MacDonald, township incumbents winners

By KEVIN WILSON

More than 70 percent of the registered voters in Northville city and township turned out yesterday to hand John MacDonald a three-to-one local edge in the contest for 35th District Court Judge and add support to the entire slate of Republican candidates.

Combined with strong showings in Plymouth Township and the City of Plymouth, MacDonald seemed to be headed for overall victory over Robert Greenstein. Canton Township results were not yet available at midnight, but Greenstein called MacDonald to offer congratulations at 10 p.m.

MacDonald said he was "very gratified" by the apparent victory. He said Greenstein was "gracious" in his concession and that he was pleased to have the strong support in every area of the district. MacDonald said the Canton portion of the court district appeared to be "neck and neck" but that his margins in the remainder of the district seemed to assure his victory.

In other local races, township voters chose all four Republican candidates for trustee, with Democrat Michele Demers tallying less than half the total votes of Donald Williams, the lowest vote getter among the trustees.

Richard Allen had 4,416 votes,

Thomas Cook, 4,321, James Nowka, 4,394, and Williams, 4,300. Demers racked up 1,772 votes for 9.2 percent of the total. GOP candidates each had between 22 and 23 percent of the vote.

Northville voters held true to traditional Republican leanings in all other national, state and country races. They favored landslide presidential victor Ronald Reagan by 5,001 to Walter Mondale's 1,421 in the township and 2,172 to 768 in the city.

They also opted for Republican Jack Lousma in the race for the U.S. Senate over incumbent Democrat Carl Levin.

In the 2nd Congressional District race, longtime Northville voter favorite Carl Pursell outpolled even Reagan in the township, tallying 5,067 supporters to Democrat Mike McCauley's 1,053. City results showed Pursell ahead 942 to 279 (the District does not include the Oakland County portion of the city.) Pursell had a strong lead district-wide.

In the 36th District state house race incumbent Republican Gerald Law led 4,918 in the township over challenger Lucian Cayce's 1,081. City totals showed 942 for Law, 279 for Cayce. This district is also confined to Wayne County. Law won the City of Plymouth three-to-one and in Law's home community of Plymouth Township had 8,502 to 1,836 for Cayce.

Wayne County 10th District Commissioner Mary Dumas similarly seemed certain to return to her seat, beating challenger Laura Toy in all districts reporting at press time.

Township voters narrowly favored tax cutting measure Proposal C with 3,142 Yes votes to 3,091 No. City voters went with the rest of the state in opposing the measure, 1,420 to 1,238.

Total turnout in the city was 74 percent. Township computerized tally sheets showed that 6,550 of the 9,102 registered voters went to the polls for a 72 percent turnout.

All vote totals are unofficial until certified by a board of canvassers. For complete local election results, see next Wednesday's edition of The Record.

While some waited more than half an hour to vote at Northville City Hall yesterday morning, by early evening the turnout had slowed to a trickle.

Voting in Precincts 2, 8 and 9 at Silver Springs Elementary in Northville Township was fairly steady throughout the day, according to election official Nancy Terwin.

"It was really busy this morning," she noted, adding that voting has been fairly steady throughout the day.

She said voter turnout was as good as expected.

Dick O'Hare introduces daughter Mari to American cider

Veteran united with daughter

By MICHELE M. FECHT

For former marine Dick O'Hare, this year's Veterans' Day observance will seem a little more like Father's Day.

For the first time since leaving Okinawa in 1964, O'Hare will celebrate Sunday's remembrance with daughter, Mari—his eldest child.

Father and daughter were united October 21 at Detroit's Metro Airport after Mari's arrival from Japan. Their introduction marked the end of O'Hare's nearly 20-year search for his daughter.

Stationed in Okinawa at the conclusion of his four-year stint with the Marine Corps from 1961-64, O'Hare explains that despite his request to be discharged on the island, he was sent home to Northville.

"When the Marine Corps tells you you're going, you go," he says. However, leaving Okinawa wasn't that simple for Dick O'Hare. Among those left behind was his baby daughter.

A 1961 graduate of Northville High

School, O'Hare notes that he began his search for his daughter after marrying wife Jodie in 1965.

"We were able to contact Mari's mother in Okinawa," O'Hare explains. "We kept in touch for the first year—then we lost all contact by the end of '65."

With only Mari's name, her mother's name and a birthdate to go on, O'Hare spent the next 19 years running into red tape and dead ends in his attempt to locate his daughter.

"I even hired a lawyer in Okinawa," he explains.

During that time, Dick and Jodie had two children—Steve, 19, and Kelli, 13.

O'Hare, a 15-year employee of Foundry Flask, credits his family and friends with giving him the support needed to continue his search despite countless setbacks.

"I wasn't going to quit," O'Hare notes. "I had to find out what happened to her."

A former post commander of the local VFW Post 4012, O'Hare says last year he noticed a mention of the Pearl S. Buck Foundation in a VFW magazine.

The Pennsylvania-based organization, dedicated to the general welfare of displaced children throughout the world, proved to be the key to O'Hare's

School closings recommended

By MICHELE M. FECHT

The closing of Cooke Junior High and Moraine Elementary School will be considered by the Northville Board of Education next Monday night following the recommendation of independent consultant Keith Goldhammer.

The closing of the district's two facilities was discussed in depth by Goldhammer during a board study session Monday night.

Goldhammer, hired by the district in October to serve as an advisory to the board in its decision to close schools, presented board members with a 31-page report outlining the findings of his study and the basis of his recommendation.

Residents interested in reading the report can check out a copy at the library, any of the elementary schools or at the school board office at 501 West Main.

Though Monday night's meeting was designed to give board members a first look at Goldhammer's report, an estimated 100 parents, teachers and administrators turned out at Northville High School to hear the recommendation.

Goldhammer, Dean Emeritus of the Michigan State University College of Education, told board members his recommendation for selecting schools for closure was based on a number of factors including building capacities, school sites, geographical dispersion, transportation costs, energy costs, educational effects, health and safety factors and neighborhood factors.

He noted that his recommendation to close an elementary and junior high school concurred with the findings of a Citizens' Advisory Committee recalled in August to study the school district's demographics and facilities.

The committee recommended to the board last month that the district close one or more schools during the 1985-86 school year to provide better educational opportunities for students, better utilization of facilities and staff, and control of expenses in the school district.

In outlining enrollment projections, Goldhammer noted that while birth statistics for Northville were not available, data from Wayne and Oakland counties indicated that for the next six or eight years the district will not have enrollment increases due to children from larger birth rate years moving through schools.

He noted that both counties have had a persistent decline in birth rate since 1970, excluding a brief increase in the late 1970s. In 1983, Wayne County had the lowest number of births since 1969.

In outlining data from SEMCOG, Goldhammer pointed out that an increase of 3,539 households is projected for the district between 1980 and 1995. However, he noted that should this increase occur, there would not be a comparable increase in school enrollments due to the declining number of school age children per household.

He noted that SEMCOG statistics from 1980 indicate a ratio of 37 children from 100 households in grades K-8, while 1995 projections suggest 29 children in grades K-8 per 100 households in the district. The 1980 estimate of 22 grade 9-12 students per 100 households will be reduced to 15 per 100 in 1995.

Goldhammer stated that, while SEMCOG assumes favorable conditions for growth in the area over the next 25 years, it also assumed that the installation of Super Sewer would be a factor in the population growth. Considering the status of the Super Sewer project, the SEMCOG projections need some reconsideration.

Goldhammer noted the four highest grades in the Northville school system have the largest enrollments of any grades in the district schools. He said that the total enrollment of grades 9-12 at 1,283 students is almost 70 percent greater than the K-3 enrollment of 755.

He pointed out that the declining student population at the elementary level has left present building capacity in the four elementary facilities at an average

Future voter

Christine Potter, 9, a student at St. Paul's Lutheran School, proudly displays the reply she received from President Reagan after she wrote him, saying, "Because people have died for us to vote, I think we should not waste the right of voting." He replied: "Dear Christine, I was pleased to hear from you and I appreciate your taking the time to write. Your friendship and support mean a great deal to me and I want you to know that I will always strive to justify the confidence you have placed in me. God bless you." Record photo by Rick Smith.

Offices close Monday

Veterans plan Sunday activities

This Sunday morning a contingent of members of Northville Post 4012 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars will gather at Rural Hill Cemetery in the veterans' memorial plot for an informal service of remembrance at 11 a.m.

Members of Lloyd H. Green Post 147 of the American Legion will continue their annual tradition of serving a community Veterans' Day breakfast from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. Sunday in the clubroom of the post home at 100 West Dunlap.

Veterans' Day 1984 is November 11 and continues the tradition nationally of honoring the unknown soldier at Arlington on the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month.

Locally, the VFW members plan to remember their departed veterans with a few words of tribute, taps and a prayer led by Henry Tiilikka, VFW Post 4012 chaplain. The brief ceremony will conclude by the post rifle squad firing a few rounds "to honor the deceased."

The American Legion breakfast will feature sausage, eggs and pancakes for $2.50 and is open to the public.

The day will be observed legally by some governmental units on Monday. Northville city offices and Northville Public Library will be closed. However, township offices will not be closed but report they will be open for business as usual.

There will be no mail delivery Monday as the post office will be closed. Wayne County offices also are to be closed Monday.

This year marks the seventh anniversary of the September 11 attacks.

Schoolcraft cuts spending rate

By TIM RICHARD

Because enrollment fell short of expectations, Schoolcraft College has pared its operating budget 1.1 percent. Vice presidents will not fill one English faculty vacancy, one-half of a sociology vacancy and a quarter-time administrative position, according to controller A.W. Raby.

The new budget, approved on a 6-0 vote of the board of trustees, is $17.8 million. Tuition and fees revenue was $245,000 less than expected, causing the college to dip $50,000 into its cash carryover from last year and to cut $195,000 from expenses, Schoolcraft president Richard McDowell said.

Expenses were cut by trimming $104,000 in jobs and $91,000 from fringe and contingency accounts.

Get ready for a big wad of computer contracts in November, Conway Jeffress, vice president for instruction, warned trustees. Contracts totaling $573,000 must be awarded all at once, Jeffress said. Reason for the big crunch: the month of November is the only time when the equipment can be ordered.

"The November date is quite critical because the federal vocational funds must be encumbered before the end of November, and Job Training Investment Funds cannot be encumbered before the start of November. So essentially all purchases must be encumbered within that 30-day period to take advantage of the match between state, federal and local funds," he said.

"Data processing and other computer-related courses are the fastest-growing segment of our enrollment," Jeffress said. "We are discovering that people in technical areas will not choose alternative courses or programs if they are unable to get the courses they want."

Schoolcraft is taking bids on: an IBM micro network expected to cost about $86,000; a prime computer console and terminals with computer-aided design (CAD) software, $292,000; and a prime computer, console and interface with communication devices, $196,000.

The college board hired the firm of Hoyem/Basso of Troy as its energy consultant, a job required under a federal technical assistance grant.

W. Kenneth Linder, vice president for business, recommended the firm because "1) their work in higher education is much more extensive, and 2) they know our buildings from working on other campus projects, and they currently serve the college on a retainer basis."

Altogether, three firms applied. The contract, under terms of a U.S. Department of Energy grant, is limited to $43,000.

The board extended congratulations to four persons who will retire December 31:

— Patrick Butler, after 22 years as library director. Butler was the third administrator hired by the fledgling community college in 1962.

— Olive V. Porter, retiring after 15 years as secretary in the college relations office.

— Marian Eisenstein, after 13 years as a clerk in the purchasing department.

In addition, the board granted emeritus status to two persons who retired May 31:

— Peter Altai, foreign language instructor for 20 years.

— Ralph B. Kelley, English instructor, author, drama coach and artist for 20 years.

The board accepted gifts to the college of nearly $3,800. Among them: — 12,950 pounds of scrap steel worth $1,295 from Industrial Metal Fabricators of Detroit and four tons of scrap steel worth $800 from Traffic Transport Engineering Company of Romulus, all for the welding program.

Local woman in Ford museum show

As final political appeals in the the campaigns of 1884 were being made last weekend on the eve of the election, Henry Ford Museum recreated speeches of the past during "Campaign USA!," a unique salute to the presidency at the museum.

The first of Victoria Woodhull, in 1872 the first woman to run for president, was taken by Northville resident Janice Mooney. Woodhull, a lesser-known historical personality, embraced a platform for the Equal Rights Party that included a plank of "free love."

As it pointed out that 1984 is the 50th time Americans have gone to the polls to elect their president, the museum program also reviewed the excitement, spirit, issues and humor of past presidential politics.

Visitors participated in a daily straw poll to determine the people's choice in 1884.

They also were invited to "keep the ball rolling," pushing along through the museum corridors a six-foot, multicolored ball addressed with slogans like "Tippecanoe and Tyler Too!" and "Log Cabin and Hard Cider." The museum reports that this particular activity recreated one of the first campaign gimmicks conceived, original to the 1840 campaign of William Henry Harrison.

Characters from the past included humorists Mark Twain and Will Rogers. The latter is credited with commenting, "If I was a politician, I would just pick out one good speech and stay with it. But if a politician was that smart, he wouldn't be a politician."

College hosts library computer meeting

"Micros Bit by Bit," a conference by the Southeastern Michigan League of Libraries, was held recently at Schoolcraft College and coordinated by librarians Graham Burrell and Jeanne Bonner.

Seventy-seven librarians and vendors from around the state heard Helen Helly, database services librarian from Western Michigan University, and Selden Deemers, systems officer of the University of Michigan, discuss the selection, installation and maintenance of various computer hardware and software for library use. Panelists representing local libraries and community college librarians related their personal experiences with specific software applications.

Following a luncheon at La Gastronomie Restaurant, the group participated in equipment demonstrations and hands-on sessions utilizing hardware and software supplied by representatives of Computer Horizons in Livonia, Inacom of Novi, and Schoolcraft College.

According to Burrell, the visitors to the campus rated the conference as excellent and were particularly impressed with college facilities and services.

G. Mennen Williams spoke at lab dedication ceremonies

State Police's Northville lab receives ASCLD approval

The Michigan State Police Northville Forensic Science Laboratory received formal accreditation by the American Society of Crime Laboratory Directors in a special ceremony at the lab October 29.

The lab underwent a comprehensive and rigorous series of inspections to demonstrate that the management, operations, personnel, procedures and instruments, physical plant and security, and personnel safety procedures met an extensive list of standards. The Northville crime lab, and other MSP facilities in Bridgeport, Grand Rapids and Grayling, not only met the standards, but exceeded them.

Lab director James Hauncher said the the Northville facility was only the 29th in the nation to be accredited under the program begun two years ago. There are more than 240 such laboratories nationwide.

The inspection committee consisted of Chairman Ray Herd, director of the Northwest Louisiana Criminalistics Laboratory; Dr. Henry C. Lee, chief criminologist with the Connecticut State Bureau of Identification, state police crime lab; and Douglas M. Lucas, director of the Center for Forensic Science in Toronto.

Guest speaker at last week's ceremony was Michigan Supreme Court Chief Justice G. Mennen Williams. Also attending were Chief Robert Huff, president of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, and Bernard Gysen, executive director of the Michigan Sheriff's Association.

Women execs host tax expert

The Professional Women's Network continues its 1984-85 season with a breakfast meeting at the Farmington Community Center from 7:30-9 a.m. Friday.

The network, open to all professional women in the area, meets on the second Friday of each month, September through June, for its morning program.

The speaker for the November meeting will be James R. Hicks, a certified financial planner with Residential Property Management Corporation.

He will discuss tax sheltering, in particular the best methods for an individual's special needs.

Reservations are $5 per person and should be made by today. For reservation call the Farmington Community Center, 24705 Farmington Road, at 477-8404.

Cooke, Moraine closings considered of 61 percent. Amerman, with a capacity for 706 students, currently has the lowest usage with only 44.2 percent of the facility utilized.

Moraine, with a capacity for 521 students, has the highest facility utilization at 75.6 percent.

Goldhammer pointed out that Moraine, built in 1967, constitutes the most severe problems for the maintenance of its instructional program due to its sub-standard class size.

He noted that 11 of the building's classrooms have only 550 square feet, which permits an enrollment of only 18 pupils — considerably less than the 28-pupil average maintained by the board of education for grades 1-6.

Goldhammer stated that, despite space restrictions, these classrooms are housing the full enrollments in accordance with district policy. He further stated that "children and teachers are huddled together in the rooms, making movement awkward at best."

He added that Cooke has similar problems with five classrooms having capacity for only 22 students and 16 classrooms with capacity for 23 pupils.

Goldhammer stated that all elementary schools in the district are on adequate acreage sites. However, he said that Cooke, on a 10-acre site, is the same size as the elementary schools. In comparison, Meads Mill is situated on an 18.5 acre site.

In outlining geographical dispersion and transportation costs, Goldhammer explained that if Moraine were closed, the smallest number of additional K-5 students would have to be bused.

He said that Moraine currently buses

287 of its 394 students — the highest number of the four elementary schools. In comparison, he noted that only 89 of the 443 pupils at Winchester are transported.

Goldhammer said that, if Moraine were closed, the district would only have to bus an additional 92 students at a cost of approximately $28,484. In comparison, it would cost an additional $72,784 to bus 292 students from Winchester.

However, it would cost approximately $58,608 to bus 228 additional students from the Cooke area in comparison to $39,337 for Meads Mill.

It is estimated that the additional transportation costs if both Moraine and Cooke are closed would be approximately $87,092.

In outlining educational effects, Goldhammer noted the most significant factor lies in the amount of space available for instructional activities.

He pointed out that 70 percent of the classrooms in Moraine are inadequate and will provide various restrictions upon the instructional program.

He added that the only alternative would be to accept the need for extremely small classes which would cause instructional costs to increase sharply.

Goldhammer made similar observations about Cooke. He noted that 21 of the facility's 24 regular classrooms are smaller than desirable for housing the district's standard number of pupils per section.

In comparison, he said the openness of Meads Mill, which is twice the size of Cooke, provides a better environment for the range of learning activities required.

He pointed out that, while facilities alone do not make for an effective instructional program, the availability or the restriction of facilities can affect the quality of the instructional program.

Goldhammer noted that one of the problems currently facing the district is the inability to provide a full program for some areas within a single building due to a low number of students involved.

To provide for students' needs, the district employs 17 teachers who teach in more than one building. The "traveling teacher" problem is particularly prevalent at the junior high level.

Goldhammer observed that, while this system is better than allowing students to do without, it does not permit the integration of these teachers into the staff of one building and does not permit sufficient flexibility in programming for students.

In outlining neighborhood factors, Goldhammer noted that Moraine has the highest percentage of transported children and is the chief feeder school for students who live in the areas of the district which have the sparsest population.

He noted that he was not able to discern that one junior high would have an advantage over the other when considering neighborhood factors. However, he pointed out that by closing Cooke, the district would further reduce the concentration of pupils in the area around the high school and provide for better dispersion of students throughout the district.

Though factors supporting the closing of Cooke and Moraine outweighed considerations for retaining the buildings, Goldhammer noted that keeping Cooke open would result in a larger financial savings to the district due to lower energy and transportation costs.

He also noted that Moraine has the lowest energy costs of any of the other buildings in the district. However, he pointed out that it also is one of the oldest facilities and does not have the openness of the newer facilities.

Financial savings for the district to close two of its facilities was estimated at $412,000 excluding additional transportation costs.

Goldhammer noted that at the elementary level, the estimated savings for the first year would amount to approximately $224,585. Second year savings would be slightly higher.

At the junior high level, the closing would result in a saving of $187,726. The amount is less than the elementary school since there is no savings in teachers' salaries.

Goldhammer noted that it may be possible to reduce the elementary teaching staff by two teachers if a school is closed. However, at the junior high level, the transfer to the middle school would most likely not reduce staffing ratios at that level.

A savings of $41,526 also was estimated for the elimination of two principal's posts based on the current average of principal's salaries, plus fringe benefits and minus costs for unemployment benefits. Should principals be reassigned as classroom teachers, the unemployment costs would not be involved.

Other savings would come from the elimination of custodial salaries and substitutes, maintenance, water, telephone, secretarial salaries, office supplies, energy, library aides, etc.

Parents protest closing recommendation

Though Monday's Northville Board of Education meeting was designed as a study session for board members to review the recommendation of consultant Keith Goldhammer, residents and parents crowded into the high school cafeteria to voice their concerns about shutting down district schools.

At the conclusion of Goldhammer's two-hour presentation and the board's question and answer period, board president Jean Hansen accepted questions from the audience.

While questions were to be directed to Goldhammer regarding his report, most of the residents addressing the board spoke against the recommendation.

Many of the residents with children in the Moraine and Cooke area opposed the recommendation to shut down two schools on the same side of the district.

The Citizens' Advisory Committee which recommended the board close one or more schools by the next school year had requested that "every effort be made to avoid closing both on the same side of the school district."

Cindy LaChance of Morgan Circle told board members that when the bond issue was passed for the high school renovation, residents understood that the facility was to be used by the entire community.

She told the board she hoped that when students are placed in Meads Mill that efforts are made to insure that they have access to the renovated facility.

Norma Beemer echoed those remarks and said she hoped that students "marooned at Meads Mill" will be able to take advantage of the high school offerings — such as advanced classes.

Goldhammer noted that taking advanced classes at the junior high level is implemented next year, the ninth grade will be part of the senior high structure.

Residents Brenda Gardner and Sue Holstein expressed concern over transportation safety and requested the board implement better safety precautions should it close schools.

Holstein noted in particular that the board should "clean up the road" before busing all middle school students to Meads Mill.

Several residents told the board they felt that the financial savings estimated by the consultant was not worth the cost of closing two schools.

Harry Howard, a principal in the consulting firm, questioned whether "the group here tonight is representative of the entire community?"

He noted that there will be more savings should the board lease or sell the vacant buildings.

"The taxpayers have to decide if they want to eat up the cost," Howard said in reference to maintaining buildings at 40-50 percent capacity.

"You can hold it off to the point where schools are so small you have an inferior educational program."

Unchanged at 7.32 mills

County board sets 1984 tax rate

Wayne County property tax rates will remain the same as last year. The county board of commissioners set the rate at 7.32 mills October 25.

Any tax revenue change to the county, therefore, will come only from altered valuations. The general tax spread is against the SEV, or state equalized valuation of personal and real property. The SEV is computed at 50 percent of the true market value. One mill means one dollar tax for each $1,000 SEV. Thus a $100,000 home will have a $50,000 SEV and pay $366 to the county. An $80,000 home with $40,000 SEV pays $292.80.

Total property value throughout the county has actually dropped somewhat since last year — it was $18.97 billion in 1983 and is $18.06 billion this year. Total county property tax collections will drop by $14,000 as a result.

The county general fund will receive $132.2 million of which $4.5 million is earmarked as its share of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Park Authority operation. Huron-Clinton operates 10 metroparks in Wayne, Macomb, Washtenaw, Oakland and Livingston counties. County money is used to defray the expenditures of county offices, department, and activities, including .25 mills for Huron Clinton. The portion directed to county operations is 7.07 mills.

The county tax rate is only one of several that appear on tax bills. Other millage rates are added by local governments, school and community college districts.

Booth watcher

Girl Scout Valerie Bassin, 9, a fourth grader in Irja Wuestnick's class at Amerman, found herself with her hands full on Election Day. As election official for her classroom, Valerie was responsible for registering voters and manning the voting booth while her classmates cast their ballots. It appears that Mrs. Wuestnick's students lean more toward the Republican ticket. Ronald Reagan received 20 votes in yesterday's election with Walter Mondale winning over only 6 students. Police Blotters

Arson suspected in fire at haunted house building

In the Township...

Northville township police are investigating a November 4 fire in a building on the Wayne County Child Development Center property on Sheldon.

The fire, spotted by a resident at approximately 10:30 p.m., caused an estimated $500 damage to the second floor of a building on the property.

A township officer was at the fire station when notified that the building used by the Northville Jaycees for its Haunted House was on fire.

Upon arrival at the scene, the officer found the second story on the southside of the building in flames.

Control of the fire was turned over to the Northville Township Fire Department.

ment. Upon the fire department's arrival, the officer spoke with Sergeant Rick Roselle who stated that the fire had been set in two separate locations in side-by-side rooms on the building's second floor.

Northville township police and fire officials were called to a Beck Road residence November 4 to help extinguish a 1977 Mercury Bobcat which caught fire while the owner was working on it.

According to Sergeant Rick Roselle of the Northville Township Fire Department, the fire was caused by a leaking gas line into the carburetor. Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $1,000.

A radar detector valued at $275 was stolen from a 1981 Honda Accord parked at Northville Charley's sometime between 8:30 and 10 p.m. October 30, police report.

The complainant told police unknown subjects broke the driver's door window and stole the radar detector and the rear view mirror.

The officer at the scene inspected the vehicle and found the driver's door window had been broken out. Damage was estimated at $100.

Unknown persons caused an estimated $200 damage to the front lawn of a Ladywood residence sometime between 7 p.m. November 2 and 5 p.m. November 4, township police report.

The complainant told police, unknown subjects drove a vehicle across his lawn. He further stated that he has an underground sprinkling system and is not sure whether the system is damaged as a result of the incident.

...from State Police

A would-be auto thief spoiled his own plans November 2 when he inadvertently beeped the horn on a Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital truck he was attempting to steal.

A maintenance man at the hospital reported that he parked the 1980 Dodge pickup truck in front of the maintenance building while he went inside to pick up some parts. He said he had been inside for about 10 minutes when he heard the truck's horn sounding.

He went outside to investigate, he told police, and spotted a white male, age 18-21 behind the wheel of truck. The suspect leapt from the truck and ran into a field south of the maintenance building when sighted.

Police found the ignition lock had been pried apart in an effort to jumpstart the truck. No other damage was done to the vehicle.

Two drivers suffered minor injuries October 23 in an accident on Seven Mile Road, state police reports indicate.

Barney Heintz, 77, of 605 Horton was cited for crossing the centerline and causing the collision, the report states. He was driving westbound on Seven Mile at 5:10 p.m., police determined, when he crossed the centerline by as much as 30 inches and collided with an eastbound car driven by Harold Jensen of Nine Mile Road.

Both Heintz and Jensen reportedly suffered minor injuries when the front

State Police made repeated runs to the Wayne County Child Development Center in the last week before Halloween, responding to complaints of trespassing and break-ins at the Jaycee Haunted House.

Jaycees reported at least one break-in. Someone kicked in the wood panels covering the windows of the vacant building where the haunted house was operating. The windows had been broken previously — the boards were put up by the Jaycees to darken the interior of the building.

Police checked the site periodically during the run of haunted house. One check shortly after midnight October 30 turned up evidence that someone had been on the grounds shortly before police arrived, but a search for trespassers was not fruitful.

...In the City

A 78-year-old Detroit man was robbed of $300 in winnings he had just collected at Northville Downs Saturday night, according to a city police department report. The visitor to the track was near the lower grandstand stairs between 10:40 and 10:43 p.m. when an unidentified black male dropped his program in front of him. While the Detroit man halted, a second black male reached in to his right front pocket and seized the cash. The Detroit man pursued the man who took the cash, but was unable to locate him. Police will continue to investigate.

A report of an October 29 pickpocket incident at Northville Downs was determined later to be unfounded, as the complainant found the wallet and cash he had reported stolen.

A radar detector valued at $300 and a wallet containing $140 in currency were stolen between 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Saturday from a locked 1982 black Ford Mustang parked in a Hutton Street lot.

A 32-year-old man, a resident of Northville Park Apartments, prompted complaints of indecent exposure from two visitors to one of his apartment complex neighbors last Saturday. The naked man was observed by police officers through the windows of his first-floor apartment, where he was plainly visible to passers-by. It was his wandering naked into the apartment building hallway that prompted the complaints of two visitors of his neighbor.

A statement explaining his behavior was obtained from the man. In it, he claimed he did not think he had done anything wrong. He further explained he had not yet bought curtains for the apartment and stated he would dress more discreetly in the future. He said he entered the hallway of the apartment building to get a look at his parked car.

As of yesterday morning, police could not yet contact the local prosecutor to determine whether there were grounds for a warrant.

A car belonging to Northville resident Salvatore Caruso was "totaled" Saturday when it slipped from park into reverse gear while Caruso was posting a letter.

In Uniform

selected throughout the Department of the Navy upon graduation from basic training. Generally, a graduation group consists of 10 to 12 companies of 80 men each.

The son of Kent P. Mathes and An-nalee C. Mathes, both of Northville, Mathes, 18, joined the Navy's delayed entry program in August of 1983 at the recruiting office in Plymouth, 819 Pen-niman.

Private Harry A. (Andy) Earehart, son of Albert and Jean Earehart and formerly of Northville, graduated from U.S. Army Basic Training at Fort Jackson, South Carolina, on October 2. He is now stationed at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio for 10 weeks' training as a medic.

Seminary, college slate blood drives

A blood donation takes only one-half hour, is relatively painless and can save up to four lives, reports the American Red Cross.

Accident victims, surgery patients and newborn babies are just a few types of people who may need blood. Just one donation can be separated into components — plasma, platelets, red cells — to help more than one patient.

Blood can be donated by anyone in good general health between the ages of 17 and 65 who weighs at least 110 pounds.

Red Cross bloodmobiles will visit two nearby sites in November. In addition, donations are accepted at the Livonia Donor Center, Bell Creek Office Plaza, 29691 West Six Mile, Suite 100 C. Livonia, between 2 and 8 p.m. Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Fridays and from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturdays.

Bloodmobiles will be at Schoolcraft College, 18600 Haggerty Road, November 15 from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. and at St. John's Seminary, 4401 Five Mile Road, November 18 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

To make an appointment at Schoolcraft, contact Ann Hall, RN, at 591-6400 extension 388. For an appointment at St. John's, contact Tom Renaud at 453-6200.

To make an appointment at the donor center, or to learn other bloodmobile locations in Livonia or Plymouth during November, contact the donor center at 494-2881 or 494-2856.

Red Cross celebrates 75th year in Detroit

The American Red Cross will celebrate 75 years in Detroit with a Diamond Jubilee Luncheon Tuesday, November 13, in the ballroom of the Engineering Society of Detroit Conference Center (Rackham Building) at 100 Farnsworth Avenue, Detroit.

Leonard Woodcock, former UAW

president, first U.S. ambassador to the People's Republic of China and adjunct professor of political science at the University of Michigan, will be the featured speaker.

Tickets for the event are available at $15 per person from the Southeast Michigan Chapter of the American Red Cross. For ticket information, call 494-2855 between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The event is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Franklin Leimbach of Dearborn. It culminates a year-long celebration under the direction of co-chairmen Leo J. Brennan, Jr. of Birmingham and Mrs. Perry Tewart of Grosse Pointe.

Another feature of the anniversary celebration has been a Detroit Historical Museum exhibit, "The American Red Cross in Detroit: 75 years of People Helping People." The exhibit runs through November 18.

Mall collects canned goods

The Northville Plaza Mall Merchants' Association is seeking donations of canned goods, toys and clothing for the Civic Concern organization.

Two boxes have been set up in the mall, and donations are being accepted now through Christmas Eve.

Veteran united with daughter

unsolved puzzle.

On March 10, 1983, two months after his initial request for assistance, O'Hare received word from the foundation that Mari had been located.

"I just couldn't believe it," O'Hare recalls. "If it wasn't for the Buck Foundation, there's no way I would have found this kid."

O'Hare explains that despite his own relief and joy, he was prepared to face rejection.

"My intention was not to disrupt her life," he says. "I told the foundation that if she did not want to contact me that was fine."

However, in July, 1983, O'Hare received the first of many letters from his eldest daughter.

For Mari, word that her father was alive and looking for her came as quite a surprise. O'Hare explains that someone told her he was killed in Vietnam in 1968.

During the last year, Mari and her family continued their correspondence while O'Hare worked to get Mari's citizenship papers.

O'Hare notes that Northville attorney and former NHS classmate David Jerome was invaluable in helping to obtain citizenship for Mari.

On August 14, the O'Hares received notice that Mari was a citizen of both Japan and the United States.

O'Hare explains that with dual citizenship Mari will have an opportunity to live in either country — depending on what she decides to do in the future. There already has been some talk of Mari attending college in Michigan.

The long awaited October 21 reunion took place after months of planning and eager anticipation.

O'Hare explains that while Mari travels constantly between Okinawa and Tokyo in her job with a video recording company, she had not traveled outside of Japan until her current three-week visit in Northville.

He notes that she has been welcomed with open arms by her newfound family and friends and has seen just about all there is to see of Northville.

"I've lived here all my life," says O'Hare, who currently lives on Langfield. "Northville is typical of the America I want her to see."

He notes that prior to Mari's arrival he attempted a course in Japanese at Schoolcraft College but opted to hire a tutor instead.

Though Mari does not speak English, father and daughter have had little trouble communicating.

Perhaps it is because love is an international language.

Local Veterans Day activities set

say off the return of the observance to November 11 by veterans' groups. From 1971 to 1977, the day was observed on the fourth Monday in October in compliance with a 1968 law that changed most national holidays to Mondays.

Believing, however, that the November 11 date held great significance for this country, Congress passed a law in 1977 returning the holiday to November 11. It became effective in 1978, the 60th anniversary of the World War I armistice.

The Veterans' Administration notes that this year's observance is an occasion to pay tribute to the 1,081,000 Americans who have died in the defense of their country in all American wars since 1776, and to more than 28 million living former servicemembers who served during both war and peace.

Today's population of living veterans, including those who served in more than one period, is made up as follows: World War II, 39 percent; Vietnam, 29 percent; Korea, 19 percent; peacetime, 18 percent; and World War I, less than 1 percent. Only 22 veterans, America's oldest, remain from the Spanish American War.

This year, for the first time, the nation will be paying special tribute to its 1.2 million women military veterans.

President Reagan has signed a Congressional resolution proclaiming November 11-17 as "National Women Veterans Recognition Week." It calls for an observance to "create greater public awareness and recognition of the contributions of women veterans, to express the nation's appreciation for their service and to inspire more responsive care and services for women veterans."

Women veterans make up 4.1 percent of the 28.2 million total veteran population. Latest figures on estimated population of women veterans show Michigan with 39,100.

Record photographer's work featured at one-man show

John M. Galloway, Sliger/Livingston photographer whose work is familiar to Northville Record readers, will have his first one-man show, "Surrealistic Photography," at the Cromaine Library in the Village of Hartland from November 10-24.

Opening reception is from 2-5 p.m. Saturday. The show is being presented by the Hartland Art Council.

A demonstration and lecture will be given at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday. Both the reception and lecture are open to the public.

The show, Galloway explains, is an unusual combination of photography and graphic arts. He says he conceived the concept as it is "exciting and one that not many other people are doing."

The Howell resident has been a photographer with the Livingston County Press, now part of the Sliger/Livingston Publications, since 1973.

While this is his first one-man show, Galloway's work was presented in a show in Milford in April, 1983, with that of artist Curtis Watkins.

He also has done the photographs for a book, "To Be Loved and Accepted," produced in 1977 for the Michigan Department of Education. He has done work in television, slide and video presentations.

The library gallery is open Monday through Saturday. For hours call 632-5200.

Sorority to sponsor auction Monday

Alpha Nu Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma is holding a "Talent and Artifacts Auction" at 7 p.m. Monday, November 12, at the Marquis Theatre.

Proceeds from the event will go toward a scholarship fund for a deserving Northville High School student.

The talents and artifacts have been donated by Alpha Nu members.

Coffee and desserts will be available. The public is welcome to attend.

Workshop teachers

9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. November 17 at Main Street Elementary. All materials are provided for making the 12-inch wreath at a cost of $13, a 15-inch wreath at $16, or an 18-inch wreath at $18. Record photo by Steve Fecht.

Plymouth orchestra group sponsors music competition

The Plymouth Symphony Society will hold its Third Young Artists' Competition on Saturday, January 26, at the Plymouth Salem High School Auditorium.

A first prize of $1,000 is made available through a grant from the Michigan Foundation for the Arts. In addition, the Plymouth Symphony Society will award two prizes of $500 each. All prize winners will perform in concert with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra on March 3.

The competition is open to orchestral and piano musicians who are high school graduates under 26 years of age as of December 31. All applicants should be permanent residents of, or have parents who are residents of, the State of Michigan. The contest is open to all students enrolled in a degree program at a college, university or conservatory.

The intent of this competition is to encourage young musicians who are not yet "seasoned" performers. This does not necessarily exclude those who have performed or soloed with a symphony orchestra, but it does eliminate full-time employees of nationally known orchestras.

The deadline for applications and tapes is December 5. For an application and additional information, write Mrs. Ralph Bozell, 45897 Denise Drive, Plymouth, 48170, or call 455-6512.

Get recipes in by Friday

We think almost everyone has a special recipe — one that brings raves and is made and served often. We hope you'll want to share it with our readers.

Sliger-Livingston Publications is planning to publish a collection of recipes submitted by readers in a Christmas season tabloid December 5. In a sense, it will be a "present" from all who submitted their favorite recipes.

The recipes can be geared to any season, however. All must be clearly written or typed and should include standard cooking measurements. Please proof read carefully before dropping them off or mailing them to The Northville Record, 104 West Main, Northville, Michigan, 48167.

This Friday is the deadline for submitting the recipes.

At the bottom of the recipe, please include your name, town and telephone number (in case we have questions when we type set them.)

We really want to hear from you. Northville has so many good cooks.

Writing for business class offered

Schoolcraft College's Continuing Education/Community Services Division announces three new and just-starting courses. Further information on the courses can be obtained by calling 591-6400, extension 409. The programs are:

- Writing for Management Success

(AMA Certificate Program), a six-week course beginning November 6 and meeting from 7-9:30 p.m. Tuesdays. Recognizing that executives spend about 70 percent of their time communicating, and that much of this communication is written, this step-by-step guide to effective writing contains numerous examples of good and bad writing, and many exercises to aid in putting the principles used to work. 1.5 CEU's will be awarded, fee is $150.

- Window Insulation will be offered from 7 to 10 p.m. November 8 for a $15 fee. This workshop will demonstrate how to rate and select insulating window treatments to reduce heat loss or excessive heat gains. Material samples will be displayed.
- Hors d'oeuvres for the Holidays is being offered November 29 from 7-10 p.m. for a $15 fee. Learn to prepare hors d'oeuvres in a microwave. Such items as mini-drumsticks, stuffed grape leaves, caviar mold, Greek spinach balls and cocktail puffs will be prepared in class. Recipes will be furnished.

Holiday workshop for kids

In the spirit of Christmas past, Northville Historical Society will host its Fifth Annual Children's Christmas Workshop from 1-3 p.m. December 1 in the New School Church in Mill Race Village.

Children in grades 1-6 are invited to participate in an afternoon of fun and crafts.

Although the projects planned are to be Christmas surprises, youngsters will be making early-American decorations and gifts with natural materials.

Planners Carol Jean Stockhausen and Lucia Danes, both former art teachers, guarantee all participants will leave with a shopping bag full of old-fashioned gifts wrapped and ready for the holidays.

Due to space limitations, only the first 75 children enrolled will be accepted.

To enroll a child, deliver name, address and a $7 check made payable to the Northville Historical Society to 218 Dunlap, Northville. Registration deadline is November 21.

Workshop planners also are asking that anyone with junior sized baby food jars bring them to the Dunlap address with registration.

Parents are asked to park in the Griswold parking lot and walk children over the bridge to New School Church directly ahead.

Galbraith photos in premier show

James Galbraith, Sliger/Livingston Publications chief photographer whose work is familiar to readers of The Record, is among 10 photographers featured in the premier show of the William Pelletier Gallery in Ann Arbor.

The gallery will conduct an opening reception November 17 from 7-10 p.m. The public is invited to meet the artists whose work is displayed and to join in refreshments.

The gallery is upstairs at 213½ S. Main Street between Washington and Liberty in Ann Arbor. Hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, and by appointment.

In addition to Galbraith, other photographers featured in the opening show are Jay Asquini, Howard Bond, David Capps, Darcy Drewe Greene, James McKean, Monte Nagler, William Pelletier, David Smith and Brett Weston.

Preschool holiday classes

New Morning School will offer preschool Christmas classes for little ones to enjoy while parents prepare for the holidays.

Two class themes will be offered this year for three-to-six years olds. Each class meets from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. and costs $25 plus a $3 materials fee.

The offering on Tuesdays from November 27 to December 18 or Wednesdays from November 28 to December 19 is Preschool Christmas Crafts. This class teaches youngsters to create Christmas ornaments, crafts, wrapping paper and presents for special people while busy parents prepare for the holidays. The child should bring a large shirt box to the first class.

The other theme is Holiday Traditions and Lore; it meets Thursdays November 29 to December 20. Stories, crafts and songs will be related to Christmas customs in other countries. December 6 will feature celebration of a German Christmas. Hanukkah traditions and activities will be included in

CPAs offer free finance seminar

Lee Holland, C.P.A., of Holland, Newton and Associates, and Gerald Davis, attorney from the firm of Cummings, McClorey and Davis and Acho, P.C., will discuss the importance of financial planning for all levels of income in a free workshop at 7 p.m. November 14.

"Anyone who is concerned about his or her financial well-being can benefit from a professionally developed and executed financial plan," Holland said in announcing the workshop.

He explains they will speak objectively "about this formal financial tool which enables a professional financial planner to develop a strategy which helps to identify personal financial goals and shows you how they may be achieved."

Included will be a discussion of what services a person has a right to expect from a financial planner as well as details on how such a plan will be implemented.

Anyone interested should call Holland, Newton and Associates at 349-5400 to make reservations. Space is limited.

Serving alcohol topic of course

Just in time for the holiday season, Schoolcraft College offers "Responsible Alcohol Management" from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. November 13 and 20 for persons in the hospitality industry who are responsible for serving and dispensing alcoholic beverages.

The course covers proven techniques for reducing problems associated with intoxication, and stresses courtesy, hospitality and teamwork to prevent alterations, handle false I.D.s and acutely discontinue service to intoxicated patrons.

The instructor is Robert Ernst, a management consultant with 35 years' experience in the restaurant and bar industry.

The course fee is $30 and .6 continuing education units and a certificate will be available. Enrollment is limited. Contact Community Services at 591-6400 for registration information.

OLV events set

All young adults of the community are invited to join young adults of Our Lady of Victory Church for a hayride and barn party at Sugarbush Farms in Ypsilanti November 18.

Those participating are to meet in the church parking lot at 5:15 p.m. to form car pools to Sugarbush Farms.

Cost is $5 a person with tickets available now at the parish office at 770 Thayer.

Walkin' & singin'

Walkin' Jim Stoltz will step to the microphone at 8 p.m. Saturday to open the Raven coffeehouse series at the Northville Community Center. Author of dozens of songs celebrating his travels in and observations of America, Walkin' Jim has just finished recordings for his first album, Spirit is Still on the Run, with a December release date expected. The well-traveled troubadour has literally seen the country by foot, hiking from east coast to west and from Mexico to Canada. His catalogue of dozens of original songs includes humorous ditties like The Ballad of Liver-Eatin' Johnston as well as solemn folk tunes describing the people and other natural wonders he's encountered in his travels. Tickets for his performance at the Northville Community Center are $7.50 per couple, $4 individually. Snacks and refreshments will be available. Record photo by Steve Fecht.

Diet Pill Sweeping U.S.

New Grapefruit 'Super Pill' Gives Fast Weight Loss

No Dieting - Eat All You Want
Pill Does All the Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA. (Special)—An amazing new "super" grapefruit pill has recently been developed and perfected that reportedly "guarantees" that you will easily lose at least 10 pounds in 10 days. Best of all, it allows you to "eat as much as you want of your favorite foods and still lose a pound a day or more starting from the very first day until you achieve the ideal weight and figure you desire."

This "super" grapefruit pill is a dramatically improved version of the world famous grapefruit diet. It is far more effective than the original and eliminates "the mess, fuss, and high cost of eating half a fresh grapefruit at every meal."

"Pill Does All the Work"

According to the manufacturer, "the pill itself does all the work" while you quickly lose weight with NO starvation "diet menus" to follow, NO calorie counting, NO exercise, and NO hunger pangs. "It is 100% safe. You simply take the pill with a glass of water before each meal and the amazing combination of powerful ingredients are so effective they take over and you start losing weight immediately."

Pill Has ALL Daily Vitamins

The powerful and unique combination of ingredients are what make this a "super-pill". It contains highly potent grapefruit concentrate and a diuretic to help eliminate bloat and puffiness. No need to take any vitamins to maintain your good health and energy. The pill is fortified with ALL (100%) of the U.S. Government daily vitamin requirements.

Each pill also contains an amazingly effective amount of "glucomannan", the remarkable natural dietary fiber discovery from Japan (used successfully for over 1500 years) that expands in your stomach and gives you a full and satisfied feeling all day long.

The super-pill is already sweeping the country with glowing reports of easy and fast weight loss from formerly overweight people in all walks of life who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Now Available to Public

You can order your supply of these highly successful "super" grapefruit pills (now available directly from the manufacturer by mail order only) by sending $12 for a 14-day supply (or $20 for a 30-day supply, or $35 for a 60-day supply) cash, check, or money order to: Citrus Industries, 9903 Santa Monica Bl., Dept. W24, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. (Unconditional money-back guarantee if not satisfied.) Visa, MasterCard, and Amer. Express OK. (Send card number, expiration date, and signature.) For fastest service for credit card orders ONLY call toll free 1-(800)-862-6262, ext. W24. Copyright 1984.

Our Opinions

Enrollment drop mandates closings

Next Monday, the Northville Board of Education will make one of its most difficult decisions in recent years. Upon the recommendation of a citizens' committee and an independent consultant, the school board will decide whether to close two of the district's facilities.

Should the board follow the suggestion of consultant Keith Goldhammer, Cooke Junior High and Moraine Elementary will close at the start of the 1985-86 school year. As we see it, such action may be the board's only alternative in the face of declining enrollment and increased costs.

Despite claims to the contrary, the prospect of closing schools has prevailed in this district for many years. Two years ago a citizens' committee recommended the closing of at least one school building in light of declining enrollment. While the renovation of the high school facility and the implementation of the middle school curriculum took precedent over that committee's recommendation, school closings always have been an inevitable reality. In our opinion, it is time the district faced that reality.

As outlined by Goldhammer in his report, the district's persistent decline in enrollment has left most school facilities operating at slightly more than 50 percent capacity. While many contend that the district's population has the potential to blossom during the next five to 10 years, we see little evidence to substantiate such claims. Student enrollment in this district is at its lowest point in more than a decade.

It is our opinion that the district no longer can afford the luxury of maintaining half empty school buildings. Last April voters approved a 2.5 mill increase just to maintain the current program. We doubt that taxpayers will pay much — if any — more. The responsibility for alleviating the district's current deficit is in the hands of the school board.

There's no doubt that schools are this community's largest investment. More tax dollars go toward the education of our children than anything else. While we believe it is money well spent, we also think it should be money wisely spent.

It must also be pointed out that 70 percent of the taxpayers in this district do not have children attending the Northville Public Schools. As board trustee Karen Wilkison stated last Monday, the school district has an obligation to serve the entire community — not just those using its schools.

The appointment of an independent consultant to advise the board in its decision was, in our opinion, money well spent. Goldhammer's expertise in this area was reflected in his thorough and detailed report to the board. We agree with his recommendation to close Moraine in light of his research. However, we have some reservations about shutting down Cooke at a time when the high school facility is under renovation.

We share the concerns of parents who face the possibility of watching their child's school shut down. Should the board approve the consultant's recommendation, considerable effort will have to be made to bring the district back to the norm before the start of a new school year.

We hope public animosity will not hinder an already difficult community situation. We have seen other school districts divided over the issue of school closings and hope this is not the case in Northville.

Congratulations

Predictions that a woman's name will be on the ballot in all future presidential elections sound reasonable to us. While Geraldine Ferraro was not the first woman to have her name on a presidential ballot, she has the distinction of being the first on a major party ticket.

When the National Organization for Women was credited with updating the country's concept of women's activities with such paraphrased slogans as, "A woman's place is in the House — and the Senate," it brought smiles but also an awareness of change.

Locally, both the city and township have benefited from the contributions of its women citizens.

Congratulations are in order for township clerk Susan Heintz, who earned her opportunity to run for supervisor in Tuesday's election. She is a professional who gave hours of her time beyond what was expected in the clerk's post. We also are pleased to have Georgina Goss step into the clerk's place. She has served many administrations and is knowledgeable about township government.

Last month Norma Vernon received the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce's annual Citizen of the Year Award for her contributions to the beautification programs of both the city and township. She became the first woman to receive the honor — a well deserved one for untold hours of volunteer time. She not only assisted in planning for the beautification of downtown Northville, but, as last year's recipient Dewey Gardner commented, "she donned her green slacks and got down on her knees to plant hundreds of bulbs."

Congratulations also are due Harriet Welland, who was named Woman of the Year last month by the Northville Business and Professional Women. Previously, her organizational abilities had been most visible as co-curator of the Wash Oak School in Mill Race Historical Village. The award cited also her contributions to the allied health division of Henry Ford Community College. She became a role model for many students as the only women administrator at the division level. She served in that capacity until her retirement in 1982.

Bumper cars on the Champs Elysees

In a recent conversation with a co-worker, she informed me that among the most stressful periods in a person's life are marriage, a long trip and a change of residence.

If I understand this correctly, I've spent the past three weeks bringing on stress.

Granted, the marriage and change of residence seem to go hand-in-hand. (None of this living together before marriage stuff, right mom?) However, the timing of the long trip was by choice.

Though Steve and I planned our honeymoon trip to France for more than a year, the day of our departure came all too soon. I suspect that if we had packed our bags sometime before 2 a.m. the morning of our departure we would have felt slightly less panicked. Nevertheless, we were too busy hauling wedding gifts into our new apartment for our first trip to Europe.

The prospect of my first trip abroad was exciting as well as a little intimidating. Though Steve had traveled to Romania as a college student, it was hardly a pleasure trip. We decided that despite our inexperience as international globetrotters, we were going to enjoy every moment of what might be our only chance to travel outside our own continent.

I guess that my almost lifetime longing to visit France stems from my first French class in the fourth grade with Madame Bouche. I confess that while I continued French lessons well into high school, my language skills are mediocre at best. I always was more interested in studying the French culture than conjugating verbs.

I realized that I probably should have paid a little less attention to the study of Impressionist paintings and more attention to French word usage once we arrived at De Gaulle Airport. "Parlez-vous Anglais?" we inquired of the taxi driver as we fumbled for the address to our Left Bank hotel. When traveling abroad, you quickly learn that the word "no," regardless of how it is spelled, is an international phrase.

As we expected, the taxi driver took the long way to the hotel. I'm not sure if this was to show us the sights, give us a look at Parisian driving skills or run up the meter. I'm sure it was the latter. Nevertheless, one's first look at the City of Lights is not to be forgotten. Such sights as Notre Dame and the Louvre seemed awesome — especially for one who had only seen such famous structures in textbooks or during class filmstrips.

It is easy to feel like a fudgy in Paris. Despite our best efforts to bring the right clothes, we still felt as if we had just come off the farm when compared to the haute couture which abounds throughout the city. However, buying lingerie in metric sizes can be a real ego booster.

After a three-day stay in Paris we rented a car for our drive down to the Loire Valley and then on to Normandy. Driving in Paris could also be added to the most stressful periods in a person's life. Of course, I really shouldn't talk. As co-pilot, all I had to do was navigate.

Our drive around the Champs Elysees was comparable to bumper cars at the local amusement park. With no lane markers or street lights, we spent the first 15 minutes just dodging from one side of the street to the other. However, we did not crash into the Arc de Triomphe so I suppose our ride was successful.

The French countryside is a tranquil alternative to the hectic pace of Paris. The Loire Valley — with its chateaus and castles — is one of the most beautiful areas of the country. Our three-day stay at a domaine in Onzain was worth the whole trip. Likewise, the chateau we visited in the small town of Londonierrres in the heart of Normandy also left a memorable impression.

Two years ago, Amerman principal Bill Craft told me that he and his wife spent the summer in Europe — a first trip for both. He told me at the time that he wished he'd gone sooner. His advice was "just go — anyway, anyhow." He was right.

Tight fit

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

Yogi Berra was wrong.

You remember Yogi, the highly quotable former catcher for the New York Yankees and manager of various and sundry baseball teams since his retirement.

Yogi got a lot of air time this fall with his famous quote: "It ain't over till it's over."

At any rate, I'm sitting here on Tuesday, writing my column and making a mental list of other things that must be done before I call it a day. And because it's Election Day, one of the things I have to do is vote.

Except that I can't get too enthused about it ... because I already know that My President is going to win in a landslide of monumental proportions.

Oh, I know all those other races are important. And there's a real possibility that certain candidates in certain races are going to need my support in order to win.

But the real excitement on this day has to do with the presidential election. And I already know that Ronald Reagan is going to win big, and probably pull a lot of other Republicans along on his coattails.

The problem, of course, is the pollsters. They've been telling us for months that Reagan has an insurmountable lead. That Mondale might as well cash in his chips and avoid running up excessive campaign expenses ... because he doesn't have a chance anyway.

Everybody screamed four years ago when the networks announced that Reagan had won before people on the West Coast had even had a chance to cast their ballots. But this is getting ridiculous.

Things are so bad that Reagan isn't even campaigning for himself anymore ... he's out stumping for other Republicans. Telling people to vote for Jack Louisa and Tom Ritter so he can have the support he needs in the Senate and House to get his programs passed.

So Yogi was wrong when he said it ain't over till it's over. This one was over before it even started.

The only problem is that the pollsters have offended my sense of what democratic elections are all about. As I type the last paragraph of this column, I'm toying with the idea of casting my vote for Mondale/Ferraro. Except voting out of spite isn't what democratic elections are about either.

Lansing Report

Seeks state accounting

By GERALD H. LAW

Government efficiency and accountability would be improved under legislation introduced in the Michigan House requiring state department heads to report directly to the Legislature on the progress of changes in their departments recommended by the auditor general.

I support the legislation (HB 5687), which is similar to amendments offered earlier this year to several budget bills contained in the 1984-85 fiscal year budget proposal. Those amendments were adopted but pertain only to that specific fiscal year.

This legislation will incorporate those earlier amendments directly into the language of all future budget bills. It gives each department head 60 days to report back to the Legislature on implementation of changes ordered by the auditor general.

In previous years, mandates from the auditor general have frequently gone unheeded and there has been no oversight mechanism to ensure compliance with the auditor general's recommendations. And often, these recommendations represent substantial savings to the taxpayers. This proposal is a significant step toward restoring accountability in the state bureaucracy.

Correction

In last week's Northville Record, in response to a question from a reader regarding campaigning near a polling place, the word "not" inadvertently was left out of the reply. It should have read "campaign literature may NOT be distributed within 100 feet of a polling place."

The election story, to which the reader was referred, on page 1 was corrected.

It noted that campaign literature may not be distributed within 100 feet of the polls, that precinct chairmen check when a complaint is received and that election workers may ask voters to remove campaign buttons and slogans at the polls.

If regulations are not being complied with, the precinct worker is to call the clerk's office of the city or township.

Wedemeyer elected Grand Master Mason

Herman A. Wedemeyer of Northville was elected to the office of Grand Master of the First Vell of the Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons of Michigan, at the 1984 state Grand Convocation recently held in Grand Rapids.

He has been active in the Northville Masonic Lodge for more than two decades, serving in the Royal Arch Masons, Chapter No. 55, as Excellent High Priest in 1964-65.

Wedemeyer was a manufacturing process engineer for Ford Motor Company for 25 years prior to his retirement in 1976.

He and his wife Betty have been Northville residents since 1959.

Their two children, Dianne and Herman Jr., attended and were graduated from Northville High School. Dianne now lives in Oakland, California, with her husband, Craig R. Barrows, and daughter Susan. Herman Jr. lives in Marblehead, Massachusetts, with his wife Chansonette.

Other offices held in the Masons by Wedemeyer include Eminent Commander of the Northville Commandery No. 39, Knights Templar in 1967-68; Worshipful Master of Northville Lodge No. 186, F. A. M., 1972; thrice Illustrious Master of Northville Council No. 30, Royal and Select Masters in 1973-74; Worthy Patron of Orient Chapter No. 77, Order of Eastern Star, 1975-76. He also has served as secretary-treasurer of the Northville Masonic Temple Association since 1966.

The assumption of the duties of a state Grand Chapter line officer supersedes the duties of District Deputy Instructor, a Grand Chapter appointed office which Wedemeyer has held for six years and where his responsibilities were localized to one of 29 districts in and about the cities of Northville, Livonia, Wayne, Milford and Howell.

The term of office for each of nine Grand Line officers who have responsibilities encompassing all of the State of Michigan is one year, usually with election to a succeeding office each following year.

Wedemeyer and his wife, who retired from Hudson's in 1975, say their available time is "almost inadequate for our Masonic Fraternity, church and community-related activities."

"We love every minute of it," they affirm. "It keeps us young and healthy, in body and spirit."

Army Reservist earns promotion

Army Reservist Helen Sonenberg of North Hills Drive has been promoted to Sergeant First Class. The part-time soldier is a legal clerk for the headquarters of the 300th Military Police Command in Inkster.

Sonenberg proudly describes her full-time civilian job as "housewife and mother." She was formerly a legal secretary.

A 1972 graduate of Ladysmith High School in Wisconsin, Sonenberg studied psychology at Mt. Senario College, also in that state. She joined the Army Reserve in 1974 and transferred to the 300th in 1978.

"I first joined to have the extra money while I was in college," she explained. "But I've stayed with it because I feel I'm doing an important job for my country."

She and her husband Steven, a Detroit attorney, have one child, Michael Justin, age six months.

The 300th Military Police Command is the headquarters for 17 Army

Reserve military police units in Michigan, Indiana and Illinois. Military police provide law enforcement services during peacetime but during war they serve as a combat force protecting the rear areas of Army battle formations against infiltration, sabotage and enemy attack.

Army reserve members work full-time at civilian jobs in the community and keep their military skills sharp by training two days per month, usually on weekends. They also attend two weeks training at an Army post each year.

Nature, games at Kensington park

Two nature programs and contests for children are featured at Kensington Metropark near Milford November 11. Here is the schedule:

"Wings over Water," a two-hour drive around the park to observe water birds will begin at 10 a.m. November is prime viewing time for migrating waterfowl — ducks and geese may be seen in large numbers, and it is possible to see coots, loons and herons. Those attending are encouraged to bring binoculars or telescopes if they have them available.

At noon, the park will conduct a corn husking bee and other kids contests. The husking bee will be followed by other traditional contests, including sack races, an egg toss and relay races to provide kids of all ages an afternoon of old-fashioned fun. There is a 25 cent fee per contest and ribbons will be awarded to the winners. For information, contact the Farm Center at Kensington, toll-free, at 1-800-552-6772.

At 2 p.m., the park nature center offers a program on white-tailed deer. The discussion will help explain how deer live, what they eat — and then visitors will take an outside tour in search of some of the park's white tails.

The nature programs are free of charge but advance registration is required. To register for either nature program, or to obtain more information, contact the nature center at the toll-free number given above.

A vehicle entry permit is required.

Two Northville residents were among the 600 Oakland University students receiving degrees at fall commencement exercises recently held in Baldwin Pavilion.

Students receiving degrees included HARRY M. COUYOUNJIAN, 44218 Galway Drive, B.S. in marketing, and MAGDALENE HORSTKOTTE, 910 Jeffrey Drive, B.S. in accounting.

DOUGLAS DOYLE, son of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Doyle of Northville, and DAVID L. LONDRIDGE, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Londridge of Northville, recently have pledged Delta Sigma fraternity at Hillsdale College.

PATRICIA NEWELL, daughter of Douglas Newell of Northville, appeared in "Once in a Lifetime," Kaufman and Hart's first comedy hit and the first show of the 1984-85 Bonstelle Theatre season. "Once in a Lifetime" follows three young vaudeville actors on a trip to Hollywood after the invention of talking motion pictures.

JAMES ROTH, son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Roth of 19848 Pierson Drive, is making his first appearance in an Albion College Theatre production with the premier performance of "The Quick and the Dead" November 2.

The play, presented by the Albion College Players, was commissioned by the Albion College sesquicentennial committee in honor of the college's 150th birthday.

The play was written by California playwright Catherine Closson, a 1976 Albion graduate. The drama takes place in a small hospital where medical and psychiatric patients are thrown together when a ward is closed for construction.

Roth, a 1984 graduate of Roper City and Country School, played Mickey, a psychiatric patient.

JENNIFER MERRIFIELD, daughter of John and Carol Merrifield of 384 Welch, is among the students in Indiana University's 1984 Marching 100 band.

Although traditionally called the "Marching 100," the 1984 edition actually numbers 296 students, including 236 musicians, 32 flag corps members and 34 RedSteppers — a precision dance group.

Jennifer plays the mellophone. In addition to playing in the band, Jennifer also is a member of the University Division, the school's honors program. She is a freshman majoring in physical therapy.

Northville resident PETE JUNE is serving as promotions director at WCHP-AM 65, one of Central Michigan University's campus radio stations.

A broadcast and cinematic arts major, June is a senior at CMU.

PAULA FOLINO, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Folino of 20556 Clement, is a member of the chorus in the Albion College production of "The Mikado."

One of Gilbert and Sullivan's most popular operettas, "The Mikado" is being presented November 16 and 17. Produced by the Albion College music department, the performance is a fundraiser for the orchestra and choir's first European tour this spring.

Paula, a 1984 Northville High School graduate, is a freshman at Albion.

Free diabetes screening offered at Providence

During Diabetes Detection Week November 11-17 Providence Hospital in cooperation with the Michigan Affiliate of the American Diabetes Association will offer free screening at several area locations.

The public is invited to take advantage of the diabetes detection service at one of the sites. Closest to Northville are:

Novi Providence Ambulatory Care Center, 39500 West Ten Mile, from 8-11 a.m. and 6-9 p.m. November 14.

Providence Hospital, Fisher Center Lobby, 16001 West Nine Mile, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. November 14.

South Lyon Providence Hospital Family Health Center, 210 North Lafayette, from 9 a.m. to noon, November 16.

To insure an accurate test, participants are asked to eat a meal two hours before going in for testing. Nothing else should be eaten until after the test.

After the blood samples have been processed by the hospital laboratory, individuals whose results are outside the range considered normal will be notified by the Michigan Affiliate, American Diabetes Association, as will their physician.

The screening procedure is designed to detect diabetes and is not a checkup for people who know they have the disease.

Break dancing at library

Registration still is being accepted for the November 10 break dancing workshop sponsored by the Northville Public Library.

Young dancers from the Piazza

Dance Studio in the Highland Lakes Shopping Center will demonstrate varieties of break dancing in several routines at the 2 p.m. workshop.

They also will teach members of the audience easy, on your feet moves including the side walk, moon walk and wave. All school aged children and their parents are welcome to attend.

Registration and permission slips signed by a parent or guardian will be required to attend the workshop. To get a permission slip and register for the program, stop by the library at 215 West Main. For more information, call 349-3020.

Church hosts barbershop chorus

The Wonderland Barbershop Chorus, which came in first in district competition in Battle Creek, will be performing at First United Methodist Church of Northville at 8 p.m. next Tuesday.

The group is composed of more than 60 men from the area. It will be going into international competition next summer.

There is no charge for the concert, but a freewill offering will be taken to defray expenses. Everyone in the community is welcome. The church is located at Eight Mile and Taft roads.

Folk fan hopes to get Raven to fly

By B.J. MARTIN

Tom Rice is betting that folks haven't forgotten folk.

The owner-operator of the Gittfiddler music shop in downtown Northville has made a business out of the fact that not all music comes out of an electronic speaker. But now Rice is cooking up another idea: a full-fledged coffee house featuring live performances by folk musicians.

The Raven Coffee house series premieres at 8 p.m. this Saturday at the Northville Community Center with a two-hour performance by Walkin' Jim Stoltz, an extensively well-traveled guitarist/songwriter.

While Walkin' Jim is striding to the stage, Rice will be taking his first step toward a longtime dream — namely, re-establishing the old Raven Gallery coffee house out in this area.

The Raven Gallery on Greenfield Road in Southfield was for years the place to go to see and hear folk music in the metro area. But following the death of owner Herb Cohen almost 10 years ago, the Raven was nevermore.

Until Rice came along.

"When it was still open, the Raven was one of my favorite places to go," Rice says. "I've always been interested in folk music, and the atmosphere there was perfect for the performer and the

'What we're offering is a chance to go out on a Saturday night, be completely entertained and have some good food ... without having to buy a few drinks.'

— Tom Rice

audience.

"One of the big things was, the Raven didn't serve booze. It was a great place to take a first date to make a nice impression. It was a real haven for musicians who'd only played in bars, because people would go there to listen and really get into the performance."

Rice has produced the annual summer folk festival in Northville for eight years. It was seven years ago the festival drew Dottie Cohen, widow of Herb Cohen, as a visitor.

"She introduced herself and congratulated me on the festival," Rice recalls. "I told her how much I had loved going to the Raven and how it was a big dream of mine to operate a place in the same way."

"She said, 'Whenever you're ready, I'll help. The name of the place is yours.'"

Now, after years of shoring up plans for the project, Rice is ready to get the Raven flying again.

"I'm very confident it'll succeed," he says. "I think folk music never dies ... Right now there's no place to go for it except The Ark in Ann Arbor. Now that's a great place, I'd love to get to that point."

"One of the things I think we'll have going for us is that lately there's been more of an effort to keep people who've been drinking off the road. What we're offering is a chance to go out on a Saturday night, be completely entertained, and have some really good food, all without having to buy a few (alcoholic) drinks like at a restaurant or a lot of drinks like at a bar."

Rice says that if the series goes well, he'll try to move it out of the Community Center.

"If the market is good, my long-run goal is to move the series out of the rec center after a couple of months. I've been looking around at a couple possible locations downtown (in Northville)."

"Ideally a house in a business-zoned area would be perfect. I'm looking for a place that will keep that kind of intimacy, but allow us to serve food and coffee and tea, that sort of thing, on weekends."

To its fullest extent, the Raven will be a labor of love for Rice. "I'm not looking to make a million dollars on this," he concedes. "All I'm hoping to do is break even — at our first shows, the cover is going to pay for the performer and the building. If we make anything, it'll be from the coffee and snacks."

PRICES WILL NEVER BE LOWER ON HARD-WORKING, HARD PLAYING YAMAHA TRI-MOTOS

Starting now, we'll be taking something off these three-wheelers to make them go faster. Something off the price tag, that is.

It's all part of the Yamaha Three-For-All Sale and it means you'll be able to take home a Tri-Moto 175 or a Yamahauler for less than ever.

The Yamahauler is our hardest working three-wheeler and comes equipped with a shaft drive, electric start, front suspension, CDI, trailer hitch and racks.

If you're looking for something more playful though, there's the Tri-Moto 175, a high-performance three-wheeler with a 171cc two-stroke engine, front suspension, CDI and an almost endless supply of fun.

Of course, deals like this can't last forever. So hurry on down and get in on a Three-For-All.

ALL PRICES PLUS TAX, INS. & FEE.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR KID HAPPY THIS CHRISTMAS!

The Yamaha Tri-Zinger was designed with kids in mind. It's small, easy to handle and it's got an automatic transmission so junior can worry about where he's going instead of what gear he's in. But best of all, the Tri-Zinger has adjustable power. So as the rider grows up, you can simply give him more power.

Coffee house gets new home

Aside from the coffee ("good" coffee, Rice emphasizes), the Raven will feature a menu of soups and sandwiches, ice cream, plus the famous "pizza bagel" once featured at the original Raven.

If things get rolling as he expects, Rice will snag several other regular features of the original Raven — such folk talents as Josh White Jr., Phil Marcus Esser, Ron Coden, Chuck Mitchell and Dean Rutledge, among other longtime luminaries of Detroit's folk music scene.

"Hopefully, we can spur some procrastinators who've been shy or leery about their ability to get up and try performing," Rice says. "I've always thought everybody and anybody could be some kind of performer, can express himself in some way."

Tickets ($4 a person, $7.50 per couple) will be available at the door for Saturday's show, and Rice encourages people to come early. "The capacity in the room is about 150, and I'm thinking there could be a crowd there."

Kalota heads area UF drive

Northville resident Leo M. Kalota, vice president, Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit, Romulus office, is serving as a western Wayne County region chairman for the 1984 United Foundation Torch Drive.

The announcement has been made by Elmer W. Johnson, vice president and group executive, Public Affairs Staffs Group and general counsel, General Motors Corporation, and general chairman of this year's fund raising campaign.

Kalota, a long-time active area resident, lives with his family in Brookland Farms.

The west region is part of the community campaigns, which solicit small businesses, offices and individual donors throughout the tri-county area. Johnson states that although the economy has improved, costs have continued to rise and the demand for agency services has continued to be great.

This year's Torch Drive volunteer team is asking for increased contributions in order to meet community needs as well as respond to the changing needs of the residents of the metropolitan Detroit area, the United Foundation states.

The reporting phase of the 36th annual Torch Drive runs from October 15 through November 8.

The UF Torch Drive raises operating funds for 130 charitable organizations in the tri-county area. The 1984 Torch Drive goal is $50 million.

Figures show home prices stable in area

Despite concern over continuing high levels of mortgage interest rates, the stability of average resale home prices in the 1980s should provide encouragement to buyers, according to the Metro

MLS multi-listing service.

"Through September, the average price through our 1,600 square mile territory in 1984 was $57,973," said David N. Jensen, Metro MLS president. "This is $42 below the average price at this time last year and $103 less than average through all of 1983.

"This could well be the second year in the 1980s to see a price reduction from the previous year. The average price through 1982 took a 2.5 percent drop from the $58,156 recorded the previous year."

Jensen noted that the 1984 average price is just $1,850, or 3.2 percent, above the 1980 price of $56,123.

"While average family incomes have increased in this period, the average resale home price has edged up only at a rate of 0.8 percent a year," he said. "This remains well below even the decreased rate of inflation we have experienced during much of this period."

"While this alone has not solved an affordability problem for many prospective buyers, it is easing the burden for a lot of others and has certainly contributed to the strong performance of this market," Jensen said.

He noted the very marked difference between 1980 price trends and those of the previous decade. He said the average price in the Metro MLS territory in 1970 was $22,974.

"By the end of 1979 this average price had climbed to $52,540 for a 128 percent increase or more than 12 percent a year," he said. "Had this same trend continued, our average prices now would be about $92,000 and buyers here would be facing the same sort of affordability problems as buyers in many parts of California and high cost areas."

This metropolitan area has long offered some of the most affordable housing in the nation in terms of down payments and monthly payments required in relation to average household income.

"This is the principle reason our market, while softening a bit in the last couple of months, continues to outpace the market in most other metropolitan areas and the national sales rates."

Money Management

Plan for career change

"I woke up one morning and realized I didn't like my job, I didn't like the city I lived in and I didn't like where my life was heading," says John Touhey, who quit his $40,000 a year job as a corporate librarian to open a country inn.

Like Touhey, countless Americans quit the rat race each year to begin new careers. Teachers learn carpentry, corporate executives open curio shops.

Four out of five persons who "recareer" earn less money in their second career. To cope with "downward mobility," the Michigan Association of CPAs says you'll need to map out a financial plan.

There are no reliable statistics telling us how many people quit higher paying jobs to seek greater personal fulfillment in a lower paying field, but Robert Oliver of the Career Research Institute estimates that half of America's workforce is at least thinking about taking that big step. Here are some facts and planning tools that can help you with such a decision.

To begin financial planning for a second career, first calculate your net worth. Add up all your assets, including the equity you have in your home, investments, cash on hand, or in savings accounts and any other property that can be turned into cash.

Next, subtract all of your liabilities, including the unpaid balance on your mortgage, all of your debts and your tax obligations.

By subtracting what you owe from what you own, you know how much you are worth. This will aid you in obtaining a loan from a bank, and can be used to help start a new business. You will also find out how much money you have to draw on while your income is low.

To alleviate some of the risk, you may want to first take a job in the area in which you plan to relocate. "Get some experience in the field and in the area you plan to move into," recommends CPA James Wilson, who last year retired from a lucrative CPA practice to take a lower paying job as a professor. "Before you make a change, prepare a business plan and a family budget that reflects a worse case scenario," he says. "If you're prepared to endure that, go for it."

Planning the change methodically before you give up what you now have is critical. In addition to drawing up that worst case budget, figure out how much it will cost you to replace any fringe benefits you may now receive from your current job. You may be able to find a particular type of insurance coverage that best suits your needs, even if it is not as extensive as your employer-paid coverage.

If you are considering selling your home, it's wise to close the sale in the year your income drops rather than while you are still in a higher income tax bracket. That may help you pay less tax on a capital gain derived from the sale. If you buy a new home of equal or greater value than your previous home, you can defer the tax on the gain. But you may choose to use the capital the sale generates to support yourself while you have little or no income.

The strategy of delaying a capital gain on the sale of a home until your income drops can also be applied in selling any other appreciated assets, such as stock. If you wait to sell the stock until the year in which your income drops, you'll be in a lower tax bracket — less money goes to taxes.

At a time when your income has dropped and you need cash, it could be advantageous to take money out of an Individual Retirement Account or an profit-sharing or pension plan. Though you'll still have to pay a 10 percent penalty if you take money out of an IRA before age 59, the tax due on the withdrawn amount will not be as great because of your lower tax bracket.

Career changes for those whose children are approaching college age may find that their downward mobility suddenly qualifies their children for federal financial aid. Those who experience dips in income while their children are still in college should reapply for aid. Your new financial situation may qualify your children for a low interest loan or an outright grant.

As for John Touhey, "things have never been better." By adhering to a strict budget and business plan, the calculated risk he felt he "had to take" is beginning to pay off. A food editor recently named the inn one of the best in the state.

Business Briefs

HUB COPP of Novi has been promoted to the position of Group Manager of the Detroit Group Office by Washington National Insurance Company.

A graduate of Grand Valley State College, Copp joined Washington National as a group representative in 1971. Prior to his recent promotion, he served as Group Account Representative.

Copp is a member of the Detroit Area Chartered Life Underwriters Association, the National Association of Life Underwriters and the Michigan Group Representatives Association.

MARY F. COLE has been named assistant manager at Manufacturers Bank of Novi. She will be responsible for operations at the Ten Mile-Meadowbrook office in Novi.

Cole joined Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit in 1968. She received her associate degree from Henry Ford Community College in 1981. She lives in Dearborn Heights.

SHEILA SASSER has been appointed to the newly-created position of Director of Marketing by Harry M. Gordon, a firm of Certified Public Accountants in Bloomfield Hills.

Sasser is a former Northville resident.

AMERICAN FOUNDRYMEN'S SOCIETY (AFS) has signed a contract confirming Cobo Hall in Detroit as the site of the Society's Casting Congress & CastExpo in April 1987.

Booth said Detroit is the center of the automotive industry, and the casting and foundry industry is a great part of it. "It is only fitting that the AFS show be held here," he said.

The 1987 show will be international in scope with exhibitors from all of Europe participating in an AFS convention and exposition for the first time. AFS first met in Detroit in 1897, one year after the convention bureau was formed, and last meet here in 1978.

Senior citizens to tour Campbell's

Departure for the Northville Senior Citizens' Campbell Soup Tour November 14 will be at 8:15 a.m. at Elias Brothers Big Boy restaurant and Allen Terrace.

Tour price is $23.50 per person and includes lunch. Buses will return at 5:30 p.m.

For information and reservations, call Marie Knapp at 349-2230 or Marlene Kunz at 349-4140.

Nutrition is key to meals

Judy LaManna, a member of Our Lady of Victory Church, is the volunteer who secures drivers to deliver meals to the homebound.

Igel notes that volunteers are paid 23 cents a mile to make the deliveries — "but none from here has ever asked for it."

As the food arrives, serving volunteers also appear. Two recent ones were Marie Campbell, who assisted in packing the homebound meals, and David Martin, a 20-year old sophomore at Oakland Community College who has been volunteering two days a week since September.

"Two high school students in Community Affairs classes have been coming in later to help me clean up," adds Igel.

Tomorrow at the Allen Terrace site diners will enjoy Hungarian goulash with noodles, asparagus, a cookie and apricots. There's still time to call to make a reservation for Friday's offering: Manicotti with Italian vegetables, spinach salad, Italian bread and tropical fruit. Seniors, just call 349-9661 before 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

AAUW auction scheduled Tuesday

"Make it, Bake it, Taste it" is the name given to this year's craft auction sponsored by the Northville Branch of the American Association of University Women.

The auction will begin at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Amerman Elementary School.

An array of handmade items which have been stitched, stuffed and stenciled by members will be put up for bids. Crewel and embroidered pillows, multi-toned baskets and stylish Christmas gift items will be spotlighted. In addition, a number of service certificates and gift items donated by Northville merchants also will be auctioned.

Jay Ward, the group's president, and her daughter Lisa, a 1977 Northville High School graduate, will serve as auctioneers. Lisa, who received a degree in broadcast communications, is a segment producer for the "Sonya" program on Channel 4.

During the evening, a mini-quilt fashioned in earth tone colors in the Ohio star pattern will be awarded as a drawing prize.

At evening workshops, members prepared small, soft sculpture, calico teddy bears as well as teddy bear kits which are suitable for older children to complete. Another workshop activity involved assembling packages of a hearty bean soup mix and a tempting spice mix for spiced cider and wine. A small booklet of casserole and dessert recipes from the organization's autumn buffet also was created. One of the dessert recipes from the collection, called "The Next Best Thing to Robert Redford," will be served at the refreshment table.

All of the workshop items, as well as freshly baked goods, will go on sale at 7:30 p.m. The auction will begin at 8 p.m. Proceeds from the auction will be used for scholarships to be awarded in May to two graduating seniors from Northville High School.

The public is welcome to attend the annual auction.

LWV hosts wine and cheese party

This year's wine and cheese benefit of the League of Women Voters of Northville, Plymouth, Canton and Novi marks a decade that the League has been hosting the popular event.

Annalee Mathes is opening her home at 20295 Silver Springs Drive in Northville for the party being held from 8:10-10:30 p.m. this Friday.

"This year it's also a post-election celebration," she notes.

The donation of $10 or more per person is earmarked to help support League voter education projects.

Assisting with the benefit are Dee Richardson, membership chairman, Billie Whiteley, president, Michele Howard and Jackie Westbay, in charge of invitations.

Anyone in the community interested in the work of the League is invited. Reservations may be made by calling 453-8542 or 453-7381.

Schoolcraft stages suspense drama November 16

A new format will be followed for the Schoolcraft College Dinner Theatre production of "The Haunting of Hill House" on November 16-18.

Because the suspense drama needs such special effects as breathing doors, strange music, dim lighting and fog, director James Hartman opted to use the permanent stage in the College's Liberal Arts Theater for the performances. The play begins at 8 p.m. on November 16 and 17 and at 2 p.m. November 18.

The sit-down dinner will be served by the Schoolcraft Culinary Arts Department in the Waterman Center at 6:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday. On Sunday, a wine and cheese "afterglow" will be served in the lobby of the Theater following the performance.

"The Haunting of Hill House" is a chilling study in mounting terror in which a small group of "psychically receptive" people are brought together in Hill House, a brooding mid-Victorian mansion known as a place of evil and "contained ill will."

The house has remained empty except for the daily visits of the grumbling caretaker, Mrs. Dudley. Its isolation is broken by the arrival of Dr. Montague, an investigator of supernatural phenomena. He is joined by three others, Theodora, Luke and Arthur, all unacquainted, who have accepted Dr.

Montague's invitation to share his Hill House sojourn.

They are joined by Dr. Montague's wife and a friend, Eleanor, who have come to Hill House for purposes of their own — to delve into direct communication with the departed spirits, a practice which the good doctor fears greatly. As subsequent events bear out, this brings on a crisis in which evil forces are goaded to a new end, for one of those present, fatal injury.

The plot may sound familiar because the play was adapted from Shirley Jackson's novel on which the movie "The Haunting" was based.

Director James Hartman was a guest director at Schoolcraft College two years ago when he staged the production of "Night Watch," which was sold out every performance. He has worked as a professional actor on stage, film and television. A member of both Equity and Screen Actors Guild, he has directed more than 50 productions.

Tickets for "The Haunting of Hill House" are $12.50 each for the dinner and performances and $8.50 each for the wine and cheese afterglow and performance on Sunday.

Reserved tables and seats are available at the College Bookstore, located off the north parking lot, 18600 Haggerty Road. For further information, call 591-6400, extension 265.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT SORNSON

Nancy Loeffler exchanges vows in Petoskey rites

Nancy Gwen Loeffler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Loeffler of 45849 Fermanagh, exchanged marriage vows October 6 with Robert Sornson of Horton Bay at Zion Lutheran Church of Petoskey. The bridegroom is the son of Patricia Sornson of Traverse City and Robert Sornson of Southfield. The Reverend Robert Baerwolf officiated at the noon ceremony. The bride's sister Lynn Gregg was matron of honor. Bridesmaid was the bride's sister Marcia Ridings. Joel Raddatz served as best man. Ushers were Ray Arthur and the bridegroom's brothers Matthew Sornson and Dan Sornson. A champagne brunch was held for 140 guests at Stafford's Bay View Inn following the ceremony. The bride and bridegroom both teach at Petoskey High School. They are making their home in Horton Bay.

Holly Mart planners

On November 17, United Methodist Women will transform the fellowship hall of the First United Methodist Church into their Holly Mart Bazaar. Open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., the bazaar will feature a variety of booths offering crafts, needlework, baked goods, antiques and white elephants, Christmas decorations, handmade toys and plenty of good food. Coffee and donuts will be available from 9-11 a.m. at The Donut Hole, operated by Maureen Godley and Lela Pelly. Shoppers can enjoy lunch from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Holly Mart Inn. Chef Marie Knapp will be preparing her best dish, Beef Stroganoff, assisted by Elaine Gregory. The $3 price includes Beef Stroganoff over noodles, relishes, roll and butter, tea or coffee and pie. Coffee and pie also can be purchased for $1. A background of Christmas music will be provided by members of the Northville Methodist Church. Pictured above front row from left are booth chairpersons Darlene Ussel, Grace Pollock, Chef Marie Knapp and Maureen Godley. Back row is general chairperson Pam Lloyd, Meg Coponen, Pat Eden and Esther Cockin. Record photo by Steve Fecht.

Historical Society members host wine tasting at Mill Race

Northville Historical Society members and prospective new member guests will have the opportunity to taste a variety of French wines at 8 p.m. Friday at New School Church in Mill Race Village.

The Second Annual Wine Tasting is presented by Historical Society member and wine hobbyist Dennis Cassidy.

Cassidy will be featuring seven wines from different areas of France and from different Detroit distributors. The wine is only for tasting and will not be sold.

The wine tasting will begin with a Louis St. Croix Brut Champagne and specially prepared hors d'oeuvres.

Members and guests will then move on — table to table — to taste six other French wines. Highlight of the evening will be at Table Five where guests will sample Chateau Marquis de Terme, a 1964 Bordeaux.

In addition to Dennis and Cheryl Cassidy, wine servers will include Jim and Sonya Lane, Milt and Diana Koenig, Bob and Harriett Welland, Philip and Carol Kiraly and Margie Sievert.

Cost is $7.50 per person and those planning to attend should bring a wine glass.

The event is limited to 100 persons. Members and guests interested in attending should contact Dennis or Cheryl Cassidy at 47250 South Chigwidden or call 349-7249.

Here's list of area craft events

Several Northville artists and craftspersons will be exhibiting their wares at local crafts shows during the next few weeks.

The following is a compilation of upcoming holiday boutiques, crafts fairs and antique shows — with many featuring local participants:

Christian Community School of Northville is presenting its Northville Art and Craft Fair from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. this Saturday at the school located in the Christian Community Church at 4135 West Six Mile.

More than 60 art and craft exhibitors from the area will be on hand for the juried event. In addition to quality crafts, baked goods and luncheon will be available. The church is located three quarters of a mile west of the I-275.

The United Methodist Women of St. Paul's United Methodist Church of Rochester (located at 620 Romeo) will host their annual Antique and Collectibles Show today through Friday.

The show will feature a fine selection of antiques and collectibles, a craft and Christmas boutique and a tea room.

Hours are 6-9 p.m. today, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday and 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Friday. There is a $1 donation.

The Plymouth Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, educational sorority, will host its Scholarship Arts and Crafts Fair from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. this Saturday at Canton High School, 8415 Canton Center Road.

More than 40 area craftspersons will be displaying jewelry, porcelains, Teddy Bears, pottery, stained glass, Christmas items, woven baskets, quilted and stenciled work.

Lunch will be available. Cider, homemade pies and Kathy's Cheese Cake also may be purchased and babysitting will be provided. Admission is free.

The Hartland Rounds School will host its Fifth Annual Hobby and Craft Bazaar sponsored by the Hartland Round School PTO from noon to 5 p.m. Sunday. More than 100 Michigan craftspersons will be featuring handmade teddy bears, dolls, stained glass, wreaths, quilts, tote painting, fabric decays, bread dough, wooden creations and more.

There also will be pictures with Santa and chorals of Christmas music by the Howell Chapter of Sweet Adeline's. Baked goods, pizza, popcorn and beverages will be for sale.

The school is located at 11550 Hibner between Bullard and Hartland roads.

Mothers' Club of Ladywood High School, 14680 Newburgh in Livonia, is holding its fifth annual arts and craft show, "Peddlers' Square," from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday. In addition to 110 exhibitors, there will be a country kitchen and bake shoppe. Admission is $1.

The Farmington Artists Club will hold its 1984 Fall Exhibit November 16-18 at Mercy Center, 28600 Eleven Mile in Farmington Hills.

The exhibit, made possible through a grant from the Farmington Area Arts Commission, will be held from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday.

There is no admission charge and refreshments are complimentary.

St. Agatha Parish Women's Club is holding its annual Christmas Boutique from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. November 17 at 19800 Beech Daly between Grand River and Eight Mile.

Third annual Holiday Crafts Bazaar of the Association for Retarded Citizens, ARC, Northwest Communities, will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. November 17 at the Ford Skill Center on Ann Arbor Trail between Merriman and Farmington in Westland.

There will be a white elephant booth and bake sale in addition to crafts of many kinds. Proceeds aid the Just Fun Club for young adults.

The Northwest Branch YWCA will be hosting its Ninth Annual Arts and Crafts Show from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. November 18 at 25940 Grand River.

More than 100 crafts people in a variety of media will be displaying and selling their wares. Food service also will be available. There is no admission charge.

Handmade holiday craft and needlework items as well as home baked goods will be sold by the Felician Sisters of Madonna College November 18 and 19 in rooms 182 and 183 of the academic building beginning at noon.

Seven Northville artists and craftspersons will be featured in the Christmas Arts and Crafts Festival sponsored by Mercy High School November 24 and 25. Among the local artists participating are Suzanne Marie Young with religious wall relief sculptures and Barbara J. Teubert with baskets.

Northville crafters will include Susan Cutting with folk art, Kay Kehoe with wood, Marlene Allen with stitchery, Janet M. Clancy with dolls and bears and Yvonne DeMattos with family tree hoops.

Festival hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. November 24 and noon to 5 p.m. November 25 at Mercy High School, located at Eleven Mile and Middlebelt in Farmington Hills. All proceeds raised from the festival, which includes a $1 admission, will benefit the school's scholarship program.

Northville artists Carol Gatti, Kay Kehoe and Clarence Mills will be exhibiting at the Artists' Connection Second Annual Arts and Crafts Show at Hillcrest Country Club in Mt. Clemens November 24 and 25.

The show will feature 171 midwest exhibitors displaying a variety of arts and crafts including lithographs, weaving, etched glass, needlework, watercolor, oil and acrylic paintings, tin punching, calligraphy, jewelry and more.

Henry Ford Hospital's West Bloomfield Outpatient Center at 6777 West Maple will sponsor its fifth annual arts and crafts sale from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. November 26-29.

Handmade items from more than 60 artisans will range from dolls and hand-carved toys to floral jewelry, pottery, quilted items, Indian items and other holiday decorations.

Salem Elementary School will be hosting its annual Christmas Bazaar and Auction November 29 and 30.

Hours are 3-9 p.m. November 29 with the auction beginning at 7 p.m. Jerry Duncan is the auctioneer and a light dinner will be served. Hours are 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. November 30. More than 20 exhibitors will be featuring crafts and baked goods.

Items up for auction include Cabbage Patch Dolls, bikes, Care Bear, a handmade child's table and chair set and more.

Barbara Williamson displays craft items in Goodwill booth

Resident assists at Goodwill show

Northville resident Barbara Williamson is among the members of Junior Group of Goodwill Industries making preparations for its 37th Annual Antiques Show and Sale to be held this Thursday through Sunday at Fairlane Manor in Dearborn.

The show will feature more than 50 dealers exhibiting 18th and 19th century American and English furniture, primitives, toys, jewelry, oil paintings, prints, quilts, clocks, dolls, pewter, tin, silver, glass, crystal, spatter ware, Staffordshire, Oriental rugs, Shaker furniture, nautical accessories, Chinese exports and other fine items.

"Antiques bring elegance to your life, both past and present," is the theme of the show.

Show-goers will find the doors leading to the lobby of the Fairlane Manor are from the old Brush Street Plant and have hats carved on them. Upon entering the lobby, guests will be taken back to a turn-of-the-century scene. Interior decorator Joan Knight, one of the show's chairmen, has recreated a fashionable shoppers boulevard of that era. Windows of millinery shops containing bonnets from a private collection line the walls. The headgear is from long ago downtown stores such as Rollins, Fyfes, Hudson's and Russeks.

Another highlight will be the Pantry Shop featuring jars of chocolate sauce from a recipe more than 50 years old. Also featured will be homemade vinegars with sprigs of lemon dill, tarragon and basil.

The Vanity Fare restaurant and bakery will feature apple-dapple cake — an old fashioned cake topped with cinnamon, brown sugar and apples. Homemade pies, breads, cakes and candy also will be for sale.

Items on the Vanity Fare menu will include broccoli bisque, homemade chicken a la king on patty shells, turkey salad on croissants and homemade desserts.

The Goodwill Shop will feature a variety of antiques, collectibles and handmade items including samplers, baskets, and clothespin dolls.

A schoolhouse silent also will be auctioned off. At a silent auction, the jewelry of Jean Taylor Bodkin, founder of the women's auxiliary of Goodwill Industries, will be auctioned.

An invitational wine and music preview will be held from 7-10 p.m. tomorrow. Donations are $22.50.

Show hours are 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. November 9 and 10, and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. November 11. Donations to the show are $3.50. For groups of 15 or more and senior citizens, tickets are $3.

The last thing you need when you're over 55, is a problem paying for your car insurance.

Age has its rewards. Sometimes. It does with Auto-Owners. They give good drivers age 55 or older a discount. So instead of raising your premiums or reducing your coverage you may pay a little less for your auto insurance.

Auto-Owners respects maturity and a good driving record.

Just ask your "no problem" Auto-Owners agent how he can save you money on your car insurance. When you hear the news, you'll be glad you've got a few years behind you.

The Northville Record

Mustangs rip Novi in finale

By B.J. MARTIN

A bunch of gridders picked by one local sports pundit to finish no better than 2-7 this year turned that prediction on its ear last Friday.

Boostered by 170 rushing yards and two touchdowns by All-Conference tailback Rick VanBuren, 7-2 Northville clobbered old nemesis Novi 34-15 to square the annual rivalry record at 7-7.

VanBuren's 55-yard touchdown sprint in the third quarter was more than just an insurance touchdown — it was on that play the speedy senior shattered the Northville High School record for most yards rushing in a season. Following Friday's game, VanBuren's season total — and the new record — is 1,126 yards.

Northville Coach Dennis Colligan admitted that early in the season he had some doubts about his team's talent in the backfield. But like the rest of the squad that featured only four returning starters, VanBuren learned fast.

"Rick took it on himself to carry us, especially after (fullback) Doug Hartman got hurt in the Stevenson game," Colligan said. "I'm glad he got the chance to break the record. He's done a great job for us this season and with our offensive line, I knew he'd come to the fore."

Northville racked up 17 first-half points on touchdown runs of five and three yards by quarterback Dave Denhof, plus two extra point kicks and a 35-yard field goal by Jack Sylvestre.

But Novi proved tougher to shake off than many had expected. The Wildcats held a 7-3 second-quarter lead on fullback Kirk Shaw's one-yard TD dive and Darren Mack's extra-point kick.

Following Denhof's pair of TD's, Novi closed the gap to 17-13 on Larry McKillop's 89 yard touchdown return that opened the second half. Wildcat quarterback Jeff Tanderys connected with flanker Steve Shankel for a two-point conversion and suddenly, Northville's 17-15 lead looked shaky.

When the Mustangs coughed up a fumble at their own 34 on their next series, the two-point margin looked downright rickety.

But despite missing two injured starters, the Northville defense deep froze Novi on downs. On their next possession, the Mustangs picked up seven points on VanBuren's record run and on another Sylvestre extra point kick, his 18th in 23 PATs.

VanBuren capped an eight-play 53-yard march with a one-yard TD run. In order to force Novi to score three times to win, Colligan ordered a two-point conversion pass play to tight end Gary Strunk.

Northville's defense held Novi to 173 yards total offense, and only 57 on the ground — without All-Conference linebacker Doug Hartman. Meanwhile, the offense rolled up 224 yards rushing — without Hartman at fullback and without big All-Conference tackle John Storm front. Both seniors had to miss their final high school game because of injuries.

"Dan Boland did a real nice job filling in for Stormy at tackle," said Colligan.

"I knew (Novi Coach) John Osborne was going to pull every trick he could on us," he added. "It was a matter of his fancy stuff against our straight-ahead power game. I think once we made some adjustments in our blocking duties, we got going all right."

The team, he noted, was disappointed about not getting a shot at Ann Arbor Pioneer in the state football playoffs this weekend. As it turned out, a win over Stevenson would have given the team a playoff berth.

"Hey, I'm not complaining," Colligan said. "We played eight solid football games this year — the only time we played badly was against Harrison."

"We had good senior leadership from guys like Denhof, Greg Wendel and Hartman and our hard work really paid off. This was a darn good team to coach."

ROWDY RIVALRY — While the likes of Mike Hilfinger (88), Chris Shuff (61) and Greg Wendel (53, making the tackle) made the going rough for the Wildcats, it was Mustang tailback Rick VanBuren (right, with Coach Dennis Colligan) who stole the show. VanBuren shattered Northville's old season rushing record with his 160 yards rushing against Novi Friday night. The senior tailback scored two touchdowns, giving him nine for the season. Thirteen Northville players on league, division teams

Northville's varsity football team reaped an impressive harvest of post-season accolades from Western Lakes Activities Association coaches last week.

No fewer than 13 Mustangs were accorded All-Conference or All-Division honors. Only undefeated Farmington Harrison had as many players honored with Conference and Division selections.

Four Northville players were named to the All-WLAA Team: senior running back Rick VanBuren, senior offensive tackle John Storm, senior linebacker Doug Hartman, and junior defensive lineman Mark Deal.

Named to the All-Western Division team were senior quarterback Dave Denhof, senior center Greg Wendel, senior guard Chris Shuff, sophomore kicker Jack Sylvestre, sophomore end Dino Candella, senior interior lineman Ron Batshon, linebacker Tim Millen, defensive back Don Norton and senior punter Gary Strunk.

Also named to the All-WLAA Offensive Team were:

RECEIVERS — Craig Morton, Plymouth Salem; Brian Smolinski, Harrison. LINEMEN — George Sarcovich and Jason Talbert, Harrison. Jeff Rummel, Plymouth Canton; Dave Mize, Livonia Churchill. CENTER — Mark Shapiro, Harrison. QUARTERBACK — Vince Enright, Harrison. J. J. Adams, Churchill. RUNNING BACKS — John Miller, Harrison, Dave Knapp, Canton. Kicker — Chad Darke, Livonia Bentley.

Also named to the All-WLAA Defensive Team were:

ENDS — Ab Haren, Farmington, Bill Wood, Harrison. LINEBACKERS — Ben Chen and Dave Deleka, Harrison. Tony Beaune, Stevenson. LINEBACKERS — Ken Hixson, Harrison, Scott Campbell, Canton. DEFENSIVE BACKS — Jeff Shottroff, Harrison, Pat Schneider, Bentley, Steve Sobdich, Salem. PUNTER — Dan Olsewski, Canton.

Harriers run 23rd at state

The Mustang women's cross country team's first-ever appearance in the Class A state final meet resulted in a respectable 23rd-place finish. Not bad for a team which will return all but one runner next fall.

"I'm very pleased with the way this season's gone," said Coach Ed Gabrys. "I think we've got a program we can continue to build on, and I think we have an opportunity to do even better at the state next season."

The Mustangs will have to do it without Cindy Panowicz, Northville's first finisher Saturday. Northville's most outstanding woman runner for two full seasons — clocked a 20:33 over the course at Dama Farms in Howell, placing 57th overall in her last meet.

Placing 103rd with a time of 21:09 was Pam Cavanaugh. Jennifer Goshorn, a freshman, placed 112th in 21:17. Sue Blanchard was 113th in 21:24; Wendy Nuechterlein was 123rd in 21:40 and Dawn Schweim 169th in 23:44.

Dearborn Edsel Ford's team recorded a stunning 32 points to win the meet, a full 119 points ahead of second place Milford.

Behind Milford's 151, the race became much closer. Grosse Pointe North was third with 196, Brighton fourth with 201 and Portage Northern fifth with 207.

Only nine teams making their first trip to the state meet finished ahead of Northville. And just one Western Lakes Activities Association squad bettered Northville's showing Saturday — Plymouth Salem. The Rocks placed 22nd, 10 points ahead of the Mustangs' total of 508. Livonia Stevenson, also from the WLAA, finished 24th with 541 points.

Wins over Central, Churchill boost basketball team to .500

The Northville varsity cagers K.O.'d conference foes Walled Lake Central and Livonia Churchill last week to notch their third straight victory and their sixth in their last eight games.

Now 8-8 overall, the Mustangs will compete in the Western Lakes playoffs beginning at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at Livonia Stevenson. Should Northville defeat the Spartans, they will take on the winner of the Walled Lake Western-Farmington game, also Thursday.

After twice losing by four-point margins to Western this season, the Mustangs would like nothing better than to get one more shot at the 14-1 Lady Warriors on Tuesday. But to do that, Northville will have to avenge a loss to Stevenson earlier this year.

"We're looking forward to playing them (Stevenson)," said Northville Coach Ed Kritch. "I guarantee they'll be playing a different team than they saw earlier this year."

While the faces are the same as those of the 1-3 team Stevenson felled 39-26 last September, Kritch noted his present squad is playing at a completely different level. "Our competitiveness is so much greater than before," he said. "We're going in with our heads up. We feel we can compete with anybody. I think any team we play has to think twice about us now. They know that we can beat them."

On Tuesday against Walled Lake Central, the Mustangs bolted to a 22-5 first-half lead and coasted to an easy 42-31 win at the final buzzer. Talk about defense — the Vikings didn't even sink a field goal until there were five seconds left in the first half.

All nine Mustangs saw court time in both halves. Point guard Kathy Korowin led the Mustangs with 11 points, while backcourt mate Sue Terwin and forward Tricia Ducker each netted nine. All three starters played "less" than three quarters of the game. Forward Michele Siemasz and guard Roxanne Serkaian each scored four points.

The Mustangs knocked off Livonia Churchill 35-27 on Thursday, never trailing after scoring 10 of the game's first 11 points.

The Chargers were pesky, though. They trimmed Northville's lead to two points early in the fourth quarter, thanks in part to the Mustangs' cold (3-for-18) second-half shooting.

But in the final 2:45 of the game, the Mustangs came alive with Erin Ryan's foul shooting clinic — the 5'11" senior center twice hit both ends of a one-and-one with the game on the line. A three-point play by Terwin iced the cake and a pair of free throws by Ducker made it look easy.

"That's the kind of game we would have lost earlier this season," Kritch said later. "But we showed a lot of class down the stretch. That's the kind of team we have now."

Ducker led Northville scorers with 12 points. Terwin added seven, and Korowin and Ryan six each.

Ryan hauled in eight rebounds and Siemasz seven, including some big defensive boards late in the game. "In the last four minutes, Churchill was just getting one shot every trip down the floor," Kritch pointed out. "It seems like every time they missed, Erin or Michele would come down with the ball."

Northville's junior varsity won twice last week to level its season mark at 8-8.

Should Stevenson win Thursday's varsity contest, Northville will take on the winner of Thursday's Livonia Bentley-Plymouth Canton playoff game next Tuesday.

Art Thompson of Farmington and Hub Copp of Novi both called 10 of 11 games correctly, missing only the Iowa/Wisconsin deadlock. Thompson won the $10 first prize by coming one point closer than Copp on his tie-breaker guess. Copp receives second prize of $5.

The tiebreaker also had to be invoked to determine the $3 third prize winner Chris Odom of Northville.

FOOTBALL CONTEST

Enter Today! You May Be A Winner!

HERE ARE THE RULES

Take a plain piece of paper and number down the left hand side from 1 to 11. You will notice that each square below is also numbered from 1 to 11. Each contains a football game to be staged this coming weekend. To complete your entry you must do the following:

(1) After each number on your paper write the name of the sponsor of the corresponding square.

(2) Following the sponsor's name, write the name of the winning team.

(3) In addition you must pick the total points scored on the outcome of the game in square 11. This will be used in the case of a tie and then the contestant whose score is closest to the actual score will be declared the winner.

Be sure to write your name, address and phone number plainly on your piece of paper (your entry). In case of a tie, prize money will be split.

NOTE: Only ONE entry per HOUSEHOLD family per week. Prize money paid only to name on entry. PLEASE do not enter several times using friends names. Such entries will be disqualified if discovered.

Copies of the contest will be posted at the Northville Record office at 104 W. Main, each week.

Entries should be addressed: Football Contest, Northville Record, 104 W. Main, Northville and must be postmarked or brought to our office no later than 5 p.m. each Friday.

Employees of the Northville Record and The Novi/Walled Lake News or sponsoring merchants are not eligible.

Mustangs fall to Salem swimmers

Only Shari Thompson's first place finishes in the 200 freestyle and 100 butterfly prevented powerful Plymouth Salem from sweeping firsts in every event against Northville last Thursday.

The Rock tankers defeated Northville 116-56 despite the Mustang soph's strong showings. Thompson, who will represent Northville at the upcoming state swim meet, won the 200 free in 2:02.15 and the butterfly in 1:06.03.

Taking seconds for Northville were Erika Nelson in the 200 individual medley (2:34.18) and Dawn Biondi in the 50 freestyle (29.31, a personal best). Jill Roth captured second in the backstroke with a time of 1:14.10.

Karen Brining took third in diving with a point total of 126.40. Sophomore Karen Petersen clocked a personal-best 1:05.98 in the 100 freestyle and Nelson picked up a third in breast stroke with a time of 1:18.26.

Northville's 400 free relay team of Thompson, Dee LaChance, Kris Valade and Sue VanderBok clocked a 4:20.92 to take second place.

Despite the somewhat lopsided loss, Northville swim coach Bill Dicks found unexpected bright spots among the late-season performances — in particular the improvement of freshman Tracy Eschbach and in distance freestylers Kris Valade and Kim Brining.

The loss dropped Northville to a season record of 2-6 in Western Lakes dual meets and 3-6 overall. "We're a much better dual meet team than our record shows," Dicks said. "We've had a lot of problems getting people healthy. With everyone healthy we're as good as almost anyone else in the league."

Northville will be looking to regain some momentum with home meets this week against Novi and tomorrow at 7 p.m. against Plymouth Canton for "seniors night," the team's last home meet.

Monday, Northville will swim against Walled Lake Western and at 2 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 14, will begin preliminaries for the WLAA Final Meet Friday, Nov. 16.

Stephanie Warren has played a key role in the medley relay

RECREATION BRIEFS

YOUTH BASKETBALL

Youth basketball registration continues this week. The final player ratings and clinics will be held this Saturday, with grades 3-4 at 8 a.m., grades 5-6 at 9 a.m. and grades 7-9 at 10 a.m. Fee is $30, and the league schedule begins January 5. All games will be played on Saturdays.

SKI PACKETS

Ski packets may be picked up at the Northville Community Center between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Deadline for returning members mail-in registration is Saturday, November 17. New member walk-in registration is scheduled for November 19-21 from 6-9 p.m. on a first-come, first-serve basis.

COMPUTER CLASS

A computer class will be offered by the Northville Community Recreation Department. Computers Level I Basic and Word Processing. The class will take place on Wednesdays from November 7-December 12. Computers Level I Basic 6-8 p.m., word processing 8-10 p.m. Fee for both classes is $40 and both classes will be held at the Northville Community Center.

New coach hired

South Lyon resident Michelle Charniga has been named head coach of Northville's varsity gymnastics team for the 1985 season.

Charniga, 21, was a state-ranked all-around gymnast at Mason High School before attending classes at Michigan State University. She was a gymnastics instructor for four years at the MSU Summer Sports School athletics camp.

Charniga, a competitive gymnast since age six, also has been involved with South Lyon Community Recreation gymnastics programs.

Her hiring was announced by Northville High School Athletic Director Ralph Redmond last week. Redmond also must soon pick a new coach for the Northville varsity men's swim team, following the recently-announced unavailability of last year's head coach Pete Talbot.

COLTS:

The Northville-Novis Colts were dealt hard-fought losses in varsity and JV games played last Sunday. The Plymouth Lions topped the varsity 22-0 despite great defensive efforts by Dave Pierle, Sean Starkweather, Mike Lobbia and Matt Smith, who had two sacks. Reggie Mears turned in a solid game on offense, but the Colts were unable to score on the tough Lions.

In the JV game, Steve Bastian passed for 127 yards including a 62-yard TD strike to Doug Cozart, and Jeff Barber scored on a one-yard plunge. But it wasn't enough to top Plymouth, and the JV fell to 4-4 with the loss. Leading the defense were Jay Wardwell, Erasmus Morfe, Mike MacDonnell, Mark Klokenga, Jeff Todd and Craig Probert.

SOCCER:

UNDER 14 BOYS: Andy Frey's hat trick and the outstanding goalkeeping of Roger Kimerly gave the Fury a 3-2 win over Farmington Three ... United repeated as division champions with an 8-1 season with a 3-1 victory over Farmington Villa. Todd Daniels scored all three United goals, while Scott Sinkwits on defense and Bill Butske on offense were named game MVP's ... Andy Francoeur, Steve Yezback and Scott Howard scored for Arsenal, but it was the Plymouth Express who chugged to a 5-3 win. "An outstanding group of boys" led Arsenal to a line season ... The Raiders gunned down Livonia 4-4 on two goals each from Norm Lakin and Brad Maleszewski and one goal each from Craig Smith and Dave Buckland. Jeff Higgins on defense and John Fredericks on offense were named Raiders' standouts for the match.

UNDER 14 GIRLS: Erin Holmberg and Sarge Schuerman scored one goal apiece to boost the Warriors to a 2-0 win over the Plymouth Blasters. Jenny Belier played a standout game on offense for the winners, as did Kelly Monroe on defense. Goalkeepers Rooster Bowes, J.G. Crotenau and Sarge Schuerman shared credit for the shutout ... The Wildcats, first place in their division this season, defeated the Plymouth Wildcats 3-1, led by the outstanding offense of Karen Baird and the outstanding defense of Jenny Barber ... Despite a "good team effort," the Foxes fell to Plymouth 2-1.

UNDER 12 BOYS: Plymouth Nine defeated the Hot Spurs 4-1, with Matt Murphy getting the lone Northville goal. Roger Sanford played a strong defensive game for the Hot Spurs, while David Smith was named the team's offensive standout ... The Strikers ground out a 0-0 tie with Plymouth Eight, with Brendan Haldane and Chris Weidenbach, plus goalkeeper Randy Stinson, contributing excellent defensive work ... Plymouth Ten edged Arsenal 3-2. Paul Hodgins and Scott Hardin scored the Arsenal goals, while Chris Donkers contributed fine defense and Kyle Lakin line offense in the match ... A United "team effort" fell just short of Farmington Five in a 1-0 loss.

UNDER 12 GIRLS: The Demons slung Plymouth Two 5-0 with "a fantastic effort by the entire team." Colleen Hesse, Catherine Donkers and Beth Urset played well in goal, while five Demons scored single goals: Neysa Colizzi, Kara Kordt, Lesley Dekoker, Regina Laramee and Cindi Tolstedt ... Susan Marshall, Amy Goode, Pam Yezback and Renee Larabell scored to give the Desperados a 4-1 victory over Farmington One. Suzanne Orlovski was sive standout ... Nicole Cross scored twice to give the Pandas a 2-1 win over Plymouth Four. The Under 12 champion Pandas were also led by offensive MVP Susan Weidenbach and defensive MVP Amanda Livermore ... Plymouth Four nipped the Panthers 2-1 despite a strong defensive game by Panthers' back Julie Howard and the good offensive work of Megan Graham. Teresa McConville scored the lone Panthers goal.
