Winchester Principal Ron Horwath reads to first graders

Record/JERRY ZOLYNSKY

School principal ends 30-year career

By MICHELE M. FECHT

After nearly three decades as a teacher, principal and administrator in the Northville Public Schools, Ronald Horwath will trade in his attendance records and room keys this June for golf clubs and a tennis racket.

"It was a hard decision to make," the Winchester Elementary principal said of his pending retirement. "When I was reassigned here, I had no idea I would be doing this."

After nearly a decade as principal of Meads Mill Junior High, Horwath was reassigned to Winchester last September following the district's closing of both Cooke and Moraine.

Not surprisingly, Horwath made a smooth transition from the junior high to elementary level. While he credits Winchester staff and students with making his year-long stint as principal a rewarding one, the longtime educator has had plenty of experience in adapting to new environments during his 26-year career in Northville.

Horwath began his tenure with the district in 1960, serving as both a math teacher and football coach at Northville High School. In 1966-67, Horwath took over as assistant high school principal, a post he held until January, 1967, when he was bumped to principal of Amerman Elementary.

The following year Horwath was reassigned to Cooke, serving as principal until 1973-74. In September, 1974, he began a two-year stint in the central office as personnel director. He requested a reassignment in June, 1976, taking over as principal of Meads Mill in September of that year. He remained principal of the middle school/junior high until last June.

"I always thought I'd be back in the classroom when I retired," Horwath observed. "I got into education because I wanted to work with kids."

"The further the assignment is away from the classroom, the further away you are from the kids," he noted. Though it's been 20 years since Horwath left the classroom for the principal's office, he said teaching is one of the many highlights of his long career.

"I enjoyed teaching ninth graders," he said. "I just seemed to be able to get along with kids that age."

"When you reached them, you really got satisfaction out of your work." Another high point was Northville High School's 1961-62 football and basketball season.

Horwath pointed out that year was among the best in his coaching career with both Northville squads ranking among the top in the state. Among the students who made it a banner year was quarterback Steve Juday, who went on to be All-American at Michigan State University.

With only two months remaining before the end of the school year, Horwath said the hardest part of leaving the district will be saying goodbye to students.

He noted that while kids today are "basically the same" as their counterparts of 20 years ago, television has had a tremendous influence on children of the 1980s.

"Kids seem to know so much more today," he observed. "Teachers have had to hone their skills to meet those challenges."

"So much more is expected of teachers . . . of all of us in education."

At 58, Horwath still is a long way from reaching mandatory retirement age.

However, after nearly 30 years, the Northville educator said he felt it was time for someone new to step in. He also said his decision to retire was influenced by a state retirement law, the "Rule of 80" formula, which allows educators to retire with full benefits if their years of education and their age total 80.

He said he expects to spend time on the golf course and tennis court as well as traveling with his wife Shirley. Retirement also will allow him more time to spend with his three children and four grandchildren.

"I'm going to miss it," he said of his three decades in education. "But I'm going out with a smile on my face because I've loved my work."

'Ponds' s approved by city planners

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Northville City Planning Commission voted unanimously at its April 15 meeting to grant final preliminary approval to the developers of the Ponds of Northville Subdivision.

Final approval from City Council and the Department of Natural Resources are still needed, though, before Singh Development Corporation can begin construction of the first phase on the 92.35 acre site north of Eight Mile Road. The site, immediately west of Lexington Commons Subdivision, is the last large parcel of land available for development in the city.

"This is, by far, the best plan I've seen for this area in the 10 years I've been in Northville," said commission chairperson Jerome Mittman.

But before the vote, residents of the surrounding area voiced their concerns about the possible adverse effects such a development may have on the wetlands area that the subdivision will surround. The Randolph Drain presently runs through the site and is surrounded by swampy wetlands — an area opponents say is home for many varieties of rare wild flowers and animals. The majority of the residents in attendance at the public hearing indicated they believe that the construction of the subdivision will either drive away or kill most of the existing natural wildlife.

"I am deeply concerned about what this will do to the wildlife state and what will be destroyed," Resident Morgan Townsend said. "It's very disturbing to see you (planning commission) go ahead with a plan like this when you don't really understand the delicate nature of the area."

Architect Leonard Siegal of Siegal-Tuomaala Associates of Farmington countered with promises of an aesthetically appealing single family residential area that would maintain

Foley is found guilty, sentencing Thursday

John Foley, 21, of Garden City was convicted last week of homicide in the May 26, 1985, death of Northville Regional Psychiatric patient Greg Helzerman.

Sentence is to be passed tomorrow in Wayne County Circuit Court by Judge Marianne Battani.

During the three-week trial, special prosecutor Robert Agacinski argued that Foley was the leader among three patients who assaulted Helzerman in the hallway of the hospital's young adult unit and subsequently moved into a "quiet room," where Foley and his companions choked the 20-year-old victim and held a pillow over his face.

In finding Foley guilty, the jury ruled against the defense's claim that he was, by definition, mentally ill and not responsible for his actions at the time of the killing. Defense attorneys argued that inadequate staffing and errors in the treatment of Foley allowed the assault to occur and to continue uninterrupted for a period long enough to cause the death.

Foley also entered a guilty plea to an unrelated charge of breaking-and-entering, stemming from an incident prior to his hospitalization.

The two others allegedly involved in the killing have also been found competent to assist in their own defenses, and will be tried in separate circuit court cases.

Helzerman's death resulted in the firing of several hospital employees, most of whom have regained their jobs through arbitration hearings. It also resulted in renewed and intensified public attention on overcrowding and other problems at the hospital.

Skateboard law revised to regulate, not ban

By KEVIN WILSON

One month after defeating a proposal to ban skateboards and roller skating downtown, the Northville City Council Monday night scheduled a public hearing on a revised ordinance that would regulate, but not prohibit, skating in all public areas.

Patterned after the city's bicycle ordinance, the proposed regulations will be reviewed at council's May 5 meeting.

In the meantime, Police Chief

Rodney Cannon reported that one skateboarder has been ticketed for disorderly conduct under a portion of the city code making it illegal to "impede vehicular or pedestrian traffic."

Mayor Paul Vernon said the intent of the new skateboard/roller skating ordinance "is to put the skaters on their good behavior."

In the words of Mayor Pro-Tem G. Dewey Gardner, "the only reason we need this ordinance at all is so the police department has something to follow if the need arises."

The new ordinance would require skaters to yield right-of-way to pedestrians, prohibits passing pedestrians in a "reckless or careless manner" and requires groups of skaters to pass pedestrians in single file.

It also prohibits riding on benches, tables, planters, walls or "other device or structure . . . not intended for pedestrian vehicle traffic."

Under the ordinance, the police chief would be authorized to post signs prohibiting skating on particular sidewalks. Vernon noted that a similar provision in the bicycle ordinance has never resulted in a signposting.

Also prohibited by the proposed ordinance would be skating on private property without the written permission of the property owner.

Penalties for violation of the ordinance, for those who choose to plead guilty, will be established within the city's minor violations bureau schedule. This typically calls for $10 or $25 fines for first offenses, with the amount rising on repeat offenses.

Judges of the 35th District Court would determine the penalty for violations when the accused contests the charge.

While the ordinance would carry no penalty clause of its own, City Manager Steven Walters noted it would be covered by a "default provision" in the city code of ordinances that establishes a maximum penalty for any code violation of a $500 fine, 90 days imprisonment, or both.

He stressed that the penalty clause provides a maximum as a guideline for the court and that the judge rendering a verdict in such a case would likely impose the maximum penalty only in the case of flagrant and repeated violations of the law.

Livonia firm wins sewer bidding

Construction bids for the city's West Eight Mile Road water and sewer project came in "far below projections," keeping the amount to be raised by sale of municipal bonds to $1.48 million.

Bond payments will be made through special assessment against benefiting properties, under a distribution format to be reviewed in public hearing May 5.

Extension of water and sewer systems westward from Lexington Commons to Taft Road, including two planned subdivisions (Abbey Knoll and Pheasant Ridge) and the northernmost portion of Northville Estates, will be done by Rainbow Construction of Livonia.

Rainbow was the lowest bidder among nine submitting proposals April 15, city manager Steven Walters told council Monday night. The firm's bid of $1.14 million, plus a 30 percent allowance for easement acquisitions, engineering costs and contingencies, yields the $1.48 million figure for bonding.

Should the City of Novi decide to participate by paying for a transmission line, that amount could be reduced by another $54,000, Walters said.

The total means Northville Estates homeowners who participate in the special assessment district will pay $4,864 for sewers and $4,000 for water service. Per lot costs allocated to Abbey Knoll and Pheasant Ridge, both in the planning stages, are not to be levied as special assessments but included in the costs of buying homes in the subdivisions.

Pheasant Ridge systems do not include lateral lines into all streets, which are to be built by the developer independent of the city's installation of sewer mains along the routes of the development's major streets.

Abbey Knoll systems are complete, with all lateral lines.

Costs for the new subdivisions are somewhat lower than those for the Lions Club kicks off annual drive

Lions Club members will be soliciting donations during White Cane Week with the annual drive being conducted this Friday and Saturday on street corners and at shopping centers in Northville.

The Lions Club of Plymouth, which has been serving many social needs in the Northville community for the past five years since the Northville Lions Club was disbanded, is conducting the sale.

The Plymouth Lions have provided such items as glasses for needy Northville school children and large-print books for the library.

About 60 club members under the chairmanship of Jim White will be soliciting in Northville and Plymouth in accordance with an official proclamation from Gov. James Blanchard.

All donations will be used to continue the Lions Club projects:

- Leader Dog for the Blind.
- White canes and braille watches for the blind.
- Michigan eye bank research center building fund.
- Glasses, eye examinations, hearing aids and hearing examinations for any needy child or adult in the Plymouth/Northville community. More than $2,000 is spent annually for children's glasses.
- Penrickton Center for Blind and Deaf Children.
- Welcome home apartments for the blind.
- Drug awareness programs in community schools.

This year, as in past years, the Lions Club reports it is collecting used eye glasses and hearing aids in any condition which may be given to any Lions Club member. The glasses and hearing aids are repaired and forwarded to needy people all over the world.

Donations may be sent to Plymouth Lions Club, White Cane Week, Box 159, Plymouth, 48170.

Rotary winners

Three Northville residents were winners in the Northville Rotary Club Community Calendar Lottery for the week of April 15. Northville Downs recording secretary Margaret Zayti, Mark Van Ingen and Beverly McKenzie were winners of $25 each.

Other $25 winners were Barbara Robertson of Canton, Stephen W. Mayhew of Detroit, Naomi Jones of Flint and Martin Flavin of Livonia.

NEWS BRIEFS

SIXTEEN-YEAR-OLDS, ALERT! — Registration for this summer's driver education program began Monday. Applications are available at the Northville High School office and must be returned no later than May 9 if you want to enroll in the June 16 to August 8 classes. Those of us who already have licenses will keep our eyes open for driver-training cars during that period, won't we?

NEW STUDENT REGISTRATION — Meads Mill Middle School and Northville High School currently are registering new students for the 1986-87 school year. Early registration and course selection will provide new students with the same opportunity in the registration process as current students. If parents are planning to enroll students in either Meads Mill or Northville High School, they should call 344-8435 at Meads Mill or 344-8420 at the high school.

NORTHVILLE CELEBRATES its favorite holiday July 4, and Jaycee representative Bob Cummings got all the requisite city approvals for the big bash from council April 7, including parade routing, police assistance and "up to $2,000" to help pay the cost of fireworks and parade features.

Cummings noted that last year's Fourth celebrations sent Jaycees about $1,200 into the red ink — partially because ongoing construction at the high school cut into the parking space concessions. Parade chairman Kevin Hartshorne asked for $1,800 from the city, but council member Paul Folino bumped the figure up to $2,000 because that's the amount in the city budget.

One hang-up: the city will only match the amount donated by the township, which in recent years has become increasingly reluctant to foot the bill for an event treasurer Richard Henningsen believes should be supported by private contributions. The funding request went before the township board Thursday April 10, and only $1,500 was allocated by the trustees. Henningsen was the only one to vote against it.

CITY GARAGE SALE SPACES are going fast. Chamber Prexy Scott Lapham reports that 70 of the 200 available were sold at $25 a space the first two days they went on sale last week. The sale under sponsorship of the chamber will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. May 17 on Main and Center streets.

Anyone with unused items, crafts, etc. to sell should sign up at Lapham's, 120 E. Main. Reservation also may be made by mail with check included.

REGISTER NOW for spring classes at Schoolcraft College. Prospective students should call today to make a registration appointment. Registration by appointment is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. April 29, 30 and May 1 in the Registration Center on the main campus at 18600 Haggerty Road. Walk-in registration for Continuing Education/Community Services programs at Schoolcraft will be held from 1-7 p.m. Monday, April 28. For further information, call 591-6400, extension 409 or 410.

"I THOUGHT I WAS DEAD" — So said township trustee Thomas L.P. Cook during the board's April 10 meeting, explaining to police chief Kenneth Hardesty that a truck hauling garbage had very nearly rear-ended Cook's car on westbound Six Mile while he and water department chief Walter Holinoty were en route to an inspection tour of the department's new building on Beck. Cook asked Hardesty to beef up speed enforcement in the area, with particular concern about trucks hauling trash to the dump in Salem Township.

Schools honor staff, volunteers at PTA banquet

Founders of the nation's PTA were not the only ones honored at the Sixth Annual Founders Day Banquet last Thursday evening.

The PTA/PTSA Coordinating Council, in cooperation with the district's schools, paid tribute to 14 members of the school community at the annual event.

Dr. Zacharie Clements, a professor of education at the University of Vermont, was guest speaker (see related story).

Among those receiving Distinguished Service Awards were:

DISTRICT HONORED GUESTS

□ PAUL DAWSON: Among the district's most active senior citizens, Dawson was honored for his unselfish commitment to Northville Public Schools. He has been involved on several school committees including Title IX, Citizens Advisory, Board of Canvassers, Demographics and Millage. He also is involved in "Pre-Retirement Planning" through Schoolcraft College's Department of Education. He and his wife, Margaret, have two daughters, both graduates of Northville schools.

□ JOHN BEEMER: John Beemer has been employed with the Department of Natural Resources for 23 years and currently is Supervisor of Maybury State Park. Through his management of the park, the reality of farm life has been brought to students, teachers and parents. His firm commitment to conservation encourages others to care about animals, plants and land. John Beemer, his wife Norma, and their three children reside on the grounds of Maybury State Park. All three children attend Northville schools.

AMERMAN

□ ELLYN PETERS: The library at Amerman reflects the warmth and creativeness of Ellyn Peters. Through storytelling, book fairs, a Publishing Center, holiday specials and the like, she has consistently reinforced the ideas that the library is a fundamental part of learning. Ellyn Peters and her husband have three children. She is actively involved in their schools and works with the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

□ TOM PALLAS: A firm advocate of physical fitness, Tom Pallas has taught students through his Movement Education classes that a healthy body stimulates a healthy mind. His participation in the Iron Man competition, the Free Press Marathon (four times), bike trips across the United States and Canada and cross-country skiing at Maybury is proof that he practices what he teaches. He and his wife, Linda, currently are building a house in Northville.

SILVER SPRINGS

□ EILEEN DOUGLAS: Organization, efficiency and kindness are attributes used to describe Eileen Douglas, secretary of Silver Springs School. A secretary with the district since 1977, her methods of operating the office have been complimented by staff, parents and students throughout the years. She and her husband, Mike, have two grown children.

□ MARY JOANN COYNE: Unassuming and thoughtful are traits which have earned Mary Joann Coyne respect from both teachers and students at Silver Springs. Working in the library for the last six years on a voluntary basis, she has been helping children feel comfortable with her favorite pastime—reading. Whether checking out books, working at the Book Fair or helping in the Publishing Center, her quiet manner has enabled students to appreciate and use this important facility. She lives in Northville with her husband and children.

WINCHESTER

□ DEBBIE GESDORF: A natural flair for making people feel appreciated and needed has given Debbie Gesdorf the ability to accomplish many goals. Her sense of humor and warm, friendly nature make meetings and functions an enjoyable experience at Winchester. Since moving to Northville in 1980, she has participated in many PTSA functions. She and her husband have two children.

□ PAT KUXHAUS: Whether taking photographs and writing for the school newspaper "The Razzler," or working at the Fun Fair, fourth grade teacher Pat Kuxhaus has children's needs and interests at heart. Living in the Northville area, she enjoys cross-country skiing at Maybury and collecting anything to do with Queen Anne's lace. She also enjoys needlework and loves to travel. Her activities and extra-curricular interests at school brings to her classroom an atmosphere conducive to learning and enriching the students she teaches.

MEADS MILL

TOM CEY: Disciplinarian, advocate, organizer and administrator are some of the roles Tom Cey must perform each day as he walks the halls of Meads Mill. Chairperson of the Transition Committee, he is working to develop Meads Mill into a middle school known for its academic achievement, and, more importantly, its well-adjusted, motivated students. He and his wife have three children. Cey currently is working on his doctorate in school administration and instructional technology at Wayne State University.

GARY GANDOLFI: Tapping out a rhythm at 7:15 a.m. for the Jazz Band at Meads Mill is above and beyond the class schedule. Taking students to a competition on Saturday is dedication. Yet, Gary Gandolfi makes such commitments to develop a highly motivated, solid band program. His consistent motivation has developed pride, talent and self-esteem in students at Meads Mill who are at such an important development state. He is married and has one son. Gandolfi is Director of Operations for the Meadowbrook Music Festival and is a member of the Michigan Band and Orchestra Association.

NORTHVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

CAROL RAHIMI: With boundless energy, Carol Rahimi has assisted many children in the district through her involvement with Girl Scouts, cheerleading, yearbook, music and athletic boosters. Her ideas and moral support have set an example for students. During her association with the Northville PTSA since 1980, she has served in many positions. She is married and has four children who attend Northville schools.

ARNOLD ANDERSON: Affectionately known as "Andy," Arnold Anderson has retired after 26 at Northville High School. Easy-going and mild-mannered, he encouraged students in the industrial arts program for nearly three decades. Beginning the drafting program at Northville High School was an achievement, but keeping it a vital part of the high school curriculum took dedication and stamina. Anderson has four children, all adults now. Though he has retired from Northville High School, his programs will continue to prepare students for their futures.

SPECIAL EDUCATION

GLORIA OLLAR: Gloria Ollar has consistently been able to meet the demands of her Bryant classroom situation with the students' needs as her motivation. She has worked in the Northville Public Schools for eight years. Her adaptability is evident in the progress her students have made. This dedication also has extended to her work on professional committees and extra-curricular activities. She is married and the mother of three children.

JANICE BAND: Old Village School recognized Janice Band for her consistent and attentive ways of caring for the physical and emotional needs of her students. As a valued member of an important team, Janice Band has the ability to perceive and interpret responses from her students which would generally go unnoticed. She has taught in the Northville Public Schools for 10 years. She has been married 19 years.

Clements gives teachers pep talk

By JEAN DAY

"When you talk about how people sometimes don't respect your profession, I say, how can others when you don't respect each other?"

The question was posed by Dr. Zacharie J. Clements to Northville teachers last Thursday afternoon in a staff development program at Northville High School.

"You know the lowest of the low is the primary teacher, and even at the high school there's a pecking order — chemistry or physics teachers are tops. Next below are language and literature and higher mathematics teachers."

At the bottom of the scale, he said, are social studies, home ec and woodshop teachers — the latter sometimes are regarded by other teachers as "almost custodians."

His observation was designed to illustrate the former educator's thesis that "effective schools are possible only through a total employee team effort."

A sought-after speaker who has tremendous rapport with his audiences, Clements also spoke to parents and educators Thursday evening at the annual PTA Founders' Day banquet. He has appeared on programs with former President Gerald Ford, Dan Rather, Alex Haley and Norman Vincent Peale.

Clements, who taught grades 6 through university level, including English, history, biology, reading,

"If more citizens were home doing an effective job of parenting, schools would be better places overnight."

— Zacharie J. Clements and who coached football and wrestling before becoming a lecturer, left no doubt that he was on the teachers' side.

He told Northville teachers and administrators, "sometimes we're our own worst enemies" by not realizing teachers are "the backbone of this (American) culture."

"I find it interesting that we're a nation at risk — we don't have to take a back seat to any country," he declared.

In response to adults who say, "in my day" in reference to education, the speaker continued, "I say the reason the child jumped when the teacher spoke was the home he was raised in."

"You'd better sit down or I might have to call your parents," he said, was a threat his teachers could make.

"If more citizens were home doing an effective job of parenting, schools would be better places overnight," he continued.

Clements mimicked teachers, parents and kids during the lively almost two-hour presentation in which his observations were liberally spiced with humor.

Mimicking the mother who calls to ask what happened to her Johnny's mittens, a good answer for the teacher, he advised lightly, "tell her you ate 'em."

Noting that in a Vermont community, with a $12,000 budget the speech program was cut, Clements mimicked how he had lapsed at the meeting, "How can you cut speech teachers?"

Saying that arts, special education, reading and breakfast programs are vulnerable to cuts, he asked, "Why do we have to cut in a society that has diet dog food?"

Noting that historically teachers got the summers off because the country's background was farming and young people were needed, Clements said today it is the teachers who need to be away from their classrooms.

"Did you ever have to go home with a pregnant girl to tell her parents with her?"

"Did you have to ask the listless, troubled youngster what was wrong and hear him reply, 'I'm having

Church women unite

May Fellowship Day set

May Fellowship Day, an ecumenical worship sponsored by Church Women United on the first Friday in May annually, will be held at 10 a.m. May 2 in the sanctuary of First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

All women from the three participating communities of Northville, Novi and South Lyon are invited to attend, Sybil Kerr, of the Northville church, reports.

The worship service written by native Hawaiian women will be performed by women of the First Presbyterian Church.

A fellowship mixer is planned at 11 a.m. to help women from the different churches become better acquainted. A potluck salad luncheon is to follow. Participants are asked to bring a salad to pass and their table service.

The 1986 service is entitled, "Let Us Speak and Pray Together, Sisters." It reveals the pain suffered by the indigenous Hawaiian people whose land, gods, culture, spirituality, language and dignity were desecrated by early Christians, program planners explain. Through this service, they challenge Christian sisters to join in the struggle for justice and human rights — ecumenical, political and spiritual.

May Fellowship Day first was observed by the National Council of Federated Church Women as a dedication day in May, 1933. It took its present name in 1945 and became the third ecumenical celebration to be sponsored annually by Church Women United.

Other events are World Community Day, the first Friday in November, and World Day of Prayer, the first Friday in March.

Church Women United has a 45-year history of addressing the causes of social injustice in striving to accomplish its goal of empowerment for women, human rights and creating peace with justice.

As a national movement, it is the catalyst that brings together Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox women into one Christian community of prayer, advocacy and service. Church Women United operates in 52 state units, including Washington, D.C., and Puerto Rico, and in 1,800 local units across the country.

Kindergarten round-up slated

Plans for the 1986-87 kindergarten orientation programs to be conducted this spring for children who will be five years old on or before December 1, have been finalized by the Northville Public Schools.

Again this year, the orientations will take place at the school in which the kindergartners will be attending in September. Each school will be conducting its orientation on the following dates:

- Amerman — April 29 and 30
- Silver Springs — May 6 and 8
- Winchester — May 1 and 5

Orientation procedures include a wide range of activities and experiences for children and their parents. Valuable insights are gained by staff and parents concerning the development and readiness of individual kindergartners.

Activities for students include observation during a typical kindergarten classroom experience, speech and language surveys, observation of fine and gross motor skill development as well as general school aptitude assessment.

Parents will be with the kindergarten teacher and principal of their individual building. Parents will be asked to complete a questionnaire covering medical history information, previous nursery, day care, etc., special interests of their son or daughter and other pertinent information.

If parents have not yet registered their incoming kindergartner, they are encouraged to do so as soon as possible. Schools will be mailing letters to those who have pre-registered, notifying them of the specific schedule and date they are to attend orientation. Those who have not received a letter should contact their schools so that they may be included in the sessions. Questions may be directed to the elementary schools or to the Office of Instruction, Northville Public Schools, 344-8442.

Montessori seminar set April 30

Northville Montessori Center, 15709 Haggerty Rd., will present a seminar on the Montessori elementary program from 7-9 p.m. Wednesday, April 30, at the school.

The seminar, which is open to the public, will be presented by Lynn Gall, elementary directress.

Gall has six years of experience in the Montessori elementary classroom, has both preschool and elementary Montessori training, serves as a consultant for the Institute for Advanced Montessori Studies in Silver Spring, Md., and for Aereo Montessori Training Center in Philadelphia, Pa. She has served as president of the Michigan Montessori Society for the past three years.

The elementary school is a natural continuation of the philosophy, materials and methods found in the preschool classes.

The six-year-old student begins to move away from the need for concrete materials and develops an ability to conceptualize abstractly. Gall explains. Learning materials available in the elementary classroom take on multiple and more sophisticated uses.

The curriculum includes language, mathematics, geography, history, social studies, botany, zoology, physical science, French, music, art and physical education.

chemotherapy?"

"Did you ever have two students who lost control of a car on a curve?"

"If so," Clements said softly, "then you'd better get away to paddle a canoe and let the grass grow for a while."

Clements, who came from a poor Italian family and worked as a laborer, cook, and truck driver, warned his audience of teachers, however, "Before you can look to the public for a vote of confidence as leaders and builders of tomorrow's mankind, you have to look at yourselves."

"We're in the only business in the world where you can be a curmudgeon — now, would you go to a shoe store if the clerk demanded, 'What do you want, shoes?'" he asked.

Saying, "we're talking about people," Clements quoted: "You go by his room and the kids are always laughing."

And, "Three years to go and I can't wait to get out."

Of the latter remark, he said, "I know about that — that's why I'm a speaker now, but you're going to miss it — mark my words, you will."

He told the audience that teachers are held in low esteem, one, because of tradition, but, two, because "you bring it upon yourself — after two years you begin to act like children."

He mimicked teachers' gripes —

"What gets to me is the ditto machine," "I can't get the movie I want," or "They're moving my room."

The Clements' cure, he advised, is to stop by a hospital to see someone who has just had open heart surgery. "It will put you back into reality," he promised.

"It is not my intent to mess with your emotions," he told his audience seriously as he told of his Italian granddad "who did not have a sixth grade education and had $1.19 the day he died."

"But he would tell me, 'we have everything we need.' He knew what I was thinking but he was right. We had life."

"Thank God, and don't you forget that."

'Fascinatin' Rhythm'

Symphony hosts pops concert

"Fascinatin' Rhythms" is the title for the annual Pops Concert of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra to be presented at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, May 3, at the Canton High School cafeteria.

In a cabaret-type setting, the orchestra will perform popular numbers while listeners can enjoy refreshments.

Conductor Charles Greenwell has programmed selections from My Fair Lady, The Desert Song, Carousel, Porgy and Bess as well as such favorites as Blue Tango, The Syncopated Clock, Funeral March of the Marionette and Emperor Waltz.

Performing with the orchestra will be guest soloist, tenor Bob Angus. His list of credits includes solo performances with The Chicago Lyric Opera, Piccolo Opera Company, Michigan Opera Theatre, Detroit Symphony, St. Clair Shores Symphony and the Detroit Women's Symphony.

He has appeared on television with Donald O'Connor, Dick Haynes, Milton Berle and Johnny Desmond. Angus performed in the White House for Gerald Ford and in the governor's mansion in Lansing for William Milliken.

The program will include a special appearance by Wayne Dunlap, former conductor of the Plymouth Symphony from 1951-79, who now is retired and living in Denton, Texas.

He gave nearly 200 concerts during his conductorship here.

Paul Burnett, assistant conductor, will lead the orchestra in Two Slavonic Dances Op. 46 by Dvorak.

Tickets for the popular concert may be purchased at Sacks of Forest Ave., Plymouth, or by sending a stamped self-addressed envelope with check payable to the Plymouth Symphony League to PSL, 45287 Woodleigh Way, Plymouth, 48170.

Reserved seats are $8 for adults, $6 for senior citizens and students (K-12). Doors will open at 7 p.m. the evening of the concert.

The Staccato group of the Plymouth Symphony League is arranging the concert with proceeds to go to support the orchestra.

Schoolcraft slates annual bee school

Southeastern Michigan's 48th annual bee school will be held Saturday at Schoolcraft College. Registration begins at 8:30 a.m.; the school starts at 9 a.m.

The day-long bee school, presented by the Southeastern Beekeepers Association in cooperation with the college, is designed for beekeepers with one or two colonies, for individuals who are planning to acquire their first hive, and for the professional apiarist.

Seven different programs have been scheduled during the day. They include an update of bee therapy for arthritis, a newly released movie, "Secrets of the Bee World," swarm control, raising honeybee queens, candle making, extracting the honey and a panel discussion by beekeeping experts.

Also scheduled are demonstrations on new beekeeping equipment, a variety of beekeeping techniques and a special session on "Your First Year with Bees."

This year, the Michigan Honey Queen and Honey Princess will attend the program. The day includes a picnic-style potluck lunch, movies and prizes.

Schoolcraft biology professor Roger Sutherland may be contacted for more information at 591-6400, ext. 521.

Northville Public Schools has joined other districts throughout Michigan in filing a claim against the state for underfunding mandated educational programs.

The board of education approved a resolution last week authorizing the legal firm of Thrun, Mattsch and Nordberg to file a claim for the school district with the local government claims review board.

The issue was brought to the forefront in February when the Michigan Supreme Court ruled in favor of the Durand and Waterford school districts which claimed the Headlee Amendment prohibits a reduction in funding for mandated programs (most notably special education) from the 1978-79 levels.

"In reviewing the funding levels of the State of Michigan since 1978, we believe that the State of Michigan has 'The pot is only so large. They'll have to have a lot more lotteries to pay for that.'

— George Bell
School superintendent

underfunded special education programs and services in possibly all schools in Michigan," the Lansing-based legal firm stated in a letter to the local district. It was further noted that the underfunding was in violation of Article 9, Section 29 of the Michigan Constitution (the section was among those added to the Constitution at the November 7, 1978, election under the "Headlee Amendments").

"I'm not sure how much money it entails," School Superintendent George Bell told the board last week. "It could be a substantial amount."

John Street, director of business and finance, noted that in 1978-79, the state contributed 44 percent to special education programs compared to its current 16 percent level.

"If they should find the plaintiff's successful, it will involve a lot of money," he noted.

Leonard Rezmierski, executive director of special education, noted that the district "came close to utilizing local funds (for its Institute Special Education Program) due to state cutbacks.

"The program prohibits the use of local dollars," he added.

While the school district is uncertain how much money is at stake, there is concern that should the state be required to reimburse school districts since the 1978-79 school year, there will be substantial cuts somewhere else.

"The pot is only so large," Bell observed. "They'll have to have a lot more lotteries to pay for that."

Trustee Karen Wilkinson reiterated Bell's remarks and noted that "getting it out of the same pot may not be the answer."

"We may need a bigger pot."

Hey sister, can you spare

Getting through thirteen can be pretty tricky. The ups and downs. The discovery of boys. The emotional and physical changes of a child on her way to womanhood. The last thing she needs is a broken bike. A good mechanic would help. A good friend — even better. One woman, one girl, a few hours a week might just change the child's life. How about it, sister? Can you spare a little time?

Auction proceeds to benefit projects at Mill Race

An art deco mirror sold for $10, a cast iron mail box for $3 and a Hoover vacuum for $15 — all for a good cause.

More than $570 was realized at the annual auction of Northville Historical Society last Thursday night at Mill Race Historical Village. The proceeds will be used for projects in the village.

Auctioneer Jerry Duncan of South Lyon donated his time to sell between 90 and 100 items, all donated by society members and friends.

"Now, here's something everybody ought to have," Duncan commented after discovering that the three bottles he was holding high were old-fashioned specimen bottles.

"You can say, 'look what I got at the Northville Historical Society auction,'" he said, cajoling the audience of about 30 members and friends of the society to bid.

The bottles, placed inside an old sewing machine drawer, finally sold for $9.

A large, faded tapestry went for $5, old door knobs for $8 and a pierced tin chandelier for a bargain price of $3. With competitive bidding, a Victorian bracket went for $10.50.

There was interest in three stained glass windows, which were knocked down for $25, $17.50 and $12.50.

Apparently there was only one post card collector in the audience. Duncan could only get $2 or $3 for groups of early post cards of the 1909, 1910 and 1911 vintage.

And three cast iron feet, probably from an old bathtub, received no takers at all.

However, an old hand wringer and washing tub stand brought $50.

"Give me a range," Duncan begged his audience as he tried to begin bidding on a large portrait, which sold early in the auction for $5. A small hardboard picture in a gold frame held more interest and went for $17.50. A pair of French prints, which the donor later said had been bought at a sale for $40, went for $15.

Treasurer Virginia Hayward said afterward the historical society was "very pleased" with the amount raised, which was higher than totals of the past two years.

"It was all profit," she added as the items were donated (representing a tax deduction for the giver) and successful bidders went home with "treasures."

The auction following the April meeting of the society was open to everyone interested. It replaced the auction formerly held on the Fourth of July in the Mill Race.

Hayward commented the historical society is hoping to attract more area residents at next year's event. She said she feels residents are not aware the auction is open to the public.

Metropark eyes funds for runs.

It may be spring, but the people at Kensington Metropark are already thinking about winter and have applied for state funds for refrigerated toboggan runs.

The Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority has filed an application for a $562,500 grant from the Michigan Natural Resources Trust Fund that would cover 75 percent of the estimated $750,000 cost of the project, according to Daniel Duncan, chief planner for the HCMA.

The increasing cost of liability insurance was one of the reasons Duncan raised for the construction of the toboggan runs.

"The liability costs are escalating all over the state and all over the country," Duncan said.

The toboggan runs that have been used in the past at Kensington have a sod base and have been difficult to keep properly groomed, according to Duncan.

The proposed facility would be easier to maintain in good condition which would help lower the risk of injury to tobogganers, he stated.

Duncan said the refrigerated runs would protect the safety of users and protect the investment that local taxpayers have in the parks.

The HCMA currently receives ¼-mill in tax money from residents in five southeast Michigan counties.

The remaining $187,500 needed for the project would come from the millage funds, Duncan said.

Increased user time and lower maintenance costs were other benefits that Duncan noted.

Polish class, dance recital scheduled

The Polish Centennial Dancers of Plymouth, with more than 100 participants from the area, will be performing their sixth annual recital at Churchill High School in Livonia at 2 p.m. May 4.

A Krakowiak wedding ceremony will be featured as the dancers demonstrate their Polish heritage through lively polkas. The American portion of the program will salute the states.

The centennial dancers, sponsored by the Polish National Alliance Lodge No. 3240, are under the direction of Joanne Ygeal. Marty Pack, Angie Cislo and Gail Wilenius are teachers.

In July, 39 of the dancers will be going to Krakow and Rzeszow, Poland, to dance and learn more about their Polish heritage. Many fund raisers have been planned to help defray the expense of the trip.

Tickets for the recital may be purchased in advance from Joyce Zelek, 453-2388.

The 11th annual Polish American Heritage Workshop sponsored by the Orchard Lake Schools Center for Polish Studies and Culture will be held on the campus of the Orchard Lake Schools June 26 to July 12.

The workshop offers intensive instruction in the Polish language as well as a lecture series and a wide range of other activities. It will include a weekend program in folklore and crafts conducted by the Rev. Chester Krysa. A two-day seminar on the Polish American Parish will have the Rev. Eugene Hemrick of the National Conference of Catholic Bishops as principal speaker.

Dr. Frank R. Renkiewicz, Orchard Lake Schools, Orchard Lake, 48033, may be contacted for more information.

He explains that the aim of the workshop is to integrate the thousand-year-old Polish culture with the newer ethnic Polish experience in the United States. It is designed for teachers, human service professionals, students seeking academic credit and Polish Americans attempting to define their ethnic identity.

Pregnancy Test Kits

"The rabbit died" was once a phrase synonymous with "she is pregnant." This terminology originated with the use of live rabbits (as well as mice, rats, and frogs) in laboratories to determine human pregnancy.

Today things are much simpler—so simple that women can determine whether or not they are pregnant with convenient, easy-to-use home pregnancy test kits. The first home pregnancy test kit was introduced only a few years ago and was modeled after tests that had been used for years in physicians' offices and laboratories.

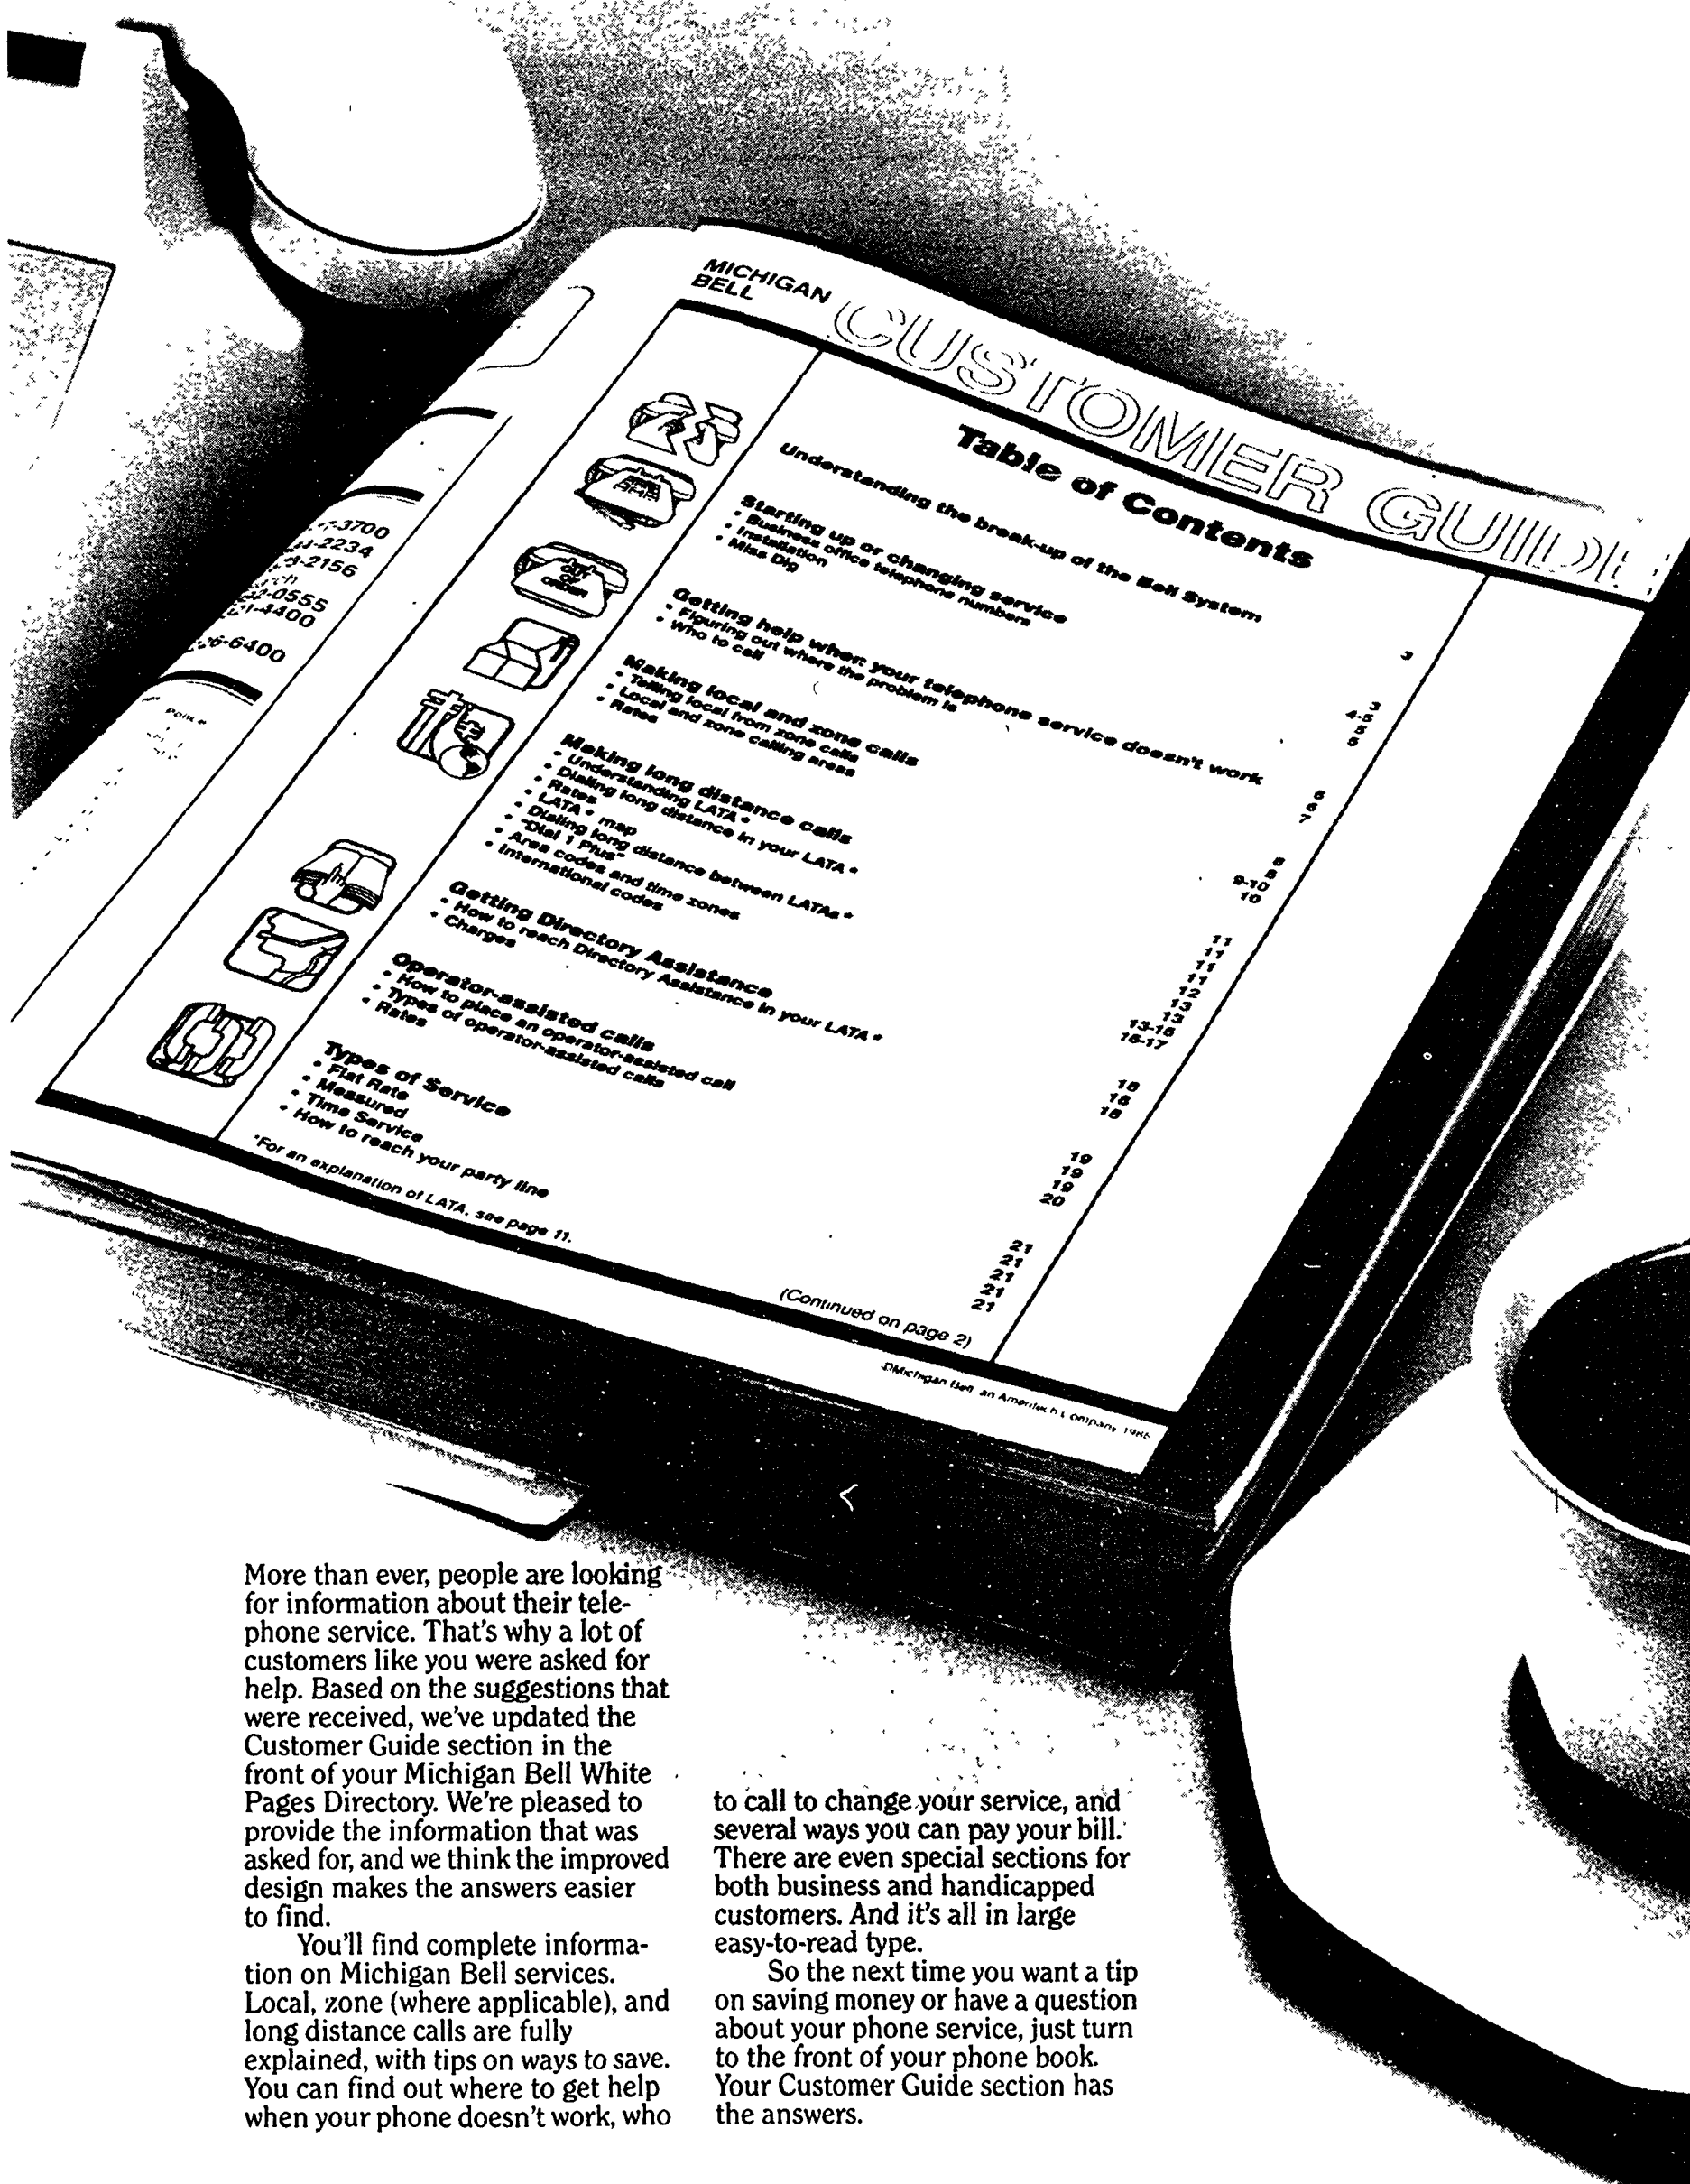

All currently available home test kits detect the presence of the hormone human chorionic gonadotropin (HCG) which appears in the blood and urine of pregnant women as early as seven days after conception. Urine is mixed with reagents and the presence or absence of a reaction is observed.

Pregnancy tests are accurate if used according to directions. False negative results can occur, however, if the test is performed too soon after conception or if directions are not precisely followed. Ask your pharmacist for additional information and about test kit selection.

The police report states that the incident happened between 10 p.m. on April 16 and 5:30 a.m. the next day in the parking lot of the Northville Green Apartment complex. The complainant stated that the vehicle was locked and the keys were in his possession.

A Plymouth woman reported to police that her daughter's 1980 Chevrolet Monte Carlo was stolen from the Northville High School parking lot on April 16 between 2-10:25 p.m.

Two days later the vehicle, valued at $4,000, was recovered at 16206 Lilac in Detroit and had sustained damage to the ignition, trunk and hood.

While driving northbound on Beck Road approaching Elmsmere on April 15 near noontime, a Pontiac woman reported that a man stopped his dark blue van at the intersection, and exited the van unclothed from the waist down.

The man, a white male between 25-30 years old with blond or medium brown hair, had his blue jeans pulled down around his ankles exposing himself.

The complainant phoned Northville Police and the area was immediately checked but to no avail.

...In the Township

A microwave oven, VCR and cash were reported stolen in a Sunday burglary of a Jamestown Circle residence, according to township police reports.

The 75-year-old owner of the apartment told police he left home at 9:30 a.m., locking the doors behind him. Upon returning at 11 a.m., he said, he found the front door unlocked and a side door standing open.

The $390 VCR was missing from the living room, the $300 microwave oven from the kitchen, and $50 cash from a dresser drawer in the bedroom, he told police.

Police found no visible damage or signs of forced entry, but noted that the side door lock was engaged, even though it was found standing open and no damage was evident on the door or frame.

There are no suspects in the case, which police continue to investigate.

existing lots in Northville Estates, partially because the sewer and water lines can be installed before anything else, reducing the cost of repairing the trenched earth, and partially because economies of scale spread the cost for the two new subdivisions over 234 lots while the Northville Estates portion is divided by 54 lots.

The Abbey Knoll cost per lot is $3,322 for sewer and $2,488 for water. Pheasant Ridge costs were not divided out on a per lot basis because the prices of houses will include the cost of lateral lines not included in the city project.

Other bidders on the project were L. D'Agostini & Sons of Sterling Heights ($1.34 million), Gianetti Construction, Inc. of Sterling Heights ($1.35 million), Jacobelli Construction of Auburn Heights ($1.65 million), E.T. MacKenzie Company of Grand Ledge ($1.25 million), Mago Construction Company of Mt. Clemens ($1.46 million), Richard Mancini Equipment of Sterling Heights ($1.77 million), P1-CON, Incorporated of Farmington ($1.54 million) and Waterville Construction of Farmington Hills ($1.49 million).

much of the existing topographical features and preserve as much of the natural habitat as possible.

"We have two objectives," Siegal told the audience. "The first is to preserve as much of the natural habitat as we can and the second is to create a pleasant place for residential lots. We think the two objectives are compatible."

The main focus of objection from the audience was handling of the proposed "green area" — which is now the Randolph Drain and adjacent wetlands. To meet DNR specifications, the developers agreed to reduce the size of the proposed main pond so the existing water course outlines but isn't connected with it.

"We recognize that there are certain criteria that must be met, and an off-line pond is definitely what they (the DNR) wanted," Siegal admitted. "We intend to clean that area up and make a pond. We want to create running water instead of the current stagnant water."

But several residents said they fear the green area will be bulldozed while workers dredge out the proposed pond areas thus completely disrupting and permanently damaging the natural environment.

"The green area will be a periphery area that will be a natural complement to the ponds," Siegal explained. "We certainly don't want to bulldoze everything down."

During the nearly 1½-hour public hearing, over continued questions and accusations from the residents, the members of the commission maintained their support for the plans.

"The open space and large lots planned are not required by the city ordinance, and the developers have gone beyond the requirements in many cases," Mittman pointed out.

"The commission's role in this is relatively limited," said consultant Ron Nino. "Our job is to assure that this development is in accordance with the existing ordinances. To go beyond that is to go beyond our legal authority."

"This plan meets the zoning ordinance requirements, and I think it is well drawn and is sensitive to the natural setting of the area. I don't have any problems with this plan."

If approved by the city council and the DNR, Siegal said construction of Phase I, including 63 lots, would begin sometime this summer.

"If it goes very rapidly, we'll move into Phase II soon after," Siegal predicted. "I'd say it could conclude within two years."

But the nearby residents weren't convinced. When Siegal announced that the name of the project will be changed from Ponds of Northville to Pheasant Ridge Subdivision, the crowd was skeptical.

"I think it is an unnecessary tragedy," said Laura Lorenzo, whose house backs up to the planned subdivision at the north end in Novi. "I find it very ironic that they are going to call it Pheasant Ridge — they are going to chase all the pheasants out."

READY FOR DEVELOPMENT — The last piece of land available for subdivision development in the city on the north side of Eight Mile west of Lexington Commons was cleared of its buildings, above, when Abbey Knoll and Ponds of Northville were approved just before the recession.

Effort made to save Wilcox House

The organizer of a group trying to save the historic Wilcox House in the city of Plymouth says community interest — not money — will determine whether the structure is demolished or relocated.

"My initial goal was to see it used as a center for cultural and arts organizations," said Cheryl Sznyszewski, 33, of Plymouth Township. "There is a good possibility for financial backing. What we need is an indication of community interest."

The house, built in 1901 and now owned by Jack Wilcox, is on Penman near Kellogg Park in downtown Plymouth. Wilcox plans to sell the house and surrounding five acres to a partnership which plans to build 44 condominium units there.

A closing date hasn't been set on the transfer.

Wilcox said he would consider donating the house for public use but doubts that things would fall into place before work begins.

"The major problem is finding a site it can be moved to within a reasonable distance," Wilcox said.

"If it could be moved to a site worthy of it and used for a purpose worthy of it, I would support it."

Friends of the Wilcox House are now circulating petitions asking for support from officials in neighboring communities to move, renovate and preserve the property.

"We do not feel this is just a city project. It would be beneficial to the entire Plymouth-Canton community," she said.

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education was not that encouraging when Sznyszewski requested its help last week in making land available for a relocation.

She told the school board that she hasn't formally approached boards and commissions in surrounding communities or the Plymouth Historical Society. "I've been contacting community leaders on an individual basis."

"Money is not a problem as long as we see there's sufficient interest," Sznyszewski said. "We will need a drive to raise funds, but volunteers are available for renovation. It can be viewed as an educational project."

Sznyszewski's dream is to use the Wilcox House as the headquarters for all arts-oriented organizations in the community.

"If you call Livonia, Southfield or Farmington, you can call one place and find out what's happening. You can't do that in Plymouth."

Both Sznyszewski and Wilcox maintain that the house is structurally sound and moveable.

Mary McDonald and Lisa Cipicchio at Schoolcraft

NHS seniors assist college

Northville High School students Mary McDonald and Lisa Cipicchio are earning community service credits at Schoolcraft College this semester in a volunteer program instituted at the high school.

They are learning about Schoolcraft while performing general office duties. The girls maintain work schedules, complete assigned tasks and, the college reports, "have an excellent attitude."

Mary is president of the Northville High Honor Society. This fall she plans to begin college studies in social work. After graduation in June she will be babysitting and working with her father at Wood Floors.

She also intends to find time for her hobbies of horseback riding, jazz dancing, attending movies and shopping.

This is Lisa's senior year at Northville High but also her first one there. Her family moved from Pennsylvania to Michigan last year.

She plans to become a physical therapist, entering college in the fall. Her first love is sports, and she has played volleyball and softball since she was 10.

She also works as a hostess at Northville's Little Caesar's. A vacation in California this summer is anticipated by the senior.

High school principal David Bolitho says he is very pleased with the experiences students are receiving in the community service program through which they volunteer their time and receive credit.

Dinner to raise funds for home preservation

A Celebrity Progressive Dinner beginning at Madonna College May 3 is a major fundraising event of the "Move the Blue House" committee of the Livonia Historical Society.

The large, Victorian Alexander Blue House is a landmark on the west side of Middlebelt Rd. north of the Jeffries expressway, Alice Gundersen, chairperson of the fundraising committee explains.

Several Livonia artists have donated paintings which will be raffled during the celebrity progressive dinner. Drawings will be during the dessert course. Featured artists whose works have been donated are Shirley Bishop, Laura Nash, Marie Tuthill, Jo Griffing, Lucille McNamara and Shirley Dodge. Dan Kachowski also has contributed photography.

The dinner will begin with hors d'oeuvres at Madonna. Soup, salad and main courses will be served in several private homes in Livonia. Dessert and the art event will cap the evening as participants return to Madonna.

Reservations are required for the dinner and may be made by calling 261-4106.

Developers may foot bill for roads

Developers — not general taxpayers — may be asked to foot some of the 10-year bill for the road improvements required by Oakland County's economic boom.

"We've got to approach developers in Michigan at a conference," said John L. Grubba, managing director of the Oakland County Road Commission.

Grubba wants to talk about New Jersey-style "cooperative development contracts" and "impact fees" to build roads, interchanges and bridges required to move workers and goods.

"They (business developers) know what the costs are going in. Then we hear, 'You people with the $40 million budgets, build us $100 million worth of roads.'"

"They've got the wrong level of government. We don't own the printing presses," said Grubba.

In a nutshell, Grubba's agency talked to officials from 58 local units of government and concluded that by 1996 county road needs will be $740 million, but revenue will fall $625 million short.

In a series of well-publicized meetings on January 20, the road commission suggested six alternative methods of raising the megamillions.

Among them were a voted two-mill property tax ($15 million per mill annually), a voted cent-a-gallon increase in the gasoline tax ($6 million annually), and a voted one-cent sales tax on automotive items ($12 million annually).

"The general reaction from the public is that they don't like the property tax. They're more inclined to support the gasoline tax or a user tax," said Grubba after meetings with mayors, township supervisors, chambers of commerce and civic groups.

Grubba attended a national conference on site development and transportation impacts in late March along with some city managers and traffic specialists.

There they bumped into the idea of asking industry to pay for infrastructure improvements caused by the second generation of suburban expansion.

"When I said we in Michigan are giving tax abatements (tax cuts to new industries), they said, 'You're crazy. We are getting impact fees.' This we hadn't heard in Michigan."

"I'm visualizing a conference in Oakland to discuss how we're going to address this," said Grubba.

The impact fee idea isn't totally new. Examples:

□ Most subdivision developers now are required to install streets, sewer and water lines.

□ Troy has required business developers to build flare lanes on roads leading to their buildings and is working on having developers pay for widening two lanes of Crooks Road.

□ U.S. military bases can't be taxed, but the federal government has made payments in lieu of taxes to school districts that have been impacted by the children of military personnel.

The lesson Grubba learned: "When the private sector realizes that a congested road system lowers productivity and morale, they're willing to make contributions."

He noted that in New Jersey's Somerset County, an arrangement was worked out whereby the cost of an I-78 interchange was apportioned by contract among developers.

One method of apportioning the cost of such projects is to calculate the number of work trips generated by a specific industry.

Grubba unveiled the impact fee idea in an interview in which he was asked a single question: "What has happened since your January news conference on county road needs and funding alternatives?"

In those presentations he said officials figured that 200,000 new jobs would come to Oakland County in the next decade, two-thirds of all 1985 office development in Michigan occurred in Oakland County, and there was $1 in existing revenue for every $6 of road needs.

Hard-hit corridors will be Northwestern Highway in West Bloomfield, Big Beaver Road in Troy, Woodward Avenue in several communities, Twelve Mile in Novi and Farmington Hills, and the I-75 freeway.

The big picture is that of a "second suburban migration," said Grubba, citing speaker Ken Orski, a former federal transportation official who is president of Urban Mobility, Inc.

"The first was to the suburbs after World War II. The new migration will be as significant or more — jobs and employment are coming. There is a new American city emerging."

The Northville Record

Our Opinions

Larger issues remain after license is issued

While word that Elizabeth's restaurant may be able to acquire the liquor license associated with the property at Main and Center is good news for one of Northville's premier attractions, there remains a strong argument for complete revision of Michigan's liquor control laws.

All that Elizabeth's and similar restaurants have asked for is the ability to serve wine or beer with meals without going to the expense and hassle of obtaining a license permitting full liquor service. A revision of the law to allow such beer and wine service routinely — under a streamlined program that would issue restricted licenses automatically if the applicants qualified by meeting a list of criteria — would greatly improve Michigan's liquor control system.

Our advocacy of such a sweeping alteration to the law, we know, is opposed by present license holders (who fail to draw a distinction between the corner pub and the full-service restaurant when defining "competition") and those who see tighter liquor controls as a necessity to combat the drunk driving problem.

We contend that restaurants meeting the criteria established by the rejected "Elizabeth's bill" last year do not compete with most of those presently licensed to serve liquor. We're not even certain competition would be a bad thing, though for the sake of argument we will accept the Michigan Licensed Beverage Association's contention that an overly competitive atmosphere would lead license-holders to skirt the law in order to make a sale.

Still, allowing restaurants that prepare and serve all food on-site, operate on a full-time basis and receive approval from the local government to serve wine, beer or both seems to us a legitimate means of de-regulating the industry in a way beneficial to consumers, restaurant owners and the economy. Only competing restaurants might be harmed, but those that already hold full-service liquor licenses would still retain an advantage, and the ability to sell-off their current licenses and reduce service to only beer and wine if they determined that cocktail sales did not justify the cost.

As for the drunk-driving problem, we agree that it is one demanding more attention than it gets. However, we suggest that allowing beer-and-wine service at selected restaurants would result in fewer drunks on our roads, not more. Since such a license is not available, restaurants such as Elizabeth's instead acquire full-service licenses that allow them to serve cocktails. Such licenses come at a financial cost so heavy that the new licensee is practically required to sell the harder liquor — even if that was not the original intent — simply to justify the capitalization cost.

Rational debate of public policy issues often takes a backseat to personalities, industry lobbying and ill-informed legislators in Lansing, however, as we all saw when a watered-down version of Senator Jack Faxon's bill to allow a small number of exceptions to the license quota was soundly defeated in the House. That left Elizabeth's with no alternative but to pursue a course similar to the approach now under way to obtain a full-service license. We wish the restaurant well. We also wish this issue had been put to rest months ago.

What's next, council? Pogo sticks? Stilts?

City council's revised direction on the skateboard/roller skates ordinance — regulating use rather than banning them from downtown — is a far better approach to the situation.

We wonder, however, if there is a legitimate need for such an ordinance. If, as the police chief reported Monday, the worst abuses of public sidewalks can be treated as violations of the disorderly conduct or disturbing the peace provisions of the city code, why is a specific law needed, aimed at skaters?

Skateboards were popular nearly 20 years ago, and a recent surge of interest has put them in the forefront again, but they are clearly more a fad item than are, say, bicycles. We'd remind council that it spent much time and effort not too long ago to regulate arcades, just before the arcade fad peaked and most went out of business. If it ever comes back, though, we have a whole set of laws just waiting to repel the threat. Meanwhile, the handful of video game machines left in town pay an annual license fee and that's about all that's left of the effort.

If the intent is to provide "direction" to the police department, a simple resolution of council asking the chief to enforce the nuisance laws against the few skaters responsible for any problems would seem to suffice. The only provision of the newly proposed ordinance that actually expands police authority authorizes the chief to post some sidewalks as "no skateboarding" zones. That might be handled within the traffic code, or otherwise without further cluttering the legal books.

We agree that pedestrians and drivers have rights that should be respected by skaters, and that violations of those rights should result in punishment of the offenders. But we've not seen any evidence that a skateboard law, per se, is any more necessary than individual laws regulating pedestrian hazards such as baby strollers, snow sleds or little red wagons.

Now, if we could only get the DNR's philosophy instituted elsewhere in state government, and in Wayne County and Detroit offices, we might get somewhere. Everyone else cut their PILOT programs when times got tough, if they ever had one. And let's keep one thing clear: we like the park and hope it stays for a long time.

NEWSPAPER TOPICS TIMES THREE:

TOPIC ONE: They announced the Pulitzer Prize winners last week and, once again, I wasn't on the list. I have an idea it's because I haven't been nominated.

Edna Buchanan of the Miami Herald won for general reporting. I'm proud to say I knew who she was — a startlingly astute police reporter — before the awards were announced. It wasn't by virtue of great connections within the business or anything, though. Someone just happened to see a story about her in The New Yorker and pass it along to me. I finished reading it at least two weeks before she hit it big — in other words, I'm qualified to claim to be an admirer from "the days before her Pulitzer."

You'll have to look up Calvin Trillin's piece on Buchanan if you expect to be hip on this topic — either that or wait for the Newsweek/Time/People/Us/Life crowd to overdo it and thereby render her unhip. Suffice it to say that she specializes in snappy leads (that's the first few paragraphs of a news story, for those somehow unacquainted with newspaper lingo) and "Ohmigosh Martha, did you read this?" stories. Mostly murders, mostly grisly, and mostly many, seeing as how she works a Miami that is both more mundane and more drug-infested than the one patrolled by that TV guy with the slicked-back hair and the fake Ferrari.

For a time, it seems, there were nearly as many murders in Miami as you might guess by watching television on a Friday night. Which might prompt sour-grapes types to complain that they could have won a Pulitzer too, if only Northville/Novi would suffer a serious cocaine-trade crime spree followed by an entertaining and informative write-up on the local police reporters by a nationally respected humorist/journalist. I'll whine like that, but only when I can point to just one lead under my byline that approaches the perfection of the handful cited in The New Yorker article — look it up, it's worth it.

TOPIC TWO: Since you asked, my opinion of the Detroit News and Free Press proposal to form a Joint Operating Agreement (JOA) is outrage. Two of America's largest newspaper publishing groups are proposing collusion in the country's sixth-largest city and it looks like the U.S. Justice Department is going to let them get away with it on grounds that one of the papers is "failing."

Failing is when you try to make money but can't. What those two have been up to for a decade or more has nothing to do with making money — they've been preying on each other. Assuming that only one paper can survive and determined to make sure theirs is the one, they've been overspending and underpricing in drastic attempts to kill the enemy. How they break out of that cycle, I don't know, but I do know someone ought to try running a profitable newspaper in Detroit before they go running off to the government seeking its blessing for a gross violation of the anti-trust statutes.

TOPIC THREE: The Supreme Court ruled Monday that the burden of proof in a libel case falls to the plaintiff. In plain English, that means if I call you a liar in print, and you sue me, you have to prove you're not a liar (and therefore I am one). Until Monday's 5-4 vote of the court, I had to prove you were a liar (and that I wasn't).

Of course, charging me with libel amounts to calling me a liar, so if you published that charge, I could sue you. But, lucky you, I'd have to prove . . . you get the drift. The point is, the right of a free press belongs not to the press, but to the people. And everyone is to be presumed innocent until proven guilty. Even those rascally reporters.

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

The salesman must have been drooling.

We had jogged out to Southfield to pick up a few things at the Total Runner. And after making our purchases decided to stop in at the American Exercise & Gym Equipment Company, a store that deals almost exclusively in weight-training equipment . . . bar bells, rowing machines, Nautilus machines, etc.

The store has a great selection, and it's hard not to want to try some of the more exotic-looking paraphernalia.

They had a big, ugly machine designed to work specifically on the abdominal muscles . . . something I need a great deal. The literature attached to it promised that five minutes a day on the machine would do more good for the old abdominals than several hundred sit-ups.

But what really caught my eye was a beautiful, seven-station, mini-Nautilus apparatus.

"This is great," I said after looking it over. I was particularly happy about a station called "the butterfly," which consisted of two big pads about shoulder level which you pull together in front of you with the forearms to work the biceps. It's the same exercise that Rachel McLish does on the Vic Tanny television commercials.

I tried it. My wife tried it. And we both agreed that we had a better understanding of why Rachel McLish looks as good as she does.

There were other stations, too. Sit-ups, bench presses, lateral pull-downs. Just a great piece of equipment.

"How much does it cost?" I asked the salesman.

"$3,400," he replied.

"It sure would be nice," I said, no doubt causing the salesman to begin perspiring in anticipation of a big sale. But then reason and the memories of a dust-gathering $250 rowing machine standing idle in the bathroom helped me regain control of my senses.

"I think I'll just take that exercise wheel and a pair of weight gloves," I said finally.

"Yes, sir," said the salesman. "That will be $21.95."

Old friend not forgotten

By Jean Day

My first "global concepts" as a young teen came in two ways: National Geographic and pen pals. I don't know if junior high students still exchange letters with students abroad, but it was widely done by my contemporaries. I corresponded with a Dutch girl in Zwolle who wrote of skating along the Zuider Zee and, for a short time just before World War II, with a Finnish girl.

But for several years I had an ongoing correspondence with an Indian student, Shakuntala Gupta of Agra, whose life in a girls' school was very different from mine. One reason the letters flowed was that she was fluent in English which she wrote in the most beautiful penmanship I had ever seen.

She wrote of how important it was to her to stand first in her class, of a "Basant Panchmi" festival in which "all those who celebrate wear yellow dresses and flowers... yellow food is cooked and yellow sweets are eaten." Her last letters in 1940 came "passed by censor." The war effectively terminated the friendship.

I hadn't thought of my Indian friend in many years until last fall when my daughter Robin announced she was going trekking in Nepal and then was continuing on to India because she had always wanted "to see the Taj Mahal." I knew why; I long had thought it a wonder of the world I'd like to see. I also remembered writing Shakuntala and learning of the Indian culture through her.

On impulse, I went to the box in the basement where the mementos of childhood through college were relegated. Yes, the cigar box with the pictures and letters was there. I wrote a note to the school my friend had attended, asking, if alumnae addresses were kept, that my note be forwarded to her.

Hearing nothing in the next few months, I assumed that she did not receive my letter. After all, 45 years is a long time. She might not even be alive, I thought.

Therefore, it was more than a little exciting last week to have a letter arrive from Agra. "My dear friend," wrote Shakuntala, "what a surprise was your letter... do write in detail all about yourself. I studied medicine. Now I am retired staying at home."

The letterhead indicated that she, in addition to being an M.D., was ex-professor and head of the Department of Physiology at S.N. Medical College in Agra. I'm not surprised. She added that she has a son and grandson but that her son was ill with a very high fever. She mentioned she had been to Europe, England and Australia.

She also sent a picture of herself in a sari. She's a beautiful woman. I'm replying, of course, hoping that her son is better. That I want to do. I also want to tell my friend of almost half a century ago what has happened in my life — that I have two daughters (but no grandchildren), that I majored in journalism and am a weekly newspaper editor and have traveled in continental Europe and Great Britain. But I don't think I'll send a picture until I finish the Mayo diet I'm starting.

Officers unfair to skateboarders

To the Editor:

I was skateboarding in the Town Square on Thursday, April 17. Some friends of mine were with me. We were minding our own business when out of nowhere comes officer Roger Rathburn.

He warned my associates and me that we were loitering. He informed us that this had nothing to do with the ordinance that the City Council agreed was unfair.

When asked where the boundaries of where we can and can't skate are, he replied, "I don't know." When he was asked what the penalty for a loitering violation is, he replied, "I don't know, probably court or something."

In my opinion, my associates and I were no more loitering than anyone walking or jogging uptown. I think that the Northville law enforcement agents should double check on what the true definition of loitering is, and think before harassing youngsters having fun and getting good exercise skating in the Town Square.

After all, we are citizens too even if we own a skate board. This is my point of view.

Sincerely,
Rich Walters

Civic Concern thanks city and supporters

To the Editor:

On behalf of the clients and members of the Civic Concern Committee, I would like to again express our sincere appreciation for the continued support of the citizens of our community. Without your year-round contributions, we would not be able to continue our emergency food and financial assistance to those among us who have need.

We would like to especially thank you for your overwhelming generosity during the past holidays. The people at Northville City Hall deserve our special mention for their courteous hospitality in allowing us to use a meeting room for periodic food distribution since last fall.

We are looking forward to a new food distribution location. As soon as arrangements can be finalized, we will let you know.

Again, thank you for your most essential support.

Tax hike proposed in City of Novi

Residents and other Novi taxpayers will get a chance on Monday, May 5 to state their views on the city administration's proposal to levy an additional .5543 millage rate (a .10 percent increase over last year) for its general fund for the 1986-87 fiscal year.

At a 7:30 p.m. hearing on that date, city officials will conduct a public hearing on a rate of 5.8969 mills, the highest property tax rate levied since 1979-80. A maximum of 6.5 mills is authorized by the city charter.

For a homeowner whose property has a state equalized value of $50,000 this year and last year, the general fund property tax increase would amount to an additional $27 per year ($50,000 times 0.00053).

In addition to the general fund millage, a 0.087-mill increase (two percent over last year) is requested for Parks and Recreation purposes. The proposed rate of 0.5000 is the maximum authorized for the department.

Following the public hearing on the millage increases, the city will conduct a hearing on proposed use of $92,538 in federal revenue sharing funds.

Salem plans clean up Saturday

For the second consecutive year, Sharon Bell is organizing a spring clean-up of the streets and yards in the hamlet of Salem.

Bell said the clean-up will take place from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. this Saturday, beginning at 8078 Frederick.

Once the final load of rubbish is dumped at around 3:45 p.m., she said, volunteers will be treated to complimentary pizza and beverages supplied by Anne's Pizza and The Store.

Bell noted that free dumping of the gathered trash will be permitted at the Holloway Landfill in Salem Township. Trash bags are being donated by the Salem Hills Golf Club, Bell added.

Anyone interested in helping may call Bell at 348-7312 or just come on Saturday ready to pick up trash.

State 'ombudsman' helps business

By JEAN DAY

It's okay to call Valerie Johnson an ombudsman because the assistant ombudsman in the office of the Michigan Business Ombudsman in Lansing considers the term nonexistent — "like human."

She's much more concerned about getting the message out that the office has been created by Gov. James Blanchard to cut through governmental red tape for business people with problems, especially owners of small businesses who don't have funds for lobbyists and lawyers.

Because the agency is partly under the supervision of the governor's office and partly under the Michigan Department of Commerce, she told the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce on Monday that it does have clout with other state agencies as well as access to the governor.

She pointed to the fact that in the two years of its existence the Ombudsman office has logged 2,000 calls on its toll-free 800 line. With a staff of seven plus four part-time college students who are studying law, the office operates under the direction of former legislator Dick Allen. Johnson is his assistant.

Allen is the second person to head the office, succeeding David Haynes, and is the only Republican appointee in the Blanchard administration. Johnson told the chamber that Allen was appointed because Blanchard realizes that business is Republican-oriented and wants the office to be bipartisan.

"Much of our work is negotiating," she told members, "between business and a state agency with the attitude of 'this is how you can do what you want to do' rather than one

"Much of our work is negotiating between business and a state agency with the attitude of 'this is how you can do what you want to do' rather than one of 'you can't do that.'"

— Valerie Johnson,
Assistant ombudsman of 'you can't do that.'"

Johnson said the aim is to do "what we need to do to improve the business climate."

As an example, she cited a complaint received on a requirement of the state treasury that to obtain a sales tax license home-based businesses had to post a $50 bond. An inquiry resulted in the information that this was being done to ensure that the state could collect the sales tax in event the business couldn't pay.

"We got rid of this (requirement) in a hurry," she related.

When a small ambulance company run by two relatives found the community it served was receiving a block grant through the Department of Public Health to train local fire fighters in emergency first aid and to purchase an ambulance that could put the company out of business, Johnson continued, the office investigated.

"We found no complaints about the service being provided by the private sector," she related. "We found the basis for the grant was to have fire fighters able to give on-the-scene emergency care until an ambulance could arrive. Then we worked it out that the grant was given to provide this training so that they could help the private service.

"That's the kind of negotiating we do," she said, adding that the incident also resulted in measures to provide that the private sector would not be put out of business by the state.

Johnson also related the experience of a community that had sold a parcel of land to the government for $1 and then wanted it back as there was a private business buyer for it. Because the Department of Natural Resources had a concern about the structure on the property and the community's ability to have it demolished, the situation was at a standstill, she related.

"So we held a brainstorming session in the office," Johnson said, "and one of the staff who had been inputting information about permits needed into the computer recalled putting in a $10 permit required for a fire drill."

The permit was obtained and the building demolished as a fire fighting drill, she concluded, eliminating the roadblock.

In another situation, Johnson related, a chamber of a city where a prison site was being selected called.

"They said they knew prisons were necessary and were not objecting to having one in the community but did object to the site the Department of Corrections had selected," Johnson reported.

The site, she said, was across from the community's industrial park. The community was given the opportunity to select a site more remote.

"Again it was a case of negotiating and dealing with a situation that would hurt, or was perceived as one to hurt," Johnson observed.

She confided that the need for prisons was one she could endorse from personal experience but did not say that her husband was a state trooper killed last year by a man (who had been convicted of second degree manslaughter) out in the early release program.

The mother of six, ranging in age from 7 to 19, Johnson formerly worked as an industrial agent for the Michigan Department of Commerce visiting Michigan industries on site in an effort to retain and expand jobs. She also had served as a business consultant and permit expert for the Small Business Development Division of the former Office of Economic Development, Michigan Department of Commerce.

She said Monday that the Ombudsman office primarily works with department heads in government in trying to problem solve and "put out brush fires."

For the person setting up business for the first time, the office can tell

Here's how to avoid an IRS tax audit

If the thought of an IRS audit strikes terror in your heart, now is the time to address those fears.

About one-third of the IRS' budget is directed at auditing returns, and the process has become more sophisticated in recent years. Because computers are being used more frequently to pinpoint problems on returns, fewer audits are performed than in the past. But the returns selected for audits are yielding larger amounts in unpaid taxes.

By taking some precautionary measures now, however, you can lessen the chances of having your return selected for an audit and be better equipped with a defense, according to the Michigan Association of CPAs.

□ Carelessness triggers some audits. People forget to attach necessary forms, make mathematical errors or don't sign their returns. These returns are automatically flagged for individual review by IRS staff. Anytime that happens, the likelihood of an audit increases.

□ Explain the unusual. By providing documentation on certain deductions, you may be able to avoid an IRS Discriminant Income Function System (DIF) audit. All returns are scored in the DIF system and the "most profitable to audit" are first to be flagged. Your return can be pulled for closer inspection.

For example, if you take a medical deduction that doesn't jibe with your income picture. At this stage, an examiner may determine if you should be audited. But you may be able to avoid an audit by providing clear documentation of this medical deduction — such as a copy of the hospital bill. You may even want to attach a brief explanation of an excessively high deduction, CPAs say, but don't crowd your return unnecessarily.

□ The IRS targets taxpayers. Some taxpayers get special attention in the IRS examination process. Here is a partial list of those who CPAs say receive special scrutiny: tax shelter investors, persons with tip income and those with self-employment income. These taxpayers need to be certain their returns are prepared meticulously and all of the necessary forms are attached. People with tip income, for instance, should be sure to report their income properly and have proper documentation to back up their returns.

□ Some taxpayers receive compliance audits. These audits are purely random, useful to the IRS for the data they develop on prevailing practices of taxpayers. If you are chosen for a Taxpayer Compliance Measurement Program (TCMP) audit, be prepared for an intense review that sometimes spans three sessions with an IRS examiner.

The statistical probability of being selected for a TCMP audit is small; once every three years, 55,000 of the 96 million individual returns filed annually are selected. It is, however, the most thorough kind of audit.

The IRS uses TCMP audits to find out what the average person's tax picture looks like. These findings are used to design the secret DIF formula, used to spot abuses.

□ How to defend yourself against an audit. Be prepared to prove deductions claimed. While the details of your 1985 return are still fresh in your mind, jot down some notes about the deductions and credits you have taken. Some of these details may be difficult to reconstruct if you are audited many months later.

Typically a year or more passes before the IRS notifies a taxpayer of an audit challenging a return. CPAs recommend you retain documentation of deductions and credits for at least three years after the due date of the return.

That's when the statute of limitations makes you safe from any assessments caused by error. Bear in mind, however, that the statute of limitations for failing to report more than 25 percent of your gross income is six years.

□ What does it mean? Without a doubt, IRS audit capabilities have expanded and taxpayers need to be able to meet new demands that could be placed on them in case of an audit. Nevertheless, taxpayers should not be intimidated and shortchange themselves. Although the computer-driven audits of 1985 are more effective, CPAs urged you to take all deductions to which you are legally entitled.

If called in for an audit, you can ask a CPA to accompany you or represent you at meetings with IRS examiners.

Ombudsman helps businesses to cut red tape what is required and give time frames. Johnson said her office now sends out all applications for new business requests and, therefore, can check to see what is happening to them.

"Under Governor Blanchard forms have been eliminated that would reach across the Mackinac Bridge and back," Johnson told the members and guests at the chamber's first in a series of luncheon meetings being planned by executive director Laurie Marrs. Johnson said eliminating unnecessary forms was one goal to cutting red tape.

"When we don't know an answer to a question, we get it," she promised.

After the luncheon program at Genetti's attended by 75, Johnson invited questions — and found she needed some more answers.

Questioned about what the state considers a "small business," Johnson said there was no specific number but felt that 99 percent of all businesses were in that category.

She also heard objections to the Single Business Tax that one member of the audience said upped his tax "four times when it replaced other taxes" and also noted that the tax "appears geared to large manufacturers."

Asked why "another bureau" was being created in Lansing, Johnson defended the Ombudsman office as being able to contact other agencies "when they're not talking to each other" and to get them to work together.

Help for small businesses, she concluded, is as close as the telephone. Just dial 1-800-232-2727.

CPA pamphlet offers hints on credit cards

A brochure offering 25 tips to help consumers decide which credit card is best for them, how to find hidden costs in "no-fee" credit cards and how to avoid card theft is now available from the Michigan Association of CPAs.

The brochure, "Choosing a Credit Card? These 25 Tips May Save You Money," is available at no charge by writing to the Michigan Association of CPAs at P.O. Box 9054; Farmington Hills, Michigan 48018.

The pamphlet is produced by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants in conjunction with the United States Office of Consumer Affairs.

The brochure offers advice on how to establish a credit history, where to write to get a list of banks offering bank cards with low or no annual fees and how to prevent credit theft. The brochure also explains the difference between credit, travel and debit cards and includes a glossary of credit card terms.

The pamphlet is being introduced during National Consumers Week (April 20-26). The week is proclaimed by President Ronald Reagan as a national observance of the role consumers play in the vitality of the American economy. The theme of this year's National Consumers Week, sponsored by the United States Office of Consumer Affairs, is "Consumers Rate Quality."

Local winners announced in Sliger/Livingston lotto

Betty Jane Conroy of Northville and Vivian Russell of Brighton are this week's winners of "The Lottery Contest," sponsored by Sliger/Livingston Publications and the Michigan State Lottery.

Both will receive 50 instant lottery tickets as their prizes.

The contest will continue for two more weeks. Three winners will be selected next week through a random drawing of entries. Each winner will receive 50 instant lottery tickets.

To play, complete the puzzle contest form appearing in a Green Sheet advertisement and send entries to Sliger/Livingston Publications.

A woman's place - it's in city hall

The fine, upstanding, traditional American families you see here all share one very untraditional trait: the woman easily identified as the wife and mother in each photograph is also a politician. It's not unusual anymore for a woman to work outside the home, but it is still rare that, when she gets to the office, she was elected to it.

But that's the case for Susan Heintz, Northville Township supervisor at left, gathered by the piano with daughter Julie, son Jimmy and husband Bob, who entered politics in the footsteps of her father, former Mt. Clemens Mayor Bert Vande Vusse. And for Novi Mayor Patricia Karevich, surrounded at right by sons Tim, Scot and Steve and husband Len, who left the family kitchen and walked into city hall and an ever-expanding political career, a decade ago. And for Novi Mayor Pro-Tem Martha Hoyer, outside the family home with her husband Ray and daughters Cathie and Kimberly above, who balanced bookkeeping with a political involvement that stretches far beyond the city borders.

Stories by Anita Crone and Michele M. Fecht

Women taking the lead in local politics

SUSAN HEINTZ

Susan Heintz has never been much of a homebody.

"There was a time when I didn't work," she recalled. "I quit my job (at the GM Tech Center in Warren) when I was four months pregnant (with daughter Julie), and I didn't work until Jimmy was six months old. It was the hardest job in the world," she said.

That is not to imply her current position is a snap. She is the Northville Township supervisor, an active member of Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments, a former township trustee and clerk and a candidate for county commission.

In between times, she is a wife, a mother and active in Republican party politics.

It doesn't give her much time to indulge in her other loves, cooking and spending time with her family.

"I love to cook. I make the best blueberry pies," Heintz says, not at all modestly. Modesty is not one of Heintz's traits. She usually takes aim at what she wants and goes after it. And she has earned the right to do so by paying her dues.

Heintz came by her political interests naturally, growing up in a political family. Her father was a mayor and it was to Susan he passed on the political banner.

"My brother wasn't very interested in politics," Heintz said. "I loved it."

In her own family, it is her 10-year-old son, James, who is the politically interested person. "He's my biggest supporter," Heintz says. "But really, my whole family is strongly behind me. I couldn't do it without them."

"Anybody, a man or a woman, in a position as the chief elected official of any area, or in a management position or a position of authority, has to strike a balance between their work and their home life. I've been able to strike that balance. They both come first," she admits.

But coming first doesn't mean Heintz ignores other activities. She is always on the go — to meetings — township, Rouge River Watershed Council, Southeast Michigan Transportation Authority, among others — to school events for Julie, including speech and forensic competitions, band, and the plus program and for James — soccer, basketball and band — for General Motors, where her husband is employed and for herself.

"The one thing I am really conscious about having to give up is time with my close friends," Heintz says. "Either Bob or I and sometimes both of us try to go to the kid's events, but I really don't have as much time as I would like to spend with my friends. They understand, but sometimes it's hard for me."

It's not as hard as it was in the early 1980s, when Heintz was a township trustee, a full-time student and a full-time mother, tending to her two children.

"A lot of people helped me, most notably Linda Tomica, our babysitter, and Carmen Coon, but I will never, never do that again," she says.

She doesn't have to. She graduated from the University of Michigan-Dearborn with a bachelor's degree in political science, but always with an eye towards serving in local government.

"I always took classes aimed at making me a better local official," she explains.

She says that she is not especially conscious of being a woman in politics. In fact, she was reluctant to be interviewed for this story.

"The acceptance of women in politics has been excellent. I don't feel like I've done anything special or you should call attention to me because I'm a woman," she says. "I'm just doing my job."

PATRICIA KAREVICH

When Patricia Karevich moved to Novi from Garden City in 1970, she said she made a conscious decision to take a more active role in her community.

"I remember thinking if I died tomorrow, I would not have made any impact. Except for my family, no one would have known I was alive," she said recently, only half in jest.

"I voted in presidential elections, but I really wasn't too informed about local issues," she said. "And I really needed to get out of the house."

Now, Karevich says, she needs to get into the house. After a 10-year stint on Novi City Council, Karevich is completing her first year as mayor.

"I knew what I was getting into when I ran for council," Karevich explained, "and I thought I knew what being a mayor would entail. What I didn't know was the extra work involved."

That extra work has cut into the time Karevich has been able to spend at home, doing the things she and her family like to do.

No longer is eating out at lunch a novelty; and Karevich says the entire family eats dinner out more often than she would like to. No longer is Karevich able to spend as much time as she had previously sewing her own clothes and no longer is she able to serve on as many committees as she has in the past. It's too early to tell whether there will be time left to can this year, but she knows it's unlikely she'll be able to plant a garden.

She makes it a point to get home as often as possible for meals and tries to keep Sunday open to spend with her husband, Len, and her three sons.

Having meals together as a family is becoming more difficult for the Karevich family. But that problem may have occurred anyway, even if the only woman in the family weren't Novi's top elected official.

Len started his own heating and cooling business three years ago, and the two oldest children, 21-year-old Tim and 18-year-old Scot, are students at Oakland Community College. Tim attends Orchard Ridge and Scot is enrolled at the Auburn Hills branch.

Only 15-year-old Steve, a ninth grader at Novi High School, attends school in the community, and he bears much of the burden of being the mayor's son.

"Just the other day we were talking about the letters I get," Karevich explained. "He knows they aren't aimed at me personally, but at me as the mayor. It really doesn't seem to bother him."

Nor does any member of the family seem bothered by Karevich's time spent away from the house. My family is used to my not being at home," explains Karevich. "And they know I am never home on Monday nights. That's why we try and set Sunday aside to do things together. It makes up for Mondays."

Even though Sunday is family day, Karevich says she really doesn't plan activities. "I'm a spur of the moment person, so we tend to do things on the spur of the moment" — things like riding bicycles, cross-country skiing or just sitting on the front porch and having coffee together.

Some things, however, can't be done at the last minute, like shopping. Karevich says she does the grocery shopping, but everyone pitches in to make meals and to clean house.

Karevich has had to limit some of her official activities as well. She says she now conducts weddings only one or two weekends each month and limits her outside activities to those which will directly promote Novi.

"I'm really going to have to get better about saying no," she explains. But she insists that "No" will not be directed at her family.

From neighborhood politics to SEMCOG

MARTHA HOYER

Martha Hoyer already was balancing a fulltime career as a bookkeeper and raising two daughters when she entered local politics in the early 1970s.

"When we bought our house in Novi, we'd only been there four or five months when we were invited to a meeting to form a neighborhood association," Hoyer reflects. "I ended up attending a steering committee meeting and they elected me their spokesperson."

Hoyer's neighbors in the Northern Novi Civic Association obviously knew what they were doing when they selected the soft-spoken bookkeeper to head their organization.

"I sat in the audience (at Novi City Council meetings) for two years," Hoyer notes. "One day I said to myself, 'I can do that.'"

And that she did. After a two-year appointment to the Novi Planning Board, Hoyer was elected to Novi City Council. Currently mayor pro-tem and one of the council's longest tenured members with a decade of experience under her belt, Hoyer has come a long way since her grassroots beginning as a neighborhood association president.

Add to that her seven years of involvement with the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) and her current post as chair of its Regional Development Committee.

Admitting that she devotes a minimum of 15 hours a week to council and SEMCOG, Hoyer says she has come to realize it "takes a very special mate" to support such commitments.

"My husband always has encouraged me," she says of Raymond Hoyer. "He realizes I need my own identity."

While she gives a lot of credit to women who stay home to raise their children, she says such an arrangement has never suited her.

"I've always told my girls that I'll do everything I can for them while they're young," she says. "However, once they're gone, I still have my life. I'm right back where I started."

"I'd hate to be a person who devoted my whole life to my children," she says. "It would be so devastating when the last one walked out the door."

Hoyer says she believes her attitude has had a positive influence on her daughters. Kimberly, a recent graduate of Madonna College, and Cathie, a senior at Walled Lake Western, have been among her most ardent supporters.

"My girls — particularly my older daughter — have seen that self-identity," she says. "Actually I think some of that comes from my mom. She made sure we led our own lives."

Hoyer was something of a maverick when she took the political plunge in the early 1970s.

"When Pat (Karevich) and I were first elected and Romaine (former Novi Mayor Romaine Roethel) was on the council, it was unheard of to have three women on a seven-member council," she relates. "I see the numbers of women (in politics) increasing."

Hoyer emphasizes the only way she can manage her many roles — from council member to wife and mother — is through the cooperation and support of her family.

"Each time there has been an election, I call a family conference," Hoyer notes. "I tell them if they can't support me, I won't run."

Support in the Hoyer household not only means campaigning door-to-door or escorting the mayor pro-tem to civic functions. There are household chores to be done, errands to be run and dinners to be prepared.

"I have a system," Hoyer says, noting that she tackles the household chores with the assistance of Kimberly and Cathie.

"I'm fortunate in that I can put two hotdogs in front on my husband and he'll say, 'Gee, this is great.'"

However, "the two girls learned to cook for self-preservation," she quips.

Docent volunteers invited to luncheon

By JEAN DAY

The call is out — for anyone interested in volunteering as a Mill Race Docent in the historical village located off Main on Griswold. “Anyone who would like to become a docent (both men and women are welcome) will find this educational and interesting as a volunteer activity,” says Enid Manheimer, who with her sister Elayne Elliott heads the docent program for Northville Historical Society.

Anyone interested is invited to join the Mill Race Docents as the season begins with a luncheon program at 1 p.m. May 3 in the New School Church in the village. The potluck event will welcome both active and inactive docents, members of the Mill Race Weavers’ Guild as well as wives of historical society board members.

Active Docents now need to serve only three times during the season in the village. The village will be open from 1-4 p.m. Sundays during the summer and early fall, beginning June 1. The date has been delayed from the May openings of earlier years, the chairpersons note, because “we froze last year and it’s too early for visitors.” Docents wear distinguishing long, floral-print skirts and shawls as they escort visitors through the village buildings and relate their histories. The Wash Oak School, New School Church, Hunter House (that of an early miller) and the Yerkes House (home of the first mayor of the village) as well as the weavers’ cottage will be open.

Guest speaker at the May 3 luncheon will be Suzanne Jackson, a former docent at Winterthur, the DuPont Museum in Wilmington, Del., whose special interest has been a study of the DuPont family. She has a background in American history and has been an active docent at Winterthur. She presently is active at the Detroit Institute of Arts and the Detroit Historical Museum.

For more information or to make luncheon reservations call Enid Manheimer, 348-7375, or Elayne Elliott, 348-5241.

Newcomers to view four homes on mini-tour

Northville Newcomers will tour a solar-equipped house, a contemporary home, an ever-popular country home and an historical home on their annual mini-tour to be held from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. May 14.

Lunch will follow at Riffles, president Ina Hacker reports, adding that the popular event usually is a sellout the day it is announced. Reservations are being taken beginning today at $8.50 a person for the tour and luncheon by Ginny Engelland, 349-3552, or Karen Payne, 420-4426.

She’s working on benefit for Clara’s boat house

Northville resident Corrine Vincent, who is director of the WYCA of Western Wayne County in Inkster and a member of the Zonta Club of Dearborn, is assisting with a benefit fashion brunch being given by the Zonta club at 11 a.m. May 10 at Fair Lane, the Henry Ford estate.

The site, she reports, is particularly appropriate because proceeds will be used in the restoration of Clara Ford’s boat house on the Rouge River estate. History says Mrs. Ford embarked from the boat house to venture on the river in her small craft to enjoy the natural beauty of the shore. The boat house area to be furnished by Zonta will become the orientation site for groups touring the estate.

Muirhead’s of Dearborn will provide fashions. Tickets are $15 and may be obtained from Vincent, 349-2932, or other members of Zonta, a classified service club of executive women in business and professions.

They’re helping Health-O-Rama at mall

Mary Esther Fountain, long-time volunteer with Project Health-O-Rama, called to report that the free health screening tests for area residents 18 and older also will be given at the Livonia Mall from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. April 29-30 and May 1-2.

Other local residents working on Health-O-Rama, she adds, are Betty Allen and Marge Sliger.

Karen stars as ‘Opal’

Karen Wendt of Northville as Opal Kronkie is trying to mend the ways of perfume bootlegger Solomon Bozo (Michael Gresock of Canton) in the Plymouth Theatre Guild’s presentation of Everybody Loves Opal. The curtain will go up on the comedy at 8 p.m. May 2, 3, 9 and 10 at the Plymouth Central Middle School. For ticket information call 397-2779.

Bridal show features Dance Factory students

Dancers and fashion models from The Dance Factory Dance Studio at 42297 West Seven Mile in Northville will be featured in a Bridal Party Fashion Show at the Hyatt Regency in Dearborn at 2 p.m. Sunday.

They will open the show by performing a jazz routine. Models from the studio then will showcase approximately 40 bridal gowns. After a half-hour intermission, the dancers will return with a precision tap line. Prom gowns and fashion accessories, including jewelry, belts and purses, then will be modeled.

Participating students from The Dance Factory will be Krista Schwartz, Robyn McDuffie, Melissa Sinkovics, Kathy Cotey, Shelley Haack, Karyn Kwiecinski, Stefanie Giordano, Michelle Marini, Kristen

Cislo, Lynnette Cislo, Michele Patail and Nancy Hassinger.

Studio director Kathy Kwiecinski reports that approximately 1,000 spectators are expected. Tickets are $3 in advance or $5 at the door.

Dancers and models in the show are from classes at the studio which offers classical ballet, tap, modern jazz, aerobics, ballroom dancing as well as modeling, pointe work for advanced ballet students and master classes for teachers. A New York theater dance experience also is offered. For more information about the show or the studio classes call 348-1810.

Students of the Dance Factory have won 1985 and 1986 state and national competitions.

Summer, fall wedding dates set

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zimmerman of 41790 Broquet announce the engagement of their daughter, Terri Lynn, to Douglas Adams of San Bernardino, Calif.

He is the son of Ms. Martha Adams of Westland.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Farmington High School and has her associate degree from Oakland Community College. A November wedding is planned.

The engagement of Cathleen Patricia Holland to Arthur Eric Black of Brighton is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Gass of 43827 Galway.

He is the son of Ms. Barbara Black O'Rourke of Cleveland, S.C., and Robert Black of Farmington.

The bride-elect is a 1978 graduate of Northville High School and expects to receive her B.A. degree in elementary education in May from the University of Michigan-Dearborn.

Her fiancé is a 1977 graduate of Northville High School and is employed by Black's Hardware, Inc. They have set a July 12 wedding date.

Renee Sutton wed in April rites

Renee Kimberly Sutton, daughter of Mrs. Robert H. Sutton, Sr., of Northville and the late Mr. Sutton, wore her mother's wedding gown as she became the bride of Mark Gary Klinger in a double ring ceremony April 5.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary E. Klinger of Northville.

They were married at St. Priscilla Church in Livonia where the Rev. John Smith officiated at the ceremony which included a symbolic unity candle lighting and the presentation of roses to their mothers by the couple.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, John Sutton, who also served as best man.

The bridal gown of ivory slipper satin was reconstructed with French Alencon lace adorned with pearls and crystal beading. It was styled with a basque waistline and skirt that extended into a cathedral train. The bodice featured with a sweetheart neckline and lace sleeves extending to points over the wrists. Lace appliques were scattered on the front of the skirt and formed an inverted double-V on the train which was edged with an Alencon lace border.

A halo of tiny satin roses and pearls held the bride's fingertip veil and blusher.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of silk roses, gardenias, stephanotis, baby's-breath and ivy. Her pearl-drop necklace was a gift of the bridegroom.

Karen Willer, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Cheryl Klinger of Northville, sister of the bridegroom, and Becky Sutton of Farmington Hills, niece of the bride. They wore crepe sugar plum-colored gowns with fitted bodices and brief puffed sleeves and carried nosegays of matching roses.

Colleen Klinger, little sister of the bridegroom, carried both rings on a pillow. Adria Willer, niece of the bride, carried a satin covered basket with rosebuds and carnations. They wore ivory chiffon gowns trimmed with sugar plum-colored sashes. All bridal attendants wore flowers in their hair.

Randy Ryba and Lee Willer, nephew of the bride, were the bridegroom's attendants.

A reception for 160 guests was held at the Plymouth Hilton immediately following the ceremony. The bride's niece Tina Sutton, was in charge of the guest book. Kenneth Way, the bride's godfather, offered a prayer before dinner. The five-tier cake was cut by Mrs. Frank Apfel, cousin of the bride. Assisting were Linda Sutton, sister-in-law of the bride, and Beatrice Way. Music was provided by the Sterlings of Dearborn.

Out of town guests attended from Ludington, Grand Rapids, Dearborn, Saline and from Pennsylvania.

The bride is a 1982 graduate of Northville High School; her bridegroom was graduated from Livonia Churchill High School the same year.

They will make their home in Canton.

The Northville Record

Mustang nine notch wins in two of three

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Bob Frellick is making no bones about it — he is very happy with the way his Mustang baseballers are playing.

After just one non-conference game to open the season, Northville jumped right into the thick of the Western Lakes Activities Association race with games against three league opponents last week. Walled Lake Central fell 10-3 on April 14, Livonia Stevenson did likewise on April 17 and Livonia Churchill pulled out a 9-8 squeaker the next day. With two wins in three tries, the Mustangs sport a 3-1 overall, 2-1 in the WLAA.

"I thought these kids played awesome all week long," Frellick said. "We got outstanding pitching, we hit well and played good defense."

Against Central a towering two-run homer by left fielder Jeff Bainbridge in the fourth inning broke open a close game and propelled Northville to a routine win.

"At that point we were only ahead 2-0 and Bainbridge's homer really gave us a lift — it gave us the momentum," Frellick said.

The Mustangs scored twice in the first, thanks to four Viking errors, a wild pitch and just one hit. But Central settled down, and Northville went down in order the following two innings.

But Bainbridge's smash with Mark Olsen on keyed a three run fourth, and the Mustangs added five more in the fifth to put it out of reach. This time it was a four-bagger by Olsen that spurred the rally, along with another pair of inopportune errors by Central.

Tony Craig notched his second win of the season as he pitched shutout ball for five innings, recorded seven strike outs and no earned runs. Chris Dominique relieved Craig in the sixth and the Vikings scored two more times the rest of the way, but both were also unearned. Keith Dutkiewicz, Olsen and Bainbridge all rapped out two hits a piece to pace the offense.

On Thursday, Dominique returned to the mound in impressive fashion with a masterful two-hit shutout through five innings and then Brett Loomis took over in the final two, sending Livonia Stevenson down in order to seal a 9-0 trouncing of the Spartans.

"In all phases of the game, we dominated," Frellick related. "When you get a shut out in this league, you know you're doing well. These kids are just playing real well together."

While Dominique and Loomis were holding Stevenson down, the Northville bats boomed. A six-run rally in the third was the clincher as Dutkiewicz, Paul Newitt, Ken Kehoe and Bainbridge all smacked hits.

The Mustangs made it 9-0 with two more runs in the fourth on a double by Eric Terlecki, an RBI single by Dutkiewicz and another by Scott Peterson. For the game, Frellick used 18 players and was happy to see everybody contributing.

Northville fell one run short against Churchill last Friday, but the way the team came back from a big deficit had Frellick thinking nothing but positives.

"We lost, but the team showed a lot of courage, character and desire by coming back," he pointed out.

After taking a 2-0 lead in the third on back to back doubles by Peterson and Newitt, and a hit by Kehoe, the Mustangs quickly fell behind 8-2. Churchill scored twice in the fourth and picked up six more a big fifth inning surge.

Loomis went the first four innings, giving up three earned runs and gave way to Dutkiewicz, who made his first pitching appearance this season. But control problems plagued him in that fateful fifth, giving up two walks, a single, a double and a three run homer before he could retire the side.

But in the sixth inning, Northville refused to give up and tied it with six runs on four hits. Three walks, an error and RBI hits by Ayers, Behen, Terlecki and Peterson did the trick.

Junior pitcher Jay Moore relieved Dutkiewicz in the bottom half of the sixth and sent the Chargers down 1-2-3 but his teammates failed to get a baserunner in the seventh. Moore surrendered a lead off hit and the Mustangs' only error of the game enabled Churchill to score the winner.

"There's nothing for us to be ashamed of," Frellick said. "The intensity of this team is just great — if they keep playing like this, they will win a lot of ball games."

Sophomore hurler Lisa Brannon overcame control problems to record a win over Churchill

Softballers down Churchill 16-7

Continued pitching woes have plagued the Northville softball squad so far this young season, but Coach Bob Gerlach may be seeing the light at the end of the tunnel.

The Mustangs notched the first win of the year, a 16-7 high scoring affair with Livonia Churchill on April 18, but it wasn't before the team dropped a pair earlier in the week. Walled Lake Central and Livonia Stevenson pounded Northville (1-4 overall, 1-1 in WLAA) by identical 13-4 scores and, according to Gerlach, the two losses were agonizingly identical.

"It was the walk syndrome," he explained. "We just can't seem to get any pitching."

Mustang pitchers gave up an incredible 34 walks in the three games, and Gerlach knows those numbers must be drastically reduced.

"It seems like we are going out and scraping for every hit and every run, and then we hand our opponents everything with all the walks," Gerlach said. "This thing can be turned around because we are starting to hit and we can play good defense — as long as the pitchers throw strikes, who knows what can happen."

Walled Lake gladly accepted 11 walks in the April 14 game and quickly turned them into runs. The Vikings grabbed a 2-0 lead in the first, but Northville responded with a pair in the second to tie it up. Following a walk, sophomores Jeannine Laprad and Julie Kaestner singled which drove in one and then a wild pitch scored another.

But Central tagged sophomore starter Lisa Brannon with five more runs in the fifth to make it 7-2, and the Mustangs never recovered.

"We scratched out a few more runs in the seventh to make it look good, but it wasn't good," Gerlach admitted.

Last Wednesday, Stevenson scored 13 runs on just six hits and 10 walks. Chris McGowan made her first start and walked the first four batters, and the Spartans ended up scoring five times to put Northville in a very familiar position — trailing early.

"That's been our problem," Gerlach said. "If we can ever get through the first two innings, we'd be winning."

The win over Churchill was a welcome relief as the Mustang bats came alive and overcame 13 walks issued to the Chargers. "The nice thing is we started hitting the ball and put it together," said a relieved Gerlach. "We got the monkey off our back with the win because I think it was starting to play on our minds. We were wondering, 'when are we going to win?'"

Churchill did take a 1-0 lead in the first, but Northville threw a player out at the plate and it proved to be a big momentum booster. With runners at the corners, the Chargers decided to send the player at firstbase, hoping to lure a throw, thus letting the runner at third base score. But Gerlach called for the throw to be cut off, and shortstop McGowan gunned the runner from third down at home.

In their half of the first, the Mustangs pushed four runs across the plate on some timely hitting by McGowan, Michelle Siemasz, Laprad, Sue Schrader and Kaestner. Schrader's bases loaded triple was perhaps the biggest hit so far this season. It drove in three runs and broke the ice.

"We finally got the upper hand early on, and it was a nice position to be in," Gerlach said. "Sue's triple was really the key, and we were finally ahead."

The home team extended the lead to 7-1 and then to 9-2 after five innings, thanks to some nice pitching by Brannon. Sophomore Kim Wilds relieved Brannon but ran into all sorts of control problems in the sixth. Churchill took advantage of six walks and scored five times without a hit to narrow it to 9-7.

"(Churchill) didn't do anything against us until the sixth, and that is where I started to get concerned," Gerlach said.

But his concerns were soothed in Defense leads undefeated kickers to 3 more wins

It only stands to reason that the Northville girls' soccer squad would eventually give up a goal this season. And despite the outstanding work in goal by Mustang All-Stater Tricia Ducker, Canton did slip one by the junior goaltender.

But that was the only highlight for Canton or the other two opponents last week as Northville cruised to three more wins, raising its current record to 4-0-2. The Mustangs ended up beating Canton 3-1 on April 14, trounced Walled Lake Central 7-0 two days later and edged Livonia Franklin 2-0 on April 18.

Canton's goal ended seven consecutive shut out halves for Ducker this season, but she turned around and started a whole new string with another pair of shut outs. Ducker's goal against average is now a sparkling 0.16.

"Our defense is just amazing," Coach Stan Smalec reported. "Ducker is a magnate and the four defenders in front of her (Michelle Cross, Julie Anger, Jill Gallagher and Amy Spamen) have just been doing an outstanding job."

But Smalec is still concerned about the Mustangs' frequent inability to take advantage of scoring opportunities. Against Franklin, Northville bombarded the Patriot goalie with 26 shots on goal, but came away with just two scores.

"We're starting to put the ball in front of the net for ideal scoring chances, but it's just a matter of putting the ball in the net," Smalec explained. "I think we just don't have the timing down right, but it will come."

In the first half against a fired-up Canton squad, Ducker turned back every shot, but her teammates were unable to score either. Robin Strunk broke the scoreless tie four minutes into the second half after taking a beautiful header from Jodie Smalec and beating the Chiefs' goalie. Sophomore Denise Akroush made it 2-0 about 11 minutes later, and Karen Baird hooked one in on another fine assist from Smalec with about 20 minutes remaining in the match to make it 3-0.

Canton's goal came in the waning minutes as Ducker made the initial save but was beaten on the rebound. For the game, the Mustangs outshot the Chiefs 13-6.

Northville had very little trouble with Central, as the inexperienced Vikings are only in their first season of competition. In the first 25 minutes of play, the Mustangs scored seven times with Strunk, Smalec and freshman Abby Edwards each scoring twice. With the game well in hand, Smalec went to a passing game and instructed his players not to run up the score.

"We made some drastic changes and went to the passing game," he said. "I was proud of the kids because they didn't try to go for individual goals and statistics — they worked on passing. We didn't want to run up the score, it's just that we've been around a lot longer than they have. I give them (Vikings) credit though, because they never gave up."

On Friday, it was a defensive struggle, but Northville pulled it out with two goals in the first 21 minutes of the game. Smalec kicked one in at the 12 minute mark on assists from Kim Fladding and Anger. Forward Jenni Schuerman wrapped up the scoring with a goal about 10 minutes later on a pass from Smalec.

"We just didn't put them in as much as we would have liked," Smalec said. "The throw ins and corner kicks from (freshmen) Heather Sixt and Abby Edwards were great. They were consistently putting the ball right in front of the net, but we didn't seem to take advantage of it."

Junior defensive player Jennifer Kuffner injured a foot in the game and will probably be out of action for as long as two weeks, but other than that, Smalec was pleased with the week's effort.

"Our kids are finally beginning to see and understand what they have to do to get the ball in the net," he declared. "And with all the tough games coming up, we need to get more of an attack on offense."

The Mustangs take on Walled Lake Western tonight and then have to tangle with arch-rival Livonia Stevenson, the state's number one ranked class A team. The Stevenson game will be followed by three more tough outings against Livonia Churchill, North Farmington and Canton.

The Pandas suffered a 2-0 setback to the Livonia Sting Rays. Goalies Stephanie and Shannon Neff performed well despite the loss.

GIRLS 14 & UNDER: Susie Weidenbach (two goals) and Anna Marchesotti (one goal) helped lead the Pandas past Northville Spartans 3-0. Goalies Rennee Larabell and Karen Kepner combined for the shut out.

BOYS UNDER 17: Goals by Bob Dudley, Ken Spigarello and Steve Workman helped propel Northville Arsenal to a 3-0 win over Plymouth No. 1. Todd Stowell recorded the shut out for Arsenal. United destroyed Plymouth No. 2 by a score of 7-0. Mike Hillier grabbed the hat trick and Brad Maliszewski recorded the shut out in goal. Walt Wittrick's two goals weren't enough as Novi No. 1 edged the Hot Spurs 3-2. Northville was also named the game's top defense player.

GIRLS UNDER 17: Plymouth No. 1 handed the Northville Warriors a 3-0 setback. Michelle Ordowski was honored as the game's defensive specialist. The Northville Reds received a goal from Jeanne Sullivan but Livonia No. 1 won the game 2-1. Defensive MVP was Kim Connelly.

Untested netters dump two more

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

While almost everybody cursed the rainy weather last Wednesday (April 14), Northville tennis mentor Dick Norton couldn't have been happier.

The rains washed away the Mustangs' scheduled showdown with Western Lakes Association power Farmington Harrison, much to Norton's delight. Northville's No. 1 singles player Terry Michellitch is still sidelined with a severely sprained ankle, and Norton didn't think his squad had much of a chance against the Hawks without his services. Now, with the match rescheduled for May 6, Michellitch will probably be back in the line-up.

"At practice the day before the match, I told our guys to go out and do their favorite rain dance, and it apparently worked," Norton joked. "It was really a stroke of luck because it gives us a chance to get (Michellitch) back."

And, although Norton would not go so far as to say the injury to Michellitch has been good, he did say that his other singles players have been forced to move up a notch and compete against even tougher players.

"I guess it's been a blessing in disguise," Norton admitted. "We've been able to get more people in the line-up and the competition level has increased for them."

'(Northville) is such a tough team, I just told our guys to hang loose and do the best they could.'

— Jim Newbold
Novi Tennis Coach

Perhaps the most pleasing aspect of the whole situation is that the Mustangs are still unbeaten even without the No. 1 player. As a matter of fact, Northville hasn't even been challenged yet. On April 14 the out-manned Novi Wildcats were trounced 7-0 and Farmington suffered a similar fate on April 18, dropping six of seven matches to Northville. Norton's squad now posts a 3-0 overall record, 1-0 in the WLAA.

The Wildcats only took one set out of a possible 15 and won just 27 games out of a total of 117. Translation: the Mustangs were much too tough and talented for Novi.

"They are such a tough team, I just told our guys to hang loose and do the best they could," Newbold admitted. "There was just no way Novi could match up with us," Norton agreed.

No. 4 singles player Dan Boland was the only Mustang who had any trouble, but he finally pulled out a 7-6, 4-6, 0-6 victory over Karl Gunderson.

Mark Reitenga continued to fill in admirably for Michellitch at No. 1 by pounding Eric Polinski 6-0, 4-6, while his brother Mike had no trouble with Mark Boksha (2-6, 3-6) at No. 2. And sophomore Doug Kamienecki played his best match of the season whipping Craig Cottam 1-6, 2-6 at third singles.

Dave Kaminski and Don Norton cruised to a 6-2, 6-1 win over Dave Cho and Darrell Beyea at first doubles, Mark Bertagnoli and Dave Merrifield blanked Rob Dodds and Tom Wigley 6-0, 6-0 at second doubles, and Novi's Eric Cupp and Ben Kpichak had all sorts of problems in a 1-6, 0-6 loss to Matt Oliver and Mike Tabaczynski at third doubles.

Farmington managed a win at No. 4 as Scott Mazzei downed Boland 1-6, 4-6, but the Falcons failed to win so much as a set in any of the other matches on Friday. Mark Reitenga spanked Jeff Mobley 6-2, 6-1, Mike Reitenga overpowered Jim Vanderhill 6-1, 6-2 and Kamienecki slipped by Dave Graham 6-3, 7-6.

The doubles sweep included a 6-0, 6-3 win for Kaminski-Norton over Dave Goodman and Brian Kreiger, Bertagnoli-Merrifield downed Eric Pavelka and Scott Yoder 6-3, 6-1 while newcomer Thierry Desmet and Matt Oliver recorded a come from behind win over Shawn Cahill and Scott Cameron. Desmet is a native of Belgium who just joined the team, so Norton put him right to work and the No. 3 doubles team won the first set 7-5 (after falling behind 2-5 at one point) and then wrapped it up with a 6-1 second set win.

"It was no sweat with this one," Norton said. "We haven't been tested yet, but we will be this week."

The Mustangs will tangle with Livonia Stevenson today and then Plymouth Canton two days later. Norton said Stevenson is the team to beat in the Lakes Division and that against Canton "we'll have our hands full."

4012 post represented in VFW pool tourney

The Northville VFW post 4012 is hosting the 1986 State Pool Tournament, but few realize the post also is well represented in tournament competition.

Eight members of the 4012 team will participate in team play this Saturday (April 26), and three of those will also compete in the singles and doubles events the day before.

Norm Zion was crowned the Fourth District singles champion two weekends ago in a playoffs against Ecorse, thus qualifying for the singles championships on Friday. The team of Jerry Raymond and Bill Wolverton also qualified by finishing second in the Fourth District in doubles. Raymond is slated to compete in the singles event as well.

"It took us 22 weeks and five or six playoffs to get this far and we're excited about the state tournament,"

Wolverton said.

Each district in the state will send at least one team to the event this weekend, and the tournament organizers are expecting 1000 to 1500 shooters and spectators from as far as Sault Ste. Marie to make the trip to Northville.

The tournament will get under way at 9 a.m. on Friday at the Rec Center gymnasium and continue through the evening on both days. Admission is free.

"I'd say Ecorse, Alpena and Northville are the three toughest teams," Zion said. "It is rare for one team to have as much representation in the singles and doubles as we do."

Members of the team include Zion, Raymond, Wolverton, C.W. Meyers, Doug Slessor, Mike Utley, Larry Burnette and Lou Lanning.

Pitcher Diane Ford (left) celebrates the Mustang softball team's first victory of the season, a 16-7 win over Livonia Churchill, along with teammate Michelle Siemasz (center). Ford came on in relief and set the Chargers down in order in the seventh inning to preserve the win the seventh as the Mustangs reeled off seven more runs to put the game away. Junior Diane Ford wrapped it up in the bottom of the seventh by sending the Chargers down without a hit.

"Diane Ford shut them down, and it was a nice way to close it out," Gerlach said.

The unlikely hitting hero after four games is Laprad, who wasn't even projected as a starter before the campaign. She was 2-for-3 against Central, 2-for-4 against Stevenson and had an important RBI single in the seventh in the win over Churchill. "She is really doing the job," Gerlach pointed out. "At this point, she is really the only one we're getting any consistency from at the plate."

Field events hold m-tracksters back

When the Northville boys' track team squared off against Western Lakes foe Farmington on April 17, the Mustangs gave the Falcons quite a battle in the running events, but it was no contest in the field events.

Paul Osborn's troops held their own in the sprints, hurdles, middle distance, distance and relays versus Farmington and only trailed 59-33 at that point. But add in the field event scores, and Northville suffers a 100-37 defeat. Out of a possible 45 points in the shot put, discus, high jump, pole vault and long jump, the Mustangs scored a measly four points.

"We weren't in too bad shape after the running events, but we certainly got killed in the field event," Osborn said. "In most events we can stay pretty close, but in the field events we are having a very difficult time and that hurts — it really does."

Farmington swept first second and third places in the shot, discus, high jump and pole vault. Northville did score four points in the long jump with Dana Letarte's second (19'-6") and Matt Peltz third (19'-0"), but it was of little consequence.

In the 17 events, the Mustangs only came up with three wins. Letarte captured a first in the 100-meter dash (11.4), sophomore John Frisbee took the honors in the 800-meter dash (2:08) and the mile relay team of Jeff Harp, Marty Broderick, John Gird and Frisbee notched a win (3:46).

Gird was second to Letarte in the 100 (11.6), Tim Millen was runner-up in the 100-meter low hurdles (17.8), Harp's time of 54.4 in the 400-meter dash was good for second and Kevin Haas' 10:38 was second best in the two mile.

Third place finishes for Northville included: Haas in the mile (4:53.5), Gird in the 400 (54.7), Steve Brooks in the 800 (2:11), Millen in the low hurdles (44.0) and Scott Wiley in the two mile (10:59).

"In the sprints and mile distance we seem to be doing better than anywhere else," Osborn pointed out. "Usually I try to build up the team from the relays, but this year it seems like we may have to build around our middle distance crew."

"In some areas we are seeing improvement, but a lot of the time it's not consistent improvement. We're trying to work out the bugs right now, but the enthusiasm is still there and that's what is important."

Lack of depth costly to Girls' track team

Is Farmington really almost twice as talented as the Northville girls' track team? That's the impression you get when you see that the Falcons dumped the Mustangs 80½-47½ last Thursday (April 17).

But statistics and scores often lie, and this may be one of those instances. Mike Webb's team sports athletes that are probably just as talented out on the track — but Farmington just has a whole lot more numbers. The Mustangs' lack of depth was the main culprit in the lop-sided loss.

"I'm asking my kids to go out against twice as many on the other team, and that isn't a very easy thing to do," Webb admitted. "So I think my kids did pretty well considering the odds."

"I saw some improvement over our times earlier in the season, and that's what I'm looking for."

Karen Stinson and Krista Swartz were entered in three events apiece, but it hardly slowed them down. Stinson, a senior, raced to a win in the 400-meter dash (1:08.16), placed second in the long jump (14'-7") and was a member in the winning 800-meter relay team with Swartz, Christi Lanaghan and Megan Holmberg (1:56.4).

Swartz, just a freshman, flew past Stinson for first place in the long jump (15'-10") and also won the 100-meter dash (13.1).

"Stinson looked real strong, and Swartz is improving," Webb said. "But I am expecting better times from them in the future."

The only other Mustang win was recorded by Anne Griffith, who logged a 5:47.9 in the mile run. She placed second in the two mile as well (13.02), but the team is hurting in the distance events without the services of Jennifer Goshorn (out for personal reasons), Sue Blanchard (illness) and limited duty from Wendy Nuechterlein (recovering from illness).

"Anne did a fine job for us," Webb pointed out. "We are thin right now in the longer races, and she carried the load in most of the distance runs."

Lynn Bills was the runner-up in both the 100-meter (17.06) and 300-meter (52.9) hurdles, but freshman Lee Bills, Lynn's sister, is showing the most improvement, but not placing yet. Lanaghan was the only other Northville runner to take a second place (28.49 in 200-meter dash).

Other than the sweep in the long jump, the Mustangs only placed once in the top three of the remaining field events. Junior Roxanne Serkaian was third in the shot put with a 26'-11" effort while Sue Austin also grabbed a third in the 800-meters (2:52.18).

Webb is still concerned about the lack of a threat in the high jump and is contemplating using Stinson there if nobody else comes to the forefront soon.

"We are still looking for somebody in the high jump," Webb admitted. "We may give Stinson a shot at it, but one thing is for sure — we need to get some more scoring in some of the field events."

Saturday's Ann Arbor Huron Relays were taken off the schedule, but the girls' track squad has added the Belleville Tiger Relays this Saturday instead.

"I'd like to see the team peak for the regionals and the league championships," Webb said. "We haven't peaked yet, but I know some of our girls are strong and will continue to improve."

Working For A Better Community, A Better Life

March 31, 1986

Dear Oakland County Residents:

Keeping our neighborhoods and business districts structurally sound, attractive and economically strong is key to maintaining Oakland County's fine quality of life. Over the past decade, the Oakland County Community Development Block Grant Program has played a major role in building our County into the fine place it is by funding public improvements, downtown revitalization and neighborhood preservation projects.

Since 1975 we have received over $52 million from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to initiate and oversee hundreds of housing and community improvement projects in 48 municipalities throughout the County.

During 1985, HUD granted Oakland County more than $4 million for over 150 community projects. As a result, we upgraded streets and walkways, installed water, drainage and sewer systems, renovated community centers, improved housing, revitalized downtowns, built modern fire stations, developed parks and much, much more - all to enhance the quality of our communities and life in Oakland County. Community Development projects also created or retained hundreds of temporary and long-term jobs for Oakland County residents during 1985.

Although Community Development funds can be used for a variety of projects in each of our 48 partner communities, planning how to spend these funds isn't easy. Choices have to be made by local and county officials among many requests for limited dollars. But, by joining and working together in a county-wide community effort, a wide variety of needs are met in our diverse county communities- rural, suburban and urban. We direct special attention to improving our lower income neighborhoods where houses need improvement and where public services are not always available. Our efforts also focus on eliminating deteriorating community conditions detrimental to the health, safety and welfare of residents.

Structural rehabilitation is a long-standing commitment of Community Development. In 1985, we launched a unique Commercial Assistance Program to help merchants and business owners renovate deteriorating commercial properties in certain downtown areas. The County also continued a special Rental Rehabilitation Program offering landlords a rebate incentive to improve rental housing. For people owning and living in single family homes, Community Development financed more than $1 million in low interest loans to correct structural and safety problems in 180 houses throughout the County.

Hundreds of Oakland County residents are involved in planning and building a better community for us all through Community Development. Property owners, planners, architects, engineers, contractors, tradespeople, entrepreneurs, bankers, local and county government representatives, public officials and concerned citizens form strong partnerships to get projects off the drawing board and under construction.

We in Oakland County can continue our partnership to build better neighborhoods and a better

County for the future only with your continued support and that of your local officials, County Commissioners and the private sector.

Sincerely,

C O U N T Y M I C H I G A N

Oakland County Community Development Building Better Communities In 1985-1986

PUBLIC WORKS PROJECTS

Sewers, drains, smooth streets and sidewalks. Although we don't notice them until they need repair, these necessities are the framework on which our community is built. Last year Community Development funds helped pave the way to a strong community foundation.

COMMERCIAL REHABILITATION: BEST OF THE OLD, BEST OF THE NEW

Keeping business districts healthy is just as important to a community as good housing and sound neighborhoods. Last year Oakland County launched a new Commercial Assistance Program (CAP). CAP is a public-private real estate financing program created to help selected Oakland County Communities revitalize their downtown/business districts. By providing below-market, fixed-rate, 100% financing for commercial property rehabilitation, CAP hopes to improve the visual image of commercial business districts and encourage potential investors to consider downtown locations.

CAP exists through the creation of a commercial rehabilitation loan fund established by a rehabilitation leveraging agreement between Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit and Oakland County. $350,000 in federal Community Development Block Grant funds is being used to leverage a total pool of approximately $2 million for commercial property rehabilitation.

Oakland County's development of the Commercial Assistance Program reflects the growing interest throughout the country in business district revitalization. The Substantial and well-designed rehabilitation of "downtown" commercial properties signals a new vitality for older and often deteriorating business districts. Retail trade and sales increase, community pride is stimulated and new jobs are created. National experience indicates that a healthy, thriving and aesthetically pleasing downtown is important to a community's overall economic development success.

Eight communities were designated by the Oakland County Board of Commissioners to receive 85% of CAP funding based on a competitive selection process during 1985. The eight communities are Ferndale, Hazel Park, Holly, Milford, Ortonville, Oxford, South Lyon and Walled Lake. The remaining 15% of the funds were designated for projects in the communities which applied for but did not rank among the top eight.

Six additional target communities have been selected for 1986: Berkeley, Farmington, Keego Harbor, Madison Heights, Rochester, and Springfield Township. The 1986 CAP program is expected to leverage an additional $2 million for commercial property rehabilitation.

Each CAP target community has already determined the boundaries of the business district within which the property owners/merchants are eligible for CAP loans and over 35 projects are currently being processed. For CAP information on the fourteen communities, contact your local government offices. All other inquiries should be directed to the Community Development Office.

HOME IMPROVEMENT

Keeping houses in good repair is central to the health of both families and neighborhoods. For families who cannot afford necessary repairs to their homes, Community Development's Home Improvement Program (HIP) can help.

The Home Improvement Program restores houses to good repair. Repairs to roofs, kitchens, bathrooms, plumbing, electrical, and a large number of other structural, safety or health defects are eligible improvements. HIP will also install barrier-free ramps, kitchens and baths for handicapped family members.

Home improvement loans work on a sliding scale according to income and family size, starting at totally deferred loans for the lowest incomes and working up to a 3% interest installment loan for the highest incomes (up to $32,500 depending on family size). An Oakland County Community Development Technician will be happy to help you determine whether or not you can qualify.

Before rehabilitation begins, each home is carefully inspected to determine which repairs are most urgent. Then a work plan is prepared, and after the Community Development staff and the homeowner agree to the required work, the project is bid to prequalified contractors. Once a contractor is selected and rehabilitation begins, the county staff makes periodic checks on the work being done and inspects the completed job.

Helping Oakland County homeowners repair their housing is a long-standing commitment of Community Development. During the 1985 program year, repairs were completed on 180 homes throughout the county. If we can help you improve your home, feel free to call the Community Development office.

DOWNTOWN OXFORD

PRIDE IN IMPROVED NEIGHBORHOODS

CDBG projects help give a community pride in itself. Older areas receive new life through home improvement and public works projects that enhance the attractiveness of a neighborhood as well as its quality of living.

IMPROVED HOUSING FOR RENTERS

Twenty-six percent of Oakland County residents rent their homes. Many of these people are low to moderate income renters who have a hard time finding good, quality housing that they can afford. With these folks in mind, Oakland County presented the Rental Rehabilitation Program (RRP) during 1985 - a new and practical way to improve substandard rental housing conditions.

The RRP encourages property owners to "fix up" their rental units by offering rebates totaling 50 percent of the cost of needed repairs. Property owners must finance the cost of repair work themselves, and Oakland County Community Development (OCCD) refunds 50 percent of improvement expenses up to a maximum of $5,000 per rental unit. Eligible improvements include eliminating substandard conditions, correcting code violations, and repairs to wiring, plumbing and heating systems, to bring rental units up to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development's (HUD) Section 8 Existing Housing Standards. With the RRP rebate, landlords can improve the quality of housing for Oakland County's low and moderate income renters at a greatly reduced cost while protecting real estate investments.

By the end of 1985, RRP committed funds for 19 rental improvement projects in targeted communities throughout the county. (Southfield, Royal Oak, Pontiac and Waterford Township are not participants in the Oakland County Rental Rehabilitation program and therefore are not eligible for this assistance). The RRP is financed through a U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development grant. In the 1986-87 program year, OCCD expects to rehabilitate 50 rental units. This increases the supply of safe, affordable housing for lower income tenants.

In addition, under HUD's Section 8 Existing Housing Program, the Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA) furnishes section 8 vouchers or certificates in support of the Rental Rehabilitation Program. Through these certificates and vouchers a portion of the rent is subsidized for income-qualified tenants. This tenant-based subsidy is available to very low income families or individual's whether they lease in place or move.

COMMUNITY CENTERS

Providing residents with a safe and convenient place to participate in educational and leisure time activities is an important aspect of Community Development. Young and old alike reap benefits from the construction and renovation of community centers in areas such as Rochester, Royal Oak Township, Sylvan Lake and Madison Heights.

PARK DEVELOPMENT

The Community Development Block Grant Program develops and improves Oakland County's beautiful bounty of available parklands. It also turns vacant neighborhood lots into community parks with attractive landscaping, park furniture and playground equipment close to home.

Working Together To Rejuvenate Neighborhoods

DOWNTOWN REVITALIZATION

Older downtown areas have a heritage to preserve and an economy to redevelop. Improvements such as the renovation of building facades, landscaping, brick sidewalks and decorative lighting all help to make downtowns like Ferndale, Oxford and Wixom more inviting and attractive places to be.

BEAUTIFICATION FOR WIXOM

FAIR HOUSING MONTH

April is National Fair Housing Month. Fair Housing isn't just an idea. It's the law. Every person in Oakland County has an equal right to choose housing suited to their needs and financial ability, wherever they would like to live.

April 1986 marks the eighteenth anniversary of the National Fair Housing Law, Title VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1968, and is an appropriate time to re-examine the rights and responsibilities we Americans have under this historic legislation.

This Act, together with State of Michigan legislation, prohibits discrimination in the sale or rental of housing and calls for equal opportunity for all citizens regardless of race, color, sex, national origin, age, marital status, religion or handicap.

If you think you've been the victim of discrimination in the sale, purchase or rental of housing, call the following agencies for fair housing information and assistance:

Oakland County Housing
Counseling Service 858-5402
HUD Office of Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity 266-6898
Fair Housing Center 963-1274
Michigan Civil Rights Commission

PEDESTRIAN SAFETY

Sidewalks, bikepaths and bridges help separate pedestrians from dangerous vehicular traffic and make a walk or bicycle ride safer and more enjoyable. Pedestrian paths also link neighborhoods with shopping and business districts for easier pedestrian flow.

YOUR VOICE IS HEARD

The Community Development Block Grant Program offers you the opportunity to have a voice in determining where a portion of your federal tax dollars go. You can become involved with CDBG projects from start to finish.

A great many people, like yourself, have expressed their priorities for Community Development spending at dozens of public meetings throughout the county over the past year. These annual Community Development meetings provide a meaningful opportunity for you to speak your mind on local needs and help decide how CDBG funds could be spent to satisfy those needs in your community.

People like you make up your community, so your needs are important. If you have suggestions on how to improve the place where you live and you think CDBG funds can help, contact your local government office. New voices are discussing new projects, and seeing results all the time; let's hear what you have to say.

SERVICES FOR SENIORS

Many seniors lack basic services such as transportation, nutrition and recreation. Community Development helps local municipalities improve services for the health and enjoyment of senior citizens.

COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT RESOURCES WHERE THEY GO, WHAT THEY DO

PUBLIC NOTICE COUNTY OF OAKLAND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT BLOCK GRANT (CDBG) PROGRAM 1986-87 STATEMENT OF COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT OBJECTIVES AND PROJECTED USE OF FUNDS

Since 1975, the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) has granted over $47 million to Oakland County to administer annual Community Development Programs pursuant to the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended.

The primary objective of Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended, and of the Oakland County CDBG Program is the development of viable urban communities, by providing economic opportunities, principally for persons of low and moderate income.

Consistent with this primary objective, the Housing and Community Development Act identifies three broad national program objectives. Oakland County gives maximum feasible priority to CDBG projects which comply with one or more of the national objectives.

NATIONAL PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

A. Assure benefit to low and moderate income persons; not less than 51% of a grantee's aggregate funds shall be used to support activities that benefit low and moderate income persons.

B. Aid in the prevention or elimination of slums or blighting community conditions. C. Meet other community development needs having a particular urgency because existing conditions pose a serious and immediate threat to the health or welfare of the community where other financial resources are not available to meet such needs.

In promoting the national objectives Oakland County Community Development has developed the following specific objectives and strategies consistent with policy statements for Federal, State, Regional and County levels of government for the 1986-87 program year:

COUNTY PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

1. Encourage communities to realistically plan for their future development and to assist communities in the development of a structure with capacity to implement activities.
2. Increase each community's commitment to their proposed community development activity.
3. Discourage the use of Community Development funds on projects which can be funded through other sources.
4. Improve, upgrade and increase property values through the concentration of rehabilitation efforts within the neighborhood.
5. Reduce the number of substandard dwelling units within the county through rehabilitation of existing residential units.
6. Improve living conditions within housing units and reduce the financial burden of low and moderate income persons.
7. Reduce housing maintenance and fuel costs and enable lower income persons to remain in their housing units.
8. Instill within homeowners the incentive to maintain and improve conditions within the housing unit.
9. Assist homeowners in using all available funding sources to accomplish housing rehabilitation activities.
10. Reduce the isolation of income groups and dispart housing opportunities for low and moderate income persons.
11. Increase the supply of affordable rental housing units for senior citizens and low and moderate income persons through rehabilitation of existing rental units.
12. Encourage communities to develop and implement comprehensive business district revitalization programs.
13. Create a favorable economic climate in commercial business districts for private reinvestment.
14. Forge public-private partnerships among the county, communities, merchants, property owners and financial institutions to accomplish commercial business district revitalization goals.
15. Minimize displacement of persons as a result of CDBG assisted activities through council and careful assessment of each project requiring displacement.
16. Provide relocation assistance in accordance with the Uniform Relocation Act of 1970 (24 CFR 42) and mitigate adverse effects of displacement, if any, on low and moderate income persons.
17. Insure that persons displaced as a result of CDBG assisted projects will be treated fairly, consistently, and equitably so such persons will not suffer disproportionate injuries as a result of projects designed for the benefit of the public as a whole.
18. Insure that tenants displaced involuntarily and permanently as a result of the use of CDBG assistance to acquire or substantially rehabilitate property will be treated the same as activities covered under the Uniform Relocation Assistance and Real Property Acquisition Policies Act of 1970.

A variety of projects are eligible for Community Development funding. The following projects are eligible uses of Community Development Block Grant funds in accordance with federal regulations of October 31, 1984 Rules and Regulations defined in 24 CFR Part 570:

ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW Notice of Finding of no Significant Effect on the Environment

The County of Oakland has prepared an Environmental Review Record in respect to the aforementioned projects and has determined that the listed projects will not constitute an action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment and, accordingly, the County of Oakland has decided not to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. The reasons for such decision not to prepare such statement are as follows:

- Adverse impacts on the physical or natural environment are negligible and other impacts are beneficial.
- The projects will make no significant increased demand on the public services and will create no pollution impacts.
- The projects will not substantially change the income, racial, ethnic, age distribution or population size of the county. Other impacts on the social environmental are new or beneficial.
- The extent of any environmental impact is limited to the county.

E. The nature, magnitude and extent of any environmental impact of the project, whether beneficial or adverse are such that there will be no significant effect on the environment.

An Environmental Review Record respecting the aforementioned 1986 projects has been made by Oakland County which documents the environmental review of the project and more fully sets forth reasons why such statement is not required. The environmental review status respecting the aforementioned 1986 projects is keyed as:

- environmentally assessed
- categorically excluded
- exempt

The Environmental Review Record is on file at the office of the Community Development Division located at 1200 North Telegraph Road, Pontiac, MI and is available for public examination upon request in Room 112 between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

NOTICE OF REQUEST FOR RELEASE OF FUNDS

On or about Wednesday, April 16, 1986 the County of Oakland, a Michigan Constitutional Corporation, will request the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) to release federal funds under Title 1 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended to undertake the aforementioned projects for which an Environmental Review Record has been prepared. It has been determined that such requests for release of funds will not constitute an action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment.

The County of Oakland, located at 1200 North Telegraph Road, Pontiac, MI, will undertake the projects described above with Block Grant funds from HUD under Title 1 of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended. The County of Oakland is certifying to HUD that the County of Oakland and Daniel T. Murphy, County Executive, consent to accept the jurisdiction of the Federal Courts, if an action is brought to enforce responsibilities in relation to Environmental Reviews decision making an action, and that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect on the certification is that upon its approval, the County of Oakland may use the Block Grant funds and HUD will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. HUD will accept an objection to its approval of release of funds and acceptance of the certification only if it is on one of the following bases:

A. That the certification was not in fact executed by the chief executive officer of the applicant approved by HUD:

B. That the applicant's environmental review record for the project indicates omission of a required decision, finding, or step applicable to the project in the environmental review process.

Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR Part 58) and may be addressed to HUD at Patrick V. McNamara Federal Building, 477 W. Michigan Avenue, Detroit, MI, 48226. Objections to this release of funds on bases other than those stated above will not be considered by HUD.

All interested agencies, groups, and persons must specifically indicate whether the objection submitted addresses the Environmental Review or the Request for Release of Funds. No objection received after Thursday, May 1, 1986 will be considered by HUD.
