City approves liquor license for Elizabeth's

By KEVIN A. WILSON

A vote of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission today may decide whether Elizabeth's Restaurant thrives or dies, but it will probably be another month before the definitive word is delivered.

Northville City Council voted Monday to approve transfer of a Class C resort liquor license from the Ten Grand Club to Elizabeth's, Inc., despite the restaurant's failure to meet the minimum requirement of 100 seats.

Co-owner Douglas Campbell told council the license transfer application asks the LCC to waive the 100 seat limit so the license may be used temporarily at the restaurant's Hutton Street location until new quarters are built as part of a larger development at Main and Center streets.

Campbell said he intends to hand-deliver a copy of council's approval to the LCC when it meets today in Lansing. If the LCC refuses to consider the matter today, a vote on the transfer would be delayed to late May.

"It's worth a shot," Campbell said Monday night, asking for a copy of council's resolution approving the transfer. "If they don't do anything, what have I lost besides a couple of hours?"

Campbell has said on several occasions that liquor control laws that prohibit serving wine at Elizabeth's could result in the demise of the highly rated restaurant.

Patronage has declined, he said, since late last year when strict enforcement of liquor control laws ended the practice of allowing customers to bring their own bottles of wine to the restaurant.

Campbell has described the availability of the resort liquor license, formerly used by the Northville Lanes bowling alley, as "salvation" for his operation.

Equity Advance of Birmingham, purchasers of the bowling alley and adjacent properties from the Ten Grand Club (a group of local investors who purchased the land in the late 1970s), agreed to having the license transferred to Elizabeth's at its present location temporarily on condition that the established restaurant relocate into the planned multi-use residential/retail/office structure.

City Manager Steven Walters noted that the relocation of Elizabeth's from Hutton to the new development at Main and Center would require another review and approval by city council.

Councilman Paul Folino said he favored the transfer and called it "a great step forward for the community."

In approving the license transfer Monday night, Mayor Paul Vernon suggested the city also send a letter to the LCC urging its favorable action and stressing that the seating capacity issue is not a major issue locally.

If Campbell convinces the LCC to rule on the transfer today, that letter just might arrive too late to be included in the deliberations. There is plenty of time before a May vote, however.

Stricken Mustang

Northville head baseball coach Bob Frellick (7) and assistant Bob McCallister administer an ice pack to a stricken Eric Terlecki, the Mustang baseball team's starting shortstop, who was accidentally hit in the face by a pitch in the Mustangs' home contest Monday against Farmington Harrison. The senior immediately was rushed to Henry Ford Hospital, as the injury was first believed to be very serious, perhaps requiring surgery. Fortunately, it was not as severe as first believed, according to the Northville Athletic Director Ralph Redmond. Terlecki required stitches inside and outside his mouth but was later released and should be back in school by tomorrow.

Schools, city debate collection terms

By KEVIN A. WILSON

Northville Public Schools and City Council have agreed on terms for summer collection of property taxes, but that doesn't mean they see eye-to-eye on the issue.

The board of education Monday night approved superintendent George Bell's recommendation that it offer the city $3 per taxable parcel to perform the collection — exactly the same figure the school district has agreed to pay the township.

At the same time, city council was meeting and deriding the expected $3 per parcel offer while indicating it would be accepted — with a catch.

At the $3 per parcel price, the city will collect the tax, but also will impose a new, one percent administration fee similar to the one township taxpayers have seen on their bills for many years.

The city dropped the fee in the mid-1970s when its constitutionality was questioned. The legal issues have since been resolved. The new fee will likely be accompanied by a city notice claiming it was made necessary by the school district's actions.

The arrangement represents the result of weeks of negotiating between school and city officials begun after the city abandoned an earlier agreement to make the collection for $1 per parcel.

At issue is the impact of a recent Michigan Court of Appeals ruling on a case involving the city of Grand Rapids and its local school district.

The court ruled that interest earned on tax money should be paid to the agency that levied the tax rather than the agency that collected it —

'This (agreement) would put us on the same basis as the township.'

— Mayor Paul Vernon

directly contrary to customary practice in most jurisdictions statewide. The interest in dispute is earned during the few days (up to two weeks) between the time a property owner pays his taxes and the collecting agency (city or township) forwards to the local school district its share of the money.

City manager Steven Walters said he had hoped to negotiate an agreement with the school district that would nullify the Grand Rapids court ruling until there is either legislation reversing it or a final determination from the Michigan Supreme Court.

But school superintendent Bell said he did not feel he would "be doing my job of representing the best interest of the school district" if he agreed to such a provision. "I'm not in the business of second-guessing the courts — the courts said that interest should follow the principal, and until that's changed that is the legal position."

In prior years, the summer collections have been done by the township at no charge to the school district, since the one percent fee was intended to cover the cost of billing and collecting taxes. This year, the agreement to pay $3 per parcel partially offsets the lost interest income.

But for the city to recover its interest earnings would require a per parcel charge of as much as $10, Walters suggested.

While the amount of money is small in comparison to the multi-million dollar school and city budgets (a maximum of $21,000 under one city proposal), Walters said the city is following a principle in contending that the interest earnings are not properly the school district's.

That maximum figure of $20,000 equates to one-quarter mill of property tax, he said, and eats into the city's charter limit. The interest earnings — projected at $12,000 to $15,000 this year — were used to offset the cost of performing the tax collections, according to Walters. Without those earnings, he said, the one percent collection fee becomes necessary.

But the fee will result in more than sufficient revenue increases to cover the lost interest income, he added, so city millage will be reduced accordingly — perhaps by 0.2 (two-tenths) mill.

Bell said two factors enter into the school's offer of $3 per parcel rather than agreeing to terms eliminating the effects of the Grand Rapids decision.

He said the school millage reduction made possible by collecting taxes in summer (rather than issuing tax anticipation notes and paying interest on the funds for six months)

Building boom generates more school students

By MICHELE M. FECHT

For the first time in more than a decade, the Northville Public Schools system is experiencing an enrollment increase in its K-12 program.

Since September 27 (4th Friday), some 88 additional students have enrolled in the district, according to assistant superintendent Burton Knighton.

"We have seen growth in the last two years, but not anything like this," Knighton noted.

The assistant superintendent told the board of education at its meeting Monday that the enrollment increase is primarily a result of new home construction in the district.

Enrollment has jumped from 3,228 students on September 27 to its current 3,316. The administration is predicting that next September's enrollment will be approximately 3,268 students. Knighton noted the enrollment projection is based on new housing developments in the district, building principals' projections for their individual schools and the Stanford projections from Michigan State University.

Knighton noted that, while it is difficult to estimate how many new homes will be completed by September and through the 1986-87 school year, the administration is

Effort to stall sale of landfill to BFI

By KEVIN A. WILSON

Anticipating the sale of the Holloway Landfill to Browning Ferris Industries (BFI) of Wayne, the potential new owner has filed application for licenses to operate the landfill and to construct an expansion on its west end.

Reacting to news of the sale as a perceived threat to efforts to solve a groundwater contamination problem along Napier Road, the Northville Township Board of Trustees last week authorized attorneys to negotiate on its behalf and to file a suit if necessary.

In a special meeting April 25, the board heard Supervisor Susan Heintz question the enforceability of a January consent agreement between Holloway and the Michigan DNR if the landfill is sold to BFI of Southeast Michigan as proposed.

The board reviewed a package of documents obtained from the DNR under the Freedom of Information Act. It included a Washtenaw County Health Department letter dated April 10, a DNR memo dated April 18, an April 15 letter from BFI's attorneys to the Washtenaw health department, license and construction permit applications dated April 7 and signed by BFI vice president Robert Line, and related bonding documents, all dealing with the sale to BFI. Holloway spokesman Richard Zanotti refused comment on the pending sale, even though BFI's application for a license states that the Wayne-based waste disposal company "has acquired the assets of the Holloway landfills."

Zanotti said discussion of a sale "at this point is all speculative. At this point, it's confidential and we'd rather just not discuss it."

Asked if a deal had been struck pending the transfer of the license and construction permit, Zanotti said the sale is "pending a lot of things. It ain't over 'til the fat lady sings."

Efforts to reach a BFI representative for comment Monday afternoon failed.

Heintz said the township's major concern with the possible sale, particularly if BFI is issued a license without conditions attached to it, is that a DNR-approved attempt to resolve groundwater contamination concerns along Napier Road may become unenforceable.

The documents reviewed by the board included an affidavit from BFI vice president Line stating the firm's commitment to follow the terms of the consent agreement and other conditions on Holloway's license, but Heintz said the present restrictions

NEWS BRIEFS

NORTHVILLE HIGH SCHOOL student Dean Talbot will long be remembered by teachers, students and the community through the generous gift presented to the board of education Monday night by his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Talbot gave the board a gift of $2,425 for the purchase of a Yamaha school studio piano in memory of their son who died earlier this year of cystic fibrosis. The piano, to be used by the fine arts department, is a fitting tribute to Dean who was active in the vocal music program.

A COMMUNITY BLOOD DRIVE will be sponsored by the Northville Jaycees from 2-8 p.m. Wednesday, May 7, at the First Presbyterian Church. Walk-ins are welcome. Those interested in scheduling an appointment should call Debbie Anderson, 349-4426 during the evening. Donating blood takes approximately one hour and is relatively painless.

COOKIE LOVERS ALERT! This Sunday, May 4, may be your last chance to purchase Girl Scout cookies. Junior Troop 280 (which includes Northville) will be selling the last of the council's cookies from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Meijer, at the corner of Haggerty and Eight Mile.

MORE THAN A YEAR after a search began for volunteers to update the outdated Northville City Charter, a new group of volunteers may take over the task.

Cynthia Fanslow, president of the League of Women Voters, said her organization was in the process of signing up people to work on the project. No date has been set for a first meeting, let alone a completion date.

SATURDAY IN THE PARK is the way the Wayne County Park System is billing the closing of six miles of the Middle Rouge Parkway (Hines Drive) every Saturday beginning this week through Sept. 27 "for your family to run, walk or bicycle safely." The drive will be closed from Warrendale picnic area to the Nanking Mills station at Ann Arbor Trail and Hines Dr. from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

STATE SENATORS may be sharing more of their mail than one may think. Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, may live in his district, but his mailbox is on the north side of Eight Mile Road, putting it in the district represented by Sen. Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills.

Geake says there is no problem, since many voters believe he represents the entire Northville area, including the portion of the city in Oakland County. Efforts to reach Faxon to determine what type of constituent Geake's mailbox is, were unsuccessful.

INSECTS BUGGING you? Are you confused about insecticide sprays? Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service has a garden hotline operating to give accurate information. A trained Master Gardener is on duty from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1-4:30 p.m. weekdays. Call 858-0902.

Montessori open house set

Northville Montessori Center, 15709 Haggerty Rd., will host an open house from 2-4 p.m. Sunday to celebrate its 10th anniversary.

The center is a state-licensed private school offering an alternative in preschool and elementary educational programs.

The curriculum consists of activities in practical living (self-help), sensorial experiences, language, math, botany, zoology, physical science, geography, history, social studies, French, music, art and physical education. Special extras featured in the program are motor/perception development, health and nutrition, and cooking.

Montessori training involves a carefully prepared environment which allows the child to test his/her understanding through the use of materials designed to be self-correcting.

Northville Montessori Center is affiliated with the American Montessori Society, the International Montessori Society and the Michigan Montessori Society.

Half-day sessions, full-day sessions, summer day camp and extended hours for working parents whose children attend the school are available.

Officials doubt super sewer revival

By KEVIN A. WILSON

Super Sewer lives! Sort of... a little... maybe.

While the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) attempts to gather consensus among communities that could be served by what is formally known as the North Huron Valley/Rouge Valley Wastewater Treatment plant, local officials are skeptical.

Having twice neared approval of a massive sewer project only to have it collapse at the last minute, Novi and Northville are not getting excited about a revived effort to put together a program for possible partial federal funding this year.

In fact, Novi is proceeding on the assumption that it will have to handle sewage treatment on its own, city manager Ed Kriewall said last week.

"Our engineers are less than one month away from finalizing a proposal to construct our own wastewater treatment plant," Kriewall said. "The sewer interceptor would be nice, and if it happens we'll join in, but we have to be realistic."

Both Kriewall and Northville Township supervisor Susan Heintz were skeptical in reviewing a late

Novi City Manager

March DNR outline of a plan to obtain 55 percent federal funding for a massive sewer improvement project between here and Detroit's wastewater treatment plant.

The City of Northville was not originally projected to be part of the program. When later discussion suggested it might be added, Northville city manager Steven Walters and engineer Jack McNeely worked up a program to repair the aging local system sufficiently that no added capacity, and no participation in super sewer, would be needed.

Projections of the cost to be borne by local governments have increased in the past few years to the point that both Heintz and Kriewall said they think it unlikely that all the communities participating in the huge project would agree to pay — unless.

"Unless the state can come through with some money," said Heintz.

"Unless the state can put up some financing," said Kriewall.

Legislation to do just that may be in the works, but even with a state share (presumably enough to offset the 20 percent of the cost lost when the most recent application was rejected by the federal EPA), there would remain political obstacles.

"Getting all those communities to agree to something once was hard enough," said Kriewall. "I don't know that you could get them to do it again."

"Everybody's still blaming someone else (for the previous failures)," said Heintz. "We've got to know if this thing is going to be approved before we get involved — if Detroit is just going to come through again and reject it because it would allow suburban growth, we'd just be wasting our time. We need a sewer."

Examining a funding and planning schedule prepared by the DNR, heavily reliant upon assumptions that Congress will act favorably on the Clean Water Act this summer and then appropriate sewer construction funds this autumn, Heintz said, the practicality of the program remains in question.

"Even if you assume everything on this paper goes properly — see, all this stuff looks real logical, but it still gets down to politics," Heintz said.

Meanwhile, DNR and Wayne County Public Works officials are working steadily to meet a set of deadlines leading up to early December — when everything must be in place if federal funds are to be obtained for the project. Without federal support, nearly everyone agrees, the regional project would probably collapse entirely and local governments would be left to pursue their own solutions.

Small hotel proposed on Main at Griswold

Gregory H. Presley and John A. Schuman, owners of the Oldenburg Building on North Center in downtown Northville, are proposing the construction of a 32 room bed-and-breakfast hotel at the southwest corner of Main and Griswold.

The facility would be constructed on land purchased from the city for $120,000, according to a proposal to be reviewed by city council May 5.

The partners' bid was the only one received for the property by last Thursday's deadline, city manager Steven Walters told council Monday night. The property had been advertised for several weeks.

City conditions for the sale required a private sale and review of potential tax base expansion.

Council members were given a 20-page proposal Monday night for review prior to next week's meeting. It includes terms of sale that call for EDC financing, final site approval, a 10-year tax abatement, and a 50-space parking requirement variance.

The proposal also calls for a $12,000 deposit to be forfeited if the sale is not closed within 120 days of signing the agreement.

Construction costs are projected at $1.25 million to $1.45 million (including land) with completion anticipated in 1986 "barring unforeseen difficulties."

The facility would employ 16 to 18 persons, according to the proposal, and would feature post-modern architecture "sensitive to site and location considerations." A five-story structure, the maximum allowed in the central business district, the hotel would also house dining and lounge areas for guests, a commercial kitchen with retail outlet, meeting/catering space, and a residence for the manager.

The proposal calls for hotel food service at breakfast and lunch with guests being directed to downtown restaurants at the dinner hour.

Foley sentenced to a life term

John Foley, the Garden City man convicted of second degree murder in the death of Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital patient Greg Helzerman, was sentenced last week to a life term in prison — the stiffest penalty Circuit Court Judge Marianne Battani could impose.

Since the jury verdict was for second degree murder, the life sentence carries with it the possibility of parole. First degree murder convictions can result in sentences of "natural life," which prohibit parole.

Second degree murder convictions are also being sought against Tyrone Williamson and Maurice Massie, both of whom are alleged to have aided Foley in beating and choking the victim in a Memorial Day weekend assault last year.

All three alleged assailants and the victim were patients in the hospital's young adult unit at the time.

Trial for Massie is slated to begin May 27, while Williamson will be tried "sometime in July," according to state police detective Jim Collins, who conducted the investigation of the murder.

SILVER SPRINGS

Students at Silver Springs received a special treat April 21 when they viewed "Midas' Golden Touch," presented by the Goodtime Players in Ann Arbor. This musical version of the story of the greedy king was lightened with humorous touches and enjoyed by the entire school.

April 22, Mr. Demski and Mrs. Henderson led their classes on a field trip to Maybury State Park. The purpose of the trip was to study soil.

Silver Springs annual spring musical was presented April 24 under the direction of Ann Jarvi. Participating in the musical play, "Feeling Good," by Jill Galina, were the Silver Springs Glee Club and classes of Mrs. Kelly, Mr. Demski, Mrs. Collins, Mrs. Rigney and Mrs. Higbee.

Three Silver Springs students participated in a Young Authors Workshop at University of Michigan-Dearborn April 29. The students were Michele Kahler, Andrew Stuart and Scott Schaffer. The workshop provided the students with an opportunity to share their writing samples, as well as some planned creative writing experiences.

As a part of Gifted Child Week, Silver Springs will host a fun-filled evening of invention from 6:30-8:30 p.m. tonight. All gifted students in Northville are invited to attend this event sponsored by the Northville

WINCHESTER

On April 10, the fifth grade students visited the Detroit Institute of Arts to view early American art. Their visit culminated the Art Appreciation Program.

Mrs. Dalrymple's students visited the Detroit Science Museum April 18. They viewed a movie on space and viewed exhibits which included a laser experiment.

A parent education meeting April 22 focused on the "Emerging Middle School." Counselors Jeff Radwanski and Dave Adair from Meads Mill discussed the role of counselors and value clarification. Tom Cey, assistant principal at Meads Mill, discussed rules and regulations for middle school students. Programming was discussed by the principal Dave Longridge.

The Living Science Program was presented yesterday by the PTA. This year, students spent approximately 45 minutes in classrooms studying a variety of animals.

Winchester's spring musical will be held May 8. The program this year is titled, "This Land is Mine." This will be presented in the form of dialogue, dramatics and music under the direction of Sandy Craig. Classes participating in this year's musical are the third grade classes of Judy Coutts and Gary Hukka, fourth grade classes of Larry Rowland and Pat Kuxhaus, fourth and fifth grade classes of Karen Hardin and fifth grade classes of Ron Bird and Bill Lenz.

Northville elementary schools, having been awarded the Center of Excellence by the National Council of English Teachers, held their first visitation April 25.

Kindergarten Round-up will be held at Winchester May 1 and 5. If you have a child who will be attending kindergarten in the fall and have not notified the school office, call 344-8415.

Our next PTA meeting will be at 9:30 a.m. May 7.

MEADS MILL

Meads Mill has all but thrown out the dress code this week. Spirit Week is under way! Each grade gets a day to dress up as a participant in some sport or in mismatched clothing. The grade with the highest percentage of students participating will be named 1985-86 School Spirit Champion. The winning grade will be admitted free to the Activity Afternoon to be held after school May 1. Activities include a dance, open gym, computers and a movie. A contest to write a school motto will be conducted with Mr. Cey and Mrs. Sievert screening all entries. The top five entries will be voted on by students.

More good news from the 8th grade math core elective. Pennant races in games of equations and computer Maxit have concluded with the winners being announced. Maxit champion is Laurie Gudmundsen with Garnet Potter in second place. Individual high scorer in equations is Dave Wendt with Brad Maliszewski in second place. A new match begins in April with new participants.

Team 8-B sent 45 "Aces" to the Anne Frank exhibit at the University of Michigan-Dearborn campus. An "Ace" is a student who demonstrates excellence in work habits in all academic subjects. The team believes in rewarding students working up to their potential; not necessarily those who make all As. Eighth graders have been studying portions of Anne Frank: Diary of a Young Girl.

The sixth grade was transported back in time to the Middle Ages. During March and April, a study of this era included the use of books, movies, film strips, discussions and special performances. A culminating activity transformed classrooms into castles with moats and cathedrals with stained glass windows. Students dressed in costumes of the Middle Ages and enjoyed a medieval breakfast prepared by some of the parents. Banners, a procession of the kingdoms and a catapult contest completed the day's events.

The next PTA meeting will be held at 9:15 a.m. May 12.

HIGH SCHOOL

The Northville community is invited to share in our excitement at the near completion of the high school renovation project. On Sunday, May 18, the administration is planning an open house from 2:30-5 p.m. Local dignitaries as well as citizens who served on the renovation committee will receive special invitations by mail. A short dedication ceremony will be held in the auditorium followed by self-guided walks through the building.

Another "don't miss" event is the Spring Choir Concert taking place at 7:30 p.m. this evening in the high school auditorium. For a $1 donation, you may hear the sounds of the Concert Choir, the Northville Singers, Vocal Workshop, Treble Chorus and the Barbershop Quartet. If you are a '50s child, or even if you're not, you'll enjoy the medley of songs sung by the male singers and a special rendition of "Mr. Sandman" by the female singers.

Student Congress will be sponsoring a blood drive from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. May 5 at the high school. Student leaders are hoping for a great response to this drive; so consider donating about an hour of your time to participate.

The library is in dire need of volunteers to help finish tagging books for the security system. The procedure is simple and requires no special knowledge of books. Interested volunteers should contact Barbara Ibach at 344-8420, ext. 42 or just drop in during school hours and offer your services.

The Northville school district has been selected to host the Women's State Soccer Tournament Finals. The game between the two state finalists will take place at 2 p.m. May 31. With any luck there should be 3-4,000 people attending the event. The NHS Athletic Boosters already are making organizational plans to see that the spectators and teams are made to feel welcome.

On Tuesday, the National Honor Society membership grew to about 160 when 58 students were inducted during ceremonies at Northville High School. Of the 58 new inductees, one was a senior, six were juniors and 51 were sophomores. Speakers at the ceremonies were Robert Williams, co-founder of the Northville chapter, and Majushree Matadial, a 1985 graduate of NHS and former officer of the chapter.

Teacher Appreciation Day will be May 21, which also is inservice day. The Parent Advisory is sponsoring an 11 a.m. lunch buffet for the teachers and could use volunteers to donate salads and desserts. Contact Cindy LaChance at 348-9077 if you are available to help.

Applications for Boys State now are available to junior boys in the counseling office. This week-long experience in our democratic process is well worth the time. It starts June 12 at Michigan State.

Senior parents are asked to call Jayne Hilfinger, 349-6408, if they can donate a prize for the Senior Party Casino. Prom tickets are on sale now through May 9.

O.L.V.

Our Lady of Victory School presents "Professor Zucchini's Traveling Tales," a three-act play written by Sylvia Ashby. The public is welcome to attend. The performance will be held at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow (Thursday) at the Novi High School Auditorium, located at Ten Mile and Taft roads. Admission is $3.50 for adults and $1 for children. May 17, the O.L.V. PTO is having a Bake Sale in conjunction with the Northville Garage Sale. All items will be homemade; so we hope that you will be there.

Carrie Isabel, O.L.V.'s spelling bee contestant to the State Finals, held at L.I.T. finished eighth. Congratulations for your effort, Carrie. David Best will be going to the State Competition for the Michigan Math League. This is an extremely difficult exam and O.L.V. takes pride in the fact that many O.L.V. students qualified to take it. Good luck, David.

The Annual Science Fair also was a great success. Winners from the fair were:

Eighth grade: first place, Carrie Isabel; second place, David Best and Jason Baldas (tie); third place, John Okasinski.

Seventh grade: first place, Anne Duwel; second place, Kristin Woodsum; third place, Megan Dunn.

WILLIAM ALLAN

What an exciting start to spring students have had. Congratulations went to fourth grade student Greg Brown for winning the Northville Public Library's bookmark contest. Other winners at the Academy's Lawrence Library were Tammy Gallia, Nicholas Barnes, Renee Mahajan, Kevin Heintz, Nicole Young, Holly MacDonald and Kristen Hayden.

The kindergartners have had a fun-filled month. They have enjoyed new mental math-oral skills and phonic skill games.

The first/second graders have been studying "Space." They have researched plants, stars and constellations. They wrote reports, made planets and maps, took a field trip and — for the grand finale — took off into space complete with hand-made helmets and airpicks.

The third/fourth graders are studying midwestern states with research, reports and maps. Another highlight was a visit by a dentist who discussed dental health in conjunction with a health unit on "Teeth and Their Care."

The fifth/sixth graders are continuing to develop writing skills. The class has worked on various forms of paragraphs as well as different forms of poetry including limerick, haiku, free verse and dramatic reading. The students continue their D.I.R.T. books — a year long pursuit. Daily Independent Reading Time is the exposure of fun reading to all kinds of books.

The Academy is getting a facelift in May. Work will include a fresh coat of paint, a new sign and new floors. The Country School Fair will be held from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. May 17. Nancy Lawrence

Memorial service set May 17 for Wilfred Becker

Longtime Northville resident Wilfred C. Becker, a retired professor of art at Wayne State University, died April 20 in New Port Richey, Fla., following a lengthy illness. He was 63.

A memorial service will be held at 1 p.m. May 17 at First United Methodist Church of Northville where Mr. Becker had been an active member.

He moved to Florida in 1985, having retired from WSU in 1984 as a professor emeritus with 35 years of service, including teaching and coordinating the industrial design program and many years as an assistant chairman of the art and art history department.

Born in Flint, he was a graduate of Redford High School in Detroit and held B.A. and M.A. degrees from Wayne State. He also studied at Central Michigan University and Cornell University.

He had been a member of the Northville Board of Education, serving as its president from 1965-67 and also was a trustee, secretary and vice president of the board during the '60s.

He also was a delegate to the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments and a member of the advisory council for the area vocational educational center in Livonia.

He was honored in 1977 with the first annual Layman of the Year Award by the Northville Kiwanis Club. He was a member of the Industrial Designers Society of America, the Industrial Design Education Association and a trustee of the Michigan Educational Broadcasting Association.

During his long career, Professor Becker served as a design consultant for the Geo. P. Johnson Co. and Ford Motor International.

He designed and built an altar and cross for the chapel at First United Methodist Church in Northville and an altar for the Children's Worship Center at the Calvary Baptist Church in Detroit.

He also designed and produced a line of educational toys used widely in nursery and elementary schools. He often was involved in design projects at WSU, including the construction of the Great Seal commemorating the university's 100th anniversary in 1968, and the creation of the original mace for commencement exercises.

Police Blotters

Cash stolen from register at Seven Mile hair salon

In the Township...

A full day's receipts — estimated at $650 — were reported stolen from the Hair Affair salon on Seven Mile Road April 24.

The shop owner told police he was in the back of the store working on the books at about 8 p.m. when he heard the front door close. There was no one in the front of the store when he checked, so he returned to his books.

Forty-five minutes later, when he again went into the front of the store, according to the police report, he noticed the cash missing from the cash register drawer, which had been left ajar.

The small change was untouched. Police have no suspects in the theft.

Items valued at $500 were reported stolen from a 1985 Dodge Daytona parked in front of a Northridge apartment April 24.

The owner of the car told police she and her brother were in her third floor apartment when she heard a crashing noise in the parking lot. Looking out her window, she said, she saw a man running away from her car, to the west.

By the time she got downstairs, the woman told police, the man was gone. The right window of the maroon car had been broken (damage estimated at $300) and a $200 radar detector and a $300 eel skin briefcase were missing from the interior.

The owner's brother reported seeing an older Buick parked with its engine running just west of the scene, but did not see anyone enter it. The car was gone when police arrived.

The driver's door window of a 1983 Plymouth Scamp pick-up truck was smashed to gain access to a $195 radar detector and $30 cash inside April 27, according to police reports.

The owner of the truck told police it was parked on Northville Forest Drive between 1 and 9 a.m. when the theft occurred. Damage to the truck was estimated at $125.

Nothing had to be broken to give someone access to the $227.36 radar detector on the dash of a Chevy Astro van parked in a Norwood Court driveway — the 1986 vehicle was stolen April 26, police reported.

An unlocked 1983 Ford four-door was nonetheless damaged to the tune of $500 when someone tore the $550 AM/FM stereo cassette deck out of the dashboard April 25, according to police reports.

A four-day weekend was a little costlier than a Sutter's Lane resident had planned upon, according to police reports. The homeowner reported that someone broke through a rear patio doorwall and did serious damage to the side door in an attempt to enter the house.

Nothing was reported missing, but police estimated damages at more than $300.

Detroit police recovered a 1985 Pontiac 6000 LE reported stolen from a Hayes Court residence two days earlier.

The owner told police the cream-and-gold car was stolen between 10:30 and 11:55 p.m. April 19. It was picked up on Pickford at Westmoreland in Detroit at 2:10 a.m. April 21.

By that time, it was missing its entire stereo system, both rear wheels and tires, and the ignition switch and trunk lock had both been punched out. Investigators also found damage done to the driver's side door lock, tending to confirm the owner's claim that the car was locked when parked.

Senate bill addresses prescription drug abuse

Legislation introduced last Thursday in the state senate is designed to attack the problem of prescription drug abuse. State Senator R. Robert Geake (R-Northville) is the sponsor of Senate Bill 755, which amends the public health code to establish a Board of Controlled Substances and implement triplicate prescription forms.

The triplicate prescription aspect of the bill requires all prescriptions to be written on a pre-numbered triple-carbon document — one copy for the physician, one for the pharmacist and one for the state's Department of Licensing and Regulation. Records of prescriptions will then be maintained in a central registry.

The board to be established will be comprised of 11 members representing the medical professional boards within the Department of Licensing and Regulation, such as the Board of Pharmacy and the Board of Medicine.

This group will oversee activity within the state to put more accountability into the Michigan prescription system.

Michigan is eighth in the national population, but much higher in gross national consumption of many schedule II drugs (Ritalin, Dilaudid, Seconal and Demerol.)

Michigan currently has no controls on prescription drugs beyond the wholesale level.

This legislation would allow the state to complete the information gap between the manufacturer and the ultimate user.

"Right now our records are not adequate to assist authorities in their investigations of prescription fraud and drug abuse. The accountability called for in this bill will help weed out that small minority of prescribers, dispensers and users who are abusing the system for profit or habit," Geake said.

The bill also establishes strict penalties and fines for improper prescribing, dispensing, abuse and fraud.

"The prescription business is big business," Geake said. "We have worked diligently and have been committed to finding a solution to this problem for five years. Many interested parties have participated in the development, and I believe this is one solution to an ongoing problem which must be checked."

The bill is supported by New Detroit, Inc., Ford Motor Company, the Federal Drug Enforcement Agency, Blue Cross & Blue Shield of Michigan and various substance abuse councils throughout the state.

'Peace in nuclear age' symposium is May 15

The second annual "Peace in the Nuclear Age" Symposium will be held at the Peace Resource Center on the Madonna College campus in Livonia on Thursday, May 15, at 7 p.m.

The event is designed to bring speakers of local and national renown together to talk about such issues as the strategic implications of Star Wars, the influence of big business on military procurement decisions and such tactics of resistance as the world peace tax fund, civil disobedience and non-violent civilian-based defense.

The evening also will include a children's peace parade of students' art and writings on peace in connection with the Michigan Peace Child Project.

The symposium will begin at 7 p.m. with a keynote address by Clara Vincent of Livonia, a longtime peace activist whose involvement dates back to the 1930s. She became a member of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom in 1930 and attended the second international Women's Peace Conference in Warsaw in 1950.

Following the keynote address will be three workshops running simultaneously at 8:30 p.m.

Speakers for the "Star Wars" workshop will be Dr. Dan Axelrod and Captain James Bush. Axelrod is co-author of the soon-to-be released "To Win a Nuclear War: The Pentagon's Secret Strategy." The book demonstrates how U.S. policy makers in over 40 years since the invention of the bomb have always aimed to win a nuclear war. Bush is a retired U.S. Naval officer who formally served in several command level positions, including nuclear armed vessels.

Speakers for the "Economics" workshop will be John Boies and Michael Oden. Boies, a doctoral candidate at the University of Michigan's Department of Sociology, is widely published in the field, including works on the relationship between U.S. defense contractors and military policy. Oden has done extensive original research into the effects of defense spending on the economy.

Speakers for the "Resistance" workshop will be Reverend Peter Dougherty, Frances Eliot and Dr. John Macartney. Dougherty is a widely recognized expert on non-violent conflict resolution and civil disobedience. He is a founder/member of Christian Faith & Resistance Community which leads protests at Williams International in Wall Lake. Eliot, Ann Arbor coordinator of the World Peace Tax Fund, lectures extensively on tax resistance as an alternative to taxes for war. Macartney is director of the Non-Violent Action for National Defense Institute at Mercy College.

The Peace Resource Center is a local organization dedicated to providing educational opportunities and fostering citizen activism around the issues of nuclear disarmament, peace and social justice. For more information call 464-7766.

Elementary student attends space camp

Because David Mason noticed an ad in one of his science magazines, the fifth grader spent the week of March 23 going through astronaut training activities leading to a simulated mission in space at the U.S. Space Camp at the Space and Rocket Center in Huntsville, Ala.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Mason, Jr., of 549 Dunlap. He and his sister Caroline, a first grader, attend Roper School in Bloomfield Hills. He also has a younger sister, Victoria, almost 2.

While he "has talked a lot about it," his mother says, he hasn't made a formal presentation on his experience at the space camp at school but is planning on constructing a model space rocket as his project for the school fair.

At the space camp, the simulated mission used an orbiter mockup and mission control simulator built especially for the U.S. Space Camp.

During the mission, David and his fellow trainees performed experiments similar to experiments done by astronauts and scientists in space. They also used a micro-gravity simulator in the shuttle's cargo bay for another "in space" activity. The outcome of the mission depended upon how well the team members learned and worked as a team.

The simulated mission climaxed a week of scientific learning and adventure for the trainees. During the week they tried on space suits, learned the principles that make a rocket work and studied the history of the manned space flight program. The activities were part of the space camp's Level I program, which is for youngsters 11-13. David already is talking about returning for an advanced program, Level II, for youngsters 14-16.

The trainees received computer lessons, built model rockets, ate freeze dried "astronaut food" and used a zero-gravity machine.

Many of the activities were at the Space and Rocket Center, which operates the camp and is the visitors' center for NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center. At the museum the participants experienced simulated space flights and weightlessness as well as triple gravity forces.

David attended the space camp in the first month of the weekly sessions which continue through Sept. 5.

He and his fellow trainees were introduced to the space program through a tour of the museum's rocket park, a collection of Army missiles and NASA rockets, including the Saturn I and Saturn V moon rockets and other rockets involved in the beginning of the space program.

Tuesday they toured the one-million-gallon tank of filtered water that has been used to train astronauts for working under weightless conditions. NASA uses the tank now in developing and testing equipment that will be used by astronauts in orbit.

During the next three days, the trainees concentrated on individual activities, including a simulator that spins astronauts to train them in how to cope with disorientation. The micro-gravity simulator showed what it is like to walk on the moon.

Building boom hits school enrollment

projecting the district will see its first enrollment growth since the district's peak years more than a decade ago.

As a result of the enrollment projections for the next school year, the administration requested Monday that the board approve a recommendation to lay-off only first-year teachers.

Noting that secondary students currently are preparing to make their course selections for September, Knighton said the administration does not have all the data necessary to provide tentative teaching schedules and staff assignments for 1986-87.

The assistant superintendent said the recommended layoffs should provide places for teachers returning from leave as well as enable the district to initiate staffing shifts within and between buildings that may be necessary due to enrollment distribution. He said shifting changes may be necessary at the elementary level due to anticipated growth at Amerman and Winchester.

Knighton told the board that once secondary class selections are made and enrollment projections firmed up, the administration anticipates it will be able to recall most — if not all — of the 10 teachers recommended for layoff. Knighton said those teachers receiving pink slips will know by mid-June whether they will be recalled for the new school year.

"This is an action we never enjoy proposing to you," School Superintendent George Bell said of the recommended layoffs. "However, the odds are very high that all these people will be called back. It is our intent to advise them of their status as soon as possible."

The administration further noted that not only are chances good that all teachers facing layoff will be recalled, but also reported there is a possibility additional teachers may be needed next year to accommodate the enrollment growth.

Pending landfill sale subject to negotiation

are not strict enough.

"It is the feeling of the supervisor that the consent judgment had loopholes in it," Heintz said. "Since provisions of a previous consent agreement have not been followed through, now is the time to negotiate with (BFI) to try to make sure they take their responsibility seriously in regard to cleaning up the groundwater."

She said she has contacted State Senator R. Robert Geake and Representative Gerald Law (R-Northville and Plymouth townships, respectively) and asked them to meet with the DNR.

"We're requesting that all licensing for this particular dump be held up until there has been further study on the groundwater issue," she said.

The supervisor said she expects the board's vote to authorize a legal suit "if necessary" will make "BFI more likely to sit down and listen to our concerns."

She said the township's legal representative on this issue, the firm of Nora, Hemming, Essad and Polacsek, has "been told verbally by the DNR that they see 'no problem' with issuance of a license to a new owner."

Referring to a recent public hearing on the consent agreement between the DNR and Holloway, which calls for excavation of a large parcel on the east side of Napier Road in an attempt to ascertain the source of pollutants in the groundwater there, Heintz noted that a Washtenaw County health department representative said the landfill does not meet present licensing standards.

Riding citizens' backs

By Michele M. Fecht

The next time you want to shake your fist at the local school board for spending your hard-earned tax dollars on new school buses, teacher salary increases or transportation to Stratford for the Shakespeare class, consider the recent action of the Detroit Board of Education.

Last week the Detroit school board posted a job notice for a chauffeur at a salary of more than $20,000. The posting caused quite a stir — and considerable publicity — because the salary for the chauffeur job is approximately $1,500 more than the starting salary for a teacher with a bachelor's degree.

While there is just cause to raise eyebrows over the salary discrepancy between chauffeurs and teachers, there is much more to this issue than numbers on a paycheck. The chauffeur the district intends to hire would make the seventh driver for the 11-member board. The six chauffeurs currently employed by the school district drive the elected officials and school administrators around the city in leased 1986 Oldsmobile Ninety-Eights which cost local taxpayers more than $400 a month. These high-priced drivers also serve as "go-fers" for Detroit school officials too busy to run their own errands.

Is this lunacy or what? The Detroit school system currently is facing a $4-$5 million deficit to this year's budget. In an attempt to alleviate some of system's budget woes, the officials tooling around their city in plush Oldsmobiles are considering freezing hiring and promotions, curtailing spending for books and instructional supplies and — get this one — halting staff travel.

At a time when weapons have replaced totebags, teaching methods have become stymied by insufficient instructional materials and violence in the classroom has made victims of teachers and students alike, the Detroit school board wants to hire another chauffeur for a luxury car that will shelter its members from the elements of a system they were elected to improve.

Officials have argued that these chauffeur-driven vehicles are necessary for conducting business throughout the district. Nothing has been said about the fact that Detroit has three times the number of chauffeurs for its school officials than other major cities such as Boston, Los Angeles and New York.

An education writer for nearly six years, it's incomprehensible to me that such a flagrant abuse of taxpayer dollars can continue to exist without causing even a ripple among constituents. When I read last week of the board's plans to hire another chauffeur, I was reminded of a similar incident several years ago when a number of outgoing Detroit school board members attended a junket in a warm, tropic climate. The fact that they were concluding their terms seemed irrelevant to those flying off for fun in the sun. The fact that it cost taxpayers thousands of dollars also made little difference.

In Northville and Novi, two school systems which continue to rank among the best in the state, there are no plush cars, chauffeurs or tropical getaways for the seven citizens who choose to serve on the local school boards. In Novi, members are paid a mere $10 per meeting. Northville is one of the few districts in Wayne County (and likely in the state) where its seven members receive no remuneration for serving their community.

It appears the Detroit school board would do well to emulate its suburban neighbors. By abandoning its fancy trappings, the school board may likely find little need to continue whittling away at programming to balance a deficit budget, requesting additional millage from taxpayers who can't afford it and cheating city schoolchildren out of the education they deserve.

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

She caught me peeking through the curtains at the neighbor's house again and demanded to know what I was doing.

"It's that rotten Andy," I replied. "He's out mowing his front lawn."

"What's wrong with that?" she asked.

"He's mowing it with a hand mower," I shot back, my voice filled with indignation. "That's what wrong with that."

"There's nothing wrong with his tractor. He just wants his front lawn to look really good, so he's using the hand mower instead of the tractor."

"Do you know what he told me two weeks ago? He called me over while he was working on his front yard and told me with a big grin on his face that this was the year he was going to put my lawn to shame. That he was really going to embarrass me this year."

"He even told me his father was a sod farmer. And that his dad was going to help him with the lawn."

"Talk is cheap. He told me the same thing last year, but frankly he was no competition. Even the neighbors remarked that his lawn was nothing compared to mine."

"But this year looks different. He's been working on his lawn every day this week, and now he has that darn hand mower out there. Looks like he could be trouble."

I glanced out the window again in time to see Andy finish mowing his lawn east and west . . . and start mowing it again — north and south.

"Oh, no, a crosshatch pattern," I groaned. "Like the groundskeepers at Tiger Stadium."

"So what are you going to do about it?" she asked, her voice filled with the very strong suggestion that I should start working on my lawn instead of watching Andy work on his.

"I do have a plan," I admitted. "I'm going to get some dandelion seed from the place we buy birdfeed and make a daring midnight sowing spree over that crosshatch pattern. Do you know any place that sells crabgrass seed?"

Our Opinions

Get taxed twice for the price of once

It's hard to believe that a matter of $12,000 to $15,000 within a city budget of $2.6 million or a school district projection of $13 million can generate the intensity of feeling demonstrated during negotiations on summer school tax collections.

City and school officials say it's because the money itself only represents a basic principle to both sides of the debate. From the city's viewpoint, the interest earned by investing school tax revenues for a short time before forwarding the money has always belonged to the city and should not be taken away (without any discussion of why it should belong to the city). From the schools' point of view, the courts have decreed that the money belongs to the agency levying the tax, and that seems fair.

The wrangling really settles down to one issue: which agency gets title to money that is not subject to taxpayer questions and does not require voter approval? If the amount is only $12,000 this year, it might be more significant if interest rates rise again in the future.

For all their logical arguments, both sides have neatly avoided analysis of how their actions affect taxpayers after everything is settled. According to George Bell, the interest savings from summer tax collection will offset the one percent administration fee added by the city. According to Steve Walters, the fee will bring in more than is needed to cover tax collection costs, so a portion will be refunded by means of reduced millage.

If both the school district and the city impose lower millages after all this is done, yet both get more money, we suggest they jointly operate a shell game on Main Street — the same principles apply. The schools get to keep the interest that used to stay with the city, and the city makes up the difference by collecting it from city taxpayers. The city may blame the fee on the schools, but it is in reality a city-imposed addition to the tax bill. We would be stunned if the tax rollback legitimately offset all the added revenue from the $3 per parcel charge and the one percent collection fee.

Meanwhile, the schools may plead innocence, but we're not buying it. The dollar figure in the city may be small, but if you project the interest earnings on the entire school tax collection across six municipalities, there's some serious money at stake. To stand on the principle that "the courts have ruled" is very easy when the most recent court decision puts a hefty wad into your own pocket. Had it been the other way around, with interest earnings suddenly "impounded" by the cities, we wonder if the district would insist on altered procedures even while legislation and court appeals were in process. More likely, we'd be hearing the schools demand a solution "revenue neutral to both sides."

The recent institution of the summer tax collection, and the resultant negotiation over payments of fees between government agencies, complicates the entire picture nearly beyond rational debate. Had the Grand Rapids court ruling on interest payments been handed down 10 years ago, there would have been no debate — the city would simply have sent the money to the school district as ordered and tried to make up the difference. There would have been no negotiating about who pays how much, and no resultant finger-pointing when a solution was found.

As it stands, the local solution in both city and township shapes up like this: the municipalities will give the schools the interest earnings, but neither will suffer a significant loss because steps have been taken to beef up revenues elsewhere. Debates over who, what and where only disguise the fact that the interest earnings remain in the system, yet new fees result in "replacing" the "lost" interest earnings. We suspect the taxpayers are going to be the ones who do the replacing, and the losing.

A winning platform

We are pleased to see at least three residents have shown an interest in serving on the Northville school board. In addition to incumbent Glenna Davis, two first-time candidates Joseph Dunkerley and Robert McMahon will be vying for the two four-year posts.

While there have been more contested races for Northville's school board, this year's election will mean the addition of at least one new trustee to fill the seat vacated by Karen Wilkinson. The last newcomer to join the board was James Petrie, elected in 1983.

The three residents seeking election to the board all have impressive credentials. Voters heading to the polls June 9 will be choosing from among three quality candidates. From where we sit, it appears that issues most likely will decide this election.

Though it may seem that the district finally is heading toward some stabilization after two somewhat tumultuous years, there are several concerns which will need to be addressed by those vying for board seats this June.

With the high school project finally nearing completion and the middle school program well under way, it appears next year's focus will be on finetuning the instructional program — particularly at the senior high level.

The new high school facility should offer the district an opportunity to move ahead with programming formerly discarded due to limitations of the physical plant.

The board also will need to look at the Cooke and Main Street facilities. Should the Department of National Resources take partial occupancy of Main Street School, the Cooke facility has been pegged as a likely location for lodging some of the district's maintenance operations as well as providing some much-needed space for storage. Cooke may also be the site for such community groups as the senior citizens, who currently use the Main Street building.

Another facility which warrants attention is the Moraine Early Childhood Development Center. Growing by leaps and bounds since its conversion from an elementary school to an early education facility, the center has defied critics who claimed the preschool market already was saturated. The school has provided invaluable experience for high school students and is reaching several different segments of the community's population from senior citizens to the physically handicapped.

The school board and administration have done well in meeting the district's longterm goals. We look forward to hearing candidates' views on what direction the district should take in meeting the educational challenges ahead.

Help the party-impaired

By Bruce J. Martin

"You throw a party?" snorted my oldest so-called friend, Sherman X. Kahn. "Haven't you learned your lesson?"

Sherm had me there. The last party I threw fell farther out of bounds than Spud Webb after driving the lane on Moses Malone.

The details are sketchy, but I remember I went into a despondent funk at about nine o'clock when nobody had shown up for this party I'd been planning for two years. All alone with nobody to talk to and nowhere to drive I turned in sorrow to my old buddy the punchbowl. Cup by cup I consumed the swampy goo, all the while slurring over and over: "Nobody loves me. Nobody wants to come to my party. I'm a social disease. No, it's worse than that. I'm not even social."

By 9:45 I was at the peak of pathos and the nadir of numbness. That's when the guests arrived. I thought there were 24 of them, and I don't even know 24 people. Later I was told there were only about 12 and the extras might be explained by my eyes being in need of alignment. All I remember was that I was making every one of them edgier than the National Convention of Paranoiacs at the Watergate Hotel.

"At least it was better than my Super Bowl party," I said to Sherman.

"Super Bowl party?" he repeated hazily.

"I invited you and about 20 others, remember? The only one who came was Freda Munch. She spent hours making a football-shaped clam dip. And minutes eating it."

"I think my car didn't start that night," Sherman fidgeted. "Yeah — that's it, my car, it uh, it froze up on me." He saw I wasn't buying it. "Look, Bruce," he said at last. "I've got to give it to you straight. To have a successful swar-ray, you've got to abide by the rules."

"Rules?"

"Absolutely. First you have to ask yourself, how many people do I want at this party? Then you multiply that number by 10 — well, in your case, maybe multiply by 50 — and then invite that many."

"Are you nuts? What if they all show up?"

"Then the police haul you in for making a disturbance, and you're a neighborhood legend. You'll get invited to every party from here to Juneau."

"How am I supposed to keep that many people entertained?"

"Well, how about renting a VCR and showing some sleazy movies?" Sherman suggested. "Then if nobody shows up, so what? You'll still have a good time."

"Yeah," I said, "But the sleazy movies are either sold out or blurry from being run back-and-forth and back-and-forth and back-and-forth and back-and-forth . . . Uh, that's what I hear," I clarified.

"Well then, you've got to have games," he said.

"I've got 'em all," I said. "Scrabble, Twister, Chutes and Ladders . . ."

Sherman groaned. "Well, pal, sounds to me like you've got some planning to do," he said. "When do you intend to throw this bash?"

"Oh, do you want to come? I was thinking maybe August."

"What, 1986?" said Sherm. "Geez, I'm sorry, Bruce, I'll, ah, be out of town. I've got a business trip planned. Yeah, sure, that's it. I'm going to be in Sioux Falls. No, Japan. That's right, I've got a deal to make in, ah, Osaka . . ."

Use skateboards closer to homes

To the Editor:

This is in response to the skateboard problem. You kids get so upset when you are told that you can't skateboard here or there.

But have you looked at it from the other side?

What would happen if you were skating in a parking lot and popped up in front of a moving car and got hit because the the driver had no time to react?

Or, what if you wiped out and crashed onto the pavement on your head and were seriously injured?

Your parents would sue, of course. They'd sue the driver and/or the parking lot owners. If it's a public lot, the taxpayer would pay the lawsuit. Your parents would no doubt win.

Then again, you may knock someone down and they can sue your parents. What fun!

I know you need a place just for skateboards, but until you get it, don't you think your driveways or the sidewalks around your home would be safer for all?

our mail box?

There probably would be no complaint except for the fact that our mail is often not in the box that the mail person left it in.

I have had our mail scattered around the neighborhood, our box knocked down, fire cracked and vandalized. I had a lady from the other side of Eight Mile Road call me to say that she had some of our mail; when I got the mail, it had been opened and our new credit card from the bank was missing.

Seniors say thanks

To the Editor:

On Friday, April 25, a Senior Center Breakfast was held at the Northville Senior Center. Many wonderful and useful ideas were expressed there.

The breakfast was helped by the sincere efforts of Hardee's Restaurant of Northville and Guernsey Farms Dairy. I would like to thank these two organizations on behalf of the "Breakfast Group" where they were applauded for their support. Again, "Many Thanks!"

Cluster mailboxes replace house-to-house delivery in most subdivisions

Northville postmaster Wallace Cates reports that house-to-house mail delivery, unless in an already established neighborhood, is becoming a service of the past.

He says that the postal service projects that in 25 years all home delivery will be to locked, cluster mailboxes.

These neighborhood cluster units were instituted by the postal service prior to 1980, he adds, and are being used in new subdivisions. He points out that they have an advantage — "no one can go in and grab your mail."

They also are more cost effective than individual boxes, he notes. Northville Township, Cates adds, has passed an ordinance requiring developers to provide space in their subdivision plans for the locked, cluster units.

In areas that do not have an ordinance, Cates reports, when a subdivision is half developed, the choice can be made to have the locked units or curbside boxes on one side of the street. These are installed at the direction of the post office, he states, and also now are clustered.

For homeowners whose mailboxes have been vandalized, Cates suggests that the incidents should be reported to police. He points out that the locked, cluster boxes eventually will reduce the vandalism incidents.

Good Shepherd film series

"Preparing for Adolescence," a film series produced by noted Christian psychologist Dr. James Dobson, will be presented at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Novi.

The entire community is invited to view the films which will be shown at the church on the corner of Nine Mile and Meadowbrook Road. For more information call 349-0565.

The first part of the series will be held tonight (Wednesday, April 30) at 7 p.m. The presentation will deal with the origins of self-doubt.

The series will conclude next Wednesday (May 7) at 7 p.m. with a film on peer pressure and sexuality.

"Preparing our children for their teenage years is so important," commented Good Shepherd Pastor Gene E. Jahnke.

"Parents of pre-teens as well as teenagers will get some valuable insights from these films."

Organizations solicit local volunteers

Both young people and adults have many opportunities to volunteer to help others in the coming months. Here are some organizations in the metropolitan area needing assistance.

□ The American Red Cross, Southeastern Michigan Chapter, is looking for young persons between the ages of 14 and 17 who enjoy meeting and working with people for its Youth Services programs.

Red Cross volunteers who assist with the Easter Seal camps work with handicapped children or adults. Camp activities include assisting with outdoor games, crafts or on field trips to places like Boblo Island, the Belle Isle Zoo or the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Young persons who like to clown around can be members of a clown troop, entertaining and inspiring smiles.

For young persons thinking of a career in the medical field the Red Cross has volunteer opportunities in hospitals and nursing homes.

Volunteers also are needed to assist at blood collection centers, day care and senior citizen centers. Youth volunteers telephone donors for special blood needs, perform clerical duties or tutor children with reading problems. Youths may choose to volunteer from one to three days a week, working five to six hours a day in the area they choose. Call the Red Cross in Wayne County, 494-2858, in Oakland County, 334-3575, to volunteer for summer placement.

□ Volunteers are needed for the 30th annual Detroit area Muscular Dystrophy Association Summer Camp to be held June 22-28 at Camp Cavell and Lake Huron Methodist Camp located 25 miles north of Port Huron. Each muscular dystrophy patient is assigned a volunteer for the week.

Together the patient and volunteer enjoy swimming, bowling, arts and crafts, horseback riding, etc. Volunteers must be at least 16 years old and make camp a reality by serving as the "arms and legs" of the camper to whom they are assigned. The camp is provided at no cost to the camper.

The program is demanding physically and emotionally, but the rewards are endless, the MD Association points out. Young men especially are needed to volunteer. For more information call 476-2920 or 381-3838.

□ Information meetings for prospective adult volunteers will be held from 6:30-7:30 p.m. April 30 (today) and from 10-11 a.m. May 13 in the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Education Center, 5301 E. Huron Dr., at the Catherine McAuley Health Center in Ann Arbor.

Volunteers assist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and other Ann Arbor hospitals as well as at the Arbor Health Building in Plymouth. Complete orientation and training will be provided for all programs. To sign up to attend or for more information call 572-4159.

□ Growth Works, Inc., at 271 S. Main, Plymouth, is seeking volunteers for its Youth Development Program, a diversion program offered in cooperation with area police departments for the juvenile, first-time offender.

This program is designed for both the youth and his/her parents as an alternative to the Juvenile Justice Court system. Volunteers are trained to work weekly with the youth.

Training is open to all interested persons with no previous experience required. Volunteers need to make a commitment of at least six months of approximately three hours a week. Training is approximately 20 hours and covers communication skills, empathy listening, building relationships, alcohol and substance abuse, decision making, consequence of behavior and crisis intervention. For more information and a training schedule call Sue Davis at 455-4902 during business hours.

□ The Michigan Cancer Foundation is recruiting volunteers to serve as in-home companions to cancer patients in their own community to expand the services offered by the Home Care Program. Qualified volunteers should be emotionally secure, sensitive to other people's needs and have good communication skills. Adequate transportation to serve cancer patients in their area also is necessary.

Volunteers will offer assistance in the activities of daily living in the home and help with shopping or errands.

The training program, which begins in May, will include information about cancer and home care, communication and listening skills, spiritual, legal aspects and bereavement follow-up. Contact program coordinator Carol Munsell at 833-0710, ext. 206 or 291.

The Northville Record

Mustangs tie Spartans 2-2

All doubts have been erased — the Northville girls' soccer squad has to be considered one of the elite teams in the state once again this season.

In another chapter of the classic battle with powerful Livonia Stevenson, the Mustangs showed why they have yet to lose a game after nine outings this season and why they are a very dangerous team. Trailing 2-0 at Stevenson on April 25, Northville fought back to gain a tie with the state's number one ranked team. The fact that it happened on the Spartan's home field makes the accomplishment even more notable.

"It was a hard fought game that they won in the first half and we won in the second half," Coach Stan Smalec said. "I am very pleased that we had the character and determination to come back and tie it."

The tie, combined with two blow-outs to Walled Lake Western (7-0) and Farmington Harrison (11-0) earlier in the week gives the Mustangs a 6-0-3 overall mark, 4-0-3 in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

The Stevenson clash started off on a down note for Northville as the Spartans took the lead on a shot that deflected off a Mustang defender and got by goalie Tricia Ducker just two minutes into the game.

"It took us about 25 minutes to regain our composure," Smalec admitted. "Our defense started to sag mentally. I don't think anybody realizes what we had to overcome because it is really a hard to get it out of your mind when you score on yourself."

Just before the half, Stevenson scored again to make it 2-0 but Smalec's troops regrouped at intermission and came out with fire in their eyes for the second half.

"We pulled ourselves together at halftime and showed some character in the next half," Smalec said.

Jenni Schuerman took a pass from Julie Anger and scored to narrow the gap to 2-1 about 19 minutes into the final 45 minutes of play. But as the clock ticked away, Smalec decided his team needed a little more punch offensively so he moved Anger from her defensive spot to the front line. A few minutes later, Anger beat the Spartan goalie with a precise shot in the upper right portion of the net to tie it up, and that is how it ended. The assists on the play went to Robin Strunk and Jodie Smalec.

"We had our chances at other times during the game to score, but we just didn't finish the play," Smalec said. "Strunk, (Karen) Baird and Smalec all missed opportunities that probably should have been in the net."

The Northville defense was brilliant once again, allowing just one corner kick and only 16 shots on goal. Smalec was very pleased with the play of Strunk and Kim Fladding who, he said, were the catalysts in the game both offensively and defensively.

The two shutouts for Ducker in the wins over Western and Harrison were her sixth and seventh of the season — but, in reality, they were easy outings for her. The Mustang defense allowed the Warriors just one shot on goal in the April 21 match and none versus the Hawks two days later.

Baird and Strunk paced Northville with two goals apiece at Western while Fladding and Schuerman notched three each against Harrison. The Mustang offense battered the two teams with 63 shots on goal, but it was against two weaker WLAA teams.

Two goals against Stevenson is like scoring 10 against some other teams," Smalec admitted. "I think our attack is picking up and starting to click."

Northville boys' track squad 0-3

The Northville boys' track team continues to lose, but if it's any consolation, it appears that the losing margins are also continuing to narrow.

Does that mean the team is getting better and that that illusive first win this season is on the way? Coach Paul Osborn thinks so.

In the team's only dual meet action last week, the Mustangs dropped their third straight outing to Livonia Franklin 83-55 on April 24, but the 28-point spread is a definite improvement for Northville. After surrendering 108 and 100 points in the first two meets, almost anything would be an improvement.

"The score in this one was a little bit closer, and I thought we saw more people picking up points for us," Osborn said.

The Mustangs did win five of the 17 events, the best showing as far as wins go this season, but it still was not nearly enough. Getting shut out in several field events like the discus and high jump again took its toll, but Osborn's squad just doesn't seem to possess the depth to rack up points in too many events.

Dana Letarte has been the squad's most consistent scorer this season and against Franklin, he continued that trend with two individual wins and another first as a member of a relay team. Letarte won the 100-meter dash (11.6) and the long jump (18'-7½") and a first in the 400-meter relay along with Matt Hubert, Tim Millen and Rich Gird (46.0).

Distance specialist Kevin Haas also has a fine day with wins in both the mile (4:50.9) and the two mile (10:29) runs, but he didn't get much help from his teammates. The only other Northville win came in the two-mile relay, with Jeff Harp, Steve Brooks, Gird and John Frisbee clocking a time of 8:48.

Millen was the runner-up in both the high (16.9) and low (45.00) hurdles, Frisbee was second in the 800-meter run (2:07) as was Harp in the 400-meter dash (53.6).

Bill Herguth's 37'-10" effort in the shot put was good for second and prevented another Franklin sweep in a field event. Matt Peltz gave the Mustangs a few more points by taking second in the pole vault, clearing the 11-foot mark, but the multiple-place finishes were nonexistent.

And maybe that is the problem — Northville just doesn't seem to string together many places in any one event. There are just six more dual meets and relay events left in the regular season for the track team, and the time to start peaking and getting some wins is fast approaching.

Baseballers split pair of league games

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Coming off a pair of extremely close one-run losses in a row, the Northville baseball squad needed a win to get back on track. As luck would have it, an extra-inning 7-4 win over Walled Lake Western fit the bill perfectly, and the Mustangs are back to their winning ways once again.

Last Wednesday (April 23), Northville ran into a tough pitcher in Livonia Franklin's Brian Solnowski, fell behind early and never mounted much of an attack in a 3-2 defeat. But two days later, the Mustangs pounded the ball against the Warriors but still needed nine innings to put Western away.

"After two close losses, this will do a lot for our momentum," Coach Bob Frellick said. "Our kids don't like to lose, and, if they do, they feel they played poorly. Even if they play well, like against Franklin, and lose, they still feel that they didn't do the job."

Keith Dutkiewicz, the second batter of Western clash, singled and advanced to second on a stolen base. An RBI double by Paul Newitt scored Dutkiewicz and Northville took a 1-0 lead.

In the third, with Eric Terlecki in scoring position at second base, thanks to a hit and a wild pitch, Dutkiewicz drove him in with a single and then he later scored on a sacrifice by Newitt. The Mustangs then scored a single run in the fifth without the aid of a hit to give starting pitcher Chris Dominique a 4-0 cushion.

But the Western bats, that were silent in the first five innings, came alive. Dominique walked a first two batters in the inning, and then was tagged for two hits and a wild pitch. Jay Moore entered the game in relief, but the Patriots had already scored twice to narrow it to 4-2.

"(Dominique) just tired a little bit, so I brought Moore in," Frellick said. "Chris had a no-hitter heading into the sixth, so obviously he pitched well."

But in the seventh, Moore surrendered two singles and a walk to load the bases and gave way to pitcher Brett Loomis. Franklin tied it up as two runs scored on an uncharacteristic error by the Mustangs, sending the game into extra innings.

"They just kept chipping away at the lead and eventually tied it up," Frellick said.

Neither team could score in the eighth, but, in the ninth, Northville pushed three runs across to give Loomis the win. Dutkiewicz collected his third hit of the game with a solo homer to lead off the inning, and Newitt drove in another and scored the last run himself.

For the game, the Mustangs banged out 13 hits to Western's six and the big guns at the plate were Dutkiewicz (three hits, four runs scored) and Newitt (three hits, two RBIs). Mark Olsen and Adam Behen also helped the cause with two runs batted in apiece.

The Franklin game was a battle of pitching, but three quick runs in the first two innings provided the Patriots with enough of a margin to win. Dominique also started this game but was in trouble from the opening pitch. A lead-off walk and a two run homer made it 2-0 and another run in the second off Loomis (who relieved Dominique) was the extent of the Franklin attack.

Through the next five innings, Loomis blanked the Patriots on just one hit and no runs, but the Mustang hitters collected only two hits off Solnowski and never really threatened until the sixth. With two outs, Scott Peterson walked and Newitt unloaded a towering two-run home run to close it to 3-2 — but Northville went down 1-2-3 in the seventh to end the game.

"It was a very well played game between two good teams and some good pitchers," Frellick said. "In this league you're going to run into good pitchers on the top of their game and that's what happened to us. (Solnowski) humbled us at the plate."

Newitt completed an outstanding week at the plate with a 2-for-2 outing versus Franklin. In the two games, he was 5-for-6, with four RBIs, three runs scored and no strike outs.

And despite the costly error against Western, Frellick is ecstatic with the great defense and heady plays the Mustangs seem to thrive on.

"If these kids make a mistake, they come back and don't dwell on the negative," he pointed out. "And that is what you like to see."

The Mustangs are now 4-2 overall and 3-2 in the Western Lakes.

Lady thinclads lose to Churchill, 76-52

A lack of scoring punch in the shot put, discus and high jump continues to plague Coach Mike Webb and the Mustang girls' track squad.

With some more help in the field events Northville could have made its April 24 dual meet with WLAA foe Livonia Churchill very interesting. But it didn't happen, and the Mustangs dropped their third straight outing of the season to the Patriots 76-52.

It was the closest loss for the team so far, and that fact alone gives Webb optimism — it shows the team is getting better and that means that the first win could be just around the corner.

And the Tiger Relays in Belleville last Saturday emphasized the point even more. With one outstanding performance after another, Northville placed a very respectable 7th out of a strong field of 12.

"I feel we did a good job with all the tough competition at Belleville," Webb said. "I saw very good performances from almost everybody who made the trip. I was pretty excited after it was over because of all the strong performances."

With all the troubles in the field events, Webb has no concerns about his long jump crew as junior Karen Stinson, freshman Krista Schwartz and Kris Marrone combined to place second overall in the event. Webb was also pleased to see Julie Trausch set a personal best throw of 82'-1" in the discus, but the team did not place.

Newcomer Linda Groves, just a sophomore, surprised everybody with a very strong leg in the four mile relay, her first competition at that distance this season. She teamed with Wendy Nuechterlein, Sue Austin and Jennifer Goshorn to grab fourth place. Groves then responded in the distance relay race with Austin, Robin McDuffie and Carol Olsen, and that group finished seventh.

Stinson was very busy and very productive as well, leading the mile relay and 880-yard relay teams to a pair of sevenths. "Karen is like poetry in motion out on the track," Webb said. "I smile from ear to ear when I see her running."

Against Franklin, it was close the whole way, but the Mustangs never could break into the lead and ultimately lost by 24 points. Again, it was Stinson and Schwartz as the dynamic duo in the long jump. Schwartz won the event with a fine 15'-9" and Stinson was second with a 14'-11½". Stinson was also competing in the high jump and responded with a third place finish (4'-3").

Anne Griffith, Pam Kavanagh, Goshorn and Blanchard won the two mile relay (11:11.0) and Griffith came back later to take another first, this time in the two mile run (5:57.79). Northville swept the event as Goshorn was second (6:26.42) and Nuechterlein third (6:30.83).

Other firsts by the Mustangs were in the 800 relay and the 440-yard dash, and Stinson was a key figure in both. Christi Lenaghan, Stinson, Marrone and Erin Holmberg combined efforts for a 1:58.66, and Stinson alone clocked a 1:08.88 in the 440.

Griffith was the winner in the two mile run (23:14.49); Lenaghan was the runner-up in the 100-yard dash (13.10) and Lynn Bills grabbed two thirds in the 110 (19.23) and the 330 (56.56) hurdles.

Netters drop initial two

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Prior to last week's action, Northville tennis Coach Dick Norton was a little concerned because, after four matches, his team hadn't really been tested.

But that isn't a problem anymore because after five straight pushovers, the Mustangs tangled with some real competition last week, winning two of four outings. Northville opened the week on Monday (April 21) with a rain shortened 5-1 win over Walled Lake Western and then bounced a tough Ypsilanti squad 5-2 the following day. But on April 23, Norton's netters dropped the first match of the season to powerful Livonia Stevenson 5-2 and then fell again on Friday to Plymouth Canton by a deceiving 7-0 score.

"It was some extremely good competition this week, and I'm sure the kids will be better for it," Norton said.

Only one match wasn't completed when the rains fell in the contest with the Warriors, but it was still enough for the Mustangs' fourth straight win on Monday. Mark Reitenga, still filling in at No. 1 singles for the injured Terry Michelitch, had no trouble with Ray Aust (6-0, 6-2) but brother Mike's match was ended after he had built a lead after winning the first set 6-0.

"It's too bad he couldn't finish it because he undoubtedly would have won it — but it started to get real slippery out there," Norton explained.

Mike Tabaczynski trounced Jeff Sauderford at No. 3 singles 6-2, 6-1, and Dan Boland was victorious at No. 4 with a 6-2, 6-4 win over Mike Wissink.

The first two Northville doubles teams also won their matches in straight sets, but the third team of newcomers Phil Weaver and Dan Kazaleh was beaten by Western's Jay Scott and Jeff Kingston 4-6, 1-6.

At Ypsilanti, Norton was surprised to see that the team's No. 1 player

'It was some extremely good competition this week, and I'm sure the kids will be better for it.'

— Dick Norton
Mustang Tennis Coach

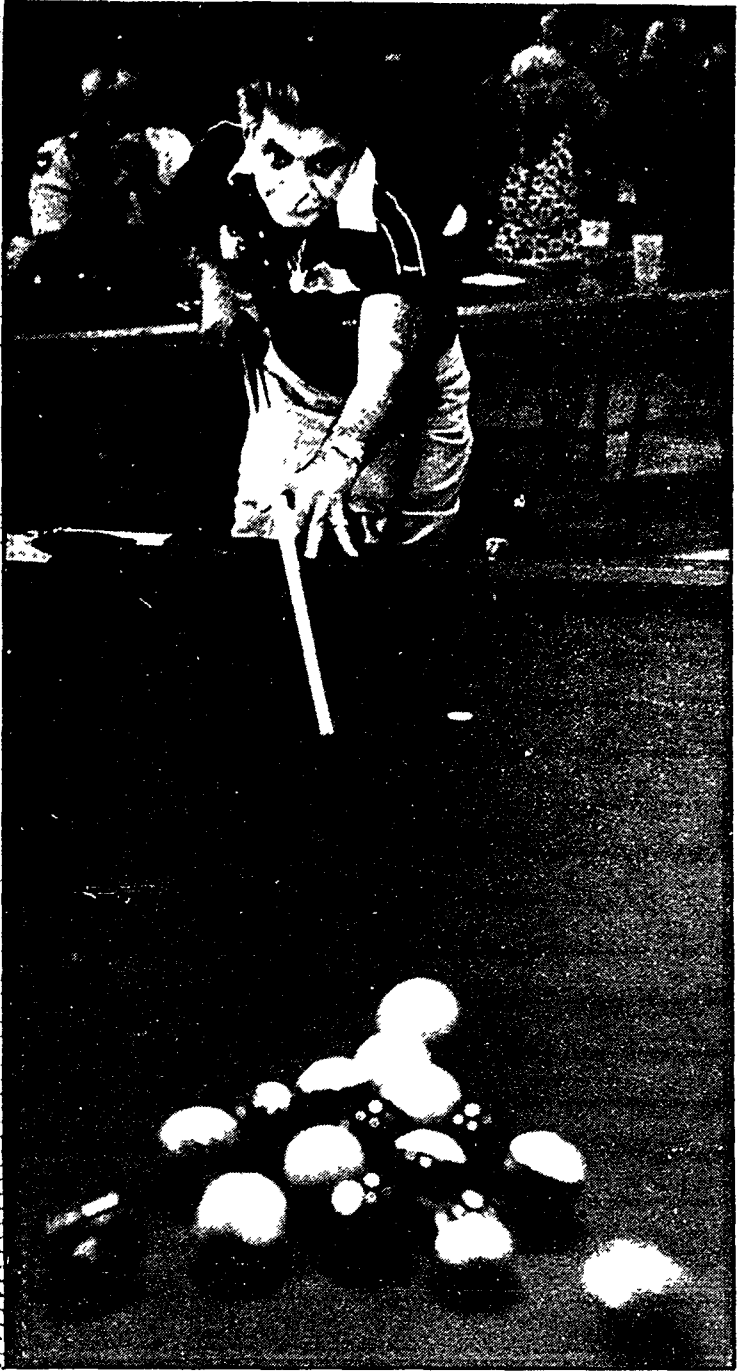

from last year decided to go out for baseball instead of tennis in '86. At singles, Mike Reitenga breezed to a 6-2, 6-2 win at No. 2 over Brian Braun, and it took three hours for Boland finally to dispose of Mike Kassarian 3-6, 6-4, 9-7 at No. 4. But both Mark Reitenga and Tabaczynski lost in the singles to send the deciding matches into the doubles.

Michelitch was inserted into the line-up for the first time this season, but Norton teamed him with his son, Don, at first doubles to protect his mending sprained ankle. The two cruised to a 6-3, 6-0 win over Chris Callison and Dan Rice while the No. 3 team of Mark Bertagnoli and Dave Merrifield also won in straight sets. But at No. 2, the Dave Kaminski-Doug Kamienecki team needed three sets to turn back Greg Pearson-Cory Scouse (4-6, 6-1, 6-3).

Both the Stevenson and Canton matches were close, with an abundance of exciting tennis, but the Mustangs seemed to lose a lot of close games, making the final scores very deceiving. To top it off, Michelitch missed the Stevenson contest with an illness and Mark Reitenga lost again (2-6, 2-6) at No. 1

Zion grabs second

It was the familiar tale of the "local boy makes good" at the 1986 VFW State Pool Tournament. But this time it wasn't a tale at all — it was reality.

Northville Post 4012 singles champion Norm Zion electrified the home crowd all day last Friday (April 25) in the singles competition, making it all the way to the championship best of eight series.

Zion, of 744 Carpenter in Northville, eventually fell five games to one against Ron Howel of Ecorse in the finals, but it was a day he'll never forget.

"It was a tough day and the nerves really get to you after a while," Zion admitted. "But after it was all over, I felt great. It was a great thrill for me — I didn't get back down to earth until Monday."

"If it wasn't for the crowd behind me to keep the adrenalin flowing, I probably would have been out in the first round. The people supporting me made me feel like I was the winner at the end even though I came in second place."

Zion won seven straight nerve-racking best two of three matches to get to the finals in the event held at the Northville Rec Center. In the team competition on Saturday, Post 4012 placed second in the state, behind only Ecorse.

Zion breaks to start yet another pressure packed game (upper left); Norm's wife Johanna and son Amos can barely watch as a crucial shot awaits — but are all smiles following a win (bottom left); congratulations are in order from Johanna after each win (below); Norm watches as his opponent gets his turn (near left) and waits some more, pondering his next shot (above).

Softball team searches for positives amid losses

Bob Gerlach never thought he'd be happy with a loss when he decided the take over the head coaching duties for the Northville softball team this season. But when positives are hard to come by, you quickly learn to latch onto just about anything.

The Mustangs dropped another pair last week, giving them a 1-6 overall record (1-4 in WLAA), but Gerlach has managed to keep the team's spirits up, thanks in part to a gutsy comeback in a 6-4 defeat against Walled Lake Western on Friday (April 25). But then again, anything would have been an improvement over the April 23 match up with Livonia Franklin, a deceiving 18-2 slaughter.

If it was anything, the Walled Lake Western game was exciting to watch. Only a late rally by Northville made it interesting, but the drama of the final innings was enough for any game.

"It was an unbelievable game," Gerlach said. "It was one of the best games I've ever seen."

Diane Ford, the upstart junior pitcher, got the nod against the Warriors and was quite effective. She was tagged for a triple in the second, but a pair of errors caused most of the damage as Western scored twice to go up 2-0.

The Mustangs scored one in the fourth without a hit but heading into the seventh inning, the Warriors had a 3-1 advantage. Three more runs in the seventh upped the lead to 6-1, and it looked bleak for Northville, who only had one hit all game long.

"We just told the girls that it wasn't over yet and to go out and try to get close, and it must have hit home," Gerlach said.

Dorothy Ziegler opened the inning with a single, Nancy Dutkiewicz walked and Lisa Siemasz loaded the bases with another hit. Chris McGowan then connected on a clutch single to drive two in, and an error on the play made it 6-4 with only one out.

Another walk loaded the bases for Sue Schrader, but she blooped the ball over second base and, as the centerfielder and shortstop converged on the ball, all three runners were going. The centerfielder dove for the ball, caught it and then the shortstop plowed into her. But amazingly, the ball stayed in the mit, even though the centerfielder was knocked out cold. Two of the three runners were already at home plate and the third was close behind, but when they discovered the ball was caught, they raced back around the bases to avoid a double play.

Alertly, a Western player ran over to the collapsed fielder, took the ball out of her mit and fired to second base just in time to tag out Siemasz and that's how it ended. If the ball had been dropped, the three Northville runs would have won the game.

"We can't be too upset about the way we rallied back in the seventh inning," Gerlach said.

The comeback provided a bright spot in the loss to the Warriors, but there was very little to cheer about in the Franklin game. The Patriots' ace pitcher Traci Leckta wasn't overpowering, but she didn't let the Mustangs get together any big offensive innings either.

"I was surprised that we were able to hit the ball against her," Gerlach said. "We were going to try and bunt against her, but they came in a first and third and forced us to hit."

Franklin scored twice in the first inning and three more in the second to take a big early lead. Northville scratched out two runs in the third (on just one hit) but by the sixth inning, the Patriots were in control 8-2.

"In the sixth our pitching just caved in," Gerlach pointed out. "We were basically still in the game up to that point."

Pitcher Lisa Brannon gave up three walks with no outs and then her replacement, Kim Wilds gave up three more. In all, Franklin scored 10 times before the mercy rule was used.

BIG SPLASH — Two Northville High School graduates made a big splash in 1986 as members of the Michigan State University women's swim team. Kristin Nelson ('83 grad to the right) and Kim Thompson ('84 grad) helped the Spartans to a fourth place finish in the Big Ten Swimming Championships in early March. At the April 20 team banquet Nelson, a junior majoring in Physiology, was honored for her academic and athletic leadership qualities. She received the Scholar Athlete Award by maintaining a fine 3.8 grade point average and the Coaches Award in recognition for "dedication and exhibiting positive leadership."

Existing home sales break former records

With a near 40 percent jump from a year ago, March sales of 1,988 existing homes and 91 condominiums set a new monthly record for members of the Metro MLS.

"Our previous high came in May of 1978 when sales totalled 1,951 units," said Joanne R. Bryngelson, president of the multiple listing service. "We think March set the pace for achievement of a new annual record if interest rates remain down and we have sufficient inventory."

Bryngelson said a 14 percent rise in average prices for detached homes in the past year to the $71,000 level has not deterred serious buyers.

"Average prices for detached homes eased off a bit from the $71,761 recorded in February and still remain well below the $93,200 reported nationwide for January," she said.

"The strength of the current market also is bringing more newer homes on the market as owners move up the housing ladder, so today's buys still represent excellent values."

March statistics from the service, which is a sister organization to the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors, showed new listings of 3,642 detached houses. This was down from 3,718 a year ago, but up from 2,568 in February. Condominium listings of 161 also were down from 198 a year ago and up from 138 in February.

"It appears that we are continuing to be one of the hottest housing markets in the nation," Bryngelson said. "The excellent sales in March moved us some 25 percent above totals at this time in 1985. Although, highest sales are continuing in such popular markets as Farmington Hills, Livonia, Westland and Southfield, we are seeing greatly improved sales in all areas."

"We were particularly pleased to see the high number of new listings added by our service in March. But, with the sales ratio heading toward the 60 percent level, buyers will still have to move fast when they find something they like."

She noted that conventional mortgages were used for 71 percent of March sales with the percentage rising as prices increased. The 14.7 percent using FHA/VA financing, the 5.7 percent involving assumed mortgages and 4.9 with land contracts were primarily for homes at the lower end of the pricing scale.

Employers should expect higher unemployment tax

Despite a decrease in Michigan's unemployment levels, employers throughout the state can expect to pay higher unemployment taxes in 1987, according to John Galles, executive director of the Small Business Administration of Michigan.

Amendments to the state's unemployment act approved by the Michigan legislature in 1982 froze the maximum weekly benefit level at $197 through 1986.

Unless action is taken prior to that time, the maximum benefit levels will increase by at least 30 percent when the freeze is lifted.

In order to assure that future increases in unemployment insurance taxes are kept to a minimum and are equitable for all employers in the state, it is necessary to develop a strategy to address this issue as soon as possible, said Galles.

The state's top priority, according to Galles, should be to build a reserve to prevent future borrowing of interest-bearing loans from the federal government.

From 1983 to mid-1985, Michigan employers were subjected to a penalty tax which was used to pay back the interest-bearing portion of federal loans that the state had been forced to borrow after its own reserves had been depleted by record unemployment levels.

Now that Michigan has repaid the interest-bearing portion of its federal debt, Galles said the state should work to establish its own reserve as a precaution against future economic downturns that create high unemployment levels.

Beverly Mohr has found success in the clothing business

Clothing store keeps on growing

By ANDREA DAVIES

With gross sales of $920,000 at her clothing stores in Milford and Brighton last year, Beverly Rae Mohr raised her salary from $100 to $200 a week.

"I always seem to be growing at such a rate that there's no money to take out," said Mohr, who owns Beverly Rae's, That Kid and That Man stores in both communities. "It all goes into the business."

Her women's, children's and men's clothing are priced in the moderate to high range. The clothes are traditional, which she said are appropriate year after year, and classic, which are similar to traditional clothes. "But we try to do it with flair."

Before she entered the retail business, Mohr worked in accounting at Burroughs Corp. while raising four children. After 24 years of accounting, she quit her job for something more challenging and accepted a position as manager of a Nawrot Pendleton Shop.

After 2½ years, she and her husband opened a Pendleton shop in Fowlerville. While previously living in South Redford, the Mohrs had spent recreational time in Livingston County and liked it so much they bought 11 acres of land in Fowlerville and built their new home there.

To open Beverly's Casuals, she obtained a line of credit for $40,000, which meant she could draw on the money when she needed it. After less than a year, with gross sales of $52,000, she relocated the store to Hartland.

The line of higher-priced women's clothing had not sold well enough because of the time — 1979, the beginning of a recession. She said another reason is that Fowlerville does not have enough people in general and enough people who make clothes their priority.

She expanded the Hartland store to include men's clothing.

During the next years she learned two mists in the retail business — stocking the right merchandise and putting on sales.

Mohr also learned how to make projected goals, which is necessary to predict how much inventory is needed, and to look at the total picture, she said. Reading financial statements was another new responsibility for her.

She also learned how to do promotion and advertising, and about personnel, "not to mention cleaning," she said.

Another thing she learned was from her mistake of buying too much merchandise. With her store bulging

Northville man joins Shelby Auto firm

George Merwin has been appointed vice president, sales, marketing and public affairs of Shelby Automobiles, Inc., located in Whittier, a suburb of Los Angeles. The announcement was made by Carroll Shelby, president and owner of the high-performance automobile company.

Merwin, who was a long-time resident of Brookland Farms in the Novi-Northville area, is a veteran of more than 35 years in the auto industry, much of it in performance, and held the same post for the Shelby American Company in the '60s.

He began his auto career with the Ford Motor Company in 1948 as a staff artist and remained there in a variety of posts for 32 years until he took a special early retirement in 1980.

He recalls helping a young "up and coming" executive with his first presentation while at Ford. The young executive was Lee Iacocca.

Merwin continued to be associated with Iacocca on many subsequent assignments, including new car introductions, car shows and exhibits and Ford's race and rally program in both the United States and overseas.

In the late '50s, while on assignment in Florida, Merwin met Carroll Shelby, who at the time was driving a Ferrari for the team of John Edgar.

Shelby and Merwin became close friends. In the early '60s Ford assigned Merwin to help Shelby start the Shelby American Company that produced the Shelby Cobras and Mustangs. He subsequently became that company's sales and marketing manager.

When Shelby American disbanded, Ford assigned Merwin to operate as public relations and marketing manager for DeTomaso of America, a specialized automobile company set up to retail the Pantera Italian sports car in the United States.

Merwin's working relationship with Shelby was rekindled in September, 1985, when Shelby telephoned to say, "We did it once before, let's do it again."

Merwin joined Shelby Automobiles in his present post in November, 1985, and has established a national dealer network of Shelby franchised Dodge dealers.

Merwin, born June 8, 1922, in Munising, Mich., earned a degree at Chicago American Art Academy in the late 1940s, following service as a World War II Air Force flight instructor at Wright Field in Dayton. He is married and has three daughters.

College tuition costs show continued increase

Students attending college and their parents should get ready to feel squeezed a little harder this year as they fill out that financial aid forms, according to Steven C. Denk, a Certified Financial Planner and executive director of The College Planning Institute in Park Ridge, Illinois.

"Funding college just isn't getting any easier," says Denk. "Each year the financial assistance the government offers just keeps getting more difficult to qualify for, and with continued federal budget cuts imminent, federal assistance is drying up for many students."

Parents will want to hold on to their seats (or their pocketbooks) as the budget ax swings in the direction of student aid. For those parents or students who don't want to take this lying down, or can't afford to, help may be near at hand.

The College Planning Institute offers a free informational guide that describes the private, non-federal sources of money available to college students and discusses the computer search services that offer help in finding this money. This is money provided to students by corporations, industry trade groups, associations, clubs, unions, special interest groups and the like. The guide will be sent to you if you call toll free 1-800-872-1221 and ask for extension 6025.

As you'll probably recall, when President Reagan took office he was hoping the private sector would one day take over much of what the government had been supplying. When it comes to college financial aid, it may surprise you to learn that over $3 billion in assistance is available from private sources all across the nation. In some instances, portions of this money never get disbursed due to a lack of students applying.

"Many parents and students don't have any idea this money exists, or if they do, they just don't know where to find it or how to apply," explains Denk. "Today we have the information technology and the means to access data-bases holding billions of dollars worth of scholarship details. By using that technology, a parent or student can find out very quickly just where the money is that they qualify for."

As college costs continue to increase and federal aid gets battered by every new budget constraint, private grants and scholarships are going to play a larger role in helping parents and students find the means to cope with those tuition payments.

Perhaps Reagan will get his wish and begin seeing more private money take the place of federal assistance. For college students one thing is certain, they not only will want to see it, they'll need to see it.

New banking laws should benefit consumers

Major new state banking legislation will benefit consumers, banks and Michigan's economy, according to Oakland Focus, the quarterly economic review for Oakland County.

The new law (Public Act 177 of 1985) establishes modern statewide and interstate banking regulations designed to put Michigan back into the mainstream of banking laws.

Michigan now stands an excellent chance of becoming the "banking center of the Midwest," according to Oakland Focus.

The new law relaxes current restrictions on branch banking. For 45 years Michigan law restricted branch banking to a parent bank's home county or a 25-mile radius of its main office. Now, a bank's customers will be able to conduct their banking business conveniently at branches across the state.

The law allows the formation of one-bank holding companies, thereby offering opportunities for diversification that small banks could not achieve under the old law. Large bank holding companies can reduce costs by eliminating duplicate management structures currently necessitated by operating subsidies as separate banks.

The law also permits interstate banking, first with surrounding states, provided those states have similar arrangements. Full interstate banking will be allowed beginning in 1988. The law also simplifies the procedures for bank mergers and acquisitions, making it possible for banks to compete more freely.

The Quality Goes In Before You Do!

Family budget will aid financial woes

With two kids, $20,000 in debts and no sign of financial relief in sight, the Smiths desperately needed a solution.

They first came on hard times when David Smith gave up on his failing restaurant. In its wake, the Smiths were saddled with a $10,000 debt to Uncle Sam for back taxes and another $10,000 in loans from friends — loans that had kept the failing business alive in its final, bleak days.

Since the restaurant folded last May, David and his wife have been unable to get on their feet financially. Despite efforts to put a lid on their weekly expenses, they were slipping deeper into debt each week.

Like many parents, the Smiths want to send their kids to college, live in a decent place and have a little bit left over for themselves. But on their combined after-tax income of $429 per week, the Smiths were having serious financial problems.

While the Smiths' case poses a serious family financial challenge, it is not unlike millions of American families who have difficulty making ends meet. Sometimes there are no easy answers to these tight money situations, according to the Michigan Association of CPAs. But there are practical steps that can be taken to make the best of difficult situations.

"In the Smiths' case and in the case of anyone having serious financial problems, the first thing to be done is to commit a budget to paper," said Robert Warwick of the American Institute of CPAs' Personal Financial Planning Committee. "Once you've got all that information in front of you, it's a lot easier to watch your dollars and find places where you can save."

THE BUDGET: To begin a budget,

Money Management

write down your monthly fixed expenses and total income. The more thorough your list, the better, said Warwick.

Here's a list of common fixed expenses: rent or house payments; utilities; insurance on your health, life, automobile or other property; car payments; other personal loan payments; property taxes; education expenses and retirement funding.

Here's a list of variable expenses: food, clothing, automobile gasoline and maintenance, magazines, personal care aids, household supplies, entertainment and babysitters.

Finally, total your variable and fixed expenses and subtract that amount from your monthly income. The difference is your monthly discretionary income. That's what you have available for savings, investments, vacations and new purchases. And this is where some real budgeting work is to be done.

TIGHTENING UP: If you have little or no discretionary income, you will want to find ways to reduce your expenses. Look first at ways to reduce your variable expenses, since these are items which are in your control. Get the fat out of that budget.

If you've already trimmed expenses as much as possible, you may want to consider finding a way to bolster your income. Perhaps getting a new job that pays more or getting a second job is possible.

In addition to making changes in your expenses and income, you may also be able to squeeze more out of your budget by applying some tighter controls and applying some practical budget techniques. You may need to purchase a journal or diary and enter your expenses two or three times a week in order to ensure that you will meet the monthly goals you have set.

If meeting these monthly goals proves difficult, consider breaking your budget into a weekly summary, which will allow you to stay on top of things from day to day. "Entering everything in a journal is important," said Warwick, "especially for compulsive spenders and people with little control over themselves when shopping."

Warwick stressed that this budgeting process must be a family effort. A husband and wife must agree on the budget in order to make it livable. In addition, if you have children who receive an allowance, they too must be made aware of the special effort that is being made to apply tighter controls to family finances. It is a lesson that can benefit them in later years.

Once you have established a family budget that everyone agrees upon, the most serious work will be maintaining control over expenditures to insure that you meet your budget goals. Here are some tips that can help you meet those goals.

□ Credit Caps: Ask creditors to put a monthly cap on the amount you can charge.

□ Credit KO: Eliminate credit cards if you're a compulsive charger.

□ Get Another Job: The extra income from working part-time for even a couple of weeks could be enough to get you over the hump.

□ Don't Shop: Avoid putting yourself in a store where you'd be tempted to break your budget.

□ Refinance a Mortgage: With interest rates dropping over the past year, paying the closing costs on a refinanced mortgage may be worthwhile. If the mortgage you now pay is two points or more above the prevailing rate, you can probably put some extra cash in your pocket.

Dropping the interest rate two points on a typical $50,000 mortgage lowers your payments approximately $80 per month. Warwick recommends financially strapped families stick with fixed rate mortgages rather than subject themselves to possible fluctuations of adjustable rate mortgages.

□ Consolidate Personal Loans: If you have several personal or credit card loans outstanding, consider applying for a single bank loan that covers all of them. This can save you money on maintenance fees and bring you a lower rate of payment.

Bank loan rates are usually lower than rates offered at finance companies. If you think you'll have trouble getting a bank loan, consider getting the help of a CPA or non-profit credit counseling service. They will help you prepare cash flow and personal financial statements that can convince a lender you are a good credit risk.

For the Smiths and other families who face difficult financial times, quick fixes are unlikely. But adhering to a strict budget and finding corners to cut can start you in the right direction.

Legislation continues trade assistance funds

Businesses losing ground to imports received good news when President Reagan signed a far-reaching budget reconciliation bill.

Included in the bill is a six-year reauthorization of the Trade Adjustment Assistance program, administered by the U.S. Department of Commerce.

The primary goal of the program is assisting workers and businesses hurt by import competition. Besides providing cash benefits to workers displaced by foreign competition, the program also funds technical assistance projects — such as the Great Lakes Trade Adjustment Assistance Center (TAAC).

TAAC, one of the several programs within the Special Projects Division of the University of Michigan's Institute of Science and Technology, was established in 1983 and continues to help companies in Michigan, Ohio and Indiana bounce back from import competition.

Although the Great Lakes TAAC must apply for operational funding each year, the six-year reauthorization included in the reconciliation bill is a good sign, according to U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, whose district includes the university.

"Reauthorization of the Trade Assistance Program is an important step for local businesses fighting foreign competition," Pursell said.

"By authorizing the program through fiscal 1991, we know money will be available for allocation to local centers such as the one at the University of Michigan.

"The Great Lakes TAAC has proven to be an effective tool for companies wanting to remain competitive. A good number of firms have been able to avoid closing — thus saving local jobs — thanks to the TAAC program."

The Center is staffed by professionals in engineering, marketing and finance who average over 25 years of industry experience. It also draws on the resources of university faculty and students, who lend their expertise to projects relating to their specialized fields.

The Great Lakes TAAC has worked with firms in a variety of industries — among them apparel, agricultural instruments, computer controls, glassware, industrial fasteners, steel and wood products.

The Center recently received an award for its part in saving a Michigan air compressor manufacturer from closing. TAAC's involvement helped keep some 50 workers from entering the unemployment line.

"The reauthorization tells us that funding will be available for another six years, even though we apply for our individual funding annually. It's definitely good news," said Marian J. Krzyzowski, Great Lakes TAAC director.

In the past, the Great Lakes TAAC has received annual operational grants of $1.2 million, according to Krzyzowski.

Store owner uses profits to expand business

with clothes, she opened a second Beverly Rae's in Milford in 1981.

Then, to get more sales, she relocated her Hartland store to Main Street in downtown Brighton.

In 1985 two financial changes took place: the partnership became incorporated, and she received her first paycheck, for $100 a week.

During the same year, she expanded both stores to include children's clothing. The children's section in Milford includes a play area with bean bag chairs and a television set complete with a video cassette recorder, so kids can watch movies while their moms shop.

With more merchandise to house, it meant she needed more floor space in her Brighton store. "So" last November, Beverly Rae's moved to a new location across Main Street, increasing the floor space from 1,500 to 7,000 square feet.

To stock her store with the right merchandise that customers will buy, Mohr and one of her buyers stay on top of what will be hot more than a year ahead of time, since she buys 12 months in advance.

They attend markets in New York City, Chicago and Detroit where manufacturers show their lines of clothing. They also attend fashion shows and read retail trade magazines which show what will be hot way ahead of time. (Next year, she said, watch for silver and gold shoes and accessories.)

She has "the most tremendous sales" because she buys a lot of merchandise, which is especially necessary in a small town so that there is a good selection of items.

The two sales begin in mid-January and July 5, and once something is on sale, it stays on sale, she said. Merchandise that has not sold after the in-season sales gets marked down at least 50 percent off at The Bottom Line in the Brighton store.

Her two stores have grown to employ 15 people, including 12 full-timers. Employees have specific duties, but they all do everything, she said. Included on the roster are her son and daughter. Her husband and granddaughter also help out. "It took so many people to run this business that I couldn't do it alone."

Mohr's next ambition is to open a clothing shop for women and children in Howell. She said the plans are not definite, but once she decides to do something she usually does.

She said she would eventually like to have managers in the Brighton and Milford stores and manage the Howell store herself.

Best game in the best place

By BRUCE MARTIN

In the fifth inning of a Tigers-Red Sox game last week, backpedaling Boston shortstop Ed Romero gave way to leftfielder Jim Rice on a high pop fly at Fenway Park.

"On those fly balls, the infielder should always let the outfielder take it," said Al Kaline, who was calling the game.

"You are so right, Al," George Kell drawled. "The outfielder's coming in, he's got the bead on the ball."

"... And outfielders are better than infielders at judging flies," Kaline ribbed the ex-third baseman.

"... Plus it gives the outfielder something to do," Kell shot back.

"Of course, third basemen (sic) can go through the game without breaking a sweat," Al countered without missing a beat.

The two might have gone on swapping such knee-slappers all night if their attention didn't have to return to the game. As much as any series-winning catch, as much as any collision at the plate, it was clear: this was baseball, the best game in the best country.

Baseball is as inevitable as death and taxes. Ex-major league prospect Fidel Castro in a recent interview confided he doesn't want the designated hitter rule in Cuba. It's not traditional, he said.

Baseball, forever unchanging, thumbs its nose at the universal law of entropy, although the universe quivered a bit when they brought in the DH.

Baseball defines the personality of every living human being through every all the stages of life. Even someone who doesn't like the game gets defined as a humorless eccentric. Those who do like the game generally fall into one of the following categories:

The Little Leaguer: The most important thing to the LL is getting a good number. Thanks to Lance Parrish, now even 13 can be cool. Practices grounders by bouncing the ball off a wall while doing his own play-by-play. Conversant in traditional little league terminology such as: "Hey batter-batterbatterbatter."

The Varsity Letter Winner: First rule is that it is better for the VLW to look good than to hit good; long

Finding your way to 'The Park'

By RICH PERLBERG

It is the park. That is, The Park. Tiger Stadium. Briggs Field before that. Navin Field before that.

It's the place where the Upstairs is where Ernie Harwell relegates foul balls. When a batter takes a third strike, "standing there like the house by the side of the road," he's doing it before up to 50,000 jeering fans in an intimate little setting at Michigan and Trumbull.

It is the place where Ty Cobb terrorized opponents, where Al Kaline turned outfield play into an art, where Charley "Paw Paw" Maxwell provided a Sunday Punch, where a cocky Denny strutted to 31 wins in a single year, where Mark Fidrych talked to the ball and won a town's heart.

Gehringer, Colavito, Cochrane, Rowe, Newhouser, Greenberg, Lolich, Kueen, Cash.

Remember Frank Bolling? Don Mossi? Pernell Goldy?

We're talking baseball. Motor City's Team.

It's provincial, of course, to talk about a local ballpark as better than the rest. But this is an age of cookie-cutter stadiums and plastic grass and the worst affront of them all—indoor baseball. Why don't we just settle the World Series by playing Strat-O-Matic baseball?

In such a setting, anyone with half a brain knows there are but a few real baseball

And Tiger Stadium.

Why is Tiger Stadium so great? And how best to enjoy this treasure? That's almost like trying to define jazz. If you have to ask, don't bother.

But since you've gotten this far, here's a beginner's guide to Tiger Stadium.

Getting there—The Lodge, the Fisher and the Jeffries freeways converge at the ballpark. Michigan Avenue is the best known surface street in the area.

The route to take depends on where you are coming from, the time of day and the

Summertime means playing ball

Detroit may have the Tigers, but Northville and Novi actually have much more in the way of spring/summer baseball entertainment.

The calibre of play on local diamonds may not compare with the big league brand, but the exciting plays, heroic efforts and fun times sure do.

If you're in the mood for some exciting baseball, and a trip down to the corner of Michigan and Trumbull is out of the question, why not check out a high school match-up or a collegiate summer league? Or how about good old-fashioned little league games? Never a dull moment.

This area is blessed with outstanding baseball players at every level, from tee ball to the preps. Both Northville and Novi high school baseball squads are considered among the finest around.

The Mustangs compete in the Western Lakes Activity Association, one of the toughest leagues in the state, and Coach Bob Frellick thinks his talented team has as good a chance as anybody to win it all. Heading into the season no less than four WLAA teams were ranked by various publications among the state's top 10 in class A and B.

Northville really doesn't have any stars, but that's the way Frellick likes it. Pitchers Tony Craig and Chris Dominique rank right up there with any hurlers in the area and sluggers like Keith Dutkiewicz, Ken Kehoe, Paul Newitt and Scott Peterson not only get the job done at the plate they are all excellent fielders as well.

"Collectively, this is probably the strongest roster we've had in a long time," Frellick said. "This is an excellent group of kids."

Just north on Taft Road, Wildcat Coach Gar Frantz has assembled one of the strongest pitching staffs in the state with junior sensation Jeff Tanderys, 6-foot-6 fireballer Ray Samolin and crafty senior Gregg Giorgio. All three have the potential to move on to the college ranks, while Tanderys is already turning the heads of college and pro scouts with his 90-plus mph fastball and incredible control.

"I don't see why we can't win the (Kensington Valley Conference)," Frantz said. "Pitching is definitely our strong point, no doubt about it."

But Frantz also has a fine supporting cast including Paul Sprantis, Steve Shankel, Bill Yankowski and Keith Motyka.

The Northville Junior Baseball League is a well-organized and well-played organization. There are currently five age group leagues: Tee ball/A ball (5-6 year olds); H-league (9-10); G-league (11-12); F-league (13-14); and E-league (15-16) and four travel squads: Pee Wee Reese (12-and-under); Sandy Koufax (14-and-under); Mickey Mantle (16-and-under) and Connie Mack (18-and-under).

In addition, there are two girls' softball leagues (primary and intermediate) and a travel league. In all, over 700 youngsters play baseball every year in the Northville system.

Renovated club slates preview, Sportsman's Night

By JEAN DAY

Meadowbrook Country Club, which has been closed since the end of December for an extensive $1,250,000 renovation, is giving members a first view of the results in a "Sneak Preview" evening Saturday.

Hors d'oeuvres will be compliments of the board of directors. Dancing to the music of Jerry Fenby will follow dinner. Manager John W. DeHart, Jr., explains that the opening is informal because the renovation is not yet complete.

The club has been open all week for dining on a limited basis. DeHart reports that reservations have been coming in fast for Saturday night. Club president this year is John A. Malasky who took over the top post from another Northville resident, Robert DeAlexandris. A new Entertainment Plus 86 committee which has been in charge of Saturday's arrangements includes Don Schwalm, managing director, Chuck Ball, chairperson, Jim Aston, Julie Ball, Jean Dickson, Barb and Dan Williamson, Sandy Woolfall, Marilynne and Dick Zimmerman.

Sportsman's Night to feature Heathcote

Meadowbrook's popular annual Sportsman's Night has been scheduled for May 23 with Jud Heathcote, Michigan

State University basketball coach, as keynote speaker. Featured amateur sportsperson is to be Scott Skiles, MSU student who made All-American.

The club, on Eight Mile in Northville Township, was incorporated Feb. 18, 1916, with many local residents whose names are familiar in Northville history on its list of incorporators. They included L.A. Babbitt, George B. Yerkes, Clement C. Yerkes, Edmund S. Beard, Robert C. Yerkes, William H. Yerkes, F.S. Harmon and Nelson C. Schrader.

The present roster of the 580-membership lists more than 160 Northville families. Almost the entire membership comes from the surrounding area with many from Novi and Farmington. Ann Arbor, Pinckney, South Lyon, West Bloomfield and Bloomfield Hills, Milford, Plymouth, Howell and Fenton also are represented.

Sarah Ann Cochrane members go to Washington

Seven members of the Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, attended the Continental Congress of the DAR in Washington, D.C., this month. The chapter picked up special honors — the Silver Star Award for its honor roll participation and the 100 Percent Award for its President Generals Project. The latter meant that each member has given toward the restoration of Constitution Hall. The Parks Service dedication of the hall as an historical site was part of the proceedings.

Attending from the Northville-Plymouth chapter were Mrs. Herman Scott; Mrs. Albet Heindryckx, East Central Region Vice Chair of Genealogical Research; Mrs. Lester Robinson; Mrs. Bruce Richards; state chair of correspondent docents; and Mrs. Robert Willoughby, who served on the Resolutions Committee. Others were two former Northville residents, Mrs. George Merwin, who serves as East Central Region DAR Museum vice chair, and Mrs. William Gonterman, the former Jacki Merwin, a state director. She also was a page for the public relations department for the week.

It's almost May — a busy month upcoming

Welcoming May by inviting friends to their May Wine Festival has become a tradition for JoAnn Kissel and Connie Conder who note that it's now a six-year-old one. This year the party will be May 2 at the Conder home.

The City of Northville Housing Commission and the Allen Terrace Resident Council also have chosen May 18 as the date for a Recognition Day Open House to be held at Allen Terrace from 2-4 p.m.

Sally Henrikson will occupy Cottage House office as part-time office manager for historical society

Sally Henrikson's in Mill Race office

By JEAN DAY

"I've been here a long time — I remember the library building going down Main Street," Sally Henrikson, who will begin her duties as part-time office manager for Northville Historical Society Thursday, observes.

She and her husband, Wes, moved to Northville 18 years ago. It was about four years later in 1972 that the building known as "the old library building" (now officially the New School Church) was moved from Wing street "with cupola removed and trailing behind" to the site donated by Ford Motor Company for the Mill Race Historical Village. The site, now the home of the New School Church, Hunter and Yerkes houses, Wash Oak School, The Cottage House (occupied also by the Mill Race Weavers' Guild) and the newly constructed Hirsch blacksmith shop, is located off Main at 131 Griswold.

Last week the Northville Historical Society Board of Directors announced that Sally Henrikson had been hired to fill the position of part-time office manager for the society.

Tomorrow she will occupy for the first time the office in the Cottage House next to the foot bridge at the village entrance. This is the first paid position established by the society.

The post has been created because of growing activity in the village and need for the society's many records to be in order.

Henrikson notes that she "likes organizing" and is looking forward to beginning work in the village office where she will be answering the telephone and making reservations for the use of the buildings and the gazebo.

Harriet Welland, who headed the hiring committee, says the committee "is very comfortable" with the selection. She notes that public relations will be part of the job as will coordinating "society volunteers who continue to serve so willingly and effectively."

Henrikson was selected after the society advertised the position and interviewed applicants.

"It was timed sort of nicely," she says, relating that she was looking for something to do and had been working at Mercy Center part-time registering people for classes. However, the program was winding down at the time the historical society post was advertised.

Sally Henrikson mentions that she "has had a lot of experience in dealing with people" that she feels will be put to good use in her new position.

The timing was right because the Henriksons' older daughter, Holly, 22, is graduating from Notre Dame in May and daughter, Suzi, 18, who is graduating from Mercy High School, will be going to Hillsdale College in the fall.

Wes Henrikson, who opened his own insurance agency in downtown Northville in 1971, currently is serving as president of the Northville Rotary Club.

The Henriksons are members of Our Lady of Victory Church.

Sally Henrikson feels she will be right at home among the historic buildings in the village as the family has lived in one of the community's oldest homes for the last 8½ years. The Henriksons moved from a home in Northville Estates to the home on the northwest corner of West Street at Randolph. A cape cod design, the home has been renovated by several owners. Prior to the Henriksons, it had been occupied by the Charles Elys since 1945.

Henrikson says she was told that the original part of the house probably dates to 1826 or 1829. The land grant bears the signature of John Quincy Adams. The home was on the Northville Home Tour in September, 1981.

Sally Henrikson says since then they have "pulled out the whole kitchen and replaced it." In the process they found the kitchen had been built around a chimney, which subsequently had to be moved.

"Now we're finished (with remodeling) after eight years," she observes.

Are they antique collectors? "We collect if we can use them," says Henrikson, mentioning that the antiques that have meaning, such as the child's rocker that had belonged to her grandmother, were favorite pieces.

The new office manager is no stranger to the village. Henrikson had worked as one of the volunteer chairpersons for the Mill Race Craft Classes. She points out that they worked hard to find top craftspersons as teachers. The classes were canceled last fall, she notes, because several teachers were not available and there was increased competition with several leisure time programs offered in the community.

Starting tomorrow, she will begin sorting and cataloging society materials and performing other duties assigned by the board as well as answering the telephone (348-1845) just installed in her office.

Project 'Hers' slated

Project HERS (Homemaker's Employment Re-Entry System), a special program offered by the Women's Resource Center of Schoolcraft College offers career planning and guidance for displaced homemakers.

The program is designed to make entry or re-entry into the work force not only possible but less traumatic for mature women.

Displaced homemakers are people who have worked in the home most of their lives, and who have lost their source of income due to death, disability, desertion, divorce or separation from the person on whom they have been dependent.

Financial aid is available to cover the cost of tuition for those who are displaced homemakers or single parents who lack adequate job skills as well as recent, skilled, full-time work experience.

Project HERS meets from 1-3 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday beginning May 6. For information on registration and financial assistance, call 591-6400, extension 430.

Newcomers gather in Mill Race for 'Spring Fling'

Taking the reins

Northville Newcomers gathered in Mill Race Historical Village for the club's annual Spring Fling luncheon program on April 16. Seventy members heard Marge Stacey tell how to create old world herb formulas for scenting homes.

As new president Leasa Carney and board members for the coming year were introduced, retiring president Ina Hacker reported the club's membership is up 30 percent over a year ago and is near the 300 mark with 190 active members and 100 alums. Many new members, she noted, have been transferred to the community from out of state. There now are 35 interest groups, ranging from crafts and bridge to gourmet cooking, both daytimes and evenings. In addition the club sponsors monthly Ladies Day events and couples' outings.

President Hacker and the present officers still have two popular events, a mini home tour and road rally, under their direction before the new slate takes over May 12.

Out of the park: Getting around at Tiger Stadium

anticipated crowd. As in most cases, the signs don't always do you right.

Here, for example, is a tip. If you are taking the Jeffries in, a sign will urge you to exit left toward the Lodge. If you do, Tiger Stadium will be immediately to your right. You will get a good look at it because you may be at a near standstill and still on the expressway. If you ignore the sign, stay on the right lane of the Jeffries and take the very next exit (Michigan and Myrtle), you'll have a nearly traffic free approach to the stadium down Michigan. When you get to the ballpark, Detroit's Finest will help you get through the traffic jam.

Parking—It is a comment on modern life that the Silverdome, built primarily for a football team in the middle of a field, has been plagued by atrocious parking. And they planned for this.

Meanwhile, Tiger Stadium traffic, squeezed into yards, parking lots and along nearby roads, gets in and out with relative ease.

Everyone's got their favorite spot and some are more convenient than others. But the people who run the lots are pros. Even if the lot looks like sardine heaven, you'll probably get out quicker than you think.

There is free parking on some side streets if you look for it, and it's pretty safe as long as you stay in a crowd. Otherwise, costs have predictably escalated. Opening Day prices near the stadium were $6. On other days, if you park close, expect $3 to $4.

One suggestion. A half block north of Michigan, a side street off Trumbull runs past Hoot Robinson's bar. Follow it for less than two blocks and you'll find a large, fenced-in taxi cab lot with attendants for $4. After the game, drive to Hoot's, take a right on Trumbull and you are almost on the expressway.

Hot dogs—They cost $1.50 and are worth every cent. The best dogs are grilled at the concession stand. It means standing in line, but they are much better than the steamed variety sold in the stands.

Concessions—It is a little known fact that the people who run the concession stands go to graduate school to get a doctorate in slowness. It is the most irritating, slow-moving concession line in Detroit, made worse because Tiger management refuses to install closed circuit TV monitors so you can keep track of the game while you waste two innings getting a beer and a dog.

It's not cheap to eat at the game. Knackwursts, like hot dogs, are $1.50, beer is $1.50 for nine ounces and $2 for 14 ounces, a puny dish of nachos is $2.25. It is a highway robbery and yet it is still the best buy in town. After all, you could be spending $15 on a Madonna ticket.

Beer—About the beer. Because bleacher fans get too rowdy and obscene (let's face it, some of them are World Series jerks), Tiger management limits beer sales and sells only a concoction called low-alcohol beer. Rumor has it that the stuff was scientifically sampled and the report said that the horse has diabetes.

Drink it if you must, but don't say we didn't warn you.

Three reasons not to like Tiger Stadium:

1. The posts which, if you sit behind them, are part of what is called an obstructed view.

2. Some fans. They've taken their cuteness far beyond common decency. For some reason, not everyone is enamored with the idea of spilling beer from the second deck to the fans below—even if it is only low alcohol suds.

3. Kirk Gibson is out of action for over a month.

Five reasons why Tiger Stadium is the greatest place to be on a Saturday afternoon:

1. The uniforms. They are crisp, white and dignified with a capital Oide English D. The Tigers have successfully refrained from looking like a softball team which proves there is something to be said for the conservatism of John Fetzer and Jim Campbell.

How bad can uniforms become? Cleveland had an all red uniform for road games. Slugging first baseman Boog Powell looked like a giant blood clot. This game is too important to be trivialized in such a manner.

2. Herbie. He's the groundscrew member who waves his hat and dances a jig while grooming the infield after the fifth inning. It may seem bush to some, but Herbie is just happy to be there. Which is why we are there, isn't it?

3. Grass. Not the stuff the bleacher boys smoke. But the infield and the outfield. It's real. It's green. Balls don't ricochet off the ground like a racquet ball court as they do on artificial playing surfaces.

You should realize that the Tigers are the last team to win a real World Series. Those played on artificial turf don't count.

4. The aesthetics. The stadium is downtown, not across a farmer's field from a suburban shopping mall. It's a ballgame amidst skyscrapers. It's also got a personality of its own: a short inviting rightfield fence, power alleys that make grown pitchers cry, a centerfield that goes forever. And the fans are part of the game. They are close to the field. They can see the players' faces. They can see the grimaces after a swing and a miss, or study the form of a relief pitcher warming up. Except for the posts, the stadium is almost perfect.

5. It makes you feel good. It just does.

At Westland Center

Local AAUW hosts book sale

Area residents will be able to find book bargains and support the work of the American Association of University Women at the annual used book sale of the Plymouth Branch of AAUW to be held May 2-3 at Westland Shopping Center.

The branch, which includes Northville members, reports that more than 16,000 used books will change hands.

"We have mysteries, science fiction, romances, children's books, reference works, antiquing guides and a particularly good collection of cookbooks," notes co-chairperson Elaine Bain, explaining that the branch was given an entire collection from the estate of a well-known area hostess.

Prices will range from 25 cents for some children's books to several dollars for certain old and rare volumes to delight collectors.

Proceeds provide scholarship money for local women returning to work or school and are funneled through Wayne State University, Michigan State University and Plymouth-Canton Continuing Education.

"This year we have a lot of back issues of The Smithsonian, Horizons and Early American Life magazines as well as sheet music and standard study books for the piano," Marcia Elsner, co-chairperson, says. "They're all sorted and displayed by category, so you can find what you want."

The AAUW book sale is an area tradition much like the sale of Girl Scout cookies. Members begin each fall to gather, sort and price books for the following year's sale, using books picked up at the drop box in the Dunning-Hough Library or directly from donors' homes. Cartons of books have been stacked to the ceiling in the basement of St. John's Seminary in Plymouth.

The branch points out that the sale is the sole fund-raiser for scholarship purposes and involves more than 100 members. It provides inexpensive, quality reading matter for area adults and children by recycling books. Books which can't be sold are donated to Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital, Purple Heart and other organizations.

Donors receive a tax deduction. They may call 453-7924 for pick up or may drop off books at the Plymouth Library.

Westland Shopping Center is located at the corner of Wayne and Warren roads in Westland. Sale hours will be 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. both days.

Keeping tabs on sandlot action

"It's a very worthwhile program for kids and the development of skills, both mentally and physically," said Ed Harp, a coach in the Mickey Mantle league. "We started 10 years ago with very little and over a span of time, we've improved—we feel we can hold our own with any other leagues around."

In 1985, Northville was the site of the National Amateur Baseball Federation Junior World Series (ages 16-and-under) and Frellick, the tournament director, said that the event will return to the city in '86 on August 8-11.

The Northville Mickey Mantle "Blue" team, as the host squad, was allowed to compete in the tournament along with five of the top teams in the country. The team placed fourth with an overall record of 1-2, proving that the baseball played in this area takes a backseat to nobody.

Northville and Novi also supply many fine players to the next step up from the Junior Baseball League. The Northville Collegiate team, co-coached by Bob Peterson and Fred Schmidt, is an entry in the talented Livonia Collegiate Baseball (formerly Livonia Adray) League for players 20 and under. Teams in the league are comprised of the top college and high school prospects in southeast Michigan and home games are played at Ford Field in Livonia.

To get an extra edge in the pitching department, Peterson has brought former Detroit Tiger hurler Larry Pashnick on as the team's pitching coach.

Novi Youth Baseball League isn't as large as its Northville counterpart, but the level of play is very good. In 1985, nearly 350 youth participated in a program that employs top-notch facilities including pitching machines.

The Novi Parks and Recreation also organizes and runs a summer softball program that catered to 650 athletes last year in four separate age divisions. The Tee Ball Division is for 6-7 year olds, while the Youth Division (8-10 year olds), Junior Division (11-13) and Senior Division (14-16) are the others.

"I think all the baseball and softball programs in Novi are good quality programs," said the Parks and Recreation Program Coordinator Dan Davis. "The calibre of play is as good as anywhere as well as the skill and coaching levels."

"With the Youth Baseball League, (Parks and Recreation) doesn't organize it, but we do work with them. That means the quality depends on volunteer support mostly from parents."

Baseball's a microcosm of life

hours are spent acquiring the right tension in the stirrups, the right bend in the cap bill, the right batting glove, the right eye-blackener, and the right pop-up sunglasses. Chatter such as that of the LL is frowned upon, and preferably nonexistent. Once or twice per game, a phrase like "No stick, nine" may be uttered without penalty.

The Weekend Jock: Fashion for the WJ revolves around phosphorescent double-knits. Caps optional unless long-haired or non-haired, in which case they are left on at the bar. Despite apparent nonchalance, most WJs are driven to achieve local legendary status if not on the field, then off. Scouting reports often include spending habits. Typical quote: "What inning is it, anyway? How many outs are there?"

The Parent: At this point in life, the terse verbiage of the teen days gets made up in spades, most at the expense of umpires, followed closely by son or daughter's coach. Typical quote: "He missed the tag!"

The Ultra-Fan: Reads both sports sections daily, also reads all season preview rags and the magazine that gives you binoculars, the U-F aspires to combine omniscience with ruthless judgement. Typical quote: "Darrell Evans is so slow he couldn't score from third on a ground-rule double."

The Old-Timer: The OT has seen 'em all: every great player appropriate to his age bracket. He also will tell you none of the present ones compare to them. Quote: "How would Cobb do if he were playing today? Oh, he'd probably hit about .310, .320. Of course, you have to remember, he'd be 98 years old..."

When it's over because it's over, when the fat lady sings, etc., it's clear. Baseball is something more than a game. It's a microcosm of life itself. Some days, life is a hanging curve over the middle of the plate that you hammer into the upper decks down the foul line. Some days, life is a fastball that's in the catcher's mitt before you start your swing. Some days, life is a knuckleball you bloop over the first baseman's head for a double. Baseball isn't always exciting. But then, neither is life.

SHRINKS GALLSTONES

The United States Food and Drug Administration recently approved the use of a new drug which shrinks or completely dissolves cholesterol-type gallstones. The new drug, which is called monooctanolin, is administered as a liquid which passes through a tube which goes from the mouth or nose directly to the bile duct area. The liquid is infused continuously over a period of seven to 21 days in an attempt to remove stones which may remain in the gallbladder following gallbladder surgery.

The removal of gallstones not discovered during surgery is often necessary but potentially risky, especially to older persons. Until monooctanolin became available, most residual stones were removed through other costly hospital procedures.

Studies with the new drug indicate that about one-third of patients experience a complete dissolution of the remaining cholesterol stones. Another one-third of patients studied experienced a reduction in the size or a "softening" of stones which allowed them to pass on their own or to make removal easier.

Although monooctanolin is not the only drug approved for dissolving gallstones, it is the only one approved for infusion into the area where stones reside.

Baseball with onions

The hot dogs, peanuts, popcorn and beverages at the stadium fill all of the culinary needs for some baseball fans.

But those who really get into the flavor of trips to Tiger Stadium generally include on their agenda a nearby tavern where they meet with friends before the game or gather afterwards to savor a victory.

We've selected a half dozen favorites that meet most needs of the average fan. All but one are within easy walking distance of home plate.

1. Hoot Robinson's Restaurant and Cocktail Lounge. Better known as Hoot's, this is a shot-and-beer hangout whose front door looks across Trumbull to the main ticket office of Tiger Stadium.

Many a fan skips the pre-game activities, waiting in Hoots to finish a burger and a Strohs until just before the first pitch. On warm nights, the sidewalks of Hoots are filled by people who brought their own beer. Litter is kept to a minimum, because of the entrepreneurs who bag empty cans and bottles for their deposit value.

Hoot's is located at 2114 Trumbull. Its phone number is 965-7772.

2. The Press Box. Not far from Hoot's is a place that is also popular because of its nearness to the stadium. It's more comfortable for those who like to see sports coats and ties.

Moderately priced meals are available, but the best thing the Press Box has going for it is its address.

The Press Box is located at 1426 Kaline Drive. Its phone number is 961-3150.

3. Nemo's Bar. Nemo's has become a Tiger baseball institution—and rightly so. It's everything a baseball bar should be—furnishings are spartan, the beer flows freely, and before a game the place is full of wall-to-wall baseball lovers.

Walk into Nemo's and you'll find people three and four deep in the bar, and it seems as though everyone has a Tiger ticket. The curving bar also serves a second side of the building where more sit-down space is available for light meals.

Nemo's, a pop foul away from the stadium, is located at 1384 Michigan. Its phone number is 965-3180.

4. The Hummer. Baseball pictures adorn the walls of this bar-restaurant on Bagley south of Michigan on the corner of Trumbull.

Tables in the basement can be shoved together to form a long meeting place for large parties who have just attended a Tiger game. The Hummer had a reputation as being a new hangout for young Tigers. But most of the current pack of Tigers are either homebodies or seek entertainment at other watering holes.

The Hummer is located at 1426 Bagley. Its phone number is 963-0185.

5. Porter Street Station. For those parking on the south side of Michigan, Porter Street is a convenient place to finish a trip to Tiger town.

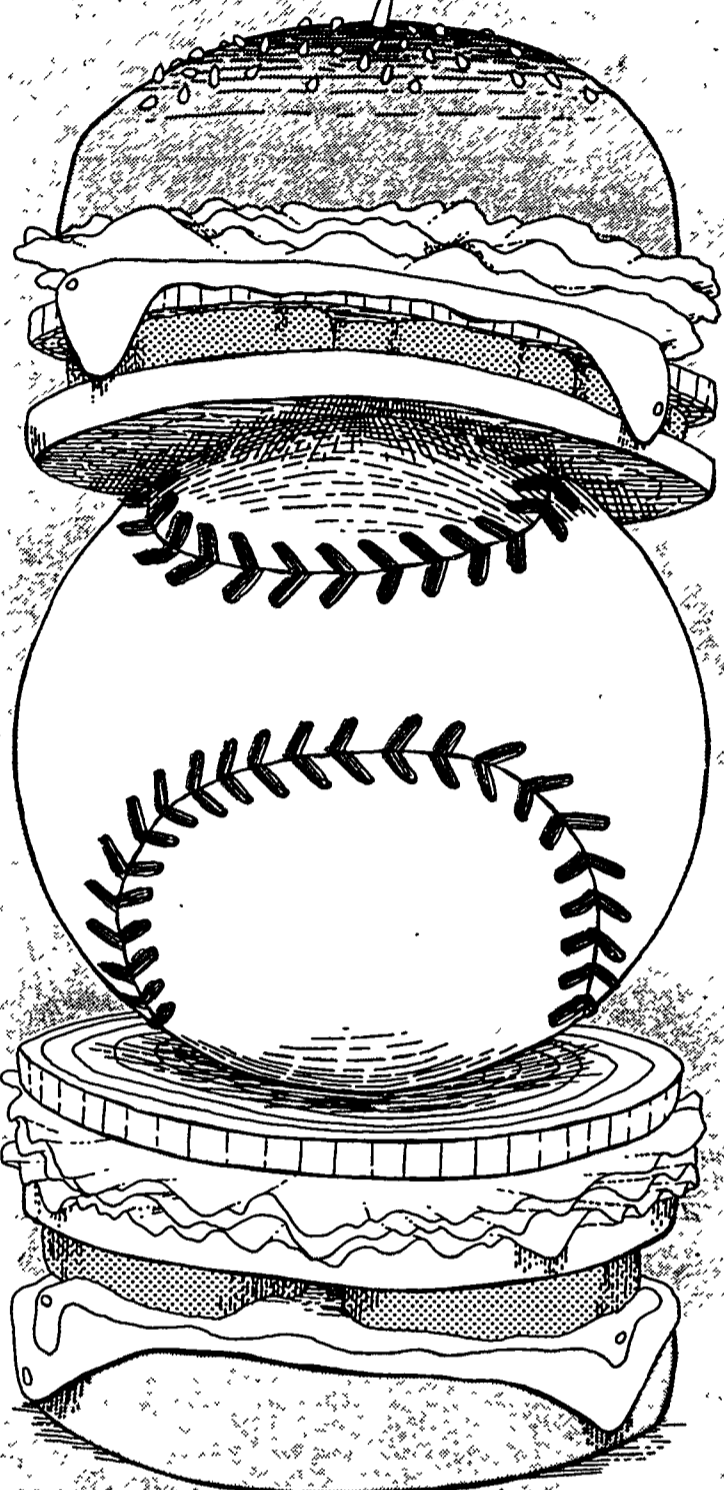

Look for the box car parked adjacent to the bar for a guidepost. Inside you'll find dancing and a young, hip crowd. It's not a typical baseball bar, but on game nights it is often populated by baseball fans.

Porter Street Station is located at 1400 Porter. Its phone number is 496-1480.

6. The Lindell Athletic Club. This is Detroit's quintessential sports bar. Many of those Detroit sports greats whose autographed pictures grace the walls were once regular customers. This is, after all, the site of the Alex Karras-Dick Bruiser one-fall-out, no-holds-barred wrestling match.

Detroit Lions, when they still played downtown, and Tigers of years past made the Lindell a second home. For many, it's still the sports bar in Detroit. It's a good hike from the stadium, so many park in the adjacent lot for dinner then drive on to the game.

The Lindell Athletic Club is located at 1310 Cass. Its phone number is 964-1122.

Bon Homme: Something special

out

It's not unusual at finer restaurants to receive a piece of fine chocolate along with the bill at the end of the meal.

Still, when you receive strawberries dipped in chocolate with the bill at the Cafe Bon Homme in Plymouth, it's a particularly pleasant little surprise and fitting finale to a very fine dining experience.

Of course, by the time you've finished your meal it's already abundantly obvious that the little restaurant on Penniman Street is indeed something special.

The person behind the Cafe Bon Homme is Greg Goodman, who at age 31 has already achieved a fine reputation for culinary excellence. He served as a sous chef under Chef Duglass at the Great Dane in Farmington and later served as executive chef at the Clarkston Cafe.

Most recently, Goodman has been affiliated with Tom MacKinnon at the very fine MacKinnon's restaurant in Northville.

Goodman severed his ties with MacKinnon 16 months ago to begin a restaurant of his own, and the Cafe Bon Homme is the result. Taking over what formerly was Emma's, a pleasant little restaurant featuring salads and lighter repasts, Goodman has revised things completely.

"I like to think things are as different as night and day," he says.

The restaurant is small and attractive, decorated in tones of rose and grey. Floral paintings in pastel shades on the walls, lovely woven table cloths, beautiful rose-stemmed crystals and a rose tulip in a grey bud vase on the table complete the setting.

Clad in white, tuxedo-style shirts, pink bow ties and grey slacks, the wait staff is both courteous and efficient.

Best of all, however, is the food... delicious and served with the same appreciation for culinary aesthetics exemplified most notably perhaps by Keith Famie at Chez Raphael's in Novi.

Goodman said one of his goals at Cafe Bon Homme is to provide an outstanding dining experience at affordable prices. Although the cost of dinner-for-two with a bottle of wine at Bon Homme runs over $50, it is considerably less than the $100 to $200 bills which accompany the same dinner at other restaurants.

Goodman also is reluctant to categorize his style of cooking. Despite the name of the restaurant, he balks at calling his food "country French," saying instead that the menu is determined by what's fresh and available at reasonable prices.

Additionally, he says he has attempted to provide entrees which are unique in addition to retaining the best of the classics... albeit, classics with a distinctive twist.

An example of the latter is the Provimi Veal avec Homard au Bearnaise ($13.95)—escallops of provimi veal sauteed, garnished with poached rock lobster, a stalk of asparagus and served with Bearnaise sauce.

Also included among the list of 11 entrees are Poached Norwegian Salmon ($12.95), Breast of Chicken Bon Homme ($11.95), Tournedos au Buerre Rouge ($13.95) and Roast Rack of Lamb Malsou ($18.95).

Dinners are served with French bread, choice of soup or salad and the vegetable du jour. If you opt for a salad instead of a soup, try the house dressing—a lovely, subdued raspberry vinaigrette.

Sous chefs Greg Murphy and Andy Orlando proudly exhibit the appetizers and three entrees from the Cafe Bon Homme in Plymouth.

Of interest is a selection of four "light dinners" on the menu for those with smaller appetites. Ranging in price from $7.95 to $8.95, selections include Baked Crab Cassoulet, Chicken and Artichoke Pasta, Saute Lake Perch Menuiere and Petite Steak Bernaise.

There's an extensive wine list, and, as for desserts, the selections are limited but excellent. A Creme Champenoise at $3.25 is an outstanding, light finale to any meal. Other dessert selections include a Pate Chocolat au Grand Marnier and a crepe filled with ice cream and topped with strawberries. Also excellent.

With Cafe Bon Homme, Goodman has established himself in the same company as Keith Famie (Chez Raphael), Tom MacKinnon (MacKinnon's) and Chris Angelosante (Appetizer) for providing suburbanites with an opportunity to enjoy an outstanding dining experience.

Cafe Bon Homme, 844 Penniman, Plymouth. Lunches Monday through Friday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturday from noon to 5 p.m. Dinners Monday through Thursday from 5-10 p.m. and Friday and Saturday from 5-11 p.m. MasterCard, Visa and American Express. Liquor license. 453-6260.

Set in rural 17th century East Anglia, "Vinegar Tom," chronicles the fortunes of several dissimilar women against the disturbing times of the English Civil War. Music will be provided by "The Fifth Michigan Regimental Band." Hours for "Civil War Days" will be from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. For more information call 297-9360.

Patricia Dorrian-Sandbothe, a teacher in the Northville School District for 31 years, has been named the state's Creative Writing Teacher for 1986. The honor will be presented at the Michigan Youth Arts Festival in May. Among her favorite things are:

1. STUDYING at Art House in Detroit Saturday mornings with Prof. Michael Farrell—a joy.
2. TRAVELING, especially in Greece, Italy and Austria.
3. EATING at MacKinnon's, Elizabeth's, the Ponchartrain Wine Cellars and the Three Russians in Vienna.
4. ACTING, (some say I'm always on stage) but with the Theater Guild of Livonia Redford where members take theater seriously.
5. TEACHING, one of the blessings in my life.
6. LISTENING to music: classical, jazz, folk.
7. READING—currently John Cheever, Flannery O'Connor, James Wright and William Stafford.

HURON

land of rolling hills, sparkling lakes, and tree-lined country roads. Lazy summer evenings by the lake. Crisp, colorful autumn afternoons. The warmth and comfort of friends by a winter fire. It's a good life in the Huron Valley community.

Families and friends, getting together. Welcoming new neighbors. Building schools and churches. Working to make their dreams come true. Dreams like building a hospital to serve the growing community. A community hospital to give families expert medical care. Peace of mind. A stronger sense of security.

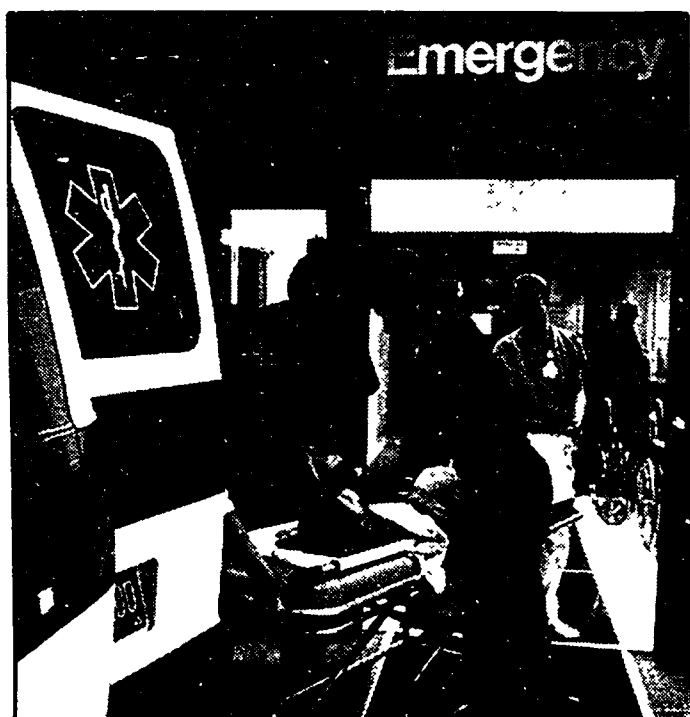

And when neighbors get together, dreams can come true. Huron Valley Hospital.

Huron Valley Hospital:

A Dream Come True

For more than 25 years, the people of western Oakland County have dreamed of having a community hospital. An up-to-date facility that would provide expert professional care near their homes, giving them a new sense of security. A new center for community activities—a center that would become an integral part of the business, social, and family life of the community.

With the opening of the Huron Valley Hospital, this community's dream has been realized. Huron Valley Hospital is more than a convenient new hospital for expert medical treatment—it is a unique expression of the needs and concerns of the community. Residents played an important role in developing the hospital, making sure its facilities and programs were designed specifically with the families of western Oakland County in mind.

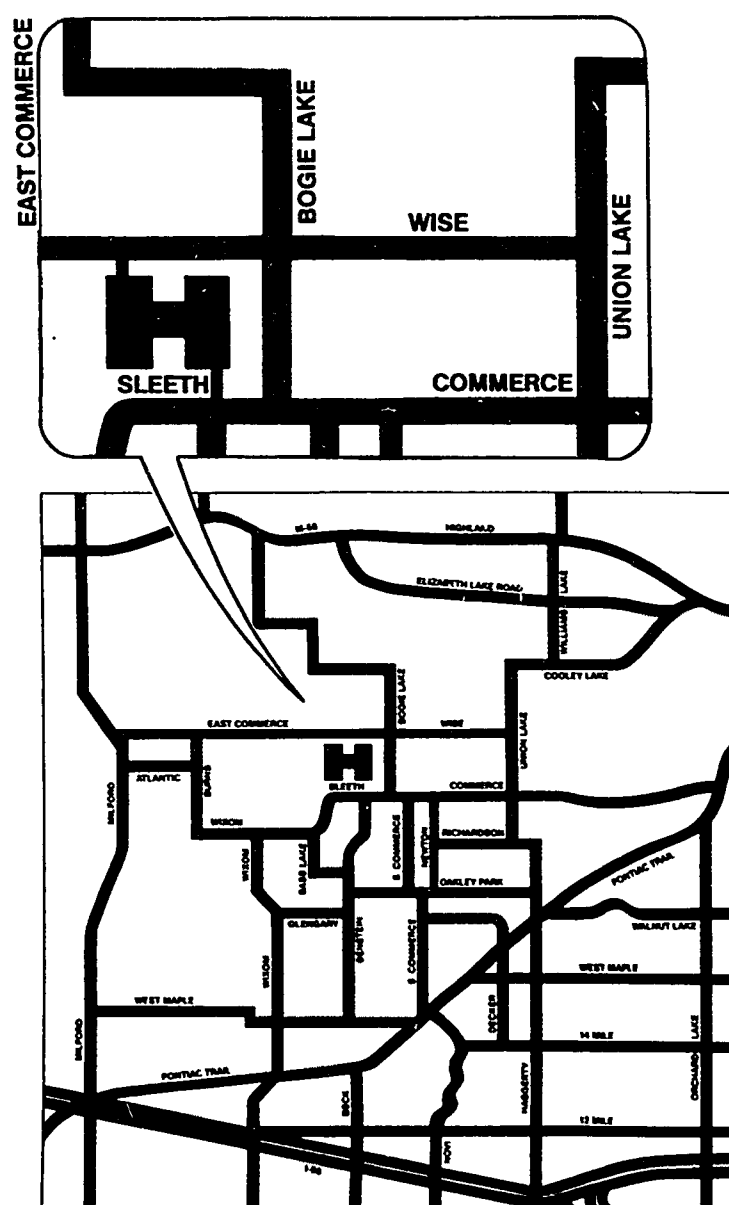

This focus on the community's needs is enhanced by the many area residents who have joined the hospital's staff. These experienced professionals bring a special concern for the neighbors and friends whose health they help protect.

Vision, determination, and endless hard work. That's what it takes to turn a dream into reality. And that's what the people of western Oakland County have given to the creation of Huron Valley Hospital. Huron Valley Hospital: proof that dreams can come true.

Service Area

Huron Valley Hospital was created to serve the people of western Oakland County. The communities included in the area served by Huron Valley Hospital are shown on the map below.

Commerce Township between East Commerce and Sleeth Roads

24-Hour Emergency Services

When a family member has an accident or becomes seriously ill, immediate medical attention may be required. Huron Valley Hospital's Emergency Room provides 24-hour care for such critical situations.

Emergency Room physicians and registered nurses are trained in emergency medicine, including advanced cardiac life support techniques. The latest equipment is available in special trauma, cardiac, and major treatment rooms, and the Emergency Room's radio communication system keeps the hospital in constant contact with ambulances, air transport services such as The Detroit Medical Center's new helicopter Sky Team (which can land at Huron Valley Hospital's helipad), and medical professionals at the scene of an emergency. When required, specialists from The Detroit Medical Center, which is affiliated with Huron Valley Hospital, may be called to assist with an emergency.

When necessary, Emergency Room patients are transferred to one of the private rooms in Huron Valley Hospital's intensive and coronary care unit. The critical care staff provides expert treatment for situations in which continuous concentrated attention is required. A state-of-the-art computerized monitoring system helps medical professionals provide the best possible care.

To find the Emergency Room, on the west side of the building, follow the signs on the hospital's entrance roads.

From West Bloomfield/Orchard Lake: West on Commerce Rd. to Sleeth Rd. entrance.

From Highland/White Lake/Waterford/Holly: M-59 to Bogie Lake to E. Commerce Rd. entrance.

HURON VALLEY HOSPITAL

Working hard, playing hard. It's an active life in our community. Softball games with friends. Fishing and water-skiing on the lakes. Riding bikes down winding country roads, and cross-country skiing on crisp winter days.

And with the play and fun come bumps and breaks, burns and scrapes. Active families expect some bruises and guard against serious injuries, but accidents still happen. At work and at play.

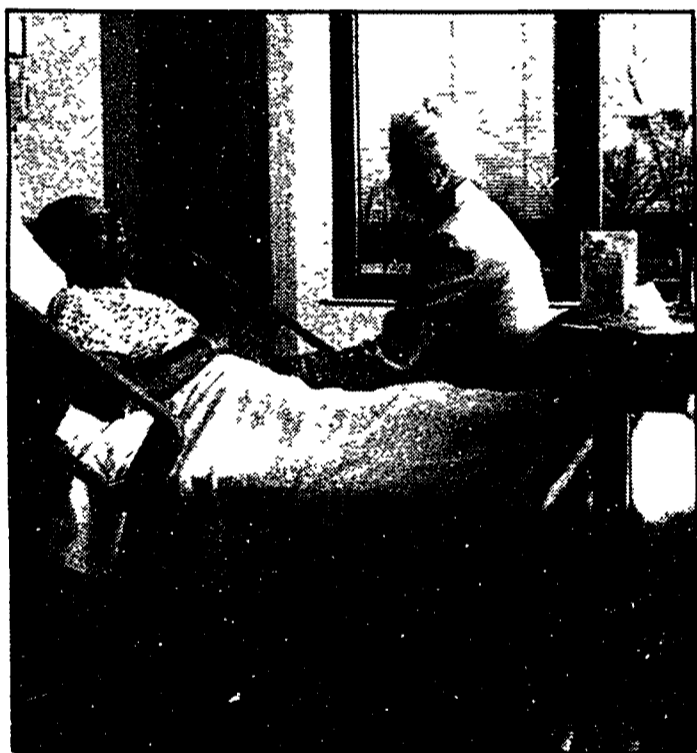

Families need help when an accident does happen. Fast, expert help from experienced hospital professionals. And Huron Valley Hospital is ready. For minor or serious emergencies, whenever they occur. The Huron Valley Hospital Emergency Room is open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

It's good to know that help is nearby. Huron Valley Hospital.

Family Centered Care

The staff of Huron Valley Hospital believes that caring for patients means keeping families close. To help patients and their families feel at home, Huron Valley Hospital designed patient rooms to be as comfortable and homelike as possible, with views of trees and countryside from every window and individual telephones and television sets for each patient. Visiting hours are flexible so that working families can visit on their own schedule. And children can come, too!

Meals are more like home than a hospital. Patients choose their food from an award-winning menu that offers 25 appealing, nutritious meals every day, and family members are encouraged to join patients at mealtimes.

Maternity Care

At Huron Valley Hospital, maternity care involves the whole family, not just the mother. Families, including children, are encouraged to share the birth experience. "Couplet care," which allows the same registered nurse to care for both the new mother and her baby, is a special feature that adds to the warm feelings of new motherhood. The labor, delivery, and recovery areas at Huron Valley Hospital are cheerful and modern. And a warm, sunlit nursery makes a new baby's first days bright and pleasant.

Pediatric Care

Children are special people, and providing medical care for them involves special considerations. Huron Valley Hospital has several programs designed to help children feel more comfortable about staying in the hospital.

Because familiarity with the hospital and its staff can make hospital stays less frightening, the staff takes children on a special tour of the hospital before their admission. The hospital's flexible visiting policies make sure that children have the reassurance of frequent visits from their families, including other children in the family. In addition, comfortable overnight accommodations are available to allow families to remain nearby during times of special concern.

Thanks!

Thanks from the Board of Trustees of Huron Valley Hospital to the individuals and companies listed below, who helped introduce the hospital by allowing billboards to be erected on their property. Their cooperation and support has helped bring a valuable new service to the people of western Oakland County.

HURON
VALLEY

Family life is rich with rewards. A child's smiling face can warm the coldest day. A small hand tugging at your sleeve. And then a great big hug. The good times make up for all the midnight feedings.

The endless rides to school, and scouts, and everywhere. The steady stream of questions. And then the silent, brooding years that parents try to meet with patience, love, and laughter. It all starts at Huron Valley Hospital, where special maternity care helps make the birth of a child a very special family experience.

And as the kids grow, they'll get to know the Huron Valley Hospital pediatrics staff. Warm and happy professionals working to help both parents and kids.

A special place for families. Huron Valley Hospital.

General Surgery

A wide variety of surgical procedures can be performed at Huron Valley Hospital. As in other areas of treatment at the hospital, families can rely on the expertise of Huron Valley Hospital's medical staff for the latest information about any procedure that may be recommended. Specialists from The Detroit Medical Center are also available at Huron Valley Hospital for consultation and care if necessary.

Huron Valley Hospital's surgical suite features four operating rooms with state-of-the-art equipment and facilities. Recovery rooms are also provided; they are equipped with a computerized monitoring system that helps the medical staff keep a close, continuous watch on each patient's condition.

For some minor surgical procedures, an overnight stay in the hospital may not be required. Families should check with their doctors to see if the anticipated surgery can be done on an outpatient basis, which allows the patient to recuperate at home. Outpatient surgery is generally less expensive, and recovery times in the familiar, comfortable atmosphere of home are often shorter than at the hospital.

Cardiology and Pulmonary Services

Huron Valley Hospital's cardiology department is dedicated to the prevention of heart and pulmonary disease, as well as to its detection and treatment. To promote good cardiovascular and pulmonary fitness, the hospital offers a full range of services: exercise tests, EEGs, cholesterol measurements, blood pressure checks, risk-factor analysis, electrodiagnostic testing, non-invasive diagnostic testing, pulmonary function testing, and personalized diet and exercise counseling. In addition, classes and seminars designed to help families understand heart and pulmonary disease—its prevention, its symptoms, and its treatment—are being planned.

For emergency treatment, a special coronary care unit is available. This unit is staffed by critical care specialists with training in advanced cardiac life support. The most up-to-date computerized monitoring equipment is provided.

Thank You!

The Board of Trustees of Huron Valley Hospital is grateful to everyone who played a part in creating this new community hospital for the people of western Oakland County. Your efforts helped a community turn a dream into a reality.

Follow-up Care

Huron Valley Hospital provides excellent follow-up care to make sure patients recover from illnesses or accidents as quickly and fully as possible. Physical therapy is an important part of such follow-up care. Huron Valley Hospital's physical therapy department uses the latest equipment to help patients regain as much of their normal flexibility and strength as possible after an injury or illness.

Physical therapy is frequently required when sports-related injuries are involved. Because the staff understands how important a daily exercise routine is to athletes, therapy for sports-related injuries is aimed at getting patients back into their conditioning routines as quickly as possible. Emphasis is also placed on teaching them how to protect themselves from future injuries.

HURON
VALLEY
HOSPITAL

Keeping fit is good medicine at any age. Sensible exercise, a well-balanced diet, lots of sleep, and regular check-ups. For the kids. Mom and dad. And grandparents, too. Life is too good, and tomorrow is too important to take chances with poor health.

For good health, a good hospital is important. Huron Valley Hospital means early discovery and careful diagnosis. Control and prevention, and surgery when it's needed. Right here, close to home. With love and understanding.

Everyone feels better when they're close to good health. Huron Valley Hospital.

Volunteer Programs

More than 200 community members, both men and women, have already joined the Huron Valley Hospital Auxiliary, volunteering their time for tasks ranging from working in the gift shop to helping children feel more comfortable during a hospital stay. These volunteers are an integral part of the hospital. Their services—and their warmth and friendliness—are a valuable addition to the services provided by the medical staff. Everyone—patients, families, and staff members alike—appreciates their work.

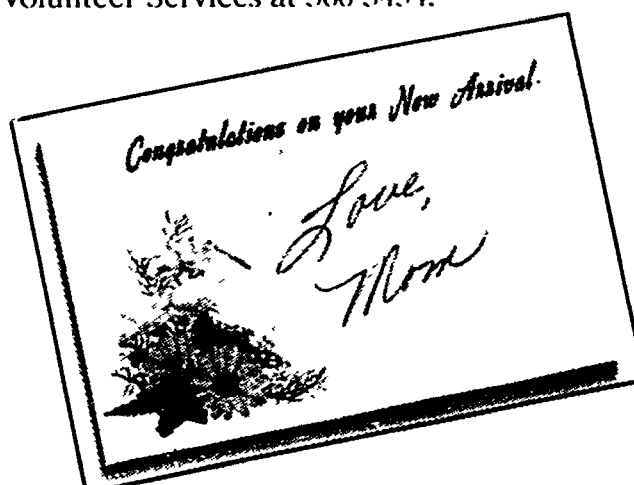

Families who have come to any of Huron Valley Hospital's special community events have seen the Hospital Auxiliary in action. Volunteers help organize the events, greet guests, show people around the hospital, and take care of a myriad of other important tasks. Their efforts help make Huron Valley Hospital a special place—a real community hospital.

To find out more about volunteering at Huron Valley Hospital, call Volunteer Services at 360-3454. The major areas in which volunteers serve include community relations, membership and by-laws, patient-care services, gift shop operation, and general hospital services (not directly related to patient care).

Volunteers for Special Events

The Board of Trustees of Huron Valley Hospital would like to thank the many people from the community who have volunteered to help with Huron Valley Hospital's numerous special community events. Their help, and the interest of all those who have joined the hospital auxiliary since the opening events, is greatly appreciated. Anyone wishing to volunteer should contact Volunteer Services at 360-3454.

Community Care

At Huron Valley Hospital, family-centered care is not limited to the families of hospital patients—it extends to the community as a whole. The staff shows its concern for the community by offering a variety of programs designed to promote healthier lifestyles and to make sure families have the information they need to protect their health.

Programs that are planned include:

Public seminars on topics such as stress management and ways to stop smoking, given by specialists affiliated with Huron Valley Hospital

A special health fair in the spring, including free health tests given at the hospital

Heart-saver CPR classes

Cardiac rehabilitation program

Breathers' Club for patients and families living with respiratory diseases

Home care services, especially for respiratory, pulmonary, and physical therapy patients

A fitness trail on the hospital grounds

Pre-operative care at home when appropriate

A Speakers' Bureau to help coordinate the schedules of health care professionals with those of community groups needing speakers on medical topics

Help for patients and their families in adjusting to illness in the family

Patient education in the prevention, care, and treatment of chronic diseases

Giving can be a kind of getting, a fulfilling way to share. For volunteers at Huron Valley Hospital, giving is a way of life. Sharing skills and friendly smiles with patients, families, and staff, they spread their warmth and caring through every corner of the hospital.

Volunteers help make Huron Valley Hospital a better place. A place where families feel at home and patients rest easier.

Volunteers bring more of our community into the hospital. They deliver flowers, operate the gift shop, help out in offices, and lend a hand wherever help is needed.
