SEN. ROBERT GEAKE

Budget vetoes lead Geake's fall agenda

By ANITA CRONE

State Sen. R. Robert Geake didn't get much of a summer vacation this year.

As the No. 2 ranking Republican on the Senate Appropriations Committee, Geake spent much of the summer as he spent the spring, shuttling between Northville and Lansing to try to work out compromises on the Fiscal 1988 budget line items vetoed by the Governor.

He lists restoring those vetoed items, or at least some of them, as the first priority as the new legislative session begins.

Also on Geake's list are taxes, both shifts and increases, and the question of a state bailout for Wayne County.

Locally, Geake, who represents Plymouth, Canton, the Wayne Coun-

REP. GERALD LAW

Law hopes to enact senior health trust

By ANITA CRONE

Gerald H. Law has a lot on his mind.

As the third-term legislator heads back to Lansing, he's already bubbling over with plans.

"I'd like to see codification of family law," Law said. "We've been working with the Michigan Bar Association for five years now in an attempt to codify the family law in this state. We're on the second draft and it's already 160 pages."

Law said he also would like to see some action taken to impose minimum ages for certain video rentals; see the establishment of a medical trust to handle catastrophic illness or long-term nursing home care, especially for the elderly; reform in the workers' compensation program; and, product liability reform, especially a portion that would give some potential relief from lawsuits to volunteers and directors.

Wetland issue hearing Oct. 1

By BOB NEEDHAM

The state department of natural resources, which recently denied a permit to build on a wetlands in the middle of a planned Northville subdivision, will soon consider a new proposal from the developer.

The Singh Development Company, builders of the partly-finished Pheasant Hills subdivision north of Eight Mile and west of Taft, last year asked the DNR to allow part of the wetlands to be filled in, but in June the DNR denied the request. The company has since submitted a new application, and the DNR scheduled a public hearing on the plan for 7 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 1, in Northville City Hall.

The wetland is part of the Randolph Drain, a small waterway running through much of the city. The Singh plan includes filling about an acre and a half of wetlands in order to build a road. In addition, the company would build culverts in three places for roads to cross the drain.

To replace the filled wetlands, the company plan shows creation of 2.37 acres of new wetlands — including replacement plants — in the open space remaining in the subdivision. The company would replace the filled wetlands with 1.5 times as much new wetlands.

Of the site's 83 acres, about 10.57 acres is defined as wetlands. According to the company's application, area animals probably include rabbits, mice, raccoons, opossum, muskrats, deer, waterfowl, redwing blackbirds, yellowthroat warblers and other birds.

"There are many issues that we have to consider. One of the main things that we have to consider up front is: What are the alternatives for the applicant?"

— Les Thomas
water quality specialist

The wetlands would mostly involve one road, Pond Island Drive, which is already shown completed on the newest city maps. The development — which ran into delays in the city approval process under its earlier

WRC to YCUA: Keep talking

By ANITA CRONE

The Western Townships Utility Authority got some guarded good news last Thursday, but it will be at least a month before any action is taken.

The Michigan Water Resources Commission meeting in Bay City suggested that the Ypsilanti Community Utility Authority pursue plant expansion but without sending its treated sewage into Belleville Lake.

The commissioners also directed YCUA officials to meet with representatives of the Department of Natural Resources to determine whether the alternative would meet the expansion needs of the Ypsilanti treatment plant to service the non-contracted (to Detroit) flows of Northville, Plymouth and Canton townships.

Commissioner Delbert Rector, the DNR's representative on the seven-member commission, offered the compromise suggestion after nearly three hours of discussion involving the DNR's facility plan for Belleville Lake and YCUA's request to expand its plant capacity from 29 million gallons a day to 58 MGD.

Eldon Ahles, YCUA executive director, withdrew the expansion request before a vote could be taken; however, it was apparent from earlier discussions that the request was doomed.

Only one commissioner, Clem Lay, indicated any support for the YCUA request.

"We intend to continue to work with the DNR staff to reach an agreement," said Township Manager Steve Brock.

However, on Monday, Supervisor Georgina Goss said no meeting between the WTUA and the DNR had been scheduled.

"I think, for the first time in a long time, the two groups are talking to each other, and that's a good sign," Goss said.

The DNR, which is serving as a staff resource for the Water Resources Commission, had recommended that the YCUA expansion request be denied, based on an attempt to clean up Belleville Lake.

"It is clear that the phosphorus level in Belleville Lake could be lowered significantly if the YCUA and Ann Arbor plants were removed from the system," said Fred Cowles, testifying in support of the DNR effort to reduce pollution in the lake.

Cowles noted that removing the two plants, both of which were built within the last 20 years, was not a viable alternative.

"But, increasing the discharge from the YCUA plant will not help the lake," he said.

But Ahles contended that Belleville Lake was not a lake at all. "It is an impoundment with extremely short detention time, 11-13 days as an average. Nevertheless, the fishing is reported to be one of the top five in the State of Michigan. Applying the general goal of 30 micrograms/liter to Belleville Lake is therefore inappropriate," he said.

Ahles contended that YCUA officials could meet the phosphorus levels requested by the DNR with the increased flow.

"And with the addition of the com-

DNR schedules wetlands hearing

names, Pheasant Ridge and the Ponds of Northville — received preliminary plat approval from the city in May, 1986.

Singh Vice President Michael Kahm said that the company first proposed creating ponds in the subdivision, but area residents objected. "In response to their concerns we abandoned that plan," he explained.

When the DNR denied the permit earlier this year, a letter to Singh said the company's plan would destroy wetlands important for birds and other animals. "Specific areas within this wetland complex are also documented to have supported rare, threatened, or endangered plant species," the denial reads.

"Two segments of Pond Island Drive are proposed for construction in the wetland. This road has been located to accommodate the creation of six to eight residential lots. A proposal that would result in the creation of building lots at the expense of the wetland is not acceptable," the letter continues.

Kahm said the road — although it only would impact the fringe of the wetlands — is still the largest part of the application. "The road crossings are part of the permit, but they're not the major issue," he said. "The crossings have a very minimal impact on the wetland, and the DNR has acknowledged that fact."

Les Thomas, a water quality specialist in the DNR's Lansing office, said, "There are many issues that we have to consider. One of the main things that we have to consider up front is: What are the alternatives for the applicant?"

The DNR considers such applications a give-and-take process. Thomas added, if part of the wetland is filled, the DNR considers what the developer is proposing in return.

Geraldine Dolan, president of the home association in Lexington Condo Homes, just to the east of Pheasant Hills, said she will probably "somewhat" oppose the plan at the public hearing. In the work so far, she said, "the wildlife has been pretty much rooted out. There's a certain amount of natural stuff that will come back, but a lot never will."

Kahm said the company hopes to get DNR approval and begin building the rest of the subdivision yet this year.

The city's Downtown Development Authority (DDA) has been considering design possibilities for a new deck, with members hoping for construction during the summer of 1988. But recently the DDA has focused more on developing a clearer picture of the city's parking needs, and actual deck construction may wait until 1989, Walters said.

City will compile surplus land lists

A request from two citizens to buy a city-owned lot — shortly after the city put a different lot up for sale — resulted in a city council decision Monday night to review all its surplus property holdings.

The lot in question lies on the west edge of the city between Main and Dubuair. Two men who own land with Main Street frontage — just to the south of the city lot — asked the city if they could buy the lot in order to build a small subdivision.

Richard Lyon, one of the interested buyers, said they could use a right-of-way off Caldwell Street as access to the land. He said if the council approved the sale they would use the back parts of their lots combined with the city lot to create a 4 1/2-acre parcel. They would build 18 houses at most, Lyon said.

"That's a piece of property the city has looked at a number of times and never really could find a use for it," Mayor Paul Vernon said.

But the council members agreed that before making any decisions on selling property, they should review all the city-owned land which might be considered for sale.

Even if the council decides to put the lot on the market, council member Paul Folino told the applicants that the site would go through a bid process to allow sale of lots from anyone.

The council recently put the city lot at the corner of Main and Griswold up for sale. Sale proposals were due to be opened today.

Power out for 1,000

Nearly 1,000 customers in the Northville/Novi area were temporarily without power Tuesday night when two separate incidents caused the outage.

About 700 Detroit Edison customers were affected at 4:55 when a trunk line at Allen near Novi Road burned and fell into a primary power line, cutting the power from both lines.

Another power line in the same general area also was damaged and affected about 334 customers, said Bobb Vergiels, a Detroit Edison spokesman.

Vergiels said the power was restored to the 334 customers about 6 p.m. Most of the rest of the power was back on by 7:54, Vergiels said.

He noted that this year was the worst for Edison in terms of storm damage, but that the power outage in the Northville area was not storm related.

'Super Sewer' participants get status update

Representatives from the 10 communities remaining in the North Huron Valley/Rouge Valley sewer (super sewer) gathered Wednesday in Livonia City Hall to discuss a final order of abatement approved during the Michigan Water Resources Commission meeting Sept. 17.

The Livonia meeting was called by Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara in a letter.

McNamara noted two major differences in the DNR-approved plan from the county's suggestion.

"Provisions with respect to Plymouth Township, Canton Township and Northville Township have been eliminated from the order or altered since those communities are no longer part of the North Huron Valley/Rouge Valley Facilities Plan," McNamara wrote.

"Provisions which might require (Wayne) County to order the communities to take steps which are not covered in the basic Rouge Valley Agreement, or are not covered in Act 185 have been eliminated or the express understanding is place in the order that the county is not bound by actions beyond its control," the letter continued.

McNamara asked that each mayor and/or supervisor, along with the current municipal engineer, attend the meeting.

In the proposed abatement program outlined by the county:

- On or before Jan. 1, 1988, the necessary planning documents for the facilities plan would be presented for review and approval.

- On or before March 1, 1988, final construction plans and specifications for Segment I of the project would be submitted to the Northville DNR district office.

- On or before July 1, 1988, construction contracts for the first segment of the sewer will be awarded.

- On or before Aug. 1, 1988, construction on the first phase of the sewer will begin.

- On or before Oct. 1, 1988, final construction plans and specifications for the second segment of the sewer would be submitted to the DNR.

- On or before July 1, 1989, construction contracts for the second segment would be awarded.

- On or before Aug. 1, 1989, work on the second segment would begin.

- On or before July 1, 1989, Jan. 1, 1990, July 1, 1991, and Jan. 1, 1992, reports would be submitted to the DNR's water quality division.

- On or before July 1, 1992, the sewer would be complete and in continuous operation.

Still remaining in the system are the cities of Northville, Novi, Dearborn Heights, Garden City, Inkster, Livonia, the City of Plymouth and Romulus and Redford and Van Buren townships.

Northville City Manager Steve Walters said he intended to ask Jack McNeeley, the city engineer to attend the meeting, but Walters cautioned that the city was not totally sure it would participate in the project.

The city, under the latest proposed allocation plan, would be required to rent a total of 7 cubic feet per second.

"Up until about a year ago, we were under the impression that we did not need any other capacity (than the 3 cfs) already allocated," Walters said, noting that the situation with cost allocation on the sewer reminded him of a similar situation between Novi and the city over the Randolph Drain.

"We (the two cities) spent so much time arguing over who would pay what share of the cost that by the time the drain was completed, it cost both of us more than the amount we were arguing about," Walters said.

He added that the city was currently looking at other alternatives for its sewage.

"It all depends on what the cost allocations are," Walters said. "We may find that it is cheaper to build our own storage system within our sewers than it is to go with the facilities plan."

Planners to judge request to rezone home to office use

The owner of a Wing Street house has applied to the city for a change of zoning to allow the site to be used for an office building.

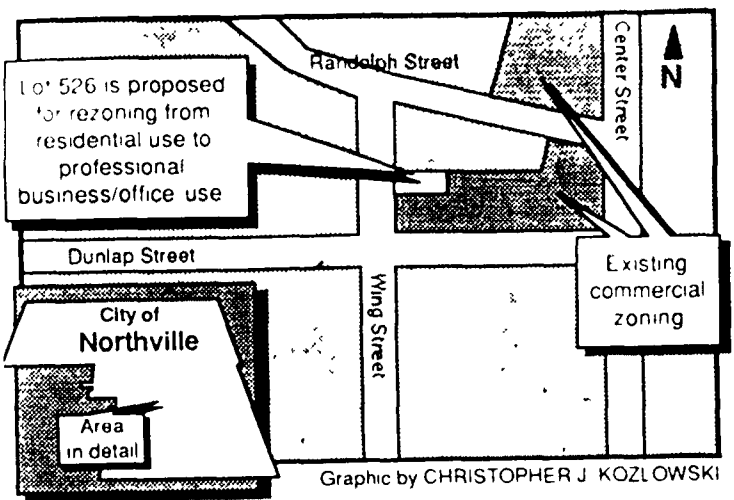

The house, on the east side of Wing just north of the Northville Watch and Clock Shop, lies on the edge of a large residential district and next to a small general commercial district (GCD) area. The owner, Bryn Hartshorn, applied to change the lot to a professional and business office (PBO) zone.

The city planning commission scheduled a public hearing on the request for Tuesday, Oct. 6. The commission recommends approval or denial of the request to the city council, which makes the final decision.

When he introduced his proposal to the planning commission earlier this month, Hartshorn said the house is currently a rental home. It would be a better as a small office building, he told the commissioners.

Under the city's zoning ordinance, PBO land may be used for general offices, medical offices, financial institutions, or public buildings. With special approval — and if certain conditions are met — PBO land may also house certain stores, sit-down restaurants, hair styling shops and small repair shops.

Hartshorn told the planning commission Sept. 1 that a commercial tenant in the house would improve its maintenance. "It just would be ideal, set up as it is, for an office."

At the meeting, Hartshorn said that a business in the house would not create any traffic after business hours. "It would basically be vacant. You wouldn't have a high-traffic type of business there," he said.

He added that the building — at 1100 square feet — would need two parking spaces to meet city requirements, and that he could provide those spaces.

The public hearing is scheduled as part of the regular planning commission meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 6, in the city council chambers, 215 W. Main.

Bowling is content dividing his time between 2 homes

By ANITA CRONE

If Stanley Bowling could have anything in the world, he said he would like to talk with his three sons, Stanley Duane, Roger Dean and Tony Allen.

He hasn't seen them in about 17 years, not since the day his wife left their home in Jackson, Ky., telling Bowling she was taking the children to the Smokies and would be back in about two days.

"That was 17 years ago, and I haven't seen them since," Bowling said. "The baby weren't much more than a couple months old. I just want to see my boys."

For the most part, Bowling, 47, says he's content with the time he spends on the old farm in Kentucky and the three months he usually spends in Northville Township, picking apples at Foreman's Orchard.

In Kentucky, Bowling says he's happy to do some carpentry for the neighbors and keeps some pony mules on the farm.

"I don't need much to live on, just enough money for some Budweiser," he says.

When he makes the trip to Michigan, the trip he has made for 20 years, he says the only difference he finds is that it's legal to drink in Wayne County.

"Back home, you go 'in the head of a holler' (to the head of a hollow) if you want to drink. It's a dry county. Here, you don't got to do that," he said.

Bowling has not come alone. Six others from Jackson, a coal-mining town of about 17,000 people, have made the trip to the Detroit area. Bowling's older brother, Lester, manages the pickers at Foreman's and Lester's wife, Julie Fay, works inside the store area.

"There isn't much work back home," Julie Fay said, explaining why she has come north. "I haven't worked steady since the nursing home I was working at decided to farm out its laundry rather than do it themselves," she said.

Bowling says he enjoys the time he spends up north, but he "don't want to live up here full time."

"I like the farm. That's my home." Bowling did work in Plymouth for 13 years, but when Plymouth National Concrete cut back, he opted to return to Kentucky.

"I got tired up here and wanted to go home. Then, I got tired down there and decided to come back here. I just drift here and yon," Bowling said.

Although Bowling has spent portions of nearly half his life in Michigan, he has not lost any of his Kentucky drawl. He also has not lost any of his independence.

"When I'm here, I'm working most of the time. We can pick apples for about six hours a day, seven days a week. You gotta get the apples into the crates before you lose the crop," he said.

The extra work required as Foreman's apples ripen doesn't bother Bowling.

"Mr. Foreman's been real decent to us. We want to do a real good job for him," he said.

While Bowling says he has never had any formal schooling, and insists he is too old to get any now, he says he is happy with the way his life has been so far.

"I don't need much money to live on, there's only me. And I don't need money for a car or truck, since I don't mind walking. I'm not a sports fan, and I believe in church."

"Bout the only thing that's missing is my sons," Bowling said.

Although he knows his former wife (one of three) is living nearby, he says he has never tried to contact his children.

"I guess if they wanted to talk to me, they know where I am."

For the next couple of months, Bowling will be at Foreman's on Seven Mile in Northville Township. Afterwards, he says, you can find him on his farm in Jackson.

Gift show at Rec Center went smoothly

The wholesalers' gift show at the Northville Community Recreation building went off smoothly, but the future of similar shows is still uncertain.

Recreation Director John Anderson said the Recreation Commission's Facilities Committee will meet soon, probably in the next two weeks — to consider the issue of commercial uses of the recreation building.

"We're going to try and figure out something," Anderson said. He identified three main points to discuss: a city decision that the recreation building may not be used for events which are mainly commercial because the building sits on residentially zoned land, a feeling among some Recreation Commission members that free enterprise is not appropriate in the building, and a feeling among others that the Michigan Association of Gift Salesmen (MAGS) deserves support.

Last month MAGS requested that the commission not allow the show because it was scheduled during a similar show at MAGS, but an agreement was signed and the show went off as scheduled. Five years ago, a similar request for a show at the center was stopped before a contract was signed because of the zoning issue.

Mustang fans, students announce plans for homecoming celebration

A full week of activities begin Monday at Northville High School leading up to the celebration of Homecoming.

The theme for the annual event is "Cartoons and Storybook Characters - the World of Animation." And cartoons certainly will play a large part in Homecoming '87, beginning with "Mickey Mouse Day" on Monday.

Along with honoring Walt Disney's lovable mouse, the students will participate in a pass-the-animal relay during the lunch hours.

Tuesday has been designated as opposite sex day. Male students are encouraged to dress as females and females as males. The planned lunch-period activity is a powder puff dress-up, where blindfolded females are dressed in Mustang football uniforms.

Super hero/villain day is Wednesday and students are encouraged to come dressed as their favorite hero or villain from the movies or comic books. In keeping with the most famous super hero of them all, Superman, the lunchtime effort will involve a Superman Peanut Butter eating contest.

On Thursday students are encouraged to turn their cartoon character sheets from bedding into togas and to join in the Smurf berry tossing contest during either of the two lunch periods. And, on Friday, Oct. 2, the animation theme is being replaced by a celebration of the orange and black.

During the lunch period, students will vie to see who can complete the best imitation of Donald Duck.

Although homecoming normally is associated with football activities, the girls' basketball team is not being left out. During halftime of the Oct. 1 contest, the underclass court will be announced, but everyone will have to wait until Friday at 1 p.m. to find out who will rule over the homecoming football game and dance on Saturday.

The royalty as well as floats designed by each of the classes, will be unveiled to the public during the parade, which begins at 6:15 at the Recreation Center parking lot and winds its way down Main and Center streets to the football stadium.

Students are chairing the entire week's worth of activities, led by the Student Congress, which is in charge of the lunchroom plans for homecoming week and by overall chairperson Roseally Sapla.

The dress up committee is chaired by Kim Wilds and Jennie Clarkston. King and queen nominations are being coordinated by the student court. Escorts are being arranged by Chris Anderson and Mark Dozier, and the class competition is being coordinated by the varsity cheerleaders. Pep Assembly chairwomen are Lisa Irwin and Kim Wolk. The football game's halftime is under the direction of Kyle Peppino and Coleen McClintock. The Pep Club is sponsoring the homecoming dance under the direction of Sapla. float chairwoman is Julie Pierman, and Kristen Cutchins and Julie Legner are in charge of the parade.

Bill Selman and Sheila Sanford are in charge of publicity.

Helping hands

Mathew Jendrychowski, 9, and Nathan Maruwski, 8, help kindergartner Aaron Surma off the school bus emergency exit at Silver Springs. The youngsters, including Derek Chester, were participating in bus safety week and learning how to safely exit a bus in an emergency.

Youth Assistance seeks new volunteers

When community leaders began talking about establishing a youth assistance program, they anticipated serving two or three youngsters a month.

Since Northville Youth Assistance began, in serving clients on April 1, there have been 27 referrals. Thirteen youths between 7 and 16 are currently matched with adult volunteers, and one youngster has been discharged from the program after successfully reaching his goals.

NYA Executive Director Mary Ellen King said the number of refer-als means that there is a definite need for the program, which is funded through grants, donations and with a joint services agreement between the city and the township. Northville Public Schools has contributed a room in Moraine School.

"With the number of referrals we've had, I sense that there are a lot of hurting children out there. And, if there are hurting children, that means there are hurting families," King said.

In addition to matching the youngsters with volunteer counselors, King said she has found herself becoming a sounding board and a referral service.

"There are a number of people who have called who have just wanted to know where to go for help," King said. "This summer I had a call from a 15-year-old girl. She was pregnant and wanted to know where to go."

King says one of her most difficult tasks has been finding volunteer counselors, especially male counselors.

"Sometimes a boy just needs a male to talk to and to work with. I've got one male counselor in a staff of 18, and really need more," she said.

Since the program began, King has added "Project Impact," a group class designed to teach children values and how to make decisions.

King says she hopes to begin a parent support group in the future if there is enough community interest.

But first, she is looking forward to a second Northville Youth Assistance training class, which begins Sept. 30.

People interested in working with Northville Youth Assistance can call King at 344-1618.

OKINAWA-TE Martial Arts, Karate

Okinawa-te is the oldest style of Okinawan Martial Arts which teaches, in part, interchangeable healing/self-defense techniques originally derived from the Chinese. There are hundreds of areas in your body that, if one learns how to push a certain way, can cause pain to an attacker, and, if pushed another way in the same spot, can relieve pain. The techniques taught are designed to work with a minimal amount of force and are easily accomplished by the mature adult. There are no hard physical exercise or punishing drills for one to learn these techniques.

- Personally taught by Mr. White, 6th degree black belt
- Has lived in this area since 1969
- Three daughters in the Martial Arts
- Active in local Jaycees
- Presently teaching in Northville Adult Education and Recreation Dept.
- National Champion in sport karate

Mr. White has been studying these Martial Arts techniques and methods for over 22 years and will teach them in such a way that they will prove easy and practical for the average person.

You will be amazed at all the different aspects of the Martial Arts you can learn!

Township sets 3.7 mill tax rate after Truth in Taxation hearing

Northville Township established a millage rate of 3.7 mills, last Thursday, during a special meeting of the board of trustees.

By informing the public of its intent to set the rate at 3.7, the township met the requirements of the Truth in Taxation law.

Truth in Taxation requires that if a taxing agency would receive more money, based on state equalized valuation, per parcel than the money received in a previous year, it would be required to hold a public hearing on the matter.

The SEV in the township increased about 15 percent and, by setting the millage rate at 3.7, the township can expect to receive about $70,000 more than it would have had it not held the hearing.

The board's action came after two public hearings and with virtually no discussion during the Sept. 17 meeting.

Under a new ordinance, numerals, at least three inches high must be used

City adopts building I.D. rules

An ordinance setting up regulations for building identification passed the Northville City Council Monday, meaning that some city property owners might have to put up some new address numbers.

The city's new building identification ordinance, written to help police and emergency vehicles find the right buildings, includes several specific regulations. They include:

- Numerals must be used to identify buildings. Script words ("three thirty three") are not enough.
- Numbers must be three inches or taller, and clearly visible from the center of the road by a person of normal vision traveling in either direction.

- If the building is not easily seen from the road, the number must then be posted where it can clearly be seen, such as on a mailbox, or sign.

- If more than one building with a distinct address occupies a particular site, the number must also be on each structure.

- During construction, the number must be posted separately from the building.

Property owners or other responsible people have 60 days to comply with the new rules, after which they may be cited for a violation. Each 10 days of violation is considered a separate offense.

Anyone cited for violation may escape punishment through certification by the police department or the building department that the building complies with the ordinance. Violators are subject to a fine of up to $100 and costs, or 90 days in prison, or both.

Apple computer reported stolen from Northville High

A $1500 computer has been reported stolen from Northville High School.

A city police report lists the theft as having occurred between June 29 and Sept. 3, but witnesses have told police that they remember seeing the computer as late as Sept. 1. Police are continuing to investigate the incident.

The computer, an Apple 2 Plus, was stored on a cart at the school.

VERY FUNNY MONEY — Northville city police are investigating a counterfeit case in which a photocopy of a $20 bill apparently passed for the real thing.

According to a police report, the incident was reported last week by the manager of a local business who found the photocopy in a bundle of cash. The employee who accepted the copy told police he knew who passed the fake bill. He added that he suspected it was counterfeit, and told the person that if the bill was no good that the person would have to replace it, the report said.

As of Monday, police were still investigating the incident.

GREAT SEATS, BUT — A camera and four tickets to Saturday's University of Michigan football game were reported stolen from a car parked in the parking lot of Arbor Drugs on North Center Street downtown.

The theft occurred Friday, the day before Michigan beat Washington State 44-18, the report said. The victim told police the camera and tickets were left on the car seat with the window rolled down.

Police advised the victim to try to get new tickets from the university and to notify security if anyone tried to use the seats. In addition, Northville police requested Ann Arbor police to pay special attention to scalpers. As of Monday police were still investigating.

BIKE THEFT — A $250 Schwinn 10-speed bike was reported stolen from the Northville Recreation Center over the weekend, city police reported. The victim told police the bike had been locked in the gym.

OUT OF SEASON — A boat motor, stored at the side of an Oppolo residence, was reported stolen to township police officers Sept. 16. Investigating officers found no physical evidence at the home, but did enter the serial number of the motor into the LEIN machine. Thus far, the motor has not been found.

VEHICLES DAMAGED — Two cars, parked at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital, received damage Sept. 16.

The owner of a 1986 Oldsmobile found the left side of her car had been scratched. The woman discovered the damage about 4:15. Less than 45 minutes later, township officers were called back to the hospital parking lot by a report that both sides of a 1985 Dodge had also been damaged. There are no suspects in either incident.

HOME ROBBED — A Seven Mile Road residence was broken into Sept. 16 and items worth more than $650 were reported taken from the home.

Entry to the residence was gained by kicking in the front door, according to a report on file with the Northville Township Police Department.

Taken during the break-in, which occurred between 4:15-8:10 p.m., were a color television, an audio component system and a black and white TV radio.

SIGNED OFF — Township officers are looking for a male who gained $190 from a Gerald Avenue resident under false pretenses.

The woman told officers that she paid a man $190 for two signs, but the signs were never delivered and when she tried to contact the man, the telephone number she had been given was disconnected.

Suspected thieves may face charges

Four suspects were free Monday pending the filing of formal charges stemming from three car thefts — one in the city and two in the Southfield/Lathrup Village area — reported last week, police said.

The four — part of a group of seven, police believe — would most likely be charged with possession of a stolen auto, city police said. However, Northville Township officers who had two adults in custody early last week, said they did not know what charges they would file against the suspects.

The four males, including two juveniles who were released to their parents' custody the day after the incident, were arrested after calls to city and township police early Tuesday, Sept. 15.

According to a city police report, two officers were dispatched to a Walnut Street location after a caller reported an attempted theft of a dark-colored Jeep. While the police were driving to the area, they learned the Jeep was being driven off. A 1978 Monte Carlo — which had been reported stolen from Detroit — was found at the site along with another vehicle, all with their engines running and headlights on, the report said.

Meanwhile, a caller to Northville Township police said a group was attempting to steal cars near Northville Place Drive. Township and city police went to the area and saw several people run out of parked cars.

Local officers, with assists from area police and sheriff's departments, were able to apprehend the four suspects.

Michael Panagiotides, the detective in charge of the investigation, said Monday the Wayne County Prosecutor's office had directed that the two adult suspects be released while the investigation into the case continued.

The stolen Jeep has been returned to its owners, however, the owners of the other two cars found at Northville Place Drive have not yet claimed their vehicles.

TENSION HEADACHE

If you're bothered by headache that seems to have its origin at the base of your skull, you may be suffering from tension headache.

Tension headaches can be caused by an irritation of the nerves in the area of the spine immediately under the skull. These are called the suboccipital nerves. They pass through the small openings in the spinal column to muscles in the surrounding area. Any abnormal pressure or dysfunction of the neck and muscles can irritate the nerves, causing tension.

The tension doesn't cause the headache. To treat this form of headache, attention should be paid to the bone and muscle structures. They should be returned to normal balance so they can function properly again.

Medication is not the answer to tension headaches. Aspirin and other pain-killers may give you temporary relief, but they won't solve the problem. Once the source of the problem is found and treated, THEN you can get the relief you need.

Geake hopes to restore funds from line-item vetoes

ty portion of the City of Northville Township, Redford Township and Livonia says he doesn't hold out much hope of being able to restore the vetoed additional state revenue-sharing funds for townships and cities, but does hope to see passage of his triplicate prescription bill.

"There is no doubt that the first item on the legislative agenda is trying to resolve the budget," Geake said.

"The governor has made cuts which seems to indicate that the com-back is not all rosy. And the Senate Fiscal Agency has said that the state could have a $250 million debt by Sept. 30, 1988," he added.

If the mid-decade special census funds remain unavailable this year, it could cost Northville Township $91,759. Novi, Walled Lake, Wixom and Brighton also conducted mid-decade counts.

Geake said he expects some compromises to be reached, but that he does not expect the budgetary problems to be worked out by the start of the new fiscal year on Oct. 1.

"I think some of the cuts will come in delaying new programs, such as the governor's preschool program for 4-year-olds. I also think we could delay the 3 percent cost of living increase for social services recipients," Geake said.

Although Geake said he expects there to be a lot of talk about taxes, he said he doesn't foresee an across-the-board tax increase proposal.

"No one has proposed an across-the-board tax increase. But there are some tax shifts being discussed, including increasing the sales tax to 6 percent and at the same time reducing property taxes.

"I don't think you're going to see that. Property taxes are still deductible on your federal income tax next year."

Geake does see some hope that the Legislature will seriously consider helping Wayne County out of a budget deficit by solving the indigent health care/cost issue.

"The most attractive way to reduce the cost (of indigent health care) on the county is to shift the cost to Medicare (a federal program)," Geake said, adding that he expects $7 million in state revenue sharing funds withheld from the county to be returned.

"I don't think anyone thinks the withholding was a permanent thing. I think it was a means to emphasize the seriousness of the problem.

Geake said he expects to see a 65-mile-an-hour speed limit in effect this year, but doesn't anticipate any action toward resolving the question of what to do about liquid and solid waste.

"We're two to three years away from a crisis on solid waste in Wayne County. We need more biodegradable products and more recycling," he said, but noted he was against a proposal that would allow the state to seize unrefunded glass deposits.

On the sewer issue, Geake said he had not heard it discussed as a priority issue.

Geake said the state's business climate needs to improve, especially in worker's compensation law. And, he said, he expects no major changes in highway maintenance or in a reduction of the state's unemployment rate, which is between 8 and 9 percent, while the national level is 6 percent.

As Geake prepared to officially return to Lansing, the area's only Republican senator could not resist a jibe at the Democratically controlled House of Representatives.

"We (the Senate) sent an excellent bill on product liability reform to the House. It's there now, gathering dust in committee."

Law sees tax talk, no action

of non-profit agencies.

"Obviously, everyone is going crazy over the budget veto, and we need to do something about closing the workers' compensation loophole."

"And we are going to do something about the biggest joke of the century, the 55 mph speed limit. Every other state has done it, and I want to know where the transportation department gets its figures that 49 percent of the motorists are going 55."

"Maybe if their car is breaking down or if they are stopped at a stop sign, but I drive these roads every day and I travel 65 and everybody is passing me."

Law says he also intends to offer a bill on highway signage. "I want every township over 14,000 population to get a sign. There are signs for cities, but nothing for townships. My townships (Plymouth, Northville and Canton) already aren't getting good services for their money from the county. They should be able to get something from the state."

Law said he intends to resurrect an old bill from his desk and reintroduce it this session.

"My first day on the job, Tom Brown from Westland came up and gave me a copy of his bill to secede from Wayne County. He told me that someday I would need this. It's been sitting on my desk and every once in a while I pull it out to look at it. This time, I think I'm going to introduce it," Law said.

He also noted that he intends to introduce a bill that would allow the Department of Mental Health to sell 25 acres of Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital property. "We have to get it declared surplus land and then we can sell it," he said.

But, he noted, the property to the east of the hospital fronting on Haggerty would not bring a good price unless there were sewer capacity. Law says he has been working "behind the scenes" on the sewer issue.

Law said his main emphasis will be on the more serious law, including controlling videocassette rentals.

"My question is at what age should people be able to rent certain videos. At theaters, there are age restrictions for certain movies and some theaters enforce those ratings. There is no voluntary enforcement for videos and some of those videos aren't even rated by the motion picture industry," he said.

The medical trust idea would allow younger people to put aside money with a trustee — a bank, an insurance company or a savings and loan institution — to cover catastrophic health care or nursing home care.

"The idea is kind of modeled after the governor's guaranteed tuition program. You put money aside when you're young and it's there when you need it. The money is tax exempt on the state level, and, if the tuition program gets a federal exemption, I don't see why this wouldn't qualify," he said.

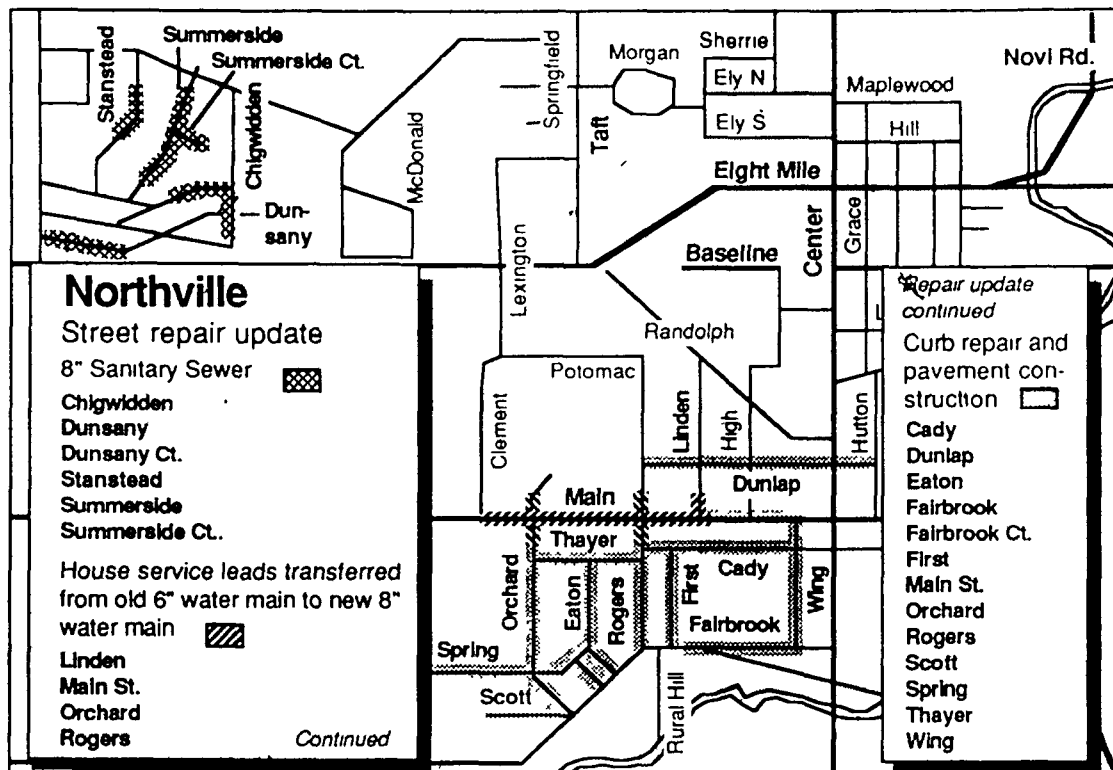

On workers' compensation, Law said loopholes like the one Billy Sims used to get $358 a week tax free because he was injured playing for the Detroit Lions need to be closed.

"The workers' compensation program is designed for the poor schlub who is injured while working on the assembly line, the guy who can't go to work because he is in a wheelchair, not for Billy Sims, who can find a job, but not in football," Law said.

While Law said he expects there to be a lot of discussion about tax relief, he doesn't think there will be any action.

"The bottom line is that people don't trust government. They think if it lowers one tax, it'll raise another."

"And I don't think anyone will see the money from the windfall. It's already spent."

Council ready for winter with plows, salt

Winter may be a few weeks off yet, but the City of Northville is ready.

City Council Monday approved buying two snow plows, two salt spreaders and at least 35 tons of road salt in preparation for winter storms.

Council accepted low bids from Shults Equipment Inc., of Ithaca, Mich., for the plows and salt spreaders. The plows will cost $11,338; the salt spreaders will cost $13,195.

The council also approved a bid from Morton Salt for road salt costing $16.36 per ton, with a minimum purchase of 35 tons.

The new equipment and salt purchases were made on the recommendation of Ted Mapes, head of the department of public works.

Township hires engineering firm

Northville Township has appointed the Ann Arbor firm of Ayres, Lewis, Norris & May, Inc., its engineering consultants. The selection was unanimous.

The firm replaces McNeely Lincoln and Associates, and its first order of business is to prepare a report for the Michigan Department of Natural Resources to certify the township's sewer capacity.

Township Development Director Matt Modrack said he anticipates the report to be ready within two weeks. The DNR will then study the figures to determine whether it can legally grant Act 98 permits (sewer taps) for township developers.

Ayres, Lewis, Norris & May also will serve as consulting engineers for the Western Townships Utility Authority.

Charges to city raised for garbage disposal

Trash is getting more expensive. The Northville City Council Monday approved a change in its contract with Mid Western Sanitation Inc., the trash collecting company, which recently raised its price of disposal.

A letter from the company explained that the increase is a direct transfer of one recent cost increase and another increase upcoming at the Arbor Hills landfill, where Mid Western dumps the trash.

In the recent past, the letter said, Mid Western has taken trash to various landfills in an effort to keep its costs down, but no good alternatives presently exist.

City Manager Steven Walters said the increase will cost the city about $3,000 per month, or between $20,000 and $25,000 for the rest of the fiscal year. However, Walters said, Northville is still paying much less for trash disposal than most nearby communities.

He said that meeting the increase in this year's budget probably would not by itself cause any major problems, but only that the budget is "a little less comfortable" than it was

Paul Folino, a council incumbent, recently filed for a four-year term. Carolann Ayers, the other incumbent whose term is expiring, has taken out a petition. Planning Commission Chairperson Jerry Mittman has filed for the two-year seat.

No other petitions have been filed, City Clerk Cathy Konrad said Tuesday.

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ZONING ORDINANCE BY AMENDING THE TEXT THEREOF THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS

NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP
RE ELDERLY HOUSING RESIDENTIAL DISTRICT

PREAMBLE
The RE Elderly Housing Residential Districts are designed to provide sites for housing for the elderly and related uses which will provide for the special needs of senior citizens. The District recognizes a reduction in the need for off-street parking and allows a relatively high density because of reduced family size.

SEC. 4.1A. PRINCIPAL USES PERMITTED
In an RE Elderly Housing Residential District, no building or land shall be used and no building shall be erected except for one or more of the following specified uses, unless otherwise provided in this Ordinance:

- Housing for the elderly subject to the following conditions:
  - The owner or lessee of the project shall file with the Township a covenant, reviewed as to form by the Township Attorney and approved by the Township Board in which said owner or lessee shall covenant on behalf of himself, his heirs and assigns, that the occupancy of such development shall be limited to elderly as defined in SEC. 6.1-1b
  - The conditions of SEC. 4.1, paragraph 1
  - Convalescent homes
- All uses permitted and as regulated in SEC. 4.1 and 4.2 of the R-1 through R-3 One-Family Residential Districts, subject to the standards and requirements of the R-3 District.
- Accessory buildings and uses customarily incident to any principal use permitted.

SEC. 4.1A. REQUIRED CONDITIONS
The following conditions shall be applicable to convalescent homes or housing for the elderly:

- Vehicular access to the site shall be only from a major thoroughfare having a planned right-of-way of at least one hundred twenty (120) feet in width, provided, however, that such access may be permitted to a secondary thoroughfare, local public street or private road if the access drive is located so that the property directly across the street from such drive and all property abutting such thoroughfare, street or road between the access drive and the major thoroughfare has at least one of the following characteristics:
  - Zoned RM, RE or any nonresidential district.
  - Developed with permanent uses other than one-family residences
  - Is an area that in the opinion of the Planning Commission will be used for other than one-family purposes in the future.
- One property line (or a portion of one property line that is significant in length, in the opinion of the Planning Commission) of the zoning lot shall abut an existing use or zoning district that is other than a one-family use or zoning district that is other than a one-family use or district or is an area that in the opinion of the Planning Commission will be used for other than one-family purposes in the future.
- The maximum structure height permitted shall be thirty (30) feet. However, in those yards adjacent to R-1, R-2 or R-3 Districts, the following limitations shall apply to all building or portions thereof that are within the distances specified (unless otherwise provided in paragraph 4 below):

PART 1 The Township of Northville Zoning Ordinance No. 77, as amended, is hereby further amended by adding ARTICLE IVA Elderly Housing Residential District.

Building Distance from One-Family	Maximum Height (feet)
District (feet)
100' to less than 200'	25'
200' and over	30'

4. The limitations of paragraph 3 above need not apply to adjacent R-1, R-2 or R-3 Districts that are:

- Separated from the RE District by a major thoroughfare.
- Developed with permanent uses other than one-family residences.
- An area that in the opinion of the Planning Commission will be used for other than one-family purposes in the future.

5. Density Permitted:

- For elderly housing uses, the total number of rooms (not including kitchen, dining and sanitary facilities) shall not be more than the land area of the parcel in square feet divided by one thousand (1,000), provided, however, that the number of units per acre shall not exceed twenty (20).
- For convalescent homes, not less than one thousand (1,000) square feet of site open space for each bed in the home shall be provided. The one thousand (1,000) square feet of land area may include landscape setting, off-street parking, service drives, loading space, yard requirements and accessory uses, but shall not include the area covered by main or accessory buildings.
- For developments that include both elderly housing and convalescent homes, the land area required shall be computed separately for each.

6. The minimum setback from any R-1, R-2 or R-3 District shall be one hundred (100) feet unless the district meets criteria of paragraph 4 above. All other setbacks for main and accessory buildings shall be thirty (30) feet unless exceeded by application of the formula contained in footnote (v) of Section 14.1 SCHEDULE OF REGULATIONS, except that the divisor required in paragraph (2) shall be two (2) rather than one and one-quarter (1.25).

7. Off-street parking may be permitted within any yard provided that:

- The setback from any R-1, R-2 or R-3 District shall be not less than fifty (50) feet. A five (5) foot high earth berm shall be provided within the fifty (50) feet to buffer the parking lot unless, in the opinion of the Planning Commission, existing vegetation can be preserved that will provide suitable screening.
- Setbacks from all other districts or from adjacent one-family residential districts with the characteristics set forth in paragraph 4 above shall not be less than thirty (30) feet.
- Signs shall be permitted and as regulated in the RM-1 District.

SEC. 4.3A. AREA, BULK AND YARD SETBACK REQUIREMENTS
See ARTICLE XIV - SCHEDULE OF REGULATIONS limiting the height and bulk of buildings, the minimum size of lot permitted by land use, maximum density permitted, and providing minimum yard setback requirements.

2 Change SECTION 14.1, SCHEDULE OF REGULATIONS LIMITING HEIGHT, BULK, DENSITY AND AREA BY LAND USE by adding the RE District and footnote (2):

Use Districts	Minimum Size Lot Per Unit Area Sq. Ft.	Maximum Height Structures In Ft. Stories	In Feet	Minimum Yard Setback (Per Lot In Feet)			Minimum Floor Area Per Unit (Sq. Ft.)	Maximum Percent of Coverage (Area of all Structures)
				Front	One	Two
RE Elderly Housing Residential	(2)	30		30(2)	30(2)	60(2)	30(2) 450 sq. ft.	20%

(2) The minimum site area shall be three (3) acres. See Section 4.1A

Our Opinions

Governor must act: End sewer stalemate

The latest presentation of sewer capacity solutions has been made to the proper governmental units and, as has happened so many times in the past, there is no resolution in sight.

Nothing has changed the positions of Northville, Plymouth and Canton townships. They have indicated they do not wish to participate in the project and will not do so.

Nothing has changed the positions of the 10 communities, including the cities of Northville and Novi, that something must be done to solve the discharge problem and that the North Huron Valley/Rouge Valley Facilities Plan seems to be the way to do it.

Nothing has changed Wayne County's position that the North Huron Valley/Rouge Valley system will be built.

And nothing has changed in either the courts or the state. The Department of Natural Resources still is opposed to Ypsilanti Community Utility Authority plant expansion and the governor's office refuses to do much more publicly than monitor the situation. Thus far, no developer has sued, so the courts have no standing.

Enough is more than enough. Ralph Lorenz, who plans to develop a 21-unit condominium project cannot get approval from the DNR for sewers.

Lorenz, who testified before the Water Resources Commission, questioned why other communities — not the three townships — were receiving Act 98 (sewer tap) permits. The DNR's response has been that the North Huron Valley/Rouge Valley plan is a viable proposal to solve the metropolitan Detroit area's sewer capacity problem. The three townships do not have a plan, the department has maintained.

Well, we disagree. The three townships and the 10 communities all have a plan. The only people who don't have a public plan seem to be working for the DNR or for the state.

With a de facto sewer ban in effect in Northville Township, and the potential for similar action hanging over Novi, it appears unreasonable that the state government would allow construction in one of the fastest growing areas of southeast Michigan to come to a grinding halt.

But by taking no action, other than to stay abreast of the situation, the governor's office is tacitly giving its approval to the ban that exists and any that may follow.

This action is short sighted and not responsive to the needs of suburban communities. These towns need development. The state needs the revenues that development brings. The communities need the revenues to provide services for their residents and businesses.

And, with predictions from area legislators that the state is facing a $250 million shortfall by Oct. 1, 1988, surely increasing residential, industrial and commercial development in the area would go some distance to muting the effect of the deficit.

The communities involved in the North Huron Valley/Rouge Valley system cannot wait, nor should they have to wait, much longer. The talking has all been done since the 1950s, when a regional solution was first proposed. The only novelty is the cost to implement the sewers.

Since it is apparent the local communities, even under the prod of Wayne County, cannot reach a solution on their own, it is up to the governor's office to take the lead and to take it before federal funding is eliminated. That time is now. Not next week, and certainly not during the governor's State of the State address in January.

Need vigilance now to protect wetlands

Building a subdivision around a designated wetlands area is a tricky business for a responsible developer who wants to preserve as much wildlife as possible.

When the wetland is a particularly valuable one — like the site in the second phase of the Pheasant Hills subdivision off Eight Mile and Taft — it becomes trickier still. And when the developer's plans include filling in part of that valuable wetland, and creating new wetlands as "mitigation" — it becomes a very complicated problem of environment and engineering.

The state department of natural resources (DNR), thankfully, is very conscientious about overseeing these cases. The DNR rejected a proposal from Singh Development — the company behind Pheasant Hills — earlier this summer because it would damage too much valuable wetland. Now, Singh has revised its plan, and the DNR is holding a public hearing on the question next week.

As before, of course, the final decision is up to the DNR, and we're confident it will make the best one. But, for the DNR officials to be fully informed, they need as much information as possible.

ENVIRONMENT

It's therefore very important that the residents of this area get out to the public hearing and let the DNR know their opinions. Maybe the area Singh wants to fill is the best part of the wetlands; or maybe the new wetlands they're proposing will more than make up for what is lost.

The public hearing is at 7 p.m. at the Northville City Hall next Thursday. Written comments can be sent to the DNR's Waterford Township office, where the whole file is available for viewing, at 2455 N. Williams Lake Road, Pontiac, 48054. The case number is 87-14-48.

The City of Northville doesn't have a whole lot of natural environment left to worry about. Only with informed citizen input can we ensure the best fate for what we have.

Letters welcome

The Northville Record welcomes Letters to the Editor. We ask, however, that they be issue oriented, confined to 500 words and that they contain the signature, address and telephone number of the writer. Names will be withheld on request, but a brief explanation of why the request is being made should accompany the letter. Deadline for submission is 3:30 Monday p.m. We reserve the right to edit letters for brevity, clarity and libel.

Counting the days

By Anita Crone

I had high hopes that at least my possessions would be living in my new home by this time. But my sense of timing and the timing of when my condo would be ready for occupancy are apparently coming from two different time zones.

I did not go into this property acquisition lightly, or with my eyes closed. I had been warned that purchasing property is a lot more difficult than it seems on the surface. I thought they meant it was like geometry where you learned certain theorems and everything derived from those.

I thought, silly me, that the basic theory in house buying was to find one you liked, put in an offer, apply for a mortgage, find some furniture and window treatments and by the time everything was ordered and the bank account depleted, one magically would be a homeowner.

That was two closing dates and more than three months ago.

My prospective home is not big, but for one person, a whole lot of room was not on my list of priorities. The condo did have carpeting, but I think the carpet was used as a welcome mat when Richard Nixon was running for president the second time. It also had the basics, like stove, refrigerator and garbage disposal. But my basic requirement, a dishwasher, was notably absent.

I quickly remedied the lack of a dishwasher, but that opened up a new problem. The counter tops, which were long enough to cover the sink when there was no dishwasher, wouldn't cover the new addition. The countertops are also backordered — at least three weeks back ordered.

Then, there is the question of the flooring. I thought there would be a rush to select floor coverings so that I would be leaving myself plenty of time between the order and the installation. I left myself so much time that now I find myself returning to the carpet store to visit my carpeting. At the rate this process is occurring, the warranty may expire before the carpet is installed.

Monday I changed my moving date for the third time. On Tuesday, I changed the date my telephone service will commence and yesterday I contacted my post office to let them know that the date I wanted my mail to be sent to my new address has now been changed for two months later.

I could have saved myself a whole lot of grief. Some friends have told me that they are able to catch up on what's happening in my life by reading a comic strip "Cathy." I have recently discovered that her furniture has been back ordered for two years and has not yet arrived in the furniture store. That's scary, since when I bought my dining room table, I was assured the table was in stock.

Cathy and I got our mortgages at the same time. We ordered furniture at the same time and neither of us is living in our new homes. At the rate we're going, Michele and Steve Fecht will be living in their home before us. And they have a year's head start.

It's awfully tempting to return to the 'good old days' when all I had to do was show up at an already-decorated apartment. But if I did that, I wouldn't have the opportunity to learn patience, which I am quickly running out of.

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

Time for another exclusive expose', folks. And you thought "60 Minutes" had all the good stuff.

Nope. This expose' has to do with a member of the local clergy. A fine, upstanding man. A pillar of the community. A guardian of the faith. A man to whom the community looks for spiritual leadership.

But also a man perhaps a bit too willing to stray from the straight and narrow when it comes to accepting a wager. We won't mention any names because we don't want to send waves of moral indignation through a fine congregation. (It was Rev. Richard Henderson, former assistant pastor of the Northville Presbyterian Church and current pastor of Faith Community United Presbyterian Church, if you have to know.)

This spiritual leader called the other day. And I knew what he wanted as soon as I heard his voice. "I know what you want," I said. "No, you don't," he said. "Yes, I do," I said. "And I'm so certain I know what you want that I am willing to place a little wager on it."

And that's when this spiritual leader succumbed. Confronted with the temptation of gambling, he folded like a deck of cards.

The terms were set. If I lost and did not know what he was calling about, I would have to attend a Sunday morning service in his church. If I won, he said he would join me for a beer at my favorite saloon.

I didn't think it was a fair bet. How can you equate the pleasure of a beer at The Starting Gate with the agony of having to sit through one of his sermons? But he convinced me that it was as much out of character for him to go to a bar as it was for me to go to church, so I let it go. Besides, I was sure of victory. I was positive I knew what he wanted.

"What you want," I announced triumphantly, "is a write-up about the fact your church is celebrating the 10th anniversary of the dedication of its sanctuary this fall."

"Wrong," he announced even more triumphantly. "See you in church on Sunday."

Commission promotes YCUA discharge alternative

munities to the system it allows us to spread the cost over a greater number of communities so from an economic standpoint the expansion makes sense," Ahles said.

Michael McCormick, in supporting Ahles' assertion, told the commissioners "It would cost a whole lot less to treat the second 29 MGD than it does the first 29, since many of the fixed costs associated with the sewage treatment plant would remain the same."

"The more communities that share in the cost, the more economically effective the plan is."

Paul Zuger, commission executive secretary, said the DNR staff had not studied the socio-economic impact of YCUA's expansion proposal.

"We are not charged with studying that. What we have here today is just one proposal. I believe that there are other alternatives. But I cannot make an assumption that if the commission denies this proposal there will or will not be others," Zuger said.

And Lay noted that the 30 micrograms per liter of phosphorus limit recommended by the DNR staff and supported by YCUA were attainable. "I fail to see the difference whether it is reached with 29 MGD or with 58 MGD."

A number of prospective developers also made their case with the commission.

"For the past two years we have been told that a solution to the wastewater treatment problem is possible. For the past three months this commission has been studying the situation. If you feel you have enough information then please make a decision," said James Abernethy, site development coordinator for Ward Presbyterian Church.

Rick Lorenz, president of RTL Inc., which is hoping to develop condominiums in Plymouth Township, told the commission that he had one of five sewer permits already approved by Wayne County, but not by the DNR.

"I find it unusual that, in other areas, people are getting sewer permits but developers in Northville, Plymouth and Canton townships are not."

"I'm ready to start today. I have equipment on the job site and I'm ready to go. But a 'no' vote today would certainly force me to go back and re-evaluate my position in terms of holding up development over the winter," Lorenz said.

"Frankly," Lay said, "I feel a little awed at making socio-economic decisions for a whole area — telling people they can't develop. These people (YCUA) feel they can reduce phosphorus, but it isn't going to happen all at once."

Rector, after listening to fisheries biologist Ron Spittler explain the effect of DNR stocking on Belleville Lake, said he was not prepared to authorize a total loading that would result in the requested 29 million gallon a day expansion for the Ypsilanti plant.

"I'm aware of the western townships' need for a solution. And while I'm not prepared to authorize the total expansion, I would be willing to authorize the 35,000 pound phosphorus loading but not to (the Belleville Lake) system. Maybe it could flow to the Rouge. It's not that far away," he said.

Township attorney Ernest Essad said he intended to pursue the alternative with the DNR, but he also publicly questioned the commission as to whether there was a sewer ban in Northville or Plymouth townships.

"I keep hearing that Northville Township has a sewer ban, but I have never received one in the mail," Essad said.

Roy Schramack, surface water quality specialist for the DNR's Detroit district, informed Essad that there was no ban.

"We (the DNR) have requested certification that Northville Township has not exceeded its capacity in the current system. You have never provided those figures," Schramack said.

Goss, who did not attend the commission meeting, said the township engineers were in the process of completing those studies.

"Once we have the figures, we'll review them and answer as soon as possible," Schramack said.

Meanwhile, plans for Ward Church, the Haggerty Road sewer, Dun Rovin development and Kirco remain in limbo somewhere between township board approval and DNR permit granting.

The only thing that is certain is that there are no permits for sewers and there is an increasing demand for such permits.

Builders Square opens Novi store

There's a real need for a store like ours here in Novi," according to Don Scott, manager of the new Builders Square store at 43610 West Oaks Drive in Novi's West Oaks II shopping center.

The new Builders Square in Novi is one of four stores opened by the company on the same day early in September. A subsidiary of K mart Corporation, Builders Square continued its pattern of growth by opening other stores the same day in Albuquerque, New Mexico, Manchester, Missouri and Atlanta, Georgia.

Scott said that Builders Square, America's largest home improvement warehouse chain, saw the area at the Twelve Mile/Novi Road intersection across from Twelve Oaks Mall as one in which their presence could make a difference.

"I know that we're new in town, but in the short time we've been here, we've learned that we can offer exactly what the area has been looking for in the way of home improvement products," said Scott. "We're glad to be considered a part of this area and to know we are going to be here when our neighbors turn to us for their needs — and, that's one of the best feelings I know."

Builders Square has been proud to be a part of the growth of cities throughout the country since its forerunner, Home Centers of America, opened its first store during the summer of 1983. Just over a year later, with nine stores to its credit, Home Centers of America was purchased by the K mart Corporation and its name change followed.

In the short period of time since then, the corporation has expanded steadily. The four new stores that opened in September will increase the number of Builders Square warehouses to 113 in 21 states across the country. Builders Square expects to add several more stores to this number by year's end, with another heavy schedule of openings anticipated for 1988.

The corporation's success can be attributed to its unique way of doing business — offering top service and top product assortment, while providing low prices. The concept is a careful blending of a warehouse with the down-home personalized service of the local hardware store of yesteryear.

Builders Square offers its customers wire cutting, custom paint mixing, lumber cutting and more.

Check all the variables before selecting a bank, CPAs say

With the dizzying array of new financial services being offered today, choosing a bank can be a challenging experience for even a savvy customer.

According to the Michigan Association of CPAs, while deregulation has benefited consumers in some ways, it has made comparing banks more difficult.

With banks now free to set their own rates and establish varying maturity dates on savings accounts, it seems there are as many different rates and terms as there are banks. Add with a growing number of other service options to choose from, selecting a bank gets even more difficult.

CPAs recommend that you focus your search for the right financial institution by first determining what services you need. And don't necessarily limit yourself to "bank" banks. Many other financial institutions — such as savings and loans, savings banks, and credit unions — now offer full banking services and are worth investigating.

For simplicity's sake, however, we'll call all financial institutions "banks." But make sure the institution you select is insured by either the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) or Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation (FSLIC).

Many financial institutions, eager to capture a greater share of business, offer incentives for you to do all your banking with them. Bankers call this "relationship banking." It means that a customer using several services at the same bank might very well be offered a higher rate on savings, better terms on a loan or, perhaps, reduced service fees. However, if you have the time and the wherewithal, you might find that Bank A offers the best checking account options, Bank B has the best savings rates and Savings and Loan

C the lowest mortgage rate. Or you may even choose to bank by mail or phone if the rates are favorable.

If you want to know the true interest rate a bank or thrift is offering on an account, ask for its effective annual yield. This yield is the result of compounding — the payment of interest on interest. The more frequent the compounding, the more interest you earn — daily compounding gives you more than monthly, monthly more than annual.

But interest rates aren't the whole story. The highest rate may not be the best deal, depending on the service fees charged by the bank. Some banks impose service charges on low-balance accounts, others impose a charge if you close your account within six months or a year of opening it.

If you're planning to open a bank Certificate of Deposit (CD), there are additional questions you'll want answered. First of all, you should make sure you can withdraw your money before maturity, if necessary, and know what penalty the bank assesses for doing so. Another important factor is whether or not a bank will send you a reminder notice shortly before your CD comes due. Some banks do, others leave it up to you to remember your account's maturity date. Depending on the bank's policy, your account may be renewed for the same term at the current rate, it may be transferred to a passbook rate, or even left sitting earning no interest at all.

When selecting a bank for your checking account, shopping around can really save you money. Some banks charge a monthly service fee, some charge a fee per check written, and some do both. Often the monthly charge is based on the balance you keep on deposit. The higher the balance, the lower the fee is likely to be. Find out how the bank arrives at your balance for the purpose of determining your monthly charge.

Ask, too, about fees for bounced checks, certified checks and stop payment orders. Some banks charge low monthly service fees to attract customers and then try to make up the difference by charging higher fees for bounced checks and related items.

chandise loading — all at no extra charge.

"These extras are all very important," said Builders Square COO and Executive Vice President, Jud E. Walford. "But, the longest list of customer services mean little unless a retailer offers one other extra employees who are truly dedicated to servicing the customer." The difference at Builders Square is that each employee is a department specialist — and many have worked in the trades before in positions such as carpenters, painters, landscapers, etc. They understand their customers' needs and are thoroughly acquainted with the products they carry to provide the knowledge the customer is searching for.

To meet those needs every Builders Square stocks over 30,000 items spread across nine different departments — lumber, hardware, paint, plumbing, electrical, garden and seasonal, building materials and kitchen cabinets/furniture.

Builders Square not only promises to have the lowest price in town on every item they stock — they guarantee it.

The process involves close monitoring of the competitors' prices which they review and then price their competition's slip through. When that occurs, customers are invited to share that information with store employees. They will, in turn, match the competition's price and give the customer a "reward" — 10 percent of that price in "Square Bucks" — scrip currency which spends just like cash in any Builders Square store.

"Our commitment to low prices is strengthened by quality name brands," said Frank W. Denny, President and CEO of Builders Square. "We carry the largest selection of name brands, selected imports and house brands in the business. Basically, people are going to find what they're looking for and at a good price when they come to Builders Square."

Each store also offers conveniences designed especially for contractors and large-volume customers. These include a "ZIP Order" service, which allows customers to place their order by phone and pick up it up, already assembled and invoiced, within three hours. Delivery service is also available, as well as a Commercial Charge Account (for qualified customers) and a Square Dealer Club — all designed to make the shopping experience of volume customers less time-consuming and trouble-free.

According to Frank Powers, executive vice president of Merchandising, Builders Square's rise to the top of the home improvement industry can best be attributed to — "the worst kept secret in the world. You simply find out what your customer needs, guarantee him the lowest price and when he comes into your store, you treat him like he's the most important person in your life."

Parents learn ABCs of academic advising

Students are not the only ones returning to classrooms this fall. Parents are heading back to class to learn how to be better academic counselors in an effort to make their children even better students.

"Managing the Transition from High School to College to Careers" is the title of a new seminar being offered by the Novi Community Education Department, scheduled to take place Sept. 29.

Although it sounds like a class for high school seniors, the class is actually aimed at parents who wish to more closely guide their children's academic career.

The class is being taught by First Semester, Inc., a Farmington Hills-based private counseling firm. As more and more high school academic counselors become overburdened with too many students to advise on a wide variety of topics, private consulting firms are becoming more popular with students who are preparing for their educational futures.

"Some of our studies show that high school counselors are very, very busy with 300-400 students," said William Hall, president of First Semester. "In addition to academic planning and scheduling changes, they have substance abuses, pregnancies and suicides to deal with. So they do not have the amount of time that we think is appropriate to help youngsters make some intelligent decisions about life and help them get into the right colleges."

Hall said the college selection process poses difficulties for parents as well as for students. "It is a confusing time for parents, too," he said.

"The purpose of (next week's seminar) is to share with parents some of the issues and concerns that parents should be thinking about. (It is) an opportunity for parents to understand the steps they should be taking to best prepare the youngsters as they get out of high school."

Hall: 'There is like 12,000 career alternatives and the average graduating high school student knows about 300 of them. So what we want to do is expand the options a little bit.'

The bottom line is an emphasis to make students — through their parents — more aware of the opportunities they face.

"There are like 12,000 career alternatives and the average graduating high school student knows about 300 of them," Hall said. "So what we want to do is expand the options a little bit."

"If (students) start to understand themselves a little bit better about what the options are, then they can start making some intelligent decisions," Hall said.

Next week's seminar will summarize information offered through more in-depth sessions conducted regularly by First Semester.

Hall said First Semester focuses on the four main topics which face hopeful collegians: career and self-assessment, college planning (selection, application procedures, etc.), standardized testing and financial aid.

Out of 1,000 educational institutions that may be available to an individual student, Hall said First Semester seminars provide insight into the key ingredients for deciding which institution would be the best to choose.

The standardized testing seminar offers an explanation of what kinds of tests students should expect to take, how the tests work, and how to most effectively take them for the best results.

"It is not just cramming and tricks and short-term drills," Hall said.

Probably the topic that interests most parents is how to finance a college education, especially as annual tuition rates soar high enough to compete with purchase prices for a new car. At a time when more and more financial aid programs are being decreased annually, paying for college is a primary concern.

Hall estimates that about 20 percent of the students who last year received Guaranteed Student Loans to attend the University of Michigan will not receive financial aid this year because of the 1986 Tax Act.

There is hope, Hall said, but it will take planning. "There are ways to position yourself to make college a lot more affordable than what we think a lot of parents know," Hall said.

"College can be more affordable if you take a look at it a little earlier on and start planning for it."

In addition to next week's Novi session, First Semester will also be conducting parent-oriented sessions Oct. 6 in West Bloomfield, Oct. 13 in Birmingham and Oct. 14 in Dearborn. The fee for attending the Novi seminar is $4 per family. For more information contact Novi Community Education at 348-1200.

Sexual devotion leads to bigger weddings

If an unmarried couple has been living together for some time, isn't it silly for them to have a big wedding?

Not at all, according to University of Michigan sociologist Martin Whyte.

"Elaborate weddings help stress the differences between cohabitation and marriage — two stages that may seem to be alike but are actually two fundamentally different states," said Whyte.

"Weddings symbolize the bride and groom's promise to give up their liberal premarital sexual options for marital fidelity. That is one major reason why there are so many big weddings now."

Whyte's conclusion are based on data that covers 60 years of dating and mating habits in metropolitan Detroit. To collect the data, he and his students interviewed 459 women. Sixty-six were married between 1924 and 1944. Another 180 were post-World War II brides between 1945 and 1964, and 209 wed between 1965 and 1984.

Whyte found some major changes in premarital sexual behavior, but he also discovered some surprising continuities in attitudes about marriage and adherence to tradition.

Whyte: 'Weddings symbolize the bride and groom's promise to give up their liberal premarital sexual options for marital fidelity. That is one major reason why there are so many big weddings now'

"A significant change," Whyte said, "was the rise in cohabitation and premarital pregnancy. Forty percent of the recent brides had cohabited before marriage, but not one of the women in the pre-war generation had done so. Also, 27 percent of the brides in the recent generation were pregnant when they marched down the aisle, compared with just 11 percent of the pre-war brides."

The most startling change, however, showed up in the data for premarital births. "Virtually none of the women in the pre-war generation admitted to premarital births," he said. "However, roughly one in nine who had married since 1965 had married within the last 10 years had done so."

"Despite these dramatic behavioral changes — or because of them," Whyte said, "the most recent generation of brides more had weddings that were often ceremonious than their mothers' or grandmothers'."

For example, he said, nearly three-fourths of the recent brides were married in a church or synagogue compared to just two-thirds of their grandmothers' generation. And 82 percent of the women in all three generations said they had been married by a minister, priest or rabbi.

Guest lists have been getting longer, too. The average number of guests invited to receptions has tripled from 50 to 150 since the pre-war generation. "Part of this is due to increased prosperity," Whyte said, "but the public statement is a very important factor."

Wedding showers are also in fashion. More than two-thirds of the recent brides had showers compared with 57 percent of the post-World War II brides and 39 percent of the pre-war brides.

Honeymoons, however, have been optional in the past, about half the brides went back to work immediately after the wedding and 40 percent of the recent brides still do.

Methodist expansion

Workmen from J.D. Candler Roofing Co. labored last week to reroof the sanctuary of First United Methodist Church at Eight Mile and Taft roads. The roofing project is part of a renovation and expansion at the church which will cost in excess of $400,000. It includes a 2000 square foot addition, office and classroom renovations, enlarging and renovating the church parlor kitchen and resurfacing the parking lot. As part of the renovation project, the church sanctuary was air conditioned last summer. Ground was broken Monday at the rear of the present sanctuary for the addition that will be a fellowship hall and classrooms with handicap access.

Church sponsors series of activities for singles

"Starting Over Single," a seven week divorce recovery workshop, and "Living Beyond Divorce, Phase II," a six-week workshop and support group, are beginning this month at First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

Starting Over Single, which began Sept. 21, continues weekly at 7 p.m. Monday nights. Topics include Stages of Grief, Legal Aspects of Divorce, Passage of Divorce, Church and Divorce, Not Working, Helping Children Through Divorce, Friendship and Dating. A donation of $20 covers workshop materials. Child care assistance is available.

Living Beyond Divorce will begin at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 24. This support group is for those who have been through the Divorce Support program and are ready to move beyond. Topics include Time Frames, Building New Relationships, Trust, Sexual Intimacy, Loneliness and Enjoying Being Single. A donation of $20 covers materials, refreshments and child care. To register call the church office at 349-0911 or come to the first session.

The Rev. Jim Russell explains that both are part of Single Place, organized for the purpose of providing friendship, caring and sharing for all single adults.

Single Place meets at the church at 7 p.m. Sundays. This Sunday, Bill Greenman, Ph.D., clinical psychologist and adult Sunday school teacher, will share his insights and thoughts in a presentation, "Tackle Your Inners with Self Esteem for the Real You."

Every Thursday a Singles supper meeting is held at Elias Brothers, Eight Mile and Haggerty roads, from 6-7:30 p.m. A Sunday brunch is held there from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

All Single Place events are open to everyone in the community.

Clothing drive scheduled

In response to an inner city need for clothing for children and adults, First Presbyterian Church of Northville is holding a clothing collection on the first three Saturdays in October.

Ed Harp, who is chairing the drive for the mission committee, asks that donations be placed in plastic bags and left at the church between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Oct. 3, 10 or 17. Clothing will be taken to Fort Street Presbyterian Church in Detroit for distribution to needy.

Gardeners celebrate

By JEAN DAY

Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association marked the opening of its program year with a sesquicentennial celebration at the home of Barbara VanBuren Sept. 14.

Greeting members and guests were Annie Nichols, branch president, and Georgiana Herald.

Speaker Scott Peters, a staff member of the new Michigan Heritage Museum in Lansing, was introduced by Barbara O'Brien, program chairman of the day.

He showed slides and told how the new museum has been conceived as a visual history lesson, depicting rooms as they would have been on a Michigan farm home. It is the state's sesquicentennial project.

Peters said that the museum would be glad to consider any donations that people would like to make to early Michigan history.

The tree in the courtyard of the museum has a local history. A white pine (the state tree), it was donated by the Louis Tanks of Nine Mile Road.

Social chairperson Arline Parades was assisted by Adris McLeod, Mary Duncan, Olive Lloyd and Olga James.

Silver Springs Questers celebrate Constitution birthday

Northville Silver Springs Questers Chapter No. 417 at its opening meeting of the season Sept. 16 joined with millions of Americans across the nation as members gave the Pledge of Allegiance in observance of the 200th birthday of the United States Constitution.

The members participating reported it was "really a moving experience" to stand in hostess Jewel Luckett's family room and join the President in this observance. Forty men signed the Constitution in 1787 to establish the world's first government of the People, by the People and for the People.

MR. AND MRS. SEAN CAREY

Couple marry in historic church

Tamara Joann Selfridge and Sean Peterson Carey, who met in 1984 at Silver Lake where their parents have cottages on the same road, were married in a 5 p.m. ceremony July 18 at Little Point Sable Church in Shelby, Mich., located in pine woods near Little Point Sable lighthouse on Lake Michigan.

The bride, who has been living in Montclair, N.J., is the daughter of Tony and Suzanne Selfridge of Northville. The bridegroom is the son of Jim and Joan Carey of Jackson, Mich.

The Rev. Kenneth Snow of Hart (Mich.) Methodist Church, a cousin of the bridegroom, officiated at the double ring ceremony in the church built in 1927 of fieldstone and wood. The service included the symbolic lighting of a unity candle. Chuck Schmidt of Cincinnati played the guitar.

The bride wore a tea length, antique lace gown with handkerchief hemline reminiscent of the 1930s. Her headpiece was a wreath of pearls with silk and lace flowers on the side and a bow of illusion on the back. The gown and veil were designed at Manhattan Boutique.

The bridal bouquet was of Lady Di roses with ivy and baby's breath.

Mrs. Iliya (Margaret) Gramas, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Nancy Novack of Lancaster, Ohio, the bride's college roommate, and Hollie Raycraft of Northville.

They wore tea length, pink floral Laura Ashley dresses and carried heart-shaped grapevine baskets with fresh flowers.

Suzanne Gramas, niece of the bride, wore a tea length, pink dress and carried a basket with roses and carnations. She gave pink roses to honored guests — the couple's mothers, the bride's grandmother, the bridegroom's aunt and sister — as she came down the aisle. Following the ceremony, she presented each woman guest with a carnation.

Michael Carey of Grand Rapids was best man for his brother. Ushers were David Selfridge of Katy, Texas, and Miles Selfridge of Northville, brothers of the bride. Groomsmen were James Mallack of Rochester and Michael Idzkowski of Lansing. A buffet dinner with dancing followed, held at the Shelby Optimist Club.

The newlyweds spent their honeymoon at Silver Lake and now are living in Montclair, N.J.

The bride is a 1981 graduate of Northville High School and a 1985 graduate of Miami University of Ohio. She presently is a research associate with Capital Cities-ABC TV in Manhattan.

The bridegroom is a 1973 graduate of Jackson High School and attended Jackson Junior College. He currently is a salesman for Prestige Mercedes of Paramus, N.J.

Cassady-Starcevich vows recited

Karen Marie Cassady and John Paul Starcevich exchanged original vows they had written at a 6 p.m. ceremony Aug. 8 at First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

Dr. Lawrence Chamberlain officiated the double ring ceremony. During the service Bill Beauchamp, guitarist friend of the couple, played and sang "Little Eyes" and "Doubly Good to You."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen W. Cassady of 850 Carpenter. The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. John S. Starcevich of Laraugh Drive.

The bride designed her gown of candlelight silk tulle which featured a sweetheart neckline and puffed sleeves edged with Alencon lace. The lace also accented the dropped waistline and bustle. A crown of fresh roses held the bride's veil. She carried a cascading bouquet of white cymbidium orchids, peach and pink roses and ivy.

Beth Johnson of East Lansing was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Kathy Cassady, sister of the bride, Phyllis Henry of San Francisco, Sara McCreir of Brighton and Julianne Starcevich of San Mateo, Calif., sister of the bridegroom.

They wore peach cotton-sateen tea length gowns accessorized with white lace petticoats. They carried cascading bouquets of salmon Gerber daisies, peach, pink and white roses.

Kate Labriola of Altoona, Pa., cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a peach voile dress with a white organza pinafore and carried a basket of peach and white roses.

Steve Starcevich was best man for his brother. Groomsmen were Charles Cassady, brother of the bride, Jay Beauchamp of East Lansing, Lorne Demrose of Seattle and Kevin Shauger of Redondo Beach, Calif.

Ringbearer Jason Gellner, cousin of the bride, carried an embroidered pillow made by the bridegroom's aunt, Ellen Beski.

The evening reception held at the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth was attended by 180 guests, including several from California, Canada, Delaware, Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, New Mexico, Texas and Washington.

The newlyweds are 1982 graduates of Northville High School.

The bride received her bachelor's degree in advertising from Michigan State University in June 1986. She is employed as production manager for Response Dynamics in Tysons Corners, Va.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN STARCEVICH

The bridegroom graduated with a civil engineering degree from MSU in 1987 and is presently employed as project engineer for Geocentric Engineering in Lorton, Va.

After a honeymoon at Cape Hatteras, N.C., the newlyweds now are making their home in Fairfax, Va.

WINNERS CIRCLE

Recently there have been a number of misleading stories circulating about Michigan Lottery ticket sales are dropping. The following sets the record straight.

Q: Is the Lottery experiencing a drop in ticket sales?

A: No ticket sales are increasing. However, after doubling over the past five years, the rate of increase in sales has slowed down.

Q: What are these budget projections and revenue shortfalls I've heard about?

A: These concern sales projections made more than two years ago when Lotto was a brand new game and sales were shattering all previous records for Michigan and other states. It became apparent early this year that a $1.2 billion projection for the 1988 fiscal year (next year) made at that time was not attainable, so it was revised downward.

However, this does not mean that total ticket sales will be down from the 1986 record $999.4 million. We expect to finish the 1987 fiscal year with a new record of over $1 billion in sales.

Q: But, aren't Lottery ticket sales increasing across the country?

A: Yes, primarily because of the number of new lotteries getting started throughout the U.S. Ticket sales in other mature Lottery states are also beginning to level off.

Q: How do Michigan's sales compare to other states?

A: During 1985, Michigan ranked fourth among 23 lotteries in terms of net revenue for each $1,000 of personal income in the state.

Q: Has Michigan reached the saturation point in terms of Lottery ticket sales?

A: Only the players can determine the answer to that question.

Q: If Lotto was the catalyst for Michigan's growth, is there another game that could have the same effect on sales?

A: All lotteries are in search of just such a game. But, to date, no one has found a game that can create the excitement that Lotto did.

Q: How much does the Lottery contribute to the state school aid fund?

A: In the 1985 fiscal year, Lottery contributions to the state School Aid Fund topped $416 million—the equivalent of about $130 per Michigan household.

For submitting a question which led to this column, Rose M. Hadad of St. Clair Shores will receive 50 free tickets for the Lottery's new instant game, "Greenbacks."

Putting together a meal, progressively

By ANITA CRONE

Sometimes the urge for really good food is too great to ignore. Ya just gotta have some.

While the Northville/Novi area has more than its share of good restaurants, and any one of them could more than adequately fill the gap for an excellent meal I've found that I want more.

I wanted to put together the best (to my taste at least) all-around good meal from the area. To do that, I bent and broke some of the rules (like ordering only the entree from Elizabeth's prix fixe, four-course dinner), but I'd be willing to eat the dinner local restaurateurs were able to provide for this story.

Appetizers are my favorite part of the meal, and the selections in the area make an appetizer lover extremely happy. But, because I knew my entree was a meat dish, I limited my appetizer choice to seafood. From there, the choice was obvious: oysters. The best place to find them is at Chez Raphael in Novi.

A dinner salad's a dinner salad, right? Well, not exactly. Most restaurants provide the basics: lettuce, tomato, cucumber, onions and an occasional crouton or two. Some even have fresh mushrooms.

Tom MacKinnon came up with an addition that made the meal. His salad had tender pieces of duck breast nestled on lettuce, with seasoned pimientos and olives on the side.

A word of warning, though. The portion was large enough for a small entree.

At Elizabeth's, where Chef Jack Salemi has joined Doug and Elizabeth Campbell in the kitchen, it didn't matter that the rack of lamb was out of season.

The meal included lamb, center, from Elizabeth's; chocolate-chocolate surprise, left, and duck breast salad from MacKinnon's and roll from Crawford's

"You really should eat lamb in the spring or fall. That's when the lambs are born," Doug Campbell said. We jumped the season a bit, but that was all right. The rack of lamb, olive oil butter blanc, served with macedoine of Provence style vegetables was a colorful and tasty addition to the meal.

The vegetables included zucchini and yellow squash.

One of the advantages of working in a small town is that you quickly get to learn about its secrets, and Northville has kept the rolls from Crawford's a town secret.

The flaky dinner rolls, and you have your choice of regular or whole wheat, can hold their own with pastries from anywhere in the tri-county area.

For dessert, I turned to MacKinnon's knowing full well the consequences of his chocolate chocolate surprise.

There was no surprise in the merging of the chocolate mousse and the semi-sweet chocolate that makes up the volcano. You don't have to order a meal to eat the dessert and, for this specialty from MacKinnon's, it might be wiser to enjoy the surprise on an empty stomach.

Mini-Review

Hoosiers

Hoosiers is the story of an underdog high school basketball team's battle to the top, starring Gene Hackman, Dennis Hopper and Barbara Hershey.

The film is set in 1951 in Hickory, Ind., a sleepy farming town "where trains seldom stop, strangers are held in suspect and high school basketball is followed with enough enthusiasm to make the seventh game of the World Series feel like just another baseball game."

Hackman stars as Hickory's new basketball coach, an unwelcomed outsider whose training and teaching methods infuriate the townspeople.

In true "Rocky" fashion, you'll be on your feet with the last shot at the hoop at the film's end.

Newcomers schedule trips to Holly and Ann Arbor

Shopping in historic Holly, Mich., is planned by Northville Newcomers as the ladies day outing for October. The October couples' event will be dinner at Heidelberg Restaurant in Ann Arbor and afterward attending the Ann Arbor Mainstreet Comedy.

Newcomer president Christine Knapp announces: "In Holly Newcomers will visit Battle Alley and the Holly Hotel during the outing scheduled from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Oct. 14. Reservations are limited to 30 and may be made from Sept. 24-28 with Marti Gilchrist, 348-3984.

Cost is $6.95 a person with participants to meet at Cooke School to form car pools.

Dinner at the Heidelberg is scheduled for 6 p.m. Oct. 24. Shelley Sabin, chairperson with Greg Knapp, may be called at 348-3753 between Sept. 28 and Oct. 2 to make reservations. They are $38 a couple with the outing limited to 30 couples.

Bakers sought for Tivoli Fair Oct. 2-3

More than 100 exhibitors from 50 different communities will be featured in the 17th annual Tivoli Fair — the juried arts and craft show sponsored by Northville Historical Society — Oct. 2-3 inside the Northville Downs Clubhouse.

All proceeds from the fair are used by the historical society for the restoration of Mill Race Historical Village.

Hours will be from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m. Friday, Oct. 2, and from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 3. Admission is $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12 and for senior citizens. Ample free parking will be provided; lunch will be available at the snack bar.

Sponsors note, however, that no strollers will be admitted to the show.

Northville Historical Society is seeking assistance from bakers interested in donating baked goods for the Tivoli Fair. The society will be selling baked goods at its own booth during the fair.

Kathy Crossman, bake sale chairman, asks that items such as brownies, lemon bars, date and apricot cookies, muffins and cupcakes be wrapped individually or in groups of a dozen or a half dozen and that they have labels.

Pies, cakes, coffee cakes, rolls, quick or yeast breads also are welcome.

Plain cookies with or without nuts are needed for a children's table. Brownies, plain and with nuts, muffins and pies are best sellers. However, the chairman notes, "your best recipe is also always good sellers."

Items can be dropped off at the historical society booth across from the middle doors as early as 7 a.m. for those who work, or earlier in the week at 46274 Pickford. Crossman may be called at 349-8289 if anyone has questions.

Donations also will be accepted from those who do not have time to bake.

Crossman says the historical society is hoping to raise $700 at the bake sale, noting that the bake sale booth always is sold out. Last year the booth sold $670 worth of baked goods, up from $400 in previous years.

The Tivoli Fair is only one of many fund raisers of the historical society, which is raising funds for the move of Cady Inn from Cady Street to the village and for its restoration. The salt-box white house was moved to the village Monday.

An auction at the Mill Race Village last Thursday night raised almost $500, chairman Alice Pooley reported.

Quilting expert's demonstrating at show

"About eight years ago," recalls Doris Cross, "I started quilting and stopped doing most other sewing and handwork. I love the creativity of quilting."

This week the Northville resident is teaching her needle craft as part of the 1987 Michigan Sesquicentennial Quilt Show and Seminar being held Sept. 25, 26 and 27 at Oakland Center - Oakland University in Rochester.

Cross notes that she began teaching quilting classes through Northville Community Education program. She's presently teaching eight classes weekly for Plymouth and Northville schools, Schoolcraft College and the Golden Fleece, a store in Farmington.

This quilter's background includes a degree in home economics education, but, she notes, after college, in-

The show is intended to "convey the creativeness and enjoyment of this American folk art as well as to convey that quilting is not all that difficult or complicated if it is taken step by step."

Cross is teaching a beginner class, Crash Course 1 and 2, at the Friday seminar.

She says it is intended to "convey the creativeness and enjoyment of this American folk art as well as to convey that quilting is not all that difficult or complicated if it is taken step by step."

Oakland center is located off I-75 exit 74 on University Drive.

Cross adds that "many of the people I've taught continue to quilt in Block of the Month groups I've organized, so we still do get to see each other."

Eight of these quilters will be showing and selling their quilts in a booth at the Tivoli Fair at Northville Downs Oct. 2 and 3.

Accept No Substitutes.

The Impostors.

They're called urgent care centers. "Urgie" centers. Walk in clinics. Some of them even have major hospital names over the door. But if the need is really urgent, you need more. A lot more.

The Real Emergency Room, at Huron Valley Hospital.

In an actual life- or limb-threatening emergency, there's no substitute for Huron Valley Hospital—western Oakland County's only hospital. And only a hospital has complete Emergency Room services, available 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. The HVH Emergency Room is a designated Level II Emergency Department.

When an emergency patient is taken to Huron Valley—unlike those "walk-in" units—there should be no need for a trip to a hospital in the city. Everything that's needed on arrival, including extended care, is right here.

- Doctors trained in the specialty of Emergency Medicine.
- Registered Nurses trained in Advanced Cardiac Life Support.
- A fully equipped Hospital Trauma Room.
- Emergency Medical Service (EMS) communications for permitting emergency patient care at the scene. Plus our own helport.
- Cardiac/Critical Care, Pediatrics, Medical/Surgical, Maternity Departments, and a host of responsive specialists standing ready for post-emergency care.

September garden's ablaze with color

A "cascade of color" has been created at the two-year-old Pickford Lane home of Roger and May Dubuc. The Dubucs gathered inspiration from the Butchart Gardens in Victoria, British Columbia and added plants from their former Southfield home and others picked up in their travels. The couple also bought annuals and perennials from local nurseries.

Roger Dubuc built tiers of flagstones to display the multitude of plantings his wife lovingly tends. Reds, oranges and pinks blend in a bright oasis that can be viewed from every room of their home, report Judy Beyersdorf and Pat Eden, chairmen of the Garden of the Month project of Country Girls Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

The Dubuc gardens were their September selection after the gardens were nominated for the honor by May Dubuc's cousin, Lillian Chagnon. May Dubuc notes that her cousin also "added her time and energy to the garden, collecting unusual plants, digging, fertilizing the rocky soil, dividing and planting."

May Dubuc credits her love of gardening to her father, recalling that he scattered seeds each spring to create fields of poppies at their home in British Columbia on the border of Alaska. She maintains the cool, humid weather helps the Canadians create some magnificent gardens and mentions that she returns each spring to visit relatives and enjoy the flowers which serve as her inspiration.

Flowers blooming in the front and side yards at the Dubuc home include small variety yellow and orange marigolds, white periwinkle, red petunias, snow on the mountain, pink begonias and white alyssum, roses and lavender pink periwinkle and geraniums.

In the ravine area such ground covers as ivy and golden carpet are background for lilies and rhododendron. Rock garden tiers are filled with red salvia, mums, petunias, snow on the mountain and many other plantings.

Jacob's Ladder, balloon flowers, cup and saucer (campanula) are other colorfully named flowers in the Dubuc gardens.

5 reasons to go to Windsor next Saturday

1. Like beaches? There's over a dozen of them in Windsor's Essex County. In fact there's over 25 miles of beachfront on our Lake Erie coast and Lake St. Clair. Get a great tan. Watch the waves roll in. Or just wiggle your toes in the sand. Where else are you going to find beaches like these?

2. Kids of all ages love Bob-Lo. When you take the boat from Amherstburg, the ride's a little shorter and costs a little less.

3. Imagine a place where lush tropical vegetation grows in profusion. It's not the Amazon, it's not deepest Africa, it's Colasanti's Tropical Gardens.

4. Go to Windsor for the nightlife. Like jazz? Like rock-n-roll? How about bluegrass or bagpipes or pops or symphony? If you're looking for a little night music, you've come to the right place: Windsor.

5. You can have lunch or dinner right on the water at places like Windsor Hilton, Smitty's-on-the-River or Lakeshore Terrace. Hotel down in Kingsville. Because Windsor Essex County is practically the world capital of waterfront restaurants.

Actually, there are more than five reasons to go to Windsor next weekend. In fact, no one really knows how many there are. Go to Windsor for a walk along the beach, a stroll in the park or take a ferry ride to Pelee Island. It's more than a way to get out of the house. It's a way to have a good time. Just say...

Arts Commission poetry project's moving ahead

Northville poet Kathleen Ripley Leo reports that the book of poetry, "Buchner's Hill," she is writing (with illustrations by Allen Berlinski) is progressing well. Commissioned by the Northville Arts Commission to depict life in Northville from both a historic and present day perspective, the book is being published in part by a grant from the Michigan Council for the Arts.

"I would like to walk everywhere in Northville," poet Leo says, noting that she is working on the project full time and already has visited local cemeteries as well as Jim Downing's horse farm on Seven Mile Road.

Her volume of poetry, "Inner Timbres," is being used as a text at Wayne State University.

Some tickets still available for mystery solvers

A few tickets still are available for "A Country Harvest," second mystery night being sponsored by Northville Community Chamber of Commerce, Edwards Caterers and M-Care. All three have tickets at $25 a person for the Oct. 3 event being held in Mill Race Historical Village.

Chamber executive director Laurie Marrs relates that the second mystery program was planned as the first was so well received. Participants, she advises, should dress as if they were going to a funeral.

Northville kickers battle Salem to 2-2 tie

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

By moving defender Eric Halverson to halfback, Northville soccer Coach Dave Yezback beefed-up his team's lackluster offense. It proved to be a good move as the Mustangs completed a fine week with a win and a tie.

On Sept. 14, Northville downed a good Livonia Franklin squad 4-1 on the road thanks to the rejuvenated offense. Two days later, the Mustangs battled tough Plymouth Salem, the state's 18th ranked team, to a 2-2 tie.

"It was an encouraging week," Yezback said. "To come away without a loss against two good teams should be good for our confidence."

With forward Watt Wittrick sidelined with a broken foot, Yezback made some changes in the early going against Franklin and it seemed to perk up the team. Yezback moved Noel Korowin up front with Steve Yezback and Brad Maliszewski and put Halverson in Korowin's old spot at center halfback. The new combinations made an immediate difference.

"Halverson has controlled the center for us on defense so we thought he could do the same at halfback," Yezback explained. "It worked out real nice. He was distributing the ball well and was in on a couple goals."

At the 23 minute mark, Halverson dealt the ball to Korowin, but his shot was deflected by the Patriot goaltender. Yezback alertly gained control of the rebound, however, and scored the game's first goal. The first half ended 1-0.

Just three minutes into the second half, Yezback returned the favor by setting up Korowin, who headed it into the net for a 2-0 advantage. Halverson was credited with another assist. Yezback rounded out the scoring with two more goals, one at the 16 minutes mark and at the 28 minute mark. Maliszewski and Ken Neal assisted each score. The hat-trick gives Yezback nine goals in eight games this season.

"We had nice production from Steve, but he had a lot of help from his teammates," Yezback pointed out.

Franklin's only goal came after a scramble in front of the Northville net with just 10 minutes left. The Mustangs outshoot the Pats 17-15 for the match.

The defenses dominated play for the first half of the Northville-Salem match, and it ended with a scoreless tie.

"It was pretty good defense by both teams," Yezback said. "I think we showed (Salem) more offense than they thought we would, so they started to play more defensively."

Seven minutes into the second half, Jim Burkowski broke the deadlock with a goal on a throw-in by Halverson. But less than three minutes later, the Rocks tied it again on a penalty kick following a disputed call.

"(Mustang goalie Roger) Kimary got his fingertips on the ball but he couldn't deflect it enough," Yezback reported.

At the 25 minute mark, Salem took the lead for the first time on a shot that caught the inside of the post and got past Kimary. With only eight minutes left, junior Andy Frey salvaged the tie by scoring after a pass from Yezback. Frey's shot deflected off a Salem defender's leg and ricocheted into the net.

"It was a very evenly matched game," Yezback pointed out. "They outshot us 20-16, but I felt we should have won if we had a few more breaks."

Northville's overall record is now 5-2-1 (2-1-1 in the WLAA).

Offense lets gridgers down again

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Northville Mustangs are finding out the hard way that you can't win football games if you don't score any points.

For the second straight week, the Mustangs failed to score, which took the lustre off two solid defensive efforts and saddled the team with a pair of close defeats. Last Friday (Sept. 12), Northville made one mistake and host Livonia Churchill made it hurt, en route to a 6-0 Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) win. For the luckless Mustangs, it marks the third straight loss of the season, all by a touchdown or less.

"I don't know of any new lines to tell you," Northville Coach Darrel Schumacher said. "It sounds a lot like our last game — both teams played excellent defense and it came down to one big play."

The big play was a 50-yard touchdown strike from Charger quarterback John Tracy to receiver Brad Wylie in the second quarter. It proved to be the only offensive triumph of the contest.

"It was a great call by (Churchill) and they scored on it," Schumacher said. "I'm still proud of the kids for the way they are working hard and giving it everything they have — I just wish we could get a win to reward everyone for their determination."

Neither team sustained anything offensively for much of the game as Northville punted the ball away nine times and Churchill seven. One of the Mustangs' only real scoring chances happened in their first possession as the team drove from its own 41 down inside the Charger 20. The drive stalled, and Chris Kuffner was called on to attempt a 38-yard field goal, but it was well short.

Later in the first quarter, Northville's Sam Khashan recovered a Churchill fumble, but a penalty and other mental mistakes moved the Mustangs out of scoring range and they were forced to punt.

With 6:42 remaining in the half and the ball at midfield, Tracy faked an option run and faded back to pass. The fake had fooled the Northville secondary, Wylie got behind the coverage, caught a perfectly thrown pass by Tracy and raced into the end zone, breaking an Ed Walsh tackle in the process. The extra point attempt failed, and the lead was 6-0.

"It looked like an option run, our cornerback took the fake, and he let the receiver get behind him," Schumacher explained. "That's all it takes."

The Mustangs played even tougher defense in the second half, but without much of offensive attack, the defenders were on the field most of the game.

"We did have a few first downs on offense, but we never could put it together and move down the field," Schumacher said. "The defense was doing a good job but we were behind and with the offense struggling, we were in trouble."

Northville's Kathleen Kotarski hits a backhand in earlier tennis action this season

Netters moving toward title, extend winning streak to 5

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

"We had a wonderful week."

That was the only way Northville tennis Coach Uta Filkin could explain it — her Mustangs are on a hot-streak, and nothing but a minor miracle can keep her squad from grabbing its second straight WLAA league, Western Division title.

Northville made it five straight dual meet wins, all against league opponents, by clobbering good teams last week. Plymouth Salem went down 6-1 on Sept. 14, Walled Lake Central followed 5-2 on Sept. 16 and Plymouth Canton fell 6-1 last Friday (Sept. 18). The "wonderful" week leaves the Mustangs with a perfect 5-0 record in WLAA play (5-1 overall).

Northville's only loss against Salem came at No. 1 singles as Missy Smith was too much for Adrienne Edwards (1-6, 1-6). But in the other singles matches, Kathleen Kotarski triumphed over Anna Turner (6-3, 6-3), Nanci Dutkiewicz downed Beth Cundiff in three sets (6-0, 3-6, 6-3) and Karen Vogt turned back Lillian Chang (6-2, 6-3).

In doubles, Abbey Edwards and Jennifer Trabin combined to outlast Wendy Shier and Robin Stuber at No. 1 (6-2, 4-6, 6-3), Julie Millgard and Laura Nance handled Ann Gilmore and Sheila Rapila at No. 2 (6-4, 6-4) while Almee Edwards and Jackie Trausch crushed Jenny Kath and Michelle Minton 6-2, 6-4.

"This is the first time we've ever beat Salem this bad," Filkin said. "I think they were in a bit of a slump and we were really up for it mentally. It was really nice to have an easy one against (Salem) for a change."

The Mustangs and Vikings managed to get their match in despite the bad weather, but it too was quite lopsided. Filkin credited Kathleen Kotarski for her effort against Central because she competed at No. 2 singles despite suffering from the flu.

"Kathleen was very sick but she played anyway, and I appreciated it," Filkin said. "If one person goes down, it weakens all of our line-up because everybody is forced to move up."

Dutkiewicz bombed Tracy Hogan at No. 3 singles (6-1, 6-2) and Vogt did the same at No. 4 (6-1, 6-1), but Adrienne Edwards and Kotarski came up short at the top of the singles line-up. It was the Mustangs' only losses of the day.

In doubles, Abby Edwards and Trabin crushed Jodie Wilson and Melissa Brieger (6-2, 6-0), Millgard and Nance downed Jenny Chenulski and Patty Gardner (6-3, 6-1), while Almee Edwards and Shannon Couzens edged Michelle Leaf and Marga Stroble (6-4, 6-1).

"The flu is going around and everybody seems to be getting it," Filkin said. "So from that point of view it's been a struggle. Considering it all, they did a good job on making it without collapsing."

The Canton match was much closer than the 6-1 score indicates, but again Northville came through with big wins in several three set marathons. Abby Edwards returned to her normal position at No. 2 singles and promptly dumped Pam Penland 6-2, 6-2. Kotarski, back at No. 3, blasted Alissa Huth 6-1, 6-2 while the third doubles team of Almee Edwards and Trausch bounced Melissa and Michelle Sparkman, 6-3, 6-0. Those were the easy wins — the rest were struggles.

"Except for the three easy ones, the matches were very long and very close," Filkin said. "Some went as long as three and a half hours and that is tough mentally."

Adrienne Edwards was nipped by Lynn Horvath (6-3, 6-7, 3-6) at No. 1, but it turned out to be the only defeat for Northville. Vogt didn't play well, but still topped Cherie Bayer 3-6, 6-4, 6-2 at No. 4 singles. The Trabin/Dutkiewicz duo struggled to a 5-7, 6-2, 7-6 win while Millgard and Nance pulled out an extended 5-7, 7-5, 6-3 victory.

"I think now there is very little that can keep the division championship from us," Filkin said. "This was the week where we found out where we stand against the others."

Big play keys 6-0 Churchill victory

For the game, Northville had just five first downs and Churchill added only six. The Chargers did double the Mustangs' total offense numbers (180-90), but with the exception of the scoring pass, both defenses dominated. Northville quarterback Greg Price was only 4-14 with an interception and the leading rusher was senior Mike Yard (63 yards on 18 carries).

"Northville has thrown the ball well this year," Churchill Coach Herb Osterland said. "We knew we couldn't let (Price) complete passes to win."

Schumacher hasn't given up yet on his new passing offense, but knows that 12 points in three games isn't a very potent attack.

"What we are trying to do should be working, but it's not," he said. "I still think we can move the ball this year, it's just the little things that are holding us back. We're concentrating on the offense in practice and I think we're close to turning it around."

One thing is for certain — the Mustang defense has been solid. After three games, Northville has given up just 28 points this season — a year ago at this time, the team had already surrendered over 100.

"We didn't really count on our defense to carry the team the way it has," Schumacher pointed out. "But no matter how good the defense is, if you don't score, it makes it tough to win games."

Defensively, the Northville linebacker corps stopped the Chargers cold with Todd Daniels (five solos, eight assists), Mark Stevens (6 solos, five assists) and Mike Hale (five solos, two assists) leading the way. Defensive tackle Rob Spraulin added eight solos and five assists.

With Plymouth Canton coming to town tomorrow (Sept. 25) for a WLAA showdown, the Mustang defense will have the difficult task of slowing down star runner Roger Trice and quarterback Neil Hubert.

"They present some unique problems for our defense," Schumacher said. "We need to establish an attack and keep the defense off the field a little longer."

"We deserve a win — I really can't say enough about the kids. I don't think anybody is going to make the mistake of taking us lightly."

Mike Yard (44) rushed for 63 yards in 18 carries in Northville's 6-0 loss at Churchill

Late-rally fails, Northville cagers fall to WLC, 57-55

Junior guard Karen Baird pushes the ball upcourt for the Mustang cage squad

Record/CHRIS BOYD

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

If a loss can ever be encouraging, Northville's 57-55 girls' basketball defeat on the road against Walled Lake Central certainly counts.

The Vikings entered the game on Sept. 17 unbeaten in three tries, and all three were blow-outs. But the Mustangs (2-3 overall, 0-1 in WLLA) stayed in the game the whole way and actually went up by as much as eight points in the second half before tiring late in the game. A frantic come-from-behind bid fell one basket short, but Northville Coach Ed Kritch was still pleased with his team's effort, despite the loss.

"I thought we played extremely well," he said. "We came out of the gate a lot better than in our previous four games, that's for sure."

The entire first half was a nip and tuck affair as neither team was able to establish control. Central led 14-13 after one quarter and 31-30 at the half. But late in the third, the Mustangs opened up an eight-point lead only to see the Vikings rally for five straight points to narrow it to 46-43 heading into the fourth quarter.

"I think we just tired a little bit at the end of the third and in the fourth quarter," Kritch said. "Central dominated the boards, especially in the fourth quarter, and that really hurt us."

With the score tied 49-49 with 2:24 left, Central took advantage of a few Northville mistakes and scored three straight baskets to gain the upper hand. It put the Mustangs in a deep hole, but they continued to fight back and eventually tied it again with 35 seconds left on a jumper from Debbie Stevens and a pair of long-range buckets by Heather Sixt.

On its next possession, Central tried to work the ball inside but Northville's Katie Brugman was whistled for a questionable foul enabling Kelly O'Hanlon to make it 57-55 with a pair of free throws. With the clock running down, Sixt attempted a three-point field goal for the win at the buzzer, but it fell short.

"Heather had a good shot but it was short — those things happen," Kritch said. "It was a good effort by the whole team but it was not enough to win. We need to get to the point that we win these types of games, and apparently we aren't there yet."

"I do like the way we play though. These girls never give up."

Stevens led the way with a game-high 20 points, guard Karen Baird added 14 (including two three-pointers) and Sixt chipped in with 10 for the Mustangs. Jeanine LaPrad, playing in her first full game since recovering from illness, had a nice floor game (five steals) while sophomores Sue LaPrad and Kristy Turner contributed for the first time this season. LaPrad substituted nicely for Jenny Stevens, who suffered an ankle injury early in the game and Turner replaced Brugman effectively when the senior forward got into foul trouble.

Viking center Leah Visides scored 14 of her 18 points in the second half including 12 on offensive rebounds and put-backs.

"We played very hard so it was disappointing to all of us that we didn't win the game," Kritch said. "It was probably one of the most exciting games I've ever been associated with."

Mustang tank squad sets sights on division championship

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Northville girls' swim team is young but has experience, and sports good leadership despite having no seniors on the roster. And let's not forget about talent — Coach Bill Dicks' group has that as well.

Gone from last years' 9-1-1 team is Erika Nelsen, Diane Ford, Shari Thompson, Dee LaChance and Karen Petersen — all were lost to graduation. But a promising freshman group is now aboard and a super junior class will probably make more waves than ever. The outlook is certainly bright, especially when you consider that there is not a single senior on the roster.

"I have no seniors, but we have good leadership from our juniors," Dicks said. "If you look at it that way, I guess we are working on a two-year program because everybody will be back next year. It looks like we're going to be strong for the next couple of years."

The top Mustang returnees include junior tri-captains Julie Hilfinger, Becky Frayne and Sandy Loftus, but perhaps the squad's most outstanding swimmer is sophomore Debbie Buell. In Dicks' program, there really isn't much specialization going on — he stresses versatility and that emphasis rubs off on his swimmers. "We don't specialize," he said.

"We want the girls to be proficient in every stroke. We want them to do everything."

Heading the impressive freshman class is Pam Holdridge. She is joined by other talented youngsters like Bettie Petricca, Kristen Woodsum and Erica Lutz.

"All these girls should be a big help to us," Dicks said. "I think we have a real nice group of freshmen."

Diving is projected as a strong area for the Mustangs. The team's top two divers — Wendy Beach and Michelle Beacham — are both back and have been impressive in early workouts.

"We'll be in the thick of the (WLLA

Western Division) race at the end of the season," Dicks said. "We have division and league goals set and we'd also like to qualify a few girls for the state meet. We've got some good swimmers — I think they'll do fine this season."

Sept. 12 was a busy day for the team. In the afternoon, the Mustangs began the season at the Griffin Relays at Brighton along with nine other teams. Northville placed eighth in the event, but it didn't concern Dicks.

"There were some good teams there, but we didn't go just to try and place first," Dicks said. "We used it as a chance to prepare ourselves — a sort of dry run through."

Later that same day, the Mustangs joined the other 11 WLLA teams for the Conference Relays at Plymouth Salem — and the results were encouraging. Northville placed fifth overall with 192 points, just 34 behind the winners from North Farmington. Livonia Stevenson was second (224), Livonia Churchill third (220) and Plymouth Canton fourth (198). Plymouth Salem suffered two disqualifications, and dropped to sixth.

"I think this showed what a close race we're probably in for," Dicks said. "All these teams are very close in talent — I don't see one team running away with it this year."

The highlights of the meet for the Mustangs included a pair of firsts and a second. The 400-yard freestyle relay team of Buell, Hilfinger, Frayne and Holdridge combined for a win while Buell, Hilfinger, Holdridge and Loftus teamed for a second in the 200 medley relay. The other first came in the diving relay, as Beach and Beacham pulled together for the win.

"Our training is going well and the girls are working real hard right now with two-a-day practices," Dicks said.

The Mustangs will open the dual meet portion of the schedule tonight (Sept. 24) against powerful Livonia Stevenson at the Northville pool.

We want to collar a few good men.

The Archdiocese of Detroit has a job to do. We know some people who are facing tough choices in life who need good advice. We know some people who are facing no choices who still need hope. We know a lot of great kids who need a place to be kids, and maybe someone to bring the ball or the music. We know a few older people who are going to die whether or not someone is there to bring them peace.

All over the Archdiocese there are people who need a place to count their blessings and share their sorrows — people who need a hand or a shoulder to lean on — or sometimes just an ear.

At Sacred Heart Seminary we're teaching young men to use the hands and shoulders and ears and hearts God gave them. It's a great education. A college degree. Graduate work. We'll give you up to eight years to decide you really want to be a priest before we ask you to do it for good.

Sure, the hours are long. But they're flexible. And if you come to work here, you'll get rich in ways few people can imagine.

Not everyone can do this. We invite you. If you think you can, call us. We can't call you.

Powerful Falcons knock off harriers

The Northville boys' cross country squad is improving at a rate that Coach Ed Gabrys wants to see. Unfortunately, in the Mustangs' only dual meet action last week, that improvement took a back seat to a talented Farmington team as the Falcons ripped Northville 22-36 on Sept. 17.

Two days later, the Mustangs met up with 10 of the other 11 Western Lakes league teams at the Schoolcraft Invitational and continued to show the kind of progression the team is going to need this season in the brutal WLA Northville managed to place eighth in the 17-team event, thanks to another nice run by senior John Frisbie.

Farmington, regarded as one of the top five teams in the state this year, had too much depth for the Mustangs — but at the top, it was a battle Frisbie went out strong and stayed with the Falcon's top runner — Brandon Lyndon — for the entire race but was edged out at the wire by two seconds. Frisbie's time of 17:13 was his best of the year.

"It really wasn't too bad. We had a couple of objectives and we met them all... we wanted to get our one-through-five pack time down under 2:30 and we were able to do that (and) we wanted to score less than 40 points and we did that too."

— Ed Gabrys
Boys Cross Country Coach

Number two man Scott Sinkwits narrowed the gap between himself and Frisbie, and placed fourth overall in the process — in a personal best time of 18:15. Doug Meadows was eighth (18:53), Jay Griffith 10th (19:18), freshman Andy Haas 12th (19:31), Jason Hoose 14th (20:08) and Dave Okasinski 16th (20:24).

"It really wasn't too bad," Gabrys said. "We had a couple of objectives and we met them all. Considering Farmington's strength, we wanted to get our one-through-five pack time down under 2:30 and we were able to do that. We wanted to score less than 40 points and we did that too. In fact, two-thirds of the kids improved their times since the last time we ran at Cass Benton."

The Schoolcraft Invitational provided an early look at the WLA competition, and although Northville performed well, Gabrys saw his squad finish behind three other Western Division teams. If it was any indication, the Mustangs will have a hard road to the division title in '87.

"You always like to place a little higher, but we were projecting a middle of the pack finish and that's what happened," Gabrys said. "We went out and did quick first miles, on purpose, and as we expected, they had a little trouble coming back. But overall, I was very encouraged with our times."

Frisbie placed eighth overall in a field of over 100, in a time of 17:16. He was followed by Sinkwits in 30th place (18:10), Meadows in 46th (18:52), Griffith in 54th place (18:52), Haas in 65th (19:10) and Okasinski in 95th (20:13).

"Sinkwits pulled within a minute of Frisbie and that's what I want to see," Gabrys pointed out. "He had a real good first mile and finished strong. Our freshman, Andy Haas, has been doing real well for us, and we need him now. Jeff Hoose is out with a hamstring pull. Jeff probably won't be back until early October, and Andy filled in well."

Girls' cross country team hopeful after invite

It was a humbling, and yet optimistic week for Northville Coach Nick Dunwoodie and his girls' cross country team.

The humbling part came in a 16-40 defeat on Sept. 17 against a strong Farmington team, but optimism was everywhere after the Mustangs placed sixth in the 16-team event — ahead of three key WLA Western Division foes.

Against Farmington, freshman Marcie Dart was again the bright spot, placing fifth overall in 23:19. Dart was one of only three Northville runners to place in the top eight overall.

"Marcie has been running extremely well,"

Dunwoodie said. "I just hope she can continue to improve at the rate she has been."

Roxann Staknis placed seventh (23:59), followed by Jean Riney (eighth, 24:27), Lisa Brown (ninth, 24:31), Jennifer Goshorn (11th, 25:07), Lynn Higgins (29:35) and Ann Cosco (30:23).

"We made steady improvement, and that's good to see," Dunwoodie pointed out. "(Farmington) is a very tough team."

Two days later, Farmington showed its strength at Schoolcraft with a second place finish, but the Mustangs' effort was equally impressive.

"At Schoolcraft, the entire team did well," Dunwoodie said. "Just about everybody on the team improved by about a minute. As a team, we placed ahead of Franklin, Churchill and Walled Lake Western, and we haven't run against them yet in dual meets. I think that gives the team some hope for some wins this season."

Staknis was the first Mustang across the finish line in 15th place overall, in a time of 21:57. Dart followed in 23rd place (22:25), Brown was 45th (23:07), Riney 50th and Goshorn 54th.

"We had five runners very close together and they all ran well — things are looking up," Dunwoodie said.

Golfers fall apart versus Churchill

The Northville golfers came up with a terrible outing last week against Livonia Churchill on Sept. 17, and it quickly ended the team's unbeaten dual meet streak that had reached a half-dozen.

But the rest of the week was much better as the Mustangs downed Livonia Stevenson on Sept. 14 and performed well as a team at the Plymouth Best-Ball Tournament on Sept. 15. Most of the poor golf, it seemed, was withheld until the disaster against Churchill.

The Chargers crushed Northville 204-224 at Hilltop Country Club, which marked the highest score by the Mustangs golfers this season — by 17 strokes! Coach Don Morgan really couldn't explain what happened, other than the fact that his golfers weren't ready to play mentally.

"Our kids weren't mentally into it," he said. "The greens at Hilltop were fast and undulated and our guys weren't really used to it."

There was a bright spot to the outing, though, as junior Kevin Telepo carded an excellent 36. Unfortunately, the rest of the Mustangs fell apart.

Kirk Windisch was next with a 43, Chris Lemmon and James Nordbeck — normally around 40 — saw their scores balloon to 47, Dave McKee had a 51 and junior Darrin Marsh a 53.

"We haven't even come close to 224, even in practice the first day," Morgan admitted. "I was expecting more out of them against Churchill."

Four days earlier, Northville looked sharper in a 202-212 victory over Stevenson at Salem Hills. Again, Telepo was the star, carding an even-par 36 — but this time he got some help from Lemmon (39). The two outstanding scores helped make up for the rest of the team's scores, which were mediocre at best. Windisch notched a 44 and was followed by Nordbeck and Brad Wheeler (46 apiece) and McKee (47).

"I thought we played well as a team," Morgan said. "When somebody was down and struggling, somebody else picked us up with a nice score."

At the best-ball tournament, the Northville team of Telepo and Nordbeck placed third overall with a one-under par 69 — just one stroke out of first place. As for the second team of McKee and Lemmon, their seven-over par 77 was somewhat of a nightmare.

"Those guys just fell asleep out there," Morgan said. "Their score really hurt our team score, but they were out there when the weather was pretty bad."

Fitness program coming to mall

By CHRISTOPHER KOZLOWSKI

If life begins at 40 for some, life at 50 will be taking on a new meaning for the participants in a new program at Twelve Oaks Mall beginning next month.

Through the mall's "Fitness Over 50" program, all persons (age is not a restriction) are invited to participate in a bi-weekly aerobic exercise class aimed to improve strength and muscle tone and increase energy and endurance.

According to Twelve Oaks spokesperson Elaine Kah, the program is being conducted in cooperation with the University of Michigan's division of physical education.

The program was designed and field tested by the University of Michigan for more than 10 years, Kah said. The program made its debut at Briarwood Mall in Ann Arbor in November 1986.

"We started it (at Briarwood) three days a week, and just last week it became a five-days-per-week program with at least 120 persons participating every day," said Kah.

"We really want to get the program going here, because we really do have the population in our market" and a lot of interest has been generated, she added.

"We ran through the program with selected seniors last month, and they really seemed to enjoy it. We can grow to as large a program as our area can hold," Kah said.

"It is a safe, proven, and highly effective work out for older people, and others who are interested in low-impact aerobic exercise programs," she continued.

The "Fitness Over 50" program was created by Phyllis Saxton Weikart, an associate professor of sports management and communication at the U of M, who has also written eight books on exercise and rhythmic movement and dance.

The "Fitness at 50" program is being sponsored in conjunction with the mall's existing "walking for fitness" program, which allows interested health-minded individuals to keep fit while walking through the mall beginning at 9 a.m. every morning.

"Our walkers come in early in the morning and walk at their own pace," Kah said. "We have some walkers who come in early in the morning and walk half the day."

Kah said Twelve Oaks is in the process of "stepping up" its walker program, especially now, as more walkers choose the mall as the place to do their exercising.

"They are all starting to come in more so now because of the weather," Kah said. "It is cooling down, and as the weather starts to change, we see a lot more people coming into the center."

The "Fitness Over 50" program is scheduled to make its Twelve Oaks Mall debut Oct. 12. Sessions are scheduled to take place every Monday and Thursday from 9-10 a.m. on the lower level of the Lord & Taylor court. For more information on how to join the "Fitness Over 50 program" or how to be a Twelve Oaks walker call Twelve Oaks at 348-9405.

Fitness Tips

Seek more vitamin P? Try citrus fruit peels

Everyone knows that eating oranges, grapefruit and other citrus fruits is important for a well-balanced diet. But did you ever consider eating the peel from the citrus fruit?

The water-soluble pulp of fruit and vegetables contains bioflavonoids, also known as Vitamin P.

According to an article by H.M. Scott in Muscle & Fitness, bioflavonoids are not considered essential for all individuals, but may be required to facilitate optimal functioning.

Experts who have studied bioflavonoids found that individuals who included them in their diets exhibited a reduced rate of arteriosclerosis, increased protection against arthritis, decreased menopausal symptoms, a reduction in ulcer problems, better resistance to infection and decreased symptoms of asthma, according to the article.

Bioflavonoids are found in the white skin and segment parts of the citrus fruits — oranges, lemons and grapefruits. They also are found in cherries, blackberries, buckwheat and rosehips.

Although individuals who drink fruit juice may maintain adequate levels of Vitamin C in their bodies, they are not necessarily receiving bioflavonoids.

Law Enforcement Agencies Support Clamp Down on Prescription Drug Abuse

Attacking the problem of prescription drug abuse is one step closer with unanimous Senate approval of legislation instituting triplicate prescription forms, sponsored by state Senator R. Robert Geake (R-Northville).

"Unanimous support shows a consensus in the Senate on the importance of these bills," Geake said. "I hope they receive similar consideration in the House."

Michigan is ranked 8th in the nation in population, but much higher in gross national consumption of many Schedule II drugs (Ritalin, Dilaudid, Seconal & Demeral, among others). Michigan currently has no controls on prescription drugs beyond the wholesale level. This legislation would allow the State to complete the information gap between manufacturer and the ultimate user.

Under Geake's bills, doctors would use prenumbered triplicate forms to issue Schedule II (narcotic) prescriptions. One copy of the prescription would remain with the physician, one with the pharmacist, and one for the state's Department of Licensing and Regulation. Records of the prescriptions will then be maintained in a central registry.

"It (trip-script legislation) would go a long way to reducing the number of illegal prescriptions."

Geake's legislation also creates the Controlled Substance Advisory Commission. This 12 member board will oversee the prescription system. "Right now our records are not adequate to assist authorities in their investigations of prescription fraud and drug abuse. The accountability called for in this legislation will help weed out that small minority of prescribers, dispensers and users who are abusing the system for profit or habit," Geake said. These bills also establish strict penalties and fines for improper prescribing, dispensing, abuse and fraud.

"The prescription drug business is big business," said Geake. "We have worked diligently and have been committed to finding a solution to this problem for five years. Many interested parties have participated in the development of this legislation and I believe this is one solution to an ongoing problem which must be checked. Anyone who recognizes that our state has a prescription drug abuse problem will surely support this effort," Geake concluded.

Governor's Surprise Vetoes Send Key Legislators Back to Work

The Michigan Legislature completed work on the majority of the 1987-88 budget prior to summer recess in July. Three weeks after the Legislators left Lansing to return to their respective districts, the Governor vetoed $160 million of budget, affecting every state department.

State Senator R. Robert Geake (R-Northville), Chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee on Social Services and Mental Health, said, "reductions of $22.6 million to Social Service providers and cuts in essential services such as foster care and day care as well as $6.9 million in various mental health programs are of grave concern to me."

Geake had reluctantly agreed to a 3% welfare grant increase during the budget process, with the understanding that the 3% increase would also be given to social service medical and foster care providers. "This action by the governor forces the Legislature to go through the entire budget again," Geake said.

Recognizing that the full Legislature is not scheduled to return until September 22nd, Geake has continued to work throughout the summer to determine the best way to solve these budget problems. "We can't leave decisions of this magnitude to be made in the eight days between September 22nd and October 1st, when the new fiscal year begins," Geake concluded.

"In the end the Legislature will have the final say on this budget."

Robert Geake

Aging, Crime, get Special Committees

Senator R. Robert Geake has been appointed to two joint Senate-House committees, one studying issues on aging and the other reviewing anti-crime proposals.

The Joint Committee on Aging plays a vital role in studying aging issues and referring them to the Legislature. "There are many times when issues that are important to senior citizens do not come before a regular standing committee of the Legislature," said Geake. "This committee will be taking the long view on senior issues and propose long-range reforms to the Legislature."

The special joint Senate-House committee charged with coordinating legislative action on anti-crime proposals is comprised of twelve members (six members from both the Senate and House of Representatives). This committee will be meeting throughout the summer and fall and will submit a report of its findings to the Legislature by October 1, 1987, on proposals dealing with crime, juvenile delinquency, and substance abuse.

Geake is one of four Wayne County legislators to be named to this special committee. "I feel fortunate to be given the opportunity to be part of the voice of Wayne County on these issues."

Senator Geake recently received a special tribute from the Michigan State Police in recognition of his leadership and legislative support for law enforcement in Michigan.
