Council to consider 1.25 mill tax hike

A 1.25 mill tax increase that would bring the total city levy to 16.93 mills will be considered by city council at its first regular meeting of the month at 8 p.m. next Monday.

The increase would make it possible for the city to eliminate its budget deficit by the end of the next budget year, providing no unexpected emergency occurs, and it also would provide funds to purchase a generator for city hall, council members were told.

After reviewing general fund budget revisions to the present budget and projections for the 1984-85 budget in a second budget study session Monday night, the council instructed City Manager Steve Walters to draft a proposal with the increase for the next session. The millage rate must be adopted at the May 29 meeting along with the new budget.

The city currently levies 15.68 mills. There also is a half-mill levy voted by residents for the paving of South Main Street.

Council member G. Dewey Gardner suggested the council might consider a one mill increase as the council studied a tight "hold-the-line" budget with provision only for contractual salary increases.

The budget includes no appropriations for repairing the parking deck, for refurbishing the water tower or for street repairs, Walters pointed out. The lack of street repairs is going to impact on the community shortly, council members agreed, as Walters told them that there already are serious problems in some areas. He cited a portion of Lexington Commons North in particular.

"While the city still is providing essential services," Mayor Paul Vernon said, "it is my feeling that the sooner we get the deficit behind us, the better off we'll be."

Vernon and the council were looking at a three-year operating deficit brought about mainly by the decrease in race track revenue returns from the state and increased with higher than expected start-up costs for 35th District Court.

The council also had good news in that the check for the city's race track reimbursement for the month of March, received last Friday, was $85,800 higher than anticipated. Noting that it had been "the best year ever" for the Northville Downs, Walters said the state apparently returned 76 percent of the original formula amount, as pari-mutuel taxes from October, 1983, through March, 1984, totaled a record $904,896.

"It's like pennies from heaven," said Gardner, adding, "It's the first encouragement we've had."

Walters said it appeared the city, with the increased return, could be looking at reducing the $400,000 deficit by $138,000 in the current budget year ending June 30. He projected a reduction of $104,000 in the 1984-85 budget, taking the deficit down to $158,000, assuming no wage increases, but paying cost of living, and experiencing no major expense such as last year's storm.

At this point, the council began considering a mill increase that could mean the deficit would be eliminated by the end of the next budget year.

Council member Paul Folino then

Schoolcraft College to confer 860 degrees

Degrees and certificates earned by 860 Schoolcraft college students will be recognized at annual commencement ceremonies at 6 p.m. Saturday in the main gymnasium.

Philip H. Power, founder and chairman of the board of Suburban Communications Corporation, will be the keynote speaker for Schoolcraft's 19th commencement.

Approximately a third of the students who completed courses of study since last year's ceremony are expected to participate. They include graduates from the spring and summer sessions and the fall semester, as well as winter semester and this spring and summer's candidates.

This year's graduates will bring the number of students who have graduated from the college since the first class in 1966 to 11,019.

Schoolcraft College President Richard McDowell will preside at the event which is expected to draw a capacity crowd. Board chairperson Michael W. Burley will confer four honorary degrees upon persons whose names will not be announced before that evening.

As this year's speaker, Philip Power gains the distinction of becoming the first person invited back to speak at the ceremony, having first addressed the graduating class in 1969. His wife, Sarah Goddard Power, was Schoolcraft's speaker in 1975.

Long active in state Democratic Party activities, Power is director of the World Press Freedom Committee, a member of Governor Blanchard's Commission on the Future of Higher Education and chairman of the Michigan Job Training Coordinating Council.

Motherly advice

With two new charges to care for, "Amelia" appears to be asking owner and companion Betty Broderick for a little pre-Mother's Day advice. The little ones, known as Big Boy and Big Girl until the Broderick boys find more suitable names, arrived at the Broderick's West Seven Mile farm on May 2. According to Betty, they are Amelia's "third kids" and already are being groomed for the 4-H Fair slated in August. From the look of the things, it appears these little goats may have two mothers to thank this Mother's Day. Record photo by Steve Fecht.

Maybury workers trade welfare for jobs

By MICHELE McELMURRY

Former state public assistance recipients who opted to trade their welfare checks last week in exchange for temporary work were planting trees at Northville's Maybury State Park.

The group of workers planting saplings in the state-owned park were the first of a targeted 7,500 state welfare recipients forgoing welfare checks for temporary minimum wage jobs under the Blanchard administration's new Project Self Reliance.

According to the program's director, former state Senator Doug Ross, Project Self Reliance is an experimental plan aimed at giving former welfare recipients work experience and the hope of permanent private sector jobs.

"Our goal is to find better ways in this state for people to become economically independent," Ross said. "This is an effort to see if there's a better way to match people up with work in the state."

Project Self Reliance is comprised of two programs — the Michigan Conservation Corps and the Michigan Community Service Corps.

The Conservation Corps, adopted last fall by legislation sponsored by Representative Thomas Mathieu (D-Grand Rapids), is similar to the Depression-era Civilian Conservation Corps.

The one-year program focuses on reforestation and park beautification and is expected to provide temporary employment to 500 general assistance recipients.

Conservation Corps Director Tim Ervin said some 280 workers began planting 400,000 trees last week in parks owned and managed by the state Department of Natural Resources.

He noted that the Conservation Corps "expects to be up to the full 500 in the next week or so."

In addition to Maybury, other parks employing Conservation Corps workers include Metamora Hadley Recreation Area in Lapeer County, Ionia Recreation Area in Ionia County and Sleepy Hollow State Park in Clinton County. Ervin noted that in addition to planting, pruning and cutting trees, workers also will be developing waterways and recreational sites, preventing shore and soil erosion and pest control.

The Community Service Corps, expected to be fully under way by the first week in June, will provide some 7,000 temporary jobs to general assistance and aid to dependent children recipients for up to six months.

Community Service Corps worksites will include a variety of locations in accordance with community needs such as neighborhoods, health care facilities, educational institutions and nursing facilities.

The Conservation Corps is open to single, childless general assistance recipients between the ages of 18 and 25 and is under the jurisdiction of the DNR.

The Community Service Corps, operated by the state Department of Social Services, is accepting applications from general assistance and ADC recipients 21 and older.

Among those planting pine saplings at Maybury last Thursday was 46-year-old George DesJardins of Detroit, a former carpenter who lost his right foot in a construction accident 11 years ago.

A general assistance recipient for more than a decade, DesJardins said he heard about Project Self Reliance through his welfare worker.

"She told me about the job and I said 'fine I'll take it,'" DesJardins noted.

Now supervising the tree planting at Maybury, DesJardins said "it feels great to be working — I just hope I can find something after this."

In addition to a year's employment, many of those at Maybury said the job

BZA to face Ford issue

By B.J. MARTIN

The only City of Northville governmental body with the power to accept or deny the Ford Motor Company's temporary use permit request finally will get a look at the issue which has stirred a controversy in the city on June 6.

That is when the city's Board of Zoning Appeals (BZA) will decide whether to grant, reject or delay approval of the permit, based on city planners' contingent recommendation for approval, granted last week.

The story up till now: Since last year, Northville Ford Plant operators have permitted the stacking of material storage racks in the company parking lot west of Griswold. Besides drawing criticism as an eyesore, the racks were in violation of a city zoning ordinance concerning use of parking lots.

When discussions between plant operators and complaining city officials failed to remedy the situation, Ford was cited for the violation.

In response, management of the Ford Plant filed a request for a temporary use permit, which would allow the racks to be stacked in the lot for another year.

Ford spokesperson Arthur Basse declared that permitting the stacks (some as high as 24 feet) to remain would preserve the jobs of 13 workers in the plant's rack repair division. Denial of the permit, he said, would force layoffs of those workers.

Standard procedure for such a request is for the BZA to receive a recommendation from the Planning Commission before taking action. After the issue was discussed and tabled at the commission's April 17 meeting, it returned to the commission's agenda Tuesday of last week.

NEWS BRIEFS

NEARLY ALL SPACES for the annual City Garage Sale to be held on downtown streets from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, May 19, have been sold, Scott Lapham, chairman of the event sponsored by the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce, reported Tuesday.

REGISTRATION for the summer driver's education session will begin May 14. All students who have reached the age of 15 before June 18 are eligible for the summer course.

NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP trustees will meet at 7:45 p.m. tomorrow at Township Hall for a public hearing on federal assistance for a Middle Rouge parkway project. At 8 p.m. the Board will conduct its regular meeting.

CITY COUNCIL'S scheduled council meeting for May 22 has been changed to a special meeting for hearings at 8 p.m. with the regular council meetings being set for 8 p.m. May 14 and May 29.

Zoning Board to tackle Ford issue

Its return was accompanied by a recommendation from City Council that unconditional approval of the use permit would be, in their view, unacceptable.

"The Planning Commission should not worry about the jobs," Council member J. Burton DeRusha, who serves as council liaison to the planning commission, advised commissioners. "That's the responsibility of Ford Motor Company. You should never really worry what it costs an applicant to make required changes."

Representing the council's position, DeRusha said the commission should recommend approval subject to landscaping and moving the fence to more allow more effective screening of the parking lot.

He also urged the commission to recommend limiting the height the racks could be stacked, and that the stacks be kept at least 50 feet from the fence surrounding the lot.

Aside from the requirement to move the fence, commissioners agreed with DeRusha's recommendation.

"From our standpoint, fence relocation is not a vital issue," Commissioner Jerry Mittman responded. "I think there's enough room for some satisfactory screening."

Mittman moved to recommend approval subject to:

•Preparation and approval of a landscaping plan to "soften the appearance" of the parking lot from Griswold Street;

•No rack storage take place within 50 feet of the lot's fence along Griswold;

•A 16-foot limit be imposed on how high Ford could stack the racks — a height Ford representatives said was "acceptable."

City Planning Consultant Ron Nino told commissioners they should be prepared to assist the BZA and Ford in determining what is an appropriate amount of screening.

The Planning Commission barely had abstaining from the vote because he is a Ford employee. Mittman, Joyce Kinelly, Luke Durst, Jay Wendt and Jim Cutler all voted to approve Mittman's motion.

Both Basse and Plant Manager William Sherrick were optimistic a suitable landscape arrangement could be worked out with Ford.

Looming as a potential hitch, however, was Basse's estimate it might take as long as six weeks to come up with a proposal approved by high-level Ford management. If that estimate is correct, the Ford landscaping proposal will not be ready in time for BZA consideration June 8.

The processional and recessional marches will be played by the Schoolcraft College Wind Ensemble under Victor A. Markovich. The ensemble also will present a mini concert starting at 5 p.m.

experience will be a plus when looking for a permanent job in the private sector.

Redford Township resident Patricia Hidey, 21, said she's "glad to be working" after spending four-months on general assistance.

A former custodial worker, Hidey shares a ride out to Northville with Ken Freismuth, 20, a former pizza and bakery employee who has been on general assistance for six months.

"I like the work," Hidey noted, adding that after five years of cleaning offices, "it feels good to get some different experience."

General assistance and ADC recipients (with one child) interested in participating in the Community Service Corps should contact their employment worker at their county Social Services office.

noted that Police Chief Rodney Cannon's request for a generator to supply emergency power for city hall estimated at a cost of about $15,000 had been cut from the budget.

"I consider this a prime necessity," he told council, reminding members that he had advocated the purchase before.

Cannon confirmed that the present generator is inadequate and would not provide enough power to operate city hall in the event of a power outage.

"My big concern," Cannon told council, "is that we can't set up sirens to warn residents in emergencies such as a storm without power."

Vernon agreed the generator is needed, mentioning that the city hall is designated as an emergency shelter.

"I would like to see the deficit reduced and a generator purchased for city hall," Vernon said as he instructed Walters to prepare the millage increase request of 1.25.

"We're talking about a $20 increase to the average taxpayer with a mill," Vernon stated, figuring in the 60 percent rebate many residents receive from the state in homestead property refunds.

Walters said a mill equates with $1 per $1,000 SEV, bringing the amount to between $30 and $60 for most taxpayers, but noted that of that amount 60 percent is returned those who receive the homestead property tax rebate. Many senior citizens will receive 100 percent back, he added.

Students take office for a day

After gathering at 9 a.m. May 1 for introductions over coffee and rolls, Northville High School students became government officials for a day as part of the Rotary-sponsored Law Day observance.

Keith Sanders was sworn in as student mayor while Kelly Bell, Chris Kaley, Jeff Peters and Paula Follino became council members for the day. They were sworn into office by student city clerk Carole Anderson.

They were taking the seats of Mayor Paul Vernon and council members G. Dewey Gardner, J. Burton DeRusha, Carolann Ayers and Paul Follino, Paula's father.

Their first action was to proclaim Student Law Day in Northville.

While the student "officials" held a discussion on the liquor license transfer from Winner's Circle at 111 West Main to 135 North Center on request of James Rea, other students took the titles of city heads and were briefed on their activities.

Hutch Kerns was city attorney; Mike Skalski, DPW superintendent; Scott Lazzara, police chief; John LeTarte, fire chief; Mike Hillinger, finance controller; Jennifer Trausch, deputy city clerk; Mary McDonald, building clerk; Jill Taschner, DPW clerk; Sandra Schaal and Phil Prystash, police officers.

Others were Karen Thompson, Allen Terrace Director; Craig Kozler, judge; Jodi Follino, court clerk; Blake Anderson, state police commander; Shawn Bales and Dan Perpich, state police officers; and Arvin Sreedharan, recreation department director.

After council "adjourned," the students were guests of Northville Rotary Club at lunch at First Presbyterian Church where they were welcomed by Rotary President Elroy Ellison. C. A. Smith was chairman of the Law Day arrangements.

Many of the student officials were accompanied to the meeting by their counterparts, who officially also were being honored by Rotary. Rotary honorees, many of whom were present, included City Manager Steve Walters, DPW superintendent Ted Mapes, Police Chief Rodney Cannon, Fire Chief Jim Allen, controller Betty Lennox, deputy clerk Mildred Hudolin, building clerk Ruth Bartz, DPW clerk Barbara Hubbard, Judge Dunbar Davis, State Police Lieutenant William Tomczyk and recreation director Jef Farland. Ann Palm substituted for vacationing Fran Yoakam, Allen Terrace director.

City clerk Joan McAllister and deputy Hudolin with their students attended the Tri-County Clerks' Convention being held Tuesday at Meadowbrook Country Club. The convention also was attended by township officers.

City takes low sprinkler system bid

Low bid of $11,660 from Hoffman Lawn Sprinkler Systems, Incorporated, of Lake Orion was accepted by city council for the sprinkling system for the boulevard on South Main Monday night. The approval was contingent upon approval of the landscaping plans for the boulevard by Wayne County, which is expected shortly.

Ted Mapes told the council that the firm has 15 years' experience as he recommended taking it. Two other bids were received — of $13,600 from Omega Lawn Sprinkling Company of Southfield and $18,180 from Mark Dutton Irrigation Incorporated of Pontiac.

Mayor Paul Vernon reported that the sprinkler system is part of the beautification commission's plan for South Main that is being funded in part by the Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association and by the VFW Post 4012.

Noting that more than half the total landscape funding has been committed by the groups, he said he expects the remainder will be donated by other citizens as a second beautification appeal is being launched.

City Manager Steve Walters confirmed that the remaining amount is available temporarily from city funds.

Vernon said the beautification commission has "a beautiful track record" in fund raising as it had raised $45,000 for the Downtown Development Authority in the first beautification appeal.

He reported that letters are going in the mail to previous contributors of time and funds this week as the second appeal is launched.

Funds are being sought for the remainder of the sprinkling system, for trees and shrubs for the median and for continued maintenance of downtown flower beds and additional purchases of tulip bulbs.

Hunt's contributions to city cited

Longtime area resident and landscape planner Milo Hunt was honored by city council Monday night for his service on the city's beautification commission and to the community.

He has resigned from the city beautification commission on which he has served as a board member for nine years because he is moving to Florida. Mayor Paul Vernon presented a certificate of appreciation to Hunt at the council session, noting that he had generously "given of his time, talents and personal income" for city beautification.

Vernon said the resignation from the commission was accepted by the commission with regret. Hunt had served as its vice president for two years and also was a member of the South Eastern Michigan Beautification Council. At the meeting the city council was presented with a certificate from the South Eastern Michigan Beautification Council in recognition of the Northville Beautification Commission's 20 years of participation. Hunt noted that the gold seal on the certificate indicated the commission had attended 85 percent or more of the council sessions during that time.

Local pharmacist joins fight against drug abuse

Owner William Wright of Northville Pharmacy at 134 East Main is a local proponent of Pharmacists Against Drug Abuse (PADA), an anti-drug abuse public information campaign designed to help educate parents on the health dangers of the abuse of drugs by children, which recently was launched nationwide.

Sponsored by Pharmacists Against Drug Abuse Foundation, created by McNeil Pharmaceutical and the Johnson & Johnson Family of Companies, PADA focuses on alcohol and marijuana which, according to Wright,

"are the two drugs young people are most likely to use in entering the drug scene."

The campaign also focuses on cocaine, which it calls the fastest growing drug of abuse in America.

"Parents and children need to know that using drugs is harmful — that's why we are actively distributing a free brochure titled, 'The Kinds of Drugs Kids Are Getting Into,'" Wright said.

The free brochures are available at the Northville Pharmacy.

In announcing the PADA program, the foundation pointed out that it was developed because pharmacists, by academic training and professional experience, are experts on drugs and a good source of information on drug abuse.

The program has the endorsement of First Lady Nancy Reagan who stated, "the prevention of drug abuse by youth is of great concern to both my husband and me."

"I believe that good, accurate, well presented health information is an important weapon in our battle to end drug abuse. This is why I am so pleased that McNeil Pharmaceutical and the Johnson & Johnson Family of Companies have created the Pharmacists Against Drug Abuse Foundation which is undertaking the task of getting the materials to those who can make the most of the information provided."

The brochure cover states that "right now, over one-third of all kids in America use illegal drugs. In fact, one out of every 18 high school seniors is using marijuana every day."

The campaign was launched on a nationwide basis April 27 with pharmacists across the country distributing the illustrated color brochure.

Northville volunteers aid Walk For Mankind

Northville participants will play a big part in Project Concern's Walk for Mankind in Livonia a week from Saturday.

The West Metro Region Walk is co-sponsored by the Northville Jaycee Women, who will operate a Walk checkpoint station at Six Mile Road east of Newburgh.

Funds raised from the Walk enable Project Concern to provide health care and training for needy people all over the world. Under a special "sharing" agreement, Northville participants can direct 20 percent of their pledges to the Northville Community Recreation Department.

Even small pledges can go a long way toward preserving the health of infants and children against disease and hunger, sponsors point out.

Among those who will participate in the 20-mile (32-kilometer) trek are Township Supervisor John MacDonald and Township Clerk Susan Heinz. They and City Mayor Paul Vernon have volunteered to be "designated sharing groups" and are taking pledges from local residents for the Walk.

Northville participants can register right up to the day of the event at Livonia Stevenson High School, 3350 Six Mile Road, Stevenson, Livonia Bentley and Livonia Franklin are all start/finish sites for the Walk.

MAY 19th, IN LIVONIA

Registration and pledge forms will be accepted between 7:30 and 9:30 a.m. It takes most participants about five hours to cover the circular course through Livonia.

"We're encouraging people who want to pledge but can't find a walker to contact them or us," said Liz McCarville, who is co-chairing the Jaycee Women's Walk for Mankind Committee with Pam Hoetger.

"We're hoping that next year, we'll be able to route the West Metro Walk through Northville along Hines Drive," McCarville added.

Entry forms for the Walk are available at the Northville Community Center and all Northville Public Schools. For more information, call 522-0239.

Schoolcraft in need of additional space

By TIM RICHARD

In 1970 Schoolcraft College expected that its 1980 enrollment would be 10,000 fulltime equivalent (FTE) students. It expected to have nearly one million square feet of buildings.

Rather than build a series of campuses as Oakland and Wayne community colleges were doing, Schoolcraft planned to unify its offerings on its single campus on Haggerty Road in northwest Livonia.

During the '70s, it anticipated putting up 10 structures: expanded administration offices, a new library, new business offices, a fine arts center and auditorium, a vocational-health building, a science building, two liberal arts buildings, an addition to the vocational building and a culinary arts addition to the student center.

As of 1984, only the voc-tech addition and the culinary arts addition were added.

Voters in the '70s put on the brakes for all new operating money, building money and bond issues.

The community college's enrollment is about 5,200 FTE students. Campus space amounts to 460,000 square feet, about half the anticipated need.

A new generation of administrators and trustees is studying a mixed bag of four ways to find more space.

"Our buildings have 99 percent utilization at night and 73 percent utilization during the days. Most four-year colleges have 60-65 percent utilization during the days, and they consider that high," said W. Kenneth Lindner, vice president for business.

Lindner is the only top administrator left who was around in 1970. He chaired the administration building committee.

But his new colleagues — President Richard McDowell and academic vice president Conway Jeffress — still see the campus as unfinished, though their assessment of space needs is far more modest than the 1970 projection.

"Specialized space" is needed, McDowell told the board of trustees at its April meeting. In the high-technology age, a computer lab is seen as the largest single need.

McDowell put the need at 100,000 square feet rather than the 500,000-plus square feet projected in 1970.

"The 1971 plan was adhered to — the building stopped," McDowell said. "As people's needs change, college programs change. As programs change, facility needs change. In many areas, needs are still unmet."

"We are two years away from a serious crunch," added Jeffress, who chairs the current building committee.

During a two-hour special session, trustees continually pressed Jeffress — unsuccessfully — for firmer recommendations on how to find space and construction costs.

"What do you want from us? When the devil is he going to clinch his salesmanship?" asked vice-chair Rosina Raymond, the board's senior member.

"Now, Mrs. Raymond," Jeffress smiled back, "could a 300-pound man be sneaky?"

McDowell said the building committee would make specific recommendations by fall.

On paper, there are four ways to deal with space, Jeffress said:

- Reduce college space needs — phase out low enrollment programs, cap enrollments in growing areas such as data processing and electronics, cap overall growth, send overflows to other colleges and/or reduce the scope of operations.

- Chief disadvantage: Schoolcraft wouldn't be doing its job to revitalize the economy by capping growth.

- Reallocate existing space — try to schedule more in the under-used 3:30 to 6 p.m. time slot, using existing off-campus space.

- Chief disadvantage: Schoolcraft will have to vacate its Garden City Center when its lease with the local school district runs out in two years.

- Increase square footage — build, buy free-standing structures and place them on campus, buy or lease off-campus space, create additional space within existing structures by adding floors or filling in cul-de-sacs.

- Delay action — hope for attrition to reduce space needs, schedule current facilities for 24-hour usage.

Trustees were willing to consider every option but delay.

"Community services courses bring in lots of people," said trustee Sharon Sarris, who suggested senior citizens' centers and empty stores for space. "There's no reason they couldn't be located anywhere."

Jeffress said community services and continuing education courses, which drew 2,000 people when he arrived in 1982, are currently drawing 3,500 and are expected to draw 4,000 next fall.

"We do need more space right here on campus," Raymond said. "I don't feel we should pull back."

Trustee Harry Greenleaf saw three "external factors" influencing any board decision: the loss in Garden City, the report of the state Committee on Higher Education and what happens to the trouble-laden Wayne County Community College, which has a little-used new building near I-275 in Belleville.

"We should always examine low-enrollment courses," Greenleaf added. "We shouldn't change our mission. We should be a cultural force."

On the need for more space, Greenleaf called himself an "agnostic" — neither a believer nor an active disbeliever.

Board chairman Michael Burley, a Canton Township resident, said, "We're one mile from one border of our district (he pointed north). We're approximately 10 miles from the other," he said, pointing south.

"If we can get as many facilities as close to the people as possible, we're better off in marketing our product — which is education."

MARY LOUISE ANGOVE

Service for Mary Louise Angove, 62, was held at 11 a.m. Friday at First Presbyterian Church of Northville with Dr. Lawrence Chamberlain, senior pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Angove, a Northville native, died unexpectedly May 1 at Botsford General Hospital of heart failure. She had resided at Whitehall Convalescent Home in Novi for the past eight years after suffering a stroke in 1976.

Mrs. Angove was born June 14, 1921, at 220 Linden to Dr. Paul R. Alexander and Mary H. Kunkel, who was Northville city clerk for many years.

She was preceded in death by her husband Edward F. Angove December 14, 1965. They were married June 12, 1943.

Mrs. Angove was a retired bookkeeper for the Northville Public Schools. She was a life member of the First Presbyterian Church and a circle member, and had been a member of Northville Mothers' Club and Northville Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

She was the mother of R. Lawrence Angove of Iowa City, Iowa; Mrs. Lynn Swanson of Traverse City and Ronald S. Angove of Northville. She also was the mother-in-law of Kathleen and Robert, sister of Mrs. Howard (Frances) Bray of Boyne City, and grandmother of two.

Burial was in Rural Hill Cemetery. Arrangements were by Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home in Northville.

The family suggests that memorial tributes may be made to the First Presbyterian Church or to the Easter Seals of Oakland County, 1105 North Telegraph, Pontiac, MI. 48053.

Burial was in Rural Hill Cemetery. Arrangements were by Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home in Northville.

Mrs. Lanphar died April 30 at Wishing Well Manor after a long illness. Born in Crestline, Ohio, August 25, 1881, to Henry and Elizabeth (Blazor) Krichbaum, Mrs. Lanphar was a homemaker and 20-year resident of the community.

She was preceded in death by her husband Alfred in 1949.

Mrs. Lanphar is survived by her sons Alfred Lanphar of Northville Township and Kenneth Lanphar of Colorado.

Other survivors include three grandsons and five great-grandchildren.

RICHARD W. BALEK SR.

Dr. Richard W. Balek Sr., a 12-year resident of the community, died at his South Ely home May 5. He was 52.

NEAL YOUNG, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Young, Jr. of 43775 West Nine Mile, has been selected to receive the LTC Mark H. Doty Award and the Retired Officers' Association Award for his outstanding performance as a cadet at Michigan State University. He is now in his third year at MSU and currently is on a military scholarship.

KATIE RUDDON, a 1981 Northville High School graduate and a junior majoring in communications at Michigan State University, attended an undergraduate honors conference in Memphis, Tennessee, May 3-5.

Her essay on the Saatchi and Saatchi advertising company's selling of Margaret Thatcher won her this honor. Ruddon has worked in London with the BBC and broadcast her own program at a Florida station.

Northville resident BETH LEHL participated in the 10-day concert tour of the Concordia Singers, a select choral ensemble from Concordia College in Seward, Nebraska.

JULIE SCHOCH, daughter of Beverly and Robert Schoch of 416 Yerkes, is among the nearly 100 Michigan State University student volunteers who helped Lansing area residents prepare their 1983 income tax returns.

Schoch participated in VITA, a volunteer tax assistance program coordinated through MSU's Service Learning Center. The VITA program annually places volunteers at 15 sites in Lansing and East Lansing. Volunteers are extensively trained in federal, state and local tax preparation and provide three hours of weekly service.

Schoch is a senior accounting mafor and a member of the MSU Finance Club. She is a 1980 Northville High School graduate.

Two Northville residents were among the more than 200 Adrian College students receiving degrees at the April 29 commencement.

Local students earning degrees were ELIZABETH CONLON, daughter of Judy Conlon, 42130 Farago Court, BBA in business marketing, and JAMES MONCRIEFF, son of Harry and Rosalie Todd, 23971 Woodham, B.S. in biology-psychology.

GISELLE BELANGER of 370 South Rogers is among the approximately 1,400 Eastern Kentucky University students expected to earn degrees at the May 12 commencement.

LISA EHLERT, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ehlert of 42062 Banbury, received a perfect 4.0 average for the winter quarter and was named to the dean's list for the year at Kalamazoo College.

BRIGID MCNEELY of 20191 Whipple Drive is among 39 seniors at Mercy High School in Farmington Hills named to Phi Beta Kappa national honor society.

Students named to the honor society have earned a minimum grade point average of 3.8.

Scholarship offered to graduating seniors

Deadline for Northville High School seniors to apply for the Edward Patrick Bergstrom-Class of 1983 scholarship grants is May 18.

Two grants of $500 each will be awarded this year, it is announced.

The scholarship grant money is the result of money left from last year's 1983 senior class party and the gift of the family of Daniel Bergstrom. The Bergstroms established the grant after their son, who was a member of the 1983 class, was killed in an automobile accident before graduation.

Qualifications include a 3.2 base grade point average. Participation in extracurricular activities as well as contribution to school affairs will be strong basis for consideration, the administering committee reports.

The Northville Branch of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will offer two $900 scholarships for a period of one year each to 1984 graduating seniors who reside in the Northville school district.

Interested applicants are requested to write a letter including the following information: (1). Why do you want the scholarship? (2). Family size and number of children in school. (3). School activities. (4) Extra-curricular activities. (5). Projected goals. (6). We will favor applicants attending a Michigan college.

Each letter must include a copy of the applicant's high school transcript. Applicants may be asked to appear for an interview with the scholarship committee.

Letters should be mailed no later than May 18 to: Mrs. Nathaniel Whiteside, 20173 Whipple Drive, Northville, 48167.

Cadillac stolen from Jamestown Circle parking area

In the city...

An office of the Northville Square (MAGS) Building sustained $900 in damage when two large windows were shot out with the use of a b.b. or pellet gun last weekend.

A five-foot-by-12-foot window valued at $600 and a six-foot-by-four-foot window valued at $300 were shattered. Police reported the damage took place between 4:30 p.m. Friday and 10 a.m. Monday.

In the township

A new 1984 Cadillac Brougham, valued at $24,000, was stolen from a Jamestown Circle parking area sometime between 11:45 p.m. May 1 and 6:30 a.m. May 2, township police report.

The complainant told police the maroon, four-door sedan was parked directly behind the residence and underneath the bedroom window at the time the incident occurred.

The complainant further stated that the vehicle was locked at the time of the theft and was not equipped with an alarm.

Police noted in their report that the price sticker still was affixed to the automobile at the time it was stolen.

The complainant told police the vehicle belongs to Cadillac Motor Car Company and bears manufacturer's plates. According to the police report, the complainant's wife heard a noise at approximately 1:30 a.m. It was further noted that she looked out the bedroom window but did not see anything and could not recall if the car was there at the time.

Last known mileage on the car was 23 miles, according to police.

The stolen vehicle was entered into the Law Enforcement Information Network and a broadcast was put out to area departments.

A plastic dental retainer, valued at $675, was stolen from a Meads Mill classroom sometime between 8:15 and 10:45 a.m. April 16, police report.

The complainant told police unknown suspects stole his son's retainer when the boy left the classroom to make a speech.

He noted that when his son returned to the classroom he found someone had taken his dental retainer which had been left on a desktop in the classroom.

The complainant said he and his son repeatedly checked the lost and found, however, to no avail.

The complainant told police his son had no idea who took the retainer and that the classroom had been left open, allowing access to anyone in the school.

A silver, mongoose model bicycle, valued at $225, was stolen from the first-floor hallway of a Silver Springs apartment building sometime between 6 p.m. May 1 and noon May 3, township police report.

The complainant told police the bicycle was not chained or locked at the time the incident occurred.

He further stated that he spoke with several neighbors who said they knew nothing of the incident.

Police found no signs of forcible entry on the entrance door to the apartment building.

Youth falls into store window

Downtown strollers may have noticed something missing at Town and Country Cyclery, 148 North Center, early this week — namely, the front window.

The 7-foot by 9-foot plate glass window facing Center Street was accidentally smashed at 7:20 p.m. Sunday. According to police reports, Detroit youths Dante Paesani, 15, and Matthew Burkett, 13, were bicycling on Center Street when Paesani fell into the ¾"-thick window.

Paesani suffered a deep cut in his upper arm. No estimate of damage to the window has been reported.

I-96 lane closed for season

Traffic on the I-96 freeway in southwest Oakland County has been restricted to one lane on both the eastbound and westbound highway between the Wixom exit ramp and I-275 for the balance of the current construction season.

The Michigan Department of Transportation said the restriction is imposed to permit major resurfacing and pavement replacement for six miles of the freeway.

During peak traffic periods, the highway will be opened to two lanes in each direction to accommodate the greater traffic volumes.

The project is expected to be completed by November 15.

Public hearings scheduled

Two public hearings will be held in the Detroit area Friday on legislation relating to the metropolitan water and sewer system.

Senate Bills 544 and 545 will be discussed in a hearing at 9:30 a.m. in the 13th floor auditorium of the City-County Building; a second hearing will be held in the council chambers of the Southfield City Hall at 26000 Evergreen in Southfield at 1 p.m.

City Manager Steve Walters said that Jack McNeely, engineer for the city and township, has been attending the metropolitan meetings to keep both communities abreast of happenings.

TAX TIPS

LEE E. HOLLAND, C.P.A.

CAPITAL GAINS ADVANTAGES

If you're a businessman looking for ways to take advantage of capital gains, you might want to consider investing in "discount bonds." This is considered one of the safer ways of deferring today's dividends or interest income to achieve capital gains in the future.

Discount bonds are those that were issued several years ago when interest rates were lower. Newer bonds pay higher rates, but the older bonds sell at a lower price. You can reduce your current taxes even further by borrowing to help finance the purchase of the bonds. You can deduct the interest payments from current income. By holding the bonds for a year or longer, you'll be subject to long-term capital gains tax when you cash them in. This means you will pay only 40 percent of the ordinary rate. If you're in the maximum 50 percent bracket, your capital gain rate won't be more than 20 percent of the profit.

For a review of all of the tax-saving advantages of capital gains and other provisions of the new tax law, why not call us for an appointment?

Representative Gerald Law to seek second House term

Thirty-sixth District State Representative Gerald H. Law (R-Plymouth) has announced that he will seek a second term in the Michigan House of Representatives.

The new 36th District includes all of the city and township of Northville, all of the City of Plymouth, part of Canton Township, Plymouth Township and the City of Novi.

The local representative, who was a Plymouth Township Trustee for four years before being elected to the state legislature, was first elected to the house in 1982.

He currently serves as vice-chairman of the house committee on city government and also is a member of the committees on state affairs, insurance and urban affairs.

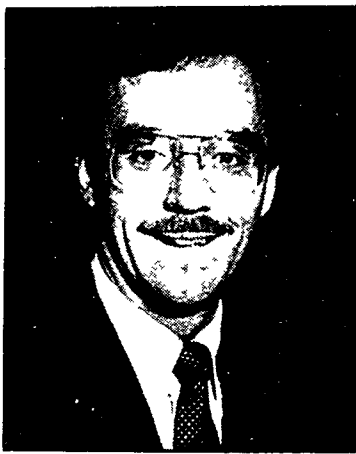

"Because in the past two years the legislature has gone too far in raising taxes and increasing spending, important issues such as economic development and program evaluation have been forgotten," Law said.

"I think we have to restore more balanced tax and budgetary policies so we can get back to work addressing the very areas that will provide new jobs, put Michigan back on a competitive basis with other states and guarantee that state government is run efficiently."

Before running for office, Law, 39, worked for the Ford Motor Company and was involved in a number of community activities. He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis, Trailwood Homeowners Association and Our Lady of Good Counsel Parish.

Law received his masters degree in business administration from the University of Detroit and is a graduate of Wayne State Law School. Representative Law and his wife Chris live in Plymouth Township with their daughters Jenny and Katie.

Office expansion approved

The hexagonal Northville Shores Office Complex located on Griswold Street will spawn two more identically sized and shaped buildings to be located immediately southwest (just northwest of Lake Success).

At its meeting last week, the City of Northville Planning Commission approved the final site, architectural and landscaping plans for the expansion. The existing 6,000 square-foot building, owned by township resident Jack Doheny, has been used for business and

By Salem board

Taft sworn in as new township trustee

A long-time Salem Township resident, William D. Taft of 6835 South Salem Road, was sworn in May 5 by Township Clerk Nancy Geiger to fill the post of township trustee until the November general election.

Taft was appointed by the board at its May 1 meeting to fill the unexpired term of former trustee Harvey Barkley. Barkley resigned in April when he was appointed to the position of township treasurer after the unexpected death of former treasurer Russell Knight.

Taft, 51, is currently the manager of the Fenton Gravel Division of J.P. Barkman Incorporated. In that capacity, he is in charge of sales and production for two gravel pits in the Flint area.

Prior to Taft's appointment, Township Supervisor Richard Sackett said he felt all of the eight candidates for the post were good and that three in particular stood out in his mind. He added that he had a special reason for his choice.

Questioned after Taft's unanimous appointment, Sackett explained that "this community has been troubled over a gravel issue. If we (the board) are to have any more insight into that issue, then we should have a gravel man on the board. Perhaps he can bring some insight and knowledge to the board."

Last Thursday, Taft said he had been interested in township government for quite some time and that he plans to run for a township post in the primary election in August. Taft said he was born in Northville and had lived in Salem since 1964. He added that his father was owner and operator of G.F. Taft Sand and Gravel in the Northville area for many years and that he, himself, had worked in gravel since 1950.

"Just basically I want to see an orderly form of government that will benefit all township residents," the new trustee said. "That is my major concern. We have to consider the benefits to the total township when we approach the problems."

Taft attended Michigan State University and studied civil engineering for two years. He also studied business law and accounting for one year at Cleary College.

Taft added that he had been attending township meetings on a fairly regular basis. In his application for the township post, Taft stated that he had had extensive experience in road and sewer estimating and construction and had served six years on the labor negotiating committee of the Michigan Road Builders Association. He has also served as president of the Northville Optimist Club.

All of the township board members said they were impressed with the quality of the eight persons who applied for the trustee post. Geiger was instructed to send each a letter of thanks.

Other candidates included Fred Callen of Eight Mile, Henry Dolan of Chubb Road, Robert Hill of Pontiac Trail, Curtis Hamilton of Five Mile, Thomas Homrich of Seven Mile, Alvin Oldenburg of Five Mile and Norma Schmeman of North Territorial.

Attorney researches clerk's role

Nancy Geiger's current dual role as the elected clerk of Salem Township and the appointed office administrator are under study by township attorney Margaret Austin.

Austin said Friday that Township Supervisor Richard Sackett has asked her to do a "very thorough study of the relevant case law" in connection with the clerk/administrator position.

"It would be premature for me to make any comment at this time," Austin said, adding that she expects to give her findings on the matter to Sackett later this week.

The question of Geiger's dual roles was first raised by township electors at the March 31 annual meeting. When that meeting was repeated on April 28, citizens again questioned the dual positions.

Under the recently approved budget for the 1984-85 fiscal year, Geiger receives $10,300 annually for her clerk duties and $9,000 as the office administrator. Her office hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. five days a week.

James Fulkerson quoted a portion of Michigan law governing townships which he believes makes it illegal for Geiger to serve as both clerk and office administrator. "She can't do both jobs because as a board member, she is supervising herself," Fulkerson explained.

Sackett and the board promised to seek the attorney's opinion on the question and Geiger said she had been in touch with Austin about the problem on the Monday following the April 28 meeting.

Fulkerson said his investigation showed that as a citizen he cannot sue the board to correct the situation. He added that the judicial means of correcting the problem lies with the county prosecutor or the state attorney general. Fulkerson commented that he is willing to wait for the board's findings.

City firemen and officials gathered in the DPW yard to watch Captian Louis Westfall demonstrate how the new "Jaws of Life" extraction equipment can cut into a vehicle to rescue a passenger. Funds for the newly arrived equipment were raised

Omnicom offers homework help

A new live call-in program called Homework Helpline is being launched this month by Omnicom. Omnicom community affairs and program director Suzanne Skubick announced the show that will run live every Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. through May as a test run for the series to begin officially next fall.

Co-hosts Kathy Edgar and Jan McCarthy, directors of Innovative Education Services Inc., currently provide tutoring services to local students with the aid of area teachers.

"We wanted to try to help more students with a lot of general information that would be useful to the majority of youngsters," they explained.

Homework Helpline will have the hosts answering questions on a different subject each week. The initial program focused on "How to Study."

The main purpose of Homework Helpline is to assist students with homework on a call-in basis, Skubick explained.

A panel of instructors will be on hand each week to answer questions on the subject being covered. The half hour show will feature an interview format with guests discussing issues such as, how to use the library, reading approaches, proposed requirements for high school graduates in Michigan. It also will include various lessons by Edgar and McCarthy.

The live show will be taped and replayed the following Tuesdays each week.

Operations post needs assessment

The recent dismissal of William Hood as the school district's administrative assistant for operations was perhaps one of the most disturbing ordeals faced by this administration during an otherwise productive school year.

The dirty laundry aired in the public domain between the operations chief and his supervisor cast a negative light on the district's personnel relations and have left ill feelings within the administrative ranks.

The unfortunate circumstances surrounding Hood's termination appear to have overshadowed the district's discussion regarding a replacement. However, the search and selection of a new operations chief will need to be one of the administration's top priorities prior to the close of this school year.

With the 1983-84 school year quickly coming to a close and groundbreaking for the high school renovation expected sometime before June, the district will need someone to head the summer maintenance of the school buildings and begin planning for the forthcoming year.

With an energy audit of the district's buildings currently under way and completion of the high school renovation expected by September, 1985, it's clear that the next administrative assistant for operations will be faced with challenges new to the post.

We are encouraged that the administration has discussed the possibility of reorganizing the operations department. With custodial supervisor Charles Kehrer retiring at the close of this school year, the district will be in a position to realign its administrative ranks.

Superintendent George Bell has indicated that the realignment may lead to a reduction in the administrative staff. This would no doubt appease those who have charged that the district is administratively top heavy. Such a realignment may also alleviate the troubles which have marred the operations department's top post.

Problems have plagued the helm of the operations department since its inception in 1976. Michael Janchick, the district's first operations chief, quit the post after three years due in part to the harsh criticism aimed at him over the condition of the high school.

As his replacement, Hood began his four-year tenure in good standing. However, things seem to have gone awry sometime in the spring of 1982.

We hope that before the administration and school board begin its review of potential candidates, consideration is given to the responsibilities of the post. With building maintenance long a thorn in the side of the district, it will be necessary to assure that care of school buildings is given the same consideration as programs.

'Visual feast'

It doesn't always happen that donors to causes generally labeled as tax deductible also get to be beneficiaries, but citizens and organizations who contributed to the beautification of the Mainstreet project this week can enjoy a visual feast.

Downtown parks and flower beds are radiant with tulips in shades of red and gold. The thriving clusters of tulips reflect caring and know-how in both selection of the bulbs and in the planting. The trees in attractive guards along the sidewalks have leafed out and contribute to the over-all look of an attractive business district.

City officials and merchants agree that the beautification projects completed in recent years have been contributing to the economy in town. New restaurants have opened and in turn have brought visitors and prospective shoppers to the community. This was a primary reason for the Mainstreet Project.

This week the Northville Beautification Commission is launching a new campaign with an appeal to "Help Keep Northville Beautiful." Previous contributors are receiving a letter (published in this week's Record with Letters to the Editor). It explains that the commission is asking that contributors continue their support to help with beautification of South Main and to maintain and replenish present plantings.

Commission chairman Norma Vernon explains that the new project to beautify the boulevard on South Main will make the south entrance to the city as beautiful as downtown. She notes that contributions already have been received from the Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association and from Post 4012 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars who are contributing generously — but more funding is needed.

We hope that individuals and organizations who have contributed previously will consider the projects the commission has pinpointed and continue their support. It is time, too, for others to join these givers. The beautification commission has proved its worth. Almost 30,000 tulips in bloom attest to it.

Losing 'daughter' status hurts

As a daughter, this will be one of my saddest Mother's Day observances. Like many of my friends, I'm finding roles have been reversed. I'm more "parent" than "child."

Mother has survived the heart attack that hospitalized her in March, but she's now frail of both body and mind. She won't care that it's Mother's Day — the day on which the whole family used to dress in spring best and take Mom out to dine — until we arrive with a plant and cards.

More sadly, she probably won't remember long afterward that her son and daughter did pay a visit to her in the convalescent center where she has gained enough strength to sit in a wheelchair. But she will ask again if the doctor has told us when she can "go home" and resume her life. We will point out again that her legs must grow stronger, avoiding the anxious blue eyes.

I'll look at the tiny figure, thinking how it has shrunk year-by-year. At almost 88 years my mother is leaving me a legacy of pure endurance. She has survived widowhood twice, resumed a career as a bookkeeper until she retired, has had a mastectomy, a recurrence of the cancer and now a major heart attack. She reminds me that she is the last of her family. Both brothers and all four sisters, including three younger than she, are gone. But her first words when she saw me after the heart attack were, "I'm not ready to go yet."

When each day is much like the one before, it's easy to see why Thursday is confused with Saturday or Sunday. Today's events aren't as exciting as the ones remembered in the past. Seeing a granddaughter become the nurse she always wanted to be and remembering Sundays when granddaughters would visit and play the piano or hop-scotch on the front walk are satisfactions more worth remembering.

It's easy to wonder what sweetness life holds at this point. I already feel sadness in remembering "the way things used to be," but to Mom the satisfaction is looking back on graduations, weddings, births. She and I share the remembrances of little girls being outfitted in spring coats, straw hats with streamers and black patent shoes. We go back even farther to share the joy of their arrival, their christenings, each achievement of growing up.

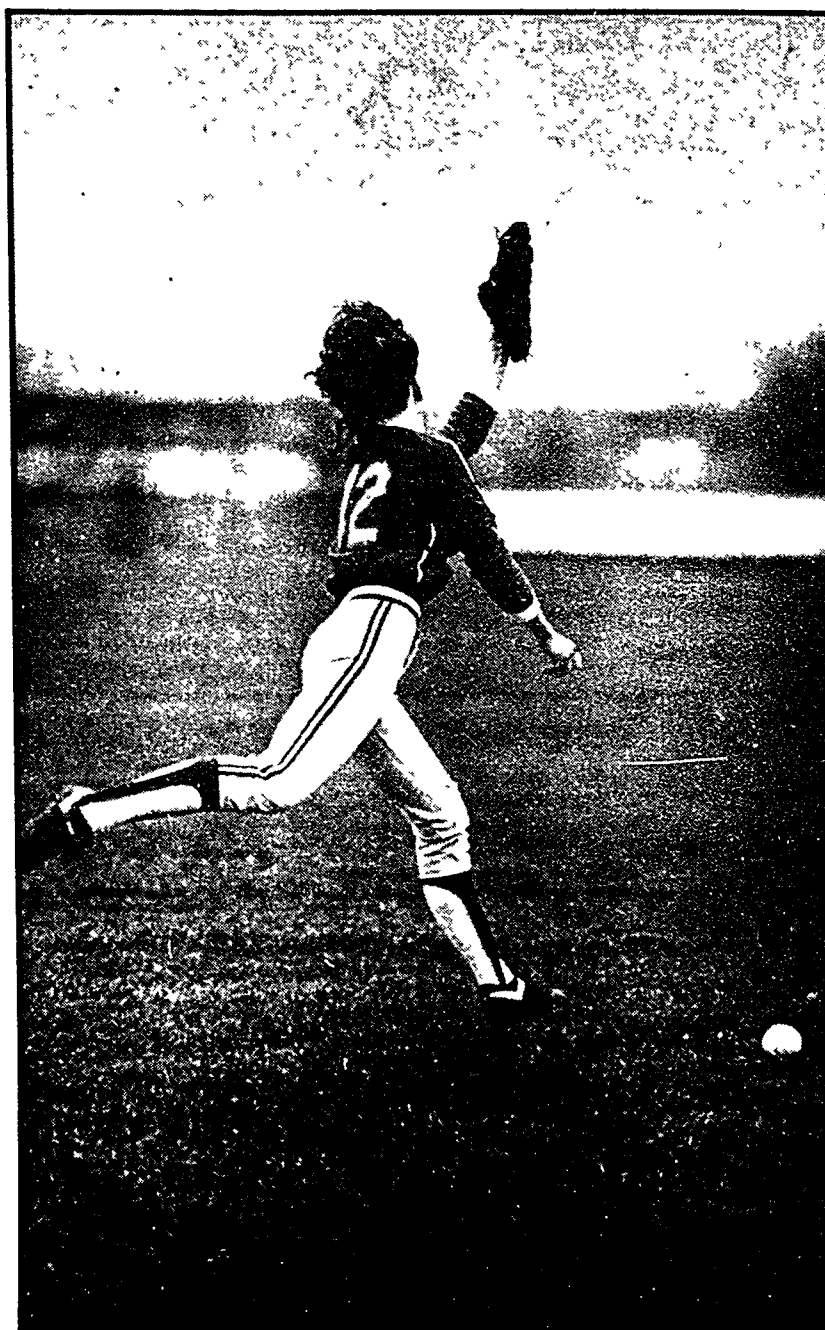

I am much aware that I have two roles, that of daughter but also of mother who has the same satisfactions. I know there will be a great void when I no longer have the daughter role after the strong soul leaves her fragile form. I asked a dear friend whose mother has died after much suffering if it helps that there is a relief for the loved one. "Yes," she agreed, "but there isn't a day goes by that I don't think of her. I find myself thinking, 'I must tell Mother about this' — and then realize she's gone."

As a daughter, I have seen my mother live through many life stages and can agree with Gail Sheehy's observation in "Passages" that "willingness to move through each passage is the equivalent to the willingness to live life abundantly." In the final chapter on Renewal I find true her comment, "If physical strength and pleasures of the senses are held to be life's greatest values, then we deny ourselves anything beyond youth but a dull ebb of all experience . . . there is time in later years to ponder the mysteries of existence without interruption." For Mother's Day, this I am trying to accept.

About Town

By Steve Fecht

oops!

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

Fecht the Photographer deserves the credit — on both counts.

First of all it was Fecht who correctly observed that my wardrobe of late has had a certain "sameness" to it. And after that, it was Fecht who coined the appropriate phrase, to describe the reason behind this consistency.

"Didn't you wear those pants two days ago?" asked Fecht as I resolutely passed up a donut in the coffee room.

"Two days ago . . . and two days ago before that," I replied honestly. "These are my Monday-Wednesday-Friday pants. Not to be confused, of course, with my Tuesday-Thursday pants."

"The problem," I continued with the same sense of honesty, "is that Ol' Phil is a few pounds overweight. The vast majority of my clothes are geared for a 155-pound male. When the old scale edges up toward 160, my available wardrobe choices are diminished significantly."

"Oh, I get it," responded Fecht succinctly. "Fat pants."

There was something about the way he said it that made me think my problem is not unique. Although I would not be so bold as to suggest that a certain unnamed photographer may have "fat pants" in his own wardrobe, I suspect that it's not unusual for most American males to have a selection of "thin pants" and "fat pants."

Right now I'm down to two pair of pants. To make matters worse, one of them is burgundy. The grey slacks can be disguised with a variety of different shirts and sport coats, but it's getting difficult to conceal the frequency with which I wear the burgundy slacks.

A rational person would suggest that an easy solution would be purchase another pair of "fat pants." But there are a couple of problems with that proposal.

First of all, Scott the Haberdasher still has those mauve pants he tried to sell me last year and I'm a little reluctant to go back.

And, secondly, the real solution is to lose a few pounds. After all, if an individual expands his selection of "fat pants," what incentive is there to shed the weight that's required to get back into his regular wardrobe?

Fraser: Worker security is top need

By B.J. MARTIN

It said in the program Douglas Fraser was going to talk about "The Future of Labor-Management Relations" at last week's Salvation Army 1984 Civic Dinner in Plymouth. But Fraser felt at ease wandering from his subject occasionally.

"I try to get out and about in the community," the former United Auto Workers president told the group of about 150 attending the benefit. "And people ask me, 'Does Lee Iacocca want to be president?'"

"I tell them no. He wants to be king." The country's best-known union man blended such anecdotal patter with some experience-tempered optimism and a slice of good-humored venom directed at the White House's present occupant.

"The country's in pretty good shape," Fraser said, "provided Reagan doesn't screw it up."

Asked to comment on the President's recent trip to China, he chuckled, "President Reagan has come a long way. He used to want nothing to do with Communists and now he's hugging Deng Xiaoping."

"I'm in favor of it," he added. "Except now he'll get the political advantage for it. But I disagreed when he showed partiality toward Taiwan at China's expense. He slowed us way behind the Nixon, Ford and Carter administrations, which were constructive."

No president gets through a term without mixed reviews. But it's no secret labor — especially Big Labor — carries a lot less clout with the present administration than with its recent predecessors. Still, Fraser expressed confidence in the future of American workers.

In particular, Fraser said the concept of profit sharing seemed to be an increasingly attractive alternative for both workers and management to what he called "irrational" bargaining tactics now used in the auto industry.

"One of the problems in our society is our seeming inability to deal with pro-

"Since the last time we had full collective bargaining in 1979, the auto industry has been devastated . . . there will be work on how to get a measure of security for workers."

— Douglas Fraser
Former UAW president

blems until they've become absolute crises," Fraser said. "The U.S. Congress knew for years social security was in trouble, but it didn't act until someone finally said there won't be any checks given out in eight months."

"Now the country is $850 million in debt, and people know they're going to have to bite that bullet sometime. But we can't come to grips with it until it reaches epidemic proportions."

"We have to find the capacity to change with the times and events. If we do that, we'll be all right."

Fraser said profit sharing could help to reduce that crisis atmosphere in the auto industry.

"Every three years we sit down with management and there's this debate and confrontation," he explained. "If we handle it intelligently, we can minimize the area of conflict. And we can do that through profit sharing."

"The way we argue now is not rational. Every three years we try to determine what'll happen in the next three years when we don't know what'll happen in the next three months."

Fraser admits there is still some resistance to the idea of profit-sharing, both from management reluctance and from workers' lack of understanding. But he thinks the climate is becoming more favorable to the concept.

"I was assistant to Walter Reuther when we first made the demand for profit-sharing in 1958," Fraser recalled. "And the president of GM rejected it out of hand with the argument, 'To give profit sharing would mean the end of the capitalist system.'"

"We made the same demand in 1961, 1964, 1967, 1970, 1973, 1976 and 1979 and each time the company said no."

"People said, 'Why not push harder for it?' But there's a problem with forcing issues. Much of our membership didn't understand."

"Then in the latter part of '81 we heard this voice. Phil Caldwell, chairman of Ford, said he'd been thinking about this. And Roger Smith of GM said he'd been thinking about this."

"Of course at that time," Fraser noted, "There were no profits to share."

Fraser pointed out that despite the talk about the "bottom line," what workers have been seeking more than anything else is security.

"People get so excited about 1983 when we produced 6,800,000 cars and 2,600,000 trucks. Well, in 1978, we made nine million cars and four million trucks."

"They forget there are still 90,000 workers laid off with recall rights and an additional 90,000 who don't even have recall rights. Let's not forget those who have been left behind."

He said the historic 1981 bargaining talks — in which workers for the first time negotiated a contract with cuts — was an important learning experience for workers.

"Since the last time we had full collective bargaining in 1979, the auto industry has been devastated. But what you'll see now is that there will be work on how to get a measure of security for workers. In that sense, we'll be completely predictable."

DOUG FRASER

"We learn from adversity. We're fools not to learn."

Fraser agreed one of the most serious issues for American auto workers at the moment was that of domestic content.

"If I were to guess bargaining talks hung up on one issue, that's the one."

He said a bill now under consideration by Congress might aid American workers with that problem. If enacted, the bill would establish a proportion linking domestic content to sales.

The existence of such legislation, Fraser noted, led to Japanese firms like Honda and Toyota locating production facilities in the U.S.

"If you're going to be a responsible trading partner," Fraser said, "You can't accept a $15-20 billion trade deficit in automobiles alone."

"This is the time to push for it," he added. "Politicians are much more sensitive during an election year."

Fraser's availability for an after-dinner speech (he noted it was the first time he had ever spoken at a Salvation Army function) was to some extent due to his recently settling in Northville with his wife, Winifred. He said he was looking forward to staying in one place after years of near-constant travel.

The computer and class, valued at $765, were displayed as a "Bellringer Special" in the auction which raises funds to support public television in Detroit.

David Gonyor Jr., manager of the Novi Inacomp store, said he was pleased to contribute to "a station that gives people quality educational shows that deserve to be continued."

A COMPLETE SHOE REPAIR shop has been added to Jerry's Barber Shop in the Novi Plaza at 41539 Ten Mile in Novi. The barber shop/shoe repair business is located between Jack's Meat Market and the Ah Wok restaurant. Jerry Sheridan, (right) owner of both businesses, said he has wanted to have a combination barber/shoe repair shop for 20 years. "It's a good combination," said Sheridan. "People can come in for a hair cut, kick off their shoes and have them repaired while they wait. Our motto is 'We take care you from head to toe.'" Robert Ball (left) is in charge of the shoe repair shop. He has 15 years' experience in shoe repair as well as repairing zippers, luggage, saddles and other leather goods. Shoe supplies, including inserts, also are available. Jerry's Barber Shop/Shoe Repair is open Tuesday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Shoe shines are available. Call 349-7171 for more information.

Centralized computer to serve Realtors

"In tracking sales, it will offer pricing comparisons of similar properties and help give early indications of trends."

— Richard MacIntosh
chairman joint venture committee

Buyers and sellers of real estate will be provided immediate market information through a joint computer operations venture announced by four local Realtor boards.

The venture, named "REALCOMP," will install a single centralized computer to serve as data banks for the multiple listing services of all four boards. Through their own or board computer terminals, members will be able to obtain full, updated information on the status of all listed properties within their jurisdiction at any time.

Participating boards include North Oakland, South Oakland, Birmingham-Bloomfield and Western Wayne Oakland County through their wholly-owned subsidiary, Metro MLS.

Richard MacIntosh, past president of the North Oakland Board and chairman of the joint venture committee, said "REALCOMP" will make it possible for clients of Realtor members to be provided with a broad range of information.

"It will offer full description of available residential, commercial, vacant and business opportunity listings including late-minute sales, price reductions and withdrawals," said MacIntosh. "In tracking sales, it will offer pricing comparisons of similar properties and help give early indication of trends in the market."

The new computer will have the capacity to handle all four data banks and serve 500 or more terminals with expansion possible to serve additional boards.

The main computer will be housed in the Farmington offices of the Western Wayne Oakland County Board with each board entering and having access to its own listings.

Implementation will begin with the North Oakland County Board in June and full service on-line later in the year.

"Membership surveys found enthusiastic response to this type of service," said MacIntosh. "Sharing the high costs will make the system economically viable and we believe a majority of members of all four boards will share in utilization through acquisition of terminals in their offices."

Aiding development of the process was a Lansing firm, Board of Realty Information Services, which noted that a similar system was instituted in the Traverse City area in 1979.

The four boards serve 510 offices and 4,700 Realtor and Realtor-Associate members. MacIntosh noted that in many instances membership is help in two or more participating boards. "This joint venture helps demonstrate the constant expansion of Realtor services to clients and the growing use of the latest available technology," he said.

The Detroit area became a national pioneer in multiple listing services with the establishment of the United Northwestern Realty Association in 1920. With a constantly expanding membership, it became one of the first services in the nation to adapt computers to track listing information in 1970.

Renamed Metro MLS in 1983, the service is being extended to serve additional boards. The Dearborn Board last year was the first to join.

EARL FLECK

S. MITZIE DeANGELIS

E. EARL FLECK, a South Lyon resident, was elected April 4 to the post of group vice president of Ex-Cell-O Corporation of Troy. Responsible for the aerospace and ordnance operations of the company, Fleck replaces Seymour S. Feuer, who was named executive vice president. Fleck joined Ex-Cell-O in 1954 as a metallurgical engineer and he was named president of the tool and abrasive products division in 1979. In 1980, he was appointed president of the aerospace division.

Fleck holds a bachelor's degree in chemistry from Lawrence Institute of Technology, a bachelor's degree in metallurgy from Wayne State University and a master's degree in management-engineering from the University of Detroit. He has also completed the advanced management program at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration.

A registered engineer, Fleck is a member of the American Society of Management. He also holds several patents in the abrasives field and is the author of several technical articles and papers.

Fleck lives in South Lyon with his wife and three children.

Ex-Cell-O Corporation is a diversified manufacturer of aerospace components, automotive parts, machine tools, ordnance equipment, packaging systems and other precision industrial products.

S. MITZIE DeANGELIS of the Novi/Northville office of Real Estate One has been awarded the 1983 Realtors Educational Achievement Award by the Western-Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors.

DeAngelis earned her broker license and GRI designation in 1983 in addition to obtaining over $1 million in total sales volume for the year.

Office Manager Sharon Serra said any one of the accomplishments is tremendous but to achieve all three in one year is truly outstanding.

Approximately 80 Apollo Elementary School students, 3 to 5 years old, received an informative tour of the Milford Family Dental Center of Doctors James W. Limberg and Douglas W. White.

The youngsters, part of Huron Valley Schools' Play and Learn Preprimary Program, were accompanied by Mary Berkfield, Sandy Nagel and Mary Jo Stewart, teachers of the preprimary impaired. Some of the visitors are pictured with Betty Kirkman, a dental assistant.

The students were taken on a thorough tour of the Family Dental Center, located at 2725 Milford Road. They looked at x-rays of cavities and learned how fillings are implanted.

Only a handful of the students had been to a dentist's office before. So for the majority of them, it was a new experience. The students were also given detailed instructions on the proper time and method of brushing teeth.

After the tour, the students took part in a question and answer session and were given a bag of complimentary gifts, containing an apple, a toothbrush and a ball.

The tours were being conducted for Milford area students in conjunction with National Dental Health Month and the Family Dental Center's preventative dentistry program.

THE MAGIC and excitement of the game tables, slot machines and nightclub shows at Las Vegas are in store for Mary Webb of South Lyon this summer. Webb, shown with Michael Showerman, was one of three lucky winners in Michigan to have their entries drawn in the recent shopping spree/trip contest sponsored by Super Foods Services.

Dennis Swaney, store manager at Showerman's IGA in South Lyon, said Showerman's was one of 60 Super Foods stores in Michigan which participated in the six-week promotion. Making shoppers more aware of Fame products was the purpose of the promotion, Swaney said. Webb won an expense-paid four days and three nights in Vegas. The trip must be completed before October 1.

WINNER of the grand prize in the annual Easter Egg Hunt sponsored by the Northville Jaycees, Benjamin Mazur, 7, is shown holding his 18-inch high solid chocolate bunny. Giving him a hand is Lisa Howe of Village Sweets 'n Treats in Northville who donated the bunny for the Jaycee event April 21. Pictured with them is Jaycee Bob Cummings who assisted with the hunt at Cass Benton Park.

Mustang trackers start to hit stride

By B.J. MARTIN

If you could buy and sell high school sports teams, now would be the time to get bullish on Northville boys' track.

Early in the season, things looked bleak for the squad. Injuries, illnesses, mistakes and bad breaks seemed to be mounting.

But in a crucial meet last week, the Mustangs took favored division rival Plymouth Canton down to the last event before falling short 73-64 on Thursday.

Farmington Harrison was less generous, defeating Northville 79-58 on Friday. But the Mustangs rebounded with a surprisingly strong eighth-place finish at the 16-team Observerland Relays on Saturday.

Dearborn Bishop Borgess dominated the field with 109 points to take home the first-place trophy. The strongest Western Lakes Activities Association finisher was second-place Livonia Churchill, host of the tourney.

Churchill had 84 points, followed by Plymouth Salem with 61, Farmington with 43, Redford Catholic Central, 41, Livonia Stevenson, 35, Garden City, 24, and Northville, 20.

The Mustangs finished ahead of WLAA rivals Canton, Livonia Bentley and Harrison.

"It was great weather Saturday, the first really decent day for track all season," Murphy said. "Just about everybody we had set a personal best at the meet."

Northville's distance medley relay team registered the Mustangs' top relay finish of the day with a second-place time of 11:07.4. Brett Netke (800 meters), Joel Vogt (400), Irven Meadows (1,200) and Jim Riney (1,600) all turned in excellent splits.

Mark Knoth had Northville's best individual performance, placing second in the hotly-contested open 110 meter hurdles. Knoth's time of 15.3 was only 0.1 seconds behind Borgess' Chuck Gregory.

Knoth also anchored the 4x110 meter shuttle hurdle relay team, which finished fourth. John Klokenga, Tim Millen and John Briningstool ran the other three legs.

"I expected Mark and 'Klok' to do well," Murphy declared, "but Millen and Briningstool came through three-stepping all the way, and that made the difference."

Northville's time of 1:02.6 was only two seconds out of second place.

Places were awarded down to sixth, and Northville finished just out of the scoring with seventh place finishes in the 6,400 meter relay and the sprint medley relay.

In the longer event, roughly a metric four-mile, Alan Griffith, John McRae, Matt Winquist and Rich Naszradi teamed up for a respectable 20:07.0. That was 15.4 seconds behind sixth-place Salem.

Northville's finish at the relays was the Mustangs' best since 1978.

"You couldn't have gotten two even teams," said Murphy. Indeed, had the Mustangs come through with a win in the mile relay — the last event of the day — it would have been a 69-68 Northville victory.

Riney, Knoth and Vogt were each double winners. Riney stood off a charge by chief distance ace Mark Kratty in the mile to win in 4:53.8, then led a Mustang sweep in the two-mile in 10:34.0. Matt Winquist was second in 11:07.3 and Alan Griffith third in 11:12.5. Griffith added a third in the mile in 5:00.8.

Besides taking the high hurdles in 15.5 and the lows in 41.9, Knoth added a second place in the high jump for Paced by still-unbeaten first singles player Arvind Sreedharan, Northville's varsity tennis team whipped league rivals Plymouth Salem and Livonia Churchill, and kept within striking distance of still-unbeaten Livonia Stevenson and Farmington Harrison.

Northville, now 5-1 overall (3-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association), still trails 5-0 Harrison in the league's Western Division. But the Mustangs won't get a shot at unseating the Hawks until a week from Monday — the last regular-season game for both teams.

"This was our first week at full speed," Northville Coach Dick Norton remarked. "We're just now getting (Jeff) Kaminsky and (John) Huston back into good health."

Against Salem last Wednesday, the Mustangs took three of four singles matches and two of three in doubles for an easy 5-2 win.

Sreedharan retired Jeff Forton in straight sets of 6-3. Second singles player Brant Nicholas defeated John Koth 6-3, 6-2. Mark Reitenga fell to Ron Rabillas 3-6, 3-6 in third singles, and Huston topped Todd Stewart 6-3, 6-1.

Dirk Nowka and Tim Campbell fell to Salem's first doubles duo of Eric Sovine and Paul Weber 2-6, 2-6. But Don Norton and Dave Kaminsky took the Rocks' Charlton Bengiut and John Kolb 6-3, 2-6, 6-4 in second singles, and Dave Merifield and Mike Reitenga took Clyde Bengiut and Ted Hanosh 6-4, 6-1.

Things shaped up in similar fashion Friday against Churchill, now 5-3.

For the first time this season, Northville played the same lineup twice in a row. Sreedharan whipped Charger first singles player Ken Wood 6-4, 6-3. Nicholas rebounded from a 5-7 first-set setback to defeat Todd Holland with sets of 6-4, 6-3.

Mark Reitenga breezed over Andy Vassaleo in third singles, while Huston took Northville's only loss 2-6, 0-6 from Dave Pierini.

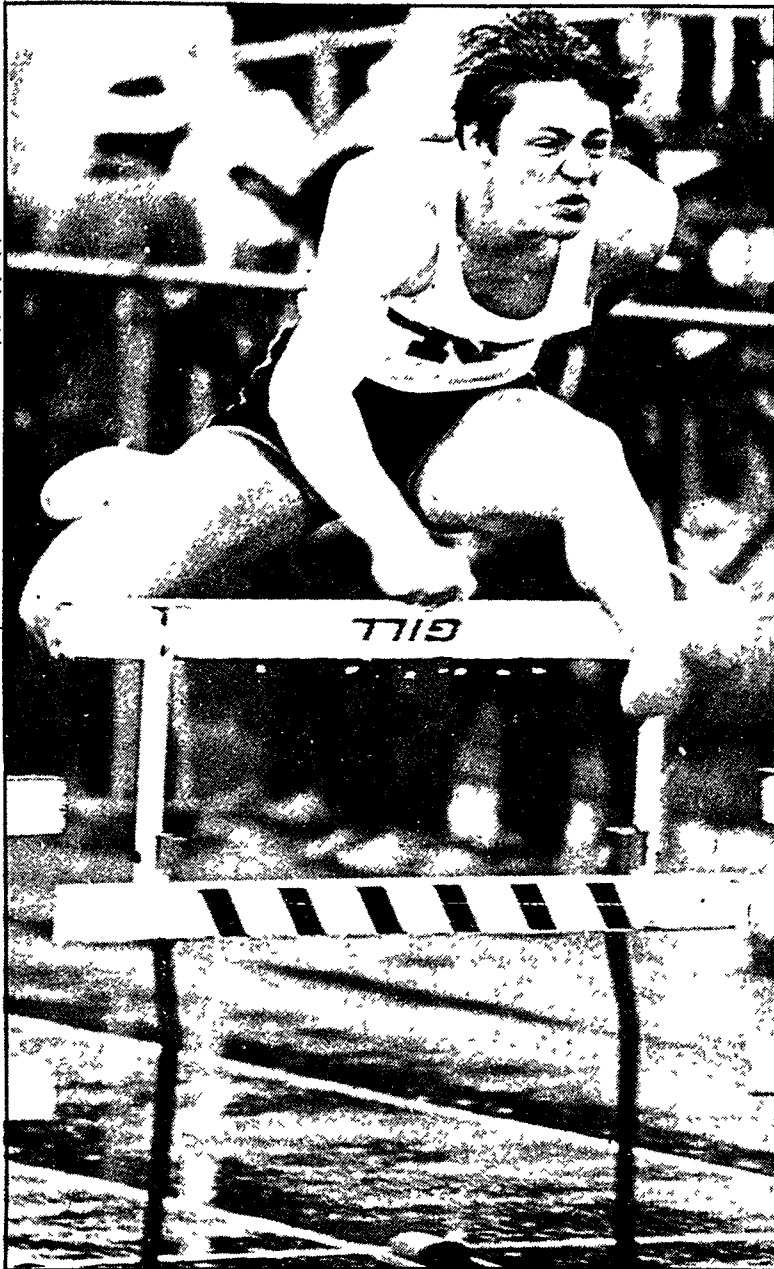

Nowka and Campbell were gunned down by Mike Gould and Tom Pachera 1-6, 3-6. Norton and Kaminsky dropped Churchill's John Meff and Mark Weaver in three, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2, and Merrifield and Mike Reitenga teamed up to take Andy Heilmann and Bob Johnson 6-3, 6-0.

Northville is smack in the middle of a home series this week. Today at 4 p.m., the Mustangs host Livonia Bentley. Tomorrow, Northville will play a make-up non-conference match with Brighton, a solid Kensington Valley Conference team.

The Mustangs get back into league competition against struggling division rival Plymouth Canton on Friday.

On Monday, Northville will travel to Walled Lake Central to face an improved Viking squad, then return home Tuesday for a non-conference match with North Farmington.

DIAMOND DEBATE — A dropped infield fly resulted in Steve Frellick and Mike Wissman's being both stuck at first base in Friday's game. Umpires at first ruled both players out over protests from Northville coaches Fred Holdsworth and Bob Frellick (above). The decision was changed and Wissman was declared safe. 'Nightmare' inning stops win streak at 5

No doubt about it — the relationship between Northville and Plymouth Salem teams has been, well, rocky lately. And the bad blood bubbled up again in last Wednesday's 6-1 Mustang victory over the Rocks.

A third-inning brawl originating with Northville's 6'6" first baseman Steve Schrader and Salem's beefy 6'5" starting pitcher Rick Berberet upstaged Mustang hurler Dan Nielsen's third straight impressive victory, and some solid offensive production.

The feud between Berberet and Schrader goes back to basketball season, when the two centers went at it like Bob Lanier and Bill Laimbeer in the district finals.

Schrader packed a punch at the plate as well as on the basepaths, where a hard tag by Berberet prompted his retaliation. His two-RBI double drew first blood in a four-run first inning for Northville.

Nielsen worked all seven innings, striking out seven and walking just two in the contest to nudge his season mark to 3-0. The Mustangs chased Berberet from the mound after three innings.

Doug Hartman and Dave Longridge each collected RBI singles, and Mike Wissman socked a solo homer in the second, his first round-tripper of the season.

Besides good hitting, Northville got deft glove work from outfielders and infielders alike, and earned the praise of Salem Coach John Gravlin.

"Northville is a fine club — the best nine I've seen offensively," Gravlin said. The Rocks sunk to 4-1 in WLLA play after Wednesday's game.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL 15 NORTHVILLE 3

Until the fifth inning, the Mustang-Charger encounter was shaping up like an interesting ballgame. The score was tied at 3-3 and Northville's junior mound hopeful Chris Willerer (now 1-1) was in control.

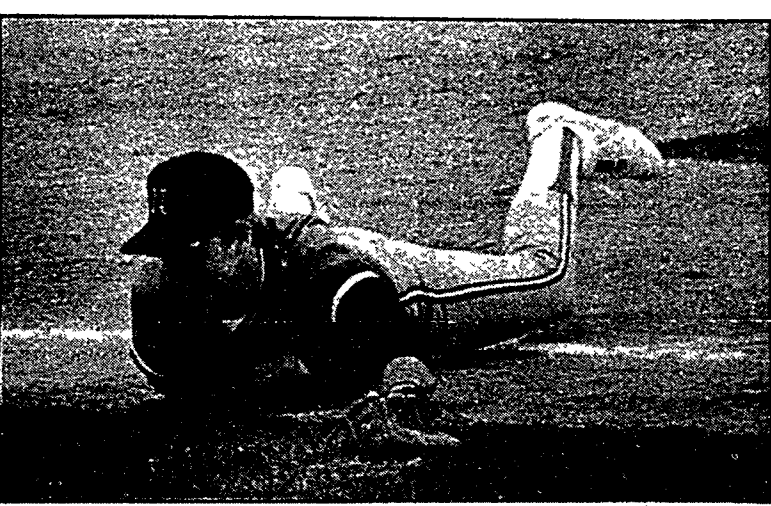

But in the fifth, Churchill exploded with an inning that will give the Mustangs nightmares for quite a while.

Before Bob Pegrum — Northville's fourth pitcher that inning — could finally get the third out, the Chargers scored 12 times on three home runs (one a grand slam by Miguel Contreras), a double, three singles, three walks and three errors.

Neither Willerer, Tim Ruffing or Chris Dominique could retire the side. And despite Northville's hot 5-1 start, his relievers' ineffectiveness got Mustang Coach Fred Holdsworth a little worried.

"If we don't get (pitcher Doug) Doyle back we might be in trouble," Holdsworth admitted.

Doyle, who suffered arm problems

Bob Pegrum dives for a foul liner

after going 4-0 last year, now has a new problem — mononucleosis. "I really don't know how long he'll be out," Holdsworth said.

Only Schrader had more than one hit in the ballgame, a two-run single in the first after three straight walks loaded the bases.

In the third inning, Northville scored again on an error, two walks and a passed ball. But that was all, as Churchill reliever John Stoitsiadis pitched three innings of shutout relief.

The Mustangs take on 1-4 Livonia Bentley in the home corral today at 4 p.m. On Friday, Northville will host 5-0 division-leading Plymouth Canton for a twinbill beginning at 4 p.m. Winning both ends would put the Mustangs on top in the division.

Another intra-division doubleheader is set for Monday at Walled Lake.

Mustang softball squad tops Churchill for first win of season

By B.J. MARTIN

Northville's varsity softball team picked up its first win of the season last Friday, and it couldn't have come at a better time.

The Mustangs' solid 18-11 victory over Western Division rival Livonia Churchill snapped a season-long five-game losing streak. "We had some disastrous games," first-year Coach Sue Heinzman said. "And I think the players' attitude hurt us more than anything else."

Northville scored in all but the first inning against the Chargers, taking advantage of 15 free passes. The Mustangs collected 10 hits, a season high.

Third baseman Lynn Dudley led the offensive attack, socking two singles and a two-run homer in the top of the sixth. Kim Richcreek had a pair of doubles and two RBI. First baseman Ann Brisbie clouted three singles and picked up an RBI.

The Mustangs ran grooves into the Churchill basepaths, led by second baseman Vicki Robins, who collected three stolen bases. Defensively, shortstop Jackie Matteucci played well, handling seven chances without an error. Behind the plate, team sparkplug Chris McGowan also turned in a solid game and smacked a run-scoring sacrifice fly.

Bev Henderson had one of her better games, despite walking 13 in seven innings. But only in Churchill's five-run sixth-inning rally did the Chargers seriously threaten Northville's lead.

LIVONIA STEVENSON 12
NORTHVILLE 0

The undefeated Spartans, who Heinzman considers the best team in the league, held Northville to three hits in a pre-spring break encounter. Henderson permitted only six walks this time, but the Spartans hitters put together a seven-run fourth inning to put the game out of reach.

Only Mateucci, outfielder Pat Wazny and Brisbie were able to scratch out singles against Stevenson's tough Lisa Bokovoy, maybe the league's best pitcher.

PLYMOUTH SALEM (W)
NORTHVILLE (L)

Wednesday's game was the first after spring break for the Mustangs, and it showed. Only Northville's sultans were unbeatable.

By the time umpires decided enough was enough, the Rocks had scored upwards of 30 runs to Northville's three.

McGowan knocked in Robins twice with singles, and Wazny singled in Henderson in the fifth to cap Northville's scoring. It was a nightmarish outing for Henderson, who established a Northville record for walks issued.

BELLEVILLE 5
NORTHVILLE 0

The Tigers were state champions in 1983, mostly due to pitcher Judy Wisniewski. Wisniewski was devastating against the Mustangs. Only Mateucci's fifth-inning single kept her from a no-hitter.

Chris McGowan worked six innings and turned in the best pitching performance of the year for Northville so far. She issued 13 walks, but Northville's defense was "awesome." That's Coach Heinzman's word.

How else can one describe catcher Denise Liddle's throwing out three would-be base stealers at third base?

Or a double play in which shortstop Mateucci snagged a grounder, tagged a baserunner and still threw out the batter at first?

"I was pretty pleased with that game," Heinzman admitted. "Our heads were in it and Chris just pitched an excellent ballgame."

NORTHVILLE 2

Henderson allowed 10 runs in the first three innings and Northville found itself in too deep a hole to crawl out.

Mateucci had a solid game offensively and defensively. In the third inning, she snagged a grounder, fired to catcher Liddle to force the lead run at home and Liddle gunned the relay to Brisbie at first to complete a 6-2-3 double play.

Mateucci, Richcreek, Dudley and Brisbie each had singles, and Dudley and Schrader picked up RBI.

Northville (1-8, 1-4) will travel to Bentley for a 4 p.m. game today and to struggling Plymouth Canton for a doubleheader Friday.

Defense, Cahill star in key soccer wins

By B.J. MARTIN

It was sweet revenge for the Mustang soccer team last Wednesday, as Northville posted a well-executed 2-1 victory over tough league rival Plymouth Salem.

Just four days earlier, Salem beat a shorthanded Mustang squad in the Schoolcraft College Invitational Soccer Tournament (held during spring break). The contest was a 0-0 tie even after two overtime periods and Salem won a shoot-out to move to the tourney semifinals.

This time at full strength — except for still-recuperating defender Kim Petit — Northville beat the Rocks fair and square.

Kathy Korowin opened the scoring 5:10 into the first half taking a cross from Julie Anger and driving a high shot into the Salem net. Twenty-six minutes later, Lisa Cahill took a pass from Jill Gallagher, dribbled around a Rock defender and slipped the go-ahead tally into the corner.

"Then we played a lot of defense," Mustang Coach Stan Smalec declared. Although the Rocks threatened often in the second half, only Rock striker Fran Whittaker managed a goal.

"Cheryl Spaman, Kathy Korowin, Jill Jensen, Julie Nowka and Julie Anger all did just a great job on defense," Smalec beamed.

Smalec added that the Mustangs' deep bench was a large factor in the win — in particular, Jenny Kuffner, Jill Gallagher and Gaynelle Wagner played superbly in supporting roles. "We couldn't have done it without them," Smalec said.

Health woes hold back girls' track team

Some fine individual performances weren't enough to keep Northville's girls track team from registering two losses to division rivals last week.

The Mustangs fell to Plymouth Canton on Thursday 81-47 and were shut down by Farmington Harrison the following day by a 92-36 count.

Northville was hampered by numerous injuries in both meets. "It just gets worse and worse," said Coach Ann Turnbull. "The flu is going around, everybody's got shin splints... It's to the point where if I get some girls to do anything (work out) the injuries will just resurface."

Nothing held back Cindy Panowicz against Canton, anyway. Panowicz nabbed firsts in long jump, 110 and 330 low hurdles, plus her best 440 time this year, a first-place 62.7.

Panowicz, named Outstanding Female Athlete of the Milan Relays the week before, leapt 15'5" in long jump and clocked times of 16.1 and 48.6 in the 110 and 330 hurdles, respectively.

But only Ann Griffith could register another individual first for Northville. The freshman middle-distance runner clocked a 5:59.0 mile for first place, and added a third-place 880 time of 2:49.1.

Robin Strunk, another freshman, had an excellent meet. Strunk took second in both hurdle events and placed third in the high jump with a 4'6" leap. Laura Chamberlain and Becky Bauman ran second and third in the 100, clocking 12.7 and 13.0, respectively.

Northville took thirds with Margie Wojcikicki's discus toss of 63'5" and Pam Cavanaugh's 440 time of 69.7. Kim Campbell's personal best shot put distance of 28'3 1/2" was only 2 1/2 inches out of first place, but took third. Shari Thompson notched a third for Northville in the mile with a time of 6:35.8 and Dawn Schweim clocked a 14:11.0 to take third in the two-mile.

FARMINGTON HARRISON 92 NORTHVILLE 36

Despite the rather lopsided score, Northville really wasn't that far off the pace in Friday's meet. Many of the races were extremely close. "It was a pretty exciting meet," Turnbull said — a reference to individual improvements rather than the score.

Panowicz took easy firsts in both hurdle events, including a regional-qualifying time of 46.1 in the 300 meter lows. The junior sat out the 400 and, for the first time all season, was defeated in the long jump in a dual meet. She could only manage a second-place leap of 15'4".

Turnbull admitted Panowicz's slow start in hurdles was a concern, but said some extra attention to her technique should get the junior up to her former range of over 17 feet.

Griffith took first in the 1,600 with a 5:53.89. "Every time Ann runs the mile, her time goes down six seconds," said Turnbull. Griffith took third in her first-ever 3,200 meters, turning in a 14:01.0.

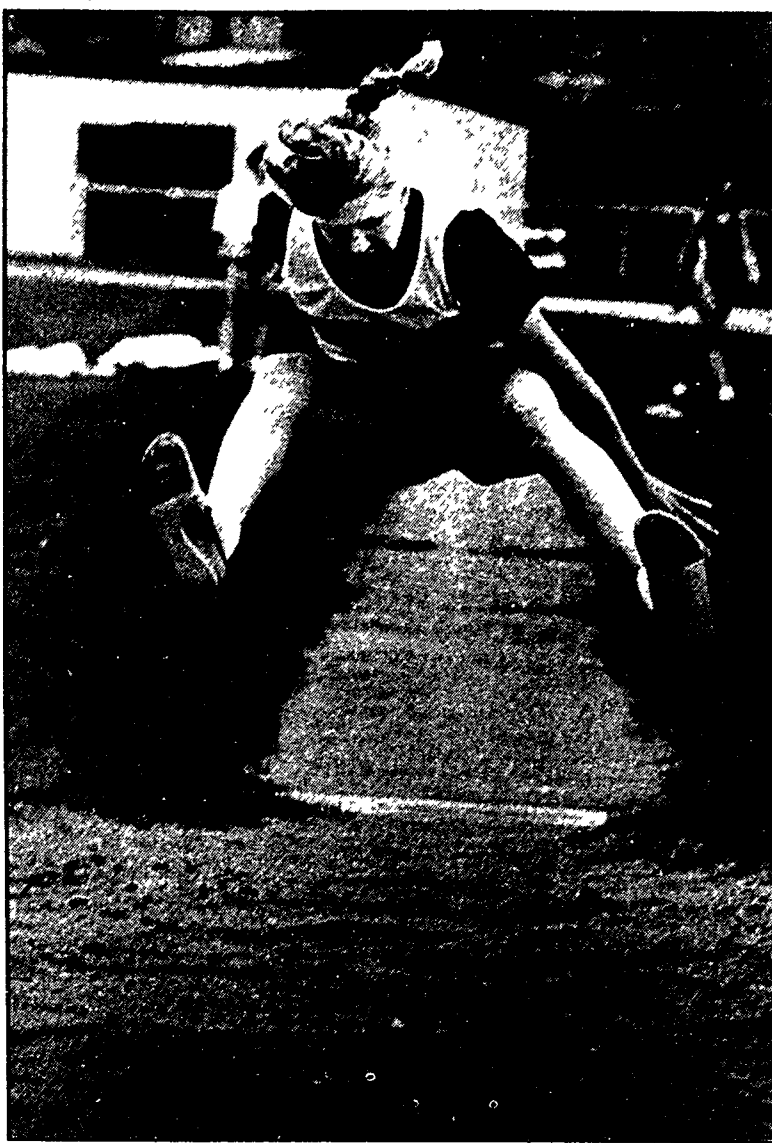

Griffith also took the first leg of the 3,200 meter relay and teamed with Thompson, flu-bugged Wendy Nuechterlein and Dawn Schweim for a season-best 11:32.0. Still, Harrison swept all the relays, where Northville's sick list has taken its biggest toll.

Once again, freshmen boosted Northville's score in sprints and field events. Michelle Cross turned in a second-place time of 12.74 in the 100 meters. Strunk took second in high jump with a wind-affected 4'4" leap, and added a third in long jump with a 14'7". Cavanaugh took a third in the 400 meters with a time of 69.1.

Junior Chamberlain, nursing a thigh injury, added a second in the 200 meters with a time of 29.2.

Northville will travel to Livonia Bentley tomorrow for a 4 p.m. WLAA dual meet, then compete in the Observerland Relays on Saturday at Redford Union High School.

Monday, Northville (1-2 overall, 0-2 WLAA) will take a short jaunt to Novi High School to take on the Wildcats in a non-conference meet. Next Wednesday, the Mustangs host division rival Livonia Churchill in a big home meet at 4 p.m.

number of Churchill crosses."

Northville, now 9-3-3 counting Schoolcraft Tournament play, has a pair of important league games this week. The Mustangs travel to Livonia Bentley tonight at 7 p.m. and to Plymouth Canton on Friday for a 4 p.m. Western Division showdown.

Bentley (7-1-2) is coming off a tie with Salem while Canton — flying high after a home-field upset of Livonia Stevenson — is looking for revenge for an April defeat by Northville.

The Chiefs will also be Northville's pre-regional qualifying game opponent, and that gives Friday's encounter added significance.

Monday, Northville hosts Livonia Franklin for a 7 p.m. match, and it is expected the Canton-Northville pre-regional will be set sometime next week unless the two teams' schedules force an earlier matchup.

Should Northville get past Canton, another pre-regional game is scheduled for Friday, May 18. Winning that contest will qualify the Mustangs to compete in the regional finals.

Northville will close its regular season two weeks from today with a 7 p.m. home rematch with Churchill.
