$8 million proposed for NHS renovati

By MICHELE McELMURRY

A proposed $8 million bond issue for the renovation of Northville High School was recommended to the Northville Board of Education last Wednesday evening by the Citizens Advisory Committee for the High School Feasability Study.

The Blue Ribbon Committee, which has met every Wednesday evening for the past three months to study the high school's curriculum and building needs, delivered its final report and recommendations to the board based on its extensive study of the facility.

nent in the planned renovation of Northville High School and Superintendent George Bell's long range plan for the school district.

Bell's long range plan for the district was unanimously approved by the board of education last October and included a renovation of Northville High School, realignment of the present grade structure and future facility use for the Institution Special Education

In accepting the report, school board president Doug Whitaker told the committee the proposed study will be sub-evaluation and reviewed by the board of education.

Should the board approve the committee's recommendation, the proposed bond issue is expected to be put before Northville voters sometime in November or December.

According to John Street, director of business and finance, raising $8 million for the renovation of Northville High School will not be reflected in increased taxes but rather through deferred repayment to the State School Bond Loan Fund.

The district currently levies seven

> Of the $8 million proposed for the high school renovation, $4.4 million is earmarked for new construction, $2 million for remodeling, $880,000 for new equipment and $720,000 for fees and contingency.

Unveiled at last Wednesday's meeting was a preliminary sketch of the renovation drawn by architect John Argenta of Coquillard, Dolgner, Dundon and Argenta, Inc., the firm contracted by the board for the high school

In reviewing the proposed sketch, Argenta emphasized it only was a preliminary drawing and most likely will be altered as further study of the proposed plan is reviewed.

Based on the proposed recommendations of the Citizens Advisory Committee. the sketch detailed the addition of space - roughly half of the current structure.

"The site is very confining on top of a hill," Argenta noted. "The only place ministrative and Auxiliary Services; where an addition could be placed is Argenta outlined the possibility of a second story overlooking Center with the possible addition of an athletic area in back of the school.

Also among the major additions to the building will be enlarging the media center, he said.

The 37-member Citizen Advisory Committee based its recommendations approximately 73,000 square feet of on five separate subcommittee reports focusing on different aspects of the high school's building and site needs.

Parade route to be altered

Routing of Northville's Memorial Day parade at 10 a.m. next Monday has been altered from the practice of past years at the request of city police to allow better traffic control.

After stopping at Rural Hill Cemetery where three memorial wreaths will placed, marchers will return by way of Rogers north to Cady, hen east to the city parking lot the M.A.G.S. building, where the parade will disband.

Previous practice has been to march north on Rogers to Main, east to Wing, north to Dunlap disbanding at the VFW post at Center, next to Casterline Funeral Home where ice creams bars are distributed. The traditional distribution of ice cream bars will be maintained, parade organizers emphasized, though the parade ends at a different point.

City police chief Rodney Cannon said he requested the new route because. when the parade route doubles back on Main, it ties up traffic significantly. The march south of Main (see map) takes some time to complete, with stops to place a wreath at Oakwood Cemetery on Cady Street, the ceremonial throwing of a wreath into the water from the Rural Hill bridge (to honor those who died at sea), placement of wreaths at the memorial and veterans' plot and speeches by dignitaries.

When the parade first leaves Main, Cannon said, he expects backed up traffic to remain heavy for 20 minutes or so. Closing Main again as the parade returns was impractical, he said.

"We don't have that many officers

(working) Memorial Day," he said, explaining that "if it had been the Fourth of July we could have handled it, but it takes too much manpower away from our Memorial Day staff."

Marchers will assemble at the Griswold Street Ford Motor Company parking lot prior to the 10 a.m. start. Included will be organizers of the parade, Post 147 an of Foreign Wars Post 4012, with their auxiliaries. Livonia's American Legion Post has been invited to march with them this year.

Also marching are the U.S. Army Reserve Band, Northville High School Marching Band, Boy and Girl Scout Knights Templar. Bicycles and horses are banned from this year's parade. Organizers said bicycles, especially, presented a hazard to marchers, leading to the ban.

High point of the observance is a memorial service at the veterans' plot of Rural Hill.

The address will be delivered by General James Pelton, U.S. Army thville's downtown city garage sale Reserves, invocation and benediction May 14, according to Judy McDonald by Our Lady of Victory co-Pastor John O'Callaghan.

Mayor Paul Vernon and Supervisor John MacDonald will speak for their communities. Other dignitaries expected include several city council members and township trustees, Wayne County Executive William Lucas, state Senator Robert Geake. state Senator Jack Faxon and state Representative Willis Bullard.

Memorial Day was originally an observance to honor those who died in the Civil War. It now officially recognizes those who died in the Spanish-American, World Wars I and II, Korean and Vietnam wars.

Traditionally, wreaths and flags are of the observance.

for central office positions

By MICHELE MCELMURRY

New name plates will grace the doors of Northville Public Schools administrative offices next year, following the board of education's unanimous approval Menday of a central office reorganization.

The reorganizaton, recommended to the board by Superintendent George Bell, will take two building ad-ministrators out of the schools and into the board offices.

Northville High School principal George Aune, who requested an administrative reassignment in March, will serve as liaison to the Garden City/Northville Community Education Consortium and Silver Springs Principal Marcia Wiss Scarr will act as Director of Curriculum.

be Kenneth Pawlowski, currently junior high school assistant principal. Thomas Cey, former principal of Northville's ISEP operation at Taft School in Livonia, will replace Pawlowski as assistant principal at Meads Mill and Cooke junior high schools. The board of education decided to close its Taft operation in February.

In addition to the personnel changes, new titles, duties, responsibilites and a new position have changed the face of the central office administration.

There will be no replacement for Clark Kelly, currently Coordinator of K-12 Special Education, upon his retirement effective June 30. Instead, placed on the graves of veterans as part Leonard Rezmierski, Director of and are made without sufficient time to

How much local support is there for Troops, and Northville Masonic Lodge the movement to recall Governor deep waiting to sign. James Blanchard?

Area organizers of a petition drive for recall vote hope to find out at an 8 p.m. rally Thursday in Novi's Middle School South on Taft Road.

Not that there aren't already some indications of support.

Between 750 and 1,000 signatures were gathered in a single day at Norand Carole Shultz, Novi coordinators of the petition drive.

People were lined up ten deep waiting to sign," shultz said Monday. Because of the different communities and counties, we had to search through a stack of petitions to find the right one for them to sign, but they didn't complain about waiting."

The past three weekends there have been two people outside West Oaks shopping center gathering roughly 300 signatures per Saturday, shultz said. She was herself at Chatham last weekend and found roughly 60 percent of those approached favored the recall but many had already signed petitions.

The Thursday rally, for the Walled Lake, Novi and Northville areas, is expected to bring in many additional signatures and put still more petitions in circulation, they said.

brought Shultz, McDonald and Northville organizer Louis Vilardo into the movement. None had been politically active in the past.

Shultz said she became involved out of "being really ticked off about the 38 percent (income tax hike) and the biggest chunk of it going to welfare."

For McDonald, who describes herself as an independent voter who "generally leans toward Democrats" there was no question about joining the recall movement "as soon as I got my paycheck" reflecting the retroactive tax increase.

One method cited in promoting school pride is to give students a brief history of the community's efforts to build the

Novi Ambulance seeks $7 million

Novi Ambulance Company, recently deprived of its service agreements with Northville, Novi and Farmington, Monday filed a $7 million amendment to a law suit begun earlier in Oakland County Circuit Court.

The suit seeks damage payments from a group of doctors and medical organizations it contends did irreparable harm to the firm's reputation in a bid to take over its business. Suit was filed in 1981 alleging an earlier attempt to interfere with Novi Ambulance business.

Novi Ambulance attorney Allen C. Ingle said Monday he is also preparing an 'anti-trust action" against the several governments involved and the in-dividual elected officials. A libel action is also being considered against the Farmington Observer newspaper, Ingle said.

Community Emergency Medical Service (CEMS), a Botsford Hospital subsidiary, was recently selected to answer police emergency calls from Northville, Northville Township, Novi and Farmington under a single regional contract.

The suit amendments filed Monday contend CEMS owners and administrators in June 1981 conspired to suspend Novi Ambulance's license to operate advanced life support units in Oakland County.

The damage done by what later proved to be a groundless suspension, the suit argues, was in part responsible for the recent loss of service agreements with the four communities.

The suit names Drs. Robert Aranosian and Paul Pomeroy, Botsford General Hospital, hospital administrator Edward Barter, and Oakland County Council for Emergency Medical Services (OAKEMS) as defendants

Aranosian at the time was a physician at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital and an OAKEMS representative. Pomeroy was a physician at St. Joseph Mercy hospital and chairman of OAKEMS medical control committee. Contending the defendents wished to boost Novi Ambulance competitor Am-Care Ambulance, a firm backed by Botsford Hospital doctors that later went bankrupt and sold its assets to CEMS, the suit argues the license 'I never told them I wouldn't respond.'

tient can't or won't pay."

Early said comments by Novi city manager Craig Klaver that indicated Novi Ambulance had refused service were incorrect.

"I told him I would bill the city, he determined the city wouldn't pay and then he assumed that because the city wouldn't pay, I would deny service, Early said. "That's just not the case."

He noted his ambulances continued to respond to police emergency calls from the city of Northville for a day or two after the other three communities had

Budget okayed, tax note total cut

With only a minor last-minute correction city council Monday approved a $2.56 million budget essentially as proposed by city manager Steven Walters

At Walter's request, council also approved a resolution to issue a maximum of $480,000 in tax anticipation notes. Sale of up to $600,000 in notes was approved last month, but Walters said the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission had rejected the application, which was based on a projection of state aid to the city that was below what was eventually appropriated."

"We ended up receiving more than we had projected from the state," Walters explained, "so we don't have to sell as much in notes. I have to take this to the Municipal Finance Commission in the next week or so, and I don't even know if I'll need the resolution, but if I do I'll need it right away."

The sale of tax anticipation notes is a mechanism to borrow against next year's tax receipts to cover current year expenses and became necessary for the city in recent years as it encountered a deficit due to falling revenue from state sources.

As approved, the budget for next year calls for tax millages to remain at last year's levels, while a slight decline in property values reduces the actual tax bill for most property owners.

Just before passing the budget Monday, council moved $6,850 from the Northville Arts Commission into the legislative budget, where it will remain available for arts commission use.

The alteration was suggested by council member Carolann Ayers' concern that the vastly-increased expenditures of the commission were not sufficiently detailed in its budget documents.

Walters said approving the budget would appropriate the funding to the commission, which could then spend it without further council approval. With budget transfers required after the switch, arts commission expenditures will require at least one more council authorization.

The arts commission budget represents less than one-third of one percent of the projected city expenditures for the coming fiscal year.

Public hearing of the proposed budget took place after 11 p.m. in a meeting chamber long-since emptied of city residents other than the council itself. Council members discussed the absence of an audience, noting there had been a nearly-full meeting room when the session began at 8 p.m. but that it swiftly emptied as items of interest were moved up the agenda to accommodate those attending.

Council also debated the merits of projecting $800,000 in parimutuel tax receipts from the state, with members deciding, in Mayor Paul Vernon's words "that's the only action we can

To enroll students should send their names to Northville High School Cheerleaders, with a check made out to them for $20, to Northville High School, 775 North Center, Northville, attention NHS Cheerleaders.

Participants should wear shorts, a tshirt and tennis shoes. Coach Maguire may be contacted at 349-9283 by anyone with questions.

Rainy weather delays preparation of plots for gardening program

Although 74 of the 80 senior citizen garden plots on township parkland grounds on Sheldon Road south of Six Mile have been reserved, damp spring weather is preventing the Northville Recreation Department from making final preparations for

"We've been able to plow it, but the grounds have been so muddy we haven't been able to disk (break up dirt clumps)," said Tonni Burns of the recrea-tion staff. "We've had to cancel some baseball games there already.'

As soon as the weather dries up enough for disking, she added, the department will anounce that planting can begin.

Senior citizens interested in reserving one of the six remaining plots, should contact the recreation department at 349-0203.

> Spring Sacred Concert

Music is a vital part of the Christian life. It always has been (Eph. 5:19). The early church lacked our music-making equipment, but they made up for this lack by using the harmony of joyful hearts and happy voices.

Christian music is also quite unique. Other religions utilize the minor key. The anthems are sombre and melancholy. Indeed, all of nature groans under the curse (even the cows moo in the minor key). Yet, the music of redemption swells with rejoicing. Why should it be any other way? Nothing can stir a melody quite like a soul free from sin and condemnation.

I hope you all will join us next Sunday evening for our Special Sacred Concert. David Luther (bariton soloist) and his wife Sigrid (concert planist) will present a pro-gram of sacred music. This husband-wife team come to us from Bryan College, Dayton, Tennessee where they teach on the music faculty. Both are also candidates for the doctor's degree in music from Louisiana

State University.

Don't miss this Special Spring Concert. There is no admission charge. Children are also welcome. There will be a nursery for very small children. The concert of sacred music will begin at 6:30, Sunday evening, May 29th.

Those responsible for more than three false burglary alarms in one year will no longer receive priority treatment unless they can prove resolution of the problem, police chief Rodney Cannon told council.

In earlier discussion with council, Cannon had suggested charging a fee for frequent false alarms. He said Monday potential problems with collecting the fee made the policy preferable.

'We'll make the run, but we won't "It won't be top priority. They'll line up waiting — say there's someone whose having a medical emergency, well, that person would come before the alarm."

Cannon said the force responded to more than 300 false alarms last year on an emergency basis. Given the highspeed, priority treatment, he said these runs pose a risk to police officers and the citizenry at large "for no purpose -

City approves Genitti's liquor license transfer

By KEVIN WILSON

A glass of wine with a meal at Genitti's came one step closer to reality Monday night when city council voted unanimously to approve the restaurant's application to have a liquor license transferred to its Main Street location.

'We're not going to change.'

The state liquor control commission (LCC) will make the final determination on the request to transfer a Class C resort license from its present assignment at an address in Harrison, in northern Michigan's Clare County. LCC approval is expected, given the city ap-

In stark contrast to the situation two weeks ago when the issue first appeared on council's agenda, all audience comments favored granting the request. Most commented, as did Ray Casterline, they expect Genitti's to remain "family-oriented."

At the earlier meeting, which Genitti did not attend, local tavern owners protested addition of a liquor license in the city, noting there is already one more than is allocated strictly according to population.

Information supplied council included a note from John Genitti stating his intent to drop the dance permit attached to the license, a report from police chief Rodney Cannon that the building has passed fire and building inspections and that police "find no reason the license should not be approved."

Genitti told council members the intent of obtaining a liquor license is to 'add beer and wine to the menu." Asked if there would be a bar constructed in the restaurant, Genitti said he had no plans to do so "at this time."

"I know a lot of people are worried," Genitti said. "We're not going to change. Our operation is going to be basically the same except that people can have a glass of wine or a beer with

A. Through the years people have used an unusual variety of abrasives as toothpastes. About 400 years ago the Egyptians used a substance made of incense, green lead, and verdigris (the green crust that forms on metal when exposed to under the country of the product of the country of the countr to water or air) as a dentifice. The Chinese experimented with ground fish bones to clean their teeth. The Arabs during the Middle Ages were the first to recognize the danger highly abrasive materials could have on teeth, especially the sand and pumice contained in some products. While in Europe acids were being used to remove stains, and similiar agents continued to be used until the early part of this century.

It wasn't until 1934 that the American Dental Assoc. began rating toothpastes as "accepted" or "unaccepted."

Representative Broomfield

Says Detroit passport office needed

vacation come true and for others an essential part of carrying on business. But it can also be a real nightmare if you have to get a passport to leave the country in the first place.

Many constituents with passport problems have frantically called me since the federal government to effect real the closing of the Detroit Passport Office two years ago. Their departure date was fast approaching, and they were still without a passport even though they had applied as much as two months in advance.

In one recent instance, a local businessman needed to travel overseas to close an important business deal. He called my office two weeks before his departure to ask for help. After several calls to the Chicago Passport Office, the application was finally processed, and I was told it would be sent to my constituent by express mail. Unfortunately, someone at the Chicago office sent it regular mail, and it arrived after his departure date. Since he had a layover before traveling on, it was arranged to have a temporary passport sent to his hotel in California.

I am all for cutting back on the size of not cutting fat.

When the Detroit office closed, the work it handled was assigned primarily to the Chicago office and the Detroit staff was reassigned to other parts of the country. During this same time period, passport applications across the country increased by 15 percent in 1981 and by 30 percent in 1982. In real numbers, this meant an increase of

To meet this increased workload, Chicago and three other passport offices had to add a second shift, increase overtime pay, and operate on a six*day work week. However, there still is a backlog of 128,000 applications across So far, I have been very lucky. No one the country and exceptionally long contacting me has missed his or her delays. Under these circumstances, I trip. Many of these people, however, fail to see where there was a savings have gone right down to the wire before made by closing the Detroit passport of-

Chicago is one of four offices in the country that has gone to an automated passport insuance system (TDIS). Yet even though the system has been in operation for a year, Chicago not only has a backlog in processing applications but a back log of thousands of applications to be entered into the computer in the first place.

I will certainly continue to work to have the Detroit passport office reopened. But until that is done, if you are planning a trip overseas, you should allow six-eight weeks to get a passport. If you also need a visa, even more time should be allowed.

Cuts in the federal bureaucracy must be made, but they must be done judiciously. There is still plenty of fat in the government without eliminating ef-

30th ceremony at veterans' plot

This year, in long-kept tradition, the climax of Northville's Memorial Day observance will be the cermony and speeches of remembrance at the tree-shaded veterans' plot in a hollow on the east side of Rural Hill Cemetery.

There family, friends and members of Northville VFW Post 4012 and Lloyd H. Green American Legion Post 147 will pay tribute to those who did not return from this country's wars. Those standing and sitting on the hillside overlooking the veterans' plot will hear the music echo through the cemetery, an annual reminder of those who sacrificed.

It was exactly 30 years ago in Memorial Day ceremonies of 1953 that the veterans' plot officially was dedicated. It had been established through the cooperative efforts of the VFW and American Legion posts and the village commission (at the time Northville was still a village.)

The plot as a tribute to the community's war dead was the idea of commissioner Claude N. Ely and Charles Schoultz who had worked for it for more than a year. They were assisted by A. Malcolm Allen.

Rules and regulations had been drawn up that were agreeable to both veterans' groups. The body of Lloyd Green, first Northville serviceman killed in World War I, was placed to rest in the center of the plot with crushed stone paths leading to the grave. A new flag and flagpole were in place for the 1953 dedication.

Last year both the VFW and American Legion posts, who have tended the plot since its dedication, added a new tribute — a wrought iron arch to mark the entrance to the plot.

There is a sadness this year as local veterans remember past observances. David McDougall, grand marshal of the 1982 Memorial Day parade representing the American Legion Post has died, as has Dixie Carr, coordinator for VFW Memorial Day observance arrangements for several years.

Others, however, will carry on the tradition. Flags will mark veterans' graves in the well-tended plot. And throughout the cemetery fresh flowers will be placed on many, many graves. It is a time for all in the community to remember.

Citizens report shows dedication

Last Wednesday's unveiling of the Citizens Advisory Committee's feasability study for the Northville High School renovation culminated one of the most comprehensive studies ever made of the almost 25year-old structure.

The 50-page report is the result of three months of work by 37 residents of the community. Committee members met every Wednesday evening to study the building and site needs of the facility and tap the expertise needed to recommend to the board of education long overdue improvements.

Superintendent George Bell acknowledged last Wednesday that the high school renovation project "is the third of this kind I've been involved in and this is by far the largest community support I've seen." We agree with Bell's assessment and commend the committee for its dedication to the project. Such community support for Northville Public Schools has been seriously lacking in recent years.

Though it is premature to evaluate the specifics of the completed feasability study, we believe the committee deserves commendation for its primary objective in undertaking this project.

As noted in the final report, the committee's objective "was to make renovation recommendations which would aid the faculty, administration and the board of education in their efforts to provide students with a stimulating learning environment where they may have the best opportunity to develop their academic abilities and receive assistance in achieving their professional, occupational and personal goals."

We believe this objective to be the crux of the committee's findings and recommendations for the renovation project and hope the board, administration and community recognize this aim when plans for the high school are finalized.

Introducing...

LAUREL ADELMAN

GENERAL EXCÉCLENCE

CAROL STRAUCH

Regular callers and readers of The Record are hearing new voices, seeing new faces and encountering new writers on the staff.

This week readers will see the by-line of Laurel Adelman who wrote the story about Northville's senior prom for this issue. Laurel, a senior at the University of Michigan, is one of two summer interns hired by the Sliger/Livingston Publications in a policy to assist with on-the-job training of journalists and also to help our staffs during vacations.

She will be working in our various newspaper offices until mid-August. On campus she has been a general assignment writer for the Michigan Daily student newpspaper. An English major with a special interest in creative writing, Laurel's other extra curricular activities include serving as a board of review member of the Michigan Economic Journal from July, 1982, to the present and as a member of the student alumni council from August, 1981, to the present.

In April of this year, she was named one of five finalists for the National Circumnavigatist Award for 1983. Had she won, she would have been traveling around the world this summer on a $5,000 scholarship to do do research in the field. Instead, Laurel, a Detroit native whose family moved to Birmingham 12 years ago, is commuting to The Record and our other newspapers for hands-on experience in writing and working with our computers.

Since mid-April the by-line of B.J. Martin has been appearing on our sports pages. To avoid an identity confusion Bruce decided to use initials in his by-line. A Michigan native who was born in Pontiac, Bruce is a 1981 graduate of the University of Missouri School of Journalism. Most recently he wrote for the Spinal Column. On campus he was cityside reporter at the Columbia Missourian, listings editor and a contributing writer to Vibrations, a Sunday supplement to the Missourian. He also was associate editor of The Microphone, Columbia College student weekly.

An honors graduate of Detroit Country Day School, Bruce is a National Merit Scholar and was the recipient of the Archibald Prather Scholarship and Presidential Scholarship. His personal interests include, he says, "political science at all levels and fine arts." In addition to writing sports for The Record, B.J. is covering the city planning commission and other news beats. He is single and already is a Northville resident, occupying an apartment in downtown Northville.

A different voice is answering the telephone on Mondays and Fridays beginning this week. Carol Strauch is taking over the two-day reception duties of Maureen Cooper who is planning long sailing weekends with her husband.

Carol will be sharing the job with Molly Manley who works Tuesday through Thursday. A five-year resident of the community, Carol and her husband Don have been restoring an old home in Bealtown. Carol grew up in Redford Township and was a secretary for seven years before her son Don, 1½, was born. Don was named for his father and grandfather. His mother doesn't anticipate baby sitter problems as both willing grandmas live in Plymouth. Both receptionists are on duty from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. At other times the telephones are answered by members of the editorial and advertising staffs.

Our other staff members have been winning some special awards and making community contributions. In the Suburban Newspapers of America competition Michele McElmurry won third place in feature writing nationally while Steve Fecht took first place in photojournalism for their three-part series about Andrew, a special education student, in "Time Enough for Love." The series also received a Certificate of Merit from the Detroit Awareness Communication Team for Developmentally Disabled. Michele and Steve were honor guests May 13 at its awards program.

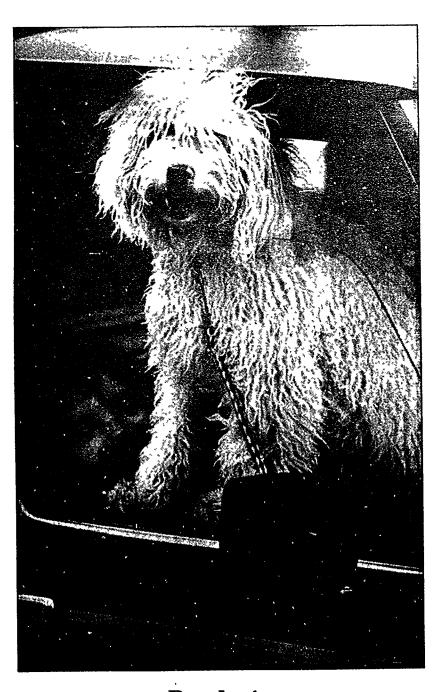

The Northville Record received a third place award in best special interest promotion section for its Main Street '79 Dedication tab last May.

Kevin Wilson served as a judge with me for the Ninth Annual Schoolcraft College High School Journalism Contest. He judged and commented on the difficult "Analysis" stories in the program in which 14 area high schools participated May 12.

Community is key to newspapering

By Rolly Peterson Executive Editor

A month or so ago we at Sliger/-Livingston Publications had a seminar in which former reporters and a photographer from our organization talked about their current jobs on daily newspapers and what their experiences in our organization meant to them.

All five of them were encouraged to speak candidly. If our organization failed them, they could pinpoint our inadequacies. If we provided them with an invaluable experience that helped them in their careers, the former S/L staffers could voice that sentiment also.

Which would it be, I thought. Perhaps a mixture of praise and luke warm acknowledgement and criticism.

You who have lived in our communities for many years may recognize the names of some of these former editorial staffers—Brian Deming, who is now with the Jackson Citizen Patriot, Bill McMillan and Jim Cnockaert, who are with the Port Huron Times Herald, Ellen Sponseller Creiger, who worked for the Ann Arbor News and began work this week at the Detroit Free Press, and David Turnley, a photographer with the Detroit Free Press.

If I read their remarks accurately, their experiences with our newspapers prepared them well for their current jobs. On a scale on 1 to 10, I would say they collectively gave us an 8 or 9.

The one aspect of their jobs with us which they praised the most was involvement in the community. They had the opportunty to immerse themselves in our communities and to meet the people involved in resolving issues for the betterment of their communities.

We do stress community involvement. That is fundamental to our organization. With editors leading the way, S/L editorial workers and others in our organization are encouraged to become involved, to treat the communities they are covering as their own. Involvement goes beyond the job of reporting or taking pictures, although this commitment comes first. Involvement means joining civic and social organizations and business groups and participating in their efforts to improve the community.

Argues for recreation salary hikes

Your article on "Raises for Recreation Officials" last week was very disturbing. The fact that four columns were used to explain a THREE percent increase was absurd. I think if it were calculated people would find that three percent for the director adds up to approximately $700 per year based on a $21,000 per year salary.

The assistant's three percent adds up to approximately $390 based on a $13,000 salary.

Carolann Ayers and John Buckland ought to be ashamed of themselves opposing the increases. If a community as affluent as ours can't afford $1,1000 every THREE years to two of our public officials, something is wrong.

It is obvious these two people are already underpaid and offering a three percent raise in itself is insulting. I find it disgusting that our directors wuld have a hard time living in our community, based on these salaries.

Thank you very much, L.T. Sylvestre, for making sure all would know "the increases were not tied to merit." That is a tremendous vote of confidence for the whole department.

It is finally starting to show that the problems associated with this department are caused by the commission itself. The department has been used as a political pinball by our two local governments and the commission's power can be compared to that of "a private arguing with a drill sergeant."

Our governments need to take a long

Summer job plan gives youths work experience

Over 1,500 youths will be provided summer jobs through the Wayne County Employment and Training Administration (ETA).

The summer youth employment program begins June 20 and ends August 12 and will place youths age 16-21 in service jobs in county communities.

Workers will receive $3.35 an hour and $5 an hour for supervisory positions working an average 28 hours per week as aides in various occupations.

To qualify, one must be a 30-day resident of the county (excluding Detroit, Dearborn, Livonia and downriver communities, each of which sponsors its own program), have been unemployed at least seven days, or underemployed and be able to meet other requirements set forth by the CETA program (soon to be replaced by the Job Training Partnership Act).

In addition, those in school who have not participated in more than two Project Score/SYEP programs will receive priority. This stipulation does not affect those age 18-21 and out of high school.

ETA programs in the county are administered by the county executive with federal funding of approximately

The program agent will subcontract eight separate programs including the county executive's parks rehabilitation program in the Wayne County Intermediate School District.

The purpose of the Summer Youth Employment Program is to help young people receive valuable work experience to list on future resumes, and to help them develop good work habits and attitudes to let them become dependable employees upon entering permanent jobs.

Report says welfare draws people to state

By GERALD H. LAW 36th District State Representative

State Auditor General Frank Pinkelman recently submitted an opinion that substantially discredited a 1982 Department of Social Services report that claimed that there was little migration into Michigan caused by the state's higher welfare benefit levels.

When that initial report was released last year, it thwarted attempts by citizens to get the issue of limiting Michigan's benefit levels to the average of the neighboring states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin on the November ballot.

Earlier this month, however, similar legislation was introduced in the Michigan House of Respresentatives that, if passed, would prevent Michigan's benefit levels from exceeding the level of the average of similar benefits in those four states.

In addition, it would allow the levels to drop below the average to ensure that our benefits would not automatically rise should the average of the neighboring states increase.

To enhance the debate for the passage of the bill, Pinkelman's rejection of the 1982 report by the Department of Social Services, based on his determination that it was conducted in an inconsistent manner and was basically worthless, will help play a significant

Additionally, the city manager of the City of Benton Harbor, Eillis Mitchell, recently cited Michigan's liberal welfare benefits as a cause of migration into that troubled city of welfare recipients from other states. Benton Harbour has frequently been characterized as Michigan's most depressed urban area because of high unemployment and a heavy concentration of welfare recipients for a city its size. Benton Harbor is 40 miles north of the Indiana state line, and less than 100 miles from the Illinois state line.

Within the next several weeks, the Michigan Legislature will be putting the finishing touches on the new budget submitted by Governor James Blanchard for the next fiscal year. It calls for a five percent increase in state welfare benefits, as well as a total welfare budget increase of over 14 percent.

Certainly now is not the time to allow our welfare caseloads to mushroom by attracting welfare recipients from other states at a time when our 666,000 unemployed workers need these benefits more. The passage of this legislation is essential if we are to curtail this drain on the social services budget. If it does fail to pass, it will be interesting to see how many people come to Michigan. They certainly won't be coming looking for work.

Agency setting records in real estate boom

By BOB SMITH

If owning your own home has been your dream, now is the time to make it a reality, according to area realtors.

The housing business is booming, according to broker Tom Kuster of Century 21 in South Lyon. In March, the South Lyon office sold over a $1,000,000 in real estate-its first such monthly bonanza since opening in 1978. To prove it was no fluke, it did the same thing in April, said Kuster, who opened the of-

In Whitmore Lake, Oren Nelson of Nelson's Real Estate Realtors said he had his best first quarter in 28 years of selling. Century 21 salesperson Tony Sparks credited the increase to lower interest rates. "What you're seeing is there's new money available in the banks," commented Sparks, who has been selling real estate for 16 years. "Prices have dropped somewhat, but the interest rates really brought them out."

In addition to lower interest rates, Nelson also gave credit for the sales increase to the release of a pent-up demand for houses, and the good winter

'Prices have dropped somewhat, but the interest rates really brought them out.'

—Tony Sparks

Interest rates have dropped from about 17 to 12½ percent in the last two years, Sparks noted. Also dropping have been interest rates on Veterans Administration and Federal Housing Administration loans, from 12½ to 11½ in the past year, he said. Kuster said the average house price has been about $5,000 less than last year—about an eight to 10 percent drop.

As the interest rates dropped, the sales increased. Century 21 of South Lyon did $2,133,300 in business in March and April of this year-double the amount it did in the same time period last year, Kuster said.

These sales totals contributed to Century 21's 58 percent increase in business

Both Kuster and Nelson said they expected the boom to slow down by about the fall.

"You will get the normal seasonal slowdown plus a lot of homes will be sold between now and then," commented Kuster.

"If we don't have a rise in interest rates, I think this will work out nicely," commented Nelson. "A reasonable supply and reasonable demand."

A one percent drop in the interest rate brings about seven to eight million more buyers into the housing market, according to Nelson.

Nelson based his figures on a type of financing that accounts for a person's monthly income and outstanding debts.

Interest rates dropped with the drop of the rate of inflation, Nelson said. The growing federal deficit could push interest rates back up, he said. "They're either going to have to raise taxes or cut spending, because if the federal government in going to come in and borrow untold billions of dollars, it's going to take it away from the private borrower," he commented.

Builders hit bottom during '82, report says

Rising home sales seen regionally during the first part of this year (see story above) were accompanied last week by evidence the market for new housing bottomed out in 1982.

The four-year slump in regional housing construc-tion was leveling off in 1982 at a 14-year low, according to year-end statistics for a seven-county area released by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) last week.

Although SEMCOG registered an 8.7 percent decline in residential building permits issued in 1982, the rate of decrease was the lowest seen since 1978. The seven counties included are Wayne, Livingston, Oakland, Washtenaw, Macomb, Monroe and St. Clair. SEMCOG charts had shown new construction figures falling off a cliff, with declines of 22.7 percent in 1979, 50.1 percent in 1980 and another 46.5 percent in 1981 preceding last year's modest drop.

A rebound in permits issued for multiple-family residential structures helped level off the declining

FSTOP OWNER Wayne Loder displays some of the items customers will be able to receive free when they use Hite or Kodak processing through fstop.

"This represents the biggest giveaway in the history of fstop," says Loder. "Among the items customers will receive free are VIC-20 and Timex Sinclair computers, Ricoh autofocus cameras, Royce base and President mobile CB's, watches, 'Walkman'-type stereos, telephones and dozens of other smaller items such as calculators, disc cameras and albums."

"We are out to show people why fstop does more photo processing than any other retail store in the area."

The new promotion, which allows photograghers to accumulate bonus points with their processing, will continue indefinitely. "We believe that by the end of the year, our customers will have received more than a dozen VIC-20 and Timex Sinclair computers

"We have to emphasize that people will not pay more for our processing than they will at their local drug store, yet will receive free items as a way of us thanking them for their continuing patronage," says Loder. Fstop, 43220 Grand River, in Novi is a complete photography store featuring cameras, lenses, darkroom supplies and most photographic accessories.

STARR ADVERTISING of Northville has been named agency of record for Georgie Boy Manufacturing, Inc., an Edwardsburg Michigan motorhome manufacturer.

According to Georgie Boy executive vice president Peter J. Recchio, Starr has already begun development of a major consumer print campaign and various promotional projects for the company. Georgie Boy, which markets Class A and

C vehicle under the brand names Swinger, Excalibor, Cruise Air, Trans Master and Cruise Master is the world's largest independent motorhome manufacturer. Bruce Masters, Starr's senior account supervisor, handles account responsibilty from the agency side.

CATHERINE S. MARTIN of Northville has been appointed assistant vice president of the National Bank of Detroit's Western Regional Banking Division.

Did OMB exceed its authority?

The White House Office of Management and Budget (OMB) appararently acted improperly in 1981 by halting tax-exempt financing guarantees by the Small Business Administration (SBA) to businesses seeking to comply with pollution-control regulations, the Library of Congress determined.

In a report released by Senator Carl Levin, the library's Congressional Research Service concluded "there appears to be no firm legal basis for OMB's authority to order termination of the pro-

"From this we conclude that it would not be unlikely for a court to find SBA's termination of the program to be unlawful," the report said.

OMB halted the tax-exempt financing guarantees in December, 1981, citing a Reagan administration policy of "containing budget deficits by stemming the loss of tax revenues which are said to result from the allowance of tax-exempt financing," the Since then, applications by 120 firms for $129 million in tax-exempt SBA loan guarantees for pollution control have been frozen, the report states. "There is evidence members of the public whose applications have not been processed as a consequence of the termination have suffered material hardship," according to the report.

The report also implies that OMB termination slowed pollution-control efforts because the small businesses unable to get tax-exempt financing have been unable to afford more costly taxable financing.

SBA's program was created by Congress in 1976 and in the five years preceding the freeze assisted 213 companies by guaranteeing $256 million in

At a Senate Small Business Committee hearing in February, where Levin is a member, SBA officials testified they were barred from guaranteeing the tax-exempt obligations because the authority for them had not been "apportioned" by OMB.

Grant program promotes exporters

Matching federal grants of up to $100,000 for one year will be provided to qualifying local organizations, both private and public, to furnish export assistance and services to small business at the local level.

The department's international trade administraton will administer te program under the Small Business Export Expansion Act of 1980. Last year, grants were awarded 16 organizations.

To qualify for grants, organizations must carry out international marketing programs to serve small businesses interested in exporting. This service would include:

- Market analyses of the export potential of small business concerns. Counseling on export financing, credit insurance, tax treatment, potential markets, marketing assistance, export pricing, shipping, documentation, and foreign financing and business customs.

Trade promotion activities abroad, including trade missions and participation in trade fairs.

Organizations eligible for grants include state government agencies, any Small Business Administration-designated Small Business Development Center; any for-profit small businesses; any non-profit organization; any regional commission or any combination of these

At least one grant will be awarded in each of the department's 10 geographical regions. A total $1 million will be available for the program in 1983.

Grant applications are available through the Detroit District Office, Commerce Department, 445 Federal Building, Detroit, MI 48226. Applications will be accepted by ITA through June 24. Award will be made in September by the assistant secretary of commerce for trade development.

High expectations for tourist season

Memorial Day weekend should help propel the state to a $1.5 billion summer tourism season and give the state's economy a 3 percent boost over last summer, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Such tourism barometers as expected increased holiday travel, a bigger demand for AAA routings, greater interest in camping and fishing and stable travel costs indicate we should have a very good summer season," said James Drury, Auto Club's travel operations manager.

He cited a nine percent increase over 1982 in requests for routings to

The state department of highways estimates motorists will log 700 million miles this weekend, a 3 percent increase over 1982 levels. The 78-hour holiday officially begins Friday and runs through midnight Monday, May

All four regional Michigan tourist bureaus report an upsurge in travel inquiries. The Upper Penninsula Travel and Recreational Association has received double its usual amount of summer tourism inquiries.

Some 400,000 additional pieces of literature, one-third above year-ago levels, has been distributed by the Southeast Travel and Tourist Associa-

A 10-percent rise in summer tourism activity is expected by the West' Michigan Tourist Association and the East Michigan Association expects plentiful gamefish in Lake Huron and inland waters to lure increased visitors.

The state travel bureau received a 20percent increase in tourism inquiries during the first quarter compared to the same period last year. Early requests for summer tourism information, which began in April, are equal to Drury said requests for AAA's state campground guide are up 20 percent. The state DNR expects a five percent rise in campground reservations.

"Steady gasoline prices should help encourage Michigan travel this summer," Drury said. "Despite the 5-cent a gallon federal tax increase April 1, the average monthly cost of self-serve nolead rose only 1.7 cents between April 1982 and April 1983. It is down 20.6 percent from the same period in 1981.

Building slump tapers off

trend of the past few years, as new construction of detached single-family homes continued to drop precipitously. In the five counties surveyed, single family construction was down 40.7 percent compared with 1981s already-dismal performance. A 27.6 percent increase in multiple-family construction permits enabled the overall figure to remain relatively flat. Overall, SEMCOG tallied 3,341 multiple family permits (compared with 2,619 in 1981) but only 1,742 single family permits (from 2,929 in '81). Single family activity was relatively strong in three communities in the primary circulation area of The Green Sheet, however. Commerce (37 permits), Northville (19) and Hamburg (24) townships and the city of Novi (36) each denoted as hot spots in the five-county single family figures. Novi's 36 units accounted for a good-sized share of the multiple family construction in the region. SEMCOG also noted a sharp recovery in its "net total" accounting, in which demolitions are subtracted from the number of new permits. The 1982 net total was up from 1981 figures with a gain of 448 units. The 1981 total was artificially low, however, including demolition of some 1,300 units in the Poletown area to make way for a GM plant. The final tally was for a loss of 1,309 units in 1981.

Of the seven counties surveyed, only Monroe registered an increase with issuance of many single family units in Bedford Township and multiple family units in the City of Monroe and Dundee Township accounting for most of that county's 65.1 percent increase.

Losses in the remaining counties varied from Livingston's 54.3 percent decline to Oakland County's 0.9 percent dip. Livingston also had the largest numerical decline, issuing 145 fewer permits in 1982 than it had in 1981.

Of the top ten communities in Southeast Michigan, Detroit issued the greatest number of permits with 1,263 - 98 percent of these for multiple-family units. It also issued more than 3,800 demolition permits, however.

Avon Township, surrounding Rochester in eastern Oakland County, led the single-family construction tally with 169 permits issued - nearly 10 percent of the seven county total.

Hot spots for multiple-family construction were Detroit, Farmington Hills and Center Line and West Bloomfield Township. Together, these four issued permits for 58.9 percent of the regional total.

The top ten residential permit totals were in Detroit, Farmington Hills, Avon Township, West Bloomfield, Centerline, Roseville, Dearborn, Southgate, Clinton Township, Ann Arbor and East Detroit. All authorized more than 100 units in 1982. Totals reported to SEMCOG by communities in this area, for single family homes unless noted: • Livingston County — Brighton, 3; Brighton Township, 8; Green Oak Township 11 and 4 multiple family, net 15; Hamburg Township, 24, one demoli-

Sales boom sets record

Another change in the housing market has been the move from land contracts to conventional, fixed mortgages, Kuster said. In 1982, 95 percent of Century 21's sales were done on land contracts. This year, that figure has dropped to 23 percent, Kuster said.

"The refinancing of land contracts is also contributing to the boom," commented Kuster. Most of the conventional mortgages are 121/2 percent, 20 percent down, 30-year mortgages, Kuster and Sparks also credited the South Lyon area for the increase in home sales. "You get a little more country atmosphere," Kuster said. "You're not stuck with a 60-foot by 120foot lot."

Nelson said the supply of homes includes a lot of "lender-owned" (foreclosed or nearly-foreclosed) properties and homes vacated by transferred employees.

This is the best time for selling homes since 1978, Nelson commented, "Any one who couldn't make a living in 1978 wasn't breathing very good," he com-

RECOMMENDED READING

Best sellers come and go. A current novel may enjoy a brief burst of fame as it hits the best seller list, only to be forgotten in a few short months. But the classics are with us always. And they find popularity with each new generation of book lovers. They are recommended reading down through the years.

The classified pages of your weekly newspaper are classics in their own way... and belong with every wise person's recommended reading section.

The Nice Guy

I've always know that folks are weird, and with them I usually cast my lot. But somewhere along the way I draw the line, There are just some things that I will not.

I will not smoke that marijuana that makes the world a weird place. I will not love my neighbor's wife unless I find the time and place.

poet's corner

I will not cheat in playing poker and though a gambler I may be. But when I get the guy not looking, I've slipped a few aces up my sleeve.

I don't mean to blow my own trumpet or tell myself what I am not. So you my friend, draw your own conclusions Take a good look for it may not show. But I'm still the greatest guy I know. Fronia Watkins

Soft Tones

Soft and low a voice is speaking Soft so only one can hear In the dark and lonely hour Oh the joy to have one near

In this life where so much hurry Is the normal for the day Such a welcome time the hours When we put all cares away

They can wait until the morrow This is our sweet time to share All the joy of love's emotion Love's contented souls to bare

Agnes Caldwell

Search For Serenity

If some neighbor of mine Makes a mistake Which I can plainly see Who am I? that I should Point a finger at him When three point back at me Better that I, should Wait until I have Made a mistake one day Then to him reply I see that I, should Try to mend my way Because just as I Have taken much time To become enlightened within My neighbor too Has his own work to do His growth is no greater sin Than the sin of my youth

If we all tell the truth Of each deed we cannot be proud So with patience and love Istrive to be a art of That wise and enlightened Crown Less fault I will find

I will retrain my mind To improve my own way And bless others that they May go forward to find Their own serenity Someday

John Pappas presents posies to Elizabeth, his twin sister, as they give a preview of what seniors will be wearing to the prom

Senior prom this Friday begins graduation events

By Laurel Adelman

Hoop skirts seem to be "in" for this year's Northville High School senior prom, according to senior class member Elizabeth Pappas. This promises to give the prom the look of the nineteenth century

The prom is being held this Saturday at the Hyatt Regency Dearborn. Tickets are $35 per couple.

The song theme will be "Up Where We Belong," from the award-winning movie, "An Officer and a Gentleman."

The evening will begin with a prime rib dinner served at 7:30 p.m. with dancing from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. The evening doesn't stop there, however, as some parents are planning to serve a late night/early morning breakfast, says senior class treasurer, John Pappas, who is Elizabeth's twin.

Elizabeth is planning to attend the prom, but thinks her evening will start around 4:30 p.m. This, she says, is because there are a lot of parties before the prom really

John participated in the organizing of the senior activities, with the help of this year's senior class sponser, Barbara Le

To organize the prom, says Le Beouf, the senior class officers got together to help the class get a band and order the food. They also took care of ordering the memory booklets, prom glasses, and brandy sniffers — all mementoes that the students will receive at the prom.

318 students plan on attending the event, slightly more then last year.

Both Elizabeth and John are looking forward to their first year at the prom, as well as the other upcoming senior class events.

These include the Honors Convocation at 7 p.m. June 9 at the high school; baccalaureate at 9 a.m. June 12, and graduation at 7 p.m. June 17. Then, also on June 17, is the senior all night party.

It's 'Northville, U.S.A.'

Amerman re-creates history

Elementary students last Wednesday told the story of the settling of Northville in "Northville, U.S.A."

The program for parents and friends began with "Canoe Round" and "Westward Ho the Wagons," a duet sung by Katy Lloyd and Maria Wen.

Other soloists telling the tale included Julie Howard, Dennis Grey, Laureen Harp, Carl Brown and Ron Grana, Sarah Carrington, Lisa Joseph, Jenny Hesse, Alicia Gustaf, Paula Scheurman, Julie Norback, Laura Whichella, Jocelyn Wiedman, Nicolle Ouelette, Julie Hilfinger, Colleen Hesse, David Buckland, Mindy Hoover and Kelli

From "Five Hundred Miles" sung by David Gillihan and Julie Pierman, accompanied by a chorus, the program continued with "Northville Bells" and "Here Comes the Band."

Other soloists were Barby Woodruff, James Luther, Courtney Gazlay, Annie Ross, Joey Forte, Michael Held, Jeanna Hineman, Tracy LaPrise, Chelsey Slaghter, Valerie Schuerman, Lee Hyland, Robert Foulkrod, David Perotta, Karry Hesse, Tana Chadoin, Karen Baird, Amy Mathes, Teresa McConville, Kelli O'Hare, Ryan Hyland, Joel Luther, Christen Gazlay, Bridget O'Doherty, Kristen Ross, Chuckie Hugener, Gretchen Peters, Dave Felicilli, Noreen McGuire and David Murray.

In the pageant early residents important in the history of our town were portrayed by students.

They included Joseph Yerkes by Dennis Grey, William Yerkes by Ron Grana, Hester Yerkes by Carole Schneider, Joshua Simmons by Bobby Cavill, Hanna Simmons by Jennifer Barber, Captain Dunlap by Philip Lickman, Sarah Dunlap by JEnnifer Dragon, Robert Purdy by Yvonne Beebe, Mrs. Purdy by Sue Settles, Daniel Cady by Rachel Held, John Miller by Mandy Berlinski.

Others were A.B. Markham by Jauren DiGrande, G. P. Benton by Byron Miller, Reverend Sylvester Cochrane by Beth Gettig, Sarah Cochrane by Carolyn Braasch, Sam Little by Tom Ursel.

There also were many "aliens" with parts taken by Keven Carter, Scott Byam, Jim Meyers, Jon Dickenson, Scott Priest, Bill McCulloch, Colleen

In words and song, Amerman Hesse, Jessica Fee, Jill Tomalty, Dana Clementary students last Wednesday Goscinski, John St.Clair, Anthony Nichols, Stephanie Davidovich. Danny Walsh, Maria Candela, Jed McDaniel, Tim Arndt, Jenny Beyersdorf, Tom Norgren, Kathy Alexander and Glen

> Others in historical roles, many based on Jack Hoffman's book, "Northville the First One Hundred Years," included Dave Felicelli as L.W. Hutton, Bill Butske as a railroad man, Jennifer Lewis as Dr. Mary Lapham, Ray Duff as B.A. Parmenter, Chris Johns as Wallace Parmenter, Matt West as Sam Wilkenson, Julie Zwiesler as Mrs. General Custer.

Still others were Andy Norgren as Bruno Freydl, Laurie Darrow as Mary Freydl, Bridget O'Doherty as Emma Freydl, Donna Wilhelm as Mrs. Freydl, Mike Smith as James A. Dubuar, Todd Wolfe as Henry Ford, Peter Beyersdorf as Henry Hall, Jason Sherman as Jim

Steve Griffith weds Laurie Buszta in First Presbyterian Church rites

Laurie Ann Buszta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Buszta of Birmingham, became the bride of Steve Griffith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Griffith of 16441 Homer, in a double ring ceremony April 8 at First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

The ceremony was officiated by the Reverend John Mischler. Soloist was Pamela Edwards of Lansing, fiance of the bridegroom's brother.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown with a beaded bodice. The skirt extended into a cathedral train. The gown was enhanced with Venise lace on the cuffs and hem and flowered appliques on the back.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of bridal pink roses, white and lavender freesia and baby's-Suzette Machuta served as matron of honor. Kim Lovelace was honor maid. Lisa Sly and Lark Felczak were bridesmaids.

The bride's attendants wore rose satin off-theshoulder gowns and carried bouquets of pink and rose tiger lilies made by the bride.

John Delinski was best man, with Dale Griffith, Jerry Buszta and Steve Sly serving as ushers.

A reception for 140 guests was held at the Regency West of Redford immediately following the

The bridegroom is employed as an electrician at the Plymouth Center for Human Development. The couple honeymooned in Las Vegas. They have made their home in Canton.

Parade tops Memorial Day events here

By JEAN DAY

While the upcoming long Memorial Day weekend will find some residents taking advantage of the holiday to open cottages or enjoy a spring trip, many others will be in town, lining Main Street for the Memorial Day parade at 10 a.m. Monday and going on to Rural Hill Cemetery for the always-impressive memorial tribute in the veterans' plot.

Highland Lakes residents will be having a family day with picnics and a pool and deck party beginning at 1 p.m. Sunday at the clubhouse. Also scheduled is a clubhouse luau from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m. July 23.

Highland Lakes Women's Club is planning an outing to past president Kay Russell's cottage near Brighton on June 16. The club, which now has a membership of 51, also has scheduled a Christmas Walk with three condominiums to be open and decorated for the holidays on December 15.

Church plans farewell events for Reverend Branstner

Northville First United Methodist Church is scheduling special farewell events for the Reverend Guenther C. Branstner who is leaving in June to become senior pastor of St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Bloomfield Hills, officially beginning his duties there June 19.

The annual youth club banquet at the church tonight will be a farewell to the minister. The dinner will start at 6 p.m.

A church reception for the Reverend Branstner will be held from 7:30-9:30 p.m. Friday evening, June 10, in the church fellowship hall. The community is welcome to come to say

All who are interested also are invited to hear his last sermon on June 12.

Cruises popular with local couples

Two Northville couples already have enjoyed a cruise vacation aboard the Home Lines' newest luxury liner, the 30,000 ton M.V. Atlantic which sails from Port Everglades, Florida.

Dr. and Mrs. Sam Scheinfield of 42931 Seven Mile and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Dock of 331 Center signed on together for the 10-day cruise to five Caribbean ports, including stops at the islands of Curacao, LaGuaira, Grenada, Martinique and St. Thomas. Both doctors are osteopathic physicians with practices in Northville.

Courtney Hamilton's a little miss in pageant

Courtney Hamilton, daughter of Mr.and Mrs. John Hamilton of 47915 West Six Mile, has been selected to represent Northville in the 1983 state finals of the Michigan Miss Charm state scholarship pageant, in the Little Miss Division, being held at 2 p.m. June 5 at Santia Hall in Keego Harbor.

Courtney, who is six years old and a kindergarten student at Moraine Elementary, has special interests in dance, music and horses. She is a member of Our Lady of Victory Church.

The pageant, called a youth development program to promote leadership and cultural arts at local and state levels, has five age divisions. Courtney is participating in the youngest.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The monthly Northville PTA-PTSA News, which appears the last Wednesday of each month throughout the school year, will conclude this month. The PTA-PTSA News has been compiled this year by volunteer Linda Handyside. She was responsible for coordinating material from the publicity persons in each elementary and junior high school.

In addition, Carole Litzelman of Our Lady of Victory's Parent-Teacher Organization compiled information about OLV's activities and Nancy Lawrence wrote about events at William Allan Academy.

AMERMAN

The Amerman Flower Sale ends today. Flowers are to be picked up at the school gymnasium between 1:30 and 4

June 10 will be a busy, fun day for Amerman students and their families. The Art Fair will be held in the school courtyard from 5:30-7:30 p.m. An ice cream social will be held on the school playground starting at 6:30 p.m. Cakes, pies, cookies and workers are still neeed. Volunteers should contact Laurie Slagter.

Final roller skating party of the year will be held on June 14 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Skatin' Station in Canton. Cost for the morning event will be only $1 to cover the price of skate rental. Parents are welcone to attend with the children. More information will be sent home from school nearer the date ot the party.

As a part of child safety identification program sponsored by Rotary in cooperation with Michigan State Police, many children at Amerman were fingerprinted as a means of permanent identification. The only copy of these prints is to be held by the parents and will be released only to them. Fingerprints will not be sent home with the children. Parents should pick up the forms at the Amerman school office.

MORAINE

Coming up soon is Moraine's Science-Art Fair, to be held the first week of June. Art and science projects done by students at all grade levels will be on display from Wednesday, June 1 until Friday, June 3. On the evening of June 3, parents are encouraged to come to school to see the projects and to hear a short instrumental music presentation. The PTA will be sponsoring an ice cream social the same evening, selling hot dogs, chips, drinks and, of course, ice cream sundaes.

Next year's PTA officers have been elected, headed by Karen Poulos, who will serve as president. Other officers include vice president — Barb Erickson, corresponding secretary — Joan Kolassa, recording secretary Barb Kowalski, and treasurer, Lynn Elsesser. More people will be needed for various committees; so it's not too late to get involved. Contact one of the officers mentioned above, or plan on attending a PTA meeting, held the first Monday of each month in the school

Students at Moraine were fingerprinted recently. In cooperation with the Rotary Club, PTA members assisted in seeing that those students with parental permission were fingerprinted, with parents receiving the prints for future use.

A big thank you goes to the people who donated precious nour day, April 23, to work on Moraine's ever-improving playground. Wood chips were spread, and work ties were cut and secured by the following hardworking crew: Norma Beemer, Dennis Cassady, Tom Cook, Duane Cook, Wendy Drost, Joe Dunkerley, Joyce Dunkerley, Brenda Garner, Mike Kowalski, Paul Potter, Jim Shepard, Jim Sullivan, Lorne Ebel, Chris Ebel, and students Brad Cook, Dennis Cassady, Nicky and Scott Drost, Matt Beemer, Sue Kowalski, Brent and Gregg Garner, Nicole and Brad Ebel June 2 from 6'8 p.m. A new addition this will conduct the service.

ORTHODONTICS

Donald M. Wayne, D.D.S., M.S.

Speaking of thank yous, many people deserve thanks for the excellent musical program of April 28, but especially music teacher Sandra Craig. Her many hours of hard work preparing for this presentation resulted in an excellent program. The students did a great job, and the audience enjoyed the presentation very much.

There will be a half day of school today as teachers plan for final activities of the school year. The school year will conclude on June 16 for students and June 17 for teachers. We wish everyone a pleasant summer, and look forward to seeing you again in the fall.

SILVER SPRINGS

"Celebration Time" is an appropriate theme for Silver Springs' endf-the-year activities.

As part of the Michigan Week festivities, Silver Springs' students planted five new shrubs in the front of the school. They also planted a flowering crab tree in the rear of the school. Students participated in the annual 'Balloon Send-off" where every child lifted a balloon and is hoping to hear from the recipients. The students in Janice Henderson and Mary Rochon's rooms joined by third and fourth graders from Winchester School performed for the public in the town park May 14 under the direction of Ann Jar-

The PTSA sponsered the annual PTSA/Teachers luncheon held May 25 in the library. Parents provided salads and deserts and the PTSA provided a meat and cheese tray. This is our finest opportunity to let the staff know how much we appreciate their efforts!

As the final days of the 1982-83 school year come to an end the PTSA has made memory/autogragh books for the use of our sixth graders during their sixth grade party. The PTSA has also announced its gift to the student body of a last day skating party. Students are invited to the Skatin' Station on June 16 from 9:30 to 11:30 with admission being paid by the PTSA. Students will be expected to pay for any skate rentals needed. We know that this will be a day that all students will remember!

The student council has held its election for the new school logo to replace Snoopy. The winner will be published in the next school newsletter which will be out next week.

The following students will have their artwork framed for the Silver Springs Art Gallery located in the school lobby: Gretchen Cryderman, Sean Harris, Nikkole Reynolds and Michelle Smith. In a special presentation, the artwork of Melissa Petro will be presented to the board of eduacation for its art gallery in the board offices. Congratulations!

Many, many thanks to the 1982'83 Silver Springs PTSA officers for their outstanding commitment to school programs and progress. Congratulations, also, to all parents who have contributed time and energy to the growth and well*being of Silver Springs.

1983'84 officers for the Silver Springs PTSA were elected at the May meeting. They are: president, Kathy Reavy; vice president, Ellen Van Noord; secretary, Linda McMillian; and treasurer, Diedre Scherb.

Everyone is welcome to attend the next PTSA meeting at 9:30 a.m. June 7 in the Roundell.

Meads Mill became "Dogpatch Junior High" on May 17 for the Sadie Hawkins dance with the girls doing all the pursuing!

Jon Steinhauer, our school Spelling Bee champion, placed second in the Regional Spell-off.

Cooke's student council visited our school for a day, and our student council members went to Cooke earlier this

At the Forensic State Tournament held in Ann Arbor, Chris Stassinos and Kim Abraham took second place and Lisa Huatt took sixth place.

May 3 the parents of next year's seventh grade class had an evening orientation program. It was especially helpful in giving insight into the electives offered, as the teachers were in their rooms to discuss their courses, show shop projects made, and several band students played.

Sixth grade band students from Winchester and Silver Springs visited to meet Gary Gandolfi, the band instructor, and play for him.

Principal Ronald Horwath and the counselors, Mr. Adair and Mr. Radwanski, want to Moraine, Silver Springs and Winchester to help next year's students choose their electives.

As a kick-off to Michigan Week, on May 14 our students' art work was displayed in store windows in town, our choir sang and our band played.

Industrial Arts Awards were given to several of our students for their shop projects. John Frisbie got a first place for award for a shelf system and Ken Evola got a second place for a pen set in plastics class. Rob Cavender got a fourth place for a trunk he make in Woodworking. Jeff Terwin and John Stewart received regional honors for boxes they made.

"The Mill" beat Cooke in their track meet May 11 (to even the score from losing to Cooke in swimming last winter).

The top five scores of all our seventh graders in the Michigan Mathematics League Math Contest were combined to give a school score for seventh grade, placing Meads Mill first in Wayne County and third in the state. The top eighth grade scores placed us first in Wayne County and fifth in the state. Mike Chiang and Kevin Haas qualified for the state finals of the Michigan Teachers of Mathematics Contest, held at Central Michigan University May 21, by finishing in the top 25 places of the regional contest held at University of Detroit.

The Algebra Concepts class participated in the Pythagorean division of a national contest, and building winner was Ken Booth. The Algebra I classes participated in the Euclidean division, and our building winner was Tim Munsell.

COOKE

Many Cooke students received awards this school year; these are some of them:

Those winning The Daughter of the American Revolution Award were Michelle Morgano, first place; and Nancy Merrifield in second place.

The Cooke Spelling Bee was won by two eighth graders, Heather Martin in first place; Deborah Marsh in second.

The Detroit Free Press Scholastic Writing Contest, Gold Key award winners included the following ninth grade students: Maureen Clancy, for poetry; Tom Walters and Mike Tabaczynski, for short story entries; and Laura Rebain, sketch

Those ninth grade students receiving honorable mentions from the Free Press contest include: Paula Ficyk and Jim Totten for short story entries; and Margaret Schmidt for her sketch.

Eighth grade student Doug Ayers also won an honorable mention for his sketch.

Ninth grade students receiving commendation from the Free Press contest include: Scott Peterson, for his short story entry; and Laura Hepler and

Dave Kaminski for their sketches. Seventh grader Jennifer Hanson also received commendation for her sketch. The following eighth graders won the Free Press "America and Me" contest: First place, Daug Ayers; second place, Vera Kalas; and third place, Mary Parkinson.

Doug Ayers also took fifth place in the state awards and received a $300 savings bond.

The winners of the Michigan Math League Award were eighth grader Mark Bertagnolli, and seventh grader Erin Carroll. Both received superior achievement.

Ninth grader Beth Ross won the national French contest and placed fifth locally. She also received an honorable mention at the state level.

The following students won the Northville Library Bookmark Design Contest: seventh grader Kara Goscinski; eighth grader Leslie Norbeck; and ninth grader Mellanne Urbahns.

The following seventh graders received Industrial Arts Education awards: Eric Krieger won first place in the open division, rifle; Steve Skinner received first place in woodburning and second place in bandsaw box, woodworking; and Guenter Albrecht won third place for his octagon box.

Eighth grader Cathy Getty received sixth place in the Industrial Arts Education Awards, for her heartshaped box.

Seventh graders receiving regional honors include Todd Fee for his yarn caddy; Paul Getty, for his cutting board; David Nelson, for his lapdesk; Mike Simmons, for his slide-top box; and Tom Skynar for his toy airplane.

All are congratulated for their wonderful accomplishments. Sue Hinds

OUR LADY OF VICTORY

As the OLV school year draws to a close, the pace of events seems to be accelerating.

Mrs. Walle, our curriculum specialist, presented one enrichment activity planned by her first graders - two one act mini - plays. Enjoying a break in the weather and school routine, OLV students participated in their annual field day activities. Field trips by first and second graders under the guidance of Sally Swift and Kathleen Ramseyer enjoyed Ann Arbor's Exhibit Museum of National History. Eighth grade students, too, are enjoying their trip to Toronto.

The PTO general meeting proved to be informative and exciting as well.

After the new board for 1983'84 was elected, Mrs. Thompson gave those present some information on the new report card grading system. Following the presentation was the drawing for the $25 package of tickets for Fun Nite this was won by the Roslinski family.

 Adding to the fevered pitch and excitment of the upcoming OLV PTO Fun Nite on June 3 are the weekly drawings for prizes from those names of students buying their presale tickets for the event. Fun-Fun-Fun is planned for all school, parish and Northville community members who are invited to attend this event which will begin at 3 p.m. and run until 9 p.m. There will be in school games, crafts, moon walk, bookswale, dunk tank, entertainment and food. The concluding event will be a Millionaires party complete with music from 7 p.m. until midnight.

Last, but not least, the new OLV PTO is busy setting up the next school year agenda of activities. Anyone interested in working on a committee should contact Carole Litzelman at 348 3221.

Mustang 9 kick up heels in WLAA title bid

Sure, the soccer team looks like Dimitroff homered, then added an RBI maybe the state's best. Sure the double and RBI single. Longridge women's track squad is having its best season ever. Sure the Mustang tennis crew is enjoying a banner year.

But coach Fred Holdsworth has his own ideas about who deserves some attention, and he has a point. His baseball team just notched three more wins last week, all against league opponents, and that brings the Mustangs' season record to 10-3, one game behind division-leading Walled Lake Western, as the season enters its final week.

It's been a different hero every game for the Mustangs. Just when the pitching lets up, the hitters come through, and when the hitting gets cold, the Mustangs get some solid pitching.
So attention, please.

NORTHVILLE 11 PLYMOUTH CANTON 7

It was sweet revenge for the Mustangs this time out, as the Chiefs had handed Northville two of the team's three losses this season.

Mustang hitters ruled the roost against Canton pitching, with the big blows coming from red-hot Dave Longridge and Andy Dimitroff. Longridge connected on a three-run round-tripper to left to stake the Mustangs to an first-inning 3-0 lead, and double and RBI single. Longridge finished the game with five RBI, adding a two-RBI double in the fourth, while Dimitroff finished the game with three.

Also adding RBI clout were Todd Bartling, whose two hits included an RBI single in the third, and winning pit-cher Jim Thomson (4-1, 2.76 ERA), who singled in a run, also in the third.

Thomson raised his season record to 4-1 with the win, oing the distance and allowing five earned runs, six hits, four strikeouts and seven walks.

Northville hitters continued ripping the ball, connecting for 11 hits in support of Dimitroff, who drew his first starting assignment on the mound this season and left Holdsworth wondering where Dimitroff had been.

The senior, who mostly has been assigned to catch or DH, went the whole way in the Mustang win, scattering four hits, striking out four and allowing zero bases on balls.

The Mustangs got their runs on RBI doubles by Dimitroff and Longridge in the first inning, plus Dan Nielsen's one-RBI double in the fourth, but the big shot came from Jerry Pawlowski's tworun homer in the sixth. Steve Frellick singled in Bob Pegrum, who reached second on a single and a stolen base after Pawlowski had cleared the bases. Frellick and Nielsen each had three hits in the ballgame.

NORTHVILLE 4 LIVONIA CHURCHILL 3

Pawlowski did it again, this time socking a solo homer in the bottom of the fourth that cut an early Churchill lead to 2-1. But the key shot of the game came from big first baseman Steve Schrader, who had seen less playing time as Holdsworth decided to go with his hot hitters.

The 6'5" junior socked a two-run pinch-hit triple that tied the score in the bottom of the fifth, then came home with the winning run on a Charger er-

Picking up his third win in as many decisions is the southpaw Holdsworth has branded "a real find," Doug Doyle. Doyle went all seven innings, giving up only two hits and one earned run. Doyle mixed a slingshot fastball and a sharpdipping curve to strike out five while walking three in his appearance Friday, giving the junior a 1.81 earned run average on the season.

The Mustangs are scheduled for a pre-district qualifying game Friday at 3

No soph jinx for Panowicz

Speedy track star nets two firsts in regionals

By now Cindy Panowicz is getting to be old news, and she's still only a sophomore. Here's the latest, though: the Mustangs' premier runner, potentially the best athlete to come through Northville High School, qualified last weekend for state finals in three events - the 110 and 300 meter hurdles, and the 200 meter dash.

At the Class A regionals in Brighton Friday, Panowicz collected all 30 of Northville's seventhplace points, taking firsts in the 330 yard hurdles in a scorching 45.3 and in the 220 yard dash in 26.1. Both are her personal best times and she added a second with another personal best in the 110 hurdles, clocking a 14.7, one tenth of a second out of first place.

Impressive? Panowicz nearly qualified in the long jump, too — matching her previous best would have sent her to the state finals easily. But her 16-6 placed fifth, just out of qualification (only the top three places go to states)

Women's track coach Ann Dayton considers that a blessing in disguise. "Being in four events at the states would probably be too much for anybody, even Cindy," she said.

Although no other Mustangs put points on the board, the level of competition provided the impetus for several more personal bests to be registered.

In the two mile, junior Kelly Wool finished seventh in 12:06.0 and freshman Wendy Nuechterlein trimmed 20 seconds off her previous best, finishing in 12:18.7. Half-miler Jennifer Trausch notched a personal best 880 time of 2:34.7 as did Kristen Nelsen in 2:38.8. Jennifer Zollars dropped her mile time down five seconds to 6:05.7 and freshman hurdler Lynn Bills clocked excellent times of 50.08 in the 330 lows and 15.9 in the 110 lows.

NORTHVILLE 75 NOVI 48

On Monday of last week, the Mustangs hosted

Novi, a team that is beginning to assert itself after years of hopelessness. But the Mustangs made short work of the enthusiastic Wildcats, mounting a clear lead right from the start.

A Mustang sweep of the long jump offset Novi gains in the remaining field events — Panowicz leaped 16'5¼", Becky Baumann 14'7" and Ann Ryan 13'5¼" for the 1-2-3 sweep. Adding field event points were Margie Wojcicki, who took thirds in the shot and discus, and Trausch and Stiles, second and third in the high jump.

Baumann added a first in the 100 meters in 12.2

Oops! Errors hurt softball 9

Errors, errors everywhere.

The Mustang softballers got a look at both ends of the big E last week, as errors were multiplying like calculators in both a 6-5 win over league rival Walled Lake Central and a three-coat shellacking by Livonia Churchill the umps broke up after five innings, but not too soon to stop the Chargers from amassing a 22-7 score.

NORTHVILLE 6

WALLED LAKE CENTRAL 5 Shortstop Cheryl Berryman clobbered a long solo homer up the alley in' left center in the top of the seventh to break a 5-5 deadlock and give the Mustangs their third straight win.

Sue Keiser turned in one of her better pitching performances of the season, scattering eight hits, striking out four and walking two.

Trish Settles (hitting at a .314 clip) rapped a two-run single in the first inning to stake Northville to a 2-0 lead, scoring Jan Roberts and Judy Morgan.

The Mustangs added another run in the next inning when Jackie Mateucci drew a walk, then ran all the way home when the Viking left fielder simply dropped an easy fly ball off the bat of Lori Housman,

The Vikings gave away two more runs in the fourth, when Mateucci reached base on a error, then came home on another error to the left fielder. Housman, who again reached base on the outfielder's fumble, took that Mustang hitters continued to make third on errors, then came home on a passed ball. It wasn't pretty, but it did tie the score and set the stage for Berryman's seventh-inning round-tripper, her first and the Mustangs' second of the season.

NORTHVILLE7 . LIVONIA CHURCHILL 22

It was the Mustangs turn to prove themselves human the following Friday, as Northville players booted a five innings of play. Even upbeat coach Mary Minor had to concede the Mustangs looked "terrible."

For the Chargers, it was sweet revenge after the Mustangs had mounted one of their most dramatic wins over Churchill earlier in the season. When the umpires ruled Northville down for the count, Churchill had collected 11 hits in addition to the giveaways.

contact. The big blow of the game was Roberts' two-run double in the second inning, which scored two Mustangs who had reached base on errors. Berryman's bat stayed hot with an RBI single in top of the fifth, and the remaining Mustang runs came on - you guessed it — Charger errors.

"We haven't had a lot of luck on the road," Minor noted.,"We're looking for a better performance this week.

Surprising tennis team fights for division title

Netters sink Vikes 4-3 to heat up WLAA race

It's showdown time for the Northville netmen. This week, the Mustang tennis team will clash with Farmington Harrison for the WLAA Western division championship. If the Mustangs pull off a win, they will likely share a three-way tie for first in the division, provided Plymouth Canton whose 6-2 league record matches the Mustangs', also wins this week. A loss would give Harrison first place uncontested.

The Mustangs competed last Friday in the Class A regional tennis tournament at Redford Catholic Central, getting one singles player and two doubles teams past the first round and getting one singles player and one doubles team as far as the semifinals before elimination.

In first-flight singles, Arvind Sreedharan blanked Redford Union's Macolm Turner 6-0, 6-0 to advance to the second round where Catholic Central's Mike Agalin dropped Sreedharan 3-6, 2-6.

Second doubles team Brant Nicholas and John Huston topped a Plymouth Salem duet to advance to the second round, then beat Livonia Franklin's Castleton and Biganski to reach the semifinals. But a pair of North Farmington doubles players shut down Nicholas and Huston in straight sets, 0-6, 1-6.

Also reaching the second round wre Dave Jelso and Keith Dutkiewicz, who topped Franklin's Lyle and Meinke before being retired by Harrison's Isenburg and Wein.

Earlier in the week, Northville reeled off a 4-3 win over underrated Walled Lake Central to raise the team's season mark to 11-2 overall.

NORTHVILLE 4 WALLED LAKE CENTRAL 3

Sreedharan and Rick Vach were easy straightset winners in first and third singles, respectively. Sreedharan topped the Vikings' Eric Pigeon 6-2, 6-3 and Vach dropped Paul Wonsak 6-3, 6-1. Second single Chris Sixt was beaten by Chris Owens 3-6, 0-6 and Tim Campbell, recruited for fourth singles duty, lost to Scott Ford in fourth singles 2-6, 4-6.

Northville needed two wins in doubles to hang on for the victory and got them from Omer Anisoglu and Rich Schohl 3-6, 6-2, 6-1 in first doubles and from Nicholas and Huston in second doubles. Dutkiewicz and Dirk Nowka lost two sets of 5-7 and 4-6 after romping to an easy 6-1 first-set win.

Dave Bach, who heaved a 50'9" toss to Novi place third overall and Mark Knoth, who clocked a third-place 39.82 330 low hurdles time.

For both athletes the efforts were personal bests - for Bach it was a foot and 2:09.53, for second and third, past his previous best and cracked the respectively). Distance specialists Jim 60-foot barrier for the first time. For O'Neil and Rich Nazradi took second Knoth, his 39.82 time was his first below

Northville also chalked up points in relay the 880 relay, although only the top three finishers in each event qualified for state competition. Randy Eppers, Ed Briningstool, Mike Beltz and Knoth took fifth overall with a 1:35.7. The three events gave Northville 12 points in the tourney, well behind winner Ypsilanti.

NORTHVILLE 62 NOVI 70

"I think they underestimated us," said Mustang coach Gary Polley.

"I definitely underestimated them," said Novi coach Bob Smith.

Northville - yes, the same Northville that has only two wins this season under its belt - took the 11-1 Kensington Valley Conference power to the final event before the Wildcats could pull away — and even then, just barely.

Novi was riding high and possibly looking ahead to conference rival Milford later in the week, but according to Smith, the improvement of the squad since the early season shocked him.

"He told me, 'your team has improved more than a hundred percent since I saw it against South Lyon," said Polley, who will step down from the head coaching job after the state finals pext week. Polley, a special education nstructor in the Northville school district, was one of the teachers axed by budget constraints this year.

Taking the only first for the Mustangs in field events was Bach in the shot now," Polley noted.

Novi regained momentum in distance events despite strong showings by Chris Jones in the 1,600 meters (5:01.51, third place), and John Klokkenga and Jim Willoughby in the 800 meters (2:06.33 and third in the 3,200 to pull Northville to a winner-take-all situation in the mile

But Novi clocked a 3:38.86 - only one tenth of a second ahead of Northville -

NORTHVILLE 41 LIVONIA CHURCHILL 91

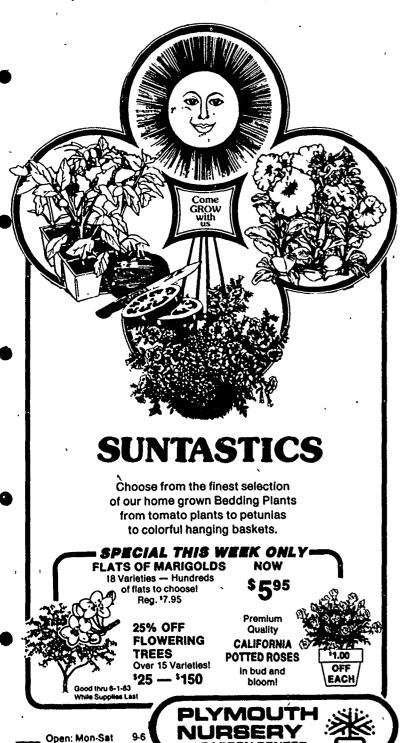

It may look like a wipeout, but actually the meet was one of the closer meets the Chargers have had all year. "We saw their times and we were psyched out already," Polley said. "It's pretty often they score more than 100 points in a meet.

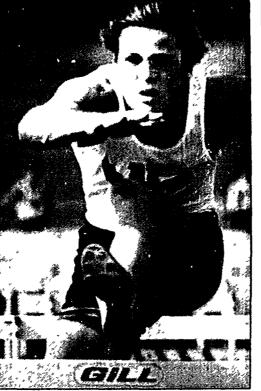

Northville managed only three individual event wins against the Chargers - Knoth's double victory in the hurdles (15.7 in the 110 and 40.5 in the 300) and John Klokkenga's 2:06.0 800 meters (Jim Willoughby placed third in 2:08.0.)

The only other event taken by Northville was the 1,600 relay (Letarte, John Quinn, Klokkenga and Mike Ventura), which did four laps in 3:46.1.

"As good as they are, they didn't have their noses in the air," Polley remarked. "They were helping out some of our guys with some tips, and I think it's a good thing when teams can learn from each other like that.

With one league meet to go, Northville posesses a 1-4 league record, while the Mustangs are 1-5 overall. But Polley is quick to point out it wouldn't take much for that record to be reversed. "If we had won the two mile and the mile relay in each meet, we'd be 5-1

Novi gained ground in distance events with standout distance ace Mindy Park, but conceded he two-mile to Wool, who clocked a 12:13.9 with Nuechterlein continuing her steady improvement with a 12:38.8.

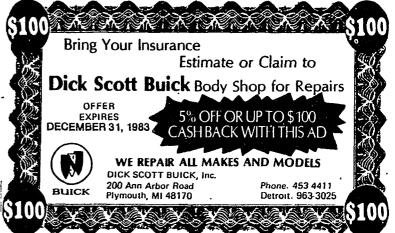

Adding points were Trausch and Nelson, second and third in the 800; and Bills, third in both hurdle events. All three relay teams were easy winners.

NORTHVILLE 48 LIVONIA CHURCHILL 69

The tough Chargers handed Northville its first league defeat on Wednesday, allowing only Panowicz and shot put ace Kim Campbell to win their events and a Mustang near-sweep of the high jump with Stiles going 4'8", Barber second at 4'7" and Trausch tying with two Chargers at 4'7" on Only Wojcicki really excelled her previous bests against the Chargers, hurling the discus ten feet farther than her previous best with a 72'1", although she did not place.

Mustang offense runs wild in wins can't help it.

"I switched my lineups around. I put in subs. I put my defenders on the line,' Meteyer explained. "It's just that the pressure is off us and, when we're loose, we seem to play much better. It's only when the pressure's on we tighten

Unfortunately for the league doormats, Farmington and Livonia Franklin couldn't muster up a lot of pressure, and the division-leading Mustangs erupted for 18 goals against the WLAA teams. Led by a relentless side, blasted an 18-yarder on an assist Honest, folks. Ron Meteyer isn't trying to run up the score on outmatched opponents, but sometimes the girls past two Franklin defenders up the middle of the field and scoring on a hard shot to finish the scoring.

NORTHVILLE 11 FARMINGTON 0

This one, a league game rescheduled from April, got to be almost embarrassing. It took five minutes for the explosive Mustangs to get on the scoreboard and after that things quick-defense that rarely allowed the other teams on Northville's half of the field and an offense that sent enemy goalkeepers running for cover, Nor thville was simply unbeatable.

NORTHVILLE 7 LIVONIA FRANKLIN 0

Franklin was obviously not in the same league as Northville, literally or figuratively. Yet the Patriots will continue in regional finals state competition while the Mustangs will stay home after their elimination by Livonia Stevenson two weeks ago.

Meteyer insists that wasn't on the team's mind, but be the judge. Lisa Cahill posted two first-half goals, getting the first on a centering pass from Tish Johnson and her second on a breakaway to the Franklin goal line. Cahill lifted a narrow-angle shot to the far right corner over the goalkeeper's

Amy Nieuwkoop got the team's se-cond goal at the 18-minute mark, scoring on the rebound of a Cahill shot, 30 seconds before Cahill's second goal. Inside Linda Townsend, one of the team's leading scorers last season and recently recovered from a lengthy illness, tallied the fourth Mustang goal from 18 yards out after pulling the Patriot goalie out of position.

Sue Borthwick made it 5-0 21 minutes into the second half on an assist from Johnson, and converted center half Chris Kreutzberg scored on a scramble following a Jan Irwin free kick. With from Kelly Coutts to open the scoring Cahill scored the first of her three goals six minutes later breaking free at 30 yards out, cutting inside and popping in the insurance goal from 19 yards out on an assist from Johnson.

Coutts slammed home a Cahill rebound for the third, and Johnson took a sweet long cross to the right wing courtesy of midfielder Sue Terwin for Johnson's first goal of the night and a 4-0 Mustang lead.

Just before the half Johnson vollied a corner kick by Sue Terwin on a leftfooter right out of the air - one of soccer's most difficult shots, and one of the most dangerous. The ball rocketed into the back of the Falcon net before the goalie could move.

In the second half, Coutts hit Young on another through pass up the middle and Young netted her second goal on an 18-yard blast. Cahill headed in a Korowin corner kick for her second goal at six minutes, then set up Johnson three minutes later to complete the senior winger's first-ever hat trick. Still not through, the junior notched her own hat trick three minutes later, taking an assist from Korowin. Cahill's goal gave her a school-record 25 goals in only 16

Townsend tallied on a slick play, tak-ing a pass from Nieuwkoop, pulling the Falcon goalie and slipping a shot into the open net. Korowin got credit for a goal when her corner kick ricocheted off a Falcon player into the Farmington net. Then Millen finished off the scoring, taking a cross from Korowin and two minutes left in the game Martina rocketing in a shot from 12 yards out.

Northville resident to

Annette Isom

Isom, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs Robert D. Isom of Northville, will represent St. Mary's College in the 3,000 meters, 5,000 meters and 10,000 meters. Her time of 4:47.00 also qualified her in the 1,500 meters, but she will not comto be held in Charleston, West Virginia, pete in that event.

A 1979 graduate of Our Lady of Mercy participated on excellent track teams at the school. At the collegiate level, she has clocked times of 10:19.9 in the 3,000: 17:36 in the 5,000; and 36:35 in the 10,000, all her personal bests.

Her 10,000 time is second-best in the nation for NAIA colleges, and only one minute off the fastest.

'The girl who ran a 35:35 has run the race more than once and my time was for the first time I've ever run the 10,000, so I think I have a pretty good chance at beating her," Isom said Friday. "When I ran, it was 34 degrees and pouring rain. There were only three people in the race.'

Isom, an economics major with a minor in mathematics and computer science, has also run in amateur competition in Chicago and Pao Alto, Illinois, with the Ford Corporate Club Team, and in South Bend, Indiana, with the Athletic Annex sports store team.
