State to sell surplus Plymouth Center land

By KEVIN WILSON

More than 200 acres of state-owned land in Northville Township may soon be sold to private interests following legislative approval this week.

The state legislature's joint capital outlay subcommittee approved the sale of two large portions of the Michigan Department of Mental Health's Plymouth Center for Human Development on Tuesday morning. State Senator R. Robert Geake (R-Northville) proposed the committee action, which must be approved by both houses of the legislature before taking effect.

"The land has been declared surplus by the department, and we approved sale for the appraised value of $4.4 million," Geake said. "The sale has to be approved by both houses of the legislature, but that is probably routine — the major hurdle was the committee approval."

Geake is a member of the subcommittee and earlier this year pressed to have the appraisal done in preparation for sale.

The department of mental health divided the Plymouth Center property into three distinct parcels, two of which were declared surplus and for sale. DMH will retain the third parcel, which is the main administration building on the east side of Sheldon north of Five Mile road.

The parcels for sale include 158.56 acres west of Sheldon near Five Mile and 60.38 acres on the east side of Sheldon road, Geake said.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (MDNR) currently leases office space in DMH buildings located on the larger parcel.

"MDNR is on a month-to-month lease," Geake said. "The thought is that whoever buys the property might want to continue leasing to them. In the event they cannot stay there, the intent is to find them other leased quarters in the Northville area."

"This is important," Geake said, "because MDNR officials are now buying houses in our community and need to be assured that they will remain in the area."

Township supervisor Susan Heintz said she was "very pleased" to hear of the possible sale. "This is something we've been working toward for a long time — we're putting on a major push to make sure this land is sold and put back on the tax rolls while taking away the options to put other state facilities in there."

The state corrections department proposed conversion of the facility for use as prison space last year — that proposal was dropped this spring.

Detroit Mayor Coleman Young revived the proposal last week, suggesting that as many as 1,000 state prisoners could be housed at Plymouth Center (see related story on the proposed prison uses of the Detroit House of Correction).

The township planning commission is to consider potential rezoning of the Plymouth Center property, along with rezoning of other government-owned lands, in the near future. All the

DeHoCo battle imminent

By KEVIN WILSON

State legislators last week provided seed money for the eventual acquisition and renovation of the Detroit House of Corrections (DeHoCo) for use as a state prison, but area officials are still opposing the proposal.

The state legislature's joint capital outlay subcommittee on November 29 approved the expenditure of $15 million to "expedite construction" of prisons at four sites, including DeHoCo. Other sites are in the city of Detroit, city of Lapeer and Ionia County.

State Senator R. Robert Geake (R-Northville), a member of the capital outlay subcommittee, attempted to tie an amendment to the appropriation that would have required identification of two prison sites within the city of Detroit before any money could be spent on DeHoCo. The amendment failed.

"Progress toward acquisition of the DeHoCo site is limited to a $12,500 assessment of the property and its potential use as a state prison, said state representative Gerald H. Law (R-Plymouth Township).

"This isn't approval of the site," Law said. "The department of corrections still has to come back to us before they can go ahead with the purchase."

The Plymouth Township Board of Trustees was to consider the expenditure of $40,000 Tuesday evening, after The Record went to press, to hire Karoub and Associates to lobby against the proposal on the township's behalf. The lobbying firm, which also represents Northville Township, was instrumental in defeating a proposal earlier this year that would have renovated the Plymouth Center for Human Development for use as a prison.

The legislative action came in response to mounting pressure to address Michigan's prison overcrowding "crisis." Both Wayne County Executive William Lucas and Detroit Mayor Coleman Young issued calls for added prison space last week, with Young including proposals that virtually every parcel of vacant government property in Northville and Plymouth be used to house prisoners.

"I've been getting a lot of calls about what Mayor Young was suggesting," said Law. "People should know the legislature isn't considering any other property outside of DeHoCo — we turned down the Plymouth Center thing last year and that's over with. DeHoCo is already a prison, it's not exactly like the other parcels. In fact, DeHoCo would probably be run better by the state than it has been by the city of Detroit."

Township supervisor Susan Heintz isn't so certain that Young's comments won't carry weight as the legislature rushes to create more prison beds.

"We're very concerned that Mayor Young brought up the Plymouth Center site again," she said. "We're going to do everything we can to make sure those vacant lands aren't turned into prisons." (See related story).

Under proposals put forward by both Lucas and Young last week, DeHoCo would be used as temporary housing for 1,000 state prisoners. Those prisoners would eventually be confined in new 550-bed regional prisons (on the same model as the one currently under construction at Beck and Five Mile in Northville Township) located both on DeHoCo property and in the City of Detroit. Young suggested that two 550-bed prisons be built on the DeHoCo land.

Lucas' recommendation was based on a preliminary report from his Commission to Study Prison Needs, of which Heintz is a member. The site selection subcommittee Heintz belongs to met last week, but she was unable to attend because she was in Lansing attending the capital outlay subcommittee meeting. Township manager David Leiko and police chief Kenneth Hardesty went to the subcommittee meeting in her place.

Leiko said his understanding is the subcommittee will not recommend construction of a regional prison at DeHoCo unless at least two sites are selected in the City of Detroit.

Four school principals assigned to new posts

By MICHELE M. FECHT

Four of Northville's seven school building principals have been reassigned to new posts following the Northville Board of Education's November 12 decision to close Cooke Junior High and Moraine Elementary.

Superintendent George Bell said he met with building principals individually Wednesday to discuss "their career plans and options" and noted the new assignments "put everybody where they really wanted to be."

Beginning with the start of the 1985-86 school year, current Winchester principal Milton Jacobi will head Amerman Elementary, and Meads Mill principal Ronald Horwath will take over Jacobi's post at Winchester.

Bell noted that while he felt "both junior high principals would have made good middle school principals," he said Horwath has experience at the elementary level. (Horwath served as temporary elementary principal at Amerman from 1967-68.)

Bell noted the pending retirement of current Amerman principal Bill Craft will leave the post open from January to July. He said the job already has been internally posted and noted the administration "is looking for a teacher within the district who has aspirations to be a principal" to step into the position in the interim.

Cooke Junior High principal David Longridge will head the middle school nine families with children who will need Goodfellow help to have a Christmas this year.

Northville skater wins gold in Czechoslovakia

By B.J. MARTIN

Northville's Jerod Swallow has made a quantum leap through the world skating stratosphere.

After claiming gold medals in junior national skating competition earlier this year, the 18-year-old Northville High School senior brought the United States a gold medal at the Grand Prize SNU (Slovak National Uprising) Junior International Skating Championships in Banska Bystrica, Czechoslovakia, November 22-24.

In their first-ever international competition, Swallow teamed with Livonia 15-year-old Jodie Balogh in junior dance, sweeping firsts in compulsories,

Skaters from 12 countries were represented at the Grand Prize competition. In addition to the U.S. and host country Czechoslovakia, the Soviet Union, France, East Germany, Italy, Hungary, Poland, Austria, Sweden, Yugoslavia and Australia were represented. The competition was televised throughout the Eastern European bloc nations.

Ten teams were entered in junior dance competition. The Soviet Union claimed the silver medal, and France received the bronze.

Options for Haggerty studied

By B.J. MARTIN

The issue of whether to change the zoning classification of one 13-acre tract of residential property has become the crux of a much larger question concerning Northville Township's future — the question of what to do with Haggerty Road.

As recently as mid-November, that greater question seemed to have been answered — most of the undeveloped property along Haggerty was earmarked to become subdivisions.

But recent activity by the township board of trustees and planning commission could mean some big changes in that philosophy.

The request to rezone was a familiar item on the planning commission's agenda November 27. Wil-O-Mac Inc. of Plymouth was seeking to rezone a 12.8-acre parcel of land located east of Haggerty, about 400 yards north of Five Mile Road.

The item was familiar because the same application had appeared on the commission's agenda October 30. At that time, it was rejected. Had it been approved instead, Wil-O-Mac directors said they intended to build a professional office park on the property.

At that October meeting, consultant Claude Coates advised commissioners that allowing the rezoning could result in "strip commercial development" along Haggerty Road.

Such development, Coates noted, would be incompatible with the Township Master Plan guidelines for that area. The Master Plan calls for single-family residential (mostly subdivision) development along Haggerty from just north of Five Mile all the way to half a mile north of Six Mile.

But long after the Master Plan was drawn up, plans for the Haggerty Road sewage disposal route have upped the ante for developers.

Meijer, Inc. finally developed its business-zoned property at Haggerty and Eight Mile. Immediately north, in Novi, business development along Haggerty was already proceeding rapidly. To the south, in Plymouth Township, extensive commercial/industrial use already exists.

The business focus of surrounding areas wasn't lost on representatives of Wil-O-Mac. In their application for rezoning, they stated: "It is our belief that the character and nature of the use of the subject property and the uses of the neighboring area have changed from residential to more of a nonresidential character."

"Traffic has also substantially increased as caused by this increase in

'We do not believe consideration of a change in the master plan is warranted.'

— Claude Coates

'(The Haggerty Corridor) has changed from residential to more of a nonresidential character.'

— Wil-O-Mac, Inc.

Seven Mile).

Heeding that recommendation, the commission unanimously denied the rezoning. But after that meeting, commission chair Richard Duwel met with departing township supervisor John MacDonald (elected 35th District Court judge in November) and Wil-O-Mac owners to review the application once more.

The result: in a virtual referendum on township development in the "Haggerty Corridor," the township board voted November 15 to submit Wil-O-Mac's application for reconsideration by the planning board.

Three of the four votes favoring resubmittal came from elected township executives — MacDonald, treasurer Richard Henningsen and clerk (now supervisor) Susan Heintz. The other "for" vote came from trustee Thomas Cook. Opposed were trustees James Nowka, Donald Williams and Richard Allen, also a planning commissioner.

When planning commissioners met last week, it was clear the subject of Haggerty Road development was no longer considered a dead issue.

While the commission decided to table consideration of the application, Coates was directed to draft a cost estimate for a land-use study that re-evaluates Haggerty Road property in the township.

Coates told commissioners such a study "could be pulled together in a couple of months, with four or five months to review and take any action, if needed."

With an estimated completion date of August, 1985, for the Haggerty sewage disposal route, time is of the essence.

A cost estimate and a more exact time frame for completion and consideration of the study are expected to be presented at the planning commission's January 29 meeting.

nonresidential development (contributing) to the diminished quality and character . . . and ongoing residential use and enjoyment of the area."

Citing proximity to I-275, it was further claimed the property is "ideally situated for office service development . . . The property has more desirability for office uses and office use will be compatible to and in harmony with the established and surrounding uses of the area."

But in his comments on Wil-O-Mac's application last October, Coates stated: "We do not believe consideration of a change in the master plan is warranted, especially until it is evident that the market warrants additional office land. Presently the plan sets forth an adequate amount of office land as evidenced by the vacant areas already zoned on Haggerty Road (immediately north of

Still time to purchase Christmas cards for charities

Residents who haven't yet purchased their Christmas cards, or who may need additional ones, still may help others by buying cards that represent donations to various charities.

Locally, Judy Squires has available an attractive buff-colored card depicting Santa in a red suit leaving toys under a decorated tree that is the Christmas greeting card of the Spina Bifida Association of Metropolitan Detroit.

The greeting reads: "Christmas is a special time, a season set apart — a happy warm remembering time, a season of the heart."

Squires, who lives at 19848 Scenic Harbour Drive, reported Monday that she has a good supply of the cards available in boxes of 25 for $8.50. She also is selling Entertainment '85 books for $22.95 for the association. She may be called at 348-5887.

The Michigan Cancer Foundation is offering a selection of cards with six styles ranging in price from $8 to $16 per box of 25. They may be purchased in person between 1-3 p.m. at the Michigan Cancer Foundation's Plymouth branch, 173 North Main, Plymouth, phone 453-3010.

The foundation points out it is the state's only institute devoted solely to research into the cause, cure and prevention of cancer. Funds raised through the sale of the holiday cards assure the continued support and growth of work in the community.

Styles include designs with candles, Santa, a dove, drummer boy, nativity scene and contemporary greetings.

The custom of exchanging Christmas cards has existed in the United States for 109 years since it was brought to this country in 1875 by a German printer.

Throughout those years Americans have adapted the custom to their own use, enlarging the scope and finally giving the practice a dual meaning of giving.

Many Christmas cards today not only send season's greetings to loved one and acquaintances, but represent a donation to a charitable organization.

Many charities which operate nationwide campaigns for donations have realized that Christmas cards offer them a unique fundraising opportunity to collect money for their organization and at the same time provide a needed service.

For instance, the American Lung Association, known for 76 years as the Christmas Seal Organization, not only distributes Christmas seals, but now sells Christmas cards as well. A portion of the cost of the card paid by the consumer becomes a donation to the association.

Organizations usually do not sell their cards "over the counter" in a retail store but conduct large direct mail campaigns using tried and true mailing lists compiled over years of fundraising.

However, even though the sales techniques are similar, the various appeals the charities make to their customers are very different. For example, UNICEF (United Nations Children's Fund) advertises Christmas cards designed by established artists from all over the world, imprinted in five different languages and using, in some cases, recycled paper.

The Metropolitan Detroit Area Chapter of the American Cancer Society conducts a holiday greeting card campaign among businesses and industries. The society's brochure advertises several card styles which are "appropriate" for a company's use — either to send to its customers or to its employees.

No matter what the advertisement says or the type of card offered, the message is the same — consumers who plan to purchase cards can aid their favorite charity or make a statement about which charity they support, while at the same time obtaining quality greeting cards.

The success of the idea becomes evident during the holiday season when the postman delivers the mail. Most persons are already familiar with the many cards they receive from friends which indicate that a donation has been made to a charity in exchange for the card. The idea has caught on because it fits the spirit of the season.

Child's drawing picked for stamp

This year's contemporary Christmas stamp bearing a child's sketch of Santa with his bag of toys and "Season's Greetings" was designed by an eight-year old Jamaica, New York, boy named Denny LaBocchetta.

The first student-inspired stamp was selected from more than half a million entries in a nationwide project in 1982 during national card and letter writing week.

Northville postmaster Wallace Cates reports that 84 entries were submitted from Northville in the competition. Sixteen were sent from Cooke Junior High and 68 from Our Lady of Victory School.

Denny's cheerful Santa with his sack of toys was unveiled September 12 by the postmaster William S. Bolger as one of this year's two Christmas stamps.

The stamp first went on sale October

30 in Jamaica, New York.

The other 20 cent Christmas stamp depicts the Fra Filippo Lippi Madonna and Child from a painting in the National Gallery of Art. It went on sale October 30 in Washington, D.C.; it says "Christmas USA."

The Northville post office reports the Fra Filippo Lippi stamp is selling very well.

Neighbors grumble as apartment plans reach first base

It appears likely a 176-unit apartment complex will be built on Six Mile Road just east of the C&O Railroad, with construction to begin perhaps as early as next year.

Northville Township Planning Commission at its meeting November 27 unanimously granted conditional approval to preliminary site plans for the project submitted by Amurcon Inc. of Plymouth.

After being turned down for a similar project at the commission's October 30 meeting, Amurcon developers submitted revised site plans to township officials in mid-November.

The revisions included a reduction in planned apartment units from 182 to 176, and changes in the location and arrangement of apartment clusters on the property. Additional minor changes must be made in the site plans to obtain final approval by the commission — that would come no sooner than January 29, the commission's next regular meeting date.

While developers were pleased with the commission's decision, a group of homeowners from neighboring Lakes of Northville subdivision were far less enthusiastic.

Plans for a 108-unit condominium project, to be located north of Seven Mile Road just east of Northville Road, were nixed by township planners at last week's meeting.

Harbor Hill Associates, developers of the project, were seeking the green light from planning commissioners for the second time this year. Last July, commissioners denied a similar plan for the 22-acre site, located immediately east of Swan Harbour apartments on Seven Mile.

shortcomings of the preliminary plans, which must be remedied before final approval:

- Failure to include elevation drawings showing the buildings' facade and height;
- Failure to provide evidence relevant to county board approve of the plans;
- Failure to include the proposed location of trees; and
- A proposed wood-material wall, instead of masonry or concrete as the ordinance specifies.

Other problems in the site plans included:

- Location of the complex maintenance garage near Seven Mile Road. "A maintenance building should not be located where directly visible from a public street," Coates pointed out. Developers previously had sought to locate the garage next to single-family zoned property homes on an adjacent parcel. That location, he pointed out, was not suitable either.
- Evidence of Wayne County's road officials approval of plans must be submitted.
- Documentation of an abandoned easement included in the plan must be submitted.

The planning commission's next regular meeting will be January 27.

Here's the lowdown about Amurcon's rental project

While details of the proposed apartment complex at Six Mile and Haggerty roads are still being ironed out, no major changes in the site plans approved by township planners last week are expected.

Those site plans provided for:

- A total of 176 apartment units — 64 one-bedroom units of 720 square feet each; 64 two-bedroom, two-bath units of 920 square feet each; and 48 units of two-bedroom, two-bath townhouses of 1,045 square feet each. The apartments are grouped in 16 buildings;
- A 2,500 square-foot community building;
- A swimming pool;
- A jogging path with eight "exercise stations";
- A wall nearly 350 feet long along the parcel's northeast border.

Elevation drawings showing the exterior design of the apartments are expected to be submitted with final site plans.

It's expected the development may be a strong impetus to reduce the speed limit of Six Mile Road between Bradner and Northville Road. When developers present their plans to Wayne County authorities, it's possible a study of traffic flow in the area may be ordered.

Planners identified the following

Officials reject condo project

Plans for a 108-unit condominium project, to be located north of Seven Mile Road just east of Northville Road, were nixed by township planners at last week's meeting.

Harbor Hill Associates, developers of the project, were seeking the green light from planning commissioners for the second time this year. Last July, commissioners denied a similar plan for the 22-acre site, located immediately east of Swan Harbour apartments on Seven Mile.

Since July, developers obtained conditional approval of term construction in the landscape plans from the Board of Zoning Appeals. The board also ruled that the plan provided enough parking places — a requirement that had been unresolved in July.

Once again, the project plans were bogged down by — among other problems — a failure to meet zoning ordinance provisions for a recreation area.

Developers sought to meet the intent of the ordinance by providing lake access to Swan Harbour Lake in the most recent site plans. But township planning officials weren't buying that claim.

According to planning consultant Claude Coates, however, the lake access was a dubious claim to being a recreation area. He noted no recreation facilities on the lake are provided and that the downward slope of land toward the lake is so steep as to be practically unusable.

Adding a usable recreation area is not going to be easy for developers, either. Incorporating the required 33,750 square-foot minimum in the site plans will almost certainly require relocation of buildings and service

Other problems in the site plans included:

- Location of the complex maintenance garage near Seven Mile Road. "A maintenance building should not be located where directly visible from a public street," Coates pointed out. Developers previously had sought to locate the garage next to single-family zoned property homes on an adjacent parcel. That location, he pointed out, was not suitable either.
- Evidence of Wayne County's road officials approval of plans must be submitted.
- Documentation of an abandoned easement included in the plan must be submitted.

The planning commission's next regular meeting will be January 27.

volunteer their time during the holiday season because they "want to help others." There are no dues and no membership roster.

Anyone wishing to be a Goodfellow for the day is invited by Smith to meet at city hall at 10 a.m. Saturday to "join with us to bring real joy and sunshine into the lives of children.

Children need and deserve a joyful Christmas."

Smith adds that the Michigan State Police officers at the Northville Post have been "really the backbone" for the sale. They are joined by city and township police and township firemen.

The papers are the front section of this week's Northville Record and are donated to the Goodfellows by The Record.

Monies raised are used locally to provide needed shoes or clothing for children and for family food baskets. The new shoes have been a special feature of the local Goodfellow drive with many children receiving their first pair of brand new shoes from the Goodfellows. Smith personally has taken children to buy the shoes.

This year during the Goodfellow sale the Goodfellows' Santa is to take up residence in the little house in the Town Square Park and will talk with and hear requests from children.

Persons knowing of needy families may call any of the police departments, their church or Smith at 349-0854. Anyone wishing to send a donation check should address it to the Northville Goodfellows and mail it to 43643 Nine Mile, Northville, 48167.

Judy's and Sandie's win Christmas Walk categories

The emphasis is on dolls for Christmas 1984. Two winning windows in the window decorating contest of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce this year are Judy's Country Curtains on Center, far left, and Sandie's Hallmark Shop on Main. Both received first place awards in their categories from judges during the annual Christmas Walk. They are among the many decorated shops that make coming to town to "window shop" a holiday attraction. Record photos by Steve Fecht.

Kensington Metropark plans holiday festivities

Several holiday-season attractions are scheduled at Kensington Metropark near Milford.

"County Christmas," a family festival with events to recreate the magic of an old fashioned Christmas in the country, will be held at the Nature Center on two Saturdays, December 8 and December 15, with hours from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day.

Events include Christmas crafts, stories for children, Christmas trees past and present and December walks in the woods.

Christmas trees and crafts demonstrations will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. with story hours at 11 a.m., 1 and 3 p.m. Walks in the woods are at 11 a.m., 1 and 3 p.m. These programs are free but advance registration is required, as is a vehicle entry permit. Call toll free 1-800-552-6772.

"Lunch with Santa," a special program which also will feature a sleigh ride and chat with Santa, will be held at Kensington Farm Center in Kensington Metropark on two Saturdays, December 8 and 15. Hours will be 11 a.m., 1 and 3 p.m.

Tickets must be purchased in advance at Kensington Metropark office. Call 1-800-552-6772 to contact the park toll free. A vehicle entry permit is required.

"Winter Wildlife Survival," a walk which helps explain the problems wildlife have in winter finding food and shelter and in keeping warm, will be held at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropark at 2 p.m. Sunday, December 9.

Persons should bring binoculars and dress for the winter. The program is free, but advance registration is required as is a vehicle entry permit. Call 1-800-552-6772.

Horse-drawn sleighrides (or hayrides if there is no snow) are now available at the Kensington Farm Center in Kensington Metropark.

There are three different programs available:

Twenty minute hayrides are available from noon to 4:30 p.m. Sundays for the general public. Charges for adults are $1.50, for children, $1. No reservations are needed.

Evening sleighrides for groups are available Tuesday through Sunday from 6-10 p.m. by advance appointment. Charges are $50 per hour per group.

Day sleighrides for groups are available by advance appointment on Saturdays only. One-half hour rides are $25 per group.

Bonfires are available before or after evening hayrides with a charge of $20. Vehicle entry permits are required. For reservations, call the park at the toll free number, 1-800-552-6772.

"Metropark Wildlife," a two-hour family nature walk to discover the habitats for an amazing number of animals, will be held at the Kensington Nature Center at 2 p.m. Sunday, December 16. Persons attending will have an opportunity to see the animals in the Metropark.

The program is free, but advance registration is required, as is a vehicle entry permit. Call 1-800-552-6772.

Two Tennessee walking horses now are providing a mounted ranger patrol in Kensington Metropark. Howard Chanter, chief park ranger, said the horses have been giving the ranger staff an opportunity to patrol the more remote areas of the 4,350-acre park and also offer excellent public relations between staff and visitors.

The 11-year old horses were donated by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Moffit of Holly, and one reason consideration was given to this project was that the horses were already cared for at the Kensington Farm Center.

James J. Pompo, deputy director of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, stated that this is a one-year pilot program. So far the ranger staff is enthusiastic, and the general public likes to see horses performing this type of service. Like all Metroparks, Kensington Park has a regular ranger staff performing regulatory duties and providing information and assistance to park visitors.

The 1985 Huron-Clinton Metropark annual vehicle entry permits now are available at several Metropark offices, including Kensington Metropark in Milford.

The annual permit provides entry to all 13 Metroparks throughout the year and permit fees are the same as in the past several years. Annual permit fees are $7 for a regular permit, $2 for a senior citizen permit. Daily permits which cost $2 will continue to be sold.

Kensington Metropark office is at 2240 West Buno Road in Milford.

Permits also may be obtained from the Huron-Metropolitan Authority, 3050 Penobscot Building, Detroit. There is a toll free line, 1-800-552-6772.

Holiday postal deadlines

For those who send Christmas greetings to distant destinations, most air mailing deadlines are this week. Surface deadlines were in October and November.

The Northville post office gives this Friday as the deadline for air mailing cards to Europe and the Far East to insure delivery by December 25. Air parcel deadline for Europe and the Far East was Monday.

Letters, cards and packages for Central and South America air mail deadline is today.

Air mail letters, cards and parcels for the Caribbean and West Indies should be sent by December 12. Deadlines for air deliveries to North and Northwest Africa, Australia and Asia to insure delivery by Christmas already have passed.

For those mailing to military personnel the post office recommends sending cards and letters to Alaska, the Caribbean, West Indies, Iceland and Hawaii by December 10; to Europe and the Far East by December 7; mail to other destinations already should have been sent to assure arrival by Christmas.

Four principals face reassignment

at the start of the new school year with high school principal David Bolitho retaining his post.

Ken Pawlowski, hired last year to head Silver Springs Elementary following the administrative transfer of then-principal Marcia Scarr, will remain at the helm of that elementary school.

Bell noted the decision to shuffle elementary principals was based on both the administrators' tenure at their respective school buildings and career opportunities.

He pointed out, for instance, that current Winchester principal Milt Jacobl has headed that school for nearly 10 years. Prior to that he was principal at Moraine.

"It's good for a principal to change buildings every once in a while," Bell noted.

However, he also pointed out Pawlowski will retain his post to provide some consistency at Silver Springs. In the last six years, the elementary school has had three different principals.

Bell said plans are to move current Moraine principal Donald VanIngen to another post sometime after the close of the current school year.

"The rumor out there is that we're offering him a teaching position or retirement — and that's not true," Bell said.

He noted that VanIngen most likely will be moved into an administrative post.

The longtime Moraine principal has the longest tenure of any administrator in the district. He began his career here as a teacher in 1955.

With reassignment of building administrators completed, Bell said the district will be looking at redistricting students for the start of the new school year.

He said a citizens' committee is being formed to work on redefining the district's attendance boundaries among the remaining three elementary schools.

Tentative meetings have been scheduled in December, and Bell said he is hoping to bring a recommendation to the board of education sometime in January in order to start notifying parents of changes and reassigning staff members.

Township seeking developers for state-owned lands

By KEVIN WILSON

Forestalling future proposals to locate state facilities such as prisons in Northville Township is the goal behind a new effort to have currently vacant government-held properties developed for private uses.

The township planning commission will meet in special session at 7 p.m. Thursday to set a public hearing date on a proposal to rezone all government-owned properties in sections 15 through 18. That area includes lands between Five and Six Mile roads from a point a little west of Northville Road to the township's western boundary at Napier Road.

"Too many governments own too much land in that corridor," said township supervisor Susan Heintz. "We're going to try to change that."

Most of the land is presently zoned for residential uses. The area includes property owned by the state, Wayne County and the City of Detroit. Except for the present Phoenix Correctional Facility and the under-construction Scott Correctional Facility, most of the government-owned land is vacant. It includes lands formerly parts of Plymouth Center for Human Development, Wayne County Child Development Center, and the Detroit House of Corrections.

"We're going to have to try to get this property developed so that it's not sitting there vacant every time the state needs to build something," said township supervisor Susan Heintz. "The long-term solution is to get those properties developed and back on the tax rolls — otherwise they'll keep coming back to it."

She declined to identify specific proposals for use of the properties or what zoning class might be needed to accommodate those proposals. Heintz said there are private parties interested in acquiring at least some of the properties.

"We had people interested a couple of years ago when we went through the business of the new prison," she said.

Heintz is to meet Thursday morning with Robert Naftaly, director of the Michigan Department of Management and Budget (OMB), to discuss the issue of state prisons being located in the township. Noting that a full third of the land area in the township is non-taxable because it is government-owned, Heintz said she will attempt to convey the township's resistance to having that situation continue.

All three sites in the area for which rezoning is proposed have been abandoned for their original uses. One portion of DeHoCo has been converted to the Phoenix prison, another portion is the site for the new Scott prison. There remain about 500 acres of unused DeHoCo property owned by the City of Detroit, including one-half of section 17 (bound by Five and Six Mile, Beck and Ridge roads) and roughly a quarter of section 18. The latter parcel includes a stretch of the C&O railroad and is presently zoned for industrial uses.

The state Department of Natural Resources has offices in one former Plymouth Center building, while the Department of Mental Health maintains ownership over the remainder.

A 101 acre portion of the child development center on the east side of Sheldon has been dedicated for construction of the Jerome P. Cavanagh Retirement Village. The county still owns virtually all the land between Five and Six Mile, from Sheldon west to Beck.

Other government-owned properties in the township, outside the area for which rezoning is proposed, include Maybury State Park, Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital, Hawthorn Center, the Michigan State Police Northville Post and Second District Headquarters, and the Middle Rouge Parkway (Hines Park). The City of Plymouth also owns a small parcel on the east side of Beck between Six and Seven Mile roads.

"Our major argument," he said, "is that the Northville-Plymouth area has more than its fair share of institutions and that the city of Detroit should carry some of the burden."

Leiko said the subcommittee's final report will be drafted this week and mailed to members. "As I understand it, we'll have an opportunity to respond to the recommendations, either by letter or over the phone. Based on that, the subcommittee chairman may decide we need another meeting. Either we'll meet again, or, if we don't, all dissenting opinions will be included in a package with the recommendations."

He said he expected the report will include DeHoCo on a provisional basis, tied to a second Detroit location. "We'll probably oppose even that," he said. The subcommittee's report and the dissenting opinions are to be joined with those of three other subcommittees in forming the Lucas Commission's final report.

Leiko said those advocating a regional prison at DeHoCo argue that it does not place an added burden on the community since the facility already houses prisoners and that there is an immediate need for prison beds that can be acquired more quickly by renovating DeHoCo than by constructing new spaces.

County commissioner Mary Dumas (R-Livonia), whose district includes both Northville and Plymouth townships, questions the cost-effectiveness of using DeHoCo.

"We (the county) did a study of renovating DeHoCo back before we built the new county jail in Greentown," she said. "It showed a cost of something like $25 million to bring it up to state standards, and that was in the late 1970's." The state corrections department estimates construction of a completely new regional prison costs approximately $33 million.

"We renovated just a part of the 'M' building at Eloise (in Westland) and it cost us $6 million," Dumas said.

The Eloise complex at Michigan Avenue and Merriman in Westland is another location suggested by Lucas and Young. Their proposals would put as many as 1,000 state prisoners in Westland. The temporary county jail there houses 250 and was to be shut down when the new county jail opened.

Plymouth Center land to be sold as surplus

Plymouth Center property is currently zoned R-3, which is the township's maximum density single family residential classification. (A related story in this week's Record details the proposal to rezone government-owned properties).

The sale may affect three current proposals for use of the Plymouth Center buildings on monthly leases, she noted. Those negotiating toward leases include a private school, a senior citizens' food program and the Civil Aeronautics Board.

"It's possible something can be worked out with whoever the new owner is," Heintz said. "The main thing is to get this property out of the state's hands."

Heintz suggested that the property may be sold to more than one buyer. "We'll probably see at least two purchasers, since the land is divided by Sheldon and the potential uses of the two parcels may be quite different."

Plymouth Center formerly housed developmentally disabled youths — it closed earlier this year after relocating all its residents in group homes or other institutions under a court order. The court order followed disclosures of resident abuse and poor care in the mid-70s.

Toys for Tots sites named

Anyone with unneeded toys in good condition that have been outgrown by local children has a choice of places to donate them to help provide a Christmas for needy children.

New this year locally is a Toys for Tots program that collects toys for children throughout the metropolitan Detroit area under auspices of the U.S. Marine Corps. Cutler Realty is serving as the Northville drop off spot and has boxes available in the office at 103 Rayson. Cutler took over the project locally when Realty World, which formerly sponsored it, was not able to do so.

The toys will be distributed by the Marine Corps.

As they have done for many years, the Northville Jaycees also are accepting toy donations of both old and new unwrapped toys in a large, white gift-wrapped box placed in the town square park across from the clock on Main Street.

At Northville Plaza Mall on Seven Mile in the township the mall merchants' association is accepting toys in boxes in the mall that will be donated to Civic Concern for distribution to local needy families.

Paula, a 1984 Northville High School graduate, is a freshman at Albion and sings soprano.

MARY NUTTER, daughter of Northville residents Helen and DeWayne Nutter, was a student consultant for Central Michigan University's Small Business Institute during the fall semester.

She provided service to a business that requested consulting services in the area of her training and capabilities.

The Small Business Institute provides service to local businesses at no cost and gives the student the opportunity to exercise knowledge and expertise in areas such as management, marketing, finance, accounting and information analysis.

Local officials study bicycle path ideas

A southeast-to-northwest bicycle path through the Northville community is rolling slowly toward becoming a reality.

While even the route of such a path is still not completely settled — let alone issues such as right-of-way negotiations, funding and bidding — local officials have begun looking at study information recently provided by planning consultants.

Practically all city and township officials agree the bike path is a good idea. The more relevant question is whether it's an idea whose time has come — or more precisely, whether it's an idea whose time will come soon.

The path would begin at Six Mile and Haggerty Road, where it would adjoin the north-south bike path which runs along I-275, and extend northwest to Maybury State Park.

Its most likely route through the Northville community would travel along Six Mile Road from Haggerty to Northville Road, north along Northville Road to Seven Mile, west along Seven Mile, then north along Beck Road to the entrance to Maybury Park.

Officials have noted one potentially troublesome intersection in that route — the intersection of Seven Mile and Sheldon Road. But the major stumbling block to the path's construction is financial, not geographic. Township consultants gave a "ballpark" estimate of between $125,000 to $156,000 for the work.

A study prepared by township planning consultants Vilcan-Leman and Associates Inc. listed possible federal, state and local funding sources for the bike path. Although partial funding from these sources may be available, it's expected as much as half the cost would be locally generated, either through millage, special assessment district or obligation bonds.

Another funding possibility submitted by consultants would call for township regulations to require bike paths be built along with any developments of private property along the proposed route.

Aside from millage and bond issues, however, studies report the most substantial non-local source may be federal matching funds under the Land and Water Conservation Act of 1965.

Under provisions for matching funds, ownership of the bike path property must be related to the agency or community applying for funding. The Northville community is less likely to be approved for funding sources such as grants available to economically disadvantaged communities or for bikepaths to be used primarily for transportation instead of recreation.

Political sign rule to be amended

Political candidates seeking to erect campaign signs in the city would be relieved of a requirement that they first obtain a permit under proposed revisions to a city ordinance under consideration.

Elimination of the permit requirement will be considered in a public hearing at council's December 17 meeting. City administrators brought the matter to council's attention in November.

The permit requirement, clerk Joan McAllister told council, is virtually impossible to enforce and poses problems in providing equal treatment of all candidates. City manager Steven Walters added that the requirement also apparently exceeds the city's authority to regulate free speech, according to a recent state attorney general opinion.

McAllister explained that candidates residing in the city are the only ones who regularly attempt to obtain permits. Most political signs are erected by out-of-town candidates and their supporters.

"The problem is how do you enforce the permit requirement when it is violated?" Walters explained in November. "Many pole signs are put up on people's lawns — do you go onto private property and take them down? You really get tangled up in the free speech issue."

Given the near impossibility of enforcing the requirement with out-of-town candidates, McAllister said, and believing it would be unfair to selectively enforce it only for those residing here, the clerk's office did not undertake any enforcement effort during the past election. Local candidates seeking permits were told they were unnecessary.

State Attorney General Frank Kelley recently ruled that permit requirements and similar regulations "place a chilling effect on the constitutionally protected right of political ex-

Kelley's opinion also opposes any limit on the number of days signs may be in place prior to an election but allows requirements that they be removed within a specified number of days after the election.

The city ordinance, which is a section of a law governing all types of signs, sets a 45-day pre-election limit and requires that political signs be removed within 10 days after the election. The current proposed revision deletes only the permit requirement — it does not address the time limits.

Geake sponsors voting bill

A bill that supporters say would improve the integrity of Michigan's voter registration lists recently passed the state senate and was due for consideration in the house.

The bill, S.B. 86, was sponsored by state Senator Robert Geake (R-Northville), and allows for the names of inactive voters to be purged from the active voter list after five years of not voting. It requires, however, that the voter be notified by the clerk and given 30 days notice in order to request reinstatement. In addition, Geake's bill increases the period of time that a person could be considered registered, without voting, from four years to five years.

An earlier related bill, which created a two-tier system placing inactive voters on the inactive voter list after five years and then allowing them to be removed without notice after 10 years, was vetoed by Lieutenant Governor Martha Griffiths earlier this year. Griffiths stated in her veto message that she could not approve the lack of uniformity in the two-tier system or the disenfranchisement of voters without notice.

"My bill addresses both of those difficulties, while at the same time vastly improving the efficiency of Michigan's voter registration system," Geake explained.

"The papers have been filled with stories of voting irregularities and registration problems for a long time," Geake said. "The Senate Administration and Rules Committee has been conducting hearings around the state, in addition to monitoring reports of inconsistencies and sadly outdated voter registration lists. In fact, a first-class mailing to all the registered voters in Pontiac elicited a return of over 40 percent of the mailings due to a move or faulty address."

"These hearings have proven that a major effort must be made by the Legislature to help local clerks clean up the rolls and protect the integrity of the vote in Michigan," Geake said. "My bill is a major first step."

Geake gave credit to Plymouth Township clerk Esther Hulsing for devising the idea for his bill, and added that the bill has strong support from both the township and municipal organizations in Michigan.

Township police pursue car stolen here to Redford

In the Township...

Four automobiles were stolen in Northville Township sometime between November 26 and 30, township police report.

One of the incidents, which occurred around 2:45 a.m. November 30, involved a car chase with a township police sergeant trailing the suspect to Telegraph near the I-96 service drive.

According to the police report, Township Police Sergeant John Sherman observed the 1983 Chevrolet traveling east bound on Seven Mile at approximately 57 mph. Sherman requested a LEIN check on the license plate through the township dispatcher, who confirmed the vehicle belonged to 411 Innsbrook resident. The officer then advised the dispatcher to contact the owner about the suspect vehicle. Dispatch informed Sherman that the owner was contacted and that the vehicle was not supposed to be out of the parking lot area.

The officer requested back-up from Livonia police and began chasing the suspect vehicle to a point just east of Newburgh where the driver pulled over.

The officer turned on the public address system and opened the door to order the suspect to turn off the vehicle at which time the driver sped away east bound on I-96.

The driver was described by the officer as being a black male, approximately 30-35 years of age with short hair, long sideburns and possibly a beard.

The officer advised dispatch to notify area departments about the suspect vehicle and noted that the driver turned all lights off and accelerated east bound on I-96.

According to the report, Sherman chased the vehicle until it reached Telegraph. At that time, dispatch advised that Redford Police had located the suspect vehicle on Telegraph approximately 200 feet south of the I-96 service drive.

Upon arrival at the scene, the officer found the suspect had escaped and noted the steering column was damaged.

The officer met with the complainant who stated the vehicle was locked and an alarm activated at the time the incident occurred. The vehicle was parked in the north parking lot on Innsbrook Drive.

The complainant further stated the alarm was connected to a beeper which was with the owner at the time the incident occurred. He told police the alarm did not go off and was unaware the vehicle was missing until notified by the police dispatcher.

The complainant said the vehicle was stolen from the same location on July 10.

Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $150.

A 1982 Pontiac Trans Am was stolen from a Northridge Drive parking lot sometime between 11:30 p.m. November 27 and 9:30 a.m. November 28, township police report.

The complainant told police the vehicle was locked and parked at the intersection of Woodbend and Greenridge at the time the incident occurred.

The complainant said no one in his family heard anything suspicious.

The vehicle's value is estimated at $12,600.

Hubcaps valued at $300 were stolen off a 1981 Chevrolet parked on Crystal Lake sometime between 1 p.m. November 28 and 9:35 a.m. November 29, police report.

The complainant told police the hubcaps had locks to prevent anyone from stealing them. She further stated she did not see or hear anything suspicious at the time the incident occurred.

Unknown subject(s) smashed the hatchback window of a 1976 AMC Gremlin parked at Moraine Elementary School sometime between 3:30 and 6:30 p.m. November 27, police report.

Unknown subject(s) drove over the front lawn of a Crestview Circle residence a little after midnight November 25 causing an estimated $300 in damage, according to police.

The complainant said he heard squealing noises around 12:30 a.m. and looked outside to see a small, dark colored vehicle leave the area south bound on Winchester.

A radar detector valued at $250 was stolen from a 1979 BMW parked in the driveway of a Marilyn residence sometime between 9 p.m. November 29 and 8 a.m. November 30, township police report.

The complainant told police the radar detector was attached to the visor on the passenger's side. He further stated he believed the vehicle was unlocked at the time the incident occurred.

Fire prevention office offers heating safety tips

The fire prevention office, City of Northville, is urging citizens to be aware of the hazards of home heating as winter approaches, and offers the following safety tips:

Before turning on the furnace, be sure it is clean and the motor is properly lubricated. Purchase enough filters and change them at regular intervals when dirty. Oil furnaces should be serviced by a certified furnace company once a year and gas furnaces should be serviced at least once every two years. If, however, problems exist with the unit, don't wait. Have the unit serviced immediately. Hot water and steam boiler units should also be serviced on a regular basis for corrosion, proper pressure and proper operation of safety relief valves. Remember, an improperly operating furnace may cause a fire from overheating, an explosion, and the release of carbon monoxide.

After bringing the space heater out of storage, clean and check the unit for proper operation. Check it for the proper fuel. Only use kerosene fuel — never use gasoline. If the unit is not operating properly, have it serviced. When operating the unit, do so only in a well-ventilated area. Keep the unit out of the path of travel and keep it away from any combustible material.

Before lighting up the first fire in the fireplace, check for loose mortar and cracks around the fire brick. Fire and heat can get through the smallest opening. Check the chimney for creosote buildup. If you have had a lot of wood fires in the past, have the chimney cleaned on an annual basis.

Always keep a spark arrester screen in front of the fireplace when a fire is going. Ashes from the fireplace should be deposited only in a metal container and removed to the outside immediately. Never deposit ashes into a combustible wastebasket or plastic bag.

Tips for woodburning stoves include the following: check the unit itself and the exhaust piping for any weakening or cracks. Fire and carbon monoxide can escape through these openings. Check for proper clearances between the unit and combustible materials. Never place any combustible material on top of these units.

As for all heat-producing appliances, never leave them unattended and always keep children a safe distance away. A fire extinguisher should always be at hand and most of all, know how to get hold of your local fire department in case of an emergency. In the city, the emergency phone number is 349-1234. In the township, the emergency phone number is 911.

DNR worker to draft revised sewer plan

The state and county are combining efforts to see if there's any chance of making "Son of Super Sewer" a reality. Governor James Blanchard and Wayne County Executive William Lucas last month jointly announced the naming of a special intergovernmental coordinator who has been charged with the job of reviving the North Huron Valley project, dubbed "Son of Super Sewer."

Richard Hinshon of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) has been "transferred" to Wayne County for six months to work with local governments, federal and state officers on the two-part project.

Hinshon is administrator of the DNR's sewage treatment construction grants program. He will be on a six-month leave from the DNR and will work on a contractual basis for Wayne County.

In announcing the appointment, Blanchard said he was assigning Hinshon to the project "to further demonstrate our commitment to this project and to working cooperatively with the local communities to advance their needs. Lucas added: "We are pleased to be working closely with the governor to address the needs of western Wayne County."

Plans announced by the governor last December called for a down-sized less expensive and more efficient version of the long-debated Super Sewer through southern and western Wayne and Oakland counties.

Under the revised plans, the project was split into a northern half and a southern half — the North Huron and South Huron.

Repair work along the existing Rouge Valley system was added to the northern project, boosting the number of communities involved in the north end to 17, including Northville Township, Novi, Wixom and Commerce Township.

Although work is moving ahead on the $106 million South Huron Valley project, plans for the $120 million North Huron system were rejected by the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) in October.

Additionally, new rules reducing the federal government's share of the cost of the north project have taken effect, threatening to make the local cost of the project prohibitive.

Hinshon will work primarily to help develop and gain approval for a revised plan for the northern half, a plan which would be both affordable to the communities and which would meet the environmental concerns of the federal government.

Hinshon said plans for his transfer have been "in the mill for a couple of weeks.

"I will not be putting this project together and then putting on my state hat and approving it," he said. "I believe that would be a conflict of interest."

While working for Wayne County, Hinshon will be paid $25,000 for six months plus $10,000 in benefits. In addition, he will receive use of a car and expense reimbursement.

He began his new job December 3.

Swallow skates to gold

ing for a medal," Swallow said Monday, following his return home last week. "We were surprised at being able to take the gold."

The pair skated flawlessly throughout the competition, the result of years of daily practice together.

"We prepared very well for it. We were ready," Swallow added. "The judging was very fair."

Swallow is counting on the exposure he and Balogh gained in Banska Bystrica to reap benefits at the Junior World Championships, which begin next Tuesday in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

The Junior World competition ranks behind only the Olympics and the Senior World Championships in international prestige. Swallow will be the first ever to compete in both dance and pairs at the Junior World Championships. Balogh will team with Swallow in dance, and Shelley Propson of Rochester in pairs.

Many of the judges and some of the athletes who competed at Banska Bystrica will also attend the Junior Worlds.

But the experience Balogh and Swallow gained at the Grand Prize SNU competition was as culturally instructive as it was a boost to the duo's international reputation.

Arriving in Vienna via Copenhagen, Swallow toured Vienna with the U.S.

team during a one-day sojourn, then traveled by bus with the Italian national team to Banska Bystrica, situated among the Carpathian mountains.

"It was a long bus ride, but it was fun being on there with the Italians," he said. "They spoke a little English, and we had some fun trying to communicate with each other."

Competition began following a banquet and opening ceremonies on Thursday, November 22, and lasted until the following Saturday. On Sunday, Balogh and Swallow concluded their skating appearances with an exhibition performance.

The athletes, plus Swallow's parents John and Gay Anne, were able to sightsee during their time in Banska Bystrica. "It was beautiful. There were castles all over the place," Jerod recalled. "There were a lot of historical sites from World War II around there."

On behalf of the city of Banska Bystrica, Swallow was presented with a set of porcelain cups made in Czechoslovakia. Other mementos of the trip, besides his gold medal, included a number of pins, posters and books from athletes of different countries.

Swallow, Propson and Balogh depart today for Colorado Springs. It is expected much of the Junior World competition will be televised later in the month, either on cable or network broadcasts.

Santa rental's available through Jaycees

Jaycees offer Santa rental

Thanks to the Northville Jaycees, Santa Claus is able to pay pre-Christmas visits to local Christmas programs and parties. He's willing to visit individual families to hear children's wishes.

This year's chairman for the Visits from Santa program is Ken Smith, who may be called at 349-0296, for reservations. They also are being taken by Pam Hoetger, 348-6640. Reservations for visits may be made for any time through December 23.

Santa may be rented at $30 for a half-hour visit. He arrives in traditional costume with candy cane presents.

The project has been run for several years by the Jaycees who report that the donations have enabled them to help less fortunate families in the area.

Wangrud resigns post

Debra Wangrud, the school district's director of personnel, will end her nearly five-year tenure in Northville January 18 to take over a similar post with the Livonia Public Schools.

Wangrud, who was hired as personnel coordinator in August, 1980, said Monday she will be working as assistant director of personnel in Livonia.

She said her decision to leave the district was a difficult one. However, she noted "there's more opportunity for advancement" in the Livonia school district.

"I've enjoyed it here," she commented. "I think it's improved my professional opportunities."

She noted that she's "had a variety of opportunities to work with teachers and administrators in improving personnel matters" and said the administration has "allowed me quite a bit of latitude in using my legal background."

Wangrud holds a Juris Doctor degree from Detroit College Law as well as a master's in education from Wayne State and a bachelor's from Western Michigan.

Wangrud was personnel coordinator in Roseville prior to her move to Northville. She was named director in July, 1983.

Superintendent George Bell said there are no plans to fill Wangrud's post once it is vacated.

"We're going to be short handed — that's all," Bell said.

He noted that Assistant Superintendent Burton Knighton, who has been concentrating on construction projects and operations during the last year, will take back more of the personnel matters with the assistance of special education director Leonard Rezmierski.

Hotels key attraction for Michigan tourists, says exec

By JEANNE WHITTAKER

Great hotels — The Waldorf Astoria in New York, San Francisco's Mark Hopkins, Chicago's Drake and others of that ilk — have a way of making people think of luxury living, unlimited expense accounts and beautiful people dressed to the teeth in mink.

But, within the industry a hotel is more often than not rated on the basis of a guest room that accommodates sleeping space with business meeting space, a guest room desk large enough to hold a computer and video display terminal, and a ballroom large enough to house a demonstrable working model elevator.

These are the things that hotel people rate themselves on these days, according to Phyllis Poe, executive vice president of the Michigan Lodging and Hotel Association. Poe says hotel management thinks about such amenities because that's what the majority of their most important hotel guests think about.

If a hotel comes up wanting on too many of these important services, she explains, it might as well forget about booking its business and business travelers who are the bread and butter of the hotel industry.

During an 11-year career with the Lodging and Hotel Association, Poe says she has watched the industry grow in direct proportion to the growth of the business and tourism in Michigan. Tourism is now the second most important Michigan industry, she notes.

Her job, she says, is to be a liaison between the association's members, provide needed information on industry developments and government legislation, and to help the industry provide services and amenities that will keep guests coming back again and again while attracting new reservations.

Non-union city wages are raised five percent

Non-unionized city employees will receive a five percent wage increase, lose two vacation days and otherwise collect benefits in accordance with those afforded unionized clerical personnel, city council determined Monday night.

The increases, like those given unionized personnel, are retroactive to the beginning of the current budget year July 1.

The clerical pact settled earlier this year included increased life insurance and a $50 clothing cleaning allowance. The cleaning allowance would not apply to city manager Steven Walters, police chief Rod Cannon, DPW superintendent Ted Mapes, DPW foreman Charlie Nichols or recreation director Jeff Farland.

Cannon will receive a uniform allowance and other benefits afforded by the police contract, and Nichols will receive uniforms in accord with the DPW agreement. Walters receives a $50 per month car allowance.

The supervisory personnel traded their current birthday holiday for an additional personal leave day, requested development of a personnel manual to specify current salaries, benefits and working conditions, and obtained a city agreement to study revisions in the retirement system this year.

Council approved the arrangements after meeting in closed session. Walters, who normally sits at the council table, left the room during discussion of his own wages and benefits.

Mayor Pro Tem Dewey Gardner, chairing the meeting in Mayor Paul Vernon's absence, said council had determined to review the wages and benefits of all department heads during the budget cycle next April. The review, he said, will include examining the relationship between salaries paid the various city department heads and how they relate to each other and to salaries for comparable positions in nearby communities.

In related business, the city's contract with its two police unions is not yet ratified. Salaries of non-union personnel are usually not settled until all the union agreements are completed, but Gardner said most major issues are settled and that he expects the police contracts will be completed before year-end.

The city's police unions, he said, have accepted the five percent wage hikes given all other city employees. He said completion of the agreement with non-union employees at the same rate allows wages to be confirmed prior to December 31, simplifying tax reporting.

"There is a concern that we are over-building ... The truth is, if we don't have the hotels we are not going to be able to bring the people to Michigan."

— Phyllis Poe

Michigan Lodging and Hotel Association

One day, she says, she might be in Lansing monitoring proposed legislation and approved bills. The next day, she might be called on to help a new hotel locate caterers for a topping off party in the skeletal structure of a building that won't open for months.

That was the case, she said, last spring when hotel manager Gerhard Seibert called her office to ask for caterers for a topping off celebration he was planning for investors and the owners and manager of Fortune 500 businesses surrounding the new Novi Hilton.

"She knew just what I needed," said Seibert following the party. Poe was also helpful, he added, with arranging such necessary services as Telecheck and employee insurance coverage at more reasonable rates than he might otherwise have found.

Poe says 1984 has been a particularly important political year in terms of monitoring proposed legislation that will affect the lodging and hotel industry. High on her list of concerns was Proposal B which, she explains, posed a real threat to the independent hotel owners.

"Most people didn't understand that it would allow the state to put its own motels on camp grounds — Ohio and Arkansas already have done it," Poe says. "I think it would be a conflict of interest, not to mention how much money it would take away from our industry."

The association's membership represents about 32,000 of the state's 64,000 hotel beds. With some 550 hotels and lodgings represented by the association, she adds, the association represents the smallest to the largest hotels and lodgings in Michigan.

"We believe we have about half the available rooms in the state. I've never been so excited about what I see going on. There is a lot of construction."

Poe is available, she says, to give assistance and advice whenever asked for an opinion. During her travels and work, she adds, she has become knowledgeable on the subjects of travelers and their needs.

"There is a new wave of needs," she explains. "Hotels today are dealing with a traveler who is a variety of needs and moods." Business women, for instance, are an increasingly important traveler in terms of numbers. Poe says she knows that women are mainly interested in security when they check into a hotel. A woman also wants amenities such as a full length mirror in her room and a separate seating area away from the bed for business meetings, adds Poe.

One of the newest technologies being built into the Novi Hilton is a tamper-proof electronic door lock. Instead of a room key, guests at the Novi Hilton will receive a plasticized card similar to a credit card which can be reprogrammed after each guest checks out. Using the electronic lock, the hotel will be able to guarantee the privacy and safety of each registered guest.

Another addition, says Seibert, is that rooms are provided complimentary packets that contain women's toilet articles as well as men's toiletries.

Other technological features being built into the hotel, says Joe Gerak, whose Orchard Hills partnership is the developer, designer and builder of the new hotel, are oversized desks in each room, a telephone system that will connect hotel guests with surrounding companies such as Texas Instruments; Jervis B. Webb, which employs 200 workers; Guardian Industries; CBS Fox, the video tape arm of CBS; and a variety of Fortune 500 companies which dot the area.

Aesthetically, Gerak adds, the hotel, located at the hub of four growing communities and the junction of two counties, is designed for maximum comfort and use. Included in the 220,000 square foot hotel are a battery-powered elevator system for safe use in the event of fire, a 9,200 square foot ballroom with seating capacity for 950 dinner guests, an enclosed swimming pool and exercise area, and a seventh floor executive complex equipped with luxury suites and a concierge.

And, says Gerak, "you can look out and see Detroit and the Ambassador Bridge 20 miles away. The bridge is beautiful when the lights are on."

Poe calls the Novi Hilton a wave of the future hotel.

"With some people," says Poe, "there is a concern that we are over-building. They want to know if we can fill all the beds we are building. The truth is that if we don't have the hotels we are not going to be able to bring the people to Michigan."

Our Opinions

Heed planners

Township planners spent nearly as much time giving off-the-cuff civics lessons as they did planning at last week's meeting. And it appears their lessons still haven't been understood by everybody.

At the November 27 planning commission meeting, nearly 40 homeowners from Lakes of Northville subdivision attended to voice their unhappiness with plans to build 176 apartment units on neighboring property. Some who spoke demanded commissioners take steps to prevent construction of the apartments in view of the local opposition. When commissioners conditionally approved the plans instead, some homeowners interpreted that action as defiance of public sentiment.

It wasn't. Several times commissioners reminded the homeowners they were powerless to reject plans which comply with the township zoning ordinance. In repeatedly explaining that fact to their visitors, commissioners were sympathetic to the point of indulgence.

While the homeowners were busy complaining to the commission, they also were taking direct and indirect potshots at Amurcon, Inc., developers of the neighboring property. By so doing, homeowners managed to accomplish two things: one, waste a large chunk of the planning commission's time; and two, possibly harm any relationship they could form with Amurcon, Inc., developers of the project.

The second point especially disturbs us. As Commissioner Marvin Gans told residents, "It seems the developer wishes to be a good neighbor and cooperate . . . Take advantage of that."

There is still time to heed his advice. Final site plans for the apartments will be submitted no sooner than January 29, next year. That gives Lakes of Northville residents time to sit down with Amurcon representatives to attempt to influence landscaping and design details which would not affect the conditionally approved site plans. If homeowners continue to try to work through township authorities, they will have minimal impact on what moves in next door.

We feel it is important that an amicable agreement be worked out because nobody wants a development that unnecessarily detracts from the appearance of the area. That includes planning commissioners — and the entire community.

Walk's solution

Some confusion seems to exist regarding the decision of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce to limit street booths of charitable organizations during its Christmas Walk beginning next year.

Because of the tremendous popularity of the walk which takes place annually on the Sunday before Thanksgiving, downtown sidewalks are jammed with people. Many come to view the elaborately decorated shop windows. At times, street booths of organizations selling such items as breads, gingerbread men and greens have added to the congestion.

In a discussion of the problem the chamber board decided to notify such participants that, beginning next year, it would plan to avoid the added congestion by asking the organizations to seek out shops that normally would not be open on the walk and use their facilities, rather than the street. In view of the season and possibility of cold weather, the suggestion appears sensible.

The confusion seems to have resulted in groups who normally count on sales for their benefits feeling it would not be possible to find such quarters. Last Thursday the chamber board named a committee to work with the organizations to seek space in real estate and other similar offices. The Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association has had the use of the Community Credit office at Main and Center for several years. It is hoped a similar situation can be worked out for the Jaycees and others who count on the benefit sales.

The chamber is to be commended for looking ahead and trying to solve the problem. The popularity of the walk is good for merchants, organizations and the community.

Congratulations

Though the achievements and honors of students in the school district frequently appear on the pages of this newspaper, often times — though inadvertently — the accomplishments of their teachers go unreported.

While we believe the quality of education retained in Northville is indicative of the caliber of this district's teaching staff, there are times when teachers deserve recognition for their work in the classroom. Such is the case with Carla Tibble, Northville High School's home economics teacher.

Tibble recently was recognized as Outstanding Home Economics teacher by the Michigan Home Economics Educators Association as well as nominated for the Michigan Home Economics

Teacher of the Year award. The honor — a first for the 35-year-old Tibble — is indeed recognition for her many contributions to students in the Northville Public Schools.

In her six years with the district, Tibble has brought new direction to the high school's home economics program. She has been a bulwark behind the parenting classes and has revised the curriculum in other areas such as foods and clothing to attract the interests of all students.

Most importantly, her youth and enthusiasm have brought new life to a curriculum long beset by outdated tradition.

In recognition for a job well done — congratulations.

Holiday shopping's warfare for weary

With only 20 shopping days left until Christmas, I've concluded there is no way I will have this annual chore completed in time for our traditional family gift exchange. To be honest, I have yet to step foot in the local mall for fear of being trampled to death. Besides, I'm still working on my wedding thank you notes.

For some unknown reason, I just can't seem to muster much enthusiasm for Christmas shopping this year. Twice I have headed out with every intention of putting a dent in my shopping list — but gone home empty handed. Part of the problem is that shopping no longer is a pleasure. The lines are too long, the crowds have become mobs and inevitably the one size, color or design I'm looking for is out of stock. In other words, shopping isn't what it used to be.

When I was a child, "social shopping" was the norm. In those days one did not jump in the station wagon and drive over to the local convenience center to buy a new pair of shoes. Shopping was a day-long affair which included putting on your "good" clothes and heading "downtown" for a day of shopping and lunch.

In my family, there were usually three big shopping days a year — right before the start of a new school year, at Christmas and Easter. All were occasions which warranted new clothes, shoes and haircuts for the kids.

While my younger brother equated shopping for clothes with undergoing Chinese torture, such occasions were a thrill for me. I think my brother used to hate it because he was forced to wear a clip-on tie and an overcoat. Inevitably he would complain throughout the day that the tie was choking him to death.

I, on the other hand, had no complaints about wearing my good clothes which usually included patent leather shoes, a hat and — believe it or not — little white gloves. Of course, those were the days when wearing jeans "downtown" was entirely unacceptable.

Heading into downtown Detroit back in the early to mid 1960s was a real adventure for little suburbanites. Our first — and sometimes only stop — was at Hudson's. Back in those days, Hudson's was the cornerstone of Woodward Avenue — though other shops such as B. Siegel, Wright Kay and Capper & Capper also flourished. Our favorite time to shop at Hudson's was on "kids only night" during the Christmas holiday. That was the night parents waited outside while we shopped for such unique gifts as ties for dad and pot holders for mom.

At Christmas time, downtown Detroit was like a winter wonderland — just driving up and down the streets to look at the windows and lights was sometimes an all-night affair. A trip to Cobo Hall for the "Christmas Festival" became an annual tradition as evidenced by a family photo album filled with pictures of the three kids on Santa's lap.

We often times would visit my great aunt who lived in the once-magnificent Boulevard Temple Building. Auntie Mae — always a great one for entertaining the kids — would take us on the bus for afternoon shopping sprees and ice cream at Sander's. Talk about culture shock. One did not ride buses in the suburbs unless they were traveling to and from the local elementary school.

It's sad to think that downtown Hudson's now is closed and that most of the once-fashionable Woodward Avenue stores have either gone out of business or moved to the suburbs. The Boulevard Temple Building also lost its luster — the aftermath of the 1967 riots.

While there are terrific shopping districts in the suburbs, I still yearn for the days when Christmas decorations did not go up on Columbus Day and parents didn't drop their kids off at the mall to get a reprieve for the afternoon.

They say white gloves are back. Perhaps that would put me in the Christmas spirit.

About Town

By Steve Fecht

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

It's December. Which means Christmas is right around the corner. Which means it's time to start making lists.

I'm not sure why, but it seems like I spend an inordinate amount of time making lists whenever the holiday season rolls around.

Making out my Christmas card list is fun. I find a certain element of pleasure in removing individuals who have earned my disfavor during the past year from my list. "There that will fix 'em. No card from the Jeromes this year."

I know it's harsh, but let's face it, some people just don't deserve Christmas cards.

Then there are the gift lists. Three of them to be exact. One for things I'd like my wife to give me for Christmas. (We exchange lists so we'll have some idea of what the other would like). One for things I plan to get her for Christmas. (If you can't be creative and come up with a few winners she wasn't expecting, what fun is it on Christmas morning?). And one for both of us to give to the rest of the family.

As the number of nieces, nephews and in-laws grows, we quickly discovered it's easy to spend a small fortune on nothing more than cheap, inexpensive gifts. If you buy nothing more than a $15 gift for 15-20 relatives, it adds up pretty quickly.

The solution, we decided, was to draw names. We still buy cheap, inexpensive gifts — but we only buy them for one person. Voila! $15 instead of $300.

At any rate, the drawing of names necessitates preparation of a list of cheap, inexpensive items we might appreciate receiving.

My wife assigned the task to me this year — in fact she insisted that I do it. And after a great deal of brain wracking I was able to come up with a list of 8-10 items in the appropriate price range that we might like to receive from the anonymous relative who drew our name.

"Good," she said, lauding my efforts.

"But it really doesn't make any difference," she continued. "The person who drew our name purchased our gift months ago. But you're so good at making lists they wanted you to do it anyhow."

I bit my tongue, realizing that family list-making traditions are hard to break.

"Security Blanket"

Geake supports bills on food stamps, taxes

State Senator R. Robert Geake (R-Northville) said last week he was encouraged by Michigan Senate action approving his bill providing tax credits to families who care for the elderly outside of a long-term care setting.

"I am delighted that the Senate passed this very important bill," Geake said. "I hope the House will also give it the attention it deserves and get it passed before the end of the legislative session in December."

Senate Bill 143 would amend the Michigan Income Tax Act to allow a taxpayer to claim a credit of up to $1,000 for expenses incurred while keeping a family member who is functionally disabled and at least 75 years old at home. The bill defines "family member" as a spouse, child, parent, aunt, uncle, sibling, niece, cousin, step-parent or adoptive parent among other relatives.

The credit is determined according to a graduated scale. A family having a total household income of up to $10,000 would be entitled to the full $1,000 credit. A family with income between $10,000 and $20,000 would be eligible for a $750 credit; over $20,000 would receive a $500 credit.

In addition to the tax credit, a one-time credit of up to $750 would be allowed for any special renovations that were made to the home to meet the physical or medical needs of the elderly disabled person.

"I believe that this bill will help stimulate home care of the elderly and permit them to remain in familiar surroundings," Geake explained.

A bill designed to save Michigan taxpayer dollars by reducing the high cost of distributing food stamps, sponsored by state senator R. Robert Geake (R-Northville), passed the state senate November 13.

Geake, chairman of the senate subcommittee that oversees state spending for social services, said he is pleased that the bill passed the upper chamber with strong bipartisan support, and hopes that the house will act positively on it before the legislative session ends in December.

"This is a crucial bill that stands to save Michigan a million dollars a year," Geake said. "I hope the house leadership will take that into account in their actions over the next month."

Geake's bill, S.B. 862, essentially builds competition into the system by directing the state to accept bids before contracting with agencies to distribute food stamps. Currently, there are 42,356 households and 1,018,350 individuals on food stamps in Michigan. The bill would affect the 17 most populous counties, or about 85 percent of the recipients. Food stamps are mailed out to the other 15 percent, who live in rural or inaccessible areas.

Under the Geake bill, contracts to distribute food stamps would be granted on the basis of cost and ability to provide protections for the consumer. The contracts would be granted on a one-year basis, renewable with allowances for inflation, for four consecutive years. They would be re-bid after five years.

"This would be the first competitive bid law in the country if it passes," Geake claimed. "I believe it could ultimately serve as a model for other states and save millions of dollars nationwide."

Currently, with distributors like the post office and certain community action agencies, the cost of food stamp distribution is higher than it would be in a competitive arena. The post office for example charges $1.72 per transaction and the agencies average $1.10.

Bid prices are expected to range from 76 to 95 cents per transaction, averaging about 86 cents. Each 10 cent reduction in the state average cost will save the state nearly $500,000 annually.

Another major cost savings built into the Geake proposal is a reduction in state liability for losses and thefts. Those who are awarded the bids will be required to take out an insurance policy on the value of the food stamps they handle. Currently, the state loses about $500,000 a year on lost, destroyed, embezzled and stolen food stamps.

Finally, a number of protections for the food stamp recipients are built into the Geake bill. Any agency awarded a distributorship contract must provide a site that is barrier-free and accessible to the handicapped, and within 1,000 feet of a bus route or other public transportation line.

Distributors must also provide security measures, operate within local health, building and zoning ordinances, and keep the site open not less than 160 hours a month.

In addition, to assure fair trade practices and protect recipients against price gouging, no distributor will be allowed to maintain a financial or business relationship with, share or adjoin retail space with a retail food establishment.

"I think this bill is sensible, fair and much-needed in Michigan," Geake concluded. "I'm proud of it, and I hope to see it signed into law by the end of the year."

Two receive 32nd Degree

Two local residents were among the 100 Masons from 11 southeastern Michigan counties receiving the Scottish Rite Freemasonry's 32nd Degree at the 297th semi-annual reunion of the Detroit Scottish Rite Bodies November 2, 3 and 9, 10.

Harry N. Todd of 23971 Woodham, Northville, and William D. Pratt of 23501 Hickory Grove Lane, Novi, were members of the degree class.

The class was named in memory of the late Charles L. Thorn, a 33rd Degree Mason, formerly of Dearborn and Bradenton, Florida. He was employed with Ford Motor Company for 37 years and was production control manager of its Lincoln Mercury Division when he retired.

After retirement, he served as executive secretary of the Detroit Scottish Rite Bodies for a number of years. He died October 9, 1983, at the age of 78.

County commission adopts new budget

"Balanced this year but still needing a solution for the accumulated deficit" is how Wayne County Commissioner Mary E. Dumas described the new $25 million operating budget adopted by the county commission last week.

Deciding the budget for fiscal year 1984-85, which took effect December 1, was "the usual difficult job — too many requests and not enough money," said Dumas.

The budget does include $2.5 million allocated for operation of the parks system, although reduced from $3 million requested by County Executive William Lucas. Denial of the full request was one of the few instances where Lucas was not granted the full funding he proposed, said Dumas. She added that about 98 percent of the budget was adopted as Lucas proposed.

Also in the budget for review of the commission for the first time this year are funds previously administered by the County Road Commission, including airport operation. The road commission was abolished in August, becoming a regular county department accountable under respective jurisdictions of both the legislative and executive branches.

The budget includes $115 million for the old road department functions, $47 million for Detroit Metropolitan Airport, and $6 million for Willow Run Airport. Half the roads department funds are provisional, however, pending submission of a reorganization plan detailing operating procedures, said Dumas.

Missing from the budget, a feature that caused the commission in part to delay its adoption, is a plan from Lucas to handle an accumulated deficit approximating $35 million. To beat the fiscal year deadline, the commission amended the appropriations ordinance to require a plan from Lucas by May 1.

The amendment calls for "a specific five-year plan for short-term financial recovery and long-term financial stability for submission to the governor and legislature prior to adoption of the next annual budget."

Dumas said the new budget is about three percent more than last year, although she warned that differences in a new accounting system could affect that estimate. Also, she said final tabulations could later show either a deficit or surplus amounting to $6 million or $8 million for the past fiscal year.

"Whether we wind up with a plus or minus depends mainly on some labor negotiations and an examination of the old road commission's records," said Dumas.

Lansing Report

Amnesty on overdue taxes

By GERALD H. LAW
State Representative

Legislation has been introduced in the Michigan House that would provide a three month amnesty period for payment of back taxes due to the state.

The amnesty would allow any person or business, if not presently under investigation or court action, to pay past due income, sales, or single business taxes due without fear of any penalty or civil or criminal action.

Michigan has never provided an amnesty period. This concept will allow people whose conscience is bothering them a chance to pay up without fear of prosecution.

However, an amnesty should be granted only once, because if people think we'll do this every few years there will be little incentive to pay on time.

The proposed amnesty period would be from January 1 to March 31, 1985, although that provision will change depending on when the bills gain passage through the legislature.

Massachusetts recently provided a similar amnesty period and received $65 million in back taxes and interest. Because the population in Massachusetts is 65 percent of Michigan's, supporters of the legislation estimate a Michigan amnesty program could yield $100 million.

TAX TIPS

LEE E. HOLLAND, C.P.A.

TRUST FUND TO SAVE TAXES

If you have children who will probably want the benefits of a college education, you can begin planning for the expense now by setting up a trust fund. Because the money you put aside is not being used for your children's support, it will be taxed at a lower rate.

Providing a college education for your children will be one of the biggest expenses of your life. In these inflationary times, it costs several thousand dollars a year to finance a college education. Multiply the expected annual cost by four years and the total can be staggering, especially if you haven't planned for it. You can avoid this future shock by planning for it many years ahead of time. Each year put part of your savings into a special trust account for your children and indicate that you have done this on your income tax return.

This is just one of several ways in which you can save tax dollars. For a full review of other benefits you may qualify for under the new tax law, why not call us for an appointment?

Northville will host Cat Fanciers' show this weekend

Think cats can't learn tricks? Then come see Tasha, Miss Hiss, Madam Tanya and Miss Valentine perform at a two-day cat show this Saturday and Sunday in the Northville Community Building.

The feline quartet belongs to George Ney of Mundelein, Illinois. His cats perform at 40 shows a year and will be here for the Just Cat-In Around show of the area Cat Fanciers' Club.

The show is an exhibit of all-rebred cats that are Cat Fanciers' association registered.

The show will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. both days. Admission is $2 for adults; $1 for children and senior citizens.

Ney's cats have a repertoire of 50 tricks among them. His cats — two Scottish Folds and two American Shorthairs — also appear on his television show, "All About Animals," broadcast on Chicago cable networks and this winter to be on the American Broadcasting Company network.

The cats have modeled for greeting cards, cat food commercials and the American Veterinary Medical Association.

Ney admits he got into training cats in a roundabout way. Originally he sold carpet and tiles in his home town of Mundelein. From time to time, when he had empty wooden spools, he would cut them in half and carpet them with remnants for his customers with cats.

They were such a hit he soon was building kitty condos with mazes of platforms that rose as high as seven feet.

He converted his carpet and tile store to Cat House Originals and began selling the feline furniture at prices ranging from $75 to $160.

He acquired Tasha to accompany him to shows and sit on the cat furniture.

He relates that they went to a show in Omaha where Ney saw a performing cat and thought, "Hey, I can do that!"

A month later Ney had Tasha performing for a group of senior citizens in Illinois. She reacted well to an audience, and before long Ney had added three more cats to the act.

Reviewers note that he speaks softly to his cats, often accompanying the command by a gentle nudge.

The real crowd pleaser is Ney's trick of getting a cat to jump through a hoop.

"Tasha, will you please jump for me, Tasha," he says softly. After a second request and a polite nudge or two with the hoop against her chest, she sails daintily through, he reports.

As a finale to his act, he places two cats in a little stroller and invites a member of the audience to take them for a ride. They never make a move to escape.

Ney says he is entirely self-taught when it comes to teaching cats. He never read any books or articles on the subject, doesn't have much interest in cat psychology and says he relies chiefly on common sense and patience.

"When I'm working with cats," he has explained, "I'm communicating with them. The first thing I do when I'm training a cat is to pet him and tell him how great he is."

In a feature article in the November issue of Cats Magazine, Ney states that you can not teach all tricks to all cats. "If I've got a cat that absolutely does not want to do a particular trick, I'm not going to worry about it. There are other things to teach him. Why frustrate the animal?"

Ney notes that it often is the trainer, as well as the trainee, who gets frustrated during the learning process as cats have a maddening inclination to go from obedient to obstinate and back in the "twich of a tail."

GM Proving Grounds: working out the bugs

craters. One famous section of dusty gravel road has been named "Powder Valley." They even have roads designed after actual "real world" thoroughfares like Pontiac Trail, Twelve Mile Road and Second Avenue in downtown Detroit.

As if that weren't enough, GM technicians have invented many other ways to torture cars made both by the company and by competing automakers around the world. Test drivers take the cars through troughs filled with grit, through salt sprays and silt splashes, and then at times hot-soak them in sheds kept at 100 degrees (Fahrenheit) and 100 percent relative humidity.

GM engineers use advanced computer techniques to simulate road tests designed to save weeks and sometimes months in testing various automotive components on Proving Ground roads. Engineers also design and build many of the special, sophisticated testing devices used at the GM complex.

Even with all of the energy put into Proving Ground testing, GM engineers have discovered that cars put through normal use by their customers can be the best source of information on product durability. For that reason, the company selects GM car owners at random across the country and equips their vehicles with special instruments to measure ordinary wear and tear.

But test driving is just one area of automotive research conducted at the GM Proving Ground. Here is an overview of some of the other work performed by engineers, scientists, mathematicians, computer technicians and many other Proving Ground employees.

•Emissions Testing and Control. A vehicle emissions laboratory at the Proving Ground tests GM cars and trucks to make sure they meet federal guidelines for hydrocarbons and other compounds that could pollute the air. Vehicles are "driven" on test stands while technicians housed in remote control booths measure exhaust under different driving conditions.

•Noise and Vibration Laboratory. Special frequency detection instruments are used here to pinpoint the source of engine sounds that may distract the driver. Stop-action computer displays are used to detect potential vibration problems and correct them. GM technicians even test for noises outside the vehicle with help from sensitive roadside microphones.

•Corrosion and Durability Testing. Small steel "coupons" are affixed to GM test cars to measure corrosion. During their regular schedules, the cars are bathed with salt sprays and splashes, mud and grit. As if that weren't enough, the cars are also lodged for varying periods in sealed sheds set at 100 degrees Fahrenheit and 100 percent relative humidity.

•Safety and Impact Testing. In GM's safety research and development lab, cars are crashed into barriers using a high-speed "sled." Hundreds of cars and trucks each year are demolished in carefully planned "accidents" to test the "crashworthiness" and occupant safety of GM vehicles. GM technicians also evaluate safety devices in the lab and study accident data from all over the country. When GM safety testing started almost 50 years ago, agile drivers would aim a car at a barrier, step on the gas and then jump clear of the vehicle just before impact. Now, dummies equipped with delicate sensors are used to measure crash impact on car passengers. The dummies, which can cost over $25,000 each, are designed to mimic their human counterparts right down to the moistened chamois used to simulate human skin.

Electromagnetic Compatibility Laboratory. This lab was established for the development of on-board computers in GM vehicles. A chamber large enough to accommodate a highway tractor or bus is equipped to shoot a wide range of electromagnetic and radio waves at GM vehicles. The purpose is to study the effect of radio emissions on the on-board computers and vice versa.

Ban 'Happy Hours' in state, agency urges

The Greater Detroit area's leading alcohol and drug abuse prevention agency recently urged a ban on 2-for-1 "Happy Hour" drinks in bars.

A resolution unanimously adopted by the board of directors of the National Council on Alcoholism/Narcotics Rehabilitation Coordinating Agency - Greater Detroit Area (NCA/NARCO-GDA) asked the joint administrative rules committee of the state legislature to approve the ban, recommended in September by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission.

NCA/NARCO-GDA proposed as an alternative that the state encourage such activities as "HAPPY-Hour" dignity parties (HAPPI: Highway Accident Prevention Program Information). It has introduced providing enticing non-alcoholic beverage options, and the "None for the Road" program introduced at Northville Charley's, a Chuck Muer restaurant on Seven Mile in Northville.

Muer's "None for the Road" program provides free non-alcoholic beverages for the driver of each party dining at the restaurant.

“Santa Reflects”

The little ones
sit upon my knee.
Merry eyes dancing.
Trusting truth in me.

I'm a red, bedecked rock
on which they plant their feet
I'm a dream catalyst who beckons wishes to meet.

A distilled wonder I see in their eyes.
A happy acceptance of new surprise.
A wonder enchantment becomes them so.
(Oh never, never let that go!)

Cling tightly, little ones!
This glow that's part of you!
Indeed, you are the wiser.
It's adults, the proven fool.

If you grasp for stardust — as you do maybe that's where you've been through!
Who can fathom the wonders you clutch?
Who dares limit your dreams that much?
Henry Champe

Secrets of the Wishing Cup (Pure Love's Delicacy Described)

Delicate of touch is Love, interlaced
With rich threads of golden and silver light:
As finely-wrought as ... dawn on a rose-graced
With rare-spun textures, both shadowed and bright.

The exquisite vein through which Love is traced
Surpasses every parallel in nature;
Resplendent are its depths, like jewels encased
Within a Chalice — most glorious in stature.

Yet those who would clutch frantically the gems,
Or — with rough-hewn mind mishandle Love's gift —
These receive tears ... for Love's preciousness stems
From preserving — unbroken — the Wishing Cup we lift.

Fragile is Love — and this crystal Chalice
Shall not endure a mind that is callous.
Raghudas

Miracle

Although my folks hug and kiss me each night
I know I'm still in for one heck of a fight
You see I don't have that much more time to grow
Then I'll put on the most amazing show
With so much to do I can't wait to start
Just growing up will be the tough part
Wonder what I will be when I'm twenty-one?
The decisions can wait, for now let's just have fun
Heard Dad say I am going to be a cutie
He said that because my Mom is such a beauty
Well let's get back to the business at hand
You see I must be ready on demand
But for now I can't be heard or seen
Because the Doc says I'm not due until Halloween
So until I have you both in my sight
To my Mom and Dad I blow a kiss good night.
Michael McHugh

Living

The flutter of wings from the porch to the tree,
When the birds came for feed and then flew away;
The chattering squirrel as he scrounged a meal
And scampered aloft to avoid a blue-jay —
It seemed to me, this was living.

The quack of the ducks as they waddled near
For a handful of corn in the morn' of the day,
And the honk of a goose in a note of good cheer
As he flew on by, as if to say
“This, seems to me, is living.”

A man in a boat, a boy with a line,
A gull on the wing and swallows there, too,
In the blue of the sky with no cloud to define —
One learned to define the fiegnd from the true,
And all this, to me, was living.

With the folks nearby and old Sam at my feet;
With friends near and far to share sorrow and joy,
I could go as I was without p'laver or play
And still be convinced — this was living!
Charles E. Hutton

The Prince's Horse

So gallant is the prince's horse that runs so free and wild.
Though bold and strong
he gently stands before a little child.
With fiery eyes and satin coat,
a head that's carved so fine,
A horse deserving of a prince,
I wish that he were mine!
Anne Whalen

Energy

You leave me in a day dream state
For I know there is an energy
It flows between you and I
And I can reach out and touch it

Can you sense this thought
This beautiful melody of dreams
That I share with you
But never speak a word

Hush, you can hear it?
It ripples and sighs and sings
I won't disturb you though
And you won't disturb me

I promise not to run away
If you promise not to go
I'll wait until you talk to me
If only with your eyes

There are different dimensions to Love
And more than one road to walk or run
But that electric energy happens only once or twice

If I could take the beautiful way I feel whenever I am close to you
And put it in a jar on a shelf
And use it sparingly

Forever then, I could dip in especially if I'm sad or lonely
And if only in dreams or thoughts
We could sense and touch each other
JoAnna Dorf

Nature From My Window

A poem on nature I must write,
if it takes me half the night.
Even though I can not see a bird or rock or fly or flea,
I can picture in my mind
the grassy fields I left behind.
The mint and clover,
sumac red,
will haunt me when I go to bed.
The wind that whistles in the trees,
the crickets chirping with their knees,
The stars shine in my window bright,
I hope I get some sleep tonight!

“Santa's Thoughts”

Oh, I have seen
your furtive glance, abashed, behind your mother's skirt.
You wanted to reach out.
But still, you feared.
And so you peek and lurk.

At two years old
how could you know
a red, bewhiskered giant could love you so?

Your older brother and sister reach out to me.
They run up
and sit upon my knee.

And I see in them
a measure of you.
Only they lost their fear
as they grew.
Their eyes are full of wonder and bright delight!
Their happiness
a lifetime sight.

I don't know why
we come and go.
But this, I think I know:
Perhaps we all came from a Magic Land.
I think, the young ones understand.

Later, as we grow and do we question
if this wonder was true.
It's we, adults,
who have lost our way.
We would not let this wonder stay!

Mothers' Club shares party hors d'oeuvres recipes

Decorations are going up both inside and outside at homes in the community. Among the earliest to wreath their doors and garland their mantels were the 10 hostesses who opened their homes for the annual Northville Mothers' Club benefit cocktails parties held concurrently throughout the community December 1.

Several hundred area residents gathered at the early Saturday evening event in homes of nine active club members. Life members also hosted a party at the home of Margie Davis. Proceeds from the active members' parties are used for public school projects. Life members provide a scholarship grant to a graduating Northville High School senior with their funds.

In the more than a decade that the parties have been held, the club members have gained a reputation for their specially selected hors d'oeuvres. They usually have repeated special favorites and added new choices. They also have shared the recipes with Record readers.

The club especially recommends its new-this-year recipes for Apricot Log and Bacon Bits.

APRICOT LOG

8 oz. cream cheese
2 Tbsp. apricot preserves
15 dried apricots (snipped)
1 tsp. vanilla
1 Tbsp. sugar

Mix all ingredients and roll in chopped pecans or slivered almonds. Serve with snack crackers (large box.)

BACON BITS

1 lb. bacon
1 lb. brown sugar

Pat as much brown sugar on bacon as possible. Bake in slow oven at 300 degrees until crisp (bake on the oven broiler pan so grease can drip through). Let cool and break into serving size pieces. Serve on tray with dillies. The club suggests making a double recipe if serving a large group.

SPINACH DIP

1 C. Hellman's mayonnaise
1 pint sour cream
1/2 C. parmesan cheese
1 pkg. frozen chopped spinach
1 pkg. Knorr's vegetable soup mix

Thaw and thoroughly drain chopped spinach. Then mix all the above ingredients together and chill. Serve with vegetables.

Vegetables for dip: 2 heads

cauliflower (washed and cut in pieces), 2 heads of broccoli (washed and cut in pieces); 2 green peppers (cut into strips); 1 basket of cherry tomatoes, either carrot or celery strips.

LAYERED AVOCADO DIP

1/2 bunch green onions
8 ounces sour cream
1/2 jar El Paso Picante Sauce (not hot)
8 ounces shredded cheddar cheese

Mash avocados. Layer the rest of ingredients in order given, chopping the green onions finely.

Serve with two large bags of doritos.

MOCK OYSTER ROCKEFELLER

2 pkgs. frozen broccoli
1 medium onion grated
1 stick margarine
1 can mushroom soup
1 small can chopped mushrooms
1 roll garlic cheese
Sliced almonds

Chop broccoli, boil and drain. Saute onion in margarine until soft. Combine soup, onion, mushrooms (drained) and mix with broccoli and crumbled cheese in pan. Instead of garlic cheese, it is possible to use 8 oz. cheddar and sprinkle with garlic.

Keep mixture hot and allow cheese to melt. Add almonds and stir well.

Serve hot from chafing dish.

Make this recipe ahead; refrigerate and then heat before serving with a large box of snack crackers.

HOT ARTICHOKE SPREAD

2 C. mayonnaise
2 C. grated parmesan cheese
2 cans drained chopped artichokes (Packed in water.)

Beat mayonnaise and cheese together. Add artichokes. Place in greased baking pan and bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes.

Sprinkle with paprika before serving. This recipe puffs up while baking.

Serve warm with large box of snack crackers.

As has become a tradition, the club also was serving meatballs as well as red pepper jelly over cream cheese made by member Diane Larsen.

This year also, chairpersons Judy Bartling and Joy Holloway report, it was decided to switch from a whiskey punch to a wine one.

WINE PUNCH

4 liters Rhine wine
1 liter club soda
1 liter 7 Up

Painter adds special touch to downtown windows

By JEAN DAY

Aware downtown shoppers are noticing "something new" has been added to the usual downtown Christmas season decorating of greens and windows filled with holiday scenes and gift merchandise.

The glass store windows themselves have become decorations with hand painted Christmas designs and scenes. One of the most elaborate is the all-white snow scene complete with trees and cabins along the bottom of the C. Harold Bloom Insurance agency at 108 West Main. Holly sprigs and garlands decorate adjoining windows.

Dick Lyon reports that, almost like olden days, the window painter appeared with bucket in hand, offering to do the decoration. He adds that the window painting is done free hand and very quickly by the artist, David J. Fleck.

Fleck and his wife Lynn currently are on a visit with a brother in Farmington — and the artist brought the window decorating idea with him from Santa Anna, California.

"It's done everywhere in California — on gas stations, stores, offices," explains Lynn Fleck, adding, "maybe it's because they don't have snow and want a festive look." The Flecks have been working in Northville for about 12 days.

Lynn says she approaches the store owner with pictures of what her artist husband has done — while he waits outside with buckets in hand. "We haven't had anyone who has not liked what he has done," she notes proudly. "Everyone also asks, 'what does he really do for a living,'" she mentions, explaining Fleck is a muralist and has done Egyptian murals for 20th Century and children's scenes for pediatricians' offices, as examples. Here in Michigan he also has been decorating a group of 20 offices as well as Tally Hall at Hunter's Square.

Shop owners decorate with their own treasures

From as far away as Howell have come inquiries about the ornate lamp in the window of the Marquis Shop. It belongs to owner Inga Zayti. She discovered the custom shade maker at the Tivoli Fair this year — and had the elaborately pleated and fringed red and pink shade made for a white marble base she owned. Store employees report they, too, have been questioned about the lamp which they have labeled the "boudoir lamp."

The second Marquis window is filled with nutcrackers imported from Germany. Mrs. Zayti says this is the largest collection she has ever obtained.

The window of Carl Johnson Real Estate office has made many shoppers pause to inspect the many tiny dolls from years ago that decorate the tree and the window ledge. They belong to Nelda Morrison, who has collected miniatures for years.

The window won first place, professional category, in the annual window decorating contest held during the Christmas Walk under sponsorship of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce.

Local shop owners' windows are full of ideas for how to decorate a tree differently. Crafty persons who want a change from shiny ornaments and tinsel should look at the tiny stuffed geese and hearts that Uptown Shops owners used to decorate a tree. Adjacent Anne's Fabrics used lace angels and cutouts.

Norma Vernon, wife of Northville Mayor Paul Vernon, a worker in ceramics herself, pointed out the exquisite porcelain ornaments on the tree at Violet's China, a new shop on North Center. They are handmade, delicate bells and ornaments with holly decorations.

At Bruce Roy Realty, the window has been decorated with a Victorian dollhouse — and a soft sculpture maid in black and white uniform.

Owner Ann Roy has returned from an eight-day working vacation in Hawaii. She and a business associate in Farmington were among 25,000 attending the National Association of Realtors convention. It was the realtor's fourth trip to Hawaii — and, she says, the best. Because her friend's daughter lives there, they saw all the non-tourist places.

Among the most elaborate decorations on view are the beautifully dressed old-fashioned figures in the windows of Orin Jewelers. As viewers admire the drummer boy and girl in full skirted costume the little figures slowly move.

It's not surprising that the sidewalks were jammed during the annual Christmas Walk November 18. And there's still plenty of time before Christmas to enjoy an inspection trip to town.

AN ALIEN MUSIC by Annabel Johnson. Sixteen year old Jesse relates the experiences of the Sky-Lab Seven crew as they become the sole survivors of the dying planet Earth.

MADELINE AND THE GREAT (OLD) ESCAPE ARTIST by Rebecca Jones. An unlikely friendship between an old lady and a sixth grade girl with a recently diagnosed seizure disorder helps them both to face "the dragons" of their lives.

Divorce mediation discussed

Thomas Taylor and Elaine Broder of Mediation Associates will discuss the mediation process as it applies to divorce at the 8 p.m. meeting of the Women's Divorce Support Group of the Women's Resource Center December 11 in Room F130 of the Forum Building on the Schoolcraft College campus.

For women who are separated, divorced, in the process of or contemplating divorce, the group provides a forum to identify problems and needs, and share feelings and information.

Meetings take place the second and fourth Tuesday of each month. Attendance is free and no registration is required.

For further information, call the Women's Resource Center at 591-6400, extension 430.

Hospice care is course topic

Spiritual and ethical considerations of hospice care will be the subject of a course offered at Madonna College during the winter term.

The course is open to nurses, volunteers, religious or lay counselors who care for the terminally ill.

The course is one of four courses offered in the hospice curriculum directed by Sister Mary Cecilia Eagen.

The academic program in hospice care is one of the first of its kind in the country and was developed with the assistance of the Archdiocese of Detroit.

Persons interested in enrolling in this or other hospice care courses beginning in January should contact Sister Eagen at 591-5190.

Chiefs topple cagers 36-28

By B.J. MARTIN

Plymouth Canton brought an end to Northville's best women's basketball season since 1981 last Wednesday, defeating the Mustangs 36-28 in the Class A district semifinal at Westland John Glenn.

"Canton played better than they did any of the three other times we've played them this year," said Ed Kritch, first-year coach of the resurgent Mustangs. "I thought we came out a little bit tight. I sensed we wanted to succeed maybe too much. Everybody felt a little extra pressure."

A year ago, there wouldn't have been any pressure at all. The inexperienced 1983 Mustangs won only two games all season, and any talk about a district title would have been, well, very wishful thinking. But this year, things were different.

"We were happy with the attitude we'd developed this year," Kritch said. "After we got off to a 1-5 start, it seemed like it was going to be a long year. But we ran off and won eight games since that time (including an overtime defeat of Canton) and made ourselves respectable."

"Teams had to prepare for us, because they know we were able to beat them," he added. "I think that's a tribute to how hard the kids have work-

Canton ground out a footballish 13-8 halftime lead at the half, and outscored the Mustangs 13-6 in the third quarter, effectively executing a full-court press. At one stage the Chiefs led by as much as 14 points.

But the Mustangs rallied in the final quarter, applying a press of their own and trimming Canton's lead to six with a minute remaining. During that run, Sue Terwin chipped in with six points, even though she had been playing with four fouls.

But Canton guard Beth Frigge took command in the game's final moments, hitting two foul shots and leading an ef-

Kathy Korowin led the Mustangs with eight points, Terwin finished with seven points and pulled down nine rebounds. Senior Erin Ryan, with Korowin, Michele Siemasz and Terwin appearing in her final game, also played well, scoring four points.

Tricia Ducker, Northville's leading scorer this season, provided some late-game fireworks. But for the most part, the Chiefs' tight zone defense kept her under wraps.

"They bottled Tricia up pretty well," Kritch noted. "They were ready for us, but I thought we made a good run at them late in the game. We could have folded, but we showed some character coming back at them like that. I thought our seniors especially showed a lot of class."

The loss ended a 9-12 season for Northville—a vast improvement over 1983, but with two overtime losses, one two-point loss and four four-point losses, not without disappointments as well.

"I thought we made a good start at making a good tradition of basketball here," said Kritch. "We're losing four players who were a big part of our success and won't be able to see how much better we'll be in the coming years. But the way they've worked this season made me feel really good about the way we're going."

Tanker Thompson competes at state meet

Representing Northville at the Michigan High School Athletic Association's Class A state swim finals, Shari Thompson finished out of the top 12 in each of the two events she swam — but time is on her side.

Just a sophomore, the co-captain was among the select group of qualifiers in both the 200 and 500 freestyle. Thompson qualified for each event with early-November times of 5:24.9 in the 500 and 2:01.36 in the 200.

"Shari worked really hard for it, but she wasn't at her best," said Northville swim coach Bill Dicks. "She sort of 'over-calmed' herself down. We worked on thinking through the race, but she said after the race she felt like she was going fast."

But Thompson's clockings of 5:32.1 in the 500 and 2:02.1 in the 200 at last week's meet were slower than her qualifying times. But for those familiar with Thompson's dedication, that's not likely to happen next year.

"She's already back in the pool, all ready to start back up again," Dicks said.

Coach Dicks announced that seasons for junior high boys' and girls' swim teams are opening. Interested swimmers should contact him at Cooke Junior High.

NHS alumnae spark Ocelots

By C.J. RISAK

Not one of the seven teams opposing Schoolcraft College at the NJCAA women's soccer tournament expected much from the Ocelots. After all, last year, they were hardly competitive, losing all three of their tournament games.

That opinion since has changed.

It changed about the time Schoolcraft was blanking highly-regarded Morrisville (N.Y.) Community College 2-0 in the semifinals. Suddenly a team in its first varsity season was in the final.

The last hurdle proved too difficult. Schoolcraft battled Nassau C.C. (Long Island, N.Y.) until the last minute before tumbling 2-0 in the tournament final in Trenton, N.J.

"None of them were really prepared for us," said Schoolcraft Coach Ed Dudek, whose team ended its season with a 16-4-1 mark. "I kept an eye on them, but they didn't even bother scouting us."

Had they done so, they might have noticed Northville goalkeeper Jenny Gans, who was named to the all-tournament team after allowing just four goals in the three tourney games.

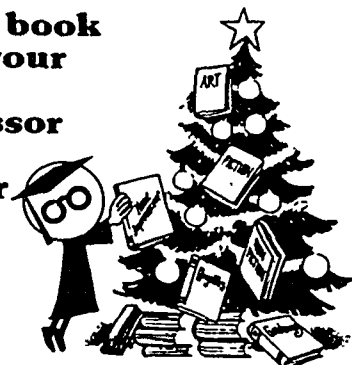

"Jenny was outstanding," said Dudek. "She made all the right moves, all her decisions were good ones."

Also playing for the Ocelots were Northville alumnae Martina Millen and Kris Petit. Schoolcraft forward Sue Ferguson, with Gans, was named to the all-tournament team. Ferguson, the Ocelots' outstanding scoring threat, injured her back early in the second half of the final and was forced to leave the game.

The Ocelots captured one other prestigious award from the tournament: the Sportsmanship Trophy, for which Schoolcraft was the unanimous choice.

"It shows our kids were good examples on and off the field," Dudek said of the award. "It was a really nice experience for us — no, I shouldn't say nice. It was great."

All-Area cagers show plenty of class

Area women's basketball programs produced a number of outstanding teams and individual performers. But five seniors have moved to the head of the class and onto our Honor Roll — the Sliger-Livingston East All-Area basketball team.

Sports editors from The Milford Times, The Northville Record, The South Lyon Herald and The Walled Lake-Novi News selected top players to form this year's All-Area team, considering players from Lakeland, Milford, Northville, Novi, South Lyon, Walled Lake Central and Western, and Whitmore Lake high schools.

The all-senior first team has players who can do it all. Leading the way is Walled Lake Western center VAL HALL, who was also a first-team selection last season.

Hall was named to a pre-season All-America team by Street and Smith magazine. During the season she averaged 13.1 points and 11 rebounds per outing and led Western to a league and district title this season. "In the two years I've coached her, she's improved a great deal," Western coach Tom Stiener says of his 6'3" standout.

"This year she's had injury problems and illness and she's kept coming back."

Joining Hall among the area's elite five is SUE RASINSKE of Novi, who is an All-Area performer for the third consecutive year and has led the Kensington Valley Conference in scoring each of those years. "She's improved every year," says Novi Coach Bill Ayotte, "and this year especially on her passing and defense. She's always been a good scorer, but now she's become a complete ballplayer. She's the best player I've ever coached." The 5'10" forward averaged 26.0 points per game this season, and also led Novi in rebounding with 13.2 per game.

Milford has a pair of first-team All-Area performers in DAWN HORNING and JILL SHEFFLER, who helped lead the Redskins to a 19-3 record this season and their second straight Kensington Valley Conference title.

According to coach Don Palmer, Horning is "the premier guard in Oakland County and one of the best in the state. She's definitely our team leader. Dawn can shoot, pass, ball-handle and play defense." The 5'4" Redskin averaged 8.5 points, three assists and three rebounds per outing. Horning has been a starter for the two-time KVC champions for four years.

Sheffler is Milford's mainstay up front. The 5'9" center is a three-year starter who averaged 10.2 points in 1984, hitting 54 percent of her shots from the floor. She also had 6.9 rebounds per game, leading Milford in scoring and rebounding before an injury slowed her near the end of the regular season.

Rounding out the top five is South Lyon's MARYFRAN PETERLIN, a 5'11½" forward. Peterlin led the Lions in scoring (14 points) and rebounding (nine rebounds) per game this year. "She's been our leader all season," states Lion coach Ron Shanks. A quick, aggressive player, Peterlin was a second-team All-Area choice in 1983.

Top end of scale again is Mustang mat forte

By B.J. MARTIN

Forget black and orange. With only a few exceptions, the color for this season's Northville wrestling team is green.

Gone from last year's regular rotation are such matmen as league champ Bryan Burgett, Ernie Bock, Jim Assemany, Norm Estigoy, Jay Anderson and Steve Smith. Those are big wrestling shoes to fill, and many of those feet will belong to first-year grapplers.

Heading this year's crew is a different face, if not exactly new. Jack Townsley, who coached at Northville six years before Gary Emerson took the reins in 1974, is back — most likely for one year. Emerson announced this fall announced he will spend at least one year out of coaching to spend time with his family.

Townsley inaugurated Whitmore Lake High School's wrestling program prior to becoming a social studies teacher and wrestling coach at Northville High School nearly 20 years ago.

"We had some good teams back then," Townsley said this week. "In 1968 we were seventh in the state, and we should have been better."

One Mustang matman with a shot at going a long way — maybe all the way to a state title — is senior Joel Vogt. But the three-sport standout will be going about it the hard way. Vogt weighs in at around 175 pounds, and will have to wrestle at 185 instead of 167, where his chances of advancing in state competition are better.

Meanwhile, another senior standout,

Dino Candella, will wrestle at 167 — when he makes weight. Candella beefed up for football this fall and is still tapering off.

Junior Tim Millen, although a first-year wrestler, may give Northville some unexpected strength at 198 pounds. "He's really improved a lot," Townsley pointed out. Rounding out Northville's strong crew of big men is heavyweight Ken Wells, a king-size 6'5" junior transfer. Although Wells is a first-year wrestler, his hard work and good attitude have already impressed Townsley.

"He's a nice kid. He appreciated working with (football coach) Dennis Colligan this fall, and he's the same way this season," Townsley said.

The returning coach added there was something of a "logjam" at the middle weights. Jason Lazar, Dana Letarte and Dennis Nadeau are all returning wrestlers and will battle it out for the regular slot at 145.

Letarte may drop to 138, but another returning wrestler, Ken Kehoe, has also looked strong there. Senior John Lazar at 132 will likely keep anyone from bumping further down the weight scale.

Every other slot will have new hands — some simply lack varsity experience, and some lack any experience at all. At 98, freshman Don Graham brings some raw talent and is the leading contender. Sophomore John Baumann wrestled reserves last season and will go at 105.

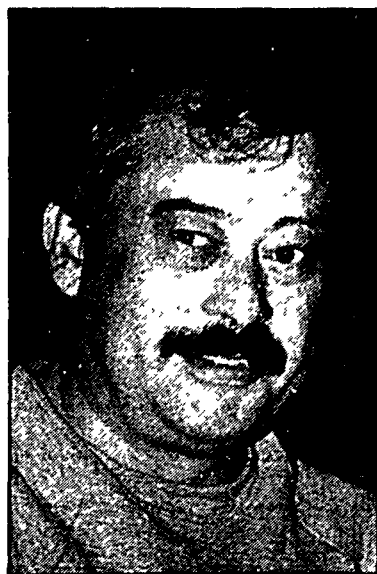

Out of his team of about 35, Townsley has not yet settled on a regular wrestler at 112 pounds. "We don't have anybody at that weight right now," he explained. At 119, sophomore Paul Maliszewski has been impressive in pre-season workouts.

While lacking experience, senior Mike Bates brings good skills and strength at 126 pounds and sophomore John McRae has appeared to be a "very good prospect" at 154.

"Our strength this year is going to be in the upper weights," Townsley said. "It's too soon to tell how we're going to stack up against the others in our league."

He'll find out soon. Northville opens its season this week with matches against Livonia Stevenson and, tomorrow, at Farmington Harrison. The Hawks are reportedly strongest in the lighter weights, so an interesting battle appears to be shaping up.

JACK TOWNSLEY

All-Area cage team has 'class'

This year's All-Area second team also taught opposing teams something about the game this past season.

The district champion Warriors were not a one-player team this season, as SUE BAGLOW proved admirably. The senior averaged 7.5 points, six rebounds, five assists and four steals this season. "This year, a lot of the burden was put on Sue with the loss of Val and Nancy Leach," stated Stener. "She really became a leader on the floor for us."

Another player who moved to the front when her team needed it was Redskin TANIA STRACHAN, who lead Milford in scoring (10.2) and rebounding (8.5). "She's one of the hardest working kids I've ever had," said Palmer of his senior forward. "She's really carried our ballclub since our injuries."

SHELLY WATSON led Whitmore Lake to a district title this season by averaging 18 points and 12 rebounds per game. The sophomore led the Tri-

County Conference in both those categories to earn All-Conference honors. "She is real smooth — very agile and quick," explained Mariann Martin, Whitmore Lake's coach. "She's good enough to get a full scholarship to a big college."

Lakeland's KRISTIN HAUPT was an important factor in the Eagles' third-place finish in the KVC. "We wouldn't have won 10 games without her," stated Lakeland coach George Heitsch. "She's a very hard worker and hustles all the time." A four-year starter for Lakeland, Haupt averaged 10.8 points, four steals and two assists per game in 1984.

Another senior whose all-around game earned her second-team honors is Novi's SHERRY LAWTON. The guard/forward averaged 10.6 points and 11 rebounds per outing. "She's given us a lot of consistency this year," said the Wildcats' Ayotte. "She's our best defensive ballplayer. Game in and game out, we asked her to do a lot of different things for us, and she carried them out."

Diet Pill Sweeping U.S.

New Grapefruit 'Super Pill' Gives Fast Weight Loss

No Dieting - Eat All You Want
Pill Does All the Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA. (Special)—An amazing new "super" grapefruit pill has recently been developed and perfected that reportedly "guarantees" that you will easily lose at least 10 pounds in 10 days. Best of all, it allows you to "eat as much as you want of your favorite foods and still lose a pound a day or more starting from the very first day until you achieve the ideal weight and figure you desire."

This "super" grapefruit pill is a dramatically improved version of the world famous grapefruit diet. It is far more effective than the original and eliminates "the mess, fuss, and high cost of eating half a fresh grapefruit at every meal."

"Pill Does All the Work"

According to the manufacturer, "the pill itself does all the work while you quickly lose weight with NO starvation "diet menus" to follow, NO calorie counting, NO exercise, and NO hunger pangs." It is 100% safe. You simply take the pill with a glass of water before each meal and the amazing combination of powerful ingredients are so effective they take over and you start losing weight immediately.

Pill Has ALL Daily Vitamins

The powerful and unique combination of ingredients are what make this a "super-pill". It contains highly potent grapefruit concentrate and a diuretic to help eliminate bloat and puffiness. No need to take any vitamins to maintain your good health and energy. The pill is fortified with ALL (100%) of the U.S. Government daily vitamin requirements.

Contains Japanese 'Glucosaminan'

Each pill also contains an amazingly effective amount of "glucosaminan", the remarkable natural dietary fiber discovery from Japan (used successfully for over 1500 years) that expands in your stomach and gives you a full and satisfied feeling all day long.

The super-pill is already sweeping the country with glowing reports of easy and fast weight loss from formerly overweight people in all walks of life who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Now Available to Public

You can order your supply of these highly successful "super" grapefruit pills (now available directly from the manufacturer by mail order only) by sending $12 for a 14-day supply (or $20 for a 30-day supply, or $35 for a 60-day supply) cash, check, or money order to: Citrus Industries, 9903 Santa Monica Bl., Dept. The only car telephone backed by the company with real telephone company experience.

Now just $49.99 a month.

Dozens of Detroit companies can put a cellular phone in your car.

But only one of them provides the know-how that actually makes the service work.

Ameritech Mobile Communications.

So when other companies tell you how they provide a complete package from start to finish, ask them to be a bit more specific.

Ask them if every car telephone they offer carries the Bell symbol of quality.

Ask them if their installation and service people are trained to meet the standards set by Ameritech, the company that actually built the system—and if not, who trained them.

Ask if they've made arrangements with other cellular telephone companies in other cities, so that you can use your new car phone in other places besides Detroit.

Then ask them if they can even match Ameritech's low lease price of just $49.99 a month.*

Once you know all the answers, we predict you'll have just one more question: How do I get in touch with an Ameritech Authorized Agent?

And that's exactly why we've included this coupon.

Or mail to: Ameritech Mobile Communications, P.O. Box 32749, Detroit, MI 48232.

ROAST STYLE BRISKET OF BEEF

One six to eight pound beef brisket (flat cut)
Three Tablespoons cooking oil
Four stalks celery, including leaves, chopped up
Two rounded teaspoons beef bouillon
One large green pepper, chopped
One Tablespoon finely chopped cloves of garlic OR
One teaspoon garlic powder
Three medium onions, chopped
One-half teaspoon fresh milled pepper
Two cups dry red wine
Two one-pound cans of small whole potatoes, drained
11 carrots, cut in half
11 parsnips, cut in half

Garnishment:

One bunch parsley
Two medium size ripe tomatoes

Trim off any excess fat and brown meat well in roasting pan or dutch oven on both sides in cooking oil. Remove meat from pot. Cook up onions, celery and green peppers plus one diced carrot and one diced parsnip so that they are all well browned. Fat side up, sprinkle the meat with the garlic, beef bouillon and pepper. Then take one-half of the fried mixture and place underneath the roast in the roasting pan. Place the other half of the fried mixture on top of the roast. Put in dutch oven or roasting pan with a covered top. Add wine. Put in 325 oven and cook for three to three and one-half hours. When the roast has been cooking for three to three and one-half hours and appears almost done, add more liquid, if necessary. Add the carrots, parsnips and potatoes and cook for approximately 30 minutes. (Meat should be fork tender). When the roast is done, remove from pan, wait 20 minutes, then slice the meat across the grain. Taste the meat and adjust the flavorings. Garnish with parsley and sliced tomatoes. Serve with the cooked potatoes, carrots and parsnips and remaining juices. If you wish, you may cook this the night before and reheat the next day. This recipe by Mr. Camden took first-prize honors in the National Beef Cook-Off Contest.

10-20 other combinations of peppers
(yellow, hot, long)
Four bundles leeks, cut small and quarters peck green tomatoes, boil for 20 minutes in juices. Drain and drained filling. Top with another roll-

Before putting on lid, sprinkle with hot pepper seeds if you like a warm winter serving.

Bake for 30 minutes then remove from oven — butter complete top and crust edges. Return to oven for 15 minutes or until crust is golden brown.

Serve warm.

Cut in dinner size portions and freeze in foil. Take out in winter and microwave for 10 minutes, paper

HEARTY SOURDOUGH ENGLISH MUFFINS

One package dry yeast dissolved in one-quarter cup warm water
One cup milk, scalded
One-half cup rolled oats
One-quarter cup wheat germ
One cup sourdough starter, room temperature
One and one-half cups whole wheat flour
Three Tablespoons honey or maple syrup
One teaspoon salt
Two to two and one-half cups unbleached white flour
Corn meal

(Optional: one cup raisins and/or one and one-half teaspoon cinnamon)

Dissolve yeast in warm water and set aside to proof. Place rolled oats and wheat germ in a large bowl and cover with hot, scalded milk. When cooled to near room temperature, add sourdough starter, whole wheat flour, honey or maple syrup, and salt. Also add raisins and/or cinnamon if desired.

Stir ingredients to form a thick batter. Blend in approximately two cups of the unbleached flour to form a stiff dough and turn out onto a floured surface.

Knead for five minutes, adding remaining unbleached flour as required to prevent sticking. Place dough in a greased bowl, cover bowl with a damp cloth, and let dough rise in a warm place until doubled in size (approximately one and one-half hours).

When doubled, punch down dough and roll out half-inch thick on a floured surface. Cut out in three inch circles and place on a cookie sheet sprinkled with corn meal.

Let muffins rise an additional 20 minutes and then place on a lightly greased electric griddle which has been pre-heated to 275. Loosely cover griddle with aluminum foil or a metal lid (allowing steam to escape) and cook for 15 minutes per side. Muffins will be lightly browned when done. Remove and place on wire rack to cool.

Makes approximately 22 three-inch round English muffins.

To serve, split the muffins in half and brown in a toaster. Spread with butter while hot and enjoy. Great with fresh fruit and cheese. Extra muffins can be frozen for later use.

Two cakes yeast
10 egg yolks
One-half teaspoon salt

One-half teaspoon almond flavoring (optional)
Three-quarters cup milk

Add salt to egg yolks, beat until thick and lemon-colored. To the yeast mixture, add beaten eggs, sugar, and flavoring.

Add melted butter, knead until well blended. Let rise until double in bulk. Punch down dough, let rise again.

Place dough on lightly floured board, stretch dough towards you and fill with your favorite jam (strawberry or blueberry is perfect). The jam must be very thick.

Fold over and cut with a small glass into a small ball. Place on a slightly floured board, let rise about half an hour.

Fry in deep fat, turning only once. Drain on absorbent paper. Sprinkle

HOWARD'S CAESAR SALAD

One clove of garlic
One-half cup imported top quality olive oil
One cup garlic croutons
One large head Romaine lettuce
One Tablespoon Worstershire sauce
One-half teaspoon Coleman Mustard
Two-thirds cup fresh-grated imported parmesan cheese
Fresh milled pepper
Two coddled or fresh egg yolks
Juice of one lemon
One dash tabasco
Four fillets of anchovies (optional)

In a large wooden bowl, add the olive oil, one-half teaspoon fresh milled pepper, two egg yolks, lemon juice, Worstershire sauce, mustard, tabasco, anchovies, and one-half of the parmesan cheese. Finely chop the garlic clove and add to the mixture. Take a wooden spoon and thoroughly mash the anchovies in the mixture. Stir the mixture well. Taste the dressing and adjust if you desire. If you want it tarter, add more lemon; if it is too tart, add a little sugar. If you want it spicier, add more tabasco. If you have made any adjustments, mix again. Add the washed and dried Romaine lettuce, which has been broken into bite size pieces. Add the croutons. Mix well so all the leaves have some of the mixture on them. Divide the mixture into four serving plates. Top with the remaining parmesan cheese. Give a good dash of milled pepper on the parmesan cheese. If you desire, you may add one cherry tomato, a quarter wedge of a hard-boiled egg and a couple of anchovies on top of the salad for garnishment and additional taste. Serves four generous portions.

One-third cup Galliano
 Two Tablespoons Vodka
 Three egg whites
 One-quarter cup sugar
 One cup whipping cream
 One nine-inch pastry shell, baked and cooled
 Two orange slices (for decoration)

In medium saucepan, combine gelatin, the one-half cup sugar and the salt. Add orange juice, water, lemon juice, and egg yolks. Mix well. Cook and stir over medium heat till gelatin dissolves and mixture is slightly thickened. Remove from heat and cool slightly. Stir in the liqueur and vodka. Chill till partially set (mixture resemble unbeaten egg whites).

Beat egg whites will soft peaks form (tips curl over). Gradually add the remaining quarter-cup sugar, beating to stiff peaks (tips stand straight). Fold into partially set gelatin. Cream shortening, sugar, peanut butter, egg and vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk. Roll out cookie dough to rectangle one-quarter inch thick (roll out on waxed paper to make jelly roll easier).
