Cooks at medical coverage

By STEPHEN KELLMAN

A recent change of ambulance service in Plymouth has Northville officials questioning the level of emergency medical service available to residents in this city.

But according to the president of the ambulance company in question, medical service to Northville will only improve.

"You begin to wonder whether you should be checking with your partners," said City Manager Steven Walters, "when one drops out without notice." The cities of Plymouth and Northville were both involved in an agreement with Community Emergency Medical Service (CEMS) to provide advanced life support to their communities, until Plymouth's recent decision to switch to the Huron Valley Ambulance Service.

The current concerns are the result

McManus quits city election

By STEPHEN KELLMAN

The race for city council members may be a cakewalk, as Northville business person Mark McManus dropped out of the running Monday — leaving just two candidates for two open seats.

McManus' withdrawal leaves the two city council seats open to incumbent Jerry Mittman and former council member G. Dewey Gardner, unless more candidates enter before the Oct. 1 filing deadline. The election is Tuesday, Nov. 7.

McManus announced his decision not to run on Monday, after compiling the 50 to 75 signatures required to file his nominating petition. He decided not to run due to the unexpected growth of his business, Computer Training and Support Corp.

"I won't be able to put the time in that I expected to," he said.

McManus had originally cited his concerns about the city's tax base and budget when announcing his campaign for a council seat. McManus had cited his 10 years of membership and three years as president of the Mount Pleasant Downtown Business Association, and his years of experience in the retail business, as qualifications. The council seat would have been his first elected position.

"I can run a successful business," he said, "and I think government should be run the same way. Change is needed, change is needed in all governmental offices."

McManus has not ruled out seeking political office in the future, or running in the next council elections in two years. "Because the response was so good," he said, "I might run again."

The two seats opening on the council are those currently held by Mittman and John Buckland. Buckland has decided not to run for re-election.

The mayor's seat is also up for election, with incumbent Christopher Johnson the only announced candidate.

First festival Victorian era shines in Northville

By BOB NEEDHAM

Both people and rain flooded downtown Northville during the first Victorian Festival, and organizers are calling the event a major success in spite of the weather.

Laurie Marrs — executive director of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the festival — said the three-day event was "absolutely beyond our dreams."

"Despite the terrible weather on Saturday, the merchants were extremely happy; the nonprofit groups were extremely happy. We've heard nothing but rave reviews."

The first festival of its kind started Friday with the opening of Art Market, the street arts and crafts show sponsored by the Northville Arts Commission. Booths for local organizations were set up. Groups of school children — most dressed in Victorian costume — toured the town. Horses and carriages provided transportation, as did a motorized "trolley." Television cameras provided publicity.

The day was sunny, but the attendance started out thin; some of the exhibitors commented they never ex-

Township sets 1990 tax rate

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

Northville Township's 1990 budget will be based on a 4.5762-mill tax rate, following unanimous board approval of the rate last Thursday.

The board was required to hold a hearing under the state's Truth-in-Taxation law, which requires local units of government to have a public hearing when the unit plans to collect more property tax money from existing sources than it did the previous year.

This often happens because of rising property values, but in the township's case, the increase is due to the new police millage, said Township Financial Director James Graham.

During last fall's election, township voters approved a 2-mill increase for the police department. Graham said a truth-in-taxation hearing would not have been needed if the police millage had been defeated.

At last Thursday's meeting, board members established a 1990 tax rate of 4.5762 mills. A mill is equal to $1 of tax for every $1,000 of assessed property value, or SEV (state-equalized valuation).

According to figures compiled by the township financial department, the general fund millage rate will be reduced from 8523 mills in 1989 to 7568 mills next year.

Other operating millage rates also will be reduced for the coming year. They include: original police funds dropping from 1.278 to 1.1352 mills and .5966 to .5298 mills, and the fire millage dropping from .4261 to .378 mills.

The township reported an increase in its total SEV from $284,209,760 in 1989 to $342,317,540 in 1990.

Zoning board okays Ward Church height

By BRUCE M. WEINTRAUB

The development of Ward Presbyterian Church is one step closer to reality following approval by the zoning board of appeals (ZBA) Monday on a variance to the church's height.

Board members voted 3-2 to allow the church to be built to an average height of 68.6 feet — 20 feet over the limitation in the ordinance that became law last month.

ZBA members Bernard Bach, Don Samhat and Tom Cook voted in favor of the variance. Karen Baja and Robert Willerer voted against it.

The church property is located on the northwest corner of Six Mile and Haggerty roads.

The issue of church height was on the ZBA agenda following a ruling by Township Attorney Ernest Essad that the township's recently approved ordinance limiting church height to an average of 48 feet applied to Ward's plan.

Ward Church received preliminary site plan approval from the planning commission on Aug. 8. The new church rules were approved by the township board two days later.

Essad said the case Schubiner vs. West Bloomfield Township applied to Ward and added the ZBA is the proper forum for Ward to seek a variance.

About 25 residents turned out for the discussion on the variance, which lasted over two hours. Most of the residents were opposed to the granting of the variance.

"I urge you to vote no (on the request) because it (the church) does not fall into the character and scheme of the community," said Karen Woodside, a resident who also sits on the planning commission.

In order to grant the variance, ZBA members had to determine that the height ordinance put an undue "hardship" on Ward Presbyterian.

Resident Paul Dunger said he did not believe the height limitation could be considered a hardship. "I think they (Ward) created this problem themselves."

Ward member and township resident Janet Hildebrand asked ZBA members the amount of money it would take to alter the church's plan.

"Our hardship is for two reasons: one is financial, we are giving to the limits now; and two is inconvenience,

"We abided by your ordinance and designed our church by your ordinance... To suggest that the church stop in its track is in total disregard for what we're doing."

— Harold Larson
Ward Church attorney

since our present facility (in Livonia) has inadequate parking."

Ward member Alan O'Brien said denial of the variance request would have cost the church an extra $500,000 to come up with a revised set of plans.

Ward Attorney Harold Larson said his group began its design process in 1986 and created its sanctuary based on the height limit of that time period.

"We abided by your ordinance and designed our church by your ordinance," Larson said. "To suggest that the church stop in its track is in total disregard for what we're doing."

"We submit to calling for a change now is an unnecessary hardship," he continued. "I submit that in light of the evidence since 1986, to tell the church to do an about-face is something other than substantial justice."

Baja said she personally feels that the church is lovely, "but beauty is in the eye of the beholder. I see no hardship, and there has to be a hardship in order to grant a variance."

Willerer said he does not believe the church architects have looked into every option for lowering the height of the sanctuary.

Cook said he did not see any other hardship for Ward other than financial and noted a variance cannot be granted because of a financial hardship. However, Cook did vote in favor of the Ward's variance request. He could not be reached for additional comment by press time.

Group forms to back bond issue

By BRUCE M. WEINTRAUB

A campaign committee called Citizens for Quality Education has been formed to raise money for the printing of literature supporting the Northville School District's $16-million bond issue.

The question will be put before district voters Oct. 5. Superintendent George Bell said a letter paid for by the committee will be sent in the mail to all registered voters in the district.

"Those letters should go out by the end of next week," Bell said, adding no telephone campaign has been established by the committee.

He noted the PTA is also urging its membership to vote in the election, although he said the group is not making a formal endorsement.

Bell said the school newsletter will be sent out late this week to every household in the Northville School District. He said the newsletter will contain facts about the bond issue, but will not make an endorsement.

Through the $16-million question, the district is proposing to make $4 million worth of school repairs, purchase $22 million worth of instructional equipment and build a new $8.5-million elementary school by 1993-94.

Also included in the $16-million proposal is a plan to reopen Cooke Junior High by the end of the 1990-91 school year.

Using what he terms a "very conservative" growth rate of 10 percent next year, Bell said the highest possible increase to the district's debt millage would be 1.4 mills if the bond issue passes.

Bell added the district has increased at a rate higher than 10 percent over the last three years and said he expects the millage increase to be around 1 mill.

One mill is $1 of tax for every $1,000 of assessed property value. For a resident with an SEV (state equalized valuation) of $100,000, 1 mill would mean an extra $100 of tax.

Currently, the district has a debt retirement millage of 4 mills.

Six polling places will open at 7 a.m. on Oct. 5, and will remain open until 8 p.m. that evening. The precincts will be set up at Northville High, Silver Springs Elementary, Amerman Elementary, Winchester Elementary, Northville city offices and Moraine Elementary.

The exact text of the question will read: "Shall Northville Public Schools, Wayne, Oakland and Washtenaw Counties, Michigan, borrow the sum of not to exceed Sixteen Million Dollars ($16,000,000) and issue its general obligation unlimited tax bonds therefore, for the purpose of defraying the costs of erecting, furnishing and equipping a new elementary school building and a maintenance storage addition to the administration building; remodeling and re-equipping school buildings; acquiring land for site purposes; constructing playground improvements; developing and improving athletic facilities and sites, and purchasing school buses?"

ADVERTISMENT
WINNERS CIRCLE
BY LAURIE KIPP

In August, the Michigan Lottery reported that jackpot prizes won in Lotto games had passed $1 billion. This column responds to recent reader questions on Lotto Jackpots.
Q. How long has Michigan had Lotto games?
A. Advance of Jackpot prizes past $1 billion in the August 23 drawing occurred just two days short of the fifth anniversary of the first drawing on August 25, 1984.
Q. How many players have been jackpot winners?
A. The August 23 winner was the 378th to win or share a jackpot prize. Of these 85 won Jackpot shares of less than $1 million and 107 others won between $1 million and $2 million. Ten have won prizes of more than $10 million.
Q. What's been the average won?
A. Wins have averaged just over $2,645,000 to provide annual pre-tax payments of about $132,000 for 20 years.
Q. What's been Michigan's biggest jackpot?
A. The largest jackpot, $33.5 million came in September 1988, after seven consecutive rollovers. It was shared by two winners. This followed a $28.9 million jackpot shared by five winners after six rollovers in January 1988.
Q. Why doesn't Michigan have more big jackpots like those we hear about in other states?
A. These high jackpots usually occur in more populous states with higher odds games where more frequent rollovers keep the jackpot growing along with player interest.
Q. Are Michigan's Lotto sales declining?
A. Through the first ten months of the current fiscal year, Lotto sales were down some 7 percent compared to the previous fiscal year because of fewer rollovers. Introduction of the Fame & Fortune instant game and features such as Zinger are helping keep total Lottery sales near the record levels of last year.
Q. What's caused the drop in Lotto sales?
A. Experience here and in other states shows that many players only try for big jackpots. Many do not buy tickets until the top prize grows to $10 million or more. Last year the jackpot reached $10 million or more 14 different times. This level was reached only four times in Michigan in the first 10 months of this fiscal year.
Q. Will Michigan change its Lotto game?
A. To provide more net revenues for support of K-12 schools, Michigan constantly evaluates all its games and attempts to make changes necessary to keep Lottery products fresh and exciting to players.
For submitting the first question leading to this column, Louis LaLonde of Cedarville will receive 50 Fame & Fortune tickets. Note: When duplicate questions are received that with the earliest date stamp upon arrival at Lottery Central wins. In case of a tie, the winner is selected by random drawing.
If you have a question not yet covered in these monthly columns, send it to "Winners Circle," Michigan Lottery, PO Box 38077, Lansing MI 48909.

NEWS BRIEFS

HONEY HARVEST — Maybury Living Farm will be having its annual honey harvest on Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 3 p.m. Staff people will show how honey is stored in the hive and give demonstrations of honey extraction. Honey and beeswax candles will be available to buy.

The farm is located within Maybury State Park, on Eight Mile west of Beck (use the Eight Mile entrance). For further information, call the farm at 349-0817 or the park office at 349-8390.

GITFIDDLER CELEBRATION — The Gitfiddler music store celebrates its 16th anniversary from 10 to 6 Saturday.

Free cider and donuts will be available, and the store invites people to come in and look at its expanded facilities. There will be musical performances starting around noon.

BOOSTERS SET BRUNCH — Advance tickets for the Northville High School Athletic Booster Club fundraiser are on sale now for the club's Super Booster Brunch scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 1.

Northville Charley's is donating time to prepare and serve the food, which will be served from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. Tickets are $10 for adults and $5 for children under 8 and are available at Northville Charley's and during the open houses at the various public schools.

Tickets may also be obtained from Shirley Klokenga at Meads Mill, Dennis Colligan at the high school and from representatives of each athletic team. Terry Wayne, chairperson of the event, may be contacted at 349-7643.

MDA EFFORTS — Brokers and sales associates of Electronic Realty Associates (ERA) raised $1.1 million for the Muscular Dystrophy Association this year, including $1,200 from the Rymal Symes Company office in Northville.

The total check was presented as part of the annual MDA telethon over Labor Day weekend.

PTA CALENDAR AVAILABLE — The popular Northville PTA Coordinating Council Calendar has been published again this year.

This is the fifth year the calendar has been compiled by PTA members as a service to the community. It contains community and school meeting dates, lists school personnel telephone numbers, and includes dates on which classes will not be in session.

The calendar also features students' artwork.

The volunteer time to typeset the calendar by Cheryl Byerly allowed it to continue to be published at $3.

The calendar is available at school open houses and at each school office through September. Supplies are limited.

Northville police upgrade weapons

By BRUCE M. WEINTRAUB

Northville Township police officers will be exchanging their revolvers for semi-automatic weapons, following unanimous board approval of the switch last Thursday.

"I recommended making the basic issue a 9mm semi-automatic pistol rather than a .357-caliber Magnum, because it is important for my officers to carry the best weapon available," Township Police Chief Ken Hardesty said.

Hardesty said it will cost approximately $8,100 to make the transfer to the 9mm weapon. Township board members voted to pay for the exchange from the general fund.

He added that over the past few years, there has been a steady move by criminals to use more sophisticated weapons.

"Years ago, criminals mainly used handguns called Saturday Night Specials," Hardesty said. "Today, the weapons picked up are in brand names, and there are far more semi-automatic pistols, rifles, and on rare occasions full automatics."

He noted township police have never had to shoot a gun in the line of duty. Still, Hardesty said he wants his department to be prepared.

"I want my officers prepared for incidents with the best equipment and training for the protection of the officer and the community," he said.

Township police Sgt. John Sherman said the new weapons, called Glock-17, are made in Austria from steel and a hardened plastic.

He said the weapon was selected over a number of other types by a committee consisting of himself and other officers. "This weapon more greatly resembles the revolver in operation than any of the other pistols," he said.

Because of the pistol's design, Sherman said officers will experience much less recoil than with the currently issued revolver.

"In the basic design of the pistol, the recoil is displaced over a larger area of the hand, and thus there is much less recoil," he said. An officer's accuracy should increase by 20 percent due to the recoil decrease, he said.

He noted the time between shots will decrease along with the decreased recoil.

Sherman said some other advantages of the Glock-17 include: not having to reload as often, since the semi-automatic has 17 rounds in a magazine and a revolver shoots only six, when reloading is needed, it takes only two to three seconds to change magazines, while it takes up to eight seconds to reload a revolver.

He added that about half of the township's 17-officer police department is qualified and authorized to carry a semi-automatic pistol.

Sherman said it would take about two months after the weapons have been received for the entire department to be carrying the 9mm pistol.

Sherman said more and more officers are finding themselves outgunned by criminals.

In most altercations, Hardesty said police will use only "two or three rounds," and the incident will be over.

KEN HARDESTY

"On the occasion when six rounds is not enough," Hardesty said. "I would rather have the advantage with law enforcement and not the criminal element."

New city recycling program reviewed

By STEPHEN KELLMAN

In the face of a 52-percent increase in fees at the Arbor Hills landfill in Salem Township, city council members are reviewing the progress of Northville's new recycling program.

Public Works Superintendent Ted Mapes and City Manager Steven Walters described the "experimental" program's progress at Monday's city council meeting.

The rate increase will raise the cost of dumping from $6.50 to $9.90 per cubic yard. The recycling program has been proposed as a way to reduce the city's reliance on landfill disposal, while Wayne County officials discuss making community recycling programs mandatory.

"Everything we're doing is trying to reduce the cost to the landfill," Mapes said.

Mapes characterized public response to the program as "excellent," saying, "There's more and more people using it. We've been collecting recyclables for about two months now, and we've filled one paper trailer and one roll-off (container)."

The Northville city recycling program, located at the department of public works yard on Doherty Drive, currently accepts newspaper, plastic, crushed aluminum cans and glass.

"We're really in the experimental stages," Mapes said, "and so are the other communities that are doing this." One of the biggest problems faced by the program so far has been finding a source for the recyclables.

The first contractor hired to dispose of the paper products, Nelson Paper Recycling of Romulus, was unable to find a source for the material. Since then, Royal Oak Waste Paper has been hired to remove the paper. Part of the cost of their service will be reimbursed when the company finds a buyer for the paper.

The city is currently paying the firm of John Cummings Senior $350 a month to haul the rest of the recyclables away.

Several council members expressed surprise at the fact that the program was currently costing the city more than the landfill fees for disposal of the material.

"It's not a break-even thing," Mapes later said. "You can't just dive into recycling, you've got to test the waters first, and that's the point we're at right now."

Though the recycling site is currently not staffed, city council members discussed hiring a person to regulate the type of waste coming into the site, and to assure that only Northville residents were using the facility. While Council Member

Jerome Mittman questioned the cost of hiring such a person, Mapes pointed out that the cost would be offset by restricting the site to residents and by turning away people dumping excessive amounts of construction debris.

"What they're doing now," said Mapes, "is going to McDonald Ford and renting dump trucks, and tearing their roofs off. We're not set up for that."

To keep the staff costs down, Walters said, the recycling center's hours would likely be reduced from six days a week to three. The center would be open from 7:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Police Blotters

Car break-in nets thief over $20,000 computer parts

Computer parts worth over $20,000 were stolen from a vehicle parked at Innsbrook Apts. Sept. 9 and 10 between 5:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m.

The victim said someone broke the driver's side window of his company vehicle and stole the following items: a $20,000 computer terminal, a $300 disk drive and a $100 keyboard.

The victim told police the property was between the front seats at the time of the incident. He added the computer parts taken need a central computer to operate and said it will not work as a personal computer.

CEMETERY VANDALIZED — Damage to a small area of Rural Hill Cemetery with a car was reported last Thursday or Friday.

Someone drove over part of the lawn and over two flat gravestones, a police report said. The stones need to be raised and leveled.

The damage was done between 3:10 p.m. Thursday and 7:30 a.m. Friday.

WATCH LOST — A woman's wrist watch was reported lost in the city Saturday at about 4:30 p.m., according to a police report.

The watch was lost on Main between Center and Hutton. It was described as white gold with an oval face and a thin band.

It may be turned in to the Northville Police Department, 215 W. Main.

JEWELER BROKEN INTO — Orin Jewelers on Main Street suffered a break-in Thursday, Sept. 14, a city police report said.

Police answered an alarm at 3:18 a.m. last Thursday and found a window on the store broken and a pearl necklace lying on the sidewalk.

Two bracelets were reported possibly missing from the store. Police are continuing to investigate.

BIKE FOUND — A boy's Schwinn bike was found outside Domino's Pizza on Mary Alexander Court last week.

The owner may describe and claim the bike at the city police station.

FUZZBUSTER STOLEN — A radar detector valued at $200 was stolen from a car parked in the city over the weekend, according to a police report.

The Micronta Road Patrol detector was taken between 10 p.m. Saturday and noon Sunday.

PARTS STOLEN — About $5,000 worth of cement form accessories were stolen from a trailer parked on Gerald Ave. Aug. 30 through Sept. 6.

The victim said someone took the property inside one of his company's trailers parked in the Northville Storage lot.

The victim added the padlock of his storage compartment was also cut, but he is uncertain if anything was stolen from his compartment.

BROKEN GLASS — About $350 in damage was done to the windows of a house on Five Mile Road Sept. 11 or 12 between 4 p.m. and 4:30 p.m.

The victim told police someone damaged three double hung windows and one door window on the house, which was set on stilts waiting to be moved.

The victim said 10 panes of glass were broken in the double hung windows and one pane was broken in the door window.

CAR DAMAGED — About $200 in damage was done to a car travelling along Griswold near Baseline Sunday, Sept. 10 at 5:15 p.m.

The victim said someone threw a rock at her car while she was going south on Griswold. She said the rock came from the woods on the west side of the road.

The victim said the rock hit and chipped the windshield of her vehicle.

ANOTHER CAR DAMAGED — Nearly $300 in damage was done to a car parked on the shoulder of Eight Mile Road just east of Meadowbrook Country Club Monday, Sept. 11 between 5:30 p.m. and 5:45 p.m.

The victim said someone broke the driver's side window of his car, which was a 1986 gray Buick.

PIPE DAMAGE — Approximately $4,500 worth of damage was done to a water pump on Northville Place Drive Aug. 31 through Sept. 7.

The victim said the water pump suffered damage due to the pump motor burning out. He said someone damaged pipes leading from Lake Success to the pump house.

The victim said the pump then sucked in an unknown object which somehow cause the motor to burn out.

MELJER THEFT — Two Northville residents were arrested for larceny Monday, Sept. 11 after allegedly trying to steal $111.11 worth of merchandise from Meijer at Eight Mile and Haggerty.

Store detectives told police they saw both suspects hide several cosmetics in their purse. Store detectives said both suspects then entered the checkout line and paid for some items, but neither paid for the makeup.

The suspects were detained by store detectives and charged with larceny by township police. They'll both face Oct. 19 court dates.

FENDER-BENDERS — At least one accident was reported by township police over the past week:

• A three-car accident Wednesday, Sept. 13 at 7:53 p.m. on Six Mile and Haggerty roads. Police said all three cars were all southbound on Haggerty when the front two slowed for a red light. The third was going to change lanes to the right but was unable to make the change and hit one car, knocking it into another. Police ticketed the rear driver for failing to stop within an assured clear distance ahead.

City police reported two accidents: • An Ypsilanti resident was ticketed for failure to yield after hitting another car while turning left from Eight Mile onto Center at about 2:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 12.

• Two cars collided on Main at Hutton Saturday just after noon when one car tried to pass another, but instead hit it, according to a police report. The driver was ticketed for improper lane usage.

Township man shot in car

By BRUCE M. WEINTRAUB

A Northville Township resident was shot last week while driving his car in Farmington Hills, apparently after a traffic altercation, according to Michigan State Police.

William Beller, 31, was treated for a gunshot wound to the left upper arm last Thursday at Providence Hospital in Novi. Beller was released the next day.

"This does not appear to be a random freeway shooting," said Michigan State Police Sgt. Robert Silva of the Northville post. "This incident was initiated by a traffic altercation."

Silva said Beller, who is white, was going west on Grand River near Ten Mile when he rolled down his window and yelled racial slurs at the passenger in the car next to him.

Silva said Beller told police two black males — in a late-1970s or early-1980s four-door burgundy or maroon General Motors car — had started yelling at him first.

He said during the confrontation one of the black subjects shot Beller with a .38-caliber handgun. Silva said the two black males are described as being in their early to mid 20s.

Beller's wife, Sandra, who was also in the car at the time of the incident and not injured, confirmed that the shooting took place after a confrontation between her husband and the suspects.

"They were following us for a few miles and lining their car up with ours," Sandra Beller said. "They sped up and down and were arguing back and forth with us."

She said the other car tried to run them off the road. She added neither her nor her husband saw the assailant point the gun at them.

"We didn't see a gun but something went 'bam' and they drove off," she said. "At first we didn't know he (Beller) got shot. But then we saw the blood and went to the hospital."

Beller added the bullet went right through her husband's arm, missing all the arteries and bones in his arm. She said he is in some pain, but is slowly recovering.

Insufficient evidence may hamper the case. "Unless something falls out of a tree, I won't be able to do much with it (the case)," Silva said.

The Farmington Observer contributed to this story.

Deputy racing commissioner set

State Racing Commissioner Luke Quinn announced the appointment of Robert T. Sacco as deputy commissioner effective Sept. 18.

Sacco, 41, a Macomb County attorney, has served as assistant state steward at Lakbrooke DRC since April of 1988 and as a hearing officer for the racing commissioner since March of 1987.

Quinn cited Sacco's "longtime personal interest in the sport of racing" as among his qualifications.

Sacco received his BA in communications and journalism from Oakland University in 1982 and his juris doctor (law) degree from Cooley Law School in Lansing in 1986. He has worked as an attorney in his own practice.

Wayne County trims groups bidding for township land

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

And then there were three. After beginning the initial process with a list of 12 developers, Wayne County officials said Tuesday they have narrowed the list of bidders on the development of 1,040 acres in Northville Township to three groups. "We have eliminated the Charter Development Group from further consideration on the project and will begin negotiating with the other three groups," said Bill Wild, the county's director of business development.

Charter Development Co was comprised of Arnold Cohen and Walter Cohen. Included in their team's proposal were John Boll, Joseph P. Ministrelli and Huber Wright.

In addition, Charter Development also had also consulted golf legend Arnold Palmer about designing a golf course for the project.

The remaining three proposals are each comprised of a variety of land uses including some light industrial, multiple- and single-family housing and a golf course.

Two of the proposals call for their golf course projects to be designed by superstars Jack Nicklaus and Lee Trevino.

In early June, the four development teams each submitted proposals to the county for development of the land, which runs along Five and Six Mile roads between Beck and Sheldon.

Wild said the county decided that it was in their best interest to eliminate one proposal from contention and deal with the other three teams.

"We didn't have a set (elimination) program in mind," said Wild. "We just decided to play with things as they evolved."

Wild said the review committee was almost unanimous in ranking the Charter Development proposal last among the four competing proposals.

He noted the review committee consists of one county commissioner and officials from the county executive's office.

Wild said the review committee will begin meeting with the three finalists next week. "We should have a recommendation within the next four weeks, but it could be sooner," he said.

"We'll then give the developers one week to respond to the information and see how the negotiating process takes shape," Wild said.

He added the county does not have a base negotiating price for the project. In fact, Wild said the county will encourage competition among the three groups.

After negotiations have been completed, Wild said the review committee will make a recommendation to County Executive Ed McNamara, who will then review the information and make a recommendation to the county commission.

Wild said the county has sought the advice of Northville Township during the scoring period, but added from this point through the negotiations, the township will play a small role.

He added once the county has concluded its decision process, the township will "leap back in" and make decisions on appropriate land uses for the site.

Organizers call Northville's first Victorian Festival a success

As evening approached, however, the streets became filled just in time for the festival parade.

People were already giving positive reviews to the festival. "I think it's a nice idea," Northville resident Debbie Kempa said. She added the festival will probably catch on and improve each year.

David Zima, waiting with his family for the parade to start, said of the festival, "It brings people downtown, and it is going to rival the Plymouth ice show."

After the parade, escape artist Jon Oliver sent the excitement level higher by escaping from a strait-jacket while suspended upside-down by a crane at the town clock.

Saturday dawned cloudy, and the clouds brought a downpour which lasted all afternoon. Some of the ongoing entertainment and exhibitors gave up for the day, and some children's events — including the well-attended pie-eating contest — moved indoors.

The weather did not keep everyone away, however (see story on page 7-A). Most events, including the antique show outside the American Legion Hall, went on — and the rain eventually stopped.

The weather began to cooperate in time for the grand Victorian Ball at Mill Race Historical Village that evening. More than 150 people danced Victorian dances to an authentic 19th-century band at the village's church while a tent provided food, drink and relaxation (see story on page 2-D).

By Sunday the sky was completely clear again and festival-goers packed the downtown area and Mill Race Village, site of a picnic and celebrity box-lunch auction which raised about $900 for the Friends of the Northville Public Library. More children's games kept the younger set busy.

The bandshell entertainment continued, with one highlight being a magic show and another escape by Oliver, this time from a locked metal canister full of water.

"It was just a success from the start to the finish," Marrs said. The chamber plans to make the festival an annual event.

The full financial picture for the festival is not yet known, but Marrs is satisfied with the results.

"It was not a profit-making activity, but we knew it wouldn't be profit making. We just wanted to get the festival off the ground, and we succeeded in that," she said.

The festival involved many individual and group volunteers. Most of the work was done by a steering committee of Marrs, Don Mroz, Greg Presley, Greg Spinazze and Ann Willis. Marrs was very appreciative of all the volunteers' work and donations from corporations.

For more photos of the festival, see pages 6-A and 7-A.

Rain doesn't dampen the fun

By CRISTINA FERRIER

It started with a threatening sky and grew to heavy, pounding rain that forced people to run for the shelter of tents and doorways.

No amount of rain could dampen the spirit of Northville's first annual Victorian Festival on Saturday.

Rae Elliot of Novi decided to go and see what the festival was all about after seeing a brochure that the organizers had put together. "It's much more than what we expected. I can't believe what they've done here," she said.

Most of the merchants said that business had been better on Friday than Saturday, but they blamed it on the rain.

Members of the Northville Rotary Club reported high sales at their hot dog stand. "We sold 403 on Friday," Pat Bradley said. "When we get this many people in this kind of weather, you know it's going to be a success. If it weren't for the rain, these streets would be packed."

Melting ice cream was not a problem for Rana Adawin and Nikki Lalonde, who were selling orange halves filled with sherbert for Northville High School's 10th-grade Student Congress.

"It's so cold outside it's like a fridge," explained Lalonde.

Bob Weiss of Utica thought that the rain was actually helping the sales of his buffalo sandwiches at MacKinnon's. His booth was directly beneath a canopy. "When it starts raining everyone comes under here for cover," he said.

"I'm real positive," Roxanne Casterline of Northville said of the festival's future. "I think it's a lot of fun. People are really getting into the spirit of this. Even the kids are dressed up. My daughter never wears a dress, and today she's wearing one. Nobody recognizes her!"

Members of The Boys of '98, a Detroit area group that re-enacts historical events, seemed to have immersed themselves in the theme of the festival. "We're here because we think that women should be allowed to vote," explained Susan Edgar.

"That's right. So far, the men have been running the country, and we don't think they're doing a very good job of it," Yulanda Burgess agreed. Peter Tuttle and Peter Fiske, also members of the group, stood by and scoffed at the idea.

Standing among the crowd that gathered to see a demonstration of Dr. Rudy Randolph's Remarkable Roundies was Michael Casabell of Royal Oak. He had heard of the festival from a co-worker at Michigan Bell. "It's been very entertaining. I'm enjoying myself in spite of the weather," he said.

Jeanie Ransom of Southfield thought that the festival would be a nice place to walk around with her baby. "It's like something out of the past," she said. "Northville is so different from Southfield. It's so clean."

City police cars become high-tech

By DARRELL CLEM

New computers installed in Northville police cars will enable officers to solve some cases in half the time it now takes, Capt James Petres predicts.

The technology gives local police immediate access to Michigan State Police computers, aiding in such cases as stolen cars and wanted felons.

The computers also have access to records at the FBI and the secretary of state departments in all 50 states, providing information about driver's licenses, vehicle registrations and other data.

Petres said the in-car computers will dramatically reduce the correspondence that officers must make with dispatchers by radio — a move that could mean the difference in nabbing a criminal or not.

Some criminals have access to radio equipment that lets them know police activities — a situation over which police have had little control until now.

Petres said the computers — installed in three of the seven cars at the Northville Police Department — also allow officers in various patrol cars to send messages to each other.

The system, which is in operation in about 370 patrol cars in Oakland County, also enables police officers in such cities as Northville and Novi to communicate without using audio communications.

"It makes everything faster and easier," Petres said.

Petres said the Oakland County system operates using four radio tower sites, the closest of which is in Novi.

Although the technology is new in this community, Petres said such cities as Detroit have been using similar systems for some time now.

Petres said that Oakland County Community Services, which he said is part of the law enforcement and court system, is funding most of the project. But he said cities will pay some costs, too.

For example, Petres said, Northville has a seven-year lease at $3,000 a year to use the computer system. The local funds will be paid from the police budget.

Petres said the reduced time it takes to communicate between patrol vehicles could, in some instances, save lives. Eventually, he said, the system will be expanded into a "full-blown computer-aided dispatch system" that will send data directly to patrol vehicles in the area where an incident is occurring.

Township sets tax rate at 4.5762 mills

includes the new 1.776-mill tax for police. Township voters originally approved a 2-mill police tax, but that figure is already being rolled back — even before it was ever levied — under the terms of the Headlee Tax Limitation Amendment to the state constitution, Graham said.

The Headlee Amendment limits a government's property-tax revenue to its maximum revenue from the previous year, plus allowances for new construction and inflation. It can only be overridden by a vote of the people.

The last time the township board held a Truth-in-Taxation hearing was in 1987.

In addition to approving the 1990 tax rate, board members approved Township Supervisor Georgina Goss' nominations for the finance committee.

The members of the committee include: Township Treasurer and Interim Business Manager Richard Henningsen, Township Trustee Don Williams and residents Richard Hauser, Frank St. Louis and Rick Engelland.

The finance committee is charged with reviewing the township's 1990 budget and will make recommendations for revisions to the township board.

Last month, board members were presented a preliminary 1990 budget that included a deficit of over $60,000. Under the budget, the township is slated to spend $1,848,869 and collect $1,724,797.

The township's 1989 projected fund balance is $64,043 — leaving just over $60,000 to be cut out for a perfectly balanced budget.

Graham said business experts usually recommend a target of about 5 to 10 percent of a municipality's total budget to be left at the end of a fiscal year.

CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE AMENDMENT TO ZONING ORDINANCE ORDINANCE NO. 77-05-89

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ZONING ORDINANCE BY AMENDING THE TEXT THEREOF.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:

Part I. The Charter Township of Northville Zoning Ordinance No. 77 as amended is hereby further amended by amending Article II, Section 2.2, Definitions by adding 14 a. Child Care Center or Day Care Center 34a. Family Day Care Home and 40 a. Group Day Care Home, and by amending Article IV, Section 4.1 "Principal Uses Permitted" (One Family Residential), Section 4.2 Uses Permitted Subject to Special Use Conditions to the One-Family Residential Districts, and by amending Article XV, Section 15.12 Off-Street Parking Requirements paragraph 11 (1).

I. ADD THE FOLLOWING DEFINITIONS TO THE ZONING ORDINANCE

14a. CHILD CARE CENTER OR DAY CARE CENTER is a facility, other than a private residence, receiving one (1) or more preschool or school aged children for care for periods of less than twenty-four (24) hours a day, and where the parents or guardians are not immediately available to the child. Child Care Center or Day Care Center includes a facility which provides care for not less than two (2) consecutive weeks regardless of the number of hours of care per day. The facility is generally described as a child care center, day care center, day nursery, nursery school, parent cooperative preschool, play group, or drop in center.

34a. FAMILY DAY CARE HOME is a private home in which one (1) to six (6) minor children are received for care and supervision for periods of less than twenty-four (24) hours a day, unattended by a parent or legal guardian, except children related to an adult member of the family by blood, marriage, or adoption. Family day care home includes a home that gives care to an unrelated minor child for more than four (4) weeks during a calendar year.

40a. GROUP DAY CARE HOME is a private home in which more than six (6) but not more than twelve (12) minor children are given care and supervision for periods of less than twenty-four (24) hours a day unattended by a parent or legal guardian, except children related to an adult member of the family by blood, marriage, or adoption. Group day care home includes a home that gives care to an unrelated minor child for more than four (4) weeks during a calendar year.

II. CHANGE PARAGRAPH 6 OF SECTION 4.1 "Principal Uses Permitted" (ONE-FAMILY RESIDENTIAL) TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

6. Accessory buildings and uses, customarily incident to any of the above permitted uses, including family day care homes.

III. ADD A NEW PARAGRAPH 9 TO SECTION 4.2 USES PERMITTED SUBJECT TO SPECIAL CONDITIONS TO THE ONE-FAMILY RESIDENTIAL DISTRICT.

9. Group Day Care Homes as an accessory use to a one-family detached dwelling subject to the following:

a. The Planning Commission shall make a finding that the property will be maintained consistent with the visual characteristics of the surrounding neighborhood and will not be contrary to the spirit and purpose of this ordinance nor detrimental to the safety or convenience of vehicular or pedestrian traffic. The Planning Commission shall make such determination based on the building elevations, site plan and information such as photographs or maps of the surrounding area as submitted by the petitioner.

b. A site plan, to include building elevations, shall be submitted, drawn to scale indicating the location of all property lines, buildings and structures including, but not limited to: off street parking spaces, play equipment, fences and driveways.

c. Off street parking shall be provided in accordance with Section 15.12 OFF-STREET PARKING REQUIREMENTS and shall be designed in such a way that vehicles can exit the site without having to back onto any public street.

d. The hours of operation shall be limited to the period between six (6) a.m. and ten (10) p.m.

e. The Planning Commission shall hold a public hearing and give notice of the hearing in accordance with Section 17.8 of this ordinance.

IV. ADD TO SECTION 15.12 OFF-STREET PARKING REQUIREMENTS, PARAGRAPH 11(1) the following:

Group Day Care Home. Two (2) for each home in addition to the two (2) required for the residence. Such additional spaces may be located in the front or side yard setback.

Part II. Conflicting Provisions Repealed

Any Ordinance or part of Ordinances in conflict herewith are repealed save that in all other respects Ordinance No. 77, as amended, is hereby ratified and reaffirmed.

Part III. Effective Date

The provisions of the ordinance shall be in full force and effective immediately upon publication.

Part IV. Adoption

This ordinance was adopted by the Township Board of the Charter Township of Northville, pursuant to authority of Act No. 184, Public Acts of 1943, as amended at their regular meeting of September 14, 1989.

NORTHVILLE CITY COUNCIL MINUTES SYNOPSIS AUGUST 21, 1989

Mayor Johnson called the regular meeting of the Northville City Council to order in the council room at 8:00 p.m.

1. PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE:

PRESENT: Ayers, Buckland, Folino, Johnson, Mittman.

ABSENT: None.

ALSO PRESENT: Rod Cannon, Cathy Konrad, Bev Morrison, Steve Walters and Darrell Clem.

2. APPROVAL OF COUNCIL MEETING MINUTES:

Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to approve and place on file the minutes of the regular meeting and special meeting of August 7, 1989, and the minutes of the closed session on July 24, 1989.

3. CITIZEN COMMENTS:

Jane Francoeur, 205 E. Baseline.

Christine Fries, 610 Baseline.

5. ADOPTION OF THE AGENDA & APPROVAL OF THE CONSENT AGENDA:

Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to approve the agenda as amended and the consent agenda A through F.

6. PUBLIC HEARING: 8 MILE & OLD BASELINE SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION.

The assessment is proposed at 100% with payments due in 5 annual installments beginning in July, 1991. The next sidewalk hearing will be September 5, for the northeast section of the City with construction in the Spring.

Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to proceed with the construction of a sidewalk on the north side of 8 Mile Road, from Abbey Knoll Subdivision to N Center Street and assess the property owners of record on the tax roll by benefit according to frontage for 100% of the project except for terrain preparation in excess of $200.00 per parcel.

Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to call a special meeting on September 5, 1989, at 7:00 p.m., to walk the sidewalk site at Baseline and recess the public hearing on Old Baseline sidewalk construction until September 5, 1989, at 8:00 p.m.

8. PROJECTED RACETRACK REVENUE:

State Representative Jerry Law was present to speak to Council on the State budget involving the City's racetrack money. He advised Council the State statute formula for racetracks has been reinstated allowing cities up to $900,000. From a supplemental amount of $700,000.00, cities will receive the difference of what they were paid last year up to $900,000.00. Northville can expect to receive approximately $180,000.

7. PUBLIC HEARING: VACATE WEST CADY STREET - TH OF MAINCENRE PROJECT

Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, that the Northville City Council hereby adopts a resolution to vacate West Cady Street from South Center Street west to the southwest property line of the Main-Centre Project (lot 210a2a, b1, Assessor's Northville Plat #3).

Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to direct the City Clerk to retain the easement vacating a portion of Cady Street, and not record it with the County until the following have been completed:

1. execution of a deed from Singh Development to the City of Northville for the south 22 feet of the north 33 feet of the vacant right-of-way; and

2. receipt by the City of acceptance from Consumer's Power Company for the present location of the gas main in the vacated portion of Cady Street, or acceptance of a relocation plan entered into between Consumer's Power Company and Singh Development.

9. MILL POND STUDY:

The DNR will be involved and asked to participate, since it is a State body of water. A boat inspection was made and sediment samples taken, which showed sand and gravel in the delta area, and further out in the river a higher clay and silt content. Logistics are being evaluated for methods of dredging. The condition of the Rouge River is not significant from a flood control aspect or navigational. The water quality and aesthetics are good.

10. MAINCENRE PROJECT:

a. Center Street Design — Manager Walters gave a brief up date noting that the details of Center Street have been worked out with Singh Development. Mike Kahn presented blue prints of the street design.

b. Property Exchange Agreements — Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to approve the easement from MainCenter Limited Partnership for a sidewalk and walkway at their property on Main Street.

Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to approve and authorize the Mayor and Clerk to sign the License to Construct & Maintain Overhangs & Projections Agreement.

11. APPROVE WAYNE COUNTY AGREEMENT RE: MAIN-GRIEWOLD LIGHT:

Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to approve the Traffic Signal Agreement with Wayne County and authorize the Mayor and Clerk to sign the agreement to install the traffic signal device at Main Street and Griswold Road in the City of Northville, for an estimated cost of $32,100.00, which would be paid 50% by the City and 50% by the County.

12. DELIVERY RESTAURANTS IN CBD:

Council discussed the revision from their August 7, meeting on the proposed amendment to Title 4, Chapter 12, Section 9 03 "Special Uses Permitted after Review and Approval." It was the consensus of the City Council that this is an appropriate change to the Zoning Ordinance and the context is appropriate in its present form. City Council referred to the Planning Commission the amendment in the Zoning Ordinance to allow delivery restaurants in the CBD.

13. 1988-89 FINANCIAL REPORT: APPROVED DEFICIT REDUCTION PLAN:

Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to adopt by resolution the 1988-89 Deficit Reduction Plan on the Downtown Development Fund, Allen Terrace Operating Fund, and Parking Fund, as stated in the City Manager's memo of 8/10/89.

14. MERS DELEGATE & ALTERNATE:

Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to appoint Councilman Paul F. Folino as the Officer Delegate and Mayor Christopher J. Johnson as the Officer Alternate to represent the City of Northville at the Annual Meeting of the Municipal Employees' Retirement System to be held October 4, 1989.

15. NOTICE OF INTENT TO ISSUE WATER & SEWER SPECIAL ASSESSMENT BONDS:

Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to adopt a resolution approving supplemental notice of intent to issue special assessment bonds and application for exception from prior approval to issue an additional $120,000 for the Northville Estates Water & Sanitary Sewer District No. 2 and West Main Sanitary Sewer District No. 1.

16. DRIVING CLUB LOT ON S. CENTER:

The City has had no further discussions with the Driving Club for the proceedings and maintenance and they can't proceed with the use of the lot for their fall racing dates until the lot has the plantings repaired and the City will maintain thereafter. If the lot remains unused through next season, the nonconforming vacant lot returns to a vacant residential lot.

17. COUNCIL COMMENTS:

Councilman Mittman announced his intent to seek re-election as a Councilman. There being no further business to be discussed by City Council, Mayor Johnson adjourned the regular meeting of August 21, 1989, at 10:40 p.m.

Mayor Johnson called the regular meeting of the Northville City Council to order in the council room at 8:10 p.m.

1. PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE:

PRESENT: Buckland, Folino, Johnson, Mittman.

ABSENT: Ayers — excused.

ALSO PRESENT: Chuck Altman, Joe Attard, Cathy Konrad, Steve Walters, Bobb Warner, Darrell Clem, and residents from northeast quadrant of the City.

3. APPROVAL OF COUNCIL MEETING MINUTES:

The minutes of the special meeting of August 21, 1989, were approved and placed on file as submitted.

The minutes of the regular meeting of August 21, 1989, were approved and placed on file as corrected.

4. CITIZEN COMMENTS:

None.

5. ADOPTION OF THE AGENDA & APPROVAL OF THE CONSENT AGENDA:

Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to approve the agenda as amended and the consent agenda A through F.

6. PUBLIC HEARING: OLD BASELINE SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION

Manager Walters explained the series of public hearings on the City wide sidewalk construction, and the need to accelerate the installation of the 8 Mile Road sidewalk for school children and Old Baseline Road due to the street reconstruction.

7. PUBLIC HEARING: NORTHEAST CONSTRUCTION — CITY SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION

Walters recommended the City Attorney's opinion be obtained for future sidewalk discussion, as to the assessment ordinance and an amendment to the ordinance, which could not be available until October.

Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to call a special Council meeting for Monday, October 9, at 8:00 p.m. to discuss the sidewalk policy.

Manager Walters recommended Council adopt a policy of not assessing back yard sidewalks and consider them City-at-large. The school district has requested the City install a sidewalk from Lanthorne Lane to Abbey Knoll Subdivision and would be willing to share on a 50/50 basis.

Moved supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to proceed with the Eight Mile Road sidewalk from Lanthorne Lane to Abbey Knoll Subdivision with the Northville School District on a 50/50 cost basis.

8. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH BANNERS:

Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to approve the use of banners on the two lamp posts owned by the Presbyterian Church on Mary Alexander Court for the 3 days during the Victorian Festival and 1 week prior to each of the 2 major celebrations of the church bicentennial year.

9. COMMUNITY PARK MILLAGE:

Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to approve a special ballot proposal at the City General Election on November 7, 1989, for the Northville Community Park millage as follows:

"Shall the total millage assessed in any one year against all properties in the City of Northville be increased by nine-tenths (9/10) of a mill ($.90 per $1,000 of State Equalized Valuation) for a period of two (2) years (1989-1990 inclusive) to be used for the construction and development of a park to be known as Northville Community Park, which millage shall not be assessed unless the voters in the Charter Township of Northville approve an identical proposition?"

Ken Zdral stands with his family's belongings last week

Record/ANN WILLIS

Local family loses home

By ANNE E. WILLIS

Ken Zdral sat under an umbrella table in the pouring rain last week explaining why he couldn't get back into his house.

Zdral, 42, his wife, and their 8-year-old son, were evicted from their home on Allen Drive in Northville on Tuesday evening, Sept. 12. The husband and wife sat outside in the rain all night near the mound of furniture, toys and clothes that had been piled in front of the small brick home. Their son spent the night with neighbors.

On Wednesday, Sept. 13, Zdral sat sipping coffee and staring at the padlocked front door of the house. His two dogs, Levi and Strauss, sat in the family car at the curb.

"I think I will be back in," he said as friends and neighbors stopped by the table near the curb of the house's front lawn. At the time his goal was to be back in the house by the time his son returned home from school that Wednesday afternoon.

Zdral said his economic troubles began 4½ years ago when he lost his job with the Stroh Brewery Company. The family has lived in Northville for 11 years, he said, the last seven years at the Allen Drive house.

"I want my house. I have been fighting since day one to save my house. I don't want to move out of Northville," Zdral said.

A series of legal and financial problems led the family to their present situation, Zdral said.

Court documents filed in 35th District Court in Plymouth show that the house's current owners, Frederick and Rose Monahan, were awarded right to possession on Aug. 9, 1989. An eviction notice, or writ of restitution, was issued on Sept. 1 by Judge John McDonald.

Zdral said he thought the family had 60 days from the Sept. 1 eviction notice to try to fight the move. On Saturday, Sept. 9, the family stayed off one eviction notice, but could not permanently hang on to the house.

On Sept. 12 the court officer was sent to Northville to evict the family

A neighbor found the Zdrals at their son's soccer game on Tuesday evening. "She came running up, yelling, 'Your house, they're doing it again,'" he said. When the family arrived home the police and court officer were removing furniture and possessions from the house.

"I was confident we could get it stopped," Zdral said. He said he and his wife decided not to leave their possessions on the site of the house until a lawyer could be found to represent them.

A neighbor helped Karen Zdral sort through her belongings in the rain Wednesday afternoon. "I've never seen anything like this. It's been quite an experience," neighbor Mary Ann Kotylo said as she helped move a bed and clothing to her home for safekeeping.

As of Tuesday, Sept. 19 the Zdrals had contacted a lawyer, put their furnishings in storage and were staying with friends.

"We're still hopeful," Karen said. "Things are sounding rather promising."

Obituaries

OSMOND D. YERKES

Osmond D. Yerkes died Sept. 13 at Whitehall Convalescent Home. He was 97.

Mr. Yerkes was born June 13, 1892 in South Lyon to Harmon and Letitia (Dove) Yerkes. His wife, Bertha, preceded him in death in 1968.

He is survived by his niece, Suzanne Nielsen of Arcadia, California, and his nephews, Robert Yerkes of Northville, William Yerkes of Pickford and Richard Yerkes of Northville.

A 1911 graduate of Northville High School, Mr. Yerkes lived his entire life in the area.

He had a varied career which included two years at Michigan State University's School of Agriculture and a few years working on the family farm. He owned and operated a plumbing business in the Farmington area until 1930 and was active in the real estate business after the Depression.

He also worked at Ford Motor Company's Northville Plant. His family owned the old mill and land where Ford built the plant, and the surrounding area which now includes Mill Race Historical Village.

Mr. Yerkes was a member of Farmington Lodge No. 151 F & AM. He received a degree of master mason (life member) in 1918. He was a high priest of Union Chapter 55 of Michigan, elected and installed into office in 1925.

A funeral service was held Sept. 16 at Ross B. Northrop Funeral Home in Northville, the Rev. Lawrence A. Chamberlain officiating. Interment was in the Yerkes Cemetery.

His wife, Florence, preceded him in death in 1979. He is survived by his sister, Alice Ferrow of Tillsonburg, Ontario, and his niece, Marjorie Bernelle of Livonia.

A longtime Northville resident, Mr. Shelley was a paint blender for the Inmont Paint Company. He retired in 1963 after 35 years of service. A special source of pride was his garden and flowers.

A funeral was held Sept. 16 at Ross B. Northrop & Son Funeral Home with Dr. Richard J. Alberta officiating. Interment was at Rural Hill Cemetery.

LORETTA M. MEABROD

Loretta M. Meabrod of Farmington died Sept. 12. She was 59.

Mrs. Meabrod was born Aug. 17 in Detroit to Arthur Benjamin and Ada (Lewis) Schwab. Her husband, William E. Meabrod, preceded her in death in 1981.

She is survived by her children, William Meabrod of Fenton, Dudley Meabrod of Keego Harbor, Harley A. Meabrod of Farmington, James H. Meabrod of Farmington, Jacqueline M. Widmaier of Greenville, and Colleen Meabrod of Plymouth; and eight grandchildren.

She was a member of Family Life Christian Church. She owned the Shutter Center in Farmington.

Memorial services were held Sept. 15 at Ross B. Northrop & Son Funeral Home, Pastor Daniel M. Young officiating. Interment was at Grand Lawn Cemetery.

Memorials to the Michigan Cancer Foundation would be appreciated.

ALMIRA B. WARNER

Former Northville resident Almira (Alice) B. Warner, lately of Port Huron, died Sept. 13. She was 99.

Mrs. Warner was born April 15, 1890 to Hugh and Nancy (Teachout) Cole.

Her husband, Earl, and her son, Roy, preceded her in death. She is survived by her daughter, Margurite, four grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

Mrs. Warner was a cook for years at Maybury Sanitarium. She lived in Northville until two years ago.

A funeral was held Sept. 16 at Eppens-VanDeweghe Funeral Home, Dr. Larry Sharples officiating. Interment was at Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens in Novi.

ROBERT GORDON CAMPBELL

Robert G. Campbell, a 1948 graduate of Northville High School, died in North Adams on Sept. 5 after a four-year illness.

He was born June 1, 1930 in Detroit, moving to Northville in 1933. He is survived by his wife, Donna Joyce, to whom he has been married for 34 years.

Also surviving him are three children: Robert Scott Campbell of Jonesville, Heather Campbell of Dearborn and Colleen (Mrs. Roger) Wagner of North Adams. He is also survived by three grandchildren.

Also surviving him are his mother, Helen Campbell, sister Jean (Mrs. John) Angell of Northville and brother Thomas M. Campbell of Plymouth. He was preceded in death by his father, Thomas Campbell.

Mr. Campbell served in the U.S. Air Force for four years in Europe following graduation and then joined the Livonia police force in 1952.

Services were held at the Ned M. Towns Funeral Home in North Adams with Rev. Melanie Baker-Streevy officiating. Interment was at the Northlawn Cemetery.

of an agreement made with Botsford Hospital and CEMS, its ambulance service, several years ago. At that time, Northville City, Northville Township, Novi and Farmington joined together to enter into what Walters termed an "operating agreement" with CEMS to provide service to the five communities. Plymouth entered into a similar agreement with CEMS at a later date.

Plymouth's defection from the program has led to concerns by Northville City officials on whether other towns are planning similar actions, and whether CEMS could provide an adequate level of service to the remaining towns in the agreement.

According to CEMS President Greg Beauchemin, medical service to Northville will only improve with the loss of Plymouth's business. "Northville will probably experience even better response times," he said.

CEMS currently has one ambulance for both the Plymouth and Northville areas, he explained, which is still stationed in Plymouth. Once Plymouth has fully switched to Huron Valley Ambulance Service, he said, CEMS will move that ambulance to a station on Seven Mile and Northville roads, allowing faster response to emergencies in Northville.

Plymouth officials have several arguments for the use of Huron Valley Ambulance Service over CEMS. According to a Sept. 8 memo from Northville Police Chief Rodney Cannon to Walters, Plymouth officials were dissatisfied with the quality of service rendered by CEMS. Cannon, who questioned Plymouth Fire Chief Alan Matthews about the change, reported three problems: the CEMS response time in Plymouth was considered too long, basic units — rather than the agreed-upon advanced life support units — had been sent to the scene of an accident several times, and CEMS crews remained at the scene too long before transporting victims.

Cannon wrote that Northville officials have experienced similar problems, and complained to CEMS officials about delays in transporting victims.

Beauchemin disagreed with the figures cited by Plymouth officials. "Their statistics are, in our opinion, totally erroneous," he said, "and we have statistics to prove that."

Beauchemin called the Plymouth defection "a politically-motivated move."

Included in Cannon's report was a study of CEMS response times in Northville. In reviewing CEMS response times for 23 ambulance runs between May 1 and Sept. 1 of this year, Northville Police Capt. James Petres found response times ranging from 3 to 20 minutes, with the average time being 8.7 minutes. In 30 percent of the runs, according to the review, response time was over 10 minutes. Medical studies have shown that the survival rate of heart attack victims decreases dramatically if treatment begins after eight minutes.

Beauchemin could not comment directly on the Northville figures, though he said they sounded high.

Walters noted that Northville Township board members are considering a plan to have township medical personnel provide first-response medical coverage to township residents, coverage currently provided by CEMS. The change would mirror the system used by Plymouth City before changing carriers, when city firefighters provided first aid before CEMS crews arrived to give advanced life support such as intravenous lines, air passages and cardiac defibrillation.

Walters noted that such a change usually leads to a community providing full ambulance service. Since Plymouth's change of carriers, Walters said, "Everything looks more significant now."

Walters will make a recommendation to the city council after discussing the situation with CEMS personnel and officials of the remaining three communities involved in the agreement.

Critical Care Awareness Week: September 17th-23rd

State of the Art of Caring...

Maria Soof, R.N., brings a special, caring touch to her work in St. Mary Hospital's Special Care Unit.

In St. Mary Hospital's SPECIAL CARE UNIT

Special people with special skills provide special care — every day, all day — in St. Mary Hospital's new Special Care Unit.

Located on the third floor of the new St. Mary Hospital Pavilion, the unit is staffed by highly trained professional nurses, such as Maria (pictured), and full-time intensivists and pulmonologists, technicians and therapists. These professionals work as a team — with dedication and compassion to critically ill patients — comfort and support to family members.

The 16-bed high-tech unit, recently expanded in the new Pavilion, offers the latest medical technology available. State-of-the-art monitors and computers measure vital information needed to provide fast, efficient intensive and coronary care.

St. Mary Hospital's Critical Care Medicine Department is well respected in Michigan medical circles — for its educational seminars — and quality medical care.

With the addition of the Special Care Unit, St. Mary provides monitoring to as many as 56 patients — State-of-the-Art of Caring.

Our Opinions

Moraine busing choice was the correct one

The Northville school board faced a tough decision recently when confronted by the issue of busing students to the reopened Moraine Elementary School.

The start of the school year traditionally brings complaints from parents about bus routes and schedules. There are often families not served by buses whose parents think they should be. There are often parents who believe buses should come down certain streets when they only stop on a corner. There are suggestions for different schedules and different routes.

In one sense, every one of these complaints / suggestions has merit. They each probably would be a benefit to a limited number of people.

But realism has to balance the potential benefits. At one extreme, buses could go to every house with a student — and school taxes would shoot even higher while kids were on the bus for two hours at a time. As in all such things, the costs have to be weighed against the benefits.

That's why the district establishes guidelines for busing. In Northville, the guideline is that every student who is more than a half-mile from their school gets bused. With a standard like this the district goes a lot further than it has to; state law requires busing only for students more than two miles from their schools.

The Northville guideline is not a law, it's a policy, and as such it can theoretically be lifted if a situation warrants. In this case — of students in the Pheasant Hills, Abbey Knoll Estates and Northville Estates subdivisions — the policy continues to make sense.

EDUCATION

This situation is something much bigger than the usual start-of-the-year complaints. This was a groundswell of concern — understandable and legitimate — from parents of students who would have to cross Eight Mile.

There are some real problems — most importantly, the lack of Eight Mile sidewalks. This needs to be remedied very soon. But even until then, the students should be able to walk well out of the area of the street.

The actual crossing is the other major concern, and the walkway overpass is — according to the state police — the safest way to do this. A permanent crossing guard, which has been suggested, would obviously be an expense, but it may be one which is justified. It is vital to ensure that the students use the walkway and do not take a shortcut across the street itself. The school board should take a closer look at this possibility.

But the busing policy makes sense, and dropping it in this instance is not the answer to safety concerns. (One might even make a credible argument that it's more dangerous to drive on Eight Mile than to walk alongside it.) Upholding the bus policy in this case was the right choice.

Festival people deserve congratulations, thanks

Look, we promise. This is the last time for at least six months that we're going to write an editorial on the Victorian Festival. But before this self-imposed moratorium starts, there are a few final comments we want to get out of our system.

The long-awaited festival finally went off this weekend, basically as planned except for Saturday's weather, and it has to be counted as a resounding success. Everyone in attendance seemed to be enjoying it; everyone who missed it sounds like they regret the fact. Next year's attendance ought to be even better.

For the first year, the festival was amazing. The number and variety of activities were beyond what anyone could have expected — and everything worked. The festival hit exactly the right note.

The organizers have been thanked and congratulated before, but they deserve it again. This was a major undertaking and it came off beautifully. The problems which did arise — shifting schedules being the biggest — should be able to be ironed out for next year. (And as long as we're nitpicking, could someone please take down the banners?)

The community at large deserves applause as well. Everyone really dove right in to the spirit of the festival and ended up having a great time. Northville really shone this weekend, and the community is the richer for it. So when is next year's festival going to be?

Switching towns

By Bruce Weintraub

Well, this is it. After one year and three months, I am being transferred from Northville to the beautiful confines of Novi.

Don't get me wrong. Novi is a nice city. But, let's be honest. It ain't no Northville.

Some of the things I'll miss?

Let's start off with the people. I've met some very nice people in this great small town. Many people have helped me get accustomed to the idiosyncrasies and nuances of this area. For that, I truly thank all of you.

Coming in as an outsider into a small community is very difficult. People usually are not quick to accept you. But the majority of people with whom I've come in contact over the past year have been extremely warm and friendly.

In my first-ever column in The Record, I asked township residents to call me with their story ideas. I asked everyone to be open with me, and in turn, I would try to be responsive. I know the people of this town certainly held your end of the bargain. I hope I did the same.

There were many issues to cover over the past year. Many were exciting. Some were controversial. Others, well... you know.

Probably the biggest news to come out of the township over the past year was the eventual approval of Ward Presbyterian Church.

I went on record last month as questioning the consistency of three planning commissioners who voted for the plan. Now that the issue is almost over (all it needs is final planning commission approval), let me state my position.

Ward Church will no doubt be a community asset. It'll have to be, though, since it will be one of the largest structures between Southfield to Ann Arbor. How the structure (and not the people) fits in with this community mystifies me.

Covering township politics for the past year also has been quite eventful. I've seen all of the township board members re-elected, a police millage approved, and a person I found to be a very competent township manager, Steve Brock, resign.

In the months and years to come I believe the township is in very good hands. The ad-hoc committee that recently studied the manager position was comprised of many very intelligent and thoughtful township residents.

Their recommendation was to make the manager position a long-term job and to find a well-qualified individual who had a number of years of township managerial and public administration experience.

I sat in on some of the manager candidate interviews held by the selection committee. After seeing some of the candidates, I'm certain the township will find a well-qualified manager to lead it into the next decade and possibly next century.

Finally, covering the school district proved to be both (no pun intended) educational and enlightening. I found this district to be led by many dynamic and capable people.

After covering other areas, I found Northville to be an innovator in many areas of education: middle-school training, special education, drug counseling, etc.

I tried to bring you a sample of what's happening in your schools. I could not have done this job, however, without the help of a number of people in the district.

Finally, I want to again thank everyone for introducing me to what Northville hospitality is all about. I learned a lot this past year, but most of all, I met a lot of good people.

Thanks.

Under the spreading mushroom tree...

After the fact

By Phil Jerome

"How ya doin'?" She asked it nice, like she really cared. But I knew it was just a trick to throw me off guard.

"Just fine," I replied. I said it nice, too, but with a slight hint of defiance to let her know I was on to her little scheme.

"No pain?" she asked. "No sore muscles?"

"Of course not, my little aerobics instructor. I appreciate your deep concern for my physical wellbeing, but I must confess to being somewhat disappointed in your virtually total lack of confidence in my personal conditioning program.

"Just because I didn't take your little aerobics class during the summer does not mean I allowed my physical conditioning program to deteriorate to nothing-ness."

"Just because you didn't see me doing all my exercises every day. Just because you weren't there to supervise all those sit-ups. Just because you weren't there to see me doing my curls and presses and pull-downs, does not mean that I allowed each and every one of my muscles to attain a state of total atrophy during the summer.

"And another thing," I continued. "I think it's pretty pretentious for you to suspect I might have sore muscles just because I went to your class last night for the first time in three months.

"The truth of the matter is that it was no trouble at all. No problema, senora, as they say in Cancun. Nothing to it. Free and easy. High and dry. Wet and wild."

"You about done?" she asked when I paused long enough for her to get in a word edgewise.

"I guess that should handle it," I replied. "But I do have one little request. Could you help me with my tie? I don't seem to be able to lift my arms higher than my shoulders this morning."

Loss of house, habitat mourned

To the Editor:

My hat is off, and I say a very big "thank you," to Mr. Robert Thomas, who expressed my feelings so well about the Grand Old Lady on Eight Mile Road. Many times I passed her and wished "if only she could be restored for all of us to enjoy." (I would have helped.)

I write letters, Mr. Thomas, when I know to whom I should write. The developer, the planning commission, the police and the newspaper would have received my communication. I am not naive enough to believe I can stop or alter "change," however, I believe my opinion is not only important, but necessary.

The Eight Mile Road Lady reminded me of a wonderful homestead that has been restored in the middle of bustling Pleasant Hills, California, a short distance inland from San Francisco. I had hoped for something similar here. But how do you stop the destruction of our heritage when there is a big profit ($) to be made?

I recently wrote to the Township of Northville to express my concern for and to try to stop the destruction of the flora and fauna on the south side of Eight Mile Road east of Lake Success. It was received, I'm sure, but ignored as the construction continued and all the animals became homeless.

I have invited all the skunks, woodchucks and raccoons to come and live under my deck, but my beagle won't allow it, he makes a terrible fuss, and no one is happy with that arrangement. But I do worry about... where will they go... so far that we will only see the dead ones... the ones that didn't make it?

Can life support be so "fickle," or is it "fashionable"?

Johnson adieu

To Northville friends of Carl Johnson:

After nearly 45 years of working in Northville, my father, Carl Johnson, is retiring. Although he has been inching toward retirement, I am sure that his decision to "close up shop" this fall is related to his recent stint at Ford Hospital where he spent six weeks following major surgery. Happily, he is on the mend, and he and his wife, Betty, are looking forward to lots of travel, family visits and leisurely winters in Florida.

As I sit here in Denver and try to picture him packing up his real estate business, it is difficult to imagine! The familiar streets of Northville and his many friends there have been such a big part of his life.

In imagining my father's transition, I am flooded with happy memories of skipping from my parents' first Northville business, "Johnson's Jewelry and Gift Shop," to Agnes and Howard's "Bean Pot" for lunch, and maybe on to Leo Mainville's drugstore, a chat with Beth Lapham or the Freydlis, a stop in at Joe Rivitzer's, and so on, up and down the friendly streets.

It all makes me realize that Northville deserves a big compliment. It was then, and it continues to be, first class. When I visit Northville today, I am so proud to call it my hometown. Its charm has been preserved — and greatly enhanced. Over the years, my father has enjoyed the friendship of literally hundreds of Northville people. He is a friendly kind of guy, and I know he will miss all of his downtown friends.

Lynn (Johnson) Tipton

Victorian cheer

To the Editor:

Congratulations are in order to everyone who participated in making Northville's Victorian Festival such a success. A special vote of confidence should go to Laurie Marrs and the rest of the Chamber of Commerce, who orchestrated the event. Even the weather on Saturday was veddy, veddy English.

Parents influence children's behaviors

This is another in a series of columns by Northville Schools Student Assistance Program Coordinator Charlie Stilec.

Parents are the single most important influence over a child's risk of developing alcohol- and other drug-abuse problems. In most of the past efforts at prevention, we have done little to equip parents with the information and skills they need to teach their children to develop healthy attitudes about alcohol and other drugs.

It is a major goal of this writer to give parents, youth and community members tools to use when needed when faced with what I perceive as the ever-increasing threat of substance use and abuse.

In our society, parents have largely underestimated their own influence on their children. Parents mistakenly assume that peer pressure and other factors play a larger role than they do. The fact is, parents are the preferred source for information on the issues of alcohol, other drugs, AIDS and sex, and they remain so through adolescence.

Children learn through listening as well as watching, and they receive and use important messages both through observation of their parents and direct verbal communication behavior from the parents. Its not just what parents do that counts, it's also what they say.

The verbal messages by which parents shape their children's behavior in relationship to their future use of alcohol and other drugs are:

1. Those messages that convey family history of biological, medical and health issues.
2. Those messages that convey the facts of the health risks of using alcohol and other drugs.

The most simple messages for both parents and children to learn together are:

alcohol and using other drugs becomes abuse when it brings harm or negative consequences to the drinker or other people. children, any drinking is abuse because it affects growth and development.

young people under age 21, any drinking is abuse because it is illegal.

pregnant women, any drinking is abuse because it may harm the unborn baby.

people using certain prescription drugs, any drinking may be abuse because it can combine in harmful ways with other drugs.

people with a family history of alcoholism, any drinking may be abuse.

people who are about to drive, or are driving or operating machinery, any drinking is abuse.

people whose work requires judgment, any drinking may be abuse.

Parents are in a front-line position to observe, interact and intervene if and when drug or alcohol use begins. Readers who need further information or concerns can call the Student Assistance Office at Northville High School or the Community Commission on Drug Abuse at 261-3760.

Firm to study township salaries

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

Northville Township will conduct a thorough review of its employee pay structure for possible changes.

Board members unanimously voted last Thursday to approve a bid submitted by Plante and Moran — a management consulting firm — in an amount not to exceed $20,000.

"I feel our compensation program needs a close review," said Interim Business Manager Richard Henningsen. "We need to pick a vendor and tailor it (the program) to our needs."

Henningsen recommended a review of the employee compensation program to board members last month, citing the need to bring compensation plans "in line with current economic standards."

"I also want to look at the job descriptions so I can be on better footing and feel more confident with the salary structure here," he said earlier.

To aid the study, Henningsen sought and received preliminary reports from three personnel consulting firms: Plante & Moran, Yarger & Assoc. Inc., and Ambler & Associates.

After discussing each of the three proposals, board members agreed to go ahead with the Plante & Moran proposal.

"This decision will definitely lend itself to a good report," said Township Trustee Richard Allen, adding township employees should be compensated for doing a good job.

As part of the approval, board members gave Henningsen and Township Supervisor Georgina Goss the freedom to choose one of two options in the Plante & Moran proposal.

Option one consists of a study of the seven administrative positions, while option two provides for the study of all township employee positions.

The first option costs about $5,000 and would be concluded in 30 to 45 days. The second option costs between $18,000 and $20,000 and would take 60 to 90 days to finish.

"The whole idea is to get salaries and job class worked out to have the pay scale in line with today's marketplace," Henningsen said.

"The people who work here are sitting at the threshold of heavy development," he added. "The individual we hire will have an impact on this community for the next 40 years. I'm confident we have a good staff, and I want them to step up to the next plateau."

Haggerty Road sewer is back on track

By BRUCE M. WEINTRAUB

Northville's largest sewer district is back on track, following unanimous township board approval Thursday of the Haggerty Road sewer district.

Board members began reviewing the district last month for a number of reasons, the most important of which was an 18-percent cost increase since it was first created in 1985.

Only a few residents appeared before the board at last Thursday's meeting, far less than the 50 or so residents who turned out at an August meeting.

One citizen questioned board members last Thursday, asking chiefly how the benefits in the district were formulated.

Township Engineer Abe Munfah said his firm reviewed the assessment roll of the entire district and noted homeowners were assessed based on their present zoning and the number of benefits per parcel.

For example, Munfah said a three-acre parcel could be split into three lots — meaning it has three benefits from a sewer line.

Township Deputy Clerk Eunice Switzler said the district was reviewed due to the cost increase and because more parties want to be in the district.

She said about 85 parcels are in the revised district, which includes properties between Six and Eight Mile roads near Haggerty.

The previous cost of the project, which received board approval in 1985, was roughly $3,130,000. The 18-percent increase takes the new price of the district to $3,697,972.

Switzler said if the cost of a district rises by more than 10 percent prior to building, the project must come back before the board of trustees.

Munfah said the final amount of the district could again change, but it would have to come back before the board in the future.

He added it will take between four and six weeks to receive bids on the project and noted it could be finished by the end of November 1990.

Township lot sizes may soon increase

By BRUCE WEINTRAUB

They came to an agreement — sort of.

After debating for more than an hour, township planning commissioners agreed Tuesday, Aug. 29 that the current minimum lot size should be increased.

However, planners could not come to an agreement on whether the depth of lots should also be increased.

"There are two issues here," said commission Chairperson Charles DeLand. "We need to increase lot sizes for the better placement of decks and for more space between houses."

DeLand added by increasing lot sizes he does not want to encourage larger houses, "but I want to increase the size of side-yard setbacks."

Planner Karen Woodside said many of her neighbors wish their houses were on bigger lots because the smaller lots are causing many "border disputes."

"The most common complaint I hear is, 'My house is too close to my neighbor's,'" DeLand said. "Unfortunately, they don't find this out until it's too late."

Commissioner Larry Sheehan said, however, that he does not want to make Northville Township an unaffordable place to live.

"I think (if the lot size is raised too high) that you'll be pricing people out of the community," Sheehan said. "Unless you want Northville to be the most expensive community."

Planners tentatively agreed to increasing the side-yard setbacks by 15 feet, to create a greater distance between houses.

As far as rear-yard setbacks, planner Richard Allen said he would not like to see the amount greater than 50 feet. "If you go higher than that, I think you're getting carried away."

"I think if you try to make lots deeper you're playing with dynamite," he added. "Whatever we do has got to be defensible (in court), and I think we're walking ourselves out of a defensible position."

DeLand then instructed Township Planning Consultant Claude Coates to look at a variety of lot-size proposals and present them to the planning commission at its Sept. 26 meeting.

Columnist speaks at annual library dinner

Tickets are still available for the upcoming Friends of the Northville Library benefit dinner, featuring special guest Mitch Albom, a sports columnist and author.

The sixth annual dinner is Monday, Sept. 25 at Genitti's "Hole-In-the-Wall" restaurant, hosted by Toni and John Genitti. A cash bar will be available beginning at 6:30 p.m., followed by dinner at 7 p.m.

Tickets are $20 per person and are available at the Northville Public Library.

Geraldine Mills, chairperson of the event, said there are still tickets available to those who would like to attend the group's major fund-raiser.

A graduate of Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass., and Columbia University in New York, Albom is a sports columnist for the Detroit Free Press. He holds a bachelor's degree in sociology from Brandeis, a master's degree in journalism from Columbia, and a master's degree in business administration from Columbia Business School.

He was previously a professional piano player and singer and played throughout the United States and Europe. Albom, 31, also is host of a radio talk show, "Sunday Sports Album" on WLLZ-FM radio.

His awards include being named "Top Sports Columnist" in the nation by the Associated Press in 1985, 1986, 1987 and 1988; "Top Sports Columnist" in the nation by United Press International in 1985, 1986, 1987 and 1988, an outstanding writer in the National Headliners Award in 1989, and "Sports Writer of the Year" by the National Sportscasters and Sports Writers Association in 1989.

He is also author of "The Live Album," an anthology of his columns, and co-author of "Bo," an autobiography of Bo Schembechler, University of Michigan football coach and athletic director.

Bookstall on the Main in Northville will have copies of "Bo" and "The Live Album" for sale at the dinner.

Albom also will autograph books for guests during the event.

This successful event has presented outstanding speakers in the past, including William Kienzle, author, in 1985; Ruth Caughlin, Detroit News book editor, 1986; Loren Estleman, author, 1987; and Doug Fraser, former UAW president, 1988.

For more information call Geraldine Mills, dinner chairperson, at 349-1648.

Crawford family enjoys success at family restaurant

By JEFF HAWKINS

A waitress busily rushes her next order to the kitchen, passing two ladies on her way.

She stops and shares a laugh with the ladies, and politely asks if they would like something else.

"No, thank you," they respond. And off she went, disappearing through the kitchen doors and quickly returning with a fresh container of water for the patrons of Crawford's to enjoy.

There are many different delights to discover at Crawford's, and the food is only part of it.

"We try to serve good food along with friendly service," said Susan Crawford-Poster, manager of Crawford's Bakery. "I know it's a cliché, but that's what we do."

Crawford's, which is located at 160 East Main Street in Northville, opened in July 1984. In those five years of service, the restaurant's reputation has flourished under the guidance of the Crawford family.

"We have had three generations working at the restaurant," Susan said. "I guess you could call it a family affair. We are all here, and the family works well together."

It all started when Richard and Ruthellen Crawford decided that they could serve the community quality food at a reasonable price.

Following in their footsteps, family members Jeffrey, Susan, Amy, Steven, Michelle, Cyndee, Terry Jr. and Amy Sue each carry their own responsibilities into creating an atmosphere that brings people from miles around to experience.

"We have had customers from Novi, Farmington Hills, Ypsilanti and Milford," observed Susan. "We have some regulars who come here to eat three times a day, six days a week."

The restaurant sits in the midst of other establishments in downtown Northville. A small, quaint cafe, Crawford's interior is decorated with antiques to give it an old-fashioned feel.

In all, Crawford's has approximately 10 tables in the back end of the store, six lined-up against the wall and four more placed in front for the customers convenience.

"It's a good place to eat," said Vicki Klausler, who was enjoying lunch with her son, Peter. "It's a very nice place, and my favorite dish is their clam chowder."

Along with the restaurant, Crawford's offers a bakery that is

JIM STORM

MARY JO BRAUN

JIM STORM, Farmers Insurance Group of Companies' agent from Northville, was awarded Farmers' highest honor, "Agent of the Year," at the company's annual Presidents Council convention at Hilton Head, South Carolina.

Storm was selected from more than 14,000 agents who serve Farmers' customers throughout 27 midwestern and western states. Fewer than one percent of Farmers agents are selected to become Presidents Council members each year and from this prestigious group, one agent is chosen as "Agent of the Year."

In presenting the award, Farmers' Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, Leo E. Denlea, Jr., said, "Jim Storm typifies the kind of individual dedication that enables us to say that 'America can depend on Farmers.' We're very proud of him."

Presidents Council members are chosen for service to customers, sales production and professionalism, among other criteria. Member companies of the Farmers Insurance Group of Companies include the nation's third largest insurers of homes and autos.

MARY JO BRAUN of Northville has been appointed executive director of corporate planning by Michigan Consolidated Gas Company.

Braun joined MichCon in 1977 in the company's Grand Rapids District. Transferring to MichCon headquarters in Detroit, Braun was named manager of Budget Staff/Customer Services in 1979 and manager of Central Staff/Utility Operations in 1980. She was appointed manager of Employment and Placement in 1981 and director of Personnel Operations in 1983. In 1986, Braun was named Assistant Controller and director of Corporate Accounting, which she held until her current appointment.

Braun holds a BA degree from Aquinas College and a MBA in Finance from Seidman School of Business, Grand Valley State University. She is a member of the Women's Economic Club, the American Society for Personnel Administration and the American Management Association.

Braun and her husband, Robert, reside in Northville.

MichCon is a natural gas distribution, transmission and storage company serving more than one million customers in 440 communities throughout Michigan, and is a wholly-owned subsidiary of MCN Corporation.

HAROLD HYLAND, CLU, of Novi has completed all the requirements to be certified as a Qualifying and Life Member of the 1989 Million Dollar Round Table. Hyland is a district representative for Lutheran Brotherhood, a fraternal benefit society.

The Million Dollar Round Table is an independent association of more than 15,000 life insurance agents, each of whom must meet strict ethical and production requirements in order to qualify. As a Qualifying and Life Member, Hyland has achieved "Qualifying" membership for an aggregate of 10 years.

Only three percent of the world's life insurance agents are certified each year through high-level client service and production. This year 76 Lutheran Brotherhood field force members qualified. Membership reflects a commitment to continuing advanced education to better serve the financial security of families, individuals and businesses.

Hyland joined Lutheran Brotherhood in 1975. He is associated with Lutheran Brotherhood's Karl Mueller Agency headquartered in Rochester Hills.

FILTRA-SYSTEMS/HYDROMATION, a leading manufacturer of industrial filtration equipment and systems for the automotive, mining and chemical processing industries, has moved its corporate headquarters from Haggerty Road in Farmington Hills to Beck Road in Wixom.

Company President Jack Bratten said the new $1.5 million, 30,000 square foot facility picture above will be the company's center for administrative and product engineering as well as research and development.

CAROL MASON, broker/owner of Red Carpet Keim, Carol Mason, Inc., was the top-selling broker in the metropolitan Detroit area in the end of July.

Mason stands second in the tri-county/tri-city area with a year-to-date volume just short of $4 million in listings and sales, mostly in Novi and the surrounding area.

MICHAEL WELLER of Novi has been appointed to the position of real estate manager in the Detroit office of Arthur Andersen & Company.

A graduate of the University of Michigan, he holds AB and JD degrees from the university.

The Arthur Andersen Worldwide Organization is an international professional services organization offering accounting, audit, tax, management information consulting and professional education services to clients through 231 offices in 49 countries.

KRISTEN WALL of Northville has been hired as an Account Executive/Corporate Department for the Metropolitan Detroit Convention & Visitors Bureau (MDCVB). The appointment was announced MDCVB President William F. McLaughlin.

J. CHRISTOPHER GAZLAY

JOSEPH J. BUTTIGIEG

Wall, 22, is a graduate of Michigan State University. Founded in 1896, the MDCVB is a non-profit organization which promotes the Detroit area as a site for meetings, conventions and group tours.

J. CHRISTOPHER GAZLAY of Northville has been appointed Vice President of Estimating by Earthwork Engineers, Inc., a site development contractor located in Wixom.

A graduate of Kenyon (Ohio) College, Gazlay held similar positions from other Michigan contractors. He has been a resident of Northville for the past 39 years and is currently a member of the City of Northville Planning Commission.

JOSEPH J. BUTTIGIEG, III, senior vice president, has assumed responsibility for Domestic Wholesale Banking at Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit.

A Northville resident, Buttigieg began his career in the Manufacturers Bank Credit Department in 1971. He was promoted to officer in 1973 and was named second vice president in 1975. In 1976 Buttigieg was promoted to vice president of the National Division, and he became vice president and senior account officer, heading the Michigan Division, in 1977.

Buttigieg was transferred to Manufacturers London, England, office in 1979, as a vice president and senior international banking officer, and was named general manager of its former London affiliate, Atlantic International Bank, in 1980. He was promoted to managing director of that bank in 1982. Buttigieg returned to Detroit in 1984, at which point he was promoted to first vice president and officer-in-charge of the bank's wholesale lending planning function. In 1986 he was placed in charge of Corporate Planning and was named senior vice president in 1988.

Buttigieg holds a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Notre Dame and a Juris Doctor degree from the Detroit College of Law. He is a member of the State Bar of Michigan, the American Bankers Association and is a director of the Detroit College of Law Development Council.

TRACIE CAID of Wixom has been elected to serve as vice president and executive board member of the Grand Rapids-based United Food and Commercial Workers Union Local 951.

The election procedure began Aug. 28 with nomination meetings for Local 951's approximately 26,000 members. It ended with the closing deadline for acceptance of nomination by candidates for three executive officer and 52 vice president positions on Sept. 5.

Caid is employed at the Meijer store on Haggerty Road in Northville Township. She became a member of Local 951 in May 1985 and has been serving as a steward for the local since April 1987.

Homeowners should keep record of personal property inventory

The average home contains $40,000 in appliances, furniture and personal items, AAA Michigan reports.

"We recommend that homeowners conduct a personal property inventory to ensure accurate records of belongings," said Richard Robertson, AAA Michigan Homeowners Claims manager. "Claims can be settled faster if there's a list of missing or damaged items easily available," Robertson added.

Should an insured total loss occur, most homeowners probably could not recall everything that covers the floors, hangs on the walls or sits on a shelf, he added.

"Homeowners would be surprised at the dollar value of their belongings and will find that an inventory is worth the time and effort if a claim is ever filed," said Robertson.

During the first five months of 1989, the typical AAA Michigan Homeowner's fire claim averaged $5,071, while theft claims averaged about $1,048.

For a complete inventory, AAA Michigan advises homeowners to:

- Walk through the entire house, listing contents with a description, brand name, model, color, size, serial number and location of each

'Homeowners would be surprised at the dollar value of their belongings and will find that an inventory is worth the time and effort if a claim is ever filed.'

— Richard Robertson,
AAA Michigan Claims Manager

- Etch Michigan driver's license number on major items as identification. Electronic etching tools are available at many police stations, insurance agencies and AAA Michigan full service offices.
- Photograph or videotape items.
- Retain receipts or other proofs of purchase.
- Inventory jewelry to determine if insurance sufficiently covers the appraised value.
- Put one copy of the inventory, including photos, videotapes and receipts, in a fireproof container, such as a safe deposit box, and give another to a family member or friend.

- Update the list yearly, or when adding items or moving, and obtain appraisals on valuables every three years.

Homeowners looking for help in making an inventory can obtain a copy of "The Other Family Album, Personal Property Inventory," available at AAA Michigan sales offices.

CPAs offer suggestions for selecting the 'right' credit card

Up until now, the best way to find out the true cost of a credit card was by taking out a magnifying glass to read the fine print on the back of the application.

There, in Lilliputian-size letters, you would discover the facts about such clever traps as hidden transaction fees and two-tier interest rates. As of Sept. 1, 1989, however, all of this changed.

The Federal Reserve Board now requires credit-card issuers to state "clearly and conspicuously" their methods for calculating balances as well as their annual percentage rates, grace periods, annual fees and other related information — usually tucked away in the fine print.

With the terms of a credit card carefully laid out before you, selecting the right card for your purposes should be easier than in the past. That is, if you know just what the terms mean.

ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE: According to the Michigan Association of CPAs, one of the least understood but most important factors to consider when selecting a credit card is the annual percentage rate (APR).

Money Management

The APR is the rate of interest a bank charges on your credit card balance. Obviously, different issuers charge different rates. What is not so obvious is that the banks may also use different methods of calculating the interest. And some methods cost you more than others.

The first method, and the best for you, is the "adjusted balance method." With this system, the interest charge is based on the amount you owe after subtracting your payment from the previous balance. Let's say your card charges on APR of 18 percent, or 1.5 percent a month. If your previous balance was $500 and you pay $400 on the account, the 1.5 percent interest on $100 yields an interest charge of only $1.50 for the month.

The most costly manner of calculating interest is called the "previous balance method," in which you receive no credit for payments made during the billing period. Instead, you are charged interest on your balance at the end of the previous month. So, using the same example as above, your interest cost for the month would be 1.5 percent of $500 or $7.50 — a full $6 more than you would pay under the adjusted balance method.

Another way to calculate interest is known as the "average daily balance method." In this case, the bank adds your balance for each day in the billing period and then divides the total by the number of days in the billing period. So, if you made that $400 payment on the 15th day of a 30-day cycle, your total balances for the month are $9,000 (15 days at $500 plus 15 days at $100). Dividing the $9,000 by 30 days, you arrive at your average daily balance — $300. As a result, your interest cost for the month is 1.5 percent of $300, or $4.50.

As you can imagine, the differences in interest costs can add up quickly if you tend to carry substantial balances on your credit cards. For this reason, CPAs urge you to pay special attention to the method of calculating interest used by any credit card company to which you apply.

THE GRACE PERIOD: Another factor that can greatly affect your interest costs is the grace period allowed by the credit card company. The term "grace period" refers to the period starting when an item is posted to your account and ending when the interest is first calculated against it.

As with interest rates and calculations, the grace period will vary greatly between card issuers.

Some credit card companies will start charging interest as soon as an item is posted to your account. If it gets posted on the first day, you will be charged for a full month of interest before you even get a chance to pay your bill.

Your best choice is a credit card that allows at least a 25-day grace period. That way, you can pay your account in full each month without being charged interest.

ANNUAL FEES: At one time, only travel and entertainment cards charged an annual fee, but no more. Generally, bank credit cards now charge from $15 to $50, or more, for the use of their cards.

On occasion, you will find a card advertising "no annual fee." Just make sure that the offer is real. Some issuers promise "no annual fee" and then charge a transaction fee for each purchase you make, or bill you for a monthly fee for any month in which you actually use the card.

Another gimmick to watch for is the card with "no annual fee" that mysteriously converts to an annual-fee card in the second year — without the issuers notifying the card holder in advance.

Keep in mind that if you use your card frequently, the transaction charges on a so-called "no annual fee" card may amount to more than the annual fee you would have to pay on another credit card.

SELECTING THE RIGHT CARD: Unless you can find a card that combines a low annual fee with a low interest rate and a long grace period, you must be willing to compromise a bit.

If you consistently carry a balance on your card, you should concentrate on finding a card with a low interest rate. After all, at 18 percent interest, debt can double in only four years.

On the other hand, if you tend to pay your balance in full each month, your best bet is a card with a long grace period and a lower annual fee. The interest rate should be of little concern to you since you generally will not incur interest charges.

In either case, be sure you review any credit-card promotional materials as closely as possible. What sounds like an unbeatable deal may turn out to be an unscrupulous gimmick.

For example, a company may advertise a credit-card interest rate far below that of competitors without making it crystal clear that the low rate applies only to balances above a certain point — perhaps $3,000 or higher.

CPAs also advise you to look out for unreasonable late payment fees, elevated cash advance charges and over-limit penalties.

Remember, before you apply for any credit card, take time to read the entire credit agreement, including the fine print.

Seminar benefits homebuyers

Anyone considering buying a home in the next few years can benefit from a free seminar being offered by the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors (WWOCBR) on Tuesday, Sept. 26.

The seminar will be held in the Holiday Inn Livonia West (17123 Laurel Park Drive at Six Mile and I-75) beginning at 7 p.m. It is expected to last about two hours and will include a question and answer period.

"It will be an informational, not a selling, session in which we'll have experts discussing all the steps involved from saving for the downpayment to closing," said Eric J. Hunt, president of the WWOCBR and its multiple listing service, Metro MLS.

"With home ownership the largest investment ever made by the average American, we think it important that they be properly prepared to examine the many alternatives facing them in today's residential market."

WWOCBR asks that advance reservations be made by calling 478-1700 to assure that space will be available. A similar seminar held by the board earlier this year drew more than 500 persons.

"We were pioneers in conducting these types of seminars in the 1970s and many buyers moving up in the market today tell our members how useful attendance was in helping them plan their first home purchase," Hunt said.

"But, the sessions are not restricted to first-time buyers. Anyone planning a move can gain new insight into the homebuying process from the financial, legal and real estate information to be presented."

Hunt said the seminars are conducted as part of board's public service programs, which currently include a food drive to benefit those in need through the Salvation Army. All those attending the seminar are asked to bring one canned good to be added to that collected by WWOCBR member offices over the preceding two weeks. Others wishing to make a donation can call 478-1700 for drop-off information.

Crawfords mark 5th anniversary located in a store directly in back of the restaurant.

As a recent addition, the bakery is beginning to grow into one of the community's leading sources of energy in the morning.

"The bakery has exceeded my expectations," Susan said, commenting on the customers who come in for a doughnut and coffee in the morning.

"Everything you need is here," she said. "I cut a window from the kitchen access so I could stay in touch with the people who come in."

Crawford's offers more than just a hearty meal; it delivers a family atmosphere with a friendly smile.

"All we want to do is serve quality food and provide good service," said Susan, as she continued to say how she has appreciated the way the community has treated the Crawford clan.

"We have made a lot of nice friends in the years we've been here," she added.

Look familiar? If you organize and plan, moving doesn't have to be this chaotic

Moving? Plan now to avoid the headaches

By Robin Gaines

Moving is considered one of the most stressful experiences befalling man or beast. According to mental health professionals, it rates right up there with changing jobs and having a baby.

Nevertheless, it is an experience most will go through at least once in their lives.

Whether you are moving from your parents' home into an apartment or dormitory 10 miles away or are moving your family of four plus a dog, cat and rooms of furniture across country, the key to surviving the experience is organization.

In the last year, I have had the unfortunate nightmare of moving twice. Once with a month-old baby; the second time pregnant.

In both cases, we moved about 35 miles. Not the other side of the world, but enough of a change to make you miss close neighbors, favorite restaurants and video stores.

But going through the second move wasn't as stressful as the first one, and I'm convinced it was because I was so well organized—something I'm ashamed to admit I'm not used to. What made the experience bearable was keeping up-to-date lists and getting things done early.

Here are a few hints that helped me survive the ordeal.

Once you know a move is inevitable and before you put your house up for sale, take inventory of what is in your home.

Now is the time to pitch old magazines, used cans of paint (call your solid waste disposal service for information on how to do this) and broken lamps you've been meaning to fix.

Hold a garage sale for items like used baby clothes and furniture, outgrown bikes, books and records you don't want.

Remember, the best thing about moving is that it gives you the opportunity to start fresh without taking a lot of excess baggage with you to your new house.

An inventory of furniture and household items will also help moving companies give you a more accurate estimate on what it will cost to move you from one house to another.

Bibi Winfield, author of "Moving: Checklists, planning schedules, and do-ahead reminders for a hassle-free move," recommends taking inventory room by room and writing down exactly what items you intend to move.

Once the house is sold, contact several moving companies for free estimates on what it will cost to move your belongings. Request that representatives from the various companies survey your home prior to quoting you a price.

It's important to keep a list of the companies, quotes and what services they provide. Will the company pack for you? Unpack? Supply boxes? How many movers will the company have loading and unloading the truck? What does the company's liability insurance cover in the event of loss or damage to your furnishings?

With moving costs running anywhere from $500 to $20,000, it's important to get your questions answered before you commit to one particular company.

For those moving for the first time who have not yet accumulated rooms of furniture and years of junk, there are weekend movers who provide nothing more than a pair of strong shoulders and a truck.

Usually cheaper, these operations sometimes carry no insurance. If something is lost or damaged, the company or individual is not held responsible.

There are also movers out there who are experts in moving specialized items like antiques, paintings and pianos. Again, make sure you understand ahead of time what's covered by insurance.

Two months before the move, Winfield recommends photographing valuables like jewelry, paintings, antiques and crystal in the event an item will have to be replaced.

Next, if you have contracted with a company that does not provide packing services, you'll want to start the arduous task yourself as soon as possible.

Start collecting sturdy, clean boxes from local grocery and liquor stores. Begin room by room packing items you won't need for awhile: books, records, linens, knickknacks, crystal and china. Repeat this process until you a few days from the move.

Make sure each box packed is labeled with its contents and what room it will occupy in the new house (e.g., "Bath towels, upstairs bathroom"). Winfield recommends not using big boxes since they are hard to lift when packed and are too bulky to fit in a truck or car.

Wrap all breakable items with newspaper and mark the box "Fragile."

Closer to moving day, set aside a box from the bedroom, bathroom and kitchen that contains essential items you will need the first few days in your new house. Make sure the boxes are marked differently than the others.

One month before the move, start sending change-of-address cards (which can be picked up free of charge at the post office) to credit card companies, banks, businesses, clubs, organizations and family and friends.

Most magazine subscriptions request that you notify them of your new address eight weeks in advance.

Arrange to have services such as gas, electricity, phone, cable TV, water and trash pickup cancelled for a particular date and installed at your new address.

One week before the move, Winfield recommends closing out all bank accounts, finishing any last-minute housework (like cleaning the oven) and saying goodbye to neighbors.

For those moving out-of-state, this is the time to pick up traveler's

Around the House: Designs for Living

Living around a hexagon

By James McAlexander

A central hexagon is the core of the Coolidge, containing all the public spaces for living, working and entertaining.

A raised entry into the front facet of the hexagon leads directly into the large living room/dining room area. This is a bright open space, with tall windows looking out onto the rear deck and back side yards.

The kitchen, to the right of the entry at the front of the house, is entirely separate from the formal dining area. In addition to ample counter space, a garden window, pantry and full set of appliances, the kitchen also provides casual living and eating space. The central island counter has built-in seating facing into a TV nook. It makes an excellent use of the space, although many home owners may want to preserve the option of designing the island as an eating bar, having conventional chairs facing the other way.

The master suite in Coolidge fills the downstairs of a wing to the left of the hexagon. It contains a sleeping area, walk-in closet, double vanity and full bath. A small room in the same wing can serve as a den, guest room, or—with the addition of a door—a private office or sitting room for the master suite.

Two smaller bedrooms and another full bath are above the master suite. Conventional wisdom says the main bathroom should be upstairs for maximum privacy, however, many of our readers with growing children say they want the option of living entirely on one floor once the kids leave the nest.

For a study plan of the Coolidge (228-111), send $5 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307 CN, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name and number when ordering.)

High home costs help condo sales

By James M. Woodard

Condo sales are up—particularly in areas where single-family home prices are forcing most prospective buyers out of the market.

Acquiring a home of their own is still a top-priority goal for most young families. But to enter the coveted realm of homeowners, an increasing number of families is finding the only affordable open door leads to a condominium or cooperative unit.

In the Northeast region, the number of condo resales (previously owned units) increased 34 percent during this year's second quarter, according to a report from the National Association of Realtors. One out of every four home sales was a condo or co-op.

Nationally, the median price for existing condos and co-ops is about $84,800. That's nearly 10 percent less than the median price for existing single-family homes. And that difference is enough to allow many marginal buyers to enter the sacred halls of home ownership.

The affordability factor pushed condo sales up to 386,000 units during the second quarter (national annualized rate). That's a substantial increase over the 357,000 sales rate during the first quarter, and 320,000 during last year's fourth quarter.

Many condo buyers, who could not afford a single-family home purchase, are finding their condo residence to be very satisfactory. It's usually a comfortable and conveniently located home. And the family starts building equity immediately instead of continuing to feed a landlord until it can afford its own single-family residence.

The family also immediately benefits from income tax savings as a homeowner. And the family members enjoy "pride of ownership" in their own home.

When the young family grows to the point where it really needs a single-family home, it will probably be in a better financial position to afford it. And the built-up equity in the condo home will be a big help in stepping up to a larger family residence, complete with yard play area and white picket fence.

Q: What is the normal cost of a home warranty plan and what does it cover?

A: A typical one-year home warranty plan involves a one-time premium charge of about $300. That fee is usually paid by the seller when the home is sold, but sometimes is paid by the buyer or broker. In some cases, the cost is shared.

The warranty usually covers all mechanical and electrical facilities and functions within the home—e.g., plumbing and electrical systems, built-in appliances, water heater, air-conditioning system. Most plans provide coverage for one year following the sale of the home. But extended coverage for two or three years can often be purchased.

The premium charge is usually about 1.2 percent of the total value of the items covered in the warranty contract, according to the Home Warranty Association.

Inquiries are invited and may be answered in this column. Write James M. Woodard, Copley News Service, P.O. Box 190, San Diego, CA 92112-0190.

Around the House: Sew Easy

Vests taking fashion by storm

By Madeline Hunter

Q: I have very limited sewing time these days, but do like to work on a project both for creative expressions and to enhance my wardrobe.

A: There are so many choices. Can you help me narrow the field? What would you suggest as an important item to sew for this year that can be completed before season ends?

A: Taking fashion by storm this season as the No. 1 fashion garment is the vest. This very versatile item can be worn casually with a T-shirt and jeans, or go completely dressed in velvet for dinner or a party.

It's a great project to complete if you have limited time, are a beginner, or are searching for a fresh lift for clothes you already own.

Vests also require a relatively small amount of fabric so you can splurge on the season's fanciful looks like brocade, damask, velvet or suede-like fabric. In some cases, you can use small amounts of expensive fabric for the vest front, and complete the entire back in lining.

Other recommended vest fabrics include gabardine, light-weight flannel, linen, tweed, corduroy and cottons.

Decorating ideas are almost limitless, using ribbons, appliques, embroidery, novelty buttons, chains and braids.

Every major pattern book has released new vest designs, making your selection almost limitless. There is even a unisex pattern, McCall's No. 4437 for men, women and teens. It's an easy V-front design, front buttoned with pockets.

A fitted, or semifitted style, No. 4314 from Butterick, offers numerous options on neck and button treatments. Collared or uncollared, with pockets and back tie options for shaping, this pattern can be casual or made for business.

Another pattern with multiple options is McCall's No. 4407. Double-breasted or single, with notched round collar, no collar V-neck or low shawl collar, this vest also has a pocket option where you can stash your pocketwatch.

Amusing fabric variations are shown, including a wild animal print. And, clever uses of lining fabrics show stripes paired with paisley and brocade, and a silky paisley lining adding interest to a solid gabardine.

This simple item is slated to be the pivotal fashion component of the season, crossing all boundaries from sportswear to dressed-up evening ensembles. Sewing one or more will give you the advantage of combining fabrics, colors and trims that add your own unique stamp not found in ready-to-wear.

Madeline Hunter is the former craft and sewing editor at Seventeen magazine and has contributed to Mademoiselle, Redbook and Woman's Day.

Brokers Welcome

IF YOU WOULDN'T BUY THIS WITHOUT A WARRANTY,

WHY WOULD YOU BUY THIS WITHOUT ONE?

After all, a new house is the biggest purchase of your life. Unfortunately, most people don't know enough about building standards to inspect behind the new appliances and under the carpeting to figure out if the job's been done right. And to add to the problem, while a blender, toaster, and other small appliances come with a written warranty, many homes don't! That's why you should look for a HOW builder.

The Home Owners Warranty symbol is a sure sign of a builder's commitment to quality construction and customer satisfaction. Every HOW Builder is subject to screening requirements covering his technical competence, financial stability and customer service.

So a HOW Builder makes two important commitments to you. First, he promises to do every job according to HOW's nationally-recognized construction standards. And second, he stands behind his work by carrying a 10-year insured protection plan. It's just the kind of assurance you need for the biggest investment of your life.

To find a truly professional, quality-conscious builder, look for the HOW logo as you shop for a new home.

HOW benefits apply only if the Builder properly enrolls the home and is in good standing with HOW at the time of settlement. See the sample warranty insurance documents for details.

After-school snacks easily made

By Desiree Vives

It's back-to-school time again, and for many children this means several hours at home alone before a parent returns from work. If this is your situation, you can bet your youngsters will get hungry before you get home. But it's no problem, if you do a little planning ahead of time.

If you're worried that your children are eating too much junk food after school, take charge and leave a variety of ingredients around the kitchen, from which they can prepare their own simple snacks.

Some nutritious ideas might include: fresh and dried fruits, crackers and breads, cheese, nuts, peanut butter and jelly, granola bars or cereal (children particularly like individual-size boxes), yogurt, vegetable sticks and leftovers from earlier meals (especially pizza).

Youngsters aren't likely to bother with a snack that is difficult to prepare, but will if they can make it in a few, simple steps.

If you know there will be no adult supervision at snack time, do the more difficult cooking or cutting yourself, leaving easier tasks for children to complete. Younger children should stick to snacks that don't require use of knives, and those younger than 10 should not cook without adult supervision.

Older children master the microwave with ease and like the fact that they can prepare snacks for themselves and younger siblings by simply pushing a few buttons. Since the oven turns itself off, there is no worry about a stray burner being left on.

Be sure your children know which bowls, plates and casseroles are microwave-safe, and that they understand about standing time—so they don't try to eat a dish before it's completely cooked. Keep potholders or oven mitts handy, and train children to use them when removing food from the microwave, same as with a regular oven.

A recipe leaflet, "Make It Yourself—Fun For Kids," is now available from the American Dairy Association. Most of the recipes are single serving, several are no-cook, and five of the 10 are microwaveable. The leaflet features dairy products like milk, cheese, ice cream and yogurt.

For a copy, send 25 cents and a self-addressed, stamped, business-size envelope to: Fun Food For Kids, American Dairy Association, 6300 N.

River Road, Rosemont IL 60018. (Recipes in this column are tested in 625- to 700-watt microwave ovens.)

Cheese Quesadilla
1 (10-inch) flour tortilla
¼ cup shredded cheddar or Monterey Jack cheese
Mild tomato salsa.

Yields 1 serving.
Preparation time: 5 minutes
Cooking time: 1 minutes.
Oven setting: HIGH (100 percent power).

Place tortilla on paper plate. Spread cheese evenly over half of tortilla. Fold tortilla in half. Put plate in microwave oven and microwave 1 minute, or until cheese melts. Cheese will be hot. Serve with salsa for dipping.

Baked Apple
1 medium-size apple
1 teaspoon raisins
1 tablespoon brown sugar
Pinch cinnamon.

Yields 1 serving.
Preparation time: 5 minutes.
Cooking time: 3 minutes (plus 5 minutes standing time).
Oven setting: High (100 percent power).
With small knife, carefully cut circle around apple stem, then remove core, scraping inside of apple to remove seeds. In small dish stir together raisins, sugar and cinnamon. Pack into center of apple. Place apple on paper plate and microwave 3 minutes. Apple should be tender. Set apple aside and wait 5 minutes before eating, to let apple finish cooking.

Hot Dog for One
1 hot dog
1 hot dog bun
Mustard or ketchup

Yields 1 serving.
Preparation time: 5 minutes
Cooking time: 45 seconds to 1 minutes and 15 seconds.
Oven setting: HIGH (100 percent power).

Place hot dog in bun. Wrap bun in a paper towel. Microwave 45 seconds to 1 minute and 15 seconds. Top with mustard or ketchup.

Leave excess baggage behind when moving checks, secure all valuables you are taking with you, and assemble last-minute items you are taking on the trip, such as medications, maps, toys for the kids, clothes and toiletries.

On moving day, double check closets and cabinets for items the movers might have missed. Do this before you sign the delivery papers (or bill of lading).

Before the movers pull out of the driveway with all your worldly possessions, make sure they have directions to the new house and a contact phone number. Winfield suggests writing down the truck's license plate number just in case.

Make sure to drop the house keys off at your Realtor's office.

After the movers unload the truck, inspect all pieces (boxes as well as furniture) and list anything lost or damaged on the delivery papers before signing.

Once in your new home, the real job begins: unpacking, getting used to unfamiliar surroundings and meeting new neighbors.

As Winfield writes: "Your new neighborhood won't always look so new. Enjoy the freshness."

KIDS on the BLOCK

Puppet program offers kids new insights into handicapped lifestyles

Story by Maureen Naszradi

Every adult should be so fortunate as to meet the Kids on the Block.

The Kids are puppets, and through the efforts of a small group of local volunteers, they are bringing an invaluable educational message to Northville schoolchildren.

Nearly life size, the Kids puppets dress and act like real children. And — like real children — some have differences, such as mental, physical, or emotional disabilities, and some have lives touched by abuse.

Kids on the Block is a national effort to help children accept differences in themselves as well as in others.

In Northville, seven women throughout the 1988-89 school year brought the Kids program to more than 1,800 pupils in preschool through sixth grade.

At those age levels, puppetry allows for a unique and effective brand of communication, according to Kids' founder Barbara Aiello, a teacher and consultant in the field of special education for 18 years.

Since 1977, Aiello has performed in every state in the continental United States. The Kids on the Block forms a growing network of more than 700 community-based programs in 49 states and 14 countries.

Through a one-on-one dialogue with the puppets, the children can learn an attitude of understanding and appreciation of all kinds of people, according to Aiello. And that sensitivity will serve them well for the rest of their lives, she said.

Len Rezmierski, executive director of special education services for Northville Public Schools, called the Kids on the Block program "exciting."

"Its potential — along with the other efforts of the department — to help students and parents recognize other types of individuals in society, in the schools is very beneficial."

"The questions the kids have asked have been stunning," Rezmierski said.

The puppets, each modeled after a real person and close in age to the elementary-grade pupils, respond with clarity and candor to the questions asked by the children.

Naomi Brandon — who operates "Valerie," who has spina bifida, and "Jennifer," who has a learning disability — said, "I think we all have developed a special attachment to the puppets."

She said through the script content, the children get so involved with the characters that they forget they are puppets and talk directly to them.

"I especially enjoy (performing for) the younger children," Brandon said. "Their faces just light up."

Rezmierski said, "I see real promise in the program. It's how we will see change — kids in a healthy environment — feeling comfortable to ask questions."

Mary Menghini, who organized Northville's puppeteers, described the group's task: "It's not something that you sit down and have a family meeting over — this is the word 'handicapped' kids, and this is what it means."

Menghini used an example to illustrate the lack of sensitivity the program attempts to overcome. "You go to a mall and you see a mother there with twins. And typical of a child, he'll say, 'Oh, look, Mom, two babies. I wonder if they're a boy and a girl.'

Third graders at Moraine School ask questions at a Kids on the Block show

"And the mother says, 'I don't know; go ask.' And the kid can go and ask," Menghini continued.

"But you see someone who's different — a child in braces, a child who talks different, a child using sign language — and the kid says, 'Mom, look at that person; what's the matter with him?'

"And the mother pulls him by the shirt and says, 'Don't look; that's not nice to stare.' As if that person is untouchable, untalkable."

"It's just becoming more aware," Menghini explained. "They're not untouchable."

Menghini said she was motivated to start the local Kids on the Block troupe both as the mother of a disabled child and to promote education.

The Northville resident explained, "Just in general, seeing the cruelty of some children, I find it hard to accept that calling someone names is fun and 'kids' stuff."

"It was just a little way to try to change that a little."

The national Kids on the Block program developed in direct response to U.S. Public Law 94-142, sometimes called "the mainstreaming law."

Volunteers

Watt assists seniors

By DOROTHY NASH

In choosing a volunteer job, Harriet Watt said she had two main considerations: "I like to be around people, and I like to be busy." With her three children grown and away from home and her husband busy in his office all day, she had time to fill.

So last January she walked into the Northville Area Senior Citizens Activity Center at Cooke School on Taft Road and asked whether there was something she could do. She was soon put to work.

For four hours on three afternoons a week she answers the telephone and does assorted clerical jobs, one of which is updating information on people who come to the center for recreation and socialization.

"I put records on file in the computer," she said, "name, phone number, and address, and also information on how to get hold of a member of the family if necessary."

"And I help with the monthly potluck. About 50-80 people come to them — 100 during the holidays. I help set up the tables and I help clean up afterwards, even do some dish washing."

There are other jobs for her, too — helping to schedule field trips, finding art work for the newsletter, and stamping books for the library.

But it's the direct contact with people, she said, that gives her satisfaction.

"I never knew what a nice thing it is for seniors to have a place like this. Some are timid about coming in at first. They call on the phone to inquire, and I encourage them to come. Then when they do come, I meet them," Watt said, "and in return I get a smile and a soft thank-you."

Anyone else who would like to volunteer time, talent, or a special interest to the Northville Senior Citizens Activity Center should call 349-4140 and ask to talk to Karl Peters, director.

Northville's Victorian Ball offers magical evening

By BRENDA DOOLEY

When it rains, it pours

The gloomy skies over Northville showered everyone attending the city's first Victorian Festival on Saturday (Sept. 16).

Artists packed up their wares late in the afternoon and headed for the warmth and comfort of drier places. Performers and festival-goers also ducked for shelter, realizing the sun probably wouldn't be making an appearance.

But the day offered several brilliant moments. Fortunately, the rain didn't dampen the spirit or sparkle of the Victorian Costume Ball, which began Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at historic Mill Race Village. The gala event was attended by 164 people, some traveling from Georgia and New York just to take part in the ball.

"It was the most successful event we could ever imagine," said Laurie Marrs, executive director of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce and an organizer of the festival. "Even with the weather, everyone had a good time — people are already planning their costumes for next year. There were no cancellations because of the rain."

Ladies in elegant Victorian ball gowns, escorted by handsome gentlemen — most dressed to the hilt in black or gray tuxedos and black top hats — were driven from the Ford Plant parking lot to Mill Race Village via horse-drawn carriages.

Upon arriving at the village, couples entered an enclosed billowy white tent decorated with boughs of greenery and strands of miniature white Christmas lights strung inside along the top of the tent. Streamers of purple ribbons were also strung from the top of the tent, capturing the true romantic flavor of the era.

Round tables were set up inside the tent, draped with tablecloths in pastel floral prints. Small white votive candles sat in the center of the tables, flickering soft light throughout the tent.

Couples checked in at a table at the entrance of the tent, when their names were announced by Terry Marrs. Each ballgoer received a Victorian dance card to collect names of dance partners and to save as a keepsake. Most ladies and gents wore the dance cards around their wrists so they could keep track of upcoming dances and names of dance partners.

Couples also had a chance to meet and chat with Queen Victoria (Jayne Rosser), who was one of several dignitaries forming a receiving line at the entrance.

Food tables were placed at each end of the tent, where ball-goers could enjoy a light dinner of roast turkey, vegetable croudites and dip, mushroom pie and other tasty appetizers. Dessert consisted of a spectacular tiered strawberry Bavarian cake appropriately named "Queen Victoria's Celebration Cake."

Dancing was held inside the New School Church, where prompter Cathy Stevens led 14 different Victorian dances, including a prelude waltz, the grand march, a quadrille, a polka, a country dance, the Spanish waltz, the galop, a waltz, lancers, the Schottische, the fireman's dance, the galop quadrille and a farewell waltz. Music was played by the Dodworth Saxhorn Reserve Band, lead by A. Pollock and conducted by Professor H. Meredith.

The 12-piece orchestra was seated in a balcony above the dance floor, each member dressed in authentic Civil War costume. Dancers were signaled at the beginning of each dance by the ringing of a bell when they left the tent and walked to the church.

A cash bar featuring wine, beer and soft drinks offered refreshment to thirsty ballgoers throughout the evening. Strategically placed heaters inside the tent removed the chill from the night air. Music and dancing wound down at about 12:40 a.m.

"If anyone has any ideas for next year's ball, we'd like to hear them," Laurie Marrs said. "We hope to get more working involvement next year — we used all the volunteers who offered to help."

Group seeks local chapter

Members of the American Business Women's Association (ABWA) will host an open house on Saturday, Oct. 7 from 2 to 5 p.m. at the Olde Orchard Condominium Club House in Novi.

Dancers at the Victorian Ball try a fancy step

The open house is being conducted to promote the establishment of a new chapter of the ABWA in the Northville, Novi and Farmington areas.

All local working women are eligible to join the group. For more information call 478-5048.

Business group plans meeting

The opening meeting for the 41st year of the Northville Business and Professional Women's Club will be held Monday, Sept. 25 at Genitti's.

Social hour begins at 6 p.m., followed by dinner at 6:30 p.m. The featured speaker is Elizabeth M. Johnson, attorney at law. She will speak about estate planning, with emphasis on "Wills, Trusts and Who Needs Them."

Information will focus on the American business woman. Johnson is a member of Plymouth, Millar, Weinberg, Necker, Johnson, Wagner and Clark. She is actively involved in the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club and is on the Huron Valley Girl Scout Board of Directors and the Schoolcraft College Women's Resource Center Advisory Committee.

For more information call president Dorothy Cook at 464-7857.

Sweetest Day dance planned

A special night is planned for local moms and their sons. Northville Community Recreation presents a Mother and Son Sweetest Day Dance on Friday, Oct. 6 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Northville Community Center, 303 W. Main St.

All boys ages 4-12 are invited to attend. The event is for moms and their sons, but if a mom has more than one son, she is encouraged to invite an older sister, aunt or grandma so that each boy has a dance partner.

Cost is $6 per couple, which includes dance music, balloon animals, refreshments and a memento of the evening.

Registration deadline is Thursday, Oct. 5. Participants are asked to complete a registration form and return it by mail or in person to: Northville Community Recreation, 303 W. Main St., Northville, MI 48167.

Computer owners may offer support

Friends of the Northville Public Library is asking owners of IBM computers to help with an indexing project of the Northville Record. Issues of the Record have been scanned by volunteers on a microfilm reader, with the content recorded on forms. Now the group needs help in entering the material from the forms onto computer disks.

Any IBM computer owner may do the work at home on personal time. The work cannot be done at the library because the library computer is in constant use. If interested in volunteering time for this worthwhile project call 349-3020.

Local church plans upcoming Octoberfest

Fall is in the air and officials at St. Paul's Lutheran Church and School are planning a celebration.

The Northville church and school will host an "Octoberfest" on Sunday, Oct. 1 from noon to 4 p.m., complete with German food and entertainment.

For food enthusiasts, German and American cuisine will be prepared by chef Jim Rice.

And for those seeking lively entertainment, German music and songs will be performed by students of St.

Paul's Day School.

In addition, the German dance group Die Trachten Almrausch of Ann Arbor will perform during the festival at 1 and 2:30 p.m., under the direction of Otto Moehrl Jr. and Veronica Kitchel.

Tickets are $5 adults, $4 senior citizens and $2.50 for children 5-12 years old.

Tickets will be available in advance and at the door.

For more information call 349-3146.

Expert on etiquette

Woman bases business on manners

By BRENDA DOOLEY

"The world was my oyster, but I chose the wrong fork" — Oscar Wilde, poet

Margit Erickson often quotes a tidbit of Wilde's witty prose when teaching her specialty, etiquette. And she certainly makes sure her students always know which fork to use.

Etiquette, however, encompasses far more than silverware guidelines. It's a way of life, an attitude, a reflection of society.

"People don't have to be uptight about etiquette," Erickson says. "Etiquette really means being thoughtful and being considerate of other people — it takes so little to teach a person to be polite."

Illustrating her point, Erickson claims people practice etiquette every day, whether they realize it or not. Ingrained rules of etiquette come into play when people take morning showers, when they brush their teeth, when they apply deodorant.

"If you were a hermit, you wouldn't worry about how you looked or smelled," Erickson remarks. "You do all these things because you're being considerate of other people."

A Novi resident, Erickson is director of Etiquette Enterprises, a Northville-based business. She conducts seminars on social and business decorum. Although the majority of her clients are male executives, Erickson is now catering to a new audience — children. She is hosting a seminar for children ages 10-15 entitled "Growing Up Gracefully" at the Sheraton Oaks on Oct. 7.

"I find that people don't know simple rules of etiquette because they weren't taught during childhood," Erickson says. "You don't learn how to cut meat if you're scarfing down a burger, and a lot of working parents are too busy to take the time."

"It's always nice to see a well-mannered child. This is the time they should learn etiquette so that it becomes habit — it's not something they constantly have to think about," she adds.

In her upcoming children's etiquette seminar, Erickson plans to stress basic rules such as sharing, how to act in public places, how to eat in a restaurant and how to interact with families.

Erickson's introduction to the world of etiquette began nearly four years ago when she hosted a dinner party for friends. She asked one of her guests to set the table for dinner and "was amazed" by the results. Erickson describes her guest as a bright, intelligent young lady who apparently was never taught the fundamentals of table setting.

The experience planted an idea in Erickson's brain as she wondered how many others were lacking the basics of etiquette. She attended the Executive Etiquette Training Institute in Boston and read everything she could get her hands on to learn about the history of etiquette.

Modern etiquette began with the French, but the first forms can be traced as far back as Egyptian times, when literature offered advice on how to use a finger bowl. Erickson also points out that a lot of etiquette was contained in the Jewish Talmud, forming the foundation for many of today's social rules.

"Etiquette rules do change," Erickson says. "It's not like math or science. The rules change as society changes and people change."

After compiling extensive research, Erickson contacted advisors at Wayne State University and completed a business plan, defining her market, goals and strategy.

"I don't know of any other company that teaches executive etiquette in Michigan," Erickson says.

Her seminars on executive etiquette involve teaching businessmen how to dress for success and how to conduct themselves in professional or social situations. Erickson also holds a degree in fashion merchandising, knowledge that helps her when she's advising business people how to dress. She travels directly to business sites to conduct the seminars.

A native of Detroit, Erickson moved to Novi with her husband, Frank, about six months ago. In her spare time she enjoys playing the dulcimer, making beads, collecting vintage clothing and learning about American history and folklore.

When asked for a crash course on etiquette, Erickson would probably say: "Treat people the way you would like to be treated."

It's as simple as that.

Speaker discusses junk collecting

Single Place welcomes special speaker Bill Greenman, a psychologist and Sunday School teacher, on Sunday, Sept. 24 at 7 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

Greenman will present "Giving Up Being a Garbage Collector." He will share thoughts on what deciding what to throw away and what to keep.

Following the presentation, the audience will be encouraged to break into small groups where people can meet new friends and conduct group discussions. Ice cream sundaes also will be offered.

A $2.50 donation is requested. Child care will be provided.

Single Place meets in Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

In another event, Single Place presents Friday night at the movies on Sept. 22, when the film "Throw Momma From the Train" will be shown.

The movie, for adults only, begins at 7:30 p.m. in the church library. Cost is $1.50, which includes popcorn and soft drinks.

On Sunday, Sept. 24, the group will host a fireside chat at 6:40 p.m. in the church library to give residents a chance to learn more about Single Place. Following the fireside chat, at 7 p.m., the group will meet in fellowship hall.

For more information about any of these activities call the church office at 349-0911.

A March 1990 wedding is planned.

Church hosts speaker

Spiros Zodiates, a noted Bible scholar and author, will speak at the First Baptist Church of Northville on Sunday, Sept. 24 at 11 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.

Pastor Stephen Sparks of the First Baptist Church of Northville announced that the first service will begin at 11 a.m. The public is invited to attend. The church is at 217 N. Wing St. in Northville.

Zodiates speaks on a daily radio program called "New Testament Light," which is broadcast over most of the United States, Canada and several other countries.

As a Bible expert and a Greek, Zodiates has devoted his life to the exposition of the New Testament scripture. He has written more than 40 books interpreting and commenting upon New Testament writings from the original Greek texts.

His most recent contribution is the "Hebrew-Greek Key Study Bible," a work that allows Bible students who do not know Hebrew or Greek to study in the King James version in English and use easily explained references to the original languages.

Zodiates is also president of AMG

DR. SPIROS ZODIATES

International, a non-denominational evangelistic missionary and relief organization among orphans and leprosy patients. The group also operates and fosters day care centers, schools and clinics.

For more information about the presentation call the church office at 348-1020.

Puppets teach kids about disabilities

Within its guidelines, handicapped children were given the opportunity to be educated alongside non-disabled children in regular schools and regular classrooms across the country, including in the Northville school system.

As disabled children became a part of the regular classroom scene, questions and concerns inevitably arose. That's where the Kids on the Block content comes in.

The Northville puppeteers were able to visit one school a week, where they would teach 120 pupils about two "differences" during a 45-minute period, Menghini explained.

She said after a presentation, the kids would ask the puppets all kinds of questions, such as: "Why do you wear a helmet?" "Will you ever walk?" "Were you born with it?" or "Can I catch it?"

"They're about basic things that you think everybody knows," Menghini said.

Puppeteer Brandon said at first it's hard for the children to understand a difference such as a learning disability because the puppet appears the same as them in every other way.

"Through the script content, it is explained that a person with a learning disability has to learn in a different way," she said.

"What we try to get across is that it's okay to be that way," Brandon said.

One of the national group's mottos is "Not unable, not disabled, but able in a different way," Menghini said.

People with a learning disability have normal intelligence but they learn differently, she explained. Menghini cited Steven Spielberg as an example of a person who is dyslexic.

"To me, his imagination is so wonderful. He would have been the most fun person to be a friend to in grade school and in high school," Menghini said.

"But for him, school was miserable. For dyslexics — for people who are different — school is sheer hell," she added.

That's all Kids on the Block does, Menghini continued: "It doesn't make judgments. It just teaches that it's alright to be different."

Rhonda Baiocchi, who operates the mentally retarded and hearing-impaired puppets, said the children's exposure to differences at their age level will help prevent a prejudice from developing.

"I really believe that if all children are going to fit in as adults, they must start (fitting in) as children," Baiocchi said.

"And the only way they're going to fit in is if they go to school with each other," she said.

Baiocchi said it's important that children get to know early on what a difference is. Performing at the different grade levels, she said she could already see an uneasiness or hesitancy in the older children that was absent in the younger ones.

However, she quickly added, once a performance was under way, the pupils at all age levels became more comfortable and, eventually, asked questions.

Volunteers take their puppet show to local schools

By the time the children reach middle-school age, any difference in ability begins to become more evident, Menghini said. Younger children are more susceptible to attitude formation, she added.

At every level, the puppets are trying to convey that people are different and it's all right, the group leader emphasized.

Baiocchi said that the program also helps the "typical" children by making them feel better about themselves. "When they're in a situation with a person with a difference and they can help, it's a boost for their own self-esteem."

Menghini said, "Kids on the Block teaches an attitude of awareness. The message is the same whatever topic you are talking about — it's a sensitivity for others."

"It's something that we all need to think more about."

Eight years ago, Menghini first saw a Kids on the Block presentation in Plymouth. She said she liked the way the program conveyed in a non-threatening way that it's all right to be different.

She said it was Northville Schools' Rezmierski who steered her toward the grant that provided the funds for the program's initial costs.

The administrator complimented the group's efforts. "We're pleased that parents so actively sought after the project," Rezmierski said.

Menghini said she feels the group's first year in Northville was a success. As the semester drew to a close, the group had more requests to perform than the calendar would allow.

"I would have liked to have been in every classroom, with every single puppet, but that's close to impossible," Menghini said.

"This doesn't take that much time for what it does. The kids are just so receptive, and so responsive to it," she added.

Linda Clark, who did the scheduling for the group, said the people who called all were very enthusiastic. In addition to Menghini, Brandon, and Baiocchi, fellow Northville residents Judy Swannett, Mary Cutting and Stephanie Chesney also volunteered as puppeteers.

During its nine-month run, the troupe performed at the conference of the Middle School Educators for the State of Michigan, at the Cub Scouts' Blue and Gold Banquet, and in public and parochial schools.

The group members said they would welcome additional puppeteers. "The reason that we're just Northville schools is because we're a small troupe," Menghini explained.

But, she added, "You can't just pick up a puppet and do it. You need to see how the puppet works and you need to get some education on whatever disability or puppet you're going to do, so that you also acquire a sensitivity and awareness."

The skits performed by the Northville troupe most often feature the puppets and scripts dealing with learning disability, spina bifida, mental retardation, impaired hearing, cerebral palsy, and siblings. The small number of volunteers limits the number of topics the group can present, Menghini said.

Each puppeteer has a specialty, she explained. They study their role in the scripts and read extensively about their puppet's disability in order to develop the understanding they bring to each performance.

Menghini said there are about 20 topic areas covered by the scripts, which promote a positive message.

"All the Kids on the Block characters can be seen as role models by the disabled population. All are very upbeat, very positive," Menghini said.

To write the scripts, Menghini said, "They talk to several parents and kids and ask, 'What is your life like?'" The script content also comes from conversations with members of the national organizations representing the handicapped, legislators, medical professionals and research groups.

"Years ago, disabled people, handicapped people were just hidden away and never given a chance."

Northville cheerleading squads win awards at camp competitions

Local cheerleaders won high praise for their performances at summer sport camps.

The Northville High School Varsity Cheerleaders attended the Universal Cheerleaders Association (UCA) Summer Sport Camp at Eastern Michigan University July 25-28, competing against nine other varsity squads.

The camp experience offers a daily routine of aerobic training, spirit classes, cheer and sideline classes, stunts, tumbling, band cheers, and pompon routines.

Northville's varsity cheerleaders earned six first-place ribbons for their performances during daily evaluations of their cheers and sideline classes. They also won a first place "superior" ribbon for their original dance routine. In addition, the squad won the "camp championship" in the varsity division for its cheers.

Individual all-star awards were presented to Diane Robinson, a senior at Northville High School, and Shirley Nagy, a junior. All-stars were judged on their cheering, dancing and tumbling abilities. Tracie Surdu, a high-school junior, won second place in the best jumps division. Cheerleaders named "all-stars" will have the opportunity to perform in the Lord Mayor of Westminster's New Year's Day Parade in London.

Spirit awards also were given to the Northville varsity cheerleaders on each of the four days of the camp for their pep, enthusiasm, safety awareness, and congeniality with other squads. This wasn't the first time the cheerleaders received such high honors. The Northville varsity squad won the Western Lakes Activities Association Cheerleading Competition in March.

In other competitions, the Northville Junior Varsity and Freshman Cheerleaders attended the UCA camp July 31-Aug. 3.

Members of the junior-varsity cheerleading squad competed against 10 other junior-varsity teams and captured six first-place ribbons during daily evaluations of cheers and sidelines. They also won a first-place "superior" ribbon for their original dance routine and were awarded "camp championships" in the junior varsity division for their cheers and sidelines.

The junior varsity group captured spirit awards on each of the four days

Freshman cheerleaders received two first-place ribbons, two second-place ribbons, and three "outstanding" ribbons for their performances in daily evaluations. The freshman squad competed against eight other squads.

Members of the Northville cheerleading squads are as follows:

VARSITY — Chartier Aimone, Alisa Belliston, Beth Cannizzaro, Michele De Bora, Julez Heintz, Reggie Laramie, Katy Lloyd, Leslie McMullen, Shirley Nagy, Diane Robinson, Tracie Surdu and Karen Trepicone.

JUNIOR VARSITY — Gretchen Cambra, Holly Chrysan, Katie Cryderman, Laurie Darrow, Robyn Davis, Kim Ellsworth, Kersten Emsley, Jennifer Hesse, Kelly Marrs, Julie McMullen, Kimi Rahimi and Darcy Rundell.

FRESHMAN — Gwen Griswold, Katy Murphy, Shanalee Richins, Tanya Williams, Vickie Wolsos and Jeni Workman.

Northville's head cheerleading coach is Margaret Surdu, who will begin her third year with the NHS cheerleaders.

Several local students win academic awards from colleges, universities

KRISTI KUNKA, daughter of Don and Peggy Kunka of Northville, was named to the dean's list at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

Students named to the dean's list must carry 12 or more hours and earn a grade point average of 3.5 or higher.

Kristi is enrolled in the school of art, studying graphic design.

DOUGLAS ALLAN MAY of Fernmanagh Drive in Northville received a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from Purdue University.

REBECCA BAJORKE, JENNIFER CROUTTEAU, PATRICK

FUELLING and CAROLYN KRUPP, all of Northville, were accepted into the Carl and Winifred Lee Honors College at Western Michigan University as freshmen.

TIM JACKSON, son of Barbara and Kaye Jackson of Old Bedford in Northville, recently graduated from Michigan Technological University in Houghton.

Jackson earned a bachelor-of-science degree in mechanical engineering from Michigan Technological University. He is currently employed by General Motors.

He is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity and was named to the dean's list during his last term at the university.

Jackson is a 1984 graduate of Northville High School.

Fall is the season for cider mills

By CRISTINA FERRIER

It happens every year. Suddenly it's September and you can't believe that summer has slipped out of your fingers again.

But it's also the time when your mind rolls forward to warm, potbelled stoves, country lanes filled with orange, red and yellow leaves, hot apple cider and doughnuts.

It's time to head for the cider mill.

Parmenter's Northville Cider Mill is located at 714 Baseline Road. Coming in from Eight Mile, turn south on Griswold and the signs will direct you to it.

When driving to Parmenter's, you have to do some maneuvering through construction, but it's more than worth the effort.

The first thing you notice when you walk in is the smell. The aroma of the apples and cinnamon might make you want to eat all of the doughnuts, but it's not likely that they'll run out. They keep making them constantly so that they stay fresh.

Vern and Ruth Bodker have been running this cider mill since they first bought it from the Parmenter family in 1968. Ruth Bodker says that this mill, built in 1873, is "the oldest cider mill around."

Parmenter's is also the only area cider mill that offers "hard" cider, and they have a winery that runs along with the mill.

They also have homemade caramel apples, doughnuts, honey, syrup, sausage and cheese. There's a play area for children and a picnic area.

When the weather permits, Parmenter's offers hot dogs and kielbasa on the weekends. They also have a weekend craft show where artists from the Northville area sell items such as straw flowers, ceramics and Halloween costumes.

Ruth Bodker thinks that people come to their cider mill "just because it's a fall custom and a fun family thing to do."

Parmenter's is open from Labor Day until the Sunday before Thanksgiving, from 10:00 to 8:00 daily.

Jimmy Potter sorts apples at Foreman's

Record/CHRIS BOYD

Foreman's Orchards and Cider Mill is located at 50050 Seven Mile Road in Northville Township.

Diane Gavron, who was sitting at a picnic table with her two-year-old twins, Lauren and David, says that she comes to this cider mill a lot. "We always used to come when I was a kid, and it signals fall to us," she said.

John and Jeanette Zimski, who drove from Dearborn, felt the same way. "It's a seasonal thing," John Zimski explained. "Cider and doughnuts."

Foreman's began in 1932 when Ralph Foreman, the present owner's great-grandfather, first started the orchard.

The family added the cider press and doughnut machine in 1972. The cider is pressed twice weekly, as close to the weekend as possible so that it is fresh for the busiest days. The doughnuts are made every other day.

This cider mill has a what Ralph Foreman calls a "barn-type atmosphere." It is filled with primitive antiques and features a potbelly stove and red checked tablecloths that create a country farm setting.

"People get really comfortable here, especially when it gets colder," Foreman said.

Foreman's offers plenty of fresh fruit from the orchard, as well as caramel apples made from Kraft caramels.

They also offer preserves, maple syrup, "very good popcorn from the same county in Indiana as Orville Redenbacher's," cookbooks, and honey.

Foreman likes to sell as many products as possible that are from the Northville area.

This cider mill has a very large picnic area and plenty of parking. It also has an indoor seating area, and they sell hot dogs and knockwurst on the weekends.

Foreman's still presses the cider in the old-fashioned method that Ralph Foreman describes as "chopped up, ground up, put in nylon blankets and extracted with high pressure."

Foreman's is open summer through fall, from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

So, if your spirits need a lift, experience one of Northville's cider mills. Better yet, experience them both.

Historical Society presents Tivoli Fair

Northville Historical Society presents Tivoli Fair, a juried arts and crafts show, on Friday, Sept. 29, and Saturday, Sept. 30 at the Northville Downs track.

Show hours are Friday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for children under six. Proceeds will be used for restoration of Northville's Mill Race Historical Village.

More than 100 exhibitors are expected to attend the event, including baskets, candles, ceramics, clocks, carved toys, country clothing, pottery, quilting, rag rugs, stenciling, weaving and more.

Food will be available. Fire laws restrict attendance of strollers for children. For more information call 348-1845 Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

FILM SERIES — Novi Arts and Culture Committee welcomes in the fall season by hosting a family film series saluting the dog.

The series begins Friday, Oct. 13 at 7 p.m. and continues the second Friday of every month through May 11, 1990. All films will be shown in the 136-seat council chambers at the Novi Civic Center.

Following is a schedule of films: "Fox and the Hound" on Oct. 13, "The Magic of Lassie" on Nov. 10, "Digby, the World's Biggest Dog" on Dec. 8, "The Courage of Kevin" on Jan. 12, "Big Red" on

The Northville Record

Northville blanks Western for first victory

Running attack, defense key win

By BRUCE M. WEINTRAUB

Behind a balanced running attack and an aggressive defensive performance, the Northville Mustangs posted their first victory of the '89 season with an 18-0 triumph over Walled Lake Western Friday.

"We had an excellent running attack," said Northville Coach Darrel Schumacher, in reference to the Mustangs' 161 yards rushing.

"Our offensive philosophy is to take what the defense will give you," he said. "We felt we could run and control the ball on the run, so we kept doing it."

In addition to a potent running attack, the Mustangs (1-2 overall, 1-1 in WLA) also were able to capitalize on numerous errors committed by Western — the first of which led to a Mustang touchdown.

After being unable to move the ball on their first possession, the Warriors victimized themselves by muffing the snap on a punt play inside their own 5-yard line.

Western's senior punter, Erik Franz, pounced on the loose ball at his own 1-yard line, and two plays later Mustang fullback Ryan Kilner bulldozed into the endzone at 8:34 of the first quarter to give Northville a 6-0 lead.

"When you play the Western club, you know they're going to play you tough," Schumacher said. "We needed to capitalize on the breaks. Our strategy was to get up early, get them down and then control the game."

Controlling the game is just what the Mustangs did following their first score, as Northville's defense prevented the Warriors from ever mounting a serious scoring drive.

"Our down linemen play extremely well," Schumacher said. "(Defensive tackle) Rob Spradlin is playing very well. I'm pleased with the way Rob has been coming on lately."

"We are definitely getting a good charge up front," he added. "(Defensive tackles) Matt Smith and Joe Kupsky and Rob (Spradlin) really got to their quarterback."

Junior linebacker Jeff Todd also played a big role in shutting down the Western offensive attack by recording two quarterback sacks.

"I'm not displeased with the linebackers, since Jeff's (Todd) two sacks really took the starch out of their offense," Schumacher said.

Schumacher was also pleased with the Mustang secondary, who helped to confuse Warrior quarterback Todd Biron. He completed only five of 16 passes for 65 yards.

"Their quarterback was an exceptional athlete," he said. "He could run well and was a good option quarterback."

When Biron did try to throw, the Northville secondary continually made things difficult for both him and his receivers.

Senior defensive back Steve Bastian intercepted one of Biron's passes and made broke up numerous passes by the Warriors' quarterback.

"Steve (Bastian) is doing real well," Schumacher said. "We moved him to the secondary from quarterback, and he has been able to read the opposing offenses well."

In addition to the interception, Bastian also rushed for one touchdown and scampered 26 yards along the sideline to set up the score.

"Steve played a great game, and it looks like he's having a good time," Schumacher said.

Bastian's 26-yard run came in the third quarter, one play after the Mustangs converted on a fourth-down-and-six play at their own 41-yard line.

"We talked about being in two-down territory earlier," Schumacher said. "We said, 'Let's go and let the defense hold them if we miss.'"

But the Mustangs did not miss, as sophomore quarterback Ryan Huzjak threw a 21-yard bullet pass to running back Bill Kelley to gain the first down.

Two plays later, Bastian took the ball in from the 10-yard line to give Northville a 12-0 lead midway through the third quarter.

Immediately after scoring, the Mustang defense held Western and forced the Warriors to punt. Following a Warrior penalty for face masking, Kelley twisted and turned his way for a 49-yard run to the Western five. On the next play, senior fullback Neil White plowed his way into the endzone to give Northville a commanding 18-0 advantage.

"Bill had a 49-yard run, but it really looked like a hundred," Schumacher said. "We had to give him a breather, but I hated to take him out."

Western's only legitimate scoring opportunity came on a 29-yard run by Biron early in the fourth quarter — a play which seemingly put the Warrior's on the scoreboard.

But, while Western fans cheered the apparent touchdown, the referees quickly silenced the crowd by calling holding on a Warrior lineman and nullifying the gain.

Later in that drive, Bastian broke up a third-down pass, and the Warrior's were unable to convert a fourth-down situation.

Schumacher said he was especially pleased with his team's performance against Western, considering Northville's next opponent will be the Michigan Class B state champions from Farmington Harrison.

The game will be played at home Friday (Sept. 22) beginning at 7:30 p.m.

"We've never beaten Farmington Harrison, but we've always been able to give them a tough game," Schumacher said, adding it will be very tough to stop Harrison's star quarterback Mill "The Thrill" Coleman.

"We'll do some things different and we'll try to go in with some new twists in order to control Coleman, because you just can't shut him down," he said.

Schumacher admitted he was relieved to get the season's first, rather than having to head into the game against Harrison winless.

"Everyone talks about Coleman, but Harrison also plays outstanding defense and our big concern will be to control the ball," he added.

"We've definitely got our hands full."

Mustang swimmers dunk Salem 91-81

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

If anybody wondered whether the Northville swimmers would be strong enough this fall to defend their first-ever Western Lakes league title, the answer came on Sept. 14 when the Mustangs dunked a strong Plymouth Salem squad 91-81 in the season opener.

Northville Coach Bill Dicks had his squad swimming tired, but it didn't seem to matter. Senior standout Debbie Buell looked in mid-season form as she won two individual races and reached a state-meet-qualifying cutoff in the process.

"Salem is in the other division, so it wasn't a real crucial meet, but it was nice to get the win," Dicks said. "(Salem) is always tough, but I really didn't know what to expect from them."

Buell won the 200-yard IM, and her time of 2:05.62 was good enough to qualify for a spot in the state meet at the end of the season. She also took first place honors in the 100 freestyle and was a member of the winning 200 medley relay along with Teri Juhasz, Pam Holdridge and Jodi Wesley (1:59.91).

"Debbie Buell had a pretty good meet," Dicks said. "It didn't surprise me that she qualified in the IM, but it's outstanding to be able to do it in the first meet of the season."

The other Northville firsts came from Claire Cryderman in the 200 freestyle (2:05.62) and the 500 freestyle, Holdridge in the 100 butterfly, Beth Frayne in diving, and Juhasz in the 100 breaststroke.

The Mustang seconds included Wesley in the 50 freestyle (26.95), Juhasz in the 100 butterfly, and the 400 freestyle relay team (featuring Kathy Lang, Cryderman, Anderson and Megan Holmberg). The thirds came courtesy of Erica Anderson in the 200 IM (2:10.86), Holmberg in the 200 freestyle (2:10.86) and Barb Woodruff in diving.

"I was extremely pleased with our effort," Dicks said. "We swam tired, but we did as good or better than I expected."

PLYMOUTH RELAYS: The Mustangs placed sixth in a field of 12 teams at the Plymouth Relays on Sept. 16.

"I put the kids in some events

"I was extremely pleased with our effort. We swam tired, but we did as good or better than I expected. Salem is in the other division, so it wasn't a real crucial meet, but it was nice to get the win. (Salem) is always tough, but I really didn't know what to expect from them."

where I've never seen them before and they responded," Dicks said. "Everybody swam in at least two events, so it was a good day's work for us."

The highlight of the meet was a victory by a Northville foursome in the 200 medley relay. The team — including Buell, Juhasz, Holdridge and Wesley — won the event and got under the state meet cut-off of 1:59.59. Dicks also saw and outstanding effort by divers Beth Frayne and Barb Woodruff, who placed second overall.

"Those were two excellent performances," Dicks said. "We've now qualified two relays and Buell for the state meet, and that's pretty good after only one dual meet and two relay meets."

The Mustangs (1-0 overall) will travel to Livonia to take on Stevenson today (Sept. 21) in another WLA clash.

Kickers dominate Harrison

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Northville's 3-1 prep soccer win over Farmington Harrison on Sept. 13 was a victory that the Mustangs truly deserved.

The locals dominated the play and outshot the Hawks 23-4 for the match, but with eight minutes remaining, the scoreboard showed a 1-1 deadlock. That's why Northville Coach Dave Yezback thought justice was served when his squad scored a pair of goals down the stretch — including the game-winner by Brad Maliszewski — to pull out the season's first WLA Western Division triumph.

"I was very pleased with the way we maintained our attack and spread out the field," Yezback said. "Unfortunately, we weren't rewarded for our hard work until the last eight minutes of the match."

In the first half alone, the Mustangs battered the Harrison defense for 13 shots on goal, but only one found the back of the net. At the 21-minute mark, Maliszewski took a breakaway down to the front of the Harrison goal, touched a crossing pass in front of the goal mouth to a streaking Brent Garner, and he slid the ball past the Hawks' goaltender.

Despite a 13-2 advantage in shots, the score remained 1-0 at halftime.

"We put so many balls into the Harrison goalie's hands, it was frustrating," Yezback said. "The guys were talking about how lucky they were and that it could have been much worse than 1-0."

Twenty-two minutes into the second half, the Hawks tied it on a goal by Mark Lebovitz, but 10 minutes later, Maliszewski notched the game-winner on a pass from Dan Brugeman. Several minutes after that, Brugeman scored an insurance goal on a cross from Chris Hinz to wrap up the scoring.

"We seem to be getting more under control offensively," Yezback said. "We still need to work on keeping possession at midfield and working the ball forward into scoring range, but I'm confident we'll continue to improve. The bottom line is we're playing better and that encouraging."

Mustangs of the Week

DEBBIE BUELL

Senior swimmer Debbie Buell was Northville's most valuable player a year ago, and she's well on her way to number two.

In a 91-81 win over Plymouth Salem last week, Buell took first-place honors in the 100-yard freestyle and the 200 individual medley (IM), and her effort in the IM of 2:05.62 was a state-meet qualifying time. "It didn't surprise me that (Debbie) qualified in the IM, but it's outstanding to be able to do it in the first meet of the season," Mustang Coach Bill Dicks said. At the Plymouth Relays several days later, Buell teamed up with Teri Juhasz, Pam Holdridge and Jodi Wesley to place first in the 200 medley relay with a time under the state meet cutoff of 1:59.59. We think "Mustang of the Week" honors are in order.

STEVE BASTIAN

Steve Bastian's reign as Northville's starting quarterback lasted less than one game, but the senior is contributing as a defensive back and a receiver. In the Mustangs' 18-0 win over Walled Lake Western last Friday, Bastian intercepted a pass and scored a touchdown — his second of the season — and we think he is a deserving "Mustang of the Week" recipient. "Steve (Bastian) is doing real well," Northville Coach Darrel Schumacher said. "We moved him to the secondary from quarterback, and he has been able to read the opposing offenses well. Steve played a great game." Bastian reeled off a 26-yard run to set up a 10-yard scoring run, and he leads the Mustangs in receiving yardage (72) and points (12).

Netters still looking for a challenge

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The '89 season is already a couple weeks old, but the Northville tennis squad hasn't received much of a challenge from any Western Lakes league opponent yet. That is about to change.

With a three-game span against solid programs like Plymouth Salem, Walled Lake Central and Plymouth Canton on the horizon, the Mustang netters cruised through a pair of WLAA foes last week, crushing North Farmington 6-1 early in the week and then shutting out Livonia Franklin last Friday (Sept. 15).

Northville 3-1 overall 2-0 in the WLAA, also had a match scheduled for Sept. 14 against Farmington Harrison, but poor weather forced the contest to be rescheduled for Sept. 26.

The win over Franklin was routine, but a close match at No. 1 singles and another three-setter made things a little more interesting. Karen Vogt needed a 7-4 win in a tie-breaker to put away Tanya Berner 6-4, 7-6 in the No. 1 singles clash. In the other singles matches Dianne Vogt dumped Beth Hare 6-1, 6-1 at No. 2, and Shannon Price had no trouble with Nicole Chiesa (6-1, 6-3) at No. 3, but Alicia Hanson needed three sets before turning back Jessica Spiros 3-6, 6-4, 6-3 at No. 4.

In doubles, it was much more lopsided as the Patriots managed to win only two games in six sets of action. Neysa Colizzi and Kavitha Sriraman topped Heather Mayle and Sonna Warris 6-1, 6-1, and the No. 2 and 3 teams both won 6-0, 6-0. The second team of Tricia Tumminia and Rebecca Belamy blanked Danna Battaglia and Jenny Mazurek, while the third team of Julie Howard and Merilyn Millgard shutout Teresa Aneed and Lynn Ralean.

"There were a few close ones in singles, but there was absolutely no contest in doubles," Northville Coach Uta Filkin said. "To give you an idea how lopsided it was, our No. 4 doubles team (Peggy Apostolos and Kelly Woodsum) beat Franklin's No. 1 team 8-4 in a pro-set exhibition match."

NORTHVILLE 6, NORTH FARMINGTON 1: The Mustangs split a pair of three-setters against the Raiders on Sept. 11, but won the other five matches in straight sets for another easy victory.

"I thought we played pretty well," Filkin said. "North Farmington is a young team this year, but there were a few close ones. A meet like this is good for us because it builds our confidence."

In singles, Karen Vogt was a 6-3, 6-1 winner over Jennifer Law, Diane Vogt beat Lisa Mueller 6-2, 3-6, 6-2; Price edged Lana Bockrath 6-4, 6-4, and Hanson slipped past Hadley Thurmon 6-2, 6-3.

The doubles wins came at Nos. 1 and 3. Colizzi and Sriraman topped Lisa Anderson and Julie Herman (6-3, 6-1) while Howard and Millgard turned back Lauren Kaplan and Kim Frost (6-4, 6-2).

"Those two (North Farmington and Livonia Franklin) weren't tough but this week will be," Filkin said. "This is our first big challenge of the year, taking on Salem, Canton and Walled Lake Central in the span of five days."

MHSAA reports across-the-board attendance increases

For the 1988-89 school year, girls athletic events saw across-the-board attendance increases at Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA) tournaments, as spring figures set new records in softball and soccer.

Girls soccer saw records set at all four tournament levels, including a final session mark of 1,162, topping the 1987 championship round record of 1,031. The district (2,249), regional (1,360) and semifinal (1,065) also set marks. The 5,836 spectators for the tournament topped last year's mark of 4,878.

In softball, a record crowd of 3,142 attended the 1989 finals, topping the old mark of 3,102 in 1983. It also marked only the second time since the MHSAA began keeping attendance records in 1982 that the softball finals outdrew the baseball finals (2,964).

Softball tournament attendance topped the 10,000 mark for only the second time, but this year's series figure of 11,369 was short of the record mark of 13,555 in 1988.

Overall attendance at MHSAA girls tournaments was 211,336, breaking last year's record of 203,619. The figure does not include cross country and track, the only series in which boys and girls compete during the same session. Tournament attendance records were also set in girls basketball, swimming and diving, and volleyball during 1988-89.

"We can't help but be pleased with the gains girls sports continue to make in terms of spectator appeal," said MHSAA Executive Director John E. Roberts. "This is a trend we expect to see continue."

The baseball and track tournaments were down from 1988, with 13,199 fans attending baseball games and 22,214 spectators taking in the track.

For the year, 1,023,719 fans paid admission to MHSAA events, a 4-percent drop compared to last year's record of 1,063,099. The MHSAA does not generally charge admission for alpine skiing, golf and tennis tournament events.

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR NAMED: Nate Hampton, supervisor of athletics and physical education for the Saginaw Public School District, has been named to the post of assistant director of the Michigan High School Athletic Association. He assumed his duties on Sept. 5.

"Many of the nearly 100 candidates for the position would have served the MHSAA well, benefitting the officials, coaches and administrators with their talent and dedication," Roberts said. "But no candidate had more varied experience within the interscholastic athletic community of Michigan and more promise to expand the MHSAA's vision and services beyond the 1990s. Nate is a young man of class and commitment who will fill many of our current needs and stretch the MHSAA to accomplish greater things in the future."

Hampton, 40, is a 1966 graduate of Detroit Eastern High School, where he participated in football, swimming and golf. He received his bachelor's degree in history in 1971 from Morgan State University, which he attended on a football scholarship. He earned his master's degree in education in 1978 from Eastern Michigan University. He completed requirements for the National Interscholastic Athletic Administrators Association Certified Athletic Administrator Program in 1989.

After one year at Dearborn Heights

Robichaud High School, where he was head swimming coach, assistant football coach and a physical education instructor, Hampton began 15 years with the Highland Park School District. He spent seven years as a classroom instructor and seven years as an athletic coordinator. He coached football for 15 years, including nine as head coach. He was swimming coach for 12 years and head volleyball coach for four years.

In 1987, Hampton was named to his current post in Saginaw, where he has had responsibility for all phases of the interscholastic athletic program for 24 elementary schools, five middle schools and Arthur Hill and Saginaw high schools.

Hampton has served on several MHSAA committees and conducted many MHSAA tournaments over the years. He was appointed to the MHSAA Representative Council in November, 1988.

Hampton's responsibilities with the MHSAA will include involvement in basketball, cross country, football, swimming and diving, track and field, and volleyball, in the association's expanding data processing services; and in-service training programs for coaches and athletic directors.

"Because of changes in assignments of other MHSAA staff, Nate's job description will be a lot different than the man he replaces, Fred Sible," Roberts said. "There was only one Fred Sible. We're asking Nate to do new and different things so the MHSAA can keep pace with the changing needs of our membership." Sible, an MHSAA assistant director for 11 years, passed away on June 28.

Hampton's wife of less than one year, Michelle, is a psychologist with the Detroit Board of Education.

SHARING THE WEALTH: You could say a share-the-wealth plan was in effect during Michigan High School Athletic Association tournaments during the 1988-89 school year, as 78 schools laid claim to 97 championship trophies in 93 events.

Of the 78 schools winning crowns, 64 won one title, nine took two crowns, three won three championships, and one school — Marquette — won five MHSAA events.

Forty of the schools won their first MHSAA championship in their respective sports, while 22 titles won during the 1987-88 school year were successfully defended.

One new championship was added in 1988-89, with the creation of a second class of competition in Lower Peninsula girls golf, while four titles were split between teams.

Some streaks continued during the recently-completed school year. Grosse Pointe Woods University Light girls tennis and Marquette girls cross country each won its ninth straight title; Marquette also made it seven in a row in boys tennis, with Iron Mountain close behind at six; Ann Arbor Pioneer won its fifth straight girls track championship; Stephenson took its fourth straight win in boys cross country; while titles were claimed for the third consecutive year by Detroit Cooley in boys basketball and Detroit Lutheran West in boys track and field.

Other streaks came to an end. Escanaba's string of nine straight girls track championships came to an end this year, stopping the longest active winning streak in MHSAA girls competition.

'Best half of season' powers kickers to win

NORTHVILLE 4, NORTH FARMINGTON 1: The Mustangs started the week with an impressive victory over the Raiders on Sept. 11. The match included what Yezback called "the best half of soccer we've played all season."

With nice execution and teamwork, Northville overwhelmed North Farmington in the first half and led 4-0. The Mustangs reverted back to some bad habits in the last 40 minutes of play and were actually outscored 1-0 by the Raiders, but the victory was never in jeopardy.

"The guys came out and played the way we've been practicing," Yezback noted. "We passed well, we controlled the ball and we showed some very good teamwork. We were executing a lot of the things we've been working on; that was nice to see."

Just eight minutes into the game, Matt Mills beat the North goalie to a crossing pass by Hinz and knocked it into the net for an early lead. A minute later, Hinz made another cross that was knocked down by the goalie, only to have Maliszewski there to convert the rebound.

The third goal came after Tom Unger flagged down a loose ball in front of the Raider net at the 14-minute mark. A Maliszewski pass was deflected and a Mills shot attempt was blocked, but Unger was on the spot for the third, and last, try. At the midway point in the first half, Northville got its final goal when Steve Lang headed a Maliszewski cross inside the far post.

Not surprisingly, the Mustang held a commanding 15-2 advantage in shots on goal at the intermission.

"In the second half, our guys got a little goal-hungry and we started playing individually rather than as a team," Yezback pointed out. "As a result we lost a lot of our team play. I really hated to see it after we played so well in the first half."

North Farmington avoided the shutout at the 18-minute mark when Bob Sedki scored on an indirect kick.

The two victories last week raised Northville's overall mark to 3-3, 2-1 in the WLAA.

Steel shot to become mandatory

Mandatory use of steel shot will be the statewide rule during the 1989 Michigan waterfowl hunting season, according to the Department of Natural Resources (DNR).

This is a change from the 1988 season, when only the Lower Peninsula and two small zones in the east Upper Peninsula were required to use steel shot.

The Natural Resources Commission approved this action in February 1988 in an effort to significantly curtail lead poisoning in waterfowl.

"Historically, lead poisoning has been caused by the deposition of lead shot from the guns of waterfowling," said DNR Director David F. Hales. "Michigan now joins Iowa, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota and Wisconsin in adopting statewide requirements — all states in the nation must use steel by the 1991-92 season."

In Michigan, the rule will also apply to the hunting of coots, gallinules, rails and snipe, in addition to ducks and geese. Steel shot is not required for hunting woodcock, however.

Jerry Martz, Waterfowl Specialist with the DNR's Wildlife Division, suggests to hunters who have not used steel before, the following actions will help them better adapt to the use of steel shot shells in the field:

1. Use a steel shot size about two sizes larger than customary lead shot shell. For example, Number 4 steel is equivalent to Number 6 lead. Number 2 steel is equivalent to Number 4 lead; and T-shot in steel is equivalent to BB lead. The larger size steel pellet will have about the same weight as the similar lead shot.
2. Use a more open choke in the gun when shooting steel because steel shotshells pattern tighter than lead shells. If a full choke was used with lead, use modified with steel.

3. Not all brands of guns and chokes will produce the same patterns. Hunters should pattern their guns with several steel loads at normal hunting distances to find the pattern which best fits their own situation. Hunters should make sure their targets are in range; most hunters are not consistently good shots at ranges beyond 45 yards.

Northville cagers rally past Wildcats

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Northville-Novl girls basketball clash on Sept. 12 was either a battle between two fine defenses, or a lackluster exhibition by two hapless offensive squads — it all depends on how you look at it.

The non conference matchup was actually a bit of both, with the Mustangs rallying from a four-point halftime deficit to nip the host Wildcats 31-27.

"It was the battle of the defenses," Northville Coach Ed Kritch said.

In the first quarter, both teams got off to a slow start offensively — a very slow start. The two combined for five points in eight minutes, with Novl holding a 3-2 advantage heading into the second quarter.

The 'Cats picked up the pace a bit after that and took a 12-8 halftime lead. The margin would have been more if the Mustangs hadn't ended a scoreless string with six quick points just before the end of the half.

"We struggled to score," Kritch said. "With two minutes to go in the first half, it was 9-2, so we scored one basket in the first 14 minutes of the game. We just couldn't convert any half-court opportunities."

Northville got untracked early in the third quarter and with three minutes remaining, the Mustangs took their first lead of the game (17-15) on a three-pointer by Maria MacInnis. It was the first try of the season for Northville after 22 misses.

Junior forward Kate Holstein bounced back after a frustrating first half to score seven of Northville's 14 points in the quarter. Midway through the fourth, the Mustangs opened the lead to 27-20, but the 'Cats made a final push as Heather Humphrey and Adrienne Miskovich hit two key buckets to cut the lead to 29-27. But Mustang guard Sue LaPrad connected on a pair from the free throw line with 25 seconds remaining, and that iced the victory for Kritch and his squad.

"I felt, other than the cold shooting, that we played our best basketball of the year," he said. "We played great defense to keep us in it — especially in the first half. And we kept our turnovers down to an acceptable level (Novl) used a half-court trap and we handled it the best we have all season. We had only 17 turnovers and that's half of what we've been averaging after the first three games."

For the game, the Mustangs shot a miserable nine of 51 from the field, or about 17 percent, but Kritch was pleased with his team's shot selection nevertheless.

"We had some decent shots; we just couldn't score," he said.

Holstein was the only player in the game to score in double figures. She paced Northville with 12 points, 13 rebounds and three steals.

Record/CHRIS BOYD

Kate Holstein (34) and Tara Humphrey (32) race after a loose ball

"Kate is playing real fine basketball," Kritch said. "She's in double figures in both scoring and rebounding. Our opponents are seeing this, though, and they are starting to pay more attention to her. That will make it tougher for her to score, but it should free up some of our outside shooters."

The Mustangs (2-2 overall) opened the WLAA season on Sept. 19 (after Record deadline) at Farmington.

Linksters handle poor weather, Lions

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

After falling to Novl — a Kensington Valley Conference team — earlier in the season, the Northville golfers felt they had let the Western Lakes league down.

So when the Mustangs got a second chance at a member of the KVC — it wasn't even close. The wet, rainy conditions on Sept. 14 at Salem Hills caused the scores to soar, but Northville handled the conditions better and crushed South Lyon 219-233.

"We played the match in a downpour," Northville Coach Don Morgan said. "I don't think the (South Lyon) coach wanted to play it that day, but we don't have any open dates to reschedule, so we played it. The scores were higher, but I think the outcome would have been the same in good weather."

"I thought we handled the bad weather as well as we could. It's a good experience to play in all types of conditions."

Chris Lemmon was the medalist with a 40. He was followed by Jason Sherman (41) and Paul Warner (44), who were 1-2-3 overall. The other Mustang performers were Todd Christianson (47), Kevin Krupansky (47) and sophomore Steve Porter (47).

"The 40 by Lemmon wasn't bad at all," Morgan said. "He's been battling a cold and the weather was a problem — I thought it was a miraculous score."

PLYMOUTH BEST BALL: The Plymouth Best Ball Tournament at Brae Burn Golf Club is basically a fun day for area golfers, but it's also yet another opportunity to improve against some stiff competition.

Northville was one of 23 schools represented on Sept. 12, and the Mustang contingent — including an A and a B squad — had a lot of fun, but also played fairly well. The competition is not a scramble (where players alternate shots). Each two-person team plays every hole, but only the top score on each hole is used.

"At this event, I like to see the kids do well," Northville Morgan said. "They look forward to it, and it gives them exposure to a lot of other teams and players. It's primarily a fun day."

The two Northville teams combined to score 150 points, which was good for eighth place overall. The Mustang A team of Chris Lemmon and Jason Sherman ended up placing in the top fourth of the field with a three-over-par 36-36 — 72 score for 18 holes. The duo was just three shots off the pace.

SOCCER: Bernal notches hat-trick

BOYS UNDER 16: A goal by Ryan Schriber was the only bright spot for the Northville Express in a 7-1 loss to Livonia No. 4. Nick Coliani was the defensive standout. Marc Bernal scored three times to help the Northville Hot Spurs tie Farmington No. 1, 3-3. Jason Hamilton and Michael Maite were the MVPs for the Spurs.

South Lyon dumped the Northville Sting 6-0. Rob Spivy and Geno Peters starred despite the loss. Led by goaltender Garrett Brun, Northville Arsenal blanked Northville United 3-0. Garrett stopped a penalty kick to preserve the shutout. Eric Rietzback (2) and Josh Brugeman scored in the game.

GIRLS UNDER 16: A pair of goals by Gina Del Tatto wasn't enough as the Northville Express fell to Lakes No. 1, 3-2. The most valuable performers were Brande Beckwith and Becky Roberts. Lori Carboit scored all the game's goals as Northville Arsenal shut out South Lyon 4-0. Natalie Lankes and Sarah Yageman were the standouts for the local squad.

BOYS UNDER 12: Despite some fine goalending by Adam Tibble and Jeff Husak, the Northville Sting dropped a 2-0 decision to Livonia No. 2. Northville Arsenal dropped a 1-0 heart-breaker to Farmington No. 1. Joe Hammond, Shane Byerly and Matt Baird were cited for their fine performance. Two goals by Ben Szostek and one by Ryan Pettman enabled the Northville Express to turn back Plymouth No. 2, 3-0. John Woodsum was the defensive MVP in the game. David Craig scored on a direct kick but Northville United lost a 4-1 match to Plymouth No. 3. Matt Minard was the defensive standout for United. Plymouth No. 4 handed the Northville Rowdies a 4-1 defeat. Bill Sakerka scored the only Rowdies goal and Jason Gellner was the defensive star.

GIRLS UNDER 12: Goals by Rebecca Anderson, Amy Heckemeyer and Gwen Osborne powered Northville Arsenal past Farmington No. 1, 4-0. Robyn Koskela and Gina Chasson were the MVPs and Meghan Cauzillo was the goalie. Northville United received two goals from Dana Novara en route to a 4-1 victory over Plymouth No. 3. Bri Nelson and Aissa DeMatto also scored for the winners.

GIRLS UNDER 14: Julie Holmes and Amy Petricca each scored twice to lead the Northville Express to a lopsided 7-0 win over Plymouth No. 1. The defensive stars included Becky Rouhan, Julie Capococo and Lindsay Shulenberger. Farmington No. 2 pinned a 5-0 defeat on the Northville Rowdies. Karan Brummett and Sarah Howland played well for the Rowdies.

GIRLS UNDER 19: A hat trick by Ashley MacLean powered Northville Arsenal past Huron Valley 4-1. Wendy Carroll also scored, and the MVPs were Jenny Beyersdorf and Marilyn Millgard.

COLTS: Colts fall to Garden City

VARSITY: The Northville-Novl Colts Varsity squad opened the 1989 season on Sept. 10 with an 18-6 loss to the Garden City Chargers. The Colts' lone scoring drive was 47 yards and included nice runs by Brian Kelly and Jeff Betzler, with Betzler going in for the touchdown. Jeff Luterak kept it close in the first half with an interception in the Chargers' end zone. It was 6-0 Garden City at halftime and 12-6 late in the game, but the Chargers added a late TD in the closing minutes to end the scoring. The Colts travel to Ann Arbor to take on the Junior Wolverines next.

JUNIOR VARSITY: The Colts J.V. team started the season with a thrilling 13-9 triumph over the Garden City Chargers. Todd Zayit opened the scoring for the Colts with a four-yard touchdown plunge, but the Chargers came right back two plays later on a 70-yard TD and took a 7-6 lead with a successful extra point.

Early in the second half, the Chargers made it 9-6 with a safety, and it stayed that way until the final minute of the game. With just 40 seconds remaining, quarterback Jason Bristol hit Brandon Spence with a 50-yard touchdown pass that ended up being the game-winner. The Colts were led by Brett and Jimmy Inslard, Zachary Francis, Justin Cataldo, Neil Lokey and Paul Hladun.

FRESHMEN: In a classic defensive struggle the Colts' freshmen squad dropped a 6-0 decision to the Garden City Chargers.

Shorthanded harriers drop a close one

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Without two key runners — including standout Marcie Dart — the Northville cross-country squad came up four points shy of a season-opening dual meet victory. North Farmington edged the Mustangs 26-30 on Sept. 12 at Cass Benton Park.

Without Dart (injured hamstring) or Stacy Nield (knee problem), Northville Coach Nick Dunwoodie knew he'd have to have some outstanding runs from the rest — and he got it, as every Mustang runner registered a personal best time for the season. But it still wasn't quite enough to pull out the win.

"It was very, very close," he said. "We were missing two of our top runners, and that right there probably made the difference. All you have to do is give us two more points, take away two from them, and we're the winner, and I'm sure we would have been able to do it if we had Marcie back and healthy."

Northville put six runners in the top 10 but only two in the top five, and that was just the edge North Farmington needed. Lisa Brown paced the Mustangs with a time of 23:09, good for second-place honors as an individual. About a minute later, Rozann Staknis finished fourth in a time of 24:12, but they were the only two Northville runners top place in the top six. Rachel Davis was seventh overall (25:06), and she was followed by Angie Nelson in eighth (25:11), Cheryl Mittman in ninth (26:10), Lisa Hojnacki in 10th (26:18) and Ginta Kukainis in 12th (26:54). "The kids that ran did very well," Dunwoodie said. "Everybody had their personal best times, so I can't complain at all. I'm very happy with the way we are performing."

SCHOOLCRAFT INVITE: The Mustangs placed ninth out of 17 teams at the Schoolcraft Invite on Sept. 16.

"I was pleased," Dunwoodie said

"We beat North Farmington by five points, so that was nice to see, since we lost to them in a dual meet four days earlier."

"It's a fast course, and the kids get a boost seeing their times come down."

The Mustangs' top four finishers were packed together pretty well and ended up taking four out of 15 spots between 42nd and 56th overall. Brown led the way again (42nd) and was followed by Staknis (44th), Mittman (51st) and Nelson (56).

"Cheryl Mittman is really coming on for us," Dunwoodie said. "She is running very well of late."

Hojnacki (64th), Davis (67th) and Kukainis (91st) rounded out the top seven Northville finishers.

"Our first four came in quite close together, and that means our pack time is improving," Dunwoodie explained. "When we get Marcie Dart back, we should be much improved."

The Mustangs (0-1 overall and in the WLAA) will take on Walled Lake Western today (Sept. 21) in an important Western Division contest.

RECREATION BRIEFS

VOLLEYBALL FESTIVAL: Northville Charley's will be sponsoring a mixed volleyball tournament from Sept. 23-Oct. 27. The proceeds will be given to Our Lady of Providence Center For Handicapped Children, located on Beck Road in Northville.

The tournament will be held on the front lawn of the restaurant from 6-8 p.m. nightly.

FLOOR HOCKEY PROGRAM: Floor hockey is being offered by the Northville Recreation Department. The class will instruct the participants on the basic skills of floor hockey, and scrimmages will be played.

The class is held on Tuesdays from 4-5 p.m. for second- and third-graders, and Wednesdays from 4-5 p.m. for fourth- and fifth-graders. The class begins the week of Sept. 25.

GIRLS BASKETBALL: All girls, grade three through six, are invited to participate in an all-girls basketball league. The league season will begin in November and conclude in January. Games are held on Saturdays and practices will be held on weekday evenings. League fee is $22.50, and the registration deadline is Oct. 20.

CHEERLEADING COACH NEEDED: Our Lady of Victory Grade School in Northville is looking for a cheerleading coach. Anyone interested in this paid position should call Eileen Dunn at 344-1483.

REGISTRATION BEGINS: The Northville Recreation Department has begun accepting registration for fall activities. The office hours are 8:30 a.m.-5 p.m. For additional information, call 349-0203.

FALL CLASSIC: The Fall Classic Golf Outing sponsored by Easter Seals of Wayne County will be held Sunday, Oct. 15, at Riverview Highlands Golf Club.

The complete golf package is $75 per person and includes 18 holes of golf with a cart, continental breakfast, open bar and awards dinner. Prizes will also be presented. An 11 a.m. shotgun start is planned.

Call Joanna Martin or Bob Schellenberger at 722-3055 before the Oct. 4 deadline for tickets or information.

ANGELA HOSPICE OUTING: The first annual Angela Hospice Home Care Golf Outing is slated for Oct. 9 at Glenhurst Golf Club in Redford.

The 18-hole lady scramble for four-person teams will start at 10 a.m. The cost is $50 per person, not including cart. A continental breakfast will be served at 9 a.m., and lunch will follow golf.

For more information call 592-8758 or 591-5157.

OLYMPIC DEVELOPMENT SOCCER TRYOUTS: The Michigan State Youth Soccer Association will be holding Open Outdoor Soccer tryouts for all age groups for the 1990 Girls' Olympic Development Program at Bicentennial Park in Livonia on Sept. 22 from 5:30-8 p.m.

The age groups include under 14, under 16, and under 18. All players in the state are eligible to try out for this program. The fee is $50.

For further information, call Kathy Coyne at 522-0296.

FREE BADMINTON: Free badminton will re-commence on Oct. 3 at the Plymouth West School on the corner of Sheldon Road and Ann Arbor Trail every Tuesday from 8:15 p.m.-10 p.m.

For more information, please contact Kit Henderson at 474-4992 during office hours.

BOATING EDUCATION COURSE: The United States Coast Guard is conducting a public education course. Its purpose is to educate the boating public and to create safety awareness when operating a boat.

There will be a fee for the textbook. All classes will be conducted by qualified auxiliary instructors. For more information, call Leonard at 533-0579.

MOTORSPORTS ON DISPLAY: Historic racing vehicles and exhibits honoring the Motorsports Hall of Fame inductees are on display daily at the Novi Civic Center Atrium. Admission is free.

Currently featured are Barney Oldfield's first and last cars — the "999" and the "Golden Submarine" — as well as the 1965 "Novi Special" Indy Car driven by Bobby Unser.

Bronze plaques and other displays honoring the first eight Hall of Fame inductees are also on display. The charter class includes Cannon Ball Baker, Jimmy Doolittle, A.J. Foyt, Don Garlits, Phil Hill, Bill Muncie, Barney Oldfield, and Richard Petty.

Tai chi: fitness for body and mind

By BOB NEEDHAM

The words "martial arts" often call up visions of karate black belts aggressively sparring or doing painful looking things to bricks and wood.

But at least one martial art, t'ai chi ch'uan, is much more gentle — even relaxing — and is gaining popularity in the West for its goal of total fitness for both body and mind.

"It's a meditative and therapeutic exercise — and soft style of self defense," local tai chi instructor Tony Simper said. "A lot of people think that tai chi is just a relaxing exercise, which it is — but in reality, tai chi is a holistic art, so it's equally a healing art as well as a martial art... One nourishes the other. You need each of them."

Tai chi consists of several series of measured, smooth movements of the arms, torso and legs. "The movements are designed to stretch and tone the muscles evenly while at the same time aligning the entire skeletal structure, stimulating pressure points throughout the entire system," Simper said.

The art uses the Oriental concept of an energy called chi flowing through the body. "That chi becomes blocked when you're sick or tense, and the Chinese arts are designed to free up that energy," he said.

Tai chi has existed for thousands of years in various names and forms, Simper said. It arose from the Eastern philosophy of Taoism.

Simper became familiar with tai chi in California, one of the first areas in the West in which the art became well known. He has practiced tai chi for 13 years and taught it for seven.

"It is a style of exercise, and it is starting to become much more popular here," he said.

Simper described tai chi as having two basic sides: self-healing and self-defense.

On the healing side, "It improves the entire system. It improves all of the internal functions," Simper said.

Because of the smooth motions, he said, tai chi is ideal for everyone: "There is never any danger of getting injured... Tai chi is a universal form of exercise. Anybody can do it."

Simper said tai chi has a long history of helping people with medical problems in China, and currently is a subject of research in America to pinpoint any benefits to the cardiovascular or central nervous systems. One known effect is a greatly increased oxygen consumption, he said.

On the self-defense side, tai chi is slower and smoother than other martial arts, but can include some fast movements and even full-blown sparring at advanced levels.

"To be strong you don't have to practice hard and fast," Simper said. The idea in tai chi is to respond to both internal and external movements in an economical way, borrowing an opponent's energy and using it back against the threat. "Instead of opposing, we're blending," he said.

Simper explained that there is a very broad concept of an enemy: "The (opposing) energy may be a drunk driver. The enemy may be a virus, a cold, an illness, a bad habit. The enemy may be viewed as an angry boss as well as a mad dog or a dangerous person."

"We learn how to respond directly to a situation, and by blending in with the opposition, we learn how to redirect it or neutralize it and turn the situation around so it's advantageous to us. Letting go of the fear — yielding and understanding — is a very important part of tai chi."

"Tai chi is a perfect blending of dynamic form and tranquility in motion."

Simper's next class starts Monday at the Community Center of Farmington and Farmington Hills, 24705 Farmington Rd., just north of Ten Mile Road. The class runs Mondays from 6:15 to 7:45 p.m.; the fee is $50. To register or for more information, call the community center at 477-8404.

Open swimming resumes at high school

Open swimming at the Northville High School pool will resume Sept. 23. The fee is $1 per person and is payable at the door.

The fall open swimming schedule through Nov. 15 is as follows: Monday from 7:15-8:15 p.m.; Wednesday from 7:15-8:30 p.m. and Saturday from 1:30-3 p.m. An adult lap swim is also slated for Wednesday from 8:30-9:30 p.m.

CHOLESTEROL EDUCATION: The Oakland County Health Division is offering a cholesterol education class at the Bloomfield Township Public Library, 1099 Lone Pine Road, Bloomfield Hills. The class will meet Oct. 3, 10 and 17 from 6:30-8:30 p.m. The cost is $6.

To register, call 858-5306. Class size is limited.

EXPECTANT PARENT CLASSES: The Oakland County Health Division will offer a series of six expectant-parent classes beginning Sept. 28 in the Barlett Friendship Center, room 116, at the Community Education Building, 350 School Street in South Lyon.

Classes will be held in the evenings from 7-9 p.m. and will be taught by public-health nurses. There is no charge for attending the series of classes, but you are asked to pre-register because enrollment is limited.

Topics will include maternal physical changes, good nutrition, growth and development of the fetus and the baby, labor and delivery, infant care, and parenting.

To register, please call 424-7042 by Sept. 22.

BREAST AND SKIN CLINIC: A breast and skin clinic will be held at St. Mary Hospital at Five

Fitness Notes

Mile and Levan Roads. Dates for the clinic are Sept. 27, Oct. 11 and 25, Nov. 8, and December 6. All sessions will be from 3:10-5:10 p.m.

The clinic includes breast examination by a staff physician, a risk / history evaluation for breast and skin tumor, and breast self-examination instruction. The fee for the clinic is $10.

Appointments are necessary for the clinic. For an appointment or additional information, call 464-4800, ext. 2433.

WEIGHT WATCHERS FOR THE DEAF: Weight Watchers is now introducing a new class held exclusively for people who are deaf or hearing impaired. The class runs from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Wednesdays.

The meetings take place at the Weight Watchers Bloomfield Towne Square Center on Telegraph Road. The class leader is Carol Frankel, and an interpreter for people who are deaf or hearing impaired is also present.

If you are interested in joining this new class or know of a friend who could benefit, please call 332-3323 for more information or to reserve a seat.

ALZHEIMER'S SUPPORT GROUP: The Novi

Family Support Group of the Alzheimer's Association meets the second Thursday of every month at 7 p.m. at the Novi Care Center.

This support group is for caregivers, family members, and friends of individuals afflicted by Alzheimer's disease and offers education support programs.

For more information, call 477-2000.

MAKE TODAY COUNT: Make Today Count, a national organization that brings together persons affected by life-threatening illnesses, meets monthly at Huron Valley Hospital in Commerce Township.

Individuals with serious illness, family members, health-care professionals, clergy, and concerned others are welcome at group meetings held the second Thursday of every month at 7:30 p.m.

For program information, call 363-5233 or 626-3636.

SCHOOLCRAFT FITNESS PROGRAM: A fitness program for community and corporate employees is now available at Schoolcraft College in Livonia Monday through Friday from 6:30 to 8 a.m. and 4:30 to 6 p.m.

Participants can take advantage of a full-competition swimming pool with a separate diving area, six racquetball courts, a weight-training room, a dance-training room and muscle-soothing saunas. A 12-week membership is $40 and a six-week membership is $22. The facilities also can be used for $3 per visit.

Know risk factors of coronary artery disease

By SYLVA DVORAK, M.S.

Coronary artery disease is the major cause of heart disease and heart attack in America.

It develops when fatty deposits build up on the inner walls of the blood vessels feeding the heart (coronary arteries). Eventually one of the major coronary arteries may become blocked — either by the buildup of deposits or by a blood clot forming in the artery's narrow passageway. The result is a heart attack.

We now know that there are several factors that can increase your risk for developing coronary artery disease, and thus the chances for a heart attack. Many of these risk factors can be reduced or eliminated.

The three leading causes of heart disease are:

- Cigarette smoking
- High blood pressure
- High blood cholesterol

The higher the levels, the greater the risk, and the more risk factors you have, the greater your chance of heart disease.

Other important risk factors include:

- Diabetes
- Lack of exercise
- Obesity
- Family history

Male sex (males are more likely to develop heart problems than females).

- Advancing age
- Tension and stress

With the exception of family history, being male and advancing in age, you can take measures to control your risk factors and prevent a heart attack.

The American Heart Association suggests the following diet modifications in order to help reduce heart-attack risk:

1. Achieve and / or maintain ideal total body weight.
2. Decrease your total fat intake to no more than 30 percent of your diet.
3. Decrease your consumption of high-cholesterol foods (eggs, red meats, and most processed and "junk" foods, which are loaded with saturated fats).

Do aerobic exercise regularly:

- At least 3-4 times a week
- For at least 20-30 minutes
- At your target heart rate

Exercise strengthens your heart and blood vessels, helps prevent obesity and reduces the effects of stress.

Have your cholesterol and blood pressure checked and make a point of remembering these important numbers. Recognize and reduce your personal risk factors. After all, you are responsible for your heart's health.

The Northville Record is working with medical authorities at the University of Michigan Medical Center (M-Care) in Northville to provide up-to-date information on a variety of health-related topics. The series is coordinated by Peg Campbell of the M-Care staff.

Because this is a syndicated publication prepared in advance by Cotter & Company for distribution by over 6,000 independently owned and operated retail store members, some merchandise illustrated may not be immediately available on demand. However, any item that's unavailable can be ordered in full carton by the member store from a regional warehouse. Many items in this circular come unassembled. This store is not responsible for assembling merchandise unless stated. This circular must be prepared months in advance of the actual distribution period. At times, an advertised item may not be available because of sales above anticipated demand or because of circumstances beyond our control; while we try to avoid such situations, we have no control over our manufacturers' delivery problems. This store reserves the right to limit quantities, correct pricing errors and require central credit office approval of time payment sales. Prevailing taxes will be added to prices. This catalog is distributed by True Value members who own their own stores and set their own retail prices.
