Voters approve bond issue by three-to-one

By MICHELE McELMURRY

School Superintendent George Bell's ardent campaigning for support of a $7.75 million bond issue to renovate Northville High School paid off Monday when Northville voters overwhelming approved the school's request by a more than three-to-one margin.

Almost 20 percent — 2,276 — of Northville's estimated 11,000 registered voters turned out at the polls to approve the bond issue request by a vote of 1,741 to 507. Twenty eight ballots were counted invalid.

Voters in all six of the district's precincts approved the bond issue.

School board members, administrators, staff and citizens' committee members gathered at the high school cafeteria to await results after polls closed at 8 p.m.

Early returns indicated support of the bond issue. Precincts 1 and 6 — considered the areas with most opposition to the bonding proposal — were the first returned with favorable results.

Precinct results are as follows:
Precinct 1 — 212, yes; 124, no; 5, in-

valid;
Precinct 2 — 196, yes; 55, no; 3, in-
valid;
Precinct 3 — 452, yes; 77, no; 7, in-
valid;
Precinct 4 — 455, yes; 92, no; 5, in-
valid;
Precinct 5 — 145, yes; 51, no; 3, in-
valid;
Precinct 6 — 281, yes; 108, no; 5, in-
valid.

The medium turnout in Monday's election came as little surprise to school board members and administrators.

While some had predicted a voter turnout comparable to the July, 1981, millage election when 4,259 voters cast ballots approving a 7-mill package for the Northville schools, Monday's election garnered more votes than a normal school board election which usually brings out about five or six percent of Northville's voters.

The crowd gathered at the high school began celebrating shortly after 9 p.m. when results were tallied.

A taped phone message at the board of education office announced returns to callers Monday evening.

Approval of the $7.75 million bond issue clears the way for the school district to begin the renovation of Northville High School.

Superintendent Bell said Tuesday morning that the first step the board of education will take is to select an architect for the project. That action is expected to take place at the board's October 17 meeting.

The firm of Coquillard, Dolgner, Dundon and Argenta, which was contracted by the board for the feasibility study, most likely will be the board's choice for the renovation project.

Bell said he felt Monday's election results "said some good things about the relationship between the school district and the community."

"I don't recall an election with such a large plurality with this type of issue," he added.

The $8 million renovation planned for the high school is among the components of Bell's five-year plan for the Northville Public Schools.

The superintendent unveiled his long-range plan to the community last October — only four months after taking the helm of the district.

The renovation of the high school facility is considered the most integral part of the district's long-range goals and will ensure the implementation of the middle school concept proposed for the district by September, 1985.

Cost for the renovation project will be funded through a deferred repayment of the district's current seven-mill debt retirement. In approving Monday's bond issue, Northville voters agreed to continue to pay the debt levy through 1989. Without the bond issue, a slight tax decrease would have come in 1985.

Though the total cost of the renovation project is estimated at $8 million, only a $7.75 million bond issue was requested with the difference being made up in interest earned on the bonds.

The high-energy campaigning for Monday's bond proposal more than likely contributed to the favorable voter turnout. A call-in campaign was conducted by staff members, citizens and PTA members and orange ribbons tied around trees and posts throughout town served as reminders to voters to go to the polls.

However, the most zealous campaigning undoubtedly was conducted by the superintendent who gave more than 30 presentations about the bond issue to civic and community groups prior to Monday's election.

Mayoral race set, 4 candidates file

By KEVIN WILSON

City voters will choose between incumbent Paul Vernon and challenger Eugene L. Kunz as mayor for the next two years November 8, while two incumbent council members are unopposed in their bids for reelection to four-year terms.

Nominating petitions for Vernon, Kunz, Carolann Ayers and Paul Folino were submitted with the required 50 signatures prior to the 5 p.m. deadline Monday, city clerk Joan McAllister said.

Billy Max Robinson, former DPW worker for whom nominating petitions were taken out, has moved out of the city and will not be a candidate for city council, McAllister said.

Vernon will be seeking his fourth consecutive term in a campaign which neither candidate expects will involve harsh criticism of his opponent.

Kunz was the first candidate to take out petitions, and the first to return them with the required signatures. A 13-year Northville resident, he is president of BEMS, an energy management consulting firm with offices on North Center. The business has been here 10 years.

He had printed fliers circulating last Saturday and spent the day at Center and Main introducing himself to those attending the Autumnfest activities downtown. By Kunz's estimate, he spoke with some 700 people.

He said Monday he plans to circulate more literature, introduce himself to voters in a door-to-door campaign and is preparing bumper stickers and lawn

Name director finalists

The four finalists under consideration for the post of Northville Recreation Director will be interviewed by members of the Northville Recreation Commission at a public meeting tonight.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. at city hall.

The four candidates will respond only to questions posed by members of the Commission. Any questions the public would like to ask should be submitted to the Commission in writing at or before the meeting, Commission Chairman L.T. Sylvestre said.

The finalists, all of whom Sylvestre described as being "exceptionally well-qualified," represent the Commission and advisory panel screening committee's choices from the field of 64 applicants seeking the post. The four were all interviewed in late September by members of the screening committee and will be appearing before the commission as a whole — and the public — for the first time.

The candidates are:
Jef Farland and David Justus, supervisors with the Farmington Hills Recreation Department;

Thomas King, supervisor with the Midland Department of Recreation; and Keith Sova, coordinator for the Waterford Township Recreation Department.

It is unclear whether the Commission will make a decision and offer the job to one of the candidates tonight. According to Sylvestre, it is uncertain how Commissioners will handle such a decision.

"We might send it to committee, schedule more interviews, debate it in public at a regular meeting or decide right there," Sylvestre said. "At this point, there's no real consensus on how to go about it."

The director's post was vacated last summer with the resignation of former Director Ed Kricitz, and commissioners have been shopping for a director who can expand and improve the program. Recreation Department Supervisor Pete Talbot has served as Interim Director since Kricitz's resignation.

Littlest constituents

Accompanying Al and Connie Qualman to the polls Monday afternoon were the couple's little daughters Heather, 1½, (front) and Holly, 2½, (back). Monday's bond issue election for renovation of Northville High School proved to be the youngsters' first look at the ballot box.

County EDC joins township prison suit

Northville Township officials reported this week they are delighted that Wayne County Economic Development Commission voted last Thursday to join the township in its lawsuit against the state.

Aimed at stopping the conversion of the Plymouth Center for Human Development west of Sheldon at Five Mile into a medium security prison, the suit was filed after a public hearing September 22.

At the hearing state officials explained they are planning to abandon the planned regional prison at Beck and Five Mile, a mile west, if the change to the center site is approved in Lansing. In protesting the change, the township is pointing out that $1 million already has been spent at the site, including bringing sewer and water to the property.

Clerk Susan Heintz said the county EDC's legal firm, Miller Canfield, will be working with the township attorney.

The county EDC has been planning an elderly village at the former Wayne County Child Development Center property almost directly across from the Plymouth center site and has indicated that it also feels relocation of the prison would doom the property for a senior citizen village.

Already $120,000 in grant money has been spent on the elderly village concept — which would be first and largest in the area.

Heintz noted that the Northville School District also has gone on record opposing the Plymouth center site for a prison. The district, she said, had been hoping to have the property returned to the tax roll. Superintendent George Bell also had indicated he would like to plan a continuing education program for senior citizens at the planned village.

Monday Supervisor John MacDonald and Representative Gerald Law toured the Plymouth Center for Human Development, the abandoned Wayne County Child Development Center property as well as the prison site being developed on Beck with Representative Edward E. Mahalak, D-Romulus, a member of the appropriations subcommittee on capital outlay.

In proposing the change to the Plymouth center property, which is to be vacant by the end of the year by court order, officials in the state department of management and budget are saying that $20 million could be saved by converting the center.

Township officials counter that conversion of the Plymouth center would be a stop-gap measure and that prison officials had approved the concept of the regional 528-bed prison which was to be a prototype of future prisons. It would house maximum, medium and minimum security prisoners from the area. The state already has approved spending $35 million for the first regional prison.

Township officials point out further that the township already fought not to have the Wayne County Child Development Center property converted to a prison because of its more central location and agreed to the Five Mile-Beck site as DeHoCo and the Phoenix facility already were located in that area.

Concerned Citizens for Western Wayne County, organized last month by township residents to fight the conversion of the Plymouth center into a prison, reported this week the group has 741 petition signatures on file. A meeting was held Saturday in township hall. Interested residents are asked to send contributions to Concerned Citizens for Western Wayne County, P.O. Box 708, Northville, Michigan, 48167.

Citizen of Year award goes to Gardner

William Sliger presents award to G. Dewey Gardner

G. Dewey Gardner was named Northville's Citizen of the Year Saturday for his contributions and commitment to Downtown Northville.

"We were unanimous in our opinion that one nominee possesses the qualifications we seek in a Citizen of the Year," announced William C. Sliger, last year's Citizen of the Year and chairman of this year's award committee, at the annual dinner meeting of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce held at Meadowbrook Country Club.

"Our honoree is an exceptional Northville citizen — he provides support that is quiet but dependable," Sliger told the crowd of more than 100. He, Clancy Ely and Scott Lapham, president of the chamber, were the selection committee.

"Our new Citizen of the Year got his start in his business in high school, working after school. Following college, he went into the Army, returned and bought the business," Sliger reported as he made the announcement.

In addition to being the owner of IV Seasons, Gardner was cited as a talented musician and church organist.

He is past president of Northville Rotary, a member of the city beautification commission and a member of the Northville Historical Society and the chamber. He is serving his second four-year term as a city council member and is mayor pro tem.

"I worked with him on the Downtown Development Association and know firsthand of his contributions to the downtown project, but that was only the beginning of his maintenance of the beautification project — he's the glue that made our plan continue to glow," said Sliger.

"Our new Citizen of the Year truly deserves (to have the honor) 12 months," last year's honoree said as he told chamber members, their spouses and guests that he had discovered his "year" actually was a nine-month period because of a change in the chamber's fiscal year. Instead of ending its year with the calendar year, it had voted to run the fiscal year from October to October.

"I was honored in January — nine months ago — whoever heard of a Citizen of the Year for nine months?" Sliger questioned humorously.

He then presented the plaque to Gardner.

Township clerk Susan Heintz who presided at the dinner program told Gardner it was "a most deserved

William MacLaughlin addresses Chamber of Commerce

Northville's historic homes, renovated Main Street, the ducks by the Ford Motor Company water wheel and last weekend's Autumnfest were cited as the community's "hidden resources" by William F. MacLaughlin, president of the Metropolitan Detroit Convention and Visitors Bureau, last Saturday.

MacLaughlin, a Northville resident for 18 years, was guest speaker at the annual dinner dance meeting of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce at Meadowbrook Country Club.

He told the more than 100 members and guests attending that 20 travel agents from Belgium and Luxembourg had been taken on a "fan tour" Saturday that included a stop at Parmenter's cider mill. They were in Detroit and Michigan as part of a program to interest European visitors in the Midwest.

After recalling that he and his wife had been driving toward Plymouth 18 years ago planning to buy a house nearer Lansing, MacLaughlin said they first stopped in Northville — and the appeal of the community was such that "we bought a house that afternoon."

Following service as vice president of the Michigan Republican Party, MacLaughlin was chairman from 1969-79. He afterward served as director of the Michigan Department of Commerce for two years before taking his present post in January, 1981.

'William MacLaughlin is one of our most precious natural resources.'

Susan Heinz
Northville Township Clerk

"It dawned on me," he said as the visitors sipped their first cider, "that maybe we don't take advantage of our resources."

"We have been told that we have to diversify, but Michigan is not a one-industry state. Tourism is our second industry bringing in $10 billion a year and 240,000 people."

"We hear 'high tech' all the time, but travel is 'low tech' and does not need a lot of specialization. Build one Westin Hotel, and you put 1400 people to work," MacLaughlin said, contrasting the number to relatively few required in high tech industries.

Noting that the state is in the second year of the "Say Yes to Michigan" campaign, MacLaughlin said it helps in competing for tourist business. Ontario, he continued, is the state's biggest competitor.

"Ontario spends $15 million to attract tourists; Michigan spends $2 million," he reported.

He said he advocates "selling Michigan with four seasons."

Europeans, he explained, look for sun and sand.

"We have magnificent fall color that we are trying to take to the world, but we have a particular image problem in Detroit. Somehow, it is portrayed as all that is wrong with urban America with unemployment and transportation problems."

MacLaughlin said he feels the best way to overcome this image is to bring people here "to see for themselves — I'm convinced people will go home liking what they see."

He alluded to the Republican Convention at which "20,000 delegates skeptically came — and 20,000 cheerleaders went home."

"In the 1920s we were the Motor City, in the 1930s the City of Champions with Joe Louis, during the war the Arsenal of Democracy — now we're SuperCity, USA to get people to focus on the positive," MacLaughlin recounted.

He mentioned that the Detroit Convention and Visitors Bureau is the oldest in the world, having been founded in 1896. He said it has conventions booked to the year 2001. Detroit, he said, has the fifth largest tourist business among cities with New York City, Las Vegas, Chicago and Houston ahead of it.

"We're bidding for interesting things — a national sports festival, World Figure Skating Championships, NCAA post season Cherry Bowl game and another Superbowl," he revealed.

MacLaughlin also envisioned a Detroit World's Fair along the Fisher Freeway and on both sides of Woodward, noting that the blighted areas could contain buildings that would have a use afterward.

Northville itself, he said, is sitting in the midst of an area with dynamic expansion. He mentioned that Novi already has the Sheraton Oaks and is breaking ground for a Novi Hilton. These together with the Livonia Holiday Inn and the Plymouth Hilton and Mayflower hotels, he said, will provide 1,000 convention rooms.

"This becomes a new area that attracts a lot of people — there's something about Northville that has a lot of appeal, but I'd hate to see the day you couldn't get through because of tour buses."

"I think great things are going to be happening in the next 20 years — I hope we can erase that imaginary line at Eight Mile and the entire tri-county area can benefit."

Northville Township Clerk Susan Heinz, who presided at the dinner meeting, introduced MacLaughlin. She told those attending that he and his wife Janet have four sons and that MacLaughlin is "our most famous cheerleader." He has had an 11-year association with the Northville Colts and is their chief statistician.

"When he had to meet and greet the vice president of the United States and found it was the same night as the football banquet," she told the audience, "Bill MacLaughlin simply rearranged the vice president's schedule."

"He is one of our finest natural resources."

Gardner became the eighth recipient of the chamber's Citizen of the Year award. Industrialist-philanthropist Jan Reef was the first in 1976. Former mayor A.M. Allen, John Steimel (late postmaster of Northville), Essie Nirider (former executive director of the chamber), attorney Philip Ogilvie, Jack Hoffman, general manager-vice president of Sliger-Livingston Publications, and Sliger, former owner of The Record now with Thomson-McKinnon Securities, followed.

A plaque of appreciation also was presented to chamber president Scott Lapham, who earlier had welcomed those attending the 19th annual chamber meeting.

Charlotte Spaman, who headed arrangements for the evening with executive director Kay Keegan, also served as nominating chairman. On her committee were Ed Jamieson and Betty Allen.

Unanimously elected to three-year terms on the board of directors were Jan Stevenson, Scott Lapham, David Jerome and Marjorie Haynie; Gardner was unanimously elected to the two-year term. Five directors were elected as the chamber had voted to increase the board from nine to 11 members.

As mistress of ceremonies Heinz also introduced township supervisor John MacDonald, Mayor Paul Vernon, city manager Steven Walters, Schoolcraft College trustee Michael Burley, and State Representatives Gerald Law and Jack Kirksey.

Community leaders attending also included Northville Superintendent of Schools George Bell and his wife.

Congressman Carl Pursell sent the American flag that had flown over the White House on July 4 to be given as one of the evening's door prizes. It was won by E.O. Whittington.

Township resolution opposes prison site

"The Township of Northville charges the Department of Corrections with wanton unconcern for the safety of the residents of Northville Township" concludes the resolution passed by the township board after a public hearing on the proposed prison site change September 22.

Passed unanimously by the board after the two-hour hearing, the resolution strongly outlines the township's situation with many public lands in its boundaries.

It begins by pointing out that "the Township of Northville is half a township, 16.0 square miles located in Western Wayne County, . . . it currently has one-third of its land in use by public institutions and no other community in the State of Michigan has that kind of existing commitment."

"The Township of Northville has willingly accepted and coped with the burden of more than its fair share of public institutions . . . all of these institutions are within an approximate five mile, over-saturated area, and the State of Michigan has experienced overcrowded conditions and critical situations within its correction system since 1975."

The resolution states that "the Department of Corrections for the State of Michigan continues to ineffectively handle these situations and conditions and ignores setting goals to accomplish a long range plan to remedy the problem."

Stating that the township "successfully opposed a prison in 1977 almost across the street from the proposed prison site" it points out that the township "along with Wayne County Economic Development Corporation has worked towards the goals of developing the site almost directly across from the proposed prison site as a Senior Citizen Village" and has spent approximately $120,000 in Community Development Block Grant funds to ready the site for this development.

"There is no senior citizen who would willingly or knowingly inhabit a Senior Citizen Village across the street from a prison," the resolution continues, stating "the state's irresponsible idea should not jeopardize a much-needed Senior Citizen Village.

"The Township of Northville and the State of Michigan agreed in 1981 that the renovation of the existing women's facility of the Detroit House of Corrections would be utilized as an interim facility until a new site could be constructed to the east," the resolution continues, noting that "the underground facilities have been installed to the east of Phoenix Correctional Institution at a cost of $1 million in preparation for a new prison site."

"The State of Michigan intends to cancel its plans for a prison to the east of Phoenix Correctional and . . . Northville Township has repeatedly accepted the burden and responsibilities of these public institutions while affording added police and fire protection service to these properties."

"It is a known fact that such public institutions deprecate the values of surrounding properties as well as discourage any future development in the near vicinity.

"Northville Township has a Master Plan of Land Use and zoning ordinances as tools for the township's development."

"Whereas, the Township of Northville recognizes the state's inability to formulate plans and set long-range goals to alleviate their continued problems with the prison overcrowding,

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that the Township of Northville is adamantly opposed to the State of Michigan's invasion of still another site and section of the township for the location of a prison while ignoring prior commitments, wastefully expending $1 million of the taxpayers' monies to install utilities and supposedly abandoning a half-prepared site."

Zimmerman promoted

Frank R. Zimmerman of Northville, executive vice president and chief operating officer of Michigan Bell, has been promoted to vice president — corporate affairs for Ameritech in Chicago effective October 1.

Ameritech is the regional holding company being formed to assume ownership of Michigan Bell and four other Bell operating companies in the Great Lakes area.

Active in community affairs, Zimmerman is a director of Junior Achievement Southeastern Michigan and past chairman of its Project Business Committee, assistant treasurer of the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce and a member of the executive committee of the Greater Michigan Foundation.

He is a former chairman of the Board of Missions of the First United Methodist Church of Northville and was chairman of the Methodist Church's Christian Social Concerns Committee in 1970.

Zimmerman is also a director of the Detroit Symphony and serves on the college of business development board at Eastern Michigan University.

A native of Ypsilanti and an EMU graduate, Zimmerman, 52, has been with Michigan Bell throughout his career, beginning in Detroit in 1955. Most of his early career was spent in the company's traffic department. In 1971 he was promoted to assistant vice president — operator services and in 1976 was named assistant vice president — revenues.

FRANK R. ZIMMERMAN

Zimmerman was elected vice president — regulatory and external affairs in 1978 and named executive vice president and chief operating officer earlier this year.

He and his wife Faye have two sons and two daughters.

College Night set Tuesday

High school students and their parents will be able to get first hand information from representatives of nearly 50 colleges at the College Night to be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday at Schoolcraft College.

In addition to public and private Michigan colleges and universities, representatives of the service academies and several out-of-state schools will be present.

Participants should arrive on campus by 7 p.m. to learn about room assignments and locations. Parking will be available in both the general lots, and guides will be on duty at each building to provide directions.

Three 35-minute sessions will be conducted during the evening at 7:20, 8:05 and 8:50 p.m. This will enable students to learn about more than one college. In addition, there will be three sessions devoted to information about financial aid.

Schoolcraft College has canceled all campus classes after 5 p.m. for that evening.

The College Night is chaired by John Tomey, Schoolcraft's director of admissions and financial aids, in cooperation with high school counselors.

For further information, students should consult with their high school counselor.

signs for distribution.

Acting as his own campaign committee chairman and treasurer, Kunz said he is assisted by two high school students and a small group of citizens.

Vernon said he has not yet finalized his campaign plans, but that they include some door-to-door distribution of literature in which he will have some personal involvement and a "limited number" of lawn signs.

"It's not going to be a really aggressive campaign," the mayor stated, "but I do intend to let people know I am interested in being reelected to be their mayor for another term." Robert Brueck is acting as campaign chairman for the incumbent.

Kunz offered that he does not wish "to criticize anyone who has been involved in city government." His campaign is based on a desire to "become involved in the policy-making operations of city government," he said.

"I want to dive right into it and really get involved."

Kunz has been a member of the city housing commission and for the past year has sat on the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Vernon was a city council member prior to election to his first term as mayor in 1977. He is vice president — special accounts for Allen Testproducts.

With Robinson out of the race, Folino and Ayers are both virtually assured of election to four-year terms. It will be Ayer's second consecutive full term. Folino was elected in 1981 to complete the last two years of a vacated term. He was also a council member for 8.5 years prior to 1977, when he ran for mayor and lost to Vernon.

School board joins trustees in protest of prison plan

Declaring its opposition to plans for a state prison at the current site of the Plymouth Center for Human Development, the Northville Board of Education unanimously approved a motion last week Monday supporting the Northville Township Board of Trustees' resolution opposing the proposed move.

The township board approved a resolution opposing the proposed prison plan at a public hearing September 22.

"While it's not typically the business of the school district to be involved with locations of prisons," Board President Chris Johnson noted, "this will have significant impact on the community and the financial status of the school district."

In moving to support the township's resolution, board treasurer Glenna Davis said she was "concerned about the quality of life in the township and the school district."

Board members expressed considerable concern over plans for the proposed elderly village at the Wayne County Child Guidance Center.

"The senior citizens project could have done good things for this school district," Superintendent George Bell said, noting that the proposed prison plan probably will discourage senior citizens from moving to the community.

Autumnfest brings crowd to city

Organizers of last weekend's Autumnfest say it looks as though Northville will add a new annual event to its calendar, judging the celebration an overall success despite some first-time-out problems.

"There were a lot of smiling faces in town," said John Bueter of the Northville Merchants' Association. "We brought a lot of new people into downtown Northville and overall we were very, very pleased."

Formal determination of whether to conduct Autumnfest again next year awaits an association meeting within the next 10 days, he said, "but judging from the scuttlebutt around town I'd say it's a foregone conclusion we intend to do it next year."

The Autumnfest celebration was planned in coordination with two annual occurrences — Northville Historical Society's Tivoli Fair and the Rotary Club's Discover Northville Run. Despite a grey, drizzly Saturday morning, the concentration of activities in the area brought out a sizable number of participants.

Hay wagons circulated as a free taxi service between the three activity centers at Northville Downs, downtown and at the community center.

"People really liked the hay rides," said Autumnfest committee chairperson Kris Broderick, "they told us we ought to do it more often."

Both Broderick and Bueter noted two problems that curtailed some of the planned activities — weather conditions kept the hot air balloon behind the community center grounded during much of the day and those who were to conduct roller skating activity on Center failed to appear.

"People were really interested in taking those hot air balloon rides, but the weather just didn't work out the best,"

Broderick said. The balloon did operate some of the time, primarily during evening hours. Those who wished to ride and did not get to do so, Broderick said, understood but asked that the balloon be brought back for other events.

"Everything else just went wonderfully," Broderick said. "We brought in a lot of people — we got people up from Tivoli Fair who didn't usually visit downtown. Things started a little later than usual, but we got quite a crowd."

The numbers were more than anticipated at the Riffles Restaurant (formerly Aberdeen's) barbecued chicken tent at Hutton and Main, where sales were double the expected number.

The young set turned out in large numbers as well, with some 200 entries in the Kiwanis Club's pumpkin-decorating contest and an enthusiastic bunch of 3-6 year olds racing their Big Wheel-style tricycles in a Jaycettes-

sponsored "Grand Prix."

Activity rolled on well into the evening at a Jaycees-operated beer tent in the community building, which received a lot of support from Stroh's brewery.

Bueter said at last report the Bavarian Bier Zelt had turned a profit for the Jaycees, which had earmarked the income for its Jaws of Life fundraising effort.

After hitting the break-even point Saturday evening, he added, the Jaycees told him they would like to do it again.

The organizers said they expect most merchants will be pleased with the amount of business generated by the event, noting, however, that without the roller skating North Center was left without a crowd-attracting activity.

"There were some first-year hitches but on the whole it went quite well," Bueter concluded. "I think we have a winner."

Margaret, Charles celebrate 50 years

Friends, family honor Elys' anniversary

Fifty years ago on October 1, 1933, Northville resident Charles Ely and Margaret Tank, a native of Onaway, Michigan, were married in Rogers City and came to Northville to make their home. They had met as students at Ferris Institute.

Last Saturday night the couple was surrounded by about 65 close friends and relatives at a surprise golden anniversary party given by their family at the Red Timbers Restaurant in Novi.

The Elys have lived all their married life in Northville. It was in 1920 that Charles Ely's father Carl Ely came to Northville and purchased a coal and ice business. Charles and Ivan worked in the business helping make the 400-pound ice blocks until 1931 when they stopped making their own ice. By 1939 the firm had expanded to become a fuel and oil business.

In the early 1960s the brothers added the gardening center at the business at 316 North Center.

The Elys' daughter Ulinda St. Lawrence and son Charles Jr. (Clancy), both of Northville, were on hand Saturday with Mrs. St. Lawrence's three children, Michael, Marty and Molly (Corby) with Jimmy and Rachel Corby and their families.

Invitations had been sent that brought guests from as far away as Texas and Kentucky.

"We asked people who have roots in Northville," explained Mrs. St. Lawrence.

Charles Ely's sister and her husband, Ada and Harold Bloom, who now live in Sarasota, Florida, and on St. Joseph Island, attended as did Mrs. Ely's three sisters, Virgileen Tank and Eleanor Gordon, both of Rogers City, and Mary Lynn Manelli of Manistee.

The children of Charles Ely's brother, the late Ivan Ely, Eugene Ivan Ely Jr. (Chips) of Lansing, Susie and her husband of Davison, Jackie Towne of Northville, and Sara Shadler of Arlington, Texas, attended.

Others coming from out of town included Sam and Helen Stalter of Louisville, Kentucky, Doris and Aubrey Gates of Howell, the George Stalkers of East Tawas, the E.F. Schallhorns of Saginaw, the William Feights of Tecumseh and cousins, the Vernon Turners of Rochester.

Now retired, Charles Ely and his wife garden at their home at 227 West. They also enjoy trips to Fort Myers, Florida.

They are members of First Presbyterian Church of Northville. Mrs. Ely, a collector, is a former Quester. He is a Mason.

Library Friends form book group

Friends of the Northville Library are inviting local readers to read Jean Auel's "The Clan of Cave Bear Hill" and then turn out Thursday, October 13, for the new Friends of the Northville Library Book Group.

The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. in the library.

Val Cook and Edie Dunbar, organizers of the group, will lead the discussion for the first meeting which will explore the many facets of Auel's saga of human survival at the dawn of history.

When readers gather November 10, Robert A. Heinlein's "Friday" will be discussed. The tale takes place in a nightmarish future where territorial states struggle to wrest power from multinational conglomerates known as corporate states.

"We're not going to review books," Dunbar emphasizes. "So, for a lively discussion it's important that those participating will have read the books."

At the October meeting, suggestions for future selections will be accepted. Books currently being considered are Alice Walker's "Color Purple," Joan J. Didion's "Salvador," Joanna L. Stratton's "Pioneer Women," Aleksandr I. Solzhenitsyn's "One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich" and Gabriel Garcia Marquez' "One Hundred Years of Solitude."

All books selected will be available in paperback editions.

Prospective members are asked to call Cook at 349-2158 or Dunbar at 349-5592. Those interested also may sign up at the library.

WISER meets

"A Male Perspective on Grief" is the topic for the meeting of a WISER (Widowed In Service-helping others) meeting at 8 p.m. October 13 in Room B200, Liberal Arts Building, at Schoolcraft College.

George Hilton of the Mental Health Association of Michigan, who is a widower, will relate his professional and personal experiences as a widower. Program planners announce this as a "unique opportunity for both men and women to witness the common bond of grief."

More information is available by calling the Women's Resource Center at the college, 591-6400, extension 430.

Funeral services were at 11 a.m. September 30 at Casterline Funeral Home, with the Reverend Eric Hammar of First United Methodist Church officiating. Burial was at Glen Eden Memorial Park, Livonia.

The family suggests memorial contributions may be made to the Michigan Heart Fund.

Schoolcraft College enrollment reaches record high

Schoolcraft College's enrollment reached an historic landmark, topping the 9,000 mark this fall for the first time in its 20-year history.

The enrollment report topped an agenda last Wednesday which included reports on new programs, an audit report and several purchases.

A total of 9,008 persons enrolled at the two-year college, a 3.3 percent increase over 8,717 in the fall of 1982, according to registrar Russell S. Bogarin.

But average class load continued to slide. Current load is 7.67 credit hours compared to 7.69 in 1982. And the number of full-year equated students rose three percent to 2,229.

Women maintained their enrollment lead over men, 4,863 to 4,172.

The enrollment increase appears to buck state trends. Typically, community college enrollments decline in periods of prosperity and increase during recessions.

Most community college enrollments in Michigan held steady this year, although neighboring Oakland Community College recorded a five percent increase, according to officials there.

Schoolcraft serves five K-12 school districts — Clarenceville, Livonia, Garden City, Northville and Plymouth-Canton, along with a slice of Novi.

Four new degrees and certificate programs may have aided the increase, according to Conway Jeffress, vice president for instruction. They include:

- * Emergency medical technology, for first aid treatment and transportation of patients.

- * Certified medical assistant, for aiding physicians and handling office work.

- * Cardiovascular technology, a technical program for those who operate electronic devices for monitoring heart patients.

- * Robotics, involving maintaining and servicing industrial robots.

In addition, Schoolcraft has several new services this year, Jeffress reported.

These are the career planning and placement office, which in its first year recorded 590 verified job placements; business and industry programs, which designed 12 customized programs for two auto companies, Krogers and several hospitals; the learning assistance center; and the Women's Resource Center, which last year expanded into the Livonia Whitman Center.

Auditor John Sirhal, of the firm of Plante and Moran, warmly praised college business operations for doing "as good a job as I've seen" among the firm's clients. The auditor's list of recommendations is becoming shorter, and "they're not the same problems every year," he said.

The exception, Sirhal noted, was the college's food service operation, which continues to run at about a $21,000 loss.

In other business, the Schoolcraft board:

- * Backed away from the proposal of trustee Laura Toy to spend $500 for a table for 10 at a banquet inaugurating the Michigan Women's Hall of Fame. The issue was defused when the board learned the college relations office had already bought a program advertisement. Male trustees saw no "professional development gain" in attending a $50-a-head banquet, and the board setted instead for a congratulatory resolution.

- * Purchased four IBM personal computers and peripheral equipment for $10,242 through Wayne County Intermediate School District.

- * Purchased an 18 horse power Yanmar diesel tractor and Howard Rototiller for $7,726 from Theiser Equipment Co. of South Lyon.

Students protest gymnasium conversion

By TIM RICHARD

A bulging Schoolcraft College is pondering whether to convert its auxiliary gymnasium to a computer laboratory and business offices — but some students dislike the idea.

"I just don't want them even to consider the phys ed building," said student Barbara Sergison, who with a friend has collected approximately 800 signatures on opposition petitions.

"Phys ed is an important part of education," said Sergison, a Canton resident whose five grown children have participated in athletics. She is in her second year as a business administration student at the community college.

Dr. Conway Jeffress, vice president for instruction, confirmed that the auxiliary gym is "one of many alternatives" the college is considering for more space.

He will report to the board of trustees during a special meeting at 7:30 p.m.

October 11 in the board room of the Administration Building on campus. Sole topic will be the campus master plan.

Jeffress will ask for a feasibility study, which he estimates will cost about $12,000 to $15,000.

Sergison and her friends also plan to have a delegation to present their point of view.

A college spokesperson noted wryly that the board room couldn't have been used on Monday because a continuing education class will be meeting there the next eight weeks. Alex Krulikowski's course in "Dimensioning and Tolerancing Engineering Drawing" couldn't be scheduled anywhere else, the spokesperson said.

College enrollment topped 9,000 this fall for the first time in its 20-year history, Jeffress said.

The college is seeking more space for such programs as data processing, audio-visual, the learning assistance center and the computer applications lab, he said.

Scheduled a special meeting for 7 p.m. Tuesday, October 18, in the Waterman Campus Center with the boards of five member K-12 school districts. Billed as an "educational leadership workshop," its purpose will be to learn about the report of the National Commission on Education, cooperative programming, teacher training and cable television.

Unless space can be found on campus, the college spokesperson said, Schoolcraft must either build or rent space elsewhere. During the 1970s, voters four times rejected tax and bond proposals for construction.

The auxiliary gym is located behind the main gym in the phys ed building. The plan under discussion is to split it into two floors, using one for a computer applications lab (serving several programs) and business offices.

Sergison will argue that the auxiliary gym is already being heavily used.

"The area is scheduled 40.5 hours a week out of a possible 70," she said. "That's not counting continuing education classes, the Sunday Health Club, the Wednesday night volleyball league, special events and its use by tennis and soccer classes during inclement weather."

The auxiliary gym will be used during the November "Futures Week" program, at which futurist Alvin Toffler and a U.S. astronaut will speak.

She added the auxiliary gym is equipped with a backdrop curtain for golf, archery and tennis, ballet bars and fencing targets.

City Police Blotter

Bike thefts reported

Two bicycles, together valued at more than $300, were stolen last Thursday from the unlocked garage of a home on Bradburn Street.

The garage had reportedly been left unattended and unlocked for only two hours, between 4-6 p.m. Stolen were a maroon 10-speed Schwinn with a black seat and a yellow and brown Schwinn, both boys models. There are no suspects under investigation directly linked to the theft.

Two silver-colored spoke wire wheel covers, together valued at $270, were stolen Saturday from a 1982 Mercury automobile parked at Northville Downs parking lot last Saturday morning. A white male in his early 20s was observed carrying the two hubcaps to another automobile by a witness, who identified the vehicle to city police. A check on the vehicle, which was driven by another white male in his early 20s, revealed it was owned by a Canton woman who had loaned the car to a man also reportedly in his early 20s. The suspect is under investigation.

A breaking and entering attempt on an unoccupied home on South Center Street was unsuccessful in anything but causing $15 damage to the door frame. The break-in was attempted Friday between 5-7:50 p.m. and discovered when the home owner returned and had difficulty opening the side door. A closer look revealed "pry marks" around the screen door. There are no suspects under investigation in connection with the incident.

All four tires of a 1973 Chevrolet 4-door automobile were slashed with a knife sometime between 8 p.m. Saturday and 8 a.m. Sunday. The car was parked on the shoulder of Baseline Road before a residence. There are no suspects in connection with the incident.

An American Flag measuring 42" by 30" and valued at $40 was stolen from the front-yard flagpole of a home on East Chigwidden Drive between 5 p.m. Friday and 9:15 a.m. Saturday. There are no suspects under investigation in connection with the flag theft.

Different filters and a few special techniques can add fun to your slides or prints.

Try a star filter to add streaks of light to night scenes. Rainbow filters add color to lights as do standard color filters.

A common subject becomes special when you use a multi-image filter. There are many types of multi-rangings from 3 parallel images to as many as 7 images in a ring around the center.

Diffusion filters can give your pictures a soft, romantic look or a dense, foggy look. Some are sharp in the center and diffused on the edges.

Some filters are colored only half-way up so you can add blue or orange to the sky or other colors to half your scene.

Scarr makes transition to new post

By MICHELE McELMURRY

Among the unpacked boxes in Marcia Wiss Scarr's new administrative office is a folder full of pictures drawn by her former students at Silver Springs Elementary School.

"I'm going to hang these around the office ... when I get the time," says the district's new Director of Curriculum, while glancing at the bare walls.

The pictures, a farewell present to the former Silver Springs principal, serve to remind the new administrator "not to forget the kids."

Having been at the helm of Silver Springs for four years, Scarr was appointed to the newly-created position of Director of Curriculum last May as part of an administrative reorganization. She officially stepped into her new role in July, working with Nancy Soper, Assistant Superintendent for Instruction.

"I do miss the kids," Scarr reflects. "I think that will be my hardest adjustment."

"However, I will find ways to get into the buildings and see students."

Since the start of the new school year, Scarr has kept busy with a host of projects in addition to adjusting to her new job.

The realm of responsibilities in the district's instructional area seem endless. Scarr points out that her new job entails everything from evaluating curriculum content to developing staff inservice programs.

She notes that she took several workshops this summer on improving the instructional program and currently is working on further developing the district's gifted and talented program as well as incorporating movement education into the sixth grade.

"Part of my learning process is to assess what strengths and weaknesses there are in the curriculum area," Scarr says.

"I've already done some work with David Bolitho (NHS principal) and I'm pleased with what is happening there."

"I also expect I'll be working with principals on grade restructuring," she adds.

Scarr acknowledges that the proposed renovation of Northville High School and the implementation of a grade restructuring are the major concerns currently facing the district.

However, she notes that while planning for such changes may be the foremost concerns of the district, it is important not to let the core program fall to the wayside.

"We are working constantly to improve the program," Scarr says.

"We are looking at the refinement of the K-12 program."

Scarr points out that technological advancements have deemed it necessary for school districts to reassess their curriculum offerings — putting a heavier burden on the office of instruction.

"The feeling is that this office has needed help all along," she points out. Since the departure of curriculum coordinator Mike Burley in 1981, the office of curriculum has almost single-handedly been operated by the assistant superintendent.

"There is this idea that the smaller the district, the less tasks have to be done," Scarr notes. "That's a fallacy."

"No matter the size of the school district, the same kind of tasks have to be done."

Scarr admits that her varied background in the education field has been an asset in her new position. Prior to serving as principal of Silver Springs, Scarr had been a classroom teacher for more than a decade, had worked with gifted children for six years, worked as an elementary principal in Livonia for one year, an assistant principal at Livonia Stevenson High School and had a brief stint as an administrator in Livonia.

"I think I have a different picture of the school district," Scarr explains.

Though she claims it's too early to assess the pros and cons of her new post, Scarr notes that "this end has some opportunities that you don't get in the buildings."

However, reflecting on her varied experience, Scarr admits "the classroom is really where it's at."

School board approves goals for '83-84

Continued improvement of Northville High School, planning for a middle school program and curriculum and continued refinement of the district's educational program are the major goals adopted by the Northville Board of Education for the 1983-84 school year.

Upon the recommendation of School Superintendent George Bell, the board approved adoption of the three goals at its September 26 meeting.

Bell said the major impetus for proposing the goals was to "maintain the momentum established last year" when he outlined a five-year plan for the district.

"(The goals) keep the five-year plan going," Bell said, "though we only have a four-year plan left."

Bell told board members it was essential that the high school remain a major issue in the forthcoming year. He noted that several major tasks were accomplished at the high school last year as a result of the district's commitment to making the high school a top priority in 1982-83.

Among the accomplishments Bell cited were lengthening the school day, eliminating the open campus, changing the administration and increasing graduation requirements.

He said the major emphasis for this school year should be the high school renovation project and the educational specifications to be accommodated in the improved building.

As an integral part of his five-year plan proposed last October, Bell encouraged further planning for the middle school program and curriculum.

The middle school concept, which will change the current K-6, 7-9 and 10-12 grade structure to a K-5, 6-8 and 9-12 program, is expected to be implemented in September, 1985 — at the time the high school renovation should be complete.

Bell noted that a citizen's committee currently is in the final stages of developing a philosophy for the middle school program.

The final goal for the forthcoming year will be the continued refinement of the educational program as outlined in the board's policy on "quality education and program effectiveness."

Citing the 1982 citizens' committee study on quality education and program effectiveness and the school board's adoption of a definition of quality education in February, 1983, Bell encouraged the board to continue refining the district's educational program.

He further emphasized the need to "highlight the expectations identified

Fall programs offered at Kensington Park

Two nature programs, "Going To Seed," and "October's Paintbrush," are scheduled for Saturday, October 15, at Kensington Metropark near Milford.

"Going To Seed," a 1½-mile nature walk, will be held at the Kensington Nature Center at 10:30 a.m. Autumn is the time when the flowers of summer become the wildlife food of winter as they transform into fruits, nuts and seeds. A park naturalist will identify and discuss autumn's bounty.

"October's Paintbrush," a family program about fall color, will be held at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropark at 1:30 p.m. A park naturalist will lead a 1½-hour walk to view and discuss the spectrum of fall colors. Bring cameras and meet at the Nature Center building.

Both programs are free; however, advance registration and a vehicle entry permit (Daily — $2) are required.

Senior citizens to meet

Northville Senior Citizens' Club will have a potluck dinner meeting at 6 p.m. Tuesday at First Presbyterian Church.

Following the business meeting there will be bingo. Each member is to bring a can of food for prizes.

Our Opinion

High school facility will get new look

School vote backs Bell — critical step ahead

That the $7.75 million bond issue for renovation of Northville High School passed Monday by a more than three-to-one margin is a tribute to the citizens of the community. It is an indication that quality of education is being given top priority by residents in the school district.

It also must be interpreted as a vote of confidence in the five-year plan of Superintendent George Bell. By election day Bell had spoken to more than 30 civic and community groups, explaining the need for the proposed renovation and its evolution through citizens' facility committees. It virtually can be said that the overwhelming margin of positive votes is due to one person — George Bell.

Before coming to the voters with the renovation request, the superintendent moved to correct other criticisms of the high school — discipline was tightened as he moved to implement a closed campus. New principal David Bolitho is operating under a plan of accountability. His staff shares with him responsibility for all phases of high school operation. Graduation requirements have been raised and the school day lengthened.

With these changes in place Bell turned his attention to the high school facility itself. He immediately made the realistic decision that there would be no further planning for a new high school on the Six Mile site at a prohibitive cost. The present site — hailed by visitors like sculptor Marshall Fredericks as spectacular — also is centrally located with a commanding view of the community. We agreed with Bell's decision to investigate renovation of the present facility.

The architect's presentation was a general one, pending the decision of the voters Monday. With what must be interpreted as a vote of confidence in Bell's plan the school board and staff now must begin work to create a quality facility to accommodate teaching of skills needed by students of today and tomorrow.

With the most integral component of Bell's five-year plan assured, staff and board members will need to focus their attention on incorporating the middle school concept into the renovation of the high school building.

The time immediately ahead is critical. We hope that citizens who worked on committees will continue to study and monitor specific plans — so that the high school will serve the needs of the students and create the atmosphere the present building has been accused of lacking.

Off the record

By JEAN DAY

Honesty, heroism exist still

At a time when police blotters are filled with reports of thefts and vandalism it's refreshing to have stories about heroism and honesty and volunteer service come across the desk.

Royal Oak residents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Poser came into The Record office last week to relate how the honesty of Phil Odum of Five Mile Road, Northville (Salem Township), had made their day. After playing golf at Salem Hills Mrs. Poser thinks she must have placed her red straw purse on the roof of their car and forgotten it as they drove off.

When she noticed its absence, the couple, who are senior citizens, returned to the club but found nothing. The next morning they received a call from Odum, an employee in the Holloway Sand and Gravel Company office, saying he had found the purse. It was lying open on the road, and he had retrieved what he saw of its contents scattered on the ground.

"There was not a thing missing — and I had already endorsed some $180 in checks in the purse," related Mrs. Poser gratefully. She added that charge cards and her safety deposit box key also were among the contents that would have been hard to replace.

When she examined the purse and found her rings and eyeglasses were not in the purse, however, Odum showed them where he had found the purse. In the dirt the couple retrieved her engagement and wedding ring and another finger ring — only ring not recovered was a turquoise stone ring bought by her son on his first job. The resident of the farm on Six Mile where the purse was recovered came out to say he had found the eyeglasses and, thinking they belonged to someone from the high school, had sent them there. He went to the Northville High and brought them back.

"We gave Odum a little reward," Mrs. Poser said, but explained she felt he deserved a special recognition and, therefore, came to tell us about it.

The tale of heroism was passed on by Northville Township Fire Chief Robert Toms. He reported that Don Riffenburg, a former township fire department volunteer who had helped Toms set up the township department, had been instrumental in the rescue of two youngsters when the mast of their sailboat broke on Lake St. Clair.

"The kids from Canada were eight or nine miles out in the lake when he found them with the mast of their 22-foot sailboat broken," Toms said. At the time, he added, there were six-foot waves on the lake.

Riffenburg rescued the kids, continued Toms, and towed their boat until making contact with the Marine Patrol. The Coast Guard then returned them to their home in Canada.

Toms also reported on an unusual coincide his department experienced while participating in a simulated disaster preparedness program September 24 at Wayne County Airport. Toms and other township firemen had taken the township rescue vehicle to participate in the exercise with 30 ambulances and 25 fire departments.

"Sixty people were lying on the ground to be 'rescued,' in the three-hour simulated disaster," Toms recounted — "and the person we picked up to transport to Annapolis Hospital, one of the 10 participating hospitals, turned out to be a Northville resident."

The coincidence that the township department "rescued" Yvonne Ternes of Byrne Drive came about because her father, Floren Ternes, is regional manager of ground services in Detroit for Republic Airlines.

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

He had an evil gleam in his eye as he sidled up beside me in the reception line at the posh groundbreak ceremonies for the new Novi Hilton last Friday.

"Hey, Phil, you going to run in the Run for Reyes at Novi Middle School on October 15?"

I knew it was not an innocent question. If the evil gleam in his eye hadn't given him away, the snide smile would have.

There was no need for diplomacy on my part. It was one of those questions filled with sinister intent that doesn't require a civil response.

I made a quick visual check of his usually-flabby mid-section. Although nobody would have confused him with Arnold Schwarzenegger, I noticed that his gut didn't hang over his belt quite as far as it usually does.

And his clothes ... there was that slight bagginess which usually indicates a person has lost a bit of weight recently.

"You've been training, haven't you?" I finally responded in a cool but decidedly accusatory tone. "You've been out running on the Q.T. so you won't humiliate yourself in the big race like you did last year."

"And I can tell by that big grin on your face that you're dreaming the impossible dream ... that you've convinced yourself you actually have a chance to beat me this year."

His eyes sparkled. His grin broadened. And he started jogging in place — right there in the reception line.

"That's about the size of it, Jerome. You were lucky last year, but it won't happen again this year. No sir, old buddy, you're going to eat my dust in this year's race."

To be perfectly honest, I hadn't planned to run this year. I'm still recovering from that bout I had with mono-journalism earlier this spring and the doctor told me to lay low until I get my strength back.

But then again, I just might run. It shouldn't take much to repeat my outstanding performance last year. Besides, how would it look if last year's one-mile fun run winner didn't return to defend his championship?

No room to stop for sign at Randolph

To the Editor:
I am writing in response to the suggestion made by Police Chief Rodney Cannon that a stop sign is needed for traffic turning onto Randolph from eastbound Eight Mile. I do agree that some type of traffic control other than the present yield right of way sign is needed to stop the speeding onto Randolph, but I do not think a stop sign alone is enough.

This past weekend my husband and I decided to drive eastbound Eight Mile to determine if it would be possible to make a complete stop at the intersection of Eight Mile and Randolph safely, and we came to the conclusion it is not.

The speed limit on Eight Mile west of this location is 50 miles per hour. Approximately 0.2 miles before the Eight Mile-Randolph intersection, going east on Eight Mile, there is a sign that indicates "a reduction of speed to 40 mph ahead."

From that point to the intersection there is no further sign indicating a speed reduction for those cars exiting onto Randolph. Therefore, it is necessary to go from 50 mph to a complete stop in 0.2 mile which I think would be difficult, especially in winter with slippery roads, or in rush hour traffic.

I feel there would be more accidents at this intersection.

I agree with Cannon that there are too many road signs in this area and suggest an evaluation to determine if all of them are necessary.

I would also suggest that eastbound Eight Mile be better marked to designate the upcoming changes of speed. In addition to the stop sign Chief Cannon recommended, there also would need to be a sign before the intersection indicating a stop at Randolph.

Another possibility would be to have the eastbound lane widened to allow a lane for turning into the party store, one lane for ongoing traffic, and a third lane for right turns onto Randolph, thus eliminating the traffic island.

A final suggestion would be to put a flashing red light in lieu of the stop sign which would be more visible at a distance.

Warns of bike thieves

To the Editor:

Watch out, neighbors... we have bicycle thieves loose in our neighborhood. I have to believe they are local. Detroit seems too far to come from for one little girl's bike.

I'm sorry, but I hope one day one of these individuals has a son or daughter who walks out to the garage to "go for a ride" and comes back in only to say, "My bike is gone!" Of course, these individuals will probably raise the same kind of trash their own parents are raising; so they'll just line up another to steal.

Neighbors, be warned...keep those garage doors shut.

The Northville Kiwanis Club wishes to thank all of the children who participated in the pumpkin decorating event last Saturday.

Your happy smiles make the work of our volunteers worthwhile and encourage us to do more for the children of Northville.

Special thanks to Cathy Namet of the Little People Shoppe for accepting the difficult role of judging the 200 entries.

The winning designs were submitted by Lisa Gordon, who received a gift certificate provided by the Little People Shoppe; Andrea Bearss, a gift certificate from Genitti's; Shawn McKenna and David Somershoe, gift certificates from Orin Jewelers.

All of the children will be happy to know that we are already planning to make next year's event an even bigger success in our continuing effort to bring happiness to the children of Northville.

The graciousness of the homeowners and the patience of the attending public was deeply appreciated by a committee who spent eight months organizing and worrying over the event. We wish also to thank The Record for doing such a nice job on the tour booklet. It was tastefully done and saved the Historical Society and the Presbyterian Church a considerable amount of money.

The weather didn't cooperate the entire day, but there were few complaints.

The community welcomed more than 400 out-of-towners that day, making it a pleasant experience for the visitors.

Geake introduces workfare package

Legislation establishing the Republican-backed Michigan Opportunities and Skilled Training (MOST) Act was introduced September 15 in the Michigan legislature.

The two-bill package was introduced in the Senate by Senator Robert Geake (R-Northville) and Senator Harry Gast (R-St. Joseph) and listed 21 co-sponsors, including all 18 members of the Senate Republican Caucus and five Democratic senators. Identical legislation was introduced in the House last week by Representatives Mick Midaugh (R-Paw Paw) and John Strand (R-Lapeer).

"With a majority of the state senators co-sponsoring this legislation, it assures virtual passage in the Senate and I would hope that the House would then give it quick action and passage," said Gast.

Specifically, the Gast bill would establish the MOST Act which would require all employable, able-bodied persons now receiving welfare assistance to participate in an education, job training or community work project in order to receive benefits.

"Michigan's social services program has created a vicious welfare trap, making it cost prohibitive for recipients to go back to work once they have become part of the system," Gast said.

The plan calls for community employment as well as job search counseling for those with education but little or no work experience. Basic remedial education or GED study would be provided for those with minimal education.

The Geake bill would establish sanctions against those welfare recipients who refuse to participate in the program.

"Employable, able-bodied recipients of AFCD and GA who refuse to participate in the program would lose three months benefits upon first refusal and six months of benefits for each subsequent refusal," Geake explained.

"However, exclusions would be given to children, single parents with very young children, those over 55, the physically or mentally disabled and those required to be in the home to care for a disabled relative. Certain temporary exemptions would also be granted for 'good cause' on a case-by-case basis," he added.

Geake said those who want to work will look upon the program as an escape route from the oppressive welfare system and a passage toward renewed activity and self-esteem.

The plan calls for $39 million in funding from next year's Social Services budget. It would be taken from the $43 million which has been set aside in the budget to be used for a workfare and/or a home heating assistance program.

Law named to group studying auto theft

Thirty-Sixth District State Representative Gerald H. Law (R-Plymouth) has been appointed to a newly-created subcommittee of the House Insurance Committee to work on a legislative proposal to curb auto theft, a crime Law says costs Michigan residents $200 million a year.

Law, who will represent the House Republican Caucus on the subcommittee, explained that an automobile is stolen in this state every 8.5 minutes.

"Over 61,000 cars are stolen each year in Michigan, and because those stolen cars are chopped up and shipped to other states almost immediately, chances of recovering an intact stolen car are about 30 percent," Law said. "This is a serious and expensive crime, and there is a definite need to address the issue of auto theft. Hopefully, we will be able to come to some sort of consensus on how to curtail the problem."

Law added that the high rate of car theft in Michigan is reflected in auto insurance rates paid by all motorists throughout the state.

"Since car theft has reached near epidemic proportions, it is essential that this new subcommittee gets to work right away on the problem," he concluded. "Whatever it takes, this crime must be curtailed or our insurance rates will continue to climb."

Law also reminded motorists to lock their cars and keep the windows closed when the vehicle is unoccupied.

Freed funds may permit sewage plant work in 1984

By GARY M. CATES

Roadblocks thrown in front of a $3.8 million cash advance to Plymouth Township were hurdled last week, fostering hopes that the northern communities of the now-defunct Super Sewer project will have a new sewage plan in place by mid-1984.

Earlier this year the Super Sewer project was downsized, leaving seven northwestern suburbs without a solution to overcapacity problems — including Northville, Canton and Plymouth Townships and the City of Novi.

The $3.8 million cash advance will be used to explore alternate solutions to the sewage problem, including construction of a parallel sewage interceptor to Detroit, estimated to cost about $110 million.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) is proceeding with plans to forward the cash advance to Plymouth Township since an agreement was hammered out last week with Detroit and the counties of Wayne and Oakland.

The compromise was reached Thursday at a meeting with a governor's task force appointed to deal with the sewage issue.

Included at the meeting was state representative Gerald Law (R-Plymouth Township) who has been involved with securing the cash advance since the downsizing of Super Sewer.

In a phone interview Friday, Richard Hinshon, acting director of the DNR's community assistance division, said the paper work for the advance has been started and the check should arrive in the middle of October.

Construction of a new sewage interceptor could be under way as soon as fall, 1984, if things go as planned, Hinshon said.

Plans to give Plymouth Township the cash advance slowed recently when Detroit and the two counties voiced objections.

Reportedly, the objections centered on letting the township control the money and do the work. The counties wanted the money to be "passed through" the township and on to their own departments of public works.

However, Plymouth Township, as the applicant for the money, wanted complete control of it.

"When we were cut out of Super Sewer that left us hanging with a lack of design for a new system," Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen said.

Because the northwestern communities apparently lost the hundreds of thousands of dollars pumped into planning Super Sewer, Breen said the DNR was told new design funds wouldn't be provided upfront by the local governments.

"Based on that, they came up with the idea of the cash advance," he said.

However, the battle for control of the money brought the parties to loggerheads. Breen described the situation earlier in the week as "a Mexican standoff."

Detroit and the counties joined forces to argue that the township possibly couldn't handle the project and would default on the money.

The township, represented by Breen and Law, argued the local governments already lost large sums of money on the Super Sewer project — being designed by the county.

The local governments simply don't trust the county, according to Law.

The Thursday meeting resulted in an understanding that the principal parties will split the responsibilities, Hinshon said.

"They have agreed to who's going to do what, but there hasn't been a dollar breakdown," he said.

Under the agreement, Plymouth Township will receive all the money and contract for different services from various city and county departments.

Although he wouldn't comment on the details of the agreement, Breen said it was "adequate for now."

Johnson promoted to MSP sergeant

Michigan State Police Trooper Marshall S. Johnson, 33, has been promoted to sergeant rank and transferred from the Detroit freeway post to the Northville post, department director Gerald L. Hough said last week.

Johnson was born in Detroit and joined the department at the Niles post in 1977. His promotion and transfer were effective October 1.

Another assignment change involving the Northville post is the move of Sergeant Thomas E. Jefferson, 33, from Northville with detective sergeant rank to the detective division at Detroit. This move was effective September 25.

Jefferson was born in Port Huron, joined the department in 1972 at the Pontiac post.

Auditions to be held soon for musical tour group MYI

Musical Youth International, the organization with which many Northville music students have toured other countries, is announcing the opening auditions for MYI 1984 membership.

Audrey Becker, who assists the project locally, reports that this marks the 20th anniversary of the People-to-People International first-chartered youth chapter.

The season will climax next July in a five-week tour in Australia. This will be the third MYI visit to that country.

Paul Barber, music coordinator for the Farmington Public Schools, will conduct the the MYI symphonic wind ensemble. He is rejoining the staff, having toured the British Isles in 1976 as band conductor.

Kevin Cushman, a 1973 MYI alumnus and choral director at Catholic Central High School, will direct the chorus.

Mrs. Lester McCoy continues as executive director, assisted by an experienced executive staff.

Because MYI provides a preprofessional musical experience for student members, combined with family living in a different culture, the opportunity of membership in the group is especially appealing.

The MYI Alumni Association sponsors several fundraising projects during the year to assist students in securing their own funds. MYI functions are entirely without government financial support but have enthusiastic sanction by both the United States and host countries, Mrs. Becker notes.

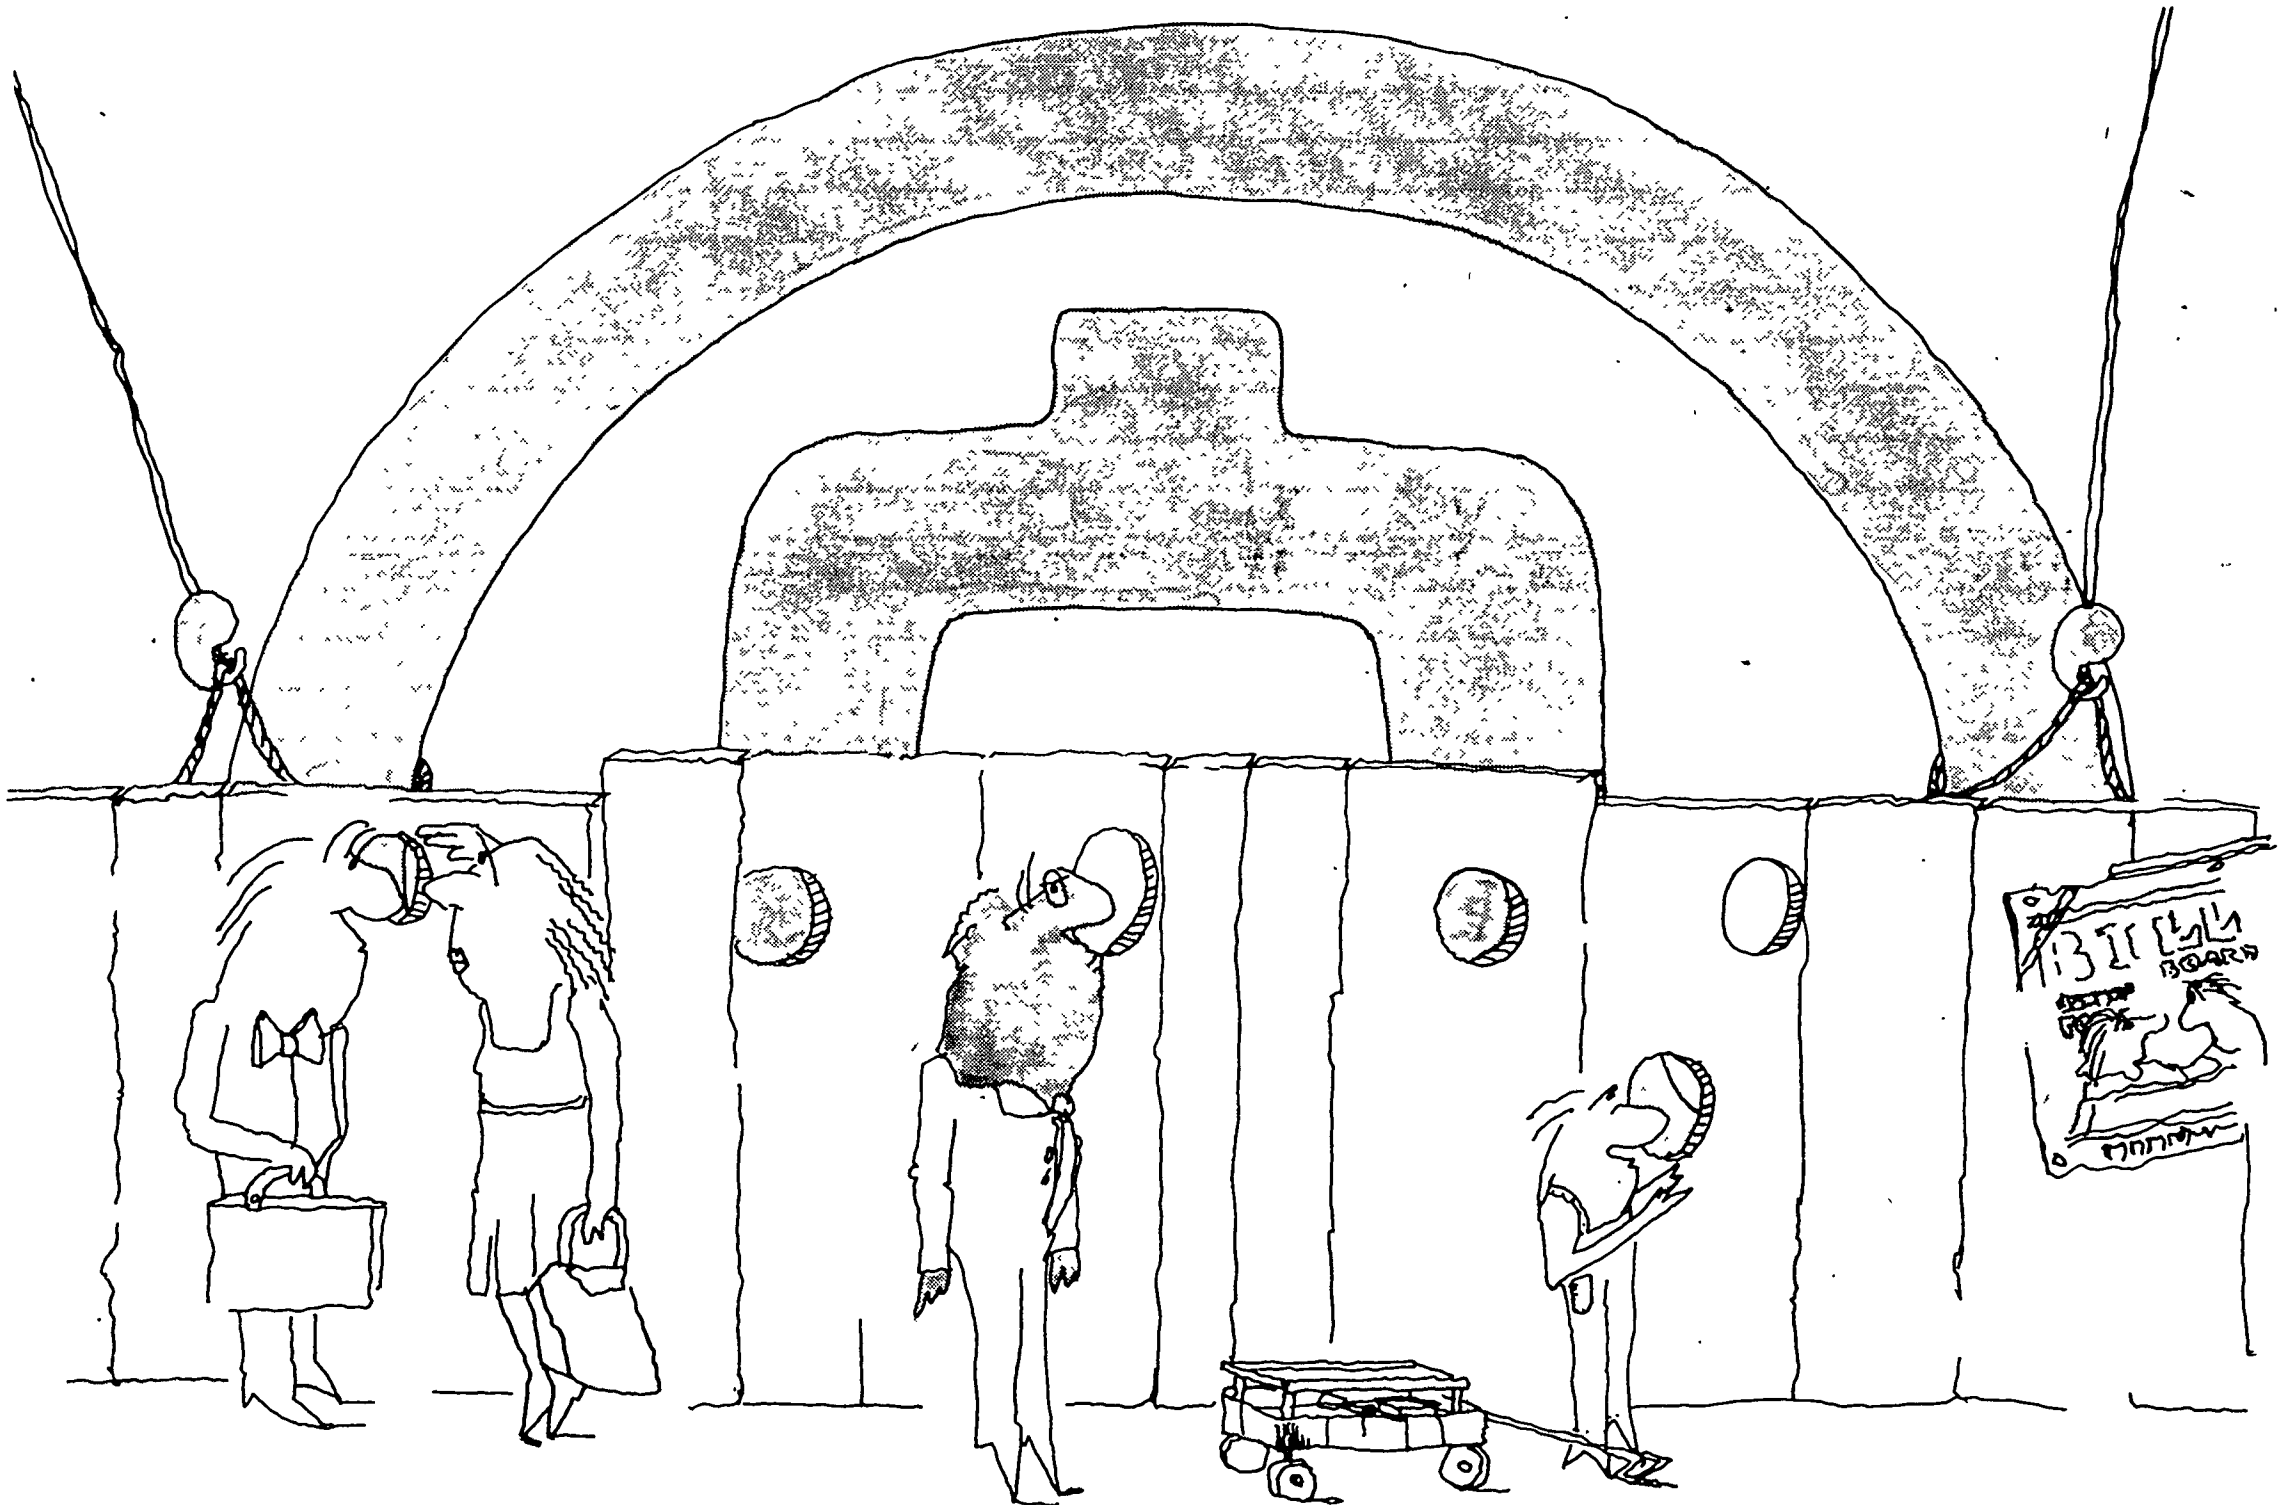

MYI membership is open to high school musicians from the Great Lakes Area. Auditions — both vocal and instrumental — are held at its headquarters, White Acres, one mile east of Saline on U.S. 12, from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. October 1-2, 7-8, and October 16.

Mrs. McCoy may be called at 429-9734 for appointments.

Looking at tomorrow.

Rest assured. Just because Michigan Bell is separating from AT&T this January doesn't mean you'll be separated from good phone service... not for even a second. You can count on the same highly skilled people to watch over your service, as always. And when you pick up your phone on New Year's Day you'll hear the same reliable dial tone you've heard for years.

But we'll be bringing you a lot more than a dial tone. For one thing, we will continue to exercise our almost unlimited options for selecting and implementing the very latest technology from a wide variety of communications suppliers.

What that means to you, as we go down the line, is faster, more efficient and more flexible service with many interesting choices for you. One of the innovations we'll continue to adopt for the future is electronic switching service. This will give almost everyone in Michigan the chance to opt for Touch-Tone® Service, Custom Calling Services and other communication conveniences.

Lightwave cable is a recent transmission development that can carry as many as 96,000 simultaneous conversations. And soon it will send your voice and messages with the speed of light.

Before long, your telephone will be capable of performing surprising electronic tricks, such as ringing a certain way to let you know exactly who's calling. You'll have a new way to shop by phone in stores all over the country... to handle financial transactions by talking directly to your bank's computer. To receive electronic mail. To play bridge. And even to call your oven and tell it to start dinner.

These are just a sampling of the technological advancements you can expect to enjoy through Michigan Bell. The point is very simple: Next year we'll be bringing you the same good old dial tone, but we won't be the same old phone company. We'll be pulling out all the stops to bring you the last word in phone service. After all...

IT'S AT&T
WE'RE SEPARATING FROM...
NOT YOU.

Facts down the line. Because your telephone business office is busily engaged in normal, day-to-day telephone service matters, we are providing this toll-free number as a source for answers to the questions you may have about your changing telephone company. We also suggest that you watch for our informational messages in your newspapers and in your monthly telephone bills. 1 800 555-5000

Competition putting spice in 1984 autos

By KEVIN WILSON

Second of two articles

If there's such a thing as a grudge match within the U.S. auto industry it's Ford vs. Chrysler.

Aside from the personality factor involving Chrysler chairman Lee Iacocca and many of his top aides' former ties with Ford, these two manufacturers are both fighting to increase their market shares as they recover from recent difficulties.

Both have placed their hopes in a range of 1984 models featuring high technology routes to improved performance and convenience, targeting buyers who want something more than mere fuel economy during this apparent rebound of the American love affair with the automobile.

The fourth U.S.-headquartered automaker (General Motors' new offerings were covered last week), American Motors, carves its own niche in the market with a range of economy cars designed by French partner Renault and with four-wheel drive specialty vehicles from its Jeep division.

News for the 1984 model year from these three manufacturers is outlined below.

CHRYSLER/PLYMOUTH/DODGE

Two new car lines shared by Chrysler/Plymouth and Dodge dealers plant the pentastar in new territory. The Chrysler Laser and Dodge Daytona are front-wheel drive sporting cars competing with Ford's Mustang, GM's Camaro/Firebird twins and several import entries. Come January, the heavily-publicized Plymouth Voyager/Dodge Caravan small vans will be available.

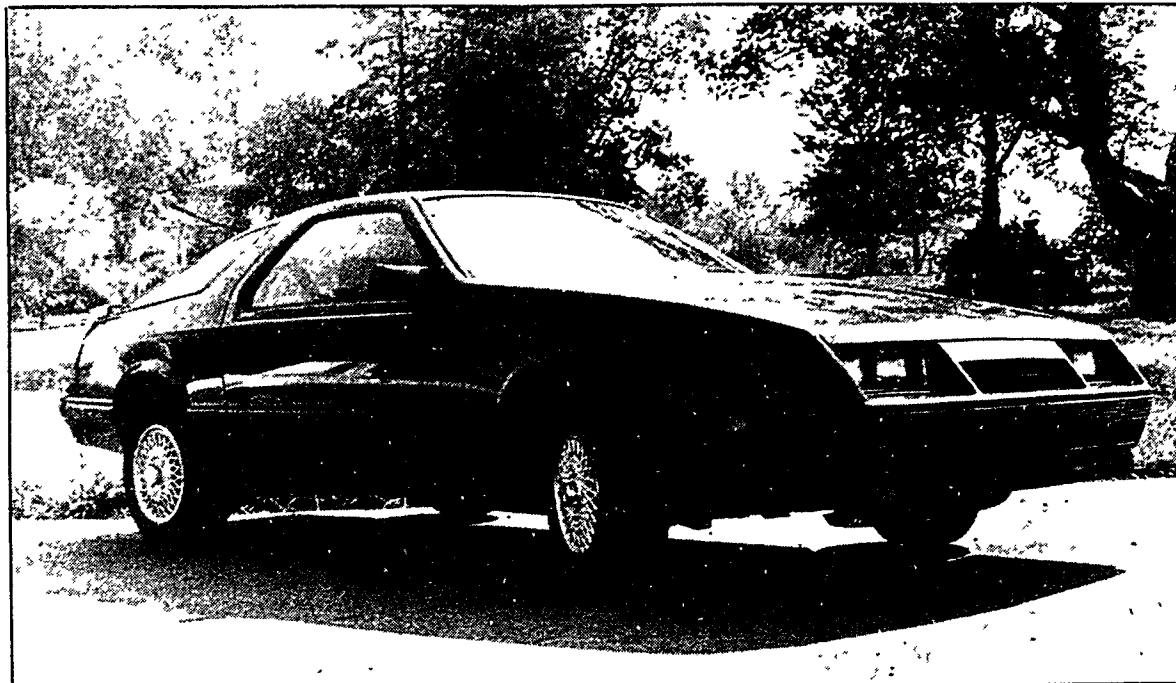

Both lines are really unique to Chrysler — the Laser/Daytona being the only U.S.-built front-drive entries in their class while the Voyager/Caravan represent a new concept mid-way between a station wagon and a van.

Chrysler turbocharged its mainstay 2.2 liter four-cylinder this fall to lift it from 99 horsepower to 142. While the turbo-motor is the heart of the performance offerings it is offered as an option on several models.

Laser is giving Chrysler dealers a boost this fall second only to the excitement Pontiac dealers are seeing with the new Fiero.

"We're selling them as quickly as we get them in," reported Tom Zielinski, a sales representative at Shuman Chrysler/Plymouth in Walled Lake last Thursday, the official introduction date.

"We've had Porsche-owners trading in for Laser," he added. "It's being received very well. It's competitive with Z-28, Firebird, the Toyota Supra,

Chrysler Laser is sport coupe with turbo engine, gives company performance entry that class of sports car."

The Daytona at Dodge dealers is basically the same car, except for trim items with the Dodge carrying "ground effect" side panels and larger spoilers, brighter color combinations and similar trim items. The Daytona comes in base, Daytona Turbo and Turbo Z models.

Only one Laser remained on Shuman's showroom floor at Pontiac Trail and Commerce Road, a dark red base model with the turbocharged engine option listed at $11,530. The top-line Laser XE features an array of electronics along with the high-performance engine and sporting suspension and is selling in the $13,000 range, Zielinski said.

Advanced technology is a major part of the Chrysler story for '84 and the Laser XE is the flagship in that regard. The turbo engine has a unique-to-Chrysler water-cooling system for the turbocharger bearing — expected to enhance reliability and reduce the often stringent maintenance requirements for such engines. Fuel injection has replaced carburetion at most every turn.

The Laser XE version includes electronic instrumentation, a travel computer and electronic systems monitoring. Except for the instrumentation, the other items are optional equipment on other models. New Yorker also gets an electronic instrument panel.

Improved this year is the shift linkage for the 5-speed transaxle used with the 2.2 liter in both turbocharged and normally-aspirated modes. The linkage has been simplified for surer, swifter shifting action.

The turbo engine is an option on the LeBaron (excepting the wagon), E-Class, and front-drive New Yorker. Aside from the Daytona, Dodge puts the turbo in the Dodge 600 along with a handling package to upgrade its status in competition with cars such as Pontiac's 6000 STE.

While Voyager and Caravan are due in January, Zielinski said three Voyagers are expected to arrive in mid-October for "pre-introduction" viewing. Orders are being accepted now.

Other Chrysler changes include the LeBaron convertible's redesigned roof, larger rear seat and power rear windows and elimination of the Imperial and Cordoba models. The only remaining rear-drive Chrysler is the Fifth Avenue, with 318 cubic inch V-8.

Availability of the turbo-engine is helping Chrysler separate its divisions. With not a single Plymouth model receiving the option. That doesn't mean improved performance is out of the picture for Plymouth, though.

The 110-horsepower version of the 2.2 liter four (normally a 96 hp engine) developed for Dodge's Shelby Charger last year is offered on Horizon and Turismo, standard in Turismo 2.2.

Suspension improvements accompany the high-output engine, and the Turismo gets cosmetic changes to match the popular Dodge, with a front-end treatment that makes clear the family relationship to Laser.

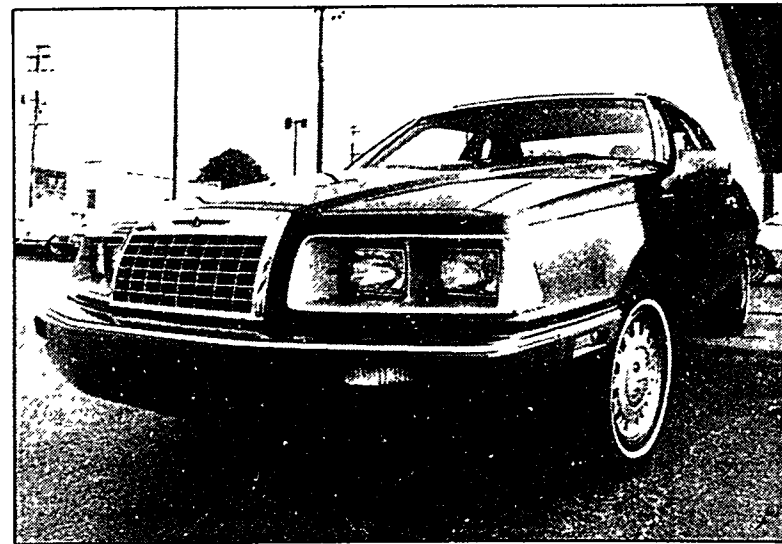

A new dashboard is installed in Horizon and Turismo, and the Horizon is also upgraded cosmetically with a new four-headlamp front end.

Dodge Omni and Charger receive similar changes.

Plymouth's K-car, the Reliant, picks up a new dashboard also. Continued sales of large cars has prolonged the life of the rear-drive Gran Fury, which is on the same basic plan as the Fifth Avenue and the Dodge Diplomat, also continued.

Dodge does lose two models this year — the 400 and the Mirada have been discontinued.

Ford Thunderbird continues to sell well, dealer reports

FORD/LINCOLN/MERCURY

Having introduced the Tempo/Topaz lines in the spring, Ford Motor Company is left with only the Lincoln Mark VII as its totally-new design for fall introductions, but there's a lot of other activity.

The Mark VII follows the rounded aerodynamic styling theme set by the Ford Thunderbird and Tempo models, carrying the look into the luxury class and leaving little doubt that Ford is serious about its bid to establish a unique styling identity.

Like the other manufacturers, Ford's performance image is getting a lift this fall. Here the news is Mustang and Mercury Capri. The SVO Mustang, designed by Ford's Special Vehicles Operations division (basically a racing and research group) is the unchallenged top of the heap and is likely to sell for over $15,000. A new sleek nose and biplane rear spoiler distinguish the SVO clearly from lesser Mustangs, with a fuel-injected, turbocharged 2.3 liter engine with intercooler for more horsepower (175) stashed under the scooped hood.

Larger tires on 16-inch wheels and a tuned suspension allow the SVO to earn raves from Road & Track magazine, which measured handling better than that of Ferrari and Porsche models.

"We can't wait to see it, it should be a really exciting addition to our line," said Kevin Mallon, sales manager at McDonald Ford in Northville, where he expects to accept delivery in the next week or two.

There will be only 5,000 SVO Mustangs, but Ford has other tricks up its sleeve to compete with Camaro/Firebird and the new Laser and Daytona.

The fuel-injected 302-cubic inch V-8 going into Mustang GT and Capri boasts 200 horsepower, besting the GM entries' 190 in the pony car class, where the horsepower race never really went away.

The non-SVO 2.3 liter turbo is available in these cars also, and for the first time is offered in the Mustang con-

Murphy cites investment

By JACKIE KLEIN

Oakland County is spending $500,000 on economic development in an effort to attract business, said County Executive Daniel T. Murphy in a recent talk to the Southfield Chamber of Commerce.

Murphy has created an economic planning council comprised of representatives from business, industry and government leaders.

Plante Moran, a certified public accounting firm, was commissioned to advise the group. The committee will contact corporations, both domestic and foreign, in an attempt to convince them to do business in southeast Michigan and Oakland County.

"There are more robotics and high technology companies in Oakland County than any place else, but we need to attract more," said Murphy. "We have to show positive reasons why Oakland County and southeast Michigan are good places in which to settle."

"We're not competing with Detroit, Wayne or Macomb counties. What's good for one is good for all. We just don't want businesses to get away from Michigan."

Murphy said county officials will contact various agencies and local governments to cut red tape such as zoning laws which may prohibit corporations from moving in.

"County government won't tell local government what to do," he said. "We're the catalyst to work with cities and townships to bring businesses to them."

"When there's a downturn in the economy, Michigan is the first to suffer. If we have a diversified financial base, we won't take such heavy hits. I don't expect big changes in the next three to five years, but 10 years from now we won't suffer as much in downturns."

Oakland County has the manpower to work in new industries, but Murphy believes the key is training. The former Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) was an

"abomination" except for job training, he added.

CETA did nothing to create an atmosphere for area production, Murphy said. A county private industry council, implementing the new federal Job Training Partnership Act, is in touch with corporations which find jobs and train people to fit them, he continued.

County and local government can do nothing about Michigan's workers compensation and unemployment compensation laws or the single business tax which stymie economic development, Murphy said.

Some changes have been made, but the state legislature is busy with other problems, he said. In the meantime, businesses locate in other states and ship products to Michigan.

"The county used to spend $50,000 on unemployment benefits," noted the county executive. "But since the county has come under the state unemployment act, we spend $500,000."

Summer over $3 billion

Travel spending sets record

Travelers spent record amounts in Michigan this summer, pumping $3.17 billion into the state economy between Memorial and Labor Days, the governor announced last week.

"Thanks to aggressive marketing, an imaginative promotion program, and other Commerce Department and Travel Bureau innovations, travel continues to make significant contributions to Michigan's economic health," Governor James Blanchard said.

This was the third consecutive year in which combined direct and indirect spending by travelers is expected to exceed a $10 billion contribution to the Michigan economy.

Michigan Travel Bureau figures indicate that travel activity in the state this summer was up more than four percent over 1982's strong showing, while consumer spending was up another three to four percent — increasing direct spending by as much as $128 million and indirect spending by an additional $99.8 million — for a total summer impact of $227.8 million above the 1982 level of $2.94 billion.

Travel Bureau director Jack S. Wilson said one of the most encouraging signs was that all geographic areas of the state showed upward signs consistently all summer.

Traffic counts, the single most significant travel indicator, were up 3.5 percent over summer 1982, with increases in 14 of the 15 weeks.

Mackinac Bridge crossings were up for 13 consecutive weeks, peaking the week before Labor Day at 102,679 vehicles — a 15.4 percent increase over the same week in 1982.

Weekend lodging was up 3.4 percent, with nearly 70 percent of the establishments polled reporting midweek increases as well.

"The Upper Peninsula showed some of the strongest travel gains in the state," Blanchard noted. "Lodging was up 6.7 percent — well above the state average — while the U.P. traffic count showed the strongest increase in the state, up 10 percent from last year."

Day use in state parks was up 25 percent, camping surged in the later weeks by as much as 18 percent (overcoming a slow start to break even on the season), total summer inquiries to travel bureau were up 8.5 percent and jumped 122 percent above 1981 levels to set new record highs.

Wilson credited an aggressive advertising campaign, new marketing efforts, computerized information handling, and new literature design (including the new Michigan Book) for the increased activity.

Advice given Continental air ticket holders

Holders of unused Continental Airlines tickets have two options in view of the carrier's recent filing for bankruptcy and elimination of Detroit as one of the cities it serves, advises Ed Jamieson of Northville Travel Plans.

"Use a ticket for a flight from another city Continental still serves — the two closest to Detroit are Cleveland and Chicago," Jamieson says.

Those who would prefer a refund can't get it right away, since Continental's filing for protection under federal bankruptcy laws bars it from providing refunds now.

Those with tickets should keep them and send a photocopy to Joseph Heston, U.S. Bankruptcy Court, 555 Rusk—Seventh Floor, Houston, Texas, 77002. Include in the request for refund the Continental case number, which is 8304019 H25.

NAITP sets workshop on income tax issues

The Michigan Chapter of the National Association of Income Tax Practitioners (NAITP) will conduct a workshop Saturday, October 15 on IRAs, pension plans, rollovers and lump sum distributions.

Speakers from the E.F. Hutton Company and IRS are scheduled for the 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. event at the Hillside Inn, 41661 Plymouth Road, Plymouth.

Cost is $15 and includes workshop and lunch. Credit for three CEC hours is available. The informative workshops are open to anyone and include discussion of tax relationship and different kinds of plans.

In the Northville area, contact Gerry Besh at 349-6193 for reservations before October 10. There is an additional $5 charge for registration at the door.

Other contact persons are, in the Plymouth area, Harry Lee, 455-9880 and in the Livonia area Loraine Hewitt, 464-6221.

Michigan Mirror

By WARREN M. HOYT

Many state regulations and rules are unnecessary, oppressive and duplicative in ways that discourage business activity, the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules was told.

The committee held a series of hearings in which businesses were asked to specify rules of the Departments of Commerce, Labor, Natural Resources and Public Health which could be eliminated without jeopardizing health, safety and welfare.

Business representatives complained both about the rules themselves, which they said in some instances frustrate purposes of state law, and about the attitude of the regulators.

"I can't help feeling a portion of the unemployment problem in this state is related to excessive regulations which are burdensome, unnecessary and relate little to the enhancement of employee safety," said James Fearh of Consumers Power Company, testifying for the Michigan Manufacturers Association.

Fearh criticized the state for frequently leading the way in imposing health and safety rules, in some cases he said, when no existing hazard is shown.

And he said businesses too often are placed in a position of having to prove health or safety rule compliance, because regulators will issue a citation if there is even a doubt about a rule being followed.

He added appeals process to overturn the citation is costly, time consuming and in many cases, unnecessary.

Pat Nixon of the Michigan Coalition for Clean Water said much of the problem was failure by agencies to follow the administrative procedures act, particularly in issuing guidelines outside the rulemaking process, and therefore without public hearings or review by the joint committee.

He suggested the law be changed to provide that regulations imposed outside the act's provisions be declared invalid from the outset and for the agencies to pay for legal costs incurred by a business fighting the invalid regulation.

Representatives from health maintenance organizations criticized the many rules which they said impose special burdens and inhibit their ability to effectively compete with more conventional health care providers.

Alan Suits of Health Central of Lansing, said such rules run counter to public policy authorizing HMO's in an attempt to hold down medical costs.

He cited one instance where a new Health Central office was delayed six months while the Department of Public Health reviewed its application for certificate of need and in the meantime, two doctors established offices in the city of the proposed office.

Suits said the certificate of need should not be required for HMO service expansion areas.

Mike Haines, chair of the Legal and Legislative Committee of the Michigan Oil and Gas Association, cited several rules which he said present "significant problems" for the oil and gas exploratory industry.

He urged the lesser standard for sulfur dioxide emissions to put more emphasis on economic reasonableness for new sour gas sweetening facilities, and exception for venting "minor" amounts of sour gas, elimination of a requirement to notify adjacent property owners of exploration activities, and implementation of rules providing for self-inspection of flammable gas and liquid storage and filling locations.

Representative Michael Griffin (D-Jackson), chairman of the joint committee, said the committee would now begin meeting with officials from the agencies and divisions within the agencies and let them justify the regulations.

New cars stress performance, style

Ford Tempo debuted early this year, is now in plentiful supply

vertible. The third power option is a fuel-injected 3.8 liter V-6.

The new Mark VII isn't leaving performance to the European luxury cars either — the 5.0 liter V-8 powers it through a four-speed overdrive automatic transmission.

There's an LSC performance version with beefed-up suspension and tires. Even in standard form, the new Mark has a unique electronic air suspension system (Goodyear-made) an electronic instrument panel, four-wheel disc brakes and, later this year, may be had with a turbocharged BMW diesel. It's rounded styling is a distinct break from the past and resembles most closely the Thunderbird.

Meanwhile, the Thunderbird itself moves from strength to strength, according to Mallon, appealing to a wider range of customers.

"When it was first introduced we were selling more high-priced 'Birds' — now there are more Turbo Coupes going out, more middle-range 'Birds. It's a more even mix."

Mallon adds that the Tempo has been "a super car for us, we're selling a considerably higher number than had been anticipated."

Tempo and its Mercury sister, Topaz, give Ford a front-drive family car a step up from the economical Escort just when the market seems to be moving in that direction.

"Attitudes are changing and not necessarily in regard to fuel economy," Mallon said. "People want performance, they want conveniences and luxury but they still want fuel economy."

That combination is what's prompting the move to turbocharging, which produces more power with only minor losses in fuel economy. Ford had it's 2.3 liter turbo motor last year. (In both Mustang and Thunderbird) and adds a 1.6 liter turbo this year.

The newly-boosted engine goes into the EXP (Mercury's LN-7 is gone, except for the bubble fastback which is added to EXP) and in an Escort GT that joins the growing class of performance-variants on the econobox theme and will compete with Chrysler's Omni/Horizon, the Volkswagen Rabbit GTI and several import models.

Like Chrysler and some GM divisions, Ford has replaced carburetors with fuel injection in many models, since electronically-controlled injection assists in the struggle to maintain horsepower while meeting emissions requirements and retaining fuel economy.

Ford also has a new 2.0 liter diesel engine that goes into Escort/Lynx and Tempo/Topaz.

Other Ford news includes demise of the Fairmont/Zephyr line and minor refinements to the popular LTD and Mercury Marquis introduced last year. The optional V-6 is now fuel-injected. So are all Thunderbird engines for the new model year.

The T-Bird's sister, Mercury Cougar, brings back the XR-7 option. It's essentially the high performance Thunderbird Turbo Coupe in Mercury garb.

Ford, too, is carrying over some large, rear-drive cars once labelled "dinosaurs." The LTD Crown Victoria has optional brougham roof, formal roofline and opera lamps, while Mercury's Grand Marquis gets thicker carpeting.

Lincoln buyers will find the Continental has received a minor facelift along the aero lines in muted form seen on the

LTD. The large Lincoln is carried over essentially unaltered.

AMERICAN MOTORS/RENAULT/JEEP

Encore is the name of AMC's newest entry. The name is fully appropriate for the Encore is essentially last year's successful Alliance with minor changes.

The Renault-designed, Kenosha-built Encore shares a drive train and basic chassis with Alliance but is a hatchback with split-back folding rear seat. The latter feature is one of the most-frequently added features from all American manufacturers.

The Renault LeCar is discontinued, as are AMC's Spirit and Concorde. The four-wheel drive Eagle is the only reminder of American Motors pre-Renault days (outside the Jeep line).

There is a Sportwagon model, but the rest of what was the Renault 181 line has been discontinued. The sporty Fuego is carried-over. Both of these models get a fuel-injected 2.2 liter four-cylinder powerplant.

Jeep news is two new compact 4wd wagons, Cherokee and Wagoneer to compete with the downsized Chevy Blazer and Ford Bronco II introduced last year. The Jeep XJs use a new AMC-built 2.5 liter four derived from the firm's venerable straight-six with a V-6 purchased from Chevrolet as an option.

Q. Please discuss migraine. How do these headaches differ from other kinds? What is the best treatment? Does a person outgrow them? Is allergy the cause?

A. There are different kinds of migraine headaches. The "classic" kind is the one usually referred to. It is the kind of headache that produces pain on one side of the head, which is preceded by what is called "aura," a vision disturbance, or some other neurological symptom, such as a weakness in a limb.

Classic migraine produces a throbbing, pulsating pain, usually accompanied by scalp tenderness. The pain is deep and dull and centered around the person's temple or eye area. Symptoms and the preceding warning signs differ from patient to patient, but usually the individual patient has the same set of symptoms with each episode.

Frequently, migraine can be prevented by avoiding certain trigger events that seem to set them off in some patients. There is a wide range of them — sleep loss, bright lights, loud noise, hunger from missing meals and certain foods.

Others include alcohol, and nitrate, MSG, and tyramine-containing foods, or chocolate, and tobacco smoking.

Even pungent odors have been implicated by some patients. Stress, worry and oral contraceptive use have been other "triggers." A careful study of such possible causes is frequently rewarding in prevention.

Research into migraine has confirmed the pattern of immediate physical events that occur during an attack. This involves a constriction of blood vessels in the area followed by an expansion of those vessels.

Pain occurs in the expansion phase, so one goal of treatment is to try to keep the vessels constricted with agents known to promote that. Ice packs are helpful for some. Others require pills containing ergot and caffeine.

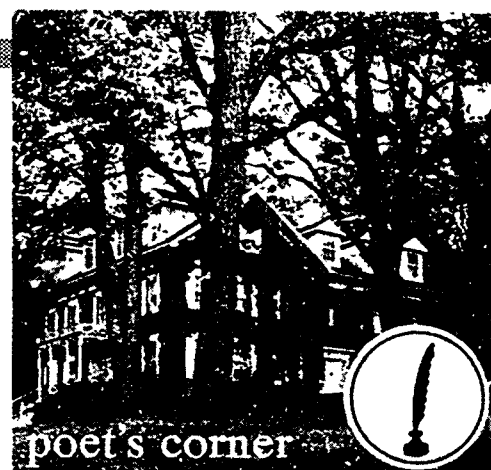

Persons with classic migraine are taught to take the medicine at the first indication of the preceding signs. Those with the other form — the common migraine — take the tablet as soon as the headache pain occurs.

Besides careful avoidance of any suspected triggering events and substances, doctors have found a newer preventive for those who suffer frequent attacks. One of the so-called "beta-blocking" medicines, in this case propranolol (Inderal), is given on a regular schedule. This acts on the blood vessels, helping prevent the spasm. It is the same medicine prescribed for many patients who have high blood pressure, for example.

Migraine can be a life-long ordeal for many patients. However, studies have shown that attacks tend to become less frequent and less severe beyond the age of 50. Not enough is known about this problem to say for sure which allergy is a factor. A more accepted theory involves a substance in the blood that is responsible for the initial blood vessel constriction, which leads to the subsequent expansion and the ultimate pain.

With newer medicines and greater knowledge about the problem, most migraine sufferers can be successfully controlled today.

Spatial Relations

There is a distant quality of mind that binds us down the sweeps of air and sound.

There are words that ride swift down
as waves of light.

Se we may come through space of eon's length
as if across the sunlit realm of a parlor floor.

Martha Forstrom

Crossword Consequence

I jigsaw words
Until I am green;
I hardly know
What I have seen.

All but a corner,
Or letters to solve —
Each day repeating,
"No more" is my resolve.

F. A. Hasenau

Dream Me

Dream me into the treetops
Into a hammock of mist
Slung from a top floor
Bed or chair;
Green-pillowed curves
Cushion my mind
As I gaze out and
Dream me into the treetops.

A Pledge

Some day when I have cast
My fortune with the crowd
And over drink and feast
We joke, we laugh aloud,
I shall be still,
Sometime, at a name,
And take my drink, my dice
And leave the game.

I shall stand a moment then
And look out at a star,
And I shall cross a world
To where you are.
And you will be as near
As near your quiet flame,
As if you took my hand in yours
And spoke my name.

And I shall remember, ah, remember
While I scan the night
How you were all to me,
So long how beautiful and bright.

Martha Forstrom

Net Gain

Do you feel the world's against you
And all of life within it;
That everything has gone askew
Or will, most any minute?

Do you reach for something steady
To help you through the day
Yet all the while are wondering
Just how things got this way?

And then you touch another
Who is much worse off than you,
And as you reach to help him,
You find he helps you, too!

Her herb harvest's in

Herb grower Cheryl Gazlay's kitchen leaves no doubt about what she means when she says it's fall harvesting season. The Northville resident is drying the yield of her gardens for use later in making teas, flavoring butter and creating a pleasant scent in rooms of the Gazlay home at 718 Grandview.

The various herbs are tied in clusters and hang suspended from ceiling beams amidst baskets and decorative cooking utensils.

Mrs. Gazlay has two herb gardens in her yard — and has plans for a third. The smaller garden outlined with bricks she calls her Silver-and-Gray Garden for the colors of the herbs it contains. Primarily, it is decorative. The larger garden contains between 20-30 varieties of herbs.

Her herb gardens were the choice of the garden committee of the Country Girls Garden Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association as the Garden of the Month for September.

Herb garden chosen Garden-of-the-Month

Cheryl Gazlay says the gardens were more attractive earlier when selected for the honor as they now are into harvest season. Most of the harvest comes from her larger garden.

The Silver-and Gray garden is centered with a clump of santolina.

"Everything's natural here," the herb grower explains as she relates that she places the santolina in her closets "because it is good to ward off bugs. It's very delicate without an offensive 'moth ball' smell but it seems to offend little bugs."

Dusty miller surrounds the santolina. In each corner of this garden are lamb's ears, an herb that looks like its name. "It's poisonous," says Cheryl Gazlay, "but decorative."

Most of the herbs in her main garden are edible — if not they're grown for decoration.

"I make herb teas, vinegars and butters," says the herbist, advocating her herbs as alternatives to garlic "for a nice flavor."

"You would be surprised what dill can do for butter if you mix it and use it the next day," she says. She adds that she grows garlic chives which she recommends as a more delicate garlic seasoning. She also grows and recommends chives as a lighter flavoring than onion.

The five or six different thymes she grows include a lemon variety. Most, says Mrs. Gazlay, grow by themselves and can be dried and used in potpourris. She emphasizes that almost all the herbs she grows are used except the hyssop, a Biblical plant, which is pretty.

"I have a lot of scented geraniums," she mentions. Varieties like the rose or lemon geranium have a tiny flower that, when dried, will hold the scent a long time.

Noting that the flower alone is not so attractive, Cheryl Gazlay says she mixes it with other herbs and uses orris root in the potpourris.

Most herbs, the grower adds, are perennials. "If I want a bigger plant, such as the garlic chives, I let it go to seed," she says. Basil and scented geraniums are annuals, however, which Mrs. Gazlay keeps buying each year.

In Our Town

Residents on tour—in England, Chicago

By JEAN DAY

Northville residents get around — both in this country and abroad. The Michael Berminghams of 366 Welch were surprised to encounter a different "Northville Road" when they returned to England on a visit recently.

"We were so thrilled... we immediately stopped the car and had Julia's picture taken to verify it," reports Anita Bermingham. The Berminghams were in the little fishing village of Hope's Cove in Devon, England, when they spotted the name on the stone wall by the road.

The Berminghams have lived in "the States" for 20 years, 14 of them in the Northville area. Daughter Julia, 8, attends St. Paul's Lutheran School.

O'Briens are among Ross visitors in Essex

The E.G. O'Briens of 18341 Laraugh are back from a trip to Europe that included Paris, Amsterdam and London. Near London in Essex they visited Karen and Peter Ross who are on assignment in England. Barbara O'Brien reports that they have just completed renovating a house as the custom in the British Isles is for those vacating a house to take everything, including fixtures, as they leave.

With the Rosses is their youngest child, Torn, who is in the American School in London. Son Steven is a freshman at University of Michigan while Mike is a sophomore at Michigan State. Current visitors from Northville are Margie Sievert and Polly Kelly. Mrs. O'Brien mentions they took along recent issues of The Record for the Rosses to keep in touch with what's happening back home.

BPW Chapter invites women to 'Speak-up'

Northville Business and Professional Women is looking for other working women to join the chapter as it begins a fall "Speak Up" program.

An informational meeting for prospective members about the chapter's activities and goals will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce Building at 195 South Main adjacent to the Northville Well.

At the orientation program guests will meet BPW officers informally as they have refreshments. President of the chapter is Marilyn K. Maher, a certified public accountant formerly associated with Holland-Newton who now has her own CPA office in Farmington Hills.

Other officers are Dorothy Cook, vice-president; Hilma Clifford, secretary; Pamela Welland, treasurer. Membership chairperson is Marlene Dana, a chapter and state past president. She may be called for information at 349-5382.

Virginia Plunkett serves as contact chairperson and Janis Stevenson as publicity chairperson.

In addition to monthly dinner meetings the chapter participates in regional and state meetings and is planning a Christmas season dinner theater program.

"We want to interest all women who work, whether in stores as employees or owners, in schools or businesses," says Stevenson.

Theme of the BPW in this year's membership drive, she explains, is "Speak Up — join BPW — it offers new ideas, new opportunities, new chances for personal growth." The national federation for more than 60 years has been the voice of working women, speaking up on such issues as pay equity and fair retirement benefits.

She's drying herb harvest

"It's rather pleasant to grow your own flavorings and scents," she explains as she reports she has been an herb gardener for more than three years.

Future plans include a Shakespearean Garden containing all the herbs mentioned in Shakespeare's plays. Mrs. Gazlay says she has the list, and she and her husband Chris intend to put one in next year.

"My husband likes the idea," she mentions, "also it's less lawn to mow." Mrs. Gazlay recommends herb-growing, saying "herbs almost care for themselves."

Until this summer there was a local herb society.

"We used to have our own group," Mrs. Gazlay relates. "I know many people are interested in herbs — I hope there can be interest enough to perk it up again."

She explained the herb group formed about two-and-a-half years ago had visited other gardens and had created items together from herbs.

The herb grower suggests there is a special therapeutic value in growing them.

"Most herbists are different people — they take life every calmly and are very gentle people. I started growing the herbs because that's how I want to be," she says.

Offer preschool speech aid

Northville Public Schools Special Education Department is offering the services of its speech and language teachers to help evaluate and identify potential speech and language difficulties of preschool children.

To determine speech and language difficulties in preschoolers, parents should consider the following questions:

1. Do you have difficulty understanding your child?

2. Does your child appear to "get stuck" on words as he or she speaks?

3. Does your child have difficulty expressing ideas because of inadequate vocabulary or inappropriate sentence structure?

To arrange for you and your preschooler to discuss your concerns with a speech and language teacher, call 349-3400, extension 258. Appointments will be scheduled for either October 6 or 7.

They're meeting in Chicago — at Institute

By train, car and plane Northville residents have been making the 250-mile trip to Chicago to view "The Vatican Collections: The Papacy and Art" at the Art Institute of Chicago. The 237 works were selected from the vast holdings of the Vatican Museums to be in the first major art exhibition sent abroad from the Vatican.

Art lovers like Northville's Marion Sober say it was well worth flying in to the Windy City just for the day to view such works as the Apollo Belvedere.

The Jack McNeelys (he is city and township engineer) reported they had come with a group of friends for the weekend when encountered in the museum's gift shop September 24.

The Bernard Bachs took the train to Chicago and, like us, stayed at the elegantly refurbished Palmer House located only seven minutes from the art institute. The exhibit, which came from New York July 23, continues in Chicago through October 16 when it goes to San Francisco on the three-city tour.

Newcomers to become famous Ghosts of Future

"The witch has cast her spell and Northville Newcomers will join together for a Ghosts of the Future Halloween party October 29," announces President Joan Hursey. A witch brew and Count Scary's meal are planned for guests who are asked to "come as you wish to be when you are reincarnated." Mrs. Hursey suggests becoming a Dolly Parton or Mr. T.

The party scene is the Dave and Karen Couser home, 42725 Steeple View Court. Reservations ($12 a couple) should be made with Bonnie DeSiro, 420-0027 before October 19. Anyone living in the Northville school district five years or less is eligible to join Northville Newcomers.

Highland Lakes' show has different focus

The annual fall dessert fashion show of Highland Lakes Women's Club, as usual, promises to be a sellout. It is being held at 1 p.m. October 20 in Highland House. Along with New Gal in Town and Great Shape Salon will be fashions from Altair Sports.

Altair Sports, which specializes in leisure, sport and spa wear, occupies the store which formerly was Jean VanDam's lingerie shop in Plymouth's Old Village. The Highland Lakes resident now is focusing on her shop in RenCen. Three Northville residents — Rita Long, Fran Hennings and Nichole Anderson — are among the 10 owners of Altair Sports which opened less than a year ago. It also features clothing for men.

Ruth Beagen, chairperson for this year's show, announces that member models will be Elsa Danke, president; Betty Elstro, treasurer; Margaret Blair, vice president; Mary Koehler, Chris Hinkle, Rosemary Horgan and Izma Chmiel.

Dancin' fun

After cheering on the Mustangs, Northville High School students gathered in the high school cafeteria September 23 for a Sadie Hawkins Day dance to lead off senior class activities for the year. Steve Frellick, right, came in costume — not quite Dogpatch. Girls had no trouble finding partners as they filled the dance floor. Record photos by Steve Fecht.

Principal Bolitho's speaker at AAUW program

Members of the Northville Branch of the American Association of University Women will be meeting new high school principal David Bolitho and hearing about the 32nd biennial convention of the AAUW held in June at their October meeting.

It is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday at Amerman Elementary.

Principal Bolitho is to discuss current criticisms of the public educational system and action being taken locally to improve the system.

He received his BA in history in 1971 and an MA in educational leadership in 1973 from Eastern Michigan University. He currently is completing his doctoral thesis in education at Wayne State University.

Northville Branch member Edna Fleming, who was among the AAUW members from Michigan attending the convention in San Francisco June 29, will report to members.

The AAUW is open to women graduates of accredited colleges and universities. Anyone interested in membership, or in attending Tuesday's program, is invited to call Jean Hansen, 348-6096, or Jay Ward, 349-3456.

First five entrants named in recipe contest

From main dishes to desserts Northville residents are serving up some special fare.

The request for readers to share a favorite recipe for a Special Collection to be published November 23 has brought tempting-sounding recipes from local residents — as well as from a Northville good cook transplanted to Florida.

The Record offered $5 to the first five persons to submit either one or two entries (limit is two) for the Special Collection.

Shirley Tapner of 45311 Galway Drive sent hers in September 23 — two days after the initial announcement — to become the first entrant. Watch for her delicious-sounding dessert recipes for Angel Food Torte and Lime Jello Dessert in the Special Collection.

Barbara Brogan's recipe for Hot Kraut receives a prize for $5 as it was the second contribution to be received. Mrs. Brogan, a resident of 755 Randolph, is sharing a recipe from her grandmother.

She wrote, "My grandmother gave this recipe to my mother, and I now have passed it down to all my children. We love it even better the second day (if there is any left.)"

From Vero Beach, Florida, Florence Booms mailed two favorites. Not surprisingly, Mrs. Booms, who takes pride in her Irish heritage, send a Homemade Irish Liqueur recipe. Her second submission is Cranberry Liver Pate — sounds like a great holiday offering.

Ruth Erickson of Spring Drive also is a $5 winner as she brought in a recipe for Pork Chops with Rice, a casserole dish that is flavored with mushrooms.

Final $5 prize for the fifth submission goes to Laura Jerome of 419 Dubuar. She brought to The Record office her recipe for Molasses Drop Cookies, a recipe with tasty spices and raisins.

Even though the five prizewinners for promptness have been received, it's not too late to have your favorite recipe included in the Special Collection. Just type or write clearly your favorite recipe (it does not have to be geared to any season) and include standard measurements.

The recipe should not be from a cookbook but, instead, should be from your own file — or received from family or friends.

Just send or bring it to The Northville Record, 104 West Main, Northville, Michigan 48167. Be sure to include your telephone number in case we have questions as we typeset it for the Special Collection.

Sometimes the little things make a big difference.

We think a funeral service should be a very special tribute to the life of a close friend or relative. We encourage our families to share their ideas with us on personal touches that might have significance for them. And we will arrange for these to become part of a most meaningful service.

The Northville Record

'Discover Northville Run' attracts hundreds

ROTARY RUN — A total of 335 runners from toddlers to old-timers filed into town Saturday for the fourth annual 'Discover Northville Run' sponsored by the Northville Rotary. Included in the morning's activities were a two-lap 'Fun Run' for kids, and 10 kilometer and 5 kilometer races for competitors in all age categories. Above, runners in the 5-K event begin their long haul from Northville Downs and through the city neighborhoods. At right are the overall winners of the grueling 10-kilometer (6.3-mile) event, Jim Gores of Westland, overall, and Donna Thibbert, the top female finisher. Record photos by B.J. Martin.

Once again, the Northville Rotary's annual "Discover Northville Run" was a rousing success, drawing 335 entries, some from as far away as Traverse City, to participate in the kids' one-mile fun run, or the five or 10 kilometer runs.

"I was very pleased with the attendance," said the event's director, Bill Tomczyk. "The comments were most favorable, and I think everyone had a good time."

The overall 10-kilometer race winner was Westland's Jim Gores, who clocked a 32:02 in the event. Donna Thibbert, 17, of Windsor, recorded the best women's time in the event, 37:24. The event was highlighted by a remarkable effort in the men's 50-and-over category, turned in by Terry Leland of Plymouth, who clocked a 38:31.

In the 5-kilometer run, Donnie Anderson of Traverse City posted the fastest time, 16:47, on a course officials agreed was "a little long."

Jackie McVittie of Windsor's time of 21:16 paced female entries in the event.

Strong showings by hometown favorites were posted in the 5K by two seniors on the Northville cross-country team, Jim O'Neill and Jim Riney, and Drew Paredes, and in the 10K by John Coram, who was second overall in 32:48, winning first in the age 19-24 category.

NJBA honors Frellick

Northville's Bob Frellick was warmly honored recently at the Northville Junior Baseball Association's First Annual Recognition Meeting.

To many people familiar with Northville's youth baseball leagues, that's not much of a surprise — Frellick has been called the "father" of Northville Junior Baseball for his long hours of volunteer work as a community leader organizing, coaching and managing boys and girls programs since his helping form the Junior Baseball Program in 1975.

He was to a large extent responsible for Northville's hosting the 1983 NABF World Series, but as some of the remarks made in tribute to Frellick reveal, he is also a much appreciated member of the community.

"(Bob) is a man of great strength always there when we need him and no job is too large or too small," said NJBA board of director member Joe O'Doherty.

Mustangs run past Canton for third win

By B.J. MARTIN

The unshackled passing game Northville coach Dennis Colligan promised didn't transpire last Friday night — but the Mustangs didn't need it, as halfback John Quinn gained over 103 yards on the ground to lead Northville to its third victory in four tries, a 20-6 pasting of Plymouth Canton.

Not that the passing was bad, mind you — Mustang quarterback Dave Longridge completed five of nine passes for 48 yards and one touchdown. But it was the ground game — and typically strong defensive work — that keyed Friday's win.

Quinn's performance was the third time the diminutive senior (5'7", 145) has rushed for more than 100 yards this season. Against the Chiefs, Quinn took an option pitch for a 2-yard TD to open the scoring in the first quarter, capping a 67-yard march on the Mustangs' first possession.

Quinn earned those six points, too — he had picked up 39 yards on six carries and took an 11-yard pass from Longridge during the scoring drive.

The Mustangs were stingy slowpokes on their next scoring drive, too — an 11-play 73-yard

'(Bentley's) not big, but they are physical. We should be in for a good game.'

march iced by a 3-yard Longridge keeper. En route, fullback Todd Deal picked up a 28-yard rushing gain and Longridge completed passes to Mike Sylvester and Brian Jennings.

Longridge tossed to Quinn for a two-point conversion, ordered by coach Dennis Colligan after the Chiefs blocked Northville's first extra point attempt of the game.

Linebacker Doug Hartman intercepted a Canton pass to crush the Chiefs' offensive momentum on their next possession, and on the Mustangs' first play afterwards, Longridge dropped back and fired a 33-yard touchdown pass to Jennings for Northville's final scoring strike. It was a straight fly pattern and the senior wide receiver just blew past the Canton defense for the TD.

Again the Chiefs smothered a Gary Strunk PAT, and Northville's 20 first-half points proved to be all the Mustangs would score against Canton, now 0-4.

"I wanted one more score," Colligan said. "We didn't want to just sit on the ball throughout the second half, but Canton just came out in the second half and played some tough football. I'm not saying we took a lot of chances to score in the second half, but we were definitely trying. They just came at us."

But it wasn't just the Chiefs who toughened up — the Mustang defense did, also. The defense recorded six quarterback sacks — two by Dave Wilson and one each by Mike Weber, Steve Schrader, Matt Meyer and Dan Nielsen.

Steve Smith also contributed some ferocious defensive hitting, collecting six first hits and four assists. Hartman had four first hits and eight assists to go with his interception.

Hartman also figured in the strange play that led to Canton's only score late in the first quarter. On a Canton pass play, he laid a hard hit on Chief receiver David Knapp, forcing what appeared to be an incomplete pass. But the referee nearby ruled the loose ball a fumble, and the Chiefs' Rodney Williams snatched the loose ball and carried it 35 yards for a Canton touchdown.

"It was an alert play by that Canton player," Colligan said, "but I don't hold it against our defense at all. Our guys thought it was an incomplete pass."

Also pitching in with some hard hitting were Meyer (five first hits, three assists), Gary Pendleton (five first hits) Chris Shuff (four first hits) and Weber (four first hits and one quarterback sack).

The Mustang victory gave Northville a 3-1 season record, and a 1-1 Western Lakes mark. Northville hosts Livonia Bentley Friday at 7:30 p.m. The Bulldogs are only 1-3 this season, but have lost to 4-0 Warren Woods, 4-0 Walled Lake Central and 3-1 Livonia Stevenson.

"They were all close games, too," Colligan said. "They have an excellent defensive team, a great kicker and Steve Gregor, who's a good passer. We'll try to contain him and try to get a little more yardage with the pass. They're not big but they are physical. We should be in for a good game."

Northville soccer team blasts Churchill Chargers

The Mustangs' ability to beat opponents to the ball has been the day-in, day-out factor deciding the outcome of the soccer squad's games this season, and two league games last week — a 1-0 loss to Plymouth Salem and a 4-0 win over Livonia Churchill — illustrated that point clearly.

In the first game, a let-up in aggressive play cost the Mustangs the game, and in the second, it seemed Northville kickers were everywhere.

"That's our style," agreed co-coach (with Dan Swayne) Marvin Gans. "And it's hard to play that style of game every time out."

One of the pluses in the battle to thrive in the tough league has been the Mustangs' depth — Northville rarely if ever loses much talent when the coaches go to the bench. The usefulness of that depth when the team plays the high-pressure, jackrabbit-paced game that characterizes its good outings, is visually undeniable and makes for exciting soccer viewing.

NORTHVILLE 4 CHURCHILL 0

The luxury of depth was evident against Churchill, particularly in the second half as the Chargers slowly wore down. After a see-saw first period, Northville held a shaky 1-0 lead on Steve Starcevic's bullet header off a textbook-perfect corner from Doug May. A couple of cool-headed saves by seasoned Mustang goalkeeper Jeff Metz helped keep Churchill at bay.

But in the second half, the hardest shots on Metz came from teammates passing back to the steady senior. The Mustangs simply ran down every loose ball and rallied for three goals, the first by striker Dave Yarmuth, and two more by midfielder Doug May. May got his goals on a cross from the wing and his second on his volley of a throw-in by Yarmuth.

Coaches Swayne and Gans shuffled in the entire Mustang roster, rotating players back and forth. Starcevic contributed a steady game at both striker and midfield, and finished the game at fullback. Brian Dragon was one of the key team leaders in the game, playing aggressively at midfield, while his co-captain Scott Gala did an impressive job of controlling play in the backfield.

"Everybody played very well that game," Gans remarked.

PLYMOUTH SALEM 1 NORTHVILLE 0

Kevin Sultana's breakaway goal in the evenly-played first half emerged the game-winner despite a furious second-half effort by the Mustangs, who simply had trouble taking advantage of their ball control.

Shot after shot whipped past the Salem goal or was thwarted by the Rocks' goalkeeper, who contributed a game-saving performance that day in handing Northville its first league loss.

Salem rarely controlled the ball past midfield throughout the second period, but as Gans put it, "It was just one of those things. They played well, they deserved the win."

The two games moved Northville's season record to 6-3-1, 3-1-1 in WLAA competition. The Mustangs will try to get back on the stampede tomorrow, when they host league rival Livonia Bentley at 7 p.m. A make-up game against Livonia Franklin is scheduled for 11 a.m. Saturday, also at home.

Ocelots upset U-M

Kris Petit of Northville scored two goals to lead Schoolcraft College to a 3-1 upset win over the University of Michigan soccer club Sunday in Ann Arbor.

Schoolcraft outshot the Wolverine bunch 19-18, taking the highly-touted club by surprise. "It was a very exciting game, lots of back and forth action," said Ocelot coach Ed Dudek, whose club now sports a 2-1 record.

Other Northville natives contributed to the win, Dudek noted. Liz Bohan, picked up an assist in the contest, while Martina Millen contributed a solid defensive game, Dudek said.

Unbeaten tennis team aims for a league title

By B.J. MARTIN

Clear the streets — it's showdown time for the two hotshots contending for the Western Lakes Activities Association tennis championship, Northville and Farmington Harrison.

Both the Mustangs and the Hawks were undefeated in league play as of last week, with Northville notching wins over Livonia Bentley and Plymouth Canton to boost the Mustangs' conference record to 7-0. If Northville can get by both Walled Lake Central today (at 3:30 p.m.) and the Hawks on Friday (at Northville, 3:30 p.m.), the Mustangs will have the league dual-meet title.

Harrison, paced by its outstanding first singles player Kelly Davidson, defeated Central 4-3 last week.

To win the overall league title, Northville must also finish strongly at the WLAA tournament at Plymouth Canton Tuesday. Beginning at 9 a.m., all 10 league teams will play off on the Plymouth school's 14 courts to determine the league's top teams, overall and for the Lakes and Western divisions.

Last season, Northville took third at the league tourney, but the Mustangs this year have two singles players, Vicki Robins and Denise Colovas, and one doubles team, Jean DuSablón and Jennifer Trasuch, who are undefeated in league play thus far. Coach Uta Filkin said frankly she thinks the team is capable of going all the way this season.

"Harrison will be a tough one," Filkin agreed. "But we have a format in this year's league tournament that will help us a bit more, I think."

NORTHVILLE 6 LIVONIA BENTLEY 1

Only Holly Hubbard lost her match against the Bulldogs, but against Bentley's nationally ranked first singles player Jennifer Riault, Hubbard's 1-6, 1-6 loss was still commendable.

The remaining Mustangs were as merciless as Riault, however. Jackie Nicols knocked off Catia Monforton in second singles while Robins nipped Catia's sister Lisanne in a thriller, 6-4, 6-7, 7-5. "That was quite a match," Filkin reported. "Vicki has played better — she was really struggling. I'm just glad she was able to beat her and stay undefeated."

Colovas dropped Bentley's Katrina Smith 6-1, 6-3 in fourth singles, while in doubles, the team of Jeanine Cook and Leslie Oliver beat Maria Jesena and Jennifer Sedor 6-0, 7-5; Trausch and DuSablón whipped Joan McDonald and Natalie Mellyczuk 6-0, 6-3; and Jill Jensen and Lori Housman topped Jennifer Scrutter and Julie Lucow, 6-2, 6-0.

NORTHVILLE 7 PLYMOUTH CANTON 0

"That was a very nice win for us, as we had some trouble with them in the past," Filkin observed. In spite of the Chiefs' dogged ball-chasing style of play, however, Northville still managed an easy rout.

"All of Canton's players were ball retrievers," Filkin pointed out. "The girls had to work for their victory."

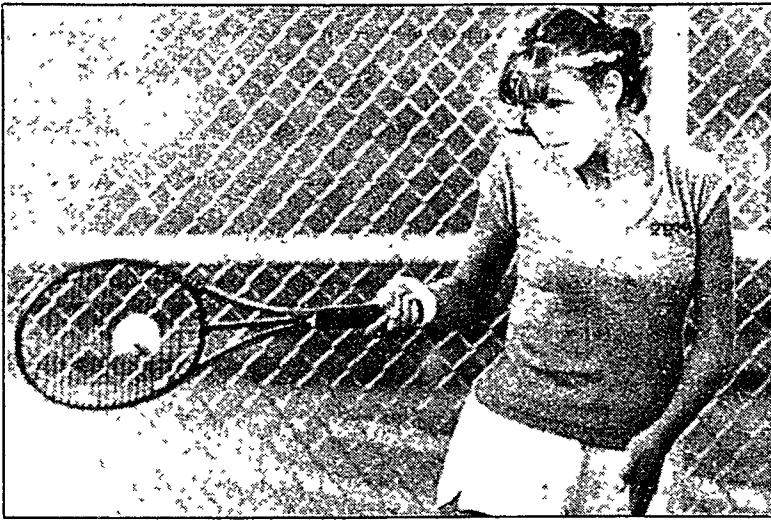

Hubbard got back on the winning track by beating Linda Sarasian, 6-3, 6-4. Nicols topped Lisa Hays 6-4, 6-3. Robins beat Missy Lloyd 6-3, 7-6 in what Filkin called "a real long drawn-out struggle," and Colovas beat Julie Specter 6-3, 6-4.

"That was one marathon match, although it might not sound like it," Filkin noted. "The first game alone took 20 minutes to play. It was very evenly matched. I'm pleased Denise had enough savvy to put it away."

In doubles, Cook and Oliver whipped Nancy Reinhardt and Kristen Smith 6-0, 6-1; DuSablón and Trausch powered past Kelly Craig and Ping Zhou; and Amy Nieuwkoop and Lauren Oliver defeated Renee Zens and Angela Kocik 6-4, 3-6, 6-2.

In junior varsity competition, Lynn Frellick was beaten 7-8, Jensen and Housman lost 4-6, 4-6, Diane Lindquist and Shari Faydenko won 8-1, Audrey Kazaly and Jennifer Millgard won 6-0, 6-0; Mandy Olgren and Sue Lane won 8-0; and Dorothy Ziegler and Kim Abraham won 8-2.

"That's the most competition we've had in a JV match," Filkin said. "Usually we just have to play each other."

Basketball squad still struggling to post first victory

By B.J. MARTIN

— loss of the season 40-11.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL 47
NORTHVILLE 30

Building a winning basketball program isn't easy. Ask someone on the Northville varsity team, still looking for its first victory of the season after two more losses last week — both to league rivals. The Mustangs now have lost eight games.

The squad has had a couple of close calls this season, but that was far from the case in its game against Livonia Churchill last Thursday and Plymouth Salem two days earlier.

"We were pretty outclassed," coach Rick Hurst said sadly. "There's no denying those are two good teams."

JV's took their second — and biggest

It got out of hand early, as the Chargers put together a 19-9 first-quarter lead, and that was as close as the Mustangs ever pulled. With the Mustangs' best scoring threat Denise Liddle confined to the bench with illness throughout the contest, the Mustangs' already wafer-thin roster crumbled, doubly hurt by Churchill's preference for a fast-paced running game.

Erin Ryan contributed one of her best games, collecting six points and six re-

"We were pretty outclassed... There's no denying those are two good teams."

Rick Hurst

bounds, Sue Terwin showed flashes of offensive involvement, and reserve guard Pat Wazny began hitting her stride — but there was no denying the caliber of the Charger hoopsters.

In its familiar tight zone, Northville again cut off the lane without much height to speak of — but Charger shooters were able to burn continually the zone with 18-foot howitzers, and without Liddle's muscle underneath, Northville had trouble rebounding. "They can really fill it up," Hurst said of Churchill's long-range gunners. "Offensively, they were a sharp team. They also broke our continuity when they went to a full-court press. By the time we were down by 10, we knew it would be a long, hard grind."

PLYMOUTH SALEM 39
NORTHVILLE 16

That's right, 16. Only five of which were scored in the first half.

"We weren't able to penetrate their halfcourt defense at all," Hurst explained. "Salem likes the halfcourt game and they put a lot of pressure on our guards, denying them an inside pass. We were able to run our patterns on them, but we couldn't get any penetration."

Salem, on the other hand, got outside shooting to spare. "We're going to work on that," Hurst said. "We're able to deny most teams inside, but our next big task is to learn to defend against outside shots."

Always a good free throw shooter, Wazny again contributed some heads-up basketball, matching Tricia Ducker's six points. "Pat's beginning to get her feet on the floor better now," Hurst said optimistically. "She's cutting down on her turnovers and I feel a lot better about having her in the game," Hurst said, adding he is "more pleased all the time" with Ducker, who is learning to play an active inside game.

Junior varsity won 32-28. Northville matches up against league rival Livonia Bentley and its hot shooter Laurie Day tomorrow at 7:30 p.m., then hosts Plymouth Salem Tuesday. "They're the kind of teams we like to play," Hurst said hopefully. "If we can adapt to their offense better than they adapt to us, we could pull off a win."

Colt grid squads take on Steelers

Varsity

The Plymouth Steelers had size and speed to spare, and handed Northville-Colts a 35-12 loss Saturday. Colts defensive end Derek Osborne, who had an exceptional game on defense, was instrumental in the Colts' first touchdown. On consecutive plays he sacked the Steelers' quarterback and then blocked a punt deep in Steeler territory. Three plays later, quarterback Scott Stephens threw a 15-yard touchdown strike to Ed Walsh.

Mike Wargo picked up the Colts' second touchdown with a 26-yard run early in the fourth quarter.

Junior Varsity

The Plymouth Steelers junior varsity capitalized on two Colt fumbles and a mis-snap from center and scored three touchdowns against the Colts to win 18-6 Saturday.

It was the Colts' homecoming game at Northville High School football stadium, and the Northville-Colts game did create some excitement. David Pierie scored the only Colts touchdown in the third quarter on an 18-yard sweep around right end. Jeff Duwell and Steve Bastian kept the game within reach by intercepting Steeler passes and quarterback Greg Paler completed three passes for 45 yards in the losing effort.

Freshmen

Double-threat quarterback Jon Barbara led the Northville Colt freshmen to a 20-6 victory over the Plymouth Steelers.

Barbara opened the game scoring with a three yard keeper set up by a 37-yard pass completion from Barbara to Kevin Delaney. Barbara passed to Graig Probert for the extra point.

Barbara scored again in the second quarter on a 19-yard run, and passed to Chris Harris for the extra point.

Harris closed out the Colts' scoring on a seven-yard TD pass completion. Altogether, the Colts rolled up 104 yards in the air and 113 rushing to notch their fourth straight win.

The Colt teams will be featured at the Silverdome Sunday.

Announcement: The annual Northville-Colts junior football banquet will be held Tuesday, November 1, at Schoolcraft College.

The evening will begin with dinner at 7 p.m., served by the culinary arts department at Schoolcraft. Guest speaker for the evening will be Rick Leach, first baseman for the Detroit Tigers and previously a star of both the football and baseball teams at University of Michigan.

Leach will give a motivational talk on sports involvement, followed by a question and answer period. Some of the invited guests will include: Ralph Redmond, Northville High School Athletic Director; Dennis Colligan, Head Football Coach at Northville; and John Osborne, Head Football Coach and Athletic Director at Northville High School.

Awards will be presented to the Colts football and cheerleading squads. Anyone is interested in attending may contact Barb Slavrakas at 349-6108.

Northville Downs track opened for kids' 'Fun Run'

TOT TRACKSTERS — The kids one-mile fun run Saturday morning drew 37 entries, all of whom completed two laps around the Northville Downs track, then made a beeline for the soda and pizza station nearby. A number of Northville youngsters made good showings in the event, and several went on to compete in the 5-kilometer run which began shortly after-

Mustang link squad braces for post-season tournaments

Two disappointing losses in three league golf matches last week caused the Northville varsity to tumble downward in league standings to a 4-4 Western Lakes Activities Association mark. The Mustangs are 6-5 overall.

NORTHVILLE 207 FARMINGTON 227

It hasn't been Farmington's year in just about any sport, and the golf team was no exception Monday of last week at Meadowbrook. Bob Pegrum and Bob Justus posted rounds of 39, followed by Eric Morfe at 41, Bob Baird at 42 and Ray Nutter at 46 for the Mustangs for a whopping 20 stroke margin of victory.

NORTHVILLE 208 SOUTH LYON 210

In a non-conference match, Northville and South Lyon each were competing on their home course, Salem Hills. The result was a down-to-the-wire finish, as the first groups for the Lions and Northville finished tied. But the Mustangs' second group, paced by Justus' 39, proved to be the deciding factor.

"I placed Bob in that group because I knew he'd been shooting well lately," said varsity coach Joe Blake. Justus was one stroke off Pegrum's pace, while Ron Lisowski posted a 42, Morfe a 44 and Baird a 45. Keith Dutkiewicz's 38 paced the JV to a 213-216 win.

LIVONIA STEVENSON 185 NORTHVILLE 207

The Spartans posted a school record Thursday at Idyl Wild Golf Course against Northville. After a strong finish in post-season play last season, it is expected Stevenson will again contend for the state title in spite of an upset loss to Farmington earlier this season.

Justus paced Northville with a 38. Pegrum stroked a 41, Baird a 42 and Morfe a 44.

WALLED LAKE CENTRAL 204 NORTHVILLE 207

Central proved to be a formidable, well-balanced opponent also. "I think Central and Stevenson are two of the best teams in the league," Blake said. Pegrum shot a 37 to lead the field, but the Vikings had two players at 39, while Justus stroked a 41, and Baird, Nutter, Dutkiewicz and Morfe 43 each.

The Mustangs conclude their regular season this week, and will play this Friday at the Midwest Invitational at Hilltop Golf Course in Plymouth as a tune-up for the league meet Monday at Rolling Meadow Golf Course in Northfield Township.

Grid contest winners posted

Northville's BOB GERLACH takes home the $10 first prize in this week's Northville Record/Novi-Walled Lake News Football Contest. Bob predicted the winner of 12 of the 14 high school and college games we picked last week, calling only the Iowa-Illinois game incorrectly and failing to predict a tie in the Purdue-Michigan State game.

C.B. EUBANKS, also of Northville, came close enough to pick up the $5 second prize. Had C.B. not counted on Army to knock off Harvard, his tie-breaker guess of 27 points would have netted him first place. As it was, the tie-breaker nudged C.B. past Northville's KAREN BRINING'S guess of 28 points. Karen had the Crimson picked to win, but figured Missouri was the favorite against E. Carolina. The Tigers were, but lost anyway. Still, Karen takes home the $3 third prize.
