City council closes in on daycare decision

By BOB NEEDHAM

A plan to allow small, in-home day care operations with minimum of local regulation was hammered out at the Northville City Council meeting Monday.

In a specially called study session to consider local in-home day care for children, city council members traded positions on various relevant issues before arriving at some consensus.

Mayor Chris Johnson polled the council members on their opinions relative to several of the day care related issues and ended the session with a request for the city administration to draft a formal proposal based on the majority views.

The situation is still weeks away from being resolved, though Johnson requested that the draft return to the city council, after which the council would refer it to the city planning commission for a formal public hearing. Only then would it go back to the council for possible adoption.

Currently, in-home day care is prohibited throughout the city by default; City Manager Steve Walters has said that since the city zoning ordinance does not specifically allow it, it is probably not permitted. The ordinance only speaks to full-time day care businesses, and only allows them under certain restrictions.

The council members accepted some recommendations from the planning commission, including using state definitions for different operations. On other questions there was less agreement, though. Issues included:

Density — The majority of the council eventually accepted a statement from Planning Consultant Don Wortman that the city could not legally control the frequency of home day care operations.

"I don't see four in a row now and I don't think there will be," Mayor Pro Tem Carolann Ayers said.

However, Council Member Paul Folino said such a restriction is important, and pointed to other communities which have one. "I'd hate to see two or three on a given block," Folino said. "I think it would just be a little bit too much traffic in the area of single-family residence." Folino suggested a minimum separation between day care operations of between 1,500 and 500 feet.

Number of children — Three of the five council members — Johnson, Mayor Pro Tem Carolann Ayers and John Buckland — settled on minimal city regulation for day care operations of six children or less, including those who live in the home. Folino and Jerry Mittman avored limiting it to four children.

Licensing — The state requires a license for all day care givers, for as little as one child. The council generally agreed that some simple city license might be a good idea as well.

Buckland was the strongest supporter, saying that "I think licensing is a must and I think every home should have it." He said a license is important for the city to monitor the number of day care operations.

Mittman said no city license should be required for homes with four or fewer children. "Should that be regulated by the city? I just think we have better things to do," he said.

Crime is down in city area

Major crimes in the City of Northville declined in 1988 as compared to 1987, according to year end figures from the Northville police department.

There were 217 major crimes — aggravated assault, burglary, larceny, auto theft and arson — reported during 1988. In 1987 the figure was 247. Although the total and most categories within it fell a couple of points, there were slight increases.

The city saw 10 reports of homicide, rape or robbery during the year, the figures show.

By far the biggest total was larceny, accounting for 154 of the incidents, that was a drop from the 190 reports in 1987.

The year saw 38 burglaries, up from 35 in 1987. There were 16 auto thefts up from 9, 5 aggravated assaults down from 9, and four arsons, up from 3. There were no robberies reported compared to 1 in 1987.

There were 242 major crimes reported in 1986.

In the less serious police cases, there were 127 reported cases of malicious destruction of property, down from 146 the previous year.

The city saw an increase in accidents causing personal injury — 57, up from 46 — but a decrease in property damage accidents, from 273 to 271. There were no fatal accidents.

The number of traffic and parking tickets written also fell. Moving violations dropped to 2,500 from 2,592. Parking tickets fell from 3,990 to 3,811.

In other year end totals, miscellaneous ordinance violations numbered 793 up from 564, animal complaints were 238, down from 319, and reports of suspicious circumstances, persons and vehicles was 632 compared to 644.

Total miles patrolled for 1988 was 131,053. In 1987 it was 129,166.

Parking solution set for builders

By BOB NEEDHAM

A parking contract between the city and Singh Development Company got city approval Monday — settling a major, outstanding question for a development on the southwest corner of Main and Center streets.

The city approved the agreement 5-0. It covers redevelopment of city lots, construction of a new deck, and provisions in case the plans fall through. The city and Singh will share the cost of the work.

After the vote, Council Member Paul Folino said to Singh Vice President Mike Kahn, "If you like, all five of us will be down there tomorrow with our shovels."

Parking has been a question mark for the project since September, when the basic building design was OK'd without the parking included. Officials of the city and Singh have been negotiating the parking issue ever since.

Singh plans a four-story building on the site, which extends from Main to Cady along Center. The project is set to include apartments, retail stores and a restaurant.

The parking agreement includes two basic elements: redevelopment of existing lots and building the deck.

Under the new contract, both parties are supposed to agree together on the deck design, which will be off the southwest corner of Center and Cady. It is planned to include a bridge between the development and the deck.

The city will hire a company to build the deck, and Singh is allowed to bid for the work. The deck may be bigger than needed for just the new development and include new public parking.

Singh, meanwhile, is responsible for reconfiguring the lot behind the School district begins strategic plan

By ANNE E. WILLIS

"This plan will be the basis upon which decisions will be made in the Northville Schools," Superintendent George Bell said in introducing the first steps of the Northville Schools Strategic Plan on Monday.

Bell and 23 volunteers spent last weekend in the Botsford Inn in Farmington Hills at a 40-hour brainstorming session which produced a 10-page draft copy outlining the beliefs, mission statement, internal analysis, objectives and strategies for the next five years in the school system.

The volunteers represented "all walks of the school district," Bell said, "and they were all there for a purpose, they were all representing a component of the district." Volunteers included school board members, PTA members, parents, community members without children in the system, teachers and administrators.

The mood of the study session on Monday night was enthusiastic as members of the committee turned out to hear Bell sum up the work done in an intensive weekend-long study session.

"It was probably one of the most intense working/learning sessions," Bell said in explaining the rigorous early morning to late-night sessions. Volunteer Bruce Turnbull echoed Bell's words, saying with a laugh, "I served in the U.S. Marine Corps and I never thought I'd see anything as tough as they beat it."

The outcome of the sessions was summed up in a 10-page Strategic Plan draft, which Bell said is still being worked on by the committee. The main points included developing the beliefs of the district, which set the tone of the organization, Bell said.

Every statement in the beliefs is the consensus of the 24 people who made up the Strategic Planning Committee, the superintendent noted. "This is a statement of what we believe, and every decision made in the Northville schools will be based on what we believe," he said.

From the beliefs the committee drafted a mission statement that will serve as the guide for the district's goals. The committee next settled on strategic parameters, which are boundaries beyond which the district will not go, Bell said.

The committee also spent time outlining the particular strengths and weaknesses of the district and working these into critical issues to be addressed by the schools. The next step was outlining the objectives of the district and settling on eight strategies for achieving those objectives.

"It is ambitious, visionary and it is going to make a whale of a difference to what happens to kids in Northville," Bell said in summing up the work done by the committee.

The next step in the Strategic Planning process is the setting of action plan leaders — community members designated to pull together action plan committees charged with working on ways to implement the strategies designated by the overall committee.

These action plan committees will meet to determine how to reach their goals, and these plans will in turn be presented to the 24-person committee for review in early June.

Once the committee has worked with the plans they will be presented to the Board of Education for discussion and approval. Then each plan will be implemented.

Martha Nield, PTA Coordinating Council president and parent, took part in the weekend session. Nield said Monday night that in spite of the importance of the initial planning

NEWS BRIEFS

TENURE APPROVED — The Northville Board of Education unanimously approved granting tenure to high school English teacher Susan Couzens.

Couzens will receive the tenure on her second anniversary date of hire, March 25, 1989. High school principal David Bolitho said Couzens also teaches debate and coaches the school's debate club. "She does a great job," Bolitho said.

YEARBOOK SEARCH — The Northville Public Library is building a collection of Northville High School yearbooks. If any stray, homeless, or unwanted past issues are spotted roaming the area, please direct them to the library where they will receive a warm, permanent home.

CHURCH PARKING — The First Presbyterian Church is getting some additional parking spaces reserved for handicapped people during church services.

The Northville City Council agreed Monday night to designate more spaces on the east and west sides of the church as reserved for handicapped — but only from 8 a.m. to noon on Sundays. The set-up will be on a trial basis for 90 days, after which the city will again look at the issue and possibly adjust the numbers. The move came at the suggestion of the church.

"It seems it's going to fulfill the needs of the church and the needs of the public," Council Member Paul Folino said.

SUBDIVISION UPDATE — The Township board recently granted final approval for preliminary plat stage two for Crestwood Manor Homes subdivision. The 173-lot project is to be located near Six Mile and Beck roads.

At the same meeting the board denied preliminary plat stage one for Northville Trails — to be located near Six Mile and Haggerty roads. The planning commission recommended board denial at a special meeting Jan. 5.

VALENTINE DANCE — The seventh annual Daddy-Daughter Valentine Dance sponsored by the Northville Community Recreation Department, will take place on Friday, Feb. 10 from 7-9 p.m. at the Northville Community Center. The special night will feature dance music, a corsage, refreshments and a special gift so dad and his girl(s) will remember the evening. Registration is required and the price is $8 per couple. Contact the Recreation Department at 349-0203.

MEETINGS SWITCHED — In order to avoid conflicts with upcoming holidays, the Northville City Council Monday switched some of its meeting dates for later this year.

July City Council meetings are scheduled for July 10 and 24 to avoid a conflict with the Independence Day weekend. The first meeting in September is scheduled for Tuesday the 5th to avoid a conflict with Labor Day.

The council usually meets on the first and third Monday of each month.

BEAUTIFICATION ELECTIONS — At the Jan. 26 meeting the Township's Beautification Commission elected the following officers for 1989: Catherine (Tina) Sellas as chairperson, Carole Pappas as vice chairperson, Conrad (Kurt) Boginski as secretary and Carol Cose as treasurer. The rest of the commissioners are Donald DiComo, Wil Gertz, Judy Jambor, Barbara O'Brien, Wray Pomeroy, Dr. Nicholas Sellas and Donald Williams.

FREE SENIOR TAX HELP — Free income tax help is available for Northville Senior Citizens beginning on Feb. 6. Appointments can be made for 9:30 or 11:30 a.m. Tax officials are trained by the IRS and AARP. The sessions are being held at the Northville Senior Center on Taft Road in Cooke School, not at the library. Call 349-4140 for an appointment or more information.

Ryan Rosselle of Phil's 76 service station

Phil's set to move from downtown

By BOB NEEDHAM

The Phil's 76 station on Main Street at Wing is moving, and is expected to be replaced by a new office / retail building developed by the Long family.

After 16 months of negotiations, the Long Development Company recently bought the Phil's site. The Phil's operation will move to a much larger site on Gerald Avenue in Northville Township.

Phil's owner Phil Rosselle said the move will take a while, but some equipment will probably start going over to the new site within a few weeks. A fence is needed at the new site before the move can be finished.

"I want to get out of there as quick as I can," Rosselle said. "As quick as we can get the fence around, we'll move." The move will probably be done this spring, he said.

The move will mean the end of the gas pumps at Phil's, but everything else will stay the same, Rosselle said, including towing, AAA and the rest of the services. Phil's does the towing for both the township and city police departments.

Once Phil's settles into the new site, they might look at some additional services, Rosselle said. But that won't happen for a while.

"There's some new ideas in mind," he said. "We won't be doing anything major to begin with."

Ryan Rosselle said the move will give Phil's a three-acre site. It will be located on Gerald Avenue, just off Seven Mile near Northville Road, to the north of the Long's Storage building.

Phil Rosselle said he enjoyed doing business at the downtown location.

"It's been a long time there. I've spent the better part of 25 years on one corner, and it's been very good to me. The people of Northville have been very good to me, and I hope it stays like that for a long time," Rosselle said.

Jim Long, of the Long Development Company and Long's Fancy Bath Boutique, said the site will probably become a retail / office building. "It will probably be one floor of retail and probably offices on the second floor. And we may go to a third floor," Long said.

The style will be "a new building, but retain some flavor" of downtown Northville architecture, Long said.

"It's tough to duplicate what's downtown, and I don't know that I'd want to duplicate what's downtown," he said. "We've been in this town all our lives and it's our goal to do something that will really benefit the town."

There is no construction schedule yet, Long said. They are currently interviewing architects for the project.

City hopeful parking lot will improve

City officials are confident that a small Center Street parking lot will be upgraded when the weather improves.

A recent meeting between representatives of the city and the Northville Driving Club — which owns the lot, across from the race track — went very well, Mayor Chris Johnson said last week.

The city has been trying to get the lot fixed up for several months. A citizens' group had complained about the condition of the site.

At the city council meeting Monday, Jan. 9, Mayor Chris Johnson reported that he and City Manager Steve Walters had met with two Driving Club officials and the club's attorney.

"They've agreed the lot should be maintained as per the site development plan," Johnson said. "It looks as if we'll have a better working relationship (with the Driving Club) . . . I was pleased with the meeting."

The parking lot site once included a boarded-up house which the Driving

Club tore down after it bought the land. The demolition went along with a site development / landscaping plan, and some of the landscaping has died off over time.

Johnson said the Driving Club agreed to restore the land to the site development plan as soon as the weather allows the plants' survival.

The work will probably be done by the city's contractors, and then the city will bill the Driving Club for the work, Johnson said.

Ironically, the lot has not been used much so far this season because of falling attendance at the track.

City Manager Steve Walters said that in the past, the Driving Club has leased the lot to the Downs. This year, for the first time, the Driving Club is operating it.

No injuries in Griswold/Cady accident Thursday

A disobeyed traffic law resulted in a rollover accident Thursday, but no one was hurt, according to a Northville city police report.

A Farmington Hills resident was driving north on Griswold at Cady after 3:30 p.m. Thursday when a driver from Canton did not yield the right of way, the report said. That driver continued on Cady and hit the other vehicle, a small truck, in the right rear quarter panel.

The Farmington Hills driver lost control and the truck rolled over. No injuries were reported.

The Canton driver was issued a ticket for failure to yield the right of way.

BOX FOUND — A jewelry box and some pieces of jewelry were turned in to city police as "found property" earlier this week.

The box and jewelry was found on Fairbrook between First and Wing streets at around 2 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 25, a report said. The items are waiting to be described and claimed at the city police station.

BIKE FOUND — City police also reported another bicycle found and turned in to the department.

The latest found bike is a blue boy's model found on Randolph Street at 10:30 p.m. Sunday. It is awaiting the owner at the police station.

PLATE STOLEN — A license plate was stolen from a car parked at a city home early Monday, according to a police report.

The plate was taken from a Chevrolet parked in a driveway on Allen Drive, the report said. It was taken between 1 and 9 a.m. Monday.

DRUNK DRIVING ROUNDUP — At least three people were ticketed for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor (OUIL) in the city and township last week, according to police reports.

Among the incidents were:

• A Walled Lake resident was stopped at 2:55 a.m. Thursday after a police officer noticed the driver going very slowly down Rogers Street, a report said. After field sobriety tests, the driver was taken to the police station, where a test showed a blood alcohol level of .20 percent. In Michigan, 10 is OUIL. The driver was also found to be driving on a suspended license, and to be wanted on an outstanding bench warrant by Wayne County. The county picked up the driver later that morning, and the driver faces a Feb. 23 court date on the OUIL case.

• A Northville resident was ticketed at 2:40 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 25, after a police officer saw the driver run a red light at Randolph and Eight Mile, a report said. After having trouble with preliminary tests, a test at the police station showed a blood alcohol level of .14.

The driver faces a Feb. 22 court date.

• A Novi resident was ticketed at 10:32 p.m. Friday, Jan. 27, after a township police officer observed the driver going at a high rate in the Highland Lakes Shopping Center. The driver was stopped by police at Seven Mile Road and Silver Springs Drive. After failing field sobriety tests, a test showed a blood alcohol level of .12 percent at the scene and .14 at the station. The driver was held in jail until he sobered up and released on $100 bond. He faces a March 2 court date.

FENDER-BENDERS — Four automobile accidents were reported by township police last week.

• A two-car accident occurred Sunday afternoon on southbound Haggerty Road south of Eight Mile Road. Police report one vehicle tried to turn left on northbound Haggerty from the northern most driveway of Meijer's Shopping Center. Police said the first car turned into the second car's path without yielding. The driver of the first car was ticketed for failing to yield and provided with first aid by Community Ambulance.

• A two-car accident at the intersection of Haggerty and Eight Mile roads Saturday afternoon resulted in one driver seeking medical attention for minor injuries. Police said the driver of car two was turning right from northbound Haggerty Road onto Eight Mile on a green light. The driver of car one, who was going eastbound on Eight Mile, disobeyed a red light and struck car two. The driver of car one said he had sneezed and didn't see the light. All witnesses said he ran a red light. The driver of car one was issued a ticket for disobeying a red light. The driver of car two sought no medical attention.

• An accident occurred Friday morning in which one driver lost control of his car and ran into a curb. The driver of the car said that he was going eastbound on Seven Mile Road approaching Haggerty and as he changed lanes from the left lane to the curb lane, lost control of his car and slammed into the curb. Police issued a ticket for failing to use due care and caution.

• A two-car accident occurred last Monday evening near Eight Mile Road and Meijer's Drive. Police said the driver of car one tried to make a left turn out of the Meijer's parking lot onto Eight Mile and struck the second car, who was in the process of making a left turn into the Meijer's lot. The driver of car one was ticketed for failure to yield exiting a private driveway.

STOLEN ITEMS — Six cars were broken into over the past week, according to township police reports.

• In the first incident, the complainant told police two hubcaps valued at $35 each were stolen off his car sometime between last Saturday and last Monday.

The victim told police the hubcaps were taken off of the passenger side of the car, which was parked on his driveway on Jamestown Circle.

• On Saturday, a complainant reported that $499 in stereo equipment and cassette tapes were stolen from his 1986 VW Jetta on Silver Springs Drive.

The victim said his driver's side window was broken out while the car was parked in front of his residence. Police said they have no suspects.

• Last Tuesday a resident reported that unknown persons entered his 1988 gray Ford and stole a $400 stereo. The complainant said the stereo was taken out of the console, located between the dash board and front seats. The victim also reported $120 in car damage. Police said they have no suspects in the incident, which occurred on Northville Place.

• On Thursday, a complainant said unknown persons stole two hubcaps off his 1979 Chevy Caprice. The victim said the car was parked in the lot in front of his residence on Jamestown Circle. The victim said no other damage was done to the car and added the total loss, including damage, is estimated at $75. Police said they have no suspects or witnesses.

• Also on Thursday, a victim said unknown persons broke out his driver's side window and stole a radar detector from inside the car. Police said they found two pry marks on the door frame, but have no suspects. The radar detector is valued at $311.23 and damage is estimated at $200. The car was parked on Innsbrook Drive.

• Finally, a complainant reported unknown persons broke the left rear window of his automobile and stole a stereo amplifier, valued at $243.

Police said they found pry marks on the car, which was parked outside the residence on Cameron, and on top of the window casing. Police added the tool used looked like a screw driver.

$75 in damage was also done to the car a 1978 Buick.

MEIJER'S THEFT — A Novi youth was caught stealing a BB pistol from Meijer's Saturday by store detectives.

Police said the youth selected a BB pistol, worth $49.97, and walked to the pet and garden area. He put the gun in his pants and tried to walk out with his mother, when he was detained by store security.

Police said the youth was released to his parents, pending notification of Novi Youth Assistance.

PURSE SNATCHING — Over $1,000 was stolen when an employee's purse was taken from the Player's Choice arcade — located on Seven Mile Road.

Township police look for leads to suspect in armed robbery

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

Township police said Monday no additional concrete information has been uncovered regarding the robbery of $50 from the Little Caesar's Carryout — located on Seven Mile Road near Northville Road.

At around 9:30 p.m. last Saturday, a suspect carrying what witnesses said appeared to be a gun, held up the two store employees and made off with $50.

"The case is still open and we're working on it," said police Capt. Phil Presnell. "We do have a lead that we're working on, but I can't release any more information at this time."

Presnell said police are looking for one suspect, who is described by store employees as a white male in his early 20s, 5 feet 10 inches tall, and of medium build.

Police report that the suspect entered the store wearing a nylon stocking on his head, a beige three-quarter length coat, blue slacks and white tennis shoes.

Witnesses said the suspect, after being unable to open the register himself, told employees to open the register and reached over the counter with his left hand — while keeping his right hand in his pocket — making it look like he had a gun or wanted them to think he had a gun.

Presnell said this is the first suspected armed robbery in the township this year.

Little Caesar's Manager Craig Doyle said this is his store's first robbery since it was opened two years ago. He added the corporation has enacted special deterrents to prevent crime.

"We keep no more than $100 in the register at any one time during the day or night," Doyle said, adding Little Caesar's has found this technique to be a "great deterrent" to crime.

"We've greatly reduced crime and theft in the last three years because the corporation has come up with this cash management program," he said.

Doyle noted the theory behind the program is that potential thieves are more apt not to rob the store if they know only a small amount of cash is in the register.

He said a sticker is on the front door noting that less than $100 is in the store at any one time and the money is kept in a time-lock safe, which takes 15 minutes to open.

"Our employees are in no great risk as compared to other stores in the area," Doyle said.

Swim Club renovation OK'd

The Northville Swim Club is getting a face lift.

The club building on Baseline Road is scheduled for an outside and inside renovation this year, as well as for a redone wading pool. The plans were approved by the city planning commission last week, clearing the way for the work to start. Three zoning variances had already been OK'd by the Board of Zoning Appeals.

The work is planned to include revamping the outside of the main building with a sort of lattice — what architect Walt Coponen described as a kind of "Miami look."

"What they're going to do is completely renovate the existing shower facility and then add a new wading pool for toddlers. The wading pool that they have has seen its better days, and it's time to replace it," Coponen said. "It's going to be an interesting kind of building when it's all done."

Coponen said at the commission meeting Tuesday, Jan. 17 that the BZA granted variances to allow the club parking lot to remain unpaved, and for required number of parking spaces and required side yard.

City Planning Consultant Don Wortman recommended approval of the plans. The city engineering firm McNeely & Lincoln Associates noted some items missing from the plan including location of the nearest fire hydrant, location of the dumpster, handicapped parking and a grading plan.

The commission approved the plan 8-1 with the stipulation that barrier-free parking be added. David Totten dissented, saying that the other engineering recommendations should also have been included in the proposal. City Manager Steve Walters said after the vote that the engineers' points will be required in any case, and that it was not necessary to cite them in the planning commission approval.

To comply with the requirements of the city's new standards of conduct and ethics, two of the commission members disclosed at the start of discussion that they are members of the club. At the agreement of the other commissioners, they participated in the discussion and voting.

Council finalizes new parking rates

BY BOB NEEDHAM

A new price structure for developers to buy parking space credits is now in place in the City of Northville.

With an informal consensus Monday, Jan. 23, the city council finalized a two-tier rate structure under which it will be cheaper to buy parking for a redeveloped, existing building than for a brand-new one. The council had earlier approved the substance of the agreement, but saw the final draft of the policy last week.

At the meeting, four of the five council members expressed their agreement with the new price structure. Council Member Paul Folino restated his earlier opposition to the two-tier system, saying that all development deserved the same treatment.

The city requires a certain number of parking spaces for any new commercial development. In the past, the city has let developers meet their requirements by buying available spaces in lots as an alternative to building new parking. Prices have varied, but most often have been $1,800 per space.

The new structure will cost developers $2,350 per space if their development is a change of use or expansion of an existing building. An expansion must be less than 50 percent new floor area to fall under this price.

New buildings, and expansions of more than 50 percent, will pay $3,400 per parking space credit.

City Manager Steve Walters, who developed the policy, has said both prices fall in between the cost of redeveloping new spaces in existing lots and the cost of spaces in a parking deck.

The new policy also explicitly states that each developer's request for credits will be treated separately, "on its own merits," and may or may not be approved. The city council is supposed to judge applications to buy credits on three factors: the project's contribution to commercial viability and tax base in the Central Business District (CBD); the city's ability to provide the parking without adverse impact on the existing situation; and the city's ability to provide the parking without limiting future parking opportunities for changes of use expected in CBD buildings.

The policy provides that the city may set up parking payments over a long period of time — 10 years or some other length. This is allowed if providing the parking without immediate payment does not create a cash-flow problem.

Finally, the new structure also has a special clause on restaurants: if a restaurant is replaced by office or retail during the period of payment, the council can end the agreement, with the new business keeping whatever parking had already been bought. Walters said this was added because some landlords may feel uneasy about taking on a 10-year payment schedule with a restaurant as a tenant.

Thawing leads to potholes

Although the City of Northville has been relatively free of pothole troubles so far this winter, drivers are advised to be aware "It's the thawing and freezing that causes it," Northville Department of Public Works Superintendent Ted Mapes said. That means the recent weather in the area is causing some nasty holes on streets all across the metro area.

Locally, Eight Mile and Seven Mile are particular trouble spots, Mapes said. Wayne and Oakland counties have both been out patching holes in recent weeks, but repairs are often no sooner made than even more work is needed "It's an ongoing battle, really," Mapes said. Most city streets haven't been hit too hard because most are covered with relatively new pavement, Mapes said. "Taft Road used to be a real problem," but a resurfacing this summer has alleviated it, he added.

But even with a city and two counties battling the problem, local drivers can expect to dodge the holes for the next few months, until the freezing and thawing ends, Mapes said.

Students take part in quiz contest

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

Here's the situation: Your team needs four correct answers on the final four questions to hit the goal of 1,500 points — all within seven seconds.

"I saw every team member come together, pulling for one another to get our goal," said Meads Mill Middle School librarian Robert Stover.

The Meads Mill team, consisting of two - sixth graders, eight - seventh graders and 10 - eighth graders, recently took place in the 1988-89 Knowledge Master Open (KMO) — a pseudo-Jeopardy game for students.

After a long, tiring morning, reaching the team's goal came down to those four questions: What happened? You guessed it. They got them all right.

Imagine spending three hours around a computer monitor answering quiz questions such as "The principal law enforcement officer of a county is a . . . ?"

For the 20 Meads Mill students such a situation made for an exciting event, which not only introduced them to an enjoyable way to learn, but also showed them the importance of team unity.

And, after scoring 1,300 points out of a possible 2,000 last year, this year's squad amassed 1,512 points — en route to a seventh place finish in a nation-wide contest of thousands of middle schools.

Stover, who acted as the team's coach and has entered the school in the KMO competition the past two years, said the contest attempts to introduce academically talented students to team competition. "The KMO gives students a chance to work with other kids and to work with a team," Stover said. "Usually the KMO students work by themselves, so the contest gives them an opportunity to experience something they may not otherwise."

The KMO competition involves 20 students from each participating middle school throughout North America, Japan and Korea.

Students from each school took a computer test on Dec. 6, which involved all team members standing around a monitor and trying to answer 200 questions.

Teams received points for each correct response and bonus points for answering within a certain time limit. Meads Mill students ended up seventh ranked in the country, but received a number three ranking in Michigan.

The KMO contest is sponsored by Academic American Co., a Denver firm that sponsors quiz contests for schools. Stover said Meads Mill paid a $35 entry fee to take part in the KMO contest and got to keep the computer disk, giving all Meads students an opportunity to take the test.

Stover said the Meads Mill team was chosen by inviting all middle school gifted and talented students, previously identified by the district, to participate.

"Every gifted student was given a written version of the KMO test and we took the students with the 20 highest scores," he added. "This is really the cream of the cream," Stover said.

Seventh grader Lisa Wagner said the contest was both "fun and interesting. The KMO gave us a chance to do something with other people."

Eighth grader Julie Zwiesler said the Meads team practiced five or six hours in preparation for the competition. "We always knew we'd do well. Everyone had their own speciality and we used them real well."

Zwiesler referred to the team's strategy, which was designed by Stover. He said two groups of ten students watched a computer monitor as the question on the screen appeared. After reading the question, the student who knew the answer would yell "definitely (the answer)."

"The kids had good organization and everyone was willing to cooperate," Stover said.

He noted, however, that in addition to the team aspect of the KMO contest, the competition also provided some recognition to students who may not otherwise receive any.

"This contest is one outlet for the intelligent person to get some credit," Stover said. "Sports are important, but I am trying to promote the fact that brainwork is good too."

Eighth grader Anthony Wen said he normally studies alone, and the competition gave him a chance to share what he knows with other students "and help out a team."

New Doctors Discovery

Weight Loss Pill

Approved for U.S. Gov't. Patent

'Lazy Way' to Lose Weight

Already Sweeping U.S.

BEVERLY HILLS, CA (Special) — An amazing new weight loss pill called "fat-magnet" has recently been developed and perfected by two prominent doctors at a world famous hospital in Los Angeles that reportedly "guarantees" you steady fat loss and calorie reduction by simply taking their tested and proven new pill.

The U.S. government has just approved the doctors claims for a hard-to-get patent that confirms "there has never been anything like their fat-bonding pill process before." It is a totally new major scientific breakthrough and is revolutionizing the weight loss industry.

Why Can "Eat Normally"

Best of all, "you can continue to eat your favorite foods and you don't have to change your normal eating habits. You can start losing fat and reduce calories from the very first day, until you achieve the ideal weight you desire without exercising."

Flushes Fat Out of Body

The new pill is appropriately called the "fat-magnet" pill because it breaks into thousands of particles, each acting like a tiny magnet, "attracting" and trapping many times its size in undigested fat particles. Then, all the trapped fat and calories are naturally "flushed" right out of your body because they cannot be absorbed.

Within 2 days you should notice a change in the color of your stool, caused by the fat particles being eliminated.

"Automatically" Lose Fat

According to one of the inventors, Dr. William Shell, heart specialist and associate professor of medicine at UCLA medical school, "the new fat-bonding process is a "lazy way" to lose weight because the pills alone "automatically" reduce calories by eliminating dietary fat. It is 100% safe and not a drug."

The fat-magnet pills are already sweeping the country with glowing reports of weight loss from formerly overweight people in all walks of life who are now slimmer, trimmer and more attractive again.

Now Available to the Public

If you are trying to lose 20, 50, 100 pounds or more, you can order your supply of these "no-risk" highly successful fat-magnet pills directly from the doctors' exclusive manufacturer only (includes optional calorie-reduction plan for even better results). Send $20 for a 90 pill supply (plus $3 handling), or $35 for a 180 pill supply (plus $3 handling), to: Fat-Magnet, 9016 Wilshire Blvd., Dept. WX44, Beverly Hills, CA 90211. (Unconditional money-back guarantee if not 100% satisfied.) Visa, MasterCard and American Express OK. (Send card number, expire date, and signature.) Committee outlines proposed five-year school plan

The first draft of the Strategic Plan for Northville Schools included the following belief statements that were a consensus reached by the 24 community volunteers who participated in the initial 40-hour weekend session to develop the plan

WE BELIEVE

- in the worth of the individual;
- every person can learn;
- people learn in different ways, at different rates, and at different times;
- student learning is our highest priority;
- self-esteem is essential for success, and success builds self-esteem;
- risk is a necessary part of growth;
- excellence in education is worth the time, effort, and cost;
- educated citizens are essential to our democratic society;
- people need to learn throughout their lives;
- there is a common body of knowledge which is essential for all to learn;
- education is the shared responsibility of school personnel, students, parents, and the community;

- community trust and support are required for quality education;
- quality education requires quality school personnel;
- schools play a vital role in shaping values;
- learning thrives in a safe, caring and orderly school environment;
- the quality of life in our community is directly related to the quality of our schools;

The beliefs were used to develop the following mission statement that will be used as the cornerstone for decisions made in the Northville School District.

MISSION STATEMENT:

Our mission is to challenge all students to reach their potential and to meet the demands of the future as responsible citizens through a dynamic, comprehensive curriculum provided in a caring environment by people committed to excellence.

stage, the most crucial test will be in the action plan committees and the implementation of those plans. She said she hoped that another "100-150 people could be ignited" to help continue the process.

Richard Brown, a parent who took part in the session, said he was impressed with "the very genuine feeling about the quality of education" being offered in Northville. Brown said that the most amazing thing about the entire weekend was the emphasis each of the 24 members put on excellence in education.

Audience members who were not a part of the planning session expressed optimism about the entire project. "The enthusiasm is contagious," Sandy Bush, PTA president at Winchester Elementary, said. "There is a lot of reality to it (the plan)," she said.

Shelley Schwartz, PTA president at Silver Springs Elementary School, said she was most excited about the mission statement created by the committee. "It is exactly what it should be."

Both Schwartz and Bush said they would be involved in the action plans as volunteers. The district has received calls from over 90 persons interested in volunteering to help with the strategic planning process.

Bell said the next step is to present the work-to-date to the community and the teachers. He will be meeting with PTA groups and at schools in the next week to hand out copies of the mission statement, beliefs, parameters, objectives and strategies for the district. He will also be in contact with those who have volunteered to get them involved in action plan committees, he said.

Copies of the first draft of the strategic plan will be available through the district offices or at individual schools, Bell said, beginning next week.

The Strategic Plan draft includes the following objectives to be reached in the next five years by the district. The objectives are based on the beliefs and mission statement of the district.

Objectives

1. To increase fund balance at least one percent per year until it can be maintained at five percent of current budget.
2. To annually increase community support.
3. To annually improve student learning through:
 - Improved performance on criterion-referenced assessments;
 - Improved performance on norm-referenced tests;
 - Teacher assessments of student performance;
 - Decreased drop-out rate.
4. To annually increase the percentage of students with positive attitudes toward learning.

Note: criterion-referenced assessments are defined as tests measuring specifically the curriculum taught in Northville schools. Norm-referenced tests are those tests conducted by outside sources, i.e. SAT, ACT testing, MEAP testing. Superintendent George Bell noted that Northville Schools have the lowest drop-out rate in Wayne County but said, "If even one student drops-out, that's too many."

The committee set the following eight strategies as ways in which the objectives can be reached. Action plan committees will use the strategies to formulate plans to achieve the objectives.

Strategies

- I. We will aggressively pursue increased funding.
- II. We will develop and implement facility plans to meet enrollment increases and aging physical plants.
- III. We will develop and implement plans to reduce stress created by overextended human resources (organized abandonment, paperwork, time, class size, scheduling).
- IV. We will develop and implement plans to serve students with special needs. (motivation, at-risk, gifted, elementary kids in crisis)
- V. We will develop and implement plans to evaluate and improve community (community-at-large) support. (business-education partnerships, volunteers, mentorships, senior citizens)
- VI. We will develop plans to evaluate the high school program and implement appropriate changes. (school climate, graduation requirements, student motivation, comprehensive curriculum)
- VII. We will develop and implement plans to improve school climate.
- VIII. We will develop and implement plans to upgrade equipment, materials and supplies. (computers, A-V, media, playground)

City OKs contract

MAGS building (Northville Square) to create about 73 new spaces and will pave the lot at the Scout Building off Cady for 40 more spaces.

If the deck is not built — which could happen if the financial conditions do not work out — Singh could fence in and make carports on 75 spaces in the MAGS lot.

Singh is to pay for the surface lot improvements, and the deck cost will be borne by the city and Singh. The contract assumes a maximum deck cost of $7,000 per parking space and a maximum of 8.5 percent interest; if either figure goes higher, the two parties would return to the table for further negotiations.

Based on those figures, the city will pay for 61.9 percent of the annual principal and interest payment on the deck. The 61.9 percent results from an earlier, less formal agreement between the city and Singh to assess Singh $2,667 per space.

Singh is supposed to pay the city annually over a 10-year period. The city will finance the deck with a bond issue, and pay off its own share using captured new taxes from the development.

The agreement is set up to meet Singh's requirement for 257 parking spaces under the city rules.

Day care proposal reviewed by council

Liability insurance — Folino stressed that the city should require special insurance to protect neighbors in case a day care child wandered onto someone else's property and was hurt.

Johnson responded that if additional regulation is needed, it should be on the situations that might cause injury and not on the day care home. Walters added that some insurance is required for a state license.

Hours of operation — All the council members basically agreed to restrict hours to 6 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Fenced play area — In a direct turnaround from a planning commission recommendation, four members of the council generally agreed not to require a fenced play area. Johnson said it would exclude some subdivisions which do not permit fences.

Folino favored the fence requirement. The commission had recommended a minimum fenced area of 200 square feet per child.

The whole issue of in-home day care arose in the city a few months ago when a neighbor's objection led to one such operation being cited for violating the city zoning ordinance. That citation is on hold until the issues are resolved. The city is aware of several other such operations within the city limits.

CITY HALL COMMENTARY

EDWARD F. KRIEWALL
CITY MANAGER

It is very unfortunate that we have to utilize this space to justify the existence of this means of communicating with the public. However, that's what this is all about. The Novi News recently objected to the utilization of tax dollars for this mode of communication. One alternative to doing this is to create a periodic newsletter mailing, which we did several years ago. Quite frankly, we looked at this option and we were not enamored with the tardiness of the news due to printing delays and ultimate cost of producing this kind of vehicle. The Novi Schools utilize the newsletter concept to communicate with the public, and they do it quite well. The annual cost for the six times a year publication is over $9,000. For the City of Novi to replicate this concept, we would expend approximately $18,000 per year. We believe the Novi News format to be more timely at a much lesser cost of $3,500 per year. We are able to deliver a weekly message and address issues on a timely basis. Granted, all residents do not take the Novi News, but neither do all residents read the bulk mailings that fill our mailboxes. We cannot understand why the Novi News is so threatened by this innocent means of communicating our mission.

School strategic plan needs district support

The first step in the school district's comprehensive Strategic Plan has begun. Twenty-four members of the community spent an exhaustive weekend hammering out the first draft of a document that will have far-reaching effects on the future of the Northville schools.

"Our mission is to challenge all students to reach their potential and to meet the demands of the future as responsible citizens through a dynamic, comprehensive curriculum provided in a caring environment by people committed to excellence."

That is the mission statement of the Northville Schools — or at least the first draft of the statement. It seems simple enough. But the components of this plan are diverse and complex. All decisions that the schools will make for the next five years, and possibly longer, will be based on the work done in the next year. Decisions on what to fund, how to fund, correct curriculum, standards of performance and department, will be decided based on the community's goals for their schools.

Putting an entire community's beliefs into words is an awesome project. Taking the opportunity to review the current strengths and weaknesses of the entire district is a big risk. Channeling those philosophies and weaknesses into concrete objectives was a crucial job. But the biggest challenge of all awaits.

This is a job that the school board, administration, faculty and residents must do together. Words on paper are nice, but if the work done by these 24 volunteers is to have any meaning at all, it must be backed by the effort of a far greater number of people.

Over 90 persons have already volunteered to become a part of this process. The level of commitment on the part of the Northville community to its schools will be tested in the next few months. That involvement must go beyond the PTAs and must go beyond the parents of children already in the school system. The health of the entire community — including senior citizens, single people, couples without children, and business owners — is tied into the health of the schools.

For every person that has ever wondered what the district is spending its money on, why their children are taking certain classes, and why property values continue to increase in Northville, this is the time to get involved. Copies of the draft proposal will be available through the school district and at individual schools.

Vets zoning looks good

We were delighted to hear of a possible reversal in direction for city consideration of veterinary clinics: the city council appears to be willing to consider such offices in the downtown area, after the city planning commission recommended against such a move. We fully endorse the idea of veterinarians downtown, and therefore disagree with the commission recommendation, but we hope that a couple of good ideas from it are not lost.

Last week, the city council agreed to consider vets in the downtown area. Some of the council people commented that veterinarians would be a good addition to the services offered to residents downtown, and that experiences with similar businesses — like the pet salon — have not been negative. As we've stated before on this page, we completely agree with that line of thinking. Especially when the major planning commission objections appear to be resolvable, according to a proposal from City Manager Steve Walters.

Of course, the ordinance change which would allow veterinarians downtown is far from accomplished. But if the sentiments expressed at that council meeting are any indication, the chances for eventual passage are good.

Such a passage would differ from the ordinance draft the planning commission approved when it was asked to consider the issue. On a 5-4 vote, the commission recommended against allowing vets in the central business district (CBD).

That part of the recommendation deserves to be rejected, but we hope the city doesn't throw the baby out with the bathwater. That is, other aspects of the planners' proposal deserve attention.

For example, the commission recommendation suggested expanding the areas such offices are permitted by allowing them in industrial zoning. It also suggested a clause allowing the commission some flexibility in the site plan process — adding whatever requirements it deems necessary to guard against creating a nuisance to neighbors. And it specifically referenced the city's new medical waste disposal ordinance, emphasizing that the rules would apply to all medical facilities, including those for animals. These are all sensible ideas.

These facets of the veterinary clinic issue went unmentioned at that city council meeting, and in Walters' preliminary proposal. They should be addressed when the council formally considers changing its rules.

trying to even out its own rate structure — making all its member communities pay the same amount — and Northville apparently had some catching up to do.

The matter basically ends there, unless the Omnicom subscribers are really upset with the cost changes. The company's contract with the city is up in four years, and Boland has suggested that the city and Omnicom get together in a committee format to talk about cable service before then.

The idea is a good one. But Omnicom should allow interested citizens a voice on that committee as well. While the average viewer may feel it is a no-win situation, take the increase or cancel the cable, perhaps a dialogue between company and community will help. Either way subscribers should stay involved, because the contract will be up — eventually — and that is the time when subscribers will have some clout.

Subscribers stay tuned

Northville residents have seen cable rates rise in recent years, and if a few phone calls to the Record office are any indication, there is some resentment being felt by the public toward the cable company.

It is true that if you are a cable subscriber you are in a difficult situation. If the cable company chooses, it may raise your rates. You can either accept the rate change, or cancel your subscription. Because the company has a long-term contract with Northville, no other company can compete for the service. It is a monopoly situation, of sorts, until the company's contract is up for renewal.

The City Council recently had Lisa Boland, general manager of Omnicom Cablevision, in to discuss the raise in rates. She explained that the increase was a direct result of increases in programming costs from such stations as Home Box Office and Cable News Network. In addition, Omnicom has been

Raising the roof

By Bruce Weintraub

Please, somebody say it isn't so.

In the ultimate wisdom of some of our trusted government leaders, U.S. congressmen, cabinet personnel and federal judges are all in line for a 50 percent salary increase.

For congressmen — such as Rep. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) — that translates into a salary jump from his current income of $89,500 to around $135,000.

Now to complete this crazed scenario, not only do the politicians have the final say on this issue, but by doing nothing at all the raise will automatically go into effect.

Before discussing the validity of the raise, it first should be noted that if it goes into effect, federal employees would not be allowed to accept honorariums. Currently, they can accept somewhere around $28,000-$30,000 per year in honorariums. Even in old math, a $45,000 raise seems pretty good compared to $30,000 in honorariums.

Now for the validity of the raise. Before leaving the White House two weeks ago, President Reagan recommended the 50 percent pay hike. In the face of a 1988 budget deficit around $155 billion and across the board cuts being discussed for 1989, a raise for employees already in the top 2 percent pay range is extreme.

Consider for instance, that the U.S. deficit rose almost $6 billion from 1987-88, yet our president proposed a raise for our already well-paid congressmen. Combined with that, our congressmen are considering accepting that raise, even though they are projecting a budget deficit of $141 billion for 1989. This may be the only job where you can be in the red and still qualify for a 50 percent raise.

As reported in other publications, if federal employees sincerely want the raise to do away with honorariums, then why not just do away with honorariums? Is it so difficult to live on $90,000? I know congressmen maintain two residences, but $90,000 seems suitable, in light of the fact that most people make ends meet on a lot less.

Wayne County Commissioner Susan Heintz (R-Northville) said she is opposed to the raise in principle, but added she is sympathetic to congress about a living allowance.

This is not to say however, that for one second I believe federal employees aren't deserving of a raise. Something along the cost of living increase though seems more reasonable. To all of a sudden suggest a 50 percent raise seems out of line.

Think, for a second, how many people other than entertainers get 50 percent pay increases? How many hard working people get a four or five percent raise each year and are ecstatic to get even that?

Pursell's press secretary Gary Cates said the Representative is opposed to the pay raise as it is proposed. "The amount (of the raise) that Congress is talking about is too much in his (Pursell's) estimation," Cates said, adding Pursell would be in favor of a raise if it were a reasonable amount.

Cates said further, that Pursell is co-sponsoring a bill with Rep. Tom Tauke (R-Iowa) which would put three conditions on a pay raise. Those conditions would include: making the Congress roll-call vote on the issue, deferring the raise until the next session of Congress, and banning any legislation dealing with a pay increase from being tied to other legislation.

Cates said by deferring the pay raise, citizens will be able to decide whether to return their political leaders or remove them from office.

As for the raise not being tied to other legislation, Cates said a Congressional pay hike could not then be attached to bills designed to allot money for the homeless.

Pursell's proposals certainly make sense. If we, as citizens, don't care for how our leaders voted on this issue, we could simply decide not to send them back to Washington.

Maybe I'm just being overly cynical, but doing nothing for a raise just seems ridiculous to me. After all, aren't employees supposed to do something to get a raise?

Hide and seek the panel.

"So how'm I doing?" I asked during the break. I put the question to Northville Record editor Ann Willis and Craig Ferrand, managing editor of the News-Herald papers in the Down River area.

"Doin' great, Phil," they both responded separately. "Give 'em hell. Don't let 'em get away with those namby-pamby editorials."

I wasn't sure if they meant it or were just setting me up to get myself in trouble, so I backed off a bit during the second half of the seminar. I didn't want to be known as the Rambo of the editorial panel.

Still, it was sad how many papers in this state seem fearful of taking stands on the editorial page. Taking stands is what editorials are all about, and I like to believe The Record meets that obligation.

An editorial is an opinion. That's all. And I'm as prone to having a bad opinion as anybody else. I hope it won't be construed as an apology to admit that over the years there have been a few editorials I'd like to call back. But one of the nice things about this job is the accountability. When you make a mistake or have a poor opinion, it's right there in black and white for everyone to read.

After the fact

By Phil Jerome

There was a break halfway through the seminar so I sought out a couple of people whose opinions I valued to see how I was doing.

We were at the Michigan Press Association Convention in Grand Rapids over the weekend, and I had been invited to serve on a panel discussing editorial pages. The moderator of the panel said the five panelists had been selected because their newspapers have consistently won awards for editorial quality.

But we were only halfway through the first one-hour session when I realized that I was coming across awfully strong. All of us had advised the same basic thing in our opening speeches — take strong stands on local issues. But when we got to the question-and-answer part, I seemed to be the resident tough guy on

Amerman dealt well with growth

To the Editor:
The issue of growing population and the subsequent overcrowding of Amerman Elementary School has been newsworthy in recent weeks. In the process of working towards a solution to this problem, credit has been given to a variety of interested and involved parties — school administration, school board members, concerned parents, and the administration and staff of the Child Development Program at Moraine. However, the problem of Amerman's overcrowding has not just suddenly occurred. It has been developing over a period of time.

As the population has been growing, Amerman Elementary has had the responsibility of continuing to provide a quality education in spite of its growing numbers. Milt Jacoby and the entire Amerman staff deserve both public recognition and our personal gratitude for doing that.

Housing costs

To the Editor:
Re: January 19, 1989 (column by Bob Needham) "Affordable Northville"

Needless to say the majority of the house buying public would agree with you; however, the following facts tend to make housing a fixed cost:
1. Construction materials are the same regardless of location (a 2 x 4 is the same price in Detroit as it is in Northville).
2. The flexible items are:
a) The size of the house — smaller the house the smaller the price tag.
b) Density of the land — a per unit house land cost is less when you have five units per acre rather than two or three units per acre.

Please read Barbara O'Brien's comments on Page 5-A of the Northville Record, 1/19/1989 — she is in favor of reducing the density and restricting multiples. Therefore, 2 above is not going to happen.
In sum, you are asking a landowner to sell his land for less than its highest and best use as determined by dollars to achieve more "affordable" housing in Northville — he will not do so.

Program helps teens with today's issues

This is another in the continuing series of columns written for the Record by Charles Stilec, Northville High School Student Assistance Program Coordinator.

The second half of the school year has begun, new teachers getting used to new students, new stresses both good and bad at home and school for the youth in our community.

There was an article in Time Magazine a few weeks ago talking about the troubled 1980s as compared to the 1940s. In a study conducted by the Fullerton California Police and the California Department of Education as published in the Junior League Review, the following different major school problems were noted.

- 1940s: Talking, chewing gum, making noise, running in the halls, getting out of place in line, wearing improper clothing, not putting paper in waste baskets.
- 1980s: Drug abuse, alcohol abuse, pregnancy, depression, suicide, rape, robbery, assault, burglary, arson, bombings, shootings.

Although this represents a population on the other side of the country, it to me sends a clear message that the magnitude of the social problems is so great that we need to use all possible resources to intervene before they get out of control.

The Student Assistance Program housed at Northville High School provides support services for "a risk" youth through referrals by friends, parents, staff and students themselves. Many of the referrals are based on concerns over a student's behavior and attitude. Referrals come directly to the Student Assistance Program and are processed with all concerned staff in an attempt to find the best solution to the students area of concern.

The program offered to Northville school students is the following:

- Assessment — Insight Groups; for students who are referred or refer themselves due to their behavior or chemical use (alcohol included) or who need further education possibly referral for evaluation. Parents are encouraged to find community programs emphasizing drug and alcohol education.
- Concerned Kids Group/Stress Group; for students affected by someone else's use and/or need to process problems with self, home or school.

- Aftercare Group; for students involved in the recovery process from drugs or alcohol or are returning to school from chemical dependency treatment.

- Parent Support Group; for parents in the community who need support and feedback from professionals and each other. Meets weekly, Tuesday 7 — 8:30 p.m. at Moraine School.

- Classroom presentations and staff in-services.
- Community presentations, talks and education.

- A liaison to the community programs such as the Northville Youth Forum, Northville Action Council, Northville Youth Assistance and community treatment programs.

- Referral Service
If you need further information, whether it's about chemical use or other concerns, know that you can call 344-1825 (Student Assistance Program), Monday thru Friday, 7:30 a.m. — 5 p.m. and you will be heard. Make it happen, don't wait for it!

Business offers two college scholarships

By LYRIC MATSON

A new scholarship will be available for Northville students courtesy of the Ross B. Northrop & Son Funeral Home. The local business is offering a new scholarship this year for high school seniors to financially assist them in the attendance of the Michigan university or college of their choice.

Two awards of $500 will be made by May 31 of the senior year of the winning students. The money will be paid in the form of a tuition payment to the university or college that the recipient will be attending the fall of the same year.

The scholarship was set up by John B. Sassaman of the Ross B. Northrop & Son Funeral Home, which is funding the award. Sassaman stated that, "Basically, my feeling is that people in business have an obligation to the community. This is one way of putting something back into the community that would be of great benefit."

To qualify for the award, which is named the Northrop-Sassaman Scholarship, the applicant must be a high school senior from the Northville Community. The applicant must also:

- Be a United States Citizen
- Have carried a B grade average throughout his/her junior and senior year of high school

- Demonstrate leadership qualities
- Have been accepted at a Michigan university or college
- Have not been offered a full scholarship to attend a university or college.

Interested seniors may write for an application through John B. Sassaman at the Ross B. Northrop & Son Funeral Home, 19091 Northville Road, Northville, MI 48167. Students are advised to print "SCHOLARSHIP" on the envelope.

All completed applications must be typed and returned by March 31. In addition to the application, college hopefuls are required to send in a letter of verification from their high school office stating the junior and the senior letter grade average, along with two letters of recommendation from the student's senior year teachers specifically addressing the applicant's academic performance and leadership abilities.

Finally, one additional letter from an adult friend or neighbor is needed.

Applications will be reviewed and awards given regardless of race, color or creed, national origin or sex. They will be judged on completeness, listed leadership activities and abilities, academic achievements.

ANTI-BRACE FOOD

Kids have a way of destroying the indestructible. Johnnie had a beautiful set of braces. Should have stayed in place until the day of reckoning. But Johnnie was a kid. It was a hot day and he was trying to break an ice cube with his teeth. Pop went the icecube - Pop went the braces!

Of course, with the evidence gone (melted) and the braces in Johnnie's hand, it's easy to lay blame on the orthodontist for placing the braces on improperly. True, orthodontists are only human and this can happen - but most of the time, braces that come loose in treatment are not due to this factor, but rather to the type of food the patient eats (or tried to pulverize). Hard foods, like candies, French bread crusts, hard vegetables, ice cubes, etc. can all fracture the cement that holds the brace to the tooth thereby causing a loose brace. Sticky foods, like chewy candies can do the same thing. Special attention has to be paid to the kind of food eaten in order to preserve the braces and the teeth that the braces are hooked onto.

Arbor Drugs in downtown Northville is undergoing a facelift inside and outside.

Record/CHRIS BOYD

Arbor Drugs to be remodeled

The Arbor Drugs store in Northville is well into a complete inside-and-outside renovation to update its decor to the rest of the chain.

All the Arbor stores are supposed to undergo regular remodeling every five years, an Arbor spokesperson said. All the decor and wall treatments are renovated to be as contemporary as possible, the spokesperson said.

The Northville renovation is also including moving the door from its old location. The work is expected to be completed by April.

"It's going to look very much like the stores that are being built from scratch today," the spokesperson said.

The renovations — and the whole Arbor decorative scheme — are designed to be bright, upbeat, and geared to convenience, the spokesperson said.

In addition, he said, the remodeling routinely increases business.

"They always result in substantially more business," he said. "People react to them. They like the environment. (Renovations) always result in greater sales from existing stores."

The Northville Arbor store opened in 1977. There are currently 83 in Michigan.

City applies for grant to pay for Eight Mile/Center Street project

Almost $20,000 could be available for changes to the Eight Mile/Center Street intersection, if Oakland County approves an application from the City of Northville.

A recent letter from the Oakland County Road Commission informed the city that it is in line for $19,146 over the next three years under the county's tripartite road improvement program. The city would have to pay a third of that amount, to be matched by the road commission and by county government.

The city's application is $6,382 for the next three years, although the county has been somewhat flexible in the past in letting communities lump more than one year's appropriation together.

In an informal agreement Monday,

Jan. 23, the city council directed City Manager Steve Walters to apply for the money to improve the Center/Eight Mile intersection. Walters suggested that project.

In a city traffic study released about a year ago, consultants recommended installing a northbound left-turn lane on Center at Eight Mile; modifying the traffic signal to include a special phase for westbound left turns and through traffic; adding an Eight Mile entrance to the high school and a relocated entrance to Amerman Elementary, all with a new light, and closing the Center driveway for the high school, or limiting it to outbound right turns only.

A local group of citizens, school oficials and city officials is also considering traffic improvements to the intersection.

"This won't be nearly enough money, but we can use this money toward those projects," Walters said at the council meeting.

Under the county's schedule, cost estimates and concept drawings for proposed projects are supposed to be back before the local communities by Feb. 28. Project approval is supposed to be done by April 28.

Along with the notification of funding, Oakland County had suggested two possible projects: resurfacing the intersection of Eight Mile and Randolph or improving the intersection of Eight Mile and Novi Road.

City OKs temporary plan to improve problem alley

By BOB NEEDHAM

Several steps designed to improve conditions in a local alley were taken by the Northville City Council Monday.

The council voted 5-0 to spend $4,700 on some work to improve storm water drainage and related concerns in the T-shaped alley, which runs behind Center and Baseline streets around Grace Street. Residents of the area have said that stormwater drainage and flooding, traffic volume, traffic speed and the condition of the alley surface have been an increasing problem over the last few years.

Work approved by the city council Monday is considered a temporary solution, to see how much of the problem is solved. The city engineering firm, McNeely & Lincoln Associates, has offered several options for a more permanent solution, but they all include installing a storm sewer at greater cost.

Work approved by the council Monday is in two main parts, closing one end of the alley and regrading the surface.

The first part is closing the west end of the alley behind Baseline at Center Street. This would mean putting in new curb, fill dirt, and seed; costing $1,400.

A report from Robert Warner of McNeely & Lincoln Associates says that this closing will reduce traffic congestion, end traffic cut-throughs, and reduce the rate and volume of storm water runoff.

The second part of the operation is restoring the former grade of the alley. Residents have said that new gravel is regularly dumped in to fill in ruts, but that the higher grade developed over the years causes gravel and large amounts of water to wash into people's yards and basements.

The runoff "is a problem that's continuing, if not getting a little bit worse," Baseline resident Doug Berg said at the council meeting. A recent rain put three or four inches of water in his basement, he said.

According to Warner's report, the regrading will mean the removal of about 160 cubic yards of fill material, and the laying down of 22 tons of crushed limestone for a better driving surface. The work would cost about $3,300.

Once done, that would lower the east-west leg of the alley about a foot and a half, the report says. Stormwater will still collect, but not as much; and the sediment washing into the Baseline back yards should end the report says.

City Manager Steve Walters said the work might mean some different problems; that is, the city would stop dumping gravel in to fill in any ruts which occur. Simple re-grading will still help fix ruts during most of the year, but when the ground is frozen, they will be a fact of life, Walters said.

Warner recommends monitoring the situation once the work is done, and if drainage is still a problem, considering additional work. That would most likely mean new curbing to direct water to a new storm sewer. Paving might also be an option, although the report recommends against it currently.

The city is footing the bill for the work currently planned, out of its general street maintenance funds. If more work is needed, the city and area residents would probably have to share the cost, Walters said.

Some residents of the area present at the meeting said the project looked like a good step as it was outlined, but again asked the council to do something else to control traffic in the alley.

'That's shoe business'

Northville cobbler maintains time-honored tradition of shoe repair

By MAUREEN NASZRADI

Polish, leather and glue on the workbench in back scent the air. Charges are tallied with pen on paper over the counter. And regular customers are greeted by name.

Inside Cobbler's Corner, near the corner of Main and Center streets in downtown Northville, a shoe repair business has remained virtually unchanged for 60 years.

Now designated by the sign, "Shoe Repairing, Est. 1928," the shop provides full service and survives by its reputation, according to 17-year proprietor Andy Piccoli.

Piccoli operates his Northville business by the standards he learned from his father who owned shoe repair businesses in Detroit and Dearborn. His two brothers also continued the family tradition, operating the original store in Dearborn and another in Warren.

Piccoli daily applies the knowledge he first began to pick up as he helped clean his father's shop. The 57-year-old cobbler started polishing shoes and putting lifts on women's shoes when he was just eight years old. But, he says, it was when he finished high school — 10 years later — that he felt he truly knew the skills of the trade.

"The most important thing about repairing the shoe is that when you're through with it, it should not look like it's been repaired," Piccoli said.

"That's the key to this business." Equally important to his business is establishing a reputation for quality workmanship. Piccoli says he can repair any domestic or foreign-made shoe. However, he adds, he also will tell customers when the items they bring in are not worth fixing.

"I've built a reputation in this business and I want to see that customer at least two or three times a year on a regular schedule once I build a rapport with them," Piccoli said.

through a family tradition. It would be very difficult to learn it in a school."

During the 17 years he has operated his Northville business, the cobbler has fully trained — each over a three-year period — seven individuals. Five of the seven now operate their own shoe repair business, Piccoli reported.

His current apprentice is Michael Smith, a junior at Northville High School. Piccoli said Smith is progressing nicely, learning the trade. However, he adds, his pupil will be another 2½ years practicing with the tools and at the bench before he masters the trade.

While passing on his experience in the industry, Piccoli said he watches for new trends in style and manufacturing.

The shoe repairman has seen the processes of "spitting nails" into heels and soles hammered on stroke-by-stroke give way to an automatic nailer, a high-speed finisher, a five-in-one skiver, a power press and a power nibbler, among other tools.

The machinery in Cobbler's Corner has taken some of the labor out of the repair work, but the finished product still requires the guidance of a skilled hand. Among the stacks and stacks of shoes and boots, parts of shoes, polishes and tools surrounding the workbench, repairs are still performed one at a time.

It's the shop's busy season now, said Piccoli. The shoes and boots brought in throughout the winter are always enough to keep two "shoemakers" busy. Smith attests to the fact that there are always items to be repaired or customers to greet. As he begins to pick up the knowledge of the trade, time goes by fast, he said.

"This isn't a business that you can ever get rich in, Piccoli said. "But you can get a sense of satisfaction by knowing that you're helping people save money on their shoes."

It's hard to find someone who still conducts a business that way, according to Piccoli. More often, he said, people seeking shoe repairs will find a store in a mall where proprietors "pick and choose" what they want to fix.

"They're basically looking for the transit trade. They're not looking to see the same customer twice," Piccoli maintained.

This profession is going the way of the dinosaur," he continued. Children of the old-time

"shoemakers" frequently are choosing to attend college instead of following their parents into the shoe repair business, according to Piccoli. The family business at that point is dissolved or sold, he explained. Cobbler's Corner had only one previous proprietor when Piccoli took over the business in 1972.

"People like us are basically in it for the long term rather than the short term of it," Piccoli said.

"This trade is learned from either someone you're very close to or

WAGNER ASSOCIATES, INC., a professional bookkeeping services firm, has opened for business in Northville.

Ruth Mayes Wagner is president of the new firm. She has over 15 years experience in bookkeeping and accounting services. Most recently, she was an associate with Plante & Moran Certified Public Accountants, where she served as manager of the firm's Client Accounting Services Division.

Wagner Associates, Inc., serves businesses in the metro Detroit and Ann Arbor areas by providing high-quality, affordable bookkeeping and financial statement services.

PAMELA CHAMBERS has been promoted to in-house sales agent by the Cobb Insurance Agencies of Howell and Milford. Chambers is licensed in property and casualty insurance and in life and health insurance.

In addition to attending classes to obtain the accredited advisor of insurance designation through the National Insurance Institute, Chambers is a member of the National Agents Association of Insurance Women, the Professional Insurance Agents Association and the Independent Insurance Agents Association.

Chambers holds a certificate of general insurance from the National Insurance Institute. She will be responsible for writing new personal lines insurance for clients through Cobb's Milford location.

CHARLES AUDETTE, former auto dealer, has joined the Commercial-Industrial Division of Thompson-Brown Realtors of Farmington Hills. The announcement was made by Thompson-Brown President William W. Bowman, Sr.

"Thompson-Brown has been a leader in residential, commercial and industrial development in Michigan since the early 1950s and we value the experience that Audette brings to our organization," said Bowman. "Chuck Audette has been a Farmington Hills resident and a leader in the business community for over 30 years and is extremely well acquainted with the area."

Audette was founder and general manager of Audette Cadillac in West Bloomfield and Audette Toyota in Mt. Clemens. He graduated from Sacred Heart Seminary College in Detroit and attended University of Detroit Law School. Audette was director of the Detroit Auto Dealers Association, president of the Detroit Cadillac Dealers Association, a member of the Cadillac National Dealers Council and a founder and trustee of the Michigan Auto Dealers Workers Compensation Fund before joining Thompson-Brown.

JENNIFER D. COOPER, a former Northville resident, has been promoted to banking officer at Georgia Federal Bank. With assets of $4.2 billion, Georgia Federal is the state's largest savings institution and fifth largest retail bank.

Cooper joined Georgia Federal in 1986 in the Second Mortgage Department. She served as a management associate and credit analyst before assuming the role of portfolio analyst/high yield investments.

Cooper holds a bachelors degree in International Relations from James Madison College at Michigan State University.

CHARLES FAST, manager of Schweitzer Real Estate Inc. Better Homes and Gardens, has presented awards to the multi-million dollar producers in the Northville office. Those honored were Rosemary Hagge, Nick Ghiran, Joe Niezgodka, Fred Schmitt, Norma Hazlett and Dick Herbel.

In presenting the awards at a recent luncheon, Fast said the ever-growing demand for extensive knowledge and expertise in marketing real estate has put these associates in the forefront of the industry.

CPAs respond to common tax questions

The countdown to April 15 has begun. Over the coming weeks, millions of Americans will be puzzling over tax questions. To help you get a fix on your tax situation, the Michigan Association of CPAs has supplied the answers to some of the most commonly-asked questions on 1988 taxes.

Have the tax rules really changed since last year?

Yes. Remember, last year served as a transition between tax systems. In 1988, several tax reform rules become fully effective for the first time, while others continue to phase in. In addition, this year's tax rates have changed.

What are the new tax rates?

Basically, there are two tax brackets for 1988 — 15 percent and 28 percent. However, the benefit of the 15 percent bracket phases out for single taxpayers earning $43,150 to $89,560 and married taxpayers earning $71,900 to $149,150. These individuals pay a 5 percent surtax — making their top tax rate 33 percent.

Has the personal exemption increased?

Yes. In 1988, the personal exemption increases by $50 to $1,950. One note of caution: If you can claim an exemption for your child or any other dependent, that person may not claim his or her own exemption.

I don't itemize. How much can I claim as a standard deduction on my 1988 tax return?

For married couples filing jointly, the standard deduction is now $5,000. Single taxpayers can deduct $3,000 and heads of household may claim a deduction of $4,400.

Money Management

Does the standard deduction increase for taxpayers who are either blind or age 65 or older?

Yes. These taxpayers are entitled to an extra standard deduction of $600 each if married, and $750 if single. The amount doubles for anyone who is both elderly and blind.

How do I know whether it pays to itemize on my tax return?

Itemizing may lower your tax bill — or win you a bigger refund. In either case, a simple test can help you make the right decision. Add up your itemized expenses. If they total more than your standard deduction, you should probably itemize.

Can I still make and deduct IRA contributions?

As long as you (and your spouse) do not actively participate in an employer-sponsored retirement plan, you are still entitled to the full IRA deduction.

What happens if I do participate in a retirement plan?

If you (or your spouse) participate in a retirement plan, you may still be able to deduct all or part of your IRA contribution. Married couples with an adjusted gross income (AGI) of $40,000 or less and single taxpayers with an AGI of $25,000 or less may take the full deduction. For every $1,000 in income over these ceilings, however, the deduction decreases by $200. So, if you're married and earn at least $50,000, you lose the deduction completely.

Can I make a non-deductible IRA contribution?

Yes, but you will have to inform the IRS by attaching Form 8606 to your federal tax return. To insure that your after-tax contributions are not taxed again at withdrawal, you should also keep a personal record of all non-deductible contributions made between now and the time you receive the entire sum of your IRS funds — in other words, for life. What are the rules for deducting miscellaneous and medical expenses?

Miscellaneous expenses are deductible to the extent that they exceed two percent of your adjusted gross income. Unreimbursed medical expenses are deductible to the extent that they exceed 7.5 percent of your adjusted gross income.

Has tax reform totally eliminated the deduction for personal interest charged on credit cards and personal loans?

Yes, but the deduction is being phased out gradually. In 1988, only 40 percent is deductible. The deduction falls to 20 percent in 1989, 10 percent in 1990 and to zero in 1991.

Is the deduction for mortgage interest being phased out as well?

No. Home mortgage interest is deductible on loans of up to $1 million as long as the funds are used to purchase or substantially improve a primary or secondary home. Interest is also deductible on home equity loans of up to $100,000.

Are state and local sales taxes deductible?

No. Tax reform has eliminated the deduction for both state and local sales tax. On the other hand, real estate, property and state and local income tax remain deductible.

I donated a little over $500 to several non-profit organizations. Can I still deduct these charitable contributions?

Only if you itemize on your tax return. And don't forget that if you give more than $500 in non-cash property such as furniture or clothing, you have to file Form 8283.

My 13-year-old daughter earned $1,200 in interest on her savings account. Will she have to file a tax return?

Yes. Any dependent child who has a gross income over $500 must file a return. The only exemption is when a child has earned income, such as a paper route salary, of up to $3,000 and absolutely no unearned income, such as interest or dividends.

How will her income be taxed?

Under tax reform, children under 14 may reduce their unearned income by up to $500 of their standard deduction. The next $500 is taxed at the child's rate, with any additional unearned income taxed at the parents' highest marginal tax rate.

For more information on your 1988 taxes, you can obtain a free brochure, "Unlocking the Maze: A CPAs Guide to Preparing Your 1988 Tax Return," from the Michigan Association of CPAs by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to 18116 Orchard Lake Road, Post Office Box 9054, Farmington Hills, MI 48333.

Fireplaces rate high among house hunters

When real estate brokers across the country were asked to name the two or three special features buyers most want in their "dream house," the most frequent answer was "fireplace."

"Whether you live in Maine or California, a fireplace conjures up images of cozy evenings at home," said George O. Goodling, Associate Broker with ERA First Federal Realty.

The second most popular feature in the ideal home is a special kitchen, according to brokers surveyed.

"The descriptions of what buyers want range from an extravagant, large, modern kitchen to specific appliances, including a built-in microwave, a trash compactor and a computerized kitchen," Goodling said.

Goodling said questions about the typical American's "dream house" were part of a recent national real estate poll conducted specifically for ERA Real Estate by Strategic Research of St. Louis.

Twice a year since 1983, the poll has surveyed the opinions of 400 franchise and non-franchise brokers across the nation, including members of the Real Estate Leaders of America (RELA) and state presidents of the National Association of Realtors.

With "fireplace" and "special kitchen" placing first and second, the following features round out the "top 10" list:

3. ROOM FOR ENTERTAINING. This space could be a large family room, "great room," play room or recreation room.

4. HOT TUB/JACUZZI. The poll disproves the notion that hot tubs and Jacuzzis were merely a fad of the 1970s and no longer popular.

5. SPECIAL BATHROOM. "Homeowners today tend to want more spacious bathrooms," explained Goodling.

6. CENTRAL AIR/HEATING. 7. SPECIAL BEDROOM. A master suite or extra-large bedroom is desirable, the survey showed.

8. GARAGE. "Everyone wants more garage space," Goodling said. "And there are still some parts of the country where having even one garage is rare."

9. SWIMMING POOL.

10. LOCATION. "It's said the three most important considerations when buying a home are location, location and location," Goodling added.

ERA First Federal Realty is a member of ERA Real Estate, which has 2,200 offices in the United States and more than 600 offices in Japan, Singapore and Australia.

ERA Real Estate was ranked by Entrepreneur magazine as the nation's number one real estate franchise for 1988 and the fourth overall among 500 franchises of all types.

Attorney offers advice on hiring handicapped

Not hiring an unqualified person who happens to be handicapped could lead to a discrimination lawsuit, according to Malcolm D. Brown, principal of the Fishman Group, a law firm representing employers in employment law matters.

"Employers cannot afford to become less productive or competitive by hiring an unqualified person, they cannot afford the risk of an adverse jury award either when the person claims handicap discrimination," Brown recently told participants at a Michigan State Chamber of Commerce seminar in Novi.

The Handicap Civil Rights Act has laid the framework for such cases through an accommodation provision that obligates employers to accommodate handicapped persons unless the accommodation would cause an undue hardship, Brown explained.

"The problem," Brown said, "is that the courts have not defined what constitutes undue hardship, leaving employers to base their decision less on qualifications and more on their ability to accommodate a handicapped person and avoid an unsympathetic jury."

Brown told participants that employers should consider five questions in accommodating handicapped persons:

- What will it do to morale?
- How will it affect efficiency?
- What is a precedent?
- What is the potential for a lawsuit?
- What are the compensation costs likely to be?

Brown also warned that courts have extended handicap protection to people not traditionally considered handicapped when considering discrimination cases.

The act defines a handicap as a physical or mental characteristic which is unrelated to the person's ability to perform the duties of a job.

"The definition," Brown said, "has allowed protection for alcoholics, drug addicts, transsexuals, people with mental illnesses, allergies, injuries or who are overweight."

Tips for controlling auto insurance costs

Teenage drivers are three times more likely to be involved in a traffic accident than many older motorists, according to a report by the Michigan Association of Insurance Companies (MAIC).

Statistics also indicate that crashes involving young people tend to be more deadly.

According to the MAIC report, 20 percent of drivers aged 15 to 19 are involved in a traffic accident each year. By comparison, less than 7 percent of 45 to 54-year-olds are involved in a roadway crash.

Although drivers aged 20 to 24 have a lower accident rate than teenagers, they are still involved in more crashes than older persons. The rate of accident involvement declines gradually with age.

MAIC President Terry Buckles said 15 to 24-year-old drivers also have greater involvement in fatal accidents than do all other age groups.

"These are the reasons younger motorists pay more for car insurance," Buckles said. "They have more accidents and more costly accidents. The higher price is a reflection

A younger person who is the principal driver of a motor vehicle typically pays 40 to 200 percent more for coverage than older drivers, according to MAIC findings. This surcharge is reduced as the driver grows older and is generally discontinued by insurance companies when or before drivers reach the age of 25.

tion of higher insurance pay outs."

A younger person who is the principal driver of a motor vehicle typically pays 40 to 200 percent more for coverage than older drivers, according to MAIC findings. This surcharge is reduced as the driver grows older and is generally discontinued by insurance companies when or before drivers reach the age of 25. Premium surcharges are generally much lower for young drivers who use the family car only on an occasional basis. These typically range from 20 percent for 24-year-olds to 90 percent for 16-year-olds, but vary from one insurance company to another.

The insurance industry representative offered the following suggestions for reducing or at least controlling the cost of auto insurance:

- Drive less. Rates are determined by the amount and type of driving you do.

- Select your car carefully. Rates are based on its cost, reparability and performance characteristics
- Coordinate personal injury protection coverage if you have other accident and health insurance.
- Choose higher deductibles on collision and comprehensive coverages.
- Consider a more economical type of collision insurance, but make sure you understand when you're covered and when you're not.
- If you have an older car and it is not financed, consider dropping both collision and comprehensive coverage.
- Drive carefully. Most traffic tickets and at-fault accidents will automatically increase your rates
- Use safety belts. Insurers offer rate discounts for drivers who buckle-up.

MAIC is a non-profit, public affairs organization which sponsors a number of consumer information and education programs, including driver safety presentations at Michigan high schools.

insane, t

Do you have names for people you don't understand?

Crazy. Lunatic. Crackpot. Psycho. Nuts. Slurs like these hide our fear of mental illness. Advertisements hawking "insane prices" and "midnight madness sales" merely reflect our scorn. Derogatory language does something else, too. It keeps us from seeing mental illness for what it really is: a distressing medical disease. A disease that afflicts over 35 million Americans.

But the stigma of mental illness keeps most of those afflicted from seeking help. Which is tragic. Because today there's more hope than ever. Medical science understands more about the dynamics of mental illness and has discovered new drugs and better therapies to treat it.

In fact, today, 2 out of 3 people who get help go on to lead productive lives. For an informative booklet about mental illness, contact the American Mental Health Fund:

Learn to see the sickness.

WOBBLY ANKLES

BY ANN WILLIS

A good fit ends days of wobbly pain

"They were six Mercuries skimming the ice. In plain English they went like lightning . . . each did his best, flying, with bent body, and eager eyes . . ."

From Hans Brinker by Mary Mapes Dodge

Right. Like lightning. On skates. Right. When I thought of skating one clear image emerged from all others. The image of a girl, ankles painfully bent toward the ice, tottering around, not having fun at all. If my body was bent it was because I was about to fall. If my eyes looked eager, it was probably because they glistened with tears about to fall. When I skated there was a lot of falling going on.

Ice skating to me was pure frustration. My ankles wobbled so badly that it was useless to try and stay upright for very long. A day spent on a frozen lake meant a day spent sliding around in my boots, after finally giving up on any possibility of balancing on the two thin blades.

Every year my father would stand outside in the dark, cold January nights creating an ice rink for his children. Every year my brother and his friends would race around on hockey skates slamming pucks at imaginary goals. I would tiptoe cautiously around on my sister's figure skates which were at least two sizes too big for me and stuffed with large wool socks. After about two minutes I would be in a pile on the ice. It was embarrassing.

So ice skating was a sport I was not eager to take up again as an adult. When people mentioned ice skating parties, I hid under the desk. While under there I heard something that made me give the whole thing another shot. I heard something about "new technologies" in ice skates. Something about "new designs" that assured the owner of even the weakest pair of ankles a shot at the thrill of gliding.

So I checked with the experts. Sandy Griffin of Griffin's Sporting Goods in Livonia, is a skater herself. She said the first step in getting rid of the wobbly ankle problem is to buy skates that fit. Really fit. "Basically back then (referring to the dark ages of my childhood) people bought skates two sizes too big. With big skates the ankles just naturally began to wobble." Griffin said that today's skates are better designed to support the entire foot, particularly the ankle. The more expensive the skate, usually the better the support, she said. A good fitting figure skate should run about $50, she said and hockey skates can run around $80.

"When people complain about weak ankles, they usually don't really have weak ankles. The majority of them just don't have good fitting skates," she said.

Griffin said that skating is great exercise, "a lot easier than running," and that it isn't hard on knees "unless you fall on them."

Tim Code of Kelly's Sporting Goods in Howell said that the newest skate technology has made a tremendous difference in the "wobbly ankle problem".

"There are nylon woven uppers on some skates instead of the all-leather," which offer more support, he said. They come with special pads that form around the ankle and offer support."

In addition the skates themselves are much lighter, he said, making it easier to move around. The blades are fastened in with plastic bindings instead of metal and the blades are made with lighter steel. "It makes skating a lot easier," he said.

There is even a Lange boot-style skate out now, Code said, which has a velcro strap and a binding reminiscent of a ski boot that offers great ankle support.

And what about hockey skates, do they offer more support than the traditional women's figure skates? "At least two times more support," Code said, making me feel better about my brother's ease on the ice compared to my own.

Wendy Anderson, a figure skating choreographer at the Plymouth Ice Arena, said that today's skates have made a world of difference for the young skaters she coaches.

The better brands of figure skates run about $500, Anderson said, and that doesn't include the $180 for blades which you buy separately.

"Weak ankles just aren't a factor anymore," she said.

"The kids used to be miserable in the cheaper skates. It makes it so difficult on them" when the inexpensive skates won't give them the support they need, she said.

Jenny Bethan, 13, has been skating off and on for seven years and said she was "wobbly at first, but my feet never hurt."

As for my second try at ice skating, I have to admit I had no trouble with my ankles. The problem is the skates still don't balance for you.

WHERE TO SKATE

Arenas, lakes offer fun on blades

Finding a place to ice skate in this general area can be a problem, especially during a relatively mild winter like the one the weatherman has sent this year.

Three indoor arenas are available, but hours are somewhat limited.

□ Grand Oaks Ice Arena at 970 Grand Oaks Blvd., Howell is open for public skating every Sunday from 1-3 p.m. Admission is $2. There are also times set aside for skating lessons for all ages.

The rink is available for hourly rental for special group events such as hockey. Call the rink at 517-546-4355 for details and available times. No skate rentals are offered.

□ Plymouth Cultural Center at 525 Farmer St., Plymouth has open skating every day except Saturday. Evening hours are 7-9 Mondays; 3:50-5:50 p.m. Tuesdays; 4-5:20 p.m. Thursdays; 7-8 p.m. Fridays; noon to 1:20 p.m. and 1:30-2:50 p.m. Sundays. Fees are $1.25 for adults and $1 for children. One-hour skating times are 75 cents. Skate rental is 75 cents, also.

Call the center at 313-455-6620 and ask to be sent a complete schedule of open hours.

□ Lakeland Skating Arena, 7330 Highland Road, (M-59), two blocks east of Williams

Lake Road in Waterford Township. Open public skating is from 4:30-6 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays. There are a limited supply of rental skates available at $1.50 per pair. Group rates are available by calling 666-1910.

Outdoor areas include:

□ Kensington Metropark, off I-96 between Brighton and Milford. Skating available when weather conditions are right at the cleared area near the Island-Queen boat dock on the north side of lake. A warm-up area with food available is located at the skating area.

Hours are 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Open to the public and lighted, there is no admission fee other than a Metropark use sticker which is $2 daily or $10 yearly. To be sure the ice is right for skating and the skating area is open, call 1-800-24-PARKS, extension 433.

□ Ella Mae Power Park, outdoor rink located behind the Novi Civic Center on the south side of 10 Mile, east of Taft Road. The area is open to the public at no charge. It is not lighted. Call 313-347-0400 for condition report.

□ Wilcox Pond, cleared area off Northville Road south of Five Mile, provided by Wayne County Parks and Recreation. Open to the public, there are no specific hours, but no lighting is provided. Call 1-313-261-1990 for information.

□ Maybury State Park, pond off Beck Road, south of Eight Mile Road, near the horse stable. Open to the public, the only fee is a Michigan State Park sticker which is $2 daily or $10 annual. Call 313-349-8390 for information.

□ Fowlerville Village Ice Rink, located behind the fire station on Fowlerville Road. Call the village hall at 517-223-3771 for conditions. The rink is open all winter when conditions permit. There is no admission charge.

There are no cleared skating spots at Proud Lake Recreation and Highland Recreation areas. However, Powers Beach at Proud Lake, located off the west side off Wixom Road across from the park headquarters, is a fairly popular spot, a park representative said.

There are several lakes in the Highland Recreation Area where the public skates, according to a park ranger. A Michigan State Park sticker is required for admission to either area. The charge is $2 daily or $10 annually.

Astronaut to speak to Northville club

Astronaut Jack Lousma and his wife, Gratia Kay, will be special guests at a dinner hosted by the Northville Woman's Club this Friday (Feb. 3).

The group will meet at the First Methodist Church of Northville. Punch will be served beginning at 6:15 p.m. Dinner will follow at 7 p.m.

During the evening's presentation, the Lousmas plan to share life experiences and to show "Home Movies From Space." The program is expected to run for about an hour. The Lousmas will be available for a question-and-answer period following the presentation.

Chairperson of the event is Mary Louise Cutler.

Valentine's Dance planned next week

Young ladies from Northville will have a chance to enjoy an evening of music and dancing with their fathers, during the Daddy-Daughter Valentine's Dance on Friday, Feb. 10.

The dance will be held at the Northville Community Recreation Department from 7 to 9 p.m.

Girls ages 4-12 are invited to attend. The event will feature dance music, a corsage, refreshments and a special gift for fathers and their daughters to remember the evening. If a father is lucky enough to have more than one date for the evening, the young ladies are encouraged to invite an older brother, uncle or grandpa along so that everyone attending will have a dance partner.

Interested participants must fill out a registration form by Feb. 9 and return it by mail or in person to the Northville Community Recreation Department, 303 W. Main.

Cost is $8 per couple.

AAUW to meet at Atchison House

The historic Atchison House will be the site of the Feb. 7 meeting of the American Association of University Women (AAUW).

AAUW members and their spouses or significant others are invited to attend. The group will meet at 7:30 p.m.

The meeting will combine community history in a social atmosphere as AAUW members learn about the background of Northville's newly-renovated and recently-opened bed and breakfast.

Any graduate holding a baccalaureate or higher degree from an accredited college or university may join the AAUW. For more information call Dawn Eule at 349-1626.

Valentine luncheon hosted by Northville club

The Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will host a Valentine luncheon on Feb. 13 at noon.

The luncheon will be held at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

In addition, a craft surprise will be presented to group members by Trisha Hopkins.

Special screening

Members of the Northville Woman's Club were recently visited by special guest Kathy Cline, standing, a training assistant in the Henry Ford Museum Education Department. Cline presented a film entitled "Hearts and Hands," which illustrated the art of quilting. Woman's Club members also shared works of needlework during the special meeting.

Social chairpersons of the luncheon are Jan Wilhelm, Shirley Millard, Carole Pappas, Verna Wall, Julie Woodward, Mary Duncan and Elizabeth Duncan.

Science fair scheduled

Students, get ready to show your stuff.

The Meads Mill Science Fair will be held Feb. 7-10 in the Meads Mill Media Center.

All eighth-grade students will be participating in the fair. Sixth- and seventh-grade students, however, also may display a project.

Students will set up projects on

Feb. 7 and classrooms will be able to view the displays during science class.

Parents and community members are invited to attend the science fair on Wednesday, Feb. 8 or Thursday, Feb. 9 between 8:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. An evening open house also will be held Feb. 9 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Meadowbrook hosts Lenten services

Meadowbrook Congregational Church in Novi will celebrate Lent by offering a variety of program and worship opportunities this year.

Following is a listing of dates and times for special services and activities:

On Wednesday, Feb. 8 (Ash Wednesday) church members will host a potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m., followed by a worship service at 7:45 p.m.

A 7:30 p.m. Lenten program "The Kingdom of God: Under Judgement" will be offered on Wednesday, Feb. 15.

On Wednesday, Feb. 22, a 7:30 Lenten service "The Kingdom of God: A Remnant Shall Repent" will be held.

A 7:30 p.m. Lenten program "The Kingdom of God: The New Exodus" will be held on Wednesday, March 1.

"The Kingdom of God: The Kingdom At Hand" is the title of the Wednesday, March 8 Lenten program, which will take place at 7:30 p.m.

On Wednesday, March 15, a 6:30 p.m. Lenten program will be celebrated with a Seder meal celebration and potluck. The Rev. James Lyons also will visit the church.

A 6:30 p.m. potluck will offered Thursday, March 23, followed by a worship service, confirmation and reception of new members at 7:45 p.m. (On Tuesday, March 7, a meeting will be held for prospective members at 7 p.m.)

The congregation at Meadowbrook will also hear special music during the Lenten Sundays preceding Easter. On Passion Sunday (March 12), a special work from the "Requiem" by Johannes Brahms entitled "Ye Now Are Sorrowful" will be performed by guest soprano Ernestine Nimmons, one of southeastern Michigan's best known soprano interpreters of the works of Brahms.

On Easter Sunday morning, the glorious "Hallelujah Chorus" and the aria "The Trumpet Shall Sound," both from the oratorio "Messiah" by George Frederic Handel, will highlight the worship service. A brass ensemble from Wayne State University and timpanist Gregory White from the Flint and Saginaw Symphony Orchestras will join the Meadowbrook Chancel Choir and Minister of Music Professor Ray Ferguson in presenting the musical portions of the Easter service. Ferguson is organist for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and professor of Organ and Church Music at Wayne State University.

Following Easter, on Sunday, April 9, the Novi High School Concert Choir under the direction of Paula Joyner will visit Meadowbrook Congregational Church. The choir plans to present all of the choral and solo music for the worship service that morning.

MARLA JEAN McPHAIL
THOMAS JOHN KEMP

McPhail to wed Kemp

Mr. and Mrs. Kent McPhail of Northville announce the engagement of their daughter, MARLA JEAN, to Thomas John Kemp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Kemp of Northville.

The bride-elect is a 1986 graduate of Northville High School. She is a junior at Eastern Michigan University, where she is studying elementary education. She is a member of Tau Beta Sigma, the national band sorority.

The future bridegroom is a 1985

Northville High School graduate. He is currently a senior at the University of Michigan and plans to graduate in April with a bachelor's degree from the College of Architecture.

He is a member of Alpha Rho Chi, the professional architecture fraternity. He is also a member of the University of Michigan Marching Band.

The couple plan an August wedding.

Area colleges provide course selections

New courses and workshops this winter at Schoolcraft College include Making an Effective Oral Presentation, First-Line Management, Fundamentals of Finance and Accounting for Non-Financial Management, Communication Skills for Managers, Should I Go Into Real Estate, Estimating Home Building Costs, Your Consumer Rights, Video Basics, Nutrition in the Supermarket, Sexuality after Sixty, Volleyball Conditioning, Weight Training and Beginning and Intermediate Clogging and Olympic Style Amateur Wrestling.

Most classes are scheduled to begin Feb. 6. For further information and course offerings call 462-4448. Schoolcraft College is located at 18600 Haggerty Road between Six and Seven Mile roads in Livonia.

Schoolcraft College's Continuing Education Services Division is offering new allied health classes for nurses this winter.

"NAPNES Theory, Medication and Lab Experience," covers the study of medications and their relationships to the body. Emphasis will be placed on the special nursing-care measures related to specific medications and the ability to identify side effects of medication. The course provides hands-on experience in working with needles, syringes and distributing medications. The class meets on Wednesdays from 9 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. for 12 weeks beginning Feb. 8. Cost is $130.

"Math Review for Nurses" provides the student with the necessary skills to make mathematical medical conversions from pounds to kilograms and grains to grams. Students also will learn how to calculate the flow-rate of intravenous solutions. A thorough review of fractions, decimals, percentages and Roman Numerals will enable students to pass a math final with 90 percent accuracy. The class meets on Mondays for eight weeks beginning Feb. 20. Cost of the course is $18. For more information call 462-4448.

Schoolcraft College's Continuing Education Services Department has announced the winter semester schedule. The following classes are just a sample of the courses being offered.

Business: How to Read the Wall Street Journal, Detailing a Business Plan, Winning Sales Techniques, Business Typewriting Refresher and Personal Typewriting.

Arts and Crafts: Introductory Drawing, Oil Painting, Experience in Art, Watercolor Painting, Introduction to Art I and II, Calligraphy, Ceramics, Photography, Sculpture, Porcelain Doll Making, Floral Design, Interior Design, Quilting and Beginning Stained Glass Window Making.

Music: Let's Read Music and Let's Go to the Symphony.

Physical Fitness: Many dance classes, including ballroom, country western, tap, ballet and square dancing. Numerous conditioning, aerobic and swimming classes also are offered.

Northville Library seeks books for annual sale

Do you have a bookshelf of books that are merely collecting dust?

There's a Northville group that can find a good home for them.

The Friends of the Northville Library is seeking donations of books in preparation for the library's upcoming used book sale in March.

"We hope residents will scan their book collections for volumes others may find useful or enjoyable," said Rosemary Mentag, president of the Friends of the Northville Library.

The group welcomes recent books, although books dating to the turn of the century can be sold as collectibles. Paperbacks and hardbacks are accepted, especially titles of fiction, non-fiction, children's and self-help books.

The library will accept all donations of books to turn over to the Friends.

In addition to quarterly used book sales, the Friends sponsors an ongoing sale of paperbacks and books that have been taken off the rental book list. Browers can find these books in the library alcove where the photocopier is located.

All paperbacks cost 25 cents. Recent hardbound books from the rental collection are priced at $2. Other hardbound books cost 50 cents.

An actual date for the upcoming used book sale has not been announced, although library officials are planning to hold it sometime in March.

Church sponsors 23rd annual White Breakfast

A morning of special music and celebration is planned next Wednesday at the First Presbyterian Church in Northville.

The 23rd Annual White Breakfast of the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville will be held Feb. 8 at 9 a.m.

This special communion service will open Lenten events on Ash Wednesday.

Susan Stott will be the guest soloist this year. Stott sings with the Detroit Symphony Chorale and is soloist at the Royal Oak Presbyterian Church. She also is a member of the Pontiac Symphony of Oakland County.

Stott has a degree in music and the performing arts from Wayne State University. She teaches piano and voice.

Community members are invited to attend. Child care will be provided. Reservations must be made by Feb.

Northville High School Senior Lori Bernardo keeps a busy schedule.

All in a day's work

Student juggles high school with other interests

BY BRUCE WEINTRAUB

Somewhere on every college application there is a five line box for students to list the extracurricular activities they participated in during high school.

For most students this is ample space. For some it may be too much. But for Northville High School senior Lori Bernardo, there is not nearly enough room. In other words, she's been busy during high school.

Besides being a member of the Northville Singers, Northville Action Council (NAC), National Honors Society, and Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD), Bernardo is president of the Northville Student Congress.

The student congress consists of 28 students (six representatives from each of the four grades and four officers), and is charged with organizing dances, spirit week, blood drives, and so forth.

"We (the student congress) try to address student concerns, while keeping in touch with the faculty and staff," Bernardo said.

And while many people would need to rest an entire weekend to recover from such a hectic schedule, Bernardo finishes the week by working weekends as a waitress at Guernsey Farms Restaurant.

"I'm always busy," Bernardo said. "I know that I don't have much free time, but that's how I like it. I love being involved with a lot of stuff."

After a few minutes of deliberation Bernardo said her main reason for getting involved with so many groups is "to meet as many new people as I can."

"I'm confident that as you get more experiences and meet new people, you'll be less afraid to try things," she noted. "I like to get involved in things and I don't wait for it to happen or get afraid to do things."

Of all her activities Bernardo said her favorite is participating in the Northville Singers. "I enjoy singing and entertaining people."

While many people in the community are benefiting from her dedication, Bernardo's hard work has enabled her to reap some personal rewards as well.

In addition to being named the 1988 Homecoming Queen, Bernardo was one of 23 Wayne County regional finalists in the U.S. Senate Youth Scholarship Competition.

Winners of the $2,000 scholarship — presented to two students from each of the 50 states — are determined on the basis of not just academics, but also on community involvement and leadership qualities, according to Wayne County Intermediate School Consultant Jeannine Cronkhite.

"This scholarship is not just for academic recognition, but community service is rated high on the applications as well as leadership," Cronkhite said.

In the Wayne County portion of the contest, Cronkhite noted one student was chosen from nearly all of the 46 high schools in the county. In choosing the finalists, that list was cut in half.

"As opposed to high school grades, this scholarship requires the students to be involved in community and school activities," Cronkhite said.

"In other words, this scholarship recognizes some of the top student leaders in the county."

High school Counselor Gladys Cohen said Bernardo was selected as the Northville nominee "because not only is Lori a top student, but she is also an effective leader."

"We know that grades do not predict the success of a student, but it's other qualities," Cohen said. "Lori has the ability and experience to let her leadership abilities come out and her rise as a leader will predict her success."

Bernardo said she applied for the scholarship months before it was awarded "and although I'm really excited to be named a finalist, I'm shocked that I made it this far."

However, true to form, Bernardo took being named a scholarship finalist in stride.

"I'm flattered, but it's all in a day's work," she added. "I do things because I enjoy it, not because I'm looking for awards."

With her busy schedule, Bernardo was still able to fill out college applications — including the extracurricular activity list — and after much consideration she's decided on Michigan State University.

"MSU has a lot to offer academically," she said. "Plus, it is a big and exciting school, meaning there is always something to do."

As for future career aspirations, Bernardo said she intends to major in psychology. "I think being a psychologist is a good way to help people."

"And I like to help people a lot with their problems."

PTA News

School conducts special activities

PTA News is published weekly in the Record. This week's news is from Northville High School. Any school interested in publishing its PTA or school news in the Record should contact the newspaper at 349-1700.

Spirit Week is Feb. 6 - 11. Class competitions will be held from 7 - 9 p.m. in the gym on Feb. 6. The choir will be delivering Val-A-Grams this week to students. The Spirit Dance will be held in the Cafeteria from 8:30 - 11 p.m. on Feb. 11.

The annual PTA Founder's Day Banquet will be held April 19, at Northville High School. High school parents and students are invited to nominate individuals for the high school awards. Please submit nominations to the high school office by Friday, Feb. 10.

The Parent Advisory Committee has instituted a Northville High School Number 1 Club to give recognition to students, faculty, parents and community members who have given of their time and energy to make Northville High School a better place in which to learn.

Any person can be nominated by filling out a nomination form available at the high school. These forms must be submitted to the general office at Northville High School.

Congratulations to the following new officers of the National Honor Society: President - Krista Leiendecker; Vice President - Jenny Dragon; Secretary - Jenny Beyersdorf; Treasurer - Karl Siegert; Historian - Dave McKee.

Due to the mid-winter break, Feb. 20 thru Feb. 24, the Parent Advisory meeting will be held Feb. 15 at 9 a.m. in the library classroom. The topic at the next meeting will be the School Improvement Thrust.

Single Place events

Single Place will host several events during the month of February, including a Mystery Party on Saturday, Feb. 11.

The party will begin at 8 p.m. at 19434 Silver Spring Drive in Northville, Apartments 203 and 204. The movie "Citizen Kane" will be shown and those attending the event should be prepared to solve a "murder."

Hostesses for the evening will be Karen Greenwald and Marnie Silk-Young. Optional dress in the style of the 1920s is suggested but not required.

A $3.50 donation is suggested. For more information and to make reservations call 349-2432 or 347-0683.

On Sunday, Feb. 12, Single Place welcomes Paul Seaser as guest speaker. Seaser will talk about "Body Broadcasts," a humorous look at body language and non-verbal gestures.

Seaser is a frequent visitor on radio and TV talk programs.

The presentation will begin at 7 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church in Northville. A $3 donation is requested. Child care will be provided.

For those who enjoy dances, Single Place will host a Country and Western Dance with lessons on Saturday, Feb. 25 from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church in Northville.

A professional dance instructor will be on hand to teach fun country and western dances such as the Country Waltz, the Texas Two Step, the Country Polka and the Cotton Eyed Joe.

The evening includes dance lessons, snacks and beverages. Cost is $5.

Those participating in the event are encouraged to bring a partner and to invite their friends, but also may come alone.

Western and country style clothing is encouraged. The group will dance at the Starting Gate following the dance for food, fellowship and more dancing.

For more information call 397-2816.

On Sunday, Feb. 26, Single Place presents a special program about tax planning for singles. Special guest speaker will be Sandra Smith-Rae of Sandra Smith-Rae and Associates of Northville.

Topic of the program is entitled "Tax Planning/Consequences For Singles and Tax Ramifications for the Divorced and For Those Thinking of Divorce." Rae will share some of the new rules for filing federal and state tax forms.

The program begins at 7 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church in Northville. A $2 donation is requested. Child care will be provided.

These are just a few of the special events and activities planned by Single Place, a support group organized for the purpose of providing friendship, caring and sharing for all single adults. The group meets at the First Presbyterian Church in Northville as an outreach of Single Place Ministries.

The Rev. James Russell is advisor of the group. Co-leaders are Rita Roden and Ron Dunbar.

For more information about the group or any of its upcoming activities, call 349-6474.

Potluck dinner hosted for area seniors

The Northville Area Senior Citizens will hold a potluck dinner Feb. 8 at noon at Cooke School, 21200 Taft Rd.

Entertainment and activities follow the potluck. Those attending are asked to bring a dish to pass — hot, cold or dessert — and a place setting. Napkins and coffee cups will be provided.

The Northville Area Senior Club and the Northville Area Senior Citizens Center recently merged and plans to hold a potluck on the second Wednesday of every month at Cooke School.

For more information or to provide suggestions call 349-4140.

In another service to area seniors, a hot lunch program is offered at Allen Terrace, 401 High St., in Northville.

Hot meals are served Monday through Friday at noon from the dining room of the Allen Terrace Apartment Complex. Meals are open to all residents of Northville and Northville Township as well as the areas around Northville.

To receive a hot meal, seniors are required to call the senior citizens nutrition site at least 24 hours in advance by calling 349-9661.

Transportation is available to Northville and Northville Township residents. Those arranging a ride must call the senior center at least 24 hours in advance to make a reservation.

Meals on wheels also is available to seniors unable to eat a hot meal at Allen Terrace.

Shelves at Northville's Shopping Center Market are stocked with a variety of available bottled waters. Record/CHRIS BOYD

Bottled waters rise in popularity

By AMY ROSA

If you're in... if you're cool, then you surely have a bottle of sparkling water with a twist of something lying around.

After all, sparkling water is the latest rage from California, right behind suntan booths, frozen yogurt and avocados.

It's the thing to be sipping if you're at a social gathering and don't want to drink alcohol, for instance, says supermarket manager Ed Bullock.

Bullock, co-manager of the Shopping Center Market in Northville, said he's seen an immense rise in popularity of these drinks over just the last two years. "There's no doubt it started in California," said the 20-year supermarket veteran.

The brand "Absopure," sparkling natural spring water, touched off the race for the purest in such drinking refreshments, said Bullock.

These "in" sippers include variations of the good old standbys:

- Sparkling water
- Sparkling mineral water
- Seltzer
- Club soda
- Tonic water

The drinks — under such brand names as Absopure, Perrier, Crystilled, Naya, CAP, Sundance, Original New York Seltzer and Aussie Seltzer — are trendy carbonated beverages being touted by the health conscious of late.

Bottles advertise "natural spring water," "pure artesian spring water with natural effervescence," and the like. And many brands claim to be without caffeine, added color, preservatives and sodium.

But shoppers shouldn't be fooled into thinking all these beverages are the same. When some brands say "no artificial sweetener added," it could mean that a sugar-based sweetener, either from corn or cane, is used. Also those that say "low sodium" still contain some sodium.

The bottom line is to read the labels, so you know exactly what you're getting, or not getting, as in the case of calories.

Usually sparkling waters, seltzers and club soda — whether unsweetened, plain or flavored — contain no calories. Those that do have calories (ranging from 60-85 per six ounces) are tonics and sweetened seltzers.

An example of this is the New York Seltzer line of colas, most of which contain some calories. Rootbeer, vanilla creme, black cherry, blueberry and concord grape are popular flavors, said Bullock. These also come in diet flavors.

However, tonic water, which traditionally contained calories, can now be found in a diet version by Canada Dry, Schweppes and Canfields. All still contain quinine, a bitter extraction from the cinchona bark.

Remember when Perrier was all the rage? Well, now even Perrier has had to alter its traditional "imported naturally sparkling mineral water" by adding twists of berry, orange, lemon and lime to keep up with the competition.

Even Faygo brand soda has added its version of sugar-free flavored sparkling waters to the market.

Other flavors in these types of drinks include (usually qualified as "twists of") raspberry, peach, strawberry-lemonade, grapefruit, cherry, cranberry and banana.

And then there is the Sundance brand which combines fruit juices and sparkling water for an even different taste.

Whatever your preference, there is much to choose from for "in" drinking.

Woody Herman band appears in Novi

Woody Herman's famous band — the Young Thundering Herd — will perform at Novi High School's Fuerst Auditorium today (Thursday, Feb. 2) at 7 p.m.

The world-renowned band is directed by Frank Tiberi. Herman chose Tiberi as the orchestra's music director in the spring of 1987 when ill health forced the legendary big band leader to take a sabbatical.

The Novi High School Jazz Band will perform under the direction of Craig Strain as the opening act at 6:30 p.m. All tickets are $7 and can be purchased at the door.

Exhibits celebrate Black History Month

During February, designated as Black History Month, the Detroit Institute of Arts is planning special activities to honor Black Americans.

"Voices of Sarafina!" the 1988 film directed by Nigel Noble, will be shown in the museum auditorium on Friday and Saturday (Feb. 3-4) 7 to 9 p.m.; Sunday (Feb. 5) at 5 and 7 p.m.; on Saturday, Feb. 25 at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Weekday showings will be offered Feb. 27, 28 and March 1 at 10 a.m. General admission tickets are $3 and may be purchased in advance through the DIA ticket office or at the door.

The film has received critical acclaim and is a behind-the-scenes portrait of the creation of the currently running Broadway musical "Sarafina!"

Adult tours of "African and Afro-American Artists on View at the DIA" will be conducted free of charge. The display contains essays about specific works. Call 832-2730 for more information.

HISTORICAL MUSEUM — Detroit Historical Museum presents "From Downtown to the Boulevard: Black Detroit 1915-1946," an exhibition that opens Feb. 3 and continues through August.

The display explores the growth, development and organization of Detroit's east side black neighborhoods from 1915-1946. It will be exhibited in the museum's Stark Hall and includes five major sections — migration, community life, entertainment, housing and black businesses. For more information

On and off slope fun awaits you

By ALICIA GARRISON

Whether you enjoy the high-speed thrill of streaking down a plunging run or quietly gliding back and forth across a long open meadow, Michigan ski facilities offer an abundant sampling of snowy slopes.

With nearly 50 ski resorts, Michigan is considered to be the downhill wonder of the Midwest.

In addition to skiing, most of today's ski lodges offer a variety of other activities. If you're not an avid skier, you can go ice skating, rent a snowmobile or bundle up for an exhilarating sleigh ride. Snowboarding (surfing on snow) has also become a popular sport.

Indoor facilities are frequently equipped with racketball courts, Jacuzzis and swimming pools. Most feature restaurants, bars, rental shops and ski schools.

Moreover, ski areas are making it easier for families to ski. Some resorts offer free skiing for children under a certain age and free or reduced prices on lift tickets for senior citizens. Some resorts are even expanding their facilities to provide day-care centers or nursery schools, complete with toys, physical activities, stories and crafts.

And nowhere is the skiing finer than in Northern Michigan—close enough for a weekend trip any time. Following is a brief description of some of Northern Michigan's finer ski havens.

SUGAR LOAF, Route 1, Cedar

Located in Cedar, 18 miles northwest of Traverse City, Sugar Loaf has 22 runs (six novice, nine intermediate and seven advanced) and a 540-foot vertical drop. Its longest run is 6,336 feet. Open through mid-March, Sugar Loaf features learn-to-ski packages, handicap accessibility, rentals, lessons, nursery, pool, tennis and saunas. Lift tickets are $25 for adults and $23 for children under 18. Seniors (over 64) ski free. Children under 19 sleep and ski free with mid-week packages. For more information, call (800) 632-9802.

BOYNE MOUNTAIN, U.S. 131, Boyne Falls

Boyne Mountain, a 1,150-foot-high summit near the tip of Michigan's Lower Peninsula, offers plenty of challenging skiing and lots of lively nightlife. Open through Easter, Boyne Mountain has 18 runs (four novice, seven intermediate and seven advanced). Its longest run is 7,920 feet and it has a vertical drop of 450 feet. Lift tickets are $25; under 9 or over 70 ski free. Boyne Mountain features several miles of open and tracked trails for intermediates and experts, lessons, rentals, handicap accessibility, indoor pool and ice skating. Call (616) 549-2441 for more information.

BOYNE HIGHLANDS, Hedrick Road, Harbor Springs

Located four miles north of Harbor Springs off M-119, Boyne Highlands' longest run is one mile. It has a 450-foot vertical drop and 17 runs (six novice, four intermediate and seven advanced). Lift tickets are $25; under 9 or over 70 ski free. Extra facilities include 17 miles of marked, groomed trails, two wooded trails, two golf course trails, ice skating, Jacuzzis, saunas, lessons, and rental. For more information, call (616) 526-2171.

CABERFAE, Caberfae Road, Cadillac

Featuring 22 kilometers of marked trails through Manistee National Forest, Caberfae is 15 miles west of Cadillac off M-55. It has 24 trails and a 470-foot vertical drop. Its longest run is 2,640 feet. Lift tickets are $18. Caberfae offers night skiing, snowboarding, nursery accommodations, lessons and rentals. For more information, call (616) 862-3301.

SHANTY CREEK—SCHUSS MOUNTAIN ROAD, Mancelona

Choose from two exciting ski hills and 30 challenging slopes. Located four miles west of Mancelona on M-88, Schuss Mountain has a vertical drop of 400 feet and its longest run is 5,280 feet. Shanty Creek, two miles south of Bellaire, has a 300-foot vertical drop and its longest run is 2,700 feet. Free shuttle service is available between the ski slopes at Shanty Creek and Schuss Mountain. Lift tickets at Shanty Creek are $18 for adults and $14 for children. Schuss Mountain lift tickets are $22 for adults and $15 for children. Tickets for both resorts are $28 for adults and $20 for children. Facilities at both resorts include ski school, rentals, snowboarding, ice skating, sleigh rides, day-care, Jacuzzis, indoor pools, and saunas. Call (800) 632-7118 for more information.

THE HOMESTEAD, Wood Ridge Road, Glen Arbor

Located on the Leelanau Peninsula, this stylish, modern resort is situated at the base of a 375-foot-high Lake Michigan sand dune. The Homestead has 14 runs (four beginner, six intermediate and four advanced) and a 375-foot vertical drop. Open through March 5, its longest run is 2,640 feet. The Homestead features night skiing, snowboarding, platform tennis, ice skating, shops, lessons and rentals. Lift tickets are $20 and children under 5 ski free. For further information, call (616) 334-5000.

Fonte d'Amore: A comfortable little restaurant dining out

DIANE KOVACS

Every good Italian restaurant should come with the charming type of legend that John and Lina Del Signore have for the Fonte d'Amore.

Ever since coming to the United States it had been the Del Signore's dream to open a restaurant with the same name of their hometown, Fonte d'Amore.

Fonte d'Amore is a village in the center of Italy, about 90 miles east of Rome. The village is completely surrounded by mountains and streams of fresh water from natural springs.

A legend about the ancient poet Ovidio tells that he would meet a beautiful girl whom he loved at one of the springs in the village. Later, the spring became known as the Fonte d'Amore — fountain of love.

With a story like that behind its inception, you would expect Fonte d'Amore to be good. And, fortunately, it is.

The restaurant is located amidst strips of auto dealerships and home repair companies on Plymouth Road in Livonia. There's nothing particularly noteworthy or attractive about the exterior, and the uninformed would be tempted to drive right past, denying themselves the pleasure of the food inside.

The Del Signore's have created a comfortable little restaurant at the Plymouth Road location. The decor is warm and refreshing — brick and stucco walls, a mural of an Italian village on one of the walls and a fireplace in the center of the room.

Don't expect to find the light woods, brass and potted plants which are so popular in the area's trendier restaurants. Fonte d'Amore derives its charm from its own sense of honesty and authenticity.

The restaurant has been around a good many years and tends to draw a somewhat eclectic crowd. You'll find the occasional couple out on a date — usually seated near the fireplace, it seems — along with older people and families with children. "Trendy" is not the word for Fonte d'Amore. What makes the family-owned restaurant worth a trip to Livonia is its classic Italian food . . . all of it prepared on the premises.

The menu includes 10 different pasta dishes, seven choices of veal, five steak and poultry selections and seven more seafood entrees.

Meals are accompanied by some very fine Italian bread and a choice of soup or salad. There's also a more than adequate wine list.

Our most recent trip to the Fonte d'Amore began with a selection from the list of appetizers — New Zealand green mussels saute, which was nicely presented and extremely tasty.

A Fonte d'Amore chef prepares a flaming Italian dish in the kitchen

Other appetizers include roasted peppers with artichoke hearts, escargot in mushroom caps, and prosciutto and melon.

My companion chose an entree from the selection of pastas, ordering Fettucine Al Verde — broccoli and mushrooms sauteed in virgin olive oil with garlic and parmesan cheese. The dish was savely prepared, managing to retain a lightness without an overly burdensome or over-powering sauce.

The Veal All' More which I selected was even more satisfying — medallions of veal, artichoke hearts and mushrooms in a light marsala wine sauce.

Entrees are accompanied a vegetable and a choice of spaghetti or french fries.

Also noteworthy at the Fonte D'Amore are its homemade desserts, including several tortes. The waitress will present a tray of dessert selections, and the adventurous diner will select some of the more original Italian confections made in the Fonte d'Amore's own kitchens.

The Fonte d'Amore offers a refreshing change for diners who have grown weary of the trendier, more contemporary restaurants. What makes this family restaurant unique and well worth the trip is its unpretentious charm — and, of course, the quality of its authentic cuisine.

Fonte d'Amore, 32030 Plymouth Road, Livonia. 422-0770. Open daily from 11 a.m. to midnight. Closed Sundays. Liquor license. All major credit cards.

Wrestlers grab first-ever division title

Churchill falls 44-21 in division showdown

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

For the first time since Northville joined the Western Lakes Activities Association back in the early 80s, a Mustang wrestling squad can claim a championship.

A 44-21 dual meet triumph over Livonia Churchill on Jan. 26 propelled Northville to the WLAA Western Division title — the program's first such title in nine seasons. The last came in 1980, when the Mustang competed in the old Western Six League.

"This is a group of terrific kids," coach Jack Townsley said. "We have a lot of solid wrestlers and unlike other years, we don't have any big holes in our line-up. We have a lot of guys who are tough to beat — it takes a very good effort to beat them."

Both Churchill and Northville entered the clash with perfect 4-0 records against the rest of the Western Division, so the match was the undisputed showdown for the title. Most observers thought it would be the Charger's lower-weight strength against the Mustangs upper-weight power.

"We wanted to stay close with (Churchill) in the first seven bouts because that's their strength," assistant coach Bob Boshoven said. "But we got two early pins and then after the 140-pound match, we were up 20-14. We were ahead of where we needed to be — we were in good shape."

In the final five bouts, Northville flexed its muscles with an awesome show of strength in the upper-weights, outscoring the Chargers 24-3 in that span, and taking the all-important victory by 22 points.

"It was actually a little closer than the score indicates because we got a lot of bonus points for pins," Boshoven explained. "Every one of our seven victories were by pins."

Sophomores Kevin Khashan and Brandon Mardosian got the Mustangs off to a quick start with two impressive wins in the early going. At 103, Khashan pinned Craig Shepley in 2:58 and then Mardosian dusted off Chad Verbison in 50 seconds of the 112-pound match.

Andy Frey (130) then pinned Chris Brown at 3:33 and Kevin Delaney (140) battled Mark Pierce to a 4-4 tie. It gave the home team the kind of start they needed.

It was all Northville the rest of the way. Garnett Potter (152) pinned Dave Sakowski in 5:00, Bob Townsend (160) pinned Jeff Desille in 3:30, Darren Kehoe pinned Steve Samborski in 1:40 and Mike Hale (189) won by default.

"It was the best we've wrestled, up and down the line-up, all year," Boshoven said. "It was a solid performance and with the division title on the line, the timing was fantastic."

The win, coupled with a narrow victory against Hartland the same day, raised Northville's season record to 14-4 overall.

"We've had excellent leadership on this team and I think that's one of the keys," Townsley said. "I've coached on and off for nearly 30 years and Mike Hale and Andy Frey are the two best captains I've ever had."

NORTHVILLE 33, HARTLAND 32: Despite a natural letdown after winning the title, the Mustangs went out and edged a fine Hartland team later that same evening. Northville won seven of the 13 bouts but registered only four pins.

"Hartland has a tough team," Boshoven said.

Khashan (103) decisioned Eric Pogrnich 20-7, Mardosian (112) pinned Terry Browder in 1:14, Mike Mathes (119) blanked Marty Grobs 6-0, Mike Huff (125) pinned Ryan Wehner in 1:08, Potter (152) dumped Moe Connelly 13-3, Townsend (160) pinned Eric Breil in 1:08 and Hale (189) pinned Darrin Quigley in 42 seconds.

But the most interesting match was at 130. Frey, one of the better 130-pounders in the area, fell to state-ranked Todd Cheney of Hartland.

Grapplers place 3rd at WLAA Meet

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Despite winning a division title two days earlier, the Northville wrestlers never really came close to upsetting powerful Plymouth Salem at the WLAA Meet on Jan. 28 at Westland John Glenn. As a matter of fact, Northville failed to produce an individual champion in any of the 13 weight classifications.

But don't get the mistaken idea that the local squad performed poorly. On the contrary, the Mustangs place third overall — the team's best finish ever in the event — as 10 wrestlers placed sixth or better and three were in the finals.

"We've never placed this high so we felt good about it," Northville Coach Jack Townsley said. "As in any big tournament, we had some tough losses, but it was a respectable finish."

Salem won the title with 213.5 points and Glenn followed with 156.5. Northville was close behind (138) but lost out when all three finalists failed to win individual titles.

"We were close to catching Glenn," said assistant coach Bob Boshoven. "As a whole, we wrestled well. In the past, we've had one or two good wrestlers who would score most of our points but this year we are solid at just about every spot in the line-up."

Kevin Khashan at 103, Andy Frey at 130 and Mike Hale at 189 all advanced to the finals without a defeat, but all three fell and had to settle for runner-up honors. Khashan was 2-0 until he met up with Walled Lake Central's Soren Murphy in the finals and was pinned in 42 seconds. Khashan was seeded second.

"Kevin made it to the finals on the strength of his wrestling ability, but in the finals, he came up against a guy who was much stronger physically," Townsley said.

Frey was seeded first but was upset by Salem's Mike Shumate in the finals. The first time these two met in dual meet action back in December, Frey registered a pin. But this time, Shumate turned the tables and pinned Frey in 3:15.

"For some reason, Andy got into a hurry for a pin when he was winning and Shumate caught him," Boshoven said.

Hale was seeded third but made it to the finals by edging old nemesis Matt Wilhite of Walled Lake Western 4-3 in the semi-finals. Wilhite had handed Hale a pair of defeats earlier in the season and was ahead 3-0 heading into the third period before falling. Hale was then pinned by Glenn's Derek Tharp in 1:51 of the championship bout.

"Mike had an emotional and physical letdown in the finals," Boshoven said. "He used a lot of energy to get by Wilhite and he had nothing left."

Brandon Mardosian was seeded second at 112 but lost in the semifinals to Walled Lake Central's Steve Growski. Mardosian settled for third place after topping Ryan Carriere of Livonia Stevenson 3-0 in the consolation finals.

Garnett Potter and Bob Townsend both lost early but fought their way back in the consolation round only to fall in the consolation finals to place fourth overall. At 152, Potter lost in the semis to the eventual champion and then dropped a 13-9 overtime decision to Kyle Pipkin of Walled Lake Central in the consolation round. Townsend was pinned by second-seed Brian Gryzb of Walled Lake Central in 4:30 in the battle for third place. The score was 1-0 at the time of the pin.

The Mustangs also sported a trio of fifth-place finishers — Mike Mathes at 119, Mike Huff at 125 and Darrin Kehoe at 171 — and Curt Cureton (145) chipped in with a sixth. Mathes was 2-1 on the day and pinned Tony Sierra of Stevenson in 4:31 of the fifth-place bout, Huff was 3-1 for the tourney, including a 6-4 decision over Plymouth Canton's Scott Swartzinski in the consolation bracket and Kehoe pinned Todd Lytwyniuk of Farmington Harrison in 2:05 to earn his fifth place medal. Cureton fell to Mike Golchuck of Canton in the battle for fifth place at 145.

Northville was the individual pre-district tournament host on Feb. 1 (after Record deadline). Qualifiers will then move on to the individual districts this Saturday (Feb. 4) at Plymouth Salem.

"All the WLAA teams except the Walled Lake schools are in the Salem district."

Poor third quarter dooms Northville cagers

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

One poor quarter per game seems to be undermining Northville's bid to end an extended slump.

The Mustang cagers dropped their fourth in a row on Jan. 27 against Plymouth Canton — and a five-point third quarter scoring output was the difference. A four-point Northville lead suddenly became a six-point deficit and the Chiefs went on to win the game 52-46.

"We could have won the ball game without the bad third quarter," Mustang Coach Omar Harrison said. "It seems like there is always that one bad stretch offensively that dooms us. It's hard to recover from the quarter like that, especially when you're not an offensive-minded team."

Northville played a solid first half and built a 29-25 halftime lead. But a 15-5 run by the visiting Chiefs in the third turned the game around.

"I felt we played a good first half but we tried to keep from losing in the third rather than trying to win," Harrison said. "Maybe we just played too cautious."

The Mustangs pulled to within six in the final minutes but missed two one-and-one free throw opportunities and the comeback never happened.

"We just couldn't get any closer than six down the stretch," Harrison said. "We had chances but we had to foul at the end when they started to work time off the clock."

Canton hit only 10-of-21 free throws in the game but Brian Paupore canned 4-of-5 in the fourth quarter on his way to a game-high 28. Heath Myers paced Northville with 18 but no other Mustang player scored in double figures.

"A lot of things can be learned from a loss like this, but I'd rather learn and win," Harrison said.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL 64, NORTHVILLE 45: The Chargers went to 2-0 against the Mustangs this season with a convincing victory on Jan. 24.

Northville had a very poor first half, scoring just 15 points, and that helped Churchill open an 18-point halftime lead.

"We could have won the ball game without the bad third quarter. It seems like there is always that one bad stretch offensively that dooms us."

— Omar Harrison
Mustang Basketball Coach

"(Churchill) scored 19 points in the first quarter and we had 15 for the whole half," Harrison lamented. "We've had some bad games at Churchill in the past and this was one of those games."

The Mustangs cut into the lead early in the second half and did pull to within 10 on several occasions in the fourth. Harrison brought players like Steve Bastian and Noel Korowin off the bench and their scappy play brought the team back, but it wasn't enough.

Myers was the leading scorer again with 17 and Chris House added 14 for Northville. Mike Juodawlik led all scorers with 19.

The Mustangs (5-8 overall, 2-6 in the WLAA) have now dropped five of the last six. Livonia Franklin — the only team Northville's managed to beat in conference play so far in 1989 — will be in town tomorrow (Feb. 3) for a key WLAA Western Division clash.

"We're concerned about our record the last half-dozen games but we're sticking together as a team," Harrison said. "We're not going to panic, we just need to keep working hard."

Mustangs of the Week

DEBBIE STEVENS

Senior Debbie Stevens is probably the best girls' basketball player Northville's ever produced. But the 5-foot-9 Stevens is also a fine volleyball player — especially at the net — and her performances in three events last week were impressive enough to justify 'Mustang of the Week' honors.

In a win over Livonia Franklin on Jan. 24, Stevens was good on 9-of-11 hits and five kills. She added seven hits and one kill in a loss to Plymouth Canton a day earlier and then played well at the Plymouth Salem Invite last weekend. In a 14-13 battle against Warren Cousino, Stevens made the game-winning kill and ended with a season-high 12 kills in the match.

KEVIN KHASHAN

Northville wrestler Kevin Khashan (17-8-1 record) has been an instrumental part of the Mustang team this season, but never more than he was last week. That's why he is one of our 'Mustangs of the Week.' The 103-pound sophomore pinned Craig Shepley in 2:58 to help Northville trounce Livonia Churchill 44-21 and bring the first Western Division wrestling title to Northville. Khashan followed it up with a second-place finish at the WLAA Meet several days later. He was 2-0 heading into the 103-pound finals, but fell to Soren Murphy of Walled Lake Central in 42 seconds. "Kevin made it to the finals strictly on the strength of his wrestling ability," his coach Jack Townsley said.

RECREATION BRIEFS

NORTHVILLE SOFTBALL: Registration for the 1989 softball season in Northville is going on for the next few weeks.

Returning teams can register through Feb. 10 and new teams can register after Feb. 13 as space exists.

Leagues for men, women and coed teams are being formed. The men's games are held on Mondays or Wednesdays at the Northville recreation area. There is an eight-team maximum and the season will continue for 14 weeks. Fee is $200 per team and includes umpire deposit and game balls.

Women's games are held on Tuesdays or Thursdays at Waterford Bend. An eight-team limit has been set for the 14-week season. Cost is also $200 per team.

The coed games are on Sunday at the Fish Hatchery Park. There is a 10-team maximum and the season will be 14 weeks long. Cost is $175 per team.

There is no residency requirement for any league but each non-resident must pay an additional $15. For more information, contact the Northville Recreation Department at 349-0203.

SOCCER REGISTRATION: Soccer registration for children born before Dec. 31, 1982 is still being accepted at the Northville Community Recreation Building.

Late fees will be charged after Feb. 10. First-time players need a copy of their birth certificate.

Games begin mid-April and end in mid-June. For more information, call 349-0203.

OPEN SWIMMING: Open swimming at the Northville High School Pool will be on Mondays and Wednesdays from 7:30-8:30 p.m. An adult lap swim will follow from 8:30 until 9:30 p.m.

Fee is $1 per person, payable at the door. Locker rooms and showers are available.

OPEN GYM: Open gym hours at the Northville Community Center are as follows: Monday through Friday from 2:30-3:30 p.m. for basketball; Thursday from 8:30-10 p.m. for volleyball and Friday from 7-9 p.m. for adult basketball.

Novi, Northville follow same post-season paths

Northville and Novi High School athletic teams will again be travelmates when MHSAA tournament time rolls around.

In winter activities like boys basketball, boys swimming and diving and girls volleyball, the Mustangs and the Wildcats are scheduled to compete at identical sites from early pre-district qualifiers on through the state finals.

For the first time in many years, however, the wrestling squads from both schools will not be following the same post-season path.

The following is a schedule for all varsity teams at the two schools:

BASKETBALL: Northville and Novi are both assigned to Plymouth Canton for the 22nd District Basketball Tournament from Feb. 27 through March 4. Other teams in attendance will be Plymouth Salem, Livonia Stevenson, and host Canton. The tourney winner will move on to regional action at Willow Run (March 7-11) along with district winners from Romulus, Ann Arbor Huron and Gibraltar Carlson.

SWIMMING AND DIVING: Northville and Novi divers will compete for the right to go to the state finals at a qualification meet at Brighton on March 7. Divers from 56 Class A schools are eligible.

The swimming and diving state meet will be held on March 10 and 11 at the Charles McCaffree Pool at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

VOLLEYBALL: The Mustang and Wildcat spikers travel to Lakeland for pre-district action from Feb. 27-March 2. The district final is slated for March 4, also at Lakeland. The 10-team field includes Brighton, North Farmington, Howell, Milford, South Lyon, Walled Lake Central, Walled Lake Western and host Lakeland.

The district winner will move on to the Lansing Sexton Regional on March 11, along with district qualifiers from Holland West Ottawa, St. Johns and East Kentwood.

WRESTLING: Northville grapplers will be at Plymouth Salem on Feb. 4 for the individual district tournament, while Novi will go to Walled Lake Western that same day. Mustang qualifiers will move on to the individual regional competition on Feb. 11, again at Salem, while the Wildcat qualifiers will have to travel to Lansing Sexton.

In the team portion of the post-season wrestling tournament, Novi will be at Walled Lake Central on Feb. 8 for the districts and at Walled Lake Western for the regional on Feb. 15. Northville will be at Plymouth Salem District on Feb. 8 and then to the Redford Catholic Central Regional on Feb. 15.

The state finals will be on Feb. 24-25 at an undetermined site.

GYMNASTICS: Because Novi doesn't offer gymnastics, Northville is the only school affected. The Mustangs have already qualified for the regional tournament to be held at Plymouth Canton on March 11. Teams from 24 Class A schools are eligible.

The state finals will be on March 18 at an undetermined site.

Mustang volleyballers edge Franklin, fall to Canton

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Northville spikers still lack any sort of killer instinct, but Coach Paul Osborn was pleased with his squad's 15-11, 15-9 win over Livonia Franklin on Jan. 24, anyway.

In both games the Mustangs established early leads then let up a bit and enabled the Patriots to get back into the picture before finally putting them away.

"We got off to good leads but then we sat back on our heels and (Franklin) came back," Osborn said.

In game one, the Mustangs took an early 7-3 advantage before the Pats closed to within one, at 11-10. The surge seemed to wake up Osborn's troops, however, and they outscored Franklin 4-1 down the stretch.

The second game featured streaks and runs by both teams. The Mustangs scored the first seven points of the game only to see the Patriots cut it to 7-4 after the first rotation. Northville then opened a 10-4 margin soon after that, but Franklin came back and closed to within three. But a 5-2 run the rest of the way closed out the victory for the Mustangs.

"In game two, I played all 14 of the girls on our roster," Osborn said. "I just wanted to get all of them in and give them a chance, and they all did quite well."

For the match, Northville was 50-of-62 from the service line (80.6 percent), set successfully 95.5 percent of the time and hit at an 87 percent rate (42-for-48). Senior Debbie Stevens (9-for-11 on hits, five kills) and junior Kristi Turner (11-for-11 on hits, three kills) paced the hitters.

"Debbie Stevens is performing right on schedule and she's doing an excellent job for us right now in the middle," Osborn said.

The big problem was a familiar one for the Mustangs — who had a serve reception rate of only 56 percent. According to Osborn, it kept the Patriots in both games.

PLYMOUTH CANTON 15-15, NORTHVILLE 4-7: The Mustangs seem to have trouble with Monday evening matches and this clash with the Chiefs on Jan. 23 was no different.

"I don't know why, but Monday games are hard for us," Osborn said. "We don't practice on Sunday and it just seems like we're not ready when Monday rolls around. So far this season, we're 0-2 on Monday nights. We didn't play well against Canton, even though our stats weren't too bad."

Canton went ahead 9-0 in game one and Northville never recovered. A 7-2 lead in game two was also the difference, and Osborn pointed to the team's serve reception woes for a possible explanation.

"Things got out of hand way too fast in both games," he said. "We were only successful returning Canton's serves 55 percent of the time, so that's still an area the girls are having difficulty with."

Other than that, the Mustangs had respectable percentages in areas like serving (80 percent), hitting (78 percent) and setting (90 percent). Stevens was again the individual leader with seven good hits in nine tries and a kill. Becky Bajorek added three good hits and a kill.

"Our hitting percentage was nearly 80 percent but it's deceiving because we only had 25 hits in both games," Osborn admitted. "That indicates we are free-balling it over the net much too much."

SALEM INVITE: The Mustangs just missed qualifying for the quarterfinal playoffs at this 14-team event on Jan. 28. Northville ended up placing fifth out of seven teams in pool play with a 4-4 game record, but only the top four advanced.

The Mustangs split a two-game match with Dearborn in round one, falling to the Pioneers 16-14 in the first game, but rebounding to take game two, 15-9. Northville fell behind 7-0 in the opener but fought back to within one (11-10) and eventually tied it at 14. Dearborn then pulled it out with the next two points. The second game was very close until the Pioneers ran into a streak of bad serves late in the contest.

After an extended 90-minute layover, Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard crushed the Mustangs 15-5, 15-9 in the second round.

"We were out of it," Osborn said. "Serve reception was again a problem and we seemed flat after the long layover."

Northville split with Garden City 11-15, 15-11 in the third round and then wrapped up the competition with a 15-13, 15-12 sweep against Warren Cousins.

"Against Warren, we were never behind but we weren't ahead by a lot either," Osborn said. "Cousino played us tough."

After building a 14-9 advantage in game one, the Mustangs were outscored 4-0 by the Patriots and needed a clutch kill by Debbie Stevens to put it away. Game two wasn't quite as close.

"Stevens and Nancy Belding combined for 19 kills against Cousins," Osborn said. "Stevens really played excellent volleyball in the tournament."

Northville (6-6-2 overall, 2-2 in the WLAA) will get back into action this weekend at the Howell Invite.

Northville gymnasts secure regional qualifying scores

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

A year ago, the Northville gymnasts struggled all season to get four MHSAA Regional qualifying scores (117 or above). It was a top priority goal for the Mustangs, and one they eventually accomplished in the last dual meet of the regular season.

This season, Coach Michelle Charniga's squad already has four scores above 117 safely tucked away — and managed to accomplish the feat after only four meets. The fourth and final qualifying score came on Jan. 23 when the Mustangs topped Livonia Clarenceville 124.5-121.35.

"It was actually a little closer than I thought it would be," Charniga said. "The reason is that (Clarenceville) was a little stronger than I was led to believe. I liked it though, because I've found that the girls tend to raise the level of their performances when we're in a close battle."

After scoring just over 117 in a victory over Belleville on Jan. 16, Char-niga was also glad to see her team scoring in the mid-120s again.

"Now that we have the regional qualifying scores out of the way, we can start working on higher-level routines and try to impress the judges a little more," she said.

Northville took a narrow lead after the first event (the vault) increased it by two full points in the uneven bars, lost a little ground in the balance beam, but finished strong with a solid effort in the floor exercise.

In the vault, senior standout Wendy Beach placed first with a personal-best 8.85, and that helped propel the Mustangs to a slim 32.85-32.4 lead. Melanie Apigian was fourth overall (8.1) and Yvonne Beebe was fifth (8.0).

Beach was again the top individual performer in the uneven bars (8.45), but was followed closely by junior Lee LaChance (8.4). Beebe ended up placing fourth with a 7.2, but that included one fall. Northville outpointed the Trojans by over two points in the event and took a 63.7-60.4 advantage overall.

The lead shrunk when the Mustangs had some minor problems in the balance beam and ended up scoring only 28.95 as a team. Beach ended up third overall (7.65) and LaChance was fifth (7.25). But a 31.85 score in the floor exercise quickly closed out the victory, with Beach leading Northville with an 8.3 — good for second place overall. LaChance was third (8.25) and Tracie Surdu fifth (7.85).

NORTHVILLE 122.85, WALLED LAKE WESTERN 90.35: Charniga's crew won their third in a row on Jan. 25 and the victim was the undermanned Warriors, who fell by 32 points. The meet was so lopsided, the Mustangs actually wrapped up the win after three events.

"We did very well in every event except balance beam," Charniga said. "Our chance of scoring 130 went right out the window after the beam and I really can't figure out what happened. I guess the girls just didn't concentrate like they should be."

Northville raced to a 33.0-28.5 lead in the vault and never looked back. Beach was first (8.6), LaChance second (8.2), Beebe third (8.15) and Apigian fourth (8.05) — it was a clean sweep.

"To get 133 in vault is right where we need to be," Charniga said. "That was an excellent team effort."

The lead increased by 11 in the uneven bars event as the Mustangs again swept the top four places. Beach was first (8.5), LaChance second (8.15), Beebe third (7.9) and Robyn Chatman fourth (7.15).

But all sorts of problems on the balance beam halted all the momentum. Northville scored a season-low 26.95 in the event and failed to have one performer score in the sevens. Despite the low scores, LaChance was first (6.9) and Beebe was second (6.75) while Beach and Karen Pyle tied for third (6.65 each).

Beach rebounded to win the floor exercise (8.55) and was followed by LaChance (7.8), Surdu (7.75) and Chatman (7.1). The team's 31.20 score was consistent with prior scores in the floor exercise but was inconsequential because the Mustangs had already wrapped up the win.

At 3-2 overall (1-2 in the WLAA), Northville will get back into action this weekend at the 17-team Plymouth Canton Invite.

"I still think scoring 130 is a realistic goal, we just need everybody to be at 100 percent at the same time," Charniga said.

Unbeaten Novi dunks Mustang tankers, 52-31

With a perfect 6-0 dual meet record and a top-five ranking in the state, the Novi tankers are on a roll.

The Wildcats' latest victim was a solid Northville squad on Jan. 24. Novi scored nine first-place finishes in 11 tries against the host Mustangs and that was the difference in Northville's five-lane pool. The 'Cats prevailed 52-31.

"If you don't get firsts in their pool, you lose the event because it's only five lanes," said Wildcat assistant coach Rick Anderson. "We were tired so we didn't swim as well as we wanted to — but we feel good about winning the meet. Northville had some good swims against us — I know their coach was very pleased with their performance."

Northville Coach Mark Heiden was unavailable for comment.

The Cohen brothers — Jon and Steve — accounted for four individual wins for Novi and Rudy Speersneider chipped in with two more. Jon Cohen took first in the 200-yard IM (1:57.2) and the 100 butterfly (54.47), Steve Cohen was the winner in the 200 freestyle (1:50.95) and the 500 freestyle (4:56.22) and Speersneider took the honors in the 50 freestyle (23.08) and the 100 freestyle (50.25).

The rest of the Wildcat victories came from Josh Matta in the 100 backstroke (1:01.95), Bob Bates in the 100 breast stroke (1:07.75) and the 400 free relay team of Jon Cohen, Steve Cohen, Steve Strausberg and Rudy Speersneider (3:22.62).

The Novi runner-up finishes were few and far between, however. Strausberg was second in the 50 freestyle (23.86) and the 200 medley relay team of Matta, Bates, Strausberg and Ryan Devereaux was also second (1:48.8). The Wildcat thirds came from Dan Sveller in the 200 freestyle (1:57.29), Jim Luther in diving (177.45 point total), Jeff Leahy in the 100 butterfly (50.25), Phil Byers in the 500 freestyle (5:26.32) and Jon Mutch in the 100 breast stroke (1:10.12).

The highlight of the meet for the Mustangs was Rob Devyak's first-place effort in diving. Devyak set a personal best score of 272-plus in the event.

Stretching can prevent shin splints

By PHIL GINOTTI

A runner once asked his coach "Coach, what can you do with a bad case of shin splints?"

"Suffer," the coach responded, and that about sums it up for a painful malady, whose emphasis is more on prevention than cure.

"Shin splints" is what doctors call a wastebasket term for any number of specific muscle-related afflictions that occur in the lower leg. Runners, basketball players, and other athletes whose sports are marked by continuing impact with a hard surface are susceptible to the injury.

It involves an inflammation of any number of muscle tissues near the tibia (lower leg). From impact, the muscles can actually begin to tear away from their attachments on the upper part of the bone. The tearing away from the bone is what causes the dull and lingering pain that shin splint sufferers report.

"No question, it is extremely painful," said Dr. Kenneth Poss, who operates a Novi sports medicine clinic. "It hits a lot of people. We see runners with it all of the time."

Good stretching exercises targeted at the lower leg, starting out slowly, and using moderation in exercise programs is recommended to prevent the injury from occurring, Poss said.

"Usually, they just don't warm up or stretch the muscles thoroughly before starting a physical activity," Poss said. "Or, the athlete simply overdoes it."

Recurring shin splints could be the result of a physical quirk, like excess pronation.

That occurs as the heel or foot angles inward when impacting with the ground surface. Instead of the sole hitting the ground surface flatly, it strikes on an angle.

Continual excess pronation causes undue stress in a number of muscles, tendons, and ligaments in the lower leg. It can lead to a variety of extremely painful ailments, including shin splints.

Pronation can be corrected with the use of orthotics, which are small plastic or cork inserts that fit inside the shoe. The devices hold feet in their proper position and prevent the unnatural impact from occurring.

Moderation and stretching are keys to painless running. Graphic shows affected area.

"We're treating a lot of people with the orthotics and it works fantastically," Poss said. "It's the type of deformity that can be corrected and corrected quite well."

Warning signs of excess pronation include uneven wear on the soles and heels of shoes, constant ankle and foot pain, or development of bunions on the feet. If the athlete's heels or kneecaps tend to turn inward when standing, it's also a good sign that pronation is likely to occur.

The unfortunate aspect of shin splints is that it takes a long time to heal and is likely to recur if not healed properly. Serious or unattended shin splints may limit a runner's activity for six months to a year.

Immediate first aid for the problem includes use of heat and ice. Poss recommends that shin splint sufferers ice down their injury for several hours immediately after it occurs, breaking at regular intervals to prevent frostbite. Later, moderate heat should be applied. Pain relievers or prescribed anti-inflammatory drugs can also be used to help combat the problem.

Poss said the only other cure is lots of rest time.

Nurse recounts sad tale of unrestrained drivers

By KRIS NELSON, R.N.

Editors Note: This article was written by a Flight Nurse Specialist on Survival Flight, the University of Michigan Emergency Helicopter Transport Service.

Maybe it was 10 or 11 p.m. when the call came in. I had been busy writing one of those endless number of letters back to the referring doctor describing how desperate our patients had been to save that young man's life. It was all so futile. I didn't say that, but it had been common knowledge from the start. We all knew the outcome when someone said "unrestrained driver."

The elevator to the fourth floor seemed to take forever. Five minutes later I was in the Survival Flight helicopter, many stories above that fourth floor, on my way to a nameless young woman in a bright, busy emergency room.

Night flying has always had a very soothing effect on me. The calm cool air, the easy swift motions of the helicopter and the multitude of colored lights on the ground can easily lull me into a hypnotic state.

She is 21 years old and has sustained "multiple trauma" — another forgiving way of indicating that as yet, no one is sure of the extent of her injuries. They were right. No one could possibly know, much less examine, all the injuries this unfortunate young woman had suffered.

She, whoever she is, is now lying quietly on the stretcher secured to a long, broad board to stabilize her broken spine. The seatbelt that might have saved her from catastrophic injury, or even saved her life, now held her tightly to the piece of pine. A red halo encircled her now matted, discolored hair. Her eyes stared off into the distance to a dimension few living persons have seen.

Again and again I heard someone say "unrestrained driver." Still no name — just an unrestrained female driver. Everyone is thinking the same thing. When are they going to learn? What will it take to make them understand that the simple act of buckling together two straps can make all the difference between life and death? Why is this always what it takes to learn that lesson?

It's very warm now. We must be traveling at close to 120 miles per hour. My fingers are cramping from the constant squeezing motion necessary for the rubber bag to provide adequate oxygen to this unknown woman. I unclip the seatbelt across her bruised chest to free an arm to check her pulse and blood pressure. The chill of the buckle is hardly distinguishable from her skin.

An hour has passed since the first call. We are now, the two of us, alone in another bright, busy emergency room. Everyone else is gone. The floor is scattered with dressings and assorted used instruments, and if I listen hard I can hear the wall of a siren from an approaching ambulance.

I glance at my shoes and see splashes of this unknown woman's blood there. There is a rustle behind the curtain and another young woman is standing there with the same faraway look in her eyes, but there are tears coming from these eyes.

"I told her to always buckle-up," she says, "I told her, 'you're gonna get hurt.' Why didn't she listen to me?"

I'm staring at my reflection in the buckle of the seatbelt across her body. I know I heard her but I didn't need to. Anyone of us can recite it from memory. "Unrestrained driver."

The Northville Record is working with medical authorities at the University of Michigan Medical Center (M-Care) in Northville to provide up-to-date information on a variety of health-related topics. The series is coordinated by Peg Campbell of the M-Care staff.

Harden's Etoile Collection...Magnifique!

The use of solid wood enables Harden craftsmen to reproduce the intricate carvings, elegant turnings and raised panels of 18th century styling. Wood grain is beautifully matched in each piece.

The Etoile Collection is richly hand-crafted in select cherrywood, one of the fruitwoods chosen by 18th century French craftsmen. For added interest and beauty, they often mixed different woods in the same piece, as Harden has done in such details as the contrasting walnut pegs in the tops of Etoile occasional tables.

This collection offers nearly 70 unique selections including dining room and accent pieces.

Limited quantities. Sorry, no rainchecks.
At least one of each item available in the store at the beginning of the sale.

If we wouldn't put it in our home, we wouldn't put it in our warehouse.

At Builders Square, the quality of the merchandise we sell to you is good enough for our own homes. And our neighbors. Our friends. Even our moms.

That's because we believe in having more than just the lowest prices in town. We make it a point to have the lowest prices on the very best. Products that have made a name for themselves like Sterling faucets. Black & Decker. Armstrong. Hunter.

Other home centers might make a big deal about their sales. But their special prices are usually only good on a few items for a few days.

Builders Square, on the other hand, has low prices on all 30,000 of our home improvement items, everyday. It's a plain fact: nobody sells more for less. And whether you buy one or a thousand, you get the same volume discount that contractors and professional builders enjoy.

So if you're looking for quality products that won't cost you an arm and a leg, just flip through this catalog. The professionals shop here. And so do our moms.

LOWEST PRICE POLICY

Our policy is to give our customers the lowest price on every item you buy at Builders Square...everyday! And if you find a lower price at a local competitor (Heaven forbid!) just let us know and we'll change it plus we'll give you 10% more in SQUARE BUCKS for your next purchase.

Identical items only (same manufacturer and model numbers). Offer limited to items in stock. No rain checks. Price comparisons are at time of purchase. We reserve the right to limit quantities to dealers and competitors, and to match non-member club prices, and catalogue prices including freight.
