DMH moves patients onto disputed land

blication Number USPS 396880

The Michigan Department of Mental Jealth is moving ahead with plans to itilize the main building at Plymouth Center for Human Development despite ingering questions regarding ownership of the property.

DMH spokesman Tom DeLoach said last week that 40 patients from Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital would be moved into the Plymouth Center A Building this week.

The patients are enrolled in the department's Fairweather Program, which is designed to prepare them for ommunity placement, DeLoach explained. Long-range plans are to open a second, 40-bed unit at Plymouth Center, then a third 40-patient group would continue in the present facilities at NRPH.

The program is one element of a multi-faceted plan to reduce population and expand treatment alternatives at NRPH, DeLoach explained.

A July 22 meeting between state and county officials to begin discussions egarding the county's claim that ownership of the property should be returned to Wayne County under a 1957 deed restriction was inconclusive.

DeLoach said the issue "is still with our legal people."

Northville Township supervisor Susan Heintz, who has opposed continued DMH use of the Plymouth Center building, said her understanding is that state and county officials will meet again sometime in August to continue efforts to resolve the ownership ques-

Petitions readied for city elections

If August is here, can city elections be far behind?

Not in an odd-numbered year, they an't. Nominating petitions are vailable at the city hall so that candidates can start getting ready for the November 5 balloting.

Although petitions are available throughout the year, they are customarily distributed during August for submittal during September.

To appear on the ballot, a candidate must return petitions signed by no fewer than 50 and no more than 75 registered city voters. Signed petitions may be filed no sooner than September and no later than October 1.

Terms expiring this year are those of Mayor Paul Vernon (two-year term) and city councilmembers J. Burton DeRusha and G. Dewey Gardner (fouryear terms).

City issues warn against continued 'abuse' of parking

By KEVIN WILSON

Owners of downtown businesses are receiving a letter from the city this week decrying "parking abuse" and threatening stiff regulations if business owners and employees don't stop using "prime parking spaces."
An outgrowth of city council discussion July 15, the letter outlines plans to limit parking in that portion of the municipal lot west of Travel Plans and closest to Main Street and also along the full length of Mary Alexander

Parking in those areas will likely be limited to a two-hour maximum under traffic control orders expected to be submitted for council approval August

The letter outlines the recommendations of a downtown parking committee (appointed through the DDA). Among these are limiting all parking on all downtown streets to two hours, designating the more remote portions of municipal lots for owner and employee usage and implementing a regular parking enforcement division within the police department.

Council opted only to place limits on the one parking lot and on Mary Alexander Court while notifying business owners of the committee recommenda-

The proposals are to be reviewed in six months, after careful monitoring of who parks downtown and where.

New contract for tank

By KEVIN WILSON

Northville's long-delayed water tower repair project suffered another setback last week when the low bidder for the most critical portion of the project backed away.

In a special meeting called on short notice July 24, city council authorized a last-minute switch in contractors at an added cost of $15,000. The change, made in an effort to meet a tight schedule beginning August 1, caused some council members to raise questions about the validity of the procedures for awarding the contract and the value of bid bonds.

What looked to be a solid start toward repair of the leaky water tower took place July 15 with the awarding of contracts to Jetco Limited of Prospect Heights, Illinois, and George Kan-toupes Painting Company of Detroit. Jetco was to repair the corroded tank by welding the pitted surface. The work involves sandblasting the corroded area, welding some 15,000 pits that penetrate more than one-half the steel depth, grinding the welds smooth and performing other interior repairs.

Once Jetco did its part, Kantoupes Painting was to take over, filling smaller pits with epoxy and painting the interior and exterior.

Jetco's bid was $72,660, the total being an estimate as pit welding was bid at a cost of $3 per pit. If the number of welds exceeded 15,000, Jetco would be paid more, if less than 15,000, it would be paid less.

Kantoupes' painting bid was for $82,300, including an estimated filling of 10,000 smaller pits with epoxy at $1 per pit. Kantoupes asked that the repair work either be done before September 1 or that the painting process be delayed until next spring, noting that such a large paint application requires some certainty regarding weather - a minimum level of sunshine and warmth is required to aid paint-drying. With repairs estimated to take one month. that set the effective starting date at

Sidewalk sale this weekend

Downtown streets will be closed bricks and Northville license plates. Saturday on the second day of the downtown merchants' annual summer hold the organization's biggest used sidewalk sale — with 200 spaces on Main and Center streets to be filled with arts and crafts and antiques booths.

Friday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. merchants will have summer clearaway specials on the sidewalk in front of their stores. In addition, according to chairman Del Black, some merchants not in the immediate downtown will have spaces in town for their clearances. These include Northville Lumber and

Ruby Office Supply. The merchants' sidewalk clearances will continue Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Black, who this year assumed chairmanship of the annual sale from Scott Lapham, reports that many organizations have taken spaces for the Satur-

In the area of the town square clock, high school boosters, pom pon girls (who will sell lemonade) and students from the high school Hill Top Shop will be selling wares. Black said Monday all but a few spaces have been sold and anticipated those would be gone by Saturday. However, he said, any organization that had been left out unintentionally should contact him at 349-0411 and space would be arranged. He added that arts and crafts dealers will have booths along East Main and in the Town Square Park by the clock. Antiques dealers will be placed along West Main and on North Center.

OLV groundbreaking set in church, school expansion

Father Frank Pollie, pastor of Our Lady of Victory Chuch at 770 Thayer, will give the blessing to a renovation project of the church and social hall and an addition to the school following the 5 p.m. Mass Saturday. He announces that the congregation will participate in the ground breaking for the addition and renovation in the early evening ceremonies. The worship area of the church, he plains, is being renovated to conform to the post-Vatican II liturgical norms. At the same time the seating capacity is being expanded 25 percent and the entire building is being made barrierfree to welcome the handicapped, the infirm or those who previously have found the steep grades and several steps at the entrances made it impossible for them to attend services at OLV. The building will be made energy-Oficient with new windows, doors and roofing. The exterior of the building and grounds will fit in better with the atmosphere of the neighborhood and the downtown Northville renovation, A.V. Belloli, chairman of the renovation committee, reports.

The use of rough-sawn cedar and shingles that resemble cedar shakes, along with the use of more brick, wood, planting areas, berms and lighting similar to that found downtown will make the church "a more beautiful and fitting feature of the neighborhood," he

Members of the renovation committee who have been working on the project for more than four years are Carolyn Abramovich, Cathy Anthony, Dave Broad, Sister Cris Gretka, Mike Nader and Doris Richmond.

The school is being expanded with a new library and curriculum room and a larger teachers' lounge. Architect for the project, which was to go out for bids this week, is Rex Reit-

Recreation director from Troy selected

Northville's next community recreation director will be John Anderson, a former elementary school teacher who has been a recreation supervisor in the Troy Parks and Recreation Department for nine years.

The decision was reached last week, said John Buckland, chairman of the Northville Community Recreation Commission and member of the ad hoc committee charged with selecting and negotiating with the job candidates.

Anderson, acting Northville recreation director Traci Johnson, and David Justus of Farmington Hills Parks and Recreation, were the three finalists interviewed for the job earlier this

Anderson, contacted Monday after returning from vacation, said he doesn't anticipate making any big changes when he takes over the department reins August 19.

Possibly if I saw something that needed to be changed," he said. "The first thing to do on the job would be to Anderson has a master's degree in recreation and parks administration from Central Michigan University. He grew up in East Detroit, and began his career as a fifth and sixth-grade teacher in Madison Heights.

Anderson said that during his experience in the Troy Parks and Recreation Department he "accumulated a lot of odds and ends" in management experience. He had budget-making responsibilities and oversaw computer operations for the department, as well as administering its sports programs.

"I felt it was time to advance my career," he said. "I visited the city, looked around and talked with the people here. I could see it has a lot of charm. I'm looking forward to starting

Anderson is married and has three children. He said he expects to visit Northville within a week and meet local officials prior to his first day on the job.

Why Do Most Programs Fail?

Because the major focus is on inital weight loss, the scale becomes the focal point. Little concern is given to specific individual needs necessary for the long term maintenance of weight loss and a healthy life style.

The Sensible Approach

The institute's weight control and obesity/risk factor management programs emphasize the individuality and complexity of each case. We stress that participants are required to exert a serious effort to change their life styles. Along with medical supervision by a licensed physician each participant will receive behavioral training, nutritional counseling and individualized exercise planning. ### Township finally gets deed to Beck park land

By KEVIN WILSON

It took awhile, but Northville Township finally owns the Beck Road park property.

Most residents probably thought the 39-acre parcel north of the new prison site at Five Mile and Beck had been in township hands for quite some time. The state announced it was giving the land to the township for $1 more than two years ago.

The property is surplus land the state found it did not need for either the Phoenix prison to its west or the Scott prison to its south. The entire area was formerly the women's division of the Detroit House of Correction and was sold to the state in the late 1970s.

The electorate approved the $1 expenditure in an August 7, 1984, vote, since as a general law township Northville was not allowed to "purchase" property without a vote of the people.

The township shouldn't have bothered putting up the ballot question - by the time the state got around to giving up title to the land, Northville had incorporated as a charter township and the board of trustees could have bought the land on its own motion.

During planning for development of the park and surrounding properties, officials found the township didn't yet have title to the land. State representative Gerald Law (R-Plymouth Township) called the delayed title transfer "a foul-up" while noting that during construction of the Scott Regional prison, earth removed from excavations for prison buildings was dumped on the township's park proper-

Officials began urging the state to clear up the issue this spring. State senator R. Robert Geake (R-Northville), who was instrumental in the 1982 approval of legislation having the property turned over to the township, lodged inquiries regarding the evident delay. The quit claim deed from the state administrative board was drafted June 14, notarized June 28 and finally arrived in township hall July 17. According to supervisor Susan J. Heintz, the township is even out another

"We sent them the dollar when they said they were giving us the land two years ago," she explained. "That was before we had the election on it - they the state.

'We sent them the dollar : when they said they were . giving us the land two years

said we had to send in the dollar and we did. We waited more than a year before we put it before the voters so we wouldn't have to spend the money on a special election just on this issue.

'Now they sent the quit claim deed and asked for another dollar," she said. In a letter to the township attorney asking him to have the deed recorded, Heintz wrote: "I note they ask us to submit a one dollar consideration. As you know, this remuneration was submitted two years ago. However, thingsbeing what they are, I am enclosing another dollar to facilitate a quick transfer"

Plans for extensive recreational development of the property have: already been approved through the recreation department, planning commission and township board. The plans, drafted at a cost of $9,000, call for multipurpose soccer fields and baseball diamonds. Complete development of all facilities shown in the plan would cost an estimated $1 million.

Township and recreation department officials are hoping to find outside funding for a large portion of the expense. Development of the park will likely be completed in stages. Likely to remain until the last stage is a proposed community building to house restrooms and support facilities.

Geake noted that the deed includes at reverter clause that requires the township use the property only for recreational purposes — if it is used for other activities ownership reverts to

Amazing Weight Loss Pill "Diet Miracle of 80's"

Eat All You Want - Never Diet Again!

TUSTIN, CALIF. - Researchers here who have spent years developing and formulating weight control products have just announced the perfection of a new, all-natural never before manufactured compound which absolutely guarantees rapid weight loss with NO dieting. This 7-component diet pill is so effective that the manufacturer guarantees that you will easily lose at least 10 pounds in 10 days. These remarkable results can be achieved with NO dieting, NO calorie counting, NO diet plans, NO exercise and NO side effects.

Secret is in Seven-Part Formula

Although carefully guarding the actual formula, the developing researchers have revealed the general nature of the 7 natural components which are concentrated in these easyto-take tablets including: (1) Grapefruit concentrate from the famous grapefruit diet; (2) Amino acids which alter the body's metabolic rate and cause calories to be burned even during sleep; (3) Natural diuretics which eliminate bloat and puffiness; (4) A stress reducing ingredient to alleviate the tensions associated with dramatic weight loss; (5) Natural dietary fiber which promotes a feeling of fullness; (6) A natural energy compound to keep energy up even as weight is rapidly dropping; (7) 100% of the daily vitamins recommended by the U.S.

Government which eliminates the need for other vitamin supplements while maintaining proper health.

Pill Contains ALL Daily Vitamins

Soon to be marketed under the trade name RDA LITE, the researchers are privately calling this powerful yet totally safe and natural 7-component combination "The Diet Miracle of the 80's". One of them commented, "RDA LITE is the last product anyone will ever : need to control their weight."

Late insurance payment costs car owner a bundle

Insurance agents all over town have a new cautionary tale to relay to customers who make late payments on their auto insurance policies.

A Swan Harbour Apartment resident told police he fully intended to catch up on his late payment, but got caught during a lapse in coverage July 23. His 1985 Pontiac 6000 STE was evidently stolen from the apartment complex parking lot little more than 24 hours after the insurance lapsed.

Police reported that a neighbor called in with a possible car theft in progress shortly after midnight July 23. When police arrived, there was glass on the pavement and the neighbor reported that a black Pontiac had been parked in the spot only moments before. He said he'd heard the glass being broken and ran outside to see the car being driven away on Swan Harbor Drive.

Two township police cars had driven to the scene, one from near the state hospital on Seven Mile and another from the Five Mile and Northville Road area. Neither officer saw any other cars on the road while driving to the

When contacted, the owner confirmed that his car was missing. He said he had neither heard nor seen the theft. The car was valued at $15,000 and contained a $1,500 car telephone system.

The owner later asked police not to file a report of the theft, even though he did not have his car and did not know where it was. When asked why, he showed police the cancellation notice from his insurance company stating that coverage lapsed at one minute after midnight July 22. Police declined to drop their report, subsequently notifying both the insurance company and lien-holder (GMAC) of the theft.

Three people were injured in a July 20 daylight accident on Northville Road at Waterford Bend, township police reported.

Frederick Cahill Jr. of Northville suffered serious injuries when his two-door 1980 Ford ran into the rear of a 1974 MG stopped on northbound Northville Road while waiting to make a left turn onto Waterford Bend. Waterford Bend is the short connecting street between Northville Road and Hines Parkway south of Six Mile.

Cahill was taken by CEMS ambulance to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. Also taken to St. Mary were the driver of the MG, David Alan Laske, 21, of Ferndale and his passenger, Roseanne Wisniewski, 21, of Sterling Heights. Wisniewski's injuries were reported as moderate. Police reported that Laske has no visible injury but complained of Laske told police he was northbound on Northville Road at 1:20 p.m., intending to make a left onto Waterford Bend, had switched on his turn signal and slowed nearly to a stop when Cahill's car ran into the back of the MG.

A by-stander who witnessed the accident while standing at the corner confirmed that Laske's turn signal was operating. The collision spun the MG 180-degrees so that it faced south on Northville Road when police arrived.

Cahill's car veered to the right after the collision, hitting a lamp pole at the east edge of the road. The Ford was far off the roadway, facing east, when police arrived at the scene.

Cahill's injuries prevented police from obtaining his version of events at the scene. Cahill was cited under township ordinance for failure to stop within the assured clear distance ahead.

A late-June break-in at a Haggerty Road residence was reported to township police July 23. The owner of the house told police he had been away from home for a month. A friend who was watching the home witnessed suspicious activity on June 28 and later saw damage to the door, but delayed reporting the incident until the owner

Reported stolen were a .22 caliber rifle valued at $100, two watches together valued at $150 and a $30 hunting knife. In addition to the $280 theft loss, police reported $300 damage to the home -$150 to a window in the rear door to the attached garage and another $150 to the entry from the garage into the home, which was evidently kicked-in to gain access.

The homeowner's friend reportedly saw a brown Ford van in the driveway June 28, then saw it driving away 20 minutes later. The friend followed the van on Six Mile across I-275, obtaining the license plate number.

Police have traced the license number to a Livonia owner and continue their investigation.

Golf equipment valued at $974 was reported stolen from the area in front of the pro shop at Brooklane Golf Course July 23. The owner told police the equipment was insured. There were no witnesses to the theft, and no record of the serial numbers on the stolen equip-

Golf clubs and other items valued at a total $254 were reported stolen July 27 from a car parked in a Portis Street

Police reported that the owner of the clubs also found a bicycle which did not belong at his home on the front lawn. A neighbor approached police while they were at the home to report that he found four quarts of oil and a grease gun on his front lawn. The owner of the golf clubs claimed the oil as his own, but said the grease gun did not belong to him. Police took the bicycle and grease gun as potential evidence or in case the owners found them missing later.

The owner of a 1984 Buick Skyhawk told police unknown persons stole $395 worth of items from his car, causing $150 damage in the process, while it was parked at Dun Rovin Golf Course July

The owner reported that the passenger door window was broken and thieves removed a $295 Escort radar detector, $50 worth of cassettes and a $50 briefcase. There were no witnesses to the theft.

A 1981 Chevrolet Chevette was deemed a total $3,000 loss when it caught fire on Haggerty Road July 23.

The free-form pool and terraced, landscaped patio at the home of Edward and Mickey Zilz on Winchester in Northville Commons led the Country Girls Garden Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, to make the Zilz' home its Garden of the Month selection for July. In making the choice, co-chair Kathy Alexander reports, the committee was impressed with the landscaped front yard with topiary trees at the entrance as well as the back yard with attractive pool area where the couple relaxes, below, with Zilz' stepchildren Mike and Melanie Jelso. Extensive landscaping has been done with rocks, shrubs and plants. A fountain and other decorative accessories are focal points.

Townships push for sale of Detroit's land

Setting up a potential fight with the City of Detroit, Northville and Plymouth township officials are taking actions designed to "push" Detroit into selling its remaining Detroit House of Correction properties.

Although a new state law prohibits building any more prisons in the townships, the Plymouth Township board last week rezoned the DeHoCo land to ensure that no more correctional facilities are placed there and to promote industrial growth.

Northville Township planners were to consider a similar move Tuesday night. their recommendation to be forwarded to the board of trustees.

The men's division of DeHoCo, in Plymouth and Northville townships, used to be comprised of 1,100 acres on both sides of Five Mile between Ridge and Beck roads. A small portion extends along the north side of Five Mile between Ridge and Napier. The women's division, north of Five Mile at the corner of Beck, has already been converted to house the state's Phoenix prison, the under-construction Scott Regional prison and a township park.

Some 120 acres on the Plymouth Township side, including the jail compound, recently was sold to the state and is to be occupied within the next week. That left 980 acres of undeveloped DeHoCo property still under Detroit ownership, most if it (more than 700 acres) in Northville

Plymouth Township trustees voted unanimously July 23 to rezone the remaining DeHoCo land in their jurisdiction from agricultural to industrial.

Northville Township's petition to rezone would change its portion from residential to RD (research and development) zoning. The RD classification is designed specifically to accommodate research parks with only small-scale manufacturing facilities.

'It was rezoned in anticipation that the City of Detroit has indicated it has some plans for the development of that property," Plymouth Township Super-

'We wanted to ensure that the land is developed in concert with the township's future land use plan." he ad-

For her part, Northville Township Supervisor Susan Heintz simply refers to an established township policy seeking the conversion of all unused, publicly owned land to private ownership. In both cases, the rezoning petitions were filed by the townships on their own, without any request from the property owner (the City of Detroit).

In approving the state purchase of DeHoCo property, now designated the Western Wayne Correctional Facility, state lawmakers adopted a moratorium bill prohibiting additional correctional facilities in either township.

During negotiations on that bill, Detroit officials managed to gain addition of language saying that the city was free to do what it wanted with the remainder of the DeHoCo land.

Lawmakers representing the two townships subsequently modified the Detroit clause by adding language stating that development of the Detroitowned land must adhere to local zoning restrictions.

The rezoning of the property for industrial uses highlights a basic conflict in planning philosophy between the townships and the city. Detroit officials oppose industrial development outside the city limits, and former Detroit planning director Corrine Gilb late last year gave a court deposition stating her department's outright opposition to all forms of economic development in western Wayne County.

If Detroit adheres to that policy, any sale of the land would likely include deed restrictions prohibiting industrial development, directly contravening the zoning the townships have placed on the way to zone for industrial use on Plymouth Center lands and Five and Sheldon and Heintz reports at least three parties "seriously interested" in purchasing the land if it is ever sold.

By rezoning the remaining DeHoCo land just west of DeMattia's property, Plymouth Township officials hope to force Detroit into selling it.

Before Detroit can build anything on the property, it must obtain building permits from the townships. To obtain a permit, the proposed buildings would have to either comply with the zoning restrictions or receive approval for a non-conforming use.

Because the township is unlikely to issue a permit for anything other than an industrial building, Detroit is left with two choices — sell the property to a developer, or hang onto a potentially valuable resource it cannot use, passing up what is, at the least, a potential source of revenue.

Neither township presently collects property taxes on the land, since city-owned land is non-taxable. Sale to private parties would mean its return to the tax rolls and a potential boon to the Weekend patrons of the Wagon Wheel saloon lately were treated to shows by the likes of Willie Nelson, Dolly Parton, Loretta Lynn and Kenny Rogers.

Of course, when we say the likes, we mean the likes. That's the idea behind David and Sammalene's "A Little Bit Of Country."

For about a year, the Canton Township husband-and-wife duo has been re-creating performances by the cream of the Nashville crop: Willie, Dolly, Loretta, Kenny, Crystal Gayle, Merle Haggard, Hank Williams Jr., Tanya Tucker, Juice Newton, John Anderson, Anne Murray, Shelly West, Sylvia, Waylon Jennings, Patsy Cline and they're adding new stars to their repertoire all the time.

'We were doing kind of a scaleddown version of our act for talent shows and gong shows," says C. David. "I'd had one sing along album - the kind where the musicians play, but the singer's voice is left off could fit right into it.

'So I sent a letter to the company that manufactured it, and found out they made 36 albums, all by the Nashville Sounds. I bought all of them."

Although C. David is a practicing guitarist and Sammalene plays a little fiddle, the two still rely on Nashville Sounds discs for their instrumental backing. "The arrangements they have are almost exactly the same as they are on the hit records themselves." C. David adds.

Right now, they have memorized about half the 160 songs they can perform in the artist's original style upon request. A glance at a lyric sheet helps them through others, but they're learn-ing a couple of songs a week, C. David

"We love doing this show," says Sammalene. "We try to keep in mind all the time that what we're doing isn't making fun of the stars. We have a lot of respect

Not that they treat the stars more reverently than the stars treat themselves. Sammalene's not above perkily parroting a Loretta Lynn Crisco V commercial or making the kind of cracks Dolly Parton has made all her life about her - er - physique.

'Country music is the soul of life," she says. "Being from the south, a lot of what I experience by performing their songs their way is the joy they have and bring to their audiences. I get into the different characters, but I see a part of me in all of them."

Sammalene and C. David both hail from country music heartland. C. David is orginally from Memphis, Tennessee, and Sammalene was born in Benham, Kentucky. Like Loretta Lynn, Sam is literally a coal miner's daughter. "And granddaughter." she Oddly enough, the two never met until long after both their families moved to the land of the Yankees for jobs in the automobile industry. Still, it was the music of their homeland that brought them together.

They met at a square dance.

Willie Nelson

'Willie's voice gets pretty high. He likes to kind of casually step up to the mike and get really into the song.

Dolly Parton

'It's easy to get a cheap laugh when you're doing so-meone like Dolly, but we try to show our respect for them. We'd think of how they'd feel if they could see us doing them.'

Loretta Lynn

'Sometimes when I'm doing Loretta, I'll come out and do her Crisco commercial . . . I really relate to her. I'm a coalminer's daughter, too.

Crystal Gayle

'I really respect Crystal Gayle. Everybody can appreciate her voice, it's so smooth and sensuous. She can do any kind of song well.'

Our Opinion

Keep perspective when considering downtown parking

City efforts to address the concern about downtown parking availability are commendable, but so far the best that can be said for the result is that the proposed solutions are worse than the problem. A committee appointed by the DDA to stúdy the situation accurately identified the problems, but the resulting recommendations can only be described as draconian measures to prevent downtown workers from picking off the best parking spaces and using them all

City council properly rejected most of the recommendations, at least for now, opting instead to take some minor steps while threatening more drastic action if business owners don't find a solution on their own. Before the city and the business community get too involved in the process, it seems to us that the problem should be put into perspective.

At the heart of the concern is a worry that downtown workers who park on Main and Center streets and in the fronts of municipal lots are depriving shoppers of the most convenient spaces. We stand behind all efforts to encourage these workers and tenants to use the more remote spaces and leave the better spots available for visitors, but caution that most of the measures being considered are aimed instead at discouraging parking in the best spots. Unfortunately, the discouragement would usually work on customers as well as on workers.

None of this was a problem before the downtown renovation took place. Parking spaces on Main used to be metered, and the number of people needing to park downtown was significantly lower before the improvements began drawing both additional businesses and shoppers to the area. There were also more spaces on the street before the sidewalks were widened, though critics of the project generally exaggerate the actual loss of parking spaces due to the improvements.

We would hazard a guess that many complaints about poor parking availability downtown come from residents of long-standing who became accustomed years ago to driving into town and finding an open space right on the street in front of the store they wished to visit. This was only possible because the downtown was in trouble — parking spaces were readily available because there were a lot fewer people shopping and working in the area. So, to an extent, the supposed inconvenience is really just the price we pay for having a viable downtown shopping district. Had the improvements not been made, there would be less reason to come into town and fewer complaints made by those who do.

The increased crowding, however, does make those spaces occupied by downtown workers more valuable — if those workers greedily dominate the prime spots, customers have to find parking near the back of city lots. Those of us who live and work here probably underestimate the impact that has on visitors from outside. Those less aware of the locations of parking lots and specific shops probably find it very frustrating to drive around seeking a spot only to discover they chose a lot remote from their destination.

But city and business leaders may be overestimating the degree to which that actually discourages shoppers from making a visit to town. The idea of removing the meters and most parking restrictions was to make downtown more competitive with shopping malls in terms of convenience. Free parking with no time limits was the aim. and that's what we have — at least we do unless council later feels compelled to change it. Anyone who has visited the malls knows that shoppers often must walk much greater distances from their cars to the smaller stores deep inside the mall than is even possible anywhere in Northville. In many ways, the only advantage that can be stated positively for parking at a mall is that it's a bit easier to locate the lot and then to drive around looking for a spot. No downtown can compete with that perceived advantage, but many manage to grow and thrive without it.

Some council members favor a suggestion that the cars of all downtown workers should bear a sticker limiting them to certain areas. Those outside the designated spots could be ticketed. Two factors mitigate against this approach. Firstly, workers are unlikely to voluntarily label their cars when the only possible result is to be ticketed for parking in the wrong space — there is no carrot such as guaranteed parking spaces to encourage compliance, only the stick of punishment. Secondly, most downtown workers are also downtown customers. Why would someone label his/her car in such a way that would prevent obtaining convenient parking spots when that employee is downtown shopping rather than working? And what right has the city to discriminate against one group of shoppers only because they also happen to be working and contributing to the downtown economy from the other side of the transaction?

Business leaders who profess a deep concern about this situation would do well to work within the business community to find a solution. Some means of rewarding workers and businesses who comply with the program likely would be far more effective than anything city council can do. The chamber of commerce is very discouraged that its relocated farmers market lacks nearby parking spaces because employees of a nearby business are using the choicest spots. Finding a way to encourage these people to choose more remote spaces once a week would be better than complicating the downtown parking situation in efforts to discourage them from using the spaces they do. Failing in that, a different location should be sought — the market brings people into town, presumably assisting nearby businesses. Having it nearby should be seen as an advantage, and any business that cannot help accommodate it shouldn't benefit from its proximity.

All that said, we'd like to add a final caveat — a few mule-headed people are to be expected in any group. If there are too many of them, then some means must be found to control their stubborn refusal to act in the larger interest. But it is also mule-headed to damage the larger interest out of frustration with the handful who may be annoying the rest of us. In some areas of the downtown, the more obstinate people who are attracting attention are hurting their reputations within the business community far more than they are hurting the community itself. In dealing with the problem, we should take care that we don't punish everyone just to make sure we punish a few.

Uh-oh. Looks like I'm on a roll here. If you mean the number of times I actually did something about it, I'd give myself a seven. If you mean the number of times I thought about doing something about it, I'd have to say, eh, two.

Pardon me?

No, pardon me. All right, one, one, ONE, FOR PETE'S

Eh, sorry about that. Didn't mean to get carried away there. I'd say nine. I'm pretty even-tempered.

According to these transcripts, you get pretty high readings in slow-moving traffic.

Wait a minute. Those are from when I was living in Missouri. Have you ever seen Missouri drivers?

You're right. We can toss those out. Gluttony.

Yikes. I've got to give myself a four on that one. For a while there, I used to order those two-for-the-price-of-one pizzas and then eat them both.

Envy.

Isn't that the same as covetousness?

I've always wondered about that. I guess it is a little redundant. We'll skip that one. Sloth.

That one's not too bad. Seven,

Well, your final score is below average, Mr. Martin. But fortunately for you, we mark on a curve. You're on a 200-year probation. Keep your nose clean. Next.

After the fact

"I had a rather interesting experience at the post office today," she said as I was reading the paper.

That's all she said. Just let it hang there, taking a chance I would ask her to explain. There are times when I don't pick up on her lead-in and make her suffer the mental; anguish of proceeding with a story I haven't expressed an interest in hearing.

But I was feeling somewhat charitable, so instead of feigning disinterest I asked her what had happened. It was a good thing I did.

"Well, I was in the post office when I noticed this tall, rather distinguished-looking man smiling in my direction.

"We both went about our business, but he continued to look and smile at me from time to time. And then he came up to me just as I was about to leave.

"He asked if I lived around here, and when I said I did, he said it's nice to see such pretty ladies who live in town."

"Ah, the old 'it's nice to see such pretty ladies who live in town' line," I responded, mildly irritated. "I'll bet the Bozo was wearing a Stroh's T-shirt, wasn't he?"

"Not at all," she replied. "In fact, he was dressed rather nicely."

"Well, when he was leering at you, he was probably checking you up and down, wasn't he? You know, checking out your legs and all that stuff, right?"

"Actually, he was very pleasant," she reported. "And he wasn't leering at all. He was just looking at me with a very pleasant smile on his face."

"Oh, no," I said, getting angrier by the minute. "The old pleasant approach. That's the sleaziest, most insidious approach of all:

"He didn't look you up and down. He didn't say anything crude. He didn't do anything slimy in any way, shape or form. Just stood there in his fancy-pantsy clothes with that phony smile, trying to trick you into thinking he was some kind of gentleman.

"That's the slimiest thing I ever heard of," I cautioned her. "You gotta watch out for guys like that."

New contractor chosen for water tank repair

The total, with engineering and inspection charges from Dixon Engineering of Cadillac (specialists in the field hired for this project), came to $173,584. Jetco's bid was more than $22,000 lower than any other in the field of six companies.

But not for long. At a preconstruction meeting with representatives of Dixon Engineering and the city's regular consultants, McNeely-Lincoln Associates, Jetco president Steve Brend handed over a letter reporting a mistake made in the bid.

'We neglected to include the cost for grinding the pit welds as called for" in bid specifications, Brend wrote. "We are therefore requesting that our bid be withdrawn without any penalty to Jetco

That was when things began getting complex, Edward J. McNeely told council July 24.

'You can look at that two ways," he explained. "Either he made an honest mistake, which is what he says happened, and simply neglected to include a cost in his bid total, or he made what we call an 'error in judgment.' An error of judgment would be simply bidding too low — offering to do a job for less than it costs him.

"If it's a so-called honest mistake, then you can release him of his responsibility to make good on his bid," McNeely explained. "If its an error in judgment, well, then you might say That's too bad,' and hold him to his

Complicating council's decision was Jetco's offer to perform the job at an additional cost of $15,000 - or $1 per pit welded. Given that the bids, which were made public weeks ago, showed Jetco lowest on a per pit basis at $3 and the next lowest bidder (comparing only welding charges) at $4 per pit, that offer made some council members uncomfortable.

"A cynical view would be that he'd just like to make some more money,' McNeely said. "The bids had been public for some time, so he may have known the next low bidder was $22,000 higher. He raised his price just enough to remain the low bidder. He takes the position that he just made an honest mistake and the price represents $1 per weld for grinding."

Bill Dixon recommended releasing Jetco from its bid bond and choosing another contractor from the original list. City manager Steven Walters explained that rebidding the project would likely take too much time - the painting deadline would pass and the cithe tank was repaired and usable, probably at higher cost.

- In turning to the other bids, it was found that Craftsman Painting Service of Midlothian, Illinois, was next lowest at $94,900, estimate including a $5 per pit weld charge. But when contacted, Craftsman said it has scheduled other jobs for August because it was informed Jetco had won the contract. The firm offered to keep its price stable through spring, but asked to be relieved of its obligation to perform the work now.

Dixon found the third lowest bidder. G&M Painting Enterprises of Riverview at $102,700, had an abnormally high cost for the sandblasting portion of the work. G&M bid only $4 per pit for welding (and grinding) but its price rose above Craftsman's because G&M bid $24,000 for sandblasting - highest of the five bidders for that part of the work and far above Jetco's estimate of $4,800 and Craftsman's bid of $8,500.

Dixon directed an inquiry to G&M regarding the disparity. The firm replied that it understood that sandblasting (to a minimum standard of whiteness defined in the specifications) was to be done on the entire interior surface area. When Dixon informed G&M that sandblasting is only required in the small corroded area, Pat Keast of McNeely-Lincoln reported, the company offered to drop its price by $15,000 · lowering its sandblasting estimate to

Asked if it would be permissible to consider G&M's new bid without offering other firms a similar opportunity, Walters said, "Sure, you're always on solid ground accepting a lower cost, where you might be in trouble would be accepting an upward revision," he said. "It really makes no sense to consider the others — they bid $6 a pit and $11.33 a pit. There's no evidence that they miscalculated anything, they just bid

Some council members expressed concern that, after figuring in Jetco's $15,000 increase and G&M's $15,000 decrease, the total prices offered by the two firms differed by only $40. Jetco's upward revision put its price at $87,660 and G&M's offer to drop the price put the bid at $87,700.

While reviewing the recommendation to drop Jetco, relieve Craftsman from its obligation and award the contract to G&M, council also wondered whether it shouldn't claim Jetco's bid bond. As is standard practice, all bidders were required to submit a bond of five percent of the total bid to ensure they would do the work at the quoted price.

McNeely told council it could demand that Jetco perform the work at the bid price or forfeit its bond. Forfeiting the bond would probably harm the company's reputation among bonding agents and within the industry, he said; ty would be into next summer before so Jetco would probably offer to do the

Warning issued on downtown 'parking abuse'

"The Chamber of Commerce and the Downtown Merchants' Association are being asked to review this problem with their members, and respond to the City Council during this six-month period with a plan to voluntarily control their parking, if that is feasible," the letter state. "If the abuses cannot be controlled, the City Council will have no alternative but to implement all of the recommendations."

At the July 15 council meeting, members were reluctant to implement the parking committee recommendations out of concern that enforcement would fall most heavily on downtown shoppers rather than business owners or employees.

Council member G. Dewey Gardner, lamenting the necessity of erecting signs to limit street parking, said he was concerned about the esthetics of downtown. "I think the signs would add clutter, and what we've done all along is to try to reduce clutter." Gardner said. "I really don't want to put up signs all along Main and Center streets.'

Council member Carolann Ayers said she hoped downtown businesses can control their own employees, since time restrictions on street parking and beefed-up enforcement efforts would impact most heavily on shoppers.

"I think you'd be hurting the wrong

Ayers supported one parking committee recommendation that downtown workers and tenants be issued stickers for their cars and restricted to parking in the most remote portions of municipal lots. Stickered cars found in other parking spaces could be ticketed.

Gardner made the motion to restrict parking on Mary Alexander Court and on the city lot across Main from M.A.G.S. (west of Travel Plans and the block containing The Record offices and Community Federal Credit Union). The only portion of the parking lot to be

City shuffles contractors

"But you'd have a reluctant contractor," Mayor Paul Vernon noted.

Walters pointed out that holding a contractor to a price it believes is costing it money usually doesn't pay off. The contractor, he implied, finds ways to make up the difference with cost overruns. During the construction of Allen Terrace, he recalled, the electrical contractor was held to a low bid and forced to do the work. "We lost $45,000 on that deal, pure and simple,'

he said. With the water tower repair job holding a built-in adjustable cost factor in the pit welding portion, councilmembers determined that allowing Jetco to go ahead was too risky a

Whether to claim the bid bond was another question. Walters said the possibility of legal entanglements at this late date was too large a risk for the city to take in order to claim just over $3,600 — an amount insufficient to make up the difference between Jetco's original bid and G&M's price.

We're in the situation where time is money, and boy, I'm not willing to assume we can go after (Jetco's) bond while giving the contract to someone else and not end up in court over it,' Walters said.

Councilmember J. Burton DeRusha said his "first reaction was to hang 'em high - make him make good on his bid or sacrifice his bond. You're in business to make money, but sometimes you don't make money," he added. "Not delaying and rebidding.

McNeely summed up the situation.
"It may sound funny, but the first obligation is to the water tower," he said. "Then you wonder, what's a bid bond for if you won't claim it? In this case, however, there are so many circumstances that I guess you could call extenuating, that it really isn't typical."

Council drafted a carefully worded resolution outlining the situation and setting forth the procedure for changing contractors. Under the terms of the resolution, Jetco would not be released from its obligation until Craftsman had been released and G&M awarded the contract. If G&M balked at submitting a written version of its verbal offer to cut its price, Jetco would still be on the hook for the job.

Carolann Ayers made the motion, which passed unanimously. Dewey Gardner was absent.

RODEO: An old sport that's new in town

By B.J. MARTIN

'Get that tebacky spittin' technique down pat. Practice that bowlegged stride. Move 'em in. Head 'em out. Ride 'em up. Yippee-yi-yo-ti-yay.

In case you missed the ads and the posters, folks, the rodeo is a-comin' to

That's right. About 6,000 of us suburb slickers are expected to mosey down to Willowbrook Farms riding ranch in Novi to check out a gen-yoo-wine traveling rodeo show, with bucking broncos, cowpokes, rodeo clowns, country music, wild bulls, yodeling, barbecued ribs and all sorts of rough 'n' tough American fun.

'It's something I've been wanting to do for the last couple of years," reports Tom Lenhard Jr., the 25-year-old Novi native who has run Willowbrook farms since 1982. "My thing is recreation. I'd like to get people back into a familytype thing with horses.

The rodeo's something I'd like to have every year," he adds. "We'll see how much profit we can make and what kind of turnout we'll have."

'If neither amounts to much, it won't be because Lenhard isn't pulling out all the stops for a top-notch hoedown. Already the temporary bleachers, chutes and arena are going up on Willowbrook Farms' 250-acre spread to accommodate the weekend action. "We had to plow up the farm area and get the fields leveled," Lenhard points out. "The rodeo contractor handles the livestock, we handle everything else."

'So what, exactly, is a rodeo? To the outsider, its events look like something airlifted in time from the days of Buffalo Bill. Indeed, it's likely they'll be running rodeos the same way long after they raise basketball hoops, put all major league baseball teams in indoor stadiums and prohibit the zone defense in pro football.

The cowboys — the guys who do the competitive riding - will compete in five tests of their rodeo skills, all for a share of the $6,500 prize money in this weekend's show.

The five events in order, are: bareback riding, calf roping, saddle riding, steer wrestling and bull riding. Other events in the main ring will be barrel racing (traditionally for women only) and a special event, the wild horse race.

Here's a brief explanation of each of these events:

BAREBACK RIDING: The cowboy has one grip on the horse in bareback riding, a handhold the size of a suitcase handle. He may not use his free hand to touch the horse or handhold. In eight seconds, the rider is rated on how he spurs the horse during his eight-second ride — a "welcome horn" signals the elapse of his time. Judges score both the rider and the horse, so it's in the cowboy's interest to keep the horse

If the use of spurs sounds cruel, rules and common sense stipulate they must be dull. In fact, if they are too sharp, they will detract from the horse's per-

CALF ROPING: This familiar event gives the calf a running start. In the shortest amount of time, the cowboy must lasso the quick critter from his horse (that's the easy part), then hop down, flip the calf off its feet and tie together three of its legs (that's the hard part). After securing the tie, the cowboy lifts his hands in the air to stop the clock. But if the calf breaks free of its hold within the next six seconds, the tie is disqualified.

SADDLE RIDING: This time, the cowboy gets a saddle, stirrups and reins for a 10-second ride. This gear makes staying on the horse easier, but quite a bit more complicated. The reins must be the right fit — if too loose, the cowboy can get flipped straight over the horse's head. If too tight, the horse is better controlled. Again, he must spur the horse for maximum performance, and again, he may not use his free hand to touch the horse or

STEER WRESTLING: Any rodeo event is exciting, but this event must qualify as one of the most exciting of all. While a "hazer" horse keeps a big steer careening full-speed on a straight path, the wrestler must catch up to the steer on his horse, jump onto the steer, grab it by the horns and twist its head while dragging his heels to slow it down. Then, still grabbing the steer by the horns, he must flip it off its feet. Although it sounds like a daredevil's nightmare, some cowboys can perform the trick in one smooth motion with amazing nonchalance.

BULL RIDING: Easily the most dangerous and glamorous event of the rodeo, bull riding is perilous for obvious reasons: the power, temperament and sharp horns of the bull, and for less obvious reasons as well: the flexibility of the bull, for example. Bulls can bend like a highly-skilled contortionist and there are plenty of ways to fall off. The cowboy must stay on for the full eight seconds and demonstrate, his riding skill by keeping some slack in the rope he grips in one hand. The rope is wrapped around the the bull's body and a cowbell attached to the rope shows judges how much slack is kept in it: the more slack, the more difficult the ride and the higher the score. Hard as riding the full eight seconds is, the hardest part of bull-riding is stopping. That's when the bull has his best shot at revenge, and when the rodeo clowns must be on their toes to distract the bull and keep the cowboy safe.

BARREL RIDING: In this event, riders must circle three barrels like pylons, except that one barrel must be circled in the opposite direction of the other two - then begins a breakneck chase back to the finish line.

WILD HORSE RACE: This special event turns loose three-man teams whose job it is to saddle and ride an ornery bronco across the finish line, just over half a mile from the start.

Schedule of events

The rodeo at Willowbrook Farms. Ten Mile at Beck Road in Novi, is a sanctioned rodeo contracted to the Great Lakes' Rodeo Series. Times for the rodeos are 7:30 p.m. Friday, 2:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

East all-star football team boasts local talent, brains

When the best fresh-out-of-highschool football players in Michigan suit up this Saturday for the fifth annual Michigan High School Football Coaches' Association All-Star Game, there will be two distinguished gentlemen from Northville getting ready with them.

One will be in pads and helmet that's Greg Wendel, '85 Northville High School graduate and all-conference center for the Mustangs last fall. Wendel, 6-4, 220, is one of four players from the Western Lakes Activities Association named to the East All-Star squad. Also appearing from Northville's league will be Farmington Harrison's John Miller, Livonia Churchill's Dave Mize and Plymouth Salem's Craig Morton.

The other Northville natives will be on the sidelines. Plymouth Salem coach Tom Moshimer will be serving as All-Star chairman for the annual event.

Ken Kaestner, retired head coach of Northville's grid nemesis, Livonia Churchill, after the 1983 season, will be head coach of the East All-Stars.

Kaestner was inducted last April into the Michigan High School Football Coaches' Association Hall of Fame. "It's been a very high year for me," Kaestner said of the honor. "I'm tickl-

Kaestner had coached Churchill from 1968 to 1983 following his first year as a

With the Churchill Chargers, Kaestner compiled an estimable record of 81-59-3, with four Western Six League championships (1972, 1975, 1978 and 1979). His 1972 and 1978 teams went unbeaten during the regular season. finishing 9-0. The latter squad qualified for the Class A playoffs before being ousted by North Farmington 14-3.

One of his biggest thrills was his 4-5 team's brilliant upset of state football powerhouse Farmington Harrison in 1983. The victory snapped the Hawks' 29-game winning streak and eliminated them from the state playoffs.

"It was one of those days," said Kaestner. "The kids played darn near perfect football. We've had some tremendous ball clubs and some great groups of kids. The highlight of coaching is the kids — they come first.

"The emotion and enthusiasm they play with and the commitment they make is really something. I've been lucky to be a part of it. But I've also coached with some great guys (assistants). They're capable people who have been extremely loyal to the program.

Noting Kaestner will return to Churchill this fall as an assistant coach, Northville Coach Dennis Colligan added some praise of his own. "He's tough as anything," Colligan said Monday. "His defenses have always been a thorn in preparing ourselves on defense when we face them this fall.

'Ken's always been an inspiration in his dedication to his kids," Colligan added. "He's a terrific person. You can tell he's in it for the kids and not on some big ego trip.'

ABOUT THE GAME: The East All-Stars will meet the West All-Stars at Spartan Stadium, Michigan State University, East Lansing. Pre-game announcements and introductions will begin at 1:20 p.m. and game time is 1:40 p.m. Tickets are $5 at the gate.

The annual All-Star game's purpose is twofold: it promotes high school football in the state of Michigan, and it generates money for the Michigan High School Football Coaches' Assocation Scholarship Fund. The NCAA guideline has stated that 40 percent of the income before expenses must be placed in a charitable fund.

Players are chosen by the coaching staff of each All-Star team, along with the MHSFCA Board of Directors and the All-Star Committee.

So far the East All-Stars have won three out of the four previous encounters. In 1981, it was East 6, West 3; in 1982 it was West 25, East 22; in 1983 it was East 24, West 10; and in 1984 it was East 24, West 7,

West Bloomfield takes Koufax League tourney,

West Bloomfield dominated a field of six Sandy Koufax (age 13-14) League baseball teams to claim first place in the regional tournament held in Northville last week.

Northville's Koufax squad managed an 8-4 win over Detroit's Police Athletic Team entry in the tournament's second round, but West Bloomfield topped Northville 11-3 in the third round to eliminate the tourney hosts.

A 7-4 first-round loss to Romeo landed Northville in the tourney's losers bracket. R.C. Heaton and Jim Willerer each collected two singles in that game. Lou Yeager's four solid innings of relief pitching and infielders Steve Pearce and Todd Daniels' key hits powered the victory over PAL.

Center fielder Steve. Ventura homered on the second pitch of the firstinning in Friday's loss to West Bloomfield - in fact, after two innings Northville led the eventual regional. champs 2-0. But the talented West Bloomfield squad came from behind to hand Northylle its eighth loss against,

West Bloomfield topped Detroit Kronk 8-4 in the regional championship game Saturday.

Collegiate loses playoff;

seven wins.

Well, they didn't make it.

Northville Collegiate took two consecutive losses last week that robbed the upstart Adray League squad a playoff spot in the team's first year of existence.

Redford Little Caesar's edged Collegiate 6-5 last Wednesday to force a one-game playoff against Garden City for the fourth of four league playoff positions.

But Garden City's Mike Patton popped a three-run homer in the first inning and pitcher Mike Roffi went the distance, scattering eight Northville Collegiate hits for a 7-3 win.

Northville had chances. A two-run rally in the fifth cut Garden City's leadto 4-3, but Northville repeatedly couldn't get the big hit when needed, despite loading the bases in the fourth and seventh inning.

Mark Pearsall absorbed the disappointing loss; which dropped Nor-thville's record to 12-18-1. "For a young team, I'm pretty happy with that," said Coach Bob Peterson. "To be that close to a playoff spot in your first year, with so many young players is pretty good, I

Dealin' Dan

It seems every time we catch up with Dan Nielsen, he's wearing a different uniform. After transfering to Northville High School in his junior year and becoming the Mustangs' ace pitcher for two years, Nielsen last spring was the brightest young star for the Western Michigan University Broncos. Most recently, Nielsen has been bringin' it for Walter's Appliance, still alive in the Adray Collegiate League playoffs this summer. Photo by Dan Dean, Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

Northville's champ of swim club league

landed the Northville Swim Club first place in the swim circuit final stan-

Northville Swim Club, which has 75 Northville youngsters on the team, finished its season with a 7-1 dual meet record. That gave the team 14 points toward the final point tabulations that determine the final standings.

Northville scored 244 points at the eague meet, held at the Northville vim Club. That was just shy of Burton Hollow (Livonia) Swim Club's meetvinning total of 272.

But Burton Hollow finished third in dual-meet standings, giving that club eight points going into the league meet. The first-place finish at the league meet gave Burton Hollow an additional six points, making the Livonia team's final total 14. That tied Plymouth Colony's tal, but the four runner-up points for the league meet gave the Northville Swim Club a total of 18 points — and the league championship.

Behind Burton Hollow and Northville Swim Club on Saturday were Plymouth Commons (228), Fairway Farms Livonia) with 192 and Newburgh Swim Club (Livonia) with 18 points.

Individual first-place finishes in Saturday's meet were turned in by Doug Buell, Shari Thompson, Katrina Heckemeyer, Jeff Sieving, and the age 13-15 200 freestyle relay team of Julie filfinger, Laura Garr, Jason Hill and Christopher Sellen.

Buell took first in the Open 50-yard backstroke, clocking a 32.76. Buell also finshed first in the open 50 free in 25.02. Thompson claimed a first in the age 13-15 girls 13-15 50 butterfly in with a time

Jeff Sieving turned in two first places, winning the 8 and under 25 backstroke in 23.82 and the 8 and under 5 freestyle in 17.76. Katrina Heckemeyer's winning time in the 8 and under 25 freestyle was 18.34, and the winning freestyle relay team clock-

Placing second in their events were Thompson.

Video store owners emphasize 'service'

Carol Harrison and Cheryl Boyer are sisters-in-law who have gone into business together along with husbands Ron Harrison and Curt Boyer because they share the same philosophy

Carol Harrison explains, "We opened Discount Video rental and sales together because we wanted to have a friendly place that would be above

They opened their store at 42277 West Seven Mile in Northville Plaza Mall in Northville Township on April 1, choos-ing that location for the franchise business partly because of its access from both the mall parking lot and from the inside of the mall.

They specify that they wanted to open the business in the Northville area, and, almost four months later, say the choice has proved to be a good one.

Emphasizing that service is a large part of their operation, the owners men-tion that they are most willing to show buyers how to hook up their sets.

Stressing that they are "full service," the Harrisons and Boyers point out that they have furniture to hold the VCRs and television sets they sell as well as antenna and camera supplies in a range of prices. Their movies are available either to rent or to purchase. They have over 800 classified and the number available is growing rapidly.

Both Ron Harrison and Curt Boyer, who hold other jobs, are no strangers to science and technology as Ron has 20 years of science teaching background and Curt is an electronics engineer.

It is the women who greet most customers during the 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. store hours Monday through Saturday.

"One of our most popular features is our free rental day on Sunday." Carol Harrison points out, explaining that movies rented on Saturday are charged at a one-day rate but don't have to be returned until Monday.

They currently are offering a summer rate of $9.95 to join Discount in the future to be able to sell Lotto.

Video's club. Members may rent a movie or overnight for $2.75. An advantage to belonging to Discount Video's club, they cite, is that membership cards may be used at all 35 franchise stores throughout Michigan. The company also is in the process of expanding into a national operation.

On a three-night plan rentals can be as low as $1 per day, the owners state, explaining that the first movie rental is $5 with each additional costing $3 for

In addition to classics and children's - lots of Walt Disney - the store now is carrying a wide variety of "now to" videocassettes, ranging from how to install floors or garage door openers to how to restore antiques and identify

The owners point out that it is not necessary to be a member of the club to rent equipment. In addition, anyone who has just purchased a VCR, no matter where, is entitled to receive a free club membership. Just bring in your receipt, they ask.

Emphasizing that "helpfulness is our aim," they offer to help select movies for children's birthday parties and have a special movie, "Strong Kids, Safe Kids," that they give free rental to parents who will watch it with their children. It tells children what to do if strangers approach and how to handle dangerous situations.

Because they wanted to let the community know their intent to be of service, the owners note they offered free videotaping of area children from the opening in April through June. Parents were given the tapes to keep. In event of a missing child, they explain, the tapes can be given to police.

Small business sector stirs economic recovery

Small businesses can claim a large share of the credit for the economic growth that occurred during 1984, a year in which they continued to lead the way in productivity and job creation.

The Annual Report of the President on the State of Small Business, prepared by the U.S. Small Business Administration's Office of Advocacy, provides statistical evidence that small firms throughout the country are making major contributions to the nation's economic recovery

Among the findings:

 From October 1982 through October 1984, employment in industries dominated by small firms rose 11.4 percent while employment in industries dominated by large businesses rose 5.3 percent.

• Small business income, as measured by sole proprietership and partnership income, increased 33.7 percent during the first half of 1984, compared with the same 1983 period. Small business income for all of 1983 rose 11.3

 New business incorporations dur-ing the first six months of 1984 increased 7 percent. SBA analysts estimate that new business incorporations for all of 1984 totaled about 630,000 - a new record.

· Business deregulation has been of significant benefit to small firms. They have benefited from new markets, lower costs and demand for new services and technologies. About onefourth of the 12 million new jobs created between 1976 and 1982 were in deregulated industries, including air travel, trucking, telecommunications, banking and other financial services.

From 1982-83, business starts in these deregulated sectors rose 24.8 percent, about twice the number of overall business starts in the nation during the

and demand for new; services and technologies.

Small firms also accounted for the bulk of job gains in deregulated industries. From 1980-82 employment in deregulated industries rose by 724,390. Of that total, firms with fewer than 20 employees accounted for 495,246 new jobs (68.4 percent) and firms with 500 employees accounted for 650,820 (89.8 percent).

· Women-owned businesses are the fastest growing part of the small business population. From 1977-82, the number of women-owned proprietorships increased at an annual rate of 69 percent, while all sole proprietorships increased at an annual rate of 3.7 per-

Business leaders to set national agenda

Small business owners from across the state will have a "grassroots" opportunity to provide input on issues and concerns which will be presented to Congress and the Administration by attending the Michigan meeting for the White House Conference on Small

The meeting will be held at the Hyatt Regency in Dearborn on September 20.

The major purpose of the Michigan conference is to prepare for the second White House Conference on Small Business which is scheduled to take place in Washington D.C. in August of

"Small business owners who attend the Michigan meeting on September 20 will be participating in an event that will have a major impact on the agenda for small business in this state and throughout the country," said John Galles, executive director of the Small Business Association of Michigan.

"All persons who own or operate small firms in Michigan should make time to attend and contribute to the success of this conference," he added.

Individuals who attend the state conference will have an opportunity to be elected as a Michigan representative to the White House Conference. In addition, participants will identify key issues which need to be addressed by state and federal governments in order to improve the economic climate for small business.

The White House Conference is intended to increase public awareness of the essential contribution of small business to state and national economies. The gathering will identify the needs of small business owners and examine the status of women and minorities as small business owners

In addition, the conference will determine methods of assisting small business in carrying out its role as the nation's job creator and 'develop specific and comprehensive recommendations for executive and egislative action.

The White House Conference provides an arena for grassroots involvement of small business owners across

'Small business owners who attend the Michigan meeting on September 20 will be participating in an event that will have a major impact on the agenda for small business in this state and throughout the country. All persons who own or operate small firms in Michigan should make time to attend and contribute to the success of this conference.

> John Galles, SBAM, Executive director

the country," said Galles. "It is designed exclusively for the private small business sector. Each delegate to the White House Conference must be an owner, partner or corporate officer of a small business which employs less than 500 people. Participants to both the state and national conferences must pay their own travel and living expenses.

It is anticipated that there will be 1,800 delegates to the national conference with each state allowed a delegation totalling two times its electoral vote. In addition, all governors, .S. Senators and U.S. Representatives will each appoint one delegate. According to this formula, Michigan will send 61 delegates to the White House Conference.

A number of topics will serve as a catalyst for discussion at the statewide meetings. These include, but are not limited to:

· Procurement: Numerous studies have consistently confirmed that increasing the share of procurements from small business will result in substantial savings to the federal government. Small business is seeking legislation and administrative policies which will ensure increased competi-tion in Federal purchases of goods and services.

· • Taxation: Small businesses, which pay a greater percentage of their sales in taxes than big businesses, seek a tax code that is both simpler and more fair to smaller enterprise

• Entrepreneurial Education and Training: Federal policies which encourage and assist persons with in-novative ideas should be implemented. to turn these ideas into new businesses and new jobs.

· Payroll Costs: Small businesses. which are labor intensive, pay a disproportionate share of payroll taxes. Several changes to the IRS regulations have been suggested to treat small firms more equitably.

• Finance: New and creative instruments for financing small businesses, such as Small Business Participating Debentures, are sought to increase the sources of capital available to small and growing firms.

 Regulation and Paperwork: Continued efforts to reduce and eliminate unreasonable regulations and duplicative paperwork are needed at both the state and federal level to allow small businesses to be more efficient.

· Economic Policy: Limiting the role of government in the competitive marketplace and treating human and non-human capital equally by applying investment tax credits equally to employees and equipment are among the small business proposals. International Trade: Domestic and international policies which result in a more stable economic currency exchange rate and which oppose any efforts to restrict free and equal trade opportunities in the world marketplace should be developed and implemented.

The first White House Conference on Small Business, held in January of 1980, resulted in more than 60 recommendations being sent to Congress and the Administration. Approximately two-thirds of these recommendations have been acted upon legislatively or administratively during that time, including reduced regulatory requirements, changes to the tax code and new public and private initiatives to assist small business.

The Small Business Association of Michigan (SBAM) was significantly involved in the 1980 White House Conference on Small Business and has been actively preparing for the 1986 conference. Several SBAM members were included in the Michigan delegation to the 1980 conference and the association provided much of the impetus for the 1981 Michigan Conference on Small Business which followed.

Since those events, SBAM has sponsored and supported legislation designed to address the needs identified by small business owners.

SBAM is the primary advocate for Michigan small business in Lansing and Washington D.C. and represents more than 2,500 member firms. The association focuses primarily on achieving legislative reforms which will improve the economic climate for small business in Michigan.

Anyone interested in attending the Michigan conference or who would like more information about the White House Conference should contact the SBAM Administrative Office at Post Office Box 1105, 490 West South Street Kalamazoo, Michigan 49007. The SBAM also may be reached by calling 1-616-342-2400.

Money Management

Don't let midsummer doldrums divert you from a critical task: Halfway through the year is the time to assess where you stand financially.

Fine-tuning your investment and tax strategy at midyear can produce important results later when tax time

According to the Michigan Associa-tion of CPAs, you should make sure your strategies have kept up with the helter-skelter changes in the tax laws. Just as important, you must be alert to changes coming up in 1986 that, as of now, appear to threaten some of the most traditional tax benefits, such as deductions for interest payments or taxes to state and local government.

Some of the most dramatic developments in tax recently have been related to tax shelters. Hundreds, even thousands, of tax shelters compete for your investment dollars. Two years ago, tax shelters had attracted $6 billion, and the outlook for growth was bright. But the situation has changed.

The IRS has now moved aggressively to curb those tax shelters it considers abusive. Besides that, rules have been changed — like stretching out the years for depreciating real estate or tightening up on up-front deductions for expenses that won't be incurred for years.

Last year, it became obligatory to register with the IRS tax shelters generating at least a two-to-one writeoff of tax savings to investment. As a further effort to control tax-sheltering, promoters are required to maintain lists of investors for scrutiny by the

According to reports, the IRS is hardly a passive onlooker. Its agents, auditors and computers go after everybody involved in suspect tax shelters. Beyond that, the President's new tax proposals seek to eliminate more of the tax advantages of more shelters. Those developments seem to dictate new tax strategies.

Two important tax-saving measures suggested by CPAs are tax-free investments and giving away incomeproducing properties to family members. Each can generate tax

Tax-free investments include municipal bonds or mutual funds which invest in municipal bonds, and pass along tax-free income to shareholders. Both are attractive possibilities, but no decision should be made until comparing them against the after-tax return on taxable investments.

Follow this rule of thumb: Take the tax-free yield and divide it by one minus your federal tax bracket. For example, if you are considering a 10 percent bond and you are in the 44 percent tax bracket, 10 percent would be divided by .56 (1 minus .44) for a result of .18. In this case, a 10 percent tax-free return is equivalent to an 18 percent return on taxable income.

Another alternative to tax sheltering is to donate appreciated property (stocks, for example). If you hold it long-term, the current value can be written off and the donor pays no tax on the gain. That has advantages over first selling the stock, then donating the proceeds. By giving the stock, you can deduct the entire amount, including its appreciated value.

Giving away income producing property is another way to lower your taxes. Transfer the property to a family member in a lower tax bracket, thus saving tax while retaining family control over the property. Money or stocks can be given to a child using a uniform grant to minors accounts, which can be set up by banks or brokerage houses.

Individual Retirement Accouts (IRAs) remain, however, the most used method of tax savings. The reasons are apparent. Invest $2,000 - if you are in the 33 percent bracket it costs only $1,340 because you're saving $660 in federal taxes — and earnings accumulate, tax deferred, until withdrawn.

Comparative growth rates between IRAs and taxable investments dramatically favor IRAs. But the IRA does present disadvantages. For example, you pay a 10 percent penalty for early withdrawal before age 591/2.

Keogh plans for self-employed in-dividuals allow even larger contributions, although both plans penalize for early withdrawal.

BBB announces consumer protection pamphlets

Two new consumer information pamphlets -"Tips on Homeowners Insurance" and "Tips on Medigap Insurance" - have been made available by the Better Business Bureau/Detroit and Eastern Michigan.

"Tips on Homeowners Insurance:" Since homeowners insurance policies can vary widely, homeowners and renters are cautioned to take time to understand these differences and get a policy that best serves their needs before a loss occurs.

This pamphlet describes various types of policies and defines important terms and special features such as mortgage value, replacement cost and inflation guard protection.

It explains how consumers can determine how much insurance protection they needs and reminds them to periodically review and update their policies to reflect the current value of their homes

Renters also are reminded that if their building goes up in flames, there usually is no coverage for their personal property unless they have a special policy for renters.

"Tips on Medigap Insurance:" Medigap insurance is a Medicare supplement designed to help close the gap between the health costs Medicare will cover and senior citizens' actual expenses. Since medigap insurance is a relatively new and often misunderstood type of health insurance, elderly Americans are urged to get the facts before they sign up for the coverage. The pamphlet devotes considerable attention not only to the value of the policies, but also to their limitations. Consumers are reminded that medigap insurance is generally unwilling or unable to pay fees not approved by Medicare and also that medigap does not provide coverage for nursing homes, prescription drugs or health supplies.

These new pamphlets have been added to the Better Business Bureau Information Series which offers helpful tips on more than 80 topics of consumer

According to the calendar we still have a good seven weeks of summer remaining. Seven more weeks of hot days, hot nights, hot everything.

It needn't be that way. Whether it's taking a cool dip in a nearby lake, turning on a brand new air conditioner, enjoying an icy pitcher of lemonade or sticking your head in a bowl of ice cubes, there are ways to defeat the

When the mercury fills the thermometer, try some of these heatbusting ideas. Remember—a 90-degree day will only defeat you if you let it.

POOLS

The closest thing in this area to a public outdoor pool is Michigan Waterworld, featuring two big water slides. It's located just off 1-96 at the New Hudson-Milford exit.

If standard pool swimming is more your fare, there are three high schools in the area which have open swimming.

Pinckney High School's cement pond is open to the public every day from 7-9 p.m. Admission is $1 per person.

The pool at Brighton High School is also open to the public five days a week, On Monday, Wednesday and Friday, the pool is open from 2:30-4 p.m. and 7-8:30 p.m. There is a special adult swim from 6-7 p.m. On Tuesdays and Thursday, the pool is open from 2:30-4 p.m. Cost is $1 per person, 50 cents for senior Novi High School's pool is open Mon-day, Wednesday and Friday from 2:30-3:30 p.m. and 7-10 p.m. On Tuesday and Thursday, it's open from 7-9 p.m. Cost is 50 cents per-person.

LAKES

Livingston County and western Oakland County is an area chock full of lakes; many offer public swimming.

In the Brighton State Recreation Area, there are two spots for public swimming-Bishop Lake and Chilson Pond. The Pinckney State Recreation Area has the immensely popular Silver Lake, as well as Half Moon Lake.

The Island Lake Recreation Area located near Brighton, also has several swimming holes. The beaches at Kent Lake, Spring Mill Pond and Island Lake await you. To enter any of these parks, it's $2 per car per day.

Milford-area swimmers are fond of Powers Beach, which flows into the Huron River. The beach at Kensington Metropark is also very popular in the Milford-South Lyon-Brighton area. Kensington features two swimming beaches, Martindale and Maple.

In Howell, swimming is available right in the City Park, located on the shores of Thompson Lake. Howell residents only have to pay $1 per car, while non-residents are charged $3 per Fowlerville is fond of Taylor's Beach, located on Burkhart Road. A carload of swimmers can spend the day there for iúst $1. There are two beaches available to the public on massive Walled Lake, which is where lake-lovers from Novi, Northville and Walled Lake like to spend their time.

Food and drinks to keep you cool are a matter of opinion and sometimes debate. Some people say they like to drink hot coffee, which makes them sweaty and therefore cooler. Other people go the opposite way and drink ice cold pop or ice cream floats.

"If you're already extremely hot, why go into a heat exhaustion to cool yourself off?" asks Earl Williams, a Howell sports doctor. He recommends lots of room-temperature liquids because ice cold ones can cause abdominal cramping.

He also says to eat lightly and avoid highly spicy foods because digestion diverts blood into your stomach and away from your peripheral system. where it helps you cool off." He says Gatorade or lemonade, which can replace the salts lost through perspiration, are probably best.

Linda Lown, an employe at the Health Nut in Brighton, offered her own suggestion for a cool, refreshing drink: She crushes berries and freezes them in an ice cube tray to be used in herbal teas. The extra vitamin C helps you maintain your energy level, she says.

 A dietary aide at the Livingston Care Center, Barb Jacobs, said caffeine and sugar should be avoided because they can wind you up temporarily but not quench thirst very well. Howell Big Boy restaurant manager Bob Knight disagrees; he likes iced tea or lemonade best.

At the Canopy restaurant in Brighton, chef Mike Miller recommends cool foods such as poached salmon, cucumber or fresh fruit salads, pasta salad or traditional potato salad. "Fresh fruit sorbets are very nice, too," he said.

In the summer at the Pinckney Inn, owner Debbie Mozurkewich says that tonic drinks are popular; so are the iced tea and lemonade. "We sell an awful lot of it." And as for food items, she said nothing tops the seafood dishes. "I call it bathing suit food. People get into their bathing suits and decide they need to go on a diet."

After a hard day at work, the last thing you want to do is come home to a 90-degree house and try to relax. Beating the heat at home can be as simple as a small circulating fan, or as advanced as central air conditioning.

The obvious advantage of a fan is the cheaper price. Doug Shaw, of Sutton's Hardware in Howell, says many people opt for the personal-type fans that rotate from side to side. Most people sit them on a table or stand in close proximity to get the best cooling effects, he Rotating fans come in several sizes, from six to 16 inches in diameter, with prices running from $13 to $44. The most popular model is the 12-inch fan, which sells for about $30, he says.

Air conditioning comes in two basic packages: central air, in which the cooling system is part of the home; and room units that are placed in the window to cool off the room.

A window model for a bedroom usually cost anywhere from $235-250, says Del Richards, of Richards Electric in Howell.

The most effective way to air condition the entire home is to install central air conditioning, says George Tanner of Alpine Heating and Air Conditioning, in Central air conditioning can be installed in any house that already has a forced-air system, such as a hot-air furnace, he says. The average cost of installing central air in a home is in the neighborhood of $1,500 to $1,800, which includes the air conditioning unit and its installation.

CLOTHES

If you were an infant or toddler, keeping cool in the summer won't be hardall you would wear is a diaper. And you'd be running through the sprinkler or splashing in a little pool.

One article of clothing wrapped around your body is sure a lot cooler than what society and stores demand— the three "S's"—shirt, shoes and

Even in the throes of high temperatures and humidity, there are few hints on what to wear to keep cool, as suggested by home economist Phyllis Cooper.

"The more cotton, the cooler," she said. "The natural fiber will absorb (moisture) and synthetic fabrics

The reason cotton, linen and ramine (a new fabric on the market) feels so good in hot weather is that the fabrics are a looser weave and let the natural cooling process take place.

Wool, also a natural fiber, is cooler than a knit. "A tight knit tends to hold the (body) heat in," she said. Also, the looser the fit the cooler the wearer. Not a bad suggestion since the style this summer is baggy shirts. Cooper added that blue jeans are not cool at all because it is a heavy, tightly woven fabric. Cooper also suggests wearing lighter colors that will reflect the heat. Men have a better chance at finding cotton underwear than women. Cotton slips are almost unavailable, she said, because they tend to creep up and hold

In the sock department, the lighter the weight, the cooler it will be. For women, there are a couple companies that offer summer weight

Cooper said that these are generally a finer knit fabric using a thin strand of nylon. The problem is that these type of nylons tend to run much faster. For people who find themselves in the sun, hats are a great help in keeping the body temperature down, Cooper said, particularly when made of straw or anything that is not a tight knit.

What's the matter, Bunky? The heat got you down? Do you feel like a piece of cotton candy-hot and sticky? Is your tongue hanging to your knees? Are your bones melting?

Well, take heart. And try some of

Alkires host 50th year fetes

By JEAN DAY

Less than a month apart, Richard and Pat Alkire hosted golden wedding anniversary open houses at their home at 316 South Wing for their respective parents.

On Saturday afternoon, July 6, his parents, Olen R. and Gladys M. Alkire, were honored at the party for 60 guests. The senior Alkires moved to Northville in May, 1937, and built their home on Fry Road (where they still live) in 1947.

He was born in Jefferson, Missouri, and she (the former Gladys Beller) in Mitchell, South Dakota. They met through neighbors and were married on July 3, 1935, in Olivet, South Dakota, His sister, Millie Bintliff, came from South Dakota and her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Beller, came from Florida for the open house.

In addition to their son, the Alkires have a daughter Joyce and five grandchildren. Joyce and her husband, Richard Mitchell, and their daughter Carrie Mitchell came from Anaheim, California. Other special guests were a niece Betty Kimball of Burton and a nephew Marvin Bintliff of Lake Orion.

Olen Alkire is retired from Wayne County Road Commission; his wife Gladys worked for Northville Public Schools in the cafeteria. Both enjoy playing cards, taking walks and

On Sunday afternoon, June 9, the Alkires hosted the anniversary party with 170 guests for her parents, Albert and Ora Merrow of Farmington Hills. Special guests included the Merrows' son Bill from Denali National Park in Alaska and granddaughter Kristin Mangum of Ely, Nevada. In addition to their son and daughter, the couple has seven grandchildren, all of whom attended, and six great grandchildren.

Mrs. Merrow, the former Ora E. Epley, was born in Lansing. Her husband in Birch Run. They were married June 7, 1935, in Pontiac. He is retird from Union Carbide Steel Company. They are members of Orchard Methodist Church in Farmington Hills and enjoy playing cards, traveling and fishing.

Picnic's first Newcomer event of season

Northville Newcomers have planned a family picnic for all Newcomers and Alumni as the first gathering of the new season, Ina Hacker, the club's new president, reports. It will be held from noon to 5 p.m. August 24 at Walled Lake Lakeshore Park picnic shelter.

Each family attending is asked to bring a salad or dessert to pass. Children's games are planned, and there will be tennis, pedal boating, basketball, baseball, beach fun and swimming. Cost for the day is $10 a family, plus a $2 car pass at the gate unless you are a Novi resident. Reservations are being taken through August 8 by Mary Ellen Groff, 348-9338.

New residents interested in joining Northville Newcomers are welcome to attend. For information about the club call membership chairperson Susan DeBolt, 349-8767, or president Hacker, 348-1326.

Botsford Inn memorabilia sought

Did your grandmother ever attend one of Henry Ford's square dances at the Botsford Inn in Farmington?

Is there a dance program in your attic? Or maybe a theater stub from the days when the Inn offered its famous theater-in-the-round? Have you wondered what to do with that old chipped cup your uncle obviously stole from the Botsford Inn when he was a boy?

The cup is yours with the Inn's blessing. But owner John Anhut would like you to lend it to the Inn, along with the old dance program and old theater stub, so that the Anhut faily and the community can celebrate the Botsford Inn's 150th anniversary in 1986.

Built in 1836, the Botsford Inn is now the oldest operating lodging facility in the state. It was a stagecoach stop on the road between Detroit and Lansing before Henry Ford put the country on wheels. Ford met his wife Clara at the Inn. He bought it as a romantic gesture in 1924 and operated it as an historic inn for 27 years. It was sold to the Anhut faily after Clara's death in 1961.

Anhut hopes area residents will search their memories and attics for information and memorabilia of the Inn's early years. He also would like to talk to people interested in joining the Sesquicentennial Planning Committee, a group of local citizens appointed to gather old treasures, research historical information and plan a yearlong schedule of special events for the anniversary year.

High on the committee's list of priorities is a book about the history and culture surrounding the Inn for its century-and-a-half of life. The book is being researched by Jean Fox of Farmington with the help of University of Detroit student John Lapham, also a Farmington resident.

Treasures often are found in musty archives but both the family and the author hope to unearth nuggets from the community that has been part of the Inn's life for so many years. These hidden treasures could include artifacts, big or small, or memories.

Kay Briggs, who has lived in a house near the Inn all her life, remembers walking the oxen there as a child. She has given the Anhuts a photograph of those long-ago days for the birthday celebration

Anyone who has either artifacts or memories to share is asked to call Angel Bakos at the Botsford Inn (474-4800) or Jo Ann Soronen at the Farmington Chamber of Commerce (474-

Letter writing leads to summer meeting . for teen pen pals

By MARILYN MORRISON

Julee Lautzenheiser of Northville and Cecile Menu of France have known each other for two years but only recently met.

Lautzenheiser, 14, and Menu, 15, are pen pals. Both girls had so much fun exchanging letters that they decided it was time to meet face-to-face.

The girls came to know each other when Lautzenheiser signed up for a pen pal in French class.

Similar interests and hobbies made the two girls a perfect computer match. Both like to read, write and swim. The only request Lautzenheiser had when she signed up for a pen pal was that he or she write in English.

Menu wrote to Lautzenheiser in English, and the two have been exchanging letters twice a month ever since for two years

This past spring, the girls decided to extend their pen pal friendship one step further, and Lautzenheiser invited Menu to Northville.

July 1, Menu flew to Detroit to meet her American pen pal. At the airport loves Meijer," said Lautzenheiser. she was greeted — after they found her Garfield is one of Menu's favorite with red, white and blue flowers, -also the colors in the French flag, and a banner that said, "Welcome to the USA,

6 p.m., she arrived at 4 p.m. When Menu didn't arrive on her scheduled flight, the Lautzenheisers were worried. 'I was panicked,'' Mrs. said.

Lautzenheiser said. "I thought she was lost in New York."

But after a lot of worrying and combing the airport, Menu was spotted at the Menu's hometown is Cordes, France. Pen pals and blind dates are similar — sometimes when the two finally meet, they don't like each other.

Just the opposite is true of Lautzenheiser and Menu - the two couldn't be better friends.

So far Menu has traveled to Washington, D.C., and Niagara Falls with the Lautzenheisers. She enjoyed the Lincoln and Jefferson memorials and both girls were amazed as they watched thousands of one dollar bills being printed at the U.S. Treasury.

Before Menu was to leave the end of this month, the Lautzenheisers planned to take a trip to Cedar Point and Sea

When asked about American traditions, Menu said Americans watch too much TV. As for food, Menu is not much of a meat eater. She prefers eating cheese and vegetables.

According to Lautzenheiser, Menu's favorite place to shop is Meijer. "She

WRC director Virginia Wilhelm talks about program

'They feel someone in here cares about them, and they know we are not judging them. The WRC is a place where (women) can go for answers.'

— Virginia Wilhelm WRC Coordinator ....

Women's Resource Center eases passage through life transitions

By MARILYN MORRISON

There are many transitions to make in life, and not all of them are easy. Women who are considering further education or training,
Who are thinking about entering the

Who are separated, divorced or considering either of these alternatives,

Who are feeling life has little or no direction, perhaps recently widowed or struggling with a personal problem, can find help at the Women's Resource Center (WRC), an extension of Schoolcraft College.

Established in 1974, the WRC has won national recognition as an exemplary program serving people in transition. Virginia Wilhelm, WRC coordinator, said 5000 contacts per year are made.

Most of the services available at the WRC are free or offered at low cost and, in most cases, no appointment is necessarv

Some of the programs include: peer counseling, career information, child care referrals, financial aid, open forums, courses and workshops and academic or personal counseling by Schoolcraft counselors.

Although the WRC is dedicated to serving women, men are welcome to walk in for counseling.

The WRC was originally developed by several women on the Schoolcraft campus on Haggerty Road on the eastern edge of Northville. These women felt the community was not meeting the needs of some women.

Women from age 18 to 60 come to the WRC for help. However, Wilhem said the average ages of women serviced at the WRC is between 37 and 39.

"Most of the women (who come to the WRC) are from the community and a majority of them are thinking about returning to school," said Wilhelm.

For the college-age student, going to school is routine, but for a woman or man who has been out of school for 20 years, going back can be a thrilling and chilling experience. At the WRC, seminars on positive self image and going back to school are of-fered regularly. In most cases, women and men who come to the center want to go back to school, but need that extra push to get them going, said Wilhelm. By coming to the WRC, their efforts are put in motion.

"Women are amazed at how well they're doing in school," Wilhem said. Currently, women comprise 59 percent of the student population at Schoolcraft, Wilhelm added.

To help cover the cost of returning to school, tuition assistance is available for single parents, homemakers and displaced homemakers - someone who must prepare for paid employment due to divorce or the death or disability of a spouse - and non-traditional job trainees.

Aside from educational and vocational counseling, the WRC also has volunteer peer counselors for women who are suffering with a personal problem such as divorce, rape, spouse abuse, sexual harassment or the loss of a loved one.

The WRC is not qualified to give ongoing counseling but does have a very effective referral system and a wide

The feedback from women who have seen peer counselors has been very

"They feel someone in here cares about them, and they know we are not judging them. The WRC is a place where they can go for answers,'

Wilhelm said. Wilhelm added that the WRC "doesn't always have the answers" but said the counselors will listen and help women discover what they are feeling and how to deal with these feelings. When people experience problems such as divorce and the death of a loved one, knowing that other people share the same feelings can be comforting. The WRC has specific support groups for widowers, single parents, divorced women or women thinking about separation, bereaved parents, and a Women for Sobriety group to help women recover from problem drinking through their own internal resources. With the WRC programs, people realize they're not alone and that other people are suffering from the same problems, said Wilhelm. The programs also provide a relaxing atmosphere.

But, not everyone has to have a problem to come to the resource center.

The WRC also has a library with materials related to career planning, resume writing, employment and interviewing. If you want to match your career interests with the perfect job, the WRC has a Michigan Occupational Information System.

The WRC also works closely with the Career Planning and Placement Department at Schoolcraft College.

Going to arket

While Ann Arbor's municipal market is the acknowledged granddaddy of area farmers' markets, both Brighton and Northville also have flourishing market days.

The Northville market with a peak of about 12 vendors and Brighton's market with 50 space-holders by no means replace the popular Ann Arbor market (known especially for its annuals), but claim their share of local shoppers.

Shoppers at all three markets have one thing in common, according to Carl Prielipp, a farmer from Britton, Michigan. He and his sons Mark and Kenneth sell their produce at the Ann Arbor, Brighton and Northville markets.

"Shoppers at all three markets," he says, "are looking for freshness and quality produce."

Noting that freshness in large measure means quality, Prielipp adds that this is the reason he likes selling at these markets. His customers know when produce is coming to market and seek him out. Two weeks ago the first large quantity of corn arrived and was a big seller.

Prielipp's farm is located in the rich farming area south of Ann Arbor about half way to the Ohio border. Because Britton is in the southern part of the state, Prielipp often has an early selection of home grown produce.

Another pleasant part of serving customers in the Ann Arbor- Brighton-Northville areas, he mentions, is that market customers are not there to haggle. They look for quality and pay the stated price.

An exception might be when someone wishes to

An exception might be when someone wishes to buy in quantity, he says, or at the end of the day when some perishables sometimes are marked down. At the Ann Arbor market July 20, flower vendors in the afternoon were selling snapdragons, zinnias and marigold bunches for $1 — with the offer of a second bunch for 50 cents.

It follows, naturally, that the earliest shoppers at the markets get the best selection. When only a few ears of corn were available earlier in July, for example, they were snapped up by first shoppers. If you've been waiting all year for home grown

If you've been waiting all year for home grown tomatoes or want to serve beans that have never been frozen, put on your flat shoes, take your market basket or tote bag (although all three markets sell large paper or plastic bags to consolidate purchases, which farmers put in paper bags) and head for your nearest market.

It's also a good idea to have plenty of change and dollar bills as most transactions are cash. Farmers have change but shouldn't be forced change a $20 bill at 8 a.m. Don't forget, many purchases will be in the 50 cent range — for a box of small, new potatoes.

a couple of zucchini or some tomatoes. Here are hours and locations:

• ANN ARBOR FARMERS MARKET — Operated by the City of Ann Arbor, this municipal market is open all year. From May 1 through December 31 it is twice-weekly on Wednesday and Saturday from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m.; from January through April 30 on Saturday from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Located in downtown Ann Arbor at Fifth and Detroit streets, the market is next to the popular Kerrytown Shops.

Market manager for the city is Margaret Hanson.
Permanent stall holders pay from $157.50 up to $700

Market manager for the city is Margaret Hanson. Permanent stall holders pay from $157.50 up to $700 yearly. The market is operated at capacity of 138 stalls, but transients are sold spaces that are not occupied by stall holders by 7 a.m. Shopping bags are sold in the office adjacent to rest rooms in the newly built market building in the center of the market.

All baked goods sold at market must be from a state-licensed kitchen. Licenses and inspections also are required to sell poultry, Hanson notes. At present there are only two chicken dealers at the market, she says, and understands no more are to be permitted.

• BRIGHTON FARMERS MARKET — Co-sponsored by the Greater Brighton Area Chamber of Commerce and the city of Brighton, the market is open from June to October from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday in the city parking lots next to the mill pond park.

Fifty or more produce and licensed-food vendors as well as craft dealers fill the municipal lots. A major attraction are the appealing animals for adoption brought to the market by the Livingston County Humane Society and the Animal Protection Bureau. At the July 20 market, playful black-and-white kittens, a young collie and other dogs and cats were the center of attention.

Diana Wagoner, chamber market director, said the market has been operating for eight years. Spaces rent for $5 a week, or, if paid in advance at the beginning of the 19-week season, for $4 a week.

• NORTHVILLE FARMERS MARKET — Sponsored by the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce, the Northville market this year opened May 16, a month early, by popular demand and will continue through October from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursdays. The 10-year-old market is in a new location in the city parking lot at Hutton and Dunlap behind Main Street stores. City flower beds of marigolds, geraniums and petunias edge the market area.

Kay Keegan, executive secretary for the chamber, administers the market and reports that senior citizen bus trips to the city have been scheduled to coincide with the market day. In addition to produce, eggs, honey, herbs, baked goods (dealers' kitchens must be inspected and licensed) and plants are sold.

Spaces are rented by the season for $125, or daily, $10.

Tips on the market

"To market, to market, to buy a fat pig ..." That may have been the case 50 years ago. Area shoppers, now in the third generation at the Ann Arbor market, recall buying meat and live chickens years ago.

Today's market shopper is much more likely to be seeking fresh produce, plants or home baked goods. In fact, there's no live poultry available at area markets, and the Ann Arbor market has only two poultry dealers.

What is available and what does a market shopper look for?

FRESH CORN: Corn became available in quantity in mid-July. Shoppers can find white as well as yellow ears (personal preference) and the scarce-in-stores "peaches and cream," or bi-color, ears. It is expected that shoppers pull down the covering to see that the ear is filled out and that no corn bores are

MELONS: Locally grown melons should be in the markets by the beginning of August. Melons are among the more difficult items to judge for flavor; seasoned shoppers seek out firm melons with a slight softening where the stem was attached. Some smell for a slight odor of ripeness. Melons from the Howell area have a reputation for uniform white, not cream, coloring.

CAULIFLOWER: Small heads have been coming to market for a couple of weeks. Shoppers should look for white not gream coloring.

LETTUCE: Leaf and bib lettuce are available now. Head lettuce should be shortly. They should look fresh and should be protected from sun wilting. All are great salad material.

POTATOES: Small, new potatoes are a first choice for shoppers who like to serve them with fresh parsley or chopped green onlons.

ZUCCHINI: Small zucchini are the better bet for serving as a vegetable ples will be coming to market the latter part of August. Pie makers look for green cooking apples. Eating apples should be firm — consult the farmer about varieties and their attributes.
