Doug Lorenz treks up snowy South Center walk on a spring day

Icy blast greets spring

Spring officially arrived at 11:39 p.m. inches recorded for the entire winter. Sunday, wearing boots and carrying a snow shovel.

At that hour a scant two inches of white snow had drifted on downtown streets — the fluffy flakes taking on a golden glow under the street lights.

By the time residents awoke Monday Theodore Mapes estimated, seven inches covered the ground.

By Tuesday, he noted, Northville's streets were in "pretty decent shape," Mapes said one man worked all night Sunday to begin the clearing. Work began at 4 a.m. Tuesday to finish clearing both streets and parking lots by early morning.

Mapes added that the city still has a shed full of salt, but explained a supply always is kept on hand because "there have been ice storms in April."

Northville public and parochial schools were closed Monday for only the second time this school year on a "snow day." The other day occurred after a January ice storm, Superintendent George Bell recalled.

The good part of the onslaught, however, is the welcome it received: Most of the shoveling was goodnatured. Comments were made that 'at least it won't last."

Assessment roll certified for Park Gardens sewers

By KEVIN WILSON

Everything is "go" for a summer launch to the $1.1 million sewer project in the Park Gardens neighborhood.

The township board of trustees last week confirmed a special assessment roll committing property owners in the area to payment of $669,000 of the cost. Combined with federal and township funds, the homeowners' shares will complete financing for the project.

The assessments, ranging from a low of $2,700 to more than $22,000, will back a bond issue to pay for installation of sewers to serve nearly 200 parcels. The remaining costs are covered by $240,000 in federal funds (representing five years of block grant appropriations), $75,000 from the township and $87,800 from the water and sewer department.

Sewer installation will address longstanding ground pollution problems caused by failing septic systems in the

Confirmation of the assessment roll sets the stage for bond issuance, advertisement for bids on the construction project and a July 1 target date for awarding the contract, township engineer Edward McNeely told a gathering of 45 Park Gardens property owners last Wednesday.

Construction bidders will be asked to submit an "alternate bid" to employ two work crews simultaneously to accelerate the installation, McNeely said. With two crews, the job could be completed within six months, he said. Such an arrangement would be used if bids prove it affordable within the monies parimutuel tax receipts due, as well as talk of further cuts to an already heavily-slashed appropriation, has city officials contemplating legal action.

A $119,683 payment due March 1 was first delayed to March 15, then April 1, city manager Steve Walters told city council Monday night. When it finally appears, he added, it is possible the amount will have been reduced again. The figure represents 74 percent of the figure due from January racing

When payment did not arrive March 15 and State Senator R. Robert Geake told city officials "nothing could be done" Walters reported, a letter was sent asking city attorney James Kohl to review the law and render an opinion as to whether the state is in breach of contract with the city or has violated the law governing parimutuel taxes.

'In explaining the situation for our attorney, looking at it as a contract whereby we provide services to the track in exchange for the share (20 percent) of taxes," Walters said, "I was astounded to see how flagrantly we have been violated.

His letter to Kohl, dated March 17, notes that state law requires the full 29 percent share be placed in a fund controlled by the Department of Agriculture and returned to city and that the same legislation prohibits using the money in the state's general

Any further reduction in racing revenues paid the city, combined with a determination that the legal situation cuts in city services, Walters said recently.

Although the statutory amount under formula for the current racing season through January would be $536,969, Walters reported to council, actual receipts have been $304,000. Of payments made thus far, the department of agriculture has withheld 26 percent "in anticipation of additional cuts had been given only $500,228.

July 4 weekend

Plans made for field day

By KEVIN WILSON

Plans are afoot to add a community "field day" fundraiser to Northville's July 4 weekend celebrations with hopes of reducing the recreation department

Recreation commissioner Elizabeth McCarville put the plan forward during February commission sessions and has since been soliciting the aid and cooperation of virtually every organization in town.

"Right now, we want to determine the degree of support we can count on before we commit ourselves to it." Mc-Carville said. "I'd hope this would become an annual event, so we want to make sure it gets off the ground right."

To that end, an April 11 meeting of community service and government organization representatives has been be disbursed to cities without a. set for discussion of the proposal to legislative appropriation, which this stage a field day on Northville High School grounds Saturday, July 3.

McCarville said informal discussions with representatives of many organizations, including the Northville Jaycees who organize parade and other July 4 activities, have been fruitful.

'People have been really supportive so far," she said. "Some are really excited about the idea already. We're really talking about community service here, and getting everyone to cooperate toward the one goal of reducing the recreation deficit."

She said interested individuals are 'more than welcome" to attend the April 11 organizational session at 7:30 p.m. in Northville Township Hall.

"It's going to demand a lot of volunteer help to pull this thing off," McCarville explained. "Any one at all gested that any city examination of interested in community service is legal action include discussion with welcome. We expect to put on a really fun event that will become another part of the July 4 weekend in Northville.'

Schools donate clock to historical society

By MICHELE McELMURRY

When Judy Higbee's fourth and fifth grade students begin their lessons at Wash Oak School for a week this May, they may find themselves keeping track of time by the ticking of one of the district's oldest school clocks.

Upon the recommendation of School Superintendent George Bell, the Northville Board of Education March 14 approved the donation of a 1916 Standard Electric Time Company program clock to the Northville Historical Society.

The antique clock, which has been in the superintendent's office for the past decade, was used to regulate the ringing of the bells in Northville High School, which now is the site of Old Village

Marion Zayti, who is in charge of child accounting for the school district and also serves as school history authority, said the clock was retrieved from the district's basement archives during Raymond Spear's superintendency and has been hanging in the superintendent's office ever

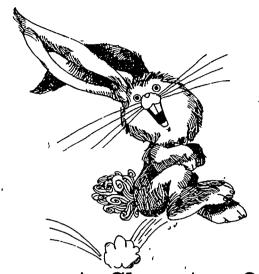

In recommending the donation, Bell told the board the clock may be "too overpowering" for Wash Oak School but could be used in another building in Mill Race Village. The 20th century clock, approximately five-feet in height, postdates the school house period

In addition to the clock, the historical society also will receive the minutes of the November 29, 1916, school board meeting where approval to purchase the program clock was unanimously authorized at a cost of $565 — including installation and wiring.

8) Show such additional survey and design information that may be needed for a complete site plan review. Commissioner William Demray explained to Harbin that basically McNeely's concern was securing proper grading for the property before construction continued. Commissioner Luke Durst made a motion to have Harbin return to the next meeting with redesigned site

"The history of this property and its ownership are so bad, that I am very surprised that you have come back so if you comply with all the ordinances and procedurally do what you have to do, this commission will be more than happy to approve your plans. That property has been an eyesore for too long

It was further explained to Harbin that, for the commission to allow occupancy of the building, he would have to post a sizable performance bond against the scheduled construction work.

Durst's motion was approved unanimously, and a special meeting of the commission was arranged for March 29 to replace the previously scheduled April 5 session. At that time, Harbin will be asked to produce the correct site plans for approval.

Also on the March 15 agenda was a request by Robert and Ruth Cole to rezone lots 215-218 on South Center from residential to Commercial Business District (CBD).

"We don't feel it is residential property anymore," stated Ruth Cole. "It is situated between two parking lots, with Northville Downs on one side and a business street on the other. We could not sell the property as residential to-

Consultant Nino advised the commission that the property use could be changed for anything the board desired, but that it should be approved as CBD, as applied for.

Since the Coles own two of the four properties involved, with the other owners in absentee agreement, a motion was approved to delay a public hearing until a commission subcommittee has had an opportunity to review the situation. A decision on which properties should be involved in the application is pending.

Amendment approved to zoning ordinance

Zoning ordinance amendments to permit accessory residential uses in PBO (professional business office) zones were approved by city council

Council member Burton DeRusha said during a public hearing that the intent was to permit residential uses similar to those allowed in the upper stories of buildings in the CBD (central business district), particularly as regards PBO parcels on South Main and North Center.

Under the new regulations, PBO residential uses cannot be on the ground floor, access must be either inside the building or through an existing exterior wall (additions would be permitted, but open stairwells on outside walls are prohibited), and each unit would be a minimum 450 square feet in Each unit must have at least two rooms, plus a bathroom. Complete kitchen facilities are required.

Council member Paul Folino expressed concern that the wording of the law would allow the main entrance to be into a bedroom with a kitchen accessible only from that room.

DeRusha responded that concern was not with floor plans but minimum living space and "we wanted to avoid the 'efficiency apartment' situation, where you could have one big room and just a hot Mayor Pro Tem Dewey Gardner, presiding in Mayor Paul Vernon's absence, said the situation depicted by Folino "is the really the worst it could get." He said the main living area might be a combination bedroom-living room. "A fold-a-bed arrangment, with a kitchen off one way, and a bathroom.'

Folino indicated his concerns had been addressed and council approved the amendments as recommended by the planning commission.

Two other zoning amendments recommended by planners were also approved. One corrects a "minimum floor area" standard that in its earlier form would have prohibited reconstruction of three-story buildings in the CBD. "In the event of a fire or something, the way it was written it would have banned a three-story building in the CBD" city manager Steve Walters explained. "And those are certain welcome there, we don't want to discourage that."

The third set of amendments simply alters the required size of residential parking spaces to conform with the smaller sizes permitted in commercial districts. The old standard of two 10-by-20 foot parking spaces has been reduced to allow spaces nine-by-19 feet. Walters said this brings residential requirements in line with those established in commercial districts since 1978. The move was prompted by the shift to smaller cars.

Parson to Person...

Temptation

Dr. James Luther

What a frightening word! It suggests ruined lives, broken bodies, and eternal regret.
Some are tempted to be dishonest. How simple it is to tell a half-truth in a business simple it is to tell a nall-truth in a business deal. Who would know if you take some "extra" things from your employer? Who cares?

Some live with lust. It is a gamble with home and future, yet you still feed the fire. You allow impure thoughts to capture your mind, which leads to impure actions that control your life. Some are tempted to end it all. Discouragement dominates your heart. There seems to be no way out.

And the list multiplies! If I try to name every area, I might miss your private bat-tlefield. What can we do about temptation? First, avoid those things that lead to temptation. Identify the thoughts, habits, or circumstances that lead to temptation.

Second, remember that God gives power to overcome any temptation (I Cor. 10:13). Find out how to appropriate that power. Finally, fill your mind with God's Word. The Bible is the Sword of the Spirit, and provides a wonderful defense (Luke 4:1-13).

Planners slate meeting March 28 in Salem

Two conditional use requests will head the agenda for the Monday, March 28 special meeting of the Salem Township Planning Commission. The meeting begins at 8 p.m. at the Salem torney John S. Dobson met with Township hell

The meeting was orginally set February 21 by the commission for further consideration of the Holloway Sand and Gravel Company's application for conditional use permits for sand and gravel mining, expanded landfill opera-tion and construction of an asphalt plant. The request involves a 165-acre parcel which lies adjacent on the west to Holloway's current landfill at Six Mile and Napier.

The second request to be considered at the special meeting is one by Karl Poulos, owner of Karl's Family Restaurant at North Territorial and Gotfredson, for a resort liquor license and dance permit. According to the township's zoning ordinance, this must at four meetings and on February 21 be considered as a conditional use by moved to return the application to the planning commission.

The proposed landfill expansion is in an agricultural-residential zoning while the asphalt plant would be located in an area currently zoned general industrial. The Holloway requests have been interpreted by the township to fall under the conditional use restrictions in both districts as spelled out in the zoning ordinance.

Although the planning commission has the authority under the ordinance to grant the asphalt permit, the restoration plan for a sand and gravel mining area must be recommended by the planning commission and accepted by the township board before mining permits can be granted.

Holloway's request was originally submitted to the township board in September and then forwarded to the planning commission in November. It tion had been received from Holloway, was the subject of a public hearing in according to township officials.

representatives of Holloway and drew up a tentative agreement which might govern the expanded Holloway opera-tions if the conditional use permit for mining and landfill is granted.

Taylor said this agreement was forwarded to the planning commission along with the application.

The supervisor also explained that he is merely one member of the board and that in no way could he say that those are the terms which the board would vote to accept. "I have only one vote when it comes to what the board decides," Taylor said. "All of the board members will make the final decision at a public meeting."

Planners have discussed the request moved to return the application to Holloway seeking further information in accordance with the township's zoning ordinance. The motion included a request that Holloway forward the necessary information to the commission by March 21 so that it would have one week to review it prior to the March 28 meeting.
At the February meeting, Donald

Riddering, chairperson of the commission, asked planners to "try to be ready to make a decision" on March 28.

An exchange of letters between the commission and John Brennan, attorney for Holloway, indicated that Holloway was unclear as to what additional information was needed. In response, Riddering referred the company to the zoning ordinance for particulars.

As of March 18, no further informa-

Accident injures two

In the Township...

A Northville Township man has been charged with drunk driving in connection with a March 18 Seven Mile Road accident in which a 19-year-old Taylor driver suffered severe injuries, according to township police reports. Michael C. Thomason, 37, of Stoneleigh was cited for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants after the 10:45 p.m. accident on Seven Mile just east of the C & O railroad tracks, police said.

Injured was James M. Marshall, 19. of Taylor. He suffered severe lacerations, loss of four-to-six teeth and a dislocated hip that required surgical correction, according to the report.

Police said the accident happened in front of the Little Caesar's restaurant. Thomason, driving a blue Ford pickup truck westbound on Seven Mile, allegedly crossed the center line as if making a left turn, immediately in front of Marshall's eastbound small yellow Dodge pickup, leaving the Taylor man no time to stop before the collision, according to statements in the police report.

As the trucks collided, a third car, driven by Detroiter Lexington Parker, 54, barely stopped before hitting them. reports indicate. The two trucks landed on the hood of Parker's red Chevette. Parker was uninjured.

Marshall was taken to St. Mary Hospital by Novi Ambulance. Although visibly injured, Thomason initially refused medical treatment, police said.

Police administered roadside sobriety tests and placed Thomason under arrest, charged with drunk driving. When he later requested medical treatment, police took Thomason to Wayne County General Hospital's emergency room, where he was admitted for overnight observation, police said.

The worker told police he charged the men, knocking down one of the horses and scuffling with the man who had thrown the bottle before the two fled the

A burglar escaped with $100 in pennies and a $200 wedding band from a Franklin Road residence, police reported March 16.

The pennies were in a one and onehalf pound pretzel can; the ring was sitting on a dresser beside some credit cards, in the bedroom, the owner said, when he left the home. He discovered the items were missing when he returned several hours later.

The owner said he may have left a front door open while he was away.

Hospital escapees number 42 at large in two months

Township police returned five not count the episode as an escape, escaped patients to Northville Regional although the missing patient is reported Psychiatric Hospital in February, the department's monthly report to the board of trustees states.

The five were among 49 reported episodes of patients being absent without permission. Of the 49, a total of 24 were returned to hospital.

The remaining 25 were reported "at large" according to township police records, bringing to 42 the 1983 total of escapees who have not been returned.

Combined with the January figures, the latest report indicates 97 patients have been reported missing and 55 returned in the current year.

Police and hospital reporting methods differ, with NRPH generally reporting a lower figure. If a patient is simply not where he belon mains on hospital grounds, NRPH does authorized payment.

It just means that if you have personal possessions, lost or stolen, we'll pay you the replacement cost (up to 400% of its actual cash value) not just the onginal cost. And with inflation, that can add up to a big difference.

It's another reason why there's a big difference between Auto-Owners and some other insurance companies.

In the current municipal bond market, the interest rate is likely to exceed the eight percent figure establishfirst one billed this December.

The township's basically sound financial situation may enable it to utilize new procedures accelerating the process for bond issuance. Approval of the state Municipal Finance Commission (MFC) is required before bonds are average assessments. issued, a procedure that normally takes six to eight weeks.

But a shorter format is allowed for communities that certify "sound" financial standing, and business the township will qualify for the accelerated method.

McNeely said that would allow advertisement for construction bids to begin in May, noting that advertising should

The latter statement, he said, was precede award of the contract by no based on county tax officials' advice more than 60 days in order to get the lowest possible price.

"Most companies likely to bid don't see if they are awarded the contract," he said. "If they bid, they have to hold their schedules open to handle the work while they wait to find out if they win the contract.'

As approved by the board, the roll divides the $669,000 cost by three separate methods, making the assessments dependent on lot size (actually the ratio of lot width to depth), land value (not including buildings) and the number of potential "benefits" to the property owner.

McNeely defined a benefit as a buildable parcel that could receive sewer service. Thus a lot that could be in fee split into three building sites was assessed three benefits.

Reduction of the total number of eight percent interest or "no more than benefits in the district results in increased cost of $11.50 to the other 196 sites. Actual assessments will exceed the published figures by that amount.

Average assessments are in the $3,700 to $3,800 range per lot. Many are ed as a guideline. Payments would be in the $2,800 range while a handful exmade with the annual tax bill, with the ceed $10,000. The smaller assessments ceed $10,000. The smaller assessments are on 66-foot wide lots common on two Park Gardens streets. Those owning 85foot wide lots are likely to pay near the average amount, those with more than one lot or large parcels divisible by the common lot widths to pay more-than-

McNeely said he recommended basing the assessments on land values and areas rather than by the more common frontage foot basis for several reasons.

The engineer noted the multiplicity of manager David Lelko said he believes lot sizes, and variety of lot depths in the area, the undeveloped nature of many parcels and the higher value of sewer service delivered to more valuable properties that the value of a sewer link was proportional to the value of the land it serves. Thus, a sewer hook-up that want to tie up their schedules waiting to might add $8,000 to the property value of a $2,500 piece of land would add perhaps $12,000 to the value of a more expensive property. Therefore, McNeely reasoned, it is fair that the owner of the more valuable parcel bear a larger proportion of the sewer installation cost.

Earlier meetings regarding the SAD had resulted in indications property owners could expect to install house leads (sewer lines from house to the main sewer in the road) and have the cost included in the special assessment. Also to be included was the township water and sewer department's $400 tap-

Every working person with earned income from performing, personal services is now eligible for an Individual Retirement Account. Contributions to this account are TAX DEDUCTIBLE. each year and earnings are also TAX DEFERRED until retirement (age 591/2). A working person may contribute up to a maximum of $2,000.00 per year. A husband and wife who are both working may EACH contribute up to a maximum amount of $2,000 00 (total $4,000.00). A working person with a non-working spouse may contribute up to $2,250.00 per year.

YOU ACTUALLY SAVE MONEY TWO WAYS: 1) TAX DEDUCTION

For example, even though an actual cash contribution has been made in the amount of $2,000.00, it would cost the taxpayer in the 40% fax bracket only $1,200.00 in actual dollars because of the $800.00 tax savings incurred.

2) TAX DEFERRAL

Interest earnings on your annual $2,000.00 contribution are also tax deferred until retirement when tax brackets are usually lower

Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal from certificate accounts, and withdrawals from your IRA prior to age 59% may result in tax penalties. When you withdraw the money in your IRA Account at retirement after age 59%, your withdrawals will be taxed as ordinary income at a time when your tax rate is likely to be lower

IRA Accounts are insured separately to $100,000.00 by the FSLIC

Our Opinions

Commission needs survey return

Eleven enthusiastic citizens received appointments from Northville City Council in 1980 to participate on the city's first arts commission. The new commission was being formed with the assistance of Cheryl Gazlay, who had agreed to help form the arts group to fill a void in the community.

It was at the request of Mayor and Mrs. Paul Vernon that Mrs. Gazlay accepted the task of helping form the new group to promote cultural enrichment in the community. As city ambassadors, they had discovered almost all other communities in the state have some type of group to promote local arts.

With the aim of "involving the community in all phases of art the commission wrote bylaws and a proposed 1980-81 program. They, together with a beginning budget, were approved by city council September 22, 1980.

Since that time the commission has sponsored "Off the Wall" shows of art loaned by local residents, has held one-and-two person shows featuring work of area artists and last summer gave Sunday afternoon concerts in the park behind city hall. Attendance was so marginal at these events that the commission made the decision to become inactive while reassessing what the community wants and needs.

To obtain an accurate picture of what is needed and wanted the commission is sending out a survey card to city and township residents. City residents are receiving the survey cards along with water bills; cards to township residents were enclosed in tax review letters.

Now residents are being asked to spend just a 20-cent stamp, or to make a telephone call to the commission, to make their wishes known. The suggestion has been made that there should have been more publicity for the excellent concerts in the park — that it takes time for new events to "catch on."

For the future enrichment of our community, residents should indicate what they would like the commission to sponsor and whether they are willing to help. It will be 20 cents well spent.

Let's have a field day

One of the more exciting proposals put forth recently is that Northville add a fund-raising field day to its July 4 weekend celebrations.

Such an event would not only attack the long-festering recreation department deficit, but involve the entire populace in an enjoyable pursuit that would that could enhance community relations.

The recreation commissioners behind this proposal are properly trying to involve all the community service organizations in this single project. We suggest the invitation to work together toward a common goal should be accepted with open minds and arms. What better definition of community exists than that of a group of people united in a common pursuit?

There are certainly aspects of the proposal that demand further attention and revisions are likely. That is the point of having an organizational meeting — to weed out difficulties that were not obvious to the originators of the proposal while, we would hope, tapping the minds of others who could be expected to generate other ideas.

With everyone from toddlers to the police and fire chiefs, to the mayor and supervisor involved, there could be no doubt of Northville's cohesiveness as a community. Such a gathering of interests would provide a real boost to communication among the various groups into which we sometimes pigeonhole ourselves.

All these high and noble goals are, of course, important. But a great deal of excitement generated by the proposal is because it sounds like a plain good time for all. The police and fire officials have been itching for an opportunity to engage in a little friendly competition here at home, in front of their own public. Their rare meetings have usually been at foreign venues, such as in Plymouth.

We urge all those being approached to examine the proposal in this light. It is an ambitious undertaking and, as such, is likely to spurt some to react that part or all of it is "unworkable." But, if the real goal is to bring Northville's strengths to bear on a community problem while having a good time together, these difficulties should be easily overcome.

we add years. I always am surprised, however, at which ones return.

They often point up the fact that the "good old days" have been improved upon. When Kevin Wilson and I were invited to attend the Christmas party at the Northville Ford Plant, the invitation came from U.A.W. Local 896 president Norm Fultz. We also were welcomed by plant manager J. William Sherrick as both workers and management shared the lunch. Norm had made the arrangements for the lunch, and his wife had made

Memories are one of the investments in living that grow as

In the automotive plants in Flint during the years I grew up such a get-together never could have come about. The memory that flipped back was quite different. A close friend and high school classmate had gone to Michigan State and was to receive her diploma and teaching certificate in Saturday ceremonies. Her father, a skilled factory worker, was at least as proud as she, making plans to attend the big event. (In the 1940s children of factory workers were a college "minority group." A University of Michigan statistic at the time noted that one in 11 undergraduate students was in this category.)

Then Janet's father was scheduled for Saturday shift work. He explained the conflict to his foreman but received no sympathy. He was told he was expected to be on the job. Knowing the consequences, he attended the graduation, and received a reprimand. As I remember, it was several days off without pay, of course. At the time I don't think I fully realized the feelings Janet's father must have had, knowing what would happen. It had to dampen the joy of the day.

As I thought of my high school days in the 1940s, I recalled how different in some ways they were from those of my daughters who attended Northville High School. They were individuals — as are members of the Class of 1983. We were members of the largest class ever to be graduated from Central High School (a new school was built the following year.)

In a class of 1,000 there really wasn't a great deal of class spirit. Band members knew each other, as did debate squads and the drama club. It was not until the 25th year reunion of my class that I became aware that the Reverend Guenther C. Branstner, minister of First United Methodist Church, and I had been classmates.

There really wasn't a lot of time for class activites then, as those of you who were in school in those wartime years also may recall. I and most of my friends had part-time jobs. I was lucky enough to land one with JCPenney Company, which paid 37.5 cents an hour, whereas the dime store only paid 25 cents.

However, a baked ham sandwich and milk only cost 50 cents, and most of what I earned I kept. Almost everyone did make a deduction toward $18.75 war bonds.

I also remember my fondness for shoes got its start at this time. A shoe store on Saginaw Street in Flint featured the most beautiful wine pumps of real suede with smooth leather toes for fall. I walked past daily in my saddle shoes en route to the notion department at Penney's. How could you justify paying $8.95 when Mexican haurachees were $1 and the shoes on my feet were $3.95?

Eventually, the wine shoes were mine — for about half a week's pay. Along with the shoes that summer I gained a great deal of knowledge about notions. Number 60 thread is finer than 40, with 60 sold for sewing on lace and 40 for buttons. Such information has been surprisingly useful.

And to this day, I go shopping for a new pair of shoes whenever I need a "lift" — no matter that the closet floor is covered with shoe boxes. Last Saturday I bought a pair of wine pumps, but they didn't cost half a week's salary.

About Town

By Steve Fecht

Teamwork

After the fact

I inspire confidence in others. Now on the surface that would seem a rather noble trait. But I'm afraid this rare ability of mine is not all that complimentary.

I got the first inkling of my skills in this area last year when I was preparing to go on vacation. You must understand that vacations are cause for great anguish in the newspaper business. No paper I know is overstaffed and most of us have to run like crazy just to stay even. Consequently, when somebody goes on vacation and manpower is reduced, the ones who aren't on vacation have to pitch in and work that much harder.

That's why the reaction of my staff was somewhat unsettling as the first day of my vacation approached. "Don't worry about a thing," they assured me. "Everything will go like clockwork. In fact, we'll probably get done earlier than usual."

And they did. When I returned, I even received a letter asking why the quality of the paper had increased so dramatically the last two weeks.

Lately, there have been more indications that I inspire confidence in others.

For example, Dianne Bish of the Novi Public Library called recently to report that she was formally challenging me in the next community "fun run."

No sooner had she explained that she was confident of victory than I received a message from Dick Henderson, former assistant pastor at Northville Presbyterian and now minister at Faith Community Presbyterian in Novi.

"He wants to play you in Pac-Man," was the message. "He thinks he can beat you pretty easily."

And so it goes. Rarely a day passes when someone doesn't challenge me to something or other, explaining that if I can do it, it really can't be all that difficult.

So far nobody has volunteered to write this column for me, but I suspect the day is coming. As I was struggling recently to come up with a suitable topic, nobody in the newsroom could believe it. "What does it take to write eight crummy inches?" they asked. What's really disheartening is that they were probably right.

Valedictorians, parents charge editorial was unfair

Despite your very carefully worded editorial in the March 16 edition you have still managed to offend a number of people, not to mention the 1983 valedictorians and their families.

Repeating your own words, "While the Class of '83 seems deserving of its laurels..." (the key word being "seems") you imply that we would not have 10 valedictorians if the school curriculum were more challenging. Even I, who has consistently felt the athlete in our school system receives more competitive challenges than their academic counterparts, thoroughly disagree with your premise that the current curriculum is not challenging.

A school system may exhibit the most sophisticated, up-to-date curriculum in the nation but without good teachers you might as well offer the students Jump Rope 1 for all the good it will do. A good teacher will find the means to provide the necessary challenges no matter the curriculum offering.

Fortunately Northville schools have been blessed with a good number of excellent teachers. Over the past difficult years of enrollment decline and economic stress they have consistently held up their end despite cutbacks, equipment failures and building disrepair.

Our son chose his classes and teachers with deliberate consideration of subject matter, campus reputation of staff member, and overall learning potential. He worked long, hard hours for his valedictorian status. Who is to judge the other nine did not do the same. Don't sully the achievement of these highly motivated individuals now with your innuendos and misplaced assumptions.

Sincerely, Lois A. Hoffmeister

To the Editor:

As parents of one of Northville High School's 10 valedictorians, we are expressing dismay with your March 16 editorial entitled, "Students deserve greater challenge." This article, in our opinion, was not written by a wellinformed reporter, which appropriately, was defined in the adjacent article entited "Reporters must stand tall."

In this latter article a good reporter was defined as one who possesses the following qualities: "writing skill, knowledge, perceptiveness, aggressiveness, sensitivity, commitment, honesty, curiousity and enthusiasm."

How can your newspaper substantiate the congratulations afforded the valedictorians of previous years and the smug "While the Class of '83 seems deserving of its laurels" afforded this year's 10 valedictorians? Why is it so hard to believe 10 students could achieve this honor? In past years no one has questioned having more than one valedictorian. The criteria for selecting valedictorians and the courses offered the Class of '83 are not different from what they were in the recent past. Why then, doesn't the Class

Did the writer research statistics regarding the Class of '83? For example: how many NHS seniors have been awarded scholarships or honorary awards? How do their SAT and ACT scores compare to other students in Michigan and nationwide?

We do not disagree that any educational system can and must be improved if our society is to survive in the highly complex world of today. But to shortchange the 1983 class of NHS, its 10 valedictorians, the faculty and administrators is a great disservice to our community. Any student desiring a high quality education can obtain it at Northville High School.

We have been impressed by the concerned attitudes expressed by various members of the faculty. We are convinced that most of the teachers are highly motivated and dedicated people who are truly interested in preparing our children for the future. Thus, we applaud the Class of '83, their teachers, and their community for a job well done. It's a shame our local newspaper cannot be more supportive.

To the Editor:

In response to the March 16 editorial concerning the 10 valedictorians and the quality of education at Northville High School: I believe the author of that editorial implied these 10 students were not fully deserving of their honor, because the classes they took were not

As one of the 10 valedictorians, I resent the fact that the newspaper is casting shadows and doubt on the accomplishments of the Class of '83. The quality of education at NHS is by no means easy or unchallenging. If this were the case, students from NHS would not be able to compete with others in the state and nation.

The preparation we receive at NHS is backed up by the honors and scholarships awarded to students of the high school. This says something not only for the class, but also for the entire school

While I am sure the author of the editorial had no intention of demeaning the 10 valedictorians. I cannot help but wonder why a statement such as: "While the Class of '83 seems deserving of its laurels, we have concerns about the challenge offered these students," was even printed.

I agree that the educational system should be under constant monitoring, but I do not agree with the author's method of proving this. Why, when everyone is so concerned about the quality of education, do you question, even scorn the idea of 10 students achieving honors at NHS, when they have other competitive honors to support them?

I would also like to know what kind of "close association" The Record maintains with the high school. Does anyone ever sit in on classes offered there? Has anyone talked to students from the high valedictorians, but also the entire school? Has anyone bothered to research the ratio of NHS honors to

I would also like to say that the school system of Northville has always been criticized for not producing students competent enough to enter the adult world. The schools have received a 'bum rap." I also believe that the people of the community should look upon this achievement as such, not something to be scorned.

It reflects on the school system as a whole — teachers, administrators, faculty - for they produced students ready and able to compete in the adult world, not ones who just skim through. The challenge at NHS is there if a student wants it, a fact many people often overlook.

In conclusion, I would like to say I do not, as one membr of your office suggested, feel that being one of 10 valedictorians somehow distracted from me personally, or lessened my accomplishment. Rather, I am glad it happened, for it reflects well on the whole school, and that reputation will remain long after the Infamous Ten have graduated.

To the Editor:

I am writing in regard to the editorial printed in the March 16th issue, concerning the 10 valedictorians at the high

First, the article vascillated from one point to another, never taking a firm stand on any of them. The author(s) went off on tangents about the aesthetic value of the building and its facilities, and never tied them into the rest of the article. The overall tone was disjointed and ineffective in expression.

The article did, however, manage to get one message across clearly: the high number of valedictorians is the direct result of unchallenging classes and loose graduation requirements. Indeed, if the curriculum is so easy, how come the Class of 1982 had only one valedictorian (who did not even have a straight 4.0 grade point average)? Obviously, the difficulty of the various classes does not change from year to year. Furthermore, Northville students consistently achieve national awards. scholarships, and high standardized

. If the editor would have put some insight and careful reporting into the issue, I am sure she would have formed a very different opinion of the integrity and intelligence of this year's graduating class. In a recent conversation with Ms. Day (editor), she informed me that the teachers at NHS are giving out more "A's" now than they have in the past: an assumption that shows the truly short-sighted and half-hearted reporting of the paper itself.

Agreed, the article began on a positive note, mentioning a few of the achievements of the Class of 1983. In the body of the article, however, the author stated that the class "seems deserving of its laurels," implying that other factors (such as an unchallenging curriculum) contributed to the straight 4.0 averages of the 10 students.

Frankly, I am sick and tired of the pessimistic and skeptical attitudes held by members of the community, the student body and the staff of this newspaper. I personally know how hard it is to attain such a record, and I am not ashamed to be among the 10 valedictorians who will make the Class of 1983 outstanding and unforgettable for years to come.

Sincerely,

This letter is in rebuttal to the March 16th editorial relative to the 10 valedictorians in the 1983 Class. Although it is unusual to have this many, it is not fair to even suggest that it was undeserving.

Because the editor rambled on and what she was trying to get across was unclear, some students talked to her personally. It was clear, in their opinion, that it was her aim to discredit this honor and the teaching staff at the high school.

Obviously, she did not do her homework! She was unaware that NHS students have been accepted at the most prestigious schools in the country. They consistently score high on standardized tests, as well as receive many honors and scholarships before and after graduation.

The editorial implies that a bigger and better faculty would automatically mean a more challenging curriculum. The school system is only as good as its

Final landfill meeting is in Salem next week

To the Editor:

The next meeting of the Salem planning board is scheduled for Monday, March 28, at 8 p.m. It is important for those people who have been following the controversy regarding the Holloway Landfill expansion to be present at this meeting, as a final vote is expected to be taken.

The decisions made here will affect the quality of our lives for many years to come. We encourage all the concerned citizens of Northville and Salem to join us at the Salem Township Hall that night at 8 p.m.

Hitchin' a ride

While the first day of spring may have caused most residents to shudder, David Morrison, 4, found it the perfect time to try out his unused boots and snowsuit. David's dad, Tom Morrison, also tested his relatively unused winter toy — the snowblower. The Morrisons found team work helped in plowing through the seven inches of white stuff stuck on the driveway. Monday's snowstorm shut down schools and brought residents into the streets with shovels in hand. After a virtually snow-free winter, many were delighted with the white groundcover — particularly skiers, sledders and other winter buffs. However, after driving on icy roads and shoveling wet snow, most of us won't be too sorry to see it go.

South Lyon business: It's a piece of candy

Shop thrives with do-it-yourself classes showing how to make Easter chocolates

By MARILYN HERALD

Ask a child what he wants for Easter Ask a child what he wants for Easter and the answer is almost sure to be it was as "The Antiquery," and, "chocolate eggs" or "chocolate bunnies." The latest trend along this line is for Mom to concoct the treats right in her own kitchen rather than buying them already molded.

When Watson opened ner snop doors was as "The Antiquery," and, naturally enough, antiques were its main offering along with some special books. Last spring, Watson added cake decorating classes and supplies and found they attracted more customers.

And these days, lots of do-it-yourself mothers stop in at the Curiosity Shop at 127 East Lake, South Lyon, to take lessons in candy making, pick up their supplies, or maybe just talk to owner Hazel Watson about what's new on the

A "curious" metamorphosis has occurred at the shop in what is called South Lyon's Mini-Mall. In the just over a year that Watson has been in business, the shop has changed its name, its major sales line and its appearance.

When Watson opened her shop doors

About the same time, The Antiquery became "The Curiosity Shop" and a little later candy-making displaced antiques and books.

'It was July last year that did it (changed the shop's image)," said Watson. "It was dead. Our net sales didn't make 10 percent of the rent. We had to do something different."

And the something different was candy making and supplies.

'That's always been an interest for women and once we started, the candy really took over," the proprietor explained. "I just sort of let the customers tell me what to buy and which hours to

And the hours are unusual for downtown South Lyon. The Curiosity Shop is open until 8 o'clock, six nights a week. "Many of my customers don't get to town until at least 6 p.m., and they like to find me open," Watson added, noting that the shop is open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Monday through Saturday and noon to 5 p.m., Sundays.

Candy-making classes have become so popular that they are offered at a variety of times, both day and evening. Watson is assisted with these by her daughter, Tammie Watson, who managed the store when it first opened.

"We were headed for burn-out," Watson said with a laugh. "Tammie wanted out of the day-to-day business of the store and I wanted out of my Civil Service typist job with Wayne County. So I quit the job I had had for 13 years and started being here every day. Tammie still comes in one day a week to give me a break and my other daughter, Kathleen Jenkins, comes in to teach cake decorating.'

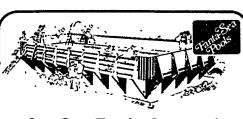

Right now with Easter just around the corner, the emphasis at The Curiosity Shop is on molding a variety of candy treats as Watson creates a 25inch high chocolate bunny and teaches others how to make chickens, rabbits, lambs, ducks and filled and hollow

A full line of candy-making supplies in 13 colors and 10 flavors crowd the shelves at the shop and there are all kinds of molds available as well as special items such as peanuts and stemmed cherries used for dipping.

Szczepanski's firm produces top quality diamond bits. He is listed in Who's Who in Finance and Industry and is the author of "Brittleness of Steel," an authoritative book on the subject.

'Because the construction industry has been down," Szczepanski explains, "I looked for a type of business promoted by the recession in order to survive again." He recalls that he is a survivor of 1½ years in German prison camp. He has hired a team of six fully licensed automotive mechanics, he says, headed by Hancock.

Szczepanski says his new business is able to handle automotive work from oil and lubrication or tune ups "to the most responsible repair work." The firm is equipped, he says, to rebuild engines and do mechanical and electrical work. "Sports cars are our favorite dish,"

'Quality is our top priority," he stresses as he explains he feels more people are going to be requiring automobile and truck repairs at

WISNE AUTOMATION Engineering Company in Novi has begun expansion of a 50,000 square foot addition to its facility on Ten Mile, Wisne Automation builds automated welding assembly lines. Once an order is placed, Wisne Automation proceeds to design and build the line at its Novi facility. Other companies supply the actual robots which are then programmed and incorporated into the line.

After a line is thoroughly tested at Wisne Automation, it is disassembled into stations and transported to the end user. These lines transfer the car bodies from one station to the next for spot welding by the robots

The 50,000 square foot expansion is a design/build project of the R.A. DeMattia Company. The Wisne facility contains four 25-ton cranes. Extension of these cranes into the new addition required careful field measurements and engineering coordination to assure perfect alignment of the crane rails and proper operation of the

Along with the 50,000 square foot addition, another 20,000 square feet of canopy is being constructed by the R.A. DeMattia Company. Hazel Watson demonstrates Easter candy making

Candy making classes aid business in South Lyon Curiosity Shop

After the Easter rush, Watson plans to expand into a full line of ready-made candies with such hardto-find goodies as Jordan almonds, candy rocks, spearmint crystalettes, rainbow jellies and dried fruits, nuts and seeds.

Watson said cake-decorating classes will have a larger emphasis this summer, too, when the candy companies don't ship chocolate because of the danger of melting during warm weather.

"Class schedules are planned to coincide with holidays," Watson explained. "I can only take 15 people per class, and we always have to offer extra classes before Halloween, Christmas, Valentine's Day and Easter in order to accommodate

Watson said she learned the "hard way" how to make perfect confections and has made "lots of mistakes" and had many successes, all of which make it easier to instruct others in the candy-

A devotee of Dover books, a "high-quality"

paperback, Watson said she will continue to offer these classic murder mysteries, children's books, craft selections and out-of-print novels as an added attraction at her "curious" shop.

'013 Card of Thanks

SINCERE expression of gratitude to Dr. Philip Schmitt and the nurses on the 2nd floor of McPherson Health Center for their dedication in taking care of Mrs. Antonina

Leszczynska. A special thank you to the nurses who to the end showed kindness beyond the call of duty. Sincerely, Dr. and Mrs. Granowski.

WE wish to express our thanks and gratitude to all of the relatives, friends and neighbors for the beautiful flowers, cards, calls and food at the time of the death of our

Husband, Father, and Grand-father Frank S. Grochowski. A special thank you to Father Michael Murphy from St. Patrick's, also to the Keehn Funeral Home for all of their Grochowski and families.

School supporters lauded • at Founders Day banquet

Founders Day, some 200 school district supporters gathered together last Thursday to pay tribute to selected individuals for their dedication to the

C.A. Smith and Pat Dorrian-Sandbothe were among those honored

The Founders Day Banquet was sponsored by the Northville PTA/PTSA Coordinating Council. Founders Day observances are held nation-wide to

McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson

Guest speaker George Bell discussed 'What's Good About Northville Public Schools" in his address to the capacity crowd at First Presbyterian Church.

Distinguished guest was former Northville Public Schools' superintendent Russell Amerman, who was honored for his years of service to the school district and his continued support since Presenting Amerman with his award was PTA Coordinating Council President Cindy LaChance.

LaChance also presented the awards to individuals from each school who were recognized for their dedication to the welfare of students in the school community. Each school honored two

Those honored were: Virginia Krictzs and Jean Hansen, Amerman; Naomi Poe and Norma Beemer, Moraine; Chris Modrack and Linda Handyside, Silver Springs; Bill Lenz and Lee Baumann, Winchester; Dave Longridge and Mary Freydl, Cooke; Wilma Castillo and Ann Guldberg, Meads Mill; Patricia-Dorrian-Sandbothe and Charles Smith, Northville High School and Viola Dougherty and Kathy Elick, Special Education

Chairing the Founders Day Committee was PTA member Margie Sievert.

Two grants available to high school seniors

The Life Member Group of Northville Mothers' Club announces that it will be awarding $500 grants-in-aid to two graduating seniors of Northville High School at commencement.

College-bound students interested in applying for the grants are asked to contact their high school counselors.

Applications must be in the hands of the scholarship committee by April 15. Anyone wishing additional information may call Yvonne Rollings, 349-1215.

The Life Member Group is composed of members of Northville Mothers' Club who had worked in the club for at least 10 years. It raises the grant-in-aid funds through a Christmas party, plant sale and auction and has given the scholarships since its organization.

SHOES & CLOTHING For the Entire Family

New Spring Arrivals

TIE ONE ON. Unlike shoes, you can't buy new feet when they wear out. That's why NIKE makes shoes for individuals. Shoes for the road, the trails and models for both. For feet that are flat or arched, rigid or flexible. Whether you churn out 125 miles a week or run a good ten.

So tie one on. And avoid a run-in with your feet.

Lois Winters takes over gavel from Phyllis Slattery

By JEAN DAY

It was a tight schedule, but Northville Woman's Club president Phyllis Slattery arranged her travel plans so that she was back in town in time to preside at the club's final meeting of the year last Friday.

For the luncheon program at First Presbyterian Church that concluded the club's 90th year, Mrs. Slattery wore a finely embroidered black mandarian robe she had purchased a few days before in Bankok. She was in the capital city of Thailand on a trip to the Orient.

She had flown to Singapore via California and Honolulu where she joined a segment of the Queen Elizabeth II trip to the Orient. The nine-day tour also included stops in Hong Kong and Thailand. She then spend two days visiting a nephew in Hawaii. It was a trip worth doing once, she related.

LWV slates meeting

"Simplifying Military Armaments: Facts and Figures" will be discussed at the Northville-Plymouth-Canton Novi League of Women Voters meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Southfield Civic Center.

The meeting will focus on giving an in-depth look at the United States' conventional and nuclear weapons since World War II.

Speakers for the meeting are

Colonel Otis Bryan, deputy director of Air Force Issues Team, Air Force Headquarters at the Pentagon, and Maurice Water, professor of political science at Wayne State University and associated with the Wayne State University Center for Defense Matters in Detroit.

For information, call Lore Watt at 453-8902 or Nancy White at 453Elizabeth Etz, Lena Bogart, Rosella Lee honored

The Reverend Miss Elizabeth Etz received the unusual distinction of being made an honorary member of Northville Woman's Club last Friday. A club member since 1962, she often had given blessings at club functions during the past 20 years. A longtime resident of Rogers Street, she and Marcella Douglas had moved not too long ago to Plymouth Towne Apartments. Because of ill health Miss Etz was unable to attend Friday's

Mrs. E.M. (Lena) Bogart, who joined Northville Woman's Club in 1932, was presented with a 50-year pin marking the anniversary at the club's luncheon program Friday. She attended with another life member, Clara Eastland, Mrs. Slattery made the presentation, and announced that the other member marking 50 years in the club, Mrs. L. G. (Rosella) Lee, was still in the

Lois Winters elected club president

At the annual meeting of Northville Woman's Club last Friday new officers were elected following the annual salad luncheon. A program featuring readings in Irish poetry by Leo McNamera, assistant professor of history at University of Michigan, followed.

Lois Winters, who has been vice president this year, accepted the presidency. Pat Eden is the new vice president. Joining Betty Allen and Evelyn Harper on the board of directors will be Betty Cooper, Marge Bolton and Mrs. Slattery. A proposal to change the club starting time was defeated; so it will continue to convene at 1:30 p.m. on the first and third Fridays of the month from October to March, with exceptions as listed.

Newcomers to zoom off on road rally-hunt

The annual Northville Newcomers Road Rally Treasure Hunt is scheduled for Saturday, April 23. Reservations for the popular event open for current Newcomers and Newcomer Alumni today and run until April 1. There is a limit of 50 couples. The $14 cost a couple includes a meal. There will be a

Participants will be meeting at 7 p.m. sharp in the Northville High School parking lot and are asked to bring flashlights, telephone books, area maps, pencils and raingear for inclement weather, President Sharon Valrance explains. Reservations are being taken by Pat O'Neill at 348-7558.

Engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Munerance of 41570 Rayburn announce the engagement of their daughter Cathy Ann to Dr. Kevin Joseph Grady, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Daniel Grady of Grosse Pointe

The bride-elect received her bachelor's degree in nursing from Grand Valley State Colleges and is employed at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

Her fiance is a University of Michigan graduate and was graduated from Wayne State Medical School. He also is employed at William Beaumont

An autumn wedding is planned.

Schoolcraft sets health programs

Schoolcraft College Biology Department has announced a series of admission-free health-related programs open to the general public during April.

Organized by instructors Grover Niergarth and Roger Sutherland, the series will focus on a several in-depth studies of selected topics.

Both day and evening programs have been scheduled to allow more flexibility in attendance. Dr. Robert Douglass will open the first program with his discussion of "Recent Advances in Endocrinology." The program is slated for 3 p.m. April 14 in Room F530 of the Forum Building.

On April 18 and 20, Dr, Cecil Woodruff, Schoolcraft physical education instructor, and Niergarth will conduct CPR training at 2 p.m. in Room D105 of the Physical Education Building. This program will be repeated at 6 p.m. April 19 and 21 and at 3 p.m. April 25 and 27.

Pat Lynch, chief of the Cancer Prevention Center of the Michigan Cancer Foundation, will discuss "Everything You Wanted to Know about Cancer" at 1 p.m. April 19 in Room F530 of the Forum

On April 20, Diane Kimball, a health educator and childbirth instructor, will present "Alternate Birthing Techniques" at 10 a.m. in Room F530 of the Forum Building.

Kazutoshi Mayeda, a professor of human genetics at Wayne State University, will discuss "Recent Advances in Human Genetics" at 10 a.m. April 21. At 3 p.m. on April 21, Dr. Richard Ruel, Livonia internis. in private practice, will discuss "Nutronics — A System of Nutrients Analysis." Both programs will be held in the Forum Building.

Theresa Moray, a clinician at the University of Michigan Burn Center, will discuss "Concepts in Burn Therapy" at 1 p.m. April 25 in Room B500 of the Liberal Arts Building.

On April 26, Terry Donovan, a specialist in alcohol and drug addiction, will deliver an "Overview of Chemical Dependency" at 9 a.m. in the Forum Building. At 1 p.m., Theresa Price, of Hospice Support Services, and Laverne Perrolaz,

BSN, will speak on "Hospice — Two Concepts."

Later that afternoon, Cecil Woodruff will discuss 'Emergency First Aid'' to conclude the series.

Further information regarding these programs may be obtained by calling Niergarth or Sutherland at 591-6400, extension 506 or 508.

Cathy Heitert has discovered that life in the gymnastics fast lane can be very Heitert, Northville's outstanding junior gymnast who is the only Mustang in history to qualify for every event at the MHSAA Women's Gymnastics Finals, ran into some tough opposition in Friday's opening round and was on the sidelines for Saturday's championship round at Plymouth Canton.

Freeland easily won the team title Friday by scoring 136.8 points to 133.45 for runnerup Troy.

Taylor Center was third at 132.0, followed by North Farmington with 130.8, Ann Arbor Pioneer, 130.5, Jackson Lumen Christi, 128.85, Holland, 126.1, and East Kentwood,

Despite the tremendous team effort by an all-senior Freeland squad, a Walled Lake Western junior with international experience stole the show.

Barrie Muzbeck has frequented national and international gymnastics circles in her youthful career and recently appeared on super sports station ESPN in one-on-one competition. Lana Horowitz, who, along with Muzbeck, was one of only two elites at the state finals, gave the eventual champion a scare in the uneven bars but fell by the narrowest of margins, 18.8 to 18.75.

Muzbeck finished her record breaking afternoon with an 18.8 to 18.15 victory over Thompson on the balance

Standing in the shadows and all but ignored was the performance of Northville's gifted gymnast, who placed 19th all-around (33.93) and gave strong indications that she could challenge for a state title in 1983-84.

Heitert's 8.55 score in the uneven bars, gave her a 14th place finish and was just .25 shy of qualifying behind East Grand Rapids' Jill Manning.

Following an 18th finish in the vault (8.68) and a 22nd in the balance beam (8.25), Heitert completed her competition with a disappointing 8.45 in the floor exercise to place out of the money

Heck, a resident of Highland who took the job prior to the 1981-82 season at the request of former coach Jack Townsley, produced a 16-5 record in two years, including a school record 9-2 mark during the recently completed

During her brief stay at Northville, Heck elevated three gymnasts to state championship competition highlighted this season by Cathy Heitert's qualification in all four individual Heitert's accomplishment set a school record for number of state championship events qualified for by a Northville athlete. Previously, Heck had sent Amy Aaron and Paula Broderick to state final competition in two individual events.

Although not at liberty to state her personal reasons for leaving a program on the rise, Heck did pre-empt a scheduled press release with some reflective comments.

"I was satisfied and we did what had to be done," said Heck. "The kids had a good time and they did the job very well, and that's what I wanted. To come out and have fun and be able to compete with other teams competitively is what "I had a good time," continued Heck. "We were pretty close as a team and most of them knew it (the resignation) was coming. Most of them took it well, but a few took it quite hard, but I expected that. Most of the parents were also quite upset but very supportive."

Heck stated her intentions to Northville atheltic director Ralph Redmond nearly three weeks ago, but decided to keep the decision quiet until the state championships were completed last weekend.

"I've told him (Redmond) that I would not be coming back next year, explained Heck. "My job isn't available to me each year anyway. It is posted within by the school and is open for anyone to apply for. I just hope that they can find somebody with the right qualifications to handle the position.'

Mid-season controversy surrounding the critically poor condition of Northville's gymnastics mat had nothing to do with the decision, according to Heck who won't be around to witness the arrival of a recently ordered new mat.

Karen Bouza was the Mustangs parttime assistant coach during the recently completed season, but Heck feels she will not apply for the position. Heck also stated that she would not consider a return to Northville unless "I was offered something incredible.

"If by November 15 of next season Northville hasn't found a replacement, 'd start practice with the team," said Heck. "I wouldn't sign a contract, but I would work with the team until a suitable coach was found. I am not going to see the team hurt because of this and I don't think they will be.".

The sudden resignation will signal a return to officiating for Heck, who moonlighted this season as a high school gymnastics official. She is an experienced collegiate and club official registered with the United States Gymnastics Federation of Club Officials and had her only previous coaching experience as a YMCA instructor.

WLAA finished in state tourney

It's back to ground zero for Western Lakes Activities Association basketball for another season.

Plymouth Salem (21-3) and Livonia Stevenson (21-4), co-champions of the WLAA and the only league teams to advance past district play, were eliminated by formidable opponents from Detroit in the regionals.

Salem lost to Detroit Western in the semifinals of the Ypsilanti regional, 53-49, to end its fine season. But Stevenson hung tough to beat Kensington Valley Conference champion Milford Lakeland before dropping a 63-49 decision to Detroit Catholic Central in finals of the Livonia Franklin regional.

Northville (10-11) ended its season at the Plymouth Salem district with a 61-36 loss to Salem, the Mustangs third loss to the Rocks this season.

Gators dominate local waters

Northville's "minor league" swimming club, the Gators, is nearing the comoletion of another successful campaign during its short course season.

Under the guidance of Northville High School's men's and women's wimming coaches, Pete Talbot and Bill Dicks, the Gators have provided a first home for future Mustang tankers.

The United States Swimming, Inc., (U.S.S.) is the statewide organization governing the Gators and is divided locally into several groups. Michigan Swimming, Inc., is one of these local groups, the main purpose of which is to promote competitive age group swimming in the State of Michigan.

U.S.S.\ competitive swimming is divided by age, sex and ability in order to afford the best possible competition for each individual participant.

Ability groups are separated by actual pool timings into one of six

Swim star Debbie Buell wins state title for Gators

Family tradition predicted that Debbie Buell would perform well at United States Swimming of Michigan (USSM) Short Course Championships last week hosted by the Royal Oak Penquin Swimming Club. -

Buell, whose older brother Doug swims competitively for Northville High School, sprinted to victory in the 10 and under competition of the 50-yard breastroke. Her winning time of 37.20 was just shy of the state age group record of 35.01 held by Amy Bailey of the Penquins.

Swimming in the championships as the Northville Gators' only qualifier, Buell competed in six events during the two-day tournament. Buell placed second in the 100-yard breastroke with a time of 1:25.28, well off the state record of 1:16.98 also held by Bailey.

Competition became much stiffer for the young Gator in four other events. In the 50-yard backstroke, Buell was ninth (38.57), 10th in the 200-yard I.M. (2.:54.77), 10th in the 100-yard I.M. (1:23.09) and 13th in the 100-yard backstroke (1:23.02).

In the 100-yard backstroke, Buell did not swim in the finals in order to save herself for other events.

Buell had swum a quick 37.93 in the 50-yard backstroke preliminaries for second, but last .64 of a second in the finals to drop to classifications, C-B-A-AAA or AAAA. AA clockings are needed to qualify for state championships.

Normally competitive swimming would be considered a winter acitivity, but the U.S.S. has two seasons.

From September through March, the winter or "short season" is held in pools that are 25-meters in length. Clubs like the Gators will sponsor two-day meets on weekends culminating in separate championships in late March for boys and girls. In between the two championship meets, a Junior Olympics meet is conducted for all swimmers who did not qualify for the state championships.

While April's showers usually bring May flowers, for the Gators it is a 31-day respite between competitive swimming seasons.

As the calendar turns to May, a new swimming season springs from the planning stages and emerges in pools around the tri-county area.

May through August swimming is often called the summer or "long course" season. Long course meets are swum in a pool that is 50-meters in length. During this season, both long and short course meets are held according to pool specifications. In August, the long course championships are held, combining both boys and girls in the same meet format. The weeks between the championship meet and September's winter season are considered rest periods for swimmers.

Swimming has become a year-round sport in Northville, and on the distant horizon are the boys and girls of the Gators, who given their experience, should bite off quité a chunk of glory in vears to come.

Schrader picked for All-Area 2nd team

By DON NEWSTED

Darrin Campbell, a 5-foot-9 senior point guard from Kensington Valley Conference champion Milford Lakeland, heads this year's Sliger-Livingston All-area second-team selec-

Campbell was the heart of Lakeland's 19-4 team which won its district championship but lost to Western Lakes Activities Association co-champion Livonia Stevenson in the regional opener at Livonia Franklin, 56-51.

Manning the other four spots on the second-team are juniors Steve Schrader, a 6-5 center from Northville: Brent Dinan, a 6-3 forward from Novi: and Rob Wendland, a 6-2 forward from Walled Lake Western, along with senior Scott Goodpastor, a 6-0 guard from

Much of Lakeland's success this season with its patterned offense revolved around the consistency of Campbell as playmaker. Entering tonight's game, Campbell was averaging five assists and three steals per contest to go with nine points.

Reed area coach

Milford Lakeland's tremendously successful season did not occur without having an outstanding taskmaster at the controls.

Lynn Reed guided Lakeland to a 19-4 season this winter, including a Kensington Valley Conference championship with a 13-1 record and a district tournament title.

Lakeland's season came to a close in the regionals with a loss to Western Lakes Activities Association co-champion Livonia Stevenson, but for Reed and senior stars Jim St. John, Darrin Campbell and Joe Saulski, it will be a season to remember.

thville's football and baseball teams, broke his ankle during a 61-36 loss to Plymouth Salem in the districts. Schrader's 11.1 points and 7.0 rebound averages led the Mustangs in both categories.

"No doubt that Steve was our most valuable player this season," said Northville head coach Tim Lutes. "He was the most talented player of a very talented crop of juniors. He has the ability to dominate the game inside, but still has a lot to learn about the game." Wendland is another strong force under the boards.

Opponents found out the true mettle of Wendland during the district tournament at Milford where the Warriors upset Milford and Walled lake Central before losing to Lakeland in the finals.

During the districts, Wendland led Western with 51 points in three games to finish the season with a 12.7 average. Western's initial victory of the season, a 52-51 defeat of Milford, came as a direct result of the muscular forward's 19 points and 13 rebounds.

Dinan seems to be a player in control of his own destiny, according to Novi coach Ron Flutur. Playing in the shadow of Wildcat senior and first-team member Chris King, Dinan still managed to average 12.2 points and seven rebounds per contest. Dinan will be a key figure during Novi's rebuilding season Goodpastor, the lone senior on the second five and a candidate for first-team honors in more than a few minds, was one of the finest outside shooters in the area. The smooth guard was among the scoring leaders in the Kensington Valley Conference all season and finished with a 15.1 average per game.

A total of five area players were accorded honorable mention status, including Walled Lake Central's Clark Bock, Novi's Eric Deline, Milford's Rick Gordon, Lakeland's Dave Bendall and South Lyon's Mike Logan.

Sliger-Livingston team honors Wildcat's King

Mike Carano, Joe Saulski and Dean Terpstra did not perform as well as a 'King' and a 'Saint' but they all ended up on the same basketball team.

In their annual review of area high school hoop stars, the sports editors of the Sliger-Livingston East newspapers named Carano, Saulski, Terpstra, Jim St. John and Chris King to their All-Area First Team.

The First Team was drawn from the schools covered by The South Lyon Herald, The Milford Times, The Novi-Walled Lake News and The Northville Record. Those four newspapers covered high school basketball at Walled Lake Western, Walled Lake Central, Milford, Lakeland, Novi, Northville and South Lyon.

In addition to a First Team, the sports editors also picked a Second Team, a Team of the Year and a Coach

If anything ties the First Team together, it is their scoring ability. Four of the five first-teamers landed spots in the Top of the Key, a listing of basketball point leaders in the Sliger-Livingston East area.

King, a six-foot, three-inch senior forward from Novi, ended the 1982-83 season as the number one point-getter in the Top of the Key. He did live up to his name by reigning over the court, scoring an average of 17.2 points in 19

King also led the Wildcats in re-Kensington Valley Conference (KVC).

six-foot, one-inch senior swing man from the KVC-champion Lakeland

Eagles. St. John was the Eagles' point leader, netting an average of 15.6 points per game this season. He gave the Eagles their main outside attack.

Coaches also called St. John an excellent rebounder for his size. He reeled in a little less than four caroms per game and handed out just as many assists. St. John was also a bit of a thief. collecting an average of three steals per game.

Ranking just behind St. John in the scoring category is Carano, a six-foot, three-inch senior forward from South Lyon. Carano paced the Lions' offense by netting an average of 15.5 points per game this season. He was also their number two man under the boards, grabbing eight rebounds per game.

Anchoring the center spot of the All-Area First Team is Saulski, another senior from Lakeland. Standing at six feet, five inches, Saulski provided the Eagles with excellent defense, reeling in 9.6 rebounds per game.

On the scoring end, Saulski was not Lakeland's main point man but he was capable of racking up the hoops. He netted an average of 9.7 points per game in Rounding out the All-Area First Team is Terpstra, a five-foot, nine-inch senior guard from Walled Lake Cenbounds, with 10 caroms per game. Novi tral. Terpstra not only led Central's ofended the year with a 6-8 record in the fense but he held the team together. He is rated as a good ball handler and a Taking the number two spot in the consistent outside shooter, ending the Top of the Key and earning a spot on the year with 275 points in 20 games for an All-Area First Team was St. John, a average of 13.7 points per game.

WOODLAND MEDICAL CENTERS: OUR PATIENTS ARE OUR FAMILY

After years of providing highly personal and friendly medical attention, the Weiner family doctor had retired—leaving the adult Weiner's in something of a predicament. How were they to find a doctor they could trust—indeed like—as well as the one who had treated them for 20 years.

Thomas Weiner drove by Woodland Medical Center each day on his way to work. And he often wondered if medical services in a clinic setting could be as caring and comfortable as those provided by the "family" doctor in a small, private office.

WOODLAND MEETS IMMEDIATE NEEDS

Thomas' questions were answered suddenly when he developed severe upper intestinal pains while on the familiar route to his job. This day, Thomas drove directly into the Woodland parking lot and walked in the front door.

He was greeted by Woodland's patient advisor—whom Thomas found to be very pleasant and friendly. The advisor was able to arrange an immediate appointment with a Woodland internist.

The internist, a physician who has extensive training and experience in diagnosing and treating illnesses that could occur anywhere in the adult body, examined him. He arranged for a number of important tests to be performed immediately inside the Center.

Within hours Thomas was informed that his problem stemmed from his heart, not his stomach. The internist felt he should see a Center cardiologist.

Thomas was able to see the cardiologist the same day and was able to receive a prescription for immediate medication.

WOODLAND'S GOAL IS TOTAL CARE AND CONCERN FOR EVERY PATIENT

Thomas was surprised by the news of his condition. But he was amazed at the efficient, yet gentle, treatment he was receiving. His new physicians were certainly as concerned about him as his past physician had been. But in addition, they had outstanding equipment and facilities.

He discovered that Woodland housed 65 professionals—not only physicians, but psychiatrists, dentists, social workers and psychologists. And those medical specialists worked not only as highly skilled individuals, but as a team when necessary, to provide the complete care every patient needed.

VISITS TO WOODLAND ARE PLEASANT AND EASY

The building surroundings were very pleasant, very spacious and comfortable. And there was no need to leave the building for any part of his treatment.

This was certainly a far cry from the days when the family doctor required him to go to outside laboratories for tests. Or the nights and weekends he and his wife had visited hospital emergency rooms when their doctor was unavailable.

Before Thomas left, he was issued a special plastic identification card. This card gave Thomas instant identification in the Woodland computer for all the necessary insurance information clerks would need after each of Thomas's visits. Once he had filled out the necessary personal information and insurance forms he would not have to do it again.

WOODLAND OFFERS SECURITY FOR EVERYONE

Thomas realized as he left the building that no matter what medical emergencies arose in the future, because of the large and varied staff and services of Woodland, help was available whenever anyone in his family needed it.

Why Not Discover what Thomas and thousands of pleased patients have found in Woodland's 20-year history? Woodland professionals treat their patients as they would their own families.

Make your family part of the Woodland family of patients. Give yourself and your loved ones the comfort, care, concern, and ease of treatment for which Woodland is famous.

Make an appointment at Woodland today. A simple phone call and you'll find, whenever you need us, we're there!
