King for a day

Amerman Principal Bill Craft was given the crowning touch last Wednesday at a retirement party attended by students, staff, PTA members, parents and hordes of other well-wishers. The longtime principal will retire this week after more than 17 years as head of Amerman Elementary. See other photo on Page 7A. Record photo by Steve Fecht.

Board rejects bids on school renovation

By MICHELE M. FECHT

With general contracting cost estimates far exceeding the district's remaining bond issue monies for completion of the Northville High School renovation project, the board of education Monday approved a recommendation to reject the seven bids received by the district January 8.

Bids received from seven general contractors ranged from $8 million to $8.9 million for completion of the project. The district has $6 million remaining in bond issue monies for the renovation. Work already completed on the project includes renovation of the pool area, replacement of boilers and construction of footings.

In recommending that the board allow the administration to rebid the project, Assistant Superintendent Burton Knighton noted that Coquillard, Dundon, Peterson and Argenta, the architectural firm working on the renovation, has revised plans and specifications to reduce costs.

Knighton said the architects have been working around the clock to review changes which must be made in order to pare close to $2 million from the projected costs.

The assistant superintendent presented the board with a list of 15 separate items in the areas of mechanical, electrical and architectural design which could be revised in order to reduce expenditures.

He noted the most significant savings could be made in the mechanical area by deleting items such as central cooling and variable air volume systems and vestibule unit heaters.

"It was determined that we could not afford the elaborate mechanical systems and roof-top mechanical penthouse as were in the original design," Knighton said.

He emphasized that the administration and architects "did not make cuts that would reduce the number or size of classrooms, or in any other way affect the educational program."

Other areas outlined by the administration for saving costs included opening up specifications and seeking alternate bids for roofing.

Knighton explained to the board that

Tax deduction lost for 1,000

By KEVIN WILSON

More than 1,000 homeowners in Northville and Novi will be unable to deduct winter property tax payments on their 1984 federal income tax returns because their mortgage-lender failed to pay the taxes from their escrow accounts within the calendar year.

Empire of America, a Brooklyn-based firm that bought up thousands of mortgages in southeastern Michigan several years ago, did not pay the taxes before December 31 in Novi, Northville and Northville Township among other southeastern Michigan communities, according to tax officials in the three communities.

Repeated efforts to telephone the firm's Southfield offices for an explanation of the delayed payments failed to elicit a response this week. Published reports listing 48 communities where Empire of America missed the December 31 payment date did not include Northville or Northville Township, but officials in both communities said that the firm had not made the payments.

Property taxes on roughly 40 homes in the City of Northville were paid January 8, said deputy treasurer Donna Kohs. Still unpaid as of Monday were taxes on 443 properties in Northville Township and 525 in the City of Novi, according to township deputy treasurer Syd Harral and Novi assistant treasurer Evelyn I. Natzel.

Although the due date on property tax bills is February 14, it is customary for mortgage companies to make the payments by December 31 so that homeowners may claim the deduction. Taxes are paid from funds collected from the borrowers and accumulated in escrow accounts throughout the year. Local officials said no other mortgage company had failed to beat the December 31 date.

"This is an unusual situation," said Natzel. "They normally pay on the last day of the year. I'm sure they'll pay before February 14, before the (late payment) penalty goes into effect."

Natzel said the outstanding tax bill on Empire of America accounts exceeds $400,000 in Novi. In Northville Township, Harral estimated that roughly $500,000 remains unpaid — and undeductible by the homeowners.

Harral said Empire of America did pay the summer tax bill, which in Northville Township was 50 percent of the school millage. These tax payments will be deductible, and make up roughly 40 percent of the total annual paid by township homeowners.

"Most of Empire's accounts here are in the Highland Lakes condominiums," said Harral. The firm also holds mortgages on homes in the Lakes of Northville, Northville Colony, Northville Commons and North Beacon Woods subdivisions, said township supervisor Susan Heintz.

"We're advising people to check with a tax consultant," Heintz said, regarding the deductibility of property tax payments. "We've had one opinion that

Normac wants water, not annexation to city

By KEVIN WILSON

A Normac Incorporated official said he was "a little shocked" at the city's refusal to extend water service to its manufacturing plant at 720 East Baseline unless the firm petitions for annexation to the city.

Samuel Pruchno, vice president for manufacturing, said Tuesday he was "happy with the township" and still hopes the township and city can negotiate an arrangement to supply water to the plant without redrawing the city boundaries.

He said the uncertainty about obtaining water service may delay plans to expand the present facility. Pruchno said he is preparing a report to be sent to the company's headquarters in North Carolina, detailing the varying costs of remaining in the township without water, with water provided by the city, annexing to the city or moving the operation to Auburn Heights, where Normac has a second manufacturing facility with water and sewer service.

"I would like to stay here. I don't want to run away," Pruchno said. "I have an addition in process now and expect in four or five years there would be another one. What I hope is that we could move the Auburn Heights operation here to put it all under one roof."

He said the company built in 1976, and expanded in 1979 and 1981. There are 15 people presently employed at the plant, which makes machines used in the manufacture of drill bits. The present expansion might double employment, he said, and if the predicted relocation of the Auburn Heights operation to Northville occurred, there could be 50 employees here within five years.

The firm's need for water service is not critical, he said, but important. Water is not used in the manufacturing process, according to Pruchno, but with expanding employment he would like to have city drinking water for his workers.

"We are talking about 50 people"

VFW post marks 40th anniversary here

Forty years ago today, on January 30, 1945, the Northville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4012 officially came into being in an initiation program for 102 members held in Northville High School auditorium.

The post which today has a membership about 600 — 475 men and 125 auxiliary members — celebrated the anniversary last Friday evening at the post home at 438 South Main.

"Most World War II men were back in the Pacific or in Asia in January, 1945, earning the right to become members of the V.F.W.," Lawrence McArthur told fellow members and guests at the program. "First there were names like Butler, Willis, Winkler and then Baker, Kupsky, Robinson, Brown, Ash, Utley," he listed as he detailed the history of the Northville post.

Later that year, on October 11, the auxiliary was born. Meetings for both the V.F.W. and auxiliary were held in a hall above stores on Main Street.

By 1949 the V.F.W. purchased a furniture store on the present site for $25,000. By 1955, the mortgage was paid off and the post celebrated with a mortgage-burning ceremony. In 1958 the post bought adjacent property to provide a parking lot and addition. In 1973 the bar was moved upstairs from the basement.

Most recently the post gave the building a "facelift" for which, present commander Carl Baker noted, the post had committed several thousand dollars to make the improvement "in keeping with the spirit of the city's beautification project." He said it is now 90 percent completed.

Last November, Commander Baker and his wife Cathy, who is president of the Auxiliary, presented a check for $1,500 on behalf of the post and auxiliary to the city to aid with the beautification project.

Dale Brubaker, fourth district senior vice commander, State of Michigan, brought official greetings from the Department of Michigan and the district with the wish that "the next 40 years will be as productive and substantial as the last." He noted that there are almost 11,000 members in District Four.

State Senator R. Robert Geake presented greetings from himself and State Representative Gerald Law, who was unable to be present because of a conflict. He noted that the post was organized in the final year of World War II "in a spirit of concern for fellow veterans and their families ... especially those in need."

Norma Vernon, wife of Mayor Paul Vernon who was out of town, and City Manager Steve Walters attended to extend congratulations on behalf of the mayor and city council.

Walters said the V.F.W. post is an "outstanding civic organization. I commend you as a veterans' organization and as a civic member of our community."

Commander Baker, a Vietnam veteran who served in Thailand, is a Northville native. He also has served as the youngest local president of the Northville Eagles. He and his wife Cathy are Northville residents. Some of the post members, however, live in surrounding communities.

In addition to organizing parades on Memorial Day in cooperation with the Northville American Legion Post 147 and providing a marching unit for the Fourth of July parade, the V.F.W. in cooperation with the Legion has maintained the veterans' plot in Rural Hill Cemetery since 1954. It was pointed out that any local veteran who chooses may be buried there.

"Now, as in 1945," observed Commander Baker, "the aims and commitments of the post are as follows: ensure the national security of our country; help the rehabilitation of our na-

Veteran Schoolcraft press official moves to new field

David Heinzman, who became public relations director at Schoolcraft College under its founding president, Dr. Eric Bradner, and continued during the years Dr. C. Nelson Grote headed the community college, has left that post to become assistant to the vice president for instruction, Dr. Conway Jeffress.

"It will seem strange to be doing something different after nearly 15 years as PR director," he said earlier this month, "but it is time for a change and I welcome the opportunity."

Heinzman's first assignment in his new capacity will be to provide administrative help and marketing services at the college's expanded instructional center in Garden City.

The college's new Radcliff Center in Garden City opened January 4. It currently offers the same number of classes and programs that were available at the Harrison Center there. But the new building is twice the size of the former one, and the college is anticipating considerable growth in the numbers of students from its Garden City-Westland-Canton areas.

Heinzman will be working with Dean Thad Diebel, the administrator in charge of the college centers.

Both Harrison and Radcliff are schools in the Garden City district not now needed. Radcliff had been a junior high and still contains some special education classes in the program called PROVE.

Heinzman pointed out that his assignment to Garden City completes, so to speak, his many personal and professional relationships with the college and its five member districts of Livonia, Plymouth, Clarenceville, Northville and Garden City.

He grew up and went to grade and junior high schools in Livonia; he attended high school and was in the graduating class of 1959 in Plymouth. He taught English and journalism at Clarenceville High from 1957-62, and has lived in Northville since joining the college staff in 1970.

Heinzman earned a bachelor's degree in communications and education at the University of Michigan, and served two years as an information services officer with the Air Force before he started as a teacher at Clarenceville.

Heinzman also holds a master's degree in educational administration from Eastern Michigan University. His other professional assignments have been in educational public relations with the Riverview Community Schools and the Wayne County Intermediate School District.

As he packed to move to the Radcliff Center, Heinzman noted that he has seen considerable change and growth during his years at Schoolcraft. During the time he worked for Dr. Bradner, Dr. Grote and now Dr. Richard W. McDowell Heinzman says he has seen enrollments grow from 5,000 to nearly 12,000 with the addition of the continuing education division. He also has watched the expansion in Garden City which started with an informational and service center there in 1973.

He mentioned also seeing the college develop and offer services for special groups of people as it met changing societal needs.

"For a time, there was a great need for helping veterans returning from Vietnam, and the college responded. Now the focus has shifted to women and senior adults, to job upgrading and retraining, and to customizing programs for business and industry as an assist to the state's and region's economic redevelopment."

"Computer-related studies and those in high-tech also are much in demand now," he said, noting that the college provides career education to nearly seven out of every 10 students it enrolls in credit classes.

As PR director, Heinzman said, his greatest satisfaction came from efforts at keeping residents of the district well informed about the offerings and events at Schoolcraft.

"Nearly everyone knows about our culinary arts program, and many are aware of nursing and soccer, but there are countless other programs and services that people need to know about."

"We helped institute the mailing of class schedules throughout the district," he recalled.

Another means for keeping the community informed has been through local and metro newspapers, Heinzman said, adding that he particularly appreciates the press relations and coverage extended the college during his time as PR director.

The Northville Record and Observer newspapers, he said, have not only given excellent coverage to news and feature stories and issues, but they have also been willing to carry routine and recurring items, such as registration announcements, in the public interest.

"I have great respect for the working press and their contribution to community well being and development. They have certainly helped Schoolcraft become the community resource it is," he observed.

As for something he wishes could have been different, Heinzman says he regrets the five consecutive millage defeats the college recorded between 1971-79.

"We haven't had a voted increase in local funding since 1966," he said, "and yet we have done everything possible to meet the ever-growing educational needs of all adult residents of the district."

"I understand people's reluctance to increase taxes, but I hope they will honestly consider all the good things this college has done and how much it means to them should a millage request come up again in the future."

Dave Heinzman and his wife Kitty with their 14-year old son Ted live on Fairbrook at the corner of Eaton. Son David Jr. is minister of music at First United Presbyterian Church of Northville. Daughter Suzy, who completed her bachelor's degree in education at Eastern Michigan University last spring, is working for a construction company while searching for a teaching job, her father reported.

She also coaches the girls' softball team at Northville High.

The Heinzmans are members of St. Paul's Lutheran Church where he has held officer positions and currently teaches seventh grade Sunday School. He also is a member and director of Northville Rotary Club, an affiliation he hopes to continue despite the new assignment in Garden City.

As he looked back on almost 15 years of promoting Schoolcraft, Heinzman said he often recalled the advice of John Hobart, who also had been a Northville resident and college supporter: "Never defend the indefensible — but put everything in the best light possible."

tion's disabled and needy veterans and their families; promote Americanism through education and patriotism; and provide constructive service to the communities in which we live."

He noted that seven past commanders of the post have been cited in distinguished awards at the state or national level and that the post has received many citations for hospital and community service work.

Baker added that the post has won many state and county bowling and pool championships and, in recognition of recent efforts, has been awarded the V.F.W. state pool tournament to be held in the spring of 1986.

"I am sure that hundreds of visitors who will descend upon Northville for the tournament from all over the state will take back favorable memories of our town and its people," he commented.

He added that the Northville post motto is "We honor the dead by helping the living."

Past Commander Rogers Barnes and community service officer Bob Schmidt also were introduced at the informal program Friday.

It was pointed out that, although several names had been considered at first, Post 4012 always has been known simply by its number — it was the 4,012th post to be chartered by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Work training offered

Residents of Western Wayne County who qualify have an unusual opportunity for special training without charge, Mary Ann Gideon of Focus: HOPE reports.

The Focus:HOPE Machinist Training Institute has openings available immediately for 55 new trainees who live in Northville, Dearborn, Inkster, Livonia, Romulus and other Western Wayne County communities.

Application can be made at the

Livonia Office of Volunteers (L.O.V.E.), fifth floor, Livonia City Hall, 33000 Civic Center Drive near Farmington and Five Mile roads, from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. # Townships ask prison moratorium

By KEVIN WILSON

Calling for a moratorium on additional public institutions in Northville or Plymouth townships, trustees of both communities last week approved a concurrent resolution dealing with state plans to use the Detroit House of Correction as a prison site.

Meeting simultaneously January 22, the Plymouth and Northville Township boards of trustees protested any use of DeHoCo and demanded safeguards if the state elects to ignore the local opposition.

They also called for the legislature to "line-item the $15 million lump-sum capital outlay" approved late last year for prison development. Township supervisor Susan Heintz said this provision would prevent the department of corrections from diverting funds the legislature intended for use elsewhere to renovation of DeHoCo.

"We learned about this from Congressman (Carl) Pursell," said Heintz. "With the lump sum appropriation, the department could conceivably use $13 million at DeHoCo and have it completely renovated and put in use without ever going back to the legislature."

She noted that the intent of the capital outlay subcommittee in approving the appropriation late in the previous session was that only $1 million be spent at DeHoCo for an assessment of its value — not for purchase and renovation. The remainder was intended for use at other prison sites around the state.

"They have to go back and make a line-item appropriation to ensure that we don't get a DeHoCo prison without any further legislative input," she said, calling that portion of the joint resolution a key element in the battle to forestall DeHoCo renovation.

'With this moratorium, we're trying to take care of the problem permanently.'

— Susan Heintz
Township supervisor

If a prison is to be sited on the DeHoCo grounds, the resolution by the townships urges that it be a newly-constructed one, not a rehabilitated version of the present facility.

One of the first demands of the resolution is that no temporary housing be allowed at DeHoCo and that, if and when the state acquires the site, "the existing facilities thereon be razed." Heintz told the Northville Township board that the buildings on the site have been there since 1879 and are not suited to secure prison use.

"DeHoCo has got a tremendous security problem," she said. "Phoenix here in the township is very different, even though it's renovated from another DeHoCo facility. At Phoenix, the prisoners are housed in individual cells in cottages and each cottage has a supervisor. At DeHoCo, they're in these big wards and halls. The court reports that about 150 prisoners are prosecuted for escape from DeHoCo every year. A fence around that site is not going to do it."

Heintz said the resolution's call for a moratorium on additional institutional uses in the two townships "is something I've wanted to do for a long time."

She said Northville Township has been continuously involved in efforts to fight prison sitings. "That's why I've been spending so much time on this, going to Lansing all the time. It's because they keep coming back to us, year after year. With this moratorium, we're trying to take care of the problem permanently."

Eliminating some of the public ownership of lands in the two townships is another major thrust of the resolution, which calls for "an immediate release" of state-owned property at Plymouth State Home and return of the unused DeHoCo property to the tax rolls.

Specifically, the resolution demands "that an appropriate transfer mechanism be adopted to facilitate the development, public or private, of all City of Detroit-owned land not absolutely required for institutional development." It further references the master plans of land use of the two townships.

"This isn't going to go over real big in the City of Detroit," Heintz said.

Trustees asked whether the phrase "public or private" in the resolution would not leave the township open to additional institutional use. Heintz said it would not, but would leave open the possibility of turning the land over for recreational use, such as a public golf course.

"Detroit has a real problem whenever you start talking about using that land — they're afraid it would be used for industry that might otherwise locate in the city," she explained. "They might go for it if we can get it for some public use that would still keep out institutions."

Other provisions of the resolution call for a legislatively-mandated cap of 1,325 prisoners in the two townships — 550 at the under-construction Scott Regional Facility, 325 at Phoenix and another 500 at DeHoCo.

"They're talking about 1,000 people in there," Heintz said. "That's just ridiculous. The department of corrections' own policy says they shouldn't put that many people in one prison. And we're back to the security question at DeHoCo."

The resolution also urges that residents of the two townships be given "first consideration and preference" in hiring and in procurement.

"They keep telling us prisons are great for the local economy," Heintz said. "We're arguing that by our very nature, we don't have the kinds of large businesses that are familiar with state procurement. I asked where the food came from for Phoenix — since we have a lot of businesses in the township that might benefit from that kind of contract — and you know where the food comes from?"

"It comes from the Huron Valley facility down by Ann Arbor," Heintz continued. "Now, once the Scott facility is completed they're supposed to transfer the food operation there and have it serve Phoenix. Our point is that the state should come down here and help our people bid for those kinds of contracts — I don't think it's our responsibility to do that."

Board approves graduation requirements

A comprehensive program in all areas of the high school curriculum is the cornerstone of new graduation requirements unanimously approved by the board of education at its meeting Monday night.

The new 9-12 graduation requirements, which will take effect with the ninth graders beginning the 1985-86 school year, culminate two years of planning, study and discussion by high school administrators and faculty.

According to high school principal David Bolitho, who presented the proposal to the board of education, the 23-credit graduation requirement is in line with other 9-12 high schools.

Bolitho told board members that the process for establishing graduation requirements for a four-year high school began with the high school feasibility study.

He noted that individual proposals were developed by each department, reviewed by the administration and presented to the department chairpersons for discussion.

He further added that the criteria for establishing the graduation proposal included current literature, state and national studies and well as local graduate follow-up surveys.

Among the biggest changes in the new proposal is the addition of required credits in fine and applied arts.

Bolitho noted that during the review process, faculty found the major studies gave either inadequate or no attention to those two areas.

He said the high school administration and faculty felt strongly that a comprehensive program which provides exposure in those areas was needed.

New requirements as outlined by the administration include: 4 credits of English, 3 credits of science, 3 credits in social studies, 2 credits in math, 1.5 credits in physical education, 1 credit in fine arts (foreign language, art, music), 1 credit in applied arts (business, home economics, industrial technology) and 7.5 credits of electives.

It was noted that in the science curriculum, ninth graders will be required to take earth science as it presently exists at the junior high level.

Ninth graders also will have a one semester required social studies class before they will be eligible for electives in that curriculum.

It was noted that the two required mathematics credits was a "much debated issue" in light of tougher credit requirements in the other basic curriculums.

Bolitho noted that the rationale for requiring a two-year sequence is based upon the fact that the majority of Northville High School students traditionally have taken three or four years of mathematics.

He pointed out that 85 percent of high school students take a three-year program and 77 percent enroll in a four-year program.

Bolitho noted that students will need to take a full six-hour class schedule until their senior year when they will have a little leeway.

New subdivision phasing okayed

Watch for new houses to start popping out of the ground east of township hall on Six Mile this coming spring.

The township board authorized phase development of the Maple Hill subdivision January 10, and developer Abbey Development Company of Birmingham said construction on the first 78 lot segment would begin in spring with developed lots available by June.

Maple Hill is a 173-lot subdivision which was first submitted for preliminary plat approval in 1979 but never developed due to economic constraints. Through a series of approvals and extensions, the developer maintained preliminary approval that will remain effective through October of this year.

In seeking to phase the development, owner David Johnson said, the company is responding to economic changes in the six years since the plat was first submitted.

"The banks aren't interested in financing large numbers of lots anymore," Johnson explained. "We believe it is the right time for Maple Hill to be developed. There is pressure for lots in Northville Township. The Lakes of Northville lot supply has finally gone down. But we don't think we can get financing for 173 lots in one phase."

The phasing arrangement, he said, is designed to put many of the largest expenses into the first 78 lot segment. "While the first phase is only 45 percent of the lots, it represents 55 to 65 percent of the cost, so the profit incentive to go forward into the second phase as soon as possible is very strong," he said.

The first phase will include the acceleration/deceleration lanes required on Six Mile Road, utilities sized to serve the entire development and a stormwater retention basin designed to serve the complete subdivision. It also includes the road connection to Lakes of Northville (north of township hall) at Wheatley.

While the economic incentive to proceed in phase two may be strong,

Johnson was informed by township officials that he has other reasons to hope to begin the second phase before October.

The township zoning ordinance was changed to require larger lots after Maple Hill had received its preliminary approval. Provision to "grandfather" the smaller lot sizes was made, but that grandfather clause expires in regard to Maple Hill this October.

Failure either to obtain a final plat or an extension would mean the second phase would fall under the new zoning ordinance — requiring larger lots and likely reducing the number of buildable sites on the property.

Johnson said final plat approval requires financing, and he is uncertain about being able to do his platting before October. Township board members repeatedly emphasized, however, that his only assurance in regard to the grandfathering of lot sizes rests in platting the second phase prior to the October expiration.

Chamber 'Night at the Races' draws crowds to Downs

Members and guests of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce were winners a week ago Tuesday at the chamber's annual Night at the Races at Northville Downs. Most of the 102 attending were seriously studying programs by post time following buffet dinner. The fourth race of the evening was named in honor of the chamber.

A smiling Orson Atchinson, right, admitted to an across-the-board win in the sixth race.

School board rejects NHS bids

"there is no way we can leave the roof as it is" but added that bids came in between $700,000 and $900,000.

Board members voiced concerns over opening up specs on the roof in light of the roofing problems which have plagued the high school for years.

Architect John Argenta told board members that by seeking alternate bids they "haven't compromised in terms of quality."

"We're still asking for a 10-year guarantee," Argenta noted, adding that "the quality level is not going to go down."

"The changes are basically in systems — the way of doing things," he added.

Other possible savings areas included deleting replacement of all existing interior doors and hardware, deleting relamping of existing fixtures, deleting new roof structures over corridors, deleting new ceilings because of mechanical changes and deleting new toilets in locker rooms and coaches rooms.

It also was recommended that the architects reduce the height of the auxiliary gym to 22 feet. The original specs called for a 29-foot ceiling in the gym, however, Knighton noted approximately $150,000 could be saved by bringing the ceiling down to a normal height.

"The biggest dilemma for us is the time element," Knighton said.

"We've had numerous delays," he noted. "We just can't afford any more."

The assistant superintendent outlined a timetable in order to advertise rebidding of the project. The architect's revised plans and specs were released Monday and a closing date on the rebidding was set for February 7.

It was noted that the architect's recommendation for the bid award is expected February 8 with board approval scheduled February 11.

Asked by board members whether the timetable for re-bidding the project was too tight, Argenta said he anticipates that most bidders will be from the original group.

While the board had little trouble rejecting the general contractor bids, most trustees questioned the items outlined for reducing costs.

Board secretary James Petrie said he did not see how a $2 million reduction could not affect the educational program.

Knighton told Petrie that "we're not touching the very important area of equipment." He added that some $880,000 has been earmarked for equipment alone.

Petrie also voiced concern over the possibility that the renovation will not be completed by next September.

Knighton said he "anticipated there will be substantial completion by September."

"If there is a delay, although we're not counting on it, it will probably be a month or two," he added.

He further stated that Cooke could be used in the interim if a delay should occur.

Argenta also noted that "by eliminating the mechanical items we've alleviated a lot of the long lead items."

He said all classrooms should be done by September and only areas such as the Activity Center may not be completed by the start of the next school year.

Trustee Doug Whitaker said he was less concerned with the time element and more concerned with quality.

"I'm leery about reducing quality of materials used in the building," Whitaker said.

"If we can save this much money, why weren't these costs spared in the first place?" he asked.

Whitaker recommended the board schedule a study session to review the changes recommended to save costs.

Trustee Chris Johnson agreed that the board needs "to spend some time in looking over specifically what we're talking about."

A board study session to review the changes has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Monday (February 4) in the conference room at the Board of Education offices.

OLV marks Catholic School week

Our Lady of Victory School will be participating in the annual celebration of Catholic Schools Week February 3-8. This year's theme is "Sharing Vision — Teaching Values."

OLV will open the week of festivities Friday with a ribbon-cutting ceremony.

Students will celebrate an All School Liturgy at 9:15 a.m. February 6. Each student will receive a name of another school family and will offer prayers for that family throughout the year.

Students also will be forming school families consisting of one student from each grade. These families will pray for one another and share their time and talents with one another.

The primary, intermediate and junior high grades will make a peace ribbon which will symbolize their prayerful hope for peace among all nations and their people.

Each classroom will have a newsletter entitled "Sharing Our Vision" posted on their door to communicate their visions for the future to others.

LENA J. BOGART

Lena J. Bogart, a life resident of the area, died January 26 at St. Mary Hospital at the age of 92.

Funeral service was held at 11 a.m. Tuesday at Casterline Funeral Home with the Reverend Eric Hammar, pastor of First United Methodist Church of Northville, officiating. Mrs. Bogart had joined the church 69 years ago. Burial was in Rural Hill Cemetery. An Eastern Star memorial service was held Monday evening. Mrs. Bogart was a Past Worthy Matron of Orient Chapter No. 77, Order of Eastern Star. She also was a life member of Northville Woman's Club.

Mrs. Bogart was born February 4, 1892, in Clarenceville. She married Edward M. Bogart on New Year's Day, 1914, in the home of her parents, Melvin and Minnie Hunt.

Mr. Bogart's grandfather, Marvin Bogart, lived a home at 335 North Center now occupied by Johnson Insurance Agency. The Bogarts later made their home there, moving to an apartment in Plymouth in 1964.

Mr. Bogart, who died in 1979, often recalled that, at his grandfather's funeral, Mrs. Henry Ford told him of helping work on the house with her husband, Melvin Bogart and her father, Melvin Bryant, were cousins.

The Bogarts were graduates of the Northville High School 23-member Class of 1911.

Mr. Bogart was the founder and operator for many years of EMB Food Market on Main Street, where Genitti's now is located.

Mrs. Bogart leaves three sons, Ralph of Livonia, Warren of Northville and Lawrence of Ypsilanti, a sister Marie Seitz, five grandchildren and two great grandchildren. She was preceded in death by three brothers.

ERNA E. NELLIGAN

Erna E. Nelligan, who as Erna E. Freimund was owner/publisher of The South Lyon Herald until she sold the newspaper in 1961, died January 25 at her home at 416 East, Northville. She was 73.

Funeral service was held at 1 p.m. Monday at Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home in Northville with the Reverend Dr. Bartlett L. Hess of Ward Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial was in Glen Eden Cemetery.

Mrs. Nelligan, a homemaker in recent years, published The South Lyon Herald after the death of her husband, Frank Freimund, in 1958. She sold the newspaper to William C. Sliger January 1, 1961. The newspaper now is part of the Sliger/Livingston Publications.

Mrs. Nelligan also had been married to the late Ivan Ely of Northville.

She was born October 2, 1911, in Wisconsin to Karl and Anna (Haus) Kabelowsky.

She leaves her husband Harry P., daughters Mrs. Mickey (Marilyn) Donovan of Livonia and Mrs. John (Karen) Koch of Australia, a son Frank Freimund of Northville, two brothers, two sisters, 10 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

RAYMOND HENDRICKSEN SR.

Raymond "Don" Hendricksen Sr., who lived in Northville for 12 years before moving to 25381 Potomac Drive, South Lyon, six months ago, died January 24 in Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak. He was 66.

A memorial service was held at 3 p.m. Sunday at Faith Community Presbyterian Church in Novi with the Reverend Dr. Richard J. Henderson, church pastor, officiating.

Mr. Hendricksen was born June 16, 1918, in Chicago. He had been a sales representative for EdgeCo Steel Company. The firm, now out of business, had been a steel warehouse.

On December 2, 1939, Mr. Hendricksen married the former Ruth Christen Kline who survives. He also leaves a son R. Donald Hendricksen Jr. and one grandchild.

The family suggests that memorial tributes may be made to Faith Community Presbyterian Church. Arrangements were by Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home in Northville.

BRUCE A. STINSON

Funeral service for Bruce Alexander Stinson, 86, a New Hudson area resident for 20 years, was held at 1 p.m. Friday at Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home in Northville. The Reverend Robert A. Mitchinson of New Hudson United Methodist Church officiated. Burial was in Rural Hill Cemetery in Northville.

Mr. Stinson died January 23 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor two days before his 87th birthday. He was born January 25, 1898, in Ontario and married the former Elena R. Johnson January 30, 1930.

He retired in 1960 after being a machinist for Ford Motor Company for 37½ years. He served in the Canadian Army during World War I.

He leaves his wife Elena, a son Robert B. of Houston, Texas, and four grandchildren.

YVONNE GARIEPY

A funeral Mass for Yvonne Donna Gariepy of Meadowbrook Road in Novi was held January 21 at St. William's Catholic Church in Walled Lake through Lynch & Sons (Richardson-Bird Chapel). Retired Father Henry Waraksa officiated.

Mrs. Gariepy died January 18 at home. Born April 30, 1899, in Ottawa, Canada, she was 85 at the time of her death.

Formerly of Detroit, she had made her home in Novi since 1971. A homemaker, Mrs. Gariepy was a member of St. Francis DeSales Catholic Church before joining St. William's Catholic Church.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Albert. Survivors include five children: Donald Gariepy of Detroit, Eugene Gariepy of Arizona, Connie William of West Bloomfield, Robert Gariepy of Northville and Mrs. Joseph (Helen) Marcucci of Novi. Also surviving are a sister, Beatrice Gravel of Ottawa, Canada; 22 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren.

A Rosary Service was held January 20 at Richardson-Bird Chapel prior to the funeral Mass on January 21. Interment was at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery in Southfield.

HARVEY C. BAUSS

Harvey Charles Bauss of Southfield, father of Frank Tony Bauss of Northville, died January 19 unexpectedly at Wright-Patterson, Ohio. He was 77.

A retired civil engineer, Mr. Bauss also was retired from the Air Force Reserve as a colonel with three Purple Hearts to his credit from World War II combat.

A memorial service was held at 2 p.m. Saturday at Casterline Funeral Home with the Reverend John Clair Ferris of Rice Memorial United Methodist Church in Redford Township officiating. Burial was in Arlington National Cemetery in Arlington, Virginia.

A World War II news dispatch reported that Mr. Bauss led 10 volunteers in New Guinea who rescued millions of rounds of small ammunition.

Mr. Bauss was born December 9, 1907, in Buffalo, New York, to Anthony and Margaret (Krug) Bauss. He married Jean Harrell April 11, 1936. In addition to his wife and son Tony he leaves sons Harvey C. Jr. of Ann Arbor and William David of Detroit, a sister Viola Bauss in Florida, brother Robert A. in New York, seven grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Mr. Bauss came to the Detroit area in 1933. A University of Michigan graduate, he was an intercollegiate wrestling and boxing champion at U.M. He was a member of the Air Force Association, Retired Officers' Association, Moslem Temple Friendship Lodge, Professional Engineers' Society, University of Michigan M Club, T.K.E. fraternal organization.

The family suggests that memorial contributions may be made to the Michigan Heart Association.

MARY L. RICHTER

Novi resident Mary L. Richter died January 21 unexpectedly at her home. She was 84.

Funeral service was at 11 a.m. Thursday at Casterline Funeral Home with Pastor Charles Boerger of St. Paul's Lutheran Church officiating. Burial was in Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens.

A homemaker and resident of the community for 40 years, Mrs. Richter was born September 30, 1900, in Flat Rock to George A. and Lucy A. (Strewing) Welle. She married John A. Richter who died in October, 1984. He was well known as Novi's historian. Mrs. Richter also was preceded in death by two brothers and a sister.

She leaves a daughter Lila M. McGeachy of Bad Axe, a sister Florence Kirk of Cadillac, eight grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

Publishing Centers highlight student writing talent

EDITOR'S NOTE: Northville PTA-PTSA News, published the last Wednesday of each month September through June, is compiled by volunteer Linda Handyside, who correlates material from school publicity persons in the Northville Public Schools. Cindy Nuttall does Our Lady of Victory News and Nancy Lawrence, William Allan Academy.

AMERMAN

The January 17 Roller Skating Party was a huge success, and everyone is looking forward to another fun evening of family entertainment at the February 21 Roller Skating Party to be held from 6:30-8:30 p.m. at Bonaventure's.

Shon Halacka, an Amerman parent and member of the Special Children Support Group, gave an informative presentation about the hearing impaired at the January 21 PTA meeting.

William Craft, principal at Amerman for 17 years, was honored at a special children's assembly January 23 as classes presented skits, poems, readings, songs and short stories. He will be leaving Amerman with such mementos as a sweatshirt, tablecloth, cards and poems written especially for him. That evening the Northville community paid tribute to his 35 years as an educator with a reception from 4-7 p.m. in the Amerman library.

Amerman students and parents welcome Ronald VanHorn as he takes over as interim principal of Amerman until the end of the school year.

The first Junior Entertainment Series presents Al Ulman with a chemistry show entitled "World of Chemistry" this Thursday.

This month, sixth graders completed a unit on Egyptian Life and created a display in the school showcase complete with mummies.

Upper elementary classes attended the Detroit Institute of Arts this month in conjunction with their appreciation classes.

Mrs. Maryanne Bourne's first graders have been studying about dinosaurs and took a field trip to the Ann Arbor Museum to view some actual replicas.

Fifth and sixth graders are preparing for "A Winter Adventure" to Indian Springs Nature Center in Clarkston. They will spend the day learning the ecology of winter plant and animal life and hopefully do a little snowshoeing.

Amerman's Publishing Center opens February 4 and continues through March 15. Children in Grades 3-6 are invited to contribute a story. Noted author, Alfred Slato, will talk to all classes about creative writing February 7.

The Great Books Program has started and will continue for nine weeks. Volunteer parents have been trained to lead discussions with the children during the lunch hour. Children in grades 3-6 are invited to participate in this program on a volunteer basis.

The next PTA meeting is at 9:30 a.m. February 18 in the library.

MORAINE

The monitors at Moraine will be treated to a breakfast January 29. They will be served pancakes and sausage.

We are having a talent show again this year. It will be held February 12 during school hours. Tryouts are taking place right now. This event has always been a fun one, and parents are invited to attend.

Our next roller skating party is scheduled for February 14 at Bonaventure. This fun evening is for the whole family of all Moraine students and staff. If you don't skate, just come and watch.

February 20 is going to be "Fifties Day" at Moraine. All students and staff are encouraged to dig through their closets and come up with an outfit from the fifties.

Our publishing center again is getting under way. It begins January 28 and ends March 15. Students write any type of creative story. They have an editing conference and then their story is typed. Students do most of their own illustrations and have a choice of covers for their books. This is a yearly event and has really been a success, thanks to the dedicated work of Norma Beemer and the many volunteer mothers.

During the publishing center activity, the PTA has invited author Al Slato to meet with students to discuss how to write and think creatively.

We are offering our students another special program this year. It is called "Junior Great Books." This is a reading enrichment program that exercises imagination, gives the student confidence and independent thought. The program is a series of classic and contemporary literature. Selections are designed to encourage interpretative discussion. Fifty four students in grades 2-6 have signed up for this reading adventure. Pheobe Klain and Norma Beemer will each lead two discussion groups. There are nine selections, and students will meet once a week or read one selection and discuss it.

SILVER SPRINGS

Silver Springs students and their families celebrated the end of the semester with a Family Night Spaghetti Supper January 24. Despite the cold weather everyone enjoyed an evening of good food and conversation.

The next Family Skate Night will be February 7 at the Skatin' Station. The fun begins at 6:30 p.m.; so plan to attend with the whole family.

All the students are looking forward to a visit from the Living Science Program February 15. The program will visit individual classrooms with live animals that the students will be able to observe closely and handle.

The next PTA board meeting will be held at 9:15 a.m. February 19. The board meeting is open to all interested persons, and everyone is encouraged to attend.

After mid-winter break, Silver Springs will hold a Family Fun Fair from 5-9 p.m. March 8. It will include games, cake walks, a jail, country store and much more. People are needed to work in all areas of the fair; watch for flyers coming home with details. Everyone will have a chance to sign up.

The Silver Springs PTA meeting March 19 will welcome PTA members from Moraine and Amerman schools who will be attending Silver Springs next year. Everyone at Silver Springs hopes that these new members will attend the meeting so that we can all get a head start on getting acquainted.

WINCHESTER

November 1984's Book Fair was a success, thanks to Judy Shattuck, and presented the Media Center with funds for new purchases as well as a Disney movie showing.

December 1984 heralded in the Christmas holidays with a successful Santa Secret Shop December 6-7 where items were available for students to purchase.

Many thanks to Sharon Morency, Cheryl Walro, Margo Smith and Lynn MacIver and their staff and volunteers. Junior Enrichment Series hosted the Royal Oak Carillon Bell Ringers December 20 for an outstanding performance topped off with a school-wide fete of our own school maintenance manager, Ed Cummings. The day was "Mr. Ed's Day" and the PTA presented him with a new tool box, a gift certificate and many other tokens of appreciation for his caring concern of Winchester and our students. Our teachers also presented him with a gift certificate.

January 1985 started our Campbell Soup Label Contest headed by Linda Phillips and Lynn MacIver. It will continue until February 15, hoping to realize a goal of 22,500 labels.

Campbell's catalog has many fine items to choose from — playground equipment, books, records and more. Labels from each class will be totaled, and there will be pizzas and pop awarded an upper and lower elementary winning class with sodas for a runner-up class in each division. Many thanks to Lynn and Linda for all the counting.

Barb Weix slated January 24 as a roller skating party for Winchester students and their families at the Skatin' Station and also has another planned for March 12. Also, on January 24, the Junior Enrichment Series presented the Schoolcraft Gymnastic Team who gave a vigorous per-

CITY OF NORTHVILLE
NOTICE OF ENACTMENT

The City Council of the City of Northville, following a Public Hearing on Monday, January 21, 1985, at 8:00 p.m., in the Council Room of the Northville Municipal Building, 215 W. Main Street, has adopted an ordinance as follows:

AN ORDINANCE TO CREATE A FINANCE DEPARTMENT AND THE OFFICE OF FINANCE DIRECTOR, TITLE 2, CHAPTER 15 AS FOLLOWS:

The City of Northville Ordains:
Sec. 2-1501 CREATION OF DEPARTMENT — Pursuant to Section 4.6 of the City Charter, the Finance Department is hereby created.

With the objective that the financial interests of the City shall at all times be protected, the Finance Department shall be responsible for the keeping of the accounts and financial records, the disbursement of City funds, the control over expenditures and such other powers and duties as may be required by ordinance or resolution of the Council. Accounts shall be kept by the Department of Finance showing the financial transactions of all funds and activities of the city in accordance with the uniform system of accounts prescribed by the statutes and regulations of the State of Michigan.

Sec. 2-1501 CREATION OF OFFICE - The office of Finance Director is hereby created, as an administrative officer of the City.

Sec. 2-1503 APPOINTMENT OF FINANCE DIRECTOR - The Finance Director shall be appointed by the City Manager as provided in Section 4.6 (B) of the City Charter.

Sec. 2-1504 POWERS AND DUTIES - The Finance Director shall be responsible for the administration and operation of the Finance Department.

The Finance Director shall:

(1) Establish and maintain a general accounting system for the city government, which shall conform to any uniform system of accounting prescribed for cities by law.

(2) Act as advisor and chief assistant to the City Manager in the preparation of the annual budget document.

(3) Prescribe and supervise the keeping of detailed accounting records by City departments.

(4) Prepare a report for each financial quarter, or more often if circumstances warrant, showing the current financial condition of the City.

(5) Direct the investment of City funds within guidelines of the City Council.

(6) Approve all purchase orders as to the sufficiency of appropriations.

(7) Co-sign, with the City Treasurer, all checks or warrants for the disbursement of funds from the City's treasury.

(8) Audit the financial records of each administrative unit as he deems necessary.

(9) Have the authority to do all things that are necessary and incidental to carrying out the functions of the Finance Department.

(10) Perform such other duties as may be prescribed for him by the City Manager.

This Ordinance shall become effective ten (10) days after publication of its enactment.

Northville Public Schools will receive sealed proposals until: 3:00 P.M., local time, Thursday, February 7, 1985, at the offices of Northville Public Schools, 501 W. Main Street, Northville, Michigan 48167. Proposals received after that time will not be accepted. All proposals will be publicly opened and read aloud at the same time and place. All interested parties are invited to attend.

Proposed Contract Documents may be examined at the following locations during normal business hours by prospective Bidders:

a. The offices of:
Coquillard/Dundon/Peterson and Argenta
Architects and Engineers
3000 Town Center — Suite 1515
Southfield, Michigan 48075
Telephone: (313) 354-2441

b. The Construction Association of Michigan, Detroit, Michigan
c. F.W. Dodge Corporation, Detroit, Michigan
General Contract Bidders may secure copies of the proposed Contract Documents from the Architect-Engineer after November 12, 1984 on a loan basis as follows:

1. Three (3) copies of the Project Manual, plus three complete sets of prints of Drawings upon payment of $100.00 deposit, completely refundable if all sets are returned in good condition to the Architect-Engineer within five days after bid opening.

2. Additional copies of the Project Manual, including Specifications, plus additional sets of prints of the Drawings, for the cost of reproduction and handling, non-refundable.

3. No partial sets will be issued.

Each proposal must be accompanied by an acceptable bid security in the form of a certified check, cashiers check, or standard form bid bond, made payable to Northville Public Schools, 501 W. Main Street, Northville, Michigan 48167, in an amount of not less than five percent (5%) of the base bid submitted. Failure of any accepted Bidder to enter into contract for the work will cause forfeiture of his bid security. After contracts for the work have been signed, all bid securities will be returned.

The accepted Bidder will be required to furnish a satisfactory Performance Bond and Labor and Materials Payment Bond, each in an amount equal to 100% of his contract.

Rates of wages and fringe benefits to be paid to each class of mechanics employed in the project by the Contractor and all of his subcontractors shall be not less than the wage and fringe benefit rates prevailing in the locality in which the work is to be performed and as determined by the Michigan Department of Labor, all as per the Prevailing Wage Law, Act No. 166, PA of 1965, Amended 4-1-79. Refer to Prevailing Wage Determination included in the Project Manual.

Bids may be withdrawn up to the time and date of bid opening. After bid opening, bids may not be withdrawn for a period of 45 days thereafter.

The Owner reserves the right to waive any irregularity or informality in bids, to reject any and/or all bids, in whole or in part, or to award any Contract to other than the low bidder, should it be deemed in his best interest to do so.

COOKE

Cooke Junior High is proud to be sending four creative writers to the 10th annual conference for Young Authors to be held at the Dearborn campus of the University of Michigan April 30. Representing the seventh grade will be Jennifer Beyersdorf and Julie Howard; eighth grade, Andrea Reo; and ninth grade, Kim Harris. All four of these writers have submitted manuscripts which will be critiqued by professional writers and returned to them at the end of the conference.

February 12 the PTO and Cooke Junior High jointly are sponsoring a writing workshop for both students and teachers by Steve Tchudi, professor of English at Michigan State University. Dorothea Bach's seventh grade English students have put together a collection of their favorite cookie recipes in the form of a cookbook. Copies are available for a donation. All monies collected will be sent to help restore the Statue of Liberty.

Basketball season is in full swing at Cooke. The ninth grade team, coached by John Davidson, boasts a record of six wins and two losses. The seventh-grade team, coached by Cy Nichols, has a record of one win and five losses. The team has lost a couple of real close ones. Good luck, players, for the rest of the season.

Yearbooks are on sale, and $8.50 will reserve a copy. Checks only, please; make them out to Cooke Junior High.

Report cards will go home February 1. There is an Inservice Day February 21. There will be no school in the afternoon. Mid-winter break is February 22 and 23. Spirit Week at Cooke this year will be February 4-8. The ninth grade basketball team will play Meads Mill February 4. There will be various activities planned for each day of the week by the student council.

There will be a Valentine's Day Dance from 2:45-4:45 p.m. February 13. Admission will be $1.

Cooke PTO will be saying Happy Valentine's Day to all students and teachers with a valentine treat during lunch on February 14.

MEADS MILL

The next meeting of the PTSA will be at 9 a.m. February 13. Dr. George Bell and Nancy Soper will present an update on the middle school planning.

For the second year in a row the Meads Mill student council sponsored a holiday food drive. Students donated over 3,200 food items.

The food collected was donated to the Plymouth Salvation Army for distribution to needy families in this area. Thanks to the efforts and generosity of the students and parents of Meads Mill, the holiday season was much happier for many people.

Since each grade attained its quota for the drive, there was an activity held for the student body during the sixth hour January 24.

Seventh, eighth and ninth grade girls have signed up for intramural volleyball. Teams were selected, and the season got under way January 23. Games are played from 3-4 p.m.

An informational meeting was held January 16 in preparation for the Forensic season. Tryouts for the forensic team were January 22 and 24.

The Acting and Play Production class performed five plays for the Meads Mill student body. The play, "The Paper Kid," also was taken on the road and played for the students at Winchester Elementary. This same class, accompanied by Mr. Stover, attended the Wayne State production, "A Christmas Carol," at the Bonstelle Theatre on the Wayne State campus.

English students of Mr. Schwartz put together an audiovisual production of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. The premiere showing was December 18 with a second showing December 19. Parents of the students involved were invited.

The Meads Mill choir performed for the Silver Springs students December 13, and on the following Tuesday for Winchester students.

The library held a three-day book fair in December. On display were books, tapes, stamp collections, etc. Meads Mill students had an opportunity to do some early shopping.

NORTHVILLE HIGH

It was decided that dedication and hard work deserved to be publicly recognized; so a Northville High School Number 1 Club has been initiated. Its purpose will be to give recognition to students, faculty, parents and community members who have given of their time and energy to make the high school a better place in which to learn.

Nomination forms will be available in the general office of the high school. A selection committee of one administrator, one faculty member, four students (one from each grade level) and two parent advisory members will announce their selection(s) every month if an honoree has been chosen.

Recipients may be awarded at pep assemblies, basketball games, football games or at any other school activity where it would seem appropriate. If you should know of anyone deserving of this award, feel free to fill out a nomination form and submit it to the selection committee. All Northville organizations are welcome to do the same. Number 1 award winners will be publicized in the school showcase, school newspaper, P.A. announcements, school board meetings, Northville School District News and by any other appropriate means.

After several years of hiatus, efforts are under way to reintroduce high school students to their very own newspaper. Meetings are being conducted at 2:15 p.m. Wednesdays and Thursdays. All students interested in writing for the Mustang are invited to attend. Parents and administrators are hopeful the newspaper will have a successful new beginning.

Be sure to attend the exciting and, at most times, laughable Donkey Basketball game Saturday at 7:30 p.m. It will be juniors versus seniors. Tickets can be purchased at the high school for $2.50, students; and $3.50, adults. From all accounts given on last year's game it is an event you won't want to miss.

Students will be gearing up for another Spirit Week beginning February 11-15. The committee is already hard at work organizing lunch-time activities and identifying daily dress themes. A Junior Class Valentine Dance will cap off the week from 9:30-11:30 p.m. Friday, following the basketball game. Everyone is welcome to join in lunchtime activities as well as the pizza supper the Mothers' Club will be sponsoring on that Friday from 5-7:30 p.m., just before the game against Walled Lake Central.

The National Honor Society will conduct a fudge sale February 4-8.

Congratulations to Melanie Bennet and Kevin Murray, who were selected to participate in the Michigan High School State Honors Choir which performed at Ann Arbor's Hill Auditorium

January 19.

Rehearsals for the spring musical, "Wizard of Oz," have begun. Director Kurt Kinde, got an early start this year knowing the production would require many hours of practice and preparation before it will be ready for an audience. One last part needed to be filled, and auditions were held last week. By the end of the month we should hear who got the role of Toto, Dorothy's companion pooch. Play dates are March 22, 23, 29 and 30.

Mid-winter recess begins at the end of curriculum inservice day February 21 and continues through Monday, February 25. Classes resume February 26.

OUR LADY OF VICTORY

Our Lady of Victory School will be participating in the annual celebration of Catholic Schools Week February 3-8. This year's theme is "Sharing Vision—Teaching Values." Many activities celebrating the good news of Catholic Education have been planned.

The student body of Our Lady of Victory will be participating again this year in the "St. Jude Math-A-Thon." This event raises money that goes directly to St. Jude's Children's Hospital, where childhood diseases are treated free of charge.

The Science Fair at O.L.V. was held January 22-24. The exhibits were on display in the social hall for all parents and friends to view.

Students at Our Lady of Victory received their report cards today, ending the first semester.

The PTO of Our Lady of Victory will be having its Mid-Year General meeting February 13 at 7:30 p.m. in the social hall. A wine and cheese tasting party is planned to follow the meeting.

The sixth grade class at Our Lady of Victory has been studying the Old Testament in Religion class. A field trip to Temple Beth El is planned for February 19. There will be an opportunity for questions during the visit. Following the field trip, students will reflect on their experience and, illustrate a meaningful memory.

TAX TIPS

LEE E. HOLLAND, C.P.A.

PROPERTY TRANSFER IN DIVORCE

If you are in the process of getting a divorce, one of your major concerns will be the tax implications of the property settlement. Under current IRS rules, however, a major hindrance has been removed to fair property settlements. You will no longer owe a capital gains tax if you transfer appreciated property, such as a house or stocks, to each other during a divorce proceeding.

Avoiding capital gains tax used to be one of the most difficult and sometimes insurmountable problems in working out a property settlement. Sometimes it was necessary for one spouse to accept less property in order to cover his or her share of the tax cost. That is no longer necessary.

There are many other tax considerations you should be aware of, however, if you are negotiating a divorce settlement. You should be taking advantage of as many positive tax options as possible. For a full review of the tax implications of divorce, why not call us for an appointment.

Our Opinions

County park system renovation was due

Wayne County Executive William Lucas isn't going to reap many kudos around these parts, not with his call for increased use of Detroit House of Corrections. But it must be conceded, Lucas knows something about public relations.

One of the most glaring shortcomings of county operations over the last six years has been the upkeep of its parks. Since county offices are located in downtown Detroit, it is through Wayne County's institutional buildings and through the county park system that many western Wayne residents relate to their county government.

For the past several years, those residents haven't liked what they've seen in the parks. Facilities and grounds have deteriorated. Staff cutbacks have reduced security and supervisory personnel, and crime has proliferated.

But leave it to Lucas to elicit support wherever possible. In a smart move last summer, he hired Eric Reikel, award-winning director of Oakland County's flourishing parks and recreation program, to run the Wayne County department. At about the same time, Lucas and county commissioners agreed on a plan to more than double the annual parks and recreation budget, boosting it from around $1 million per year to $2.5 million a year by diverting funds from cutbacks in other county programs.

Reikel has been candid about the limited renovations the new parks budget will permit, admitting that recent improvements (such as the Cass Benton Park toboggan run in Northville) are more "cosmetic" than substantial. But, he correctly notes, such changes are important to spur public support for further improvements to the park system.

It appears to us Lucas' new appointee and his department are on the right track. Reikel already has said there are plans for landscaping and facilities improvements throughout the park system when weather permits. Because of the county's increased parks and recreation budget and because of Reikel, we believe there is good reason to be optimistic about the future of county parks.

It's good to see Northville directly benefit from a county service residents support through their taxes. That's reason enough to commend the department's new direction and those responsible for the changes. We suggest Northville residents make the most of it, and try out the toboggan run.

We'll miss Bill Craft

The retirement this week of longtime Amerman principal William Craft will mark the end of an era at Northville's oldest elementary school.

For nearly 17 years, Craft has guided both staff and students with a generous share of caring and devotion. Since taking over the principal's post in June, 1968, Craft has retained the school's quality learning atmosphere while taking a leadership role in other district programs.

With longtime Northville educator Florence Panattoni, Craft is considered the bulwark behind the district's ESY (Extended School Year) program. Initiated at Amerman in the early 1970s, the program eventually spread to all of Northville's school buildings before its demise in 1977 due to a declining enrollment.

Prior to his nearly two decades as a Northville administrator, Craft worked in the Detroit Public Schools and also served on the Livonia Board of Education.

Karen Wilkinson bids Bill Craft adieu

The longtime principal has indicated that after 35 years in education he hopes to pursue other interests. He has been a valuable asset to the Northville School District and no doubt will prove equally as successful in his new endeavors.

Best of luck, Mr. Craft. You will be missed.

Forty years of service

Northville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4012 was born exactly 40 years ago today in the final year of World War II. The 102 charter members joined in a spirit of concern for their fellow veterans and their families.

That caring has continued through the years as post members, assisted by the auxiliary, have given parties and remembered hospitalized veterans and have assisted others in obtaining veterans' benefits. Since 1954 in cooperation with the American Legion the post has cared for the veterans' plot in Rural Hill Cemetery where any local veteran may be buried.

With the American Legion the V.F.W. arranges an annual Memorial Day parade and service of remembrance. It supplies a marching unit for the Fourth of July parade.

Most recently, the post and auxiliary have donated $1,500 to assist in the city beautification project on South Main. The post building itself is getting a "facelift." Post 4012 indeed is a "good neighbor" in the community.

As Commander Carl Baker and his wife Cathy, who heads the auxiliary, planned the anniversary celebration held last Friday, they invited officials to join in the informal evening that blended fun with a feeling of accomplishment. The spirit of comradeship was very much in evidence. As City Manager Steve Walters observed, the Northville V.F.W. is to be commended as a veterans' organization and also as an outstanding civic organization in our community.

Happy anniversary, Post 4012.

More than a friend

By Kathy Jennings

Everyone has a number of different roles he or she fills. Personally, there is daughter, sister, friend and reporter. The role I enjoy most thoroughly is the "Big Sister" role.

Less than a mother, more than a friend — this role is perfect for those who don't feel guilty about racking up extravagant telephone bills.

There are few other roles where an individual can give out advice on: the immaturity of the male species — specifically and in general, tapping the creative process, and experiencing the frustration of recognizing there are times when there is nothing you can do to help a loved one. Three separate advice sessions, one for each sister, all in one week.

Frequently there are recurring themes to these discussions — the advice given to one sister can be recycled for use in a conversation with a second sister. Understanding the two types of friends is an example. This theory is based on accepting people as they are and not expecting them to be something they never will be.

There are two types of people, and they are very different kinds of friends. The first type makes friends for life. You can move half-way round the world and Type One will still be your friend. You can see the Type One friend once every six months, and it will seem as though you never parted.

The second type are friends of the moment. "Out of sight, out of mind" is their motto. Type Twos are just as close to their friends as Type Ones. Just like the first set, if you haven't seen them for six months, when you meet them again it will be as if you never parted. The difference is their close friends keep changing.

Because of their different understanding of the nature of friendship, Type Ones and Type Twos don't understand each other. The Type One friend that has moved out of the immediate sphere of influence of the Type Two becomes angry and hurt.

when that friend doesn't call. When confronted, the Type Two doesn't understand what Type One is upset about.

When you figure out whether you're dealing with a Type One or a Type Two, you can understand how to approach this friendship.

Then there is the advice I almost regret giving. Once in an idealistic fit I remember saying: "I don't care when or if you pay me back. The important thing is — when you can afford it — you give money to people who need it."

Theoretically, this has to do with taking what action you can to make your part of the world a little better place in which to live. In practicality, now that they can afford to pay you back, living with the advice you have promulgated requires the biting of one's tongue.

Husbands who wreck motorcycles as they learn to do wheelies is a topic which could take hours. It is best to offer no advice on such topics. A properly placed "Mmmh" is the correct way to handle such discussions. Taking her side now could lead to problems in the future, although you can safely get away with a general slur against men.

Reassurance that sometimes difficult decisions have to be made about a relationship and that it okay to be upset about it if the disturbance doesn't last too long, seems to be the only way to deal with broken hearts. What else can you say to someone who tells you: "He looked at me with loving eyes, but I couldn't say anything. So I just left."

She feels sorry for him, wanted to do so much more for him, and probably loves him. But she wasn't equipped to deal with his problems. So she left without telling him why. Maybe someday she'll be able to explain it. But not yet.

Is there any truth to this advice? Who knows. But it is life as I've experienced it, and my younger sisters seem to accept that.

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

The Detroit Free You-know-what ran a story Monday which I read with relish.

It seems a couple of chaps named Richard Gossage and Melvin Gunton have written a book called "Bedsmanship," which explains how couples with totally different sleeping habits manage to reconcile their differences and co-exist.

The person who wrote the article called a variety of individuals around the metropolitan area for examples of how they practiced the art of "bedsmanship."

One woman reported that her husband likes to keep the television set on all night. And another woman said she solved the problem of a snoring husband by wearing ear plugs. A Grosse Pointe dentist reported that his wife wakes up and prowls the house in the middle of the night. It seems like she ran into a total stranger in the house one night and, thinking it must have been one of her son's friends, engaged him in a lengthy conversation. When the dentist got up the next morning, he discovered the fellow had been there to burglarize the house and had made off with a television set.

But none of the people in the story had the same problem I do ... and that's why I was disappointed after reading it.

The problem is that nobody talked about the art of "bedsmanship" as it relates to pets, in general, or cats, in particular.

And now that Bonnie and Clyde have joined The Bowser as "indoor cats," the problem is getting worse. It was bad enough when I had to fight The Bowser for room on my side of the bed. But now that the Golden Boys have joined the fray, the problem has become ridiculous.

To make matters worse, the Golden Boys have a preference for sleeping on the pillows.

On any given night, we have a total of five heads, five bodies and 16 legs battling for space on the bed.

When I try to discuss the problem with my wife, she says she thinks it's nice that the cats like to sleep on the bed with us and suggests that we get a queen-sized mattress.

"Either that or somebody could sleep on the couch," she smiles sweetly. I can tell by the way she says it that she isn't about to tell Bonnie, Clyde or Bowser they will have to move.

Tutus, tiaras and toe shoes

By Michele Fecht

Since donning my first pair of ballet shoes at the age of four, I have always fantasized of being a prima ballerina. Though it's been many years since I've pas de deuxed my way across a hardwood floor, I still get chills up my spine at the sight of dancers on a stage.

Last Thursday's opening performance of "Alexander Gudonov and Stars" once again had me tripping down memory lane. Though the production could have used an art director and a technical mishap during the last number of Don Quixote distressed both the audience and the company's principal "star," there is no question that the dancing was superb.

While Gudonov lacks the finesse of a Nureyev, Panov or his former ABT colleague Baryshnikov, his dynamic stage presence carries him through. The other dancers, primarily two of the female leads, gave performances equal to those seen in much larger (and more affluent) companies.

The taped music and stark stage used by the Gudonov company is a far cry from the elaborate sets and orchestrated numbers of the New York City Ballet or the American Ballet Theatre.

However, the lack of staging did not dwarf the company's dancers. Though initially I was disappointed by the lack of spectacular settings, I soon came to appreciate that all my attention was focused on the dancers — not the background effects.

During more than a decade of ballet lessons, I did my fair share of dancing on an empty stage. Recitals, usually the culmination of the year's lessons, provided tiny dancers a chance to show off their hard work. If I recall correctly, I was a "snowflake" during my first recital performance. I danced with a corps of a dozen or so other preschoolers wearing multi-colored tutus embroidered with sequins. We also wore little silver tiaras on our heads.

The slides of that infamous recital still cause hysteria among my family members. Dimpled knees, chubby thighs and a pixie haircut hardly muster images of Pavlova. I'm just thankful we don't have home movies to show the neighbors.

While my "snowflake" performance hardly caused a rumble in the dance world, it proved the beginning of a lifelong love affair with ballet. During the next 10 years, I came to appreciate the discipline, hard work and dedication needed to achieve even the slightest success as a dancer.

Before taking over as dance instructor at Detroit Country Day, my teacher Barbara McCall Seaver taught out of a little studio in downtown Birmingham. Throughout elementary and junior high school, that studio provided a sanctuary for those of us hoping to rid our frustrations.

Like most ballet studios, it was long and narrow. One side of the room was mirrored while the other was adorned with Degas prints. Ballet bars extended along both walls and a grand piano tucked in the corner provided us with Mozart, Brahms and Schumann.

Back in those days, leotards came in basic black in two styles — scoop or high neck. Tights were pink with seams down the back (always straight) and hair was always tied back or worn in a chignon. The studio's wood floor always gleamed despite the marks left by toe shoes covered with rosin.

I'll never forget the feeling which seemed to take hold as I walked into that room. Though I never became a prima ballerina and abandoned ballet for cheerleading, Sadie Hawkins dances and other high school nonsense, I still remember the little girl standing before the mirror waiting for the command.

... now dance.

Church program is recommended

To the Editor:

I would like to share my warm feelings regarding the "Welcome Home: An Outreach Program for Former Catholics" currently being held at Our Lady of Victory Parish Hall on Sunday afternoons from 2-4 p.m. The first session's non-judgmental atmosphere lent itself to the free and honest expression of the people present, exchanging thoughts about their current status with the Church and their belief in God.

For anyone who thought of some day coming back to the Church, I strongly encourage you to attend next Sunday's gathering. It's well worth the time you'll have to sacrifice from your family to explore with others whether or not the Catholic Church can be a meaningful and relevant part of your life once again.

Yours truly,
Jacqueline George

She has golden asset

To the Editor:

A compassionate, caring lady, Marlene Kunz, has dedicated many, many hours to the Northville Area Senior Citizen Program.

Though plagued by back and health problems, Marlene's zest for service for her senior citizens did not deter.

Though health problems have made it necessary for Marlene to relinquish the position as Senior Citizen Coordinator, she will always be remembered as having the golden asset of caring for her fellow man.

Sincerely,

Dorothy Tilney Gault
EDITOR'S NOTE: At this time Marlene Kunz still is Senior Citizen Coordinator as the Northville Senior Citizens' Area Council has not met to consider any request that may be pending.

Firm seeking water service

working here," he said. "Some people don't like drinking well water. I don't mind it, I drink it myself. But if you have 50 people, some will not like it and will not be happy."

Township supervisor Susan Heintz said she would like Normac to stay in the township, but the water and sewer department has told her providing township water to the site "is virtually impossible" due to the topography.

The city council denied an extension of water service to the site on the advice of city manager Steve Walters, who said Normac presently receives city public works and police services "by default" and should logically be annexed to the city.

Walters said Tuesday that when he delivered the city's rejection of Normac's request, Pruchno "didn't indicate any great interest" in annexing to the city. Normac is immediately west of Farmer's Cider Mill. The cider mill property is partially in the city and partially in the township, and receives city water and sewer service.

The city manager said there has been no approach to the cider mill owners regarding annexation. Considering the topography of the area and where the township-city boundary was drawn, Walters said it "is kind of difficult to see why they wouldn't have used Griswold as the dividing line, rather than using lot lines. I guess you'd have to ask the people who were here back in 1932" when the line was drawn.

Pruchno said "I still hope it work out so that we can get city water." He noted that states and municipalities regularly compete to have developments such as General Motors' Saturn project locate in their communities, offering such enticements as free land and reduced property taxes.

"I'm not asking for free land, I'm not even asking for free water," he said. "I feel that I'm here now and would like to stay, but I need city water."

Delay in tax payment causes loss of deduction

homeowners have been paying into the escrow accounts all year and that the amount should be deductible, but evidently the IRS is saying they have to be paid within the calendar year."

Heintz said many homeowners found out about the late payment only by examining the annual statement on their escrow accounts. "They looked at their escrow statements and saw that the money hadn't been paid out of it," she said. "They call here and we have to tell them the taxes haven't been paid."

Don McNeft, owner of McNeft Accounting Service at 200 South Main in Northville, said he is advising clients not to deduct their property tax payments if the mortgage company did not pay them in time.

"I did some research on it," McNeft said. "I couldn't find anywhere in my tax books where it said escrow payments would be enough to claim a deduction. I called the IRS in Detroit and was told 'absolutely not.' The representative I talked to said no deduction could be allowed if the taxes were not paid prior to December 31."

McNeft said "there have been some inquiries made to senators and congressmen attempting to get an exception in this case, but I don't think that will happen. I don't think the IRS wants to open the door to making escrow payments deductible."

The immediate impact on homeowners with Empire of America mortgages will be that they are unable to deduct the winter property taxes this year. Tax payments made this year will be deductible on income tax returns filed in 1986, and homeowners may find they are claiming two years of property tax on next year's returns.

"As of right now, they lose whatever the value of the deduction is this year, and use of the money until next year, but they'll collect it on the 1985 return," McNeft said. "One saving item is that it doesn't affect State of Michigan income taxes. The State of Michigan allows the claim on the homestead property tax exemption, whether it was paid in 1984 or not. It's always been that way."

COUGH MEDICINES

The ability to cough is extremely important in clearing the lungs and throat. There are times, however, when a cough can be bothersome and possibly dangerous. A dry, "nonproductive" cough which is common in the winter months is more of a nuisance than it is a threat to health.

Medicines which suppress the normal cough reflex are called antitussives. Such medicines provide symptomatic relief but generally do not treat the underlying cause of the problem. A persistent cough could be the result of a virus, reaction to smoke or other environmental pollutants, or possibly the existence of such medical conditions as cystic fibrosis, congestive heart failure, or other conditions.

Difficult coughs often respond to dextromethorphan, a non-narcotic compound found in many prescription and nonprescription cough formulas. Severe coughs will often respond to the narcotic-type antitussives such as codeine, hydrocodone, and related ingredients. These agents suppress the cough by their action on the brain's cough center.

Stopping a cough may not be the easiest or even the best thing to do. Check with your pharmacist or physician first.

Downs clerk banned from tracks for life

By B.J. MARTIN

Northville Downs racetrack operators last week fired a parimutuel teller in order to comply with the Michigan Racing Commissioner's order the teller be permanently banned from the state horse racing industry.

The action was taken against Northville Downs employee Basil Fattaleh, a Milford resident. Fattaleh, who has also worked at other Detroit-area tracks, was one of four tellers convicted in Federal District Court last year for falsifying parimutuel receipt forms.

On several occasions between October and December, 1978, Fattaleh was found to be engaging in a scam often referred to as "10 percenting."

The scam works like this: in instances where a bet pays off at higher than 300-to-one odds, bettors are required to file a 5754 Form for income tax purposes.

Under 10 percenting, the teller agrees to conceal the winnings on the form — thereby shielding evidence of taxable income from the Internal Revenue Service — in return for a cut of the winnings, customarily 10 percent.

Following hearings on Fattaleh's case, Michigan Racing Commissioner William Ballenger decided to use for the first time the fullest disciplinary powers granted his office by Section Two of the 1980 Michigan Racing Law.

"The section gives the Racing Commissioner the authority to order tracks to take action against people who have a detrimental effect on the reputation of the industry," Ballenger explained yesterday.

"We reached the conclusion (at hearings on the case) that this person had been convicted, and that there was no identifiable evidence he was no longer engaging in this activity. Mr. Fattaleh did not say whether he had stopped or not. He did not testify either way.

"So I sent the order last week he be given a lifetime ban from working at Michigan tracks. Northville Downs notified me they have complied with that order."

Since the section has not been tested previously, Ballenger is uncertain of how effectively his office can enforce it.

"It's possible one of the other tracks could try to hire him this spring," Ballenger said. "But any track that does runs the risk of having its reputation sullied."

The three other tellers convicted are Neal Kalish of Brighton, James Gammachia of Harper Woods, and Bennie Zizzio of Warren. Ballenger has yet to make a decision on whether they too will face further disciplinary action.

Police Blotters

Diamond chain heisted from jeweler's

In the Township...

A gold and diamond chain valued at $1,500 was stolen from a Seven Mile jewelry store during a break-in early Thursday morning, township police report.

Police were dispatched to the scene at 6:46 a.m. January 24 by the store's alarm company which reported that an alarm went off.

Police at the scene found the front plate glass window smashed. One glass display case was observed on the sidewalk outside the window. Police noted the case was broken and the contents missing.

Officers checked both doors which were secure and entered the building through the broken window. It was noted in the police report that the interior of the store was in good order with nothing else missing. Police concluded that the suspect(s) had not entered the building.

Upon arriving at the scene, the jewelry store owner confirmed that the gold chain was the only item stolen. The chain contained 16 diamonds in a "V" shape.

Damage to the store was estimated at $600.

Items valued at $850 were stolen from a Five Mile business sometime between 3 p.m. January 16 and 2:30 p.m. January 24, township police report.

The complainant told police unknown person(s) gained entry to the business by pulling the wood off a boarded up window on the west side of the building.

Police at the scene checked the interior of the building and observed broken glass on a counter beneath the point of entry. Nothing in the building appeared to have been disturbed.

The complainant further stated that when he discovered the building had been broken into, he found the rear door unlocked. He told police the rear door always was locked.

Items stolen included a gum ball machine valued at $300 and an Amana microwave estimated to be worth $550.

Unknown person(s) caused an estimated $1,000 damage to a 1985 Ford Thunderbird parked in front of a Northview residence sometime between 5 p.m. January 25 and 9:30 a.m. January 26, police report.

The complainant told police the vehicle was parked in the roadway in front of her residence at the time the incident occurred.

Vehicle damage included a broken left tail light, a dent in the left quarter panel, damage to the grill and a headlight as well as a dent in the left corner of the trunk.

Unknown person(s) caused an estimated $300 damage to a 1983 Pontiac Grand Prix parked in front of a Winchester residence sometime between 2 and 10 a.m. January 27, police report.

The complainant told police unknown person(s) broke the driver's side and rear windows out of the vehicle.

He further noted he did not see or hear anything unusual and police were uncertain what was used to break the window.

...From State Police

A 21-year-old Livonia woman suffered minor injuries when she lost control of her car on I-96 west of Novi Road January 21, according to state police.

Laura Kay Haycock told police she was driving at 55 miles per hour in the westbound lanes at about 12:20 p.m. when she lost control of her car on ice at the railroad overpass. Police noted a steady snowfall at the time Haycock's car hit the guardrail on the overpass. She suffered minor cuts and bruises but refused an offer to call an ambulance and sought medical attention on her own.

Police issued a citation for violation of the basic speed law — driving too fast for conditions.

...In the City

Theft of a Farberware convection oven sometime between 3:30 p.m. and midnight January 18 from Foundry Flask and Equipment Company on Cady was reported to police January 19.

Tf $333 oven taken from the work area "belonged to the employees" who had paid for it, police were told.

A West Main resident reported the theft of a radar detector from an automobile parked in front of the residence January 18. Police noted that a window on the driver's side had been broken with a brick to gain access.

FAMILYWORKS COUNSELING CENTER is now seeing clients at 25972 Novi Road, Suite 205, in Novi.

Operated by Pam Curran, MSW, and Pat Hinzy, MA and MSW, Familyworks Counseling Center offers individual, family, marital, child and group therapy based on the family systems model. A 20-minute consultation to determine the most appropriate therapy will be provided at no fee and referrals will be made to outside agencies when needed.

Curran is a family therapist, previously associated with the Counseling Resource Center in Walled Lake. A graduate of the University of Michigan with a Master's degree in social work, she has had experience in a variety of settings, both private and public, with families and adolescents.

Hinzy is an employee of the Oakland County Youth Assistance program. She has a Master's degree in Guidance and Counseling from Wayne State University and a Master's degree in social work. Her experience includes working with families referred by police departments, schools and the juvenile court system.

Both have received substance abuse training from Fairlane Health Services, Henry Ford Hospital. Additional training includes numerous workshops as well as classes from Ann Arbor Center for the Family and the Family Institute of Southeastern Michigan.

Appointments can be scheduled by calling 348-4133.

DON WALSH, service manager at Jefferson Chevrolet, retired January 1 after 38 years of service.

Walsh has the record as the longest term employee of Ray Tessmer, owner of Jefferson Chevrolet. He was honored at a retirement party on December 28.

Walsh resides in Wixom with his wife, Marie, and youngest son, Matthew.

AUTOMOBILE CLUB of Michigan travel counselors Mary Ellen Rogacki and Kitty Jensen of Northville recently attended a rail booking procedures seminar and familiarization tour at the Amtrak Reservation Center in Chicago.

They were among 60 AAA counselors who learned about rail schedules, booking procedures and other aspects of rail travel in the day-long seminar. Two Amtrak trains transported the group to Chicago from various locations in Michigan.

"By mid-January, 1985, Amtrak tickets will be available at 53 of our offices statewide," said Auto Club Travel and Sales Promotion Manager Charles Lentz. "This is a good addition to our travel program which already includes air, bus and cruise tickets and packages." Rogacki is a world travel counselor at the Westland Branch. Jensen is a world travel counselor at the Livonia Branch.

Report changes to SSI

As the new year begins, Social Security Supplement (SSI) officials are issuing a reminder that you must report if:

- You move.
- You start or stop working or the amount of your earnings changes.
- Any beneficiary dies or becomes unable to handle benefits.
- You are confined to a jail, prison, penal institution or correctional facility for conviction of a felony.
- A person for whom you are filing or who is in your care dies, leaves your care or custody, or changes addresses.
- Your marital status changes — by marriage, divorce or annulment of marriage.
- You have cash, bank accounts, bonds, property other than your home, or other belongings totaling $1,600 or more ($2,400 or more if you are married and living with your spouse), beginning January 1, 1985.

To report these changes and any other changes that affect your SSI payment, contact your local Social Security office. You can report by phone, mail or in person. Phone numbers and addresses are listed in the telephone book under Social Security Administration.

Social Security officials state that changes should be reported as soon as they happen. If they are not reported within 10 days after the month they happen, a penalty may be assessed.

Breakfasts go over big at D's Colonial Cafe in Highland Township

Highland cafe has winning recipe

By SUSAN KAUPPILA

The economy was in a recession three years ago this spring, but that didn't stop Diane McBride from launching her own business.

Although she admits she had some trouble scraping together enough money to open D's Colonial Cafe on Milford Road in Highland Township, McBride probably worked even harder to succeed because of the tough times.

"We had Wayne's (her husband) salary from Numatics Incorporated to live on, but I figured if I did so much per day, I could pay my bills," she explained. "I really wanted to make a go of it."

Deciding to capture the early morning trade, McBride offered a stick-to-your-ribs breakfast special of two eggs, bacon, ham or sausage, real home fries and two slices of toast with jelly for $2.25.

The special caught on, along with good service, free coffee refills, and a cheerful atmosphere. Today her restaurant boasts a big trade.

McBride says she cooks at least 300 breakfasts on weekends when people often wait in line to get a seat. Her husband, Wayne, lends a helping hand at the grill on Sundays, and their children from previous marriages (ages 9, 12, 13 and 14) pitch in when things are really hectic.

"We make everything from scratch," McBride said, which accounts for her starting a typical day at 4:30 or 5 a.m.

By 6 a.m., many of McBride's "regulars" are there, drinking coffee and reading a newspaper while she and her six employees scurry to feed everyone.

Later, road commission workers and school bus drivers arrive, along with numerous business people. On weekends it is a favorite after-church stop.

Considering the fact that her restaurant only holds 38 customers, it is somewhat amazing that McBride's weekly orders include 13 cases of eggs (15 dozen per case), 1,200 pounds of potatoes, 210 pounds of bacon, 100 pounds of sausage and 200 pounds of ham.

Other breakfast offerings include omelets, French toast, pancakes, and biscuits and gravy.

For lunch, customers can choose a daily special such as beef tips and noodles, liver and onions, sandwiches, burgers, Coney Islands with chili sauce and homemade soup. The most expensive item on the menu is a strip steak sandwich with fries at $4.29.

What makes D's Restaurant popular? Don Barnes, a regular customer, knows exactly what it is. "I think it's the food. You never leave here hungry."

The potatoes are real, too — none of that instant stuff. And best of all, you don't pay an arm and a leg," he said.

McBride says good service also accounts for her restaurant's success. "It's hard work. My girls and I are on our feet, running all day. I've hired three or four men, but they don't seem to want to work."

"They can't keep up with us," added waitress Jane Wingate.

"I try to give people the same thing I'd want if I went out to eat," McBride continued, "and they get it. It's plain and simple — nothing fancy — but lots of it."

Asked how she learned to cook, McBride chuckles. "Raising kids... you learn how!"

As a wife and mother, McBride must also juggle her schedule at home. On her two days off, she does paperwork from her business, along with the laundry, housecleaning and chauffeuring their youngsters.

Despite the long days, hard work and frustrations as a business person, McBride would not change her life.

"I am very happy. I enjoy what I'm doing. A lot of great people come in here," she concluded.

D's Colonial Cafe is located at 1415 South Milford Road (south of M-59) in Highland Township. Hours are 6 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Fridays; Saturdays 7 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Sundays 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. The restaurant is leased from 2 p.m. on for dinners.

The Widow

The miniature stars and stripes
Saunter heroically in the breeze;
Soldiers of patriotism—
Saluting the stones
Which forever overshadow them.

The hoary granite stone
With its brothers
It does stand
On God's Acre.

Cries of pain ring endlessly out
Shattering the dead air.
The widow crouches
Beside her stone—
The ravaging memories endure.

Like a mother with child
She caresses the stone;
Holding ever tighter—
She rocks back and forth aimlessly
Unable to let go.

Their wedding day and honeymoon
Creep slowly back to mind.
And with each comes
The tears of anguish—
Uncontrollable.

The rain beats down commandingly
But she does not move—
She rocks back and forth aimlessly
Unable to let go.

The moon ascends
And stars appear
Bejeweling the Heavens
But she does not notice their beauty—
She rocks back and forth aimlessly

A muffled voice
Disturbs the silence
Barely able to be heard
"Tom ... I LOVE YOU"
It says in a grief-stricken tongue—
She rocks back and forth aimlessly
Unable to let go.

Paul Franklin

Some Slant

The other day I saw a tree
Walking from a Country lot
And human legs were under it
Of the owner who'd just bought
With spirits high. He'd cut his own
He needed nothing more
Till slanted base made it misfit
He wished for the artificial one at the store.

F.A. Hasenau

Who Would?

Who'll take the old folks. Who? Who? Who?
You know all of us would. True. True. True
Let's get together. The family
Will get it settled. Just watch and see.
We've such a big clan, there's sure more than one,
Willing, yes anxious, for giving back fun.
Remember we thought they couldn't wear out?
But see them walk. Arthritis or gout?
He helps her along; her memory fades
Of her homemade cookies, candy and apple pie trades
Or rocking a child's illness away, mending a tear
Kissing away sores from falls to calm a fear.
Wonderful parents, didn't we love them?
Isn't it awful. They've each been a gem!
You said you don't want them. Who? Who?
Who?

None of you answer me. You, you, you.
In this large family, they want just a room
With sun and flowers. Not a sudden tomb—
A chair at the window; they've lost speed with sight.
A window is their outlet from morning to night.
Oh, who is to take them, now they are old?
All they want is love's shield from the cold
And feeling better at night in the same bed.
Lend me your Kleenex; now one is dead.
Who'll take the other one. Who? Who? Who?
You said you don't want one; who?
You or you?

F.A. Hasenau

Kit on the Keys

When I'm feeling gloomy
I sit down at the keys,
Up and down the scales I run
To put my hands at ease.

Now a couple of 'etudes
Not played since I was at school,
I got them right, too,
(Well, as a general rule).

A Beethoven sonata
(Played loud)
Will always dispel gloom
But it also chases away
(I'm afraid)

MIND GAMES

By KATHY JENNINGS

Be careful. The way you are holding this newspaper may reveal some of your innermost psychological secrets.

Research has not yet conclusively shown what it means if you hold your newspaper open with one page in each hand. And it hasn't explained what we're telling others if we fold a newspaper in half to read it.

But undoubtedly someone will soon solve this mystery. After all, psychologists can analyze our personalities by our favorite color, our favorite drink, the kind of pet we own, our blood type, our sibling rank, our hair color, the type of fruit we prefer, the way we dress...

It seems every time we pick up a new magazine there's one more test that will "help unlock the secrets of your soul." Are any of these tests accurate and why do they hold a fascination for readers of newspapers and popular magazines?

Psychologist Paul Schubert, Ph.D., said the tests are a favorite among readers of popular magazines because of our natural curiosity about ourselves and how we compare with others.

"People want to find out if they belong. They're asking themselves: 'How do I fit in?' People want to be a little different from others, but they still want to be able to identify."

A major attraction of tests and stories promising to "unlock the mysteries of your true personality" is that they are entertaining, Schubert said. "You could headline this story 'psychological half-truths can be lots of fun.'"

Schubert likened some popular psychological tests to parlor games. "They catch people's attention. They have the same kind of appeal as horoscopes, even though they can't be scientifically validated."

Under the "glaring eye of careful measurement" Schubert said results of such tests fall apart. "Even the best designed tests are no more than a better estimate than more loosely designed ones."

Most of the tests found in magazines and newspapers are designed with a common sense approach. A person reading through the test results will find enough truth in it to believe it, according to Schubert.

At the same time, the psychologist does not dismiss such tests, since they encourage people to think and evaluate certain aspects of their lives.

"They can help people get into general areas of their lives. It might be helpful in a general way, but they're not something to base one's life decisions on."

One reason popular psychological tests cannot be taken too seriously is that they are not conducted under controlled conditions. Secondly, psychologists look at more than test results as they work with their clients.

"Even in a clinical setting, testing is only a tool. No one relies entirely on test results. We look at other things, such as observed behavior. Tests don't measure certain things."

Results of a mental ability test would be compared to actual grades achieved in school, Schubert explained. A person who tests high could be receiving low marks, showing he is not applying himself, while a person who tests low could receive high marks, showing he is a hard worker.

Schubert notes that even results from scientific studies cannot be considered to apply to everyone. "You have to be careful about pushing (such findings) too far. What may generally apply to 1,000 people, may not be accurate for individuals within that sample of 1,000."

Do people really expect answers to life's mysteries from these tests? Maybe.

"We are going through rapid social changes — this is a period where we're moving back and forth. People are looking for anchors. Test results are looked on as 'scientific' and that's appealing."

But Schubert cautions against seeking easy answers. "The world is changing so rapidly that we have to be very careful; there are few things that follow universal principles."

The following psychological information may not change your life, but as all those magazines say: "It could help you understand yourself a little better."

MELANIN

For all of you who think you are the masters of your own destiny — think again. The melanin in your body may have more control over your personality than you do.

Studies show coloring — especially your eye and hair coloring — and personality traits are related.

Some psychologists now believe the link between coloring and personality is melanin — the chemical that gives color to skin, hair and eyes. Melanin has been found in almost every organ of the body and is believed to play a role in the central nervous system. Some researchers believe that as the amount of melanin in the body increases, the tendency toward certain behavior becomes stronger.

Most of the research in this area has focused on eye color, because some believe the eye's close proximity to the central nervous system make it a good predictor of the amount of melanin in the system.

One psychologist says, generally speaking, light-eyed people are deliberate and dark-eyed people are more responsive. Light-eyed people selectively and slowly absorb their surroundings, while dark-eyed people respond to everything all at once.

Psychologists believe melanin speeds up messages sent along the nervous system. The more melanin a person has in his system, the faster he can and does react to certain stimuli.

In one study, a psychologist found light-eyed people made better pitchers and those with dark eyes were better batters. Among professional basketball players, those with light eyes sank more free throws and those with dark eyes scored more field goals. Light-eyed players excelled when concentration was needed, and dark-eyed players performed best when speed was required.

Another study showed dark-eyed people excel at tasks that demand spontaneity, novel solutions and speed. But they can be more easily influenced by other's opinions. They also are more easily aroused by what they see and hear.

In a study of children, it was found light eyes have better language skills, while dark-eyed children play better and have better fine-motor coordination. In a test of learning certain behaviors by watching others, dark-eyed people seemed to learn behaviors faster, but light-eyed people maintained them longer.

In yet another study, light-eyed, light-haired people tend to be more interested in math, sciences and crafts, while dark-eyed people were more apt to study history and religion.

Clinical psychologist A.L. Gary explains there is a great deal to learn about melanin, but with the information being gathered people can identify their strengths and enhance them. They also can learn to be of area in which they will develop more slowly.

COLOR

preferences give an understanding of your personality.

FIRST CHOICE

BLUE — Somewhat cautious in the way you dress, act and speak. A person with a need for a calm, harmonious tension-free existence. You are a conscientious worker in whatever you do. You make a loyal, trustworthy friend, but can be impatient with other's ideas if they differ from yours. You can be skeptical of strangers and prefer people with backgrounds similar to yours. Happiness is not viewed as a natural state, so you're delighted when it occurs.

Color can be the key to unlocking the secrets of your personality. Some scientific studies show color psychology offers clues to who you really are. Color tests have standard shades of particular colors. Since color doesn't always reproduce in a specific shade on newsprint — we'll just have to imagine. For that reason we're not guaranteeing the results and we're not sure what the developer of the test, Alfred W. Munzert, would think.

Imagine: Blue, Red, Black, Green, Brown, Yellow, Gray and Purple. Decide which is your favorite. Then choose your second favorite. The color you chose first describes your basic personality traits. It reveals the image you show to other people. It tells the methods you use to achieve your goals and your personality style. Your second choice shows what your goal is. Together the first and second color

BLOOD

Nomi, has written 28 books on blood based horoscopes. He maintains:

• Type O's are very discriminating and form friendships cautiously. Japanese bosses prefer type-O employees because they are more easily managed than type A's and easier to manage than type B's or type AB's.

• Type A's are perfectionists and the most susceptible to stress. In Japan most executives are type-A's.

• Type B's are self-assertive and independent. They need freedom and hate structured environments. They frequently are creative individuals.

• Type AB's usually are more objective thinkers. They frequently will seek a consensus as part of decision making.

It is yet to be seen whether blood-type analysis will catch on in the United States where most people are type O.

Americans read horoscopes, but the Japanese seem to think blood types are more revealing. Some of that country's business managers are even using it in the workplace as a tool in employee relations.

Based on a theory developed 50 years ago, this personality indicator says human behavior is determined by a person's blood type. One author, Toshitaka

PETS

Some people say they can always tell a cat lover when they see one.

And now one psychologist says there may be something to that.

Aline Kidd studied 50 pet owners who chose to own only dogs, cats, horses, birds, turtles or snakes. The pet owners described themselves to Kidd by picking adjectives from a list she provided. The results were analyzed by a computer to find how the personality traits of one kind of pet owner compared to traits of other groups of pet owners. The results also were compared to find if there were differences among the various groups based on the gender of the pet owners.

So how can you tell a cat owner? Both male and female cat owners are autonomous and less "people-involved" than dog owners.

Male dog owners and male horse owners turned out to be aggressive and dominant. But female dog owners were extremely nurturing. Females who show horses, however, tend to be aggressive and dominant.

Both male and female bird owners are sociable and chatty. There are differences between the two, however. Male bird owners are moderately aggressive and dominant. Female bird owners are excessively dominant.

What about turtle owners? They are upwardly mobile, step-at-a-time people, considered capable of routine.

And snake owners are not as bizarre as some would think. They are novelty seeking, however. They are the kind of person who would do best in a job where they never know what is going to happen.

JOHN KLARR, PATRICIA PRIGEON

LINDA MARIE BROWNELL

Couple sets spring wedding date

Patricia Sue Prigeon of 878 Yorktown, Northville, and her fiancé John Albert Klarr of Livonia are planning a May wedding.

Their engagement was announced at the annual Labor Day party at the Klarr cottage on Sandy Bottom Lake in South Lyon.

Dr. Prigeon is the daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Glenn A. Prigeon of Omaha, Nebraska. She is a 1973 graduate of Omaha Northwest High School. She received her B.S. degree in biology from Baylor University in Waco, Texas, in 1977, and her M.D. degree from University of Nebraska Medical School in 1980. Her internship and residency were at the University of Michigan. She will start a residency in anesthesiology at the U-M July 1.

Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin J. Klarr of Livonia. He is a 1971 graduate of Livonia Stevenson High School and a 1975 graduate of Western Michigan University with a BA in history. He received his JD degree from Wayne State University Law School in 1978. While at WMU, he affiliated with Delta Upsilon fraternity and currently is a trial attorney at the firm of Jacobs and Miller in Southfield.

Favorite color can reveal personality type

BLACK — Dissatisfied. You don't like your present circumstances and feel pressured by outside forces. You are rebelling against the acceptance of things as they are. You would like to control your own destiny. You may conceal your real personality and emotions from others. You carry yourself with dignity. It is difficult for you to be carefree, but you perpetuate an image of wit and cleverness.

GREEN — Stable, balanced and persistent. A person who finishes something when they start it. A good citizen, a respectable neighbor and a concerned parent. You tend to be frank, moral and conscious of social etiquette. Even though you like to hear others' scandals, your reputation is very important to you. You are an affectionate and loyal friend, lover and spouse.

BROWN — Steady and reliable, with a strong sense of responsibility and duty. This could lead others to take advantage of you. Naturally talented in money management. Home and family are important because you need security and a sense of belonging.

YELLOW — Intellectual, idealistic and highly imaginative. A person who yearns for the new and the modern. This is the color of creative and artistic individuals. You may appear aloof because you may be shy and hesitant with other people. You are motivated by high ideals and are likely to theorize rather than take action. You could easily overindulge in fantasy.

GRAY — Would like to conceal yourself from others. Reluctant to become involved and avoids complete commitments. Participation in most things is superficial and detached. You can appear to be merely going through the motions.

PURPLE — Highly sensitive, observant and temperamental. A person who believes himself or herself apart and unique among others. You are generally tolerant, but can be quite sarcastic. Probably you are talented artistically, and for you fantasy is preferable to reality. Behavior can be inconsistent or indecisive. You enjoy impressing others by displaying creativity, glamor or authority. You confide freely in close friends, but they probably don't understand you easily.

SECOND CHOICE

BLUE — Your goal is a harmonious life that is free from strife.

RED — You want a life of adventure that is full of activity.

BLACK — Your primary goal in life is to avoid being dominated and have your lifestyle influenced by others.

GREEN — Recognition and acceptance of your views is your goal.

BROWN — You are motivated primarily by a need for security, physical and mental comfort.

YELLOW — Your goal is to be involved in activities that are new and hold a promise of an improved future.

GRAY — Your objective is to be uninvolved with the pressures of life and society.

PURPLE — Your primary goal is to fascinate and enchant others.

Engagement announced

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Fred Brownell of 45333 Galway announce the engagement of their daughter Linda Marie to James Dillon Gleeson of Canton.

He is the son of Mrs. Marge Gleeson of Canton and the late Harold Gleeson.

The bride-to-be is a 1979 graduate of Northville High School and a 1983 graduate of Michigan State University with a B.A. degree in advertising. She is employed as media coordinator at Young and Rubicam in Detroit.

Her fiancé is a 1979 graduate of St. Mary of Redford and a 1984 graduate of MSU where he received his B.S. degree in mechanical engineering. He is employed at Hoyem-Basso Associates, Incorporated, in Troy.

A May 17, 1986, wedding date has been set.

College sessions for single parents

The Women's Resource Center of Schoolcraft College is continuing its program for single parents, both men and women. Through classes and networking sessions, the Single Parent program is designed to help single parents deal more effectively with their existing resources.

Topics to be presented during the Winter 1985 semester are:

- Sex Education for Parents, eight sessions, beginning Saturday, February 2, 10 a.m. to noon, Room B465, Liberal Arts Building. Fee $28.75 resident; $39.50 non-resident.

- Income Tax Preparation, one session, Tuesday, February 5, 8-10 p.m., Room F130, Forum Building. No charge.

- Single Parent Networking, eight sessions, beginning February 6, 7-10 p.m., Room B260, Liberal Arts Building. Fee $43.12 resident; $59.25 non-resident.

- Job Search, four sessions, beginning March 7, 8-10 p.m., Room F130, Forum Building. Fee $15.

MR. AND MRS. TERRY SMITH

Vows read in California

The marriage of Kelly Beatrice Sansing and Terry Christopher Smith, both of Provo, Utah, was sealed in the Oakland Latter Day Saints Temple in California on December 18.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sansing of Tulare, California. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane B. Smith of 22529 Deerfield, Novi.

For the holiday-season, double-ring ceremony the bride wore a long-sleeved, satin gown made by her sister, Mrs. Darren Wardell. It was trimmed with lace that matched the lace train. She carried a white and teal blue bouquet fastened to a lace umbrella.

The bridegroom's sister, Nora Smith of Novi, was maid of honor in a teal blue satin gown with puff sleeves. Made by her mother, it featured three rows of ruffles on the full skirt.

Brian Pickett of Provo was best man. A reception for 100 friends and relatives was held December 22 in the Tulare Latter Day Saints Chapel.

After three days of skiing at Lake Tahoe, the newlyweds joined the bridegroom's parents for a trip to Monterey and Big Sur area in California.

The couple met when both were students at Ricks College in Idaho in 1981-82.

The bride expects to be graduated from Brigham Young University in April with a degree in recreation management.

The bridegroom is a 1981 graduate of Novi High School and currently is attending Utah Technical College in preparation for entering Life Chiropractic College in Marietta, Georgia, in August of this year.

He served a mission for the Latter Day Saints church in the Oakland Mission.

The newlyweds are making their home in Provo.

Yangtze gives traveler varied views of China

For those who have heard tales of rising at dawn on tours of the People's Republic of China and questioned if they had the necessary stamina, or who may wish to see more than the usual tourist attractions, Judy Wyman, a veteran of 16 trips to China, has a suggestion: travel by boat.

"Traveling on the Yangtze River," she told members of Northville Woman's Club January 18, "offers an opportunity to see areas not otherwise visited by tourists."

The gorges the ship passes through appear just as they do in the misty Oriental paintings of them, the speaker reported, adding that in days past coolie laborers pulled the boats through the gorges walking precariously on narrow ridges cut into the side.

A graduate of Cornell University with a B.A. degree in Asian studies, Wyman currently is working on her doctorate in Chinese history at the University of Michigan. She studied in Taiwan during her junior undergraduate year.

For two years she served as a tour guide full time; now she escorts groups during summer vacations.

In 1971, she told the club, historic steps were taken to open channels with the People's Republic of China. The most usual way to enter China, today, she said is by a train ride into Canton from Hong Kong.

"Be prepared to be noticed," she told those who might be planning a trip to China, "because foreigners stand out, especially those with blond hair."

She added that tourists are segregated into certain hotels and restaurants.

She showed slides of views tourists see on tours, including pictures of the Xi'an terra cotta figures discovered in a subterranean vault in 1974 by farmers.

"They are life size, each individual — I think there are over 6,000 figures and horses," Wyman said, noting that the figures originally were painted.

"The soldiers were made originally to protect the emperor's grave. He had ordained that his wives would go into the tomb with him," the speaker said, explaining that the tomb looked like a hill and the workers who worked on the entrance were closed inside when it was sealed to protect it from looting.

Today visitors view the tomb and figures from a high, fenced off area, Wyman said, showing slides of tourists on the platform. Virginia Hayward, attending the program, mentioned that the figures were one of the highlights of the tour of China she took last year.

Another view of tourists with guide Wyman showed everyone wearing a nose mask. "Masks are common in Northern China," she explained, "as they offer protection from sand and other particles blown by the wind."

Tour guide Wyman reported that she also has taken groups into Inner Mongolia and to Tibet, with its green meadows below snow capped mountains, for Lindblad travel, an agency based in the East. The Chinese took control of Tibet in 1951, she mentioned.

"There are incredible contrasts," she said showing Muslim and Manchu minority groups. Some are nomads living in temporary huts. "The Chinese government is encouraging more stabilized living styles," she added.

She was encouraging about conditions for tourists. "The Chinese themselves rarely drink water without boiling it, so that water and tea offer few problems."

The biggest problem for travelers, she said, was colds, adding that they seem unavoidable.

Wyman reported that hotels and buses are heated; it is public places, such as schools, that are not.

Trips range in length from two to three weeks, usually, Wyman said, with the price varying between $1,800 and $4,500.

Sons Richard, Adam, Daniel welcomed

Antishin of Dearborn.

David and Linda Crain of 422 Dubuar are the new parents of Adam James. Their son was born January 17 at Providence Hospital in Southfield, weighing 10 pounds, one ounce.

Maternal grandparents are Robert and Dolores From of Northville. Paternal grandparents are James and Dorothy Crain, also of Northville.

Adam is the cousin of Daniel Thomas Thelen, who was born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thelen of Plymouth January 2 at Providence Hospital. Mrs. Thelen is the former Marianne Crain of Northville. Daniel weighed six pounds, 10 ounces at birth and was welcomed home by a sister Betsy, 18 months old.

In addition to the James Crains, his grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thelen of Lansing.

In Our Town

Moving days are here

By JEAN DAY

This might be called the moving season. Several local residents report that "as soon as Christmas was over people became interested in buying houses."

For Bob and Ginny Taylor the recent sale of their home in Brookland Farms is the beginning of their retirement in Hilton Head, South Carolina. He retired the end of October from Hiram Walker of Canada and she last week from Cooke Junior High with 15 years of teaching, mostly seventh and eighth grades.

Last Thursday Mrs. Taylor's fellow workers honored her at a party at Plymouth Landing. The Saturday before, the Taylors went to the Ben Klines' home for what they thought was to be an evening with their bridge group, but the surprise potluck included many other friends. They presented the couple with a clock for the ranch home they are building on the golf course at Hilton Head. Until it is done, the Taylors will be renting a condo in the area.

With both sons married and settled in Montana, Ginny Taylor says, the end of the semester seemed a good time to choose for retirement. She mentions that she's very pleased to have sold their home on Cottisford "to a nice young couple, the Leroys. He's from France and with Renault and she is from Spain." They have a baby and two other young children — who speak English, French and Spanish.

William Tomczyk, who heads the Northville post of the Michigan State Police, and his wife sold their home on Ladywood on New Year's Day. They are moving to an apartment in Swan Harbour, where, Mrs. Tomczyk says, her husband will be able to jog to work. Long-range plans in a couple of years or so are to retire to the warmer climate of Sun City West in Arizona.

Another holiday sale was the Georgian-style colonial home of the Jack Bechtels on South Rogers. Lenore Bechtel said, with their children away, it seemed time to take a condo in Southfield nearer work.

The Northville Record

Kim Wobermin boosted to Mustangs' winning advantage in balance beam

Gymnasts' season best nips Chiefs

Northville's varsity gymnasts hit their stride last Friday night — and just in time, too. The Mustangs improved their previous-best meet score by nearly nine points to edge Plymouth Canton 116.00-115.50 for their second league win.

"It was really close," said Northville Coach Michelle Charniga. "We were dead even after vault, 28.7-28.7, and we were one point behind after parallel bars."

But the Mustangs regained the lead with four strong balance beam scores. Canton couldn't make back the difference in floor exercise, the meet's final event.

Northville boasted the meet's top two all-around scorers. Diane Hale's 32.35 led all competitors. Hale took first in beam (8.25), first in floor exercise (8.2), second in uneven bars (8.0) and third in vault (7.9).

All-around runner-up was Mandy Walts with 31.50 points. Walts took second in vault (7.9) and beam (7.9), third in bars (7.8) and third in floor exercise (7.9).

Rounding out the Mustangs' scores in vault were Tonia Hickman (6.85), Kim Wobermin (6.15) and Kathy Alfinido (5.45).

In parallel bars, Hickman scored 6.85, Wobermin 5.25 and Dena Shackelford 3.8. In balance beam, Kim Wobermin scored 7.15 to take fourth place. Tonia Hickman scored 7.05, Shackelford 5.15 and Alfinido 4.6. In floor exercise, Hickman scored 7.2, and Missy Smith 5.75.

Northville's total was just short of a regional team qualifying score, but Hale and Walts appear to be on track for individual regional berths.

Hale needs one more qualifying vault score, two more parallel bar scores, and three more on both floor exercise and beam. Walts needs one more qualifying score in vault, two more in floor exercise and beam, and three more in parallel bars.

"I'm sure they'll both qualify," Charniga said. "It's possible Kim and Tonia might be able to qualify in at least one event, too."

Northville, now 2-1 in dual meets, will next compete against Walled Lake Western and 1988 Olympic Games hopeful Barrie Muzbeck at 7 p.m. Monday, at Northville High School.

Mustangs dunk two foes, raise WLAA mark to 4-0

Northville Swim Coach Derek Gans has maintained all season that Livonia Stevenson and Plymouth Salem are the teams to beat for a Western Lakes conference crown.

But he's got to admit it's been fun saving them for late in the season.

In the meantime, the Mustang tankers have swamped all four of the WLAA rivals they've faced so far to secure at least a tie for first in the conference's Western Division. Last week, Northville defeated Western Division rival Farmington Harrison 52-28 and dismantled Walled Lake Western 121-40.

Against Harrison on Tuesday, the Mustangs recorded first-place showings in all but three events. Doug Buell picked up two individual firsts, winning the 200 individual medley in 2:15.4 and the 100 butterfly in 1:01.21.

Jeff Bainbridge claimed a first in the 100 backstroke with a 1:01.21 clocking. Ron Johnston won the 100 free in 54.21, and Darius Mikalonis took the 50 free in 24.72.

Jeff Pawloski's first-place diving total of 231.4 points was more than 100 points better than Harrison's top score. Teammate Joel Grasley's 223.6 was Pawloski's closest competition.

Northville easily won both relays, going 1-2 in the 200 medley relay with Bainbridge, Eric Leindecker, Buell and Johnston taking first in 1:51.9, and Paul Stoecklin, Chris Sellen, Randy Holloway and John Gass nipping the Hawks for second in 1:59.65.

In the 400 freestyle relay, Dave Wayne, Craig Smith, Bainbridge and Mikalonis stroked out a 3:36.59 for first, while Ed Valentini, Mike Simmons, Jeff Buell and Drew Paredes landed third in 4:06.45.

Recording second-place finishes for the Mustangs were: Mikalonis in 200 free (1:54.1), Wayne in 200 I.M. (2:17.31), Tom Valade in 500 free (5:41.97), and Stoecklin in backstroke (1:09.09).

Taking thirds for Northville were: Smith in 50 free (25:17), Gass in 100 free (55.49), and Wayne in butterfly (1:00.41).

'Against Western, everybody swam the event they wanted to ... They can't wait to do it again.'

— Derek Gans
Northville Swim Coach

The Mustangs knew Western would pose no serious challenge two nights later, and Gans adjusted his lineup accordingly.

"Against Western each swimmer picked the event he wanted to swim," he explained. "It worked out really well."

"Bainbridge never swam butterfly before, and did under a minute. Wayne did an excellent 100 free, his best time ever — in fact it was just a few tenths off Walled Lake's pool record. Paul Stoecklin and Craig Smith did a great 200 I.M. They can't wait to swim it again."

Despite all of Northville's switches,

Western could not pick up a single first-place finish — in fact, the Warriors recorded only one second place in the entire meet.

Landing individual firsts for Northville were: Wayne in 200 free (2:01.31) and 100 free (51.8), Gass in 200 I.M. (2:24.5), Grasley in diving (203.65), Mikalonis in 50 free (23.75) and backstroke (1:01.71), Bainbridge in butterfly (59.71) and breast stroke (1:15.6), and Valade in 500 free (5:44.48).

Taking seconds were: Valade in 200 free (2:07.8), Smith in 200 I.M. (2:29.8), Pawloski in diving (201.35), Johnston in 50 free (23.9) and butterfly (1:03.2), Smith in 100 free (57.93), Jason Hill in 500 free (6:16.18), and Stoecklin in backstroke (1:09.77).

Recording third-place finishes for Northville were: Hill in 200 free (2:19.38), Stoecklin in 200 I.M. (2:30.11), Paredes in 100 free (58.30), Dave Ziegler in backstroke (1:12.46) and Chris Shaw in breast stroke (1:19.16).

Northville swam 1-2 in medley relay, and 1-2-3 in 400 free relay.

In the 200 M.R., Bainbridge, Gass, Wayne and Grasley took first in 1:56.87, Ziegler, Steve Guldberg, Simmons and Paredes took second in 2:05.34.

In the free relay, Johnston, Valade, Gass and Mikalonis took first in 3:46.8, followed by Stoecklin, Smith, Hill and Ziegler in 4:06.2.

Northville's next meet will take place at 7 p.m. tomorrow against Walled Lake Central, at home.

Frellick to coach Mustangs

Bob Frellick, assistant coach of the Northville varsity baseball team last season, will take the reins as head coach this spring, Northville Athletic Director Ralph Redmond announced last week.

The news came as something of a surprise, since Bob Gerlach, Northville's junior varsity coach last year, had accepted Redmond's offer of the head coaching job last spring. The job opening arose because of the retirement of longtime coach Fred Holdsworth.

"Bob (Gerlach) wanted to do it, but he has a conflict with his new job," Redmond explained. "But we're happy to get Bob Frellick to coach for us. He's very well respected in the community, and he's very familiar with our program."

CHOOSING A TAX SHELTER

by Charles H. Williams, C.P.A.

Who'll prepare your tax return this year? It's time to start choosing a professional, and to undertake the planning that may help you shelter some of your income from taxes.

If your income is fairly straightforward and deductible expenses minimal, you might satisfactorily use a short-form return and do it yourself or with the help of a tax preparer. But with more income, and more deductions, as the return becomes more complicated, you're going to want a tax professional.

Why? Because it's worth the difference to put your tax return in the hands of someone with the knowledge to find every likely loophole, and the experience to know which are acceptable. And as you reach the higher brackets, you'll get the advice you need on sheltering some income from taxes.

Some free help is available from the IRS. Revenue employees will answer your questions (but the tax court has challenged some of their answers) and prepare the simplest returns. There are also independent and chain tax preparers who pop up at tax season. Their workers may not be experienced enough to catch all legal deductions.

A certified public accountant can handle most complex returns and are familiar with shelters and investing. His or her tax know-how can save you more than the fee.

How do you choose a professional? Recommendations from satisfied clientele are one way, as are referrals from lawyers. Once a relationship is entered, the client will find his accountant helpful in making financial decisions all year round.

INCOME TAX

We're a local organization. Even though we served more than 3,300 clients last year we haven't forgotten that every client is an individual and that each individual deserves the best service we can provide.

When we sign a tax return that we've prepared, we're proud of having done the best possible job for you. When you see our signature on your tax return you can be sure that:

1. The counselor who prepared your return was competent and thoroughly experienced in tax matters.
2. You have received the maximum legal deductions and the minimum legal tax.
3. Your tax return has received all the time and attention that was necessary to do a proper job.
4. Your tax return has been double-checked for both accuracy and tax saving possibilities.
5. Your return has been handled in a confidential manner.

We have three levels of services and fees...Econotax, Computax and Executax. We want to be your Accountant!

Off-the-mark serves lead to spikers' loss

By B.J. MARTIN

Walled Lake Western's volleyball squad rebounded from a 14-6 opening-game loss to trip Northville 15-13, 15-1 and hand the Mustangs their first Western Lakes Activities Association loss of the season last Thursday.

Going into this week's action, the Mustangs are 3-1 in the WLAA, 2-1 in the division, and 4-2 overall.

It would have taken just an average night of serving against Western for Northville's conference and division records to stay unblemished. The Mustangs did that in the first game, getting a series of big serves from Nicki LaRoque and some intimidating kills from hitter Bev Henderson.

But Northville made 13 bad serves in the second game alone, and a late Mustang rally in that game fell just short. In the third game, Northville played equally hard, but again repeatedly served into the net at critical moments.

It was the longest 15-1 game either team is likely to see, with serves changing hands often. But eventually Western's well-placed kills and consistent serving made the difference.

"I can't fault our girls for not trying," said Northville Coach Steve McDonald. "We were aggressive. Our defense was there. But when you miss that many serves, it has to throw you off balance. If we'd served just a tad better, I'm sure we would have beaten them."

Only Nicki LaRoque had a decent night serving, putting 15 of her 19 serves in play. LaRoque notched three aces and 10 of her serves went for points.

Henderson mounted some impressive hitting stats. The senior made 20 hits, 12 good, and made four kills. Erin Ryan also played well, placing 13 of her 15 hits in play and making three kills.

Northville will host Plymouth Salem at 6:30 p.m. tonight, then open a busy week Monday at Livonia Churchill. The Mustangs will host Farmington Harrison on Wednesday, February 6, and travel to Livonia Stevenson the following night.

Erin Ryan's blocking was a bright spot in loss to Western

Candela takes first at mat tilt

More than anyone else, Dino Candela and Joel Vogt have made sure nobody takes too lightly Northville's rebuilding wrestling team this season.

The pair of senior stalwarts highlighted one of the best Mustang outings of the year Saturday. At the prestigious Blue Water Classic wrestling tournament in Algonac, Northville placed a strong sixth, with Candela's 167-pound championship and Vogt's second-place finish at 185 pounds leading the way.

Candela trailed Mt. Morris' Steve Gardner late in the third period of his final match. But with 30 seconds left, Candela reversed Gardner to take a 4-3 lead, and made that score stick for a first-place finish.

Flint Bentley won the 13-team invitational with 139 points, barely nipping host Algonac's 137. In third was Anchor Bay with 133½, followed by Mt. Morris' 107½ and Warren Fitzgerald's 94. Northville's 76 points easily outdistanced seventh-place St. Clair's 46.

"We wrestled very well as a whole," said Mustang Coach Jack Townsley. "All but two of the guys we entered won at least one match and scored some points for us."

Northville's Dennis Nadeau made it to the 138-pound consolation final, but Herman Gilbert of Algonac pinned Nadeau in overtime to take third place and give Nadeau a fourth. Mustang 145-pounder Jason Lazar also placed fourth, losing by decision to St. Clair's Bob Schunk.

John McRae won two matches at 155 pounds, but couldn't land a berth in the semifinals or finals. Northville teammates Keith Graham (98), Scott Wiley (112) and John Lazar (132) all won one match each.

"In fairness to John (Lazar), he probably was in the toughest bracket of the tournament," Townsley pointed out. "He wrestles well every time he's on the mat. He just lost a couple of very close, tough matches Saturday."

Earlier in the week, Northville edged Detroit Country Day School 36-30 to end a dual-meet losing streak that extended all the way back to the first week of the season.

The Yellowjackets were hosting a double-dual meet Tuesday, January 22, and squared off with Northville on the heels of Northville's 59-8 pasting by Lutheran North.

"They were very good, very experienced," Townsley said of North.

"But we were just plain terrible against them. I was glad to see we could bounce back pretty well against Country Day."

The Mustangs were helped along by five DCDS forfeits, although Northville matched Country Day's void at heavyweight with one of their own and also voided at 132 pounds as John Lazar became too ill to wrestle.

Paul Maliszewski notched Northville's only pin of the match, landing 119-pound Scott Wagonburg on his back at 2:42. Joel Vogt won a 9-2 nod at 185 pounds and Ken Kehoe won a 6-5 decision at 138 pounds.

Against Lutheran North, Candela and Vogt each posted superior decisions for Northville's only scores.

The following Thursday, Walled Lake Central handed Northville a 51-12 defeat.

"They're pretty strong, one of the best teams in the league," Townsley admitted. The Vikings won all of the first six matches of the meet. Before 138-pounder Jason Lazar broke Central's string with a 14-11 decision over Brandon Kolb, the Lakes Division powerhouse had racked up a 30-0 lead.

Vogt picked up Northville's only other contested victory, taking a 10-3 decision over Zane Forbes at 185 pounds. Central voided at 145 pounds.

John McRae wrestled well, trailing tough Kurt Calhoun 2-1 midway through the 155-pound match. But Calhoun's experience eventually was too much for the Mustang first-year grappler.

Northville's next conference meet—and the last home meet of the season—will take place at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow against Plymouth Salem. On Wednesday, the 3-8 Mustangs will take on Plymouth Canton in both teams' final dual meet of the season.

OLV boys win tourney berth

Our Lady of Victory's grade 7-8 boys' "White" basketball team clinched a playoff spot in the Catholic Youth Organization tournament last week with a 32-18 win over Walled Lake St. Williams Sunday. Doug Cody and Andy Fitzpatrick teamed up for 17 points for the 6-1 Cougars, while Dan McLeod led a strong defensive effort.

Dearborn Divine Child swept all the other OLV teams on Sunday. The Cougars' grade 5-6 girls' team fell to 2-5 with a 17-12 loss. Allyson Kennedy on offense and Susie Weidenbach on defense turned in good performances.

DDC dropped the grade 5-6 boys to a 4-3 record, and the grade 7-8 girls fell to 0-7. The Cougar grade 7-8 "Blue" team fell to Divine Child 33-18 despite fine games by Eric Galarini on offense and Brian DeAlexandris on defense. The "Blue" squad is also 0-7.

Cagers break Salem's jinx, not Churchill's

Northville's varsity cagers crushed the Plymouth Salem Rocks for the first time in modern history last week. The Mustangs outscored Salem 27-17 during the second and third quarters en route to a 49-43 conference victory January 22.

Greg Wendel did Northville's dirty work in the second quarter, crashing the offensive boards and scoring eight points. Don Norton took over in the second half, tallying six third-quarter points and four of four free throws in the final period to keep Salem at bay.

Norton and Wendel finished the game with 12 points apiece to lead the Mustangs.

"Everybody contributed in their own way, I thought," said Northville Coach Omar Harrison. "Matt Hines and Eric Gala came off the bench and did a good job. Kirk Morrison hit a couple big free throws for us toward the end. I think everybody did what they needed to do for us to win."

Wendel was most noticeable on the court, though. The senior power forward grabbed a career-high 16 rebounds, made four assists and stole the ball three times. Norton added six rebounds.

While Northville managed to bust the Salem jinx Tuesday, Livonia Churchill's gym continued to cast its spell on Northville Friday. The Chargers dealt their Western Division rival a whopping 81-52 loss.

"It seems like every time we go out there, we make them look good," Harrison said. "They're not any better than us. But they were hitting everything they threw up."

Churchill threw up 30 shots in the first half to Northville's 25. The big difference was that 18 of the Chargers' shots fell compared to seven for Northville. The Mustangs shot 1-for-14 in the second quarter, their worst all year, and Churchill mounted an insurmountable halftime lead of 41-15.

Mike Hilfinger led the Mustangs with 13 points. Norton added 11, Hines and Wendel nine each and Morrison six. Hines was the Mustangs' leading rebounder with nine. Wendel added seven caroms and John Storm six.

Churchill forward Scott Hille was game-high scorer with 19 points. "Hille gave us the most problems, all right," Harrison declared. "He just couldn't miss against us."

The Mustangs, 2-5 in the WLAA, 4-6 overall, take to the road to play Livonia Bentley on Friday and division rival Plymouth Canton on Tuesday.

The last thing you need now is a problem with a lawsuit.

Becoming a success in today's world is no easy task. So if you've finally outwitted your competition, made some wise investments and tended off bad information... you shouldn't have to worry about what lawsuit would do to your personal worth.

And you won't have to if you know about Auto-Owners Executive Umbrella Liability Policy. Its expanded coverage broadly protects you. It's a nominal investment as well. For literally pennies a day you can be protected from lawsuit devastation.

Even if you have basic insurance from a company other than Auto-Owners, you can obtain this Executive Umbrella to top off your complete personal protection. Talk with your "no problem" Auto-Owners agent and find out exactly what he can do for you. Complete protection is no problem.

We're stronger because we've joined ERA® Real Estate. For you that means innovations and services like these:

- ERA Sellers Security Plan™

If we don't sell your home, we'll buy it.*
Up to $100,000 equity advance before your present home sells.

- ERA Buyer Protection Plan

Protection from major unexpected repair bills for buyers. Protection for sellers, too, while their home is still on the market.

- ERA Moving Machine—

A free, exclusive ERA service that transmits a photograph and description of your home to the 40% of home buyers who come looking from out of town. It can also help you preselect homes in another city without ever having to leave town.

- FREE Home Evaluation—

Complete, no-obligation assessment of your home's real estate market value. Plus a projection of trends influencing your neighborhood.

- Low interest Financing:

ERA uses our national muscle and financial resources to find the perfect financing plan with the most competitive interest rate, to fit your lifestyle and your budget. And it's convenient, you can apply for your loan in our office.

When it comes time to sell your present home or buy a new one, remember the muscle of ERA Real Estate. We invite you to compare.

There really is a difference in real estate companies.

4000 Watts	EB-4000	$1,325	$1,135	$190

Honda's new EB2200 construction generator delivers up to 2200 watts of power. And it will run approximately nine hours on one tank of fuel. The reason? Honda's revolutionary new OHV engine. Its new design makes it smaller, lighter, more efficient, and a lot quieter.

And Honda's exclusive Oil Alert™ System protects the engine by shutting it off if the oil dips below a safe operating level.

Other features include an Automatic Voltage Regulator, circuit breaker, integrated front panel controls for easy operation, plus a fully transistorized ignition system for sure starts.

5.0 hp	HS-50T	$1,060	$899	$161

Honda's HS-35 single stage snowthrower performs like a double stage snowblower. But at a much lower cost.

It has an exclusive auger and paddle drive system that makes it semi self-propelled. The discharge chute adjusts two ways and rotates a full 220°. And like all Honda products, it has a reliable Honda engine with Automatic Decompression for fast, easy starts.
