Medieval days return for kids

Just before storms struck Thursday of last week, dozens of Northville kids and parents were entertained by the Ann Arbor chapter of the Society for Creative Anachronism. The organization is "dedicated to the study 'by doing' of pre-17th Century West European culture," says one of the chapter's founders, David Hoonstra (a.k.a. Daibhidh MacLachlan, David's medieval alias). In a presentation sponsored by the Northville Public Library, the group demonstrated medieval dance and combat customs. Above, Cindy Milner (Lady Angelica) and Joseph Radding (Sir Eliahn) lead the troupe in an intricate dance step while, below, the young audience watches closely. Record photos by Steve Fecht.

Sharron Harlow

Township hires first female officer

By MICHELE McELMURRY

Though she certainly didn't intend to be singled out, Sharron Harlow has made her mark in the field of law enforcement.

On July 15, Harlow became the first female police officer hired in Northville Township — one of only six patrolpersons in the department.

"I decided I wanted to do this about 10 years ago," Harlow explains. "But it was like a dream there was no sense in pursuing."

"The field was pretty much closed to women."

Harlow, who has worked as a dispatcher for the township police department for five years and has been a reserve officer since May, 1979, says she decided to pursue a career in law enforcement as more women began entering the field.

With the help of a supportive husband and family, the mother of two went back to school and eventually earned a degree in law enforcement from Schoolcraft College. Last October, Harlow completed the Detroit Police Academy's 10-week course.

Being the only female officer in the department hasn't phased Harlow.

Having worked in the department for five years, she says she is familiar with the community as well as with the men on the force.

NHS Band goes Hollywood

Northville High School's Band has gone Hollywood.

The band, which performed at Kiwanis Day at Tiger Stadium July 10, found itself being filmed by the crew of the movie "Tiger Town."

According to band director Michael Rumbell, the production company called last week to ask his permission to use the shots in the upcoming movie.

Rumbell, who agreed to the company's request, said the Northville High School Band will be given credit for its participation in the film.

For those who plan to see "Tiger Town" when it's released, keep a watchful eye on the field — and make sure to stay to the bitter end to catch the credits.

Bond issue election slated for October

By MICHELE McELMURRY

In its final study session of the proposed $8 million renovation of Northville High School, the board of education last Monday unanimously agreed to place the bond issue proposal on the ballot in early October.

School Superintendent George Bell, architect John Argenta and the school district's legal counsel will be meeting with state officials this Friday to begin preparations for a targeted October 3 election.

At last Monday's study session, the board agreed that an October election probably would garner more community support than one held in November or December due to other election con-licts and the mailing of year-end tax notices.

In its three study sessions since the release of the Citizens Advisory Committee's Feasibility Study for the high school renovation, the board and administration have requested minor modifications to the committee's proposed outline.

Bell said Friday that the board of education will look at a final scope of the project at its August 8 meeting.

Citing the community support he has received for the proposed renovation, Bell said he wished he "could hold the election tomorrow."

Despite the favorable feedback, however, Bell said he plans to campaign "very aggressively" for support of the bond issue.

The renovation of Northville High School is a major component of the superintendent's long range plan for the district which was approved by the board of education last October.

Should the bond issue be approved by Northville voters in October, ground breaking for the renovation is expected to take place before the end of this year.

Bell said the school board, administration and architects will have to develop a three-phase plan for the renovation. The first part of that plan will be a schematic phase, where architects will identify which areas of the building can be worked on while

Relief sewer cost approved

Faced with the probability of a ban on all new construction in the township if it did not act, Northville Township Board of Trustees voted unanimously Monday night to join in constructing the north arm relief interceptor in the Rouge Valley Sewage Disposal District.

Duane Egeland, acting director of Wayne County Department of Public Works, attended the special session of the board and warned that "the threats are there that there will be the ban." It would be imposed by the Department of Natural Resources.

Egeland presented figures updated by his department this week that listed Northville Township's probable share of the $4,881,300 project at an estimated $484,509.

He emphasized that the construction will not give the township added capacity but will improve overloaded lines that have not been changed since 1929 when they were installed.

The interceptor, which runs roughly parallel to the river, overflows under heavy loads such as occur after a storm and routes sewage into the river. The resulting pollution and likelihood that development would increase the problem are the reasons for the DNR threat to impose a building ban.

Egeland was at the meeting to seek the township's approval of the north arm relief interceptor as he was to meet yesterday with area officials and the Department of Natural Resources on the Rouge System and a proposed compromise on the "super sewer" plan.

He said that "alternates will be discussed at the meeting as Detroit has come up with some attractive concessions." The question posed was whether suburban communities could trust Detroit to do what it promised.

Egeland noted that Detroit does have an oversized treatment plant and with it can "produce a much better effluent."

Egeland also said that if approval is given construction of the north arm could begin in two to three months.

What makes the project attractive,

Large number reserve space for Saturday sidewalk sale

Annual sidewalk sale of Northville merchants in combination with an antiques-crafts street sale promises to be bigger than ever this Saturday. The popular downtown event that always draws crowds has had a record demand reported for spaces.

Traffic will be barred on Main from Hutton to Wing and on Center from Main north to Dunlap during the sale hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

In response to the heavier-than-usual demand for booth space, Charles Lapham, chairman, reports, the area occupied by the farmer's market at Main and Hutton also will be utilized for the first time.

Police Chief Rodney Cannon says he plans to have an auxiliary officer on duty at the intersection to assist shoppers in crossing to the market area as Hutton and eastbound Main from that point will remain open to traffic.

Spaces there will be filled with antique wares. Antiques and collectibles also will be featured along Center. Arts and crafts booths as well as spaces of local organizations will be on Main Street. Lapham says a record 190 spaces have been sold for the antiques and arts-and-crafts.

Merchants will have tables of bargains on the sidewalk in front of their businesses in the annual summer clearaway.

No rain date is planned, Lapham

Township hires first female police officer

KEY EXCHANGE — Northville Township Police Chief Ken Hardesty passes the patrol car keys to his newest officer Sharron Harlow, standing with Jeff Larente (center), who was hired by the department in April

"The guys here are great to work with," she notes. "They've really been good to me."

She says the support she has received from the other officers and from Township Police Chief Ken Hardesty has helped her make a smooth transition from the dispatcher's chair to the patrol car.

"I really enjoy this," she says of her new post. "But it's a whole other world from dispatching."

As a patrol officer, Harlow spends eight hours a day on the road handling runs.

"I enjoy being on the road with people," she says. "When I was dispatching, I never really saw anybody."

However, she is quick to point that her work as a dispatcher and a reserve officer helped familiarize her with the community and the department.

Chief Ken Hardesty also said he believes Harlow's previous work with the department has made her a quick study.

"She's well accepted here," Hardesty says of his newest officer. "She'll do real well."

Hardesty explains that of the estimated 250 applications he has received for the last few department openings, only five have come from women.

He noted that Harlow rated "real high in all areas" on the department's eligibility test — ranking second on the test behind Jeff Larente, hired by the department in April.

Having been on the road less than two weeks, Harlow says she's still adjusting to her new job and to the mounds of paperwork which accompany it.

"Everything you do is documented," she notes, while glancing over a pile of police reports.

For Harlow, being the township's first female police officer is only one of her distinctions. At 31, she explains she also "is the oldest patrol person in the department."

Midge's Meanderings

by Midge Haynie . . .

I was in Ed Jamieson's Travel Plans last week to arrange this year's vacation (Rarotonga, believe it or not). While there, I asked him what his most memorable trip was.

His answer surprised me — China. He and his wife, Barb, and a group of Michigan agriculturists spent 3 weeks touring this fascinating land. All Chinese tours are conducted by the government. An interpreter and guide meets the plane and stays right with the group until departure. Ed said, and proved in photos, the accommodations, transportation and food were first-class all the way. Everyone became very fond of the young woman interpreter and she of them. Now that's a vacation to remember!

What do you do with "not sufficient funds" checks returned, and you are either unsuccessful in reaching the signer or get no cooperation from same? Your answer: The Northville Police Department. They will not only contact the party involved and arrange for cash to cover the bad check but also give you advice in the form of a printed sheet outlining the "do's" and "don'ts" of taking checks.

Loser of the week: the customer who complained in writing to our general manager about the way yours truly handled a "not sufficient funds" check — his second in a row. His solution was to just keep redepositing it until it cleared. Somehow I don't think the banks would agree, and neither do I.

But we have many winner-of-the-week awards:

Scott Lapham for his brave and successful circus venture. Everyone who attended, including our 3-year-old granddaughter, had nothing but raves for the "big top" performance.

Joan Hoffman for her personal note: "You are becoming my second favorite columnist." You can't imagine, Joan, what a lift that gave!

The printer from orange-growing Austin, Texas, who called us Friday to inquire about orange-scented ink. He had purchased the aroma from our local Northville Laboratories for a promotional postcard but couldn't "hold" the scent after printing. He had heard (correctly) that we had printed a Rose Bowl University of Michigan DAILY with rose-scented ink and wanted to know our secret. We told him.

The security guard at our new Orin Jewelers, when asked about his job responded, "It's boring up to the point when 'they' come in with guns. Then I'm ready."

Arch Gamm, recently retired manager of the U of M DAILY and now a new Board member of NPI. Not only a peach of a guy but bringing with him years of valuable experience to share with us. Welcome to Northville, Arch.

Remember us for your next printing order. We do it all, big or small. Ask for Harv or Midge for a no-obligation quote. 349-6130.

October bond issue vote proposed students are in the building.

The second phase will consist of the preliminary drawings of the renovated facility and the third phase will entail awarding contract documents for construction.

Should the bond issue receive voter approval and construction get under way on schedule, Bell said he is hoping students can utilize some of the academic areas of the building by September, 1984.

The renovation project is expected to be completed by September, 1985, at which time the ninth grade will be moved into the high school. A realignment of the present grade structure to a middle school concept was among the components of the superintendent's long range plan and is scheduled to coincide with the completion of the high school renovation.

Of the $8 million proposed for the high school renovation, $4.4 million is earmarked for new construction, $2 million for remodeling, $880,000 for new equipment and $720,000 for fees and contingency.

At last Monday's meeting, architect John Argenta told board members and administrators that approximately $1 million of the proposed $8 million project will go towards alleviating code deficiencies in the areas of fire, health and barrier-free design.

The building currently meets only 1963 State Fire Marshal regulations.

John Street, director of business and finance, said the cost for the high school renovation will not be reflected in increased taxes but through deferred repayment to the State School Bond Loan Fund.

The district currently levies seven mills debt retirement. Approval of the $8 million bond issue would result in a delay in the repayment of the debt retirement millage.

Novi Ambulance complaint

CEMS run without license charged

By KEVIN WILSON

In a complaint strikingly similar to one filed against his own firm last year, Novi Ambulance owner John Early alleged Monday that Community Emergency Medical Service (CEMS) has been using an unlicensed vehicle.

Filing an official complaint dated July 24, Early stated that he had observed a CEMS advanced life support ambulance numbered 710 operating in Farmington, Novi and Redford Township and identifying itself as CEMS unit 714, which was out of service. The complaint was made to Oakland County EMS (OAKEMS) officials and the state department of public health, both of which oversee ambulance services.

CEMS is a Botsford Hospital operation that recently won contracts with several communities to provide police-dispatched ambulance services previously provided by Novi Ambulance.

Early has filed suit against the company's officials and several others charging that a three-day suspension of Novi Ambulance's license last year was the result of a conspiracy to damage his reputation.

CEMS operations director Greg Beauchemin said Tuesday the new unit was used only because the firm was short of vehicles and the fact that it was unlicensed was due to a "lag in paperwork."

Oakland County EMS officials ordered the vehicle removed from service late Monday, and Early said he was told that was all the action to be taken. He objected, calling the action a "slap on the wrist" and recalled that his operation was shut down for three days last year prior to a hearing, although the ambulances he used were licensed.

Documents to have the CEMS vehicle licensed have been filed with the state, Beauchemin said, but technically the vehicle was used prior to issuance of a license.

Early noted that the unit had not yet been inspected by the state, but Beauchemin said the state issues licenses prior to inspection due to a staff shortage. Early responded that permission to use a replacement ambulance is often granted prior to inspection, but that the unit in question was an addition to the CEMS fleet.

Beauchemin said the vehicle was in use "only as an emergency situation" and that the vehicle was not used for two ambulances which burned in Redford July 16.

"We had two vehicles burn — two ambulances mysteriously caught on fire on the road within 10 minutes of each other," he said. Only the week before, he said, two new units arrived from Florida and one was quickly prepared to fill in. Asked why the new unit 710 identified itself on the radio as number 714, Beauchemin said only that the new vehicle did not yet have an assigned number on the radio network because its license had not been processed.

CEMS unit 714 was out of service due to a "problem with the roof" he said and was unusable for emergency runs. Early's complaint to county and state health officials stated that 714 was used July 23 to transport party and picnic goods for a CEMS company picnic.

Although the new ambulance has been removed from service until its license is approved, Early said he is dissatisfied with the response to his complaint.

"They closed me down for three days

— they damaged me, they hung me and all because my ambulance said 'Alert' instead of 'Novi' on it. My rigs were licensed, I was found innocent of the charges," he said. "Now they find these people are running illegally and there's no hearing, nothing. They never even notified me last year. They just out and suspended my license. In this case, they go out there and tell them to take a rig off the road, and that's all."

Early said CEMS could be subject to at least a 30-day suspension of operations for the alleged violation. He said he has requested a full investigation and a hearing on the matter.

OAKEMS director Paul Phelps said a preliminary investigation revealed that the ambulance was unlicensed and that he had received assurances from Beauchemin that it would not be used again until the state issued a license. He said he expected that would be soon, as all that is needed is submittal of documents and a $10 fee, with a state inspection to follow at a later date.

The investigation will continue, he said, and will take 10 to 20 days before it is forwarded to the project medical director for review and disposition.

Township authorizes sewer expenditure township board members noted, is that it is 75 percent funded by the federal government.

Communities involved in addition to Northville Township are Novi, Wixom and Commerce. The total share (25 percent) to be paid by these communities was estimated at $1,342,881.

Egeland told the township officials that it is unlikely at this time that Commerce and Wixom will be interested in participating, but that the size should remain the same and the option left open for them to participate for five years.

He explained that reducing capacity could save no more than 10 percent and that Wixom and Commerce might pay and come in later.

In the meantime Northville and Novi would be picking up their shares of the cost. Northville's actual cost estimated at $183,796, therefore, would increase to $484,509 while Novi's would go from $532,753 to $858,372.

Supervisor John MacDonald told Egeland that the township could pay the charge without going to bonding. Egeland reported that Novi also had indicated it would be able to pay its costs.

The board acted after hearing the recommendation of township engineer

Jack McNeely that he felt the board had no alternative and that the north arm will serve well — "it will take us down to Wilcox Road, and we have to get there anyway."

MacDonald, in asking for the motion, officially noted that the township would not be taking the action if federal funds were not available.

"I don't think we have much choice," he said.

Treasurer Richard Henningsen agreed and moved to enter a contract for financing construction of the north arm relief interceptor subject to the review of the supervisor and attorney.

Trustee C. James Armstrong seconded the motion. It was approved by MacDonald and Clerk Susan Heintz. The meeting was held with just a quorum present. Richard E. Allen and Thomas L. P. Cook were out of town and James L. Nowka was absent.

Construction of the north arm of the relief line, officials were aware, will be necessary no matter whether the township eventually joins the Huron Valley or the Rouge system. It is above the tie-in point of both projects.

Cost of both interceptors, Egeland told the board, is very close. The difference in costs will be at the sewage treatment plant. Egeland said that Tuesday's meeting should result in revised estimates of relative costs by August 5.

The north arm interceptor has existed since 1929 and has never been expanded. In addition to serving the township, Novi and Wixom and Commerce, it serves the City of Northville and most of the area institutions.

Communities consider suit over super sewer

To sue, or settle a compromise — communities in the Huron Valley sewer plan, including Novi, Northville, Wixom and Commerce, are deciding between those two alternatives this week.

"What we would like to see is some sort of legal base for all these claims," said Wixom Mayor Assistant Stephen Bonczek prior to a Tuesday, July 26 meeting of the Huron Valley Rate Review Committee.

The Rate Review Committee consists of representatives from each of the 14 communities in the Huron Valley sewer plan, in addition to representatives from Wayne and Oakland County sewer divisions.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources earlier this month recommended that all communities north of Canton Township break off from the Huron Valley plan and route their wastewater through the Rouge Valley system to the Detroit wastewater treatment plant. Such a move would save the southern portion of the "Super Sewer" plan, including construction of the Brownstown treatment plant.

But the Rate Review Committee may still seek a lawsuit with the DNR to require approval of the entire Super Sewer project as submitted, Ken Bonin of Wayne County's Board of Public Works said.

Asked if the compromise was forwarded by the DNR to placate Detroit officials, Bonin said, "You could conclude that."

DNR officials refused to recommend the project to the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) for grant approval after Detroit officials claimed the Huron Valley system would infringe on sewage flows already contracted to the Detroit treatment plant.

Because of the jurisdictional argument, the DNR released nearly $40 million in 1982 federal funds allocated for the Huron Valley project to other eligible projects.

Northville Township clerk Susan Heintz said the question of whether to sue or not is complicated by "pragmatic concerns" regarding the ultimate solution to the area's need for expanded sewer systems. The DNR will continue to oversee sewer construction programs and compromise could become difficult if the communities elect to sue the department. Time constraints leave little leeway for a protracted court action, she indicated.

The city council and other city officials in Wixom are "cynical and skeptical" of the new plan to route north area effluent to Detroit, Bonczek said. "And I think there's good reason to be," he added.

"This is shaping into the same situation as we just went through," Bonczek said, noting that communities on the Rouge Valley system probably will not look favorably on having their communities dug up to provide sewer lines for north Huron Valley communities.

"We're still keeping the option open of improving our own system," he added.

Board okays use of $14,000 grant for roof project

Northville recreation department will be getting a new roof over its head shortly if all goes as planned.

At Monday night's special meeting of the Northville Township Board of Trustees, the board voted unanimously to accept business manager David Leiko's recommendation to use $14,000 in unused grant monies for needed roofing work on the community recreation building.

The grant money previously was allocated for engineering studies for the proposed senior citizen facility on Wayne County Child Development Center property.

Delays in finding a developer for the project had left the funds unused.

Leiko also reported that city manager Steven Walters will be recommending to city council at its August 1 meeting that the city allocate $3,000 for the roof. The funds are grant money earmarked for a senior citizen greenhouse at the child development property and have not been used.

The $17,000 total, Leiko said, is expected to cover fully the cost of the roof work.

Acting director Pete Talbot said Tuesday he expects that the amount will be sufficient to tar and gravel the roof. The department has not gone out for bids since it did so initially two years ago. Talbot is hoping the new bids may be lower.

Initially, a supplemental discretionary grant was being sought from Wayne County for the roofing work, but it appeared that there was no chance of receiving it, Talbot said, because of the requirements.

As they discussed using the $14,000 for the roof coating, township trustees noted that in the past the city has funded repair work on the building, using an Oakland County block grant for the boiler.

Clambake at Charley's nets $2,000 for boosters club

Northville Athletic Booster Club's treasury is approximately $2,000 richer as a result of the success of the second annual Booster Club Clambake sponsored by Northville Charley's July 17.

Diane Campbell, dining room manager of the restaurant on West Seven Mile, reports that the Sunday afternoon event was aided by many volunteers and by donations of merchants. In spite of the tornado threat the clambake went on with WHND "Honey" radio broadcasting live from a '57 Chevy, and

"Myron and the Deltrons," Campbell says, "kept the place hopping."

Booster club funds are used to aid sporting activities of Northville students of all ages.

In addition to the clambake, the 175-member club of Northville parents sponsors a spring spaghetti dinner, a Northville faculty vs. the Detroit Lions basketball game and other fundraisers.

Last year, the Boosters report, $10,700 was raised in such activities.

Wade Deal is president; Don Klokkenga, vice president; Shirley Klokkenga, secretary; and Sherry K. Bugar, treasurer.

Bugar may be called at 348-1956, or Joyce Liddle at 348-2416 for membership information.

Rotten Sneakers

Northville kids put their worst feet forward in 'Third Annual' Rotten Sneaker Contest'

Twenty-four pairs of Northville's most beat-up, jogged-out, kicked-through, and thoroughly revolting sneakers paraded before three expert judges Wednesday hoping to run home with the title of Northville's rottenest pair of sneakers. Entries were judged on "use, not abuse" in the contest, sponsored by The Recreation Department and Del's Shoes, 153 East Main St., who donated the prizes — a pair of new shoes to the winner, socks and laces to finalists. At left is the champ — 7-year-old Chris Cook, outfitted in a pair of very rotten open-toed tennies. Above, judges Pete Talbot, acting Recreation Department director; secretary Tonni Burns and Day Camp Supervisor Kathleen (Trinky) Platte size up one of the smaller entries. Far right, contest prizewinners show off their "booty," and the sneakers that earned it. Record photos by B.J. Martin.

Wayne County traffic counter damaged

In the township...

A Wayne County Road Commission traffic counter was stolen from a pole on the north side of Main Street sometime between 10 a.m. July 14 and 11:25 a.m. July 15, police report.

A Wayne County Road Commission employee told township police that he chained the traffic counter to a pole on Main Street, west of Springwood, July 14.

He returned July 15 to check the traffic counter and found it had been removed. He noted the lock was removed but the chain was still around the pole.

According to police, the traffic counter was found in the woods on the north side of the road, west of Whipple — only a few feet from where it had been placed.

The traffic counter had been manually taken apart and various parts had been removed.

The complainant told police he was unsure as to what parts of the traffic counter were missing. Damage is estimated at $1,200.

There are no suspects at this time.

Items estimated at $910 were stolen from a 1966 Ford Galaxy parked in a Ravina driveway sometime between 9 p.m. July 17 and 7:30 a.m. July 18, township police report.

The complainant told police that unknown suspects had broken into the vehicle sometime during the late evening of July 17 or early morning of July 18.

The complainant noted that the vehicle was parked and locked in the driveway of the residence. He told police that he found the passenger side door unlocked and believed it was the point of entry. No damage to the door could be found.

Items stolen included a $400 Pioneer cassette which was mounted below the dashboard, two Jensen speakers estimated at $200, a $210 fuzz buster attached to the dashboard, a $20 cassette tape case and 12 cassettes estimated at $80 which were stolen from the trunk.

Entry to the trunk was gained by tearing a vinyl flap that separates the rear seat from the trunk of the vehicle. Damage to the flap was estimated at $50.

The complainant told police he neither saw nor heard anything during the time the incident occurred and has no suspects.

A brick pillar attached to the end of the Highland Lakes sign at Silver Spring Drive and Eight Mile was knocked down sometime between 9 a.m. July 13 and 6:30 p.m. July 19, township police report.

According to police, the damage is believed to have been done by some sort of vehicle as tire marks were noted in the vicinity.

Shrubs planted in front of the the pillar also were damaged. No accidents were reported in that location and the complainant has no suspects.

Damage to the pillar and shrubs is estimated at $440.

Township police are looking for two Hispanic males driving a brown Chevy pick-up truck in connection with a possible theft at a Ridge Road residence.

According to police reports, the two men pulled into a Ridge Road residence at approximately 1:45 p.m. July 18 and asked the owner if they could water-proof the foundation of the house.

The owner told police that while she was speaking with one of the men, she turned to see the other male exit her garage carrying a bucket.

Upon noticing the owner, the man leaving the garage asked the complainant if she wanted to sell her car which was parked in the garage.

The owner said she did not wish to sell her car or have the foundation of her home waterproofed and watched the men get back into the truck and leave.

The complainant described the suspects' vehicle as a late model Chevy pick-up. The complainant told police she checked the garage about one hour after the suspects left and discovered a tool box missing.

The tools were estimated at $100.

A boy's Silver Schwinn 20-inch bicycle was found by a 14-year-old township resident in a field east of White Haven July 19.

The serial number on the bicycle is listed, and the bicycle is being held by township police.

The bicycle is missing the chain and seat.

...in the city

A Northville woman was assaulted by an unidentified male between the entrance doors and turnstyle of Arbor Drug Store, 133 East Dunlap, at 12:45 p.m. last week Tuesday, city police reported this week.

According to police reports, white male, described as six feet tall, age mid-20s with dark blond hair and a moustache grabbed the woman by the shoulders from behind and unsuccessfully tried to pull off her shorts, causing minor skin injuries. When the woman began screaming, the man immediately fled.

The woman, described as "shaken and upset" by the incident, reported the incident the following morning to city police, who are investigating.

City police have received a warrant from the city prosecutor's office authorizing the arrest of Vanessa Morgan of Detroit in connection with the attempted theft of two suits from Lapham's Men's Shop, 120 East Main, on July 11, at about 1:20 p.m.

Morgan was trying to steal the merchandise by concealing it under her clothing when she was caught by Charles and Scott Lapham, it was reported. The woman left the store, but was pulled over by city police as she headed north on Center Street. She was taken to the city police station and arrested on a Detroit traffic warrant there.

Four 14-inch wheel covers were stolen from a red 1983 Ford Mustang Tuesday, July 19, while the car was parked in the lower parking deck of the downtown parking facility on Cady Street between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. The wheel covers were valued at $576.

A nearby 1982 Ford parked on the upper parking deck was also victimized at nearly the same time. Four chrome hubcaps, together valued at $100, were stolen between 10:15 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. the same day. No suspects are reported in connection with the thefts.

A 23-channel CB radio valued at $60 was stolen from the inside of a green 1975 Ford parked in the front parking lot of Cooke Junior High School, 21200 Taft Road, between 7:30 a.m. and 4:10 p.m. Friday. No suspects are reported.

A warrant has been requested by city police for two men who have reportedly confessed to siphoning fuel from fuel trucks and two U-Haul vans kept at Ely Fuel property, 200 Railroad Street last Friday.

According to reports, the men confessed Saturday after being contacted by city police as possible suspects. The men reportedly gained access to the trucks and vans by cutting into the chain link fence surrounding the company parking area with a stolen pair of bolt cutters. Damage in three locations along the fence was estimated at $200, while about $40 worth of gas (approximately 38 gallons) was siphoned off with a plastic tube.

Track cashiers named in 17-count indictment

Racetrack cashiers named in a 17-count indictment charging they aided in preparation of false documents to the Internal Revenue Service in cooperation with alleged ten percenters in the Detroit area have been employed at Northville Downs, among other area tracks, a Downs official said this week.

United States Attorney Leonard R. Gilman announced that a Federal Grand Jury in Detroit returned an indictment against Bennie D. Zizio, Sr., age 66, of Warren and James Gammachia, 59, of Harper Woods. The indictment was returned June 17 and unsealed July 15.

While a few Northville people are employed at the Downs part-time, the majority of the track's employees are full-time track workers who go from Hazel Park to Wolverine and Northville, Margaret Zayti, Downs recording secretary, explained.

Zizio and Gammachia have been full-time union-member cashiers at area tracks.

The 17-count indictment charges them with one count of conspiracy to aid and assist in the preparation of false and fraudulent documents to the IRS and 16 counts of aiding and assisting in the preparation of false and fraudulent documents to the IRS with alleged ten percenters in the Detroit area.

A ten percenter, the statement of the United States Attorney, Eastern District to Michigan, defines as a person who cashes winning tickets and receives ten percent of the ticket value in order that the true winner cannot be identified and need not pay income taxes on the winnings.

The indictment states that Zizio and Gammachia conspired with ten percenters to falsify form 5754 (Statement of Person(s) Receiving Gambling Winnings) for financial gain and to conceal the true winner from the IRS. Maximum penalty for conspiracy, upon conviction, is a $10,000 fine and five years in prison. Maximum penalty for aiding and assisting is a $5,000 fine and three years in prison.

Charged by information were two other cashiers, Neal Kalish, 45, of Brighton, and Basil Fattaleh, 65, of Milford, both of whom also worked at the Downs as well as other area tracks.

They are charged with making Fraudulent Returns and Statements to the IRS. Kalish was charged in a two-count information and Fattaleh was charged in a three-count information with preparing false forms 5754.

Charged by information were two alleged ten percenters; Allison McGregor, 70, of Royal Oak Township was charged in a five-count information with preparing false forms 5754. Maximum penalty under Section 7207 is a $1,000 fine and one year in prison. Leo Kotzian, 40, of Detroit, was also charged.

The 16-count information charges that Kotzian willfully assisted in the preparation of false forms 5754 and signed false names to each form to hide the identity of the true winner. Maximum penalty under Section 7206 (2) is a $5,000 fine and three years in prison for each count.

In making the announcement United States Attorney Gilman cautioned that "an indictment or information is only a charge and is not evidence of guilt. The defendants are entitled to a fair trial in which it will be the government's burden to prove guilt beyond a reasonable doubt."

The statement said the investigation was conducted by the IRS Criminal Investigation Division and Marcia G. Cooke, Assistant United States Attorney.

Downs secretary Zayti said they had not received any official notification of the indictments to date but noted that the IRS has had all of the books and records of Northville Downs since last year.

She added that the track employees are union and serve with seniority. In the past, she recalled, only a few employees — those with the highest seniority usually — handled the cashing of large winnings.

Now, tickets may be bought and cashed at any window.

Crack shots

Northville Township constables James Schrot, right, and Joseph Lukowski display the latest additions to their trophy collections while township business manager David Leiko, center, holds the certificates of achievement they have been awarded. Schrot earned his seventh trophy, third place Class A, in Michigan State Police combat shooting and Lukowski his third trophy first place, Class B (he also has two other awards), at a three-day seminar in Muskegon June 10-12. In addition to carbine, shotgun and combat range shooting, the seminar covered liquor laws, traffic stops and high risk stops, with demonstrations.

City investigates cemetery upkeep

City officials are investigating the possibility of contracting Rural Hill cemetery work to a private firm rather than using city employees.

Councilmember G. Dewey Gardner asked city manager Steven Walters to provide a breakdown of the costs incurred by the city for maintenance of the cemetery.

With those figures in hand, Gardner indicated, he would like to compare them with what it might cost to contract for the work.

Rural Hill maintenance and operations presently are done by city DPW employees. Loss of the work to an outside firm would be the second such job removed from their hands in two years. Last year, the city began contracting for trash removal, which had been a DPW task.

Layoffs of several employees resulted, and the local union is pursuing the issue in court, contending its members had higher seniority rankings than did other city employees who were retained.

City DPW manpower usage is reported to council monthly, but does not include other information needed to analyze the cost of operating the cemetery, Walters said.

The figures are available, however, and the city manager said he would have them prepared for council study.

Plan to cut population of patients at hospital

By KEVIN WILSON

Programs that should reduce the patient population at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital (NRPH) have been approved by the Wayne County Community Mental Health Board.

Aiming to cut admissions levels at the overpopulated state mental health facility on Seven Mile Road, the county board has moved to strengthen community placement and support programs in the Detroit, said NRPH director John Reynolds.

"It's been the thrust and desire of the department (of mental health) for some time to reduce the population at Northville," Reynolds said.

'It's been the thrust and desire of the department (of mental health) for some time to reduce the population at Northville.'

— John Reynolds
NRPH director

"We would no longer be responsible for some areas of Detroit," Reynolds said. "Instead of serving 17 catchment areas in Wayne County, we'd serve only 12. Gradually, by adding more beds, we hope to reduce it from there."

The second major effort, for which the county board recently approved a $478,000 grant expenditure, is to improve and expand community placement programs in Detroit.

More beds will be available in community care centers and there will be more services available to assist patients without their having to return to the hospital.

Included would be outreach programs by the county mental health department, and partial day services. The latter, Reynolds explained, include occupational therapy, counseling, learning centers and the like.

"They are very good programs and by offering them to people in the community you reduce the need for them to come back to us," Reynolds said. "They'll have the programs out there to keep them (in the community) instead of coming back to the hospital."

County mental health director of programs Jarold Adams estimated the reduction in admissions from three service areas in the mental health network — Central Detroit, North Park and Southwest Detroit — would amount to 25 percent.

Reynolds estimated the combined efforts could reduce patient admissions to NRPH "from the 5,000 per year we see now to about 4,000 a year. That would be a tremendous help to us."

Without making significant additions in staffing levels, he said, the Department of Mental Health hopes to have NRPH up to 90 percent of ideal staff to patient ratios by September 1984.

At present, he said, NRPH houses over 1,000 patients at a time and varies from 75 to 80 percent of ideal staffing levels. By this September, he said he expects the figure to reach 80 percent and begin climbing.

The expanded community placement/support program would work with the following private care providers: New Center Community Mental Health Corporation (CMHC), Kirwood Community Services and Southwest Detroit CMHC.

By reducing the number of patients, Reynolds explained, the ratio of staff to patients is improved to allow better patient care and supervision.

Two techniques are to be used to cut admissions to Northville, Reynolds explained, which together could reduce the number of patients coming to Northville each year by up to 20 percent.

The first effort is to add beds in private mental institutions, he said. Thirty-eight beds each were recently approved for both the Detroit Psychiatric Institute and Michigan Osteopathic Medical Center, he said.

Continued efforts to add more private care facilities in the region should reduce the load on NRPH.

Sidewalk sale reservations record set says, noting that there never has been a severe storm during the sale. Merchants and those taking spaces, he explains, usually cover their merchandise if it rains. Historically, rain has never lasted the entire day of a sale.

Those reserving booth space may begin to set up at 7:30 a.m. Earlier arrival, Lapham stresses, will not help as workers will be marking off the spaces until that time.

Organizations planning to sell food and other items include Mizpah Circle of King's Daughters whose annual bake sale will be in the town park opposite the clock, Northville High School Junior Class, Northville Pom Pom Girls, Lioness Club and Friends of Northville Library.

The Friends report that fiction, art, cooking interests will be covered in hard back books and paperbacks in the sidewalk sale. Susan Foster, who is overseeing the Friends' sale, reports that among the books will be sets of the 1981 Thomas Register Catalog File, an important collection of information for people beginning small businesses.

Also available will be colorful Newsweek editions on countries. Copies of National Geographic magazine will be free.

In general, hard back covers will sell for 50 cents and paperbacks for 25 cents.

Proceeds will be used to purchase special items for the Northville library.

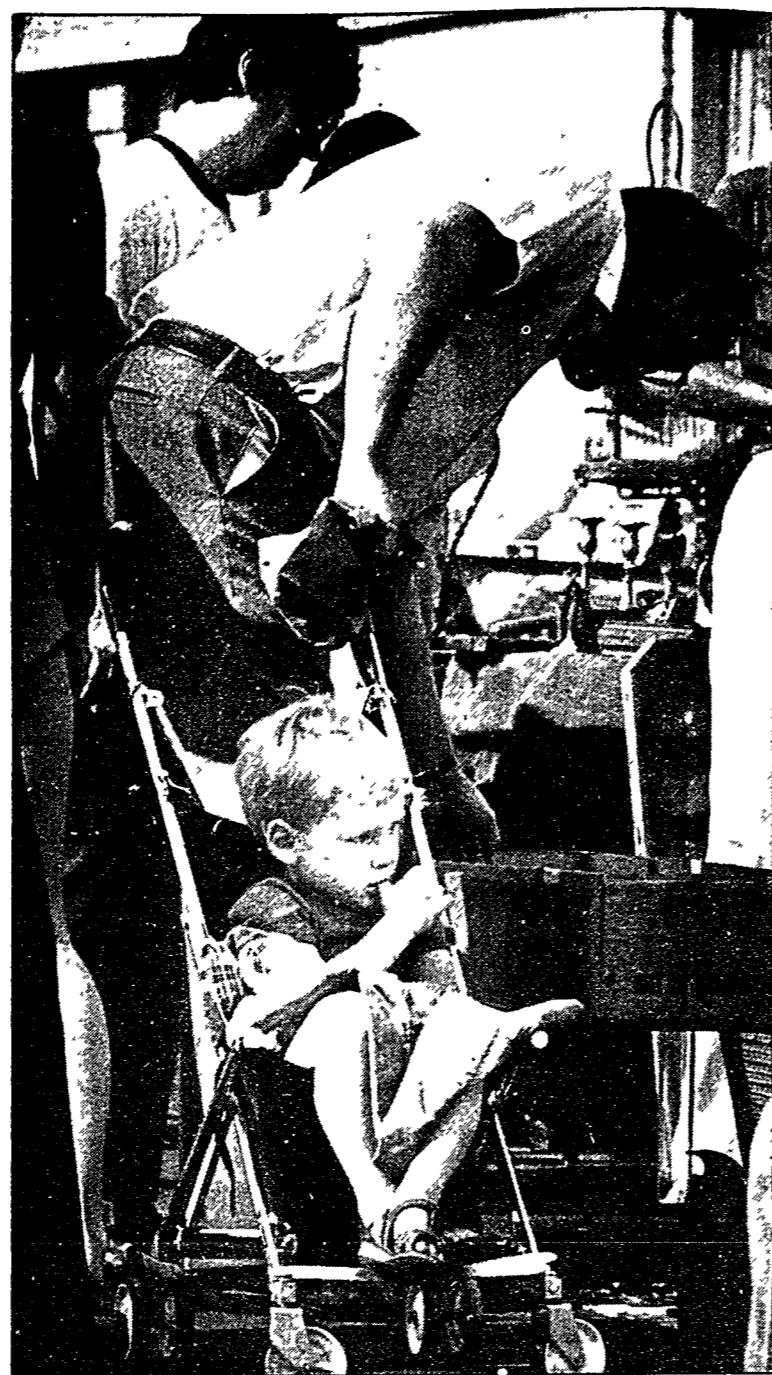

The Friends currently are underwriting the cost of placing back issues of The Northville Record on microfilm. They also are purchasing an atlas case.

The group also will be selling for 25 cents originals of pictures used in The Northville Record in 1981 and early 1982 and donated to the Friends for the sale.

Anyone interested in joining the Friends may sign up the day of the sale or at the library. Membership fee is $2, chairman Val Cook reports. Assisting chairman for the sale is Edith Dunbar.

CHECKING IT OUT — Sidewalk sale activities of last year are likely to repeat themselves, with browsers like Jenda Mills of Northville (at left) paying particular attention to the books at the Friends of the Library booth while youngsters like 3-year-old Nathan, son of Wayne and Jackie Looijter pass the time with a friend while mom and dad hunt bargains. Record photos by Steve Fecht

Antiquing

Northville's annual summer sidewalk sale would not be complete without booths filled with antiques. Saturday's sale, scheduled from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., will include more antiques than in previous years due to the heavier-than-usual demand for booth space. In addition to the antiques and collectibles featured on Center Street, this year's bargain hunters also can shop for Depression glass, crocks, country collectibles and other antiques at the corner of Main and Hutton. The square, which normally occupies farmer's market, will be filled with antique wares. This year's 190 spaces of antiques and arts-and-crafts along with merchants' tables of bargains is bound to bring out crowds. Pat McLean, featured above, was one of last year's many shoppers. Record photo by Steve Fecht.

Red Cross offers advice for hot weather dangers

These dog days of summer should be called the most dangerous time of year, says Kevin Killeen, director of Safety Services of the Southeastern Michigan Chapter, American Red Cross.

"Torrid temperatures can affect the body in various ways," he explains, "and the manifestations include heat stroke, heat cramps and heat exhaustion."

Killeen says the Red Cross offers the following tips on handling such emergencies:

• Heat Stroke — This breakdown of the body's ability to perspire can be fatal and medical attention should be sought as soon as possible. A heat stroke victim has an extremely high body temperature, a rapid and strong pulse, and red, hot dry skin. The person may be unconscious.

The first step is to cool the body. Undress the victim and sponge off the skin with wet cool towels moistened with water or rubbing alcohol.

The victim can be placed in a tub of cool water until the body temperature is sufficiently lowered. Use a fan or air conditioner to maintain the cool body temperature. Be sure not to give the victim stimulants. The cooling procedure may have to be repeated. It is vital that the victim receive medical care.

• Heat Cramps — This early sign of heat exhaustion is characterized by muscular pains and cramps. Leg and abdominal muscles are apt to be affected first. Give the victim sips of water, one-half glass every 15 minutes over an hour's period. Exert pressure with your hands on the cramped muscles, or gently massage. Use warmth (heating pad or hot water) to relieve the spasms.

• Heat Exhaustion — A condition characterized by fatigue, weakness and collapse. Heat exhaustion victims usually complain of great weakness, nausea, dizziness and perhaps cramps.

The skin is pale, cool and clammy. The victim should be placed in a shaded, cool place and provided sips of salt water. Clothing should be loosened and the victim placed in a prone position with the feet raised about a foot above head level.

To prevent heat exhaustion before it occurs, Killeen says, the Red Cross recommends the following five steps:

"Torrid temperatures can affect the body in various ways and the manifestations include heat stroke, heat cramps and heat exhaustion."

— Kevin Killeen, Safety Services director

— Stay in the sunlight only for brief periods.

— Avoid exertion.

— For those who must work under the sun, take frequent rest breaks.

— Drink plenty of non-alcoholic, non-stimulant beverages.

— If without air conditioning, use a fan to circulate air. Open windows to promote circulation.

Killeen also recommends eating nutritious meals during warm weather to maintain strength and seeing a doctor if you have special health problems or are on a special diet.

For more information or to register for a Red Cross first aid course, contact Safety Services at 494-2746. Advice on these conditions and others can be found in any Red Cross first aid textbook.

Historic site's shop

Local scouts travel to Alberta

Destination: International Jamboree

By B.J. MARTIN

Many former Boy Scouts will recall that the pinnacle of the scouting experience is to take in the International Scout Jamboree, and swap cultural briefings, tales, patches and neckerchiefs. Ten scouts from Troop 755, Northville did exactly that this month, making the trip to the 10-day Jamboree in Calgary, Alberta. And the experience delivered as expected.

"There were surprises every day," said Alan Griffith, an Eagle Scout in Troop 755 who made the trip. "Arabs and Israelis were right next to each other at the Jamboree. We were told before not to discuss politics."

Scout leaders and Jamboree organizers have always hoped the meeting-ground for youth (not just boys, now — 10 percent of those who attended the jamboree were girls) around the world would at least help provide a chance to promote international peace through the sharing of goodwill and cultural experience.

Altogether about 15,000 scouts from more than 100 countries joined Griffith, Tom and Marty Broderick, Mike Lapham, Charles Gross, Sean Harrington, Alan Griffith, Eric Wheatley, Kevin McNeely, Ken Jacobsen and Chris Maloney, all from Northville, in Calgary just in time for the famous Calgary Stampede.

Several of the Northville scouts who attended had already been to the 1982 National Jamboree, but all agreed the International was a much more stirring experience.

Among the activities at the jamboree — too numerous for anyone to participate in all — were hikes into the Rocky Mountains, lacrosse, whitewater rafting, demonstrations, motocross, obstacle courses and simply socializing.

One of the methods scouts used to interact with those of foreign countries was through the use of special jamboree "passports."

"Every country (setting up camp) had a stamp, and you could just go from camp to camp collecting them," said Gross. "It helped us to meet people, gave us a reason to talk to them."

The Northville group hit it off with scouts from Yemen and South Africa and camp neighbors Iceland, Netherlands, Canada and an American group from Texas.

The Northville scouts — in fact, many of the Americans at the jamboree — acquired a reputation as "businessmen" for their frequent trades of scouting paraphernalia, mostly colorful patches from different countries.

The group from Troop 755, Scoutmaster James Lapham, and other Detroit area scout leaders began planning the trip six months before leaving. Altogether, a contingent of about 30 scouts from the Detroit area formed a traveling troop representing the U.S. East Central Region.

Troop 755, with its 10 representatives, was acknowledged as one of the largest groups from an individual troop to participate in the Jamboree.

Monthly meetings mapped out the itinerary, which began June 29 with a flight into Seattle, Washington. Then a bus was chartered north to Vancouver and northeast to Calgary, across the mountains.

The scouts arrived in time for starting ceremonies, which featured welcoming addresses to the multitude of scouts on hand, all bringing their individual troop and country flags. The Irish music of the Rovers group provided entertainment opening day.

After an active 10 days, the scouts jetted home from Calgary Friday, July 15, laden with International Scout memorabilia and stacks of photographs of the festivities.

International Jamborees take place every four years and are succeeded each year by an International Conference, which this year took place at the Hyatt Regency in Dearborn. The next Jamboree will be held in Australia.

What's Wrong With Alcohol?

Dr. James Luther

Abraham Lincoln said it well: "Liquor has many defenders, but no defense." The Facts prove him right. Thousands die annually in alcohol related accidents. Homes are broken, health is ruined, and suffering increased because of alcohol abuse.

Alcohol compounds the crime problem. Over forty-three percent of all crime is directly related to alcohol. In the case of homicide, nearly two-thirds of all murders are committed under the effects of alcohol. Alcohol victimizes its users who in turn make victims of others (read Proverbs 23:31-32 and Habakkuk 2:15).

While alcohol chains millions, the grace of God has unshackled many who once were slaves to drink. Mel Trotter is a well-known convert. So pitiful was his condition that he was tempted to remove the shoes from his dead baby to sell them for drink. Later, he shared the miracle of his faith in Christ:

"There was not anything that I knew about that I had not gone through. I had taken cure after cure. I had taken everything known to science; and had made resolution after resolution. But just one glimpse of Jesus Christ, and I have never wanted a drink from that instance to this!"

Holloway attempts to accelerate mining trial date

Holloway Sand and Gravel has filed a motion to accelerate the trial date for its sand and gravel mining suit against Salem Township.

John Brennan, attorney for Holloway, said this latest motion is scheduled to be heard today before Judge Henry Conlin in Washtenaw County Circuit Court. Two weeks ago, Conlin took Brennan's motion for a summary judgement on the mining permit under advisement.

Brennan said his client is anxious to have the mining question settled since temporary permission for an asphalt plant on Holloway's property at Six Mile and Napier has already been granted by the judge.

"If we can get this settled, it will save a lot of truck traffic and dust since Holloway won't have to truck the aggregate in for the asphalt," Brennan stated.

The mining permit is just one portion of an extensive suit brought by Holloway since the township denied in April its request for permits for the asphalt plant, sand and gravel mining and a landfill expansion next to the present landfill/ski slope operation.

The state Department of Natural Resources (DNR) has recently approved

Holloway's request for a permit for the landfill expansion.

Brennan said Friday that in his opinion the state action pre-empts the authority of the township. "With the DNR approval we (Holloway) have a right to construct the start of the landfill," he said. "They (the township) may have the right to regulate its operation in accordance with its zoning ordinance."

"I believe this (superseding of township authority by the state) has been supported by court action in Washtenaw County in a case concerning Augusta Township," Brennan added. "Judge (Ross) Campbell issued a decision that Michigan Public Act 641 (governing solid waste management) contains language that pre-empts the township's authority to grant or deny.

"I believe that that (state authority over solid waste management) was one of the rationales for the legislation in the first place. You have to have some uniformity for landfills because they transcend local boundaries."

Attorney Jerry Mitchell, representing a Salem citizen group that is fighting the landfill expansion, said he believes the DNR decision was "poor" and that it imposes a "terrible burden of 300 to 1,000 trucks a day" on area residents.

Confirming that the citizen group has asked him to look into alternatives for fighting the decision, Mitchell said he is studying whether to proceed to seek an administrative appeal before a hearing officer or to counsel the citizens to bring suit. "There will be continued citizen action," he added.

"I feel the people were misled in their understanding of the understanding between Holloway and the township," Mitchell explained. "They were not told the whole truth. They expected the landfill/ski slope to be completed by 1988. Now, I think Holloway just used this (the ski slope construction) as a foot in the door and had no intention of stopping. I believe he planned to phase in the new landfill as he phased out the old one.

"If the expansion went through, the landfill would not be completed within the life expectancy of these people. They will always have to live with the dust and odors."

Mitchell added that he feels the DNR should have at least looked at some mitigation for the residents of the landfill area since most of the waste going into the landfill comes from outside Washtenaw County.

Commission requests rehearing on Oakland factor

By CINDY HOOGASIAN

In an attempt to overturn the June 22 determination by the Michigan Court of Appeals that the State Tax Commission (STC) erred in its methods of setting 1981 state equalized value (SEV) for property in three counties, the STC has filed a motion seeking a rehearing of the case before the appellate court.

STC Chairperson Robert Vandermark said the STC has been joined in the request for rehearing by the state attorney general's office. According to Vandermark, a number of issues were left unresolved as a result of the appellate court's earlier ruling. He said of particular concern is whether the decision must apply to all 83 counties in Michigan, or only to the three involved in the appeal.

Washtenaw, Lapeer and Oakland counties all appealed the STC's 1981 state equalized value, with Washtenaw and Lapeer stressing the need for allowances when considering the sale of properties through creative financing. Those two counties contend that creative financing methods often result in inflated property sales statistics, unfairly representing the true value of property in the county.

Oakland County's attorney in the tax appeal, Leo Goldstein, concerned himself primarily with the STC's imposition of a six-percent factor on county residential properties. Goldstein successfully argued that residential property values in Oakland County were declining from June 1981 through tax day, December 31.

Goldstein argued that a weighted 12-month sales study showing the declining market value for residential property was correctly used in determining the county equalized valuation of Oakland's residential lands.

Oakland County Director of Equalization Herman Stephens equalized the residential property at $9,075,300,224, while the STC determined the SEV to be $543,923,652 higher.

By increasing the SEV of residential properties by six percent, Goldstein contended that assessments on such lands were set at rates higher than 50 percent of market value as of tax day. Michigan's constitution states that properties may not be assessed at more than 50 percent of market value.

SEV is usually determined by a 30-month sales study, which the STC contends gives an accurate picture of market value for properties and results in uniform equalization methods statewide. However, Goldstein argued that in a declining market, the results of a 30-month study yield an artificially high market value for property.

The appellate court ruled in favor of Oakland County, remanding the issue back to the STC for resolution. The appeals court also said some allowances for creative financing methods of sales must be developed. That issue, too, was handed back to the STC for resolution.

"The STC is claiming the judges ruled wrongly, really," Goldstein said. "The STC claims they gave consideration (to the counties' positions) based on the facts in their files. The STC said our arguments had no merit and the court shouldn't have ruled as it did."

"I think they're (STC) probably stalling for time and they don't want to lose their right of appeal, so they filed a motion for a rehearing."

Goldstein said the STC's motion was filed July 7 and that he would file an answer opposing the STC's motion by today (July 27).

As to Vandermark's stated concern that the court's decision could apply to counties statewide, Goldstein expressed strong doubts.

"I can't see how it would apply to all other counties," Goldstein remarked, "because they didn't file an appeal. Therefore, they must have been happy with the STC's decisions."

"It's like a homeowner appealing his or her property assessment and getting an adjustment. Does that adjustment then apply to the neighbor next door? Of course not, because the neighbor did not appeal his assessment. They're (STC) trying to cloud the issue."

Goldstein expressed confidence that the appellate court would not agree to rehear the case.

"I don't feel their brief is that persuasive to cause the court to change its opinion," Goldstein remarked. "It's up to the court's discretion whether to grant a rehearing. If the appellate court denies the motion, the STC can then ask the state supreme court for a hearing."

While the struggle to resolve 1981 equalizations continues, Vandermark has met with attorneys and equalization directors of the affected counties.

A meeting conducted in Lansing on July 15 was held to address procedures for 1984's equalization processes, according to Stephens.

"That meeting went pretty good," Stephens said. "The STC and the attorney general's office are discussing the problem (appellate court ruling), which creates a lot of problems at the state level, as well as the local county, city and township levels."

"We were trying to get procedures for 1984 set forth in line with the court of appeals' thinking. We hope some procedures for 1984 will be worked out. We have had excellent cooperation from the STC and attorney general's office and that (July 15 meeting) was a nice working session for the purposes of discussing the whole thing."

"Equalization methods for 1984 will be discussed with the equalization directors of the counties involved. But it's far too soon to tell whether rebates (of tax dollars) will be required (due to the court's determination)."

Oakland County has set aside $2.5 million in case rebates of county tax dollars are decided on as a result of the tax factor appeal. This is possible because millage is paid on the basis of SEV, and an inflated SEV results in over-collected tax dollars.

Depot Days festival coming next week in South Lyon

In just nine days, McHattie Park and downtown South Lyon will be transformed into bustling areas of activity as Depot Days 1983 begin.

Depot Days organizer Sean McAde said plans are progressing well with some changes in the schedule of events. But of paramount importance at the present time, McAde said, is selling tickets for the round-trip train ride from Pontiac to South Lyon.

The Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) has scheduled a special run of a passenger train for Depot Days. This will mark the first time in 26 years that a passenger train has stopped in South Lyon.

Any South Lyon area citizens interested in taking a bus to Pontiac so they may ride the train back to town at 11:30 a.m. August 6 are asked to contact McAde at L.J. Lintner's Kitchen Emporium at 437-2180. McAde explained that tickets for the train must be sold by August 1, or SEMTA will cancel the run.

Tickets for the train ride and all concert events slated for Depot Days are available at Showerman's IGA, Country Acres General Store, Ships 'N Shelves, Lyon Book Den, Michigan Artist Supply and the Kitchen Emporium, McAde said. Tickets are also on sale at all Convenient Ticket Center (CTC) outlets.

In addition to the unique transportation to South Lyon, Depot Days guests may also take advantage of the horse-drawn carriages and wagons, shuttling people between South Lyon's downtown and McHattie Park all three days of the festivities.

Providing easy transportation from downtown to the park is important because city merchants are having their annual sidewalk sales during Depot Days. Old-time craft demonstrations, such as blacksmithing, spinning and candle dipping, will also be conducted in the downtown area.

McAde said some changes have been made in the line-up of performers slated for the summer festival. Replacing Crystal River on August 5 will be the group Airbourne, an assemblage of local musicians, McAde said. Sudden Exposure is also performing on that day, featuring the talents of several local residents.

A disc-jockey dance has been slated for the evening of August 5, instead of dancing to live music. Admission for the dance will be $1, or $4 if tickets to the performances of Airbourne and Sudden Exposure are also purchased. That means dancers can take to the floor for only 25 cents, if they attend both afternoon performances.

Dorozo's will handle food concessions August 5, offering pizza and submarine sandwiches for sale. Other food will be offered for sale by the Kiwanis Club and Dick Benson, as well as Country Acres. An ice cream wagon will also make the rounds.

At noon August 6, Benson's B&B catering will prepare a chicken barbecue and sweet corn. McAde said $3.75 will purchase a half-chicken, cole slaw, potato chips and a roll. The cost is $2 for children under 10, who will be served a quarter chicken.

Country music will waft through the air on August 6 between 1 and 6 p.m., provided by Dale Keller, Debbie Lynn and Wanted and A.C. and the Kentucky Fox.

McAde promised an interesting light show when rock performers RATZ take the stage. Kid Gloves and RPM will perform rock standards, while British new-wave band The Stars That Wouldn't Shine treat listeners to original music during their first North American tour.

Ann Arbor performers Doptel Ganger will also play new-wave rock Saturday night.

Other special activities slated for August 5 and 6 include astrological consultations by Marcello, a mock train display in the Witch's Hat Depot Museum basement and Bible reading on the Depot's porch by Pastor Richard Denig of Salem Bible Church.

A fireman's waterball contest will be held in the park on August 6, and a display of fire trucks will also be on site.

If it rains during Depot Days, activities will be held in South Lyon High School's cafeteria and hallways, McAde said.

Our Opinion

David Bolitho in his new office

Bolitho welcomed

David Bolitho's new appointment as principal of Northville High School comes at a time of considerable transition for this district — and particularly for Northville's only senior high. This past year has been marked with many changes — most a result of a new direction brought to the district by Superintendent George Bell.

We are encouraged by Bolitho's enthusiasm for his new post. To be placed at the helm of the high school during what may be one of its most crucial years certainly will require an enthusiastic and dedicated leader. We believe the new principal has these qualities and wish him well in his new position.

The changes proposed at the high school for the upcoming school year will need thoughtful consideration as well as careful direction. Among the challenges facing Bolitho in the 1983-84 school year are implementation of new graduation requirements, a revised open campus policy, preparation for next spring's North Central evaluation and most importantly the proposed renovation of the high school facility.

Though he only has been at his new post for a month, Bolitho is quick to grasp the magnitude of the job ahead. He has voiced concern over the school's "image" problem and has taken steps to involve students, staff and parents in changing the school's negative image — which has long been a thorn in the side of the district.

We also are pleased to see the new principal take an active interest in the community. With a proposed bond issue to be placed before voters in October, it is essential that the community be assured that the high school is in good hands.

It's B.J. Martin

The new face on view in the editorial page Off the Record feature last week belongs — along with the column — to Bruce Martin, who has been The Record sports writer since April 13. The column was his first Off the Record observations. Unfortunately, the lack of a byline escaped the notice of those proofing the page.

Bruce, however, is no stranger to anyone involved in sports. He has been covering meetings of the recreation commission and keeping track of Northville sports programs. He wrote many stories promoting the community's first field day July 3.

He writes under the byline B.J. Martin — to avoid any identity confusion. A lifelong Michigan resident, Bruce was born in Pontiac, was graduated from Detroit Country Day School and received his journalism degree from the University of Missouri. He has become a Northville city resident with an apartment in town and is becoming a familiar face in the community — but next time we'll identify him.

Off the record

By Kevin Wilson

Where are today's 'giant leaps'?

Bet you can tell me where you were 14 years and one week ago today. Told why they should know, most people old enough can recall where they were on July 20, 1969, when Neil Armstrong first stepped onto the moon.

Yet the anniversary went virtually unremarked last Wednesday. Admittedly, 14 isn't exactly one of those round numbers that spurs us to consider an anniversary significant. It's important to me, I suppose, because I've just finished reading James Michener's novel "Space" and the moon landing just happens to approximate the midpoint of my life to date.

I was approaching my 14th birthday and recall that I got to stay up late on that school night to watch the momentous television pictures of men — American men whose careers I had been following for what then seemed forever — walking around on the surface of the moon.

Fourteen is old enough that I was beginning to understand the national debate over the cost of the space program, yet young and naive enough to believe wisdom would prevail and that Armstrong's steps would indeed represent a "giant leap for mankind." I thought the moon landing the start of a great adventure.

The space shuttle notwithstanding, we instead turned our backs and walked away. When historians finally get a decent perspective on the events of the past 20 years, our sudden abandonment of manned space exploration may rank with Vietnam and Watergate as crucial turning points in the American psyche.

As the youngest, most vigorous and pioneering of nations on earth, it was, many thought, America's role to lead mankind into space — beginning with the moon, on to the planets and eventually to the stars. If America has suffered a blow to its self image in the past decade — if, as seems clear, we have lost the faith in our own ability to tackle any challenge — there is no stronger indication than this symbolic turning of our eyes away from the stars and onto our own navels.

In retrospect, as Michener hints in his book, the long-range exploration of space might have been better-served without the political baggage of the "space race" and President Kennedy's commitment to put man on the moon within the decade.

A less romantic series of unmanned explorations followed by construction of a space station would probably have set us on the road to the stars sooner. Had there not been the pressure to beat the Soviets, the moon landing could have come a few years later as part of a program to explore the entire solar system instead of becoming an end in itself. Yet, without that political pressure and the resulting popular manned program, there very likely would have been no money available at all. Catch-22.

I was too young to understand that, of course. So I was shocked when we virtually abandoned NASA once the glamor job was done, the "victory" over the Soviets secure. Within five years, NASA was operating on an appropriation less than half of that it had in 1969. Last year, the space budget was cut again. This year, a further 15 percent slash is being called for, though it may be restored if NASA can convince the administration it is making best use of every penny. The only real money going into space is routed into the military quest for the "new high ground." Hardly the peaceful aspirations to a "giant leap for mankind" of which we spoke not so long ago.

Two major efforts of the past 10 years — the Viking landing on Mars and the Grand Tours of the Voyagers — are arguably more scientifically valuable than was the moon landing, and cost less. But in terms of revealing a national commitment, of sparking the imaginations of our people and demonstrating our abilities, they approached zero value.

I started reading Michener's fictionalized account of the space program while camping recently. Far from city lights on these hot, clear summer evenings the stars still dominate. As a boy, I'd lie on my back and stare at them for hours, certain that we'd reach them, if not in my lifetime then in my children's or grandchildren's. It would be like going home — our earth, the planets, even our bodies are composed of matter forged in the furnaces of the stars and accreted in the vast emptiness between them.

Fourteen years after the moon landing, my little boy is taking his own first, small steps. On the cosmic scale, we are no better off than this baby — still clinging to the furniture while eyeing the vast spaces beyond. Sean moves faster every day; I pray his country can keep up. Right now, the best we can do is to park a space truck in orbit close to our own planet. Maybe when he's 14.

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

I shouldn't have told them in the first place.

But Rule One of the Jerome School of Staff Relations is to share interesting news with my staff.

"Guess what?" I asked brightly, knowing full well I'd have to interrupt their feeble guesses after 20 minutes to tell them the news and relieve their anxiety.

"I'm going to judge a beauty pageant Friday."

Now I knew that my staff of intelligent young women would never question my qualifications for judging beauty. After all, how can a man be surrounded by beauty all day and not learn to recognize it?

What I had failed to perceive was the depth of their feminism ... the type of thinking that considers beauty pageants only slightly less odious than nuclear war.

"How could you?" they asked in unison. "Where's your respect for women? How could you sit there and pass judgement on such an ethereal thing as female beauty while these women are paraded in front of you?"

"Well, there's no bathing suit competition," I responded meekly, trying to assuage their fears and avoid further abuse.

"And the contestants range in age from 22 to 60."

I could see I was making slight progress so I continued. "It's sort of an inner beauty pageant. You know, we're supposed to judge the total woman. Physical beauty will play a part, but as far as I'm concerned intelligence, personality, education, vocational accomplishment and service to humanity will rate highest in my book."

"What I'll be looking for is the woman who's a credit to her gender and all human-kind ... a woman who has her feet on the ground and her goals in the air ... a woman of intelligence who is forging new frontiers and creating a new society based on the principles of truth, justice and freedom for all from sea to shining sea."

It was a magnificent speech, and I could tell they were awed by the fervor of my convictions. Only one problem remains — if someone akin to Madame Curie doesn't win that beauty pageant Friday, I figure I'm going to be in a lot of trouble.

Praises Field Day event

To the Editor:
I was pleased to see your editorial supporting the continuation of the field events on the Fourth of July weekend. As a participant in some of the events and a judge of others I was very much impressed with the efforts of the chairman, Liz McCarville, and acting director, Pete Talbot. The Jaycees of Northville are also to be commended for participating in this event.

I would hope that next year we could get all of the forces in the community to make it an even bigger and better part of the Fourth of July weekend in the Northville Community.

Getty's testing for gas

Production test wells located at the Holloway landfill site at Six Mile and Napier in Salem Township are producing gas which is currently being burned off as the Getty Synthetic Fuel Company seeks to establish the quality and quantity of the methane contained in the landfill/ski slope.

The Salem Township board received a written progress report from Getty at its July 5 meeting. The report states that Getty completed flux box testing at the site on May 21 and that six production test wells have been installed with production testing beginning the week of June 20.

In addition, the report states that Getty representatives met on May 26 with Michigan Consolidated Gas Company and established contract terms for the sale of the gas. Management of both companies was slated to review the contract in late June or early July.

In January 1981, the massive landfill was being projected as being capable of producing methane gas at a rate of approximately two million cubic feet a day.

An agreement between Salem Township and Holloway Sand and Gravel reached in March 1981 would divide on a 50/50 basis the standard one-eighth (12.4 percent) royalties from the methane gas once it is in production. The township owns 77 acres of completed landfill at the Napier-Six Mile site, while Holloway owns another 88 acres now being filled.

Under earlier agreements between the township and Holloway, the deed for the acreage where the ski slope is under construction is held in escrow. The deed will be turned over to the township on the completion of the ski slope in 1987-88.

However, a recent lawsuit brought by Holloway against the township in connection with possible expansion of the landfill seeks to set aside these earlier agreements. If the Holloway company is successful in its suit, the property now owned by the township and that in escrow would revert back to the landfill company.

Review needed of industrial tax abatements

By GERALD H. LAW
36th District
State Representative

A resolution calling for a special joint committee to review the state's experience with industrial tax abatements was recently introduced in the Michigan House of Representatives.

I co-sponsored the resolution because several questions need to be answered about the use and affect of industrial abatements.

We need to know whether the tax abatements shift the property tax burden to homeowners and grant tax relief to firms which would have renovated facilities or built new ones in given areas even without the tax incentives.

The tax abatements were enacted in a 1974 legislative package containing economic incentives designed to stimulate Michigan's economic development.

Most significant among the measures was the Plant Rehabilitation and Industrial Development Act. Under the Act's provisions a local government may establish plant rehabilitation districts and industrial development districts and offer industrial firms certain property tax incentives to encourage restoration or replacement of obsolete industrial facilities and to attract new plants.

As part of this process, a firm may apply for and be issued a certificate which exempts the facility from personal property taxes for a period of up to 12 years. According to Michigan Department of Treasury statistics, from 1974 through December 1982, 372 certificates had been issued for replacement facilities, while 2,479 have been issued for new facilities.

After being used for nearly decade, I think it is essential for the Legislature to study the strengths and weaknesses of tax abatements. Have they provided the stimulus for industries to develop in certain areas? What effects, if any, have they had on property taxes for school districts and property owners?

The proposed committee should determine whether these abatements have helped, as intended, the expansion of business activity and the retention and addition of jobs in Michigan.

Youth Corps workers tackle the mess in Rouge River

The infamously messy Rouge River is getting a clean-up this summer.

Michigan Youth Corps workers under the direction of the Rouge River Watershed Council began removing junk from the Northville portion of the river last week, local representative Lee Fidge reported.

The crew will return later this week or next, aiming to reach the northern terminus of the project near the Northville Ford plant.

Fidge, who is a Plymouth township trustee, prepared the grant application to have Youth Corps employees remove rubbish from the river out to 15 feet from shore between Northville and Dearborn Heights. State funding was outed through the Wayne County executive's office.

The 14-member crew working the Northville area is part of a $576,450 program employing 360 youths focusing their efforts on the middle branch of the Rouge in the Middle Rouge Parkway.

Clean-up of the 17.5 mile stretch through seven communities may take most of the eight weeks allotted the program, but Fidge said she hopes it can be completed in time to give some attention to a few miles of the upper Rouge in Redford Township also.

Workers collect and remove debris that has accumulated in the river and on its banks, including logs, railroad ties, construction materials, picnic tables and various kinds of litter.

Fidge said the workers have found old tires, appliances and other items in the river.

As they work, the youth corps employees, who receive minimum wage ($3.35 per hour) except for 40 supervisors earning $5.46 per hour, are mapping locations of large log jams and other obstacles for later clean-up by county road commission employees. The latter use heavy equipment not available to the youth corps workers.

In fact, Fidge said, the clean-up teams were working early last week without even the minimal tools assigned them. "They're just wading out there and dragging stuff out," she said. "They haven't even gotten their tools (axes, saws and the like)." She said she was impressed with the enthusiasm and hard work of the young people assigned to the river clean-up tasks.

Workers pile the rubbish removed from the river at roadside for later pick up and disposal. Most of the work done last week was in the area of Waterford Bend, just north of Six Mile between Northville Road and Hines Drive.

Fidge estimated that, had the county used its own employees or a contractor for the clean-up, it would have cost in the neighborhood of $2.1 million.

The Michigan Youth Corps is the state-financed summer jobs program supported by Governor James Blanchard as an effort to alleviate youth unemployment and give young people work experience that may help them in applying for private sector jobs.

Most of the jobs provided have been in the area of public works and improvements.

Cooperation cuts cost for Fourth

City police expenditures in support of the Fourth of July celebrations in town were reduced by roughly one third, thanks to assistance from the township department, Chief Rodney Cannon reported to city council at its last meeting.

Cannon estimated the manpower cost of traffic control for the various events during the Fourth, from the parade through the fireworks, at roughly $900 this year, compared to $1,300 reported last year.

The figure is exclusive of fringe benefits costs contingent on the employees' total earnings, he noted, saying actual staffing costs for the Fourth could be estimated at 31 to 33 percent higher than the $900.

The city also absorbs other costs not yet totaled, notably that of overtime paid city DPW workers involved in activities on the Fourth.

Councilmember Paul Folino, who requested the figures, said he was pleased to see the township cooperation had helped realize savings to the city and called for more such cooperation in the future.

"This is the sort of thing I was hoping for," he said, "when I asked you last year if maybe the township could not help out."

Noting that the costs under discussion were not the only ones to be considered, Mayor Paul Vernon suggested all costs incurred during the Fourth be tallied.

"That is as much a donation as is our contribution to the fireworks," Vernon said. "We should show those figures to the Jaycees to make sure they understand what we are facing here. Perhaps it would do some good when it comes time to talk about how much we are to donate."

Child health clinic offered in Oakland

The Oakland County Health Division will continue to offer child health conferences to area residents living in Oakland County, but effective August 3 the clinic site will be Ten Mile Community School, 32789 Ten Mile, Farmington, instead of William Grace Elementary in Farmington.

Hours will remain 8:30 a.m. to noon on the first and third Wednesday of each month.

This service is available by appointment for all Oakland County residents who cannot afford regular health check-ups for infants and preschool children. Children must be enrolled before their second birthday.

Business, government cooperate at landfill

LDC president John Layman stands near landfill excavation site — note protective plastic lining installed

By LAUREL ADELMAN

Problems between Lyon Township and The Lyon Development Company (LDC) were once abundant, but now it's hard to imagine there were any at all.

"Today we have a very good relationship," said Bob Seccombe, Lyon Township Board Member and member of the Oakland County Solid Waste Planning Committee (OCSWPC). "We are working out of a plan of cooperation."

LDC operates a landfill in Lyon Township, located at the southwest corner of I-96 and Milford Road.

Strife between Lyon Township and LDC began in 1977, when LDC filed a lawsuit against the township after Lyon denied a rezoning request that would have allowed the company to expand its landfill site. Subsequent to that action, the township filed a suit charging that LDC failed to properly finish its landfill.

By November 1981 all the lawsuits were settled and the Lyon Township Board okayed an agreement with LDC President John Layman.

"At one time we had a lawsuit with the township over zoning," said Layman. "We finally got together and worked it out to our mutual satisfaction and benefit."

Layman has been in the landfill business for 25 years. Currently the LDC is operating its second landfill at the I-96-Milford Road site. The landfill expansion involves the use of 60 acres of land, excavated to a depth of 110 feet.

"About 125-150 trucks come to the landfill a day," said Layman, "along

"Today we have a very good relationship."

— Bob Seccombe

with several hundred private cars and trucks of township residents a week."

Layman said the fill is used for disposal of solid wastes only. "We don't allow any toxic wastes or liquids," he said. The landfill contains such items as cardboard, food, and paper.

Despite the rocky start, Layman now says LDC has a good relationship with Lyon Township. "We have an excellent working relationship with all the people and officials," he said.

Layman has donated much to the township, including free firewood for Lyon residents during the excavation of the landfill expansion. Recently, Layman constructed two little league baseball diamonds for use by Lyon Township children, at a cost estimated at $75,000. Layman said the decision to construct the ball diamonds was a demonstration of LDC's interest in the children of Lyon Township. Another benefit Lyon residents receive from LDC is free dumping privileges.

When Lyon Township and LDC were involved in the court battle, township officials expressed displeasure with the way Layman had been handling the landfill. The adoption of Public Act 641, requiring counties to adopt 20-year master plans for non-hazardous solid waste disposal, precipitated the out-of-court settlement between LDC and the township. PA 641 imposed stricter rules on landfill operators, with which Layman was required to comply.

Board Member Sue Knapp, who was township supervisor when the township and the LDC were fighting, said "there are all sorts of things he (Layman) has to do now, that he didn't have to do before state act 641."

In order to construct a safe, sanitary landfill, Layman explained, a plastic liner must be tied into the clay after the hole has been dug. A leachate control system is installed as a leakage precaution. Leachate is a liquid containing decomposed wastes and bacteria which naturally occurs in landfills, but should not be permitted to seep into water supplies. The final step is the insertion of a road to lead the trucks into the fill.

"Test wells are also installed and tested," said Layman, adding that such wells are used to check for possible groundwater contamination.

"Lyon Township was sited for two landfills (by the OCSWPC) and we were able to get rid of one," Knapp said. "No one wants to live around them, but we realize they are necessary."

Current Lyon Township Supervisor James Atchison said he has had no problem with LDC. "Let's just hope everything in the future stays as good as it is now," he said.

Atchison, who conducts weekly inspections of the LDC landfill, said he does not believe Layman is doing anything improper at the landfill.

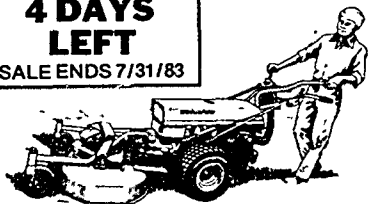

Seccombe summed it up when he said: "The township and LDC have decided to bury the hatchet. We've worked our problems out together."

Guardian tallies record profit

Guardian Industries Corporation (NYSE) of Novi has reported results for the three months ended June 30, 1983, which were at record levels for the 32nd consecutive quarter.

Revenues in the second quarter were $117 million, 14 percent higher than the comparable three-month period in 1982. For the first six months, revenues totaled $223.2 million, a 19 percent increase over last year.

Earnings were $9.3 million in the second quarter, and $17.9 million in the first six months, representing gains of 12 and 23 percent over the same year-ago periods.

The most significant factor affecting second quarter results was higher revenues and profits within glass manufacturing operations. Higher revenues were reported in the company's other glass areas, with profitability penalized by depressed conditions in the commercial construction market which affected the level of reflective glass shipments.

Guardian Photo Division continued its trend of improvement in operating performance by achieving increased profits on modestly higher revenues. Insulation operations continued to advance, highlighted by strong profit gains.

Commenting on the second quarter results, Guardian President William Davidson said, "It is significant that we achieved record results in the second quarter and the first half of 1983 despite an industry environment which has yet to experience a large upturn in demand.

"In contrast to the first half of 1983 during which year-to-year comparisons were positively affected by the 1982 start-up of our European float facility, performance in the remaining quarters of the year will be influenced more by trends in the market demand for flat glass products," Davidson continued.

"I can say with confidence that Guardian is well-positioned to participate fully in any improvements in such demand. With our strong first-half results and a growing consensus of increasingly more favorable conditions in the building materials market, we are optimistic concerning the success of the 1983 year."

Guardian Industries is a leading manufacturer and fabricator of flat glass products used in construction and, to a lesser extent, in transportation applications. Five float glass manufacturing lines are operated in the U.S. and one in Europe. Extensive glass fabricating activities are conducted at 13 facilities in the U.S. and Canada. Other building materials manufactured by Guardian include a broad line of fiberglass insulation products.

Guardian also serves the amateur photography market through a nationwide network of 12 photo processing facilities.

CARS & CONCEPTS will present Auto Expo '83, its seventh annual special vehicle exhibition, on Saturday, August 13, from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. The event will be held at Cars & Concepts main offices at 125000 East Grand River in Brighton.

Some 800 special vehicles are expected at the exhibition, which is open to cars, vans and trucks in exotic, sports, antique, vintage, rod, custom and kit car classes. There will be a $2 registration fee per vehicle exhibited and trophies will be awarded for outstanding entries in each class.

Linda Vaughn, Miss Hurst, will be present to greet more than 10,000 expected participants and spectators. Company Chairman Richard Chrysler said ticket proceeds will be donated to the Livingston County United Way.

Other activities include a flea market, door prizes, games, music, dancing and refreshments.

Cars & Concepts is a special vehicle manufacturing company which offers design, engineering and production services to the automotive industry.

LOUIS AND MARY SCHRAFFENBERGER took over recently as the new owners of Florals by Steven at 102 North Lafayette, South Lyon. "I've always dreamed of having a flower shop," Mary said, adding that she is managing the shop and her husband is doing the book-keeping.

Mary has approximately two years experience in floral arranging having worked at Almay's in Farmington Hills, Fifth Avenue in Southfield and Liz's in West Bloomfield. Her husband has also had about two years experience in the floral business in the Dayton, Ohio area.

Former residents of Southfield, they have recently moved to South Lyon. The Schraffenbergers purchased the flower shop from Arthur Nowicki of South Lyon whose late wife Mary ran it for many years.

RICK CASSIDY has been promoted to vice president of sales and operations of Mountaintop Tree Company of Northville, owner Doug Boor announced.

Cassidy has worked at Mountaintop since graduating with a degree in forestry from Michigan Technological University in 1980. "The company has come a long way in the past four years and our success is based on the satisfaction of our customers," he said.

Mountaintop Tree Company has been in business in the area since 1975. Services provided include tree trimming and removal, tree diagnosis and spraying. The firm also does specialty work including cabling, bracing and cavity repair.

HOCK ACRES DRIVING RANGE at 54322 Ten Mile, South Lyon held a drawing July 21 for a Wilson golf bag and set of three woods and eight irons. Gerald Smith (left in photo), chief of South Lyon's Department of Public Safety, drew the name of Tom Cash of Northville for the top prize as Ed Hock, owner of Hock Acres, held the giant golf ball containing the names of more than 200 participants. Winner of the second prize, 10 free baskets of balls at the driving range, was Francis Hyde of South Lyon. Third prize of a golf ash tray went to Tom Olszewski of Novi.

HARRY A. OSBORNE JR. of Novi has retired after 31 years with the Michigan Department of Transportation (MDOT). He is an engineering technician with the Utilities and Permits Division in Southfield.

Osborne joined the department in 1951 as a highway worker at the Brighton state highway maintenance garage. He later became an operator of highway maintenance equipment, stores clerk and field clerk at a freeway construction project office in Detroit.

He transferred to Utilities and Permits Division at Pontiac and then to MDOT's Metropolitan District office in Southfield. The division coordinates activities of privately-owned facilities within the rights-of-way, approves and issues permits for right-of-way and administers the state billboard control program.

Osborne's work involves protection of state highway right-of-way in the four-county district of southeastern Michigan.

A Detroit native, he served with U.S. Army Ordnance in Europe in World War II. He and his wife Winifred plan to keep their home in Novi.

Comerica offers plan to save for education

Comerica Incorporated announced availability of a new investment savings plan specifically designed to help families prepare for financing children's college education.

Called the College Fund, the program helps families set a savings goal and achieve it through several investment opportunities while considering their tax situation. Comerica says it is the first comprehensive college savings program of its kind offered by a U.S. bank.

Four savings plans are offered, allowing consumers to choose one best suited to their particular family and financial situations. Factors considered in selecting a plan include the savings goal, whether the adult or child (who may pay little or no tax) is to incur the tax liability, and to whom the assets of the fund will ultimately belong.

Depending on the customer's objective, the fund may be invested in any of seven bank deposits paying money market rates, stocks and bonds through Comerica Brokerage Service or in seven different bank-managed funds. The consumer may choose to administer the fund personally or to designate Comerica as administrator.

"A four-year college education currently costs around $20,000 at a state-supported school and this figure is expected to reach $50,000 by the 1990s," said Cleveland Thurber, Jr., executive vice president at Comerica.

Such expenses require long-term savings plans, he said.

Cherished moments

It's the telephone calls
That last so long
Each and every word
More precious than it seems.
Our mothers yelling
"Get off the phone!"
Sisters and brothers
Still reminding us further
It's the littlest secrets
That we share
Those different moments
Showing we care
The many arguments
When one another seems unfair
The reasons why
We still hang in there
Yet, it's losing you
I so much fear

Summer in the city means ...

...sprinklers, swimming pools, ice cream cones, house painting, garage sales and much more. The sights of summer clearly abound throughout downtown Northville these days as residents take advantage of sunny skies and warm temperatures. For Don Hansen, (far left), cooperative weather allowed him to work on repairs at the Otton household at the corner of Dunlap and West. Don Till (above center) took to the roof to repair the chimney on a Dunlap residence. Phyllis Graham, (below center) holds granddaughter Katie while waiting for browsers at the family's garage sale. For the Delaney family, however, the best way to beat the heat is found right in the front yard. Tina Delaney (below) keeps sons Brian and Kevin cooled off with a shot from the sprinkler.

Lamaze courses offered in two new locations

Novel box lunches featured at docents' July picnic

By JEAN DAY

Northville's Mill Race docents have become familiar figures at the historical village located off Main on Griswold. Wearing long skirts and matching shawls, they are on duty to relate the history of the village and its buildings every Sunday from 1-4 p.m. They also show visitors through the four buildings on the Fourth of July and other special occasions.

Plans already have been made to give guided tours during the Northville Home Tour co-sponsored by the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church and Northville Historical Society September 22.

The docent group of volunteers was started by Sue Holstein who perceived a need for an explanation of the buildings for tourists. There now are 54 members in the group, including volunteers who substitute and those who are on duty for special openings only. Co-heads are the sister team of Alice Pooley and Marion Roller.

In addition to organizational and instructional meetings, the docents have scheduled social get-togethers. An annual box lunch under the direction of Marianne Heaton was held in the village July 13. Members were instructed to bring lunch in a "unique container." They included hobo lunches on sticks, an antique wooden box, baskets and old canisters. Those attending drew numbers and lunch boxes were exchanged. "Everyone tried to make something rather special," explained docent Orla

Hamilton. The docents supplied their own program afterward as each described the collectible she brought — they ranged from a grandmother's pin tray to a tea caddy and egg cups.

Next docent get-together will be a potluck luncheon to mark the end of the season October 22. John Brugeman, new president of Northville Historical Society which oversees the village, will be explaining how the Mill Race gardens were designed and planted in keeping with the Victorian period of the village. He is a landscape architect and horticulturist.

Beverly Kohl tours Italy as trade group guest

Beverly A. Kohl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kohl of Northville, and Cheryl L. Thomas of Ida, Michigan, both students at Western Michigan University, have completed a two-week visit to major printing facilities in northern Italy as guests of the Italian Association of Printing, Converting and Paper Machinery Manufacturers and the Italian Trade Commission.

They were selected for the all expense paid tour of graveure, flexographic and lithographic machinery manufacturers and facilities based on their academic achievement, references and a technical paper each wrote on aspects of the printing industry. The tour included such major cities as Milan and Venice.

A 1979 graduate of Northville High School, Beverly, 22, is a senior in printing management-marketing at WMU. She now is working for the summer in Connecticut. The Kohl family lived in Avon, near Hartford, for almost 10 years before moving here.

Baltimore was reunion scene for Kowalskis

Northville residents Mike and Barb Kowalski and their children Susan and David celebrated the Fourth of July holiday with a reunion in Baltimore. They were guests of Bruce and Charlotte Douglas, former Northville residents.

After touring the Baltimore harbor and the capitol, they feasted on a real Chesapeake Bay crab dinner with another former Northville couple, Bob and Mary Kiwak, at the Douglas home. Barbara Kowalski reports that both families are in good health and are enjoying their new homes and sightseeing along the Eastern seaboard.

They're seeking outstanding local gardens

"It took a while to get our act together," admits Karen Woodruff, co-head of the Country Girls Garden Club garden-of-the-month project. But she and Nancy Smith now are inspecting gardens recommended for the awards and will continue to do so into fall.

Anyone with a garden to nominate in the city or township is invited to call Woodruff at 349-4142 or Smith at 349-9326.

School schedules August program

New Morning School in Plymouth will host its second session of summer school classes for children in grades 1-8 beginning August 1.

Two-hour daily sessions will be held for three weeks. Taught by Kathleen Kerekes, the classes offer individualized assessment and programming for each child. The class fee is $90 for 30 hours of instruction.

Fall registration also is under way for preschool and grades K-8. New Morning School features a developmental approach with individualized programming for each child. Music, French and computer instruction are part of the preschool and K-8 program.

For more information or to register, call 420-3331 or 348-9294.

Dr. Weaver presents paper in Washington

Donald Weaver, M.D., a Northville resident, presented a paper at the Pancreas Club in Washington, D.C., recently. His paper concerned "A Case for Serum Amylase Homeostasis."

Dr. Weaver is a surgeon at the Harper Hospital Division of Harper-Grace Hospitals.

He said the paper describes the reciprocal relationship between the salivary and pancreatic isoamylases in an attempt to maintain total serum amylase within a normal range. These studies indicate that amylase may be more than a passive serum byproduct.

The studies were performed in the surgery research lab on hamsters initially and confirmed later in humans. The study will continue and may shed light on a possible role for serum amylase.

ATTENTION TAXPAYERS!

A new law requiring partial withholding of taxes on interest and dividend income will take effect July 1, 1983.

If you have an interest-earning account or receive dividend payments, this law will affect you!

This is not a new tax. Like withholding on salary checks, it merely changes the way taxes are collected.

Exemptions are available for older Americans, lower income individuals and those with small savings accounts. To see if you qualify, contact your bank, financial institution or the Internal Revenue Service in your area.

MR. AND MRS. PETER DIGENNARO

Couple united in Raleigh rites

Kim Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall of 20343 Woodhill, became the bride of Peter DiGennaro in a 1:30 p.m. ceremony June 5 in Raleigh, North Carolina, where both have been living and working.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter DiGennaro of Philadelphia.

The Reverend Everett France of Cary (North Carolina) Methodist Church officiated at the service held in the Raleigh Little Theatre Rose Garden. The wedding party was surrounded by roses in full bloom in the scenic outdoor setting. Harpist Ann Jorrel played Canon in D by Pachelbel for the processional; the recessional was Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring.

The couple exchanged gold wedding bands. The bride's band was designed by the couple to fit into her engagement ring which, instead of a traditional diamond, held a ruby.

The silk used for the bride's original wedding gown had purchased by her father during a recent trip to China. The gown of organza over a silk slip was sewn by a Raleigh seamstress. The organza-overlay was trimmed with lace at the collar and cuffs. The full sleeves and ballerina skirt featured rows of horizontal tucks.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of red sweetheart roses, gardenias, stephanotis and ivy.

Tracey Marshall was her sister's maid of honor. Betsy Mach, a best friend since elementary school, flew from Texas to be bridesmaid. Both wore original, matching cocktail-length red silk dresses styled with low-cut backs. They carried lace fans with orchids tied with ivory ribbons.

Louis DiGennaro, an artist in stained glass, came from Denver to be best man. The bride's brother Greg Marshall, marketing director for Sanders in Detroit, ushered.

The bridegroom and his attendants wore Yves St. Laurent double-breasted white dinner jackets while the fathers of the couple wore white-jacketed Bill Blass tuxedos.

A reception for 50 guests followed at the Velvet Cloak Inn in Raleigh. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schneider from California and Mr. and Mrs. William Cloude from Miami.

The couple took a train trip to Montreal, Quebec City, Ottawa and Toronto.

Before the newlyweds returned to Raleigh, an informal, second reception was given at the bride's parents' home for 50 friends, neighbors and relatives. Out-of-town guests attended from Illinois, Kentucky and Indiana.

The couple had met over a business lunch in Wilmington, North Carolina.

The bride is a 1976 graduate of Northville High School and a 1980 graduate of Northwood Institute and is affiliated with Lambda Chi Omega business sorority. She is employed with Bentwood Limited in Raleigh.

Her husband is a 1978 graduate of Penn State and is employed with A. C. Nielsen as a senior marketing representative.

Esther Ann Fountain wed in mother's gown

Esther Ann Fountain, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Fountain of 46119 Pickford, continued a family tradition of carrying a lucky sixpence as she exchanged marriage vows June 11 with Joseph Paul Melnik II.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Melnik of Canton.

The double ring ceremony was held at St. John Ukrainian Catholic Church in Detroit and was officiated by the Very Reverend Canon Joseph Shary.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore her mother's slipper satin and chantilly lace Princess-style gown fashioned with a Victorian neckline and long sleeves ending in points at the wrists. She wore a slipper satin headpiece enhanced with a silk flower and French veiling.

She held a cascade bouquet of phalenopsis, orchids, white roses and white silk agapanthus.

Serving as honor maid was the bride's cousin Krista Fidler of Quebec, Canada. Bridesmaids were Kathy Blum, the bridegroom's sister Jacquelyn Hilliard and the bride's sister-in-law Cheryl Fountain.

The attendants' pink taffeta skirts and cowel-necked ivory blouses were joined with French ribbon cummerbunds. Each wore a headpiece of pink silk agapanthus and baby's-breath and carried a hand bouquet of white roses, pink silk agapanthus and baby's-breath.

Flower girl Anna Maria Guevara wore an ivory taffeta tea-length gown. She wore a ring of baby's-breath in her hair and carried a small cascade of flowers similar to the bridesmaid's.

Jeno Melnik served as his brother's best man. Ushers were the bride's brothers Donald and Brian Fountain and Jason Crowthers.

Christopher Vidak was ring bearer.

A garden reception for 200 guests was held at Botsford Inn followed by a candlelight dinner in the carriage house. At the reception the traditional bridegroom's cake, a fruitcake, was given guests.

Out-of-town guests came from Quebec and Ontario, Canada, New Jersey and Seattle, Washington.

The bride is a Northville High School and Mercy College School of Nursing graduate. She has been a registered nurse at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor.

The bridegroom is a Plymouth-Salem High School graduate and received his bachelor of science degree from Western Michigan University. He currently is district manager of Woodland Oil Company in Traverse City.

Following the wedding, the newlyweds traveled to Vancouver and Seattle and took an Alaskan cruise. They will make their home in Suttons Bay.

Prior to the wedding, bridal showers were given by Mrs. Melnik, Mrs. Leonard Klein, Mrs. Stanley Sonk, Mrs. Richard Cooper, Mrs. Jack Doheny, Mrs. Roger Pyett and Mrs. Herbert Weston.

The week of the wedding the bride's mother hosted a trousseau tea with Esther Ann's grandmother presiding.

The Northville Record

'Yerrrr out!'

The Northville E League Reds scored plenty of runs against the Novi Travel Masters in last Friday's 10-3 win, but this wasn't one of them — Travel Masters catcher Brett Gillick snagged a throw to the plate in plenty of time to plant a tag on the Reds' Kirk Morrison. The Reds stayed withing a game of the league lead with the win, which was paced by Dirk Nowka's 3-for-5 plate performance and Mike Crawford's three RBI. More E League news is on page 5-C. Skogmo romps to title

The phrase "totally awesome" for once understates the matter somewhat. Skogmo Meats of Wayne was just that as the power-laden slow-pitch softball squad claimed the championship of the Eleventh Annual Thomson Memorial Softball Tournament in Northville last weekend on pure batting muscle, culminating in a final 29-12 win over Buscemi's Sunday.

Altogether, 12 teams participated in the tilt, mostly coming from points south and east in the metropolitan area. Skogmo had been the tournament favorite because of the team's dominant play in other area tournaments this season.

In the championship game, Skogmo batted around the entire order in the first inning, scoring ten runs before even one out was recorded. And each batter reached base with a hit, including five home runs, a double and four singles.

After just one inning, the score was 11-3, and as Skogmo blanked Buscemi's for the next two innings while rolling up 11 more offensively, the outcome was pretty far from being in doubt.

Six Skogmo hitters had two home runs each — Jerry Detter, Jerry Holbrook, Gary Bowman, Bud Daniels, Tim Kelley and Dan Zywick (the number ten hitter in the order). Mark Friar and Pat Kelley only had one each.

Taking second was Buscemi's, who won the first two rounds of competition before falling to Skogmo both in semis and finals in the two-game elimination tournament.

Homer in the final for the runners up were Dennis Carren and Tom Tadzinski (who socked two each), Dave Prestinize and Ed Keat. Third place tourney honors went to Tommy D's.

The Thomson Tournament Most Valuable Player award went to Skogmo hitter Jerry Detter, who hit five home runs in four games, and collected 14 hits in 19 at-bats, knocking in 11 runs and scoring 10 more. Skogmo's manager Bud Daniels was named Most Valuable Manager.

Tommy D's was the only other team to make the semifinals.

Also participating were: Citizen's Insurance, Frigates Inn, "T" Team, Bodine's Lounge, Roberto's, O'Dell's, Chrome Electrical Process, Jamie's On Seven and Ford Mustangs.

Baseball tilts come to town

By B.J. MARTIN

In upcoming weeks, baseball teams from all over the Detroit area — and over much of the country, in fact — will converge on Northville's baseball fields for four major tournaments.

The tournament action will begin tomorrow (Thursday, July 28) with the AABC Sandy Koufax District Tournament (age 13-14) and wrap up during the second week of August with the Junior Division (Mickey Mantle, age 15-16) World Series.

In this week's Sandy Koufax tournament, eight southeastern Michigan teams will compete for the chance to represent the district at the regional playoffs in Westland beginning Wednesday, August 3. In turn, the winner of the Westland Regional will move on to the Koufax World Series in Knoxville, Tennessee.

Competing in the Northville Koufax district will be teams from Grand Rapids, Tecumseh, the Detroit Police Athletic League, South Lyon, Highland, Rochester, Macomb County and tournament hosts the Northville Koufax Blue team, the leading city contender in the league, coming off a 9-5 season.

"Grand Rapids looks like a really tough team," said Blue coach Rod Tabaszynski. "But if we get a few breaks, we can beat them, I think."

Blue's first-round game is scheduled for today at noon at Thomson Field. (Double elimination) tournament games will be played at noon and 3 p.m. throughout the week at Thomson and at the Training Center Fields, with the championship game at noon, Saturday.

The following week, Northville will be the base for the MRPA E League (age 14-16) and F League (age 13-14) State District Playoffs, running Monday, August 1, through Thursday, August 4.

Each district will contain three teams from the area, with the Northville squads each awarded a first-round "bye" in the single-game elimination tournament. The Reds, F League champions, will represent Northville at the district, while games played this week will decide the E League representative at the playoffs.

The winner of the E league district in Northville, which includes the E League champs and teams from Livonia and Fraser, will travel to Allen Park for regional competition the following week. There the Northville district winner will take on the winner of District No. 6, which includes Warren, Pontiac and Mt. Clemens.

In F League, this week's Northville District winner — which includes along with the Reds, teams from Ann Arbor, Livonia and Wayne — will go to regional playoffs in Dearborn the following week. There, the district winner will play Dearborn's entry in regional quarter finals.

But the biggest baseball tournament to take place here is expected to be the 1983 Junior Division World Series the week of August 8-14. Teams from many parts of the U.S. will be represented at the single-game knockout tourney, along with one of the two Northville Mickey Mantle teams.

Mantle Blue team rolls to two wins

Northville's Mickey Mantle Blue team boosted its season mark to 10-8 by taking two of three games last week.

Blue started off the week by edging Lincoln Park 6-5, with Keith Dutkiewicz singling in Doug Hartman in the bottom of the seventh inning with the winning run. Winning pitcher was reliever Chris Dominique, while offensive punch was provided by Jay Bartling (4-for-4, one RBI), Mike Wissman (two hits, two RBI).

Next came Plymouth Salem and Northville Blue romped 17-3, putting together 11 runs in one inning, a season high. Dominique again got the win, allowing just three hits.

Big hit of the game was pinch hitter Greg Ryba, who socked a three-run homer. Also getting three RBI in the contest was Mike Wissman, who went 3-for-5 at the plate, as did teammate Mark Deal.

John Norton also had three hits, adding one RBI and Dutkiewicz continued his hot hitting, going 2-for-4 with one RBI. Dearborn Crestwood, however, took the wind out of Blue's sails later in the week, handing the Northville unit a 9-8 loss with a two-run rally in the bottom of the sixth.

Mark Deal and Scott Swienkowski each had two hits, Deal's a 340-foot double off the fence in center. Ryba scored twice and added two RBI while Wissman went 4-for-4 to pace the offense.

E league race down to the wire

The four-way race for supremacy in the Northville E League will conclude this week with no team out of the running yet. On top after last week's results were the Mets and Phillies, both 12-2, while the Padres were one game back and the Reds two back with at least three games remaining for each.

In league action last Wednesday, the Mets' George Daraban pulled off a superb pitching performance over Novi Goat Farm in a 7-1 win, allowing just two hits and striking out seven. Second baseman John Lobbis' leadoff home run in the first inning set the stage for Fred Cahill's two-RBI triple.

'F' League champions

Kiwanis sponsor charity golf tour

Ever want to complete 18 holes at the beautifully-sculpted Bay Point Golf Club in Commerce Township?

If so, you're invited to participate in the third annual Northville Kiwanis Golf Outing planned for Monday, August 15. Tournament co-chairmen Ray J. Casterline II and L.T. Sylvestre are urging area golfers to sign up as soon as possible "so we can complete our rosters and assure golfers desired tee times."

It is hoped as many as 150 will participate in the event, but relatively few golfers have registered for tee times for either morning or afternoon starts.

All proceeds from the outing will be used by Kiwanis to help sponsor its Northville-based civic and charitable projects, in particular the recreation program for physically and mentally handicapped children begun here 10 years ago and well-established as an example of outstanding service.

"We're proud of this program for special children and the other civic and charitable projects of our small club, but we need assistance to build on past successes," says club president Frank Skinner. "Our golf outing provides the public with a way to help."

In addition to 18 holes of golf, the tax-deductable fee includes golf cart, breakfast, lunch and dinner, open bar from noon until after the dinner, a handsome sweater, prizes and entertainment.

Interested golfers should call Casterline at 349-0611 or Sylvestre, 349-6497.

Northville natives join 300-mile run

Two Northville 20-year-olds will team this week with eight men and two women associated with Schoolcraft College for a 300-mile relay run from downtown Detroit to Mackinac to raise funds for the Olympic Training Center in Colorado.

Northville High School graduates and Northville residents Tom Allen and Russ Gans will join the Schoolcraft contingent, ranging in age from 19 to 60, at the college early tomorrow morning, then drive down to Detroit's Hart Plaza for the 8:30 a.m. starting time.

There the team will start the long north-northwest trail together along Woodward Avenue, splitting up for individual legs later on. The estimated time of arrival in Mackinac is 2 p.m. Sunday, where a hero's welcome will deservedly await the team, nine of whom will run the last leg together.

Different team members will run far different distances, but Allen and Gans are expected to run between 45 and 50 miles overall in the event, sponsored by a number of groups throughout the area.

Mack leaguers top Allen Park

The Northville Connie Mack (age 16-17) baseball team raised its season mark to 12-6 Sunday — and improved its chances for post-season tournament slot — with a come-from-behind 5-2 win over Allen Park Sunday.

Mack ace Dan Nielsen continued his dominant pitching. Although Nielsen yielded an uncharacteristic six walks and three hits in three and one-third innings, the Northville defense held tight with clutch play. "They rose to the occasion and balled Nielsen out of trouble each inning," observed coach Jim Newman.

But this week's pitching hero was Bob Pegrum, who took over from Nielsen in the fourth. For the remainder of the game, Pegrum allowed only one hit and one run to pick up his fourth win of the season.

Northville trailed 1-0 in the fifth inning when Steve Frellick's two-out single — his third hit of the night — sparked a five-run Northville rally by driving in Doug Doyle from third base to tie the score. Doyle had led off the inning with a single.

Infielder Mickey Newman, who had made several fine defensive plays in early innings to kill off Allen Park rallies, followed Frellick by doubling in the go-ahead run. After a walk to Steve Schrader, Todd Bartling slapped his second single of the game to score Newman. Pegrum capped the rally with a two-run double to boost the score to 5-1.

The early innings featured some exceptional defensive handiwork, in particular by second baseman Newman, who threw out a runner at home on a double steal attempt in the first inning and teamed with shortstop Dave Longridge and first baseman Schrader to turn a fast double play in the third. Newman speared a hot grounder up the middle, flipped the ball to Longridge who relayed in time to Schrader.

WSSL Villa to visit U.K.

Three soccer players and a coach, all from Northville, will be among the representatives of the 13-man WSSL Villa soccer team traveling to Great Britain next week.

Goalkeeper David Reduzzi and defenders Dan Magdich and Brent Wasik will see action in at least 10 games on the team's 16-day jaunt through Bristol, Walsall and London.

The Villa team, made up of boys age 14-15, is coached by Northville resident Clive Armitage, born and raised in Britain. Armitage moved to Michigan in 1978 and offered his services as a coach to the then-developing Northville Recreation Soccer program.

"I'd played only amateur soccer in Britain, but many of these parents persuaded me to coach," he said this week. "As a team we were very successful, and the parents got up the idea to travel to England last August. I was dubious at the start, but around Christmas, they said, 'Let's do it,' and began holding fundraisers."

Villa compiled a record of 19-4 this season.

Polarizing Filters—Cure For Reflections

A polarizer can zip up the sky and show the texture of water. By rotating the filter as you look at a scene, you can change from no effect to full blocking of those very bright specular reflections which rob sea scenes of so much life. Try some shots with full polarization, and some with just partial effect. You'll see that you do want some reflections to make the water lively.

Polarizers don't work well on metallic surfaces, but they can take glare off glass, paint, tree leaves, etc. and give much livelier color.

Most cameras with built-in meters will automatically adjust for the polarizer. Some cameras must be set manually to about 2 stops more open than the normal exposure. Check your polarizer for a marking such as 2X or 4X engraved on the ring. 2X means open one stop; 4X means 2 stops.

For a polarizer with the right ring size to fit your camera, see us at f-stop, 43220 Grand River, Novi, 348-9355.
