South of the border is the theme for this year's All-Night senior class party at Northville High School, and three horseback Mexican hombres delivered the invitations to the graduates

High School readies for graduation

It is time for Pomp and Circumstance to ring across the Northville High School Football field once again.

It is time for eager graduates and proud parents to make their way to the high school on the hill to pay tribute to the Class of 1988. This is it — this is graduation!

Tomorrow night, June 17, weather permitting, the Northville High School graduation ceremonies will take place at 7 p.m. on the high school athletic field. If by chance the weather should change, the ceremonies will be moved indoor to the gymnasium.

The evening will begin with the procession of the graduates and guests accompanied by the high school orchestra conducted by Michael Rumbell, instrumental music director.

The invocation will be given by Kimberley Wilds, Student Congress co-president. The welcome will be given by Scott Paredes, president of the Class of 1988.

Valedictory speeches will be given by Courtney Bond, Steven Goldberg, Jasen Hill and Mitchell Moore. Salutatorians Erin Dunkerley and Kara Gosciński will speak next.

Introductions will be made by Jeannine LaPrad, treasurer of the Class of 1988 and Heather Cross, secretary of the Class of 1988. Remarks will follow by Dr. George Bell, superintendent of schools. David Bolitho, Northville High School Principal will introduce this year's distinguished alumni — Carol Yahne.

Then, the moment the students have been waiting for, William Hamilton, assistant principal, will present the Class of 1988 to the Northville School Board and the presentation of diplomas will be made by David Llewellyn, president of the Board.

Principal David Bolitho will give his farewell to the class and the new graduates will march out of the stadium. Class President Scott Paredes will complete the program with his concluding remarks.

Students will move immediately from graduation to the All-Night party at the high school. This is the 23rd year Northville High School has sponsored a graduation all-night party for the students.

Water supply drops in city

By BOB NEEDHAM

Dry weather and related problems are causing a little concern in Northville, with effects including a school closing Tuesday and a request from the city to limit sprinkler use.

The north end of the city is experiencing serious problems with water pressure, City Manager Steve Walters said Tuesday. The problem was worst just around Amerman Elementary School at the corner of Eight Mile and Center Street.

School officials decided to close Amerman Tuesday because of the water pressure trouble, and by late Tuesday were unsure if classes could be held Wednesday.

Amerman Principal Milt Jacobi said Tuesday was the first day this year the school has closed because of water problems.

"The water has been OK until this morning," he said Tuesday. School officials judged that there was not enough water pressure for toilets, washing hands and cooking, so they decided not to hold classes.

Jacobi said the school was able to make most of the students aware of the decision before the first bell rang.

Once last year a water pipe broke at Amerman, making the water system unusable. "We kept them here, but it created some very difficult times in the building," Jacobi said.

The city is asking residents to limit sprinkler use because of the water problem, Walters said Tuesday. People with even number addresses are asked to only use their sprinklers on even number days, while odd number

All three prisons obey inmate caps

The prison population in Northville and Plymouth townships came back down to legal limits last week.

As of last Thursday, the Scott Regional Correctional Facility had a population of 528, Phoenix Correctional Facility had 311 and Western Wayne Correctional Facility had 500. Those are exactly the limits which were upheld after Northville Township sued the state Department of Corrections to obey population caps at the prisons.

"We are very pleased that the Department of Corrections has brought the prisons back into compliance," Northville Township Supervisor Georgina Goss said Tuesday.

In recent weeks both Scott and Phoenix were about 100 prisoners over their caps, although Phoenix was two prisoners below its cap on June 6. Scott and Phoenix are in Northville Township and Western Wayne is in Plymouth Township.

In May, Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Charles Farmer gave corrections officials until June 5 to reduce the number of inmates in the three prisons. On June 2 the corrections department appealed that ruling, asking that it be overturned and a stay of the order be issued.

"They did not comply by June 5 but they had complied as of yesterday," Northville Township attorney Ernest Essad said Friday. He added the stay

Indian Shrine Is this area its home?

By BOB NEEDHAM

The drawing on the wall is pretty dramatic: two concentric rings of grass, an earthen map of North America in the center, and stretching far into the sky, a ring of laser light beams.

For Northville resident Normile Baylis, the drawing is more than decoration. It is a shrine to honor the Native American, proposed for this area, and it's a cause worth fighting for.

"It started in 1978, on a trip back from California. Baylis, stopping in Arizona to visit relatives, happened to drive through an Indian reservation.

"My heart just cried when I saw what I saw — poverty, congestion, and the looks on the Indians' faces of just giving up, surrender," Baylis recalled. "At one time these people roamed the country free.

"That memory stayed with me for a long time."

One day, Baylis realized that the country sported a Nixon library, a Ford library, and countless other similar memorials — but nothing dedicated solely to honor the Native American. "There's nothing to the American Indian anywhere in the country that I know of," Baylis said.

He has researched the topic and found small museums and sections in larger museums. But his vision — and the vision of Heritage America, the group he formed to see the vision realized — stretches far beyond that.

The conceptual drawing on the wall shows a symbolic structure which would include patches of grass from Native American settlement areas throughout North America. Examples of authentic dwellings are between the two rings. The inner ring includes an entrance to a complete underground museum. It would sprawl across 80 acres or more, and could cost $40 million or more. According to a brochure, the keys to the shrine are "dignity, quality, integrity and truth."

Baylis, living downriver at the time, first formed Heritage America as an affiliate of the Wyandotte Historical Society. Downriver seemed like a logical location for the shrine for two basic reasons: It had been home to a Native American tribe, and, having been hard hit by recession, the area could well use the tourist traffic which could come to see a national shrine and exhibit.

"They were looking for a cause, and I said, 'Why not a shrine to the American Indian in the downriver area?'" Baylis recalled. Before long a formal organization was in place, with Baylis as president, which included an advisory board and an executive committee. Baylis was joined by Steve Stjeier, president of the Wyandotte Savings Bank, in spearheading the effort.

Firms were interviewed to conduct

Officials look for Rural Hill solution

By BOB NEEDHAM

With a title question resolved, the City of Northville and Northville township have started discussions on the future of Rural Hill Cemetery, and those talks may be leading away from an annexation attempt.

The cemetery lies across the city / township border. Once owned by the Rural Hill Cemetery Association, the city now owns the entire cemetery — but that ownership came only after a couple of appearances in Wayne County Circuit Court.

When the cemetery association disbanded, an apparent oversight resulted in the township part of the cemetery land never being transferred to the city's ownership. Several months ago the city filed suit to quit title to this part of the cemetery. The city has been maintaining and selling plots in that part of the cemetery for decades.

"The decision that we asked for in the complaint was granted," John Kelly, an attorney working for the city, said.

When no surviving members of the old cemetery association could be found, and when the state's Corporation and Securities Bureau did not object to the city's suit, Wayne County Circuit Court Judge William Cahalan granted a default decision in favor of the city May 27.

City officials had suggested — and township officials had feared — that clearing the title would lead to an effort by the city to annex the part of the cemetery lying in the township.

But City Manager Steve Walters and Township Supervisor Georgina

Recovering addicts from Northville, Livonia plan softball game

By BOB NEEDHAM

High school students have a lot to celebrate when the end of June rolls around: the end of another school year, the start of summer vacation, a chance to relax a little.

But some students have more to celebrate than others. Like the students who are working to overcome drug addiction.

Next Tuesday, students recovering from drug dependency from the Northville and Livonia school districts are going to gather at the Waterford Bend field for a softball game. As described by Charlie Stilec, the student assistance program coordinator at Northville High School, the game is going to be a sort of two-sided party.

"We thought, as a celebration of the end of the year and of drug-free involvement, we thought we'd have a softball game," Stilec said. "People seem excited about it, so it should be fun."

The softball game is really just the latest in a string of social activities between support groups in Northville and Livonia, Stilec said. The first contact was between NHS and Livonia Stevenson High School, and since then students have got together for lunch, wallyball, racquetball, dances, and meetings of Alcoholics Anonymous and other groups.

"They've got to have something to do drug free," Stilec said. "That's pretty hard these days."

With the availability of drugs to students, it can be difficult to find many activities for the recovering addicts to do together, Stilec continued.

"I give them a lot of credit. They work really hard at it," he said.

The game is a cooperative effort of several areas of the community. In addition to Stilec's organization,

High School Athletic Director Dennis Colligan is donating the use of school equipment for the game, and the Northville Community Recreation Department is donating the use of the Waterford Bend field.

Stilec said he has no real idea how many people will play in the game — "We'll see who shows up."

NEWS BRIEFS

CORRECTION 1 — In last week's Car Care supplement to the Northville Record, local businessman and very knowledgeable car man Jim Davis, owner of Davis Auto Care was quoted as saying newer cars no longer have spark plugs, in an article on regular maintenance. The error was ours, not his. The quote should have said that newer cars no longer have points and condensers. Davis said newer cars should have routine maintenance tune-ups (consisting of replacing spark plugs and an electronic scoping) every 24-28,000 miles.

CORRECTION 2 — Information below a picture in last week's Record about NHS winners in the state forensics tournament should have said that Julie Plath earned first place in serious interpretation.

NORTHVILLE COLTS ALUMNI — are being sought by the Junior Football League. Alumni of the popular team, both players and cheerleaders, are being asked to participate in this year's Fourth of July Parade through downtown Northville. Interested alumni should contact Jane Fowkes at 348-0259 or Jim Harding at 349-8327.

ORAL HISTORY PROJECT — The Northville Historical Society and the Northville Public Library are beginning an oral history project on Northville's past. Topics will include events and reminiscences of the community.

Volunteers are needed to conduct or transcribe interviews. An organizational meeting will be held Thursday, June 23 at 11 a.m. at the library. If you are interested but unable to attend, contact Al Smitley at the library, 349-3020.

If you have memories to share please call the library and leave your name and number.

WINNING SCRIPT — Edith Dunbar, of Northville, won first place recently in a radio script contest sponsored by WDET-FM (102). Her play, "The Number Lady" will be aired at 4 p.m. July 24. Dunbar, a freelance writer, is a member of Detroit Women Writers and the Dramatists Guild.

YOUNG INVENTOR — David Craig, a third grader at American Elementary, was selected as the third grade winner in the state of Michigan in the Invent America! contest. David, son of Dave and Mary Craig, invented the automatic detergent measurer, and was selected from hundreds of entries as the best new student invention in grade three in the state level of competition. Student entries were reviewed by a prominent panel of judges and were selected on the basis of originality, usefulness and marketability.

David was invited to display and explain his invention at the Invention exposition at Domino's Farms on June 11. Members of The Inventors Council of Michigan hosted the event.

LOST YEARBOOKS? — The Northville Public Library is hoping to build a collection of Northville High School yearbooks. If any stray, homeless, or unwanted past issues are spotted roaming the area, please direct them to the library where they will receive a warm, permanent home.

PLAN DELAYED — A proposal for multiple-family dwelling units off Taft and Eight Mile was deferred by the city Planning Commission last week at the request of the applicant.

Metti W. Metti has been appearing before the commission to try for approval of the plan, and has objected to the length of time taken to consider different versions of his plan. He was scheduled on the agenda at last Tuesday's meeting, but requested to have the plan considered at a later date instead.

Klokkenga, Rahimi join school board

Nearly 200 Northville School District voters turned out to endorse Donald Klokkenga and Carol Rahimi, both uncontested candidates for school board seats, in Monday's election.

Unofficial vote totals were 177 for Klokkenga and 173 for Rahimi, with five write-in votes.

"You have different size families," board President Douglas Llewellyn joked in announcing the vote totals Monday night.

Both Klokkenga and Rahimi were elected for four-year terms on the board.

Board OKs tax rate of 37.5411 mills

By BOB NEEDHAM

Taxpayers in the Northville School District will pay a total of 37.5411 mills in the tax bills going out July 1, the school board decided Monday.

The total tax rate includes a general operations millage of 32.7911, rolled back 2.61 mills from this year in keeping with the state's Headlee Tax Limitation Amendment, and a debt retirement millage of 4.75 mills, down .75 mills this year from 5.5 mills last year.

A mill is one dollar of tax per $1,000 of assessed property value. Since property values in Northville are rising, the lower tax rate means the district will get the same amount of tax revenue (adjusted for inflation) it got last year — not counting the additional tax money from taxes on new construction.

In other words, on the average, property owners in the district will pay about the same amount of tax money to the schools as last year.

"We will have one of the lowest millage rates in Wayne County as a result of this," Superintendent George Bell said at the school board meeting.

The board approved the new tax rates 7-0.

The general operation tax rate now becomes the basis of the 1988-89 school district budget, which was presented in a public hearing at Monday's meeting.

The budget allows for a slight surplus even with the millage reduction, according to introductory comments from Finance Director John Street. This is because of new construction in the district bringing its total state equalized valuation up to $480 million, he said at the meeting.

Generally the budget provides for continuation of current activities at a 5 percent cost increase. Street's comments state, although there are larger increases.

"In summary, the strong building boom and resale prices has enabled the district to cut the tax rate while still meeting educational needs and the need to build our savings for the future," the budget comments state.

The budget plans for revenues of $16.842 million and expenses of $16.695 million, leaving a $146,779 surplus.

Of the projected revenue, by far the largest share is property tax, bringing in $15.712 million. Other sources are tuition, special education indirect revenue, interest, and rent. The district has also budgeted $200,000 in state aid.

The budget divides expenses into department-like categories such as elementary, middle school, high school, transportation, library, and co-curricular / athletics. In almost every category, salary is by far the largest expense.

Record/CHRIS BOYD

Police Blotters

Driver apprehended after hitting median and post

Township police are investigating a suspected incident of drunk driving after a witness reported seeing the car in question drive onto a median and swerve down the street.

At 1:31 p.m. Tuesday, June 7, a car hit a light pole on Silver Springs Drive near Lake Success Drive. The driver, a Northville resident, smelled of alcohol, the police report said. He responded to several different questions — about his name, residence, and the like — with just the word "yeah," the report said.

A witness said the car had driven onto the median near Silver Springs and Seven Mile, then crossed the center line several times before hitting the pole.

As of Monday, police were awaiting the results of a blood test performed on the man to determine alcohol content.

BOMB THREAT — A local business received three threatening phone calls last week, according to a township police report.

The Diet Results Medical Center on Six Mile Road received two bomb threats and one other threatening call Thursday morning, June 9. At 6:53 a.m. the center's answering service took a call full of swearing. Then about 9 a.m. the business got two calls from an unknown female saying she was coming to the office "to blow it up," the police report said.

Police are continuing to investigate.

DRUNK DRIVING — A Canton resident was arrested for drunk driving just after 2 a.m. Sunday after he had trouble with field sobriety tests and refused to submit to blood alcohol tests.

A Northville Township police officer clocked the man with radar as driving 52 miles per hour in a 40 zone on Northville Road, then tracked the car at 50 miles per hour. The man pulled over and told the officer that a cup he had in the car with him was wine cooler and coke.

According to the police report the man had trouble with field sobriety tests. He refused to take a preliminary breath test and then, at the police station, refused a breath test.

He sobered up at the police station and was released after paying $100 bond. Police issued the man citations for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor, for refusing to take the preliminary breath test and for driving on a suspended license. He faces a July 21 court date.

CAR FIRE — The Northville Township Fire Department put out a car fire thought to be set on purpose recently, according to a police report.

On May 27 police and fire officers responded to a report of a car on fire on Ridge Road and found the car fully engulfed in flames. A metal can — possibly a gas can — was found in the back seat.

TOOLS STOLEN — Over $500 worth of tools was taken from a garage on Weatherfield Friday or Saturday, a township police report said.

The garage door had been left open, the report said. A tool box, several tools and a shrub trimmer were reported missing. The items were valued at $520.

CAR RECOVERED — A car stolen from a Northville Township home last week was recovered within hours of the time it was reported missing, but with damage done and a stereo and items missing from inside.

Thursday morning, June 9, a car was stolen from in front of an apartment on Cedar Lake Circle, a township police report said. Within a couple of hours the car was reported as a suspicious vehicle on Lilypad Court, just a couple of streets away.

The car was recovered, but the steering column had been damaged, the report said. In addition, the stereo was gone and a baseball glove left in the car was missing, the report said.

NON-LARCENY — An incident at the Meijer store on Eight Mile and Haggerty which resulted in a threat against a security officer was all based on a misunderstanding, according to a township police report.

Two women had bought $25.76 in groceries to the checkout counter, and the cashier counted only $16 that the women paid. The women said two $5 bills had gone down the conveyor belt. Store employees partly dismantled the conveyor belt but did not find the money.

The women then started to leave and when security officers followed them, one of the women grabbed a pop bottle and threatened to hit a security officer if he followed them.

After the women had driven off, the store took the belt apart and found the two $5 bills, the police report said.

GARAGE SALE THEFT — Two pieces of gold jewelry were stolen from a Camden Court home last month, according to a Northville Township police report.

During a garage sale at the home, a man's gold bracelet and a man's ring — worth a total of $820 — were taken from a table inside the home.

ATTEMPT TO HIT — A Northville resident was almost hit by a pickup truck behind the Meijer store at Eight Mile and Haggerty last week, a township police report said.

The man was in the back of the store last Wednesday when he saw a maroon truck coming at him, the report said. He stepped away but the truck followed and he had to jump away to avoid being hit.

The man then saw the driver go to a nearby dumpster, remove a small cardboard box from it and then drive away.

FAILURE TO STOP — A Canton resident was ticketed by township police for failing to stop at a stop sign last Wednesday.

According to a witness, the car was going north on Beck Road and did not stop at Eight Mile. It hit a car driving on Eight Mile.

The ticketed driver received minor injuries; the other driver was not hurt, the report said.

FAIL TO YIELD — Two people were ticketed for failing to yield while turning left in separate incidents last week.

On Tuesday, June 7, a Livonia resident was ticketed after turning left into the path of another vehicle at the corner of Haggerty and Seven Mile.

The next day, a River Rouge resident was ticketed after turning left and hitting another vehicle at the corner of Haggerty and Eight Mile.

STOLEN CAR RECOVERED — A broken car was stolen but later recovered last week, according to a city police report.

A resident of Grosse Pointe Park left a car in a parking lot June 6 after the car broke down. When the wrecker came for the car June 8, it was gone. But meanwhile, township police had found the car in a parking lot on Five Mile.

The ignition switch had been punched and the license plate was missing.

DOOR BROKEN — A glass door on a downtown business was kicked in last week, a city police report said.

The door to an office at the corner of Main and Center was kicked and cracked June 6, the report said. The door was not broken enough to allow entry to the building.

Firefighters extinguish three blazes on county land Friday

Firefighters put out three separate fires off of Sheldon and Five Mile roads in a three-hour period Friday evening, Northville Township police and fire officials said.

Between 6 p.m. and some time after 8 p.m. the township Fire Department extinguished a grass fire, a field fire and a fire in the old theater building at the former Wayne County Child Development Center, Chief Robert Toms said. The theater building fire was primarily in the main room and three side rooms on the first floor, a police report said.

None of the fires was as serious as a blaze at the same site May 23 which firefighters battled for several hours.

"The child development property is a real thorn in our side. It costs the township money," Toms said. "I wish it would go away, but I guess it won't."

The Northville Township Police Department has requested the Wayne County Sheriff's Department run regular patrols through the area to curb an increase in trespassing and other illegal activity on the land.

Toms said that over the last six weeks the township has seen an increase in fires. The department has responded to 83 fires so far this year, which is only one more than at this point last year, he said.

However, as of May 1 the township had only experienced 50 reported fires, meaning there have been 33 since then. "We've picked up a lot in the last couple months," he said.

B & B hearing set for July 19

By BOB NEEDHAM

The public will get its formal chance to speak out on bed-and-breakfast inns in the City of Northville at a public hearing scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday, July 19.

The city's Planning Commission scheduled the hearing last Tuesday as the next step in developing an ordinance to regulate the inns. At the hearing the members of the public will have a special opportunity to comment on any facet of the ordinance as proposed.

In considering an ordinance proposal, the commission has discussed many issues including maximum length of stay, maximum number of rooms and type of signs allowed. But the biggest issue has been where the city should allow bed-and-breakfast inns to locate.

After a narrow vote last week, the proposed ordinance which will be considered at the hearing allows B and Bs as a special use in any single-family residential district in the city. If the ordinance was eventually passed in this form, it would mean that a B and B could legally go in any area of single-family homes, but only if a special land use permit is granted by the Planning Commission, in addition to the commission's normal plan review. The permit application would include a formal public hearing.

Commission Vice Chairperson John Hardin objected to the current draft of the proposed ordinance. "I guess I have a hard time accepting this as, one, good planning; two, the idea of bed and breakfasts; and three, the intent of the people in the city. If you had a mass meeting of the people in this city, I don't think they would want bed and breakfasts in every section of the city," Hardin said. The city should limit areas the inns may locate and their density, he added.

Planning Consultant Don Wortman said that he believes that inns should be restricted to certain areas within the city's historic district. However, he said, "It's going to be difficult to control the density... You cannot regulate the number of bed and breakfasts. What you can do is regulate the districts."

Commissioner Greg Presley said the free market will control the number of inns. "To restrict it unduly is overkill," he said.

Commissioner David Totten, who has supported the idea of allowing B and Bs as a special use in all residential areas of the city, moved that the commission accept the latest version of the ordinance and schedule the hearing July 19. "It depends on who comes to a meeting which way we ask Don to write the current version," Totten commented.

The motion passed 4-3 with Hardin, Mike Kowalski and Rolland Stapleton dissenting.

If the Planning Commission approves the ordinance after the public hearing, it then goes to the City Council for consideration. The council has the final say on adoption of any ordinance.

Planners approve Gas & Go plan

By BOB NEEDHAM

The Gas & Go station at Taft and Eight Mile will close one of its driveways, but the other three may stay open, under a plan agreed to last week by both the Northville Planning Commission and the company that owns the station.

For months, the Boron Oil Company has been trying to get a gas station remodeling plan approved which would convert the auto service bays into a convenience beverage and food store. Several members of the Planning Commission — which reviews an entire site when an outside change is proposed — said that of the gas station's four driveways, the two nearest to Taft Road should be closed for safety.

That recommendation came from the traffic study the city commissioned. Police Department research has shown the intersection to be one of the more accident-prone in the city.

The impasse between Boron officials and planning commissioners was resolved at the commission meeting Tuesday, June 7, when the commission approved a compromise plan developed by company and city officials and the Karl Kleitsch, the city's traffic consultant.

"We've worked out a plan which I think is responsive to your concerns," Boron's Pat Raymond told the commission last week. "Boron has agreed to close the Eight Mile approach."

Along with the remodeling project, Boron will close the western of the two driveways on Eight Mile and rework the Taft Road driveways. The basic traffic flow will be to enter the site using the Eight Mile driveway and leave out either of the two Taft driveways.

Raymond said "lot constraints" made closing a Taft driveway unfeasible.

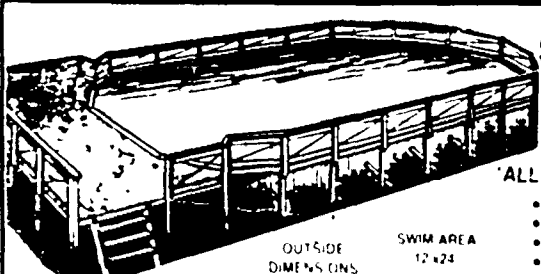

Kleitsch suggested the latest arrangement, Raymond added. "Karl told us what he wanted and the result is what you see before you," he said.

Boron got the approved proposal in under the wire. The Planning Commission had earlier decided that it would take action June 7 on whatever plan was the latest submitted, and the plans approved by the commission were submitted that day.

Planning Consultant Don Worthman recommended approval of the Boron proposal, and the commission passed it 8-0.

Cool jazz

Summertime is here and that means the bandsell on Main Street in downtown Northville is once again swinging to the sounds of the Northville High School Alumni Jazz band. Last Friday night was the first concert of the season and the weather was perfect for downtown strollers to make their way to the plaza and listen to the sweet sounds of the band. The music series is sponsored by the Northville Arts Commission.

Police investigate indecent exposures

Two indecent exposures were reported in the Northville community over the weekend, and each may be related to other cases in the area.

At about 7:40 p.m. Saturday, a female jogging on Sheldon near Five Mile saw a man drive up in a black Chevrolet Blazer with a red pinstripe, according to a Northville Township police report. The man pulled up next to her and exposed himself, then drove south down Sheldon, the report said.

A half hour before that incident, a Novi woman was the victim of an indecent exposure and gave the same vehicle description, the report said.

The Novi woman was sunbathing outside her home along Walled Lake at approximately 7:10 p.m. Saturday, when an unknown white male driving a Chevrolet Blazer stopped on the side of the road, got out of the vehicle and exposed himself to her, Novi police said.

The man, who she said was wearing no clothing whatsoever, was described as being approximately 6'0" tall and 180 pounds with long brown hair.

The woman said the man stood there smiling at her until she reached for a cordless telephone lying beside her to call police. At that point the man got back in his vehicle and left westbound on East Lake Drive toward Novi Road.

The second Northville incident over the weekend occurred at 3 p.m. Sunday on Concord Court in the city.

A Northville woman and a man were sunbathing on a deck when the woman saw another man walking quickly in front of the condo, a city police report said. He exposed himself and ran off.

That man was described as a thin white male, 5' 11", mid 20s, with dark brown hair and a beard, wearing blue and white striped shorts.

A call to the Northville police from the Washtenaw County Sheriff's Department suggested that the man may have been the same one who has been exposing himself in Salem Township and New Hudson at school bus stops and once in front of a party store. That suspect is believed to drive a light blue Sable or Taurus, the report said.

July Fourth plans falling into place

The Northville Jaycees are busy finalizing plans for the annual Independence Day celebration for the community — a celebration which will include the traditional parade, chicken barbecue and fireworks display.

This year's theme is "Michigan: Discover It," a sort of continuation of last year's sesquicentennial theme, Jaycee organizer Bob Cummings said.

The festivities start before the parade with the fourth annual "Satin Sheets" Bed Race sponsored by the Northville Community Recreation Department. Adult teams race their beds through the Northville business district for the fastest overall time. An award is also given for best decoration.

Entry fees are $25 for new teams or $15 for returning teams that still have their bed. The fee includes the bed frame, but teams are responsible for decorating their bed and putting the wheels on.

Community groups, subdivision associations, clubs and athletic teams may participate. All beds may participate in the parade immediately after the race. For more information call the Community Recreation Department at 349-0203.

Cummings said the parade is scheduled for 10 a.m. July 4, following the same route as last year's parade: from Northville Downs east on Beal to Griswold, north on Griswold to Main, west on Main to Rogers, south on Rogers to Cady, east on Cady to Wing, south on Wing to Fairbrook, then east on Fairbrook back to the track.

Although arrangements for the parade are not yet finalized, it may include a few different participants than in the past. "We have gotten a couple of different groups that are talking about coming in," Cummings said.

If anyone is interested in participating in the parade and has not received a letter from the Jaycees, the group may be contacted at P.O. Box 241, Northville.

There is no grand marshal yet for the parade, Cummings said, and the Jaycees are looking for suggestions. Grand marshal suggestions may also be submitted to the address above.

After the parade the scene will shift to the Mill Race Historical Village for the free chicken barbecue, scheduled from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. "Just walk up there and we serve you," Cummings said.

The day will close out with the fireworks display on the hill at Northville High School. The school board Monday approved the Jaycees' use of the facilities.

The Jaycees will again ask for donations to park. The group raised about $700 through these donations last year.

The fireworks are planned to begin at dusk, which is generally around 10 p.m., Cummings said.

More information about Fourth of July activities will be published as details are finalized.

School district joins new insurance pool

Better insurance coverage and potentially lower costs are the expected results of a new insurance program the Northville School Board decided to enter Monday night.

Instead of buying its insurance from a traditional commercial carrier, Corroon and Black, the school board voted to enter an insurance pool run through the Metropolitan Association for Improved School Legislation (MAISL), a coalition of nine western Wayne County school districts including Northville.

Under the MAISL plan, the schools are self-insured to a point, beyond which the group buys excess aggregate coverage for claims greater than $1.25 million.

In a memo to the board, Finance

Director John Street recommended entering the MAISL pool.

"Northville's share of this amount (of payment for coverage) plus all other administrative costs would be a little less than we currently pay for our insurance through Corroon and Black. The hope, of course, is that the pool's experience will not be so severe (as to have excess claims), leading to refunds in subsequent years. The point is that at worst we will about break even with the current premium cost," Street's memo reads in part.

In addition, "The coverage is superior to what we have," Street said at the board meeting Monday. "If there is some questionable portion of this pool arrangement, I haven't found it."

The school board approved joining the pool for three years on a 7-0 vote.

Other votes on the pool have been taken in other MAISL districts, and some votes are still upcoming. The other districts in MAISL are Dearborn, Garden City, Inkster, Livonia, Redford Union, Romulus, Taylor and Wayne-Westland.

Township OKs sewer agreement

By ANN E. WILLIS

Northville Township trustees passed a major hurdle last week when they voted unanimously to endorse the lease agreement between the Western Townships Utilities Authority (WTUA) and the Ypsilanti Community Utilities Authority (YCUA).

The agreement puts the Township and other members of the WTUA pact, on the road toward obtaining necessary sewage treatment capacity.

WTUA, composed of Northville, Plymouth and Canton Townships, had previously given its chairperson, Maurice Breen, the go-ahead to sign two contracts with the Ypsilanti Utility Authority. Before the contract can actually be signed, each member community has to approve that contract.

Breen said that Canton was voting on the contract during its June 14 meeting and that Plymouth was expected to vote on the matter at its next meeting — within the next two weeks. "I would be shocked if it was turned down," Breen said. In addition Ypsilanti and Ypsilanti Township must also approve the contract.

The agreement will be effective after endorsement by the member communities and after receipt from the DNR of a statement that plant expansion is permissible, and after WTUA has entered into agreements with its member communities that ensures WTUA will be able to meet its financial obligations to YCUA.

Once the agreement is formally signed and a discharge permit is approved by the DNR for construction of a WTUA outfall on to the Rouge River, the communities will go forward with engineering and design locations. Breen said he expects the permit to be approved by August or September.

The very "conservative" date being given by WTUA for hook-up to the Ypsilanti facility is 1993, Breen said.

There are two agreements between WTUA and the Ypsilanti facility. The first agreement gives WTUA certain rights to lease portions of the YCUA plant, and YCUA obtains rights to lease the new Rouge outfall from WTUA. The second agreement sets terms and conditions under which YCUA will treat wastewater delivered by WTUA.

The service agreement will grant the three WTUA communities a leasehold interest in its existing plant up to 8.7 million gallons per day of treatment capacity. As part of the lease agreement WTUA will pay a portion of YCUA's existing debt service on the plant.

The three WTUA communities will be assessed 25.4 percent of the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the plant on the date the agreement is signed, which will represent a lease for the plant.

As of this year, there is one bond issue outstanding with a payment of $969,562.50 and a second issue with an annual payment for 1988 of $144,762.50.

WTUA will have the right to participate in a plant expansion, and will have a 99 year lease on that portion of a plant expansion financed by WTUA. The expansion will increase WTUA's treatment capacity by 20 million gallons per day. WTUA in turn agrees to construct an outfall to the Rouge, which YCUA will lease for 99 years.

YCUA will treat up to 8.7 million gallons per day of WTUA wastewater, until the time the plant is expanded. WTUA agrees to tie into the YCUA system, and flow at least 1 million gallons per day by Jan. 1, 1993.

The agreement has a 40 year term and is automatically renewed at the time of plant expansion.

WTUA will bear all costs of transporting wastewater to YCUA and YCUA will bill WTUA for wastewater treatment services.

Thomas Cook, Township Clerk, noted that the cost to the township was still cheaper than the current mode of treatment, through the Detroit Wastewater Treatment Facility. "The two main elements of cost are operation and maintenance. We're now paying $5 per cubic foot to Wayne County. This cost will be mostly fixed — electricity will be the only fluctuation," Cook said.

"The operational rate is expected to be very comparable and we will be getting tertiary treatment (a higher quality of wastewater treatment) we'll be getting much more for the money," he added.

The rent on the plant would start five years from the effective date of the agreement, but no later than Jan. 1, 1993.

Diet Pills Sweeping U.S.

Doctors Invent 'Lazy Way' to Lose Weight

New 'Fat-Magnet' Diet Pill Gives You Steady Fat Loss

BEVERLY HILLS, CA (Special)—An amazing new weight loss pill called "fat-magnet" has recently been developed and perfected by two prominent doctors at a world famous hospital in Los Angeles that reportedly "guarantees" to help you steadily lose fat by simply taking their tested and proven new pill.

You Can "Eat Normally"
Best of all, "you can continue to eat all of your favorite foods as long as you don't increase your normal eating habits. You can start losing fat from the very first day, until you achieve the ideal weight you desire."

It is a totally new major scientific breakthrough for weight loss (worldwide patents pending).

Flushes Fat Out of Body

The new pill is appropriately called the "fat-magnet" pill because it breaks into thousands of particles, each acting like a tiny magnet, "attracting" and trapping many times its size in undigested fat particles from food that you have just eaten. Then, the trapped fat is naturally "flushed" right out of your body.

Within 2 days you should notice a change in the color of your stool, caused by the fat particles being eliminated.

"Pills Go To Work"

The fat-magnet pills alone, "automatically" help reduce calories by eliminating dietary fat, with no exercising. You simply take the pills with a glass of water before meals. However, you can lose weight "faster" if you choose to follow the fat-magnet diet plan along with the pills.

The fat-magnet pills are already sweeping the country with record sales and glowing reports of weight loss. It's a "lazy way" to lose weight for people who enjoy eating.

Now Available to Public

If you need to lose a large or small amount of weight, you can order your supply of these new highly successful fat-magnet pills and diet plan (now available from the doctor's exclusive manufacturer by mail or phone order only) by sending $20 for a 90 pill supply (+$2 handling), or $35 for a 180 pill supply (+$3 handling), cash, check or money order to: Fat-Magnet, 9016 Wilshire Blvd., Dept. # Year's rainfall is far below normal

The Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service is already being "flooded" with callers after what weather officials are calling the third driest May in history.

The dry season, and even drier start to June, has spurred several local communities, including Northville, to enact voluntary water conservation programs. Northville is currently asking for a voluntary lawn sprinkling scheduling program.

Rainfall monitoring stations at Detroit Metropolitan Airport registered less than an inch of rain during May. The 30-year average for May is usually 2.7 inches, according to Agriculture Department Analyst Anne Ordiway.

"What it means is that we are off to a very dry start to the season," she said.

Rainfall monitoring stations in Novi and Wixom registered slightly higher amounts of rainfall during May and early June, but were still far below normal levels.

Cooperative Extension Service Master Gardener Irene Pawlak said her office has been busy answering requests about a wide variety of tree and garden problems.

The biggest concern is with lawns and garden plants, she said.

Pawlak said residents should follow several guidelines when watering their lawns in the "drought conditions" with a limited amount of water:

Water during the nighttime hours, cutting down on the amount of water which will evaporate during watering. Or water with a hose by placing it at the base of the tree or plant. This keeps water from being released through the air.

Water for no more than 45 minutes at a time when watering on a daily basis. Watering for extended periods of time isn't absolutely necessary when water is limited.

Pay more attention to larger leafed plants since they will be the first to wilt.

Other common inquiries are about: Excessive amounts of seeding in certain maple trees. A lot of seeds ("helicopters") and few actual leaf buds are showing up on the limbs of the trees in the dry season.

Presence of "cottony maple scale," a small cluster resembling partially popped popcorn. It comes from insects feeding on the trees, mostly in silver maples.

Pawlak said residents can water the younger trees, but will most probably have to "wait it out" and hope for rain. Both conditions are related to the dry season. The trees produce more seeds because they think they are dying. Insects, in turn, attack the trees which are vulnerable.

"It skips around the county," she said. "They attack the trees which are under stress because of the dry conditions."

One inch of rainfall supplies 600 gallons of water to a 1,000 square foot surface. By the same token, it would take the average garden hose about three-and-a-half hours to supply that much water.

Good times

The crowds were out last Friday night when the Northville High School Alumni Jazz Band began their annual series of concerts at the Northville bandshell on Main Street. Above, a group enjoys the music as they sit on the curb in front of the bandshell.

Water supply low

addresses are asked to only use sprinklers on odd number days.

In addition, the city asks everyone not to use sprinklers during the peak water demand hours of 6 to 9 a.m. and 5 to 8 p.m. Walters said automatic sprinklers should be set for midnight to 6 a.m.

The city's request is only that, and there is no penalty for not following the plan. However, there could be if the problem gets worse, Walters said.

Township Supervisor George G. G. said Tuesday the township had asked for limiting water use yet. However, the North Beacon Woods and Hillcrest subdivisions in the township are served by the city's water system, so the city request applies to those areas.

It's a matter of supply. We don't have a water shortage problem in the Detroit area; we have a water distribution problem. They can't get it through the pipes fast enough," Walters explained.

Water pressure problems are worst in the north end of the city because that is the area served by the water tower, which the city is having trouble filling, Walters said. South of Baseline Road the water system is more directly tied to the Detroit water system.

"We haven't been able to feed the tower in some points, so that when we put the pumps on, we're sucking the line dry, literally," Walters said.

The Detroit system is continually trying to balance out water pressure among all its components, which becomes very tricky in dry, high-demand times, he added.

In addition, "The system is being taxed in terms of the number of hours of pump running per day," Walters continued, and added that pumps usually fail when they are most needed, making the problem even worse.

He concluded: "If we could just get a rain, it would make a world of difference."

Gitfiddler expansion plan wins preliminary approval

By BOB NEEDHAM

The city Planning Commission last week awarded preliminary approval to a plan to expand the Gitfiddler music store on Main Street, but delayed final approval until two issues are further examined.

The commission asked to see more detail on stormwater drainage on the site, and also encouraged Gitfiddler owner Tom Rice to work on a plan to improve the area in front of the store into a small "urban plaza."

The commission gave preliminary approval to a plan for a two-story addition to the rear of the Gitfiddler on Main Street. The first floor will be for office, display and repair space, while the second floor will be studio space, Rice said.

"Our lesson program has gone beyond our building. We now need more room," Rice told the commission.

The plan's biggest question mentioned in consultants' reviews and commission discussion concerned water drainage, although Planning Consultant Don Wortman suggested other minor improvements to the site in his formal review.

But in addition to those questions, the commission discussed the idea of putting improvements in front of the building such as plantings and benches.

"We believe that this area offers many opportunities for a small urban plaza. The addition of a small sitting area, concrete pavers, streetscape and landscaping would provide an amenity to the city as well as improve the value of the owner's property," Wortman's review states.

City Manager Steve Walters said at the meeting that the Gitfiddler could participate in the city program for benches and tree fences downtown, in which the city supplies the equipment which is paid for by private donors.

"I think the opportunity is there," Wortman said at the meeting. "I think the issue is who is going to pay for it."

Rice said he would certainly like to see the area in front of the store improved, but questioned if he should have to pay for the work. He compared the area to the small plaza at the northwest corner of Main and Hutton, near Getzie's Pub. The city owns that plaza.

"I feel we're talking about two different issues," Rice said, the expansion plan and the urban plaza.

John Hardin moved to table consideration of the plan, but the motion failed 6-1 with Hardin the only yes vote. A motion to grant preliminary approval, with final approval held in abeyance until the drainage and urban plaza questions are examined further, passed 6-1 with Hardin dissenting. Greg Presley, a commission member who is also the architect of the plan, abstained from both votes.

"I'd be more than happy to come back with a revised design on the plaza," Presley said.

Cemetery discussed

Goss said this week that a more cooperative solution may be in the works. The two, along with city Mayor Chris Johnson and Township Manager Steve Brock, have met about the issue and plan to meet again, Goss said.

Walters and Goss said police jurisdiction — whether the city or township is responsible for the cemetery — is a key point. If that can be resolved, an annexation attempt could be avoided.

"I would guess with the court settlement that (a resolution of the issue) would be pursued," Walters said Monday. He said the City Council might take up the issue soon.

"We're looking at alternatives, some type of a cooperative agreement," Goss said Tuesday. "We're very hopeful that something will be worked out between the two communities."

Rural Hill Cemetery is located south of Fairbrook (Seven Mile) and west of Sheldon. Although more than half of the cemetery is within the township, the only access is through the city.

Yahne returns for distinguished alum honor

By ANITA CRONE

When Carol Yahne was salutatorian at Northville High School, she said she was looking forward to attending the University of Michigan and becoming a teacher.

More than 20 years later, Yahne, now sporting a new first name, a new hometown, a new family, new goals and three degrees — including a doctorate, will be back in Northville, back at a new high school, and addressing a graduating class far different than the one at the school in 1965.

Yahne, who graduated from Northville High School in 1965, is this year's distinguished alumna.

Since leaving Northville, Yahne earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan, spent a year teaching at Laguna Acoma High School in New Mexico, gained a master's degree in counseling from the University of New Mexico and followed that up, in 1984, with a doctorate in counseling psychology, also from UNM.

Carol Yahne

"When I graduated from Ann Arbor, I fully intended to teach in the inner city, in Detroit," said Yahne from her home in Albuquerque. "But I had this professor, Lemuel Johnson, an English teacher. When I told him about my goal, he said, 'you don't want to teach in Detroit. You want to teach at a reservation.' So I applied, got that job and there I was, about 50 miles from Albuquerque. I was so young then."

Although Yahne may have been young in years, she was old in her experiences.

Her father, Charles, was the Spanish teacher at Northville High School, and her mother, Hannah Mary, is a Christian Science practitioner.

"Both of them had a very strong impact on me. From my father, I learned to be open to the cross cultural experience — to be able to live, not just to be a tourist — in other cultures, as well as fluency in Spanish," said Yahne. "From my mother, I learned about living in a non-traditional role."

Her parents said that they did not raise Carol any differently than they did her older brother, William, now an attorney. But Mary Yahne related that Carol always set worthy goals for herself.

"I remember her playing in the band, and, in her freshman year, the band went to Ann Arbor for band day. She came home and said she wanted to attend the University of Michigan," related Mary Yahne. "The only thing I said was that U-M only took the best students. From then on, Carol really hit the books, studying and giving up some parties, just to get to Ann Arbor."

Mary Yahne said that it was while Carol was in New Mexico that she changed her name to Carolina, pronounced Car-o-leen-a. "Because she is living in an area with a heavy Hispanic influence, she thought that it would be easier to relate if she had a Spanish name. But while she was in Northville, her name was Carol."

Carolina is not the only one who answers to a different name. Hannah

Mary said that while she lived in Detroit, she went by Hannah. But since moving to Northville, everyone has called her Mary.

Carol Yahne said that even though she grew up in Northville, she felt very welcome at Laguna Acoma High School, even though she and most of the other faculty were not of Native American descent.

"I think, if anything, I was a little naive. In Northville, I really wasn't that exposed to another culture, but I did have a chance to be an exchange student with Youth For Understanding while still in high school, so I had had some cross cultural experiences," she said.

While she noted she was not yet sure what she will convey to the Class of 1988 at Northville High School, she does want to stress the idea of living with other cultures.

"You know, most white Americans regard Native Americans as a homogeneous people. They aren't, any more than white Americans are homogeneous."

While she said she has learned from all of her experiences, one of the hardest tasks she faced was what she referred to as a "collapse of a cherished assumption" when her first marriage ended in divorce. Yahne has since remarried and inherited two step children. "I had to learn to adapt, and, since in my psychology practice, I like to work with step-parents and their partners, I had practice."

Her biggest rite of passage, she notes, was gaining her certification in psychology.

Now, she says, she can do the things she wants to do: "I get to be an academic, a business woman and now, I'd like to be a well-known advocate of making psychology accessible to the general public. In a way, I'd like to translate it into easily understandable English."

"You know, when I first started college, I thought that I might want to be a translator at the United Nations. Somehow, the goal of translating psychology isn't that different."

Planners see first draft of new ordinance for decks

The city Planning Commission last week continued consideration of a new ordinance which would allow backyard decks on some homes which currently cannot legally have them.

Under current city regulations, decks cannot extend more than three feet into the required space between the rear of the house and the lot line. Therefore, a house with a 35-foot-deep back yard could only have a three-foot deck.

Building Official Joseph Attard has requested the commission to consider an ordinance which would allow decks in such situations, and at the Planning Commission meeting last week Planning Consultant Don Wortman presented a first draft of an ordinance which would change the requirements.

Under the first draft, decks would be allowed up to 20 feet from the rear property line. Although the commission did not discuss the draft in depth, Rolland Stapleton — a planning commissioner and member of the Board of Zoning Appeals, which has been hearing many requests for variances to build decks — suggested that the 20 foot requirement would allow huge decks in some cases.

After initial discussion, commissioners agreed that the first step should be to define decks in the ordinance so the city knows exactly what it is permitting. Wortman agreed to work up a definition for inclusion in the draft ordinance and review at a future Planning Commission meeting.

Oh, hello, there! Perhaps you're wondering what a penguin like me is doing on a SEMTA bus. Actually, I'm just looking down from my window on all the traffic while I take the easy way to work and back.

Personally, I don't see how people who drive themselves to work have any energy left after dealing with all that stop and go down there. For my part, I prescribe taking SEMTA twice daily to relieve the pain of commuting.

I read my paper while one of the best drivers in Southeastern Michigan takes me where I want to go. SEMTA takes me shopping, to Greenfield Village and other fun places, too. It's

Slice of Northville, 1927 found preserved on film

By BOB NEEDHAM

If you got in the mall a five-minute home movie from someone you've never met, you might not think it was too interesting. But that may be because you don't often think of home movies as being made in 1927.

The City of Northville got such a package in the mail recently, and the city employees didn't realize what they had until they saw it.

What they had was a priceless piece of Northville history preserved on film, and before long, a transfer to videotape will make the experience available to everyone.

The package came from Illinois residents Lee and Sarah Jenne. Sarah Jenne's family used to live on the southwest corner of Haggerty and Seven Mile Road in Northville Township, her letter stated, and her father had taken this short movie of a parade honoring Northville's centennial.

City Manager Steve Walters said when the package arrived, everyone assumed it was probably some celebration connected with the 100th anniversary of the adoption of the village charter, which would have dated the film around 1967.

"Then we showed the thing, and we saw these old Packards parked around. It just hit us: This can't be 1967," Walters said.

Walters ventured to the Northville Public Library to try to figure out when exactly the film was taken. Looking at old microfilm copies of the Northville Record, he concluded — from specific descriptions of parade preparations and the actual event — that the film depicted a celebration of the centennial of Northville's settlement in 1827 and that the movie was taken the weekend of Aug. 25 and 26, 1927.

That made it a little more special. The film had its public premiere at a recent dinner to honor city employees, and was then sent off to be copied. "It's not very practical to show it very often," Walters said.

Once the copying is finished, the film will be transferred onto a videotape for the Northville Public Library for the public to check out and see.

Walters recommends reading page one of the microfilmed Record issues at the library before viewing the film. Starting in June, 1927, the old papers tell all about the extensive preparations for the parade and colorfully describe the actual event in the Sept. 2 issue, Walters said.

The festivities included a barbecue and street dancing, and one of the issues of the day was a street paving program. "It's like nothing's new. It's like all the stuff we're doing is just what we did back then," Walters noted.

The film actually shows the parade three times, from a view looking down Main Street, from Dunlap down Center, and coming around an unidentified corner.

"The buildings are fairly readily identifiable," Walters said. For example, the Schrader's Home Furnishings buildings are shown with their original facades, now being restored, he said.

The parade includes a Ford Motor Company band, supposedly world-famous; a Conestoga wagon and other vehicles from Henry Ford's History of Transportation exhibition; a column of Native Americans; a Stinson airplane being towed backwards with the wings off; and a variety of floats including a "Story of Progress" float from the old Maybury Sanitarium starring William Maybury himself, Walters said.

The film ends with shots of people standing at an airfield, Walters said.

"It is fascinating to see how much of the development we have now is there and doesn't look a whole lot different," Walters concluded.

Benefits OK'd for clericals

A new schedule of benefits for 40 clerical workers in the Northville School District was approved by the Board of Education Monday night.

The agreement covers the only group of school district employees not involved in collective bargaining, and includes positions like lunchroom supervisor, secretaries for buildings and administrators, library aides and clerk / typists.

The agreement is good for only one year, 1988-89.

The new benefits include raises between 5 and 7 percent, money being made available for job-related professional development, Easter Monday becoming a paid holiday, and others.

Hourly wages for the clerical workers range from a minimum of $7.06 to a maximum of $13.19.

The school board approved the new schedule of benefits 7-0.

a feasibility study, and one was chosen. A famous designer — Taizo Miaki, the presentation designer of the Ontario Science Center — agreed to work on the shrine.

Then the group started raising money. Or, rather, they started to try.

They didn't do very well.

"It would have been magnificent down there in helping those communities out," Baylis said. But no one contributed, and the project was not going to move ahead without money.

"I don't want this thing to die, because it should go up. It has to go up somewhere. And if it doesn't go up in Michigan, I will see that it goes up somewhere in the country," he said. "Somebody will grab it."

In February, Baylis moved to Northville. So now his focus has changed, and he hopes to see the shrine somewhere along the M-14 corridor, specifically, near Northville and Plymouth.

On the surface, this looks like an ideal location to Baylis. There is easy access to Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum, making combination visits an attractive draw for potential tourists.

Some of the little money available to Heritage America is currently funding a trip around the country for a Native American who is contacting all the tribes to get their opinions on the idea. After that, a logical next step would be a national gathering of tribes, Baylis said.

"It would be a political mess getting an agreement on what the cultural content of the shrine should be," he said. Thankfully, he added, the MCIA wants to take on that part of the project.

Eventually, the vision is for total Native American control of the shrine, including ownership through shares and management of operations.

Lately, Baylis has been looking for some reaction to his plan. Canadian officials support the idea, and he has the backing of the Michigan Commission on Indian Affairs (MCIA). Now he's looking for a response from the local communities.

"It's a natural setting; there's plenty of land out there. The big issue is: is this what the people of Northville and Plymouth want? I don't know," he said. "And I think their wishes have to be taken into consideration."

Specifically, Baylis would like to see the local communities pay for a feasibility study on the project. If it becomes reality, the area will see a lot more visitors and business, he said.

"What does the City of Northville want? Do they want tourist traffic?" he asked. "I can just see them thinking of all the cheap trinkets coming over from Korea and Taiwan — and that's a definite no-no. Everything connected with the shrine has to be dignified and authentic."

"It's pretty important to get the communities together on what they want and don't want in here," Baylis said.

"It takes time to sit down and talk

School officials get new contract

The building administrators and the school board in the Northville School District have agreed on a new three-year contract.

The Northville Association of School Administrators — made up of principals, assistant principals and supervisors — approved the new pact Friday, and the Board of Education approved it Monday. The contract runs from July 1, 1988 through June 30, 1991.

Assistant Superintendent Burton Knighton told the school board Monday that Northville's salaries were slightly below the median of area districts for school principals and significantly below the median for assistant principals. The new contract includes a two-year equity adjustment for assistant principals of 2.5 percent.

The contract also institutes longevity pay for the administrators, who Knighton said have been the only bargaining unit in the district without it. Under the contract administrators will get $250 for each five years of service as a building administrator in the district. During the second year of the contract the amount goes up to $500 for each five years.

In addition, the contract increases the responsibility level of elementary school principals, provides for regular annual increases between 5 and 7 percent, and makes several other improvements.

"This is a significant improvement for building administrators. It's one we feel is long overdue to provide internal equity and external equity," Knighton told the board.

Superintendent George Bell agreed, "We think it's a good package and well deserved by the individuals involved."

The new contract passed the board 7-0 with no discussion.

Commander honored

Commander of the Northville Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4012, H.W. Butch Hubbard, has been named an All-State Commander by the VFW Department of Michigan, according to John Harrow, Commander.

The awards are issued annually to selected commanders of VFW posts in Michigan. To be eligible the Post and its commander must fulfill specific requirements, including membership growth, community service, youth activities, support safety, anti-drug and cancer research, visits to hospitalized veterans and help to organize and participate in patriotic functions.

"I am deeply grateful for the honor of having been selected an All-State Commander. I thank all the members and the Ladies' Auxiliary for their support during the past ten months. This recognition truly belongs to them," Hubbard, a Vietnam veteran said.

The last time the Northville VFW had an All-State commander was 18 years ago when William Widmaier — a World War II veteran, was cited.

to people. I'll talk to anybody about it," he said. Anyone interested can call him at 347-2987.

Baylis said part of the inspiration for his efforts is the philosophy of the Native Americans, and its closeness to his own beliefs.

"They never took more than they needed. And, really, they didn't have any wars between them until the white man came along. That's a part of the Indian that I think the world should see," Baylis said. "It just seems like something that should be, whether here or somewhere else."

Huron Valley Hospital's Physicians Referral Program.

Because some things just can't wait.

One of the most important parts of good health is a regular checkup, for everyone, not just the kids. If it's been "too long" since someone in your family has seen a doctor, no matter the reason, you can do something now. Maybe just a little reminder and a gentle nudge are all it will take. But perhaps some help finding the right doctor will be necessary. If that's the case, let Huron Valley Hospital's no charge Physicians Referral Program go to work for your family.

As close as the phone, our health care professionals are ready to listen and help. They understand all the reasons for needing a referral — new in town, doctor has retired; never had a doctor; just not comfortable with this doctor. Whatever the reason, whatever the need, the Huron Valley Hospital's Physicians Referral Program can help your family find the right doctors.

Ask us about office hours and locations. Give us your preference for male or female doctors. Do you want a Family Practice physician? Do you need a specialist? Huron Valley Hospital has more than 300 physicians on staff. Our doctors are located here in the community and throughout Oakland, Livingston and Wayne Counties. We'll find just the right doctor for you. And when we do, you'll have the comfort of knowing that if hospitalization is ever necessary, you'll stay in the neighborhood, because you, your family and your doctor are all part of the same Huron Valley Hospital family.

Please phone 360-3300, extension 3450, weekdays between 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

Our Opinions

Position deserves community support

The insistence by the Northville Board of Education at least to consider partially funding the Northville High School Student Assistance Coordinator position is a good move.

In the nine months Charles Stilec has held the grant-funded position, he has helped hundreds of high school students and their parents become aware of the dangers of substance abuse, awakening the community to the problem.

No one is disputing the need for such a position. Questions arise over who should pay for it.

The decision by the board to make up the difference between any monies garnered through grants and the cost of funding the position, is an attempt by the board to recognize its responsibility to help in solving the problem of substance abuse. But it also has left the door open to the community to pay its share.

The Student Assistance Coordinator works directly with high school students, and directly with professional staff (administrators, teachers and counselors) at the middle school level. The schools do have a responsibility to the community.

EDUCATION

But the community also has a responsibility to the schools. Funding for the position should not be only a school district function. And if the position cannot be completely funded through grants, then it should be up to the community to pick up at least some of the slack.

As Jay Dunkerley pointed out, money the school district pays toward Stilec's position is money that cannot be spent for something else. It is a question, like most funding issues are, of priorities.

By directing that funding for the Student Assistance Coordinator be included in the 1988-89 budget, the school board has said that it considers the position a priority. It is hoped the community at large also considers the job a priority and will make sure the funding is there.

Cooperation resolves planning disagreement

After several months of Planning Commission appearances and behind-the-scenes discussion, a plan to remodel part of the Gas & Go station at Taft and Eight Mile was approved last week.

The station is going to convert the old car bays into a sort of convenience store. That, in itself, did not cause any real disagreement.

But that corner is something of a sore point in the city. It's a dangerous corner, and the city's traffic study recommended closing two of the four driveways at the gas station to help the situation.

Planning commissioners and other officials did not want to see the plan approved without the driveways being closed. Boron Oil, which owns the station, refused, saying that closing two driveways would ruin traffic flow on the site. Impasse.

Things were deadlocked for quite a while. Eventually, though, a compromise was reached: close one driveway, on Eight Mile, and redirect traffic flow. The plan easily won approval.

This was good to see. The city and the company and the traffic consultant all worked together to resolve what appeared to be an irreconcilable difference.

Everybody won in this issue. The intersection will be safer, the gas station will (probably) be more profitable. Congratulations all around on turning a somewhat unfriendly disagreement into a positive change.

Northville Players fill void in community

We were very happy to learn that a group of local theater enthusiasts have organized a community theater troupe, the Northville Players.

This has been a gap in the community for a while. A theater group is one of the things that really makes a community, and Northville has been without one for far too long. Novi has one, Plymouth has one, Farmington has one, and so on. Such groups are a great way for a community to come together, both in working on the production and in enjoying the results.

Of course, Northville already has an excellent sense of community. But still, this group is something we need, and we hope it receives the support it deserves.

The first production is "The Farmer's Daughter." There are two performances scheduled, and plenty of tickets available for the show at 8 p.m. next Wednesday.

We wish the best of luck — er, that is, "break a leg" — to the Northville Players. Their efforts can only make Northville an even better place to be.

Letters welcome

The Northville Record welcomes Letters to the Editor. We ask, however, that they be issue oriented, confined to 500 words and that they contain the signature, address and telephone number of the writer. Names will be withheld on request, but a brief explanation of why the request is being made should accompany the letter. Deadline for submission is 3:30 Monday p.m.. We reserve the right to edit letters for brevity, clarity and libel.

Hope and sweat

By Ann Willis

Drought and pestilence, drought and pestilence.

Scenes from a garden: "It's the driest spring I've ever seen," man in shorts says to woman covered in dirt. "Ayup," she replies. "Nothing but dust. They say there's a thirty percent chance of rain tonight," he says squinting at the sky. "Ayup," the woman says, grunting as she carries two buckets of water toward her withering crops.

Scenes from a New England farming town? Two worn veterans of the fight to feed the masses, engaged in yet another cruel twist of fate by Mother Nature? No. Two simple suburban gardeners engaged in the futile struggle to bring life to baby tomato plants.

Gardening I had been told is a great easer of stress. It is a way to get out from under the cares of business — away from the desk, the office — out into the sunshine and fresh breezes. Dirty hands and clean hearts would be ours, I thought when the Three Musketeers, Bob and Brenda and I decided to plant a vegetable garden in the Northville Community Garden Plot.

I have changed our nickname. The Three Stooges may be more correct.

Drought and pestilence, drought and pestilence.

After waiting well past the Memorial Day planting deadline to find a few hours when all three of us were available to put the tender plants and seeds into the ground, we picked an afternoon of blazing sun and high humidity. We were joined by Brenda's roommate who didn't want to miss the fun, two furry dogs and an ice chest that proved to be worth its weight in gold.

By 6:30 p.m. we were sunburned, our backs hurt and the dogs had retreated to the shade under a car. The ice chest was empty. But the plants — and our dreams were in the ground. "Godspeed," we shouted to the growing plants through parched lips as we left the plot.

Two days later we were back. The ground lay cracked and dry before us. The tomato plants, perky when planted, lay limply upon the ground. "Water," they screamed, "water."

Brenda leaned over the sorry row. "Bugs!" she screamed, leaping to her feet and running 10 yards from the nearest plant. The cry shook us to the core. It took real strength of character for Bob, Brenda and I to find sticks to brush the nasty beetles from the plants. If nothing else, this garden has taught us to remain strong in the face of great adversity. In a mere two days our visions of salads crisp with fresh vegetables have died like dust beneath our feet. As I walked from the water spigot, a mere 30 miles from our plot, carrying bucket after bucket of water I began to understand why grocery stores sell vegetables.

We have rallied. Through the heat we have carried buckets of water to care for our plants. We do battle with the tomato beetle with the very newest in "safe" chemicals. We do not even hesitate when it comes to brushing the tenacious bugs from our plants. We have matured. Our conversation is no longer dotted with questions about the newest movies or where to go for lunch. "Have you heard the weather?" we ask each other anxiously each morning. "I heard there's a chance of rain tonight," the reply comes back. "We can only hope," we say nodding, older and wiser for our experience.

Pestilence and drought, pestilence and drought. We counter with hope and sweat, hope and sweat. To the victor will go the vegetables.

After the fact.

By Phil Jerome

It's contest day here at the paper.

Actually, we have three contest days per year. We always enter the NNA (National Newspaper Association) and SNA (Suburban Newspapers Association) contests as well as the MPA (Michigan Press Association) contest.

It's tough to win in the NNA and the SNA, although we've managed to win some national awards four years in a row now — including some national recognition in the prestigious "general excellence" category.

The SNA is particularly tough because we have to compete against weeklies and dailies with 100,000-plus circulation. I remember with pride the year one of our feature stories won a national award ahead of a feature from one of those big papers. It took us a total of about five hours to complete our story — start to finish. The paper we beat assigned one reporter to work on nothing else for two consecutive weeks.

The biggie, however, is the MPA contest. The contest in which we compete only with other newspapers in the state... newspapers which have approximately the same sized staffs and circulation as we do.

And the MPA is what we're doing today. Trying to decide what the enter. What were our best editorials? What was our best feature story? Which were our best sports sections? What do we have to enter in the spot news reporting category.

After the decisions are made, we begin ripping apart papers to prepare the entries for submittal. The office is a mess. Pages of various editions are scattered around the room.

I could write a book about the psychology of entering newspaper contests. You've got to figure out who the judges are and what they'll like. Neatness counts. Visual impact counts. It may be a great feature story, but if it's not presented attractively you can forget it. Maybe I will write that book someday.

But not now. I've got a contest to enter. See ya next week.

VFW thanks community for support

To the Editor:
On behalf of the Veterans of Foreign Wars No. 4012, American Legion No. 147 and their auxiliaries, we wish to thank the community of Northville for joining us in honoring the memory of our departed comrades on this most recent Memorial Day. We wish to thank all of you for your support.

To all participants — it was an honor to have your enthusiasm and help. We were happy to have, especially, Senator Robert Geake, our Grand Marshall; Reverend Lloyd Brasure, Parade Chaplain; Alicia Holbrook, Betty Flanders, Northville High School Band, Knights Templar, Civil Air Patrol, Brownies, Girl Scouts, Cubs, Boy Scouts, Wreath Carriers, Community Leaders, Law Officers, Fire Fighters and Veterans Organization from other communities, including State and District V.F.W. Officers and Color Guard.

A special thank you to Casterline Funeral Home for once again providing ice cream for all and to Guernsey Dairy for distributing it.

We would also like to thank Ann Willis and the entire staff of The Northville Record for the wonderful coverage of our Parade and Memorial Remembrances.

Thank you to Paul Smith of Northville for volunteering to video tape the entire day for Omnicom.

We could not have done it Without aid from you.

We visited Maryland
And met teams from all places
Our fun was made possible
By your generous donations.

Reporter missed

To the Editor:
I was sorry to read a farewell article written by Anita Crone, the Record staff reporter. Her articles were always informative and most importantly incredibly accurate. Having attended numerous public meetings, I was always amazed at the factual accounts of those meetings that appeared in articles written by Ms. Crone. It is rare in today's media to find a journalist capable of such precision and insight. She had an uncanny ability to zero in on significant and notable comments made on pertinent issues. The Northville Record and this community has lost a superb reporter.

Dave Ryzyi

Move the lounge

To the Editor:
I have read your interesting article in the Northville Record on smoking in the Northville High School. I believe that the high school should have that "lounge" because it is outside and out of reach of the non-smokers inside. But I also agree with Senator Robert Geake about the bill that does not allow teachers, students, faculty, or anybody else for that matter within one hundred (100) feet of the school grounds. So in conclusion, I believe the "lounge" should be one hundred feet from the school grounds.

Jordan Brunage, 11,
Amerman 5th Grade Student

Keep the area

To the Editor:
My teacher, Mrs. Holmberg, had us read the editorial about dropping the smoking area in the Northville High School. I don't think they should, because if they do the people who smoke will smoke in the hall or in the bathrooms. Then the students who want to use the bathroom would have to hold their breath because if the students breathe it too much they could get lung cancer themselves. So I think that Senator Robert Geake's bill should not be passed.

Lindsay Ferguson

Pass Geake bill

To the Editor:
Last week my teacher, Mrs. Holmberg, read your article to the class. I'm against smoking by teachers and students because teachers might smoke and then go back to their classroom and smell like smoke then the kids smell the smoke and get addicted to nicotine. So I'm against smoking in the schools and I think Senator Geake should pass the law.

Becky Rouhan

Editor's Note: Cheryl Holmberg's fifth grade class at Amerman Elementary School concluded a study of newspapers recently. When discussing editorials they used the Northville Record as a reference. The students were required to write a letter to the editor expressing their views. The Record received 28 letters. The above was a sampling of the student opinions.

Looking back on assistance program

This is another in a continuing series of columns written for The Record by Charles Stillec, Northville High School Student Assistance Program Coordinator

Since being welcomed onboard in mid-November 1987 the goal of educating and helping to make aware the entire community — including the school, around the issues of high risk students and families many of whom are involved with substance use and abuse, has been implemented with the support of the community, the school administration and staff as well as many many students. We have begun a process in Northville of "getting well" by opening up our minds to the crisis many of our families face and seeking positive alternatives for healthy change.

Student Assistance needs community recovery. A student assistance program results in the process of recovering individuals, systems and a community from the effects of alcohol and other drug abuse.

What the program has done so far is to educate and share with community groups, be available to anyone who has questions or concerns, run in-school groups for education about substance abuse issues, run an in-school group for students returning from treatment, work with students from alcohol or drug abusing homes, run a parent support group where parents who are experiencing stress around the issues of substance abuse can turn for help, work with individual staff in the schools to implement classes and programs to impart and intervene in the problem of substance abuse, teach classes on signs and symptoms of substance abuse as well as throughout the schools and community support the concept of a drug free environment.

The time has come to take student assistance seriously. The support has been positive and overwhelming for a program which truly identifies and intervenes on a wide range of personal problems that are interfering with the learning or social development of students. Some of these factors are:

- Economically disadvantaged youth.
- Children of a drug or alcohol abuser.
- Youth who are a victim of physical, sexual or psychological abuse.
- Youth with a record of violence or juvenile delinquency.
- Youth who have experienced mental health problems.
- Youth who have attempted suicide.

• Students experiencing academic and/or attendance problems (potential dropouts).

Historically both schools and treatment programs will react to problems presented by students and clients through either disciplinary or treatment services. These include school suspensions and expulsions or referrals to outside treatment resources. Gaps often exist between services provided by these two groups and often there is a lack of communication between the schools and the clinic.

The Student Assistance Program can provide the "continuum of care" which can be preventative in nature and which serves as a cooperative bridge between school based and clinically based services for "at risk" adolescents.

Personally this placement at Northville High School has been extremely gratifying because kids and families are getting help and being identified. It's often a painful process and could not be happening without the support of a caring community, school administration, staff, students and families.

In closing, one of the students whose life has been impacted by the Student Assistance Program wanted to share some of her feelings. She and I hope that the spirit of this letter will help others.

"The main reason that I got into this program was because I needed to learn to say no to drugs and alcohol. I used them before myself, and wanted to avoid using them again. I might drink once in a while but I won't do any drugs anymore. I learned about the program through a friend. After talking to her about the program, I soon became interested.

"The program made me realize that I'm not the only teenager with problems. After talking to him, it made me feel better because I never expressed those feelings that I had before. The program not only helped me with drugs and alcohol, but also with my own problems. Just being there in the group and listening to the students talking helped me.

"Most of the students are concerned for each other and try to help them solve their problem. Our last meeting was on Thursday, June 2. I wish that we could still meet on every Thursday (even during the summer), I'm going to miss it. I think the program is helpful to the students at Northville High School.

"I hope that next year, more Northville High School students could obtain information about this program because many students don't know about it and they need the help. I like the program and I hope that it will continue at Northville High School next year so that others will be able to receive help."

For further questions or help you can call these people at these numbers. I highly recommend each one.

Wayne voters to face millage in August

Wayne County voters will be asked to renew the county's 1-mill general operating tax in the Aug. 2 primary — two years before the tax expires.

The tax raises an estimated $30.4 million each year, according to the county office of management and budget. It expires in 1990.

County Commissioners voted to put the issue on the Aug. 2 primary ballot to avoid having to call a special election next year.

"If we don't do it now, we'll have to do it next year and that will cost money," said commissioner Susan Heintz, R-Northville Township.

Commissioners are still debating whether to seek a new tax of up to 2 mills to add jail space and anti-crime programs, though it is doubtful the tax increase proposal will also appear on the primary ballot.

The general operating tax finances county services, including the jail, juvenile court, public and mental health programs, parks and recreation, job training, senior citizen services and health care for needy county residents.

The general operating tax translates to $37.50 a year for people living in residences with a market value of $75,000.

The tax was last renewed during the 1984 state primary. In a change, commissioners seek 10-year approval this time.

Commissioners have long conceded that the 1-mill levy was inadequate to relieve crowded conditions at the county jail.

They tabled, however, a proposal from commissioner George Cushingberry, D-Detroit, that would ask voters for 2 additional mills for "the construction and operation of jail and juvenile justice facilities and for related criminal justice purposes."

Commissioners generally decided against a jail tax recommendation until the county's ad hoc task force on jail space files its report.

The report is due Sept. 15, commission chairman Arthur Carter, D-Detroit, said, giving commissioners time to place the tax increase proposal on the Nov. 8 presidential election ballot.

Carter suggested he would meet individually with other commissioners to discuss the proposal.

Commissioner Bernard Kilpatrick, D-Detroit, suggested a 1-mill jail tax, but withdrew his motion after Cushingberry said it would take at least $36 million in new taxes to finance proposed anti-crime programs.

As drafted by Cushingberry, the proposal would boost county mental health programs as well as increase jail space.

The issue was referred, without endorsement, from the commission's Committee on Health and Human Services, where it will return.

Planners OK a plan for existing building

It's not often that the Northville Planning Commission finds itself voting on a plan for a project which already exists, but that's what happened last week.

The city's building inspector recently discovered that a small apartment building on Taft Road contained four units, when the city had only approved the complex for three units. So the owners of the building — who thought they could have up to five units in the project — had to return to the city for approval.

Co-owner Linda Laitila told the Planning Commission Tuesday, June 7 that she and her husband bought the property in 1982, when there were only three apartments. But they understood from the owner and from plans for the building that five units could be built, so they added one, she explained.

Reviews by Don Wortman, the city's planning consultant, and McNelly & Lincoln Associates, consulting engineers, showed no serious problems with the fourth unit meeting city regulations. The project still meets most requirements, the reports said, except that part of the parking area should be regraded and paved and that a nearby house and garage should be better maintained.

With those two items as conditions, the Planning Commission approved the plan 7-0. Commission member Greg Presley represented the Laitilas before the commission and abstained from the vote.

Raphael's sets specials

Chez Raphael has a plan to make Monday dinners like nothing you've ever known before.

The celebrated Novi restaurant will debut a series of bimonthly feature dinners on Monday, June 20 at 7 p.m. Each dinner in the series will focus on a culinary specialty or incorporate a seasonal or cultural theme.

"Like most things in life, the first time is a very special occasion," Matre d'Hotel Achille Bianchi said. "On this occasion, we will be formally introducing our new Chef d'Cuisine, Ed Janos."

Janos, who recently accepted the position as Chez Raphael's Executive Chef, formerly ran the kitchen of Detroit's Money Tree Restaurant. He will use the June 20 event to showcase the culinary themes he will cover during the series' initial months.

Reservations for the June 20 series premier which will feature live entertainment, champagne, wine and an elaborate six-course gourmet meal, may be made by calling Chez Raphael at 348-5555. Seating for the $75 per person affair is limited, so early reservations are recommended.

Chez Raphael is located at 27000 E. Sheraton Drive, adjacent to the Sheraton Oaks Hotel in Novi.

Century-old store back in business in Salem Village

By KAY FAHEY

Step back in time.

Walk past the petunias blooming on the porch, turn the worn brass handle, and step through the weather-beaten door of The Store.

Locate at 9607 Six Mile, directly across from the township hall in the heart of Salem, The Store is a bit of local history come to life.

The building, erected on land first deeded by President Andrew Jackson in 1831, was completed in 1876. It has been used continuously ever since as a store and a gathering place for the Salem community.

Around the turn of the century, the area behind the building was used as a recreation area, according to owners Maryann and Jerry Klump. During Prohibition, the store property also housed a speakeasy, the Klumps said.

Vestiges of the original store still may be seen. "We exposed the brickwork and lathing at the back of the store to show people how it was built," reported Maryann.

The basement, built of Michigan field stone, still contains the old water cistern. The basement is now used to store paper products and returned soda cans.

The original four posts recently were re-installed on the front porch. Oak shelving and decorative work on a side wall also are original. A ceiling fan of undetermined age supplements the air conditioner. "That old fan works better than any new one," Maryann said.

The "antique" theme is even continued in the cooler, which was built by Jerry Klump from 100-year-old barn timbers. But the contents of the cooler are strictly modern. "We have nothing but ice-cold drinks. You can't buy a warm beer here," said Jerry Klump.

Aside from cold sodas and beer, the store carries wine coolers and dairy products. Snacks, candy, newspapers, canned goods, lunch

Business Briefs

GARY J. WISE of Northville has been promoted to senior art director at Ross Roy, Inc., advertising agency. The promotion was announced by Jack Frakes, executive vice president and executive creative director.

As senior art director, Wise creates television and print advertising for Ross Roy's major clients. Before joining Ross Roy as an art director in 1986, Wise worked four years at Bozell, Jacobs, Kenyon, and Eckhardt in the same capacity.

He holds a bachelor's degree from the Center for Creative Studies. A native of Detroit, he and his wife reside in Northville.

OFFICE ANSWER, a new telephone answering service, is now available to businesses and residents in Novi and surrounding areas.

Kay Crouse, owner and operator of the Toledo, Ohio-based franchise, stated that she can provide a remarkably low cost professional telephone answering service using a patented custom system with professionally trained receptionists.

Many subscribers to this service have found improved results in their business sales and professional image, said Crouse. Other services offered by Office Answer include secretarial, word processing, facsimiles, invoicing, mail receiving with private suite numbers, resume services, UPS shipping and photo copying.

Office Answer is located in the Cedar Ridge Plaza at 42240 Grand River, across from Marty Feldman Chevrolet in Novi.

REAL ESTATE ONE President Richard Elsea has announced the merger of the Durbin company's West Bloomfield sales staff with Real Estate One. The sales associates, many with 10-15 years experience, have relocated to Real Estate One's West Bloomfield Branch office at 4312 Orchard Lake Road.

During the announcement to the staff Mel Durbin said he had investigated several real estate firms, and found that Real Estate One has the best sales and marketing programs, an experienced support staff and unlimited career opportunities.

Real Estate One also announced the appointment of Fran Mirsky as Sales Manager of the West Bloomfield Office. Mirsky has been associated with Durbin for over 14 years and has a successful record in both sales and management.

DAVID B. HENSCH

DAVID B. HENSCH of Novi has been promoted by National Bank of Detroit to second vice president of its Michigan Banking Division.

Hensch, who joined NBD in 1982 after serving as a branch manager for an area savings-and-loan organization, is a commercial loan officer in the Michigan division.

A native of Grand Rapids, he holds a BA degree in Economics from Aquinas College and a MBA degree in Finance from Michigan State University.

JOHN MIUTZ of Novi has joined D'Arcy Masius Benton & Bowles/Bloomfield Hills (DMB&B/BH) as an account executive. The announcement was made by Mark Gjovik, senior vice president management supervisor.

At DMB&B/BH, Miutz, 31, will be working on the Pontiac Motor Division account. Previously, he was an account executive at Ross Roy, Inc.

Miutz earned a bachelor of arts degree in Marketing from Western Michigan University and a master of science degree in Advertising from Northwestern University.

DMB&B/BH, Inc., is the world's seventh largest full service advertising and communications company with 1987 billings of $2.5 billion. It has 49 offices in 45 cities in 27 countries and employs more than 5,000 people.

Enterprising couple restores old grocery

meats and tobacco are among the wares for sale.

In addition, ready-to-eat items such as sandwiches, ice-cream bars and freshly-popped popcorn are available. "We make most of our sales from cold pop, then beer, and then general groceries," Maryann noted.

"Most wholesalers won't deal with small businesses, so we have to buy most of our grocery items at warehouses. I do a lot of comparison shopping in order to keep our prices competitive," Maryann said.

The shop is tightly stocked, and Maryann said she hopes to someday have more space.

In spite of the difficulties, the Klumps enjoy their business. "The part I like best is talking to the people. Everybody knows everybody," Maryann said.

The Klumps said most of their customers, as well as their six part-time employees, come from the Salem area. The store is also patronized by the employees of the local industry and by people on their way to Whitmore Lake, or people who play golf at a nearby course.

The steady stream of customers is almost universally friendly and eager to exchange pleasantries. Many welcomed Maryann and asked about her health. "I was out of the store for over five months after a skiing accident," she explained.

"I do a lot of comparison shopping in order to keep our prices competitive."

— Maryann Klump

A nursing administrator for several years, Maryann left her profession to manage The Store after her husband bought the building for years ago.

"I was burned out (in nursing administration.) I always liked to see and I ran all kinds of projects at the hospital. My idea of a store was boutique, but this is what I got," she laughed.

The Klumps cleaned and restocked the store and built the cooler. Maryann also instituted a policy, decorating for upcoming holidays and displaying antiques for sale in the front windows.

In addition, the Klumps slightly expanded the hours of operation. The Store is open Monday through Saturday from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sunday from 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. If you are the Salem neighborhood, the Klump welcome you to stop by. Step back time to a slower, perhaps more friendly, era.

If you don't keep their names alive, who will?

An invitation to place the name of a member of your family who immigrated to America in the only national museum created to honor them.

Whether your ancestors first set foot on American soil at Ellis Island, or entered through another gateway, here is a unique opportunity to show your gratitude. And to present your family with a gift that will be meaningful now and for generations to come.

When you make a $100 contribution to restore Ellis Island, the name you designate will be permanently placed on the newly created American Immigrant Wall of Honor. You can choose the name of an ancestor or just your own family name. And you'll receive an Official Certificate of Registration. To register additional names, list each name and country of origin on a separate sheet. And remember, there is a minimum gift of $100 for each.

Please send your contribution today. By acting now you assure that the Ellis Island Immigration Museum will be a place to honor your own heritage, as well as a monument to the great American traditions of freedom, hope and opportunity.

She wasn't born with these distinctive markings.

They were man made.
By a man who burned her face and back with lit cigarettes, then threw her into the air, letting her fall to the ground until she bled from the nose and mouth.
A man who did it all for the pleasure of hearing her screams of pain.

We know it's a hard story to read. It's a hard story to tell. Abuse cases always are. In this case, the abuse of a defenseless eight week old kitten named Gracie.

And as long as cases of such inconceivable cruelty exist, the Michigan Humane Society (MHS) will be there to combat them through animal rescue, cruelty investigation and prosecution.

But waging this kind of war against animal abuse takes money. Lots of it. When you give to the MHS during "Be Kind To Animals Week," or at any other time, you're helping to stop tragic situations like Gracie's from happening.

Your money helps the MHS continue its mission to put an end to animal cruelty, to further the rights of animals, and to take aggressive action against people who wrong them.

It's contributions like yours that have already helped Gracie. For the past three months she's been under the care of the MHS veterinary staff at our downtown shelter, and will soon be ready for adoption.

The man who abused her is being brought to trial on three counts of animal cruelty. If convicted he could be imprisoned for up to three months and/or fined up to $500.

So please give generously to the Michigan Humane Society.
Your donation, no matter how small, helps. And that help could stop other people from leaving their marks on defenseless animals.

my daddy...

He's a teacher, a football player, a listener, a soccer coach and a provider. He's strong, caring, witty and wise. He fixes toys, mends broken hearts and shares potato chips and candy. That special guy is Dad.

He holds our hands when we are scared, he watches television with us, he helps us with our homework, he gives us treats when Mom isn't looking and he encourages us to do our best in everything we attempt. He plans fun-filled vacations, takes us shopping or camping and even though he isn't perfect, he comes pretty darn close. He's always there when we need him... he's our Dad.

These heart-warming tidbits were taken from letters sent by area children in response to our first Father's Day Letter Contest. We asked kids of all ages to tell us what made their dads special. Although the responses varied, all of the children agreed on one conclusion - their dad was "The Best Dad In The World."

We received a whopping 143 letters from Northville and Novi kids and were faced with the extremely difficult task of choosing the best ones. Featured below are just a few of our selections. Inside this section are more letters and the names of all who entered the contest. We graciously thank all of the children who took the time to share their thoughts and experiences with us. And, Dad, Happy Father's Day.

Dear Sir,
My dad is a real whitt guy he doesn't keep me from doing anything he knows is
"in".
My dad also wants the best for my sisters and I.
My first fight game was just now, three years from the day out
He is a great dad.
Sincerely,
Kristen Minke

I Like when my dad plays soccer with me. Because I always win. I like when my dad throws me in the pool and swings me on the swing.

Why I Like my Dad
I Like my dad for a lot of reasons. There are three reasons why.
I like my dad because he took a day off of work.
So my mom could take a day off and go with our class to Greenfield Village.
My dad baby sat six little kids. Wasn't that nice of my dad?

Another time he took me to a hockey game. The Red Wings won and I was glad for two reasons. One, he took me two, they won.

My dad is caring because when I was in the woods
I took a nasty spill and had to get stitches. He took me to the hospital to take care of me.

These are only three reasons why I like my dad.
But the most important thing is I love my dad.

A my daddy my daddy takes me for sled rides. He pulls fast.
He tells me and my bro stores. He reads us books.
He somtimes even buys me a treat. I love him.
my daddy
When we go camping
he lets us roast marshmelos. Yuck he catches spiders. When were at a play ground he puts me high on a swing. He watches me slide down
the slid.
He's a good paster. That makes him special. I sure do like my dad!

B My Dad Is The Best
He Takes Me Out To Break Fast
ON SATURDAY MORNINGS AND He Gives Time To Play With me And My Siblings. When Its my BIRTHDAY HE Takes Just Me Into Town And Buys Me Cookies Candy And Flowers. In The Winter
He Takes Us To His Work When It Is Chilly-mas Vacation from School.
He lets us get candy and cookies from the Candy Truck. We are going on an Indian Princess campout. We are going to go swimming and maybe fishing and boating.
My dad is special because he loves us. This is a picture of me riding a horse with Indian Princesses

H The one who yells with all his might
The one who looks you flying your kite.
He's the one you love
very much,
My heart feels secure with his touch.

I love my dad very so,
For only he understands what I know.
He is a super special man,
But he can't even cook with a pan.

I LUU you
STACEY

G My Dad makes me feel special. He talks to me a lot. He helps me get ready for school. He makes my breakfast and gets my lunch. He also comes my hair. He makes sure I get to my bus stop safely. He walks to the edge of our driveway and watches me run to the bus stop.
That shows me he cares. He plays pretend with me. He lets me pretend when I want to. My dad to me is the best dad in the whole world.
Jennifer

F My dad is a Think distinguished guy! I is a he just might be a little superior over everybody else's dad. Well over right. He may not be Superman. Ok, he is quite amazing like all dads, but anyway Happy
Dad!!

C All about my dad
My dad is nice. I Love my dad. He has a lot of friends.
Me and my dad beat up. It is fun. Sometimes my dad gets in trouble. My dad likes suburbs.
We have a suburban vacation we take it. He wants a cabin. He wants a cabin cheap.

J My dad is a pretty special guy when he's in a good mood which is most of the time. When he gets in a bad mood, look out. I really find a place to retreat to. I hate when he's in a bad mood because of something I did or my sister did. His looks would make my parakeet fall off his perch, or make my dog howl when he zells at us kids

My dad does things with me like fly all sports, he helps me build things like skateboard ramps and even helps with my homework. My father always places his kids first on his list, and I'm grateful for that.

H Dad lets my sister and I do anything we want to as long as it's legal and before 8:30 p.m. on school nights.
I hate another reason I like him so much because he trusts us kids and we trust him.

I would not trade my dad for anything else. He is just plain cool. He really knows what's happening. I really don't know how he knows so much. I love my dad more than anything in the world. That's the truth, that's one thing I wouldn't lie about Sincerely,
Marc Moran

of Northville High School; Jennifer Klausler, Jordan Brun, Jessica Zajac and Tommy Pump of Amerman School; front row — Nicholas McMahon of Silver Springs; Georgette Vlangos of Winchester and Rana Adawi of Meads Mill. Not pictured but a part of the Amerman group chosen were Jeannette Woodward, Alexis Raney, Eric VanNest and Milt Jacoby.

Once a week students with the best manners and clean-up skills in the lunchroom at Winchester Elementary School have been getting a special treat. Pizza, courtesy of the Northville Domino's Pizza store. Principal Kathy Morhous noted that the incentive has made the students more conscientious about

"Marketplace" opening at Methodist Church

The First United Methodist Church of Northville will sponsor an International Marketplace on its premises June 28, 29, and 30. This vacation Bible school is open to all youths below middle school grades in the surrounding areas, including Northville, Novi, Farmington Hills, Canton, South Lyon, Plymouth, etc. Families need not be members of the church to attend.

Last year's Vacation Bible School drew 250 area youths for the 29 A.D. Marketplace. This year's studies will again be held out of doors on the church grounds. Tents will be scattered around the lawn and will symbolize the homes of families from 10 different countries.

Church leaders and seminar directors Tricia Hopkins and Kay Rankin hope to convey the message that a child's color, language, customs, clothes and nationality may be different but that they have the same basic wants and family love worldwide. Pre-school coordinator Karen Bonnell and Kathy Arenz will assist with the program.

Registration for the Marketplace will be held at the church located at the corner of Taft and Eight Mile roads, this Saturday, June 18 from 10 a.m.-noon. Parents may also register children by phoning 349-1144.

A registration fee of $3 will be charged for each current pre-schooler, $6 for elementary students — with the total cost for any family not to exceed $12. Pre-schoolers will attend from 9:30 a.m.-11:30 a.m. and elementary children will attend from 9:30 a.m.-1 p.m. Lunch will be available from 11:45 a.m.-12:30 p.m. followed by games of the various countries.

The countries to be "visited" include Mexico, Japan, Samoa, Korea, Africa, Italy, Sweden and India.

The children will learn of life in those countries through songs, crafts, games, dance, stories and food.

Daily, the children will learn about family life in other countries from 9:30-9:50 a.m. The children will be taught one native greeting, display pictures of homes and the countryside, show maps and learn some of the native customs. A short worship in the church's sanctuary follows to pursue the thought that God is worldwide.

The Marketplace follows from 10:15-11:45 a.m. where crafts will be made, some native foods tasted and music from other countries explored.

Support Group seminar planned

"Understanding Our Loss" is the topic for the June 28 meeting of the Women's Divorce Support Group. Sponsored by Schoolcraft College Women's Resource Center, the session is from 7-9 p.m. in the Lower

Jacqueline Brown, Educator and Trainer, will assist participants to identify their feelings in terms of the grief process.

The group provides a forum to share experiences, feelings, information and successes for women who are contemplating or in the process of separation or divorce.

Local children send letters of love to Dad

Letters to Dad:

"I like my Daddy because he takes me to zoos and circuses and he shares gum with me. When I get something from a cereal box he helps me put it together. I like my Daddy because he reads to me — sometimes not all the time. He takes me to parks and pushes me on the swings. I like him because when he gets a can of pop he lets me have some. I like him because he watches TV with me and when Mommy is gone he gives me gum and candy. I like him because he scares my big brother."

"I like him because he has curly hair and I like him because he lets me use his chapstick."

"When I was a baby and I was crying he made me stop by patting me on the back. My Daddy has brown eyes and neat clothes and I like my Daddy because he wrestles with me. I love him very much."

Jill Kruggel, 6, Northville

"My Dad's the Best!"

"How many fathers do you think would get married to a woman with three adopted children and learn to love them as if they were his own? Well, I have only met one; and he is my special Dad, William B. Planth."

"My dad, Bill Planth, is a pharmacist and the assistant manager of Perry Drugs in Livonia. In August of 1985, my mom and dad were married, so we have lived with him as a family for three years now. My mom was very honest with my dad, telling him that there might be some difficulty about him coming into our lives. Yet a year later he loved us, and we loved him enough to go to court and have him adopt us, so that way he was our real Dad instead of our step-dad."

"He has the patience to listen and counsel us, and he has the heart of a teddy bear to comfort us. Sara, Tim, and I, his three children, have been through so much in the past years as we faced problems of getting used to the fact of having a new Dad. My dad knew that, and yet, understanding problems would occur, he was willing to help us through each day."

"These are some of the many reasons why I think my dad is the best! I love my dad very much and I think he should get a lot of credit for everything he has done."

Julie Plath, 14, Northville

"There are many reasons why my Dad is special. One of them is that he's fair to me. If I clean my room every day, he'll help me on my paper route. If I walk the dog every day, he'll give me my allowance."

"Another reason Dad is special is that he loves everyone in our family. He helps us with our homework, buys us clothes or other items if we need them, and plans exciting vacations for our family. There are many more reasons, but the best one is that he loves me."

Joe Lang, 13, Northville

"I know that my dad is very

Marcia Obremski, Maria Kostrach and Chris Harrington.

special. Every day after work he comes in whistling, and smiling even if he has had a rough day at the office. My dad is tall, strong, and my mom thinks he is cute.

"He helps me out, all the time, especially when I don't understand something. I know that he cares about my family, and the way he flashes his smile at me, brings happiness and joy wherever he goes."

Courtney Gazlay, Northville.

"Dear Dad,

"I would like to thank you for all the help and good memories you've given me, like when you coached my soccer team, and all the players stunk. You didn't give up, you cheered us on. When I put off my homework till the last minute, you would stay up, and help me finish it all without saying how wrong I was. You are always there when I needed you."

Ian Switalski, 12, Northville.

"How do you spell dad? I spell it MOM. My parents have divorced each other for six years now. Through these six years my mom has given me a good share of love that a mother and father would give me combined. She is all the things a good father should be. Those values that my mother has possessed have benefitted me in my everyday life. My mother is a counselor for when she listens to the problems that occur to me and discusses solutions. She is a dietician to provide adequate nourishment, a judge to listen to cases and pass out sentences, and a physician to diagnose illnesses. Mom is a recreation director when she plans family fun, and a teacher to instruct me in everyday activities. I love you for everything you have done for me mom, or should I say dad."

Ardeshir Forouhar, 13, Novi.

"I like my dad because he plays baseball and soccer with me. Once when I was seven he gave me a count of seven to get in bed. Otherwise he would say the tickling hands would come out. Then he tickled me."

Brian Fischer, 8, Novi.

"I have a favorite father and guess who that is? It's you, Dad, you are nice, kind, and loving. When I do something wrong, you just yell once and then tell me to sit on the stairs to calm myself down. You are a teacher, and when I don't understand something in English you help me."

"You take me places all the time like this year we went to Florida. I hope you like me as much as I like you."

James McAskin, 14, Northville.

"Dad's a great guy... My Dad is sweet, My Dad is kind, He always gives me piece of mind. My Dad is witty, My Dad is sharp, He wears no wings, he plays no harp. He's not an angel, I hope you can see. But he's just as great as Dads can be."

Susan Bright, 12, Novi.

"My mother and my sister and I came from Japan on April 26, 1988. My father came to America in January. He prepared our house and prepared us for American school."

"He helps me with my school work like English and math and Japanese. He showed me how to build a bookcase."

"My father took me to Iwate, on vacation. When I was in fourth grade, he bought me a 5-speed bicycle for my birthday. So my father helps my family. So I like him very much."

Takuma Hatori, 13, Northville.

"Dear Dad, I'm writing to tell you you're a great guy. I love you and appreciate your support. I know someday I'll be moving on in my life, but I will not forget the many lessons in life you've taught me."

"We don't always get along, but I suppose this is because we are two very different people. We both still need each other."

"So dad I'm wishing you the best possible Father's Day ever."

Amy Stringer, 13, Northville.

"Dear Dad,

"You are very, very special. You launch rockets with us. You take us out to eat. You come down to the pond with us. Dad, you are great!! We all love you."

Jonathon Townsley, 7, Novi.

"It's been just over 19 years since we first met — and boy was it love at first sight! From that moment on, everyone knew that I was his girl. I adored him, and I must say he adored me."

"Although he is a lot older, we still enjoy the same things, like amusement parks, good books, fast cars and most of all — potato chips! We haven't had much time together these past few months because I've been away at college and he's been here at home. The distance may have kept us from seeing each other, but we made up for it in other ways. Ya know, like unscheduled calls at the office and little notes saying 'Hi. I love you!'"

"He's been great to me. He has always been there waiting patiently, ready to pick me up if I fell. More importantly, he has given me enough distance to do my own thing and be myself. But the best thing that has resulted from this long relationship is that I have gained a very special friend. Not many girls can say that about their dads."

"I love you Dad. Happy Father's Day!"

Jennifer Crocker, 19, Novi.

"Writing this is no bother since you are my one and only father. You help me all the time, rain or shine. You cheer me up when I am feeling down, you take away my frown. You help me a lot and with a lot of things, knowing I appreciate it. I know you are better than the rest because you are the best! Thanks again."

Robby Clark, 13, Northville.

"I would like to thank you for all the good times you have shown me. Though you get mad at me sometimes you are always there when I need you. I'm not saying you are perfect, but you are about as close as you can get."

Braden Robison, 13, Northville.

"My Dad is the best to me because he always fixes my stuff that my little brother breaks! I think my dad is the best one in the world (even if he yells at me sometimes). I had a father/daughter dance. He couldn't come. So he took me to Riffles another night to take place of the dance. So that's my favorite, special Dad."

Adriane Morobito, 9, Northville.

"There are four reasons that my dad is special. One is he coaches my soccer team and both times we won first place. Another reason is he bought me my dog. The third reason, he bought me Nintendo. The last reason, he let me keep my turtles and he doesn't really like them."

Dikran Ornekian, 9, Novi.

"My dad is kind and nice. He's loving and caring and he's especially sweet and I'm so very lucky that I have that dad. What's good about my dad is everything. He buys me things and he takes me to movies and the candy store, too."

Sherry Steele, Novi.

"My dad's not perfect — he's not a person who wins every time. He's not a councilman or a president. He's an artist and a building destructor. I like him because he's sporty. He's pretty talented. He can jump rope about 20 miles per hour. He's special because he's my one and only dad. He's not tall and he's short, he's rich."

Chip Lind, Novi.

"My father is very special to me. He is a carpenter. He built our screened-in porch. He takes me fishing at Kensington Park a lot too. My father was also in Vietnam. He has a bunch of slides he likes to show me about it. My sister loves his big hugs. He wrestles with us in the family room. A couple of days ago he bought us an ice cream. It was a real treat. He is always around for me."

Jennifer Bovair, 9, Novi.

"My dad has always played soccer with me and he lost all the time except one time. And he keeps on winning in football and I never win in football. My dad is special because he always plays sports with me."

Ron Reeves, 11, Novi.

"I like my dad because whenever he goes on trips he brings me with him. I wish my dad and me could go to France. I like my dad because he plays with me when I am bored. I think my dad is the best dad in the world. I would not want any other dad."

Jami Jackson, 9, Novi.

"My dad is neat. But there's one time I remember, it was when me and my dad made a mini car. It was fun. Then we tried it. The car kept flipping. We had fun even though it didn't work."

Robert Jackson, 6, Novi.

"I think my dad is special because he takes us golfing. I usually play two to three holes. My dad usually gets a par. After we go golfing we either go out to eat dinner or get ice cream. It is very, very fun golfing with my dad."

Stacy Ambroziak, 8, Northville.

"I think my dad is the best because one day my dad was going to Canada. I was going to stay home and do nothing. He asked me if I wanted to go. I liked that. One time me and my dad were watching TV before dinner. My dad let me have potato chips. But the best thing of all is I think my dad is the greatest."

Katie Bondy, 8, Northville.

"My dad is great because one time he took me and my cousin to play baseball. His arm was hurt but he still pitched good. He pitched so good that he struck me out two times in a row. Then my dad told me my hitting was very good."

Jason Mele, 8, Northville.

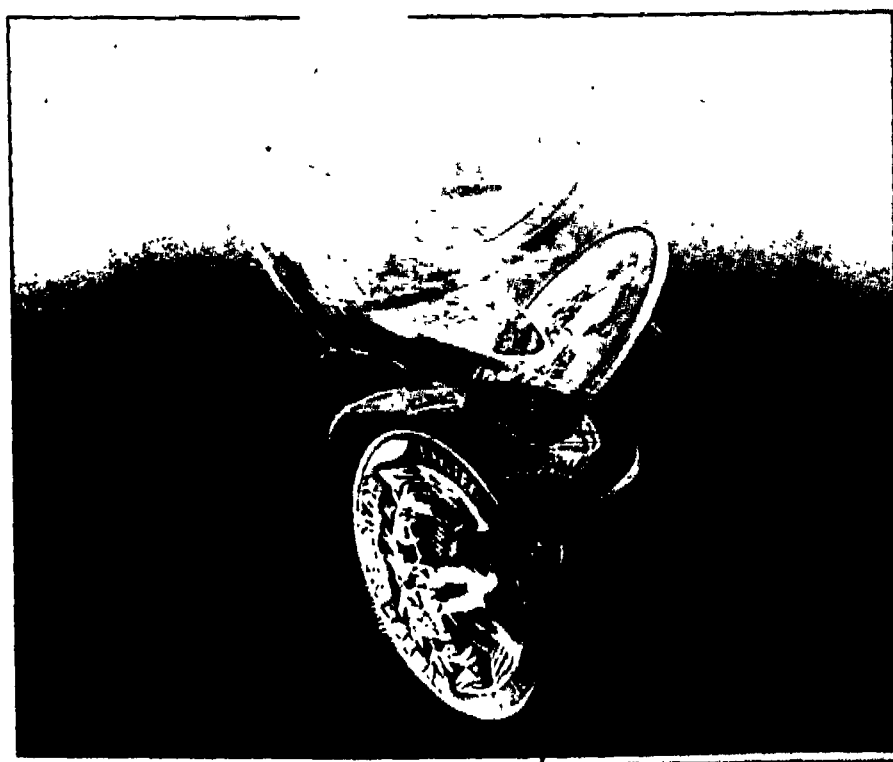

"My dad is a great guy because he gives me more than I ask for. One time I asked for a Nintendo game and he got me two. My dad is great because he does work around the house. He gives me a lot of money for doing small jobs. He is a great guy. But he forgets sometimes. Like the time we got gas for the car. As we were going to Lansing to pick up my sister from MSU, he forgot to close the top for the gas lid so we had to pull over. One small thing I did for him was when I helped him put up signs for his campaign to be councilman. He gave me a lot of money. He is president or chairman of our homeowners society. He's councilman and many other things too! He is the greatest father."

Joey Toth, 9, Novi.

"My dad is great because he is humorous. He is humorous because he makes Donald Duck imitations. My dad is nice because he helps me understand my homework. My dad is always there when I need him. I love my dad."

Phil Cowles, 8, Novi.

The Coe Rail depot in Walled Lake

Coe Rail is scenic railroad tour

A tiny white depot with blue trim is drawing a lot of visitors lately as curious spectators travel to Walled Lake to catch a ride on a vintage railroad known as Coe Rail.

As the colorful, rustic train departs from the small wooden depot and merrily chugs down the tracks, occupants of the historic railroad cars are transported into an era gone by. The passenger cars date back to 1917, the Milwaukee Road tap car — which serves as a refreshment car on the weekends — hails from 1947, and the baggage cars and box car saloon traveled their first miles in 1920.

Larry and Judy Coe are owners of the unique railroad located on Pontiac Trail, just north of Maple in Walled Lake, and have been offering the tourist train rides for four years.

Tours are available at 1 and again at 2:30 p.m. every Saturday and Sunday, when passengers are treated to a one-hour trip through commercial, state and federally-protected wetlands as well as a bird sanctuary in the West Bloomfield area.

During the ride through the countryside, tour guides provide a commentary on the history of railroading and, more specifically, on the Coe Rail itself. In addition, the train makes a stop at scenic Woodpecker Lake. Tickets are $4 for children; $5 for adults and $4 for senior citizens.

"It's quite an interesting, enjoyable ride," Coe commented.

Tours aboard the Coe Rail began April 16 and will be offered until the end of October. If heating in the cars is adequate, however, the Coes are considering special Christmas programs and rides.

The Coes also offer group rates and private train rentals. Judy Coe noted that the train is quite popular with school groups, which commonly visit the train on weekdays.

For an interesting alternative to run-of-the-mill birthday parties, the Coe Rail also is available for birthday celebrations. Coe explained that the birthday person is featured as the conductor of the train and is treated to a ride on the caboose. Magic tricks and a yo-yo show are a few extras offered on the train ride, he remarked.

The Coes became active in railroading in 1980, when federal laws allowed individual corporations to become active in the industry, Coe commented.

First the couple negotiated with Grand Trunk to buy the Coe Rail line, which was Grand Trunk's main line to Chicago, Larry Coe said. Then they bought railroad cars, cabooses and engines from other people involved in railroading. But the work wasn't finished yet. . . . Next the Coes began the time-consuming process of restoring and rebuilding the railroad cars.

The hard work paid off and it's immediately apparent that the Coes are proud of their railroad.

"The Milwaukee Road tap car is the only car of its kind being used in the U.S. — it's just got to be seen," Coe said.

Five days a week the Coe Rail switches roles and serves as a freight train. Regular customers include Haggerty Lumber, Marco Wood Products and American Plastic Toy, Coe explained.

"It's been a very busy year. I love it," he added, speaking about his involvement in the railroading industry.

Museum offers exhibit of yesterday's toys

outdoor toys from the past 100 years, now open at the Detroit Historical Museum.

"The exhibit features toys from the Detroit Historical Department's extensive — and beloved — toy collection," said Barry Dressel, director of the Detroit Historical Department. "The exhibit also includes toys from the internationally renowned collection of Lawrence Scripps Wilkinson. . . . Toys are always a sentimental favorite with our visitors. They have been so popular, in fact, that the department, in association with Mr. Wilkinson, plans to establish a permanent toy gallery in the Historical Museum late in the fall of 1989," Dressel said.

The exhibit is divided into four themed sections after the opening: "On the Go," featuring active toys that a child propels by pedaling, pushing or pulling; "Quiet Afternoons," featuring toys associated with solitary and quiet play such as a sandbox, metal battleship, and dolls; "Something to Play With," containing toys that require a playmate or a group; and "Let's Play . . ." featuring activities that do not require equipment, such as playing with the family pet.

In all, the exhibit features about 50 different toys.

The exhibit will be open until October. The Detroit Historical Museum is a Detroit Historical Department institution, located at 5401 Woodward at Kirby. It is open 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday. For more information call 669-1806.

All-area softball squad for 1988

The 1988 Sliger/Livingston East All-Area Softball team — shown above at McMartin's Jewelry in Milford — are certainly a glamorous bunch. We call them the "Queens of the Diamond" because they shined brightly all season. The first team (from left

Every team in the area sported a winning record and these players are the stars from those teams. We're sure you'll agree this group is solid gold.

Freimund, Dutkiewicz named to team

All five softball teams in the Sliger/Livingston East area sported winning records ... and it wasn't just a coincidence. Very talented players made the difference and there were certainly an abundance of them — as our 1988 All-Area Softball Squad can attest. Without further delay, here's the first team ...

FIRST TEAM

KELLY FORBIS, Lakeland, pitcher: This junior righthander was 26-6 for the Eagles, who tied Hartland for first place in the Kensington Valley Conference.

"Kelly, without a doubt, is our most valuable player," Coach Kent Griffiths said. "She's had two great years in a row. When you have a pitcher like her, you're automatically in every game no matter who you're playing."

A 5'-11" righthander, Forbis struck out 187 batters in 202 innings and recorded a 1.31 ERA. She allowed only 146 hits, 43 walks and 38 earned runs.

Offensively, the Eagles star posted a .212 average and eight extra-base hits — three doubles, four triples and one home run.

"She's outstanding," Griffiths added. "She throws hard, her control is good and she has an excellent changeup. Pitching is the key to softball and Kelly gives us an advantage over most teams."

AMY FREIMUND, Northville, pitcher: This junior had a whole arsenal of pitches and used them to become the most dominating hurler in the WLAA.

Her record on the season was a sparkling 13-3 with an even more impressive 1.23 ERA. She had five one-hitters during the season and allowed just one earned run in her final eight regular-season games.

In 97 innings of work, Freimund fanned 115 and walked only 36. Opposing hitters had a combined batting average of .140.

"Amy was on a mission this year and I don't think anybody can deny she had a fabulous season," Mustangs coach Bob Gerlach said. "The velocity of her pitches was good, but that's not really her strength. It was smartness.

"You don't see many girls throwing pitches like changeups and she wasn't afraid to throw it with a full count on a batter. She used a knuckle-curve and other unique pitches, and she seemed to do whatever she wanted with the batters."

Freimund also led Northville in hitting with a .349 average and a .509 on-base percentage.

SHEILA HATTON, South Lyon, catcher: This junior was South Lyon's defensive enforcer, both with her glove and powerful right arm.

"Sheila did a tremendous job behind the plate," Lions coach Amy Poljan said. "She calls a good game, and she instructs and leads very well. She also learned to handle low and outside pitches a lot better."

"But her real asset back there is her arm. She throws the ball hard and accurate, so she's able to keep the runners close. She really helps our infield."

Hatton picked off 23 runners and gunned down all but two would-be base stealers this season.

Offensively, she recorded a .318 batting average and .494 slugging percentage. She also totaled five doubles, three triples and 15 runs.

MICHELE BENNER, Lakeland, infielder: This senior shortstop led the area with a .402 batting average. She also collected nine doubles, four triples, one home run and 31 RBIs.

"There's not much Michele can't do," Coach Kent Griffiths said. "She has a great arm and she's a great hitter. Her hands are soft, too, so they give with the ball. She has a lot of tools that you can't teach a kid."

Benner, a four-year varsity player who was an outfielder as a freshman and a pitcher as a sophomore, struck out only four times in 112 official plate appearances. She also recorded 11 stolen bases, a .545 on-base average and a .608 slugging percentage.

Defensively, she handled 90 of 101 chances successfully.

"In my opinion, Michele is capable of playing college ball," Griffiths said. "She runs better than most people think and she can play almost anywhere in the field."

MICHELLE DAVIS, Milford, infielder: This senior was forced out of her normal first base position early in the season when the Redskins experienced problems on the left side of their infield.

"Mitch was a versatile player for us," Coach Chuck Verecke said. "We needed her to step in and do the job, and that's exactly what she did."

"The only problem is the moving back and forth between third and short(stop) seemed to affect her hitting. So we decided to put her at short and leave her there. It worked, too, because she came on offensively the second half of the season."

Davis hit .368 with 17 runs, six doubles, one triple and 22 RBIs. She made nine errors defensively.

KAREN GRACE, Lakeland, infielder: This powerful junior hit the ball harder and farther than any

LORI CARTER, Milford, pitcher: This hard-throwing senior rebounded from a dismal junior year to win 11 of 17 decisions and toss four no-hitters.

A righthander, Carter recorded a 3.65 ERA in 103 innings of work.

"Lori started a lot stronger than she finished, but she had some nagging injuries at the end of the season," Coach Chuck Verecke said.

"I'm amazed by her, though. She came a long way after what happened last year. A lot of kids would have hung it up, but Lori worked and worked in the off-season to correct her control problems."

LISA WALTERS, South Lyon, pitcher: This senior righthander, lost in Andrea Nelson's shadow a year ago, emerged as South Lyon's ace during the second half of the season en route to a 9-4 record.

"Lisa was a stable pitcher," Lions coach Amy Poljan said. "Her main pitch is the fastball, but her changeup came along real well. She also worked the corners better as the season went on."

The highlight of Walters' season came in late May at the prestigious Ann Arbor News Tournament. She led the Lions into the playoff round and was named to the all-tournament team.

Walters batted only 37 times, but hit .351 with one double and one triple. "I wish I would have had the insight to bat her more," Poljan said.

LISA MCCARTHY, Novi, catcher: McCarthy will go down as one of the most talented two-sport stars in Novi history.

In addition to excelling on the basketball court, this senior has been a premier catcher for years and this season she added pitching to her already long list of accomplishments.

Her batting average dipped a bit, but she was still above .300 and led the Wildcats in runs scored (36), walks (17) and on-base percentage (.511).

"Her average might have been down a little, but Lisa did a lot of great things for us," Coach John Peace said. "She stroked the ball well this year, but she didn't get many breaks. She may have been trying a little too hard as well."

"We used her as a pitcher quite a bit, and during the second half of the season, she was concentrating on that and I think it hurt her offensively."

McCarthy plans to attend Alma College next fall and will play both basketball and softball.

KAREN BAIRD, Northville, infielder: Baird can be described as a pure athlete. How many girls could step right in their first year playing high school softball and contribute heavily to a 17-9 squad?

Baird was a star midfielder for Northville's soccer team as a freshman and sophomore, but made the switch to softball her junior season.

"I think she is the best pure athlete on the team, but she still has a lot to learn," Coach Bob Gerlach said. "It's very difficult to step right in and play when you've never competed at this level. But she did a good job and really solidified our infield."

Baird, who has good range and a strong arm at shortstop, saved her big games for division opponents like Livonia Churchill (8-for-10, eight runs scored, three triples) and Farmington Harrison (6-for-9, five RBIs). She had an on-base percentage of .483 and was among team leaders in runs scored (25) and walks (22).

JEANINE LAPRAD, Northville, infielder: LaPrad made the switch from shortstop to second base this season, and the move worked.

The senior had a solid season, and as a result, is the only Northville player ever to garner WLAA All-Division honors at two different positions.

She batted .250 for the year, but had big numbers in key league games against Livonia Franklin, Plymouth Canton and Farmington Harrison (15-for-25 combined). LaPrad fanned just four times in 57 at-bats, had an on-base percentage of

.491, a slugging percentage of .642 and 10 RBIs.

"Jeanine made a sacrifice for the good of the team and she proved to be just as outstanding at second base," Coach Bob Gerlach said. "She's an outstanding fielder and she's always ready to play. She's ready the night before, especially the big games."

RENEE RUSS, Lakeland, infielder: This versatile senior hit .337, stole 19 bases and worked opposing pitchers for 30 walks.

"This is one kid we'll really miss," Coach Kent Griffiths said. "She does so many things that don't show up in the scorebook, like laying down a key bunt or playing out of position from time to time."

A second baseman last season, Russ spent most of the 1988 campaign at the hot corner. Her defensive statistics include 49 assists, 37 putouts and seven errors.

With the bat, she added four doubles, one triple, one home run, 29 runs, seven sacrifice hits, 10 RBIs and a .541 on-base average.

TINA WEISS, South Lyon, infielder: This junior third baseman has developed into one of the area's most powerful hitters. She accumulated seven doubles, three triples and two home runs this season en route to a .519 slugging percentage.

Canton 'knocks' kickers out of tourney

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Northville Soccer Coach Stan Smalec can probably sympathize with the way Thomas Hearn felt after he was knocked out by Iran Barkley in the world middleweight championship boxing match last week. Just minutes before the start of his team's MHSAA Class A State Tournament semifinal clash with Plymouth Salem in Okemos on June 4, Smalec was hit in the head by an errant soccer ball and knocked out cold.

Maybe it was a sign from above because several hours after being knocked out, Smalec's team was knocked out of the tournament by the Chiefs, 1-0.

"I was standing along the sidelines just before the start of the game," Smalec recalled. "Someone on our team was practicing corner kicks and I must have turned just right and it hit me in the side of the head. The lights actually went out — I saw them go out."

Smalec regained consciousness about a minute later but admits that he was "out of it for a good 10-to-15 minutes after that." Nobody can really be sure how much this affected the seventh-ranked Mustangs but the fact remains that Canton controlled the entire first half of play, scored the game's lone goal, and moved on to the state finals with the narrow victory.

"I think it had an impact on the kids performance, especially in the first half," Smalec admitted. "I hadn't even given them the starting line-up yet. I'm sure it was dissettling for them but I don't want to use it as an excuse. We were completely outplayed in the first half."

The Chiefs established control early and with Smalec still in a haze, defensive adjustments weren't carried out correctly. Canton got the break they needed just 14 minutes into the first half when a shot by Julie Stabnick came loose in front of the net and an unmarked Michelle Longrio kicked it past goaltender Kristi Turner.

"I suppose getting hit with the ball was an indication that we weren't very accurate on our corner kicks," Smalec laughed. "You don't know what impact it had, but it certainly wasn't good. It sure changed my coaching style for a while."

The Chiefs continued to dominate the play until halftime, but failed to score again. In the first 40 minutes, the Northville offense was almost non-existent. The Mustangs had four rushes down the field and just two shots on goal.

"(Canton) was in control," Smalec pointed out. "We didn't make the adjustments on defense like we should have. We couldn't get the ball out of our own end. Confusion reigned in the first 10 or 15 minutes but we were lucky to still be in the game at the half."

Things changes drastically in the second stanza, however. Northville carried out some adjustments and started to take control. By the end of the game, the shots on goal numbers were deadlocked at 11-11.

"It was like night and day," Smalec said. "We dominated the second half but we couldn't get a goal. We had some good chances but it just didn't happen. Even though, I think it's a tribute to the kids that they were able to pick themselves back up and come back the way they did."

The Mustangs came out and played some inspired soccer in the final 40 minutes and the leader was senior forward Heidi Wagner, according to Smalec, "she was all over the field." But Canton turned back every scoring chance and held Northville scoreless when the game was over.

ing threats Jennifer Schuerman and Jodi Smalec in check.

"I felt we should have been able to put it together offensively, and we came close, but Canton did a good job on defense."

Canton (16-2-1) was ranked fourth heading into the game, and one of the Chiefs' two defeats came against Northville on April 22. Ironically, the score of that first clash was also 1-0.

"When we scored the one goal against them in the regular season, it was on a mistake in front of the net," Smalec recalled. "When they scored Saturday, it was on a mistake in front of our net. I wish we could play the rubber game against Canton and get another chance, but it doesn't work that way."

The Mustangs ended another successful season with a 17-3-2 mark. Just like last season, two of Northville's defeats came against teams who advanced to the state finals.

"We've got to come out of this ranked third or fourth in the state," Smalec predicted. "We now have nearly 80 wins in the last three or four seasons, which means we are winning at an 80 percent rate, so needless to say I am very happy with the way we did this year."

Holzer falls 10-7 to Little Caesars

In the first clash of the LCBL favorites, Little Caesars outlasted Northville's Tom Holzer 10-7 on June 8 to take round one of what's guaranteed to be an exciting bout all season.

Caesars pounded the ball against Holzer starter Tom Cotter but Holzer actually outlasted his opponent 10-7 but left too many stranded runners, according to coach Bob Peterson.

Northville natives Scott Peterson and Paul Newitt each had two hits and an RBI each and Andy Fairman was 3-for-3 with a run batted in. Fairman recently signed on to play his college ball next fall at the University of Michigan. Keith Dutkiewicz chipped in with a two-run single.

TOM HOLZER 7, SOUTH LYON 6: Northville's entry in the LCBL got back on the winning track on June 10 with a close win over South Lyon.

Brett Loomis raised his season record to 2-0 by allowing just one run in nearly four innings of relief. Holzer came from behind and Newitt clouted a hit that drove in the winning run with one out in the bottom of the seventh inning.

Mike Salach started but was wild and gave up five runs, five walks and two hit batters before giving way to Loomis. Kevin Ritter had a bases loaded triple in the game while Scott Peterson, Andy Fairman and Keith Dutkiewicz also drove in runs.

TOM HOLZER 5-9, HINES PARK MERCURY 10-8: On June 12, Holzer split a twinbill with Hines Park.

In game one, Dan Hilliard was the starter and loser for Holzer as he walked 10 but allowed just four hits. Chris Sisler had two hits for Hines Park, including a solo home run. Andy Fariman and Bob Tatro both had two hits to lead Holzer.

In game two, Holzer rallied from a 6-0 deficit to win 9-8. Paul Newitt had a two-run single and Keith Dutkiewicz tripled in two runs to key the comeback. Newitt, Tatro and Tom Cotter added key hits later in the game to finally pull Holzer in front for good.

Greg Herman pitched three inning of scoreless relief and was awarded the victory.

Faletti turns around boys track program

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

First he turned around the attitudes, then he increased the work load and then he saw positive results.

That's basically what rookie boys track coach Dennis Faletti did for the Northville squad in a nut shell. The Mustangs rebounded from years of cellar-dwelling in the WLAA to register a season that wasn't an embarrassment. The team came on strong with two dual meet wins against Western Division opponents at the end of the regular season to notch an overall record of 4-5. Northville was 2-3 in the division standings — good for a third-place tie — and Faletti was pleased with the program's progress.

"I'm happy we turned it around," he said. "We had fun and almost everybody who came out for the team stuck it out and that's half the battle."

"Last year's team was probably more talented than this year's team but I think attitude made the difference. You have to work with the talent you have and all I'm trying to do is get the kids to perform to the best of their ability. If that happens, the wins will take care of themselves."

Four dual meet victories in one season is certainly a high-water mark in recent boys track history in Northville. In 1986 and 1987, the program combined for just two dual meet wins.

"I wanted to see improvements each meet and we did that," Faletti said. "I stress to the kids that I want 100 percent all the time and even if their times weren't great, I knew they were giving it their best effort."

The Mustangs needed some time early in the season to actually learn how to win, and several close dual meet losses slowed that process. The team's first three defeats came by a total of 17 points.

"You like to build that winning attitude right from the start but we lost a few close ones and that didn't help," Faletti said. "I think I was more disappointed than the kids were because they were used to losing a lot. Once we learned how to win, the confidence level skyrocketed."

Faletti moved a lot of his athletes around to various events, looking for the right spots and the right combinations. Some of the early season moves may have cost the team some points but it paid off big dividends later on.

"I looked at this year as a chance to install my coaching techniques and let everybody get used to me," Faletti said. "I think the kids coming into the program know they'll be successful and that's important because this program didn't have that before."

"This season we were very competitive with just about everybody and we earned respect for ourselves and the program. That's very important."

Losing senior standouts like John Frisbie, Rick Subotich, Steve Austin and Scott Sinkwitts will create some holes in the line-up but Faletti believes he has some youngsters with potential who can step right in and contribute next season. Now that he is familiar with the team, Faletti has informed all returnees where they will be used in the future so they can train accordingly in the off-season.

"Our seniors were a big part of the team but we have some youngsters that will hopefully pick up the slack," he said. "I'm optimistic for next year — if the underclass people keep improving, I think we'll be a pretty good team next year."

TEAM AWARDS: At the Mustang team banquet on June 7, senior John Frisbie was named the team's 'Most Valuable Performer.' The rest of the major award winners included: 'Most Improved in Field Events' to junior Shawn Starkweather; 'Most Improved in Running Events' to Cory Robinson; and Scholar Athletes Awards to Dave Smith, Starkweather, Carl Siegert and Scott Sinkwitts.

Tennessee hoop star has local connection

The son of a Northville-High School graduate is making quite a name for himself in prep basketball circles in Tennessee.

Dennis W. Moore recently signed a grant-in-aid to continue his basketball career at Western New Mexico University. He is the son of Lloyd Moore, who graduated from Northville High School in 1964.

A 6'8½" center, Moore led Oblon County Central High School in Troy, Tenn., in blocked shots and also was a team leader for the Panthers in rebounding during the 1987-88 campaign. He will play center at Western New Mexico, a NAIA school located in Silver City, New Mexico.

As a senior at Oblon County Central, Moore averaged 12 points, eight rebounds and 10 blocked shots per game. He also dished off an average of six assists per game. The Panthers were state champions of Tennessee during Moore's junior season.

Gerlach honored as Coach of Year

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Bob Gerlach is used to working the graveyard shift but when he decided to take over the Northville softball coaching post three seasons ago, he didn't realize what a gruesome task it would be to turn around the program.

Gerlach is a custodian and works the nightshift at Northville High School, but he is best known around town as the man who has brought about a complete turn around — a revitalization — of softball in the area.

When Gerlach took over the Mustang coaching reins in the spring of 1986, his new team sported just a few quality players and virtually no pitching prospects. In just three short seasons, Gerlach has overseen the resuscitation of a sickly program. He now has two of the best softball seasons in school history under his belt — not to mention the school's first ever division title and a new winning attitude. That's why he's been honored as the Sliger/Livingston East Coach of the Year for softball.

Gerlach has a rich background when it comes to playing ball. He was a member of the 1976 Eastern Michigan University baseball squad that advanced all the way to the College World Series and finished as the national runner-up. He played for legendary coach Ron Ostrick and was a pitching stablemate with big league star Bob Welch, who currently plays for the Oakland Athletics.

From 1982-84, Gerlach was an assistant baseball coach for the Northville varsity team and in July of '84, he was given the head coaching job. Unfortunately, work commitments interfered and he was forced to give up the post several months later before ever actually putting a team on the field. When the softball coaching job opened a couple years later, and work commitments didn't interfere, Gerlach jumped at another chance.

"I took it on as a challenge, plus I wanted to coach very badly," he admitted. "When I took over, we had no freshman program and no junior varsity coach — there was nothing."

His first season at the helm would have sobered any coach. Without any pitching, the Mustangs suffered through a miserable season that featured a total of three victories.

"We had some pure talent with players like (Chris) McGowan and (Sue) Schrader but our pitching was a mess," Gerlach said.

In the off-season, Northville native Amy Freimund returned from Australia ready to play and suddenly, Gerlach had the pitcher he'd been looking for. With quality underclassmen players like Jeanine LaPrad, Nanci Dutkiewicz, Cory Kincer and Kerri Bullin already in the picture, the addition of Freimund was the final piece of the puzzle.

In what can only be described as an amazing turn-around, Northville proceeded to win 15 games during the 1987 season — the most ever for a Mustang softball team.

"A few of the seniors we have now were on the '86 team that won only three games," Gerlach pointed out. "They wanted to win and they were hungry and look what happened. In one year, we went from one of the worst teams in school history to the best."

With most of the key performers returning this season, Gerlach was making bold predictions and challenging his team prior to the opener. He said the season would be a disappointment if the team didn't win its first Western Lakes Activities Athletic Association (WLAA) division crown and challenge for the WLAA conference title. Like champions, the squad responded to the pressure.

Northville cruised to the division crown with a 9-1 mark and just missed grabbing the conference title as well with a fine 13-3 record. The team's 17-9 overall mark was the best ever.

"We knew we could do it," Gerlach said. "We looked at ourselves, saw we had the talent and the desire so I challenged the team and put a little extra pressure on them. We wanted to win more games than the previous year, we wanted the division title and we wanted to challenge for the conference. They really came through."

Gerlach deflects most of the credit to his players and his staff. Pitching coach Frank Freimund, first base coach Hank Dutkiewicz, J.V. coach Joe Staknis and freshman coach Gail Trepicone are all on the list. But the biggest single event had to be Amy Freimund's appearance. She was 13-3 with a 1.23 earned run average in '88 with 115 strike out and only 36 walks. Opponents batted just .140 against her and she'll be back again next season. In addition, she led the team in hitting with a .349 average.

"Once we got Amy, I knew we could compete with anyone," Gerlach said. "She can pitch with the best of them."

With the setbacks of several years ago in the back of his mind and the successes of the past few seasons still vividly in focus, Gerlach is now thinking ahead to next spring. He will have another strong squad and is already talking about the challenges that lie ahead.

"The season went too quick," he said. "When your winning like we were, you don't want it to end. It makes all the hard work worthwhile because there is nothing more enjoyable than winning and having success."

"I still remember that first season very well and I don't want to go through that again."

All-area second team

"Tina has a nice swing, and she swings hard," Lions coach Amy Poljan said. "Once she learns to swing for base hits in certain situations and to not chase bad pitches, she'll be a complete hitter."

"Not that there's anything wrong with a .346 batting average," the coach added. "It's just that Tina has the potential to be an even better player. I think she's going to have a great senior year."

NICKI KASTEN, Novi, outfielder: Kasten put together a solid junior season for the Wildcats and continues to show a world of potential.

She batted .316 and led Novi with singles (37), plate appearances (117) and stolen bases (14).

"Nicki never did play junior varsity ball, so she is still learning," Coach John Peace said. "But there was always a wealth of talent. We're starting to tap it now."

"She can bunt for hits, she runs well and can pull the ball for power. Her fielding skills have improved tremendously and she's starting to get confident in her game. Before she was shy, but now she is developing by leaps and bounds. She can be an absolute star next season."

Kasten played in all 31 Novi games and was a fixture in left field. At the Wildcat post-season banquet, Kasten was named the team's Most Improved Player.

LYNN PEPERA, Lakeland, outfielder: This senior's most impressive statistic was a .481 batting average with runners in scoring position. Her clutch hitting resulted in 28 RBIs.

"Lynn always seemed to come through when we needed a big hit," Coach Kent Griffiths said. "I guess that's what being a senior is all about. She led by example."

Pepera finished the season with a .381 average, 27 runs, 19 stolen bases, five doubles, three triples, 16 walks and a .538 on-base percentage.

JENNY STEVENS, South Lyon, outfielder: This hard-hitting left and right fielder led the area with 32 RBIs and was second with a .433 batting average.

"Jenny put together a lot of big hits for us," Lions coach Amy Poljan said. "It seemed like everytime we won a game, Jenny would do something big. It's nice to have someone who will step forward in those tight situations."

Other key statistics for Stevens — who is only a junior — include a .608 slugging percentage, 21 runs, eight doubles, five triples and 13 walks.

Lakeland hurler Kelly Forbis named Player of Year

It was a common scene at Lakeland softball games this past season: Eagles pitcher Kelly Forbis walking off the field after retiring the opposition, finding a secluded seat and watching her teammates take their swings.

No emotion. No expression. Just concentration. "It's just the way I am. I have to be intense," said Forbis, this year's Sliger/Livingston East Softball Player of the Year.

"Being that way helps me in my pitching. A pitcher has to be in the game all of the time. But I'm like that in all of the sports I play... and even in school."

Forbis, a 5'-11" junior, excels in just about everything at Lakeland. She was a standout on the basketball and volleyball teams, and also carries a 4.0 grade point

As a softball player this spring, she won 26 of 32 decisions and had one save to lead the Eagles to a Kensington Valley Conference co-championship. Her record over the last two seasons is 47-13.

"When you look at Kelly, you can't tell if we're ahead or behind," he commented. "She has that steady emotion, which is a real positive for any pitcher."

Griffiths calls Forbis the best pitcher he has ever coached, along with the most valuable player of this year's club.

The clever righthander faced 830 batters in 202 innings this spring and gave up only 146 hits. She struck out 187, walked 43 and allowed 38 earned runs for a 1.31 ERA.

Improved pitching highlights year

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Northville baseballers lost almost twice as many games as they won during the 1988 season, but coach Bob Frellick isn't disappointed.

Despite losing numerous close games, Frellick was genuinely unhappy with his team's performance just one time. He prefers to look at the positives and build on them rather than dwelling on the negative. Throughout the year, for example, Frellick has let his catchers call the pitches in every game without any help from the bench. That's because he sees high school athletics as an ideal chance to learn and mature — he wants his players to experience all they can.

"For the most part, I thought we played the best ball we were capable of this season," Frellick said. "We had only one bad game and that was against Livonia Franklin in late April."

"There were probably a half dozen games that were close and we could have won, but we just came up short. But I wasn't mad at the team because we came to play every game. I can't ask for much more."

The highlight of the season was a general improvement in the pitching staff as opposed to the '87 campaign. A year ago, the Mustangs had a pretty high-powered hitting attack but couldn't get people out. This season, Northville had a solid pitching group but the hitting was down a bit. Todd Ebersole, Steve Nigro and Scott Stephens were the team's top hurlers with Ebersole leading the way with a 3-0 record and a fine 3.10 earned run average.

"We cut our earned run average in half, so that gives you an idea of how much more effective our pitching was," Frellick explained. "We did a fine job in that area."

"Offensively, a lot of the hits that got through last year weren't getting through this year. We had fewer strike outs but there were many incidents where a key hit would have made the difference between a win and a loss and we just couldn't get them."

One of the big problems for the Mustangs was the same problem that faces just about every Northville team — the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA). The 12-team league is very strong in baseball each and every year, and the calibre of competition is very strong — at times overwhelming. Teams like Plymouth Salem and Westland John Glenn were among the best teams in the state and others like Plymouth Canton and Walled Lake Western are always good.

"Our league is very competitive, so every game is a struggle," Frellick said. "Our record wasn't the greatest but that is deceiving because of our schedule. We only have room on our non-league schedule for two games and we played Redford Union and Novi and those were two excellent teams also."

Senior catcher Mike Yard had a fine season and consequently was named to the All-WLAA team. He was the only Mustang to make the all-conference.

Yard led the team in batting average (.364), RBIs (24), home runs (5) and hits (28) and was among team leaders in doubles (8) and on-base percentage. The only other regulars to bat above .300 included outfielder Randy Jones (.309) and firstbaseman Derek Osborne (.308) — but others like Ed Walsh, David McKee, Jim Willer and Brian Frellick also had a fine all-around season.

"With Walsh, Frellick and Jones, we had the best defensive outfield in the conference," Frellick said. "You couldn't ask for more than what they did. All three batted above .277 and they were excellent fielders."

Defensively, the Mustangs were very strong at every position. With the exception of a few throwing errors early in the season, the team played almost flawlessly. At second, McKee was such a force in the field, his teammates called him "the human vacuum."

"We did not have more than three or four fielding errors the whole season," Frellick said.

Pitching should be a strong point for Northville again next season. Nigro, Andy Parker and Scott Probert are returning and will be joined by a nice crop of youngsters from the junior varsity ranks.

"I'm looking for another strong year," Frellick said. "We're very strong up the middle again and we have some pitchers who have varsity experience."

Freimund featured on all-area squad

player in the area. Her season totals include four doubles, four triples and three home runs.

But, according to Eagles coach Kent Griffiths, some people overlook her defensive skills.

"Karen brings quality to first base," he commented. "She really worked on picking up those shorts hops this year, so I never had to worry about balls getting past her. To be honest, she probably made more improvements defensively than offensively."

Grace committed only five errors in 229 chances for a .979 fielding percentage.

Offensively, she hit .352 and recorded a .513 on-base average. She also scored 31 runs, knocked in 24 and stole 14 bases.

ANGEL IANNI, Novi, infielder: When the Wildcats needed a big hit — especially against KVC opponents — it was often Ianni who came through.

The Novi senior had a .319 batting average for the season, but was .368 in league play — both tops on the team. She also led the team in doubles (6), triples (3), slugging percentage, RBIs and tied for first in homers (1).

"Angel can hit the ball really well," Wildcats coach John Peace said. "She showed a lot of concentration, and when she went up to the plate, she was all business."

"Her fielding was also very good, especially in the last four weeks of the season. She didn't even have an error in that time and that's because she works very hard. I think she's the best third baseman in our league."

NANCI DUTKIEWICZ, Northville, outfielder: This senior outfielder is making her second straight appearance on the all-area squad.

Dutkiewicz is regarded as one of the most intelligent, solid and consistent outfielders around. She batted .286 overall, but was 13-of-21 against WLAA Western Division foes (.617 average) and was a key figure in leading Northville to its first ever division crown.

She also recorded an on-base percentage of .510 and a slugging percentage of .588. She struck out only twice in 54 at-bats.

"Consistent is the word for Nanci,"

Coach Bob Gerlach said. "She is always moving the ball with players on base, and even though she has an average arm, she's smart in the outfield."

"She's made some great catches for us and she always hits the cut off. She is a good athlete and has been a real team leader for us. She gets the other girls motivated and ready to play."

LAURIE EMME, Milford, outfielder: When the season opened, this senior wasn't even guaranteed a starting position.

But Emme impressed Coach Chuck Verecke en route to an assignment in right field and then grabbed the spotlight when center fielder Lori Montante suffered a leg injury.

"When Montante got hurt, we moved Emme to center and also made her our lead-off hitter," the coach said. "She filled in beautifully. She runs well and makes good contact, and plays great defense."

"Laurie's just a super kid. She's an excellent student and an excellent leader. That's why we made her a co-captain. I really liked her attitude and spirit."

Emme hit .337 with 26 runs, 12 RBIs and 13 walks.

KIM SHANKS, South Lyon, outfielder: This senior center fielder has been a quality athlete for three years, but never was consistent enough to post all-area numbers.

The situation changed this season, however, as Shanks led the area with a .444 batting average — collecting 44 hits in 99 official plate appearances.

"Kim really came through for us," Lions coach Amy Poljan said. "I had her hitting ninth early in the year, but she kept getting two or three hits a game. So I moved her to the lead-off spot and she stayed there for the rest of the year."

"She did so many things for us," the coach added. "She puts the bat on the ball and then her speed puts pressure on the defense. She also plays center field as well as anyone in our league."

Poljan praised Shanks for being a leader on and off the field as well.

Shanks' other statistics include 26 runs, 27 RBIs, two doubles and an area-best seven triples.

BASEBALL: Pirates nip Indians

H LEAGUE: The Pirates scored two runs in the fourth to wipe out a 1-0 deficit and beat the Indians 2-1 on May 23. Pirate pitcher J.J. Zayt grabbed the win by striking out seven and giving up one hit. Matt Samhat collected the lone hit for the Indians, and his double knocked in their only run.

The Reds scored nine runs in the first two innings and went on to clobber the previously undefeated Mets 9-2 on May 24. Jay Malack (3-for-3, 2 RBIs), Brett Inman (3-for-3) and Tom Chioine (3-for-3) paced the hitting attack for the winners. Pitchers Tom Willer and Malack combined to hold the Mets to two hits.

The Giants jumped ahead 4-0, lost the lead briefly in the fourth but came back with a five-run rally to post a 10-5 triumph over the Twins on May 25. Ryan Rettman had only one official at bat but he clubbed a three-run homer to lead the Giants to victory. Eric Lemieux paced the Twins with three hits and an RBI. Pirate pitchers Jared Swart, Dave McCulloch and Robbie Norton teamed up with James Damico and Chuck Yessalan to stop the Blue Jays 11-5 on May 25. The Pirates scored four runs in the fourth to break open a close game, and hitters Scott Sander and Andy Jeromski were key figures offensively.

The Reds scored five runs in the first inning and then held on to beat the Expos 16-7 on May 27. Tom Willer went 4-for-4 with four runs scored and four RBIs to lead the winners. Matt Minard smacked a two-run homer to pace the Expos. The Mets edged the Astros 11-10 on May 27. Paul Stachurs (3-for-4), Brett Inman (4-for-4) and Jim Inland (three-run homer) were the hitting stars for the Astros.

The Indians nipped Astros 11-10 on June 2. Matt Jones and Jim Inland hit tremendous home runs for the Astros leading a comeback that fell just short. Jake Wiegand of the Reds hurled a no-hitter in a 4-0 win over the Indians on June 2. Tom Willer went 3-for-3 and Jay Malack 2-for-2 to lead the winners. The Reds came up with two runs in the sixth inning to turn around a 5-4 deficit and beat the Giants 6-5 on June 3. Chris Coleman had two hits and three RBIs for the Reds, including the game-winner. Ryan Rettman chipped in a three-run homer for the Giants. Pitcher Jeff Sliving was the hero for the Giants as they beat the Angels 25-18 on June 6. Sliving was the winning pitcher and also had the winning hit, a triple that drove in three runs. Paul Maschur had three hits to lead the Angels.

G LEAGUE: The Astros increased their record to 4-0 with a 12-4 victory over the Braves (2-1). Pitchers Neil Yaskie and Steve Christensen combined for the win. Offensively, Marc Chaisson (3-for-3, three runs scored), Ron Marshall (two hits, two runs scored) and Steve Christensen (two hits, two runs scored) paced the Astros. John Keranen scored two runs for the Astros. On May 25 the Reds squeaked by the Braves 6-7 on key base hits by Mark Scholz and Tim Champagne. Three pitchers combined for the victory, with Chuck Apigien getting the save. The Reds blasted the Expos 15-7 thanks to a four and five run explosion in the fourth and fifth innings. Brian Bauer led the Reds with two hits and a run scored and was also the winning pitcher. The Expos took an early 7-0 lead before the Reds mounted a comeback.

On June 4, the Astros topped the Reds 5-2. Mark Pomeroy scored two runs and sacrificed the go-ahead run in the fourth inning. Pitchers Steve Christensen and Neil Yaskie combined for the win.

Hints for nutritious meals outlined

School's out. Or at least it will be in a day or two.

And that means the tranquility of the home during the day will soon be interrupted by the thunder of little feet as youngsters begin enjoying what they hope will be an exciting and eventful summer.

But it also means something else. It means that parents will no longer be able to hand their little angels some lunch money and ship them off to school, secure in the knowledge that professional dieticians will fill them up with well-planned, nutritionally-sound meals.

Nope, the responsibility for making sure the little darlings are eating healthy diets now falls on mom and dad. And it's a big responsibility.

To help parents make sure their youngsters eat nutritious meals during the summer, Pat Hill, food services director for the Novi Community School District, has passed along a few hints.

The basic thing to remember, said Hill, who has a BS degree in Foods and Nutrition and is a registered dietitian, is that everyone — adults as well as children — should have a daily diet consisting of items from each of the four basic food groups.

And what are the four basic food groups? Read on.

Vegetables and Fruit: Dark green, leafy or orange fruits and vegetables, rich in Vitamin A. Citrus fruits high in Vitamin C. Fruits and vegetables include fresh, frozen and canned. Examples: spinach, broccoli, carrots, sweet potatoes, pumpkin and turnip greens.

Bread and Cereal: (Whole grain, enriched, restored or fortified) ready-to-eat and cooked cereals, breads, flour products, crackers, macaroni, spaghetti, noodles, rice, oats, corn and wheat products.

Milk and Dairy Products: Milk:

Whole, two percent, skim, evaporated or powdered; butter-milk; all cheeses; cottage cheese; ice cream and yogurt.

Meat and Fish: Beef, veal, lamb, pork, liver, poultry and eggs. Fish and shellfish, shrimp, clams and crab. Alternative sources of protein such as dried peas and beans, nuts, peanut butter and soy beans.

In terms of a dietary regimen, Hill suggests that parents follow a 4-4-3-2 plan. In other words, she suggests that a healthy daily diet will consist of four servings of fruit and vegetables, four servings of bread and cereals, three servings of dairy products and two servings of meat and fish.

Hill has another suggestion for parents who want to make sure their children eat nutritiously during the summer months — healthy snacking. Eating between meals has become an American pastime. So don't fight it, just make sure your refrigerator is stocked with foods which are good and good for you.

Chips, pop and candy are okay once in a while, but the world of snacking offers parents a real opportunity to instill healthy eating habits in their youngsters.

For the best snacks, Hill suggests parents again look for items from the four food groups. Here are some suggestions:

- Popcorn sprinkled with cheese (instead of butter)
- Fresh or dried fruits
- Canned fruits, packed in juice, water or light syrup
- Cheese with crackers
- Peanut butter on apples, celery sticks or sweet potato slices
- Unsalted potato chips
- Whole wheat crackers with cottage cheese
- Ice cream topped with nuts
- Milk or juice instead of carbonated beverages
- Whole wheat bread-sandwiches
- Sunflower seeds or unsalted nuts
- Oatmeal-raisin or peanut butter cookies (instead of donuts, plain cookies or cakes)
- Ice cream shakes
- Fresh, cut-up vegetables dipped in yogurt
- Cucumber slices with cheese
- Hard-boiled eggs with crackers

Summertime means kids get a vacation from school, but it does not mean they should get a vacation from nutrition. And the responsibility for making sure their diets contain the essential nutrients the body needs falls directly on the parents.

Fortunately, it's a responsibility that can be easily met with a little knowledge about the four basic food groups.

Health hazards associated with sun exposure

By EILEEN MURPHY, M.D.

It is hard to imagine summer without activities in the sun. Undeniably, the sun makes us feel good. However, we've come to realize there are health hazards associated with exposure to the sun. Whether you are sunbathing, playing golf or just taking a walk, it's important to use common sense when out in the sun.

It is ultraviolet (UV) wavelength rays in sunlight that cause most of the damage to the skin. These wavelengths are absorbed by the outer layer of skin, called the epidermis. The degree of damage depends on the thickness of the epidermis, the degree of moisture in the skin, and the concentration and arrangement of blood vessels in the skin.

The most familiar sign of UV rays at work is sunburn. The redness of a sunburn is actually part of a complex inflammatory reaction that takes place when UV radiation swells tissues and increases cell division. Usually, this causes the outer skin layer to peel. The radiation also results in an increased production of melanin, a pigment in the skin, three or four days later. This is one of the mechanisms of tanning. Tanning also occurs when the sun darkens pigments already in the epidermis. UV radiation also can induce skin cancers. These occur most often on frequently exposed parts of the body — the face, head, neck, arms and hands. They are much more common in fair-skinned Caucasians. These cancers include basal or squamous carcinomas as well as malignant melanoma.

Lastly, exposure to UV radiation speeds the degenerative changes in the skin that normally accompany aging. This can result in wrinkling, freckles and a leathery texture of the skin. Many of these changes may be irreversible, but can be minimized by daily application of sunscreens.

Sunscreens help prevent the damaging effects of UV radiation by absorbing or reflecting some of the rays striking the skin. There are three basic types of sunscreens: PABA or PABA derivatives, non-PABA chemical sunscreens, and physical sunscreens such as zinc oxide. The choice of sunscreen depends on an individual's sensitivity to sunlight, and the amount of exposure.

If you choose a PABA sunscreen, it is important to apply it about an hour before exposure to obtain maximum benefit. First, apply the sunscreen on a small patch of skin to determine if you are sensitive to the substance. Photoallergies are most common with PABA sunscreens. If you have a reaction to a PABA sunscreen, try a substance containing benzophenones.

Some people experience photosensitivity and phototoxic reactions after applying a sunscreen. These reactions include swelling, hives, eczema, skin peeling and an increase or decrease in skin pigmentation. These are more common when using PABA sunscreens. Individuals taking thiazide diuretics and sulfonamides also may develop dermatitis from PABA sunscreens, and should choose benzophenone compounds.

Some medications prescribed by your doctor may cause reactions to sunlight in spite of the type of sunscreen used. These include some diabetic medications, phenothiazines, antibiotics, and oral contraceptives. Occasionally, chemicals in deodorants, perfumes, cosmetics and coal tar shampoos used to control dandruff or treat psoriasis also will cause photosensitivity. If you are concerned about a reaction to sunlight, check with your doctor and exercise caution when outdoors.

In helping to minimize the harmful effects of sunlight, here are some suggestions:

- Always use a sunscreen when exposed to sunlight. These are rated with sun protection factors: SPF 2 is the lowest and SPF 15 almost completely blocks UV radiation. Be sure to place this on eyelids, ears, and creases of the body.
- Use a sunscreen even on cloudy days. The sun's rays are just as damaging on cloudy days as on sunny days.
- The sun's most damaging rays are between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. Minimize your exposure during these hours.

• Reapply sunscreen one to two hours after bathing, excessive sweating or swimming.

• Water blocks only a small amount of the sun's radiation and wet clothing provides only a 50 percent block.

• If you are taking a medication, check to see if it causes a sensitivity to the sun. Use both protective clothing and a sunscreen.

• Keep yourself well hydrated and use a moisturizing lotion after exposure.

• If a sunburn develops, immerse the area in cold water. Do not use ointments or greases. Aspirin or ibuprofen can be used to relieve the pain. If the burn is severe or does not improve in 4-5 days, contact your physician.

We hope this information will prove helpful. Remember, prevention is the best means to avoid the short and long-term complications from sunburn. It will allow you to get the most enjoyment from the summer months.

The Northville Record is working with medical authorities at the University of Michigan Medical Center (M-Care) in Northville to provide up-to-date information on a variety of health-related topics. The series is coordinated by Peg Campbell of the M-Care staff.
