Civic Concern, the Northville based volunteer organization that collects food, clothes and funds to help area needy families, brightened some lives the Thursday before Christmas. Downs to continue matinees as test

By BOB NEEDHAM

Northville Downs will offer matinee races in January, in a partial reversal of a decision from the state racing commissioner.

This month was to be the last of the afternoon races at the track for at least a year. But officials from the Downs and the commissioner's office said Tuesday that matinees will continue at least through the month of January, in exchange for fewer nighttime races.

When state Racing Commissioner William Cahalan allocated 1989 racing dates for Michigan tracks, he did not authorize any matinee harness races. In recent times, matinees have been increasingly successful at Northville Downs while evening attendance and handle have fallen.

Cahalan said at the time the decision came from concerns about the number of horses available to race in a public hearing on 1989 race dates, several officials from established tracks used the lack of horse stock as an argument against Cahalan allocating more dates to new tracks.

So, when the Jackson at Northville 1988 meet wraps up this weekend, that would have been the end of matinees in Northville for a while. Northville Downs' own season starts next week.

City still wrestling with day care issues

By BOB NEEDHAM

Discussion on how to regulate in-home child day care operations continued at the Northville Planning Commission last week, with the end result being more discussion scheduled in the future.

The commission moved toward a formal proposal for consideration by directing Planning Consultant Don Wortman to draft another possible ordinance. The members finished discussion Tuesday, Dec. 20 by asking Wortman to use state definitions for three different types of day care facilities, and to offer options for allowing small day care operations in residential homes.

Several members of the commission expressed a partial consensus on how to treat the facilities: by putting the larger "child care centers" in commercial districts and "group day care homes" (six to twelve children in a private home) in multiple-family residential districts. Wortman is to suggest options for dealing with "family day care homes," those accepting one to six children.

The motion which eventually passed the commission last week directed Wortman to define child care centers into appropriate non-residential districts, group day care homes into appropriate residential districts, and to provide two or three options for dealing with family day care homes.

That motion passed 9-0. The options discussed included more limits on the number of children, restricted hours of operation, and requiring special permits. Minimum lot sizes, required play areas, required fencing and special drop-off points were other possible regulations discussed at the meeting.

Wortman repeated an opinion that the city could probably not legally restrict the density of day care homes. A bill in the state Legislature which would have addressed that question and related issues died at the end of the session (see related story).

City officials began talks about in-home day care in September, after neighbors' complaints about such an operation ended with the owner being ticketed. The city zoning ordinance does not distinguish between day care in a home and a full-fledged day care center. All day care for profit is prohibited in residential areas, making it illegal for someone to take children into their home for pay.

City plans a mail survey of residents

By BOB NEEDHAM

A survey of city residents is set to go out in the mail within the next few weeks, and officials are hoping for a big response.

Developed by city planning officials, the five-page questionnaire is scheduled to be mailed to every city resident during the first week of February. Notices sent with water bills — scheduled to start going out this week — will inform residents that the survey is coming.

The city's Planning Commission has been working with its planning consultant, Don Wortman, for several months on a questionnaire for use in the commission's discussion of updating the city Master Plan. The planners are working on a plan update with funding from the Community Development Block Grant program.

The new Master Plan is expected to include some statements on goals and philosophies of the city. And many of the questions on the survey are geared toward making those statements.

In its most recent draft, the survey questions residents on their opinions about the city's housing stock, commercial and industrial development, parking and other aspects of the downtown, and city services. The bulk of the form is set up in the form of statements with which the respondent is asked to "strongly agree," "somewhat agree," "no opinion," "somewhat disagree" or "strongly disagree."

There are 22 questions on the form, plus room for comments and other ideas.

The Planning Commission has approved the substance of the questionnaire, but up until last week, the distribution was still a question mark.

At its meeting Monday, Dec. 19, the City Council informally agreed that the survey would be most useful if it went out to all city residents. The Latest radon test results continue to show local problem

By PHIL GINOTTI and BOB NEEDHAM

The latest results from radon tests in Northville continue to show a good share of homes above the federal safety standard, and some suggesting quick action.

The private company Radon One, which sells kits to test for the gas, recently released results from testing during November. In the 48167 ZIP code, 46 homes were tested, with 19 testing above the safety level suggested by the Environmental Protection Agency.

Radon is a colorless, odorless gas which forms in the ground and sometimes collects in poorly-ventilated buildings. It is believed to cause lung cancer in high concentrations.

The EPA recommends additional testing if a home test kit shows results greater than four picocuries per liter. A more accurate, long term test — and then possible corrective action — is recommended for readings above 20.

Of the 46 Northville results during November five were above 20 picocuries per liter. Local results ranged from 0 to 73.03, with an average of 7.58.

Radon-One distributor Dean Piekarski said his firm is getting higher results from Milford, Highland and South Lyon than Northville.

In Milford, for instance, the average of 42 November tests was 9.23. The Milford tests ranged from a low of 1.27 to highs of 20.72, 20.98, 44.93 and 53.39.

"That's what we're noticing right now," Piekarski said. "Milford and Highland are really coming in with some high results at this point."

American Lung Association Project Director Alex Johnson said no current data is available but a report on the next batch of tests is being finalized. The Lung Association is selling its own test kits.

Johnson said preliminary indications show that about 25 percent of Northville homes are experiencing levels over the four picocurie standard. Another four percent are experiencing "extremely high levels" — over 20.

"We've got a good amount of homes that need to do something," Johnson said. "The number of homes coming in at over 20 is pretty significant."

The statewide average for homes over 20 is about one percent, compared with Northville's average of 4 percent. Novi's average is about 5 percent, Johnson said.

Johnson said homes getting the high levels should retest with a long-range alpha-track detector, which can be left in the home for several months. If the results remain high, residents should increase air circulation in the basement area or undertake a variety of other radon reduction techniques, such as enclosing the sump pump, sealing basement cracks or covering basement drains.

The Lung Association kits are available at the Lung Association offices. The Lung Association can be reached at 558-5100.

Residents can place the small charcoal canisters in their basements for 48 hours and send them back to the Lung Association for scoring. In about a week to 10 days, the testing is completed and the results are sent back.

The charcoal canister is about the size of a can of shoe polish.

Township braces for Brock leaving

Although the Northville Township Board has not yet discussed the procedure to replace just-resigned Township Manager Steve Brock, the process will probably be a lot like the one that hired Brock. Township Treasurer Dick Henningsen said last week that the board hadn't really talked about a replacement for Brock, whose resignation takes effect Jan. 13. Officials will probably wait until after the new year starts before getting into the selection process, Henningsen said. "The holiday season is probably a tough time to interview anybody, anyhow," Henningsen said. "Eventually, we'll get through the same process we were in before." The previous manager, Bruno Scacchitti, died in a car accident. A three-person search committee looked at 26 applications and named five finalists before Brock was hired. He began work at the township in January, 1987. "We've appreciated his (Brock's) service. I think he looked at the situation and decided it was time for a move," Henningsen said. "I have no problem with him. He's done what he had to do." Brock, who does not have another job lined up, said last week he decided it was time for new challenges.

Police Blotters

Arrests made in robbery

Editor's Note: Police reports from Northville Township were not available by press time this week because of the holiday.

Northville police have arrested two local youths as suspects in a recent break-in at the Good Time Party Store on Seven Mile.

The two suspects were located after an extensive investigation by the department's detective bureau. Police are still looking into a third suspect.

One of the suspects is 15 years old and is being petitioned through the Wayne County juvenile court system. The other is 17 and is expected to be processed as an adult. Both suspects live in Northville.

The store was broken into Dec. 2. Thieves got away with between $300 and $500, but also caused about $4,000 damage by apparently falling through the roof.

EIGHT MILE/CENTER ACCIDENTS — The intersection of Center Street and Eight Mile Road saw two accidents last week, including one in which a driver suffered a small cut on the head, according to police reports.

At 7:27 a.m. Tuesday, Dec 20, two cars collided in the intersection while one was making a left turn from Eight Mile south onto Center, a report said. The car was completing its turn after the light turned red, while another vehicle coming the other way on Eight Mile ran the light and caused the accident, according to a witness statement. That car was ticketed for disobeying a red light.

At 2:03 a.m. Thursday, a Detroit resident ran the flashing red light on Center, causing a collision with a South Lyon resident, a report said. The Detroit resident suffered a cut and was ticketed.

EXPLOSION — Police are investigating an apparent explosion on Hill Street last week.

At 8:15 p.m. Wednesday, police answered a report of an explosion and found white smoke on a front lawn. Plant covers made from plastic foam were found blown apart, the report said.

A plastic pop bottle was also found with the bottom blown out and some residue of a yellowish liquid inside it, the report said.

WINDOWS SMASHED — A Ford Ranger truck was hit for about $500 damage last week, a city police report said.

The damage happened between 4:15 and 5:50 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 21, either at the Veterans of Foreign Wars parking lot or a home on Carpenter, the report said. There were six holes punched in the truck's cap and two windows were smashed.

CEMETERY LARCENY — Grave decorations were reported stolen from a plot in the Rural Hill Cemetery recently.

Between Nov. 26 and Dec. 16 a 24-inch wreath and a multi-colored flower display were stolen from a grave in the cemetery, according to a police report. The items were valued at $50.

MAIL VANDALIZED — A local family's Christmas card output was destroyed by vandalism last week, according to a city police report.

Forty-two cards were taken from a mailbox on Springfield Court, torn up and thrown all along Taft Road in front of Cooke School, the report said. The damage was noticed the afternoon of Tuesday, Dec. 20.

BREAK-IN ATTEMPTED — Schweitzer Real Estate on N. Center was the site of a break-in attempt last week, a city police report said.

The night of Dec. 18 or morning of the 19th, someone tried unsuccessfully to pry open the rear door, the report said. The attempt was apparently unsuccessful and caused only minor damage.

BIKE FOUND — A bike found outside Shopping Center Market last week is waiting for its owner at the city Police Department.

The bike was made by Sears and was turned in Dec. 19.

FAILURES TO YIELD — A Canton resident was ticketed for failure to yield after an accident on Center near Rayson last Monday, Dec. 19, according to a police report.

The driver was turning from Center into a driveway and turned into the path of another vehicle, the report said. No injuries were reported.

In a similar accident Saturday morning, a Northville resident was ticketed after an accident at Dunlap and Wing. The car was turning and turned into the path of another car, a report said. No injuries were reported.

A Livonia resident was also ticketed for failure to yield after an accident at Eight Mile and Beck roads last Wednesday. The driver, on Beck, did not stop at Eight Mile and drove into the path of another car, a report said.

DRUNK DRIVING ROUNDUP — City police arrested two people for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor (OUIL) Monday.

In the first incident, just after midnight, a Detroit resident was found parked on the traffic island at Eight Mile and Novi Road. The driver told police he was in Southfield and that it was Christmas Eve, a police report said. He was ticketed for OUIL.

Just before midnight that night, police stopped a Lincoln Park resident after seeing the driver almost hit another car on Main Street, a report said. The driver refused to take a preliminary breath test, and got a ticket for that and for OUIL.

City audit shows sound finances

The City of Northville's auditors gave the city pretty much unqualified high marks for the 1988-87 fiscal year in a report delivered last week.

Ken Kunkel, of the auditing firm Plante & Moran, told the City Council Monday, Dec. 19 that '86-'87 was "for the most part, considered financially, a very good year." The comment came as part of the regular annual audit report, which is required by state law.

Kunkel had high praise for the amount of financial activity in the city, particularly for a community of its size.

"A city of two million, two-and-a-half million — generally, they're pretty simple audits," Kunkel said. In comparison, Northville — with a population below 10,000 — is a complicated one.

"What you're doing is very innovative, we're very pleased with it, and you should be too," Kunkel said. He singled out improvement efforts like the Downtown Development Authority (DDA) and city land purchases for praise.

"You continue to invest in the community, which I feel is a very high priority," Kunkel said.

One milestone reached during the year was the fact that, for the first time, the tax capturing program in the DDA district had raised more than enough money to service the DDA debt. In the past, DDA bonds were paid off with loans from the city's Public Improvement Fund, and the DDA is now repaying that money, Kunkel said.

One other positive sign he singled out was the fact that although the city entered into some new debt, it retired almost $400,000 more than it incurred.

The books contained a few odd figures which really looked odder than they were, because of the way the accounting worked, Kunkel said.

A memo accompanying the audit report also complimented the city on streamlining its procedures since the previous audit.

The city uses 18 different sets of books for its own funds and other funds it oversees, including taxes collected for other governmental units. Most of the day-to-day city operation is from the General Fund, which Kunkel said came very close to the break-even point for the year: "You don't really have much left over."

According to a summary financial statement, the General Fund took in $2,920,796 for the year and paid out $2,894,593. The revenue was $40,346 more than budgeted, and expenses went over budget by $7,993.

The year increased the balance in the General Fund from $23,335 at the start of the year to $49,538 at the end. The city's fiscal year runs from July 1 to June 30.

The biggest General Fund expense is the Police Department, at $1,036,082 for the year — $668 under budget. Other large line items included public works at $481,413 — $1,487 under budget; administration at $402,334 — $16 under budget; and building and grounds at $202,431 — $12,469 under budget.

Police ask for any information in rape / kidnap case

By PHILIP JEROME

The investigation of the abduction and rape of a 33-year-old Novi woman from the parking lot at Mr. B's Farm in Novi on Dec 18 is centering on identification of the suspect's vehicle, according to Novi Police Detective Frank Barabas.

In addition, Barabas said police are attempting to locate a man driving a blue pickup truck who apparently observed the suspect's vehicle as the victim was being released near the C&O railroad crossing on Beck Road at approximately 8 a.m. on Monday, Dec. 19.

The case is being investigated jointly by Novi police and the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. Barabas is heading up the Novi portion of the investigation, while Sgt. Doug Eader is in charge of the sheriff's department's investigation.

Barabas said Tuesday that police now believe the suspect was driving a vintage white panel delivery truck made between 1947 and 1953. The early part of the investigation has centered on proper identification of the vehicle, Barabas said.

"Initially, all we had was that it was an old truck with no windows on the side," said Barabas. "But we've now been able to pinpoint some more specific information with the assistance of the victim," he reported.

Barabas said police also are asking the driver of the blue pickup truck who apparently saw the victim being released by her abductor near the Beck Road crossing Monday morning to come forward.

The victim told police that a man in a blue pickup truck stopped to offer assistance shortly after she was forced out of the abductor's panel truck. Barabas said the victim was too shaken up to respond to the offer of assistance and began running away.

The driver of the blue pickup truck then proceeded to follow the white panel delivery truck southbound on Beck Road, according to Barabas.

"We have every reason to believe that this individual may have some information which could prove valuable to our investigation," said Barabas.

"We're hoping he will come forward and identify himself."

Police also are asking other individuals traveling Beck Road between Pontiac Trail and Twelve Mile on Monday (Dec. 19) morning to step forward and report any unusual circumstances they may have observed.

Barabas can be reached at 348-7100, while Eader can be reached at 858-4950.

The incident began Sunday, Dec. 18, between 8 and 8:30 p.m. The victim told police she was walking to her car in the parking lot at Mr. B's Farm after having been dropped off by a friend.

As she was about to enter the car, the woman said she was approached from behind by a man who robbed her; forced her to get into his late-model, white panel delivery truck; blindfolded her; and then drove to a rural area of Oakland County where she was raped several times during the night before being released the following morning.

The presence of a weapon was im-piled throughout the ordeal, although the weapon was not actually seen.

The abductor was described as a white male, approximately 30 years old, 5'10" tall and 180 pounds with brown hair, a mustache and possibly a beard.

He was said to be wearing a black shiny ski jacket over a grey hooded sweatshirt and blue jeans. The man also wore a ski mask throughout the abduction and rape, according to reports.

Bad septic system causes problem

By BOB NEEDHAM

A malfunctioning septic system off Eight Mile Road is causing a moderate health danger to anyone getting too close, but the property owners expect the problem to be fixed soon.

Sewage has flowed out onto the ground near a house on Eight Mile west of the Meadowbrook Country Club. The situation, caused by a faulty septic system, poses a health danger if anyone gets too close, according to county health officials.

The house is one of two owned by Meadowbrook Country Club, which has rented it out.

A letter from Wayne County's Environmental Health Division to the county club states that the condition violates state law and the county health code. "Since the conditions produced by such insanitary disposal methods are hazardous to the health of the community... proper disposal must be provided," the letter reads in part.

Bruce Davis, director of the Environmental Health Division, said a malfunctioning septic system always poses some kind of health risk.

Having a lot of people around would make it more dangerous — the house is relatively secluded — and hot weather is worse as well, Davis said. "This time of year is probably not the worst conditions," he said.

The letter from the county gives the country club 30 days to respond to the problem. The letter is dated Dec. 2.

Davis said Meadowbrook's options include vacating the house for good, installing a new septic system, and repairing the old system. "All we can say to them or anyone is: you are the owner, you have a problem and you must correct it," Davis said.

John DeHart, clubhouse manager at Meadowbrook, said the country club is now considering its options and should be able to meet the deadline.

Meadowbrook bought the site about a year and a half ago, in anticipation of expanding the club's facilities. The club owns two houses in the area and is looking to buy a third, he said.

"When we purchased that house we had a septic problem we did not realize," DeHart said.

The club is in the process of deciding what to do about the situation, he added.

The letter from the county to the country club states that the area is not served by a sanitary sewer system.

New sign

After months of waiting there is now a sign near Our Lady of Providence school on Beck Road in Northville Township. The school had petitioned the township for the sign, but board members agreed that since Wayne County had jurisdiction over the road — it was their responsibility. Wayne County Commissioner Susan Heinz, (R) Northville Township had promised a "Christmas miracle" regarding the sign — and it now stands near the school.

Goose released after recovery

A goose found at the Northville Ford Plant with an arrow through its neck is fully recovered and back in the great outdoors

Robin Hawkins, assistant manager at the Michigan Humane Society shelter in Westland, said the goose was released at the Ford plant last Thursday, Dec. 22, after a quick recovery. The Humane Society first took the bird to the shelter Friday, Dec. 16, after Northville resident Priscilla Lebold reported the situation to the Police Department

The goose had been hit with an arrow straight through its neck, but was able to move and in fairly good condition, Hawkins said at the time. The Humane Society removed the arrow and treated the bird with antibiotics for a few days before returning it to the pond at the Ford plant.

The Humane Society operates a regular rescue service for injured animals. The phone number of the Westland shelter is 721-7300.

Survey of city residents planned

Council also agreed it should include a postage-paid, return envelope to get the most possible responses.

Distribution of the survey is not included in the budget for CDBG funds, but a memo from City Manager Steve Walters says the city could probably reallocate grant money which was earmarked for a City Hall elevator — a project which has been delayed since it was first funded.

The council also discussed maximizing the return by telling residents it is coming through the notices with their water bills; and by clearly marking the outside of the survey envelope.

Day care bill for cities died in state Legislature

In the flurry of last-minute activity in the state Legislature at the end of its session, one bill which the City of Northville was keeping a close eye on failed by a single vote.

A bill which would have set up new rules for day care business in a home was defeated in the final hours of the session. If passed, the bill would basically have required cities and villages to treat in-home day care as any other residence in regard to zoning concerns

The state Senate passed Senate Bill 687 earlier in the session. It was one of three sponsored by state Sen. Jack Faxon (D-Farmington Hills), the other two dealing with rural counties and townships.

Senate Bill 687 was passed 71-23 in the House of Representatives at the end of the session, but the House tacked on amendments that made it different from the Senate version. When the bill went back for Senate concurrence, senators voted 19-16 to concur — one vote short of the 20 needed for passage.

Faxon, whose district includes the north part of the City of Northville, voted yes. Sen. R. Robert Geake (R-Northville Township), who represents the rest of Northville, had an excused absence.

Northville city officials are presently wrestling with a local ordinance to cover child day care offered in a private home. A state law could have headed off all or part of a new city ordinance.

The City Council went on record against the bill in the form it passed the Senate, saying that it would erode local control of zoning.

Faxon and supporters of the bill said it would prevent local governments from prohibiting day care in homes, and would encourage day care homes to get state licenses.

If passed, the bill would have required cities and villages to consider family day care homes and group day care homes (serving 12 or fewer children) as residential uses permitted in all residential zoning districts. The City of Northville is considering a more restrictive ordinance, but more lenient than the present regulation, which bans all commercial day care from residential zones (see related story).

The bill would also have required the homes to be 1,500 feet or more away from another day care home, adult foster care homes, substance abuse treatment centers, or facilities for inmates.

The differences between the House and Senate versions of the bill were basically minor.

The biggest change was a sentence which would have allowed the local municipality to limit but not prohibit nighttime hours of operation. In another change, the Senate version would not have applied to any home operating before the effective date of the act; while the House version would not have applied to a licensed home which had a permit before the effective date.

The bill may be introduced in the legislative session which begins in January.

City day care talks continue

The City Council began discussions of an ordinance which would distinguish between smaller, in-home day care and larger operations. The council directed the Planning Commission to take up the issue of density — how close together day care homes could be — and the commission has been discussing the whole idea since then.

The commission's next meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 3

Because some things just can't wait.

One of the most important parts of good health is a regular checkup, for everyone, not just the kids. If it's been "too long" since someone in your family has seen a doctor, no matter the reason, you can do something now. Maybe just a little reminder and a gentle nudge are all it will take. But perhaps some help finding the right doctor will be necessary. If that's the case, let Huron Valley Hospital's no charge Physicians Referral Program go to work for your family.

As close as the phone, our health care professionals are ready to listen and help. They understand all the reasons for needing a referral — new in town; doctor has retired; never had a doctor; just not comfortable with this doctor. Whatever the reason, whatever the need, the Huron Valley Hospital's Physicians Referral Program can help your family find the right doctors.

Roland Peterson, 53, publisher of Record

Roland J. Peterson, 53, publisher of The Northville Record and Novi News, died unexpectedly of a heart attack Saturday, Dec. 24, at his Brighton home.

At the time of his death Peterson was vice president/general manager of Sliger/Livingston Publications, which includes the Livingston County Press, Brighton Argus, South Lyon Herald and Milford Times in addition to The Record and The News.

Peterson is remembered by colleagues as a journalist whose fairness and common sense made him well-respected in the newspaper field.

Retired newspaper publisher William C. Sliger, who first hired Peterson in the early 1960s as a columnist for The Northville Record/Novi News, said, "I always felt Rolly was unusually fair and used excellent common sense as a newspaperman. The sign of a good journalist is someone who can maintain the respect of those he sometimes has to criticize. Rolly always had that respect because he was genuinely fair."

Sliger said he had the highest respect for Peterson as a journalist and will remember him as a man "genuinely interested in people and in the well-being of his employees. He was almost always upbeat. I feel I've lost one of my best friends."

Richard Agninan, president of Suburban Communications Corp., the parent company of Sliger/Livingston Publications, said Peterson's leadership will be missed.

"Rolly was a fun-loving guy who exemplified community journalism," Agninan said. "He was a leader for his staff, the community and the organization. His cheerfulness and leadership will be missed."

Jack Hoffman, former general manager and vice president of Sliger/Livingston Publications, and now publisher of the Straits Land Resorter newspaper in Indian River, Mich., remembers Peterson as a close friend and an excellent journalist.

"We grew up in this business together," Hoffman said. "He was an excellent writer and well-liked by staff people. Rolly was always bubbling with energy and optimism. If you were down, he'd cheer you up. I know when I was general manager at Sliger/Livingston, I depended on Rolly heavily. I couldn't have done it without him."

Born April 28, 1935, in Ironwood, Mich., Peterson graduated from the University of Michigan in 1958 and taught English at Northville High School. He broke into reporting as a columnist at The Record, reviewing books and plays. "He was extremely articulate and an excellent writer," Sliger said.

At the urging of Sliger, Peterson later became a full-time journalist, serving as editor of The News for about eight months and as editor of The Herald for slightly more than one year.

In 1969, Peterson was named editor of The Brighton Argus, following acquisition of that paper by Sliger.

In 1980, Peterson was named a director of Sliger Home Newspapers while he continued as editor of the Argus.

When SCC purchased the Livingston County Press, the Milford Times and other newspapers in 1980, Peterson was named publisher of the Livingston County newspapers. He was named executive editor in 1981, concurrent with consolidations of Livingston County newspapers and Sliger Home Newspapers into Sliger/Livingston Publications. He was named vice president and general manager of the newspaper group in 1985.

Peterson was married to Wendy Wistert in Toledo, Ohio, on Oct. 8, 1966. They moved to Brighton from Ann Arbor in 1972. She is an attorney and currently the Livingston County Friend of the Court.

Long active in community affairs, Peterson was a member and secretary of the Howell Rotary Club, a member of the board of the Livingston County Economic Development Corp., and a former member of the board of directors of the Howell Area Chamber of Commerce.

A person who enjoyed both sports and young people, he served as a coach for the Brighton Community Schools youth baseball and basketball teams.

In addition to his wife Wendy, he is survived by his two sons: David, a junior at the University of Michigan, and Gregory, a freshman at Michigan State University; a sister, Jewel, of Minneapolis, Minn., a niece and a nephew.

Cremation has taken place. A memorial service is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Thursday from St. Paul Lutheran Church, 7701 M-36 (3 1/2 miles west of U.S. 23), Hamburg, with the Rev. Carl Welsch officiating.

Memorial contributions in Peterson's name are suggested to Brighton youth baseball/softball/basketball programs, in care of 7878 Brighton Road, Brighton, MI 48116.

Downs to continue matinees on trial basis

"We submitted a schedule to him. He was worried about the availability of horses, and we tried to convince him there are going to be enough horses — not good horses necessarily, but enough horses — to race (matinees)." Northville Downs recording secretary Margaret Zayti said Tuesday.

The specific concern in Northville's case was the competition for horses from Sports Creek Raceway in Swartz Creek, which has a season overlapping Northville Downs.

Jim Wright, the state's director of racing operations, said the arguments from the Downs "convinced (Cahalan) that they should be given an opportunity to at least give it a try."

A compromise proposal was worked out where Northville will offer Saturday matinees in exchange for shorter race programs at night. The set-up will go through January, after which state racing officials will meet with the track to see how it all worked out and whether it should be continued.

"We'll see how we're doing" once January is over, Wright said.

The Downs will run 10 races Monday through Thursday and 11 races

Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Most evening programs recently have seen 12 races. Sunday evening races will stop in late March and be replaced with Tuesday races when the Detroit Race Course meet starts.

Zayti said the Downs has run matinee races for about five years.

Last year the handle (amount of money bet) and attendance was up for matinees but down for the evening program.

Wright said Northville Downs is the only Michigan harness track currently slated for any matinee races during 1989.

Our Opinions Year in review: In the city

In our first issue of 1988, we took time on this page to set a sort of agenda. We listed some issues we thought needed to be addressed by the three local units of government: Northville Township, the City of Northville and the Northville School District. This week, in the last issue of 1988, we take a backward glance o'er traveled roads and see how everyone did.

City government got a fairly good report card with no outright failures but some things we wish had moved a little quicker.

The concern we singled out as most important was some long-range planning, particularly for the downtown area. With the hire of a new planning consulting firm and the formal launching of two vital studies, the city made excellent progress here. Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May has already proven to be a wise hire, well equipped to guide city government through its planning. The initial discussion on the Cady Street Corridor study and the Master Plan update shows that officials are ambitious and far-sighted in their thinking. And the decision to conduct a resident survey — of all residents — insures that the officials will keep in touch with the ideas of the public.

Another concern was the traffic study, which early in the year was the subject of some interesting discussion. But that consideration seemed to peter out quickly. We realize that many of the traffic study recommendations will fall under the purview of the Cady Street and Master Plan studies, but many will not. We would have liked to see action on some of the simpler, more isolated problems.

In the township

Much progress has been made in the township on projects that were only glints in our eyes one year ago. But likewise, a few projects that have been on board agendas for more than just one year are still awaiting action.

The biggest priority facing Northville Township in 1988 was finding additional sewer capacity. The signing of agreements between the Western Townships Utility Authority and the Ypsilanti Community Utility Authority has meant a definite timetable and guarantee of capacity for the township. This is good news as all development and potential tax base increases were on hold until sewer problems could be solved.

In the schools

Why does any talk of education tend to become philosophical? Last year we said that although 1988 would not pose any serious problems for the school district, we hoped to see a refinement of the already excellent program being offered Northville students.

Last year saw the publication of the "ideal high school curriculum" by U.S. Secretary of Education William Bennett. Bennett called for rigorous Sewer capacity was another worry at the start of the year, and one that seems completely resolved now. The decision to participate in the Super Sewer program, although ultimately expensive, was totally necessary and reasonable.

Government

We mentioned Allen Terrace, hoping that the renovation and expansion plans would move ahead. The remodeling is underway, but the addition is unfortunately stalled.

We also threw in our two cents on some joint city / township issues. Most important was finding more space for the library. There was some movement here: a committee recommended two possible sites for a new building. We realize there was a lot to consider, but this process seemed to take a lot longer than it should have.

A joint park millage proposal for the city and township was another suggestion. The proposal came to pass, but unfortunately did not pass, in spite of extensive effort from recreation officials and volunteers.

Finally, we asked for generally better relations between the city and township governments. This may or may not have come about; the absence of public disputes is probably a positive sign.

The next item on the priority list was a familiar one: the county land situation. Wayne County's huge area of land in the southern portion of the township has been lying vacant for many years. For many years township authorities have met with county people in the hopes that this would be the year that the land was sold and entered on the tax books. No such luck again this year.

This summer proved to be a bad one for firefighters and police officers charged with keeping that land safe. The drought and the constant trespassing made brush and building fires on the land a source of real trouble.

graduation standards in the nation's public schools. We called for Northville to evaluate its current structure and to consider a tightening of its own.

The schools have recently entered into an administrative stage where administrators, teachers, community residents and others will address the future of the schools. The goals, including the future structure of education in the district, are scheduled for evaluation.

The weird in review

By Bob Needham

This week you'll see an awful lot of publications, including this one, do some special project on "The Year in Review."

There are several reasons for this. First, it's a nice way to sum up progress that has been made and revisit some events worth remembering. Second, it provides a good historical record of a given year. Third and most important, it fills lots of space during the slowest news time of the year.

In that spirit, here is a quick review of some of the stranger, more interesting and more surprising things that happened in Northville during 1988:

- A controversy arose over an announced shift of some homes around Nine Mile from a Northville to Novi mailing address. The switch would have a direct impact on absolutely nothing except the mail carrier, but some people feared it would have the indirect impact of reducing property values by thousands of dollars. If that's true, there is something seriously wrong with the real estate industry in this country. But beyond that, lower property values should mean lower assessments, which should mean lower taxes. Am I missing something?

- A school on Beck Road requested a sign to warn drivers of its handicapped students. Both Northville Township and Wayne County shied away from the idea, saying that installing a sign would be tantamount to assuming liability for any accident on the road. It seemed to me that, in the event of a tragedy, a conscious decision not to put up a sign would be a lot more actionable than putting one up. (That's probably why I'm not a lawyer.) Anyway, signs went up last week, with Wayne County Commissioner Susie Heintz giving most of the credit to Santa Claus.

- A goose showed up at the Ford plant with an arrow straight through the middle of its neck — and the thing seemed just fine. The Humane Society took the arrow out and the goose fully recovered.

- City officials spent months discussing child day care — that is, babysitting — in homes. The city zoning ordinance, sort of by default, doesn't allow this. The state Legislature also gave the issue its fair share of attention. The thing I can't figure out is, why did it take this long for the question to arise? Haven't people taken neighbor kids into their home since time immemorial?

- U.S. Representative Carl Pursell was re-elected again, this time over state Senator Lana Pollack. Most of the press covering this race whipped it up into a clash of titans. (I like to think I avoided getting sucked in, but maybe not entirely.) The funny thing is, every poll and the final election tally showed Pursell well out in front. In fact, to put it in perspective, Pursell's share of the vote was a little larger than George Bush's over Mike Dukakis — and that race was declared to be over weeks before the election.

- The Department of Natural Resources office in Northville took some flak when it came to light that some calls to a pollution hotline were logged as being handled by Fred Johnson. Only thing was, Fred Johnson doesn't exist, at least not in this reality.

- A local man proposed a huge shrine to the American Indian of somewhere in the area. It would have been a large ring of land with laser beams shooting up into the sky. Undeniably dramatic, but possibly seen as inappropriate for the quiet Northville / Plymouth area. The idea appeared to fall on deaf ears in governmental chambers around the region.

- In what turned out to be a radio station publicity stunt, a stranger drove all around metro Detroit handing out $50 bills. He made two stops in Northville, at Shopping Center Market and outside Crawford's. I don't know about you, but if I was giving out $50 bills, I bet I could find better places to do so than generally-affluent Northville.

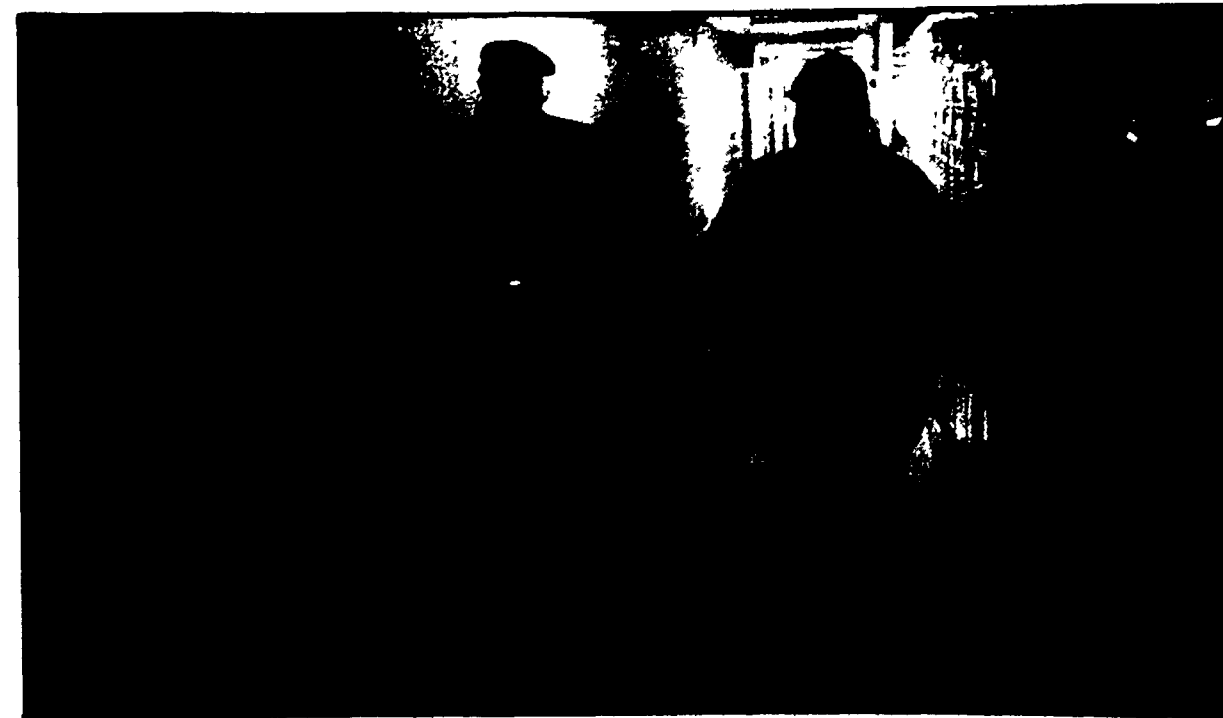

- New city Mayor Chris Johnson actually managed to deliver on his promise of keeping City Council meetings to a 10 p.m. adjournment time, or 10:30 at the latest. The achievement won the respect and thanks of every news reporter who goes to the meetings — all one of us.

- The log books at the city and township police stations recorded all kinds of spooky weirdness, including a jogger who found a homemade bomb, a car stuck in the mud at the bottom of Lake Success, and an incredible number of indecent exposure reports — with an unsettling number of different descriptions of the perpetrators. And believe it or not, some of the strangest stuff never got into the paper.

That's just the tip of the iceberg. I hope the year was good to you, and I hope the next one is even better. Weirdness and all.

That's why it was so unusual to hear Cheryl's name taken in vain. "What's the matter?" I asked. "What has that rotten old Cheryl done now?"

"She sent over two cans of homemade fudge. That's what she did. One peanut butter. One chocolate."

"How could she? What a totally rotten thing to do. You say we've got some of Cheryl's peanut butter fudge stashed away somewhere in the house?"

I found it quickly. I tend to have ESP when peanut butter fudge is concerned. And as soon as I ripped the lid off the tin, I understood why my weight-conscious wife was not at all happy with Cheryl.

"It's half gone," I roared. "Somebody has already eaten half the peanut butter fudge."

"Damn that Cheryl," she said.

"Well, at least we still have the chocolate fudge," I said. But one look in her direction told me that I had jumped to a conclusion prematurely. "We do still have the chocolate fudge, don't we?" I asked.

"There might be a little left," she sighed heavily. "Damn that Cheryl."

After the fact

By Phil Jerome

It's not often that my wife says nasty things about Cheryl, so I was genuinely surprised to hear her take our neighbor's name in vain when I got home from work last night.

"Damn that Cheryl," she said. And it sounded like she meant it, too.

Unkind words about Cheryl are just not heard around our home. After all, Cheryl's a pretty decent neighbor. She helps with the wallpapering, assists with numerous little household chores, invites us over to dinner every so often and is always friendly and cheery.

Development needs to be studied

To the Editor
Our quaint, quiet "bedroom community" image is fast disappearing on us Northville, both city and township, is fast becoming the Canton of the 80s. We're being clustered to death. It appears that this rapid development of condos, townhouses, apartments and single-family homes is almost uncontrolled. Our schools, our roads and our services can't possibly keep up with the pace. One thing for sure, our taxes will keep up because those of us already in place will pay dearly for the future problems resulting from this over-development. Residents of cluster homes do not pay an equitable share of the tax burden. It seems that the aims of aggressive and often greedy, money-hungry developers are more important than the best interests, wishes and future of our own residents and the community. Please note, these developers don't live in Northville. And they're not over-developing or desecrating the land and nature of their own backyards. Rather, they'd bring the congestion, traffic jams, problems and higher taxes to our beautiful community and take the money and run. Maybe we need a public referendum to let us homeowners decide how much, how fast of development we want rather than let these big money brokers influence decisions behind closed doors where few if any of our residents are present. I'm not against smart, well-planned and progressive development, but what we see today is none of the former. Distinct lack of good judgement and foresight seems obvious. Let's slow or stop this unconscionable and excessive rapid development of our community. Why not instead look to developing and improving, even beautifying our community by ridding ourselves of the unsafe, unsightly blighted and abandoned old institution buildings in our Sheldon-Five Mile corridor. Bring in modern, high tech, clean businesses that will not only improve the appearance of that corner of Northville, but will bring in tax revenue so badly needed to relieve homeowners. This development would be removed from our population centers with easy, fast access to M-14 freeway. This development would serve our community far better than more cluster homes. Let's preserve and best serve our community, our image and our future.

Discipline can take on other forms

This is another in the continuing series of columns written for the Record by Mary Ellen King, Director of Northville Youth Assistance.

Most parents discipline children by rewarding them when they obey and punishing them when they disobey. But this method of discipline has certain disadvantages:

- It makes parents responsible for their children's behavior.
- It prevents children from learning to make their own decisions.
- It suggests that acceptable behavior is expected only in the presence of authority figures.
- It invites resistance by attempting to force children to conform.

There is an alternative to the reward and punishment approach in guiding the behavior of children. It is called "natural and logical consequences." This approach is described in The Parents' Handbook authored by Don Dinkmeyer & Gary D. McKay. A natural consequence is something that results from the natural order of events in life. For example, if a teenager forgets his/her lunch, the natural consequence will be hunger. A logical consequence, on the other hand, is associated with a violation of the social order. For example, if a teen brings the family car home late, the logical consequences will be that he/she may not use the car the next night. There are benefits associated with applying a natural and logical consequences approach to guiding behavior:

- It requires children to be responsible for their behavior.
- It motivates children to make responsible decisions, rather than just forcing their submission or obedience.
- As a parent, you talk less and act more.
- It teaches children self-respect and responsibility because the parent is not doing things for children that the children can do for themselves.
- It helps to reduce conflicts.

There are three steps in applying the natural and logical consequences approach. First, choice is essential in using this method. The parent proposes alternatives to the child and then the parent accepts the child's decision. For example, "you may settle down and play the game with us or leave the room. You decide which you'd rather do." Second, after the child is given the choice, they often decide to test the limits. When this happens, let them know that the decision stands, but that they may try again later. For instance, "I see you have decided to leave the room. Feel free to come back when you are ready to settle down." Lastly, if the child continues to misbehave, they are saying they aren't ready to be responsible. For example, "I see that you're still not ready to settle down and have decided to leave the room. You may try again tomorrow night." It is important for parents to be patient since it will take time for natural and logical consequences to be effective. It will require time for a child to change his/her behavior patterns and habits. But as a parent, you can help facilitate that process of change by applying a natural and logical consequences approach. If you have difficulty in applying this method, please call NYA at 344-1618 for assistance and guidance.

I haven't had any sugar in over an hour, so I guess Christmas really is over. Breakfast this morning was a routine bowl of corn flakes. Gone were the tarts that made my Christmas morning begin with a rush. Gone was the pumpkin pie, the whip cream, the egg nog and the cookies. Hello January, here we come. It's traditional for people to look back as 1988 fades away and I'm a traditionalist so here goes. Things that we covered in Northville that made me feel good in 1988: For the most part it was the people. The best and the worst parts of any job boil down to the people with whom you deal every day. This year the good definitely outweighed the bad. Starting as editor in April meant a change for us all. The traditional groups in Northville took some getting used to. I mean, first I had to learn to spell Woman's Club correctly (never Women's Club—however if you're speaking about the Kings Mill Women's Club, well that's different). There are two garden clubs in Northville, and the right activities must be associated with the right club. There's the Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association and the Country Girls branch. There are what seem to be hundreds of individual Quaker groups in Northville and a Mothers' Club and... well for the first couple of months it all sort of blurred together. But then the clubs became more than just names. Suddenly there were faces and voices and nice people that came into focus when I thought of the group. The Mothers' Club meant Judy Bartling and Marilyn Robison who always take my calls and help me find other Northville moms who can help. The Country Girls branch meant Pat Eden's laugh as she and Judy Beyersdorf taught Chris Boyd about ground cover through the Garden of the Month feature. The Northville Branch meant a beautiful handmade Christmas wreath for my door by Molly Manley and calls from Barbara O'Brien. The Historical Society meant dedicated volunteers like Ruth Simmons. Suddenly Novi Youth Assistance took on a face with weekly columns by Mary Ellen King. Northville schools' Charlie Stilec and concerned resident Roxanne Casterline gave life to the substance abuse battle in Northville. And more than just the organized groups were regular people who I met through interviews or in the grocery store. Tired from a week of late nights I drove to Silver Springs to take pictures of the annual Cub Scout Pine Wood Derby. Never having been a cub scout I guess I expected a couple of kids in blue and a few dads playing with cars. I didn't expect a crowded room with parents, siblings, grandparents and neighbors all chanting for their favorites. That's Northville. Two of the nicest people I met this year were Laura and Fred Hicks. Laura won Citizen of the Year honors from the Northville Chamber of Commerce. When husband Fred said she'd always been Woman of the Year with him and added "She's my best friend." I knew he meant it. That's a relationship to strive for. The best part of the job has to be the people. Here's to 1989 and a whole new list of names.

Tug your boots on Pull the warm wooly hat, mittens and scarf out of hiding. Old Man Winter is here. The same snowy weather that causes headaches for commuters makes for a lot of recreational fun for outdoor enthusiasts. As snowflakes cover the green, green grass in your backyard, don't fill your head with visions of heading to the sunny South. And don't make plans to hibernate for the winter.

It's time to drag out the sleds, toboggans, snowshoes, ice skates, skis, and snowmobiles. If none of the winter sports appeal to you, try building a snowman or even an ice sculpture. Or simply strolling through a winter wonderland can prove calming on a pleasant winter afternoon.

Several area parks and resorts provide trails for sledding, snowmobiling and skiing as well as rinks for ice skating and hockey.

Try skiing at one of the ski resorts in southeast Michigan — Alpine Valley and Highland Recreation Area, both in Milford, Mt. Brighton in Brighton, Mt. Holly in Holly, Pine Knob in Clarkston, or Riverview Highlands in Riverview. Vertical drops are 200-350 feet and night skiing is often available. Lift fees range from $5 to $18 at the resorts.

If you're interested in traveling farther east or west to ski, there are resorts scattered throughout the state — Bintz Apple Mountain in Freeland; Hanson Hills in Grayling; Bittersweet in Otsego; Boyne Highlands in Harbor Springs; Boyne Mountain in Boyne Falls; Caberfae in Cadillac; Cannonsburg in Belmont; Crystal Mountain in Thompsonville; Hickory Hills in Traverse City; Nub's Nob in Harbor Springs; Pando in Rockford; Shanty Creek in Bellaire; Sugar Loaf in Cedar and Timber Ridge in Gobles, just to name a few.

Cross-country skiers will find plenty of wide open spaces to glide through at Kensington Metro Park, Maybury State Park and at local golf courses that allow the winter sport. For those who don't own a pair of cross-country skis, rentals are available at many of the areas that offer trails.

Highland Recreation Area in Milford, Mt. Holly in Holly, Pine Knob in Clarkston and Riverview Highlands in Riverview also offer cross-country skiing trails.

Ice skaters can enjoy their hobby at outdoor rinks in the area. Two outdoor rinks — one for skating and one for hockey — are planned at Power Park, behind the Novi Civic Center, on the south side of Ten Mile Road east of Taft Road. Information on Power Park rinks including ice conditions will be updated daily on the Novi Parks and Recreation hotline, 347-0473.

Other outdoor sites include two cleared areas on Wilcox Pond, off of Northville Road below Five Mile Road, and the pond at Maybury State Park on Eight Mile. Call 261-1990 to ask about ice conditions on Wilcox Pond and 349-8390 to inquire about ice conditions at Maybury.

Skaters who prefer an indoor ice rink may find the Plymouth Ice Arena more suitable to their liking. The area has open skating time every day of the week but Saturday. Call 455-6620 for more information on times and costs.

Trails are available for snowmobiling at many area state parks. A minimum of four inches of snow is necessary for the sport so you may want to call ahead to check on conditions before gassing up and heading out.

Snowmobile trails can be found at state parks in Holly, near Pontiac, where there is 1,870 acres of trails; Bald Mountain, near Pontiac, where there is 2,800 acres; Pontiac Lake, 3,500 acres; Highland, near New Hudson, 3,600 acres; Dodge Park No. 4, near Pontiac, 130 acres; Brighton, 3,820 acres; Island Lake, near Brighton, 3,100 acres; Pinckney, near Gregory, 5,500 acres.

Superfisky volunteers for educational group

By DOROTHY NASH

"We're just getting off the ground," commented Fil Superfisky about the Novi Educational Fund, of which he is one of the seven voting trustees.

The purpose of the fund, he said, is "to provide enhancement to education in the Novi community" — education from pre-school on up indefinitely. And it is funded by contributions which people make, tax deductible, in the form of money or saleable property, for educational purposes.

Sometimes donors provide scholarships and "with strings attached," Superfisky said. For example, one was designated for a student with athletic prowess and average grades. Another was for a student who is going to work his way through college.

The fund is also for individuals who have dropped out of school and now want to return but need financial help.

It's for teachers who, Superfisky suggested, "have a wonderful idea but can't get the money from the school board to finance it. If we think it has merit, we can fund it as a pilot project. Then, if it is successful, we can turn it over to the school board."

The fund is also for general community interest. In illustration, he said, "Last year someone from 4-H wanted to do a one-day pioneer festival, going back to Novi roots." There was sheep-shearing, yarn-spinning and loom-weaving, plus candle-making and bread-baking. "We funded it because of the educational aspect."

In other words, Superfisky said, "We're a source of money, and we look for a place in the community where we can place it."

And he said also that anyone interested in learning more about the Novi Educational Fund is welcome to come to the trustees meetings which are held at 7 a.m. on the second Tuesday of each month.

MR. AND MRS. TIMOTHY GORDEN

Northville woman wed

The Shrine Chapel of Our Lady of Orchard Lake served as the setting for the Oct. 1 wedding of Lisa Brownell of Northville to Chris McCormick of Akron, Ohio.

Parents of the bride are Doris and Wallace Frederic Brownell of Northville. Parents of the bridegroom are Colleen and Gordon McCormick of Northville.

The 4 p.m. wedding featured a double-ring ceremony, officiated by Father Edward Haggerty, pastor of the Shrine of the Little Flower in Royal Oak. A Williamsburg theme was carried throughout the wedding, with Williamsburg blue lace and white as the colors. Bows decorated all of the pews in the church.

The bride wore a silk taffeta gown accented with pearls and Alencon lace. A large bow highlighted the back of the waistline and smaller bows ran down the back of the dress.

Maid of honor was Linda Gleeson, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Linda Whitaker of California, Luan Vaughn of Kalamazoo, Karen Sledz and Colleen Ulrey of Northville, and Martha Chapelsky of Ann Arbor. All wore off-the-shoulder Williamsburg blue dresses with bows at the back to match the bridal gown.

The bride's attendants carried white flowers with Williamsburg blue lace streamers interspersed with Williamsburg blue dry flowers amongst fresh white roses and stephanoses.

Best man was Christopher Bedford of Northville. Ushers were Rick Ulrey, the groom's brother-in-law; Jim Gleeson, the bride's brother-in-law; Mike Van Buren of Northville, Scott Kern of Pennsylvania and Julian Garcia of Ohio.

A reception followed the wedding at the Links at Pinewood, attended by 230 guests. Music was provided by The Peoples Choice. The reception hall was decorated with white and Williamsburg blue lace centerpieces with candles, carrying the wedding theme throughout the evening.

A trolley decorated with bows and bells was provided for the wedding party to be transported from the church to the Links at Pinewood.

The couple honeymooned in Maui for nine days.

High school sweethearts, the couple attended Northville High School's 1982 Senior Prom. They continued to date while attending college until their recent marriage.

The bride received a doctor of pharmacy degree from the University of Michigan in May. She works as a medical writer specializing in research at Park Davis.

The groom received a degree in mechanical engineering in 1986 and is employed at Kelsey Hayes as a design engineer.

The couple reside in Ann Arbor.

Couple exchange vows

Karla Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Allen of Saginaw, was wed to Timothy Gorden, son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Gorden of Northville on Oct. 8.

The 4 p.m. wedding took place at Brightmoor Tabernacle in Southfield. Pastor Thomas E. Trask officiating. During the double-ring, candlelight ceremony, Stephanie Gorden, sister-in-law of the groom; and Michael Shepherd, cousin of the bride; sang "The Household of Faith," and Mrs. Jude Gorden, mother of the groom; sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride wore a floor-length gown with billowing sleeves, highlighted with a romantic ruffle framing the shoulders. Ruffles adorned the hem, leading to a semi-cathedral train. Embroidered medallions and hand beading accented the crystal organza skirt.

She also wore a beaded floral wreath with a waist-length veil studded with beads and carried a crescent bouquet of satin gardenias, miniature carnations, roses and stephanotis accented with ivy.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Robert (Susan) Darrow of Dearborn, sister of the groom. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Michael (Stephanie) Gorden of Milford, sister-in-law of the groom; Mrs. Dale (Debbie) Meyer of Bridgeport; Mrs. David (Linda) Pascany of Berkley; Mrs. Thomas (Lana) Henderson of Brighton and Mrs. Michael (Laura) Shepherd of Berkley, all cousins of the bride.

All of the bride's attendants wore sweetheart tea-length dresses of gold lame with detachable, puffy sleeves. They carried arm bouquets of teal and creme satin roses highlighted with stephanotis and alstroemeria.

Deanna Meyer of Bridgeport, cousin of the bride; and Nicole Gorden of Milford, niece of the groom; served as flowergirls.

Michael Gorden of Milford, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Robert Darrow of Dearborn, brother-in-law of the groom; Keith Assenmacher, Charlie Cassidy, Michael Doheny and Tom Ross, all of Northville.

J.B. Bonogna of Birmingham and Dale Meyer of Bridgeport, cousins of the bride, served as ushers. Acting ringbearer was Derrick Meyer of Bridgeport, also a cousin of the bride. Following the wedding a reception was held at Meadowbrook Country Club in Northville, attended by 250 guests.

The couple honeymooned for two weeks in Hawaii and Seattle, Wash. The bride is employed at Ford Motor Company.

A 1978 graduate of Northville High School, the groom is also employed at Ford Motor Company. The couple reside in Farmington Hills.

Chargers comeback, top Mustangs, 56-46

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

With a 3-3 record at the holiday break, Northville basketball Coach Omar Harrison had a nice Christmas. A year ago, Harrison's crew had an 0-6 mark at the same stage of the season.

But the best present of them all never arrived for the coach when the Mustangs blew a big early lead and fell to WLA rival Livonia Churchill 56-46 on Dec. 22. Northville was forced to play the game without second-leading scorer Rob Walsh, who was out with an injury.

"I certainly feel a lot better at this time than I did last year," Harrison admitted. "But I would feel a lot better if we'd have won the Churchill game."

The first and second halves of the clash were like two separate games. The Mustangs dominated things in the early going, jumping out to a 15-8 lead after one quarter a 26-14 advantage at the half.

"We played a pretty good first half, and that was good because Walsh didn't even dress and House barely played in the second quarter," Harrison said.

House suffered two quick fouls in the first quarter and sat out the rest of the half. Defensively, Harrison called for a box-and-one set to try and negate Churchill's leading scorer Jason Belaire — and it worked well.

But Northville came out ice cold in the third quarter and that's where the Chargers made a move. While the Mustangs were hitting only one field goal the entire quarter, Churchill was red hot from the field and also from the free throw line, canning 9-of-10.

"I don't know what happened," Harrison said. "(Churchill) scored three quick baskets and we lost the momentum. And when that happens, your shot goes sometimes, and that's what happened to us."

"I don't know what happened. (Churchill) scored three quick baskets and we lost the momentum. And when that happens, your shot goes sometimes, and that's what happened to us."

— Omar Harrison
Mustang Basketball Coach

A 21-5 scoring discrepancy put Churchill in front 35-31 heading into the fourth, and a 21-15 advantage for the Chargers the rest of the way wrapped up the road victory. The visitors continued their dead-eye shooting, nailing 11-of-13 free throws down the stretch. Churchill ended up with 13 more free throws than the Mustangs.

"They adjusted to our defense in the second half and we must have not played smart on defense," Harrison said. "I never dreamed the kids would have a second half like that."

Heath Myers led Northville with 13 points, including four, three-pointers. Joe Kaley added 11 but House was held to eight and fouled out midway through the fourth. Belaire led the Chargers with 15.

NORTHVILLE 57, WALLED LAKE CENTRAL 50: It wasn't very pretty, and the Mustangs didn't play the best game of the year, but it was a seven-point WLA victory over the Vikings nevertheless.

Northville got off to a slow start in this game on Dec. 20, and the main culprit was Central's Dave Nelson, who canned four, three-pointers in the first quarter. Harrison then deployed the box-and-one defense and it cooled him off, but the Vikings were already ahead 18-10.

"Nelson's shooting kept them pretty healthy," Harrison said. "After we went to the box-and-one, Nelson only had eight the rest of the way — that was the key to the ball game."

The Mustang defense stiffened in the second and held Central without a single field goal in eight minutes of play. It helped Northville outscore the Vikings 15-5 in the quarter and move to a 25-23 lead at intermission.

After an evenly played third quarter, the Mustangs held off any rally by hitting seven-of-eight free throws after resorting to a mini-stall. In that same span, Central managed to hit just one-of-six.

"We really didn't play a very good game, but I guess we played well enough to win," Harrison said. "I think the kids were looking forward to the vacation and didn't come completely ready to play."

Heath Myers had another good game with 16 points and eight rebounds. Point guard Mike Karfis chipped in with his best game of the season, scoring 16, dishing out six assists and nabbing six steals. House lead all rebounders with 10 but only had seven points.

Walsh injured his ankle in the first quarter, came back for a minute or so in the third quarter but was unable to play effectively.

Northville spikers trounce Wildcats in season opener

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Northville spikers opened their season on Dec. 19 against a Novi squad that's been in action since early December. But the Wildcats looked like the team without previous meet experience as the Mustangs cruised to a 15-2, 15-12 non-conference victory.

The two teams agreed ahead of time to play a total of four games in order to get an extra work-out, and in games three and four, Northville also prevailed 15-3, 15-7.

"We wanted to play an extra couple of games to get more practice in and get some things ironed out," Mustang Coach Paul Osborn said.

In game one, Northville jumped out to an 8-0 lead thanks to some very consistent and effective serving. After scoring two points, Novi gave up five more points on one service rotation to make it 12-2 and then the Mustangs closed it out with three more points.

Game two was much more competitive as Osborn made some wholesale substitutions and had his second team in almost the entire game. The 'Cats started to play much better and built an 8-2 lead before Sue LaPrad served for seven straight Northville points. Novi made another run to go ahead 11-8 but it quickly disappeared when Neysa Colizzi served for five straight points. The Mustangs outscored the Wildcats 2-1 the rest of the way to win the match.

"The scores didn't show how well we played," Novi Coach Amy Rademacher said. "We had some good volleys but we made some silly mistakes — especially in the first game. We became more aggressive in the second game — we blocked and hit a little better."

Osborn was very pleased with his team's serving (85-for-94 — 90 percent) and hitting accuracy (85 percent), but other areas like setting and serve reception still need a lot of work.

"Certain aspects like serving and hitting were very good for a season opener," he said. "We won the match at the service line. But the setting was weak. Our efficiency rating was only 68 percent and that's not good."

"Certain aspects like serving and hitting were very good for a season opener. We won the match at the service line."

— Paul Osborn
Mustang Volleyball Coach

And our serve reception wasn't good at all. We had 48 ball-handling errors.

"Our hitting percentage was better than it was all of last year, so obviously the hitters did a good job with the good sets they got."

Jenny Urbahns and Debbie Stevens led Northville up front. Urbahns was 11-for-13 in the hitting department with four kills and Stevens was a perfect 9-for-9 with four kills. The team's top servers were Colizzi (19-of-21), LaPrad (16-of-17) and Jill Connell (11-of-11 and two aces).

For the first time after four matches this season, Novi (1-3 overall, 0-2 in the KVC) didn't name an MVP after the competition.

"I was pleased the way we passed and set but (Northville) had some good diggers and that negated our hitting," Rademacher said. "Our serving wasn't great — nothing to brag about."

Both squads are now off for the holidays. Novi's next match is Jan. 4 at Howell. Northville will get back in action on Jan. 7 at the Walled Lake Invite.

"I'm looking forward to the break," Rademacher said. "We need time to work on our weaknesses. I think we have a good base, now we need to mix it up and get a little tricky."

Osborn is also happy for the time off.

"We're revamping our offense around one setter instead of two, so we welcome the break," he said.

Record/THOM DOUGHERTY

Grapplers roll

Junior Curtis Cureton (top) helped the Northville wrestling squad raise its season record to 4-1 overall, 2-1 in the WLA, last week. The Mustangs topped both New Boston Huron and Ypsilanti Lincoln on Dec. 20 in a double-dual meet and then turned back Plymouth Canton in a key Western Division showdown on Dec. 22. Northville gets back into action on Jan. 5 in Brighton to take on the Bulldogs.

Tips given on how to beat the holiday blues

By SYLVA DVORAK, M.D.

The holidays are a time for family gatherings, parties, merriment and fun.

Added to our already busy schedule, most of us are trying to keep up with all the preparations and holiday activities. The added stress, last minute rushing around, fighting the shopping mall crowds and high hopes for a "perfect" holiday all can cause what's known as the "holiday blues."

Symptoms of holiday blues include:

- Depression, that can cause changes in sleep patterns.
- Nervousness.
- Anxiety.

- Feelings of loneliness.
- Lethargy.

But don't let the holiday blues spoil your visions of sugar plums — there are ways for you to avoid being caught up in finishing your 1988 preparations, projects and "to-do" lists.

Holiday blues beaters:

- Help someone less fortunate than yourself.
- Contribute cans of food and toys to your local food and toy drives.
- Volunteer some time to the Salvation Army. They are extremely busy serving meals during the holidays and the satisfaction in helping someone else may be the best holiday gift of all.
- Be sure to spend some valuable time with your family and friends, or give them a phone call — don't let loneliness take over.

- Exercise regularly; exercise reduces stress and fights fatigue.
- Don't strive for perfection; delegate responsibilities.
- Don't overeat or drink; avoid the guilt association with over-indulging.
- Remember the motto: "It's the thought that counts" — spend within your budget.
- Use the season to do something you want to do. Most of all, take the time to enjoy the holiday season. Remember that the purpose of the season is to get together with family and friends. Go to a shopping mall, sit down and watch everyone rush around. You'll be so glad you're not.

Unbeaten tankers hold off Stevenson

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Northville swimmers knew they'd have to swim fast to be in a position to top Livonia Stevenson on Dec. 22 — and they did it.

The upstart Mustangs stayed close to traditionally powerful Stevenson for most of the meet and then snatched the victory away with a first-place finish in the final event of the meet — the 400-yard freestyle relay. The team of Brad Cook, Jason Stringer, Eric Newton and Bob Holdridge took the honors in a time of 3:31.70. The Mustangs ended up winning 90-62.

"It came down to the last relay," Northville Coach Mark Heiden said. "We needed to win the race to win the meet and we ended up first and third. A second and third would have tied it."

The other winners included Newton in the 200 IM (2:04.61) and the 100 backstroke (59.27), Rob Devyak in diving (224.00 point total) and Holdridge in the 500 freestyle (5:15.83).

The most impressive effort may have been by senior John Warren, who placed second in the 100 breast stroke with a personal best time of 1:07.56. Although he was touched out for first by four-hundredths of a second, it was the third time in the past week that Warren had set a personal record in the event. The other Mustang seconds came from Holdridge in the 200 freestyle (1:56.6), Steve Lang in diving (192.00) and Cook in the 100 butterfly (59.27). The Northville thirds included Andy Wayne in the 50 freestyle (24.58) and 100 backstroke (1:03.98), Stringer in the 100 butterfly (1:00.96), Dave Morante in the 100 freestyle (54.66), Chris Handyside in the 500 freestyle (5:30.42) and Matt Hanna in the 100 breast stroke (1:10.73).

"It's a great win for us," Heiden said. "We're now 3-0 heading into the holiday break and it gives us a lot of positive momentum."

"The guys are swimming faster than I expected they would at this point."

NORTHVILLE 53, YPSILANTI 30: The Mustangs won only six of the 11 races but did show some unexpected depth, taking a number of seconds and thirds to top the Bravess on Dec. 20.

"It wasn't as close as I thought it would be," Heiden said. "I was pleased with all our swims."

The winners included Holdridge in the 200 freestyle (1:56.52), Newton in the 200 IM (2:13.37) and 100 backstroke (59.22), Devyak in diving (229.38), Handyside in the 500 freestyle (5:29.82) and the 400 freestyle relay team of Holdridge, Cook, Handyside and Newton (3:34.52).

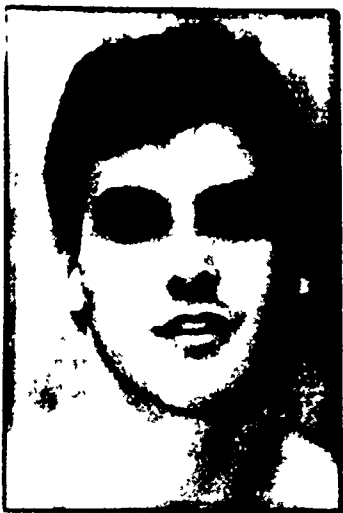

The Mustang runner-up finishes came from Wayne in the 50 freestyle (24.94) and the 100 backstroke (1:05.47), Lang in diving (198.40), Cook in the 100 butterfly (59.32), Holdridge in the 100 freestyle (53.05), Matt Van Horn in the 500 freestyle (5:36.13), Warren in the 100 breast stroke (1:08.43). The Northville thirds included Hanna in the 100 breast stroke (1:10.85), Stringer in the 100 butterfly (1:02.00), Morante in the 50 freestyle (25.06), Warren in the 200 IM (2:14.69) and Handyside in the 200 freestyle (1:52.96).

Mustangs of the Week

JOHN WARREN

John Warren has shown incredible improvement in the pool so far this season. The senior swimming co-captain has been especially impressive in the 100-yard breast stroke, where he's had three consecutive personal best times in the span of one week for Northville. That's why Warren has been chosen as a 'Mustang of the Week.' In a crucial 90-82 win over Livonia Stevenson last Thursday, Warren placed second in the breast stroke in 1:07.56 — just four-hundredths of a second out of first. Two days earlier, Warren was also second in the event against Ypsilanti, but he clocked in at 1:08.43 — at the time a personal best. Northville won that meet 53-30.

MIKE KARFIS

Northville basketball Coach Omar Harrison knows that his point guard — senior Mike Karfis — can be a fine high school player as long as he doesn't try to do too much. In prep action last week, Karfis played within himself and still had a fine all-around week. For that reason, Karfis is one of our 'Mustangs of the Week.' Against Walled Lake Central, Karfis had a team-high 16 points, six assists and six steals. Two days later against Livonia Churchill, Karfis added six points, six assists and four steals. "To get that kind of production out of a point guard is very good," Harrison said.

Hunters set harvest record

The 1988 firearm hunting season set a new harvest record of 289,000 deer, exceeding last year's take of 257,380.

Poor weather during much of the season held the harvest below the expected take of 321,000 deer.

Tests conducted by the Michigan Department of Public Health at the highway deer biological stations showed no "Ixodes ticks" (lyme disease carrying ticks) were found on the 4,157 deer examined.

"This confirms our belief that there is little, if any, danger of contracting lyme disease during deer hunting season," said Dr. Stephen M. Schmitt, Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Wildlife Veterinarian.

Overall, there were more firearm hunters this year, and hunter attitude was excellent despite the bad weather, according to the DNR.

Deer were in excellent shape and will be entering the winter in a healthy condition in spite of this year's severe drought.

"We are very pleased with the hunters' success," said Director David F. Hales of the DNR. "The deer hunting season is far from over, and we are certain the economic benefit to local communities and the State of Michigan will be significant."

Archery deer hunting season began again Dec. 1 and will end Jan. 1. The muzzle-loading season is Dec. 2-11 in the Upper Peninsula and Dec. 9-18 in the Lower Peninsula. About 50,000 archers and 100,000 muzzle-loaders were expected to participate in the December seasons.

Hunting pressure was lighter during firearm season on public lands than last year and about the same on private lands. Antler development was very good — many 1½-year-olds had six- and eight-point racks.

Specialization's a winning formula for Mr. Muffler

New franchise opens doors in South Lyon

By JEFF CLEMENS

When Jim Oz purchased his first Mr. Muffler shop in February 1983, he didn't claim to be an automotive wizard. But a lot of things have changed for Oz since then.

"When I first got into the business, I didn't know very much about cars," admitted Oz, the co-owner of a new Mr. Muffler shop at 333 South Lafayette Street in South Lyon.

"I now get involved in the day-to-day operations, and I feel that is the best way to know what is going on."

Along with partner Art Zech, Oz opened his third Mr. Muffler on Nov. 14, taking over the building that used to house The Autocrafters.

Zech takes care of the bookkeeping end of Mr. Muffler, while it is Oz's job to handle the everyday management of the business. He said he's been incredibly pleased by the way he has been treated by the community.

"We've had a very good reception. Everyone we have met in the town has been really friendly," Oz said.

Oz and Zech aren't content with only their Farmington, Southfield and South Lyon shops, however. They are planning to open another in June. Their Farmington shop has been one of the most highly rated in terms of customer satisfaction in the 33-store Mr. Muffler chain, according to Oz. He credits his success to his shop's work ethic.

"Give us a chance to do something for you and we'll bend over backward to get it done," he said.

A graduate of Eastern Michigan University where he obtained a degree in business management, Oz first found work with the Ford Motor Co. in 1979. After being laid off from that job and others, he was frustrated by what he perceived to be a lack of job security.

"The reason I bought into the chain was that I was tired of getting laid off," stated Oz.

Mr. Muffler is an automotive specialty shop that focuses on only four areas of automotive care: exhaust systems, brakes, suspension systems and wheel alignments. The shop has been completely renovated and equipped with the latest in accurate computer technology.

The business offers a one-year warranty on general parts and labor and a 90-day warranty on brake parts and labor. Mr. Muffler also backs a lifetime warranty offered by the manufacturers on brake pads and shoes, shocks and mufflers.

Oz maintains that the ability to specialize, along with competitive prices and major brand names, is the reason Mr. Muffler is efficient.

"I felt we're servicing a need for people who need to get in and out," said Oz. "Because we're a specialty shop, we can get our job done faster."

Jerry Feld, manager of the South Lyon Mr. Muffler, believes specialization has other advantages besides the obvious.

"We're not out to take away anybody's business," said Feld, who has been in automotive management for 10 years. "If anything, we're here to help them. Because we're a specialty shop, we can take some of the work that they may not have time for."

Although there is another new auto shop in town, Action Auto, Oz claims his business hasn't been affected by the competition. Action Auto is a general service shop that also offers the four areas of service that Mr.

Jerry Feld, manager at Mr. Muffler in South Lyon, surveys the suspension system of a vehicle Muffler does.

While many other merchants have opened stores in the most congested places in the Detroit area, Oz said he prefers to stick to the west side and the suburbs.

"We're looking for places exactly like South Lyon," said Oz, who will soon be moving from Canton Township to Northville. "It's a very tight-knit community and the people are very environmentally concerned."

"I want to be a part of the community and I want to give something back to the community. The growth potential is phenomenal," said Oz.

Customer service is also important to Feld. "The customer always comes first and is always correct," he said.

Evidently that attitude is shared by many of Oz's employees. He claims that none of his workers have worked for him less than two years before leaving. In an industry with a very high turnover rate, Oz believes it is a credit to his abilities as an owner.

Oz attributes the high turnover rate in the business to starting salaries that don't pay much and inadequate benefits. He believes one reason he has kept his employees is that he pays well and offers a good health package.

"That's the secret to my success," said Oz. "Good people who are honest and hard-working."

The South Lyon Mr. Muffler is open Monday and Friday from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m., Tuesday through Thursday from 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and Saturday from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. For more information call 437-7033.

Economists predict growth in non-manufacturing jobs

Manufacturing jobs will continue to decline in Michigan's economy in 1989, but won't be as bad as unemployment levels predicted in the past. According to the predictions of the University of Michigan's 38th annual Con- Economic Outlook, the economy will grow at two years, but at a rate mirroring the pro- growth of the national economy according to the U-M forecast.

George A. Fulton, Saul and Janet C. Wolfe, projects wage and salary employment in the state to grow by 1.8 percent in 1989, spurred by some recovery in manufacturing jobs and continued gains in non-manufacturing jobs.

Job growth will slow to 1.2 percent in 1990, due to some retrenchment in manufacturing and continued slowing in the non-manufacturing sector.

The state's heavy losses in high-paying manufacturing jobs over the last decade are being offset by growth in Michigan's non-manufacturing industries, according to the U-M economists.

While many of the new jobs fall into lower-wage categories, substantial growth has also occurred in medium-wage industries, including plastic products, furniture and fixtures, air transportation, and business and professional services.

The strength of Michigan's non-manufacturing sectors indicates that Michigan's long quest for a diversified economy finally is being realized, they said. This restructuring "allowed the Michigan economy to outperform its neighboring states and the nation as a whole in employment gains since 1982."

Despite the gains, unemployment in Michigan will increase from 7.6 percent in 1988 to 7.8 percent in 1989 and 8.6 percent in 1990 because the slowing pace in employment growth will be inadequate to absorb the growth in the labor force, according to the U-M economists.

Manufacturing jobs are forecast to increase in number by 0.8 percent in 1989, compared with a 3.3 percent decline estimated for 1988. All of this gain will be forfeited in 1990, however, in part due to automotive plant closings anticipated in 1989, they said.

Government employment is expected to grow at a steady rate over the next two years, despite the weakening of the economy, because of the large but temporary influx of jobs associated with the national census.

Meanwhile, the private non-manufacturing sector will continue to grow but at a slower pace. Following a 2.7 percent gain this year, non-manufacturing jobs will increase in number by 2.1 percent in 1989 and by 1.8 percent in 1990.

Personal income growth will slow from 7 percent this year to 6.5 percent in 1989 and to 4.4 percent in 1990. Purchasing power — real disposable income — will increase only 1.1 percent in 1989 and decline by 1 percent in 1990, after increasing 3.6 percent this year, according to the forecast.

The U-M economists expect the state's general fund general purpose tax revenues to increase by 5.9 percent for fiscal year 1989 and by 4.8 percent for 1990, driven by growth in income tax revenues. Consumption tax revenues also will rise, responding to gains in income.

Business taxes collected by the state are expected to increase 6.8 percent in fiscal 1989 and 6.9 percent in 1990, "reflecting a strengthening of motor vehicle manufacturing and a higher level of industry efficiency following the plant closings."

Metro Detroit area housing costs remain well below national levels

Offering an offer to relocate to the metropolitan area, Metro residents might find that substantial pay increase will offset increased housing costs.

Current median home price around $72,000 remains well below the $91,600 national median in a recent survey," said Pickett, president of the state's largest multi-service.

Prices in 36 of the 61 other cities included in the survey, run into the highest median, as recorded last year to California's Orange County home in the San Francisco Bay area.

York, it would be $194,000 and $182,000 in Boston.

She said two of the most attractive areas around the nation in terms of median home prices are here in Michigan — Lansing at $57,800 and Grand Rapids at $58,300. The lowest median across the nation was the $54,100 found in Louisville, Kentucky.

"Of course, there are any number of other factors in considering offers requiring relocation including household costs such as utilities," Pickett said. "We find more people now are consulting Realtors about comparative living costs before making a final decision than ever before."

"While we appreciate listing the home they may leave, we also like to help them examine their options so they can negotiate an adequate reward for accepting the move."

As both a Realtor and a homeowner, Pickett said she believes buying a home is a good investment for most relocating persons if they expect to remain in the new area a number of years.

"Home prices are continuing to rise in nearly all areas of the country, so equity is built up faster than is reflected by payments made," she said. "A local homeowner selling and using equity built up over a number of years might be able to afford a significant move up the housing ladder by remaining in this area."

"Using the same amount of acquired equity in one of the more expensive areas, however, might result in affordability of only equal or even lesser housing unless substantially more income was available," she added.

Wayne State schedules workshop

Wayne State University School of Business will host a free workshop to help you start or run a small business. The workshop is scheduled for January 18, at 7 p.m. The location is located at 14707 Woodward.

The workshop will cover such topics as the hottest businesses for 1989, how to slash hundreds off your taxes, the 20 biggest pitfalls in starting and running a small business, and how to start your business with very little cash.

The two-hour, free workshop is open to the public. Seating is limited, so people should come early to insure a space.

Wayne State has presented its "shirt-sleeve" workshops for over 6 years and helped thousands of individuals transform their ideas into growing businesses.

This is the first time this workshop will be presented in the Plymouth area during 1989. It will include all the latest tax law changes

1988 YEAR IN REVIEW

Fall Sports

Football: The final picture of the Northville season is a pretty one — a crowd of players, coaches and assorted fans on the home field, arms raised in victory.

Northville won that final game against a previously unbeaten Novi team that went on to the semi-finals in the state. The score was 23-18 and gave the Mustangs possession of the first year of the "Baseline Jug", the new annual trophy for the winner of the Novi/Northville game.

Overall, though, the season was a less than perfect one. The Mustangs failed to break the .500 level, but their 4-5 overall record was a tremendous improvement over the last two years.

Northville hung tough against big opponents like North Farmington and Harrison and managed a convincing 13-0 Homecoming win against Walled Lake Western.

Northville contributed two players to the All-Conference team, seniors Mike Hale and Mike Karfis. Seniors Todd Daniels, Sam Khashan, and junior Rob Spradlin were given All-Division honors.

Girls Basketball: This team had no trouble setting records. Most wins — 16. Fewest losses — 7. Most points in a season — 1,227. Longest winning streak — 6. The Mustangs also were district finalists for only the third time and won the South Lyon Tournament for the first time.

Debbie Stevens and Karen Baird were instrumental in leading the way toward the records. Both broke the previous school record for points in a season and combined to average 32 of the team's 54 points per game.

Stevens led the team in scoring, rebounding and field goal shooting while Baird was tops in assists, steals and three-point shooting. Senior Heather Sixt added 8.2 points, 3.7 steals, and 3.6 assists per game. Guard Sue LaPrad was valuable on the defensive end of the court and sophomore forward Kate Holstein came on in the last half of the season.

Of Northville's seven losses, five were by eight points or less and four were by three points or less. Two defeats came against Canton (who ended the season with 19 victories) and Plymouth Salem (18 victories and a district title), one each to Walled Lake Western (district title), Livonia Franklin (district title) and Walled Lake Central (16 wins).

In non-conference games the Mustangs were undefeated.

Girls Tennis: The Mustang squad wrapped up yet another winning season with an overall 10-3 record.

Extremely close losses to Plymouth Salem, North Farmington and Livonia Stevenson were the only down spots for the team. Northville won its third consecutive Western Division title, but was put out of the running for the conference title by the three losses.

Northville won nine of its first 10 dual meets before dropping two 4-3 matches in a row. Despite placing second in the WLAA Meet, Northville had to settle for third overall because of the dual meet defeats.

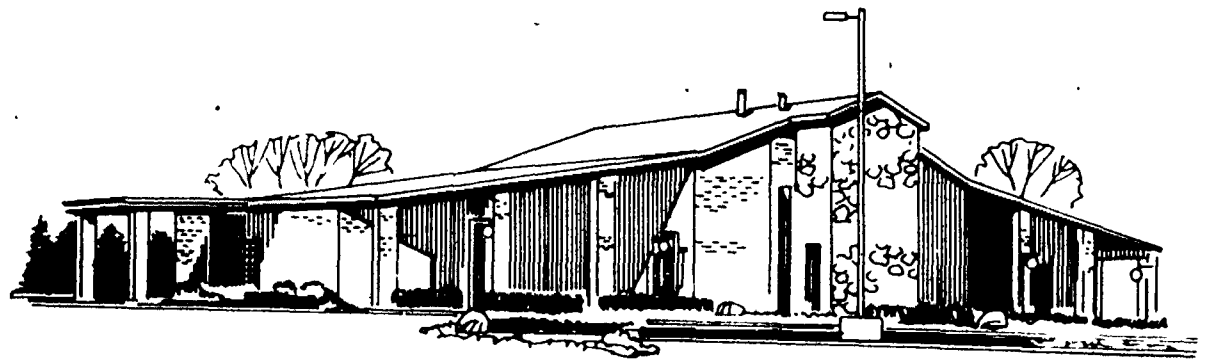

In Regional action Northville had three champions, just like last year, but failed to make the State meet.

Senior Adrienne Edwards had her best season at No. 1 singles with a fine 10-3 record. Her twin sister Abby was a perfect 12-0 on the year at No. 2 and added a conference and a regional title to her list of accomplishments.

Sophomore Karen Vogt was also 12-0 and grabbed conference and regional honors at No. 3 singles. Dianne Vogt was 8-4 overall at No. 4 singles.

In doubles the No. 1 team of Neysa Colizzi and Jackie Trausch were 8-5. Merilynn Millgard and Jennifer Juhasz were 10-3 at No. 2 as was the third doubles team of Kavitha Sriraman and Lisa Hanson.

Planners — Both the township and city got new planning officials during the year.

In the city, the resignation of longtime planner Ron Nino touched off a search that ended in March with the hiring of Ann Arbor firm Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May. The company's Don Wortman took over for Nino as city planning consultant.

In the township, Director of Community Development Matt Modrack resigned effective in February to take a similar position with the City of Lapeer. The township replaced him with new Planning Director Carol Henry, who had previously worked with the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

Michael Legg — The Northville Township resident made news throughout much of the presidential campaign. A Jack Kemp supporter and chairperson of the Second District Republican Organization, he was in the thick of the party bickering and state convention flaps.

The Gift of Flight — This Olympics of the Mind team from Meads Mill Middle School made the whole district shine with pride after a first-place finish in Michigan and a runner-up position nationally. Team members were Mark Belonga, Richard Bell, Joel Elsesser, Ross Fleming, Jason Lenning, David Rossing and Travis Doolittle. The coaches were Donna Bell and Pat Rossing.

Schrader's Home Furnishings — The Center Street landmark closed its doors in March, paving the way for a restoration of its site. The area was returned to its news by announcing they would not run for re-election to the Northville Board of Education. Donald Klokkenga and Carol Rahimi made news by announcing they would run, and both took office in mid-summer.

Kay Kepner and Margaret Surdu — This pair was honored as the "distinguished guests" at the PTA Coordinating Council's Founders Day dinner. Each was cited for her extensive involvement with the district.

Kathleen Ripley Leo — Northville's most successful author continued to make news with the release in April of her "Town One South" collection of historical poems. Throughout the rest of the year, she appeared for readings in Northville and surrounding areas.

Doug and Elizabeth Campbell — The Campbell family became the talk of the town with the announcement that they would close Elizabeth's, the well-known Hutton Street restaurant. The family moved to Massachusetts for a new restaurant venture. Elizabeth's was replaced by a new family affair, Little Italy, a pet project of the Valentines.

1988 YEAR IN REVIEW

Top Ten Stories

1. Main Centre — The $6 to $7 million project planned for the southwest corner of Main and Center streets made news all year.

The project switched developers early in the year, when Equity Advance — which had seen its own plan run into problems with parking cost and design — sold a property option on the site to the Singh Development Company. The new developer submitted a plan for a building with one floor of retail space, including a restaurant, and three floors of luxury apartments.

After extensive review and some design changes, the city approved the plan as Singh's option was expiring. But one major point — finding new parking — went unresolved.

Negotiations between the city and the company stalemated over how much Singh should pay for a new parking deck next to its site. The logjam broke in November with the company agreeing to pick up about two-thirds of the disputed amount, with the city share to come from new taxes on the development.

The school board — which would give up the most potential new tax money under such an arrangement — endorsed the plan because of its long-term importance. December saw the City Council approve the agreement in concept, still leaving many details to be worked out, but apparently clearing the way for development after years of inactivity.

2. Library site — A possible new Northville Public Library also made headlines throughout 1988.

Under continued complaints from the library about a lack of adequate space to serve the community, officials formed a committee to look for a spot on which a new, 25,000-square-foot building might go up. The list of sites under consideration shrunk and grew and shrunk again throughout the year, with possibilities including some sites on Cady Street, the closing Northville Ford Plant, the edge of Fish Hatchery Park, and Henningsen Field near Township Hall.

The end of the year saw the committee submit two alternatives — the Fish Hatchery site and the area on Cady directly behind the Community Center — for consideration by the public and by city and township officials.

The question of funding for a new library building was not addressed in detail, but a bond issue proposal was mentioned as the most likely alternative.

3. Oil in Northville Township — Drilling for oil and natural gas in the township made news on a couple of fronts.

Early in the year, the Southern Michigan Oil Company drilled and hit pay dirt underneath Maybury State Park and Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital.

In mid-summer, though, drilling became a very hot topic around town. A land leasing company, Elexco, representing the Pangborn Oil Exploration company, began seeking to do exploratory drilling in the residential area just above the hospital.

The situation caused some bad feelings and charges of misrepresentation against Elexco — charges which the company vehemently denied. The controversy, however, eventually caused an end to the hunt for oil leases.

4. Prison Overcrowding — Northville Township heard in April that the court-established caps on the population at three local prisons were being exceeded.

Inmate population at the Phoenix, Scott and Western Wayne correctional facilities — all three on Five Mile, the first two in Northville Township — exceeded their caps for a couple of months. The township went to court to get the populations reduced, and a new court order required the state Department of Corrections to obey the caps by June 5.

Meanwhile, though, even more prisoners came into all three facilities. After some more court appearances and a Corrections appeal, the department had reduced populations exactly to their caps by June 9.

5. Ford Plant Closing — After one closing earlier this decade and years of rumors since, the Ford Motor Company announced in June it would close the Northville Plant by the end of the year.

The water wheel plant on East Main has been a Northville landmark for decades, as well as the home for most of the community's duck population.

The company said the closing would come in the form of a consolidation with the Dearborn Engine Plant, and that none of the 40-some Northville workers would be out of a job. Ford said the move was necessary because of a company-wide shift from metal gas tanks — which are made in Northville — to plastic tanks.

The announcement of the closing set off a flurry of speculation and planning over what would happen to the site. The City Council decided to use some Community Development Block Grant money to study possible uses of the land, and the study was in full swing by the end of the year.

The move out did not happen as scheduled, however. Early in December it became clear that the closing would extend at least into the first part of 1989.

6. Local election — Two millage proposals went before Northville voters as part of the November general election, with one passing and one failing.

A two-mill increase for the Northville Township Police Department got strong support from voters, passing by a count of 4,101 to 2,986. Township officials called the increase necessary to balance the department's budget, and would allow consideration of hiring two more police officers.

Township voters also supported a .9-mill proposal to develop the Northville Community Park site on Beck Road, giving it approval by a 3,697 to 3,322 margin. However, the vote was a joint effort with the city, which strongly rejected the tax, 1,853 to 1,076. The proposal had to pass in both municipalities for it to go into effect.

There was some fallout from the election, most notably a revelation — supported by state attorney general opinions — that the township may have violated election law by using tax money for a newsletter urging its voters to approve the proposals.

In addition, the defeat of the park millage sent recreation officials looking for answers on why the city rejected their plan. Mid-December saw the Recreation Commission planning a city survey to try to find out.

In other local races, incumbent U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell handily defeated Lana Pollack, considered his strongest challenger. Local voters also returned a host of other incumbents including State Reps. Gerry Law and Willis Bullard, Oakland County Commissioner John Calandro, and the entire, unopposed Northville Township Board.

7. Sewer capacity — The decades-old problem of finding adequate sanitary sewer capacity for the city and township saw some real movement during 1988.

In the township, a decision to split from the Detroit system and send sewage to Ypsilanti — along with Plymouth and Canton townships — moved forward with approval from the Department of Natural Resources and consideration of funding from the township boards.

Meanwhile, the long-discussed "super sewer" expansion of the Detroit sewer system took a giant leap forward. Early in the year, the City of Northville and the other communities still involved in the plan agreed, once again, to participate. But this time, all the communities did agree, and the project appeared to be finally off the launching pad.

The rest of the year was filled with detail work on what each community has to do. Northville's requirements include some local repair work on sewer lines, and coming up with an estimated $1.3 million to fund the city's share of the project. The City Council decided to pay for its cost by joining with Wayne County in a special bond issue.

8. School planning — The Northville School District late in the year undertook an extensive planning effort to chart a course for the future of education in Northville.

The school board decided to spend $21,500 to hire a consultant to help develop a long-range plan for the school district. The effort, which was just getting underway at the end of the year, will include participation from all facets of the community, from district officials to citizens who don't even have children in school.

9. Township woodlands ordinance — Both the city and township were relatively active all year in considering and approving new ordinances. But possibly the single most important addition to the local law books was the Northville Township woodlands ordinance.

With large amounts of new development begun and presumed to be on the way in the township, officials put together a new ordinance to control the cutting of trees. The ordinance, passed by the Planning Commission in late November, defines what sort of trees are protected and sets up standards for new tree planting.

10. The drought — As the summer of 1988 progressed, a dry year turned into a very dry year, and the lack of rainfall caused a variety of problems and special circumstances.

Lower-than-usual water pressure caused annoyance to city residents, as well as a one-day closing of Amerman School. Customers of the city's water system were asked to follow certain restrictions for use of water, to help the situation as much as possible.

The dry air and parched ground forced a cancellation of the annual Fourth of July fireworks display because of fears of a fire. Fire runs also increased during June, July and part of August.

Rain finally came toward the end of the summer, easing the problems but leaving the "Drought of '88" as a possible conversation topic for years to come.

winning project was an automatic laundry detergent measure, chosen on the basis of originality, usefulness and marketability.

D & C — The local dime store made news with the announcement that high rents were forcing it out of town. The vacancy was quickly filled by Black's Hardware, which needed more room for its wares.

Rick Rosselle — In September the assistant chief became the second full-time member of the township Fire Department. He has been with the department for 11 years.

Northville Downs — The always-newsy race track made headlines for several different items. A new 10-year lease was settled between the track and its partial landlord, the Northville Driving Club. Things got a little sticky when a sub-lease with Jackson Harness Raceway was not settled by the time the tracks applied for next year's racing dates — but all was settled in time and both tracks were allocated their usual dates for next year. The fly in the ointment was no allowance for matinee races, which the tracks appealed.

Part of the lease was an agreement for an extensive renovation program at the track, expected to get in full swing in 1989.

Finally, the track was in line to receive a fat tax refund after settling an assessment appeals case with the city and Wayne County. All the governments which levy property tax on the track land must pay back a share of their collection for the last four years.

Laura Hicks — The Northville Community Chamber of Commerce honored this resident as its citizen of the year. Hicks was called an "unsung hero of Northville."

George Bush — The president-elect got headlines all year, all over the world —

George and Barbara Bush visited but he got some special attention locally by making a stop at Schoolcraft College in the final days of the campaign. A large Northville contingent helped cheer him on.

The Northville well — The town well on South Main Street dried up in late summer. A community effort raised $7,000 to redrill the well, and the work was finished late in the year.

CASTERLINE FUNERAL HOME, INC. OFFERS

FORE THOUGHTSM

FUNERAL PLANNING

Ray Casterline II proudly announces that Casterline Funeral Home has begun offering Forethought Funeral Planning to the families in the Northville Area.

This new program allows people to plan their funerals ahead of time and fund them through a life insurance policy purchased from Forethought Life Insurance Company. The policy is guaranteed issue; everyone between 0-100 qualifies. There are few health questions to answer and no physical exams to take.

"Families are relieved of having to plan and pay for a funeral during a period of high stress," said Ray Casterline II, "and they are assured they will get the exact funeral they planned. We examined many programs available today and feel certain the Forethought program is the best. We're proud to offer it as another example of the complete range of services to our families."

In order to offer the Forethought program Ray Casterline II had to be licensed by the State of Michigan, which requires specialized training and study.

"I feel," noted Ray Casterline II, "that this license significantly expands my professional capabilities and understanding so I am better equipped to offer the families we serve a complete range of services."

With Forethought funeral planning, our funeral home offers a plan to our community that lets them relieve their loved ones of emotional and financial burden at a time of high stress.

A Forethought policy can be transferred to any participating funeral home, and funeral arrangements can be updated or changed at any time.

Anyone wishing to find out more about Forethought funeral planning can contact Ray Casterline II at Casterline Funeral Home, Inc., 122 W. Dunlap, Northville or Call 349-0611.

Girls Swimming: Winners of the Western Lakes League championship and sporting an impressive 10-1 overall record, the Mustang swim team showed that good depth, and talented overall individuals, leads to a terrific combined team showing.

The Mustang squad sported depth in just about every event in which they swam and qualified swimmers in all 11 events at the State Meet.

The highlight of the season was the impressive win in the WLAA Conference Meet. This was the first win for the team since the WLAA has been formed. The Mustangs dominated the meet, winning first place honors in the 12 team event and outdistancing second place Canton by 82 points.

At the state meet Pam Holdridge took All-State honors and finished fourth overall in the 100-yard butterfly event with a 59.86 effort. The 200-medley relay squad of Debbie Buell, Kristen Storm, Michelle Stephens and Holdridge placed 15th overall. Freshman Storm was 16th in the 50 freestyle and was 19th in the 100 freestyle (55.66). Junior Debbie Buell finished seventh in the 200 IM (2:14.67) and eighth in the 500 (5:13.59). Megan Holmberg was 25th in the 100 backstroke and the 400 freestyle relay team of Storm, Holdridge, Holmberg and Stephens wrapped up the meet by placing 18th.

The team bettered their record at the state meet by scoring 23 points this year. Last year the team scored no points. Overall the Mustangs placed 19th.

Divers Michelle Beacham and Wendy Beach were outstanding during the season. Swimmer Debbie Buell was named Outstanding Swimmer during the team's banquet.

Boys Soccer: It was a season of ups and downs for the Northville soccer squad in 1988, as the season saw plenty of excellent wins and playing along with a rash of injuries and defeats.

The first half of the season was typical Mustang play all the way as the team carried an impressive 6-2-2 record after the first 10 games.

But then the tide turned — and the injuries occurred. The Mustangs also faced some of their toughest opponents in the last portion of the season. For the final nine games the record was a disappointing 0-8-1 — leaving the team at 6-10-3 for the season. This was only the second losing season in the history of the program.

The team was 3-2-1 in the WLAA Western Division, which was good for second place. They finished sixth in the conference out of 11 teams.

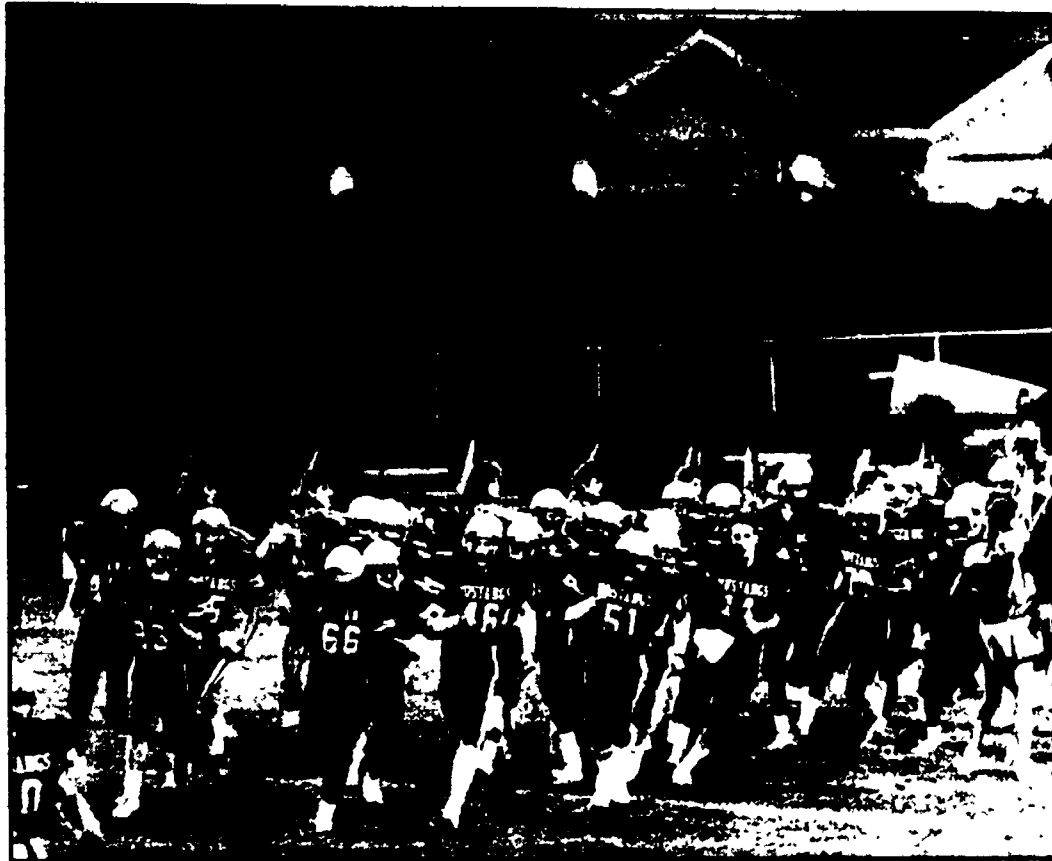

The injury list was a large part of the roster. Noel Korowin, Steve Nagy, Gordie Gray, Roger Kimary, Pat McGrail, Chris Hinz, Andy Frey, Tom Ursel, Steve Lang and Ed Petit all missed at least one match. The loss of leading scorer Korowin with a broken arm, may have been the final blow.

Junior Brad Maliszewski picked up the slack and led the team with nine goals and four assists. He is now number 10 on the list of all time leading scorers in Northville. Senior captain Frey was second in scoring (four goals, five assists), and Gordie Gray was third (four goals, three assists).

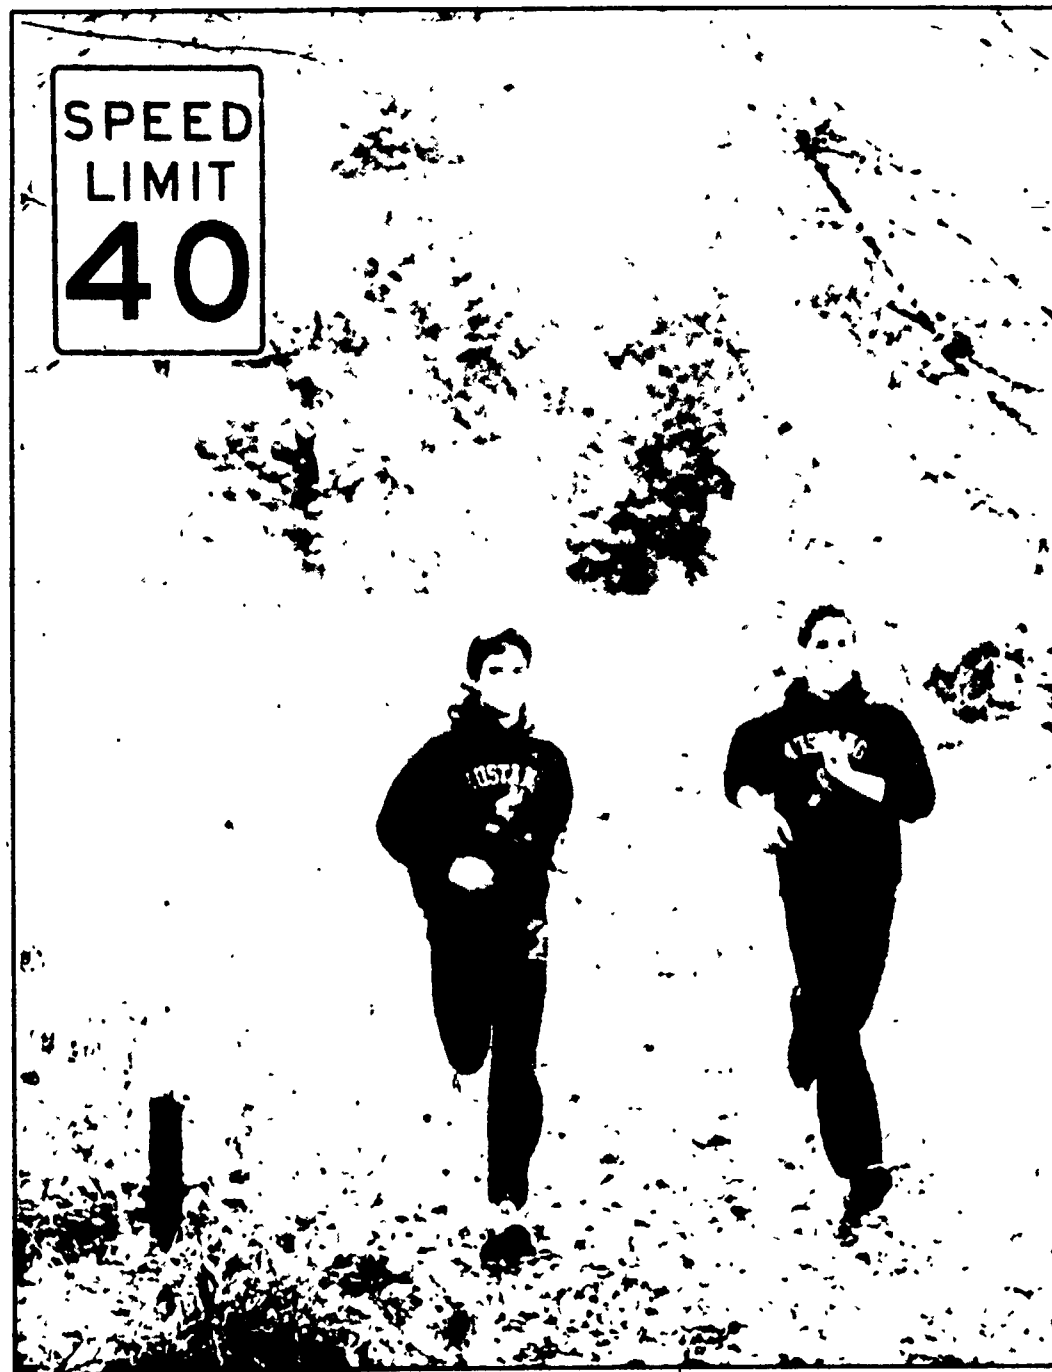

The defensive star was Roger Kimary, who allowed 2.40 goals per game and ended with a 1.90 average for his career. He had a career won-loss mark of 19-14-5 in four years.

Boys Cross Country: A season of rebuilding netted the Northville boys a 2-4 season, a fourth place finish in the WLAA Western Division, and a lot of valuable meet experience for some returning warriors.

The team peaked early in the season, with a successful run at Canton, but was tapped out by

Mustangs were on the move

Conference Meet time.

Freshman Steve Coon ended the season as the Mustangs top runner. Coon received the Most Improved award at the team's banquet in November. He received All-Division honors and broke the freshman record at Cass Benton Park by 19 seconds (17:32).

Andy Haas was named the team's Most Valuable Athlete. He topped his goal of 17:45 in the first few weeks of the season. He was also named Scholar Athlete of the Year for his 4.0 grade point average.

Senior Jay Griffith was the team's number three runner. Junior Jon Meek and freshman Mike Huff also helped the team throughout the season. Meek held down the fourth position and was elected the team's 1989 captain.

Girls Cross Country: In a game of numbers, the Northville runners came out on the short end of the roster, fielding just eight runners during the peak of the 1988 season. The eight were felled to a mere five, by injuries and illness and that left Northville behind in the standings.

Before the season even began Coach Nick

James Nordbeck swung into play

Dunwoodie saw Rachel Davis hurt for most of the season with tendonitis. Soon number two runner Rozann Stakis was lost for the season with a stress fracture and Lisa Brown followed on the hurt list.

Northville finished the season with an overall 2-4 dual meet mark, despite having trouble at times fielding the necessary five runners in a meet. The team made a remarkable finish at fourth out of six in the WLAA Western Division standings.

Sophomore Marcie Dart was the Mustang's top finisher all season long. She placed 16th in the WLAA Meet and received All-Division honors.

Golf: 1988 was a bell ringer year for Northville golfers. The team won a division title, a conference title and a regional title in a tremendous showing of talent. Overall the team had a 12-1 record.

The Mustangs had a perfect dual meet record, suffering their only loss in a one stroke loss to Livonia Stevenson. The loss came at a time when the team was a bit complacent, and provided members with the shot-in-the-arm to go for the gold.

The team went on to grab seven straight dual meet wins, first place honors in both the WLAA and regional tournaments and a sixth in the State Meet.

Kevin Telepo, Chris Lemmon, James Nordbeck and Dave McKee were the leading four-some for the team. Mike Crichton rounded out the team with some extremely timely, fifth scores.

Nordbeck led the team with a nine-hole average of 38.5. Lemmon was next with 39.6. The top tournament player was Telepo with 78.8 average for 18 holes. Crichton (41.5), McKee (41.4) and sophomore Jason Sherman (43.4) rounded out the team.

1988 YEAR IN REVIEW

Winter Sports

Boys Basketball: It was not a particularly good year for the Northville cagers. The Mustangs struggled to a 4-17 overall record and the season was notable for a coaching change in mid-season and a rash of injuries.

Head Coach Omar Harrison resigned from his coaching duties in mid-season for personal reasons, and the reigns were passed to former Coach Tim Lutes. Lutes, while he had been a part of the program previously, was hard pressed to learn the team style and players after a three year lay-off.

Just when things were already in a precarious transition period, the team, already not known for its depth, was thinned out further by the loss of three starters to injury or illness.

One of the highlights of the season occurred just after Lutes had taken over in mid-January. The Mustangs were struggling at 0-8 when they hosted Livonia Franklin. The Patriots took a commanding 30-15 lead at halftime, but the Mustangs staged a dramatic, come-from-behind victory to notch the first win of the season.

Northville put on its best effort in defeating eventual WLAA Tournament winner North Farmington in February. February may have seen some of the best playing of the entire season.

The team's top individual was 6-foot-5 junior center Chris House. He led the team in scoring (13.5 per game) and rebounding (7.5).

Wrestling: Competitiveness was the story with the Northville grapplers in

Gymnast Wendy Beach performed

1988. When Northville went against its conference rivals, it was almost always close. The team was competitive with almost every team in its league.

The Mustangs had a modest 6-10-1 dual meet record but were 3-4 against WLAA teams and 3-2 against Western Division schools. By beating three out of five division opponents the team placed third.

Individually two Mustangs stood out among a team that really didn't have any superstars. Junior Andy Frey and junior Mike Hale combined for nearly 50 wins during the season. At the 126-pound mark Frey was 24-6 and at 198 Hale had a 22-11 record.

Three other Mustangs had winning records for the year: senior Donovan Campbell at 167; senior John Frisbie at 138 and sophomore Garnett Potter at 145.

Girls Volleyball: Despite a slow start and the initiation of a new coach and new coaching system, the 1988 volleyball campaign was very successful overall.

Northville finished with a 16-13 mark overall, including tournament action, and wound up in a third place tie in the WLAA Western Division and finished in the top half of the conference race.

Coach Paul Osborne moved up from junior varsity coaching duties taking over from Steve McDonald. Osborne began using a different offensive and defensive strategy and the adjustment was tough for the team, with a 1-4 start.

In late January and February the team began to come together. Seniors Katie Brugman, Denise Akroush and Jeanine LaPrad provided leadership and skills, and underclassmen like Debbie Stevens and Nancy Belding chipped in to make Northville a very respected opponent.

Top setter on the team was an ailing Brugman, who was bothered by a bad back. Akroush was the premier server, registering 15 service aces in a win over South Lyon.

Boys Swimming: A much-improved and extremely talented Northville team saw an 8-4 overall dual meet record and a fifth-place finish in the WLAA Meet.

The team began the season on a strong, positive note by winning a pair of non-conference dual meets. The team really began to peak in late January. Following a loss to Novi, the team went on a tear and won five straight dual meets over squads like North Farmington, Brighton, and Livonia Franklin.

A big factor in the winning season was the leadership abilities of tri-captains Craig Smith, Mike Fortenberry and John Warren.

At the season ending banquet in March Smith was awarded the team's Most Valuable Swimmer plaque. Diver Rob Devyak was picked as the Most Improved and freshman standout Eric Newton — the swim team's only state meet qualifier — was honored for scoring the most wins and points on the year.

Gymnastics: The 1988 season was the finest one ever for the Northville gymnastics team.

Coach Michelle Charniga's squad put together a 6-3 overall record and added a third-place finish in the WLAA Western Division. And all without a senior on the roster.

Big wins were registered over Westland, John Glenn and Farmington during the regular season. Northville's only losses came against state-powers North Farmington, Plymouth Canton and Plymouth Salem. The Mustangs shattered a school record against Canton, scoring 123 points in the meet.

The team was deep in all phases of competition and stars Wendy Beach, Yvonne Beebe and Lee LaChance were joined by solid performers Robyn Chatman, Karen Pyle and Kathy Abraham.

Beach was named Most Valuable Gymnast for the second straight year at the March banquet. Pyle and LaChance shared Most Improved Gymnast honors.

Spring Sports

Girls Soccer: Successful is hardly the word. The Northville soccer squad outscored their opponents 108-12. They ended the season with 17 wins, three losses and two ties, the most successful season since the Mustangs won the state title in 1984.

The 1988 team was probably the most offensively explosive team in the soccer squad's history. Senior forwards Jodi Smalec and Jennifer Schuerman combined to score 56 goals and 39 assists during the season — which made them one of the most potent one-two scoring threats in the state.

Smalec scored 30 goals and accounted for 25 assists in what was a brilliant season. She was named second team All-State. Smalec and junior defensive star Heather Sixt were All-Conference selections. Sixt was an honorable mention All State winner as well.

Schuerman had 26 goals and 14 assists. She was named to the WLAA All-Western Division team with freshman halfback sensation Marcie Dart. Junior Abbey Edwards, freshman Karen Cavanaugh and sophomore Kristi Turner were WLAA honorable mention selections. Edwards was second on the team with 16 assists, Cavanaugh was a defensive whiz and Turner set a new single-season record with 13 shut-outs.

Two of Northville's three losses came against Canton and Livonia Churchill, two teams from the WLAA that advanced all the way to the state finals.

At the team's annual banquet Smalec was named Most Valuable Performer, Debbie Stevens won Most Improved Player and Jennifer Dragon and Michelle McQuaid won the Scholastic Award for perfect 4.0 averages.

Girls Softball: It was simply the most successful softball season in Northville history. Northville cruised to a division crown with a regular season mark of 9-1. The team just missed grabbing the WLAA Conference Title with a 13-3 record. The overall 17-9 season record is the best one ever posted by a Northville squad.

Coach Bob Gerlach found outstanding defense and tremendous pitching prowess to be the road to Mustang victory in 1988. An outstanding season was put in by pitcher Amy Freimund. Freimund posted a 13-3 record with a 1.23 earned run average, 115 strike outs and only 36 walks. Opponents batted just .140 against her. Freimund did it all leading the team in hitting with a .349 batting average as well and a .509 on base percentage.

Outfielder Nanci Dutkiewicz, a senior, batted .286 overall, but was 13-of-21 against WLAA Western Division foes (.617 average). She had an on-base percentage of .510 and a slugging percentage of .588. She struck out only twice in 54 at bats.

Infielder Karen Baird, a star midfielder with the soccer team, added tremendous athletic ability to the team. She was the team shortstop and provided good range. She had an on-base percentage of .483 and was among team leaders in runs scored (25) and walks (22).

Jeanine LaPrad, second base, batted .250 for the year, but had big numbers in key league games. She struck out only 4 times in 57 at-bats and had an on-base percentage of .491, a slugging percentage of .642 and 10 RBIs.

Baseball: Despite the 9-17 record for the 1988 season, the Northville baseballers had what Coach Bob Frellick considered to be a good year.

Frellick was pleased with the improvement of the Northville pitching squad and felt that the team overall gained in experience.

This year the Northville team had a high-powered pitching game, but its offensive hitting power struggled a bit. Todd Ebersole, Steve Nigro and Scott Stephens were the team's top hurlers with Ebersole leading the way with a 3-0 record and a fine 3.10 earned run average.

Senior catcher Mike Yard had a fine season and consequently was named to the All-WLAA team. He was the only Mustang to make the all-conference.

Yard led the team in batting average (.364), RBIs (24), home runs (5), and hits (28) and was among team leaders in doubles (8) and on-base percentage. The only other regulars to bat above .300 were outfielder Randy Jones (.309) and firstbaseman Derek Osborne (.308) — but others like Ed Walsh, David McKee, Jim Willerer and Brian Frellick also had a fine all-around season. Defensively the Mustangs were very strong at every position.

Boys Tennis: Banking on superb play by surprising doubles teams, the Northville tennis team finished the season with a 7-7 record and a 5-6 record in WLAA action. The team placed seventh in the 12-team conference and fourth in the six-team Western Division.

The No. 1 doubles team of Ken Spigarelli and Jeff Wesley were consistently the squad's most successful with a 16-5 record on the year. Chad Bossher was 13-8 at No. 2 doubles with different partners and Mike Mathes was 11-10 at No. 3 doubles.

In singles Kurt Reickel at No. 3 had a winning record with 10-9 mark. The other singles players, Doug Kamienecki at No. 1 (4-10) and Rob Richcreek at No. 2 (7-10) were troubled by stiff competition.

Jeanine Laprad tagged the runner

Girls Track: The continuing themes of injury, illness and just plain not enough runners, plagued the Northville girls track program once again. While individual runners found moments where records fell — overall the track program was 1-9 and 0-6 in the WLAA.

For the second straight year the team placed 12th out of 12 in the WLAA Meet at the end of the season. But the runners had some individual triumphs which went beyond the tough time Coach Mike Webb had in fielding a healthy and complete team during the season.

Four Mustang runners shattered the existing school record in the 3,200 meter relay during a meet against Plymouth Canton. Robin McDuffie, Kelly Frederick, Cathy Page and Jennifer Goshorn smashed the existing school record by a full 17 seconds, at 10:24.2.

In the season ending WLAA Meet, four relay squads put in season best times. The 800-meter relay team of Christie Lenaghan, Kendra Huard, Erin Holmberg, and Wendy Davis made it to the finals and placed sixth with a time of 1:53. The same four competed in the 400 relay (54.6) and set a season best time. The 1,600 meter team of McDuffie, Huard, Holmberg and Goshorn set a season best at 4:26.

The rest of the career best times came for Holmberg in the 200 (28.5), Huard in the 200 (29.3), Megan Holmberg in the 400 (69.0), Frederick in the 1,600 (6:02) Shannon Price in the 110 hurdles (20.6) and Heather Collins (60.0).

Boys Track: A change in attitude and work ethics provided the thinclads with an escape from the bottom of the standings, as they finished the season with an overall record of 4-5. Northville was 2-3 in the division standings — good for a third place tie.

The team came on strong with two dual meet wins against Western Division opponents at the end of the regular season. The four dual-meet wins in a season was a high-water mark in recent boys track history. The season began slowly with three close dual meet losses, but hard work paid off in later wins.

The team began with several changes in line-ups to see which runners could help the team in which events. In several early meets the changes may have hurt, but in later ones, certainly helped.

Fee: $12.00 Members

Parent/Child Programs

The Y-Indian Programs for parents and children (age 5-10) provide quality time for you and someone who loves you. Our children are with us for such a short time before they grow up. There is much we can teach them and so much fun we can have with them — if only we find the time. The Y-Indian Program for parents and children helps you find the time. The Y-Indian Program sponsored by the Plymouth Family YMCA is divided into four separate groups: Indian Guides (Boys and Dads), Princesses (Girls and Dads), Maidens (Girls and Moms) and Braves (Boys and Moms). The Indian theme of the program is inspired by the legendary bond of friendship between American Indian parents and their children. Program participants form tribes of six to ten parent/child couples. Each tribe meets as often as its members choose, with most tribes meeting one or two times per month, usually in the evening. Tribe meetings can include crafts, stories, Indian Lore, games and whatever else your tribe wants to do. In addition to the individual tribe meetings and other tribe activities, the Y sponsors campouts, square dances, and other outings. Unlike other fine program primarily for the children, the Indian Program Activities all involve parents and child participating together. In short, the Y-Indian Program is: Unique — a chance for you and your child to spend time together to talk to each other, to nurture a relationship that will weather challenges and enrich both parent and child.
