Museum will open with a bang

J. Hirsch blacksmith shop, at right, modeled after early photographs, such as the one above, will be open for the first time as a museum Saturday in Mill Race Historical Village. A display of materials of early Northville businesses will be featured. The building also will used as a smithy shop as it was in the past when horseshoeing and carriage painting as well as general jobbing were the proprietor's livelihood.

The J. Hirsch Blacksmith Shop-Museum will be open for the first time for visitors to Mill Race Historical Village during Fourth of July festivities.

The village, located on Griswold north of Main Street, also will be the scene of a craft fair. A Mountain Men encampment will be located near the mill race by the Yerkes House.

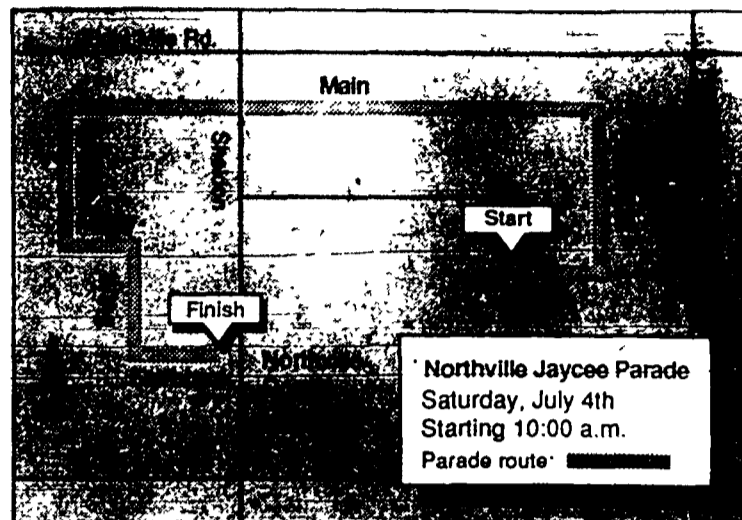

An antique engine demonstration also is planned as well as performances by the Novi Choralliers in the gazebo.

Pony rides will be an attraction for youngsters, and all buildings will be open with docents on duty. These include the Hunter House, home of an early miller; Yerkes House, home of an attorney who was the first mayor of the Village of Northville; Wash-Oak Schoolhouse, New School Church and the Weavers' Cottage, home of the Mill Race Weavers' Guild.

Activities will run from 11 a.m., following the Jaycees' parade, until 5 p.m. The Northville Jaycees will be serving chicken barbecue all afternoon at a tent on the south side of the village.

Sally Henrikson, village office manager, notes that visitors will see an exhibit of early Northville businesses in the Hirsch museum which historical society members have been assembling for the opening.

Included will be items from the Parmenter Cider Mill as well as an early sign of the Ely Ice and Fuel Company.

Jaycees plan a full Fourth

Music in the band shell in the Town Square Park and a bed race along Main Street will open Fourth of July events at 9 a.m. Saturday. Festivities will continue with a parade, a barbecue and other events in Mill Race Historical Village and end with a bang with fireworks at dusk.

The Plymouth Fire and Drum Corps will present the informal pre-parade concert and also will march in the parade which begins at 10 a.m. from Griswold Street at Northville Downs.

Bob Cummings, parade chairman for the Northville Jaycees, reports that it is one of four bands which will be playing in this year's parade.

He anticipates it will take the parade of dignitaries, floats, scouts, clowns and bicyclists an hour to an hour and a half to cover the route with a stop on Main Street in front of city hall at the judges' reviewing stand. This year's route on Main to Rogers and Cady to Wing and back to the Downs is the one traditionally followed.

The bed race, sponsored by the Northville Recreation Department, will be run from Hutton along Main to Wing.

As has become a tradition also, the

The Union Chapter No. 55, Royal Arch Masons, will serve an "all you can eat" breakfast of pancakes, scrambled eggs, hash brown potatoes, ham, orange juice and coffee.

The checks are really in the mail

Homeowners in the Lexington developments off Taft Road on the city's northwest side may soon be getting a check in the mail, even though they may not have known it was coming.

The residents probably won't be rushing to quit their jobs, though, because the size of the checks is expected to be around $30 or $40.

The checks, which were authorized by the City Council Monday night, are those homeowners' shares of a refund for past assessments for street improvements. The city promised to begin a refunding program last year when voters approved a new millage for street repair.

The Thompson-Brown company owned land off Taft Road which fell under the refund program, but which has since become the Lexington Commons North, Lexington Condominium Homes and North Lexington Condominium developments.

City Manager Steven Walters explained to the council that Thompson-Brown paid $69,217 in assessments for the land, and would be eligible for a refund of $13,844. But that land is now owned by 350 homeowners, plus a commons parcel owned by a subdivision association, and refunds have gone to the current owners of record.

After considering giving the refund to the associations, the council voted unanimously to issue 351 checks for the various property owners, with the size of the commons area refund to be determined by its size.

"It's really the same as we've done in every other case," Walters said.

Hair salon owner aims to rub people right way

By BOB NEEDHAM

The owner of Second Streets Hair Cutting and Tanning Salon hopes that the people in the area understand the intentions behind his aim to add massage therapy to the services at his shop.

Gene Overstreet doesn't want to "rock the boat" in the community, he said recently. He only hopes to help his business by providing a useful and legitimate service which may be difficult to find in the area, he explained.

He also hopes the townspeople will not object to the new service, because he said the business will not be anything to which anyone would object.

"The city's been real good to me," Overstreet said. "We're just trying to work with the city now and get it tactfully done."

Overstreet is currently trying to become the first business in Northville to offer massage therapy, an addition which requires licensing through the city's newly revised "massage parlor ordinance." That makes things a little bit difficult, Overstreet explained, because he does not see his business as a "massage parlor."

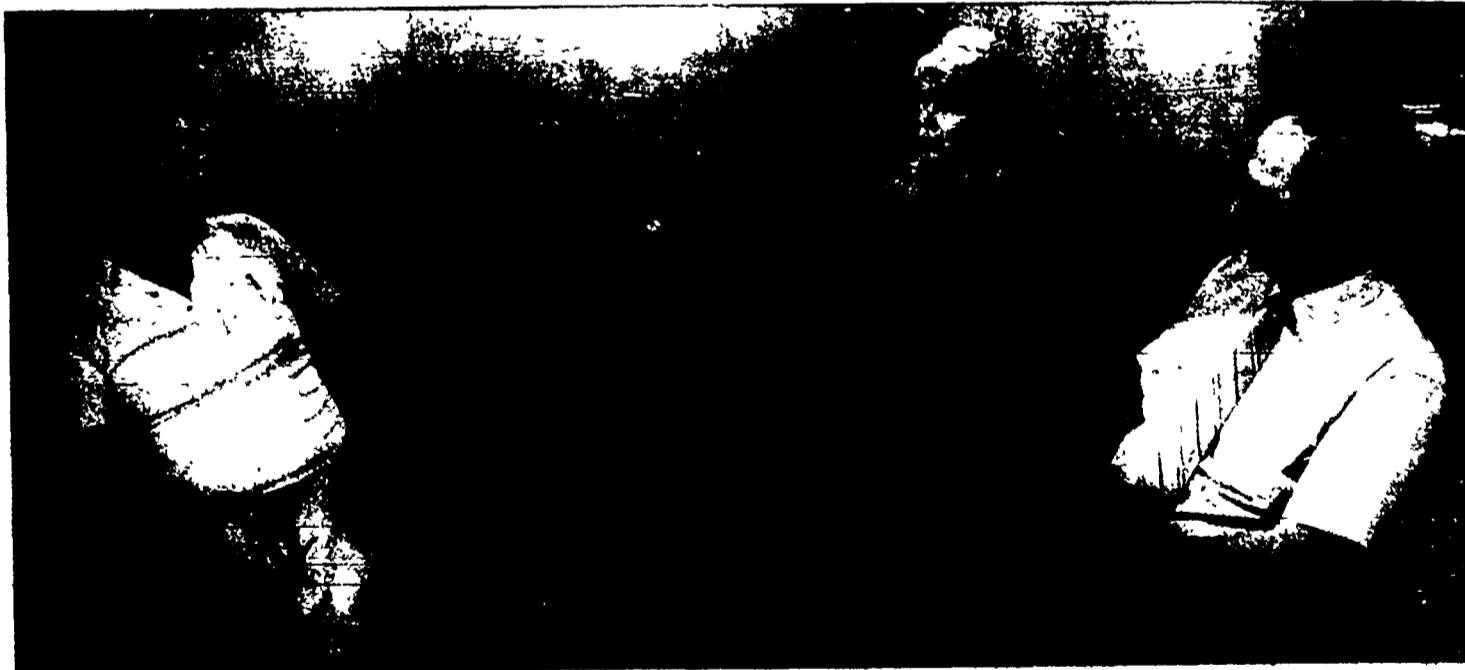

"We're a hair cutting shop," he said, which hopes to add massage therapy as one of its services. Overstreet also owns a beauty salon in Livonia.

The term "massage parlor" unfortunately carries overtones of illicit activity, Overstreet added. He stressed that if the plans move ahead, only legitimate massage therapy will be present at Second Streets.

"I want this to be a family type business," he emphasized. "There is a strange air about (massage therapy) and it's too bad."

Second Streets, on East Main Street at the edge of the city's central business district, is a converted historic home. Overstreet said he has worked hard to maintain the integrity of the building, by bringing in antique pieces of furniture, keeping the original floor in the entryway, and — most recently — adding a stained

Planning trio recalls city's growth pains

By BOB NEEDHAM

If there is such a thing as ringaldis seats for watching Northville change and mature, it may well be the nine chairs behind the table at the city's planning commission sessions.

Within the past few months three longtime commission members have resigned, all citing a lack of time to fully meet the responsibilities of their seats. The three — Lesa Buckland, Luke Durst and Charles Freydl — all said recently that they would certainly serve on the commission again, and all expressed positive feelings about the city's recent progress and future prospects.

Buckland, Durst and Freydl brought a variety of backgrounds and perspectives to the commission. Freydl — a Northville native and downtown business owner — served the longest time of the three, beginning in 1966.

"You cannot avoid construction if it's done in the proper legal channels. You cannot deny construction just because you aren't pleased with it."

— Lesa Buckland
Former planning commissioner

In 1966

Buckland — the only woman ever to serve on the board — moved to the city in 1968 from Wisconsin and joined the commission in 1974. Durst moved to Northville in 1965 and was appointed to the city's Board of Zoning Appeals in 1970, in 1977 becoming the BZA/Planning Commission liaison

Buckland emphasized the importance of variety on the commission. "I do think that it's necessary to have a balance of members, as far as their backgrounds (and) their careers," she said. "I think it's important to have a combination of people that work in town versus people that are consumers in town."

ple that work in town versus people that are consumers in town."

The commission is the City Council's recommending body for zoning and site planning matters, which gives its members an early look at many new development projects. In a recent interview, the three outgoing commissioners agreed that the city has been able to revitalize its central business district while maintaining and even improving its residential character.

"There were never many empty storefronts, but the store fronts weren't anywhere near as attractive as they are today," Buckland said of the days before the redevelopment of the downtown.

Freydl recalled, "The whole concept (of revitalizing the CBD) started a mail concept. That was the in

More AIDS research needed

Noting that his department oversees the fourth largest budget in the world, Secretary of Health and Human Services Otis R. Bowen, M.D., told about 120 health care providers Monday that much of that money will be spent on AIDS research in the coming years.

Bowen, the guest of U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, told reception guests at the Novi Hilton only the United States, Russia and Japan have more dollars than the $360 billion allocated to health and human services.

"I have control over just 4 percent of that money, but right now AIDS research is consuming a great deal of it," Bowen said.

Pursell, who with Bowen toured University Medical Center in Ann Arbor and met with nurses from the U.M. earlier in the day, suggested that health care will be one of the top issues of the 1988 presidential campaign.

"Health care providers are in the front of the pack regarding care for AIDS patients, but are facing some serious ethical questions regarding the disease," Bowen said, citing a recent New York study that showed half of the respondents felt it should be left up to the individual provider whether to care for an AIDS patient and 25 percent felt it would be ethical not to treat an AIDS patient.

"You need to make your feelings known to your representatives in Congress and to your local professional organizations," Bowen told the group, which included nursing home operators, nurses, physicians and representatives from the Michigan Department of Social Services.

Bowen said he supports the president's call for mandatory AIDS testing of specific groups, but noted he also supports voluntary testing of high-risk groups, including homosexuals and intravenous drug users.

"As leaders, we have an obligation to reach these high-risk groups and to encourage them to be tested voluntarily," Bowen said.

"We also have an obligation to approach with care and compassion the people suffering from AIDS. We can help stem the AIDS epidemic only if the at-risk people come forward to be tested and we can marshal our forces."

Admitting that there is a definite shortage of nurses, partially because of low salaries, Bowen said it is important to provide educational opportunities for nurses, not only for RNs, but for licensed practical nurses as well.

"Carl Pursell has been instrumental in establishing a health resource program at the National Institute of Health, designed especially for nurses. But more needs to be done," Bowen said.

Rotarians grapple with sex issue

By ANITA CRONE

Although the Northville Rotary Club is still some weeks away from admitting its first member, the fallout from the possibility of a female Rotarian is shaking the venerable service organization.

Two members have already resigned from the organization, and others are considering a similar move. For the most part, however, local Rotarians seem unfazed by the possibility of admitting women to the formerly all-male bastion.

Don Severance, bulletin editor of the organization and sponsor of Sherry Klisz for membership, said he expects Klisz to be accepted once the bylaws of the local club are amended to allow women to join.

The national club, under a U.S. Supreme Court decision, was prohibited from discriminating against women. However, the local club will not admit women until the bylaws are amended to provide for women members, Severance said.

Klisz said she still is very much interested in pursuing membership in the local organization.

"I understand you are supposed to attend with your sponsor and first I got sick and then Don got sick, so we really haven't had the chance to pursue the matter," she said.

Herman Moehlman, a tax attorney and long-time Rotary member, said he personally favored admitting women into the local club.

"It's kind of interesting as we approach the 21st Century, that Rotary is coming into the 20th," Moehlman said.

"Since 50 percent of the business and industry people in the community are women, it can only strengthen the club to bring women members in," he said.

Not all Rotarians favor the admission of women. Jim and A.M. "Mike" Allen both have announced plans to resign, although Jim Allen said admitting females was not his primary reason for resigning.

"It seems that Rotary is just not as active as it once was," Allen said. He cited particularly the cancellation of the annual Rotary Run.

Philip Ogilvie, another long-term member, says he sees nothing but good things coming from admitting women.

TESTING THE WATERS — Adam Fisher, a Meads Mill student, scored higher than 1100 on the Scholastic Aptitude Test. Fisher's score was higher than 90 percent of the college-bound high school seniors who take the examination.

Michael Ho and Michael Haydon, who also took the test, compiled a score higher than 630 on the math portion of the examination, which is higher than 90 percent of college-bound high school seniors score on the test.

HAPPY 50TH — Northville City Fire Chief Jim Allen said he wanted something done with the tree stump in his front yard, but even Allen was surprised by what firefighter Bob Turner did with it.

In honor of Allen's 50th birthday May 25, Turner carved the stump into a big 50. No word yet on what Turner will do next year, or what revenge Allen has cooked up.

HE'S PRESIDENT — Northville resident Louis A. Reibling, Schoolcraft College Dean of Instruction, has been elected president of the Michigan Occupational Deans Administrative Council.

NOMINATIONS NEEDED — With terms of four members of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce board of directors due to expire — Betty Allen, Jean Day, Paul Folino and Dewey Gardner — nominations are being sought for the election at the annual meeting in October.

Nominations may be made with Jackie Harris, Scott Lapham or James Davis.

MORE CARE — State troopers will be out in force this holiday weekend to help prevent highway traffic accidents. Col. Rich Davis, State Police director, said officers will be paying special attention to drunk drivers, improper lane use, speeding, following too closely, failure to use signals and safety belt violations. The holiday runs from 6 p.m. today to 11:59 p.m. July 5.

DONATING — Northville Historical Society is continuing to receive donations for the move of the Cady House to the Mill Race Village. Henrikson Agency has donated $1,000, Base Line Quarters $500 and Northville Town Hall $300. To date $2,300 of the needed $4,000 due the city for the move has been raised.

REPRESENTATIVE GOVERNMENT — At Monday's City Council meeting, the elected officials made a special point of listening to the opinions of all the residents in attendance before deciding which of two designs would be used to rebuild the homeowners' streets. About 20 people registered an opinion, but only one resident spoke up about the section of Carpenter Avenue between Baseline and Eight Mile up for consideration.

"We have a majority in favor of design number one," Mayor Paul Vernon announced. "Democracy in action."

Help offered for tornado victims

For the victims of last week's tornado, the nightmare of wind has turned into an increasingly difficult search for help in putting lives and homes back in order. Many service and community groups are offering aid to the victims.

Special funds and benefits are being organized for those wishing to help with the mounting expenses faced by the residents of the Chateau Estates Mobile Home Park.

SECURITY BANK AND TRUST FUNDS: Don Grevingood, vice president of business relations for the bank, has set up two funds for collecting money for the victims of the disaster. One fund will benefit the Muscatello family.

Michael Muscatello, 24, was killed in the tornado and his wife Vanda, 27, and 19-month old son were critically injured. The fund currently has $5,257 in it. The Muscatellos had no insurance.

The second fund is a tornado relief fund designed to aid all victims of the disaster. There currently is $1,822 in that fund.

BENEFIT DINNER: Three of metro-Detroit's most well-respected chefs will pool their talents for a benefit dinner to aid victims of the tornado. The dinner will be held Sunday, July 19, at Chez Raphael in Novi from 5-9 p.m.

Chef Keith Famie of Chez Raphael, Chef Joseph Yezbick of the Sheraton Oaks restaurant and Chef Ed Janos of the Money Tree will donate all proceeds from the $50-a-plate dinner to help the victims. The donation includes dinner, wine, champagne, hors d'oeuvres and entertainment. For more information or reservations contact Julie Traub of Victor-Forbes Ltd., public relations, at 542-0095.

THE SALVATION ARMY: The group has vouchers for food and clothing from its stores. In addition, they would like storm victims to contact them about any immediate needs they face, such as minor furnishings, supplies and food. Contact the Army at 477-1153 or the office located at the corner of Shiawassee and Inkster in Farmington Hills.

THE RED CROSS: Although the group is closing its emergency location at Walled Lake Junior High School, the Red Cross is available to aid storm victims with vouchers for food, shelter and household supplies.

The service organization has begun an outreach program to reach victims no longer in the Novi area who are staying with relatives to alert them to the services available to them. Anyone needing assistance should call the Red Cross at 624-6904.

OAKLAND COUNTY COMMUNITY MENTAL HEALTH SERVICES: For victims feeling the stress of the disaster or suffering from any after effects, the Mental Health Services Department is offering counseling through Dr. Aubrey Crawford. Contact the office at 855-0233.

Secret Service investigates origin of money to burn

A Secret Service investigation is continuing into the reported counterfeiting of U.S. currency in the Northville area, although Special Agent in Charge James G. Huse, Jr. said Tuesday the investigation did not involve any current employee of a township print shop.

The Secret Service executed a search warrant after township police officers discovered burning counterfeit $20 bills and printing plates behind the store.

Huse said there is no evidence that any of the phony money was actually circulated.

A LITTLE HELP: A West Bloomfield man helped contribute to his own ticket for possession of marijuana, June 25.

Officer Jeff Larente, while on routine patrol, pulled into the Gas-N-Go station on Six Mile and Haggerty and was informed that a man had been smoking marijuana.

Larente followed the vehicle which a gas station patron identified, and completed a traffic stop on the car near Schoolcraft College.

Larente said he asked the driver whether he had been smoking marijuana and the suspect confirmed he had been, showing Larente a suspected marijuana cigarette in an ash tray and handing the township of ficer a bag containing suspected marijuana. The evidence has been turned over to the State Police Crime

Lab for analysis and the helpful man was given a July 30 date in 35th District Court to answer charges of marijuana possession.

BIKE THEFTS Bicycle owners in the City of Northville suffered a net loss of one last week as one bike was reported found, but two others were reported stolen.

A Lexington Boulevard resident told police he found a 26-inch girl's 10-speed bike in the bushes behind his house. The bike was described as gray and black with red hand grips and a black seat, and in poor condition.

A $300 silver BMX Redline was stolen from the side of a house on Randolph Street early Wednesday afternoon, according to a police report. Sometime Thursday night or early Friday morning, a silver Murray 12-speed worth $150 was stolen from an unlocked garage on West Main, police said.

LICENSE PLATES STOLEN: Two license plates were reported stolen in Northville last week, city police said.

Some time early in the week, a plate was taken from a car in the Allen Terrace parking lot, according to a police report. The plate was a Michigan license expiring in 1987, number 274 JYH.

Late Friday or Saturday, police said, a Michigan plate was stolen from a car on Beal Avenue. It expires in 1988 and bears the number 987 UDL.

CAR WINDOWS SMASHED: Three incidents of broken car windows were reported within about 48 hours last week, according to city police reports.

Wednesday night or Thursday morning, a rear window was smashed and the trunk dented on a 1981 Chevrolet Caprice Classic on Novi Street, police said. Damage was estimated at $300. The police report said a rock had apparently been used.

At 110 Thursday morning, the windshield and driver's windows were broken on a 1986 Cadillac parked on Lake Street, according to a report. Total damage was $331.

Late Thursday or early Friday, police said, a rock was thrown through the passenger's window of a 1985 Nissan on Fairbrook, causing $150 damage.

EXTORTION: An investigation is continuing into a possible extortion incident involving two juveniles.

Northville Township police report that a juvenile offered to get another youngster's skateboard back for $50. The mother of the victim called police, who have talked to the parents of the would-be perpetrator. The investigation into the incident is continuing.

TRACKING TIRES A township resident reported finding two sets of tire prints on her front lawn, June 23. Michael Wildt, the investigating officer, estimated one set of tracks as about 45 feet and the other at about 18 feet.

CAR STOLEN Police are investigating the theft of a 1986 Pontiac Grand Am from a parking lot on Hayes Court. The owner of the car, an East Side resident, told officers he had parked the car in the parking lot about 7:30 p.m. June 25, and when he wanted to leave the next day at 3 p.m. the car was gone.

Township officers found no broken glass or evidence of the car when they were called to the scene June 26.

TICKETS TO RIDE: An accident involving a downriver man and a Northville man June 26 has resulted in tickets being issued to both drivers.

According to a township police report, an Allen Park man failed to yield when he suddenly pulled out on Eight Mile Road near Wintergreen and his car was struck by the Northville man.

Investigating officers noticed the odor of intoxicants coming from the car of the Northville man, administered a PBT, and charged the township resident with operating a vehicle under the influence of liquor.

STEPPING UP Township officers are investigating the disappearance of two stepladders from a garage. The ladders, one of metal and the other constructed of wood, are worth $75.

CLEARING THE DISHES A township resident told police that she returned to her home June 26 after a week's absence to discover that her dining room had been cleaned out — literally.

The woman, who lives on Lagoon Court, told officers that a table, six chairs, a cabinet and her china were gone.

Investigating officers could discover no trace of a break-in, or any trace of the missing items. The woman told police until June 18 the home had been unoccupied for two years.

RING STOLEN A nurse's aide and the woman she was tending told township police they noticed a man running from the woman's Stoneleigh residence, and, when they returned to the house, noticed a diamond ring missing from a jewelry box.

Officers discovered that a year-old window screen had been cut and broken glass from a window was lying on the ground. There are no suspects.

Maybury State Park located on Eight Mile west of Beck in Northville Township proves to be just a bike ride away for cyclists relaxing under the trees. Park officials expect a large number of visitors during the holiday weekend and note that the picnic shelters are ready for use. The park is a popular spot for picnics and has trails for bike and horseback riding. It is open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily. Families also may visit the Maybury farm on Eight Mile from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

fee: tea or milk for $3.25 per adult and $1.50 for children 12 and younger.

This year Cummings reports parade watchers will be able to identify floats and marchers in the Jaycee-sponsored parade by programs which will be available in downtown stores before the holiday.

Christopher Johnson, member of the board of education and the Northville Jaycees, Young Man of the Year who also was one of the state honorees, will be parade grand marshal. Cummings noted that Johnson's name has been entered for national Jaycees honors also.

Youngsters with decorated bicycles will ride throughout the parade. Participants are to meet at the Downs at 9 a.m. for judging.

Leading off the parade will be an escort by the Northville Township police and fire departments, followed by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4012 honor guard and Grand Marshal Chris Johnson.

Northville Jaycees first woman president Teresa Folino will follow. Cummings says national state and local officials will be in the front of the procession. They include U.S. Congressman Carl Pursell, State Sen. R. Robert Geake, State Rep. Gerald Law, 35th District judges James Garber and John MacDonald, Wayne County Commissioner Susan Heintz, Mayor Paul Vernon, city council members Paul Folino and Dewey Gardner, Northville Township Supervisor Georgina Goss, township clerk Tom Cook, township treasurer Richard Henningsen, trustees Tom Nowka, Don Williams, Richard Allen and Tom Handyside.

Also participating will be Wayne County sheriff Robert Ficano and the Wayne County Mounted Patrol.

Floats of businesses and organizations will follow in Division 1. They include A&W Restaurant of 12 Oaks, Ford Retractable Club, Northville Junior Baseball Club, Northville/Novi Colts, Plymouth YMCA, Northville Community Chamber of Commerce, Plymouth Elks No. 1780, Cloverdale of Northville, Cub Scout pack 712 and Creation Science of South East Michigan.

Others in this division include Plymouth/Salem Rockettes, Plymouth Fire and Drum Corps, Four Seasons 4H Club, Paul LaFon, Plymouth/Canton Chieftettes and the Northwest Militia.

Participating in Division 2 will be Skatin Station, Michigan Scottish Pipe and Drum Corps, Clowns of America, Northville High School Pom Poms, Northville Community Education Department Farmington Elks, Motorized Drill Team and Silver Springs Girl Scout Troop.

From about 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. the Jaycees will serve chicken barbecue at Mill Race Historical Village where Northville Historical Society will have buildings open with docents on duty.

Fireworks will be set off from the high school football field about 10 p.m. The Northville Board of Education again has given permission for the Jaycees to seek donations from those who park in the high school, Amerman and Cooke school parking lots to view the fireworks from those vantage points.

The Jaycees note that because of contributions from both the city and township for insurance they are able to continue ending the holiday with spectacular displays.

Parade dignitaries need convertibles

Northville Jaycees are seeking convertibles to carry dignitaries in the Fourth of July parade at 10 a.m. Saturday. Parade chairman Bob Cummings said cars still are needed and that owners willing to lend their convertibles would be welcome to drive them in the parade.

He said he had been told by one source that dealers are wary about lending such vehicles since the problems of odometer readings at Chrysler had been publicized.

Anyone willing to loan a convertible is asked to call Cummings at 349-4528.

Holiday fun will include area events

Throughout the entire area, holiday activities abound this weekend.

If the Fourth of July holiday is warm and sunny, Metroparks in the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority may have crowds of 25,000 or more each day of the weekend, park officials are predicting.

Kensington Metropark near Milford is the closest park to the Northville area and will feature swimming and boating. Dance programs will be presented at Willow Metropark near New Boston, at Metro Beach near Mt. Clemens and at Lake Erie in Brownstown Township on the Fourth. Willow Metropark also will have fireworks July 4. For information about any park activity, call 1-800-24-PARKS (toll-free).

At Greenfield Village in Dearborn a program of patriotic music under the clock tower of the Sir John Bennett Museum Store will highlight Fourth of July activities in the village.

The 50-piece Illinois All-Star Marching Band and a Detroit-area vocal quartet will be performing local favorites.

Visitors also may enjoy "The Constitution in a Changing America," a three-part program which looks at that document's ability to adapt to change in American society. At the Village Town Hall, players in the guise of historic people will speak on constitutional issues. Regular village admission is charged.

At the Washtenaw Farm Council Grounds in Saline a two-day Saline Antique Show will be held July 4-5. Six hundred dealers are expected. Saturday hours are 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.; Sunday hours are 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. The council grounds are located at 6555 Ann Arbor-Saline Road.

Other special programs at Kensington during Huron River Awareness Week of July 6-12 include a Sunset Cruise tour of Kent Lake aboard the Island Queen excursion boat accompanied by a naturalist at 7:30 p.m. July 8. There is a charge of $1.50 a person.

"A River for All Times," a slide presentation, will be given at the Nature Center at Kensington at 7 p.m. July 9.

TIPS FROM TUCKKLAPER

Novi Dental Center

A. Allen Tuckklaper D.D.S.

FLUORIDE'S FIRST BIG TEST

In 1945 New York's State health department conducted one of the first and most rigorously controlled research projects in medical history. Teams of dentists examined the teeth of thousands of school children in the Hudson River cities of Newburgh and Kingston which both had fluoride-free water. In both towns they found the same high incidence of tooth decay. Then on May 2, 1945 a small feeder machine was turned on in Newburgh's filtration plant, from that moment on, Newburgh's water contained 1.2 parts of fluoride per million.

Over the next ten years, doctors and dentists repeatedly checked the children medically and dentally. When the decade ended they had found only one difference. In Newburgh children between six and ten who had been drinking fluoridated water all their lives had 60% fewer decayed, missing or filled teeth than youngsters from the same age group in Kingston.

Today fluoridation is accepted and endorsed as a major public health measure in preventing tooth decay by virtually every scientific and health organization in the country.

CITY OF NOVI

ADVERTISEMENT FOR A PUBLIC HEARING AND AVAILABILITY OF THE ENVIRONMENTAL ASSESSMENT

The City of Novi is calling a Public Hearing at 3:00 PM, EDT, on Tuesday, August 4, 1987, at the Novi Public Library, 45245 West Ten Mile Road, Novi, Michigan.

The purpose of this Public Hearing is to provide the opportunity for a public discussion of the alternative treatments under consideration for the proposed improvements of 13 Mile Road between Meadowbrook Road and Haggerty Road. The proposed project is to reconstruct the existing narrow gravel roadway to provide a continuous two lane pavement constructed of hard surface, wider lane width, adequate shoulders, better drainage, improved vertical alignment, construction of an eight foot wide non-motorized vehicle safety path, and to realign and enlarge the intersection at Thirteen Mile and Haggerty Road. Additional right of way and grading easements will be acquired to construct the project. The safety path on the south side of the road is proposed in conjunction with the Parks and Recreation Master Plan.

As required by Federal Regulations, an Environmental Assessment (EA) has been prepared evaluating the social, economic and environmental aspects of the project. The Environmental Assessment demonstrates that implementation of the proposed action will not have a significant impact on the quality of the human environment. Copies of the Environmental Assessment are available for public inspection or may be obtained at the office of the City Clerk, 45225 West Ten Mile Road, Novi, Michigan.

This public hearing is called in accordance with the most current Federal, State, and Local Public Involvement/Public Hearing Procedures. A tentative schedule for the reconstruction of this project and information concerning the right of way acquisition and the relocation assistance program will be provided at the Public Hearing. This Public Hearing is held to hear testimony of interested citizens regarding the economic, social and environmental impacts of the proposed alternatives in place of, or in addition to, oral statements at the Public Hearing as well as requests for copies of the Environmental Assessment and/or the responses to the testimony received may be submitted to Geraldine Stipp, City Clerk, 45225 West Ten Mile Road, Novi, Michigan, 48050, at any time up to ten days after the Public Hearing.

concept. What it would entail was a time road a circle drive all around the central business district with the focus off the mall.

Of course that kind of went by the wayside. There were a lot of concerns with the pros. (like) the amount of land taken up by the circle drive. He continued "This all goes back to what we have today. Thanks to the Downtown Development Authority and the city mayor and city council at the time."

Durst said the city tried to avoid mistakes of other communities such as a complete demolition and rebuilding of the downtown area.

At about the same time time Freydl said the historic district commission became active. And eventually all the city's planning and redevelopment efforts crystallized into the current state of downtown.

Freydl mentioned that the success was due largely to people like George Zerbel, Warren Stoddard, Bill Sliger and Mike Allen. "A group of people who really cared about the town and really cared about a viable downtown district which you have to have for a successful community," Freydl said.

The outgoing commissioners said that sometimes serving on the planning commission presented unique challenges. "As you make your decisions, you have a difficult time trying to make a decision that doesn't hurt the applicant, but is good for the city," Durst said. "That becomes quite a problem."

Buckland added "I think one of the hardest things to deal with as an individual serving on a commission is the criticism that is wielded at you by your friends when they know you're on the commission and they don't like what's going on."

You cannot avoid construction if it's done in the proper legal channels. You cannot deny construction just because you aren't pleased with it," she continued.

I think the problem that a lot of people in town are having is that people like to barricade and say "No one else allowed" because they want to retain the character," Buckland said. "There's a point where we don't have the right to tell people 'You can't enjoy what other people are enjoying.'"

But the three said that overall, they are very pleased with the city today, especially with the fact that the rejuvenation of downtown has been accomplished while maintaining the city's flavor.

Freydl told of a day recently when he was reminded of the city's attraction. "I stood there in front of Freydl's and looked down the street and out of MacKinnon's came three gentlemen. One was Japanese and the other two looked like executives of one of the big three entertaining him."

He is standing there with a camera, taking a picture of the clock and the whole view down Main Street. And he turned around and he was grinning. It wasn't a fake grin. It struck me here's a man from a foreign country looking at the small-town atmosphere and enjoying it."

Durst said "What makes me so proud of Northville is that I've been walking three or four times a week for six or seven years, (and) you can walk any time of the night and not be afraid of anything."

"It's a wonderful experience to walk at night through Northville," Durst continued. "Couples are walking. Just to see people out enjoying themselves, getting an ice cream... I think it's great."

Buckland also added some words of appreciation for the city today. Her business is travel and she noted, "All of a sudden we're a tourist spot. Fifteen years ago, there's no way you would have a tour bus stop in Northville. They wouldn't even stop for the water at the well."

In the future, Buckland, Durst and Freydl said they feel confident that the city can stay healthy and retain its present atmosphere.

City seeks planners

The city of Northville is accepting applications to fill three vacancies on the Planning Commission.

Applicants for the seats on the commission must have lived in the city for at least two years and be registered voters. Appointments to the commission are subject to confirmation by the city council.

Members of the commission are not paid. The commission is a recommending body to the city council. The commission reviews the city's zoning ordinance, site plans for developments and proposed rezoning of land.

Applications for the commission are available at the city offices 215 W. Main Street or by calling 349-1100.

The three seats open are those of Charles Freydl, Lesa Buckland and Luke Durst. All three recently resigned from the commission but Durst has agreed to continue serving until a replacement is appointed.

In addition to the three resignations, the terms of Jay Wendt and Dick Wilhelm expire at the end of June. They have both indicated that they wish to be reappointed.

Obituary — Commission's ruling detours sewer plans

JANE CUSTANCE

Funeral service for Jane Custance 72, mother of Mrs. Fred (Anne) Fahrner of Northville, was held at 11 a.m. Monday at the Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home. The Rev. Dr. Gene Stone of Redford Presbyterian Church officiated. Burial was in Woodmere Cemetery in Detroit.

Mrs. Custance, who was general manager of Ardmore Hospital in Livonia, had worked until the day of her death. She died at her Farmington home June 25.

She was born March 2, 1915, in Detroit to Emory Lewis and Hazel (Matthews) Horst. Her husband, Geoffrey, died in 1963.

In addition to her daughter, she leaves a brother, Duane Horst, and a sister, Mrs. William (Rhea) Graham. She was preceded in death by a brother, George Horst.

Even if township officials are assured of a positive response from the Michigan Water Resources Commission for Ypsilanti Community Utility Authority plant expansion, they still are facing a question of what to do with building projects scheduled in the township.

Hampton Inn, which plans to build a hotel on Haggerty near Six Mile Road, Kirco Development Co., which has hopes of constructing a 600,000 square foot office park on Haggerty between Six and Seven Mile roads, Real Estate Interests, Inc., which hopes to build a residential development on Haggerty south of Six Mile, and, Ward Evangelical Presbyterian Church, which plans to build a worship center on Six Mile west of Haggerty, all are finding their plans held up because of a lack of sewer capacity.

Other smaller projects also are affected, but plans for those developments have not yet been presented to the township planning commission.

Even Wayne County could be finding its plans put on hold if Northville Township and the other Western Township Utility Authority members, Plymouth and Canton townships are not given permission to send additional sewage capacity not committed through Wayne County to be sent to the Detroit Sewage Treatment Plant to Ypsilanti.

The county has taken preliminary steps to sell more than 1,000 acres of land, located on Sheldon Road between Five and Six Mile roads.

However, without sewer service to the site, the county cannot get top dollar for the property.

A plan by Real Estate Interests, Inc. is scheduled for a public hearing July 9, and Larry Garon, a spokesperson for the firm said he expects the plan to gain approval from the public.

He said he also expects the question of sewer capacity to be resolved by the time the firm begins actual construction of the planned residential unit development.

I still believe there is an opportunity for the permits to be issued by the time we begin building the project, Garon said. He said Real Estate Interests hopes to break ground this fall.

Hampton Inn, which received preliminary approval for a hotel last fall, is facing an additional challenge. Part of its property is a protected wetlands, and either the company must change its plans so as not to disturb the wetlands, or to mitigate with DNR approval the wetlands on another site.

Jane Ennis, a spokesperson for the Tennessee-based company, said she did not know if the hotel chain still intends to build on its Northville Township site.

Jim Jabara, who with his partners owns about five acres at Six Mile and Haggerty, said the sewage issue could become a factor in his plans to sell a portion of the property to Country Heart.

Projects put on temporary hold

By ANITA CRONE

Although the Michigan Water Resources Commission has put a sizeable crimp in the plans of the Western Townships Utility Authority to send non contracted sewage to the Ypsilanti Community Utility Authority for treatment, the ramifications of the commission's action can be easily ironed out.

At least that is the opinion offered by WTA officials, representatives of YCUA, a spokesperson for the Michigan Department of Natural Resources.

The DNR water resources commissioners, and representatives from YCUA and WTA are scheduled to meet at 1:30 p.m. today at a water resources commission work session.

Our Opinions

Voice views now on PRUD projects

As surely as the sun rises in the east, each time a new development goes up in an existing neighborhood, there are those who say they were unaware of the implications of the construction.

Usually, by the time the dissidents are heard, the new complex, be it a business, a condominium complex, a group of homes or an apartment, is finished and the new neighbors have moved in. In short, it is too late to do anything but listen to the complaints and criticisms, the praises and the plaudits.

Next Thursday residents of the area will have a chance to have their say about two projects both potentially being built under the township's new Planned Residential Unit Development option. At 6:30 p.m. in the township board chambers, representatives of Blue Heron Pointe and its parent company, Beck Road Development Corporation will put their plans for more than 140 condominiums along what once was a Beck Road gravel pit before the public.

As soon as that discussion is over, Real Estate Interests, Inc. will take center stage for its plan, more than 600 condominiums and single family homes on Haggerty south of Six Mile Road.

This is not the first time either of these projects is being offered. Both plans have come before the planning commission and the township board, and the developers have often met with the neighbors surrounding the project.

It is, however, the first time that John and Joan Q. Public will have the opportunity to view the plans, to question the developers and to make their views known in a public setting.

The PRUD option encourages public comment, indeed, even mandates it. But it cannot mandate that the public show up for the hearing.

Projects developed under a PRUD are not routine, nor is the option, which must be granted by both the planning commission and the board of trustees, given lightly. Stringent criteria must be met and, almost until the first shovelful of earth is turned, can be denied.

Residents and taxpayers have a unique opportunity to make their views known — and it would be a shame to miss that chance. Once the projects are under way, it will be too late to voice opposition or support.

Whether there is opposition or support for the developments in the community, Thursday is the time to voice it. It is a unique opportunity to participate in a governmental process and to have a hand in the shaping of the Northville community.

Enjoy fireworks while they're here

That the skies over Northville will light up in a blaze of colorful displays Saturday night is a tribute to the caring of those who run the city and township as well as the Northville Jaycees who annually sponsor the Fourth of July fireworks.

For many communities fireworks displays have become a holiday attraction of the past because of the spiraling cost of insurance as well as the considerable investment for the fireworks themselves. When the Jaycees found that the fireworks no longer could be covered under the city's insurance umbrella, members appealed to the city council and township board of trustees for financial assistance.

Both bodies already had voted $2,000 each toward the cost of the fireworks, but both also agreed to assist with insurance costs to make the display possible at dusk Saturday. The city contributed $1,500 and the township $1,080 to cover the $2,580 insurance cost.

Therefore, fireworks will continue to light up the sky to climax a full day of holiday activities on the Fourth. They will be set off from the high school football field plateau near Eight Mile Road. The sums contributed by the city and township, together with a collection for parking at last year's display, are making the spectacular possible this year. However, Jaycee Bob Cummings says it's possible this may be the last year Northville will be able to afford this tradition.

As he says, rates for liability insurance also have skyrocketed. During the fireworks Saturday (or Sunday if rain cancels Saturday's display) the Jaycees will be seeking donations from those who park in the vantage viewing parking lots at Amerman, Cooke and Northville High School. This is done with permission of the Northville Board of Education and is earmarked for fireworks.

Let's all enjoy and appreciate the effort that went into celebrating the Fourth.

Are times changing?

By Anita Crone

The more things change, the more they remain the same.

It seems only yesterday that the North Huron Valley/Rouge Valley sewer system was in the news, first because Wayne County wanted cities and townships to participate, then because Northville, Canton and Plymouth townships said, "Thanks but no thanks" and pulled out of the project.

It seems only yesterday that the three townships decided to pursue sending excess sewage flows to Ypsilanti and the Ypsilanti Community Utility Authority, rather than continue to tax the Detroit Sewage Treatment Plant.

It seems only yesterday that Wayne County requested bids on more than 900 acres of county-owned land in Northville Township and then rejected those bids and then turned around and added 100 acres to the project and chose to sell it.

Perhaps it was yesterday, but more likely it has taken years for those proposed projects to take giant steps to nowhere.

In short, the projects are still on the drawing boards and still have not gained the necessary approvals to be anything more than proposals. In fact, in some of the cases, the giant steps have been steps backwards.

Take the proposed sewer. Designed to ease the pumping or the dumping of untreated sewage into the overly polluted Rouge River, the North Huron Valley/Rouge Valley project is still being discussed and still being refined. Just as in 1986, when county representatives raced to township board and city council meetings asking for signatures on service agreements in time to get federal funding under the Clean Water Act, 1987 promises a repeat.

The main difference between the 1986 and the 1987 projects, is that in 1987, there are fewer signatures needed. But here it is July, and since April, when a public hearing was presented, no word has been received from Wayne County on costs, participation or plans.

Oh, yes. There is one major difference. This year, the county is trying to sell some 1,000 acres and even the county has to admit it is difficult to get top dollar for prime property without sewers or without sewer capacity.

Maybe that is why county officials have contacted the three townships offering to help them get their sewer project approved.

Maybe that is why the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, officials from the Ypsilanti Community Utility Authority and representatives from the Western Townships Utility Authority have agreed to meet at 1:30 today to find out exactly why the Michigan Water Resources Commission turned down a staff recommendation for future YCUA plant expansion.

And maybe, taken together, it all means that the county is serious about selling the 1,000 acres this time and equally serious about getting the latest version of super sewer off the drawing boards and into the ground.

Meanwhile, building continues apace, or at an even faster pace in Northville and Novi than it did prior to the plans for the sewer being presented. And, except for the annual clean-up effort for the Rouge, the river continues to be polluted and sewer capacity continues to be a regional problem.

Although there have been rumblings and grumblings about building bans, only Canton has been slapped with an actual ban. Other action has been more subtle. No one is denying there is a problem, but no one seems willing to take responsibility for a solution. Maybe the time has passed to do so, but more importantly, maybe the time has come to stop being subtle. A two by four is a powerful tool when wielded by an angry person. And, were construction to stop in the most boom-happy area of the state, you can bet something would be done.

Painful

After the Fact

By Phil Jerome

"Got 'em memorized yet?" she asked, a note of derision in her voice. I ignored it, deciding to play it straight, instead.

"Not all of 'em," I replied. "Actually, hardly any of 'em. But I've got a pretty good feel for just about all of 'em."

"Trammell's still over .340. Of course, Boggs is over .390 now, but I never thought Trams had a chance of beating him anyway. One of things nobody's really aware of is that Gibson's quietly sneaking up on 300."

"But the one I really love is Nokes. Look at that baby-face. Ya know, when Parrish signed with the Phillies, I thought it was all over. That any chances of winning the pennant were gone."

"But this Nokes guy has been amazing. The guy's really a hitter. Watch him swing the bat. He's hitting about 100 points higher than Parrish. Has twice as been homers and about 15 more RBIs. Beautiful. Plus, and this is the thing that makes Campbell happy, he's making about $800,000 a year less than Lance."

"And the pitching. Let's talk about the pitching. Morris is on his way to the best season of his career. Ol' Tanana has been throwing really good lately. Geez, I love to watch that guy pitch when he's going good. Lost his fastball several years ago, so he had to learn how to pitch and he's really amazing the way he makes those batters look like a bunch of jerks."

"Of course, you've always got good old Terrell. A little sporadic, but overall pretty good. He's pitched a lot better than his record shows. I've got to believe he's still going to end up with his usual 15-16 wins. And Petry. He's the key, the way I see it. If he could just find the form he had before his injury it would give 'em four really solid starters. And how many teams have four solid starters? Everybody's struggling in the pitching department. A team with four solid starters could win it all."

I heard her sigh as I continued reading through the statistics, and I must admit I felt sorry for her. Being a baseball widow's got to be a little bit tough.

Summersong a success

To the Editor

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to Del Black, the Northville Merchants and to the community of Northville for contributing to the fantastic success of Summersong '87.

This success could never have been accomplished without the untiring work and efforts executed by Del Black as co-chairman of this year's summer festival.

This year was a rather unique one as we were able to initiate the new band shell with a variety of sights and sounds from musicians of the great metropolitan area. I hope the community will continue to patronize the performing musicians at the band shell on Main Street during the remaining summer months.

Sincerely,
Toni Gentili

Class of '87 gives thanks

To the Editor

As members of the Northville High School Class of 1987, we would like to say thank you to the merchants, friends and especially to the parents of our class. Without you, this past year would not have been as successful or as memorable.

Our senior party was second to none and was an awesome ending to an awesome year.

It's obvious how lucky we are to have parents like ours who are willing to do anything for us and are supporting us every step of the way.

The Class of '87 will always be together even if it is only by memory. We will always remember Northville and we will "Never Say Goodbye."

Thanks a million

School head says adieu

To the Editor

(This is) To the people of Northville, Novi and surrounding communities.

I just want to take a minute of your time to tell you thank you for your support for the past 12 years. It doesn't seem that long ago that my husband and I first opened our nursery school on Beck road (Willowbeck Farm Nursery School).

Perhaps, some day we can have a reunion of all the hundreds of children who have attended our school. I certainly would love to see them again.

As some of you know, I have closed my business, but in so doing did not want to neglect to thank the wonderful people who came our way and brought us wonderful children to enjoy and to teach. The pleasure has truly been all mine.

Thanks again and good luck to all.

Sincerely
Lane Norton

Pressure mounts over YCUA expansion

"Hopefully, we'll find out exactly what concerns the commission has," said Steve Eldredge, water quality district supervisor for Jackson, the area which oversees YCUA.

Eldredge said he was not in attendance at the June water resources commission meeting, where the body rejected the DNR's staff recommendation that YCUA be allowed to double its capacity and instead asked for additional information.

He added that it was not an every day occurrence for the commission to reject a staff recommendation, but it does happen.

"Especially with this commission there are concerns about the level of pollution perhaps coming from the YCUA plant."

Eldredge said YCUA currently is allowed to emit 1 part per liter of phosphorous, but has yet to reach that level. "In fact, YCUA is an incredibly clean plant. We had to survey them to nominate them for an Environmental Protection Agency award and monitor about 3,000-4,000 daily emissions. Only once did they fail to meet their requirements," he said.

Northville Township Supervisor Georgina Goss said Tuesday she was confident that the matter will be resolved.

"There is no doubt in my mind that at Thursday's meeting the concerns expressed by the commission will be answered," she said. "And once those concerns are answered, I think we can look forward to a positive resolution of the issue at the commission's July meeting."

YCUA executive director Eldon Ahles said he too was looking forward to approval for YCUA expansion.

"I was surprised that the commission took the steps it did, particularly after I got a letter saying I did not have to attend the commission meeting."

Ahles added that the commission's action could not have come at a more inopportune time.

"We (YCUA and WTUA) were getting very close to a contract and this just came as a total surprise," he said.

Ahles noted that one of the expectations held by YCUA officials would be that even if approval for plant expansion were given, there would not be an increase in the amount of allowable effluents into Willow Creek or Belleville Lake.

"Our engineers have assured us that we can meet those limits and we certainly don't see a problem in doing just that," Ahles said.

Massage: 'Like first visit to the doctor'

Someone going to see Marcia Potyczka for the first time might not know what to expect, but Potyczka — a licensed massage therapist who lives in Northville — compared the experience to a first visit to a doctor.

Potyczka, who works in Livonia and Farmington Hills, said she has new clients fill out forms about medical history and the like. "I try to make them feel at ease," she said, "although there is nothing to be nervous about."

Far from the "bad name" which she said massage still carries, treatment by a licensed massage therapist "is very therapeutic. We rank up there with doctors and chiropractors," she said, although she noted massage therapists do not make medical diagnoses.

Potyczka is certified as a massage therapist by the American Massage Therapy Association, the largest organization of its kind. AMTA certification requires a year long, 500-hour course of study including anatomy and physiology, diseases and a dozen eastern and western massage therapy techniques, she explained.

The massage therapy client undresses to whatever degree he or she feels comfortable, but is totally covered with a sheet during the massage, Potyczka said. "The only area that's not covered is the area I'm working on."

She described the massage itself as "a non-specific release of muscle tension," during which the whole body is worked except breasts and genitals. A massage lasts between a half-hour and an hour and a half, she said.

"I give them time at the end of the massage to recover, because it does put you in kind of a daze. It's very relaxing," Potyczka said.

glass window to the front door of the building.

Currently, most of the building's floor space is used for cutting hair, with one room for tanning. Overstreet said a small sitting room would be converted for massage therapy if all the other concerns fall into place. His goal for the business, he explained, is to provide a full range of body care services.

Under Northville's revised ordinance, anyone wishing to provide massage services must go through a complex licensing procedure. The ordinance includes many health and other restrictions on the operation of the business as well.

Overstreet said he hopes to hire two massage therapists, a male and a female, to work at the studio. "I'd like to have them here," he said, adding that he hopes the licensing will be approved some time soon.

Ombudsman for business

It appears Wayne County will be getting a Business Ombudsman.

County Executive Edward McNamara and Commissioner Susan J. Heintz, R-Northville, have both requested the position be created. McNamara made his announcement Monday. Heintz presented her resolution to the county commission on Tuesday.

Citing strong support for the position, Heintz said, "We know that we must look to increasingly more effective ways to foster and retain jobs in Wayne County. The Business Ombudsman will play a key role in economic development by removing many of the obstacles that inhibit growth and in the formation of new businesses in both the private and public sectors."

Pitching keys turn around for Mack squad

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Northville Connie Mack squad may not be cruising free and easy yet but it may have turned the corner.

Following four losses in a row to open the season, the team has now notched wins in three of the last four games. In action last week, the Northville entry received impressive pitching performances in all three games and, not coincidentally, came away with a pair of victories.

Brett Loomis fanned 14 on June 23 as Northville slipped past Huron Valley 7-4 for win number one. The locals then crushed Westland 8-2 behind another masterpiece mound performance by Doug Martin on June 25. The only loss of the week came against West Seven on June 27 despite another splendid pitching outing from George Daraban. He surrendered just two hits but suffered the loss in a 2-1 defeat.

"It was a good week for us all the way around," Mack Coach Ed Harp said. "The pitching was outstanding and in the first two, we really hit the ball."

In the first inning against Huron Valley, Northville scored a run on hits by Mike Yard, Jeff Harp and Derek Osborne. The following inning, the team added four more to take a commanding lead. Tom Skynar singled, the bases were then loaded on two straight walks and Scott Griggs clubbed a grand slam home run to make the score 5-0.

In the third, Huron Valley scored one run on two hits off Loomis and added another single run in the fifth, but Northville came back with two more in the sixth. Daraban singled, Skynar was hit by a pitch and Adam Behen delivered an RBI hit to score Daraban. Skynar later scored on an error. Huron Valley scored two more runs in the last two innings, but it wasn't enough.

"Loomis just pitched very well," Harp said. "He got into a few problems but was always able to get out of them."

"His fastball was humming and he was handcuffing them. He kept us in the game."

Not to be outdone, Martin came back two days later with 14 strike outs and only one walk in seven innings against Westland.

"This kid (Martin) is one fine pitcher," Harp said. "His control is remarkable."

Northville gave Martin some breathing room with a three-run rally in the second that featured just one hit. Westland handed Northville three walks, two passed balls and a key RBI double by Griggs. Westland scored both of its runs in the third to narrow the gap to 3-2.

But in the fifth, Northville broke the game open with three more runs. After a walk and a single by Osborne, Martin helped his own cause by driving in a run with a double. Behen followed that up with a two-RBI double to increase the lead to 6-2. Northville scored two more in the next inning to provide the final margin of victory. The big hit was a two-run single by Daraban.

The two wins didn't help soothe the heartbreaking loss to West Seven though. The two teams combined for just six hits in this pitchers' duel and four came from Northville. But the big difference came on a two-run home run off Daraban in the sixth, which gave West Seven both runs.

"We were ahead the whole game but (Daraban) gave up a walk and then the next batter jumped all over a hanging curve," Harp explained.

Northville's only run came in the second when Behen walked, stole second and scored on a single by Griggs. In the final two innings, Northville put the tying men on base, but failed to score.

"We had our opportunities to tie the game," Harp said. "We had base runners, but we never seemed to be able to deliver the key hits to drive them in."

"It was unfortunate because Daraban pitched a splendid game, except for the one mistake. This was a very difficult game to lose."

As the midway point of the season approaches, Northville is still far off the league-leading pace with a 3-5 record. But the recent successes have the team playing with confidence, and Harp is hoping that trend will continue.

Northville's Tom Skynar slides home safely in a Connie Mack game against Westland.

League-leading Holzer wins 3-of-4

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The jinx ended, the hitting picked up and first place is there for the taking.

That just about sums up the action last week for Tom Holzer Ford, Northville's entry in the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League. For the third time in four tries this season, Holzer turned back defending champion Little Caesars on June 24 to open a very successful week. The lone defeat came on June 26 against Walters Appliance — a team that's had great success against Holzer so far this year. But last Sunday (June 28), the Northville team ended the Walters jinx by sweeping a doubleheader to notch the first two wins over the team after four unsuccessful tries.

Holzer maintained its half-game lead over Little Caesars with the convincing 11-5 victory. Dan Kopitzke gained his third win of the season by scattering seven hits and nine walks and received solid relief help from Tom Cotter over the final 1 1/4 innings.

Caesars opened the scoring with a pair of runs in the second, but Holzer came back with a four-run rally in the bottom of the inning. Cotter and Dave Knapp started things off with back-to-back singles, Cotter scored following a fielder's choice, a walk and a passed ball, Keith Dutkiewicz doubled two more in and later scored himself on a hit by Eric Engel. Caesars regained the lead with three runs in the third, but Holzer tied the score at 5-5 on another RBI hit by Engel.

In the fifth, Holzer pulled ahead for good on RBI hits from Cotter and Knapp and settled the issue with four more in the sixth. The big hit in the inning was a bases loaded double by Paul Newitt. For the game, Cotter went 3-for-3 while Knapp, Dutkiewicz, Engel and Kevin Ritter added two hits each.

"We're still trying to stay ahead of (Little Caesars) so every time we play them, it's like a two-game swing," Holzer Coach Bob Peterson said. "Our hitting is back, I guess."

Despite a terrible day in the field and control problems on the mound, Holzer stayed very close before dropping a 7-6 decision to Walters in a curfew-shortened game.

'We're still trying to stay ahead of (Little Caesars) so every time we play them, it's like a two-game swing'

— Bob Peterson
Holzer Coach

"We had a real bad defensive game against Walters on Friday," Peterson admitted. "We made six errors and walked nine and you just can't do that and expect to win."

Walters jumped on Holzer starter Gary Zwolinski for two runs in the first and another in the third, but the Northville team responded in the bottom of the third with five runs as Engel singled in two runs, Scott Peterson had an RBI hit, and Steve Merriman drove in another with a sacrifice.

With Holzer hanging on to a 5-3 lead after five innings, Walters got to Zwolinski again in the sixth, scoring three times to regain the lead. Cotter came on in relief and gave up another run before retiring the side. In the bottom of the inning, Engel doubled in Newitt to make it 7-6, but the rally fell one run short.

"It was defense and pitching that did us in that game," Peterson pointed out.

Two days later, Holzer finally broke through to beat Walters in the first game of the doubleheader, 5-2. Kopitzke won his fourth of the season by striking out nine, walking only three and giving up zero earned runs.

The game remained scoreless until the third when Holzer pulled in front with three runs. Greg Burnick doubled, Tim Dowd got on base with an infield single, Peterson drove Burnick in and, after a walk, two more runs scored on a wild throw to first base by Walters' pitcher Scott Curd.

Walters narrowed the gap with two in the bottom of the third, but Holzer put it out of reach with single runs in the sixth and seventh innings.

The nightcap was much more exciting as Holzer came from behind to register a hard-fought 16-13 win. It was a wild, four-hour, marathon featuring 24 hits by both teams and several individual heroics. Holzer starter Charlie Weaver had control problems right from the start and lasted only one-third of an inning. Reliever Brett Loomis didn't fare much better and after just a half-inning, Walters led 7-0.

But in the bottom of the first, Holzer scored four times and then took over the lead with a seven-run explosion in the third. In the fourth, Walters tagged Loomis for six more runs to make the score 13-12, but again, Holzer fought back. A single run in the fifth tied the score setting up a dramatic two-out, two-run homer by Dutkiewicz in the sixth.

"It was a wild one, we just managed to outlast them," Peterson said. "That clutch homer by Dutkiewicz proved to be a very big hit for us."

The offense was paced by Kevin Ritter, who had four hits in five at bats including two home runs and five RBIs. Dutkiewicz was 3-for-5 with six runs batted in and Merriman was 4-for-4. Cotter notched the win in relief, blanking Walters over the final four innings on just one hit.

"Tom Cotter has been a pleasant surprise in relief," Peterson related. "It's the first season we've used him as a pitcher and now we think he's as good as any reliever we've seen this season."

HOLZER NOTES: For the third time this season, a Holzer player was named the LCBL "Player of the Week." The honors for the week of June 14-21 went to Holzer pitcher Gary Zwolinski, who registered two wins over Ann Arbor Wendys and Little Caesars during that period and fanned 14 batters in the process.

Here's a look at the LCBL standings as of June 30.

Local goaltender to compete in Europe

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Soccer in Novi has always been a few steps behind the kind of soccer played in areas like Northville and Livonia. But recent strides are narrowing the gap every season.

Novi got off to a late start in soccer, and by the time local teams were formed they lagged behind the teams in many other communities. Now, even though it's still very difficult to keep up with top-notch soccer teams from certain areas, Novi can boast one of the state's finest young players in Natalino (Nat) Scappaticci.

Scappaticci, who lives with his family on Eight Mile Road across from Meadowbrook Country Club, can make a claim as one of the top two 15-and-under goaltenders in the state by virtue of his selection to the Team/USA squad that will represent Michigan in the 1987 European-Soviet Cup Tour this month.

Tryouts for the team were held at five locations across the state in February. Hundreds of players gave it a shot but only 16 were accepted and Nat was one of them. He decided to tryout with a friend, so they made the trek to St. Clair Shores.

"A friend of Nat's was planning to try out so Nat went with him," reported Nat's mother, Barb Scappaticci. "I think we all took it very lightly until he got an acceptance letter about a week after the tryouts."

Nat, 14, has a bright future in soccer, and the Novi High School sophomore is a big part of the Wildcats' plans for the future. Last fall as a freshman, Nat was the starting goalie for the Novi junior varsity squad, and even though the team had marginal success, everyone knew BOYS UNDER 12: Northville Arsenal battled the Livonia Sting to a 2-2 tie on position day in the WSSL. Chris Barbara and Steve Moore registered goals for Arsenal. Brandon Selinsky, Rob Clark and Mark Ritter were named the game's MVP for the Northville entry. Jan Switalski's goal was the only bright spot for Northville United as the team fell to the Plymouth Rowdies 6-1. Jim Heintz was the top defensive player for United. Northville Express made it to the divisional championship game against South Lyon, but fell in the tie game 2-1. Most valuable players for the Express included Danny Lyczak, Rick Bell, David Rossing and Mike Husak. The Northville Hot Spurs grabbed a division title by blanking the Livonia Lightning 3-0 in the championship game. Spurs' goals came from Jason Kirk, Brian Nawrocki and Rob Kukanis. Goalies George Lemmon and Brian Nawrocki shared the shut out. The Northville Rowdies were blitzed by the Plymouth Cougars 6-0.

Clifford Smith (left), Paula Erwin and Larry Wichman participate in the tourney

Annual golf tourney raises over $2,000 for local charity

What happens when a group of golf buddies who live and work in the area decide to throw a golfing party to raise money for a favorite charity?

You get the first annual Our Lady of Providence Center Golf Tournament played on June 27 at Mission Hills Golf Course in Plymouth.

"It started out to be just a fun thing," said Russell Neuman, one of the organizers of the tournament. "We wanted to get some friends together, play some golf and have dinner and some drinks. Then as things grew, someone got the idea to use the outing as a way to raise money for charity."

Picking Our Lady of Providence Center, located on Beck Road in Northville Township, was the easy part. All of the friends became acquainted with the center for developmentally disabled young girls through Larry Wichman, one of the buddies in the group. Wichman and his wife, Susan, had taken a young woman from the center, Paula Erwin, to their Canton Township home to live in 1985.

In addition to Neuman and Wichman, additional tournament organizers include Fred Chapman, Fred Gazel, Dick Hunt, John Michalak, Bill Fain, Cliff Smith, Jim Simoni and Tim O'Connor.

The group hoped to raise more than $2,000 for Sister Theresa Tamburo, director of Our Lady of Providence Center. Wichman reported that the tourney goal was exceeded, but the exact amount has yet to be tallied.

"It was the first time any of us has ever done anything like this so we were real pleased with the way it came off," he said. "Mission Hills did an extremely good job for us and the turnout was fantastic."

Wichman reported that 92 competitors played in the tourney and that Royal Oak's Dave Reiber was the winner with lowest gross score of 79 for 18 holes. In addition, G Hollander scored the lowest net score (60). Tom McBride won the longest drive competition (280-yards) and Mike Brown was closest to the pin (8'8") in that competition.

"We contacted several business associates and friends who donated various prizes," Neuman said. "We had prizes ranging from golf balls to a set of custom made irons that we raffled off."

Sister Tamburo said the center's 65 staff members provide a variety of educational and counseling services for the young women. Cost of providing the services is about $100 per day.

"We could use 10... golf tournaments," Sister Tamburo said. "More and more, we are relying on grants and gifts. We are delighted with the golf tournament and hope it takes root to become an annual thing."

The center was founded in 1957 and is licensed to provide residential care for 100 persons.

NIGHT LIFE TOURNAMENT: For the first time ever, Brooklane Golf Club on Six Mile in Northville

Township organized a nighttime golf tournament on June 26, complete with glow-in-the-dark balls and lots of mosquito repellent.

Called the "Night Light Golf Tournament," the event drew 40 competitors who were split up into 10 four-player teams. The mixed tournament used the scramble format, started playing around 10 p.m. and set out to tackle the special 10-hole, 31-par course. As a first time event, nine of the 10 holes were par three holes with no woods or water in the immediate area.

"This was the first time out and it went really well," Assistant Manager Jeff Bell said. "We tried to stay away from the holes with woods and water because you don't want to lose your balls — they cost about $6 apiece."

The competitors used a clear plastic ball with a fluorescent-type stick in the middle. In addition, glow-in-the-dark flag sticks were used so the golfers could see their target.

Two teams tied for first place in the tournament as both shot even par 31. The first team included Dick King, John Fedoranko, Ray Mahmed and Joe Rankel. The second team featured Jim Buzewski, Pat Green, John Tripoli and Mike Bruton.

"It looked like a lot of fun and the people who played really enjoyed themselves," Bell said.

According to Bell, another Night Light Tournament is in the works for September.

BASEBALL: Cutchins stars for Giants; Muir leads Padres

G LEAGUE: The Giants downed the Mets 16-7 on June 17 thanks to a nine-run blitz in the final two innings for their third victory of the season. Clay Cutchins was the hero for the winners as he blasted a home run and made a sensational catch in right field on defense. On the day he was 3-for-3 with four runs batted in. Ross Fleming was the hitting star for the Mets with an RBI triple. Brian Nawrocki relieved starter Brian Collins and notched the win. He allowed five hits and struck out three.

H LEAGUE: On June 9 the Padres beat the Expos 11-6 in a well played contest. Aaron Murr knocked in five runs for the Padres with a home run and a double. In addition, Marc Wilson went 3-for-3 and Brad Smith pitched two no-hit innings for the victors. On June 11 the Padres turned back the Mets 11-3. Brad Smith had four RBIs (including a homer). Mike Vartanian had three hits and Jason Shattuck was the winning pitcher for the Padres. On June 13 Marc Wilson and Bruce Meggison both had three hits as the Padres trounced the Mets 17-8. Brad Smith knocked in four runs and Peter Anthony added a three-run homer for the Padres. On June 15 the Padres made it four in a row with a 15-6 win over the Padres. Aaron Murr registered a grand slam and batted in five runs for the Padres while Mike Vartanian added a three-run homer. On June 13 the Astros topped the Braves 17-13 on 20 hits to up their record to 6-4. The Astros scored five runs in the first, second and fifth innings en route to the high scoring win. P. Martin led all players with four hits but Ryan Kelly knocked in six runs on three hits. Bret Island was the winning pitcher for the Astros.

Goaltender selected to state team they had a super goalie.

He also plays goal for Novi's entry in the Western Suburban Soccer League (WSSL) during the summer months and has been impressive there too.

"Soccer in Novi still isn't the best, but it is getting much better every year," Nat said. "More and more players are getting involved, and the talent level is improving."

Nat began playing soccer at the age of five when he found out T-ball wasn't his bag. The Scappaticci's were living in Livonia then, and youth soccer was the rage.

"It was something we thought would be a good sport to try because so many kids get a chance to play at the same time," Barb said. "He's played every season since."

For four seasons, Nat was a forward, but at age nine, he found himself in goal and has never left.

"I don't know what it is about being a goalie that I liked," Nat said. "It was my favorite position so I stayed there and got better and better."

The trip to Europe is the culmination of a lot of work. The 16 players on Michigan's under 15 squad will depart from Metro Airport on July 7 along with the coaches. They will meet other teams from all over the U.S. in New York before flying on to Europe. For Nat, it will be his first trip to a foreign country.

"I'm nervous and excited," Nat admitted. "I'm hoping it will make me a better player. The competition should be very good, and that should help. I think it's a good chance to show everyone that we have some good players here and that we can play too."

From July 8-12, the team will train and prepare at the Euro-Sporting Soccer School in the Netherlands. The first in a series of Cup competitions begins at the Gothia Cup in Goteborg, Sweden, the following week. From there it's on to Hjoerring, Denmark, for the Dana Cup, which lasts another week.

"They will be playing as many as three matches a day but they will be shortened periods," Barb reported. "It's a demanding schedule, and they don't want to over-tax the kids."

From Denmark, the team will travel to Moscow for a series of "friendly matches" against the Soviets called the Dynamo Festival. The games are to be just for fun and no trophies will be awarded. While in the Soviet Union, Nat's team will take a two-day tour of Russia's Olympic Training Center in Minsk. From there, it's back to Amsterdam, Netherlands, for the final competition, the three-day Holland Cup and then home to the U.S. on August 3.

"This will be the first time Nat's ever undertaken anything like this so there is a lot of excitement around here, and a lot of nervousness," Barb said. "It will definitely be a good experience for him, but I'm a bit concerned too."

New options complicate health insurance decisions

Health care consumers need to consider a wide variety of factors before selecting a plan

Remember the good old days when buying insurance was easy?

Yes, life was simpler then. Just call Blue Cross/Blue Shield. Perhaps get a "Piece of the Rock."

But today? Today, it's different. The emergence of new health care delivery systems has resulted in a confusing array of acronyms and abbreviations that, believe it or not, are a source of confusion for providers as well as patients.

The best known is the HMO (Health Maintenance Organization).

But there are also PPOs (Preferred Provider Organization), EPOs (Exclusive Provider Organization), IPAs (Individual Practice Association) and a slew of others.

So let's try to get a few things straight.

First of all, the HMOs and PPOs are easily the most predominant. In fact, most of the other acronyms are a variation on the HMOs and PPOs. There are 11 HMOs and five PPOs in southeast Michigan at last count.

Secondly, what's going on with all these acronyms is an attempt to lower the cost of medical care.

Robert Carris, director of joint venture planning at Providence Hospital in Southfield, said the basic difference between a HMO and a PPO is that the PPOs offer slightly more flexibility to the consumer.

HMOs can be defined as programs that provide medical services to subscriber on a capitate or prepaid basis. There are three basic types of HMOs.

A staff model in which the plan employs the physician.

A group model in which the HMO contracts with a group of physicians organized for the sole purpose of providing medical services to a defined HMO population, and

The IPA (Independent Practice Association) model in which physicians in private practice, either individually or collectively, contract with a HMO to deliver health care services to a defined population and still maintain their fee-for-service practices.

When you join a HMO, said Carris, you receive a list of all the doctors and hospitals which are members of that particular plan. As long as you stay within the plan, your medical expenses will be covered, although some plans may require a small deductible — just to make people think twice before scheduling doctor appointments for minor matters.

The clincher with the HMOs is that you have to stay within the system of approved doctors and hospitals, said Carris. If you want to go to a doctor or hospital outside the system, there is no coverage.

Carris believes HMOs are fine for younger people who may not need medical care as often as older people. Older people or people who need

New booklet designed to help county vendors

Oakland County is increasing its efforts to make vendors more aware of how to do business with Oakland County.

A booklet titled "A Guide to 'Doing Business' with Oakland County" is available from the Oakland County Department of Management and Budget's Purchasing Division. The booklet gives information about purchasing procedures and addresses of participating county divisions.

"The purchasing function is vitally important to all of us in government and to all businesses and citizens who are concerned with the prudent expenditure of public funds," said Oakland County Executive Daniel T. Murphy.

There are several ways a vendor can be eligible to do business with the county:

1. The Master Bid List. The list is used by buyers or other county representatives to distribute requests for quotations or requests for proposals on specific commodities or services.

Formal bid lists are maintained by Oakland County Purchasing Division, Oakland County Road Commission and Oakland Schools. Vendors who wish to be placed on the list should send a written document to the agencies.

2. Many county agencies use appropriate trade journals to solicit bids and proposals from vendors. Vendors are encouraged to follow these journals for notices about county purchasing needs.

3. Local newspapers also are used to inform businesses about county purchasing opportunities. These publications should be followed closely.

For additional information or a copy of the county's purchasing information booklet contact Oakland County Central Purchasing at 858-5011.

Business Briefs

RUSSELL GARDNER of South Lyon, local agent for Farm Bureau Insurance Group, has been named one of the company's top agents for 1986 on the basis of his excellent record of sales and service for the year.

As one of the year's top agents, Gardner received Farm Bureau Insurance Group's "All-American" award during the company's recent annual sales convention in Grand Rapids. He also earned membership in the Executives Club, an honor reserved for the company's top 29 agents and agency managers for their superior insurance sales and service.

Gardner also was honored at the recent convention for qualifying for the "Leaders for Life Club" for top life insurance producers.

Farm Bureau Insurance Group, one of the state's major insurers, has a statewide force of 400 agents serving over 300,000 Michigan policy-holders.

MARK STORM and MIKE GABRIEL have been named to the Legion of Honor, one of State Farm Insurance Companies' most distinguished accomplishments.

Storm, an agent in the Northville area, has been a State Farm agent since 1984.

Gabriel, an agent in the Novi area, has been a State Farm agent since 1980.

State Farm is one of the world's largest insurance companies and sells auto, fire, life and health insurance. With corporate headquarters in Bloomington, Illinois, the company serves customers with over 16,000 agents and more than 700 claims offices throughout the United States and Canada.

NORMA HAZLETT and FRED SCHMITT of Schweitzer Real Estate of Northville were honored recently at an awards banquet at the Detroit Athletic Club for the top producers in 1986 from the 20 offices from the Detroit Metropolitan area.

Company President Anthony V. Rizzo reported that Schmitt and Hazlett have been associated with the Northville office for a combined total of 17 years and together have over 23 years of real estate experience.

Hazlett has been a Northville resident since 1936. Schmitt is a Plymouth resident.

THOMAS BUEHNER has been named director of the new Mervyn's store now under construction in the Novi Town Center.

Buehner joined Mervyn's in 1975 and has held various store management positions including his most recent as director of Mervyn's store in El Paso, Texas.

He is a graduate of San Jose University in San Jose, California. In his new position, Buehner will report to John Gardner, district manager.

Mervyn's is a value-oriented family department store specializing in soft goods. The company will open its first stores in Michigan this October.

CAROL L. BRANDON and KERRY L. WEBER have joined the R. A. DeMattia Company, a leading design/build general contracting firm headquartered in Plymouth.

Brandon is an executive secretary and will be responsible for administrative support to the sales and marketing departments. She holds a certificate in office communications from Central Michigan University.

Weber, as marketing coordinator, will be responsible for many of the firm's marketing and promotional activities. She holds a bachelor of arts in communications from Michigan State University.

R. A. DeMattia, a Northville resident, will celebrate his firm's 10th birthday with an open house at the headquarters in Plymouth on July 9.

EUGENE J. BUATTI, DDS, recently moved into a new office for orthodontics practice at 22304 Pontiac Trail in South Lyon. He has had offices at two other locations in South Lyon for six years.

The office features the current orthodontic office design which utilizes the open concept to create a feeling of space. The reception room is large with windows and light walls. The furniture is light and contemporary to avoid "filling up the room." Fabric-covered chairs and fabric wall hangings help to control sound, in addition to decorating the walls.

Large plants are used extensively to help blend the interior of the office with the outside. The reception room, receptionists' area and hallway have walls at angles to avoid the "boxed-in effect."

As opposed to conventional treatment cubicles, the treatment area is a large room with two light-colored contour dental chairs.

Buatti is a graduate of South Lyon High School and the University of Michigan School of Dentistry, where he received his specialty degree in orthodontics. He is a clinical professor of orthodontics at the U-of-M.

DOUGLAS R. BRAMBLE of Novi has joined Ross Roy, Inc. advertising agency as an account administrator. The announcement was made by Rex B. Smith, vice president/Group Account Supervisor.

In his new position, Bramble will be responsible for coordinating the agency's internal activities on the Chrysler Merchandising account.

Bramble graduated from Michigan State University with a BA degree in Telecommunications.

DEBORAH BRENNAN of Novi has been promoted to the position of second vice president and audit officer of the Auditing Department by Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit.

Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit is the leading bank subsidiary of Manufacturers National Corporation, a bank holding company based in Detroit. Eight subsidiary banks are located in Bay City, Coopersville, Lansing, Livonia, Novi, St. Clair Shores, Saline and Southfield.

BBB issues warnings about sales positions

Recent graduates or people interested in employment as traveling (or door-to-door) sales representatives should proceed with caution, warns the Better Business Bureau.

Ads offering good pay, glamor, travel, training and advancement are often used to recruit the young and unemployed. These ads usually don't indicate the company's name — only the name and local phone number of the recruiter.

Those who answer the ads are usually interviewed at a local hotel or motel. Those interviewed generally must quickly decide whether to accept the job. What they find out — often once they're on the road and away from home — is that the job involves door-to-door sales for magazines, books, chemical cleaners or other products, and conditions are not at all as expected.

Crew members work long hours under close supervision. There is pressure to meet sales quotas and pay is by commission only. Some salespeople have been left stranded far from home when they haven't made enough sales or have challenged the rules of the company.

Some state laws require door-to-door salespeople to immediately show customers identification indicating who they are, the name of the company they represent, and the purpose of the visit. In many cities and counties the sales crews must register with local authorities. Often sales supervisors ignore such regulations and do not tell their salespersons they are violating the law.

Those considering this type of job should check out the company with the BBB office nearest its headquarters. Get all details in writing about the job, such as food and lodging programs, who is to pay for or provide transportation, etc. If possible, try to speak to several people who have worked in sales for the company you are considering.

Never be pressured into taking a job before checking out the company to your satisfaction.

Consumers announces two percent rate drop

Despite the effects of inflation, Consumers Power Company's electric rates have decreased more than two percent compared to 1986, according to information recently released by the Edison Electric Institute (EEI), the national association of electric utilities.

Electric bills for Consumers Power Company's typical residential, commercial and industrial customers showed decreases ranging from 2.0 to 3.9 percent from January 1986 to January 1987, according to EEI. The last electric rate increase for Consumers Power was in August 1985.

The EEI survey of 208 utilities shows that approximately 70 percent, or 146, of the utilities surveyed had a higher bill for a typical residential electric customer than Consumers Power.

The average cost per kilowatt-hour of electricity in the U.S. for all classes of customers in 1986 was 6.49 cents. Consumers Power's average cost was 6.31 cents, or 2.8 percent below the national average, 3.5 percent below the regional average among east north central states of 6.54 cents and 8.8 percent below the Michigan average of 6.92 cents.

"This survey demonstrates the competitiveness both nationally and regionally of Consumers Power electric rates. By lowering our fuel expenses through successful renegotiation of coal purchase contracts and by reducing our operating expenses, we have held the line on increases in electric bills," said Stephen H. Howell, executive vice president of energy distribution for Consumers Power. "We're doing a good job of keeping costs down and this benefits all of our customers."

Consumers Power Company, the principal subsidiary of CMS Energy Corporation, is Michigan's largest utility serving almost six million of the state's nine million residents in 67 of the 68 Lower Peninsula counties.

Business Briefs

RUSSELL GARDNER of South Lyon, local agent for Farm Bureau Insurance Group, has been named one of the company's top agents for 1986 on the basis of his excellent record of sales and service for the year.

As one of the year's top agents, Gardner received Farm Bureau Insurance Group's "All-American" award during the company's recent annual sales convention in Grand Rapids. He also earned membership in the Executives Club, an honor reserved for the company's top 29 agents and agency managers for their superior insurance sales and service.

Gardner also was honored at the recent convention for qualifying for the "Leaders for Life Club" for top life insurance producers.

Farm Bureau Insurance Group, one of the state's major insurers, has a statewide force of 400 agents serving over 300,000 Michigan policyholders.

MARK STORM and MIKE GABRIEL have been named to the Legion of Honor, one of State Farm Insurance Companies most distinguished accomplishments.

Storm, an agent in the Northville area, has been a State Farm agent since 1984.

Gabriel, an agent in the Novi area, has been a State Farm agent since 1980.

State Farm is one of the world's largest insurance companies and sells auto, fire, life and health insurance. With corporate headquarters in Bloomington, Illinois, the company serves customers with over 16,000 agents and more than 700 claims offices throughout the United States and Canada.

NORMA HAZLETT and FRED SCHMITT of Schweitzer Real Estate of Northville were honored recently at an awards banquet at the Detroit Athletic Club for the top producers in 1986 from the 20 offices from the Detroit Metropolitan area.

Company President Anthony V. Rizzo reported that Schmitt and Hazlett have been associated with the Northville office for a combined total of 17 years and together have over 23 years of real estate experience.

Hazlett has been a Northville resident since 1936. Schmitt is a Plymouth resident.

THOMAS BUEHNER has been named director of the new Mervyn's store now under construction in the Novi Town Center.

Buehner joined Mervyn's in 1975 and has held various store management positions including his most recent as director of Mervyn's store in El Paso, Texas.

He is a graduate of San Jose University in San Jose, California. In his new position, Buehner will report to John Gardner, district manager.

Mervyn's is a value-oriented family department store specializing in soft goods. The company will open its first stores in Michigan this October.

CAROL L. BRANDON and KERRY L. WEBER have joined the R. A. DeMattia Company, a leading design/build general contracting firm headquartered in Plymouth.

Brandon is an executive secretary and will be responsible for administrative support to the sales and marketing departments. She holds a certificate in office communications from Central Michigan University.

Weber, as marketing coordinator, will be responsible for many of the firm's marketing and promotional activities. She holds a bachelor of arts in communications from Michigan State University.

R. A. DeMattia, a Northville resident, will celebrate his firm's 10th birthday with an open house at the headquarters in Plymouth on July 9.

EUGENE J. BUATTI, DDS, recently moved into a new office for orthodontics practice at 22304 Pontiac Trail in South Lyon. He has had offices at two other locations in South Lyon for six years.

The office features the current orthodontic office design which utilizes the open concept to create a feeling of space. The reception room is large with windows and light walls. The furniture is light and contemporary to avoid "filling up the room." Fabric-covered chairs and fabric wall hangings help to control sound, in addition to decorating the walls.

Large plants are used extensively to help blend the interior of the office with the outside. The reception room, receptionists' area and hallway have walls at angles to avoid the "boxed-in effect."

As opposed to conventional treatment cubicles, the treatment area is a large room with two light-colored contour dental chairs.

Buatti is a graduate of South Lyon High School and the University of Michigan School of Dentistry, where he received his specialty degree in orthodontics. He is a clinical professor of orthodontics at the U-of-M.

DOUGLAS R. BRAMBLE of Novi has joined Ross Roy, Inc. advertising agency as an account administrator. The announcement was made by Rex B. Smith, vice president/Group Account Supervisor.

In his new position, Bramble will be responsible for coordinating the agency's internal activities on the Chrysler Merchandising account.

Bramble graduated from Michigan State University with a BA degree in Telecommunications.

DEBORAH BRENNAN of Novi has been promoted to the position of second vice president and audit officer of the Auditing Department by Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit.

Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit is the leading bank subsidiary of Manufacturers National Corporation, a bank holding company based in Detroit. Eight subsidiary banks are located in Bay City, Coopersville, Lansing, Livonia, Novi, St. Clair Shores, Saline and Southfield.

BBB issues warnings about sales positions

Recent graduates or people interested in employment as traveling (or door-to-door) sales representatives should proceed with caution, warns the Better Business Bureau.

Ads offering good pay, glamor, travel, training and advancement are often used to recruit the young and unemployed. These ads usually don't indicate the company's name—only the name and local phone number of the recruiter.

Those who answer the ads are usually interviewed at a local hotel or motel. Those interviewed generally must quickly decide whether to accept the job. What they find out—often once they're on the road and away from home—is that the job involves door-to-door sales for magazines, books, chemical cleaners or other products, and conditions are not at all as expected.

Crew members work long hours under close supervision. There is pressure to meet sales quotas and pay is by commission only. Some salespeople have been left stranded far from home when they haven't made enough sales or have challenged the rules of the company.

Some state laws require door-to-door salespeople to immediately show customers identification indicating who they are, the name of the company they represent, and the purpose of the visit. In many cities and counties the sales crews must register with local authorities. Often sales supervisors ignore such regulations and do not tell their salespersons they are violating the law.

Those considering this type of job should check out the company with the BBB office nearest its headquarters. Get all details in writing about the job, such as food and lodging programs, who is to pay for or provide transportation, etc. If possible, try to speak to several people who have worked in sales for the company you are considering.

Never be pressured into taking a job before checking out the company to your satisfaction.

Consumers announces two percent rate drop

Despite the effects of inflation, Consumers Power Company's electric rates have decreased more than two percent compared to 1986, according to information recently released by the Edison Electric Institute (EEI), the national association of electric utilities.

Electric bills for Consumers Power Company's typical residential, commercial and industrial customers showed decreases ranging from 2.0 to 3.9 percent from January 1986 to January 1987, according to EEI. The last electric rate increase for Consumers Power was in August 1985.

The EEI survey of 208 utilities shows that approximately 70 percent, or 146, of the utilities surveyed had a higher bill for a typical residential electric customer than Consumers Power.

The average cost per kilowatt-hour of electricity in the U.S. for all classes of customers in 1986 was 6.49 cents. Consumers Power's average cost was 6.31 cents, or 2.8 percent below the national average, 3.5 percent below the regional average among east north central states of 6.54 cents and 8.8 percent below the Michigan average of 6.92 cents.

"This survey demonstrates the competitiveness both nationally and regionally of Consumers Power electric rates. By lowering our fuel expenses through successful renegotiation of coal purchase contracts and by reducing our operating expenses, we have held the line on increases in electric bills," said Stephen H. Howell, executive vice president of energy distribution for Consumers Power. "We're doing a good job of keeping costs down and this benefits all of our customers."

Consumers Power Company, the principal subsidiary of CMS Energy Corporation, is Michigan's largest utility serving almost six million of the state's nine million residents in 67 of the 68 Lower Peninsula counties.

Life insurance — a hot new investment

A few years ago, if you heard someone at a cocktail party bragging about what a great investment his new life insurance policy was, you probably would have headed straight for the buffet table.

But faced with the same scenario today, you just might want to stop and listen.

Why all the fuss about life insurance being a hot new investment? Investment income on the cash-value of whole life insurance policies has always been allowed to accumulate untaxed. And generally the proceeds of the death benefit received by the beneficiaries have never been subject to federal income tax.

Well, the rules may be the same, but the economic climate has changed, reports the Michigan Association of CPAs. With tax reform eliminating or sharply restricting many tax shelters, life insurance is being viewed as one of the few remaining ways to shelter income. Actually, life insurance as an investment hasn't gotten all that much better; it's just that everything else has gotten worse.

As a result, insurance policies are being marketed with a new aggressiveness. While the single-premium life insurance policy has been receiving the most attention, whole life, variable life and universal life all provide triple-fold benefits. There's a death benefit, a tax-deferred investment opportunity and a source from which to borrow.

Surely, you're well aware of the advantage of having a death benefit to protect your survivors in the event of your death. At one time this was the only reason for buying life insurance. But now life insurance is being viewed by some as an attractive investment. No longer do cash value policies pay meager interest rates. New types of policies like universal life and variable life were designed to counteract the criticism of the low rates paid on whole life insurance policies. Now many policies declare a guaranteed rate for a specific period of time, after which the rate is adjusted periodically to reflect market rates. But while some of the rates may appear to be very attractive, keep in mind that some companies quote gross rates from which fees and expenses have not yet been deducted. Your real rate of return is what you receive after all commissions, administrative and advisory expenses have been deducted.

Variable policies leave the investment decisions up to you. The policy holder is offered a choice of mutual funds and then elects how to allocate the policy's cash value among the different funds. Like fund families, most companies allow you to switch from fund to fund, either at no charge or for a small fee. In either case, your earnings may accumulate on a tax-deferred basis.

Now what happens if you need the money? Rather than cash in your policy and trigger taxes, you can generally borrow from your earnings with no tax consequences at all. And the good news doesn't end there because, in most cases, the cost of borrowing the money you need is low. You don't even have to pay back the money, although the amount borrowed will lower the death benefit of your policy if not paid back at the time of your death.

As a general rule, you must hold on to a cash value policy for at least 10 years in order to reach the point where your investment income exceeds the commissions and fees deducted — so you'll want to give careful thought to your needs before investing.

Now what exactly is single-premium life insurance and why is it receiving so much attention? Single-premium life insurance is just what it sounds like — a life insurance policy paid up in one single, lump-sum payment. The initial premium is large, ranging from a minimum of $5,000 up to a million dollars or more and the amount doesn't buy a whole lot of insurance. But, then, most people don't buy a single-premium policy for its death benefit. Single-premium life insurance has become an attractive option for high-income investors seeking a tax shelter.

With single-premium life insurance, you may select a policy with a fixed, interest-sensitive rate or a variable policy and, like other cash value policies, the single-premium policy allows you to take low- or no-interest loans from the earnings on your policy with no tax liability. Most plans allow policyholders to borrow 75 percent of their cash value during the first year and up to 90 percent after that.

The single-premium policy has been highlighted as a way to finance a child's college education, particularly if you happen to have an extra 10- or 20-thousand dollars to invest when the child is young. If so, you can invest the large sum in a single-premium policy and allow the cash value to accumulate untaxed over the years. When the time comes, you take out interest-free loans to pay tuition.

But beware, the consequences for early surrender of a single-life policy are severe. Cash in your policy and the IRS will tax all earnings including any loans you may have taken. And during the first few years, you will also forfeit part of your premium in early — surrender charges imposed by the insurer.

Another caution — there are those who feel that single-premium life policies may soon go the way of other tax-shelters. You'll probably want to consult an expert before proceeding.

With all the enticing features to today's insurance policies, it's easy to lose sight of the fact that the purpose of buying life insurance is to provide for the financial well-being of your survivors. The amount of coverage your dollars can buy varies widely among the different types of policies, with term insurance offering the most coverage for your premium dollars.

CPAs suggest you take care of your family's insurance needs first before considering the use of life insurance as a tax-sheltered investment. Don't skimp on the death benefit because you are hungry for a tax-deferred investment.

Abundance of options complicates decisions more frequent health care should make certain the HMO plan they join has the types of doctors, specialists and hospitals they want and need.

PPOs are defined as a group of health care providers who offer services to health care purchasers on a predetermined financial basis. The service is usually discounted under terms which encourage sponsored individuals to select providers for service.

There are three basic types of PPOs.

Provider-based — a group of physicians or physicians and hospitals. A hospital, group of independent hospitals or a multi-hospital system in conjunction with participating physicians from the medical staff form a PPO and enter into agreements with self-insured employers or insurance companies.

Payor-based — sponsored by the payor and insurer of health benefits coverage, i.e. an insurance company, a self-insured employer or a health benefits trust. In this arrangement, the payor contracts with individual providers and has a very high degree of control over the network.

Entrepreneur-based — a third-party holds agreements with both the insurance payor and the provider, most likely developed by an organization that provides administrative services for the payment of insurance claims (such as a third party administrator). This type of PPO system tends to be the most geographically restricted.

According to Carris, the basic difference between a PPO and an HMO is that PPO permit you to go outside their own network of health care providers and still be reimbursed. In that sense, a PPO has somewhat more flexibility than an HMO.

Carris cautions, however, that the percent of reimbursement for going outside the system is not as great as it is for staying within the system's approved list of doctors and hospitals. "If you stay within the system, the plan may cover 100 percent of your costs," said Carris. "You can go outside the system if you desire, but the degree of coverage usually drops perhaps anywhere from 50 to 75 percent of your medical costs will be covered if you decide to go outside the system."

The purpose of all the HMOs and PPOs, said Carris, is to bring an element of cost containment to medical care services.

Large health care plans can now go to doctors and hospitals and say they will only pay so much for a particular type of service or operation.

Carris notes that the U.S. Government through its Medicare administration has established a list of approximately 740 "types" of services and said it will only pay so much money for each of those specific types of treatment.

The result, said Carris, is that health care providers — doctors and hospitals — have had to become much more cost conscious. "They know they will only get so much money from Medicare for a given service, so it becomes incumbent on them to be able to provide that service within the cap established by the Medicare system."

"After Medicare established those guidelines, there was a tendency for health care providers to pass along to the insurance companies any losses incurred as a result of the caps established by the Medicare system."

"What's happening with these new group plans is that the insurance companies are doing the same thing as Medicare has done."

"The result is that health care providers have to pay a great deal of attention to the costs of their services — something that didn't happen very often previously. For the first time, you're now hearing about hospitals laying off people, being sold or going out of business completely."

AAA Michigan predicts record July 4 travel

Statewide Sesquicentennial celebrations and continued hot weather should help boost Fourth of July travel 6 percent over last year and contribute to a record-setting $8.7 billion summer tourism season, according to AAA Michigan.

"Bolstered by one of the best Memorial Day holidays ever, the summer started strongly and should continue that way through Labor Day," said AAA Michigan Tourism Manager James Drury.

Overall, the State Travel Bureau expects a record $14.5 billion in tourism revenues to be generated this year, a 6 percent increase over the record $13.7 billion in 1986. About 60 percent of that revenue is collected during the summer travel season which is extended this year because Labor Day is on Sept. 7.

Motorists are expected to travel a record 870 million miles during the 78-hour holiday period, a 5 percent jump over the 830 million miles traveled during the 1986 holiday, according to the Michigan Department of Transportation.

The holiday officially runs from 6 p.m. Thursday (July 2) to midnight Sunday (July 5).

A key ingredient to a successful July 4 is the large number of holiday celebrations scheduled, including Detroit's International Freedom Festival, the start of Traverse City's Cherry Festival, Bay City's Fireworks Festival and Mackinac Island's Stone Skipping Contest.

Hot weather through much of June has helped push state park campground reservations 16 percent ahead of last year at this time with record mid-June use at some facilities. During the July 4 holiday in 1986, 42 of 43 Lower Peninsula state parks filled at least one night and similar use is expected this year.

Reservations at private campgrounds are up over last year, and many southern Michigan facilities are booked for the July 4 weekend. Sites are available in the central and northern sections of the state, but reservations are recommended.

Among the attractions reporting strong attendance increases so far this year are Greenfield Village in Dearborn and Mackinac Island, both up 20 percent, and the Gerald R. Ford Presidential Museum in Grand Rapids, up nearly 12 percent. Mackinac Bridge crossings are up more than 10 percent.

Other key indicators show AAA travel routing requests are up nearly 12 percent to Lower Peninsula destinations and more than 4 percent to the Upper Peninsula over this time last year.

Motorists will find gasoline prices about 2 cents per gallon higher than this time last year with self-serve no-lead along main state highways selling for an average of 96.4 cents per gallon.

During last year's 78-hour July 4 holiday, 23 persons died on Michigan roads. More than 50 percent of the fatal accidents involved alcohol. Of the 18 victims who had safety belts available, only four were buckled up.

For the 23rd year, AAA's "Bring 'Em Back Alive!" Holiday News Service will provide hourly traffic and tourism reports to more than 140 Michigan radio stations. Bulletins will be broadcast from 3 p.m. Thursday, July 2, through 11 p.m. Sunday, July 5.

ICE CREAM, PLEASE

It's the dessert we all scream for

By Brian Perkins

Who said imports into our country are all bad? If not for imports, there would be no ice cream in the U.S. Of the many different kinds of ice cream — sherbet, ice milk, soft frozen — all possess a taste ice cream lovers crave.

The history of ice cream is a long one. The Chinese invented the dessert before the 14th century in the form of fruit-flavored water ice. When Marco Polo paid a visit to China during that time, he took the recipe back to Italy.

The Chinese also taught the Indians and Arabs to make water ices, which they called sherbets. The French started eating ice cream in the 16th century, when Catherine de Medici, then the queen of France, brought with her a chef who pleased the French court with his iced confections.

The ice cream industry grew and prospered under Napoleons I, II and III. During this time period, ice cream bases became richer and more refined and were shaped into elaborate shapes.

Ice cream was not foreign to Americans during that time either. Thomas Jefferson brought back a recipe from France in which ingredients were beaten by hand in a pot freezer, then shaken up and down in a pan of ice and salt until frozen.

In 1784, George Washington wrote in his account book about "a cream machine for making ice," and both the wife of Alexander Hamilton and Dolly Madison helped make ice cream popular in high political circles.

America made a contribution to ice cream technology when Nancy Johnson invented the portable, hand-cranked freezer. In 1851, Jacob Fussell set up the first U.S. wholesale ice cream business in Baltimore. American creators invented the ice cream soda in Philadelphia in 1874 and the ice cream cone during the St. Louis Fair of 1904.

In the 20th century, ice cream making developed into a highly automated and competitive industry. Today, the U.S. leads the world in the production and consumption of ice cream.

A push to reach new customers, some of whom like the taste of ice cream but not the calories, has led to increased competition.

In addition to different people and countries making changes in the form and shape of ice cream, ingredients have also been added to the dessert over time to make it more appealing.

Some of the ingredients that can be found in ice cream include milk fat, nonfat milk solids or other

Making your own is easy

By Susan J. Kaupila

There are few people who don't like ice cream, especially the homemade varieties.

But the thought of going through all the fuss of cooking the basic custard and making it in a regular electric or hand-crank freezer is enough to give one second thoughts about doing the work involved.

Today, however, there are new types of ice cream makers which require little work and cost between $25 to $60. Most utilize an outside cylinder which is frozen overnight in one's freezer. The ice cream mixture is poured into the center, a paddle is inserted, and then turned several times a minute up to about 20 minutes.

The advantage of these new gadgets is that they do not require ice or salt, and are less messy.

However, even if you do not own one of these new ice cream makers, you can still make good ice cream or sherbet by using just your freezer.

For your summer eating pleasure, we are including a variety of recipes and methods.

Vanilla Ice Cream

Six eggs
One cup sugar
Two cups milk
Two teaspoons vanilla
One-half teaspoon salt
Two cups heavy cream, whipped

Beat eggs until thick and lemon-colored. Blend in sugar, milk, vanilla, and salt. Fold in whipped cream. Pour into two cold refrigerator trays. Freeze until partially set. Break into chunks into large, cold bowl. Beat until light and fluffy but not melted. Pour back into refrigerator trays and freeze until firm. Makes about eight servings.

Variations

Be adventurous. Add mini-chocolate chips, about one-half cup, and substitute mint flavoring for the vanilla for a chocolate-mint flavor. Toasted coconut or mashed bananas or one cup of cold, strong coffee (for part of the milk - omit vanilla) are also good suggestions.

Strawberry Ice Cream

Slice two cups fresh strawberries; sprinkle with one-quarter cup sugar. Let stand while you make ice cream. Omit vanilla. Add berries at second beating and continue process.

Maple Nut

Instead of vanilla, substitute two teaspoons maple flavoring; add one-half cup pecans or other nuts at second beating.

Garden path invites visitors to rear yard

Bill and Donna Kevra have planted every inch of the property that surrounds their 100-year old home at 124 High Street with plants, flowers and trees to create landscaping "that is a symphony of color and variety." Judy Beyersdorf and Pat Eden, co-chairpersons of the Country Girls Garden of the Month project, report

They selected the Kevras' in-town yard located just off West Main Street as the July Garden of the Month because of the many details that make it unique, they note. In the nine years since the couple bought the property they have laid flagstone paths and built a decorative fence with cut-out designs and decorative details and have filled their yard with a wide variety of plantings.

Borders of plants have been outlined with swirls of hosta. Many unusual plants were started with clippings Donna Kevra's mother passed along to her

The Kevras list 124 plants and trees growing on their city lot, including Snowdrift crab, Rivers birch and Newport plum trees. There are astilbe, peony, wildflower bluebells and yellow evening primroses as well as trillium and violets

Vines include wisteria, hydrangea climber, euonymus climber and a trumpet vine. Old fashioned favorites include pansies, lily-of-the-valley, shasta daisies, carpathian bellflowers, hens and chicks and bachelor buttons

The quilt designs decorating the front porch and back fence were created in wood by Bill Kevra and painted by his wife Donna Kevra has begun a free-lance business. Foiled Again, of weaving, needlework, stained glass and a collection of more than 400 miniature Cabbage Patch dolls. Her stained glass works are seen in the windows of the Kevra home

THE WORLD'S BEST TOOL FOR MOWING THE LAWN.

One reason Honda lawn mowers are so popular is that most have Honda Overhead Valve engines—so they're rugged and long lasting. Plus, with sturdy cast iron cylinder sleeves, sealed shaft drive systems and electronic ignitions, they'll take on extra yardage season after season.

Since they're Honda Overhead Valve four-stroke engines, they run up to 30% more fuel-efficient than comparable side valve engines.

Honda mowers are available in rear and side discharge models, in push and self-propelled designs. And each one will go for extra yardage.

It's all cold, but there are differences in ice cream milk-derived substances, sugars, corn syrup, water, flavoring, egg products, stabilizers and emulsifiers, plus a large amount of air.

Minimum standards require that a gallon of ice cream weigh at least 4.5 pounds, contain not less than 10 percent milk fat and 2.7 percent protein and have at least 1.6 pounds of food solids per gallon.

Here is a list of some of the terms that ice cream sellers and lovers have in their ice cream vocabulary:

□ Cassata: a molded ice cream from Naples that is filled with layers of diced fruit and nuts or macaroons.

□ Coupe glacé: the French version of the ice cream sundae. Served in a stemmed glass or silver cup. It consists of liqueur-soaked fruit, one or two scoops of ice cream, plus a topping of creme chantilly or candied fruit.

□ Dietary frozen dairy dessert: a low-calorie product made in the U.S. with certain minimum standards set by law. These products include less than two percent milk fat, at least seven percent milk solids by weight, 11 pounds of food solids per gallon and a minimum weight of 4.5 pounds per gallon.

□ Ice milk: a product similar to ice cream in the sense that it satisfies all the legal requirements of ice cream and must contain the following ingredients: between two and seven percent milk fat, at least 2.7 percent protein and not less than 1.3 pounds of food solids per gallon.

□ Sherbet: closer to a water ice than ice cream, it contains a small amount of milk product. It's usually made in fruit flavors and in the U.S. it must weigh at least six pounds per gallon and contain 0.35 percent edible citric or natural fruit acid.

□ Soft-frozen dairy products: By law they must contain at least 1.4 percent egg yolk solids for plain flavor and 1.12 percent for bulky flavors. Nearly 75 percent of the soft-frozen dairy products sold are accounted for by ice milk, which is sold directly to the customer after coming from a mixing/freezing machine.

□ Sundae: An American invention, it's a dish of ice cream topped with fruit, syrup or a sauce and usually garnished with chopped nuts and whipped cream.

□ Water ice: the original ice cream, made of fruit juice, sugar and water. Sometimes egg white is added as a thickener, binder and stabilizer. Don't confuse this with sherbet, which contains milk products.

There are many ice cream parlors in the area that wet the taste buds of ice cream lovers.

Guernsey Farms Dairy, 21300 Novi Road in Northville, has been selling ice cream on the same site for the past 22 years.

Guernsey doesn't sell a large amount of diet ice cream. Most of their ice cream has a butterfat level of 12 percent, which is much higher compared to their sherbet ice cream, which only has two percent milk fat.

"When people buy ice cream they don't worry about their diets," said John McGuire, owner of Guernsey. He said that when someone has a taste of his ice cream, they're customers for life.

Just who are ice cream buyers? According to McGuire, they come in all shapes and sizes, not to mention ages.

"We had a 78-year-old couple come in here last week," McGuire said. "Everybody eats ice cream."

McGuire said that ice cream sales are peaking right now, because in August people have other desserts to eat.

"They can eat desserts like watermelon," McGuire said.

All of Guernsey's ice cream - over 50 flavors - is homemade. It takes about a day to make the ice cream. After it's made, the ice cream is stored for a few days. At that point, customers can buy the dessert treat.

Some of the flavors that Guernsey sells are black cherry, cherry vanilla, toffee bark, maple nut and butter pecan.

"On June 4, 1984, 'People Magazine' rated our butter pecan the best in the country," said Marty McGuire, one of the sons of the owner.

During a three-week period after the article first appeared, Guernsey went from selling 250 half gallons of butter pecan ice cream per week to 2,000 half gallons.

That huge growth in sales only lasted for a few weeks, McGuire said.

Duffer's Ice Cream Parlor, 113 East Commerce in Milford, which gets their ice cream from Wesley's Quaker Maid, uses fresh cream, skim milk, corn sweeteners and sugar as some of their ingredients.

Duffer's sells double-dip sundaes, in addition to designer sundaes, which have more extras such as hot fudge, whipped topping or fruit.

Stroh's Ice Cream Parlor and Restaurant, 22311 Pontiac Trail, gets their ice cream from the plant in Detroit.

Stroh's started making ice cream in 1919, during prohibition. The company already had the refrigerators, and as a result hired people who knew how to make ice cream.

Stroh's also sells ice cream with less than five percent butterfat for weight watchers. Most of Stroh's ice cream has a 12 percent level of butterfat.

And then we have the new kid on the block in Howell. Country Swirl, 134 E. Sibley, opened up in mid-June on a former car dealership site.

The ice cream maker at Country Swirl produces 14 percent butterfat ice cream, but the business also offers soft-serve desserts, which contain only five percent butterfat.

Day Tripping

The curtain's up in

Stratford

By Jean Day

Ill blows the wind that profits nobody

The words are William Shakespeare's in "Henry VI." For 35 seasons now the works of the bard, and others, have been profiting the Ontario town of Stratford 204 miles from Detroit. They also have been providing major theatrical entertainment for visitors from Canada and the United States.

From a modest beginning in a tent in 1953, the Stratford Festival now boasts three theaters in a season that stretches from May to October. Throughout this expansion, Stratford has retained its pleasant small town appearance on the banks of the Avon River.

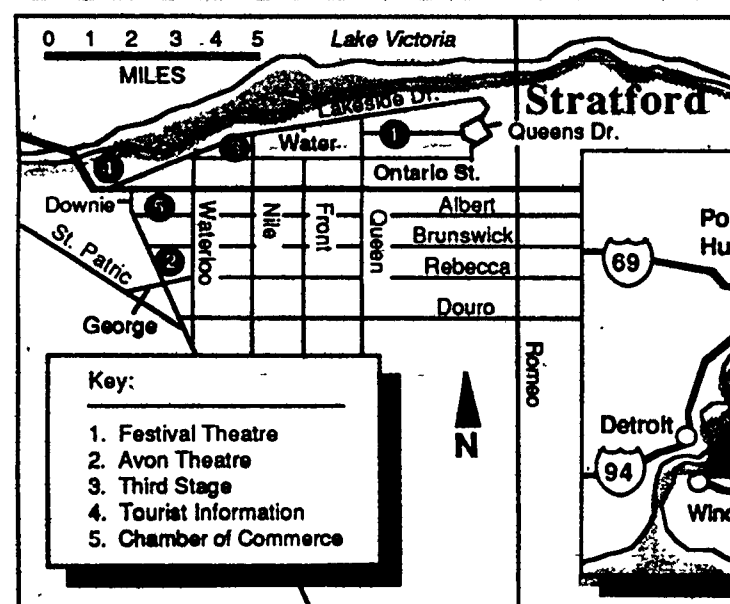

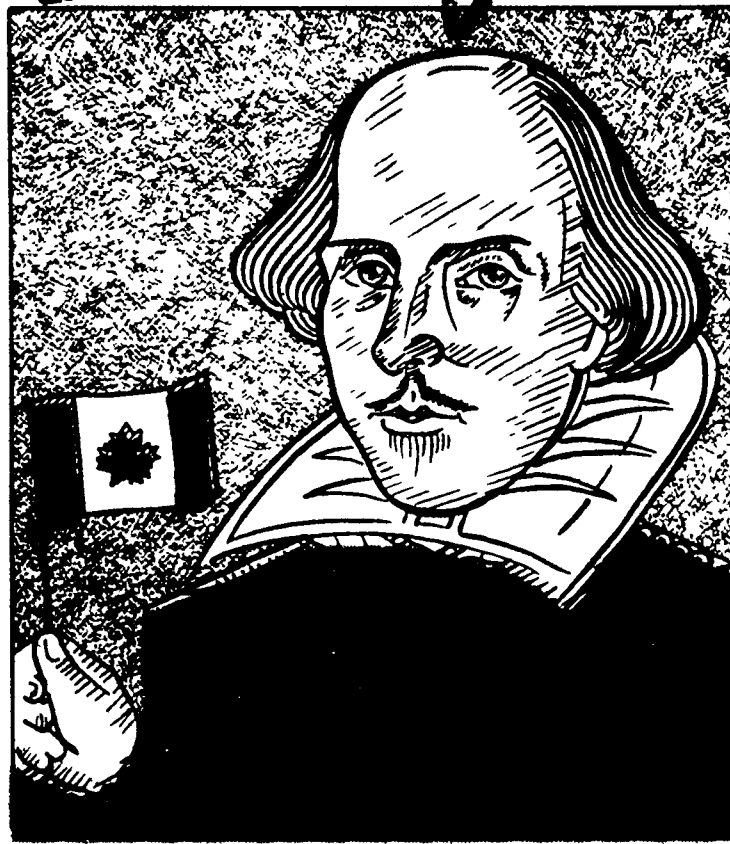

For those who may never have ventured across the border for a getaway weekend of theater, dining, and yes, shopping because the idea of Shakespearean theater seemed a bit heavy, be aware that Shakespeare is offered in the major theaters, the Festival Theatre and Avon Theatre, in only two productions this season.

Eight other productions are being performed in repertory, and the Young Company at the Third Stage offers two non-Shakespearean plays as well as two by Shakespeare.

It's possible even to rise early, leave by 8 a.m. and arrive in time to see a 2 p.m. Saturday or Sunday matinee, have dinner at one of the many excellent restaurants the festival has attracted — and arrive home before midnight.

Ideally, however, visitors should spend a weekend, leaving on Friday night to qualify for the 48-hour stay in Canada that allows visitors to bring back $400 each in merchandise. Shops along Stratford's downtown streets are filled with English china and Canadian hand-crafts. There are cheese, candy shops and bakeries as well as factory outlets, such as the Samsonite factory's and the Avon Sweater Shop.

Also, the exchange on the dollar is still favorable. When we changed traveler's checks at a Canadian bank June 19, the rate was $1.33 in Canadian for $1 American.

(Traveler's checks gain an even better exchange than cash, which was $1.32.)

That makes the best seats in the house on weekends cost $22.55 U.S. Others in the Festival and Avon theaters are as low as $14 with rush seats sold the day of a performance for $9.40 U.S. funds. For those who can take a couple of days midweek, rates are even lower.

"Cabaret," the Broadway musical set in the Berlin of the late 1930s with a score that declares "Life is a cabaret, old chum..." is receiving fine reviews, as is the "School for Scandal," "Mother Courage," "Othello" and "Much Ado About Nothing" are other Festival Theatre attractions. "Nora," "The Cherry Orchard," "Trollius and Cressida," "Not About Heroes" and "Intimate Admirations" are at the Avon.

It's possible to reserve tickets with a credit card on a Detroit telephone line, 964-4668. Accommodations also may be reserved on the number.

In addition to such top motels as the Festival Inn, air conditioned with an indoor pool and whirlpool located a few blocks out of town on Ontario Street, and Bentley's Inn downtown, there are some 37 bed and breakfast guest houses listed. Our room at the Festival Inn was $72 Canadian (which drops to about $54 U.S.) Most bed and breakfasts are listed in the $30-$55 range, Canadian.

Dining can be an adventurous part of a day or weekend in Stratford and environs. Stratford has an abundance of restaurants at all price levels, from a tiny bakery on Ontario Street (excellent and reasonable) to the Church Restaurant with French cuisine.

For those who feel one evening of theater is sufficient, there's opportunity to explore the Mennonite town of St. Jacobs to the north, the old stone town of St. Mary's seven miles west and the hamlet of Shakespeare just east of Stratford.

The Elm Hurst: Fit for a King

dining out
JEAN DAY

A pleasant stop for day visitors to Stratford, as well as for anyone spending the weekend, is a Victorian gothic former manor house, Elm Hurst, in Ingersoll, Ontario, just off Highway 401 at Exit 218B to Stratford.

Built in 1872 as the residence of the James Harris family, it has been converted to a restaurant featuring prime rib, Yorkshire pudding and other traditional Canadian cuisine.

Open daily for lunch and dinner, diners have a choice of buffet or a la carte, except on Saturday which is buffet only at lunch.

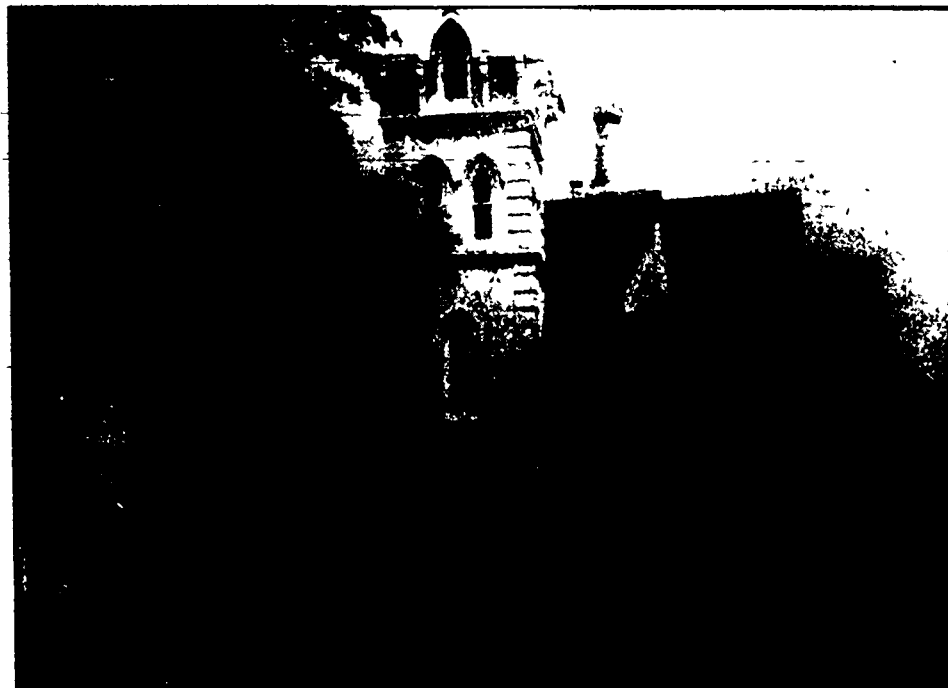

During a lunch stop there en route to Stratford in June, the buffet featured 12 different salads. But the selections were far from mundane. They included delicious shredded crab, liver pate and herring as well as pickled beets and potato salad.

The main course selections were equally appealing. They included a vegetable mix of tiny carrots and green beans, rice or browned potatoes, chicken Hawaiian, roast beef and excellent ham.

Even though dieters might be tempted to skip the dessert buffet, one look would make it impossible. The strawberry trifle was a treat as were the tiny chocolate eclairs. A compote of fresh fruits — oranges, melons and other fruits — was offered also along with watermelon slices.

Lunchtime diners included area residents who seemed to be regulars, from London and St. Mary's as well as Stratford.

The luncheon a la carte menu included crab and spinach salad shell, a seafood medley baked in a creamy white wine sauce under a layer of local cheese and asparagus spears and served with tossed greens. French onion soup and a salad, traditional Eggs Benedict and a cheese and fruit plate also were listed. The a la carte dinner menu in June featured, as appetizers, pate "country style" served with Cumberland sauce, smoked Canadian salmon, artichoke bottom "unique" (artichoke bottoms stuffed with crab meat and garnished with Hollandaise sauce) as well as escargots Bourguignonne with a half-dozen snails imported from France and crowned with mushroom caps.

The Elm Hurst is located in the renovated 1872 home of James Harris, the pioneer of Canada's cheese industry.

Soup choices included creamy Victorian Cheddar Cheese soup.

This selection seemed especially appropriate as Elm Hurst's original owners pioneered the cheese industry. A plaque on the property commemorates Oxford County as the birthplace of the commercial cheese industry in Canada. James Harris had erected the first cheese factory on the farm in the Ingersoll District in 1865. In restoring Elm Hurst, the elaborate moldings and ceiling decorations were retained. Inside the oatmeal brick mansion (a typical brick seen throughout Ontario), diners are seated on velvet covered chairs at tables with linen cloths and napkins.

Elm Hurst is located in Ingersoll, Ont., 30 miles south of Stratford (although the signs may say 45 kilometers, used instead of miles in Canada) on Highway 19. Lunch is served Monday through Saturday from noon to 2 p.m. Dinner is served from 5 p.m. onwards. Sunday brunch is from 10:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., with dinner from 4-8 p.m. American Express, MasterCard and Visa are accepted. Reservations are suggested for dinner. Telephone is 519-485-5321. Elm Hurst has a seating capacity of 90 so that travelers have a good chance of being seated without reservations.
