Cross country skiers through trails at Maybury State Park enjoying fresh snow last weekend

Maybury's haven for winter sports enthusiasts

More and more Northville residents are finding that having a park right in their back yard is a year-round asset. Right now, in addition to horseback riding which continues, Maybury State Park in the west part of the township with entrance off Eight Mile is popular with cross country skiers.

New features have been added with prices remaining the same as they have for the past several years, park officials report.

A cross country ski facility is available. For those who have their own ski equipment, the park is open every day from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. It includes about 1,000 acres and has 10 miles of marked trail through both wooded and open terrain.

When snow conditions permit, the park's ski rental concession and snack bar are open Tuesday through Thursday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Friday from noon to 9 p.m.; Saturday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.; and Sunday from 9 a.m. to dusk.

Ski rental rates this season are the same as previously, with skis, shoes and poles available at $3 for the first hour, $2 for the second and $1 for each additional hour. A $1 damage insurance is required in addition, plus a driver's license and a $10 individual or $20 family deposit.

Added features in the past year are modern toilets, enclosed shelter area, snack bar and a lighted trail.

Group rates and lessons are available by reservation only. Interested persons should call 459-9820 to register or for information. The ski concession number is 348-1190.

Sleigh rides and hayrides are offered also on a reservation basis. Reservations are made at the stable, 348-5020.

Toward the interior of the park is a hill for sledding and tobogganing. Near the bottom is a partially enclosed shelter for spectators, park officials point out.

State park vehicle permits are required for all vehicles entering the park. 1984 permits are the same price as last year's — $10 annual, $2 daily and $1 for persons over 65.

More control of dance uses in revised law

By KEVIN WILSON

Restaurant or bar owners who offer dancing in the city will have to purchase an annual license at a $100 fee and comply with regulations on hours of operation and noise levels under a revised ordinance approved Monday night.

A fair-sized crowd of Open Door Church members was in attendance at Monday night's city council meeting as was Winner's Circle Bar proprietor James Rea. The ordinance amendments came in partial response to Rea's desires to close the bar and open a new establishment on Center, next door to the church.

Council late last fall disallowed the transfer, with a majority citing concern that Rea would not drop the attached dance permit from his license. Primary opposition had come from church members. There was some renewed verbal sparring between Rea and Open Door Church members early in Monday's hearing.

But Mayor Paul Vernon held tight rein on the discussion, limiting it to the proposed ordinance amendments which, he noted, "will give us more authority to control dance facilities anywhere in the city."

Among those controls: limitation of dancing to the hours of 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. Monday through Saturday (prohibited after 2 a.m. Sunday) at facilities connected to restaurants or bars and of dance floor space to 10 percent of the floor area as defined in the certificate of occupancy.

Objectionable noise emanating from such facilities is prohibited, and defined as any sound audible from outside the facility.

A major amendment allows for suspension or revocation of the license on recommendation of the city

Apartment plans OK'd

Final site plans for a 12-unit apartment complex perched on the southeast corner of East Street and Baseline got a green light from city planning officials Tuesday of last week.

The complex would be owned by downtown businessman John Genitti, who said he plans to acquire the land from its present owner, William Craft of Livonia. Craft is principal of American Elementary.

The project's architect, Eric Carne of Carne Associates, Inc., Plymouth, revealed detailed site plans at last week's city planning commission meeting. They had been intended for preliminary consideration, but were complete enough for final approval with minor changes.

The apartments' design would incorporate Victorian style features and would be "in keeping with the residential style of neighboring homes," Carne told commissioners.

There would be one three-bedroom apartment, four two-bedroom apartments and seven one-bedroom apartments built on the site, which is slightly larger than one acre. Since the site is on a hill, landscaping will be extensive.

There are still some obstacles, none of which appear to be prohibitive. Genitti must obtain approval from the city engineer for the complex's underground drainage system, and the project would require a sizable financial investment.

The project plans had the enthusiastic approval of planning commission chair person Lesa Buckland and planning consultant Ron Nino. Buckland said she was "pleased to see the area developed," and Nino told the commission that plans for the site were "extremely well handled in a very competent way."

Commissioners apparently agreed, and granted approval unanimously.

Genitti said he has no date set for completion of the project. "It's hard to tell," he said. "Anything can happen. We just needed approval to go ahead with other procedures."

City drive for Jaws of Life catches Jaycees unaware

By KEVIN WILSON

In a surprise move Monday night, the city fire department established a fund to purchase its own "Jaws of Life" device, committing $2,200 — enough to complete a Jaycees drive to raise funds to purchase a similar device for use by both city and township — as a start.

Fire chief Jim Allen sought, and received, city council approval to start the fund for purchase of the tool (used to extract victims trapped inside wrecked cars) at an estimated cost for the equipment and training of $8,900. Allen was also authorized to conduct a fund-raising campaign, beginning with a car wash scheduled January 21.

Money to start the fund comes from the sale of obsolete pagers to the St. James Township (Beaver Island) fire department. Council first approved that sale, for $2,200. The pagers (which summon volunteer firefighters when there is an alarm) had been replaced by more modern equipment in a three-year purchase program. Receipts from the sale will be placed in a reserve account, earmarked for purchase of the Jaws of Life, with the account to be reviewed after six months.

The independent drive came as a surprise to Jaycee vice president Ron Barnum, who said Tuesday morning that his organization had not been contacted and knew nothing of the city's intent to purchase a separate Jaws of Life until contacted by the reporter.

"It doesn't make much sense to me," Barnum said. "The intention has always been that this is not a city project, not a township project but a project to benefit the entire community. If he (Allen) has got $2,200, he could put us over the top — if he wanted to contribute a part of that we could order it tomorrow."

"I had no idea the city was taking this approach."

Barnum said at last count the Jaycees had $5,000 in its fund to purchase the device. He said they expect to raise another $1,000 by March 1 and that a request will be made to the township board this Thursday evening for a contribution toward the estimated $7,800 cost.

Allen told council Monday that "the Jaycees project is going to the township. Right now, we're relying on one (Jaws of Life) that the city of Novi has, but if there's an accident in Novi and they need it at the same time we do, it will go to their's first."

"With the Jaycees putting theirs in the township, we'd be second on the list again. I don't feel we've had to rely on the township for anything else, and I don't see why we should start now."

But Barnum said the location of the device to be bought by the Jaycees has not yet been determined.

"We'll have to talk to Bob Toms (township fire chief) and Jim Allen — if they want to work out a deal where it would be in one part of the community one year and the other the next year, we'd have no problem with that. There should be some way to work out."

Toms, contacted early Tuesday, however, stated he understands the Jaycees device is "physically going to be in one of our (township) rigs. It'd be no good if we stashed it at, say Seven Mile and Northville Road or someplace like that. Then no matter who needed it, you'd have to go get the thing."

He and Barnum both noted it was Toms who first requested that the Jaycees purchase the tool.

"We're the ones that asked the Jaycees to start with, we're the ones who really need it. As far as that goes, where we're peeling people out of cars is all along Seven Mile, on Eight Mile and on Hines Drive," Toms said.

"Apparently, Jim has caught wind of how close we're getting and that it'll be in the township, so he's done this. We'll see Thursday night (if the township board will contribute to complete the project)," Toms added.

He noted that it's been two years since the Jaycees began the project. "We've been after it for a long time," Toms said. "I really hope we can get it done, because we really need it."

Allen said during a break in Monday's meeting that his department cannot be dependent on having the equipment brought in from the township fire hall, which he characterized as being too far from the center of town. He acknowledged that it was unlikely both the township and city would be working on accidents requiring the device at the same time.

Both Barnum and Allen noted that the

NHS schematics near completion

By MICHELE McELMURRY

The first phase of a five-phase plan for renovation of Northville High School is expected to be approved by the Northville Board of Education by the end of the month.

At its meeting Monday, the board approved a special call session for January 30 to approve the schematic phase of the renovation project.

Assistant Superintendent Burton Knighton told the board that John Argenta, representing the firm of Coquillard, Dundon, Peterson and Argenta (architects for the project), has met with high school department chairpersons, NHS Principal David Bolitho and the custodial and maintenance departments to discuss the initial architectural phase.

The schematic design phase of the project includes preparing drawings and other materials in the form of floor plans to convey the architectural design of the project. Also included are detailed specifications showing the general description of the project, type of structure, kinds of material and type of mechanical systems.

In outlining a tentative schedule for the completion of the schematic design phase, Knighton noted that the Administrative Steering Committee will meet on January 20 to review the schematic design prior to presentation to the board of education facilities subcommittee.

The Administrative Steering Committee is comprised of Knighton, Bolitho, Superintendent George Bell, Assistant Superintendent Nancy Soper and John Argenta.

The board's facilities subcommittee is scheduled to review the schematic phase January 24.

Knighton noted at Monday's meeting that it appears the first four architectural phases of the project will be completed in time to enable some initial construction to begin in May.

Other phases of the project include the design development phase, construction documents and bidding. The fifth phase of the project is construction.

Superintendent Bell told the board he was "pleased at the amount of contribution over and above the regular school day by the high school staff" in working on the project.

He noted in particular the contribution of department chairpersons who have met two or three times a week to discuss the initial phase of the planned renovation.

Bell said he would like to call back the citizens advisory committee which worked on the feasibility study to review the floor plans.

While the committee's feasibility study was not designed for schematics, much of the work put into that project has proved invaluable in planning the schematic design phase.

In other action Monday, the board of education:

- Received an update on the status of the newly-formed Blue Ribbon/School Finance Committee by Superintendent Bell. He told the board the committee will hold its initial meeting tonight and will meet successive Wednesdays through January. The committee's work is expected to be completed by manager. A council hearing on suspension (up to 90 days) or revocation is required if a licensee accumulates three ordinance violations (punishable by fines) within any 12 month period.

It was Vernon who first proposed amendments to the ordinance, telling council he had, in discussion with Rea, found him unwilling to drop his dance permit but willing to comply with any restrictions the city might place on its use.

Vernon, city manager Steven Walters and council member Dewey Gardner drafted the amendments, which were discussed in an earlier council meeting before last night's public hearing and approval.

Council made final adjustments to the amendment provisions at the table Monday night, clarifying the hours of operation (as originally stated, it would have cut off dancing at midnight Saturdays) and the process leading to revocation or suspension.

Open Door Church pastor Mark Freer told council he and his church "are still opposed to any action that would further the relocation of the Winner's Circle Bar next door to the church."

Several church members asked what bearing the ordinance amendment would have should Rea resubmit his request to transfer his liquor license to the Center Street location.

Vernon said the stricter ordinance "would be a factor" in council deliberation of any license application or transfer request including dance facilities. "Knowing we have these controls would certainly have a bearing," he said, suggesting that it would not be the sole deciding factor.

After the unanimous council vote approving the amendments, council member J. Burton DeRusha, who has repeatedly stated his opposition to the liquor license transfer next to the church, said he had voted for the ordinance changes because "I feel it gives us more control of these facilities."

"At the same time," he added, "it makes it more feasible for the bar to move—I think we all recognize that. I think we need the better control, though, regardless of what happens."

Member Paul Folino made a similar statement, noting particularly that the ordinance amendments are not, in Folino's opinion, linked automatically to approval of Rea's transfer request.

Jaycees drive has collected funds from both city and township residents and that there may be some confusion about the two separate projects now.

Allen told council the volunteer firefighters are enthusiastic about conducting the fund raising drive and expect to complete the project rapidly. "If we could get just $1 from every resident, we'd have it," he said.

Only council member Carolann Ayers questioned Allen's proposal as it related to the Jaycees drive, and after hearing his explanation voted with the rest of the council to authorize creation of the fund.

Ayers made the motion that allowed sale of the pagers, leaving it to council member Paul Folino to make the motion earmarking the receipts and approving the car wash and other fund raising activities.

February 1. The seven-member committee will be chaired by management consultant Richard Ambler.

• Unanimously approved a non-discrimination policy for the school district following a second reading. The policy, reviewed by the board policy subcommittee December 12, reads that "No person shall, on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, marital status, or handicap, be excluded from participation in, denied benefits of, or otherwise be subjected to discrimination in any educational program, activity, or employment practice of the Northville Public Schools."

Prison plan submitted

Long range prison plans submitted to the state legislature for consideration recently include both a regional prison site at Five Mile and Beck and an alternate location at Plymouth Center for Human Development.

"What I don't understand," state representative Gerald Law said of the report, "is why they included Plymouth Center at all. They even acknowledge that it wouldn't be a regional prison, yet they included it. This plan is supposed to be for regional prisons, not every little hovel they can throw together to house prisoners."

The proposal to renovate Plymouth Center for use as a medium security prison, which the department of management and budget predicted could save $20 million, has met local opposition from those who prefer that the state proceed with its plan to construct a regional prison on the former grounds of the Detroit House of Correction Women's Division, adjacent to the present Phoenix Correctional Institution.

The report, which was prepared in accordance with a 1980 statute requiring that the department of corrections prepare a long-range plan to relieve prison overcrowding while closing the Michigan Reformatory at Ionia and decreasing use of the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson, proposes construction of a series of regional prisons throughout the state.

The Five Mile and Beck Road site was targeted as the prototype for the prison expansion project in a similar report which was approved by the house last year but failed to gain senate support. Other than the specification of the Plymouth Center site as an alternate, the revised plan submitted last month is substantially identical to the earlier proposal, which first defined the regional prison plan.

Each would provide roughly 500 beds for prisoners originating from its region, in contrast to the present system which has prisons scattered throughout the state and sometimes requires that an inmate be moved from one to another three or four times during his sentence (female prisoners are housed at only two locations).

The relocations arise as a prisoner is moved from maximum security confinement to less restrictive (medium and minimum security and into work-release or so-called halfway houses). Regional prisons would be designed to supply all security levels.

The report specifically states that the alternate Plymouth Center renovation would not meet the criteria for a regional prison, most particularly in being restricted to medium security only.

Under the plan, there would be nine regional prisons in Wayne County, one in Oakland County and 11 others (some converted prisons from the current system) serving seven other multi-county regions. The distribution was established on the basis of the number of inmates entering the present prison system from each region.

The new prisons would be built in phases while alterations are made to the existing system over a period of years to implement the regional concept.

The newest son of William and Kathy Selinsky of 42508 Ravina Court in Whisper Woods subdivision in Northville Township was born at 4:20 a.m. January 2 at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor.

His birth was reported to The Record last Wednesday. The day before, the arrival of Tim and JoAnn Kelley's daughter at 10:44 p.m. January 2 had been reported. They were the only two contenders for the 1984 First Baby title by the deadline to report a new year birth at 5 p.m. last Friday.

Stephen, who weighed in at seven pounds, 11½ ounces, becomes the 11th boy to win in the competition begun in 1957.

He is the third son and fourth child of the Selinskys, joining brothers Nick, 9, and Brandon, 7, and sister Erin, 4½, at home.

Stephen and his mother will receive presents from 10 local merchants as he takes over the First Baby title from Jennifer Lee Thomas, First Baby of 1983.

Jaycees claim success in holiday activities

Northville Jaycees last week reported a "fantastic" response from the community to the Jaycees' Toys for Tots Christmas project as well as a successful season for the Visits from Santa program done in cooperation with the Jaycee Women.

Tom Hoetger, chairman of the Toys for Tots program, said the collection box in the town square had been filled four times with donations.

"The quality of the donations was excellent," he reported, "with many of the toys purchased new and still in their wrappers." He said the Jaycees had only about five donations that needed repairs.

Estimating that in excess of 3,000 toys had been received, Hoetger said most were divided between FISH emergency help organization and First Step, which aids battered wives and their children in Plymouth city and township, Novi and Plymouth.

He added that the toys program had received a major donation from employees of Omnicom.

When the box filled up again a few days before Christmas, Hoetger reported, the final donations were given to Holy Trinity, an inner city church in the Corktown area. Hoetger said the Jaycees were made aware of the "real need in that extremely depressed area" through the priest, Father Jay Samonie, who is his wife's uncle.

The Visits from Santa program was conducted by the Jaycee Women under the direction of Pam Hoetger who scheduled the visits. The Jaycees assisted by supplying the Santas.

There were 14 paid Santa visits and seven unpaid ones to nursing homes and other locations.

Hoetger explained that the money raised by the Santa visits was being added to the Jaycees' Jaws for Life fund.

At the January board meeting it was announced that the fund now has in excess of $5,000 for the purchase. Such upcoming projects as a teen dance January 20 at the Northville Community Building, it was anticipated, could bring in an additional $1,000.

Now settled, recreation director discusses '84 agenda

By B.J. MARTIN

The first of the year marked the end of Jef Farland's second month as Northville's Recreation Department Director, and Farland appears to be settling in — gaining a perspective on the big plans he has for the department.

Despite more than two months in the cold realities of his job, Farland said the community's recreation outlook for 1984 has "great possibilities."

"Our only limitation seems to be time," Farland reported. "I've had no disappointments, and we're looking at seeing where we can expand recreation activities."

Budgeting and programming were two fundamental concerns expressed by Recreation Commissioners when city and township officials sought a new director last year, and Farland has been aware eyes are on him to produce improvements in those areas in short order.

Commissioners and the public will get a black-and-white look at the department's financial outlay tonight at 8 p.m. at the January meeting of the Recreation Commission. Farland is expected to present his preliminary 1984-85 operating budget to commissioners, following talks last week with the commission's budget committee.

The budget runs for the April 1, 1984-March 31, 1985 fiscal year, and Farland said he hoped to get final budget approval by late February.

He said it is "too early" to specify the details of the budget, but noted, "I think we've got a very good handle on the budget this year. . . We're hoping to include some expansion, but we've got to make sure we can afford that expansion."

"I still need a couple of months to find out everything that can be done with it, but I don't see any deficit spending — I won't let there be any."

That budget will likely include a $14,000 Community Development Block Grant expenditure for energy renovations at the Community Center, including an energy audit, repairs to the boiler and to the building's heating plant. Another $14,000 in CDBG funds is allotted for roof repairs at the building. Specifications for the work will likely be drawn up within the next two weeks.

It is programming where Farland, however, wants to exert most of his attention, and there already are modest changes, noticeable in the department's winter '84 brochure. There are a host of new recreation activities in the department's programming this winter, including:

- A "Power Volleyball League," offering strong volleyball competition;
- Three-on-three basketball and volleyball tournaments;
- New classes in hand caning and wine tasting;
- Ice-skating lessons cooperatively arranged with Plymouth Recreation Department facilities;
- A "Daddy-Daughter Valentine's Dance";
- A St. Patrick's Day Fun Run, co-sponsored by O'Sheehan's, and;

'Our only limitation seems to be time. I've had no disappointments, and we're looking at how we can expand.'

— Jef Farland
Northville Recreation Director

• A women's volleyball league with games once per week.

Also recently added is a budget provision for nighttime supervisors, which has been granted to existing recreation staff — thus facilitating nighttime use of department facilities.

Among Farland's projects for 1984 are several new activities, which he summarizes as "making greater use of community resources."

For example, he said he is embarking on a closer working relationship with officials of Maybury State Park. "We're considering an environmental day camp, a sort of fun-study outdoor activity that'll teach nature appreciation, that sort of thing," he said.

Another resource he wants to make better use of is the Northville police and fire departments, to teach safety programs for youngsters. "Among the things we're working on is 'Safety Town,' a program for preschoolers teaching them about being careful boarding school buses, not riding with strangers, and so on. It's a way to give them a positive introduction to the police and fire departments," Farland explained.

He added he hopes to expand adult and youth programs to include hobby and cultural interests, aside from existing and planned athletic programs.

"We've been trying to reassemble a community band, and I think we'll get somewhere with that this year," Farland remarked. "We're working on day travel plans, more senior citizen programs, that sort of thing."

Farland also expects to make better use of the ties he has been establishing with recreation officials from Novi, Livonia and Plymouth. "We've talked about cooperative leagues in co-ed softball, maybe a cooperative basketball league — mostly with Novi, but maybe we'll get Livonia in on that too," he said.

Among the park projects Farland expects to see work on are baseball fields adjacent to township offices ("We've had drainage and parking problems there in the past," he noted.) and the Beck Road park site.

The park, acquired last year from the state, has been a thorny problem for recreation officials hoping to get it ready for use.

The Northville Kiwanis offered to take on the job of preparing the park for development, and started work on removing an estimated 600-800 trees from an apple orchard now on the site.

"The township gave us permission to cut down the trees," chuckled Kiwanian and Recreation Commission Chairman L.T. Sylvestre. "And we thought we'd do it ourselves. We sent out a work party and hoped to do it ourselves within a couple of weeks last fall."

"Well, we had a very rough time — we got just a couple trees down. It became obvious it would take all our spare time for about a year to do it."

Arrangements to contract for the tree removal, he said, were complicated by the low profitability of apple tree wood. So far, the Kiwanians have been unable to get a contract that could return some profit to the department.

"We're not giving up, though," Sylvestre said.

Tales with a purpose

Richard Henderson's 'little stories' become parables

By KATHY JENNINGS

It began as project to fill the void that comes with finishing a major undertaking — such as helping to build a church.

Richard Henderson, pastor of Faith Community United Presbyterian, started his doctrine six months after moving into the building on Ten Mile as "therapy" to avoid the letdown that often follows completion of a project the size of bringing a church along from a group meeting in a gymnasium to one with its own building.

"I took off a couple months to celebrate and then I needed something to get my teeth into," Henderson explained. "It was something I've talked about for four or five years."

Henderson decided to do his doctoral work on original parables because that was the aspect of ministry he was most interested in at the time. He had written his first parable as an associate minister at Northville Presbyterian where he was responsible for a service attended by children and adults.

"I had to find a way to communicate to adults and children at the same time," Henderson explained. "The parables were an attempt to say something meaningful and tell a story to the children that the adults could get something out of. I'm probably still remembered in Northville as the minister who told little stories."

Henderson got a good response from his "little stories," especially from adults. So he decided to study more carefully Jesus' parables and try to model his stories on them.

Some of those he's written are Bible-based and others are from his own ideas. Like other writers, Henderson said the parables frequently begin as "pictures in your mind." Other times they come as a whole parable — all at once.

Henderson's work with parables also is a continuation of an interest that developed while he was in seminary. His interest began when an English professor impressed upon him that stories are easier to remember than sermons, because there are more vivid images in stories. Stories that are slightly vague force the listener to think about them, involving the listener and starting a thought process.

"What it's about and what it means is not so clear that it is decided upon," Henderson explained. "The listener remembers it because it's incomplete. They have to get personally involved and they identify with the story from the inside," Henderson said.

"I'm convinced more and more that in Jesus' parables, and in any presentation like a parable, people will see different things in it." That's one of the reasons the parables intrigued Henderson.

"The heart of the gospel is in the parable, in these vague stories," Henderson said. "So I kept trying to figure out if (Jesus) wanted to speak to the people and have them understand, why did he tell them vague stories that would be misinterpreted? Why didn't he say flat out what he meant? He never wrote anything down. He could have passed that out and that would be it."

"I think his intent was that each person could draw their meaning from it," Henderson said. "And you might apply it differently to a different part of your life."

The actual work on Henderson's doctorate began with a drive to Dowling, Michigan, where he and a group of 12 others met for two to four days in sessions dubbed "intensives." A professor from Drew University was flown in to lead the lectures and discussions which went for 12 hours.

That continued once a month from September through May. They also spent the month of July on campus, taking four courses in four weeks.

"That's the hardest I've ever worked in my life. I wrote 29 papers in 27 days. I saw my family at dinnertime," Henderson recalled. He was joined there by his family, including his wife Sheila and their two children, Jennifer and Jonathon.

When he turned in his major project on parables in August, 1983, a year after starting it, the only revisions necessary were the correction of 12 typographical errors.

Henderson went on to earn a doctorate of ministry, which differs from a Ph.D., he explained.

"The degree was specifically (created) to develop skills in doing ministry, not a Ph.D., which develops skills in research," Henderson said. "Every course and paper we had to relate what we learned in a book to our local situation. Our major project had to be applicable to the local church and we had to get reactions from the church. It's a practical degree, not a research degree."

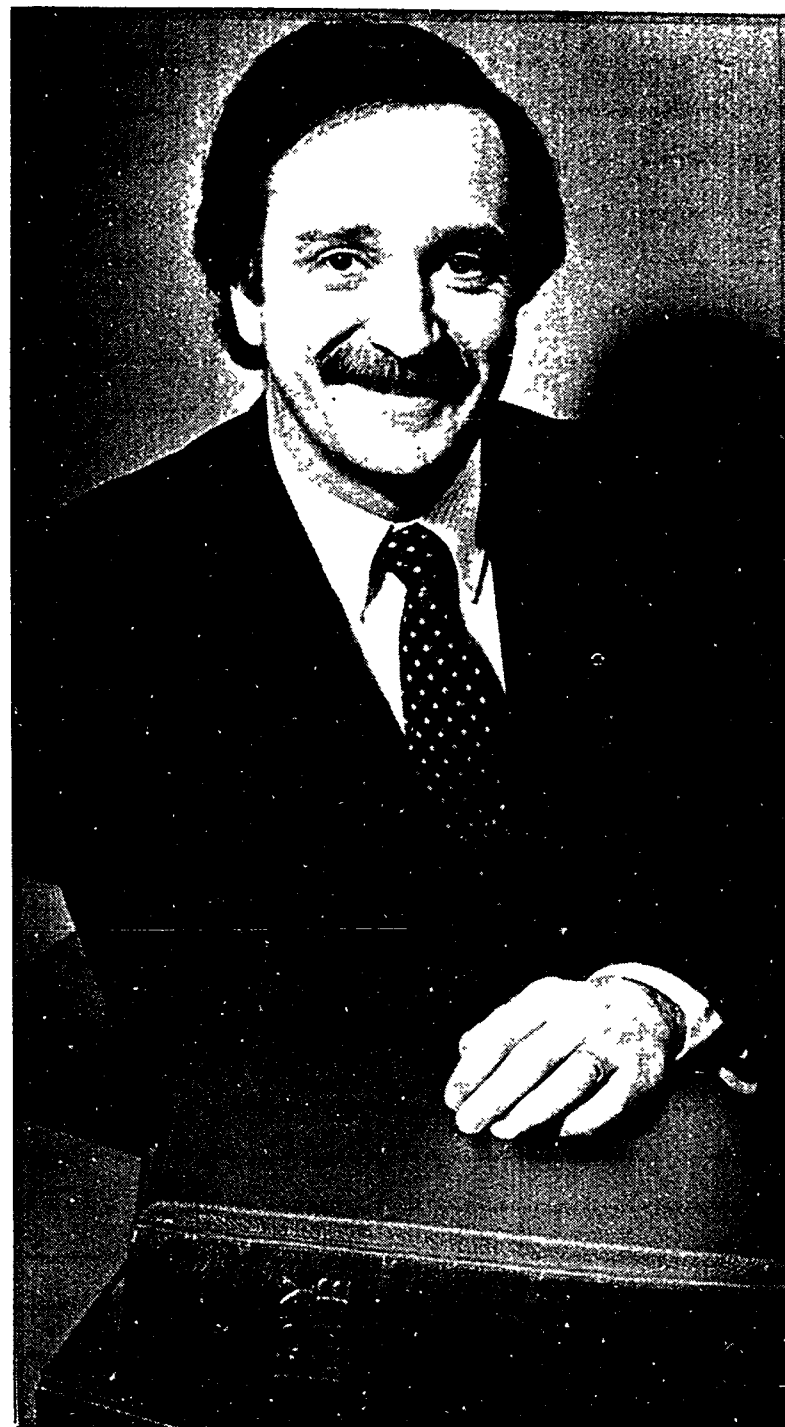

When he received his doctorate, the 37-year-old Henderson admonished his congregation, saying they should not call him 'Dr.' Henderson.

"I have a reaction to people who get a degree so they will be called Dr. So-and-So. I'm no different than I was two years ago. If people call you doctor it denotes you're in some way different, set aside," Henderson said.

Henderson came to the area as an associate minister. At Northville Presbyterian in 1972. Four years later he and a core group of individuals began planning a new church for Novi. Some of the original steering committee came from Northville, and others simply wanted to be in on starting a new church. "Anyone who was interested was invited. We set the groundwork for what we thought the church would be like. We didn't have any idea if anyone would come to the first service.

One of their early tasks was choosing a name.

"We looked seriously at First Presbyterian, but we wanted our name to say something about who we were," Henderson explained. "If all we could say about ourselves is that we were first, so what? We decided we wanted our name to say something about who we were as a group...There is a caring for each other. We're a church that's active in the community, not withdrawn and isolated. And that community is based on faith."

There were 120 in the congregation at the first service, some of them sent from surrounding churches as a demonstration of support. The following week 80 people attended. And within nine months Faith Community Presbyterian had 119 members.

"We knew we had made it," Henderson said.

Faith Community was officially certified by the Presbyterian Church and a tent was set up on the church property the first Sunday in October. There were 500 helium balloons and the weather was freezing.

From establishing a membership, the group went on to construct the church building on Ten Mile. The church has grown to 285 members, and since entering the building one year ago the church has outgrown its quarters.

"We could use four more classrooms," Henderson said.

Northwest Branch YWCA has scheduled an "Introduction to Personal Computers" seminar from 7-8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Grand River branch.

The workshop is designed for persons interested in what a computer can do for them and in obtaining general knowledge about how one works a computer and how it operates. There will be "hands on" opportunities during the session.

Computer terminology will be discussed as well as various types of software. Explanations and descriptions will be given on word processing, spread sheets, data collecting and telecommunications.

The workshop is being instructed by Jackie Sanders from Inacomp Computer Center.

A series of classes will follow the introductory session. Persons attending the workshop will have a $3 rebate on their registration fee of any follow-up course should they continue. Fee for the workshop is $10 for YWCA members and $15 for non-members.

Follow up courses starting the week of January 26 will include Basic Programming, Word Processing, General Understanding, Computer for Parent/Child Teams and Logo for first through eighth graders.

Auditions slated at OCC

Auditions for the Winter Touring Chamber Theatre, presented by Oakland Community College professor Wallace Smith, will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow on the Orchard Ridge Campus of OCC.

The theatre group, comprised of community residents and OCC students, will perform throughout the area for audiences ranging from preschool age to senior citizens.

In the past, Smith's groups also have held performance workshops for junior and senior high school students.

Through the years, these productions have raised more than $15,000 for Oakland Community College scholarships. The material performed is unique and written specifically for the Smith Tour. Oakland Community College credit is available.

Suspect sought in armed robbery at Five Mile home

Police sketch of suspect

Northville Township Police are looking for two white males in connection with an armed robbery at a Five Mile residence at about 3 a.m. January 4.

Police have released a composite of one of the suspects believed to be involved in the incident (see related sketch). According to the police report, the suspect is described as being about 5 feet 7 inches tall, medium to heavy build with brown hair, hazel eyes and a mustache.

Anyone with information about the suspect or incident should contact Township Police Captain Philip Presnell at 349-9400.

According to police, the complainant said he answered the back door of the residence about 3 a.m. thinking it was a family member.

As he opened the door, one of the suspects pushed his way into the house and was observed (by the complainant) to be holding a small handgun. The second suspect had not yet been observed.

According to the police report, the intruder did not say anything but shoved and motioned the complainant towards a front bedroom in the house where a couple was sleeping.

In the bedroom, the suspect hit the complainant on the back of the neck and told him to lie down.

After the complainant got on the floor, the suspect covered his head with a blanket. At that time, the couple in the bedroom awoke and the intruder covered one of the witnesses with a quilt.

The suspect then went through dresser drawers and opened the closet. According to the report, an estimated $800 in cash was taken from the woman's purse found on the floor and from her husband's wallet.

The second suspect then entered the bedroom and began looking through drawers, the report stated.

The first suspect left the room and went into the rear bedroom where the complainant's son was sleeping.

The suspect did not turn on any lights in the bedroom but went directly to the closet and removed a brown, steel lock box and carried it back into the front bedroom.

The second suspect then left the room and a crashing sound was heard. Police note that at the time the suspect apparently was removing guns from a gun case in the family room and had broken the glass door to get into the case.

The suspects then left the home through the same door they entered. The residents reported hearing a vehicle leaving but did not look out to see the car.

According to the report, the residents waited several minutes after hearing the vehicle leave before calling the police.

Witnesses described the first suspect as being about 6 feet 2 inches tall, 200 pounds and wearing a gray ski mask and a grayish snowmobile suit.

None of the witnesses could describe what the second suspect was wearing.

Descriptions of the suspects were sent to area police departments via the Law Enforcement Information Network.

Police believe the gun held by the first suspect was a small caliber blue steel revolver.

Items stolen in the incident were estimated at $1,900. In addition to the $800 cash, the suspects also took a variety of guns including a $500 Springfield, a $350 Winchester, $200 Ithaca, and two .22 caliber semi-automatics estimated at $120.

Thieves heist jewels in area break-ins

In the Township...

A Clement resident, who had left her home for only 35 minutes during the early evening of January 6, returned to find more than $6,900 worth of items stolen from the residence during her brief absence.

According to township police, unknown suspects had entered the residence sometime between 5:40 and 6:15 p.m. by forcing the latch of a side rear door with a pry bar or screwdriver.

Police investigating the incident found two different sole impressions in the snow leading to the point of entry into the residence and away from it.

An officer at the scene followed the impressions southwest toward Seven Mile. The officer followed the impressions along Seven Mile until they disappeared from the roadway.

Upon returning to the scene, the officer advised that a first floor bedroom and den had been ransacked by the suspects as well as both second floor bedrooms.

Items reported stolen include a $2,000 silver and diamond dinner ring, a $150 man's gold ring, a diamond ring with a platinum band with value estimated at $3,000, an 18-karat gold ring with an aquamarine stone valued at $1,200 and a $90 antique amethyst ring.

Items with an estimated value of $2,525 were stolen from a Woodhill residence sometime between 7:30 p.m. December 31 and 12:30 a.m. January 4, township police report.

The complainant told police that unknown suspects entered the residence and removed the items from a jewelry box on a vanity in the bathroom off the master bedroom.

The complainant further stated the house was only left vacant of family members from 7-8 p.m. December 31 and from 12:20-1 p.m. January 1.

However, police noted in the report that the house was left unlocked at both times.

The complainant told police nothing in the house was disturbed and that she did not notice the jewelry missing until January 4 when she went to the jewelry box to change rings.

No signs of forced entry were noted as all doors were left unlocked.

Items stolen included a 14-karat gold nugget and diamond tie tac valued at $550, a $300 gold diamond, a seed pearl pendant, a $300 gold chain, $550 yellow gold bracelet, emerald and diamond earrings valued at $850, $80 jade earrings and various other earrings with an estimated value of $100.

Items estimated to be worth more than $900 were stolen from an Old Bedford residence sometime between 9:30 p.m. January 5 and 10:30 a.m. January 6, township police report.

The incident occurred while the owners were on vacation and was reported to police by a neighbor. The complainant told police she noticed the side door of her neighbor's home open and a clock lying in the snow around 10:30 a.m. January 6. Assuming her neighbors were out of town and receiving no answer when she phoned the residence, the complainant called the police.

Police at the scene found the entire house had been ransacked. Several bottles of liquor were found on the kitchen floor and a Sheridan rifle was found in the master bedroom.

On January 8, the owner gave township police a list of items stolen. Included on the list was a $350 Jacobson snowblower, $54 Unisonic clock/radio/telephone, a pair of $500 gold cuff links and $30 in U.S. half dollars.

A $300 Toro snowblower was stolen from a building of a Haggerty Road church sometime between 2 p.m. January 3 and 2:30 a.m. January 4, township police report.

According to the report, an officer on patrol observed the rear door of a far west portable building on the church grounds ajar.

Upon investigating, the officer found the window in the door had been pushed in. The officer requested the township dispatcher contact a representative of the church.

Upon arriving at the scene, the church representative told police that the snowblower had been stolen and noted the door was locked at the time the incident occurred.

...in the City

A home on Springfield Drive in Northville was broken into and ransacked between 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. last Friday, and several items of jewelry were taken.

The homeowners reported they were able to recover an amethyst stone ring, a package of blank personal checks and money market checks from the mess the thief or thieves left — but they are still missing jewelry worth at least $500.

According to police reports, the thief or thieves pried open the home's rear garage door and gained access to the house from an adjoining foyer. Desk drawers in the foyer and dresser drawers in the bedroom were discovered ransacked, their contents lying on the floor.

Police are investigating the crime, but had no suspect(s) as of yesterday.

An unsuccessful break-in attempt was made on a house on Hillridge between 6 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. the same day. A screwdriver apparently was used to try to pry off the doorwall on the home's east side.

A yellow four-door Ford sedan valued at $8,000 was this week reported stolen from the rear parking lot of McDonald Ford, 550 Seven Mile. The car was owned by the Ford Rent-A-Car System operating out of the sales dealership.

The exact time of the theft is uncertain, but it took place sometime between December 6 and Wednesday, January 4, when it was first noticed missing. It was not reported missing until Monday.

A student attending a Friday night dance at Northville High School reported her black purse and $65 cash inside it were stolen after she had left the purse in the library. The theft took place between 9 and 11:30 p.m.

Four wire-spoked wheel covers and a standard equipment mirror were stolen from a white Cadillac parked at Northville Downs Monday night between 7:30 and 11:30 p.m. The car parts were together valued at $410.

A mohair sweater valued at $100 was stolen from the stands at Northville Downs between midnight and 12:04 a.m. Sunday morning. Police responded immediately, but were unable to locate it.

City police reported making six arrests for drunk driving violations between Wednesday, January 4, and last Sunday — each of the drivers came from a different community: Northville, Detroit, South Lyon, Westland, Ann Arbor and Lima, Ohio.

...from State Police

Suspensions that a state hospital patient might be wanted for murder are unfounded, state police reported this week. Police had directed an inquiry to California departments after a Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital security officer reported a rumor circulating among patients.

Police said the female mental patient's "bragging" to other patients that she was wanted for murder in Los Angeles was apparently done to attract attention. The statement had no basis in fact.

Theft of a chainsaw and a power log splitter from a garage on Currie was reported to state police December 13.

The homeowners told police they went to a movie the previous evening, returning at approximately 2 a.m. At that time, one resident reported, they noticed the garage door was open but did not notice anything stolen.

When one of the couple left for work the following morning at 5:30 a.m., he noted the 16-inch chainsaw and the gas-powered log splitter were gone. There was no entry to the home, which is attached to the garage, and the owners had not noticed anything else stolen.

No value was estimated on the stolen items.

Breathing easier

That's not an invading alien at left, but township firefighter Bill Gaul modeling the department's new breathing apparatus. Fire chief Robert Toms, above, said the 16 new air bottles and masks purchased under a federal grant (at a cost of $13,500) will replace obsolete equipment that will soon be illegal for use in Michigan. The masks and bottles let firefighters breath in smoke-congested areas, protecting them from possible toxic vapors as well. The township department qualified for the grant largely due to the large number of state facilities under its protection. Photos by Steve Fecht

Test home smoke detector with real thing, chief says

Northville Township fire chief Robert Toms is suggesting that residents who have battery-operated smoke detectors test them by blowing smoke at them.

"Pushing in the button is no criteria that they are working — it just says the battery is operating," he warned.

Toms suggested that homeowners light a match and blow it out by the detector. This usually will activate it, he said.

As Toms offered the testing instructions, he noted that he has "never heard of a malfunctioning one (detector)."

He said he was aware that certain battery-operated smoke detectors were being voluntarily recalled last year, including detectors produced by Honeywell, Incorporated.

Detectors affected by the Honeywell recall carry the model number TC89B and TC89C and had a date code between 7601 and 7820. Honeywell produced the affected detectors in 1977 and 1978. The models were sold nationally and were among those sold by the township.

The recall, done by Honeywell in cooperation with the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission, stated the detectors may not work when smoke is present, but may alarm when the test button is pushed.

Consumers who have detectors with this problem may return them to Honeywell for replacement. Since the firm no longer makes residential smoke detectors, a comparable model produced by another manufacturer will be used as replacement.

The model numbers and date codes are found under the smoke detector cover, inside the detector on a piece of gray cardboard.

Consumers who find they have a defective detector made by the firm may call Honeywell toll-free at 800-328-8194 to determine if it is covered by the recall.

Both Honeywell and the Consumer Product Safety Commission strongly recommend the use of smoke detectors, the announcement sent jointly says, and further recommend that consumers regularly check any smoke detector, regardless of brand, to ensure proper working operation.

Honeywell suggests testing by lighting a candle, letting it burn a couple of minutes and then blowing it out. The candle should be held about two inches below the detector and enough time should be allowed for the smoke to reach the sensing chamber.

Toms said he had talked with the Honeywell people and had passed the warning on to residents of Highland Lakes and King's Mill.

He added he has no reports of malfunctioning detectors.

MSP changes deadly policy

Michigan State troopers at the Northville post are undergoing training this week to learn a revised official policy on the use of deadly force.

According to state police director Colonel Gerald Hough, the department has, since its founding in 1917, always followed the state's "fleeing felon rule" which allows the use of deadly force in making any felony arrest. A revised policy provides tighter guidelines for situations in which a trooper may elect to use his gun or other deadly force.

"In an effort to reflect the view of contemporary society, the department has rewritten its policy and limited the use of the fleeing felon rule to seven life-threatening felonies: murder, armed robbery, arson, kidnapping, first degree criminal sexual conduct (rape), felonious assault, and breaking and entering of an occupied dwelling."

stated a police spokesperson.

As in the past, troopers are authorized to discharge a weapon in self defense or in the defense of others.

Some 250 troopers have already been trained in the provisions of the revised policy, which takes effect February 1. Those already trained during this week and next are training and testing all troopers, motor carrier enforcement officers and capitol security guards.

In implementing the change, Hough stated in correspondence to the force that "Since the use of deadly force is irrevocable, it is imperative there be no misconceptions on the part of any of our enforcement members.

"For the protection of the public, the individual officer and the department, it is mandated that all officers receive instruction and pass a written examination."

Auditor finds city's books in order

The city is slowly gaining against its budget deficit which once reached $500,000 and behaving in a fiscally-responsible manner, auditor Kenneth Kunkel told city council Monday night.

Presenting the completed audit performed by his firm, Plante & Moran, Kunkel noted the city reduced its operating fund deficit by $82,000 and that the downtown development district "is very close to paying its own debt service."

Partially as a result of the two mill property tax increase, city revenues rose from $1.92 million in 1982 to $2.37 million in 1983. Expenditures were cut from $2.4 million to $2.29 million in the same period.

As a percentage of revenue, federal and state revenue sharing dropped from 17 percent of the general fund in 1982 to 13 percent in 1983, Kunkel noted, due largely to the state not making a shared revenue payment based on income taxes. Property taxes, as a percentage of the general fund, contributed a nearly equal portion each year — 56 percent in '82, 55 percent in '83.

'You are going at (your deficit) the only way you can.'

— Kenneth Kunkel
Plante & Moran

General government expenditures dropped from 18 percent of the total in '82 to 15 percent in '83, while police expenses rose from 30 percent in 82 to 32 percent of the '83 total and public works from 19 percent to 21 percent in the same periods.

As for the deficit, Kunkel said the city is "going at it the only way you can. You can't cut essential services that have been established. All you can do is adopt a four-year plan and work your way out of it a little at a time. You will continue to have your work cut out for as long as the state revenues remain so flexible."

Among the auditor's recommendations for future operations is that the city continue to monitor closely its state shared revenues "since the uncertainty there is what you put you in this spot to begin with."

Both Kunkel and Mayor Paul Vernon praised city employees for their cooperation in the struggle against the deficit. Employees have made contract concessions and accepted wage freezes in virtually every department.

An audit of the city's federal revenue uses turned up two minor violations — publication of a notice on proposed city use of federal revenue sharing money was made only seven days before the meeting instead of the required 10 days, and a similar "technical" violation was found in publication of notice dealing with block grant uses.

"They aren't likely to get too excited about these violations," Kunkel told council. "In fact, the requirement for a hearing on proposed use of the revenue sharing has been canceled for this year; so I don't think they will really care."

State suspends Dembs Building license

Disciplinary action against a Northville building firm and against five Downs drivers from Northville has been announced by state agencies.

The Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation reports that a suspension and a fine of $1500 and proof of payment requirement has been given to Dembs Building Company, Manual Dembs, 17100 Ponvalley Drive.

The August-December report states the action was taken August 23, 1983, for the firm's becoming insolvent with "failure to pay an obligation as it becomes due in ordinary course of business."

Also listed in the report from the area were Cervi Home Builders, Luigi Cervi, Livonia, suspended with an $800 fine in an uncontested complaint, and Derin Construction, Incorporated, John Maguran, Farmington, suspension and $1050 fine and $4364 restitution to Barland Landscaping on an uncontested complaint. A total of 22 violations was listed in the report statewide.

The Michigan Department of Agriculture, office of racing commissioner, in Plymouth, noted that 34 racing commissioners' and stewards' rulings had been given out between November 16 and December 15 during Jackson racing at Northville Downs.

Charles Smith received three citations and suspensions for failure to drive when properly programmed to do so and for failure to appear at the stewards' hearing, for failure to set and maintain pace and a second failure to drive when properly programmed.

Carl Putnam was fined for violation of management orders.

Ron Muntz was suspended for failure to set and maintain pace.

Tim Buter was suspended for failure to set and maintain pace.

John Moody was suspended and fined for taking up horse to catch a loose horse, allowing another horse to over take.

Novi resident Mark Jordan was fined for failure to bring horse into position behind starting gate.

The 34 driver violations in the report ranged from failure to drive, interference and falsification of application to possession of prohibited substances. Disciplinary actions varied from three to 30 day suspensions to fines (some with suspensions) ranging from $50 to $400.

Margaret Zayti, recording secretary and a Downs officer, said the racing commissioner's actions had been printed in the Downs' programs during the Jackson season. Announcing the citations, she theorized, was being done to make the public aware that the racing commission was "on top" of track activity and to show that drivers and trainers are responsible for their actions.

TAX TIPS

Tax Relief For Married Couples

If you and your wife both work, you'll find welcome relief in the current tax law from the "marriage penalty." Under the old law, a married couple who both worked might pay a higher total tax than two single people who worked. The married couple's joint income put them in a higher tax bracket than two single people earning the same total amount but whose taxes were figured on an individual basis. This was referred to as the "marriage penalty."

(Because of this some working couples were divorced at the end of the year and remarried during the first few days of the following year using the tax savings for a vacation to Mexico, Las Vegas or other "quicker divorce" centers.)

Today, married couples can benefit from deductions based on the income of the spouse who earns less than her (or his) mate. The deduction is allowed on income up to $30,000 for the spouse who earns less. For 1983, a 10 percent deduction is allowed with a maximum deduction of $3,000.

If your wife works in your business, you may wish to pay her a salary in order to use this deduction. Both of you could then also make an IRA contribution. More on this in future columns.

"The Family"

Dr. James Luther

"For we are members of His body, of His flesh, and of His bones" (Eph. 5:30). It is heart warming to watch the family grow. The family of God! This includes numerical growth and spiritual maturity which is even more exciting.

The willingness to share needs is on the rise. Equally moving is the desire to help others in our fellowship.

The early church was known by the concern of the believers for each other. Somehow, the church has become more a collected group of individuals than a close and caring body. But that is changing. We need each other!

"But now are ye many members, but one body. The eye cannot say to the hand, 'I have no need of you;' nor the head to the feet, 'I have no need of you.' No, rather those members which seem to be feeble, are necessary; and those... which we think to be less honorable, upon these we bestow more abundant honor" (1 Cor. 12:30-23).

There are no second class citizens in God's family. Each member is important! This is the closest fellowship on earth. Aren't you glad to be part of that family? And if you're not, wouldn't you like to be?

Our Opinions

State must look at our problems

Last week Governor James J. Blanchard reported that 19 of the "initiatives" for long-term economic development he had outlined in an October 6 address to a joint session of the Legislature have been announced and are in various stages of implementation.

He has stressed that he is interested in "reinvestment in education." He also has announced the creation of a Michigan Communities of Excellence Program to stimulate local economic development initiatives. We do not doubt that Governor Blanchard is taking thorough looks at the state's problems and is seeking fresh answers.

We hope that as he considers local communities' problems he will bring the same willingness to consider different solutions to some long-standing ones. In Northville's case, we are thinking of the yet-unresolved location of the prison and of the dangers and continuing costs incurred because of the unfenced Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital on Seven Mile.

State corrections officials currently are preparing an environmental/economic impact study of plans to use the Plymouth Center for Human Development as a prison instead of proceeding with the planned 500-bed regional prison on the prepared site a mile west designed to be a prototype for the future. We hope that the statement such a change will "save" $20 million will be investigated and that the governor's advisors will take into account that $1 million already has been spent to bring utilities to the planned Beck Road site.

We also feel it is imperative that Governor Blanchard realize there may be a greater economic loss if the proposed Cavanagh Elderly Village on the Wayne County Child Development Center site on Sheldon is abandoned because it would be located across the road from a prison. The move from Beck and Five Mile to Beck and Sheldon would be an important one mile.

As we have stated previously, to shift the planned multi-security regional prison from the more remote site near the Phoenix facility to the more centrally located PCHD property violates the spirit of an agreement made with township officials five years ago which resulted in acceptance of the prison at the site. It was to be the last in the township and a prototype endorsed by state prison officials.

We think Governor Blanchard should know that already located in the township are the Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital, Hawthorn Center, Northville State Police Post, Maybury State Park, Hines Parkway and the vacant former Wayne County Child Development Center property. On Beck Road there is the Phoenix Facility and DeHoCo.

In addition to not generating property tax income, some of the institutions are costly to a small township. The state during the previous administration has refused to listen to pleas for a security fence at the state hospital to deter walkaways. With at least one or two a day the community lives with an ongoing concern for its safety — and local police have to assist in apprehending and returning the patients.

Last week's Record reported that a hospital patient assaulted a resident at his home on Fry Road near the facility. In the past an elderly woman was killed in her home on South Main by another patient who walked away from the hospital. Local police know that the statement that dangerous patients are not housed in the Northville hospital simply is not true. Residents understandably fail to see why funds were available to fence Maybury State Park on Eight Mile but not the hospital on Seven Mile.

Like most other school districts Northville has concerns about providing a quality educational program, and we are glad to hear Governor Blanchard intends to return more monies to the K-12 program. We hope his plan to do so will not be tied to present ones as many school districts are out-of-state aid formula. That problem we share with others.

However, the prison decision and continuing problem at the hospital are unique to our community. What is done about them will make a difference to our economic future. The governor stated in his address, "A Strategy for Michigan's Future," before the joint session of the Legislature, that in the face of new challenges our state has three choices. One was to do nothing; another was to "do less" and the third, which he endorsed, was to "do better." That's our hope.

Come for breakfast

The informal breakfast program for all members of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce at 8 a.m. next Wednesday in the fellowship hall of First Presbyterian Church is a good idea. It is the first in a monthly series of events for the membership planned by Sherry Spaman, who became president in October.

She announced the institution of the monthly events as part of her goal to have the chamber offer more member activities. In recent years the chamber's annual meetings have been well attended but are the only events seeking member participation. The monthly chamber board meetings are being changed to semimonthly and will be at 8 a.m. at the chamber office on the second and fourth Thursdays.

"Our goal is to have something different for our members each month. We plan to utilize the facilities in Northville as much as possible," explained Spaman. Next Thursday's meeting is planned as an informative session about the Bell telephone system changes. Marcia Bukl of the Michigan Bell marketing division and Michael Broom of the Plymouth Merrill Lynch office will be speakers.

A Night at the Races at Northville Downs tentatively is scheduled for February. Spaman has expressed the hope that by having monthly gatherings the 133 members will get to know each other better and be able to "work together as a unit" for the good of Northville. She also hopes to attract more members.

Spaman's thinking is on track. At a nominal $3, the breakfast gathering should have a full attendance.

My '84 resolution report card

A New Year's Resolution Progress Report: The First Week.

Regular Rigorous Exercise (RRE): So far so good. My energy expenditure has undergone a significant increase, thanks in part to last weekend, when I went tobogganing at Kensington Metropark with some other media hotshots.

A word of caution to those who think such an activity would be a good way to start getting the blood pumping. Various local stores sell saucer-shaped sleds at reasonable prices. Unless you are under 16 years of age and therefore impervious to injury, do not use these extremely dangerous devices. Especially do not use them on Kensington's advanced slope, which is clearly marked: "Use At Your Own Risk."

Grade: B-minus, running a notch for ducking early-morning running and exercise routines several times already. Still way ahead of end-of-'83 pace.

Caloric Consumption. Began with a severe handicap at New Year's Party, due to tremendous intake of hors d'oeuvres. Rallied over the next few days, however, with admirable self-restraint imposed by my annual post-holiday bank account clearance. Close to being an A-minus until the NFC-AFC championship games Sunday. My so-called "friends" brought home two pizzas midway during the second quarter of the Seahawks-Raiders game. Grade: B.

The Organization Man: I have not misplaced my keys, wallet, watch, etc., yet in 1984. For me, this is an achievement comparable to a blind chimpanzee winning the Olympic Decathlon and the Indy 500 in the same year. I have been offered Las Vegas bookings as "The Human Black Hole In Space," because of my uncanny ability to make objects disappear forever. Grade: A.

Fiscal Accountability: Here I can claim factors beyond my control. My car recently turned 10 years old and celebrated by having a severe brake breakdown, a heater meltdown, a starter that's finished, pigeon-toed front wheels, and a flat tire that had to be changed with a slow jack in two feet of snow during the Arctic Air invasion. Also, in a side-by-side test, Bounty absorbed better than my shock absorbers. Were these problems avoidable? Sure they were. So was a 1974 Pinto, although it didn't seem that way at the time.

Yet, I have managed to avoid unnecessary expenditures. This is easy when one's car won't take one anywhere one can spend money. Grade: B.

Correspondence: I intended to be better about writing to friends and relatives, and I can report much progress. I mailed out just about all of my Christmas cards last week. To those of you still waiting: hang in there, but don't hold your breath. I've been real busy, y'know? Grade: C-plus.

riGreat American Novel: The novel is "writing itself." I'm proud to say. Already, all of the chapters have been titled, and I'm three sentences into the twelfth and final chapter. I hope to begin the preceeding 11 chapters soon.

What's it about, you ask? Oh, it's something like a combination "War and Peace" and "The Bible" with bits of "The Gulag Archipelago" thrown in to lighten it up. It's about romance, politics, hate, friendship, philosophy, morals, comedy, existentialism, action, art, sociology, science, fate, symbolism, culture and religion. Should be done by March. Grade: A.

My Personal Life: Establishing my own personal lifestyle has been a high priority item this year, although the project is behind schedule. Some of the test-projects reports are slow coming in, and I haven't been able to narrow it down from joining the Marine Corps, acting Off-Broadway, being a rock star, signing with the Philadelphia 76ers, becoming a bishop, running for senator, or being a sports writer.

On the plus side, I get my consulting work free (unsolicited, even). Grade: I (incomplete).

About Town

By Steve Fecht

Snowbound

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

We have a special this week, folks — unsolicited advice.

I know you're all sitting on the edges of your seats, so here goes: Never publish your New Year's resolutions in the newspaper.

I made that fatal mistake last week, and have been paying the price ever since.

You may recall that I made several innocuous little resolutions in last week's paper ... eat a piece of fruit every day, cut down on the time I spend in front of a Pac Man machine and eliminate desserts except on weekends.

Little did I realize that how many people would try to help me out.

It all began when our office secretary brought me an apple instead of pizza for lunch the next day. And from there things went downhill rapidly.

I can't even squeeze in a game of Pac Man over at the Squeezer's Circle anymore without somebody suggesting that I could spend my time and quarters more wisely by returning to the office. Presumably to write another column.

The kicker came at a school board meeting last Thursday. One of the nice things about covering the Novi school board is that they always have a snack table filled with all kinds of little goodies in the back of the room.

I passed over the fruit and cheese, which is only there to make people think about nutrition anyway, and started nibbling on one of the brownies — real food — instead.

"I thought you were only going to have desserts on weekends," commented an observant board member, who apparently believed he had caught me breaking one of my resolutions.

"Brownies are not a dessert," I reminded him quickly. "Brownies are snacks. And I made no resolutions whatsoever about snacks. Man cannot live by fruit alone."

He looked at me skeptically, actually believing that brownies are desserts instead of snacks. But I'm not going to let him bother me. In fact, I wrapped a couple of those brownies up in a napkin and took them back to eat while I was playing Pac Man.

Lansing responds to letter about prison

EDITOR'S NOTE: the following letter was written in response to one received by E. Thomas Lee from the Governor's office after he wrote to Lansing about the prison relocation. He has sent copies of both to The Record.
Dear Mr. Naftaly:

Thank you for your letter of January 5, 1984. I appreciate the time for the response, however, I am confused. You indicated that the environmental impact statement would deal with the issues of concern which were contained in my letter, such as the proposed senior citizens' home, and the fact that our area also contains an unfenced mental state hospital. How can an environmental impact statement determine when "enough is enough?" Can an environmental statement consider the lost revenues to our township if we lose the proposed senior citizens' home?

I realize that no decision on a prison location can be made until the impact statement is completed. However, I do not believe that the impact statement can deal with the questions in the above paragraph.
Please advise.

E. Thomas Lee

Dear Mr. Lee:

The Governor has asked me to respond to your letter dated December 20 regarding the possible conversion of the Plymouth State Home to a correctional facility. The possible conversion is still being evaluated because of the large potential savings in tax dollars compared to constructing a new regional prison at the Beck Road site.

The Department of Corrections staff is currently preparing an environmental impact statement. The impact statement will deal with the issues of concern which are contained in your letter, i.e., the proposed senior citizens home.

No decision on prison location can be made until the impact statement is completed.

The Governor and I both appreciate the time you took to share your concerns with us and they will definitely be considered in the finalization of any decision.

Sincerely,
Robert Naftaly, director

and Budget

Police Chief clarifies Eight Mile sign plan

To the Editor:

In response to the article in The Northville Record on December 28, 1983, "Speed Reduced on Eight Mile," I would like to emphasize that the traffic study was a joint cooperative effort by the following agencies:

Oakland County Road Commission,
Wayne County Road Commission,
Michigan State Police,
City of Northville.

Further, the physical posting of Eight Mile Road is done by the Wayne County Road Commission. It should be noted that before new traffic control signs are erected a traffic control order must be issued authorizing the change.

This, of course, takes time. It is not a delay caused by any indecision as to what agency will do the work.

Resident feels trailers should not be at track

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a copy sent to The Record of a letter to Northville City Council.

Pursuing my letters of last summer in regards to the improper use of the race track property, I wish to reveal my latest findings, as well as my last conversation with the city manager.

First off, I would like to list the sequence of events as they occurred.

On August 18, 1955 a city ordinance was passed limiting the use of house trailers to 10 days before and 10 days after the racing meet.

On February 12, 1959, according to The Northville Record's report of a council meeting, the River Street property, purchased from the County of Wayne, was to be sold to the Northville Driving Club for the sum of $15,000 and that in the deed the property was restricted to parking and ingress and egress.

In November, 1983, I requested a copy of the deed in order to ascertain the deed restrictions. I found that the City of Northville was still the owner of record and that the deed to the Driving Club had never been recorded.

I therefore received a copy of the deed from the city clerk and was amazed at the poorly written restrictions executed by our former mayor A.M. Allen, and also that the restrictions in no way compared to those pointed out in

The Northville Record of February 15, 1959, and is in fact undated, showing only the year 1959.

In any event restrictions are (1) no horse barns or stables are to be built on the property and (2) no trailers or trucks shall be allowed to be used as living quarters.

After receiving a copy of the deed, I spoke to the city manager about the restrictions. I stated that the track is in violation of restrictions according to the deed. His reply to me was that the deed restrictions were superceded by the trailer ordinance, and that living quarters are allowed 10 days before and after the racing season, in spite of the fact that the ordinance was established in 1955 and the deed executed some time in 1959.

Based on these dates, I would presume to think that the deed did, in fact, supercede the ordinance, insofar as this individual piece of property is concerned.

In any case, violations still exist on the property, as far as living quarters and commercial establishments are concerned.

It would seem that the city council would enforce the zoning, deed restrictions and trailer ordinance. However, after 30 years of attempting to restrain the race track encroachment, I would have to believe that the city council will find ways to appease the race track, and will make the necessary changes in order to allow them to continue their present practices.

Veterans plan benefit for fellow member

To the Editor:

On Sunday, January 15, 1984, at 3 p.m. there will be a benefit dinner at Northville V.F.W. Post 4012, 438 South Main in Northville, for Don Collins of Northville Township.

Friends of Don will know the reasons for the occasion, and we would like to use this means to notify everyone. Don is a member of the local V.F.W.,

American Legion and Eagle organizations, and we are sure that all of his friends will wish to attend this benefit for him.

The roast beef dinner will be open to the public and at a price of only $2.50 per person we are hoping that many families will come down and share the afternoon with us and show this comrade of ours that his friends and neighbors really care.

Sincerely,
Lawrence M. McArthur

Jaycee Week's upcoming

To the Editor:

U.S. Jaycee Week, January 15-21, is held in recognition of the founding of the Jaycee movement in America. Founded in 1926 as a young men's leadership organization, the Jaycees have grown to over 300,000 members.

In celebration, the Northville Jaycees are sponsoring a teen dance to be held on Friday, January 20, at 8 p.m. at the Northville Community Recreation Center. Proceeds will go to the Community Jaws for Life.

Also, the Northville chapter has been selected to host a region Awards Dinner Thursday, January 19, at 7:30 p.m. at the Livonia Quality Inn. Outstanding Jaycees in the Detroit area will be recognized for their service.

The Northville Jaycees would like to ask young men ages 18-35 who are interested in improving themselves and helping the community to contact chairman Doug Boor, 349-2710, or vice-president Mike O'Brien, 349-9116, for further information.

Commissioner announces appointment to group

Wayne County Commissioner Mary E. Dumas has announced the appointment of Livonia business and community leader, Mary G. Karenko, to the county Citizens' Advisory Board on Small, Minority and Women-owned Businesses.

Recommended by Commissioner Dumas, Karenko is among the seven members of the council confirmed by the county commission after appointments by County Executive William Lucas.

The appointment is for one year. Noting that the Advisory Council reflects a cross-section of small business people, Dumas praised the council as a vital liaison helping assure fair treatment and a representative share of county business for small enterprise.

She explained that Karenko will be instrumental in overseeing implementation of the county Small and Minority Business Ordinance which sets aside 25 percent of county business for the small enterprise sector.

The council meets monthly to determine what contracts can be set aside, and coordinates with the county purchasing department on procurement of supplies and services.

In addition to the recommendation of Karenko, Commissioner Dumas is primarily responsible for amendments in the ordinance this year which qualify women collectively as a minority, thus assuring them of separate entitlement to all conditions of small enterprise as described by the ordinance.

"This is something that was urged by many women's groups, and with the cooperation of the other females on the commission I was able to persuade this arrangement," said Dumas.

Praising Karenko, Dumas said, "She will be a tremendous asset to the council because of her extensive background, and especially because of her experience in the kinds of business that women in the past have not been able to enter."

She continued, "I consider this a critical benefit because her area of experience and expertise is one where the county conducts a lot of business."

Karenko is president and major stockholder of Contractors Site and Signal Service, Incorporated, and treasurer of United Construction, both Livonia firms.

She also is treasurer and member of the board of directors of Piazano's Windjammer restaurant and banquet facility in Brighton.

"Mary Karenko will be superb expressing the needs of business women and demonstrating how other women can make equal contributions," said Dumas.

Truck takes down corner street light

Fisher Electric employees rewire light post at Main and Center

Ooops, there goes another street light. It does happen.

The city's attractive turn-of-the-century street lights have been casualties in accidents four or five times since they were installed in the Mainstreet '78 renovation completed in May, 1982.

Most recent mishap occurred last Friday when a northbound Pepsi truck turned the corner of Main onto Center too sharply and toppled the street light positioned right at the intersection.

Fortunately, the pole fell straight along the sidewalk and missed Orin Jewelers building.

"Each time it's been a freak accident," commented DPW superintendent Ted Mapes Monday as the light post was replaced.

"He (the Pepsi truck driver) cut the corner too short. With those semis the back wheels often go over the curb."

City Police Chief Rodney Cannon said the truck driver was cited for making an improper turn by Officer Howard Reeves who was called to the scene.

While this was the first light post accident on the corner, it was the fourth or fifth light to be hit in the city, Mapes said.

Another freak incident occurred on Dunlap, he recalled, when a trailer came unhooked and hit a light post.

During the Christmas season, two trees and guards were toppled on Main in front of the Northville Insurance building in yet another "freak" accident, Mapes pointed out, as a car being towed by a wrecker became loose and ran into them.

Mapes said the department of public works always has six to eight posts and lights on hand as replacements.

A new one was placed on the corner of Main and Center Monday and rewired by Fisher Electric.

But replacement isn't cheap. Mapes estimated the total bill, including the light post and electrical servicing, at close to $1,000.

To date, however, the town clock on the island in the middle of Main has not been damaged, as had been predicted by critics before it became a downtown landmark.

Final Yule concert set

The Polonaise Chorale has been continuing its programs of Polish Christmas Carols under the direction of Bronislaw P. Starkowski into the new year.

Northville resident and chorale member Krys Dziewit explains that the post-Christmas concerts have been well received as "people have more time now to enjoy them."

Final concert will be at 6 p.m. January 14 at Our Lady of Czestochowa Church at 3900 Eighteen Mile in Sterling Heights. Admission is free, but a free-will donation will be taken.

The chorus is accompanied by a harpist and features solo, trio and quartet selections.

Family business keeps covering the basics

By SUE LOWE

Once upholsterers used products like romantic, soft, hanging Spanish moss from the south. Now, they use rubberized hogs' hair. Thus, has modern technology affected us all.

Joerin's, 644 East Huron, Milford, is a reupholstery firm which has triumphed over 48 years of such technological changes by accepting those that improved quality and rejecting those which led to shoddy results.

Today, the business is run by George W. and Jan Joerin. George handles the reupholstery end, while Jan takes care of a decorating shop, schedules the upholstery jobs, and purchases supplies.

When the shop first opened in 1935, George R. and Florence Joerin, the present owner's parents, divided the duties in much the same way except that Florence had no decorating shop. Instead, she did all the sewing for the reupholstery jobs.

In the beginning the shop sold retail furniture along with its reupholstery business. In fact, a rocking chair Joerin's sold in the 30's and 40's has become somewhat of a trademark of the firm in the Milford-Highland area.

The chair is a Luxury rocker from the Luxury Manufacturing Company of Grand Rapids. Jan said the rocker was sometimes called a gooseneck or swan's neck chair because the shape of the arms resembled a goose or swan neck. Many residents of Milford still have their Luxury rockers and swear by their comfort and durability.

George R., the senior Joerin, was not always involved in the furniture business. When he first came to Milford, he began a fox farm. He raised silver foxes and used their pelts to make fur coats, capes and collars for the fashion conscious ladies of the late 20's and early 30's.

When the depression hit, the fur business suffered, so George remodeled an old dairy barn on his property and opened an upholstery and retail furniture store. He had a pot bellied stove in the center of the reupholstery studio and most of the business of the firm was conducted around this stove.

George and Florence's nine children were accustomed to the likes of Henry and Edsel Ford discussing furniture with their dad around this inviting old stove.

George W. says he remembers Henry Ford being in the store many times when the Fords were decorating their home in Highland. "Apparently, he made all the decorating decisions," George reminisced. Joerin's has also done reupholstery work for Greenfield Village.

George R. died in 1954 while George W., the oldest of the children, was still in high school. The reupholstery business lagged for awhile until 1960, when George W. started it up again. "I can't remember not working with dad," George explained, "but my experience was mainly in the retail furniture business."

Fortunately, George's father had taught him enough about reupholstery that he could not only continue the business, but help it grow into the major reupholstery firm it is today. "We have had as much as a six-month backlog of reupholstery jobs," Jan said.

George credits his dad with the business philosophy which was responsible for Joerin's growth and prosperity. "Every reupholsterer must decide whether he is going to do quality work or whether he is going to do fast, commercial work. It's a decision you must make early in your career if you're going to survive. You can't do both," says George.

"Dad always told us that the bitterness of poor quality lasted long after the sweetness of a low price was forgotten," George continued.

"When George repairs furniture, he rebuilds everything from the frame on up to the springs and finally the cushions," Jan said. George can rebuild a piece of furniture, redesign a piece of furniture or build a new piece from scratch. Custom jobs mean that George tailored a piece of furniture to meet customer specifications in such areas as size or style. "Although I do offer quality materials, the cover fabric is the least important element in a quality job," George claims.

Over the years George and Jan both agree that the quality of retail furniture has diminished. "That's why we went out of the retail business in 1974," George explained, "we could not buy quality furniture to sell."

George said that the wood frames of upholstered furniture were once made of maple, mahogany or walnut. "Now, it's made of hackberry, basswood, plastic or even particle board stapled together," he said.

The stuffing is another element where technology and economics have made changes in the upholstery business. Former stuffing was tow (straw), moss (Spanish), horsehair, and down feather cushions. Stuffing is now mostly cheap poly foam. "There are different grades of poly and the best is expensive," says George.

Barron president of new Bell company

Northville resident Richard C. Barron has been named president of Michigan Bell Communications Incorporated, a new company which will market advanced telecommunications systems and equipment following the breakup of the Bell System.

William P. Vititoe, Michigan Bell president, said the new company will market a new line of competitively priced business equipment ranging from "smart" telephones to complete electronic office systems. Barron has been Michigan Bell vice president for sales.

"We'll offer our customers the best of the new information age technologies to improve office productivity — including local area networks and integrated voice and data capabilities," Barron said. "All of it will be backed by reliable service."

Barron said the state-of-the-art equipment will be marketed by Michigan Bell Communications along with "an already strong lineup of Centrex services." Centrex, an electronic communications system based in a telephone company central office, will continue to be Michigan Bell's flagship service, Barron said.

As announced in October, Ameritech, parent of the five midwest Bell telephone companies, has contracts with four manufacturers to provide its companies electronic telecommunications equipment in 1984. The contracts are with Ericsson, Incorporated, NEC America, Incorporated, TIE Industries, Incorporated, and Western Electric Company.

Bell System telephone companies have been barred under federal regulation from offering new equipment to their customers during 1983.

Barron said Ameritech will provide financing for business customers who want to lease rather than buy telecommunications equipment. Financing will be arranged through Ameritech Credit Corporation, a new subsidiary.

Barron joined Michigan Bell in 1958 as a commercial operations assistant in Lansing, transferred to Detroit in 1960 as installation and local test foreman and became supervising foreman in Ann Arbor in 1961. He was named traffic manager in Detroit in 1962 and was promoted to district traffic manager in Jackson a year later.

Barron was promoted to general plant personnel supervisor in Detroit in 1965 and to assistant vice president-switching systems in 1972. In 1974 he became general manager-network services, and in 1975 he was named assistant vice president-human resources development.

He was appointed vice president for sales in June 1983.

RICHARD C. BARRON

Born in Dowagiac, Barron was graduated from Niles High School and earned a bachelor's degree at Western Michigan University and a master's degree at the University of Michigan.

He and his wife Nona have seven children and have lived in Northville since 1970.

Neighbors arrange flamingo welcome for Tomaltys

By JEAN DAY

When the Richard Tomalty family returned to Northville after a Christmas vacation in Florida at Clearwater and Fort Myers Beach, Richard and Elaine and daughters Kristin, 17, and Jill, 12, were greeted at their home on Bedford Drive by a yard full of flamingos — with three of the long-legged, long-necked wading bird decorations dressed in Santa suits.

The "welcome home" with the familiar pinkish Florida decorations had been arranged, the Tomaltys are sure, by a fun-loving neighbor.

In addition to three Santa flamingos standing in the snow, a fourth legless version was perched in a tree. The Tomaltys had departed for the South December 19 after school recessed and returned to the surprise greeting December 29.

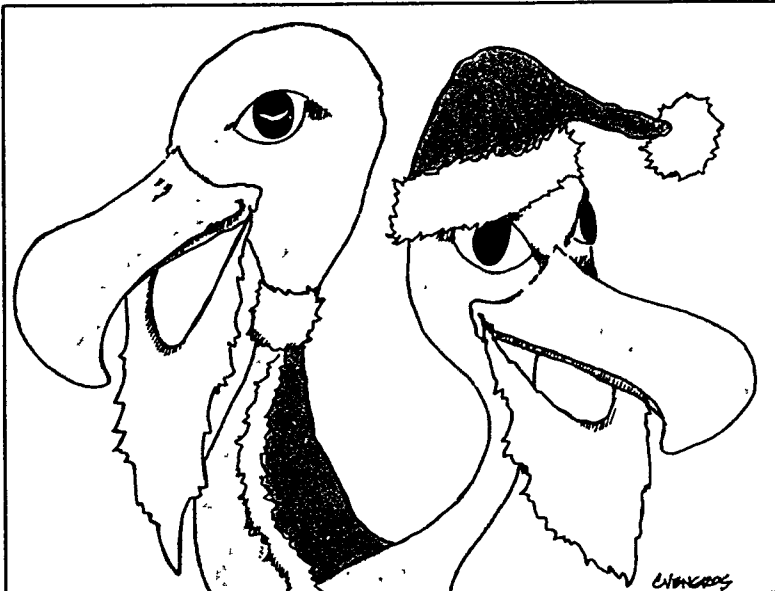

"We arrived home about 11:30 p.m.," Elaine Tomalty recalls, "and because we had our porch lights on and it was a beautiful moonlight night, we could see the pink birds clearly. There also was a sign saying, 'Welcome to sunny Michigan.'"

She says the pink birds, considered somewhat of a "tacky" decoration, had surfaced first some years ago on the lawns of families returning from Florida. But, she adds, they had not been seen recently and no one seemed to know who had them — if they still were around.

While the Tomaltys say they had "some" good days, they acknowledge the weather was not the best. The trip, however, also was planned, Mrs. Tomalty notes, as a Christmas visit with her husband's parents.

Do you have your Celebration ticket?

With only three days remaining before the Northville Arts Commission/Northville Friends of the Arts sponsored Celebration of the Arts evening at the Marquis, promoters like Virginia

Patak and Phelps Hines are busy asking friends if they have their tickets.

For $6.50 theater-goers will be helping fund the 1984 program of the Northville Friends of the Arts — and getting a big bargain. After a champagne reception at 7:30 p.m. the Michigan Opera Theater will present "As Time Goes By" onstage. New program plans will be announced before the showing of the film classic, "Casablanca."

The price is possible partly because Inge Zayti is offering the Marquis Theater for the event, as well as the film.

The fund-raiser evening recalls the initial social venture of the Northville Historical Society (a dinner dance) some years ago. Its success became assured as members in neighborhoods throughout the community called others to "go together." This "Celebration of the Arts" evening is another opportunity for such a community success.

They're going off to the races

Local groups are discovering that one way to combat "winter doldrums" is to plan a Night at the Races. Northville Rotary Club has reserved January 24 for an evening of dinner and racing at the Downs. Rotarians are inviting their wives and members of other local clubs to attend with them. William Tomczyk is in charge of the evening's arrangements.

Northville Community Chamber of Commerce also is reserving a date for members to attend the races next month. February 14 (Valentine's Day) tentatively is set. Among other local groups making reservations is Connemara Subdivision Association.

Newcomers plan bowling 'Adjustment'

Northville Newcomers are tagging their annual Bowling Bonanza to be held January 21 at Northville Lanes their "Attitude Adjustment Period" feature. It begins at 8:15 p.m. at Getzie's Pub with bowling to follow at 9:30 p.m.

No bowling experience is needed, planners report, adding that "lack of coordination may even be a benefit." Price of $13.50 a couple includes three unusual games of bowling, pizza, beverages and prizes. Kathy Levinson is taking reservations through today at 349-0452. All alums, members and their guests are invited.

Anyone living in the Northville School District for less than five years is eligible for membership in Newcomers.

New Zealand exchange student takes home many memories

By MICHELE McELMURRY

When Andrew Paxie returns to his New Zealand homeland tomorrow, he will leave behind a host of new-found American friends and surrogate siblings — but will carry with him lifelong memories of his year's stay in the United States.

While his suitcase will be filled with small remembrances of the many places he's visited, such as Williamsburg and Washington, D.C., his most treasured reminders undoubtedly will be the few items he brings back from Northville — including his class ring and a high school diploma.

Selected for the exchange program by the Rotary Club in his hometown of Napier, New Zealand, 18-year-old Andrew Paxie has spent the past year adjusting to life in America.

Since his arrival in Northville last January, Andrew has acquired a liking for Mexican food (Chinese food is the rage in New Zealand); has added blue-jeans and tennis shoes to his school wardrobe (New Zealand requires school uniforms) and has participated in a host of extra-curricular projects at the high school — including working on the lighting crew for last year's production of "The Music Man."

Academically, Andrew also has made his mark. While he excelled in physics, mathematics and computer science at home, Andrew discovered a new-found talent in English while attending Northville High School.

A budding poet, he recently was named second place winner in the Tenth Annual Writer's Competition for high school students sponsored by the Eastern Michigan University Department of English Language and Literature.

For his poetry, Andrew was awarded $750 applicable toward tuition at EMU. Nothing he has grown quite comfortable in Northville, Andrew admits he will "miss the feeling of being in a tight community" when he returns to New Zealand.

He explains that this hometown of Napier is one of New Zealand's largest east coast metropolitan areas with a population of approximately 50,000.

However, having been exposed to more than his fair share of Michigan winter, he says he looks forward to heading back to the mild New Zealand climate.

"The winter temperature averages around 50 degrees," he notes. "It's Southern California kind of weather."

While the climate and lack of sea air have been adjustments for Andrew, he says there have been few cultural barriers.

"The cultural differences are very hard to define," he explains. "I suppose the lack of English influence is the thing I've really noticed."

"In New Zealand, we were just a colony until 1937 when we signed the Statute of Westminster."

He notes that the "variety of choice" offered in the United States has greatly impacted his lifestyle and will be missed when he returns home.

He also admits his perceptions of Northville have changed dramatically since he arrived. Noting that his original destination was to be Akron, Ohio, Andrew explains that his district counselor in New Zealand notified him only weeks before his departure that he would be spending a year in Northville. "All he could tell me was that it looked to be close to Detroit on the map," Andrew says. "I thought I was going to Murder City."

During his 12-month stay in Northville, Andrew had three separate host families — providing him with many varied experiences as well as surrogate sisters and brothers.

David and Delores Field of 43558 Six Mile were Andrew's host family for his first five months in Northville. He explains that their son John, who was the same age, proved to be as valuable a friend as a host sibling.

Both Andrew and John graduated together from Northville High School last June.

Andrew notes that he still keeps in touch with John, now a student at William and Mary College, and visited him last fall in Williamsburg.

While staying with his second "host mom," Louise Older of Novi Street, Andrew had an opportunity to tour New England while visiting with Mrs. Older's daughter, Julia, in Vermont.

"Julia's a writer and we did a lot of arty things," he notes. "I enjoyed New Hampshire and Vermont," he adds. "They were reminiscent of New Zealand."

While in New England, Andrew says they toured Boston, where he picked up applications at both Harvard and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

"Both a little out of my price range," he adds.

Since September, Andrew has been

Exchange student reflects on Northville visit

living with Dennis and Cheryl Cassidy and their two children Lauren, 9, and Dennis, 12.

"It's the first chance I've had to have a younger family," he notes. "They've been a real pleasure for me."

Andrew explains that living with younger siblings has been a new experience. His own brother, Dennis, is 17 — only a year younger than Andrew.

Andrew explains his mother, Margaret, is a former secondary school teacher and his father, Costa, is a freezing worker — preparing lamb and sheep for export.

"There are 70 million sheep in New Zealand," Andrew notes. "Twenty-five sheep per person."

He adds that New Zealand is the second largest exporter of wool as well as butter and fruit.

"New Zealand relies on seasonal employment," he explains. "In fact, our whole economy runs on a shoestring."

Upon returning home, Andrew will enter his final year of public school before going on to college. He notes he will continue his education at one of New Zealand's five universities and currently is considering the University of Canterbury and University of Auckland — both on separate islands.

He adds that his year at Northville High School has "enhanced my desire for a liberal arts education."

"I'm quite taken with not getting stuck in a rut with math and science," he adds. "My experience here has really been an eye opener."

He mentions that he is looking forward to "winterless summers on the beach and getting back to the sea air."

However, he says he "will miss the variety of choice here."

Having been away from his homeland for more than a year, Andrew says it will take some time to adjust. He notes that his younger brother has sent newspaper articles from home to keep him informed. However, he says he still feels "relatively cut off."

When he arrives in New Zealand, he will have two weeks to reacquaint himself with his native land before heading back to school.

What has he taken back to New Zealand?

Many T-shirts, a Petoskey stone, some bayberry candles and "a lot of memories."

"I'm taking home a lot of very good memories."

Weight losses will aid Hawthorn

Hawthorn Center in Northville will be among the recipients of a new charitable fund-raising drive by Weight Watchers.

As Weight Watchers introduces a new weight control program which promises to deliver faster and easier weight loss this Thursday, it also is kicking off a Weight Watchers' 1984 charitable fund raising drive.

Detroit area celebrities participating will go on the new program for three weeks to lose between five and 15 pounds. The public will be invited to pledge any amount of money on the weight loss of their favorite celebrity with all proceeds going to the celebrity's designated charity.

Todd Hissong from WJBK TV 2 PM

Magazine has designated Hawthorn Center for disturbed children on Haggerty as his charity.

The first two weeks of the new program are called "Quick Start," a specially developed plan which, Weight Watchers explains, allows for an accelerated initial weight loss while remaining nutritionally balanced. The celebrities begin the program Thursday.

Participants will receive carefully structured meals the first two weeks. Third and subsequent weeks will give members on the plan a full range of food choices.

Pledges of donations toward a celebrity's weight loss for charity are being taken at the Lathrup Village Weight Watchers, 1-800-462-7466.

The Northville Record

Spikers gain momentum, top Wildcats

By B.J. MARTIN

Northville's varsity spikers shook off a case of opening-match jitters in their loss to Farmington last Wednesday to mount an authoritative 15-10, 15-8 victory over Novi two days later.

"We came apart against Farmington just because of our inexperience," said head coach Steve McDonald. "That's going to happen with a young team. I thought we played pretty well, though."

It took the Falcons three matches to put away Northville — Farmington smashed the Mustangs 15-6 in the opening game, but Northville bounced back in the second 15-11 behind solid serving by Cheryl Spanan (who had 16 of 18 serve points for the day) and Kim Petit (whose 13 serves all scored).

The third game was an emotional barnburner — Northville jumped ahead 10-4 but then made several mental errors after losing the serve. The Falcons slowly ground out a 15-13 win for the victory.

Nicki "The Rock" LaRoue turned in a fine game, connecting on 8 of 10 serves, and her counterpart on the front line, Bev Henderson, also played well, McDonald said. Jane Cassidy also showed promise, winning eight of nine serves and playing an active court game.

Last Friday, it appeared for a brief while the jitters were still around — Novi streaked ahead 9-4 in the opener before Lynn Frellick just took charge.

Frellick, just a sophomore, had to come into the game cold when Kim Petit picked up a painful knee injury with Northville down 6-3 (Petit will be out at least three games, and is seeing a doctor this week to determine how severe the injury is). Frellick coolly served 10 straight winners to lead the Mustangs to a win.

"Lynn did a really good job for us," McDonald said. "I was really encouraged by her. She's a tough kid."

Cheryl Berryman played a solid, controlled game as a setter, with 11 good sets and eight good serves, a "strong overall performance," McDonald noted.

Also performing well were Tracy Martin and Chris McGowan, who both made consistently good sets and strong saves. Spanan contributed some aggressive net play, helping set the tone for Northville during the first-game rally.

Brighton dunks tankers

Going up against swimming powerhouse Brighton to open a dual meet season is something like taking Marvin Hagler in your first fight. Still, the Mustang varsity tankers made a good showing in their 101-71 loss to the Bulldogs last Thursday — and it could have been closer.

His times were personal bests. The Mustangs got a "much improved" performance from their divers, and Talbot said he was very pleased with that development. Jeff Metz racked up 205.7 points for first place, and Greg Grasley placed second with 171.35. Jeff Palowski was within seven points of

'The score was kind of deceiving . . . We swam well.'

Mustang Swim Coach

"The score was kind of deceiving," said Mustang head coach Pete Talbot. "For one thing, one of our best swimmers, Ron Johnson, had the flu. But the kids swam well."

Doug Buell and Darius Mikalonis were the Mustangs' only winners in swim events. Buell placed first in the 200 individual medley in 2:12.3 and the 100 butterfly in 57.68. Mikalonis took top honors in the 100 backstroke in 1:01.81. Mikalonis added a second in individual medley with a 2:14.42 clocking — both making it a 1-2-3 Mustang sweep, finishing fifth with 161.65 points. "Jeff (Palowski) was a little off because he's fighting a back injury," Talbot said.

Taking seconds for Northville were Vince Shimp, who clocked a 23.61 in the 50 free; and Jeff Bainbridge, timed at 53.79 in the 100 free (less than 0.3 seconds off the winning pace).

Shimp also added a third place in the 100 free, and Bainbridge did the same in the 100 back.

'New look' Warriors run past Mustangs

Let's hope no college scouts were in the Northville gym last Friday night.

"We were just terrible," Northville coach Tim Lutes moaned after the rusty 3-3 Mustang varsity cagers' 38-36 defeat by Walled Lake Western — the team's third straight loss. With games against undefeated Plymouth Salem Friday and tough Livonia Churchill next Tuesday, the going won't get any easier, either.

Maybe Western's state-ranked girls' basketball team shamed 'em into it, but it's indisputable Western's cagers are showing a different look on the court this season under new coach Walt guard Mike Cullen canned a free throw to tie the score at 36-all with 21 seconds left. But then the Mustangs committed a critical mistake — one of many Friday night.

"We were supposed to have two guys bringing the ball upcourt and we just forgot," Lutes said.

As a result, Mustang point guard Dave Longridge was trapped in the backcourt and threw the ball away. Warrior guard Kyle Chura hit the go-ahead layup with 17 seconds left.

Steve Frellick made a bid to tie the score by driving to the lane with seconds remaining.

'We just came out flat. It doesn't mean we're a bad team. Sometimes this happens to good teams.'

— Tim Lutes
NHS Basketball Coach

Boehm. The Warriors went to the district playoffs before winning one game last year, and, well, maybe Northville took them too lightly.

"We just came out flat," Lutes said. "Momentum's a funny thing, and with those two losses before Christmas break and a bad scrimmage against Garden City, we haven't been looking real good. It doesn't mean we're a bad team — we're not — sometimes this happens to good teams, like MSU against Northwestern."

Northville had plenty of opportunities to put the Warriors away, and led throughout the game until Warrior The Warriors hammered Frellick, putting him at the free throw line. Frellick missed the first shot, then tried to slam the ball off the backboard for an offensive rebound. It didn't work. Western power forward Rob Wendland rebounded and hung on for the win.

Statistics of the game were revealing. The Mustangs committed 31 turnovers — Lutes called that the highest turnover rate he'd ever coached. And that old Mustang bugaboo — free throw shooting — was especially troublesome. Northville converted only eight of 23 from the line, even worse than the team's measly 53 percent average for the season.

The Mustangs also failed to dominate the boards against the smaller Warriors, and put up plenty of clunkers on offense, hitting just 35 percent from the floor.

Frellick led Mustang scorers with nine points, while Mike Weber, Scott Gala and Steve Schrader pumped in eight each.

"We had a long talk at Saturday's practice," Lutes reported this week. "I think we'll be able to straighten out some of our problems—we have to."

In a reversal of fate, the 5-1 Mustang JV rallied from a 14-point deficit to top Western 46-44. Don Norton's 15-footer with two seconds left was the winning basket. Norton led JV scorers with 12 points, while Eric Gala had 10 points and eight rebounds. Paul Newitt contributed four assists, while Fred Cahill and Matt Hines performed well off the bench with six points and six rebounds, respectively.

The Mustangs take the court at Salem Friday the 13th.

Mustang matmen win sixth in row

By B.J. MARTIN

Yes, the Northville varsity wrestlers are still undefeated. The Mustang grapplers preserved their perfect dual meet mark with a resounding 37-30 victory over Livonia Bentley last Thursday for the squad's sixth straight win.

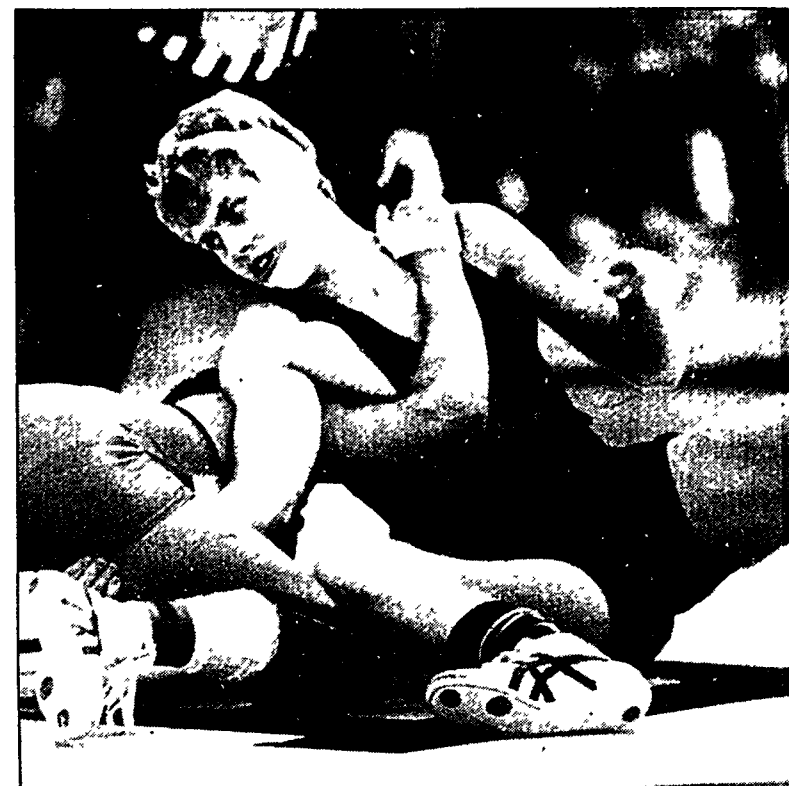

But it's the seventh win that concerns head coach Gary Emerson. He wants it to come tomorrow night, when the Mustang matmen travel to Walled Lake Western.

"My annual Christmas wish is a win over Walled Lake Western," he said. "We've never beaten them."

With the Mustangs on a roll and Western looking vulnerable for the first time in a long while, chances of Emerson getting his wish looked good—at least until Saturday, when Ernie Bock pulled a stomach muscle at the Brighton Invitational. Bock, a stalwart at 155 pounds with a 15-3 record will be out at least a week.

"It'll be tough to beat 'em without Ernie," Emerson admitted. "But it'll be tight. We line up real well with them."

The Yaffai brothers made life tough on the Mustang lighter weights as state-ranked Saum at 105, Anwan at 119 and Abe at 126 all notched pins or big decisions. A new 98-pounder for Northville, John Bauman, a freshman from Meads

Cougar cagers finish second at tournament

The OLV Cougars fifth and sixth grade boys' basketball team was presented the runners-up trophy at the annual Catholic Central Christmas Tournament held December 28-30 in Redford.

The Cougars, coached by Pat Best and Andy Dalziel, reached the finals by defeating St. Robert Bellarmine of Redford 26-22. The Cougars fell in the championship game to St. Refuge of Orchard Lake in a 19-13 defensive struggle.

The following weekend, the Cougars battled to a 27-25 win over the Detroit St. Scholastica Ravens. Mike Padden's offensive play and David Best's defense keyed the victory.

The Ravens' fifth and sixth grade girls' team turned back OLV 21-14, and the Cougars' seventh and eighth grade boys' team fell to St. Scholastica 50-23.

The Cougars' seventh and eighth grade girls lost 26-16 despite solid games by Christina Mastroianni and Robin McDuffy.

The next series for OLV will be played this Sunday at St. Michael's in Livonia beginning at 1 p.m.

What you should do and who you should call when your phone's in a fix.

It isn't very often that you need to deal with telephone repairs, but when you do, you want them taken care of as fast as possible. Now that Michigan Bell has separated from AT&T, there are some changes in the way repair problems are handled.

We have some suggestions for you on how to identify your phone repair problems so that you can get them handled as quickly as possible. But first it's important to know who will make specific telephone repairs. For example, effective January 1, 1984:

1. AT&T assumed ownership of the phones Michigan Bell had been providing you for a monthly fee. AT&T will continue to lease those phones to you and will offer repair services.

2. AT&T will also offer repair service for phones that you purchased from Michigan Bell prior to January 1, 1984.

3. Michigan Bell will continue to service and repair the lines that lead to your home or business.

Now let's talk about how you can tell if it's your phone that needs repairing or your phone lines.

Here's how:

☒ If you have plug-in or modular service, make sure all of your phones are properly plugged in.

☒ Check all phones for physical damage or frayed cords. If you find damage, it's probably an instrument problem.

☒ If you have more than one telephone, check them all for a dial tone. If you don't hear a dial tone on any of the phones, you may have a line problem. If you do hear a dial tone on at least one phone, the problem is probably in one of your other instruments.

☒ If you determine that the trouble is isolated to one instrument at one location, and you have modular service, try that instrument at another outlet or possibly at a neighbor's (if both you and your neighbor have similar one-party service). If the instrument works at another location, the problem may be with a specific outlet. If the instrument does not work at another phone outlet, the problem is probably with the instrument.

☒ If you have only one phone and it does not appear to be damaged, but cannot be moved to another outlet for testing, call Michigan Bell Repair Service. We will help you determine whether you have an equipment or line problem.

We suggest you clip and save the following phone numbers and keep them near your telephone.

LINE PROBLEMS... On all line problems, call the appropriate Michigan Bell Telephone Repair Service:
Residence ..... 221-2121
Business ..... 221-3131

AT&T INSTRUMENT PROBLEMS...
Residence ..... 1 800 555-8111
Residence Key ..... 1 800 526-2000
Business Single Line: In area code 313 call ..... 1 800 992-2772
In area codes 517, 616, and 906 call ..... 1 800 248-2772
Business other than single line ..... 1 800 526-2000

PLEASE REMEMBER...

Calling the wrong company for repair service could be costly. For example, if you call Michigan Bell for repair service and the trouble turns out to be in a telephone instrument, you could be charged for a service call and still not have your problem corrected. That's why we've suggested the line and instrument checks before calling anyone.

Michigan Bell can't promise you that you'll never have a repair problem, but we can assure you that we're bringing the same skill and experience to your telephone service repair needs. We want, just as much as you, to keep your service working as it always has. After all... IT'S AT&T WE'VE SEPARATED FROM... NOT YOU.

Michigan Bell
AN AMERITECH COMPANY

Facts down the line. Because your telephone business office is busily engaged in normal, day-to-day telephone service matters, we are providing this toll-free number as a source for answers to the questions you may have about your changing telephone company. We also suggest that you watch for our informational messages in your newspapers and in your monthly telephone bills. 1 800 555-5000

Win over Western on coach's gift list

Mill took a pin in his first varsity match at 1:20.

A void at 112 put Northville on the scoreboard, then Estigoy and Mike Davis took decisions at 132 and 138, respectively. Jay Anderson (10-7) and Bock won on voids at 145 and 155, and Steve Smith (3-2) gave Northville a lead with a 23 second pin at 167 pounds.

It helped — Joel Vogt (10-7) lost a tough match to defending league champ Mark Zenas at 185, and Dino Candella (8-7) lost a 12-2 decision to one of the conference's top wrestlers at 198, Marty Altoun. But Bentley was void at heavyweight, although it's likely Mustang Brian Burgett would have notched another win at that weight class.

In JV competition, Pat Storm, John Lazar, Ken Kehoe and Dana Letarte all won on pins. Only Dave Baird lost, on a pin at 3:00 at 169 pounds. The JV score was 23-6.

Northville finished behind Pinckney, Haslett and Brighton at the 10-team Brighton Invitational Saturday, but seven of the 12 Mustang entries took medals.

Winning an unexpected first was Norm Estigoy, who surprised first-seed Mike Letourneau of Pinckney with a 57-second pin and won an 8-3 overtime decision in the final for the 126-pound championship.

Bad breaks led to second-place finishes for Bock and Anderson. Bock injured his stomach muscle in a semifinal win and had to forfeit the final. Anderson's escape with 20 seconds remaining in the third period gave the Mustang 145-pounder a 5-4 lead, but Rod Elston of Eaton Rapids managed a takedown with 15 seconds left for two points and a 6-5 decision.

Taking third-place medals at the tourney with wins in consolation finals were Candella, Vogt, Burgett and John Letarte (6-1). Also scoring for Northville were Mike Davis and Steve Smith.

Assemany was a victim of a too-tough field at 105, which included a third-in-the-state, a fifth-in-the-nation freestyle, an undefeated wrestler and winner of a 16-team tourney in Howell.

The heavyweight class was similarly tough. Burgett (12-2) finished behind two undefeated wrestlers, Mike Kelly of Fowlerville and Dave Rackovich of Pinckney. Even so, Emerson thought Burgett could have done better. "Brian's only a second-year wrestler and makes mistakes sometimes by being too aggressive. But he's as good as those first two seeds."

Following Thursday's match against Western, Northville travels Saturday to the nine-team Romulus Invitational featuring mostly talent from downriver high schools.

Buell, Mustang divers shine in loss to Brighton

Talbot said he was pleased with Dave Wayne's third place performance in the 100 butterfly, calling Wayne's personal-best time of 1:03.08 "a big surprise." Wayne added a fourth in the 50 free.

Adam Swallow took a third in the 200 free and a fourth in the 500 free — Talbot said Swallow's performance was below his best, but not troublesome.

"Adam's always been a slow starter," Talbot explained. "It takes him a couple meets to get going, but he'll be there."

Brighton took firsts in both relay events to keep Northville at bay.

The Mustangs swim their home and Western Lakes Activities Association opener at 7 p.m. tomorrow against Livonia Bentley. Talbot said he expects Northville's superiority over Bentley at the WLAA relay meet will hold up. "We should be able to handle them," he said.

The squad travels to Inkster Cherry Hill on Tuesday, January 17, for a non-league dual meet.

Spikers find cure for opening jitters

"I give a lot of credit to the girls' attitude," McDonald said. "They hung tough and settled down."

In the second game, the Mustangs looked organized and steady, while Novi came somewhat unraveled — Northville jumped ahead 10-4 by the second rotation and never let up the pressure.

"We played very well all-around," McDonald said, pleased with the team's poise against Novi.

At 6:30 p.m. tonight, Northville plays its home opener against Livonia Stevenson, a team McDonald thinks will be one of the toughest in the Western Lakes Activities Association. The squad then will participate in a tournament at Dearborn Bishop Borgess Saturday.

McDonald thinks the tourney will be a good opportunity for the team to loosen up with plenty of action and also a good chance for less-seen ballplayers to get some experience. Monday, the Mustangs will host league and division rival Walled Lake Western in a big game.

The Mustang junior varsity also defeated Novi, by a score of 15-10, 9-15, 15-6. The win boosted the JV record to 2-0.

SPORTS EDITOR'S NOTE — Information on Mandy Olgren, a reserve for the varsity volleyball team, inadvertently was trimmed from the end of a December 28 team preview story. Olgren is a 5-7 sophomore with good jumping ability who will see time as a strong-side hitter.

McDonald had this to say about Olgren: "She has a good attitude, and she's a good hard worker. She'll see a lot of time for us on the back row. She knows her skills well, and she'll be a big help to us, especially in the future."
