Schools ready for new year

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

Summer vacation comes to a close within the next two weeks with the start of the new year in Northville schools.

While teachers are scheduled to report for in-service days on Aug. 31 and Sept. 1, students can continue to enjoy their vacation for a few more days. Schools throughout the district will open for classes Sept. 5.

Registration for all Northville schools is currently being handled at each school office, Assistant Superintendent Dolly McMaster said.

"We request parents to register their students as early as possible to assist us with enrollment projections," McMaster said.

School hours for each building are: Northville High, 7:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.; Meads Mill Middle, 8:15 a.m. to 2:45 p.m.; and Winchester, Moraine, Silver Springs, and Amerman elementaries, 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

However, all first graders will be on a half-day schedule for the first two weeks of school (see related story, page 8-A).

McMaster said all students are required to submit a form from the state and county health departments showing their immunization records.

She added parents can receive information on free immunization by calling the Wayne County Health Department at 467-3300.

School lunch prices increased for all Northville students. At each elementary school, lunch costs $1.45 per day, $7 per week, and $110 per semester.

McMaster said the semester package is nonrefundable unless a family leaves the district.

For Meads Mill and Northville High students, lunches cost $2 per day, $9.50 per week, and $150 per semester. Milk for all students costs 30 cents per day or $1.50 per week.

In case of inclement weather, McMaster said school closings will be decided by 5:30 a.m. on the morning of the closing. Announcements will be run on radio stations WAAM-AM, WCAR-AM, WNIC-FM, and television stations WJBK (channel 2) and WXYZ (channel 7).

To acquaint students and parents with their new teachers, orientation sessions have been scheduled for each school.

Orientation for Meads Mill Middle will be at 10 a.m. Friday, Aug. 25 and Monday, 28. Northville High's orientation will be at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 30.

Moraine Elementary orientation will be at 6 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 29. Silver Springs Elementary orientation will be at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 29. Both Winchester and Amerman elementaries have scheduled their orientation session Friday, Sept. 1 — at 9 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. respectively.

Open-house hours for each school have also been set. Open house at each school will begin at 7 p.m. and run for approximately one hour.

Beginning with Northville High, open house is scheduled for Aug. 30. For Meads Mill, it is set for Sept. 12.

Amerman Elementary grades three, four and five will have open house on Sept. 19, and grades kindergarten through two will be Sept. 21.

Moraine Elementary will have open house for grades three through five Sept. 20, and grades kindergarten through two will be Sept. 27.

Silver Springs Elementary will host open house Sept. 21 for grades three through five and on Sept. 28 for kindergarten through two.

Finally, Winchester Elementary will have open house Sept. 19 for grades three through five and on Sept. 26 for kindergarten through second grades.

NRPH employees stage an informational picket

State hospital employees picket department issues

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

Employees of the Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital (NRPH) staged an informational picket session last Thursday in response to a number of state and local mental-health issues.

"We are quite concerned about the closing of some hospitals around the state and the downsizing of others," said Ernestine Baker, an NRPH employee and vice president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME) Local 960.

"We are not on strike," Baker said. "We are just trying to get a point across that we're together and doing everything we can to keep this (NRPH) facility going."

Vance Caudillo, an NRPH food service employee for the past year, said he is picketing to keep the Northville hospital open.

"I'm mostly concerned about the patients," Caudillo said while carrying ing a sign saying, "Stop Hospital Closing." "We provide good care here and I want to see it continue," he said.

State Department of Mental Health Director Tom Watkins said there are currently no plans to close the Northville hospital.

Watkins said that while the number of patients has decreased from nearly 1,200 in 1983 to roughly 700 this year, the care provided at the facility has improved.

"We have done a number of things to enhance the care at Northville," said Watkins, "including having the same or more staff in comparison to three years ago."

NRPH Director Walter Brown said it would take between four and six years to close a facility, and "this hospital is not closing in the foreseeable future."

Brown added neither the hospital nor the mental-health department will discipline any of the employees who took part in the picketing.

"We have no intent of disciplining the employees, since the conclusions they have drawn are erroneous to begin with," Brown said.

He said besides not closing the facility, the hospital does not plan to make any layoffs or to dramatically reduce its number of patients.

Brown said the hospital has downsized its number of patients over the past five years because of a space increase in both community hospitals and placement homes.

He noted he met with AFSCME employees recently to try to allay their concerns, but added apparently the employees still believe NRPH is susceptible to closing.

AFSCME Local 960 President David White said in addition to his union, the Michigan State Employees Association (MSEA) Local 41 joined in the picketing, which ran from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Baker said the demonstration in-

Board considers medical program

By BRUCE M. WEINTRAUB

A plan providing first-response medical coverage for township residents will be presented to township board members by local fire officials Thursday, Aug. 31.

"We're sitting here with an ambulance and with trained men," said Township Fire Chief Robert Toms. "We think we can provide a tremendous service to the community."

Township medical personnel said they are currently responding only to car accidents, while Community Emergency Medical Service (CEMS) provides advanced-support response to all medical emergencies.

If the first-responder program is instituted, two volunteer emergency medical technicians (EMTs) would respond to a medical call and provide basic life support until an advanced-support ambulance arrives.

Guy Balok, a volunteer township firefighter and part-time police dispatcher, said the idea for a first-responder program came about due to a "change in ambulance coverage."

Northville Township's advanced ambulance service is provided by CEMS. According to figures Balok compiled, the average response time by CEMS has risen from 5.66 minutes in 1986 to 6.91 minutes for the first six months in 1989.

CEMS president Greg Beauchemin confirmed the average response time for emergency runs in the township is between 6 and 8 minutes.

"Our response time is good considering the large area we have to cover," Beauchemin said. CEMS is the only company which currently provides ambulance service in Northville Township.

According to Balok, the township's first-response program will allow a local basic life support (BLS) team to respond to a medical call.

The local team — which will be comprised of volunteer EMTs — will take vital signs and stabilize patients, and will provide oxygen if needed.

Mittman declares council candidacy

By DARRELL CLEM

Northville City Council Member Jerry Mittman announced Monday night that he will seek his first four-year council term in the November election.

Mittman was appointed to the council two years ago to fulfill the unexpired term of former council member G. Dewey Gardner, who resigned in an unsuccessful mayoral bid.

Mittman also had served an earlier, brief stint as a fill-in council member.

"Obviously, this is a large commitment," Mittman said Monday night, after announcing his election bid at the close of a city-council meeting.

But Mittman said he wants to remain involved in helping Northville maintain its small-town character while continuing its well-planned growth.

Mittman, who also is the council's liaison to the Northville Planning Commission, said he also wants to keep involved in issues such as the development of a long-term master plan for the city's future growth.

Mittman is a former planning-commission member, serving from 1982 to 1987. He was chairperson for his last three years on the commission. He also has served on such local boards as the Recreation Commission, the Historic District Commission, and the Lexington Commons Association.

Mittman became the fourth candidate to announce plans to seek a city-council seat in November.

Mayor Christopher Johnson has said he will seek a second, two-year term as mayor. And Gardner has said he plans to enter the November race, although he has not decided whether to seek the mayoral post or a city-council seat.

Johnson defeated Gardner by a 274-vote margin in the mayoral race two years ago.

The other confirmed candidate is Northville businessperson Mark McManus, who said he plans to seek a city-council seat.

The only current city council member who has not yet reached a decision on whether to seek reelection is first-term Council Member John Buckland.

Candidates seeking office must file petitions with 50 to 75 signatures at city hall between Sept. 1 and Oct. 1.

Council okays study of home deliveries

By DARRELL CLEM

A once-heated debate between city officials over whether home deliveries of food should be allowed in the Central Business District (CBD) subsided Monday night.

City-council members agreed to send to the planning commission a draft of an ordinance amendment that would allow home-delivered food such as pizza.

Primo's Pizza had filed a lawsuit against the city, claiming that the zoning ordinance — which prohibits home-delivered food from the Central Business District — obstructed its plans to successfully operate a pizzeria here.

The suit also claimed that other pizzerias, such as Domino's, were given an unfair advantage because they were allowed to continue home deliveries under the ordinance, which was not retroactive.

Earlier this month, a recommendation from City Manager Steven Walters to amend the ordinance met stiff opposition from Mayor Pro Tem Carolann Ayers, who charged that home deliveries were not what city officials had envisioned for the CBD.

On Monday, however, Ayers agreed to an ordinance amendment that said businesses with home deliveries must also offer a "provision for eating on the premises" in addition to take-out or home-delivery service.

Ayers said that was the only way she could accept home deliveries in the CBD.

The amended ordinance also would require home-delivery businesses to provide sufficient on-site private parking to meet the needs of the restaurant, as well as a maximum of two parking spaces for delivery vehicles.

The ordinance appears to answer questions raised by Primo's, although no Primo's officials were present at Monday's meeting to say whether approval of the ordinance could result in the lawsuit being dropped.

Primo's had indicated that it would be willing to limit the number of delivery vehicles to one — which would meet guidelines under the newly proposed ordinance.

Walters told council members that he didn't review the Primo's site plan before drafting the revised ordinance because "I didn't believe that should be the basis for this plan."

He added: "It might be wise for the owner to look at this plan in the meantime."

In a letter to the city council dated Aug. 7, Primo's owner Leo Soave wrote that he wants to open a pizzeria here but has "been reluctant to do so because of the prohibition against home delivery."

Soave challenged earlier arguments that home deliveries might keep people from coming downtown, stating: "If the residents of Northville want pizza, most likely

PURSELL IN AREA — U.S. Rep. Carl D. Pursell will hold open office hours in Livonia on Monday, Aug. 28.

"As in years past, I am using the August recess as an opportunity to visit throughout the 2nd Congressional District," Pursell said in a press release. "During the open office hours in western Wayne County, I will be meeting briefly with constituents on a first-come, first-served basis to discuss what's on their minds — whether it's a problem with the federal government or to share an opinion."

The two-hour session will begin at 6:30 p.m. at Bentley High School, 15100 Hubbard Road in Livonia. Participants should use the south parking lot and enter the building through the south cafeteria entrance.

Appointments are not needed, but Pursell's office asks that meetings be kept brief. Constituents are encouraged to come prepared with written materials to leave.

SIDEWALK COST REVISED — It was reported in an article last week the Northville school board approved an agreement with the city for construction of a sidewalk.

The district apparently approved the joint venture at a cost of $6,300. Superintendent George Bell said the numbers on the original estimate were incorrectly typed and the real cost is $25,686.

Board members approved the new amount for the sidewalk.

HOST FAMILIES NEEDED — The American Institute for Foreign Studies (AIFS) is seeking families to provide housing for high-school exchange students from Spain.

The students are scheduled to arrive this weekend and to remain until the end of June. The students are supposed to pay all personal expenses, including school lunches.

AIFS offers scholarships for foreign travel and / or study to families that provide housing for AIFS students.

For more information call Lynne Levenbach at 453-8562.

LIBRARY SCHEDULE — Due to inventory procedures, the Northville Public Library is closed to the public on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday mornings during the month of August.

The schedule for the month is 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday, 1 to 8 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday, and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday.

School board okays bond issue wording and establishes precincts for Oct. 5 vote

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

A $16-million bond issue question will be put before Northville School District voters Oct. 5, following school-board language approval Monday.

After community involvement on whether to vote on a $16-million or $30-million bond issue, board members decided on the $16-million proposal.

If approved, the revenue will be used to reopen Cooke Middle School, purchase educational and infrastructure equipment, and build a new elementary school.

Six polling places will open at 7 a.m. on Oct. 5, and will remain open until 8 p.m. that evening. The precincts will be set up at Northville High, Silver Springs Elementary, Winchester Elementary, Amerman Elementary, Northville City offices, and Moraine Elementary.

The exact text of the question will read: "Shall Northville Public Schools, Wayne, Oakland and Washtenaw Counties, Michigan, borrow the sum of not to exceed Sixteen Million Dollars ($16,000,000) and issue its general obligation unlimited tax bonds therefore, for the purpose of defraying the costs of erecting, furnishing and equipping a new elementary school building and a maintenance storage addition to the administration building; remodeling and re-equipping school buildings; acquiring land for site purposes; constructing playground improvements; developing and improving athletic facilities and sites; and purchasing school buses?"

Police charge assault, illegal burn

A township resident was arrested Sunday, Aug. 13 on charges of assaulting a police officer and illegal burning.

Police said they were dispatched to the 15000 block of Parklane on a complaint of loud music and a bonfire. Police said they talked to the homeowner, who said he did not have a burning permit.

The police told the man to extinguish the fire, and he said he would. However, after 10 minutes, police said the subjects made no attempt to put the fire out.

Police said they returned to the house and told the subjects they were going to be issued a violation for burning without a permit.

One of the subjects then sprayed an officer with a hose, police said. They added the subject was placed in the squad car so a report could be completed.

While that person was in the police car, another subject pushed the officer. The subject inside the squad car then opened the door and hit the officer in the head, the report said.

The subject inside the car was charged with assault and illegal burning. He was released on $200 bond and faces a Sept. 14 court date.

BROKEN HATCH — About $200 in damage was done to the hatch window of a 1989 Ford Escort parked in the 44000 block of Country Lane the night of Aug. 10.

The victim told police someone broke the window of his car with a piece of concrete. He added it is the second time this month that one of his cars was damaged.

SCRATCH MARKS — Almost $200 in damage was done to a 1987 Chrysler parked at the Oasis Golf Center on Five Mile Road between 5:50 p.m. and 6:15 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 13.

The victim said he went inside the center's bar, and when he returned, he found fresh scratch marks on the vehicle.

BROKEN WINDOW — About $300 in damage was done to the window of a 1982 Cadillac Seville parked in the 42000 block of Swan Lake Drive between 9:30 p.m. Aug. 10 and 6 a.m. the next morning.

The victim told police someone attacked his car in an attempt to break in. He said a handle on the driver's side and an opera window on the passenger's side were damaged.

HOSPITAL WALKAWAY — A walkaway patient from the Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital was returned shortly after leaving the hospital at 1:41 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 15.

Township police said they responded to the Northridge and Seven Mile location on the report of a walkaway. They added the subject was recovered by hospital safety officers.

MONEY STOLEN — A $100 bill was reported stolen from a purse at Sally Esser's Beauty School on Seven Mile Road between 12:15 and 5:15 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 16.

The victim said someone took the bill from her wallet. She said the purse was at her work station and added nothing else was taken.

The next day, $80 in cash was again reported stolen from a wallet in a purse at the school.

MEIJER THEFT ATTEMPT — A Detroit resident was arrested on suspicion of larceny from Meijer at 2:40 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 15, according to a township police report.

Meijer store detectives told police the suspect entered the store carrying only an empty purse and put a compact-disc player into a shopping cart. The subject then went to the service desk and tried to exchange it for other items and was refused.

Store detectives said upon refusal, the subject attempted to leave the store without paying for the item. The suspect was charged with larceny and released on $100 bond.

STOLEN MACHINES — A washing machine and dryer were reported stolen from a home on the 19000 block of Cardene Way between 2 a.m. and 4:50 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 13.

The machines were taken from a home under construction. He said all doors and windows were locked. Police said there were no signs of forced entry.

BEER-CAN HEIST — Beer cans worth about $40 were stolen from a storage building behind Northville Charley's between 10:10 a.m. and noon Thursday, Aug. 11.

The victim said someone broke into the storage building and stole the empty beer cans. The victim said the lock and hasp were pryed off the door, resulting in $100 damage.

INDECENT EXPOSURE QUESTIONED — A man accused of exposing himself to passing motorists as he talked on a telephone on Dunlap Street denied the alleged act.

The alleged indecent exposure was reported by a woman who said the man exposed himself as she drove by. She later accompanied police to the telephone booth and pointed out the man she said exposed himself, but decided not to submit to a polygraph test.

No charges were filed.

BIKE THEFT — A bicycle worth $189 was reported stolen between 8:30 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 14, and 8 a.m. Tuesday, Aug. 15, from a garage on Lexington Boulevard.

FENDER-BENDERS — At least three automobile accidents were reported by township police over the past week. They included:

- A two-car accident at 8:20 p.m. Friday, Aug. 11 at Northville Road and Seven Mile. Police said one car pulled onto Northville Road from the Mobil Gas station and hit a car turning from Seven Mile to Northville Road. The driver of the first car was ticketed for failing to yield.

- A two-car accident at 4:55 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 16 on Haggerty Road at Eight Mile. Police said one car was northbound on Haggerty, waiting to make a left turn into the Meijer parking lot, when another car in the Meijer driveway hit it. The second driver said his foot came off the brake. He was ticketed for failing to yield.

- A two-car accident at 6:10 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 16 on Six Mile Road at Winchester. Police one car was stopped at the traffic light, waiting to make a left turn onto Winchester, when it was rear-ended. The second driver was ticketed for failing to stop within an assured clear distance ahead.

DRUNK DRIVING ROUNDUP — At least five local drivers were ticketed for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor (OUIL) over the past week. The incidents included:

- A Westland resident was stopped by township police at 7:03 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 11 on Seven Mile and Haggerty roads. Police said they clocked the driver going 70 mph in a 45 mph zone on Seven Mile and saw him change lanes several times without signaling. The driver registered a blood alcohol level of .15 percent. In Michigan, .10 percent is OUIL. The driver was held in jail and later released on $100 cash bond. He faces a Sept. 14 court date.

- Township police stopped a Dearborn Heights resident just before 1 a.m. Friday, Aug. 12 on Six Mile at Winchester after watching him go off the road and onto the shoulder several times. The driver registered a blood alcohol level of .12 percent. He was held in jail and later released on $97 cash bond. He faces a Sept. 14 court date.

- A Canton resident was ticketed for OUIL at 4 a.m. Tuesday, Aug. 15 on Northville Road south of Seven Mile. Police said they saw the driver cross the center line on Northville Road, then leave the road and drive onto the shoulder. The driver registered a blood alcohol level of .18 percent. He was held in jail and released on $100 bond. He faces a Sept. 21 court date.

- In the city, meanwhile, a Novi man was cited for OUIL about 2:09 a.m. Wednesday, Aug. 16, when he was stopped by police after he turned from North Center Street onto eastbound Eight Mile Road. Police first noticed that the driver had difficulty maintaining his balance on his motorcycle. The driver registered a blood alcohol level of .15 percent.

- Elsewhere, a Livonia man driving 57 mph in a 40 mph zone on Novi Road near Allen Drive was stopped by police and cited for OUIL. The driver, who police followed and stopped on eastbound Eight Mile, registered a blood alcohol level of .18 percent following the incident that occurred at 2:15 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 19.

Correction

There was an error in the "Police Blotters" section of last week's Record.

The first item in the blotters incorrectly stated that over $9,000 worth of lawn-mowing equipment was stolen from a storage bay at the Innsbrook apartment complex.

The equipment was not stolen from Innsbrook. The story should have said the equipment was stolen from a storage bay at Long Storage Building at 19320 Gerald Avenue.

The Record regrets the error.

Radio woes slow medical arrival

By DARRELL CLEM

A Northville man who suffered a heart attack Monday died after radio communication problems slightly delayed an ambulance response.

The man had a heart attack while mowing a neighbor's lawn. Witnesses and a nurse who was visiting a friend near the scene on Horton Avenue tried to keep the man alive until medical personnel arrived.

But Northville Police Sgt. Don Lancaster said efforts to keep the victim alive failed and that the man apparently was dead on arrival at Botsford General Hospital in Farmington Hills.

Police were called to the scene and tried to resuscitate the victim until emergency personnel from Community Emergency Medical Service (CEMS) in Plymouth arrived at 4:39 p.m. — 13 minutes after they were summoned by Northville police.

Some residents, who asked not to be identified, questioned whether CEMS' response time was adequate.

Ken Slinker, CEMS sales and development manager, said emergency personnel normally could have arrived on the scene within 10 minutes. But he said a set of unusual circumstances resulted in personnel arriving in 13 minutes.

Slinker said Northville police contacted the CEMS dispatch center in Novi at 4:26 and that two CEMS personnel from Plymouth were dispatched at 4:27.

Due to problems with the emergency vehicle's radio, however, Slinker said the two rescue workers, who were preparing to leave the Plymouth station, could not make communication with the Novi dispatch center on their radio.

As a result, Slinker said, they had to go back inside the Plymouth station and use the office telephone to call Novi for an address. They were incorrectly told that the victim had suffered a heart attack in the 700 block of Carpenter — not on the next street, Horton.

Slinker said Northville police apparently then called in the correct address to the Novi center. But Slinker said the dispatch center could not reach the en-route CEMS vehicle due to the radio-communication problems.

"I'm definitely not putting the blame on the police," Slinker said. "Sometimes they will get a frantic caller. It's always bad when these things happen."

The nurse who accompanied CEMS personnel to Botsford would not provide information about the incident.

Lancaster of the Northville Police Department said he could not pin any blame on CEMS personnel. He said he, too, had been told that CEMS had radio problems.

LaRouche group blasts Satanism

By DARRELL CLEM

Lyndon LaRouche supporters, blaming Satanism for the kidnap, torture, and deaths of thousands of children, brought their message to Northville last week.

LaRouche proponents Steve Carr and John McCarthy set up a table in front of the post office, handing out literature and trying to win recruits to their cause.

It was the second time in as many years that supporters of LaRouche — an unsuccessful Democratic presidential candidate virtually disowned by his own party — visited Northville.

In the latest crusade, supporters posted a cardboard sign at their table which read: "Save Our Kids. Outlaw Satanic Practices."

Carr contended that 200,000 U.S. children are missing and that "up to 50,000 of them could be killed by satanic organizations."

"People have a right to believe what they want," Carr said, "but they don't have a right to kidnap, torture, and kill children."

Carr blamed a New York-based foundation which he called Lucis Trust for donating money to satanic causes. He said the organization formerly was called Lucifer Trust.

"It's bigger than most people think," Carr said. "For some reason, all of a sudden it's everywhere."

Carr called for a change in U.S. government leadership, saying current officials lack the ability to combat satanic practices which he said are rampant.

"The country is being sold down the river," Carr said. "Civilization, itself, is in hot water right now. We've got to be in the driver's seat and force elected officials to be patriots. We've got to build a political machine."

McCarthy said the response to his and Carr's efforts here last Thursday, Aug. 17, was mixed.

"Some people love it," he said, "and some people hate it."

Carr said some donations were received, although he declined to cite a figure. He also said some local residents agreed to help the LaRouche movement fight Satanism.

Some people passing by stopped to pore over the literature and talk with McCarthy and Carr. Others ignored them.

Said one woman of LaRouche: "He's just too strange for me."

The LaRouche supporters handed out copies of books and various publications, including one titled: "Is Satan in Your Schoolyard?"

Portions of the magazine criticized rock stars and movie-makers for promoting Satan worship. It also stated that children as young as 2 years old "become the victims of pedophiles and out-and-out ritual Satanists."

"Older children feel peer pressure to sample drugs, engage in promiscuity, and listen to heavy-metal rock music," it added. "Not so surprisingly, a growing proportion of these children succumb to the illusion that Satan rules the world."

In addition to a crackdown on satanic practices aimed at children, Carr said government officials should seek stiffer penalties against those who kill animals in ritualistic slayings. He also said the government needs to focus more resources on such problems as Third World development.

Carr said LaRouche groups are targeting cities nationwide in efforts to promote LaRouche's movement, the National Democratic Policy Committee. He claimed that the NDPC, with about 50,000 members, is the fastest-growing political action committee in the country.

Blaze in Plymouth

If you saw thick, black smoke darkening the Northville sky Friday evening, this was the reason: a fire which destroyed an insulation warehouse in northern Plymouth. Firefighters worked on the site all night. The cause is under investigation.

Law skeptical about legislation altering auto insurance

By TIM RICHARD

State Rep Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, wasn't invited to last week's public hearing where Rep. Nelson Saunders, D-Detroit, bashed the auto insurance industry.

"I guess he can have his own traveling show," said Law, who, like Saunders, is one of 16 members of the House Insurance Committee.

Committee hearings normally are called by the committee chair — in this case, Mary Brown, D-Kalamazoo.

But Saunders announced his own hearing in the City-County Building in Detroit, inviting some of his favorite people but no other committee members.

Among the speakers was U.S. Rep John Conyers, D-Detroit, a candidate for Detroit mayor. Conyers used the occasion to blast Mayor Coleman Young's support of an auto insurance bill in the days when Young was a state senator.

"He (Saunders) is the only Detroit

"AAA made a real effort to stay in Detroit when others bailed out. They took heavy losses in Detroit. To beat on them is probably unfair."

— Gerald Law
State Representative

rep backing Conyers," said Law, whose district includes Northville Township and half of the city. Saunders is a former administrative assistant to Conyers.

"That (insurer bashing) sounds great if you're running for office in Detroit," Law said. He added that Saunders is "normally a conscientious and bright guy."

Opening the hearing, Saunders said, "It's time to turn the tables and stop the compromises. Michigan residents have been victimized too long by a system that allows them to be gouged. Much more aggressive (regulatory) action is needed."

Saunders' bills call for:

- Controlling auto insurance rates by state government.

- Rolling back rates 20 percent below May 1988 levels.

- Prohibiting the state insurance commissioner from joining an insurance company for 10 years after leaving office. The last provision is aimed directly at Herman Coleman, former insurance commissioner in Gov. Blanchard's administration and now a vice president of AAA.

Some suburbanites have been attracted to Saunders' call for reducing auto insurance rates, Law said.

"Some letters I get think a 20-percent decrease is nice. His problem is that rates are high in Detroit."

Law said insurers aren't perfect but disagreed with Saunders' specific target. "AAA made a real effort to stay in Detroit when others bailed out. They took heavy losses in Detroit. To beat on them is probably unfair," Law said.

Another suburban member of the House Insurance Committee, John Bennett, D-Redford, said: "I don't believe his bill is going anywhere. It may get a (committee) hearing. The chair may grant it as a courtesy."

"I refused to sign it (as a co-sponsor)."

"I haven't seen him (Saunders) at any meetings, and we've had many meetings this year. Maybe he checked in and out and left a vote, but I haven't seen him."

"Rates are predicated on losses in an area," Bennett said. He sees the suburbs as subsidizing Detroit car owners under Michigan's system of tying rates in one territory to those in a neighboring town.

Speakers at Saunders' hearing saw the auto insurance industry as biased against Detroit, Flint, and Saginaw — that is, against black-dominated urban areas.

"Outstate is an ugly scene as it relates to Detroit," said Detroit City Council President Erma Henderson, also a candidate for mayor. "Detroiters were being told (by insurers), 'Move to the suburbs and call me back.'"

Attorney Tim Luxon — a member of the Michigan Trial Lawyers Association (MTLA), which is a foe of the insurance industry — said he saw a pattern of bias against blue-collar workers from cities and in favor of white-collar suburbanites.

"Accident victims are sent by the insurance companies to 'cut-off doctors.' They (insurers) choose to ignore the plaintiff's (injured person's) doctor," Luxon said. Persons who labor physically suffer more from invisible "soft tissue" injuries, but Luxon said their medical benefits are cut off as fast as possible by insurance company examiners.

"I tend to share the feeling, but I have not yet documented it," said Saunders, who asked Luxon for statistics.

Board ponders employee pay review

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

Northville Township may review its employee pay structure for possible changes.

In an attempt to retain current staff, township-board members gave Interim Business Manager Richard Henningsen approval Thursday, Aug. 10 to study the employee compensation package.

"I am looking at making certain that the compensation and evaluation plans for our employees are all in line with current economic standards," Henningsen said.

"I also want to look at the job descriptions so I can be on better footing and feel more confident with the salary structure here," he said.

Henningsen said his interest in the township's salary structure came about after at least two employees expressed displeasure over their current contract offers.

"We need to address this problem quickly, because I have contracts which need to be worked out," he said.

To aid the study, board members gave Henningsen approval to seek preliminary reports from three personnel consulting firms: Plante &

Moran, Yarger & Assoc. Inc., and Ambler & Associates.

Henningsen said the consulting firms have until Sept. 1 to submit proposals on studying the township's compensation system.

He said the issue will then be taken to the board for a review of both the information and prices to hire one of the three firms to complete the study.

"We have a good, dedicated bunch of employees, and I want to see them compensated for their diligence and hard work," he said.

Henningsen said the initial employee compensation program was structured eight years ago and has not since been updated.

Issues which may be covered in the study include: personnel descriptions, policies, job evaluation, and appraisal and pay scale.

"The whole idea is to get salaries and job class worked out to have the pay scale in line with today's marketplace," Henningsen said.

He said the major selling point of studying of the compensation program is to attract and keep high-quality people in township government.

"The people who work here are sitting at the threshold of heavy development," he said. "The individuals we hire will have an impact on this community for the next 40 years. I'm confident we have a good staff, and I want them to step up to the next plateau."

Henningsen noted in addition to staff employees, job descriptions and salary structures of all department heads will also be analyzed.

He said that following the board's decision on a consulting firm, a new compensation system should be placed into effect within 30 to 60 days.

He added any recommended increase will be included in the 1990 budget.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

TO: The residents, taxpayers and property owners of the Charter Township of Northville, County of Wayne.

Please take notice that by resolution adopted on August 10, 1989, the Township Board determined a proposed additional millage rate as defined by 1982 PA 5 to be 1.776 mills.

Please take further notice that on the 31st day of August, 1989, at 7:15 p.m., the Township Board will hold a public hearing at the Township Hall, located at 41600 Six Mile Road, Northville, Michigan for the purpose of receiving testimony and considering a levy of the additional millage rate as defined by 1982 PA 5 for the ensuing fiscal year.

On Tuesday, November 8, 1988, the electorate of the Township voted to accept a levy of an additional 2 mills to be used solely for the operation, maintenance, improvement and capital expenditures of the police and law enforcement services of the Northville Township Police Department.

The Township's total operating tax rate for 1988 was 3.1534 mills ($3.16 per $1000 SEV). Because of state law (Act 5 of 1982), the Township's base tax rate is reduced to 2.8002 mills for 1989.

The Township proposes to levy the newly voted millage rate, reduced per Act 5 of 1982 of 1.7760 mills for a total operating rate for 1989 of 4.5762 mills.

Please take further notice that the proposed additional millage rate would increase revenues for operating purposes from ad valorem property tax levies as permitted by operation of subsection (2) of 1982 PA 5 by sixty-four (64) percent.

Please take further notice that the Township Board has complete authority to establish the number of mills to be levied from within its authorized millage rate.

Public comments on this proposal increase are welcome at the public meeting.

RESPECTFULLY SUBMITTED,

THOMAS L. P. COOK,

TOWNSHIP CLERK

Hampton almost-Inn

A worker from Heileman Sign Company prepares to put the finishing touches on the sign at the Hampton Inn on Monday. It was the first day of business for the first hotel in the Northville community. The hotel, at Eight Mile and Haggerty, has 125 rooms and had 20 reservations for the first night, General Manager Kathy Schaefer said.

City residents cite lower property values, privacy invasion in sidewalk opposition

By DARRELL CLEM

Some Northville residents charged Monday night that sidewalks proposed for their streets will lower property values and cause an invasion of their privacy.

Margo Tagatz of Horton was among several residents who opposed being assessed for new sidewalks planned in the Baseline Road and Eight-Mile Road areas.

"In my mind, I'm paying $1,300 to $1,400 to have my property ruined," she said during a public hearing, one of a series that will be held in the next several months as city officials implement a project to install sidewalks in areas of the city that lack them.

Much of the protests surfaced because residents said the sidewalks would interfere with their privacy. They said some fences and shrubs will have to be removed, lowering the value of their property.

"All my shrubs will be gone," said

Mary Daniels of Horton Avenue. "All my privacy will be gone, and I think that should be taken into consideration."

Although a few citizens spoke in favor of sidewalks, the most vocal residents strongly opposed the plan — part of a long-term project to extend sidewalks throughout the city.

Among those favoring sidewalks on Baseline was Nancy Berg, who made her views known in a letter to city officials. Berg said trucks going to and from nearby businesses use Baseline to reach their destination.

Moreover, she added, "in view of the number of small children playing or walking to Amerman Elementary, it would be unsafe to walk along Baseline without sidewalks."

"There are also quite a few elderly people who enjoy walking but do not wish to walk in the street," Berg wrote. "I myself never feel quite safe when I walk along the road."

City Manager Steven Walters said

sidewalks along portions of Eight Mile Road will make the area safer for schoolchildren. Still, City Clerk Cathy Konrad said at least one letter had been received from an Eight Mile resident protesting being assessed for sidewalk installations.

Carpenter Street resident Joseph Hoffman presented city officials with a document, signed by six people, stating why they believed that sidewalks are inappropriate for the south side of Baseline. Among those reasons were that the majority of shrubs south of Baseline would have to be removed or trimmed and that the majority of pedestrian traffic is north of Baseline.

Hoffman stressed that some elderly residents "would have trouble shoveling the sidewalks" in the winter.

Guy St. John of Carpenter Street said the sidewalk proposed by his property would be 15 feet from his living room. "This doesn't improve my property values," he said. "This is an intrusion."

Some residents indicated that sidewalks are needed so that residents can more freely walk through the various sections of town that currently lack sidewalks. In that sense, Mayor Christopher Johnson noted, the lack of sidewalks "affects everyone in the city."

Some residents appeared to favor installing sidewalks on the north side of Baseline but not on the south side, due to the slope in the area. City Council Member John Buckland said he would support such a plan if property owners on both sides of Baseline would share in the assessment.

City officials agreed to defer action and tour the area at 7 p.m. on Sept. 5.

Council upholds police suspension

By DARRELL CLEM

In what a Northville police officer termed "a whitewash," the city council Monday night upheld a one-day suspension without pay that the officer received for a "verbal exchange" he had with a speeding motorist.

"It's not an unexpected decision," Officer Bill Edgar said after the council's unanimous vote. Edgar, who had sought to have the one day's wages and seniority reinstated, said he will seek arbitration.

Edgar charged that the city council apparently felt they "had to back the administration" — a reference to city officials who upheld the suspension in earlier grievance procedures.

Those who had refused to overturn the suspension, which occurred in June, included Police Capt. James Petres, Police Chief Rodney Cannon, and City Manager Steven Walters.

During a special hearing called to address Edgar's grievance, Edgar conceded Monday that "I'm not claiming innocence" in a May incident in which he stopped area resident Karel A. O'Brien for speeding at the South Main curve near the Ford plant.

O'Brien later wrote a letter to the police department accusing Edgar of speaking to her in a "demeaning tone" that left her "speechless and most concerned" and "holding back my tears."

Edgar conceded that he had "an exchange" with O'Brien, but said he was concerned about traffic safety at the time.

He said O'Brien stopped her vehicle on the curve and that he pulled his patrol car beside her in attempts to get her to drive into the Ford parking lot or to a nearby side street. He said she removed the keys from the ignition, posing traffic hazards.

Edgar said there were joggers and bicyclists near the South Main curve and that other people were feeding ducks near the Ford plant. He said he was concerned about a traffic accident after O'Brien brought her vehicle to a stop on the street.

"I don't want to walk away from this incident totally unscathed," Edgar said, but added later: "There was no intent on my part to belittle anybody or make (her) feel like less of a person."

Edgar said the suspension may have been warranted if he had used "profane" or "obscene" language with O'Brien, which he said he did not.

"But maybe I didn't use the proper wording," he said. "Maybe I was having a bad day. We've all done that before."

Edgar said that O'Brien was driving 42 mph when she entered the 25 mph zone, although he said she apparently "is not a violator on a repetitive basis." He said O'Brien may have been unaware of the speed limit.

Officials noted that it was the third time Edgar had been warned "with regard to attitude." They noted that he had received an oral warning and a written reprimand and that the one-day suspension was the next — and minimum — step.

"Most officers essentially never get such complaints," Walters said.

Edgar, however, said he didn't believe the number of complaints was significant considering that he had written about 750 violations in the previous 18 months and that he had issued a similar number of verbal warnings for less-serious infractions.

Edgar said he has been a police officer for 16 years — 1½ years here.

City council members agreed that deciding whether to uphold Edgar's suspension was "a tough call." But City Council Member Jerry Mittman noted that the council "had to place some faith and credit" in the administration.

Mayor Pro Tem Carolann Ayers noted that two of the three complaints against Edgar in the last 1½ years came from motorists who did not even receive citations.

"It wasn't a monetary thing at all," she said. "They felt abused some way."

Council Member Paul Folino, while saying he considered Edgar "a very fine police officer," said he had to trust the judgment of Petres, Cannon, and Walters because "they are closest to the scene."

Northville residents Chuck and Mary Keys attended the hearing, which was held in public. They had hoped to speak in support of Edgar but were told by Mayor Christopher Johnson that they could not speak on Edgar's behalf due to grievance procedures.

After the hearing, Chuck Keys, who said he had been a Detroit police officer for eight years, condemned city officials' decision.

Keys said that Edgar's record for issuing violations speaks well of his job performance. "The city compliments him by taking away a day's pay. They should be ashamed of themselves."

Keys added: "This officer does his job, and he gets kicked in the teeth."

Ayers, however, noted that Northville police officers are "held in greater respect" than many officers in the Metro Detroit area. Consequently, she indicated, the officers should treat motorists with similar respect.

There was no indication Monday night when the grievance procedure might reach the point of arbitration.

Elmsmere work set to begin

By DARRELL CLEM

Contractors are expected to begin digging along Elmsmere Drive in the next two weeks as they begin installing a storm sewer system that will cost an estimated $127,297, City Engineer Bob Warner said recently.

Warner said the project should take about a month to complete, although there may be some additional restoration work to be done afterward.

Warner said the contractor, Thompson-McCully Co., was expected to begin moving materials to the site this week.

The project, which is being coordinated with the city's ongoing street program, is designed to install pipes and to fill in deep ditches along a stretch of Elmsmere between Beck Road and Glenhill, including some side streets.

It also is aimed at reducing the flooding of basements and yards during storms.

The ditch work will be done in the Northville Estates subdivision in the city's northwest end. Contractors are hauling dirt to Elmsmere from Old Baseline Road, where a reconstruction project has been under way.

During a Northville City Council meeting last month, City Manager Steven Walters said the city had been continuing to meet with homeowners whose properties border the limits of the proposed project. Some residents have asked the city to extend the project.

"There are still a couple of unsettled issues," Walters said, but he added that the project is not expected to be delayed.

The city will pay for the project by issuing bonds.

Gradual start set

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

Trying to bridge the gap between kindergarten and first grade, each Northville elementary school will be holding "graduated start" sessions for the first two weeks of school.

Beginning Sept. 5, first-graders will be required to attend either morning or afternoon sessions through Sept. 14. On Sept. 15, first-graders will begin a full day of class.

Parents of first-grade children were notified by their respective elementary schools which session their children will attend.

The half-day sessions will reduce class size by 50 percent, "which we believe allows the teacher to get to know each child individually," said Assistant Superintendent Dolly McMaster.

McMaster said the focus of the graduated start is to "build success and enhance children's self-esteem for a successful first year of school."

McMaster added the graduated-start program will give teachers an opportunity to identify children's interests, learning styles, and strengths.

"By providing time to get to know the teacher prior to the switch from half days to full days, we believe our first-grade children will feel more comfortable reaching out to his / her teacher," she said.

McMaster noted the district instituted a gradual start program approximately 15 to 18 years ago, but had to quickly abandon it due to funding and busing concerns.

All first-grade teachers will meet Tuesday, Aug. 29 to finalize planning and continue developing materials for the first few days of the start.

Moraine reopens

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

Finishing touches are being placed on Moraine Elementary, as the school prepares to reopen after being closed five years ago.

"This building will be comparable to any other elementary building in the district," said Moraine Principal Mary Najarian.

"The school is in excellent shape, and we'll be ready for the first day (Tuesday, Sept. 5)," she said.

When asked if it's been hectic to get the school ready for the coming year, Najarian laughed and said, "Is that an understatement or what?"

She noted custodians are finishing the cleaning and painting of the school and added the facility should be ready for an informal parent-student orientation from 6 to 8 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 29.

Najarian said the orientation will give students and parents an opportunity to preview Moraine before school begins. She added that she and Superintendent George Bell will be present to answer questions.

Some new furniture, library books, and computer equipment have arrived at the school and school officials are doing an inventory of the supplies, Najarian said.

She said only two of the Moraine teachers are completely new to the Northville district. "All of the other teachers requested to be here."

Najarian said the Moraine staff met last week to orient themselves with the building. "Everyone is excited to set the building policy, since the school is reopening."

If parents have children who will be walking to Moraine, school officials are requesting they use the orientation session to review their route and safety rules.

Formal open house for the building will be held on Sept. 20 and 27.

Northville Jazz Orchestra comes of age as town's band

By BOB NEEDHAM

The Northville Jazz Orchestra has turned it around.

Starting in 1985 as a hastily-formed group of Northville High School alumni and friends, the band began life as the first — and only — attraction in the Northville Arts Commission's summer concert series.

As the concert series has grown and developed, so has the band — to a point where its leaders say the music is better than ever.

Rick Balek and Brian Buckmaster, both 1980 graduates of Northville High School, got the idea for a local jazz band in 1985, and happened to hear that the local arts commission was trying to organize some outdoor concerts.

"We were the arts commission's only act at the time. Basically, when they were looking to get a concert series going, we were a band with no place to play," said Balek, who serves as director of the group.

For most of its life, the group has been known as the Northville High School Alumni Jazz Band. It seemed like a natural name, since the core of the group was NHS graduates.

Just getting a band together at all was a major accomplishment; Balek recalled that "the amount of organization, at least in the first couple years, was just immense."

But once organized, the band was not fully satisfied with itself. "It sounded like a part-time big band," Balek said, with musicianship that "left something to be desired. . . . We were struggling to play the right notes and the right rhythms."

Equipment and facilities were other problems at the start. The band rehearsed at Cooke Middle School and only had 20 pieces of music to practice.

"We had no music at that time. Nothing. We borrowed the high school's music," said Buckmaster, the assistant director of the group.

Performances were done in a portable bandshell rented from Oakland County — if they were lucky. A couple times, Balek said, "We set up right on the pavement and played."

The group owes a debt to Toni Genitti, who loaned the chairs for the audience during the first three summers. "During the busy dinner hour (at Genitti's) we'd just traipse in there. We felt bad about it, but there was no way to do it otherwise," Balek said.

Getting musicians together was another early problem. Buckmaster said in the first year, they would be "lucky to fill the rehearsal. . . . Now, we have many musicians we can call upon."

The second year of the band was much like the first, with continuing struggles to find musicians. Then the following year, the group had what Buckmaster called a "little split" with the arts commission over direction. The Downtown Merchants Association took over sponsorship for that summer, and the band branched out with its first out-of-town engagement: an appearance at the Plymouth Fall Festival.

"The Plymouth people heard us just after we got some new musicians," Buckmaster said, including four new saxophone players, two new trombonists, two new trumpet players, a new bass player, and a new piano player.

"The third year was critical," Balek said. "Musicianship was made a number-one priority."

In its fourth year — last year — the band returned to Northville Arts Commission sponsorship in the summer concert series. It also made at least one more key personnel acquisition.

Bob Williams, the retired Northville High School band director, heard from a band member that the group was short a trombone player. A half-hour before the concert, Balek recalled, "Bob Williams screeched up in the car, he looked me right in the eye — we haven't seen each other in two years — (and) he said, 'Hey, Balek, you need a trombone player or not?'"

Along with his professionalism and ties to many of the players, Williams brought to the orchestra an extensive library of sheet music, bringing the group's repertoire to over 300 numbers. "He had a bunch of good old stuff you just can't get anymore," Buckmaster said.

This year, the band's fifth, has seen it reach full maturity with more outside engagements, including one appearance at Tiger Stadium before a game; better music; and bigger crowds. The maturing of the group led to the name change from the Northville High School Alumni Jazz Band to the Northville Jazz Orchestra.

"The quality of musicianship has reached a level where we are on a par with many of the local professional big bands, and are better than many as well," Balek said.

That quality has led to appearances in Farmington and Belleville and to interest from other communities, but the orchestra is still very much a Northville group. Balek said 14 of its 19 regular members have ties to Northville, and they rehearse Monday nights at the Northville Community Center on Main Street and sometimes at Northville High School.

"The crowds are getting bigger" at performances, Buckmaster said. "More people are talking about it; more people are coming up for our concerts every time."

Friday evening, Balek said close to 400 people heard the group at the downtown bandshell. That show was also the debut of Del Kaufman, the band's new vocalist.

The next chance to hear the group is 7:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 1 in downtown Northville.

Buckmaster summed up the orchestra's current status: "Northville has always wanted their own band, and we feel we fill that void. We're the group that Northville calls its own."

The Northville Jazz Orchestra is available for private engagements, and the band is always seeking new musicians. For more information call Buckmaster at 349-6440.

City to explore Mill Pond problem

By DARRELL CLEM

Northville city officials have begun preliminary moves that could resolve environmental problems that sparked a petition drive by residents in the Mill Pond area.

Citizens last month called for a solution to problems stemming from silting that they fear will cause the pond to dry up if corrective measures are not implemented.

Neighbors near the Mill Pond have often joined forces to pull debris from the water in attempts to keep it clean. They have voiced concerns about islands that have sprung up in the pond due to the silting problem, which they also said has resulted in a "mosquito breeding ground."

Much to the citizens' delight, City Manager Steven Walters said during a city-council meeting Monday night that an engineering analysis — involving city engineers McNeely & Lincoln Associates and officials from the Michigan Department of Natural Resources — has begun at the pond located in the Middle Rouge River.

Walters said engineers also have met with officials of the closed Ford plant here to discuss whether hydraulic works at the pond might be used to help the situation.

In a memo to Walters from Bob Warner of McNeely & Lincoln Associates, Warner wrote that "representatives from our office made a boat inspection of the pond on Monday, Aug. 14, to check on the pattern of the sediment deposition from the mouth of the river and to check the pond depth at a few locations."

Warner wrote that material in the delta area of the pond consists primarily of sand and gravel, and that further from the mouth of the river the material consists primarily of clay and silt content.

Warner stated that depths in the pond ranged from two feet near the mouth to more than five feet closer to the dam.

Methods of dredging currently are being explored, Warner wrote, "and we anticipate that a final plan will be in place within the next 10 days."

Several Mill Pond-area residents who attended Monday's meeting thanked city officials and appeared optimistic as they left the meeting.

City officials hope that funding for the project will be available from the state.

State funds will aid Schoolcraft project

By DARRELL CLEM

A state funding boost will help Schoolcraft College implement plans to remodel one of its buildings in attempts to ease a space crunch.

The college will receive $90,400 as part of a Legislature-approved supplemental bill giving $4 million to the state's 29 community colleges. Schoolcraft President Richard McDowell said last week

McDowell said the money will help fund a $250,000 project in which a former auto-mechanics lab will be renovated and converted to several classrooms.

"We really need additional space," McDowell said. "In the evenings, we don't have any empty classrooms at all."

McDowell said Schoolcraft has taken steps such as leasing space at off-campus locations, such as public schools in Garden City, Plymouth, and Canton, to meet enrollment demands.

McDowell said Schoolcraft's current enrollment is 13,000 students. McDowell noted that the $90,400 supplemental appropriation doesn't reflect a large amount considering that Schoolcraft's current budget is $24 million.

"But you don't turn it down," he added.

The additional funds for the community colleges were viewed by proponents as an effort to make up for last year, when the two-year colleges' budget didn't benefit from higher state revenue forecasts than had been projected.

At Schoolcraft, the supplemental appropriation is expected to pay for more than one-third of the cost of renovating the lab that has remained vacant since the auto-mechanics program was cut two years ago. The remaining price tag will be paid from the general fund.

McDowell said the supplemental funds were allocated because the state had underestimated its revenue sources. He said college officials decided not to put the extra funds into the general operating account because they wanted it to be used for something tangible, like the auto-mechanics lab renovation.

McDowell said the next step will be to hire a consultant to plan for the renovation, which he said should be completed sometime next summer.

The project will include such work as replacing floors and installing wall partitions.

In other developments, McDowell said the state's general appropriation for community colleges increased 4.9 percent this year, which will provide an additional funding boost for Schoolcraft.

McDowell said the college receives its funding primarily from three sources — the state, local taxes, and student tuition.

Residents to cool off with new ordinance

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

With about a month of summer left, the township board Thursday, Aug. 10 approved an ordinance governing the placement of air conditioners on residential property.

The ordinance, which goes into effect upon publication today, Aug. 24, allows air-conditioning units to be placed in the side yard of a house.

To qualify for side-yard placement, an air conditioning system must not extend into the setback by more than three feet, and the abutting parcel must be one of the following: a street, a house without doors or windows facing the side yard, a distance from an existing house equal to the size of the required side yard plus three feet, or occupied by a use other than one-family residential.

If the air conditioner is not in the rear of a house, then the system will have to be screened, according to the ordinance.

Township planners recommended approval of the ordinance at their May 23 meeting, and the ordinance received approval from the Wayne County Planning Commission on June 21.

City okays plan at Condos pond

By DARRELL CLEM

The Lexington Condos pond will be drained and restored and a new dam constructed under a plan approved recently by the Northville City Council.

The long-awaited project, estimated to cost about $13,125, will be paid from three sources: Oakland County drain funds, $6,125; Singh Development Co., $5,000; and the Lexington Condo Homes Association, $2,000.

The plan, one of three options considered, won unanimous approval during the council's Monday, Aug. 7, meeting.

The proposal calls for dredging the pond, replacing the dam and placing the responsibility for future maintenance in the hands of the condo association.

The association had requested that the city consider steps to restore the retention pond, located near the northwest corner of Taft and Eight Mile roads.

Association President John Haas, citing the project's need, said during the council meeting that "major" problems have developed at the pond in the past five years.

Some condo residents questioned whether future maintenance, due to silt flowing downstream, might cost residents an exorbitant amount of money.

But Haas said the condo association's board of directors voted unanimously to adopt a resolution endorsing the city-council-approved proposal.

"We recognize that more work might need to be done in the future," Haas said.

The engineering firm McNeely & Lincoln Associates Inc. formulated options for addressing problems at Lexington Condos pond after reviewing the situation with the Oakland County Drain Commission.

Elsewhere in the city, officials have received a request from residents near Mill Pond to review whether corrective steps could be taken to alleviate problems there. The city has taken the request under consideration.

Meanwhile, Northville City Manager Steven Walters said work on the Lexington Condos pond should get under way this fall and be completed sometime next year.

Walters said the project, which had been expected to be completed earlier, was delayed for two primary reasons. He said officials had to wait for the stabilization of upstream soil erosion near two subdivisions, and they had to negotiate with Oakland County on the project.

Walters, in a memo to the city council, noted that there is $62,000 in Randolph Drain Drainage District maintenance funds held by Oakland County — funds in which the city has "a controlling interest and which would be sufficient to fund any of the options" for the Lexington Condos pond.

"However," Walters wrote, "the pond is a private amenity and not of value to the drain operation as such. At the same time, the pond has become an issue primarily because of upstream erosion."

Therefore, recommendations for improving the pond were based on the premise that the condos association should be responsible for the cost of retaining the pond.

Oil cleanup

The city's Department of Public Works (DPW) and Police Department were called out to Center Street near Randolph on Friday to clean up a minor oil spill in the street. Initial indications to the DPW were that the spill may have been caused by a small oil drum falling off a truck.

Council authorizes traffic signal

By DARRELL CLEM

A traffic signal planned at the intersection of Main and Griswold streets at an estimated cost of $32,100 was authorized Monday night by the Northville City Council.

The cost of the project will be split between the city and the county, City Manager Steven Walters said.

Earlier estimates had pegged the cost of the project at $22,000. But Walters noted that earlier plans included traffic signals only for vehicles — and not for pedestrians.

Pedestrian signals have since been added to the project.

In a memo to city officials, Walters wrote that the city has about $11,000 available from Oakland County road funds for the project, which would require an additional $5,100 in city funds.

Walters linked the importance of the project to the planned redevelopment of the closed Ford plant at Main and Griswold streets.

The Wayne County Road Department conducted a review of the intersection and determined that the overhead flashing beacon should be converted to a traffic signal.

Local officials opt out of suit

By DARRELL CLEM and BRUCE WEINTRAUB

Northville city and township have opted out of a class-action lawsuit that could place local court operations under state control.

City Manager Steven Walters, citing profits of the 35th District Court, said the city decided not to participate in the suit brought by several counties that were forced to pay support for financially troubled courts.

"Many courts are operating under a deficit," Walters said. He added, however, that the City of Northville last year actually received $44,600 in general revenue from the 35th District Court.

"The fines and court costs paid by convicted people were in excess of the court's operating costs," Walters said.

Similarly, township-board members voted to opt out of the lawsuit mainly because of the revenue generated by the district court

"The 35th District Court provides us with a substantial amount of money to us, and because of that cash flow I would recommend not participating in the lawsuit," Supervisor Georgina Goss said.

Five communities are served by the 35th District Court: the cities of Northville and Plymouth and the townships of Northville, Plymouth, and Canton. Each has chosen not to join the class-action suit.

The three-count suit, filed by such counties as Kent, Newaygo, Ottawa, and Saginaw, names as defendants the State of Michigan, Gov. James J. Blanchard, the Michigan Legislature, and state Auditor General Franklin C. Pinkelman.

In the first count, the suit alleges that the state "is obligated to reimburse all Michigan counties and municipal district-court control units for 80 percent of any court operational expenses they funded during calendar years 1986 and 1987."

The second count requests a court judgment declaring that the state constitution requires the state to finance the operational expenses of all circuit, district, municipal, and probate courts.

And the third count charges that the state has failed to comply with a constitutional mandate requiring the adoption of an annual auditing and accounting system for judicial expenditures.

The lawsuit was filed on behalf of all local government units which fund judicial operations. Communities seeking to opt out of the suit must file an exclusion request by Aug. 19.

Those communities will not share in any settlement that may be awarded, and they will not be covered by any declaratory judgment which the court may enter.

Walters said the 35th District Court system "has been working very well." He said area officials want to maintain local control of the court system, instead of turning it over to the state.

Code amended for lot splits

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

Passed only last January, the township's woodlands ordinance is close to receiving an addition following board approval Thursday, Aug. 10.

Township Planning Director Carol Maise said the new amendment will extend the woodlands ordinance to any division of a parcel of land.

Under the woodlands ordinance developers are required to provide summaries or inventories of the trees they plan to remove on their site plans.

Ordinance provisions also require developers to erect protective barriers for trees and plants on a site.

Maise said if anyone brings in a site plan "within two years of cutting trees down, they will be responsible for replacing them."

She noted the woodlands provision wasn't initially included in land-division rules primarily because of their relatively infrequent occurrence.

"We've had a lot of land-division requests recently, though."

City planners discuss sign ordinance ramifications

By DARRELL CLEM

Concerns about whether a proposed city sign ordinance would place undue restrictions on political expression emerged last week as the Northville Planning Commission resumed talks on the long-debated ordinance.

Commissioner Rolland Stapleton suggested that a portion of the ordinance stating that political signs cannot be erected more than 45 days prior to an election might be "a serious infringement" on political rights.

The issue surfaced briefly as the commission continued efforts to reach agreement on the ordinance in time for a public hearing set for 8 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 19.

The planning commission must conduct the public hearing and make a subsequent recommendation to the Northville City Council, which is charged with giving the ordinance final approval.

The planning commission has spent long hours over a period of several meetings attempting to revise the ordinance into a document that appears acceptable and workable.

During the discussion on political signs, commissioners debated whether the ordinance would also place restrictions on citizens' rights to construct signs pertaining to such political issues as abortion.

But City Manager Steven Walters said the section applies to political issues placed on the local ballot and that it, therefore, would not restrict other political expression.

There was no indication during the meeting that the ordinance would be changed to delete the portion restricting political signs to 45 days prior to an election. However, Stapleton suggested language might be added noting that political signs not addressing issues subject to an upcoming election could be erected at other times, as long as they met certain requirements such as sign size.

Walters indicated that City Attorney James Kohl believed that the section appears appropriate. He suggested that the planning commission could be "out of jurisdiction" if changes were made to the specific section.

Stapleton, however, said he "respectfully" disagreed with Walters and believed it was "appropriate" for the commission to discuss whether the political sign ordinance is proper for the city.

In other sign-ordinance matters, Stapleton questioned whether a section stating that property owners cannot construct garage-sale signs more than three times a year is fair.

"How can we limit people to selling their personal property three times a year?" Stapleton asked, adding later: "Those guys that dumped tea in Boston Harbor might get upset about this."

Stapleton said the section appeared to amount to "the taking of private property without just compensation."

However, other commissioners noted that property owners could use several methods for selling property, including placing classified advertisements in newspapers. Commission Chairperson Richard Wilhelm also said he had seen a sign for a bicycle sale in one yard — a specific sign that apparently would not fall under the category of garage sales.

Meanwhile, Planning Consultant Don Wortman may make minor adjustments to the sign ordinance before it is brought up for the public hearing.

The ordinance has already drawn protest from some citizens, including downtown merchants who say it places too many restrictions on such matters as the height and sizes of signs.

It is vital to the safety of your family to know where to go in an emergency. This chart shows the approximate distance from various intersections to selected Oakland County hospital emergency rooms. To use this chart, locate, on the left column, the nearest major intersection to your home, school or work location. Then read across for distances to various hospitals.

When to use a hospital emergency room.

Hospital emergency rooms are staffed and equipped to treat patients with medical conditions that can cause death or permanent impairment of health if treatment is delayed. Hospital emergency rooms are generally equipped to handle heart attacks, strokes, head injuries, poisoning, burns and most other serious problems. Surgical facilities, diagnostic and X-ray equipment, trauma rooms, cardiac units and overnight-care facilities are found in a hospital emergency room.

Caution:

If in doubt, it's best to go to the nearest hospital emergency room.

The Northville Record

Our Opinions

First-responder program deserves careful study

The proposal to initiate a "first-responder" program in Northville Township is an interesting idea which needs close attention.

The township fire department raised the issue out of a concern over response time by Community Emergency Medical Service (CEMS), the ambulance company which serves Northville and other area communities. Although the response time has increased slightly — and in spite of one delayed response in the city last week — CEMS is relatively timely. We do not in Northville hear the horror stories which surface in other communities about trying to get an ambulance to respond.

However, response time can always be improved. CEMS does not have any ambulances stationed in Northville, and it is always going to take a while for them to get here from Plymouth. Under the first-responder program, local people trained as emergency medical technicians (EMTs) could arrive on the scene of any medical emergency first to provide first aid. The EMTs would probably be paid on an on-call basis.

On the surface this sounds like an excellent idea, even if it only shaves a minute or so off of the average response time. Someday that minute might make the ultimate difference — between life and death.

Government

The township government is looking into the proposal with a detailed cost study, and this is where any potential problems with the idea might show up. There are concerns to examine: in essence, is it worth the extra cost to have basic-life-support personnel on the scene before the ambulance arrives? If this appears like it would not be a substantial benefit, then the added cost would be very difficult to justify.

That type of concern should be addressed in the cost analysis. Most likely, so will other ramifications, including benefits to the police department; the first-responder program would probably help keep the township police officers on active duty and off of ambulance runs.

Obviously, deep study of the issue is needed, and in fact it has already begun. But on the surface, the first-responder program sounds like it could reap great benefits for the residents of the township. Officials are doing well to look into the plan.

Singh's willingness to compromise is a benefit

In the overall scheme of things, the type of bricks which are used on the upper floor of the MainCentre development in downtown Northville is a mighty unimportant question.

But because of the concern for the community from some officials, MainCentre bricks became a topic for some discussion recently. It was nice to learn that the officials are not the only ones with that kind of concern and attention to detail; they are shared by MainCentre's backer, the Singh Development Company.

Singh proposed, and received approval for, using brick panels — smaller bricks attached to a sheet — on much of its project at the southwest corner of Main and Center streets. But recently, after hearing some opposition to the idea, the company changed its mind.

The objections were quality concerns, as well as the possibility that there may be undetected safety worries. After hearing about these issues, Singh management agreed to use real, traditional brick on 90 percent of the building.

They didn't have to. But the fact that they did will make a better project, and a better downtown, than if they had stuck with the brick panels. It cost them 30 days and $30,000, but they made the change anyway.

The company has been similarly cooperative throughout the MainCentre project development. Such companies are often cast as villains; Singh itself took a lot of heat for the perceived contribution of its Pheasant Hills subdivision to the sediment problem in the Lexington Condos pond. On MainCentre, Singh has been acting like a real member of the community, and the town will benefit as a result.

Lookin' back

Neil Geoghegan

August must have been an awfully important month.

Pinch me if I'm dreaming, but doesn't it seem like every day the past three weeks is an anniversary of some sort? The past few years have been filled with 20th anniversaries, so I guess that means a lot of important things happened in the late '60s.

But this month has seen more remembrance dates than any I can recall, and it isn't exclusively events that happened 20 years ago. The list goes something like this: a) 44 years ago this month, Japan surrendered, ending World War II; b) 20 years ago this month the Apollo 11 mission put the first men on the moon; c) 20 years ago this month was the Woodstock Music Festival; d) 20 years ago this month was the infamous Chappaquiddick accident; e) the Tate-LaBianca Murders — ordered by Charles Manson — happened 20 years ago this month; f) two years ago this month was the crash of Flight 255 at Metro Airport.

I'm sure there are more, but those are the biggies. And I'm not saying these weren't important or noteworthy historical events — but for some reason or another, it seems like anniversaries have become more important to us as a society.

Thinking back, I first noticed this phenomenon in 1987, with the 20th anniversary of the release of the Beatles' "Sergeant Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band" album — recognized as one of the most influential musical statements ever.

A documentary called "It Was 20 Years Ago Today" was even produced for television and it examined the things that were going on in the summer of '67 — thought to be the starting point to what we now call the '60s revolution. The fall of 1987 also marked the 25th anniversary of the assassination of John F. Kennedy.

Many of the events we are remembering happened within days of each other in '69. The nation was stunned when Mary Jo Kopechne died in a car driven into Nantucket Sound by Senator Edward Kennedy, but a few days after that, the Manson murders became one of the most notorious crimes in United States history. That same month, Neil Armstrong's footprints on the moon were still fresh when nearly a half-million people gathered at Max Yasgur's Farm in upstate New York for a three-day music festival — the pinnacle event in the tumultuous '60s.

Some people would just as soon forget some of these anniversaries, but it's kind of incredible that all four events happened at roughly the same time. And all four were, in a variety of ways, very important episodes in history — events that would influence, dictate, and define many of the things that have happened since.

Maybe we are just becoming more and more aware of the importance of our past — and may that's not a bad thing.

Lake Erie air force

After the fact

By Phil Jerome

I jumped aboard my trusty tractor, anxious to mow the luxurious green carpet of grass that is my lawn. I started the engine and listened to the powerful hum of the Briggs & Stratton engine.

Ahh, this was going to be a great afternoon. Mowing the grass, tossing the clippings over the fence to the neighbor's horses, sneaking inside for a swig of Pepsi when it got hot.

I threw the tractor into reverse to back out of the garage. And remained completely motionless. I tried reverse again. Nothing. Then, first, second, third. Nothing. The darn thing would not go into gear.

I did everything I could think of to do — checked the gas. And then ran over to Andy's house to get some professional help.

Now this was where it gets interesting. Spooky, even. I know I have no mechanical skills. I feel guilty about it, but I've come to accept it as a fact of life.

At any rate, Andy comes over and tells me to start it up. He tinkers with a couple of things, and then says to put it in reverse.

I do. And it works.

"What did you do to it, Andy?" I asked

"Nothing," he said. And when I protested, he said it again. "Really, I didn't do anything. I looked at it, but I didn't touch a thing."

See what I mean? Spooky. Machines must hate some people and love others. There's no reason whatsoever why the tractor would not go into gear for me and then work perfectly for Andy.

"Hey, Andy. You think I'm jinxed?" I asked finally.

"Nah," he answered. "You've just got to know what you're doing. You've got to get your machines to respect you."

Record ignores a local business

To the Editor:

In reading your front-page story covering the "purple building" I was very disappointed that you had failed to mention who or what company was doing the painting work and that they had nothing to do with the color choices. We (Painters Plus, Inc. a local Northville company for the past six and half years) were referred to as "the workers"! But your article did mention the builders' names, the architect's name, and the owner's name! Why didn't they mention us or our company? Why were we the "workers"?

We have received several calls regarding the colors of the building, and we were involved first hand with this story, but as usual, we were overlooked and not even mentioned! I do not understand it. And while I am on this subject, I would like to mention that I do not feel the Northville Record is properly covering many of the current events our company is involved in; and in fact we feel they go out of their way to avoid covering stories involving our company!

We have been painting practically the entire town and not once did the Record cover the event with a photo, a brief mention, or a small story. We have done very visible and very influential work in the town and your paper hasn't even noticed, or has, and for whatever reasons decided not to mention these items.

We are local, and we have painted for almost everyone in town. We painted Lee Holland's building on a very busy corner without notice, we painted the store downtown where the Shipping Station and two other stores are with no mention, we did volunteer work for the Mill Race Village without notice or mention, work on Genitti's without mention, work on Plagens without notice, and several other landmarks or areas of interest. I really don't understand why.

And this last article proved to me that it seems intentional to exclude us for whatever reasons! Did you know that we are the Detroit area's largest residential house painters? Did you know that we employ over 50 people, many local and many students, that make more than most jobs for students? Did you know we have painted over 1,800 houses in this area? I don't know if you care or not, but many do. We are proud to be located in Northville and want to be part of its growth, improvement, and its news!

Thank you for your time and hopefully further consideration.

Ward trouble

To the Editor:

On Tuesday, Aug. 8, 1989, I attended the township meeting that was held to review the revised building plan of Ward Church.

One of the reasons the site plan was not originally approved was because Fire Chief Robert Toms indicated that a building in excess of 70 feet could not be adequately protected in the event of a fire. Fire Chief Robert Toms was unable to attend this meeting, but instead had Charles Deland read a letter stating the building plan could now be approved, despite a height reduction to only 107.3 feet.

I fail to see what has changed. The building remains inaccessible to fire fighters unless their lives are placed at even greater risk by having to fight a fire from inside the building.

Moreover, it became very clear that traffic will become an even greater problem along Six Mile Road and Haggerty Roads than it already is. At no time did Ward Church even commit itself to financing, installing, or maintaining a traffic light at the main access point from Six Mile Road. If anyone has any doubts as to the traffic congestion that will soon occur at this location, just travel near the present location of Ward Church in Livonia when church activities are beginning or ending.

We can thank Charles Deland, Larry Sheehan, Bernard Bach, and John Leinonen, the four commissioners who voted to approve the proposed site plan, for this state of affairs. I wonder if it is their intention to allow more skyscrapers to be built in the Northville community? If not, why does Ward Presbyterian Church have the exclusive right to violate community architectural and building standards?

Sue Addison

P.S. How do we get a commission that truly represents the residents of Northville Township?

Tower of Babel

To the Editor:

Someday, the discussions and controversy surrounding the Ward Church, if indeed it can be called a church, will come to an end — or will they?

It has been bewildering, at least to me, why the Ward proponents have failed to grasp the message the planning commissioners have been trying to convey. That message was succinctly stated by Karen Woodside when she said the "proposal doesn't fit the character of this community." I'd suggest everyone interested look at the Manufacturers Bank Building at Six Mile and Haggerty and try to imagine something approximately twice the height. It is inconceivable how anyone could then truthfully say it wouldn't be objectionable in their community. Since it would be on some of the highest land in Wayne County, it would be one of the highest points in the western section — if not the highest.

Those people who comment, "You can see the Ambassador Bridge from Northville" will now be able to say, as will many others, "You can see that Ward building in Northville from the Ambassador Bridge." Who knows, someone may even write a book about it. A possible title could be, "On A Clear Day You Can See Ward From Everywhere."

I can understand why the majority of commissioners voted the way they did. They voted on a proposal covered by rules and regulations which contain well-defined and measurable criteria. They had no choice if all the objective requirements were met — and height wasn't one of them. The only way to vote on subjective, non-defined parameters was to abstain, which is what the minority admirably did. The only objective reason on which any commissioner could have justifiably rejected the proposal was related to fire department capability. That reason got washed away when Chief Toms changed his position.

What I can't understand is why the Ward proponents have been so obstinate. Anything can be built to a reasonable level and meet its goals or needs without story upon story of needless structure above its occupants. If, as said, Ward really is committed to this community, it first needs to better understand its character. From what I've seen it hasn't done so. But why should it? The majority of members don't live here, likely never will, and probably aren't informed enough to care. If a variance to the most recent ordinance is granted, many should be able to see the structure from where they live.

One can only conclude Ward's primary purpose has not been to simply build a "pleasurable and inspirational place of worship" but instead a gargantuan structure visible for miles. It should be referred to for what it appears to be, namely, Ward's Tower of Babel. I can't believe this is what the congregation at large wants, but instead is the result of some committee that got carried away with its purpose. Hopefully those fostering the proposal will truly come to relate to this community and admit by their actions that it's never to late to change a set of paper plans.

Beware DEET

To the Editor:

Regarding the Aug. 17 "Fitness Tips" article by Kathleen Mueller (The Northville Record, page 9-D):

In recommending readers to use insect repellent with diethyltoluamide (DEET), Ms. Mueller forgot a very important warning. The use of insect repellent with 100 percent DEET can be harmful to one's health, in some cases causing convulsions. I worked as a camp counselor at Camp Linden, the Huron Valley Girl Scout Camp, this summer, and it was very important to check the girls' insect repellent for DEET. An alternative to an insect repellent containing DEET is Avon's Skin-So-Soft oil or lotion, which worked well for myself and other counselors and campers throughout the summer.

Support bills

To the Editor:

As a member of the Michigan Citizens Lobby, I just want to bring your attention to the auto insurance reform package before the Michigan House of Representatives (House Bill No. 4912 is the main bill of the package). Simply stated, the cost of auto insurance continues to climb and regulation and legislative reforms continue to decline. The package is intended to provide the force of law to ensure accountability in auto insurance rate making. It is intended to stimulate competition and to strengthen consumer rights.

Mary Shaneski

To the Editor:

I haven't noticed any coverage regarding the Michigan auto insurance reform package in the Northville Record. The expressions by auto insurance companies (i.e. AAA) that they will consider a rate reduction is a "smoke screen" and falls way short of what is needed and will be accomplished in House Bill 4912. We should encourage people to write to their representatives in support of House Bill 4912.

World Series

To the Editor:

Baseball at the national level returned again to Northville. Over the past three weeks, teams from Cincinnati and Newark, Ohio; Brooklyn and Bayside, New York; Baltimore, Maryland; Redmond, Washington; Lexington, Kentucky; Taylor, Dearborn Heights, and Westland, Michigan; and Northville competed for the National Amateur Baseball Federation's National Title in two age groups. Cincinnati, Ohio was crowned the World Champion in the Sophomore (13-14-year-old) division and Lexington, Kentucky the Junior (15-16-year-old) Division.

World Series Winner.

These tournaments were co-hosted, as in the past years, by Northville Junior Baseball and The Little Caesars Amateur Baseball Federation. Once again the tournament committee did an outstanding job in the planning, organizing, and running of the tournaments. My gratitude, appreciation, and thanks are extended to some very special and dedicated people: Kay Kehoe, Lloyd McKee, Charlene Frellick, Dan Bastian, Scott Baldwin, Steve Frellick, Jim Bright, Bill Braund, Judy Walsh, Bruce and Sue Christensen, Bill Kaley, and Bob Willerer in their roles as committee chairs.

Thanks also to committee members Joe O'Doherty, Betty Willerer, Bob Kehoe, Jay Johnson, Chuck and Debbie Appligan, Helen McKee, Suzanne Kaley, Sue Baldwin, Chuck Collins, Bernie and Steve Vigh, Lorraine and John Hodgkin, and Bev Bastian.

Appreciation and thanks are extended to the Northville Connie Mack and Sandy Koufax coaching staff, parents, and players in the roles that they played as participants, helping out on the field, ticket taking, running the scoreboard, and assisting with the banquets. The committee also wants to extend a thank-you to the junior division team from Westland, which represented the Little Caesars Program as the host team and not only did an outstanding job on the playing field, but also was a tremendous help with the banquet and were always present and available for assistance on the field.

It should be noted that Northville also hosted an AABC District and NABF Senior Regional Tournament for area Michigan teams. The winner of the NABF Regional was Allen Park, and they went on to compete in the World Series held in Youngstown, Ohio.

Northville Parks and Recreation, John Anderson, and his staff were very supportive throughout the tournaments, and we thank them very much. We also thank John Osborne and Novi High School for the preparation and use of their facility and obvious support of the program.

The Northville School System was once again very supportive of these tournaments in the preparation, follow-up and use of the facilities. Thank you.

A special thanks to the Northville High School cheerleaders for their participation in and helping make the opening ceremonies the meaningful ceremonies that they were. The pom-pom squad and the cheerleaders for being a vital and meaningful part of the banquet.

We want to thank once again city and township officials for their continued involvement and support of the tournaments along with the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

A deep gratitude for and thank you is extended to John and Toni Genitti for their direct involvement in the program, their continued support, and donations.

Thank you to all the businesses and residents who have supported this program — Ford Motor Company for the tent, Metro Detroit Shell Oil Dealers for the field decorations and bunting, and Bob Kehoe for banquet donations. Thanks again to the Little Caesars Amateur Baseball Federation for the financial support of these tournaments.

This was our seventh straight year to host tournaments for the National Amateur Baseball Federation and because of all the previously mentioned people and business efforts and involvement these tournaments were the best, receiving rave reviews about all aspects of the tournaments by all — NABF officials, players, coaches, and fans. A very enjoyable experience for several hundred people and a very positive growth experience for some 480 young men.

Congratulations, Northville, and thank you for a job well done.

Student Assistance Program helps kids

As summer is winding down, parents and students will turn their attention toward returning to school or beginning for the first time. An important service exists in the Northville Schools, specifically Northville High School and Meads Mill. The service was implemented in November 1987 and is called the Student Assistance Program.

It is a program designed to recognize and offer help to any high-school student experiencing personal or family problems, with emphasis on those problems related to the use of alcohol and / or drugs.

School professionals, whose training includes extensive experience in dealing with alcohol and other drug-related issues, implement and facilitate the process. Students believed to be at risk are identified and helped through the problem.

The purpose of the Student Assistance Program is to educate, support, and, if necessary, refer to other agencies or professionals with the goal being to return students to a balanced physical, emotional, and social health in school.

As a result of the Student Assistance Program at Northville High School, there has been early intervention and indeed prevention of student use and abuse of, or dependency on, alcohol and other drugs in many cases.

In school district after school district, as a result of the Student Assistance Program these things have happened: declining drug and alcohol abuse, fewer dropouts, higher grades, functioning families, healthier students, and staff better educated on signs and symptoms.

Most Student Assistance Programs work on four levels: Identification, assessment, support, and referral.

1. Identification: Staff, parents, or students observe behavior that concerns them and report it to the coordinator, who in turn determines which services best meets the needs of the individual student. This process involves other support staff such as teachers, social workers, and counselors.

2. Assessment: To assess an individual student's needs as well as those of the school, family, and community is an ongoing process.

3. Referral: All during the process of intervention the process of support exists for the student and, later, for the family. Groups are formed, for instance, for students returning from treatment; for students who are high risk, including COAs (children of alcoholics); grief and loss groups; just-say-no groups; assessment / education groups for those who need or want further education about the effects of drugs; parents' groups; and others depending on need.

4. Referral: Students and families will be referred to specific services within the program or, when appropriate, to community resources.

The schools working with the community resources help make the Student Assistance Program work. As school begins, it's important that families use services available to them.

Program is eyed

Balok said the first-response team can realistically be at the scene within 5 or 6 minutes of a call. "Our guys are real eager to provide excellent coverage," he said.

An instructor/coordinator for paramedic training, Balok said quick response is important "since it takes a minimum of 6 minutes to suffer brain damage or bleed to death."

"It is vitally important to have prompt emergency care," he added.

Toms said he expects the volunteer unit to make 125 first-response runs per year, provided the program receives board approval.

He said each of the two EMTs on the run will receive $11 per hour. Currently, the township charges $100 for each ambulance run made for an auto accident.

Toms said the bill is sent to either the victim or his/her insurance company. He said he did not know whether $100 would be the charge for the first-responder program.

As for staffing the first-response team, Balok said the township presently has eight EMTs, and he expects the number to rise to 15 by the end of 1990.

Toms, who was recently granted board approval to hire one new firefighter/inspector, said the new employee will be EMT trained.

Since the first-response team will only be providing basic life support, CEMS officials said they welcome the opportunity to work with local police and fire departments.

"When police, fire, and ambulance work together, they usually can put together the best service available," Beauchemin said.

"The optimal system for the money is a first response on the scene at the basic level to guarantee response time follow by advanced life support (ALS)," he added.

In addition to arriving first on the scene, a local medical response team could relieve the police department of having to take an officer off the road in an emergency.

Township Police Chief Ken Hardesty said that currently he sends two cars to a medical emergency. "I also have to pull an officer out of the community to ride to the hospital if assistance is needed," he said.

He added that if the officer has to travel to Botsford Hospital or St. Mary Hospital "then we have to go pick him up and we lose two police cars for a time."

If the first-response program is put into effect, Hardesty said, only one police officer would have to respond to a medical emergency.

Beauchemin said CEMS deploys at least two ALS ambulances to cover the Northville community, Novi, and the City of Plymouth. He added about six BLS systems also cruise the Western Wayne County area.

Beauchemin said however, that CEMS cannot guarantee a certain response time because the ambulances could be at a number of locations during an emergency call.

He noted CEMS responds to about 360 emergency calls per year in Northville Township, of which 15 to 20 percent are life threatening.

"To support one ALS ambulance we need to respond to about 1,300 calls per year," Beauchemin said, adding that is why one ambulance cannot be dedicated to Northville Township.

He said he does not view the first-response program as a threat to his business, but rather as "an attempt to improve the level of service for the community."

Balok said the new service could be invaluable. "This may mean the difference between life and death."

they would prefer home delivery to carry-out service. Thus, they will either order it from one of the pizza establishments in Northville which are allowed to have home delivery, or they will order it from a neighboring city."

Soave added "Thus, the ordinance as it stands now is not likely to result in additional people in the downtown area."

City council members said they will submit the proposed ordinance amendment to the planning commission, which will conduct a public hearing. The city council, however, will be charged with final approval of any such ordinance.

Township-hall offices begin recycling program

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

Citing a need to address the recycling issue, Township Interim Business Manager Richard Henningsen announced an office recycling program recently.

"Everyone needs to start a program along these lines to address recycling," Henningsen said. "We need to diminish the amount of rubbish thrown into landfills."

Through office recycling program, all township employees have been asked to separate their waste paper and place it into colored and white containers.

Henningsen said the collected paper will be sent to a Canton Township refuse center.

"Hopefully, there will be an understanding with the staff to put together a good recycling program," he added.

In addition to the office recycling program, Henningsen said he is looking into beginning a township-wide recycling program, although he said he is currently unable to release any details of a potential program.

Pet shop owner has grand plans to add services

By JEFF HAWKINS

"Lions and tigers and bears — oh my," sang Dorothy in fear during the 1939 film classic, "Wizard of Oz."

But according to Yvonne Jacques, owner of Sunshine Pet Center in Northville, not all animals are as scary as Dorothy describes. In fact, a lot of the smaller and cuter animals carry a nice potential for profit.

"We carry fish, kittens, hamsters and other small animals, small lizards and parakeets," Jacques said.

The most popular, according to Jacques, appear to be the fish and kittens.

"We sell a lot of fish (like piranha and osers) that like to eat other fish," Jacques said. "But our main emphasis is on dry goods such as dog food and aquatic set-ups."

The thing that makes Sunshine Pet Center special is that the store buys all its animals locally.

Jacques contends that it isn't fair to import animals because it infringes on their rights for safety and comfort.

As far as the success of the store, Jacques attributes a confident, knowledgeable staff with starting a trend towards giving the public the kind of service it deserves.

"The Pet Center is serving competitively with a professional staff I think of as trendsetters because they are so knowledgeable," she said.

With such a rare commodity on her side and a strong growing clientele, Jacques remarked that her long-range goal is to open a pet center complete with a veterinary clinic, a groom shop, a pet store that sells dry goods and a kennel, so the owners of an animal can go on vacation and leave their pets in complete care of Jacques' special store.

But that's all in the future because her present concern is with the store she already has.

"The Pet Center is serving competitively with a professional staff I think of as trendsetters because they are so knowledgeable."

— Yvonne Jacques,
Sunshine Pet Center

"It would be nice if I could eventually branch out," Jacques said, dreaming of the day the possibility could become a reality. "But I don't want to spread myself too thin because this store is still growing."

"What I really want is for this store to reach its full potential."

Jacques has been around the pet store industry for over 13 years and has traveled all over the United States in the process.

"The last job I had took me all over, and I learned a lot about the industry," she said. "When the money became available for me to buy a store, I decided to go for it."

And as Jacques walks down her yellow-brick road to her own special Oz, she realizes that along the way she will encounter a Wicked Witch or two.

"I really don't like customers who get irate at my staff or myself," Jacques said. "I sometimes wonder about people like that."

But for the most part, Jacques has enjoyed her days in the area and contends that it's a fine community which appreciates the job she's doing.

Study forecasts auto industry changes

A buyer's market for automobiles through the next decade means the American auto industry will need better service and sales approaches to win customers, according to a University of Michigan forecast.

"Overall, the U.S. market through 2000 is likely to remain a mature market," with more offerings competing for a relatively fixed set of customers, according to the forecast based on interviews with more than 250 auto industry marketing executives.

As a result, manufacturers will be forced to continue reducing costs and improving quality and offer better service to buyers.

Passenger car sales in the United States are expected to grow less than 1 percent per year over the next decade, from 10.1 million in 1990 to 10.9 million in 2000. Light truck sales also will grow slowly during the decade, but faster than passenger car sales.

"Easy sales resulting from rapid industry growth are history," the study concludes. "Future sales will be the result of providing the customer the best perceived value in the most attractively styled and functional package."

The U-M survey is directed by David E. Cole, professor of mechanical engineering and director of the U-M Transportation Research Institute (UMTRI) Office for the Study of Automotive Transportation. It is the fifth in a series of 10-year forecasts based on interviews with executives and engineers at North American auto manufacturers and their suppliers, as well as academics and consultants.

"The Delphi V Forecast and Analysis of the U.S. Automotive Industry Through the Year 2000" examines marketing, technology and materials in the auto industry. David J. Andrea, research associate at UMTRI, wrote the marketing survey report. The technology and materials studies will be issued over the next three months.

The Delphi forecasting technique, developed by the Rand Corp., is based on a confidential survey of knowledgeable experts in policy-making positions.

Prices and quality differentiation of domestic and imported cars are expected to level out in the next decade, meaning that customers will place more emphasis on purchasing and operating costs and on dealer services. Dealerships must be more fully integrated with manufacturers' marketing efforts in order to increase customer satisfaction and build loyalty, according to the U-M study.

Car prices are expected to hold steady for the next decade, after climbing somewhat in the next year or so. The U.S.-produced passenger car that costs $14,000 in 1990 should rise to $15,000 in 1995 and $15,900 in 2000. An imported car that costs $15,000 in 1990 will cost $17,000 in 2000.

Car dealers will become increasingly important players in the competition for buyers. "Products will continue to be judged on price, styling and perceived quality," the report says. "However, the dealer is the company to an individual customer and, thus, a crucial factor in the customer's perception of the product."

Dealers should cultivate more professional sales staffs, provide better diagnostic and repair services, and offer greater convenience to their customers, including longer hours and "loaner" vehicles the U-M study says.

"The manufacturer that operates a dealership network with comprehensive, integrated factory support of sales, service and marketing will promote total customer satisfaction and, with continued product innovation, build customer loyalty."

Some other predictions:

Manufacturers are expected to extend power train warranties up to 10 years or 100,000 miles on some models, and the average total life of passenger cars is expected to climb to 12 years by 2000, from 11 years in 1990. New-car buyers will hold on to their cars for five years on the average, a figure not expected to change over the next decade.

Leasing is expected to become increasingly popular, climbing from 15 percent of new-car sales today to 27 percent in 2000.

Sales of cars with foreign nameplates, including imported cars and vehicles produced in the United States by foreign firms, are forecast to gain market share from 33 percent in 1990 to 36 percent in 2000.

The Big Three are anticipated to lose market share over the decade, declining from 64 percent of passenger car sales in 1990 to 61 percent in 2000.

Gasoline prices are forecast to rise at gradual, predictable rates over the next decade. The panelists expect an increase in the federal gasoline tax, and various states may increase fuel taxes as a way to raise money for better roads or for servicing debt.

Schoolcraft provides help for businesses

When the Business Development Center Procurement Assistance Program at Schoolcraft College worked on getting the United States Army to change its requirements for buying pizza, the results allowed Little Caesar's Corporation to compete more effectively on overseas pizza contracts.

Since the Business Development Center opened its doors in 1985, it has assisted 910 firms in securing 941 government contracts valued at $86,795,629.

Through its efforts, it have also created 789 jobs.

Although there are 20 similar programs around the state, Schoolcraft College is the first and only community college which assists companies in securing government contracts. The college's Business Development Center has been recognized as the state's most productive program by the Michigan Department of Commerce. In the most recent report, the Center provided 25 percent of all contracts awarded by the state. These results have been recognized by the Federal Government and the State of Michigan. As a result, the College's Business Development Center has been rewarded with more dollars in grants than any program in the state.

A number of companies have taken advantage of the customized training offered by the Center, and numerous classes have been designed for firms which want to upgrade employee skills. A customized management training program complete with a training kitchen has been developed for Little Caesar's Corporation.

Qualified unemployed persons will be given training scholarships and be hired by the corporation following successful completion of the program. All internal management staff and franchisees will receive training as well.

Among the many services the Center offers, the procurement staff will also mail or fax information to anyone interested in the services or products the state is planning to purchase. Through this service, the Center can assist hundreds of firms in bidding on State of Michigan contracts that they otherwise would not have been aware of.

The Center recently created a program to assist firms in implementing the new Drug-free Workplace Act. Because this act affects all government contractors, the Center is responsible for training all other state procurement center personnel as well.

Despite its success, the Center is always looking at other ways to expand its services. An export assistance program is in the planning stage. This program should surpass all of its ventures to date. The biggest challenge the Center faces is obtaining the money and space needed to accommodate this growth.

'Financial conflicts' await newlyweds

Don and Jane have been married three months, but they are already facing one of the most divisive conflicts in a marriage — money conflicts.

Don adores extravagance. For his parents' anniversary, Don decided to make a dream come true by buying them tickets to Paris. Jane was furious. Not only did Don take the money from their joint account, but he also ignored the fact that she was already worried about how little money they had in their savings account.

Almost every couple faces some variation of this conflict during the first years of marriage. One reason is that most newlyweds are reluctant to discuss the downright unromantic topic of money management. But, according to the Michigan Association of CPAs, financial planning can help smooth the bumps that often trip up newlyweds. Here, then, are some financial tasks to help you start your marriage on the right foot.

TALK MONEY: Fights over money often stem from differences in lifestyles, personal goals and even family histories. Someone who spent his childhood watching his parents scramble to pay the monthly rent is bound to react to money differently than someone whose parents were able to afford family excursions to Europe.

"The road to a financially sound marriage begins when you sit down with your spouse and discuss your feelings about money. What does money mean to each of you? How comfortable are you dealing with money matters? How much money would make you feel financially secure?"

Don't just talk about how you feel about your finances as they exist today. Talk about your goals. Is saving for retirement important to you? Do you plan to buy a home?

Money Management

Try not to judge your spouse's responses. Now is the time to listen and understand. Once you have a grasp of your differences and similarities concerning money issues, you will be far better equipped to deal with the nitty-gritty details of money management.

AGREE ON GOALS: The next step is to write down your goals. Be as specific as possible. For example, if you want to save for a down payment on a house, agree on the amount as well as time frame. If you cannot settle on a single set of goals, don't force the issue. Instead, list your common goals as well as your individual priorities.

TO MERGE OR NOT TO MERGE: One of the most common questions newlyweds ask is whether or not they should merge their assets into a joint bank account. There is no "right" answer.

While most couples do choose joint accounts, more and more are opting for separate accounts, with each partner taking responsibility for particular expenses. For example, the husband may pay mortgage and utility bills while the wife takes care of all household expenses.

Others choose to set up one joint account for their mutual living expenses, while keeping two other separate accounts for individual use, such as hobby expenses. However, if you do opt for a joint account, consider setting a limit on how much either one of you can withdraw without first consulting the other.

spouse. Such an agreement might have prevented Don and Jane's conflict over his parents' anniversary gift.

WHO DOES THE PAPERWORK? Once you decide how to set up your accounts, decide who should handle the paperwork involved in managing money. Keep in mind that, for some, the task of balancing a checkbook is as appealing as a trip to the dentist.

At the same time, some people actually enjoy reconciling bank statements and credit card bills. The most successful system is one in which spouses share the recordkeeping tasks according to their likes, abilities and schedules.

If one of you tends to be less financially responsible, don't automatically assume that he or she should be totally relieved of any responsibility for financial recordkeeping. Rather, try to work out a compromise. Perhaps, he or she could manage the smaller household bills, while the other handles the mortgage and utility bills.

CREATE A BUDGET: After you agree on a way of handling your accounts, it's time to build a budget. List your monthly and yearly expenses, including such fixed costs as rent or mortgage payments, insurance premiums, automobile and educational loans, utility bills and commuter expenses.

Don't forget to add in the amount you hope to save each month. You should also include estimates of variable expenses, such as those for entertainment and travel. If both of you love to ski, by all means, budget for a few trips — even if that means trimming your expenses in another area. Remember, if your budget is too rigid, you probably won't stick to it.

Next, calculate your combined income, including any dividends or interest payments that you receive on a regular basis. If you cannot meet all your expenses, including your savings goal, it's time to look at your finances — and budget — more realistically.

INSURE YOUR FUTURE: Anticipating tragedy may be the last thing either of you want to do; nevertheless, you must take steps to protect yourselves from the potentially devastating effects of a spouse's death or disability.

First, make sure you have adequate life insurance. Ask yourself how much insurance you need, as well as how much insurance you can afford. While whole life or universal policies enable you to accumulate savings, they cost considerably more than another type of policy — such as term insurance. Second, consider your other insurance needs, such as disability and homeowner's policies.

Third, write your will. By doing so, you can be sure that your assets will be distributed exactly according to your wishes if one or both of you should die.

REVIEW YOUR TAX LIABILITY: Marriage can do strange things to your tax liability, especially if both spouses work. Don't wait until next April to find out what impact your marital status will have on your 1989 taxes. A CPA can help you take steps now to minimize your tax bill. In addition, he or she will be able to answer any other questions you have regarding your financial plans.

Existing home sales maintain strong pace

At the halfway point of 1988, local existing home sales continue to head for the second best year on record, according to a six-month report of Metro MLS, the state's largest multiple listing service.

"June sales of 1,750 single family homes and condominiums brought our 1988 unit sales total to 9,754," said Eric J. Hunt, Metro MLS president. "That's only 335 short of the record 10,089 reached at this juncture in 1978 and 693 above the second best total achieved in 1979."

"With interest rates dropping back a bit in June and a more plentiful supply of homes on the market, our sales showed a 1.4 percent gain from the same month in 1988 and a 2.2 percent year-to-date jump."

He noted that this year's median price, with half selling for more and half for less, shows a $4,000 increase over 1988 and now stands at $75,000. The June median price showed a similar gain coming in at $77,000 compared to $73,000 a year ago.

"The 5.4 percent increase is close to paralleling the rate of inflation and indicates that property values are continuing to protect the investment of the average owner," he stated.

Hunt said the local existing home market also is expected to be strong in the second half of the year if mortgage interest rates stay close to present levels.

"With more jobs in Michigan than ever before and median wages here remaining high, costs of home ownership are affordable for a larger share of our families than in many other areas of the nation," he said. "A strong market will mean continued competition for the best homes available in most areas we cover, even though we expect prices to continue to edge up."

He said the federal government has been slow in recognizing the plight of the first-time buyer trying to save for a downpayment while encountering rising rental costs. He pointed out that Realtors have offered numerous recommendations to ease this situation including establishment of homesaving accounts similar to IRAs or allowing accumulated IRA funds to be used for a first-time home purchase without penalty.

"Unless some action is taken, it will become increasingly difficult for young people across the country to own a home and more difficult for their parents to sell their homes and move up the housing ladder," he declared.

SC Placement Center assists Marriott Hotel

Schoolcraft College's Career Planning and Placement Center will be working with Marriott Hotels in preparation for the September opening of the new Livonia hotel.

Beginning August 18, the college will serve as an employment center for prospective employees. This venture is expected to bring many new jobs to the community.

"This is the first time we have worked with a college to establish our Employment Center," said Mary Ellen Sjöberg, Human Resources Manager of the Livonia Marriott Hotel. "This new program provides a great opportunity to work together and meet our mutual needs."

Schoolcraft College actively assists companies in hiring and training employees. Corporations such as the Novi Hilton, Chi-Chi's Restaurants, the Livonia Holiday, Jacobson's, United Parcel Service, Detroit Edison and Cummins on Time have been consistently successful in working with the Schoolcraft's Career Planning and Placement Center.

To expedite the training and hiring process, a Michigan Employment Security Commission representative is located on campus.

Schoolcraft College is looking forward to an on-going productive relationship with Marriott Hotels. "This is an excellent experience for our staff to learn more about corporate hiring practices and in turn offer assistance to the people in our community," said Dr. Jean Pike, Director of Career Planning and Placement at Schoolcraft.

For further information contact Jean Pike, Career Planning and Placement, at 462-4400, Ext. 5421. Schoolcraft College is located at 18600 Haggerty Road between Six and Seven Mile in Livonia.

BBB warns consumers of 'extra income' ads

The Detroit Better Business Bureau advises consumers to exercise caution when considering responding to advertisements that offer an opportunity to earn extra income by doing work at home, especially those that promise large profits in a short period of time.

"One scheme which continues to generate numerous inquiries to the bureau is 'Enveloping Stuffing.'"

Typically, the scheme operates in the following manner: A company or individual places an advertisement in a newspaper or magazine which claims a person can earn extra income at home by stuffing envelopes.

When an interested person responds to the advertisement, they usually receive a mailing which makes another pitch for the program. The mailing also states that a deposit or application fee ranging from $15 to $50 is required.

What a person is likely to receive for their money, however, is instructions for placing the same advertisement to which they initially responded.

The scheme continues as other persons get involved.

As part of its traditional commitment to promoting honesty in the marketplace, the Better Business Bureau suggests that consumers thoroughly investigate a company's reliability prior to making any type of commitment. You may reach the bureau by contacting 962-7566 or by writing BBB, 150 Michigan Avenue, Detroit, MI 48226.

Learning what's in your credit report

Lurking in the computer of one of the nation's 2,000 credit bureaus is a detailed listing of how much you owe on personal loans and credit cards, how quickly you pay these bills and how many times your payments have been late.

Unfortunately, most of us have no idea what our credit reports say — until it's too late.

Jane, for example, didn't know her credit report erroneously indicated she had defaulted on a student loan until a bank rejected her mortgage application. By the time she corrected the mistake, the house she wanted to buy had already been sold.

To prevent such last-minute credit disasters, the Michigan Association of CPAs suggests you check your credit report periodically. In most cases, your record is probably filed with one of the country's five largest credit bureaus: Trans Union, TRW, Chilton, CBI and Associated Credit Services.

As a general rule, credit bureaus can charge you a reasonable fee (usually $3 to $25) for a copy of your credit report. However, if you have been denied credit on the basis of information supplied by a credit bureau, the creditor must provide the name and address of a credit bureau issuing the report on which it based its decision. You then have 30 days to request a free copy of your report.

Make sure you supply the credit bureau with your full name, telephone number, social security number and the name of the party that denied your credit application. Expect to receive a copy of your report in two or three weeks.

When you receive your credit report, don't panic. The average credit report can be as bewildering to read as hieroglyphics in a dark cave. Nowhere in the report will you find a simple sentence explaining whether or not you are a good credit risk. In fact, a credit report does not issue any judgment on your credit reliability.

Instead, it provides a factual but selective account of your employment and credit history. For instance, the credit report may list an inactive department store charge account and yet make no mention of how you handle your utility bills or your mortgage payments.

What does the report contain? At the heart of the report is your credit history, translated into an elaborate system of number and letter codes. The Trans Union form, for instance, uses approximately 140 different codes to indicate how you have handled debt over the years. On the back of the form, you can find a key to the puzzling codes.

While the format of a credit report will vary between credit bureaus, the information contained is always essentially the same.

Generally, the report will detail the name, number, type and activity of credit cards issued in your name; the amount of time you have had these cards; and the timeliness of your payments; the amount of your credit limits, as well as the amount of your outstanding balances.

Other items that may be found in a credit file include the names of companies that have requested copies of your report as well as notations indicating whether you have been involved in civil suits or bankruptcy proceedings. All of this information is provided to the credit bureau by your creditors or other parties.

Don't let frustration or confusion prevent you from carefully reviewing all items listed in your report. Remember, each credit bureau must maintain millions of records — and mistakes are not as uncommon as you may think.

If you do find an error on your credit report, you should write to the credit bureau immediately. Jane did just this, informing the credit bureau that she had paid off her student loan some seven years earlier. Upon investigating this case, the credit bureau discovered that the issuer of the loan had somehow switched her records with those of another consumer.

When a credit bureau determines a mistake has been made, or if it cannot verify the information in its files, the items in question must be deleted from your credit report.

Occasionally, you may find that a credit report presents certain correct but derogatory information out of context. In such instances, you should mail a concise explanation (approximately 100 words) to the credit bureau summarizing your side of the story.

Let's consider an example. After being denied a new credit card, Paul checked his credit record, which showed he had paid his car loan and credit card bills late for a period of four or five months. While the information was correct, the record did not show that during this same time Paul's wife was undergoing cancer treatments. The late payments were a direct result of the extreme financial and personal stress he suffered at that particular time. At the recommendation of his financial advisor, Paul submitted a letter to the credit bureau explaining the circumstances behind this uncharacteristic period of late payments.

Paul also asked the credit bureau to send this information to any creditors who had denied his applications in the past six months. Two months later, Paul received a credit card that had been denied earlier in the year. Note that Paul's record still shows the period of late payments, but his explanation is now a part of his official record.

How long can a negative statement be kept on your record? If the statement relates to bankruptcy proceedings, it may stay on file for as long as 10 years. Most other records — including those related to criminal convictions, accounts referred to a collection agency and civil suits — are usually held no longer than seven years.

The Michigan Association of CPAs suggests consumers write to the Federal Trade Commission Correspondence Branch, Washington, D.C., 20580, for a copy of the Fair Credit Reporting Act of 1971, which clearly explains their rights related to credit information.

Remember, when it comes to credit reports, what you don't know can hurt you.

Keep accurate record of personal property

The average home contains $40,000 in appliances, furniture and personal items, AAA Michigan reports.

"We recommend that homeowners conduct a personal property inventory to ensure accurate records of belongings," said Richard Robertson, AAA Michigan Homeowners Claims Manager. "Claims can be settled faster if there's a list of missing or damaged items easily available," Robertson added.

Should an insured total loss occur, most homeowners probably could not recall everything that covers the floor, hangs on the walls or sits on a shelf, he added.

"Homeowners would be surprised at the dollar value of their belongings and will find that an inventory is worth the time and effort if a claim is ever filed," said Robertson.

During the first five months of 1989, the typical AAA Michigan Homeowner's fire claim averaged $5,071, while theft claims averaged about $1,048.

For a complete inventory, AAA Michigan advises homeowners to:

- Walk through the entire house, listing contents with a description, brand name, model, color, size, serial number and location of each item.

□ Etch Michigan driver's license number on major items as identification. Electronic etching tools are available at many police stations, insurance agencies and AAA Michigan full service offices.

□ Photograph or videotape items.

□ Retain receipts or other proofs of purchase.

□ Inventory jewelry to determine if insurance sufficiently covers the appraised value.

□ Put one copy of the inventory, including photos, videotapes and receipts, in a fireproof container, such as a safe deposit box, and give another to a family member or friend.

□ Update the list yearly, or when adding items or moving, and obtain appraisals on valuables every three years.

Homeowners looking for help in making an inventory can obtain a copy of "The Other Family Album, Personal Property Inventory," available at AAA Michigan sales offices.

County offers booklet to assist local vendors

Oakland County is increasing its efforts to make vendors more aware of how to do business with Oakland County.

A booklet titled "A Guide to 'Doing Business' with Oakland County" is available from the Oakland County Department of Management and Budget's Purchasing Division. The booklet gives information about purchasing procedures and addresses of participating county divisions.

"The purchasing function is vitally important to all of us in government and to all businesses and citizens who are concerned with the prudent expenditure of public funds," said Oakland County Executive Daniel T. Murphy.

There are several ways a vendor can be eligible to do business with the county:

- The Master Bid List. The list is used by buyers or other county representatives to distribute requests for quotations or requests for proposals on specific commodities or services.

Formal bid lists are maintained by Oakland County Purchasing Division, Oakland County Road Commission and Oakland Schools.

□ Many county agencies use appropriate trade journals to solicit bids and proposals from vendors. Vendors are encouraged to follow these journals for notices about county purchasing needs.

□ Local newspapers also are used to inform businesses about county purchasing opportunities.

For additional information or a copy of the county's purchasing information booklet contact Oakland County Central Purchasing at 858-5011.

'Empty nest' offers financial opportunities

When her youngest daughter moved to a college dorm, Kate was devastated.

For years, her life had focused on her three children. Now, with the house empty, she felt abandoned and useless. Her husband John understood exactly how she felt.

Luckily, a neighbor who had experienced the same "empty nest" phenomenon a few years earlier came to their rescue. She reminded the couple of all the plans they had put on the back burner while they were raising children.

Kate, for example, had always wanted to run a small catering business. And John dreamed of buying a small lakeside home. Within a year, the couple was too busy pursuing these long-postponed goals to focus on the void their children had left behind.

If you are suddenly confronting an "empty nest," the Michigan Association of CPAs suggests you try concentrating on ways to turn the situation to your advantage. With some strategic planning, you may find your empty nest is overflowing with golden eggs.

Transform free time into business income: Do you have a brilliant idea for a small business? If so, this may be the ideal moment to transform your free time into business income. Capitalize on your knowledge, skills and interests. Although the fastest-growing segment of home businesses is computer and word processing, almost any type of service can be operated out of the home — from bridal consultations to investment counseling to gourmet food services.

Besides satisfying your personal ambitions, a small business can reap substantial tax savings — especially if you operate the business out of your home. In most cases, you can deduct a portion of your utility costs and home insurance premiums. What's more, any additional income you earn from the business can help you achieve other personal and financial goals.

To get started, develop a business plan. Your local library can provide hundreds of sources to guide you. In brief, a business plan should describe your product or service, identify competitors and highlight your primary selling advantages. You should also address such issues as space requirements, equipment needs, financing and operating costs. Since some of the preparatory work you need to undertake is rather technical, you may want to consult legal and financial professionals.

Turn an empty room into rental income: Depending on the real estate market in your particular area, you may be able to substantially increase your standard of living by simply renting all or a portion of your home.

For example, you may be able to convert a basement, attic, garage or spare room into a rental apartment. The extra income can help pay off your mortgage, increase your retirement savings or finance a dream vacation. To prevent your tax liability from jumping dramatically, make sure you offset the rental income by such allowable deductions as depreciation, repair and maintenance expenses and insurance costs.

You should also note that taxpayers with an adjusted gross income (AGI) of $100,000 or less can still deduct up to $25,000 in passive net losses, including those associated with a rental property that they actively manage. For owners with AGIs over $100,000, the $25,000 active-rental-loss allowance is reduced by 50 cents for dollar of income. Once an owner's AGI exceeds $150,000, the allowance is totally phased out.

However, if you plan to sell your home and buy a new residence in the near future, CPAs advise you to proceed cautiously. When you sell a home that is partially rented, tax law requires you to treat the sale as if it involved two separate pieces of property. Since you must pay tax on the gain allocated to the rental portion of your house, this provision may result in a stiff tax bill.

Trade down and build up savings: Another way to capitalize on your home is by selling it and trading down to a smaller, less expensive home. Let's look at how this works.

Thirty years ago, Kate and John bought their four-bedroom house for $40,000. When they decided to sell the house, they were surprised to find that its market price had soared to $165,000. Upon conclusion of the sale, the couple realized a profit of $125,000.

Before you start calculating how much tax they had to pay on that profit, consider this — the couple collected the entire amount tax-free. They accomplished this feat by claiming the $125,000 exclusion-of-gain provision available to anyone who is at least age 55 and meets certain ownership and use requirements. A once-in-a-lifetime tax break, this provision enables taxpayers to avoid paying tax on up to $125,000 of the profit realized from selling a principal home.

Before you sell your house, the Michigan Association of CPAs advises you to thoroughly investigate this critical tax break. Used properly, the exclusion-of-gain provision can help you secure a financially sound retirement. Unfortunately, too many taxpayers unwittingly squander the exclusion simply because they failed to get all the facts.

Remember, an empty nest can be a great opportunity. With retirement not too far in the distance, this may be the ideal time for you to start focusing on ways to fortify your own nest egg.

Around the Yard: Gardening

Need bigger, better zucchini?

By Patrick Denton

I have a few timely items of interest to share with my gardening friends today.

Zucchini Super Seeds

Gardeners who routinely save seeds from their open-pollinated flowers and vegetables often tell me that over the years, by carefully selecting seeds produced by the best individual flowers and vegetables from several of the most healthy, vigorous and productive plants of each kind every year, they have been able to improve the beauty and fruitfulness of their gardens.

A tip especially for seed-saving gardeners is to super-pollinate zucchini blooms by brushing the pollen of male flowers onto female flowers. This extra pollination on top of the work done by the bees apparently causes the fruit to form seeds that will grow superyielding plants.

The male flowers are easy to select, as they have longer stems than the females, which bear a bulge (the embryonic fruit) at the bloom base. Simply remove a fresh male flower, pull back its petals and gently rub its center against the center of two or three female blooms.

Try this experiment with open-pollinated varieties only, not with hybrids. And be aware that other squashes within the same species planted nearby will cross-pollinate with a zucchini you want to save seed from. The seed resulting from such a cross will produce a mixed-up plant of varied leaf and fruit shapes.

Other squashes and vining crops that will cross-pollinate with your selected zucchini variety include: acorn squash, crookneck and cocozelle, pumpkins, marrows, spaghetti squash, Delicata (sweet potato squash) and scalloped squash.

Herbes de Provence

One of the small covered dishes kept on the counter above our kitchen range is filled with a treasured gift from a graciously aging aunt. It's a packet of Herbes de Provence, a blend that adds delicious savor and aroma to many dishes. We sprinkle it liberally on meat and fish, add it to eggs and potatoes and serve it on salads and hot buttered French bread.

The ingredients in Herbes de Provence can vary, but the main ones are rosemary, sweet marjoram, thyme and tarragon. Optional additions are basil and fennel, parsley, bay, dill and chives.

The other day, as I was dashing the fragrant French herb mixture onto some veal chops, I considered the eventual replacement of this current blend with a homemade product from the garden. It wouldn't be difficult.

The herbs chosen to grow can be selected according to personal taste. All are easy to grow and dry. And small jars and packets of home-grown Herbes de Provence would be delightful little gifts for friends and relatives on special occasions.

Drying Herbs

I aim for a period of dry, sunny weather for gathering herbs to dry. And to be sure the foliage will be clean, I wash the plants thoroughly with jets of water from the hose the day before. Late in the afternoon, after the sun has dried the dew from the plants, is an ideal time for cutting the stems.

Herbs can be dried in small bunches of one kind hung upside down in a dry, airy place out of direct sun. I use elastic bands to hold the stems together, as they contract with the drying stems. The branches can also be dried on paper arranged on the floor of a dry and airy room or in a food dryer set at temperatures no hotter than 105 degrees Fahrenheit.

Label the gathered herbs, for they can sometimes be difficult to identify once dried. When the foliage is crisp and crumbles easily, it is ready to be stripped off the stems and stored. For maximum flavor retention in dried herbs, store them free from heat and bright light, preferably in glass jars.

Avoid powdering the dried foliage or crushing it finely until it is used, as this will result in some loss of flavor. Avoid also the use of paper bags for storage, as the paper will absorb some of the flavorful oils and reduce the delicious pungency of the herb.

Multiple use decking can expand family's living space

Decks are springing up behind, around sides and in front of homes all through the area.

Whether you construct your own or hire a builder, decks are an addition that will enhance the appearance of the home.

If you want to do it yourself, your local lumber company can help. Not just may you purchase the necessary materials there, but the workers can offer advice, deck plans and, in some cases, will even do the work for you.

But although doing it yourself can mean saving money, the more elaborate your dream deck, the higher the cost: deck materials can run anywhere from $500 — for a very basic, 10-foot by 12-foot deck, to $5,000.

One extremely neat feature offered in this area is computer-generated deck plans. The computer-aided design system, called the Design Center, is available at Timberlane Lumber, 42780 10 Mile, in Novi.

It's a computer-aided design system that can produce a complete deck plan, including a materials list and step-by-step directions as well as a computer-drawn picture of what the finished deck will look like, in about 15 minutes.

And it's free. Assistant Manager Bob Misslitz does note that there is a catch, however. Until the customer decides to purchase the materials, all they get to leave the lumber store with is the picture.

The plans can be customized with certain options, including how high the homeowner wants the deck, whether it will be attached to the house or free-standing, with or without steps, rails, spindles ... to name a few.

"You come in with an idea of what you want, and we go in, turn on the machine and go to work," Misslitz said.

This process is relatively new to lumber companies. This machine, experimented with last year, hit the general market this spring.

Since it is such a new procedure, it still has a few inadequacies: it can only deal with square shapes, for example.

However, come October that flaw will be remedied, Misslitz said, as software becomes available that will work with angles and odd shapes more readily.

Misslitz said that both professional builders and do-it-yourselfers avail themselves of this service.

"It's nice for a builder to come in and get this picture to show customers what he'll actually build," he explained. "And it gives the customer an idea of what it will look like, so if he doesn't like it he can change his mind before he buys all the materials and builds the deck."

Misslitz offers this advice for anyone considering building their own deck: it's not a difficult project.

"Anybody who can swing a hammer and cut a straight line can do it," he said. "The most important thing is to make sure the posts are squared and level. After that, it all just falls into place."

Building your own deck can save between $500 and $1,000 in labor costs over hiring a builder, Misslitz said.

However, he added that the bigger and fancier the deck, adding railing,

Building a home deck is less difficult than one might think, as the Briggs of Green Oak Township found out.

Snug cottage plan uses every inch

By James McAlexander

The Truman 1 is a snug little cottage, with an economy of design that wastes no space inside or out. The Tudor half-timbered theme is continued throughout the arched entry, the domed living room windows and the framing of the garage doors.

Inside, space separation has been maintained despite the small floor plan. A formal entry hall opens left into the living room. The dining area is not divided off but is visually demarcated by the borders of the bay window in the left wall. The kitchen is traditional and hidden from the eating area. A snack bar looking out on the back deck allows easy serving of informal meals.

The largest proportion of space is given to a master suite and two smaller bedrooms to the right of the entry hall. The master suite is compact, but still includes a private bath, vanity and walk-in closet. A second bath serves the other bedrooms and a separate utility area is located in this part of the house for efficient laundry handling.

With all this efficiency, what is missing in the Truman 1 is uncommitted space for work or recreation. A couple or small family could use one of the bedrooms as a den. If that wouldn't work, an easy way to add square footage would be to move the living room wall out a few feet and turn it into a living/family room.

Another option would be to frame in the deck and move the kitchen back, creating a new living/dining area where the kitchen is now. The present living room would then become a spacious family room and no one would have to feel claustrophobic on rainy days.

For a study plan of the Truman 1 (228-81), send $5 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307 CN, Eugene, OR 97402. Be sure to specify plan name and number when ordering.

Keep things simple, safe when children cook at home

By Rena Coyle

Think back to your favorite food memories as a child. They probably come from traditional goodies at family gatherings—your grandmother's best cake or your aunt's delicious apple crunch.

Little did we know while growing up that these baked goods were actually our family signatures. Over the past few years, however, families have been recognizing the sentimental, as well as practical, value of recipes and have begun collecting them into family memorabilia cookbooks.

These family heritage cookbooks have been put together as creatively as the recipe's themselves. Many include photographs of the recipe's masters. It is a wonderful way to look back and savor the memories of these people as well as the occasions.

When starting your own kids out in the kitchen, these favorite family recipes are a great place to start. For the recipes to receive "family status," they undoubtedly will have been repeated and prepared time after time, becoming streamlined in the process. These quick-and-easy methods make them the perfect place to start your kids cooking. Also, the kids will know just how the finished product is supposed to look and taste.

The recipes below are ones that come out of my family's collection. Each time Catelyn and I make them, I can picture in my mind my last family reunion.

Aunt Jane's

Apple Crunch

1 teaspoon butter
¼ cup plus 1 tablespoon flour
1 large apple
½ cup chopped walnuts
1 egg
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla
Vanilla ice cream or milk (optional)

Utensils: Paper towels, pie pan, measuring spoons, measuring cups, cutting board, apple corer, vegetable peeler, utility knife, large mixing bowl, small mixing bowl, mixing spoon, oven mitts, heatproof surface.

Method: Dab paper towel with butter and evenly rub it over bottom and sides of pan. Dust 1 tablespoon flour over pan. Set pan aside. Preheat oven to 350 F.

Place apple on cutting board. Punch apple corer through center of apple and twist out core. Peel apple with peeler. Cut apple in half with utility knife. Place each half flat against cutting board. Cut each half into 4 slices and cut across slices to make medium-size chunks; makes about 1 cup. Put apple pieces into large mixing bowl.

Add walnuts, toss together with apples.

Crack eggs into small mixing bowl. Add sugar, cinnamon, ¼ cup flour, baking powder and vanilla. Pour mixture over apple and nuts, tossing until apple is coated. Don't toss too much, the crust will be crunchier the less the mixture is mixed.

Spread mixture over bottom of pie pan. Put on oven mitts and carefully place pan into oven. Bake for 30 minutes. Then, with the oven mitts on, carefully remove pan from oven and place it on heatproof surface. Let cool for 5 minutes, then break it up with spoon. Put it into bowls. Serve it as is or with vanilla ice cream or with a splash of milk.

Ma Rush's

One-Egg Cake

1 teaspoon plus ¼ cup butter, at room temperature
1 egg
1 tablespoon plus 1½ cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ cup sugar
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Utensils: Paper towels, 8-inch round cake pan, wide wire mesh strainer, 2 large mixing bowls, measuring cups and spoon, electric mixer, rubber scraper, oven mitts, cooling rack.

Method: Dab 1 teaspoon butter with paper towel and rub evenly over bottom and sides of cake pan. Lightly dust with 1 tablespoon flour. Set pan aside and preheat oven to 350 F.

Place a wide mesh strainer in large mixing bowl. Carefully crack and separate eggshell, letting the egg slip into the strainer. The white will slip through the holes and the yolk will remain in the strainer. Pour yolk in small bowl. Set both bowls aside.

Put 1½ cups flour and baking powder in another small bowl and toss together with fork. Set this bowl aside.

Put ¼ cup butter and ½ cup sugar in last mixing bowl. Using electric mixer, blend together until they become smooth and creamy. Add egg yolk and blend.

Add half of flour mixture and blend. Add remaining flour and mix smooth.

Wash beaters of electric mixer. Beat egg white with electric mixer until it becomes white and fluffy. Stop mixer and stir egg white into cake batter with rubber scraper.

Scoop batter into cake pan and, with oven mitts on, place pan into oven. Bake for 25 minutes. Put oven mitts back on and open oven door. Pull cake pan out slightly and check to see if cake sides are no longer attached to side of pan. If they are, push pan back in and continue baking for another 5 minutes.

When baked, turn oven off and carefully remove cake from oven and set it on a cooling rack. After 5 minutes, with your mitts on, turn cake pan over and let cake fall out onto cooling rack. Let cake cool for 10 minutes, then cut into wedges and serve with tall glass of milk.

Pitcher, bowl set came from England

By James G. McGollam

Q: Enclosed is a picture of a pitcher and bowl set that has been handed down in my family. It is marked "F.W. & Co." and "Rd. No. 128153."

Any information you can provide will be appreciated.

A: Your pitcher and bowl set was made by F. Winkle & Co., in Stoke, England. The British registry number indicates that this pattern was registered in 1890.

A dealer would price this at about $225 to $235.

Q: Enclosed is the mark on the bottom of a hand-painted, 10-inch plate. The rim is pierced foliage design. The center has a bouquet of various colored flowers.

What can you tell me about its origin, vintage and value?

A: The mark was used on Crown Derby Porcelain made in Derby by permission of Queen Victoria.

Your plate was made between 1878 and 1891; a dealer would price it from $275 to $325.

Q: Among the things I inherited from my aunt is a large picture of a boy in a blue silk suit. On the back is a label, "Blue Boy by Thomas Gainsborough, R.A."

Can you tell me anything about this? Is it worth insuring?

A: You have a print copied from a famous painting. There have been thousands of these prints produced and they are not considered valuable collectibles.

The value of a print like this depends on its quality, size and condition. I doubt if you need to consider insurance.

Gainsborough was an 18th century portrait artist and painted "The Blue Boy" in 1779.

Q: What can you tell me about a set of six porcelain plates commemorating the Marquis de Lafayette? They were made by Henri D'Arceau & Fils in Limoges, France.

A: This was a series of commemorative plates that never made the grade. They were issued from 1973 to 1975 at from $15 to $20 each. They have not increased in value and have never become popular with collectors.

Q: Please tell me whatever you can about my Mill's Futurity 5-cent slot machine. I am particularly interested in the age and its value.

A: Your choice slot machine was made in the late 1930s and has an unusual feature. If you play 10 nickels without a payout, you get them all back. However, there is usually a small payout before you get to 10. Then you start all over again.

The current market price for this one-armed bandit is in the $2,500 to $3,000 range.

"Louis C. Tiffany's Glass—Bronzes-Lamps" by Robert Koss; Crown Publishers Inc., 225 Park Ave. S., New York, NY 10003; $19.95, plus $2 postage or at your local bookstore.

This is an authoritative reference for all collectors and dealers. It presents the broad scope of Tiffany's work beyond the lamps that most people are familiar with and is lavishly illustrated with dozens of pictures from the original catalogs.

It is interesting to note that a Wisteria lamp that recently sold for over $100,000 was originally priced at $400.

Story by Lisa Felicelli

Becoming a published author has little to do with why a person should write for children, 1980 Newberry Award winner Joan Blos told aspiring children's writers at Borders Book Shop in Novi recently.

The distinguished children's writer, author of A Gathering of Days, joined Katherine Brown Teacien, associate editor at Harper & Row Junior Books Groups, and Ruta Drummond, who purchases children's books at Book Inventory Systems, for a workshop discussion of what makes a children's writer successful.

"I've brought along my Newberry Award just to show you that there is such a thing," said Blos, holding up the medal, "but receiving this was the last reason I began writing for children."

Blos explained that she writes to convey and communicate her ideas to young people, not to be famous and win awards.

She added that writing for children is not harder or easier than writing for adults; it's just different.

"Is a poem easier to write than a novel because it's shorter?" she asked her listeners.

"Any creative activity requires a great amount of time, frustration, effort and enthusiasm. Creating something out of words is very strenuous — it shouldn't be undertaken unless you have something to say."

Her Newberry Award winning book, A Gathering of Days, endured dozens of rewrites over a dozen years before it became the distinguished piece of children's literature that it is today.

"You must say something worthwhile to children, something that rewards them for the attention that they've paid you," Blos said. "As a writer you must always ask yourself, 'How will my words help a child to grow? What will he do with those words?'"

She emphasized that the writer is only the first step in a child's growth through reading.

Teacien, a children's editor at Harper & Row, said she oversees the production of about 16 books per year — from manuscript to the actual bound pages in a bookstore.

"Each book is given enormous care, time and consideration," Teacien said. "We receive over 10,000 manuscripts a year and only sign up those that contain many positives."

She noted that books which encourage creativity, inspiration, history and sensitivity in addition to teaching values most often make her selection list.

"Of course, published authors receive preference," Teacien added. "But we're eager to work with unpublished authors who show promise as well. It's very refreshing to see their enthusiasm and optimism."

Teacien offered a string of suggestions for beginning writers striving to break into the children's book market.

"First of all, the best books come from the author's heart," she emphasized. "And of course, the manuscript should contain developed characterization, a strong plot, a compelling story."

Record/CHRIS BOYD

Our reading mascot's no dummy . . . here he reads a few children's books

Teacien added that fancy packaging and decorative cover letters don't impress editors who are primarily concerned with finding quality work.

Secondly, Teacien suggested that novice writers send their manuscripts to a specific editor, rather than just mailing their work off to a publishing house.

"Editors are listed accordingly in the 'The Literary Market Place,' which contains various aspects of the market in addition to royalties and so forth," she said.

Teacien also recommended that unpublished writers avoid hiring an agent. She explained that an agent is really only beneficial when the author is established and can afford to bicker about bigger advancements.

"One point that's not commonly known is that illustrators and authors don't normally work together," Teacien noted. "While authors see the pictures for their text one way, illustrators may view it another, and if the author intrudes on the illustrator's creative freedom, a poor illustration is usually the result."

Illustrations are often what sell a children's book, Drummond added.

"Fortunately or unfortunately, it's usually the illustrations that determine whether a book will get read or not," she said. "It's a sad fact of life."

Finding a publisher who can match the author with a complementary illustrator — one who demonstrates the same spirit and style of the writer — should be the primary goal after the manuscript is completed, Drummond stated.

"Illustrations are, of course, the first thing that the prospective reader or buyer sees," she said. "If they don't promote interest, the text rarely gets a chance to."

Drummond emphasized that after the author and illustrator have been established, "folded and gathered sheets" help to sell the book. These are rough drafts of what the actual book will look like after it's published, and they give the buyer a clearer idea of what is being offered.

"I can't stress the importance of these sheets enough," Drummond said. "If I don't have at least a preliminary copy of the book, I only have the catalog to look at. And as with clothes, the same product you see in the catalog isn't usually the same product you receive."

All three children's literature professionals emphasized that writers should tailor their stories to specific age groups. These consist of young adult, junior high, chapter books, easy readers, picture books and board books.

She explained that board books are made of cloth and wood . . . they are meant to be chewed on and played with.

"Let's face it. The text isn't that important," Drummond said. "But I do attribute my own child's avid interest in reading to the board books he used to eat as a tiny tot. Apparently, they were delicious."

Volunteers

Stabler indexes Record

By DOROTHY NASH

If you live in the area, you live here by choice — even if you were born here — and you may want to keep the small-town atmosphere of Northville and Novi. But do you know anything about the people who set the pace and maintained it?

You'll be able to find out as soon as volunteers like Jean Stabler complete a Northville Record indexing project, which is being promoted by the Friends of the Northville Public Library.

Using grant money, volunteers have had microfilm tapes made of all existing Record newspapers, dating from issue one in 1869. Then with the use of two micro-copy machines, Stabler said, she and twenty other volunteers have been taking turns in the last eight months for about an hour a week each, reading through the old papers, jotting down the names of people and places and the dates of issue and type columns in which they appear

A library employee then feeds them into a computer in alphabetical order so that when the project is completed, Stabler said, "all of the pages on which a particular name is found" will be available.

Also twice in a year in which they are working, she said, "we pick up the ads so as to know what businesses were in town then."

The project is a long way from completion, she said. "I sign in on the book when I come and look to see where the last person stopped. Then when I'm through, I write down my last Record issue date for the next person to start with."

"It's fascinating work," Stabler commented, "and we could use more volunteers," she added.

Anyone interested should call the library at 349-3020 and ask to be put in touch with Mernie Hines, project organizer.

Menu announced for Victorian Festival Costume Ball

By BRENDA DOOLEY

What a time it promises to be . . . elegant ladies and dapper gentlemen dressed in party finery in celebration of a grand Victorian Costume Ball.

One of the main events of the first Northville Victorian Festival, Sept. 15-17, the ball takes place outdoors beneath a huge tent on Saturday, Sept. 16, from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m. at historic Mill Race Village off Griswold Street.

Tickets are $30 per person, which includes a light supper catered by Edwards Caterer in Northville, two drink tickets for beer or wine, a souvenir ball card (similar to a dance card), entertainment, and an informational packet describing what to wear to the ball as well as guidelines for ballroom etiquette.

The light supper and cocktail buffet is designed to be eaten while standing or seated, according to Edward Postiff of Edwards Caterer. Diners won't necessarily need to use a fork and knife because most of the menu items can be eaten as finger food.

Menu selections include whole roasted turkeys with chutney, sliced and served cold. Two types of mustard and a variety of rolls will be available for garnish for diners who prefer turkey sandwiches. A tasty mushroom-and-potato pie also will be included in the dinner, sliced and served warm.

Other dinner foods will be mini gougeres, a type of cheese puff hollow in the middle and filled with balsamic onions — red onions that have been sauteed in vinegar, turning them richer in color — vegetable croudites and dips, and miniature muffins filled with corn relish.

Dessert will consist of a tiered strawberry Bavarian cake, appropriately named "Queen Victoria's Celebration Cake," served with house coffee from Edwards Caterer.

Postiff also plans to coordinate decorations for the festive tent. Supper buffets will be set up on both sides of the tent, which will include a dance floor in the center. The band will be seated behind the dance floor, according to Postiff.

Strands of twinkling miniature white Christmas lights will be strung inside and outside the tent to add a sparkling, magical touch to the evening. Flowers also will adorn the dancing and eating areas, provided by IV Seasons Flowers and Gifts in Northville.

In addition, colorful ribbons in hues of purple, red, gold, and black will be strung from the tent to enhance a festive atmosphere.

Tables will be provided for seating, set with white votive candles. A cash bar served by MacKinnon's Restaurant will also be available at the ball.

The authentic 12-piece orchestra will be led by Cathy Stephens, a Victorian prompter. Stephens is a dance teacher and performer from London, Ontario. She specializes in historic dance, with emphasis on 19th century and early 20th century dance techniques. She is also director of Pleasant Moments Vintage Dancers.

Festival organizers recommend that anyone planning to attend the ball take part in afternoon dance workshops hosted by Stephens.

The informational workshops will be held at 1 and 4 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 16, at Mill Race Village. At the workshop, participants will learn how to master dance steps such as the prelude waltz, the quadrille, the Viennese waltz, and a country dance, among others.

Those interested in attending the ball must make reservations by calling the Northville Chamber of Commerce at 349-7640 or Edwards Caterer at 344-1550. Reservations are limited.

Stylists at Margo's of Northville are specializing in Victorian hairstyles appropriate for the ball. Also, information about costumes to wear to the event is available at the Northville Public Library.

Guess who's coming to dinner?

Friends of the Northville Public Library will host its sixth annual benefit dinner on Monday, Sept. 25 at 7 p.m.

Members are inviting a special guest to speak to participating diners. But they can't divulge the name of the speaker just yet.

This popular event is the group's main fund-raiser of the year and will be hosted by Toni and John Genitti at their Hole-in-the-Wall Restaurant in downtown Northville.

Dinner will consist of Genitti's famous seven-course Italian meal.

Although the speaker's name must remain a mystery for now, we can tell you it will be a well-known sports journalist. Is your interest piqued?

Tickets are $20 per person and will be available to members of Friends of the Northville Public Library first. The tickets will then be available to the general public on a first-come, first-served basis.

Reservations are limited. Interested participants may sign up for reservations on a list at the library desk. For more information call Geraldine Mills at 349-1648.

Marquis announces auditions for play

Officials at Northville's Marquis Theater announce that there will be open auditions for children and adults to perform in their holiday show, "Cinderella."

Those auditioning for parts must commit themselves to weekly daytime performances. Actors and actresses will be paid for these positions.

Interested auditioners must have a song prepared in their own key — an accompanist will be provided. They also must be dressed for basic dance movements. The acting portion of the audition will consist of cold readings from the script, an original adaptation.

Non-singing roles are also available.

Children's auditions will be held Sept. 9 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Adult auditions will be held Sept. 11 from 7 to 10 p.m. All auditions take place at the Marquis Theater, 135 E. Main St. in downtown Northville.

On Sept. 13, qualified actors and actresses will be called back for follow-up auditions.

For more information call 349-8110.

Mothers' Club seeks bridge players

Northville Mothers' Club is looking for residents who enjoy playing bridge.

The club needs couples to play Marathon Bridge, which meets on the second Friday of each month. The Mothers' Club also needs one couple to play in the Ladies Night Bridge Group.

For more information call Helen McKee at 349-2287.

New play to open at Marquis Theater

"The Foreigner," a comedy by Larry Shue, will be performed at the Marquis Theater.

The play involves the story of a refined, introverted British accountant who is brought to a small town in Georgia to relax and forget his troubles. He then meets an unlikely group of people, and the story progresses from there.

A champagne opening for "The Foreigner" will be held Friday, Sept. 8, beginning at 8 p.m. Tickets are $9 per person for the opening. Other performance dates are Sept. 9, 10, 15, 16, 17, 22, 23, and 24.

Friday performances are at 8 p.m., with tickets priced at $9. Saturday performances are at 8 p.m., with tickets priced at $10. Sunday performances begin at 2:30 p.m., with tickets priced at $9.

Tickets can be purchased in advance by credit card by calling 349-8110. They also may be purchased at the door or from the Marquis stores, 135 E. Main St., Northville.

Garden club offers praise

The Country Girls Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association would like to commend the City of Northville, Northville Township, the businesses, schools, physicians' offices, multiple dwelling units, public buildings, and private homes for the outstanding job they are doing in keeping Northville colorful and flowering.

"There seems to be a real effort in the community to add beauty and charm to the streets and buildings, parks and city entrances. It is a community to be proud of. Keep up the good work," remarked Judy Beyersdorf and Pat Eden, both members of the Country Girls Garden Club.

"Thank you for the nominations for 'Garden of the Month.' We may not be able to use the garden you nominated this year, but we will definitely keep the nominations for next year," Beyersdorf and Eden continued.

Tickets for Les Miserables sold

Looking for an exciting night on the town? Northville Community Recreation Department is selling tickets for the Sept. 12 performance of "Les Miserables" at the Fisher Theater. Forty tickets are available at a cost of $42.50 per person.

The tickets are for seats in row "M" through row "Q," right center, on the main floor. They will be available for sale anytime Monday through Friday between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. For more information call 349-0203.

Volunteers sought for making sachets

Beginning Tuesday, Sept. 5, volunteers will be needed to help make sachets for the Northville Victorian Festival.

Volunteers will begin working at 1 p.m. and continue until 4:30 p.m., if needed.

If interested in volunteering, contact the Northville Senior Center at 349-4140.

Plans made for local senior festival

Local seniors are invited to participate in the Northville and Plymouth Senior Fest at Hines Park, an event that will take the place of regularly scheduled monthly potluck dinner in September.

Scheduled activities include food, prizes and entertainment. Transportation will be available from the Northville Downs parking lot. More information will be available in the September senior citizens newsletter, or after Sept. 4.

Victorian accessories

Not sure what to accessorize your Victorian costume with? Here are a few suggestions . . . Above, black hand-crocheted gloves, a thin striped men's tie, a gold cloak clasp, a pink and black decorative pin and ruby pendant necklace all would add Victorian flavor to any ensemble. These items are available at Morrison's Antiques, 105 E. Main St. in Northville. Ladies' fans in many shapes and sizes, parasols and ankle-high boots, at far left, also would be appropriate accessories representative of the era. Men searching for Victorian flair may find it suitable to carry a fancy wooden cane decorated with an ivory ram's head, at left.

Garden of the Month August

Local gardeners receive high praise

By JUDY BEYERSDORF and PAT EDEN

Many of the flowers and shrubs in Marlene and Jack Harrigan's yard are gifts from friends. Divisions planted and carefully tended have multiplied to provide an oasis of flower and herb beds.

A back hill in their Baintree Court home is planted with evergreens, pines, and perennials to provide a camouflage of Six Mile Road. The tall pines were planted from seedlings provided by Northville Township.

Marlene says her perennial garden was inspired by her desire to look out her kitchen window and see something blooming all season long.

Red barberry shrubs gracefully lead up to their lovely home, and tulips and later annuals provide color as foreground to the green shrubs that surround the house.

Being friends to Greenfield Village, Marlene and Jack copied the formal walking vegetable garden in a corner of their pie-shaped lot. Outlined with gold marigolds, the fall garden is planted with pumpkin, gourds, cabbage, and zucchini. Yellow marigolds skirt a right-angle corner garden of Italian tomatoes, onions, radishes, beans, and broccoli.

Another garden consists of raspberry bushes and strawberry plants. Lush green pathways provide a pleasant walk through to view or tend the gardens.

Many ornamental and fruit trees are scattered about the yard. The back hill has multiple bulb plants and perennials, spreading mums and creeping yews. A focal point off to the side consists of tall red cannas and scarlet coleus on the back of the hill.

Marlene says they mulch every two years with shredded bark and apply preem after rototilling in early spring to control weeds. They are not afraid to move things and have transplanted most of the plants in their yard. This year rabbits and a hedgehog have played havoc with their vegetable garden.

Marilyn Meyer, who lives next door, recommended the Harrigan's garden as it is obvious by the carefully groomed yard that they both have a love affair with their garden and work together to harmonize and blend their canvas of vegetation.

The following plants and shrubs make up their garden: trumpet vine, coral bells, chrysanthemums, daylilies, hostas, iris, lupine, peonies, shasta daisies, yarrow, yucca, bachelor buttons, marigolds, labelia, geraniums, evening primrose, black-eyed Susans, sedum, viola, dwarf iris, crocus, galanthus (snow drop), anemone, grape hyacinth, tulips, daffodils, hyacinths (white, pink, and blue), colchicum, Dutch iris, basil, sage, lemon balm.

Judy Beyersdorf and Pat Eden are members of the Country Girl's Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association. Each month they select a local garden to feature in the Record as "Garden of the Month."

Local couples exchange wedding vows

HEATHER and MARK VERMETTE

Heather MacDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce MacDonald of Northville, exchanged wedding vows with Mark Anthony Vermette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Vermette of Cochenour, Ontario, on Friday, June 2.

The double-ring, candlelight ceremony was held at the Martha Mary Chapel at Greenfield Village in Dearborn, the Rev. James Russell officiating.

Highlights of the 8 p.m. wedding ceremony included a solo performed by John Merrifield.

The bride wore an ivory satin gown with a bodice of beaded Alencon lace. Her skirt and chapel-length train also were accented with appliques of beaded lace. She wore a floor-length train attached to a Juliette cap of beaded Alencon lace. She carried a cascading bouquet of shades of lilies, freesia, and roses in chills of ivory, peach, and coral, highlighted with English ivy.

Maid of honor was Kim MacDonald, sister of the bride.

LIBBY and PAUL SMITH

Libby Ann Dietrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Dietrich of Milford, was wed to Paul Ernest Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phil E. Smith of Northville, on Nov. 5, 1988.

The Dietrichs are former Northville residents.

"We were showered with blessings on one of the rainiest days in Michigan history," Abby Smith said.

The double-ring ceremony was held at the Shrine Chapel-Our Lady of Orchard Lake, Father John G. Budde of Our Lady of Victory Church in Northville officiating.

Highlights of the ceremony included a solo of "Perhaps Love" by Jane Sweet, sister of the bride. Friends of the bride and groom, including Sally Flyer of Northville, Tim Johnson of Northville, Tish Johnson of Chicago, and Joe Hoffman of Northville, played the guitar and sang.

The bride wore a gown of ivory silk taffeta and lace. The long-sleeved gown had a boat neck with a cathedral train and a cathedral-length veil. Her flowers were specially arranged by Burdette Chapman, a friend of both of the families. She carried a bouquet of all-white roses and baby's breath, accented with greenery.

Maid of honor was Tracey Dietrich of Howell, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Anne Doyle of Tempe, Ariz.; Darlene Zuby of Farmington; Terri Shepherd of Washington, D.C.; Amanda Kaminski of Northville; and Traci Pulte of Royal Oak.

The bride's attendants wore dark green iridescent gowns of taffeta. They carried dried flowers, including peach roses, baby's breath, and eucalyptus.

Flower girl was Gina Sweet, niece of the bride. Ring bearer was Jonathon Smith, nephew of the groom.

Ushers were Clark Couyoumjian of Northville; Jeff Bidwell of Northville; Tim Berwick of Northville; John Tatge of Warren; and Scott Dayton of St. Louis.

A reception followed the wedding at Vladimir's in Farmington Hills. The celebration was attended by about 300 guests. Out-of-town guests traveled from Italy, California, and Tennessee.

The couple honeymooned in Charleston and Kiawan Island in South Carolina.

The bride is a 1982 graduate of Northville High School and a 1986 graduate of the University of Michigan. She is employed by BBDO Advertising in Southfield as a media planner.

The bridegroom is a 1982 graduate of Northville High School and a graduate of Lawrence Technological University. He is employed by Kelsey Hayes as a product engineer.

The couple resides in Plymouth.

Heidi Megdan of Crestview Circle in Northville won a director's chair for the high-point pony award. She also took five first-place ribbons, plus a second, fourth, and seventh on her pony, Paunee River.

Wendi Trexler of Northville finished her last year of 4-H participation by accumulating points for the reserve high-point ribbon. She also won the James A. Cunliffe Memorial trophy for senior girls horsemanship. In addition, Trexler won trophies in the youth division for her planter, hanging basket, and freezer jam.

Other club members showing at the fair included Brent Dominick on his horse, First Opinion; Kara Dominick on Tuff to Pass; and Kay Bulmon on Easy Jet Wings. The club's top contesting members were Brandon Tews on Ace High Supreme and Holly Schwarz on Missy.

In other fair competitions, Kay Bulmon won the grand and reserve champion awards for her sheep. Karl VanNoord won a trophy in the youth home economics division for her Arabian costume.

Nicole Wendel was a protege student under Wendi Trexler, using Trexler's horse, Kamib's Chalawalee. The pair received a trophy for this project and Wendel won ribbons for her horse notebook, "Grooming and Showmanship and Protege Pattern."

Four Seasons 4-H Horse Club members participated in the Northville Fourth of July Parade, where they placed first in the equine division.

Group to host picnic

It's the perfect time of year for a picnic.

With that thought in mind, members of First Place will host a "light and lively" picnic at 7 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 27 on the terrace in the back of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

Special entertainment will be provided by Deborah Lanham, a contemporary Christian singer. She sang with the group Promise and has also recorded an album.

Menu selections include hot dogs and corn on the cob. A $3 donation is requested for picnic-goers.

In case of rain, the picnic will be moved inside to the fellowship hall.

Local church plans meeting

The First Baptist Church of Northville announces the first meeting of the season for the Pioneer Girls and Christian Service Brigade for girls and boys in kindergarten through sixth grade.

The initial meeting for both groups will be at 7 p.m. Sept. 13. The First Baptist Church of Northville is located at 217 N. Wing.

Daily Games have been a major factor in the success of the Michigan Lottery since 1977. As a result, many readers have expressed interest in learning more about them.

Q. When Did These Games Start In Michigan?

A. The Daily 3 Game began on July 6, 1977 and the Daily 4 on October 4, 1981.

Q. Are There A Lot Of Winners?

A. Both games have thousands of winners on each of the six weekly drawing nights. There have been more than 15 million winners in the Daily 3 for example. Over one million of these occurred during the first nine months of the current fiscal year.

Q. How Much Can Be Won?

A. A single wager in the Daily 3 can win up to $500 depending on whether the wager is straight, boxed or a combination. The Daily 4 has a $5,000 top prize. Of course, players holding a number of tickets with the winning number collect duplicate prizes.

Q. How Do I Collect If I Win?

A. Retailers selling these games can pay all prizes up to $600 immediately after the drawings are completed at 7:30 each night. Larger amounts can be collected Monday through Friday at any Lottery regional office.

Q. If Players Get Lucky, Couldn't The Prize Total Be More Than The Amount Played?

A. Yes. Between the two Daily Games, this has happened about 48 times in each of the last several years. The Lottery pays the full amount no matter how much is won.

Q. What's Been The Record Payout So Far?

A. On June 10, 1986 the Daily 3 paid out $4,965,980 on the number 123. This was equal to 489 percent of the amount played that day.

Q. What's The Daily 4 Record?

A. On October 15, 1986 the Daily 4 number 1028 awarded $2,757,908 or 668 percent of the amount played.

Q. What Numbers Can I Play?

A. In the Daily 3 any number from 000 to 999 and in the Daily 4 any number from 0000 to 9999. You can also play an "Easy Pick" in which the Lottery computer makes a random number selection for you.

Q. Can I See The Drawings?

A. Live Daily 3 and 4 drawings are now telecast on a nine-station TV network on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday at 7:29 p.m. and the results are announced on Wednesday during the Super Lotto drawing. On Saturday nights, the Daily 3 and 4 drawings are conducted live during the Fame & Fortune show between 7:30 and 8:00 p.m. The live drawings are also heard on 11 radio stations around the state.

Q. The Drawing Equipment Looks New. Is It?

A. New Daily game drawing machines, similar to those used for Zinger drawings, were introduced on July 24, 1989. This permits live drawings of both the Daily 3 and 4 to be seen and heard in the one minute time slot formerly used by the Daily 3 drawing.

For submitting the first question leading to this column, Theresa Nowomb of Roseville will receive 50 "Fame & Fortune" tickets. Note: When duplicate questions are received that with the earliest date stamp upon arrival at Lottery Central wins. In case of a tie, the winner is selected by random drawing.

If you have a question not yet covered in these monthly columns, send it to: Winners Circle, Michigan Lottery, P.O. Box 180777, Lansing, MI 48909.

Victorian village

Lake Erie's Put-in-Bay offers summertime fun

By DARRELL CLEM

Looking for an island getaway with Victorian charm?

The Victorian village of Put-in-Bay, located on Lake Erie north of Sandusky, Ohio, draws throngs of people each summer for relaxation and fun.

Whether you want to fish, visit caves, wine and dine, golf, view historic sites, shop, dock your boat overnight, ride ferries, or take an island train tour, Put-in-Bay may have what you want.

Located on South Bass Island — one of the largest of 25 islands that dot the western basin of Lake Erie — Put-in-Bay is home to about 400 people. Yet the island, which is about 90 miles southeast of Detroit, draws "hundreds of thousands" of tourists each summer, said Fran LoPresti, a spokesperson for the Put-in-Bay Chamber of Commerce.

With no bridge to the mainland, travelers visiting Put-in-Bay must travel by airplane, ferry, excursion boat or private boat.

In the winter, the three-square-mile island is limited to such activities as ice fishing and one restaurant, LoPresti said. But Put-in-Bay springs to life from late April to October.

Perhaps the island's most visible attraction is the Perry International Peace Memorial — a 300-foot-tall structure that offers an elevator for a view from the top. The memorial got its name from Oliver Hazard Perry, who scored a victory over a British fleet in the War of 1812 and gave Americans control of Lake Erie.

According to an island publication, the victory "helped persuade the British to cease hostilities and enabled the United States to claim the Northwest at the peace talks in Ghent a year later."

LoPresti said the island also offers a multitude of other sites, including Crystal Cave, Heinemann's Winery, the Ohio State Fish Hatchery, and Delaware Avenue — a strip offering such attractions as a nautical shop, clothing shops and, as LoPresti put it, "a lot of food and bars."

Put-in-Bay officials suggest that, for a day's visit, tourists do not take their vehicles via the Miller Boat Line, which travels about every half-hour between Put-in-Bay nearby

Catawba on the mainland. That's because bicycles, golf carts, cabs, and dock buses are available for getting around on the island.

There also is another boat line — the Put-in-Bay Boat Line — that does not carry automobiles to the island.

Those who prefer not to arrive by ferry may choose Island Airlines, located on East State Road about three miles east of downtown Port Clinton, Ohio, according to tourist information.

LoPresti said the costs for the various types of transportation are rather inexpensive — as low as $3.50 per person (or $6.50 for a car) for the Miller Boat Line.

Those wishing to stay overnight may choose such places as various motels, cottages, campgrounds, bed-and-breakfast inns, and the Old Victorian Park Hotel. Most accommodations cost $50 to $80 a night, LoPresti said.

Other visitors, however, drive their private boats to the island and pay 85 cents per foot of boat to dock overnight. Still others take advantage of group tours.

LoPresti said that anyone seeking more information about Put-in-Bay may call the chamber of commerce at (419) 285-2832.

Potter, Mardossian excel during off-season

Assistant coach Bob Boshoven (right) hopes to take over for Jack Townsley (left), who retired from coaching

Record/CHRIS BOYD

Northville grapplers still need head coach

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Northville wrestling program has moved from an also-ran to a legitimate contender in the WLAA the past few years, and performers like Garnett Potter and Brandon Mardossian can take a lot of the credit for the transformation.

Last winter, the Mustangs cruised to a 14-4 dual-meet record and the program's first-ever WLAA Western Division crown. And despite losing wrestlers like Mike Hale and Andy Frey to graduation, Northville has enough returning standouts to make a run at the conference crown in 1990.

Put if all Mustang returnees showed the kind of off-season dedication that Potter and Mardossian have this summer, Northville would probably be a legitimate state title contender.

"They have both been involved in quite a few tournaments this summer, and I'm sure the experience will make them even more outstanding when the high school season gets underway," Mustang Coach Bob Boshoven said.

It's been a very impressive summer of wrestling for Potter, who will be a senior this year. As an 11th grader, he had a fine 28-12 record and was a state meet qualifier. This summer, Potter managed to qualify for the United States Wrestling Federation Junior National Tournament earlier this month, among other accomplishments.

Mardossian recently returned from Canada, where they participated in an exhibition match as members of the Michigan Wrestling Club.

The freestyle club offers open wrestling competition at three sites in the area: Eastern Michigan University, Schoolcraft College, and Hazel Park High School. On Aug. 11, the squad traveled to London, Ontario to take on an espoir (20-and-under age division) team warming up for the Canada Games, which is similar to the United States Olympic Festival.

At age 17, Potter is technically still a junior (18-and-under) age group competitor. Mardossian — who had a fine 27-10 record last season as a sophomore — is only 15, which would put him in the cadet (16-and-under) age group. Nevertheless, the two ended up facing some of the top espoir competitors in the entire country of Canada.

Potter, entered in the 74-kilogram division (163 pounds), dropped his only match of the exhibition to Canada's number-two-rated espoir wrestler. In the 57-kilogram division (125 pounds), Mardossian fell 15-0 to the current runner-up to the Canadian espoir title, but he was wrestling up two age divisions.

"Every time these guys went out and competed this summer, it helped to make them better wrestlers," Boshoven said. "It should pay big dividends for them this winter."

COACHING POSITION STILL OPEN: With Jack Townsley's retirement from coaching, the Northville wrestling squad still needs a head coach. As Townsley's top assistant the past few years, Bob Boshoven is one of the leading candidates — and maybe the only candidate — for the position.

"I haven't actually put my formal application in yet, but I plan to do that very soon," Boshoven said. "I do know that no current teachers in the school district have applied. I told them that I was interested, but I haven't put it in writing. I don't know if they even need it in writing."

Northville Athletic Director Dennis Colligan said filling the wrestling position is high on his priority list, and admits that Boshoven is a leading candidate. The whole situation indicates that his naming may be nothing more than a formality.

"We haven't interviewed yet for the position, but I plan on having that task as one of the first things to do this fall," Colligan said. "I know Bob is interested, and he's a good candidate. He should be very high on the list."

Runner takes life one 'Step' at a time

By JEFF HAWKINS

Northville resident Randy Step has proven that no matter how difficult the task, if you work hard and want something bad enough, there's no race that can't be won.

While studying mortuary science at Michigan State University, Step's attitude toward running was nothing more than something that had to be done when he was late for an exam.

"I actually started running kind of late," Step remembered. "I didn't start until the middle of my sophomore year."

Then, his desire to run increased dramatically, and before he knew it, Step was competing against some of Michigan's top runners.

Step's first race was the Belle Isle 5 Kilometer race, and he instantly became infatuated with the sport.

"After that first race, I became addicted for life," he said. "I knew that's what I wanted to do." But there was a small problem. His family wanted him to continue working as a funeral director. Step, however, had other aspirations.

"I remember that I was told I'd be a millionaire if I spent as much time working as I did with that running stuff," Step laughed.

"In February of '81, my wife, Kathy, and I competed in the Ironman Triathlon (a competition that requires the athlete to swim, bike ride, and run), and we did quite well for not training full time," Step said. "So for the next Ironman, we decided to train more, and I took a leave of absence from work."

"The race happened in October of 1982 and ABC covered it for 'Wide World of Sports.' That was the race Julie Moss crawled to the finish line and really helped give the competition an audience," Step said.

"She added drama that helped make the audience come around," Step added. "We didn't place as good in '82 as we did in '81, but we improved our time."

"That's what really counts."

Over the years, the Steps have participated in approximately 50 different triathlon events. According to Randy, Kathy was, at one time, the best locally.

In addition, the Steps toured the United States to participate in marathons in places like New York, San Francisco, Boston, and many more.

But now they have a new race to run. With the birth of children, Trevor and Anna, the couple's priorities have gladly changed to suit the children.

Along with being a runner, husband, and father, Step also is a very successful businessperson.

While owning five different stores in the Novi and Ann Arbor areas, Step's pace seems to quicken considering he also dabbles in various community running events throughout the summer.

Step's Running Fit, Fitness Source, and Ann Arbor's Top Floor Sports stores him busy running from store to store, checking the business side of his fast-paced world.

"I'm doing okay," Step said. "Fitness Source sells everything available today in quality gym equipment."

And, as if that isn't enough, Step picks up his heels and heads the Redford Roadrunners, a 150-member club of "very active members." The Roadrunners host, along with a variety of other community runs, the Roadrunner Classic, Michigan Trail Marathon, and the Free Press training run.

For all of his efforts, Step was recently rewarded with the distinction of being voted "Runner of the Year" by the subscribers of Michigan Runner magazine.

Step's pace is definitely a demanding run through life. But according to Step, it's the only way to go.

Northville hoopster competes at World Youth tournament

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

With a state title in the Pepsi/NBA HotShot basketball competition last winter, Northville's Karen Pump established herself as one of the top shooters in the country among girls aged 13 to 15.

This summer, Pump went a step further. As a member of the Michigan Great Lakers — an entry in the first-annual World Youth Basketball Festival in Milwaukee from July 30 through Aug. 7 — Pump proved she's a solid all-around player and team contributor.

"It was lots of fun," she said. "It was pretty much what I expected. All the players were very good — especially the Russians."

The festival included 41 teams from 17 countries in four different divisions: boys 19 and under, girls 19 and under, boys 16 and under, and girls 16 and under. The Lakers were one of eight squads in the 16-and-under girls division that included teams from Wisconsin, England, Italy, Russia, and Arizona.

Pump, at age 14 — was one of the youngest members of the eight-player Great Lakers squad. The team was coached by Jan Sander, who is the girls varsity coach from Warren Woods High School. The squad was based in Mount Clemens, with most of the players coming from Macomb and Oakland Counties.

"I think (the tournament) made me a better player," Pump said. "I'm used to playing against girls who are older than I am. I decided to try out for the team because it sounded like fun, and I thought it would be a good opportunity to improve. The traveling was neat, too."

With heavy graduation losses — including stars like Debbie Stevens, Karen Baird, and Heather Sixt — a number of starting positions on the 1989 Northville girls basketball squad should be available. Even though she is only a sophomore, Pump will be on the varsity squad this fall and may challenge for a starting spot.

The 5-foot-7 Pump saw plenty of action at both forward and guard positions in Milwaukee and helped lead the team to a 3-2 record and a fourth-place finish overall.

"I thought I did pretty well," Pump said. "We only had eight players, so we had a rotation system and everybody got a chance to play in all the games."

In the first two tournament games, the Great Lakers registered victories over the Wisconsin Vikings (Red) from Eau Claire and a team from Rome, Italy, called Auxilium Testaccio. The Vikings White team then handed the squad its first defeat on Aug. 2.

A win over OGRW Dragons of Wales on Aug. 4 put the Great Lakers into the consolation finals, but they fell to the Lady Spartans of Milwaukee in the third-place game.

"I'm going to try and play for the (Great Lakers) again next season when I'll be 15," Pump admitted. "It will be held in Milwaukee again, and I think it's worthwhile."

All the tournament games were played on the campus of the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

"The idea for the Milwaukee World Youth Basketball Festival is the result of Sports Tours' involvement in literally hundreds of organized and disorganized basketball events in most countries in the world," said Lee Frederick, President of Sports Tours International, the tournament sponsor. "Our goal has been to create — from the best of those elements — an annual, world-class event where young people can compete, make friends, and share their concerns for a better world."

Pump made the trek to Milwaukee, looking to improve her basketball skills. She returned to Northville having achieved much more than that.

Former Novi star heads east to work on his pitching form

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

It always seems to work for the Kennedys. The months leading up to — and including — the 1989 college baseball season were not the best of times for former Novi High School pitching great Jeff Tanderys.

So the former Wildcat ace and University of Michigan hurler packed his bags and went to Cape Cod for the summer.

Within the past 12 months, the fireballing righthander had suffered a nagging shoulder injury, lost his spot in the starting rotation at the University of Michigan and saw his earned run average soar to nearly 5.00.

To make matters worse, the Wolverine program has been under investigation by the Big Ten for recruiting violations and probation seems likely. Coach Bud Middaugh — the man who recruited Tanderys — resigned in July amid the investigation and former Tiger Bill Freehan was eventually named as the replacement.

The trip to New England didn't solve all the problems, but it did give Tanderys a chance to get away. At the same time, it allowed him to continue playing ball against top-notch competition. The Cape Cod Summer League is designed for collegiate players hoping to catch the eyes of the major league scouts.

He signed a non-professional contract with the Wareham (Mass.) Gateman, one of 10-teams in the league, based in a small city on Cape Cod. He arrived in Wareham on June 27 and the 50-day, 44-game season got under way soon after that.

"I started the season as a reliever, but the starting pitchers were so dominating, I didn't get many opportunities to throw," he said.

In an early outing, Tanderys earned a save, striking out five of the six batters he faced. It looked like he had recovered from a lackluster spring season, but after two full weeks of play, he had made only a few pitching appearances.

Soon after that, however, Tanderys got the break he needed. Three of the top five starting pitchers went down with injuries, so Tanderys moved into the rotation. He had four quality starts the rest of the season, and despite going 0-2 with two no-decisions, it was a rewarding summer.

"I lost one game 2-1 and another 3-2," Tanderys said. "At times I had control problems. But, overall, I pitched well.

"I felt playing in Cape Cod this summer was the starting point for the 1990 season. It gives me some momentum, and if I have a good season next spring, I may get drafted again."

Tanderys was drafted by the Detroit Tigers out of high school but chose to attend U-M on an full-ride athletic scholarship. A collegiate player must complete his junior season to be eligible for the major league draft, and Tanderys is preparing to start his third season in Ann Arbor.

To get that opportunity, however, he needs to have a stellar campaign next spring. A shoulder injury, suffered in the fall of '88, led to a late start the following spring. Tanderys still managed to nail down the fourth spot in the Wolverines' starting rotation when the season got under way. His first outing was a win over Northwestern, but poor weather caused him to miss his next start against Minnesota. Then came a poor performance against the University of Detroit that turned out to be his last.

"I was disappointed because I had one bad outing and I was yanked out of the rotation and never got another chance," he said.

Being neighborly

By Neil Geoghegan

Having a good relationship with your neighbors can be very valuable. If you need to borrow a cup of sugar, or you need somebody to gather your mail while your on vacation, a good neighbor is always there.

Neighboring communities, or even school districts, can also help each other out of binds — but nowadays, it seems to happen less and less. That's why it's refreshing to see that this kind of give-and-take attitude is still alive in Novi and Northville, especially between school administrators.

Novi High School and Northville High School are located less than two miles apart, and that's a short distance for two schools not even in the same district. It offers the two a unique opportunity to help each other out from time to time, especially when it comes to athletic facilities. It appears they are taking advantage of the situation, and that makes a lot of sense.

A prime example is happening right now. The Novi pool has been in the process of receiving a major renovation this summer, and it isn't expected to be finished for a few more weeks. With the girls' swim season approaching, Novi Athletic Director John Fundukian called his Northville counterpart Dennis Colligan for help, and he got it.

"Northville has been kind enough to let us use their pool until the work is completed on our pool," Fundukian reported. "Hopefully, it will be done in a couple weeks."

It's not the first time these two neighboring schools have helped each other out when it comes to the use of athletic facilities. Back during the 1985-86 school year, while the Northville gymnasium was undergoing a renovation, the Mustang girls basketball squad practiced at Novi that season.

"We've been stuck before and (Novi's) helped us, so we didn't hesitate at all when they needed help," Colligan said. "There is a very open, friendly, relationship between administrators in Novi and here — John (Fundukian) and I get along very well."

As the host city of the National Amateur Baseball Federation (NABF) Sophomore and Junior World Series, Northville always needs an extra field to play numerous consolation-bracket games each summer, and Novi is always glad to oblige. These are just a few examples of an understanding that benefits both communities.

"It's a nice reciprocal arrangement — we would do the same for Northville if they were in a similar situation," Fundukian said. "It's very nice of them to help us out."

That's what good neighbors are for.

Meadowbrook hosts 'Babe' outing

The Oakland County Unit of the American Cancer Society will sponsor its 14th annual Babe Zaharias Golf Invitational on Aug. 28 at Northville's Meadowbrook Country Club.

The "Babe" is comprised of 20 country-club players who have raised $885,165 for the American Cancer Society (ACS) since 1976. Winners of the tournament will be eligible to play in the ACS Golf Championship state playoffs Sept. 9-10 at Boyne in Harbor Springs. The winner of that tourney is eligible to go to the national level.

For more information, call 557-5353.

HOLE-IN-ONE CONTEST: Golfers will be in full swing in the fight against the nation's number one crippling disease — arthritis. The hole-in-one event, held at Tri-Kor Golf and in Plymouth on Aug. 28-30, will feature a grand prize: a 1989 Corvette.

Qualifying rounds will be held Aug.

28 and 29, with the top 40 golfers closest to the hole advancing to the finals, which get underway Aug. 30 at 4 p.m.

Tri-Kor is located at 5994 Gotfredson Road in Plymouth. For more information, contact Barbara at 350-3030.

KENSINGTON CHAMPIONSHIP: Kensington Golf Course, 2240 W. Buno Road, will be hosting the Kensington Championship for golfers who want to get into the swing of things.

The tournament is open to the public, has small entry fees, and is ideal for the person who has never entered a tournament before.

"Our objective in sponsoring these types of tournaments is to offer the golfing public a well-run tournament using PGA rules at a low cost," said Doug Curry, tournament director. "Our tournaments are designed to challenge veterans and first-time tournament players alike. Our tournament formats allow for players with a wide range of skill levels to have a successful and enjoyable tournament experience."

Entry fee is $2, and awards are modest. Trophies will be given out, along with free greens fees certificates.

"We require USGA handicaps in our tournaments because it allows us to give all skill level players an opportunity to be successful," Curry said. "We also believe that establishing and using a USGA handicap makes the game more enjoyable."

The Kensington Championship will be played on Sept. 24. Qualifying rounds for the tournament will be played on Sept. 9-10, and the best 24 rounds on these two days will qualify for the finals.

Entry deadline for the Open is Aug. 27.

The tournament will be played according to schedule unless inclement weather forces postponement to the following week.

Shopping guide helps you eat right

Some of the most important steps toward staying healthy and reducing risk of heart disease are taken behind the grocery cart.

Eating right is a major part of being healthy, but confusing nutritional information and the ever-increasing array of processed foods available makes it difficult to know what is in your food and what you should be eating.

The "Food for Fitness Grocery Shopping Guide" just published by the University of Michigan MedSport Program makes choosing the right foods easy.

MedSport's nutrition experts have done the label reading for you, and have compiled an aisle-by-aisle, product-by-product evaluation of the fat, fiber, and sodium content of common packaged foods.

The 223-page guide rates beverages, dairy products, fats and oils, frozen foods, grains, meats, prepared mixes, soups, snacks, and more. A quick glance shows which products are acceptable as part of a healthy diet and which items should be avoided. The easy-to-read format makes it simple to find healthier alternatives for foods that fall in the "avoid" column.

One advantage of the guide is that it frees shoppers from memorizing the latest, often confusing information about good fats and bad fats. Since the authors already have calculated important fat and nutrient information, shoppers can simply rely on the charts to select healthier items. However, the book also provides clear, simple explanations of the risks and benefits associated with different types of dietary fat.

Because the guide can't cover every brand name available, it also provides basic tips for translating label information. For example, the guide:

- Explains the importance of the total fat calories in a serving of food and how to calculate that percentage.

The 'Food For Fitness Grocery Shopping Guide' may be purchased by mail and in some bookstores

- Explains why a product labeled 80 percent fat-free can have a deceptively high percentage of fat calories.

- Provides tips for reducing fat calories and cholesterol in the preparation of food mixes and dishes made with eggs.

- Clarifies the difference between "low sodium" and "reduced sodium."

- Identifies products that are especially high in sodium or simple sugars

The guide was created by registered dietitian Nelda Mercer and Carl Orringer, M.D., medical director of the preventive cardiology and cardiac rehabilitation program at MedSport. A satellite clinic of the U-M Medical Center in Ann Arbor, MedSport provides a broad range of services in sports medicine, corporate health promotion, preventive cardiology, and cardiac rehabilitation.

Initially the guide was developed as an educational resource for patients who suffered from heart disease, high cholesterol, and high blood pressure, but it proved to be so helpful that it has been updated and reprinted for the public.

Many studies have shown that diets high in saturated fat and cholesterol predispose people to heart disease, obesity, and certain types of cancer. On the other hand, low-fat, high-fiber diets reduce blood cholesterol and blood pressure and lower blood sugar levels in people with diabetes. Along with regular exercise and not smoking, eating right is one of the best ways to prevent illness, said Orringer, a clinical assistant professor of internal medicine at the U-M Medical School.

The "Food For Fitness Grocery Shopping Guide" may be purchased by mail and in some bookstores. To obtain copies, you may call (313) 998-7400 or send your name, address, and a check or money order for $14.95 per copy to MedSport, University of Michigan Medical Center, P.O. Box 1023, Ann Arbor, Mich., 48106. Please include $2 shipping and handling for the first book ordered and 50 cents for each additional guide.

Fitness Tips

Eat ethnic foods without abandoning diet

By SYLVA DVORAK, M.S.

One pleasure of eating is trying new and different cuisine. You can eat ethnic foods without getting off your "diet;" you may just need to be a little more cautious.

If you are on a special diet, ask questions. This is important if you are trying to avoid high fat, high cholesterol, and high-sodium food. Remember, restaurants are there to serve you. However, if experimenting with new foods has you worried, read on.

CHINESE

- Skip soups and noodles. They are high in fat and sodium.
- Choose dishes that are boiled, steamed, or lightly stir-fried in vegetable oil. Avoid sautéed food.
- Ask for soy on the side.
- High cholesterol dishes: egg foo yong and dishes made with lobster sauce.
- Hunan- and Szechuan-style food, if fried, is high in calories.
- Avoid all deep-fried dishes.
- Enjoy steamed rice.

FRENCH

- Avoid French onion soup. It is high in salt and calories.
- Be very cautious of sauces. Best choices are French wine sauces (bordelaise). "Nouvelle" eliminates the flour but may contain cream, egg yolks, butter, and lots of calories.
- Ask about the sauce used; possibly order it on the side.

- Avoid "au gratin" dishes, which come with cheese and, often, butter toppings.
- A good rule is "keep it simple" — like salads with dressing on the side with steamed mussels.

GREEK

- Seek dishes made with olive oil.
- Some suggestions: izatyiki, an appetizer made with cucumbers and yogurt; pita bread; and Greek salads — feta cheese is lower in fat than hard cheeses but high in sodium.
- Stick with fish dishes. Planks or shish kabob are also good choices.
- Many Greek dishes use lamb, which has more saturated fat than beef.
- Phyllo dough used in some dishes and desserts is very high in fat.
- Anchovies and olives are also very high in sodium.

INDIAN

- Indian food is generally low in saturated fat, cholesterol, and calories due to creative use of spices and yogurt-based sauces.
- Good choices: tandoori chicken and fish dishes.
- Ask for margarine to be used instead of butter.
- Vegetables are an important part of Indian meals and are often served with rice.
- Lentils (or dal) are high in protein and fiber and low in fat.
- Try breads like dry pulkas, unleavened wheat bread; or naan without butter.

ITALIAN

- Pastas are a good choice for low-fat diets as long as they are not filled with cheese or fatty meat and are not mixed with butter or cream sauces.
- Good pasta choice: linguine with white or red clam sauce, pasta primavera, and simply prepared chicken and fish.
- Acceptable sauces: marinara made without meat.
- Consider ordering the appetizer as an entree; it's often large enough to fill you up.
- Italian ices are an excellent dessert.

JAPANESE

- Often high in sodium, but acceptable for those on low-fat diets.
- Good choices: pickled vegetables, sushi (raw fish) or sushi (raw fish and rice), nakemono, Japanese casseroles, chicken teriyaki, menurin, and dishes with tofu.
- "Yakimono" means broiled.
- Be careful of deep-fried dishes like tempura and of high-sodium soups and sauces.
- Rice makes a good accompaniment to your Japanese dishes.

MEXICAN

- Tortillas made with corn and baked, rather than fried, are better than flour tortillas made with lard and fried.
- Good choices: tomato, onion, and avocado salads; serviche (fish); shrimp or chicken tostados on a non-fried cornmeal tortilla; rice and beans instead of beef.

- Forget beans cooked in lard.
- Ask for cheese and sour cream garnishes to be served on the side.

MIDDLE EASTERN

- Often rely greatly on meat but rely as much on vegetables, grains, and spices.
- Good choices: midyadolma, mussels stuffed with rice pie nuts and currants; yalanje yaprak, grape leaves with similar stuffing; and bayildi, baked eggplant stuffed with vegetables.
- Couscous, bulgar, rice, and pickled vegetables are very tasty accompaniments.
- Ask that all visible fat be trimmed from your meat before cooking.
- An authentic dessert would be melons or grapes.

Once again the key to enjoying ethnic eating is asking the right questions and knowing the choices you need to make.

Bon Appetit!

Frisbie plans to run for USAFA

Northville's 1988 "Athlete of the Year" recipient is now planning on showcasing his athletic abilities at the United States Air Force Academy (USAFA) in Colorado Springs.

John Frisbie — regarded as the top distance runner to wear a Mustang uniform — was appointed to the USAFA in March of '89 and reported to basic training in June. Frisbie received the Certificate of Appointment from Lt. Gen. Weyand during ceremonies at Valley Forge Military Junior College. The appointment represents the equivalent of a full four-year scholarship.

Just prior to graduating from high school in 1988, Frisbie received a Falcon Foundation Scholarship to attend Valley Forge near Philadelphia in preparation for a 1989 appointment. While there, he led the Valley Forge cross-country squad to a winning season (5-3) and a second-place finish in conference play. In addition, Frisbie set a new school record (27:52) in the 8K run and placed first in the "Radnor Run" during the '88 campaign. He also participated on the Valley Forge Ranger Challenge Team that won the Pennsylvania State Championship and placed third nationally.

With a 3.8 grade point average, Frisbie graduated from Valley Forge in the top 10 percent of his class. In competition with 16,000 other students, Frisbie was one of only 1,400 selectees to the Air Force Academy, Class of 1993. The academy educates, trains, motivates, and prepares young men and women for leadership roles as U.S. Air Force officers. Graduates earn a bachelor-of-science degree in one or more of 25 academic majors. Upon graduation, Frisbie will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the Air Force.

After reporting to basic training, Frisbie scored very high on a physical-fitness test and plans to run cross country for the academy this fall. He is nearing the end of the seven-week basic cadet training program, which precedes the start of academics.

While at Northville, Frisbie was a star in cross country, track, and wrestling. In cross country, he was named the team's Most Valuable Performer two years in a row, and was an All-Conference, All-Region, and All-State selection as a senior. He was a 15-time medalist in cross country races, was a 1986 USA / TAC All-American and placed third in the Class A State Meet.

In track, Frisbie was a team captain and earned most-improved and most-valuable honors in '87 and '88 respectively. He was a state-meet qualifier his senior season in the two-mile run.

In wrestling, he was also a team captain and a four-year varsity competitor.

BORICS WILL GIVE YOU A NEW REASON TO SMILE.

BECAUSE YOU'LL LIKE THE WAY YOU LOOK

In fact, we guarantee you'll like it. For just $6, our trained professionals will give you a quality haircut. They'll wet down your hair with a special cutting solution, cut it the way you want and blow it dry.

Clean hair is necessary for accurate hair cutting. You can shampoo your hair on the day of your visit, or, for a small charge, we'll shampoo it for you. Because, at BoRics, you pay only for the services you need.

You can't beat BoRics for convenience, either. No appointments are necessary. Just walk into one of our convenient locations Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., or Saturday 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.*

Don't settle for the uninteresting styles of a barbershop or the high prices of a beauty salon. Stop into BoRics and let us give you a new reason to smile, too.
