L'ner will not enter mayoral race, seeks council seat

By DARRELL CLEM

G. Dewey Gardner will not seek the Northville mayoral seat, leaving Mayor Christopher Johnson as the sole announced candidate for the two-year post

Gardner said that, instead, he will seek a four-year term on the city council Gardner was a council member for 10 years until he resign-

In other political developments, council member John Buckland said he will not seek a second four-year council term

It was a tough decision," he said But Buckland said he must spend a lot of time traveling for his textbooks business, and "the time pressure" of ed two years ago in an unsuccessful mounting an election campaign would be too much.

Buckland said he plans to support Gardner in the Nov. 7 election, when Northville voters will elect a mayor and two city-council members.

'He is a very good man for the job," Buckland said of Gardner.

Although Johnson thus far faces no opponents in his bid for a second term as mayor, Gardner will have opposition from at least two candidates for the two council seats at

The other two announced council candidates are Jerry Mittman, who was elected to the council two years ago upon Gardner's resignation, and Northville businessperson Mark McManus, who is seeking his first elective political office

1990 budget needs changes

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

The 1990 preliminary township budget received by the board of trustees last Thursday includes a deficit of over $60,000.

'This is a good starting point, and it's up to us to iron out the edges and to approve or disapprove of the requests of our department heads," said Township Treasurer and Interim Business Manager Richard Henningsen.

Township Supervisor Georgina Goss, who did not attend the meeting, said under state law Northville must present a budget which is balanced in its final form.

Goss said the preliminary budget will now be sent to the finance committee, which will make recommendations for revisions to the township

She said she plans to nominate Henningsen, Township Trustee Don Williams and residents Richard Hauser, Frank St. Louis and Rick Engelland to the finance committee.

Board members will act on Goss' nominations at their Sept. 14

Goss said the preliminary budget is a type of "wish list" and noted the final budget will be balanced.

Township Finance Director James Graham said under state law he had to submit a preliminary budget to the township board by Sept. 1. He added a final budget for 1990 must be approved by Nov. 1.

Under the 1990 preliminary budget, the township is slated to spend $1,848,869 and collect $1,724,797 in revenue. The 1989 final fund balance projection is $64,043 - leaving just over $60,000 to be cut out for a perfectly balanced budget.

Graham said business experts usually recommend a target of about 5 to 10 percent of a municipality's total budget to be left at the end of a

In addition to receiving the preliminary budget, township board members also held a truth-intaxation public hearing.

No residents spoke at the hearing, which considered raising the township's tax rate by 1.776 mills to about 4.567 total mills.

Graham said the rate increase is due to the passage of a two-mill police levy by township voters last November. He added the township board may act on the millage in-the Northville Township Board of Trustees unanimously approved a first-response medical coverage progam last Thursday.

Township okays medical program

"This presents no risk to our current situation," said board member James Nowka. "This programs seems like a natural extension of our fire department."

Township medical personnel said earler they were responding only to car accidents, while Community Emergency Medical Service (CEMS) provides advanced-support response to all medical emergencies.

Under the new program, two oncall emergency medical technicians (EMTs) from the township will respond to medical calls and provide basic life support until an advancedsupport ambulance arrives from

Guy Balok, a volunteer township firefighter and part-time police dispatcher, said the local first-response team will take vital signs and stabilize patients, and will provide oxygen if needed.

Township Fire Chief Robert Toms indicated the fee schedule for each medical run will be about $22. He added the township will charge $100 per transport patients if needed. He said CEMS will continue to act as the primary patient transport. Since the first-response team will Township Treasurer and Interim Business Manager Richard Henningsen said the first-response program "will not be a money maker, but it won't cost much.

"This program will cost us money. but we owe it to our residents since we have competent people who are trained in this field," he said.

CEMS President Greg Beauchemin said the averaage response time in the township for CEMS emergency runs is between six and eight minutes.

He added CEMS deploys at least two advanced life-support ambulances to cover the Northville community, Novi and Plymouth. Beauchemin said about six basic lifesupport systems also cruise the western Wayne County area.

Balok said the township presently has eight EMTs and added he expects the number to rise to 15 by the end of 1990.

He noted the new service can be invaluable: "This may mean the difference between life and death." In other business, board members also approved the township's purchase of a used Horton ambulance. Toms said the township will trade its wide-body ambulance to Halt Fire Equipment for the used Horton. The township will also pay Halt Fire $5,500. Toms said the move will give the township its second aluminum-body ambulance "and it will give us an opportunity to upgrade our equipment."

He explained that the new ambulance has a modular body, which can be removed when the vehicle's chassis need upgrading.

City officials optimistic about Cady Street redevelopment project study

By DARRELL CLEM

City officials appear optimistic that tangible results will emerge from the Cady Street redevelopment study, despite lingering questions about some aspects of the proposed

"I think things are moving along fairly quickly now," Mayor Christopher Johnson said Tuesday. The Downtown Development Authority, charged with overseeing the plan, has met in two recent sessions as talks have intensified on the project, which will become part of the city's long-term master plan. The mayor is chairperson of the DDA.

Planners have spent months drafting proposals for the section of Cady east of Center Street. City Manager Steven Walters said Tuesday that the DDA is expected to have a final draft ready to present to the Northville City Council in four to six months.

Walters said the goal is to have most of the planning wrapped up before Christmas — a move that would come as a welcome gift to those who have spent months on the

Walters said city officials such as he and the mayor have had more time to devote to the Cady Street project now that the city has completed its final draft for the redevelopment of the closed Ford plant here.

Now that the Ford study is essentially complete, Walters termed the Cady Street project "the top priori-

Questions about how to fund the Cady redevelopment project are yet to be addressed. However, officials note that an ambitious plan to develop the area with retail shops and parking decks will undoubtedly be costly.

Johnson said officials have studied various plans detailing where retail shops and parking decks would be located and that "it's now a matter of choosing one" plan.

None of the options would require zoning changes, he said, because each would be compatible with existing zoning regulations in the Central Business District.

Much recent discussion has focused on the parking issue. Some city officials have voiced concerns that many downtown employees use a large chunk of parking spaces that could, otherwise, accommodate more shoppers.

DDA Member G. Dewey Gardner is among those who said the final draft of a Cady Street plan is expected to try to resolve some of the parking issues.

Pizza carrier robbed at hotel

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

A Domino's Pizza employee was robbed at knife-point Friday, Sept. 1 shortly after 8:35 p.m. outside the Hampton Inn on the corner of Eight Mile and Haggerty roads.

Northville Township Police Capt. Phil Presnell said the robbery appears to have occurred as a result of Presnell said an adult caller telephoned Domino's Pizza on Ten Mile Road at Meadowbrook and ordered a pizza to be delivered to the Hampton Inn.

The delivery person took the pizza to a room at the end of the hall on the first floor and was told by the room occupant that he did not order a pizza, Presnell said.

"The delivery (person) walked out of the hotel and got back into her car, and a ... person jumped in and robbed her at knife-point," Presnell said. He added he could not divulge the amount of money the robber got.

The victim described the suspect as a black male in his early 20s, about 6 feet tall and 180 pounds. He was reported to be wearing a red baseball cap and a blue jogging outfit.

PLANT SALE SET — The Town Square Park at the downtown bandshell will become a sort of outdoor greenhouse this weekend with a special sale of potted plants

Del Black of the Downtown Merchants Association said that Eric Smith, whose family first organized the Eastern Market Flower Show, will sell plants by the bandshell Friday and Saturday. The sale will include such indoor plants as ferns and hardy mums, Black said.

The sale will start about 9 a.m Friday and Saturday. It will run to 9 p.m. Friday and to 5 or 6 p.m. Saturday

MANAGER INTERVIEWS — Township Supervisor Georgina Goss said a five-member selection committee will begin interviewing candidates for the township manager position tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 p.m. in the township hall meeting room.

PTA CALENDAR AVAILABLE — The popular Northville PTA

Coordinating Council Calendar has been published again this year. This is the fifth year the calendar has been compiled by PTA members as a service to the community. It contains community and school meeting dates, lists school personnel telephone numbers, and includes dates on which classes will not be in session.

The calendar also features students' artwork.

The volunteer time to typeset the calendar by Cheryl Byerly allowed it to continue to be published at $3.

The calendar is available at school open houses and at each school office through September. Supplies are limited.

RESIDENT APPOINTED - Northville resident Nancy Adadow Gray has been reappointed to the state Mental Health Advisory Council.

Adadow Gray is director of the Family Counseling Program, Community Mental Health Services of the Arab Community Center for Economic and Social Services in Dearborn. She will serve a term expiring Oct. 30, 1990.

Others reappointed to the council were Betty Wilder Smith of Holt, Elizabeth Kent of Detroit, and Eloise Whitten of Detroit. New appointments to the council were Jamil Kheder of Plymouth and Louis Martin of Gladstone.

DRIVER TRAINING - Northville schools announce fall registration for driver education begins Monday, Sept. 11. Applications will be available in the high school office for students who are 15 years old by the start of classes Oct. 2. Completed applications are due at Northville High by Friday, Sept. 22.

COOLING OFF - To improve Northville Township Hall's heating and cooling system, township board members voted Thursday, Aug. 31 to accept the low bid of $24,700 by W. J. O'Neill Co.

"I've noticed an imbalance, and we'll probably save some money on the air-conditioning and heating bills," said Township Treasurer and Interim Business Manager Richard Henningsen.
"We're going to bring an outdated heating-and-cooling system up to date," Henningsen added.

The accepted bid was the lower of two bids, with the second bid by Temperature Engineering Corp. at $28,200.

GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY RETURNS - The Northville Genealogical Society will resume meetings at Mill Race Village's New School Church at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 14.

Joy L. Koenig will speak on "The Latter Day Saints Library in Salt Lake City." Anyone interested in tracing their family tree is welcome to attend.

Work starts on MainCentre

By DARRELL CLEM

For those who have to see it to believe it, now's the time The first indication of work at the site of what will become the MainCentre complex in downtown Northville is apparent

Construction crews last week drove up in heavy equipment, and developers set up shop in a temporary office on Center Street

Workers shifted huge chunks of dirt around the site as they began installing underground utilities for the four-story complex of retail shops and apartments that will be located at the intersection of Main and Center streets

An official – though somewhat ten-tative – groundbreaking for the nearly $6-million project has been scheduled for Oct. 5, although a starting time has not been decided, said Mike Kahm, vice president of MainCentre's developer, the Birmingham-based Singh Develop-

Kahm has said the project should be virtually complete by the end of next year, although some finishing touches may continue into early 1991.

The initial work at the site came several weeks behind schedule due to project delays, but Kahm said construction is expected to proceed steadily now Once the underground utilities are completed, the next step will be to build the structure's foun-

Singh officials had hoped to have groundbreaking ceremonies earlier this summer. But several delays forced them to postpone the ceremonies.

Moreover, Kahm said the company did not want to have the formal groundbreaking in mid-September because it would have interfered with the community's first-ever Victorian Festival.

Despite plans to move ahead with construction, Kahm said that Singh officials still have to work out some details with the city in terms of a parking deck that will be built on the south side of Cady Street. The parking deck and the complex will be connected by an elevated pedestrian walkway

Kahm said the parking deck is primarily a city job, but he added that Singh is sharing the cost and that some details remain to be resolved.

Kahm said the parking deck probably will be three levels - capable of accommodating about 360

Record/CHRIS BOYD

In other developments, Kahm said that Singh has tentative agreements with a custom jeweler and two ap parel shops which would like to be tenants Kahm also said that Singh officials have talked with representatives from two restaurants, although he declined to name them.

Utility work on MainCentre is now underway

The first floor of the complex will contain retail shops and a restaurant; the upper floors will house luxury apartments

The victim said the subject did not y anything and continued to drive around the court, and then left the area. She described the subject as an older black male with unknown clothing and bushy hair He was driving a brown, four-door Cadillac

CARS RECOVERED - Twe vehicles stolen from McDonald Ford last month were found out of town recently, Northville police reported.

· A vehicle stolen sometime between 12:30 p m Sunday, Aug. 27, and 8 a m Monday, Aug 28, was later found by Detroit police.

The vehicle - a 1988 Ford van valued at $20,000 - was stolen by a suspect who Detroit police expected to charge in the incident.

• A 1988 Ford Mustang that had been stolen from McDonald Ford earlier in August was recovered by Redford police on Wednesday, Aug.

The car had been completed stripped There were no suspects.

PHONE, CAMCORDER STOLEN A car phone worth $500 and a video camcorder worth $900 were stolen from a car parked at Meijer Friday, Aug 25 between 9:15 p.m. and 11:10

The victim said he parked at Meijer and went in to shop. Upon returning, he found the items missing. Inside the door was a device used to unlock the car.

CAR DAMAGE - About $250 damage was done to a 1989 Thunderbird parked on Northville Road Aug.

The victim said someone broke the rear window of his car, which was parked in the northeast section of the lot with the window facing the railroad tracks.

The victim said he believes the suspect stood on the railroad tracks and threw rocks on the car.

CAR ROBBED — Items worth over

Tracer parked at the Highland Lakes Clubhouse on Silver Springs Drive Saturday, Aug. 26 between 3 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

The victim said he parked his car in the lot while he worked. He said he left the windows partially down and returned to find a $180 radar detector and $50 rear-view mirror stolen.

PARTS STOLEN - Car parts worth almost $500 were stolen from a 1981 Mercury Lynx parked on Ladywood Saturday, Aug. 26 between 2:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

The victim said someone opened up the hood of his car and stole the plastic grille, headlight cover, and one turn signal. He said the car was locked during the incident.

GENERATOR STOLEN - A generator worth $395 was stolen from a 1989 GMC Pickup parked on Country Knoll Drive and Village Run Drive Friday, Aug.25 between 9 a.m. and 11:45 a.m.

The victim said someone took the generator from the back cab of his unlocked pickup.

The victim said someone removed his hubcaps worth $100 and three windshield wipers also worth a total

APARTMENT ROBBED - $200 worth of merchandise was stolen from an apartment on Silver Springs Drive Saturday, Aug. 26.
The victim said she went to bed at midnight and awoke at 4:15 a.m. to find her jewelery box and purse missing. She reported finding that glass and screen doorwalls had been removed from their track.

Some of the stolen items include a $10 purse, $110 gold watch with diamond chips, $25 in cash, $25 worth of credit cards, and a $15 jewelery box.

MEIJER THEFT ATTEMPTED -A Detroit resident and a Chicago resident were arrested for larceny at Meijer Thursday, Aug. 24 after allegedly trying to steal over $390 worth of merchandise.

Store detectives told township police they observed the subjects place some women's and children's shoes inside their purses.

Store detectives said one of the subjects then put several dresses in an infant's bag. The two subjects then reportedly left the store without paying for the items.

Police said the subjects were charged with larceny and released on bonds of $61 and $100. They both face a Sept. 28 court date.

HOSPITAL WALKAWAY - A patient of the Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital (NRPH) was recovered by township police Saturday, Aug. 26 after walking away earlier in the day.

Police said they found the subject in the 41000 block of Seven Mile Road and held the patient until hospital security arrived and transported him

BREAK-IN ATTEMPTED - A complainant told city police that someone tried to break into Redford sometime between 1 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 26, and 6 a.m. Tuesday, Aug. 29. Police reported that someone used some type of object to try to gain entry to the building, but failed. Police indicated that the incident may be related to a break-in that was earlier reported at Allen Monuments, in the same building.

The case is still under investiga-

SCHOOL THEFT - A computer disk drive and various computer equipment valued at $400 was reported stolen sometime between June 1 and August 21 from Our Lady of Victory School on Orchard Drive.

The equipment was reported stolen from the school library.

RADAR DETECTOR STOLEN -A radar detector valued at $100 was reported stolen from a vehicle parked in the 900 block of Novi Road, city police reported.

Police said the windshield of the vehicle was smashed during the incident that occurred sometime between 6 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 31, and 8:15 a.m. Friday, Sept. 1.

DRUNK DRIVING ROUNDUP -At least two people were cited by police for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor (OUIL)

· A Plymouth resident was arrested for OUIL at 12:45 a.m. Sunday, Aug. 27 on Five Mile and Haggerty roads. Township police said they saw the driver going 60 mph in a 45 mph zone on Five Mile. The driver registered a blood alcohol level of .17 percent. In Michigan, .10 is OUIL. The driver was charged with drunk driving, held in jail, and released on personal bond. He faces a Sept. 28

• In Northville city, a Novi man was cited for OUIL on Aug. 30 after his vehicle was seen weaving on Eight Mile Road and Center Street about 1:14 a.m. Police said the driver of the vehicle — after turning from Eight Mile onto Center — continued to weave and slowed to a speed of about 15 mph to 17 mph. The driver's blood alcohol level was reported at .22 percent.

FENDER-BENDERS - At least four automobile accidents were reported by township police over the past week. They included: · A three-car accident at 9:42 p.m. Monday, Aug. 28 at 9:42 p.m on Eight Mile Road and Haggerty. Police said one car was trying to turn from Eight Mile into the Meijer parking lot, but slid on wet pavement into another car leaving the lot. The first car bounced away and struck a third car. The first driver was ticketed for driving too fast for conditions.

A three-car accident at 1:32 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 27 on Lanthorn Drive and Eight Mile Road. Police said one car ran into the back of another waiting to turn from Eight Mile to Lanthorn, shoving that car into a third. The driver of the first car was ticketed for failing to stop within an assured clear distance ahead.

 A two-car accident at 5:35 p.m. Friday, Aug. 25 on Six Mile Road and Winchester. Police said one car rearended another which was on Six Mile waiting to turn left onto Winchester. The driver was ticketed for failing to stop within an assured clear distance ahead.

In the city, meanwhile, several accidents also were reported, including:

 A vehicle attempting to turn left onto Eight Mile from northbound Novi Road apparently failed to yield. striking a westbound Eight Mile motorist. Northville police cited the driver for failing to yield as a result of the incident that occurred at 3:45 p.m. Monday, Aug. 28.

 A motorist attempting a left turn onto Novi Road from eastbound Eight Mile struck a vehicle headed westbound on Eight Mile, city police reported. The eastbound driver apparently believed that the westbound motorist was going to make a turn onto Novi Road at the time of the incident that occurred at 10:27 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 31, according to police reports.

Board postpones sewer proposal

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

With nearly 50 residents looking on, the Northville Township Board of Trustees postponed action on a proposal to revise the Haggerty Road special-assessment sewer district.

Board members had to review the district last week mainly because the cost increased by 18 percent since it was first created in 1985.

"This is one of the most ambitious districts we've ever assembled, and I want to make sure we get it right before approving it," said Township Treasurer and Interim Business Manager Richard Henningsen

A possible problem with the district could lie with the way the assessment roll was created.

Resident Albert Kalin appeared before the board to dispute his assessment. Kalın told board members his neighbors had more land, but his assessment cost was greater Township Engineer Abe Munfah said the assessment cost is based on the number of benefits to the parcel. For example, Munfah said a threeacre parcel could be split into three lots — meaning it has three benefits from a sewer line

Munfah and Kalin briefly debated the number of times his parcel could

Board members instructed Munfah to review the district assessments in time for consideration at the regular meeting Sept. 14.

Township Deputy Clerk Eunice Switzler said the district was reviewed due to the cost increase and because more parties want inclusion into the district.

She said about 85 parcels are slated to be involved in the revised district, which includes properties between Six and Eight Mile roads near Hag-

The previous cost of the project, which received board approval in 1985, was roughly $3,130,000. The 18percent increase takes the new price of the district to $3,697,972.

Switzler said if the cost of a district rises by more than 10 percent prior to building, the project must come back before the board of trustees.

In answering a resident's question, Munfah said that after board approval of the district, it will take between four and six weeks to receive bids for the project.

During the bidding process, Munfah said, bonds will be sold. He added construction of the project could begin as early as this October and could be completed by the end of be split, without reaching a resolu- November 1990.

Township approves first day-care draft

Oxford Tailor & Clothing

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

An ordinance regulating in-home day care is one step away from becoming law following initial township-board approval Thursday,

The township's day-care ordinance closely follows the state day-care law for townships, which basically allows facilities serving between one and 12 children in residentially zoned areas

Township Planning Director Carol Maise said the major difference between the township's day-care or-dinance and the state's version is the township will ask to see a site plan for any facility serving between six and 12 children.

"We want to see the site plan so we get to know what's happening in the community," Maise said.

The state day-care law took effect after its passage last December. The township ordinance passed on a first reading; it requires a second reading and formal publication before it goes

State day-care rules allow for facilities serving six or less children in a residential area to operate without obtaining a special-use permit and without any other procedure different from that required for other dwellings of similar density. All inhome day-care operations must have state licenses, however.

A group day-care home - consisting of seven to 12 children - must receive a special-use permit to be located in a residentially zoned area. To obtain the permit, the facility must meet a number of criteria including limitations on the proximity of other day-care facilities, fencing, and off-street parking.

The Michigan Legislature did not pass a similar bill which would have applied to cities and villages.

Maise noted the ordinance will apply to both subdivisions and condominiums, unless a homeowners' association has registered prior deed restrictions.

Mother, daughter reunited after 26 years of separation

By DARRELL CLEM

Pat Campbell feared she wouldn't recognize her daughter when she went to pick her up at the airport

Twenty-six years had passed since Campbell last saw her daughter, then age 4 at a small bus station in

All the two knew last Thursday. when they met for a tearful reunion at Detroit Metropolitan Airport, was what they would be wearing Even that clue wasn't necessary

"I was overwhelmed at how much she looked like me," Campbell, a resident of Woodland Glen near Eight Mile Road, said of her daughter, Karlene Garner, now 30 and married

"It was like meeting a complete stranger who looked like me," Campbell said as the two sat in her home last week, talking about their lives "I didn't know what to say We just hugged and held on to each other Although both had some apprehension - they didn't know how they would react to one another - the reunion proved moving, emotional, for the long-separated pair

"It's like somebody pinched me and woke me up," Garner said. "I just kept thinking, 'This is not a dream This is my mother, and she's not going anywhere this time ' "

The sad part is, Campbell never meant to leave her daughter in the first place.

The story began in the tiny Alabama community of Pineapple, where Campbell, a Fort Wayne, Ind., native, had moved with her former husband When the marriage began to fall apart, Campbell found it difform."

Garner later grew to understand that, in that small Alabama town, ''you just don't ruin family names.'

One day, Campbell decided to take her two children to nearby Selma and try to escape north by bus. But she said her ex-husband's uncle, who was the hometown sheriff, met her at the bus station as she and her children were climbing aboard.

She said the sheriff forcibly took the older child, Karlene, who had been a family favorite, but let Campbell escape with the younger child, Yvonne.

For years, Campbell said she dreamed of returning to Alabama to take away her older daughter. Some of her relatives even tried but failed. Campbell said she once was told she would be charged with abandoning her child if she returned to that small Alabama town.

"To this day," Campbell said, "I would be afraid to go back."

In the meantime, Karlene knew virtually nothing about her mother as she grew up in Alabama Her father remarried, "and he was trying to make a new life for himself."

Only when she was in high school did Karlene receive a gift from her grandmother - a baby book with clues about her past

The daughter learned the names of her mother's relatives in Fort Wayne and began trying to contact them. The effort eventually paid off, after many phone calls, and she was able to learn of her mother's whereabouts

In May, Campbell and her daughter, who was married and living in Georgia with a husband and a 7-year-old daughter, began writing letters and making telephone calls.

Golf center plan draws opposition

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

A developer's request to rezone the northern portion of the Oasis Golf Center was unanimously recommended for denial Tuesday, Aug 29 by the Northville Township Planning

The rezoning request will go before the Northville Township Board of Trustees at their Oct 12 meeting

Oasis parcels B (37 acres) and C (85 acres) were rezoned in July 1988 from residential (R-3) and general business (B-3), respectively, to small office (OS-1)

Parcel A, the northernmost section of the golf course, is a 67-acre piece of land currently zoned for cluster housing The developer requested a change to office zoning

The Oasis Golf Center is located at Haggerty and Five Mile roads

Planning Commissioner Richard Allen said he made the motion to deny the rezoning because the developer, James Blain, was unable to acquire the six-acre tip of land above parcel A

Blain had offered to designate the land north of parcel A as open space in return for the rezoning of parcel A.

Commission Chairperson Charles DeLand said earlier the open space would act as a buffer between the proposed office project and residential developments located directly to the east and west

Allen said Blain withdrew his offer to dedicate the open space. He added that rezoning parcel A to small office would not be consistent with the area's designation as residential in the township master plan Parcels B and C are master-planned for office

Allen said earlier that not dedicating the tip of land means "it leaves one more piece of property which could be turned into office

"I don't want office development to migrate up Haggerty Road more than it already has, mainly because it is not in our master plan," he said

Blain has said that if he is denied rezoning on parcel A, he still intends to go ahead with the office project on parcels B and C

One member of the commission, Larry Sheehan, owns a business -Sheehan's On The Green — directly next to the Oasis Golf Center He voted with the other commissioners to deny the most recent request on parcel A, and also voted with the majority in rezoning parcels B and C to office.

Sheehan's business is located on land owned by Will-O-Mac, a firm owned in part by Wayne County Executive Ed McNamara, according to township tax records. Will-O-Mac also owns Oasis

The rezoning request includes all of the golf course except for the small portion of land on which Sheehan's business rests His business abuts parcel C, one of those which was rezoned to office last summer.

Sheehan said he does not see a problem with him voting on the three rezoning requests "because, if anything, it (rezoning to office) is a detriment to me, since I have been successful for several years as it is." He established the restaurant / bar about 12 years ago. "I would be much better off if the (golf course) land were rezoned extended commercial and not offices,' Sheehan said

He said the vote to downgrade the zoning from commercial to office on parcel C may hurt his business in the long run.

Allen said he does not have a problem with Sheehan voting on the Blain rezoning since it is not on his property and "it does not put a feather in his own nest.

"If the guy owns the land then the matter is clear cut," Allen added. But after that it's a judgement call, and it really depends on the circumstances.

DeLand could not be reached for comment after the meeting.

Control of walls, berms shifts to planners

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

Following township board approval Thursday, Aug. 10, control over the placement of walls and berms formally shifted from the zoning board of appeals (ZBA) to the planning commission

Specfically, the ordinance amendment gives the planning commission the power to waive or modify a required wall or berm for a new development.

Previously, developers had to appear before the ZBA and prove a hardship in order to gain relief from wall and berm requirements.

The amendment was originally part of a church ordinance package which addressed many aspects of church development, including

The wall-and-berm ordinance, however, was broken off into its own amendment in April, when movement on the height portion of the church ordinance appeared to be at a standstill.

The township board also approved the church ordinance at the Aug. 10

Cownship investigates lot size changes

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

After debating for more than an hour, township planning commissioners agreed Tuesday, Aug. 29 that the current minimum lot size should be increased.

However, planners could not come to an agreement on whether the depth of lots should also be increas-

DeLand added by increasing lot sizes he does not want to encourage larger houses, "but I want to increase the size of side-yard setbacks.

Planner Karen Woodside said many of her neighbors wish their houses were on bigger lots because the smaller lots are causing many 'border disputes."

"The most common complaint I hear is, 'My house is too close to my neighbor's,' 'DeLand said. "Unfortunately, they don't find this out until it's too late

"I think (if the lot size is raised too high) that you'll be pricing people out of the community," Sheeehan said. "Unless you want Northville to be the most expensive community.'

Planners tentatively agreed to increasing the side-yard setbacks by 15 feet, to create a greater distance between houses.

As far as rear-yard setbacks, planner Richard Allen said he would not like to see the amount greater than 50 feet. "If you go higher than that, I think you're getting carried away.

"I think if you try to make lots deeper you're playing with dynamite," he added. "Whatever we do has got to be defensible (in court). and I think we're walking ourselves

DeLand then instructed Township Planning Consultant Claude Coates to look at a variety of lot-size pro-posals and present them to the planning commission at its Sept. 26

Library program termed a success

By DARRELL CLEM

Attendance at the Northville Public Library's summer reading programs for children increased dramatically this year, climbing 11 percent compared to last year.
"It's hard to tell you just how pleasantly surprised we were,' Library Director Pat Orr said. "We did not expect the attendance to go up so dramatically."

Due to a space crunch at the library, the summer programs this year were primarily held at the Nor-

"And the room was filled to capacity," Orr said.

More than 200 children, ranging from preschoolers to seventh graders, were in attendance at most of the six sessions of the "Reach for the Stars" program that began in

Among the highlights:

· Mary Margaret Retelle of the Detroit Zoo brought stuffed animals to one session, teaching children about animals kept at the zoo and their habitats. Storyteller Linda Day of the Detroit Story League kept the youngsters' attention as she spun favorite children's tales.

 Northville magician Ming the Magnificent performed tricks, such as one in which he appeared to levitate, during a program titled "Outer Space Magic."

· A combination juggler-mime and a clown performed during a session called "Stars of the Circus."

· Naturalist Steve Horn of the Indian Springs Nature Center presented a slide show and talked about "what Indians and primitive peoples had considered to be the meaning of things in the heavens,' Dewey said.

Greater participation needed in city election

It was disappointing to hear that Northville City Council Member John Buckland has decided not to run for reelection to the council this fall.

During his one term on the council. Buckland has been a low-key and sensible representative. He served the ci-

The same week that brought Buckland's announcement also brought the news that former council member G. Dewey Gardner will run for a council spot. He had been undecided between seeking a council post or the mayor's seat. In the 1987 election, Gardner — who had been mayor pro tem — lost the mayoral race to Christopher Johnson.

It also recently came to light that one other person who had considered running for the council decided against entering the race. There is a trend here, and it's probably not a healthy

The current status of the ballot is Johnson running unopposed for the two-year term as mayor, with Gardner, incumbent Council Member Jerry Mittman, and politcal newcomer Mark McManus vying for the two open coun-

More participation than this would be good for the city.

We have no argument with the job Johnson has done in his first term; he is a fine mayor. Gardner's past stint on the council was distinguished — so much so that the Record endorsed him in the 1987 mayoral campaign. Mittman has been an informed and effective council member. At this point, we and the community - know very little of McManus. (The Record will do its best to correct this with campaign coverage.)

In other words, this should not be taken as a criticism of the existing slate. They are fine candidates, but the city voters deserve a choice.

Government

A Johnson / Gardner rematch would have been a fascinating referendum on Johnson's performance as mayor. Apparently voters won't get that choice.

Similarly, with three people running for two council spots, there is not much choice. In such a situation, people usually end up voting against one person rather than voting for two.

Of course, as the incumbent candidates will often say in such a situation, a lack of challengers probably indicates a general satisfaction on the part of residents with how the city is being run.

Maybe so. There are certainly no glaring problems with existing city government. But there are meaty issues in the city which need to be hashed out, and an election is the ideal

The next step for the Ford plant, the direction of the new city master plan, the future of the Cady Street area, the newly hot question of expanding city sidewalks, the parkdevelopment millage question, the development of the city recycling program, and the condition of the Mill Pond — all these are legitimate issues on which intelligent people can easily have different opinions.

Residents deserve to have things like this discussed at length, in public, among candidates with positions on the issues. McManus, currently the wild card in this election, may help in this respect. But we'd like to see more people run for office. Voters should have a

Township should look into written rules code

The Northville Township Planning Commission has taken several votes on the rezoning of land at the Oasis Golf Center, on the corner of Haggerty and Five Mile. Commissioner Larry Sheehan has voted, and been in the majority, on all of them.

No big deal? Maybe not. Not to hear Sheehan tell it.

But Sheehan owns a business, Sheehan's on the Green, directly adjacent to the golf-course land. This again raises an issue which was raised not long ago, and underlines the need to do something about it.

In making his votes, Sheehan certainly broke no ordinances, or rules, or even guidelines for conflict of interest. That may be because the township has

In this instance, Sheehan said the rezonings on which he voted might actually hurt his business in the long run, showing he was not out for personal gain. We're quite confident he was not But that's not the point.

He could have been out for personal gain and no one would ever have known — and he would not have violated any written principles. It's pure common sense that a planning commissioner could, indeed, benefit financially or otherwise — from his or her actions as a public official. Any public office, even on the local level, is fraught with opportunities for abuse.

We know of no actual abuses in the township. But the question arose not long ago when another planning commissioner voted on a project a short distance from land he owned. These issues are going to keep recurring.

The township should have some kind of written rules for this sort of thing. The city recently adopted such a package; it could be used as a model. Public officials need to know the rules or they cannot be expected to follow them. Citizens deserve a formal standard to which they can expect their officials will be held.

A written policy on ethics and conflicts of interest is the only way to be just looking out for his own interests. fair to all concerned. The township

Banking woes

By Darrell Clem

I haven't successfully balanced my checkbook in about two years. I think it's about time I tried.

That's because those 24-hour teller machines are out to get me.

Call me paranoid, but I have reasons. The plot against me - whether launched by money-hungry capitalists or hard-core Marxists - has been going on far

Sometimes I think the banks have hired special workers who hide behind those machines and wait for me to walk up. They must get a lot of laughs.

The most recent problem occurred when I held my breath and slid my bank card into the machine. Very cautiously, I entered my identification number and tried to withdraw $100.

After a few odd noises, the machine gave me $40 not $100 — and charged me for $60. Then in its ususal nice manner, it flashed a message telling me it was closed.

At least it didn't tell me to have a nice day.

It did, however, bend my card while ejecting it, forcing me to not only call the bank the next day and straighten out the money matter, but also to order a new

It seems I never learn.

I sometimes wonder if the 24-hour machines have ripped me off and I just don't know it. My checkbook sure wouldn't give me any clues.

There have been other problems with the teller machines. On one Saturday night, I had a date and needed some cash. I was already running 30 minutes behind schedule when I drove up to the 24-hour teller, hoping for

Out of service, it said. Try another 24-hour teller. I did. Three times at three locations before I finally got some money and made my date - more than an hour

One of the real pitfalls of the tellers is trying to figure out what your balance is when your checkbook has no clue. One week I made two deposits and several withdrawals, yet throughout the week the 24-hour teller kept showing the same balance.

I also had written a couple of checks to cover some bills. Now if the companies I sent checks to don't want my money - that's fine. Suspecting that was not the case, however, I made one of those rare visits in which I actually went inside the bank. The human teller quickly informed me that, no, the balance showing on the 24-hour teller was not correct. The conspiracy, it seemed, had continued. There's one more thing I hate about 24-hour tellers — namely those outdoor types that are not enclosed in bank Whenever it's winter and I need to withdraw money, it always seems I have to wait in a line of customers. Of course, I'm usually last in line, the temperature is somewhere near zero, and every customer in front of me is catching up on months of postponed banking matters.

So now I have a plan. Since it's only September, I have a few months to get my checkbook in order before winter. Then I can simply make it a point to do my banking during normal working hours.

But wait a minute. What did I do with my checkbook?

Out of bounds

After fact

Ву Phil Jerome

He thought he had me redhanded.

I don't know how long he had been following me - hoping to uncover evidence of moral corruption, but I was just about to purchase a couple of videotapes at one of the stores out at Twelve Oaks when I

"Aha, Jerome," he bellowed.
"I've got you this time. Let's see what kind of tapes you're buying

And when I turned around I saw the beaming visage of Dick Henderson . . . The Right Reverend and Dr. Richard Henderson, pastor of the Faith Community United Presbyterian Church of Novi, accompanied by a pair of vigilantes—namely his wife, Sheila, and daughter, Jennifer, who is headed up to Fact Lansing to begin closes. to East Lansing to begin classes as a freshman at Michigan State University this fall.

"Come on, Jerome," he insisted. "Let's see 'em. Let's see what type of perverted filth you're buying to take home and play on your videocassette

"Let's see what type of Triple-X rated trash you're buying while try-ing to trick the rest of the community into believing you're a model citizen. Let's see the proof of how you're keeping the purveyors of smut in business by spending good money to purchase their perverted wares."

But this was one time Rev. Richard was wrong. He thought he had me red-handed. But the truth was that my reputation was safe against yet another onslaught of pious invasion of privacy.

And so I held up the two videotapes I had just purchased one copy of "The Velveteen Rabbit" and another copy of Curt Gowdy narrating "Great Moments in Sports History."

"I hope you're satisfied," I said sanctimoniously. "Just let the record show that Ol' Phil is one of your basic old-fashioned wholesome kind of guys."

Resident speaks about safety

For several months, Northville officials and residents have been aware of the reopening of Moraine Elementary School However, it has become very apparent that the city council and the members of the planning commission are inept at recognizing and accommodating the needs of the community

A committee from our subdivision has met with Dr (George) Bell of the Northville Schools to discuss the critical safety issues involved with our children walking along Eight Mile Road on their way to Moraine We have talked with Chief Cannon of the Northville police to express concern over the imminent danger for small children walking to school along this very busy and fast-traffic

During all of these discussions, there was a sympathetic, concerned attitude regarding the safety of our children Dr Bell wants the sidewalks installed . but he does not lay cement. Chief Cannon is concerned about the speed limit and the "blind" hills ... but he does not set the speed limits Where was the city planning commission in April when the decision to open the school was made? Were they, along with the council members and mayor, discussing shades of purple paint for buildings in the downtown area or worrying about which pizzerias to license in our elite city?

How about some foresight to indicate that the politicians responsible for our city are concerned with the safety of our children by recognizing and accommodating the need for sidewalks along one of the most dangerous stretches of road in the city? What about posted school-zone signs? What about roadside barriers to help protect our children in the event of a vehicle veering off of Eight Mile Road? What about school-zone speed-limit changes? It's true the sidewalk has been approved, yet it will not be ready for the start of school. Another example of great

Please don't offer the excuse that the county road commission or the school district is responsible for these changes. Professional planning and management of issues requires prudent judgment and the development of appropriate measures to accommodate an ever-changing agen-da Your collective responsibilities include developing the necessary working relationships and regulations to accommodate the needs of this city Shame on you for leaving the pursuit of these concerns to your employers, we the taxpayers of Nor-

Apparently, it has been recom-mended that the neighborhood associations affected by the opening of Moraine be assessed for the needed and now finally planned sidewalks. The cost should have been required of the developers of these areas, not the homeowners. Since the developers are not going to pay for your planning error, your proposal is to pass the cost on to the homeowners through a special assessment. It was the city government's planning error, it should be your cost

Chris & Debbie Faber

Editor's note: A school-zone speed limit is planned — but not yet implemented - on Eight Mile from east of Center to west of Moraine.

No commitment

I stand by my initial statement, Mr. (Robert) Julin, treasurer of Ward Presbyterian Church, that the church has no commitment to Northville Township. Few members live here. We, the residents, will be taxed for the road widening and additional traffic lights and in the future bigger fire equipment, notwithstanding (Fire Chief Robert) Toms' statement that we won't. True, you pay taxes but not as a church per se but only as the owner of vacant land. If and when a church or school structure is raised, the taxes are off the rolls.

You are asking for too much and giving absolutely nothing!

Mary Braddock

Editor's Note: Braddock is referring to an earlier exchange of letters to the editor in which she said the church is not contributing to the township tax base. Julin responded that the church is currently paying local taxes: an estimated $175,000

No free lunch

To the Editor:

Last week a Mr. Schwaller wrote a letter titled "Smoke Screen." I would like to answer Mr. Schwaller's misconception about Michigan's automobile insurance structure.

As bad as it seems, Michigan's nofault law is one of the best and fairest in the country. There are several ways to contain the increasing insurance premiums:

1. Keep accident claims out of the

2. Contain auto repair costs.

It would cost $40,300 to buy all the parts for a 1988 Buick Skylark Custom Coupe which had a showroom sticker of $12,500, and the $40,300 does not include labor costs to assemble. It costs $2,600 to replace the front bumper, grille, headlights, hood, and one fender on a 1985 Olds Cutlass Supreme.

3. You pay approximately $57 per year per car in annual assessments to fund the high-risk pools and other government programs.

These funds provide coverage for certain state residents at below-cost rates. Certain areas do not pay this high assessment.

4. In 1987, Detroit's auto theft rate was one per every 20 registered vehicles.

The state average was one for every 181 registered vehicles.

5. There are some special-interest groups that would very much like to change our current insurance laws. Know who they are?

Ode to a house

To the Editor:

A grand old lady died on Eight Mile Road this week, and those responsible for her ugly demise will probably be absolved, by themselves if not by others.

The lady was the 125-year-old Yerkes House, and the responsible parties include a developer who refused to properly guard a National Historic Landmark structure; a city planning commission (in Novi) that continued to grant extensions to the developer knowing that chances were very slim that anything would come of it; a police department that couldn't or wouldn't enforce property-protection laws; and a community newspaper that repeatedly and graphically publicized the old lady's deteriorating condition and thereby invited the most sickening kind of vandalism.

Today, only the charred hulk remains as a sad reminder of what happened when community "life sup-port" systems were withdrawn by the very same people and organizations who were responsible for the care and restoration of this unique symbol of our local history.

Isn't it ironic, too, that this should happen in a city that prides itself on saving trees and wetlands (which could be replaced if necessary), but did nothing to preserve its own irreplaceable history and heritage?

Now the Yerkes House is gone - or nearly so. If those who showed so much indifference to her while she was standing as the Dowager of Eight Mile have any sense of respect left within them, they'll have the remains removed quickly so that only pleasant memories of a respected lady will remain. RIP also stands for: Remove It Promptly!

tended a summer-reading program party, titled "You're the Star," at the city's recreation center.

In addition to those sessions, Dewey said that 369 children participated in the library programs in which youngsters received prizes, such as puzzles, for reading five or 10 books during the summer.

One program, "Read to Me," rewarded children who had books read to them, while another program provided prizes to older children who read books on their own.

Parents brought the youngsters to the library and kept track of the number of books they read.

Other summer activities included a bookmark design contest and a scavenger hunt in which children searched at home for such items as pizza coupons, soda straws, and digital watches. Participants received a bumper sticker.

And in four "preschool story time" sessions held on four Tuesdays, library staff members told stories and read to children. That program alone attracted 57 children, representing an 11.4 percent increase over last year.

Other programs included:

Computer Pix, a program in which young adults could request library books — not available locally through the Wayne-Oakland Library Federation, Dewey said.

· A skin-care and make-up program for young adults that included instruction by a make-up artist for a modeling agency.

Orr attributed the success of this year's summer program to the variety of programs offered.

Dewey agreed: "Our primary purpose was to involve as many children as possible.'

Study continues on Cady Street redevelopment

Another potentially controversial issue stems from an ongoing debate on whether some existing shops, such as those on Mary Alexander Court where Domino's is located, should be torn down or remain standing.

Some city officials in the past have indicated that some shops should be eliminated, providing more space for such features as a wider walkway

Street area.

Some also have suggested that some buildings should be demolished and replaced with new ones But Gardner said he is among those who believe that such a move could be cost-prohibitive.

As to whether the existing buildings should remain intact. Gardner said, "I do have some sup-from the town clock to the Cady port for that kind of thinking."

However, he added that some of the buildings "could be embellished" to make them fit in with the eventual scheme approved for the area.

Meanwhile, Walters said that once the Cady Street plan is in its final form, it will be presented to the Northville Planning Commission, the Northville City Council and various other organizations and groups for

Although no formal public hearing will be required before the city council approves the plan, Walters said most people at some point will have an opportunity to see the plan as it is presented at various public meetings.

Officials have said the Cady Street study could take up to 20 years to fully implement.

Beach Tree Farm in Highland Township now offers an extensive landscape design service, and a recently opened sales office - two young branches on an old tree.

Since 1981, Rick Hamill has owned the business at 583 East Highland Road, just east of Milford Road. He now runs Beach Tree Farm with his wife, Chris, a CPA who handles the financial aspects of the operation.

"I guess if you were going to categorize the business, you would probably categorize it first as a ting and land contouring that is a nursery that supplies the retail as well as the wholesale customer," she explained. "What we have done is expanded that into a full design service as well."

That design service usually involves an employee visiting the customer's home to discuss and survey the landscape. If customers are initially unsure of what possibilities to explore, Beach Tree Farm will develop a design with them. "Someone who comes to us gets a real personalized service,' Chris Hamill said.

SCOTT ADAMOWSKI

CHARLES AYERS has been awarded the College of Fellows Award by the Engineering Society of Detroit (ESD). Ayers is president of C. Ayers Limited, a consulting firm located in Northville which serves the construction industry and has a worldwide

The College of Fellows, the most prestigious group of ESD members, marks high distinction. The honor is only conferred by unanimous approval of the ESD Board to members with extraordinary qualifications and experience in their professions.

Ayers has been an active member of ESD for 18 years. He is currently Chairman of the Emerging Technology Board. In previous years he has served on the EPA Board, the Construction Activities Board and the Nominating Committee. Ayers will also receive an award for extending the construction of the constructio award for outstanding chairperson of the Emerging Technology Board. In addition, he is active in many other professional organizations and service groups including the Boy Scouts of America.

Founded in 1895, ESD is the largest regional society of its kind in the United States with offices in Ann Arbor, Detroit and Flint. It provides a unique forum for engineers, scientists and technologists from all disciplines to meet and share ideas. ESD recognizes and honors outstanding individuals who promote the advancement of the engineering, and scientific community in Michigan.

SCOTT ADAMOWSKI, P.E., has been promoted to the position of managing engineer by John R. Loveland, president of O'Brien & Gere Engineers, Inc. Adamowski will direct activities at the company's Novi office.

With a strong background in hazardous waste management and work experience in over 40 states, Adamowski will continue to provide expertise in the areas of remedial design, underground/aboveground storage tank management, regulatory compliance, environmental liability assessments and hydrogeologic investigations. He has managed these types of projects for major industries including General Motors, Chrysler, TRW and IBM.

Adamowski joined O'Brien & Gere in 1981 after receiving his bachelor of science degree in civil/environmental engineering from Union College in Schenectady, New York.

An author of various technical papers presented and published nationally, Adamowski also has served as co-author of the company's textbook, "Hazardous Waste Site Remediation, The Engineer's Prespective." He is a registered professional engineer and a member of various professional societies and organizations.

The Novi office was opened at the beginning of this year to provide complete assistance in the areas of environmental and facilities engineering. It is located at 39500 Orchard Hill Place Drive (Suite 300) in the Orchard Hill Place Office Park in Novi.

JACK RENWICK, owner and proprietor of Parkside Cleaners in South Lyon, recently was elected to the Board of Directors of the Michigan Institute of Laundering and Drycleaning

The Michigan Institute of Laundering and Drycleaning, founded in 1913, is the state trade association for cleaners. The election results were announced at the institute's annual convention July 28-30 at Boyne Mountain Resort. Directors are elected by institute members and serve a one-year term.

JOHN D. KELMIGIAN of Novi has joined Roney & Co. as an account executive. The appointment was announced by Hal Gordon, general partner and manager of the Farmington Hills office on Four-

Kelmigian will be responsible for the development of individual investment accounts. Formerly he was an assistant vice president of Thompson McKinnon Securities in Plymouth. He is a 1980 graduate of Oakland University.

Kelmigian resides in Novi with his wife, Najwa, and three children — Michelle, Matthew and Danielle.

Established in 1925, the Detroit-based Roney & Co. is a fullservice New York Stock Exchange firm. Owned by over 100 working partners and employing more than 540 men and women, Roney & Co. has offices located throughout Michigan, Ohio and Indiana

DOUGLAS W. TEUBERT, FIC, of Northville has completed all the requirements to be certified as a Qualifying Member of the 1989 Million Dollar Round Table. Teubert is a district representative for Lutheran Brotherhood, a fraternal benefit society.

The Million Dollar Round Table is an independent association of more than 15,000 life insurance agents, each of whom must meet strict ethical and production requirements in order to qualify.

Only three percent of the world's life insurance agents are certified each year through high-level client service and production. This year 76 Lutheran Brotherhood field force members qualified. Membership reflects a commitment to continuing advanced education to better serve the financial security of families, individuals and businesses

Teubert joined Lutheran Brotherhood in 1981. He is associated with Lutheran Brotherhood's Karl Mueller Agency headquarted in Rochester Hills.

CPAs offer suggestions for income tax withholding plans

Eric and John earn the same salary and claim a comparable level of tax deductions and personal exemptions. In fact, the only significant difference between their tax situations is the number of withholding allowances they claim on their W-4 forms.

Yet when last April rolled around, Eric received a $2,500 tax refund while John had to pay $300 in taxes.

Who is more skilled at tax planning? If your answer is "Eric," you have a lot to learn about tax withholding, according to the Michigan Association of CPAs

Michigan Association of CPAs

Withholding enables the federal government to collect your income taxes on an installment basis. The key to this process is the "Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate," more commonly known as Form W-4 To complete this form accurately, you must estimate your annual tax hability and determine the number of withholding allowances you can claim. This year, each allowance you claim reduces the amount of income on which your employer bases your taxes by $2,000. For taxpayers in the 28 percent tax bracket, each withholding allowance translates into approximately $560 in take-home pay a year, or $47 a month.

Money Management

Your goal when filling out Form W-4 is to match the amount of tax you will owe at the end of the year as closely as possible. Unfortunately, many people fail to do this. Too often, taxpayers misunderstand the purpose of withholding, fail to update their W-4 when their tax situation changes, dread estimating their tax liability, or simply cannot follow the sometimes complex instructions on the form itself.

Too much, too soon: One mistake taxpayers often make is using tax withholding as if it were a forced saving plan Eric, for example, deliberately claimed less withholding allowances than he was entitled to so that he would receive a hefty tax refund. If you over-withhold for the same reason, you should rethink your strategy.

A big refund means you have overpaid the government and, in effect, provided Uncle Sam with an interest-free loan What's worse, by having too much withheld from your paychecks, you may have missed an opportunity to invest that same money in an interest-bearing account. Remember, a tax refund is not a reward — it is simply a repayment of money you never owed the government in the first place.

Too little, too late: Another mistake taxpayers make is asking their employers to withhold too little from their paychecks. For example, Ed and Anne bought their first home last year. To help them meet their mortgage payments, they increased their withholding allowances by ten, which increased their monthly take-home pay by about $470. But they overestimated the tax benefits of owning a home and ended up owing more than $1,500 in federal income tax.

If your 1988 tax return socked you with an extra-large tax bill, don't let history repeat itself. This year, if you fail to set aside at least as much tax as you owed last year, or at least 90 percent of your 1989 tax liability, you will be hit with a 10 to 12 percent nondeductible penalty on the underpayment due.

In other words, if your total federal tax bill comes to $10,000 but your withholding adds up to just 80 percent of that amount, or $8,000, you will have to pay the federal government $2,000 in tax plus a penalty of approximately $100 to $120 on the $1,000 underpayment.

Check your withholding: Accurately estimating the amount of federal income tax you need to withhold does not require the mathematical wizardry of Einstein, although Form W-4 may make you feel that way.

To assess whether your withholding is on target, start by reviewing the outcome of last year's tax return. If you received a large refund or had to pay a hefty tax bill last April, you probably need to adjust this year's withholding as soon as possible.

Even if your withholding was correct in 1988, don't assume that you can simply take the same number of allowances year after year. If you do, you will inevitably wind up withholding too little or too much. Changes in tax law, income, allowable deductions, marital status, place of residence, or number of dependents can all affect how much tax you must pay and how many allowances you should claim.

After you review last year's tax return, estimate your tax liability for 1989. Take into account any changes in tax laws or personal events, such as the purchase of a new home or the birth of a child, that may cause this year's tax liability to differ significantly from last year's liability.

Once you have a rough idea of how much federal income tax you will owe for 1989, take a look at your most recent paycheck stub and not how much you have paid so far.

much you have paid so far.

Keep in mind that by the end of August, your federal income tax withholding should equal two-thirds of your total tax bill. In other words, if your estimated tax liability for 1989 is $12,000, two-thirds of your tax bill, or $8,000, should be paid by the end of Adjust your W-4: If your withholding figure is way off the mark, the Michigan Association of CPAs suggests that you update your W-4 right away. You can obtain a copy of Form W-4 from you company's payroll office, your CPA or the IRS by calling 1-800-424-3676.

To have more tax withheld, you should claim fewer allowances than you are entitled to or ask your employer to withhold more tax. Married individuals can also check the box "Married, but withhold at higher Single rate" on Form W-4. If you collect income not subject to withholding, such as interest from investment holdings or earnings from a home-based business, you may also need to make quarterly estimated tax payments.

To have less tax withheld, you should claim all the allowances to which you are entitled. If both you and your spouse are employed, you can divide the allowances between you, but be careful that you don't claim the same allowances twice. Similarly, if you work for more than one employer, don't claim the same allowances more than once.

Tree farm offers landscape design part of the landscaping service, Beach Tree Farm builds brick walkways, boulder walls and decks.

The sales office, which opened April 1, is surrounded by brick walkways of different patterns, providing the customer an opportunity to see what each style actually looks like completed and in place.

Plant-care manuals and magazines, as well as trained employees, are available inside the sales office for customer assistance. Potted plants and perennials are on display in a nearby room. Outside, planted trees are also available for inspection

"A lot of design places would never have the customer come out to look at the planted material. They do not have a nursery on site, so they do not have the ability to show the customer what a tree looks like," Chris Hamill said.

"People will typically say they would like a Christmas tree (for example). But they don't know whether that's a spruce or a pine, and there are various colors and textures to the plant material. So they can actually come out and walk around, and they can actually select the plant material that they want to put in themselves, or we can select it for them."

Beach Tree Farm carries hardwood trees, such as maple and oak, as well as ornamental trees, such as plum and cherry. But there can be more to landscaping than trees and shrubs

"We have attempted to encourage more perennial gardens around the homes We sell perennials, but we also have planted beds so people can see what they look like in their mature state."

The business offers its landscaping in installments, which allows customers the option of paying after each portion of the landscaping job is completed instead of paying for the entire job at once

Beach Tree Farm takes its name from its founder and original owner, U Sidney Beach, who began the business in his spare time in the late 1950s

"He ended up having people come in and purchase the trees from him—spruce and evergreen, that sort of thing," Rick Hamill said. "At the time he was working for Ford Motor Company, and started making more money selling nursery stock than he did working for Ford" Beach then retired from Ford to run his business.

Rick started working for him in 1969, at the age of 16 "When I went to work for Mr. Beach I was a question asker I always asked questions. I wanted to know about the plant material, or why plants grew in a particular location—any question of that nature. Through that, and my ability to repair equipment, something Mr. Beach couldn't do, he sort of took me under his wing "

After Hamili returned from Western Michigan University with a degree in management, he and Beach, who passed away in March of 1982, worked out an arrangement through which ownership of the business would eventually pass to Hamili

"The market has gone from do-it-yourself to get-someone-to-do-it-for-you," he said "People don't have the time to deal with landscaping anymore, so they hire it out. If we wanted to continue to grow as an operation we were going to have in get into landscape design, something Mr. Beach never thought of going in-

Beach Tree Farm is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday from 8 a.m. to 5 p m. The phone number is 887-3500.

Bear Fact: Honey tastes great!

By Linda Susan Dudley

The autumn months, when temperatures dip, traditionally bring to mind warming stews and soups and hot chocolate But there is another gift from nature's bounty that is at its most popular during cool weather: sweet, golden honey

That's from the National Honey Board, which reports consumption is up in autumn and winter over any other season. It's the increase in baking-freshly made breads, cakes and muffins warm from the oven, honey-laced hot toddies to soothe a scratchy throat or hot tea sweetened with honey to warm the insides on a

Honey can be used as a sweetener for drinks, hot or cold, in the same way sugar is used. It can be slathered on breads or biscuits or poured over pancakes or waffles. Use it to sweeten cereal or fruits as an ingredient in glazes, frostings or sauces or as an alternative sweetener in baked goods or candies. Cakes and cookies made with honey can be more moist and tend to keep better and longer.

Honey is a type of sugar, but it is formed by the interaction of the nectar gathered by bees and enzymes within the bee. When the honeybee takes nectar from a flower, she stores it in a "honey sack." When this sack is full, she returns to the hive, deposits the drop of nectar into the honeycomb and evaporates the water out of the nectar by fanning her wings

If it sounds like a big job for a little insect, consider it takes a whole year for a colony of bees to produce 60 to 100 pounds of honey.

The fructose in honey makes it sweeter than sugar. At 64 calories per tablespoon-more than sugar at 46 calories per tablespoon-it is about 11/2 times as sweet. There are as many flavors of honey as there are varieties of flowering plantsranging from avocado to clover. Location and climate conditions also contribut to producing very different

Here are some tips on using honey:

Cooking Tips For best results, use recipes developed for using honey. When you substitute honey for granulated sugar in recipes: •Substitute honey for up to one-half of the sugar. With experimentation, honey can be substituted for all the sugar in some recipes. •Reduce the amount of liquid in the recipe by ¼ cup for each cup of honey used in baked goods.

•Add ¼ to ¾ teaspoon baking soda for each cup of honey used. •Reduce oven temperature by 25 degrees to prevent over-browning of

•For easy removal, spray measuring cup with vegetable cooking spray before adding honey

Storage Tips

Store honey at room temperature; refrigeration is not required.

When honey crystallizes, remove lid and place jar in warm water until crystals dissolve. Or, microcook 1 cup of honey in microwave-safe container at high (100 percent) 2 to 3

While their real-life relatives think ahead to hibernation, these honey bears are reaching for the honey.

minutes or until crystals dissolve; stir every 30 seconds. Do not boil or Buying Tips Select mildly flavored honeys, such as clover, for use in cooking where delicate flavors predominate.

Use strongly flavored honeys in spreads or other recipes where a distinct honey flavor is desired.

Here are some recipes designed specifically for use of honey as the sweetening agent.

Grown-Up Gorp 1/4 cup butter or margarine

1/4 cup honey

¼ cup maple syrup 2 cups whole-grain cereal flakes 1 cup unsalted cashews 1 cup puffed wheat cereal

1 cup dried banana chips 1 cup dried mixed fruit pieces 1/2 cup sunflower seeds

Yields about 8 cups gorp. In large shallow baking pan, melt butter in 325 F oven. Add honey and maple syrup and blend well.

Add next 4 ingredients. Toss to blend. Bake 45 minutes, stirring every 10 minutes. Remove from oven and add fruit and sunflower seeds. Cool to room temperature.

Sweet Orange Chicken 6 chicken breasts, skinned

1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter or margarine, melted

1 (6-ounce) can frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed

1/4 cup honey 34 cup wheat germ

1/2 cup whole-wheat flour 1 teaspoon paprika 1/4 teaspoon thyme 1/2 teaspoon salt

Yields 6 servings. Brush chicken breasts with butter. Combine undiluted orange juice and honey in shallow dish. Combine remaining ingredients and place on waxed paper or shallow dish. Roll chicken in honey mixture and then in wheat germ mix. Place chicken in greased baking pan and drizzle over any remaining butter or honey mixture. Bake at 375 F for 45 to 50 minutes or until tender. Baste occasionally with pan juices.

French Toast with

Pear-Honey Sauce 1 can (29 ounces) pear halves or slices 1/2 cup honey 1/3 cup orange juice 3 teaspoons cornstarch 1 teaspoon grated orange peel 5 eggs, beaten ¾ cup milk 1 tablespoon sugar 1/2 tablespoon salt Dash ground nutmeg 12 slices bread Butter or margarine

Yields 6 servings. Drain pears; reserve 1 cup syrup. If using pear halves, slice each half lengthwise into 5 slices. Combine syrup, honey orange juice, corn-starch and orange peel. Cook and stir until thickened and clear. Add pear slices; heat thoroughly. Keep warm over low heat.

Combine eggs, milk, sugar, salt and nutmeg; mix well. Dip bread into egg mixture, coating both sides. Do not soak. Cook on buttered griddle or skillet; pan-fry in butter until golden brown on both sides. Serve pear sauce over French toast. Sauce may also be served on waffles and pan-

Spiced Honey Butter ½ cup butter or margarine, softened to room temperature

4 cup honey 1 teaspoon grated orange peel ½ teaspoon ground cinnamon Yields about 34 cup.

Combine all ingredients and mix we'll. Serve with biscuits, bread or

Honey Lemon Sauce

າະp water i tablespoon cornstarch ½ cup honey ¼ cup butter or margarine 2 tablespoons lemon juice 1 teaspoon grated lemon peel Dash salt

Yields about 11/2 cups. Combine water and cornstarch; set aside. Blend remaining ingredients in saucepan; stir in water mixture. until mixture thickens. Serve hot or cold over French toast, waffles, ice cream or cake.

Honey-Mint Yogurt Fruit Topping 2 cups plain yogurt ¼ cup honey 1 to 2 teaspoons chopped fresh mint

Whisk all ingredients together. Serve over fruit or refrigerate until serving. Makes about 2 cups.

Protect bees from pesticides

Everyone in Michigan, from the serious fruit grower to the casual gardener to the salad bar browser, owes the humble honeybee a big thank you.

Why? Because bees are the main pollinators of a host of agricultural and horticultural crops, from alfalfa to zucchini. Without bees, there would be no pollination. And without pollination, many plants would produce no fruits and we'd have no seeds for planting.

In short, we all have a vested interest in preserving honeybees.

One way gardeners can help is to think about bees when using pesticides.

Roger Hoopingarner, apiculturist (bee specialist) at Michigan State University, points out that bees are quite susceptible to insecticides that we use in our landscapes and gardens.

'The chemicals that are available to home gardeners are generally not as toxic as some that commercial growers can use.' Hoopingarner notes, "but if used improperly or at the wrong time, they can wipe out significant numbers of worker bees. If a colony loses enough workers, it won't have the food reserves stashed away to survive the winter. Then all the benefits of that colony -the work the bees would have done for us and the honey they might have produced-are lost.

The key in protecting bees from pesticides is to remember that bees work around flowers on warm, sunny days. They are less active on cool, rainy days-which, unfortunately, are not good times to be out spraying garden pests—and they head back to the hive at sundown.

"That means that a good time to use pesticides around the home and garden is after dinner, when the bees have called it a day but the pests are still present," Hoopingarner suggests.

The wind tends to slacken around sunset, too, so you have a better chance to put your sprays exactly where you want them. Keeping insecticides off flowers-flowers of all sorts, including garden flowers, flowering shrubs and blooming weeds-will also help preserve bees.

The product you choose to spray is important, too. Sometimes you have a choice between an insecticide that is very toxic to bees, such as Sevin; another that is somewhat less toxic, such as diazinon or malathion; or a biological control agent, such as Bacillus thuringiensis, a disease of caterpillars that has virtually no effect on any other insects.

The general-purpose insecticides—such as Sevin, diazinon and malathion-kill honeybees and other garden goodguys, such as ladybird beetles, lacewigs and other insects that prey on aphids and other garden pests, Hoopingarner points out. If you destroy these biological controls with chemicals, the pest population may rebound and be worse than it was before you sprayed.

Another option open to the home gardener is to tolerate the presence of pests and a certain level of damage while plants are flowering. This strategy is more applicable to fruit trees, which bloom only once during the growing season, than to such crops as summer squash, cucumbers, tomatoes and snap beans, which bloom more or less continuously once they begin.

Sometimes, the critical period for pest control occurs before flowers appear. On the cucurbits, for instance-squash, cucumbers, pumpkins-cucumber beetles may attack seedlings as their first leaves are unfolding, long before flowers appear. Controlling these beetles is essential to preventing the disease they carrybacterial wilt—but it poses little or no threat to bees because no flowers are present.

Gardening and bees

Pollen packer (joint)

To ensure poll in ation for plants such as melon and squash, plant bee-attracting flowers nearby.

Plant flowers in the yellow through blue and violet spectrum to Plant red flowers to keep bees away. Bees are attracted to borage, anchusa, thyme, heliotrope, lavender Bees are also active on flowers with marks pointing the way to nectar such as foxglove flowers, Johnny jump-ups, and pansies.

Lace adds touch of class

Q: I'm absolutely in love with a beautiful white lacy bedspread that I saw in a magazine recently, credited as a Victorian-era antique.

I wondered if the spread is available through any present-day resources or in a needlework pattern. Also, are these types of spreads made by crochet or knit? Is it possible to reproduce this stunning look?

I'd appreciate any leads you have.

A I believe you are referring to Victorian coverlets and spreads, which were highly popular in Victorian-era homes where they were used as bedspreads, pillow coverings, table linens or other household items With the revival of interest in Victorian-era decorating and style, these types of needle arts, largely neglected over the past 50 years, will surely see a revival. The beautiful coverlets are made by knitting fine white cotton on small-gauge needles

Luckily for all of us who appreciate fine examples of knitted art and who have minimal to advanced skills, master knitter Mary Walker Phillips has painstakingly compiled 75 pat-terns for traditional knitted bed covers in "Knitting Counterpanes: Traditional Coverlet Patterns for Contemporary Knitters," a brandnew softcover bock from Taunton Press. The book retails for $15.95.

Phillips has researched these designes over 20 years, four continents and through countless museums and private collections. She has often had to decipher counterpane patterns from actual bed covers as the patterns, once plentiful and commonly available in needlework magazines of the day, had been lost to us.

Motifs have been arranged logically by design effect, flat patterns, embossed patterns, strips, fan and shell to lace and borders. Within each chapter the patterns proceed from the simplest to the most complex.

Patience is required, as most patterns are worked on size one needles using perle cotton. The beauty is that you can make this a portable project, carrying along and working on one counterpane at a time, until you have completed the number to assemble.

Each counterpane motif is shown in a black-and-white photograph clearly representing the pattern, and diagrams for assembling are added where needed. Also, each motif is prefaced with a few photographs giving a charming bit of history spiced with some advice on difficulty and overall design.

Just think, four completed counterpanes can be worked into a gorgeous pillow top.

Madeline Hunter is the former craft and sewing editor at Seventeen magazine and has contributed to Mademoiselle, Redbook and

What are your framing options for groups of pictures?

Q: Our incessant browsing at every tag sale in sight has finally paid off: We've found a 19th-century guide to fox hunting with wonderful handtinted engravings.

I'd appreciate some expert advice on how to mat, frame and hang a collection of pictures that should all be

Around the House: Decorating

As a general rule, let your choice be guided by the subject matter and the colors in your engravings. Andunless you're dealing with really good art-buy the colors in your overall decorating scheme. (Museum-quality art need not pay homage to the room; rather, it's the other way around.)

When the subject matter is related—as in your hunting printsmount them all alike and hang them as a cohesive grouping for best effect. Since your collection is all the same size, you could create a stacked arrangement over a mantel, across the wall behind a sofa (low, but not low enough to bump a sitter's head). or up a narrowish wall. Same-size pictures are better hung in pairs or groups than in horizontal lineups.

A charming idea that might well work for your country sporting scenes is shown in this room full of Laura Ashley's print wall coverings and fabrics. Two pairs of identically framed and matted artworks are used on the small wall space that flanks a wide picture window. Hung the oldfashioned way-on strips of wide grosgrain ribbon-they have become one of the room's most attractive

Q: I keep reading advertisments for 800-number wallpaper discounters who promise to save me up to 75 percent off the prices at my local dealer.

The catch is that I have to find out the manufacturer's name and the number of the pattern I like. How can I do this?—E.S. A: By taking unfair advantage of your local dealer, that's how. Remember he/she has to pay for the sample books you're using, as well as the roof over your head and the seat under you while you pretend to shop for wallpaper when you're only looking for numbers.

The "800 pirates" as they're known in the trade, have no such costs, so, of course, they can afford to sell you on the cheap. The wall-covering in-dustry is fighting back by changing the manufacturers' codes to codes only the dealers understand.

On the other hand, everyone loves a bargain. If you find the pattern you want at a reputable dealer's, it might be worth your while to discuss the price. And if you should happen to mention the phrase "800 number" in your discussion, be ready for one of two reactions-a price break on the goods you order or a hasty retreat from the store. Dealers, understandably, are really uptight about the competition that hides behind an anonymous telephone number.

The interesting history of the raspberry

By Charles Britton

Raspberries have had their ups

Prized by the ancients, the fruit went into decline, along with just about everything else, during the Dark Ages, and then came back in the medieval period. For some reason, the berries fell from popularity in the 18th century, and it wasn't until recent decades that cultivation revived on a large scale to reach an apogee in our own day.

Since the appearance of nouvelle cuisine in the early '70s, the raspberry has attained the rank of high-fashion ingredient par excellence-and, what's more, it has managed to hold onto its perch amid the giddy to-and-fro of food trends.

Fancy restaurants often use raspberries as an elegant garnish for almost any course, as though the addition of the fruit proves that you're eating in the big time; the distinctive red of the fruit may appear in bizarre combinations with chicken or green beans. It's a poor dessert cart that does not offer the berries in some form, often spread in a single layer over one of those flat Eurostyle tarts.

Because of their distinctive flavor and color, a modest amount of raspberries can be made to go a long way, adding to their appeal. The worldly-wise cynic will note that the continued high price of the fruit helps to maintain its standing in the ritzy precinct frequented by food mavens.

'They're expensive-but not too, commented Elka Gilmore, chef and owner of Tumbleweed in Beverly Hills, "scarce—but not so much that you can't get them. That's an almost ideal formula for a fashionable item The popularity of raspberries means that you can obtain them the year around, flown in from somewhere at a price. The cost can vary wildly. Within a two-day period recently, I found the fruit at $5 a basket and $2 a basket; in a strange role reversal, the higher rate was being charged by a supermarket chain known for low prices, while the relative bargain showed up on the counters of a luxury market that specializes in premium produce. So

Sidelights on history, distillation: I can't prove this, but I have the very strong impression that until the '70's. raspberries were well-appreciated but not considered the hallmark of culinary excellence that they are to-

If you look in the original editions of "L'Art Culinaire Française," you will find the berries listed but no great fuss made over them. From the pictures, it appears that strawberries were the fruit garnish of choice.

In Europe, raspberries are outranked by the tiny, much sought after and enormously expensive fraises de bois, wild strawberries. You can occasionally find them in the United States at enormous prices.

Framboise is the distillate of fermented raspberry juice-in other words, brandy made from raspberry

It takes 25 pounds of raspberries to make a fifth of framboise, so this liqueur is always going to be expensive But you use only a little at a time, a spoonful as a flavoring for dessert, so the cost is probably no worse than for good quality vanilla

Framboise, like all brandies, is quite colorless when it comes out of the still and, since it is not aged in wood, it stays that way. The liqueur is dry, but the flavor of raspberries comes through very distinctly.

The word framboise is French for raspberry, and when applied to the brandy it is a contraction of eau de vie de framboise. Much of the liqueur is distilled in Germany, where it is known as Himbeergeist, raspberry spirit, certainly the right word for it.

Those who find standard red raspberries a little too common can search out a new hybrid, the golden raspberry. The flavor is milder than the red variety but the color is a dusky gold that will stand out on the plate, as it had better, given the thumping price you will have to pay for this bit of conspicuous consump-

A rarity up to now, the golden is appearing in larger quantity, according to Jan de Lyser, executive vice president of the Fresh Produce Council in Los Angeles. But the price will remain substantially higher than for red berries.

Black raspberries have a taste of their own similar to more ordinary bush berries and, since this fruit is small and seedy, you're more likely to see it put up as jam than as a fresh produce item.

Pacific Northwest, and other centers of cultivation are found in Michigan, New York and the cool coastal plains of California.

Raspberries, like other berries, are highly perishable, so you should plan to eat them the same day you bring them home. If you must keep them, don't wash them (dampness promotes mold) and remove any crushed berries. Refrigerate the berries in their baskets in a lightly closed paper

When you find that you can't use berries promptly, turn them into fresh jam. Stew them in a heavybottom saucepan with sugar to taste until they reduce to a thick puree. Watch the pan carefully since the mixture will boil over if given half a Cool to serve. The jam will keep several days in the refrigerator.

The season runs from early summer through early fall. Depending on supply, you might find raspberries for as little as $1 as basket. That would be the time to indulge in your own raspberry festival, as suggested by the following recipes.

RASPBERRY SHORTCAKE

2 or 3 baskets of fresh raspberries Sugar to taste

21/2 cups sifted cake flower 11/2 teaspoons baking powder 1/2 teaspoon baking soda 1/4 teaspoon salt 3 large eggs

6 ounces (11/2 sticks) unsalted butter, room temperature 11/2 cups granulated sugar 1 cup buttermilk, room temperature

1 teaspoon vanilla Whipped cream for garnish

Wash and pick over berries. Combine with sugar to taste, crushing berries lightly to render their juices.

Butter and flour two 9-inch round cake pans or a 9-by-13-inch cake pan. Preheat oven to 350 F. Sift together cake flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Beat eggs in small bowl. Add vanilla to buttermilk.

Cream butter and sugar until fluffv. about 4 minutes in electric mixer. Add eggs a little at a time until incorporated, beating all the while. Stir in a quarter of flour mixture, then

9 to 5 Mon thru Fri

Raspberries are a ritzy berry, indeed about a third of milk. Continue this way until all ingredients have been used. Overenthusiastic beating will give cake a chewy texture, but I don't think this matters in shortcake.

Turn batter into pans and bake about 30 minutes for round pans, about 35 for rectangular pan. Let cake cool about 5 minutes on rack and then turn out to cool further. The cake may be served slightly warm if

To serve, split a slice of cake per serving and top with the crushed berries and whipped cream. Terrific!

The flavor of raspberries combines sumptuously with chocolate. Many restaurants serve a raspberry sauce with chocolate cake.

RASPBERRY SAUCE

As many raspberries as you can af-

Sugar to taste Cognac or framboise, optional

In a food processor, crush berries with sugar (start with about 2 tablespoons per basket and add more to taste) and add about a teaspoon of liqueur, if you like, per basket.

You can also do this by hand, crushing berries with fork or potato masher, although processor does a more thorough job.

You can serve sauce as it is, but it is more elegant (and expensive) to remove seeds by passing puree through a sieve.

Refrigerate puree if not used right

One of the most famous raspberry dishes is Peaches Melba, invented by Auguste Escoffier around the turn of the century and named for the famous Australian soprano Nellie

Per serving: 1/2 fresh peach 3 to 4 tablespoons (or more) raspberry sauce 1 scoop best quality vanilla ice cream

If peaches are perfectly ripe—that is, if skin comes off easily-you can use them as they are. Otherwise they need to be poached; recipe follows.

Place a half peach atop ice cream and cover with sauce. That's it-and a wonderful combination it is.

Poached Peaches: Peel peaches by dropping in boiling water for about 30 seconds. Split and remove seed. Place in saucepan with water and sugar to cover, using proportion of 2 parts water to 1 part sugar. Bring to simmer and cook very gently until peaches are tender. You should use fairly ripe peaches for best flavor, so this will take only a few minutes. Test frequently. Remove from heat and add 1 tablespoon vanilla to liquid. Allow peaches to cool in syrup.

Please don't use canned peaches for this. The flavor of the fresh fruit is incomparable.

Raspberries go so well with peaches that I have developed this very simple but superb dessert when both fruits are so plentiful, as they are in summer. Some people serve poached peaches with raspberry sauce-in effect Peaches Melba without the ice cream-and call it Peaches Cardinal, So . . .

FRUIT SALAD CARDINAL

Combine sliced fresh peaches and fresh raspberries, ideally about half and half, but economic reality may advise the use of more peaches. Add sugar to taste and a tablespoon of framboise, optional, crushing the berries lightly. Allow the fruit to stand for at least 20 minutes beofre serving.

Raspberries also go beautifully with melon. You can add chunks of cantaloupe, honeydew or other similar melon to the mix with fine here's an old home on Eight Mile Road echoing with children's laughter.

The children also sing, talk, whisper, and playfully chide each other — all the things brothers and sisters normally do. The back door opens into a sunny enclosed porch where children's toys and clothes are stowed away in boxes.

A STATE A

Inside are cheerfully decorated children's bedrooms, a large family room furnished with comfortable couches and chairs. Just like home.

Early in the mornings Joyce Eskra sits quietly at the long wooden kitchen table in this Northville Township house, enjoying a stolen moment of solitude before the children awaken. She and her husband, John, are the coordinators of New Rainbow Steps, a special foster-treatment home. The home is licensed through Judson Center in Detroit.

"Better known in 'dirty words' as a group home," Eskra explains. She remembers when plans were first presented to locate the foster home in Northville Township, prompting residents to sign petitions to keep it out of their community.

"That was before they understood what the home was about," Eskra says. "People didn't understand we were going to take care of children here."

She describes New Rainbow Steps as a "project of love and caring — a true community effort with people from surrounding communities helping children to overcome pain, embarrassment, and ignorance."

The Eskras are trying to get suburban communities in Wayne and Oakland counties to open more foster homes to relieve the stress borne by the few operators coordinating such projects now. Joyce Eskra said she thinks ignorance plays a big role in people's reluctance to become involved in foster parenting. "People don't know enough "People don't know enough about it. We have to enlighten communities to show the children what can be accomplished if everyone works together," she says.

The couple's ultimate goal is to establish a network of foster homes in the area and to recruit more foster adoptive parents.

When possible, it's desirable to return children to their biological parents, Eskra explains. Sometimes that can't be accomplished, however.

"As the drug problem increases, more and more kids are entering the program," she says.

Joyce Eskra feeds one of the newest members of the family

A PLACE TO CALL HOME

"It's only going to get worse."

Upon retiring, Joyce and John Eskra invested their life savings into New Rainbow Steps. The couple applied to the Internal Revenue Service for tax-exempt status so they could be eligible. for financial aid. However, the IRS turned them down, according to Joyce Eskra, because it was determined that there was too much potential for the couple to make a profit.

Community businesses, residents, and organizations have offered support to Joyce and John Eskra as they operate New Rainbow Steps, a special treatment foster-care home in Northville Township.

Joyce Eskra said she is grateful to many people for their donations of time services and items time, services, and items.

In Northville, Holloway's Old-Fashioned Bakery regularly donates baked goods to the Eskras. Also, Richie Holloway recently supplied hot dogs and buns to the Novi Teen Center, a group for local youths sponsored by Novi Youth Assistance.

Other contributing Northville residents include Harvey Seymour and Jean Schurr, who donate toys and clothing. Also, Joann Leavitt gives clothes, toys, and transportation to the Eskras and their foster children.

The Northville Township Fire Department fills the New Rainbow Steps pool every year, enabling the children to enjoy a season of swimming. And Northville Public Schools has been a helpful, excellent resource, Eskra said.

In Novi, employees of Novi Digital supplied Easter baskets, a Santa Claus, Christmas gifts, clothes, and toys to the home. Kiwanis Club Novi South has donated tickets to ball games, horseback riding classes, clothes, furniture, and educational programs. The club also has contributed popcorn to the Novi Teen Center and to the Judson Center.

Novi Youth Assistance helps by sending teens to the home to provide one-on-one interaction and programming with the children. The visits assist the kids in learning morals and social skills, Eskra explained.

Members of the Meadowbrook Congregational Church in Novi also have donated clothing and toys.

Your Attic Storage Company in Farmington Hills has supplied storage bins for clothing and furniture, ensuring that no child goes to the home without proper clothing because the foster parents have a place to store all donations.

The First Church of the Nazarene

The First Church of the Nazarene in Farmington Hills has donated clothing. And Dr. Manny Agan has provided free medical care to the children. Farmington Hills resident Amanda Campbell has donated clothing and cooked meals for children at the home.

children at the home.

In Canton, "The Cuttage" provides all of the children free haircuts. And in Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs.
Shanestani provide clothing, toys and outings for the kids. Mr. and Mrs. Al Walton of Plymouth also offer clothing, toys, outings, and individualized instructions.

The generosity also extends to Union Lake, where Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Cooley provide individualized boating instructions to the children, as well as acting as a daytime respite for kids.

In Milford, Mr. and Mrs. Jack
Canfield donate food, clothing, furniture, repairs, transportation, canoeing and skiing lessons, and fill the role of "aunt and uncle."

Officials at United Memorial
Gardens are in the process of making a plaque to put on the grave of

Newcomers hosts new couples event

By BRENDA DOOLEY

Members of the Northville Newcomers are encouraged to take part in "Super Star," a fun-filled informal event for couples.

The activity takes place Sept. 23 from 7 p.m. until midnight at the Northville Community Recreation Center, 303 W. Main St. in Northville. Chairpersons of "Super Star" are Linda Cooley and Kim Reservations will be accepted through Sept. 16. Call Cooley at 348-6951 to make reservations. The event is limited to 50 couples. Cost is $24 per couple.

"Super Star" makes its debut this year as an event planned for the Newcomers. The gathering gives participating teams a chance to travel from station to station to test their skills in games such as Pic-tionary, darts, bowling, squirt gun target shooting, and others.

Couples are asked to bring appetizers to the event and to wear blue jeans, sneakers or casual clothing.

Choralaires to conduct auditions

Interested in singing with a community group?

Novi Choralaires, which includes several members from Northville, invites residents to attend a rehearsal on Tuesday, Sept. 12 at the Novi Middle School. The rehearsals are held weekly from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Tuesdays.

Auditions will be conducted following the Sept. 12 rehearsal for anyone interested in joining the Choralaires.

The group's singing season begins in September and runs through May. Singers host two annual concerts for the community, one at Christmas and one in the spring, usually in celebration of Mother's

The Choralaires is an auditioned vocal ensemble comprised of about 50 men and women from local communities, organized in 1974. Director of the group is Janet Wassilak. The group entertains at civic events, church functions, service clubs and nursing homes.

For membership information call Susan Thomas at 348-2882 or president Ruth Sill at 349-8278.

Hairsylists offer Victorian touches

Stylists at Margo's House of Styles on Cady Street in Northville will gladly help residents and guests planning to attend the Victorian Festival choose an appropriate hairstyle to reflect the time period.

Ladies at the beauty shop, including Margo herself, have researched the hairstyles of the Victorian era in preparation of the festival. Popular looks included the "Gibson Girl" style and long Victorian locks swept off the neck.

Residents must make an appointment at Margo's by Sept. 13 if interested in receiving a Victorian hairstyle. Hairpieces can be fixed and arranged in advance to save time during the actual hairstyle appointment. Call Margo's at 348-9130 for more information.

Garden Club hosts upcoming meeting

Members of the Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will meet Monday, Sept. 11 for a "Bonsai Demonstration" by George Randall of English Gardens.

Woman's Club releases program schedule

The Northville Woman's Club will begin its 97th year of meeting with an opening luncheon on Oct. 6 at the Meadowbrook Country Club. Special speaker will be Ronna Romney.

Members meet on the first and third Fridays of the month at 1:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville, unless otherwise noted.

Officers for the 1989-90 year include Geraldine Mills, president; Mary Louise Cutler, vice president; Karen Knauss, recording secretary; Ruth Beagan, corresponding secretary; and Gloria Col-

Upcoming programs include "A Bit of Verse" by Helen Garber; "Your House is for the Birds" by Dr. Grover Niergarth; "Women of the Himalayas" by Betty Lennox; "Women and Taxes" by Sandy Smith-Rae; "Music of the Season" by Northville High School; "New Diagnosis-Osteoporosis" by Dr. William Conley; "Diamond's are a Girl's Best Friend" by Orin Jewelers; "The Look of the '90s" by Susan Zinger; "Pretty Committee" by Gilbert & Sullivan Selections, University of Michigan; "Health and How You Think" by Rita Long; and the annual tureen luncheon with entertainment by "Innisfree."

Victorian fashion show planned

Merchants along Mary Alexander Court in Northville plan to host a fund-raising Victorian Fashion Show and Trunk Sale on Sunday, Sept. 10 at Mill Race Village's New School Church from 1-4 p.m.

Those who still need a costume to wear during the Victorian Festival will have a chance to buy clothing that reflects the era following the fashion show.

A portion of the proceeds from the show will be donated to the Northville Historical Society.

Merchants sponsoring the event include Crawfords Bakery, Juan Carlos Restaurant and Carry-Out, Party Post Ltd. — Party Supplies and Peddlers Four Gift and Accessories Shop.

Visiting merchants and clothing experts plan to take part in the show, which will feature a full line of men's, women's and children's Victorian clothing and accessories. Participating merchants include Lynn Radtke of "Apple Annie's" in Ypsilanti; Susan Brisbin of "A Stitch in Time" in Toledo, Ohio; Sharon Burton of "Burton Gallery" in Plymouth; Beth Terza, a seamstress and collector of 19th century clothing of Dearborn; and Jeff O'Donnell of the "Quarter Master Shops" in Port Huron.

Following the fashion show some of the clothing and accessories will be on display at shops on Mary Alexander Court. Clothing will be available for sale again on the dates of the Victorian Festival, Sept. 15-17, in front of the Mary Alexander Court shops.

The event was organized by Chuck and Mary Keys.

Children find love at local foster home

"There is no money in foster homes. We are running totally in the red," Joyce says. "John and I need help."

They need sturdy, reliable playground equipment. And they need a larger home so the kids can have their own rooms, Joyce says.

How do they keep going with what they have? "We talk and talk and talk and talk and pray a lot," she says.

Joyce is a retired social worker. During her career she worked in the prison system, where she said 90 percent of her cases were foster children.

"That told me something," she says. "I saw that families in crisis were getting the short end of the stick ... I saw children getting hurt. I saw children getting lost in the system." Her observations stayed with her and when she retired, Joyce decided to do something to correct the wrongs she had witnessed.

'John and I have tried to see if we could make a difference in childrens' lives," she continues. "Kids do succeed. We have to give them love and they will learn.

"A lot of times people don't understand the kids and they expect the worst - it takes a lot of understanding. Many come here and they have not tasted a melon. Some don't have manners or know proper language or socializing skills. It's not an easy job.' But it's a satisfying job. The Eskras have adopted three of their foster children and said they are open to adopting more. They also have seven sons of their own. More than 100 foster children have been under their care.

Joyce has a photo album overflowing with snapshots to remind her of the successes - proof that love makes a difference in a child's life. She looks at a photo of a baby when the infant was first brought to New Rainbow Steps. The child stares blankly into the camera lens. Now, nearly a year later, the child laughs, chatters and finds delight in a tiny stuffed teddy bear that plays tinny music.

Children in the Eskra home also learn what it's like to have a grandmother — Joyce's mother, Jane Francis Eskra, lives with the couple. "She's a vital part of this household," Joyce says. "We're a 'family' family.

As children filter into the kitchen to fix their breakfast, Joyce continues her plea to communities for more involvement.

"I want people to understand our future is here," she says, gazing at the children. "All communities have to get together because everyone has something to share."

Training to become a foster parent involves a few hours of instruction each week. For more information about the process contact Joyce Eskra at 348-3390 at New Rainbow Steps.

Why the name New Rainbow Steps? "Because each step a child takes toward their future is one step closer to the rainbow . . . one step closer to their pot of gold," Eskra

West Michigan provides vacation fun

By DAWN RIFFENBURG

Don't forget the west side of the state in your early-fall travels. There's a wide variety of activities from which to choose along Lake Michigan's shoreline, and in just over two hours, you can be there.

Here are some suggestions for trips to the west

MARSHALL

This city easily falls through the cracks when people are seeking a vacation spot Located on I-94 between Jackson and Battle Creek, it doesn't appear to have much to offer

But consider this: Marshall has 44 registered historical markers. The city is known for its beautifully preserved 19th-century homes. The historical society will host the 26th annual Home Tour this weekend.

In addition, the local chamber of commerce, as well as many area businesses, will provide visitors with a walking-tour directory so pedestrians can view the buildings from the exterior.

The list features nearly 100 structures and offers brief descriptions as well, so a trip to Marshall could easily span several days.

There are two historic bed-andbreakfast inns in town, if visitors would care to truly submerge themselves in history for a while.

The chamber of commerce can also provide visitors with a cemetery tour map, which features graves of people instrumental to the establishment of Marshall and Michigan.

One restored 1860s home is open to the public. The Honolulu House Museum was built by the former U.S. Consul to the Hawaiian Islands and was restored and turned into a museum. It features period furnishings.

Marshall is also home to the original Win Schuler Restaurant. Now called Schuler's Restaurant & Winston's Pub, it has served the community for more than 80 years.

For a different kind of dining treat, visitors might want to try the Cornwell Turkey House. The menu focuses exclusively on — you guessed it — turkey, from sandwiches and salads to full dinners; some turkey surprises include turkey dogs and a Sloppy Tom, which is a sloppy joe with ground turkey instead of ground

Marshall's Honolulu House Museum is open for tours

After indulging in a turkey fest, diners can spend hours browsing through the gift shops and antique barn, then end up back at the restaurant for fresh-baked pies and campsites, complete with shower facilities and electrical hookups. The dunes are located on I-94 near Bridgman.

GRAND HAVEN

This community is settled around the Grand River extending into Lake Michigan The area is well-known for its sandy beaches, unlimited water activities, and its dunes and charterboat fishing.

Take the Harbor Steamer sternwheeler for a 1½-hour tour of the waterfront via the Grand River and Spring Lake, For more information. call (616) 842-8950.

Make sure to take time to visit the World's Largest Musical Fountain at the Grand Haven Community Center. Visitors are treated nightly to a 20minute show of synchronized water, lights, and music.

SAUGATUCK

This community is popular for its restored homes and quaint bed-andbreakfast inns. However, there is truly something for everyone: pickyour-own fruit, boat cruises, dune rides, golf, and antique shops are a few attractions from which to choose.

The Queen of Saugatuck provides narrated cruises along the Kalamazoo River and Lake Michigan aboard an authentic 67-foot stern-wheeler. Call (616) 857-5801.

For a slightly different trip, try the Saugatuck Dune Rides. Ride the sand dunes between Goshorn Lake and Lake Michigan. Call (616) 857-2253 for information.

Early mistakes doom Northville footballers

South Lyon wins opener 28-14

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Against a solid football program like South Lyon, you can't afford to fall behind by three touchdowns and still expect to win - especially on the

But after 12 minutes of play last Friday (Sept. 1), that's exactly the situation for Northville Coach Darrel Schumacher and his Mustangs: down 21-0 to the Lions. Northville did manage to regroup and outscore South Lyon 14-7 the rest of the way, but the end result was a seasonopening 28-14 defeat in a non-conference clash at South Lyon.

"We dug ourselves a big hole in the beginning," Schumacher said. 'Even though we played better in the last three quarters, we were too far behind to begin with.

'Our big disappointment is with the defense. We won't be able to survive in the Western Lakes if we keep playing like that."

The misfortune came early and often for the Mustangs. On the Lions' first play from scrimmage, quarterback Scott Barabas rambled 80 yards for a touchdown as Northville was completely fooled on the option. The point-after attempt by Jason Lipke made it 7-0.

'We had a few missed tackles and a couple blown assignments on the first touchdown run," Schumacher said. "You work against the option for three weeks in practice and the kids still make mistakes when they see it — that's the way it is in highschool sports."

South Lyon went 57 yards in five plays for another T.D. on its second possession, and again, the option caused much of the damage. The scoring play was a 10-yard run by Kevin Valimont on the option.

The final scoring drive of the first quarter came after Mustang quarterback Steve Bastian suffered his second interception of the game. Barabas then hooked up with speedy receiver Dave Osborn on a pass play / run that covered 57 yards and the score.

"We dug ourselves a big hole in the beginning. Our big disappointment is with the defense. We won't be able to survive in the Western Lakes if we keep playing like

> Darrel Schumacher Mustang Football Coach

"(Osborn) has excellent speed," Schumacher said. "We were aware of that, but he still ran right past our defense.

"From that point on, we started playing football, but we were already

South Lyon drove deep into Northville territory at the start of quarter number two, but the Mustangs stopped the Lions on downs at the 9-yard line. Schumacher made a quarterback change in favor of sophomore Ryan Huzjak and moved Bastian - a senior - to a receiver position. Twelve plays and 91 yards later, Huzjak threw an 11-yard touchdown strike to Bastian, and

Noel Korowin's kick made it 21-7. The Mustangs tried to cut into the lead once more just before halftime, but a 28-yard field goal attempt by Korowin was short

The entire third quarter was dominated by the defenses, but South Lyon added an insurance score at the 4-minute mark of the fourth on an 8yard run by backup quarterback Dennis Moyer.

Northville took the ensuing kickoff, moved down the field and wrapped up the scoring on a 15-yard pass from Bastian to Steve Vigh — but with only 30 seconds left in the game, the comeback was short-lived Huzjak hit Jamie Miller with a 32vard reception in the drive to set up the touchdown. In his first varsity game ever, Huzjak was 14-for-21 for 147 yards, one touchdown and two interceptions.

"The sophomore showed he can direct the team," Schumacher said. "We'll wait to see who we'll start against Salem, but we're not afraid to start Huzjak — eventually, he'll be an outstanding quarterback."

Bastian was just 2-for-7 for 28 yards and two interceptions, but he did account for both scores, catching one T.D. and throwing for the other. Defensively, free safety Neil White paced Northville with 10 solo tackles and three assists as the Lions rushed for 335 yards and passed for 138

"I think South Lyon outplayed us," Schumacher said. "We gave up more yards in this game than I can remember giving up in a long time. We were in the game, except for all the big plays.

The task doesn't get any easier as the Mustangs host Plymouth Salem tomorrow, Sept. 8, in the Northville home opener. The Rocks nipped the Mustangs 21-14 last season, and returning fullback Pat Bowie burned Northville for 178 rushing yards.

"It could be one of Salem's best teams in years," Schumacher said. "They are outstanding at the skilled positions and Bowie killed us last

"We have our hands full. We'll need a much better effort defensively to have a chance, but we've got the kids who can meet the challenge."

Mustang hoopsters rebound

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

After committing nearly 40 turnovers in a season-opening 50-35 loss to South Lyon on Aug. 31, the young Northville cagers needed something — anything — to rebuild their confidence and momentum.

That opportunity came less than 24 hours later when the Mustangs used a trapping, pressing defense to crush Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard 44-25 in the second round of the two-game South Lyon Invite.

"Our pressure defense really gave (Richard) a hard time," Northville Coach Ed Kritch said. "They have a good basketball program even though they are Class D, so it was a nice way of bouncing back. It was a good win for us."

The Mustangs improved offensively from the season opener as well, outscoring the Fighting Irish 12-6 in the first period before taking a 19-11 halftime lead. A 14-6 rally in the third quarter increased the lead to 31-17, and the Mustangs cruised from there. 'If we can execute offensively the way we did against Gabriel Richard, that's really all I can ask," Kritch said. "We scored from the outside and the inside. If we can get to 40 points, we should find a way to win with our defense. I don't think we'll be able to score much more than that a game."

Junior forward Kate Holstein scored 13 points and Sue LaPrad chipped in 12 for Northville. Holstein added a game-high 11 rebounds to complete a fine all-around game.

'We kept our spacing on offense and made much better decisions," Kritch said. "We made significant improvements for game one to game two - we certainly didn't want to start the season 0-2."

SOUTH LYON 50, NORTHVILLE 35: The Lion defense took the Mustangs out of their half-court offense with relentless full-court pressure, and the move resulted in 39 Northville turnovers. The Mustangs did manage to stay close through two

Netters blank Novi 7-0 in '89 opener

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Northville netters passed their first test of the '89 campaign by dumping Kensington Valley Conference powerhouse Novi 7-0 in the season opener on Aug. 30.

The Mustangs — who won the WLAA Western Division title last fall - cruised to three easy doubles wins but had to struggle through a pair of grueling matches in the singles flights in order to shut out the stubborn Wildcats - the defending KVC

"It was a nice way to start out," Northville Coach Uta Filkin said. 'We had a few close ones in the singles matches, but you have to expect that in the season opener."

The Vogt sisters - Karen and Diane - ushered in their first season at the No. 1 and No. 2 singles slots with impressive victories. Karen blasted Niloo Said (6-1, 6-0) in the top singles match while Diane topped Rita Kang 6-4, 6-1 at No. 2.

Shannon Price started slow against Jo Johnson at No. 3 but eventually ran away with a 7-6 (9-7), 6-1 straightset win But at No. 4, it took Alicia Hanson over three hours and a thirdset tie-breaker to dispose of Gina Knight, 7-5, 3-6, 7-6 (10-8).

"Alicia probably didn't play as well as she can, but she pulled it out,"

Filkin said.

re much more lopsided in doubles, as the Mustangs won all three matches by a combined score of 36-8. At No. 1, Neysa Colizzi and Kavitha Sriraman teammed up to trounce Debby Butler and Nikki Nelson, 6-0, 6-1. The No. 2 duo of Tricia Tumminia and Rebecca Bellamy bounced Chris Champine and Michelle Timreck (6-3, 6-2), and the third team of Julie Howard and Merilynn Millgard defeated Mindy Watkins and Donna Kadar (6-0, 6-2).

The two teams also played three exhibition doubles matches, and Northville won all of those as well.

"I thought we'd be a little weaker in singles this season, but I was hop-ing we'd be stronger in doubles," Filkin said. "So far, the doubles look real good, and by winning all five of the doubles matches we played, it shows we have good depth.

"There were really no surprises. I think we're going to be very competitive this year and the win over Novi was a good start. We still have a lot of people at new positions and we were shaky at times, but we responded and that's what's important

The Mustangs will travel to West Bloomfield High School to take on the Lakers this afternoon (Sept. 7) in another non-conference clash.

Novi golfers stun Northville, 210-214

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Novi and Northville haven't met on the golf course in years. So when the two neighbors hooked up on Aug 28 at Salem Hills, nobody really knew what to expect

The Mustangs are coming off a stellar season, with division, conference and regional titles as well as a top-six finish in the state to their credit in '88 The Wildcats, on the other hand, struggled to a 3-6 record a year ago That's why Novi's 210-214 triumph over Northville came as a

"I don't know if it was first-day jitters or what, but our top kids really didn't do anywhere near as well as I thought they would," Mustang Coach Don Morgan said "This is a tremen-dous learning time for us and they know who it was that didn't perform Maybe it will be a blessing in disguise because it woke us up — we know we're better than that "

Junior Chris Lemmon led Northville, but his nine-hole total of 41 was several strokes higher than he's been shooting all summer He was followed by Paul Warner (42), Kevin Krupansky (43) and Todd Christian-

Kickers win 1 of 3 at opening invite

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Northville soccer program isn't getting any worse, but the Detroit Country Day Invitational is certainly getting better year after

The Mustangs kicked off the '89 season at the DCD tournament on Aug. 25-26, just as they have the past three years. But unlike in 1987, when Northville brought home the title, the Mustangs aren't one of the top competitors any more - and managed just one win in three tries

"The calibre of play seems to get better year after year," Mustang Coach Dave Yezback explained "The past few years, the weaker schools haven't had much success at the tournament, so they have been dropping out. Strong teams like Brother Rice and Birmingham Groves have been taking their

.The young Mustangs got their first taste of victory in the opening match on Aug. 25 against Harper Woods Notre Dame, and needed a goal by Brad Maliszewski late in the first half to slip past the Fighting Irish 1-0

"(Notre Dame) is a relatively young team like we are, so it was a good match-up," Yezback said. "It was a nice win and was a good start for us. It gave me an opportunity to see everybody play.

The Northville defense allowed 18 shots on goal, but junior goaltender Larry Osiecki rose to the occasion and stopped them all to record his first varsity shutout.

"Larry did a real nice job — he kept us in the game," Yezback said.

The Mustangs ended up with only 10 shots on goal, but Maliszewski converted one of them 34 minutes into the first half and that was the margin of victory. Maliszewski took a crossing pass from Matt Rossing and touched it in off the far post for an impressive tally

BIRMINGHAM GROVES 3, NOR-THVILLE 1: In round two the following day, Northville fell to a tough Groves squad, but actually played pretty well despite the loss.

'Groves was tougher and more physical than Notre Dame, but we hung in there against them," Yezback said. "Last year they took us

At the 11-minute mark of the first half, Groves beat goalie Drew Leppert for the first score of the game, but the Mustangs came back to tie it eight minutes later as Maliszewski took a pass from Tom Ursel, maneuvered around two defenders, and let loose with a shot that found the back of the net. Just before the half, Groves scored we've matured."

"(Notre Dame) is a relatively young team like we are, so it was a good match-up,' Yezback said. "It was a nice win and was a good start for us."

again and then two minutes into the second half, the Falcons made it 3-1. For the game, Northville outshot Grvoes 15-12, but failed to convert as many scoring chances.

'We saw improvement in our defense, and I was happy to see that," Yezback said. "I think (Groves) capitalized more on their chances than we did, and they had possession of the ball in our end a little more than we would have liked."

DEARBORN EDSEL FORD 5, NORTHVILLE 2: Former Northville residents Scott and Steve Weiger, now living in Dearborn and playing for Edsel Ford, combined to score three of five goals for the Thunderbirds in a match that knocked the Mustangs out of the tournament.

We played them tough, but the score doesn't show it," Yezback said. "They've got the two outstanding offensive players — the Weiger brothers - and really, they were the difference.

The first three minutes of the contest was all Northville. Less than two minutes into the game, Maliszewski scored his third goal of the year on an unassisted play. Then, a minute later, Dan Brugman took a pass from Brandon Cuadra and caught the upper corner of the goal from the right side to give the Mustangs a quick 2-0

Edsel Ford got one back late in the first half on an indirect kick from 10 yards out and then tied it with another goal off another indirect kick in the second half. Steve Weiger made it 3-2 with a spectacular 360degree turn and shot that beat Leppert, and Ford proceeded to add two more tallies the rest of the way.

"The shots on goal numbers were close (13-10) but we gave up some goals that we shouldn't have especially on indirect kicks," Yezback said. "But that's the benefit of this tourney. We've learned a lot and

'Golden' Opening

The Grand Opening of a new 18-hole championship course at Fox Hills Country Club in Plymouth — 'The Golden Fox' — drew over 200 guests on Aug. 29, including U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell (R-Plymouth) and State Rep. Gerald Law (R-Plymouth). The new 6,783-yard course was designed by Arthur Hills. The Golden Fox project — which includes a new clubhouse facility and driving range - increases the Fox Hills Country Club complex to include two clubhouses and 45 holes, making it one of the largest public courses in the state. Above is the oblong green on the par-four 15th hole, with undulating hills in the front and huge sand bunkers in the back.

quarters, thanks to some fine defense, but the second half was a different story.

We were competitive and we played hard, but South Lyon really messed us up offensively," Kritch said. "Our big concern is our offense. We played good enough defense to

The Lions pulled in front 13-9 after one quarter and 24-20 at the intermission, but a 16-6 run in the third was the big difference.

"We had 39 turnovers and that's ridiculous," Kritch explained. "We were completely out of synch." Pam Yezback led the sputtering offense with six points, and Holstein average 42 per game. Needless to added nine rebounds and five steals. The defensive stars were LaPrad and Karen Cavanaugh.

"We have 11 kids on the roster, and all 11 scored, but we have to get greater production out of our starters," Kritch said. "Our five starters combined to score 24 points - last season we had three starters say, we struggled offensively."

ROSTER ADDITION: Last week's girls basketball preview article failed to mention reserve guard Shari Abramovich. The 5-foot-5 junior is up from the junior varsity ranks and Kritch categorized her as "a good outside shooter.'

The Record regrets the omission.

Posture essential for spinal health

By BRUCE M. WEINTRAUB

Remember when your mother told you to stand up straight?

It was good advice.

Chiropractor Martin Brown - who is helping to organize a beauty pageant to emphasize good posture said the Michigan Chiropractic Society has deemed October as "good posture month."

'Good posture is essential for proper spinal health," he said.

Brown said poor posture can be caused in a number of ways: birth defects, visual problems, emotional problems, weak muscles, improper nutrition or weight problems.

He said the effects of poor posture can be serious, including poor health, discomfort and fatigue. "Poor posture can also contribute to shallowness of breath, a cramped chest cavity and faulty digestion."

To improve posture, Brown said people should sit on chairs that provide firm back support, regularly do stretches to relieve strain accumulated in the lower back, and avoid bending to pick up heavy ob-

He said poor sleep posture also invites backaches. "People should make sure to sleep on a firm mattress, lie on their side with a bend to the knees and do not lie on their stomach."

Brown added that when driving long distances, people should get out of the car every hour and stretch. He also recommended using a cushion at the small of the back.

"And if the trip is longer than a few hours — fly," he said.

Chiropractor Kevin Crain, of the Crain Chiropractic Clinic in Novi, said people can attain good posture mainly by learing good habits.

"People should sit up straight and learn not to slouch," said Crain. pageant director Betty Kilbertus at "Basically do all the things you 268-4363 mother told you to do."

He added poor posture can lead to greater wear and tear on the body.

"If posture continues to be a problem, seek the advice of a chiropractor," Brown said, "because the chances of correcting the problem are excellent."

In what Brown called an effort to promote public awareness of good posture, the Michigan Chiropractic Society will present its second annual "Miss Michigan Beautiful Posture Pageant" Sunday, Sept. 17 at 2 p.m. at the Macomb Center for the Performing Arts.

"The central focus will be correct posture, in addition to beauty, poise and charm with an evening-gown and swimsuit competition," he said.

He added the "Miss Michigan Beautiful Posture" will receive a U.S. savings bond, a diamond ring, a fur jacket and other prizes worth

Local celebrities of television, radio and sports fame will join the official judging panel. Entertainment will also be featured at the pageant.

Brown said single females 16 or older, residing or attending school in Michigan, are still eligible to enter.

Your mood can influence your eating habits

By SYLVA DVORAK, M.S.

If you have ever had a craving for certain foods, there may be a reason. Current research findings suggest that food may affect our mood by altering certain chemicals that reach our brain. This means that feelings such as fear, anger, boredom, tension and loneliness can influence what we eat. Scientists are studying why some people cannot control their food intake when certain moods overtake them.

One theory suggests that when we eat carbohydrates, they have a "calming" effect on our moods, while proteins act to increase energy. Other studies found that we may be sensitive to certain foods which cause us to act or react in certain ways Why this occurs is not completely understood, and the studies and theories are not conclusive. Some common symptoms listed below may indicate you have a sensitivity to certain foods: migraines, nausea, asthma, constipation / diarrhea, rashes, itching, sneezing, runny nose, phlegm, hyperactivity, mood swings, irritability, palpitations, fatigue, dizziness, weight fluctuations, water retention, and weakness and pain in joints and bones

Even though these symptoms are common to many ailments they may provide clues to whether you have a food sensitivity. Of course, if the symptoms are extreme, see a physi-

One way to test if you are sensitive to a certain food is to totally eliminate it from your diet for at least one week. Reintroduce the food a week later and if the symptom disappeared but then reappeared after reintroducing the food, you may have found the culprit. Unfortunately, there is no exact medical test for food sensitivity yet. A word of caution: please do not make any drastic changes in your diet before consulting a dietician or your doctor.

Our moods are very delicate and almost any event can affect them And, while you can have no control over your natural drive to eat, you do have control over how you handle that drive. Rather than eating your way out of loneliness, sadness, and depression — and gain weight — try exercise and proper nutrition instead. Exercise combats unpleasant moods by releasing natural brain chemicals called endorphins which elevate moods. Exercise also uses up calories and increases your metabolism.

Further, eat foods high in complex carbohydrates and low in fats. Fresh fruits, vegetables, yogurt and other healthy foods will not adversely affect your moods and will help to control your weight.

Remember, you ultimately control what you eat.

OUR HISTORIC COLORS ARE LEGENDARY

Cook & Dunn's Historic Colors are a collection of authentic colors that are found in restorations dating as far back as the eighteenth century.

Historic Colors are part of the heritage of America's past. They include the soft, subtle tones of the Colonial era to the more vivid, distinctive colors of the Victorian period.

They represent the warm, muted tones that were selected to complement the natural wood tones and white plaster surfaces of the time.

The movement to protect and preserve the buildings of our forefathers, more recently the magnificent Victorian homes of the late 1800's, has focused greater attention on these colors and finishes.

- Custom made from high quality paint bases
- Designed to protect as well as decorate the surface
- Historic colors available in complete selection of quality interior and exterior finishes
- Interior finishes include flat, semi-gloss and gloss enamel in latex or alkyd (oil base)
- Exterior finishes include house paint, trim enamel and floor enamel in latex or alkyd

Use these historic Cook & Dunn colors to recapture the romance of the past and add charm and elegance to both traditional and contemporary homes.
