May Babbitt receives granddaughter Cheryl Gazlay's congratulations

May Babbitt honored by club

It took May Babbitt 30 or 31 years, but she officially received her 25-year life membership in Northville Woman's Club last Friday.

Because rules of the 92 year old club state that, to become a life member, it is necessary to have been in the club for 25 continuous years, Mrs. Babbitt had to count from 1959 when she joined the club a second time after having dropped out for a more than 36-year career in teaching.

But starting a second time wasn't anything new for this 88 year old long-time resident of South Rogers who grew up on a farm in Novi.

She was born in Judd's Corners in the Owosso-Corunna area and moved to Novi with her family when she was six years old.

She was the daughter of A.T. Holcomb, a country doctor. She still recalls for her family how he would hitch up his sleigh to make house calls as far away as South Lyon and Salem. She has told her great granddaughters how he would be gone for weeks during a winter influenza epidemic, caring for patients and actually living with their families.

"At one time there were five Doctor Holcombs practicing on Grand River," Mrs. Babbitt relates, mentioning that her brother, Dr. A.A. Holcomb, practiced in Northville.

Because the family home — still standing on Grand River a quarter mile east of Novi Road — was too distant for daily commuting to high school in Northville, May Holcomb boarded in Northville during the week and then hitched up her horse and buggy to return

Mental health proposal would reduce hospital beds

By KEVIN WILSON

Funding to begin implementing a state department of mental health proposal that could cut the Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital population in half is included in an appropriations bill that was to be considered by the state senate Tuesday.

An initial $8 million appropriation to reduce the population about 30 percent was approved by the house of representatives last week. If senate approval is not gained before the end of the session Tuesday, the matter will be taken up early in the next session.

According to DMH information director Tom DeLoach, the entire proposal is an $18 million plan to reduce the Northville hospital population from its present census of roughly 1,000 patients to 500 over the next two to three years.

Design capacity of the hospital, with current facilities and staffing, is 650. The $8 million appropriation, according to Vickie Stewart of the Senate fiscal agency, would reduce population to 700.

"That's still pretty large by modern psychiatric hospital standards," explained DeLoach. Accommodating the common 1,000 patient census would require extensive expansion of the hospital, he said, "at a cost of millions and millions of dollars."

After considering a great many alternatives, he said, the department came up with a multi-tiered approach to solve the overpopulation problem over a period of several years and limit Northville to 500 "acute care" beds.

Approximately 100 of the patients would be housed in the Plymouth Center for Human Development 'A' building — the one segment of that property DMH has not declared surplus. Renovation of the 'A' building on Sheldon near Five Mile is a separately funded measure, according to the senate fiscal agency.

The 100 patients to be housed at Plymouth Center, DeLoach explained, would "most likely be hearing impaired — there is an existing hearing impaired program at the Northville hospital." The Plymouth Center building may also be used as a "pre-placement center" for patients "almost ready to be released into the community but not quite."

A major element of the plan is to develop contracts with up to 10 hospitals in the metropolitan Detroit area whereby the hospitals would provide 20 to 30 bed psychiatric care units.

New director at NRPH, fence money budgeted

Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital has a new administrator and a budget that includes funding for construction of a partial fence in the current fiscal year, according to state and local officials.

Former director John Reynolds accepted an appointment as director of the Walter Reuther facility in Westland, said department of mental health information director Tom DeLoach.

Since November 12, Dr. Walter Brown, DMH director of the bureau of psychiatric hospitals has been "wearing two hats and serving as acting director in Northville," DeLoach said.

"We expect to have a permanent director named" within 60 days, DeLoach said. The original timetable was 90 days from the day Reynolds left

DeLoach said he was "pretty sure" funding for a fence had been included in the hospital's current year budget. He said Monday morning he would call The Record with details of the budget regarding a fence but had not returned the call as of 11:15 a.m. Tuesday.

Members of the hospital's security committee reported last month that they were told money was available for fence construction and local legislators confirmed it.

Money was appropriated for fence construction in the mid-'70s. Having the funds available does not bind the hospital to putting up a fence — budget transfers during the fiscal year or simply failure to expend the funds are possible alternative uses of the money.

Open attendance policy stays

By MICHELE M. FECHT

A school district policy allowing students transfer rights to other district schools outside their attendance boundaries will be maintained by the Northville Board of Education despite forthcoming school closings.

At its meeting Monday night, the board of education discussed the possibility of revising the policy in light of the school closings but conceded to maintain the present guidelines.

Since the policy adoption in April, 1979, students in the Northville Public School district have been permitted to attend a school outside their attendance boundaries provided they meet all administrative guidelines when applying for transfer.

Among the guidelines stipulated by the board of education is that all requests be received in writing by the building principal no later than April 15 of the school year before the transfer, review of the written request by the building principal and principal of the receiving school, review of the request with appropriate building staff and review of the student's total educational program needs.

Transfer is granted provided that the sending and receiving principal's recommend the change as being in the student's best interest, that there is physical space available in the school and grade being requested and that parents provide transportation for students being transferred.

There also is a stipulation that students may not transfer back to their original school during the year of transfer.

School board secretary James Petrie noted that the board's policy subcommittee had reviewed the policy last week and opted to keep it intact at this time.

"We'll keep our options open to see if actions warrant a revision," Petrie noted.

The recent decision to close Cooke Junior High and Moraine Elementary mandates a revision in the present attendance boundaries to redistrict students. A citizens' advisory committee charged with outlining new attendance boundaries will hold its first meeting tonight.

Board trustee Chris Johnson questioned whether the administration thought it could handle additional requests as well as the new attendance boundary changes.

"It's quite possible we'll have more requests in light of the school boundary changes," he noted.

School Superintendent George Bell said he believed the administration could accommodate the requests and noted the "mechanics" are there should it be necessary to limit transfers.

He noted that should the district be hit with a barrage of transfer requests, the administration will have to consider whether there is enough space available in the school or grade being requested and whether the student population is adequately dispersed among the three elementary schools.

Rezoning hearing set

By KEVIN WILSON

Northville Township planners have set a January 8 public hearing date for consideration of zoning changes on Plymouth Center land declared surplus by the state department of mental health. The commission motion also applies to other government-owned properties in the Five Mile road corridor.

The state may sell more than 200 acres of the Plymouth Center land, valued at $4.4 million, to private developers. Legislation calling for the sale was included in an omnibus appropriations measure approved by the state house last week and due to be considered by the senate during the last day of its session Tuesday. State senator R. Robert Geake (R-Northville) said it is possible the sale will not be acted upon until the next session beginning in 1985.

Zoning of the property, presently classified for single family residential use, may be changed to allow offices, multiple family housing, industrial or single family residential uses, among other possible recommendations by the commission. The planning commission recommends zoning classifications, but the township board of trustees makes the final decisions.

Meeting in special session December 6, the planning commission established the public hearing date at the request of supervisor Susan Heintz, who described the move as an effort to forestall future efforts to continue institutional use of the property.

The commission voted to consider rezoning all public lands in sections 15, 16, 17 and 18, which includes not only Plymouth Center property but portions of the Detroit House of Corrections and Wayne County Child Development Center. Heintz said the changes she is considering are narrower — applying only to Plymouth Center property in light of ongoing negotiations regarding the other properties.

"We're going to deal strictly with the Plymouth Center land," she said. "The other things are too up-in-the-air right now."

Heintz, who has been supervisor less than a month, has launched an intensive drive to have publicly-owned properties in the township sold to the private sector and returned to the tax rolls. One aim is to halt continued pressure to build new state institutions

Ducks target of shooters

The ducks at the Ford waterwheel plant on Main Street now are the targets for a dart-shooter, or shooters.

"There are three or four ducks walking around with darts in their necks — it's very cruel," a Ford plant spokesperson reported Tuesday morning.

Northville city resident Ron Hebert, who had been feeding the ducks Monday evening, told The Record yesterday morning he started seeing the wounded ducks. He said his wife was able to catch one and take the arrow out.

The first aid attendant at the Ford plant also attempted to catch a duck with two darts in its neck, but it retreated into the water.

Hebert said the injured ducks he saw were white.

The Ford spokesperson said many persons call the plant when they see injured ducks, but there is little plant officials can do.

Anyone witnessing any cruelty to the wildfowl at the plant should call the city police department at 349-1280 immediately, according to police chief Rodney Cannon.

Anyone with information about the possible shooter of a blow gun or dart sling also should call the police.

"These are wild ducks and the DNR can prosecute as violations of the hunting laws," Cannon said.

Cliff Johnson, DNR law enforcement supervisor for District 14, which includes Northville, confirmed that it is illegal to shoot the ducks with a blow gun and said the department would be

Hospital population to be reduced

One such contract already exists with the Michigan Osteopathic Medical Center, DeLoach said, and others are being negotiated.

Another segment of the plan is expansion of the state's Detroit Psychiatric Institute in Detroit, adding 75 beds to that institution's capacity.

Another part of the program is adding beds to the Walter Reuther mental health facility in Westland (on the Eloise grounds) for housing mentally ill persons over age 65. DeLoach said that the Reuther facility would provide not only inpatient treatment, but screening for elderly patients.

The department's controversial community placement program for mentally ill persons released from state institutions also plays a major role in the program to reduce the Northville population, DeLoach said.

Expanded contracts with Residential Care Alternatives, a major provider of such homes, would account for the remaining population reduction, he said.

The community placement centers would "probably be in the City of Detroit," DeLoach said, and would be "more intensively staffed and managed community residential beds" than have been provided in the past.

"Assuming we don't have another major economic downturn (which historically raises demand for psychiatric care), and that the entire program is funded, that should bring the population in Northville down to around 500," DeLoach said.

Public land may be rezoned

on the grounds vacated by old ones; another is to expand the tax base, which suffers with 38 percent of the township land area tied up in public, non-taxable uses.

Land in Plymouth Township near the Plymouth Center property at Five Mile and Sheldon is already in use as an industrial park and establishment of an industrial belt along Five Mile is an element of that community's master plan. Current industrial zoning in Northville township is confined to section 18 — the area bound by Five and Six Mile, Ridge and Napier roads.

Planners considered several possible public hearing dates, including December 18, and included both the December and January dates in the motion, the determination to be made by the needs of planning consultant Claude Coates of Vilcan-Leman Associates. The January date was selected so that the consultant would have sufficient time to study the issue and prepare information for the commission.

The commission will meet with Coates in a study session prior to the hearing, likely on January 3.

Hospital project under way

Annual Christmas ingathering of gifts for patients at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital on Seven Mile in Northville Township is under way under the direction of Philip Ogilvie.

The Northville attorney has headed the project for many years and accepts gifts at his office at 104 West Main.

He asks individuals and groups interested in buying a gift for patients to call him at 349-2600. He has requests from the hospital staff for both men and women patients. Billfolds for men and purses for women are popular requests, as are cartons of cigarettes.

The presents should be gift wrapped with a card reading "from a friend." A slip of paper should be attached noting the contents so that the hospital staff can direct it to the right patient.

Ogilvie would like to receive the gifts by December 17 at his office. He notes that many patients have no family and that, without help from the community, will have no present at Christmas.

Hoffman announces newspaper changes

A major reorganization designed to meet the challenge of the future has been implemented at Sliger/Livingston Publications, including re-configuration of the Novi News and reassignment of management responsibilities at the News and The Northville Record, announced Jack Hoffman, S/L general manager.

Phil Jerome has assumed the position of managing editor of both The Novi News and The Northville Record and will be the administrative head of those newspapers. Jean Day, former Northville Record editor, is now the editor of both the News and Record and will oversee day-to-day operations.

Part of the operational streamlining is re-configuration of the Novi News. Where previously a second news front called the Walled Lake Edition was included in the Novi News, now stories about Walled Lake will be included throughout the News.

Walled Lake news will be taken upon request by mail and over the phone and will be included in the Novi News, Hoffman explained.

"Our sales representatives will continue active solicitation in Walled Lake," Hoffman said.

"This is an interim measure designed to position ourselves to serve the Walled Lake area in the near future with a product that better meets our and the

Among other changes in Sliger/Livingston Publications is assumption of circulation responsibilities by Executive Editor Rolly Peterson. He will continue his responsibilities for all editorial operations.

Moves similar to reorganization at the News and Record are being undertaken at other Sliger/Livingston newspapers.

"Reorganization was a business decision to economize, make better use of our resources and improve our services in a fast-changing marketplace," Hoffman observed.

Up to 1,000 prisoners

Laws clear path to DeHoCo take over

By KEVIN WILSON

Legislation clearing the way for the housing of up to 1,000 state prisoners at the Detroit House of Corrections was approved by the state house of representatives last week and was to be considered by the senate Tuesday.

State senator R. Robert Geake (R-Northville) said he expected the pair of bills would easily be approved in the senate's last meeting of the two-year session.

The bills provide funding to begin state acquisition and renovation of DeHoCo and allow use of the facility for up to two years as dormitory-style temporary housing for state prisoners to relieve overcrowding in the corrections system.

Township supervisor Susan Heintz, who was in Lansing during the house deliberations on the latter bill, said that "the way it was written originally it applied to DeHoCo and only to DeHoCo. We had to get that changed." The bill was eventually widened to allow double-bunking in state prisons, to include temporary quarters in the tally of prison capacity and to allow use of virtually any temporary quarters the state corrections department may obtain in the next two years.

Northville Township is cooperating with Plymouth Township in efforts to limit corrections department use of DeHoCo. The City of Detroit owns the property, which is presently used to house Wayne County prisoners. The county is gradually transferring prisoners from DeHoCo to downtown Detroit jail facilities. Detroit mayor Coleman Young has said he wishes to sell the property to the state.

The 1,100 acres of DeHoCo are in both Plymouth and Northville townships. The area that would be used as a state prison is directly across Five Mile Road from the Phoenix Correctional Facility at Beck Road. Next to Phoenix, the state is constructing the 550-bed Scott regional prison.

The bill authorizing expenses toward the state acquisition was first approved by the legislature's joint capital outlay committee last week. The house approved the $15 million appropriation (which includes four other prison siting projects) late December 7, the last day of its session.

The senate was to conclude its session Tuesday, beginning at 10 a.m. As of yesterday morning's Record copy deadline, no action had yet been taken on the two measures.

Plymouth Township trustees last week authorized the expenditure of $40,000 to hire Karoub and Associates to lobby on the township's behalf and to hire law firm Krandle, Thompson and Meir to handle legal matters involved in the prison fight. One of the firm's members is Robert Law, former state representative and brother of current 36th District representative Gerald Law. Karoub currently represents Northville Township — the firm's contract with Plymouth Township is at $2,000 per month.

King receives honor

Northville resident Jeffrey King, a senior at University of Detroit Jesuit High School, has been selected one of two Michigan delegates to the United States Youth Program in Washington, D.C.

The appointment was announced December 5 by Michigan Senators Donald W. Riegle Jr. and Carl Levin. The state's high school student delegates were named by Phillip E. Runkel, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

King, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John King, is among 104 students in the United States selected to participate in the program.

Each delegate will be awarded a $2,000 college scholarship to study American government and related subjects. The scholarships and program are made possible through grants from the William Randolph Hearst Foundation.

All participants will take a week-long close-up look into federal government operations and the U.S. Senate February 2-9. The operations of the Senate will be particularly stressed during the week with Jeff serving a day internship with Senator Riegle and Levin. In addition, briefings have been arranged with the President, leading cabinet members, a Supreme Court Justice, and several key House Representatives who will meet with delegates on the floor of the House of Representatives.

Jeff is president of the Student Senate at University of Detroit Jesuit High School. He also is a member of the Forensics League, Varsity Club and Model United Nations Club.

He is on the staff of the school newspaper and is a tutor. Other activities include the Pep Club, varsity golf, basketball and football.

He also is a member of the National Honor Society and lists his future plans as attending college, hopefully being able to study abroad.

Jeff's parents were with him in Lansing when he received news of his selection. John King, an engineer at Ford Motor Company, is president of the Dad's Club at U-D Jesuit High and Mary Ellen King was elected president of the school's Mothers' Club last spring.

Program to give winter tips

"Weathering Winter Outdoors," a 1½-hour indoor program on cold weather comfort, will be held at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropark near Milford at 2 p.m. Sunday, December 30.

Frostbite and hypothermia are very real and present dangers when we many transfers are at the junior high level. With the consolidation of Cooke and Meads Mill into one middle school, the administration only will need to carry our recreational activities outdoors in winter, park officials point out. Persons will learn how to stay warm and have a safe, enjoyable outdoor experience. Enrollment is limited.

The program is free; however, advance registration and a vehicle entry permit (daily $2) are required.

concentrate on elementary transfer requests.

Board vice president Glenna Davis said "the open policy can be construed as a vote of confidence in the buildings that we have."

"I sincerely believe fewer are going to use it than we think," Davis said.

Bel noted that most of the calls he's received in regard to attendance boundaries have had more to do with students maintaining friendships — not requests for transfer.

Bel said he hopes to bring a new attendance boundary recommendation to the board January 14.

Hamilton gives new life to NHS vocational education

By MICHELE M. FECHT

Though he's only been on the job a little more than a month, William Hamilton has become a dominant presence in the hallways and central office at Northville High School.

Students hardly can help but notice the former football player and coach who now sits behind the desk of longtime administrator Barbara Campbell. (Campbell resigned in August to take the principal's post at Riverview High School.)

Formerly assistant principal at Robichaud High School in Westwood, the 34-year-old Hamilton was the district's top choice from a field of 67 candidates to fill the vacant post.

Since taking over one of the three administrative offices at the high school, Hamilton says he's spending considerable time familiarizing himself with the district as well as working out kinks in the attendance policy — now under his jurisdiction.

In addition, Hamilton is beginning work in his field of expertise — vocational education.

Formerly Vocational Education Coordinator for the Livonia Public Schools prior to his move to Westwood, Hamilton says he is working with staff on developing a more comprehensive program for Northville High School students.

"There are a couple issues one needs to look at with voc ed," Hamilton says. "First of all, this district is small and therefore doesn't have a lot of offerings and, second, it's strongly college prep."

He explains that regardless of the district's predominantly college-bound student body, vocational education merits a distinctive role in the high school curriculum.

He notes that the district is "developing a process to which students will receive maximum efficiency from vocational education" and adds that there is some discussion about working out a share-time program with Livonia to allow local students to use that district's job placement center.

In addition to expanding the vocational education opportunities at Northville High School, Hamilton says he also is looking at some revision in the school's current attendance policy.

The present policy, the target of considerable criticism since its inception, is not totally without merit, Hamilton explains.

"We have an attendance policy that stresses the importance of good work attendance once we're out of school," he notes.

He further explains that the administration is working on an intervention process to try to curb the attendance problem before students are dropped from classes.

Hamilton takes new post

"The objective is not to drop," he says.

However, he notes that the district "needs a policy that doesn't speak to a lot of exceptions."

"It has to be cut and dry."

Hamilton admits that his focus in Northville is far different from what he experienced in Westwood.

He notes that many students in the Westwood district experience economic and social problems — far from the case in Northville.

However, he points out that what the district lacks in affluence, it makes up for in aspiration.

"I had reservations about leaving Westwood," Hamilton explains. He notes that one of the high points of his tenure at Robichaud High School was the establishment of a fine arts festival — the first of its kind for students in the district.

Noting that "there were not a lot of extra curricular activities" in the Westwood district, Hamilton called on some friends and former classmates from Wayne State University to help produce the stage play "Grease."

Hamilton holds a bachelor's in American Literature with a minor in social sciences and a master's in education administration from WSU.)

"The kids were really into drama and music," he notes, adding that the entire school community was receptive to the festival.

Despite his reservations about leaving Westwood, Hamilton admits the offer in Northville was too good to pass by.

Noting that his aspiration is to be a building principal at some point in his career, he says the experience in Northville should help him attain his goal.

"The selling points of this job were the renovation and the anticipated 1,300 enrollment in this building (once the ninth graders are added in September)," Hamilton notes.

"There are a lot of activities in this building," he adds. "I'm also really impressed with the staff here. Generally they really care about kids."

Taking on a new job is not the only recent change in Hamilton's life. Only a week after starting in his new post, his wife Roberta gave birth to the couple's second child, Amanda Alexandra. They also have a son, William, who is six.

When he's not patrolling the halls, working on the attendance policy or tending to other high school business, the new assistant principal spends time with his young family in Livonia or works on his house.

He says "building is something I've really gotten into," and notes that he recently put an addition on his house which included a bedroom and a family room with a brick fireplace.

"Now I'm getting into cabinet making," he adds.

Though he was permanently sidelined from playing football after a knee injury, Hamilton says he still enjoys sports and has a mutual enthusiast in his son, William.

Crafty reindeer

Northville Plaza Mall's first arts and crafts show, called an Arts and Crafts Christmas Bazaar, was filled with holiday offerings last Saturday. Mary Beth Nesbitt and her son Greg, 9, appear fascinated with a display of reindeer heads. Northville Plaza Mall Association, which sponsored the show, reported it was a "really good first show" with more than 50 exhibitors. Another craft show already is being planned. ## Howell homes open for tour

Five Howell homes, decorated for the Christmas holidays, will be open to the public this Thursday during the second annual Christmas Walk home tour sponsored by the McPherson Community Health Center Auxiliary.

Christmas Walk hours are 1-4 p.m. and 6-9 p.m. Refreshments, including hot spiced cider, cookies and coffee, will be served in the Medical Arts Auditorium at the hospital, 620 Byron Road.

Tickets for the tour are $5 with proceeds going to the Auxiliary's equipment donation fund to benefit the hospital.

Tickets are available in the hospital gift shop; at Joan Carol's, Matthews Pharmacy and The Gift Shop in Howell; Uber's Drugs in Brighton and from ticket chairperson Jean Dunaback (517) 546-2009.

Among the five homes on the tour is the Mullaney Home at 1015 North Michigan Avenue. The house is a magnificent example of Victorian Italianate architecture, with its bay window areas and third floor tower. It was built in 1882 by one of Howell's pioneer merchants, George Greenaway.

Referred to by historians as the Greenaway-Ballard home, current owners Jackie and Lawrence Mullaney also find the house is commonly known as the Erwin home, named for Howell attorney Bud Erwin and his wife Vivien, who rescued the house in the mid-1950s. Renovations are being continued by the Mullaney's.

The Barron Home at 1023 Burns Drive is an elegant country brick ranch decorated with a blend of antiques and traditional pieces, many acquired during the family's numerous and extensive travels.

The two lampposts in front of the house and fireplace are traditionally decorated at Christmas. The home was built in 1950 by B.J. Kennedy for the late Judge Francis Barron, his wife Abbie and their children.

The Florian Home at 619 State is situated on a treed corner lot in Howell's Plety Hill section. The Italianate Victorian home was built in the mid-1800s and is characterized by its cupola, various roof lines and three porches.

In 1925, the home was purchased by the Howlett family and remodeled at that time. Donna and John Florian bought the home in 1978 and are just completing its second rejuvenation.

The Meadows Home at 616 West Grand River was built in 1866 by Asa Parshall and remained in the Parshall family for more than a century. The carriage house remains in the rear of the property.

Puppets stars in Sleeping Beauty

"The Sleeping Beauty Ballet," Christmas program of the Plymouth Symphony, will be presented in two performances this Sunday in the Plymouth-Salem High School auditorium.

The performances at 2 and 4 p.m. will feature the magic of the Pickwick Puppet Theatre under the direction of Ken Moses.

"The Pickwick Puppet Theatre's elegant staging of the beloved Tchaikovsky ballet was originally commissioned by Thomas Scherman's Little Orchestra Society and performed at Lincoln Center's Philharmonic Hall," Janis Stevenson of Northville, publicist for the Plymouth Symphony, reports.

The production has been performed at schools and colleges, museums and theaters, and concert halls all over the country to high critical acclaim, she adds.

Performed by a cast of more than 65 puppets, the nearly life-size show is large enough to be seen easily in any auditorium.

Single concert tickets for the ballet are $6 for adults and $3.50 for senior citizens, all children and students. The Plymouth Symphony League states that no one will be admitted without a ticket. Tickets for both performances will be available at the box office and are on sale in Livonia at Hammell Music and in Plymouth at Beltner Jewelry on Ann Arbor Trail.

The effect of a Pickwick performance with a symphony orchestra is very similar to that of a ballet performance — but the Pickwick Puppets are not subject to the limitations of human performers. The Seven Fairies of Good Fortune really fly, the Evil Fairy Carabosse actually turns into a fire-breathing dragon. All of the story's fairy-tale magic fantasy is right there on stage, explains Stevenson.

The puppets used in this production are operated from below with rods, a technique developed from centuries-old Far Eastern puppetry. The cast of more than 65 puppets, about four to five feet high, performs in a 22-foot wide setting suggesting a castle in France.

At the conclusion of the program, the puppeteers demonstrate how the puppets are manipulated.

Peter Ilich Tchaikovsky (1840-1893), the famous Russian composer, was commissioned by the director of the Imperial Theatre to compose the Sleeping Beauty ballet music in 1888.

It was performed in January of 1890 in St. Petersburg before the Czar and his court. The audience was not enthusiastic, and the Czar said only, "Very nice." The ballet has since become one of the best loved of his works all over the world.

The Pickwick Puppet Theatre was founded in 1951 by Larry Berthelson. Present director of the company Moses is a graduate of the Carnegie-Mellon School of Drama and is a former theater instructor at Syracuse University. His background includes radio, television, summer stock and regional repertory theater. He has been active in puppetry since the age of four when his late Aunt Fannie gave him a puppet (which he still has) for Christmas.

The concert is made possible in part by the City of Plymouth, the Plymouth Symphony League and by a grant from the State of Michigan through the Michigan Council for the Arts.

There will be free baby-sitting for preschoolers during the concerts.

Trumpeters are among 65 puppets in Sleeping Beauty ballet offered by Plymouth Symphony

May Babbitt honored

home on the weekend. She explains that many young people from rural areas did this.

Upon graduation, she attended Normal School in Ypsilanti (now Eastern Michigan University) for two years, graduating in 1916. She taught until she married Kernal Hugh Babbitt. They built the home at 306 South Rogers using black walnut from trees that grew on her family's property in Novi for beams and paneling. Mr. Babbitt died 24 years ago.

When her son Louie A. and daughter Mary Ellen entered Eastern Michigan, May Babbitt, who had been taking classes right along, "started again" toward a degree joining them in their studies as, by that time, it was necessary to have four years of college to teach.

All three received their degrees from Eastern the same year. Her son, now a retired U.S. Air Force colonel, received his in zoology. Her daughter, now Mary Ellen Dayton, also is a teacher.

"She's still teaching," Mrs. Babbitt mentions, noting that she now also has a master's degree.

Mrs. Dayton, who now lives in Sacramento, is as interested as Mrs. Babbitt's granddaughter Cheryl Gazlay and her family in the family history.

"Every time she comes to visit we seem to be researching down at the Mormon library," says Mrs. Babbitt, noting that it is an excellent source of information on family histories.

"We're taping her stories," says Mrs. Gazlay. As an example, she cites her grandmother's memories of the first time she ever saw an automobile. "It was one of the first cars made," Cheryl Gazlay recalls Mrs. Babbitt saying, "and it belonged to a Mr. McLaren in Plymouth."

When Mrs. Babbitt joined Northville Woman's Club, she recalled after the meeting Friday at First Presbyterian Church, that it was meeting in the old library building on Wing Street. (The building was moved to Mill Race Historical Village and now is known as the New School Church, after its original purpose.)

When she first joined, membership was limited, partly because of the smaller quarters, Mrs. Babbitt remarks, saying she belonged for five or six years the first time.

Mrs. Babbitt plans to pay a holiday visit to her son and daughter and their families. They are 30 miles apart in California with Colonel Babbitt living in Placerville.

Active octogenarian May Babbitt, who still drives her own car, doesn't plan to stay too long. She will be back in time to celebrate her 89th birthday April 19 in Northville.

Church services at Allen Terrace

Members of First Baptist Church of Northville have begun bringing church services to residents of Allen Terrace twice a month on Sundays.

Housing director Fran Yoakam reports that the church programs are being held the first and last Sundays of the month and are of a non-denominational type with special music. The next is scheduled for December 23 at 9:30 a.m.

Our Lady of Victory Church, the director adds, has been holding services at the senior citizen complex on Monday afternoons.

The Allen Terrace Residents' Council will hold a Christmas party for all residents at 7:30 p.m., December 20. A New Year's Eve party is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m., December 31 in the activities room. Residents are invited to watch 1985 arrive on television.

American Legion donates gifts to VA hospital

Veterans hospitalized at the Ann Arbor VA Medical Center will have a happier holiday, thanks to members of the American Legion Auxiliary (ALA) Post 147 in Northville.

The ALA donated more than 1,000 gifts that ranged from watches and calculators to dolls and teddy bears so that veterans could choose presents for members of their families.

The auxiliary members also gift wrap and mail the packages to the veterans' homes — all free of charge.

The ALA Gift Shop, now in its 31 year at the medical center, was begun because many hospitalized veterans are unable to be home for Christmas, and others, who do return home, are not well enough to shop for gifts.

Funds for the gift shop were raised through the annual Poppy Sale.

Rotary seeks host families

Northville Rotary Club is looking for families interested in hosting a youth from another country in their home for part of the year during 1985.

Ideally, reports Richard Probst, club president, the host families should have junior high or high school age children to help an exchange student feel comfortable and to make the experience more rewarding for all participants.

Youth visiting from abroad are between the ages of 15 and 19 and undergo a selection process that includes interviews to help insure a successful exchange.

The purpose of the Rotary Youth Exchange is to promote international understanding.

Families interested in learning more about the program are invited to contact Probst at 455-1000 or 348-4107.

Salvation Army invites 125 seniors

Nearly 2,000 senior citizens living in the metropolitan Detroit area will be the invited guests of The Salvation Army at Christmas luncheon parties at noon this Friday at 11 Salvation Army centers.

At the Plymouth Corps, which serves the Plymouth, Northville and Canton areas, 125 guests have been invited.

There will be a carol sing following the noon dinner and a visit from Santa Claus, who will distribute gifts, candy and fruit to all attending.

Schoolcraft music program's a showcase

By ANN LAURA SHAW

Schoolcraft College's music department has become a showcase of tradition and talent. Former students now play in metropolitan symphony orchestras.

And the college administration intends to keep it that way. Even with a statewide emphasis on high technology, Schoolcraft is moving to strengthen its fine arts offerings. Enrollments in the community college are climbing.

"We have been committed to retraining in technical areas," said Dr. Conway Jeffress, vice president for instruction. "Our recent emphasis on retraining, on equipment and on technology has brought us to a revitalized and current technical stage."

"Now we are shifting our resource emphasis, including improving and expanding the music program."

Jeffress pointed to physical renovations, including practice rooms, performance areas and new educational programs.

A prominent music faculty member gives Jeffress and President Richard McDowell high marks.

"The present administration is attentive and supportive," said Dr. Bradley Bloom, music instructor since 1968.

Bloom directs the Schoolcraft College Choir, the Madrigal Singers and a vocal jazz ensemble.

Known statewide, Bloom conducts for the Ann Arbor Civic Theater and is music director of the Ann Arbor Cantata Singers. Last March he conducted Benjamin Britten's "War Requiem," with choral groups and the Grand Rapids Symphony Orchestra, in both Grand Rapids and Detroit.

Bloom plans to "continue the standards and high quality of this department — to serve not only those seeking a career, but also those interested in furthering their musical avocation."

"The nature and path of the music department have been well rounded," said Larry Ordowski, assistant dean of liberal arts. "We have reviewed our goals and are making a strong commitment to the liberal and fine arts."

Enrollment in liberal and fine arts at Schoolcraft nearly doubled from 1979 to 1984. "Twenty-five percent of our transfer students (those planning to earn a bachelor's degree at a four-year college) are presently enrolled in the study of the liberal arts, music or art," Ordowski said.

"From the fall of 1982 through fall of 1984, the music department has served 539 regularly enrolled credit students and 200 students in its community education or community service music programs."

Two well-known music faculty members at Schoolcraft are composer-instructor Robert Jones and Donald Morelock, head of the piano department.

Jones was hired in 1972 as composer-in-residence, under a special grant. A specialist in music history and theory, he has written 32 compositions for local performances. Next spring the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra will perform Jones' Concerto for Viola and Orchestra with Paul Doktor as soloist.

Morelock, trained in music performance at the University of Michigan, has studied in Vienna, New York and Aspen. He joined the Schoolcraft faculty in 1967. Under his tutelage, 60 Schoolcraft students have transferred to U-M.

He also has taught scores of piano teachers through the piano teachers certification program. Pioneered at Schoolcraft in 1972, this program is the largest of its kind in any college music department or music school in Michigan, the administration said. Morelock is assisted by adjunct instructors Jean Candlish and Linda Wottring.

Twice Morelock has been awarded the title of "teacher of the year" — in 1981-82 by the Livonia Piano Teachers Forum and last year by the Michigan Music Teachers Association.

In the last two years, 12 students from his preparatory program in piano were invited to the Interlochen Summer Music All-State program for outstanding junior high and high school students. Morelock himself taught at Interlochen last summer.

He started Schoolcraft's college preparatory program for piano in 1976. It now has 80 students, largest in the state. Most students meet for 60 minutes of group work and 30 minutes of private lessons for 36 weeks.

"It was a grass-roots project. We had tremendous community response," he said.

Morelock ran off a list of former Schoolcraft students who have earned musical honors.

Joe Mathia, a Schoolcraft alumnus and former high school honors program member from Livonia, is completing a master of music degree at Southern Methodist University. Mathia has taught at SMU for four years on a $7,000 annual scholarship.

He was the second undergraduate to teach in SMU's nationally acclaimed piano pedagogy program. He has been asked to accompany the Dallas ballet in 1984.

Several former Schoolcraft summer music school students are members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra:

Debra Fayrolan, Livonia Stevenson High graduate, and Paul Wingart, Livonia, cellists; Corbin Wagner, Livonia, horn; Clark Suttle, former Livonian, double bass; and Kirk Toth, former Livonian, violin.

Suttle attended U-M, where he won the Stanley medal, highest award given to an undergraduate.

Other prominent former Schoolcraft music students include:

• Mark Agababian, Livonia — $1,000 first prize from Oakway Symphony Orchestra's young artists competition. He currently is a senior at U-M.

• Alexander Duke, Livonia — highest piano award from the Michigan Music Teachers Association; full scholarship for his junior and senior years at Michigan State University; piano soloist with University Orchestra at MSU.

• Daniel Horn, Livonia — doctoral candidate in piano performance at the Juilliard School of Music; currently on the faculty at Wheaton College.

Taking its commuter-college role seriously, Schoolcraft's music department looks for ways to serve "non-traditional" students.

"We hadn't added new programs in a while," said Midge Ellis, coordinator of special events. "We asked ourselves if we were meeting the needs of area high school students."

Pointing to the decline in some high school music programs, Ellis said the faculty visited schools to see if the college could fill voids. "They concluded they could provide programs not available to precollegiate musicians."

This winter, the college offers high school students six programs which they may either audit or take for college credit.

Radar detectors taken

...In the Township

A radar detector valued at $100 was stolen from a 1982 Toyota Celica parked at a Northville Road restaurant sometime between 8 and 8:30 p.m. December 6, township police report.

According to police, the driver's door window was smashed to gain access to the vehicle. Damage was estimated at $100.

In a similar incident, unknown subject(s) stole a radar detector valued at $250 from a 1982 Chevrolet Camaro parked at a Seven Mile restaurant sometime between 9:45 and 10:30 p.m. December 6, township police report.

Police at the scene noted the subject(s) smashed the driver's door window to gain entry to the vehicle. Damage was estimated at $300. There are no suspects at this time.

In the City...

A radar detection device was reported stolen from the front of a car parked in a South Rogers Street driveway between 2 and 6 a.m. Sunday, city police reported. The device was valued at $175, and is one of several stolen in the city in recent weeks.

Racing skis and equipment together valued at $435 were stolen from the garage of a home on Hill Street, but the date and time of the theft are unclear — the gear was stolen between September 1 and last Wednesday. The white and grey skis, bindings and poles belonged to a Northville resident who is a friend of the homeowner.

...From State Police

The driver of a semi truck suffered minor injuries when he jackknifed the rig while trying to avoid a collision on I-96 at Novi Road December 3, state police reported.

The 39-year-old Detroit man told police he was driving his Ford Motor Company-owned tractor trailer unit eastbound in the right lane at about 8 p.m. when a car came off the entrance ramp and cut in front of the truck.

The driver applied the brakes and tried to change lanes to avoid hitting the car, but lost control of the loaded truck, striking the median wall. The truck rebounded off the wall and came to a halt, jackknifed, on the south (right) shoulder of the road.

He told police he did not have time to take a license plate number and could not identify the vehicle that cut him off, leading to the accident. No citations were issued. The driver refused a police offer of medical treatment, deciding to seek his own treatment for the minor injury.

Ford ducks hit with darts sending a DNR car into the area.

He said the shooting is illegal by state hunting statutes, and probably by federal ones also.

"My guess is that it is someone with a blow gun. They are quite long and should be easy to identify," he commented.

"There is a season for duck hunting," he explained, "but there are regulations against hunting with single projectiles."

He checked and confirmed that the area of the Ford plant in the city is closed to all hunting by law.

Johnson added that the shooter could be someone seeking a duck holiday dinner but, more likely, it sounded like an older teenager with a blow gun.

Our Opinions

Prison limits needed

It seems inevitable that the state is going to take over the Detroit House of Correction and use it as a prison. We don't like the idea, primarily because we believe this area already does far more than its share in accommodating state institutions of all kinds. We had hopes that when county prisoners were transferred to the new jail, DeHoCo would be turned over to the private sector.

But we must admit there is a good argument for a state takeover of DeHoCo. Far better that violent criminals be locked up at DeHoCo, unsavory as that idea is, than that they be cut loose on the populace. There is a terrible prison overcrowding problem in the state and if using DeHoCo can help address the need for cells, then it is plainly irresponsible to obstruct its use. A state-run DeHoCo will likely experience far fewer escapes than has been the experience under Detroit and Wayne County operation. And using DeHoCo is a substantially more palatable idea than the earlier proposal to convert Plymouth Center — the DeHoCo property already is a prison and continued use for that purpose at least does not expand the number of corrections facilities in the area.

Still, we should not simply stand by and accept whatever the state wants to do by way of establishing institutions here. Renovation to house as many as 1,000 prisoners at DeHoCo as an answer to the immediate crisis may be necessary. Construction of a second 550-bed permanent regional prison within a quarter mile of the one being built, as a one-for-one exchange of a state prison for the DeHoCo use, probably represents an improvement over the current situation. But simultaneous use of the renovated "emergency" housing and the new regional prison should not be allowed. The department of corrections once told us Phoenix was a temporary facility, but now it is to be operated concurrently with the under-construction Scott Regional Prison next door. When the corrections department seeks funding for a regional prison on DeHoCo property, local legislators should get assurances that the temporary use of the renovated buildings will cease by a specified date.

Also important is that we accept nothing more than the one-for-one prison exchange — Wayne County and Detroit stop using DeHoCo and the state picks up one prison. Additional prison uses are totally unacceptable and should be fought by all available means. Moreover, there should be a price paid in exchange for acquiescence on the DeHoCo conversion. The sale of Plymouth Center properties to private interests should be a precondition to acceptance of state corrections use at DeHoCo. Similarly, before a permanent prison is accepted on DeHoCo property, we want to see any unused portion of the facility placed back on the tax rolls.

Finally, state officials should not be allowed to forget how the present emergency came about. The prison overcrowding act that has slashed two years off the sentences of every prisoner in the state system was supposed to be a temporary solution to the overcrowding problem when it was enacted in 1980. It was intended to prevent court takeover of the system while new prisons were built. In the past four years, only the Northville-Plymouth area of Southeastern Michigan has supported the long-term solution of building regional prisons. We did not ask that prisons be built here, but the township did cooperate in finding a mutually-acceptable site for the Scott prison at Beck and Five Mile. That is more cooperation than the department has received in other parts of the state, most notably Detroit and Oakland County, neither of which has a single designated regional prison site to date.

The present "emergency" is simply the same emergency that existed four years ago, amplified by the fact that nothing has been done to solve it. The only change is that William Lucas and Coleman Young have been making noise recently and the Detroit mayor has a white elephant in our region that he'd like to sell to the state. Residents of this area have attempted to be understanding of the need for added prison space — they should not be punished for their efforts by having more prisons thrust into the community during a contrived crisis.

was the DNR's man on the point during the last-minute charge to obtain EPA approval. Now he's been assigned to try to pump life back into the pale shadow of the former project.

There's no question that it's worth the effort. Without expanded sewer capacity, further development of the region is going to come to a screeching halt, and soon. With most of the participating communities blaming the DNR for the failure to obtain funding, assigning Hinshon to make it right looks something like an apology. Splitting the project into two parts (at DNR insistence) was a major tactical error — our area was thrown into a project that required the utmost cooperation from Detroit and Wayne County. That means fighting a mindset that says development of western Wayne and Oakland counties is "urban sprawl" and therefore undesirable. Getting the two groups to work together for their mutual benefit is probably Hinshon's most monumental task. If he can pull it off, the massive sewer improvement project may be resurrected.

Now comes word from Wayne County and state Department of Natural Resources that the northern segment has been placed in intensive care — the DNR's Richard Hinshon has been assigned temporarily to the county, in hopes of reviving the project. Hinshon

Off the record

Legislature ought to be belted

Cars and politics. If one had to describe my specialties, that would be it. Weekly newspaper reporters have to cover a broad range of topics, but those are the ones I enjoy most and do best. So you'd think I'd be delighted when the chance presents itself to write about both at the same time. Wrong. When the politicians start messing about with automobiles, it usually gives me a bellyache.

Most recent case in point: Michigan's mandatory seat belt law, or rather, the lack thereof. I advocated such a law long before it became a cause celebre. Disappointment is too weak a word for what I think of recent events in Lansing. Disgust is more like it. First, the state senate chickened out last spring. It passed a belt law all right, but it shouldn't have bothered. The law included a provision that allowed anyone who simply signed a form at the secretary of state office to opt out — if you don't like belts, the law won't apply to you. But the senate couldn't pass even this toothless version; it left approval up to the voters.

The house, when it finally got around to doing something with the bill, fixed it up quite a bit. The referendum clause fell out, as did the automatic opt-out. The final version could have been stronger — it applied only to front seat occupants, assessed no penalty for the first 90 days, then hiked the fine in steps to $10 and then $25, and no violation points were to be assessed against the driving record. It was to be enforced only in conjunction with other traffic stops, thus removing the specter of police officers using the belt law as "probable cause" to shake down anyone who just didn't look right.

So what happened when this bill went to the floor? First, legislators forgot to show up for the vote. Some went to conferences out of state, others took extended vacations, still others simply didn't make it to work that day. When house leaders could finally look around and count the 56 needed votes, five bailed out. They were from Flint, where General Motors is a big property owner. GM says its tax assessment is too high and is appealing it. The five representatives decided that, since GM wants the seat belt bill, they had a perfect gun to hold up and demand that the tax appeal be dropped. Public servants my foot.

Next day, the Flint lawmakers' ruffled feathers had been smoothed by an agreement to negotiate the tax assessment with mediation supplied by the governor's office. But guess what? Nine lawmakers didn't show up and the vote count was four short. Plurality yes, but not a majority.

We'll probably get a seat belt law early in the next session. The issue is too important to the auto industry to let it go — without a belt law here and in other states totaling 2/3 of the U.S. population, we're going to get passive restraints. Those are air bags or automatic belts. Cars and politics again. Pass the Tums.

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

Dirty Harry, aka Clint Eastwood, was just about to waste some lowlife slime when all of a sudden it happened.

Zap!

And right before my very eyes, Dirty Harry disappeared and a pair of lady cops named Cagney and Lacy were commiserating about the plight of being female law enforcement officers.

I knew immediately what had happened. My wife had finally figured out how to operate the remote control gadget on the television set.

And she was standing somewhere behind my back with the gadget pointed at the channel selector dial.

In the hands of the wrong person, these remote control gadgets can be insidious devices. Let's say you're watching a football game, for example, when all of a sudden — zap — and some idiot cooking show appears on the boob tube.

What we're talking about here is a potentially serious sociological phenomenon. If social scientists think the divorce rate is high now, wait a few years until everyone has one.

With the marketing people in the television industry being a fairly competent, but opportunistic, bunch, I suspect it's only a matter of time before they start promoting dual remote control gadgets — one marked "His" and another marked "Hers."

Chaos will reign in homes across the country. The traditional institution of marriage as it is known today will cease to exist.

Clearly, it's an issue that deserves priority consideration from the Consumer Protection Agency. If the federal government can require the tobacco industry to place warnings on cigarette packages and advertising, it ought to be able to require some sort of similar warning on remote control devices for television sets.

Something like: "Warning: Scientific studies have revealed that remote control television devices can be hazardous to domestic tranquility."

Imagine. You're watching the Red Wings versus the North Stars. Bud Lynch describes the action: "Yzerman skates in on the wing, he shoots, he — zap — garnishes the soufflé with a sprig of holly."

Pursell says businesses should pay for project

Second District U.S. Congressman Carl Pursell (R-Ann Arbor) has suggested that private beneficiaries of public improvements should help pay the costs of additional services, citing as a specific example the downtown Detroit "People Mover" being built by SEMTA.

Pursell, whose views were opposed by businesses adjoining the People Mover, said additional services which maximize the growth, profit and quality of private enterprise are worthwhile costs and should be shared by business and government.

Pursell said an immediate application of this "beneficiary" principle should be the projected cost increases of the People Mover.

"Government spending and deficits must be reduced to make the U.S. and Michigan more competitive and financially solvent," Pursell said. "Real economic growth can only be achieved with private investment as a commitment to the economic and competitive vitality of our communities."

"Every community's vitality is the sum of its economic parts, and the vitality of our state is the sum of all its communities. Just as the strength of our communities derives from their economic growth, the strength of Michigan derives from healthy local economies.

"The private/public sector partnership I'm suggesting would maximize economic growth while reducing federal deficits and their upward pressure on interest rates," he said.

"The 'People Mover' is the most visible current example," he continued, "but the principle should be applied to many future public improvements. The private/local commitment I envision could take the form of a special assessment district in the area receiving the benefits or voluntary financial participation by businesses in the area."

Pursell is a key Michigan member of the House Appropriation Committee and a member of the Transportation Appropriations subcommittee. He suggested the beneficiary fee approach in recent meetings with officials of SEMTA and the U.S. Mass Transportation Administration (UMTA).

"The 'People Mover' is a project with enormous potential economic benefit for Detroit and all of Southeast Michigan," Pursell said. "The federal and state governments have made a very substantial investment to realize that potential."

Geake's voter registration bill sent to governor

State Senator Robert Geake (R-Northville) said last week he was satisfied that one of his bills, allowing for cleanup of voter registration lists, has passed both the Senate (23-8) and the House (64-31) and has been sent to the Governor's desk for signature.

The bill, S.B. 86, which will take effect immediately after it is signed, allows for the names of inactive voters to be purged from the active voter registration list after five years without voting. It requires, however, that the voter be notified by the clerk and given 30 days in order to request reinstatement. In addition, the bill increases the length of time a person could be considered registered without voting, from four years to five.

"I couldn't be more pleased," Geake said. "My bill had strong bipartisan and bicameral support, with the leadership of all four caucuses voting for it. We also had conceptual approval from the Secretary of State's office and endorsements from organizations like the Michigan Clerks and Townships Associations, and numerous jury commissions."

Geake said he is confident the governor will sign the measure. "This is a compromise bill that responds to both the needs of the voters and elections officials. I am sure that it will be a major first step in helping to make our elections process more efficient and accurate. Governor Blanchard, I am certain, will see the strong merit in this legislation."

Omnicom fee increase rejected in Plymouth

By GARY CATES

While township and city officials' review of a cable television rate increase request is still at least a month away, in Plymouth Omnicom's request is already making waves.

Officials in Plymouth Township and the City of Plymouth are asking themselves whether Omnicom (the firm they, Canton and Northville city and township have awarded an exclusive service contract) is making or losing money as they debate the firm's request for a $2 rate increase, pushing the basic cable rate to $9.95 a month.

In separate meetings last week, Plymouth City Commissioners were told the company is "profitable" while Plymouth Township officials were told it is losing money (Northville officials are expecting audit reports to come in next month).

Omnicom's request came shortly after the approval of federal legislation allowing cable companies to increase their rates by five percent without local approval.

The legislation is designed to phase out local government rate control over two years while allowing the companies the five percent increase both years. After that, pricing decisions will be left to the company and marketplace.

"Our auditors have given us enough material to realize that Omnicom is a profitable organization," said Plymouth City Manager Henry Graper. "We do not feel that anything over the five percent increase is justifiable."

City of Plymouth commissioners followed Graper's advice and denied the company's request.

The commission's resolution cited several reasons — lack of a "certified audit" for Omnicom and failure to provide "reliable and dependable use" of the local government and education channels.

"The proposed rate increase could be viewed in light of the substantial historical investment and losses of the company," said Mark Chmielewski of Plante & Moran, Plymouth Township's auditing firm.

"In this context, the incremental revenue expected to result from the proposed rate increase is a relatively modest number," he said. But he didn't stop there.

"Besides the criteria of fair and reasonable rates or of fair return on investment ... the criterion of compliance with the cable ordinance is another major issue that the (Plymouth Township) board may wish to consider in its review of the proposed cable rates increase."

Plymouth Township trustees decided to take time to digest the information and receive advice on what they can take into consideration when ruling on the rate request. They will reconsider the request next Tuesday.

At the heart of the issue when Northville officials review the request will be the firm's account of its finances. Auditor Chmielewski reported Omnicom had sustained continued losses since the start of operations. Starting with a $1.3 million loss in 1979-1980, he losses fell to $500,000 in 1983.

Although Chmielewski raises a question over the method for calculating depreciation, he said, "The aggregate losses of the company exceed the entire amount of depreciation expense recorded through 1983."

"Hence, the question of appropriate depreciable lives (life of invested equipment) ... could not alone eliminate the company's historical losses."

"There has been a substantial negative return on investment though 1983," he concluded.

Show's best

This copper-eyed white male Persian cat, affectionally known as "Specs" to owner Sammi Martin but officially "Marsami's Gt. Expectations," received highest ratings at the Cat Fancier's Show last Saturday at the Community Building. The one-year old feline doesn't seem impressed at capturing the prize spot at the two-day show, but his owner was delighted. Cats were judged in groups of 10 by four different judges. ## Small motel has friendly reputation

By DIC DOUMANIAN

Gary and Del Papin live in a rather unusual setting.

The couple's home has 16 bedrooms, most of which can be rented out by friends of the family or complete strangers. But all guests are treated the same — with care, warmth and friendliness — just like they were family.

For the past 20 years, the Papins have owned and operated the Huron Valley Motel in the Village of Milford. The 13-room motel also includes a roomy living area for the Papins.

"We've got the best of two worlds," said Del. Gary agrees. "It's a good living and it is a nice house. Where else can you make a living and have a nice house all in one place?"

The Huron Valley Motel, located at 640 North Milford Road, opened in 1961 under the guidance of Bob and Dorothy Gamble. In 1964, the Papins bought what was then a 10-room motel. They have been owners ever since.

The Huron Valley Motel has since been expanded to 13 rooms. The Papins have also added onto the three-bedroom living area they call home. But with their two children having grown up and moved away from home some time ago, the Papins find ways to keep their home full.

The couple has opened their home more than once to people in need. They have countless stories of times they have taken in people who needed a room when the motel was filled.

The motel is unique in many ways. Nowhere in the area is there a large hotel or motel to compete with, so motel rooms are at a premium in the area. The rates are very reasonable, ranging from approximately $29 to $40 per night. And the Papins take every precaution to insure that guests at their motel have a pleasant stay.

The rooms are small but clean and comfortable, with fresh flowers, quilted bedspreads and refrigerators. The Papins are constantly working on the rooms — wallpapering, cleaning and improving each one to keep them maintained.

"It's the little things that help," said Gary. "We're constantly maintaining; we keep it up all the time."

Gary explained that the motel is always near capacity in the spring, summer and fall, and while business falls off some during the winter, it is still enough "to pay the bills."

Besides travelers and people on vacation, the motel is a staying spot for skiers during the winter, polo players in the spring and summer, salespeople, business types in town for work purposes, families moving in or out of town, construction workers, and couples who just want to get away for a night.

"We have a lot of regulars who keep coming back," Del said. "Often we get letters from people who have stayed here saying how much they enjoyed it. A lot of people stay here for weddings that are in town. Couples stay here after their wedding, then they come

Auto Club opens Cobo convention office

To aid the increasing number of business and organizations that choose the metropolitan Detroit area as a convention site, the Automobile Club of Michigan has opened a Convention Services Center in Cobo Hall.

"We have an excellent location on the main floor of Cobo Hall and the facility is ideally suited to handle convention needs," stated Chuck Lentz, the Auto Club's travel, sales and promotion manager.

"We can assist out-of-town visitors in making hotel, airline and car rental reservations, as well as help area businesses set up meetings or conventions in other cities," he said.

The center is fully automated and uses the United Airlines Apollo Computer System which enables the facility to offer complete domestic and international flight schedules and space availability information.

In addition, persons who purchase tickets through the center or any other Auto Club facility will be covered with $100,000 trip/travel protection insurance at no cost. The center is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The Auto Club is the state's largest travel agency.

Experts issue warning on credit card abuse

Police officials and other law enforcement experts have spent years urging people to kick the habit of carrying around large sums of cash, because there is nothing more tempting to an itchy-fingered thief than the sight of a bulging wallet or a businessman pulling out his money clip and flashing a stack of $50 and $100 bills.

Today, credit cards — also known as "plastic money" — are used to pay department store bills, to cover a night out on the town, to put gas in automobiles and, especially, to buy all types of practical and exotic items during the holiday season.

But now comes word from the Dictograph Security Information Bureau that there are also problems — big, big problems — with this alternative. Credit card fraud and counterfeiting have become profitable businesses in this country, with loss estimates from fraud alone having tripled in the last five years and now totaling nearly $2 billion annually.

And, according to reports, these plastic money rackets have become so profitable that organized crime has begun to claim a larger chunk of the action.

"There is no way to guarantee that you will never become the victim of a credit card fraud scheme," explained Bill Mabey, a former police chief and currently director of the Dictograph Security Information Bureau.

Dictograph Security Systems of New Jersey is one of the world's leading residential security specialists.

"Just as high-quality locks, good lighting and burglar alarm system are always cited as three important steps toward better residential security," Mabey said, "there are certain pointers that can be followed to make yourself a less likely target of this growing credit card crime phenomenon, particularly during the holiday season."

"Use common sense," he said. "You wouldn't give a total stranger a signed check without writing in a dollar amount, so why sign a credit card receipt blindly, without even taking a moment to study the entered total and the arithmetic? Yet, that's precisely what many people do, especially when they feel rushed in a holiday shopping line."

He recommends that when a credit card bill arrives, it is important to check each notation item by item, comparing each entry to corresponding sales receipts.

In addition, more and more people are insisting that salespeople turn over the credit card, a receipt and carbon paper after a transaction.

"That's an excellent idea," Mabey said. "Take a moment to rip up the carbon paper, bit by bit, and do the same with all other transaction slips that were discarded due to errors. This way, a credit card thief can't get hold of your card number and signature style."

It is also not advisable to carry around a wallet jam-packed with credit cards, half of which are never used and most likely won't be used in the future.

"If you lose or misplace this type of inactive credit card, it could take weeks before you noticed," Mabey said. "In the meantime, credit card criminals could translate those weeks into a long list of holiday purchases that will be billed to you."

Dictograph suggests that credit card customers write down the account numbers of all cards and keep this information in a safe place. Should credit cards be lost, misplaced or stolen, they ought to be cancelled immediately.

"Don't believe callers who claim they found your missing wallet and credit cards and are returning them by mail in the next day or two," Mabey emphasized. "In that short time, your credit cards could mean a shopping bonanza for a criminal. The bottom line with credit cards," he concluded, "is that they are convenient and safe, as long as certain precautionary measures are taken to prevent their abuse. And, once again, be sure to be particularly careful during this holiday season."

Rushlow is accepting used clothing—clean and in good condition—to be sold on consignment. She is also bringing in more new clothing at bargain prices.

New store hours are 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Second Hand Rose Resale Shop is located at 10561 E. Grand River, Brighton, next to Lakeview Skateland. For information on consignments call 227-4016.

GREEN OAK AUTO. located at 12676 Ten Mile, east of Rushton, has expanded its services. Owner Dennis DuBuc said he has landed several large accounts from Joseph Lamb of Detroit and Cars and Concepts in Green Oak.

The shop is doing special work on machine parts for Joseph Lamb, painting large engine components for display purposes. "We turn parts into pieces of jewelry," DuBuc said.

Cars and Concepts has passed special production painting jobs on to Green Oak Auto, DuBuc said. The special work is performed in a 50-foot by 44-foot expansion to the original building.

DuBuc said he is in the process of securing approval to construct a new 10,000 square foot building on Rushton Road to handle Green Oak's overflow. In addition to special projects, Green Oak Auto specializes in auto body shop work and auto maintenance. The two-year-old business employs nine people.

Single digit state jobless rate projected

Continuing recovery in the Michigan economy will bring the state's unemployment rate below 10 percent by the end of 1985, the first time in more than five years that the jobless figure had dipped into single digits.

That prediction came from University of Michigan economists at the 32nd annual Conference on the Economic Outlook.

Prepared by Joan Crary and Saul Hymans, the outlook for 1985-86 calls for total employment to grow by a bit more than 2.5 percent per year for each of the next two years.

"This is a slower pace than the 4.4 percent growth that we experienced in 1984, but is still well ahead of the rate of growth which we are predicting for the labor force," Crary said.

"Consequently, the unemployment rate is forecast to decline from 11.2 percent for 1984, to 10.3 percent for 1985 and to 9.6 percent in 1986, which will mark the first time the unemployment rate has dropped below 10 percent on an annual basis since 1979."

With the more modest increases in employment, personal income is forecast to grow about 8 percent for each of the next two years — down from the 9.7 percent increase for 1984.

The inflation rate, forecast to remain constant at 3.5 percent for 1985, is projected to rise to 5.2 percent for 1986 as national markets begin to tighten.

"The result of our projected increases in income and our inflation projections," Crary said, "is a steadily declining rate of growth of consumer purchasing power from 6.5 percent in 1984 to 4.5 percent in 1985 and 2.9 percent for 1986."

However, she added, "even with more modest increases in real disposable income over the next two years, we are forecasting that consumer purchasing power for 1986 will finally exceed the level of 1978, which was the last year to show an increase before the recession."

The forecast projects increases of little more than 3 percent for manufac-

Tax tips for small business

For business owners or the self-employed, year-end tax planning calls for the conventional strategy: Where possible, postpone November and December income until after January 1, 1985, then move deductible expenses planned for 1985 into the 1984 tax year. Now, some new wrinkles have been added by the Deficit Reduction Act of 1984.

Small business owners need to put a year-end tax plan into action, says the Michigan Association of CPAs, to make the most of planning opportunities. Accelerating deductible expenses and postponing income gives you added funds to invest. That is sound strategy that only collapses if your 1985 income rises sharply. But if your business income remains stable, it's best to postpone income and accelerate deductions — especially since tax rates are expected to remain about the same in 1985.

How do you apply this strategy of juggling? To postpone income, you may be able to delay December billings. To speed up deductible expenses, purchase equipment now that you've been planning for the future. Maybe a word processor you have wanted could be purchased before January 1. Equipment bought in December brings the same depreciation deductions as equipment bought last January. You may also be able to get an investment tax credit on these capital expenditures.

Or you may choose to "direct expense" such a capital item, which means you can deduct the full cost of the equipment (up to $7,500) in a single year. This precludes using the five-year depreciation deduction and investment tax credit, however. Taking that tax savings now, rather than after January 1, is like giving yourself an interest-free loan.

In casting about for deductible expenses you can shift into 1984, don't overlook state and local income and property taxes.

Complicating the conventional wisdom of year-end tax planning is a bevy of new rules imposed by the Deficit Reduction Act of 1984. For instance, one new rule prevents the popular practice used by companies under the accrual method of accounting from taking a deduction in 1984 for an expense that will not be paid until 1985. If you plan to repair a business property in 1985, you may no longer take a deduction in 1984 based on a cost estimate of a 1985 bill. You must spend the money in 1984 to deduct it in the current tax year.

Another important change concerns contributions to Keogh plans. Those retirement savings accounts which feature a tax deferral until age 59½ have new contribution limits. For 1984, you can contribute up to 25 percent of your earned income, but not more than $30,000. That's up from 1983 levels of $15,000 or 15 percent. Those who wish to start Keogh accounts must do so before the end of the year. Contributions to established Keoghs can be made until your tax filing deadline.

These changes represent only a sampling of new tax provisions that affect your year-end tax planning. You may want to consult your tax advisor on actions you might take before January 1.

back a year later."

Owning and operating a motel does have its negative points.

"It's kind of a tough business at night," stated Gary, who is 62. "People come in at two, three, four o'clock in the morning, and even with the no vacancy sign, they knock and say they want a room."

"Sometimes it's like Grand Central Station; we don't have that much privacy," added Del, who is 55.

"But we are pretty lucky we don't have the problems like they do at motels around Detroit," continued Gary. "The type of clientele we cater to is responsible for it, too," said Del.

The idea of retiring from this seven-day a week, 24-hours per day job has crossed the Papins' minds more than once.

"We keep talking about selling it," explained Del, "but each year we say next year."

The Papins do manage to get away more often than they have in the past, spending time traveling in their camper or at their condominium in Florida.

"We're lucky to have such excellent people who come in and run it while we take a vacation," said Gary.

So like Del said, the Papins do appear to have the best of two worlds. Adds Del, "Besides, we're together all the time." Just like a family should be.

"I'm in the business of telling jokes, but sometimes jokes are not enough..."

SPECIAL for families in crisis, the unemployed, the alcoholic, the homeless, the elderly and others facing difficult times. Millions of these people will receive a helping hand from The Salvation Army this Christmas season. Shut-ins in nursing homes and hospitals will be visited by its League of Mercy. Those who have no family celebration will attend will have holiday meals at Salvation Army centers. Families in need will receive baskets of food, clothing and toys for the children. Prison inmates will be able to send gifts to their children with the help of the Army's special Toy Lift Programs.

And throughout the year, The Salvation Army will meet the day to day needs of many with its corps community centers, day care centers, senior citizens residences, feeding programs, shelters, rehabilitation centers and other facilities which number more than 11,000 nationwide.

This wonderful ministry needs your support in order to flourish. Won't you help these Christian soldiers in their work by tossing a generous contribution into a Salvation Army kettle or sending a check to your local Salvation Army? Your gift to The Salvation Army will keep the Christmas spirit of sharing alive throughout the new year.

IF YOU DON'T READ THIS, YOU'D BETTER HOPE SOMEONE ELSE DOES.

Suppose someone sitting across from you at lunch was having a heart attack. Would you know what to do?

If you, or someone else, didn't act quickly, that person might die. And how can you act quickly, if you don't know what to do?

That's why the Red Cross offers CPR and First Aid courses that teach you what to do in an emergency.

Hoppings mark 60 years

Jamestown Circle residents Louis and Helen Hopping celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary November 29 with a family dinner at Genitti's Hole-in-the-Wall.

The Hoppings, who have lived in King's Mill 12 years, were married November 27, 1924.

Louis, who continues to work as a magistrate of the 35th District Court, and Helen, who operates a catering service, met while attending the University of Illinois.

Louis is a graduate of George Washington University Law School and holds an honorary doctorate from the Bar Association in Venezuela.

He has been an officer in the Inter-American Bar Association, International President of Civitan, a trustee of the Michigan Horticultural Society and legal advisor and vice president for the Detroit Amateur Baseball Federation.

He spent eight years in Washington, D.C., and wrote a bill which became our present re-apportionment law and proposed a bill for the creation of the Pan-American highway.

In 1931, he and his wife and four children returned to Detroit, where he served as an assistant U.S. Attorney from 1931-45.

Helen Hopping learned the millinery trade at Marshall Field's and was a former buyer in millinery and children's wear when the family lived in one of the earliest co-ops in the country in Georgetown.

After moving back to Detroit, Helen joined the Detroit Review Club, serving as its president and retaining a 50-year membership.

The couple has farmed a two-acre lot in Plymouth for more than 35 years. The two gardens on the lot contain fruit trees, grape arbors and raspberry bushes and a host of vegetables.

Louis Hopping has contributed to a family genealogy dating back to the 11th century and Helen has a cook book to her credit.

Judge Davis stars at Highland Lakes Club program

By JEANDAY

This is the partying month for many local organizations with many planning Christmas meetings in the holiday spirit.

Highland Lakes Women's Club found its annual Christmas luncheon a much-anticipated event last week.

"Practically everybody is coming," Izma Chmiel reported earlier, backing up the statement with the statistics that the committee had 54 reservations from the membership of 60 — "and three of the 60 are out of state."

The popularity of the luncheon, which was held last Thursday in Highland House, the clubhouse of the condominiums, also attests to the success of the club. Mrs. Chmiel remembered that in the beginning years the luncheon was a table at a restaurant with five or eight members attending. This year, the club felt its party was too large for most restaurants and opted to have it catered by B and B Catering, run by Schoolcraft College culinary arts staffer Dick Benson.

One reason for the sellout, Mrs. Chmiel added, was that Judge Dunbar Davis, who will retire as 35th District Judge the end of this year, consented to recite poetry. When Mrs. Chmiel read that reading poetry aloud was one of the judge's favorite pastimes, she invited him to do so at the Christmas program — and he willingly consented.

The chairman also related that the decorations and favors were unusual — she had spent most of the summer at her cottage creating miniature grapewreaths that were decorated with red ribbons and holly for favors. She also made the grapebasket centerpieces. She was assisted in the wreath-making and decorating by Ruth Beagan.

Highland Lakes Women's Club announced that it has made donations to Fish, Civic Concern and the Goodfellows this year. It also supplied the clubhouse with three Christmas wreaths as holiday decorations.

Historical Society members to gather December 14

Red invitations have been mailed to all Northville

Historical Society members inviting them to the annual Christmas evening at the Yerkes House in Mill Race Historical Village. This is one of the few times that it is possible to attend a social event in the handsome Victorian house next to the gazebo.

Chairman Sonja Lane says that the only admission requirement is an hors d'oeuvre to share. The get-together begins at 8 p.m., and she is hoping members linger to enjoy the candle lit atmosphere. No reservations are necessary. Prospective members also are welcome and may call Mrs. Lane for more information at 348-0628.

She adds that the society has decided to hold its popular progressive dinner only on alternate years. Instead of the dinner, which was a sellout last March, a dinner dance is being planned for 1985.

She carried an all white cascade bouquet with English ivy.

Bridal attendants were Suzanne McCurdy, Mrs. Cindy McCurdy Evers, Pam Gerwatowski, Diane Pitak, Mrs. Suzie Evans Johnson and Mrs. Paula Hodge Gloviak.

The bride's niece Keri Evers and the bridegroom's niece Lori Gerwatowski were flower girls.

Groomsmen were Randy Gerwatowski, Jerry Gerwatowski, Paul Lopez, Don Kaczmarek, Matt McCracy and Chet Evers. The bride's nephew Ryan Evers was ring bearer.

Nedrow-Iverson vows recited

Kristy Ann Iverson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Per V. Iverson of 536 Orchard Drive, became the bride of Brian Thomas Nedrow of Farmington Hills in a double-ring service October 6 at First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

The couple had met while attending Michigan Technological University. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nedrow of Farmington Hills.

Dr. Lawrence Chamberlain, senior pastor of the church, officiated at the 6 p.m. ceremony which included the reading of "The Wedding Basket Story" which was written for the couple by the bridegroom's godmother. It was read by Dr. Chamberlain, who also sang "The Lord's Prayer," after the couple lit the symbolic unity candle at the altar.

Soloist John Merrifield sang "Sunrise

Sunset" and "The Wedding Song."

The bride's Victorian style gown was designed with a lace bodice with satin and lace sleeves. The lace was embroidered with seed pearls. A 12-inch scalloped band of satin edged the hem of the gown which extended into a chapel train.

A matching lace cap held the bridal veil of illusion. Pearls adorned the cap and edged the veil.

The bride's cascade bouquet of silk flowers and ivy and also the silk crescent-shaped bouquets of pink roses and burgundy carnations carried by her attendants were made by the bride and her mother.

Susan McAllister of South Lyon was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Stacy Stuart of Northville and Julie Nedrow of Farmington Hills. All the bridal attendants wore frost pink floor-length taffeta gowns styled with off the shoulder puff sleeves.

Robert Tacy of Wixom was best man. Ushers were Christopher Lindberg of Dearborn, Steven Chupinsky of Farmington Hills, David and Douglas Iverson of Northville.

A reception for 160 guests followed at Glen Oaks Golf Club in Farmington Hills. In addition to area guests, there were out of towners from Arizona, Texas, Florida, New York and Washington. A special guest was the bride's 92 year old great grandmother, Mrs. Martin Sage of Ecorse.

After a wedding trip to Nassau, the newlyweds are living in Walled Lake. The bride is a 1980 graduate of Northville High. The bridegroom is a graduate of North Farmington High School. Both are graduates of Michigan Technological University.

The bride is employed at Gehring Corporation in Farmington Hills while her husband is employed with Nedrow Refractories Company.

The Northville Record

New tank coach has the title tools

By B.J. MARTIN

With a bumper crop of returning talent, Northville's varsity swimmers just may be the team to beat in the Western Lakes Activities Association Western Division.

The Mustangs sport a new head coach with an old last name. Derek Gans, son of men's varsity soccer coach Dr. Marvin Gans, has inherited the reins from the departed Pete Talbot.

Talbot's crew locked up a division title last season. And while teams like Livonia Churchill and others are expected to field tough teams, Northville again has a good shot at repeating.

"We've got some excellent people returning," says the younger Gans, a Northville alumnus, "and a lot of depth. We'll be able to fill any event."

Gans figures Livonia Stevenson is the odds-on favorite for a conference title, with the Spartans already harvesting some transfers from Livonia Bentley. But the Mustangs will have plenty going for them as well, and may surprise plenty of people.

Leading the crop of seniors is a pair of divers, Jeff Pawloski and Joel Grasley. Both are expected to go 1-2 in most meets this season. Grasley also gives Northville some speed in the 50 freestyle.

Tom Valade has looked strong in sprint freestyle and could see some time in distance free. Drew Paredes returns as a freestyle sprinter, as does senior classmate Ron Johnston. Johnston will concentrate on freestyle this year, with occasional forays into butterfly. Rounding out the team's roster of seniors is John Gass, a speedy stroker in distance free, butterfly or breast.

From the junior class, versatile Doug Buell gives the Mustangs plenty of power in either freestyle, individual medley or butterfly. Classmate Dave Wayne has similar flexibility, and will be seen in individual medley most of all. Wayne, Johnston and backstroke specialist Jeff Bainbridge were selected to tri-captain the Mustang tankers.

Newcomer Eric Leiendecker has come out of nowhere to emerge as the team's most promising breast stroker. "He's a natural breast stroker," Gans observes. "He doesn't have much experience, but he could help us a lot in that event."

Darius Mikalonis is another versatile-type junior, perhaps the Mustangs' best all-around swimmer. Mikalonis has proven scoring ability in I.M., fly, free and back. Classmate Randy Holloway also returns from last year's team, where he was a solid performer in backstroke and freestyle sprints.

Ed Valentini and Dave Ziegler will give the Mustangs good depth in freestyle, and will likely see plenty of relay work.

There aren't many sophomores, but there are promising ones. Jeff Buell, Doug's younger brother, will appear in butterfly. Chris Sellen is also a younger brother of a Northville swim standout — in this case, NHS grad Holly Sellen — and will be a contributor in freestyle events. Classmate Luke Kakogeorgio has impressed Gans with some versatility, swimming "everything but backstroke."

Gans will have an excellent group of freshmen to work with. Paul Stoecklin may even garner some firsts in backstroke, and Jason Hill will likely be the team's number-two distance man.

Chris Shaw and Jeff Gursky have distinguished themselves as hard workers in practice, and look to become valuable contributors. Steve Guldberg in breast stroke, Mike Fortenberry in back and Mike Simmons in freestyle all have shown promise in their events.

Craig Smith will give Northville good depth in either butterfly or free sprints, while Jim Thompson will contribute in breast and back. Gans is reviewing Mickey Moore, Harley Hammond and Todd VanHoosear for assignments — most likely freestyle.

Two divers from the freshman class will see plenty of action, especially Josh Chaffin, an AAU veteran who already possesses the skills to place at varsity meets. The other diver is Andy Viskantas, a hard-working type with time on his side.

Assisting Gans will be diving coach Kim McRae and trainers Sue LaChance and Erika Nelson.

The Mustangs open season Saturday at Plymouth Salem with the WLAA Relays. Gans isn't tipping his hat where he'll deploy his troops, but Northville is expected to contend for at least a division title at the meet, thanks to two-day team workouts over the past few weeks.

LOANS TO EMPLOYEES

You may want to consider making an interest-free loan to a valued employee instead of increasing his or her salary. This might be a wise and appreciated course of action if a key employee needs money for a child's education, a new home, or some other major expense. A salary increase might put the employee into a higher tax bracket and leave him with less take-home pay than he needs to cover his new financial obligations.

In using the interest-free loan privilege, however, you must be careful to follow Internal Revenue Service regulations. For example, it must be a written formal loan agreement that has been notarized, and it must include a repayment schedule.

The loan should be carried on the company's books as an amount receivable and listed on your tax returns and financing statements.

Before you decide to take this step, however, you may want to review all the ramifications of interest-free loans under the new tax law. Why not call us for an appointment to discuss them?

Mustang cage team beaten at buzzer

By B.J. MARTIN

Don't mention Doug Cottongim's name around the Mustang basketball team.

The South Lyon guard hit an off-balance 10-foot jumper at the final buzzer of last Friday's season opener at Northville — and gave the Lions a 42-40 upset victory over the Mustangs.

It never should have happened, said Northville Coach Omar Harrison, making his varsity coaching debut.

"We should have won it," he declared. "But the difference in the game was made in the second quarter." During the entire eight minutes of that period, the Mustangs could not sink one field goal — and the Lions roared to a 23-14 halftime lead.

"We couldn't get into our offense," said Harrison. "And once we got out of the flow on offense, the rest of our game came apart."

Harrison was relieved, however, that his players demonstrated respectable talent, even if they weren't connecting.

"It was the first game we really mixed juniors and seniors in a game situation," he said. "We were capable of doing better. From looking at the game it seemed we just didn't play to our potential."

Northville turned in a respectable second half, outscoring the Lions 14-6 in the third quarter. "We just played with intensity in the second half," Harrison said.

In a back-and-forth final quarter, the Mustangs wound up with the ball with just under a minute to play.

The Mustangs stalled down to half a minute and called time out to set up a last-shot offense. But the plan backfired — a travel call gave South Lyon the ball with 20 seconds left.

The Lions went into a last-shot offense of their own. And as the clock ticked down to the final seconds, it was apparent Northville's defense would keep the Lions from getting off a high-percentage shot.

But Cottongim beat the odds. Driving to the baseline, he fired up a narrow-angle jumper over the outstretched arms of 6'6" John Storm and 6'3" Greg Wendel.

The ball sailed toward the hoop as the buzzer sounded and dropped straight through.

Despite the losing effort, Wendel turned in a superb game, going 5-of-9 from the floor and scoring 10 points. Wendel also hauled in 14 rebounds. Storm, Northville's new regular center, scored 10 points for the night, and Doug May played well as Northville's new point guard, scoring eight points.

Mike Hilfinger and Don Norton had trouble thawing out their shooting hands in their first varsity appearance, but each finished with six points.

The Mustangs open their Western Lakes season at 7:30 p.m. this Friday at division rival Farmington Harrison.

The Hawks are expected to be among the league's most improved squads, featuring 6-7 center Mike Dempsey and three more returning seniors in the starting lineup.

Next Tuesday, Northville will host North Farmington, a school which will join the WLAA beginning in fall of 1985. Northville will return home at 7:30 p.m. the following Thursday to play Lakes Division opponent Farmington.

The Thursday, December 20, game will be the team's last until the season resumes January 8 following winter break.

Mustang matmen trip two league foes

For a guy whose team just won its first two meets, Northville wrestling coach Jack Townsley wasn't exactly pleased.

"Basics," he grumbled. "All our kids, even the seniors, have to learn some basics."

Townsley was unhappy with his team's showing Saturday at the Belleville Invitational. While host Belleville ran away with the first-place trophy, the Mustangs were back in 10th place.

"We learned a lot at that tournament," Townsley said. "I'd been away from coaching for a while, and I see I'm going to have to go right back to fundamentals."

Joel Vogt, Northville's 185-pounder, was the team's best finisher, taking a third place. But Townsley said a "fundamental" mistake the senior made in the semifinals cost him an excellent opportunity to win the overall 185 title.

Senior classmate Dino Candella ended up fourth at 167 pounds, but no other Mustangs were among the top finishers.

Northville's matmen were victimized by their inexperience, Townsley said. "We only had four people with much varsity wrestling experience there," he explained. "Dino, Joel, John Lazar and Ken Kehoe. Besides them we had two ninth graders, a few 10th graders and even our older people were mostly new to wrestling."

Townsley was grateful his team opened its season earlier last week against much weaker teams from Livonia Stevenson and Farmington Harrison.

"Good scheduling," he said. "Have to thank (Northville Athletic Director) Ralph Redmond for that."

The Mustangs trounced Stevenson 51-21 on Tuesday, helped by the Spartans' voiding at 98 pounds, 105, 119 and 126. At one point in the match, Northville led 30-0.

Winning their matches on pins were Jason Lazar (155) at 5:26, Vogt (185) at 1:21 and Ken Wells (heavyweight) at 1:19. John Lazar took a 5-4 decision at 112 for Northville's only other contested match victory.

First-year wrestlers John McRae (155), Scott Wiley (132) and Tim Millen (198) all lost on pins, as did veteran Dennis Nadeau (145). Ken Kehoe (138) lost a 13-4 decision.

Forfeits also aided Northville's 40-24 win over Harrison Thursday. The Hawks voided at heavyweight and 198 and picked up a disqualification at 105.

Winning pins for Northville were Kehoe (138) and Jason Lazar (155). Nadeau won a lopsided decision at 145 pounds, while Paul Maliszewski ground out a narrow decision at 119 and Candella at 185.

Honorable mention cage picks

The names of honorable mention selections to the 1984 Sliger-Livingston East All-Area basketball team were mistakenly cut from an article which appeared in last week's sports section of The Record.

To set The Record straight, sophomore forward Tricia Ducker and senior guards Sue Terwin and Kathy Korowin were all honorable mention picks from Northville High School.

Also accorded honorable mention status were Michelle Heath and Lisa McCarthy of Novi; Carol Croll, Sheri Davis and Barb Watts of Walled Lake Western; Jill Whiteman and Monica Randles of Lakeland, Cathy Godin of Milford; Andrea Nelson and Pam Heiler of South Lyon; Amy Freeman and Pam Fitzgerald of Walled Lake Central; and Diane Drefts and Kate Hennings of Whitmore Lake.

OLV cagers win a pair

Our Lady of Victory's eighth-grade boys' basketball team defeated Walled Lake St. Williams and Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes to go 2-0 on the season last week.

OLV topped St. Williams 31-21 Friday behind John Pump's 11 points and Ray Jacques' eight points and 17 rebounds. Andy Fitzpatrick scored six and had seven rebounds in the contest.

At Waterford Our Lady, OLV romped 30-17, led by Jacques' 13 points and 15 rebounds. Pat Fagan scored 10 points.
