Easter is ...

To a little girl like Maria Fisher, 4½, Easter is a real bunny, a new turquoise stripe dress with ruffles and a picture being taken amid the traditional Easter lily plants. The fluffy bunny, borrowed from Dr. Carol Geake, local veterinarian, is a lapful for Maria smiling shyly in a bower of plants at TV Seasons this week. She is the daughter of Diana and Jim Fisher, and it's natural that she's fashionably dressed for the season as her mother is manager of Del's Department Store in Northville where Maria is a frequent visitor. Record photo by John Galloway.

Aune resigns as principal

George Aune will step down as principal of Northville High School effective July 1, following the Northville Board of Education's unanimous approval Monday to accept his request for an administrative reassignment.

Aune, who has headed the high school since 1977, requested an administrative transfer in a March 18 memo addressed to Superintendent George Bell.

Bell told the board at its meeting Monday he has not yet determined where the high school principal will be reassigned. However, he noted that he will be coming to the board with an administrative reorganization plan sometime in mid-May. Aune's new assignment most likely will be reflected in the reorganization plan.

Aune declined to comment about his transfer request in a phone conversation Monday, stating it was "premature" to discuss the matter until he had been reassigned.

In accordance with his employment contract, Aune's termination as high school principal will be effective July 1. Bell noted that under provisions of the Northville Association of School Administrators' collective bargaining agreement, a new contract for the 1983-84 school year will be agreed upon between Aune and Bell and approved by the board of education.

Aune's departure will leave the Superintendent and board with the task of selecting a new high school principal. Details on the search and selection of a new chief administrator for the high school have not yet been disclosed.

Aune came to the Northville school district in 1977, replacing Michael Tarpinian as principal of the district's only high school.

Prior to his tenure at Northville High School, Aune had served as principal of Imlay City High School in Lapeer County from 1972-1976. He left Imlay City in 1976 to complete his doctorate degree at University of Michigan.

He also served as an assistant principal at Livonia Franklin High School and was both a teacher and assistant principal in the Cherry Hill School District.

Aune received his bachelor's degree from Northern Michigan University in 1959, majoring in history and minoring in English and geography.

He received his master's degree from Eastern Michigan University in 1965 and his doctorate from University of Michigan in 1977.

Whitaker will seek re-election to board

School board trustee David Llewellyn told board members Monday that he will not seek reelection to another four-year term.

However, Llewellyn's fellow board member and president Douglas Whitaker announced that he will seek another four-year term on the board in the June 13 school election.

Llewellyn expressed his desire to continue serving on the board, but explained he could not commit himself to another four years.

"I wish it was a two-year term, instead of four," he noted.

Llewellyn, an analyst for Ford Motor Company, was elected to the board in 1979.

Whitaker, deputy director of the Wayne Oakland Library Federation, was reelected in the same year. He was first elected to the board in 1977 after serving four months as an appointed member.

Nominating petitions for the two school board seats to be filled in the annual June school election currently are available in the Northville Public Schools business office. The filing deadline for all petitions is 4 p.m. April 11.

As of Monday, only one petition had been filed, according to Pam Kinsella of the business office. It was filed by Robert Blanton of Scenic Harbor Drive. Kinsella added that several residents had picked up petitions.

Prospective candidates seeking election to the school board must be 18 years of age, a citizen of the United States, a resident of Michigan for 30 days and a resident of the school district on or before the 30th day prior to the annual election.

Candidates also need a minimum of 20 valid signatures of registered school electors of the district. It is suggested five additional signatures be obtained in case some of the signatures do not meet registration requirements.

Petitions also must be circulated in more than one township or city.

Ambulance service agreement near

Recommendation that Community Emergency Medical Services, Inc. (CEMS) be named as the emergency medical facility serving Northville Township in a regional agreement will be presented to the Northville Township Board of Trustees at a special meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday.

The recommendation is from the ad hoc study committee composed of representatives of four communities planning a shared regional service — city and township of Northville, Novi and Farmington.

Novi City Council accepted the recommendation at its March 21 meeting. Farmington also has approved the selection of CEMS.

Northville City Council is expected to have the recommendation on the agenda of next Monday's council session.

Township Clerk Susan Heintz and business manager David Lelko served on the committee. City representatives were City Manager Steven Walters and council member Carolann Ayers.

If the recommendation also is approved by the city and township, it will be the culmination of an 18-month process in which the regional service for the four communities was studied. Initially, Farmington Hills was part of the study group, but had decided it could not wait for the regional service and backed out.

The communities became involved in the review as a way to obtain local control over the provision of ambulance service and to obtain service without paying a subsidy to an ambulance company.

In November the communities requested proposals on a regional system and received three bids. Novi Ambulance, Community EMS and Fleet Ambulance submitted bids. Lelko said the Fleet bid was taken out as it was for Novi service only.

Lelko reported that the committee had studied the services offered in eight areas — rates, sponsoring hospital, back-up facilities, vehicles available, level of insurance, level of service, training of the firm's personnel and training of personnel of communities involved.

Novi Ambulance currently serves both the city and township as well as Novi. At the Novi council session it was pointed out that Novi had been prompted to enter into the regional service because of complaints of high ambulance rates.

Similar complaints have been received by city and township officials.

The committee indicated at the Novi session that Community EMS should receive the bid because it would provide three advanced life supports compared with Novi's two. The committee also indicated Community has 15 medics trained in advanced life support compared with Novi's 12. Additionally, Community can provide its own back-up while Novi relies on Fleet. The committee also felt Community provided better insurance coverage.

Novi and Community rates, however, compared favorably, Novi council was told.

Lelko indicated that some of the Novi Ambulance charges in the new bid are lower than present ones.

On advanced life support runs, the committee projected Novi ambulance could provide service for $35 less than

Community EMS while on basic service it is $25 less, Novi council found.

It was pointed out that Novi Am-bulance's rates went into effect in June and represent a "major reduction" from the previous rate.

Drunk drivers receive stiffer penalties today

By KEVIN WILSON

This is the day.

Get caught drinking and driving in Michigan from now on and you can count on surer, more expensive penalties under a new package of laws that took effect at 12:01 a.m. Wednesday.

According to the American Automobile Association (AAA) of Michigan, 56 percent of Michigan's 1981 fatal traffic accidents involved drinking drivers. It is expected the three laws passed last year will help reduce that figure.

The most apparent changes to the law are:

- A "per se" law makes it illegal to drive with blood alcohol content (BAC) level of .10 percent or greater. Under the old rules, the blood alcohol content was one admissible piece of evidence in attempting to prove that a driver was "under the influence." Under the new law, driving with a BAC of .10 percent is illegal per se — regardless of the apparent physical impairment.

- Allowing the use of preliminary roadside breath testing equipment by law enforcement officers. The roadside breath tests will give police added positive evidence for making a drunk driving arrest to add to the "touch your nose, recite the alphabet and heel-toe walk" sobriety tests.

- Mandatory suspension of the driver's license for conviction of a drunk driving offense including the lesser "operating while impaired" offense. Refusing to submit to a breathalyzer test brings automatic suspension and six points on the driver's record (currently there is a suspension, but no points).

- All drivers convicted of drunk driving will be required to submit to a pre-sentence substance abuse screening and assessment program. This will determine if the driver might benefit from alcohol or drug abuse rehabilitation programs. If so, the court may require participation in such programs, at the driver's own expense. The estimated $60 cost of the screening test will also be borne by the driver.

- A one-year minimum license suspension for convicted second offenders, with no restricted driving allowances.

"The new laws will have a good effect," said Ed Sosnik, an assistant prosecutor for Oakland County. "They are going to eliminate a lot of loopholes."

Local police officials expect the law will assist in removing drunk drivers from the roads, particularly the repeat offender, but do not plan to employ immediately the portable breath analyzers allowed under the new law.

Chief Kenneth Hardesty of the township force said he expects the laws will help insure that the repeat drunk driving offender has his license suspended.

Hardesty also said he anticipates an increase in the number of drunk

New drunk driving laws enforced today driving cases going to jury trial "because there is more at stake than there used to be."

City chief Rodney Cannon said he, too, expects the new laws to help reduce the number of licensed drunk drivers.

Neither department has immediate plans to use the portable analyzers, the chiefs said. The electronic devices produce BAC readings for use by the arresting officer at roadside. The reading is not permissible as evidence, but is usable by police as a source of "reasonable cause" to make an arrest.

Cannon, acknowledging that the roadside device would reduce the risk of an officer being charged with false arrest, said such charges are rare under present law.

The analyzers, which are estimated to cost $400 apiece, are subject to criticism that they are susceptible to false reading caused by nearby radio broadcasts.

Hardesty said he has budgeted for the purchase of the devices, but is not certain whether the budget will be approved in that form. Some police agencies plan to consolidate efforts to seek grant funding for the purchase.

Additions and minor changes to the package of three bills (P.A. 309, 310 and 311 of 1982) are already being considered in Lansing in light of input gathered while introducing the new provisions to police, prosecutors and judges, according to the Traffic Safety Association of Michigan, a non-profit lobbying group.

A Michigan AAA survey released last week shows seven states (California, Maine, Iowa, New York, Oregon, Maryland and Tennessee) that enacted similar new laws had fewer alcohol-related traffic fatalities within the first year.

The Auto Club claims long-term effects of stiffer drunk driving laws are better, reporting that in Oregon, where a crackdown began in 1971, the fatality rate dropped 35 percent during the decade, despite a 62 percent increase in vehicle registrations.

The AAA report does not define which portion of that reduction might have been expected as the result of improved auto safety standards and institution of the federally-mandated 55-mph speed limit in the mid-70s.

While supporting the new law, the Auto Club's Robert Cullen, safety and traffic engineering manager, is also calling for further measures.

"While we are confident that Michigan's new laws will increase drunk driving arrests," Cullen is quoted saying in a press release, "there is room for improvement."

"Our report showed that only 21 percent of 1,237 drunk driving cases we studied resulted in convictions on the original charge."

The survey showed conviction rates of 85 and 87 percent in Ten-

Community education offers spring classes

Northville Public Schools Community Education Program will offer spring and summer terms this year for area residents interested in participating in a variety of courses and workshops.

Spring term classes are scheduled to begin April 25 with registration currently under way. Spring brochures were sent to Northville School District residents earlier this week.

Spring term classes and workshops will include many of the familiar favorites as well as several new offerings.

Among the new classes is a six-week Creative Cuisine course focusing on making yeast breads. Participants will learn to make basic white bread, brioche, Savarin, croutons, herb bread and croissants.

Another new offering is a two-evening seminar for parents of gifted children. Bernadette Stetz, an instructor at Madonna College, will discuss with participants the parenting of the gifted child. Topics to be covered include home education and activities (bound book making, science experiments, memory games, mind benders and problem-solving), motivation for school success, academic areas.

Oakland University Continuum Center counselor Shirley Aune will direct a three-series personal development seminar May 4, 11 and 18. Seminar topics will include job hunting skills, resume writing and interviewing.

A day-long stress management seminar also will be offered May 11, under the direction of Marcia Hill, a consultant in Human Resource Development.

The Community Education Program again will offer its daytime senior citizen workshops. Topics for the spring workshops include art, estate planning, fitness over 55 and self defense.

Three hypnosis clinics also have been scheduled. Weight loss and stop smoking clinics will be held April 27 with a self hypnosis clinic slated for May 4.

Among the new adult daytime and evening leisure courses are modern dance, Italian, drapery making, country and western dance and sailing.

New workshops include antique glassware, figures of the dance, marketing arts and crafts, antique ink wells, fashion awareness, antique jewelry, camping and backpacking, textiles of yester-year and underwater photography.

After school specials for elementary students include art exploration for first through third graders, creative dance, nature workshop, French I and II, macrame and puppetry.

Just for Teens classes, designed for students in grades 7-12, include modern dance, oil painting and teen modeling.

The popular Kids' Kreative Corner also will be offered this spring at American Elementary School. Kids' Kreative Corner, designed for three, four and five-year-olds, offers children a variety of creative and social experiences to help them expand their knowledge of the world and their peers. Activities include puppetry, drama, music, story-telling, finger plays and arts and crafts.

Registration for leisure-time classes may be made by mail or in person at the Northville Board of Education, Community Education Office, 501 West Main Street. Hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Evening registration is scheduled from 6-9 p.m. April 14 at Northville High School.

Fees must be paid at the time of registration. Persons 60 years or older may attend two classes free of charge if they reside in the Northville School District, if minimum enrollment standards of 10 paying students have been met and if materials fees have been paid.

Persons requesting further information should contact the Community Education Office at 349-3400, extension 214.

Nature, music program slated

"Nature, Guitar and Spring," a one-hour combination family nature/music program, will be held at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropark near Milford/Brighton at 2 p.m. on April 11.

Park Naturalist Mark Szabo will put the spring mood to music during this half-hour walk, to celebrate the awakening woodland. In case of rain, the program will be held indoors.

This musical program is free, but advance registration is required. For more information, call the Nature Center at 685-1561.

nessee and Maine, respectively.

The new laws require the state to form a 23-member task force charged with a two-year study of the drunk driving issue, including existing and proposed legislation, enforcement, education and judicial activities.

In a study published last year, AAA recommended a requirement that drunk driving charges not be reduced below the "driving while impaired" level; use of the BAC to determine the severity of penalty (some states require imprisonment for readings above .20); and admitting the preliminary breath test results, taken at roadside, as proof of the BAC.

The AAA also strongly supported the mandatory license suspensions written into the new law. Local police also found the mandatory sentences encouraging, although Hardesty noted that the hard-core drunk driving offender often is found driving with license suspended.

Tornado season approaches, police urge preparation

Police agencies state-wide are issuing notice the tornado season is approaching, and abnormally warm temperatures may lead to a more active season.

While tornadoes can occur at any time of year, day or night, most are in April, May, June and July during the late afternoon or early evening (3-7 p.m.), city police said.

Governor James Blanchard proclaimed March 20-26 "Tornado Safety Week" in Michigan to call attention to the season, and Captain Peter Basolo, deputy state director of emergency services, said state residents are being alerted to the need to know how to prepare themselves for possible tornado dangers.

The governor's proclamation said more than 600 tornadoes strike each year in the U.S. and an average of 17 annually in Michigan. Since 1950, it continued, more than 200 people have been killed by tornadoes in the state.

In the past six years, Michigan experienced 114 tornadoes, causing seven deaths and almost 200 injuries.

The urban population and weather patterns make Michigan third in the number of tornado deaths nationally.

A tornado will generally come from the southwest at between 20 and 45 miles per hour, and almost all approach from somewhere on the western horizon. Some have been clocked at speeds near 70 mph.

A (tornado) warning will be sounded by city police with two, three-minute siren blasts. The 'all clear' signal is three, one-minute siren blasts.

The destructive work of a tornado is done by the high speed rotary winds (100 to 300 mph) and the partial vacuum in the center of the vortex.

City police said a tornado watch means tornadoes or, severe thunderstorms are possible. Officials recommend gathering a first aid kit, flashlight, portable radio and extra batteries, and a gallon jug of water when a watch is issued, in preparation for the next stage.

Which is a tornado warning. This means a tornado has been sighted and people in the area should take shelter. Locally, a warning will be sounded by city police with two, three-minute siren blasts. The "all clear" signal is three, one-minute siren blasts.

When the siren is heard, or an alert announced on radio or television, people in the area covered should take cover in a basement, under something heavy such as a work bench. Stay away from windows, doors and outside walls. If there is no basement, shelter in the lowest floor available, again staying low and under whatever heavy furniture may be at hand. Take the items gathered during the watch with you.

At work or school, move to an interior hallway on the lowest floor, avoiding rooms with large free-span roofs (such as gymnasiums or swimming pools).

If caught in the open, seek shelter in a ditch, ravine or other below-ground-level place, stay as low as possible and cover your head.

Police advise that people in mobile homes or vehicles leave them and go to a substantial structure or take shelter as advised for those in the open.

Brochures including most of this advice about tornado safety are available from local police agencies.

Contract approved for superintendent

Northville Board of Education approved a three percent increase in School Superintendent George Bell's annual salary Monday — boosting his pay to $51,500.

The three percent increase was unanimously approved by the board along with terms of a new three-year contract.

Bell, who was appointed Northville's superintendent last July, was hired at a salary of $50,000.

Noting Bell's "outstanding" evaluation, personnel subcommittee chairperson Karen Wilkinson told the board that the superintendent's three percent salary increase is "a recognition of the times rather than a total of merit pay."

In Bell's first evaluation as superintendent of Northville Public Schools, he rated "outstanding" in all but two areas where he received "above average" performance ratings.

Other changes in terms of Bell's contract, which was recommended to the board by the personnel subcommittee, include benefits, to central office administrators and a $100 per month out-of-pocket expense provision.

Upon the recommendation of board secretary Chris Johnson, the board agreed to make the duration of the contract a separate motion of the agreement.

Johnson, who has long opposed the board's policy of extending the chief executive's contract an extra year, told board members he almost made an exception this year due to Bell's evaluation performance.

"However," he noted, "I don't think the district gets the benefit of extending the contract out an extra year."

"It's a philosophical difference," he said, "it has nothing to do with the job performance of the superintendent."

Trustee Glenna Davis echoed Johnson's remarks, however, she voted in favor of extending the superintendent's contract through June 30, 1986.

"We can offer him a little more security since we're not offering him a whole lot more money," she noted.

The board approved the extension of Bell's contract through June 30, 1986 by a vote of 5-1 with Johnson opposing the motion. Board trustee Gerald Munro was absent from Monday's meeting.

Eight to Ten Mile

Beck paving studied

Paving of Beck Road between Eight Mile and Ten Mile roads is a virtual certainty next year, city manager Steven Walters told council last week.

The city of Novi, he said, has approved expenditure of $99,000 for preliminary engineering and acquisition of right of way for the road this year.

Northville has jurisdiction over one-half mile of the east (northbound) lane immediately north of Eight Mile, he said, and under an earlier agreement will pay for paving that portion.

"We've got it figured into next year's major street fund expenditures," he told council. "This is basically an informational item right now, so you know that next year we will spend about $12,000 on paving it."

Engineering costs and easement acquisition "are all Novi's" requiring no city funds this year, Walters said.

"Once they've invested the engineering and easement costs," Walters said, "actual construction is virtually certain in the next year or two."

Council members Paul Folino and Burton DeRusha both expressed pleasure at the progress being made, noting that pavement of Beck Road is a key to development of the western end of the city and township.

"Once Wayne (County) gets it together to pave its portion," Walters added, "Beck should provide a good link, running from M-14 to I-96. It should really give a boost to development on the west side."

Township to finalize budget Thursday

Three public hearings beginning at 7 p.m. Thursday will precede a special meeting of the Northville Township Board of Trustees.

The hearings will be for the proposed township budget for 1983-84, the separate water and sewer department proposed budget and for use of Federal Revenue Sharing Funds, earmarked at a previous public hearing to help pay employee fringe benefits.

The meeting agenda, David Lelko said Monday, will include the adoption of the budgets, a review of a four-community ad hoc committee's recommendations for shared ambulance service and discussion of changing the township's word processor equipment.

"We know we are not going to continue with the present equipment; we know it is going to be pulled out, but we still must investigate alternatives," Lelko explained. He said the township had budgeted for a change from the present IBM equipment, for which two years of payments still remain.

Possibility of purchasing equipment which would tie the word processor into the Nixdorf computer is being explored, he added.

The new budget also includes $12,600 for salary adjustments, Lelko said. Salaries of all employees except those in the police department have been studied, he said. The police employees currently are on the third year of their present contract.

During township budget study sessions, clerk Susan Heintz had reported the township had no employee evaluation program and said she would like to see one implemented.

Lelko said Monday that the initial employee evaluations have been scheduled for the end of September, just before the second half of the township's fiscal year begins October 1.

"It will take a lot of evaluating, and we will have to see what our financial position is then," he explained, noting that there is no assurance the township will receive its full state shared revenues, as expected.

Salaries of both township officials and employees are being reviewed, he said.

One budget item that still is uncertain is the township insurance amount. Lelko said he was certain a sufficient amount had been set aside, but that the township advisory insurance committee still was studying coverages.

One of the township's budgeting concerns, he added, is that some of its funding is "up front." He cited the township's share of recreation department funding as an example. The township's share is paid April through June with the expectation that state shared revenues will be received.

Both the supervisor and clerk have indicated they will not be at the meeting Thursday. Clerk Susan Heintz is recuperating from surgery while Supervisor John MacDonald was to be out-of-town for that day.

Lelko said he did not expect to have difficulty getting a quorum, however.

During his six weeks of training at Lackland, Traud studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

Air National Guard Airman John N. Penrod of Northville has completed Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

Penrod, the son of Gregory P. and Shirley M. Penrod of 45265 Mayo Drive, Northville, is remaining at Lackland for specialized training in the security police field. He has studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs, and received special instruction in human relations while in Texas.

Revised dog controls considered by council

Changes to the city dog ordinance will retain the current $2 license fee, but other charges would increase, in relation to administrative costs under amendments city council will consider in public hearing Monday.

Council had earlier decided to have revisions drafted that would increase impound charges to insure that the owners of unlicensed stray dogs cover the costs of the city in capturing and housing the animals.

It had also requested the opinion of the police and city administrators regarding an increase in annual license fees.

"We recommend that the fee remain at $2," said city manager Steve Walters March 21. "It's our judgment that it is better for the city to encourage licensing (through a low fee), than to try to make a revenue item of this."

Councilmember Burton

DeRusha asked what it cost the city to process dog licenses. Walters said the tags cost the city about 20 cents each and staff time and the price of forms used brings the cost "pretty near $2 — we probably cover (the cost) except when there is some complication to the licensing because the owner has forgotten to bring the proper documents or something."

Capturing, sheltering and occasionally euthanizing strays, however, is another matter. The $4 fee established by ordinance "doesn't even come close" to covering the city's costs, Walters told council at the earlier session.

The amendment to the ordinance will give the city flexibility to set fees in accordance with the cost of services provided by a contracting veterinary service/kennel. In its present form, fees can only be raised by amending the ordinance. The new amendment will allow council to adjust fees "as needed."

This is a "hands-on" workshop covering perennial planting and dividing. Plans for a perennial garden will be discussed. Fee is $8, participants are advised to dress for the weather.

• Also April 16, from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Mary Gerathy, herb expert who teaches at Greenfield Village will teach "The Scented Garden." The workshop is for those interested in growing fragrance in the garden as well as for concoctions to scent the home. Participants are advised to bring a lunch. There will be $15 fee.

• Chair caning will be offered April 23 and 30 by Don Sober, who will teach the traditional seven-step method on these consecutive Saturdays from 9 a.m. to noon. The charge is $16 plus $4 material for one chair.

• "Quilts" April 23 from 1 to 3 p.m. is the only lecture in the spring series. Diane Little, from Greenfield Village, will show slides and examples of old and new quilts. Emphasis will be on quilt collecting and conservation. Participants are asked bring old and new quilts to share. The charge is $5; reservations required.

• Herb-drying basket construction will be taught by Helen Maki May 7, from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Participants should bring a lunch and $9 for materials. Workshop fee is $15.

Holloway landfill requests denied

Salem Township residents who have sought to block expansion of the Holloway Sand and Gravel Company's landfill operations at Six Mile and Napier won a first-round decision Monday night when the township planning commission voted unanimously to deny Holloway's landfill application.

In addition, the commission voted to deny Holloway's request for a conditional use permit to construct an asphalt plant in an area adjacent on the southwest to the present landfill. The commission also voted to recommend to the township board denial of the company's request to mine sand and gravel from a 165-acre parcel which lies directly west of the current landfill.

The latter two actions were not unanimous. Salem Township Board Member Ferman Rohraff, who is the board's liaison to the planning commission, and Planning Commissioner Elmer Wessel both voted against the motions to deny the asphalt plant and sand and gravel applications. Dr. Richard Thompson, another member of the commission, joined them in voting against denial of the asphalt request.

With all seven commission members present, both denial motions carried.

Donald Riddering, chairperson of the commission, introduced "resolutions" to deny on all three parts of Holloway's application. Motions to adopt the resolutions were then made by various members of the commission during the nearly four-hour meeting. More than 100 citizens attended the session.

The resolutions spelled out in detail the reasons for the commission's denial. Each included the opening statement, "the Salem Planning Commission has reviewed the particular circumstances and facts of the proposal and have found that adequate data, information and evidence show that the proposed use does not meet all the required standards of the Salem Township Zoning Ordinance."

In the denial motion on the landfill, the location of the Salem Township Airport within less than 10,000 feet of the landfill was cited as well as the fact that the Washtenaw County 20-year Waste Management Plan states "that there should be no additional applications for landfills until remaining life of a waste shed is five years or less."

Although the Holloway expansion is included in that 20-year plan, the solid waste disposal study includes a statement that the current filling operation has eight years to go to completion.

Other reasons given for denial of the landfill include:

- not "harmonious with the objectives, intent and purpose" of the ordinance.

- Devaluation of neighboring properties.

- Location would make the adjoining recreation-conservation area unattractive due to odors and airborne litter. A ski slope now under construction at the current landfill.

- Making the township the perpetual landfill for Wayne and Oakland counties is not the intent of the township ordinance. Much of the waste in the Holloway fill comes from these two counties.

- It would not be "compatible with the natural environment and existing and future land uses in the vicinity."

- Heavy traffic of trucks would create a safety hazard and excessive road maintenance.

- The apparent lack of cover material on the site would make additional movement of earth movers along or across neighboring roads.

- It would be detrimental, hazardous or disturbing to existing or future neighboring uses, persons, property or the public welfare.

- Possible health hazards at present or in the future because of no "secure manner" to control what substances are disposed there.

- The present landfill is already listed as a "location where groundwater pollution is suspected" in the Assessment of Ground Water Contamination: Inventory of Sites, Michigan Department of Natural Resources Ground Water Quality, 1982.

- Recent, technological government assessments have said that "any landfill, no matter how well constructed, eventually will leak."

The commission's motion also included references to the citizens' objections to "further exploitation and experimentation in waste disposal," a statement on impairing public safety in Salem Village, problems with airborne litter and odors and hazards to air traffic at Salem Airport due to birds the congregate around landfills.

Many of the same reasons pertaining to "harmonious objectives" of the zoning ordinance were included in the motions for denial of the asphalt plant and sand and gravel mining. These included non-compatibility with natural environment, lack of adequate highways, detriments to existing or future neighboring uses, threatening environmental activity and no receipt of "certification" that the proposed useages would comply with zoning provisions concerning hazardous or objectionable features.

Since the February 21 meeting of the planning commission when Holloway's application on all three requests was returned for more information, the firm had submitted additional data as required by the zoning ordinance, according to Riddering.

In addition, a revised "Landfill Final Grade Plan" was submitted with a March 11 date.

Charles McGee, general manager of Holloway, said this second plan is basically the same as the first landfill plan only the grades were changed from "two-to-one, to 3.7-to-one, as required in the zoning ordinance."

A restoration plan for a mining and gravel operation must be filed with the application for the mining permit, according to the zoning ordinance.

The commission asked township attorney Margaret Austin's opinion on whether the revised plan could be accepted as part of the current discussion since it was not filed with the original application. Austin responded that the ordinance "clearly shows the commission may request changes in proposed restoration plans" and that this would be applicable in the case of Holloway's alternate restoration plan.

Granting of conditional use permits for sand and gravel mining come under the jurisdiction of the township board on receipt of recommendations of the planning commission.

Township Clerk Nancy Geiger said Tuesday that she did not yet know if the commission's recommendation for denial of the sand and gravel mining request would be on the agenda of the April 5 regular meeting of the township board.

In remarks made prior to Monday's meeting, John Brennan, attorney for Holloway, had indicated that the company might seek court action if its application were denied.

DNR slates hearing

A public hearing by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) on Holloway Sand and Gravel Company's application for a new solid waste disposal facility next to its current landfill at Six Mile and Napier in Salem Township has been set for Tuesday, April 19. The meeting begins at 8 p.m. in the Salem Township Hall, 7912 Dickerson.

Barry Johnson, director of the Washtenaw County Environmental Health Department, said the hearing is provided for in Michigan Public Act 641, which governs solid waste plans in the state.

Johnson added that the hearing was set because of the wide public interest. Salem Township residents have evidenced in Holloway's request. That request also includes mining of sand and gravel and construction of an asphalt plant on acreage located just west and south of the present landfill.

DNR officials will chair the April 19 hearing, Johnson explained, adding that representatives of his department will also be on hand.

"They (the DNR) will take public comments on the landfill proposal," Johnson explained. "In the past they have not answered questions at these hearings but have merely taken comments. I don't know for sure how it will be handled this time."

Washtenaw County's short- and long-term solid waste plan includes both Holloway's current operation and the new landfill. According to Act 641, the county plan must be accepted by two-thirds of (19) of the 28 municipalities within Washtenaw County by July 8.

Johnson said March 28 that plan had now been approved by six municipalities but that he did not know if the plan will be presented to the Salem Township board for a vote at its April 5 regular meeting. Each municipality has one vote on the plan.

Salem Township Clerk Nancy Geiger confirmed that the county has not yet requested inclusion of the plan on the April 5 agenda.

Police Blotter

Burglary warrant out

...In the Township

Police have obtained an arrest warrant for a man suspected in a late February burglary of nearly $100,000 worth of items from a township home. Township Police Captain Detective Phil Presnell said he obtained a warrant Friday for Howard Allen Wills, 26, of Detroit in connection with the burglary.

Wills was identified as one of at least two suspects in the case. The owner of the home was on vacation the week of February 23-28, during which time the house was burglarized and a car stolen from the garage.

Presnell said the car was later found, abandoned, in Detroit and yielded evidence that helped lead police to Wills. He said he hoped Wills would be arrested early this week.

The suspected burglar has a criminal record including several burglary or theft-related entries, according to Presnell, and is at present on parole from the correctional facility at Jackson. He is also suspected in a February 17 burglary in Detroit, Presnell added.

An Oak Park man will be arraigned on drunk driving and possession of marijuana charges April 26 in 35th District Court, following his arrest in the early morning hours Sunday.

According to police accounts, Mark Allen Theida, 20, of Oak Park was arrested shortly before 3 a.m. Sunday after his car ran a red light at Seven Mile and Northville roads, nearly striking a police patrol car.

Theida's red and white 1976 Pontiac Grand Prix was northbound on Northville Road at Seven Mile when the incident occurred according to the police report. Township police were westbound on Seven Mile, waiting at a red light to turn left onto Northville Road.

When the light changed, Theida's car came to a stop and the police car began its left turn. Police stated the Pontiac then started moving, against the red light, requiring the patrol officer to take measures to avoid collision. Theida's car stopped in the southbound lane, blocking the intersection.

When police approached the car, they found the driver slumped over the steering wheel, apparently asleep. He awoke when police opened the driver's door and placed the transmission in "park." Police found an open bottle of beer between the driver's legs. Theida failed sobriety tests, reciting the alphabet clearly only through the letter "F" and repeatedly falling when attempting other tests.

After arresting him and placing him in the patrol car, police discovered Theida was bleeding from the mouth, having bitten his tongue. When taken to the station, he complained that he had bitten off a portion of his tongue and police found breathalyzer tests impossible.

While inventorying his possessions in preparation to place him in a cell, police found a bag containing a substance they suspect is marijuana in the pocket of his torn jacket. When the suspect requested medical attention, he was taken to Wayne County General Hospital.

According to the police report, a doctor told the officer who took the man to the hospital that he exhibited symptoms similar to those induced by taking PCP in combination with alcohol. A blood test was taken, with the suspect's permission, to determine the chemical content in his body.

Damage estimated at $2,700 was done at Oasis Golf Center sometime between 6:15 p.m. last Friday and 10:15 a.m. Saturday morning, police reports indicate.

An employee of the Five Mile Road center told police a 10-foot by 10-foot vinyl windbreak shielding a portion of the heated tee area had been sliced through and 11 plywood-and-angle iron partitions between tees had been destroyed.

The windbreak was valued at $2,300, the partitions at $400.

Two abandoned cars owned by the same Westland woman were found in the township last week. A 1966 Ford Mustang that had been partially stripped was left in the Aberdeen's parking lot on Northville Road from March 15 through the 23, when police impounded the car.

The next day, police also towed away a 1964 Chevy II that had been in the same spot at Highland Lakes for 48 hours. Both vehicles have been traced, through registration records, to the same resident of Westland.

...In the City

A blue Schwinn 10-speed bicycle was reported stolen from the garage of a Sherrie Lane residence March 25, city police report.

The garage was door open between 3:10 and 3:30 p.m. when the $156 bicycle was stolen, police said.

The owner of a 1978 Pontiac Firebird reported a $120 car stereo cassette deck stolen March 23, police reports indicate.

The theft took place between 11:30 p.m. March 22 and 2 a.m. the next morning, according to the report. Damage estimated at $100 was done to the dashboard of the vehicle when the stereo was removed, police said. A speaker cover was also bent, but the speakers were not damaged or stolen.

Liquor license sale okayed

Transfer of a liquor license for 10 bars operated at Northville Downs was approved by city council at its March 14 meeting.

Council action simply endorses a transfer that had been ordered by the state Liquor Control Commission (LCC) of all stock in the operation from Michigan Sportservice to Bismarck Food Service, Inc.

Police chief Rodney Cannon told council Bismarck (which owned a portion of Michigan Sportservice) is "solidly in compliance with the LCC."

It was noted by Cannon and council member Paul Folino that some principals in Michigan Sportservice had been reputed to have associated with "disreputable people," meaning organized crime, prompting the LCC order that it sell its share of the Downs' liquor concession.

Cannon said Bismarck, of Chicago, Illinois, is "a reputable firm that owns the Chicago Blackhawks (hockey team)."

In voting to approve the license transfer, council member Burton DeRusha said "it's not really something we have choice on — they're going to do it anyway."

Master plan revision proposed

Township planners were to consider amendments to the community master plan of land use at their regular monthly session last night (after press time Tuesday). The amendments would reduce the number of commercial sites in the township.

No major changes to the master plan for Seven Mile frontage was proposed, although the issue had been discussed repeatedly in the year since the commission began considering revisions to the plan.

Thus the frontage would retain much of the single-family housing zoning that remains. The only change on Seven Mile would be a small multiple family parcel at Seven Mile and Marlin.

The story on Six Mile, the other area where changes were debated extensively, is completely different. The master plan calls for three convenience shopping sites in the Six Mile corridor. If the amendments are adopted, all three sites would be dropped from the plan.

"Vacant, commercial acreage at Eight Mile and Haggerty and on Seven Mile near Northville Road and on Five Mile near Haggerty is estimated to be adequate to serve the needs of township residents within the foreseeable future," the proposed amendment states.

The master plan does not reflect actual zoning in the township but acts as a long-range planning tool and a guide to dealing with future rezoning requests.

Actual zoning decisions or policy changes since the plan was published in 1979 have resulted in alterations being included in the amendment, however.

These include the commercial strip on Five Mile (which planners now intend to retain), commercial acreage at Eight Mile and Haggerty (formerly shown as residential), office frontage on Haggerty between Seven and Eight Mile and the small multiple family parcel on Seven Mile.

Also reflected in the amended map would be removal of a small commercial parcel near the Five Mile-Haggerty intersection (which reverted to residential last year) and removal of commercial zoning at Six Mile and Ridge, where a consent degree has expired and the land reverted to residential zoning.

Debate parking lot expansion

Expansion and paving of the parking lot at Northville Charley's restaurant was to be discussed by the township planning commission last night (after press time).

Documents regarding the proposal indicate that C.A. Muer Corporation plans to build a 164-car lot with three new light fixtures on the parcels immediately west of the existing lot.

Reviews from consultants, and a letter from the owner of a neighboring parcel, showed there could be some difficulty with drainage plans for the lot.

C.A. Muer earlier submitted a preliminary plan that was rejected for lack of adequate drainage descriptions. As of Monday, there was no formal review of the plan available from the township engineer (who reviews storm drainage-related aspects of the plan).

The company has obtained, through the zoning board of appeals, permission to build a stockade-type fence along the back of the lot, where it abuts residential property. Without the variance, the firm would have had to build a masonry wall at that location.

The neighbors' letter, from Neil and Annie Nichols who own Nichols Realty to the east, objects to the plan on grounds that it apparently routes storm water onto their property and includes large retention basins that could prove hazardous to children or escapees from the state hospital across Seven Mile Road.

Poet Richard Wilbur to speak at Schoolcraft

Celebrated American poet Richard Wilbur will read his poetry at Schoolcraft College at 8 p.m. April 13 in the Waterman Campus Center. General admission is $4 and $3 for students.

Wilbur won a Pulitzer Prize and a National Book Award in 1957 and has received numerous other prizes for his poetry and translations.

His has-written 11 books of poetry and has translated from the French and edited other works. He has published prose and a children's book titled "Loudmouse."

After graduating from

Amherst College in 1941, the poet enlisted in the army and served as a non-commissioned officer with the 36th Infantry Division at Anzio and Cassino. Wilbur later earned his master's degree at Harvard and became a member of its English faculty for seven years. Subsequently, he taught at Wellesley College, Wesleyan and Smith.

Schoolcraft will be one of only five appearances Wilbur has accepted this year.

The Northville Record

Wilkinson chosen for All-WLAA Western Division volleyball honors

Tracey Wilkinson has added another notch on her belt of impressive senior season credentials.

Wilkinson, the lanky leader of Northville's basketball and volleyball teams, has been named to the Western Division first team of the 1983 All-Western Lakes Activities Association volleyball team.

Upperclassmen dominated the three-team arrangement and Mustang seniors Leslie Kucher, Kim Petit and Cheryl Berryman were included under the honorable mention heading.

Named to the six-member first team were: Susan Trembath, Livonia Churchill; Dhana Ponnors, Livonia Stevenson; Jacque Merrifield, Plymouth Salem; Patty Wang, Livonia Bentley and Denise Wright, Plymouth Canton.

Wilkinson, a senior, headed the All-Western Division team that included: Teri Evans and Beth Wesman, Livonia Churchill; Polly Roberts, Plymouth Canton; Lydia Gilyvdis, Farmington Harrison and Betty Gross, Walled Lake Western.

Heading the Lakes Division, which compiled a masterful 39-26 league record compared to the exact opposite for the Western Division, were: Tami Scuto and Linda Loeffler, Livonia Stevenson; Ann Glomski, Plymouth Salem; Sue Pozan, Livonia Bentley and

'If she (Wilkinson) had played in her first two years of high school, there's no telling how good she could be.'

— Steve McDonald, Volleyball coach

Robin Wheeler and Caryn Lamb, Walled Lake Central.

Kucher, Petit and Berryman were among 19 players named to the honorable mention squad. Kucher, one of the teams tri-captains this season, is a senior, but both Petit and Berryman are juniors and will return to bolster coach Steve McDonald's WLAA title hopes in 1983-84.

"We will miss all of our seniors, but we have an outstanding group of juniors returning next year," McDonald said confidently following a 6-11 WLAA finish this season, including a 4-9 mark in the Western Division.

Speaking of his seniors, McDonald found considerable pleasure in Wilkinson's performance her first full season of varsity volleyball.

"Tracey only played half of last season after she broke a finger playing basketball," said McDonald. "And she did not play at all during her freshman and sophomore years, so this is really her first full year of volleyball. If she had played in her first two years of high school, there's no telling how good she could be."

"I have had opposing coaches tell me that she should play college volleyball and that her skills will only improve with time. Right now I don't know if she will play or not, but I think she certainly is capable of making quite a few college teams around the state."

McDonald also cited Wilkinson's mere presence on the court as a factor of strength for the Mustang spikers.

When Tracey was on the floor, the other teams had to play a different game," said McDonald. "She is nearly six feet tall, and opponents had to hit around and over her to be successful. Tracey just made everyone's job easier."

"She just had an outstanding year and each game she just got better and better. It was a pleasure to be her coach, added McDonald.

Morante wins swim medals

David Morante, a youthful resident of Northville swimming for the Bulldog Aquatic Club, captured five medals last weekend in the Regional Junior Olympics at Oakland Community College.

Swimming in the 10 and under classification, Morante took top honors in the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 1:22.31.

Morante also won medals with a second in the 200-yard freestyle (2:31.36), third in the 100-yard freestyle (1:09.53), fourth in the 50-yard backstroke (38.32) and fifth in the 50-yard freestyle (32.53).

Heitert dreams of taking state gymnastic title

Cathy Heitert has her work cut out for her, but if successful, Northville will have its first state gymnastics champion in history next season.

Heitert, fresh off an "experience" at the MHSSA gymnastics championships March 18-19 in Plymouth where she was Northville's first four-event qualifier as a junior, has decided that it will take a year of hard work and dedication to the sport she loves to be a champion.

That realization came as a result of an unsuccessful qualifying round that left the pert Mustang on the sidelines for the individual finals.

"I expected that there would be a lot of competition at the state meet because of the elite and class one gymnasts," Heitert said realistically. "I was shocked at how good some of the people really were. I'm just going to have to work harder to prepare for next season."

That work has already begun, with workouts five times a week at the Farmington Gymnastics Center, with added work in weight training and dance classes. In addition, Heitert was considering trying out for Northville's women's track team in the distance events, but opted instead for her first labor of love, gymnastics.

"I have already started working out at the club in an attempt to raise my difficulty level and improve my routines and tricks for next season," explained Heitert. "I was going to go out for the track team, but decided to concentrate on gymnastics."

Heitert, who got started in gymnastics at the age of eight but didn't compete until she was 11, will also keep in shape as a prospective diver on Northville's women's swimming team this fall.

With that work load and a good deal of enthusiasm, Heitert's goal for next season should be well within reach.

"I would like to make the state meet all-around again," said Heitert. "I'd like to make the top 10, but it will be tough. I think, if I work hard and improve my difficulties, I can do it."

Kim Storm named All-America swimmer

Eight Northern Michigan University swimmers and divers, including Northville's own Kim Storm, have earned All-America recognition by being national placers during the 1983 NCAA Division II championships at Long Beach, California, March 16-19. Storm, a sophomore, placed in six events for the Wildcats. She was eighth in the 100-yard freestyle and the 50-yard butterfly before joining four NMU relay teams. Aided by Storm, Northern took seventh in the 200-freestyle relay, 11th in the 400-yard freestyle relay and 12th in the 200-Storm, a sophomore, and 400-yard medley.

Overall, Northern's women placed 11th as a team with 69 points and crowned its first individual NCAA female champion in school history in Grosse Pointe Woods' Jodi Stout.

Stout, from North High

School, won the the one-meter diving event and placed 12th in the three-meter dive to earn her All-America status.

In addition to the outstanding performances of Storm and Stout, other Wildcats to earn All-America honors were: Julie Bauman, Holland senior; sisters Dawn (senior) and Karen (sophomore) Olson of South Haven; Mary Ann Mraz, Phinlender, Wisconsin, freshman; Lisa Goodman, Wheeling, Illinois, sophomore; and Sue Bezy, Royal Oak sophomore.

Schoolcraft gymnasts take fourth at championships

Schoolcraft College men's gymnastics team has finished fourth in the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) meet held last weekend at Farmingdale, New York.

For the second consecutive year, Long Beach Community College of California took top honors with 217.05 points, while Farmingdale C.C. was second with 194.40 and Los Angeles Valley Junior College was third at 177.70.

Schoolcraft failed to advance any gymnasts to the championship finals, which comprised the top eight gymnasts in six separate events after Friday's preliminary competition, but Ocelot captain Bruce Schafer of Ionia set a school-record for best all-around score with a 41.4 effort. The previous high mark was set by Kevin Watson with 40.6 when Schoolcraft competed in the NJCAA finals.

Ocelot gymnasts have only competed in the national finals during two seasons, 1975 and 1983.

Schafer also set a team record on the high bar with a 7.9, topping the previous high of 7.35 set by teammate Karl Schneider earlier this season.

Schneider, also from Ionia, turned in the second best Ocelot performance on the high bar with a 6.4 score. Arnold Gonzales, from Taylor Truman High School, was next at 5.1 followed by Chris Headrick of Redford Thurston (5.3) and Scott Carlson of Plymouth Salem (4.0).

On the parallel bars, Schneider was the best Ocelot at 7.2 to gain 11th place overall, while Schafer and Gonzales added scores of 5.8 and 4.2, respectively.

Joe DeDomenico of Livonia Franklin turned in Schoolcraft's second best score on the vault with an 8.1, behind Schafer's 8.5. Carlson and Brian Stout of Ionia both hit 7.8.

Schafer paced the Ocelots on the still rings with a 6.3 score, followed by Gonzales and Headrick at 5.7 and 5.0, respectively.

In floor exercise, Schafer led with a 7.5. Schneider and Headrick scored 6.5 and 5.0, respectively. DeDomenico injured his shoulder in the event and did not compete.

Schoolcraft's poorest showing came on the pommel horse where Gonzales 5.6 led the pack.

In Northville Sports

EDITOR'S NOTE: the names and the faces have changed, but the same athletic fever which blankets Northville today existed in the past.

Beginning today, The Northville Record will take a frequent journey back into the history of Northville sports, focusing on the events that made the news five and ten years ago in The Record.

FIVE YEARS AGO . . .

Northville's two-mile relay team was the Mustangs' only point-getter in last weekend's annual Huron Relays at Eastern Michigan University. Brian Turnbull, John Monagle, Harry Coujournjian and John Coram combined for an 8:35 clocking in the event to finish 12th out of 70 schools that competed . . . Northville's soccer boom created quite a headache for officials at the recreation department. The Western Suburban Soccer League, of which Northville is a member, has outgrown existing facilities and is desperately searching for fields for its 176-team membership. Northville alone has 34 teams and 617 players, an increase of 10 and 207, respectively from 1977 figures . . . Two ancient Northville residents, Eddie Stinson and James Doyle, are spotlighted in features for their feats in the airplane piloting and basketball, respectively.

TEN YEARS AGO . . .

Mrs. K.C. Martens of Northville has joined a field of 192 golfers for the amateur event of the $100,000 Sears Women's Classic of St. Luce, Florida. Martens was the three-time champion of the Meadowbrook Country Club, winning titles in 1966, 1967 and 1972 . . . Northville's entry in the Squirt A division of the Western Hockey League (WHL) barely squeezed into the playoffs with a third-place finish, but once in the playoffs they defeated the first and second place teams to capture the league title. Sponsored by the Dave Pink Builders, the Northville Squirts won the title in a winner-take-all showdown with Redford. The squirts suffered a 3-2 loss to Redford in the opening round, but bounced back to defeat Dearborn Heights 5-4. Meanwhile, Redford was battling Dearborn Heights to a 0-0 stand-off. League officials decided to have Northville meet Redford one more time for the championship. Northville won the rematch 5-4, with Richard Pattison scoring a hat trick and Tod Mack and Doug Horst scoring one goal apiece. Tom Allen picked up four assists in the game. Northville finished the season at 22-10-4 . . . Jamie Boshoven is a strong candidate to become the first female to ever play on a boys' varsity athletic team at Northville High School. Coach Bob Simpson expects Boshoven to be one of the top players on his tennis team, but must answer criticism from athletic department administrators who feel that allowing girls to compete with boys will destroy programs set up specifically for girls. "At this point she is a member of the tennis team," said Northville athletic director Robert Kucher. "But whether she will be allowed to compete or not is a different question."

Next — Spring sports begin in Northville.

Northville spikers named to All-WLAA honor teams

Northville's post-season honorees, according to McDonald's plaudits, and the Mustangs trio of honorable mention selections were not left without notice.

"It took me a little while to find out where I wanted to play her," McDonald said of Berryman. "but she wound up as our setter and had an outstanding year."

"Cheryl was extremely quick and was unafraid of going to the floor. In fact, I actually think she enjoyed diving for the ball. We also ran a 5-1 offense this year, which left Cheryl as our only setter most of the time."

Petit, whose sister Kris finished her varsity career at Northville this season as a key member of the team, discovered her popularity among her peers when she was elected along with Berryman to captain next year's squad.

"Whatever it took to get the job done, she did it," McDonald said of Petit. "She will make a good leader for our team and will be an outstanding player for our next season. She's not very big (5-1), but she surprised a lot of people with her jumping ability and was well respected around the league."

"Perhaps the steadiest of performers for Northville this winter was captain Kucher."

"Leslie also had an outstanding year," McDonald said echoing his previous compliments. "She did a lot of things that didn't appear in the statistics, but are necessary for a team to be successful. She was possibly our most consistent performer and never seemed to have any high or low performances. She played good game after game."

McDonald also announced this year's post-season inter-squad award winners, headed by the Spirit Award given jointly to juniors Heather Davis and Maria Schroder.

"Maria played more than Heather, but these are the type of players every team needs to be successful," noted McDonald. "They put the team before themselves."

Wilkinson won the Most Improved Player award for her "outstanding development between her junior and senior seasons," according to her coach.

The Mustangs Most Valuable Player award also produced a split decision, with tri-captain Jenny Gans, a senior, and Kim Petit selected.

"Jenny wasn't flashy as a player, but she was always consistent," commented McDonald. "She was also one of the four or five people on the team who didn't mind diving for balls and it's always nice to have those players on your side."

It seems Northville's volleyball team had a lot special personalities on its side during the recently completed campaign, even if the scoreboard didn't always reflect the dedication and hard work involved.

Every working person with earned income from performing personal services is now eligible for an Individual Retirement Account. Contributions to this account are TAX DEDUCTIBLE each year and earnings are also TAX DEFERRED until retirement (age 59½). A working person may contribute up to a maximum of $2,000.00 per year. A husband and wife who are both working may EACH contribute up to a maximum amount of $2,000.00 (total $4,000.00). A working person with a non-working spouse may contribute up to $2,250.00 per year.

YOU ACTUALLY SAVE MONEY TWO WAYS:

1) TAX DEDUCTION

For example, even though an actual cash contribution has been made in the amount of $2,000.00, it would cost the taxpayer in the 40% tax bracket only $1,200.00 in actual dollars because of the $800.00 tax savings incurred.

2) TAX DEFERRAL

Interest earnings on your annual $2,000.00 contribution are also tax deferred until retirement when tax brackets are usually lower.

Federal regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal from certificate accounts, and withdrawals from your IRA prior to age 59½ may result in tax penalties. When you withdraw the money in your IRA Account at retirement after age 59½, your withdrawals will be taxed as ordinary income at a time when your tax rate is likely to be lower.

IRA Accounts are insured separately to $100,000.00 by the FSLIC.

Our Opinions

Last blast

Only melting vestiges remain now of last week's spring snow. For residents like Jerry Stopper, above, clearing walks was a novel experience. City DPW crews worked fast to clear streets and then parking lots. In all, the post season snowstorm almost was enjoyable. Record photo by John Galloway.

Congratulations

It has been a long and bumpy road to travel but the end is, at last, genuinely in sight for residents of Park Gardens. With the special assessment district established, financial arrangements are all but complete for the sewer construction project so desperately needed there.

All those who worked through the past two years to bring what was a semi-comatose project to this point deserve congratulations and thanks. Out of all the heated discussions and complex arrangements has come a plan to deal with the problems faced in Park Gardens that comes reasonably close to satisfying all parties.

Resident Liz McCarville deserves recognition as a prime mover in forcing the project to fruition, beginning at a time when it was moribund and carrying through after it could well have been left to other hands. And township Supervisor John MacDonald did a masterful job of mediating between the various parties involved in a sometimes divisive debate.

Consulting engineer Edward (Jack) McNeely deserves special mention for doing his complex job efficiently, explaining it in terms understandable to the non-engineers among us and keeping his cool when he caught more than his share of the heat generated by debate on this topic.

There were signs as the board approved the assessment district that the "us vs. them" mentality that sometimes dominated Park Gardens discussions has ebbed and been replaced by mutual respect, if not admiration. Both the township and its citizens can be proud of the way democracy worked in this instance.

It is too early to call the job completed, (and Park Gardens residents have heard all too often that sewers will be installed "within a year or two" to believe it before the pipe is laid and the ground sealed again) but it is certainly not premature to acknowledge the considerable progress made to date with a hearty "well done."

Legion loss

This Memorial Day the ranks of veterans of Lloyd H. Green American Legion Post 147 marching in the annual parade will be diminished by the loss of longtime member David McDougall. Although in ill health, he had served as co-grand marshal in last year's ceremonies.

In asking him to do so, the post was honoring a member and past commander who had served the legion well, and, through its projects, many young people. He died March 19 at the age of 79. At his funeral last Wednesday American Legion officials from the 17th District and from the state level came to pay tribute to a member who had been born in Paisley, Scotland, had served the United States in World War II and who had worked for the Legion since he joined the Northville post in 1944. Members recall that he was the first World War II veteran to become post commander.

Although David McDougall and his wife Laura had no children of their own, he had worked with children most of his life. A resident of Northville for 53 years, he was a retired supervisor of the Wayne County Training School. Friends remember he called himself a "cottage father" as he worked with youth there. He took charge of special activities, such as Christmas celebrations, at the school.

Until his health prevented it, the McDougalls never missed attending a state or national Legion convention. Mrs. McDougall recalls. He had served on the Legion's national children and youth committee as well as on the Department of Michigan Children and Youth Committee, most recently in an advisory capacity.

Because of her husband's great interest in youth, Mrs. McDougall and Legion members have made plans to establish the David McDougall Memorial Fund to further child and youth work of the American Legion, knowing it is a meaningful tribute he would have liked.

Off the record

A youthful look at old age

As ludicrous as it may seem, I already am worrying about how I'll take care of myself in my old age. I know this seems like a ridiculous concern for a 24-year-old; however, it's a problem I keep turning over in my head. Though I've pumped my hard earned dollars into Social Security — and will continue to do so for who knows how long — I doubt I will reap many benefits when my turn comes to collect. Come to think of it, if the well already is running dry, I probably should be thinking about how I'll take care of my parents.

Had someone told me three years ago that I would be worrying myself over this, I probably would have brushed it off. In fact, I probably would have done the same for a slew of other things as well. I don't mean to sound like an idealistic bubble head; however, unemployment, infinite indebtedness and the like, were words that just didn't hit home with me.

However, times have changed.

When I left Michigan State University, I was one of a handful of journalism students to find a job shortly after graduation. There was no doubt that the journalism market already was stuffed to the gills. However, the market became even more closed as newspapers began falling to the wayside. Many of my fellow classmates took jobs unrelated to their majors — others never found jobs. Some stayed in school to try and find a more marketable field.

A friend who recently earned her degree in journalism told me the newspaper representative who came to her campus not only told the class that the field was swamped, but advised students to seek another major. The bottom line, he said, is there are no jobs.

For the "me" generation, this socio-economic group of Baby Boomers destined to live a better life than their parents, the reality of being shut-out of their chosen career paths is a bitter pill to swallow.

What's even more difficult to comprehend is the probability that we most likely won't live better than our parents — maybe not even as well.

Having held a full-time job for almost three years, my cumulative salary for that period finally has surpassed the cost of my college education. Once a compulsive miser, I now live from paycheck to paycheck — hoping I can stave off creditors until the next check comes in.

I know I'm not alone in my economic plight. One of my former college roommates told me that even with two incomes, she and her husband have to scrimp and save to bank $100 each month. Frankly, I cannot imagine maintaining a house and supporting a family. I figure my friends and colleagues who now are married and starting families must deal cocaine on the side to make ends meet.

Many will argue that the economic woes facing the "me" generation are no different from the plight of our grandparents during the Depression or our parents during the post-World War II years. However, society has become so complex that this up and coming generation has found itself caught between a rock and a hard place.

To complicate matters, we've been brought up on conflicting philosophies — those taught by our parents and those learned from the preceding generation of social reform advocates. Subsequently, we often are uncertain of which rules to play by.

Perhaps the improved economic outlook our national leaders have assured is "just around the corner" will offer the prospect of a brighter future to this generation of young Americans. But, if we continue on the same course, we may find it more appropriate to label ourselves the "why me?" generation.

Open season

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

She told me to be home early Sunday. She was being considerate.

"I want to eat no later than six o'clock so you have plenty of time to finish the dishes before 'The Thorn Birds' comes on at eight," she said.

"The Thorn Birds," in case you didn't know, is the latest of the stupendous mini-series which started with "Roots" and has included "Masada," something about Japan and, most recently, "Winds of War." It also happens to be the only book she's read before it was turned into a mini-series.

Just about the time I figured out that something which sounds like Tragoda is the name of the ranch — sort of like Tara or Southfork, only in Australia — she's giving me a run down on all the characters.

"That's Frank, the oldest son," she said. "He's going to run away and join a boxing team which fights at carnivals. He accidentally kills somebody and suffers a mental breakdown. I can't remember if we ever see him again or not."

"That's Meggie, short for Megan. She's only a little girl now, but she's going to grow up and fall in love with Richard Chamberlain. But he can't marry her even though he wants to because he's a priest. She's the only one of the children who survives and she eventually inherits (sounds like) Tragoda."

"That's Father Ralph," she continues, pointing to Chamberlain who's walking around in a clerical collar. "He falls in love with Meggie as soon as he sees her, but he's torn between his love for Meggie and his love for the church. He's also very ambitious and wants to be a cardinal."

"Barbara Stanwyck owns Tragoda; she's very wealthy and very powerful. And she's in love with Father Ralph, but he spurns her advances, even though she's powerful enough to exert a lot of influence on the church. The Catholics are very upset about the whole thing; it's really creating quite a stir."

And so it went throughout Sunday's episode. She seemed disappointed when I told her I wouldn't be able to see Monday's or Tuesday's episodes because of meeting conflicts. But she brightened right up when I made her promise to tell me everything that happens."

Former NHS student calls for stricter honors code

To the Editor:
Why has Northville High School substituted Webster's definition of a valedictorian for its own?

The dictionary says, "A student, usually of the highest scholastic standing, who delivers the farewell oration at commencement."

It does not say all the students with a 4.0 grade point average. Surely there is more to be examined when choosing a single individual of high academic achievement. What courses did the individual take? Did he/she contribute to the high school positively? There are all sorts of criteria that could be considered. That is not to say that all the students with a 4.0 should not be recognized in some way. They certainly have plenty to be proud of. But let's remember what a valedictorian is supposed to be in the first place: an individual representing high academic achievement.

Jaycees support plans to institute field day

To the Editor:

This letter is in support of the Community Field Day proposed by the recreation commission.

We of the Northville Jaycees are strongly committed to community participation in the July 4th celebration.

In our activities of the parade, barbecue and fireworks we enjoy great support and participation from the community. I think it is worth while to seek to extend that support to an event that would help our own recreation department programming.

Because of the other activities in which the Jaycees are involved on July 4th, it is necessary to draw the support from every other organization and individual if this worthwhile event is to succeed.

I encourage the recreation commission to pursue this activity. And I stand ready to offer andy support and help I can.

Yours in community spirit.

State hospital patients need donated clothing

To the Editor:

Dear Readers, Fish of Novi-Northville needs desperately ladies size 12 and size 16 clothing in good repair, as well as children's clothing in good condition.

As you know, there is a depression in Michigan, in spite of our president's optimism.

There are 1070 patients at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital, and they need large size ladies clothes (over size 40). Many of the patients there are what the papers are calling the New Poor — they are very depressed because of losing their jobs. They also need cards and other table games.

Fish also needs canned goods and washing detergent.

Please put your donations in a plastic bag with your name and address in order to get an acknowledgement of your donation, which you can use as a tax deduction.

Thank you for caring for many of our neighbors in Northville who are out of work. Donations may be put on the porch at 605 Grace.

Thank you for caring,
Shirley Matthews

Seat belt law debated

By GERALD LAW
State Representative

During the next several weeks, the issue of a mandatory seat belt law for Michigan will once again be debated in the Michigan House of Representatives. As your state representative, I will be casting my vote either in favor, or in opposition to, this proposal, and, I am looking for advice and input from my constituents.

The arguments against the bill are fairly clear. Some regard mandatory seat belt usage as an infringement on personal choice. Others view it as further government intrusion on our privacy. And many find seat belts just plain bothersome, confining and generally uncomfortable to wear. And of course, a lot of people believe that you can be killed wearing a seat belt just as easily.

However, the arguments I hear daily in favor of the bill are pretty convincing, too. In 1981, nearly 3,000 Michigan residents were killed in automobiles because they weren't wearing seatbelts. Another 200,000 were injured for the same reason. The Michigan Department of State Police also reports that of all the traffic fatalities during the 1981 holiday weekends of Memorial Day, the Fourth of July and Labor Day, not one of those killed was wearing a seatbelt.

The argument against mandatory seat belts maintaining that people are killed because they had their seat belts on, or would have been killed if they were strapped in is losing more credence in Lansing.

But there is one thing that everyone will agree on. The vote on mandatory seat belt legislation will involve much emotion, much reaction, and a flood of statistics... and mail. It will be a healthy debate, I am convinced.

Currently, 11 percent of all Michigan drivers use their seat belts. Last year, surveys reported that if a seat belt law was enacted, a full 60 percent of Michigan drivers would use them, whether they wanted to or not. If that were true, and if State Police statistics are accurate, that would mean that we could cut traffic fatalities by 50 percent annually.

But before you make up your minds, and before I make up mine, consider this final statistic. The U.S. Department of Transportation estimated that in 1980, over 50,000 people were killed and nearly four million were injured in highway accidents nationwide, with an economic loss — based on insurance costs, property damages, automobile damages, health care and loss of earning capacity — estimated to be $57.2 billion. Michigan share of the economic loss in 1980 was $2.43 billion.

I anticipate that everyone has strong feelings on the subject, and if they do not, they soon will. That is why I am asking you to drop me a post card and let me know what your reaction to this proposal might be. It is an extremely important question, and I would like to hear your answers.

State to give travel awards

William McLaughlin of Northville, chairperson for the Michigan Travel Commission, has announced that advance tickets are now available for Michigan's 10th annual Governor's Ambassador/Embassy of Tourism Awards luncheon.

Governor James J. Blanchard will present the awards to recipients at the luncheon and awards program May 18, at the Marriott Inn in Ann Arbor.

Tickets are $10 per person and may be purchased from the Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce.

Fingerprinting program a Rotary, PTA project

To the Editor:

Gee... Brian Crook and I really appreciate our picture in the paper and giving us all the credit for the idea for fingerprinting youngsters. However, maybe we can help you out.

The Northville Rotary Club and specifically Bill Tomczyk came up with the idea. Bill enlisted the aid of Lieutenant Harry Reed and Sergeant Ed Davis, two of his staff members from the Northville State Police Post.

For the Rotary, Milt Jacobi, Brian and I agreed to head the program.

Milt, who is the principal of Winchester School, has his P.T.A. group willing to help to do the actual fingerprinting. This is our test school.

We, the Rotary, were taught the finger-printing process, and in turn we will teach others.

The Rotary has purchased the finger-printing equipment, and we will pay for ink, paper and cleaning supplies.

The finger-printing is on a voluntary basis. The finger-print forms will be given back to the parents for their safe-keeping. No one else will keep a copy.

The Northville School District will be covered. However, we are requesting any other school in the Northville area that is interested in the program, please contact me at 349-4650 from 9 a.m. to noon or from 1-5 p.m.

Thank you again.

Sincerely,
Wesley R. Henrikson, Jr.

News from Lansing

By R. ROBERT GEAKE
State Senator

As the state and U.S. economy hints at recovery, many potential Michigan home buyers and home repairers will be given a nudge toward helping it along. To encourage first-time homebuyers and fixer-uppers, the Michigan State Housing Development Authority is offering new low-interest loans for these purposes.

MSHDA, an authority formed by the Legislature in 1966 to make such loans available to low and moderate-income families through the sale of bonds to private investors is now offering 9.9 percent mortgages and home repair loans for as low as 3 percent interest.

The mortgages will be made available, first-come first-serve, to 2,000 moderate income families. These fixed-rate loans with 30-year terms may be the best deal around right now for those in the middle-income range. That 9.9 percent compares pretty favorably to the 12.75 percent average for standard fixed-rate mortgages.

Mortgages for new homes will be offered to borrowers whose annual income does not exceed $27,216 plus $4,000 in overtime. For used home buyers, the income limit is $23,000 plus $4,000 in overtime.

The maximum sales price on the new homes is $70,000 and $36,000 on used ones. The loans are being financed through an $80 million bond sale by MSHDA. The authority originally planned to sell only $60 million worth, but they increased it when the sale received "AAA" rating — the highest given any bond issue for single-family homes.

The loans will be 30-year, fixed term mortgages with no "balloon" payments. A minimum down payment of 5 percent will be required. (When the down payment is that low, however, private mortgage insurance will be necessary). The MSHDA loans will be made to those persons who have not owned a house in the last three years.

MSHDA is also making low-interest loans available to those low to moderate-income families who already have a home but need to fix it up. The money, which can be used for a variety of home improvements, offers rates from 3 to 14 percent, depending on income.

These loans are available to people with annual household incomes of $15,999 or less, after subtracting $750 for each member of the household. In certain target areas — where more home improvement is needed — the maximum income has been raised to $23,999. They can be used for one-family to four-family homes, as long as the borrower lives there as his primary residence.

There are no quotas or allocations by area for either of these loans, although certain exceptions will be made in "economically troubled" target areas, most of which are in the Detroit vicinity.

If you are interested in obtaining mortgage or home repair loan through the MSHDA plan, you'll be dealing directly through the bank or mortgage company. To get started with the initial information you need, call MSHDA at 373-6840 or 373-8016.

Wayne County plan passed

A final plan for reorganization of Wayne County government was accepted by the county commission March 24, more than three months earlier than required by the new charter.

County Executive William Lucas submitted the revised plan for adoption. According to the charter, Lucas had 90 days from January 1 to submit a plan, and the commission 90 days thereafter to approve or reject it. The procedure could have lasted through June.

Essentially, the plan reduces county departments from 22 to six, eliminates several other county boards and commissions and establishes two line offices, each headed by an assistant county executive.

Pom Pon team sixth in Silverdome finals

Winners abounded at the Pontiac's Silverdome during the Detroit Pistons 103-99 overtime victory over Central Division leader Milwaukee on March 18.

In addition to the Pistons' good fortune, Northville's outstanding pom pon team made it into the varsity finals as one of eight finalist pom pon teams from around the state competing in the 1983 Detroit Pistons' Fourth Annual Pom Pon Championships. The night before, in a two-day competition among 76 other teams in the state Northville had won a finalist spot.

Howell won the team championships by edging Mount Clemens Clintondale (second) and Saginaw St. Peter and Paul (third).

The Orange and Black of Northville was represented well as the Mustang Pom Pon team finished sixth, narrowly losing out to fourth-place Bloomfield Hills Lahser and fifth-place Flint Ainsworth. Dearborn Heights Crestwood finished seventh while Marysville completed the field with an eighth-place finish.

Northville's squad is made up of captains Carolyn Dragon and Laura Santos, plus team members Kim Dalessandro, Angie Goudreau, Pam Stevens, Kim Nelke, Alsha Hickman, Lisa Szymula, Kim May, Chris Hanson, Michelle Bryson and Maren Rosmorduc.

This year's competition drew 76 schools with preliminary rounds spread over two nights and the top four teams coming back from each prelim-session to participate in the finals.

The top eight squads received trophies and the top four place winners also received cash prizes for their schools.

Parson to Person...

"The Glorious Guarantee"

Dr. James Luther

Nearly everything we buy today carries some sort of guarantee. This is helpful in understanding the resurrection, for in it God gave three great guarantees.

The resurrection guarantees our Savior. He is "...declared to be the Son of God with power, by the resurrection from the dead" (Rom. 1:4). In other words, He is all he claimed to be!

The resurrection also guarantees our Salvation. Faith would be worthless, if it rested in a dead savior. Paul explained: "If Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain (worthless), and your faith is vain, you are yet in your sins" (I Cor. 15: 14, 17).

Finally, the resurrection of Christ guarantees our resurrection. "As in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive" (I Cor. 15: 20-23). HE HAS RISEN, AND SO SHALL WE!

Receive God's great gift of Jesus Christ, His Son, and receive with that gift God's great guarantees. Do it now and enjoy a wonderful Easter.

Join us this Sunday for our Easter Sunrise Service at the park (6:30 a.m.), free breakfast at the church (7:30 a.m.), and our morning service of 11:00. A special drama/cantata will be given at 7:30 on Sunday Evening. Don't miss it! It is the story of THE CENTURION who put Christ to death.

Wayne County passes Lucas' alteration plan

Earlier in March, the commission rejected Lucas' original plan, requesting a report on cost estimates which was provided last week prior to the 14-1 vote to accept the plan. Under the charter, the commission could only accept or reject, not alter, the plan.

Commission chairman William Suzore said adoption of the reorganizing plan "clears the decks for other business of the county."

One of the two line offices in the plan is the Office of Health and Community Services, encompassing County General Hospital, medical examiner, cooperative extension service, department of health and divisions responsible for air pollution and respiratory disease control.

The other line agency, an Office of Public Services, would consolidate the Road Commission services, drain commission and department of public works under one authority. Voters would have to approve charter amendments to bring this part of the plan to reality.

The plan provides for winning voter approval to eliminate the office of drain commission and the three-member board of road commissioners.

Lucas earlier tried to dismiss the road commissioners serving now, and named his own appointees, but the attempt was disputed and is expected to be heard in circuit court next month.

Other aspects of the reorganization plan:

— Create a department of management and budget, headed by a chief financial officer responsible for administering county finances, preparation of the budget, purchasing services and property assessment.

— Establish a department of human resources with responsibility for personnel, labor relations, including civil service management and equal opportunity coordination.

— Form a department of information processing in charge of developing and applying advanced technical information systems.

— Restructure the office of corporation counsel handling all legal services to county departments and agencies and human relations activity related to contract compliance and discriminatory practices.

A better mousetrap!

Lyon township resident's inventions range from mousetraps to post hole diggers

By CINDY HOOGASIAN

Allan Ostervik is a man with new ideas, and the resources to back them.

"I've been in inventions for 15 years," said the Lyon Township resident, who has been featured in such national publications as Saturday Evening Post and U.S. News and World Report.

Finding new and easier ways to perform tedious or unpleasant tasks are the stuff from which inventions are made. Ostervik is confident that the current economic conditions will plant the seeds for new inventions in the minds of people like himself.

"That's one good thing about bad times such as these," Ostervik said. "People begin to think of new products. They get some creative ideas. They try to come up with new ways to make money." Ostervik added that the main problem is finding an investor to transform a great idea to a new product.

He hopes to provide that link, transforming concepts to realities for would-be inventors.

"I'm creating another company to give investors a way to properly expose their product to a market," Ostervik said. "There is always a market for a good product."

Ostervik should know about marketing ideas. He is the creator of tilt-up construction, whereby exterior concrete building walls are poured on the ground and tilted up into place, ready for use. Ostervik said a building in the South Lyon area was constructed the tilt-up way.

A joint effort between Ostervik and local developer Dick Benson produced the Aerobic Septic System, which introduces air into the septic tank to keep the effluent churned up. The system has been approved by the State of Michigan and many have been sold and installed, Ostervik said.

This man of ideas puts his money behind them. Ostervik, along with about 99 others, is a shareholder in Kaiser Concepts, a Milford company headquartered on East Huron.

Ostervik said one new product is expected to generate $3-$4 million for Kaiser Concepts this year. That product is the Clean-Kill Mousetrap. Ostervik believes the Clean-Kill Mousetrap is the best mousetrap on the market.

It is unique because one never needs to see or touch the dead rodent. The Clean-Kill Mousetrap is a plastic, cave-like unit which contains a rear-wall mounted spring. The mouse is lured into the cave-like trap by a special non-poisonous bait placed on a wick inside the trap. When the rodent takes the bait, the spring snaps, killing the mouse. When a small plastic lever which sets the trap is close to the back of the trap, it indicates that the trap has been released.

Getting rid of the dead mouse is simple, Ostervik said. Either throw the whole trap away, or pull the knob on the back of the unit to dispose of the rodent. The trap can be reused numerous times, Ostervik said.

The patented product was five years in development, Ostervik explained. The better mousetrap has been featured on several television programs, he claims. Currently, the Clean-Kill trap is available in major chain stores nationally, including Frank's Nursery, Kroger, K-Mart and ACO, Ostervik said. A national television advertising campaign for the product will be launched in early 1983, he added. Next in the Clean-Kill line is a rat trap, which Ostervik said should be marketed next year.

Another unusual item which received Ostervik's support is the Bag Biter, which ends the need to keep track of twist ties for plastic bags. The Bag Biter, Ostervik said, is a handy tool which tapes any size plastic bag closed. Kaiser Concepts is the international sales representative for the Bag Biter, a Swiss invention. Ostervik said it will be available in the next Amway catalog. Ostervik said he is introducing two new patented products to Kaiser Concepts. One was developed by a Kaiser Concepts investor, the other Ostervik developed with Lyon Township native Jim Peters.

The Can-Do Post Hole Digger "does twice the work in half the time with half the dirt," Ostervik said. Operating the post-hole digger is easy. Two shovel-like implements are mounted on the ends of long posts. To dig a hole up to 42 inches deep, the shovels are stuck in the ground and the handles are pushed inward, toward one another, crossing over. Pull up on the handles and the dirt is removed from the hole.

"You end up with a narrower hole than you would have digging a post hole by conventional methods," Ostervik said. "This lets you dig down 42 inches with an insignificant difference in the diameter of the hole from the top to the bottom."

Peters and Ostervik have invented log grapples which can be mounted on any small or large tractor.

"The log grapples are easy to install and are affordable for the smallest business person," Ostervik said. "The grapples attach to the rear of a tractor. They grip a log, elevate it and drag it on one point only to its destination."

"The advantage to this is that the log doesn't pick up a lot of dirt, which usually collects on the bottom of logs which are dragged by a chain behind a vehicle."

Ostervik said this method of

Ricky's tops

Ricky Abramovich was one of the youngest carriers in The Northville Record delivery area when he took over a neighbor's route 2½ years ago. A student at Moraine Elementary, he's now a sixth grader and almost 12 years old. He's also won the title of Carrier of the Month for March, earning it with a reputation as a faithful carrier who receives few complaints from the 82 subscribers on his route in Lexington Condos at Eight Mile and Taft roads. He previously has won prizes for his work, including a trip to Toronto. The son of Ronald and Carolyn Abramovich, he is pictured with his mother as he receives his carrier award plaque and a $25 check. Ricky says he has help from his sisters Laura, 13, and Sheri, 9, as well as his mother in delivering the route so that he can get to Wednesday choir practice at Our Lady of Victory Church. Sekan was chairman of the association's Legislative Committee in 1982. This past year he served on the Legislative Committee as well as the Specification/Bituminous Road Construction Committee.

He is secretary/treasurer of the Michigan Asphalt Paving Association and director of the Asphalt Recycling and Reclaiming Association.

The MRBA serves over 350 firms involved in road, bridge, tunnel and airport construction work throughout the state. It provides services to its members, including information on business-related issues and legislation, assistance with employee relations and public relations.

JERRY'S BARBER SHOP is now open for business in the Novi Plaza at the corner of Ten Mile and Meadowbrook roads in Novi. Featured are old-fashioned haircuts, shaves and shoe shines as well as hair styling.

The shop is owned by Jerry Sheridan, who has been cutting hair for 20 years. Other barbers at Jerry's Barber Shop are Gordon Yagoda and John Meyers.

"We're the only pure barber shop in Novi," said Sheridan. "There are other salons and hair-styling shops, but we're the only place where a guy can go to get an old-fashioned haircut, shave and a shoe shine."

Jerry's Barber Shop is open Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sheridan stresses the fact that the shop is open Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.

"There are a lot of professional people in the area who don't get off work until 5 p.m. and can only get their hair cut on the weekends," explained Sheridan. "By staying open till 8 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, we hope to provide service to men who want to keep their weekends free for other things than getting their hair cut."

Sheridan also said the late hours on Thursday and Friday give families an opportunity to get their children's hair cut so the weekends can be left free for family activities.

Sheridan, a New Hudson resident, attends Holy Family Church in Novi. He and his wife Janice have two children: Kevin, 6, and Carrie, 5. Jerry's Barber Shop is located at 41539 Ten Mile between Jack's Meat Store and the Ah Wok restaurant.

Inventions keep him busy transporting logs reduces the amount of dirt imbedded in the bark, in turn reducing the need for chain saw replacement.

"Sales of this product are predicated on a market of smaller business people with less intense needs, for example those in the firewood business," Ostervik said. He said a large log hauler costs $30,000 to $50,000. His product is expected to be available by fall.

"Anybody can make something that's expensive," Ostervik remarked, "but that limits the market. In order to serve the greatest amount of consumers, you have to put out a product that's within everyone's price range."

"The secret is developing a unique, useful product at a reasonable price, which everybody can afford. Then you've got a success."

Peters and Ostervik are also developing a multiple log splitter. One blow will split a log in as many as 12 pieces. The conventional method of log splitting is much more time and energy consuming, Ostervik said.

"I consider myself an expert in the field of inventions," said the civil engineer who is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. "I'm always looking for inventions and investments."

Ostervik makes his living in contracting, commercial roofing and concrete works. His office is in Bloomfield Hills. Ostervik welcomes inquiries about his products and said he is interested in people with new ideas. He can be reached at 646-1234.

Overbearing Or A Tribute to the Excellent Character Of Myself, By General Alexander Haig (Sung to the tune of "Over There")

Over-bearing,
Over-bearing,
Oh I swear
This is not a "red-herring";
For I'm not the monster
That others foster,
I'm really a very nice guy!

Over-bearing?
Au contrary!
I am really
A fellow who's caring;
Just because I told
You "I'm in control,"
You think I have power in mind!

Over-bearing?
Do be wary!
I admit
There's a side that is scary;
And I'd nuke the Commies
For U.S. mommies,
For I love my mom's apple pie!

Overbear?
It's unfair!
I was bounced
Just because I had flair!
But the checks keep coming,
The checks keep coming,
And I'm gonna make a mint
When I put myself in print...

I might even learn to talk,
If my Haig-ese doesn't balk...

And if ever I despair,
I can always overbear!

Shattered Dreams

You find a life's partner, one you can love,
That makes you feel like you're in heaven
above,
You think life is grand in about every way,
You can hardly wait for that wonderful day.

The day when you marry that girl so divine,
And wonder why they say love is sure blind.
Then comes the kids each a joy to your heart,
You work long hours just to give them a start.

Trying to give them the things you never had,
Thinking maybe they will think you're a pretty good dad.
But the more that you give the more they demand,
Till your prospective has gotten way out of hand.

They take it for granted though they've went their own way,
That you should give in to whatever they say.
If they need money or favors, they just have to ask,
Though you have given it all right down to the last.

And now you are broke and have not long to live,
They still hold out their hand, still want you to give.
If you have nothing to give they are angry with you,
It is really quite sad, though it's really quite true.

And the one that you loved and started life with,
Will side with the kids and continue to give.
Till you become bitter and can't take anymore,
And just turn your back, and walk out the door.

So the moral of it all, give with love what you can,
But never give in to the things they demand.
I suppose from the beginning you surely have known,
I was talking about others and not of my own.

Confucius Say

Confucius told his mother—when just a little squirt,
"Mom, there's nothing quite as handy as a pocket in a shirt."

Now, a week without a Sunday is a very silly thing.
It's just about as crazy as a year without a spring.

A bird without some feathers is something to deplore,
Tho it isn't any stranger than a room without a door.

But of all the idiotic things the mind can contemplate;
a shirt without a pocket sure does take the nutty cake.

PJ

Dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. Dragon, their daughter Kristen)

Out of the blue
And into the black
The pain is hard
But he won't come back

He was a sweet little cutie
With gorgeous blonde hair
Pretty as a picture
It's just not fair

Leukemia was his fate of death
Which took this child's little breath
He was teased a lot, so they say
They would have probably teased him to this day

Now that he's gone
It won't be the same
With PJ it was real
To the kids that teased him, just a game

He lost his life at eight years of age
He even made it in the Free Press with his picture on the page
So puff the magic dragon who lives by the sea
Should know that his spirit is flying high and free

G.L. Howe

A Tired Warrior

A brave and his pony all painted for war
Tired and saddened by the horror he saw
With head tilted back and his lance at a slant
He called the Great Spirit with a sad Indian chant

With both palms facing upward he raised both his hands
What price must we pay to protect all our lands
They come in great numbers, too many to fight
Help me Great Spirit to do what is right
They disgrace many women, many children die
With this gun he calls cannon bringing death from the sky

They have many ponies and carry long knives
With the horn that plays music many braves lose their lives

My people go hungry, our numbers grow low
We cannot survive without buffalo
We lived once in warmth now we die where it's cold

Buffalo gone, now he kills us for gold
Are both nations so different that he wants us all dead
Can there be that much difference between white skin and red

I ask you for wisdom, this gift will you give
Show us this land where my people can live
In the fields that are fertile we will plant much corn

Let hatred and killing end at this place — Little Big Horn
He finished his prayer with tears in his eyes
And now, this brave and his pony, ride free in the skies.

Season's Mold

Burgundy, Gold Chartreuse, and Green, colors in this fantastic scene.
All in Mother natures bouquet,
I get high in a spiritual way.
But soon to follow is bitter cold, begins to form our season's mold.

As colors turn a rusty brown, spooks and goblins all around,
beggars saying trick or treat,
Kids think this is real neat.

Thanksgiving our big Holiday, we really put the food away.
Turkey, Potatoes and cranberry sauce,
The family is hungry theres never a loss.

Christmas time we have to run,
to see that all the shoppings done.
We bake and cook till half past three,
to try to please the family.

New Year's Eve we toast a cheer
Then bring in the brand new year.
Resolutions that we make,
Some we keep some we break.

The next two months are really slow,
The days drag by the budgets low,
Then the rain beats on the earth,
getting ready for new birth.

Mating calls are all around,
in the trees and on the ground.
Chitter chatter from the squirrels,
The boys are chasing after girls.

The buds are now full blossomed trees,
Hives are buzzing with the Bees.
Swimming, picnics, baseball fun.
Summer is here we're on the run.

Planting gardens for food on hand, getting jars ready for food to be canned.
Rest a few weeks, wait for the crop.
Picking canning no time to stop.

Boy I am sure glad when Indian Summer is here
Because that is my favorite time of the year.

Deal

If I had a million bucks
I'd buy the world a meal.
But I guess I'm out of luck
And must make you a deal.

I'll do all the good I can,
As much as I can do.
You do everything for man
As far as you can too.

In the end we'll count the deeds
And tally up the score.
My guess is, the one who leads
Will want to do much more.

Make memories with these Easter feasts

Easter is indeed a day for celebration. Spring is in bloom and family and friends gather to share the joy of this special holiday. Since Easter is known as the "feast of feasts," it's fitting that the highlight of the day be a gala meal featuring a parade of fabulous foods.

For centuries, tradition has called for the Easter menu to center around an impressive, full-flavored ham. Just right for today's tempo is a boneless, fully-cooked ham that needs only to be heated through before serving. Because this modern ham comes in a wide range of sizes, you'll find one just right for your Easter table. To serve the ham with flavor accents as refreshing as the season, top with a cinnamon-spiced pear glaze that hints of mint.

In keeping with the festive spirit of the day, delight young and old alike with Pear Bunny Salads. Whimsical bunnies, easily fashioned from canned Bartlett pear halves, are poised on individual servings of lime gelatin that pick up added taste and texture from chopped pears and crisp, fresh vegetables. The quality and convenience of canned Bartlett pears make this salad an ideal choice for your holiday menu.

To cap the feast in spectacular style, bring on a festive "center piece" dessert, Chocolate Easter Egg Cake. It's extra-luscious since it features a very rich, deep chocolate cake crowned with creamy chocolate frosting. The holiday cook with an eye for convenience as well as economy will appreciate that both the cake and frosting are made with unsweetened cocoa; it's ready to use, right from the can, eliminating the need to melt down solid squares. And cocoa goes farther than baking chocolate, saving one-third the cost of this ingredient.

MINT GLAZED HAM

Seven to 10-pound boneless "fully-cooked" smoked ham
Three-quarters cup pear syrup (reserved from Pear Bunny Salads)
One-half cup light corn syrup
One-eighth teaspoon ground cinnamon
Two teaspoons EACH cornstarch, water and snipped mint leaves

Place ham on rack in open roasting pan. Insert meat thermometer so bulb is centered in thickest part. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (325 degrees) until the meat thermometer registers 130-140 degrees (allow approximately 15-18 minutes per pound). Combine pear syrup with corn syrup and cinnamon, cook slowly

10-12 minutes. Dissolve cornstarch in water; stir into syrup. Bring to a boil and cook four to five minutes. Reduce heat, stir in mint and continue cooking two to three minutes. Brush glaze over ham 20 minutes before end of cooking time.

PEAR BUNNY SALADS

One can (29 ounces) Bartlett pear halves
One package (three ounces) lime-flavored gelatin
One-and-one-quarter cups water
Three tablespoons white wine vinegar
Dash salt
One-half cup finely shredded cabbage
One-quarter cup EACH shredded carrot and minced celery
Decorations: raisins, six split whole blanched almonds, very thin carrot strips, four marshmallows, halved.

Home's a boat in Florida for ex-resident Carol Small

By JEAN DAY

Many Northville residents have retired to Florida, but one of the community's younger residents has moved to there to live in the sun. The former Carol Dyer and her husband Rick Small are making their home at Madeira Beach literally on the water.

Pinned

Lena Bogart, who joined Northville Woman's Club in 1932 when the club was 40 years old, was honored at the final meeting of the year with the presentation of her 50-year pin from President Phyllis Slattery. Looking on, from left, rear, were Clara Eastland, also a life member; and Lois Winters, who was elected president at the luncheon meeting at First Presbyterian Church. Rosella Lee, who was out of town, also became a 50-year member. Record photo by Steve Fecht.

EPIPHANY LUTHERAN

Epiphany Lutheran is located on Five Mile Road between I-275 and Bradner.

Carol's mother, Gerry Dodds, has just returned from a visit and relates that their home is a boat, with teak fittings, carpeting and kitchen complete with microwave and stereo. Carol, she adds, has made the boat into a real home, sewing 17 pairs of draperies and upholstering the L-shaped sofa in matching blue.

The boat sleeps six; so there was ample room for Mrs. Dodds and her son John Dyer. They went south on his spring break from Western Michigan University from which he expects to receive his bachelor's degree in psychology this December.

John's sister Carol sells for Pitney Bowes and was transferred from the Lansing office to the Clearwater office in Florida. She and Rick have been married for five years; he manages an office in Clearwater for a chemical company.

Sanibel Island shell show drew local residents

Gerry Dodds left the family for a weekend to take in the annual shell show at Sanibel Island which, she reports, draws people from all over the country. She has a condo on the beach at Sanibel and says she is a real shell person with "shells in every room in my house."

She adds that she has wanted to attend the shell show, which has an international reputation, for a long time. This was the 46th annual show of "gifts from the sea." It was held March 3-6 and attracted thousands of people, both amateur and professional, who pursue the hobby. Mrs. Dodds reports, recommending it enthusiastically. Shell collectors, called conchologists, compete for many prizes that include best of show, most artistic collections and most original shell creations. The island itself is famous for the shells that wash up on its beaches.

Another Northville shell collector who attended the show was Elva Miller. She has collected so long, however, that she says she didn't buy at the show as she has "more than I need." She and her husband John have returned after spending six weeks at a Sanibel Island townhouse. They have vacationed there for many years.

Still at Sanibel are the George Millers. Emily Miller also is a shell collector.

Former resident married in Florida

From Cape Coral, Florida, there's news of a former resident's marriage last Thanksgiving time. Mrs. Peggy Smith, who was the widow of Harry B. Smith, a former teacher and principal in the Northville Public Schools, was married November 30 to Joseph J. Lucey of Cape Coral.

He is retired from the New York Telephone Company and formerly lived in Baldwin, Long Island, New York. Both have resided in Cape Coral for 14 years and plan to continue to live there.

Baskets, flowers combine

Little girls look forward to receiving candy from the Easter bunny, but when they grow up flowers often are more fun.

Northville Gallery of Flowers announces it has a winning combination of the Easter basket and the Easter bouquet.

The gallery, which is marking its fifth year in business in Northville this month, is arranging a collection of fresh spring flowers in a keepsake egg basket, termed "a decorative addition to any home."

Kris Broderick, owner of the Northville Gallery of Flowers, says, "Our Teleflora Egg Basket Bouquet is quite a gift. It combines a variety of spring's freshest flowers in a wire egg basket gift container. It's as pretty as the flowers themselves."

After the flowers are gone, she adds, the basket can be used year-round to store eggs, ripen fruit or nestle a plant.

She suggests ordering flowers as many days as possible before Easter. Northville Gallery of Flowers reports it can send floral orders around the corner, or around the country.

The gallery located in a blue Victorian house in downtown Northville at 355 East Main is open Monday through Thursday from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.; Friday to 6:30 p.m. and Saturday to 5 p.m. All major credit cards are accepted.

Their Gibson Girl hats are benefit decorations

Sheets of colored poster board, tissue paper, scraps of lace, netting and ribbons in the hands of a group of Northville women became decorative Gibson Girl hats at a recent work bee.

"Everybody used her imagination," explains Sharon Lang, who instructed her Delta Zeta alumnae sisters in making the hat decorations for the sorority's upcoming April 30 benefit.

The Gibson Girl hats the women made were about full-size, she mentions, but adds that the design could be scaled down to miniature easily.

Using green, blue and yellow paper the women cut a large circle first with cut-out for crown. Next a strip was cut long enough to make the band for the crown. Then a smaller circle was cut for the crown. The band was cut wide enough to flange an edge narrowly and glue to the brim; then the crown likewise was flanged to the band.

Pastel ribbons and netting in pinks and lavenders trimmed the band. Decorative flowers were made of the colored tissue paper to complete the hats.

The hats created will be used as table decorations at the Metro Detroit Delta Zeta Alumnae annual benefit for the Detroit Hearing and Speech Center. The alumnae are hosting the 13th annual Flame Fantasy Benefit. Theme of this year's luncheon-fashion show is "Hats off to Spring."

Peggy Tsoucaris-Butler of Northville will be toastmistress for the event while Mrs. Lang is handling publicity. Marianne Sinclair is in charge of the hat decorations, and Linda Clark, a new Northville resident, is in charge of door prizes.

The women are hoping to create local interest in the benefit. Tickets are $11.50. Reservations should be made this week with local members or Pam Cronenwett. At the luncheon a weekend for two at the Grand Hotel on Mackinac Island will be awarded. Prizes also include a folk art flag plaque, one of the country folk art pieces which Mrs. Clark and her husband Kevin make and sell.

Neighbors

It's especially because families come to us during their most difficult times that we feel our responsibility so deeply. We've formed some very close friendships here and after being a part of this community for so many years, our commitment to its people is stronger than ever.

Just as our own families know they can count on the support and friendship of our neighbors, we're proud that families here know they can feel confident in the services we provide.

PTA-PTSA News

Elementary schools start spring planting projects

EDITOR'S NOTE: The monthly Northville PTA-PTSA News, which appears the last Wednesday of each month September through June, is compiled for Northville Public Schools by volunteer Linda Handyside. She is responsible for coordinating material from the publicity persons in each elementary and junior high school.

In addition, Carole Litzelman of Our Lady of Victory's Parent-Teacher Organization compiles information about OLV's activities.

AMERMAN

At the third annual Founders Day Banquet of the Northville Area PTA Council on March 17, the two Amerman honorees were Mrs. Virginia Kricitz and Mrs. Jean Hansen. Mrs. Kricitz was honored for her caring and nurturing of our kindergarten students entering their school careers and for her own continuing education goals. Mrs. Hansen was recognized for her Amerman PTA activities and her extended efforts as a Northville Board of Education member.

On March 22, the PTA sponsored a program on home computers. The program featured a slide/talk presentation by M. Lou Wichert and Regina Bowden, educational consultants and media specialists, who gave pointers on features to look for to meet our home computer needs. Several local computer dealers also exhibited and demonstrated their equipment and also answered questions. In addition, Jim Honey, fifth grade teacher, and some of his students demonstrated Amerman's Commodore PET computer, showing how this computer is used in the classroom.

The Schoolcraft College Gymnastics Team gave a demonstration March 23 at Amerman. Their appearance was sponsored by the JES programs.

Once again it is time for our special AM-A-GRAM issue compiled completely of student articles. All students have until tomorrow, March 31, to turn in articles. The article can be a poem, short story, drawing, editorial, cartoon, word game, riddle or book report.

Amerman's fifth grade students have again been offered the opportunity to participate in Camp Ohyesa for a three-day spring camping trip in April. Information has been sent home with each student and plans are being made for this great outdoor experience.

The PTA nominating committee is hard at work setting up a slate of officers for the next PTA year. The nominees will be reported at the next PTA meeting, with elections set for the April meeting. All of the standing committees that carry out the PTA services, projects and fund raising activities will be appointed and organized. Anyone interested in serving as a chairperson or volunteer for any of the committees may call Darlene Ursel.

On April 26 at 7:30 p.m., the Amerman PTA will be sponsoring a special program entitled "Children — What Causes Them Stress and What Can We Do About It." The program will include three speakers: Mrs. Virginia Baumgartner, a Northville schools' social worker; Mrs. Patricia Atkinson, an Amerman teacher, and Matt Rohr, a recent graduate of the University of Michigan who headed the Peer Counseling Office there. This program is open to the public and will be followed by dessert and coffee.

MORAINE

Moraine students are looking forward to their annual Spring Carnival which always precedes Easter vacation. This year's carnival, scheduled for tomorrow afternoon, features a cartoon theme. A poster contest will be held to get the spirit going for this all-school event. A foot-long hotdog lunch is planned for the day of the carnival. Jackie Burkowski, the PTA chairperson, reports that tickets for games or food will cost 20 cents each or 11 for $2.

Moraine's playground should soon begin to take on a new look. PTA representative Ali McKay reports plans for a playground work bee some Saturday in April. Parent volunteers will be distributing sand and wood chips as the first step toward improving the play area. More details on this event will be forthcoming.

PTA Fundraising Chairperson Wendy Drost reports a profit of $2,500 from last month's seed and bulb sale. Those products should be arriving in plenty of time for spring planting.

On the evening of March 24, Moraine students and parents had an opportunity to join forces to create their own kites, beginning at 7 p.m. in Moraine's gym.

Mrs. Judy Higbee's class of fourth and fifth graders already is looking ahead to May, when they will be spending a week attending school in Mill Race Village. Students will be wearing costumes of the times of the 1800s and studying that time period by participating in a variety of crafts and activities appropriate to that period of history.

Happy Easter! School resumes after vacation on April 11.

SILVER SPRINGS

Looking for a fun morning? The Silver Springs Annual Talent Show will be held from 10-11:30 a.m. today in the gym. Talent Show Supervisors Chris Modrack and Jan Henderson report that the try-outs are progressing well. Acts will include singing, dancing, mime, musical instruments, skits, etc.

PTA volunteers Sharon Rossow and Betty Smojver report the Young Author's Program is well under way. Sharon and Betty's committee of volunteer parents has met and compiled books with Mervie Hines. The committee is in the process of typing and gluing the books and readying them for illustrations. Meanwhile, our illustrious authors are busy writing manuscripts. A large turnout has been reported and many more are expected. The program will continue through tomorrow.

During the month of April, we are honored to have the Southfield Choralaires perform for the student body April 13. The Choralaires are directed by one of our new parents, Dave Jorlet. April 14 is the date student report cards will be sent home. The next PTA board meeting will be held at 9:30 a.m. April 19. All parents are welcome to attend.

The Silver Springs Student Council is sponsoring four special spirit days between March and the end of the school year. Thursday, March 24, was "Tacky/Mix and Match Day" and we are looking forward to "Hat and Button Day" April 20. Other special days this year will be "Fifties Day" to be held May 23 and "Preppie Day" to be held June 10. The Student Council also is busy with the selection process for a new logo and name for the "Newsletter." They have held a contest for their fellow students to submit ideas and drawings. In the near future, they will select the best ideas and hold a school-wide election for final selection of a new Silver Springs' logo and newspaper name.

It's Spring! The Grounds Committee is looking for flowering shrubs to grace the main entrance of the school. If you are aware of a source for the shrubs or are willing to lend a hand, please call the office. Committee Chairperson Sue Stinson is busy ordering plants for the May Plant Sale. Look for flyers which will be going home to parents so they can make their selections for bedding plants for their Spring gardens.

The 1983 Spelling Bee winner is sixth grader Chris Julien. The runner-up is fifth grader Melissa Petro. Chris will be representing Silver Springs in an area spelling bee before April 15. The area and district contests are sponsored by Lawrence Institute of Technology and the Detroit News. Congratulations Chris and Melissa!

On March 1, 54 fifth and sixth grade students participated in a mathematics contest sponsored by the Michigan Mathematics League, Inc. The names of the five students with top scores will be sent to the state for inclusion in the 1983 contest. Top scorers are Eric Fogel, Chris Julien, Eric Rossing, April Rice and Peter Pado. The results of the state-wide contest will be announced in mid-May.

Chairperson Marlene Kunz announces that the Campbell Soup Label Program was the largest ever. Thanks to the parents fine job in collecting labels, we were able to collect more labels than last year. The staff will be selecting equipment, purchased with the labels, for use in each classroom.

The March JES program was an exciting demonstration provided by the Detroit Science Center. Two assemblies were held on March 23 for our students' enjoyment. JES offerings this year will include "Poemsicles" which will be performed by "Other Things and Company."

The Silver Springs PTA nominating committee is busy setting up a slate of officers for next year. Anyone interested in working on a committee should contact Linda Handyside.

WINCHESTER

It's been a busy time for upper elementary students at Winchester. Each classroom has been selecting its representatives for the upcoming PTA sponsored Spelling Bee. In addition, the fifth and sixth graders viewed the Human Growth films March 28, after their parents had a chance to preview them March 24. On March 16, these students also visited the Meads Mill Science Fair and now are inspired to begin their own entries for Winchester's fair. The boys in fourth, fifth and sixth grade invited their moms to a Square Dance March 24 and also met a representative from the Michigan Panthers at this Mother-Son Evening. Fourth graders soon will be making beautiful music as they begin using recorders in Ann Jarvi's music classes to prepare for next year's instrumental music program.

On March 11, students enjoyed an ice cream sundae treat as a reward for reaching their goal in the Campbell Soup Label contest. Purchases from this contest, including playground items, books, Speak and Math, and wooden blocks, soon will be in the building. Thanks go to Nancy Wood for chairing this project. A Cartoon Carnival was held March 11 with proceeds going towards the camping trip for Donna Hicks' and Kathryn Devendorf's students.

Congratulations to our kindergarten authors. Each student in Carole Schaal's classroom wrote and published an original book with the assistance of Mary Najarian's fourth and fifth grade class. Kindergarten mothers helped with the typing, binding and illustrating process. The morning class culminated this project with an Author's Party March 4, where several student works were read and the new authors enjoyed punch and cookies.

Winchester's resident photographer, principal Milt Jacobl, took snapshots of the event. These and other photographic highlights of Winchester activities can be seen on the "Wall of Fame" bulletin board in the main hall.

Winchester PTA was pleased to honor fifth grade teacher Bill Lenz and citizen Lee Bauman at this year's Founders Day Banquet. Lee was cited for her participation on several citizens' councils and committees, as well as her work on past millage campaigns and her continued support of PTA activities at Winchester and Meads Mill. Lenz has been instrumental in improving the science curriculum, incorporating the use of video recording instruments into his classroom and providing each of his students with access to the PET computer. Thanks to these outstanding individuals for their contributions to Winchester and Northville Public Schools.

COOKE

The date for Cooke's third annual fashion show is May 5. This year's fashions will be presented by Fashion Cents and Mylo's of Farmington. As in the past, Cooke students and their mothers will be modeling. Mark this date on your calendars. More information will be upcoming.

Our Science Fair was a big success. First place winners in Life Science were Jennifer Kilpatrick, Chris Beecher and Mary Whitaker. Physical Science winners were Tom Walters, Bill Schultz and Todd Fee. Winners in the Earth and Space Science Category were Chris Diehl, Charles Kepner and John Antuna. The Math and Computer Category had only one winner — Amy Segowski.

On March 12, in Ann Arbor, Cooke's Wind Ensemble competed against other junior high schools of southeastern Michigan. It played three pieces and did one sight reading. Under the direction of leader Michael Rumbell

Science fair winners

If science fairs are any indication, students at Cooke and Meads Mill junior highs seem to have a pretty good handle on the ins and outs of mechanical engineering, botany, chemistry and the like. Both schools recently held science fairs with hundreds of students entering projects. Cooke, which held its science fair March 2 and 3, had nine winning scientists. Pictured above in the front row, from left, are Amy Segowski, seventh grade; Mary Whitaker, seventh grade; John Antuna, seventh grade and Tom Walters, ninth grade. Back row, from left, Chris Beecher, eighth grade; Bill Schultz, eighth grade; Jennifer Kilpatrick, ninth grade; Chris Diehl, ninth grade and Charles Kepner, eighth grade. At Meads Mill, 459 students in grades 7-9 entered projects in the March 14-16 science fair. Winning scientists in the 15 different categories are pictured below front row, from left, Wayne Harrison, Mickey Moore, Todd Yaekle, Denise Akroush, Steve Lee, Andy Hooten and Dave Okasinski. Back row from left are Kirk Windisch, Susie Rahimi, Dina Bellimoria, Ken Siegert, Carlene Kinzel, Melissa Meyers, John Flanigan, Kay Thomasson and teacher Norm Hannewald. MEADS MILL

the group took second place. Congratulations to Rumbell and all his students!

Congratulations also to Mary Freydl and her husband. They celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary March 15.

Bill Dicks and his swim team from Cooke also deserve our congratulations. They just finished an undefeated season.

On March 23, our ninth grade students traveled to Northville High School where they enjoyed the NHS Drama Department's presentation of "The Music Man." JES sponsored the trip and will be making a donation to the drama department in the name of Cooke students.

Sue Hinds

Spring recess begins at the end of the school day tomorrow. Classes will resume April 11.

Congratulations to our super spellers! Lori Ash was the winner of the seventh grade spelling bee and Jon Steinhauer was the winner in the eighth grade. The school champs representing Meads Mill at the Regional Spelling Bee are Jon Steinhauer and Jayshree Mataidal.

There was a big turnout for Parent-Teacher Conferences March 8 and 10.

Career Day was better than ever. Such familiar faces as Chuck Galdica, the Channel 2 weatherman, and Caroline Dumphy, our local artist, were seen in classrooms speaking to students. All students heard three speakers of their career choices. In all, 32 people spoke of the educational requirements, job benefits, salary potential and the general scope of their day at work to give an overview to interested students. Sergeant Tom Flanagan convinced many students that they could see the world and receive a free education in a military career with the army. Many other fine people gave their time to share the ins and outs of their careers.

Bud Bourgeois' class put on a play for selected classes. The Band Festival was March 12 in Ann Arbor.

Approximately 400 projects were entered in the Science Fair, and it was a fine demonstration of the abilities of our students. It was a difficult job for the 10 judges to pick the outstanding projects in each category. Norm Han-newald, the science teacher coordinating the fair, said he was very pleased with the caliber of the work.

Fifth and sixth graders from Winchester and Silver Springs elementary schools visited our school and viewed the science fair. Perhaps they got a few ideas for projects they might like to research in the future.

We were proud to have Mrs. Ann Gulberg as our outstanding citizen and Mrs. Wilma Castillo as our outstanding faculty member at the annual Founders Day Banquet. Both have given freely of their time and talents.

The next PTSA meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. April 20.

OUR LADY OF VICTORY

March and April topics of conversation at OLV center on Career Week, the Publishing Center and the soon-to-be released all-school newspaper.

Career Week, March 21-25, became an enriching experience for all junior high OLV students. Of great interest to most eighth grade students was the self-scored vocational interest experience and skill assessment test which helped them identify their skill and interest areas for possible career opportunities. As a culminating activity this Friday seventh and eighth graders had a pizza luncheon.

Mrs. Cathy Walle, OLV Curriculum Specialist, has encouraged all students to take advantage of the Publishing Center. Twice a week, OLV moms Sue Reardon, Solie Cleveland, JoAnn Daiziel and Linda McCulloch, man the typewriters to convert literary works by students in grades one through eight to a typed format in book form which is taken home and illustrated by the individual students.

"Victorian Times," a name suggested by Nina Wilklemeyer, grade eight, is the title of the Our Lady of Victory all-school newspaper that is now going to press. As part of the enrichment program, some eighth grade students, under the direction of Mrs. Cathy Walle, have prepared news from all OLV classes. Articles focusing on sports, religion, humor, puzzles and individual student interviews on a "What do you think?" questions, are contained in the publication. The articles are typed by Mrs. Kathleen Braund. The "Victorian Times" will be published on a regular bi-monthly basis.

Six Northville students, three from each junior high, are local winners in the 14th annual America & Me Essay Contest sponsored by Farm Bureau Insurance Group. Cooke Junior High winners (at right, left to right) were Doug Ayers, first; Veronica Kalas, second; and Mary Parkinson, third. At Meads Mill (above, left to right) Michelle Valentine placed first, Dawn Joyner second and Scott Turner third. Several thousand entries were received from eighth graders at more than 500

Michigan schools. The topic for the contest was "Why I Am Important to America's Future." Ayers' and Valentine's first place essays now advance to state competition, where Michigan's top ten essays will be selected. Top ten winners will receive plaques and U.S. savings bonds ranging from $200 to $1,000, totalling $4,000. The final ten will be honored at a Lansing banquet with Michigan's leaders, some of whom will be judging the contest.
