DeHoCo legislation real., for approvals in Lansing

By KEVIN WILSON

Two bills clearing the way for conversion of the Detroit House of Correction to a state prison are expected to receive approval of the Michigan House of Representatives this week

One bill places a cap on the number of prisoners who can be housed in Northville and Plymouth townships and bans additional prison sitings in the two townships. The other authorizes state purchase of a portion of DeHoCo from the City of Detroit.

The house appropriations subcommittee on corrections okayed the bills last week. The full house appropriatons committee is expected to report the bills out to the house floor this week so they can be approved by the house and sent to the state senate.

State representative Gerald H. Law (R-Plymouth Township), who drafted the moratorium bill, said Monday he no longer will attempt to tie-bar his bill to the one authorizing the DeHoCo pur-

'We agreed (with the administration and Detroit legislators) that my bill would move first, before the purchase goes through," Law said.

With the bills approved separately, Law explained, the senate can hold up approval of the DeHoCo purchase until the governor has actually signed the moratorium bill into law. Law and State Senator R. Robert Geake (R-Northville) have been striving for months to insure that the state takeover of DeHoCo would be accompanied by protection from future prison sitings here.

If the bills were tie-barred, a single vote would represent a legislator's stand on both measures. Separately, legislators will be free to vote for or against them independently. Law-said each has sufficient support for approval independent of the other, and that any attempt to defeat the moratorium bill would be followed by efforts to stop the DeHoCo sale.

Law's bill caps the number of prisoners allowed at the three state prisons along Five Mile Road. Totals of 311 at the Phoenix Correctional Facility and 550 at the under-construction Scott Regional Correctional Facility would be allowed. The new DeHoCo prison, to be named Western Wayne County Correctional Facility, will be allowed to house 650 inmates initially, with the number to be reduced to 500 by January, 1987.

In addition, the bill forbids any more prisons to be constructed in either township.

In an earlier form, Law's bill had required local government approval for either a prison population higher than the cap or the addition of a fourth site. But administration officials demanded those clauses be stricken, he said.

"Somebody in the department of management and budget decided those sentences made (the bill) more restrictive," Law said. "The department of corrections had liked that part - I told them it left them an out. If they could not meet their deadlines, they could just work something out with the local-

But there was evidently some philosophical opposition to granting local units of government the authority to vote on such state decisions, Law ex-

'They didn't like it, so now if they're going to miss a deadline, they'll have to get approval from the full legislature,'

He said he was more concerned about a clause Detroit legislators and the cleared away, local officials say they intend to pursue a sale of the Plymouth Center for Human Development property to private developers.

Township supervisor Susan J. Heintz said preliminary indications from Wayne County are that it would cooperate with efforts to have the land turned over to private uses.

Plymouth Center formerly housed developmentally disabled children, who have since been de-institutionalized under court order. Most of the vacant property has been declared surplus by the state.

But a state sale is hampered by a reverter clause in the 1957 deed conveying the property at no cost from county

Once the DeHoCo issue has been to state ownership. That clause requires that the land be returned to the county if the state does not use it for treatment of mentally impaired children.

The state department of mentalhealth announced plans to use the main, six-story building at the corner of Sheldon and Five Mile as part of a planto reduce the population at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital. Unless the county "signs off" on the reverter clause, that use would be prohibited.

Heintz contends she has potential buyers for the property "lined up and waiting," including some who are interested in the main building.

Jeff Peters is among 1985 Presidential Scholars

NHS senior selected Presidential Scholar

By MICHELE M. FECHT

In many ways, being named a Presidential Scholar is just another plume for Jeff Peters' cap.

In a year already filled with honors and recognitions, the Northville High School senior learned last week that he was one of only 140 other students across the nation selected for the prestigious award.

One of three Michigan students to receive the distinction — as well as being the first local recipient — Peters was selected for the honor from among nearly three million graduating high school seniors. Anne L. Moon of Williamston is the Presidential Scholar in second Michigan, Wendelin K. Scott of East Lansing, a student at Interlochen Arts Academy, was named a Presidential Scholar in the Arts. Recognition as a 1985 Presidential Scholar will come the week following graduation when he joins his fellow honorees for a week long visit to Washington, D.C. Highlight of the trip will be a reception at the White House, where he will receive a Presidential Scholar medallion.

In addition to medallions, each scholar receives $1,000 from the Geraldine R. Dodge Foundation in recognition of his or her academic achievement, leadership ability and school and community contributions.

Though the distinction culminates a year of successes, Peters seems pleasantly surprised to be among the chosen few.

The son of Ron and Margaret Peters of 21888 Cumberland, the unassuming 17-year-old retains a refreshing modesty despite a week filled with newspaper and radio interviews, praise from

He will be the recipient of Northville High School's second annual Distinguished Alumni Award at graduation ceremonies for the Class of '85 on June 14.

He was the unanimous choice of the selection committee for the honor.

Dr. Atchison was among 69 physicians who were graduated from the University of Michigan medical school 50 years ago who were honored by the Michigan State Medical Society April 27 at the Michigan Inn. Dr. Atchison was honored "for his outstanding contribution" in a special reception and ceremonies before the 497 assembled delegates attending the 120th annual Michigan State Medical Society House of Delegates session. The honored doctors collectively

Next month Dr. Atchison will be honored in the new distinguished alumni award program instituted last year at the high school by Principal David C. Bolitho. Dr. Atchison was nominated for the honor by Fred and Laura Hicks and by E. G. O'Brien.

"He has spent all his life, working night and day, serving the people of Northville and surrounding communities," the Hickses wrote in their letter of nomination.

"His service to the community as a family doctor for approximately a half

The graduation honor is not the first community recognition for Dr. Atchison. He received a tribute from the community in recognition of his 40 years of practice on May 6, 1978. A capacity crowd of friends and patients filled Meadowbrook Country Club for the unusual testimonial dinner. The idea of a dinner to pay tribute to the general practitioner for his years of service as a medical doctor and as a citizen drew immediate, warm response with tickets sold out almost as

Fence bidding stalled

An advertisement placed in a Michigan trades publication soliciting bids for installation of the three-sided, six-foot tall chain link fence at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital was a "mistake," a state official said Monday.

The state department of manage-ment and budget spokesperson said the ad, which required bids be submitted by 2 p.m. May 8, should have been canceled before it appeared in Construction Association of Michigan's daily news bulletin on Monday.

He said the department's building department had revised the plans for the fence and sent the revised plans Township supervisor Susan J. Heintz said the withdrawn advertisement was "suspicious." The township has long advocated a fence at the state hospital as à deterrent to "walkaways" (patients who leave the grounds without

Study of Haggerty corridor nearly done

Road corridor is near completion and will be the topic for a special study session by the township planning commission May 14.

Planning consultant Claude Coates said his firm, Vilican-Leman Associates, expects to complete the study sometime this week. Planners have delayed virtually all pending actions regarding property along Haggerty Road while awaiting the results of the study.

L'aunched in response to several changes in conditions since the township's master plan was completed in 1981, the study is a wide-ranging examination of potential land uses along Haggerty and the areas immediately west of the township's eastern boun-

Growth along Haggerty has been booming, in part because of the nearby I-275 freeway. Township plans to install sewer service in the area are expected to increase pressure to develop the property along the corridor, much of which

Planners have delayed virtually all pending actions regarding property along Haggerty Road while awaiting the results of the study.

Large parcels are currently zoned for single family residential uses, and the township's long range master plan indicates that the area should be developed in single family homes.

Office and commercial uses on the Livonia side of the boundary and the increased traffic from the nearby freeway may prevent economic development of houses along Haggerty, Other uses being considered in the study include freeway service (automotive service stations, restaurants and hotels/motels), office and general commercial. Any changes made in the master plan would most made in the master plan would most likely affect the stretch of Haggerty between Five and Six Mile roads and nearby properties.

The area between Seven and Eight Mile already is zoned for a mix of commercial and office uses, while the state ween Seven and Six Mile roads. The other major property owner between Six and Seven Mile is Ward Presbyterian Church, which recently purchased 140 acres at the corner of Six Mile and Haggerty.

Several owners of properties between Five and Six Mile roads have requested zoning changes in the past year. Among these are Oasis Golf Course, which would like its residential zoning changed to commercial, and the American Ramallah Federation, which proposes a meeting hall on Haggerty northwest of Five Mile. The meeting hall would require a commercial zoning.

Coates told the planning commission April 30 that he would be ready to present the findings of his study at the May 14 study session. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. Any commission action resulting from the study would first be considered in a regular meeting at which the public could offer comments. The next regularly scheduled meeting of the commission is May 28.

Interviews with six slated in township manager search

The committee searching for a new township manager has narrowed the field to six candidates, each to be interviewed in the next two weeks.

Township board members last week approved the committee's proposal to pay expenses for three out-of-state candidates to travel to Northville for the in-

Trustee and search committee member Richard Allen noted that the candidates are allowed $25 per day for food, "They can spend that as they wish - they can add their own funds and eat fancy or go to McDonald's three times a day and keep whatever's left," Allen said. "It's up to the individual."

Applications were solicited both in . Michigan and outside. The authorization for three expense accounts to interview six candidates suggests that three of the finalists are from Michigan.

Margaret Tegge, former township deputy clerk, was added to the committee shortly before the April 19 application deadline. Other members are resident and township homeowners association representative Kathy, McNally, labor consultant Richard Ambler, and trustee James Nowka.

Singer Claudia Schmidt opens at Raven coffeehouse

By B.J. MARTIN

Claudia Schmidt's arrival at The Raven coffeehouse this Saturday night comes a little earlier in the month than the usual artist's engagement then-

But then Schmidt is not the usual artist. Josh White Jr., whose April 28 performance at the Raven was most suc-cessful, said of Schmidt: "You've got to see her. She is just fantastic. She has an unbelievable voice."

Regular listeners of National Public Radio's unique Prairie Home Companion show may have heard it a few times. As creator and host of the show Garrison Keillor says, "When Others use phrases like "clear,"

"gospel intensity," "striking warmth,"
"depth" and "astounding versatility," when attempting to describe her art. She usually accompanies herself on either a 12-string guitar, a mountain dulcimer or the pianolin, a rare, bizzare-looking and utterly uniquesounding 52-string intrument.

She has recorded three albums on the Flying Fish record label (a treasurehouse/clutterhouse of distinctive and eclectic recorded music well worth sampling): Claudia Schmidt, her first, Midwestern Heart and New Goodbyes, Old Helloes.

The songs in the grooves of those records celebrate a variety of musical sources: British folk, American rhythm and blues, gospel, jazz, comical tunes, and classic Tin Pan Alley ballads such At Heart," all rendered in thoughtful solo arrangements.

CLAUDIA SCHMIDT

Schmidt's appearance in the Detroit area is something of a homecoming, if a touring artist now living in Milwaukee after living in Chicago, southern California and Seattle can be said to have one real "home." But Schmidt was born in Detroit and grew up in New Baltimore, and possesses a hard-core contingent of fans from hereabouts. It's bound to be a fine show.

Claudia Schmidt will perform two shows Saturday night only, at 7:30 and 9:45 p.m., at The Raven coffeehouse, 303 West Main, Northville. Doors open at 6 p.m. for the first show and 9 p.m. for the second. Food and refreshments will be available. Tickets are $6; for more information, phone 349-9420.

Scullen takes the helm as district coordinator

By MICHELE M. FECHT

Though she's only been with the school district slightly more than two weeks, Mary K. Scullen already is knee-deep in curriculum planning, brochure writing, application filing and Since her appointment as the district's first preschool program coor-dinator April 22, Scullen admits she's hardly had the time to nestle into her new surroundings in the central office.

At 24, she brings to Northville six years of experience in the child care field. A Michigan State University graduate, Scullen has been an aide, assistant and head teacher at MSU's Spartan Village Child Development

In addition to her teaching skills, she also developed an infant/toddler program at Spartan Village last September for children six months to 2½ years. Currently comuting from her apartment in East Lansing, the new coordinator says she is familiarizing herself with the district while planning for the implementation of the district's expanded child care program to be housed at Moraine Elementary School next

With a B.A. in elementary education and six years of working with preschoolers, Scullen says she's challenged by her new post and "the opportunity to develop quality programs

"It's exciting to be involved in a program from the onset," she notes.

Though the school district's program still is in the planning stages, Scullen says brochures already have been sent to the printer and are expected to be mailed to residents at the end of this

The first open house is scheduled May 19; she adds.

i'Once we get registrations in, we'll be able to determine what the program is," Scullen notes, adding that offerings listed in the brochure reflect the findings of a school district survey conducted in March.

Programs to be offered in September cover the gamut from daycare and latchkey to begindergarten and preschool.

Scullen notes the district's preschool classes will be similar to what currently is being offered at Amerman with 21/2 hour sessions offered to 21/2 to 5-yearolds two or three times a week.

Daycare also will be offered from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. to 21/2 to 5-year-

She notes that the quality of the preschool program will be retained in the daycare setting though the focus will be somewhat different for the child who stays for a full day.

Scullen says in addition to the preschool activities, the daycare program also will incorporate play periods, music time and napping for lit-tle ones who stay all day.

Latchkey also is being offered to Northville students from 7-9 a.m. and 3:30-7

Scullen notes "the Silver Springs (latchkey) program will continue though we haven't defined as yet how it will relate to Moraine's program.'

The district also will retain its begindergarten program on a fee basis. An additional program for 5-year-olds is "wondergarten" which will be a complement to the kindergarten program.

'The program is for kids who need an extra half-day program," Scullen notes, adding that the focus will be on the developmental needs of 5-year-olds.
In outlining the district's survey findings, Scullen notes that approximately 125 respondents said they have children who will be enrolled in a kindergarten program in the 1985-86 school year.

She adds that "close to 175 said they would consider a kindergarten-care program" (a program providing an additional half-day experience for both morning and afternoon kindergart-

In addition, approximately 400 respondents said they would seriously consider enrolling a child in a kindergarten care program, Scullen ex-

She adds all programs will be offered on a fee basis with rates competitive with those of private centers.

Scullen notes that, aside from the latchkey program, all other offerings will be for children ages 21/2 to 5-years-old. She says that licensing regulations for infants and toddlers are entirely dif-ferent from those needed for preschoolers.

"We'd be into a whole new ball game," she says of toddler and infant daycare offerings. "We didn't want to overextend ourselves."

However, Scullen did not rule out the possibility of offering programs for toddlers sometime down the road.

The new coordinator says she's already received calls from interested parents and anticipates the administration will be better able to determine the community's needs once registrations are under way.

"I feel there is a need all over for quality childcare," Scullen notes.

"I definitely see a trend toward more children going into daycare," she says, attributing the increase to "more working mothers and more parents giving children a childcare experience.'

While Scullen says she believes "a preschool experience is beneficial to a child," she adds that "much depends on what children are getting at home.

"There's no one best program," she Scullen says that despite her administrative status, she will be visible in all aspects of the program.

"I really enjoy working with kids," she says. "The excitement they have for the world around them is incredible. "I like nurturing that excitement."

Construction to begin soon on Cedar Lake apartments

By KEVIN WILSON

Developers of the proposed Cedar Lakes Apartments north of Six Mile at Waterford Pond say they intend to begin construction this month.

Final site plans for the Amurcon Corporation development were approved for the second time at the April 30 meeting of the township planning commission, reflecting changes made in the plans approved one month earlier.

The 176-unit development east of Northville Road is to occupy 27 acres abutting the Lakes of Northville subdivision on the east. Residents of that subdivision originally posted strong objections to the plan, but Amurcon subsequently met with the homeowners and made substantial changes to the plans.

Planning commission chairman F. Richard Duwel suggested the changes

"must have satisfied them - as evidenced by their absence from this evening's meeting."

Major accommodations made include virtually doubling the required setback distance between the eastern edge of the Amurcon property and the apartment buildings and extensive landscaping along the borderline.

Landscaping includes a berm that is heavily planted with evergreens to soften the view of the complex from backyards of Lakes of Northville

Amurcon spokesmen at the planning commission meeting said the firm had recently reached a financing agreement for the project and is slated to close on the deal May 15. Given both the financing and site plan approvals, they said construction work on site would begin "almost immediately." Trustees protest Schoolcraft's proposed budget cuts

Despite a four percent tuition increase, Schoolcraft College will have to pare its major maintenance budget and into cash reserves to balance the 1985-86 budget — but not without some sõpawks from trustees.

The major maintenance cuts are únacceptable," said Harry Greenleaf. 'I' will not vote for a budget that reduces major maintenance and equip-

PII remember the holy hell Arch Vallier (late trustee) use to raise about broken sidewalks," agreed trustee Résina Raymond. Major maintenance also includes roof repairs, sidewalk repayings and similar repairs in four and five figures.

"I find myself very uncomfortable," added trustee Paul Kadish. "You can only deplete your reserves once. I hate to mention dirty words, folks ... millage."

Time and again during their threebour meeting, the community college trustees concluded that in 1986 they might have to ask voters for a property tax increase, at least for capital improvements at the 24-year-old college.

That conclusion was encouraged by vice president W. Kenneth Lindner, who said, "If present trends continue, the only (other) alternative in the next budget cycle will be to reduce the scale of operations.

Lindner added, "We are presenting a

> - Harry Greenleaf. Schoolcraft College trustee solution for one year only." President Richard McDowell spelled it out even more bluntly: "What must happen (in 1986) is either 1.) to increase revenue proportionately or 2.) reduce expenditures.'

Schoolcraft will levy the full voted 1.77 property tax mills for operations ($1.77 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation) this year and another fraction of a mill for debt retirement. A public hearing is scheduled for 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 15, in the board room of the Grote Administration Center on campus at 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

Kadish's reluctance to talk about a 1986 tax hike was based on his frustrated work on four unsuccessful millage campaigns in the 1970s, before McDowell became president.

Here is the budget picture in a nutshell. Currently the college spends $17.4

million. Maintaining the same scale of operations would cost $19.1 million, said

Lindner — but the revenue isn't there.

So Lindner proposed an $18.4 million spending plan by 1.) cutting the $590,000 major maintenance item by $165,000, 2.) dipping into the reserve (the bank account) for $200,000 and 3.) not addressing any long-range planning needs, reducing faculty retraining and 'positively no net increase in person-

Trustee Greenleaf recalled how the board had fought to budget major amounts for maintenance and equipment during the early 1970s. "We brought it part-way back. We didn't bring it all the way back," he said.

Here is how major sources of revenue, each about one-third of the budget, look for the fiscal year beginning July 1:

• Property taxes — up only 12 percent this year. Reduced property values in the 1979-83 recession are still having an impact on the assessment rolls.

• State aid - up eight percent. Tuition and fees — up a total of six percent, due to an unexpected two percent increase in credit hours and four percent hike in tuition rates. The tuition proposal would take effect in the fall semester, beginning around Residents - up $1.25 to $30, an increase of 4.3 percent.

Labor Day, The breakdown:

Non-resident Michiganians - up

$1.50 to $41, a 3.8 percent hike. Non-Michiganians — up $2 to $61, a

3.4 percent hike. Recalling that the admnistration had talked of five percent tuition increases, board chairperson Michael W. Burley urged the administration to re-study that approach. Nevertheless, college officials were pleased that tuition was below the 30,, percent mark, after rising from a low of-. 21 percent in the budget in 1979 to more, than 30 percent in 1982.

Similarly, state aid was up to the 33.5 percent mark, after reaching a high of. 39 percent in 1979 and a low of 29 per-, cent in the recession year of 1979.

Rising costs push township into insurance pool

Faced with the same rapidlyescalating costs that forced the city into a similar arrangment earlier this year, Northville Township has withdrawn its business from the standard insurance market and joined a self-insurance

Acting on the advice of a citizens committee, the township board voted April 29 to sign up with the Michigan Municipal Liability and Property Pool.

The program coordinated through the Michigan Municipal League with the Meadowbrook Insurance Group as underwriter combines the assets of the participating communities to provide protection against liability and property damage claims.

The city chose a different but similar pool arrangement — Michigan Municipal Risk Management Authority, led by city council's former insurance consultant Wade Waterman.

Both acted in response to an increased reluctance within the insurance industry to write policies protecting municipalities. Those companies that stayed in the business escalated prices rapidly — the city would have seen a 50 percent increase in its premium.

The township insurance committee, which served without remuneration and is made up of residents who are involved in the insurance business, reported that premiums this year would ave been $79,000 compared to $40,000 last year. The last quote from the MML pool was $38,200. Some additional liability coverage at a cost of a few thousand dollars more was to be added after May 1.

The township committee reported two factors in the rapid increase in premiums - an improved economy generating a cyclical reluctance to cover municipalities (since insurers don't need the business as badly) and the escalation of judgements against municipalities.

This latter factor, township board members were told, is heightened by, the township's location in Wayne Coun-

Wayne County juries more frequently, find for the plaintiff in civil suits and often make much larger awards for damages than do juries in other Michigan counties, the committee reported.

Rotary calendars ready

Last Wednesday was the first day Northville Rotary Club's Community Calendars, numbered for daily draw-.ngs, became available, and, Scott Lenheiser reported for Rotary, "interest generated has been surprising."

The calendars are a limited edition run of 3,000. In addition to listing events of local organizations, the calendars depict local historic homes drawn by Phelps Hines and feature pictures of Victorian ladies.

Because they are numbered for daily drawings and bonus drawings, with odds of winning rated at 1-9, the calendars are priced at $25.

Purchase of a calendar is also an opportunity to show support for Rotary projects in the community, Lenheiser thville, 200 East Main.

College trustees approve maintenance projects

Although budget adoption isn't scheduled until May 22, Schoolcraft College trustees gave an early go-ahead to take bids for four major maintenance

Price tags are estimated at $148,000, according to vice president W. Kenneth Lindner. Early approval, he said, "will add eight more weeks to our summer work schedule.'

In a voice vote, trustees unanimously approved: roof painting for the Applied Sciences Building, estimated at $7,000; roof repairs for Applied Sciences, $30,000; roof repairs for the Forum Building, $41,000; and asphalt repairs for the south parking lot, $70,000.

Lindner said early approval would allow work to be completed in time for the opening of the fall semester.

Altogether, 28 maintenance projects totaling $275,000 will be in the budget proposed by Lindner and President Richard McDowell.

Seven projects totaling $38,500 will be for the Radcliff Center in Garden City, whose use the college will expand. Radcliff projects include glass replacement, partitioning, concrete replace-ment, storage building grounds, floor tiles, catch basin repairs, doors and

A public hearing on the budget is scheduled for 7 p.m. (one hour earlier than the usual starting time) Wednesday, May 15, in the Grote Administra-tion Center on Campus. The ad-ministration proposes that the full voter-authorized property tax rate of 1.77 mills be levied.

Strunks hold second Northville 'Derby Day Classic'

Gary and Linnie Jo Strunk hosted their second annual derby day party in Northville to celebrate the 111th Running of the Roses Saturday, inviting 110 guests to enjoy mint juleps, chocolate-dipped strawberries and other treats while cheering on favorites. The Strunks previously had entertained at derby parties in Dallas and in California. After 14 corporate moves (he's with Peterson American Corporation and she works for Earl Keim Realty), they say Northville is their final destina-tion and are giving the parties to "thank friends for welcoming us to Northville." Participants watched Spend-a-Buck win from vantage points in the family room, living room and kit-chen. Even the portrait of "Sticky Fingers," done by horse por-trait painter Betty Asquini, that hangs over the fireplace mantel, the Strucks point out, contributes to the theme.

DeMattia announces plans for new branch facility

Announcement that Aisin U.S.A. Inc. will build a branch facility in the R. A. DeMattia Company's Metro-West Industrial Park in Plymouth Township was made Friday by the firm's president, R.A. DeMattia, a Northville Township resident.

Location of the branch facility for a major Japanese firm in Western Wayne County is part of the expansion pro-gram of the Metro-West Industrial Park which is projected to add 5,000 iobs and $6 million tax base to the area.

The expansion program, developer DeMattia announced, includes a combination of many local and foreign firms and, with a 160-acre expansion. will complete the 198-acre Class A certified industrial park located on Five Mile between Sheldon and Beck roads in Plymouth Township adjacent to Northville Township.

Attending the announcement program at the Plymouth Hilton were Congressman Carl Pursell; Richard Headlee, former gubernatorial candidate and President of Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Company of America, a partner in the venture; Senator R. Robert Geake; State Representative Gerald Law; Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen;

and Wayne County Executive William

Following the state of Michigan's plan for diversifying its industrial base, Metro-West has targeted medium and high technological firms. DeMattia said the project has successfully brought out-of-state firms into Michigan and kept Michigan firms from joining the exodus to the sunbelt.

The park was conceived three years ago by DeMattia, park developer and president of R.A. DeMattia Company, a leading design/build construction firm which he founded about eight years ago. The firm's offices are in Farmington Hills.

The firm with 75 architects, engineers and builders reported sales of more than $20 million in 1984.

The Metro-West industrial park has been marketed to potential clients with a brochure jointly produced by DeMattia and Plymouth Township. The township worked with the developer to help clients obtain industrial development bonds and tax abatements.

The firm has marketed the park for high technology, light manufacturing, warehousing and distribution uses.

DeMattia points out that the area is centrally located in Plymouth Township "offering easy access to all metropolitan areas.

"Metro-West is at the hub of Michigan's well-developed highway system. Rail, sea and air transportation terminals are all within close proximity. Detroit Metropolitan Airport, an international travel center, is less than 20 minutes away."

They include "ability to offer industrial revenue bonds for real property acquisition, construction and certain purchases of personal property for new township businesses (allowed under Act 338 of the Public Acts of 1974

Breen also notes that the township board of trustees has the ability to grant tax abatements for a maximum of 12 years, that Wayne County offers subsidies to private sector concerns for training of new employees as well as low interest loans through its Local

*Rather than waiting for students to walk in, Schoolcraft College is marketing itself to a broad range of

"As populations in high school decline, to maintain a stable enrollment we will have to recruit," admissions director John Tomey told the community-college board of trustees at its last

"A nice start," commented chairman Michael W. Burley, after hearing a 40minute report on a career day, outreach to counselors, mall exhibits and 31,000 pieces of literature.

The aims of Schoolcraft's efforts are

"Win a larger share of declining numbers of "traditional" students the 18-year-old high school graduates who are being recruited by four-year universities, private institutions and even neighboring community colleges.

• Serve older men and particularly women eyeing career changes and updated skills.

· Hang onto students who drop out in mid-course or fail to show up after be-

Barbara Geil, vice president for studeht services, said 48 high schools sent nearly 5,000 students to Schoolcraft's college day April 24. Schools from as far away as Ferndale on the east, Hartland on the northwest and Southgate on the south joined area public and private schools to see 150 ex-Hibits and hear speakers.

A high school newspaper contest, judged by professional journalists, not only rewards good papers but draws prospects to the campus for an awards breakfast, Geil added.

"I'm sure it will be another annual event," Tomey said. tiona "Schoolcraft officials have regular arts.

Among 31,000 pieces of literature, Tomey reported, were 10,000 applica-tions, 5,000 catalogs, 3,000 class schedules along with brochures and orientatiion information.

The "No-Shows" are a vexing problem that Schoolcraft is addressing with follow-up surveys.

A questionnaire was distributed to persons who were admitted but didn't appear for classes, Tomey said, and 35 percent answered.

Of them, 21 percent cited financial problems, 20 percent said classes were closed, 14 percent said they planned to attend in a subsequent semester, 6 percent said they enrolled in another college, 5 percent complained of inconvenient class times and 13 cited "other"

"The trend of no-shows is down from 19 percent to 16 percent from winter 1983 to winter '84," Tomey said. "We are in the ballpark with other commuunity colleges.

'We are two weeks away from an admissions newsletter which will be published three times a year, and one of our future plans is greater utilization of students in recruiting," Tomey said.

In reply to trustees' questions, Tomey said the nursing program no longer has a waiting list because applicants are tested, the top 93 are admitted and others are placed on an "alternate" list in case some cancel.

But there are still waiting lists for medical laboratory technology, medical records technology, occupational therapy technology and culinary

Class gift

Northville High School received a belated gift from the Class of '83 Monday with the unveiling of a commissioned work by local artist Caroline Dunphy. The artist's watercolor depicts the three faces of Northville High School — from its beginnings at its original site (now Old Village School) to its present state and on to its new renovated look. The watercolor was among the gifts presented by the Class of '83. From left is Barbara LeBouef, Class of '83 sponsor; John Pappas, Class of '83 treasurer; artist Caroline Dunphy, NHS principal David Bolitho and NHS librarian Lorraine Stanton.

Three vie for two seats in Schoolcraft College race

Only three names will be on the Schoolcraft College ballot in the June 10 election following the whithdrawal of a candidate.

Myron Kassey of Northville pulled out after filing nominating petitions, the president's office reported.

Two terms of six years are open. Candidates are Michael W. Burley, incumbent board chairman of Canton Township; Hussein S. Karzun of Livonia; and Sharon L. Sarris, incumbent treasurer and Livonia resident. Burley is a teacher at Meads Mill Junior High in Northville.

Schoolcraft candidates are elected at the same time as trustees from public school districts. The community college district includes the public school districts of Clarenceville, Livonia, Northville, Plymouth-Canton and a small

Calandro says Novi's unlikely site for state prison

A 40-acre parcel near Twelve Oaks Mall is one of nine sites being studied by Oakland County officials as a potential ocation for a state prison.

But Oakland County Commissioner John Calandro (R-Novi) maintains that Novi is on the list of potential sites by mistake and will be removed in the

"It makes no sense being on the list in the first place," said Calandro. "It's not really a threat."

The 40-acre Novi site is a landlocked arcel located between Twelve Oaks Mall and the I-96 expressway. It currently is owned by the Michigan Department of Transporation (M-DOT) and accessible only by the Twelve Oaks

The Novi property has been identified as a potential prison site in conjunction with the movement to construct new correctional facilities in the state to resolve the problem of prison over-

The Michigan Department of Management and Budget (DMB), which is responsible for selecting prison sites, plans to construct several facilities in the Metropolitan Detroit area and has asked the Oakland County Board of Commissioners to provide a recommendation.

According to Calandro, Oakland County Executive Daniel T. Murphy originally identified the 240-acre Clinton Valley property immediately adjacent to the county complex on Telegraph Road in Pontiac as the most logical site for an Oakland County

Identification of the Clinton Valley site for a state prison was greeted with an uproar by County Commissioner Walter D. Moore (D-Pontiac), who demanded that sites throughout the county be considered, and the board of commissioners subsequently formed a sub-committee to investigate alternative locations in all parts of the county and make a recommendation.

The sub-committee's recommendation will be submitted to the county's Public Services Committee, which will in turn forward it to the board of commissioners. The board will then submit its recommendation to the DMB which will make a final determination as to where a state prison in Oakland County should be located.

The Clinton Valley site identified by Murphy is not among the nine locations currently under consideration, but Calandro predicted it would be returned to the list.

"It's the most logical site in the county for a state prison due to its proximity to the county jail and county court house," he said. "The property already is owned by the state, and there's enough acreage that a prison could be built with no impact on existing businesses or residential areas."

Calandro said the process for selecting potential prison sites consisted of identifying all publicly-owned (including school districts) property within the county. The owners of the property were then contacted to determine if those sites currently were being used or are contemplated for use in the near future.

The Novi site qualified for the list because it's owned by M-DOT and currently is vacant.

Calandro said he is confident the Novi location will be deleted from the list of potential sites because it does not meet essential criteria established by the

The state has three sets of criteria essential, important and desirable for a prison site, Calandro said.

Essential criteria include: (1) must be within 30 minutes of the population to be served; (2) must have access to utilities, including sewer and water; (3) buildable land, properly buffered from retail and residential development, if located on a suburban site; (4) must have a year-round access road, no more than one mile from a paved road; and (5) must be in a location not already served by a state prison.

Calandro said he believes the proposed Novi location fails to meet at least three of the essential criteria.

"Although the site contains 40 acres, we have letters from M-DOT which say only 26.8 of those acres are buildable," he said. "And being directly next to Twelve Oaks Mall, it definitely is not 'properly buffered' from retail develop-

Calandro also emphasized that the parcel is landlocked - accessible only from the privately-owned Twelve Oaks

Noting that the Detroit House of Correction in Plymouth Township is being refurbished for use as a state prison, he must contain at least 40 acres of said Novi residents already are being served by a prison within close proximity. "DeHoCo is less than seven miles away," he observed. "That's too close for a second prison site." Calandro also said the proposed Novi location also fails to meet numerous "important" and "desirable" criteria.

"When you put it all together, it's quite obvious that the Novi parcel does not meet the criteria," he commented.

The county commissioner said he has been working with State Representative Willis Bullard and State Senators Jack Faxon and Richard Fessler to make certain the Novi location isremoved from the list of potential prison sites as expeditiously as possi-

"I'm confident it will be eliminated from further consideration as soon as the committee is made aware of the information we have compiled from M-DOT and other sources," he said.

The officer at the scene observed that the interior and trunk area of the vehicle were burned. It was further noted that the radio, deck lid and driver and passenger door were missing.

The battery and air conditioner also were gone and the headlights and grill were broken.

A silver T-top valued at $1,500 was stolen from a Chevrolet Corvette parked at Tree Tops Apartments, Novi Road, between 11 p.m. Wednesday and 6:30 a.m. Thursday of last week.

Entry to the car, which belonged to a 23-year-old Northville man, was gained by drilling a small hole into the driver's side door near the lock. Damage to the door was estimated at $300.

Trustees to discuss bikepath amendment

Second reading of an amendment to the township zoning ordinance to require bikepath construction is on the board of trustees agenda for its regular monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. The bikepath ordinance was proposed by the planning commission as a means of enforcing a planned bicycle route along Six Mile Road joining existing bikepaths paralleling both Hines Drive and I-275. Another link, requiring city cooperation, would run between the northern end of Hines Drive and Maybury State Park.

The board first approved the ordinance amendment at its April 29 special meeting. Since the ordinance was considered after the board had already voted to incorporate as a charter township, new procedures came into play.

Adoption of a new ordinance under the charter requires two readings at separate meetings and at least one publication prior to the second reading.

Trustee liaison to the planning commission Richard Allen, noting that the commission had been pursuing the bikepath amendment for some time, laughingly explained to commissioners April 30 why its adoption had been delayed.

"If we'd thought about it, we could have adopted the bikepath ordinance before we became a charter township and we'd have it on the books already.

he said. "We just got our wires crossed

Allen also noted that the Wayne County Planning Commission had rejected the proposed ordinance. The county commission vote is only advisory to the township board, which must make the actual determination.

"The reason we were given for the rejection is that they just didn't understand it — they'd never seen an or-dinance like ours and didn't know how to deal with it," Allen said.

If adopted, the new provisions would require that bikepaths be shown on site plans and constructed in accordance with a township policy whenever pro-perty along the proposed route is

Commissioner Marvin Gans, the prime proponent of the bikepath provisions, noted that completion of the plan will require the cooperation of some property owners who have previously received site plan approval or already developed their land.

Consultant, Claude Coates advised that the City of Livonia has been told of the plan and that the developer of property in that city just east of Haggerty Road will likely cooperate in establishing the short link between 1-275 and Haggerty.

Construction specifications for the bikepaths were approved by township board resolution April 29.

Fence bids stalled

delaying installation of the hospital fence until state acquisition of the Detroit House of Correction is assured, Heintz said it "seems odd" that the bid solicitation would be withdrawn "just when the DeHoCo bill is working its way through the legislature."

The township has employed its lobbying firm, Karoub & Associates, both to urge construction of the hospital fence and to represent the township's position on the prison siting issue.

Heintz recalled that earlier this year the DMB produced a work order for the fence shortly after learning that the members of the township board of trustees were planning a trip to Lansing to lobby for the project.

"We've been working on this fence for years," Heintz said. "It seems a little strange that, after all that time, the contract won't be awarded until just after the DeHoCo purchase rather than just before."

Heintz shrugged off her suspicions as "politics" and said she did not plan to protest the delay in awarding a contract for fence construction.

The DMB said fence construction would "definitely" be done in the current building season. Both the bid documents and contract language require that work begin within 60 days of the awarding of the contract, he said.

Assuming bids will be solicited again two weeks from now, that the ad runs for two weeks and that it takes three to four more weeks to conclude a contract, fence installation would begin no later than the first week in September.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on May 15, 1985, at 7:00 o'clock p.m. DST at the Board Room the Board of Trustees of Schoolcraft College will hold a public hearing on the levying in 1985 of an estimated additional proposed millage rate of 0.084 mills for operating purposes pursuant to Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982.

The Board of Trustees has the complete authority to establish that 1.77 mills be levied in 1985 from within its present authorized millage rate.

The maximum additional proposed millage rate would increase revenues for operating purposes from ad valorem property tax levies in 1985 other-wise permitted by Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982, by an estimated five percent (5%).

The figure for increase in revenue for operating purposes is based on the latest estimate of state equalized valuation of property located within the College District. In the event that state equalized valuation as finalized is for any reason higher than the estimate used for this hearing, the Board of Trustees must hold another public hearing before levying millage on any higher valuation.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive testimony and discuss the levy of an additional millage rate. Not less than seven (7) days following the public hearing, the Board of Trustees may approve all or any portion the proposed additional millage teachers and administrators and a little ribbing from high school chums.

Though he says he isn't accustomed to "life in the limelight," Peters hardly fits into the wallflower category. During the last nine months alone, he has earned more than a respectable share of kudos from both classmates and staff members.

In addition to serving as co-president of this year's Senior Class, Peters also was named Homecoming King last fall and is co-valedictorian in the Class of

In addition, he's quick to point out that he played Winston Smith in the drama department's fall production of "1984" and was the Scarecrow in the spring musical, "The Wizard of Oz."

Perhaps it's Peters' somewhat offbeat sense of humor which helps him keep things in perspective.

For instance, when discussing his high school accomplishments he notes that he received a National Council of Teachers of English Award in the same breath that he mentions his 20-minute feature film, "Revenge of the Living the amateur film maker of the "horror" flick he produced his junior year.

In addition to his lawn mower classic, Peters notes he's also made films for his Spanish classes — "foreign films" as he refers to them.

Peters is the first to admit that despite his "straight A average," he has no plans for becoming a CEO with a Fortune 500 company.

'Business bores me," he notes, adding that math and science also have been omitted from his Top Ten Favor te Curriculum list.

However, his academic prowess is 30 laughing matter. In addition to his 4.0 grade point average, Peters also earned a near perfect score (34) on the American College Testing Program. His ACT score is what initially brought him to the attention of the Commission on Presidential Scholars, an eminent group of 51 private citizens appointed by the President.

Awarded a full four-year scholarship to University of Michigan, Peters says he plans to go into the liberal arts possibly film studies.

In addition to his penchant for film making and drama, Peters also has distinguished himself in the writing have stirred his creative juices, Peters says he found his niche in classes such as creative writing, humanities and modern thought and literature.

As part of the Presidential Scholar Program, recipients are asked to identify a secondary school teacher who has had a positive influence on their educational accomplishments.

Without hesitation, Peters singles out his sophomore composition teacher John Donahue as the individual "who helped me to be myself.'

However, he says other high school teachers such as Kurt Kinde, Lorraine Woodard and Pat Dorrian-Sandbothe also had a profound influence.

"A lot of teachers have influenced me," Peters says. "That was one of the hardest things I had to answer." In addition to his teachers, Peters also credits his parents for giving him the freedom to pursue his interests -

Though he hestitates to take credit for Peters' success, teacher John Donahue concedes that "as a teacher, I was a person in the right place with the right concept.'

Noting that "it's been almost three

Though math and science may not years" since Peters sat in his classroom, Donahue says he remembers him as an excellent student in terms of both "attitude and ability." As a writer, Peters' "style far outdistanced the average student,? Donahue explains, noting he was placed in individual study for part of the course. "He writes at a tremendous depth," Donahue notes, adding that his use of skills such as "metaphor and imagery are excellent."

Not surprisingly, Donahue says Peters also is "exceptionally good on satirical works and humor."

Aside from his studies, Peters says he enjoys reading. "Catch-22 and J.D. Salinger's classic "Catcher in the Rye" are among his favorites.

"Let's see, I also enjoy playing baseball with the guys, shooting pool and watching 'Wheel of Fortune' and 'Jeopardy.'' ' he says with a wry smile.

Asked to identify a single achieve-ment which highlights his nine-year association with Northville Public Schools, Peters comeback could be expected.

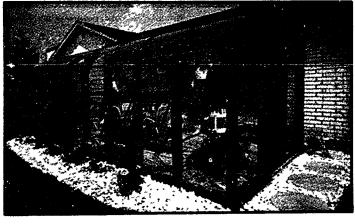

"Well, I won this Presidential Scholarship . . ."

The Northville Record

Our Opinion

Make open doors a township priority

There is cause for a timely reminder to the Northville Township Board of Trustees about the intent of Michigan's Open Meetings Act. With the hiring of a new township manager in process and the recent incorporation as a charter township as cases in point, we are seeing less attention paid to the act's spirit than we would like.

It is important to note up front that the township has done nothing wrong and evidently does not intend to — adherence to the letter of the law is firm and obviously thoroughly considered. Our point is that the law sets minimum limits for openness in government while the goal should be maximum opportunity for residents to watch their government in action.

Those who can recall the hiring of David Lelko a little more than four years ago may remember that the township unintentionally crossed the line defining what is allowed to occur behind closed doors. The committee interviewing manager candidates in private narrowed its selection down to three finalists. Then, in what upon examination seemed a clear violation of the Open Meetings Act, the full township board met in closed session to pick among those three.

Hiring decisions are among the touchiest areas governed by the act—there is a conflict between the applicants' need for privacy and the public requirement of open doors. The law's position, and the one we advocate, is that the public interest in reviewing governmental action outweighs the individual interest in privacy. The law says deliberation and decision-making, including hiring, must take place in open session.

One way to balance the opposing needs is to appoint a purely advisory committee to perform the tasks of reviewing applications and interviewing candidates. Since such a committee does not have decision-making powers, it is not defined as a public body under the Open Meetings Act and may proceed in confidence. Once such a committee makes its recommendation, however, the rest of the process must take place under the public eye.

Northville residents may recall the problem this caused the school district when it selected Lawrence Nichols to succeed Raymond Spear as school superintendent. The search committee announced its selection and the school board agreed, in public, that the topranked applicant would be offered the position. The resulting embarrassment when that candidate decided not to accept the offer still governs the thinking of public officials throughout the community.

Unfortunately for them, there is no legal way to avoid the problem. Only the public body can make the job offer and such actions must take place in the open. To minimize the risk, advisory committees often recommend only one name at a time. That appears to be what the township intends to do with the manager hiring.

While that meets the letter of the law, we are disturbed that it pays little attention to the spirit. If the township board is offered only one name, it is limited to a "yea" or "nay" decision on one person. The public interest in examining the selection process is not served — residents don't know what qualities the selected individual has that make him or her preferred over the other finalists, since there is no public discussion of the comparative strengths among finalists.

Treasurer Richard Henningsen, as he was in 1980, is the leader of the selection committee (it includes three of the seven board members). Henningsen has strong views regarding an applicant's right to privacy, and we agree with him to a degree. If doors were wide open throughout the process, many good candidates likely would not apply, fearing their present employers would discover their hunt for a new job.

In Henningsen's clearly-stated opinions of 1980, that is justification for keeping the entire process closed until the day the new manager has accepted the job and the township chooses to announce the hiring. But that idea directly conflicts with the goal of open government, one of the key tenets of which is that the public should never be faced with a fait accompli which cannot be scrutinized to ensure that the government has acted in accordance with the citizens' desires.

How to solve this problem? Our suggestion in 1980 and now is that the selection committee, while interviewing candidates, should inform them that their names may be made public if chosen among the finalists. Once the field was trimmed to the final two or three candidates, they could be advised that the public phase of the process was coming. At that point, candidates would be free to withdraw their names from consideration. This leaves it to the candidate to decide whether the benefits of possible selection warrant the risk of exposure and gives the candidate time to inform any present employer of the situation.

This procedure has been utilized in other communities and seems to us to balance the competing needs of all parties. Particularly in the field of municipal management, professionals are generally well aware of the legal and ethical demands for public disclosure and expect their names to be made public eventually. The risk of losing the best candidates seems to us a minimal one when balanced against the public good.

We might expect the township to pursue such a course were we not so recently faced with evidence that open government is not one of its priorities. If it were, the township would have taken more care to inform citizens of its recent special meeting to incorporate as a charter township. Rather than schedule that April 29 session far enough in advance to publish a legal notice, the board delayed the decision to call the meeting until April 24 — too late for publication of any sort. The meeting was entirely legal. Notice was posted on a bulletin board in township hall a full five days in advance — the law requires only 18 hours. But the number of people likely to see an 8½ x 11-inch sheet of paper in a corner of township hall is far fewer than might have been informed had the meeting date been announced earlier.

We see no shady intent in the procedure, only a lack of commitment to the idea of providing the citizens sufficient advance notice of the board's intent to make an important decision. True, there was little or no evidence of any public concern regarding incorporation, but that does not absolve the board of its responsibility to the public. Given this example, it may seem foolhardy to expect a firm commitment to public disclosure in the hiring of a township manager. But we can hope.

Just a few suggestions

By B.J. Martin

Now, I'm not going to argue that the creation and evolution of the world as we know it is a complete disaster. Anyone who watches "Wide World of Animals" or baseball knows that nature and man have done some things exactly right.

From watching "Wide World of Animals," I know the largest lizard in the world has a taste for human beings, but its eyesight is so poor, it won't know you're there unless you step on its tongue. Good thinking, Ma Nature. From watching baseball, I know the beefiest power hitters almost always strike out the most and hit into the most double plays. Nice going, Abner Doubleday.

But as a Muckraking Journalist, it's my duty to find fault wherever possible, and so I have listed the following improvements that need to be made to achieve a perfect cosmos. Get busy.

- 1.) The day/night cycle should be lengthened from 24 to 36 hours. This would give us 24 waking hours and another 12 to sleep off whatever we do with them. Anyone who has worked late or who has stayed up to read Stephen King or watch David Letterman and regretted it the next morning, will appreciate this change. The best way to lengthen days is to extend the processes of sunrise and sunset, so that more people have a chance to view these.
- 2.) The night sky is too stagnant. We need to see more of the aurora borealis, more meteor showers, swamp gas, UFOs, comets and other celestial phenomena.
- 3.) The distribution of extra fat cells produced from overeating should be placed under the brain's voluntary control instead of using its present uncontrolled method. This would let us decide where weight gain or loss should be manifested. I'm sure we all have have specific places where we would like to have a little extra bulk. For example, men might like more in their chest hair. Women might prefer it in their fingernails.

- 4.) Nerves should not transmit a signal of pain for longer than one second. The purpose of pain is to alert your brain to a problem somewhere in the body. However, if the lawn mower runs over your foot, your brain will need just one quick jolt to make you aware of this. Continual reminding is unneccessary.
- 5.) Radio stations should agree to impose a unilateral onemonth moratorium on broadcasting any song that has been atop the musical charts for two weeks.
- 6.) Festivals are too short. Even primitive and pagan cultures knew enough to have week-long free-for-all holidays in celebration of this or that. I'm sure an advanced society such as ours can improve on this.
- 7.) Maybe because politicians decide who is to be honored by national holidays, thus far only politicians have been deemed worthy of the honor. As we have depleted long ago the stock of good ones to honor, we should consider the following non-political Americans' birthdays (preferably all) for government-sanctioned paid holidays: Louis Armstrong, Thomas Hart Benton, George Washington Carver, Mary Cassatt, Walt Disney, Thomas Edison, Albert Einstein, Duke Ellington, George Gershwin, Ernest Hemingway, Alfred Hitchcock, Captain, Kangaroo, John Lennon, Herman Melville, Eugene O'Neill, Elvis Presley, Babe Ruth, Jonas Salk, Gertrude Stein, Mark Twain, and Frank Lloyd Wright.
- 8.) When caught, a fish's eyes, bones and internal organs should automatically dissolve, since they are no longer needed or wanted. Just big iish, not the little ones you'd throw back.
- 9.) To enhance the acoustics of any musical concert, prior to the show, the audience should be bound and gagged. At the final curtain, ushers may then untie the patrons so that they may applaud, whistle, cheer, sing, bang their seats, etc. to their hearts' content.
- 10.) The most revered and richly rewarded profession in society should be that of the journalist.

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

Martha Cook called Sunday. From Virginia.

Martha hails from Macon, Georgia. My wife said her accent was so thick she couldn't understand her. Which was odd because I thought Martha had lost much of the accent she had when we attended Maryville College in Tennessee.

At any rate, Martha called to encourage me to attend our 20th class reunion this spring. Ralph Tucker, Mike Moyers, John Hinderer and Gail Wilkes are all coming, she said. Norman might even fly in from Germany. "Oh, Fee-yil, you've just got to come."

It will be like old times."

I'm really tempted to go, too. It would be great to see all my old friends after 20 years. Plus I'd get to see the beautiful Smoky Mountains. Nothing's quite as pretty as the Smokies in the spring.

It reminded me of the time my family drove down from Northville to see me graduate. My father and mother, and all my brothers and sisters.

After coming that far, they had to see the Smokies. So we took off after graduation for a ride in the mountains. And, as luck would have it, we came across a small group of people feeding a family of bears by the side of the road, so we got out of the car and joined in.

My mother pulled out the Brownie and moved aggressively to the front of the crowd for a picture. As she clicked the shutter, one of the baby bears looked up and she took off, hell bent for leather, in the other direction.

People who remember my mother know that she was not a small woman. Short, but quite heavy. And the sight of her galloping down the road was a spectacle which sent the rest of us into gales of laughter.

The baby bear had only raised its head before returning to its food. But my mother had taken off at the first movement and had no idea the bear was not in hot pursuit.

So what did her loving children do? "He's gaining on you," we shouted. Which, of course, caused her to run even faster and start whooping little, high-pitched yips as she rumbled along.

Geez, it was funny. Boy she was mad when she found out her life had not been in imminent danger. Maybe I'll go to that reunion after all. Good times, nice memories.

What our readers want

by Pat Bowling

If someone were to ask me (and someone did recently) what I thought Novi and Northville readers liked to see in their local weekly newspapers, I would respond, "More features. More people-oriented stories and more sports. Maybe more consumer news.'

I may not be all wrong, but I also may not be entirely correct, either, I have learned. A poll was conducted among newspaper journalists recently, and many of them responded as I did. When asked what they thought the public reads most, 64 percent of the journalists put sports at the top of the list. Peopleoriented stories were what the journalists thought their readers' second-most popular item in the newspaper would be. Less than three out of every 10 journalists interviewed felt readers have more interest in news than

The researchers then asked newspaper readers themselves what interested them most in their local newspapers. Much to the surprise of journalists, the newspaper readers polled put national and environmental news at the top of their list. Although sports and features certainly didn't fall at the bottom, they did run second to more substantive news coverage. In fact, many of the readers polled said they would like to see more in-depth coverage of timely issues in their local newspapers.

Dr. Charles Atkins of Michigan State University presented these findings, which were gathered as part of a newspaper readership project for the American Society of Newspaper Editors, at a journalism conference in Grand Rapids last month. His report was a stinging indictment for newspaper journalists. We just don't know our readers very well, he said.

I hate to admit it, but I think he might be right. I talked with 150 residents of Novi last weekend. None of them were city officials. None of them were prominent business people. None of them were officers in popular civic groups like the Jaycees, Rotary Club, Lions or Goodfellows. They weren't union presidents or negotiators, property developers or coaches for high school sports

In short, they weren't the people we usually go to as sources for stories. Quite frankly, these folks surprised me. They were more informed, more opinionated and more willing to share their opinions than I anticipated. In the process of gathering 150 responses, I only had about a dozen people curtly dismiss my request for a few moments of their time.

My purpose in conducting the survey was to gauge public opinion on the proposed convention center and 12-story addition to the Sheraton Oaks Hotel. But once I had residents on the telephone, I was sorely tempted to chat with them for a few minutes about other issues, as well. I wondered how they felt about development in general, about the Town Center plans and the civic center plans.

On several occasions I didn't have to suppress my own curiosity - some people took the opportunity to tell me what they thought of other issues, whether I asked or not. "Now, let me tell you what I think of the traffic situation," offered several respondents. "I don't care whether they build 12 stories," said one man, "but I'll tell you what I think of this industrial development going in next to my neighborhood . . .'

The survey drove home Dr. Atkins' point. We need to make a better effort to solicit public input on the issues we report. Reader surveys similar to the one I conducted last month are one way to accomplish that goal. Unfortunately, it is extremely time consum-

Another way is to encourage more Letters to the Editor on timely issues. One of the reasons journalists have a limited understanding of their readers is that only a small handful of people ever write a Letter to the Editor. Only a small handful of people ever attend public meetings - even when the discussion is about how their tax dollars are being spent or how the property next door to them is being developed.

Therefore we tend to believe there is only a small handful of people out there who care about the things going on in their community. We then deduce our public is probably more interested in reading features than they are in reading news.

DMB insisted on adding to his bill. Law said the clause was added at the insistence of the City of Detroit, which will retain ownership on nearly 900 acres of land in the two townships.

In full, the added paragraph states: "This section shall not be construed as limiting the use by the City of Detroit of the real property owned by the City of Detroit which adjoins the existing Detroit House of Correction."

Law said he is unsure of the paragraph's implications. "If it means they could build a prison there, then we'll have to take that out when it gets to the senate." Law said.

Another section of Law's bill rescinds the enabling legislation that allowed Detroit to build and operate DeHoCo. Absent that legislation, cities are allowed to operate only local jails used for pre-trial housing of arrested persons.

The DeHoCo purchase bill itself calls for payment of $6.7 million to the City of Detroit. Sale terms include Detroit retention of mineral rights on the land. a requirement that the land be returned ferences between the bills.

to Detroit ownership if the state does not use it for a prison and state hiring of the city workers formerly employed at DeHoCo.

Geake has criticized some of the sale provisions, most notably the reverter clause and the hiring of Detroit workers. According to Law, the original 'deal" worked out on the two bills called for no changes to either of them in the state senate. "But they've gone ahead and added that clause to my bill," Law said "As far as I'm concerned, if the senator wants to make any changes in the DeHoCo bill, he's no longer bound by that agreement."

Law added that he had hoped to report out a clean bill -- "one that both sides could agree to and have it go through quickly without any changes. If the bills are passed by the house and then changed in the senate, they would have to be returned to the house for approval of the changes. If the house does not approve, a conference committee made up of representatives and senators would have to iron out the dif-

State representative Gerald H. Law (R-Plymouth Township), who wrote a bill requiring state sale of the property that has since been delayed after discovery of the reverter clause, said the Plymouth Center sale would become his top priority after the DeHoCo issue is settled. "There's a lot that could be done with that property," Law said. "(Robert) DeMattia just sold out an industrial park (Metro West) right across the street in Plymouth Township. Black sheep producers plan Fleece Fair

By SHARON ROSE

"Mary has a little lamb . . ."

Actually, Northville's Mary Jo Griffith has a whole flock of sheep, and she's definitely not partial to "fleece white as snow.

As an officer of the Michigan Black Sheep Producers, she's working hard to improve the lot and clean up the unsavory image of black sheep. She and Novi's Margaret Schmidt, another of-ficer, would like to see the area become known as the Black Sheep capital of

The organization is gearing up for its annual Fleece Fair on Saturday, May 18, at the Faith Community United Presbyterian Church on Ten Mile, west of Novi Road, in Novi. The public is invited to attend the fleece and craft sale as well as spinning and weaving demonstrations during the afternoon session, which runs from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

The black sheep's bad reputation is undeserved, according to Griffith, and farmers can lay the blame on the desk of "Big Business." Large wool producers and mills prefer white fleece because it's easier to handle and dye

As a result, farmers began eliminating black and gray sheep from their flocks for breeding purposes.

The farmer's wife gets credit for protecting and promoting black sheep. 'She'd offer to keep a particularly cute little lamb as a pet to save it from the butcher's block," said Griffith. Then the farmer's family would wear gray sweaters and socks for years to

Griffith is an animal lover who, with her husband, Richard, has raised turkeys, pigs, geese, ducks, quail, rabbits, goats and horses over the years on their 10-acre spread on Nine Mile in Northville.

You've heard the joke about the flock that follows a leader off a cliff or into a river? It's true," she laughed. "They're lovable but dumb. A well-trained sheep dog is a big help. They have an instinct to herd, and will round up the strays."

Griffith has her favorites — Buttons is a six-year-old sheep that has become a family pet and supplies fleece for her spinning and knitting. "It's kind of nice when I can say, 'This sweater came from Buttons."

The Griffiths breed Corriedale sheep for the production of wool and meat. They claim that sheep are relatively easy to raise; they're gentle, grazing animals who eat grass and grain. They're also creatures of habit, and know what time meals are served.

"If I'm late, they stand at the gate calling and pacing back and forth," Griffith said. "And the lambs are so cute. They play tag and run and leap they have more energy than you can imagine. Some people buy them for A good-looking lamb will be sold or saved for breeding. "If they're not outstanding-looking at birth, I say, 'Well, hello, leg-of-lamb.""

Black sheep are well-suited to a small farm, since the wool market is limited. Hand spinners are especially interested in their fleece since they don't have to bother with dyes and can produce beautiful, natural colors and tweeds.

Griffith belongs to two spinners' guilds, Town & Country, based in Farmington, and Spinners Flock, based in Ann Arbor. In addition to her work as treasurer and newsletter editor for the Michigan Black Sheep Producers, she is a distributor for Louet Products, which include spinning wheels and

Golfing business enjoys more popularity

In previous springs, this would be the time when men and women would bag up their bowling balls and dig through their closets for either a baseball glove of tennis racket. However, these days it seems that more and more people are beginning to pull golf clubs from those cluttered storage compartments.

The increased popularity of golf has resulted in a major boom for the golf industry, which credits an improving economy for its good fortune.

Money has always been one of the main drawbacks in golf. While baseball, softball and tennis players can do their thing for practically no cost whatsoever, golfers have to dish out the First of all there's a required set of golf clubs, which can range anywhere from $100 to $1,000. According to most experts, an adequate set costs between $250 and $350.

Then there are golf balls, which are approximately $1.75 each, and various other equipment which is necessary to be successful. And let's not forget green fees, which range from $4 to $10 for nine, holes and $6 to $25 for 18 holes.

What all of this adds up to is a rather large expense. Nonetheless, the interest in golf is beginning to outweigh the drawback, and people now are willing to pay some money for the entertainment.

'A lot of it has to do with how the PGA (Professional Golfers Association) has promoted junior golf and women's golf," said Kurt Foley, club pro at the Dunham Hills Golf & Country Club in Milford.

"Before, the majority of people who played golf were older men. Go out on a course now, though, and you'll see just as many high school kids and women as anybody else out there.

"The economy hasn't hurt either," Foley continued. "For a while, people just couldn't afford to play golf. It's getting better, though, and hopefully the economy will continue to improve.

Carol Jacobs from the Highland Hills Golf Club also says the golf industry has taken off, but she has a different outlook on the economy.

"The economy just isn't as good as it once was, so instead of packing up and going north for the weekend, people are heading out to the golf courses," she commented. "Whether the economy changes again really won't matter because once people start playing golf, they get hooked.

Similar to the increase in bowling popularity over the last 10 years, the golf people who are benefitting most from the boom are manufacturers and

Golf is a socializing sport, but it also is a sport which can be frustrating and sometimes embarrassing when one is not competent. As a result, golfers are purchasing top-notch equipment and playing as many rounds as possible to improve their games.

"I've noticed a change in the attitude of golfers," Foley said. "They definitely want the equipment which is going to help their game. They're interested in anything that may lower their scores.'

Several new golf courses in the area have opened over the last two years, another sign of the boom. Courses in South Lyon, Northville, Novi and Milford all have reported increased

"It's almost a way of life for me in the summer," said Mike Murphy, a golfer from Northville. "I started playing about three years ago and I love it. I used to play baseball and basketball in high school, but this is my game now."

Foley added that once a golf course opens, it's a rarity to see it close. "I can't remember the last time a golf course went under," he said.

As for future trends, Foley foresees several of the public courses striving to improve their quality.

"Private courses and some of the public courses are very different right now," Foley said. "So if anyone really wants quality conditions, they almost have to join a club. I feel down the line, though, people will be able to play almost any public course and get that quality they're looking for.'

Futurist foresees new employment trends

"Blindness to trends and their in-evitable changes is hazardous to your job and health," according to futurist David E. Smith

Smith, the co-ordinator for the World Future Society in Southeastern Michigan, spoke recently on "Jobs of the Future" at a Schoolcraft College

In addition to many new exotic jobs, Smith foresees changes brought about by the effects of an aging population, the increase in youth employment and the de-industrialization of America.

As co-ordinator of the non-profit scientific and education organization, Smith said, "Futurists are not mystics. Futurists study trends to enable them o make reasonable guesses.'

Smith named three noteworthy

The aging of America. As the baby comers reach their 30s and 40s, they begin to experience frustration in the workplace because of greater competition for upper echelon jobs. The retirement of high-ranking executives eases this competition sightly, but puts added strain on the Social Security system.

• The decrease in unemployment among youth, a positive trend. "I've seen more opportunities for young people in terms of beginning jobs this summer than I have seen in over a decade," hệ said. "And I expect that to con-

• De-industrialization, a trend that

> David E. Smith, Future Society Coordinator

worries a large number of people who fear it will create an unresolvable loss of jobs. But Smith found a "silver lining in this ominous cloud's lining."

The jobs that are being eliminated are largely the simplest and most competitive, he said. With this comes a deemphasis on strength, opening doors for many, women and the handicapped in particular.

The shift to a global economy, from a practice of isolationism, will affect the obs of the future, Smith said.

By the year 2000, the Third World nations will be manufacturing as much as 30 percent of the world's goods. They have the workforce and can produce basic goods for less.'

Already, Smith pointed out, such large industrial countries as Japan and technology to shift to other menas of employing their vast populations.

American industry has picked up on this idea. Employers are willing to train workers not only for additional specific job skills, but with general education that will be beneficial if there is a need for a career change -'employment protection, rather than job protection," he said.

This advanced training will not necessarily consist of formal classes, he said. Conferences provide a great deal of education and allow professionals to meet and share ideas. Conferences which last several days can take the guise of a working vacation, adding to workers' morale.

Conferences also provide workers an opportunity to make connections with other individuals in their field.

With added leisure time, individuals can choose to have another career, as Smith himself has chosen. In addition to writing and speaking on futurism. Smith is an educator and, with his wife Sandra, works as an independent consultant in the area of planning and program development.

Smith foresees a time when individuals will choose to have several part-time careers instead of one fulltime job. This change will be assisted possibly by the addition of "flex time" where workers choose their own hours of work

In addition to changing work patterns, Smith also foresees the rise of several "exotic" careers — artifical intelligence programmers (someone must program the machinery), undersea hotel management, underwater archaelogist (75 percent of the Earth is water and the oceans are mankind's final frontier), hazardous waste management technician, industrial robotics production technicians, genetic engineers (to devise new methods of providing food and materials for a fast-growing population), electronic communications (programmers, developers, marketers service and repairmen), health and

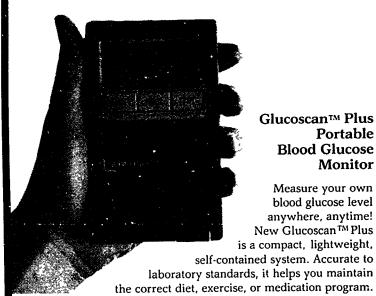

Nevertheless, Smith stressed that there will still be a need for more traditional types of employment - nursing, food service and janitors.

Class Teaches You How To Be A Do-It-Yourself Contractor

By M.S. MEZA

It is not, says course instructor Carl Heldmann, a do-it-yourself course in carpentry, plumbing and roofing. Instead, he says it's just the opposite. The class offers instruction in employing subcontractors to do all the physical work and handling other factors such as obtaining a lot and financing. In other words how to build a house without using a general con-

The next seminars, Heldmann says will be held at the Ramada Inn. Merriman Rd. at Metropolitan Airport on Saturday, May 4th and May 18th, 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and costs $125 for an individual or $185 for a couple.

Heldmann, a Syracuse, N.Y., native who has lived in Charlotte since 1969, building a Village of Raintree home in the early 1970s. He became a contractor in 1974 and says he has been building houses ever since, with the exception of two years at the worst of the 1981-83 housing recession. He also recently joined the sales staff of Thies Realty & Mortgage Co. in Heldmann, who offers a variety of seminars through his Michigan School of Home Building, Inc. has written three paperback books to help do-it-yourself contractors, persons interested in building tog homes and those who want to do home renovations. All are on sale at local bookstores for from $7.95 to $9.95, he says, and some hardware stores also handle them.

"Be Your Own House Contractor" is in its fifth printing, and between 25,000 and 40,000 copies have been sold, Heldmann says. It's the text used in Michigan classes.

The premise of Heldmann's course is that a person armed with enough information can save from 15% to 25% of the cost of building a home by taking on the job of organizing and arranging for everything. And, he argues, it can be done almost entirely over the telephone.

Topics include finding a lot, zoning, utilities and restrictions, finding and possibly adapting a house plan, estimating costs, hiring subcontractors, obtaining materials and obtaining construction and permanent financing. Those completing the course also a complete directory list of individuals, subcontractors, sup-pliers and lending institutions Heldmann has found satisfactory for Oakland, Macomb, Wayne, Livingston and Washtenaw Counties. However, he urges participants to make their own reference checks before hiring anyone.

Survey supplies some of the answers

By B.J. MARTIN

It you're a regular reader of this Arbor and statewide figures.... newspaper chances are you and your spouse are about 33, bring in around $46,000 a year, and spend about a third more than the average Michigan couple at the department store.

At least one of you has a professional/fechnical-type job, and the two of you spent almost $100 on your shoes last year.

And, oh yes, you're probably of Ger.

How did we find out so much about you? The answer might sound a little

A Los Angeles demographics dataretrieval outfit called Urban Decision Systems, Inc., filled us in. The California-based corporation recently was contracted by The 108 Group, a new real estate development firm based in the study: Northville, to conduct a demographic study of an area including almost all of the City of Novi, almost all of Plymouth Township, all of Novi and Northville townships, and all of the cities of Nor-thville and Plymouth.

The study's findings persuaded The 108 Group that its plans to build a highrent shopping, office, apartment, restaurant building in downtown Northville would be a profitable undertak-

The study also compared the Nor-thville, Novi, Plymouth area with two other identically-sized geographic areas: one centered at the intersection of West Maple and North Woodward in downtown Birmingham, and one centered at Main and Liberty, in downtown Ann Arbor. The idea behind the comparisons was to determine whether business and residential projects which had been successful in those communities were also possible here. To present a wider perspective, the study also compiled county-wide. (Oakland, Wayne,

Historian Petz recalls big-band era

Now this fellow, Weldon E. Petz, has

The native Detroiter, a musician, scholar and educator, is the Northville Arts Commission's guest lecturer tonight at City Hall. The topic of Petz's talk, the second-to-last of the commission's Second Wednesday Lecture Series this season, will be "The History and Sounds of the Big Band Era by a Participant."

. Petz's qualifications on the subject are exemplary. He was an in-demand trombonist, mostly in New York City, in the 1940s. He has played, written, arranged and recorded music with such musical luminares as Ella Fitzgerald, Jimmy Dorsey, Johnny Long, Horace Heidt and Jimmy Durante.

He led his own big band under the name of Tommy Weldon, performing throughout the Midwest in the early

In addition to his career as a bandsman, Petz taught instrumental music in the Detroit Public Schools for 17 years, leaving in 1963 to accept the position of principal with Farmington Public Schools.

But Petz probably is best known as one of the U.S.' leading authorities on President Abraham Lincoln. Many of Petz's books, papers and magazine articles on the subject have been publish-

In 1972, he was awarded the Lincoln Diploma of Honor, the highest recognition given for accomplishments in research knowledge of the Lincoln and Civil War facets of American history. Other recipients have been Raymond Massey, Robert Sherwood, Carl Sandburg, Allan Nevins and Bruce Catton.

Among his other awards are the 1974 National DAR Medal of Honor, and the 1973 Regional Award for Outstanding Educational Leadership, presented by the Michigan Association of Elementary School Principals.

A native Detroiter, Petz is no stranger to local history buffs. He has spoken before more than 1,200 groups, addressing professional historians, historical societies and colleges, as well as talking to thousands of school students of all ages.

Petz is also an avid collector of Lincoln material. His collection includes several hundred historical volumes, more than 4,000 voumes of pamphlet material, approximately 2,500 prints, photographs and paintings, hundreds of research files dealing with Lincoln's life, many rare statues, plaques and medallions, several manuscripts and pieces of regalia.

He is currently attempting to reconcile his interests in Lincoln and in music in one place. His master's degree thesis was titled "Music and Abraham Lincoln," and Petz has returned to the subject with renewed entusiasm, conducting much research lately.

He is also working on two books, one concerning the Michigan Christian Commission during the Civil War, the other a study of Michigan's remembrance of its Civil War soldiers and Abraham Lincoln.

Petz's presentation will take place at 7:30 p.m. tonight. The lecture costs $2 at the door, and coffee will be served.

The seven-member Northville Arts Commission meets the third Tuesday of each month in room 202 of the Board of Education, 501 West Main Street. Commission members encourage visitors and participants at any of their Friends of Northville Library group has been adding both members and activities. Among the regular events that assist in making possible Friends' projects for the Northville Public Library are the quarterly book sales. One is in progress today until 9 p.m. at the library.

Geraldine Mills, who succeeded Sue Fostey as president at the annual meeting March 13, reports that the February sale, which she headed, netted $109.30. The November sale under chair Claudene Kinnaird raised $147.46.

For the next sale the books will be moved outdoors to a

Friends' booth at the annual merchants' sidewalk sale, which is set for August 2-3 this year.

Other Friends' officers are Pat Allen, vice president; Edie Dunbar, secretary; Margaret Spigarelli, treasurer; and Val Cook, Mrs. Fostey and Lois Winters, directors.

The Friends welcome new members as the library has been seeking volunteers to input records on the computer terminal. Anyone interested in the Friends or library projects should contact librarian Anne Mannisto.

Local cooks enter Great Chili Cook-Off

How can chili be made some 80 different ways?

Easily, according to Jay Flaviani. Jay and his wife Christine have been experimenting on their special chili recipe, which they call "Northville Hot Trot Chili," for the past several months in the kitchen of their Northville home on Spring Drive in preparation for last weekend's Great Chili Cook-Off benefit for the National Kidney Foundation of Michigan.

"While you have the basic eight or nine chili ingredients, it's the way you use the items — when you put the spices in, the quality of the ingredients," says

"In addition," he confides, "everybody has a little thing that's dif-

Here's basic recipe to vary

If local chili fanciers' ideas to improve chili inspire you to try your own batch, here is a basic recipe that makes a good beginning. Everything from beans to beer, paprika and barbeque sauce may be added to taste.

MOLLY'S BASIC CHILI

2 lbs. ground beef, browned and drained 1 large Spanish onion, chopped ¾ cup chopped celery 1 large can peeled tomatoes y-8 juice Clove garlic (optional)

Italian seasoning Chili powder Tbsp. vinegar

Pinch of sugar

Brown beef with onion and chopped garlic, if used.

Mix all ingredients in large pot and simmer at least one to two hours. Amount of V-8 juice used depends on desired consistency. Use Italian seasoning and chili powder to taste. Serves six.

The chocolate in the M&Ms "mellows" the hot pepper flavor, Jay says, and gives their chili a distinctive difference. Christine says the recipe really is her husband's and "has a lot of meat in it."

The couple has been entering the Great Chili Cook-Off since 1982, placing eighth the first year. The year before they had attended the benefit as spectators. Since both like to cook, Jay explains, he said to his wife, "Let's enter" - and they have ever since. The second year they placed in the top 20, but did not do so in 1984.

Since last year they have been experimenting with different recipes and came up with "Northville Hot Trot Chili" for the competition last Saturday which had 80 competing in the sanctioned cook-off, the largest regional one in the country and a qualifier for the Inter-national Chili Society competition.

This is held in the fall in California. In addition to the lure for the free trip for two to California, Jay Flaviani points out the event is "for a good cause." He mentions that it also is a lot of fun with participants bringing their own cheering sections to the cook-off held at the Saline Farm Council grounds. In good weather it has drawn as many as 1,500 spectators.

The benefit has become so popular that entrants vie to compete. This year the sponsors added a First Annual Renegade Cook-Off (unsanctioned) with 40 cooks last Sunday.

The two-day event also included a major hot air balloon festival in memory of Dr. William C. Grabb, a former University of Michigan professor of surgery. It was sponsored by Health Care Network, a subsidiary of Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan. Gall Murphy, a vocational food services teacher for 15 years at Walled Lake Central and a resident of East Glen Haven (Country Place Condos), entered the Renegade Cook-Off which will entitle her to a spot in the sanctioned event next year.

"It's a lottery to get into these," she mentions, revealing that her recipe used black beans. She agrees with the Flavianis that chili is "pretty basic," but says she feels how the cook displays the dish is important.

She was using a partial still — "well worth looking at" — in her display. Jim Sgriccia of Northville also was entered in the Renegade Cook-Off. Raymond Medonis of Northville participated in the sanctioned event Saturday with a team of Dearborn friends. It was the group's second year in the cook-off. The team of close friends from childhood placed in the top 50 in 1984 and took "their own special recipe" to this year's cook-off, Medonis' wife reports. "They really have a good time with team spirit," she explains.

Novi residents listed in the sanctioned event included Kevin Pelto and sons and Cindy Skalsky.

The winner of the new Sunday event in which 40 cooks competed was to receive a trip for two to Las Vegas, as well as the guaranteed slot in the sanctioned event in 1986. Sunday's cook-off permitted cooks to use beans and ethnic

In addition to the balloon event, the two-day benefit included the Tri-State Pinto Association Horse Show.

All proceeds from the weekend were to go to the National Kidney Foundation of Michigan.

New Japanese 'Super Pill' Insures Rapid Weight-Loss

No Dieting — Eat All You Want, Pill Does All The Work

BEVERLY HILLS, CA - An exciting new "all natural" weight-loss "Super" Pill developed by the JMA (Japanese Medical Association) has just been approved for distribution in the United States. Reportedly, it can guarantee that you will lose more than a pound a day without dieting, from the very first day until you reach your ideal weight and figure. News of this "Super Pill" is literally sweeping the country. It's called Amitol and there has never been anything quite like it before.

"Flushes Calories Right Out Of Your Body'

What makes Amitol so thrilling and unique is its reported ability to flush calories right out of your body. Amitol is completely safe, it contains no drugs whatsoever. Its ingredients are derived solely from the Konjac root which grows primarily in Northern Japan.

Why the Konjac root? It has been used in Japan for over 1600 years to produce rapid and natural weight-loss!

Japanese studies verify that Konjac root actually prevents fat producing calories from being absorbed into your system. They say it does this by surrounding much of the fats, proteins and carbohydrates you have eaten with a protective viscous coating which is then gently flushed out of your system. And according to Japanese research this produces absolutely amazing results.

And who can disagree! Amitol (although brand new to this country) is already being called by many people, "the most exciting weight-loss breakthrough of the century." In fact, everywhere there are reports of easy and fast weight-loss from formerly overweight people (in all walks of life) who are now slim, trim, and attractive again.

Company Offers Extraordinary Guarantee

You now can purchase Amitol direct from the North American distributor, and it comes with an extraordinary guarantee.

If you place your order now and then follow the simple instructions for a period of 30 days, you must be completely satisfied with the dramatic visible results or just return the empty container and Dyna Labs will immediately send back your entire purchase price. This guarantee applies regardless of your age or current weight level. What could be better than that! It's just that simple. If you've tried to lose weight before and failed you no longer have an excuse. Amitol is available, it's easy and it works without dieting!

$19.95—30 day supply, or $35.95 — 60 day supply. Order immediately by sending a check or money order to DYNA LABS, 270 No. Canon Dr., Ste. 1255 (Dept. U-21) Beverly Hills, CA, 90210. (Enclose your return address). Credit card holders can order by simply dialing toll free: (1-800-367-2400) 24 hrs a day, 7 days a week. Either way your order will be promptly sent. Please don't wait. She introduces community to newcomers New Lamaze series set Whether they move to Northville from a few miles east in Livonia, a bit south in Canton — or from Missouri or New York, new arrivals to the community are welcoming visits from Ann Guldberg, who often is one of their first new acquaintances.

With a spring spurt in homebuilding, Guldberg currently is bringing greetings and information about the community to about 50 new residents a

'I can't say enough about Northville and our schools," says Guldberg, who recently became the official Welcome Wagon representative in both the city and township.

"I tell them (new arrivals to the community) about Newcomers and what a wonderful way that is to get acquainted and about the historical society and the Mill Race," she says.

In addition to being a source of information about organizations in the community, Guldberg also extends a welcome from 22 area offices and "I like to get them (newcomers) into stores and not just to the malls," she explains. Many merchants welcome the new arrivals with gifts on their first visit to their store, she adds.

It held an added attraction that hours are somewhat flexible. She can visit new arrivals during school hours, unless both family members work. Then she makes evening or Saturday appointments.

Surprisingly, Guldberg finds, many residents have moved to Northville from surrounding areas, such as Livonia or Canton.

"There's no one particular area," she says, noting that recent new residents from out of state have come from Missouri and New York.

Technically, she says, Welcome Wagon visits are made when a family changes residence or has a new baby or celebrates a special occasion. Right now, however, Guldberg is kept busy just visiting new arrivals to the com-

The Northuille Record

Mustangs win first in softball

After eight straight agonizing one-run losses, Northville's varsity softball team finally broke loose. The Mustangs pasted division rival Livonia Churchill 13-9 last Friday to record the team's first victory of the 1985 season.

Northville rapped out a season-high 13, hits to give Lori Housman all the cushion the senior righthander needed. Housman allowed 12 hits, but she struck out seven and walked just six hitters.

Vicki Robins and Sue Schrader led the charge on offense. Robins doubled twice and drove in two runs while Schrader picked up three RBI with a pair of singles.

Julie Cass drove in a pair of runs with a double, Kim Richcreek delivered two singles and an RBI and Dorothy Ziegler drove in one run with a fourth-inning single.

Catcher Chris McGowan and shortstop Jackie Matteucci each singled twice and each drove in a pair of runs. "They did great on defense last week, too," said Northville Coach Sue Heinzman. "I think we have the best defensive catcher and the best defensive shortstop in the league.'

Indeed, McGowan gunned down three baserunners in each of her last two games. She allowed just one passed ball during those games.

The Mustang battery of Housman and McGowan was the highlight of Northville's loss to Salem. McGowan had three singles and one RBI against the Rocks, while Housman singled, doubled, drove in three runs and hurled an effective four-hitter in seven innings of Northville led Salem 5-4 until the Rocks moved ahead to stay with a three-run fifth inning. The Mustangs picked up four of their runs in a big third on singles by McGowan, Robins, Housman, Michele Siemasz and a double by Schrader.

The Mustangs scored in the first inning on a single by Matteucci and Housman's RBI double, and rallied for one in the sixth on singles by Julie Kaestner, Cass and McGowan.

Siemasz threatened to tie the game in the bottom of the seventh with a hardhit double. But a perfect relay to third base caught her trying to turn it into a triple.
Siemasz wasn't the only baserunner

Northville couldn't bring home. The Mustangs stranded 10 in the game.

Heinzman wasn't complaining, though. "When we played Salem last year, they mercied us 32-1. I'd say we've shown some incredible improve-

Lisa Crawford worked all seven innings of a nonconference game against Brighton on Monday, and Crawford absorbed a 7-6 loss. Although Crawford's control was sharp — she allowed only four walks — the tough Bulldogs picked up 14 hits.

Housman powered a liner in the fifth that got past Brighton's diving centerfielder for a solo home run, the firstregular season round-trip blast for Northville this year. Housman also picked up an RBI double in the seventh, when a five-run Northville rally left the Mustangs one run shy of tying the

During that rally Brighton issued five walks to go with Housman's double and Chris Buelow's two-run single. Kaestner and Mina Rahimi each had

"I'm very pleased with the way we're coming along," Heinzman declared.
"Now that we've gotten past the really tough part of the schedule, I'm hoping we can keep things on track. That win over Churchill was a big one for us psychologically. I'm very optimistic."

Northville will host Livonia Bentley at 4 p.m. today, then face division rivals Plymouth Canton at 3:30 p.m. Friday (home) and Walled Lake Western at 4 p.m. Monday (away).

Netters still unbeaten in conference

How badly did Northville beat Novi in tennis last week?

Well, Novi Coach Jim Newbold said this round of the rivalry went 'something like Pearl Harbor" for his Wildcats.

All four singles matches and all three doubles matches went to Northville in straight sets. Only Doug Kamienecki's jourth singles opponent, Brian Hanley, gave Northville much trouble. Kamienecki prevailed 7-6 (tiebreaker to Kamienecki), 7-5 over Novi's lone senior regular.

Although Northville also posted victories over conference rivals Plymouth Salem and Livonia Churchill last week, ton. "But it turned out to be a real neither of those matches went quite so breezily. The Mustangs escaped each of their foes by scores of 4-3 to remain unbeaten in Western Lakes conference

The outcome of Northville's match against Salem on Wednesday roosted on the shoulders of Donn Hubbard and Kirk Morrison, the Mustangs' third doubles team.

Hubbard and Morrison had yet to finish their third set when they learned their teammates had only won three of the previous six matches.

"I thought we'd probably take Salem 5-2," said Northville Coach Dick Nor-dogfight."

Terry Michelitch had dropped Salem's Jon Kath 6-2, 6-3 at first singles. At third singles, Mike Reitenga rallied to beat Eric Sovine 3-6, 6-2, 7-5, and at fourth singles, Kamienecki toppled Cam Evans 6-1, 7-5.

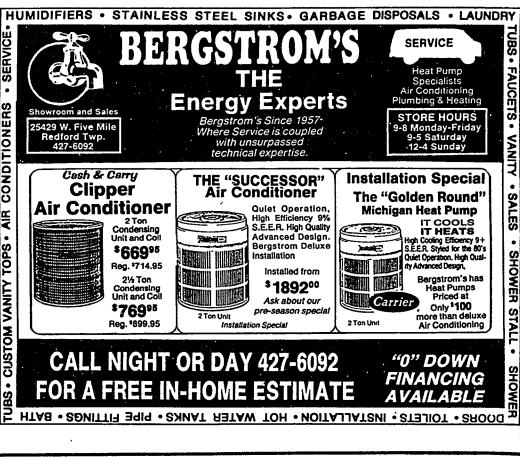

But Don Norton and Mike Tabaczynski suffered their first loss of the eason at second doubles, falling to Rick Cooper and Mark Rearick 7-5, 6-7 (4-7 tiebreaker), 3-6. Mark Reitenga lost his second singles match to Ron Raibellus, and at first doubles, John Bales and John Merrifield lost their match 1-6, 3-6.

Dominique no-hits'84 KVC champions

Someone forgot to tell Northville that Brighton has a powerhouse baseball

The Mustangs started off last week with a twin mercy kill of the defending Kensington Valley Conference champions, with junior righthander Chris Dominique's no-hitter firing a 10-0 win in the opener. Umpires declared Northville the mercy winner after five innings, but in those five innings Dominique was devastating. He fanned eight, including the heart of the Brighton batting order in the third inning. No Brighton baserunner advanced past second base.

"Chris' fastball was working well. He just dominated their hitters," said Northville Coach Bob Frellick. "Our defense did an excellent job behind him, too."

Center fielder Fred Cahill saved Dominique's no-hitter - and probably his shutout, too — on his diving stab of Jon DeAngelis' liner to right center. Cahill fired to first before the Bulldog baserunner could get back for an inning-ending double play.

Leadoff hitter Tom Ross' solo homer in the first inning set the pace for the Mustang offense. Northville had eight hits, led by Doug Hartman's 2-for-4, which included an RBI double in the se-

Chris Hauser drove in three runs, in-luding a two-run double in Northville's four-run rally in the third. Paul Newitt tripled once and scored three times for the Mustangs. The Mustangs bombed the Bulldogs 14-1 in the nightcap, scoring all but one run in the final three innings of the fiveinning game.

Northville pounded out 15 hits to give starter Ken Kehoe an easy complete-game victory. Kehoe allowed just three Bulldog hits, all singles. While the senior southpaw struck out only two, Northville's defense was airtight, committing only one error.

Catcher John Norton had his biggest day of the season, going 3-for-4, scoring three runs and driving in two. Ross singled three times and drove in one run, and Kehoe contributed a single, an RBI double and two runs to his own

Scott Peterson swatted a solo homer, his first round-tripper of the season, and drove in another run with a sacrifice in the first inning. O'Brien went 2-for-3 with two RBI.

Plymouth Salem tripped the Mustangs 3-2 in a conference battle Wednesday. Chris Willerer pitched his third straight fine game, but he still has no win to show for it. "We're not getting Chris any runs, and it's too bad, because he's pitching great," Frellick pointed out.

Willerer allowed just four Salem hits, but the Rocks jumped on an error, a single and a double for a pair of runs in the fourth. They broke a 2-2 tie with a a single and two Northville errors in the Northville had plenty of hits (11), but stranded eight base runners, three at third base. The Mustangs got one run in the third on Ross' single and Hauser's RBI double. They added another in the fourth on consecutive singles by Hartman, Keith Dutkiewicz and Ken Kehoe.

Hauser, Peterson, Hartman and Kehoe each had two hits in the contest. Friday, Northville posted a solid 9-5 win over Livonia Churchill, another conference opponent, to level the Mustangs' WLAA mark at 3-3 (6-4 .Starter Tony Craig lifted his record to 3-0 with the win, striking out six, scattering eight hits and walking just one.

Loomis worked the final 11/3 innings surviving a two-run Charger rally in the seventh.

G

Northville scored twice in the first inning on Hartman's two-RBI single, added one in the fourth on Dutkiewicz's RBI double, two in the fifth on Kehoe's. two-run double.

The Mustangs' biggest inning was a four-run sixth that provided the winning margin. A single by Norton, a double by Mark Deal and three straight walks set the stage for Hartman, who delivered a three-run double, giving him five RBI for the game.

Kehoe and Hauser each went 2-for-3, with Hauser and Ross each scoring two

"We've been playing pretty good ball," Frellick summed up. "Everybody's been contributing, and we're looking like an awfully good hitting team - you can't complain about 44 hits in four games.'

Facing four straight road games, the Mustangs will need the hits to keep on coming. Northville faces Livonia Bentley today, Plymouth Canton Friday, and Redford Union in a doubleheader Saturday.

Goal-hungry Mustangs tie Rocks, trip Chargers

Still a few bugs in Northville's scoring machine.

Tallying just one goal in each of two conference soccer games last week, the Mustangs managed to come away with a win and a tie to lift their record to 6-1-

"We still don't have it," said Northville Coach Stan Smalec after his team's 1-0 victory over Livonia Churchill Wednesday. "We've got a goal drought right now," he conceded. "But when they start coming, look out, because we're going to score a bundle." With less than five minutes remaining, Jenny Schuerman took a pass from front line sweeper Kathy Korowin, broke past a defender and lifted a shot high over the Charger goalkeeper's head. The shot glanced off the bottom of the crossbar and bounced back into the net for the game's only goal.

The last four minutes of play were hectic, as both teams had scoring opportunities. But, according to Smalec, they didn't have to be so hectic.

We had 22 shots on goal that game, and my feeling is that we should score at least one of every five or six," he explained. "We're not popping them from 20 yards out; we're patient enough. But we just don't seem to be able to finish it off, Hopefully, some new things I want to try out might click this week."

Smalec had nothing but kind words for his defense, which has allowed only two goals in the Mustangs' last four games. In particular, he singled out wing back Julie Nowka and midfielders Nicki Grasley, Jenny Kuffner and Jodi Smalec.

"I can't say enough for 'em," he said. "They make so few mistakes, and we should be able to offset them with some more scoring.

"Nicki and Jenny I used all over the field in the middle, especially when I was moving Kathy (Korowin) up to help on offense. They and Jodi did a real good job for us."

Kim Flading also turned in a solid game, and Smalec expects to work her and Korowin into Northville's offensive game plan more frequently - if the defense continues to hold.

"We're going to try a couple of com-binations that'll hopefully get them to shoot more and do more feed passes to our forwards," Smalec explained.

On Monday, Plymouth Salem forward Dena Head fired a low liner past Mustang goalkeeper Tricia Ducker to save the Rocks a 1-1 tie. It was Head's 17th goal this season, and Smalec had plenty of praise for his defense's ability to contain her and hold the Rocks to just orbitain ner and hold the Rocks to just six shots all day.

"That was all Julie Nowka's work. Holding Dena to one goal is an excellent effort," Smalec said.

The Mustangs peppered 22 shots on the Salem net, but once again could only connect on one goal: Berner's left-footed bullet set up by a new form footed bullet set up by a pass from Gaynelle Wagner at 34 minutes.

'We probably should have beaten them 50," Smalec declared. "We dominated the game, and we should have been able to put it away pretty easily.'

The Mustangs were scheduled to play a pre-regional game against Dearborn Edsel Ford after press deadline last night. If they get past Edsel Ford, they will take on Birmingham Seaholm next week (time and date to be announced) in the next round of the state championship playoffs.

Northville is scheduled to host Plymouth Canton at 7 p.m. tonight, then travel to Livonia Franklin for a 4 p.m. conference game Friday.

Farmington Harrison's big field events advantage gave the Hawks just enough of a margin to hold off a late Mustang stampede, as Northville fell to the Hawks 67-61 last Thursday.

Harrison swept discus, long jump and plugged in just enough relay and individual running event points to choke off Northville's charge — just bare-

How close was it?

It was sooo close, Kris Marrone's best-ever leap of 14'4" took a nonscoring fourth, but was only two inches behind the winning distance. Had Marrone found those two more inches, Northville would have won the meet.

It was sooo close, Northville's 4x110 relay finished just 0.6 seconds behind Harrison. Had the Mustangs finished that much faster, they would have won the

But Harrison's jackrabbit start in field events proved costly. Only Cindy Panowicz's first-place high jump of 5'0" and Shari Thompson's third-place shot put of 26'7" averted a complete Harrison sweep of every field event point.

But afterwards, Northville poured it on. Panowicz picked up her usual double victories in the 110 and 330 hurdles, clocking a 15.7 and a 45.6 respectively.

Those two times put Panowicz ahead of her record-setting pace last year in those events.

- Kristy Lenaghan clocked a 12.1 for first place in the 100. Erin Holmberg's 28.7 nipped Lenaghan's second-place 28.9 in the 220 and Karen Stinson's 63.0 was good for first in the 440.

Anne Griffith, running her first two-mile ever, clocked a 12-56.6 for first place. Griffith also won the mile in 5:47.6 and anchored the two-mile relay - the first time the soph has ever run all three events.

Northville won the 4x220 and 4x440 relays. Stinson, Susie Rahimi, Holmberg and Lenaghan won the former in 1:56.0, while Stinson, Pam Cavanaugh, Lynn Bills and Panowicz took the latter Jennifer Trausch's 2:47.1 was good enough for second in the 880. Lynn Bills added a second in the 110 hurdles (17.2) and ran a solid 52.7 in the 330 hurdles, her first try at the event this season.

Wendy Nuechterlein added thirds in the mile (6:06.4) and two-mile (13:14.0), and Blanchard took third in the 880 (2:47.3) to round out Northville's

Nielsen's a Bronco

People around these parts knew Dan Nielsen could throw a mean fastball and set it up with a wicked curve. So it wasn't much of a surprise Western Michigan University gave the big hurler a good once-over while he was a senior at Northville

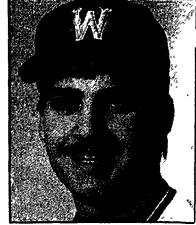

But Nielsen himself might be surprised at how well he's been doing as a freshman recruit for the Western Broncos this spring. The 6'2" 205-pound righthander is currently packing a 3-0 season record at a 4.64 earned run average.

In his most recent outing against Kent State, Nielsen struck out seven, yielded six hits and walked just one for a 3-2 complete-game victory. It was his second straight complete game - Nielsen had another April 20 when the Broncos tripped Ohio University 5-3 on his seven-hitter (nine strikeouts). During his senior year at Northville, Nielsen carried a 7-2 record for the division champion Mustangs, earning all-area and all-league honors.

Nielsen, 19, is majoring in business at Western.

Varsity soccer, swim coaches named

Northville High School Athletic Director Ralph Redmond recently named two new coaches for Nor-thville varsity teams in the coming school year. Dave Yezback, familiar to many Northville and Novi residents for his longtime association with recreational soccer, will take the reins of the men's varsity soccer team.

He has served as president of the Northville Youth Soccer Association and has advised the Northville Community Recreation Commission on soccer-related concerns and issues. Yezback will replace co-coaches Marvin Gans and Dan Swayne, who guided the Mustangs to an 11-5-1 record last year.

Keith Wright, for years a fixture in men's swimming at Livonia Bentley, became available to coach Northville's varsity with the closing of Bentley at the end of this school year. "We're very happy to have someone with a reputation like his to be working for us," Redmond said.

Wright will replace Derek Gans as head coach. The younger Gans, son of Marvin, guided the Mustangs to a Western Division championship last season, his first as a varsity coach.

Hubbard and Morrison had split their first two matches against Salem's Bob Breach and Bob Gaekwald 2-6, 7-5, and were trailing 5-6 in the final set when they learned the team match was on the line. From there, the Northville duo rallied to win the final set and the match by an 8-6 count.

"After they got back from being under match point, they started to play better," Coach Norton said. "It was extremely close, though."

Northville bumped Churchill on Friday, winning four of the first five matches to be completed. Michelitch continued to stay unbeaten at first singles in conference play, while Mike Reitenga at third singles, Kamienecki at fourth singles and Norton-Tabaczynski at second doubles all took their matches in easy straight sets.

At second singles, Mark Reitenga, battling a persistent cough, fell to Mike Gould 7-6, 4-6, 3-6, while Hubbard-Morrison lost to Mike Campbell-Tom Pachera 4-6, 7-6 at third doubles and Merrifield-Bales dropped their first doubles match 1-6, 4-6 to Bob Johnson and Ed Yee.

Northville is now 8-1 overall, 6-1 in the WLAA. The Mustangs are scheduled to travel to strong Livonia Bentley today and to Plymouth Canton Friday before returning home Monday to take on Walled

WE ALL BENEFIT

Millions of dollars have been spent on what has been termed the most far-reaching evaluation of the effectiveness of prescription drugs. The U.S. government-sponsored study began in 1966 and ended in September, 1984. Although most consumers and many health professionals are unaware of the work of the Food and Drug Administration's "Drug Efficacy Study Implementation" program, we all benefit

The purpose of the evaluation was to review 3,400 medicines available only on prescription and to determine if each was effective for the health problems indicated by the distributors. As a result of this mammoth study:

- 1,099 drugs were found to be ineffective and were taken off the market,
- 2,302 were found effective, with any questionable claims removed from the label, and
- about 7,000 drugs identical or similar to the drugs under review were relabeled or withdrawn from the market.

We can be assured that the prescription medicines we obtain today have been carefully evaluated by experts.

Remember Mother's Day May 12th

That beautiful bracelet she's wearing is her beautiful Lassale.

New fashion interest: watches with a fine-jewel ambience. Like Amber watch crystals set in gold-tone. Or the slender string of beads in black and gold-tone or silver-tone and gold-tone. Lassale translates highest technology into highest elegance. Give one to a woman who instinctively reaches for one-of-akind. Lassale. The heritage is obvious.
