Tax deadlines differ in summer collection

Property taxpayers who live in the Northville public school district have received their first summer school tax bills (for half the annual collection) — but the deadline for payment without penalty varies depending upon whether property lies in the City of Northville, City of Novi or in the townships of Northville, Novi, Lyon or Salem.

City taxpayers of Northville and Novi must pay by August 31 to avoid penalty while township taxpayers in the district have two weeks more — until September 14 — to pay without penalty. Penalties for late payment also vary with location.

Wording of the state law authorizing school districts to collect in July is responsible for the differences. It specified payment was to be made by September 14 to avoid penalty unless the local collecting unit already was collecting summer taxes. In that situation, the deadline and penalties were to be the same as for local taxes.

Northville City Manager Steve Walters explained that the city charter provides for a two percent penalty September 1 plus one half percent a month thereafter until the end of February when unpaid taxes are sent to the county to collect. The city sent its tax bills and those for the school billing separately so that residents would be aware of both, Walters said. The school billing includes the year's bill for Schoolcraft College as well as half the public school tax. Bills for Northville residents in Wayne County were sent July 3 and those for Northville city residents of Oakland County went out July 9.

He noted also that the due date is extended to the winter tax collection due date for some residents, including senior citizens, paraplegics, quadriplegics, eligible servicemen, eligible veterans or eligible widows, blind persons and permanently disabled persons. At present eligibility is for those whose income is less than $10,000 a year.

"When we have elderly people come in," Walters explained, "we tell them about the eligibility of delaying payment."

The Legislature was considering raising the amount when tax bills were being prepared, but made the increase to take effect in 1985. Because they were unsure whether the amount would be raised to take effect immediately, Northville Township officials explained, they did not specify the amount for eligibility on the billings.

Northville Township's bills went out the first week in July with a letter of explanation from treasurer Richard M. Henningsen. The township is collecting for Northville Public Schools and for Plymouth Canton Public Schools and for Schoolcraft College.

After September 14 payments will be assessed a 4 percent penalty plus a one percent interest fee per month on the unpaid balance through February 14.

In the City of Novi, Evelyn Natzel in the tax office explained, Novi city taxes and school taxes for Northville or Novi are itemized on one bill. Penalty for late payment after August 31 is a flat 4 percent rate from September 1 through February 28. The City of Novi collects for Schoolcraft and Oakland community colleges on the billing.

"It's really no problem here," Natzel said, noting that the city had been collecting summer taxes since 1975 for Novi schools.

Lyon Township's tax bills went out last Saturday, treasurer Evelyn Herald reported Monday. She said they were late because she was late receiving information from the school district and county.

There are 60 properties in Lyon

Township, she said, who receive Northville school tax billings. Late penalty after September 14 is 1 percent from September 15-30 and 1 percent per month thereafter to the end of February when they are sent to Oakland County. Herald said she would be in the Lyon Township office from 10 a.m. to noon to receive payments beginning yesterday.

Salem Township treasurer Harvey Barkley reported that Salem has 86 of its 1,337 parcels located in the Northville schools' billing with the others in Ann Arbor, Plymouth Canton and Lyon districts.

He said billings were "a family project" as he and his family prepared them for mailing July 3. Penalty for late payment after September 14 is 1 percent per month until the end of February when unpaid bills are sent to Washtenaw and Oakland counties. Salem collects for Schoolcraft and Washtenaw community colleges.

Novi Township treasurer Donald Hackmann said it was collecting for Northville schools and Schoolcraft College. Penalty after September 14 is a 1 percent interest charge per month added to the fall tax bill. Supervisor Leo Kalota said this week there had been a delay in receiving the bills from Oakland County so that township residents living in the Brookland Farms subdivision would be late receiving them.

Feathered friend

"Donald Duck" found the shoulder of owner Jeff Williams made a perfect perch for showing off his feathers at the Northville Public Library's Fifth Annual Pet Show last Thursday. Librarian Melanie Robinson reported the "biggest turnout ever" with some 82 kids and pets participating. An array of animals — from dogs and cats to rabbits and snakes — were among the participants in this year's event. Judges included such local dignitaries as Recreation Supervisor Marty Derda. Record photo by John Galloway

Street paving to be topic of hearing

As it set a public hearing for August 20 on paving and berms for Fairfax Court in Lexington Commons, Northville City Council Monday night also authorized City Manager Steve Walters to obtain bids for the repaving of Springfield Drive and Fairfax Court. It was decided to obtain bid costs for both streets with the possibility of deleting portions that might not be water-damaged.

City engineer Jack McNeely exhibited plans to place a berm around the perimeter of lots 34-37 to permit storm water to drain into a catch basin at lot 33.

Residents of Lexington Commons Association had brought the problem of the street deterioration to council with a request for repaving.

McNeely said that the berm would cost about $2,000, or slightly less, and would not need to be more than a foot high to intercept the water runoff.

Noting that the subdivision streets had been paved in 1969, Walters said the average paving lasts 17-24 years.

Asked by Mayor Paul Vernon what had caused the paving to fail, McNeely said he did not believe there was any question that water runoff had been a major contributor to the condition.

He outlined in detail the area the berm would cover and showed how the water would be diverted into the catch basin.

McNeely warned that until the damaged paving was removed in the area of Springfield it would not be possible to ascertain the condition of the paving on Fairfax completely. Then, he said, it could be decided whether to repave all or a portion.

Resident John Regan told council the residents living on the court have a "unique situation — we're very high and we're just getting a ton of water from somewhere else."

He said he did not feel residents of other areas were experiencing the "devastation" to the degree they were.

Noting that others benefit from commons' park and tennis court areas, he said he felt the cost of repaving should be spread through the area.

Vernon said that there would be opportunity for all to express their opinions at the public hearing when paving costs also would be available.

District lines fixed for Haggerty sewer

By KEVIN WILSON

Northville Township took another large step toward constructing a sewer interceptor along the Haggerty Road corridor last week when the board of trustees established a special assessment district to assist in financing construction.

The sewer is needed, officials say, to eliminate the costs of operating sewage lift stations and to promote development of the far eastern edge of the township between Five and Eight Mile roads. A resolution stating the sewer is a necessity was approved several months ago.

The assessment district as approved differs from earlier proposals in that it excludes properties on Smock and Pierson streets and in the Meadowbrook Estates subdivisions. A majority of residents in that area advised the board that they did not wish to participate in the project, despite evidence that it would provide them with sewer service at the lowest cost likely to be available. Though not required to do so, the board dropped the area from the district.

Exclusion of the more than 100 parcels of property in the area will reduce the cost estimate for the total project from $3.68 million by more than $450,000. And, because the contribution expected from the township and the city of Novi will not be reduced accordingly, those properties remaining in the district will share in a smaller portion of the total cost, engineer Edward J. McNeely told those attending the July 12 board meeting.

Although residents of Pierson, Smock and Meadowbrook Estates put up the stiffest opposition to the proposal — and thereby convinced the board to exclude them — there were others opposed to the project.

Notable among them is the Dun Rovin Golf Course. Because assessments will be based on the "highest use" of the land and because the golf course is zoned for high-density single family housing, the owners are likely to be hit for a significant share of the cost of building the project. An attorney representing the course estimated that it would cost the owners $500,000 to be a part of the sewer district.

Dun Rovin representatives suggested that the township construct the sewer out of water and sewer funds and allow those abutting the project to "pay our share when we're ready to tie-into the sewer." Supervisor John MacDonald said he was "puzzled" by the opposition from Dun Rovin. "It wasn't that long ago that you were in here begging for sewers," MacDonald said. "You've wanted tax breaks and so on, and wanted sewers so you could develop the property."

The course's attorney acknowledged that "many years ago" the owners were "begging for sewers, asking you for help" but said that "you never gave us any help, but that's all right, now the population is here and we're doing just fine in the golf business. But we can't continue to operate a golf course if we have to put up half a million dollars for a sewer we don't want — we'd be forced into developing it."

Others also suggested other financing plans. Patrick Coyne, a Pierson resident, read a letter into the record that proposed several different methods by which the sewer could be paid for without assessing property owners. There was a round of applause at the conclusion of his reading. (The letter is printed in its entirety among the letters to the editor in this week's Record).

Several references were made to the methods used in Livonia and other cities when sewers were constructed, but township officials noted that townships operate under an entirely different set of regulations than do cities, particularly in regard to special assessments.

Dun Rovin representatives and Coyne both criticized the board for not advising residents until late in the process that a petition bearing the signatures of owners of 20 percent of the land area could stop the process unless owners of another 51 percent of the property petitioned to continue.

MacDonald responded that he and the board "are not in the business of offering legal advice" to property owners. Dun Rovin's attorney suggested the matter be tabled to give property owners time to petition, and suggested that with the golf course property, very few additional signatories would be required to reach the 238 acre mark that could stop the project.

The board vote establishing the district was necessarily imprecise regarding cost estimates and land area included, due to the last-minute exclusion of the Meadowbrook Estates, Pierson and Smock properties. It called for

Summer help wanted

By MICHELE McELMURRY

HELP WANTED: Northville students, ages 18-21, wanted for secretarial, maintenance and library aide positions within the community. Positions available immediately. Employment guaranteed through August 31. Salary is $3.35 an hour. Applications accepted at the Michigan Youth Corps office at Salem High School in Canton.

Northville students who thought they lost out on summer employment will be relieved to know there still are plenty of available job openings.

For the first time in years, the Michigan Youth Corps has an overabundance of unfilled positions in its Summer Youth Employment Program.

According to Bryon Richardson, regional director of the Summer Youth Employment Program, the Michigan Youth Corps is "desperately in need of students."

"We don't have anywhere near enough students for the positions available," Richardson said.

Noting that last year there were "more than enough kids for the program," Richardson attributed this year's lack of participation to a late start and the state's change in program policy.

Rea seeks lounge approval

As the next step before his Starting Gates Lounge can open at 135 North Center, James Rea was scheduled to appear before the city planning commission last night to apply for change of use on the property.

Rea had obtained approval to move his liquor license from the Winner's Circle Bar at 111 West Main to the new location from city council and the state liquor control commission months ago.

The bar has been closed for several weeks, and Rea has been renovating the property on North Center into a lounge that also will serve food. In seeking the license transfer, he had told city council members that he intended to change his operation from a bar into a lounge.

The planning commissioners last night were expected to determine what additional parking space requirements would be needed in the change of use.

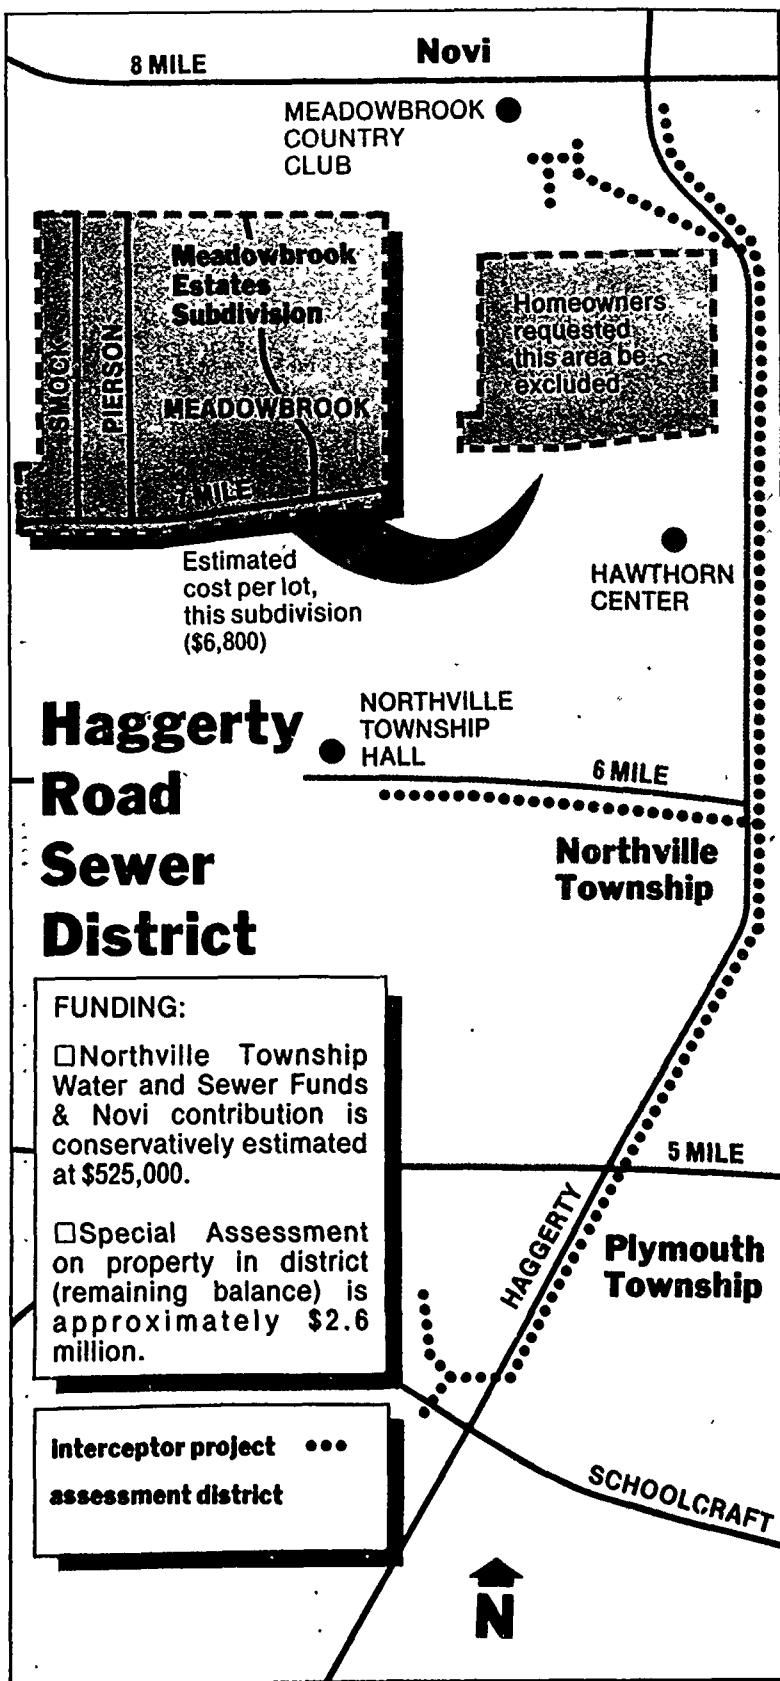

The building previously had been occupied by a beauty shop. Merchants currently, contribute $1,800 a space toward parking in city lots.

A special meeting of the Northville Historic District Commission also was scheduled for Tuesday night with Rea slated to appear for review of his new exterior plans at the Center Street location.

His plans included outside lamps, an awning and plantings for the Starting Gates Lounge.

Also on the historic commission agenda was remodeling of Four Seasons on Main Street. G. Dewey Gardner said he plans a front remodeling removing the overhang to create a two-story appearance. Approval of a new sign also was being sought.

An awning for 120 North Center also was on the agenda for commission approval.

a cost estimate of $3.68 million "reduced by the amount the engineer estimates for the cost of the excluded area." One cost breakdown shown during the hearing placed this cost between $400,000 and $500,000. That included the subdivision's share of an estimated $525,000 contribution from the communities, however, and the final estimate is likely to be lower than might be indicated by simple subtraction of that figure.

The precise area of land in the excluded district is also not defined. With the excluded area included, McNeely told the board the total district area was 1,187 acres. That includes a large portion of state-owned property between Six and Seven Mile roads at Haggerty (the state hospital and Hawthorn Center). Whether the state will make a financial contribution to the project is still in doubt.

McNeely suggested that, if all pro-

Ice cream fame keeps dairy busy

Guernsey Dairy has been discovered and the world is beating a path to its door.

With the recent notoriety in "People Magazine," Guernsey's butter pecan ice cream is now a very popular dessert. The dairy has increased its production of the ice cream to keep up with the new demand.

Guernsey's butter pecan tied for fifth place in the magazine's competition among 889 ice cream flavors from across the country.

"We've got customers coming from all over," said Marty McGuire, the dairy's ice cream maker.

John McGuire — the man who originated the noted ice cream — said business took off when the magazine published the results of its search for the best ice cream in the country.

"For three days after the article appeared, we had three girls on three phones all day long. All they did was answer the phone from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.," he said.

Marty added that the peak period appears to have passed, but the sale of butter pecan ice cream still exceeds the amount sold before it became famous. Marty now makes a batch of butter pecan three or four times a week.

Previously he made it twice a week. "We seem to be getting a lot of repeat sales," he noted.

Customers also are trying other Guernsey ice creams.

If there are any regrets about all the publicity, it is that new customers are filling the dairy, leaving little room for the regulars.

"The new people are crowding out the local people who've been feeding us all these years. Right now you can't get in the place," said John during a Friday afternoon lunch hour. "We feel bad about it. If it keeps up, we're going to have to expand."

Youth Corps seeks workers

He noted that last year the program got under way the second week in June, whereas this year's starting date was July 9.

Richardson also pointed out that in previous years students could apply for positions at their local high school. This year, however, students were required to apply at the Michigan Employment Security Commission office.

Among the available openings in the program are both secretarial and maintenance jobs with city hall, the library, the State Police Post, the Northville Public Schools and others.

It was reported at city council meeting Monday night that students already are working in the controller's and clerk's offices as well as with the DPW and at local schools.

In past years, students have worked as summer library aides, grounds crew workers for the school district, electrical engineering aides and others.

Richardson said students interested in summer employment with the Michigan Youth Corps can apply for a position at Salem High School, 46181 Joy Road at the corner of Joy and Canton Center roads.

Students seeking more information should call 451-6254 or 451-6298.

Richardson said the program is tentatively set to end August 31; however, because of the late start it could be extended into September.

Pets on parade

Animals, owners flock to library's annual show

Northville Public Library's Fifth Annual Pet Show last Thursday attracted an array of furry and feathered friends as well as their respected owners. Some 82 kids turned out at the city park to parade their pets in front of this year's judges. Among the participants in this year's show was "Sammy" (upper left), whose owner Edward Hugener found an appropriate box for his floppy-eared friend. Judging this year's competition was Recreation Supervisor Marty Derda (below left), who talks to owners about the little critter in the cage. Awaiting their turns (below) are Erin Beebe with Brownie and Mari Kissinger.

Salem clerk serves two roles, becomes center of controversy

The controversy over Nancy Geiger's dual role as Salem Township's elected clerk and its hired office administrator is turning into a "duel" of questions and answers between members of the board and Salem Township residents. The discussion of possible solutions to the problem continued unresolved at the July 3 regular meeting of the board.

A group of Salem residents are insistent that Geiger cannot legally fill the two positions and collect separate salaries for each because she would be in a position of supervising herself since the job of office administrator is subordinate to the office of township clerk. The board is seeking a way of combining the two jobs without being in conflict with the Incompatible Office Act (IOA). According to an opinion by township attorney Margaret Austin, the present combination is in conflict with the IOA.

James Fulkerson, who first raised the question of the dual role at the township's annual meeting in March, objected to Supervisor Richard Sackett's suggestion July 3 that the board eliminate the office administrator position and have Geiger assume both roles. He questioned the combining of jobs and raising of the clerk's salary which would then be subject to the electorate voting on it.

According to the 1984-85 township budget, the township clerk receives $10,300 annually and the office administrator position pays $9,000.

Fulkerson asked the board what would happen if the two jobs and two salaries were combined and a new clerk were elected in the November general election.

"What if that person says 'I'm going to take the money and do only the clerk's duties' and you have to pay someone else to do the office work?" Fulkerson asked, adding, "How are you going to protect the township if someone else takes the job?"

After some discussion, Township Supervisor Richard Sackett agreed to go back to counsel with the question of how the work and the salary could be handled if a new elected clerk were not willing to do both jobs.

A township clerk's statutorily defined duty is to be the custodian of all the records, books and papers of the township, according to Austin. The office administrator currently maintains the day-to-day functioning of the Salem Township office, answering telephone calls, processing mail and taking care of other office details.

At the outset of Tuesday's discussion, Sackett had reported that he had received a July 2 letter from Austin giving her opinion in answer to the board's inquiry on a possible conflict of interest between the two positions. Sackett reported that Austin said there is no conflict of interest involved in the two positions.

Austin's letter said, "Aside from the fact that the board approves the budget which contains the administrator's salary, I can think of no other activity of either the clerk or the administrator that would give rise to a conflict of interest between the two positions. Therefore, I see no conflict of interest reason for not consolidating the positions."

Austin also noted in the letter that occasions sometimes arise in any governmental unit where a question coming before the board may touch on the private interests of a board member. "That situation is usually dealt with by abstention of that board member on that issue," Austin explained.

In a June 5 letter in answer to Sackett's request to research the legality of the dual role question, Austin had responded that "the offices of township clerk and office administrator are incompatible under the IOA because of the chain of subordination, not because the functions of the two offices are conflicting."

Austin went on to suggest that "a possible way to bring the township in compliance with the IOA would be to eliminate the position of office administrator and to make all the acts currently performed by that position the responsibility of the township clerk. From our understanding of the duties of the office administrator, it appears that those duties may be performed by the clerk under the clerk's statutorily defined duty to be the custodian of all the records, books and papers of the township.

"Of course, if these added responsibilities were to be given to the clerk, it would be appropriate commensurately to increase the clerk's salary."

The attorney said this salary increase would be possible by board resolution any time prior to 60 days before the next election scheduled in November. Austin added that if this were done the salary increase "would be subject to alteration by the electors at a subsequent township meeting."

Susan Bejin, who has filed as a Republican candidate for the office of Salem Township Clerk in the primary election in August, said she feels that now is an "opportune time to sit down and write a job description" for the position. She also suggested that the problem would be resolved if Geiger stepped out of the office administrator position and carried on only her duties as elected clerk of the township.

Board questions Salem inspector hiring method

The Salem Township board appointed two new members to the board of appeals at its July 3 regular board meeting, but delayed action on the appointment of a new electrical inspector until its August meeting. That meeting will take place August 8 due to the primary election falling on August 7, the regularly scheduled board meeting date.

Salem Township Treasurer Harvey Barkley and Arlene DeForest were appointed to the two vacant board of appeals posts formerly held by Dean Hardesty and the late township treasurer, Russell Knight. Hardesty resigned in June and Knight died in March.

Township Supervisor Richard Sackett suggested that the board appoint Salem resident Kenneth Rich as electrical inspector, stating that Rich has previously done good work filling in for William King when he was unable to make inspections. King has submitted his resignation due to moving out of state.

Georgine Price questioned Sackett's recommendation, asking why no opportunity had been given for interested persons to apply for the job. She added that after reading of King's resignation in the paper, a person had asked at the Salem Township office about applying for the job and had been told it was "already taken care of."

Price charged that the appointment of Rich was "all cut and dried" before the board meeting. Sackett responded that nothing "has been cut and dried or talked about behind closed doors since I've sat at this table."

"I felt the man (Rich) is qualified, answers calls quickly and has done a fabulous job for years (as the substitute inspector)," Sackett replied.

Other board members backed

Sackett, adding that the board has been very satisfied with Rich's work in the past. Sackett added that the electrical inspector is paid 80 percent of the cost of each permit for making three inspections. He explained that King was paid at the time of the first inspection on several buildings but that some final inspections remain to be done. He said that Rich has agreed to complete these without pay since King has already received the funds.

When Price and other members of the audience insisted that the position should have been advertised, the board agreed not to appoint Rich at this time. In the meantime, board members voted to advertise the position and set a deadline of July 31 for submission of applications. The board also decided not to accept King's resignation immediately and to continue using Rich as the back-up electrical inspector until the August meeting.

In other action, the board also voted to readvertise for bids on demolition of the house which the township owns just east of the township offices. Deadline for submission of bids for the demolition is 4 p.m., July 25. The house is being removed to provide more parking at the township/firehall complex.

Bids submitted last month for the demolition were rejected by the board because none included the required security bonds or cashier's check to ensure safe removal of the building.

Also postponed was discussion of insurance specifications for all insurance carried by the township because the agent had not yet supplied those specifications. Since the current insurance policies are due to expire August 1, the board voted to extend them for two months and to discuss insurance at the August 8 meeting.

State rejects protest of home

Objections filed by Northville Township to the proposed licensing of an adult foster care group home on west Seven Mile Road are not sufficient to stop the project, the state Department of Social Services told township clerk Susan Heintz recently.

A July 5 letter from James B. Quigley, director of the DSS adult foster care licensing division, suggests that the department is likely to approve the application submitted by Our Lady of Providence Center.

Quigley noted a letter from the township board, accompanied by a petition from Seven Mile Road residents and a recommendation from the township's Group Home Committee had been returned to his office along with the standard license application notice.

The notice simply asks if there is another group home within 1,500 feet of the proposed location. The township's answer to this question was negative, but was accompanied by a letter suggesting that the proposed site is unsafe and that the township is "saturated" with such facilities.

Quigley rejected both arguments, citing the specific legal requirements governing the issuance of a license — the safety of the proposed site is not among the criteria DSS is required to base its decision upon. The criteria include the financial stability of the facility, the applicant's compliance with the act and regulations, the "good moral character" of the applicant and of the person responsible for daily operation of the facility and the applicant's physical and emotional ability to operate the group home.

"Neither (Michigan Public) Act 218 (1979) nor the administrative rules for adult foster care facilities require that an adult foster care home be located in a specific type of setting," Quigley wrote. "Homes located in urban, rural and suburban settings are presently licensed throughout the state."

"A licensee is responsible for assuring the safety of a home's residents at all times," he continued. "Program statements received of licensees need to address plans for supervision of residents whether at the facility, or during periods of outdoor activity or transit."

Noting the group home committee's suggestion that the township is "saturated" with such facilities, Quigley counted four licensed foster care facilities in the township, five with the new application. Together, he said, they have a total capacity of 108 persons.

"One-hundred and eight residents is equal to .83 percent (8/10 of one percent) of the 12,987 population of Northville Township as contained in the 1980 census report," Quigley noted.

"Five facilities comprise .12 percent (1/10 of one percent) of the 4,059 housing units which the census report designates for Northville Township. Based upon these figures, the department does not agree with the group home committee's premise that the Township of Northville has been saturated with licensed facilities."

The licensed residences counted by Quigley do not include other state-owned and operated facilities such as Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital (population nearly 1,000), or Phoenix Correctional Institute.

Neither houses mentally retarded adults, as is the case with a group home. Retarded persons were formerly housed at Northville Residential Training Center on Seven Mile and at Plymouth Center for Human Development on Sheldon north of Five Mile. Both facilities have been closed within the past few years and their residents moved into group homes across the state.

Quigley's letter concluded with a statement that might imply the imminent licensure of the OLP Center home: "If the home for six or less is not within a 1,500 foot radius of another and is found to be in compliance with all requirements of Act 218, P.A. 1979, and the administrative rules for adult foster care facilities, the department is required to issue a license" (emphasis added).

Epiphany merges with Holy Trinity

The Lutheran Church of the Epiphany has announced that it will merge formally with Holy Trinity Lutheran Church. The first worship after consolidation is to be Sunday, July 29, at Holy Trinity located at 39020 Five Mile in Livonia.

Epiphany began when Pastor Charles Holland gathered a small group of people together for their first worship in the old VFW hall in Plymouth. From that beginning the congregation grew into its present home at 41390 Five Mile in Northville Township.

Epiphany has been served in succession by pastors John W. Miller, David Strang, Fred Prezioso and Gene Parker.

One year ago, the congregation began an intensive study of its mission and concluded that it would best serve as part of a larger church body. Discussions were initiated early in 1984 with Holy Trinity.

The merger will provide an endowment fund for outreach projects to be determined by the mission committee of the new congregation.

Friends and former members of Epiphany are invited to the concluding worship at Epiphany Church at 10:30 a.m. this Sunday. Holy Communion will be celebrated as part of thanksgiving for the years it has served, and as a send off into the new congregation with the family of Holy Trinity.

Present plans are to sell the Epiphany church to another church group as the congregation moves one and a half miles east.

A church spokesperson said, however, that as part of the merger the three white crosses in front of the Epiphany church would be moved to the front of Holy Trinity.

Northville man killed in two-car collision at Beck

In the Township...

A 29-year-old Northville man was killed in a two-car collision at the intersection of Seven Mile and Beck roads, shortly before 11 p.m. Friday night, township police report.

According to Township Police Chief Ken Hardesty, Michael Westfall of Church Street was pronounced dead on arrival at Botsford Hospital following the incident.

He apparently suffered from numerous wounds and lacerations to the head and scalp.

Edward Kemp, 28, who was driving with Westfall in a GMC pick-up truck at the time of the accident, suffered head and chest injuries. A resident of South Lyon, Kemp was reported to be in satisfactory condition at Botsford Hospital Monday morning.

Carol Young, 36, of Brighton, whose 1971 Pontiac was struck by Westfall's vehicle at the Beck and Seven intersection, suffered multiple injuries and also was listed in satisfactory condition at Botsford.

Hardesty noted that Westfall was driving on Seven Mile and Young was on Beck at the time the accident occurred. Though police still are investigating the incident, the police chief said it "appears the truck went through the STOP sign and struck the vehicle."

He also pointed out that both vehicles were extensively damaged.

Golf equipment valued at almost $2,000 was reported stolen from a Chevrolet Suburban parked at a Haggerty Road golf course sometime between 8 and 9:15 p.m. July 11, township police report.

The complainant told police unknown suspects entered his vehicle by breaking the driver's side vent window. He told police the vehicle was locked at the time the incident occurred.

In addition to an estimated $50 damage to the vent window, items stolen from the vehicle included two golf bags valued at $200, two sets of golf clubs valued between $800 and $900 each and two Polaroid cameras valued at $50.

A Mongoose BMX bicycle valued at $250 was reported stolen from a Five Mile golf course at about 2:30 p.m. July 8, township police report.

The complainant told police he left the bicycle at the golf center at about 2:30 p.m. and when he returned it was gone.

Unknown suspects caused an estimated $200 damage to the rear window of a 1980 Ford station wagon parked in front of a Ladywood home sometime between 10 p.m. July 13 and 9 a.m. July 14, police report.

The complainant told police the vehicle was parked in the street in front of her home at the time the incident occurred. She stated she found the rear window smashed the following morning.

According to police, it is not known what was used to break the glass. However, police said there was a similar incident reported at 11:15 p.m. July 13.

Police said the incidents are believed to be related and cited a beige station wagon as the suspect vehicle.

In a similar incident, police were dispatched to Rayburn at 11:15 p.m. July 13 on a report of subjects throwing rocks at vehicles.

Upon arrival at the scene, police met with the complainant who stated that he saw an unknown number of subjects in a beige station wagon tossing stones at a Ford pick-up truck.

The complainant further stated that the subjects left the area north on Winchester.

The complainant was not able to provide any further description of the subjects or vehicle as it was dark and he was unable to get a good look.

Police at the scene made contact with the owner of the vehicle. Damage, estimated at $150, included a cracked windshield and several paint chips along the driver's side.

Several stones were found in the roadway near the vehicle.

... From State Police

A Phoenix Correctional Institution guard suffered minor injuries when his car drove up the steps to the main administration building at the Five Mile and Beck prison.

State police reported that the guard had visible but not incapacitating injuries after the collision at 11:30 p.m. July 13.

The driver told police his car was parked in the Phoenix lot across from the stairway and that he lost control when the brakes failed. He added that the car has a fast idle when cold and that he was unable to avoid going up the steps.

A state trooper tested the vehicle's brakes and found them satisfactory. The police report also notes that when the car was placed in gear, some degree of pressure on the accelerator was required to put in motion.

The report concludes that, "although we have no proof, investigating officers feel incident may have been intentional."

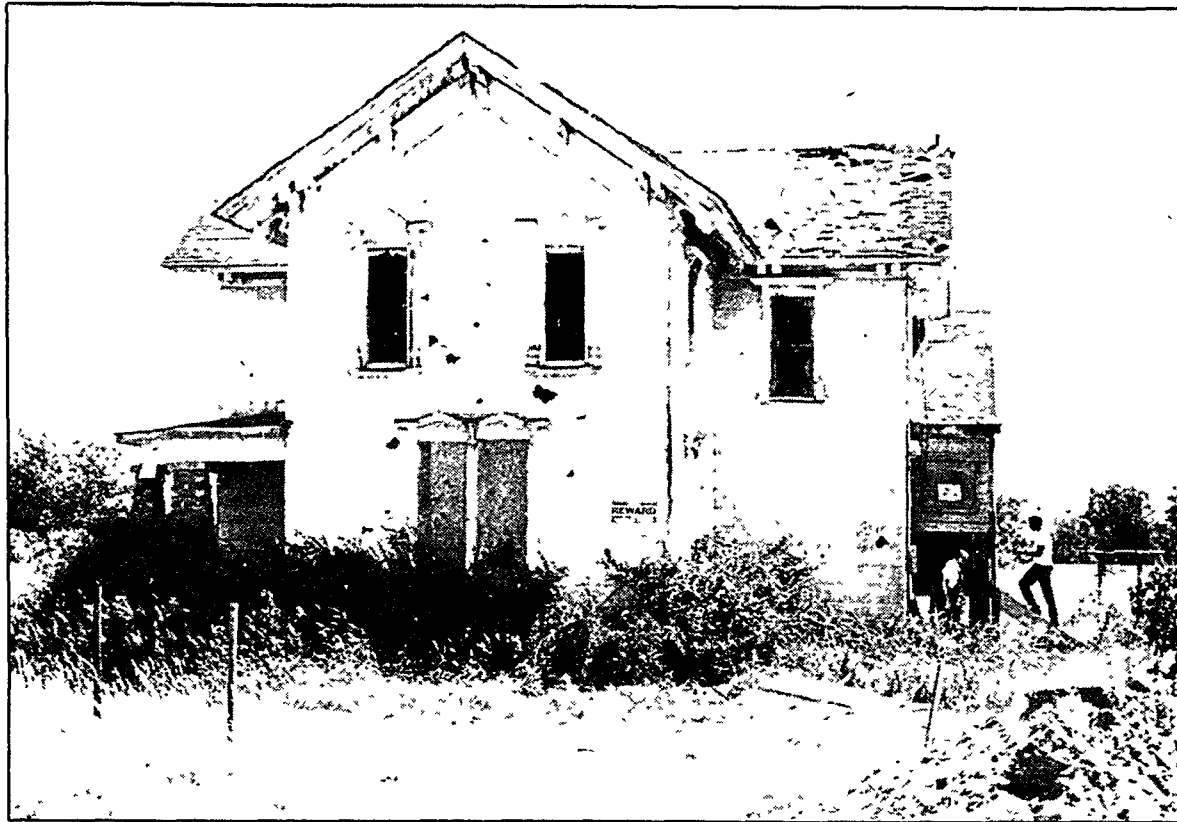

The car was driveable after the incident. The owner removed it and sought his own medical treatment. No citations were issued.

... In the City

Railroad ties — 27 of them — were the object of thefts from a Main Street business and an East Cady Street residence in the city last weekend.

Fifteen seven-foot railroad ties were stolen from the rear of Copy Boy Printers property at 342 East Main sometime between 3 p.m. Saturday and 8:30 p.m. Monday.

During nearly the same time frame, 12 seven-foot ties were taken from a home on East Cady. Together, the group of 12 ties was valued at $60. Also stolen from the East Cady residence were five planks of lumber measuring 4"x4" by 8 feet, valued at $40 altogether.

ARSON SUSPECTED — Northville Township Police are investigating a fire at the Detroit House of Corrections facility on Six Mile Road which occurred sometime between 12:20 and 12:40 a.m. Saturday. "Our opinion is that the fire was intentionally set," Township Police Captain Phillip Presnell said. He said evidence taken at the scene has been taken to the crime lab and that police are asking anyone with information about the fire to contact Northville Township Police or the Michigan Arson Committee at (517) 322-0469. A reward of up to $2,000 is being offered to anyone with information about Saturday's incident. Damage to the DeHoCo facility has not yet been determined.

Cancer Myth

"Everything causes cancer"

Today many people will tell you that "Everything causes cancer." That's a myth. It's not true. Actually, only a few causes of cancer in humans are known even though a number of other causes are suspected. Scientists continue trying to identify all cancer causes. In the meantime, it's wise to avoid the known causes rather than believing that "everything causes cancer." Find out what does cause cancer and how to protect yourself. Horton residents seek relief from traffic

Concerned about what they claim is an unusually high traffic volume moving at high speed through their residential area, residents and frequent users of Horton Street petitioned city council July 2 for relief.

There were 47 signatures on the petitions requesting that council take measures to reduce the traffic volume and speed on Horton between Eight Mile and Rayson.

Alternative suggestions included closing off the street at Eight Mile or at the Mill Pond, making Horton one-way northbound, installing speed bumps and requiring a four-way stop at the Horton-Lake intersection.

Only the latter suggestion was considered seriously by council. Petition instigator Thomas Mitchell of 519 Horton said any measure that would reduce the speed of traffic through the area would be welcomed.

"We feel the amount of traffic going down our street is not proper for a residential area," he said.

Mayor Paul Vernon said he sympathized with residents' concerns, but noted that "every street in the city of Northville is a residential street."

City manager Steven Walters told council Horton is designated as a major street since it is one of only two through-routes from Eight Mile leading downtown (via Rayson and Hutton), the other being Center Street.

The state sends the city a larger share of gasoline and weight tax (license fees) receipts for a major street than it does for a minor street,

'We feel the amount of traffic going down our street is not proper for a residential area.'

— Thomas Mitchell
Horton resident

Walters noted. While the city has full authority to make alterations to signage or other traffic controls, he noted, drastic measures would likely result in the state changing the designation of the street to minor, thereby reducing the amount paid the city for maintaining the road.

"We could put stop signs at every intersection," Walters said. "But the state would almost certainly decide that you had created a minor street and reduce its payments accordingly."

The difference between major and minor status is a factor of three, Walters said — for every dollar per mile of minor street, the city collects $3 per mile of major street.

Mitchell said the major problem is the speed of traffic from the Lake-Horton corner northbound up the hill to Eight Mile. He suggested a speed bump in that area might solve the problem.

Police chief Rodney Cannon said, however, he generally opposes speed bumps as a traffic control device. "If you ever watch people go over a bump," Cannon said, "you'd see that they speed right up to it, brake, then accelerate away. It doesn't really slow them down. People get annoyed with it and just drive faster to make up the lost time."

City to make offer for property purchase

Northville City Council Monday night agreed to submit an offer to purchase property at the southwest corner of Main and Griswold immediately west of the Griswold extension through to Seven Mile.

The unanimous approval was given after a closed session of the council to discuss the offer to purchase presented by the owner's attorney.

"It's a practical way for the city to get together a piece of property for a buyer and protect what we own," explained City Manager Steven Walters, noting that the property attaches to vacant land owned by the city as a result of the cut-through of Griswold.

The city offer of $58,000 for the property, No. 17 of assessor's plat No. 1, owned by Harvey Wolfrom, included provision for a land contract at 11 percent with 25 percent of the purchase price in the down payment. The contract would run for five years, or could be paid off after January 1, 1985.

Noting that the property is located in the Central Business District, Mayor Paul Vernon said the purchase was made to be able to encourage commercial development.

Council member G. Dewey Gardner observed that he was in favor of the purchase as he "liked the idea of being able to choose what the development will be."

The city is on record as intending to extend the Main Street '78 improvements into the East Main-Cady area.

The vote was unanimous with council member J. Burton DeRusha only member absent. It was noted that he was excused.

Garber brings council unused court funds

Judge James Garber brought good news on the financial operation of the 35th District Court — and a check for $1,525 as the city's share of leftover funds from last year's operation — to a pleased city council Monday night.

Thanking the city officials for their "patience and forbearance" in the early days of the court's operation in its new quarters, Judge Garber said he was present with "glad tidings and great joy" as he presented a June 30 financial statement.

Referring briefly to the problems in the first years of the joint operation of the Dunbar Davis Hall of Justice that consolidated Northville city and township operations with those of Plymouth and Canton, Garber said that the court operation had been tightened up and that it has resulted in better fiscal responsibility.

The June 30 statement showed the city's portion of the revenue excess at $9,229.65.

"We are current and even a tad ahead," Garber reported, giving credit to being able to hold expenditures almost level.

Council member Carolann Ayers said it was good to hear as the city had gone into the court operation with "great expectations." Start up costs had required unexpected additional contributions from the communities involved, causing complaints that Garber indicated now were past.

The June 30 statement showed the city's portion of court cases were 11 percent of the total.

Scouts win recycling contest

Citizens in West Oakland County recycled more than 3,900 gallons of used oil in the Used Oil Recycling Contest organized by the West Oakland Groundwater Leadership Team of the East Michigan Environmental Action Council (EMEAC).

The $500 cash prize for first place was won by the South Lyon Girl Scouts. Fifty-four West Oakland civic and youth organizations participated in the contest and 43 of them recycled at least 30 gallons to become eligible for the $500 cash prize drawing.

Huron Valley Youth Assistance led all contributors, bringing in 505 gallons of used oil for recycling. The Shiawassee Trailers from Lyon Township finished second with 358 gallons, while Decker Elementary School was third with 192 gallons.

Other local groups participating in the contest were Wixom Brownie Troop 652 (85 gallons), Oakland Pioneers 4-H Club (60 gallons), Union Lake Jaycee Women (43 gallons), St. Anne's Episcopal Church (40 gallons), West Oakland League of Women Voters (39 gallons), Christ of the Lakes Lutheran Church (14 gallons), and Wolverine Lake Water Team and Lakes Environmental Action Group (10 gallons apiece).

Although the contest is over, citizens are encouraged to continue groundwater protection activities by recycling used oil regularly. Citizens can take used oil to most area gas stations or call EMEAC at 879-6040 for a nearby West Oakland gas station that accepts used oil.

Landscape collaborators

Work is under way this week to improve the islands on South Main Street, thanks to the joint efforts of the Northville Branch Women's National Farm and Garden Association and the Northville Beautification Commission. Work already has begun on installation of a sprinkler system and landscaping of two of the three South Main islands. The Northville Branch is funding the underground sprinkling system and assisting with landscaping. Surveying the premises are from left Carole Pappas, WNFGA civic improvement chair; Norma Gerndt, WNFGA Greens Mart chair; Phyllis Ely, Anne Rueck and Marty Walters. Record photo by Steve Fecht.

Obituaries

Funeral today for resident Olof Reng

OLOF RENG

Funeral service for longtime Northville resident Olof F. Reng will be held at 1 p.m. today at Casterline Funeral Home. The Reverend Eric Hammar will officiate. Burial will be at Glen Eden Memorial Park.

Mr. Reng died July 15 at St. Mary Hospital. He was 87.

Born in Sweden, February 28, 1897, Mr. Reng was retired from Shatter Pro of Glass.

A Northville resident since 1931, he was a member of the First United Methodist Church of Northville and the Engineering Society of Detroit. He was graduated from the Engineering School in Sweden.

Mr. Reng is survived by his wife Luetta (Aldrich), whom he married in 1931.

Other survivors include his sisters Anna Johanson of Sweden and Martha Rosen of New Hampshire.

The family suggest memorial contributions be made the First United Methodist Church of Northville.

MICHAEL OWEN WESTFALL

Memorial service for Northville resident Michael Owen Westfall, 29, was held July 16 at Casterline Funeral Home with Father Frank Polle officiating.

Mr. Westfall died July 14 in an automobile accident.

Born in Torrence, California, March 4, 1955, to Melvin and Joan (Fisher)

Falk, he was a construction worker.

A resident of the community since 1969, Mr. Westfall was a member of Troll Trades Union Local 14 and Past Commander of Sons of American Legion Post 147.

He is survived by his wife Rita Lynne (Williams), whom he married in July, 1982, and his mother Joan Turnbo of Ann Arbor.

Other survivors include his sisters Cindy Jean Foster and Smana Lee Fisher and his brothers James Matthew and Reed Elliot.

Madonna to offer hospice classes in fall term

Three courses in hospice care will be offered at Madonna College in the fall term.

"Fundamental Concepts in Hospice Care" will meet from 3:30-6:30 p.m. under the direction of Sister Cecilia Eagen, R.N., Ph.D., director of the hospice care program.

The course emphasizes the philosophy of care of the hospice movement, covers its history and reveals recent studies done in the hospice field.

A second course, "Psychosocial

Aspects of Hospice Care," will be held from 7-10 p.m. Wednesdays. Counseling techniques will be taught and consideration will be given to bereavement, especially bereaving the child and adolescent. Mental health aspects such as patient anxiety and employee stress will be treated.

On Tuesday afternoons, "Comfort and Care for the Hospice Client" will meet from 1-4 p.m. In this course, the physical aspects of therapeutic interventions will be taught. These include pain and symptom control in the practice of palliative care, comfort measures performed for the debilitated and incapacitated patient and commonly occurring pathologies.

Madonna College has initiated what is believed to be the first college curriculum in Hospice Care. This program, the college points out, continues a long tradition of academic programs in the "helping" professions and integrates learning from three Madonna departments — nursing, gerontology and social work — into a new area of study.

Professionals and volunteers interested in the Madonna hospice care program can earn a Certificate of Achievement for 30 semester hours of course work. Students majoring in other human service areas may earn an academic minor in hospice care with 20 semester hours.

Information about enrollment in the program may be obtained by calling the Madonna College nursing department at 591-5155.

Our Opinions

Sewer benefits all

Construction of the Haggerty Road sewer is an essential element in planning for the future of Northville Township, and we are pleased to see the township board has that idea firmly in hand, despite heated opposition in the several public hearings on the issue thus far.

Deleting the area where most residents opposed the project was wise — though we believe those residents will be kicking themselves 10 years down the road for passing up the opportunity to gain sewer service at relatively low cost now. Though it might have been to the property-owners' advantage had the board forced them into the district, such decisions are always better when made by those directly affected.

Unfortunately, that luxury cannot be permitted some of those in other areas of the district. Which is why we'd like them to see the wisdom in this project. Before they can do so, there are a few misconceptions that must be cleared up.

First, let's dispense with the notion that the project benefits only the present and future water and sewer customers of the township. By allowing development of an area too expensive to improve otherwise, the sewer will expand the tax base for both the township and the school district, thereby reducing the need to impose additional taxes township-wide. Property need not be served by the sewer to reap that gain. And, frankly, opposing further development of any kind is like putting our heads in the sand. The way to retain the attractive nature of the community is through planning, not through blind resistance to all development.

And let's hear less about how this project is solely to benefit Meijer Thrifty Acres or real estate "speculators." Aside from the tax base benefits, each of these large property owners will be paying a much larger share of the construction costs than will any individual homeowner — that's part of what the entire special assessment process is designed to do. Moreover, those "speculators" have been paying taxes on that land, risking their own capital, and often producing the developments that made it possible for the homeowners to live here. We don't always agree with the activities of developers, but let's not paint an unrealistic picture of them as devils incarnate.

We've been among those suggesting that the township dig deeper into its restricted fund of approximately $2 million to fund such projects without imposing undue burdens on property owners — we issued such a call during the Park Gardens debate, for instance. But it must be acknowledged that the township as a whole will be in much better shape if that money is available to pay the local share of construction costs for imminent improvements to the county system. Communities without such reserves will likely create special assessment districts defined only by the community boundaries — that is, all persons will pay, regardless of whether or not they are served by a sewer.

As for some of the more innovative financing methods suggested at the recent public hearing, we must admit that several sound attractive. But let us not forget that the township already has an extensive water and sewer system financed exactly as is proposed for the additional Haggerty arm. While many are shouting "unfair," in regard to the Haggerty project, they are forgetting how their innovative suggestions might be regarded by those who have paid their own way in the recent past. In fact, given the bargain rates likely to result from township and City of Novi contributions, we think those who paid for sewers through earlier SADs may have more cause to shout "unfair" than anyone in the newest district.

Finally, we'd like to hear less distinction made between something being in the "township's interests" or the "taxpayers' interests." The township does not exist as an entity except as a representative of the taxpayers. If this township board had shown itself to be of the ilk that gathers gains to its members at the expense of taxpayers, the distinction might make sense. In such an event, the board should be unseated. But that is not the case, and, if we were board members, we'd resent the implication that their actions represent anything other than an effort to serve the interests of the residents.

Dual role must end

It has been more than three months since Salem Township residents began questioning Nancy Geiger's dual role as elected township clerk and hired office administrator. Yet, except for receiving an opinion from the township attorney on the incompatibility of the present set up, the board has made no move to resolve the problem.

No one appears to be questioning the adequacy of Geiger's performance of both jobs. The question arises because, according to the attorney, the two offices are incompatible due to the clerk being in a position to supervise herself as an office administrator. According to the attorney, this could be resolved by the board's combining the duties as part of the elected clerk position. The board could then raise the pay of the clerk to compensate for the additional duties, the attorney said. This move eventually would be subject to the vote of the electors who could vote to lower the salary if they chose. Geiger currently collects two separate salaries of $10,300 for the clerk position and $9,000 for the administrative job.

Board members appear to lean toward combining the two jobs as a solution. Some residents question what would happen if a new clerk were elected in November and that person wished to do only statutorily defined duties and not keep regular office hours. What happens then to the combined salary, they ask. It is a valid question.

Again the attorney's advice is being sought on this point, and we have to agree with residents who hope this is the last time it is necessary to seek a legal opinion on the dual role question. The problem must be resolved. It is obvious there is an incompatibility in the two jobs as presently set up in Salem. It is unfortunate that a resolution was not reached prior to the candidate-filing deadline for the August 7 primary election.

For the first time in 10 years Geiger has opposition on the Republican ticket in the primary, and it must be difficult to run for an office for which the job description and salary are not clearly defined.

We realize the Salem board wants to resolve its problem, but it obviously also wants to keep Geiger's expertise in both jobs. We hope a solution can be worked out very soon that is not only legal, but acceptable to all.

Politics: It's all in a day's work

This is the season that attracts many reporters to the ranks — summer of a big election year, when the campaigns start heating up and most everything else slides into the doldrums to take a backseat to political coverage.

That mix is what caught me up in this business a few campaigns back. I'd written for newspapers before, but never seriously considered it as a career until baptised by fire in 1978. My first bylined story for the Eastern Echo was about a visit by Walter Mondale to the Ypsilanti campus. The then-vice president was stumping for a couple of guys named Levin and Fitzgerald and, as is expected in a liberal college town, the confluence of Democrats drew a big loud crowd.

Among the people I met and covered that year were names like Perry Bullard, Gary Owen and Dr. Edward Pierce. Election night, I was sent to cover the "victory" party thrown for Pierce and some poor sap who drew Carl Pursell as an opponent, if memory serves. Pierce finally won one after many years of trying and the celebration was hardly dampened by the poor spirits of the other fellow. It was all horribly exciting. In fact, the excitement is about all I remember from that night. I do recall that Pierce used some salty language regarding the application of a foot to a portion of his opponent's anatomy that made a great quote.

Since then, not a year has gone by without my covering some election or other. And here we are again, rolling swiftly toward a primary, my desk piled high with press releases, candidate mug shots, biographical information, calendars full of interview schedules, Civic Searchlight evaluations, League of Women Voters questionnaires and all sorts of other ancillary information.

Around town people converse about this candidate or that one, offer analyses both wise and foolish, shake their heads at one politician's gaffe or nod vigorously in agreement with another's slick move. And for the thousandth time since that day I sat bewildered in the back of the room during a press briefing and failed to come up with a single question worth asking the vice president of the United States, I'm wondering what it is that gets us all psyched up for these things.

I mean, seriously — why do we care what's going on out on the left coast where the Democrats have gathered in the land of fruits and nuts? With everything pre-determined, it's bound to rank as the all-time gold-medal snooze of a "nominating" convention until the GOP meets later this year. Yet people are chattering about it all over, if only to say how boring it is. Back here at home, not a day goes by that we don't hear from Mr. Lousma and Mr. Dunn, who are gradually building up a mud pile likely to smother the both of them before they ever get a chance at Levin; two Democrats are vying for the unenviable position of facing Pursell in November; and the prime topic of conversation at in-the-know spots around town is the race for the district judgeship Dunbar Davis will soon be leaving.

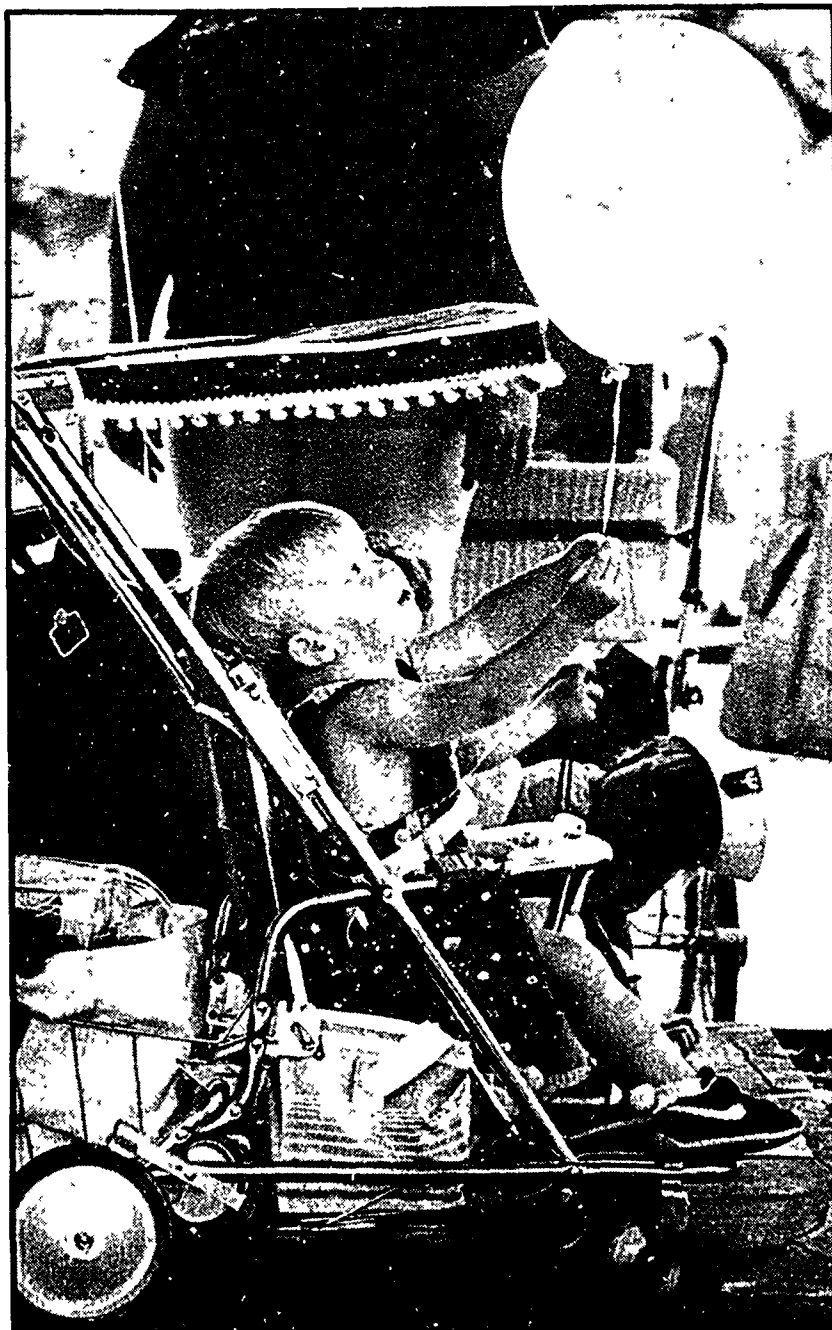

What's bothering me is putting all this effort into something that I know from experience will be all but forgotten in five years. As I grow older, five years looks like a shorter and shorter span of time. I know what happened to Owen and Pierce. But where are Fitzgerald and what's-his-name? Who gives a hoot? I don't mean to pooch-pooch the entire process. Lord knows, I've been fascinated by it, affected by it and still believe it to be every citizen's obligation to devote enough time and effort to make a wise decision come election day.

What I'm tired of is people who think politics is the be-all and end-all, candidates who affect an instant familiarity and start calling you by your first name before you even know who it is on the phone, others whose skills in muddying an opponent are exceeded only by their acquaintance with the Teflon effect, and all those who think that the way to convince me they are the best for the job is to offer personal favors. It all wears thin after a time and becomes just another job. Remember that election night if you see me — I'll be the one with bags under his eyes, still standing only thanks to pure shots of adrenalin from all the excitement.

About Town

Lift off

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

EDITOR'S NOTE: Phil Jerome is taking a vacation from column writing. In its place are excerpts from an exciting new novel, "Duke of the City" by Jerome Phillips. This is the second of three installments.

It wasn't that Clayton Thornton liked trouble. In fact, he'd just as soon trouble left him alone ... let him go his own way, do what he wanted. Nobody liked cops harassing them all the time. Clayton Thornton didn't like it either.

The problem was that he attracted trouble. It seemed to find him like pigs find slop. He'd be out for a good time, minding his own business, more or less. And then there'd be those flashing lights and sirens.

Thornton didn't like it, but had learned to live with it. Accepted it as an occupational hazard. "Psychopath," that's what the shrink at Milan had called him the last time he got busted.

Thornton knew better. He just attracted trouble.

Take tonight, for instance. The blond had approached him while he was sitting in the bar, minding his own business. After the customary small talk, he'd asked her if she wanted to go for a ride, she'd said yes and everything had been fine until she spotted the .747 magnum under the seat.

All those questions made him mad. It was none of her business how he made his money, but she'd got antsy when he told her so. Wanted him to take her back to the bar, let her off right there on Eight Mile, anything, just let her out of the car.

That's when Thornton hit her. Squeezed her arm till it hurt, just so she knew he was serious.

Thornton was unaware of the yellow Mustang behind him, but Duke Bullet knew exactly what he was doing. He shifted into fourth and pressed the pedal. The car shot forward, giving the Corvette a good shot in the rear.

Thornton's body jerked at the unexpected jolt. "What the hey," he said. His neck hurt as he turned around to see who had smashed him.

There's no way he could have known he'd been singled out by the "Duke of the City."

Resident questions Haggerty sewer need, financing

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following letter was sent to the Northville Township Board of Trustees July 12 with a copy to The Record.

Gentlemen:

I would like to ask you some questions about your decision to install the Haggerty Road No. 13 sewer extension.

I realize that Public Act 188 of 1954 apparently allows the township board to authorize a sewer improvement district without voter approval.

However, the Michigan Constitution of 1963 states that "a resolution of necessity, as required by statute, is necessary to make local improvements." The Constitution also states that a township may safeguard health and safety.

As I understand the law, a public act cannot supercede the Constitution.

Therefore, it appears that the resolution to impose the Haggerty Road Sewer assessment violates the Michigan Constitution since it is not based upon a resolution of necessity or upon the health and safety of the township.

If, in fact, this sewer is for the future development of the township, as you state, then the township as a whole should pay for this improvement.

As I understand it, the township in conjunction with Novi (and the U.S. Government) is presently funding the new Hines Park sewer to the tune of $500,000. If the township can fund the Hines Park sewer, it would seem logical that the township could fund the Haggerty Sewer.

According to the McNeely report, the base cost of the Haggerty Road extension is about $2.0 million. The feeder line is about $1.0 million and there is $0.7 million for engineering, administrative and contingency.

Since the base sewer enhances the total development of Northville Township, it would seem that the township should fund this development from the present township sewer investment fund which, coincidentally, happens to be about $2.0 million.

If the board does not wish to fund all of the extension from its surplus reserves, it could fund a portion from the proposed future savings of $25,000 per pumping station per year times six pumping stations, or $150,000 per year. For 15 years, the township could contribute $2,250,000.

A third alternative would be for the board of trustees to assess all township users of the sewer facilities a fund rate per month as a surcharge, say $2 to $4 per month, to fund the Haggerty extension.

Last, but not least, but probably the fairest alternative would be for the developers and speculators along Haggerty Road to fund the sewer so they can develop and sell their real estate investments at a profit.

We, the residents of Northville Township, are not against improvements. What we are against is your asking us to fund an improvement for such companies as Meljer Thrifty Acres, the Novi Hilton and the other commercial interests along Haggerty Road. If they are the prime beneficiaries, they should pay the cost of the improvements.

If you, the Board of Trustees, fund the main Haggerty Road extension, then the property owners can petition to have their areas hooked into the sewer as the need arises.

Last, but not least, it would seem that in your public announcements and publications, it would have been very appropriate if you would have informed the residents in the proposed district that if 20 percent of the land area filed a written objection, the sewer improvement would not be made (unless by petition of 51 percent of the property owners.)

Since there is so much confusion as well as apparent opposition to your Haggerty Road Sewer proposal, I request that you table your proposal until you receive approval by the property owners or until you agree to fund the expansion through the water and sewer funds similar to the Hines Park Sewer extension.

Respectfully submitted,
Patrick A. Coyne

Citizens want an end to dual role in Salem

To the Editor:

A few years ago the Salem Township Supervisor dismissed the "office assistant" and hired the township clerk to also be the office assistant. The township clerk still holds both jobs.

Three months ago a citizen attending the township annual meeting quoted from a letter by the State Attorney General, stating that an elected township official should not also be an employee subordinate to the same elected official. There was broad citizen concern expressed at that meeting, and at subsequent board meetings.

Recently, the county prosecuting attorney also notified the township that the "subordinate job" situation is illegal and must be changed. The township supervisor and board proposed at the July 3 monthly meeting to simply eliminate the "office assistant," and assign all the office duties to the elected township clerk. They took no action but are "investigating further."

The exercise described above is a prime example of how the Salem Township Board stalls, tiptoes around the law, and avoids making changes the citizens want.

The state constitution spells out the duties of the elected township clerk and prohibits any township from requiring an elected official to take on other duties. Clearly, most citizens of Salem want their elected township clerk to follow state law, and don't want the clerk to take on other paid duties.

The township clerk should have resolved the illegal mess long ago by quitting the "office assistant" job. Since the clerk failed to take action, the board should ask her to quit. They all should respect the law, and support the spirit of the law. But, instead, they have stalled and wasted time trying to tiptoe around the law.

P.S. This is not the first time that Salem citizens have been in an uproar because of this board's lack of respect for the law. If you "read the papers" you already know about the citizens' active lawsuit to force the township board to enforce laws against illegal mining, and to enforce contracts. Clearly, this board's "casual attitude" toward the law is an important election issue. Please report it!

Sincerely,
Francis E. Hugg
Salem Township resident

Senior's tax deferment only good to $10,000

To the Editor:

I received notice last week that Northville (township) taxpayers must now pay one half of their school taxes by September 14. Exceptions were made for "... senior citizens, paraplegics, quadriplegics, eligible servicemen, eligible veterans or eligible widows, blind persons, and totally or permanently disabled."

These exceptions could continue to pay the total of their school taxes as before — in February of the coming year.

What the letter sent by Richard M. Henningsen, treasurer of Northville Township, failed to mention was that senior citizens would be exempted if the senior citizen's household income for the preceding calendar year did not exceed $10,000, a fact I learned at the township office when I traveled there to obtain my deferment forms.

I write this to save senior citizens whose household income exceeds $10,000 from making a fruitless trip to the township office for his or her deferment form.

Cordially,
Alfred P. Galli
(Senior Citizen)

Condolences to Prim family are appreciated

To the Editor:

Attached is an expression of thank you which I would appreciate if you would print ... I am hoping to reach each and every one of our daughter Susan's former classmates, who remembered her with a beautiful floral arrangement on her untimely and tragic death.

The card attached was signed "Class of '83" and through your newspaper's media I'm hoping we will reach most. Her closer friends who paid their special tribute, I'll, of course, be able to handle personally.

To the Class of '83 — In the hope of reaching each and everyone of the Class of '83 we wish to express our sincerest and deepest thanks for the lovely remembrance to Susan. Your thoughtfulness was a comfort at a most tragic time.

Mandatory jail term sought

Mandatory sentencing guidelines for Michigan's convicted drug dealers would be strengthened under legislation recently introduced in the Michigan House of Representatives and co-sponsored by State Representative Gerald H. Law (R-Plymouth).

Law explained that the Controlled Substance Act of 1978 would be amended to delete a sentencing provision contained in the act that offers "probation for life" as an alternative mandatory sentence for people convicted of manufacturing, delivering or possessing certain controlled substances in amounts between 50 and 225 grams.

The "probation for life" option does not apply to people convicted of dealing more than 225 grams, when dealers are faced with a mandatory minimum 10 year sentence.

"Oakland County Prosecutor Brooks Patterson has provided the Legislature with results of a study that indicate that sentencing judges are using the 'probation for life' sentence in nearly every conviction in that county," Law stated. "The study commissioned by Patterson's office indicates that over 93 percent of major drug dealers in Oakland County receive no prison sentence at all."

"The current mandatory sentencing guidelines that call for prison terms for drug dealers are simply not being used, but by removing the 'probation for life' alternative, judges will have no option but to hand down prison sentences for drug dealers."

We're fighting for your life.

OWNER: NORTHVILLE PUBLIC SCHOOLS, 501 W. Main Street, Northville, Michigan, 48167

ARCHITECTS, ENGINEERS: COQUILLARD/DUNDON/PETERSON AND ARGENTA, 3000 Town Center, Suite 1515, Southfield, Michigan, 48075

Northville Public Schools will accept sealed proposals for a Foundations Contract for the new additions to Northville High School, all as shown on the Contract Documents dated June 4, 1984.

Northville Public Schools will receive sealed proposals until:

3:00 P.M., local time, Thursday, July 26, 1984 at the offices of Northville Public Schools, 501 W. Main Street, Northville, Michigan, 48167. Proposals received after that time will not be accepted. All proposals will be publicly opened and read aloud at the same time and place. All interested parties are invited to attend.

Proposed Contract Documents may be examined at the following locations during normal business hours by prospective Bidders:

a. The offices of:
Coquillard/Dundon/Peterson and Argenta, Architects and Engineers, 3000 Town Center, Suite 1515, Southfield, Michigan, 48075, Telephone: (313) 354-2441
b. The Construction Association of Michigan, Detroit, Michigan
c. F. W. Dodge Corporation, Detroit, Michigan

General Contract Bidders may secure copies of the proposed Contract Documents from the Architect-Engineer after July 11, 1984 on a loan basis as follows:

1. Two copies of the Project Manual, plus two complete sets of prints of Drawings upon payment of $50.00 deposit, completely refundable if all sets are returned in good condition to the Architect-Engineer within five days after bid opening.

Additional copies of the Project Manual, including Specifications, plus additional sets of prints of the Drawings, for the cost of reproduction and handling, non-refundable.

3. No partial sets will be issued.

Each proposal must be accompanied by an acceptable bid security in the form of a certified check, cashiers check, or standard form bid bond, made payable to Northville Public Schools, 501 W. Main Street, Northville, Michigan, 48167. In an amount of not less than five percent (5%) of the base bid submitted. Failure of any accepted Bidder to enter into contract for the work will cause forfeit of his bid security. After contracts for the work have been signed, all bid securities will be returned.

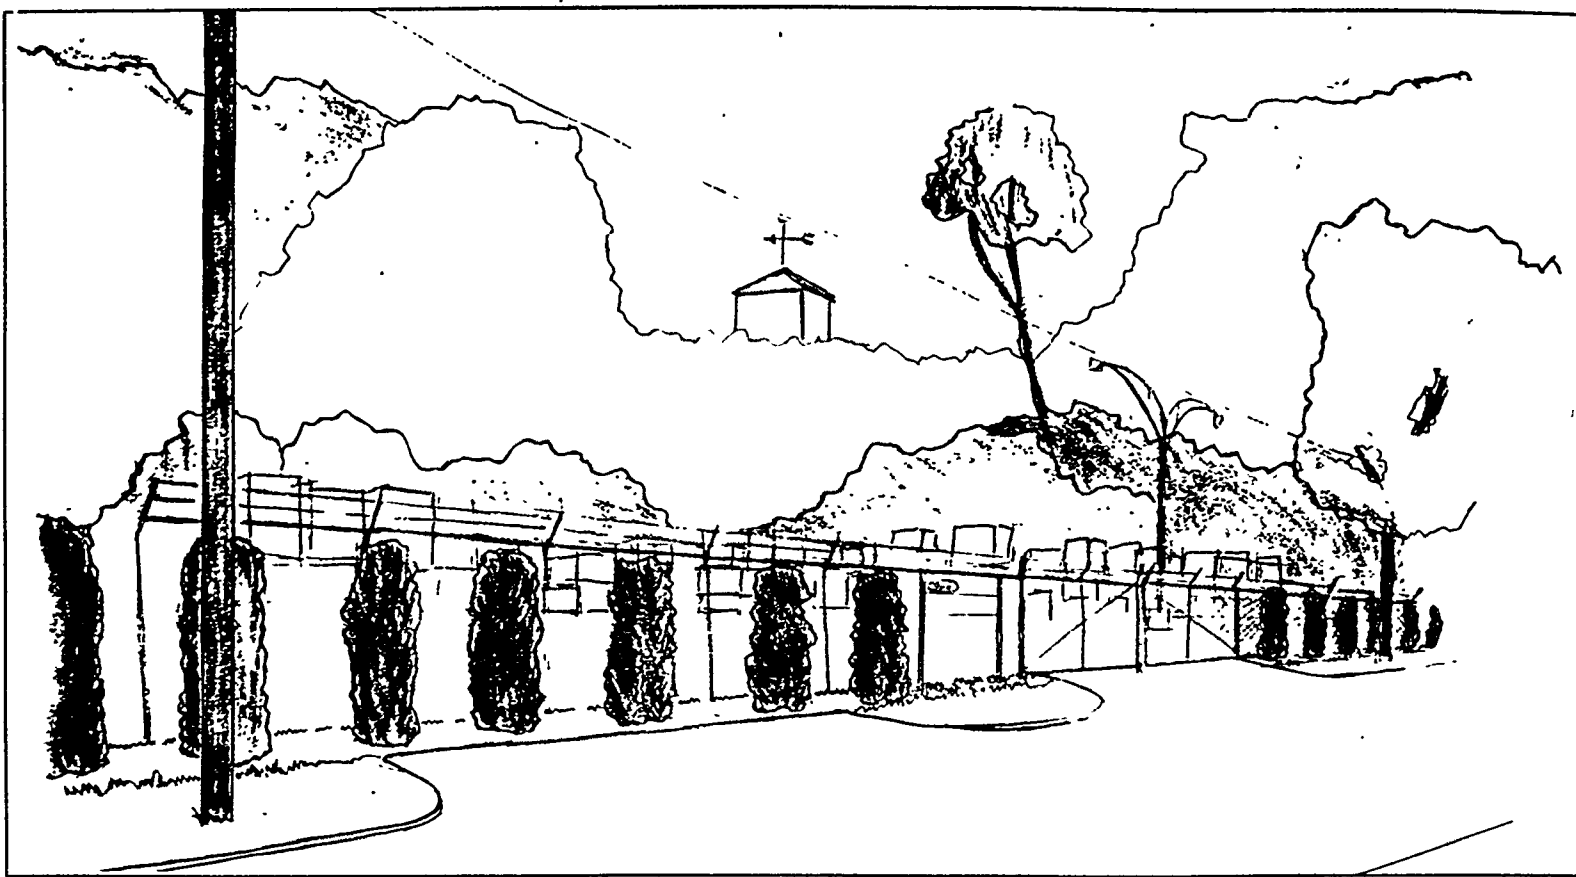

The accepted Bidder will be required to furnish a satisfactory Performance Bond and Labor and Materials Payment Bond, each in an amount equal to 100% of his Contract.

Rates of wages and fringe benefits to be paid to each class of mechanics employed in the project by the Contractor and all of his subcontractors shall be not less than the wage and fringe benefit rates prevailing in the locality in which the work is to be performed and as determined by the Michigan Department of Labor, all as per the Prevailing Wage Law, Act No. 188, PA of 1965, Amended 4-1-79. Refer to Prevailing Wage Determination included in the Project Manual.

Bids may be withdrawn up to the time and date of bid opening. After bid opening, bids may not be withdrawn for a period of 45 days thereafter.

The Owner reserves the right to waive any irregularity or informality in bids, to reject any and/or all bids, in whole or in part, or to award any Contract to other than the low bidder, should it be deemed in his best interest to do so.

Ford beautification

When Ford officials presented landscaping plans to the city for their Griswold Street parking lot beautification project, they also distributed copies of this sketch depicting the area's future appearance. The sketch shows the proposed location of shrubs to be planted before the parking lot fence located on the west side of Griswold just north of Main Street. They are designed to be a shield in front of the plant's storage and parking areas.

Law opposes bill providing outstate aid for cities

State Representative Gerald H. Law (R-Plymouth) last week Wednesday voted against a bill creating a new spending program for certain outstate cities. The bill passed the house 56-47.

"Once the state starts spending money on a new program it never stops. The programs just grow and grow and before we know it we're spending more than we ever anticipated. I predict that's what will happen to the 'outstate equity package,'" Law said.

"What is a $4 million program involving 18 cities this year will undoubtedly become a $100 million program involving many more cities in a few more years. It's a port barrel program created at a time when budgetary restraint should be our most important fiscal goal.

"It's simply not a sound use for taxpayers' money."

Law said the objective of the outstate cities program is being met substantially through revenue sharing, targeted economic development grant and loan programs and various tax abatement policies.

"We just can't afford new open-ended spending programs when we have others already in place that accomplish the same goals," Law continued.

He said the program was a "buy-off" for votes for special aid to Detroit.

Temporary workers fill new slot

By JEAN MacINTOSH

They used to be called to fill in for sick secretaries — now they're computer specialists, accountants, engineers and nurses. "They" are "temporaries", the nation's newest workforce.

According to Kathy Nowicki, resident branch manager of Kelly Services, Inc. in Brighton, temporary employees touch all areas of the business world — from essential, but routine, assembly line jobs to those of high-level technological or medical nature.

Kelly, and many companies like it, divide the services into divisions — clerical; light industrial; technical (drafting, engineering, accounting); and marketing, (product demonstration, surveys, research work) are the most popular. Some also have separate health care services.

Many companies have discovered increased productivity and profit in using temporary services, which has resulted in the new trend toward temporary hiring.

Northville resident Jane Matyniak, branch manager of Norrell Services, Inc., an Atlanta-based firm with offices in the Detroit area, cites many reasons for preference of temporary workers.

Supplementing a staff with temporaries instead of requiring full-time workers to work overtime during peak volume periods is one of the most popular uses of the service, said Matyniak. This combats the problems of high absenteeism and large turnover associated with such periods.

Because of the highly automated nature of today's businesses, there is also the problem of boredom on the job. Employers find it hard to motivate workers to push the same lever on an assembly line or sit in front of the same computer terminal day after day.

Temporaries hired to do these jobs know they won't be working there forever and will perform with greater productivity, the services claim.

Hiring temporaries for special projects is also a common practice, according to Matyniak. Rather than hiring a full-time employee and later having to lay him off and pay unemployment wages, a temporary can be hired until the task is completed.

Companies often request temporary workers to fill vacancies, said Matyniak. "Rather than quickly fill a vacant position, a company can hire a temporary until the interviewing process is finished and a permanent person chosen and trained," she explained.

Although the benefit of temporary services to employers is obvious, the job is also attractive to the temporaries themselves.

According to Matyniak, temporary positions accommodate today's changing lifestyles.

"There's a lot more mobility today, people are always on the go," she said. "Many people don't want, or aren't in a position to take, a permanent job."

People who want to travel, parents who want to spend time with their children, students financing educations and those who are looking for full-time positions but need work in the meantime are among those who make up the temporary work force.

Others simply want a job that will contribute to their lifestyles, rather than dictate them.

"We've got early retirees and educated people who aren't really sure what they want to do with their skills. They use this as a chance to look around and see what the world has to offer," said Nowicki.

"They all have valid personal reasons (for wanting to be a temporary). I walked in those shoes at one time," Nowicki explained. "I was young at the time, had a child, and didn't want to make a permanent job commitment."

In order to assure that an employer will be satisfied with a temporary worker, the agencies require that their staffs be experienced.

Matyniak, whose office deals strictly with office automation, requires a minimum of one year's experience on word processing equipment in addition to other clerical skills.

"Each skill has different qualifications," explained Matyniak, "and they involve testing before we can place the worker."

Nowicki screens her word processing applicants with an innovative system called a "Kee Simulator", the same system used in space and aeronautic programs. A single machine mimics several different types of word processors and keeps track of an applicant's score, tallying speed, errors and the

HELEN DRYSDALE

CAROLYNN BEYER

HELEN DRYSDALE of the Novi/Northville office of Real Estate One, Inc., has surpassed $1,000,000 in sales volume to date for 1984.

Sharon Serra, office manager, said this is a tremendous accomplishment in six months and says she is confident that Drysdale will hit her all-time career highest volume this year.

CAROLYNN S. BEYER of the Novi/Northville office of Real Estate One has surpassed $1 million in sales for 1984. Sharon Serra, office manager, said that to have achieved this level of sales in less than six months is truly outstanding. Beyer is a lifelong resident of the area and is active in the community.

DR. BRIAN R. MERKEL, DDS, has joined the dental practice of Dr. Jesse F. Grimm and Associates, which has offices in Northville in the Hamlet shopping center and in South Lyon.

Merkel joined the practice on July 11. He is presently handling all appointments while Grimm is temporarily unable to see patients. Merkel cites a special interest in crowns, bridges, complete and partial dentures and is qualified to diagnose and treat most oral diseases.

He is a Grand Rapids native and resident of Ann Arbor, and also boasts training in mechanical engineering and computer sciences. Merkel, 25, is a recent graduate of the University of Michigan school of dentistry, where he saw patients in the dental clinic for four years. He is a member of the American Dental Association and the Michigan Dental Association and cites an interest in participating in community activities.

Help as much as you can.

PAT TASSIC

PAT TASSIC has joined the staff of Carol Mason Realty. Tassic is a well-known Realtor Associate in the Novi/Northville area. She formerly was with Real Estate One for seven years and was the original manager of its Northville office.

Tassic is a consistent member of the Million Dollar Club and top 10 percent of the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors. She was a member of the President's Council of Excellence at her former company and has been a Northville resident 10 years.

"Pat's success in real estate and her knowledge of Northville makes her a real asset to our company," said Carol Mason, owner of Carol Mason Realty.

TWO DISTRICT REPRESENTATIVES for Lutheran Brotherhood, a fraternal insurance society, have qualified for membership in the prestigious Million Dollar Round Table (MRDT).

Both Harold Hyland, who has offices on Huntingcross Drive in Novi, and Douglas Teubert, whose offices are on South Main in Northville, were among the approximately five percent of insurance agents worldwide certified as MRDT members annually.

The MRDT is an independent association of more than 17,000 life insurance agents, each of whom must meet strict ethical and production membership requirements. The association is recognized internationally as the standard of life insurance sales performance.

Both Hyland, who joined Lutheran Brotherhood in 1975, and Teubert who joined in 1981, offer life and health insurance, annuities, mutual funds and other fraternal benefits to Lutherans in the area. Both are associated with the Karl Mueller Agency in Rochester.

Ford program targets females as car buyers

Ford Motor Company has tried recently to "build the identity and image" of its corporation among the increasing number of women buying cars today.

McDonald Ford Farm, 550 West Seven Mile, Northville, held a promotional and informational open house for area women on June 27 in an effort to promote the Ford program.

The purpose of the event, according to dealership manager Ray Taulbee, was to make women aware of the changing attitude toward them.

"We're trying to become more responsive to their needs and expectations. We need to get away from the old attitude. It used to be 'do you have a husband — bring him in to look at the car,'" said Taulbee.

"The man is not necessarily the one making the decision — often it's the woman," he noted.

McDonald salesmen took special classes to prepare for the event. According to Taulbee, they learned to cater more specifically to women's needs.

"Color, interior and luxury items are more important to women. They're not necessarily as concerned with performance as the guys," said Taulbee.

The wine-and-cheese open house was attended by 400, and was a success, said Taulbee. In addition to information about new cars, participants also were given a tour of the dealership. A $300 Hudson's gift certificate was raffied and won by Phyllis Kuhlman of Northville.

McDonald will continue its efforts with a free, four-week car maintenance course. Interested women should contact Bob Stewart at the dealership.

CRAZY HORSE CUTTING QUARTERS has moved to a new location in downtown South Lyon. The new spot is at 115 East Lake, rear entrance. Free parking is provided in the Wells Street lot, right behind the shop.

Manager Jillaina Harbaugh, standing at right in the photo above, said the move was made so that the store would be centrally-located in the central business district. Relocation coincides with the styling center's third anniversary, she said. Extensive remodeling of the space was required before Crazy Horse could move in, Harbaugh said, since the area had never been used as a commercial facility before. Sitting in the remodeled quarters, above, is Nita Urban, with Vicky Larson and Irene Franklin behind her.

The former location of Crazy Horse was at 320 North Lafayette. It took two days to complete the move and the business opened in the new building on July 5.

Crazy Horse Cutting Quarters offers total service hair care for all ages. Hair styling, cutting, permanents and coloring are available for men, women and children. Special discounts are offered for children and senior citizens, Harbaugh said.

Appointments are preferred for the three-chair operation, Harbaugh said, but efforts are made to accommodate walk-ins. Crazy Horse Cutting Quarters is owned by Ann Arbor resident Sandra Peters.

KAREN P. FOWLER of Northville has joined Michigan's oldest law firm: Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone. She is an associate in the firm's trial and labor departments and has an office in Detroit.

Miller, Canfield is one of the state's largest law firms and has nine offices in Michigan, Washington, D.C. and Florida. Fowler is a graduate of the University of Michigan law school and lives at 218 West Street.

Office market moving toward northwest, expert says

The Metropolitan Detroit office market has emerged strongly from a severe recession and Oakland County is retaining its lead in office construction throughout the state, according to Joel I. Feldman.

Feldman is vice president and administrator of the Brokerage Division of The Hayman Company, one of the major office/commercial brokerage firms in the Detroit area and the largest manufacturer of institutionally-owned properties in Michigan.

He analyzed the current status of the office market in an article entitled "Office Market Makes Strong Recovery," which appeared in Oakland Focus, a quarterly economic review for Oakland County.

Although 1983 marked the recessionary nadir in the Detroit region, Feldman noted that 1983 dollar volume of office construction in Oakland County was $115.456 million — far surpassing the volume in any other Michigan county and a 241 percent increase over Oakland's 1982 volume of $33.863 million.

Further, Feldman reported that during the first quarter of 1984 permits were issued in Oakland County for 20 buildings with a construction cost totaling $47.674 million, exceeding the entire total for 1982.

These volumes of office construction roughly translate into one office job per $17,000 of construction cost, Feldman said. The 1983 office construction accordingly was reflected in 6,800 office jobs.

Feldman also offered an analysis of Oakland's four major office markets: Southfield, Farmington Hills, Troy and Birmingham.

"In the early seventies, the Southfield office market was the first major suburban office center to emerge in greater metropolitan Detroit," he said. "Today, some 15 years later, it continues to be a vibrant office market, although some older buildings have lost some major tenants and are experiencing lower occupancy rates than more modern facilities and/or full service complexes of more recent vintage in the central and northwesterly sections of the suburb."

Feldman suggested that completion of the I-696 freeway should help revitalize market demand for office space in the southern part of Southfield by relieving congestion on mile roads and improving regional access.

"The Southfield office market currently is the largest suburban market in greater Detroit and its competitive rental rates, modern facilities and excellent access to major freeways bode well for at least the near future," Feldman said.

He also noted that Southfield has continued to attract large, quality tenants such as Michigan Bell (100,000 square feet), First National Monetary Corporation (70,000 square feet), IBM and MCI over the past 18 months.

The Farmington Hills office market is an extension of the Southfield market, according to Feldman, and is indicative of the continued history of real estate development in a northwesterly direction from Detroit.

"Farmington Hills rapidly is evolving into becoming a major office market," Feldman said, adding that the evolution may shortly reach its zenith as several quality office facilities containing over 670,000 square feet have been completed recently or will be completed shortly.

The new development accounts for roughly one-third of new office construction in greater Detroit and is second only to Southfield.

Feldman also predicted bright futures for the Troy and Birmingham office markets.

The Troy office market, as exemplified by its "Golden Corridor" (Big Beaver Road) is not only alive but doing exceedingly well with consistently high occupancy rates ranging from 95-100 percent, according to Feldman.

Construction of Phase Five of Sheffield Park in Troy has commenced and will add 230,000 square feet of office space. Ground has been broken for Wilshire Park, an office building of approximately 150,000 square feet, and the 950 Stephenson Highway Building (70,000 square feet) has been completed.

Feldman said the downtown Birmingham office market currently is characterized by high occupancy rates (90-100 percent) in relatively older buildings constructed in the 1960s and '70s; a recent and marked increase in leasing with respect to newer, quality office facilities built in the last two years; and a decline in new office construction, predominantly due to lack of available land.

"It appears that the prestige of a downtown Birmingham address, the high quality and amenities of its office facilities and the ambience offered by downtown Birmingham, with its unique blend of quality shops, parks and buildings, has allowed this office market to experience a new upswing in leasing activities and a concomitant reduction in the earlier supply of office space in relation to demand," Feldman said.

Cable firm to run local benefit auction

Omnicom, which supplies cable television to Northville, Plymouth and Canton subscribers, is taking a leaf from the successful Channel 56 auctions and sponsoring what it calls a "real multi-community wide event with the benefits accruing to the Canton 150 Fund."

The Canton 150 Fund is a non-profit fund established to benefit education, recreation and historical needs in Canton. Called the Canton Sesquicentennial Auction, it will begin at 7 p.m. Friday, September 28, and run until midnight.

It will continue the next day. Suzanne Skubick of Omnicom and an auction committee member explains that, while Canton will benefit from this auction, she hopes that future auctions will be held by community service organizations to benefit other worthwhile causes.

Heading the organizational committee along with Skubick are Cathy Handyside and Tracy Wilson.

Wilson, a summer intern in Omnicom's programming department, is a former Northville resident who now is a junior at Slippery Rock University in Pennsylvania. Handyside, also a summer intern, is a student at Michigan State University and a Canton resident.

The committee explains that the auction on the final weekend of September will include merchandise now being sought from merchants and individuals in the areas covered by Omnicom.

Items and services with a value of at least $25 are being sought. The committee notes that the minimum value was set to ensure a good base for fund raising.

There will be what is known as a "big board" on which items or services with a value of $500 or more will be available for bid. Big board contributors will have 30 or 60 second video spots produced by Omnicom Cable to promote their donations and business.

In addition to items and services to be put up for bid, the auction committee also is seeking cash donations from area businesses that will entitle the donors to become underwriters for the Canton 150 Fund Auction. Underwriters will have their business name/logo prominently displayed on the auction set.

Both Handyside and Wilson will be contacting area businesses to support the auction, which Omnicom is producing as a public service event on Channel 8.

Businesses or individuals with items or services valued at less than $25 to donate are encouraged to pair two or more items together to make the package worth $25. Services can run the gamut from the practical and useful to the whimsical, such as "having your house dusted by a local service organization," sponsors suggest.

Simulator tallies applicant's score after word processing tests

Temporary labor force is filling modern niche

person's usage of editing and output functions.

"Right now we can simulate four different word processing machines," said Nowicki. "It has an 85 percent proficiency standard so it's a bonafide test of their skills."

Finding good workers is a difficult task according to Nowicki. Because the nature of their business depends on the reputation they establish, good temporary services work hard to find the best possible employees to represent them.

"It's hard in any business," explained Nowicki, "and because the economy is improving we work harder today to find qualified people."

According to Nowicki, the average length of an application, interview, evaluation and hiring is about one 1/2 hours.

"Every one of our employees is top-drawer, but we have to do a lot of sorting and sifting to get the cream of the crop," she added. "The right employees make the rest of the job easier."

Nowicki stresses the fact that temporary services are not employment agencies. "We are a company — we hire people to become our employees. They are paid by us," she said.

Temporary work is not the same thing as a part-time job, she adds. Although a temporary may work an average of 24 1/2 hours a week, that time is not necessarily all spent at the same job.

The managers believe that the temporary industry provides a much-needed service to businesses of the future.

According to Norrell reports, the temporary industry has grown in the past twenty years from 400,000 workers to over 3.5 million. That constitutes 2 percent of the total labor force, and the number is expected to grow to 10 percent by 1990.

As social and economic positions undergo rapid change, successful businesses will have to be prepared to make adaptations quickly in order to remain prosperous. It is here that the ability of the service to match the needs of a business with those of the temporary worker will be important.

Buyers seek state products

Given a choice between products of equal price and quality, 85 percent of Michigan residents would prefer to purchase products manufactured in the state, according to a Michigan Department of Commerce survey announced today by First Lady Paula Blanchard.

"These results demonstrate how important it is for Michigan manufacturers to identify their goods as 'Made in Michigan,'" Mrs. Blanchard said.

She is a volunteer advisor to Commerce Director Ralph J. Gerson and spearheads the state's Yes! Michigan product promotion program, which is working to encourage Michigan manufacturers to identify their products as having been made in the state.

The research study was conducted by the Michigan State University College of Communication Arts and Sciences. It was designed to measure consumer awareness, attitudes and purchasing behavior regarding products manufactured in Michigan.

"Nearly one third (29 percent) of the respondents said they make it a point to purchase Michigan-made merchandise," Mrs. Blanchard continued. "More than half (54 percent) said they would read labels to determine product origin."

"We've developed materials that make it easy for a company to use the Michigan logo on its label or package or in its advertising," Mrs. Blanchard said. "We're also working with companies to help them publicize the fact that their products are made in our state."

Sixty-three percent of the survey respondents agreed with a statement which said they found it difficult to identify products made in Michigan.

"Such a finding," the research study concludes, "suggests the need for some type of labeling program indicating that products are made in Michigan, as that which is currently under way — the use of a product logo indicative of Michigan origin appears to be an appropriate promotional tool."

Nearly 1,000 valid telephone survey calls were made, yielding 454 valid responses from residents of 68 Lower Peninsula and 13 Upper Peninsula counties. Some 70 percent were between the ages of 18 and 64. Sixty-three percent were females; 60 percent were married; and nearly 80 percent had lived in Michigan for more than 10 years.

Manufacturers interested in using the Yes! Michigan product logo may call toll free, 800-647-7637, or write to Paula Blanchard at Box 30004, Lansing, MI 48909.

Bird Talk

Birds are no dummies. They don't like to get wet, either. When it rains, the smart ones head for perches under the overhang, "inside", under the roof of the feeder.

No fancy birds, mind you — Just run-of-the-mill sparrows, Jays, doves, blacks and reds, (With now and then a squirrel!!)

But they are smart... The ones who come early. They might not even eat... Just sit there, out of the rain. They're no dummies.

Charles E. Hutton

MOTHERS

Mothers are there, every day of the year they keep you going with a big cheer. They are with you always day and night, trying to help you win your fight. They are always there through thick and thin, to cheer you on with a grin. So here's to the mothers we love so dear, we'll keep loving you year after year.

Chris Zammit

Determination

Just a few steps faster and you won't be beat. Quicken the pace, keep moving the feet. Faster and faster and further you do, Gotta keep going, only to show That you can do it, you can succeed. You have the guts, you got that speed. Keep on going, only to find You're losing out, moving behind. Go at it harder, push it out. You have to do it, can't go without... Winning. Gotta get ahead. Can't take second, instead, You push too far; You hurt. You are The loser.

Sue Schweim

Awareness

He knew not what it meant to live Because he couldn't; He knew not what it meant to give, Because he wouldn't.

For fear there would be nothing left To meet his needs He found himself bereft Of life and deeds.

And then, down in his lowly niche He heard a call From one who'd reached still lower In their fall.

He listened, and forgot His own concern, In giving help, and doing so To learn

That selflessness will always Lead the way To life and manna and fulfillment Of each day.

Charles E. Hutton

My Piano

I glide my fingers across the keys, Striking each note with expertise. The music comes lightly from strings in its store, Music to please, from my ears to yours.

I look at my beauty in black, Strumming its strings without error or lack. I finish my piece and gaze at my friend, With thanks for the music and joy with no end.

Picking a preschool's no kids' stuff

Though September still is months away, Northville preschools are gearing up for the fall onslaught of new students.
By MICHELE McELMURRY

Parents of preschoolers take heed. Though summer may only be half over, preparations for sending little Buster to preschool should warrant immediate attention.

Northville parents who have yet to take the plunge into the preschool search and selection process may find their quest slightly overwhelming.

While child care, preschool and nursery may all seem like synonymous terms to the parent unfamiliar with the various pre-kindergarten offerings, it won't take long to find that each is vastly different.

To give parents a head start in their search, Northville area preschools have provided The Record with information about their programs and offerings.

Parents will find that enrollments are limited at nearly all preschools and that early registration is a must. Those schools with programs already filled may have a waiting list.

A new facet of many area preschools is extended hours — a real plus for working parents. Some schools are opening their doors as early as 6:30 a.m. and closing them after 6 p.m.

Parents will find that of the eight area preschools featured, no two are exactly the same. Not only do program offerings differ, but philosophies also vary.

While most schools focus most of their programs around the 2- to 4-year-old, some offer classes for toddlers as young as 18-months. Other offerings include early primary classes for the "old" 4-year-old or "young" 5-year-old — whichever way you look at it.

KINDER CARE LEARNING CENTER

Kinder Care Learning Center on Eight Mile and Silver Springs Drive is celebrating its 10th year in operation.

The Kinder Care Learning Center accepts children ages 2½ and older for its preschool GOAL program. "Growth Opportunities for Achievement and Learning" is a program designed for each stage of preschool development. Children learn through active participation in Discovery Areas set up within their classroom and through outdoor play activities and field trips.

Children who will be 4-years-old by December 1 participate in Kinder Care's pre-kindergarten program,

"Happily Ever After." This program is designed to strengthen pre-reading readiness skills in preparation for kindergarten.

Kinder Care also offers the Lippincott "Beginning" Kindergarten program and an after-school achievement club for elementary school children.

Open registration for the fall preschool program is scheduled August 13-24. Parents may call to arrange an appointment to visit the center.

Open House will be held from 6:30-8 p.m. Thursday, August 22, and is open to the public. Visitors may tour the center, talk with director Jill Miller and members of the teaching staff and enjoy refreshments.

For further information, call 348-1589.

KIDS' KREATIVE KORNER

Offered through Northville Public Schools Community Education Program, Kids' Kreative Korner is a licensed preschool in operation at Amerman Elementary School.

Program activities include puppetry, drama, music, storytelling, finger plays and arts and crafts. Themes including colors, shapes, numbers, seasonal topics and animals are incorporated into the activities.

Three separate sessions are being offered under the instruction of Carolyn Belliston beginning September 10.

Sessions for 3 and 4-year-olds will be held from 9 to 11 a.m. Tuesday and Thursday. Classes for 3-year-olds will be held from 11:15 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.

Two sessions will be held for 4 and 5-year-olds. Morning classes will be offered from 9-11:30 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday with afternoon classes offered from 12:45-3:15 p.m. Monday and Wednesday.

Fees for Kids' Kreative Korner are $1.50 per hour plus a materials charge.

Minimum enrollment in each class is nine students with maximum class size limited to 16 students.

Parents must register children in person at the Northville Public Schools Community Education Office, 501 West Main (located on the second floor of the Main Street Elementary building).

For further information, call 349-3400, extension 214.

WILLIAM ALLAN ACADEMY

William Allan Academy, located just west of Maybury State Park on the south side of Eight Mile Road, has been offering its preschool program for more than a decade.

The program operates from September through June and provides a balanced structured/non-structured program designed to meet the needs of developing 3 and 4-year-olds.

The 3-year-old class meets from 12:30-3 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays with the 4-year-olds meeting from 12:30-3 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

A kindergarten program for 5-year-olds meets from 9-11:45 a.m. Monday through Friday.

Each class has two qualified teachers and an aide with class size limited to 25 preschoolers and 16 kindergartners.

For further information and/or a brochure, contact principal Valerie Hambleton at 349-5020.

The school office is open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. every Monday throughout the summer. The office may be reached at 349-1830.

CREATIVE DAY NURSERY SCHOOL

Creative Day Nursery School, located in Room 206 of Main Street Elementary School, begins its 16th year as a licensed preschool this fall.

Creative Day offers half-day programs for preschoolers, ages 2½ to 5. Included in the sessions are story time, drama, floor and learning games, science, art and music and rhythm activities.

According to director Elaine Savola, the aim of the school is to provide a well-rounded program that will meet a child's social, emotional, intellectual and physical needs.

Creative Day offers small class sizes (limited to 15 children per class) and maintains no more than a 7 to 1 student-teacher ratio.

Fall sessions begin September 10 and meet from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Parents may choose to enroll their children in any number of morning sessions. Tuesday and Thursday afternoon sessions will be offered if there is sufficient enrollment.

Registration is being accepted now for the fall program. Arrangements may be made to observe at the preschool's summer session held Tuesday and Thursday mornings.

Creative Day offers a free brochure and information on the approximately $6 per session tuition (including a reduced rate for parents who assist in the preschool two sessions a month) by calling Elaine Savola at 348-3910 or 397-3955.

NEW MORNING SCHOOL

New Morning School, founded in 1973, is a non-profit, state-certified school for children in preschool through eighth grade.

Preschool classes meet September through mid-June on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings or Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 9-11:30 a.m. Extended hours are available from 7 a.m. to 12:45 p.m.

Preschool classes are offered to children ages 2½ to 6-years-old under the direction of teacher Marilyn Romack, M.A. with a specialist certification in early childhood, and assisted by a parent aide. Class size is limited to 12 children.

Director Elaine Yagiela emphasized that classroom environments are carefully structured. One classroom focuses on large motor and role playing activities while the other includes fine motor materials, math and reading readiness activities and craft materials.

Daily group activities include crafts, music, movement, cooking and French. Computer instruction is provided each week.

Another option for young children is New Morning's Early Primary class. The session, for 4 to 6-year-olds, meets from 12:30-3 p.m. daily and is state certified as a kindergarten.

Opportunities for play, role-playing, socialization and experimental learning is combined with the introduction of academic skills.

NORTHVILLE MONTESSORI CENTER

The Northville Montessori Center, affiliated with the American Montessori Society and the Michigan Montessori Society, was established in 1976. Northville Montessori is a state licensed private school offering an alternative in preschool and elementary education programs.

The school's curriculum consists of activities in practical living (self-help), sensorial experiences, language, math, science, geography, history and social studies. Special extras featured in the program include French, music, art, motor/perception development, drama, dance, health and nutrition, yoga, poetry, cooking and fall, winter and spring sports.

The school offers both morning and afternoon sessions for preschoolers.

Extended hours are available for working parents. The center is open from 7:15 a.m. to 6 p.m. Elementary sessions also are offered for children with a Montessori background.

Montessori emphasizes parent involvement and adult study seminars are held periodically at the school for parents.

Also, parents of Northville Montessori students are members of the Parents' Group. The group promotes the interests of the center through participation in voluntary programs such as carpentry/building, material making, animals, clerical and/or receptionist work, writing or editing for the school newsletter, etc.

WILLOWBECK FARM NURSERY SCHOOL

Willowbeck Farm Nursery, opened in 1976, is a state licensed nursery school for children ages 2½ to 6-years-old.

Classes are offered Monday through Friday in both the mornings and afternoons. Afternoon classes offered in two or three half day sessions per week are for 4-year-olds. To enroll in the afternoon classes, children should be 4-years-old by December 1.

Morning classes are offered for both 3 and 4-year-olds with the younger children meeting on Tuesdays and Thursdays and the older children meeting Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

This year, Willowbeck has consolidated its nursery school with its Wixom child care center. Both facilities now are housed at the school's Beck Road location.

Classes at Willowbeck are 2½ hours and offer opportunities for experimenting with various art medias, scientific phenomena, literature and music activities. Because of the school's rural setting, opportunities for nature study abound.

In addition to the preschool classes from 9-11:30 a.m. and 12:45-3:15 p.m., the center also will be open each day from 6:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The school also is offering a latch key program for elementary-age children both before and after school.

Tuition is $6.25 per session and early enrollment is necessary as only limited space still is available.

Willowbeck has scheduled an orientation September 4, 5, and 6 at its location at 21633 Beck Road.

For further information, contact Lane Norton at 349-7023.

NORTHVILLE COOPERATIVE PRESCHOOL

In operation for more than 30 years, Northville Cooperative Preschool is a non-profit, non-discriminatory organization offering four developmental programs for children 18-months-old to 5-years-old.

In a cooperative school, parents are active participants, taking turns assisting teachers Lyn Reece and Judy Somershoe, who are fully qualified in preschool education.

All four preschool programs meet in the former Main Street Elementary School at 501 West Main.

Among the four sessions offered is the Toddler Play Group, which meets from noon to 1:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. Children must be 18 months by September 1 and class size is limited to 10 children.

The Toddler Play Group is designed for children to participate in parallel play. Easel painting, Playdoh and drawing materials are available. No bottles or pacifiers. Children need not be toilet trained for this group.

Tuition is $18 per month. Though enrollment is filled for the fall, a waiting list currently is under way. If enough interest is shown, a second group may be started.

The Threes Group is for children 3-years-old by December 1 and meets from 9-11:20 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays. The class is limited to 15 children with three working parents and one teacher.

The Threes Group is unstructured and emphasizes socialization. Activities include large muscle developmental skills, stories,

Downers 'move' anniversary to celebrate in summer

By JEAN DAY

We've heard of Christmas in July celebrations to make it possible for families to get together in good weather. Long-time Northville residents Gael and Edna Downer borrowed that thinking for an early 50th wedding anniversary celebration.

They have just returned from Kingston, Ontario, where they marked the golden anniversary at the home of their daughter Ann and her husband, Dr. Darwin Muir. Their three granddaughters — Kira, Krista and Kari — participated. Another daughter Jean and her husband, Michael Knauff, and two more granddaughters, Michelle and Laura, from Charlotte, Michigan, joined them.

Mrs. Downer explains that summer seemed the best time for this special event as the entire family had not been together in five years. The visitors' activities in Canada included seeing the old historic city of Kingston, picnics, ferry and sail boat rides. The celebration concluded with a special dinner July 1 at L'Europa's Restaurant hosted by the Downers' daughters and their families.

The Downers actually were married December 28, 1934, at Memorial Methodist Church in South Bend, Indiana. They have lived in their present home on Frederick for 48 years.

When the Downers returned home, Mrs. Downer found she had left her anniversary corsage, which she had planned to wear to United Methodist services here the next Sunday, in Canada. She was the surprised recipient a bit later, however, of a duplicate corsage which her daughters had ordered when they discovered she had left the original.

Smocking Guild members 'think Christmas' too

A "Christmas in July" program is being planned by the

Meyers named dean at St. John's Seminary

The Reverend William F. Meyers, director of the office of priestly life and ministry for the Lansing Diocese, will become the 10th academic dean/registrant of St. John's Provincial Seminary in Plymouth August 1.

The Very Reverend Robert Byrne, rector of St. John's, announced the appointment last week.

Father Meyers, pastor of St. James Parish, Mason, Michigan, received his appointment from Archbishop Edmund C. Szoka for the seminary board of trustees with the concurrence of Bishop Kenneth Povish of Lansing.

Father Meyers succeeds Jean M. Lambert, the first woman dean of a Roman Catholic theologate in the United States.

St. John's is the major seminary for the seven dioceses of Michigan.

Father Meyers comes to St. John's with a long record of pastoral, educational and administrative experience. Prior to becoming pastor of St. James, he served in the same capacity at St. Agnes, Fowlerville (1971-72), St. Thomas, Ann Arbor (1972-76), and St. Ann, Cassopolis (1958-64). He was an associate pastor at St. Mary, Flint, following his ordination in 1955 until 1958.

In his latest position, Father Meyers has directed numerous programs in spirituality and continued education for Lansing priests. These included the Emmaus Spirituality Program, over 20 sabbaticals, and the Doctor of Ministry, an extension program from St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore. Twenty Lansing priests are participating in the latter program.

Appointed by Bishop Povish in 1978 the first executive secretary of the Lansing Diocesan Pastoral Council, Father Meyers served its evolution from steering committee to interim council to permanent council through its first regional and diocesan pastoral assemblies.

From 1976-78 Father Meyers was diocesan director of religious education for the Phoenix Diocese under Archbishop Edward McCarthy. While there, he worked with the Kino Institute to establish degree programs in religious education, pastoral ministry and spirituality for local clergy and laity.

After earning an M.A. and a Ph.D in educational administration and philosophy from the University of Notre Dame in 1963, Father Meyers was successively assistant superintendent and superintendent of schools and general superintendent of education for the Lansing Diocese until 1971.

He taught at St. John's Seminary from 1971-74, and on college and university levels for Nazareth College, Kalamazoo, the University of Notre Dame and the Kino Institute, an extension of the University of San Francisco.

Sister Lambert now is a consultant for Sisters of Mercy Health System in Farmington.

Southeast Michigan Chapter of the Smocking Guild of America for 10 a.m. this Thursday at the Novi library. Libby Van de Putte will be sharing her Christmas ideas, including making ornaments. A smocked Christmas stocking will be the morning's project. Members are invited to bring smocked ornaments to exhibit and supplies to make the stocking.

Anyone interested in the smocking group may call Nancy Smith at 349-7048 for more information.

Bernie Ebert's celebrating 80 active years

Long-time Northville resident Berneita Ebert is celebrating her 80th birthday this Thursday.

Since moving into Allen Terrace, she has served as the city's representative on the Out-Wayne County Agency on Aging and is an active board member of the Northville Area Senior Citizens' Advisory Council.

Chamber's looking toward fall — dinner date set

Date for the annual dinner meeting of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce has been set for Saturday, October 20, President Sherry Spaman announced at the chamber

MR. AND MRS. MARK NASZRADI

Vows exchanged in June rites

Karen McCumber and Mark Naszradi exchanged marriage vows and rings in an afternoon ceremony June 16 at St. Colette Church, Newburgh and Six Mile roads.

The bride is the daughter of Joseph and Mary Gates of 42067 Waterfall Road. The bridegroom's parents are Edward and Nancy Naszradi of 41963 Sutters Lane.

Father Joe Ferens officiated at the 2 p.m. service.

The bride's gown of point d'sprit lace was fashioned with a three-tier, floor-length skirt and a fitted bodice with an off-the-shoulder neckline and puff sleeves. She wore white lace gloves.

A rosebud wreath headpiece held her floor-length veil of illusion.

She carried an arrangement of 12 long-stem pink roses tied with wide white satin bow and streamers.

Bridesmaids were Theresa Rochon, Maureen Naszradi and Deana Roberts. They wore tea-length gowns of pink taffeta fashioned with off-the-shoulder bodices and pink lace gloves. They wore pink rosebud comb decorations in their hair and each carried a single pink rose.

Alan Tanski was best man. Ushers were Kurt Naszradi, Bob Phillips and Dennis Hite.

An outdoor reception was held on the Northville Commons with about 200 guests attending. Special guests were the bride's godmothers, Eunice Morgan and Pauline Lane, who came from England to attend the wedding.

The bride is a graduate of Churchill High School.

The bridegroom was graduated from Northville High School.

Both are employed at the Holiday Inn in Livonia. After a wedding trip to California, the newlyweds are living in their new home in Livonia.

Couples make plans for September weddings

Mettert-Snyder

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Snyder of Northville announce the engagement of their daughter Natalie Cheryl to Jon Scott Mettert.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Mettert of Tapp City, Colorado.

The bride-elect is a 1978 graduate of Northville High School and a 1982 graduate of Adrian College. Her fiancé is a 1979 graduate of Brandywine High School in Niles, Michigan, and a 1983 graduate of Adrian College.

A September wedding is planned.

JON METTERT, NATALIE SNYDER

McNamara-Miller

Mr. and Mrs. Langdon L. Miller of Frankfort announce the engagement of their daughter Elizabeth to Michael Andrew McNamara, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald H. McNamara of Northville.

The bride-elect is a Frankfort High School graduate and received her bachelor's degree from Michigan State University. She now is employed with Hilton Hotels in Sunnyvale, California.

Her fiancé was graduated from Northville High School in 1979. He also received his bachelor's degree from Michigan State University.

He is employed with Federal-Mogul Corporation and resides in northern California.

A September 29 wedding is planned in Frankfort.

Club lists marathon winners

During nine months of marathon bridge play in the annual Northville Mothers' Club tournament, partners Ann Cook and Lois Pantier amassed a total of 33,780 points to become top winners in the benefit.

They played in Ladies Daytime Group V.

In each group, top winners received a prize of $50, second place winners received $20, and third, $10, chairperson Nancy May announced last week.

First, second and third place winners in the Ladies Daytime groups were:

Group I, Ginnie Taylor and Lois McCandless; Joyce Whelan and Barbara Peters; Betty Kaiser and Mary Pat Kaminski.

Group II, Kay Beveridge and Dorrie Smith; Martha Lyon and Julie Bohan; Deborah Gesdorf and Nancy Trabin.

Group III, Amby Talbot and Elizabeth Detter; Mary Kershaw and Rosemary Mentag; Janet Reynolds and Jeanne Ambler.

Group IV, Betty Kaiser and Ann Masson; Nancy Trabin and Karen Wesley; Norma Leach and Barbara Williams.

Group V, Ann Cook and Lois Pantier; Mary Pohod and Jane Traudt; Barbara Alföldy and Kass McConlogue.

Winners in Ladies Night play were: Group I, Bo Hall and Sandy Watts; Ann Guldberg and Lee Baumann; Mary Ellen Daly and Judy Jakubowski.

Group II, Joy Holloway and JoAnn Kissel; Pat Lennig and Laurie Slagter; Ann Padmos and Betty Kaiser.

Couples' winners were: Group I, Fred and Nancy Ishac; Raymond and Ann Marie Leblanc; Bill and Be Fuetges. Group II, Leonard and Jenny Zang; Jim and Betty Kaiser; Leonard and Mary Pat Kaminski.

New marathon chairperson for the club for 1984-85 play is Diane Larsen. She explains that all proceeds for the long-running tournament are earmarked for projects in the Northville Public Schools.

Those signing up for the tournament pay $20 a couple and are placed in groups. Each group receives a list of those who the partners play monthly throughout the year with one couple designated as host each month. The host couple contacts and arranges a meeting date with the other couple for the play each month.

It is not necessary to have a partner to sign up for the tournament, both May and Larsen stress, as the committee will find compatible partners.

Interested persons are invited to sign up now for 1984-85 play which begins in September. Chairperson Larsen may be called at 348-4149.

NEW MORNING SCHOOL

Children work at their own level in various academic areas. Music, French, computer instruction, cooking, crafts and rhythm activities also are included.

Yagiela noted that for a "young" 5-year-old or one with a fall birthday, the Early Primary class might serve as a transition year or the first of two kindergarten years. Older 4-year-olds also will be accepted in the program.

Extended hours for the Early Primary class are available from 11:45 a.m. to 6 p.m. A full day kindergarten also is available.

A unique feature of the school is the parent co-op and non co-op options. Parents are involved as aides in the classroom, help with fundraising and maintenance, and have input in administrative and curriculum development. Working parents are welcome as co-op expectations are flexible.

New Morning School is located on Haggerty Road, just north of Schoolcraft Road in Plymouth Township.

A "Walk Through Registration Day" is planned from 9 a.m. to noon Wednesday, August 29.

Because preschool enrollment is limited, registration may be completed earlier in the summer by contacting Elaine Yagiela at 420-3331 or Peggy Kleinhenn at 420-0525. A brochure can be mailed upon request.

NORTHVILLE MONTESSORI

Northville Montessori Center offers both its morning and afternoon sessions five days each week at 15709 Haggerty Road, located between Five and Six Mile roads.

Tuition at the school varies according to the number of children enrolled per family. Fees also are charged for extended hours.

Though enrollment for next year's program currently is filled, interested parents may put their child's name on a waiting list.

For further information, contact Administrator/Directress Lynn Gail at 420-0924 or 348-0951.

The Northville Record

Big week for Blue and Gold

With two regular-season games to be settled, Northville Blue hung in contention for first place in Mickey Mantle League standings following three wins and a loss last week.

Now 14-5 and in third place, Blue won weekday games against Livonia and Westland, then split a pair of Saturday games, falling to North Farmington 9-2, then whipping Taylor 14-4.

To have a chance at first, Blue must win its last home game, at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow against Waterford.

Stellar pitching and a five-run rally in the fifth provided Blue a 5-3 win over Livonia Tuesday. Sparking the rally were two-run homers by Jeff Bainbridge and George Daraban.

Winner Brett Loomis worked 5½ innings, striking out seven and permitting just two hits, while Chris Dominique fanned four of the five hitters he faced in relief.

Coach Bob Peterson called Blue's 7-5 victory over Westland-American Catering two days later "the biggest win of the season."

Chris Willerer turned in a complete-game five-hitter, striking out 12 hitters to boost his season record to 5-2.

Regional comes to town

This weekend, Northville will host the Continental Amateur Baseball Association Regional Tournament—a tourney to determine what team will represent the region at the CABA World Series to be held in Ohio.

Seven teams from Michigan (including both of Northville's Mickey Mantle squads) and one Canadian team will participate in the two-game knockout tournament.

For information on tourney times and dates (games will be played at Northville High School and Novi High School), contact Tournament Chairman Bob Frellick at 349-2840 or Northville Community Recreation at 349-0203.

After yielding two runs in the top of the first, Northville came back with four in the bottom of the inning on solo RBI from Bainbridge, Paul Newitt, Steve Cody and Chris Hauser.

Blue went ahead to stay with a three-run fourth, scoring on sacrifice flies by Fred Cahill and Daraban, and a Westland error.

Against North Farmington, starter Dominique kept the game close until his sore elbow gave way and North Farmington capitalized on it with a four-run fifth.

Blue managed two runs in a second-inning rally featuring a triple by Bainbridge and a single by Dominique.

Northville rebounded big against Taylor. Scott Peterson led an offensive explosion with three hits and three RBI. Hauser chipped in with a two-run single, and Mark Olsen and Newitt each had two hits and one RBI.

Hauser struck out seven and pitched no-hit ball for the final four innings to pick up his second victory of the season.

New Gold standard is over the .500 mark

Putting together clutch hitting and pitching, Northville's Mickey Mantle Gold team nudged its record to 7-5 with three victories last week.

Now a healthy two games over .500, the team has what Coach Ed Harp calls a "slim chance" of qualifying for a post-season tourney, in addition to this weekend's Little Caesar's CABA Regional Tournament.

Gold started the week with an 11-7 win over South Lyon on Thursday.

Both teams did their damage early on. Down 3-0 in the bottom of the first, Northville rallied for five runs without a hit on five walks and a hit batsman.

South Lyon came back with four runs in the second on a single, three walks and a handful of Gold errors. But Northville had the last laugh with a five-run fourth inning to cement the victory for Jeff Tanderys, in relief of starter Eric Gala.

Tanderys was on a tear all week. In Thursday's game, he struck out six and pitched scoreless ball for the last five innings. At the plate, he whacked a long solo homer in the third and singled in another run in the fourth.

Northville Mack's Dan Nielsen lays down a bunt

Mackers aim for post-season

Smacking 28 hits over two games of a Saturday doubleheader, Northville Connie Mack swept Southfield 10-8 in the opener and 12-6 in the nightcap.

That sweep and a re-drawing of official records throughout the league gave Northville a crack at qualifying for post-season Mack tournament play—if Northville can manage victories against Waterford and Howell this week.

Northville now possesses a 6-6 record, since the Allen Park Connie Mack team has folded and each team in the league was granted two victories by forfeit. Northville trails 11-1 North Farmington-West Bloomfield 1, 8-3 Howell, 7-4 Waterford and 7-4-1 Novi. Southfield is 5-7-1 and North Farmington-West Bloomfield II is 5-8.

Southfield led Northville 8-7 going into the top of the seventh inning of Saturday's first game. But Joe Mills' double and Doug Doyle's single put runners at second and third, and Jerry O'Brien doubled in both for the tying and go-ahead runs. Steve Frellick drove in O'Brien with a double and that gave reliever Dan Nielsen plenty of room to operate.

Southfield had rallied for four runs in the sixth when Nielsen replaced starter Doug Doyle with two on and two out. Nielsen walked one hitter and yielded a two-run single, then fanned the last batter in the sixth and two of the three batters he faced in the seventh to pick up the victory—his first decision since joining the team in late June.

Doyle had pitched well, yielding only one earned run, striking out four and walking four. His ERA remains a slim 1.08.

Doyle, Frellick and Brent Conn each finished the game with three hits. Mark Chambers was 2-for-5 with two RBI and O'Brien had two hits and three RBI.

In the second game, Northville blew Southfield out of the water with 11 runs in the first two innings. Kelly Bell coasted to his first win against one loss, with Frank Paletta working the final three innings in relief.

TAX TIPS

LEE E. HOLLAND, C.P.A.

A SECOND BUSINESS THAT'S "PART-TIME"

Maybe you have a second business, something that's become more than a hobby, for which you claim deductions on your income tax. You may have a small farm or breed horses or engage in some other activity that's separate from your primary business. You're on safe ground, tax-wise, if you can prove that the purpose of the part-time business is to make a profit, whether or not that happens to be the case in any given year.

In recent years Tax Courts have ruled that a person who operates his part-time business in a businesslike way fulfills that requirement. This would include hiring competent help when needed and keeping adequate records.

Even if you give yourself the benefit of the doubt in claiming certain tax deductions, it's possible your return may not be questioned. But if it is questioned, if you can prove you have a legitimate basis for claiming deductions, they will probably be allowed.

For a review of these and other tax-saving opportunities under the new tax law, why not call us for an appointment?

RUNNING:

8-K run to help 'Growth Works'

Advance registration will be accepted through August 6 for the 8-kilometer race and one-mile fun run in the second annual Plymouth Distance Classic August 12.

Co-sponsors of the meet is Growth Works, Inc., a social agency providing counseling, alternative education and job training to area youth, and the Henry Ford Hospital Plymouth Center. Proceeds from race entry fees will go toward Growth Works programs.

Registration fee for the 8-K race is $8 per participant and $5 for fun run entries. There are 11 age categories for both male and female runners (14-and-under to 60-and-over) plus a wheelchair category. Trophies will be awarded to the top male, female and wheelchair finishers in the 8-K race and medals will be given to the top four finishers in each age group.

For more information, call 455-4095 between 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Thomson field availability limited

Adult softball players in Northville likely will have to find a new place to play next year.

Although plans are to continue the remainder of this season's games — including the Thomson Memorial Softball Tournament — it appears the field will not be available for Community Recreation softball use in 1985.

In a memo addressed to Northville Community Recreation Director Jeff Farland, with copies sent to the city and to the township, a representative of Thomson Sand & Gravel declared the field off-limits for future use because of "a lack of cooperation" from the Community Recreation Department in "complying with the lease agreement."

Farland said relations with the Thomson family are still somewhat sensitive, and for that reason he said he would prefer not to discuss the specific reasons for the lease termination. Farland said he is reviewing potential alternative sites for next year's games.

SOFTBALL:

Survivors play in weekend tilt

The Northville Survivors softball team will take part in the fifth annual Michigan State World Quality Tournament, to be held this weekend at Garden City Park (located at Meridian and Cherry Hill roads).

Between 12 and 16 teams are expected to compete in the tournament — at stake, with a first, second or third-place finish is a berth in the World Tournament, to be held in Kent, Washington August 10-12.

Now 6-6 for the season, the Survivors' opening round game will likely take place on Friday. Tomorrow, the squad will travel to Garden City for a tourney tune-up and league confrontation against Garden City at 6:15 p.m.

Lynn Dudley and Jenny Callahan are currently the Travelers' leading hitters with identical .500 batting averages. Pat Wazny is close behind at .467.

BASEBALL:

F League season comes down to a two-way tie for first place

The Reds and Pirates wound up co-champions of Northville F League with identical records of 12-4 following last week's season-ending games.

The Astros finished strong, just one game back at 11-5 in the hotly-contested race.

In games played last week, the Reds twice defeated the Pirates to hang onto a share of the title. In a July 9 encounter, the Reds prevailed 14-11 braced by Eddie Walsh's homer, two hits and four RBI's by Adam Behan and by three RBI's and two hits by Gordon Holland.

Obscured by the game was a superb hitting show by Brad Ebel. The Padres' cleanup hitter hit for the cycle — a single, double, triple and home run — and drove in seven runs. Teammate Tag Smith had three hits and two RBI.

A five-run sixth inning put the Reds ahead to stay, giving the win to Eric Shurin.

The Padres held a short-lived 6-3 lead two nights later, but the Reds blew open a close game with three runs in the fifth inning and nine in the sixth to post a 18-7 victory.

Shurin went 3-for-3 with a home run and three RBI to lead a 15-hit Reds attack. The Padres, meanwhile, got some power of their own with a three-run homer by Todd Daniels and a round-tripper by Ebel.

Eddie Walsh and Scott Howard each had three hits for the winners. Mike Lobbia drove in three runs and Lou Yeager and Gordon Holland two each.

The Astros ended their season with a 9-7 defeat of the Braves. Winning pitcher David Kozler allowed five hits and struck out nine batters to win his fifth game of the season.

Brian Freilick and Dan Clark sparked the Astros' offense with a single and a double apiece.

Other league results: Braves 14, Expos 11;

Pirates 7, Mets 3; Mets 12, Giants 0; Pirates 7, Expos 0.

ADULT LEAGUES: No surprises, as week's results favor league's top teams

Winner's Circle 17, Dale's Graphic 5: Winner's Circle rallied for seven runs in the fifth inning and seven more in the sixth to bust open what had been a close ballgame. While Jim Watson confined Dale's to eight hits for the game, WC picked up that many in the fifth-inning alone. Altogether, the winners rapped out 23 hits for a six-inning mercy win. David Austin had five singles in five trips to lead Winner's Circle, while teammates Dave McLean, Jim Moore and Bill Gosselin had three hits each. Tom Halm went 3-for-3 for Dale's.

St. Paul's 16, Communication Service 2: Greg Wallace ripped four hits in consecutive innings to lead St. Paul's to a four-inning mercy rule victory. Not far behind in the rock 'em, sock 'em derby were Burton Edick and Doug Helmick, both 3-for-3 (again, in consecutive innings). A 10-run third inning gave pitcher Wallace all the room he needed for the win. Duane Reeves singled and doubled in a pair of runs for Communication Service.

O'Sheehan's On The Green 13, Aries 4: A pair of four-run rallies in the last two innings inflated the Greeners' one-run lead to nine by the time it was over. Pete Wright socked two homers, one a grand slam, on consecutive at-bats for the winners. Teammate Mark Reinwald doubled and singled twice, and scored three runs. Phil Gosselin socked a three-run homer for Aries.

Novi Bowl 13, Malarkey's 3: Novi Bowl hurler Keith Collins had a shutout going until Steve Spiro's fifth-inning round-tripper pulled winless Malarkey's within two. But in the sixth, Novi Bowl scored eight times to put the contest out of reach. During that rally, eight consecutive Novi Bowl hitters hit safely — Norm Kubitsky, John Sherman, Frank Saville, Steve O'Hare, Lew Hoag, Keith Collins, D.R. Stratton and Gary Callender. O'Hare was 3-for-3 and Stratton homered for the winners. Mike Hoesy went 3-for-3 for Malarkey's.

Getzie's Pub 7, Our Lady of Victory 5: OLV got the jump early, but after a two-run first inning couldn't score again until the seventh. By that time, Getzie's had seven runs, one on Bob Potter's seventh-inning solo homer. Potter went 3-for-4 to lead Getzie's. Teammates John Adams, Don Riffenburg, George Holliman, Jeff Wilson and Dave Jensen each had two hits in the close contest, while Brian Dewan, Jim Kinville and Brian and Pat Dewan did likewise for OLV.

Sterling Oil 16, Our Lady of Victory 0: League-leading Sterling Oil got a two-hit shutout out of Don Phillips and coasted after a seven-run first inning. Stan Tarnowski had two hits, including a run-scoring triple, for the winners.

St. Paul's 9, Ed's Sports 3: While St. Paul's Greg Wallace pitched an outstanding game, teammate Edgar Sanders led a 16-hit attack with four of his own, all singles. Leadoff hitter Dave Drizzle went 3-for-4 for Ed's Sports, who left 12 men on base in the contest.

Jaycees/Northville Party 7, Wagon Wheel 5: Cleanup hitter Carl Lang homered in two consecutive trips to lead the winners. Teammate Ron Barnum slapped three singles in three trips. Wagon Wheel rallied for four runs on five consecutive singles in the fifth, but pulled no closer.

Winners Circle 12, O'Sheehan's 9: David Austin needed a homer to finish the cycle, but his single, double and triple spurred the Winners' 16-hit attack. O'Sheehan's took an 8-7 lead with a five-run rally in the top of the fourth, but Winners' Circle tied it on Alan Kahler's RBI single in the bottom of the inning and went ahead to stay with a four-run rally in the fifth on five consecutive singles. Joe Slakins had three hits for the losers.

Thermal Sash 11, Aries 6: After three errors and three hits gave Aries four first-inning runs, Thermal Sash scored in every remaining inning but the fifth to hang on for the win. Jeff Williams went 4-for-4 to lead Thermal Sash, while Keith Chulomovich duplicated the feat for Aries.

Sterling Oil 14, Masters 8: The Oilers scored four runs in each of the first three innings to post the victory. Don Phillips and Bill Breilmaier each had three hits in the game. Robert Martin doubled twice for Masters.

Northville resident Mark Stephens, 13, placed first in the age 12-13 division at the Oakland County Parks Junior Golf Invitational, scoring 80 and 85 for the two-day tournament. The tourney, held July 6 at White Lake Oaks and Springfield Oaks County Golf Courses, drew 148 participants between the ages of 9-19.

Stingers claim tourney silver

The WSSL Stingers took runner-up honors at the Wolverine Soccer Tournament last week, and a group of four Northville girls helped do it.

Sparked by Northville's Abby and Adrienne Edwards, Heather Sixt and Kristie Everman, the Stingers defeated three Michigan teams and one from Ohio to reach the Under-14 finals — despite the fact the Stingers are an Under-13 team.

The Stingers defeated Genesee Star of Grand Blanc 7-0 in the first round, then tripped Ohio's Sycamore Arsenal 3-1 and squeaked past Strikers III of Midland, 1-0.

In the semifinal, the Stingers edged the Livonia Panthers 2-0. But Troy Lightning claimed the Under-14 title Monday by defeating the Stingers in a wild final, 5-2.

The Stingers accumulated a 22-4-1 record this season, winning their division and taking a state cup championship last month. They also were semi-finalists in the Ohio Buckeye Tournament and runner-up at the Midland Tournament.

"It's been quite a year for the Stingers," said Coach Doris Edwards, also of Northville.

But it's not quite over yet — this Saturday and Sunday, the team will represent the State of Michigan at the Midwest Regionals to be held at Schoolcraft.

RECREATION BRIEFS

SAFETY TOWN

The final session of Safety Town, a two-week safety course for children age 4-6, will run from July 30 to August 10 at the Northville Community Center. The class will meet Monday through Friday from 9:30-11:30 a.m. and from 1-3 p.m. Cost of the program is $28. For additional information, call the Northville Community Recreation at 349-0203.

THOMSON MEMORIAL TOURNEY

The annual softball tournament will take place July 27 at Thomson Field. Fee for the "open" double-elimination tournament is $100 per team.

EXPRESS SOCCER CAMP

The camp will be held Monday, July 30 through Friday, August 3, at the Lapham Soccer Complex. The camp is an intensive, high-quality instructional experience for players at all ability levels. Session I, for 7-to-11-year-olds, will run from 9 a.m. to noon. Session II, for players age 12 and older will run from 2 to 5 p.m. Fee for each session is $40 and includes a t-shirt.

AMUSEMENT PARK TICKETS

Tickets for the following amusement parks are available at discount prices through Northville Community Recreation: Cedar Point — $11.50 for ages 5-61; Bob-Lo Island — $9.45 for ages 3-9, $10.45 for ages 10-60; King's Island — $6.50 for ages 3-6, $11 for ages 7-59; Sea World — $7.55 for ages 3-11, and $8.55 for ages 12 and older.

WATER FUN

Northville Community Recreation is offering a trip to the Oakland County wave pool and slide on August 22. A $5 fee covers admission to the wave pool, transportation from the Northville Community Center and a beverage (admission to the water slide is extra). Sign-up forms are available at the Community Center.

E LEAGUE ON CABLE

The July 2 Mets-Phillies E League game will be broadcast by Omnicom Cablevision Thursday at 4:30 p.m., Channel 15, and Saturday at noon, Channel 8.

Also lugging hot bats were Doug Martin who singled twice, walked and scored two runs, and John Lobbia, who singled twice and scored twice.

No late-game theatrics were needed against Brighton-Hartland on Saturday. Northville erupted with a 21-hit barrage to wipe out the visitors 20-4.

Bob Justus didn't need to, but he pitched a fine complete game to pick up his first victory against one loss. The southpaw scattered eight hits, five in the last two innings — long after the game was well under wraps.

Justus also had a big day at the plate — but then, who didn't? Lobbia's grand slam over the left field fence in the third inning was the biggest single blow. Justus had two triples and two singles and scored four runs — two in the first inning alone.

Martin ripped three singles and scored three runs while Eric Terlecki and Kyle Boring each contributed a pair of singles.

Boring also delivered two singles in Sunday's 8-6 Gold win over tough Allen Park — and the second turned out to be his biggest all season.

With Northville down by one run in the fifth, Boring cracked a two-out RBI single to tie the game 6-6 and scored the go-ahead run on a single by Terlecki.

After some early trouble, Tanderys was untouchable. The righthander fanned eight hitters in the last four innings, ending the game with 11 strikeouts. He continued his hot hitting with a three-run homer and an RBI single.

Leadoff hitter Terlecki scored three times, singled twice and walking once.

Tomorrow, Northville Gold travels to Redford for a 6:30 p.m. game, then competes in the CABA Tournament Friday through Monday.

United second in tourney

Four Northville girls helped guide WSSL United to a runner-up finish in the Under-12 Division at the Wolverine Soccer Tournament at Schoolcraft College last week.

In a hard downpour, United fell 3-1 to the Troy Blue Streaks in the Under-12 final at the tourney — the first loss of the year for United. The game against the Blue Streaks was a return match — United had defeated the Troy team 5-3 for the state Under-12 Championship in June.

Until the final, it looked like United might do it again. United sunk Sycamore, Ohio Arsenal 7-0, Genesee Star of Grand Blanc 6-1, Centerville, Ohio Shamrocks 6-1 and the S.E. Cincinnati Cardinals 3-1.

Playing key roles in the team's success were Northville players Marcle Dart, Dana Lehmkuhl, Kristy Turner and Karen Cavanaugh. The team was coached by Northville's Bob Dart.

United will represent Michigan at the Midwest Regional Tournament at Schoolcraft this weekend. Eleven states will be sending their champions to this series to decide the best in the midwest region.

August 3, United will travel to Sarnia, Ontario, to take part in the Bluewater Classic Soccer Tournament.

Botsford Installs CT Scanner

Scanner represents latest in radiologic technology

Computed Axial Tomography, better known as CAT scan or CT, was first developed for intracranial imaging in the late 1960's by Godfrey Hounsfield. CT was introduced in 1972 for clinical use and in 1979 Godfrey Hounsfield was awarded the Nobel Prize for his work in this field.

Over the past seven years, CT has become gradually accepted as an accurate and practical, non-invasive diagnostic technique. Clinical applications have broadened to include virtually every part of the body. CT development is important to patients as a diagnostic tool, but it came at a time when consideration of cost for medical care was rapidly becoming a national concern. The problems of "cost control" and "cost efficiency" have been items of great concern in the practice of medicine for the past several years. The use of CT, therefore, is usually reserved for those patients whose illness and diagnosis have been narrowed down to a particular area of the body.

Botsford Radiologist, Samuel Jassanoff, viewing a CAT scan scene.

According to Leo Sheiner, DO, Chief of Radiology at Botsford General Hospital, "The CT scanner is basically an x-ray examination by which we are able to visualize the body in cross-section (axially) rather than looking completely through the body as is done with conventional x-ray examinations. With the aid of a computer interfaced with the scanner, we are able to reformulate and even manipulate images, record data and ultimately make analysis which result in a specific diagnosis."

Dr. Sheiner said that the amount of radiation received by a patient undergoing a CT examination is comparable to what a patient would receive during a conventional x-ray procedure. That is, a CT scan of the brain results in a similar amount of radiation to the patient that a skull x-ray series would produce.

The CT scanner, the Siemens DR3, installed at Botsford General Hospital is one of the most sophisticated and advanced types of CT scanners available today. It provides quality state-of-the-art image evaluation of all tissues and body regions by virtue of the scanning procedure and the digital scan display associated with the system.

"It is important to understand," said Dr. Sheiner, "that the CT scanner is not usually used as a screening examination." Fractures, for example, are still best evaluated initially by conventional x-ray techniques which are less expensive and more cost effective. If additional information is necessary to better evaluate some of the damage that may occur to other organs in the body related to a fracture, then CT may be the best way of obtaining that information.

One of the most important contributions of the CT scan has been in the area of cancer detection and evaluating the spread of cancers to other parts of the body. With this type of information, therapy regimen and even cure of the disease states can be more accurately determined.

The CT scanner in place at Botsford General Hospital is in operation from 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m., Monday through Friday. As demand for service increases, appropriate changes will be made to accommodate the demand.

When you make the choice, choose Wellness at Botsford

Botsford Hospital's Department of Health Promotion wants you to feel good by getting in touch with your well-being. We offer you a lifestyle which touches your physical, emotional and mental health. Let us help you make a commitment to a positive way of life.

Today more people are putting on running shoes and walking to work. Many take a relaxation break while on the job. Grandparents and children are shaping up, eating right and feeling great. Expectant parents are learning about and experiencing childbirth together.

Businesses are experiencing increased productivity, decreased absenteeism and high employee morale by offering wellness programs at work. In short, a rising number of people, businesses and other institutions are turning to pro-active health care programs in order to cut health care costs.

Classes are open to the community and businesses which promote a lifestyle commitment to your long term well-being. The Department of Health Promotion's programs and educational profiles include Blood Pressure Control, Cardiac Management, Diabetes Management, Oncology: I Can Cope and Backcare. Other programs include:

Childbirth Education - This class prepares you and your coach for the childbirth experience. You explore childbirth options and make choices about your birthing method. Even if this is not your first child, you will find these classes helpful.

Prenatal/Postnatal Fitness - Stay fit and feel great during and after pregnancy. Prepare your body for labor, delivery, and speed your recovery. Participants in the Postnatal Fitness classes are encouraged to bring their infants along to learn exercises to do together.

Infant and Toddler Car Seat Rental - Rent instead of buying a child safety car seat. The education and rental program prepares you and your child for car safety. Rental fees: $15.00 infant seat deposit and a $5.00 yearly rental, $20.00 toddler seat deposit and a $10.00 yearly rental. All deposits are refundable upon return of the seat.

Babysitting: Not Just Kid Stuff - This class prepares young adults for their role of the professional babysitter. You learn child care, home safety, basic first aid and much more. Graduates receive a program certificate and the placement on our referral list.

Additionally, business and community members have shown a strong response to our program on Stress: A Personal Growth Experience, Fitness for Health: Aerobics, The Smokeless System, CPR Heartsaver, Blood Pressure Screening and Follow-Up and a Speakers Bureau.

Let our program graduates tell you how beneficial the programs are:

"The class helped me feel more secure and self confident. I love to learn, especially about something that involves as much love and care as bringing a newborn baby into this world. I enjoyed this class very much and recommend it to everyone."

"I thought the class was very informative. I truly hope I can do my part, by following what I've learned. Thanks so much for your time and understanding."

"The class was terrific, I learned how to relax and take control of my life. The feedback from the class participants helped me to adjust to retirement living."

"Outstanding! I didn't realize how much I learned about myself. Keep up the good work, and my thanks to Botsford Hospital for this program."

Cooperative programs in the area of Weight Watchers, Weight Control, Alcoholics Anonymous, Michigan Head Injury Alliance, and Expectant Adoptive Parents are also coordinated through us.

Botsford General Hospital's Department of Health Promotion believes that each individual's body is unique and encourage you to take personal responsibility for your health and well-being. Listen to your body! Your body indicators are one of the best sources of information from which to direct your wellness activities. Body indicators such as,

- tension headaches
- physical fatigue
- excessive illness
- overweight, and
- external pressures

may be telling you to get into a preventative health program. Or, perhaps your physician has encouraged you to participate in a healthy lifestyle.

We offer a variety of wellness programs which fulfill each area of your well-being. Each program has been developed by a team of specialists addressing the physical, emotional and mental well-being of each participant. In addition, we provide a participant follow-up program to monitor your wellness progress.

Come, let us help you make a commitment to a more positive and healthy lifestyle.
