interested in exploring career opportunities at Madonna.

There is no admission to the recital. For more information, call 591-5177.

"It's going to hurt," he said. "The $2,500 is going to hurt. We're sort of caught between a rock and a hard place, though. The only alternative is to shut the program down and that could be more expensive than keeping it going."

Heintz was concerned that the loan to the recreation department could strain the township's ability to meet its own heavy payroll obligations in December (three regular payrolls, plus some holiday, overtime and year-end expenses in the police department).

Henningsen said it would be tight but that he believed the general fund could "barely afford $2,500."

At the first session, the treasurer had some pointed questions regarding the recreation department's plans to reduce its operating deficit, its ability to repay the loan and if Kriteczs expected to borrow funds every year.

Kriteczs said the five-year plan to eliminate the department's $42,000 deficit includes alterations to the cash flow in order to reduce borrowing.

He noted it is impossible for the department to shut down the community building during the expensive winter months of operation, since it is rented out at new, higher rates.

As for the department's ability to repay the loan, Kriteczs said it had a "two year record of full repayment" with the city.

Relating the situation Monday night to trustee James Nowka, absent at the earlier meeting, Henningsen said he expected the department's borrowing will continue for the next four to five years.

No recreation department representatives were present at the Monday meeting. Nowka, formerly a recreation commissioner, made the motion to allow the immediate $2,500 loan. After a long silence, trustee Richard Allen reluctantly seconded the motion. It passed without dissent. Board representative to the recreation commission C. James Armstrong was absent, as was trustee Thomas Cook.

MacDonald expressed a "wish they (recreation department) had come to us earlier so we could work these things out beforehand."

Questioned by Nowka, Henningsen said he believed the department's need to borrow will continue "at least until that deficit is gone. Unless you change that operation extensively, in my opinion you're going to have that same problem next year, same time, same station, maybe a little more money, maybe a little less."

of A. Allen Tuchklaper, D.D.S.

MISSING INCISORS SOUGHT

Q. My daughter is 11 months old and still does not have her upper central incisors, why?

and to hold the space for the permanent teeth.

A. In most cases you need not be concerned about primary (baby) teeth that erupt out of sequence. There is a wide variation in individual teething patterns. Usually the lower central incisors are the first teeth to erupt followed by the top central incisors. If your daughter's top central incisors have not erupted by her first birthday it might be prudent to see your dentist and have X-rays taken to see that the teeth are present. Even though primary teeth are replaced they are still important for appearance

NRPH fire investigated as arson

In the township...

A fire that destroyed one room of a vacant Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital building late October 22 is being investigated as a likely arson, according to township police and fire officials.

The room in the hospital's Building H had burned for an estimated five to seven hours when township fire crews arrived at the scene around midnight, fire chief Robert Toms said.

Containers found at the scene and the presence of unauthorized persons on hospital property earlier in the evening (as reported by hospital security forces) led to the suspicion of arson, Toms explained. He noted there was no other likely source of the fire, since the building was vacant.

Toms said the room, on the north side of the building about three rooms from the northeast corner, was virtually destroyed with all the furniture in it when firefighters arrived. One township firefighter and one hospital security officer were taken to the hospital for treatment due to smoke inhalation at the scene of the fire. Both are reported in good condition.

Police reported all exterior doors to the building were secure and, although several windows were open, most had cobwebs in them. Investigators suspect entry was through windows in the burned room, several of which were broken, one opened inward.

The interior door to the room was found standing open when police arrived. Security forces told police three separate vehicles were stopped on hospital grounds near the service drive (entering from Haggerty Road) earlier in the evening.

One party stopped told the security force they were in search of a "haunted house" program they had heard was operating in an abandoned ward of the hospital. No such haunted house was being conducted at the hospital. Other details of the investigation are being suppressed at this time.

Two 17-year-old Northville residents suffered severe injuries in a two-car collision at Six Mile and Haggerty Roads late last Wednesday.

Injured when the driver, a Plymouth resident, ran a blinking red light and struck their car broadside at 11:20 p.m. October 27 were driver Tom Massat of Parklane and passenger Robert Toms of Sunnyside (the fire chief's son).

Toms suffered lacerations to the head that required more than 20 stitches when treated at Providence Hospital. Massat was also injured but less severely; both were reported recovering in good condition Friday.

Police issued a citation for failure to obey a blinking red traffic signal to Mary Roberts, 31, of Spicer Road in Plymouth.

There were two witnesses to the accident, one of them a Livonia police officer waiting to make a left turn from southbound Haggerty to eastbound Six Mile. The other was the driver of a car eastbound on Six Mile approaching the intersection at the time of the accident.

Both witnesses told township police Massat's vehicle was westbound on Six Mile, entered the intersection on a blinking yellow light and was struck in the passenger's side door by Roberts' car, which was southbound on Haggerty.

Roberts told police she does not remember seeing the red light but did remember hitting the other car. Massat told police essentially the same story the witnesses did.

Police are investigating an apparent shooting incident in which a car traveling on Seven Mile was damaged by a bullet late last Wednesday night.

The owner of the car, a Seven Mile Road Northville resident, told police he was driving westbound on that road just west of Silver Springs Drive at 11:50 p.m. October 27 when he heard a loud noise which he assumed to be a large rock kicked up under the car by his tires.

After arriving at the A & P store, the man told police, he discovered the apparent bullet hole in the right rear quarter panel of his car. Police reported the hole was about 5/16ths of an inch across. A piece of lead was retrieved from the car interior just above the right rear wheel well.

The investigating officer reported he believes the bullet involved is from a weapon of .25 or .32 caliber. Damage to the 1978 Ford Fairmont was estimated at $200.

A Swan Lake Drive resident reported an estimated $150 damage was done to her new car the night of October 22, according to police reports.

Vandals scratched three large "K's" into the paint on the hood of the 1982

Ford EXP and also scratched lines into the hood and roof of the car, the owner reported. About five gallons of gas, valued at $7, was siphoned from the car also, she told police.

The incident was believed to have occurred between 5 p.m. and 8 p.m. while the car was parked in the Swan Harbor Apartments lot.

Two wire wheel hubcaps, valued at $160, were reported stolen from a 1981 Ford Thunderbird parked in a Seven Mile Road lot October 25.

The car owner told police she works at the establishment and the car was parked at 9 a.m. When she returned to the car at 1 p.m. the right side hubcaps were missing, she reported.

...In the city

Unknown persons damaged a 1981 Lincoln Continental that was parked in front of a Hillridge residence sometime October 21, city police report. Damage was placed at $200.

The complainant said he parked his car in front of the home while visiting, and when he returned he found the power antenna attached to the left rear fender had been bent down, police said.

Towne slated for duty

He is the son of L.E. Towne, 101 West Main, Addison, and Jacqueline M. Towne, 311 Yerkes Street, Northville.

Diabetes testing free at Providence center

Diabetics who don't know they have the disease as yet will be the object of a state-wide search during Diabetes Detection Week (November 7-13) in Michigan.

Providence Hospital is participating by offering free diabetes testing at five sites, including the Ambulatory Care Center in Novi.

Free testing for diabetes will be offered at the Novi Center on Tuesday, November 9, from 8-11 a.m. and 6-9 p.m.

A meal heavy with carbohydrates should be eaten two hours before coming for the test. Carbohydrates include starches and sugary foods.

Those whose tests are out of the normal range will be notified by the American Diabetes Association, Michigan Affiliate. Those with normal test values will not be contacted.

All people who are over 40 years old, overweight or blood relatives of a known diabetic are urged to have the free test as they are considered in the high risk group to develop the disease.

Common symptoms of diabetes are excessive thirst, frequent urination, blurring of vision, constant hunger or the slow healing of cuts and scratches. The disease, however, may be present without symptoms.

Diabetes is the third leading cause of death by disease in the United States. It is the leading cause of new blindness and is a major factor in heart disease, circulatory problems and kidney disorders.

Hearing set to demolish Eight Mile building

At the request of council, the city is taking steps to remove a structure "an eyesore" on West Eight Mile.

Located west of Taft on the north side of Eight Mile the abandoned building is on what historically has been known as the McDonald orchard property.

Three bids for demolition had been obtained with the city accepting the low bid of J.J. Zayti Trucking, Incorporated, at $900. Others ranged up to $1,498.

The property will be assessed for the removal on the tax roll.

A public hearing to confirm the assessment roll for this nuisance abatement cost was called for the December 6 meeting of the council.

NHS store's open for business

School administrators, staff members and students assembled in the Northville High School cafeteria last Tuesday morning for the grand opening of the Hill Top Shoppe—the new student store.

Among those in attendance were School Superintendent George Bell, assistant superintendent Nancy Soper, school board vice president Karen Wilkinson and several other central office administrators and staff members.

The grand opening of the NHS Hill Top Shoppe marks the first time in more than four years that high school students can use marketing skills in a real business atmosphere. The NHS school store was closed in 1978 due to a lack of funding.

Some 88 high school students are involved with the operation of the Hill Top Shoppe. Of the 88 students, 86 are enrolled in the marketing class. The major goal of the marketing program is to prepare students for a future in the business world by working in a business atmosphere.

Students in the marketing class worked since early September in preparation for the grand opening of the Hill Top Shoppe. Store coordinator is marketing instructor Wayne Saunders. Ann Hicks is store supervisor.

The Hill Top Shoppe offers a wide variety of merchandise ranging from pencils and pens to high quality sports apparel for both boys and girls. Store hours are 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday through Friday during the school year.

The Hill Top Shoppe is open to anyone in the community who wishes to stop by anytime during school hours.

Arrest warrant issued for Noder's operator

Complaints from about 35 persons who have jewelry being repaired or in layaway at Noder's Jewelers, 101 East Main, have been received by city clerk Joan McAllister.

The store has been closed for about two months. She said, and owner Gary Jeter of Lincoln Park has failed to respond to a certified letter asking his intentions.

Therefore, to attempt to settle the complaints, she reported to city council Monday night, a warrant for his arrest was issued October 20.

Presently out on $100 bond, Jeter is to be arraigned next Tuesday.

The warrant was issued on two counts — failure to notify the city clerk as required by city ordinance of his intention of going out of business at least two weeks in advance and to publish the fact, and failure to renew his business license, also required by the city's licensing ordinance.

The clerk noted it is not the city's intention to make a situation more difficult for the owner who was reported closing initially because of a death in the family. However, she said lack of response on his part had forced her to seek the warrant.

She said that Jeter has an unlisted telephone number, making it impossible for those with articles left at the store to contact him.

She says she will continue to take names of those who do have items they are trying to recover and suggests that charges can be filed in small claims court.

She told council that if Jeter could be persuaded to open the store to return items, she would drop the charges which carry a fine of $500 or 90 days, or both.

Prosecution of trespassers is policy at county center

Vandalism and other problems experienced at the vacated Wayne County Child Development Center property are expected to decrease under a new policy of prosecuting all trespassers on the land, according to township police chief Kenneth Hardesty.

"We're prosecuting everyone we pick up in the child development center now," Hardesty said, explaining that ownership is now in the hands of the county economic development corporation.

"The EDC has decided it's going to prosecute, which the county wouldn't do when it was up to them," Hardesty said. "It was getting to be a real problem, it was like the old Maybury situation."

The Maybury State Park property was formerly a sanatorium and when vacated was subject to extreme cases of vandalism, Hardesty said.

Reports of trespassing, vandalism and theft of property left in the child development center buildings have been increasing in the past three to four years, but the county rarely pressed charges when township police caught violators.

The EDC's commitment to prosecution extends down to simple trespass violations, the chief said. Unauthorized presence on the land or in the buildings is sufficient reason for issuance of an appearance ticket and a likely fine.

EDC plans for the 101 acres of property east of Sheldon between Five and Six Mile roads are for renovation of some structures and construction of new buildings to create a senior citizens housing village.

Solid waste decision nears

Northville city council members Monday made plans to attend a regional meeting on the proposed Oakland County Solid Waste Management Plan to be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the cafeteria of Walled Lake Central High School.

The council expressed its concern that it still does not have information on a Wayne County Solid Waste Management Plan as it noted the city is in a unique position of being able to choose between plans of the two counties within its borders.

The Oakland County plan has been approved by the county commissioners and is now being considered for approval by units of local government in the county.

The Walled Lake meeting is the first for area legislative bodies to be scheduled. Others will be held November 10 at Troy City Hall and November 18 in the cafeteria of Sashabaw Junior High in the Clarkston area.

The law requires that 67 percent of the municipalities approve the plan before it can be called the county plan and, as such, be submitted to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources for final approval.

Council member J. Burton DeRusha questioned whether, if the Oakland County deadline for responding arrived before the Wayne County plan is in place, Northville ought to "say yes" to Oakland.

Then, it was pointed out, the city refuse contractor would be committed to taking the city's refuse to an Oakland County site. He presently takes most city refuse to the Holloway landfill, City Manager Steven Walters said.

Law gets late UAW funds

Late contributions to Gerald Law's campaign for election to the 36th State House seat in yesterday's election included a large donation from one source Law said was unexpected — the UAW.

The auto workers' union put up $1,000 late in the game, after Law had already filed his campaign finance statement with the secretary of state. The candidate had earlier stated there was no money involved in his sole union endorsement.

The UAW was not alone in coming up with late funding for the Law campaign, however. The House Republican Committee put up another $1,000 and Law filed an amended finance statement showing a total of more than $4,500 in late contributions.

A Saturday fundraiser in Northville upped Law's campaign chest without the need to cite specific backers — the requested donation at the $25 a couple racetrack fundraiser was below the $100 limit that requires identification of the donor.

Contributors of $100 or more, in addition to the UAW and Republican Committee, were Detroit Tooling Association, the state pharmacy association and state Realtors, each of which put up $500; the Michigan Auto Dealers and Savings associations each contributed $300; Michigan Doctors Association put up $200 and at the $100 level were the Michigan Lawyers Association and Ford Motor Company (Law's employer).

All were late contributors included in Law's amended financial statement. Funds raised earlier were reported on an October 22 statement.

Plan needed

Northville Board of Education's approval last Monday to institute a long-range plan for the school district could be the most significant decision the board makes this year — and perhaps in the decade to come.

Outlined in a five-year timetable, the plan includes a renovation of Northville High School and a realignment of the grade structure to a middle school concept. While these two components represent the major changes planned for the school district, other areas to be considered include future housing for the Institute Special Education Program as well as an update of future programming needs.

While the plan appears rigid on the surface, it must be pointed out that its passage was contingent upon its flexibility.

The idea of long-range planning for Northville schools has been bounced around the district for several years. Past administrations have tended to shy away from future forecasting based on uncertainties in student enrollment, population growth and the economy.

While there is credibility to both arguments, we believe the time has come to prepare Northville students for the decades ahead by examining future educational objectives. The plan proposed by Superintendent George Bell may well be the first step in beginning to educate students for the 21st Century.

In approving the proposed plan, several board members stressed its flexibility and the need for community support. There is no doubt, that should the renovation of Northville High School become a reality by 1985, community support most definitely will be needed in the form of a bond issue.

It is important to note that the directive for proposing a long-range plan originally stemmed from the school district's Citizens' Advisory Committee. The efforts of residents serving on that committee brought the need for future planning to the school board's attention. We trust the same residents who donated their time and efforts to that earlier committee will continue to show their support and urge others in the community to become involved.

Halloween's great

That Northville had an incident-free Halloween is a tribute to the caring of the entire community — with a great deal of credit going to the city fire department for its Sunday night Halloween party attended by more than 1,000 youngsters.

Fire Chief James Allen notes that the party has been held for several years and has been growing steadily, but this year's event drew more ghosts, goblins, robots and "ET's than ever before. Allen and Police Chief Rodney Cannon think many parents encouraged their children to attend the party rather than trick-or-treat throughout neighborhoods.

Subdivisions in both the city and township that in years past had 80 or more trick-or-treaters during Halloween reported only a quarter of the usual number. Local officials feel the recent food contaminations reported throughout the country definitely were a factor in the decreased number of children trick-or-treating. The township police department offered a metal detection inspection of candy and officers reported they "had all we could handle" as parents brought their children's treats in for the inspection. The wet weather, too, probably deterred some.

An added attraction at this year's party was a Halloween costume contest. Rules specified they must be homemade. Youngsters began arriving at 4:30 p.m. — a half hour before the official party hour. Allen reports that more than 2,000 drinks were served from 5-7 p.m. Ray J. Casterline II donated 30 gallons of cider and Allen and his family five bulk containers of Coke while John Early, who judged the contest with Betty Allen and Jack Hoffman, supplied 440 candy apples. The firefighters had purchased their own machine to make cotton candy.

Do it sooner

While it is pleasing to see the township stepping into the breach this year when the recreation operation needs a loan, it would have been less traumatic had the need been expressed earlier.

We fail to see why the board of trustees must be forced into two swift actions simply in order to meet the recreation department's payroll. Surely the need for cash to meet this week's requirements was obvious long before now. The board met in regular session only two weeks before the special meeting (called for another purpose) at which the loan request was first made.

Certainly the cashflow shortage in the recreation department was becoming evident two weeks ago. But the board was faced with what amounted to a demand rather than a request: "The city can't help, we need money by November 2 or we don't make the payroll." To be fair, it should be noted that township administrators were informed of the need earlier and understood the situation before the board meeting.

Still, we believe it would have been far better to have the loan issue worked out earlier in the year. Perhaps it should be determined during the budget process until the department is on sound enough footing to carry its own weight without the crutch of city or township loans. In that way, whichever body is to be counted upon can arrange its own finances so the loan to the recreation department causes the least disruption possible.

The township's only real problem this time was liquidity — the money was around, but it was tied up in investments or committed to other uses. Working out the entire recreation earlier would have avoided the need for last week's crash effort by township staff — an effort seen to be even more poorly timed when it is considered that it intruded on time normally devoted to preparation for elections. While the recreation operation has made progress in the past year, this incident shows there is still some way to go, particularly in regard to organization and communication.

Being 'Big Brother' rewarding

Every Tuesday when I got home from work in time to watch the 5:30 p.m. newscast on WDIV 'way back in January and February, I would perk up a little when it came time for the station's "Tuesday's Child" feature. In it, one of the anchorpersons or street reporters would introduce a young boy waiting to get an older adult volunteer to be his "Big Brother."

While picking at my plate of spaghetti, or whatever it was we were eating, I would listen attentively to the young boy, who was about nine to 12 years old, talk about how he would like a "Big Brother" to do things with and just to talk about certain things he had on his mind that he could discuss only with an adult male volunteer.

Because I like working with little kids, I told Debbi I would like to become some young man's "Big Brother" until we decide to have a family of our own — which is way, way, way off in the future. However, there was one small problem — logistics. Most of the young men featured by WDIV were from the Detroit area. Living in Wixom, where it takes almost an hour to get to Detroit, ruled out that possibility.

But, lo and behold, one day when I was talking in our office about wanting somehow to get involved in a nearby "Big Brother" program Karen Rice overheard me. She knew exactly how I could accomplish this goal. In fact, she said, there was a local program in dire need of male volunteers.

With a name and phone number to contact at the Lakes Area Plus Program, I called to inquire about what I had to do to become a volunteer. After filling out the application and attending two training sessions, I was "matched" with Billy last May.

Billy is a nice, handsome and inquisitive 11-year-old from Wixom. In fact, Billy, his mother and two younger sisters live in a mobile home park just down the road from where I live — which has made it real convenient for both of us to get together.

For the past six months, both myself and Billy have been getting together at least once a week — sometimes two or three times. We have done numerous activities, such as swimming and picnicking during the summer, going to movies and bowling, attending high school sports events, playing Monopoly or chess, or just coming here to the office.

In fact, I just found out the other night that the best thing we have done so far together has been coming to the office. We were both interviewed Thursday (October 14) by the Lakes Area Plus program director who wanted to give future volunteers an idea what it is like for the "match" and the volunteer. It was here Billy admitted his fondness for coming to the office and writing stories on the video display terminal.

But what this all really boils down to in the end is that we have both developed a special friendship for one another. That is the most rewarding part of it all. I'm sure when the time comes, for whatever the reason, I can no longer be Billy's "Big Brother" we will somehow manage to stay in contact. Besides, how could I not do that for my "little brother."

Just a little footnote here. The Plus program always is in need of volunteers, especially male. If there is anyone who has a little time to spare with a youngster and would like to become a volunteer, call Pat Hinzy at 624-5055.

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

It was Calvin's idea. Calvin is the man who puts gasoline in my car and washes my windshield. We have an agreement — he takes care of my car; I take care of his newspaper.

At any rate, it was his idea. One day after doing a particularly good job of filling the gas tank and washing the windshield, he put it to me. "How about a tip?" he asked.

"What for? You're telling me you want a tip for doing your job? I thought gas stations were supposed to fill your tank and wash your windshield."

"You tip the waitress at the restaurant, don't you?" he responded. "Why shouldn't I get a tip for good service?"

Calvin didn't get a tip, but his question started me thinking. Why shouldn't he get a tip for good service? I tip the waitress, the parking lot attendant, the person who carries my luggage. Why shouldn't everybody get a tip for doing a good job?

"Great job with the laundry this week, Charlie. Here's a tip."

Or. "Thanks for helping me pick out a shirt, Jim. Is 15 percent enough?"

Of course, the philosophy of tipping isn't practical in many applications. But it seems to me like it would be a natural for newspaper reporters.

Just think about it. "Hey Phil, really enjoyed your column this week. Here's a tip."

Or. "Great article on the school board meeting, Phil. Is $10 enough?"

Good editorials probably ought to receive large tips. "Boy, you really hit the nail on the head this week, Phil. Here's a big tip."

Yep, the more I thought about it, of Calvin had a good idea about tipping.

Now I don't want anyone to think I'm trying to put ideas in their heads. Perish the thought. But, quite frankly, I strongly suspect tips for newspaper reporters may be tax-deductible. Maybe I should start carrying a receipt book.

Homeowners lauded for safe, successful Halloween

To the Editor:
Halloween night 1982 is behind us now and, so far, it seems to have been a relatively safe one.

A lot of us parents in Northville are grateful for the thoughtful Halloween treats everyone gave our children. In our subdivision in the city, Northville Estates, our children got pennies (even nickels), toothbrushes (clever!), homemade cookies, sugarless gum (thank you), a package of combs and our very own popcorn truck goodies made by the Tashjian family.

Even though most parents accompanied their kids all the way to the door, no feelings were hurt. It gave us parents a time to meet and greet old and new neighbors.

Anyway, thanks to all Northville homeowners for the many thoughtful and useful treat ideas this past Halloween. Out of this could-be-tragic Halloween night was born some unique and loving ideas that I hope will be carried on in years to come.

Spend a great day with the staff and parents of Hawthorn children. Lunch may be purchased also.

Thank you for caring,

NHS coach criticized

To the Editor:

I am writing to congratulate head coach, Dennis Colligan, of the Northville High School football team.

You did such a fine job, coach, for what I am not sure.

One thing you have done is play the same few good players all year, resulting in injuries, as was evident last Friday night.

Why have so many senior players been sitting on the bench almost the entire year? These very same boys, many their third year on the team, have been very faithful coming to practices, plus weight lifting, since June of this year.

Often they showed up at the high school only to be locked out because a coach failed to be there as arranged. Many missed a day of conditioning during August, which was optional the entire three weeks.

How did you ever know their abilities since they had very few opportunities. Practice is one thing but playing in a game is entirely different.

Okay, coach, do your stuff! One more game is all we have left, November 5, Novi High School, of all teams.

This is the final game of the season and the final game period for many of these senior boys who have worked so hard for three years to sit on the bench most of the time.

Last Friday night you finally played a few of these boys, but only in desperation. What did you have to lose when we were losing so badly anyway?

These players can do a good job if given the chance. It is too little too late.

I am with you all — on and off the bench, boys. I am proud of you all as it takes a complete group to make a team. Congratulations for not being quitters and hanging in there. Give credit where credit's due.

Courtesy appreciated

To the Editor:

My husband and I moved to Northville about a year and a half ago from the East Coast. Since moving here, I have been continually surprised and impressed by the friendliness and helpfulness of both the residents and merchants in our town (quite a contrast to the New York area). Everyone is so willing to take the time to make a newcomer feel welcome, and I wanted to publicly acknowledge this fact.

Last Saturday I was exposed to another part of life in Northville — I was cited for speeding in a residential area. While I am not proud of this fact, the experience once again proved to me that cooing to live in this community in Michigan was a wise choice.

Officer C. (Clyde) Anderson, who issued my citation, was totally professional, kind and courteous while issuing the citation and reminding me of my responsibility as a driver not to speed, particularly when driving through a residential area with its many children and joggers. If Officer Anderson's actions in this type of situation are typical of all of Northville Township's officers, and I am sure they are, we as residents have yet another reason to be proud of our community.

Sincerely,
Ann Ellis

Reasoning objected

To the Editor:

This past week, while visiting my daughter, a neighbor came to the door distributing literature concerning Proposals D. His main objection to the proposal was a loss of jobs which, he said, would occur if the proposal passed.

I later learned that this gentleman was a utility company employee and the owner of two Japanese-built cars.

Evidently, it was his own job he was concerned about. It certainly wasn't that of his neighbors, several of whom are among the 238,000 U.S. auto workers on permanent layoff, thanks to Japanese car buyers.

He certainly was not concerned about my toolmaker son who is now unemployed. The Japanese share of the machine tool industry increased from four percent in 1976 to 60 percent this year.

Wonder what Mr. Good Neighbor will do when a way is found to import all our utilities.

J.A. Perry

Invitation extended

I am inviting you the opportunity (only once each year) to help these

Arts exhibited at fair in Novi this weekend

The arts are alive and well in Novi, and area residents will have an opportunity to observe the works of 35 area artists at the fourth annual Novi Arts and Crafts Fair this weekend.

The fair will be held Saturday and Sunday at Novi Middle School North on Taft Road (near Eleven Mile). Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday and 1-5 p.m. on Sunday. Admission is free.

"It ought to be one of the best fairs we've had," commented Thomas O'Branovic, director of the Novi Parks and Recreation Department.

"We had roughly 60 applications and we juried it down to 35 participants so the quality ought to be good. The fair seems to get better each year."

Entertainment on Saturday will be provided by the Novi High School Jazz Band and Elaine's School of Dance. The Novi Chorale is scheduled to perform Sunday at 3 p.m.

Among the Novi artists exhibiting at the fair will be Lois Hoffmeister (needlework), Bonnie Wams (pottery), Bill Szur (graphics), Joella Shulman (oil and watercolors) and Charles DuBois (acrylics).

Additionally, several artists will offer demonstrations of their handiwork. Earl Forsyth of Trenton will demonstrate stained glass, Nancy Vanderworp of Northville will demonstrate stenciling and Cindy Lehrer of Highland will demonstrate basketry.

Exhibitors have donated pieces of art which will be raffied off every hour. An acrylic by Charles DuBois will be raffied off as the grand prize Sunday afternoon.

A refreshment booth will be available through Novi Youth Assistance.

The Arts and Crafts Fair is sponsored by Novi Parks and Recreation, Novi Community Education and Novi Youth Assistance to encourage artistic expression in the community.

All proceeds from the fair will be donated to the Novi High School Student Art Scholarship Fund. For more information call the Parks and Rec Department at 349-1976.

SECTION III

(A) It shall be unlawful for any person to place or deposit or permit to be deposited in any area under the jurisdiction of the Township for discharge into any natural water course any substance which is injurious to the public health or detrimental to the public welfare.

(B) Except as otherwise provided in this Ordinance, it shall be unlawful to construct or maintain any privy, privy vault, septic tank, cesspool or other facility intended or used for the disposal of sewage.

(C) Public sanitary sewer systems are essential to the health, safety, and welfare of the people of the Township. Septic tank disposal systems are subject to failure due to soil conditions or other reasons. Failure or potential failure of septic tank disposal systems poses a threat to the public health, safety, and welfare; presents a potential for ill health, transmission of disease, mortality, and economic blight; and constitutes a threat to the quality of surface and subsurface waters of the Township. The connection to available public sanitary sewer systems at the earliest, reasonable date is a matter for the protection of the public health, safety, and welfare and necessary in the public interest which is declared as a matter of legislative determination by the Township Board.

(1) Any building or structure in which toilet, kitchen, laundry, bathing or other facilities which generate water-carried sewage are used or are available for use for household, commercial, industrial or other purposes shall be connected to the Township sewage disposal system available to service the building or structure. "Available" means the Township sewage disposal system is located in a right of way, easement, highway, street or public way which crosses, adjoins or abuts the property and passing not more than 200 feet at the nearest point from the building or structure from which the sewage originates.

(2) The connection shall be completed promptly but not later than 24 months after the date of occurrence of any of the following events:

(a) Publication of a notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the Township;

(b) Modification of a structure so as to become a structure in which sewage originates;

(c) First class mail notice to the owner of the property as listed on the current tax rolls; or

(d) Posting of notice on the property.

The notice shall provide that the structure(s) on the property shall be connected to the available Township sewage disposal system and the date by which such connection shall be accomplished. The notice shall give the approximate location of the Township sewer which is available for connection of the structure(s) involved and shall advise the owner of the connection charges and tap-in fees applicable.

(3) When a structure in which sewage originates is not connected to the available Township sewage disposal system within 90 days of the modification of a structure or by the date specified in the notice, the Township may bring an action for a mandatory injunction or order in a court of competent jurisdiction to compel the owner to connect immediately to the Township sewage disposal system, which action shall be in addition to and shall not exclude or limit the penalties applicable pursuant to Section X. Each day after said 90 days or after the date specified in the notice on which a connection has not been made shall constitute a separate violation.

(4) All expense for labor and materials necessary to transmit the sewage from the structure to the available Township sewer shall be the sole obligation of the owner, not the Township.

Part II. Effective Date

The provisions of this Ordinance shall be in full force and effect on and after December 3, 1982.

Part III. Adoption

This Ordinance was duly adopted by the Township of Northville Board of Trustees at their Regular Meeting held on the 27th day of Oct., A.D., 1982 and ordered to be given publication in the manner prescribed by law.

Council seeks attorney opinion of vacant house issue

As promised, new City of Northville attorney James Kohl is being asked for a definitive opinion on non-conforming use of property on South Center by the next meeting of city council on November 15.

The situation which has brought neighborhood objections to a vacant, boarded up house at 254 South Center was called a priority item waiting for a decision as soon as the city named a new attorney. The house had been purchased with the intention of tearing it down to expand racetrack parking. The question of expanding non-conforming use of the residential property then arose, stopping the planned demolition.

Residents appeared at council sessions objecting to more track parking in the residential area, and the Downs management has stated it does not need this expansion by the Northville Driving Club. The Driving Club owns the racetrack property itself and rents it to the Downs. The Downs owns the parking lot to the north.

The council reviewed Monday the draft, prepared by City Manager Steven Walters, detailing the non-conforming use situation for the attorney.

He is being asked to present his opinion in time for council members to review it before the meeting in two weeks.

Walters noted that the zoning ordinance provides for conditions under which non-conforming uses may exist. It allows for continuation of such uses, and limited expansion under zoning board of appeals approval.

As the council studied the draft to be presented to Kohl, several residents of the South Center-Wing Street area were present. Robert Cole urged the city to "stop dragging your feet on this" and asked results of a use survey taken by the city.

Walters replied that six properties on South Center have racetrack parking use.

"Is the city permitted to adopt a more restrictive provision for non-conforming uses than that presently in effect," Walters questioned in the letter to the attorney.

An opinion is asked, "Could the city require non-conforming uses to be terminated, either immediately or at some future specified deadline?"

Kohl also is asked, to determine, "What is the most restrictive provision the city could legally adopt concerning non-conforming uses as well as ones occurring in the future?"

Walters outlined, in the present situation, "various residential lots near Northville Downs Racetrack have parked cars during the racing meet and other activities as an evening activity for many years. It has been the city's position that this is a permitted non-conforming use under the zoning ordinance."

"Recently, a property which had parked cars commercially during the racing season and for other activities at the racetrack and contained a two-family residence was purchased by the Northville Driving Club. The NDC had applied for a demolition permit to remove the house with the intent only of parking cars on the property, either on its entire area or on an area equivalent to the open area which existed with the house on the site."

The city determined that, if the house was removed, it might be subject to a section of the ordinance, Walters continued, which provides that where non-conforming use status applies to a structure and premises in combination, removal of the structure shall eliminate the non-conforming status of the land. However, it was not finally determined whether the parking activity was a non-conforming use of land and structure in combination, or whether, said Walters, it as a non-conforming use of land alone.

"It was not clear what section 5.04c.3

(in the city ordinance) meant. Although non-conforming uses of land are allowed, this section seems to say that if a non-conforming use of land exists and a structure also exists (not related to the use) then the use has to be terminated if the building is worth less than $5,000, even though a non-conforming use of land with no building may continue," Walters said.

Kohl is being asked to decide if the structure is demolished can the commercial parking continue, and on how much of the lot, as well as whether leaving the house vacant affects the parking use.

At Monday's meeting the council also adopted a city attorney policy providing that he will advise any officer or head of department on city matters relating to official duties when requested by council and will file a copy of all written opinions with the city clerk.

The attorney is to answer all requests for advice from the mayor and city manager, and all requests from the police chief regarding police matters and from the city clerk regarding election matters.

Department heads shall direct requests for advice through the city manager, except as otherwise provided.

City council members shall direct requests through the mayor or city manager.

Citizens calling the city attorney are to be told to request advice formally of city council through the clerk's office or the mayor unless the request can be handled as a brief telephone conversation.

The city manager is to keep the council informed regarding use of the city attorney's time.

In effect, it was pointed out, the resolution, delegates authority to the mayor and city manager and restricts the city attorney on payments.

SBA adds toll-free line

Small businesses can now call the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA) toll free to get assistance in dealing with the federal government.

The toll free number is (800) 368-5855. Hours of operation are 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. There is a recorded message for evening hours.

Under the "Small Business Answer Desk" program, SBA expects to act as a quick information and referral center, putting the small businessman in touch with the right part of the federal government that may be of help.

The program is staffed by information specialists from the SBA's Office of Advocacy who will be prepared to answer inquiries ranging from regulatory problems to loans and export assistance.

The SBA recognizes that they will not be able to resolve all the problems but will be relying on cooperation and assistance from knowledgeable staff throughout the federal government.

Congressman William Broomfield, senior member of the House Small Business Committee, said the program can provide an important new dimension in making the federal government more responsive to the needs of small businesses.

"Hopefully this will work out to be a successful innovation by the Small Business Administration," Broomfield said.

Oldest Northville store changes with the times

By JEANDAY

The Dom Perignon champagne vintage 1928 displayed on the counter of The Liquor Shoppe at 115 East Main in Northville doesn't have a price tag on it because it isn't for sale.

Proprietor Jim Spagnuolo explains it was given to him by the grandfather for whom he was named before his death in 1981.

The elder Spagnuolo had bought the business in 1918. Known as the oldest in downtown Northville, it initially was a grocery store and later, under son Joe Spagnuolo, became a package liquor store known as Spagy's.

The fine champagne resting on the new brass-top counter is symbolic of the complete renovation of the 64 year old family business that Jim Spagnuolo is buying from his father.

When his grandfather bought the business, it was located at 113 East Main. Early this year the original owner's grandson made plans to move one door east to a building the family also owns to gain added storage space. The move became a total renovation indicated in the name change to The Liquor Shoppe.

In addition to the gleaming brass counters, there is a tile floor and all-new display counters holding expanded lines of liquor and assortments of party snacks.

The renovation included a new back entry for both customers and deliveries as well as a redesigned facade.

"We're really pleased," Jim Spagnuolo said last week after the store's grand opening October 23.

He said that he and his father hadn't contemplated the expansion initially and, the year before, had been planning to "pack up and move."

It was the improvement the Mainstreet '78 renovation brought to the downtown that caused the Spagnuolos to plan their own remodeling, Jim

Tell me about your high gas heating bills

and I'll tell you how you can save up to 20%* with Ameri-Therm.

For years I've talked with people who are tired of wasting fuel and money. Gas rates keep going up, so they come to me for advice.

Every day, for homeowners like you, I correct the money-wasting problem of gas energy loss with Ameri-Therm® Vent Dampers.

The problem is very common:

When a furnace, boiler or water heater shuts off, warm air is quickly lost up the chimney. Energy escapes, but you still end up paying for it.

People want to save as much as they can, so I tell them to keep heat inside with an Ameri-Therm Vent Damper.

Ameri-Therm is the thermally actuated vent damper that's:

- Proven in millions of locations.
- Saves up to 20%* on fuel bills.
- Popular choice of American homeowners.
- Five year limited warranty.
- Thermally actuated to operate efficiently with no wires, electricity, or other power source.
- Eligible for 15% tax credit.
- Available for gas furnaces, boilers and water heaters.

Broken Promise

You promised me,
you would always be
that someone I could cry to Someone I could go to.

You promised me,
We would think together,
Be together,
Live together,
Love together.
You promised me
you would stay...
Not forever,
anyway!

Sandy Gesler

Sunset

Sunset...
The most dramatic time
Of the day.
Sunrise is full of cheer
And light for the new day
But sunset
Is the death
Of the sun.
As it slowly sinks
Into the twilight
Finding tranquility
And peace at last.

Lynne E. Harrison

New Dawn

The foghorn sounds
above the crashing waves.
The early morning sun begins its caressing of the blue linen sky, and as the morning greets the earth, there is found everlasting peace and renewal.

Patricia Anne Keith

On A New Attorney's Birthday List

"Just give me white shirts for my birthday To wear when I go to court," (Circuit Court, he means)
When he goes to court his girl friend,
He wears worn-out, washed-out, work shirts and jeans!

Clara Mae Beach

'Til Death Do Us Part

A brick wall — solid, dependable,
Like a good marriage.
Built on a sound foundation
It rises steadily, brick by brick for the wedded years.

Cold winds may blow, frost will coat,
But it stays firm, untroubled.
Hot sun bakes it,
But it radiates warmth to all who come near.

Children will come and go.
Leaving their marks,
Climbed on, sheltered behind,
Used as a stepping stone to greater heights.

Ignored, the cement will crumble,
Like a marriage will.
With harsh words, neglect, apathy.
But a little attention will restore it
To its former strength.

Kit Henderson

Our Chance

Why do they always
Ruin our plans
So we never have
The tiniest chance?

Why do they have
To wreck everything
And to us so
Much heartbreak bring?

Someday they'll see
They'll know after we leave
And do things according
To what WE believe.

Lynne E. Harrison

Aspiring

Tarry not amongst the thorns
But walk in Eden's flowers
Look not upon failures face
But look to higher powers
Walk not upon a wayward path
But walk on lifes main highway
Your song may be a trumpet for
Some soul lost on a byway
A depressed soul can never be
A light to those who wander
Lifes' greatest talent is to share
My gift I will not squander
Yesterday my path was smooth
Today on rocks I stumble
Tho' I may dwell in palaces
Some need will keep me humble

Agnes Caldwell

A Piper at the Gates of Dawn

Waves rolling by on tiny crested feet clouds strolling high far above the hear

The rain is falling slower now as night begins to end sweat begins upon my brow another day to tend...

Rising with the glowing sun falling with the evening mist till once again we are one till once again we have kissed but yet another day will end in the echo of my goodbye when my love i will but send in a happy, longing, loving sigh...

Barrett Strong

The Light

Lights fizzle burnout and fade away
Stars — fade away die and are forgotten
Yet, the one true eternal light shines on forever
In the darkest night
It shines brighter than a billion suns
May the light of Christ
Guide you in the paths of truth and righteousness
May the light, life and love of the one eternal
God
Be in you
God bless you all

Buddy Dennis

Medieval Tounge

Whence a willowed jungle pine
Hence a colored grain
Wilt thou nots to cry or whine
And causeth thou some pain

Do not throw shoe in thine face
Nor tosseth rocks at me
For you noteth know your place
Caneth not thou see?

Retrospect No. 1
(me-type)

Autumn

Autumn leaves of red and gold softly floating to the ground,
The grass with its shining coat of frost
And a cloak of mist covers the town.
Warm days that fade into cool ones, evenings
crisp and clear.
The stars look so close you could touch them
And bonfires and hayrides appear.
Such a lovely season is autumn with squash,
pumpkins and cornstalks,
The colors are pleasant and peaceful, a time for taking long walks.
God gave us this beautiful season so we could take time to pursue,
All of our lovely surroundings.
He made them for me and for you.

Sue Cook

A Fall Walk Around The Pond Through The Marshes

Fringed gentian in remote and swampy place,
Night approaching,
Half-closed lashes cannot hide
The fidelity to autumn charm
That you give low marsh and farm
With your hidden glance.

Hopes of Dawn

Reach for fleeting wishes that fly the night ...
tunes of endless harmony
enlightening nights' fog of sleep ...
to dream once
and once again
knowing dawn's hope and sunlight
slip closer and closer around the bend of time.

A Love Poem

I didn't have money
Or any idea
What to give you
For Valentines Day.
I figured you'd think
It was just so much mush
And I'm too emotional.
Hearts and lace
Flowers and candy
Cards and poems
Are too girlish of nonsense
And I thought you'd think
I was a sentimental fool
If I tried to tell you I loved you
In a love poem,
But I think I've succeeded...

Lynne E. Harrison

Grandma

"Grandma, when I get big,
Will you still be here?"
"Yes, dear, as long as I can,"
As you shed a tiny tear.
"Grandma, where'd my puppy go
When he passed away?"
"To Heaven, dear, he's happy now.
With God he'll always stay."
"Grandma, why do you let Mommy Spank me when you're her mom?"
"Well, honey, you can't watch over
Your children all the time.
You've got to live and let them live,
Watch them fall and watch them climb.
You've got to let them live their lives
Though it's sure to hurt some time."
"Grandma?"
"Yes, dear?"
"I love you."

Lynne E. Harrison

The Special Three

There's a light that shines in the darkest night
Hope — never lose it
Love — never abuse it
Faith, hope and love
These come from our father above
To live without them is to live in vain
Nothing to gain
Nothing to lose
It's up to you
To live life at its fullest, oh God, is all I ask of thee
To live free
To die free
Faith, hope and love
Oh how I cherish these three

Secret Stars

The mystical stars are ever nearby
In blossoms of earth or the infinite sky;
No matter where you happen to be,
There are stars for you and all to see.

By carefully looking at flowers or weeds,
You will find in their hearts or hiding in reeds
A five-pointed star, and sometimes more
In the basic design of petals or core.

In silent radiance they seem to express
A living reflection of heaven's caress.
The star is a symbol, since life began
With wondrous assurance, God's promise to man.

Tankers almost 'walk' to John Glenn title

By JOHN MYERS

Northville's girls' swim team almost had to walk to the Westland John Glenn Invitational during the weekend. The Mustangs' opponents probably wished they had.

Despite arriving late both Friday and Saturday, the Mustangs still won the John Glenn Invitational rather handily. Northville, which broke four pool records, won the meet with 289 points. Host John Glenn was second at 210 followed by Riverview (152), Wayne (126), Wyandotte (110), Garden City (93), Lincoln Park (76), Livonia Franklin (65) and Annapolis (28).

There were bus transportation foul-ups, both days which limited the Mustangs' warm-up time before the meet. This had an effect on the girls' performances, according to coach Bill Dicks.

"They were a little depressed (because of the bus foul-ups)," he explained.

The tankers rushed their warm-ups to create thereby some doubts they were properly prepared for their respective events.

"When they were swimming (warm-up), they were rushing instead of breaking in slowly," said Dicks, adding the team had only about a half an hour to warm-up each day.

"It really does affect the them. There is no doubt about it," he added.

Also, the invitational came on the heels of last Thursday's Western Lakes Activities Association meet against Plymouth Salem which Northville won 74-53.

The three straight days of competitive swimming were beginning to

Three Mustang harriers qualify for state meet

For the first time in the short history of the Northville girls' cross country team, three runners will be heading to the MHSAA Class A state meet Saturday in Flint.

Junior Kelly Wool, senior Kim Assenmacher and freshman Wendy Neuchterlein will be running against the best Class A competition at the Flint IMA Brookwood Golf Course site.

Coach Ed Gabrys noted this is the best showing by a NHS girls' squad in the short two-year history of the varsity program.

"I think the program is coming along fine," he added.

Things did not go quite so well for the boys' team as junior Jim O'Neill missed going to the state meet by three positions. However, Gabrys related the squad did run some of its best times at the regional meet.

Back to the girls' performance, though.

Wool ran her best race of the season as she toured the five kilometer Cass Benton course in a 19:36 clocking. It gave her second place overall behind champion Julie Recla, of Livonia Churchill.

"It was a little tougher field than the league meet with Redford Union in it," Gabrys said. "She ran a better race Saturday than she did Tuesday (at the Western Lakes Activities Association meet)."

Soccer team trimmed by Churchill for division crown

Northville's youthful boys' soccer team ended its rather upbeat season with a 3-0 whitewashing of Farmington Harrison last Thursday in a Western Lakes Activities Association battle.

The victory came on the heels of a tough 1-0 blanking by Livonia Churchill last week Tuesday, which gave the Chargers the Western Division title.

Northville finished the season with an overall mark of 12-6-1 and a divisional mark of 8-4-1.

Co-coaches Dan Swayne and Marvin Gans, in their first season, guided a young and inexperienced team to heights higher than most people thought possible.

The Mustangs were ranked fourth in Class A in last week's state rankings. WLAA Lakes Division champion Livonia Stevenson is ranked first with Grosse Pointe North ranked second. Churchill is ranked third.

Of the six losses Northville suffered, two were to Stevenson, one to Churchill and one to Detroit Country Day, ranked first in Class B-C.

The Mustangs dominated the Harrison contest at both ends of the field with the coaches giving the seniors most of the playing time.

Seniors Greg Marshall and Mike Ross netted a goal apiece, while sophomore Brian Dragon tallied another.

The Harrison contest was the last of the season for seniors Marshall, Ross, Clay Waltz, Craig Zollars, John Moran, Chris Koenig, Omar Anisglu and foreign exchange student Fabio Nelsien.

Northville outshot Churchill but it was the Chargers who could score the game's lone goal with about eight minutes left to play.

The coaches noted it was an evenly matched contest with both squads getting numerous scoring opportunities. However, the Mustangs were not able to put the ball in the net or finish off a play, the coaches said.

The play of goalie Jeff Metz received praise from the coaches as he turned back 14 of 15 shots. The Chargers' goalkeeper stopped 20 shots to post a shutout and give them the Western Division title.

The coaches said they are pleased with the results of the season, and with the team's ranking in the state along with other WLAA powers.

However, the coaches would have liked to advance past the first round of the state tournament — the first time the Michigan High School Athletic Association is sponsoring the soccer championships.

The Mustangs were eliminated in the opening regional contest by Stevenson 5-1 October 18. The coaches, though, noted it was better to meet Stevenson earlier than later in the tournament.

Three harriers advance to state

"It was just a super performance by her," he praised.

Neuchterlein placed 12th overall at 20:35 and Assenmacher came in 14th at 20:40. In addition, all three runners were named to the All Regional team.

For Assenmacher, this will be the second straight trip to the state meet. Last year, she was the only Mustang girl runner to make it. As for Neuchterlein, Gabrys said it was a tribute to her to make the state meet because she is only a freshman.

Churchill, which also won the WLAA meet Tuesday, claimed the regional title while Northville took fifth out of 10 squads.

Detroit Catholic Central, Churchill and Redford Union dominated the boys' meet with Northville taking ninth out of 15 teams.

O'Neill ran the course in a time of 17:22, but it was just shy to qualify for the state meet. "He has run well for us all year, but pneumonia set him back a little a few weeks ago," Gabrys said.

Dave Nafe was the next Northville runner across the line at 17:55 and co-captain Doug Doyle followed at 18:00. Kurt Assenmacher ran an 18:10 and Rich Naszardi was clocked at 18:13.

The Mustang boys' took seventh at the WLAA meet last week Tuesday with 158 points. Walled Lake Western was first (39) and was followed by Churchill (49), Livonia Stevenson (111), Plymouth Salem (131), Walled Lake Central (147), Farmington (155), Northville, Plymouth Canton (182), Livonia Bentley (190) and Farmington Harrison (231).

Although Gabrys would have liked to have taken fifth, he wasn't that disappointed with the seventh place showing. He noted the Mustangs were only 11 points from placing fifth.

More importantly, the first six Northville runners all placed within one minute of each other, and the varsity had help from numerous underclassmen.

"We have nine of 11 runners returning," Gabrys boasted.

O'Neill was the top Mustang runner as he took 18th overall with his best time of the season at 17:19. Also, he was named to the All Western Division team.

Jim Willoughby was next at 17:50, while Dave Nafe crossed the line at 18:05. Pat Campbell ran an 18:10, Assenmacher an 18:14 and Mike Siefkin an 18:29.

The girls' team placed fifth at the meet with 134 points behind champion Churchill (31), runner-up Western (75), third-place Salem (97) and fourth-place Stevenson (109). Canton took sixth at 169 and Harrison was last with 204. Bentley, Central and Farmington do not have girls' teams.

Wool again was the top Northville runner as she placed third overall at 19:54. That also placed her on the All WLAA squad.

Both Assenmacher and Neuchterlein were named to the All Western Division squad. Assenmacher took 14th at 20:51 and Neuchterlein 15th with a 20:59.

Other runners competing for Northville were Margie Wojcicki (23:41), Michelle Ryan and Sharon Savageau. Gabrys commended the job Wojcicki did considering she ran the meet with a broken foot. "We had it x-rayed after the meet, and it showed it was broken," he added.

The boys' junior varsity squad took second in the WLAA behind the top performance of Naszardi. The sophomore took fifth overall with an 18:19 clocking. Freshman Ken Booth was next at 18:36 with John Huston (ninth) close on his heels at 18:37 and Jim McKnight (11th) at 18:39.

Also, the junior varsity competed in the Redford Union Reserve meet last Friday, and placed about in the middle of 18 teams, according to Gabrys.

Booth ran his best time with an 18:10 to pace the Mustang runners. Chris Jones was the next NHS runner at 18:40.

Stevenson's ball control, passing dooms gridgers, 26-0

By JOHN MYERS

Livonia Stevenson: 75 offensive plays. Northville: 33 offensive plays. That is what the Northville-Stevenson football clash boiled down to—ball control. The Spartans effectively wore down the Mustangs with a ball control offense to post a 26-0 triumph in a Western Lakes Activities Association position night match up.

Stevenson used 49 of those 75 plays in the second half to break open a tight 7-0 contest for the victory. The Mustangs, meanwhile, were only able to run off 13 plays which kept them from getting back into the ballgame.

"That kind of says what happened," noted head coach Dennis Colligan, whose team finished 2-4 in the Western Division. "They were a good, physical team."

"All year long Stevenson has been a strong, tough and physical defensive team, but had been sputtering on offense.

"We just wore down. They had the size advantage out front, and they just dominated the third and fourth quarters," he added.

"For three quarters, it was basically a 7-0 ballgame. We still thought we had a chance to pull off something," Colligan related.

Stevenson, however, was able to keep the Mustang defense off-balance most of the evening with a superb passing game from junior quarterback Dan Gilmartin.

Gilmartin was nearly unstoppable passing as he hit 12 of 14 aeriels for 138 yards and one touchdown. Most of his completions came on third down situations to help keep long touchdown drives alive.

"I think that was a key; I really do," said Colligan of Gilmartin's passing. "He was throwing underneath our coverage."

His passing came in handy in the Spartans' first touchdown drive in the second quarter. Gilmartin directed a 17-play, 92-yard scoring march with Mark Mueeting scoring from six yards out. The drive took nine of the 12 second-period minutes.

The Mustangs, though, had a couple of earlier opportunities to put some points on the board, but came away empty.

Northville recovered a Stevenson fumble at midfield in the first quarter. The Mustangs were halted at the 11, and Bill Kinnard's 28-yard field goal attempt went wide.

Colligan said he went with the field goal attempt because it was in Kinnard's range in addition to wanting to get some quick points on the board.

"Even though we came away dry, I thought we would be okay," he said.

Stevenson fumbled the ball on its ensuing drive which Northville recovered its own 43. However, the Spartans closed the door on the Mustangs and took over on downs at the 36.

Neither team was able to score before halftime. Thus, Colligan had some optimism about the score, despite trailing 7-0.

"I thought we were still in the ballgame at halftime," Colligan said.

In the third quarter, Randy Kratt came up with a big sack on Gilmartin on the Northville 37 to stop the Spartans' opening drive.

Northville was unable to get a first down in three plays which forced the Mustangs to punt.

Stevenson took over at its own 20-yard line and scored 15 plays later when Gilmartin hit John Weak with a five-yard pass with 10 seconds remaining in the third quarter.

The Spartans scored despite Matt Meyer sacking Gilmartin earlier in the march to force a third and 19 from the 44. However, Gilmartin completed a 19-yard aerial to keep the drive going.

The Spartans thoroughly dominated the final quarter and scored twice to ice the contest. Mueeting scored again on a two-yard run and Scott Bixby added the final tally.

Andy Dimitroff, who was limited to 33 yards on 12 carries, was injured late in the third quarter. "They got a lot of yards after he went out. He is more valuable to us defensively than he is offensively," said Colligan, noting Dimitroff starts at middle linebacker as well as halfback.

"When he came out, it greatly weakened our defense. It was just one of those things," he added.

Ray McDonough had another big game carrying the ball as he churned out 92 yards in seven carries. Northville finished with 159 total offensive yards to Stevenson's 396.

Defensively, Tim Jackson, John Quinn and Matt Meyer had good nights. Jackson recorded 17 tackles to lead the defense, while Meyer had 15 and Quinn 14.

Northville will look to close out its season with a big upset win over non-league Novi at 7:30 p.m. Friday at home. The Wildcats, 6-2 overall, won last year's game 7-0 and have won the last three contests.

"The kids, the coaches and everybody look at this game as kind of a saving grace for our season," assessed Colligan, whose team is 3-5 overall.

They (the players) want to go out with a bang, and what better way to do it than to upset Novi," he offered. "I think we're capable of doing it."

"This game could mean a lot to us. It could save a lot of respect and a lot of pride if we win. (The players) will be fired up for it," Colligan added.

NHS sports program needs to seek ninth grade waiver

By JOHN MYERS

The status of the Northville junior high ninth grade students' continued participation in the high school athletic program took a 180 degree turn toward some uncertainty last week.

The questionable status materialized with the long-range plan adopted October 25 by the Northville Board of Education calling for, among other things, a proposed grade restructuring for the 1983-84 school year. The proposed restructuring calls for a middle school concept of K-5, 6-8 and 9-12.

Because of this plan, Northville Athletic Director Ralph Redmond said a request will have to be made to the Michigan High School Athletic Association each year to get a waiver to let the ninth grade participate in the high school athletic program.

The MHSAA granted a waiver to Northville last April after Redmond explained most NHS varsity sports teams had low athlete turnout making it difficult to field complete squads.

Also, he mentioned the board of education was examining a grade restructuring which would probably take effect for the 1983-84 school year. Currently the ninth grade is not in the high school grade system.

Thus Redmond confirmed Northville will be in a pins and needles' situation each year as the MHSAA could go either way with the request.

But I would go out on a limb and say there is an 80 percent chance of getting (the waiver) again," predicted Redmond, noting he will ask for another waiver for next year as soon as possible.

When the next request is made, Redmond explained it will be brought to the MHSAA's attention there is a five-year goal to bring the ninth grade into the high school grade structure.

More importantly, he added, it will be pointed out that some programs would have to be eliminated because of the (student) size of the junior high.

If the waiver is granted again, the current sports program set-up will be kept, Redmond said.

The ninth grade football team has been playing its home games at the high school field, and played seven regular season contests in addition to one scrimmage.

The seventh and eighth grade grid squads for Cooke and Meads Mill have played a six-game schedule.

The ninth grade girls' basketball program has been moved to the high school, while the seventh and eighth grade teams are participating in a 10-game program.

The girls' volleyball program will follow the same set-up as the basketball program.

Both the ninth grade boys' and girls' swim and track programs will move to the high school while the seventh and eighth grade co-educational swim and track teams will remain at the junior highs.

Ninth graders did participate in this fall's soccer, tennis, golf and cross country programs which were not before available at the junior high level. They also are eligible to participate in gymnastics, wrestling, baseball and softball.

The only ninth grade junior high program which is not being moved to the high school is the boys' basketball squad. The ninth grade team will play a 16-game schedule, including a tournament, while the seventh and eighth grade teams will play a 12-game schedule.

Northville to look at KVC?

Even though Northville has jumped feet first into the new Western Lakes Activities Association, NHS Athletic Director Ralph Redmond confirmed he would investigate the possibility of joining the Kensington Valley Conference if an opening occurred.

The prospect of a KVC opening could happen soon as Pinckney, a Class B school, has made it known recently it is checking into the possibility of joining a more compatible conference.

Pinckney Athletic Director Ralph Dresch said he is looking into the possibility of joining the Southeastern Conference — a conference in which he believes Pinckney would be more competitive.

If Pinckney does leave, the KVC would like to fill the slot because of the scheduling difficulties associated with seven-team leagues.

Enter Northville. While Redmond said he would investigate changing leagues, he notes the Mustang coaches and players have been pleased with the new WLAA.

"The coaches have been eagerly anticipating the start of the WLAA. Looking at the standings top to bottom, it is evident nobody is blowing us out," he assessed.

"The kids like it. The competition is better," and it's stronger competition," Redmond added.

"Yet, we would be definitely interested at looking at the KVC," he said.

The Mustangs are aligned in the Western Division of the WLAA, which also has a five-team Lakes Division. Along with Northville on the Western Division are Farmington, Harrison, Plymouth Canton, Livonia Churchill and Walled Lake Western. The Lakes Division is composed of Livonia Bentley, Farmington, Plymouth Salem, Livonia Stevenson and Walled Lake Central.

A quick look at what the Mustangs have done in this initial fall season tends to bear out Redmond's statement — Northville has not been getting blown off the field or court.

The girls' tennis team placed third at the WLAA meet, and was second in its Western Division, losing the title to Harrison on a tie-breaker rule.

The boys' golf team placed fifth at the WLAA meet and was second in the Western Division. The soccer squad also was runner-up in the Western Division behind Livonia Churchill which is battling for the state Class A championship. Also, the soccer team is ranked fourth in the state.

The football team garnered second in the Western Division, while the girls' basketball team has been struggling all season in last place.

The boys' cross country team took seventh at the WLAA meet and third in its division, while the girls' team was third in its division and fifth at the league meet.

The girls' swim team currently is first in its division with the league meet slated for November 17-18. At an earlier WLAA relay meet, Northville was runner-up to Stevenson.

Travel distance would be another consideration in the possible changing of leagues, Redmond said.

Currently, all 10 WLAA schools are within approximately 10-15 minutes of each other, he said. Travel costs would be more in the KVC, Redmond said, with having to travel to Howell, Brighton, Milford and Lakeland for league contests.

Also, league commitments enter into the picture. Redmond noted the WLAA has scheduled contests with each for this season and next. The same would hold true for Pinckney in the KVC, he said.

Therefore, if Pinckney were to be accepted into the Southeastern Conference for the 1983-84 season, it probably would need a release from the KVC, Redmond explained. The same holds true for Northville if it ever decided to switch league affiliations.

However, that really does not seem likely for the moment with Northville.

Colt freshmen, junior varsity win

Both the freshmen and junior varsity Northville/Novi Colt little league football squads ended their seasons on upbeat notes with victories over the South Lyon Panthers Sunday. The varsity squad played to a scoreless tie.

The freshmen squad completed its season with a 7-1 record after blanking South Lyon 21-0.

Matt Smith, the key offensive figure all season, opened the scoring with a 56-yard touchdown pass from Steve Bastian in the second quarter. Doug Cody added the extra point.

Garnett Potter scooped a Panther fumble after the second-half kickoff and ran 20 yards for the touchdown.

The defense, playing its best game of the season, trapped the Panthers for repeated losses. In the third quarter, Smith nailed the enemy ball carrier in the end zone for a two-point play.

Jeff Todd finished the scoring with a 30-yard touchdown jaunt in the fourth quarter. Defensively, the Colts limited South Lyon to 12 yards rushing and one first down.

The junior varsity had to come-from-behind with a Scott Stephens touchdown to record a slim 7-6 triumph over the Panthers.

Stephens scored on a one-yard dive and threw to Grant Tranter for the extra point. The decisive score came after South Lyon had punched the ball into the end zone for a 6-0 third-quarter lead.

Bob Smith led the defensive chargers for the Colts, while Stephens had a good day throwing the ball.

The junior varsity finished with a 3-4-1 mark.

The varsity contest was played in a steady rain with neither team being able to sustain any kind of an offensive drive.

Familiar name captures grid contest's top prize

There is a familiar name back at the top of the weekly Northville Record/Novi-Walled Lake News football contest.

Northville's Chris Odom captured the $10 first-place prize over four other contestants, all of whom tied with 12 correct answers.

To refresh the memory about Odom, he was a consistent winner in last year's contest. He grabbed the first place prize money no less than six times. However, this was his first time in the winner's circle this year.

Odom took the top prize on virtue of his closer guess of the Arizona State/Southern California total points scored tie-breaker. He selected 34 points and 27 was the actual number.

Northville's Bruce Martin, no stranger to the list of winners, claimed the $5 second-place prize with his guess of 41 points.

Farmington's Art Thompson and Northville's Bette Moran tied for the $3 third-place prize with 44 total points. Northville's Bob Martin also had 12 correct winners, but he selected 54 total points to lose out on any of the prize money.

Of the 38 contestants, five had 12 winners, six 11 winners, five 10 correct, eight with nine winners, eight with eight winners, three with seven correct and three with six correct.

Cagers fall to Churchill, Harrison

Rookie coach Rick Hurst was a little more encouraged about the performance of his Northville girls' basketball team last week than the week before.

For the first time in nearly three weeks, Hurst had everyone back healthy for the Mustangs' two Western Lakes Activities Association contests last week.

"We got going in the right direction again," Hurst related. "We have everybody back to where we're stable. The week before we were just surviving."

'We have everybody back to where we're stable'

— Rick Hurst, NHS cage coach

The Mustangs were blanked in the win column last week as Western Division foes Livonia Churchill and Farmington Harrison posted victories over the young squad.

Division champion Harrison topped the Mustangs 63-24 last Thursday, while Churchill downed Northville 33-19 last week Tuesday.

The double loss puts Northville at 1-13

overall, and the Mustangs placed last in the Western Division.

Northville played well in spurts against Harrison, but the Hawks' duo of Sue Ferguson and Alice Short were too much to handle.

Ferguson poured in 29 points, while Short added another 21 to pace the Hawks. Tracy Wilkinson canned 10 for the Mustangs, while Denise Liddle tossed in eight.

Harrison only led 13-10 after the first quarter, but expanded the lead to 28-10 at halftime. The Hawks took a 46-20 advantage into the final stanza.

Northville poured in 20 of its 24 points in the first and third quarters, and Hurst explained that was largely due to Harrison playing a man-to-man defense.

"We're pretty effective against it (man-to-man). However, the zone (defense) we just can't cope with it, yet," Hurst related.

The Hawks used their zone defense to shut down the Mustangs in the second and final quarters.

Sue Terwin and Kathy Korowin, both of whom had been hampered by injuries recently, were assigned the chore of guarding Ferguson and Short, respectively.

Hurst commended the jobs both Terwin and Korowin did, but he added the other players did not help the pair well defensively.

Both Churchill and Northville are two evenly matched teams, according to Hurst, but noted foul shots were the difference in this contest.

Both teams had terrible shooting nights from the floor as each squad connected for seven field goals. However, Northville could only muster five points from the foul line while Churchill canned 19.

Part of the reason the Mustangs sent the Chargers to the charity stripe so much was that they forced Churchill to bring the ball inside more instead of giving up the outside shot.

But, nearly every time Churchill worked the ball inside and took a shot, a Mustang player would commit a foul, Hurst said.

Also, the Mustangs had trouble solving Churchill's zone defense which limited their scoring ability. Terwin paced Northville with five points, while Wilkinson and Liddle each tossed in four points.

Northville is in action Thursday night in the first round of the WLAA tournament to determine the league champion. The Mustangs will travel to Farmington — the only team they have beaten this season — for their initial contest.

Hurst plans on letting Wilkinson start shooting the ball more from 10-12 feet to help the Mustangs get some scoring output against a zone defense.

While the Mustangs stand a good chance of beating Farmington, Hurst realizes a couple of things must happen during the contest.

"We need to play good defense and to get somebody, probably Tracy, to shoot over that zone defense," he explained.

Northville will play its second-round contest Tuesday night against a team and site to be announced after the Farmington contest.

Remembering 'Early Northville'

Among the photographs in Laura Smyth Hixson's book "Early Northville" is the picture at left taken in 1878. All but four of the 11 gentlemen in the photograph are identified. The old frame building in the picture was located on northeast side of Main Street and reportedly was built by John Miller in 1830 and later sold to William Dunlap. The photograph on the right shows the north side of Main Street, east of the present Manufacturers Bank, being destroyed by fire on April 3, 1925.

History preserved in new publication

After years of recording oral histories from some of Northville's oldest residents, as well as scrounging through attics and libraries for early documents and momentos, resident genealogist Laura Smyth Hixson has compiled a collection of photographs offering a rare view of "Early Northville."

Hixson's book, published by the Northville Historical Society, is a collection of 120 previously unpublished photographs assembled by the author over the past several years.

As a member of the historical society and former editor of the society's "Quarterly" newsletter, Hixson's years of research netted her a substantial collection of 19th and early 20th century photographs of Northville and its residents.

A counselor in the Huron Valley School District and a genealogy instructor at Schoolcraft College, Hixson said her interest in the subject began with her move to Northville in 1967.

She said she first began thinking about publishing a book approximately four years ago, shortly after the success of a slide presentation she compiled for the historical society.

Hixson said many of the photographs in her book belong to residents who are descendants of some of Northville's early settlers.

"What makes these photographs unique is that many of them are identified," she said.

For example, an 1878 photograph of an old frame building on the northeast side of Main Street shows a group of men lined up along the sidewalk. All but four of the 11 men in the photograph are identified.

"That picture has been seen hundreds of times," Hixson notes, "but the men have never been identified."

Hixson said that many residents were helpful in identifying and supplying old photographs for her book. However, she noted that since the book has been published, more and more people are "digging out old pictures."

She said she's had several calls from older residents who have since found photographs and documents they're willing to share.

"With all the calls I've gotten since the book was published," Hixson said, "I probably could publish another book."

Hixson said she always is interested in photographs and stories of early Northville. Anyone wishing to share a little history can call her at 348-1493.

Hixson's book, "Early Northville," is $5 per copy and available at Book Stall on Main, Book Stop on Seven Mile, Little Book Center in Plymouth and through the Northville Historical Society, Box 71.

All proceeds from the book sales will go towards restoration projects at Mill Race Historical Village.

Auction plans

Displaying craft items for sale at next Tuesday's "Make It, Bake It, Sew It, Do It" auction sponsored by the AAUW are from left Cindy Abbott, Carol Koster (auction chairman) and Karen Olson. The auction, to be held at 7:30 p.m. at the Amerman Elementary library, will include crafts, baked and canned goods and several items donated by local merchants. The sale and auction are open to the public. Record photo by Steve Fecht.

In Our Town

AAUW members ready for auction

By JEAN DAY

A great variety of crafts from creative fingers is promised by the Northville-Novi Branch of the American Association of University Women at its annual "Make It, Bake It, Sew It, Do It" auction to be held at 7:30 p.m. November 9 in the Amerman Elementary library.

Members have been stitching, baking and canning throughout the summer to have a great variety at the auction. Local merchants also have donated items for the auction with proceeds going toward the AAUW scholarship fund which awards a scholarship to a graduating Northville High School senior each spring.

Before the auction there will be a sale of baked goods and homemade jams, jellies and potpourri, reports Carol Koster, chairman of the event. The public is invited to attend the sale and auction. The branch reports it is open to new members. Persons interested in joining must be graduates of accredited colleges. Jay Ward, 349-3456, or Jean Hanson, 348-6096, may be contacted.

Mothers' Club Life Members make holiday plans

Mrs. H.O. Evans will open her home for the annual Christmas benefit cocktail party of the Life Member group of Northville Mothers' Club (members of the club who have served at least 10 years) to be held from 5-7 p.m. December 4, the same night as the mothers' club's cocktail benefits. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. William Davis and Mrs. Richard Ambler, president of the life group.

The harvest benefit at the club's October 18 meeting as well as a fall flower sale were successful, Mrs. Ambler says, toward raising funds for the grants the group gives graduating high school seniors. Tickets are being sold for an afghan made by member Norma Terry. It is on display at West End Company and will be awarded at the Christmas party.

Sign up now for popular wreath workshop

Northville Cooperative Preschool's annual pine cone wreathmaking workshops will be held in the evening December 1 and during the afternoon and evening December 2 on the first floor of Main Street Elementary.

"We show you what to do and furnish all materials," promise the sponsors. For more information or to sign up call Kathi Jerome, 348-9097, or Brenda Pescia, 349-4982.

World Community Day celebrated at Mill Race

Northwest Suburban Unit of Church Women United will celebrate World Community Day at 10 a.m. Friday in the New School Church at Mill Race Historical Village.

The event is hosted by Bushnell Congregational Church Women who will provide refreshments following the service.

Speaker at the celebration will be Leona Riebling of Northville. A member of the Salem United Church of Christ in Farmington, she is the newly-appointed peace consultant for the east area of the Michigan Conference, United Church of Christ.

As peace consultant, Riebling will be developing and implementing a "Witness for Peace in the Michigan Conference."

It is hoped that within a year, the consultant will have identified a team of peace advocates in at least half of the congregations in the east area. She will be responsible for designing and sponsoring training workshops for the peace teams.

Riebling also is one of 20 persons that met with a similar group this past summer in Germany to study the pastoral and prophetic task of the church leaders on the peace priority.

World Community Day began during World War II and has focused on issues of global justice and peace. The theme for this year's celebration is "Scarcity/Abundance."

The writers of this year's service gathered at the Bethlehem Center near Denver, Colorado, a retreat center operated by the Bethlehem Fathers. On the grounds is a bridge which when dedicated was described as a "sign of transition from passive to active participation in Mission."

It is hoped that this year's celebration of World Community Day will be a causeway — or a bridge — spanning the gap between scarcity and abundance.

As part of the celebration, women attending are asked to bring a non-perishable food for the FISH food cupboard and any clean, usable old blankets they no longer need.

Babysitting will be provided. For further information, call Mary Jo Mathias at 348-3829.

Russo is fellowship speaker

Dominic Russo, owner-partner of Rocky Produce Company in Detroit, will be the guest speaker at the November 19 dinner meeting of the Northville-Plymouth-Livonia Chapter of the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship.

At the age of 36, Russo was frustrated and in dire financial straits from years of gambling losses and finally "called on God for help."

Today he is president of the Macomb County Chapter of the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship.

The November 19 meeting at 8 p.m. follows dinner which will be served at the Sveden House Restaurant in Farmington Plaza. Dinner is $6 per person and includes tax and gratuity. Both the dinner and program are open to the public. Reservations are required and may be made by calling Daniel Beetler "FGBMF", P.O. Box at 349-0006 or Earl Flynn 5332, Northville, by at 348-3352 or send November 16.

Antique show opens Friday

Northville residents Marge Merrick and Barb Williamson are among the volunteers working on the 35th Annual Antiques Show and Sale sponsored by the Junior Group of the League for the Handicapped-Goodwill Industries to be held this Friday through Sunday.

The show, to be held at Fairlane Manor in Dearborn, will feature more than 50 antique dealers exhibiting 18th and 19th century American and English furniture, primitives, toys, jewelry, oil paintings, prints, quilts, clocks, dolls, pewter, tin, silver, glass, Staffordshire, Shaker furniture and much more.

Junior Goodwill members also will be on hand to operate the Gingerbread Diner, featuring light lunches and dinners — all prepared by the group. There also will be an old fashioned Country Store with unusual handmade items and unique Christmas gifts, candies, homemade jams, jellies, pickles and baked goods.

The Goodwill Booth, one of the show's most popular booths, will feature antiques, collectibles and items of quality gathered by the Goodwill during the past year and prepared for sale by Junior Group members.

Demonstrations in lace making, stenciling, weaving, spinning and quilting also will be given as well as lectures on antique jewelry and antique coins.

Show hours are 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. Donations are $3.50 per person.

Honorary chairmen for the show are Mr. and Mrs. F. James McDonald and Mort Crim.

For more information, call 474-8887.

Remembering Pappa Buggs

In memory of former Northville resident William Shlief, affectionately known as "Pappa Buggs," Northville Girl Scouts purchased a bench for Downtown Mainstreet. The plaque inscribed on the bench reads, "In Memory of Bill Shlief (Pappa Buggs), Northville Girl Scouts." The memorial was purchased with funds from group and individual troop projects from all Northville Girl Scout troops. In addition, Girl Scouts honored Pappa Buggs at a ceremony October 3 at Huron Valley Girl Scout Council's Camp Linden. A small grove of Pin Oak trees was planted in his memory. There currently are 20 Girl Scout troops in Northville including a new Cadette troop. Troop advisor Nancy Sherman reports there still is room for more girls in the Cadette troop. Any former scout or girl in grades 7-9 interested in joining should call Ruth McMahon at 453-5905.
