'River Rats' dredge the Rouge

By B.J. MARTIN

A good lesson in the quality of human nature can be viewed in, of all places, the stinking, murky Rouge River in Northville for the next two or three weeks.

The teachers are a work crew of 17 young men and women, aged 18-20, and their three immediate supervisors, who are part of a Wayne County Youth Corps project to clean up the Rouge River.

The job of this crew: to clear out the Northville section of the Rouge to the best of their abilities during the time the funds hold out.

There were probably a number of things left out of the job description for applicants, who have been turning out in droves for the minimum-wage jobs at Michigan Employment Security Commission offices throughout Wayne County. It would be hard work in a nauseatingly smelly, scummy river, where the usual job annoyances would be leeches, hornets and poison ivy.

No waders or boots are provided; so workers take their chances with their own tennis shoes and jeans as they wade around shards of broken glass, snakes and an amount of junk that is just plain hard to believe.

Cost-saving steps okayeu by council include layoff

Spending reductions, including one layoff, that will allow the city to end the current fiscal year with a deficit no worse than the existing $460,000 were approved by city council Monday night.

The budget amendments totaling nearly $50,000 in combined revenue gains and spending reductions include termination of one city clerical position at the end of September, cancellation of one police car purchase, and reduced (from budget projection levels) contributions to the retirement fund.

Smaller savings are expected in the refuse collection contract cost, fire department capital spending and street lighting costs.

The amendments were passed in the expectation that the state Municipal Finance Commission (MFC) will allow the city to carry the deficit one more year due to the unanticipated reduction in parimutuel tax receipts of nearly $300,000. For the most part, those funds were to have been used to pay off part of last year's deficit.

City manager Steven Walters will now prepare a deficit elimination plan for submittal to the MFC that will show how the city expects to repay the deficit beginning in the next fiscal year.

The city budget was brought into "current year" balance, according to Walters, in part because state shared revenue payments for the previous year came through recently at nearly $16,000 above the anticipated amount. This allowed Walters to present a spending reduction plan of only $48,400 as opposed to the $65,900 he told council to expect two weeks ago.

"It was a matter of the state shared revenue coming in with a smaller reduction than we were told they would be when we were drawing up the budget," he said.

Bringing the budget into line was then simplified, he explained, and was accomplished by increased the projection for next year's state shared revenue from the sales tax by $1,500 and accounting for some recently-discovered cost reductions.

The major cuts had already been forecast, with the clerical position, at least for bookkeeping purposes, being removed from the city clerk's office for a savings of $11,200 and elimination of the new police car producing a $13,200 reduction.

Election petitions out

The political season in the city got underway this week, with the availability of nominating petitions for candidates in the November mayoral and council elections announced by the city clerk's office.

First to request petitions was Eugene 'Bud' Kunst of Langfield Drive who picked up petitions to file as a candidate for mayor Monday.

"It's a little early yet, (candidates) usually don't start picking up petitions for another week or two," clerk Joan McAllister said, noting that petitions may be circulated at any time but cannot be turned in before September 1. The filing deadline this year will be October 3, she said.

It is expected Mayor Paul Vernon will seek election to a fourth two-year term this fall. Two four-year city council terms also expire — those occupied by Carolann Ayers and Paul Folino. When elected two years ago, Folino filled a vacancy created by the resignation of Stanley Johnston.

Elections will be November 8.

Special session slated

A special meeting of Northville Township Board of Trustees has been called for 7:30 p.m. tonight to consider two resolutions — one to divide the Huron Valley Wastewater Control System into two areas and a second resolution to pursue legal action against the City of Detroit to gain legal funding for the HVWCS.

Emphasizing that the township, like other area communities, has been "under the gun" of the state Department of Natural Resources to take action, township clerk Susan Heintz said Tuesday that the township must indicate by Thursday whether it will "go with a split system or do we sue the City of Detroit?"

The first resolution requests the Wayne County Department of Public Works to take steps to split the Huron Valley Wastewater Control System into two areas.

Such action would create both a

Folk music fans flock to town

By KEVIN WILSON

Northville will resound this weekend to the strains of folk and bluegrass music wafting up from Ford Field as The Giftfiddler Music Shop's annual festival to benefit Huntington's Disease research enjoys its seventh incarnation.

Peter "Mad Cat" Ruth and Dean Rutledge will be among the dozens of entertainers to perform during the two-day event in the city park.

"It's becoming more of a community event, with some involvement from the merchants for the first time," Giftfiddler owner and festival promoter Tom Rice said last week.

The rescheduling of last week's washed-out sidewalk sale is being viewed by Rice not as a competition between the events but as an opportunity for both to draw participants from the other.

Tickets for the festival are being sold at most downtown shops and many have donated prizes that will be raffled off during the musical extravaganza that runs from 1-9 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. A minimum donation of $4 is asked of adults, $2 for children and senior citizens each day. Infants in arms are admitted free. Hands are stamped upon entry allowing audience members to come and go throughout the day.

Raffle tickets at $1 apiece will be on sale during the event, and Rice will draw winners periodically between performances.

Proceeds from the festival, conces-

Showers postpone sidewalk sale

Predictions are that as many as 50,000 people will be in downtown Northville this Saturday — if the weather cooperates.

Most merchants indicated this week that they still will have sidewalk sale specials available for the rescheduled clearaway Saturday. They report business was brisk inside their stores during last Saturday's rain, which did not seem to deter local shoppers.

Crafts and antiques dealers did not fare so well. Only about five percent, however, told sale chairman Scott Lapham that they could not return this Saturday.

The sale has been rescheduled for the same hours — 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. with crafts in spaces in the street along Main and antiques on Center and in the farmer's market area at Hutton.

To avoid parking problems with the bluegrass festival being held in Ford Field, Lapham is asking those taking spaces to park at Northville Downs. The Downs has offered its parking lot for shoppers also.

Those holding spaces for the street sale are asked to reconfirm by Thursday at the latest. Lapham says he now has a limited number of spaces available at $20 due to the cancellations.

A new feature of this Saturday's sale will be the pushcart roving promotion of 'I Love Northville' which presently is propelled about town by Charmaine Lemon, 16. This Saturday she will be selling "I Love Northville" balloons from the cart.

Lemon will be succeeded in the "public relations" job by Jim Allen, 17, in two weeks. Both will be working part-time from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Mondays, Fridays and Saturdays. They will answer shoppers' questions as they pick up debris.

The idea has been carried out successfully at such entertainment attractions as Disney World and was suggested as a local merchants' promotion by William C. Silger, Lapham relates. It is sponsored by the chamber and cooperating merchants.

One group that will not be returning for Saturday's sale is Mizpah Circle of King's Daughters whose members braved the rains last Saturday to sell almost $1,000 worth of baked goods. The circle uses its proceeds to assist Con-

North Service Area and a South Service Area. Request for the resolution came from the Huron Valley Wastewater Control System rate review committee.

At a special meeting July 25 the township board had approved participation in construction of a north arm relief interceptor in the Rouge Valley Sewage Disposal District, acting in the belief that it was necessary to avoid a ban by the DNR on all future construction in the township.

The township also has received a request from W. Curt Boller, supervisor of Brownstown Township and chairman of the HVWCS rate review committee, to endorse the present HVWCS as a unified system, and authorize Wayne County DPW to pursue legal action to attempt to gain necessary funding.

"It's very confusing," Heintz observed, relating that for two years "the state has been telling us we must act, but two years ago the DNR thought a split system unworkable, now they seem to think it's all right."

"The question is 'can we trust Detroit?'"

She recalled that, while Detroit is claiming the communities involved can't send their sewage elsewhere because of commitments to Detroit, there have been questions of capacity with Detroit now stating it has the capacity to treat the sewage.

At a meeting of the rate review committee July 26 attended by Northville Township Supervisor John E. MacDonald and representatives of other involved communities and Wayne and Oakland counties several questions were raised.

They have been responded to by Richard T. Hinshon, acting chief Community Assistance Division, Michigan DNR, who wrote Duane Egeland, managing director of the Wayne County Board of Public Works, July 28.

Township trustees will study the responses today.

Also on the agenda for tonight's meeting is discussion of waiver of fees for planning commission and zoning board of appeals.

Molly Morrow is among workers clearing debris

River cleanup project shows visible improvements already

"The kids on this crew are really amazing," said Lee Fidge, Executive Director of the Rouge River Watershed Council and one of the moving forces in the project, along with the administrative clout of Wayne County Executive William Lucas.

The Michigan Youth Corps is part of the state-financed summer job program pushed by Governor James Blanchard. Fidge conceived the Rouge cleanup project, but credits Lucas with obtaining administrative approval of Youth Corps workers for the cleanup.

"They (the workers) try to do too much," Fidge continued. "They're hauling up these big, slimy logs and I'm telling them, no, no, you'll break your back, but they pull them out anyway. I wish people could see how hard they work."

Indeed, during a few days working on a section of the Rouge in Hines Park, the crew cleared out a jam-up of material — branches, a shopping cart, small junk items — that had accumulated under the bridge of the dirt road leading to the Park's Northville Road entrance.

The material was stacked beside the bridge for D.P.W. pickup and was actually a larger pile than the width and breadth of the space beneath the bridge.

"There was so much stuff stacked up by the bridge you could walk across the river on it," said supervisor Tina LaRoche of Canton. After the clearing-out, the river, about 15 feet wide at that point, was flowing with a firm current, faster than it had in many years.

Up and down the Rouge at different points, workers have uncovered a large taxicab, some Volkswagens that apparently didn't float, shopping carts, television sets and plenty more mundane items, including hundreds of railroad ties. They haven't had too much luck finding valuables.

Applications for river cleanup duty are still coming in — last week another 27 signed up Monday and 67 signed up Wednesday. They will be added to the payroll of about 360 youths now working at different parts of the Rouge River where it flows through Wayne County.

Fidge said that the Northville group, staffed by workers from all over the county, is by far the best of all the crews, exhibiting a spirit of togetherness and cooperation, dubbing themselves the "River Rat Kamikazes."

"We just got approval to add another couple weeks and clean up between Seven and Eight Mile Road," she said Friday. "We've run into all kinds of red-tape snags with the county trying to get tools and equipment, but in Northville, we've gotten great cooperation from the township."

Those expecting a big turnaround in the appearance of the Rouge may be disappointed — both man and nature have ravished the river perhaps beyond repair. But there already are noticeable differences. And the present project, Fidge said, could lay the groundwork for a large-scale improvement in the future. In addition to cleaning out the river, workers are mapping out the locations of logjams and obstacles too big for the crews.

"At the rate this crew is going, I'm hoping we'll also be able to do some cleanup work around Phoenix Lake — just look around and see what can be done," Fidge said.

"Of course, we're not going to be able to clear everything out," she added. "But this kind of pollution becomes a cancer. It's better to work on it in the early stages rather than the terminal."

She said that while the reliability and drive of workers on the project varied from location to location, on the whole she was "astounded and uplifted" by their efforts.

Fidge said, however, that red tape was a continuing problem. "We'd be expecting some equipment and it wouldn't come through — we've had all kinds of situations like that," she said. "But the workers have been just great."

Layoff of clerical position approved by City Council

The city also began realizing a savings in the cost of its contribution to employee retirement programs as a result of DPW layoffs last year. When the actual costs became known recently, they were some $14,000 lower than had been projected in the budget.

Eliminating the planned purchase of fire hose saved $4,000 from the fire department costs, a credit forwarded by Detroit Edison for street-lighting costs reduced that expense by $2,000 and Walters said he "discovered there is a $4,000 savings available in the refuse collection contract, which expires this year. I understand it to still be available even if we decide to go out for bids on the contract."

While the city seems able to absorb the latest racing revenue cut without increasing its deficit, council heard earlier in the meeting from state Representative Gerald Law that it appears unlikely that the city will receive a "full" appropriation of $800,000 in the next few years.

Despite the recent tax increase, Law said, some projections show a $500 million state deficit by 1985, resulting in continued pressure on the state to retain the approximate $300,000 sacrificed by each racetrack city in each of the past three years.

YWCA offers August programs

Northwest Branch YWCA has opened registration for additional August programs.

Classes added to the summer schedule at the 25940 Grand River location include youth and adult tennis classes held in the facility's air conditioned tennis house and start this week.

Youth classes will be held twice a week, Tuesday and Thursday, for four weeks. Adult classes meet Monday and Wednesday or Tuesday and Thursday evenings for four weeks.

Two subjects have been added to the summer youth program beginning August 9. Drawing and painting for 6-8 year olds will be Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 11 a.m. to noon for five sessions in three weeks.

"Drop in" Friday specials in the pool and the "Fun Factory" on Tuesday afternoons

For further information, call the YWCA at 537-8500.

Midge's Meanderings

by Midge Haynic

A note on my desk a few days ago from Ernie Brown, our composition room supervisor, "Is there a chance you could conduct my 10 a.m. tour for me today?" (laryngitis). The note went on to say the tour would consist of four-year-olds and parents.

Well, how do you make a printing plant tour interesting to Northville's "Tots Around Town"? Answer: print out their names on the computer and let them all sit on the big hi-lo out in the stock room. The tour went great, and everyone had a good time.

The little one who said, "What do you do here?" My best response was to show him a copy of last week's NORTHVILLE RECORD and this column. I pointed to the picture and stated, "This is one thing I do."

He said, "Take off your glasses." I did. "Well, that's not you." That was that. No point in arguing with a 4-year-old. By the way, Susie, I told you I needed a new picture for this column. (Sorry, Rolly.)

Be careful!

My husband Bob and I are, I think, ordinary suburbanites. Or were, until one night a year and a half ago. We were attacked, hit with a rifle butt and robbed at gun point, right here in Northville. We had been to the home of friends in Southfield for dinner. On our way home we were followed, chosen at random, and accosted in our garage. Three days in the hospital, 39 stitches later, 2 weeks off of work, 5 months of investigation — it all paid off. All three caught, prosecuted and sentenced, thanks to our local Northville State Police. They're the greatest. If you're in trouble, of any kind, you can definitely depend on our police.

And the best advice from experience, check your rear vision mirror for headlights, or no headlights in our case, following you.

Happiness is having lunch with your mother, daughter and granddaughter. How fortunate!

Unhappiness is finding Saturday's sidewalk sales rained out. But come on down next Saturday. It's on again.

Happiness is teaching vacation Bible School. The Faith Community United Presbyterian Church of Novi had 95 children signed up, from ages 4 to 12 for the one week of school. A great success. Congratulations for the 86-year-old great-grandmother you recruited for one of the teachers. She is terrific. Just ask the kids.

Benefit folk festival in its seventh year

sions and the raffle will all be donated to the Huntington's Foundation, which researches neurological diseases like that which claimed the life of famed folk musician Woody Guthrie.

This year's festival is being billed as a special tribute to Guthrie and his widow Marjorie, who died of cancer earlier this year. Marjorie Guthrie had regularly attended the annual festival here as a part of her work for the Huntington's Foundation.

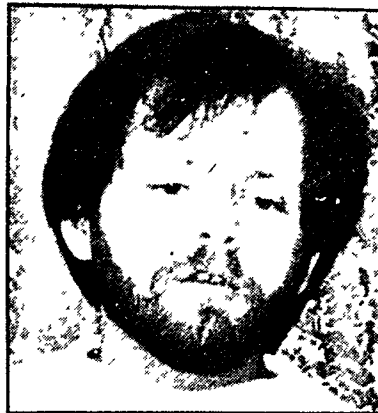

Despite the low admission price, the festival features professional musicians and organizations.

All performances are donated, as will be work on the sound system (done by people experienced at Pine Knob and Cobo Hall) and the use of a mobile stage owned by Oakland County.

There will be no beer sales at the festival this year, Rice saying he disliked the distraction the beer tent proved to be last year. The audience is still invited to bring its own beverages, and Coke, hot dogs and other concessions will operate on the field.

Rice said he is particularly encouraged by the quality of the entertainers who have agreed to participate in this year's event, noting especially that "Mad Cat" Ruth of Ann Arbor is a nationally-known performer who gives the festival an additional "name" performer.

"He's coming for the first time, we're really fortunate to have him," Rice said. "He's played with Dave Brubeck and won all kinds of national harmonica competitions, he's been on TV. And he's really a nice guy. I'd never talked to him before, I just called him up out of the blue and asked him to come, and, without asking a single question, he just said 'What day?'"

Scheduled performances by Josh White, Jr. and the bluegrass band Calico were cancelled Monday — Rice said replacements will be found.

He said many of the performers who are not as well-known nationally have fine reputations regionally, including a few who are residents of Northville.

Among those with large followings in the area are several entertainers who frequently played Ann Arbor's Raven Gallery, including Dean Rutledge, Rich and Maureen DelGrosso and Mustard's Retreat, a folk duo from Redford with a "strong Ann Arbor following" according to Rice.

Notable for having recently cut its fourth album and being "ready to go national" is the high-energy string band Footloose. Bobby Lewis, a Northville resident who frequently entertains with his banjo at Your Moustache Lounge, has formed a band with guitarists Mike Irish and Mike Eversole which he dubbed Coupe de Grace. "These are all really good musicians, I have great expectations for them," Rice said.

Lee King, another Northville area resident, recently left the well-known Michigan Consolidated Grass and will appear with his new band, suitably named Lee King and the New Grass.

Other area favorites who are associated with the Gittfiddler include Neil Woodward who has performed often in Northville, and Banjo Betsy (Beckerman). A team of Gittfiddler regulars calling itself the Flash in the Pan Bluegrass Band includes Woodward, Mark Mitchell, Jeff Branch and several others.

Rice said he expects highlights to be supplied by Gary Ritter, an old-time fiddler who plays Irish reels and tells stories and calls himself Back Forty; Phoenix, a contemporary folk group that has been received well at past festivals; and humorous folksinger Poor Richard Hovey.

For the first time in several years, an out-and-out country band will appear at the festival as Sagebrush joins such old-time and bluegrass bands as Riverside Mill, Timberline, Northern Comfort, and the Dam String Band.

Winning garden

The colorful, well-tended gardens around Ware's Square have been selected by Country Girls Garden Branch for its Garden of the Month Award for July. In making the winning choice, chairpersons Karen Woodruff and Nancy Smith cite the attractive landscaping of in-town commercial property blending with that at the adjacent home of Don and Mary Ware at 249 Hutton. Don Ware regularly is seen amidst the annuals that are planted among perennials to create a colorful summer garden. The peonies that are his favorites already have bloomed this year. He transplanted them years ago to the Hutton site. This summer he has planted petunias to continue the color display. Record photo by Steve Fecht.

Main Street a race course for MD benefit

Northville's Main Street will be the scene of race among waiters and waitresses from area restaurants August 28 in a drive to raise funds for the Muscular Dystrophy Association — but you needn't wait that long to catch a glimpse of the action.

Chuck Muer's Northville Charley's restaurant is official host for the American Express-sponsored "Gastronomic Gallop" and has arranged for local P.M. Magazine coverage of the event.

The evening television feature program asked to tape a "mock run" to air the weekend of the actual event and that taping will give Northville residents a sneak preview of what's in store at 9 a.m. Thursday.

The "race course" is an array of tables, complete with diners, around which the competitors must maneuver at a "fast walk" while carrying a tray of full wineglasses, with points deducted for spillage. There is also a "straightaway" stretch.

A smaller version will be set up for Thursday's taping, with waiters and waitresses from eight area restaurants in uniform plus a small crowd of 50 persons or so (not counting any observers who may show up). The area involved is between the town clock and Center Street.

Invitations for the actual event have gone to restaurants in Northville, Novi, Livonia, Farmington and Plymouth. Competitors will contend for a variety of prizes, topped by an American Express Disney World vacation for two.

Competing restaurants pay an entry fee with all proceeds going to the Muscular Dystrophy Association. The event is timed to produce the revenue in time for the annual Labor Day telethon for the same cause.

Celebrity M.C.s for the event will be Tom Ryan of CKLW radio and Mattie Majors from P.M. Magazine.

Spectators are encouraged to attend the event, which begins at 1 p.m. Sunday, August 28. Organizers expect entrants in the race will bring cheering sections as well.

Northville Charley's has coordinated the event with the city, assuring minimal disruption of Sunday morning church services and traffic through town.

Police Blotters

Thieves break into Corvette, remove tires from an Escort

In the township.

Items worth an estimated $500 were stolen from a 1979 Corvette parked in the driveway of a Clement residence sometime between 10:30 p.m. July 25 and 8:30 a.m. July 26, township police report.

The complainant told police the vehicle was unlocked at the time of the incident and parked in the driveway of the residence near the road.

Though no damage was done to the vehicle, the complainant stated that gas was siphoned from the car.

Stolen from the vehicle were various cassette tapes estimated at a value of $200, a tool box containing 30 religious cassette tapes estimated worth $250 and a $35 artist's box.

The complainant told police he neither saw nor heard anything during the night. There are no suspects at this time.

Two rear tires were stolen off a 1983

Ford Escort parked in the driveway of a Steepleview residence sometime between 9 p.m. July 28 and 6:30 a.m. July 29, police report.

According to the police report, the officer inspecting the vehicle noted that in addition to the two missing tires, the lug nuts on the front two wheels were missing indicating that the tires in the front probably were going to be removed.

Though the vehicle was left unlocked at the time of the incident, nothing inside was disturbed.

The tires are estimated to be worth $360. There are no suspects at this time.

Unknown suspects smashed a window on the north side of Detroit Federal Savings building on Seven Mile sometime between 2:20 and 8:53 a.m. July 30, township police report.

According to the police, officers checked the interior of the building after discovering the broken window and found nothing missing.

A bank representative, who was notified by police, confirmed the officer's findings. Due to a power failure at the time of the incident, the bank alarm did not activate.

Damage is estimated at $225. There are no suspects at this time.

.In the City

In the only significant police incident reported in the city this week, police arrested a Milford man at 10:47 p.m. last Thursday for operating under the influence of alcohol after he drove his car into another car which was idling at Center Street and Eight Mile Road.

According to reports, Brian Lee Tabor, 34, of Milford, was turning onto Eight Mile from northbound Center when he collided with a car driven by Melvin Kramp, 49, of South Lyon. Kramp was waiting for the traffic light to change on westbound Eight Mile.

No one was injured in the incident.

Former resident James Pasco, 57, dies in accident

Funeral Mass for James Anthony Pasco, 57, who died in a boating accident July 26, was held at 10 a.m. Saturday at St. Aidan Church in Livonia.

Mr. Pasco, a former Northville resident of 42778 Waterford, had been an active township resident and served on the township water and sewer commission before moving to Hollywood, Florida.

He died of multiple injuries after his fishing boat was struck by a speed boat July 26 on Lake Chemung in Livingston County. The lake is located between Brighton and Howell.

The Reverend Alex J. Brunett of St. Aidan's officiated at the Mass and at a prayer service immediately preceding it at the Harry J. Will Funeral Home at 37000 Six Mile in Livonia. A Scripture Service was held at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the funeral home.

Mr. Pasco was a retired General Motors superintendent. His wife Carol is a teacher in the Northville Public Schools. She has been on a leave of absence.

Mr. Pasco was born June 14, 1926, in Massachusetts to Anthony and Katherine (Puleo) Pasco.

In addition to his wife he leaves a son Mark A. Pasco, two brothers Alfred and Joseph Pasco, six sisters Mary Santuosso, Margaret Walter, Beatrice Holland, Jeanne Kreamer, Mildred Laitinen and Anna Misci. He was preceded in death by one sister.

She lived in the community since 1933 and was a member of First United Methodist Church.

She was preceded in death by her husband Henry Fray Croll in 1953.

Survivors are her sons William and Earl Croll and daughters Wanda Weipert and Charlotte R. Yager.

She also is survived by her sisters Rillina Thackeray, Ruth Hasselbach and Audrey Schultz and nine grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

EULA FUNK

Funeral service for Eula Funk will be held at 11 a.m. Thursday at Casterline Funeral Home. The Reverend Paul Sutton of Southfield United Presbyterian Church will officiate. Burial will be at Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens in Novi.

Mrs. Funk died July 31 at Zeeland Hospital in Holland after a lengthy illness. She was 81.

Born in Detroit, May 3, 1902, to Julius and Elizabeth (Fearson) Bort, she was a member of the Presbyterian Church and the Business and Professional Women's Association.

She is survived by her husband N. Russell Funk and her sons Donald of Northville and Walter of California.

Other survivors include six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

The family suggests memorials be made to the American Lung Association.

William Aluia of Plymouth. Two grandchildren also survive.

CLARENCE MILLER

Funeral service for Northville Township resident Clarence Miller was held August 2 at Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home. Burial was at Evergreen Cemetery in Detroit.

Mr. Miller died July 29 at Henry Ford Hospital. He was 38.

Born in Ohio, June 28, 1895, to Phillip and Susan (Pfeffer) Miller, he was a retired foreman for American Motors Corporation.

He is survived by his wife Stella and his daughter Mrs. Sharon McGreevey of Connecticut.

Other survivors include his brother Paul Miller, sister Isabel Smallwood and two grandchildren.

CARL RUDOLPH THOMSEN

Funeral service for Plymouth Township attorney Carl Rudolph Thomsen will be held at 11 a.m. today at Grace Lutheran Church in Redford.

Mr. Thomsen, chairman of the Glen Eden Cemetery Board and legal counsel for the English District Missouri Synod, died July 31 at Oakwood Hospital after a lengthy illness. He was 74.

Born in Detroit, December 28, 1908, to Carl and Charlotte (Schwartz) Thomsen, he was a three-year resident of the Northville area.

He was a member of the Michigan Bar Association, the American Bar Association and the Grace Lutheran Church.

Mr. Thomsen is survived by his wife

Eleanor, whom he married in 1941, and his daughters Mrs. Carol J. Stowell of Fairport, New York, and Mrs. Christine E. Wing of Ann Arbor.

Other survivors include three grandchildren.

Pastor Victor F. Halboth, Sr. will officiate at the funeral service, and burial will be at Grand Lawn Cemetery. Pallbearers are Charles Flory, Leroy Ogle, Alvin Meyer, Kenneth Lindsey, Mark Wing and Douglas Stowell. Funeral arrangements were made by Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home.

We're working harder to save you even more!

EDNA MAY CROLL

Funeral service for longtime Northville resident Edna May Croll was held July 30 at Casterline Funeral Home. The Reverend Guenther C. Branstner of St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Bloomfield Hills officiated. Burial was at Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens in Novi.

Mrs. Croll died July 27 at Hospice of Southeastern Michigan. She was 81.

Born February 14, 1902, in Rome Township to Luther and Lottie (Bordine) Shultz, Mrs. Croll was a retired inspector for Ford Motor Company.

LEAH B. HOOSE

Funeral service for Leah B. Hoose of West Main Street was held Tuesday at Casterline Funeral Home. Father Frank Pollie of Our Lady of Victory Church officiated. Burial was at Rural Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Hoose died July 29 at Botsford General Hospital. She was 71.

She was born in Saginaw, December 14, 1911, to Harlan and Elizabeth (Laflier) Lake.

She is survived by her son George Buddy of Northville, her sister Ula Banks of Northville and brother

Lake Chemung fatality still under investigation

By CHUCK NUSBAUM

The body of a 57-year-old Northville man was recovered by a Livingston County sheriff's diving team last Wednesday, more than a day after his fishing vessel was struck by a high-performance jet boat on Lake Chemung in Genoa Township.

Sheriff department officials said James Anthony Pasco apparently died as a result of severe internal injuries suffered in the Tuesday morning, July 26 mishap. Detectives were still piecing together eyewitness accounts of the accident early this week, and were weighing charges against an unidentified Howell area man who was driving the speed boat.

Detectives said the 32-year-old jet boat driver had recently acquired the high-performance vessel, which was equipped with a powerful automobile engine.

Detectives said the jet boat was traveling at a "moderate to high" rate of speed when it struck Pasco's fishing vessel. The boat was probably moving "well below" a uniform 35 m.p.h. speed limit for lake traffic, they said, since the driver was reportedly negotiating a wide turn at the time of impact.

The Howell man obviously violated one state law that requires speed boat drivers to provide a 100-foot clearance for fishing vessels, said sheriff officials.

Due to conflicting accounts, detectives said they have yet to determine whether Pasco's boat was moving at the time of the mishap.

According to initial police accounts, the jet boat struck Pasco's vessel from the north after it made a sweeping turn along a northern shore on the west end of the lake. Eyewitnesses said the fishing boat had just started to cross the lake from south to north.

The boating accident occurred sometime between 10 and 11 a.m. on July 26, according to police, a time when there was very little traffic on Lake Chemung. The lake is located north of Grand River Avenue between Brighton and Howell.

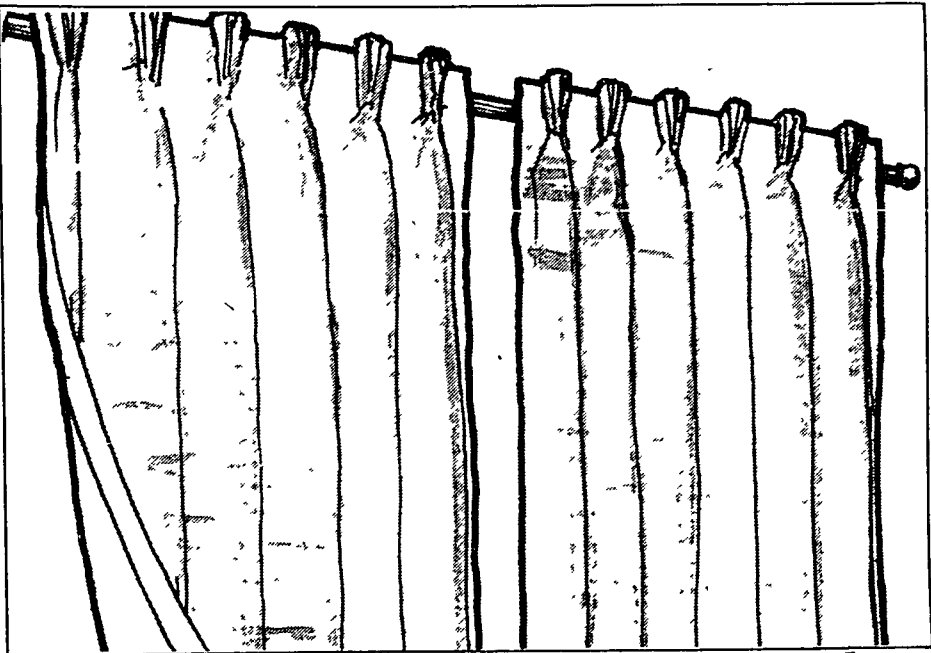

The jet boat clipped the right rear of the fishing vessel, according to early police accounts, knocking Pasco and his motor into the lake. A 10-member recovery team eventually found both the body and motor within 30 feet of each other at the bottom of the lake, said sheriff department divermaster Fred Devine.

The county diving team, with help from the state police, finally recovered Pasco's body at about 12:30 p.m. last Wednesday, he said.

Devine suggested that many lakes in Livingston County are "too small" to handle high-performance speed boats like the one involved in last week's fatal boating accident.

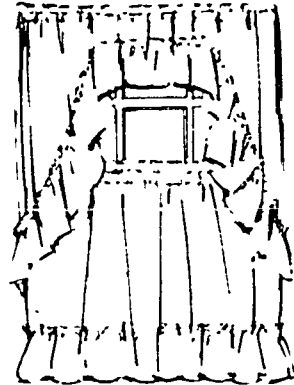

A sheriff department marine patrol has written 150 boating violations so far this year, said Devine. Most of the tickets involved drivers who were charged either with carelessness or intoxication, which are considered the two big "killers" on county waterways.

Last week's boating death was the first recorded this year in Livingston County, which has enjoyed a relatively low boating fatality rate in past years. The last reported fatality occurred last summer when a hang-glider pilot plunged to his death at Genoa Township's West Crooked Lake.

City asks county to pay Eight Mile costs

Employing a novel twist on the city's agreement with the Wayne County Road Commission (WCRC) that resulted in paving South Main Street, council Monday approved participation in a $190,000 federally-supported plan to widen Eight Mile Road roughly between Center and Novi Roads.

City manager Steven Walters was instructed to inform WCRC the city is willing to participate in the project, proposing that WCRC pay the city's $14,600 share. The city would repay WCRC in three installments in the fiscal years beginning 1984-85.

South Main was paved under an agreement by which the city paid the entire cost with WCRC to repay its share in three annual installments ending in 1988.

The agreement was struck because South Main was sorely in need of new pavement but WCRC said it did not have sufficient funds to pay its 40 percent share. It would eventually have been done at WCRC expense, but was far down the priority list and may have taken years.

While both parties seemed satisfied with the arrangement, city residents having approved an added 0.5 mill tax levy to support bonds that paid for the project, the irony in the city's proposal pleading insufficient funds for the Eight Mile project amused council members.

"It's too much fun not to do," Walters said. "We'll just throw our cards on the table — all they can do is make us pick them back up."

short of cash for a project the county wants. At stake is $146,200 in federal grant money allocated toward the project. The remaining $43,800 is the "local share" to be split between Wayne and Oakland County Road Commissions and the city.

Councilmember J. Burton DeRusha said it would be difficult for WCRC to pass up the "free money" represented by the federal grant.

Walters noted that if the city's first proposal is rejected, the door is still open to make another agreement, with the city perhaps offering WCRC a credit against the money owed for South Main.

"It could, in effect, be the same thing," Walters said. "Since we could say the credit applies toward the last installment in 1987 — we still wouldn't have to put up any money up front."

At an earlier session council members said the widening project is one they have long wished to see done, and that it was distressing that the opportunity arose just as the city was facing its tightest fiscal period in many years.

'It's too much fun not to do (it).'

Bullard is opening district office

State House of the 60th Constituents District can call or visit Representative Willis Bullard (R-Highland) at his newly-opened district office in Milford.

Bullard represents Northville city residents who live in Oakland County. The office at 2850 N. Milford Road just north of the Village of Milford will be open five days a week. The phone number is 887-8045.

"I plan to spend a good deal of time at the district office when the session," Bullard said. "I am interested in visiting with individual constituents and groups to hear their concerns and opinions and this office will expand the opportunity to do that."

Foreman lot split plan tabled by commission

Township planners last week tabled approval of preliminary site plans to divide six ways a 39-acre parcel of unplatted land — an orchard — located off Seven Mile Road in the northeast section of the township, near Maybury State Park.

The plans were submitted by land owner Ralph Foreman, Jr., and were considered at a meeting of the Township Planning Commission last week Tuesday.

According to a review by township planning consultants, a redesign of the proposed property division would make it acceptable, and would probably be approved at the August meeting of the planning commission.

The parcel, presently zoned medium-density single-family residential, eventually would be used for residences, with a cul-de-sac planned for access to homes to be built there.

The main problem with the present preliminary site plans was that one of the divided parcels was short by 30 feet of the 150-foot minimum lot width required in R-2 zoning. Also, planning consultant William Coates, of Vilcan-Leman and Associates, recommended Foreman obtain an easement 30 feet west of existing site plan to provide for "reasonably shaped" parcels.

Sunset nature walk offered at park

"Sunset Walk," a 1½-mile nature walk, will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday, August 10, at Kensington Metropark near Milford. Naturalist Mark Szabo will lead the walk and discuss the sights, sounds and smells of a summer evening. The program is free, however, advance registration and a vehicle entry permit are required. For further information, call the Nature Center at Kensington at 685-1561.

cerned Citizens in their aid to the needy. It also donates to the King's Daughters home and to Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor as well as sends youngsters to camp.

President Marge Bolton explained that the baked goods had to be sold last week as they had baked early in the morning at the V.F.W. hall and at Genitti's. Both had donated their facilities, she reported.

Friends of Northville Library reported they have had to throw out about two-thirds of the used books they had brought to the sale as the heavy cartons were soaked before they could store them. The remaining third, stored by druggist Bill Wright, will be on sale in the Friends booth in front of Northville Pharmacy.

Sale chairman Sue Fostey reports the Friends will be selling the remaining books, pictures donated by The Record and will be encouraging visitors to the booth to sign up for membership in the organization that aids library projects.

Like most participants, Fostey had high praise for her workers, relating that Edie and Colin Dunbar had taken over the booth, working through the rain.

To those unhappy about the weather last weekend, Lapham replied that he "really did not enjoy getting up at 4:30 a.m." to mark the street spaces, but would be doing so again this Saturday with his father Charles. He added that he expects this Saturday's sale to bring even larger crowds than those of previous years.

Class reunion

Waterford alumni host first gathering

Forty-three former students were among the more than 100 celebrants attending the first reunion of Northville's Waterford School last Saturday.

The rural one-room schoolhouse, which stood south of Six Mile west of Bradner in Northville Township, has been gone for nearly a decade.

However, from 1837 to 1953, the small white frame building served as a classroom for area farm children in the first through eighth grades.

Last Saturday's reunion was held at Meads Mill Junior High School near the original Waterford School site and included alumni from across the country.

Though the school's records were destroyed by Wayne County — leaving no listing of former students — reunion organizers were able to locate alumni from as far away as Arizona, Kentucky and Florida.

alumni were Gertrude Ross and her son Sam Dickey of Kentucky.

Eighteen alumni at the reunion attended Waterford during the 1920s. Juanita Lang Westphal of South Lyon was among the oldest pupils having attended the school from 1915-1920.

Entertaining the Waterford alumni at their first reunion were Darren Sipes, Terry Kouts, Larry Garry and Mike Zalak, young magicians and jugglers from Garden City.

Organizers of the event, Bill Clark of Gaines, Bob Clark and Chuck Heard of Gregory and Norma Hazlett of Northville, already are planning a second reunion for Waterford next year.

Anyone with information or location of former students should send correspondence to Waterford School Reunion, P.O. Box 924, Northville, 48167.

Among those attending Saturday's reunion was Amy Sessions Simons, who attended Waterford School from 1909 to 1915, until she moved "in town" (Northville) with her family. Iva Minehart, who taught at Waterford from 1924-25, came from Sun City, Arizona, for the event.

Max Ross of Phoenix, Arizona, attended along with his brother Lloyd Ross. The Ross-Waldecker family had the most former pupils from one family present at the reunion. Ross-Waldecker alumni included Gertrude Ross Scarlett of Plymouth, 1923-35; Lloyd Ross, 1924-25; Helen Ross Kisabeth of Belleville, 1936-38; Max Ross, 1936-38; Donald Waldecker of Ypsilanti, 1936-40. William Waldecker of Cerritos, California, and Webb Ross of Glendale, Arizona, were unable to attend.

Among the two-generation Waterford

County fair opens Monday

The 1983 Wayne County Fair will be held August 8-13 at county fairgrounds near Belleville in Van Buren Township, with special events and activities for all ages planned.

The fun begins at 5 p.m. Monday, August 8, when the gates open to the public. All fair animals will be judged the first day, with ribbons for grand champions to be handed out. At 6 p.m. the 1983 4-H queen will be crowned. At 7 p.m. the pony pull at the grandstand area will get under way. Visitors can enjoy themselves till closing at 11 p.m. for a $1 admission price.

Tuesday, August 9, all senior citizens will be admitted free to the fair between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. General admission on Tuesday will be $1. Among the day's activities will be horse judging at 8 a.m., dairy judging at 9 a.m., and at 2 p.m. beef judging.

Also at 2 p.m., the talented Performing Arts Troupe from Michigan State University will entertain. At 6 p.m. goat judging will take place and at 8 p.m. the rock band Euphoria will play till 11 p.m.

Wednesday, August 10, fair admission will increase to $2 per person. An antique tractor pull will be featured at 7 p.m. Swine, rabbits and cavies will be judged throughout the day.

Thursday, August 11, will feature the peak of the fair's activities. Youngsters 17 and under will be admitted free as part of Children's Day. Clowns will perform skits and roam the fairgrounds all day.

At noon a special feature for all visitors will be a "talk to the animals" session. Everyone will have an opportunity for a "hands on" learning experience with farm animals. Youngsters will enjoy petting, holding and cuddling the special selection of loveable farm animals. Chuck E. Cheese will also be on hand to shake hands with visitors.

At 1:30 p.m. the talent show begins. Any youngster may enter, but must be preregistered by 11 a.m.

When the talent show ends, additional laughs begin at 2:30 p.m. with a dog costume class. At 3:30 p.m. the popular watermelon-eating contest will take place, with everyone a winner.

Those who have never experienced a goat milking contest will enjoy this fun event, beginning at 4 p.m. Experienced 4-H'ers will maneuver their quick fingers for first place.

At 6 p.m. will be the 4-H auction, with everything from chickens to grand champion blue ribbon steers will be available for shrewd food buyers at a reasonable cost.

To wrap up the week and begin an enjoyable weekend, the Wayne County fair will offer a variety of events on August 12-13. Horses will ride the ring all day, with livestock sweepstakes beginning at 6 p.m. to select the best all-around handler of animals.

All animals will be outfitted in costumes for a comic feature.

The stock farm tractor pull begins at 7 p.m. Friday along with the Double Cross 7 rock band.

Saturday begins with a rooster crowing contest at 7 a.m. At 8 a.m. will be an open class rabbit show followed by an open horse show at 8:30 a.m.

Whatever animal they may have for a pet, kids can bring their pet to compete in the 2 p.m. pet show open to everyone. Everything from the longest tail to the prettiest eyes will be awarded prizes. A frog jumping contest open to all will take place at 4 p.m.

A speed and action show for horse lovers begins at 5:30 p.m., with horses running through the daring barrel and obstacle course. At 6 p.m., 4-H'ers will model their hand-constructed clothing at a fashionable style review. A closing awards ceremony will come at the end. Barns, food stands and exhibits will remain open till 11 p.m.

The county fairgrounds can be reached by taking the I-94 (Ford Freeway) exit at Belleville. Fairgrounds are just north of the exit off the west service drive.

For further information about the fair, call the fairgrounds at 697-7002 or the Wayne County 4-H Youth Programs at 721-6576.

Salem studies compromise with Holloway

A compromise solution to the lengthy battle between Holloway Sand and Gravel Company and the Salem Township board was expected to be studied at last night's regular board meeting (which took place after this newspaper's press deadline).

Charles Dobson and Margaret Austin, attorneys for the township, were listed on the meeting's agenda and township officials confirmed that they expected the attorneys to bring a suggested resolution of compromise to the board.

The July 27 hearing on Holloway's latest motion to expedite its suit to mine sand and gravel from a 168-acre parcel adjacent to its current landfill at Napier and Six Mile was adjourned for two weeks. Attorneys for both sides agreed to the adjournment while the compromise solution was being worked out.

The saga of the Holloway requests began last fall when the company filed an application for permits to mine sand and gravel, set up an asphalt plant and expand its landfill operation. All three requests were denied in March by the Salem Township Planning Commission and the township board took a similar stance at its April meeting.

Shortly thereafter, the Holloway company filed suit against the township seeking to reverse the board's action. In addition, the gravel company sought to have two former agreements with the township set aside.

Under the first agreement, the township had received deed to 77 acres of filled land at the Six Mile/Napier site. The second agreement put in escrow the deed to an additional 88-acre parcel until the landfill/ski slope operation is completed. This is destined to become township property under the agreement.

In accordance with the agreements, Holloway allowed free dumping privileges to township residents and paid rental and inspection fees of $35,000 a year to the township. In its current lawsuit, Holloway is seeking to recover the land and the payments as well as the value of the dumping privileges.

In May, Washtenaw County Circuit Court Judge Henry T. Conlin granted Holloway a temporary permit to establish the asphalt plant until the lawsuit is settled. The judge is currently studying a similar permit for the sand and gravel mining.

The state Department of Natural Resources (DNR) also overrode the township on July 12 when it approved Holloway's application for a state permit to expand the landfill.

College to collect on loans in strict follow-up policy

Students who seek to drop a class at Schoolcraft College will find a more liberal refund policy in the fall, but those who haven't repaid their loans may hear a bill collector at the door.

A new policy approved by the board of trustees last week will allow students to receive a 100 percent refund up to the end of the "drop-add" period.

Previously, refunds were scaled down the longer a student waited. The new policy is expected to reduce the number of refunds appeals, according to President Richard McDowell.

Bad debts totaling $2,463 were declared delinquent and turned over to a collection agency.

The bad debt rate, which had been in the 2-3 percent range, rose to 6 1/2 percent, according to the administration.

Twin reasons: most of the delinquent loans were made in August, 1981, when the economy was particularly bad, and, at the same time, the loan limit was raised to $200 from $100.

The delinquent borrowers have been billed three times, called twice and sent a letter from the director of accounting. The college will put a "hold" on their records, meaning they may neither get a transcript nor re-register until the debt is paid.

Guilty and mute pleas entered in racetrack case

A racetrack cashier recently employed by Northville Downs, as well as by other racetracks in the Detroit area, pleaded guilty last Thursday to charges of aiding and assisting in the preparation of false tax documents involving track winnings, the U.S. Department of Justice reported this week.

Two other cashiers stood mute at arraignments last week on similar charges.

Basil Fattaleh, 65, of Milford, pleaded guilty to one count of making fraudulent returns and statements to the Internal Revenue Service before U.S. District Court Judge Ralph Freeman. The maximum penalty for conviction is a $1,000 fine and a one-year imprisonment. Sentencing of Fattaleh has been postponed pending receipt of a probation report.

Fattaleh had been indicted July 15, along with Neil Kalish, of Brighton, also a cashier at Downs as well as other area tracks.

Also pleading guilty Thursday in a "ten percent" scam was Leo Kotzian, 43, of Detroit. Kotzian, an alleged ten percenter at Detroit area racetracks, had been charged by information on sixteen counts of preparation of IRS Forms 5754 (Statement of Receiving Gambling Winnings).

A "ten percenter," as defined by U.S. attorneys, is a person who "cashes winning tickets and receives 10 percent of the ticket value in order that the true winner be identified and need not pay income taxes on the winnings."

Additionally, two other full-time union-member cashiers at area tracks, including Northville Downs, were arraigned in U.S. District Court Monday of last week on an indictment charging one count of conspiracy and 16 counts of aiding and assisting in the preparation of false tax forms.

The indictment, released July 15, states that Bennie Zizio, Sr., 66, of Warren, and James Gammachia, 59, of Harper Woods, "conspired with 10 percenters to falsify U.S. Tax Form 5754 to conceal the true winners of races from the Internal Revenue Service."

Both Zizio and Gammachia stood mute to the charges before U.S. Magistrate Paul Komives and a not guilty plea was entered by the court on their behalf. Both were released after posting a $1,000 personal bond.

The maximum penalty for conspiracy, upon conviction, is a $10,000 fine and five years of prison. The penalty for aiding and assisting in the preparation of false documents is a $5,000 fine and a three-year prison term.

The investigation leading to the indictments was conducted by the IRS, Criminal Investigation Division and Marcia G. Cooke, Assistant United States Attorney.

Y tour to view Vatican art

The YWCA of Western Wayne County has scheduled an autumn weekend in Chicago for members and friends which will include a tour of the Vatican Art Collection.

The trip is scheduled for October 1-3 with the group traveling by Amtrak. Departure will be from Dearborn at 8:50 a.m. Saturday and will return Monday at 11:19 p.m.

Travelers will be staying at the Radisson Chicago, close to the Magnificent Mile action of world famous shops, theatre, dining and nightlife of Water Tower Place and Hancock Center. A YW hostess will help individuals arrange activities at their own pace.

The Vatican Art Collection tour is set for Monday morning starting with an introductory lecture and tour until noon. The collection includes 200 masterpieces which span the entire history of art from Classical and Egyptian to Raphael, Leonardo de Vinci, Matisse and Rouault.

The YW trip is $132 per person double or triple occupancy and must be secured with a $50 deposit by August 26. The balance is due September 12.

To reserve a spot, call the YWCA at 561-4110 and mail reservations to YWCA of Western Wayne County, 26279 Inkster, 48141. Northville resident Corrine Vincent is director of the YWCA of Western Wayne County.

Sidewalk sale rain date announced on new city 'promo' cart

Double bargain this weekend

This Saturday promises to be a two-star day in downtown Northville with a bluegrass festival at Ford Field and a rescheduled sidewalk sale — crafts and antiques fair on Main and Center streets.

The drenching rain that continued throughout the morning last Saturday caused postponement of the annual merchants' sidewalk sale and crafts and antiques fair, but the day was far from being a complete disaster. If proof were needed that the downtown has experienced a successful renovation, Saturday might be considered to have supplied it. The day also proved for at least one group that there's a lot of community caring.

While the few crafts and antiques dealers who set up booths were packing away merchandise and making plans to return this Saturday, merchants were finding their stores filled with local shoppers who donned rainwear and came to town anyway. They came inside to browse among sale tables that would have been outdoors on the sidewalk in fair weather.

"The merchants are going to be in heaven," commented Scott Lapham, president of the Northville Chamber of Commerce and organizer of the annual sidewalk sale with his father Charles Lapham. He was making reference to the double opportunity to clear away summer merchandise. Last Saturday sales, he said, were inside the stores. This Saturday, barring another unexpected downpour, crowds again should fill the downtown streets and sidewalks.

Our sympathies do go out to two organizations — King's Daughters and Friends of the Library. Members of Mizpah Circle King's Daughters had brought the usual tempting breads, pies, cookies and cakes for the sale that makes possible their hospital and King's Daughters home projects. The Circle locally also has been assisting in providing canned goods to the Concerned Citizens project. Circle president Marge Bolton, however, reported Monday that the small group of dedicated women had raised very near $1,000. "I can't believe it — everything sold out — it just took longer," she said, recalling how workers stayed in the rain through mid-afternoon when everything was sold. "But we did not cut a price or throw anything away." The deserved reputation of Mizpah Circle members as good cooks could have been a factor.

The Friends of the Library were not so fortunate. The rains ruined many heavy cartons of books before they could be taken away. Chairperson Sue Fostey estimates that about one-third of the books were rescued, thanks to assistance from Northville Pharmacy owner Bill Wright who is storing them in his van until Saturday. The Friends will reopen the booth in front of Northville Pharmacy Saturday with the remaining books and photographs donated by The Northville Record. They also will be encouraging residents to take out memberships in the organization that aids library projects.

Northville now will have the double attraction this Saturday with the craft, antique and clearaway sales going on concurrently with the bluegrass benefit headed by Tom Rice.

Rain is no stranger to folk festival, but there is the advantage that musicians on a covered stage can still perform for those audience members willing to brave the elements. In fact, Rice advises those planning to attend to bring rain gear for the occasional shower that passes quickly.

With admission to the festival arranged so that people can come and go as they please, retreat to one of the downtown restaurants or shops is always possible during a heavy storm without giving up the idea of hearing later performers. Even without inclement weather, the presence of the sidewalk sale may entice some music fans onto Main Street, while the festival offers a pleasant stop for weary shoppers.

With the festival admission at only $4 per person, directed to the good cause of Huntington's Disease research, it represents no less of a bargain than do the merchants' goods. It is happy coincidence that the shop owners had already planned to support the festival this year and now share a date with it. Both are worth a trip to town.

Off the record

By JEAN DAY

Rain's a threat to us, too

I used to love to sit on my porch listening to the sound of rain falling in gentle thuds on the canvas awning. It was a nice alone-in-the-world feeling.

That enjoyment is no more. I realized as I woke at 3 a.m. last Friday morning to hear the rain beating against the bedroom window that my attitude has changed. My immediate reaction had been — "No, not on Friday." Friday is trash day in my neighborhood, and showers mean that the cans and bags have to be taken out in spite of the rain before I go to work. In the past I have ruined hair-dos and raincoats in the process. I am convinced that the God of Thunder knows when it is Friday because I am certain that it rains more frequently on that day than any other.

Rainstorms with accompanying lightening, however, now cause another, more serious concern to me and all of us in the process of putting out a newspaper via computers. A single bolt of lightning can erase a day's production. Fortunately, this disaster has not beset us to date. Almost every reporter, however, has lost at least one story as we race to shut off the computer system when a storm approaches.

There is no doubt that every one of us writing our stories on the Mycro-Comp, a newspaper computer manufactured by Mycro-Tek, feels it is an improvement over pounding out copy on a typewriter. This instrument does marvelous things — if the writer tells it precisely what to do.

A misspelled word can be corrected merely by stroking over the wrong letter. If a name has been spelled wrong throughout the story, it can be corrected by a search-and-replace command. By instructing the computer in this way to change Smith to Smythe, it gets busy and literally zips through the story making the correction each place the name is used.

Paragraphs can be rearranged by defining the one to be moved — and hitting the right key. When we layout pages, copy can be changed in seconds to the correct width. Headlines, too, are written on the computer, which counts the letters to get correct lengths.

It's fun to show visitors how the stories for one issue of the paper all are contained on a single master disk. The stories of any reporter can be called up on the screen just by using the writer's initials. We also can view the listing of all stories for the Our Town section, or the sports or general news sections.

The copy for an issue is sent to our composing plant in Howell on production disks. The Our Town section goes to press earliest with all copy written and edited by Friday afternoon. That is the reason for an early Friday deadline for wedding, birth, engagement and other community news.

Sports stories leave for the plant at the end of the day Monday, necessitating a Monday night deadline. By Tuesday everyone is working toward an 11 a.m. deadline; usually only stories of a previous night's meeting or a newsbreaking event are written at this time.

When a storm approaches close to deadline, we all write with a wary eye on the window and listen to radio weather reports. The beginning of tornado season causes fear — more so that we will have to shut down operations than that a twister really will sweep through town. Truly, I have the feeling that Mother Nature wants to show mankind that — fantastic as such inventions as computers are — she still can outperform us all. It can be an awesome lesson.

"Ohhh, you're going to judge a beauty pageant. How nice."

Now I've been around long enough not to be fooled by her understanding tone. So, I was ready for the subtle gibes I knew would be headed my way before we completed dinner.

Sure enough, shortly later she asked what questions I was going to ask the contestants during the personality/poise portion of the judging.

"Why don't you ask them what they think of the ERA," she suggested helpfully. "You could ask them what they think of President Reagan's Central American policy."

"Actually, I suspect we're supposed to steer away from questions about politics and the ERA," I responded politely. "I was thinking more along the lines of why they decided to enter the contest and what are their goals in life."

But she was really hung up on 'meaningful' questions and proceeded to make more suggestions.

"Ask if they voted in the last election," she said. "Ask if they approve of Reagan's domestic policies. See if they have any opinions about the basic money supply or the reappointment of Volcker as head of the Federal Reserve Board."

I shouldn't have let it happen, but her suggestions were beginning to irritate me so I let her have it. "Actually, I thought I'd ask them what they think of older men."

I knew immediately it was a mistake. "Ask them how many hours they spend in the beauty parlor every day," she shot back.

"Ask them if they know what it's like to work eight hours a day and then have to come home and toil over a hot stove or do the washing and ironing. See if they know what it's like to have a husband who watches baseball games on television while the garage needs cleaning and the grass needs mowing."

I could see I was going to be in big trouble if I didn't do something quickly. So I pulled my reporter's notebook from my pocket and started writing. "Let's see," I said. "ERA ... South American policy ... domestic policy ... Paul Volcker ... basic money supply. Did I forget anything, my dear?"

Racetrack facilities' stench irks neighbor

To the Editor:
This is a copy of a letter sent August 1 to the Northville City Council.

In the early part of June I contacted the City Manager regarding the boarding of horses at the race track, as well as the odor of manure. After he investigated, he advised me that it is within their right to board horses, and that horse manure poses no threat to health (even though it draws and propagates flies.)

In view of this information I decided to check things out for myself! It turns out to be true that it is permissible to board horses in the "off" season (no mention of horse manure.)

However, there is an ordinance prohibiting house trailers, except for the two weeks before and the two weeks after racing season. Also, in the deed for the sale of the River Street parking lot from the City of Northville to the Northville Downs, the use of this property is restricted to ingress and egress and auto parking.

On June 22, 1983, I met with the City Manager and advised him of violations occurring, and are STILL occurring on the race track property. At that time he told me that he would see that the deed and city ordinance were enforced.

On my follow-up calls, he stated that the letters were on tape, awaiting typing and that I would receive a copy of the letter.

As of this writing (August 1) no action has been taken. I would expect that the City Council would take immediate action to expel the house trailers on the race track property, and continue to enforce the ordinance.

I would also expect that the Council would enforce the conditions as drawn in the deed to the River Street parking lot, and now allow (1) truck parking, (2) retail sales, such as saddlery, etc.

Only continued enforcement will suffice, as the race track (John Carlo and Associates) have a method of establishing a ghetto, inch by inch on the race track property. This problem is well apparent if one would travel west on Main Street and then go south to East Cady Street. It would be apparent to anyone the false facade that Northville has established.

Thank you in advance for your prompt action to this request.

Sincerely,
Frank G. Pauli

Knights of Columbus say 'thanks for help'

To the Editor:

The Knights of Columbus Northville Council No. 6762 is presenting a check to Our Lady of Providence School for Girls at Six Mile and Back roads. The check was derived from our Tootsie

Roll Drive conducted in April of this year.

We wish to thank all those kind people who so generously contributed to this effort, and many thanks to our Northville Police Department for permission to solicit.

Last but not least many thanks to the merchants who so graciously allowed our council to solicit funds at their establishments.

Respectfully,

Boosters' hats off to Charleys for feast

To the Editor:
The people of Northville should be aware of the fine job Northville Charley's does in assisting the Northville Public Schools Athletic Program.

On Sunday, July 17, Northville Charley's staff worked voluntarily to prepare an outstanding lobster and Northville (News) Printing.

The children will long remember walking through the Water Wheel Car Wash and being stars on the Northville High School stage.

Finally, I'd like to thank the parents who made the program successful.

Church, Jaycettes' aid praised in blood drive

To the Editor:

The response to the Emergency Blood Drive was fantastic! The Northville Jaycettes did a great job in putting it together in a matter of days. The American Red Cross was overwhelmed by the great response from the community.

A special thank you goes to the First Presbyterian Church for the use of its facilities. Thanks to the teenagers that gave up their afternoon to help set up the equipment and then stayed to donate!

Thanks also to the people that took time out of their busy schedules to come in and donate blood.

Last but not least, thanks to the Jaycettes that helped the Red Cross put all their equipment away.

It was a successful drive receiving 41 pints!

The next time a donor site is in the area, think about giving the gift of life — the need is URGENT. Each person is capable of donating every eight weeks (up to five times a year).

Thanks

Waterford reunion a blast, thanks to staff

To the Editor:

We would like to thank everyone who took an interest in our Waterford School reunion July 30 — Dr. Knighton, Marian Zayt and the staff at the Northville School offices for coordinating the use of Meads Mill School.

Our heartfelt appreciation to Charlie Anderson, Silver Springs custodian, who generously donated his time and services to keep things running smoothly and Anthony V. Rizzo for the use of his office facilities for our many meetings.

Also, thanks to Black's Hardware, Elias Brothers Big Boy, D & C Store, Genitti's Hole in the Wall, IV Seasons, Lapham's Men's Shop, Freydl Women's Wear and Northville Pharmacy for their contributions to this memorable occasion. Thank you.

Jaycees appreciate July 4 volunteers

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Northville Jaycees, I would like to thank the citizens of Northville for once again giving us the opportunity to orchestrate the Fourth of July festivities.

As you know, an endeavor of this size takes a great deal of preparation. For the past six months many people have contributed their time and energy for this project.

As overall chairman, I would like to give special recognition to the following people: Tom Hoetger, finance; Dave Winans, facilities; Frank Barton, communications; Francis Olewnik and Doug McLaren, parade; Tim Miner and Jim Totzkay, barbecue; Paul Hibbeln, contests; Keith Mannisto, fireworks; Ron Barnum, publicity; Doug Boor, manpower; Mike Terry, dunk tank; Dick Kernozek, security; and board members Bob Cummins, Mike O'Brien and Bill Meyers.

I would also like to thank the following volunteers who rolled up their sleeves and pitched in: the Northville Jaycettes, the Gordon Keevis family, Peter Couse, Jim Kleinert, Bev Ferrans and my assistant Diane Cook.

Thanks for the invaluable support in making 1983 July 4th a success.

Sincerely,

'Tots Around Town' backers commended

To the Editor:

This summer I had the delightful opportunity to conduct "Tots Around Town" for Community Education.

Thanks to several special people in town, a group of preschoolers will remember this summer for years to come. I'd like to take this chance to thank the people who made this possible.

First, thanks goes to the post office, especially "Mr. Joe" for the tour. Hats off to Northville's finest — the police and fire departments. The chief of police and fireman "Masher" taught the children first hand where to turn for help.

Special thanks to the Waterwheel Restaurant for the grand tour and to the Puppy Love Salon for the private bath show. We really enjoyed "Mrs. Midge" as she showed the printing process at

Lansing Report

Hospital spending

By GERALD H. LAW
36th District Representative

Because hospital costs continue to increase between 12 and 15 percent annually, I have co-sponsored legislation recently introduced in the Michigan House that would limit the total hospital capital expenditures in the state.

Under the budget constraint plan (H.B. 4735) hospital capital expenditures would be limited to no more than 115 percent of the annual average for the past five years.

Limiting these expenditures would be a giant step toward effective health care cost containment. As a rule of thumb, each dollar in new capital investment results in about 50 cents in additional operating expenses.

In 1972, Michigan enacted Certificate of Need legislation requiring hospitals to prove that a project met certain criteria of need before it was undertaken. But the process has been less effective than it should be because any project which can demonstrate need, even a slight one, can be approved.

With resources getting more and more scarce, not every project which offers benefits should be approved. We need to force hospitals to choose projects that have high benefits compared to costs.

Computer games are Aardvark forte

By PHILIP JEROME

MARS by Rodger Olsen — Your ship crashed on the Red Planet and you have to get home. You will have to explore a Martian city, repair your ship and deal with possibly hostile aliens to get home again.

— Advertisement
Aardvark Adventure Series

Six years ago Rodger Olsen was working as a psychologist at Maxey's Boys Training Center in Whitmore Lake.

Today at the age of 40, he's a millionaire several times over and president of Aardvark Systems, Ltd., a multi-national firm doing business from a run-down old home in Walled Lake.

Olsen, a huge, bear of a man, is one of those individuals who has made a fortune in the computer industry. Specifically, Aardvark is a software programming and distribution house, making games and adventures for nearly a dozen different types of home computers.

"Basically," explains Olsen, "I'm a toymaker. I make toys and games for home computers."

A Walled Lake resident for 10 years, Olsen became a high-tech millionaire almost by accident.

"I've always been fascinated by numbers," he reported. "Even as a psychologist, I believed that if you can't explain it with numbers it's not real."

It was roughly six years ago that Olsen went out and spent $500 to purchase his own home computer. But the machine that would lead to formation of a multi-national company was at first a disappointment.

"I felt guilty for taking $500 out of the family budget to indulge my interest in numbers," he explained. "All it did was sit there and blink at me."

Determined to make use of his $500 expenditure, Olsen began to create his own computer games and quickly discovered he was good at it.

"I liked them, my kids liked them, and the neighbor's kids liked them, too," he said, "so I took out a classified ad in one of the 25 magazines geared specifically to home computers."

The response was slow at first — a phenomenon which is not unusual because people who buy games through computer magazines have to learn to trust the company, according to Olsen.

But soon the orders started coming in.

"We filled up the corner of my living room, then the whole living room, then the den and an addition to the house," Olsen reported. "We moved the business into this house at the corner of South Commerce and Decker Road, but now it's too small and we're looking to move again."

"Everybody is crawling all over everybody and we have to find a new location in order to keep up with the demand. There's simply not enough room to do all the things we have to do."

Aardvark Systems, Ltd., has grown considerably from a company that began with a man designing computer games in his living room.

And Olsen's roll has changed considerably with the growth.

While he started as an "author" of computer games, Olsen says he's now more of an "editor."

Aardvark actively recruits young authors, urging them to send in their game proposals by offering "the highest commissions in the industry" and pledging to give programs "the widest possible advertising coverage."

Olsen personally edits each game that's submitted. More importantly, he responds personally to each author, making suggestions on how their games can be improved to make them marketable.

It's that personal attention which has made Aardvark as successful as it is.

"Authors like to send us their games because they know Rodger takes a personal interest in every one of them," explained an Aardvark employee. "When you send us a game, you get back more than just a form letter — you get a personal letter back from the president of the company explaining what you did right, what you did wrong and what you can do to improve it."

Olsen believes the same level of attention to the company's vast mail-order division is responsible for Aardvark's success.

"Computer games is a very financially-lucrative business and lots of people have tried their hand at it," said Olsen. "Aardvark is the second oldest company of its type in the country and I've probably seen more than 1,000 competitors die off over the past six years."

"Now the big-money firms like Atari, Warner Brothers and Fox Studios are investing big money in the field, but we're not worried because they don't have our expertise and they don't have the customer-relations philosophy that we do."

Olsen said the true key to Aardvark's success is its guarantee, a guarantee that is unique in the industry.

In essence, the guarantee says that if you don't like the game, send it back within 15 days for a full and unconditional refund.

"The reason we've survived so long," said Olsen, "is we offer better service to the user than any company has ever done. We have a phone number that people can call if their game isn't working right or they have a problem."

"We've survived in this business on the quality of our games and on customer service. It's the key to our success and it's something that will be maintained no matter how large we get."

"The guarantee and the service are what makes us unique. Some of the newer firms in the business have more money, but none of them will ever offer the service we do."

Aardvark currently is in the process of a major change in its distribution system. Previously, the company has sold its games almost exclusively by mail.

Olsen said Aardvark is the number one customer at the Walled Lake Post Office. "We receive four to five mail bags of orders per day and we send back at least that many filled with games," he said.

Now, however, Olsen is moving to market his Aardvark games through retail outlets.

"If 60 million people will buy computer games, only 20 million will buy them via mail orders," he explained. "What we want to do now is make our games available to the other 40 million people who buy their games at retail stores."

In addition, Olsen is in the midst of negotiating franchise agreements with companies overseas. Aardvark has recently completed negotiations with Logic III, Ltd., to market its games in Great Britain.

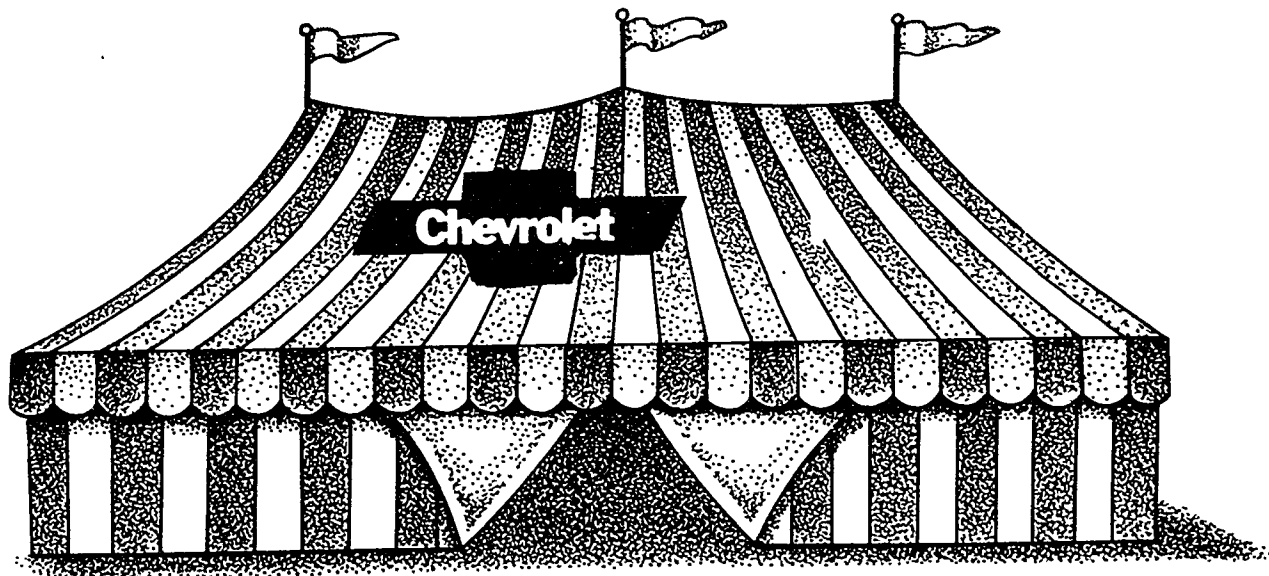

Franchise agreements with other firms have been reached to market the games in New Zealand, Hong Kong, Australia, Sweden, South Africa and Europe.

CO. AND VIZGIRDA, at 431 North Main Street, Milford, offers hand-painted greeting cards and invitations, personalized cards, pens and more.

Irene Vizgirda and Barbara Brish are the owners. The card shop, which opened in January 1983, specializes in personalized cards and art work, such as signs, menus, business announcements, book illustrations and one-of-a-kind cards for every, and any, occasion.

Vizgirda does the one-of-a-kind cards. In the past two years, working as the Card Lady Irene, she has made over 2,000 personalized cards.

"In this age of decreasing personalization," said Vizgirda, "it's the intent of Vizgirda and Co. to bring a touch of specialness and personalization to the traditional holiday-occasions and the nontraditional."

JUAN CARLO'S has received the ADAM Award from the American Dairy Association of Michigan.

Co-owner John C. Hansen recently received the award created to honor restaurants and other dining places serving real dairy products including milk, butter, cheese, cream, sour cream and yogurt.

The ADAM plaque cite's the Mexican restaurant's use of real dairy products and displays the American Dairy Association "REAL" seal symbolizing genuine dairy foods as opposed to imitation dairy products.

The ADAM commended the restaurant's "consistently high standards in food preparation and service." Juan Carlo's opened in December, 1982 at 148 Mary Alexander Court in Northville.

PHILLIPS TRAVEL SERVICE located at 110 North Lafayette, South Lyon is introducing travelers to Delta Air Lines' DATAS II, an automated, unbiased reservation system for travel agents. DATAS II is the world's first unbiased computer reservations and ticketing system, according to Dallas Phillips, owner of the travel service.

"The complexity of today's travel industry has made automation an important factor in our plans for growth and success," Phillips said. "Delta's DATAS II meets the travel counselor's needs for accurate and unbiased information concerning fares, schedules and related support functions necessary to provide superior customer service."

Phillips explained that DATAS II will give his customers flight information on any United States airline in the same unbiased sequence as it appears in any United States guide. "For this reason," Phillips noted, "our agency signed a contract for this unbiased reservations system soon after Delta announced it."

Vince Durocher, Delta's district marketing manager, said, "We are delighted that Phillips Travel is introducing DATAS II in the South Lyon area. The travel industry's response to it has been positive and we're told time and again by our friends in the travel agent community that our unbiased, advanced-technology system is what they want."

Durocher added that Phillips is one of the nation's first travel agencies to contract for Delta's computer system.

RUSSELL GARDNER of 12575 Green Tree Trail in Green Oak Township has joined Farm Bureau Insurance Group (FBIG) as a new agent serving this area.

Gardner recently completed FBIG's month-long career development school for new agents. The training prepared him for the state insurance licensing examination and provided instruction in all areas of property, casualty and life insurance.

Gardner's training included Michigan State University's Institutes on Life and Property/Casualty Insurance and two weeks of instruction at the company's home office in Lansing.

Gardner joins a force of more than 420 FBIG agents serving 300,000 Michigan policy holders.

UNITED HOME HEALTH SERVICES has opened at 8619 Grand River. Five women make up the governing group, including Dr. Shobhana Joshi, a psychiatrist who is on the staff of psychiatry at Ypsilanti State Hospital in addition to maintaining private practices in South Lyon and Ann Arbor.

Dorothy Roer of Farmington, a social worker who is owner of the Center for Physical Therapy in Brighton and the D & D Health Associates in Centerline, is one of promoters of the new service.

The service is set up to assist those who are temporarily or permanently disabled, those recovering from surgery, those in rehabilitation programs, those who are terminally ill and those coping with serious accident or illness.

The group offers registered nurses, licensed practical nurses, aides, companions, homemakers, chore providers, physical therapists, occupational therapists, speech pathologists, social workers and psychologists. In addition, the service has available spiritual counseling, home dentistry and podiatry care as well as psychiatric consultations and medical supplies and equipment.

The telephone number for the service is available by calling Brighton information.

Thymee, Marjorie Harmala of South Lyon, Stephanie Sparling of Plymouth and Jean Ekonen of Northville, make up the remainder of the governing staff of the new service. mala, Hara nurse for 24 years, is nurse consultant for the Alternative Intermediate Service (AIS) for the Mentally Retarded in Washtenaw County. Sparling is the former director of nursing at Ardmore Acres, a psychiatric hospital in Livonia. Ekonen is supervisor of nursing at Metropolitan Hospital West.

Harmala said the service's "excellent" receptionist/typist is a special education graduate of South Lyon High School.

J. MICHAEL CARVER, general manager of the Union Lake K-Mart discount department store, has received the Lakes Area Chamber of Commerce's first annual "Outstanding Citizen of the Year" award. The announcement was made by Chamber President Ronald M. Kidd.

Carver was cited for his support of civic and chamber functions. Among other activities, he chaired the Sponsors Committee for Muscular Dystrophy United Days for Union Lake and Commerce Village.

Carver also has accepted a beautification award from the Lakes Area Chamber for improvements to the grounds of the K mart store at 2905 Union Lake Road.

Realtors can tell value of addition

Improvement in existing home sales after a three-year slump is bringing more sellers back into the market, according to members of Metro MLS, the multi-listing arm of the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors.

Members reported a 19.3 percent increase in listings in the first six months of 1983 compared to a year earlier.

Some sellers are finding that improvements made to the home in expectation of the restored market are offering added value now and encouraging more buyer interest.

Others who made less judicious improvement decisions are finding the opposite is true.

Thomas A. Duke Jr., Metro MLS president, said many homeowners apparently don't recognize that Realtors are ready to offer counsel in such matters before projects are undertaken. Duke said Realtors remain the best source of information on neighborhood growth patterns, current housing trends and what is required to make a home saleable.

"Realtors know what competing homes on the market in the same general price range have to offer and can advise future sellers on how far they should go to keep pace.

"The two main concerns when considering remodeling or repairs are the return you will get on investment at time of sale and if the changes will work to move the home off the market faster," Duke said.

"Also to be considered, of course, is the length of time you will remain in the house to enjoy the improvements."

As a general guide, Duke said modernizing a kitchen or updating a bathroom usually pays off in resale value. The cost of adding a full bath may not, unless the house has several bedrooms and only a single bath.

Basement recreation rooms, a one-time plus, many now detract buyers, while a family room off the kitchen has grown in popularity and has wide appeal. The demand for central air conditioning has grown, but window and wall units seldom add to resale value.

Outdoors, a patio may help sell the home, but returns less than half its cost. A standard driveway is well worth maintaining. An elaborate U-shaped drive, which adds to maintenance trouble and cost, may turn buyers off unless it's a large home with extensive grounds.

Like interior decorating, landscaping is a matter of personal taste, and it is not economically sound to invest in many new plantings as a sales aid. Bedraggled landscaping does harm overall appearance, however, and may hinder a sale unless it is removed or trimmed into shape.

"The wise seller," said Duke, "tries to place himself in the buyer's position. Then it's easier to decide what low cost improvements can be made to make the home more appealing and which ones will drive up the price and bring buyer resistance."

"If average homes in the neighborhood are selling at $65,000 and your home is valued at $60,000, you might get most of a $5,000 investment back if it's made for the right improvement. But if contemplated changes would cost $15,000, you would do much better to attempt to sell the home pretty much as is at a lower than average price."

Novi industrial park certified

Novex industrial park received Michigan Certified Industrial Park status in recent ceremonies in Novi.

To receive certification the park passed inspection processes established by the Michigan Industrial Developers Association in conjunction with the Michigan Department of Commerce.

Minimum standards were set up by the organizations in an effort to foster uniformity in use of the term "industrial park." At one time industrial parks ranged "from the highly sophisticated, organized industrial district to the isolated cornfield completely lacking in basic services and amenities," according to a history of the certification program.

Michigan was the first state to initiate a certification program. Ray Schwemin, Michigan Industrial developer's coordinator for recertification of industrial parks, explains the process puts local industrial parks into Department of Commerce marketing promotions.

Parks are recertified every three years to insure minimum requirements are being maintained. Minimum requirements include 40 acres of industrially-zoned land; water, sewer and utilities in place; an all-weather road with highway access; and a set of protective covenants to insure uses with neighbors within the park.

On hand for the ceremonies in Novi were members of the Michigan Industrial Developers' Association Don Foytek, site location consultant and area development marketing and customer relations and Charlotte Mahoney, senior area development analyst market development. City officials at the festivities were Mayor Robert Schmid, Assistant City Manager Craig Klaver and Community Development Director John Hazelroth.

Commission examines wage discrimination

The Michigan Civil Service Commission agreed recently to seek help from a blue-ribbon task force in determining how to achieve "comparable worth" — elimination of wage discrimination based on sex due to labor market and social factors — in the Michigan classified service.

A staff report to the commission indicates jobs traditionally held by women are valued at less than are classifications at similar skill levels dominated by men.

"The issue of concern is not whether we should or should not take steps to eliminate wage discrimination based on sex, where it exists," said Commissioner John F. Dodge, Jr. of Grosse Pointe Park. "The question is one of strategy."

The task force will be formed and assigned to explore specific questions and make recommendations on cost and collective bargaining factors late this summer.

It will be told to provide answers "as quickly and as surely as possible," Dodge said.

Since solving the issue is likely to involve high costs and significant public policy issues, the task force is to include legislators, a representative for the governor and several persons from the private sector, the commission indicated.

Commission chairperson Michael A.

Dively of Albion said comparable worth "is a major issue of the '80s and the commission is in a national leadership role in addressing it."

In other actions, the commission:

- Approved changes in the unclassified positions in six departments where department heads requested realignments to accommodate reorganization.

- Approved a collective bargaining agreement in the Human Services support unit of state employees, except for a provision dealing with contractual services which violates commission rules.

- Approved five "secondary agreements" affecting various employee organization units and departments of state government.

- Provided temporary waiver of rules to allow the Department of Civil Rights to lay off all of its employees for up to four days without losing fringe benefits during the remainder of the current fiscal year. The action is to meet severe budget problems.

- Approved immediate implementation of a higher cap on annual leave accrual by state employees with long service, and acted to allow payment of clothing allowances to certain Department of Natural Resources investigators.

- Heard a number of presentations by state employees and their representatives on several issues.

Tire recall law altered

A new voluntary vehicle tire registration program took effect June 20, prompting a tire safety group to urge buyers to make sure that a form is filled out so that they can be contacted in event of a recall.

The National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) proposed a recent change in federal law that relieves independent tire dealers and distributors from the requirement to register tires for the buyer.

They are now only required to give the buyer a registration form containing the tire identification number from the sidewall of the tire.

"The manufacturer can't get in touch with you directly unless he has your name and address on file," said Donald G. Brotzman, chairman of the Tire Industry Safety Council.

"While a recall is not likely, it is important to make sure your tires are properly registered just in case."

Chase The Blues All Summer

Blue is beautiful in the summertime. Beautiful in the summer sky, the peaceful lake, the shining sea, the cornflower and the bluebird. Mostly, blue is beautiful in blueberries, where there's a double dividend-you not only can see the color, but you can taste the flavor.

Summer is also a time for marriages, when something blue is a traditional part of the festivities. One of the most satisfactory marriages is that between blueberries and unflavored gelatine. Use them to create recipes that are natural, flavorful and wholesome. Unflavored gelatine contains no artificial ingredients or sugar, and blueberries are a completely natural treat. They belong with one another because the unflavored gelatine gives recipes the support they need while letting the fresh blueberry flavor shine through. The results are appealing and refreshing dishes guaranteed to live happily ever after.

Any time of day can be blueberry time. Mornings start out great when Berry Blueberry Jam is on the breakfast table to spread a little homemade flavor on toast, muffins or croissants. Cool and creamy Summer Blueberry Soup is a delicious make-ahead surprise. There aren't too many soups like this that can be enjoyed for breakfast, as a dinner appetizer, as a mid-afternoon or mid-night snack or as a delightful dessert.

When afternoons call for entertaining or just lounging, Shimmering Blueberry Salad can quench a parched palate with its light and clearly refreshing combination of blueberries, oranges and rose' wine. Everyone knows that blueberries are a regal berry, and Fresh Blueberry Cheesecake is fit for a king with its lusciously light cheese filling crowned with rings of blueberries and whipped cream. Part of the blues-chasing attraction of all these dishes-including creamy Blueberry Ice Cream-is their ease of fixing and the delight in the faces of those who sample them.

The blueberry season is short, but these recipes can all be prepared with readily available unflavored gelatine and dry-pack frozen blueberries when the fresh have passed. Enjoy these wonderful dishes whenever you want to chase the blues, summertime or anytime.

Berry Blueberry Jam

2 cups (1 pint) fresh blueberries
One third cup sugar
2 teaspoons grated orange peel
1 envelope unflavored gelatine
1 cup water

In medium saucepan, combine blueberries with sugar, cook 5- minutes, crushing berries slightly. Bring to a boil, then boil rapidly, stirring constantly, 3-minutes. Stir in orange peel.

In small bowl, sprinkle unflavored gelatine over water, let stand 1-minute. Add to blueberries; stir over low heat until gelatine is completely dissolved, about 5-minutes. Ladle into jars; cover and cool slightly before refrigerating. Makes about 2 cups jam.

Shimmering Blueberry Salad

2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
One third cup sugar
One and one-half cups boiling water
2 cups rose' wine
2 cups (1 pint) fresh blueberries
1 can (12 ounces) mandarin oranges, drained

In medium bowl, mix unflavored gelatine with sugar. Add boiling water and stir until gelatine is completely dissolved. Stir in wine. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture is consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Fold in blueberries and oranges. Turn into five and one-half cup mold or bowl; chill until firm. Makes about 10 servings.

Summer Blueberry Soup

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
One-quarter cup sugar
2 and one-half cups water
2 Tablespoons lemon juice
2 cups (1 pint) fresh blueberries
One-half teaspoon ground cinnamon or aromatic bitters
1 cup (one-half pint) light cream or half and half

In medium saucepan, mix unflavored gelatine with sugar; blend in 1 cup water. Let stand 1-minute. Stir over low heat until gelatine is completely dissolved, about 5-minutes. Stir in remaining water, lemon juice, blueberries and cinnamon. Simmer, stirring frequently and crushing berries slightly, 15- minutes or until blueberries are tender. Cool completely; stir in cream. Chill 4-hours or overnight. Garnish, if desired, with lemon slices and additional blueberries. Makes about 1-quart soup. Note: Soup will thicken upon chilling.

Fresh Blueberry Cheesecake

Pastry for single-crust pie
2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
1 cup (one-half pint) cold light cream or half and half
1 cup (one-half pint) light cream or half and half, heated to boiling
2 packages (3 ounces each) cream cheese, softened
One-half cup sugar
2 Tablespoons orange liqueur
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup ice cubes (about six or eight)
2 to 2 and one-half cups fresh blueberries
Whipped cream

Preheat oven to 450 degrees.

Press pastry into 10-inch by 2-inch fluted quiche/flan pan or 9-inch deep-dish pie pan; prick bottom and sides with fork. Bake 10 minutes or until golden; cool.

In 5-cup blender, sprinkle unflavored gelatine over cold cream; let stand 3 to 4-minutes. Add hot cream and process at low speed until gelatine is completely dissolved, about 2-minutes. Add cream cheese, sugar, liqueur and vanilla; process at high speed until blended. Add ice cubes, one at a time; process at high speed until ice is melted. Let stand until mixture is slightly thickened, about 5-minutes.

Arrange 1 cup blueberries in prepared pan; add gelatine mixture. Chill until firm. Garnish with remaining blueberries and whipped cream. Makes about 8 servings.

Blueberry Ice Cream

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
One-half cup cold milk
One-half cup milk, heated to boiling
2 cups (1 pint) fresh blueberries
Three-fourths cup sugar
2 cups (1 pint) whipping or heavy cream, whipped

In 5-cup blender, sprinkle unflavored gelatine over cold milk; let stand 3 to 4-minutes. Add hot milk and process at low speed until gelatine is completely dissolved, about 2- minutes. Let cool completely. Add blueberries and sugar; process at high speed until blended. Pour into large bowl and chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from spoon.

Fold whipped cream into gelatine mixture. Pour into 2(4-inch by 10-inch) freezer trays or 8-inch baking pan; freeze until firm. Makes about 1-1 and one-half quarts ice cream.

Five homes featured on September tour

By JEAN DAY

Five homes, including a Victorian house converted to a dentist's office, will be open September 22 on the 1983 Northville Home Tour. Co-sponsored by the Women's Association of First Presbyterian Church and Northville Historical Society, the tour this year is under the direction of Cheryl Gazlay and Sharon Valrance.

They have plans well under way for the 15th tour which will feature both new homes and old landmark ones. Hours for the tour will be 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

In-town homes that will be open include those of Don and Alma Coir, 317 West Dunlap and the Marvin Sobodash home at 740 Fairbrook. The latter is the large Victorian home with a duck pond adjacent to it. Historically, it was the home occupied by the manager of the Northville Fish Hatchery; it was sold by the state several years ago.

The dental offices of Dr. William Demray located at 371 East Main in the yellow Victorian house with outstanding landscaping also will be on view.

The new, traditional home of Jon and Jolene Jacobs at 44450 Country Lane and the home of Bob and Jan Juhasz at 41100 Croydon Court also will be open.

Cheryl Gazlay reported last Friday that the tour committee still is considering adding a sixth home. In the past, it has found that having more homes open prevents crowding as tour visitors often choose only the homes of interest to them.

Prices of the tour tickets will remain the same as last year, the chairmen report; they are $4 in advance and $5 on the day of the tour. No children under six will be allowed on the tour, and smoking is prohibited in the buildings.

Arrangements have been made to have luncheons served at St. Paul's Lutheran Church and First United Methodist Church from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on the day of the tour Marilyn Taylor is organizing luncheon plans at St. Paul's and Pat Eden at the Methodist church. For several years the churches have held the luncheons as fund raisers for their respective churches and to accommodate those taking the tour.

As additional tour day attractions there will be guided tours of Mill Race Historical Village by docents; a Mill Race

Weavers' show and sale in the cottage in the village between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. planned by Connie Wagenschutz; a quilt show at First Presbyterian Church under the direction of Sybil Kerr; and a basket gourd demonstration under the chairmanship of Helen Maki in the Mill Race Village.

Heading home tour committees are Pat Allen, hostesses; Joan Hursey, Judy Kohl, out-of-town publicity; Janice Cook, treasurer; Kay Hendrickson, corresponding secretary; Lois Winters, Carl Stephens, posters and artwork; Jill Anderson, street and staging; Jeanne Parkinson, Mary Ann Stewart, tickets; Christopher Gazlay, ticket design; and Lois Winters, window design.

Joleen Firek hosts Mexican exchange visitor

Last Wednesday Joleen Firek, 13, daughter of the Frank Fireks, exchanged farewells with Karina Climent, 12, of Mexico City. She had been a visitor at the Firek home on Byrne Court for the past month on a Children's International Summer Village exchange program sponsored here by the International Institute of Metropolitan Detroit.

Since Karina spoke English rather well, it was a most satisfactory visit, Joleen reports as she explains that next year she will be going to Mexico for a month to stay with Karina and her family in the exchange.

Karina was one of 11 Mexican children and Joleen one of 11 American children participating in the summer project. They said goodbye for a year over make-your-own ice cream sundaes and traditional Mexican Pinata treats at the International Institute's going away social a week ago Tuesday. Participating youngsters are between 11 and 13 years old.

A special Spanish class was arranged at the institute for the American host youngsters who in 16 hours of instruction learned how to communicate with the visitors and were introduced to Mexican culture and traditions. Each family planned traditional American activities for their guest.

The Children's International Summer Village program is a familiar one to the Firek family as Joleen's brothers — Frank, 18, and Todd, 16 — were hosts in years past to visitors from Sweden and Portugal.

Jana Holloway engaged

JANE LEE HOLLOWAY

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Holloway of 20327 Woodhill announce the engagement of their daughter Jana Lee to Richard James Felters of 19370 Northridge Drive.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Felters Jr. of Grosse Pointe.

The bride-elect is a 1981 graduate of Northville High School. She attended Northwood Institute where she met her fiancé. She is affiliated with Tau Delta Rho sorority.

She is employed with North River Federal Savings in the Downville office.

Her fiancé is a 1978 graduate of Grosse Pointe South High School and a 1982 graduate of Northwood Institute where he affiliated with Phi Sigma Beta. He now is employed with Ford Motor Company, Detroit District, in Wixom.

They have set a November 5 wedding date.

Maureen Mahan to wed

MAUREEN MAHAN

The engagement of Maureen Therese Mahan of Novi to Patrick Lawrence Beagle of Walled Lake is announced by her mother, Mrs. Cynthia Mahan of Taft Road. The bride-elect also is the daughter of the late Daniel J. Mahan.

A 1979 Novi High School graduate, the bride-to-be graduated from the University of Michigan with a bachelor of science degree in biology in 1983. She currently is employed by the Detroit Optometric Center.

The prospective bridegroom graduated from Walled Lake Western High School in 1976 and obtained an associates degree in business administration from Oakland Community College in 1979. The son of Mr. and Richard T. Beagle of Walled Lake, he currently works for Oakland County.

A November wedding is planned.

JOHN MARTIN, SALLY SLIGER

Sally Sliger plans September Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Sliger of 18439 Fermanagh Court announce the engagement of their daughter Sally Marie to John Joseph Martin. Both have been living and working in Chicago.

He is the son of Mrs. Betty Martin of Northfield, Illinois, and William A. Martin of Winnetka, Illinois.

The bride-elect is a 1971 graduate of Northville High School and a 1975 graduate of Denison University. She received her masters degree of business administration from Emory University in Atlanta in 1977.

She is an account executive with CBS in radio spot sales.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Southern Illinois University and is sales manager for WFYR-RKO radio in Chicago.

They have set a September 10 wedding date.

Julie Salvatore wed in Mill Race gazebo

Judy Salvatore and Timothy Stocks exchanged vows and rings in a 5 p.m. wedding ceremony June 25 in the gazebo of Mill Race Historical Village.

The service was officiated by the Reverend George W. Ramsey of First Presbyterian Church of Farmington.

The bride is the daughter of Ronald and Gege Salvatore of 18591 Jamestown Circle. The bridegroom's parents are Jay and Marian Stocks of Arkansas and formerly of Farmington Hills.

The bride wore a three-hooped gown of knit chiffon adorned with re-embroidered Chantilly and Venise lace. Lace outlined the scoop neckline of the fitted bodice. The skirt extended into a cathedral train.

Chantilly lace also adorned the two-tier, fingertip-length bridal veil of illusion.

The bride's colonial bouquet contained white and lavender roses interspersed with baby's-breath.

The bridal arch through which the couple entered the gazebo was decorated with lavender bows.

Tina Marie was matron of honor for her sister.

Bridesmaids were Jacqueline Franks, Valerie Salvatore of Northville and Dana Kitchen of Alpena, formerly of Northville.

They wore lilac gowns and carried lace fans with lavender roses.

Fred Meier was best man. Other attendants of the bridegroom were Mark Albaugh, Randy and Alan Stocks.

A reception at Vladimiers followed for family and friends.

Special guests included Geraldine, Pam and Laura Mazure and Gary Salvatore, all from California. Martha Dobbs, the bridegroom's grandmother, attended from Chicago. Sam and Margaret Koch, the bride's grandparents, attended from White Cloud, Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. Meier came from Switzerland for the ceremony.

The bride is a 1982 graduate of Northville High School. She attended Eastern Michigan University and Schoolcraft College.

The bridegroom is 1978 graduate of Farmington High School and a graduate of the tool and die apprentice program at Schoolcraft.

After a wedding trip to South Carolina and Wisconsin, the newlyweds are making their home in Dearborn Heights.

Local nursery will begin 15th year this fall

Creative Day Nursery, located in Room 206 of Main Street Elementary School at 501 West Main, will begin its 15th year in Northville this fall under the new direction of Elaine Savola.

Savola, who will direct the program for the upcoming year, holds a bachelor's degree in education from Northern Illinois University with 15 hours in child development.

She taught elementary art in Illinois and Wisconsin before moving to Michigan and has taught arts and crafts to children and senior citizens. Most recently she has concentrated on teaching the preschool child.

The Creative Day Nursery program is designed to meet the developmental needs of the preschool child while providing a positive group situation. Included in the program are story time, drama, floor games, science, music and art activities.

The preschool is licensed for 25 children and maintains an 8-1 ratio of students to teachers.

A "get acquainted" August min-session is being offered Monday, Wednesday and Friday beginning August 15 and continuing through August 26. A discount tuition rate is offered for this session.

A free brochure and information about tuition, including a reduced rate for parents who wish to assist in two preschool sessions a month, is available by calling Savola at 397-3955.

Registration for the fall currently is being accepted by mail for both the morning and afternoon sessions. The school will be open September 1 and 2 for walk-in registration. Fall sessions begin the week of September 12.

Neighbors

It's especially because families come to us during their most difficult times that we feel our responsibility so deeply. We've formed some very close friendships here and after being a part of this community for so many years, our commitment to its people is stronger than ever.

Just as our own families know they can count on the support and friendship of our neighbors, we're proud that families here know they can feel confident in the services we provide.

Friends of Irving Benson celebrate his 80th birthday

More than 100 friends and relatives of Irving Benson, a resident of Highland Lakes, gathered July 23 to celebrate his 80th birthday at Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church in Livonia.

The party was arranged by his daughters Karen Miller of Plymouth and Linnea Keatts of Pomeroy, Washington, who came to Michigan especially for the occasion.

Visitors came from Gig Harbor, Washington, London, Ontario, Beaumont, Texas, and Petoskey, Michigan. Many brought reminders of their association with the honoree over the years, including photographs and snapshots. Other mementoes were sent by friends in California, Washington, Alabama and Canada in the form of written recitals of interesting incidents in which they and Benson were involved in past years.

From the Township of Northville came a Certificate of Award as a reminder of Benson's many years of community service for the area in which he has lived for the past 12 years.

Friends at the Rosedale church served lunch.

DAR appoints local women

Three members of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution have been appointed to regional and state positions.

Annette Heindryckx will serve as National Vice Chairman, Genealogical Records Committee, East Center Division, DAR; Laura Merwin has been appointed National Vice Chairman, DAR Museum, East Central Region, DAR; and Doris Richard is the new Michigan State Chairman DAR Museum Correspondence Docent.

Local artisan's in Indiana show

Northville artisan Rick Denomme has been awarded a booth in the Art and Craft Marketplace, part of the 21st annual Pletcher Village Art Festival being held August 11-14 at historic Amish Acres in Nappanee, Indiana.

More than $3,000 in cash prizes will be awarded to the winning paintings and crafts from the competition big top tent. Entries will be from more than 263 artists from across the midwest, it is announced.

Amid colorful awnings around Amish Acres farm pond, potters will spin their wheels while silversmiths and weavers work to the twang of dulcimers and banjos, Richard Pletcher relates.

The four-day artists' weekend is designed around the Amish heritage and folk art of the historic restoration and the Nappanee area. Silhouette cutters, portrait artists, woodcarvers and oil makers will ply their trade and sell their wares.

There will be guided tours and family style dinners served in the air conditioned restaurant.

Kelly Meyer keeps watch over the Meyer Berry Farm

Meyer farm's a year-round attraction

When it comes to growing cantaloupe and strawberries — not to mention asparagus, tomatoes, peppers and pumpkins — Kelly Meyer seems to have a magic touch.

Having spent half her life planting, plowing and picking on the family's berry farm on Eight Mile, Kelly certainly is familiar with farming.

A 1980 Northville High School graduate, Kelly currently is a sophomore at Michigan State University and is spending her summer working an internship on her father's berry farm.

A former agricultural technology major at MSU, Kelly recently switched her major to education in the hopes of possibly teaching in the agricultural field.

Citing the financial burden of farming as one of the reasons for changing her major, Kelly points out that she still is interested in keeping the family business — in the family.

"I've spent my whole life here," she says, while sitting inside the tenant house which she has called home since June.

"I've been thinking a lot about who will carry on the family business," she adds.

This past summer Kelly has spent most of her time helping her father Lawrence Meyer with the family's "pick your own" strawberry crops as well as tending to her cantaloupe, which is expected to be ready for picking in mid-August.

Kelly explains that while farming is a full-time job, her father has been working it on a part-time basis. A full-time research engineer in Southfield, he started the family's "pick your own" strawberry business about 10 years ago, Kelly notes.

For the past decade, area residents have been gathering berries from the family's Eight Mile farm as well as buying other homegrown crops and shopping for antiques in the Meyer barn run by Kelly's grandmother.

"This was a bad year for strawberries," Kelly explains. "We had frost up until June and then it really got hot — everything got ripe at once."

Kelly points out that the strawberries will be good for next year before they have to be rotated. Asparagus, which was planted last summer, will be ready in two more years, she adds.

Kelly's crop is cantaloupe and while there doesn't appear to be a considerable quantity of melon crops, Kelly says each flower on the plants will yield a cantaloupe.

She adds that it took her about 20 hours to plant the cantaloupe crop.

Once the cantaloupe is ripe, Kelly will be selling her crop to area markets. Some will be available at the stand in front of the family farm.

Kelly explains that Meyer Berry Farm has something for everyone year-round. Though strawberry season has ended and cantaloupe will be sold at the end of the month, area residents can look forward to selecting pumpkins in autumn and Christmas trees in December.

Blueberries date to early use by American Indians

By SUSAN KAUPPILA

Nearly everybody loves blueberries. Most Michigianians look forward to this time of year when blueberries can be picked at nearby farms or purchased at the grocery store.

Blueberries have been around for a long time, too. They were an integral part of the American Indians' food supply. According to the North American Blueberry Council, Samuel de Champlain wrote in his diary that he found Indians near Lake Huron gathering blueberries for the winter.

"After drying the berries in the sun, the Indians beat them into a powder and added this powder to parched meal to make a dish called Sautauhig. We found it to be delicious," he wrote.

The Pilgrims enjoyed blueberries, also. One of the items of food that helped the small group to survive that dreadful winter was a gift of dried berries from the Indians.

When Lewis and Clark made their famous expedition, one of their first meals with the Indians was of venison cured by pounding blueberries into the flesh and then smoke drying the meat.

If you decided to pick blueberries this year, there are two large blueberry farms locally, both begun by the same man. Arthur Hazen and his wife Edna own and operate a 20-acre pick-your-own blueberry farm at 1144 Peavee Road, one-half mile south off Mason Road in Howell.

Begun in 1968 when he planted the first bushes there, it is now home for the Hazens. Until two years ago, the couple lived in Union Lake operating a 10-acre blueberry farm at 350 Wise Road, one-quarter mile east off Commerce Road.

That farm was begun by Arthur in 1950 but is now owned and operated by Dennis Hazen, the couple's son.

According to Arthur, blueberry production is down this year in Howell. "You had such a warm winter here that when we came back from Florida, the blossoms were frozen due to the late frost," he commented.

However, Arthur and Edna still have some blueberries available for pickers. Interested persons should call 517-548-1841 to learn what days picking will take place. Hours are from 7 a.m. until dark. Price per pound is 65 cents.

Dennis, on the other hand, is having a good blueberry crop this year. Persons should call 363-4072 to learn what days the farm will be open. Cost is 68 cents per pound.

BLUEBERRY FACTS AND TIPS

Blueberries can easily be called "Nature's Original Convenience Food" because they don't have to be pitted, peeled or hulled. Just wash and enjoy... by the handful, in salads, with sugar and cream, on cereal, or in coffee cake, pies, jams and papcakes.

For weight watchers, nothing could be more of a delight than blueberries since they have only 42 calories per one-half cup. In a diabetic's diet, this amount equals one fruit exchange.

Blueberries are good for you, too. Of all the berries, they rank first in Vitamin A and second in food energy. They also contain Vitamin C and iron and supply such trace minerals as calcium, magnesium, phosphorus and potassium.

When shopping for blueberries in the grocery store, choose plump, firm berries. They should be dark blue with a silvery bloom covering — a natural waxy coating.

Again, choose only dark blue berries when picking them at one of the nearby farms. Lighter-colored berries should be sorted out and left out to ripen for a day. They are highly perishable at room temperature so they must not be left out too long.

Store unwashed berries in the refrigerator. They will keep two weeks or more — longer than any other berry. Wash as needed.

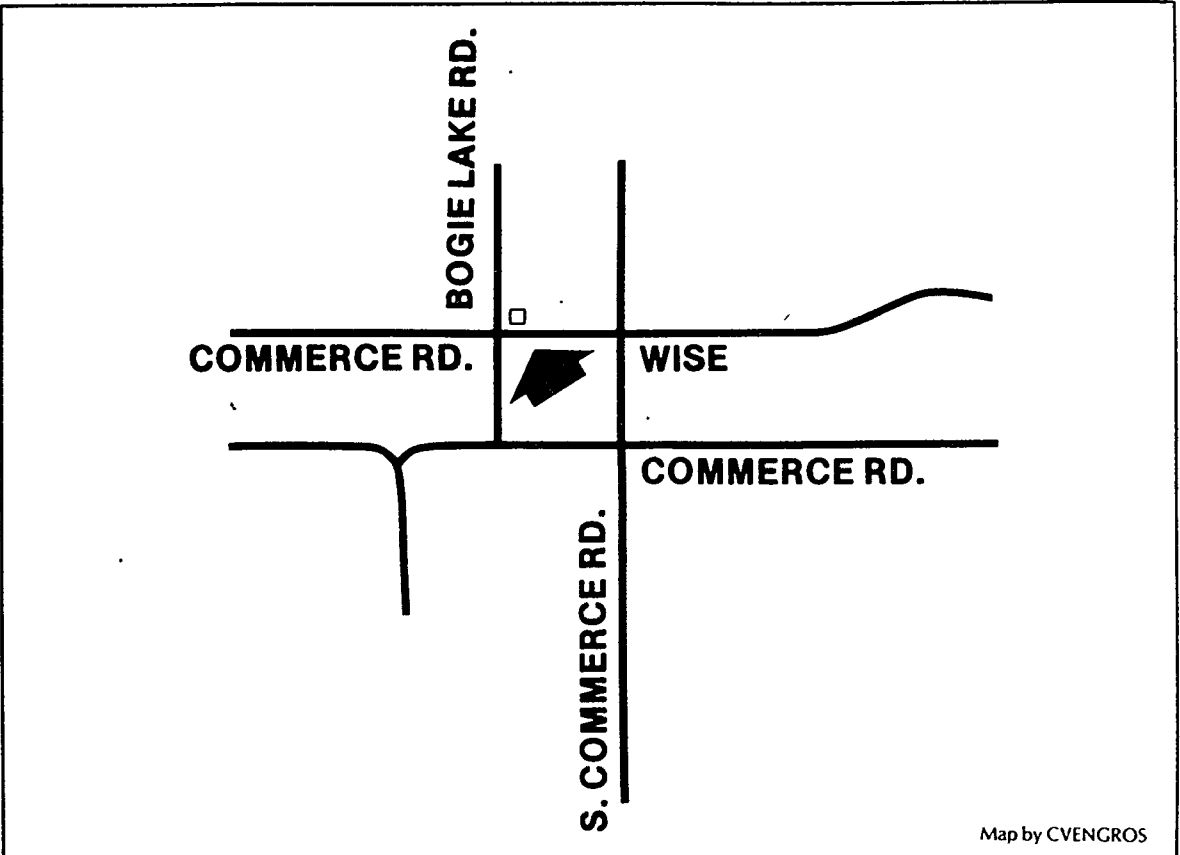

If you are planning to freeze blueberries, remember that washing them first tends to make them mushy when thawed.

Some homemakers wash blueberries first, but then dry them on towels and freeze them on cookie sheets.

The frozen berries are then placed in plastic bags and can be used as needed. May homemakers prefer to pre-measure blueberries for pies. Four cups for nine-inch pies and five cups for 10-inch pies works well.

Pre-measuring for muffins or pancakes can be done by freezing one or two cups of blueberries in small containers or plastic bags.

As a service to our readers, we are publishing the following kitchen-tested recipes. We hope you enjoy them!

Berries add flavorful color to parfaits, muffins, pies

FROZEN BLUEBERRY PARFAIT

- 1 and one-half cups fresh or dry-pack frozen blueberries, rinsed and drained
- One-fourth cup sugar
- 2 Tablespoons corn starch
- One-fourth cup water
- 1 Tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 container (8 ounces) plain yogurt
- 3 peaches, coarsely chopped (2 cups)

In a small saucepan, stir together berries and sugar. Stir corn starch and water until smooth. Add to fruit mixture. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil; boil 1 minute. Stir in lemon juice. Cool. Fold yogurt into cooled fruit. In parfait glass, alternately layer berry mixture with peaches. Freeze. Remove from freezer one-half hour before freezing. Yield: 4 parfaits

EDNA HAZEN'S BLUEBERRY PIE

One baked pie crust

Place one cup fresh blueberries on to cook. Stir in two-thirds to 1 cup sugar (depending upon desired sweetness) and 1 and one-half Tablespoons lemon juice. Continue stirring constantly until very thick. Remove from heat and add 3 cups fresh blueberries, carefully folding in so berries aren't crushed. Pour into pie crust. Top with Dream Whip and add extra berries for decoration. Store in refrigerator. "You have a nice, easy pie without using your oven," says Edna.

BLUEBERRY MUFFINS

- 1 egg
- One-half cup milk
- One-quarter cup salad oil
- 1 and one-half cup flour
- One-fourth cup honey
- One-fourth cup granulated sugar
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- One-half teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoons cinnamon
- 1 cup fresh blueberries (or frozen, well drained)

Heat over to 400 degrees. Beat egg. Add oil, milk and honey, mixing well with wooden spoon. Add remaining dry ingredients, stirring just until flour is moistened. Fold in blueberries. Fill muffin cups two-thirds full. Bake 20-25 minutes or until golden brown. Yield: 12 muffins.

Canadians share family recipes

The following recipes come from A Collection of Recipes and Ideas compiled by the United Church Women of Lake of the Woods Chapel in Sioux Narrows, Ontario Canada.

BLUEBERRY TARTS

- 1 cup sugar
- Three-quarters cup water
- 1 cup blueberries

Bring to boil. Thicken with 3 Tablespoons cornstarch mixed in 1 cup water. Add one-half teaspoon salt, 1 Tablespoon lemon juice, 1 Tablespoon butter. Add 3 cups frozen blueberries and let cool. Prepare baked tart shells. Fill with cooled blueberries and top with whipped topping or whipped cream.

BLUEBERRY CRUMBLE

- 3 cups blueberries
- 6 Tablespoons sugar
- Juice of small lemon
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- One-half cup quick cooking rolled oats
- One-quarter cup flour
- One-half cup brown sugar
- One-quarter cup butter

Combine blueberries, 6 Tablespoons sugar, and lemon juice in a baking dish. Mix rolled oats, flour, brown sugar and cinnamon. Cut in hard butter until mixture resembles coarse meal. Sprinkle over blueberries and bake at 350 degrees for 40 minutes or until fruit is tender and topping golden. Serve with cream. Serves 5-6.

BLUEBERRY BUCKLE

- 4 cups flour
- 4 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- One-half cup butter or margarine
- One and one-half cup sugar
- 2 egg
- 1 cup milk
- 4 cups blueberries

Crumb Topping: blend one-half cup softened butter or margarine, 1 cup sugar, two-thirds cup flour and 1 teaspoon cinnamon.

Mix together flour, baking powder and salt; set aside. Cream butter and sugar. Add egg and beat well. Add flour mixture alternately with milk, beating until smooth. Fold in blueberries. Spread in greased 9-inch square pan and sprinkle with crumb topping. Bake in 375 degree oven 35 minutes or until tested done. Cut in squares and serve warm.

BLUEBERRY BREAD

- One quarter cup boiling water
- 2 Tablespoon butter
- One-half cup orange juice
- 4 teaspoon grated orange rind
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- One-half teaspoon salt
- One-half teaspoon soda
- 1 cup blueberries

Combine water, butter, orange juice and rind and let cool. Add sugar gradually to egg. Sift flour, baking powder, salt and soda. Add in thirds alternately with orange juice mixture. Fold in blueberries. Pour into a greased and wax paper-lined loaf pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour.

Topping: Mix 2 Tablespoon orange juice and 2 teaspoons honey and pour over hot bread. Cool in pan.

Entertainment

The Northville Record

There'll be pickin' and strummin' in Northville

Music lovers can treat themselves to some of the best in American-bred sounds when Northville hosts its Seventh Annual Folk and Bluegrass Festival this Saturday and Sunday.

Sponsored by Tom Rice of The Gittfiddler music store in downtown Northville, the festival is expected to attract throngs of folk and bluegrass fans to Northville's Ford Field.

The annual event serves as a benefit for Huntington's Disease and is billed this year as special tribute to the late Woody and Marjorie Guthrie.

"Name" performers such as Peter "Mad Cat" Ruth, Dean Rutledge, and — barring a scheduling conflict — Josh White, Jr. join some of the best regional talents in the weekend songfest.

Since the performances are donated and many of the overhead costs are covered similarly, the festival is one of the best entertainment bargains going — eight hours or more of respected musical talent giving its best for an audience that pays a minimum donation of $4 each day. Children under 12 and senior citizens pass through the gates at $2 each, infants in arms free.

"If I had to pay these people their normal rates, admission would be $15 or more a head," Rice said. "Sometimes I think people pass us by because they think they aren't going to get much for only $4, but these are the same performers they pay $15 or $20 to see somewhere else."

The setting in a city park promotes a family atmosphere Rice strives to maintain. Last year he brought in a beer tent, but will not do so again "because I didn't like what happened — I ended up with a bar back there, a bunch of people hanging around the tent."

Those attending are still encouraged to bring their coolers containing their beverage of choice, a picnic lunch and lawn chairs or a blanket to spread on the grass before the stage.

"It's really a nice place to picnic — it's mellow, no rowdies and there's plenty of room in the park, you can bring the kids and let them run around without bothering anyone."

Hot dogs donated by Hy-Grade and Coke will be sold on the field, a concessionaire with a line of sandwiches will be there and Guernsey Dairy sells ice cream.

The festival will proceed regardless of weather. Rain or shine, those with a fancy for banjo or fiddle music should plan on arriving for festivities sometime prior to the 1 p.m. opening.

Noting it has rained five of the past six years, Rice suggests those attending bring rain gear.

"It's never rained all day — it always goes away. If you don't want to sit it out on the field, many of the stores and especially restaurants in downtown Northville will be open," Rice said.

Free parking will be provided throughout the downtown area, with parking on Griswold Street and lots on Hutton nearest to the event. Most city lots are within easy walking distance of the field. Gates to Ford Field, one each off Hutton and Griswold, open at 12:30 p.m. both days.

Saratoga Trunk: A storage bin of Victorian Era

restaurant review

DIANE KOVACS

Walking into the Saratoga Trunk is like walking into another era.

Faded but elegant settees and fine old antiques in the foyer recall the plush elegance of the Victorian Age of the late 1800s. Victoriana is a theme carried throughout the venerable restaurant located on Grand River in Novi, less than a mile east of Novi Road.

Although the restaurant itself has not been around since the Victorian Age, it does have a long tradition of fine dining.

Originally known as the Saratoga Farm, the restaurant enjoyed a fine reputation during the Fifties for its outstanding fried chicken, homemade dumplings and deep-dish apple pie.

The Saratoga Farm was acquired approximately 12 years ago by Peter Phillips, who did extensive remodeling and changed the name to the Saratoga Trunk.

The entire restaurant has been designed to recall the plush elegance of Victoriana. The original Saratoga Trunk was a short railroad line which had its terminus in Saratoga, New York, and the theme of extravagantly plush dining cars is carried throughout the Novi restaurant.

The seats in the small, comfortable lounge resemble old Pullman coach seats with high-backs that afford plenty of privacy. The main dining room is small enough to offer a feeling of intimacy that's enhanced by lace-curtained windows overlooking green lawns. A large mirror at the back of the room adds a feeling of depth to what is generally a small dining area.

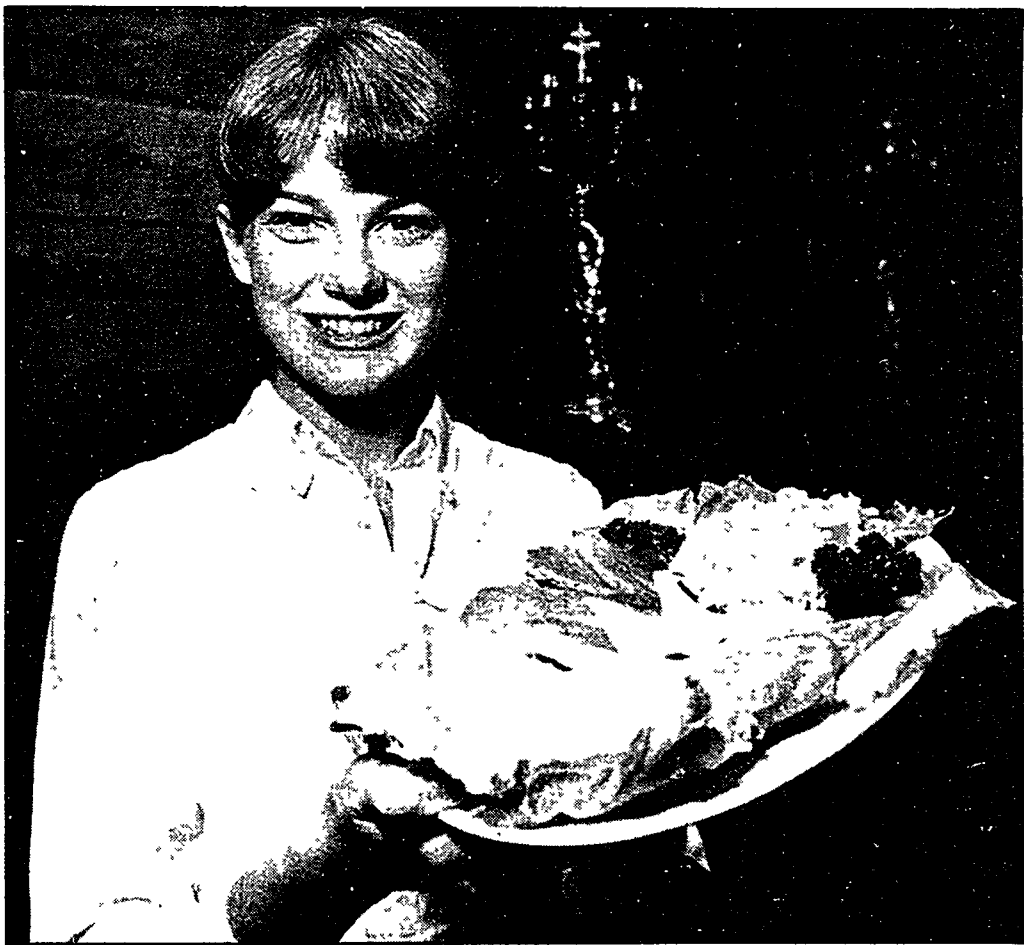

Dark, wooden beams on the ceiling and plush red velvet drapes help complete the Victoriana motif.

Although the original Saratoga Farm built its reputation on the quality of its chicken, the current Saratoga Trunk has a more varied menu that Phillips describes as predominantly American with touches of French and Italian cuisine.

Entrees are reasonably priced ($7.50 to $12.50) and include several varieties of steaks and seafood as well as lamb chops, baked ham, sauteed baby beef liver and roast pork tenderloin.

The Italian influence is provided by two veal dishes — provimi veal oscar and veal provimi au calvados, slices of veal with mushrooms and apples. Victorian chateaubriand and a silver platter of seafood are available if ordered 48 hours in advance.

Meals include a green tossed salad and vegetable du jour or choice of potato. A bean salad served shortly after you sit down is a pleasant surprise, and also is included in the price of the meal.

While dining at the Saratoga Trunk recently, my companion and I were pleased to find several unusual varieties of lettuce in the dinner salad. My friend ordered the baked pike which was served simply but elegantly. I was quite pleased with the Shrimps Saratoga, a comfortable but not overpowering serving of shrimp sauteed in garlic butter, sherry wine and cognac.

Desserts run the gamut from fruit-covered cheese cakes to tortes, but for the adventurous there are two flambe desserts — Strawberries Romanoff and Bananas Tropicale — which are prepared with a flourish at your table.

We passed up the Bananas Tropicale, a favorite dessert during previous visits to the Saratoga Trunk, in deference to a homemade chocolate mousse, which was delicious with its deep, rich chocolate taste.

All in all, dining at the Saratoga Trunk is an enjoyable experience: good food at reasonable prices in a pleasant, relaxed atmosphere which is elegant without being overbearing.

Here's what Diane Bish, Novi's head librarian, claims are her five favorite ways to spend her free time:

1. DAY TRIPS, especially to Frankenmuth We've been trying to go there at least once a year in late summer or early fall to choose one extra-special Christmas tree ornament at Bronners and then have a chicken dinner at Zehnders.
2. EXPLORING MUSEUMS, libraries and bookstores. The Gerald Ford Museum in Grand Rapids is a favorite.
3. NATURE HIKES The natural wonders at Kensington Metropark are awe-inspiring. Also, rock collecting on the secluded shores of the Great Lakes.
4. EATING OUT WITH FRIENDS The Mexican food at El Nibble Nook on Eight Mile near Grand River is a treat every time.
5. EXPLORING NEW HOMES The new models offer all sorts of ideas for changes in our own home.

Eric Gala connects with a pitch against High-White Saturday

Blue falls just short in Koufax tourney

Northville's Sandy Koufax Blue baseball team was thwarted twice by a talented Grand Rapids Astros squad to finish second in the district tournament which took place in Northville last week.

A 4-2 loss in the Saturday final ended the Northville team's chances for further post-season play, but several Blue players are expected to be selected for spots on other teams who will vie for the regional title.

At the eight-team, two-game elimination district tourney in Northville (and Livonia), the Astros coasted to five wins for first place honors, thus qualifying for the regional Koufax tournament in Westland this week.

Northville picked up wins in the tournament opener Wednesday, and the second round Friday, before losing 5-3 to Grand Rapids in quarterfinals later Friday, and qualified for the Saturday night district final by beating the High-White team from Highland-White Lake in an exciting 4-3 semifinal win Saturday.

In the opening game, Northville "mercied" Tecumseh 11-0 in five innings, getting an outstanding game from pitching staff ace Brett Loomis.

Loomis, who was 5-1 with a 1.02 ERA during the regular season, hurled a no-hitter, striking out eight batters in the contest, stopped by umpires after five innings.

The right-hander also led Northville Blue's offense with three RBI and two doubles in three trips to the plate. Infielders George Daraban and Jeff Tanderys each went 2-for-3, Daraban doubled and singled, scoring three runs and Tanderys collected two RBI.

On Friday, Northville mounted a three-run rally in the bottom of the seventh (last) inning to topple Sterling Heights 4-3 in the second round.

Eric Gala scored on an error in the first inning, and Blue bats were silent until the seventh, while Sterling Heights mounted a 3-1 lead. In the bottom of the seventh, third baseman Eric Kapelanski singled in first baseman Mike Tabaczinski load the bases and cut the lead to 3-2. Then Daraban, with a two-out, two-strike blooper to right, knocked in the tying and go-ahead runs.

Daraban's clutch hit gave himself the win, as he relieved Tanderys in the fourth. He pitched well in relief, allowing one run on four hits while striking out six.

Later Friday, Northville faced the tough Astros and was dealt a 5-3 loss. Loomis pitched well in the loss, permitting only five hits — but the Astros put them together efficiently, eclipsing an early 1-0 Northville lead.

Panowicz takes second at national track meet

By B.J. MARTIN

By now it's apparent Northville's Cindy Panowicz is something special — not just one of Michigan's top athletes, but arguably the best young female athlete in the U.S. for her age.

That fact was confirmed last week by what may very well be the greatest accomplishment ever by a Northville athlete — Panowicz took second in the nation in the seven-event heptathlon at the finals of The Athletic Congress (TAC) track and field championships at Duke University in North Carolina last week.

The TAC national meet featured over 2,000 athletes from across the U.S. Panowicz qualified for the heptathlon, the long jump and 100 and 400 meter hurdles at regional competition in Michigan.

The heptathlon consists of the high jump, shot put, javelin throw, long jump, 200 meters, 800 meters and 100 meter low hurdles. During her sophomore year at Northville High last spring, she acquired experience in three of those events — the 200, the hurdles, and the long jump — but all the others she had to learn on the spot, working with coaches and other athletes to get a crash course in the events.

It paid off, at least in part. Panowicz cranked a 2:25.4 800 meter time, well below the Northville High School record. In the high jump, she soared 5'3", higher than anyone else on the girls team last spring. She burned a 25.9 200 meters, 0.1 seconds off her personal best. But her performances in the long jump and her new events — the javelin throw and shot put — also hurt her.

Ironically, the long jump — one of Panowicz's strongest events — proved to be her biggest disappointment.

"In practice before I left for North Carolina, I sprained my ankle long jumping and just didn't practice it at all," she said after returning from North Carolina Monday.

"Then at the meet, my first two jumps I fouled both times. It was really disappointing, because all I would've needed to do to take first was a 17'3" jump, which I've done several times. So on the last jump, I just played it safe and took off about a foot and a half before the board."

After only one day of rest following the heptathlon, Panowicz competed in the 400 meter and 100 meter hurdles. She turned in a 62.4 in the 400, good for third in the nation, and she ran a 14.9 for fifth in the 100. The time was well off the personal best she had registered in semifinals, 14.4 seconds. "I was just tired and hot," she explained.

"I really like the heptathlon," she added. "I'm hoping next year, I'll do better, with a whole year to prepare for it."

Encouraged by her performance, Panowicz said she will concentrate more on training for the heptathlon for the Junior Olympic nationals, a much more competitive skill level, next year. Toward that end, she said she would join the cross country team this fall instead of swimming, another of her exceptional athletic talents.

MHSAA files civil suit

Schools to fight Title IX

By B.J. MARTIN

A U.S. District Court decision on a lawsuit filed recently on behalf of the Michigan High School Athletic Association will have a far-reaching impact on the status of women's high school sports in each of Michigan's public school districts.

The MHSAA, organizing body for Michigan high school sports activities, filed suit June 30 to "prevent the United States Department of Education from investigating or enforcing Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972... with respect to alleged sex discrimination in high school athletics in Michigan."

It may sound contradictory for a state usually associated with the nation's most progressive

At stake in the issue of Michigan high schools' opposition to federal sex discrimination guidelines is the status of girls' sports at the high school level. Should the MHSAA seek immunity from Title IX requirements in the interest of better use of high school athletic facilities, or should it follow a recommendation to run boys and girls' seasons concurrently?

politics, sexual or otherwise, to be suing federal authorities to prevent enforcement of a law designed to bring the principle of equal opportunity to boys' and girls' athletics. But, representatives of the MHSAA claim, it is precisely the progressive status of girls' athletics they want to uphold.

The story of the case for even the best-intentioned adherents to the principle of non-discriminatory fairness in high school sports can pit people with the same intentions on completely opposite sides of the issue.

Here is a brief summary:

Title IX, implemented in 1972, set a flexible agenda for the gradual removal of favoritism of boys in primary, secondary and college athletic programs. At the time of its enactment, and even now, the issue became a controversial one.

Almost indisputable is the positive effect the spirit and letter of Title IX have had on girls sports at the high school level. Girls today are stronger, healthier, more competitive and more physically competent than in previous generations, as any trip to a girls high school sports event will attest.

But different states have taken different approaches to attaining a satisfactory balance between boys and girls athletic programs, and according to an analysis forwarded to the MHSAA by federal education and civil rights authorities last spring, Michigan is lagging in several important areas:

Seasonal scheduling. The analysis compared the athletic seasons of girls and boys sports, noting that boys were consistently given the traditional season for their sports activities. For example, girls basketball takes place in the fall, while boys play in winter. Girls soccer is played in spring, while boys play in the fall.

Authorities have claimed that scheduling girls basketball in the fall eases the demand on gym facilities during winter, but that still leaves two questions posed by the analysis unanswered.

First, why is Michigan one of only five states scheduling girls basketball in the fall? According to the analysis, 45 states' girls' teams are scheduled during the winter.

Second, why are boys always given the preferred season? "Assuming that (better facilities use) was the motivating factor," the report stated, "and that separate seasons were necessary for an efficient use of facilities, this (practice still) does not justify the practice of scheduling only the girls' sports in seasons other than the 'traditional' seasons."

The analysis states that failing to schedule girls' seasons in the preferred time of year limited their opportunities to compete against teams from other states; limited opportunities for post-season play in golf, tennis and swimming for girls; limited girls' chances of being recruited by colleges, which schedule simultaneous seasons for men and women; limited the amount of time girls could be scouted according to NCAA bylaws compared to other states; and limited opportunities for girls to play games before a "prime-time audience," in particular, Friday night games.

Shorter seasons. Womens' sports seasons are on the average four days shorter than those for boys.

Unequal distribution of most popular female sports. Of the seven most popular girls sports, four are offered in fall (basketball, tennis, cross country, swimming), two in spring (softball, track) and only one (volleyball) in winter, while boys' seven most popular are broken down into two in the fall, two in winter and three in spring.

The remedy proposed by education civil rights authorities is frankly radical: "In order to eliminate the adverse effects caused by current seasonal scheduling of sports, it is proposed that the female sports be scheduled in the same season as the same male sport."

"This will provide for the scheduling of all sports for both females and males within each sports 'traditional' season and will also provide for the apportionment of sports participation opportunities equally among the various seasons to the maximum extent possible."

As might be expected, school officials throughout the state claimed such a "remedy" would tax facilities use beyond capacity (see accompanying story for local officials' reactions).

The present legal status of the MHSAA lawsuit seeking to overturn the federal edict is up in the air. A U.S. District Court hearing was to have taken place in Ann Arbor July 20, but 'In order to eliminate the adverse effects caused by current seasonal scheduling of sports, it is proposed that the female sports be scheduled in the same season as the same male sport.'

Michigan Southern Division Eastern District Court Judge, Charles W. Joiner, ruled that the proper jurisdiction was for the southern division's western district, and the case has been transferred there with no court date set at the present time.

Judge Joiner was apparently persuaded by federal authorities' claims that the MHSAA was "forum shopping" by seeking a Western District review of the case. In a response to the suit seeking at least a restraining order to impede Title IX enforcement, attorneys for the U.S. claimed that "in order to secure the same judge who decided (another similar case), plaintiff (MHSAA) crossed out Ingham County and wrote that plaintiff resided in Washtenaw County. This is completely false.

"There is only one plaintiff in this matter," the legal argument continued, "the MHSAA. Its corporate address and the address of the resident agent as registered with the State of Michigan, are in Lansing, which is in Ingham County."

The response, filed by Harry M. Singleton, Assistant Secretary for Civil Rights, U.S. Department of Education, also claimed the MHSAA has no standing to sue on its own behalf or on behalf of its members — in fact, some Michigan school districts have responded to letters from federal authorities, apparently satisfactorily.

"It appears that the Association is not correctly representing the views of those districts with respect to the jurisdiction of this office," the response claimed.

How quickly court proceedings will move on the matter is difficult to determine, as Judge Joiner is required to personally administer the transfer, and he is currently on vacation and expected to return this week.

Johnson clan cleans up at Northville tennis tilt

By B.J. MARTIN

There's not going to be much room for furniture at the Johnsons' if their kids don't quit bringing home so many tennis trophies.

Sara, 16; Mya, 15; Breita, 13; and John Paul Johnson, 12, all took home either singles or doubles trophies in Sunday's Northville Junior Tennis Tournament, and had the age divisions been for each year rather than combined, all would have been first place trophies.

As it was, Breita and John Paul took firsts, while Sara topped Mya 6-3, 6-3 in the final of the Girls' 16 Singles.

Altogether, the tournament drew 31 participants in spite of inclement weather Friday and Saturday, which necessitated playing the entire tournament on Sunday.

Aside from the Johnson sweep, the tournament was highlighted by an exciting Boys' 18 Doubles final pitting last spring's varsity first seed Arvind Sreedharan and Steve Frellick, who was busy playing varsity baseball last spring, over Dave Martin and Rick Vach. Martin and Vach swept the first set 6-3, but Sreedharan and Frellick bounced back with two 6-2 sets for the title.

Bob Martin swept to first in Boys' 16-18 Singles by beating first Sreedharan, then Frellick, taking Sreedharan 7-5, 6-2, and Frellick 6-1, 6-3.

Taking firsts in their respective categories were: Breita Johnson, 14-17 Singles, who topped Leslie Oliver 6-3, 6-2 in the final. Breita and Mya combined for the Girls' 16 Doubles title by topping Leslie Oliver and Sue Pachero 6-4, 6-0.

In Boys' 14 Doubles, Avanish Bharsar and Paul Fujimoto beat Gordy Gray and Robert Richcreek for the title, 6-1, 6-0. John Johnson earned his 12-14 Singles first by beating Bharsar 6-2, 7-5, 6-1.

In consolation play, which decided third and fourth places in each category, Michael Padden topped Richcreek in an 8-4 pro set in Boys' 12-14 Singles. In Girls' 12-14 Singles, Pachero beat Lauren Oliver 8-3 for third, while in Girls' 16 Singles, Denise Coloras earned third-place honors by beating Jennifer Millgard, 8-1 then winning over Jenny Maise by default.

In Boys' 16-18 Consolation Singles, Sreedharan turned back his former Mustang varsity teammate John Huston 8-2 for third place.

"Everything went very smoothly in spite of all the rain," said tournament director Holly Sixt, recruited by Northville Recreation tennis instructor Kerry Hlady at the last moment for the job. "I really enjoyed doing it."

Novi to sponsor doubles tourney

Registration deadline for the adult doubles tourney in the Novi Tennis Tournament Series is today at 6 p.m.

The tournament will take place Friday through Sunday at the Novi High School tennis courts. It is open to players 18 or older. Trophies will be awarded to winners and runners-up in men's and women's divisions.

Registration fees are $10 for teams not from Novi. To sign up, drop by offices of the Novi Parks and Recreation Department, 43315 Sixth Gate Road. For further information, call the department at 349-1976.

Learn to Love?

Dr. James Luther

Just before he died, Osian Hammerstein penned a verse for Mary Martin to sing:

A bell is not a bell, until you ring it.
A song is not a song, until you sing it.
Love in your heart is not put there to stay.
Love is not love until you give it away.

Like a talent, loving is an ability to be cultivated. We learn to speak by speaking, to ski by skiing; so we develop caring through constant practice.
Some people develop ulcers because they practice hating or worrying. Loving starts as an act of will, through that determination becomes a skill and a style of life.
As with any skill you must start simply. Don't take on the needs of the world. Forget about starting the Jericho Road Mission Society or pouring oil and wine on all your suffering neighbors (Luke 10:30-34).
You can't do everything, but you can do something. What you can do, you should do! And what you should do, determine by the grace of God that you will do!
Of course, caring is easier to learn and accomplish in the company of others. That's part of the advantage of linking your life in a local church. A church can do through its members what no single Christian can do alone.
In a world that "couldn't care less," real Christians are those "who couldn't care more."

Prints or Slides?

The least expensive photography, shot for shot, is with slide film. Processing costs less and the film is usually less expensive.

When you want a few prints or enlargements from slides, go to a quality processor for better reproduction, not cold-toned or contrasty. The best slides for getting prints are those with lots of warm tones and not much black in them. Bright, snappy colors are great for this type of photography, and so are pastels - just don't mix them in the same slide. The process of going from slide to print builds up a lot of contrast, which makes for less attractive prints.

Suppose you really like color prints better—hate getting out the projector, putting slides in trays and all that fuss. In that case, prints from color negatives are better for you. You can count on getting pretty good snaps from even a low-cost processor. The big surprise is that you can have a slide made from a negative, and that slide can look even better than the original slide, thanks to the control built into the negative-to-positive process!

Daraban's RBI double in the first inning, scoring Kapelanski, gave Northville a brief lead, but Blue could only muster two more runs, both on RBI singles by Kapelanski.

Northville had a great opportunity to win, loading the bases in the bottom of the seventh, but Doug Ayers' long fly ball to left was hauled in on a good play for the third out.

"We knew the Astros were a really good team," said tournament director and Blue coach Rod Tabaczinski. "But we gave 'em pretty good competition each time. They knew they were in a ballgame with us."

In the Saturday afternoon semifinal, Northville got a solid pitching effort from Gala, who threw all but the last out. Tabaczinski got the last hitter on a grounder to second to end a High-White threat in the seventh.

In the 4-3 victory, Blue posted single runs in the first, third, fourth and fifth innings, Kapelanski picking up two RBI and scoring once, while Tanderys also got an RBI single.

High-White rallied in the bottom of the seventh, but a long throw from center fielder Lobbia to catcher Doug Ayers, who had played an outstanding series behind the plate, nailed Highland's lead runner at home. Although High-White added two more, the play proved to be a game-saver.

In the final, Northville again took an early 1-0 lead over Grand Rapids, this time on three first-inning singles by Gala, Daraban and Tanderys. Lobbia's third-inning home run blast to left staked Northville to a 2-0 lead, but the Astros rallied for four in the sixth, taking advantage of Blue errors — losing pitcher Daraban pitched very well, permitting only two earned runs.

Blue ended its season 12-7 overall, after finishing regular season play at 9-5. But for some of Blue's players, the season isn't quite over yet — at least five or six will be picked up by other teams in contention for the state (regional) Sandy Koufax championship — thanks to a rule permitting teams to augment their rosters for tournament play up to 19 players. The North Farmington-West Bloomfield team already has picked up Tobbia, Daraban and Loomis, while the Westland team has added Tanderys.

The tournament itself went amazingly smoothly in spite of the weather last week, said Rod Tabaczinski. "It was a minor miracle we managed to squeeze in 14 games there. We couldn't have done it without help from Mike Shram (chief of the Umpires Association). Mike got us four umpires for simultaneous games at the last minute. I also got a lot of help from (Northville Recreation Department Director) Pete Talbot and the Rec staff.

"Also the Livonia Parks and Rec Department helped us out a lot by letting us use their fields when our Training Center field got too waterlogged," Tabaczinski added.

Mets, Phillies battle for E League tourney slot

The race to the Northville E League pennant continued to be a hot one last week, as the Mets maintained a half-game lead over the Phillies going into the final game of the season this week.

The two teams both possessed 12-2 records when they squared off Monday of last week in one of the season's most exciting contests. The Mets eked out a 4-3 win on pinch hitter John Taschner's two-out, bases-loaded single in the eighth inning.

Taschner's liner up the middle came after third baseman Eric Kapelanski's single, an intentional pass and another walk.

Mets ace George Daraban went the distance for the win, striking out seven and scattering six hits in a solid outing.

Until the extra-inning rally, neither team scored after the third, when Phillies cleanup hitter Chris Hauser doubled home leadoff hitter Brett Loomis to knot the score at 3-3. Mets first baseman Paul Newitt and the Phillies' Dennis Leland each contributed two RBI to his team's cause.

The Mets preserved their one-game league lead with a 12-1 romp over the Padres Sunday. The Padres dropped to 12-5 on the season with the loss, which catapulted the team out of contention for the E League title.

Mets pitcher Bob Justus hurled a four-hit shutout for the complete-game win, while John Lobbia, Freddie Cahill and Daraban each picked up three hits.

Getting two of the Padres hits was Mark Olsen.

In other league action, the Reds fell to Novi Goat Farm 7-3, in spite of good pitching by Mike Crawford in his first mound outing. Crawford allowed only one earned run and three hits in four innings of work.

The Reds' Keith Shurmur turned in a good plate performance, going 2-for-2 with one RBI.

The Mets or the Phillies will represent Northville at the E League championships in Northville at 6 p.m. tonight (Wednesday) or tomorrow night (Thursday), depending on the outcome of games this week.

First St. John's Golf Classic is a 'success'

St. John's Seminary in Plymouth has pronounced its First Annual Desert Classic golf tournament, which was held June 23, a "complete success."

Clergy and businessmen, along with the seminarians who were there to assist the golfers, had what tournament directors called "a marvelous day."

The directors reported last week that "several thousand dollars" were raised by the tournament for St. John's Seminary's "Holy Land Program."

The program sponsors seminary studies in Israel and the Middle East.

The winning foursome and seminary captain was composed of team captain Father Tom Sutherland (St. Matthias — Sterling Heights), Dave Doherty of Flint, Raymond Lope of Utica, William Wildern of West Bloomfield and Edward Bovich of Dearborn.

Their names were all engraved on the Desert Classic trophy, which is kept on permanent display at St. John's.

In the closest-to-the-pin contest, also part of the activity, first prize went to Father Ed Haggerty of St. Mary of Redford Parish.

Father Clement Esper of St. Hugo in Bloomfield Hills finished second and third place went to Harry Mueller, also of Redford St. Mary.

Directors of the tournament extended their appreciation to all participants.

Sign up for wilderness adventure program

Wayne County residents 16 and older who want to learn more about wilderness survival can take advantage of an opportunity to participate in the 4-H Challenge wilderness adventure training program.

Through the 4-H Challenge program, participants learn a variety of skills, including hiking and backpacking, canoeing, cross-country skiing, orienteering and wilderness cooking, and survival.

Wayne County residents interested in signing up for the 4-H Challenge leader certification program should contact the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service office, 721-6576.

JUNIOR WORLD SERIES

Northville will be the host city for the 1983 National Amateur Baseball Federation Junior Division World Series, which will be held August 11-14. Regional winners from New York, Baltimore, Louisville, Ohio and Michigan will participate in the double elimination tournament along with Northville's Blue 15-16 team. A special banquet will be held at the Northville Recreation Center, cost $3 per person. For information, call 349-0203.

SOCCER REGISTRATION

All soccer players registering for soccer with a birth year of 1967 are allowed to register with no late fee until Wednesday, August 10. They are also allowed to register with those born in 1968 and 1969 to form a new 17-and-under age group.

SWIM LESSONS CANCELED

Session IV swimming lessons have been canceled due to maintenance problems at the Northville High School swimming pool. All open swimming classes will be canceled after Friday.

AMUSEMENT TICKETS AVAILABLE

Tickets for many amusement parks within close driving distance are available at discount rates at Northville Recreation Department offices, 303 West Main. For further information, call the department at 349-0203.

Of Cindy P., Title IX, and girls' sports

By B.J. MARTIN

The question of what to do about Title IX enforcement in Michigan (see page 2-D) and the success of Northville's Cindy Panowicz at the national TAC championships last week illustrate different aspects of one of sports' few serious issues: the treatment of women.

Both subjects are symptoms of the way we have more closely scrutinized what it means to be fair to women. It by now is obvious the rapid improvement of women's athletic abilities has challenged the only remaining weapon male superiority-heads still wield comfortably in the philosophical battle of the sexes — physical strength.

And young women like Cindy Panowicz are demonstrating that females can develop physical prowess far past that of previous generations. Even better, Panowicz is far from being considered a "freak," although not too long ago her skills might have classified her as such.

Sure, we're proud of her. But we certainly don't consider her ability unnatural. And it's both her ability and our reactions to it that are the true measures of the success of Title IX — and in fact, the principle of sexual equality.

That principle has given us healthier girls and boys both physically and mentally. A girl will feel more confident and competent in realms not directly related to athletics if she is at ease with herself physically.

The Michigan High School Athletic

Association's legal challenge to enforcement of Title IX may make the question of whether it is right in principle moot. Since school districts in Michigan pay for themselves on the local and state level, does the federal government have a right to regulate what it does not finance?

Don't ask me — I'm not a lawyer, I'm a journalist. My job is to pose questions of morality and ethics for public consumption and noisy argument, not arbitrate them in quiet courtrooms.

There are complicating factors — in Northville, it would entail a lot of schedule-shuffling for gym, pool and tennis court time to fully accommodate the recommendation of federal authorities. And I think the suit was basically well-intentioned in view of those considerations.

But it seems to me if we are really committed to female equality, then we need to make very deep changes as soon as possible, even if they hurt at first. It wasn't that long ago many of us thought giving girls and women as much right in athletics as they currently have would bring about the downfall of men's and boys' athletic programs.

Well, it hasn't. And we shouldn't let those kinds of fears hold us back now.

That means scheduling girls' basketball games on Friday nights during the winter, if necessary, to give them an equal shot at being recruited for college, equal visibility to younger athletes, and the feeling of equality in themselves.

That means seeing to it girls' athletic seasons are just as long as boys' seasons, and that coaches take them just as seriously. That means paying attention to a lot of niggling little details we previously thought not that important. They are.

Mack leaguers make regionals

Northville's Connie Mack baseball team wrapped up its regular season by falling to State Senior Babe Ruth champion North Farmington-West Bloomfield by a 6-1 score Saturday.

Although Northville batters collected eight hits to five for their opponents, the formerly reliable Northville defense collapsed, committing six errors, which accounted for all six North Farmington-West Bloomfield runs.

Big Steve Schrader paced Northville's offense with a triple and a single. Teammate Doug Doyle added two hits, and Todd Bartling drove in Northville's only run by doubling in Schrader.

Northville pitchers turned in a subpar effort, also, issuing five walks.

The loss left Northville with a 12-7 regular season, good enough to qualify the club for a post-season Senior Federation Tournament in Macomb County beginning tomorrow (Thursday, August 4).

The winner of the eight-team tournament will advance to the senior national finals in Allentown, Pennsylvania.

Collectors items to help CF drive

A sports card show with celebrity guests and a memorabilia auction to benefit cystic fibrosis will be held from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Saturday, August 13, at the Southfield Civic Center, 26000 Evergreen Road, Southfield.

The show is sponsored by The Old Ball Park, Inc., 31134 Five Mile Road, Livonia. Admission is free to the show, with dealer tables for baseball cards and other sport cards on hand throughout the day.

Attending will be 1982 Detroit Tiger Rookie of the Year Glenn Wilson and All-Star catcher Lance Parrish, along with some of the Tiger wives, who will host an auction of Tiger memorabilia owned by players and verified by a letter of authenticity.

The auction takes place from 4 to 6 p.m., and other special events are planned throughout the day.

Those interested in reserving a dealer table can call or write Dennis Jackson of The Old Ball Park at 261-6810. For more information about the Sports Card Show, call the Mike Leahy at the Old Ball Park at 261-4810 or the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation at 552-9616.

Caesar's softball team to host clinic for girls

Members of the Little Caesar's Women's Softball Club, a world-class team, will conduct a special clinic in softball skills for members of the Northville Girls' Softball League Saturday, August 20, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. The location of the clinic is to be announced.

At the clinic, Little Caesar's players will give instruction in hitting, fielding, throwing and positional play for girls in the age 12 and older categories. The clinic is limited to the first 36 girls to register.

Little Caesar's manager Al Campbell said this will be the team's first such clinic, and hopes it will serve as a prototype for more. Northville Recreation Interim Director Pete Talbot and Girls Softball Director Tony Pump expressed their appreciation to the team for donating their services.

To register, fill out forms at the Northville Recreation Office at 303 West Main during business hours. For further information, call the Department at 349-0203.

Plymouth 4-mile run scheduled for Aug. 14

Henry Ford Hospital and Growth Works, a Plymouth social agency, are hosting the first "Plymouth Distance Classic" benefit running event Sunday, August 14.

The new running event will feature a one-mile "fun run" and a four-mile race, with registration up 7:30 a.m. the morning of the race at the Plymouth Gathering, an open pavilion next to Kellogg Park, at Main Street and Penniman in downtown Plymouth.

Proceeds of race entry fees will go to Growth Works, which provides counseling, alternative education, job training and work-experience programs for economically disadvantaged youth. The agency's building at 271 South Main, Plymouth, is adjacent to the new Henry Ford Hospital outpatient Plymouth Center now under construction and scheduled to open in October.

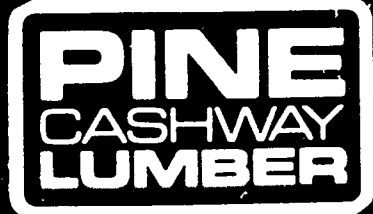

The four-mile race through historical Plymouth will begin at 8:15 a.m., immediately after the 8 a.m. fun run. There are six age categories for female runners (14-and-under to 50-and-over) and seven for male runners (14-and-under to 60-and-over).

Awards include: ribbons to all fun run finishers, Converse running shoes to the first-place finisher in each age group; medals to first-through-fifth place finishers in each group; and additional merchandise prizes.

Entry forms are available at several area sporting good stores, the Growth Works, plus the Henry Ford Hospital Fairlane Center, 19401 Hubbard Drive at Evergreen, Dearborn, and the Henry Ford Hospital West Bloomfield Center, 6777 West Maple.

Entry fees are $4 for the fun run and $6 for the four-mile run. For further information on the Plymouth Distance Classic, phone the Growth Works at 455-4094.

TRIPLE THE DIFFERENCE GUARANTEE

To convince you of PAK-n-SAVE's commitment to low prices, we're making this offer: If you can find lower prices overall this week at any supermarket in the community PAK-n-SAVE will pay you triple the difference. Just shop at PAK-n-SAVE. Buy 25 different items, excluding meat and store brands totalling $20 or more. Compare prices on the identical brand and size items at any supermarket in the community. If their total is lower, bring your itemized PAK-n-SAVE receipt and the other supermarket's prices to PAK-n-SAVE and we'll pay triple the difference IN CASH.
