Findings in favor of 5 towns

The 35th District Court has ruled in favor of its five sponsoring communities to the tune of more than $700,000. The township's share of the money is $112,567 while the city received $38,995 as a rebate for the operating surplus.

The money is surplus funds returned to the communities which support the court through ticket payments, misdemeanors and civil actions. This is the third consecutive year the court has returned funds to the communities, and court administrator George Wiland said he expected there would be a similar refund next year.

Wiland noted that 1983 payments were "infinitesimal" but since then, as the court's business has grown, the communities share has also grown.

"This year was the best in terms of being able to refund money to the towns," Wiland said.

The township has generated $209,109 in revenue through the court, and the city has generated $108,009.

Also receiving rebates were Canton Township ($297,829), Plymouth Township ($162,790) and the city of Plymouth ($68,336).

Board names new officers

For the third time in his nearly decade-long tenure on the Northville Board of Education, Douglas Whitaker was appointed president at the board's organizational meeting Monday night.

Whitaker, first appointed to the board in February, 1977, will succeed Glenna Davis as president.

David Llewellyn, who served as vice president during the 1985-86 school year, was reappointed to that office.

Christopher Johnson, the longest tenured member on the board, also was reappointed to his post as secretary of the seven-member board.

Trustee Jean Hansen was appointed treasurer, taking over the office held during the 1985-86 school year by former trustee Karen Wilkinson.

Appointments to the board's numerous subcommittees as well as board representative to the Northville Recreation Commission will be made within the next few weeks.

Summer stroll

Beth Beson and sons Jimmy, 2, and Steve, 4, took a stroll down Main Street Monday after feeding the ducks at the Ford plant. Warm temperatures and sunny skies have provided the ducks at the waterwheel plant with plenty of visitors. The same holds true for downtown shops and businesses.

Cavanagh Village plan fail to materialize again

The proposed 1,200 unit Jerome P. Cavanagh Retirement Village to be built on the former Wayne County training school property in Northville Township has moved one step closer to being just a dream.

Greg Pitoniak, executive director of the Economic Development Corporation of Wayne County, said Monday if "a significant amount of progress on 110 units is not shown by April 4, EDC would consider the contract revoked."

But Kenneth Clarkson, a member of the law firm of Evans and Luptak, which represents the Northville Elderly Development Company, said that Northville Elderly Development Company has met with the county to look toward terminating the lease.

The telephone number for the development company has been disconnected, and officials were not available for comment, however, Clarkson said there were two main problems with the proposed development.

Clarkson said the developers had asked the township planning commission about including multi-unit apartments for market price rental on the site, as well as the elderly apartments. The township body, however, objected to that request.

In addition, Clarkson said, the developers had expressed some concern about the sanitary sewers near the site. "We had our people look at it and apparently the sewer there is virtually unusable," Clarkson said.

The property is currently zoned as multi-family elderly and the township planning commission indicated in that zoning that the property would be limited to residents over 62 years of age.

Ground was broken for construction on the 101-acre site Oct. 19, 1984, however, not much actual construction was begun, even though the 1984 plans called for construction of one phase of the project to be completed in 1985.

Also announced at groundbreaking ceremonies were plans for a 120-bed nursing home and a 120-bed intermediate care facility in 1985; 150 units of elderly housing and 200 units of market-rate apartments to be completed in 1986; and the balance of the project, including a congregate care facility, to be completed by 1989.

While Pitoniak said the EDC has received inquiries from other developers interested in the land on the east side of Sheldon just north of Five Mile Road, no action can be taken with other developers until the contract with Northville Elderly Development Co. has been terminated. Pitoniak said he expected that termination to be completed sometime within the next couple of months.

Pitoniak noted that EDC in no way forced the developer to terminate the contract. "In fact, we were planning to wait until April to see what progress was being made," he said.

As originally proposed the Jerome P. Cavanagh Retirement Village was expected to generate at least $1 million in school, local, county and state taxes and to provide over 1,000 construction and 600 permanent jobs when completed.

Homeowners complain

An angry group of North Beacon Woods homeowners confronted the township board for the second time in as many meetings last Thursday asking that some action be taken to ensure the subdivision builder repair problems with their homes.

However, township officials noted there was little action the board could take without violating the law.

"We can pursue code violations and certainly intend to do so, but we cannot withhold building permits or get involved on contractual matters," said Susan Heintz, township supervisor.

But that response did little to appease the more than 20 homeowners who brought a list of complaints to the board that included basement leaks, driveways crumbling and, in one instance, a microwave oven that fell from its place onto the stove.

Heintz told the residents that the township had asked two attorneys how best to deal with the issue, and both attorneys told the township the same thing — the township board could enforce violations of the building code but could not become involved with individual contract matters.

"We have been advised that we can't just go after Mr. (Bill) Spagnoli. We would have to go after "So sue me. I have bare wires with no fixture hanging. There are cracks in my walls that existed before the walls were whitewashed."

Ray Baldwin

the homeowner as well," Heintz said. Spagnoli is the developer of the subdivision.

"So sue me," said Ray Baldwin. "I have bare wires with no fixture hanging. There are cracks in my walls that existed before the walls were whitewashed. I can't believe that you guys (the trustees) can't put the hammer down on this guy."

Part of the controversy involves a number of Beacon Woods residents who moved into their homes under temporary certificates of occupancy and have yet to receive a final certificate of occupancy by the township building department.

The township no longer is granting temporary certificates of occupancy. Development Director Matt Modrack pointed out that the building department did not initiate requests for the temporary certificates — those came from the homeowner.

"If there is a temporary certificate, I didn't ask for it," said one homeowner.

But many of the homeowners said they did not know whether they were occupying their homes under a temporary or a permanent certificate of occupancy.

Modrack told the group that there were requests for six final inspections on homes in the subdivision. As of Monday, one inspection had been completed, and building official Troy Milligan noted that that home passed completely.

"This is not a developer who is trying to hide anything," Milligan said. "These are well-built homes and we really haven't had a problem in the developer completing his work. As for the complaints, I have cracks in my cement work and I put it in myself."

The homeowners, however, disagree and have said they intend to pursue the matter further.

"What we're hearing is the board can't do anything. What we have to do is get a lawyer and pursue this ourselves," said Len Tedesco.

However, the supervisor instructed Clerk Georgina Goss to obtain state forms so homeowners who want to can pursue a complaint against the developer with the state.

Developers lay out plans for Ward site

The people most closely allied with the Ward Presbyterian Church property on the northwest corner of Six Mile Road near Haggerty met informally with township planning commissioners and officials July 8 and, while no formal action was taken, representatives of the involved businesses and groups did get a better understanding of what each was aiming for.

"What we are doing here is discussing an overview of the ideas for the Ward parcel," noted Charles DeLand, chairing the meeting with representatives of the church, their architectural firm, C. Edward Ware Associates, Inc, Detroit Edison, and Kirco Development, the firm that is purchasing 45 acres to develop an office plaza.

Edison's interest in the parcel revolves around a proposed substation which the church would like moved to a different parcel on the property.

Planning commissioner Larry Sheehan asked representatives of the utility whether its station could be moved further west, but Alan J. Yonkman noted it would all depend on "economics."

Yonkman, a supervising engineer for Edison's Wayne-Monroe division organization, noted that the firm was "a week and a half away from a firm commitment whether the substation can be moved."

"Basically," Yonkman said, "everything can be worked out with dollars."

Yonkman noted that Edison expects to come before the full planning commission within the next two months with finalized plans for the construction of the substation.

Marvin Gans, a member of the planning commission, expressed concerns about the aesthetics of the substation if it remains in the current location.

"I'm worried about what the station looks like from the road. The appearance will make a difference in the attraction of the whole area," Gans said.

As for the church, a Ward spokesman reiterated plans for a new sanctuary and fellowship hall, as well as for a school and senior citizen complex which would include full services.

"We have shown space for a school," noted James Abernethy, representing Ward. "But we don't see a school being built within the

Founder's spirit keeps Spagy's thriving

By ANN CHOWDHURY

It will be one hundred years ago next Jan. 28, that Jim Spagnuolo, founder of Spagy's Grocery Store in Northville, was born in Italy. His parents, Joseph and Mary Spagnuolo, farmed an olive orchard, owned a mule, three goats and 20 sheep.

Jim helped on the farm as a little boy, but, according to his son, Joe Spagnuolo of Northville, he heard stories about America, and how people who managed to get there found easier ways to make a living than picking olives.

Jim said that one day his father, who was only 13, wandered off to the river, boarded a boat and ran down to the boiler room. He managed to get to New York.

"When he arrived, he didn't know where to go and he didn't speak English," Joe said. Somehow he made his way to Michigan and eventually found a friend in Frank Cascerelli who had a store at 111 Main, Northville.

"After he got to meet Frank Cascerelli, he stayed in a room upstairs over the store," Joe continued. "But they came after him and found him and figured he was not a citizen and shipped him back to Italy."

He married there, but did not forget America. A few years later he came back, promising to send later for his bride, Mary. While she waited in Italy, she had their first child, Mary Ann.

Meanwhile Jim was back in Northville trying to find work. One day a trolley car was derailed on Griswold Street. In the commotion no one seemed to know how to solve the problem.

"My father still couldn't speak English so he went out there, cussin'

NEWS BRIEFS

SCHOOL STUDENTS who use the Northville Public Library are making their mark among readers. Eight students had their winning designs transferred onto bookmarks being distributed by the library.

Among the winners are Brendan Best, Alicia Gustaf and Eddie Paddock at Our Lady of Victory School; Greg Brown of William Allan Academy; Karin Teichert of Winchester Elementary School; Sean Gordon of Amerman Elementary School; Maria Wen of Meads Mill Middle School; and Heidi Zimmerman of Silver Springs Elementary School.

WHEN YOU'RE HOT at the box office you can command higher prices and the city is investigating doing just that — raising the fee it asks of film companies which use Northville as the site of their filming.

Currently, the police department charges $25 per man per hour with a four-hour minimum (per union contract) for the reserve officers called in to help with crowd and parking control. The city may want an increase.

"We are so photogenic, should we be giving ourselves away," questioned Steve Walters, who will present a proposal to city council on increasing the rate.

STATE SEN. R. Robert Geake, R-Northville, and State Rep. Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, have earned the endorsement of the Right to Life of Michigan, although one legislator's break with the group over its latest tactic to halt Medicaid funding for abortion found himself not endorsed.

Rep. Michael Griffin, D-Jackson, who since the late 1970s has led the fight to overturn gubernatorial vetoes, lost the group's endorsement this year.

THE CITY CHARTER will get one more group involved in its revision. Since no one signed up to serve on the charter review committee and since the League of Women Voters opted not to get involved, the city attorney will be looking over the document to check it for legality and to update it. No word yet on when he will start or when it will be completed.

MEMBERSHIP IS GROWING for the Western Wayne County Reciprocal Fire Aid Association. Huron Township and the city of Farmington have both formally requested to be admitted to the mutual aid group.

Northville Township unanimously approved the inclusion of the two communities; however, other mutual aid members also must agree.

EDWARD J. MROZ would like nothing better than to be a constable. The problem is that the township already has two elected constables and, while it could add a third, or even a fourth, has shown no inclination to do so.

Jacobson's breaks ground in Livonia

Four shovels were driven into the ground on a 54-acre site on Six Mile at Newburgh in Livonia July 15 signifying beginning of the long-awaited development of a 54-acre deluxe, multi-use complex to be anchored by a 120,000 square foot Jacobson store.

Ground was broken 14 years after planning was begun at the Jacobson Stores Inc. headquarters in Jackson. The future Laurel Park Place, the complex with a shopping center, hotels, office center and parking structure is scheduled to open in the fall of 1987.

Dignitaries gathered in a tent on the site for the groundbreaking ceremony and speeches. Lieutenant Governor Martha Griffiths, U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, Livonia Council president Robert Bishop and Livonia Mayor Edward McNamara, along with officials of Schostak Brothers and Co., Southfield-based real estate firm which will own, develop and manage the property, and officials of Jacobson's officially launched the future Laurel Park Place.

Wielding the groundbreaking shovels were Robert Schostak, vice president of Schostak Brothers, Mark Rosenfeld, president of Jacobson's, Jerome Schostak, chairman of Schostak Brothers, and Russ Fowler, chairman of Jacobson's.

Laurel Park Place is to encompass more than 850,000 square feet consisting of two luxury hotels — one a mid-rise with 220 rooms and the other a three-story hotel with 150 rooms — three executive centers totaling 330,000 square feet and a retail shopping center of 400,000 square feet anchored by the largest Jacobson's department store ever built.

The project proposed 14 years ago with the idea of a mall featuring Jacobson's 11th Michigan store as a prime attraction for other retailers had been delayed often, as speakers noted. Located off the I-275, the proposed complex places a Jacobson store much closer to Northville area shoppers.

"We are confident Laurel Park Place will be recognized as the town center of Livonia. It will be one of the most exciting developments in the state of Michigan," said Robert Schostak. His firm was founded over 60 years ago and is the largest full-service commercial and industrial real estate firm in Michigan, with properties located throughout the Midwest.

Schostak involvements include Wonderland Shopping Center in Livonia, Seven Mile/Farmington Center, Deerfield Woods Apartments in Livonia, Shelby Corners in Shelby 330,000 square-foot office complex will follow.

"The project is certain to enhance Livonia's business sector, commerce and tourism trade," Schostak said.

As a toast to the success of the future Laurel Park Place, a seven-foot laurel tree was planted on the site to signify commitment to quality development in the community. Eventually, the tree will be transplanted to an indoor atrium on the finished property.

The significance of the laurel tree stems from Greek mythology, representing prestige, honor and un-Township and Macomb Mall in Roseville.

Mark Rosenfeld, son of the founder of Jacobson's, said, "This is a very exciting day for us. In 1972, one of my first assignments with the company was to start working on the zoning for this development. We think this will be the finest in this part of the country."

The initial phase of the Laurel Park development will be a 400,000 square foot shopping center, including Jacobson's. Construction of a three-story, 150-room hotel, a mid-rise 220-room hotel and finally a compromised beauty. The tree's history began when the fickle nymph Daphne transformed into a laurel tree to repel the great god Apollo's pursuing passion.

The dark green aromatic leaves of the tree were used for wreaths worn on the heads of triumphant warriors and leaders in ancient Greek and Roman times. Poets, military heroes and olympic champions all sought the crown of laurel as the highest honor, it was noted.

Signifying such prestige, Laurel Park Place will also include fine-dining restaurants and another major department store. On site parking will accommodate up to 3,500 cars.

With headquarters in Jackson, Jacobson's 10 other Michigan outlets include those in East Lansing, Birmingham, Dearborn and Ann Arbor.

Jacobson's features fashion apparel and accessories for all ages and furnishings for the home. Some stores also have a beauty salon and restaurant.

Obituaries

Stuart F. Campbell, 76, dies

Dr. Stuart F. Campbell, a resident of the community for more than 40 years who had been an optometrist with offices on West Main Street until his retirement for health reasons three years ago, died July 12 at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. He was 76.

Funeral service was scheduled for noon today at First Presbyterian Church of Northville where he was a member. Dr. Nile Harper, associate pastor, was to officiate.

Dr. Campbell was a Fellow of the American Academy of Optometry and a former member of local Optimist, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs.

An optometrist for 54 years, Dr. Campbell moved his practice from Detroit to Northville 40 years ago. He was a graduate of Philadelphia College of Optometry and continued to attend Michigan Optometry College classes all his life.

He was born Jan. 1, 1910, in Highland Park, Mich., to Hugh and Jessie (Fraser) Campbell.

He leaves his wife, Wilma (Austin); daughter, Janice Mall of Santa Monica, Calif.; son, Donald A. Campbell of Purcell, Okla.; a brother, Hugh A. Campbell of Red-Jord Twp.; a sister, Grace Mitzer of Kalamazoo; and five grandchildren, Joseph Mall and Donald, Stacy, Erin and Linda Campbell. He was preceded in death by a sister, Helen.

Burial is to be in Glen Eden Memorial Park in Livonia.

The family suggests that memorial tributes may be made to the Salvation Army, a favorite charity of Dr. Campbell's. Visitation and arrangements are by Casterline Funeral Home Inc.

CHARLES E. BARNETT JR.

Funeral service for Charles E. Barnett Jr. of Northville was held Monday in Charleston, W. Va., at the Wilson Funeral Home.

Mr. Barnett, who retired from the Wayne County Intermediate School System in 1971 as a consultant, died July 11 in Detroit. He was 72.

He moved to the community in 1984 from Redford Township. A U.S. Navy veteran of World War II, he was a member of Phi Delta Kappa, professional fraternity for men in education and a member of the Detroit Moslem Shrine and was active for many years in United Community Service.

He was born Oct. 4, 1913, in Glenville, W. Va., and received his master's degree in education from West Virginia University in 1939.

He leaves his wife, Anne H. of Northville, a son, Charles E. III of Darien, Conn., a daughter, Emily Jo Ducher of Canton, a sister, Marjorie Shreve of Oxford, O., brothers Truman of Charleston, John of Port Charlotte, Fla., and five grandchildren.

The family suggests that memorial tributes may be made to the American Heart Association of Michigan. Local arrangements were made by Schrader Funeral Home in Plymouth.

PATRICIA I. PLUMLEY

A memorial service will be held at 7 p.m. today for Patricia I. Plumley of Plymouth, mother of Amy Ort of Northville.

Mrs. Plumley died July 13 in Plymouth. She had been a teacher with the Plymouth Community School System for the past 10 years and was a life resident of the community.

The service will be at First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth where Mrs. Plumley was a member. The Rev. Philip Rodgers Magee will officiate.

Mrs. Plumley was born Feb. 20, 1930, in Plymouth. Prior to her present teaching post, she had been a school aide for three years at Central Elementary. From 1950-51 she taught in a two-room school, Truesdell Elementary in Canton Township.

In addition to her daughter, she leaves her husband, Arthur C., a son, James Ort of Wixom, her mother, Mrs. Irene Packard of Plymouth, a brother, Richard Packard, and a sister, Lois Hansen, both of Plymouth.

Funeral arrangements are by Schrader Funeral Home.

MICHEAL T. GRIMM

Micheal T. Grimm of New Hudson died of a heart ailment July 13 in Santa Rosa, N.M.. He was 38.

Mr. Grimm, born Oct. 9, 1947, in South Lyon, was the son of Jesse and Vera (Craig) Grimm. He graduated from South Lyon High School in 1964 and was employed as an independent trucker since 1976. Prior to that time he was employed by Aero and Auto Stud of New Hudson.

Micheal was the recipient of numerous driving awards, including the Vanguard Driver Award for 1981 through 1986.

He was an avid sportsman and member of the National Rifle Association.

Survivors include his parents, who now reside in Chipley, Fla.; his brothers, Jesse of Northville; David of New Hudson; Daniel of Northville; and, Gerald of Chipley, Fla.; one sister, Jerilyn Clair of South Lyon; and a son, Brian Thomas Grimm of Brighton.

Funeral services will be held Friday, July 18 at 1 p.m. from Phillips Funeral Home with the Rev. Robert Warren officiating. Burial will follow at New Hudson Cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday from 7-9 p.m. and Thursday from 2-9 p.m.

Memorial contributions are suggested to the Brian Grimm Trust Fund.

Funeral set for Melinda Sievert

Funeral service for Melinda M. Sievert, 11, who died in a boating accident at the family cottage at Eriean, Ontario, Saturday, will be held at 2 p.m. today at First Presbyterian Church in Northville.

The daughter of Northville Township residents Richard and Margie Sievert, she was a life resident of the community and a student in the Northville Public Schools.

Dr. Lawrence Chamberlain, church pastor, is officiating at the service. Burial is to be in Rural Hill Cemetery.

Melinda was a member of First Presbyterian Church. She was a Girl Scout, a member of the Northville Recreation Department soccer team and had played in the band at Silver Springs Elementary.

She was born March 19, 1975, in Livonia.

In addition to her parents, she leaves a brother, Scott, at home and grandparents, Mrs. Margaret Little of Eriean, Ont., and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Sievert of Traverse City.

The family suggests that memorial tributes may be made to the Presbyterian Church of Northville or to a charity of the donor's choice. School friends are donating for a tree to be planted in her memory at Meads Mill Middle School which she would have entered this fall.

Visitation and arrangements are by Casterline Funeral Home Inc.

School Notebook

EDITOR'S NOTE: Information for the School Notebook is sent to this newspaper by colleges, universities and organizations throughout the nation. Due to the vast student population of schools such as Michigan State University and University of Michigan, graduation and honors lists may take as long as 10 weeks to reach us. We print each item in the order we receive it.

Northville resident SARAH JOHNSON was among the 970 undergraduates at Northern Michigan University named to the dean's list for the winter semester, which ended May 2.

To be named to the dean's list, students must receive a 3.25 grade point average on a 4.0 scale.

Five Northville residents were among the spring graduates receiving diplomas from Hillsdale College during commencement exercises May 17.

Among those receiving degrees were MATTHEW ABRAHAM, son of Mr. and Mrs. Salim Abraham of 590 Morgan Circle, bachelor of arts degree in international business and foreign language; MELINDA HOUSE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin F. House of 18426 Fermanagh Court, bachelor of science degree in accounting; JEFFREY HUBERT, son of Michael Hubert of 441 Butler and Mrs. Judith Batzloff of Canton, bachelor of arts degree in business administration/personnel; KEVIN McDERMOTT, son of Mr. and Mrs. William McDermott of 46126 Pickford Court, bachelor of arts degree in English and biology, and JACQUELINE SUE NIXON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Nixon of 21824 Rathlone, bachelor of arts degree in accounting.

ABRAHAM and NIXON also were named to the Hillsdale dean's list for the fall semester. Students named to the dean's list must attain a grade point average of 3.4 or better out of a possible 4.0 points. NIXON earned a perfect 4.0 for the semester.

Three Northville residents were among the students receiving degrees from Mercy College of Detroit at its 45th commencement.

MARY FUELLING was graduated cum laude with a bachelor of science degree in nursing. ISABELLE SMITH also received a bachelor of science degree in nursing and DENISE BOCCOMINO was graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in legal administration.

Seven Northville residents are among the Madonna College students named to the dean's list for the past term.

Among those named to the dean's list are LYNN BOYES, E. Glenhaven, junior, nursing; MARY BUSH, Longwood Court, junior, sign language studies; SHERYLAN GRIFFORE, Seabrook Court, sophomore, accounting; WALTER HOLINOTY, Debra Lane, sophomore, art; ELLEN LOUIS, Smock, senior; TODD MAI, Hillridge, sophomore, history; MELISSA PODE, Bedford, sophomore, child care and guidance.

Four Northville residents were among the 63 outstanding business students honored by the Schoolcraft College Business Division for their academic achievement.

Students honored were KAREN SUE BANKS, LINDA E. BESH, LAURETTE M. KOVALIK and KATHLEEN MCINTYRE. Honors are given to students who have completed 40 credit hours with a minimum of 15 credit hours in their respective disciplines at a minimum grade point average of 3.25.

Alma College senior DAVID SIGNOR of Northville was among 27 Alma students enrolled in the Michigan Archaeological Fieldwork, an intensive four-week spring term course ending May 23.

The class applies professional field techniques, including the proper methods of selecting, digging, sifting and recording archaeological sites.

Students worked on excavating the Bethany Mission Site, believed to be one of the first settlements of Europeans in Gratiot County.

Signor, a 1982 graduate of Southfield Christian High School, is the son of Carl and Jean Signor of 22077 Garfield. He received a bachelor of arts degree in business administration from Alma in May.

Two Northville residents were among the 3,155 Purdue University students receiving distinguished-student rank for the spring semester.

Local students honored were LAURA CHAMBERLAIN, 43663 Westridge, and TAMI KIMERY, 15807 Winchester.

To qualify for distinguished ranking, a student must have a grade index of at least 5.5 (B) of a possible 6 (A) in no fewer than 14 academic credit hours.

MARJORIE MULLER of 724 Spring Drive received the Scholastic Honors Award from the Western Michigan Chapter of Financial Executives Institute.

She was selected by her professors at Central Michigan University as being an outstanding graduating senior in finance.

Forty-three Northville residents were among the University of Michigan Ann Arbor degree candidates at the conclusion of the 1985-86 academic year.

Spagy's business keep pace with changing market in Italian and telling them they weren't doing it right, so he showed them how to do it," Joe related.

The result was a job for Jim with Detroit United Railway, as a section hand between Northville and the Farmington Junction. He worked for them for three years and saved up to send for his wife and child.

By 1918 he saved enough money to buy the store from Cascerelli and within two more years purchased the building, thought to be one of the oldest in Northville.

The store, Spagy's, was a confectioners store with an ice-cream parlor and a line of produce.

Jim and Mary's family grew. There were three more children, Joe, Pete and Theresa.

Joe remembers the tough and the sad days that followed. His mother died, still in her 20s, leaving Jim with four young children to raise alone.

"My dad was broken hearted," Joe remembers, "and I was so close to him. I slept with him and, when he woke up, I woke up. We went to the market on 20 below zero winter mornings, in an unheated truck. I would be wrapped in a blanket cuddled up to him for warmth."

Though often hungry, Joe would not ask for anything to eat, because there were days when there was no money to spare, and he didn't want to ask for something he knew his father could not afford.

"But we stayed with the store, working like hell. It was pitch in and help at any age, mopping floors, making Christmas packages for the churches to distribute at Christmas."

In the mid-30s Jim married his second wife Josephine, from Tilbury, Ontario. She still lives above the store where she lived with her husband until his death in 1981 and can often be seen walking around town delivering newspapers to shut-ins.

Josie remembers they met in an ice-cream parlor where she used to go after her day's work at Kern's Department Store in downtown Detroit.

"He asked someone to introduce us," she said. "It wasn't long before he asked me to marry him, and I refused."

She changed her mind, though, because three weeks later they were married, and she still thinks she married the best man in the world.

Jim's hard work and business sense helped assure his success in Northville, and his business grew.

Joe grew up and went into the service and traveled all over the world as a medical technician.

"I landed in Pearl Harbor after it was bombed, went to New Zealand, Australia, India and the Middle East and Africa," he said.

While Joe was far away, his father expanded the business and started beer and pop distributorships, purchasing still more buildings in the town.

After six years in the service Joe returned, and for a while helped his father and brother, Pete, with the beer business. Joe and Pete didn't always see eye to eye on how to run things, however, and Joe returned to the military in Hershey, Pa.

About that time an Uncle of Joe's had bought a new car. Jim suggested the two of them drive to Hershey to bring Joe home. The two men talked Joe into coming home to run the store, which he did, from after the war until his son, Jim, took over in 1982.

Joe changed the store to suit the times, into a superette, a small grocery store with a wider variety of products, and in the '50s obtained a package liquor license.

"It was right in the heart of town and at that time there was a need for a store to carry liquor," Joe said.

Joe's wife, Irene, whom he had met at an Italian festival in Bunker Hill near Stockbridge, and married in 1948, often helped in the store in those days, and when their son, Jim, was old enough, he did too. His sister Mary Joanne was never very involved with the store and has made her life in California following a career in computers.

Young Jim never thought he would take over the business, but he joined his father in 1973 and took charge in 1982.

"I've worked on and off in it since I can remember," he said. "I started off as a stock boy working nights. As a freshman in high school I always got stuck working weekends, and I hated it."

He changed his mind, though, after studying business at Wayne State and working for other people. "I knew what it was like to work for others, and I knew what it was like to work for myself. It just seemed a lot better working for myself," he concluded.

"I had no idea for a long time that I would wind up here, but I hope my father thought enough of me and the business that he wanted me here."

Jim remembers his grandfather fondly. "I want you to know that I was really proud of him. He paid cash for everything that he bought, automobiles, everything."

"He told me once that he was going to get a bank loan for a car, but they were charging three percent interest and he figured why should he give them the extra money."

"He accomplished so much. He could never read or write, but he could figure like a machine."

"I miss him an awful lot since he's gone. He was 94, he just wore out."

When Jim took over the store, he decided to remodel and move into the

The Spagnuolo family — Joe, Janisse, Joey, Tony and Jim larger building next door, which the family already owned, changing the name to The Liquor Shoppe.

"The family name had been in front of the building for a long time so I had mixed emotions about that, but we incorporated when we moved over here, and I was advised it was the best thing to do," he explained.

The two ingredients Jim finds necessary to succeed in a small town are a thick skin and a constant smile. "If you offend someone in a small town, you soon know about it," he said.

He remembers when he was about seven, riding the bus to go swimming. An older kid from the high school sat near him and had been offended at something Jim's father had said to him, and he turned around and set into Jim.

"You always had to be accommodating to your customers, but these days you have to be 120 percent accommodating to survive in a small town," Jim said.

He likes knowing most of the customers, though. "I know about 80 percent of them and enjoy 100 percent of them. Believe me, I've had the opportunity to sell and move on to other things, but I've grown up in Northville and it's where I want to be."

Knowing the inventory is important. He indicated the long shelves with hundreds of liquor and wine bottles.

"People come in here and expect me to be knowledgeable about all of our products. I'm not saying I've tried every item in here," he joked, "but I make a point of knowing all I can."

Under-age kids trying to purchase liquor is one of the problems such a store has to face.

"We try to be as tight as we can with that, but it's a one-sided issue where they put all the responsibility on the store and none elsewhere," he commented.

"In other words if a person comes into the store and is under-age, with an altered ID, I am supposed to tell whether the picture is exactly them. You'd be surprised how many kids look like their older brother, and how many kids coming in here my size are in high school."

"Now they are allowed to have beards in high school it's really tough, and it keeps us on our toes. The person in front of you is not necessarily from Northville. He could be from Walled Lake or Westland, but the fine and the penalty are the same."

Jim is sorry his grandfather never had a chance to see the changes he has made in the store. "I think he would have been pleased, apart from the name change. To this day, though, at least 50 percent of the checks I take in are still made out to Spagy's!"

Joe, though retired, still helps out in the thriving store several days a week, and remembers how his father struggled to make it possible. "I think about him often," he said.

Janisse, Jim's wife, worked in the store for a while, but she now works for the postal service in South Lyon. Irene now works for Hudson's.

"It must be that we don't pay them enough because they've both found better jobs," Jim joked.

Jim and Janisse live on a farm in New Hudson where Jim breeds quarter horses. "They are my passion and my pastime," he acknowledged.

Their boys, Joe, 6, and Tony, 5, love being around town during their vacation while their dad tends the store.

"They think it's great coming here with their skate boards and staying round town all day," said Jim, handing them a dollar each for ice cream.

"They could spend the whole day in the park across the street, watching the big kids skateboard and trying the things they do."

"They are going to have to work somewhere when they are older, but I'll never force them into the store. I just want them to be happy and successful."

"I'm going to work in a toy store when I grow up," Tony declared in no uncertain terms.

"I'm going to dig up dinosaurs and take them to museums," his brother added.

In the meantime they enjoy the streets and parks of the town whose history is part of their family heritage.

McNamara wants to repeat success on county level

Edward Howard McNamara emerged from a crushing political defeat in the summer of 1982 with no desire left to seek higher office.

Four years ago pollsters and his closest advisers told him early on that he could not beat William Lucas, then a popular Democratic county sheriff, but McNamara plowed forward, eventually losing by more than a 2-1 margin in the first county executive campaign.

But things have changed in the last four years. Lucas has become a Republican and is running for governor, and this time McNamara's campaign for county executive is in high gear.

The 60-year-old mayor of Livonia is considered by some to be the leading candidate in the 11-man field and by the end of the month will likely raise and spend an estimated $400,000 — at least $100,000 more than his top contenders including Robert Ficano and John Hertel.

EDWARD McNAMARA

McNamara's advertising budget — what some political observers say is the key to a low-interest race like county executive — is $250,000 and two television ads have begun appearing in the Detroit area. Besides that, his campaign has attracted the fund-raising support of western Wayne and downriver public officials.

In a recent interview, McNamara said his decision to try again was made in October when the results of a poll by his supporters were complete.

This time, the polls were on his side, giving his candidacy an edge. McNamara said he wants the job of county executive for "the challenge," the opportunity to unravel county problems.

"It's a spaghetti factory down there with all that's going on," he said.

"It's certainly not the money because the salary's about the same. And I don't look forward to the trip downtown every day and I don't look forward to paying Coleman Young 1 1/2 percent income tax which applies to non-residents working downtown."

If elected McNamara has pledged to turn Wayne County, currently facing what officials identify as a $30 million deficit, into a "very sound business operation, just like Livonia has run."

Three themes he uses in his campaign focus not just on improved government efficiency but on creating industrial development and on road development.

"I think the salvation of the county of Wayne is in improving its industrial development, its economic development, creating jobs. I think you can do that," McNamara said.

He also said the county's fiscal problems are one of mismanagement rather than fund shortages.

"(In total) Wayne County probably spends a half billion dollars a year. Now, you know, if you can't build a decent park system, add golf courses that ultimately pay for themselves, if you can't do industrial development by widening roads, taking care of drainage, water and sewer with that kind of money, if you can't find it, then it'll be amazed. Once it's started, then it can mushroom."

McNamara talks a lot of Livonia's growth in his campaign advertising, citing the addition of 600 new businesses and 12,000 new jobs in his 16-year-tenure as mayor. He makes the comparison between a city of 100,000 and $25 million budget to Wayne County's 1.3 million population and $201 million general budget.

Livonia City Hall sources said that while that claim may be somewhat exaggerated, McNamara still deserves credit for drawing together city and business interests.

Ward plans aired in joint meet next five years. The elderly village, though, could come very soon."

"We are bursting at the seams when it comes to providing for youth, adults and the elderly. We really need to expand our church," Abernethy said.

While none of the groups presented even preliminary plans, each representative did provide at least a very rough artist's rendering of its proposed buildings.

Kirco's plans include an office park which would include more than 750,000 square feet of office and office/showroom space, as well as a plan to share about 500 parking spaces with the church.

Township officials expressed some reservations about the joint parking, particularly as it would affect the township tax rolls. The church property, under state law, cannot be taxed, however, the parking area, especially if shared with the office park, could be put on the tax rolls.

The representatives also turned their attention to Six Mile Road and the impact the entire project will have on the roadway.

"It would seem Wayne County and the city of Livonia should be involved in any plans so they can give their input," noted Claude Coates, planning consultant with Vilcan-Lehman.

"I've already talked to Wayne County and they are concerned about Six Mile Road," said Matt Modrack, the township development director. "Any information we can provide that would help present a case for improving Six Mile Road should be forwarded to the county," he noted.

The commissioners also noted that a traffic impact study should be completed by Kirco before final approval is given for the office plaza, which is expected to include four four-story buildings and three one-story edifices.

The church itself is expected to include space for a 300-voice choir as well as for the 1920s-era pipe organ that requires 41 feet.

Since the church will be the highest structure, it will be constructed at the intersection of Haggerty Road and Six Mile, the lowest point of the property. Dining, conference rooms, a fellowship hall and school will trail behind the church, toward the center of the property. Ward representative Abernethy said he wants the church to be aesthetically appealing, as well as functional.

"I haven't given any requests to design a monument, I don't want the church to look like a school auditorium," Abernethy said. "It will be one of the larger churches in the area, but will be noted for its beauty." He said a lot of earthen colors will be used.

With seating to accommodate 3,000 people, the new church will require a balcony. In the proposal, the main body of the church will attain a height of 85-90 feet.

However, Randall S. Lindstrom, vice president for design of C. Edward Ware, noted that his firm has not yet "put pencil to paper."

Utilities fight citizens lobby plan

A proposed constitutional amendment which would outlaw rate hikes for presently unneeded power plants isn't even certified to be on the ballot, but already the state's two largest utilities have gone to court to ask that some petition signatures supporting the measure be invalidated.

In a complaint filed July 10, Consumers Power Company and Detroit Edison charge that many of the 372,915 signatures were gathered under false pretenses and that the Michigan Citizens Lobby proposal is so sweeping a change to the Constitution it cannot be accomplished by initiative.

No hearing date has been set for the suit, which was filed against the Board of State Canvassers. The utilities have also filed a suit in Ingham County Circuit Court which challenges the validity of any petition signature gathered 180 days prior to the July 7 filing.

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley has offered an informal opinion that nonessential language in a petition does not affect its validity and that petitions are not required to indicate when the proposal would be submitted to voters.

However, Michigan Citizens' Lobby by Executive Director Joseph Tuchinsky has said the majority of the signatures are on petitions bearing the date 1984.

"By voluntarily specifying a date, MCL narrowed the focus of its notice to the electors and legislators, and the focus of its solicitation," MCL represented that the proposal would be voted on within the year, in the context of then-current economic and political conditions, the then-current utility regulatory structure, the then-current population, and the then-current probability of the signer's participation in the election," a brief in support of the suit said.

If the matter is placed on the ballot, it would have a direct bearing on rates for Edison's Belle River and Fermi II plants and Consumer's Midland plant.

Mother, daughter join volunteers

Jane Francis of Northville finally earned her high school diploma after her 60th birthday. She then enrolled at Madonna College where she studied fine arts, and next year she will complete her associate's degree at Schoolcraft College in Livonia.

In addition to her busy academic schedule, Francis helps her daughter care for foster children and finds time to donate to the community as a volunteer once a week at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

She and her daughter, Joyce Eskra, spend every Thursday afternoon visiting patients in a new program designed to assist hospital chaplains in pastoral ministry. Volunteers are trained to make initial pastoral visits to patients.

"I wanted to help people. It sounded like a wonderful thing to do. I feel good about it," Francis said.

She had regularly visited the sick and aged while living in Florida several years ago.

Eskra, a social worker by profession, also has background to help out in a pastoral ministry.

"I come home feeling like I've been given a dose of happy juice. And I come home better able to cope," Eskra said.

So far, six volunteers have been trained to help in pastoral ministry. Their 20-hour training program included sessions on religious traditions, verbal and non-verbal communication, referral and reporting relationships and loss, grief and bereavement counseling.

"Ministering to the spiritual needs of our patients is a big part of the healing process," said JoAnne Desmond, director of Volunteer Services.

Volunteering in Pastoral Ministry is just one of the many volunteer opportunities available at Catherine McAuley Health Center. Volunteers deliver flowers, support distressed families in the emergency room, make daily phone calls to the homebound and act as tour guides as well.

Volunteers help out at St. Joseph mercy Hospital, Mercywood Hospital, Reichert Health Building, Maple Health Building, Huron Oaks Chemical Dependency Facility and at Arbor Health Building in Plymouth. Volunteers can work days, evenings or weekends and are asked to donate three or four hours weekly for at least six months.

Volunteers can work directly with patients or in non-patient contact positions. Complete orientation and training are provided for all programs.

For more information about volunteer opportunities at Catherine McAuley Health Center, call the Volunteer Services Department, 572-4159.

Bad roads irk homeowners

Some residents of Northville Colony Estates are burning mad over bad streets, and they aren't going to take the street conditions lying down.

They want someone — and they don't care whether its Northville Township, Wayne County or Greenspan Development — to replace the streets in the eight-year-old subdivision.

However, the county has determined that Greenspan does not have to replace any more streets than he has already done since it cannot be determined who, if anyone, is responsible for the condition of the streets.

"The county completed a checklist in 1979, but since that time there has been considerable damage," explained Joe Leonard of the Wayne County

"The county completed a checklist in 1979, but since that time there has been considerable damage."

— Joe Leonard

Road Department. "We really can't tell whether the damage was done by general wear and tear or was caused by faulty construction."

Leonard added that the county would not require any portion of the roadways replaced unless they were deemed "unsafe."

Apparently, however, the subdivision residents are not happy with that action. The subdivision's executive board was quoted in the subdivision newsletter as being "very disappointed and frustrated" since "we were led to believe that all broken sections would be replaced."

According to the county, all road sections identified prior to the punch list were the responsibility of Greenspan; the road sections that have fallen into disrepair since the punch list are not required to be replaced, but would be sealed to hinder further damage.

Hilton expansion plans reviewed

Ever since it opened last year, insiders have been expecting backers of the Novi Hilton to announce plans to expand. Tonight plans for that long-awaited expansion will be reviewed by the Novi Planning Commission.

If approved as expected, the hotel will add a wing extending to the west of (behind) the facade now facing I-275 and expand its parking lot onto a 2.3-acre parcel south of the existing hotel.

At seven stories, the new wing will be identical in height to, and continue the design elements of, the existing hotel. The addition will contain 2,673 square feet of meeting room floor space with 156 guest rooms and 3,268 square feet of retail space.

The addition is expected to relate to the proposed office building located west of the Hilton — plans are being prepared to physically connect the two buildings through a covered walk coordinated with landscaped areas. Cost of the expansion has been estimated at $4 million.

According to traffic impact estimates provided by The Samelson Group, which coordinates the Hilton's development as well as surrounding property in the Orchard Hill Place office center district, traffic caused by the addition will not generate excessive flows during weekday 24-hour periods except for minor lunch and dinner-hour impacts generated by the use of meeting rooms.

No additional entrances from Haggerty or Eight Mile will be necessary to conduct the irregularly-timed added flow of 280 vehicles per day.

At full occupancy, the addition is expected to provide 16 permanent full-time jobs.

The Hilton currently operates 240 guest rooms on its 10.5-acre site. Since its opening it has been in high demand as a location for business, civic and social gathering resource. Its occupancy rate has stimulated a boom in hotel developments along the Haggerty-I-275 corridor in neighboring Farmington Hills, Livonia, and Northville Township.

James Roth, 20, tackles dual roles in Marquis show

"Gypsy," the musical now premiering at the Marquis Theatre in Northville, features a talented Northville resident who has the dual role of stage manager and actor in the production.

James Roth, 20, who plays the part of "Georgie" in the musical, considers acting a hobby, but hopes to get some exposure in his first professional performance at the Marquis.

"I love acting, and I will make a career of it if I have the opportunity, but right now I just do it for fun," Roth said.

A communications/speech major at Albion College, Roth has taken acting classes and performs in plays at school.

As stage manager, Roth has the technical job of coordinating the production to make everything run smoothly. Working four to five hours a night, seven days a week trying to perfect the "Gypsy" performance, Roth must make sure all backdrops, props and actors are in the right place at the right time.

"This show is episodic, so the scenery is constantly changing. I have to direct the show so that all the props are changed as quickly as possible so the audience doesn't have to wait, there are no distractions or interruptions," Roth said.

"Probably the best effect in the play is how we choreographed the aging of characters, it's just fantastic. I'm sure the play will draw a huge audience, it will definitely be a success," Roth said.

Based on the best-selling book of memoirs of Gypsy Rose Lee, the musical is set in the days of vaudeville. Gypsy's eventual success as the lady of burlesque is fostered by a pushy stage mother, Mama Rose, who lets nothing get in the way of making her dream of stardom come true.

Tunes include "Let Me Entertain You," "Everything's Coming Up Roses" and "You Gotta Have a Gimmie."

With a cast of 25 to 30 young professionals, "Gypsy" is performed every weekend through the first weekend in August. Friday evening performances start at 8:30 p.m.; cost is $9. Saturday showings also begin at 8:30 and cost $12. Sunday matinees, 2:30 p.m., are $8.

The Northville Record

Our Opinions

Cavanagh land belongs on rolls

Chapter Three in the continuing saga of an elderly village in the western portion of the township has apparently ended, not with a bang, but with a whimper. The fallout from the situation is just beginning to be felt.

When the Northville Elderly Development Corporation became the third group to try to build a senior citizen project on the Five Mile Road site, we had high hopes that the third time would be a charm and actually would end with a completed project. Those hopes were further elevated when the gala groundbreaking in October, 1984.

But, since that groundbreaking, the only thing raised on the site has been a sign, in this case a sign that nothing beyond the wrappings has been completed. Now, the developers are in the process of asking the Economic Development Corporation of Wayne County to revoke the contract between the parties and for the foreseeable future to shelve plans to put 101 acres of land on the county and township tax rolls.

We are hesitant to attach blame in this situation, either to the township planning commission which was steadfast in its insistence that the project be entirely devoted to elderly residents over 62, or to the developers, who initially agreed to the elderly concept, but wanted 35 percent of the units made available to those under 55 and to rent living quarters at the "market rate", or to the EDC, which offered incentives to the developers in exchange for the promise of increased job possibilities at the site.

But we do question whether the project would be off the tax rolls for the two years it has taken from groundbreaking to the termination of the project. We find that time lapse inexcusable and a detriment to others who might have wanted to develop the site within the constraints imposed by the county and the township.

We hope the county will act quickly to find either a developer willing to implement an elderly village to comply with township zoning requirements or a buyer willing to bring a project to the site that would make the planning commission favorably consider a zoning change. Too much time has already been spent on a dream. It is time to wake up.

Closing the gap

The homeowners in North Beacon Woods have complaints — lots of them — regarding the quality of work performed by the subdivision developer. There have been complaints about the cement work, about the subfloor, about the stairways and about the apparent unwillingness of S & S Homes to meet with the home owners to try to solve the problems.

And, while the home owners have taken their concerns to the township supervisor and board of trustees, we question whether the subdivision residents understand what actions the board legally can take.

Realizing that if the problem had been resolved by the builder, the residents would never have approached the board, we question whether the residents are ready to take the next logical step — filing a complaint with the State License and Regulation Board against S & S Homes.

The township officers, most notably Matt Modrack, development director, and Susan Heintz, supervisor, repeatedly told the home owners that the township had been advised by two legal firms it could not withhold building permits solely because work has not been completed satisfactorily on a different home for which a permit already has been issued. Nor can the township fail to issue a certificate of occupancy if the home is in conformity with BOCA rules and regulations. And, while some home owners seemed to understand the township's hands are tied, the majority indicated through repeated comments they expected the township to take some action.

What is more distressing, however, are the comments of one trustee, who informed the public he was in favor of withholding permits, even after the prohibition against such a move was fully explained. While politically, the comments were expedient, the effect did nothing more than further inflame an already irate group.

If only half of the problems which prompted the home owners to come before the township board on two separate occasions are accurate, there are serious concerns which need to be addressed properly.

The burden must fall on the developer to follow through on tasks at individual homes, rather than to hang up on the homeowner. He must explain what, if any, problems he is facing as he tries to complete final work on existing buildings and to build new homes. He must assign his subcontractors to tasks, rather than tell homeowners to deal directly with the various contractors. And more importantly, when he promises to have work completed by a certain time, have it completed or at the very least call the homeowner and explain why the work is not done.

Most of the homeowners in the subdivision are reasonable people. But they are rapidly becoming unreasonable when confronted with a lack of action by the developer and now a seeming lack of action by the township board. The problem seems to be one of communication and if that can't be worked out, then the rest of the issue cannot be resolved either. The township has indicated its willingness to help, within legal limits. Now it is up to the homeowners

Fearing a deadly penalty

By Anita Crone

Be still my bleeding heart.

Although the state Elections Commission has yet to determine whether there are enough qualified signatures on petitions to put the death penalty question on the ballot, people are already beginning to muster forces on both sides of the issue.

Once again we will be asked to determine whether killing is cruel or unusual punishment or whether we want to return to the good old days of the old testament when an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth were the norm.

Once again we will have the opportunity to see which groups line up on which side of the issue. And I get to personally chuckle as Right to Life becomes Right to Death.

Those who study these issues have pointed out that there have been 16 cases in Michigan where innocent people have been convicted of first degree murder and would have been, if the death penalty were legal, put to death.

Statistics have shown that the threat of death has not deterred crime, nor has it reduced the number of criminals. Right now, the only people to benefit directly from implementation of the death penalty would be jail administrators, who constantly bemoan the overcrowding in their facilities. And, of course, L. Brooks Patterson, the state's best-known proponent of the death penalty.

I know there are people who hold human life in such low esteem that they would kill for a quarter or for the fun of it or for a turn-on. And there are, unfortunately, people like Theodore Bundy and perhaps Alton Coleman, who kill just to kill. I pity those people and feel for the families of their victims.

Thankfully, no one in my family has ever had to confront a gunman or someone who is capable and has killed. And I hope they never have to. But there is nothing so inhumane as having responsibility for another life.

While I do have confidence in the judicial system and in judges as a whole, I do have serious doubts about giving a single human being, or a group of human beings the responsibility of deciding whether another human should die, no matter how heinous the crime.

I have grave reservations about the inherent biases that judges, because they are human beings, have. Would a woman who killed her husband after she was the victim of numerous beatings be given a totally fair trial by a judge who received funding and endorsements from a group dedicated to preserving the family at all costs? Could a black male receive a fair trial if he came before a white supremacist judge? Could a white male receive a fair trial from a black judge who advocates black supremacy?

And while this time, the petitions presented to the state seem to have correct signatures, I have serious doubts about the commitment these death penalty proponents have to their issue. After all, the last time the death penalty question was to be placed on the ballot, a number of signatures on petitions were discovered to be fraudulent. Is this another example of win at any cost?

The rationale for putting the issue to a vote eludes me. I pray that people of common sense and good will choose to vote down the death penalty. But if they do, will the issue go away or will it once again, like the perpetual question of state funding for Medicaid abortion, come before the electorate until the measure passes?

And, if the voters approve the death penalty, who will take responsibility for the first death sentence. Certainly not the voters as a whole.

Who gave anyone the right to kill another human being. After all, from time immemorial, we have been admonished that "Thou shalt not kill," that life is sacred and no human has the right to take it. The Bible makes no distinction for homicide. In fact, the first murderer was not punished by death. Cain was simply banished.

Michigan has existed for 149 years without the death penalty. Certainly another 149 years should not be out of the question.

Penalty for face masking

After the Fact

By Phil Jerome

MacIntosh stopped by yesterday. Sneaked up behind me while I was banging away on the VDT, placed her hands over my eyes and said, "Guess who?"

She revealed her identity after I admitted I had no idea whatsoever. After all, the last I heard from MacIntosh she was working for a small daily paper in New Jersey.

Jeannie MacIntosh was a summer intern here a couple of years ago. Did such a good job we hired her full-time in our Howell office.

At any rate, MacIntosh said she's working in Boston now, and had flown home when she heard the infamous Wixom panther had resurfaced in Milford.

"Want me to go get 'im, Phil?" she asked.

The Wixom panther made his debut during MacIntosh's internship here. I told her she was going to become our "panther editor" and I wanted our readers to know everything there is to know about panthers in our next edition.

MacIntosh jumped on the inquiry immediately, demonstrating the inquiring mind and vast enthusiasm which had led us to hire her in the first place.

But I could not have imagined the fervor with which she threw her self into panther-coverage stories.

The very next morning, MacIntosh showed up for work wearing a safari hat, camouflage clothing and a hand-fashioned butterfly net flung over her shoulder.

"I'm ready," she announced. "I'm going to capture that panther. We'll have the scoop of the decade. A personal interview with the Wixom panther."

"I can just see it — a big picture of me with my arm around the Wixom panther on the front page."

"Have any idea of how we're going to capture this beast," I interjected quietly.

"That's where you come in," she continued. "All you have to do is smear your body with hamburger and go walking through the bush yelling, 'Here, kitty, kitty.' Don't worry about a thing, Phil. I'll be right behind you with my net."

Water, sewer project unnecessary

To the Editor:
I would like to disagree with your editorial of July 9 re: sewer and water in Northville Estates. To the best of my knowledge, no member of your staff lives in the Estates, hence is not particularly qualified to judge our present situation. On the other hand, I am one of the oldest, both in age and residence.

Northville Estates is blessed with a good supply of water — hard but potable. Many enjoy the taste. Pumps have to be replaced, on the average, 10 to 15 years. But in most cases this cost is far less than buying Detroit water over the same period of time.

Very few residents have had any serious problem with their septic systems because of the soil and the minimum half-acre lots. A good system, properly installed, has an indefinite life; and even replacing an inadequate field will probably cost less than half the anticipated $5,200, which only runs it down the street. Add to that the $250 tap-in fee, plus $14 a foot to your house connection.

So much for the economics — now for the aesthetics. My wife and I have watched Northville Estates develop into a beautiful and desirable place to live and raise a family. Shady, tree-lined streets, nicely landscaped yards, roads in good condition (except the north end). Have you considered what the installation of sewer and water will do to this beautiful scene? Ask the home owners who live on E. Chigwidden, north of Grasmere.

Every current resident knew he was buying a well and septic system when he located in Northville Estates. If sewer and water were so important, why did they buy here. If wells and septic systems are so bad, why do real estate people regularly canvass the area looking for listings? Unfortunately, from a property tax assessment viewpoint for those of us not desiring to sell, the houses in our subdivision have consistently sold for more than "fair market value."

I particularly disagree with the lead statement urging elected officials to "take a stand, no matter how unpopular with their constituents that action may be." I'm just old fashioned enough to believe that I know what's good for me and my neighborhood better than a non-resident. I would also like to remind our elected officials that the oath of office they took obligates them to "serve" their electorate, not vice versa.

To show that I am not always disagreeable, I heartily agree with your editorial several weeks ago supporting the two mill levy to pay for much needed road repairs that will benefit all residents and also visitors who bring dollars to our local businesses. This issue was not decided unilaterally by our council, but by majority vote — that's democracy — not Orwell's 1984 "Big Brother" bureaucracy. Like Abe Lincoln, I firmly believe in the inherent wisdom of the common man and his ability to take care of himself, if only left alone to do so.

My "working for pay" career spans many years — five years teaching, 38 plus years with General Motors — and, if there's one thing I learned, it's this: "If it ain't broke, don't fix it." A $20,000 (plus or minus a few hundred) investment for something that's not really needed is no Big Bargain, even at today's prices. For the majority of home owners in Northville Estates the installation of sewer and water is not necessary and certainly doesn't make any economic sense. That's my point of view.

Sincerely,
Robert F. Brueck

Thanks for parade

To the Editor:
The Northville Jaycees would like to thank all the people who made the Fourth of July celebration a big success.

We would especially like to thank Dr. Atchison for being our Grand Marshal of our parade.

We must also thank those who donated to the parade and fireworks; the city and township governments, Long's Plumbing and Fancy Bath Boutique, Northville Kiwanis, Mr. and Mrs. Don Williams, Country Pantry 'N' Pizza, Northville Rotary for putting on a great watermelon eating contest, and Paul Folino and his crew who collected donations at the fireworks and those who contributed.

We personally would like to thank all the Northville Jaycees who worked so very hard on this project to make it one of the best we have ever done.

County gets clean-street credit

To the Editor:
How did it happen?

Without any representation of our association, Mr. Greenspan, developer of Northville Colony Estates III, received a settlement out of court with the street engineers, construction company and Wayne County — NOT to replace the damaged streets we have been living with for almost 10 years.

Mr. Greenspan reassured us meeting after meeting that he would repair the streets. We believed him.

Now, in lieu of replacement, he will have the cracked, broken streets filled with black tar.

How did this happen, I ask you. People of Northville Colony, are you going to tolerate this? You'll be paying a major assessment in a few years, as Mr. Greenspan laughs at our foolishness.

People of Northville, come see our ugly streets. It could happen to your subdivision, too, as the administra-

We also hope to bring the community another great celebration next year.

Fourth of July chairman
Bob Cummings

To the Editor:
My brother Gordie and I were in the Fourth of July parade this year. I would like to thank Bob Cummings, parade chairman, and all of the Northville Jaycees for making it such a fun day from the 5:30 a.m. breakfast to the last spark of the fireworks, it was the funnest day of the summer. Thanks! It was great.

Fix water lines before repaving city streets

To the Editor:
I've been a resident in the "Beal Town" area of Northville for the past eight years. In this time I have seen numerous water main breaks in our neighborhood, turning the streets that were nicely paved into a maze of patches.

After having two breaks right in front of our home, I asked DPW workers about the condition of the lines. They said the lines in this area are "thin and pitted" and should be replaced.

Now that this area is slated for paving and resurfacing, shouldn't something be done about these thin water lines first?

I would hate to see the continuation of these breaks "after" the streets have been repaved at the expense of the voters.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Carol Strauch

Handicapped sign needed to inform subdivision drivers

To the Editor:
The reason I am writing this letter is because I live in Northville Township. I have a child with Spina Bifida, and I need a sign up on my street of "Handicap Child at Play" to SLOW the cars down.

I have been calling for over a year and a half to get this sign up. It is now July again, and there is still no sign. I am hoping someone in township hall reads this and maybe I will get a sign up for my son.

Enforcement needed before parking area changes take place

To the Editor:
After seeing how terrific Lexington Boulevard looks now that the city has trimmed the trees between the street and sidewalk, why can't they do it on Debra Lane where you can't even park under some trees or walk under others. Wouldn't it be great if it were done before the street is resurfaced? There would be fewer leaves to pick up and, with resurfacing, Debra Lane would once again look like a million dollars, too. Few people realize that trimming beautifies!

Sincerely,
Marge Lenheiser

County gets clean-street credit

We thank you again, Mr. Oakley, for professionally handling our problem.

Name withheld

To the Editor:
I wanted to reply to the letter concerning Colony III subdivision being filthy.

I am also a resident of the sub, but I don't think the mess is just the county's responsibility. I believe the builder, Fred Greenspan, is at fault.

After all, the dirt in the streets comes from the construction trucks that roll down the highway starting at 6:30 a.m. This has been going on for years, and the street can only take so much. I know problems exist dealing with him because I am still in the process of suing due to building problems that have also gone on for years.

It's still tough being the little guy against either a county or a corporation. All they want is your money and they get it!

Bullard picks Lucas in governor's contest

By BRUCE J. MARTIN

State Representative Willis Bullard, R-Milford, who represents Novi and the Oakland County portion of the City of Northville in the 60th District, has added his name to the list of legislators supporting William Lucas' bid for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

At a press conference in Novi Thursday, Lucas forces claimed they have picked up public endorsements from 28 of the 72 Republican legislators in the state House and Senate for the Aug. 5 primary election.

Wayne County Executive Lucas is opposing Oakland County Executive Daniel Murphy, State Representative Colleen Engler and Brighton businessman Richard Chrysler for the Republican nomination.

Lucas' 15-minute stop at Novi City Hall was one of a series of conferences Thursday at which officials in various southeast Michigan districts announced their support of Lucas to local press.

What's keying Lucas' candidacy, when he did not rise to prominence through state legislative circles? According to Bullard, "Most Republicans feel Bill Lucas has the best bet at defeating (incumbent Democratic governor) Jim Blanchard."

When he made his decision, Bullard said, "I thought Bill Lucas was the front runner, and he's continued to be the front runner."

"I've admired him for a number of years. Although Dan Murphy has done a good job and others have done well, I think (Lucas) has surprised everybody with the job he's done in Wayne County, managing serious problems without raising taxes."

Asked how he would address the problem of overburdened road systems in southeast Michigan, Lucas responded, "It's a matter of setting priorities. If you're going to make those improvements, you've got to cut somewhere else."

"We have to look 3-5 years in advance and examine where our priorities lie. Are we building roads now where they're most needed, or are we building some of them where they're not?"

"Novi's one of the places where you're having tremendous growth — I wish we'd had some more of it in Wayne County — and you just have to set your priorities accordingly."

Lucas and Bullard joined forces to press the attack against Blanchard, criticizing his policies for:

□ Resulting in Michigan's population decrease since his taking office. "The only reason unemployment is going down is because people are leaving the state in record numbers," said Lucas. "Since Jim Blanchard's been in office more than 480,000 people have left Michigan." (Southeast Michigan Council of Government figures estimate Michigan's population has shown a net decrease of 133,737 from 1980-1985).

□ Taking credit recently for decreasing the state's tax rate after he had fought cuts in the legislature.

□ Taking a lackadaisical stance on the issue of casino gambling in Detroit by being quoted as saying he would decide it by flipping a coin. "George Raft flips a coin with a lot more class than he does," Lucas remarked.

□ Lacking leadership qualities. "We can hardly get him to take a position on an issue, then when he signs a bill it becomes a major production," complained Bullard.

Bipartisan tax credit

Legislation lowering the Michigan income tax rate from its current 4.6 percent to 4.4 percent has widespread bipartisan support in the Michigan Legislature.

House Bill 5702, introduced June 24, would lower the income tax rate effective Jan. 1, 1987.

"All the signals indicate that federal tax reform will be enacted by the end of the summer. If the changes are made, it will broaden the tax base and increase Michigan taxes. By passing this bill, we can prevent this and effectively keep our rate the same," said Rep. Willis "Bill" Bullard, R-Milford, one of the bill's 50 co-sponsors.

"I don't think anybody here wants to see a windfall from U.S. tax reform," said Gov. James Blanchard, noting that if the state updates its references to the U.S. tax code and makes no other changes, the state would receive an additional $150 million in revenue, since the pending federal reform bill would increase the amount of income subject to tax.

"The wisest, fairest way to handle it is to translate the cut in the income tax rate," said Blanchard.

The Michigan Lottery's Super Lotto game is three months old but questions concerning it continue to be asked by players. The following should answer many of these.

Q: Explain the difference between the Regular and Super Lotto games.
A: Regular Lotto asks players to match four five or six numbers from a field of 40 numbers, while Super Lotto asks players to make the same matches from a field of 41. Completely separate games, the 40 Lotto game runs from Wednesday to Wednesday while the 41 Super Lotto game runs from Saturday to Saturday.

Q: How can I distinguish between the two games?
A: First, the bet slips are different. Orange slips are for the 40 Regular Lotto game, and purple are for the 41 Super Lotto game. Also Super Lotto tickets say 41 at the top while Regular Lotto tickets state 40. And all Saturday dates are for Super Lotto drawings. Wednesday dates are for Regular Lotto drawings.

Q: How come Michigan has not had the $20-$40 million Jackpots some other states have experienced?
A: So far Michigan players have been very successful in beating the odds. But the game is still new, and we expect to see some very large Jackpot prizes in the future.

Q: What has been the largest Super Lotto Jackpot prize? How about Match-4 and Match-5 prizes?
A: Through June, the largest individual Jackpot prize awarded was $10 million won by Rose Marie Lane of Livonia on June 28. Two other lucky winners shared a $10 million Jackpot from the May 31 drawing. In the first 11 drawings, a total of nearly $39 million was won by Super Lotto players. Winners matching five numbers collected a total of $3.1 million on prizes averaging $3,051 each, and $5.5 million went to players matching four of the winning numbers for an average prize of $94 each.

Q: Why is there no subscription play for the 41 Super Lotto game?
A: Subscription play was offered when the original Lotto game began in 1981 because there were not as many Lottery terminals statewide as there are today. We will continue to add more terminals to serve players better, diminishing the need for subscription play. For those who find it difficult to get to a Lottery retailer, an advance wagering system is being studied.

Q: Because her Super Lotto question led to this column, Betty Soddors of DeTour Village, Michigan will receive 50 "Michigan 150" instant game tickets.
A: If you have a Lottery question you'd like answered in this column, send it to "Winners Circle," Michigan Lottery, P.O. Box 30077, Lansing, MI 48909.

CITY OF NORTHVILLE NOTICE OF ENACTMENT

The City Council of the City of Northville, following a public hearing on Monday, July 7, 1986, at 8:00 p.m., in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 215 W. Main Street, has adopted the following ordinance amendment:

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTION 2.12.5, "AREA, HEIGHT, BULK AND PLACEMENT REGULATIONS" FOR THE CENTRAL BUSINESS DISTRICT, BEING A SECTION OF THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE, TITLE IV, CHAPTER 12, OF THE CODE OF CITY ORDINANCES, TO MODIFY THE REAR-YARD SETBACK REQUIREMENT FOR THE CENTRAL BUSINESS DISTRICT (CBD).

The City of Northville ordains:
Section 1. Sec. 2.12.5 "Area, Height, Bulk and Placement Regulations" for the Central Business District, being a section of the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Northville, Title IV, Chapter 12, of the Code of City Ordinances, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2.12.5 Area, Height, Bulk and Placement Regulations
Area, height, bulk and placement requirements unless otherwise specified are as provided in the following table and as further provided in Article 3 "Schedule of Regulations."

Minimum Lot Size	Maximum Bldg. Height		Minimum Yard Setback In Feet			Maximum Floor Area Ratio	Minimum Landscaped Area: Percent of Lot Area	Maximum Lot Area Coverage* Percent of Lot Area
	In Stories	In Feet	Front	Sideways Each Side	Rear
N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A	N/A	20a	3.0b	N/A	N/A

a. The purpose of the rear-yard setback is to provide a service and delivery alley along the common rear lot line of CBD properties which back up to each other. The Planning Commission may modify or waive the rear-yard requirement when the property being developed backs up to a public parking lot or public right-of-way, or where instances where the requirement of the rear-yard setback would serve no useful purpose.

b. The maximum floor area ratio may be increased by twenty-five hundredths (0.25) for each increment of ten percent (10%) of the value of the building, or twenty percent (20%) of the State Equalized Value, devoted to landscaped improvements.

Section 2. The ordinance shall become effective ten (10) days after enactment hereof and after publication thereof. A complete copy of the ordinance is on file in the City Clerk's Office.

Another captain

Northville Township's newest fire captain, Rick Rozelle, shares a moment before assuming his command with Chief Robert Toms in the township fire hall. Rozelle, a long-time firefighter, has worked his way up through the ranks, and, with his appointment, brings to three the number of captains in the department.

Township Police

Gravel pit isn't for swimming

Four people are scheduled to appear in 35th District Court Aug. 12 after police officers charged the quartet with trespassing for swimming in the gravel pit at Beck Road.

A witness told police that the two men involved in the incident were swimming in the nude July 13.

A car radio, valued at $218, was reported stolen from a 1980 Mustang parked in a Northville driveway July 13.

The car owner told police the vehicle was locked; however, when the owner got into her car at 10 a.m. the next day, the driver's side window was destroyed and the radio was missing. There are no suspects in the case.

Township police are investigating the possibility of a breaking and entering into the automatic teller machine at the Michigan National Bank branch on Five Mile Road.

A witness informed officers that the cover to the machine was removed and was lying on the floor of the bank building July 13. However, an investigation by police officers noted there was no evidence of prying the cover off the machine.

A Sunset Street resident told police that someone entered his home and took a bottle of vodka valued at about $6.

Entrance to the home was effected through an open bedroom window, which was left unlatched for the cat. Nothing else was reported missing.

A 1984 Pontiac Trans-Am, reported stolen between 11 p.m. and 7:45 a.m. July 8 was found the next day in Detroit, slightly the worse for wear. The car owner told police he had parked the car in the Meijer's parking lot and, when he returned, it was gone. Also missing was a leather coat, worth $100, and two credit cards.

When the car was discovered, all five tires (including the spare) were missing and there was damage to the steering column. There are no suspects in the incident.

A radar detector, worth $139, was reported stolen by a Greenville resident who was visiting Longwood Court July 9.

A boy's bicycle, reported stolen from the Highland Lakes Clubhouse bicycle rack July 8, was recovered July 9 by Northville City Police.

No charges have been filed in the incident; however, the police report indicates the bicycle was taken by a juvenile.

Bike hike scheduled

Northville cycling enthusiasts are invited to join a group of residents Thursday evenings for a 20 mile ride through Northville, Novi, Farmington, Livonia and Plymouth.

Residents meet at 6 p.m. Thursdays at Our Lady of Victory Church to begin the one hour and 45 minute ride.

Jim Okasinski, an organizer of the group, suggests participants wear helmets and notes that 10-speed bikes are "helpful."

Children riding with the group must be accompanied by an adult.

For more information, call Jim Okasinski at 349-4498.

Trooper wins Carnegie Medal for stopping runaway boxcars

David Rollin Haire of Novi, trooper at the Northville State Police Post who stopped two runaway boxcars last October, has been awarded the Carnegie Medal by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission.

The award is one of 21 given to persons in 12 states and three Canadian provinces July 3 for risking their lives to save or attempt to save the lives of others.

Trooper Haire is the only Michigan recipient among the 21 to receive the award established in 1904 by Andrew Carnegie to recognize outstanding acts of selfless heroism performed in the United States and Canada.

As stipulated by Carnegie, the hero to be recognized or the next of kin receives a medal reciting the heroic deed and carrying the Biblical quotation: "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends" (John 15:13).

The Carnegie Hero Fund Commission summary of Haire's heroism states the medal was awarded to Haire "who rescued George P. and Celene A. Yokich from runaway boxcars" in Northville Oct. 3. "Mr. and Mrs. Yokich, both 68, were crossing a railroad track when their car was struck by two runaway boxcars.

"Haire, 37, state policeman, saw the accident and, as the car was being pushed down the track, decided to attempt to stop the boxcars before they reached a narrow bridge about a mile away. Haire sped to the bridge, parked, and ran toward the approaching boxcars.

"When he met the lead boxcar, Haire seized its handrail and jumped aboard. He located a manual brake and applied it, immediately slowing the boxcars, which then stopped just past the bridge.

"The Yokiches were freed from their car and hospitalized; Yokich recovered from multiple injuries but his wife died shortly. Haire, recovered from a strained shoulder."

Of the 21 Carnegie Medal recipients, six died in the performance of their heroic acts.

Grants totaling $52,500 were given to the awardees or their survivors. Two of the heroes cited are college students who are eligible for scholarship assistance, as are the children of posthumous awardees.

College students spend summers painting houses

By VICKI GRYS

Summertime isn't a time to play for 15 college students.

The employees of Painters Plus, a business operating out of Plymouth, are busy painting establishments throughout Northville, including Northville Historical Society buildings in the Mill Race Historical Village as well as several houses in the community.

Steve McFarland and Dwayne March, co-presidents of the Painters Plus, started out as painters together and decided to get some friends to join them, soon making their free-lance job a certified business. Jeffery Dickinson of Plymouth also helped to organize and get the business on its feet.

The group will also work on a few businesses in Northville including Henrikson's Insurance Agency and Plagens, both on Main Street.

"We chose Northville because of all the old houses. It's a chance for us to help beautify the city a little," McFarland said.

All 15 unlicensed painters work on one project at a time, and are now completing work on a house on West Street in Northville.

Working six and seven days a week, the painters, 13 men and 2 women, recently completed five houses on Dunlap Street. March said the group starts and finishes one building or house at a time so customers don't have to wait long for the project to be completed.

"We work on a satisfaction guaranteed basis," McFarland said. "We ask for no money up front and collect only when our customers are satisfied with our finished product."

March is in charge of the crew and allotting individual jobs; McFarland organizes the work in addition to handling all estimates.

McFarland said he gives free estimates to anyone interested and decides the cost according to the number of hours required to finish the building.

Painters Plus also had a chance to work for a celebrity when they painted Mort Crim's house in Grosse Pointe.

"Oh, yea, we have a lot of fun in the business," said McFarland. "We get to work outside, and it's a perfect job for college students to make money. Every house is a new challenge to us."

Existing home sales remain strong in May

While easing back from their record-setting April pace, local existing home sales continued very strong in May, according to the latest report of Metro MLS.

The multiple listing organization, the state's largest, recorded sales of 1,876 detached homes and 106 condominiums by its members during the month. The combined 1,982 figure was up from the 1,934 reported for May in 1985 with year-to-date detached home sales now 1,437, or 20 percent, above a year ago.

At the same time, May's average price for detached homes at $71,646 and the year-to-date average of $70,451 were nearly 15 percent higher than last year.

"This average reflects an increased number of high-priced homes being sold this year," said Joanne R. Bryngelson, Metro MLS president. "Those priced at $100,000 or more represent some 16 percent of 1986 sales compared to 11.5 percent at this time last year."

The most active market in the record-setting April pace, local existing home sales continued very strong in May, according to the latest report of Metro MLS.

Following the leader was Dearborn, 116 homes, $59,037; Farmington/Farmington Hills, 110, $115,730; Southfield, 96, $71,666; Westland, 96, $46,883; Canton, 94, $86,037 and Dearborn Heights, 92, $56,848.

"Although mortgage interest rates showed a fractional increase in May, this seemed to have little effect on the market," Bryngelson said. "Many buyers may have interpreted this as an indication that there will be no further declines and decided to make their move now."

"With the press of new mortgage and refinancing business at most lending institutions, buyers still may experience longer than expected delays before closings can be completed."

Business Briefs

JAMES R. DUPREY

ROBERT K. LOCKWOOD II

JAMES R. DUPREY of Novi has been appointed director of planning by the Packaging Systems Division of Ex-Cell-O Corporation. In this position he will be responsible for managing divisional planning and conducting feasibility and marketing research studies for the division.

Duprey joined Ex-Cell-O in 1984 as manager of market analysis and planning of commercial development activities for the Packaging Systems Division. Prior to joining Ex-Cell-O, he was a planning analyst at Hunt-Wesson Foods and previously an assistant to the vice president of finance with the W.W. Henry Company.

Duprey holds BS and MBA degrees from the University of Michigan and an MS degree in Strategic Planning from the University of Southern California. Duprey lives with his wife, Michele, and their two children in Novi.

ROBERT K. LOCKWOOD II of Northville has been promoted by Manufacturers Bank of Detroit to the position of second vice president and trust officer.

Lockwood will be located in the Trust-Corporate Agencies-Administration department.

Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit is the leading bank subsidiary of Manufacturers National Corporation, a bank holding company based in Detroit. Eight additional subsidiary banks are located in Bay City, Coopersville, Lansing, Livonia, Novi, St. Clair Shores, Saline and Southfield.

ANIS AHMED, a Northwestern Mutual agent from Novi, was among 6,000 members of the Million Dollar Round Table (MDRT) who gathered in Orlando, Florida, June 29 to July 3 for the exclusive life insurance sales association's 59th annual meeting.

Four countries were represented, making MDRT the most comprehensive sales forum in the life insurance industry.

During the five-day meeting, 100 professional speakers discussed subjects of vital concern to those in the life insurance and financial planning fields. Experts in such areas as estate planning, taxes, business and law shared their knowledge in a series of intense seminars and morning general sessions.

RICHARD PAUL PROBST of Northville, an investment broker with Thomson McKinnon Securities Inc. in Plymouth, was recently named a member of the Putnam Golden Scale Council.

The council is made up of investment sales people who have demonstrated the highest professional standards in servicing the investing public.

Probst was personally cited for his outstanding achievements by Barry Hartstone, president of Putnam Financial Services, Inc. The Putnam organization supervises total assets of almost $23 billion and is one of the nation's oldest, largest and most-respected investment managers.

Putnam manages over 20 publicly offered mutual funds with total net assets of $11 billion for more than 800,000 shareholders. An affiliate, The Putnam Advisory Company, Inc., manages net assets of $7.7 billion for some of America's largest and best-known corporations, including many "Fortune 500" companies.

Probst resides in Northville Township with his wife Tracy and daughter Nicole. He is active in the Northville Rotary Club having served as president in 1985. His office is located at 505 S. Main St. in Plymouth.

GENTRY REAL ESTATE'S Highland, Milford and Hartland offices have joined ERA Real Estate, one of the largest real estate franchise organizations in the world.

As a member of the ERA Real Estate network, Gentry Real Estate will be able to offer numerous ERA consumer services such as the ERA buyer protection plan, seller protection plan, photo-by-wire listings, nationwide relocation system, ERA mortgage services, and the ERA seller's security plan.

Gentry Real Estate has been serving home buyers and sellers in the area for 17 years. Owner James T. Gentry and sales associates are located at 2550 Highland Road in Highland, 620 N. Milford Road in Milford and 11600 Highland Road in Hartland.

ERA Real Estate is the fastest growing national home marketing service. ERA is an international real estate franchise with 2,500 offices in the U.S., Australia and Japan.

PAUL FOLINO'S State Farm office in Northville is celebrating its 25th anniversary of top quality, "Good Neighbor" service. Folino's agency is part of the Wagner District.

In 1985 Folino was the Wagner District "Agent of the Year," the "Top Fire Agent" and the "Top Health Agent." Folino earned the corporate "Legion of Honor" award and was a Traveling Millionaire qualifier, earning a week-long trip to Bermuda.

Folino qualified for the coveted "All-Star" award in 1985 and the Las Vegas convention to be held in September of 1986.

THE AWARD PLAQUE won for the fourth year in a row by Federal-Mogul Five Star Fleet Desk Planner from Fleet Owner magazine are (left to right) T. Robert Show, heavy duty sales manager; Alan H. The desk planner, which appeared in the November 1985 issue received three advertising awards from McGraw-Hill. The 28-page insert was rated by Readex as achieving a "remembered seeing" score of 96 percent, a "found interesting score of 65 percent and a "removed desk planner" score of 70 percent.

WILLIAM BOWMAN, president of Thompson & Brown of Farmington Hills, has been honored by the Gaylord Industrial Development Corporation.

Thompson & Brown is the developer of Michaywe, a four-seasons resort community located near Gaylord. Michaywe has been selected to receive the Otsego County "Outstanding Industry of the Year" Award for 1986.

Thompson & Brown developed Michaywe in the late 1960s. The site encompasses over 3,600 acres of Northern Michigan woodlands. The resort has 800 members and the community has 375 residents.

Harold Elgas of the Gaylord Industrial Development Council said Michaywe has had and continues to have a tremendous impact on the community. "It adds millions of dollars to our tax base and provides numerous jobs in construction, services and retail sales by its presence," he said.

Expected to be added to Michaywe over the next three years are an additional 18-hole golf course, a new lodge/conference center and new tennis courts at an estimated cost of $4 million. The resort currently contains an 18-hole championship golf course, three tennis courts, an indoor/outdoor pool, dining room, lounge, cross-country ski trails and nine downhill ski slopes.

Consider capital gains tax before selling home, CPAs say

Your home is an excellent tax shelter, as well as an important asset that is likely increasing in value. Selling it may give you a handsome gain — and a hefty tax bill, too. But with some knowledge of the way capital gains are treated when a home is sold, the Michigan Association of CPAs says it's possible to defer or legally avoid much of the tax. But watch out for pitfalls.

Under current tax law, when you sell your home, the entire gain on the sale may not be taxed if you buy or build and occupy a new principal residence two years before or after the sale. The new residence must cost at least as much or more than the adjusted selling price of your old home. Remember, the tax on the gain is deferred, not forgiven.

Any gain that is not taxed must be subtracted from the cost of the new home giving you a lower "basis," defined as the amount you are considered to have paid for the new home. If you sell the new home later and buy another one, you may continue to defer the tax.

If you do not buy a new home or if the cost of the new home is less than the adjusted sales price of the original home, then part or all of your gain is taxable as long-term or short-term capital gain, depending on how long you owned your home.

The profits on home sales are taxed the same way as capital gains on other investments — such as stocks or bonds. If you own the home for more than six months, it is taxed as a long-term investment, thus only 40 percent of the gain you make on the sale is taxable. But if you own the home for six months or less, all your profit is taxable.

A new home need not be a house. The same tax laws apply if your new home is a condominium, a co-op, a trailer, houseboat or other type of principal residence. A home you have constructed also can be considered a replacement residence.

Let's say you sold your home in 1984 and gained $10,000. Within two years you bought and occupied a new home for $80,000, which is more than you were paid for the sale of the original home. You won't be taxed for the $10,000 gain in 1984, but you must subtract the untaxed gain from the $80,000, giving you a $70,000 basis in your new home.

If within two years you did not buy a replacement home, you would be taxed on the $10,000 gain. If you must sell your home at a loss, the loss is generally not deductible on the federal income tax return.

The capital gain from a prior sale can be reduced or eliminated by increasing what you originally paid for the home by amounts paid out within the 24-month reinvestment period through home improvements. The resulting figure is the "adjusted basis." If you added to your home a porch that cost you $10,000, you can add that to your basis. If you don't have receipts for your home improvements, you should ask the company that did the work to write an estimate of the cost or retrieve the original receipt. It's smart to keep receipts on all capital improvements.

Home sellers can also benefit by sprucing up their old place. Painting exterior walls, oiling that squeaky garage door and restoring faded paneling will probably drive up the price several thousand dollars. And those maintenance or "fix-up" costs can be subtracted from your home's selling price if they're done within 90 days of the sale and paid for within 30 days of the sale. But you must have receipts to document these costs.

Don't forget to reduce your sales price by certain closing costs on the sale of your old home, such as brokerage fees and legal expenses.

In addition to the tax deferral, the other major tax break coming from the sale of a home is the $125,000 tax-free profit allowed if you are 55 or older. To qualify, you must have used the home as your principal residence for three of the last five years before the sale. If a home is jointly owned by two spouses, only one spouse need be 55 or over to receive the exclusion.

Since the exclusion is only good once in a lifetime, it may be wise to consult your CPA if you are not absolutely sure when you should take it.

Consumers Power warns citizens to watch for summer 'con artists'

Warm weather tends to bring out the "con artists," those smooth-talking criminals who want to separate you from your money or possessions through trickery and deceit.

They may be men or women, working alone or in groups, usually pretending to be someone they are not such as a salesman, a repairman or, in many cases, a utility employee.

Jon Hall, Meter Reading Field Supervisor for Consumers Power Company's Livonia District, said, "Our employees are easily identified by the white shirts or blouses with the CP emblem over the left pocket. In addition to the personal identification cards that all employees carry, meter readers also have a hand-held computer that can display the customer's name, address and meter number upon request."

Normal summer working hours for the 74 people who read approximately 600,000 meters each month in Oakland, Macomb and part of Wayne County are 7 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

"Don't hesitate to ask for identification from anyone attempting to gain entrance to your home or business," Hall said, "and immediately report all suspicious persons to the local authorities."

Consumers Power Company now offers information about the state's largest utility on a new, toll-free phone line, 1-800-272-0303.

If you aren't calling every day, you missed:

□ The announcement that the best use for the Midland nuclear plant is to convert it to gas.

□ Information from Consumers Power Company experts about the Russian nuclear accident.

□ News about the company's annual meeting.

□ Michigan's leading economist predicts more growth and cites the need for more electrical generating capacity.

□ With the drop in oil prices, customers will save on their bills with more use of an oil-fired plant.

□ Michigan's top four legislators endorse the Midland conversion.

□ Earnings for 12 months were way down, but the company made a profit for the first 3 months, the first profit since the first quarter of 1985.

□ Economic growth statistics for Consumers Power Company's service area.

The 800 number usually carries actualities from Consumers Power Company officials. They try to bring you a new story every day and hope you'll become a regular.

the fairy godmother's secret is out!

Don't let that "magic wand" fool you! She's tried to make us believe that with a wave of that wand, she can turn pumpkins into carriages, mice into white horses and rags into white gowns. But we know she's just like the rest of us! When we want to turn a baby crib into cash... an older car into a new one... or change from sales clerk to doctor's receptionist... the only magic wand we hold in our hand is a telephone receiver and the only thing we wave is our index finger as we dial the Classified Department of our newspaper! It's like magic the way good things come true for us with the help of Want Ads. And besides, we have a strong feeling that's the way the fairy godmother makes all her magic, too!

The Great Backyard Barbecue

Summertime.
 Baseball, softball, tennis.
 Boating, fishing, swimming.
 Sunny days, starry nights.
 And picnics, especially picnics.
 Bundle up the family and head for the park. Don't forget the charcoal. Did anyone bring matches?
 "Are the hamburgers ready yet, Dad?"
 "Hey, Mom. How did those ants get in the pickle relish?"
 And then there's another type of summer picnic — the backyard barbecue. A big round of applause, please, for Weber grills.
 Don't worry about forgetting anything. The charcoal's in the garage. Matches are in the kitchen.
 You don't have to worry about the deviled eggs going bad, either. Just keep them in the refrigerator until it's time to sit down and eat.

The very best backyard barbecues, of course, are the real barbecues. Save the hamburgers and hotdogs for the trip out to Kensington. When you're picnicking at home, you can do things up right. You know, let your culinary expertise show a little.

The key to the backyard barbecue is the barbecue sauce . . . those special concoctions which have been altered and refined over the years to get just exactly the taste you want for those spareribs, chicken, steak or darn near anything else you're thinking about tossing on the grill.

With summertime in full swing, we thought we'd go out into the community to find the real backyard barbecue experts and learn their special secrets . . . their own personal recipes for barbecue sauces that add just the right zing to the evening's fare.

Frankly, response to the request for barbecue sauce recipes that appeared in Phil Jerome's column several weeks ago was less than overwhelming.

Could it be that the people in our town don't have special barbecue recipes? Did we guess wrong? Is barbecuing not as popular as we thought it was? Maybe people who barbecue don't read Jerome's column.

Or, maybe — just maybe — people who have special barbecue sauce recipes don't like to share them. Just maybe outstanding recipes for barbecue sauce are well-guarded secrets . . . like family heirlooms or priceless jewelry that are removed from their hiding places only for special occasions.

At any rate, we didn't get the big response we had hoped for, but the recipes we did get are bonafide winners. Tried and true. Guaranteed to spice up any backyard barbecue.

For starters, you might want to try Jim Riley's recipes for Texas brisket and barbecue sauce. Although Riley guarantees that you're life will be changed after trying his sauce, Barb Widrig and Andy Byerly have their own barbecue sauce recipes which they maintain are outstanding. And, for good measure, Kathy Bendernagel offers a recipe for beef marinade which she says will highlight any backyard barbecue.

Your friends and neighbors have done their job. The rest is up to you. Enjoy!

Jim Riley, a Northville High School graduate and a resident of Novi, maintains that his special recipes for Texas brisket and barbecue sauce are ideal for entertaining large groups. You've got to plan ahead, however. The beef brisket must be baked for eight hours.

Jim's Texas Brisket and barbecue sauce

"My barbecue sauce is fantastic, everyone who tries it just goes crazy!" said Jim Riley of Novi. Riley said this recipe for Texas brisket and barbecue sauce is perfect for large groups and parties.

- 1 large minced garlic clove
- 1 five lb. beef brisket
- 1 tbsp. chili powder
- 1 tsp. paprika
- 1 tsp. salt
- ½ tsp. ground cumin
- ½ tsp. crumbled dry sage
- ½ tsp. sugar
- ½ tsp. ground oregano
- ¼ tsp. ground red pepper
- ¼ tsp. ground pepper

Preheat oven to 200°. Combine ingredients and spread over both sides of brisket. Cook with thick side up, wrapped tightly in foil. Bake eight hours.

After cooling, slice meat thinly (make sure meat is cooled). When ready to use, cover with sauce and heat (covered) for one to two hours.

- ¼ stick butter
- 1 medium chopped onion
- ½ cup water
- ½ cup chili sauce
- ½ cup catsup
- ¼ cup vinegar
- 2 tbsp. Worcestershire
- 1 tsp. molasses
- 2 tsp. salt
- 2 tsp. dry mustard
- 2 tbsp. brown sugar
- ½ tsp. fresh ground pepper
- ½ tsp. paprika

Melt butter and cook onion first for about 10 minutes, then add remaining ingredients and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and cook uncovered (simmer) for about 30 minutes.

"Everyone should try this recipe. The meat just melts in your mouth and the sauce is spicy sweet," Riley said. The sauce can be used on other meats as well.

Record/ PHIL JEROME

Andy's barbecue sauce

Andy Byerly of Northville claims his recipe for barbecue sauce is the best around. Byerly developed his own special recipe when he was managing an International House of Pancakes.

"We had ketchup and I added some Worcestershire sauce to make it better. It still lacked something, so I put in some brown sugar and that made it even better."

- 2 cups ketchup
- 1 cup brown sugar
- Enough Worcestershire sauce to grow hair on a bald Texan

Put all the contents in a bowl and beat until the brown sugar has been totally blended in. When cooking chicken, add two tablespoons of reconstituted lemon juice.

Byerly says the whole process must be done "by taste." For bulk, he suggests, add spareribs. "Add good friends and the sauce becomes really special."

Record/JERRY ZOLYNSKY

Kathy's beef marinade

"The secret to good sauces is following the directions on the recipe, without substituting or skimping, you just have to know how to read accurately," says Kathy Bendernagel of Novi. She has been complimented many times on her recipes, and highly recommends her beef marinade sauce.

- ¼ cup soy sauce
- 3 tbsp. honey
- 2 tbsp. vinegar
- 1½ tsp. garlic powder
- ¼ tsp. ginger
- ¼ cup salad oil

Mix all ingredients together. Slice meat on a diagonal and put in a bowl with marinade sauce. Chill in refrigerator overnight. Cook strips for 15 to 20 minutes, marinating every seven minutes.

"The combination of soy sauce and garlic powder gives this marinade extra kick. It really has a special flavor," Bendernagel said.

"The recipe is great for entertaining guests, I've been using it for years and people just love it," she added.

Record/JERRY ZOLYNSKY

Barb's barbecue sauce

Novi's Barb Widrig says her barbeque sauce is the best and can't be beat!

"It's the best I've ever had, and everyone who tries it loves it," she reported.

- 2 tbsp. vinegar
- 1 tbsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 2 tsp. salt
- 2 tsp. brown sugar
- ¾ cup ketchup
- pinch pepper
- ½ tsp. paprika
- ½ tsp. chili powder
- ¾ cup water
- 2 onions (optional)

Mix all ingredients together and simmer over low heat for three minutes. Stir frequently to avoid burning and sticking. Cool and store in refrigerator until use.

Widrig said the sauce tastes best on spare ribs. "It's just right — not too sweet and not too spicy. I highly recommend trying it," she said.

Local couples endorse 'Elderhostel' after initial try

By JEAN DAY

Two local couples last month "went to college" in the 1986 Elderhostel program designed for persons 60 or older. The educational program for older adults who want to continue to expand their horizons and to develop new interests has grown since its inception in 1975 to include 850 colleges in this country, Canada and overseas.

For both Abe and Dora Rubenstein of Jamestown Circle and Bernard and Dorothea Bach of Woodhill Road their participation in the week-long program was a "first."

The Rubensteins chose to enroll in the program at Thiel College in Greenville, Pa. The western Pennsylvania liberal arts college is one of 20 in Pennsylvania participating in the Elderhostel program. "We lived similar to the way college students do," explains Abe Rubenstein, warning that "it's not luxury living, but the idea is excellent and we enjoyed the sociability."

The Bachs opted to attend the Elderhostel program at Frostburg State University in Frostburg, Md. Doty Bach concurs that those attending have to be able to adapt, noting that they were in a four-room suite with facilities downed the hall. She's most enthusiastic about the program offered, however, and explains that it was divided into three mini sessions daily. One focused on recreation in that Appalachian area and included information on casting and fishing that appealed to her husband. Another was on nutrition. The Rubensteins' program at Thiel focused on computer use, estate planning and health. Abe Rubenstein mentions that he would have preferred a different curriculum but did attend all three classes. They especially liked the area of Pennsylvania which "seems to exude history", he mentions.

The Elderhostel programs are open to anyone who is 60 years old or older — or whose companion on the program is that age. Rate was $205 per person per week at both colleges. It included three meals a day, accommodations and the program of classes.

There were about 30-35 fellow Elderhostel students participating with the Rubensteins at Thiel. The Bachs' week drew 40 participants from 10 different states. She mentions that it is not necessary to be a college graduate to participate in the program. Their fellow students included a doctor and his wife from Florida, a dentist, a couple of engineers, an office worker and an insurance man. She adds that it is not necessary to be a retiree to enroll.

Several catalogs of offerings are published yearly by Elderhostel and are available in libraries. The summer 1986 catalog contains 100 pages of offerings in this country and abroad, including programs in Britain, Israel, Egypt, Greece and Mexico.

Will the Rubensteins and the Bachs be scanning future issues for future participation? Both say they will.

However, Dora Rubenstein will be recuperating for a while first from open heart surgery performed a few days ago at the Cleveland Clinic.

Town hall names recipients of awards

Northville Town Hall Lecture Series Board of Awards has donated $4,500 of its 1985-86 proceeds to 26 area organizations.

Among the local organizations receiving funds from Northville Town Hall's 25th season were Northville C.A. Smith Civic Concern Committee which will use the monies to help the needy; Our Lady of Providence to send residents to camp; Northville Township Beautification Commission and the Northville City Beautification Commission to help fund their beautification efforts; Northville Historical Society to help furnish the Yerkes House; International Order of Daughters and Sons, Mizpah Circle, to aid needy residents at Christmas and Thanksgiving and Friends of the Northville Public Library to help toward the purchase of furniture for the children's area.

Major awards were given to First Step, the Western Wayne County Domestic Assault Project, to help families experiencing family violence, and Straight Inc. of Plymouth, a family treatment center which helps young people and families regain control of their lives without drugs. The board of awards also donated funds to the Palmer Drug Abuse Program in Milford.

Novi organizations receiving donations included Novi Youth Assistance which helps promote healthy family living and camp programs; Novi Emergency Food Program; Community Clothes Closet and the Friends of Novi Library to help purchase a wheelchair to be kept at the library for patrons who need it.

Several Livonia organizations also were awarded monies for their efforts. Among those were the Livonia Family YMCA for support of its 1986 Investment in Youth program; Schoolcraft College Foundation to help purchase a projector for teaching career students; Northwest Trainable Center for sponsorship of two Special Olympics camps at Central Michigan University; Livonia Civitan to help raise funds for Special Olympics, and Angela Hospice to help home care efforts for the terminally ill.

Other organizations receiving donations included the Farmington Community Center for support of its annual fund drive; the Woman's Club of Plymouth to support Wayne County Special Olympics; the Plymouth Symphony Society to support symphony programs; New Horizon of Oakland County to provide mentally impaired and handicapped people with training programs and employment; South Lyon Youth Guidance to help provide educational recreational activities for South Lyon area families to combat delinquency; Plymouth Historical Society to help purchase a shop-vac; Community Living Center of Farmington to help purchase furniture and fund minor renovations.

Kathleen Settles exchanges vows in Farmington

Kathleen Marie Settles wore a traditional, floor-length gown of tissue taffeta with Calais lace rose appliques that she had purchased while living in Strasbourg, France, as she became the bride of Richard Keith Lind.

The gown was fashioned with a jewel neckline. The lace roses were applied on the long sleeves and tiered tulle overskirts and edged the hem of her cathedral train.

Father Robert Schaden was the celebrant at the April ceremony in Mercy Center Chapel in Farmington.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Settles of Northville. The bridegroom is the son of Dorothy Lehman of Walled Lake and Richard M. Lind of Northville.

Soloist at the double ring ceremony was Mary Margaret Williams.

The bride carried her grandmother's rosary and an English cascade bouquet of white gardenias and stephanotis, pink sweetheart roses and English ivy.

Patricia Settles served as her sister's honor maid. Bridesmaids were Susan Settles, also a sister of the bride, and friends, Janet Hosking and Anne Frank.

They wore floor-length gowns of shimmering rose organza over taffeta with ruffled trains. They carried free-form spring bouquets of rubrum lilies, pink sweetheart roses, white freesia and mini pink carnations accented with baby's-breath and foliage.

Dale Fields, longtime friend of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Robert Lind of Fort Worth, Texas, brother of the bridegroom, and David and Michael Settles, brothers of the bride.

An introduction was read by Robert Lind. Readings were given by Marguerite Rees, godmother of the bride, and by Michael Settles. The ceremony was completed with the lighting of a unity candle by the couple.

A dinner reception at the Farmington Hills Holiday Inn followed the ceremony for 120 guests, including the maternal grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Louise Kopischke of Cliffside Park, N.J.

After honeymooning at Hilton Head Island, S.C., the newlyweds moved to Grand Rapids where they currently reside. The bride is a 1978 graduate of Northville High School while the bridegroom is a 1975 graduate of Walled Lake High School.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD LIND

Cruise follows May 10 ceremony

Julie Ann Robins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Robins of 16622 Winchester, and John Edward Piper were joined in marriage in a May 10 ceremony at St. Timothy Presbyterian Church in Livonia.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Justin Piper of Livonia.

The Rev. Dixon Forsyth officiated at the service.

The bride wore a Victorian-style organza gown and hat with embroidery detail enhanced with beading as she was escorted down the aisle by her father. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, lavender roses, ivy and stephanotis.

Erin McDonnell of Atlanta, Minn., college suite-mate of the bride at Michigan State University, was maid of honor in pastel pink.

Other attendants were Julie's sisters, Linda Twine of Virginia Beach, Va., and Beth Robins of Northville, and friends, Mariann Nilan Ogrodowski of Farmington and Kathy Nilan of Northville, and the bridegroom's sister, Amy Salisbury of Dayton, Ohio. They wore daphne rose gowns.

The bridegroom's brother, David Piper of Fenton, was best man. Groomsmen were John Giacomini of Florida, Glenn and Brad Cohoon of Livonia, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Andrew Salisbury of Dayton, and the bride's brother, Kenneth Robins of Plymouth.

The bride's nephew, Kenney Robins, escorted his cousin, Becky Twine, as they participated in the ceremony as junior attendants. Her gown and his tuxedo were white to mirror what the bride and bridegroom wore.

Janet Burgess, a family friend, and Marian Mansfield, both of Livonia, were soloists.

A reception for 360 guests followed at Vladimir's in Livonia. Guests attended from the Upper Peninsula, Virginia, Illinois, Ohio and Florida. Special guests were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley B. Mumford, who had just celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary and had driven from St. Petersburg, Fla., to attend the wedding.

After taking a week to settle into their new home in Plymouth, the newlyweds left on a wedding trip on the Carnival cruise ship, The Holiday. Ports of call included St. Maarten, St. Thomas and Nassau.

The bride, a graduate of Northville High School, majored in the field of business at Michigan State University. She also received a medical assistant certificate from Ross Medical School. She currently is employed at Manufacturers Bank of Novi.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Churchill High School and Ferris State College where he majored in printing management, is employed by Robins Printing Company as production coordinator.

Northville's swinging sisters

The Johnsons excel on area tennis courts

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The daughters of Paul and Judy Johnson play tennis ... and they play it well.

Area net enthusiasts have found out quickly that it's hard to keep up with the Johnsons — at least on the tennis courts.

The Johnsons' three daughters — Sarah, 19, Mya, 18, and Breita, 16, — have been among the top-ranked tennis players in their respective age groups in southeast Michigan over the last several years.

"We all play or did play in a lot of USTA (United States Tennis Association) sanctioned tournaments because that's where all the good players play tennis," Sarah explained. "We would always meet each other in tournaments, and a lot of times we'd have to play each other in the finals."

Ironically, the Johnson sisters aren't particularly well-known in their own home town, despite the fact their abilities are very familiar to knowledgeable tennis fans throughout the Midwest.

The reason for the local anonymity — all three either attend or attended tiny Novi Christian High School on Taft Road in Novi. The Class D school has no tennis program for either boys or girls, so the Johnson girls had to carve out their respective reputations by entering tournaments available to individuals. That way they could continue to improve and get some exposure.

"(Novi Christian) doesn't have much in athletic programs because it's so small," Sarah said. "So we found other ways of playing tennis competitively."

After a succession of wins and impressive play in tournaments recognized by the Southeast Michigan Tennis Association (SEM-TA), Sarah found herself ranked 16th in the 16-18 year old age group in 1983. It was the first sign that all the hard work and practice was beginning to pay off.

Paul and Judy Johnson were avid tennis players to begin with and introduced their children to the sport at early ages. When the girls seemed to pick the game up rather quickly and enjoyed it, the Johnsons continued to provide lessons and court time for the kids.

Recognition came first for Sarah, the oldest of the Johnson girls. After graduating from high school, it was her academic prowess, rather than her ability with the tennis racket, which impressed the colleges. Eventually, Sarah accepted a full academic scholarship to Northern Michigan University in Marquette.

As a college freshman, Sarah decided that she missed tennis and successfully tried out for NMU's men's varsity team. The Marquette school has no tennis program for women.

"The guys were really nice, but at first it was kind of awkward," Sarah admitted. "Well, I suppose it wasn't that bad. Things went really smooth actually, and it was fun."

For the entire 1984-85 school year, Sarah played doubles for the Wildcats and still kept her grades up. Last year a new nursing program and other time consuming projects forced Sarah to give up competitive tennis for the time being, but she vows to continue playing for the fun of it.

"I still like the game very much, and I'd like to always play for fun," she said.

Sarah's ability to juggle athletics and academics and excel in both impresses even her sister.

"Sarah is real busy with work, aerobics, piano playing, straight A student ... " Breita pointed out. "I like to brag about her."

Being the youngest of the sisters was probably an advantage for Breita. At age four, she began playing against her older sisters and has been ever since. Now, the junior-to-be at Novi Christian has the exposure to the game and the top-notch competition has certainly paid off.

"I think playing with my older sisters gave me an edge," Breita said. "Not too many kids get that kind of competition that young."

With help from her sisters, Breita has reached many heights that the other two hadn't attained at the age of 16. She is currently ranked "number two" in the SEMTA rankings and is playing in prestigious tournaments like the Western Close Championships.

"Our family has a private coach — Roger Thurman — and he works a lot with Breita," Sarah said. "She is the best player of all of us."

To make it to the Western Close, Breita played in the SEMTA Qualifier Tournament and placed in the top nine out of over 30 girls in the 16-18 age group. The Western, held in Indianapolis on June 28-29, featured 200 of the best players from five states with the top 10 advancing to the nationals.

"It is the biggest (tournament) of the year and I was just two wins away from making it to the finals," Breita reported.

Johnson won her opening round match, but fell in the second. The loss dropped her into the consolation bracket where she fought back to the top with three consecutive wins, but a late defeat eventually knocked her out of it. In last year's Western Close, Breita was ranked 31st overall. This year's rankings won't be out until October.

may have changed all that. Truthfully, any team would do — beggars can't be choosers.

The Reds may not be as strong as the Red Sox or the Mets this season, but a whole army of young high school prospects would do almost anything to play someday for the Reds or any other big league team.

Baseball talent from Novi and Northville is no different. The Tigers are usually the team of choice around here, but the Bengals collapse in '86

Record/JERRY ZOLYNSKY

"I'm hoping to move up this year," Breita said.

With the help of Thurman, Breita practices two to three hours each day, and is a member of the Farmington Racquet Club. All the hard work and talent have made Breita well-known among college coaches, and scholarship offers already are pouring in.

"I've received about six offers and a bunch more letters expressing interest," Breita said. "But I'm not worried about it yet. I'm only half way through high school — I let my mom take care of them for now.

"I am planning on going to college and playing tennis for two years, maybe four if I like it."

Mya, who just completed her first year at Oakland Community College, is also getting some valuable exposure, and college coaches are taking a good look at her as well.

After completing a perfect season at OCC, in which she went 16-0, Mya qualified for the National Junior College Tennis Championships last May in Midland, Texas. Despite a third round exit, Mya feels the experience was worth it.

"It was a lot of fun, even though it was so hot," she said. "It was really good experience for me. I'm thinking of returning to OCC, so maybe I'll be able to give it a shot again."

Mya, the number one singles player and partner on the top doubles team, has received a scholarship offer from OCC for next year, but hasn't decided if the jump to college would be wise at this time.

"Eastern Michigan is a possibility too," she reported. "I really haven't decided yet."

As with her sisters, Mya was ranked sixth in her age group by SEMTA. She plans to major in elementary education in college and teach after graduation.

Yes, it's easy to tell the Johnson sisters were cut from the same mold. In addition to tennis, all three are accomplished pianists and share the same instructor — Raymond Schuster of William Tyndale College.

"We do a lot of things together," Mya said. "We get along great. With tennis, we helped each other and had patience with each other."

Cincinnati Reds give five area baseball players a close look

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Cincinnati Reds may be wallowing near the bottom of the National League West standings this season, but a whole army of young high school prospects would do almost anything to play someday for the Reds or any other big league team.

Baseball talent from Novi and Northville is no different. The Tigers are usually the team of choice around here, but the Bengals collapse in '86

ter look at Detroit area talent. A total of 207 players showed up for the camp at Ford Field in Livonia June 26, and both Northville and Novi were represented. Through a series of throwing and running drills, the scouts narrowed the survivors down to 30 players who then competed in an intrasquad game and the right to move on for another tryout in Cincinnati with the other qualifiers from across the nation.

Keith Dutkiewicz, Tony Craig, Eric Terlecki and Scott Peterson from last spring's Northville High School team made it out to the tryout, along with Northville resident and Redford Catholic Central pitcher Doug Martin. One of the most promising hurlers at the camp was Novi's Jeff Tanderys.

"I thought it was a well organized camp," Dutkiewicz said. "But I pretty much knew what to expect because I went to a tryout for the Tigers a week earlier. They were the same type of thing, but the Tiger's one was steeper — the Reds seemed to know what they were doing."

"It was the first team camp for me, and it was more than I expected," Martin pointed out. "They really tried to work with us and they tried to help everybody, not just the top players."

First on the Reds' agenda is speed. Two timed 60-yard dashes opened the camp for all participants except pitchers, with the top performers moving on to the next stage of drills — throwing. The top 30 players left over from that split sides, the pitchers were brought in and an eight-inning intrasquad game proceeded. The scouts told the hopefuls that several standouts from the scrimmage will be invited to another camp in Cincinnati at a later date and that they will be contacted by mail.

"After it was over, they talked to us about college and some ways to prepare ourselves," Dutkiewicz said. "They aren't really looking for high school players to sign or anything."

Reds' infielder David Morelli takes a stab at a hard hit grounder in Northville H-League action

BASEBALL: Expos drop three of four, record now 8-7

G-LEAGUE: The Padres came from behind twice with two runs in the third and four more in the fifth inning to turn back the Braves 8-5 on June 27. The Padres improved their record to 12-3 behind the hitting of Andy Radzawski, Kevin Shaw, George Smolyer, Joey Staknis and Dan Fueling.

H-LEAGUE: Chuck Sweeney turned in another excellent pitching performance as the Expos trounced the Braves 12-2. Sweeney went three scoreless innings, striking out three and getting the win. The hitting and base running standouts for the winners were Erik Gustaf, Mike Kapusky and Dave Fueling who all went 3-for-3. The Astros, winning 4-0 after three innings, saw the Expos attempt a come back with two runs in the bottom of the third on four walks and a clutch hit by Andy Genitti. But Astros pitchers shut the team down the rest of the way, including a game-high 17 strikeouts, and the team pulled out a 6-2 win. The Expos record fell to 8-5. Down by five runs in the third, the Rangers battled back from a 7-2 deficit to beat the Expos 8-7 on July 1. Excellent clutch pitching by the Rangers kept the Expos in check as they failed to score a run after the second inning. The Expos fell victim to another one-run loss on July 3. This time the Expos, down by six runs after two innings, came back to tie it thanks to clutch hitting by Chuck Sweeney and John Busar, but fell 7-6 in the final inning.

SOFTBALL: Liberties win 10-4, raise record to 13-2

GIRLS INTERMEDIATE: The Liberties scored four runs in the first inning and cruised the rest of the way for a 10-4 win over the Travellers on June 30. The Liberties (13-2) scored four more in the third and outhill the Travellers 16-10. Pacing the attack was Laura Apigian (two doubles), Sue LaPrad (2-for-3), Rozann Staknis (three hits, two RBIs), Kate Holstein and Jenny Juhasz

(two hits and one run each). . . The Falcons scored runs in five of six innings including a five-run rally in the fourth to outlast the Sunbirds 11-7 on July 2. Dawn Donnelly (3-for-4 and two RBIs), Donna Donnelly (2-for-3 and four RBIs) and Jennifer Koppy (3-for-3) were the hitting stars for the Falcons. Stephanie Wood led the Sunbirds with four hits

Holzer ends slump with pair of wins

Tom Holzer Ford, Northville's collegiate baseball entry, needed a win in the worst way, and July 9 the team notched that win the right way — it earned it!

Coming off a four-game losing string which dropped the team from second to fourth place in the LCBL, Holzer recorded a much-needed 6-2 win over Walters Appliance last Thursday. The victory, combined with a rain out on Friday against West Bloomfield and a twinbill split against Walters on Sunday, puts Holzer back above the .500 mark at 11-10-1 and into fourth place.

A four-run second inning by Holzer proved to be the difference against Walters, along with a strong pitching performance turned in by Dan Kopitzke. Walters starter Doug Doyle allowed five runs in five innings, and Kopitzke was often in trouble as well. The difference was that Kopitzke managed to work out of his jams while Doyle did not.

Kopitzke struck out four and issued seven walks in six and 2/3 innings but needed last inning relief from Chirs Stout who retired the two batters he faced and gained the save.

In the second, Holzer's big rally started with a Kevin Ritter single, a Scott Peterson walk and a Jeff Bainbridge single to load the bases. Tom Cotter then drove in two with a hit and later Walters committed a two-run error.

Walters scored one in the third, but Holzer provided Kopitzke with two more insurance runs. Darrin Armstrong scored from third on a successful double steal which preceded another run thanks to a wild pitch.

"It was a big win for us, and we played excellently," co-coach Fred Schmidt said. "We were facing one of the best pitchers in the league, and we really did the job."

Last Sunday, Holzer took on Walters again in a doubleheader, won the opener 8-1 but fell in the finale 16-4. In the first game, Holzer actually was out hit 6-5, but took advantage of all situations to score three runs in the first and three more in the third.

Starter Chris Stout went the distance, received errorless play behind him, and notched the win with seven strike outs and no walks. Walters starter Tim Boyd lasted only three innings and his replacement, Greg George, allowed another two runs in the fifth inning.

Standout hitters for Holzer included Martin Eddy (2-for-3) and Scott Peterson (two RBIs).

"Stout pitched very good, our offense scored some runs and we played outstanding defense," Schmidt related. "It was probably our best defensive game of the year."

In the nightcap, Walters gained revenge by exploding for nine first inning runs off starter and loser Troy Conners. Reliever Chris Willerer didn't fare any better — he was tagged for a grand slam in the fourth — and the rout was on.

"It was strange because they had only one run in and two outs and then they scored eight runs with two outs," Schmidt explained. "It was like the ball had eyes. Walters put everything together at the plate that game."

Despite scoring single runs in the first four innings, Holzer lost the game after five innings due to the mercy rule. Holzer RBIs were by Darren Genereau, Eddy and Kevin Ritter.

Reid medalist in Masters

Northville's Meadowbrook Coutry Club hosted the 1986 Great Lakes Junior Masters Golf Tournament on July 9-11 and a local resident notched a first place finish in his age group.

Bryan Reid, 13, of Northville took medalist honors in the boys' 11-13 age group with scores of 91-88-86 for a three round total of 265. Reid's score was a full 14 strokes better than the runner-up Mike Mullen of West Bloomfield. Northville's Chris Lemmon placed fifth in the category with an 98-107-100 — 303.

The Tournament was scheduled for 54 holes, but rain on the first day of play (July 8) forced many competitors off the course in the afternoon and evening. As a result, the 16-17 and 14-15 year-old boys only played 36 holes.

A total of 288 players participated in the tournament, with the field cut to 144 after two rounds. Here are the top finishers in each category:

BOYS 16-17 — 1. John Nagel, Lansing, 76-81 — 157.

GIRLS 16-17 — 1. Mia Browning, Detroit, 82-78-84 — 244.

BOYS 14-15 — 1. David Barsantee, Saline, 78-82 — 160.

GIRLS 11-15 — 1. Renne Heiken, Metamora, Illinois, 78-82-84 — 244.

BOYS 11-13 — 1. Bryan Reid, Northville, 91-88-86 — 265.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
PROPOSED WATER MAIN IMPROVEMENTS
ADDITION TO NORTHVILLE ESTATES
WATER ASSESSMENT DISTRICT NO. 2

Notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held on Monday, July 21, 1986, at 8:00 p.m., in the Council Room of the Municipal Building, 215 W. Main Street, for the purpose of hearing comments from the property owners proposed to be assessed for water main improvements to serve certain properties in Northville Estates.

The description of the proposed addition to Northville Estates Water Assessment District No. 2 is as follows:
 Northville Estates Subdivision — Lots 34-43, 51-54, 56-60, 63-66, 69-78, 81-84, 103-108 and 126-130.

Following the public hearing, if there are some lots in favor of the improvements while other lots oppose them, the City Council will consider removing opposed lots from the service area, to the extent it is feasible from a system design standpoint.

It is recommended that One Hundred Percent (100%) of the cost of the project be assessed to the properties in the assessment district, and none of the project be assessed at large.

It is recommended that the basis of assessment be according to benefit, with the cost of the water system improvements being shared equally per lot benefited.

A complete copy of the proposed water system improvement project is on file for public inspection during regular business hours at the City Clerk's office.

The last thing you need when you're over 55, is a problem paying for your car insurance.

Age has its rewards. Sometimes. It does with Auto-Owners. They give good drivers age 55 or older a discount. So instead of raising your premiums or reducing your coverage you may pay a little less for your auto insurance.

Auto-Owners respects maturity and a good driving record.

Just ask your "no problem" Auto-Owners agent how he can save you money on your car insurance. When you hear the news, you'll be glad you've got a few years behind you.

Connie Mack team turns corner, now over .500 mark for first time

There's no doubt in Coach Bob Frellick's mind — Northville's Connie Mack entry finally has turned the corner and is starting to play the way everyone expected.

Following a slow and frustrating start, Northville put together an impressive week of play with three wins in three games and, for the first time this season, has moved above the .500 mark. A 12-2 triumph over Belleville on July 10, a key 6-5 victory over first place Waterford the next day and a forfeit win moves Northville up the standings with a 5-4-1 record.

"I don't think there is any doubt about it," Frellick said. "Both games we showed a lot of consistent play, we had good intensity and played well together as a team."

"I'd say it was the first time this season we've had good games back-to-back. We're starting to play ball."

Northville scored all 12 runs against Belleville in the first four innings and cruised to the lopsided win. Starter and winner Doug Martin went five innings and gave up just one earned run. He was relieved in the sixth by Tony Craig who wrapped up the win with six outs in a row, including three strike outs.

'Both games we showed a lot of consistent play, we had good intensity and played well together as a team. I'd say it was the first time this season we've had good games back-to-back.'

— Bob Frellick
Connie Mack Coach

Northville grabbed an early 3-0 lead in the first by taking advantage of Belleville mistakes. A walk, an error and a hit batter combined with a single by Eric Terlecki and a two-run hit by Ken Kehoe to give Northville the advantage.

In the second inning, Terlecki again led off with a hit, this time a double over the centerfielder's head. Keith Dutkiewicz then belted him in with a single to make it 4-0. A two-run homer to rightfield by Jeff Harp in the third then upped the lead to 6-0.

"It was a well played game for us," Frellick said. "We hit the ball well, but it was the fourth inning that broke it open."

In the fourth, Northville scored six times including RBI hits by Paul Newitt, Doug Ayers and Terlecki. For the game, Northville's aggressive play paid off as Frellick witnessed three stolen bases, and seven different players notched RBIs. The win over league-leading Waterford was probably a more satisfying win for both the team and the fans though.

"This was another good effort by us," Frellick said. "It was enjoyable because the competition was better than the Belleville game and it was close at the end."

For a while, it appeared that Northville, a middle of the pack team, was going to clobber the first place squad. The home team streaked to a 6-0 lead but then had to hold on at the end for a one-run decision.

"They came back on us, but we were glad to hold them off," Frellick said. "They are a good ball club."

In the first inning, Paul Newitt smacked a run-scoring double, and Jeff Bainbridge followed it up with a two-run double putting Northville up 3-0. Dutkiewicz drove in another run in the second and a two-run homer by George Daraban in the fourth put Waterford in a deep hole.

But they fought back with three runs in the fifth and two more in the sixth off Dutkiewicz, who started for Northville. Again Craig came on to hold off the charge and preserve the 6-5 win.

"This is the kind of week that we've been waiting for," Frellick said. "This can really get us going and get the momentum up."

Northville's next two home games will be this Saturday (July 19) for a doubleheader with Windsor at 1 p.m. and Sunday for a single game with Westland, also at 1 p.m. The Connie Mack team plays its home contests at the Northville High School field.

Reds give high school players a look

they just want to evaluate talent now and keep track of it for the next few years."

Dutkiewicz, Craig, Martin and Tanderys were among the 30 that made it all the way to the scrimmage game. Dutkiewicz played in the outfield; the other three pitched.

"I was very pleased to make it," Dutkiewicz admitted. "The guys who did received more instruction and more exposure."

Martin, who will be a senior at Catholic Central in the fall, heard favorable comments from scouts about his pitching and hopes this may be the first step to his dream of playing professionally.

"They said they liked my control and speed," he said. "I think they urged a lot of sophomores and juniors out to the camp so they can see the talent and possibly sign a few top prospects right out of high school. I'll tell you one thing, I'd sure rather be playing baseball in the minors than go to college and play."

For Tanderys, the Reds camp wasn't a totally new experience because it was his second time around. A year ago, Tanderys' father talked him into going, and the Novi High senior-to-be was so impressive, they invited him back this year.

"Last year I was skeptical about going, but they invited me back so they must have liked something or saw some potential," Tanderys said. "This time I wasn't as nervous as the first time because I knew what was going on."

Just a day earlier, the Los Angeles Dodgers held a similar camp in Mt. Pleasant on the Central Michigan University campus and Tanderys was invited as well. At both he was ranked near the top after the radar guns made an appearance and began clocking fastballs.

"I think my fastest clocking with the Reds was 87 (mph), which was the fastest of all the pitchers, but my control was off a bit," Tanderys said.

At the Reds camp, each pitcher was given a number. At strategic times, the number was called and the player was allowed to warm up and then was brought into different pitching situations. The drill was designed to see how each pitcher handled himself.

"They put you in with runners on and looked to see how long it took you to get three or six outs — depending on how long they wanted you to pitch," Tanderys explained. "Then they got out the radar gun..."

Tanderys, rated as one of the top hurlers in the state next season, was one of the final eight pitchers chosen to pitch an inning apiece in the scrimmage along with Craig and Martin. Tanderys walked the first batter, gave up a hit and then settled down to retire the side.

These major league camps for high schoolers very rarely wind up leading to a pro contract, but coaches like Northville's Bob Frellick believe they are beneficial to the players.

"Anytime these kids can get exposure that they normally wouldn't get, it is good," he said. "It sure can't hurt them. Just the experience of going through it will probably make them better players."

RECREATION BRIEFS

SMIMMING TRYOUTS: Northville High School women's swim Coach Bill Dicks invites all high school swimmers to try out for the Mustang team on Aug. 11 at 2 p.m. at the high school pool. All swimmers must have physical cards completely filled out.

SOFTBALL TOURNAMENT: Times Chemical presents the ninth annual men's softball tournament July 26-27 at Lucy Road Park in Howell. Entry fee per team is $100 before July 18, and $110 after, plus two ASA sanctioned softballs. Trophies will be awarded to the first and second place sponsors with the winning team receiving 15 T-shirts and individual trophies.

SOCCER REGISTRATIONS: The Northville Soccer Association is still accepting registrations for the fall 1986 soccer season. All boys and girls born in 1980 or before are invited. The season runs from September through October. Registration is held at the Rec Center Monday through Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m.

NORTHVILLE RIDE: The Wolverine Sports Club is sponsoring a 25 mile bicycle ride through Northville every Wednesday evening this summer and fall. The ride leaves promptly at 6 p.m. from the Northville Municipal Parking Lot located at Center just south of Main. The 25-mile ride is at a 16-mile per hour pace. Riders should be capable of making their own repairs. Call 348-9693 for more information.

TENNIS TOURNEYS: The Rec Center is sponsoring the Northville Junior Tennis Classic and the Adult Doubles Tournament this summer. Entry forms currently are available. The Junior Classic will be held July 25-27 in four age groups (12-under, 14-under, 16-under and 18-under). Fee is $8. The Doubles Tournament is slated for Aug. 15-17 for men's, women's and mixed doubles. Fee is $10.

FITNESS MEET: Over 1,200 boys and girls, ages nine through 14, are expected to compete in the finals of the Detroit Metropolitan Youth Fitness Meet at Kensington Metropark July 24, with activities beginning at 9 a.m.

Community recreation departments from 45 districts will be represented in the finals, including Novi and Northville. This is the 29th year the event has been held, and it is being sponsored by Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Michigan. Jon Kipke, assistant manager of the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission, is chairman of the event. Dan Davis, Novi Parks and Recreation Department's program coordinator, is this year's secretary-treasurer. Other contributors include site chairman Brian Kelly, parks operations supervisor at Kensington, and chairman-elect Jack Bellomo, Warren's Director of Parks and Recreation.

For more information, contact Jon Kipke at 858-0919.

MAYO SMITH SOCIETY: The Northville-based Mayo Smith Society will hold its third annual luncheon to honor Tiger baseball — past, present and future, at Carl's Chop House in Detroit on July 26, from 1 to 4 p.m.

The featured speakers at this year's luncheon are Hall of Famer George Kell and the big lefthander of the early '60s, Hank Aguirre.

Past luncheons have included Bill Freehan, Gates Brown, Mark Fidrych and Jim Campbell.

The Mayo Smith Society was founded by Dale Petroskey, Dennis Petroskey and Bill Mackay in Washington in April, 1983, as little more than a Friday morning breakfast club for displaced Tigers fans in the nation's capital; the group has blossomed into a nationwide organization of more than 1,600 members. Some of these first members will be at the luncheon.

For $10 per year, society members receive a monthly newsletter filled with information not found anywhere else, called "Tiger Stripes," telling of the many events the club sponsors.

MERCY CENTER: The Mercy Center on Eleven Mile Road in Farmington Hills has announced its summer schedule of programs including swimming, fitness, summer day camp and summer overnights outings. The summer session extends from July 21 through Aug. 14. For more information call 476-8010.

Syrup of Ipecac

It is a safe and effective aid for the removal of many poisonous materials from the stomach through its emetic (vomit inducing) action. We know this non-prescription medicine as syrup of ipecac, a widely used product made from a powder containing two naturally occurring substances which are responsible for the emetic effect.

When used in recommended doses, syrup of ipecac causes vomiting to occur over 90 percent of the time. According to studies, about half those who use ipecac syrup can expect to vomit in less than 20 minutes, while others may wait 30 minutes for vomiting to occur. Some references suggest that a second dose be administered in 20 to 30 minutes if the person has not vomited following the first dose.

Because ipecac does not work well on an empty stomach, it is recommended that three to four glasses of water be given after the ipecac if the poison victim has not had food or drink for several hours. Syrup of ipecac should not be given to persons who are unconscious or to individuals experiencing seizures. In addition, if the suspected poisonous material is a corrosive substance (eg, an acid or lye) or a petroleum product (eg, gasoline), ipecac should not be used.
