Both police millages will be on ballot

Northville Township voters will be voting on two, separate millage renewals earmarked for the township police department when they go to the polls in the Aug. 5 primary election.

However, by acting in a public hearing last Thursday to place both renewal propositions on this year's primary ballot even though one does not expire until next year, the township board eliminated the necessity of holding a separate police millage renewal election in 1987.

The renewal proposition extends both millages through 1990.

A levy not to exceed 0.7 mill (.70 cents per thousand dollars of state equalized evaluation) is sought for four years, 1987 through 1990, to be used solely for the operation, maintenance, improvement and capital expenditures of the police and law enforcement services of the township police department.

Proposal B asks for a renewal not to exceed 1.5 mills ($1.50 per thousand dollars of state equalized evaluation) for five years, 1986 through 1990, for the operation, maintenance, improvement and capital expenditures of the police and law-enforcement services of the police department.

In voting unanimously to place both millages on the Aug. 5 ballot, the board noted that in so doing the township would be saved the expense of another police millage renewal election next year when the current 0.7 mill renewal expires.

Supervisor Susan Heintz also commented that the two renewals, with the rise in state equalized evaluation, should be sufficient for the operation of the police department for the next four years.

Treasurer Richard Henningsen reported that the township state equalized evaluation is up 12.22 percent from 186 to 209.

Police Chief Kenneth Hardesty's department "would be crippled" without the renewal, the board noted, studying a graph that showed that the millage as a percent of total revenue has been dropping.

In 1982-83 it represented 61 percent of the total police revenue. The amount dropped to 57 percent in 1983-84, to 56 percent in 1985 and to 53 percent in the current fiscal year.

The remainder of the police budget is made up of state revenues, court and alcohol enforcement fees and funds from special details. Hardesty told the board that at this time the

Michigan Week features a full schedule

Michigan Week celebration in Northville this year features a new format as well as a host of special events.

It opens this Saturday with the City Garage Sale back on Main and Center streets from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. under sponsorship of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce. Streets will be closed beginning at 6 a.m. in the center of town for booths to be set up under the direction of chairman Scott Lapham.

During the day, a festival of school programs will be held in the Town Square Park. See story on page 3.

Sunday will be a multi-activity day with the Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association celebrating its 50th year in ceremonies at 12:30 p.m. in Mill Race Historical Village. President Olga James announces that there will be a brief program and reception.

The City of Northville Housing Commission and the Allen Terrace Resident Council are holding a first Recognition Day Open House from 2-4 p.m. Sunday at the senior citizen complex at 401 High St. to present certificates to those whose have assisted at Allen Terrace. Housing director Frances Yoakam explains that Michigan Week, which falls in May — designated as Older Americans Month, seemed an appropriate time to cite those who have helped the program. See story on page 3.

From 2:30-5 p.m. residents of the school district are invited to view the high school renovation. See related pictures and story on page 6.

A traditional highlight of Michigan Week, mayor exchange day, has been extended into a two-day event with Northville officials journeying to Grand Ledge, Northville's paired city this year, and Grand Ledge officials visiting Northville Wednesday.

Northville Rotary Club will change its meeting day from Tuesday to Wednesday to host the annual beautification awards program and also a new honor, the Businessman Award of the Year sponsored by the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce.

Belanger earns Chamber honor

What's good for General Motors is good for the U.S.A. and what was good for a division of GM — Chevrolet — turned out even better for a Northville man, Jim Belanger.

Belanger will be honored May 21 as the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce's Businessman of the Year, partially because of the creation of the original cloth car-washing system he developed in 1973.

"It was Chevrolet that gave me my first break in business," Belanger recalls. "They wanted a mechanical flap finishing wheel I had a patent on and they encouraged production."

Belanger, 55, parlayed that break into a $10 million business manufacturing car wash equipment specifically designed to use cloth.

Initially Belanger, Inc. sold its cloth for installation on existing equipment, but the firm's engineers determined they could build a more efficient system and did it.

In 1983, the company made its move into the coating abrasive aspect of carwashing, producing its own abrasives which now include products such as belts and sheets. And the firm currently manufactures a high speed folding door, lightweight because of aluminum panels but sturdy because of its steel drive case and frame parts. It's all in a year's work for Belanger, Inc.

Although the company has diversified its products, it still is a family-owned firm. Belanger incorporated in 1969 for $5,000 with his father, a brother, Bud, and Bill Heath as the stockholders. Today, Bud, Jim and Jim's children maintain control of the 40,000-square-foot plant in Northville Township as well as 28,000 square-foot facility on Cady in the city. The company employs an average of 120 people per year.

Belanger was 16 when he moved to Michigan from Cohoes, N.Y. in 1946 and he finished his high school education at University of Detroit Collegiate High School. From there, he completed two and a half years of college at the University of Detroit with an emphasis on mechanical engineering.

The chamber award, being given for the first time, will be presented at the Rotary luncheon next Wednesday during Michigan Week ceremonies.

New arrival

Though its speciality is developing film, Fox Photo on Center Street also is making a name for itself as a sanctuary for expectant mother ducks. Last week, one of Northville's feathered friends selected the planter next to the photo center for a delivery room. Mother and baby are doing fine. See Page 2.

Township eyes 5 years' worth of improvements

Northville Township Board of Trustees looked at a five-year capital improvement program last Thursday that ranged from repair of the front steps at township hall to a west-end fire station and a special census.

At the instruction of the board, business manager Bruno Scacchitti had prepared a list of capital projects, defined as any improvement resulting in the acquisition of, or addition to, assets in the form of land, buildings or durable equipment, needed by the township.

The first four already have been approved by the board to be done this year with general funds and budget surplus.

They are:

- Reconstruction of the front steps of township hall at a cost of $25,000.
- Road cut at township hall through to Winchester, $22,000.
- Henningsen Park, the ball diamond at township hall, $6,000.
- Micro-film of township records, a shared expense in conjunction with the conference of Western Wayne, $6,000.

Also considered for the current year budget are security cameras for the back entry of township hall near the police department, $5,500, and renovation of air conditioning controls, $5,000. Scacchitti pointed out that these items are not included in the budget and would require board approval to be appropriated.

The much-discussed fire station for the west end of the township on property bought by the township on Seven Mile between Beck and Ridge roads was estimated to cost $625,000 to be paid for in the 1987-91 period at a cost of $125,000 annually by bonding. It was noted that if the board decided to go to the voters for 0.6 mill for the five year program in the Aug. 5 primary, it would have to hold a public hearing shortly. Scacchitti estimated the interest rate would be 7.5 percent.

Curriculum heads list of 1986-1987 goals

By MICHELE M. FECHT

With improvement of the school district's facilities nearing completion, the Northville Board of Education Monday agreed that finetuning the instructional program will be a top priority in the years ahead.

In adopting its goals for the 1986-87 school year, the seven-member board committed to improving curriculum as well as extending the long range plan.

In establishing guidelines for finetuning the instructional program, the board referred back to its earlier policy on "Quality Education and Program Effectiveness," proposed by a citizens' committee more than four years ago.

"The board has dealt with facilities," board president Glenna Davis remarked. "We selected the grade restructuring and four-year high school to improve curriculum for students. Now we have to go in and see if we've established this."

The board outlined four areas for particular emphasis. Those areas include the development of well coordinated K-12 programs in all areas with emphasis on the needs of all children; assessment and evaluation of the middle school program; assessment and effectiveness of the elementary school day and examination of co-curricular and elective programs at the high school.

In the area of developing programs in all areas for all children, the board noted that considerable attention has to be paid to students with special needs.

With two dozen parents of "gifted and talented children" in the audience Monday night, the board admitted that programs for academically gifted students are among those which have been placed on the back burner during the past few years.

Parents attending Monday's meeting presented a petition from the Northville Association of Academically Talented requesting the board take some direction in establishing dialogue and guidelines for the gifted and talented program.

After considerable discussion, the board directed the administration to bring back to the table a status report on the program.

With the middle school program closing in on its first full school year, board members noted that an evaluation program is needed to determine the effectiveness of the grade restructuring.

Along the same lines, the board also will be assessing the elementary school day. Davis noted that one area the board may want to look at is offering elementary staff members the opportunity to work together with peers in a fashion similar to what currently is being done at the middle school.

At the senior high level, the board emphasized that greater attention needs to be placed on co-curricular and elective programs.

"I think we need to look at more co-curricular options," Davis said, noting that the district needs to go beyond athletics and look at a wide range of alternatives such as foreign language clubs, a student newspaper, yearbook and special counseling programs. "We need to think about everything we can do for these kids."

The board also will be looking at the effectiveness of its tightened graduation requirements.

"I think it should be acknowledged that this is a very large order for the administration to handle in one year," said trustee Doug Whitaker. "I think it's important to get into the record that we don't expect the staff or superintendent to complete all of these in a year."

Hand fed

It might not seem the most appropriate place for a mother duck to deliver her young, but the area around Clancy Ely's business on Center has proved a popular hatching spot. Last week a mother mallard chose the wood chips by a fake evergreen at the Fox Photo kiosk for her nest, depositing 10 eggs there. Ely obligingly offers corn and water until the mother and her six offspring can head for nearby water.

State representative to seek third term

Thirty-sixth District state Rep. Gerald H. Law (R-Plymouth) announced Friday that he will seek a third term in the Michigan House of Representatives.

The 36th district includes Northville Township and the Wayne County portion of the City of Northville as well as Plymouth city and township and Canton Township.

Law, who was a Plymouth Township trustee for four years before being elected to the State Legislature, was first elected to the House in 1982. He currently serves as vice chairman of the House Committee on State Affairs and also is a member of the committees on corrections, insurance and public health.

During his two terms in the Legislature, Law has been a consistent advocate of tax reform. He voted for the income tax rollback and stresses the need for the Legislature to deal with the issue of high local property taxes.

"If Michigan is to remain economically vital, we must enact tax reform and address the liability insurance crisis," Law said.

Before running for office, Law, 41, worked for the Ford Motor Company and was involved in a number of community activities. He is a member of the chamber of commerce, Kiwanis, Trailwood Homeowners' Association in Plymouth Township where he lives, historical society and Our Lady of Good Counsel Parish. He received his masters degree in business administration from the University of Detroit and is a graduate of Wayne State Law School.

GERALD H. LAW

He and his wife, Chris, have two daughters, Jenny and Katie.

Area residents in the Mackenzie High School classes of 1935-36 are being sought for a 50th year reunion to be held June 21 at Fairlane Manor in Dearborn.

Police report increase in walkaways

Spring weather has brought an increase of walkaways from the Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital on Seven Mile in Northville Township, members of the board of trustees learned at last Thursday's meeting.

Police Chief Kenneth Hardesty's report for April noted there had been 25 reported escapees with 14 escapees returned during the month and 11 still at large.

Hardesty's report stated that the township department had apprehended four of the escapees in April with the total time involved in apprehending and assisting hospital security listed at 57 minutes. None of the escapees, it said, was involved in criminal activity.

In March 18 escapees were listed with 10 returned and 8 at large.

For the year to date 112 escapees have been reported with 57 returned and 55 at large.

Hardesty observed that when the hospital has its surveillance cameras operating it should help reduce the number of escapees. Clerk Georgina Goss questioned whether the hospital was going to operate the camera monitors 24 hours a day.

Installation of fence poles to extend the hospital fence westward along Seven Mile was begun last week with the poles installed almost to Smock.

Trustee Thomas L.P. Cook questioned, however, what good the fence will be without gates across the roads on the property.

The hospital security committee has been meeting again, it was reported. Trustee James L. Nowka said he would like to see a report on what progress has been made in security at the hospital.

Noting that the fire run report for April listed six grass or structure fires on the child development center property on Sheldon, treasurer Richard M. Henningsen said, if they continue at that rate, the board ought to consider putting officers back on that detail.

A total of 21 runs was listed for April, including one false alarm.

Police investigate patient's death

One Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital patient is dead and a second is awaiting arraignment stemming from two separate incidents at the facility May 12.

Carey Hill, 25, of Detroit, was found dead in a bathtub at 6:40 a.m. Monday. Results of an autopsy performed at the Wayne County morgue were inconclusive and State Police officials are awaiting results of a toxicology report.

Another male patient was expected to be arraigned Monday after he reportedly strong-armed a female staff member, knocked her down and stole the keys to her car.

State Police report they spotted the vehicle east bound on the Jeffries Freeway at Merriman and gave chase to Wyoming, where the vehicle crashed.

The suspect was not injured. He was taken to the Northville City Police Department, where he was in custody awaiting the issuance of a warrant.

Disability structure revised

Twenty full-time, non-union Northville Township employees have had a change in the long- and short-term disability provisions provided by the township.

Under a previous plan, disability benefits were stopped after 180 days. The new plan will provide benefits to affected workers, although at a reduced rate, up to age 65. There is no additional cost to the township.

Under the new plan, a disabled employee will use one sick day per working day for the first seven days of the worker's illness or injury and the township would pay 100 percent of the worker's salary.

If the employee is unable to work after seven days, the employee would use one-half of a sick day with the township picking up 50 percent of the his salary and the township's insurance company chipping in 50 percent, so the worker would receive his full pay. The provision would be good for 90 days.

If, after 90 days, the employee still cannot return to work, the township's insurer would pay two thirds of the affected worker's pay until that worker reaches the age of 65.

While the plan currently covers only non-union workers, the township is expected to offer the same coverage to union employees at the time new contracts are negotiated.

Under the previous plan, which left disabled workers without coverage if their disability lasted more than 180 days, employees off on a short-term disability (eight through 180 days) received their full salary with the township paying one-third of the cost and the insurance company providing two-thirds. Workers were required to contribute one-third of a sick day per day. There were no provisions for disabilities lasting longer than 180 days.

Township employees currently may accumulate up to 90 days of sick leave to use in their bank.

Renovation marks new beginning

Northville High School will open its doors to the community this Sunday with an official dedication and open house of the renovated facility.

After more than 18 months of construction, the building finally is nearing completion with only finishing touches and landscaping to be tackled.

The dedication ceremony is scheduled from 2:30-3 p.m. in the auditorium. Among the guests attending will be former high school principal Elroy Ellison and former superintendent Russell Amerman. The keys to the renovated building will be turned over to the district by architect John Argenta.

Following the dedication, an open house will be held from 3-5 p.m. for residents interested in touring the building. Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria.

Completion of the renovation project marks the final stage of one component of the long-range plan proposed by School Superintendent George Bell nearly four years ago.

Its opening also culminates the efforts of the Citizens Advisory Committee for the High School Renovation Feasibility Study which proposed the project in May, 1983.

The 37 members of that citizens' committee, chaired by Kay Kepner and Lois Hoffmeister, laid the groundwork for the renovation visitors will view Sunday afternoon.

The renovated high school facility (above), as seen from the driveway facing the cafeteria, is a far cry from the former structure (at right). This photo, taken in October, 1976, illustrates the vandalism problem which plagued the facility a decade ago. Inadequate maintenance and a lack of budget appropriations for building repairs and upkeep kept the facility in constant disrepair. The board of education Monday night agreed to incorporate a sequential program for maintenance needs as part of its goals in the coming school year. The program will designate appropriations for maintenance needs to assure upkeep of the district facilities.

While a leaky roof plagued the high school facility for years, the few puddles left after a thunder shower were nothing in comparison to the flood last June. A torrential rainstorm wrought havoc to the facility, which was only partially roofed — and left students such as Kathy Whelan (below left) wading through the hallways. By last July, the building finally surpassed the demolition stage as workers hauled out the last of the debris (center). On Monday, students were working on a miniature delta in their earth science lab (below right). The science/social studies wing marked completion of the final phase of the construction project.

Man sentenced for 1984 robbery of Orin Jewelers

In the city . . .

Charelton Tarrant, 19, of Detroit, the accused in a robbery at Orin Jewelers in October of 1984, was found guilty on April 28 by a jury.

Tarrant was found guilty of breaking and entering into a business in which over $7,000 worth of miscellaneous jewelry was taken. He was sentenced to 4½-10 years in prison by a Wayne County Circuit Court Judge on May 13.

At the robbery, Tarrant apparently left behind a good set of latent finger prints. Over a year later, Northville Police Officer Dave Fendelet matched the latents with Tarrant's prints, and it turned out to be a basis for the prosecution's case.

A Northville man reported to police that unknown person(s) entered his garage through an unlocked south side door and got away with several items totaling $355.

The incident happened sometime between 11 p.m. on May 10 and 3 p.m. the following day. The suspects took a mini bike (valued at $175), a weed whacker ($135) and few other smaller items.

The complainant told police that he suspects three white male juveniles.

A 29 year old Canton man was arrested and ticketed for speeding and leaving the scene of an accident after his 1986 Camaro went out of control on Griswold in the early morning hours of May 8.

Originally, the man stated his vehicle was stolen and damaged, but later confessed that he was driving the car that struck a tree on the west side of the Griswold just north of Butler and then traveled out of control another 75 feet down the street before coming to rest.

. . . in the township

A 1982 Mazda valued at $8,000 was stolen from the parking lot behind O'Sheehans on Seven Mile sometime between 5 p.m. May 11 and 1 a.m. May 12, township police report.

The complainant told police the vehicle was locked at the time the incident occurred. He further noted the vehicle contained personal belongings totaling more than $900. Among the items stolen were a watch, cassette tapes and clothing.

Three skate boards valued at $370 were stolen from the garage of a Whitestone Court residence sometime between 5:30 and 6 p.m. May 6, police report.

The complainant told police unknown person(s) gained entry to the garage through an open door.

A radar detector valued at $250 was stolen from a 1984 Chevrolet Celebrity parked at a Woodcreek residence sometime between 7:30 and 8:45 p.m. May 11.

The complainant told police unknown person(s) smashed the front passenger window and stole the radar detector from the visor. Nothing else was reported missing. Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $100.

Eight panels of Thermo-ply outside sheeting valued at $200 were taken from a construction site on Waterwheel sometime between 5 p.m. April 29 and 7 a.m. April 30.

The complainant told police unknown subject(s) broke out the eight sheets of paneling on a home currently under construction.

In a similar incident, unknown person(s) took out 10 panels of sheeting valued at $250 on a home under construction on Lilly Pad.

Police recovered, unharmed, the 1982 Toyota Supra stolen during an April 26 burglary of a township residence, but the $400 Winchester shotgun also stolen during the incident remains missing.

The car, valued at $10,000, was found a day later, behind the Old Village School on Main, by city police. The owner told police he was absent from the home between 5 p.m. and 11:20 p.m., when he returned to discover the greenhouse screen cut and the door kicked open.

Drawers were emptied and the owners' belongings scattered on the floor. Police are seeking a suspect in the case.

MUCC gets fired up over wine cooler deposit

The Michigan United Conservation Clubs (MUCC) is challenging the Legislature to support "the will of the majority of Michigan residents" and approve legislation currently lodged in house and senate committees requiring mandatory deposits on wine cooler containers sold in Michigan.

House Bill 5510, sponsored by Rep. Charles L. Mueller (R-Linden) and Senate Bill 427, introduced by Sen. William A. Sederberg (R-East Lansing), would require mandatory deposits on wine cooler containers.

Because wine coolers did not exist at the time the bottle measure was enacted, the popular mixtures of wine and fruit juice do not fall under the deposit requirements mandated by the act.

"Most members of the Michigan Legislature claim to be strong supporters of environmental and conservation issues," declared Thomas L. Washington, MUCC executive director. "They'll have an opportunity in the next few weeks to demonstrate how strong that commitment really is."

"Because the Joint Legislative Committee on Administrative Rules has rejected the wine cooler deposit rule promulgated by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, the next logical step is for the full Legislature to decide the merits of the issue."

"Since many of the panel members voiced support for a mandatory deposit on wine cooler containers, we encourage them to act expeditiously to see that the requirement is properly set into law," Washington added.

House Bill 5510 has been referred to the House Committee on Liquor Control and Senate Bill 427 is currently lodged in the Senate Committee on State Affairs, Veterans and Transportation. Legislation amending an initiated act like the bottle bill must secure 83 votes in the House and 29 votes in the Senate in order to pass.

The Legislature also has the authority to put the question of wine cooler deposits directly to a vote of the people. A House or Senate concurrent resolution could be introduced; public hearings conducted to gauge public support; and the issue could be placed on the November ballot by a 2/3 vote of both legislative chambers.

"Even though the people of Michigan lost this initial battle in the Rules Committee, I'm confident they'll eventually win the war," Washington claimed. "As much as the legislature would like this issue to stay on the back burner — it won't. We're going to keep turning up the heat until the Legislature moves to approve the legislation or put the issue to a vote of the people. With wine cooler sales expected to skyrocket this year, it's time for the Legislature to act quickly and responsibly on this critical conservation issue."

CITY OF NORTHVILLE
NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
1986-87 PROPOSED CITY BUDGET
AND USE OF
FEDERAL REVENUE SHARING

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held on Tuesday, May 27, 1986, at 8:00 p.m. in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 215 W. Main Street, for the purpose of receiving testimony and discussing the proposed 1986-87 City Budget, and proposed uses of the 1987 Federal Revenue Sharing allocation, subject to final appropriation by Congress. The actual amount of the allocation is not known at this time, but it is expected to be less than the 1986 allocation of $44,000.

PROPOSED 1986 MILLAGE RATES: The following statements are provided as required by State statute:

The 1986 operating millage levy of the City of Northville is proposed to be 15.40 mills, the same rate as in 1985. However, only 14.40 mills are proposed to be used for City operating purposes, and 1.00 mill is proposed to be reserved for the street reconstruction program. An additional two mills for the street program will be considered by the voters at a special election on June 24, 1986.

The City Council has authority under the City Charter to set the operating millage rate within its maximum allowed rate of 20.00 mills.

The 1986 levy for South Main Street Paving is proposed to be 0.40 mill, which is a reduction of 20% from the 1985 levy of 0.50 mill.

The 1986 levy for the Randolph Drain Project is proposed to be 1.00 mill, the same rate as in 1985.

In addition, because of a recent court case indicating that interest earned by the City in the process of collecting other governmental units' taxes must be paid to those other units, the City Council intends to add the one percent (1%) administrative fee provided by State statute to the winter school and county tax bills only; and if this is done, to reduce the proposed City operating millage from 15.40 mills to 15.28 mills.

ANTICIPATED EQUALIZATION FACTORS: The 1986 equalization factor for Oakland County is expected to be 1.00 for all classes of property. The 1985 factor was also 1.00 for all classes.

The 1986 equalization factors for Wayne County are expected to be 0.9933 for Commercial (1985 was 1.0459), 1.0257 for Industrial (1985 was 1.0000) and 1.0000 for Residential (1985 was 0.9945).

BUDGET STABILIZATION FUND: As provided in State statute, the City Council intends to establish a Budget Stabilization Fund to receive surplus operating funds which may occur from time to time, as a reserve against unanticipated or emergency expenses or revenue shortfalls in the future; and to make a contribution to this fund from the operating surplus which is expected to occur in the 1985-86 fiscal year.

Renovation nears completion at club

More than 271 members of Meadowbrook Country Club enjoyed a "sneak preview" of the club's $1,250,000 renovation at a gala evening with dinner and dancing May 3.

Manager John W. DeHart, Jr., says he is hoping for the extensive renovation project to be completed by June 1. While the dining room is reopened with lowered ceiling, new paneling and refurbished dance floor, the new chairs have not yet arrived.

Work is progressing around the pool area where a new poolhouse is being constructed and new lockers are being installed. A major part of the expansion-renovation is the enlarged grill room. Almost double in size, it will overlook the golf course. DeHart said this popular area for informal gathering is planned to have a "pub" atmosphere.

Also in progress is an expanded outdoor terrace dining area. Overlooking the golf course, it will have 100 tables. The club was closed from the beginning of January until this month for the renovation.

Located on West Eight Mile in Northville Township, the club was incorporated in 1916. The list of incorporators includes many familiar, early Northville names.

President Malasky said the club has a membership of 584 in several membership classes, with golfing memberships having the largest number. He added that there's also a waiting list of 50 families.

Five years of improvements

The hearing will be at 7:30 p.m. May 22. A hearing also will be held that night seeking a 0.6 mill increase for the operation and maintenance of the fire department.

Scacchitti's grant of projects also noted that general fund surpluses may be available as funding.

Also on the "wish list" was expansion of township hall. Projected at a cost of $3,840,000, the bonding would exceed five years at $256,000 annually beginning in 1987 and continuing through 15 years. It was projected at a maximum bonding of 1.1 mills.

Trustee James L. Nowka noted that the township future needs committee "is looking at the expansion."

Equipment items included a new computer system ($62,500), painting and maintenance of township hall and parking lot lights ($5,000), a larger generator for township hall ($15,000). It was projected that all would be paid from the general fund budget.

The board also looked at seeking a special census at a cost of $18,000.

It was noted that a census can be completed within 90 days but must be held three years before a regular census is scheduled.

The board also the township "would receive a bonus payment of $100,000 for each of the three years" if it can prove there is a population increase of 15 percent. It was decided to do so before April, 1987.

A fire truck at a cost of $188,500 also was on the capital improvement list and recommended to be purchased at $37,700 a year for a five-year period beginning in 1987 from general funds.

Fire chief Robert Toms told the board that the present trucks can pump 750 gallons a minute but said the township should have one truck, at least, which would have a 1,250 gallon a minute capacity.

Other items on the suggested list to be purchased from general funds in the next five years include video equipment ($7,500), bike path ($50,000), Beck Road Park ($45,000), an Enhanced 911 police emergency calling ($25,000), and police radio replacements ($30,000).

Clerk Georgina Goss noted that her request for new voting equipment was not included on the list. It was suggested that the item be sent to the future needs committee for consideration.

Schools set goals for '86-'87 year

Board trustee Chris Johnson echoed Whitaker's remarks and noted that next year's goals represent "a major shift" for the district which has spent the past few years focusing its attention on the physical plant.

In the extension of its long range plan, the board outlined four specific areas including use of surplus facilities, implementation and assessment of energy conservation, development of a sequential schedule for in-depth study of K-12 needs in each of the skill areas included in the program (i.e., science, math, writing, etc.) and development of a sequential program for major maintenance replacement needs.

In the area of surplus facilities, the board will be looking at utilization of both Main Street School and the Cooke facility.

With the high school completed, the middle school in order and the elementary facilities in good condition, the board plans to develop a program for maintenance replacement needs.

"We do not want to get into the situation we were in a few years ago," Davis remarked, noting that in past years monies have not been available for building maintenance.

"We have beautiful buildings. We need to look at setting aside funds for painting, roof repair, etc."

Though he acknowledged the board's goals "are not all possible in one year or within the district's financial constraints," superintendent George Bell told the board he was pleased with the recommendations.

"They certainly bring us down to the nitty-gritty of what we want to look at," he said. "The administration will take these goals as our road map for the next few years."

department is "offering people good service."

Henningsen pointed out that the ratio of one police officer to 1,069 residents is in the recommended range. The only danger to the police budget, business manager Bruno Scacchitti mentioned, would be "if the state decides to cut back allocations."

Total police budget for the 1986 fiscal year is $762,424 with the earmarked millage accounting for $409,200, police generated (primarily court fees) $99,980 and other, $248,514. Salaries ($636,914) account for most of the expenditures with equipment and supplies budgeted at $125,510.

GOP gubernatorial hopefuls take aim at Blanchard

By PHILIP JEROME

Governor James Blanchard came under heavy fire for a variety of alleged transgressions as four of the five Republican candidates for governor debated the issues at the Novi Hilton Monday morning.

Wayne County Executive William Lucas was the only Republican gubernatorial candidate who did not show for the debate sponsored by the Novi Chamber of Commerce's Political Action Committee (PAC).

John Lauve, a quality control engineer with General Motors and leader of the unsuccessful Recall Blanchard movement, rapped the governor for purchasing a $1.6 million helicopter which he called "Tax Wolf" and noted that Michigan still ranks last in the nation as a place to do business, according to the Alexander Grant Report.

Oakland County Executive Daniel T. Murphy said Ronald Reagan, not Blanchard, is responsible for the economic recovery which is taking place. "If he (Blanchard) were doing what he ought to be doing, Michigan would be ahead of the rest of the nation in terms of economic recovery instead of just keeping pace with the rest of the nation," he said.

Richard Chrysler, president of Cars & Concepts in Brighton, continued along the same lines. "It was Ronald Reagan's 25 percent tax cut, not Jimmy Blanchard's 38 percent tax increase, which is responsible for the recovery," he said.

"The governor likes to take credit for everything, including a beautiful sunset. Show me a governor who raised taxes once and I'll show you a governor who'll do it again," he added.

And State Representative Colleen Engler scored Blanchard for his lack of cooperation with the state legislature. "There's been almost a total lack of cooperation and communication from the executive's office to the legislature," she said. "He (Blanchard) has not had a single pro-business initiative with the state legislature during his term of office."

Each of the candidates criticized the governor during four-minute introductory speeches.

Lauve accused Attorney General Frank Kelly of sabotaging recall elections. "If the same things happened in the Philippines there would be a great outcry," he said.

Lauve also noted that more people have been killed in Detroit than have been killed in South Africa, and criticized the press as well as the governor for not bringing the matter to light and demanding solutions.

The GM engineer claimed government spending has gone up 33 percent during Blanchard's term while the state's population continues to decrease. "Never have so few paid so much for so little," he charged.

Murphy hit hard on the theme that Ronald Reagan, not Blanchard, is responsible for the economic recovery. "If the governor were doing his job, Michigan would be ahead of the other states instead of even with them in the recovery," he said. "We should be leading the country, but we're not because we have a governor who is not providing leadership. The governor's economic program deals only with the people at the top, not the small business sector which provides 80 percent of all new jobs."

Chrysler emphasized that he is a candidate from the private sector, not "a career politician. The difference between a self-made person and a career politician is that the self-made person knows we need less government and less taxes ... we need to run government efficiently."

Chrysler also said there's a need to have traditional American values at the heart of public policy decisions.

Engler said voters should ask themselves who can do the job of creating jobs. Describing herself as a "pro-business" candidate, she said the governor must be willing to respond to the need for job creation and face up to competition.

The four gubernatorial candidates also responded to questions submitted by members of the audience on a variety of topics:

UNEMPLOYMENT COMP: Lauve and Murphy both hit hard on the need for a change in the governor's office to achieve any meaningful reform on the Unemployment Comp issue.

"We need to get rid of a union-controlled governor and a union-controlled speaker (of the State House) in order to accomplish anything," said Murphy. "We need to get rid of union control in the legislature to make the changes that have to be made."

Engler reported that the legislature is working on a bill to reform the Michigan Employment Security Commission. "We want to move the MESC from Detroit to Lansing so the legislature can have more control," she said. "And we want to increase its membership in order to have some business representatives. All the governor's appointees are labor representatives with no expertise in business."

STATE INCOME TAX: Murphy said he does not believe in tax increases. While he has been Oakland County Executive, the tax rate has been cut from 5.89 mills to 4.60 mills, he said. "One of the ways to save money is by determining if the service is something that should be offered by government or could be provided more efficiently by the private sector."

Lauve said Blanchard has failed to enact even one of the recommendations of the 1976 Michigan Efficiency Task Force. "We could have saved over $1 billion by following those recommendations," he said. "State spending is up; the only sacrifice has been made by the taxpayers, not state government."

INSURANCE CRISIS: Chrysler said the state needs a Harry Truman — "someone who'll be responsible and say 'the buck stops here.' We need a law that says if you bring a frivolous lawsuit and it's shown to be frivolous you must pay the fees of both attorneys plus all court costs."

Engler said the legislature already is working on such a law. "The problem," she said, "is that the Blanchard administration has a lack of knowledge about the insurance industry."

Murphy said the problem has been the lack of leadership from the governor's office. "Where has the governor been? He hasn't been there and that's the problem."

Lauve called for a cap on malpractice awards and said there's also a need to remove the licenses of doctors and dentists who are not doing the job. He called Blanchard's current proposal "useless."

SOBRIETY CHECK LANES: Murphy called the implementation of state police check lanes an invasion of privacy. The problem of drunk drivers has been attacked successfully in Oakland County without infr-inging on the rights of the citizen who is driving down the road without violating the law, he said.

Chrysler said Blanchard's check lane proposal was typical of "Jim Blanchard — 'after the fact.' We need our state police on the Lodge freeway, not out running check lanes in the country," he said. "It's a bad use of taxpayers' money."

Engler said the check lane proposal was another example of Blanchard's failure to work with the legislature. "We object on a civil liberties basis in addition to a cost efficiency basis," she said. "It will take 10-14 troopers to operate these check lanes, and in the out-state areas there just aren't that many troopers to go around."

The Northville Record

Our Opinions

Making the grade

At a time when most public officials are hurrying to close meetings at every opportunity within their legal right, it is refreshing to find at least one local administrator undaunted by the public's presence at sessions which normally would be off limits to the local citizenry.

For as many years as we can remember, the evaluation of the district's school superintendent has been open to the public. This year's evaluation of George Bell (conducted by the school board last week) was no exception. However, it easily could have been. A 1984 amendment to the Michigan Open Meetings Act makes it legal for public officials to "request" closed evaluations, thereby barring citizens from the review process of those such as school superintendents and city managers.

Since the passage of that amendment, most public officials have taken advantage of the opportunity to shy away from public scrutiny during evaluation time. This is the case in neighboring districts such as Novi and Livonia, where superintendent evaluations are held behind closed doors. Schoolcraft College President Richard McDowell also has placed the "keep out" sign on his performance review.

Those closing the doors on the evaluation process argue that open sessions inhibit discussion by both parties and are disruptive to the community when concerns are aired in the public domain. Moreover, they contend that such evaluations are private matters and no one else's business.

We could justify that position if school superintendents were not responsible for thousands of students and multi-million dollar budgets almost solely funded by local tax dollars. Fortunately, we don't have to argue our case in Northville.

Bell's open door policy regarding his performance review speaks highly of the man in the superintendent's seat as well as the operation of the district. It also reinforces the open communication Bell has established with the community and school board since taking the helm of the district four years ago.

Having been privy to Bell's performance review during the course of his tenure in Northville, we have come to learn that the evaluation of the superintendent is an assessment of the district.

The high marks he earned last week are as much a reflection of the district's progress as his own performance. Though there have been some disappointments this year (most notably the delays in the high school renovation project), we believe the achievements clearly outweigh the frustrations.

The same can be said for the past four years. Nearly all components of the long range plan proposed by Bell in October, 1982, (only 13 weeks after his appointment) have been realized. With the support of the board of education, the district has instituted a middle school program, renovated the high school and is in the process of implementing energy conservation measures in the district's facilities.

While all these elements have been an integral part of the improved educational climate in the district, the key aspect to change has been the community's renewed pride in Northville schools. The community support evidenced last January when residents joined staff and students in readying the high school for its second semester opening and most recently in the overwhelming passage of the schools system's millage request is indicative of how far the district has come in four years.

By keeping the doors open, the district's top official has transformed community suspicion into trust.

A site to behold

After more than three years of planning, nearly 18 months of construction, countless delays and enough rain to float Noah's Ark, Northville High School finally will open its doors to the community this Sunday.

The dedication and open house planned this weekend will offer residents their first opportunity to view the renovated facility in its entirety. While students have occupied the building since its opening in January, construction continued through last week in preparation for this weekend's celebration.

Those heading up to the hill will find little remaining of the original structure. The addition of computer labs, an expanded media center and state of the art design and equipment have replaced the outdated materials which once raised concern among both educators and parents.

We hope residents take the opportunity to tour the new site made possible through the community's support of an $8 million bond issue. We believe residents will find their tax dollars well spent.

Gunning for trouble

By Neil Geoghegan

Once again, a well-organized — yet narrow interest — with big bucks and power has lobbied for something that a majority of the people really don't want.

In April the U.S. House and Senate passed a bill, at the urging of the Reagan Administration, that weakens federal regulations of interstate gun trafficking. Yes, our national leaders are making it easier for people to buy, possess and sell handguns while at the same time, handgun murders and other crimes continue to soar.

The new law, voted 286-136 in the House, is supposed to simplify record-keeping regulations for dealers. What it boils down to is that dealers will be able, in certain instances, to sell firearms to private collectors unrecorded. It will also protect gun dealers from prosecution of the remaining laws unless it can be proved that they "willfully" violated any laws.

That is all we need. Make it easier for anyone to get a gun and then protect the illegal doings of dealers. Only the three million member National Rifle Association could get away with something like this.

One Congressman called the whole affair "a genuine disgrace," but apparently quite a few of his fellow workers saw the need for more leniency on gun control. It is truly amazing to me that they are going in completely the opposite direction. What we need is a complete and irrevocable hand gun ban.

While politicians all across the nation wrestle with the increased problems of hand gun crimes, the major solution is very plain to see. Get rid of the hand guns and you will get rid of a lot of the abuses. Would somebody tell me what a hand gun is good for besides shooting at somebody with an easily concealed weapon?

L. Brooks Patterson wants to send murderers to the gas chamber and the electric chair, but has he ever thought about taking the guns out of their hands? Oh sure, there is always the stale argument "if somebody wants a gun he can get it," but I can't figure out why we are making it easier to do so. That argument is like saying "why bother setting a legal drinking age when the kids can get the stuff anyway." It's absurd reasoning.

The NRA has always fought for the right to bear arms as required by the Constitution, but don't let the name of the organization fool you. They aren't just lobbying for the right to bear rifles and shot guns — they want everybody to be able to own a hand gun as well. The point is, how many rifle deaths were reported last year compared with hand gun deaths? If you're a hunter, your rifle is important to you, and that is fine — but what do you need a hand gun for? They are useless out in the wilderness while hunting, but they are deadly in the cities.

Recently, statistics were released making Detroit the murder capital (per capita) in the country once again. Why fool yourself, the majority (by overwhelming odds) were hand gun related. Even police officers across the country, who have been strongly allied with the NRA in the past, are fuming about the weaker gun controls. It's not hard to understand when you consider that over 700 officers have been killed by hand guns in the last decade. And sadly, the numbers for the rest of the population are staggering.

So here you have the NRA pumping $1.6 million into the campaign to make it easier to get guns — something is seriously wrong here. The stricter laws that are now being relaxed were first introduced and passed after the political assassinations of Martin Luther King and Robert Kennedy in the late '60s. It makes me wonder what terrible gun-related fiascos must take place in the future before the laws can once again become stricter. And with the current public apathy (except for NRA members), a hand gun ban similar to the one in Great Britain seems more and more remote. We refuse to acknowledge the fact that the murder rate in all of England is much less than in one American city like Detroit.

We learned in the 60s, we changed the laws and it helped a little bit (because they didn't go far enough). So less than two decades later we revert back to square one. When will we ever learn?

After the Fact

By Phil Jerome

I doubt that Jim Fitzgerald, Art Buchwald or any other columnist gets as much criticism as I do. Well, Fitzgerald, maybe. My wife says she stopped reading him after his umpteenth column about his granddaughter.

I don't seriously place myself in the same category as Fitzgerald or Buchwald, mind you, except for the fact that they are columnists and I write a column, too.

At any rate, back to this criticism business. In addition to all my helpful co-workers here at the paper, I also receive healthy doses of criticism from my wife and neighbors.

It seems like just about everybody objects to one type of column or another.

My wife, for example, absolutely loved the columns about her cats. But Kevin Wilson used to rap me sharply for writing too many cat columns. "The township board is asking when you're going to write about something other than those darns cats," he told me a couple of years ago. No more cat columns.

For awhile I had a good thing going about my weight-lifting class at Novi High School. My wife got on me about that one. "Can't you write about something other than your inability to lift even the lightest weights?" she asked one day. No more weight-lifting class columns.

Now my next door neighbor, Andy, is on my case. As you may recall from last week's column, Andy and I have this friendly little feud going over who has the nicest lawn. A typical topic for suburbanites.

Well, Andy has this secret weapon he wants to spring on me. But his wife, Cheryl, told me Sunday that Andy isn't going to unveil his secret weapon for another couple of weeks.

"He doesn't want you writing about him three weeks in a row," she said. "It gets boring after awhile." There go the Andy's lawn columns.

Take away cats, weight-lifting, class and Andy's lawn and there's darn little left to write about. I guess nobody ever promised the life of a suburban columnist would be easy.

By Bruce J. Martin

COMMUNITY JOURNALISM 101: As you may have seen on last week's letters page, The Northville Record staff is taking some heat for its decision to run photographer Jerry Zolynsky's graphic picture of Northville varsity baseball player Eric Terlecki instantly after the unfortunate senior was struck in the face with a pitch. We ran it on page one April 25. Big.

It is not, as they say, a pretty picture. Terlecki was bleeding badly, and while the ice pack being applied to his head partly obscures the wound itself, it's not hard to imagine its severity. We were relieved, and I'd say surprised, to find out he was all right.

I was in the newsroom when Jerry brought the picture in from the photo lab. I took one look at it and knew it belonged on the front page of The Record, or of any newspaper for that matter. I also knew that if it ran there, it would make some people angry as hell.

The ultimate responsibility for where the photo would run rested with our editor, Jean Day. Jean is not from the Gerald Rivera school of journalism. She is justifiably respected as a conscientious editor, and it was plain to all of us in the newsroom her decision to use the photo involved some intense soul-searching. One reader wrote in to say we don't need this kind of thing to sell papers. He's darn right we don't. That's why our decision to run it wasn't based on sales figures.

The value of Jerry's photograph is overwhelming for several reasons. It demonstrates the explosive dangers of the game of baseball. It demonstrates how Northville High School's coaches reacted to an emergency situation. It depicted the most important news event of the day in Northville. Junking a photograph containing such powerful news value may have been "tasteful." It would also have been irresponsible.

Baseball is not all home runs and high fives. It is sometimes a rugged sport in which mayhem is inches away. Someone making a decision whether to play or coach hardball should be aware of that. People who manufacture baseball helmets should be aware of that. Pitchers who throw inside fastballs should be aware of that.

The photograph is unforgettable, and therein lies its importance. If it makes one coach one iota less likely to forget the first aid equipment before practice or a game, or one pitcher more aware of the consequences of a "brush-back" pitch, the photo's value is immeasurable. Words are my bag, but no statistic-stuffed analysis I could write would carry the same weight as that picture. I am proud to work with a photographer and an editor with enough backbone to recognize that and to be willing to take the lumps for the decision.

I recognize this analogy is a little overdrawn, but I suspect if photojournalists sent only tasteful pictures back from Vietnam, we'd still be there.

ADVANCED JOURNALISM: That's one way to describe Kevin Wilson's departure from The Record ranks. I'm not sure how much Kevin will miss the post-midnight meetings and the often difficult task of finding news in a community as pleasant and peaceful as Northville.

On the other hand, I think some readers will miss him and I know I will. He's one of the most accurate, perceptive and thorough writers and quality people I've had the pleasure to run across. I would say it's going to be quiet here without him, except anyone who knows Low-Key Kev knows that's not true. It's going to be noisy here without him.

Happy trails, pardner.

New members sought

Michigan's largest consumer organization announced this week that it will be conducting its annual education and membership drive in the Northville area in the upcoming weeks.

"We hope to talk to as many people as possible in the Northville area in May," said Roxane Staples, Ann Arbor assistant canvass manager of the Michigan Citizens Lobby. "We want to tell people about our current work and find out what concerns them and give them the opportunity to get involved."

"The Citizens Lobby is currently collecting petition signatures to place a proposal on the 1986 statewide ballot to stop excessive utility rate increases approved by the PSC to pay for cost overruns on Detroit Edison's Fermi 2, and Belle River power plants, and to block rate increases for Consumers Power's abandoned Midland nuclear project.

"The Citizens Lobby sees no other alternative to keeping Michigan's utility rates reasonable, since the PSC and the Legislature have failed to act," Staples said.

Each year at this time Citizens Lobby representatives go door-to-door between the hours of 4-9 p.m. weekdays and 1-6 p.m. weekends to inform residents and ask them to join and support the Citizens Lobby. The organization has more than 100,000 members statewide, Staples says.

Canvassers will be asking for a few minutes to talk about the issues as the Citizens Lobby views them, a contribution, a signature on the 1986 ballot-proposal petition and, if possible, volunteers to work on the campaign.

Fraud hotline introduced

State Representative Willis "Bill" Bullard Jr. (R-Highland) has introduced a resolution calling on the State of Michigan to establish a "Fraud Hotline" similar to the one operated by the federal government.

Bullard said the U.S. General Accounting Office has received over 74,000 calls in the past seven years on the toll-free number, and almost 12,000 of those calls resulted in follow-up investigations.

"Washington has recovered over $24 million from the tips it has received on the 'Fraud Hotline,'" said Bullard. "It seems to be working well for the federal government, and I think it is worth a try here in Michigan."

Bullard noted that 353 investigations centered in Michigan, placing Michigan in the top 10 in the number of complaints investigated.

"Citizens are good watchdogs in their communities," said Bullard. "They can tell when something does not seem right. A person can call the toll-free number anonymously and give whatever information he has. The state would be able to follow-up and investigate."

Bullard's resolution calls on the governor to establish the 800 number within one of the state's departments. Bullard said he believed the tips would result in substantial savings in the area of welfare fraud, government purchases and mismanagement of taxpayers' money.

Vice president courts local officials

Michigan's early significance in the 1988 presidential sweepstakes is carrying impact all the way to little burghs like Northville, where local precinct delegates and campaign organizers have been wined and dined by the vice president of the United States.

Meeting in a small group (30 people or less) with Vice President George Bush April 28 was Northville Township Clerk Georgina Goss, an area coordinator for the Fund for America's Future, the pre-campaign fundraising committee for Bush's as-yet-undeclared candidacy.

Goss, who was given a set of cufflinks with the vice president's seal, said she was "awe-struck" upon meeting Bush in Southgate during an audience scheduled specifically for area coordinators.

The vice president spoke about oil prices and about terrorism and the country's determination "to do what needs to be done" to battle state-sponsored terrorism, according to Goss.

Others meeting George Bush or his wife Barbara had to wait until April 29, when township supervisor Susan J. Heintz was a guest at the Plymouth breakfast for Barbara Bush. A Tuesday afternoon reception drew 35th District Judge John MacDonald (former township supervisor) and precinct delegates Greg Dawson, Dorothy Gaul and Bob Cummings, according to Goss.

Over 60 million people in the United States have hypertension. It is the largest single cause of preventable disability and death. Hypertension is sometimes known as the "Silent Killer" because it often has no symptoms. The cause of hypertension is often unknown, but certain risk factors are well known. With proper evaluation, treatment is usually simple and may help prevent life threatening or disabling conditions such as stroke and heart disease.

So where's Romeo?

Northville High School freshman Amy Fulton looks ready for a night on the town . . . in 16th century Verona, Italy. While her dress looks slightly out of place in the hallways of Northville High School, her attire is in keeping with teacher Nancy Brown's Shakespeare unit. Amy made the dress — complete with Juliet cap — as part of her class project. Alas, none of the guys stepped forward to take the part of Romeo. So much for star-crossed lovers.

Executive positions opening up in state

Executives at the middle and upper levels could see a growth in job opportunities this year, according to a new survey.

An average of eight positions per company will be filled in 1986. Most of the growth will come in service firms.

Thirteen openings were projected by executives of service firms, while four openings were forecast by manufacturing firms.

There could be a shortage of available talent in Michigan, according to Richard Elwell, president of Elwell & Associates, an executive search firm in Ann Arbor.

"Increased hiring will increase the competition for talent and the organization that succeeds in recruiting the best talent will emerge as the leader in its industry," said Elwell.

The survey was commissioned by Elwell and conducted by Nordaus Research, Inc., of Southfield. Surveyed were presidents, CEOs and other high-level executives of Michigan corporations with sales of $10 million or more.

"The continuing expansion of existing companies and start-ups of high-tech firms in Michigan is creating the need to recruit talent from outside the state," said Elwell. "Companies can no longer steal people from each other within the state and still experience net growth."

How do Michigan firms fill executive positions?

Among manufacturing firms, the "corporate grapevine" was the most common means of finding candidates and filling top slots (68 percent). Executive recruiters (61 percent) also were retained.

Those methods were followed by "advertising" (26 percent) and "personnel agencies" (15 percent).

Do Michigan companies have difficulty filling jobs and attracting executives to Michigan?

On this question, the survey was evenly split. Half the respondents reported no difficulty, while the other half reported some difficulty in locating candidates for jobs who are both available and qualified. The problem is more acute in specialized industries.

Nation will celebrate Small Business Week

The nation's 15 million small business owners will be honored during the 22nd annual National Small Business Week (May 18-24).

Under the theme, "Small Business is BIG business in the USA," contributions of small companies will be noted at local and state ceremonies as well as at special activities in Washington, D.C.

Outstanding small business owners from each state, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico will be singled out for special honors as national examples of success, advocacy and community leadership. The "small business person of the year" will be selected from among the state winners.

Small Business Week, which was proclaimed by President Reagan, is coordinated by the U.S. Small Business Administration.

In addition to the 52 state small business winners, Small Business Advocates of the Year will be honored during the Washington ceremonies. They will include a young entrepreneur, a big business that helped to strengthen small business, a small business exporter and an innovative small business or supporter of small business innovation.

FRED SCHULTZ

JERRY HENDERSON

FRED SCHULTZ, a Northville resident and president of National Sales Engineering Corp. in Livonia, was named to a three-year term on the American Machine Tool Distributors' Association (AMTDA) Board of Directors during the association's 61st annual meeting in Scottsdale, Ariz.

Schultz was admitted to the Michigan Bar in 1969. From 1970-73 he served in private practice. In 1973, he became vice president of sales for National Sales Engineering Corporation, until his appointment as president in 1978. He also serves as a director and treasurer of Alliant Machine Tool Corporation, North Kingstown, R.I.

His past involvement with AMTDA includes regional chairman, committee service and a 1985-86 term on the board. He received a BS degree in management from the University of Detroit in 1966 and his J.D. degree in 1969.

He and his wife Sharon have three children: Marlene, 17, Jennifer, 15, and Deborah, 9. Schultz is active in YMCA youth programs and counts golf, skiing, bowling and water sports among his interests. He is a director of Farmington Hills Country Club.

JERRY D. HENDERSON of Northville has been named to a newly established sales post by Ford Motor Company's Direct Market Operation, based in Wixom. FDMO coordinates the sales and service programs of Ford dealers in countries where Ford has no operating affiliate.

Henderson, formerly FDMO marketing services manager, has been appointed general sales manager. He joined Ford in 1959 as a Ford Division analyst in the Lansing District Sales Office where he held a series of managerial posts before moving to the division's General Sales Office in 1966 as a market representation coordinator.

He was a division general field manager for the Oklahoma City District Sales Office in 1968-70, manager of the Detroit Ford Marketing Institute in 1971, and assistant Detroit District sales manager in 1971-72. He returned to the general sales office in 1972 as sales programs manager.

In 1973, he moved to Ford Brazil where he was successively marketing manager and parts and service manager. In 1977 Henderson joined Ford Latin America-Mexico as sales and marketing manager. He was appointed sales and marketing office manager of Ford Venezuela in 1980, and joined FDMO as marketing services manager in 1983.

He holds a bachelor's degree in education from Michigan State University. He was born Oct. 27, 1937, in Kingston, Mich.

THE O'BRIEN CHAPEL of the Ted C. Sullivan Funeral Home is celebrating its 10th anniversary in Novi this month. Sullivan has been a trusted name in funeral service for over 85 years.

Formerly located in Detroit, the chapel opened in Novi on May 2, 1976, with John J. O'Brien as president. The chapel has served many families from Michigan and out-of-state over the past 10 years.

O'Brien is an active member of the National Funeral Directors Association and the Michigan Funeral Directors Association as well as being a consultant to the Michigan Funeral Directors Pre-Need Trust. He also is an active member of the Holy Family Church, Novi Lions Club, Knights of Columbus and the Novi Chamber of Commerce in addition to being a sponsor of Novi Parks and Recreation Department teams and programs.

Newest staff member at the O'Brien Chapel is John P. O'Brien, son of the president. John P. O'Brien holds a BSW degree from Western Michigan University and graduated this spring from Wayne State University's Department of Mortuary Science.

The O'Brien Chapel has become a family affair. John P. O'Brien's three sisters — Bridget, Colleen and Marianne — handle office duties and landscaping responsibilities at the Grand River funeral home, and his brother-in-law, Michael Watt, and mother, Joanne O'Brien, also are on the staff. The only family member not involved is the oldest son, Mark, who will be graduated from the University of Osteopathic Medicine and Health Sciences in Des Moines, Iowa, on May 20.

In addition to celebrating its 10th anniversary in Novi, the O'Brien Chapel was selected by the Novi Chamber of Commerce this year to receive the Landscaping Beautification Award.

DAVID HAWTHORNE of Milford has been named to the AT&T Council of Leaders, an award which recognizes the top three percent of the company's nationwide marketing division for general business.

An account executive for AT&T, Hawthorne is responsible for medium-sized business customers in the Detroit area. He is a graduate of Michigan State University.

JAMES A. MELDRUM of Milford has been appointed branch officer for Comerica Bank's Seven Mile/Telegraph Road office. The announcement was made by Donald R. Mandich, chairman.

Meldrum joined the bank in 1967 as an assistant manager. Since then, he has held positions of increasing responsibilities.

Meldrum received his bachelor of business administration in 1967 from Eastern Michigan University. He is currently the third vice president of the Midwest Lions Club.

Comerica Bank is the principal subsidiary of Comerica, Incorporated.

LINDA SUMMERTON of Novi was the first $500 winner in the "$3,000 Giveaway" sponsored by Security Bank Oakland County. Summerton is shown above receiving the check from Security Bank Oakland County's Paul Wilson.

Security Bank Oakland County is giving away $500 each week during May to a customer utilizing its new Bank-A-Matic/24 automatic teller cards.

The Bank-A-Matic/24 card allows customers to make withdrawals, deposits, loan payments, balance inquiries and to transfer funds from one account to another through the touch of a few buttons. The Bank-A-Matic/24 machines are open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Every customer who uses the Bank-A-Matic/24 card to make a financial transaction is automatically entered in the contest. The card is given to anyone who opens a checking or savings account at Security Bank Oakland County.

The Bank-A-Matic/24 $3,000 Giveaway ends May 30.

N. KELLY SHARKEY has been appointed sales and support manager of The Personnel Department, the new microcomputer personnel software and support services department developed by the Arbor Consulting Group, Inc., of Plymouth, for small and medium-sized businesses, divisions and staffs.

Previously, Sharkey was marketing manager for Total Health Care in Detroit and executive director of the American Dairy Association of Michigan. A Northville resident, she is a member of the Adcraft Club, the American Society of Association Executives, the American Society for Training and Development, the Michigan Hospital Public Relations Association and the Professional Women in Sales.

The Arbor Consulting Group, Inc., is a human resources management corporation focusing on career transition, human resources systems and programs for the hourly work force.

Hints for deciphering financial reports

Financial reports are detailed reading. But they're not always as mystifying as they first appear, according to the Michigan Association of CPAs.

Reading the "financials" of a company may give you an eye-opening view of the firm. As an investor, reading the financial statement and conducting other research might convince you that wealth could be yours, if you could only buy 100 shares in the company.

The first section of an annual report is filled with descriptive information about the company. This section generally varies in length from four to 20 pages. It consists of a letter from the company president and an explanation of what the company sells, and it sometimes maps out the company's plans for the future.

Generally, few surprises come out of this prose section, but careful reading of the section can be useful. A company may reveal that it plans to target a new market or unveil a new product. Auditing standards dictate that the prose section must be consistent with the "numbers section" of the report — the financial statements.

It is important to remember that a company's financial statements reveal only a partial picture. Other materials, such as 10-K or selected information from a stockbroker, help present a more complete, comprehensive view.

The "numbers section" is made up of a series of elaborate-looking tables. An income statement, statement of financial changes and balance sheet are the bare minimum usually provided. While the information in this section may appear technical, there are some basic useful figures that can be gleaned from these tables.

One measure that is used to gauge a company's health is its working capital. The firm's ability to pay debts, expand operations and make headway in new markets may be determined by its working capital. A company's working capital can be found on the balance sheet, and it represents the difference between total current assets and total current liabilities.

Another gauge of a corporation's health can be discerned from looking for trends in earnings per share (EPS). Looking for a five-year trend in EPS can be revealing. In comparing five-year figures, discount any slight changes from year to year, but pay close attention to the trend in EPS.

Another indicator is the debt-to-equity ratio. This can be determined by dividing the total shareholders' equity into the total long-term debt. The answer could be compared with debt-to-equity ratios found in other companies in the same industry. A high figure might indicate that creditors are in a position to exercise great influence over the company.

CPAs, financial analysts and stockbrokers perform a battery of more intensive financial measures when examining a company's financial statements. Short of this comprehensive technical approach, examining the auditor's opinion section can be a useful method of evaluating a company's financial statement.

The auditor's opinion is the next to last section of most annual reports. It is in this section that the auditor of the company issues an opinion on the financial statements provided by management of the company. The auditor's opinion does not judge the financial condition of the company. It does, however, say whether the company has presented its financial statements in conformity with accepted accounting practices.

For example, perhaps the company has changed accounting methods to improve earnings or the company is facing a major lawsuit because of patent infringement. These elements may be discussed in the auditor's report. Although reading the auditor's report cannot provide an investor with the same information as a thorough analysis of the firm's financial statement, it can "red flag" potential problems.

According to the Michigan Association of CPAs, in about 90 percent of publicly-traded companies' audits, the auditor's opinion is two paragraphs long. A report of this length is known as a "standard report" or "clean opinion." The standard report signifies that the financial statements prepared by management of the company are in accordance with accepted accounting methods.

If a third paragraph has been added, the auditor has modified the standard report or qualified an opinion on the financial statement presented by management. This may be an indication that the situation in the company needs further investigation. Certain key words can tip off an investor that something unusual has occurred within the company. Look for the words "except for" or "subject to."

The last section of the annual report also can provide a shorthand method of ferreting out important information. It is the notes. Notes refer to specific items in the financial statements. A note might say that the company is planning to sell off a subsidiary or that the company is facing a big lawsuit that is about to be settled.

For those interested in finding out more about financial statements, the Michigan Association of CPAs offers a booklet entitled, "What Else Can Financial Statements Tell You?" To receive this booklet, please write to: MACPA, PO Box 9054, Farmington Hills, MI 48018.

Oakland chamber ups Silent Observer funds

The Oakland County Chamber of Commerce has updated its Silent Observer Reward program and doubled all the rewards.

The crime prevention program pays rewards to people providing information to police directly resulting in a conviction for crimes committed in Oakland County.

Rewards of up to $2,000 will be paid for information leading to arrest and conviction for murder and up to $1,000 for other felonies.

Anyone with information about a crime or the persons who committed the crime should call the law enforcement agency in the area where the crime took place. Callers do not need to give their names. They should identify themselves as a Silent Observer and give the law enforcement agency a number to call later to receive the reward.

If a conviction is obtained as a direct result of the information, the caller will be entitled to the reward.

Chamber President Earl Kreps said the Silent Observer program has paid out over $70,000 to date and has helped solve approximately 200 major crimes.

"I feel we can do even more to fight crime in our county by increasing awareness of this program," he said. "In addition to increasing the rewards, we are working closely with all 36 law enforcement agencies in coordinating this program."

Lotto winners announced

Fifty instant lottery tickets apiece await the final three winners in "The Lottery Contest," sponsored by Sliger/Livingston Publications and the Michigan State Lottery.

Diane Panaretos of Howell, Richard Reinhardt of Novi and Yvonne Warner of Whitmore Lake each will receive the 50 lottery tickets as their prizes.

The contest ended last week. To play, readers had to complete the puzzle contest form appearing in a special Green Sheet advertisement, and send their entries to Sliger/Livingston Publications.

Winners were selected through a random drawing.

Check out lawn care companies

Every year, more homeowners turn to professional lawn-care companies to beautify their lawns. Some caution, however, is advised for homeowners choosing a lawn-care service for the first time.

Unqualified lawn services can pose a hazard to the unsuspecting homeowner, cautions James R. Brooks, executive vice president of the Professional Lawn Care Association of America (PLCAA).

Through misuse of fertilizers and control compounds, the fly-by-night lawn company can damage your lawn or vegetable garden, he said.

There are ways, however, that a homeowner can guard against the unqualified lawn-care service.

"For example, in most states a company using and applying chemicals on your lawn must be licensed by the state," said Brooks. "The unqualified operators may not be licensed, and these are the people you should be concerned about."

Brooks said the size of a lawn-care company is not necessarily a good criteria for determining its legitimacy. "There are many small companies that are highly qualified to service your lawn," he said. "Pay more attention, not to the size of the lawn-care company, but instead to the way they approach their work."

For instance, if a company quotes you an abnormally low price for servicing your lawn, take caution. "If there is a dramatic price differential between what they are charging compared to what a known, reputable firm would charge, you'd better beware," said Brooks. "You can cause yourself many problems trying to save a few dollars."

Another warning signal, Brooks adds, is the inability of the lawn care company to satisfactorily answer questions such as how many applications of fertilizer or weed control materials will be needed.

Another sign to watch for is when the lawn-service company doesn't have any printed information, such as brochures, to give a prospective customer. Also inquire about billing procedures.

Safety procedures are another aspect of lawn care that a homeowner can investigate. The use of lawn products is completely safe only when they are applied in the proper amounts under proper conditions.

Brooks suggests that you inquire about the company's safety concerns, such as what precautionary measures will be taken around pets, gardens and ponds.

A final safeguard when considering lawn care is to ask whether the company is active in an industry professional organization, such as the Professional Lawn Care Association of America, which is the leading professional organization serving the lawn care industry.

Many lawn-care companies, said Brooks, will display the PLCAA logo on applicator trucks or other vehicles.

Foiling The Faux-Pas

An easy guide to restaurant savoir-faire

By Maureen Naszradi

Proper etiquette for dining out has evolved from stuffy requirements to comfortable practicality.

Still, from keeping a reservation to how much to tip to whether to ask for a doggie bag, dining out today with proper etiquette requires a whole set of personal guidelines. No matter which restaurant you decide on, your manners will be noticed by those you dine with and are served by.

Kass Allie, manager and maitre d' of the Crystal Swan restaurant in the Novi Hilton, said manners begin at the door. "My staff takes all the steps necessary to ensure that the customers have everything they need to complement their good manners," he says.

One attempt at proper manners that Allie has noticed often works to the discomfort of a customer. By politely allowing a female dining companion to sit down at a booth first, many men inadvertently force her awkwardly to slide quite a distance before both can be comfortably seated. He says the restaurant staff attempts to divert this process by pulling the tablecloth back or encouraging the male customer to enter on the opposite side.

Once seated, area restaurateurs agree that most people are ordering for themselves rather than traditionally deferring to men for both orders. Exceptions to this rule might be ordering ahead of time for a large group, deferment to the guest of honor, or letting someone else order for you.

Achille Bianchi, maitre d' at Chez Raphael in Novi, says 15 percent of his customers order dinner without asking for the menu. Because of the restaurant staff's familiarity with the Meadowbrook Country Club members, dining room manager Marcia Weaver says, "We know the member, so we know who the guest is, so we would approach the guest first (when taking orders)."

Ordering from the wine list calls for etiquette for a tradition preserved. The host of the party or the person who orders the wine, if different, can expect to be presented with the bottle, offered an opportunity to sniff the cork, given a taste for approval, and required to give the nod before the other guests are served.

At Chez Raphael, 60 percent of the guests go on Bianchi's suggestion without looking at a wine list. He says diners are familiar with the tasting procedure. "Today, people are very knowledgeable about fine dining and fine wines," he says.

An aspect of etiquette less conspicuous than tasting wine, and therefore often overlooked, is the manner in which diners address the staff. More appropriate than calling "waiter" or "waitress" is to address your server as "sir," "ma'am" or "miss," depending on his or her age. Allie acknowledges, however, that "waiter" is not derogatory because it is a profession.

At Meadowbrook, Weaver says, politeness is never a problem due, again, to the familiarity. Also, she says, "Our waitresses have name tags they are required to wear at all times, so we encourage addressing them by their names."

At Chez Raphael, Bianchi says he hears, "A bit of everything," depending on the relationship established between the server and the customer. Allie says his staff tries to create a certain professional distance while still emphasizing personal attention to detail.

If something goes awry during your evening, not only is it within the confines of proper etiquette to alert immediately your server or the maitre d', but it is encouraged. Whether your complaint is about the meal or the service, Allie says, you are doing no one a favor by not telling the restaurant. Mindful that the maitre d' can not hover over every table and that the servers are human, he says that constructive criticism benefits the restaurant.

Following the meal, the check is presented to the person acting as host. Most restaurants will accommodate requests regarding the presentation of the bill — such as who receives it, whether it will be settled at a later date, or whether it is to be divided among the diners.

Area restaurateurs report that separate checks are not frequently requested, but stress the importance of forewarning the server when they are. This practice is discouraged at the Crystal Swan, says Allie, to avoid servers' having to juggle many checks among tables. "They would have to spend too much time with the checks instead of with their customers," he explains.

Proper etiquette calls for a tip to be included on the check. The amount left should reflect the service and the quality of the meal, says Allie. However, if there is a problem, diners should try to determine whether it was the server's fault. If the server had no control, a manager should be contacted and allowed to make amends by removing an item from the check or buying the customer a drink or dessert, says Allie.

At Meadowbrook Country Club, a set percentage of the check total automatically is added as the tip, says Weaver. However, members can add an extra amount if they want. Both Allie and Bianchi report that most customers leave at least 15 percent of the check total as a tip.

When attended by many members of the restaurant's staff, the question of whom to tip arises. At Chez Raphael, the tip on the check is shared by the waiter or waitress, the bartender, the busboy and the wine steward. Tipping the maitre d', which is sometimes done, would require a separate amount.

Chez Raphael maitre d' Bianchi says he is sometimes tipped in appreciation of an enjoyable dinner for which he may have helped select something on the menu or an accompanying wine. Allie at the Crystal Swan said he too is tipped in appreciation through arranging things like a special dessert or flowers.

But, Allie, says, "The days when the maitre d' was tipped before the meal to 'buy' a good table are over." Any tipping is done following the meal today, he says. In addition to tipping, Allie explains he appreciates other methods of expressing satisfaction with the restaurant. "It can be a sincere thank you, a handshake or specific comments about the restaurant," he says.

Bianchi says he has seen an overall improvement in manners in recent years, though specific courtesies, such as standing each time a woman leaves or returns to the table, are seen less often. Allie says he is seeing a trend in etiquette emphasizing comfort rather than stuffiness. Both restaurateurs try to stress comfort while maintaining the ambiance of a class restaurant.

Although most diners are well-mannered, Allie says he still sees some extreme violations of proper etiquette. The no-nos include putting too much food in your mouth at once, talking with your mouth full, talking too loudly, making unsolicited comments to other diners or disturbing neighboring tables in any way.

On occasion, when diners see other customers with whom they are acquainted, there is a proper way to greet them. Approach the table before or between courses so that the meal will not be interrupted. Also, take into consideration the employees navigating among the tables so as not to hinder their work.

Bianchi does not discourage this practice because he feels it is part of the customer's enjoyment of the evening.

The breach of manners that Allie finds most distasteful is some people's smoking habits. Although what individuals do at their own table is their own business, he says as a rule never smoke while there is any food on the table for the consideration of the other diners seated at your table.

"A good restaurant makes it as easy as possible to practice good manners," according to Allie. Related to that policy is the continued debate over whether it is proper to eat anything with your fingers. Whereas eating a steak that way would be somewhat out of line, Allie says some food, like shrimp cocktail, is designed to be eaten that way, so go ahead.

Related to etiquette, but less debated, is when children should accompany parents to the restaurant. Weaver says Meadowbrook has no problem with children's behavior or manners. However, at the Crystal Swan, precautions are taken.

"Although we don't discourage bringing children, when a reservation is made, we warn that a child has to be well-behaved or we will ask that the child be taken out of the restaurant until the behavior changes so as not to disturb other customers," he points out.

In addition to general manners to be exercised in a restaurant, other codes of etiquette should be followed. Most restaurants have some type of dress code. At Chez Raphael and the Crystal Swan, a jacket is required of men. Meadowbrook requires a coat and tie for evening dining and has a supply of both to accommodate an unprepared guest. The Crystal Swan also has some extra jackets, but reserves them for more urgent situations only, such as a single member of a group without the appropriate attire.

Also related to attire, coat checks are available in most restaurants. Both men and women, including fur owners, are encouraged to check coats if there is a possibility they might be in the way, draped over a chair or otherwise stored at the table.

Prior to dining at a restaurant, making reservations is encouraged and sometimes required. How much in advance depends on the restaurant. At Chez Raphael, reservations for Saturday nights must be made six weeks in advance, though during the week 5-6 hours prior will suffice. Most restaurants have same-day availability.

When making a reservation, Allie suggests the customer ask for an availability rather than demanding a specific time, although such requests are usually available.

A problem common to all restaurants is reservations made but not kept. Although it does not happen too often at Chez Raphael, Bianchi says there is nothing they can do but absorb the loss when it does. According to Allie, restaurants often overbook reservations in order to prevent the loss resulting from a table left vacant waiting for guests to show up.

"It's very important for people to remember that when they do make a reservation, if something comes up, they should offer the courtesy of a call to cancel that reservation because, in a limited space restaurant, you are holding that space for someone and you could be letting someone use it," said Weaver. Meadowbrook's policy is to hold the table for 45 minutes and call the member while the Crystal Swan affords 15 before designating the table to another customer.

In an attempt to combat the no show problem, Allie said, some restaurants require a credit card number at the time a reservation is made so that in the event the guests fail to appear, a charge is made to their account.

No-Shows

Restaurateurs, customers both lose

By JEAN DAY

No shows — those persons who make reservations or appointments, fail to keep them but don't cancel — are becoming increasingly common and costly, especially to small businesses.

The problem of restaurant patrons who fail to honor reservations is not limited to popular restaurants in New York and metropolitan Detroit — it extends to restaurants like Elizabeth's in Northville.

In fact, because the restaurant known for its fine French cuisine is located in a house at 227 Hutton with seating limited to about 60, the situation here is even more acute.

Owners Doug and Elizabeth Campbell note that in serving 60 dinners "our profit margin is eight dinners."

To point out how serious the no-show problem is at Elizabeth's Doug Campbell says that four persons not showing costs the restaurant $120.

"And you have to think of the waiters and waitresses who lose their tips," he adds.

"It's not a small thing," he stresses, noting that no shows cost the restaurant $31,000 last year.

Campbell admits the situation is worse at Elizabeth's than at restaurants like MacKinnon's at 126 East Main in downtown Northville because there is virtually no walk-in traffic to fill the empty tables.

Tom MacKinnon admits that "it's not that much of a problem" at his restaurant because he overbooks reservations by 10 percent.

He says, "It's just part of the business and you're always going to have a table or two of no shows."

MacKinnon says he keeps a list of persons who make reservations and do not show if this has happened two or three times.

He anticipates that maybe he will begin to take telephone numbers to confirm reservations on special occasions, such as New Year's Eve.

"Ours is a bit unique," Doug and Beth Campbell point out of Elizabeth's policy of taking telephone numbers with reservations and asking patrons to reconfirm that they are coming.

"It just takes one phone call," Doug says pointing out that he and his wife run the restaurant and are the chefs as well. There is no office staff to take and confirm reservations. On a recent evening, he recalls, he had 66 confirmed reservations — and four did not show even after confirming. He notes also that two patrons who showed up did not stay that evening when they learned they could not bring in their own wine bottle. The restaurant does not have a liquor license but has been attempting to obtain one.

He says that, if a reservation is not confirmed, he tries to do so early the morning of the day for which it has been made.

"If we can't reach the person, we have to make the decision on whether to prepare," the Campbells say.

The Campbells have computerized their reservation system by reservation name and telephone number. In so doing, they have been able to keep track of those who made reservations and did not show or call later to explain why.

When a no-show patron calls again to make a reservation, a check later reveals this, Campbell says, explaining that he then does not accept the confirmation.

It is this policy that has caused the Campbells public relations problems as turn-away customers have been irritated.

But Campbell says, "we're not here to create enemies."

He emphasizes that the policies have been instituted to help the restaurant stay in business.

Genitti's Hole in the Wall Italian restaurant at 108 East Main caters to groups with its popular Italian dinners and has very few no shows, less than five percent, Kathy McLeod who handles reservations reports. She attributes this to the fact that the restaurant requires a substantial deposit for any group larger than eight. Usually the cancellation or no show is because of illness, she says, with only the ill member of the party not coming.

Novi Hilton manager Gary Seibert says no shows are "not really" a problem in the hotel's Crystal Swan restaurant because telephone numbers and names are taken with reservations. "Whenever we can, we call back and confirm," he explains, adding that the policy "gives us the opportunity to resell space." This is especially important for buffets for such special occasions as Easter and Mother's Day.

"Oh, sure, we have no shows," says Keith Famie, chef of Chez Raphael at the Sheraton Oaks, "but that is expected — we always overbook. He adds that "the problem is not as great (at Chez Raphael) as at some restaurants because, when our customers cancel, they usually call."

Several stylish New York restaurants surveyed in a New York Times article earlier this year said their experiences with no shows reflected an industrywide problem that affects restaurants of all types and sizes.

Guisepppe Bruno, a co-owner of Sistina, said the average Saturday night no show rate is 20 percent, and slightly less on other days.

He reported that the restaurant would be closed on New Year's Eve this year after several parties failed to arrive, including one table for eight that had been confirmed and reconfirmed and which resulted in a loss of $700 to $800 last New Year's Eve.

A big restaurant can make up for no shows by overbooking a little and making other adjustments, Joseph Reyers, the maitre d'hotel at La Cote Basque in New York, was quoted as observing. The small restaurant, he said, gets burned most severely.

The no-show problem facing restaurants is similar to that facing airlines that in charter situations also have found that requiring deposits or prepayments is the safest way to operate.

The no-show problem appears to be minimal in beauty shops. Krystyna Dziewit, owner of the Fashion Cellar at 102 West Main in downtown Northville, says that most of her shop's customers are regulars and will call to cancel.

Early blooming, city garden captures title for May

Because the garden around the home of the Robert F. Delany is blooming with hyacinth, tulips and geraniums, the Country Girls Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association selected it as the Garden of the Month for May.

"It shows what can be done with a corner lot in town," says Pat Eden, co-chair of the garden project with Judy Beyersdorf. Located at 305 Dunlap, the yard contains such wildflowers as Star of Bethlehem and jack-in-the-pulpit as well as strawberries, herbs, including camphor and chives, daffodils, crocus and other perennials and flowering bushes.

Bob Delany, right, poses beside a flower bed with iris, tulips and other spring flowers.

The Country Girls have selected a Garden of the Month for May to October for several years. Anyone with a garden to nominate should call Eden or Beyersdorf.

Girls' trackers continue to improve but losses mount

Record/JERRY ZOLYNSKY

At far left, Karen Stinson (right) receives the baton and is off to the races in the mile relay event versus Farmington Harrison. It was the only Mustang relay team to take a first place in last Thursday's meet. Anne Griffith (near left) has been a consistent performer in the distance events and the discus for Northville all season long.

Untimely injuries and sickness combined with a lack of depth have made the current season for the Northville girls' track team a bit discouraging.

With only one-third of the '86 campaign remaining, the Mustangs (0-5 overall, 0-4 in the WLAA) are still winless in dual meets and haven't had much success in the various relays either. Prior to last week, Coach Mike Webb was optimistic because in all of the team's first four meets, the margin of defeat continued to shrink — but in a dual meet against Farmington Harrison last Thursday (May 8), a 22-point difference ended the string.

Webb is quick to point out that the times and efforts for a lot of the Mustangs are getting better each meet, but the apparent backward step against the Hawks has Northville reeling. And then an 11th place finish, out of 11 teams at the Observerland Relays last Saturday certainly didn't help matters much.

"Most of the girls look forward to every meet," Webb said. "They want to win, and they are giving their best efforts, but I can't honestly say that they aren't disappointed that we've been unable to win."

Harrison, with a tiny squad of just 19, handed the Mustangs a 75-53 loss, but Webb still wasn't critical of his team.

"Again, I've seen some good performances so I'm really not disappointed — as long as we improve."

"There is always a light at the end of the tunnel if you see improvement each week."

The two mile relay event best sums up how the meet went for Northville. The team sliced a full 10 seconds off its previous best time of the year, a fine 10:54, but it still wasn't enough to win the race. In the 400 and 800-meter relays, bad handoffs and close losses spelled doom for the Mustangs. The only relay team that did win was the mile crew — Jennifer Goshorn, Robin McDuffie, Pam Kavanagh and Karen Stinson combined for a winning time of 4:00.28.

Anne Griffith had another nice day, winning the mile run (5:50), placing second in the two mile (12:50) and third in the discus (78'4"). Linda Groves continues to look good in the distance runs as she placed second in the mile with a personal best time of 6:01 and third in the two mile, another personal best time of 12:57.

Thinclads drop fifth straight

The Mustang boys' track squad lost its fifth straight dual meet of the season, a 96-41 thumping at Farmington Harrison on May 8.

"I don't know what to say," Coach Paul Osborn said. "In practice we do well and then often times we perform poorer in meets. When you see times better in practice, I think it means that the kids are trying too hard."

The Mustangs (0-5 overall, 0-4 in the WLAA) only took firsts in three events. Kevin Haas grabbed the only individual win for Northville with a first in the two mile run (10:30.9). Matt Hubert, Tim Millen, Dana Letarte, and Matt Peltz combined for a win in the 400-meter relay (47.33) while Jeff Harp, John Gird, John Frisbee and Marty Broderick did the same in the mile relay (3:44.1).

Seconds for the Mustangs included: Peltz in the long jump (18'-1"), Millen in the low hurdles (42.4), Letarte in the 100-meter dash (11.5), Hubert in the 200 (24.5), Gird in the 400 (55.1) and Haas in the mile (4:45).

Other top three finishers were Scott Nolan, a third in the discus (100'-2"); Todd Feliks, a third in the high hurdles (17.3); Harp, a third in the 800 (2:07.7) and John Kearns, a third in the 200 (24.52). "Harrison is a very, very strong team, and some of our guys had off days," Osborn said.

"The combination of the two decided it quick."

Freshmen and Sophomore members of the team competed at the Sunshine Invitational in South Lyon last Saturday and placed fifth out of nine teams.

The big gun for the Mustangs was sophomore John Frisbee who placed second in the mile (4:38), second in the two mile (10:27) and sixth in the 880-yard run (2:11).

Todd Daniels grabbed fourth place overall with a long jump of 16'-10" and Mark Kirally placed fourth in the 100 (11.1). The relay team of Daniels, Steve Ventura, Kirally and Scott Paredes placed third in the 440 event and fifth in the 880 relay (1:43.2).

Losing streak reaches 10 as softballers drop five more

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Pitching has been the downfall all season for the Northville softball team, but last week the usual Mustangs hitting roar was reduced to a pitiful squeak.

It made for a very unproductive week — five losses in five games — thus extending the slumping Mustangs' losing streak to 10 in a row and 12 of the last 13.

It was a discouraging week of work because Northville seemed to digress with every succeeding loss. A doubleheader sweep by Plymouth Canton (scores of 8-5 and 9-8) on May 5 was as close as the Mustangs would get all week. Three straight whippings followed — a 13-0 loss to Livonia Franklin on May 7 and a pair of shut out defeats at Plymouth Salem, 8-0 and 15-0.

"I don't think the girls are giving up, but we definitely aren't playing with confidence right now," Coach Bob Gerlach said. "When you lose 10 in a row, it's hard to get out of that trap."

"After the Canton games, we just didn't hit at all, and with our pitching struggling all season long, when we don't hit, we are in deep trouble — we don't have a chance."

Against Canton, Northville did hit the ball, but the Mustang hurlers issued 22 walks in the two games. In game one, starter Lisa Brannon walked a dozen in the first three innings which was the contributing factor in a quick 7-0 deficit.

"The walk syndrome killed us again," Gerlach said.

Sophomore Kim Wilds came in to relieve Brannon in the fourth and only gave up one run and no walks the rest of the way. Northville did score three in the fourth, thanks to a big three-run homer by Sue Schrader, and two more in the sixth, but it was too late.

The second game was the opposite, but the result was another loss. The Mustangs jumped out to a 4-0 lead, let it slip away and just didn't have enough at the end to catch up. With one out in the first and two on,

"I don't think the girls are giving up, but we definitely aren't playing with confidence right now. When you lose 10 in a row, it's hard to get out of that trap."

— Bob Gerlach
Mustang Softball Coach

Schrader again ripped a triple and the lead was 2-0. Another single scored Schrader and a stolen base, a wild pitch and a ground out made it 4-0.

This time starter Diane Ford had control problems, and in the third, Canton scored six runs with the aid of eight walks to regain the lead. From then on, it was back and forth with each team scoring token runs here and there. Heading into the bottom of the seventh, with the Chiefs holding on to a 9-7 lead, Northville scored once to cut the gap to one, but that was it.

"We should have won both of those games," Gerlach said. "And without all the walks, we would have."

Franklin pitching ace Traci Leckta was dominating on Wednesday, blanking the Mustangs through seven innings and giving up just four hits. Chris McGowan collected two of those hits, but the team never really threatened against Leckta.

"We were just plain and simply dominated," Gerlach admitted. "Our pitchers only gave up three walks in this game, but (Franklin) was hitting the ball all over the place on us."

The Patriots seemed to score at least a few runs each inning and built an insurmountable 9-0 lead after six innings. In the seventh they scored four more to add insult to injury, completing the 13-0 romp.

It was more of the same in Friday's twinbill with Salem. Northville's Jeannine Laprad had a good day at the plate, going 2-for-4, but the rest of her teammates went a combined 1-for-33. And Wilds pitched a decent game, giving up just three walks, but she had very little help.

"Wilds pitched well but she got no support," Gerlach said. "For the first time this season, our hitting is really letting us down."

The first batter Wilds faced hit a pop-up on the infield, but the Northville shortstop and second baseman watched it fall to the ground between them — the nightmare began.

"That first play kind of set the tone for both the games," Gerlach said.

Salem scored three in the third and four in the fourth while the Mustang bats languished at the plate.

It was 11 more walks in game two, and Salem gladly accepted the free gifts from the generous Northville pitchers. Ford started, walked four in the first to fall into an early 5-0 hole. Brannon relieved her, walked four straight and gave way to Wilds who went the rest of the way.

"Salem is the best team we've played all year," Gerlach pointed out. "There is no way you can give a good team like that so many chances."

If giving up 15 runs wasn't bad enough, the Mustangs only managed two hits all game. If you're counting, that's a total of nine hits in the previous three games — not what you would call very impressive.

It was a disastrous week all around. Northville's overall record plummeted to 2-16 and 2-11 in the WLAA. But even more crucial, a 2-2 record in the Western Division before last week, has now ballooned into a 2-5 mark.

"I just hope we get out of this slump and start playing well going into the districts," Gerlach stated. "It's a whole new season and anything can happen."

Kickers shut out three more

Shutouts are becoming so common in the Northville girls' soccer matches, it tends to lessen the accomplishment.

But to educated coaches and experts around the state, it simply means that the Mustang defense is as strong as any around.

Last week, Northville (11-1-3 overall, 10-1-3 in WLAA) recorded three more wins — and three more shutouts — but it is hardly anything new. The 2-0 victory over Livonia

Franklin on May 5, the 6-0 drubbing of Farmington on May 7 and a 9-0 whitewash of Walled Lake Western on May 9 brings the current string of scoreless halves to 10 for the awesome Mustang defense.

The numbers are very impressive: 12 shutouts out of 16 games, a goals against average of 0.31 and just five goals given up compared to 59 scored.

"We have a good reputation around the state as a very good defensive team and rightly so," said Coach Stan Smalec. "Hey, our defense is a solid as a rock."

In the win over Franklin, the Mustangs outshot the Patriots by a margin of three to one. Out of 30 shots on goal, Northville only scored two times, but Smalec is glad to see that number increasing every game — a sign that the offense is really coming around.

"AIDS" Drug Research

Research into the cause, prevention, and treatment of Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome ("AIDS") continues to consume enormous resources of time, money and human energy. Progress in AIDS has moved further in a shorter period of time than for any other fatal or sexually-transmitted disease. And although a cure for AIDS has not yet been found, investigations to find drugs to treat or contain the AIDS virus continue. A vaccine to prevent the occurrence of this condition appears to be a few years, if not months, away.

Researchers throughout the world are evaluating many drugs for possible use in AIDS. Potentially useful agents include sumarin, interferon, interleukin-2, phosphonoformate, azidothymidine, and ribavirin. These are not currently available for routine use at this time, however.

The majority of drugs under study either suppress the viability of the AIDS virus or help the body's immune system cope with the AIDS virus. Many researchers feel that the ideal future therapy will include three types of drugs — one to inhibit the growth and reproduction of the AIDS virus, one to correct damages to the body's immune system, and one to treat opportunistic infections.

Marketplace school upcoming

At Northville United Methodist Church from June 17-19 in vacation church school, teachers and children will travel through a time shuttle to understand what it was like to live in the time of Jesus.

Youngsters will learn about customs, festivals, food, clothing, dishes, scribes, occupations and culture of the time.

Parents interested in participating in the program are asked to contact Debbie Stein, 420-2777, coordinator, or Sue Nix, 348-1634, preschool coordinator.

It's free — car wash at church

"Something for nothing" is the way the senior high students in the Senior High Fellowship Group at First Presbyterian Church in Northville at 200 E. Main are billing the car wash they are planning for Saturday, May 31.

The students, who are raising money for their work camp this summer, are getting sponsors who pledge money for each car they wash that day. Each participant hopes to have enough pledges to make it a profitable day. The more cars washed, the more money raised.

The students will be traveling to Harrisonburg, Va., July 6 for a retreat of fun and work. They will work though July 13 to repair the Presbyterian's national retreat center in Massanetta Springs. Mid-week they will take the day off to tour Washington, D.C.

The car wash objective is to make the work camp a self-supporting project, sponsors explain.

In event of rain, the car wash will be held June 7.

Priest returns to mark 50th year

The Rev. Fr. John Wittstock, who served at Our Lady of Victory Church for 18 years, is coming from his home in Las Vegas to offer a solemn Mass of Thanksgiving at Our Lady of Victory at 1:45 p.m. Sunday.

The jubilee celebration marks his 50 year milestone as a priest of the Archdiocese of Detroit.

Fr. Wittstock served Northville and Novi parishioners from 1956 to 1974. During the period, the parish grew from 325 to 1,400 families.

For Fr. Wittstock's first 20 years as priest he was director of the Catholic Big Brothers as well as chaplain of Wayne County Juvenile Court. He recalls that in 1936 a pilot program with six volunteer Big Brothers was formed but died seven months later. In 1938, a new nucleus of several volunteers was organized and the program enjoyed a steady growth with 82 volunteer Big Brothers to whom boys 12-16 years old with problems were assigned.

Fr. Wittstock, who served as director, was one of three paid Big Brother staff members. He, a trained layman, executive secretary and an office secretary were paid by the Archdiocesan Catholic Youth Organization. The offices were provided by the Wayne County Juvenile Court in its building in Detroit.

In addition, Fr. Wittstock recalls, he contacted about 1,000 boys a year as chaplain of the detention home.

"Besides seeing the boys' parents before the preliminary hearing each day I would visit many of the parents in their homes. Statistics were kept and reported to the Catholic YOUTH Organization Board of Directors," he said, noting that he calculated he had visited 15,989 homes of boys during the 20 years.

FR. JOHN WITTSTOCK

Fr. Wittstock, who has been retired since he was 70, for a little more than seven years has been living in Las Vegas. He serves in part-time ministry at St. Joan of Arc parish in downtown Las Vegas and notes that the church is the oldest in the city. It is located only a few blocks from the casinos.

Las Vegas was chosen for his retirement home, the priest explains, because of its dry climate, noting that even though summers are very hot, the low humidity compensates for any discomfort.

During the past few years, Fr. Wittstock says he has paid occasional visits to some of the inmates in the Las Vegas jail. He began a religious education program at the Las Vegas Juvenile Detention Home three years ago. "After three months, I asked the pastor of a parish close to the facility to continue the program — that was done," he relates.

For many years Fr. Woodstock says he has enjoyed his woodworking craft, making china cabinets, wall units and small tables and boxes for his home and donating other craft products to local Catholic charities.

Fr. Wittstock adds that he walks three miles a day at 7 a.m. every morning except Sunday — but that, since being bitten by a dog last year, he now carries a can "for defensive purposes."

Plant sale Saturday at church

The Women's Service Club of Meadowbrook Congregational Church will repeat its plant and bake sale from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the church at 21355 Meadowbrook Rd.

The bake sale, under the leadership of Roberta Collins of Novi, will offer all sorts of homebaked goods.

Kay Crowell of Canton, chairman of the plant sale, says bedding plants (including geraniums, impatiens, coleus, petunias and marigolds), as well as hanging baskets and urns will be available.

During the women's sale, the Men's Fellowship will be washing cars in the parking lot.

Doris Purvis, a resident of Country Place condominiums on Eight Mile, gave three pints of blood in one month for a very worthwhile cause—her own surgery.

As the first participant in the autologous blood transfusion program at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia, she was able to receive this blood during hip replacement surgery Feb. 26.

"Over the years there has been a growing awareness of problems resulting from blood transfusions. If there was any chance I could avoid that risk, even though it was low, I felt I might as well do it," Purvis explained.

Dr. Herbert Mendelson, a Farmington orthopedic surgeon, told Purvis last November she would need a total hip replacement. Her hip had been pinned after a fall on the ice six years ago, and problems had resurfaced.

"I simply put in a call to the Red Cross," she recalled, "inquiring as to whether family members could donate the blood needed for my surgery."

The Red Cross told her about the autologous transfusion program, a transfer of blood in which the donor and the recipient are the same individual.

The service is offered in conjunction with the American Red Cross, Southeastern Michigan Region.

Candidates for autologous transfusion, the hospital said, are relatively healthy adults or adolescents who will undergo surgery with predictable blood loss.

According to pathologist Veda S. Muthleb, M.D., blood bank director at St. Mary, autologous blood is the safest blood a patient-donor can receive.

Possible complications associated with transfusing blood from one person to another include mismatching of blood, allergic reactions or transmission of diseases such as hepatitis or AIDS (Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome).

After the necessary forms were completed and Purvis' request was reviewed and approved by the Red Cross, three appointments were scheduled for her blood donations.

All autologous blood is drawn at least 10 days apart at the Red Cross Detroit Chapter on Mack Avenue. Since the storage life for red blood cells is currently 42 days, blood must be given no earlier than six weeks before the surgery date.

Patient Purvis was placed on an oral iron, as are all autologous transfusion patients, to prevent the possibility of becoming anemic during the procedure.

The minor inconveniences were worth the peace of mind for Purvis. "Each time I gave blood, I received a green card with my name and number on it. That number then was compared with St. Mary's identification card number and with the number on the blood itself," she said. Dr. Mendelson also was pleased with the program. "Red Cross was very cooperative and everything went smoothly," he said. "The program has definite benefits, in addition to making more blood available to the general pool."

Since the inception of the autologous transfusion program by the Red Cross last fall, approximately 30 requests have been received from area hospitals, according to Dr. Shobha Shah, medical director, American Red Cross Blood Services, Southeastern Michigan Region.

"The program grew out of patient interest, mainly because of the publicity about AIDS," said Dr. Shah. However, because of stringent requirements, many people do not qualify.

"The autologous transfusion program cannot be used by cancer patients, bleeders or victims of trauma," she explained.

Purvis enjoyed her role as the first participant in the new program at St. Mary.

Before moving to Northville, she was an active member of the Livonia community for 26 years. "I watched Livonia grow and St. Mary being built," she observed. "With my background, this has been a special experience."

Members gather officially only two times a year, but the Life Member Group of Northville Mothers' Club annually gives one or more scholarships to Northville High School graduating seniors.

Members are women who have served 10 or more years as active members of Northville Mothers' Club, working on projects to aid Northville Public Schools. Mary Whiteside, who joined the "alumnae" this past year is opening her home on Whipple for the spring meeting of the group. It will be a potluck at 6:30 p.m. Monday with election of officers. Co-hostesses are Pat Wright and Glad Evans.

President Phia Johnson adds that the scholarship arrangements will be completed at the meeting. The Life Members raise funds for this through the Christmas cocktail party they host in conjunction with those given by Northville Mothers' Club on the first Saturday in December.

The Northville Record

Netters win 2 of 3, but Norton is unhappy

Record/NEIL GEOGHEGAN

No. 1 doubles player Dave Kaminski rushed the net against Plymouth Salem

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Mustang netters may have won two of three matches last week, but the one defeat — a late-week squeaker to North Farmington — leaves a sour taste in Coach Dick Norton's mouth.

The reason: Norton believes his squad should have beaten the Raiders May 9, but Northville fell short by a 4-3 score. Earlier in the week, the netters trounced both Walled Lake Central and Plymouth Salem in impressive fashion, but it wasn't enough to overshadow the loss to North.

"It wasn't a bad week all things considered, but I really think we should have beaten North Farmington," Norton said. "They have lost to (Livonia) Churchill and (Livonia) Franklin this season, and those are two teams we've beaten rather easily. That's what makes it so hard to take — we should have won."

The Raiders are a solid team and finished first in the Lakes Division of the WLAA this year, but Norton believes that the Western Division is much stronger anyway, and that North is a beatable team.

"They aren't a slouch team, but I thought we could beat them," he pointed out. "We sort of fell asleep in certain matches, and it really cost us."

Key losses at No. 4 singles and at No. 1 doubles were the most disappointing to Norton, but so was lethargic play by the entire doubles teams, one through three. Doug Kamienecki, after dragging himself through a three-hour marathon match versus Salem two days earlier, had nothing left in his singles match with Jim Ragland — and was blown out 0-6, 0-6.

"Those, along with the No. 1 doubles match, were the biggest disappointments of the day," Norton admitted. "As a matter of fact, I was pretty disgusted with the way they played."

The top doubles combo of Don Norton and Dave Kaminski went out with a whimper (2-6, 0-6) and now appears to be struggling. The team opened the season with wins in the first six meets, but has now dropped two in a row and three of the last six.

"I felt they were sleep-walking through the match," Norton said. "They just didn't seem to be in it."

Dan Boland and Mike Tabaczynski lost to Alex Steinbock and Brian Seifman 3-6, 4-6 at No. 2 and Dave Merrifield and Matt Oliver fell in three sets to Dale Krause and Tom Tudek (6-3, 1-6, 4-6) at No. 3. In the third doubles, Northville was without the services of Thierry Desmet who was on vacation, and Norton thought it was a big factor.

"Without Thierry in there, I think it could have cost us the match," Norton said. "That was another contest that I thought we could have won — it was a real killer."

But the Mustangs' top three singles players, Terry Michelitch and Mike and Mark Reitenga had no trouble in their matches against North Farmington. Michelitch outlasted Josh Hoffman 7-5, 6-4 at No. 1, Mark beat Jason Weiss 6-7, 6-3, 6-2 at No. 2 and Mike whipped Jeff Seifman 6-2, 6-1 at No. 3.

The Walled Lake Central match May 5 was a breeze for Northville, winning 7-0 on the strength of straight set wins in every match. The Vikings only managed to win 26 games, out of 85.

"I guess it was a laugher so to speak," Norton explained. "We had no trouble at all with Central."

Michelitch bombed Axel Schaffer at No. 1 6-0, 6-0; Mark Reitenga did the same to Gary Boyd 6-1, 6-0; Mike Reitenga slipped by Tom Mikula 6-4, 6-4 and Kamienecki trounced Layne Herrington 6-4, 6-0 to complete the singles route.

In doubles, Norton-Kaminski toyed with Ivan Savitsky and Scott Russell 6-2, 6-0; Boland and Tabaczynski overcame early troubles in a 7-5, 6-2 win over Lou Boudreau and Tim Sova and the No. 3 squad of Desmet-Mark Bertagnolli disposed of Chris Kawal and Joe Giniell 6-3, 6-1.

Salem is a gutsy team who has pulled off a few upsets and stayed close to the elite of the WLAA, but last Wednesday (May 7) the Mustangs had no problems in a 6-1 triumph.

"I was very pleased with the way everybody played," Norton said. "I expected Salem to give us a lot more problems than they did, and that is because we played so well."

The Rock's Mark Rearick had all sorts of trouble handling the fastly improving Michelitch, and ultimately dropped a 6-1, 6-1 decision. The early-season ankle injury to Michelitch doesn't seem to be a factor any more, and Norton is glad to see it.

"I'd say Terry is very close to 100 percent," he pointed out. "He's playing well and winning, but his consistency is still a little off."

The Reitenga brothers continue to play as consistently as ever. Mark was a winner over Clyde Binguit (7-5, 6-5), and Mike bounced Rich Cundiff (6-1, 6-0). It was a grueling 6-4, 4-6, 11-9 victory for Kamienecki at No. 4 over Ted Hanosh that took its toll in later matches, but it was a big win nonetheless.

Boland-Tabaczynski also won a close one — 6-2, 2-6, 8-6 against Rich Cooper and Matt Lore — while Desmet and Merrifield put Bob Barr and Gary Kroll away 6-0, 7-5.

The only Northville loss to the day came in a very entertaining No. 1 double match. Salem's Bob Breach and Wade Gararde nipped Norton and Kaminski 4-6, 7-6, 4-6 for the win.

The Mustangs overall record is now 10-3, 7-3 in the WLAA Western Division, good for third place.

Mustang baseballers plow through seven-game week

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Now the Northville baseball squad can sympathize with the rigors of the big leagues.

In action last week, the Mustangs (9-7 overall, 6-4 in the WLAA) played in seven games, including three double headers. It amounted to a busier week than the Detroit Tigers had, and is something Coach Bob Frellick would only like to tackle once a season.

"We sure played a lot of baseball," he said. "It was good to get all the work in, but it was tiring. I wouldn't want to do this every week."

For the week, Northville won four and lost three, but defeats in three of the final four games turned a potentially great stretch into something much less. A doubleheader sweep of Plymouth Canton (6-5 and 8-3) on May 5 started it off on the right foot and a 4-3 over Livonia Franklin on May 7 made it three in a row. But Plymouth Salem won two (5-2 and 10-4) in a twinbill last Friday, and Northville split with Redford Union in yet another doubleheader, losing the first 3-1 and coming back to grab the second 3-2.

"The pitching is starting to dominate in our games," Frellick said. "We are seeing some great pitching from our staff, but the opposing pitchers are giving us problems too."

Brett Loomis started on the mound in the opener with Canton, and, after a rocky first few innings, he settled down and recorded the win. The Chiefs held a 5-3 lead after five innings, but some clutch hitting by Keith Dutkiewicz and Paul Newitt in the seventh helped the Mustangs pull out the win.

Dutkiewicz, Eric Terlecki and Jeff Bainbridge each pounded out two hits in the game to pace the attack and Dutkiewicz drove in three runs as well.

In game two, a six-run spurt in the second inning broke open a scoreless tie and Northville cruised the rest of the way. Pitcher Chris Dominique had another good outing, going the distance, fanning four and giving up just five hits and three runs.

"Chris pretty much controlled the game," Frellick said. "Except for one home run and a few walks, he shut them down and did a good job."

Terlecki and Dutkiewicz were again the hitting stars for Northville with two hits a piece and five RBIs combined.

The 4-3 squeaker over Franklin avenged an early season 3-2 loss and, just like the first game, this was a very well played ballgame.

"Both teams played very well," Frellick pointed out. "They have a good club and their pitcher did very well. Everytime we'd get runners on, it seemed like he'd come back and shut us down."

Mark Olsen delivered a key two-run double in the third inning to give Northville a 2-0 lead, and the team scraped single runs in the fourth and fifth, but Franklin refused to die.

Tony Craig pitched a solid game for the Mustangs, but the Patriots slipped two runs across the plate in the fifth and another in the sixth to pull within one at 4-3. Craig then sent Franklin down in order in the seventh to pull out the win.

Salem scored four runs in the bottom of the seventh in the first game of the doubleheader on Friday for the win as Northville blew a 2-1 lead. Dominique suffered the loss, but it was two errors, a fielder's choice and a walk that caused most of the damage.

"We lost the ball in the sun and committed another error," Frellick said. "It was just one of those things. It was a tough game to lose."

Olsen went 2-for-3 in the contest, but the rest of the team couldn't hit Salem pitcher John Storm. Dutkiewicz was the only other Mustang to wrap a hit.

In the nightcap, the Rocks scored early and often to take a 6-2 lead heading into the fourth inning. Starter Brett Loomis lasted just three innings, but his replacement, Dave McCreadie, didn't have much luck either.

"(Salem) got some breaks and made use of them, and we didn't," Frellick said. "We hit the ball hard, but everything seemed to go right at somebody. We had good contact, but their hits were falling in and ours weren't."

The non-league doubleheader with Redford Union was a match-up with two fine teams and featured two exceptionally competitive games.

"They were beautiful games," Frellick said. "You couldn't go down to Tiger Stadium and see any better games. I told the Union coach after the game that we should have charged $5 a person, and they would have gotten their money's worth."

Jay Moore pitched a four-hitter for Northville in the opener but still wound up taking the loss. The Mustangs scored the game's first run in the fourth on a double by Scott Peterson and an RBI single by Newitt, but that was the extent of the offense. Union took the lead in the fifth off Moore with three runs on only one hit, and that's how it ended.

In the second game, Dutkiewicz stifled Union all the way through to get the one-hit victory. Union's only hit of the game came in the sixth inning, but the team did manage to score twice in the fourth without a hit.

"Keith pitched a marvelous game," Frellick said. "Their leadoff hitter broke his no-hitter in the sixth, but they didn't even have a base runner until the fourth."

With Dutkiewicz shutting the opposition down, all Northville needed was one big inning, and it happened in the fourth. Peterson lead off with a triple and scored on an RBI by Newitt. Bainbridge then smacked a two-run homer to provide the margin of victory.

It was a week of good pitching, and Frellick was especially pleased to see a few spot starters like Moore and Dutkiewicz have such good outings. He knows that down the stretch pitching may decide the division race.

Northville is currently tied for first place in the WLAA Western Division with Franklin (4-2 record) and is also tied for second with Franklin in the conference race (6-4) behind once-beaten Westland John Glenn.

Jeff Higgins only allowed one goal as United got by Plymouth No. 1 by a score of 3-1. Andy Frey and Mike Hiller scored for United. GIRLS UNDER 17: Sue Kochanek and Kary Hesse played well on defense, but the Northville Warriors still fell to Plymouth No. 1 3-0. The Reds got two goals from Jenny Beyersdorf and another from Meredith Finer during a 3-1 win over Livonia No. 1. Rebecca Gester and Sue Settles were honored as the game's MVPs.

Soccer team extends winning streak to 5

"We've opened up the offense a little by moving Julie Anger away from the defense and to a center-sweeper position," Smalec said. "We know we have a strong defense so the move helps our attack. Our shots on goal numbers are rising."

Not coincidentally, it was Anger who put the Mustangs ahead for good at the 21 minute mark of the first half. She rifled a shot from 25 yards out that was high and went right through the goalie's hands to make it 1-0.

In the opening minutes of the second half, Jenni Schuerman took a perfect pass from Abby Edwards and scored to stretch the lead to two, and that's how it ended.

"We seem to be getting more contribution from everybody on the field," Smalec said. "Some of the players that haven't been involved in the offense are starting to come through and it's good to see."

A brisk 25-mph wind gave Franklin the advantage in the first half but Franklin failed to score and had just 10 shots on goal for the game.

Anger was again the offensive catalyst in the win over Farmington, scoring twice in a 10 minute span in the first half. The first goal, at the nine minute mark, and a second goal at the 19 minute mark were both assisted by Schuerman and Jodie Smalec.

Just before halftime, Schuerman added another goal to make it 3-0 on assists from Anger and Kim Fladding. In the second half, Shannon Loper, Michelle Cross and Smalec wrapped up the scoring (on assists from who else — Anger). For the game, Northville bombarded the Falcons with 38 shots on goal while at the other end, Mustang goalie Tricia Ducker had to contend with only three.

The second time around against Western this season wasn't any different from the first time — a Northville blowout. Smalec used just four regular starters on defense and inserted all freshman and first year players on offense. The result was encouraging as the youngsters gave the Mustangs a 2-0 lead after the first half.

Karen Baird and Loper each scored, but on many other occasions Northville squandered some ideal chances. For a brief 20-minute span in the second half, Smalec brought in the starters, and they promptly scored a half-dozen times including four by Jodie Smalec.

"I wanted to leave the (starters) in because they were playing awesomely, but we didn't want to run up the score," Smalec said.

Schuerman and Debbie Stevens also added additional goals while Robin Strunk made all four assists on Smalec's tallies. With nine minutes to go, Schuerman scored her second of the night by heading in a pass from Baird.

The wins are always welcome, but the injuries are not. Smalec has seen a rash of ankle injuries lately. Currently, Heather Sixt, Baird, Tiffany Rivera and Jill Gallagher have all missed some action recently with ankle problems.

The Mustangs are currently ranked fifth in the state by the Michigan Soccer Coaches Association, but other WLAA schools such as top-ranked Livonia Churchill, Livonia Stevenson and Plymouth Salem are picked ahead of Northville.

Girls' track team 0-5

Lynn Bills continues to improve, and it shows in the final results. Bills captured wins in the high jump (4'-4"), the 110 intermediate hurdles (17.9) and was runner-up in the 300-meter hurdles (54.3). The only other Northville win was recorded by Roxanne Serkaian in the shot put. Roxanne's 27'-9" was an improvement of a full nine inches.

Stinson grabbed second in the 400-meter dash, and Goshorn, competing in the 800-meters for the first time ever, pulled out a surprising second place finish (2:48).

"When you see some great times and efforts that I saw, you can't be too disappointed," Webb said.

Q: What is a Lottery Club?

A: A Lottery Club is the only way more than one person can jointly file a claim for a Lottery prize.

Q: Must a Lottery Club be registered?

A: Absolutely. Unless a club is registered with the Internal Revenue Service, the Lottery can only accept a claim in the name and social security number of ONE person.

Q: How does a group register as a Lottery Club?

A: Simply obtain an SS-4 form, available from a local IRS office or by calling the IRS at 1-800-243-6876. Once that form is completed with the names, addresses and social security numbers of the club members, as well as the club name, it should be sent back to the IRS. The club is then assigned a Federal Employer Identification Number by the IRS.

Q: What is that number needed for?

A: Any club's winnings and tax liability will be registered using that number, just as an individual prize winner's social security number would be used.

Q: What happens when a club wins a Lottery prize?

A: It must file a claim with the Lottery using its identification number. In about three weeks, the club will receive a prize check, made payable to the club's name. Or if the club wins a Lotto or Super Lotto Jackpot prize, a club representative must come to Lansing to claim it.

Q: What if the prize is over $5,000?

A: The Lottery will send a form to be completed by the club showing how much each member received. Later, the club members each will receive a W-2-G form showing their portion of the prize and federal withholding, if any. Each member must include this form with his or her federal tax return for the year in which the prize was paid.

Q: Is there a tax advantage to a Lottery Club?

A: While there is no state or local income tax on Lottery winnings for Michigan residents, federal regulations require that Lottery withhold 20 percent on prizes in excess of $5,000. That tax liability is shared by a club's members rather than one person being responsible.

Because his Lottery Club question was first received and used, Arne W. Flores of Paris, Michigan will receive 50 "Michigan Payday" instant game tickets.
