Dinghy Sharp entertains students at Amerman School

She's Sharp with visit story

By ANITA CRONE

Many families have holiday traditions. For some, it is opening presents before midnight Mass. For others, it is traveling to the oldest living family member's home for Christmas dinner.

In the Sharp family, though, it is sharing a story with the entire world. For Florence "Dinghy" Sharp's great-great grandfather, who wanted to be known as a Hebrew scholar, instead is known as the man who wrote "A Visit from St. Nicholas."

Sharp, who now lives in Commerce Township and is retired from the Farmington Public Schools, said she didn't think it was any big deal when, as a 10th grader growing up in New York state, the teachers recounted the poem that has become a Christmas classic.

"It was no big deal," Sharp said. "It was just a story my papa told me

Jeans store is target of armed robbery try

Township police are investigating an armed robbery that occurred Dec. 21 at World Jeans and Alterations at the Highland Lakes Shopping Plaza.

According to the police report, a lone white male entered the store through the front door at about 6:30 p.m., approached the storekeeper and handed the person a handwritten note.

According to Police Capt. Philip

Presnell, the note said, "Give me all your money or I'll kill you."

When the storekeeper refused to give the man any money, the subject fled on foot, Presnell said.

The subject is described as a white male, about 5-foot-9, 150-160 pounds, 18-23 years old, with brown hair.

Officers seized a vehicle parked near the scene of the incident, an older model green Ford, and theorize that it was used in the robbery attempt.

Presnell said officers are continuing to investigate the incident and believe they have a suspect. As The Record went to press, no warrant had been obtained. However, Presnell said he anticipates asking the Wayne County Prosecutor's Office for a warrant "soon."

Police want Pepsi, get coke

A waitress at The Starting Gate in Northville has pleaded guilty to attempted possession with intent to deliver a controlled substance.

Barbara Marie Jackman, 28, of Livonia, was observed selling cocaine to patrons of the bar, according to a state police report. Three sergeants from the Northville State Police post had stopped in the tavern after their shift was completed Sept. 20 and became aware of the illegal activity, a police spokesperson said.

"They (the officers) pooled their money and purchased the drug from the woman, had it analyzed, and it in fact turned out to be cocaine," the spokesperson said.

Jackman was arrested Oct. 1 and pleaded guilty on Nov. 12.

"As I understand it, Sergeant Al Reed and Detective Sgt. Dean Sanderson and Robert Silva had stopped to buy Pepsi. They ended up with coke," the police spokesperson said.

He said that a report had been made to the Liquor Control Commission of the incident.

Planners nix hospital rezoning

By ANNE WILLIS

Following a public hearing on a proposed rezoning of 70 acres of land for a Providence Hospital expansion program, the Novi Planning Commission voted 6-2 against the rezoning.

More than 150 people packed the Novi High School Commons area Dec. 16 to speak and to hear the vote. The hearing lasted over three hours.

The commission's action will result in a negative recommendation to City Council, although council makes the final decision.

Providence Hospital had petitioned the city for a rezoning of the land directly across from the civic center/school/library site on the corner of Ten Mile and Taft Road. Specifically, Providence officials requested that the parcel be rezoned from its current residential designation to an RM-1 classification (low density multiple family) which would have allowed the expanded health care facility.

The proposal Providence has submitted to the city calls for a three-phase development project on the site, with each phase conditional on the needs of the community, according to Brian Connelly, president of Providence Hospital.

In the first phase the hospital would expand its current facilities at Ten Mile and Haggarty Road, moving its current 24-hour emergency care to the new site and developing a three-story medical office building and a two-story patient diagnostic and therapeutic services building. The company would maintain the Haggarty facility as an office-administrative building.

In phase two the company would add an additional office building and expand the diagnostic treatment building. During the public hearing on the proposal, the architect for the Providence project said a power plant also would be added at this phase to serve the buildings in the facility.

The third phase, which Connelly projects could be as far as 10 years away, would contain an actual inpatient hospital facility. Connelly pointed out that before a hospital can be built anywhere in Michigan, a certificate of need must be obtained from the state.

City Planning Consultant Brandon Rogers said he had "trouble supporting the rezoning" as he felt the facility would continue the "institutionalizing" of that section of Novi. Rogers also pointed to traffic concerns for the added level of service in what is a predominately residential section of the city.

"There is a reason that hospitals are not allowed in single family zoning designations," Rogers said. "I personally feel there are other sites."

Rodney Arroyo, city traffic consultant with the firm of Barton-Aschman Associates, gave the commission some traffic generation figures "for discussion purposes only." According to Arroyo, the 70-acre parcel, under its current residential zoning designation (3.3 units per acre), would generate a total of approximately 230 afternoon peak hour trips per day. Under the scenario of an outpatient care complex (using figures submitted by Providence to Barton-Aschman), the use would generate a total of approximately

Northville offices detail holiday hours

'Tis the season for governmental offices to establish holiday hours, and those offices in the city and township are no exception.

The Northville Public Schools will close at 4:30 today and remain closed until Jan. 4. Classes were dismissed at the end of the school day last Friday.

The township hall will be closed Thursday and Friday, but will reopen Monday at 8:30 a.m. Police services will continue uninterrupted.

Next week, the township offices will be closed New Year's Day, but will remain open until 4:30 p.m. Dec. 31, primarily to allow residents to pay their 1987 winter taxes without penalty and to claim the tax deduction on their 1987 income tax returns.

City Hall will be closed both Christmas Eve and Christmas Day, but also will remain open New Year's Eve until 5 p.m., primarily to accept tax payments.

Although taxes are due Dec. 1, taxpayers may pay their money without penalty through Feb. 15, 1988. However, monies paid by the end of the year may be claimed as deductions on federal income tax returns.

The Recreation Department offices will be closed Christmas Eve and Christmas day, but will be open until 5 p.m. New Year's Eve.

The U.S. Post Office will be open for package pickup only both Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve from 8:30 a.m.-5:30 p.m. Window service on both Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve will stop at 1 p.m.

It will be closed on Christmas and New Year's days, with only express mail being delivered. On Dec. 26, the post office windows will be closed, however, mail will be delivered.

On the Saturday following New Year's Day, the Post Office will be open from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. and home delivery of mail will resume.

The Northville Public Library will be closed Thursday, Dec. 24 and Friday, Dec. 25, however, will be open from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Dec. 26. It will be open from 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Dec. 31, however, will close on Jan. 1.

The Northville Chamber of Commerce will be open until noon Dec. 24, but will be closed for the holiday, executive director Laurie Marrs reports.

Local churches plan Christmas services

Local churches have listed their schedules of Christmas Eve and Christmas Day services.

At First United Methodist Church of Northville, 777 W. Eight Mile, the tradition of a live nativity scene, begun last year, will continue at the lower level entrance.

At the 5 p.m. and 8 p.m. services Christmas Eve, youth of the church will portray Mary and Joseph in a scene with live donkeys, lambs and sheep.

A family worship service with the children's choir and the youth bell choir is scheduled for 5 p.m.

At 8 p.m., the festive Christmas service will offer meditation and candle lighting. At 11 p.m., the sermon, "From Bethlehem to Jerusalem," will be given, with special music provided by the adult choir and the adult bell choir. The late service includes candlelighting and Communion.

First Presbyterian Church of Northville, 200 E. Main, will have four Christmas Eve services. New this year will be a children's Christmas pageant at 5 p.m.

"Away in the Manger" will be directed by Jean Boli and Judith Sechler.

At 7 p.m., there will be a family service featuring the youth choirs. At 9 p.m., there will be lessons and carols. At 11 p.m. there will be the candlelight service with Communion.

St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran, 201 Elm St., will hold identical communion services at 6 and 8 p.m. Christmas Eve. There also will be a 10 p.m. candlelight service Christmas Eve. Christmas Day's holy Communion will be at 11 a.m.

Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church, 770 Thayer, will hold Christmas Eve children's Mass at 4 p.m. At 7 p.m. there will be an organ, handbell, and guitar program.

The adult choir, and the brass and handbell choirs will perform at midnight Mass.

Christmas Day at 8:30, the Mass will include organ music, and an organist and a guitar group will provide the music at the 10:30 a.m. service.

NEWS BRIEFS

DNR'S BEST — Roy Schramack, director, water quality division of the Detroit district of the Department of Natural Resources, was one of five DNR employees to be honored as an outstanding employee. Schramack, a Trenton resident, is based at the DNR's Northville office.

BID ACCEPTED — The Board of Education Monday directed Jim Street, director of business and finance, to proceed with final arrangements to sell the school district's Cady Street lot to Douglas Crossman, the high bidder. Crossman, who said he plans to move an existing house onto the lot, bid $32,800.

TROY ILL — Northville Township Chief Building Official Troy Milligan experienced chest pains last week and drove himself to the hospital.

As it turned out, Milligan, who recently underwent surgery, had suffered a mild heart attack. He is expected to be out of the hospital by the time this article appears in print and promises he'll let someone else do the driving home.

ORDINANCE VOTE SET — A vote on adopting an updated version of the Northville city zoning ordinance is scheduled for Monday, Jan. 18.

The updating, which was developed and recommended by the city planning commission, was one topic of discussion at a recent study session of city officials. The updated ordinance has been sitting for several months with no action taken by the council.

At a meeting Monday, the council called a formal public hearing on the recommended new ordinance for Jan. 18, although a public hearing before the council is probably not required, City Manager Steven Walters said.

ON THE LIST — Susan Heintz, Wayne County Commissioner, was among the lucky Americans receiving holiday greetings from the president. "It was a very nice card," Heintz said.

STOP SIGN ADDED — The Northville city council Monday approved the placement of a new stop sign on Lexington Boulevard North at Taft Road. The sign was recommended by the city police department.

St. Lawrence condos clear hurdle

City review of plans for a condominium development off Center Street and Edward Hines Drive began last week with the planning commission questioning several minor points to the plan, but expressing general approval.

The Selective Group has proposed a 96-unit condominium project on the St. Lawrence barns land southwest of Center and Seven Mile. The planning commission reviews the plan for conformance with the city zoning ordinance and similar concerns.

Planning Consultant Ron Nino said he reviewed the plan in the context of applicable city ordinances, and commented on how well the plan meets each requirement.

"I have to commend the design team. They have been very sensitive to the topography of the site," Nino said.

He said most requirements were met, but that some additional details were required on the plan. He also said emergency access might need to be reconsidered, since the plan shows only one main entrance to the development.

"Other than that I see no reason why the plan should not be approved," Nino said.

Planning commissioners and Selective Group representatives discussed other concerns including a water detention area in the center of the development, sidewalks just outside the development and setbacks from the property line.

Michael Horowitz, Selective Group president, said at the meeting that the company would consider all the concerns raised and that the missing details would be added to the plans.

"There has been a tremendous amount of work and study which has gone into this property," Horowitz said. "We all want the same result: a quality product."

The planning commission will continue to consider the plan in the coming weeks.

Layoffs, closings averted as state approves bailout

Christmas came nine days early for Wayne County employees scheduled to lose their jobs, for users of the county park system and for thousands of poor and sick county residents.

Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara Dec. 17 announced he was canceling all layoffs, budget cuts and salary reductions after the state Legislature approved the county solvency package.

That means all floors of the county jail will remain open, as will the county park system. Canceled are 75 layoffs that were scheduled to go into effect Dec. 18.

A 50 percent reduction in expenditures for indigent health care and a 4 percent pay cut for county appointees were also rescinded.

McNamara said he will continue to make budget cuts where warranted, but said none of the items restored last week would be cut.

Both houses of the Legislature approved the key elements of the solvency package Wednesday. Included in the package is a four-cent pack cigarette tax increase, a tax on Metro Airport parking, increased court fees and a computer software tax.

"We knew we had a big problem that couldn't be solved without state help," McNamara said. "Barring some catastrophe, this is a permanent fix for us."

McNamara added he would continue to oppose any countywide property tax increase.

"There won't be a millage (increase) as long as I'm county executive," he said. "But I never say never, not into a tape recorder."

The solvency package turns over to the county the task of running a health care system for indigent county residents. McNamara said the county hopes to delegate health care services to a private health maintenance organization sometime after Oct. 1, 1988. He denied such a move would make the system "more hard-nosed," saying instead that it would make county health care more efficient.

"There won't be a millage (increase) as long as I'm county executive. But I never say never, not into a tape recorder."

County commissioners, many of whom made the daily trip to Lansing while state lawmakers were discussing the solvency package, shared in the joy of success.

Commissioner Arthur Blackwell, D-Detroit, thanked Commissioner Susan Heintz, R-Northville, for "single-handedly breaking through" with (Senate majority leader John) Engler. And without Engler, this package would never have happened.

Other commissioners, many of whom vehemently opposed McNamara's budget cuts, praised the county executive. Commissioner Jackie Currie, D-Detroit, called McNamara and commission chairman Arthur Carter "the two greatest leaders in Wayne County."

Carter joked with McNamara, thanking him for his "rather rare appearance" at a commission meeting. And McNamara told the press that when the package passed, he and Carter hugged each other and said merry Christmas — "If you can believe that."

McNamara said the package was not an act of charity but a means of allowing the county to streamline its indigent health care program. That effort has been considered the county's biggest budget drain.

"This gives us the ability to run the most effective indigent health care system in the state," he said.

Novi planners turn down hospital rezoning request

1,005 p.m. peak hour trips per day. In making his pitch for the rezoning to the commission, Connelly explained the need for the health care facility in a rapidly growing area like Novi. "You must begin planning for the future. As a community grows and ages, it needs more health care," he said.

Connelly pointed out that although Novi is currently a young community, it will have a significant portion of aging residents within 20 years. Connelly said health care figures show that senior citizens require four times more health care services than their younger counterparts.

Although many of the residents speaking out against the project said they were not against the facility — just the location, Connelly said that the site at Ten Mile and Taft roads had been chosen according to specific criteria.

"The site must be large enough to add services, it must be reasonably acquired with services (sewer, water and utilities), it must have a community orientation, be in the geographic center of Novi, access roads to the facility must be uncongested, (property near a mail was deemed unacceptable), it must have easy access to road ways."

Connelly added that the company hoped to build a health care campus that would blend with the surrounding area. Including a proposed duck pond. "Any development at this site will add traffic," he said. "Our development will maintain the current (acceptable) level of traffic."

The hospital president said the Providence facility also would add jobs to the community and provide an educational opportunity for high school students.

The majority of the commission stated that although they would love to see Providence expand in Novi, they felt the proposed site was wrong for such a facility.

"The issue is not emotional," Commissioner John Balagna said. "I

"The issue is not emotional. I think all of us would love to have a full-service health facility in the city." — Commissioner John Balagna think all of us would love to have a full service health facility in the city, but this is a zoning issue and I think the foresight of the 1980 Master Plan (calling for residential zoning) should be adhered to."

Planning Commissioner Gary Phillips called the proposed hospital site "one of the most desirous residential areas in the city."

because of its available water and sewer lines.

"Intrusion into a single family area with a hospital complex is inappropriate," Commissioner Charles Kureth noted. "I have yet to see a hospital facility that did not expand when it could." Kureth also questioned the environmental effects on the surrounding neighborhoods from a potential power plant in the second phase of development.

Planning Commissioner Ernest Aruffo and Planning Chairperson Judith Johnson voted in favor of the rezoning. "I believe in the long run this is the place," Aruffo said. "Need is the overriding concern — the need for quick service and the centrally located site is a good use. The point of need overrides virtually any other argument. I venture to say that everyone in this room in 10 to 15 years will find it a very convenient place."

Johnson said she agreed that the need for the facility should be the overriding concern. She noted that given the choice between having the facility at the Ten Mile and Taft site and another site in the city, she would choose the other site. "But that is not the choice here tonight," she added.

A group such as this with its basis in a religious order deserves more credibility and believability," Johnson said.

"The educational opportunities that could occur are not insignificant," she added. She said she had noted the stability of neighborhoods surrounding Sinai Hospital in Detroit and believed that hospitals can do much to encourage residential neighborhoods.

Car thieves make off with three cars from township

Three cars were stolen from within Northville Township last week, two of them from the Meijer's parking lot at Eight Mile and Haggerty.

On Dec. 20, a Redford Township woman told township officers she parked her car while shopping and returned slightly more than an hour later to discover the 1984 Lincoln Mark VII missing.

The car was valued at $12,000, the owner told officers.

The night before, a 1982 Mercury belonging to a Detroit man was stolen from the same parking lot. Also taken were the contents of the vehicle, including numerous Christmas presents.

The man told township police officers there was a man's ring, a telephone answering machine, a leather jacket, prescription sunglasses and shirts and sweaters in the car, which was taken Dec. 19 between 6-7:35 p.m.

Total value of the stolen merchandise is $3,691.

Officers have no suspects in the incident.

In the third incident, a 1984 Chevy Blazer S10 was stolen from Park Place of Northville, Dec. 15 the vehicle owner told township officers.

The truck had recently been rustproofed and repaired.

The owner of the truck, a 30-year-old township resident, told officers he had parked the car under the carport in the parking area at 10 p.m. Dec. 14, but when he looked for it at 5 a.m. the next morning, it was missing.

LAUNDROMAT HIT AGAIN — A burglar hit the Novi Road Coin Laundry for the third time in two weeks, but this time stole no money.

The burglar entered the laundromat by breaking a glass door with a rock at about 12:30 a.m. Friday, according to a city police report. The method of entry was similar to that used in the other two thefts.

Unlike the other incidents, though, the burglar did not leave with any money this time. Police are continuing to investigate all three incidents.

HOME BROKEN INTO — A thief broke into a Charleston Court home Tuesday, Dec. 15, and stole almost $11,000 worth of goods, according to a city police report.

A neighbor noticed the garage door of the home open, realized the home had been broken into, and notified police. When the owner returned, it was reported that many things were missing including jewelry, clothing, a television and power tools. Police are investigating the theft.

ited the car.

The man, when asked to produce identification, said he did not have any, but that he was a Salem firefighter en route to a run. Werth informed him that Salem did not have a run, at which point the subject stated he was not a firefighter.

Werth said, in his report, that he detected the odor of intoxicants and tried to administer a field sobriety test, which the subject failed.

The man was placed under arrest for OUIL, and while searching the subject Werth found a wallet and a township police dispatcher's badge which did not belong to the subject. Officers also found a police scanner under the seat.

The subject was charged with OUIL, displaying a rotary beacon emergency light and with having a vehicle equipped with a police scanner receiving signals and given a court date of Jan. 21.

He was lodged in the Northville Township jail until he was able to post $200 bond.

PLYWOOD TAKEN — A number of sheets of plywood, still banded together, were reported stolen from a construction site on Victor in the township Dec. 16.

A spokesperson for Spartan Homes said that he estimated there were 80 sheets of plywood stolen, however, an additional 50 sheets located nearby were undisturbed.

The construction material is valued at $960.

MONEY MISSING — Township officers are investigating the reported theft of $225, taken from a residence on Crestview Dec. 16.

The owner of the residence told officers that when he left the house there were two $100 bills in a dresser drawer and an additional $25 in U.S. currency, coins and Canadian bills in another drawer.

He noted that the only person in the house was a maid, who had been employed by the family for three years.

CHILD'S CAR STOLEN — A child's gas-powered car was reported stolen from the Northridge Apartments Dec. 17 by the owner of the vehicle.

The complainant told township officers that the car, valued at $500, had been chained to the first floor patio of the apartment, but when she looked for it at 8 a.m. Dec. 17, she noticed the chain had been cut and the vehicle was missing.

Although officers checked the scene of the incident, they were unable to detect any tire tracks or clear footprints in the snow. There are no suspects at this time.

NHS VANDALISM — A double pane window was reported broken at Northville High School last week.

The night of Dec. 17 or the morning of Dec. 18, the window was broken by a rock thrown through it, according to a police report. The window cost $160.

MADD enlists city to combat drunks

The Northville police department is participating in a "Tie One On" campaign during the holiday season to combat drunk driving.

In an effort to encourage sober driving, Michigan police departments are joining Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD), Michigan State Police, sheriffs and the office of highway safety planning in the "Tie One On" campaign. The idea is to tie a bright red ribbon to the antenna, left door handle or outside mirror of a vehicle during the holiday season, indicating that the driver supports these agencies in eliminating drunk driving.

Northville police cars have been driving around with red ribbons for several days.

"Municipal and township law enforcement agencies throughout our state are urging people to tie this one on during the holidays," said Thomas Hendrickson, executive director of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police. "Local law enforcement agencies will join with the state police and sheriffs in the display of red ribbons symbolic of our concerted efforts to reduce drunk driving."

Bethnay Goodman, Michigan executive director of MADD, said, "The visual reminder to the public to drive sober can help ensure happier and healthier holidays and celebration for all of us. MADD is very enthusiastic about the response of all Michigan law enforcement agencies in joining our red ribbon campaign."

Alcohol continues to be involved in nearly half of all fatal traffic crashes in the state. Last year, more than 800 people were killed in state alcohol-related traffic accidents.

The "Tie One On" program was announced Friday at the State Police Second District Headquarters in Northville Township.

NO FIRE, NO FIREFIGHTER — A Livonia man is facing OUIL and receiving and concealing stolen merchandise charges after he was stopped in Northville Township Dec. 18.

Officer John Werth observed a 1987 Chevrolet Cavalier traveling westbound on Six Mile Road near Summit Street, moving at a high rate of speed and with emergency lights flashing.

After ascertaining there was no fire department run in the area, Werth was able to stop the vehicle and watched while a white male, later identified as a Livonia man, ex-

CIGARETTE THIEF — Over $2,000 worth of cigarettes were stolen from the Gas 'N' Go station on Eight Mile and Taft roads last week, according to a city police report.

Late Dec. 14 or early Dec. 15, the station was broken into by smashing a window with a tire jack which was found inside the station, the report said. One hundred seventy-eight cartons and 268 loose packs of cigarettes were stolen, for a value of $2,356, plus $300 for the window.

One door entry key was also stolen, but locks were changed after the

2 jailed for robbery

Frank Blair and Michael Harwood, the men convicted of armed robbery of a Domino's Pizza manager, were sentenced Dec. 18 to between 18 months and five years in state prison on the armed robbery charge and will serve an additional two years on the felony firearm conviction.

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge

Kathleen MacDonald, who heard the case against the two men without a jury, imposed the sentence.

The two were each convicted of felony firearm and of armed robbery. They could have been sentenced to up to 20 years on the armed robbery charge.

Youngsters can find help through Youth Assistance

Mary Ellen King is director of the Northville Youth Assistance program. This is the first of a series of occasional columns she will be writing for The Record.

During the trying times of growing up, today's youth are faced with many more choices and encounter more obstacles than in years past. Drugs and alcohol are much more prevalent and accessible than ever before. Families are more mobile and live away from their extended family. The divorce rate is at an all time high. Youths often find themselves isolated, lonely and with no one to talk to or listen to them. Suicide is the third leading cause of death in the adolescent age group.

In Northville, there is help for youths and their families who are having difficulties and need a helping hand - Northville Youth Assistance.

The City of Northville, Northville Township and the Northville Public Schools have united to help youths in this special program. The city and township are funding NYA and the school district provides office space at Moraine Center on Eight Mile Road.

Youth Assistance is a community based program designed to meet the needs of youths 7-16 years old. Examples of youths who can most benefit from the program are those who need adult companionship and/or a positive role model, those who have been in trouble with the police and need to demonstrate they can meet behavior goals, those who have been discharged from a drug treatment center and need someone to help them become reacquainted to their community, those who are not performing to their full academic potential in the classroom and need someone to help them get on the right track and those who are acting disruptively at home or in school and need to develop new coping skills or more positive behaviors.

Once Northville Youth Assistance receives a referral from a parent, the school or police department, the youth and family are interviewed and a trained volunteer counselor is matched with the youth.

The volunteer meets with the matched youth for approximately 1 1/2 hours per week. What Youth Assistance does is provide the youngster with an adult, other than a parent, from the community, who is available to the youngster to listen and to talk about the youngster's problems, concerns and frustrations. Youth Assistance needs the generosity and support of the community. It needs adults who are concerned and committed to Northville youth. It needs people willing to participate in training and to spend a few hours working with youngsters to help children better cope with adolescence.

It also needs financial support, so that the program can continue and grow so that every youngster eligible gets the available help.

Northville Youth Assistance welcomes support from the community and is willing to help those who need it. If you are a youth parent or teacher and know of someone who might benefit from the program, you can write to Northville Youth Assistance at Moraine Center, 46811 Eight Mile Rd., Northville, MI 48167 or you can call 344-1618. Anonymous calls and letters are accepted.

In an effort to learn first-hand about the experiences of large prize winners, the Michigan Lottery recently sent questionnaires to 250 lottery millionaires. Nearly 130 winners responded, telling us what it is really like to win $1 million or more. The results showed that big prize winners generally handle their money wisely, contrary to what some might believe.

Q: Did most winners feel their new-found wealth changed them?

A: Quite the contrary. Nearly 80 percent of the respondents said they remained the same, with most saying they kept the same friends and were treated as they were before their wins by family members. The remaining respondents felt they changed just a bit.

Q: What did most lottery millionaires do with their first payments?

A: Buying a new car was the most common response. Paying bills, sharing the prize with family members, and taking trips were also popular.

Q: Did most seek financial counseling?

A: More than 70 percent of the millionaires sought financial advice from experts.

Q: What type of financial plans did they make?

A: The majority invested their money and saved for retirement. Savings funds and trust funds for children/grandchildren also were frequently reported. Some planned to start businesses or purchase annuities.

Q: Do most lottery millionaires continue to work?

A: Nearly 40 percent were employed when they won their prizes and planned to continue working. Thirty-four percent retired immediately after their wins or planned to retire early. Twenty-two percent of the winners were retired at the time of their wins. And, a few opened their own businesses, changed jobs or went to college.

Q: Is it true that most winners move after winning?

A: About half of the respondents reported moving, most to new homes in the same area. A lesser number moved elsewhere in Michigan, while only three percent reported moving out of state.

Q: Do the millionaires continue playing Lottery games?

A: Yes! Ninety-eight percent of the millionaires reported still playing the games. While Super Lotto was most popular, Daily 3, Daily 4 and instant games also are frequently played.

For asking the question leading to this column, Shirley Stale of Plymouth will receive 50 free tickets for the Lottery's current instant game - Winner's Circle.

If you have a question not yet covered in these columns, send it to "Winners Circle," Michigan Lottery P.O. Box 30077 Lansing, MI 48909.

Congratulations to Meads Mill's

Knowledge Master Open team for its impressive results. The team finished 52nd in the nation out of 630 entries and second in the state. The computerized test, covering many academic areas, was taken by the Meads Mill team for the first time. Now a team of teachers has decided to take the test and see how its results compare with students' scores. The student council is sponsoring a locker-sized mirror sale. Members are taking orders through January for the mirrors, each of which has a Meads Mill logo on it. Cost is $3. Teams are forming for the Social Studies Olympiad. Students from all three grades may sign up with their teachers to participate. The Liv-Oaks League spelling competition also will be held in January. The Meads Mill swim team begins the season with a home meet Jan. 12 at the high school pool. The competition begins at 4 p.m.

PTA/PTSA News

Report cards due out in February

The Junior Achievement Series continues with a professor of chemistry from Wayne State University speaking to eighth graders on Jan. 19.

The second in a series of talks sponsored by Providence Hospital will be held the evening of Jan. 21, in the lecture area. The topic will be "Practical Parenting." All parents of middle-school aged children are invited.

Nominations for Founders' Day honorees will be accepted from Jan. 11-25. Forms are available at the Meads Mill office. Selections will be voted on in February and those chosen will be honored during the April dinner.

The quarter ends Jan. 28 and report cards will be sent home with students on Feb. 5.

Meads Mill congratulates counselor Sharon Perna for receiving her doctorate in guidance and counseling.

The next PTSA meeting will be held at 9:30 a.m. Jan. 11.

Amerman

It looks and sounds like Christmas every where you go at Amerman. Students and parents enjoyed shopping at the successful Holiday Shoppe, where there was an array of interesting gifts for sale at child-sized prices. Many thanks to all the volunteers who made this event possible.

On Dec. 8, the sounds of Christmas filled the library as the Hand Bell Ringers from the First United Methodist Church of Northville gave three special performances under the direction of Florence Hammar (or was that Mrs. Claus?).

On Dec. 14 the student council began its canned food drive, which not only provides food for those who need it, but also helps to teach responsibility, caring and sharing.

Christmas parties were held Dec. 17 and 18. The efforts of the room mothers and room parents, who provided all the goodies for the events were appreciated.

The holiday vacation runs through Jan. 3 and classes resume Jan. 4. The PTA meeting will be held at 9:30 a.m. Jan. 5 in the Media Center.

Remember to clip the Campbell soup labels and send them to school. A complete list of the eligible labels is printed in the Am-A-Gram.

The JES committee has made arrangements for a program from Kensington Metropark Jan. 8. Park naturalists will present three programs throughout the day: Life Down Low, Animal Defenses and Wildlife Defenses in Winter.

Mark your calendars for a roller skating night from 6:30-8:30 p.m. on Jan. 19.

Silver Springs

Our next PTA meeting is going to be Jan. 19 at 9:15 in the rondelle. Please join us.

Also, on Jan. 19, our students are going to be treated to an assembly on our Constitution. "Uncle Sam's Constitution Show" will acquaint the children with the Constitution by using magic and other fun things.

On Jan. 25 at 7:30 p.m. the school board will be holding its meeting at Silver Springs.

Our Family Night is going to be held from 5:30-7:30 p.m. Feb. 2. Get this date on your calendars and more details will follow.

Our last roller skating party is going to be March 20 from 5-7 p.m. at the Skatin' Station. Please make a note of this date, as it is a change.

Our Holiday Program, "The Nutcracker," was a huge success. Erin O'Leary and Mark Pomaroli in the lead roles did an excellent job, as did all the supporting cast members. Special thanks to music teachers Ann Jarvi and David Mayer.

Our student council, under the direction of Phil Demski, has had a busy December. They decorated the school windows for the holidays and the windows looked just like stained glass. The student council collected money to buy treats for their holiday party and also to share with the handicapped students at Moraine.

A group of student council members traveled to Moraine to present the treats and to learn more about these handicapped children and how they learn.

Many children enjoyed special activities before the holidays. Pat Stringer's fourth-grade class attended "Peter Pan" at the Marquis Theatre on Dec. 16. Also on Dec. 16, librarian Marcy Aller took the third grade gifted and talented students on a tour of Fair Lane, the Henry Ford estate. The children have been studying in ventors, and have created their own inventions.

Winchester

Starting off our new year will be our annual Campbell Soup Labels for Education contest starting Jan. 11 and continuing through Feb. 19. Chairperson Diane Gale has set a goal of 35,000 labels this year.

The Junior Great Books Program will start in January. Sharon Romine, chairperson of the program, reports that many second-, third-, fourth- and fifth-graders will participate.

Jan. 26, a Math-a-thon will be held in cooperation with St. Jude's Hospital. Pledges received by students will benefit the hospital.

Sweatsuit Day at Winchester is Jan. 28 and on the same day from 6:30-8:30, a roller skating party for students and their families, is planned at the Skatin' Station. Also in January, there will be a school spelling bee.

On Jan. 29, teachers will be holding a workday and classes for students are cancelled. Report cards will be sent home with students on Feb. 1.

Sandy Bush, Sue Christenson, Carole Ford and Roxanne Koche, chairpeople of Santa's Secret Store, report a very successful effort this year. Thanks to all who volunteered to make or donate articles, as well as those who worked at the store. PTA meets at 9:30 a.m. Jan. 6.

School Notebook

Among the 738 graduates receiving degrees at Miami (Ohio) University during winter commencement exercises is KEITH PATRICK BROCKMAN, a Maple Hill Drive resident. Brockman has earned a bachelor of science degree in business.

Five Northville residents, SUSAN E. DOYLE, LAURIE A. GOMES, ROBERT G. PIERCE, CAROLE A. WOBBERMIN and SARAL ZAROU have been inducted into Schoolcraft College's chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, a national honorary society.

TIM SHAW, a senior from Northville, was among those exhibiting art work during the annual Olivet College Christmas art show.

Twenty students contributed work to the exhibit.

DEBRA MIELOCK is among the University of Michigan-Dearborn students named to the spring/summer School of Education dean's list.

In order to make the list, students must maintain a 3.4 grade point average on a 4.0 scale.

Three Northville students have earned academic honors during the fall quarter at Ferris State College. Those named to the honors list must have completed at least a 3.5 grade point average while carrying at least 12 hours during the quarter.

Selected to the list are CORRINE E. and ERIC P. FEHLAUER and KEVIN C. HOWLEY.

The school also has announced its graduates from the summer term and two Northville residents are included. RICHARD CHARLES FELL, JR. of Fairfax Court earned a bachelor's degree in hospitality management and LISA ANNE HARRIS of West Main was awarded an associate's degree in radiography.

PHILIP RUGEL, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rugel is among the 67 musicians of the Interlochen Arts Academy Band touring several Michigan communities as part of the school's outreach program. Rugel, a senior music major, plays the bassoon.

ANN MARIE PETROSKI, daughter of Irene and Joseph Petroski of Battleford, has become a member of Zeta Psi chapter of Alpha Phi sorority at the University of Dayton. She is a graduate of Mercy High School and is a sophomore business major at Dayton.

The Northville Record

Our Opinions

Presents for everyone

As we hurried and scurried to complete our holiday shopping list, we realized that the time was getting shorter and the need was getting greater.

Already selected were gifts for parents, children, brothers and sisters. Co-workers and bosses were all taken care of. But lacking from the hubbub and activity were gifts to the community. So, in the spirit of Christmas, these gifts are for you.

To Mayor Chris Johnson, a complete agenda and a one-hour City Council meeting. One of the new mayor's goals was to complete the city business within a set time limit, while still allowing those who come before council to be heard. And, to the council, the mayor's support to make the city a better place to live and work.

To members of the Downtown Development Authority, the funds and support to make Main Street '78 complete in 1988. Through boom times and busts, this dedicated group of individuals has united to not only save the downtown, but to make it an attractive, progressive place to shop and to do business.

To the city planning commission, we offer a wish that your membership may be complete and that the people who serve on you will have the best interests of the city at heart, even if that means taking a stand against some popular projects and conversely, in favor of those projects that meet zoning and ordinance requirements but may not be as popular with the citizenry.

To Northville Township, we wish you godspeed in sending your non-contracted sewer flows to Ypsilanti, with the blessings of the Department of Natural Resources and the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

And to the township and Wayne County, may the 1,040 acres of land that formerly housed the Wayne County Child Development Center be sold and the proceeds increase your tax base.

To the Northville Public Schools, complete state funding and no decrease in the categorical aid you receive from the state.

To the library, may you have a new building and the books to fill it.

To the recreation commission, approval from the trust fund board of your money to purchase Lapham Field.

And to our readers and advertisers, the merriest of Christmases and the happiest of new years.

A strong condo plan

The Northville Planning Commission last week began consideration of the Selective Group's plans for a condominium development on the site of the St. Lawrence Barns.

As has been pointed out many times, this property — a 19-acre parcel on the southeast corner of Seven Mile Road and Center Street — is the last sizable, developable piece of land left within the city limits. As such, it deserves some special attention, which it is sure to get from the planning commission and other city officials.

It's a fairly scenic piece of property, and on the one hand it seems too bad to see it built up. Development was probably inevitable, though; and if the parcel is going to be developed, the Selective Group plan looks like a good one.

As was shown at the planning commission meeting last Tuesday, there are plenty of adjustments that need to be made. But the plan is well within city regulations for density, parking and the like.

More importantly, the plan is sensitive to the site itself. A goodly amount of the trees around the north and east sides — what we see from Center and Seven Mile — will remain. And the plan proposes a minimum of cutting into the land in order to develop it.

Obviously, the Selective Group has a right to do just about whatever they want with the land, provided they work within city ordinances. So really, anyone's opinion about the plan — including ours — is really a moot point.

Still, it's nice to know that the last large piece of land in the city is going to be a nice complement to the rest of the community. We look forward to completion of this addition to the city.

The same old message

It's sort of a cliché for newspapers to write editorials about drunk driving just before the holiday. Even so, it's still a message worth repeating, because not everyone is listening.

The dangers of drinking and driving are very well documented and well known. People who drive drunk kill people, but that doesn't seem to stop the tragedy from happening over and over. Things get especially bad around Christmas time, and the New Year holiday when social calendars get busier, people may be off work, and plenty of alcohol is around.

There are groups which try to battle drunk driving through public information campaigns. This year, the Mothers Against Drunk Driving and public safety agencies — including the Northville Police Department — are taking a new tack with a campaign called "Tie One On."

The groups are changing the meaning of the phrase. Tie one on means a red ribbon attached to a car to show that the driver supports anti-drunk-driving efforts. The campaign was announced last Friday in a ceremony at the state police post on Seven Mile.

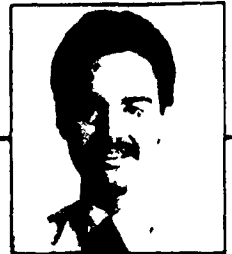

Showing support for these efforts is certainly a good idea. But more important is putting the idea into action. Don't drink and drive this holiday season — or ever — and try to make sure that no one you're with does, either.

Letters welcome

The Northville Record welcomes Letters to the Editor. We ask, however, that they be issue oriented, confined to 500 words and that they contain the signature, address and telephone number of the writer. Names will be withheld on request, but a brief explanation of why the request is being made should accompany the letter. Deadline for submission is 3:30 Monday p.m. We reserve the right to edit letters for brevity, clarity and libel.

Learning to fly

By Neil Geoghegan

Almost every basketball enthusiast dreams about being able to do some of the things that Michael Jordan, Dominique Wilkins and Magic Johnson can do on the court.

Soaring through the air — seemingly undaunted by the laws of gravity — only to slam the ball through the hoop, much to the amazement of the spectators, not to mention the defender watching helplessly.

It's called playing above the rim. Very few basketball players on this earth have the ability or the height to play that way and maybe that's what makes it so special — so desirable. You either have to be close to 6-foot-6 (or taller) to consistently get up near the rim, or you need to possess incredible jumping ability like a Spud Webb — and neither one is very common.

As a 5-11 basketball fan with a gimpy knee, the odds of ever finding out what it's like to dunk a ball like Charles Barkley does seem quite remote — that is if the rim is the standard height of 10-feet. But what if the rim was lowered, say, a foot — what would that do for my chances?

Well, on and off for years, a group of friends and I have been gathering at an elementary gymnasium in Union Lake every Friday night during the winter months to play a little hoops — NBA style. Yes, the rims at this gym are only nine feet from the ground — a full foot shorter than regulation. It provides a lot of mediocre players a chance to shine like most professionals and a lot of college players — and what's wrong with that?

With a rim a foot shorter than regulation, all a player has to do is add a foot to his own height to get an idea how tall he is now playing. For example, when I play on the shorter rims, I become 6-foot-11 rather than 5-11 and I can get a pretty accurate idea what it's like for Bill Laimbeer to play the game. You quickly find out it still isn't easy, but it sure is a lot more exciting playing above the rim.

I know what a lot of basketball purists out there are saying, but all of their arguments don't mean anything to us. The common objection is that we are making a mockery of the game, but I say we aren't doing that any more than Michael Jordan does every week with his almost unhuman-like ability in the NBA. Or what about 7-foot, 4-inch Manute Bol and even 7-5 Chuck Nevitt. All we are doing is seeing what it's like to be blessed with some of the physical ability that most basketball stars have.

Others would say we are ruining our real ability — that we will never be able to play as well on a 10-foot rim again. But everyone who comes to play each Friday isn't playing competitively anymore, so we don't really care about any of that — and besides, it's funner on the shorter rims.

To top it all off, we play the games with the smaller basketballs commonly found in the sports department of your local K Mart or Meijer's. These balls are even smaller than the ones used in girls basketball — but the only difference between them and regulation balls is the size. With these, palming the ball is easy and so are one handed passes and tricky dribbling. But the way we figure it, if we're going to play NBA style ball, it might as well be realistic. These balls are probably as small to our hands as a regulation ball is in the hands of Kareem Abdul-Jabbar.

The game takes a while to get used to, and if your outside shot isn't coming along, you can always dunk the thing — it is supposed to be the highest percentage shot in the game. It's a great workout and because you are having so much fun, you push yourself even further. I'm not embarrassed to admit that I am a much better player at 6-11 than I ever was at 5-11.

Important news bulletin: If you're reading my column on Wednesday, it's Dec. 23. If you're reading it on Thursday, it's Dec. 24.

Oh, I know what you're thinking. You're thinking — "So what?"

But that's the point. It's Dec. 23. Or Dec. 24 depending on when you start reading. And that means that Christmas is coming up Friday. This week. Tomorrow is either Christmas Eve or Christmas Day. See, I told you it was an important news bulletin.

I don't know if you're like me (and just about everybody else I know), but it seems that Christmas has sneaked right up on me (us). And with only two days to go, I have about as much Christmas spirit as I do in July.

I can't figure out why. I've done all the usual Christmas things. Mailed the cards. Bought the presents. I've even got them all wrapped — a task I don't usually accomplish until Christmas Eve.

The thing is that I figure a lot of people out there feel just like I do. I just got done editing this week's paper, and it suddenly occurred to me that there's darn little in it about Christmas. Is it possible that the entire newsroom has been too busy taking care of business to give much attention to what's going to happen early Friday morning when Ol' Santa Claus comes slipping down the chimney?

Neil Geoghegan was scheduled to write the column at the top of the page this week, but did he write about Christmas or Santa Claus or visions of sugar plums dancing in his head? No, he wrote about basketball.

The good news is that it's not too late to do something about it. As soon as I finish my column, I'm going to start singing Christmas carols, sucking red-and-white candy canes, and reminding myself to leave Santa some milk and cookies when he arrives Friday morning.

Humbug to the humbugs. Merry Christmas, everyone.

Record was too hard on Singh, DNR wetland plan

To the Editor
Although I live in Novi, a portion of the Pheasant Hills wetlands in Northville abuts my property and I have been closely involved with this wetland issue since the beginning. The long-awaited decision by the Department of Natural Resources has finally arrived, as permit approvals with certain stipulations are forthcoming.

Nature is one of my greatest passions and much of what I have learned about the vast natural world and its wild creatures has come from having the wonderful opportunity to share and be a part of that world as an observer and a steward. No one could value and care for these precious natural resources and the wildlife that lives here more than I. My environmental standards are high, but all that I could expect out of all of this was for the developer to meet his environmental potential and in doing so, achieve the best possible balance between the needs of people and nature.

The DNR appears to be satisfied that our realistic, workable goals have been achieved and I know that they and the Singh Development Co. have done their best to reach an agreement that we all could live with. It was a tough decision that involved understanding, consideration and compromise and I sincerely thank both parties for their commitments.

I believe that the harsh criticism that Singh has received from The Northville Record and some members of the public has been undeserved. Although I was a strong voice of opposition to their original proposal to alter the wetlands, I believe that they have acquired a deeper environmental conscience and have shown their willingness to keep an open mind, cooperate and make commitments.

They are also one of the few developers that has had the foresight to develop on large lots (without complaining about it, either) which can not only provide monetary profits, but profits that come from an overall development that they can be proud of and that residents can be proud to live in, as well as next to, profits that come from developing a good reputation and earning the respect and trust from people in the community.

Living in the Lexington Green subdivision, I am surrounded by Singh developments to the north (Bradford of Novi) and to the south (Pheasant Hills). Both are impressive, blending the natural beauty of the land with beautiful homes, and I couldn't have asked for better neighbors.

Sincerely,
Laura J. Lorenzo

A funeral service for Clarence E. Burke of Traverse City was held Dec. 19 at the Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home in Northville with Rev. Dr. Bartlett Hess of Ward Memorial Presbyterian Church officiating.

Mr. Burke died Dec. 16 in Traverse City. Born Jan. 13, 1909, in Paris, Tenn., he was 78 at the time of his death.

He had been a bus driver for Detroit Street and Railways.

He is survived by his spouse, Virginia, and two children, a daughter, Mrs. J. Burton (Bobbie) DeRusha of Northville, and a son, Richard Burke of Novi. Six grandchildren and six great grandchildren also survive.

Interment was at Parkview Cemetery in Livonia.

RICHARD M. LIND

Richard M. Lind, a resident of Northville since 1977, died Dec. 15. Service was held Dec. 18 at Our Lady of Victory. The Rev. Frank Pollie officiated.

Mr. Lind, 53, was a major account manager with Hewlett-Packard for 18 years and a member of the Dow Chemists Club and Our Lady of Victory.

He is survived by his wife, Delphine, his mother, Bernice of New Jersey, and five children, Richard of Grand Rapids, Robert of Fort Worth, Texas, Judy of Mobile, Ala., Jim of Livonia and Susan of Saginaw. He also is survived by two grandchildren.

Mr. Lind was born in New Jersey on June 12, 1934 and moved to Northville from Redford.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Salvation Army. Arrangements were handled by the Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home.

JAMES M. DINGWELL

Memorial service was held Dec. 12 for James M. Dingwell of Clare. Mr. Dingwell, the father of Bruce Dingwell of Northville, died suddenly Dec. 9 at his home. He was 65.

A retiree from Detroit Edison, where he was a senior planner, Mr. Dingwell moved to Clare eight years ago from Howell.

In addition to Bruce, he is survived by his wife, Margaret; sons Douglas of Brighton and Ian of Kalamazoo, a brother, Robert of Fraser and a sister, Mrs. John (Helen) Bigelow of Reston, Va.

He also is survived by his mother, Annie Dingwell of Clare, and two grandchildren, Marie and Scott.

Dingwell

Mr. Dingwell was a member of VFW Post 4357 of Brighton, the Gladwin Men's Golf League and the Gladwin Seniors Golf League.

The Rev. James Harwood officiated at the memorial service at the Clare Congregational Church of Christ. Cremation was at Autumn Valley Crematory in Prudenville.

Arrangements were by the Stephenson-Wyman Funeral Home in Clare.

EDWARD L. FOREMAN

Edward L. Foreman, a retiree from the Ford Motor Co. valve plant in Northville, died at St. Mary Hospital Dec. 22 following a lengthy illness. He was 82.

Mr. Foreman was a steam engineer and spent his entire 44-year automotive career at the Northville Ford facility.

He is survived by his wife, Clarea, and several nieces and nephews.

Pastor Paul Pagel will officiate at the 11 a.m. service Thursday at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Livonia. Mr. Foreman was a member of the church.

Visitation will be held from noon - 9 p.m. today (Wednesday) at Schrader Funeral Home in Plymouth, which is handling the arrangements.

Interment at Riverside Cemetery in Plymouth will follow the Thursday service.

WMU students to wed in fall

Mr. and Mrs. John Town of Buchanan, Mich. announce the engagement of their daughter, Shelly Rose, to Matthew J. Romanik of Kalamazoo. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. John Romanik of 20000 Beck Road.

The bride-elect is a December graduate of Western Michigan University with a bachelor's degree in psychology and sociology. She currently is employed by a Kalamazoo facility which works with emotionally impaired children.

She graduated from Buchanan High School.

Her fiancé, a 1979 graduate of Northville High School, plans to graduate from Western Michigan University in May with a degree in aviation management. He is employed part-time with a Kalamazoo travel agency.

The wedding will take place in July, 1988.

SHELLY TOWN,
MATTHEW ROMANIK

Pepper returns home for the holiday watch officer a brief description of Pepper, which must have satisfied him, and were told to drive around back to a pen located by the dumpsters.

A more pathetic sight none of us had ever witnessed. There she was, framed in our headlights, standing in the pouring rain by the gate of the pen, not even able to see the dog house behind her or the bale of hay next to her. The water in the bowl was solid ice. She was the most bedraggled but welcome sight we had ever seen.

All four doors of the car opened at once as we each wanted to be the first to get our arms around her. Before we left the station, we were able to convince the officer to give us the name and phone number of the person responsible for this wonderful reunion by promising that we only wanted to thank this stranger.

Returning home, we dried Pepper off, made sure she was warm and comfortable, and then placed the phone call that touched us all as deeply as we'd ever been touched before.

The phone was answered by a voice which I assumed belonged to an older male. I asked to speak to Tim, the name we'd been given, and was told he'd be on the line in a second.

The next voice I heard belonged to a male whom I assumed to be in his early or mid 20s. I explained who I was and why I was calling.

Why is it when one should be the most eloquent, one finds oneself at a loss for the right words? At any rate, I babbled on about how grateful we were to him, told him why Pepper was blind, why she had no identification, and how we had feared the worst.

But nothing seemed to say exactly what I really wanted to say. Finally, I asked Tim for his address, with the intention of sending this stranger a generous reward for what he had done for our family.

I realized how lucky we had been that he happened along. How many times had I picked up a newspaper and been struck by man's inhumanity to man as I read of people who lay dying in the street while others went by not wanting to get involved. But this person, Tim, had had compassion for a mere animal.

He told me he had been traveling home that night along Novi road when he saw this dog, in the middle of the road near Guernsey's Dairy, with cars swerving around her in both directions.

Pepper had somehow wandered more than a half mile from home. Even when she was sighted she had never gone more than a few houses away.

But this stranger had stopped his car, scooped up Pepper, took her home, fed her, warmed her and then proceeded to call all the area police departments to find out if anyone had reported losing a dog. He left his name with each department, in case anyone did call.

Pepper had no identification because, since she became diabetic she had lost weight, and her collar no longer fit. I had just never gotten around to replacing it.

I told Tim this, and he listened patiently, but when I told him I wanted to give him a reward, all he said was no.

Near the end of our conversation, I wished him the merriest of Christmases and now, every time I look at Pepper, I think of Tim and his love and compassion. What a beautiful example he is of what this season is all about.

Of all the gifts we open this Christmas, none will be more special and precious than the gift this stranger has already given us. He has touched our lives and forever changed us all.

Under the Christmas tree is a small package containing a simple little dog bone. The tag reads: To Pepper - From A Stranger.

Tim, if you happen across this story, know that it is written in deep gratitude and with much love. You know now just how much you have given us this Christmas. We are sure that God has and will continue to bless you.

Love,

Pepper and her family

Editor's note: The story of Pepper does not end there. Tim's name is Tim Gorden and his parents are very good friends with the Lemkuhls.

Tim said he and his fiancé, Karla Allen, were driving home and saw the dog in the middle of the road. He said he did not even think twice about stopping.

"It just looked so forlorn and I had to stop," Tim said. This is not the first time he has stopped for an animal, Allen said.

Gorden said he called both the police departments in Northville and the Novi Police Department in an attempt to find the owner of the dog.

"I just had time to get the hay, when Novi called back and said they had found the owner. I'm just glad it turned out happily," he said.

We Wish You Seasons Greetings!

Music conventions attract collectors

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Music collectors always seem to know when and where the local record conventions will be held, but many times, the general public and newcomers are left in the cold.

These local conventions are normally attended by several hundred people who collect anything related to music — anything from records, cassettes and compact discs to photos and press kits. A lot of people outside this exclusive fraternity don't realize that there is at least one record convention in the Detroit area every other month and that there are several dozen nationwide in any given month and even some in foreign cities like Toronto, London and Belfast.

The Metro Detroit Record Club sponsors six such events a year and has become the major force in providing record conventions for the Detroit area. Oranapold Productions holds its "Record Collector's Convention" in Ann Arbor a few times a year and the "Western Michigan Record Convention" is held in Grand Rapids from time to time and services the western portion of the state.

Mike Himes, owner of a record store in East Detroit, is a member of the Metro Detroit Record Club and has been involved in putting together conventions for nearly two years. He reports that the response from the public to these conventions is very good, but that there has been an emphasis on getting more people involved.

"We usually have conventions six times a year — every other month," Himes said. "On a good day, we get anywhere from 400 to 500 people through the doors. The response is always good but we are trying to get some new faces involved. We have a mailing list of about 4,000."

"We usually have about 40 or 50 dealers who have record stores or are avid collectors themselves, who come to sell their products. We get dealers from all over Michigan as well as Illinois, Indiana and Ohio. We usually don't get anybody who has to drive more than seven or eight hours."

Record conventions offer plenty of unusual buys

The dealers pay $25 to set up their music-related items on the tables provided and the admission price is $2 for the public. The show advertises anything from "Seger to Sinatra" and just about anything that is collectable and related to music can be found — new and used.

"We have records, cassettes, videos, posters — really anything related to the music industry itself," Himes said. "I've also seen press kits, photos, display items and magazines."

"People come to buy but there is also some trading. Unlike at your local record store, there is a lot of bartering and dealing going on."

If you're into the Beatles, or Elvis or Motown but have had trouble finding certain items, chances are you can find what you're looking for at a record convention. If not, there is bound to be somebody on hand who can point you in the right direction. It's important to remember that most dealers are music collectors and fans, just like the buyers, so they are always interested in helping people find what they are looking for.

The next convention in the Detroit area is sponsored by Choice Promotions of Warren and will be held on Jan. 10, 1988 at the Fairlane Holiday Inn in Dearborn. For more information, call 977-8033.

For more information on: The Metro Detroit Record Club Conventions, call 381-7975; The Western Michigan Record Convention, call (616) 538-7887; The Record Collectors Conventions in "Ann Arbor," White Oranapold Productions, P.O. Box 2323, Ann Arbor, MI 48106.

'Autorama' cruises back into the area

The 36th annual Detroit Autorama, the nation's biggest and oldest custom car event, comes to Cobo Hall Jan. 7 through 10. More than 180,000 people are expected to see the 500 custom cars on display. William Shatner will be among the celebrities present. Parking for the show is easier this year; municipal Detroit facilities will be open for $1 for an entire evening near People Mover stops. A preview for senior and handicapped citizens is scheduled from 2 to 4 p.m. Friday, Jan. 8; handicapped and seniors with a guest will be admitted free.

"EDUCATING RITA" — Meadow Brook Theatre will present Educating Rita, Willy Russell's comedy variation on the Pygmalion theme, for a four-week run opening at 8 p.m. New Year's Eve. Performances, including some matinees, are scheduled through Jan. 24. For more information call the Box Office at 377-3300, or for group sales, 370-3316. Meadow Brook Theatre is on the campus of Oakland University in Rochester.

ART EXHIBITS — A fine art and commercial art exhibit by G. Panyart will be on display at Madonna College, 1-96 and Levan Roads in Livonia, Dec. 20 through Jan. 18 in the library wing's Exhibit Gallery. There is no charge. Hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 1 to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. For more information call 591-7548.

WEAVERS GUILD — The Oakland County Cultural Council presents the Michigan Weavers Guild 40th anniversary exhibition and sale Dec. 17 through Jan. 29, at 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The show, featuring fiber artists from Michigan and Ontario, is at the County Galleria, 1200 N. Telegraph Road in Pontiac in the Oakland County complex.

Nearby

"A CHRISTMAS CAROL" — Meadow Brook Theatre's annual presentation of Charles Dickens' A Christmas Carol is open for a four-week run. Tickets can be reserved by calling the box office, 377-3300; for group sales call 370-3316.

"PROMISES, PROMISES" — The Neil Simon-Burt Bacharach-Hal David musical Promises, Promises, based on the 1960 film The Apartment, opens a five-week engagement Dec. 30 at the Birmingham Theatre. The show ran for three years on Broadway and almost two years in London. Tickets, at prices from $15.50 to $29.50, are now on sale at the theater box office and all Ticketmaster outlets. Special discounts for students and for groups of 20 or more are available at 644-3576. For information or to charge by phone call the Birmingham Theatre box office at 644-3533.

TOY TRAIN APPRAISALS — The Detroit Historical Museum is holding a toy train appraisal from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 27. The session is conducted by the Bluewater Michigan chapter of the National Railway Historical Society. There will be a $1 donation per item and a limit of three items per person. The donations will go to the Historical Museum's Glancy Train exhibit fund. The museum is at 5401 Woodward at Kirby in the cultural center and is open from 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday.

VICTORIAN CHRISTMAS — The Plymouth

Historical Museum is showing "A Very Victorian Christmas" — a special presentation with a variety of related exhibits — through Jan. 15. The museum's halls are decked in greens, the trees are decorated in themes ranging from patriotic to antique die-cuts, and the men and women are dressed in holiday finery. Special exhibits include hand-painted and ceramic Santa Claus figures. The Plymouth Historical Museum, located at 155 S. Main Street in Plymouth, is open to the public Thursday, Saturday and Sunday from 1-4 p.m. Admission is $1 for adults, 50 cents for youth (11-17) and 25 cents for children (5-10). For more information call 455-8940.

"AUNTIE MAME" — The Hilberry Theatre continues its silver anniversary celebration with the popular comedy Auntie Mame, running in repertory through Jan. 30. Written by Jerome Lawrence (who will be a visiting artist at the Hilberry) and Robert E. Lee, the play is directed by Anthony Schmitt. The show is running in repertory with Howard Burman's Whistler's Play, and joined later by Mollere's Tartuffe. Tickets can be reserved by calling 571-2972.

"LIBERTY'S LEGACY" — An exhibit of over 200 documents on the role of the Constitution and the Northwest Ordinance are on display at the University of Michigan Clements Library through the end of the year. The library is open weekdays from 10:30 a.m. to noon and 1-5 p.m.; Saturdays from 10 a.m. to noon and 1-4 p.m.; and Dec. 22, 23, 29, and 30 from 1-4 p.m.

To have an event listed in "Nearby," write to: Nearby, Northville Record, 104 W. Main Street, Northville, Michigan, 48167. Photos or other artwork is welcome.

Trocks return next weekend

The "world's ugliest ballerinas," Les Ballets Trockadero de Monte Carlo, bring their unique comedy dance to Detroit's Hall next weekend.

The all-male mock ballet company has performed at the Music Hall for the last nine years. This year's engagement will debut two new pieces — "Four Seasons" and "Gambold" — in addition to Trock favorites "Dying Swan" and "Yes, Virginia, Another Piano Ballet."

The Trocks are scheduled to perform at 8 p.m. Dec. 31, Jan. 1, and Jan. 2, and at 2 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 3. Tickets are $18 to $23 and are available at the Music Hall box office, all Ticketmaster, AAA and Hudson's outlets, or by phone at 423-6666. New Year's Eve and group packages are available at 963-7622.

Mustangs fall to Belleville

BY NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Northville basketballers wrapped up the pre-holiday portion of the season with another loss — the team's fourth in a row — and will have to head into the rigors of the WLAA in January with little or no momentum.

The Mustangs fell 63-50 at home to a pretty good Belleville squad. Northville was forced to play the game without Coach Omar Harrison, who had to be out of town on personal business. Assistant Coach Darrel Schumacher took over the reins but it was the same old story for the winless hoopsters.

A poor start and problems on the boards spelled doom for the Mustangs, who have only been competitive in one of four outings so far this season. Although Harrison wasn't on hand for the final defeat, he is obviously not pleased with the 0-4 record.

"You're never pleased with a record like that," he said. "It indicates we have room for improvement and that's what we'll have to do — keep working hard and improving."

Belleville jumped out to a 21-9 lead after one period, and it proved to be too much for Northville to overcome. A better performance in the second half by the Mustangs narrowed the gap to 35-26, but the Tigers pushed the lead back up to 11 heading into the fourth.

With about 3 minutes left, the Mustangs had an ideal chance to get back into the game and cut the lead to seven but guard Scott Stephens was whistled for an offensive foul and it quickly ended the comeback bid.

"The first quarter was the difference," Schumacher said. "We let them get too far ahead. When you look at it, if we'd have been able to stay closer early in the game, it could have been a very close at the end."

Junior Chris House played well, but was one of only a few bright spots for Northville. The 6-foot-5 junior paced the team with 15 points and did a good job of defending Belleville's top player — holding him to only four points in the second half. Stephens added 14 points including a pair of three-point baskets and Eric Halverson played a nice floor game with six points and five rebounds.

"We were outrebounded by a lot and that was one of the strengths of Belleville," Schumacher said. "I thought the kids were a little intimidated early in the game. Belleville has an excellent team and we just didn't take it too them at first and when we started to, it was too late."

The Mustangs' next game, the team's WLAA opener, is scheduled for Jan. 8 at Walled Lake Central.

OLV cagers extend steak to six wins

The Our Lady of Victory 7th-8th-grade girls' basketball squad opened their home season with a defensive struggle with Dearborn Divine Child, but managed to pull out a very close 21-20 victory.

Divine Child led by two points after one quarter, three at halftime and two after three quarters, but the OLV quintet outscored the visitors 8-5 in the final quarter to pull out the win. Susie Weidenbach's basket with 13 seconds left in the game gave OLV a one-point lead and a late basket provided the margin of victory.

Defensively, Karen Pump repeatedly foiled the Divine Child offense with her shotblocking (5) and rebounding (12). Heather Humphrey led OLV with eight points while Weidenbach and Pump each chipped in four.

On Dec. 20, OLV raised its season record to 6-0 (3-0 in league play) with a 36-28 win over Our Lady of Good Counsel of Plymouth. The Northville team outscored OLCG 14-1 in the first quarter and cruised the rest of the way for the victory.

Mary Grace Yankowski had a great game with 14 points and seven steals. Karen Pump added eight points, eight blocked shots and five assists.

The Our Lady of Victory 5th-6th grade team won its first game of the season with a come-from-behind victory over Divine Child on the same night. OLV outscored the Falcons 6-0 in the second half to cut into and eventually wipe out a 6-2 deficit.

Jennifer Hayden, who finished with a game-high six points, scored the winning basket with 56 seconds left. Anita Wilhelm and Ellen Tomica played outstanding defense. OLV is now 1-3 overall, 1-1 in the league.

Northville tankers string together impressive efforts

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Northville swimmers put together what may have been the program's most exceptional week of swimming in several seasons, with two dual meet wins and a promising showing at the WLAA Relays.

On Dec. 15, the Mustangs clobbered Dearborn Heights Crestwood 118-34 and then followed it up two days later with a much-closer 88.5-83.5 victory over Ypsilanti. To top things off, the team then placed fifth in the 10-team Western Lakes Relays — and was only one point out of fourth.

It was a considerable improvement over a year ago when Northville placed 10th.

"We had a great week overall," said rookie Coach Mark Heiden.

The win over Crestwood was surprisingly easy. So easy, in fact, that after the first few races, Heiden started plugging reserves in to the line-up. The Mustangs still won by more than 80 points, winning all 11 races and finishing 1-2 in 10.

"(Crestwood's) been having trouble this season and they weren't quite what I expected," Heiden said. "After the first couple of races I tried to take it easy on them but everyone on our team was swimming well."

"Every swimmer had at least one season-best performance so it was definitely a team win."

Freshman sensation Eric Newton remained unbeaten in his high school career with two more victories. Newton won the 200-yard freestyle (1:54.2) and the 500 freestyle (5:06.0). The other winners included Brad Cook in the 200 IM (2:18.2), Craig Smith in the 50 freestyle (24.0), Rob Devyak in diving (223.5 point total), Andy Viskantis in the 100 butterfly (59.9), Jeff Higgins in the 100 freestyle (55.0), Andy Wayne in the 100 backstroke (personal best time of 1:03.0) and John Warren in the 100 breast stroke (personal best time of 1:09.3).

The two Mustang relay teams also captured wins. The 200 medley relay team of Wayne, Warren, Viskantis and Smith placed first in 1:50.9 and the 400 freestyle relay combo of Mike Fortenberry, Higgins, Smith and Newton were winners (3:36.8).

Second place finishers were paced by David Frayne. He was the runner-up in the 100 breaststroke (1:16.2) and the 500 freestyle (5:54.2). The rest of the second-place finishers were Chris Handyside in the 200 freestyle (2:06.4), Wayne in the 200 IM (2:25.6), Fortenberry in the 50 freestyle (24.2), Steve Lang in diving (193.5 points), Cook in the 100 butterfly (1:04.7) and Dave Morante in the 100 backstroke (1:07.8).

The meet with Ypsilanti was just the opposite. The score was close all the way and heading into the final relay, Northville needed to place first and third for the win.

"We placed 1-2 in the 400-yard freestyle relay and that won it for us," Heiden reported. "It was real exciting. I knew heading in it would be a close meet but the guys swam their best and we were fortunate enough to pull it off."

Fortenberry, Higgins, Smith and Newton combined for the win in the relay (3:34.7) and the 'B' team of Jason Stringer, Jason Hill, Handyside and Viskantis grabbed second (3:44.4) to secure the victory.

Newton was again the star of the meet, winning the 500 freestyle in a time of 5:04.05, which broke his own school record set a week earlier. He also notched a win in the 200 freestyle in a personal best time of 1:54.37. Warren was the only other two-time winner with victories in the 100 breaststroke (1:09.8) and the 200 IM (2:16.23).

The rest of the Northville wins came from Fortenberry in the 50 freestyle (24.21) and Devyak in diving (227.45). Morante led the second-place finishers with a runner-up effort in the 100 backstroke (1:04.45) while Smith (52.65 in 100 freestyle), Viskantis (59.5 in the 100 butterfly) and Larry Osiecki (187.1 in diving) also added second-place finishes.

At the WLAA Relays on Dec. 19 at Plymouth Salem, the Mustang tankers showed the entire league contingent that the Northville program is back in gear. Salem won the meet with 250 points while the Mustangs scored 170, just one point behind fourth-place North Farmington.

"I was real pleased," Heiden said. "The guys were really excited because last season they were 10th and they wanted to show everybody that we are serious and that they can't overlook us. I think we surprised a lot of schools."

Newton was a member of Northville's two winning relays. He teamed with Viskantis, Wayne and Warren for a victory in the 400 IM relay (4:03.94) and was a member of the winning 200 freestyle relay team along with Fortenberry, Higgins and Smith (3:43.9).

"We had some great swims in the two events we won," Heiden pointed out. "When we won the 400 IM, it was quite a moment and it helped spur us on for the rest of the meet. In the 200, all four guys had their fastest splits ever."

Devyak and Osiecki teamed to place second in the diving relay with a combined score of 385 while the 400 medley and freestyle relays placed fourth and sixth, respectively. The medley relay (4:04.94) featured Wayne, Warren, Viskantis and Smith while the freestyle (3:43.9) relay group sported Higgins, Hill, Stringer and Fortenberry. The only other Mustang relay to place (top six) was the 200 butterfly relay team featuring Cook, Stringer, Mike Simmons and Hill (1:55.87, good for sixth place).

Northville (2-0 overall) won't get back into action until Jan. 7 when they host mighty Livonia Stevenson.

Fired-up grapplers clobber Harrison

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

A more intense and aggressive Northville wrestling team showed up against Farmington Harrison on Dec. 16, and the result was an easy, 57-18, Mustang triumph.

The fired-up Mustangs recorded wins in 10 of the 13 bouts and eight of the wins were by pins. It was a complete departure from Northville's lackluster performance four days earlier at the Ypsilanti Invitational.

"It was nice to see the guys come out and wrestle much more aggressively," Assistant Coach Bob Boshoven said. "And that's part of the reason why we did so poorly down at Ypsilanti."

"Against Harrison, we were making things happen rather than waiting for them to happen and that was the difference."

The win gives the Mustangs a 2-1 overall record heading into the holiday break and also a little momentum to tide the squad over until the season starts up again on Jan. 2 at the Brighton Invite.

Northville had little trouble with the visiting Hawks even though John Frisbie, a regular at 138, was forced to miss the meet with an elbow injury sustained at Ypsilanti. Frisbie is a senior, one of the team's top wrestlers and a team leader.

"Harrison's got a real young team and they are rebuilding this season," Boshoven said. "It's hard to say that we didn't wrestle well when the score is 57-18. We wrestled a lot better than I thought we would."

Kevin Khashan started things off by pinning Ray Pudlik in 1:32 at 98 and Chad Boscher won at 105 by a default. At 110, Keith Graham pinned Ted Prusinski (1:06) and junior Andy Frey ran his record this season to 10-1 at 126 with a pin over Kevin York in 1:07.

Dave Gudmundson took care of Ed Serzo in 1:06 of the 132-pound bout. Garnett Potter decisioned Jason Fox, 8-7, at 145; Darren Kehoe registered his first victory of the season at 155 by pinning Leo Devine; and, Donovan Campbell pinned Todd Lytwynick in one minute at 167. In the upper weight divisions, Mike Mazza fell at 185 but Mike Hale and Derek Forbing rebounded to crush their opponents. Hale pinned Phil Hong in :50 at 198 and Forbing downed Mondell Hightower in :36 at heavyweight.

Junior Chris Harbrecht substituted for Frisbie at 138 and was pinned by Troy Soder in 3:17.

"It was a (WLAA) division win and they are very important this season, because this year they will be deciding the division title by the dual meet records," Boshoven said. "One down and four more to go."

RECREATION BRIEFS

REC CENTER BROCHURE: The Northville Rec Center brochure of winter activities will be arriving in Northville homes during the holiday weekend.

Registrations for winter programs began Dec. 2. For more information, call 349-0203.

SKI CLUB: The Northville Ski Club is available to all Northville youth ages 12-17. Registration is now underway at the Rec Center.

The club offers Friday evening ski outings to Mt. Brighton. The club leaves the Rec Center at 5:15 p.m. and returns by midnight. All trips are accompanied by adult chaperones.

The membership fee of $60 includes school, transportation, four rope-tow ticket stubs, weekly lessons and a 25 percent discount on equipment tune-up at Herman's World of Sports.

This year's members also will be invited to participate in a Boyne-area weekend trip. For more information, call 349-0203.

UPCOMING EVENTS: The Northville Rec Center is planning a number of community events to help you beat the winter blues. On Jan. 20, Northville will be host to a variety of wintertime events including a coed softball tournament, the Snowflake teen dance, the 'Chili Open' golf tournament, a snow sculpture contest, cross-country ski lessons and demonstrations and more.

If your club or group is interested in hosting an event listed above, please contact the Chamber of Commerce at 349-7640 or the Rec Center at 349-0203.

SKI FREE DAY: On Jan. 8, 1988, over 40 of Michigan's downhill and cross-country ski areas will sponsor free skiing for beginners. The event will be held in conjunction with a national learn-to-ski program offered by the National Ski Areas Association.

Free lessons, free ski lift or trail passes and, in some cases, free use of rental equipment will be available at participating ski areas for those who have preregistered for the program. Questions should be addressed to Cindy Snyder at (517) 335-1871.

CROSS COUNTRY SKI: The Bill Koch Ski Program, an instructional class that offers lessons, games, races and more is being offered at Maybury State Park from 4:30-6:30 p.m. Jan. 14 and 28.

Open to youngsters between 6-13, the ski league costs $12, which includes a snack, membership in the United States Ski Association, a poster, a patch and a handbook. Ski rental is extra.

For more information call 349-0203.

OPEN GYM HOURS: The Rec Center open gymnasium hours are as follows:

Friday — 15-17 2:30 p.m., 11-14 4-5:30 p.m., adults 7-9 p.m.

Fee is $1 per person. To check out equipment, you must submit a driver's license, school I.D. or library card.

WINTER BASKETBALL: The Northville Rec Center basketball leagues still have openings in the following youth leagues: 3rd-4th grade, 5th-6th grade, and 10th-12th grade. Contact the Rec Center at 349-0203 for further information.

OPEN SWIMMING: Open swimming at the Northville High School pool has resumed. Open swimming hours will be: Monday-Wednesday (6:30-7:45 p.m.) and Saturday (noon-1 p.m.).

Osborn takes over volleyball program

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Paul Osborn is the new Northville varsity volleyball coach, but he's hardly new to the program.

Osborn coached the Mustang junior varsity for the past seven years and has made the move to the varsity ranks following the resignation of Steve McDonald. Osborn inherits a team that started strong last season but faded down the stretch to finish 5-9 overall, with five losses in the final six matches.

"One of our overriding goals is to get the girls feeling good about themselves," Osborn said. "Our philosophy is to set goals for each game and try to reach them. If we can reach the majority of our goals, I'm confident we can be successful."

Osborn has a fine core of returning letterwinners and also several standouts from a J.V. team that went 23-3 a year ago. Osborn has coached every player on the team in prior seasons, so the adjustment has been smooth.

"The girls know what I'm like and it's gone pretty well so far," he said. "We've developed a whole new philosophy and the girls seem to be happy with it. We're stressing defense — I'd say about 80 percent of our practice time is devoted to defense. A solid defense is very important and when that happens, the offense will come around."

A key cog for the Mustangs this season may be 5-10 senior Katie Brugman, who will be the squad's number one setter and also has the height and ability to be an effective hitter. Brugman went to Butler's Setting Camp in the off-season, performed well there and came back a much better player.

"Katie has a good knowledge of the game and has good volleyball sense," Osborn pointed out. "She can hit with either hand and should be one of our key performers."

Junior Debbie Stevens (5-10) is slated for action as Northville's top middle blocker, and her experience on the basketball court should help out. Osborn described Stevens as an active player who hits well.

"Her main job will be to establish herself as our blocker up front and once that's established, we'll let her hit more and think offense more."

Junior Nancy Belding is only 5-8 but she will be Northville's starter as the strong-side hitter. Belding is the team's best leaper and a strong hitter, but needs to work on anticipating her opponents better. She will be joined up front by Jenni Stevens, a 5-7 senior who will carry the weak-side hitting role.

Denise Akroush (5-7, senior) and Nanci Dutkiewicz (5-6, senior) will probably round out the starting six. Akroush was a regular a year ago and will be a middle blocker along with Debbie Stevens. Dutkiewicz is a good athlete who played for Osborn on the reserves as a sophomore, but didn't participate in volleyball last season.

"Nanci can dig and pass very well and she's been pretty accurate," Osborn said. "She is very timid but she listens well. Being out a year didn't help her but she has the athletic ability to help us."

Seniors Jeanine LaPrad (5-6), Heather Cross (5-5) and Chris Stiles

Senior Katie Brugman is Northville's top setter.

(5-7) are slated for back-up duties, but Osborn said they will all see plenty of playing time. LaPrad is a strong-side hitter, Cross is a setter and Stiles is a middle blocker. Rounding out the roster are junior hitters Becky Bajorek (5-7) and Jill Connell (5-7), and junior setters Chris Czapski (5-5) and Jenny Cipicchio (5-5).

"We'll try to improve on last year's record but the girls know you have to take it one game at a time," Osborn said. "Right now I'm apprehensive. I don't think we'll blow anybody out but I do think we can stay competitive with almost everybody and if we can do that, I think this team can win more matches than it loses."

Mustang spikers open season with a victory

The Novi-Northville volleyball match on Dec. 17 was a late addition for two teams that weren't originally scheduled to open the 1987-88 season until after Christmas.

According to first-year Wildcat Coach Teri Wyman, the match was just a scrimmage, but first-year Mustang coach Paul Osborn viewed it as a regular dual meet. Not surprisingly, the team which perceived the match as the real thing won it, 15-10, 15-4 at Northville.

In a battle of two rookie coaches, Northville's Osborn won out and his team opened the season on a positive note. Novi, on the other hand, failed in its first bid to put an end to a losing streak which extends back to February of 1986.

In game one, Northville took an early 4-0 lead before the Wildcats came back. Although Novi never actually took the lead, it remained close most of the way. With the score 10-8, the Mustangs scored three in a row to put the game away. Game 2 wasn't nearly as close as Northville built an 8-0 lead and coasted in with the victory.

"It was a good way to start off," Osborn said. "We have a whole new offensive and defensive system to learn, so we made a few mistakes. But the girls are trying and they did well."

"We finally got our passes going in the Game 2 and that's why it was easier. In Game 1, we didn't pass accurately enough."

Senior setter Katie Brugman did a nice job of distributing the ball and middle blocker Debbie Stevens played exceptionally well defensively with seven solo blocks for the match.

For Novi, Game 1 was the highlight. According to Wyman, the 'Cats ran their new offense well and were very competitive even though Northville eventually won it.

"I thought we got off to a good start with the first game," she said. "We ran our offense well but we just got down a little in the second game."

Northville's next competition will be at the Walled Lake Central Invitational on Jan. 9 while the Novi team gets back into action Dec. 26 at the Schoolcraft Invitational.

Introducing
Scan-AlertSM Service.

Because the gap between security and no security is very small indeed.

You may be thinking about investing in an alarm system to protect your business or residence. Or you may have already invested in one. But what happens if an intruder cuts the line to that system? In most cases, the system shuts down.

Unless you have new Scan-AlertSM service. Scan-Alert service is an inexpensive addition for most alarm systems that use your phone line to transmit a signal to your alarm company. So not only can emergency calls get through, the system is also automatically triggered if the telephone line is cut or tampered with. Definitely a worthwhile investment for your peace of mind.

PLEASE NOTE: Michigan Bell's responsibility is limited to the transmission link between your business and your independent alarm company's monitoring facility.

*Scan-Alert service is available in certain areas. Restrictions may apply.

Go cross country for winter fitness

Surveys of how Americans spend their recreation time have shown that cross country skiing keeps growing in popularity. Cross country is not only a good way to keep exercising during the winter, but also allows you to enjoy the winter Michigan scenery.

If you're interested in cross country skiing, but have shied away from starting because you didn't know how or didn't have the proper equipment, there are places available in the area to help you out with lessons, equipment rentals and trails for different skill levels.

So far this season, the weather hasn't really cooperated, and some classes have been cancelled for a lack of snow. But more are scheduled throughout the winter. The opportunities include:

Northville Community Recreation classes: Three classes are scheduled during January for anyone five years and older.

Sessions are set for Tuesday, Jan. 12, from 7 to 8:30 p.m.; Saturday, Jan. 16, from 10 to 11:30 a.m.; and Thursday, Jan. 21, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Fees are $5 per person with no rental or $10 per person with equipment rental.

Registration is by mail through a form in the Northville Community Recreation winter brochure, or in person at the recreation building, 303 W. Main Street. The form should include shoe size.

The classes are held at Maybury State Park on Eight Mile Road.

Novi Parks and Recreation classes: A December class had to be cancelled, but three more are scheduled. Sessions are set to be held Jan. 9 and 30, and Feb. 6.

Each class runs from 9 to 10:30 a.m. on a Saturday, and one session will teach you all the basics. Cost is $10 per person if you bring your own skis and boots, or $12 per person if you want to use the equipment provided.

Registration is required ahead of time at the Parks and Recreation building, at 43315 Sixth Gate Road, just off Novi Road south of Grand River. The classes are held at Maybury State Park.

Cross country is not only a good way to keep exercising during the winter, but also allows you to enjoy the winter Michigan scenery.

Kensington Metropark: Lessons are held on Saturday and Sunday, with advanced registration required. Cost is $5 per person, but in addition, a vehicle entry permit is required for park entrance. Entry permits are $2 for one day or $10 for an annual permit, available at the park office.

For more information about lessons call 1-800-247-2757.

Once you've been through the lessons, area parks offer regular hours for skiing and equipment rental.

Maybury State Park: The park has 10 kilometers of trails marked for cross country skiing. The park is open from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m.

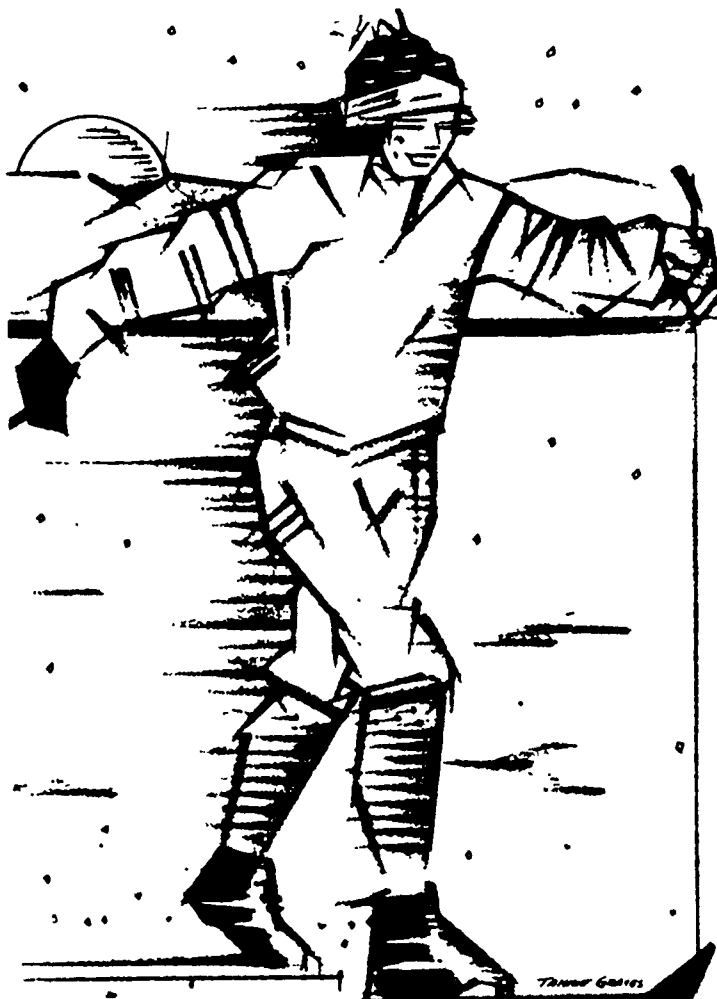

A permit is required for vehicle entry. Annual permits are $10, daily permits are $2, and for age 65 and older, $1.

Ski rental and snack bar hours are: 12 noon to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

Rental costs $10, and you must present your driver's license. Rental includes skis, shoes and poles.

The park also has a sledding and tobogganing hill, and a partially enclosed shelter with a fireplace. For more information call 348-1190.

Kensington: The park has over 15 miles of cross country trails for novice, intermediate and advanced skiers. The park is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Thursday; 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday; 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday; and 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Rentals of complete equipment sets are $6.50 per half day, with skis, boots and poles available separately. There is also a $2 insurance charge with $1 returned if equipment is in good shape, and a driver's license is required.

Special group rates are available Monday through Friday. Reservations are required. It must be an organized group with a minimum of 10 people. For more information call 1-800-247-2757, ext. 436.

The Cranbrook schools: For the extra drive to Bloomfield Hills, cross country skiers can enjoy the surroundings of Cranbrook through Cranbrook P.M., the schools' continuing education program.

Parking is free at the Cranbrook campus. The cost is $25 for a season pass for one person; a family season pass is $50.

Registration is through the mail. The address is Cranbrook P.M., Box 801, Bloomfield Hills, 48013. Participation in the program is limited, so early registration is advised.

Cranbrook is on Lone Pine Road (16 1/2 Mile) between Lahser Road and Woodward Avenue. For more information call 645-3635.

Nutritionist to speak at PWN meeting

Nutritionist Sheri Hasse will be the featured speaker at the Jan. 8 meeting of the Professional Women's Network (PWN) at the Farmington Community Center, 24705 Farmington Rd., Farmington Hills.

Her topic will be "Weight Management-Food Facts and Fallacies." The PWN holds 7:15 a.m. breakfast meetings on the second Friday of every month.

Reservations and advance payment must be received at the Farmington Community center by Dec. 30. Cost is $5 for PWN members and $8 for non-members. For additional information call 477-8404.

SWIM-FITNESS PROGRAM: The Mercy Center, located on 11 Mile between Middlebelt and Inskter Roads in Farmington Hills, is offering a pair of winter swim and fitness programs.

The early morning open swim is from Monday through Friday from 6:30-8 a.m. and on Saturdays from 7:30-9 a.m. The program includes lap swims, swim classes, private lessons, adult synchronized swimming and adapted aquatics.

The Trim-Gym-Swim fitness program is designed to strengthen and tone the body and includes a special senior citizen discount.

The first session is from Jan. 8-Feb. 25 and the second session is from Feb. 26-April 22. For more information, call 476-8010.

OPEN GYM PROGRAM: The Novi High School gymnasium is open every Monday and Wednesday night. The gym is restricted to residents-only from 7-9 p.m. Non-residents also may use the gym from 9 to 10:15 p.m.

There's a fee of $1 per person. Participants should bring their own equipment. In addition, shower and lockerroom facilities are available. Anyone planning to use lockers should bring their own padlocks. People using the showers should bring their own towels.

The gym will be closed during the holidays on Dec. 16, 21, 23, 28 and 30 as well as Jan. 11 and 13. People interested in open gym may call the Novi Community Education Department at 348-1200 to check on any other last-minute cancellations due to special events.

WALKING AT THE MALL: People who enjoy walking are invited to use the climate-controlled corridors at Twelve Oaks Mall. Walkers are welcome Monday through Saturday at 9 a.m. and Sunday at 11 a.m.

All walkers must register at the Twelve Oaks security office.

The lower level track is five-tenths of a mile, while the upper level track is eight-tenths of a mile. A complete trip around the mall is one and one-third miles.

FITNESS OVER 50: Twelve Oaks Mall is providing a safe, proven and highly effective workout for older people and others who are interested in a low impact aerobic exercise program. The program is offered every Tuesday and Thursday from 9-10 a.m. in the Lord & Taylor Court (lower level).

The "Fitness over 50" program has been designed and field tested for more than 10 years at the University of Michigan. It provides a non-strenuous but invigorating program that will improve your strength and muscle tone, and increase your energy and endurance.

The event is free and open to the public.

STOP SMOKING: Freshstart, a comprehensive quit-smoking program, is offered without charge at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia. Co-sponsored by the American Cancer Society, Freshstart is designed to help participants understand smoking as a habit, a chemical addiction and psychological dependency.

The program will be presented in six one-hour classes. Strategies for conquering smoking physically and psychologically will be explored.

The program will be held Jan. 26, 28, Feb. 2, 4, 9, 11, 1988 from 1:30-2:30 p.m. and 7-8 p.m. Pre-registration is necessary. For more information, please call 464-4800 ext. 2400.

TIPS FROM TUCKKLAPER
Novi Dental Center
A. Allen Tuckklaper D.D.S.

FLUORIDE TOOTHPASTE

If you watch television, you've probably seen the commercials selling fluoride toothpaste ("Mommy, Mommy, my group had fewer cavities!"). The best part about these commercials is that, hopefully, they may induce children to brush their teeth. It's the brushing, flossing and rinsing after eating that is the most effective preventer of tooth decay and gum disease. Toothpaste can help, but it's only a part of effective oral hygiene.

The mere presence of fluoride in a toothpaste does not give it therapeutic qualities. There are, however, several brands of toothpaste on the market which contain fluoride in an effective combination with other ingredients. They definitely possess therapeutic value and have been recommended by the American Dental Association's Council on Dental Therapeutics.

It should be emphasized, so there is no misunderstanding, that fluoride toothpastes are not a substitute for the combination of fluoridation of community drinking water and professional fluoride treatment, which have been shown to reduce dental decay by as much as 65 percent.

Heart disease drop parallels cholesterol drop

By Peg Campbell

More and more people are becoming aware that they can greatly influence their health and longevity.

It's often been said that the most productive thing a person can do to insure a long and healthy life is to choose the right parents. While you cannot choose your parents, you still can have some control over your destiny. Since genetics do influence the illnesses you may be prone to, you should be aware of your health risks in order to modify that influence.

The role individuals play in their health has become very evident during the past 15-20 years, when we have seen the rate of heart disease drop significantly in this country. This drop has been attributed to the fact that Americans have taken an interest in their health, modified their diets and begun exercise programs.

The thing we have heard about most recently in connection with heart disease is cholesterol. The new guidelines for cholesterol call for lower levels, and people are more interested than ever before in dropping their levels.

The reason for lowering cholesterol levels makes sense. According to a large federal study, for every one percent decrease in blood cholesterol, there is a two percent decrease in the chance of coronary artery disease—the leading cause of death in the United States.

Although there is much to talk about cholesterol, the basic facts have not changed. The main contributors to heart disease continue to be fat diet and lack of exercise. The thing that has changed is the more aggressive approach that physicians are recommending to help lower cholesterol levels.

Doctors are finding that magic number seems to be 200 for total cholesterol levels. The National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute (NHLBI) has announced these guidelines for all Americans. Total blood cholesterol should be below 200—that's 200 milligrams of total cholesterol per deciliter of blood. Most physicians who find patient's cholesterol levels above that number put them on cholesterol lowering diets. Some physicians may even recommend lower levels for their patients.

Diet is still the safest and, in most instances, the most effective way to lower cholesterol. An NHLBI panel focusing on treatment strategies for adults recommends drug therapies only if intensive diet therapy fails after six months.

Because of the high interest in lowering cholesterol, the Northville Health Center will focus the next several articles in this fitness series on cholesterol.

On Jan. 7 the Northville Health Center will serve as a cholesterol testing site for a national survey sponsored by CBS and the National Institute for Disease Prevention. Cholesterol tests will be available for $4, with results and information given immediately.

The Northville Record is working in conjunction with medical authorities at the University of Michigan Medical Center (M-Care) in Northville and M-Sport to provide up-to-date information on a variety of health-related topics.

The series of articles is being coordinated by Peg Campbell of the M-Care staff.

In coming weeks, Fitness Tips will include articles on such topics as cholesterol, nutrition, winter exercise, heart disease, aerobics and many more.

This week's article was written by Campbell.

Green Oak firm's specialty is rebuilding damaged autos

By DELIA SCHOENEICH

Rebuilding and selling cars has been a trademark of Kensington Motors Inc. for the past nine years.

Located at 26247 Dixboro Road in Green Oak Township, the business specializes in selling popular Ford-Lincoln-Mercury cars such as the Mustang and Thunderbird, but also includes in its retail line a mixture of General Motors, Chrysler and imported vehicles.

In addition, Kensington Motors sells used car parts.

"What's unique about the business is an unheard of warranty," said owner Steve Gronow. "Once the car is built and sold you'll never have to spend major dollars for repairs. We've never denied anyone a repair."

The business guarantees a 90-day, 100 percent unconditional parts and labor warranty with no deductible.

Another distinct characteristic of the business is quality workmanship.

"From what other people say we do nice work. We're not simply a body shop. The cars are hand built. One person works on one car at a time," added John Dickhart, general manager at Kensington Motors.

The auto shop at Kensington

Motors rebuilds as many as 50 cars per year. Approximately 300 vehicles are sold each year with sales estimated at $2 million annually.

The majority of cars come from the insurance pool, which acquires damaged or theft-recovered cars. Gronow explains that some of the cars come from professional people who prefer to sell their damaged cars rather than wait to have them repaired. A small number of cars come from car-leasing companies that sell them because the cars may be theft-recovered or may just simply have too many miles on them.

"For those persons who are in a wreck who don't want their car, we can get them out of it," said Gronow.

More specifically, Kensington Motors pays the difference between the insurance settlement and the actual value of the car. For example, if the car is valued at $12,000 and the insurance company pays $6,000 for damages, Kensington Motors will buy the car from the owner for $6,000.

After a damaged car has been purchased, the process of re-building it begins. "It usually takes two to three cars to make one sellable. There are generally 15 cars in process at any one time," said Gronow.

A typical job for the business may be to take the undamaged chassis of a car that has been theft-recovered and stripped of its interior, remove the interior parts of a frame-damaged car that is of the exact same model, and combine the two to make one complete vehicle at a substantially lower-than-factory price.

For example, one customer said she paid $5,000 for an Escort GT which was selling for $9,000 book price.

Gronow describes the process as being "like the assembly line at Ford Motor Co., where they take the bare body of a car and then start adding all the components." After the car has been built, it goes to the paint shop where it gets a "better-than-factory" paint job, he said.

The finished product then goes back to the production shop for a "button-up," which is the final checklist. Each technician signs the checklist and then one employee will drive the car for a week to ensure that nothing has been overlooked.

In addition to the button-up, Kensington Motors Inc. also undergoes police-safety inspections at which time someone comes out from the

Business Briefs

SCOTT C. BALDWIN

KEVIN M. TRAVERS

SCOTT C. BALDWIN, a Northville resident with his wife, Susan, has been named assistant vice president of marketing for Encore International. He will work with companies throughout New England and upstate New York to develop computer, telecommunications and other capital equipment lease and sales arrangements.

Baldwin will be based at Encore's headquarters in Bloomfield Hills. He previously served as regional sales manager for CMI Corporation of Bloomfield Hills and American Hospital Supply Company.

He received his MBA degree from Michigan State University. An avid golfer and sports enthusiast, he is active in his community and serves on the Northville Baseball Board of Directors.

Encore International specializes in the resale and leasing of new and used data processing, telecommunications and other capital equipment. Encore is based in Bloomfield Hills with regional offices in Grand Rapids, Chicago, Houston, California, Pennsylvania and Virginia.

KEVIN M. TRAVERS of Novi has been appointed business development officer for the Comerica Acceptance Corporation. The appointment was announced by Donald R. Mandich, chairman of Comerica Incorporated.

Travers joined the bank in 1982 as a collateral liquidator and has held positions of increasing responsibility since that time.

Travers attended Wayne State University and Walsh College.

CHARLES LOCKWOOD, MARY GILLESPIE and LINDA MILDER, all formerly of Hoepfner Tax and Accounting Service, have announced the opening of their own accounting and tax firm in the First of America building in Hartland.

The trio will provide accounting and tax services for corporations, partnerships, small businesses, farms and individuals. The company specializes in personalized, professional and attentive service.

All old and new clients of Lockwood, Gillespie and Milder are invited to come and inspect the new offices and obtain a free tax planning consultation as a grand-opening gift.

Appointments can be made by calling 632-7991, or drop by 11050 Highland Road from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Guardian Industries appoints Gerson

Guardian Industries Corp. has announced the appointment of Ralph J. Gerson as executive vice president of the company, effective Jan. 1, 1988.

Gerson, currently an officer and a director of Guardian Industries, will assume full-time responsibility for the company's staff functions, including finance, accounting, tax and legal affairs.

He will continue to be in charge of the company's international expansion program, a duty he has fulfilled on a part-time basis since 1985. Gerson will be leaving his partnership in the Washington, D.C. law firm of Akin, Gump, Strauss, Hauer, and Feld to assume his new duties.

William M. Davidson, president and owner of Guardian, said, "Ralph's extensive prior experience, particularly as director of Michigan's Department of Commerce, as a negotiator during the Tokyo Round trade negotiations, and as a lawyer in corporate and international matters, will prove invaluable to Guardian as we continue to expand our automotive and international operations and look for new opportunities for growth.

Gerson was state Commerce Director from 1983 to 1985 and also served as a counselor to Gov. James Blanchard, especially in the area of economic development.

Prior to that, Gerson served with Robert S. Strauss, assisting in the Tokyo Round trade negotiations and participating in the Middle East peace negotiations following the Camp David accords.

Gerson earned a bachelor's degree in economics and political science from Yale University in 1971, a master's degree from the London School of Economics in 1972, and a law degree from the University of Michigan law school in 1975.

He and his wife, Erica A. Ward, will be relocating to the Detroit area. Guardian also announced that Thomas F. Gaffney, executive vice president and company Dec. 31, to devote greater time to other interests.

"Tom has made a tremendous contribution to Guardian," said Davidson. "He is an outstanding individual and a fine businessman. All of us at Guardian wish him the best of luck in his business endeavors."

Guardian Industries is a privately owned manufacturer and fabricator of flat glass products used in construction and transportation. The company operates five float glass production lines and one rolled glass manufacturing line in the United States and two float glass and one rolled glass line in Europe.

The company is expanding its U.S. and European fabricating and coating facilities and negotiating other expansion plans.

Firm offers free tax assessment reviews

ProActive Management Services, Inc., a real estate consulting firm, is offering a free tax assessment review to commercial and industrial property owners in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties.

ProActive also will appeal the assessment on the owner's behalf if the assessment is inaccurate, in error, illegal or inequitable. Since the company operates on a contingency basis, there is no cost to the property owner unless ProActive is successful in reducing the assessment.

"Most property owners do not understand the property tax assessment and appeal process," said ProActive President Bob Thomas. "This is evidenced by the fact that less than 2 percent of property assessments are ever challenged, yet over 80 percent of the assessments that are appealed are reduced. The assessor's function is simply to assign a value to property; it is the responsibility of the property owner to verify the accuracy of the assigned value.

"Even if you feel that your assessment is fair in relation to market value (50 percent), proper analysis can often uncover substantial savings by exploring the equity of the assessment," said Thomas. "We feel that by removing the financial risk of a fixed fee or an hourly rate, more property owners will exercise their right of appeal and enjoy the resulting savings."

ProActive Management Services, Inc. is a real estate consulting firm which specializes in correcting tax assessment inequities. ProActive also markets a unique pre-paid IRS audit representation service as an independent representative of Advanced Tax Representation, Inc. and a pre-paid legal protection plan administered by Nationwide Legal Services, Inc.

"Our goal," said Thomas, "is to help the public to understand their legal rights and then to exercise their rights in some of the most complex, frustrating and costly situations that individuals and businesses encounter at a fraction of the cost normally associated."

Kensington specializes in rebuilt autos

local sheriff's department to make sure everything is in safe-working order.

As soon as all the safety inspections are satisfactorily completed, the car is put up for sale. Most of the cars sell wholesale and go to an auction pool where other car dealers bid on them. Some cars are sold retail to people who are regular customers and come back year after year.

Dickhart said the customers come from all over the area, including one from the east side of Detroit.

For Gronow, his adventure into the automotive business seemed to be a natural step. From the time he was a youngster he worked rebuilding cars with his uncle. "We built together for six years. He was a very enterprising man."

Kensington Motors Inc. has other services to offer as well. The business sells cars and parts from the salvage yard for the do-it-yourself buff. Gronow refers to this end of his business as the "repairables" component in which customers can actually piece parts of the car together themselves, whether it be a front seat or wheels. Again, this enables the person with initiative to save money.

In addition, Kensington Motors subleases its frame rack to other body shops. The laser-measuring system Kensington Motors has is designed to measure a vehicle's inner-structure so that the car can be pulled to exact factory specifications and avoid alignment problems.

Gronow said he is planning to relocate in the Novi-Wixom-Milford area to allow for more retail exposure. He hopes to be moved to a new location by next fall.

By doing that, Gronow said he would be able to expand and advertise as much as necessary so that he can offer the consumer even more.
