Prison foes rally, plan to take fight to state legislators

By B.J. MARTIN

About 150 area residents gathered under gloomy skies Saturday morning at the Wayne County Child Development Center to demonstrate their opposition to state plans to build a medium-security prison almost directly across Sheldon Road, on the site of the Plymouth Center for Human Development.

The message being sent to Lansing legislators by the crowd and by the local officials and activists who addressed them was, in the words of Northville School Board President Chris Johnson: "We are outraged, and it's time to let the state know how outraged we are."

The rally was organized by the Concerned Citizens of Western Wayne County, a group opposed to fight the prison relocation from the planned site at Beck and Five Mile.

Kitty Rhoades, co-president of CCWWC, announced the group's intention to carry the fight against the prison directly to Lansing, if necessary.

Township Supervisor John E. MacDonald thanked those who came out, in the rain to support the rally and said the township probably "will be asking you to board buses to carry the protest right to Lansing."

Speakers from not only Northville Township, but the City of Northville, Livonia, Canton Township, the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, the Wayne County Economic Development Commission, as well as State Senator Robert Geake and Representative Gerald Law, unanimously voiced their opposition to a prison on the Sheldon road site.

Other officials were on hand to offer their support for the planned development of an elderly village on the Wayne County Child Development Center property.

Officials and local activists, including the CCWWC are mobilizing forces to prevent state plans to convert the Plymouth Center for Human Development into a medium security prison and actively are seeking funding. Members passed through the crowd Saturday with canisters and envelopes for donations.

Reasons for opposing the plans varied from speaker to speaker and from person to person. But apart from the potential dangers posed by housing incarcerated criminals near the planned elderly village, a main reason cited by speakers is the loss of potential tax revenue. Both the center property where the rally was held and the Plymouth Center property could provide added tax base for the township and Wayne County if privately developed.

Homecoming prank cancels NHS float parade

Fourteen Northville High School students were suspended last week following an upperclassmen "prank" which left one student injured and ultimately canceled this year's homecoming float competition and parade.

According to Northville High School Principal David Bolitho, the 14 students — all males — received a three-day suspension for their participation in an October 18 raid on the underclassmen floats, where one student was shot in the face with a BB gun.

Bolitho said the incident occurred last Tuesday evening when upperclassmen visited the site where the sophomore class float was being constructed.

Bolitho said he recognized that raiding the sophomore and junior floats is a "tradition that's been going on for years and years."

However, he noted, "this year it went too far."

Bolitho said he attempted to alleviate any problems by asking students to keep things orderly during homecoming week.

"I specifically announced to them

(the student body) that I didn't even want them near the other floats sites," Bolitho added.

However, his request was to no avail.

According to Bolitho, a group of primarily juniors and seniors drove a pick-up truck to the sophomore float site and proceeded to throw apples at the float.

"Anticipating an upperclassmen attack, Bolitho said some of the sophomores were ready with BB guns.

The principal noted that during the attack, one senior was hit only an inch below the eye with a BB. Though there was no damage to the student's eye, the BB punctured his face and still is lodged in his upper cheek.

Bolitho said the parents sponsoring the sophomore float had left the home only 15 minutes before the incident occurred.

After the attack on the sophomore float, the group of upperclassmen proceeded to the junior float site where they continued more of the same. Minimal damage was incurred on the home at the junior float site as a result of the attack.

Though township police were alerted to the incident and were at the scene, no report was taken and the incident was classified as malicious mischief. However, township police said Monday they were unaware at the time that a student had been injured in the incident.

Bolitho said the decision to cancel this year's homecoming float activities was made Wednesday after a meeting with the NHS Student Congress.

Bolitho noted that it was the students' decision to cancel the float competition and parade this year as a result of the incident.

Bolitho stressed that "not all the students suspended were involved in wrong doing." However, he noted that all of them were at other class float sites — which was prohibited. He also pointed out that two of the 14 students involved turned themselves in.

"These are all great kids," Bolitho said of the 14 expelled. "They are not the kind of students one would think

Board approves architect for high school renovation

With the successful completion of the Northville High School feasibility study under its belt, the architectural firm of Coquillard, Dundon, Peterson and Argenta had little trouble receiving the board of education's unanimous approval Monday to serve as architects for the renovation project.

Noting the "exemplary" services provided by the firm during the feasibility study and most especially the time and effort put into working with school personnel and the citizens' committee by representative John Argenta, the board unanimously approved the firm's approval pending agreement on contract language.

In outlining the agreement with the architectural firm, Assistant Superintendent Burton Knighton told the board that the architectural fee for the project was quoted to be 7.25 percent.

He said the fee will cover the design, construction administration and on-site representation for the additions and alterations to the high school through five phases.

Knighton said the first phase will detail schematic design and include initial drawings and specifications as well as a preliminary budget.

"Our hope is to have the first phase completed by December," Knighton noted.

John Argenta, who will be serving as project director for the renovation, already has met with high school department chairpersons, principal David Bolitho and Superintendent George Bell to review the needs of each department and area of the building.

In outlining a tentative timeline, Knighton said he hopes that design development will be completed by February and that the district will

City lifts limit on downtown loans

Intent on retaining $10,000 in grant monies allocated to a commercial rehabilitation loan fund city council Monday lifted the $2,000 cap on the amount that can be borrowed by businesses in the downtown development district.

"If the money isn't loaned out by December 31, it returns to the county for reallocation under their system," explained city manager Steven Walters. He recommended the $2,000 cap be removed to provide an added incentive for business owners to borrow the funds.

The federally-funded program (administered by Wayne County) grants loans for commercial rehabilitation projects in the defined downtown district at zero interest with a payback period of five years. Projects featuring exterior renovation are given priority over interior alterations.

Walters explained that lifting the $2,000 limit will allow administrators to consider granting one or more such loans in a greater amount in order to use up the $10,000 before it is lost to the city.

"The beauty of the program is that once we get the money out it becomes a sort of perpetual loan fund that renews itself," Walters added. Borrowers pay the city back in five annual installments, with the payments returned to the loan fund for reuse. Assuming the $10,000 remaining in this year's grant is allocated, Walters said, the total amount available in the city will reach $50,000.

"As it is paid back, we'll have about $10,000 a year available to be loaned out again," he added.

Mayor Paul Vernon noted two projects which received the loans in the past were the renovation of the Orin

Jewelers buildings (two structures, eligible for two of the $2,000 loans) and the relocation of Spagy's Liquor Store to become the Liquor Shoppe on East Main.

"The loans constituted fairly minor proportions of those projects," he said, "but the zero interest rate helped offset the cost of other borrowing."

In earlier versions of the program, building/business owners were required to put up a matching amount in order to receive the loans. Walters said that requirement was lifted earlier to encourage participation in the program.

"Now we're virtually begging people to borrow money from us," said Vernon. Councilmember Dewey Gardner noted that while it might be hard to understand why it has been difficult to

He added that most of the parents of the 14 students involved in the incident appealed the suspensions. However, Bolitho said he held firm in his decision and did not grant any of the appeals.

Though the incident resulted in the cancellation of the downtown float parade and competition, other activities went as planned. In addition to a pep rally Friday afternoon, a Homecoming dance also was held Saturday night.

"I think that we're a lot stronger as a result of this," Bolitho said, adding that he will be meeting with students this week to set standards for future homecomings.

"There's just no way we should be marauding each other's float sites."

find borrowers for the money, the small business owner who wishes to improve the property is not always free to borrow for such projects, regardless of interest rates.

Gardner and Walters both made particular mention that the loan program requires the amount be secured in the form of a second mortgage on the building — something that often requires cooperation between the business operator who wishes to improve the building and the landlord owning the property.

Walters said he hopes that with more available to individual borrowers (he said consideration would be given single applications up to the full $10,000.

Small Business Network slates test courses here

Schoolcraft College has been selected by the National Small Business Training Network as a field test site for two courses, "Business Law and Risk Protection: Don't Operate Illegally and Unknowingly" and "Inventory Management: Are Your Profits Sitting on your Shelf?"

The courses were developed as a joint project of the Small Business Administration and the American Association of Junior and Community Colleges. Schoolcraft is a community college located at 18600 Haggerty in Livonia at the eastern edge of Northville. In addition to Northville its district includes a portion of Novi, Livonia, Plymouth, Clarenceville and Garden City.

The courses are designed to provide management skills training to existing or committed small business owners and managers. Each course is six sessions of fast-paced essentials, complete with handouts and sample forms.

Business Law will meet Tuesdays, 7-9:30 p.m.; instructor is Robert Thompson, attorney and established entrepreneur.

This course is designed to acquaint the owner with federal, state and local laws that affect the daily operation of a small business. In addition, it covers information on insurance, which can provide risk protection for the small business. The six sessions cover general law, contracts, personnel law, taxes, government and insurance.

Inventory management is scheduled for Wednesdays, 7-9:30 p.m.; instructor is Steve Ungvari of the American Production and Inventory Control Association.

Managing inventory is an important factor in business survival. For small business owners, inventory is the largest asset of the business. Effective planning increases profits and helps keep customers happier, the course outline explains. Six sessions will cover: healthy turnovers, profitable product lines, discounts, timely delivery, markdown and minimizing costs and losses.

Both courses meet at Northville High School, Sheldon and Eight Mile roads, with 1.5 Community Education Units to be awarded. Fee is $40 with enrollment limited.

To register call Schoolcraft Community Services, 1-313-591-6400, extension 409.

begin approving construction documents towards the end of February.

He noted that should bids start going out in April, construction could begin by May.

Superintendent Bell stressed that "the project must go on with as little disruption to quality education as possible" and pointed out that the architects will have to designate areas of the building which can be renovated without disrupting student activities.

Coquillard, Dundon, Peterson and Argenta were contracted by the board of education in December, 1982, to work with the district on a feasibility study for the high school.

The board spent considerable time screening architectural firms for the project following the unveiling of the superintendent's long-range plan last October. A renovation of the high school facility was among the major components of Bell's plan.

Knighton pointed out that though the services of Coquillard, Dundon, Peterson and Argenta ended with the completion of the feasibility study, the firm has followed up the study and assisted the district in preparation for the bond issue election.

In approving the architectural firm for the renovation project, trustee Karen Wilkinson said she felt it was "important to note that John Argenta is a member of the community."

Argenta, a Morgan Circle resident, has been directing the NHS project since the start of the feasibility study.

In outlining the firm's background to the board, Argenta explained that the principals of the firm — James Coquillard, Dennis Dundon, Stacey Peterson and Argenta — have been together for 22 years.

He noted that since its inception in 1961, the firm has completed nearly 2,000 assignments for a diversity of clients.

Argenta also pointed out that approximately 80 percent of the firm's projects deal with public funds through municipalities, school boards, etc.

City in drunk driver patrol

Four Northville City Police officers will be sworn in sometime this week to participate in the Wayne County drunk driving control program. The deputized officers will then be authorized to make drunk driving arrests in any Wayne County community. They will be assigned at various times to various locations throughout the county for the specific purpose of arresting drunk drivers.

The idea, which City Police Chief Rodney Cannon said has worked well in Oakland County, is in its first weeks of implementation in Wayne County. Township police are already participating.

"We're looking for great things from the program," Cannon said. "In Oakland County they worked in teams. I prefer that approach, but in Wayne County they'll be assigned individually to give them a wider area of exposure."

Exposure is one of the key elements. Participating police cars are clearly marked as part of the Alcohol Enforcement Unit program.

Although four officers will be deputized, Cannon said, it is unlikely more than one city officer at a time will be assigned to road duty.

Bump shop plans get tentative OK

By B.J. MARTIN

The expansion of George Miller's bump shop operation into 202 West Main, a former laundromat, likely will take place this fall, providing Miller can present the city planning commission with an appropriate site plan at one of the commission's November meetings.

At its regular meeting Tuesday of last week, the Planning Commission approved Miller's request for a continued zoning variance permitting use of the building for a car repair and paint shop, provided his site plan required for granting a certificate of occupancy is approved by the commission.

That site plan must reflect the changes required by commissioners for final approval, including alterations in traffic flow plans and landscaping.

Miller's original site plan called for two driveways facing Main Street, plus a driveway facing High Street. But objections from residents living on High near the proposed expansion were raised at the Zoning Board of Appeals' September 7 meeting.

Among those objections were the appearance of the parking lot where damaged cars would be stored awaiting work, and an increased traffic volume. Several residents recommended completely closing the proposed High Street driveway.

The zoning board then approved a plan under which the High Street entrance would remain open, but the westernmost Main Street driveway would be closed, thus permitting construction of a six-foot high screen of plant material along the property facing High Street and part of Main. The zoning board also stipulated that no more than 12 cars be stored on the property.

City planning consultant Ronald Nino advised commissioners that objections to the appearance and traffic volume of the site would be addressed satisfactorily if Miller landscaped the portion of the property facing residents across the street to shield the view of the parking areas where damaged cars would be kept. Such landscaping he said, would be most aesthetically appealing if the westernmost Main Street entrance were closed.

"There are several fine examples that I am familiar with where the owner of a bump shop did such a fine job of landscaping and putting forth an architectural appearance like most commercial structures that one would not know the activity conducted was that of a bump shop," Nino advised commissioners.

"An elevated planter area along High Street and Main Street with decorative light standards within them could dramatically change the image of this property," he added.

One additional control over Miller's use of the property was extended by the commission — commissioners unanimously approved requiring Miller to conform to Wayne County emissions standards limiting noise and pollutants. In effect, the requirement permits the city to enforce the standards in addition to the county, which commissioners agreed, could be slower to respond to a complaint.

Throughout the meeting Miller indicated he had no problem adjusting his site plans to the commission and ZBA requirements.

Elizabeth's request granted

A minor addition to Elizabeth's Restaurant at 227 Hutton gained approval from the city planning commission last week.

The area of the planned expansion is 488 square feet, property previously site planned and approved for the use of buildings on the site. The modification will not have a substantial impact on drainage because additional paving will not be required. There are already more than the city-required number of parking places at the restaurant.

"What we're doing is improving our rest room and handicapped facilities (including a wheelchair ramp)," said Doug Campbell, co-owner. "The addition will give us a little more dining area, but we won't add any tables."

The planning commission's approval was unanimous.

Marquis theater season features musical shows

Live theater returns to the stage of the Marquis Theater this weekend with "Broadway Melodies" featuring the Andrew Henderson chorus and orchestra.

Theater owner Inge Zayti says she is offering three weekends of the musical production in response to requests and notes that prices are "very affordable."

Seats for the Friday and Saturday evening productions are $6.50. Sunday matinee seats are $4.50.

The musical show opens at 8:30 p.m. this Friday. Producer Andrew Henderson premiered the return of live theater at the Marquis with "Camelot" after the theater was restored to its original elegance by owner Zayti.

"Broadway Melodies" will continue this Saturday and Sunday, and November 4, 5, 6, November 11, 12 and 13. Evening curtain is 8:30 p.m.

Matinees are at 2:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased with Visa and Mastercard by calling 349-8110. They also will be available at the box office at the performances.

When the renovated theater reopened with "Camelot" in October, 1978, it drew a standing room only crowd. The following season "Barefoot in the Park," "Brigadoon" and "Man of La Mancha" were presented.

Movies also returned to the theater with mixed success in 1979.

In 1979 and 1980 touring companies were booked into the theater, including Woody Herman with the Thundering Herd and "An Evening with Cole Porter."

Mrs. Zayti says she is returning to live theater productions, as she originally intended when the theater, its stage and orchestra pit were restored.

Loaded school bus target of BB gunner

In the Township...

Northville Township Police are investigating an October 20 shooting incident in which unknown suspects shot at a Plymouth-Canton school bus traveling on Haggerty Road, south of Six Mile.

According to the police report, a bus window was shot out by either a BB gun or a pellet gun at approximately 3:30 p.m. while the bus was making its afternoon runs.

Police said no one was injured in the incident. The damaged window was estimated at $25.

Students were on the bus at the time the incident occurred.

A 1978 Chevrolet Monte Carlo, estimated value of $3,450, was stolen from the parking lot of a Seven Mile apartment complex sometime between 10 p.m. October 20 and 11 a.m. October 21, township police report.

The complainant told police the vehicle was locked and the ignition keys were in his possession at the time the incident occurred.

A neighbor living close to the east side parking lot area where the complainant's vehicle was parked said he did not see or hear anything unusual at the time the incident occurred.

The vehicle was entered into the Law Enforcement Information Network and an alert was sent to other area police departments.

The maroon and white vehicle was described as being in good condition with new paint, two rust marks on the hood and white wall tires.

Township police are seeking an arrest warrant for a Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital patient in connection with an October 19 bicycle theft.

According to police, an officer was dispatched to a Seven Mile apartment complex to assist hospital safety officers who were chasing an escapee on foot.

Police apprehended the suspect on Innsbrook, where he was found riding a girl's one-speed Stingray bicycle.

According to the police report, the subject said he took the bike from a nearby porch.

The suspect later told police at the station that he wanted to go home; so he took the bicycle and did not care to whom it belonged. The suspect was processed and turned over to hospital safety officers.

Township police are requesting the suspect be charged with possession of stolen property. The owner of the bicycle also told police she will prosecute.

An attempted break-in at a Portis residence sometime between 11 p.m. October 16 and 7 a.m. October 17 resulted in $450 damage to the home's double entry front door, police report.

The complainant told police that unknown suspects attempted to enter the residence sometime during the evening of October 16.

He further noted that while no entry was gained into the home, the front door was damaged to the point where it is not repairable.

A township officer at the scene observed no pry marks or foot marks on the door or frame. The officer further noted that the door appeared to have been forced with use of body force.

From State Police...

Michigan State Police at the Northville Post are investigating the theft of nearly $550 worth of clothing from a supply room at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital.

According to state police reports, the clothing was reported stolen October 13 from a supply room in Ward G-1, where it had been placed two days earlier.

Reported missing were 17 winter parkas valued at $427, 21 hockey-style caps valued at $12, 13 pair of men's gloves valued at $19 and 12 pair of zipper rubber boots valued nearly $90.

The report noted no signs of forced entry. Hospital security officers told state police all employees working G-1 on three shifts have keys to enter the supply room. The investigating officer noted that the room where the clothing was stored is very near a building exit onto the hospital grounds.

In addition to present employees in the building, security officers advised state police of at least one former employee who should be considered as a suspect in the thefts.

State police are seeking a warrant for the arrest of a 23-year-old Northville woman on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors in connection with the allegation she purchased alcoholic beverages for seven youngsters age 12-15.

A Brookland Farms resident filed the original complaint October 16 after learning from his 13-year-old son that alcohol had been used at an unsupervised party the previous evening.

According to the police report, the suspect was asked by the youngsters to come to the house where the party was under way in order to purchase alcohol. After collecting money from the seven, she allegedly went to a nearby party store and bought one pint of vodka, one fifth of Jim Beam whiskey and two quarts of malt liquor.

After making the purchase, the report states, the woman called one of the youth's parents and, posing as another teen's aunt, assured her that the party was supervised before leaving the minors alone in the house.

Of the seven youths attending the party, four were from Northville, two from Canton and one from Plymouth. The police request for an arrest warrant is based not only on the contributing to delinquency charge but also charges the woman was driving while her license was suspended.

Five men who told police they were in the area to conduct a drag race were arrested October 16 on Haggerty Road between Six and Seven Mile, according to police accounts. One of the five was subsequently charged with stealing an automobile license plate.

Noting a gathering of "high-powered race cars" in the Schoolcraft College parking lot, the police report states, the state trooper stopped the occupants of a 1977 Ford and a 1969 Plymouth. The Plymouth, which bore no license plates, was being towed by the Ford and contained two men who had open beer containers in the car.

The four told police they had earlier been at Detroit Dragway, where the Plymouth was raced, and later met others and arranged to meet in Northville for a drag race on public roads. After producing a 1984 registration certificate for the Plymouth, its driver told police the car did not bear plates because it was both a street and a race car and had just been raced in Detroit.

A subsequent search of the vehicle, conducted with the driver's permission, resulted in discovery of a license plate in the trunk. Checking the number through the Law Enforcement Information Network (LEIN), police discovered the plate had been reported stolen roughly two hours earlier in Dearborn Heights.

Under questioning, the men said they had driven up Telegraph Road after the drag races. The Plymouth driver claimed no knowledge as to where the license plate had come from or how it came to be in the trunk.

After police told the suspects of plans to dust the license plate for fingerprints and to fingerprint each of the four in a search for the thief, one confessed to having stolen the plate from a car parked at Stables Bar on Telegraph. He alleged that the driver of the Plymouth "hinted" that someone should steal a plate so that the car could be raced on the street.

The others were released and police filed larceny charges against the 21-year-old who had confessed.

In the City

City police officers' investigation of a "suspicious automobile" last Friday morning turned up a 50-year-old Ohio man seeking a car theft warrant from Ohio and a destruction of property warrant from Canton Township.

Police discovered George Washington Early of Ohio sleeping inside a two-door Porsche parked on Grace Street at 9:12 a.m. A check of the license revealed the car had been reported stolen and that Early was being sought by police. The vehicle was impounded and Early was turned over to Canton Township police.

Early was taken by Canton Township police to the Wayne County jail where he was awaiting extradition to Clairmont County, Ohio, authorities as of yesterday.

A plate glass window at Cooke Junior High School was smashed by a thrown rock between 8:40 and 8:45 p.m. Tuesday, October 18. The broken window and a smashed jar of paint that had apparently been thrown through the broken window was reported the following day by a custodial supervisor.

The incident was one of several acts of vandalism at the school this year. Damage was valued at $26 to the 36"x42" window.

St. Paul's plans dedication of church organ

This weekend members of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church will be hearing their new pipe organ in Services of Dedication as part of the regular worship services Saturday and Sunday and at a special Recital of Dedication at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Playing in the recital will be Huw Lewis, a teacher at Marygrove College and artist who has performed widely in the United States and Great Britain.

He worked with church organist Chris Lehl in cooperation with the Schantz Organ Company's district manager, Arthur Strahle, to draw up specifications for the new organ.

The recently installed instrument has 25 ranks of pipes, plus one half rank, and five extensions for a total of 1,457 pipes. No two ranks are scaled alike, organist Lehl announces, noting that some are made of metal, an alloy of tin and lead known as "spotted metal," a unique material in pipe organ construction designed to give brightness and create more overtones.

The larger metal pipes are constructed of annealed zinc for dual properties of strength and lightness of weight. Other pipes in the church organ are made of wood. The pipes vary in length from the size of a lead pencil to the longest pipe of 10 feet.

The history of planning for the organ, Mrs. Lehl notes, goes back to February, 1980, when it was apparent that the Allen Electronic Organ, which had served the church at 201 Elm for almost 25 years, had become totally unreliable.

Advised by experts that repairs could be made with only limited guaranteed success, the church made plans to purchase a new instrument.

A committee, headed at that time by Fred Sarnes, was appointed to supervise the purchase of a new organ. Lewis was retained as a consultant. Then, says Mrs. Lehl, "a long, arduous search was made, with every possible solution examined."

The Schantz Organ Company, a family business more than 100 years old, was selected to construct the new organ. Mrs. Lehl reports the company has a national reputation for uncompromised artistic ideals, highest craftsmanship and a business integrity "unsurpassed in the field."

In drawing up the specifications that determine exactly which sounds the organ will have, Lehl, Lewis and Strahle used the rationale that, first, the organ had to support and lead the congregation in singing of the Liturgy to the Glory of God; second, it had to provide sensitive accompaniments for the choir; and, third, it had to be capable of performing the standard solo organ repertoire so that the instrument may serve the large community as a viable recital instrument.

"All these goals have been achieved with unqualified success, and we are proud to present our fine organ," states organist Lehl.

The instrument, she explains, represents the latest development in organ construction and technology. It is an instrument of neo-classical design and was constructed by the Schantz Organ Company located in Orrville, Ohio. The firm is nationally known for its custom building of quality pipe organs.

Strahle, the firm's district manager, was responsible for the aesthetic appearance of the organ. He is the company's midwest area district manager.

The new organ, Mrs. Lehl continues, combines the traditional artistry of true pipe organ sound with the most modern technological developments in engineering for operation and control. The result, she explains, is an instrument that possesses remarkable flexibility, enabling an organist to produce music in a variety of styles, periods and "schools" with the characteristic effectiveness of each period.

"As the hearer listens to the recital," she says, "the variety of effect, contrast and color appropriate to many different kinds of music will be apparent."

Lewis scheduled to perform in recital

"Welsh-born Huw Lewis brings to the organ the legendary lyricism for which his countrymen are justly celebrated," says Chris Lehl, organist at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, in announcing the Recital of Dedication at 7:30 p.m. Sunday for the new church organ.

In addition to teaching at Marygrove College, he is affiliated with Wayne State University and also is music director at St. John's Episcopal Church and of the Detroit Bach Society. He has served as Dean of the Detroit Chapter of the American Guild of Organists.

Shortly after taking up residence in the United States, Lewis entered the National Organ Playing Competition held annually in Fort Wayne, Indiana, and was declared the winner unanimously.

He has since performed widely in the United States and continues to be highly regarded as a major recitalist in Great Britain where he has made frequent national radio performance broadcasts.

He received most of his formal education in Great Britain before moving to the United States to become a graduate student at the University of Michigan. He was organ scholar at Emmanuel College at Cambridge University and holds the performing and teaching diplomas of the Royal College of Music in London and the Royal Academy of Music. He was awarded the Limpus Prize for highest scores upon being granted the degrees of the Royal College of Organists. Following his work at the University of Michigan, he has studied privately with the renowned American organist Catharine Crozier.

The recital program Sunday will begin with Suite on the second tone, Louis Nicolas Clerambault, 1676-1749, with Prelude, Duo, Basse de Trompette, Flutes, Recit de Nasard and Caprice.

Chorale preludes on: "Ach beeib bei uns," "Valet willich dire geben" and "Liebster Jesu, wir sind hier" by Johann Sebastian Bach, 1685-1750, follow.

Passacaglia in d minor by Dietrich Buxtehude, 1637-1707, is followed by intermission.

Three Hymn Tune Preludes — Bryn Calafaria, Rhosymedre and Hyfrydol — by Ralph Vaughan-Williams, 1872-1958, continue.

Final selection will be Symphony No. 1, opus 14, IV Allegro vivace, V Andante and VI Final by Louis Vierne, 1870-1937.

A reception in the church school gymnasium will follow the concert.

Carol Whittenburg joins us this month with news about Christian Community School.

AMERMAN

Amerman wishes to thank the voters in Precinct Four for their positive 82 percent response in the recent bond issue election. Special thanks to Sharon Lang and her committee in promoting the bond issue in the Amerman district.

Students in Amerman's fifth and sixth grade Plus Program were provided with a variety of science experiences when they attended Cranbrook for four days, October 17-20.

The Title IX on-site committee visited Amerman School October 20. The committee observed and discussed sex equity at the school.

Amerman parents became better informed about school curriculum as related by Marcia Scarr, director of curriculum, at the October 24 PTA meeting.

The next Amerman PTA meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. November 14 in the school library. A film about seat belt safety entitled, "Room to Live," will be shown.

Lower elementary children will parade around the school in costumes on Halloween Day.

Amerman now has three computers. Librarian Mervin Hines is taking one grade level per week and giving basic instruction in the use of computers and available materials.

The only requirement for using this nursery facility is that you must sign up to help once a year.

Fingerprinting will be offered at Moraine from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. November 7. Any child not fingerprinted last year may take advantage of this opportunity. PTA members, in cooperation with Northville Rotary Club, will fingerprint the children—including preschoolers. Parents keep all copies of these fingerprints.

Current stationery is being sold at Moraine through the PTA this week. A submarine sandwich sale will take place in November, with delivery scheduled for November 17. The sandwiches will be sold for $1.50 each. The sale is being organized by Ali McKay.

A Room Mothers' Tea was held October 13. Thanks to all moms who volunteered to help with classroom activities and parties this year. Room mothers' jobs will get under way next week as they help coordinate Halloween parties in many classrooms.

Moraine students will be entertained by the Mercyaire, a choral group from Mercy High School November 18.

SILVER SPRINGS

Many thanks to Dee Sherb and Virginia Holderman for their superb efforts in organizing the Pot Luck/Open Houses held during September and October.

The annual PTA fundraiser kicked-off last week. Students are offering sausage and cheese from the American Hickory Farms Company and chocolate candy from Ross Candy Company. Proceeds will be used for the purchase of computers, computer software and classroom enrichment funds. Parents' participation by purchasing these products will enable the PTA to have a more active year and aid Silver Springs in the purchase of additional equipment that would otherwise be unavailable. Delivery date for the "goodies" is November 16.

The community participated in an especially rewarding experience last Thursday when Dwight Siegreen took us on an exotic adventure in South America.

Don't forget to save those Campbell soup labels! Please send your labels to school with your child as soon as possible.

Have some time? No place to go? Jane Anderson is looking for some "good" people who are willing to spend a limited amount of time during the morning school hours assisting her students from grades three through six with reading and math.

The library and media center's annual book sale is November 2 and 3. Students are invited to view the book offerings and purchase materials during the day November 3.

School will be dismissed at noon during the week of November 7-11 to allow the teaching staff to participate in parent-teacher conferences. Day and evening conferences are available. Any parent not having an appointment should contact the school.

The first PTA-sponsored Roller Skating Night is scheduled 6:30-8:30 p.m. November 15 at Skatin' Station. Chairperson Kathy White reports that we expect a terrific crowd of students, parents and staff.

Betty Smojver, Junior Entertainment Series Program Chairperson, has arranged for the area-renowned Mercyaire to perform at 1 p.m. November 18. The Mercyaire (from Our Lady of Mercy High School in Farmington) have been performing in the Metropolitan Detroit area for more than 20 years. Parents are welcome to join their children and hear an outstanding musical program.

The Student Council is alive and well! Students have just elected the 1983-84 slate of officers and representatives to work with Ken Pawlowski toward improved student-staff relations. The new selectees are president Larry Osiecki; vice president Jeremy Moore and secretary Christy Turner.

WINCHESTER

Winchester's Family Night Fun Fair will have a carnival atmosphere with games of skill and chance, prizes, clowns, a moonwalk, a raffle and a cakewalk, as well as a variety of foods for sale at five booths in the cafeteria.

Chairmen JoAnn Brummett and Sharon Morency encourage families to come for dinner and fun from 5-9 p.m. November 11. The fair will culminate parent-teacher conference week. Conferences will be held November 8-11 with children attending school half days.

Halloween trick or treaters will have a dress rehearsal before the "big night" as classroom parties will be held October 28 following afternoon recess.

Fifty Winchester families took advantage of Albright Photography's portrait offer which raised money for PTA projects, as well as providing families with an attractive photograph.

Kathy Wilson, national lecturer for the Gesell Institute of Human Development, spoke on the "Ages and Stages of Development" with emphasis on the kindergarten child at the October 13 Parent Education program. Watch for the arrival of a Parent Library which is being established by teachers and the PTA and will be housed in the Media Center.

Chairmen Meg Lysak and Beverly Tucker conducted a trial run of the fan-out October 19. If you did not receive a phone call, contact them so this can be corrected before the first emergency school cancellation.

Congratulations to the Student Council representatives who have been elected from each classroom and will be consulting regularly with Principal Milton Jacobi regarding upcoming school activities.

It's been a busy month for fifth and sixth graders. The students in the PLUS program spent four science-filled school days at Cranbrook October 17-20. Fifth grade teacher Bill Lenz accompanied them the first day. In addition, band instructor Gary Gandolfi is meeting regularly with the 70 fifth and sixth graders playing a musical instrument.

Winchester deserves a "feather in its cap" for having 311 PTA members—an increase of 91 over last year! A banner was created by Winchester students and presented to the PTA in appreciation of all the work and efforts on their behalf. Last year's major contributions were a multi-level wooden playground structure and two benches which are being used by students this fall.

Remember to collect Campbell soup labels. Help your child's classroom win the contest while helping the PTA purchase new supplies for our school.

COOKE

Orders for the annual Orange and Grapefruit Sale are due this Friday. This is the PTO's major fundraiser for the year and provides funds for needed materials and enrichment activities for students. Orders can be placed with any Cooke student through October 28. A gift certificate for a record album will be given each home room. A drawing will be held just before Christmas from the order forms collected so the more orders taken, the more chances to win in the drawing.

The PTO sold a record number of family memberships at the Open House. Cooke's $2 membership fee stays at Cooke with all funds being used to benefit the students. If you missed the Open House and wish to join the PTO, you can drop your money off in the office in an envelope marked "PTO dues."

The PTO will be serving Halloween treats to the students during the last 15 minutes of school October 31. Directly following, the Yearbook Committee will hold a Halloween Dance at the school.

The Student Council held its first meeting October 13 with newly-elected officers Liz Dimitroff, president; Kris Cassidy, vice president; Sue Schrader, secretary, and John Anderson, treasurer. Assistant Principal Tom Cey is the advisor.

The testing program started in September will be completed October 28. Seventh grade students have taken the Michigan Education Assessment Program test which is required by the state and tests minimum objectives in math and reading. Results will be mailed to parents by the end of November. The Differential Aptitude Test which matches students' interests with aptitude to go into a particular field has been administered to all eighth and ninth graders. A cover letter and test results will be mailed home.

Cooke will continue to collect Campbell Soup labels. The labels are worth points toward getting free equipment and materials for the school. The front of the label is needed, and a drop box is provided in the school office.

MEADS MILL

On October 11 and 13, parents turned out at parent-teacher conferences to see how their students were progressing after the first few weeks in school. The PTA also had its membership drive, and Meads Mill had many parents join the organization. Parents still interested in joining should send money with their child to the main office.

On October 14, students from each home room selected a representative for Student Council and the council in turn elected its officers. The following students will fill the following offices: president, Michelle Cross; vice president, Mark Dozier; secretary, Michelle Buck and treasurer, Karen Stinson.

The eighth and ninth graders were busy October 17 taking their D.A.T. tests. On October 18, we had visitors in the building evaluating the school's Title IX programs.

If you see your child taking more time with his or her appearance October 28, it is because school pictures are being taken that day.

On October 29, the band will be heading to Hill Auditorium on the University of Michigan campus. November 9 will be a half day for all students as it is an Inservice Day for teachers. The PTA will be hosting an Appreciation Luncheon at 11:15 a.m. November 9 to thank the teachers for their hard work.

A band and choir concert will be held at 7:30 p.m. November 17. Next PTA board meeting is at 9:30 a.m. November 14.

CHRISTIAN COMMUNITY

Christian Community School opened September 6, offering kindergarten through seventh grade. In addition to academics, the boys and girls have been participating in daily Bible study and prayer.

The Christian Community Cougars, our soccer team, have really been putting forth a total team effort in all their games. They play their last game at 4:15 p.m. tomorrow at Schoolcraft College field 9 against St. Michael's Lutheran School.

School jackets now can be ordered from the school office. They are blue and white with the school emblem on the front and back. Prices range from $16 to $28.50 depending on size and lining.

November 8-11 is our super-duper Book Fair. New and used books, school supplies, puzzles, stickers and posters will be on sale. The children are enjoying making posters for our Book Fair Poster Contest. One winner from each grade will receive $1 worth of free items at the fair.

Have your appetites ready! November 11, the students are planning to prepare a Harvest Feast. They will be cooking, serving and cleaning up. Each class will be making homemade bread and one course with the help of Sharon Dobbs. The menu will include beef and gravy served with rice, salad, vegetables, applesauce, homemade bread and Harvest spice cake. Children will be inviting their families. Also, each class will participate in a fall program of songs, poems and a play. The Harvest Feast will be held from 5:30-8:30 p.m.

Last but not least, a big thank you to all of those who helped with our candy sale fundraiser — especially Sharon Pilat. The combined effort of all resulted in profits that will go towards library materials and playground equipment.

OUR LADY OF VICTORY

It was standing room only at the first general meeting of OLV's PTO October 5 at the school social hall. More than 100 families attended with the fourth grade class winning the parent participation award. Dinner for two at MacKinnon's was the door prize won by Tom and Kathy Sanderson.

After introduction of this year's PTO Board and new staff members, principal Sharalene Thompson introduced Randy Casteel, school band director. Casteel described his professional background and outlined his plans for the band at Our Lady of Victory, including lessons and instrument rental programs.

The first newspaper drive of the 1983-84 school year will be this week, October 29-30, at the OLV church parking lot south of West Main between Rogers and Orchard. Chairmen Jim Luterek and Vito Curcull suggest everyone is welcome to bring their old newspapers during the day Saturday or Sunday. Your participation as well as the efforts of the chairmen and workers will be greatly appreciated.

Parent-teacher conferences will be held November 8-11 and provide an excellent opportunity to meet privately with teachers and follow student progress.

OLV students recently held their annual Christmas ornament sale featuring limited edition Currier and Ives designs. A second successful autumn event was the Arts and Crafts Sale which took place at the school last weekend. The entire school and PTO offer "thanks for a job well done" to Shirley Pelczar, her committee and all who participated in this event.

Earlier this month, the first and second graders enjoyed an "in town" hike to Parmenter's Cider Mill.

Township lets contract on Park Garden sewer

"This is an historic day," observed Northville Township Clerk Susan Heintz as Northville Township Board of Trustees acted unanimously to award the bid for the Park Gardens Sanitary Sewer to the low bidder at the October board meeting.

The board had waited to take the formal action until Liz McCarville arrived. A resident of the area, she had spearheaded the drive to obtain sewers for the Park Gardens area.

Supervisor John E. MacDonald expressed thanks to the citizens of the township who had worked with township officials to obtain block grant funding for the sewer, noting the funding is the "largest block grant program ever in Wayne County."

Estimated date for completion was given as May 30, 1984.

A pre-bid meeting was held October 12, the day before, at township hall with the low bidder, Iannucci Contracting, township engineer Jack McNeely, business manager David Leiko and a representative of the county and HUD. McNeely told the board that materials would be moved onto the site immediately and that there would not be any further delay to jeopardize grant funding.

McNeely, Lincoln and Associates had taken bids for the project July 29 with Iannucci being low among seven bidders with a bid of $793,670.

The project then received a delay as plans for the Haggerty Road Sewer were canceled in August and the engineer was asked to modify the plans. Wayne County Road Commission also notified the township July 29 that an on-site examination of road ditches in the subdivision located north of Five Mile and west of Haggerty revealed that ditching on Fry and Maxwell was required.

Because this was a ditching rehabilitation of local roads, the township was told it would have to be a 50 percent shared expense. It was notified by the road commission it would have to agree to pay its half share. It agreed to the estimate of $9,850.

DPW contract is clarified

Late addendums to the recently negotiated contract with six DPW employees were approved by city council Monday night.

Council by motion signified its willingness to reopen wage and benefit negotiations should the city's financial position drastically improve during the contract year.

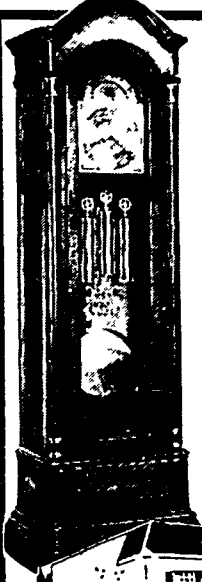

City manager Steven Walters noted that this provision was part of the negotiating stance. "Basically, we want to reassure them that if our fiscal situation improves we are willing to reopen the contract, but the chances of that happening are really very slim."

Council also indicated an open mind regarding a DPW suggestion that workers consider waiving contract provisions for jobs currently done by outside contractors. Walters explained that workers would like to see "if they can be competitive" with the contract costs.

"From their point of view, by performing these tasks as additional work beyond their extra duties they can add to their individual gross pay," Walters said. "If they can do the work at competitive prices, it would mean no additional expense to the city — only that we are using our own employees instead of contracting it out."

He said the proposal is analogous, in a broad sense, with the police department arrangement concerning race track traffic policing. Jobs previously done solely by auxiliary officers were offered to members of the regular force, who waived contractual overtime provisions to reduce the cost to the city.

Council members all indicated a willingness to consider such proposals from the DPW workers.

Our Opinions

Homecoming loss could be gain

Last week Northville High School students lost their annual parade and traditional float awards that are part of homecoming festivities — but everyone in the high school and community can gain from the loss.

As we view it, the action taken by new high school principal David Bolitho is the beginning of a new era at the high school. It would have been easier for Bolitho, a young man beginning his first full principalship, last week to have labeled the incident of float vandalism by another class simply "part of homecoming tradition." But who truly can defend a "tradition" that damages the floats of another class? In recent years, the seeking out of floats of other classes has become more important than constructing a quality float to represent one's own class.

Even more important, the BB that lodged in the cheek of one "invader" easily could have landed a few inches away — and destroyed the student's sight. This is not "fun" or "tradition." Bolitho's role last week was not an easy one. He is right in saying that those who were caught in the incident must be punished. They were without exception expelled for three days. Those who were not caught also were punished with the loss of the homecoming parade.

While it is easy to understand parents' contentions that "everyone" was not caught and punished, that is not the issue. Those who were deserved to be. It was not as though students participating in these activities had not been warned. Bolitho had gone on the high school public address system to seek cooperation in having a homecoming without incident — he did so because he had heard rumors of plans to invade and destroy the other floats. It must have been disappointing to the principal that his efforts for school improvement to date did not bring this cooperation.

To accomplish the "turn around" at the high school — a mandate when he was hired — Bolitho had no choice but to take the action he did. We respect him for this and expect that the school administration and community will also. Certainly parents serving on the Citizens' Advisory Committee that so thoroughly studied school needs before the bond election should be fully supportive of Bolitho. This is the committee that pinpointed the morale problems at the high school and recommended a "school pride" campaign as a prime part of the renovation plans.

It should be noted that David Bolitho, in accordance with the wishes of the Student Congress, did not cancel other homecoming festivities. The pep rally was held; a king and queen were chosen; and a football game was played. The Mustangs won on the field — we think they also won at the high school and in the community.

Farland's start of new rec era

The selection of John E. Farland to be the Northville Community Recreation Department Director, we hope, inaugurates a new and positive era for the department. That Farland was the unanimous choice of the hiring committee and that both township and city members on the recreation board echo the approval is a first step toward improved relations of the department and the city-township community it serves.

We think Farland's background and his enthusiasm will support and encourage ideas like a community band and chorus, dance groups and theatre, adult education and recreation programs, as well as expanded youth athletics. He has indicated he will be spending his early days and months on the job trying to determine what the community wants in these areas.

What he finds out will reveal some things about Northville that will be interesting as well as useful. Has this really been a community of people waiting for a cultural blooming, as well as ordering an expanded recreation program? The Recreation Commission, our representatives, apparently thinks so, and chose Farland from a talented group of applicants partly because of the dimension commissioners believe he offers beyond youth sports organizational skills.

Pete Talbot, acting director for the past few months, on the other hand, is exactly the kind of hard-working and genuinely community-involved supervisor who can effectively complement Farland's skills, if Farland lives up to expectations. All told, if Farland performs well and if Talbot sticks with the department, in the near future Northville should see the kind of program those most involved in Farland's selection hope for.

Midge's island trip was no fantasy

Those who know long-time Brookland Farms resident Midge Haynie and her husband Bob won't be too surprised that the couple chose Tahiti, Moorea (French Polynesia) and Rarotonga (Cook Islands, New Zealand) as a vacation destination. The outgoing Midge, who is business manager for News Printing, Incorporated, says she went to Ed Jamieson of Travel Plans and requested a "different" South Pacific vacation.

When they returned October 8, however, they related they had encountered a more unusual experience than expected. In addition to the lush tropical scenery and myna birds the 30 tourists — mostly Americans — viewed what at first was thought to be a "shooting star."

As Midge explains, they were on Moorea (sister island to Tahiti) sitting outside the hotel restaurant under a clear, dark starry sky when toward the west they saw "a ball of light falling downwards."

"Within a second it seemed to have exploded," Midge relates, "but not like a meteorite might do. Rather it was as though a giant cup had been turned over on its side and the contents ran out across the sky in a 'road of light' — my husband and many of the other witnesses concluded that it was a decaying satellite. As it fell into the atmosphere and disintegrated, the particles (thousands of bright, white lights) followed the original orbit from west to east across the sky."

Because, Midge says, "news is nil" on Rarotonga, she could learn nothing the following week about what they had seen. Her frustration continued when they returned to Papeete, the capital of Tahiti, and talked with the editor of the only English newspaper on the island. He said the occurrence had been reported by hundreds of people both on Moorea and Tahiti. He could only report that the French government on Tahiti was "investigating."

Convinced that what they had seen was not a meteor and refusing to write it off as a UFO, Midge says she feels this information could be valuable to our government. With that in mind, she wrote about the incident to her congressman — Carl Pursell — in Washington and Monday received a reply telling her the information had been sent on to NASA.

The vacation, she adds, has brought other concerns. "During our whole time in the South Pacific," she recalls, "we did not see one U.S.-made car or truck or bus." The vehicles were French and Japanese, she explains, worrying that Michigan's automobile industry still has a long way to go to be competitive.

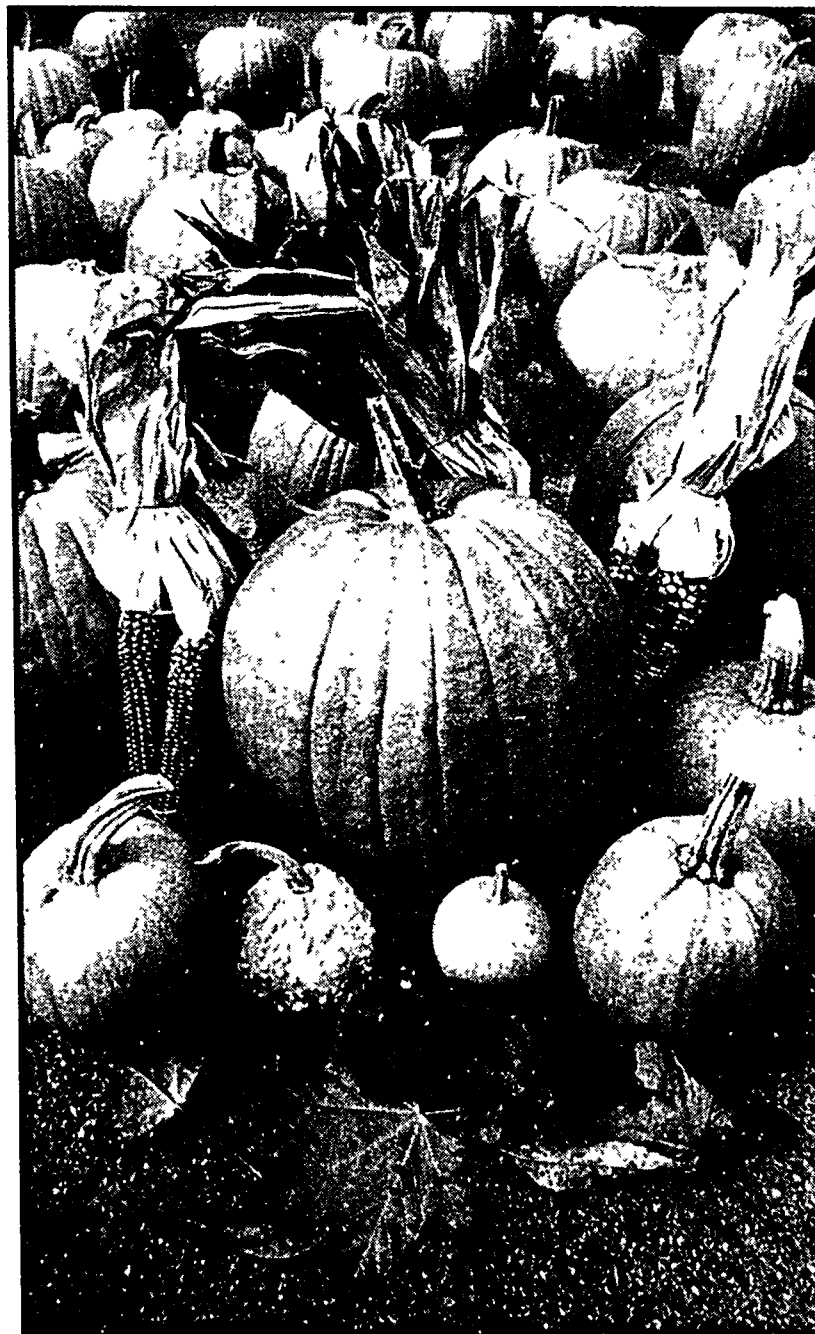

The surprises on the Haynies' trip didn't end in the islands. In California they attended the wedding of their oldest son Mark and Dee Anne Smith of Texas in the Sanford Chapel. It took place 34 years after they had exchanged their marriage vows in the same setting.

This reminded Midge and Bob that, somehow, they had lost their own marriage license; so they made a stop at the San Jose office to get a duplicate — and discovered it never had been filed. Now, 34 years and three children later, Midge has been advised to write to the state records office in Sacramento. Keep typing, Midge.

After the fact

By
PHIL JEROME

I just got back from two weeks of vacation. There's no way for you to know that, of course, because I wrote two weeks' worth of "After the fact" before I left for three days in Saugatuck and 11 days of washing windows.

Actually, it wasn't my idea to write a couple of new "After the facts" before my departure. With all the last minute details that have to be wrapped up before I take off, I have plenty of other things to do besides writing a couple of columns so nobody will realize I'm gone.

My big plan this year was to dip into the archives and run some columns I wrote several years ago. You know what I mean ... "Phil Jerome is on vacation this week so we are running one of his best columns from 1981."

It's an old play — almost all columnists do it. "Mike Royko is on vacation this week so ..." or "Jim Fitzgerald is on vacation this week so ..." You get the idea; it's done all the time.

And I was going to do it this time around until the idea was dismissed rather unceremoniously by my staff. When they asked what to do about "After the fact" while I was gone, I told them to select a pair of my best columns from a couple of years ago.

Unfortunately, the suggestion received a less than enthusiastic response.

"You want us to try to find one of your columns that is worth running again?" asked one, a look of skepticism on her face.

"That's not going to be easy," observed another, more candidly. "The Best of After the fact" is something of a contradiction in terms."

"I'll do everything I can to help out while you're gone," commented another. "But please don't ask me to find one of your old columns that's worth running again. I can only do so much."

I had an eerie feeling that they were beginning to enjoy the topic more than dedicated, loyal employees who want to curry the favor of their boss really should so I quickly terminated the discussion.

"If that's the way you feel," I told them, "I'll just write a couple of new columns." The resultant cheers were deafening.

Township Supervisor John MacDonald introduces officials

Prison relocation protested at rally

"The thing that bothers me is the opportunity for growth, which is in tremendous need, being wasted," Law told the gathering. "As time goes on, we can only see a decrease in state revenue sharing. . . . We want that opportunity on a local level to supply what we need for our own destiny as a community. It's important we don't allow this property to be destroyed in Northville Township."

Johnson spelled out the effect such a blow to locally-generated tax revenue would have on the Northville School District.

"With the cuts in state aid to schools, the Northville school budget relies almost completely on its local tax base," Johnson said. "We have a possibility to boost that local tax base and now the state wants to take that away."

William Tucker, project manager for a senior citizens' housing project planned for construction on the property where the rally was being held, spoke about the effect a neighboring prison would have on the elderly village plans: "It's the argument of the state it can save $20 million by building the prison here (on the Plymouth Center property). But if we're allowed to build the senior citizens' center, the state will receive $6 million in aid immediately. Hundreds of permanent and temporary jobs will be created. When the multiplier effect is considered, the state will make $20 million if we're allowed to build on the site."

Alluding to news camera crews from local television stations covering the rally, Tucker added, "I hope the legislature and the governor . . . will look at their TV's tonight and see what happened here, and see what that translates to at election time."

Representing support from residents of Livonia was Livonia Mayor Ed MacNamara.

"What sets northwest Wayne County above many communities is our long-range planning," MacNamara said. "We all know what kind of channels we have to go through just to build an addition to our house, let alone locate a business enterprise in a community."

"It's a little ludicrous that the state can, with one bureaucratic move, decide to move in over our clear objections."

"The state's irresponsible idea should not jeopardize the security of senior citizens," agreed Maria Sterlini, treasurer of Canton Township. "Northville Township has increasingly accepted the burden of housing state facilities while providing them with police and fire services."

Northville Mayor Paul Vernon shared the stage with Senator Geake, Representative Law, Wayne County Commissioner Mary Dumas, MacDonald, Johnson and Rhoades and told the crowd that the city stands ready to support the township in its fight.

Concerned Citizens group to date has raised $14,000 toward its goal of $20,000 to retain a lobbyist to represent residents in the fight against the prison relocation from Beck to the Sheldon site.

The Northville Township Board at its last meeting gave that plan its official endorsement by approving the hiring of James H. Karoub Associates, a well-known Lansing-based lobbying firm, to represent the township in its fight. Karoub himself is a township resident.

At this time Karoub's salary is being paid by the Concerned Citizens.

Concerned Citizens needs funding

To the Editor:

On September 22, Northville Township held a public hearing regarding the relocation of the prison. Since then, the Concerned Citizens for Western Wayne County has received more than $15,000 in donations to help pay for "the fight."

Last Saturday, 250 or more people braved the terrible weather to attend the rally. Even the heavy rains didn't dampen the spirit of the protest. It couldn't have been done without you.

We would like to thank each and every one of you for your time, your help and your donations. Without the support of the area residents, the fight would have been lost a month ago.

Unfortunately, it isn't over yet. We still have $5,000 to raise and are accepting any and all donations. Politically, the ball is in Lansing's court. We must wait to see what the government does before we know what our next step will be.

Township gives none

To the Editor:

I am concerned about the failure of the township board to make a financial commitment to the development of a relationship with James H. Karoub Associates lobbying firm. As Supervisor John E. MacDonald said, "with 36 percent of the township land owned by Wayne County and the state, I think we need a watchdog in Lansing." I agree.

However, it appears that Concerned Citizens for Western Wayne County are leading the fight, both morally and financially, which should appropriately be led by our locally elected officials.

Without a financial commitment by the township how can we as individual residents of Northville Township expect our voices to be heard effectively in Lansing? Why hasn't our local government seen fit to put its money where its mouth is?

I wonder if a board so derelict in its duty deserves to "represent" citizens who care enough to initiate the fight and then find themselves unsupported.

Come on Supervisor MacDonald, ante up.

Sincerely,
Peter J. Dliworth

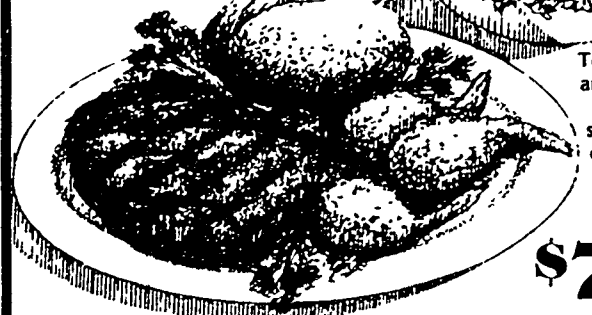

We must let the government know that our city and township residents will fight this to the very end — however long it may take. We cannot continue without your support.

please do. Remember, if you don't help, don't complain.

Sincerely,
Concerned Citizens

MENTAL HEALTH INFORMATION

Stephen P. Stocker, A.C.S.W.

AGORAPHOBIA

As a service to our community. Psychotherapy & Counseling Services would like to periodically provide helpful information on interesting mental health related subjects. Agoraphobia is one such subject.

Agoraphobia encompasses a multitude of fear provoking situations which can cause extreme anxiety. These situations can include fears of going outside, going far from home or other "safe" place, being alone, being in crowded places, being confined, going over bridges, waiting in lines, etc. Because of the fear, the agoraphobic will try to avoid places or situations which would trigger the anxiety. This anxiety may be experienced in the form of sweating, rapid heart rate, trembling, fear of passing out or going crazy, and, in it's extreme, a sense of terror or panic. Agoraphobia may develop gradually and become progressively more severe. As time goes on the agoraphobic may experience more and more fearful situations. Life becomes increasingly restrictive and the sufferer finds it more and more difficult to carry out necessary daily activities.

Until recently agoraphobia was considered a rare psychiatric condition. Many health care professionals were, and still are, unaware of it's existence. We are just now becoming aware of how really common this condition is. Generally, agoraphobia begins between the ages of eighteen and thirty-five, and it is estimated that about two-thirds of all sufferers are women.

Stephen Paul Stocker, ACSW, is Clinical Director of Psychotherapy & Counseling Services. He has developed and directs the new Agoraphobia & Anxiety Disorders Program. He has prepared a report which provides more detailed information on the nature and treatment of agoraphobia. This report is available at no charge by contacting the Clinic.

Plymouth may file suit for super sewer monies

While the death of the so-called "supersewer" is still being angrily debated, communities in the northwestern tier of suburbs deleted from the Huron Valley Wastewater Control System were busily gathering support for a new project dubbed "Son of Supersewer."

Acting on the advice of the Michigan DNR and city councilmember Paul Folino who attended a meeting earlier this month detailing the proposal, city council Monday voted to indicate its intent to cooperate with plans to combine improvements to the Rouge Valley system with the north Huron Valley project.

By combining construction of a parallel interceptor in the Rouge System, which carries sewage to the Detroit treatment plant, with new interceptor construction extending from Commerce Township through Northville and into Plymouth, DNR and Wayne County Public Works officials told government leaders they could expect 75 percent federal funding for sewer improvements.

Should there be further delays, however, the federal share in the project would drop to 55 percent.

And delay could be what's in store depending on the decisions of the township boards of Canton and Plymouth, which were both set to decide Tuesday evening whether to file a joint lawsuit arising from the original supersewer plan.

Notices of claim — notifying 30 government agencies of the two townships' intentions — were delivered last week. Named as co-defendants in the $200 million lawsuit are the city and township of Northville. Others are Wayne County, Detroit, the Detroit Water and Sewer Department, the state of Michigan, the DNR, the federal EPA and the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG), Novi and several other communities involved in the sewer planning decisions.

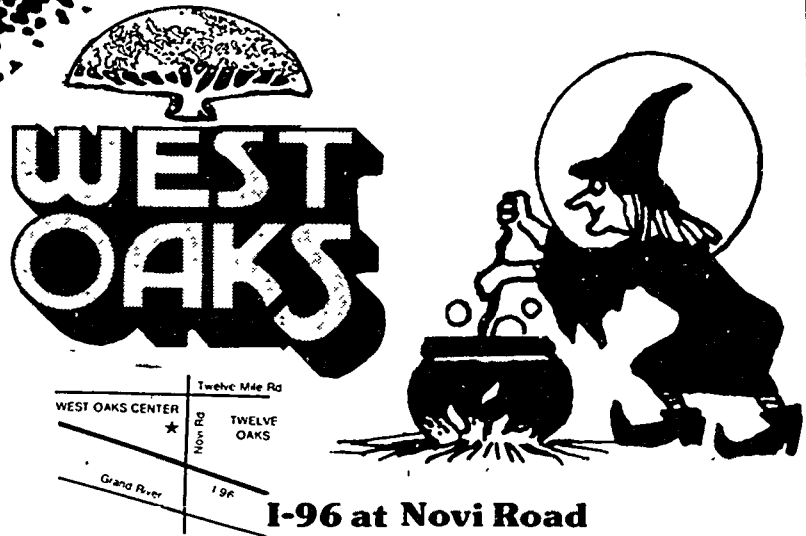

Northville Township had considered joining the suit but the board — in what some members describe as one of the toughest votes they have had to make — determined that while a court would probably find in their favor the long-term interest in having interceptors constructed would probably be damaged as a result.

"The time factor was a major consideration," clerk Susan Heintz explained. "We considered joining the suit and didn't because of the time concern, so now we're named on the other side."

While Northville Township felt it had to make a choice between filing suit and obtaining sewers, Plymouth Township is simultaneously pursuing both avenues. While considering the suit to recover planning monies invested in the Huron Valley system (which will route sewage to a new treatment plant in Brownstown Township) from which northern tier suburbs were deleted, Plymouth Township is also heavily involved in the planning for "Son of Supersewer."

Plymouth Township is the designated recipient of a $4 million grant to plan the new project which the DNR is recommending be combined with the Rouge Valley improvements.

New stores opening at Twelve Oaks

By PHILIP JEROME

Mays of Michigan ... Gelato Classico ... Nawrot Pendleton ... Redwood & Ross for Women ... Kay Baum.

William Clogg, general manager of Novi's Twelve Oaks Mall, ran down the list of new stores which either have opened at Twelve Oaks in recent weeks or are scheduled to open before Christmas.

By the time he was done, Clogg had read off a list of 15 new shops and restaurants.

With the new additions, Twelve Oaks is approaching capacity. The 15 new stores that have opened since July bring the total number of "residents" in the regional shopping center to 172, not counting the four major tenants — Hudsons, Sears, JCPenney's and Lord & Taylor.

Since Twelve Oaks will accommodate approximately 180 stores in addition to the four majors, Clogg said the shopping center is about 90-95 percent capacity.

How does the Taubman Company, which manages Twelve Oaks and numerous other major retail centers

"The typical family in our market area has two to four members and falls in a median age group of 25-45 years ... They're higher income, well traveled, well informed and sophisticated ... they respond to active new lifestyles and stay up with latest trends."

across the country, go about selecting its tenants?

Why is a Mays of Michigan, for example, welcomed with opened arms, while another prospective tenant might be turned away and prohibited from joining the mall community?

The process of selecting the proper tenants ... of creating the proper mix of shops and services ... is complicated and scientific. More than that, it's extremely important, if not critical, to the success of the mall.

At the core of the process are the marketing studies. Twelve Oaks does a major study of its market area every two years, attempting to obtain a profile of the consumers who use the center.

The marketing studies, the statistical analyses of the consumers, are a vital part of determining which stores will become tenants of the mall.

"Everything starts with the marketing studies," explained Clogg. "You have to know who you're trying to serve and what their needs and interests are before you can serve them."

Marketing studies were instrumental in the decision to develop Twelve Oaks in the first place. "The studies told us," said Clogg, "that the area was an extremely desirable corridor for the proper type of development."

"The market analyses also told us it was a relatively affluent area that lacked the type of retail uses found in a regional shopping center."

The second major consideration in tenant selection is "mix" — the proper ratio of each type of merchandise.

"A good analogy is that a regional shopping center is really like a giant department store," said Sheila Armstrong, director of sales promotions and public relations at Twelve Oaks. "We allot a certain amount of square footage to different merchandise areas based on marketing needs and trends."

"If you have too many jewelry stores, for example, it's not a good situation," added Clogg. "We are concerned about the health of our tenants; we know it's a bad situation to have six jewelry stores if there's only sufficient market demand for five."

Mays of Michigan, which is slated to open this month, is a good example of how the tenant-selection process works.

A prestigious men's and women's clothing store, Mays of Michigan is headquartered in Grand Rapids and maintains stores in Lansing and Boca Raton, Florida, as well as its Grand Rapids outlets.

The store is celebrating its 100th birthday this year. The original store was designed in 1883 by Frank Lloyd Wright, who also designed some of the original window displays.

Mays of Michigan is one of the tenants which was actively recruited by the Taubman Company.

"We had a void in that particular merchandising category when Hughes-Hatcher went out of business," explained Clogg. "We were familiar with Mays of Michigan because they also maintain a store in the Woodland Mall in Grand Rapids."

"We knew the company, we knew their merchandise and we knew their approach to retailing. They were the type of store that could fill the void left by the departure of Hughes-Hatcher so we called them and said we felt we had

University program to fund expansion, improvements

A five-year project to raise $160 million in private gifts was announced this month by the University of Michigan.

The most ambitious fund-raising campaign ever undertaken by a public university is being led by Gerald R. Ford, 38th President of the United States and U-M graduate, as honorary chairman.

Roger B. Smith, chairman of General Motors Corporation and U-M alumnus, is honorary co-chairman. Robert E. Nederlander is campaign chairman.

Honorary vice chairman is Harry A. Towsley, U-M professor emeritus of pediatrics and communicable diseases.

Three vice chairmen are Sarah Goddard Power, U-M Regent and former deputy assistant secretary of state; John E. Riecker, member of the University Development Council board of directors; and A. Alfred Taubman, developer and philanthropist.

The campaign goals will be in three major areas:

— To enlarge the University's endowment by $80 million in support of faculty and students;

— To fund capital construction and renovation totaling $80 million in support of key instructional, research and service programs; and

— To substantially increase annual giving in support of operating revenues.

The $80 million for building construction and renovation is earmarked for seven projects — Chemical Science Facilities; hospital replacement; construction of a new library, computing facilities and new quarters for the executive education program of the School of Business Administration; construction of a library and classroom facilities on the North Campus for the College of Engineering; construction of facilities for the department of ophthalmology, W.K. Kellogg Eye Center; School of Music performing arts wing; and Tappan Hall renovation and fine arts library.

The $80 million in endowment will be used to endow professorships ($40 million) and to endow student support ($30 million) through undergraduate and graduate fellowships and to endow libraries ($10 million) and assist special projects.

"We Service Well The Things We Sell"

TWO MEN FROM WIXOM are reviving the ancient craft of glass etching with their new company, known as "Magic Glass."

Gilbert Glen Pate, above left, and David Lee McDermott provide custom designs for glass etchings on just about anything: windows, doors, mirror art, panels small or large in both commercial and residential buildings.

Practiced by artisans for centuries, the art of etching glass now uses some updated techniques and materials, but the basic idea is the same. Clear glass is masked with a protective screen, and acid or sandblasting is applied to the unprotected areas to roughen the surface, producing a frosted pattern area.

Business Briefs

The revival of period styles has provided Pate and McDermott with a new market for their craft. Most recently, they have provided a custom grapevine design for the glass doors of the Appe'teaser restaurant's wine cellar in Milford.

Their work appears on several Northville business windows, and they have done custom residential work, including a safety glass privacy screen etched to match bathroom decor.

Their art work can be done on doors, windows, storefronts, table tops, cabinets, drinking glasses, plates and other table ware, from designs chosen by the customer. The Magic Glass partners can be reached at 669-4871 or 669-9343.

COMPUTER BUFFS in the South Lyon area have a new store catering to their interests. The Computer Corner, owned by Lyon Township resident Ron Wilkes, features Texas Instrument software and hardware.

The software includes games, business programs, programs for computer buffs, word processing programs and educational programs, Wilkes said.

The business programs cover such areas as accounts payable and receivable, budgeting and inventory control. The educational programs includes K-6 reading and mathematics (geometry, algebra and systems equations).

The store, opened in late September and located in King Plaza on Pontiac Trail between Nine and Ten Mile roads, also carries such hardware as computers, disc drives, auxiliary expansion equipment, telephone modems and cables. Also in stock are books and magazines on different aspects of computer use.

Wilkes, the sole proprietor of the Computer Corner, said he decided to stock Texas Instrument equipment because of the company's interest in educational programs. Wilkes, who also teaches at the University of Detroit, said he was putting together his own programs for handicapped children.

The Computer Corner is part of a three store partnership with identically named stores in Warren and Oak Park.

PEACH'S HAIR SALON is a new beauty salon in Tish's Center in Highland.

Barbara Cooper, owner of the salon, seated, will be working with, standing from left, Mary Ann Hayes, who has four years' experience; Nancy Sharpe, manager who has eight years' professional experience; and Kathy James, formerly of Kalamazoo.

Cooper said a new atmosphere has been created, with light brown and white lattice work, plenty of plants and a cockatiel, while the "coffee is always on and the conversation is friendly and warm."

The new shop is a beauty salon, featuring hair care, manicures, nail wrapping and tips, eyebrow arching and excellent perms and hair coloring, according to Cooper.

The salon is located at 1103 South Milford Road, Highland. It is open Tuesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Michigan Mirror

By WARREN M. HOYT

Governor James Blanchard recently outlined 20 areas that constitute his framework for long-term economic growth in Michigan.

In announcing his program to a joint session of the Legislature, the governor said his program, most of which was first raised in conceptual form in last year's election campaign, will help to "pioneer the economy of the 21st century by building and rebuilding, moving Michigan ahead."

None of the initiatives is yet complete enough to be discussed in specifics, aides said, but Commerce Director Ralph Gerson said they would be released in "excruciating detail" in the weeks and months ahead.

Gerson said all the programs — about three-fourths of them require Legislative approval — would be introduced yet this year, but the governor does not have a timetable for their enactment.

Blanchard said his plan represents "a three-part formula for rebuilding our state's competitive strength." That includes investment in job training, public facilities and businesses; a commitment to quality and efficiency; and a commitment to cooperation, he said.

The governor said Michigan must respond to challenges not just from other states and regions, but from all over the world. "The challenge that is Michigan's is the challenge of America — to meet and beat the competition in the marketplace of the world," he said.

The governor's program, which aides said amounts to putting his agenda into a "conceptual framework," includes, among other things, an announcement this month to turn welfare spending into a "workfare investment" offering work as an opportunity, not punishment.

Other proposals include securities regulation reform to make it easier for business, particularly small and emerging ones, to raise capital; the removal of legislative barriers to make it easier for franchisors to come to Michigan in part by shifting the franchise fee from those entities which operate in the state to the out-of-state franchising company; the in-progress work to streamline the processing of worker's compensation cases.

Because of structural changes in the state economy, the governor's plan covers efforts for diversification, including a proposal for aiding forest products industries, assisting food processing and encouraging auto suppliers to locate and expand in Michigan, sponsoring a statewide tourism conference and working with business and environmental groups to cut the cost of complying with environmental regulations while maintaining standards.

Gerson said although the governor in drawing together those ideas has not really said much that is new, the economic program reflects the governor's conclusions, following summer-long discussions, as to which areas can best be targeted for growth.

Aides said details of the program will be announced in several steps, frequently in appearances before groups which have helped develop the proposals.

Peter Plastrick, director of the governor's cabinet council on jobs and economic development, said the range of proposals represents the second phase of the governor's economic development program, following the short-term summer jobs and public works program begun earlier this year and the Strategic Investment Fund proposal now being developed in the Legislature.

an opening they could fill and be successful."

Two other new stores recruited by Twelve Oaks were Capezio and Redwood & Ross for Women. Capezio specializes in fine women's shoes and leather accessories, while Redwood & Ross features fine women's clothing.

Both stores illustrate how Twelve Oaks relies on its marketing studies to determine what types of tenants are needed and will be successful.

"The typical family in our market area has two to four members and falls in a median age group of 25-45 years," explained Armstrong.

"They're higher-income, well-traveled, well-informed and sophisticated. They respond to active, new lifestyles and stay up with the latest trends. Many of them have two professional people — men and women in the managerial, technical or administrative fields."

Capezio and Redwood & Ross were brought into the mall to answer the needs and demands of the modern, career-oriented professional woman. "A significant portion of the women in our market area demands and expects good styling and good quality," said Armstrong. "These stores respond to those needs and demands."

Yet another example of the tenant-selection process in action is provided by Gelato Classico, a new brand of Italian ice cream which is taking the country by storm. Gelato Classico has received rave reviews in Time magazine and numerous other publications.

Clogg said the new Gelato Classico store falls somewhere in the middle ground of tenant selection. "There was a mutual interest," he explained. "We wanted them and they wanted us. It was a good situation for both of us."

Clogg and Armstrong are pleased with the present and excited about the future at Twelve Oaks. The only negative consideration at the present time is that the center is approaching capacity.

"It's not a good situation to be 100 percent filled," said Clogg, noting that tenants at Twelve Oaks have 10-year leases. "You always want to have some space available so that you can respond to new trends and new demands ... so that you have room to add tenants which answer changes in trends and lifestyles."

Other than that, however, the future looks rosy. "The Novi/Twelve Oaks area is one of the strongest in terms of land development, population growth and housing starts," noted Clogg.

"The economy is changing and our sales figures are responding well," he added. "Everything seems to be coming together pretty much as our marketing studies and planning had indicated it would."

MILFORD	685-8705

During the past 100 years, the U.S. population has increased by 4 times. Remarkably, the white-tailed deer population has increased by 24 times.

Around the turn of the century, there were only some 500,000 white-tailed deer in the U. S. Total U. S. population in 1880 was 50.2 million. Incredibly, there are today over 12 million whitetails throughout America, with populations in most areas near or at the capacity of the range. That's an increase in population of 24 times. The reason? Over the years, tremendous strides have been made in developing strategies that have brought back a number of wildlife species from critically low population levels. Through the efforts of wildlife management, especially in the restoration and preservation of critical habitat, a wide variety of native wildlife exists today in healthy numbers throughout their historic range. American sportsmen have long played a key role in this success story, both through focusing attention on the needs of wildlife and promoting sound conservation practices as well as providing billions of dollars through license fees and special taxes they pay.

Woman of the Year

Northville BPW honors local author Laura Hixson with annual award

As a junior high school counselor, genealogy instructor, historian, art teacher, local author and mother of five, it's hardly an understatement to say that Laura Hixson wears many hats in life.

In recognition of Hixson's contributions to the community, the Northville Business and Professional Women's Club recently put a "feather" in one of those many hats by naming the Northville resident its Outstanding Woman of the Year.

The BPW's annual award was presented to Hixson at the fall meeting of District 9 in Livonia prior to the BPW's celebration of National Business Women's Week, October 16-22.

Though she's been a counselor at Highland Junior High in the Huron Valley School District for many years, Hixson is best known locally for her active involvement in the Northville Historical Society and most recently for her book "Early Northville."

Hixson's pictorial history of Northville is a compilation of some 120 previously unpublished photographs assembled by the author. The book was published last year by the Northville Historical Society and all proceeds going toward restoration projects at Mill Race Village.

Hixson, who moved to Northville in 1967, says she has been involved with the Historical Society for about 15 years. In addition to being a member of the society, she also served previously as editor of the "Quarterly" newsletter.

Most of the material for Hixson's book came from older residents. Hixson spent considerable time searching libraries and attics for early documents and mementoes.

She explains that the idea for "Early Northville" stemmed from a slide presentation she had compiled for the historical society years ago.

Though slightly revised, Hixson now is showing a slide presentation of "Northville Then and Now." She calls the presentation an "easy home tour" of downtown houses, churches and buildings. (See story below).

Hixson attributes her slide presentation — shown to Amerman students and other elementary students during the opening of Wash Oak Schoolhouse — as the major contribution toward her Outstanding Woman of the Year award.

"They (BPW) felt I had created a lot of interest for children in Northville history," Hixson notes.

Hixson spent many years collecting oral histories from some of Northville's oldest residents and notes that many people interviewed for her book have died since its publication.

With "Early Northville" nearly sold out, Hixson says she hopes to publish another book through the historical society. However, she adds that another publication only is a possibility if she can compile more photographs.

In addition to her book and her involvement with the historical society, Hixson also has taught genealogy "off an on" at Schoolcraft College since 1975.

She remarks that her interest in genealogy began when she received an old family desk which relatives told her was brought to Michigan in the 1830s. She notes that tracing the origin of the desk led to tracing the family tree.

While genealogy and historical research are primarily hobbies to Hixson, counseling is her life's work.

In addition to counseling junior high students, Hixson also is teaching an art course this year.

Hixson dispels the horror stories about junior high level students. She says she has gained a rapport with her students by helping them with personal and social problems as well as academics.

One of two counselors at Highland Junior High School, Hixson helped develop a divorce support group for students and currently is working on a support group dealing with death and dying.

LAURA HIXSON

'Early Northville' still available

A few copies of Laura Hixson's book "Early Northville," a pictorial history of the community, still are available at area bookstores.

Copies are $5 each and may be purchased at Book Stall on Main, Book Stop on Seven Mile and at Little Book Center in Plymouth.

Copies also may be purchased through the Northville Historical Society which published the book. Those interested in a copy of the book can write to the historical society at Box 71, Northville.

All proceeds from the book sale go toward restoration projects at Mill Race Village.

Science fiction's topic

Northville Friends of the Library's newly-organized book group will tackle science fiction when the readers gather at 7 p.m. November 10 in the library.

Cathy Rocco will lead the discussion of Robert A. Heinlein's "Friday." In October, the group read "The Clan of the Cave Bear" by Jean Auel.

Future books to be discussed are "Pioneer Women" by Joanna L. Stratton with Val Cook leading the discussion December 8; "One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich" by Aleksandr I. Solzhenitsyn with Jim Fostey leading the discussion January 12; "Salvador" by Joan Didion with leader Marcia Horngren February 9 and "Color Purple" by Alice Walker with Sue Fostey leading March 8.

All books are in paperback. The group is informal and open to all readers.

Touring downtown — both then and now

An early picture of the Northville well before it acquired its present-day canopy began an "armchair" tour of early streets of the community for Northville Woman's Club members last Friday.

Laura Hixson, a member of Northville Historical Society who compiled a pictorial history of the early days of the community, led viewers on a slide "walk" along Main, Center, Dunlap, Dubuar, Randolph and other streets.

As she did so, Mrs. Hixson confided that the Northville Historical Society would like to publish a second such pictorial history book and said she was seeking the loan of other early pictures from long-time residents.

Mrs. Hixson called a view at Center and Main streets, showing the sun coming up, one of her personal favorites. Looking east the picture included railroad tracks along the center of the street. She also showed pictures of the depot located just above the Northville well which burned in the 1960s. The railroad, she told viewers, ran from Plymouth to Holly.

Another early photograph showed the "crow's nest" in the middle of the intersection at Main and Center. "The city band played here," Mrs. Hixson reported.

"William Dunlap and his wife purchased a small house here in 1831," Mrs. Hixson related.

"It was on property where the American Legion building now is located. It was moved to Randolph and this frame house is one of our oldest," she said, showing a slide of a simple white frame house on the north side of the street.

The Dunlaps, she continued, with a growing family purchased a tavern. It later was turned and bricked and is the current American Legion home.

Parmenter's Cider Mill — begun when a Civil War soldier by that name used his mustering out pay to establish the business — was shown in its early days as well as it the way it looks today.

An early view of a Victorian home on Dunlap became Casterline Funeral Home in a present-day slide.

A neighboring Victorian home, however, that today houses The Northville Clock Shop appeared much the same in early and present-day views. This also was true of the Elroy Ellison house farther west on Dunlap.

Buildings which have burned or been raised that provided contrast included the opera house, now the location of a hamburger business on Center at Dunlap, and Eastlawn Sanatorium, with Allen Terrace now located on the property.

Club members also viewed the New School Church building restored in Mill Race Historical Village and early slides of the building in its initial location now occupied by Northville Square.

Originally a church, the building later was bought by the club's second president to be used as a meeting place for the women and as a library.

Winning garden

In selecting its winning October garden, Country Girls Garden Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association found the year-round garden of Richard and Carol Munerance to be a perfect autumn showplace. With flowers still in bloom, a rainbow of colors fill the Munerance yard. The backyard was described as a "virtual park" with its winding paths and walkways. Above is the back yard patio surrounded by a variety of flowers. Carol Munerance, at right, tends to the many flowers in the yard. Record photos by Steve Fecht.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID CRAIN

In home garden ceremony

Linda Prom, David Crain wed

Linda Prom, daughter of Robert and Dolores Prom of 49209 West Seven Mile, became the bride of David Crain of Farmington Hills in an August 20 ceremony at her parents' home.

The bridegroom is the son of James and Dorothy Crain of Monroe, Connecticut.

The double ring ceremony was held inside a gazebo in the Proms' yard with Dr. Lawrence Chamberlain, senior pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Northville, officiating.

The bride wore a sleeveless chiffon and taffeta gown enhanced with a Chantilly lace ruffle on the bodice. The gown's ruffled skirt extended into a chapel train. The bride wore a matching lace and seed pearl picture hat.

She carried a bouquet of white roses and miniature carnations with cascades of baby's-breath and ivy.

Maid of honor Jenny Sobodash wore a pink chiffon off-the-shoulder gown and carried a mixed floral bouquet with cascading ribbons.

Bridesmaids Breyda Hale, Chris De Zell and Marianne Thelan wore gowns similar to the maid of honor's in light blue, peach and lavender.

Melissa Prom was flower girl.

Jim Crain served as his brother's best man. Ushers were the bride's brothers Barry and Brian Prom and Tom Thelan.

A buffet luncheon reception was held under canopies in the Prom yard. It was catered by Geniti's. Guests came from California, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and West Virginia.

The bride is a 1977 Northville High School graduate and attended Schoolcraft College. She currently is employed at the Hillside restaurant.

The bridegroom is a Madonna College graduate and is a supervisor with 7-Up Company.

The newlyweds honeymooned at the Renaissance Westin in Detroit and will make their home in Farmington Hills.

Folinos celebrate anniversary in Europe

By JEAN DAY

Anniversary-celebrating and a wedding were the reasons for trips to Europe taken by local residents.

Steve and Jane Folino returned this month from a trip to Italy, the French Riviera and Monte Carlo that marked their 25th wedding anniversary. Following the escorted tour, the couple rented a car and made a sentimental journey to the village of Aprigalano where Steve's father was born. The Folinos visited aunts and uncles and stayed with relatives there.

Florence, Venice, Pisa, Naples, Capri, Lugano and Rome were stops. In Rome they were in the special audience in St. Paul's Square for a Wednesday morning blessing from Pope John Paul who spoke in seven languages after riding through the square. In Monaco, the Folinos relate, they visited the palace and also the church where Princess Grace is buried.

On their return their children honored them with a surprise anniversary party October 15 at the American Legion Home. Their four children who hosted the party for 75 friends and relatives are Linda Cederberg and her husband Michael of West Bloomfield, Diane Welch of South Lyon, Luigi, who was just graduated from Michigan State University, and Jody, a senior at Northville High School.

Steve Folino and the former Jane Fultz of South Lyon were married in Northville October 2, 1958.

Family welcomes Melissa Ann

From Spring, Texas, Mel and April Esmacher announce the birth of their daughter, Melissa Ann.

She was born October 10 and weighed nine pounds.

Maternal grandparents are Norma Hazlett and John Stoddard of Northville. Shirley Esmacher of Redford and Gerald Esmacher of Northville are paternal grandparents.

Methodist dinner to feature mini-bazaar of handcrafts

The United Methodist Women's group of the Northville First United Methodist Church has scheduled its biennial Harvest Dinner and Mini Bazaar November 8 in the church fellowship hall.

Dinners have been scheduled at 5, 6 and 7 p.m. Ticket holders may choose the setting best suited for their schedules. Since seating is limited at each time, early ticket purchase is suggested.

Dinner tickets will be available after Sunday services as well as in the church office during the morning hours. Adult tickets are $5; for children 10 and younger they are $2.50.

The menu will feature a traditional chicken pie served with potatoes, gravy, vegetables, salad, rolls, beverage and a choice of homemade pie.

In addition, diners will be able to do some pre-holiday shopping at the mini bazaar. United Methodist Women members have contributed a variety of stuffed animals, craft items, Christmas decorations and ornaments, needlework, children's novelties, jams and jellies, etc. Most items sold at the bazaar will be priced under $5.

For further information, call the church office at 349-1144 before noon.

Baumanns find German wedding customs differ

As daughter Becky, a senior at Northville High School, caught the bridal bouquet at an October wedding here, the Baumann family recalled the experience of attending a wedding in Germany on a recent trip — and noted that customs differ greatly.

John and Lee Baumann with Becky and son John, a ninth grader at Meads Mill, stayed with the bridegroom's parents in Reutlingen. The Baumanns and his parents Carl and Dorothy Baumann from Ohio were on hand for a traditional "Polter" party given for the bridegroom-to-be by friends and co-workers two nights before the wedding. Guests arrived, Lee Baumann relates, with dishes which were smashed during the party. The future bridegroom then had to clean up, symbolizing — it was explained to the Baumanns — that he was giving up his old ways. His bride-elect, Mrs. Baumann adds, watched but did not help.

The couple arrived together for the optional ceremony at the Lutheran church; the day before they had participated in a civil ceremony. After the wedding, Mrs. Baumann reports, friends of the bride "hid" her at a hotel — and the bridegroom had to find her and bring her to the reception.

At the wedding children tossed flowers, and received candy from a basket. "They don't throw the bouquet or the garter," Mrs. Baumann adds, "but there is a duplicate of the bridal bouquet on the hood of the bridegroom's car." The reception, she says, featured music of the Elvis Presley and Beatles' era.

Maybury hayride celebrated Lauren's becoming 16

With a new driver's license in her possession, Lauren Roslinski was sent on an errand to Maybury State Park riding stable last Friday evening — to be greeted by some 20 friends and classmates at Ladywood High School where she is a junior. The surprise Sweet Sixteen birthday party was arranged by her parents, Larry and Diane Roslinski.

After a hayride through the park and bonfire cookout, they returned to the Roslinski home at 1009 Springfield Court for cake and ice cream.

Highland Lakes show attracts capacity crowd

The 11th annual fall fashion show benefit of Highland Lakes Women's Club was an immediate sellout, Ruth E. Beagan, show chairperson, told members and guests who filled the clubroom at Highland House last Thursday afternoon for the event.

Again this year members modeled fashions from New Gal in Town of Plymouth. A new feature was clothes for exercise and lounging from Altair Leisure and Spa Wear of Plymouth, introduced as a new business with 10 owners. Hairstyles and makeup were by Great Shape Salon and Spa, also of Plymouth.

Member models at the dessert show were Elsa Danke, club president; Izma Chmiel; Betty Elstro, club treasurer;

Chris Hinkle; Rosemary Horgan; Margaret Blair and Mary Koehler.

Fashions included suits in new pinstripes and in houndstooth checks as well as an abundance of easy-to-wear exercise outfits in colorful velours.

As President Danke modeled a violet velour exercise suit, it was observed that the ensemble was washable. Appliques decorated another exercise suit modeled by Mrs. Hinkle. A velour jacket topped black pants modeled by Mrs. Chmiel. Under this costume she wore a red leotard — "for really working to keep in shape."

Proceeds from the show are used by the club to support Goodfellows and Salvation Army projects.

Norma Vernon, Mainstreet win beautification awards

Norma Vernon, longtime beautification volunteer for the city, was the recipient of a Distinguished Service Plaque presented at the annual awards and business meeting of Keep Michigan Beautiful, Incorporated, October 18.

The statewide volunteer organization which sponsors projects for outdoor beautification and the collection and control of litter held the awards presentation last week at the Mercy Conference Center in Farmington Hills.

The awards were presented by Michigan First Lady Paula Blanchard.

Mrs. Vernon's Distinguished Service Plaque was one of 11 presented. In addition, 18 Distinguished Service Certificates were presented.

Northville's Mainstreet '78 downtown beautification project received the Hall of Fame designation. It was among nine cities and projects thus designated.

Keep Michigan Beautiful is a non-profit, educational, public service organization established in 1962 by private citizens and designated by the governor as the coordinating agency for beautification activities in the State of Michigan.

Mrs. Vernon has worked on city beautification for many years, first assisting the late council member Bea Carlson.

She has coordinated beautification activities with local garden branches and Girl Scouts who have assisted in planting the hundreds of tulip bulbs that bloom in beds throughout the downtown every spring.

During the summer and fall other flowers and plants have been added to create colorful beds from spring through fall.

The Northville Record

Upsets third-ranked Kimball 2-1

Mustang soccer squad stays alive in state playoffs

By B.J. MARTIN

Over in Royal Oak, the Kimball fans couldn't believe it.

The Knight soccer team figured to steamroll Northville the same way it usually flattened its previous opponents this year. It didn't happen that way.

Instead, Northville got a great team effort highlighted by two goals from midfielder Steve Starcevic and a brilliant performance by goalkeeper Jeff Metz to hand the Knights their first loss of the season, 2-1.

It couldn't have come at a better time. It was the second round of the state Class A pre-regional, and the Mustangs drew a tough one in Kimball, the third-ranked team in the state with a 13-0-3 record.

But Northville, now 12-3-2, was clearly the better team Friday, despite some scary moments. The game had everything — penalty shots, rough but rarely ragged play, great demonstrations of skill and effort, close calls, questionable calls, and questionable reactions to those calls.

The Mustangs lit the scoreboard first early in the game on Starcevic's 20-yard drive, assisted by Doug May on an indirect, which did more than anything else to throw the Knights off their horse — the Kimball wrecking crew wasn't used to digging itself out of a hole.

Kimball threatened late in the first half when a Knight striker broke past the fullback line and cut in on the Northville goal. But Metz sprinted out of the net and dove horizontally at the Knight forward's feet, smacking the ball free with his two gloved hands. The rebound bounced dangerously toward the corner of the goal and a Knight winger broke in and leveled another point-blank shot on goal, but Metz scrambled back and made another great diving save that steered the ball wide of the net.

Minutes later, shortly before the first half ended, referees whistled Kimball for tripping May in the Kimball penalty area and the Kimball partisans erupted with a torrent of verbal abuse. Unrattled, Starcevic easily converted the penalty shot for a 2-0 lead.

It turned out to come in very handy.

Midway through the second half, referees awarded Kimball a penalty shot. It went to Metz's left and the Mustang goalkeeper was guessing left all the way. He took a flying stab at the high, hard shot with his outstretched hands — and deflected wide of the post for a corner kick.

Penalty shots are typically harder to stop than a freight train, but Metz had a good jump on the ball and his adrenalin was plainly surging. It was a stunning moment, one of the best saves many there had ever seen.

Metz was mobbed by teammates while the Knights could hardly believe their eyes — in fact, the save seemed to amaze even Metz himself.

The euphoria was quickly dispelled 15 seconds later, however. Kimball's John Metsker, one of the state's most dangerous forwards, fired in a loose ball resulting from the corner kick — his 26th goal of the season. Metz had no chance on the shot.

The Knights again threatened late in the game, but were unable to crack a short-range shot through the Northville defense, which turned in perhaps its best game of the season.

The Knight forward line was experienced and talented, but Northville got some excellent cool-headed play at center back by tall senior co-captain Scott Gala, who intercepted several dangerous through passes and swept the airways clear. Mustang wing backs Dan Magdich and Bill Harmon also did a good job of neutralizing the Knights' dangerous forward line.

Aside from his two goals, Starcevic also turned in a superior all-around game. Particularly during the second half, the senior's ball-control abilities and pinpoint passing created several good scoring opportunities and broke up several potentially dangerous Kimball plays.

At one point late in the second half, Starcevic sprinted nearly the entire length of the field to stifle a Knight shot on goal in the nick of time.

But to credit the win solely to the aforementioned names would be a grave disservice.

Coaches Marv Gans and Dan Swayne are fond of pointing out teamwork is the key to Northville's success. Usually that kind of remark is puffery — nobody wins many games without exceptional talent — but if there were a weak link in the Northville squad, starters or reserves who saw action, Kimball would have exploited it and won easily. The Knights are a solid, talented team that deserves its good season record.

PLAYOFF PUNCH — Dave Yarmuth, above, and Doug May, right, were two of the key players in Northville's pre-regional victory over Royal Oak Kimball, then rated third in the state, last Friday. Record photos by B.J. Martin.

But the Northville team was better. But for a shot that rung off Kimball's goalpost late in the game, it could have been 3-1.

The victory earned Northville a shot at the regional semifinals this week. If the Mustangs got past the semifinal against tough Brighton, played after press time yesterday, they will play in the regional final at 2 p.m. Saturday at Livonia Stevenson.

NORTHVILLE 4
NORTH FARMINGTON 0

It didn't look like it would be easy in the first half, but Northville placed a lock-grip on first place in the Western Lakes Activities Association Western Division with three second-half goals to boost its conference record to 8-1-2 Tuesday of last week.

Center forward Joe Mackle broke the ice, taking a through pass from point fullback Bob Guldborg, who has contributed aggressive play in recent games, including the pre-regional against Kimball, breaking past the North defense and ripping a shot past the keeper.

Mackle repeated the feat unassisted in the second half on an up-the-middle breakaway, then shortly afterwards, set up Starcevic for a goal.

Gala, a talented forward who has been more acutely needed by the team at center back this season, got a chance to score when Fred Cahill was tripped in the North Farmington penalty area. Gala converted a penalty shot easily for his first goal of the year.

"We wanted to give him a chance," Gans said.

Northville will host division rival Farmington Harrison Thursday at 4 p.m., then conclude its regular season at Livonia Churchill Monday at 4 p.m.

Varsity gridders wallop Western Warriors 46-7

By B.J. MARTIN

Steve Smith was standing on the sidelines during the fourth quarter of Friday's Northville-Walled Lake Western game. He was wearing a wide smile on his face as he watched the Mustang second team mop up a 46-7 pounding.

A lopsided Mustang grin for a lopsided Mustang win.

Smith had plenty of reason to smile. The speedy Northville fullback had scored two touchdowns rushing and added a third on a 52-yard interception return. As Mustang head coach Dennis Colligan put it, "Smitty is red-hot."

And how — just the previous week he rushed for 177 yards and two touchdowns, one a 96-yard spectacular.

And now the senior, inserted into the starting lineup to replace Todd Deal, has made people wonder where he'd been all the time.

"He's done a fantastic job for us," Colligan said. "He's really playing hot football."

Smith, however, was far from the only hero — some credit must go to a defense that didn't allow Western a first down until the second team moved in.

"The story of the game was the defense," Colligan agreed. "Dan Nielsen, Tim Jackson, Matt Meyer and Steve Schrader did a super job up front for us. And Doug Hartman and Ernie Bock did a great job at linebacker. They weren't giving 'em anything."

Golfers compete at state tournament

Saturday, you'll remember, was the kind of day that prompted primitive man (or woman) to invent the indoor fireplace. But it would have taken a glacier and a monsoon to keep the Northville varsity golf team from accepting its invitation to play 18 holes in East Lansing at the MHSAA State Golf Championship.

The Mustangs shot a 353 at the Michigan State University golf course, a narrow, hilly, 6,817-yard 18-hole epic. That was pretty far off the pace of state champ East Lansing at 312.

The Northville contingent's performance wasn't close to a medal-winning showing, but was hardly disappointing, considering the team's being there was a fine accomplishment.

"It was awfully wet. It rained all day," said remarkably healthy coach Joe Blake, who, like his team, was stuck out on the course for the better part of the day. Some players spent as much as six hours out on the course.

"I'm amazed the scores were so low," Blake added. "To shoot those scores under those conditions was remarkable. 'It's difficult to shoot well when your clubs are wet and the course is so soggy.'"

Senior all-division linkster Bob

Pegrum led the Mustangs with an 84, with Bob Justus carding an 86, Eric Morie a 91 and Bob Baird a 92.

"I'm pleased with the fact we were there," Blake said. "It was a good experience for our three juniors. Unfortunately the weather took some of the enjoyment out of it. I'd say it was a good experience overall and I'm very pleased we had the opportunity to compete. We've had a good season in tournaments."

The Mustangs had qualified for the state meet Friday, October 14, on a similarly soggy day with a second-place tie with Livonia Churchill at regionals.

Western Lakes Activities Association teams fared well at the tournament — behind Lansing Sexton at 317, the league sent Walled Lake Central (327, third-place tie), Livonia Stevenson (334, seventh place) and Livonia Churchill (338, 11th place tie).

At the tournament, East Lansing's Dan Olsen shot an eye-popping 73 to take individual medalist honors. WLAA champion Central's Greg Davies took second place honors with a 75.

Northville finished 22nd of the 25 teams participating.

Mustang cagers fall to Central, Brandon

By B.J. MARTIN

Walled Lake Central's 5'11" forward Patti Fitzgerald was too much for the Mustangs' basketball squad last Thursday, scoring 23 points to lead the Vikings to a 55-30 conference win.

The Vikings (10-4) are no slouches at the hoop business, though their excellent season has been overshadowed by cross-town rivals Walled Lake Western.

So when Northville coach Rick Hurst said, "It was our best offensive game of the season," he meant it.

"We ran the offense well," he explained. "We were looking to set some screens, get more movement. We were able to work the ball well, get four or five passes into our set offense. So I'm pleased we seem to be improving our scoring ability somewhat."

Some position shuffling kept the game close for at least two of the quarters. Hurst went with Kelly Parker, Denise Liddle and Tricia Ducker in the front line to compensate for the injured Erin Ryan — and Sue Terwin, the team's quickest player, was moved to guard across from Kathy Korowin.

"That helped us to do a solid job on defense," Hurst said. "The change seemed to get us off to a better start."

Guard Pat Wazny began reasserting herself on offense and led the team with 10 points, her highest scoring outburst of the season.

"Pat's really come around for us," Hurst said. "That was her first really productive game for us and we need that from her. She's the kind of player who needs to practice regularly to be effective, and she missed the first two weeks of practice this season and also had an ankle injury that kept her from really contributing. But now she's starting to help us on offense."

Liddle hit for eight. "Denise and Pat complemented our inside game," Hurst said, "and made it easier to get the ball in to Tricia and Kelly."

Hurst was particularly high on the play of senior point guard Kathy Korowin, who had a disastrous game against Western the previous week, but turned in a poised effort against Central and earlier in the week, against Ortonville Brandon.

"I'm as pleased as I've been all season about Kathy," Hurst remarked. "I came down really hard on her after the Western game and she did a whale of a job this week." In Thursday's game, Korowin held her defensive assignment — Central's leading scorer, Sherry Strohs — to only seven points.

"Kathy really gave Strohs a hard time. We'd looked at some videotapes of Kathy's defense, and I think it helped a lot," Hurst said. "She's trying hard to take a leadership role with our team. She's being more positive."

NORTHVILLE 40
ORTONVILLE BRANDON 44

A 12-5 third quarter scoring edge gave the Blackhawks the cushion to top Northville in an exceptionally even contest Tuesday of last week.

After a 17-17 halftime deadlock, Brandon came out by spreading the floor out

JV hoopsters 11-3 on season

Don't shed any tears over Northville's basketball program.

The Mustangs are struggling through a tough season for the second straight year, but that's just the varsity. It will take a year or two, but there are young players ready to come to the rescue as they mature.

Last week the JV's edged Walled Lake Central 25-21 and walloped Ortonville Brandon 31-17 to raise the team's season record to 11-3.

In both games, the score was close at halftime and the squad erupted in the third quarter to put each game away.

"It's nice to see the team has the kind of character to do that, pull away in a close game like that. They're going to be the core of a good varsity.

"What's going to contribute to our success a year or two down the line," Kritch added, "is that we have nine or ten players who contribute a big part."

Indeed, the most any JV player has scored this season is 10 points, and five different players have accomplished that feat.

"That lets you know what kind of team we have," Kritch pointed out. "We don't rely on just one or two players."

The JVs encounter previous victims Farmington Harrison Thursday and Livonia Churchill Tuesday, both games at 6 p.m.

Harriers hang on to second, avenge '82 loss to Churchill

The Northville boys and girls cross-country teams geared up for this week's league and regional meets with a season-ending sweep over over Livonia Bentley last Thursday.

Bentley has been a tough nut to crack for previous Northville teams, but this time, Northville got superior efforts from both varsity squads, plus the JV. The boys won 25-30 and the JV won 24-33, while the girls earned a forfeit victory despite excellent times from the usual top-notch trio of Cindy Panowicz, Kelly Wool and Wendy Nuechterlein.

Western took first in the division with a 4-0 record.

Panowicz clocked a 20:07, Wool a 20:23 and Nuechterlein a 20:43 to show for the girls. The win gave Northville a 3-1 second-place division record, 5-1 in WLAA play and 5-2 overall. Churchill took the division title with an undefeated season.

Earlier in the week — on Tuesday — Northville ran its sophomore and freshman boys' teams in the 13-team Westland John Glenn Invitational, specifically for junior varsity-level teams. Northville took ninth at the meet, though results were encouraging.

Sophomore Winquist was Northville's only medalist, clocking an 18:04 for 10th place. Kirk Kabel turned in a 19:26 for 33rd, Scott Wylie a 18:45 for 40th, Greg Goode a 20:26 for 52nd, Scott Yaele a 21:22 for 67th and Kevin Legel a 21:54 for 70th. Kabel, Wylie and Goode are freshmen; Yaele and Legel are sophomores.

The only other Western Lakes team to participate was Livonia Churchill, which took fourth. Catholic Central took first at the meet, followed by Fordson.

Both the boys' and girls' varsity squads will participate in the Royal Oak Kimball regional cross-country tournament Wednesday. Eighteen teams will participate in the boys' meet and 18 in the girls', with the top three teams qualifying for the state meet.

Gabrys believes Brother Rice is the team to beat in the boys' regional and Berkeley in the girls'. "I think we'll need a lot of breaks to qualify in the boys', although you never know — but since we have only three state-level competitive girls, I'm hoping we can get all three (Wool, Panowicz and Nuechterlein) to compete in the state individual meet," Gabrys said.

Mustang ground game too much for Warriors

That's the truth. Northville hogged all the Homecoming fun for the hometown fans alone, permitting only 143 yards total offense — much of those yards accumulated after the first team defense took to their panchos along the sidelines.

'The story of the game was the defense. They weren't giving 'em anything.'

— Dennis Colligan
Head Coach

Meanwhile, the offense erupted for 340 yards, 130 by halfback John Quinn, who cracked the 800-yard rushing mark for the season. The 5'7", 145-pound senior has been the workhorse of the Mustang offense, averaging nearly five yards per carry all season with his elusive moves and ability to punch through even small holes.

Besides Smith's TD runs of 10 and five yards — all in the first half — Quinn ran in a six-yard off tackle burst, receiver Brian Jennings struck paydirt on a 54-yard reverse, and backup quarterback Dave Denhof capped the scoring with a five-yard keeper, his first TD of the season.

Kicker Jack Sylvestre converted four of six extra point kick attempts — one was blocked and one sailed wide.

Making an impressive appearance in the fourth quarter, junior running back Rick VanBuren showed why he is likely to be the mainstay of next year's ground game. VanBuren picked up 45 yards on six carries, all during an effective 15-play, 67-yard drive that pleased Colligan immensely.

"We'd acquired a reputation for being a team that fell asleep on offense in the second half," Colligan said. "And we thought we'd go out on Friday and try to keep the offense moving. Rick looked very good out there, and we were getting some good blocking for him, too."

There was something to Colligan's concerns about the Mustangs' habitually slow second-half offense — up until Friday's game only 46 of Northville's 120 season points had been scored in third and fourth quarters.

But Jennings' Denhoff's and Smith's last TD all came in the second half — the most the Mustangs have scored in the final two periods all season.

The passing game showed signs of rust — Longridge was sharp again, but as in the previous week's game against Churchill, Mustang receivers often had trouble hanging onto the ball. Longridge completed three of eight passes and threw one interception for 18 yards — but he was also thrown for one nine-yard loss.

Senior tight end Mike Weber hauled in two of those passes and Weber's junior backup Gary Strunk one more, but nothing got through to Jennings, Northville's most dangerous receiver. "Yeah, Dave's throwing the ball well, but darn it, we can't seem to hold on to it," Colligan said.

The Mustangs (3-2 in WLAA, 5-2 overall) may need that element to pull off a win over Plymouth Salem this Friday night. The highly-touted 6-1 Rocks are traditionally one of the best teams in the area and currently rule the roost in the WLAA Lakes Division.

"They've got an excellent runner in Mark Tindell, and it'll be a good opportunity for us to show what we've got," Colligan said.

Kickoff at Salem is at 7:30 p.m.

Year-round indoor soccer at new facility

Youth and adult soccer teams from Northville and surrounding areas are being courted to take advantage of a new business in nearby Farmington, an indoor soccer facility.

The business is called IV Seasons Soccer Unlimited Corp., and the facility, located on Industrial Road, near the corner of Grand River and 10 Mile Road, is one of the few in the country completely dedicated to use for indoor soccer.

The facility is of interest to area soccer enthusiasts in that it presents an opportunity to develop fundamental soccer skills year-round to local residents.

Brian Tinnon, head coach and player for the Detroit Express professional soccer team, and Angus Moffat, assistant coach and player for the Express, are two of the owners of the facility, and will provide some of the name recognition and assurance of professionalism at the facility. The other two owners are Don and Trish Malers.

The cost to players is highly exorbitant. $35 gets an individual on a team an eight-game season in an eight-week session. That's not much more than an outdoor season's cost.

"There's a bit of a scramble for time this season (running October 31-late November)," Tinnon says. "But we still have many good openings for our winter schedule (December-end of January) in all age groups."

The playing area is particularly good. A carpet of the best-made indoor turf covers the floor of what resembles a hockey rink, except that the goals are built into the walls and much about half the size of an outdoor soccer goal.

In spite of the smaller goal, because of the compacted playing surface, the game is high-scoring and permits each player many more chances to handle the ball than does the outdoor version.

For information on availability of registering a team in a league, coaches or interested individuals can phone 471-0111.

Mustangs dunk Novi, Churchill

Two wins last week — a down-to-the-wire non-conference thriller over Novi and a 51-32 breeze over WLAA rival Livonia Churchill — kept the Mustang swim team at the 500 mark in both league and non-league contests this season.

"We're right about where we should be right now," Mustang swim coach Bill Dicks declared. "Everybody is swimming better than last year, and the freshmen and sophomores have come along much faster than we expected. People who at the start of the year I didn't figure to help are now helping us to swim all the events."

Tuesday's meet with Novi promised to be a good matchup — where Novi held an advantage in depth, Northville had the outstanding swimmer, and vice versa. The meet certainly delivered.

The lead see-sawed, with Novi forging ahead after diving and once again after the breast stroke. But a strong showing by the Mustangs in freestyle events and a first-and-third freestyle relay finish — the final event — permitted Northville to hang on for an 88½-84½ win.

A Wildcat third-place finish in that last event would have tied the meet, but Northville's number two team clocked a 4:31 to beat Novi's number two team by nearly ten seconds. Northville picked up a 1-2 finish in the 200 freestyle, with Shari Thompson winning in 2:13 and Jill Roth in 2:23. In the 200 individual medley, Kim Thompson took first in 2:31 and Jenny Steiner third in 2:42.

Lisa Felicelli swept to a 27.1 first place in the 50 yard freestyle with Linda Schott piling up third in 29.3. Felicelli added a first in the 100 freestyle in 1:00 even.

Julie Stock placed second in diving with a 134 after one troublesome dive dropped her out of first.

Kim Thompson finished first in the 100 butterfly in 1:04 with Jill Roth in third five seconds behind. In the 500 freestyle it was Shari Thompson and Erika Nelson swimming one-two (no times reported).

Stephanie Warren placed second in the 100 backstroke, clocking a 1:13. In the 100 breast stroke, Steiner and Brining ran 1-2, Steiner in 1:20 and Brining in 1:22.

NORTHVILLE 51 LIVONIA CHURCHILL 32

Northville swimmers reeled off eight firsts to even their league record at 2-2 (the Mustangs are 4-4 overall) with a win over the Chargers.

The medley relay (Bales, Kim Thompson, Nelson and Felicelli) again prevailed (no time listed) and the 400 freestyle relay teams took first and third, first (Shari Thompson, Dawn Biondi, Shawn Bales and Jill Roth) in 4:16.7 and third (Kathy Kennedy, Sue VanderBok, Linda Schott and Karen Brining).

In individual events, Felicelli was again a double winner in the 50 and 100 freestyle, clocking a 27.2 in the 50 and a 59.6 in the 100. Biondi took third in the latter in 1:04.

Shari Thompson placed first in the 200 freestyle in 2:12 (Kathy Kennedy placed third in 2:27) and took second in the 500 in 5:35.

The Mustang tank squad travels to Plymouth Salem tomorrow (Thursday) for a 7 p.m. meet.

Holman wins

South Lyon's JOHN E. HOLMAN will take home the $10 first prize in this week's Northville Record/Novi-Walled Lake News Football Contest.

The tie-breaker was needed to differentiate between John's entry and the only two others to miss just two picks. His "guesstimate" that 41 points would be scored in Saturday's Washington-Oregon battle was six too high.

But that was closer than the 44 points guessed by Northville's PETER LEHR, who will receive the $5 second prize, and it was closer than the 47 points guessed by another Northville denizen, LAURA CHAMBERLAIN. Laura will take home the $3 third prize.

Coincidentally, the same two ballgame were the downfall of all three winners. All three thought red-hot Plymouth Salem would march over Walled Lake Central after the Vikings' fall to Farmington High School.

Colt varsity, JV and freshman gridders sweep Northstars

Varsity

Mike Wargo led the Northville varsity coach with three touchdowns to an easy 24-12 victory over the Westland Northstars. Wargo's second TD came immediately following the second half kickoff, when on two consecutive downs Margo covered 60 yards for a touchdown. The Colts' later score came on a Scott Stephens to Walsh pass covering 10 yards.

The Colts' defense was led by Stephens, who had two interceptions, and by lineman Scott Gettig.

Junior Varsity

Doug Cody set the pace for a 13-0 junior varsity victory over the Northstars by returning the game's opening kickoff 75 yards for a touchdown. Cody was sprung by teammate Steve Bastian's key block on the run. The two teams played scoreless ball until the last two minutes of the game, when Daren Johnson pounced on a fumbled lateral in the Northstar end zone. Jeff Meyer ran for the extra point.

Leading the defense was Matt Smith with an interception, and Erasmus Morie and Steve Bastian with fumble recoveries. The Colt JVs are now 5-2 on the season. They wrap up their season Sunday at Northville High School.

Freshmen

The Colt Freshmen coasted to their seventh straight win, a 19-0 victory over the Westland Northstars. Ryan Kilner opened the game scoring on a one-yard plunge set by a 25-yard Jon Barbara-to-Craig Probert pass completion. Probert added the extra point on another Barbara pass.

Kilner set up the second touchdown on a 35-yard punt return to the Northstar four, setting up a 4-yard keeper by Barbara. The quarterback tallied once more on a 45 yard keeper.

The Colt defense stonewalled Westland, trapping the Northstars in their backfield six times. Leading the charge was end Bob Forte. Kilner and Probert each had interceptions.

John Deere has rugged, dependable chain saws for every woodcutting need

John Deere chain saws are built tough to handle woodcutting jobs quickly. And you can buy any model with confidence, because we don't cut corners on quality, even on our smallest saw.

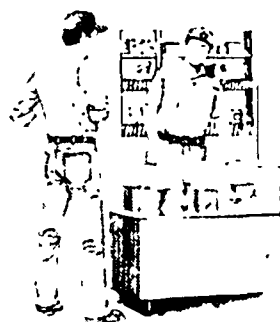

With 10 models — 27.9 to 78.6 cc's — available, there's a saw right for your particular needs: professional, casual or somewhere in between.

All models have a sprocket-nose guidebar — 12 to 27 inches long — for less friction, longer chain life. Deep biting chisel or semichisel chain with built-in guard links to help prevent snagging. And a counterbalanced crankshaft/connecting rod for smooth operation. The adjustable automatic oiler has just two moving parts for easier maintenance.

The V series saws also have an isolated engine that dampens vibration for more operating comfort. Plus a throttle-trigger interlock to guard against accidental operation. See us today for a quality-built John Deere chain saw.

Your Photos

By
Wayne Loder

"AND THINGS THAT GO BUMP IN THE NIGHT"

Halloween is for kids—and taking pictures of them. Snap some shots of them dressing to go out in their costumes. You might try some of the new high-speed film for pictures by porchlight. Set your camera to UNDEREXPOSE about 2 stops to create scary silhouettes. Low-angle shots make tots—and young goblins—look bigger.

The new 100 speed film, now labeled ISO 1000, is great for low-light pictures. If your camera will only set to 800, that is close enough for good results. Use 1/60th or your widest aperture as a basis for auto exposure.

If you wish, you can use regular-speed film and flash. Be sure to warn children before you shoot, or you might frighten and even temporarily blind an unsuspecting youngster. "Redeye," caused by a flash too close to the lens, will make kids look even spookier. Multi-image filters and color filters also put more fun in Halloween photography.

For more ways to save the Halloween fun, see us at
