Bond issue vote for NHS project slated Monday

Northville voters heading to the polls next Monday will decide the fate of a proposed $8 million renovation of Northville High School.

School officials are asking residents to support a $7.75 million bond issue for the proposed renovation project. While the total cost of the project is estimated at $8 million, a $7.75 million bond issue is being proposed with the difference being made up in interest earned on the bonds.

School Superintendent George Bell said Monday he expects a "medium turnout" in the upcoming election.

"I think it's an issue which carries a lot of interest," Bell said, noting that voter turnout should be more than the five or six percent turnout at school board elections.

Bell, who proposed a renovation of Northville High School last October as part of his five-year plan for the district, said he feels "very positive" about the outcome of Monday's election.

Having made more than 30 presentations about the upcoming bond issue election to various civic and community groups this past month, Bell noted most of the feedback he's received has been positive.

The $8 million proposed bond issue was recommended to the Northville Board of Education in May by the Citizens' Advisory Committee for the High School Feasibility Study.

The 37-member citizens' committee spent 14 weeks studying the high school's curriculum and building needs before presenting its final report to the board of education.

The board gave its final stamp of approval to the proposal in July, following three study sessions to examine the committee's report.

Last month, State Superintendent Phillip E. Runkel approved the district's request for preliminary qualification for the proposed bonds.

As the major component of Superintendent Bell's five-year plan for the district, the renovation of the high school is considered essential to implementing the district's other long range goals — particularly a grade structure realignment.

The proposed middle school concept, changing the grade structure to K-5, 6-8 and 9-12, is expected to be implemented in September, 1985 — the same time the high school renovation is expected to be completed.

Should the bond issue fail, grade level realignment will not be possible due to the limited space in the high school facility.

School officials have stressed to Northville residents that cost of the renovation project will not be reflected in increased taxes, but through deferred repayment to the State School Bond Loan Fund.

Northville schools currently levy the maximum seven mills in debt retirement. Should the bond issue be approved, taxpayers will continue to pay the debt levy through 1989. Without the bond issue, a slight tax decrease would come in 1985.

It is estimated that it will take between 25 and 30 years to pay off the new debt.

Should voters approve Monday's bond issue, ground breaking for the renovation is expected to take place before the end of this year.

'Orchid' cites town design

It was the sweet smell of success for Northville again Saturday as the downtown collected an "Orchid" award in the second annual "Orchids and Onions Community Awareness Program."

Judges cited the downtown area for historic preservation with particular reference to the improvements made in the Mainstreet '78 project.

That makes Northville two for two in the yearly program conducted by the Michigan Chapter of the American Society of Interior Designers. The historical society's Mill Race Village collected one of the first Orchids in last year's inaugural event.

The awards program, which is also supported by the Michigan Council for the Arts and Designers Lighting Forum, is intended to give the public a chance to celebrate or deplore examples of area architecture and design, granting a symbolic "Orchid" or "Onion."

Organizers reported more than 200 nominations were received for this year's program, with a jury of profes-

Residents and other concerned parties jammed into township hall last Thursday at a state prison plan public hearing

Township to sue over prison move

By JEAN DAY

After an almost two-hour public hearing last Thursday at which angry residents voiced opposition to a proposed state prison move from a site already prepared at Five Mile and Beck to the west portion of the Plymouth Center for Human Development at Sheldon and Five Mile, Northville Township Board of Trustees unanimously passed a resolution opposing the move.

It also unanimously authorized Supervisor John E. MacDonald to have the township attorney institute a lawsuit against the state to halt the proposed change in plans.

The crowd that pressed into the meeting room of township hall at 41600 Six Mile and spilled over into the corridors was angry but orderly as Supervisor John E. MacDonald called upon those who wished to speak after the presentation by Herbert DeJonge, deputy director of the Michigan Department of Management and Budget, and William Kime, deputy director.

Also attending from Lansing but making little comment were Pat McCarthy, executive assistant to the department, and Gary Davenport, project director of the Bureau of Facilities.

DeJonge began by saying he wanted to emphasize that the recommendation to abandon the planned regional prison in the township at Five Mile and Beck and instead to convert the Plymouth

Center "has to be passed by the Legislature and by the Governor."

Representative Gerald Law (R-Plymouth) who represents the township, said he thought, however, the decision "had been made" in Lansing.

DeJonge reviewed the history of the prison crowding in Michigan from the 1975 period when the prison population began to exceed facilities. After abandoning plans to convert the Wayne County Child Development Center, it was agreed to build the regional 528-bed facility. He agreed that $1 million has been spent in providing sewer and water facilities there.

Citizens create organization to oppose state prison plan

Township residents wasted no time last week in organizing to fight the proposed move of a state prison from Five Mile and Beck roads a mile eastward to Five Mile and Sheldon.

Called Concerned Citizens for Wayne County, the group reports it is "basically the same" kind of organization of residents as was formed when the state wanted to convert the unused Wayne County Child Development Center into a prison.

Heading the new organization are M.K. (Kitty) Rhoades and Ross B. Northrop Jr. Rhoades also is head of the Northville Association of Homeowners' Associations.

Other officers are David Fields, first vice-president; William Phillips, second vice-president; and Eunice Switzler, secretary-treasurer.

On the board of directors, to which the association says, it will continue to add names, are A.M. Allen and N.H. Whiteside.

"We are formally organized and have filed for tax purposes," treasurer Switzler reported Monday, adding that the group already has received its first checks for the "all-out campaign" planned. Flyers will be passed out at this weekend's Autumnfest in downtown Northville, and a rally tentatively is being scheduled, Rhoades stated Monday.

At the public hearing held by the township last Thursday, Rhoades told officials that the association represents 11 subdivision associations with a membership of 4,000 residents. She said moving the prison was "against the planned orderly development of the community" and predicted, if approved, there would be a "corridor of prisons three-and-a-half miles long along Five Mile" unacceptable to the community.

"We already have accepted our social responsibilities with 36 percent of the township land in public ownership," she pointed out as she listed facilities within the township.

She received applause from the audience as she said she expected the support and cooperation of officials attending.

Interested residents may send contributions to Concerned Citizens for Western Wayne County, P.O. Box 708, Northville, 48167.

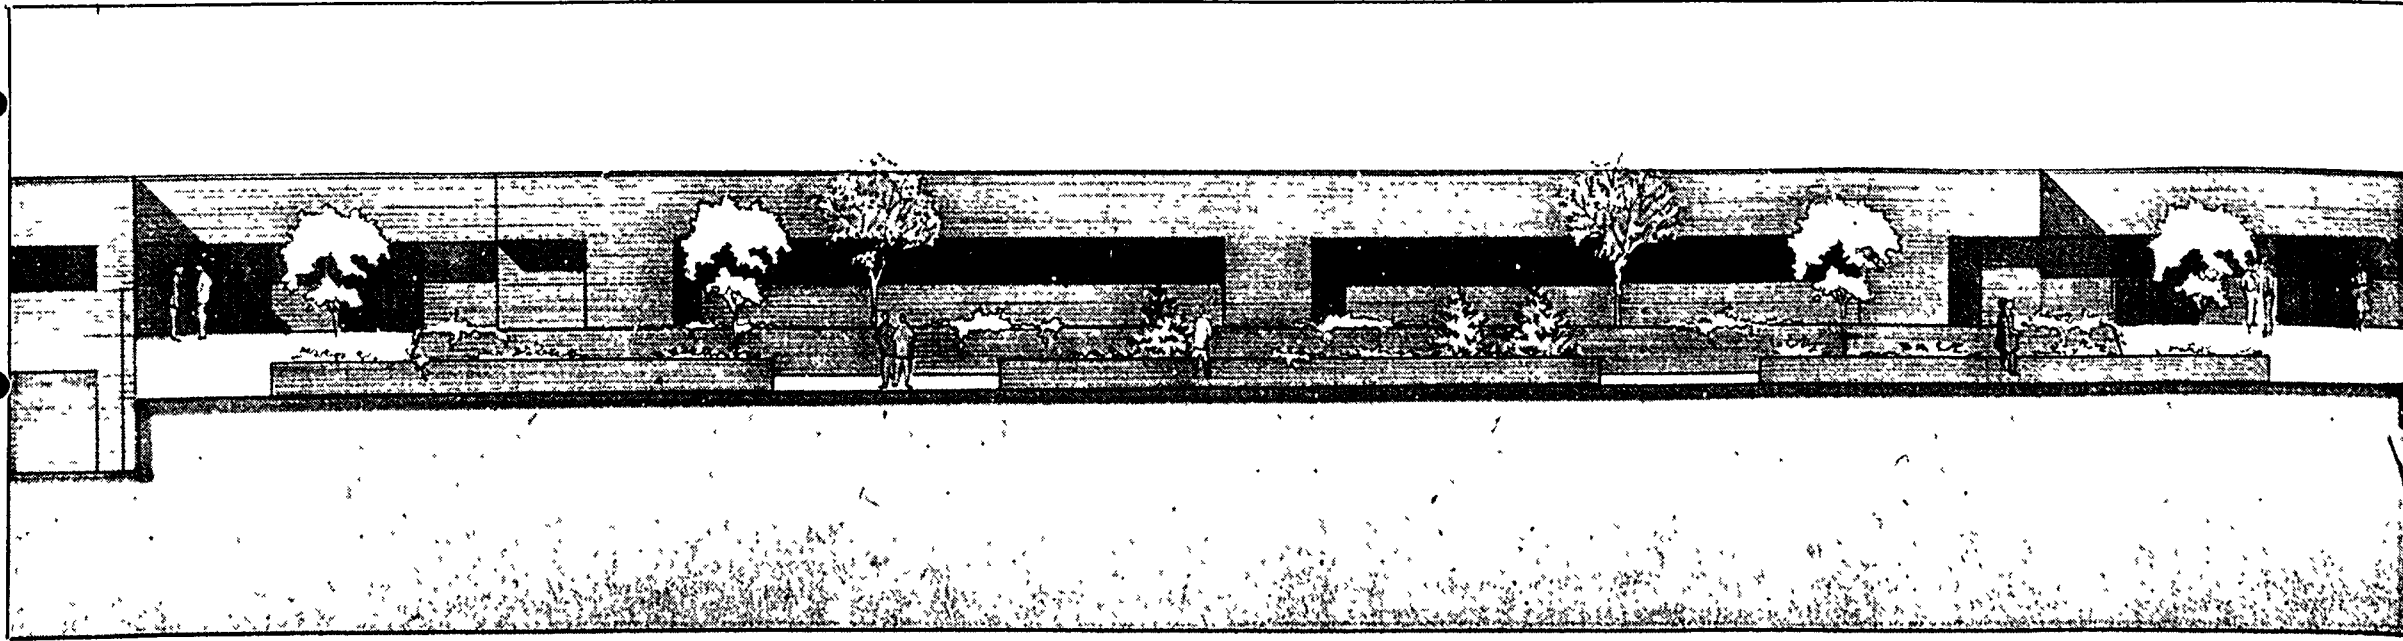

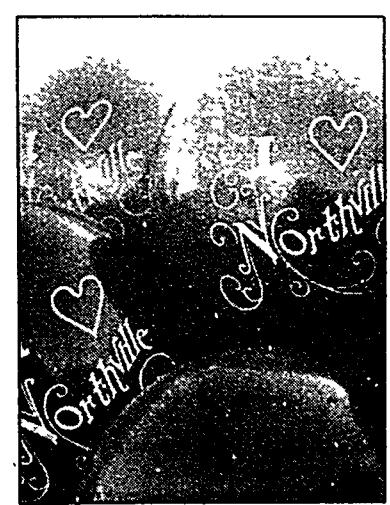

Autumnfest arrives Friday

The change of seasons will be celebrated widely in Northville this Friday and Saturday as the Merchants' Association Autumnfest '83 takes over the downtown in coordination with other activities throughout the area.

The historical society's Tivoli Crafts Fair will be in operation at Northville Downs, Mill Race Village will be open, Jaycees will operate a Stroh's-sponsored Bavarian Bier Zelt (beer tent) at the Community Center, the Rotary Club's Discover Northville Run is Saturday morning and dozens of other activities are planned by many community organizations.

The fun gets under way Friday at 10 a.m. and runs through late Saturday night. A free hayride taxi service will shuttle through town from noon to 8 p.m. each day, making stops at Tivoli Fair, Mill Race Village, Main Street and at the Community Building, where Hot Air Balloon Rides will be offered from the parking lot beginning at 10 a.m.

sionals charged with making the selection of the best and worst.

Altogether, there were five Orchid and three Onion awards presented at the September 24 award ceremony, where city manager Steven Walters picked up a "rather nice" certificate which will probably be displayed in the council chamber at City Hall.

Judges cited the downtown project for its "ingenious rearrangement of site lines without great expense... a solution that speaks to the needs of other communities."

Also noted were consequent improvements to building fronts in the downtown area, most of which were originally constructed in the late 1800s and the early years of this century.

The $2.2 million renovation project was the first to use provisions of a 1975 state law authorizing Downtown Development Authorities (DDA) and the "tax increment" financing technique to pay off the bonded debt incurred in the project.

The jury noted the design of downtown sidewalks, brick crosswalks, plantings and benchwork in citing the project's creation of a "lively, vibrant area" for public use. The overall project, including the town clock on Main and the town square park was called a "thrilling demonstration of small town rejuvenation."

The awards program generally favors preservation efforts, with four of this year's five Orchids awarded for such projects. The trend is a carry-over from last year, when all three Orchids were given for historic preservation.

Other Orchids for 1983 went to the Corktown Historical Society for historic preservation of a home at 1334 Labrosse, Cranbrook for preservation and landscape design, Detroit Receiving Hospital for environmental planning and St. John's Armenian Apostolic Church for preservation.

Onions went to Bingham Center for environmental planning and landscape design, the Renaissance Center for graphic design, signage and environmental planning and to Birmingham's Baldwin Public Library addition for environmental planning.

Walters said Monday Birmingham had no representative at "low-key" brunch at the Savoyard Club in the Buhl Building. "They (Birmingham) didn't come out smelling as good as we did," Walters said.

The Onion awarded Birmingham demonstrated again the public and jury's inclination toward historic preservation. The modern addition to the brick Tudor-style Baldwin Library, judges commented, represents "a sudden change in the atmosphere and architecture with the existing structure, and the proportions of the addition disregard the original building and are not compatible to the site."

The jury cautioned that it should be considered that the addition is not complete and that it will have to withstand the test of time.

Among the Orchid winners, the Corktown award was cited with Northville's as an example of "community effort. The Corktown rehabilitation was commended for its "economic and efficient use of existing materials."

Cranbrook was cited as having a "living heritage," with special mention given the landscape design.

St. John's Armenian Church was voted an Orchid primarily on the basis of "architecture and interior details such as the gold roof tiles from Italy and marble utilized in the interior which keep the feeling of the Armenian people and their culture."

Detroit Receiving Hospital garnered an Orchid because it is "an efficient hospital that continues to work better than originally planned," and "the layout of the rooms gives a sense of privacy and dignity to all patients."

The jury included Robert Benson, architectural critic for the Detroit News and an associate professor of architecture at Lawrence Institute of Technology, Louis Cook of the Detroit Free Press, Karl Griemel, AIA, dean of the LIT school of architecture, Gerald Peters, ASID, Daniel Shahan, president of Albert Kahn Associates, Inc., Stephen Squillante, Illuminating Engineering Society, Carline Torley, ASID and Lee Hanson, vice president and general manager of WQRS-FM.

McLaughlin speaks at dinner

Chamber to name Citizen of Year

William F. McLaughlin, president of the Metropolitan Detroit Convention and Visitors Bureau and a Northville resident for almost two decades, will be speaker at the annual dinner meeting of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce this Saturday.

The evening at Meadowbrook Country Club will begin with cocktails at 7 p.m. Dinner follows at 8 p.m.

McLaughlin will be introduced by Susan Heintz, Northville Township clerk, who will be serving as mistress of ceremonies.

William C. Sliger, who was named last year as Citizen of the Year, will be presenting the award to this year's recipient. This presentation traditionally is a surprise.

Selecting this year's Citizen of the Year was a three-member committee headed by Sliger. Serving on it were Scott Lapham, president of the chamber, and Clancy Ely.

The award is presented at the annual dinner to a resident of the city or township for positive contributions to the Northville Community. The honoree is chosen from nominations made by chamber members and interested residents.

First recipient was Jan Reef in 1976. Following were former mayor A.M. Allen, the late postmaster John Steinel, former chamber executive director Essie Nirider, attorney Philip Ogilvie, Sliger-Livingston Publications general manager and vice president Jack Hoffman and Sliger.

During the meeting five nominees will be voted upon for the chamber board. Charlotte Spaman, chairman of the nominating committee, notes that five members are to be elected and that nominations may be made from the floor at the dinner.

Nominated for three-year terms are Jan Stevenson, Scott Lapham, David Jerome and Marjorie Haynie; for a two-year term, G. Dewey Gardner.

On the committee with Spaman are Ed Jamieson and Betty Allen.

McLaughlin has been an active proponent of the convention and visitor industry. He was named president of the MDCVB in January, 1981, having previously served as director of the Michigan Department of Commerce for two years. Prior to that, he was chairman of the Michigan Republican Party from 1969 to 1979, and was vice-chairman for four years.

In 1977 McLaughlin worked closely with the MDCVB on the National Governors' Conference, and was made a Detroit Ambassador for his efforts. In 1979 he received the Bureau's Renaissance Spirit Award for his outstanding contributions to convention business in Metropolitan Detroit.

He was instrumental in landing the 1980 Republican National Convention for Detroit, as well as Super Bowl XVI, which was held at the Pontiac Silverdome in January, 1982. He served on the executive committee of the Civic Host Committee for the Republican National Convention, and the steering committee of the Michigan Host Committee for the 1982 Super Bowl.

As president of the MDCVB, McLaughlin directs all phases of operation of the private, non-profit organization. It is responsible for selling and servicing corporate meetings, conventions and trade shows throughout Greater Detroit.

The bureau also is responsible for increasing the amount of group and motor coach travel into the area.

It is America's oldest convention bureau and a charter member of the International Association of Convention and Visitors' Bureaus.

In recent years, the convention and visitor industry has taken on a new importance. In 1982, there were 650 conventions hosting 670,000 delegates who spent $175 million in the Detroit area. Future sales, McLaughlin reports, in the last five years have grown 50 percent.

To ensure a prominent place in this competitive market, the MDCVB launched a new campaign promoting Greater Detroit as SuperCityUSA. The multi-faceted program includes paid advertising, public service support, direct mail, audio-visual and all printed promotional materials coordinated by McLaughlin.

His professional affiliations include Michigan and American societies of association executives, National Association of Exposition Managers, Professional Convention Management Association and Michigan Association of Convention and Visitors' Bureaus. He is a board director of the Detroit Urban League and serves as a member of the Michigan Travel Commission, New Detroit's Task Force on the Detroit Public Schools' Vocational/Technical Centers and as chairman of the Michigan Film and Television Services Council.

The annual community chamber of commerce dinner is open to interested residents as well as to all chamber members, Kay Keegan, executive director, notes.

Belgian travel agents visit Parmenter's early Saturday

Travel agents from Belgium and Luxembourg are scheduled to make a stop in Northville Saturday during a five-day familiarization tour through Michigan that began Tuesday.

The Metropolitan Detroit Visitors and Convention Bureau is a co-sponsor of the tour with the Michigan Travel Bureau and is hosting the Detroit area portion of the trip with the intent of increasing international tour business to the region.

The familiarization trip is similar to one conducted for Belgian journalists last July.

Schedules call for a 45-minute stop at Parmenter's Northville Cider Mill at 10:30 a.m. Saturday.

The 18 travel agents were guests Tuesday evening of the Hotels St. Regis and Pontchartrain. Today they were to breakfast at the Deaborn Inn, then tour the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn and the Renaissance Center in Detroit.

This afternoon they were to take a city-wide motorcoach tour of downtown Detroit including Belle Isle, the Cultural Center and Eastern Market.

Thursday and Friday the travel agents are to visit Mackinac Island and the Grand Traverse Bay area. Before leaving for Belgium Saturday, they are to land at Metropolitan Airport at 10 a.m., visit the cider mill at 10:30, lunch at the Botsford Inn at 11:30 a.m., arrive at Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi at 1:20 p.m., stop at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth at 3:30 p.m. and arrive at Metro Airport again at 5:30 p.m. for flights leaving at 6:45 and 8:20 p.m.

Bond issue election slated Monday

A three-phase plan for the renovation also will need to be developed by school officials and architect John Argenta.

The first phase of that plan will be a schematic phase, where architects will identify which areas of the building can be worked on while students are in the building.

Preliminary drawings of the renovated facility will be proposed in the second phase and awarding contract documents for construction will conclude the third phase.

Of the $8 million proposed for the high school renovation, $4.4 million is earmarked for new construction, $2 million for remodeling, $880,000 for new equipment and $720,000 for fees and contingency.

New construction proposed for the facility will result in expansion of the gym area, a media center and forum area.

While blueprints for actual construction of the renovated building will not be drawn-up until after Monday's election, changes to the facility largely will be based on recommendations made by the Citizens' Advisory Committee and approved by the board of education.

Here's list of voting locations

Yanoschik at academy

Thomas J. Yanoschik has been formally accepted into the U.S. Military Academy's Corp of Cadets as a new member of the Class of 1987 during the annual acceptance parade recently.

Yanoschik, son of Philip and Gladys Yanoschik of 781 Springfield Drive, is a Northville High School graduate.

The acceptance parade followed six weeks of basic cadet training at the West Point, New York, academy. Training in military customs and courtesies, drill and physical conditioning, tactical exercises and the firing of weapons introduced cadets to military life with special emphasis placed on leadership, duty, honor and country.

The academy is a four-year educational institution graduating men and women to serve as career Army officers. In addition to military training, the academy offers athletics and academic curriculum that includes basic and engineering sciences, social sciences and the humanities.

Two attend Blue Lake Camp

Two Northville students attended the final art and music session at Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp in August.

Lauren Roslinski studied drawing, painting and pottery and learned the Japanese art of Raku, which involved hand sculpture done in clay and a firing method using a propane torch.

Eileen O'Rourke took advanced training in the French horn as a member of the orchestra.

Both girls are juniors at Ladywood High School.

Crowds opposed to prison location

DeJonge pointed out that the state is under court mandate to alleviate the overcrowding.

Consideration has been given to converting the Plymouth Center, he said, in part because of the need to meet a $13.5 million cash flow need. State officials claim a potential savings of $20 million by converting the center over building the regional prison.

Law disagreed, saying, "You're not saving $20 million — you're just not going to spend it in Northville." He also predicted that converting the Plymouth Center would cost more in the long term as it is "a short-term, stop-gap measure."

DeJonge revealed his department will be recommending shortly that a regional prison be built in Detroit.

Northville was to have the first regional prison at the Five Mile-Beck site with minimum, medium and maximum security prisoners from this area. It is a concept that has been sought by prison officials.

DeJonge said that consideration was not given initially to converting the Plymouth Center as it only becomes surplus in January, 1984. It was considered, he added, after the department of health decided not to use it.

Many who spoke declared the move eastward would result in an additional loss of tax base in the township and for Wayne County.

Among these was Robert DeMattia, a township resident of Shadbrook and developer. He reported he has been working to develop an industrial park on 200 acres of prime industrial land just south of Beck and Five Mile.

"I have been marketing to bring in high-tech industry and have nine firms at present," he told the officials, but added he has "grave concerns" because foreign firms he is working with already have indicated they would not like to be located adjacent to a prison. He explained he is working with a couple of Japanese hospital supply firms now.

"Why would the county want to lose a tax base that would be utilized by smokeless, light industry and create three, four or five thousand jobs?" he asked.

Agreeing was Robert FitzPatrick, head of the Wayne County Economic Development Committee, who told the state officials four years had been spent on the project to develop the former Wayne County Child Guidance Center as Cavanagh Elderly Village — "and now you're going to put the same people who have mugged senior citizens next to them?"

He declared it was unfortunate the officials had not talked to proponents of the elderly village planned as unique to the Midwest. He said the development would create jobs and put the property back on the tax rolls but would be doomed if the prison is relocated to Sheldon.

"Regarding saving $20 million," he said, "it depends upon whose priority you're talking about. I think the priority is to provide facilities for senior citizens.

"I think we're going through an exercise and Northville may very well become a convenient dumping center for all the institutions because we have no political club, considering the makeup of the Legislature and the Governor's office."

FitzPatrick explained that the elderly village project would have been off the ground by now had the economy not gone sour.

He told state officials that, if the prison is moved, "you have indeed stopped a unique project."

Township Police Chief Kenneth Hardesty told officials his department has responded to calls from the Phoenix facility and has daily calls from Northville State Regional Psychiatric Hospital. "It is costing taxpayers' money to have police officers available to protect."

"We're throwing out years of effort for planned orderly growth — it's totally disruptive," commented F. Richard Duwel, planning commission chairman.

Gordon Wesley of Lakes of Northville told Kime that "it seems the odds are stacked against us. I think you're taking $20 million out of our pockets in tax values with the change, creating land around the prison that is useless."

Kime stated this has not been the experience around prisons elsewhere in the state and suggested residents "get a committee and go see."

Wesley asked the officials to "tour Northville" instead.

Les Menyhart of Northville Colony Estates questioned Kime on why there are no prisons in the City of Detroit where most of the prisoners come from and suggested this use for the vacant J.L. Hudson building.

Kime replied that the department of corrections has recommended a number of sites in Detroit, but has not been successful in getting them approved. He said there would be news about a Detroit prison "within the next two weeks."

DeJonge told local officials his department was willing to work with the community to get the Five Mile-Beck site on the tax rolls. He said there is a reverter clause that if not used for a prison it could revert to the City of Detroit.

Asked how much it would be worth to the state to sell the Plymouth Center land, DeJonge said, "institutions are a dime a dozen on the market."

Recalling that he had been at previous sessions to fight the child development center as a prison site, Bud Taylor questioned, "How many times do we have to do this?"

This was an often-echoed question. Bob Neff, representing 320 homes in Northville Commons association, told the state officials, "You have our cooperation, and we would like you to stick to your original plan." He advised that a "backlash" could be developing already.

In response to the charge that the state was reneging on its promise to "keep the prison at an already existing use site rather than invade a new area," Kime said such a statement was not in the transcripts. Local officials and residents, including Kitty Rhoades, head of the association of homeowners' associations, disagreed.

Lone supporter speaking for the change was Sherrie Saunders, a resident of 47072 Curtis, who suggested that prisons could become a parallel situation to schools, that after projections and monstrous building programs there would be a decline in prison population along with the end of the baby boom, and they could be unused.

"Get them in the cheapest way," she said, questioning also, "Are old people safer a mile away?"

State Senator R. Robert Geake (R-Northville) reported that in the first go-round the joint capital outlay committee agreed last week to take no action. He assured residents he would be following the situation "very closely" in Lansing.

Township officials agreed with audience comments as the hearing closed with Clerk Susan Heintz telling the state officials that "the township cannot afford to lose potential tax dollars — we feel we have done our fair share. Any other site (than Beck-Five Mile) is unacceptable."

She also said she already has received calls from senior citizens on the elderly village waiting list, saying to take their names off if the prison is relocated.

"As long as I am supervisor I pledge to do all I can to block the move," stated MacDonald, adding, "As far as I am concerned it is a breach of faith."

He told the state officials that they had heard from intelligent, concerned citizens and that the township had tried not to make it an emotional issue.

"I ask that you reconsider your position. It's (prisons) really a state problem with people in Western Wayne County being asked to bear a disproportionate burden in running the system. We don't get any reimbursement from the state."

Kime, who earlier in the hearing had pushed the fact that the renovated Plymouth Center prison would have only medium security inmates, agreed that "you have more than your share of facilities."

He thanked those attending for being orderly as the meeting closed. DeJonge commented that prisons are "the toughest institutions to place with group homes next."

Dumas fights prison move

Wayne County Board of Commissioners joined Northville Township officials last Thursday in passing a resolution opposing the state's plan to convert the Plymouth Center for Human Development property on Sheldon into a medium security prison.

Commissioner Mary Dumas urged the adoption of the resolution as the state announced the proposal to use the center instead of continuing with plans to build a new regional prison a mile west at Beck and Five Mile adjacent to the present Phoenix prison.

"I think it's important to get property back on the tax rolls," Dumas stated as the commissioners met in evening session at the same time as a public hearing was held in Northville to explain the intention of changing to the Plymouth Center site.

Dumas also reported that the Wayne County Commissioners adopted a motion to request the Legislature to permit double-bedding in prisons. Part of the present overcrowding, she said, results from single cell blocks.

She noted that the new jail has cells measuring 70 square feet — which is larger than state or federal requirements. She said she feels they could accommodate two prisoners for sleeping quarters as there are other common recreation areas.

City backs up township

City council last week passed a resolution supporting Northville Township opposition to state correction's department plans to locate at prison on vacated Plymouth Center for Human Development property.

"That would be no different from having the prison on the Child Development Center," said councilmember Paul Folino. "I think the state is just totally out of its mind even to consider that."

Folino and councilmember Carolann Ayers both noted the township's hopes to locate a senior citizens housing complex just northeast of the proposed prison site.

"This is another case where the state jumps in without paying attention to what we're trying to do in the local community," Ayers said.

The council vote supporting the township opposition to the move was unanimous with all members present.

Autumnfest takes off with a helium balloon launch — one of the attractions will be hot air balloon rides

Town gears up to celebrate autumn

Activities planned include every age group and range from a puppet show at central park (behind city hall) at 10:30 a.m. Saturday to an adult softball tournament at Thomson Field.

Downtown will be decorated in an autumn harvest theme with corn, apples and pumpkins predominating in merchants' windows.

There will be no shortage of food available to festival-goers. Silver Springs Brownie and Girl Scout Troops will distribute free cider at downtown corners in a fundraising drive for the Animal Aide Shelter Fund, there will be "Moms' Apple Pie Sale in the Town Square park both days sponsored by Northville Mothers' Club.

The corner of Dunlap and Hutton should attract crowds as the new Rifles Restaurant and Tavern operates a pancake breakfast from 9 a.m. to noon, switching to barbecued chicken, clam chowder and cobbled corn from noon to 6 p.m. Saturday.

Food is also a feature of the Jaycee's Bier Zelt from 8 p.m. to 2 a.m. each evening. Funds from the operation will be dedicated to the Jaycees' Jaws of Life campaign, with a portion given over to help cover costs of Autumnfest. Stroh's brewery cooperation assists not only with the beer tent at the Community Building but also with the hot air balloon rides during the day.

After getting a lift in the balloon, celebrants may wish to do a little roller skating on Center Street Saturday between noon and 5 p.m. No skates? There will be rentals. More wheels can be seen at the Antique Car Display and Sale hosted by the Northville Antique Automobile Club on Main from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Those looking for entertainment can visit the band shell at Town Square Park, adjacent to the clock, where there will be continuous activity from 10:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday. The Bier Zelt takes over in the evening hours offering entertainment until closing.

It will be possible to participate or spectate at athletic contests as well, with those attending Saturday morning likely to view some part of the Rotary-sponsored 5 and 10 kilometer runs through town that start from Northville Downs at 9 a.m. The concluding segment of the course will bring runners along Main Street eastbound from Rogers or Linden to Griswold (for more information about the run see Sports, page 2-D).

Fourteen teams will participate in a men's Class C softball tournament at Thomson Field Saturday and Sunday.

The little people won't be left out of the celebration either, with many activities planned Saturday with the kids in mind. The 10:30 a.m. puppet show at the bandshell will be repeated at 3 and 4:30 p.m.

Jaycees will sponsor a "Hot Wheels Grand Prix" for budding Mario Andretti on Main Street between Wing and Center. Three-year-olds should rev up for the start at 11:30 a.m., with those age four following at 12:30 p.m. Five and six-year-olds will launch their miniature auto races at 1:30 and 2:30 p.m.

The Kiwanis Club invites kids to a free pumpkin decorating session in the park at 11:30 a.m., while those who would rather decorate themselves with clown or created faces can do so free on the front steps of the Main Street Barbers between 11:30 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Autumnfest will be the subject of the Omnicon cable television show "Hometown Highlights" hosted by Liz McCarville on Cable 15 Thursday at 3 p.m.

McCarville represents the Jaycees on the Autumnfest '83 committee, chaired by Kris Broderick of Northville Gallery of Flowers. Other committee members are Ron Bodnar of Copy Boy Print Center, Dave Beyer of Orin Jewelers, Diana Fisher of Del's Department Store, Bob Perkins from Wooden Shovel Antiques, Greg Dawson of the Jaycees and John Bueter of Lapham's Men's Store.

Parson to Person...

Was Space Travel Foreseen in the Bible?

Dr. James Luther

Many doubted it would happen, but the moon was visited! The obstacles to space travel seemed insurmountable, yet an American flag was planted in lunar soil.

How far is man capable of going? There is a verse in the Bible that gives insight into man's potential: Genesis 11:6. The scene is the Tower of Babel. The project was to erect a tower (religious star study?) that would unite all of mankind in a rebellious enterprise. And the Lord said: "... this they begin to do: and now nothing will be withheld from them, which they have imagined to do."

Now the Lord was not worried that a tower could actually reach from earth to heaven. But within man there is the ability to reach out into the heavens by mechanical means. By God's intervention, and the subsequent division of men, today's technical know-how was put off for centuries.

Is space travel forbidden in the Bible? No. But the godless desire for it so that man can exult himself, the deliberate attempt to leave God out of the project, did cause God to act.

Will He act again? I do not know. But this I do know, that His Son, Jesus Christ, will return again. The time seems near! Are you ready?

City apprehends suspect for murder investigation

In the City...

City police officers last Saturday apprehended and turned over to Livingston County Sheriff's Department detectives a 26-year-old man for investigation in connection with the murder and possibly the sexual assault of a 19-year-old Redford Township woman last March.

A police official said Monday the man himself had reported finding the partially clothed dead body of Christine Costiglione March 22 in a Cohoctah Township forest 75 yards west of Fisher and Faussett roads. A coroner's investigation including a vaginal smear revealed the likelihood she had been sexually molested by a man with type A blood.

City police reported they had been "keeping an eye on" a Main Street house daily since September 13, when a search warrant for the man, whose name is being withheld, was signed by Livingston County Magistrate Lloyd Erdman at the request of county detectives.

The warrant — which officials stress is not an arrest warrant — was issued to permit police officers to take the man into custody for blood and saliva tests. Livingston County detectives released the man following the tests.

Two city patrolmen were advised that the man could be at the Main Street house since lights were seen at the building earlier that evening. The two officers arrived at the house at 11:43 p.m. Saturday. They advised the man that if the search warrant was confirmed, he would be taken for investigation.

The warrant was obtained and brought before the man, then the officers took him to the city police station until Livingston County detectives arrived.

City police and firefighters responded to a September 8 fire at a condominium residence under construction on Concord Court, according to a report recently released.

The fire was discovered by a police officer on patrol, who alerted the city dispatcher to contact the fire department.

According to the report, by the time the officer arrived inside the building with a portable fire extinguisher, the blaze "had mushroomed" to the ceiling. The officer kept the fire under control until firefighters arrived.

Subsequent investigation of the source of the fire revealed the likelihood of arson, police said. The responding police officer reported a distinct odor of kerosene in the building. A partially burned rag, a slate of wood and a small brown bottle containing an undetermined white powdery substance which smelled "like chlorine" were also discovered.

Photographs were taken of the scene of origin and the arson is being investigated.

... In the Township

Township police are looking for a black male, approximately 25-30 years old, in connection with an attempted strong arm robbery in a Seven Mile parking lot September 21.

A 51-year-old Northville woman, the victim of the attempted robbery, told police that at approximately 12:25 p.m. the unknown male approached her vehicle as she was opening the door and told her, "I'll kill you, give me your purse."

The complainant told police she tossed her purse on the passenger's side of the vehicle and slammed the car door — possibly catching the suspect's hand. The complainant further stated she locked her door and rolled up her window.

She told police that the suspect walked around the parking lot for a few minutes and then walked west along Seven Mile.

She described the suspect as being approximately five foot, eight inches tall, 150 pounds and wearing dark brown pants, a blue shirt, a dark blue windbreaker and a yellow sweater.

No signs of physical evidence were found on the complainant's vehicle. The officer at the scene received a written statement from the complainant and an alert was sent to other area departments.

Township police checked the Seven Mile area for the suspect but could not locate him.

Items estimated at $1,700 were stolen from a Beck Road residence sometime between 5:45 and 10:30 p.m. September 24, township police report.

An officer at the scene found the suspect's point of entry to be a basement window on the east side of the home. The suspect(s) appeared to have kicked in the window and ransacked the residence.

Police also noted an attempt to pry open the garage door. The garage door never was opened, but was damaged.

According to the police report, the suspect(s) also attempted to pry open the front door after gathering together the stolen items. Police noted that the front door had a dead bolt that has to be opened from the inside, or outside with a key. The front door was damaged, but not opened.

Suspects left the residence from an east side door which also has a dead bolt which has to be opened the same way. Police found the suspects broke or pried a piece of the door jamb away from the wall.

The owner of the residence compiled a list of stolen items for police. Among the items stolen was a 12-gauge Winchester shotgun estimated at $150, $100 tachometer, $100 timing light, $50 gun case, various tools estimated at $50, $200 in rolled coins, $200 in rings, three blankets estimated at $150, a $300 Minolta camera, $100 telephoto lens, $50 flash attachment, $110 lamp, sweaters valued at $250, a $150 electric chainsaw, $300 chainsaw and other miscellaneous items.

An officer spoke with a neighbor who indicated he neither saw nor heard anything.

Unknown suspects stole an estimated $380 worth of items and caused $1,000 in damage to a Seven Mile business sometime between 5 a.m. September 25 and 5:45 a.m. September 26, township police report.

According to the police report, an officer on patrol observed that the door jamb on the east side door of the business had been pried back exposing the door lock.

A sergeant arrived on the scene and checked the interior of the building.

Police observed that the drawers in the front desk in the reception area were opened. The officer further observed a gray money box sitting in the middle of the floor. An empty money tray was observed next to the box and checks and a money order were scattered on the floor.

The officer and sergeant further checked the adjoining rooms and rear office which did not appear to have been tampered.

The township dispatcher notified the business owner who went through the office with police.

The owner told police $151 in cash was taken from the money box and said a Smith Corona typewriter was stolen.

A steel filing cabinet also was damaged. The owner said nothing was damaged in the other rooms.

The owner has no suspects. Damage to the side steel door and file cabinet was estimated at $1,000. The typewriter was valued at $230.

From State Police

Injury to a Pinckney driver resulted from a two-car collision at Seven Mile and Fry roads the morning of September 19, according to Michigan State Police reports.

Joanne Elaine Cearbaugh, 51, suffered an injury requiring hospitalization after her eastbound car ran into the rear end of a Brighton man's car while he was stopped, waiting to make a left turn into the Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital drive. Cearbaugh was cited for failure to stop within the assured clear distance ahead, a violation of the basic speed law.

According to the report of the incident, Cearbaugh told police the accident was "my fault. I hit him." After the 8:15 a.m. collision, Cearbaugh was taken to Providence Hospital's Novi facility via Novi Ambulance. The Brighton man was uninjured and was able to drive his 1978 Chevrolet away from the scene.

Cearbaugh's 1978 Oldsmobile required towing.

Damages estimated at $500 were done to a state-owned truck at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital September 19, state police reports indicate.

Police authorities asked police to make a report for insurance purposes after a patient at the facility broke the windows and headlights in the 1975 Dodge stake truck on the hospital grounds.

Police learned the patient had been committed on a 60-day court order with a diagnosis of paranoia with a tendency toward destructive behavior and was housed in ward G-1. An attending nurse observed the patient picking up a rock and throwing it at the truck windows.

PAID FOR BY THE CITIZENS FOR HIGH SCHOOL RENOVATION

Our Opinion

Vote yes Monday

Next Monday, Northville voters will be asked to approve a $7.75 million bond issue for the renovation of Northville High School. As the major component of Superintendent George Bell's long range plan for the school district, the outcome of Monday's election undoubtedly will decide the future course for Northville Public Schools.

The proposed high school renovation is among the district's most ambitious projects in more than a decade. A renovation of the more than 25-year-old facility will demand a staunch commitment not only from school officials, students and parents, but from the entire community.

As we see it, an improved high school is essential to retaining the quality education expected in this district. However, in urging voters to support the bond issue next Monday, we hope it is understood where the directive for this project originated. While George Bell may have incorporated the renovation as a key component of his long range plan introduced last October, the initiative for the proposal came not from school officials — but from the community.

In the past decade, Northville High School has been the target of some of the district's harshest criticism. For years, residents have voiced opposition to a wide range of issues — from the condition of the building and lack of discipline to the open campus policy and graffiti on the walls. Some even contend that problems at the high school were a major reason voters turned down the district's request for a 9.5 millage renewal in 1981.

While the 1981 millage defeat may be considered one of the district's darker hours, the development of a citizens' advisory committee to help bridge the communication gap between schools and community proved to be the bright spot in the school's failed election. Since the formation of that first citizens' committee (which helped successfully pass a lesser millage request in the summer of 1981), Northville citizens have continued to be an integral part of the school's decision-making process. The 37-member committee working on the high school renovation project and the committee examining grade structure realignment both are offshoots of that early citizens' group.

It was the citizens' committee formed after the millage defeat which recommended the school board begin studying a grade level realignment and establish a long range plan for the district. Since taking the helm of the district in July, 1982, Bell has wasted little time in following through with the recommendations of that citizens' advisory group.

In outlining his five-year plan, Bell described this past school year as "The Year of the High School." Indeed, more changes have taken place at the high school this year than in the past decade. We have been encouraged by the administration's decision to close the school's "open campus" through the implementation of a six-hour day, increased graduation requirements and the proposed study skills laboratory.

A change in leadership also has brought a new sense of direction to the high school. Though he's only been in the principal's seat a few months, David Bolitho already has shown his determination towards improving the high school's image.

The positive changes taking place at the high school have, in our opinion, improved the attitudes not only of staff and students toward their school, but of the community as well. A sense of school pride — particularly in a district which boasts only one high school — is a most essential part of this renovation project.

Few can argue that the high school facility is in need of major repairs. Constant problems over the past few years have run the gamut from a leaky roof to cracks in the pool foundation. Many have faulted previous administrations for not maintaining adequately the high school facility. While there is some truth to the critics' contention, the issue is not what should have been done — but what now must be done.

In its deteriorating condition, the high school facility does not provide the necessary educational environment for today's student. Inadequate space for computer facilities and athletics, out-dated equipment and poor ventilation hardly are conducive to a sound learning environment. The high school facility also is in gross violation of most fire codes and Title IX requirements. Architect John Argenta has estimated that $1 million of the $8 million proposed for the project will go toward upgrading codes.

It is important for voters to realize that the major impetus for renovating the high school is to provide a more sound educational facility for Northville students. The expansion of the facility also will be needed to accommodate the ninth grade students moving up from the junior highs when the grade realignment is implemented in 1985.

There are few frills in the proposed renovation of Northville High School. The citizens' committee has done a commendable job of considering the economic climate of this district while establishing the future needs of the high school. It should be noted that many compromises were made in the 14-weeks which the committee studied the proposal.

The cost to renovate the high school is without a doubt the key factor to consider in this bond issue proposal. As the school board and administration have emphasized, the $7.75 million proposed for the project will not be reflected in higher taxes, but through deferred repayment to the State School Bond Loan Fund. The district currently levies seven mills for debt retirement.

While there will be no increase in taxes, there also will be no decrease. Without the bond issue, a minimal reduction in millage would take place in 1985. With the bond issue, the decrease will not come until 1989.

Looking at the future of Northville Public Schools, the price paid in approving next Monday's bond issue is, in our opinion, minimal when faced with the alternative. Without the renovation, the high school facility will continue to decay until renovation no longer is a possibility. If the cost of building a new high school today is an estimated $16 million, future costs will be far out of reach.

To ensure that future Northville students benefit from the same quality education on which this community has long prided itself, we encourage voters to support next Monday's bond issue.

Off the record

By Kevin Wilson

The more things change...

Longtime Northville residents may find it amusing, but after a mere 3½-year tenure at The Record I'm starting to sound like some kind of old-timer, telling people about "back-when." The latest occurrence was Sunday, when I brought some of my family to town after a visit to the cider mill. They'd seen the news of the city's "Orchid" award in Saturday's Detroit papers and wondered what it was all about.

Now, when I got here the downtown was in its former state of creeping disrepair. Bumping my way up Northville Road to work, past the Ford plant and downtown there were some obvious sore spots (not counting where my head had met with the car roof). There clearly had been something at Hutton and Main, but there was no way to tell what it had been. Next to that Joe's Little Bar held precarious sway followed by a block of buildings with obvious unrealized potential. Awnings sagged at the corner jewelry store.

By the time I arrived in May, 1980, there were already faint glimmers of what was to come. Financing of the downtown project had been approved, Downriver Federal was ready to fix that problem at Main and Hutton (a former car dealership), individual merchants had begun refurbishing storefronts. In other words, I got here just before everything changed. And it accelerated from that point on. South Main was repaved, the Ford plant closed and reopened, more and more businesses were improved. Next thing I knew, I was working in a different city, having watched it all get torn apart and put back together.

But if that were the only thing that's happened since I got here, I'd not sound like an old-timer. The job's forced some other knowledge on me as well; if you're writing about a community like Northville without studying its history you're asleep at the switch.

Which is not to say I'm any kind of authority. If I had been, some errors that have crept into print wouldn't have slipped past (the latest being misidentifying the origins of a Home Tours house). But I have studied enough to give visitors a fair outline of how the place came to be, who built it and what businesses they were in, etc. Covering the Ford plant story, for instance, required knowing how long it had been there (since 1919), what it replaced (J.A. Dubuar's lumber company), what Henry Ford meant by "village industry" and why he put one here.

Covering Park Gardens took me back into pre-history when this area was at the shore of a post-Ice Age lake that diminished in area to become Lake Erie. The sediment at the lake's edge became clay, and the resulting soil conditions wrought Park Gardens' woes. Similarly, the area's gravel industry was formed from glacial deposits.

My father, brother and sister-in-law learned where the old interurban route was, when the Flint and Pere Marquette Railroad laid the track now belonging to C&O, when that track was subsequently raised onto its embankment and why, how the ducks came to live at the Ford plant, why their understanding that Baseline and Eight Mile were the same road didn't hold true here. They heard about the Mill Race Village (we didn't have time to visit, thus they missed the greater detail the docents certainly provide), why the township is really only half of one, the well and its source and a hundred other tidbits.

This all represents more than I've ever known about the past of any place I've ever lived, excluding some parts of Ypsilanti and the general outline of the Copper Country's history. The point of all this is not to brag about how knowledgeable Record reporters are but in round-about fashion to explain some of the lure of Northville.

Once here a few years, though, people have trouble describing why they want to stay. I think it's because it's much easier to plant roots in a place that has some of its own, but difficult to describe the feeling involved. When social scientists point to America as a "rootless society," I often wonder if it isn't because so few of the places where we live either have no history before last week or have allowed that history to die. This place is living proof that it doesn't have to be that way, even when the inevitable changes are made.

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

I've always been a big Victoria Principal fan. Even before "Dallas" I thought she was an outstanding actress.

I particularly enjoy her acting on the Vic Tanny commercials — much to the chagrin of my wife who turned nasty when she saw me paying more attention to the Vic Tanny ad than I did to the show.

"I don't see what you see in her," she blurted out one night as I sat watching my favorite actress extoll the virtues of physical fitness.

"Look at that protruding stomach."

Protruding stomach? On Victoria Principal? It was hard to believe, but my wife also is into physical fitness and if she says Victoria Principal has a protruding stomach it must be true.

Dedicated husband that I am, I started paying even closer attention to the Vic Tanny ads whenever Victoria appeared on the screen.

"Oh gross," I'd say for the benefit of my sensitive wife. "Look at that protruding stomach. It's hard to believe the Vic Tanny people would let an overweight actress like Victoria Principal do their ads when her stomach hangs out like that. Why didn't they find an actress with a nice flat stomach?"

Unfortunately, my comments did little to assuage my wife's feelings. She said I was being sarcastic. That the big grin on my face proved it. That it would be easier to see the protruding stomach if I were sitting more than two feet away from the screen.

Then two weeks ago I read an article about my favorite actress' new exercise book, "The Body Principal." Vicki explained in the article that she really was into physical fitness, had been for a long time. She also recounted a story about daring a girl friend to punch her in the stomach, and how the friend had hurt her hand.

I thought this was important reading so, naturally, I shared it with my wife, who grumbled something inaudible in reply.

"Don't worry, my pet," I told her. "If you say she has a protruding stomach, it must be true. I'm going to make it a point to watch those Vic Tanny ads even closer from now on."

School renovation bond issue debated

To the Editor:

On October 3 we will be asked to vote on a bond issue for the high school renovation. By definition "renovation" means not only to "repair and restore" but to "reinvigorate, refresh and revive."

Each of the proposed changes is designed to accomplish not only a "renovation" of the physical structure, but of the academic program, as well. Updated science labs and additional computer installations will help prepare students for their technological futures; increased library facilities will provide students with more readily accessible resources; and the physical education additions will allow athletic activities to be scheduled without fear of encroachment on one another.

These improvements, along with providing a more energy efficient building and an increase in property values, are sufficient reasons for my "Yes" vote on October 3 to "reinvigorate, refresh and revive" Northville High School.

Whenever I visit the high school, I am impressed by the view afforded by its hilltop site — one can look down on the entire Northville community. Now is the time to make Northville High School a place the entire Northville community can look up to. I encourage you to vote "Yes" October 3.

Sincerely,
Cheryl Holmberg

To the Editor:

Northville is moving with the times. We are growing by revitalizing and restoring the downtown; by the sheer fact that the economy is better and new people are moving into the area; and we are experiencing a resurgence of community pride and spirit that seemed to be dormant for so many years.

The downtown project was a success, but now we need to focus our community on the needs of the high school.

Northville has long been recognized for the excellence of the academic achievement of our students. Now we have a new superintendent, Dr. George Bell, who truly believes in our community. He has a deep commitment to the education of our children.

He is a man with a "no nonsense" approach to education. Dr. Bell has been here just over one year and already we see improvements that have been long overdue. I'm referring to closed campus with six hour days, improved graduation requirements, and an emphasis on respect of property and its maintenance.

October 3 is an important day in our school district. It's the day when we decide on a bond issue that will update physically and technologically our high school. Voting for this bond issue will not mean an increase in your taxes.

However, it is our chance to offer our children, Dr. Bell, and the school board our support to facilitate keeping Northville a top-ranking high school.

Please take time Monday to go to your polling place and vote YES for the bond issue.

Sincerely,
Betty Jane House

LWV committee urges study of bond report

To the Editor:

On October 3, 1983, the Northville School District is holding a special election seeking support of a $7,500,000 bond issue for renovation of the Northville High School.

The purpose of the League of Women Voters is to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government on selected governmental issues.

The policy of the League of Women Voters is to study and to take action on governmental issues and policies in the public interest.

The League of Women Voters did not study this particular bond proposal. However, a citizens' committee was appointed by the Northville School Board to study the high school plant and facilities. The committee's recommendations were incorporated in a report to the Board of Education. This report is available at the Northville School District Board Office.

The League of Women Voters urges the citizens of Northville and Novi that live within the Northville School District to study the final report of this special citizens' committee and vote on October 3.

School bond's passage ill-timed, voter says

To the Editor:

I firmly believe the high school remodeling bond issue should be rejected by the voters on October 3. The case for a several million dollar remodeling program is very weak when one considers the reasons.

1. The high school does not need enlarging when enrollment continues to decline. The enrollment is now about one-third below its peak, so more space is not needed.
2. Now is the wrong time to have a bond sale. Waiting until interest rates come down will save the voters a lot of money. And interest rates will come down if inflation remains down.
3. Some have said the high school needs remodeling to save heating costs. The small amount saved will in no way justify the several million dollar remodeling costs. And there might not even be any savings because of the increase in building size.

Sure, the high school will need remodeling some day, but what the voters are being asked to approve is not what is needed. Let's soundly defeat this bond issue.

In a few years we can reconsider a smaller, more practical remodeling project.

Supporters of junior World-Series praised

To the Editor:

This is an open letter to friends and supporters of Northville Baseball.

This year Northville had the privilege of hosting the N.A.B.F. Junior Division World Series. While the Northville team played very well, they were edged out in two games, each by one run.

One of the losses was to the eventual series winner from Bayside, New York. Nevertheless, the experience of being able to play against very high caliber competition was an invaluable one. The series was not only a grand adventure for the Northville team, but was a community happening as well.

The series would not, of course, have been the success it was without the very dedicated people who contributed their time and talents to the effort. There were literally scores of such unselfish people selling concessions, tickets, etc. during the four-day event, not to mention the hours of planning and preparation for such an event.

Your contribution to the World Series, however, was equally appreciated. I would, therefore, on behalf of the board of directors like to extend our very sincere appreciation for your support.

Respectfully,
Dennis Nielsen, secretary
N.A.B.F. Junior Division
World Series board of directors

25th reunion a blast, thanks to Patti Cooper

To the Editor:

We have forwarded a copy of The Northville Record to Jurgen Hamacher with your article about his visit for our 25th-year NHS Class reunion. He will appreciate it very much, and he was touched that you would put his surprise visit in the paper.

It illustrates part of the reason he wanted to return. Just as his sister Arula experienced in 1953, he became very fond of Northville, his NHS classmates and of how friendly he found it to be here. By coming here, he felt he was more fortunate than many other exchange students he talked with who had stayed elsewhere.

He felt the same welcome returning this year in September for the reunion and that the expense (and finding extra help to care for his invalid mother who lives with Jurgen and his family) was worth it.

An important oversight was made in our original interview about Jurgen's visit and the reunion. We failed to name one of the key members — Patti Florence Cooper — of our 1958 reunion committee. Patti put forth unusual effort in locating people, handling reservations and managing all the finances.

She did it not because she was close at hand living in Northville, but because she's a great person. We hope she won't be besieged now by every committee in Northville that wants a strong member, but we couldn't let her efforts go unmentioned.

FAMILY LAW

The No-Fault divorce law, now about 10 years old, eliminated the need to prove fault in order to obtain a divorce. However, it did not eliminate many serious issues involved in numerous divorces. In many cases, there are serious property disputes, as well as questions of child support and alimony.

Child Custody is governed by the Child Custody Act of 1970. Although this law lists certain criteria for the Court to consider in determining custody, the best interests of the child is considered paramount.

Many divorce actions are relatively simple, but disputes between the parties in a divorce may require aggressive advocacy and counsel.

If you need advice regarding an issue of family law, call for an appointment. There is no charge for the initial consultation. Let's discuss your questions thoroughly and confidently.

Artist's jewelry on sale

Verschaeve estate given to area charities

Distribution of approximately $120,000 to five separate charities by the will of longtime Northville resident Ethelwyn Verschaeve, who died May 20, 1983, was reported this week by the Northville legal firm of Severance and Leneiser.

This Friday and Saturday silver jewelry created by her daughter Artura will be featured in an estate sale at Orin Jewelers.

Artura Verschaeve died in 1978 at the age of 53. She was the only daughter of Ethelwyn and Arthur J. Verschaeve, who was a native of Belgium and also an artist. She had retired from the Ann Arbor school system and was known for her jewelry specialty.

Mrs. Verschaeve also taught art and exhibited her paintings. She won the Prix de Paris in watercolor, her favorite medium.

About 70 pieces of original silver jewelry created by Artura Verschaeve are in the sale this weekend, including rings, bracelets and necklaces. The jewelry will be on display during the store hours, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and to 6 p.m. Saturday.

Orin Mazzoni, owner of the store, said he felt the collection is "well priced" with some items at $20 or $30 and none more than $300. For anyone who appreciates silver items, he said, this is an exceptional collection.

There were no family survivors when Mrs. Verschaeve died at the age of 93. Born in Northville June 20, 1889, she was the only daughter of Edmund J. Robinson and his wife Alice Sage. He was a former lumber dealer and one-time mayor of Northville.

Donald Severance, Mrs. Verschaeve's personal representative, reported that her home on Clement Road, which included a fireplace of Pewabic tiles, has been sold. Earlier there was a sale of furnishings from the home as well as some of the artists' works.

Monies realized, Severance said, were part of the amount distributed to charity. Performance, style return as '84 cars bow

By KEVIN WILSON

New Auto Review

The Age of Austerity is over. Having designed and introduced a variety of economy models over the past few years, Detroit automakers have put their efforts into reviving the performance and luxury car markets in 1984.

New cars and improvements to older models introduced in U.S. dealer showrooms last week and this put pizzazz back into the product mix as the manufacturers break new ground with specialty vehicles.

Revolutionary new vehicles like Pontiac's Fiero and Chrysler's front-drive sports cars and mini-vans are attracting most of the attention, but the performance and styling emphases are evident in improvements to carry-over models as well.

The move toward turbocharging — a method of extracting more power from small engines while making only minimal reductions in fuel economy — continues in 1984 with each of the big Three introducing at least one totally new turbo application.

The performance emphasis may remind some of the "horsepower race" of the mid-to-late 1960s, but while there is some competition to produce the most powerful engine, the 1980s performance game places stresses the "total package" of handling, power, braking and interior appointments. Performance is now defined more in the European idiom than in the traditional American terms of the quarter-mile acceleration test or 0-60 mph time.

Straight-ahead power is still part of the equation, but it's not the be-all and end-all of the performance game as it was before the 55 mph speed limit was established.

General Motor's offerings are outlined below, with comments from area dealers. Ford, Chrysler and AMC models will be covered next week.

PONTIAC

Pontiac dealers are carrying the big gun in this fall's introduction — it's Fiero, America's first and only mid-engine, two-seat sports car. While the auto enthusiast press quibbles that Fiero's "Iron Duke" 2.5 liter four-cylinder engine makes it more of a pop-gun, there's little doubt among Pontiac dealers that they're carrying something hot.

"It's probably safe to say that at any Pontiac dealer right now, Fiero outnumbered 20:1 every other car order," says Jerry Osborne, manager of Leo Osborne Pontiac-Cadillac in Milford.

Osborne is located near the GM Proving Grounds and says he's been taking Fiero orders since June. "We're selling just about anything we can get ahold of (in a Fiero)," he said. "The problem's going to be getting enough cars. Pontiac announced they've got 40,000 orders already and the first year production is set at about 85,000."

That was last Friday — the day after Fiero's official introduction date. "In my 21 years in the car business, I've never seen anything like this," says Bob Jeanotte of the action at his dealership on Sheldon Road, just south of Five Mile Road. "I've got four Fiero's now, and I've probably taken 55 orders. I had my doubts about it being a two-seater, but the Fiero is the hottest thing I've ever seen."

Jeanotte was telling customers there will be a 10-week wait for a new Fiero, with the idle time likely to stretch to 12-14 weeks by the end of this week. Osborne said he isn't even predicting how long it will take to receive delivery.

The engineering breakthroughs on Fiero don't stop with the midship engine placement — the car is built on a structural space frame with the plastic body panels forming a non-structural skin over the top. This is a common technique in racing cars, where the structural rigidity and weight-saving advantages are crucial. Pontiac's manufacturing technology to accomplish this feat on a production model is an industry first. The resulting car bears a definite sports car character similar in proportions to Fiat's X 1 but with a clear 1980s Pontiac identity.

Four-wheel disk brakes, independent suspension and rack-and-pinion steering are among Fiero's other sporting credentials although it was designed as an economical "commuter car" during the latest fuel crisis. Only the venerable cast-iron engine belies those origins, and that is to be rectified with a V-6 offering next year.

There are three Fiero trim levels — base at $7,999, sport coupe at $8,499 and SE at $9,499. Going "out the door" with performance options, stereo and air conditioning at about $11,000 (according to Jeanotte) the Fiero looks to boost Pontiac's image as performance-oriented manufacturer while paying big dividends on the risk taken.

Fiero is the biggest, but not the only, story at Pontiac. The division's version of the GM J-car, now dubbed "Sunbird 2000" in its third name-change in as many years, gets an optional 1.8 liter turbocharged engine that cranks out 150 horsepower — a big boost over the standard 84 h.p. and enough to address the most frequent criticism of the "J" models: lack of power.

Not to be forgotten is the Firebird, Pontiac's perennial performance punch. It gets a more powerful V-8 and a slick new five-speed transmission in the Trans Am package. Together, the powertrain alterations should keep Pontiac's contender leader in the thick of the battle with the new challengers from Chrysler and Ford's new special Mustang.

While Fiero and the turbo engine are unique to Pontiac, the engine may be offered in the J-cars marketed by one or more of GM's other divisions later in the model year. Pontiac shares with its sister divisions a new front-drive station wagon built off the A-body — the 6000 in Pontiac parlance.

The Bonneville front-drive station wagon is cancelled for 1984, while the old B-body, rear-drive big Bonneville returns under the name Parisienne. Produced in Canada, this offering capitalizes on the demand for large cars among the traditional buyers who aren't interested in downsized models.

CHEVROLET

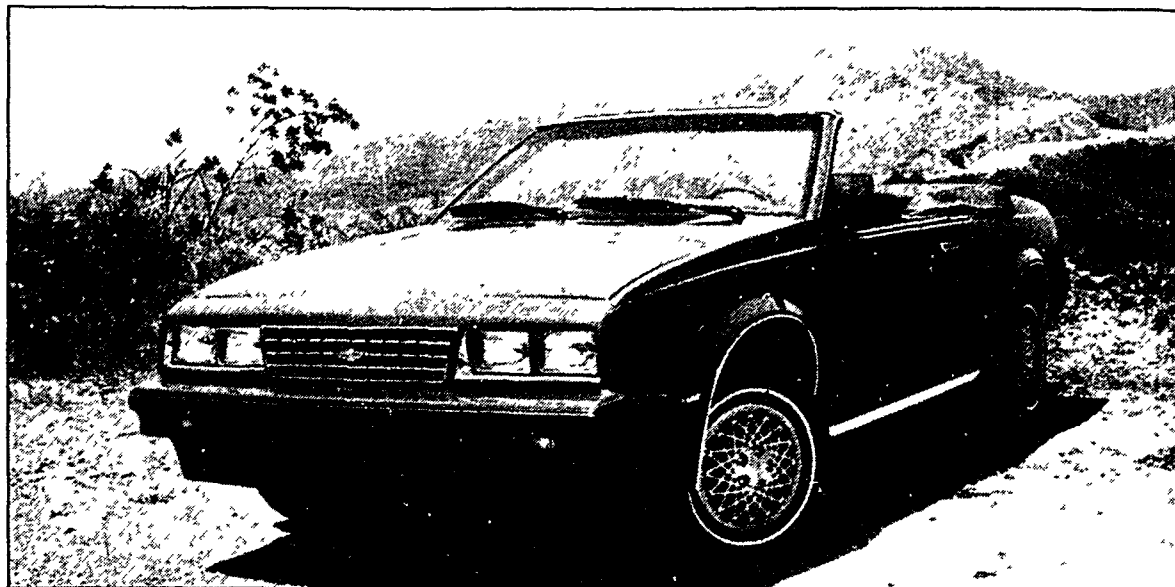

Chevy gathered its big headlines for 1984 models with its spring introduction of the new Corvette, and lacks the availability of a turbocharged engine for its smaller models, but still manages some news for fall introductions.

Visitors to the showrooms of Marty Feldman on Grand River in Novi and Dick Morris on Commerce Road in Walled Lake will find a new Cavalier convertible, and the Caprice/Impala line has returned while the Malibu is dropped.

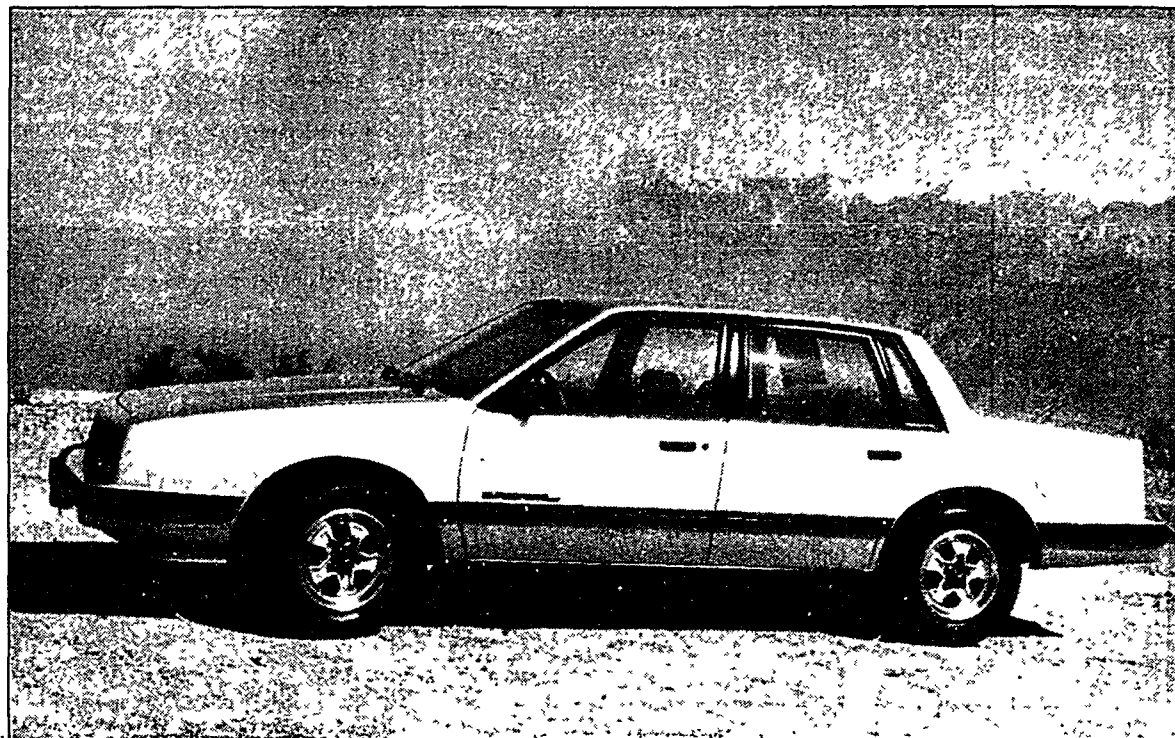

The new convertible is Chevy's first regular production soft-top since cancellation of the Caprice model at the end of 1975. Other Cavalier two-doors get the sporty Type 10 blacked out trim treatment and a facelifted front-end.

The Camaro Z-28 gets a new handling package and Berlina an electronic instrument panel patterned after the Corvette's. The Z-28 also gets a more powerful, carbureted (rather than fuel-injected) V-8. This engine now packs the biggest wallop (190 hp) of any Chevy V-8 and should keep the Camaro in contention in the sporty car class.

Allo appointment, strategic fund create stir in GOP

By TIM RICHARD

If you thought last spring's income tax battle was a donnybrook, wait until you see this fall's battles over Clifford Allo and Governor James J. Blanchard's "Michigan Strategic Fund."

Allo, a former United Auto Workers official who lives in Birmingham, is Blanchard's designee to chair the Worker's Compensation Appeals Board.

"Bias" is a word you'll hear a lot. Already, two area senators — Republicans Robert Geake of Northville and Doug Cruce of Troy — are calling on Blanchard to withdraw the nomination.

It's not, said Cruce, that Blanchard isn't entitled to have someone of Allo's views on the board. Rather, it's that the chair has certain agenda powers that the ordinary voting member doesn't have.

Allo irritated lawmakers and businesspeople as he led the UAW opposition to workers compensation reforms. Apparently he was pretty vehement.

"In 1981," said Cruce, "the Legislature, in a spirit of bipartisan cooperation, made reforms in the Workers Compensation Act which have had a significant effect on improving Michigan's business climate. The Legislature was able to hammer out a reform package that took the first step toward making workers compensation equitable to both employer and employee.

"At the time of the debate, Allo, in the employment of the UAW, was a vociferous opponent of these reforms who fought hard and long to prevent their passage."

"Passionately one-minded," was Geake's characterization of Allo — "an ideologue incapable of properly performing the quasi-judicial tasks of the appeal board."

Significantly, the senators asked Blanchard to withdraw Allo's name as chairman and threatened to vote against confirmation, but they said nothing about his being just another member of the board.

Suburban businesspeople are joining the cry: Jerome Grossman of General Fasteners in Livonia, Joe Tate Associates of Plymouth, the Sheet Metal Contractor's Association in Troy, Lear Siegler, Inc., Associated General Contractors.

The hot potato of maneuvering Allo's appointment through the Senate is the job of majority leader William Faust of

'(Allo is) passionately one-minded — an ideologue incapable of properly performing the quasi-judicial tasks of the appeal board.'

—Robert Geake
State Senator

Westland.

Faust doubles as chair of the Senate Administration, Rules and Elections Committee. He has asked Allo to make himself available to senators for questioning, but has not scheduled hearings before his committee.

The Capitol corridor rumor mill has it that Faust is reluctant to have the matter aired in hearings. In that case, the appointment could go to the full Senate for a confirmation vote.

Faust is reported to have no objections to Allo.

A Republican staff member said Allo is making the rounds, meeting Democratic senators. He also has called on Senate Minority Leader John Engler of Mt. Pleasant and Senator Connie Binsfeld of Maple City. They are the two Republican members of Faust's Administration Committee.

Allo, meanwhile, announced a new procedure for disputed injury cases to assure impartial handling.

It calls for constant rotation of the makeup of the five three-member panels which hear appeals in compensation cases. Allo said cases will be assigned in numerical order to those panels.

All will be handled by staff without his becoming involved, and he promised not to "steer" cases to any particular panel.

If Allo intended to allay the fears of business, he is in trouble. James Barrett, president of the state Chamber of Commerce, said the new procedures do not erase his concerns over Allo's bias toward organized labor.

"The procedures are a small part of his administrative responsibility," Barrett said. "The real problem is you've got a chairman who is a spokesman and policy person in the administration to comment on and interpret the law and suggest changes."

Meanwhile, Geake can be chalked up as one vote against Blanchard's "Michigan Strategic Fund," the $54 million fund to guarantee and underwrite loans to fledgling firms which show promise of providing jobs.

"It would be a negative intrusion of public money into the private sector," said Geake. "We would be better off improving the business climate through 1) reduction of business costs in workers compensation, unemployment compensation and revision of the single business tax, and 2) reduction of regulations."

Underline that phrase about the single business tax. At a public hearing recently, Cruce raised the possibility of the Republicans supporting the strategic fund in return for changes in the SBT. Senator John Kelly (D-Detroit) didn't seem interested in a deal.

Bullard, McGee move to alter selection method

Republican lawmakers are up in arms over Governor James Blanchard's nomination of Clifford Allo to serve as chairman of the Workers' Compensation Appeals Board.

Charging that the Workers Comp Appeals Board is in danger of "losing its integrity and objectivity," State Representatives Willis Bullard (R-60th District) and Robert McGee (R-24th District) have announced that they will co-sponsor legislation requiring a different method of selecting the panel chairman. Additionally, they said they will urge Senate rejection of two other board appointees.

The proposal, according to Bullard, would require the governor to designate the chairman from among the five public representatives on the 15-member panel.

McGee said the Allo appointment is "only one bad signal the governor is sending the business community."

"He also has recommended Rosemary Wolock and Marilyn Atkins for members as 'employer' representatives on the board," said McGee. "One of them has never even worked in the private sector and the other has provided no evidence that she has any knowledge of employer problems or any roots of sympathy of any kind with the business community."

Bullard added that there's evidence both female nominees actively support labor-endorsed candidates — "many of whom have little or no understanding for the problems that employers face when dealing with workers' compensation."

Bullard and McGee also charged that labor will have the dominant vote in workers' compensation disputes for years to come if the Senate confirms the governor's employer recommendations and Allo is confirmed as chairman.

"The hard-won reforms in the workers' compensation laws enacted in 1981 and 1982 will be in jeopardy and Michigan may face insurmountable problems in trying to create a competitive, healthy business climate that can provide new jobs," said McGee. "For the future of the state, I hope these three nominations are flatly rejected."

Bullard explained that the board consists of five employer representatives, five employee representatives and five public representatives. The governor currently has the right to appoint whomever he wishes to head the Appeals Board and make any recommendations for positions on the board.

"The obvious labor bias of these three appointees raises serious questions about the balance of the board," said Bullard. "Many people remember Mr. Allo as one of labor's strongest advocates during negotiations on the reform bills and I am not certain he could rule impartially. The board deals with too many sensitive cases to permit the single interests of one side to influence the outcome."

McGee added that the position of Appeals Board chairman is one that demands the trust and confidence of both employers and employee groups. Both also deserve the assurance that the people who are supposedly representing their views on the board indeed are, he continued.

Bullard and McGee said the integrity and objectivity of the board can only be assured "if we prevent those with the strongest bias — be it business or labor — from unduly influencing its decisions."

"Right now hundreds of thousands of men and women are out of work because it's cheaper to operate a business in almost any other state than Michigan," said Bullard. "If the governor's three appointments aren't rejected, the prospects for those people's futures are not very bright."

'84 cars debut

Corvette's manual transmission is ready now (early cars were all equipped with automatics), complete with computer-controlled overdrive on the top three gears.

OLDSMOBILE

No big introductions here, but Oldsmobile has made a concerted effort to distinguish its styling character from those of its sister divisions through front and rear redesigns. Oldsmobile also gets its own version of the new front-drive A-body wagon, here called the Cutlass Cruiser.

The European look is added to the Firenza J-car model, while port fuel-injection is given the 3.8 liter V-6 offered in Cutlass Ciera.

Olds has the models for large car and luxury buyers and Feigley Motor Sales in Milford is likely to find interested customers for the 88/Ninety-Eight, Cutlass Supreme and Toronado.

BUICK

Performance at Buick is spelled "T Type." There are T Type options offered on the Skyhawk, Skylark, Regal, Century and Riviera. The Electra-LeSabre line continues offering big car luxury.

The news among the T-Types centers on Regal's new turbocharged 3.8 liter V-6, bolstered with suspension improvements, wider tires and an optional spoiler. The engine also goes into the Riviera T Type.

Century T Type gets a beefier suspension package while its V-6 engine has to make do with port fuel-injection, a power-lift to be sure but not a turbocharger.

The A-body (Century) wagon makes its appearance here, too. Virtually the entire Buick lineup receives cosmetic improvements front and rear.

To Make You Mine

*I found out a little too late,
Had my doubt, but decided to wait,
Even though I felt something wrong,
It came as such a surprise,
I should have known when you left
Right before my very eyes*

*I wish I knew the way
To make you shine
To have the will, and the way
To make you mine*

*Well, I lost out
I wasn't playing to win
And I think about
How I took this all in*

*Knowing you're with someone else
Makes me feel down and blue,
But I'll be here waiting for the day
So I am with you!*

Kim Pagget

Harmony Lost

*I've had thoughts meant to share,
Questions to ask, but no one's there;
Longings within that can't be stilled,
Dreams yearning to be fulfilled.
Where's the one who'd hold me tight
When fears and confusion would cloud the night?
The one who shared in the happy times;
Who gave his love in exchange for mine?
Our hopes that once shown endlessly
Were shattered by his destiny,
Leaving me where I don't belong—
In a world of duets without a song.*

June Pertile

Poem Producer

*That poem took
Two minutes
To Write
Hung
Between burps
Of lightning
And ribbon-straight rain;
Crying for paper

F. A. Hasenau

The Lord's Masterpiece

*One day in the past not too long ago.
When the world has at peace and the stars were aglow.*

*The Lord sat down with a happy sigh.
A light of creation was in his eye.*

*He said "I'll create a beauty, Whose fame,
Will put all of the wonders of the world to shame.*

*I'll start deep inside with the beauty that never dies.
And use just from the chest where my treasure lies.*

*So he started within, and without a doubt,
It became more exquisite as he worked out.*

*He seemed lost in creating, but he didn't shirk.
Yes, the Lord of Creation, put his soul in his work.*

*Then he cried "Behold," There shall be no other
And he gave her to me and I call her "MOTHER".*

Dean Antaya

Life

*We like to think we're never wrong
We like to believe we're always right.
But as we travel along life's road,
it's never always black or white.*

*We grope along darkness searching for answers
we may never find;
It seems there's always one more dark valley or one more higher hill to climb.*

*I know we're always being tested;
Some unseen force guides our way.
We look to friends to give life meaning.
But much too often times they turn away.*

*So take a stand and search the very soul inside of you.
Chart your course, never waver and to yourself be always true.*

AFTER-SCHOOL TREATS

PEANUT BUTTER TREATS GET TOP MARKS

Quiz most kids on what they like to eat and one answer you'll invariably get is peanut butter. An intelligent choice! While it has a kid-pleasing taste, peanut butter also is an excellent source of protein as well as other nutrients.

Peanut butter was first promoted as a health food at the Chicago World's Fair almost a century ago. Since then, Americans have gone nutty over its flavor. In fact, in a year more than 300,000 tons of this goober delight are consumed.

To earn top marks with the after-school crowd, serve delicious snacks flavored with peanut butter. These crisp cookies, moist cake, chewy bars and creamy dessert are sure to get an A-bsolutely delicious rating from the scholarly crew.

Peanut Butter-Chocolate Chip Cookies

½ package Betty Crocker Big Batch chocolate chip cookie mix
½ cup chopped peanuts
3 Tablespoons peanut butter
½ tub vanilla ready-to-spread frosting (about 1 cup)
2 Tablespoons peanut butter
1 teaspoon water
36 foil-wrapped solid milk chocolate pieces

Bake cookies as directed on package except—Increase water to 2 teaspoons and stir in peanuts and 3 Tablespoons peanut butter; cool. Mix frosting, 2 Tablespoons peanut butter and the water; frost cookies. Top each with chocolate piece. 3 dozen cookies.

High Altitude Directions (3,500 to 6,500 feet): Bake cookies as directed on package except—stir in 1 Tablespoon all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon water, the peanuts and 2 Tablespoons peanut butter. Continue as directed in recipe.

Chewy Peanut Butter Bars

1 package Betty Crocker Snackin' Cake applesauce raisin, banana wheat, butter pecan, carrot nut, German chocolate, coconut pecan or golden chocolate chip cake mix
3 Tablespoons margarine or butter, softened
1 egg
¼ cup packed brown sugar
½ cup peanut butter
2 Tablespoons margarine or butter
1 Tablespoon milk
½ cup chopped peanuts, optional

Heat oven to 325 degrees. Mix dry cake mix, 3 Tablespoons margarine and the egg until crumbly. Press into ungreased square pan 8 x 8 x 2 inches. Bake until almost no indentation remains when touched, 20-25 minutes.

Mix brown sugar, peanut butter, 2 Tablespoons margarine and the milk in a small bowl until well blended. Spread over baked layer. Sprinkle with peanuts. Set oven control to broil and/or 550 degrees. Broil with top about 5 inches from heat until topping is bubbly and light brown, about 1 minute. (Watch carefully—topping burns easily.) Cool; cut into bars, about 2 x 1 inch. 32 bars.

Peanut Buttery Devils Food Cake

1 package Betty Crocker Stir n' Frost devils food cake mix with chocolate frosting
1 egg, beaten
½ tub vanilla ready-to-spread frosting (about 1 cup)
2 Tablespoons crunchy or creamy peanut butter
2 Tablespoons peanut butter-flavored chips

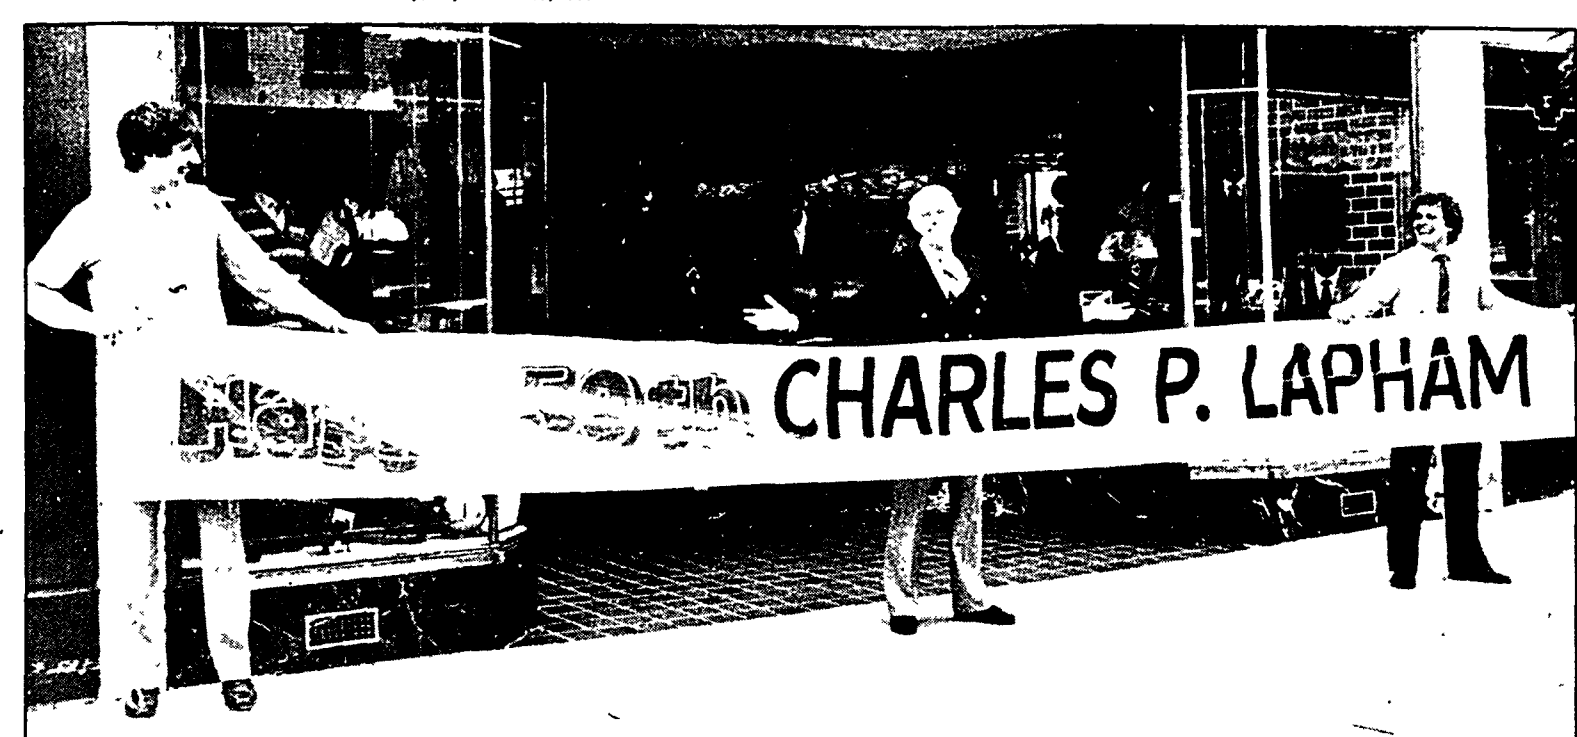

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Prepare cake mix as directed on package except—decrease water to ¼ cup and add the egg with the water. Bake as directed; cool. Carefully remove from pan. Split cake to make 2 layers. (To split, mark sides of cake with wooden picks and cut with long serrated knife.) Mix vanilla frosting and peanut butter. Spread ½ cup of the frosting mixture between layers. Spread remaining frosting mixture over sides of cake. Knead chocolate frosting packet about 10 seconds. Spread chocolate frosting over top of cake; sprinkle with peanut butter chips.

High Altitude Directions (3,500 to 6,500 feet): Heat oven to 375 degrees. Prepare cake mix as directed on package except—stir in 1 Tablespoon all-purpose flour, increase water to ¼ and the egg with the water. Continue as directed.

Peanut Butter Fudge Dessert

1 package Betty Crocker chocolate fudge frosting mix
1¼ cups graham cracker crumbs
2 Tablespoons creamy peanut butter
½ cup creamy peanut butter
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened
1 cup chilled whipping cream
¼ cup chopped peanuts

Lightly butter square pan, 9 x 9 x 2 or 8 x 8 x 2 inches. Prepare frosting mix as directed on package. Mix 1 cup of the frosting, the crumbs and 2 Tablespoons peanut butter. Press into pan. Mix remaining frosting, ½ cup peanut butter, the sugar, vanilla and cream cheese in large bowl (mixture will be stiff). Beat whipping cream in chilled bowl until stiff. Fold peanut butter mixture into whipped cream. Spoon over layer in pan; spread evenly. Sprinkle with peanuts. Refrigerate until set, 3-4 hours. Refrigerate any remaining dessert. 9-12 servings.

Charles Lapham's birthday's a fun event

By JEANDAY

For about two hours last Friday the banner hung across Mair Street in front of Lapham's Men's Store proclaiming owner Charles Lapham's 50th birthday. At the store Lapham was presented with a huge candle "with about 400 candles," reports his wife Maxine. He also received a bushel of tomatoes and peppers as a "hot tomato."

The celebration was week-long, beginning with a surprise Mickey Mouse birthday party the previous Saturday given by neighbors at the Laphams' summer place in Elk Rapids. Mrs. Lapham explains that her husband is well-known as a fan of Mickey Mouse so their friends used it as the dinner party theme.

Open house to celebrate Hammonds' golden year

The six children of Cris and Ellie Hammond began last February to plan a special celebration for their 50th wedding anniversary, asking many friends to contribute to a memory book. It will be presented to the couple at an open house being held from 1-10 p.m. this Sunday at the home of daughter Peggy Meyer at 955 North Center.

The Hammonds were long-time active residents of the community before they retired to Cheboygan. He worked with local Boy Scouts and Ellie Hammond had been township clerk. She was a dedicated volunteer at Northville State Hospital and was organizer of the Northwest Child Guidance Clinic.

The couple actually will mark their 50th wedding anniversary December 23. Their family decided upon an early celebration, however, because of the uncertainty of travel in winter weather. Daughter Peggy Meyer notes that the family is hoping more people will be free to drop in at the open house as fall seems less busy a time than Christmas.

She adds that all the Hammond children will be on hand with Jim coming from Wisconsin, Cris from Florida, Gordy from Hawaii, Julie Enright from Texas and Ed from Michigan.

The honorees are learning of the celebration just today as they arrive from Cheboygan for a visit. Hostess Meyer says she hopes friends who have worked in scouting with her father and those who have volunteered with her mother, as well as former neighbors and church friends will drop by.

Woman's Club to begin 91st year

The opening luncheon for members and guests of the Northville Woman's Club will be held next Friday, October 7, at Meadowbrook Country Club. There will be a cocktail hour beginning at 11:30 a.m. with luncheon to follow at 12:30 p.m.

Club members Louise Cutler, Diann Korowin and Alice Walker will be models for the style show to be presented by Me and Mr. Jones. Continuing a long-time tradition, past presidents and honorary members will be honored at the program.

She's assisting with Depression Glass show

Township resident Carolyn Kugler, who set up the exhibit of Depression Glass in conjunction with the Northville Home Tour last Thursday is assisting with plans for the 11th annual All Depression Glass Show and Sale given by the Michigan Depression Glass Society.

Colorful fall season offers host of harvest festivals

From the rolling hills of the southern counties to the rocky crags of the Upper Peninsula, Michigan's fall color extravaganza is a showplace for the nation, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Michigan offers at least 85 species of soft- and hardwood trees which change colors, more than any other state. Twenty percent of the nation's sugar maples, renowned for their vivid fall colors, are located in Michigan.

Brilliant colors of brown, orange, red and yellow mixed with the green of spruce, pine and other firs supply a beautiful backdrop for many popular autumn activities.

Michiganians can take color tours by automobiles, boat or train, explore a nature center, visit a college campus on a football Saturday, attend a fall festival or sip a freshly squeezed apple cider at one of the state's many mills.

Colors should be best from mid-September through mid-October in the Upper Peninsula and in the Lower Peninsula north of a line from Ludington to Standish, according to the Auto Club.

In central Lower Michigan south of a line from Muskegon to Port Huron, fall colors usually peak from early to mid-October. Southern Lower Michigan's forest are at their zenith between mid- and late October, the Auto Club added. Ideal conditions for good color development are warm, bright days and cool nights. Cloudy, wet days combined with warm nights usually mean a shorter, less spectacular season, the Auto Club stated. The Michigan Travel Bureau has a guide titled "Michigan in Autumn," which lists 20 scenic routes ranging from 60 to 228 miles in length. Copies of the guide can be obtained by writing the Michigan Travel Bureau, P.O. Box 30226, Lansing, Michigan 48909, or by calling toll-free at 1-800-292-2520. In addition to the color, fall is the season for many festivals and special events. These include the Autumn Harvest Festival, September 23-25, at Dearborn's Greenfield Village; Autumn Fest, October 1, in Northville; Apple Harvest Festival, October 7-9, in Ypsilanti and the Apple Festival, October 9, in Plymouth.

The show will be held from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. October 15-16 at the Dearborn Civic Center on Michigan west of Greenfield. Mrs. Kugler notes that the show previously was held at Schoolcraft College and had a good local attendance. Anyone interested in joining the society, she adds, is invited to attend meetings held on the first Monday of each month at the Senior Citizens Building, Five Mile at Farmington.

Craftspersons featured at two-day Tivoli Fair

More than 140 exhibitors will be selling their crafts and wares at Northville Downs beginning this Friday in the Northville Historical Society's annual Tivoli Fair.

Among the most popular historical society events, the fair is expected to draw throngs of area residents to the Downs this weekend.

Fair hours are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday. Admission is $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for children. All proceeds from the fair will be used by the historical society to furnish the Wash-Oak Schoolhouse and the Blacksmith Shop at Mill Race Historical Village.

Fair-goers will find ample free parking available and society members will serve food at the snack bar.

Being held concurrently with this year's fair will be stenciling, quilting, cross-stitch and candlewicking demonstrations at Anne's Fabrics, 111

East Main. Several of the demonstrations will be hands-on. Shop hours are 9:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday and 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday.

Among the 27 Northville artists participating in the fair this weekend are Wanda Cutchins, oil paintings; Susan Cutting, country folk art; Marion Cooper, needlework; Lucia Danes, oils and country crafts; Carol Gatti, oil paintings; Pat Meyers, herbs and country crafts; Judy Berlinski, cards and notes; Mary Beth Baxter, tole; Karen Poulos, wheat weaving; Kay Kehoe, college dolls; Lynn Paquette, oil paintings; Judy Woerner, weaving; Reatha Wilson, dried flowers.

Constitution Week observed

The Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will be among the DAR chapters throughout the country observing Constitution Week in commemoration of the 196th anniversary of the Constitution of the United States.

Open houses ring in new year for Northville schools

EDITOR'S NOTE: The monthly Northville PTA-PTSA column which appears on the last Wednesday of each month September through June, is compiled by volunteer Linda Handyside. She coordinates material from the publicity persons in each of the elementary and junior high schools.

In addition, Jerry and Tina Delaney will be compiling information about Our Lady of Victory School's activities and Nancy Lawrence will write about William Allan Academy's upcoming events.

Welcome to the 1983-84 school year. Your PTA-PTSA Coordinating Council consists of the Executive officers, Committee chairmen, the PTA Presidents and one representative from each of the elementary, junior highs and high school. The Executive officers are: President, Margie Sievert; Vice President, Jan Wilhelm; Secretary, Kathy Reavy and Treasurer, Betty House.

We meet each month on the second Thursday at 9:30 a.m. with Superintendent George Bell present. Our October meeting will be at Amerman on the 13th. Please join us at any of our meetings.

I urge you to support the bond issue and vote "yes" on October 3.

AMERMAN

Amerman will be selling spring bulbs today through October 5. Anyone wishing to purchase bulbs should contact Amerman School. Delivery will be approximately October 19.

Our annual open house was held September 15. The 1983-84 officers were installed and chairpersons for PTA committees were introduced. Dr. George Bell gave a short talk on the renovation plans for the high school and explained what approval of the bond issue by voters on October 3 would do for Northville and Amerman parents. Parents were given presentations by their children's teachers and any child present was entertained with movies and refreshments in the gym.

Congratulations go to all those Amerman children who participated in the Northville Library's Summer Reading Program, "Keys to the Castle." Those participating were Anthony DeBenedet, Benjamin Stier, Chris DiGrande, Erica Anderson, Angela Abbot, Chris Harrison, Katie Kernohan, Corey Keranan, Michael Kapusky, Edward Hugener, Michael Malloure, Jason Lennig, Ann Ross, Anthony Wen, Lisa Wagner, Chelsey Slagter, Valerie Bassin, Sarah Carrington, Braden Robinson.

MORaine

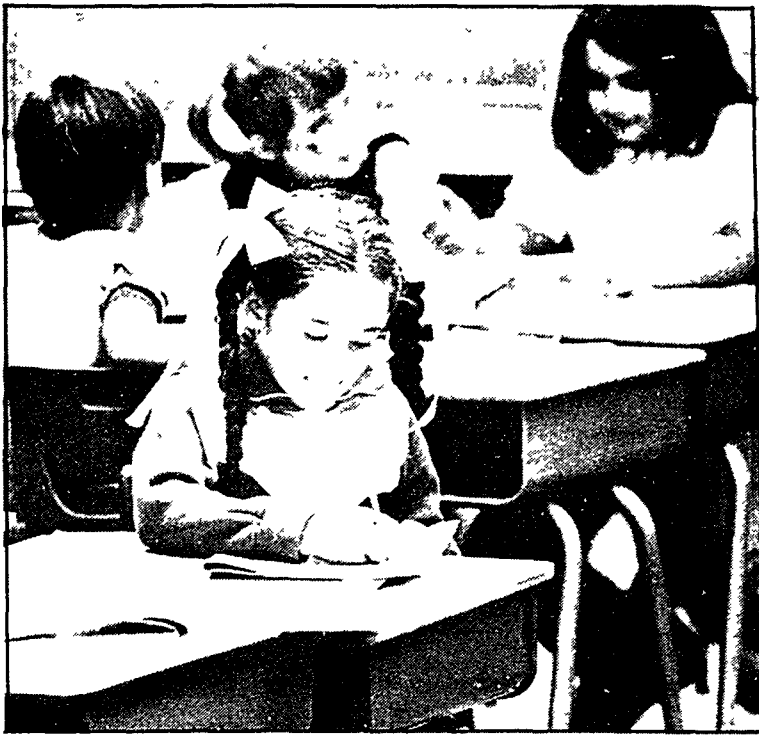

Moraine's 343 students were greeted this fall by many familiar faces and some new ones. Some of the new faces belong to movement education instructors Tom Pallas and Larry Taylor. Bess Miller is back in our building this year teaching second grade. Also, Kathy McEvoy is new to Moraine teaching Institution Special Education students.

Your PTA is planning another year of events to benefit the students. Karen Poulos is this year's PTA president assisted by vice president Barb Erickson, recording secretary Barb Kowalski, corresponding secretary Joan Kolassa and treasurer Lynn Elssessor. Meetings are held the first Monday of each month at 9:30 a.m. in the library. All parents are welcome.

The PTA is starting off its fund raising this year with a sweatshirt sale. A flyer was sent home showing a crewneck pullover sweatshirt, a hooded zip-front sweatshirt and a weekend bag, all in navy with white Moraine School logo. All are reasonably priced and can be ordered through October 3. Delivery is scheduled for early November.

School Superintendent George Bell was a welcome guest at the September PTA meeting. He took time out of his busy schedule to explain details of the planned high school renovation project. The project hinges on the success of the bond issue vote scheduled for October 3. Parents are urged to support this bond issue, which will enable much-needed improvements and energy-saving changes to be completed on the existing high school building so it can continue to prepare adequately our students for college and the world of work. Chris Ebel is coordinating efforts at Moraine School to insure the maximum community support for this bond issue.

Moraine's Open House is a two-part event again this year. Open House for grades 1, 2, 5 and 6 will be held tomorrow, October 6 is reserved for kindergartners and students in grades 3 and 4. Plan to come and have your child introduce you to his or her teacher and see some of what's been happening in the classroom.

For the next several weekends, Moraine's playground area will be the scene of an Eagle Scout project under the supervision of Ken Jacobsen. Ken and as many helping hands as he can round-up will be installing the newly-purchased wooden playground equipment bought with last year's PTA fundraising money. Much help will be needed, so if you have a few hours to spare, stop by the playground and give a hand.

SILVER SPRINGS

The famed Mr. Murphy said, "If it can go wrong ... it will!" However, he certainly didn't have Silver Springs in mind. Our new school year is off to a terrific start. Staffing changes include Ken Pawlowski (formerly of Meads Mill) as our new principal. We are also pleased to welcome Marion Yockey (formerly of Moraine) in second grade and Larry Taylor as our new physical education instructor.

We will be missing the kind face of Mrs. Chris Modrack during this academic year as Chris had decided to take a leave of absence to "work" with her two lovely children. Her newest addition is Nicholas Modrack Guest, born July 6. Congratulations!

Parents will have the opportunity of meeting the new Silver Springs staff members at the annual open house and potluck dinners scheduled in October.

The first dinner held September 21 for the parents and students of the classes of Janet Rigney, Celeste Matestic, Dwight Siegreen and Raymond Balutowicz was a huge success. The second dinner will be held at 6:30 p.m. this evening for the parents and students in the classes of Phil Demski, Janet Henderson, Mary Culik and Marion Yockey. The last dinner will be held October 5 for the parents and students in the classes of Cheryl Rosinski, Sue Lyons and Phyllis Saunders.

After the potluck dinner, each classroom will feature a curriculum presentation while students are entertained in the Media Center. The open house and potluck dinners have proven to be a special opportunity to meet the Silver Springs staff, become familiar with the school and provide a chance to understand your child's responsibilities during the new school year.

Be sure to stop by and meet our PTSA officers and register for your own PTSA membership during the open house and potluck dinners this month. Our new 1983-84 officers are: Kathy Reavy, president; Elly Van Noord, vice president; Linda McMillan, secretary and Dieder Scherb, treasurer.

October 14 is "spruce-up" day." Michigan School Picture Company will be here to record this memorable day for all students. Pictures of preschool children (not currently attending Silver Springs) will be available after pictures have been taken of our students about 2:30 p.m.

October 17-20 are special days for the gifted and talented students of the fifth and sixth grades. Students will attend special science-oriented classes at Cranbrook Institute of Science this week. Classes will include special hands-on experiments and star-gazing activities geared to their academic level. This is a new undertaking for our gifted and talented program and proves to be very beneficial to our students.

Silver Springs has been very fortunate this year to have help of "Blanchard's Kids" to spruce up the grounds. The enterprising kids weeded our new gardens, repaired the fence in the back of the school and painted the playground equipment. Along with the efforts of our fine custodial staff which includes Charlie Anderson, Ellen Suddendorf, Dita Kuburoff and Larry Adams, we've never looked better.

Be sure to mark your calendars for October 3, School Election Day.

This is an opportunity to let our school officials know our feelings on the very important issue of the Northville High School renovation program. Come on out ... and make your vote count.

WINCHESTER

It was "standing room only" at the PTA Welcome Back Coffee held September 14. Approximately 100 mothers attended to express their interest in the numerous activities occurring at Winchester School this year.

Already in progress are craft workshops in preparation for December's Santa's Secret Store. Chairman Jan Juhasz requests that any useful scrap materials be dropped off at the school office, and invites attendance at the workshops held at 12:30 p.m. each Thursday at her home.

All parents of kindergartners are invited to attend a Parent Education Program to be held at 7:30 p.m. October 13. Various aspects of the year's curriculum will be demonstrated.

Ways and Means Coordinator Marion Wilcox announces that Albright Photography will be at Winchester October 4, 5 and 6 to take family portraits in time for Christmas cards or holiday gift giving. School pictures also will be taken October 17.

The September 22 Open House welcomed parents to their children's classrooms to meet the teachers and hear an overview of the year's activities while the students enjoyed a Walt Disney cartoon festival.

The PTA membership drive also had its "kick-off" that evening. Chairmen Pat Howe and Lil Sepos urge parents to "Help put a feather in our cap" by joining PTA. As parents purchase individual or family memberships, a feather will be placed in the Indian headband of their child's classroom and labeled with their name.

Art teacher Shirley Talmadge recognized the following students for their outstanding art projects which will be displayed in the main hall: Danny Peters, Bret Swalberg, Michelle Hoefer, Matt Stevens and Heidi Robins. Congratulations to these fine artists.

Congratulations also to teacher Diane Vanston who is on leave this year due to the birth of her daughter Michelle August 15.

The next PTA meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. October 12. Everyone is invited to attend. Remember to vote in the October 3 bond issue election.

COOKE

With a clean, freshly-painted interior, Cooke opened its doors this fall to welcome some 460 students — almost 40 more than expected.

This year's students will enjoy utilizing the video equipment purchased last spring by the PTO and the Mothers' Club. The additional equipment provides for two levels of classes to be offered in Video Production. Also, the Home Economics Department is making use of a new PTO purchase — a microwave oven to help students keep up with today's changing cooking techniques and methods.

Another new acquisition house in the library is an Apple computer. Students may now work with a counseling aide to investigate career opportunities. The software compiled by the county and the State of Michigan provides information for students on subjects needed to qualify for a job, lists advantages and disadvantages of a chosen field, predicts future demand in the area and suggests related career fields for consideration. All eighth and ninth grade students will have the opportunity to use the career program this year. A Career Awareness Program will debut in February with guest speakers from various occupations invited to speak to the students.

The major fundraiser for the PTO — the Orange and Grapefruit Sale — will begin October 11. This year the money raised will go into the general fund so that teachers can make requests where need exists for materials or activities. Fruit prices will remain the same as last year. This fundraiser generates the money to purchase items like the video equipment and the microwave which benefits students. Order forms will be handed out during conferences to the parents.

School pictures will be taken September 30.

MEADS MILL

Our building is bustling with activity once again. We have some new faces in the halls, including our new assistant principal Tom Cey, counselor Frank Satarino plus our new class of seventh graders.

The year began with an open house for the seventh grade parents September 20. This gave them an opportunity to meet their students' teachers and become acquainted with the building. Another open house is planned for 8:15 a.m. to 3 p.m. today for all students and parents.

On October 4, the Big Dig class will be boarding a bus for a field trip to the Museum of Natural History. The ninth grade students will be listening to a speaker from Junior Achievement October 6. At that time they will be informed on the program and activities offered.

We all hope the community will support the bond issue October 3. This will enable our students to have a better education and facilities.

The next PTSA board meeting will be held October 14.

OUR LADY OF VICTORY

"To work and play together in harmony and to appreciate one another's talent" is the theme for Our Lady of Victory's 1983-84 school year as announced by Mrs. Sheralene Thompson, school principal. The theme will be evidenced at the upcoming open house and PTO general meeting at 7:30 p.m. October 5. The general meeting will be held in the social hall, where parents will have the opportunity to meet the new officers of the PTO board. They are: Presidents, John and Carol Litzelman; Vice Presidents, Ken and Kathy Ling; Secretaries, Jerry and Tina Delaney, and Treasurers, John and Vikki O'Reilly.

The following new additions to the OLV teaching staff also will be introduced at the October 5 meeting: Mrs. Kathleen Puzio, seventh grade instructor; Mrs. Mary Goode, curriculum specialist and vocal music instructor, and Mrs. Joanne Dalziel, seventh and eighth grade French teacher.

On Saturday, October 22, OLV will host the first Arts and Crafts show from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the social hall. Chairperson Shirley Pelczar suggests.

On the same weekend (both Saturday and Sunday) the school will sponsor its first paper drive of the year. Save those papers and plan to bring them to the church parking lot.

Always most important at OLV are the children's interests and educational activities. This year, grades 1 through 8 will be receiving an expanded computer education program organized and scheduled by Mrs. Kathleen Puzio.

September school events included a First Grade Fling welcoming the first grade students and parents. A Newcomers Tea was held for all new families at OLV. An all-school Mass was celebrated by Father Frank Pollie, OLV pastor, to bless the students and faculty and their efforts in the upcoming school year.

WILLIAM ALLAN ACADEMY

What a great start to the new school year! All of the Academy children seemed so willing and eager to start and have settled into a smooth routine. The teachers seem equally happy and are very proud of their students and curriculum.

The first-second grade class is bubbling over with its own computer class as well as Spanish, art, music/drama and gym. Lunch at Maybury State Park, however, seemed to take first place.

The third/fourth graders at the Academy have settled into their schedules and have already started interesting reports on "Forest Animals" with visits to the Northville Public Library. This is a regular, every-other-week based field trip which encourages use, understanding and research skills at the library. The children love it and that's what counts.

The Academy's fifth/sixth graders seem to be "old hands" at the routine. They have been so excited about the challenge of their studies and have already finished their own "Shield — Coat of Arms." Currently, they are working on metal stamping and burying a time capsule.

Last but not least, are our kindergartners, who have made a splendid adjustment to school. They already are working hard on their math and reading concepts and skills.

The Northville Record

A run of the mills — It's cider time!

For those who find cider, spice doughnuts and caramel apples among the many rituals of autumn, the best place to ring in the season is at one of the many area cider mills and orchards.

Despite a mild winter and little summer rain, cider sippers still will find plenty of their favorite autumn beverage available.

Though the Michigan Apple Committee has predicted a 22 percent decline in the number of apples plucked from Michigan orchards this fall, this autumn's cider is available at prices comparable to last year's — ranging from $1.50 to $3.50 per gallon.

Most area mills have been open since early September and will remain open through the Thanksgiving holiday.

However, now is the peak season for cider and most mills are making preparations for the crowds of October cider-sippers.

While cider, doughnuts and caramel-dipped apples are standard fare at most area mills, features such as wagon rides and gifts shops have brought more business to mill proprietors.

The rich history of many of Michigan's 120 cider mills also draws crowds each autumn. Many of the cider mills in the state were constructed in the mid to late 19th century and have changed little since the early days — some even boast the original water wheel used to generate electricity.

Among the most frequented mills in the area is Parmenter's Northville Cider Mill, 714 Baseline.

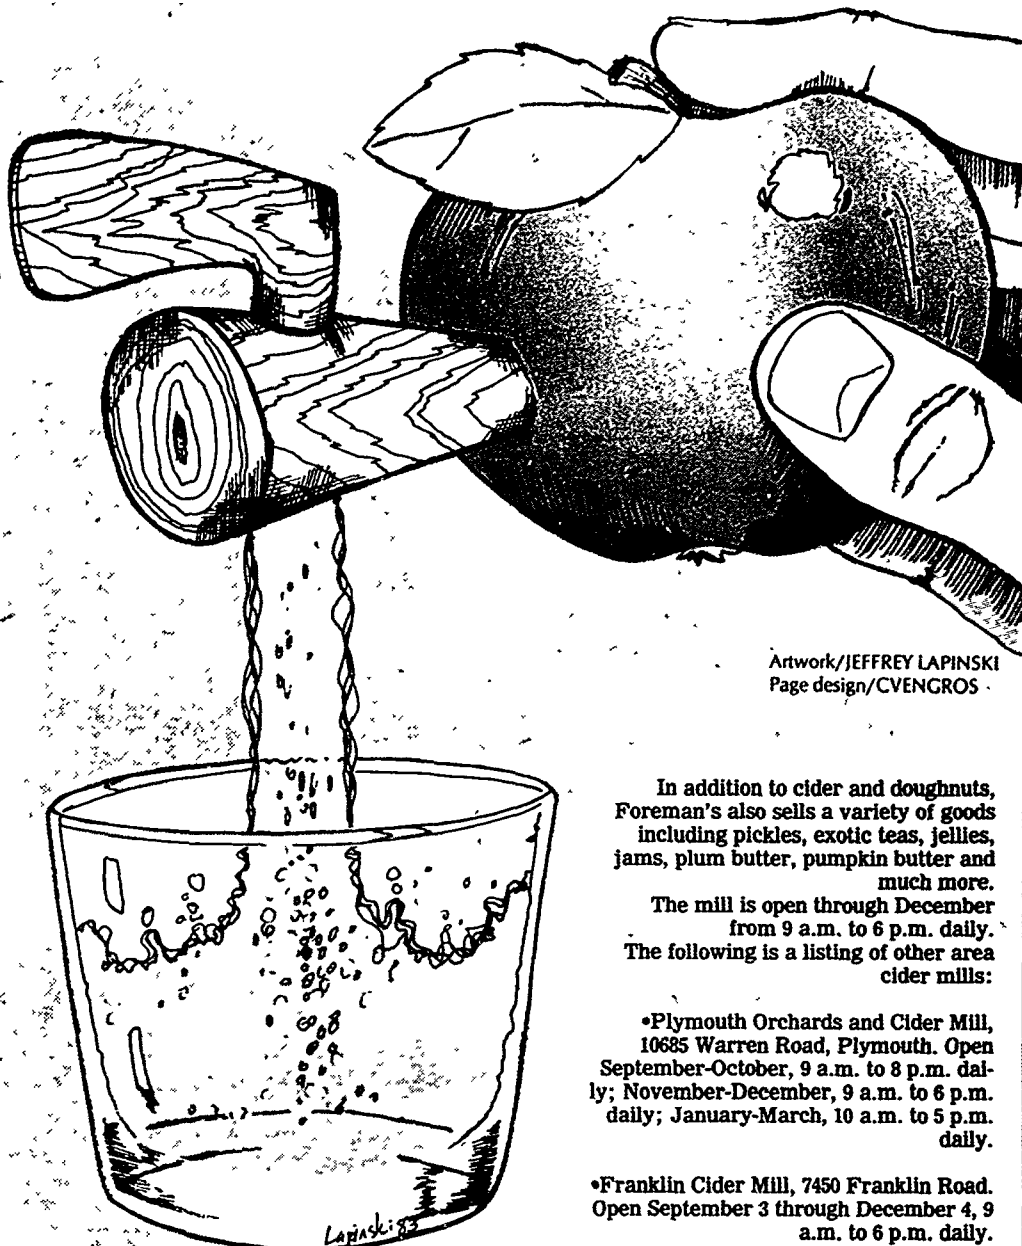

A 110-year-old area landmark, the mill had been in the Parmenter family for 95 years and was Northville's second oldest continuous business before it was purchased 16 years ago by Vern and Ruth Bodker.

In December, 1977, the mill was completely destroyed by fire. However, the Bodkers rebuilt the mill and were back in business by the following July.

Parmenter's offerings include everything from cider, doughnuts and caramel apples to homemade peanut butter, maple sugar and syrup.

New this year at Parmenter's is the addition of its Northville Winery. The winery, located inside the mill, offers a variety of red and white table wines — from Chardonnay to Cabernet.

Among the wine varieties are Vidal, a semi-dry, fruity white wine; Seyval, a semi-dry, fine dinner wine; Pomme Blanc and Pomme Rouge, which are lightly sweet, and Apple, a sweet light wine.

In addition to cider and doughnuts, Foreman's also sells a variety of goods including pickles, exotic teas, jellies, jams, plum butter, pumpkin butter and much more.

The mill is open through December from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

The following is a listing of other area cider mills:

•Plymouth Orchards and Cider Mill, 10685 Warren Road, Plymouth. Open September-October, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily; November-December, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily; January-March, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

•Franklin Cider Mill, 7450 Franklin Road. Open September 3 through December 4, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

•Diehl's Orchard and Cider Mill, 1478 Ranch Road in Holly, seven miles north of M-59 off Milford Road. Open year round, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily.

•Warner's Orchard and Cider Mill, 5970 Old U.S. 23, Brighton. Open through May, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday; 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

•(Tom) Walker's Grist Mill, 8507 Parshallville, Parshallville. Open September through November 20, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday; 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

All wines are priced from $3.50 to $5.50 a bottle and there is a 10 percent discount when purchasing a case.

Parmenter's is open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. daily, September 3 through November 20. Winery hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Another area cider mill which draws large crowds is Foreman's Cider Barrel, 50050 West Seven Mile.

The mill, owned and operated by Ralph Foreman for more than 50 years, also contains open apple orchards where customers are invited to "pick their own."

MackKinnon's: One of the best restaurant review

DIANE KOVACS

Downtown Northville has undergone a lot of changes in recent years. The town has been renovated with the addition of brick sidewalks and old-fashioned street lamps; and a graceful "town clock" adorns a flower-covered island in the middle of Main Street as it passes through the attractive downtown area.

But the physical renovations are only part of the charm of the "new, old Northville."

Not the least of the additions is MacKinnon's, a restaurant which features Country French cuisine and is one of the major reasons the Northville, Novi, Walled Lake area is developing a reputation for outstanding dining establishments.

Stated succinctly, there's not much wrong at MacKinnon's and, in fact, almost everything is right ... from the quality of the food to the attractive decor and pleasant acoustments.

Care has been taken with every detail, including the dinner music. While most restaurants opt for music which is unobtrusive, MacKinnon's features stylish chamber music which complements nicely the overall dining experience.

MacKinnon's is the creation of Tom MacKinnon, Greg Goodman and Leonard Wade. Although neither MacKinnon or Goodman has yet reached 30, both have impressive credentials in the dining business. Both are graduates of Schoolcraft College's culinary arts department and have trained throughout the United States and Europe.

First of all, MacKinnon's is physically attractive. A 22-foot mahogany bar dominates the front room which is separated from the dining area by glass-paned wooden doors which once graced the Dodge family mansion.

In the dining room, dark brick walls and old oak floor are enhanced by lace curtains on the windows and Leonard Wades' paintings of birds on the walls.

But it's the food itself which gives MacKinnon's its reputation as one of the finest new restaurants in the metropolitan Detroit area.

The restaurant does a brisk luncheon trade, and is popular both with area businesspeople and women looking for a stylish place for midday dining. Appetizers include fried crepe strips lingonaise and pate maison with chef's garni, while the soup menu includes crayfish bisque and snapper turtle ragout.

Quiche is a luncheon favorite, while other luncheon entrees include saute chicken estragon, petite steak au poivre vert and a vegetable terrine with watercress sauce.

Our trip to MacKinnon's, however, was for dinner. Although the list of appetizers includes shrimp stuffed mushrooms nantua and escargot en fillo, we bypassed the preliminaries to move directly to the entrees which are served with a very fine dinner salad loaded with cheese and vegetables. A vegetable terrine also accompanies dinner.

Selecting an entree is a pleasant challenge. It wasn't easy to skip over the tournedos with shrimp bernaise ($14.95) or rack of spring lamb with black currant sauce ($16.95), but my companion finally opted for the scallop and spinach pasta ($10.95) while I opted for one of the specials — buffalo steak served in a brown sauce with horseradish. Both were excellent.

The dessert menu also features a variety of tempting choices, including a chocolate mousse grand marnier with swiss chocolate sauce or a champagne sorbet. I finally selected something called "Chocolate Chocolate Creation," a sheet of rolled chocolate about five inches high filled with chocolate mousse and strawberries. It was both sinful and outstanding.

Finally, MacKinnon's has an undeserved reputation for being a little on the expensive side. My companion and I dined for approximately $35, which included wine with our meal. Considering the quality, we left with the feeling of having had an inexpensive dining experience.

MacKinnon's, 126-130 East Main Street, Northville. 348-1991. Lunches 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and noon to 5 p.m. Saturday; dinners from 5-10 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 5-11 p.m. Friday and Saturday. Liquor license. Visa, MasterCard, Diner's Club, Carte Blanche.

Hawks, Miller run down Mustangs

Northville gridders tumble to 2-1 with Friday's 20-0 loss to Harrison

By B.J. MARTIN

Not this time. The Northville Mustangs turned in their best game of the season against Farmington Harrison — perhaps the state's top football team — and came up short, 20-0.

"They're the number one team," Mustang coach Dennis Colligan had to admit. "I don't foresee anybody in the league beating them this year. Whether they're good enough to repeat as state champs is hard to say, but they were tough, all right."

The Northville offense was able to move the ball only to midfield throughout the game — then the Hawk defense stiffened, permitting the Mustangs only one penetration as far as the Harrison 35.

"Yeah, we played some great offense between our 20 and the 50," Colligan said, "but once we got in their territory it was another story."

A big mistake opened the door for the Hawks early in the game. Gary Strunk's first-series punt was stuffed nearly 20 yards the wrong direction and Harrison recovered on the Northville 3-yard line. Hawk quarterback Scott Glinski didn't even need instructions from the sideline. The handoff went to tailback John Miller — the first of 24 carries for the all-state candidate — and the big running back rumbled into the Mustang end zone for the first of his three touchdowns.

Credit the Mustangs for not folding — after the extra point kick sailed wide, Northville put together a nice drive, utilizing big plays from running back John Quinn and receiver Brian Jennings. But a third-down pass at the Harrison 33 was intercepted to kill the drive.

"I think that was the key series," Colligan later said. "If we had been able to continue the momentum and get a touchdown on the board, we would have been in pretty good shape."

The Mustang defense turned in two brilliant quarters of football to contain Miller and the Hawks, including an inspiring second-quarter goal-line stand, staving off four straight runs by Miller — something the Hawks had not encountered before.

But in the fourth quarter, the flood gates opened. Harrison finally got the field position it needed, and Miller plunged one yard for the Hawks' second TD — and quarterback Glinski picked up a two-point conversion on a pass to receiver Bob Wasczenski.

An interception set up Harrison's last TD and again it was Miller Time — Miller pushed into paydirt from the two with 5:25 remaining, and that was the ballgame.

"Our defense played a strong game all right," Colligan agreed. "It certainly wasn't them that let us down. (defensive coach Darrel) Schumacher did a nice job of preparing the defense."

"I don't foresee anybody in the league beating them this year. Whether they're good enough to repeat as state champs is hard to say, but they were tough all right...they put the stops on."

Dennis Colligan
Head Coach

The trouble was offense — the Mustangs had a good amount of ball control, but as Colligan said, once play neared the Hawk 40, "they put the stops on."

After a series of exchanged punts finally gave the Hawks good field position, a pair of power pitches and sweeps to Miller brought Harrison deep into the Mustang end early in the fourth quarter.

"Those were the only big gainers they had on us," Colligan said. "I thought we did a very good job of keeping Miller in check. In his previous games he was breaking 50-yarders on everybody."

Don't get it wrong — despite the

John Quinn breaks a tackle

Mustangs keying on Miller throughout the game, the senior still picked up 108 yards — but it took Miller plenty of carries to get there.

There were plenty of reasons for that — among them linemen John Klokenga, Matt Meyer, Steve Schrader and John Storm, plus king-size linebacker Doug Hartman. Hartman, Meyer and Mike Weber each had five first hits in the contest, with Hartman adding nine assists.

Colligan also credited Mike Wissman, Gary Shuff and Dan Nielsen with contributing muscular line duty. "We got great games from our linemen, linebackers and secondary," Colligan said. "Steve Smith, Phil Pendleton played great games I thought."

Despite some good work by the offensive line opening up holes for the Northville ground game, the Mustangs were given some trouble establishing credibility in the air. "We can throw the ball," Colligan said. "We've got to get right back to work on it, because I feel like it's something we can do. We're going to come back throwing."

Mustang kickers third at Flint Carmen tourney

Getting a handle on just how good the Northville varsity soccer team is gets trickier every week.

Despite injuries and inconsistent play that ranges from superb to lackadaisical, the Mustangs still are undefeated in the Western Lakes Activities Association, the state's best soccer conference — the team's victories include a 2-1 win over defending state champion, Livonia Stevenson.

But with mediocre showings at two non-league tournaments this season, including a third place at the Flint Carmen Invitational last weekend, questions remain. Asked Monday how he thought the team was doing, co-coach Marvin Gans simply said, "I'll tell you next week." Indeed, with games this week against league foes Plymouth Salem, undefeated in league play, and Farmington Harrison, a clearer picture of the Mustangs' potential should emerge soon.

TROY ATHENS 4

NORTHVILLE 0

Troy Athens was regarded the state's best team by many — at least before the Flint Carmen tournament Saturday, and the Mustangs had a perfect opportunity to put Northville High School on the soccer map with a strong showing against Athens.

It didn't work that way. "I guess they wanted it more than we did," Gans said. "I've got to hand it to them, they played very well, they beat us to the ball. They're a very good team."

Still, the Mustangs were far from out of the game, as the first half ended 0-0, despite at least one excellent scoring opportunity for Northville. But Athens picked up the first goal on a penalty shot. "The referee admitted after the game he had made a mistake," Gans said. "He called one of our players for a hand ball in the penalty area, and he's not supposed to award a penalty unless it's intentional, which it wasn't."

"It might have been a different ballgame if we'd scored that one in the first half and that penalty hadn't been awarded. But I don't want to take anything away from Troy Athens... They deserved to win the game."

Less than two minutes after Athens scored on the penalty shot, a breakaway goal put the Mustangs down 2-0, and Northville subsequently lost what momentum it had. Athens posted two more breakaway goals off defensive mistakes, and put the game out of reach easily.

NORTHVILLE 3

LANSING WAVERLY 2

In the tournament consolation game, the Mustangs showed flashes of the play that has put them on top of the WLAA for the time being. The Mustangs completely dominated Waverly, at one point leading 3-0 on two goals by Doug May and one by Joe Arwady.

Arwady's first-half goal opened the scoring, as the senior midfielder broke up the middle of the field and struck a bullet to the lower right corner for the go-ahead. May headed in a corner kick by senior winger Steve Starcevic, and added a second goal by left-footing a loose ball in to the upper right corner of the Waverly net.

Substitutions and the drain of the second game that day allowed Waverly to get back in the game, but Gans said the game was well by that time.

Carmen beat Athens in the tourney final 3-2.

A Tuesday game last week was canceled after five minutes of play when a loud thunderclap sounded in the rainy skies overhead. Referee whistles to stop play immediately followed.

Northville takes on Churchill at 4 p.m. Friday.

Unbeaten varsity net team topples two conference foes

The Northville varsity tennis team ran its season-long winning streak to eight matches last week, and the Mustang net crew still rests comfortably atop the Western Lakes Activities Association standings with a 5-0 conference record.

The squad posted wins over perennial powerhouse Plymouth Salem 5-2, over Livonia Churchill 6-0 and over non-conference rival Hartland 7-0.

NORTHVILLE 5
PLYMOUTH SALEM 2

It was the first time in 12 years Northville was able to crumble the Rocks, although the Salem squad was stung by two noticeable absences — those of Wendy and Chris Gillis, who turned semi-pro this year.

Still, Northville coach Uta Filken was pleased. "Salem has had a run of really top-notch players, so this is a major feat for us," she said. "All the girls played really nice matches against good competition."

Holly Hubbard and Jackie Nicols took the brunt of Salem's strength. Hubbard fell 2-6, 2-6 to Anita Toth and Nicols lost to Lisa Maggio 3-6, 3-6. Both were "super matches," according to Filken.

In third singles, Vicki Robins bettered Cathy Graham 6-1, 6-3; Denise Colovas topped Sue Kwon in fourth singles 6-1, 6-2.

The first two doubles teams had to hold off Rock rallies after easy first set wins, but both prevailed in second. The team of Jeanine Cook and Leslie Oliver won 6-1, 7-5 while Jean Dusablon and Jennifer Trausch took their match 6-0, 7-5. In third doubles, Jill Jensen and Lori Housman were easy two-set winners, 6-2, 6-2.

In JV competition, the doubles teams of Lauren Oliver-Amy Nieuwkoop, Shari Faydenko-Diane Lindquist, Audrey Kazaly-Jennifer Millgard and Kim Abraham-Dorothy Ziegler all took eight sets, none permitting more than one loss.

Runners to take marks for Fourth Annual Rotary Run

The Fourth Annual Rotary "Discover Northville Run" will be held this Saturday, and despite preliminary signs of a decline in the number of entries for this year's run from last year's record of 383, expectations are high for a successful event.

Entries can compete in either the 10-kilometer or 5-kilometer race, both of which begin at 10:30 a.m. at Northville Downs Race Track. Kids 12 and under can compete in the One Mile Race Track Run at 10 a.m.

Overall trophies will be awarded to the first-place finishers of both the men's and women's division. Trophies will be awarded to the top three positions in each division and medals will be given to the fourth and fifth-place finishers. All entries in the kids' one-mile race will receive a ribbon.

Registration for all runs will continue through the week, with registration the day of the race from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. Cost is $9, and all registrants will receive an athletic tote bag.

Last year, more than 300 entries took to their heels in the run, netting the Rotary Foundation a $700 profit on the activity. In 1981, there were just over 224 competitors, and in 1981 there were 177. Already there are 146 applications filed for this year's run, with registration continuing through this week and on the day of the race from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m.

Registration forms are available any time, day or night, at State Police offices in the Township.

Mustang hoop squad burned at buzzer

By B.J. MARTIN

Ouch. The Northville varsity basketball team already knows what that one-liner's about — the 44-38 double-overtime loss to Dearborn last Thursday.

It was the Mustangs' best performance of the season, and but for a heart-sinking desperation shot at the regulation-time buzzer, it would have been the Mustangs' first victory since November of '81.

Kathy Korowin's 12-footer with 10 seconds left in regulation time appeared to give the Mustangs a win, and as the clock ran out, the Mustang bench and supporters erupted to cheer what they thought was the win that finally broke the team's six-game losing streak that has opened its season.

But amid the hoopla, the referees ruled that Dearborn had called time out with two seconds left. The ball was inbounded, and a Dearborn guard launched a 30-footer that smacked off the glass into the net. Tied at 33-33.

Ouch.

The two teams traded three points in the first overtime — all of Northville's from Julie Maliszewski. But in the second overtime, Dearborn put together two quick baskets and the Mustangs couldn't recover, hampered by Sue Terwin and Tricia Ducker's having fouled out at that point.

The Mustangs did a terrific job of coming back in the early going. After Dearborn rushed out to a 12-4 lead, the Mustangs came back with their inside game and drew Dearborn into a bonus

'It was the best-played game for Northville in three years. . . The execution was very good and the fact we came from an eight-point deficit was very encouraging.'

Rick Hurst
Basketball coach

situation. Hitting 9 of 13 from the line, the Mustangs trimmed the halftime lead to one point, 18-17.

"I thought we blew it in the third quarter," said dismayed coach Rick Hurst. "We executed well, but just didn't make the shots."

Hurst called the fourth quarter a "dogfight," and indeed, with the two teams scrapping for the lead, which changed hands several times, it was the second straight extremely physical game for the Mustangs.

Forward Denise Liddle began hitting her stride, sinking 9 points to lead Northville — in fact, Liddle has begun to produce on offense as expected, hitting 45 percent of her shots last week. Tricia Ducker and Korowin had 7 each.

"It was the best-played game at Northville in three years," Hurst said. "The execution was very good and the fact we came back from an eight-point deficit was very encouraging." Hurst cited the defensive play of scrappy forward Terwin and guard Julie Maliszewski's rapidly-developing shooting skills as big factors in the game.

WALLED LAKE WESTERN 38
NORTHVILLE 19

More than just the score was footballish in Tuesday night's contest. In defending the Mustang basket from Western's 6'2" center Valerie Hall and a bevy of Amazonian power forwards, Northville was forced to flex every muscle toned by hours on the weight machine at practice. The result was a contest that was a beginning-to-end scrappy tangle of diving, wrestling and colliding bodies — officials called no less than 10 jump balls over the course of the game.

The Warriors were clearly the dominant team on the court, even when Hall took to the bench between elbow-sharpening tussles with Ducker and Erin Ryan. Only a brief flurry near the end of the second quarter pulled the Mustangs to within 4 after the Warriors spurted ahead 10-4 in the first quarter.

Mustang coach Rick Hurst pinned his hopes on the Mustang backcourt's ability to force some turnovers during the second half and pick up the pace — not a bad idea, considering some ball-handling troubles by Western in the first half. But with few substitutes available, by the fourth quarter the Mustang starters looked understandably tired.

"We switched to a man-to-man at that point, and their big girls (Hall and Carol Kroll) really hurt us inside. It was a gamble, but being down by seven, it was kind of a choice between going on with what we were doing and losing by six or ten, or going after the win at that point. We had nothing to lose."

For the most part, however, the tight zone employed by Northville held the Warriors to their lowest scoring output of the season, and that pleased Hurst.

"They played us pretty straight in the first half and we stayed with them. But we weren't sharp on offense — we did a lot of standing around," he said.

Liddle led Northville scorers with 7 points.

Pegrum's low rounds pace Northville golf team

After impressive showings against Plymouth Salem and at the Plymouth Best-Ball Invitational last week, the Mustang link team bogged down at Bay Pointe Country Club Wednesday.

Despite a fine third-place showing at the Plymouth Tournament on Tuesday, September 20, the link tourney was Livonia Stevenson's show. The Spartans shot a 141, two strokes ahead of Ypsilanti and eight strokes ahead of Northville.

Twenty-five schools each sent two two-player teams to the tournament, and the low score for each team on each hole counted. Northville's Bob Pegrum and Bob Baird teamed for a 73, while Justus and Eric Morfe fired a 76 — both were particularly good rounds at Brae-Burn Golf Club in Plymouth.

"I'm very satisfied that we did so well against mostly Class A schools," commented Mustang golf coach Joe Blake. "A good portion of those teams will be in our regional (MHSAA playoff)."

NORTHVILLE 207
PLYMOUTH SALEM 230

Northville easily outclassed the Rocks the previous day, getting superb rounds from Pegrum (36) and Morfe (37), with Baird contributing a 42 and Justus and Mark Yetso 46 each.

Blake conceded the Mustangs had an edge in familiarity at the Meadowbrook Country Club course. "That helped," he said, "but Salem has a pretty young team, and I think that was a good part of the reason we won."

NORTHVILLE 216
WALLED LAKE WESTERN 214

Last Wednesday, Northville got good rounds from Pegrum (39) and Justus (40), but three disastrous triple bogies allowed the Warriors to hang on to the lead.

"They had a pretty respectable team. There was really no reason we couldn't have won if it weren't for those mistakes," Blake said. "It's difficult to win when you're counting scores in the high 40s."

Yetso posted a 44 — not far off the pace, but two Western golfers had rounds of 40 each to keep the Warriors close enough to capitalize on the Mustangs' bad holes.

The Mustangs stand at 4-3 overall, 3-2 WLAA after last week's activity, and will look for revenge against Stevenson at 3:30 p.m. today at Idyl Wild Golf Course in Livonia.

"They're one of the best teams in the league," Blake added. "Hopefully we'll give it our best shot."

Basketball reserves now 5-1

Signs that a bright future lies ahead for the Mustang women's basketball program were demonstrated last week as the Northville junior varsity team added two wins to raise its season mark to 5-1.

The Mustang JVs posted a solid 28-20 win over a well-established Walled Lake Western JV, and a 32-31 thriller over Dearborn.

"We're keeping a sharp eye on the JV program," varsity coach Rick Hurst explained. "With our program, it's essential to develop the younger players, give them a lot of playing time. We have to devote a tremendous amount of time with teaching the fundamentals at the varsity level."

"It's true there are some players on the JV who could help our varsity right now, and it is pretty difficult getting a game-type scrimmage going with only nine players on the varsity. But we're looking at the program in the long run, and we'll be better off for some of the players getting lots of experience at the JV level."

Rec league forms

Registration for the Northville Recreation Department's junior basketball leagues will continue through October 21, when the fall-winter season will get under way.

Anyone wishing to register can drop by department offices downtown during business hours to pick up and fill out an application form. For additional information, call the department at 349-0203.

Colt teams sweep Westland

Varsity

The Northville Varsity Colts football team posted a 20-12 victory over the Westland Comets last Sunday, led by Mike Margo's 45-yard touchdown sprint on the first play from scrimmage.

The Colts found themselves down 12-6 at halftime, but the defense chipped in five second-half interceptions to shut down the Comets while the Colt offense notched two scores. Frisbie, Walsh and Stephens each picked off an interception and Margo stole two Comet passes. Frisbie and Margo scored the second-half TDs and Stephens completed passes for two extra-point conversions to Derek Osborne and Ed Walsh.

Junior Varsity

The JVs won their third straight game by beating the Comets 14-7. In the first quarter, Dave Pierle ran 35 yards to open the scoring. Greg Paier added the extra point. In the third quarter, Matt Smith's interception set up the next touchdown play, a 58-yard run by Smith. Pierle added the extra point. Daren Johnson contributed a strong game on defense.

Freshmen

Mark Hillinger scored two touchdowns to lead the freshmen to a 20-6 win over Westland. Hillinger scored on a four-yard dive to tie the game in the first quarter, then Bill Kelly dashed 38 yards down the sideline for the go-ahead TD. Hillinger added the extra point. Hillinger scored again on a 40-yard run in the third quarter. Ryan Kilner added the extra point. Jay Wardwell, Jason Wladischkin and Graig Probert led the muscular Colt defense.

Cindy Panowicz leads the pack at race's start

1-2-3 sweeps lead female harriers to wins

Meanwhile, male contingent splits, works toward goal of league meet

By B.J. MARTIN

Sure, one could accuse Ed Gabrys of being an optimist about this year's cross-country teams. But from his perspective, both the men's and women's teams appear to be right on schedule, consistently turning in impressive performances.

The men's team split last week, falling to Farmington 26-31 and walloping Farmington Harrison 21-38; while the women's team took two meets to boost the squad's dual-meet mark to 2-1 in league play, with both wins featuring 1-2-3 sweeps by Cindy Panowicz, Kelly Wool and Wendy Nuechterlein — not necessarily in that order.

But for Gabrys, the outcome of the dual meets is not the main concern.

"What we're pointing towards is tournament play, in particular the league meet (October 21)," Gabrys said. "That's going to be the true test of the team."

Senior Jim O'Neill continued to pace the men's team with excellent times. O'Neill registered a 17:15 at Cass Benton Park against Farmington to take first, repeating the accomplishment a second slower on Thursday against Harrison.

Taking third against Farmington was Jim Riney, who clocked a 17:46. Riney's times have shown dramatic improvement since his recovery from an injury earlier this season.

But after Riney, Northville ran into trouble. Harrison swept the next three places, as lame Mustangs Pat Campbell and Brett Netke were sidelined. Doug Doyle managed a seventh place in 18:31 and Dave Winquist took eighth at Doyle's shoulder. But Kurt Assenmacher was back in the pack to round out Mustang scorers in 18:56.

Meanwhile, the women's team, "as expected," swept the first three spots, with times within about a minute and a half of each other. Panowicz emerged as leader with a C-B personal best of 20:12. Wool clocked a 20:41 and Nuechterlein took third in 21:50. Each team had agreed to score only four runners, and Sharon Savageau rounded out the group for Northville with a 32:21.

Nuechterlein turned in a heroic effort in a much closer meet Thursday. The Mustangs needed a 1-2-3 sweep to topple the deep but top-light Hawks, and Wool and Panowicz came through, taking first and second, respectively, in 20:26 and 20:31.

But Nuechterlein had the challenge of fending off the Hawks' Laurie Runk for the third spot to insure the victory, and Nuechterlein chopped more than a minute off her time the previous meet, taking the course in 20:40 — three seconds ahead of Runk and only 14 seconds behind Wool.

'What we're pointing towards is tournament play, in particular the league meet.

That's going to be the true test of the team.'

Ed Gabrys
Harrier coach

Nuechterlein kicked into the lead at the one-mile mark and held off Runk for the remainder of the race. It turned out Northville didn't need it, as freshman Lyn Howell edged the last Harrison runner for one extra point.

O'Neill and Riney took first and second in the men's competition, Riney finishing in 17:43, less than half a minute behind O'Neill. After the Hawks took the next two places, it was Northville all the way. The Mustangs, in fact, swept 11 of the top 14 places in the meet.

Sophomore Dave Winquist took fifth in 18:12; Doyle was next in 18:17; Rich Nazradi took seventh in 18:28 and Netke rounded out the scorers after shaking off the ill effects of breathing problems the previous meet.

Kirk Kabel led junior varsity competitors with a 19:56. Mike Yaele finished in 20:26 and Kevin Legel in 20:37, a one-minute improvement over his previous meet.

The Mustangs will run against "very competitive" Plymouth Canton at Cass-Benton Park tomorrow (Thursday) at 4 p.m.

"Leaf-peeping" is great fun with a camera, especially with autumn approaching. Needed accessories are a polarizer, an 81A "warming" filter and a tripod, or perhaps a monopod, for greater steadiness.

Every time of day is suitable, but those golden moments after 5:00 PM are magic. No exposure tricks are needed, but accurate exposure will give the best color.

Don't overuse your polarizer. Just turn it enough to get the glare off the leaves. Super-contrasty fall scenes are attention-getters without over-polarized, dark blue skies.

Try shooting scenes at f 16 on a tripod at a suitable shutter speed for crisp, all sharp pictures. Look for overhanging trees with bright leaves to frame the top of pictures. Small ponds are nice for reflections. Closeups of leaves floating, patterns of mixed colors—even out-of-focus pattern shots can be effective.

For all your picture taking needs, come see us at

Soccer club sports locals

So you miss watching Northville High School soccer hotshots Martina Millen, Kris Pettit, Liz Bohan and Angie Butterfield, eh? Fret no more — they're on display on Schoolcraft College's club team.

The Schoolcraft Ocelots opened their season Saturday by edging Central Michigan University's club team 4-3. NHS alumnae Pettit, Bohan and Butterfield all tallied once in the victory, while Millen, the State of Michigan's most valuable high school player before her graduation last spring, dominated backfield play.

The Michigan State club team trounced Schoolcraft College the next day 3-0, but by the account of the Ocelots coach, the game could easily have been 11-0 without Millen's defensive capabilities.

The Ocelots won't return home until Saturday, October 15 for a practice match — but the next day at 1 p.m., the team will take on University of Michigan's club team.

Mustangs regroup for Plymouth Canton game Friday

Against Harrison's much-vaunted pass defense, Mustang quarterback Dave Longridge was forced into rollout pass patterns and could only pick up two completions in 10 attempts, with two interceptions, for a total of 17 yards.

Without an aerial attack to balance it, by land the Mustangs only picked up 107 yards, 72 by Quinn in 18 carries. Fullback Todd Deal found the going even rougher, picking up only 27 yards in 17 carries.

Plus signs: the Mustangs improved their proclivity to penalties, being sacked with only three — two off fair catch violations Colligan disputed vehemently and one an illegal procedure call that effectively killed a key first-down play.

The Mustangs now brace for an encounter with league rival Plymouth Canton Friday at Canton.

"I'm expecting a rugged game there," Colligan said of the 0-3 Chiefs. "They lost just barely to two good teams and they mix the run and pass really well. They've got a good fullback, Rodney Williams, and their defense has a lot of fronts from what we've seen. It'll be homecoming for them, so they'll be up for us."

Kickoff is at 7:30 p.m.

Northville alums on college teams

Northville's KATHY MCMILLAN holds down the number two slot on the Spring Arbor College women's cross country team. The senior participated on the Cougar track team last spring and according to Assistant Coach Kendall Sayers, is "running tough" this season. The team is looking for its third straight championship at the National Christian College Athletic Association Nationals this fall.

At Auburn University, Alabama, Livonia Ladywood graduate LESLIE NADEAU, of Northville, will be a returning point guard for the Lady Tiger basketball squad. The 5'10" junior, a defensive specialist, averaged 1.4 points per game last season.

Vince Candela and Andy Dimitroff

NHS gridders play for HVS

Northville High School graduates Vince Candela '82 and Andy Dimitroff '83 are among the players selected for the Grand Valley State football squad this fall. Candela, a defensive tackle is beginning his sophomore year at GVS, and Dimitroff, formerly a running back for the Mustangs, is a freshman.

First Baptist, first place

After two straight 4-8 seasons, the First Baptist Church of Northville softball team hit the jackpot this year, compiling a 10-1 record in the Christian Men's Fellowship League. The team captured the league championship on the last night of the season with an 18-1 rout of Trinity Presbyterian.

Football contest winners posted

Northville's CHRIS ODOM picks up the $10 first prize in this week's hotly-contested Northville Record/Novi-Walled Lake News Football Contest.

How hotly contested? Well, the top three entries each missed only two games and the deciding factor turned out to be the tie-breaker in the well-known rivalry between Hawaii and Utah.

The correct number was 53 points, and Odom's guess of 50 was closer by one point than the 49 points guessed by PAT HANSEN of Walled Lake, who takes home the $5 second prize.

Novi's KJELL JOHNSON, took the $3 third place with a guess of 38 points for the tie-breaker.

Where'd the experts go wrong? Odom and Johnson thought Notre Dame would knock off Miami and Ohio State would bury Iowa. It wasn't to be, however. Hansen pegged the Irish game right, but was swayed no doubt by partisan fervor in thinking Michigan State would triumph over Illinois.

That was a popular error — of all the entries received, only four thought MSU would fall to the Illini. But the winning of this contest calls for ruthless objectivity at all times. Be warned.

Recreation Briefs

OPEN SWIM RESUMES

Beginning Saturday, October 1, the Northville High School pool will again open for Open Swim. Two-hour sessions will be held from noon to 2 p.m. and 4 to 6 p.m., with adults-only swim from 3 to 4 p.m.

Admission to any two-hour session is 50 cents. The adult session admission is one dollar.

COACHES, REFEREES NEEDED

Coaches are needed for Northville youth basketball teams. If you are interested in coaching, contact Pete Talbot at Recreation Department offices, phone 349-0203.

If you are in high school and would like to scorekeep or referee, contact Talbot at the above number.

SKI CLUB LEADERS

Applications are being taken for Northville Recreation Ski Club leaders. Applicants must be 17 years of age, have three years prior club experience, must be experienced advanced skiers and must be interested in assisting the club and its members during this year's programs. Applications are due by October 28.

The ski club is run and operated by its members and is overseen by the Recreation Department. The club is designed to provide several functions, such as to assist and instruct the beginning skier through a complete instructional lesson program. The program is also designed to provide advanced skiing and competitive racing for intermediate and advanced skiers.

For additional information on the club, contact Matt Sullivan at 349-0207.

SELF-HELP CLINICS

Nationally recognized hypnotherapist Paul T. Adams will conduct a "Stop Smoking Clinic" and a "Weight Loss Clinic" for the Northville Recreation Center. Adams, a practicing hypnotherapist since 1961 and a staff member of two medical clinics, says, "Hypnosis is the best way to change any habit, because the person being hypnotized is reprogramming his or her 'bio-computer'."

The clinic will be held Wednesday, October 12, with the Stop Smoking Clinic at 6:30 p.m. and the Weight Loss Clinic at 8 p.m. Fee for each clinic is $30. For more information, call 349-0203.

Mustang net squad continues win streak

Rain canceled one match against the Chargers, and for Churchill's sake, it was probably all for the best. Each Northville match went straight sets, with only six games lost in the four singles match wins. The JV scores were similarly dominating.

"It was a major feat just getting as many matches in as we did," Filken said. "Churchill was not very strong for us, but I think the girls showed good concentration in not playing sloppy."

"Hartland had given us tough competition in the past," Filken said of the Eagles' tennis program. "But they weren't nearly as strong as I thought they would be."

As it was, each Mustang racketeer felled an Eagle in straight sets in the runaway victory.

"I said before when we started out I knew we would have a strong team," Filken added. "And the girls are really living up to my expectations. We are really falling into place. I knew our doubles teams would be very good — I'd say this is the strongest doubles group I've ever had."

"I'm also happy to see Holly winning matches and our three newcomers to singles are developing very nicely — Denise hasn't lost a match all season."

The Mustangs take to their home courts today against Plymouth Canton at 3:30 p.m. Whether a match will be scheduled Friday is in doubt, but the Mustangs will travel to Walled Lake Central for what is expected to be an easy win next Wednesday.

Have you been paying too much for food all along

The Big Price Reduction Come-On

Supermarkets have been making a lot of claims about price reductions and how much money you'll save. But did you ever stop to think that they've been charging you too much right along. You see, it's easy to reduce prices, when they're too high to begin with.

Chatham gives you more

Since 1947, Chatham's pricing policy has been to keep prices as low as possible. Every price is an honest effort to save you money, because when it comes to value, it isn't just what you pay...it's what you get for what you pay. And with Chatham's Cash Dividend program, you get the lowest price in town on Cash Dividend Specials. That's why we say "Chatham gives you more."
