Tre position open in township

BY MIKE TYREE

The appointment of Richard Henningsen Oct. 12 as Northville township manager filled a key gap in local government, but a "Help Wanted" sign will stay posted at the township hall.

Henningsen's job switch left the township treasurer's position open for the first time in 12 years, and a search to fill the partisan office should be completed by early November, according to township officials.

Township Supervisor Georgina Goss said Monday that a deadline to receive applications for the part-time, $9,000 a year post, is Nov. 2. A candidate should be selected and recommended to the township Board of Trustees a week later, Goss said.

"We would like to have a decision at the Nov. 9 board meeting," she said. She added that no applications have been received as of Oct. 23.

Township Clerk Thomas Cook said the position has been advertised in the Record and the Plymouth Observer. He said the township was "looking for someone who has handled money in the past, and who would fit in with what we're doing."

Goss said the position's job description included the collection of taxes and other revenues, enforcing payment of personal property taxes, and the ability to where the money received was paid.

"The treasurer is elected for the purpose of carrying out certain state and township responsibilities," she said. "That includes making sure tax bills and assessments go out in time."

Though the position is normally held by an elected official, Cook said an appointment would be made for two years. Partisan politics may not necessarily come into play when looking for the best candidate, he said.

"It's a political office, but it (partisanship) hasn't come into play in the past," he said. "It doesn't really matter here, we're just looking for a qualified person."

Goss said the township would be looking for a person with an accounting or banking background, and said many types of people could fit into the treasurer's role.

"It could be someone who's retired, or someone with a full-time job, or someone who's at home but would like to be working," she said.

Land sale delayed

BY MIKE TYREE

The sale of 930 acres of Wayne County land in Northville Township has been delayed due to an environmental impact study now underway by the two developers bidding to acquire the site.

According to Deputy County Executive Michael Duggan, a group of gas tanks are buried under the Wayne County Training School near Sheldon and Five Mile roads.

"It could cost a lot of money to clean up those sites," he said. "The bidders say that if they know for sure how much it's going to cost, they could bid more money for the property."

Citizen of the Year Bruce Turnbull gets a kiss from wife Rita

Good citizen Turnbull wins community award

By STEPHEN KELLMAN

After giving the invocation at the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce's annual dinner, the last thing Bruce Turnbull expected was to be elected the community's Citizen of the Year.

"It was kind of a surprise," he said. "It usually goes to the ex-mayor or someone like that."

The Citizen of the Year award has been presented yearly by the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce since the chamber's inception in 1964.

Not that Turnbull hasn't done his share of civic duty, or demonstrated his share of civic pride. The lifelong Northville resident is a self-made historian on the area, and provides tours of the city and speeches on the area's history to anyone with an interest.

"It's a hobby I took up about five years ago," he said, "and it's turned out to be quite a busy deal." Turnbull has already given over 50 walks and talks this year, and has many more planned.

Turnbull typically takes people around the Mill Race Historical Village on Griswold Street, explaining the history behind the historical structures located on the 11-acre site.

The village was created in 1972 by the Northville Historical Society, with land donated from the Ford Motor Company.

Of course, the 70-year-old native did not wait until recently to become involved in the community. Turnbull is the former president of the city's Retail Merchant's Association, the precursor to the Chamber of Commerce. He also presided over the community's Exchange Club, which predated the Rotary Club. After the Rotary Club was formed, Turnbull joined that group as well.

School board fails to support ballot proposals

By MIKE TYREE

The Northville Public School District's Board of Education Monday overwhelmingly declined to support the two ballot proposals designed to boost education funding in the state.

Despite Superintendent George Bell's recommendation that the board support Proposal A, six of the seven board members chose to oppose both controversial proposals.

"Increasing the sales tax is not a good way to support education," said board member Jean Hansen. "There are dangers in both of them (proposals)."

"I can't support either of these," said board treasurer Joseph Dunkerley. "Neither proposal does much for Northville schools."

The two proposals, A and B, have been handed to Michigan voters by the legislature as relief plans for the state's educational funding woes. Proposal A would raise the state sales tax to four and one-half cents on the dollar, and Proposal B would boost the sales tax to six cents.

Proposal B received no support from the Northville Board of Education.

"I don't like B," said member Donald Klockenga, the sole supporter of Bell's Proposal A recommendation. "I think B is a property tax restructuring under the guise of school support."

Bell himself wasn't exactly turning cartwheels over his endorsement of Proposal A.

"I bring these proposals to you with absolutely no enthusiasm," he said. "I recommend to you Proposal A, not because it will solve any problems, but because it would at least put some money into severely distressed in-formula districts."

Home delivery issue gains steam in city

By STEPHEN KELLMAN

As the battle between Northville City and Primo's Pizza continues to simmer, the conflict between the city council and planning commission over home delivery restaurants heats up.

At their latest meeting, the planning commission voted against a city council proposal to ease the restrictions on home delivery restaurants in the Central Business District (CBD).

The amendment would allow home delivery restaurants as a specially-permitted use subject to certain requirements. Such a restaurant could only use two delivery vehicles at any one time, and on-site parking would be needed for those vehicles over and above the required number for normal use. The restaurant would also need to provide for eating on the premises as well as take-out or home delivery services.

Home delivery restaurants are currently not allowed in the CBD.

"What is being proposed here is to make them a special use, give them certain conditions," said council member Jerry Mittman, who attended last Tuesday's meeting. "Going with that special use structure provides an extra layer of control."

Planning commission members seemed resistant to any change to the existing ordinance. Commission chairman John Hardin said, "I have a concern with this type of use in the CBD becoming a food factory with rapid delivery." Hardin suggested requiring a certain percentage of a restaurant to be devoted to sit-down service.

"I think the CBD is better served without additional Domino-like facilities," said commission member Rolland Stapleton, referring to the fast-food pizza delivery restaurant on Mary Alexander Court.

Said commission member Stephen Ball, "This doesn't anywhere near suffice to give us the quality and diversity we want downtown."

Commission members also argued that the amendment was due primarily to the threat of legal action against the city by Primo's Pizza, and charges that the ban on home delivery restaurants within the CBD was unfair. Said David Totten, "we're all pretending that this is not because of a specific restaurant."

"I think it's fair to say that Primo's is the spark that got us started thinking about it," Mittman said. But he insisted that the proposed amendment was the result of a "realistic reappraisal of the policy."

Though he insisted that there were enough safeguards in the city council's proposal to regulate home delivery restaurants in the area, planning commission members voted to not recommend the amendment for passage.

Council candidates air views in forum

By STEPHEN KELLMAN

Last Thursday's candidates' forum gave the city council candidates and mayor a chance to air their views before a crowd of about 30 people. The forum was sponsored by the Northville chapter of the American Association of University Women and the Northville, Novi, Plymouth and Canton branch of the League of Women Voters (LWV). Cindy Burgess of Canton, former president of the local LWV, moderated the event.

The candidates were each given three minutes to make opening remarks, and one minute to answer written questions previously submitted by the audience.

Former city council candidate Kevin Hartshorne spoke first, having drawn the lowest number before the forum began. "Sidewalks, taxes, traffic and parking are major concerns on the minds of voters today," he said. "I feel the city should take advantage of the state tax law that requires each city to provide the tax assessing, billing and collecting services, and fire the Wayne County assessor. While parking is a problem, I feel it will be overshadowed by the taxpayer's revolt when it comes time to pay for it."

"I stand in firm opposition to the council's views on the sidewalk issue," Hartshorne continued. He read from two pamphlets on bikeways to illustrate the dangers involved in developing sidewalks without adequate advance planning.

"Now, some of you may be asking, 'What do bikeways have to do with sidewalks?'" he said. "It is my contention that by developing sidewalks without a comprehensive bikeway policy, you have created sidewalk bikeways."

Such a system, he said, increased the risks of accidents for bicyclists and pedestrians, by channelling the two groups into the same narrow space and further confusing traffic patterns at intersections.

Before such a policy were implemented, he said reading from a pamphlet, an area-wide accident survey should be taken to identify existing problem locations. City officials have discussed doing such a survey to identify where sidewalks would be useful.

During his opening remarks, current council member Jerry Mittman read off a list of his community involvement activities over the past 13 years. "During that time," he said, "I saw quality growth in the city of Northville, and I think, too, control-

NEWS BRIEFS

CHAMBER MUSIC SLATED — A chamber-music program of double reed and piano will be presented by the Friends of the Northville Public Library at 7:45 p.m. Monday, Nov. 6.

The program will take place in the library to celebrate its 100th anniversary and will be performed by Northville residents and members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra: Robert Williams on bassoon and Treva Womble on oboe and English horn. They will be accompanied by Pauline Martin.

The concert is free, but registration is required in order to reserve space and assist in planning the reception which will follow the program. To register, call 349-3020.

EVENING STORYTIME REGISTRATION — A special evening Preschool Storytime will be held at the Northville Public Library at 7 p.m. Monday, Nov. 6.

This special program will be geared to children ages 3½ to 5 years who are not able to attend regular daytime sessions. Registration is underway.

CHOIR LANDS RECORD OFFER — The Northville High School choirs have been selected by Delta Records to record an album of Christmas music for distribution in the Northville area.

Release of the album is slated for Dec. 1. Albums will be available through choir members and at selected retail stores.

The choirs are under the direction of Mary Kay Pryce. Final selection of the Northville choirs was made on the basis of a long tradition of outstanding performance, according to a release made by Delta Records.

JOB HELP OFFERED — The Community Employment Service offered through Growth Works Inc. provides job search assistance to western Wayne County residents.

Through a computer data base, job seekers are matched with local employment opportunities. If you would like to register on the computer call Tom Arbanas at 455-4093. Growth Works is a non-profit community-based organization.

REHAB PROGRAM OFFERED — The Easter Seal Society of Wayne County has launched a rehabilitation program for people suffering the late effects of polio.

These individuals are people who suffered polio 30 to 35 years ago who suddenly find themselves experiencing new symptoms.

It is only recently that doctors have been able to properly diagnose this phenomenon, which is characterized by muscle weakness, fatigue, ambulatory problems and difficulty in performing tasks.

The Easter Seals program is a home care program which has therapists visiting the homes of patients at no charge to them. Anyone wanting more information about the program may call 722-3055.

Numbers up again at schools

By MIKE TYREE

For the fourth consecutive year, the number of students attending Northville Public Schools has increased.

According to statistics released Oct. 9 by the school district, 167 more children will attend K-12 classes in Northville in 1989-90 than did the previous school year.

This year's fourth Friday of school head count determined that the total enrollment for 1989-90 was 3,793 students, as opposed to 3,626 in the district last year. That figure represented a 4.6 per cent increase in the student population.

The bulk of the increase was witnessed at the elementary (up 9.5 per cent) and middle school (up 7.7 per cent) levels.

Northville High School's population dipped slightly, with a reported net loss of 45 students from the previous year.

The latest student count follows a trend which has developed during the past four school years. During that time, student growth has increased by 539 students K-12, representing a boost of 16.2 per cent. Most of that increase is attributable to the extraordinary 50.6 per cent growth spurt in the K-5 grades.

Middle school enrollment has increased moderately, up 2.5 per cent over the past four years, while high school enrollment has slipped 11.5 per cent during that period.

The present growth trend was preceded by 10 consecutive years of decline in the student population.

Police Blotters

Senior Gardens trespasser carried concealed weapon

An adult male was charged with trespassing near the Child Development Center and Senior Gardens in Northville Oct. 18, at 11:11 a.m. Upon searching the man, police found a concealed knife. The man was charged with carrying a dangerous weapon.

FOILED ATTEMPT — A van parked at the Northville Park Apartments on Randolph Street was the object of an attempted break-in between 8 p.m. on Oct. 17 and 12:30 p.m. on Oct. 18. An estimated $50 of damage was done to moldings on the vehicle's rear and passenger windows.

CAR ENTERED — A vehicle at the Northville Green Apartments on Randolph Street was broken into between 10:30 p.m. on Oct. 17 and 9 a.m. the following morning, though nothing was taken. According to the owner, the vehicle had been locked before the incident. Fingerprints were found on the vehicle.

ANOTHER GLOVE BOX BURGLARY — A vehicle parked on Novi Street was broken into and the glove box searched between 11:15 p.m. on Oct. 17 and 8:30 a.m. the following morning, though nothing was taken. The vehicle had been left unlocked, according to the owner.

RADIO TRANSMITTER TAKEN — A radio transmitter was stolen from the front seat of an unlocked van parked on Randolph Street the night of Oct. 14, but was later recovered. The theft occurred between 4 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. according to the owner, and the transmitter was later found in front of another house on Randolph.

SMOKING IN THE BOY'S ROOM — A men's restroom at the Northville Downs racetrack was the scene of a fire Friday night, Oct. 20. The fire was reported at 8:41 p.m. and was apparently caused by a toilet paper holder being set afire. An estimated $100 of damage was done to the holder and the wall behind it.

CAR BROKEN INTO — A Cobra

Trapshooter radar detector and cord valued at $150 were taken from a vehicle parked behind the MAGS building in downtown Northville Saturday night, Oct. 21. The vehicle's windshield was cracked and passenger window was smashed during the incident, causing an estimated $600 worth of damage. The incident occurred between 7:30 p.m. and 11:15 p.m. according to the vehicle's owner.

ANOTHER CAR BROKEN INTO — A $350 Minolta camera and zoom lens were stolen from another vehicle in the MAGS parking lot Saturday night, between 7:30 p.m. and 11:30 p.m. The vehicle's passenger window was smashed and driver window was scratched during the incident. The equipment was in a brown camera bag.

CHANGE TAKEN — Between 50 cents and $1 in pocket change was taken from a vehicle on Fairbrook Court Oct. 21, between 2 p.m. and midnight.

FENDER BENDERS — City police reported one accident this week. On Oct. 18 at 3:30 p.m. a vehicle heading north on South Main Street just south of Cady Street hit a vehicle that was stopped for one making a turn. The driver of the first vehicle told police he was going 35 miles per hour in the 25-mile-per-hour zone, and left about 45 feet of skid marks before hitting the other car. The driver was charged with failing to stop within an assured clear distance ahead. The vehicle that was struck was towed from the scene.

WALKAWAY DAYS — Township police answered a pair of calls concerning walkaways from the Northville State Hospital last week. One walkaway was reported Oct. 19 at 3:38 p.m., the other Oct. 21 at 5:37 p.m.

VANS BROKEN INTO — Vans parked behind Drywall Specialists, 4334 West Seven Mile were broken into sometime between 5 p.m. Oct. 18 and 10:15 a.m. Oct. 19. No further information was available from police record books.

POLICE MAKE STOPS AT MEIJER — Police investigated three cases of larceny and one case of indecent exposure from the Meijer Store at 20401 Haggerty last week. The larcenies occurred Oct. 18 at 1 a.m., Oct. 19 at 3:40 p.m., and Oct. 20 at 7:01 p.m. Police said a young man was discovered exposing himself at the rear of the Meijer store Oct. 18 at 3:55 a.m. The subject was also wanted by another police department for a breaking and entering charge, according to the log at township police headquarters.

OVERDOSE — Police answered a call of a drug overdose on Clement Street Oct. 20 at 10:56 p.m.

MISSING PERSON FOUND — Township police responded to a call regarding a missing person at a work site Oct. 17. Police said the victim was a security guard that did not check in with the company while working. The guard was found several hours later sleeping in his car by police.

B&E ON PORTIS — Police responded to a report of a breaking and entering Oct. 17 at 8:30 a.m. Police said a residence on Portis was forcibly entered and an undisclosed amount of cash was taken.

OUIL CHARGED — Township police made an operating under the influence of alcohol arrest Oct. 21 at 1:22 a.m. on Sheldon Road, just north of Six Mile.

PUMPKINS DESTROY LAMP POST — A pumpkin caused $200 damage to a lamp post on Winchester around 1 a.m. Oct. 21. Police found fragments of a pumpkin near the post, which suffered glass, light, and masonry damage. Police noted they saw several pumpkins up and down Winchester.

Police departments limit media access to reports of crimes

Police departments have been changing the way they release the details of crimes, prompting new disputes under the state's Freedom of Information law.

Several area departments, including Northville Township, no longer allow visitors to scan police logs — the complete reports of specific incidents.

Reporters are shown a "media book" containing edited reports of selected crimes that lack such details as the names and addresses of arrested crime suspects.

The tug-of-war over police reports is nothing new.

"I can't think of a public agency that wouldn't want to conduct its business away from public scrutiny," said Rebecca Daugherty, who researches national freedom of information issues for the Reporters Committee on Freedom of the Press in Washington D.C.

What is new is that disputes are rising 13 years after the state's Freedom of Information Act appeared to provide a definitive guide for the release of crime records.

In many communities, reporters and other visitors don't gain access to police reports unless they ask for the report by its department code number. Withholding access to police logs, reporters say, prevents them from knowing a report even exists.

Edited reports make reporters "second-class citizens" if unedited originals are issued to attorneys or insurance investigators — two other groups whose members routinely view police records — said veteran reporter Tim Richard. Richard is news service director for Suburban Communications Corp., the parent company of the Northville Record, (Sliger Livingston Publications) and the company's expert on Freedom of Information law.

While all visitors can file Freedom of Information reports on the spot, Richard said, there's no guarantee the request would force police to release the information.

Daugherty said the issue involves readers even more than reporters. "If reporters don't know, the public doesn't know," she said. "And if the public doesn't know, it could be facing dangerous situations it doesn't know exist."

That point was made recently in Livonia, when a group of Clarenceville School District parents demanded police alert the media that a convicted child molester had been detained by police after loitering near a local elementary school.

John Wark, chairman of the Michigan FOI Committee and an investigative reporter at the Detroit News, agreed there is more at stake than reporters' rights.

"How far does it go?" he said.

"What if I'm a family member or the person charged with the crime. Can they deny me access, too?"

Police, however, say they are both abiding by the Freedom of Information Act and protecting public interest in withholding selected details.

Canton Township no longer lists the names of arrested suspects in the reports issued to the media.

"We made some minor changes on the advice of our attorney," Canton Public Safety Director John Santomauro said. "Our policy has always been openness. We believe in the public's right to know."

All reports are issued to reporters, Santomauro said, except for those involved with undercover or highly specialized police operations.

"In the case of an ongoing narcotics investigation, a report will be made, but it won't be released," he said.

In an Aug. 10 letter to Santomauro, township attorney Timothy Cronin wrote "information . . . released in violation to one of the exemptions to the Freedom of Information Act . . . could result in liability to the township."

Cronin declined comment on the letter or whether it represented the general policy of his law firm, Nora, Hemming, Essad & Polaczky. Another of the firm's clients, Northville Township, recently began issuing edited police reports to reporters.

Santomauro said his department revised its policy after meeting with representatives of three area newspapers. Relations between his department and the media have been positive, according to Canton Observer editor Jeff Counts.

The police department in Livonia also changed its policy within the past month, though the department cited the state's Victim's Rights Act, along with the Freedom of Information Act.

"We didn't change it because we had a problem with the Observer," Lt. Michael Murray said. "The paper had access to crime victims addresses and telephone numbers and didn't publish them. But we felt this information shouldn't be available,

Board changes trip policy

By MIKE TYREE

The Northville Public School District is all in favor of allowing educational field trips for its students, but like any good parent, it wants to know where the students are going and what they are going to do.

School policy governing field trips and field experiences was one of two bylaws modified by the Board of Education during their Oct. 9 meeting.

The new policy states that school-sponsored field trips "holding promise of making worthy contributions to the instructional and/or co-curricular programs are permitted within guidelines and procedures established by the administration."

The policy also says that extended stay trips, or excursions to another country will require review and approval by the Board if they are to be considered school-sponsored activities.

The district cracked down on non-school-sponsored field trips, barring solicitation of students for such trips during school hours. Recruitment of students for that type of trip must be conducted after school working hours and must include a disclaimer regarding the Northville Public Schools' non-involvement with the activity.

The disclaimer for non-school-sponsored field trips must also contain a statement disclosing staff members' remuneration or compensation for the activity, including room and board, flight or travel, and financial remuneration of any kind.

With school-sponsored trips, a communication will be mailed to students and parents, according to Board policy, which will include full disclosure of staff members' reimbursement or compensation for the activity, including room and board and other types of financial remuneration.

The new policy outlines accepted methods of transportation as well. The district prefers the use of school busses whenever possible, but does make provisions for commercial transportation, and as a last resort, allows private vehicles to be used. If private transportation is used, the vehicle must be operated by a licensed driver 21 years of age or older. In addition, the number of students transported cannot exceed the seat belts available. Seat belt use by all students is required.

The district's grievance procedure was also reviewed at the meeting. According to Board policy, any person who believes he/she has the basis for grievance must meet on an informal and verbal basis with the coordinator of Title VI (which originated through the Civil Rights Act of 1964 Title IX and was developed through the Education Amendment of 1972 program).

The coordinator would investigate and respond to the complainant within five school days. If the coordinator's response is not acceptable to the complainant, formal procedures may be initiated.

The Title VI/Title IX Coordinator for the Northville Public School District is Assistant Superintendent Dolly McMaster.

If the complaint cannot be settled within the district, the complainant has access to several agencies, including the Civil Rights Commission in Detroit; Program for Educational Opportunity in Ann Arbor; Office for Sex Equity in Education in Lansing; U.S. Department of Education in Cleveland, Ohio, the U.S. Department of Education in Chicago; and the U.S. Department of Education in Washington, D.C.

Henningesen discusses his role as township manager

By MIKE TYREE

Richard Henningesen was recently named Northville township manager. Henningesen had previously been a member of the township Board of Trustees. He was elected as township treasurer in 1976 and served until 1978. He was reelected in 1980 and served until his appointment as manager. Henningesen is a township resident, is married, and has four children. The Record recently interviewed the new manager on his job responsibilities.

RECORD: What do you feel the main responsibilities of this position are? What are the most important aspects of the job?

HENNINGESEN: I think the most important thing, as far as operations go, is the people you have working for you. As in any organization, it's important that you have good people working for you. I think the people here are very good, very knowledgeable, and certainly dedicated. As far as the organization of the group, that's pretty well been established by the resolution of the group that outlined the new township manager's position. It's pretty clear and concise to me. We'll try to follow those guidelines to the best of our abilities.

RECORD: Speaking of employees, can you anticipate any new positions being added in the near future?

HENNINGESEN: Well, right off the top of my head, I can't think of any that are under the normal basis of operation. You have the sewer and water, the police, the fire department, and the planning and building officials, along with the deputy clerk and the treasurer's position. Those things are in some nature statutory positions . . . so you must have those people in place. I do believe that as a result of the pending gift (71.83 acres given to the township) we received from Mrs. Haller, to follow the guidelines she's laid down for us as the donor, I think we'll need to address a few things in that way. I can picture that we'll look for donations, we'll look for grants, we'll of course study the plan as to the cost of putting the plan in operation, meaning some type of millage/bonding to get the project off and running on a financially sound basis.

RECORD: You're thinking of adding someone full-time that can investigate the best ways to fund the project?

HENNINGESEN: Some of the groundwork may need a professional grant writer, someone that has the expertise . . . I don't want to myself re-invent the wheel on development. That's not to say there (aren't) several people here in the township that might be able to write very good grants. I would like to look at their expertise and also the expertise of someone who might have more impact at the federal and state levels.

Record/CHRIS BOYD

RECORD: How are you going to sell the Haller gift idea to the people of the city and the township?

HENNINGESEN: First off, we've had discussions with the city, Steve Walters (city manager), and the mayor (Christopher Johnson), and through them the city council, and from everything I've heard, it sounds very positive. They are certainly willing to support us, and for that, I think it's a great big plus. Over the years, things have been built up, and maybe in some instances we've had bad vibes, but I hope this thing is just as positive as we can make it. The community needs a new library, and I think this is one of the best opportunities we've ever had to get a Class A library in this community. I use that word community to include the city and the township of Northville. I think that's paramount. We cannot let this project fail. I think the people, the committees that will be formed to resolve any difficulties and set up the goals of the project, will be extremely important.

I have met with Steve Walters and he is extremely enthusiastic about the whole project. With that, I hope that all the city residents and the township residents are as enthusiastic, and that we get the proper bonding/millage to cover the expenditures.

RECORD: You mentioned bonds, donations, and millage. Is there a strategy present now to fund the plan? When would you try to get a vote from the residents on the project?

HENNINGESEN: We've had our first meeting, and I guess I'm not exactly at liberty to say for certain when we'll have that vote. It'll come between April and August.

We have put together a program that ends in April and one that also goes to August. We'll be able to pick on those dates to bring forth a library building design and some renderings for the people to see. In the first meeting that we had, it was set that we'd get the first two steps in the design development done . . .

RECORD: You're trying to get a vision across?

HENNINGESEN: Yes. We're trying to get a vision of what it might look like and a design that would look compatible to the area and to what Mrs. Haller would like. She gave us the West Bloomfield library plan. We've got to look at that and see how it would sit on that property.

RECORD: When might you be able to release a conceptual drawing of a library to the public?

HENNINGESEN: I'm hoping that this would be done by the first week of April.

RECORD: The shovels have to be in the ground for the library in two years. What about the recreation fields?

HENNINGESEN: I think some of the recreation fields may have some re-designing to do. I understand they

"I don't profess to know everything about a building official's job, or a planning commissioner's job, or the deputy clerk's job. I count on their expertise, their learned backgrounds, their experience and education, both on the job and through formal education, to take charge of their sections . . ."

— Richard Henningesen, Northville Township Manager

like to have fields running north and south to keep the sun out of the kids' eyes. The opportunity to have the city take part in this by passing the upcoming millage (Nov. 7) would certainly aid the development of the community park.

RECORD: When the township passed their recreation millage, it wasn't stipulated exactly where the fields would be, although the insinuation was that the site would be on Beck road. Do you have any problem transferring the recreation site to Six Mile and Sheldon?

HENNINGESEN: No, because it's a community park.

RECORD: Does it go back to the idea that it's the best site available?

HENNINGESEN: Yes, I think that's basically what it is. There are a number of people who have indicated to me that they have a hard time sending their kids to a site that's right behind the prison. I can appreciate their problem and their beliefs. That's not to say we can't put adults, or young adults, in that area.

RECORD: What are your views on development and what type of development is most desirable for this area?

HENNINGESEN: As you are aware, we've had monstrous development going on in the past three years . . . It goes without saying, if you want to come to my community, and follow the laws and rules, you'll be able to develop that property. Myself, and I think a lot of residents support this idea, I moved out here to live in the country. I'm not too certain that we can live under that assumption any more. A lot of people have found where Northville is, and they're going to move out here. We've got to be prepared and handle that influx, restrict where we must restrict, develop where we must develop, and control where we must control.

We have the proper people to monitor those particular activities. The building department and planning commission do good jobs. I like single family homes, but right now the developers are pushing condominiums, and the School Board would like us to establish some more industry and research and development areas.

RECORD: Since the township is developing so rapidly, and with so many people in important part-time positions, is there anything you are able to do to push for more of a full-time staff?

HENNINGESEN: I don't believe I can . . . I haven't given it enough long-term thought, but Mr. DeLand (Charles DeLand, planning commission chairman) and the Supervisor (Georgina Goss) both work part-time at their particular positions and are well aware of the importance of having enough hours in the day to fulfill their assignments. The Supervisor is on the job a lot more than part-time, in my opinion, and probably would need to become a full-time Supervisor.

RECORD: You think the Supervisor could well become full-time in the near future?

HENNINGESEN: It's possible, but then again, it depends on what Mrs. Goss wants to put off on the township

"At first I didn't want to talk about our funerals. But, now I'm glad we did."

We chose Forethought<sup>SM</sup>

funeral planning It's one of those things that's so easy to put off, put out of your mind. And I guess that's what I was doing. But, once he started asking me questions about how I wanted my funeral to be, I realized how important it is for the people we leave behind to know these things. He had no idea that I wanted a simple eulogy, and just that discussion alone started us on all sorts of other topics. I found out he doesn't like organ music. We even had a few laughs.

Forethought is funeral planning... before the need arises

I thought planning our funerals together would be a terribly sad thing. But, actually, it brought us both a great sense of relief. Now we know neither one of us has all those decisions facing us in the future and we won't have to second-guess whether we did the right thing...did what the other one would have wanted. It's all planned and even paid for with the Forethought life insurance policy designed and approved specifically for Forethought funeral planning. And, there's a policy available to anyone up to age 100. There's a real peace of mind that comes with having it taken care of ahead of time with Forethought. © 1988 Forethought, Policy Series A2 & A3

Scott Correctional lauded

By MIKE TYREE

The Scott Correctional Facility in Northville Township recently received national accreditation as a result of an audit performed by the Commission on Accreditation for Corrections.

According to Lance Schuhmacher, information director at the prison, Scott earned the accreditation for successfully meeting 100 per cent of mandatory standards and 98.8 per cent of non-mandatory standards in a testing of 457 separate issues.

Topics examined during the three-day audit included fiscal management, personnel management practices, record keeping, security and control, sanitation and hygiene, medical and health care services, inmate rights, and prisoner programming.

Schuhmacher said the facility is one of only "six or seven" prisons in Michigan to gain accreditation, and the designation places Scott among the elite prisons nationwide.

"It (accreditation) shows that you're a well-run institution," he said. "We try to get the systems in place to get to this higher level of standards. This facility was built for accreditation."

Schuhmacher said the 528-bed facility presently houses a population of 509 inmates, and is staffed by 267 guards, administrators, and other support personnel. He said three levels of inmates reside at Scott, including prisoners in close, medium, and minimum security.

Warden Lloyd May said the auditors "inspected all aspects of the operation." He said the accreditation serves several purposes.

"It means we've taken the opportunity to compare our operation against nationally recognized standards," he said. "We're compared quite favorably with national standards."

May said the facility made a voluntary application to be audited, and said the process will be repeated every three years to ensure that the prison maintains its high standards.

He said one of the non-mandatory standards the prison did not meet — holding its inmate population under 500 — would be appealed.

"We're not ever going to meet that standard because we're a 528-bed facility," he said. "But we're not faced with overcrowding. We'll never exceed that figure."

May said the focus throughout the corrections department was on accreditation, and he said much could be gained by comparing facilities.

"It's an excellent management tool for setting some standards," he said. "It allows us to make some hard and fast comparisons to other institutions."

manager. I'm kind of learning a new trade here on this side of the office. I will not be a policy maker — that I have been for the last 12 years, so there will be some things that I will call on her to do, that will be necessary for her to handle and I will follow up with the nitty-gritties, the letter writing, the contacts.

RECORD: How would you characterize your managerial style? You are stepping into a new position. What are some of the things you can use from your past?

HENNINGSSEN: I don't profess to know everything about a building official's job, or a planning commissioner's job, or the deputy clerk's job. I count on their expertise, their learned backgrounds, their experience and education, both on the job and through formal education, to take charge of their sections, and to administer their duties and responsibilities ... with some oversight from this office.

RECORD: What might you have learned by watching the past township managers? Are there things you might do differently, or do the same?

HENNINGSSEN: Having seen all three of them, I think they all had some good skills. They were educated basically the same, and in that area I may be lacking. But I think one of the strongest suits you can have is administrative skills and having people contacts. I know all the staff. I'm sure they know me by now, and I think cooperation and working together will make my job a lot easier. I think I've got the administrative background. I've run departments with as few as three people, and departments with as many as 65 at one time.

The idea is that you can't cover all the jobs by yourself. You have to depend on the people who you place in command to do specific tasks and let them carry out their responsibilities.

RECORD: How do you fit in with the structure of the township now?

HENNINGSSEN: According to the guidelines set up by the manager, committee, the township manager falls in under the Supervisor.

County land sale delayed by environmental impact study

Duggan said the two development firms still in contention for the site, Oakland County residential developers Holtzman & Silverman, and a team headed by Plymouth developer R A DeMattia, chipped in about $15,000 apiece to hire a private contractor to conduct the environmental study. He said the study is being done now, and will continue for another two-three weeks.

He said the general public should not be concerned with the impact study.

"There's no issue of health risk," he said. "There's no reason that they'll have any problems at all."

Duggan said both developers decided to take part in the study because they did not want to be saddled with a higher than expected clean-up bill after the purchase of the land had been completed. He said the bidders do not expect the site to require a large scale cleaning.

"If this study confirms what their consultants believe, both bids can be expected to go up sizably," he said.

Duggan said one developer was recently cut from the bidding field. Woodlands Development Partnership dropped out of contention for the land due to a low bid, he said.

"It was way out of their league," he said.

The remaining bidders have each submitted mixed land use proposals for the site. Regardless of the county's final decision on the purchaser, he said, the land is expected to house condominiums, single family housing, a large golf course, and light industry.

After a finalist has been selected for the site, the name will be passed along to Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara, who will forward the recommendation.

1989 Northville City Council Election

The Candidates' VIEWS

Q: Does Northville have a good ratio of commercial to residential development? If not, how would you change it?

Mayor Chris Johnson is running unopposed for re-election. Three candidates are vying for two four-year terms on the Northville City Council. The election is Tuesday, Nov. 7

Christopher Johnson - mayor

When examined in terms of land use, the answer is yes. When examined in terms of an SEV (State Equalized Value) ratio, the answer is no.

It appears that the commercial area of the city has not been developed to its full potential. That task is one of the issues being examined by the Downtown Development Authority in Planning Phase II. The city, in partnership with private developers, has a unique opportunity to expand the tax base within existing zoning regulations. This development does not require the removal of residential neighborhoods near the downtown.

A good example of this is the MainCentre development. This property required creative solutions to downtown parking problems. By working with developers, the city was able to do a quality development in the heart of downtown. The new proposal for the Main Street site at the old Phil's 76 location and the Cady Street Study are two more examples of how the city can increase the tax base without rezoning.

A final point is the accuracy of assessments in the commercial areas. While both counties have kept up on residential assessments, it appears that Wayne County has not significantly evaluated commercial assessments in light of recent land sales downtown. The council has directed the administration to review this issue before the next assessment.

G. Dewey Gardner - council

Commercial project. Within two or three years upon completion of the proposed commercial project the ratio will be good. My concern is with the retail mix. I hope with the additional retail coming into the downtown that the district will offer a wider variety and selection in merchandise. This is a weak area now and I trust the new merchants will be astute in their merchandising.

This is part two in a series of three questions presented to each candidate for city office by The Northville Record. Each candidate's prepared response is printed above. The other questions will appear in future issues of The Record.

Kevin Hartshorne - council

The newer residents to the area might not realize that where the MAGS building now stands stood a square block of residential homes. Some were moved, the rest were demolished to make room for the building and parking needs generated by its arrival.

Cady Street was at one time a residential street. Its demise happened so slowly it was almost unnoticeable. The unfortunate truth is that development, especially residential being replaced by commercial, has been going on for some time.

Since there are no longer any large tracts of land to develop, the redevelopment of Northville is an unescapable reality. The question becomes what kind of projects will occur.

Commercial property has one big advantage. It produces no children to educate, only tax dollars. This is not to say I do not like children. I only make this argument for the following reason. With the average cost to educate one student for one year at $5,000 and the average number of children at 2.2 per household, it follows that unless the school portion of that home exceeds $10,400, each new home will add to the deficit.

Good examples of the kind of structures that should be built are the Longs' currently planned office commercial structure and the Credit Union on Main St. Both properties will increase the city tax base without additional strain on the school system and its taxpayers.

Jerome Mittman - council

I believe Northville has a relatively good mix of commercial and residential development. While additional commercial and light industrial development would help improve the tax base (and hopefully reduce the burden on the residential community), there is little opportunity for expansion outside the downtown area due to the lack of undeveloped land. The downtown area offers opportunities for improvements within its existing boundaries and possibly through limited expansion in the future.

The city has been very successful in attracting quality residential and commercial developments in recent years (e.g. MainCentre, Pheasant Hills, Abbey Knoll, St. Lawrence Estates, Community Credit Union, and a number of new downtown stores). These efforts should be continued.

Enrollment data shows rise in students at elementary level

Northville schools lost 1,216 students in those 10 years.

The district also released its 1989-90 staffing figures, which showed a total of 209.7 teachers employed in Northville, an increase of 14.85 over 1988-89. The instructional increase was due primarily to the upswing in student population in the elementary and middle school levels, and the opening of Moraine School.

Part-time teachers are designated by a percentage figure.

At the elementary level, 6.5 teachers were added. Also placed on elementary staffs were a learning consultant, a librarian, and a special education teacher at Moraine School.

Six classroom teachers were added to the staff at Meads Mill because of increased enrollment and program improvements.

Again, Northville High School saw the only statistical loss, dropping .5 teacher for 1989-90.

The school district reported that their average class size goals had been met for the present school year. Standards accepted by the school district include 25 students per kindergarten class, 28 per elementary class, and 29 for all the secondary grades.

1989-90 figures show the average kindergarten class size to be 24.46 students, elementary 26.05, middle school 27.74, and high school 26.68.

ed expansion." Among the quality developments Mittman mentioned were the Quail Ridge and Abbey Knoll subdivisions.

"The one thing I take pride in is that we listened to the community," he said. "Because when we hear at our meetings what the community is saying, we take heed to that, and are responsive to that."

Mittman credited his 25 years in management and engineering positions in the Ford Motor Company with giving him experience in public relations and budget control. Of the latter, he said, "that's one thing I think we need more of sometimes in the city."

Mittman mentioned lowering the city's high property tax burden, retaining the city's small-town atmosphere, and guiding downtown development, as issues he would like to address during his next term.

G. Dewey Gardner, a Northville native and a former 10-year member of the city council, described the changes he witnessed while growing up in the city, including the demise of the opera house, the replacement of the city's wooden sidewalks, and the passing of the county fair.

Mayor Johnson, running unopposed for a second term, discussed the platform he ran on two years ago, and said that his present aims were an extension of his original goals. One of his major goals was and is increased communication between various city groups, and between city officials and the public, he said.

Johnson mentioned his support of joint meetings between the City Council, Planning Commission, Historic District Commission and Downtown Development Authority (DDA) have led to a review of the master plan, adoption of amendments to the zoning ordinance, and a new sign ordinance. Johnson also mentioned his involvement with the MainCentre project as an example of his promotion of positive growth downtown.

When asked what development in communities around the city meant to the city, the candidates all agreed that what happened outside Northville had a major impact on the city. They also agreed on the need for greater communication between the city and township, and with the city of Novi.

Johnson said the donation of the 71-acre Haller property — at the corner of Sheldon and Six Mile roads — would likely have a strong impact on the city. He said that contacts he had made with both township and Novi city officials would help him better communicate with the surrounding communities.

Gardner mentioned the increased traffic that development would bring, as a problem faced by the city. Mittman emphasized the positive aspects of increased development, saying they represented potential business for the city. He suggested yearly meetings between the City Council and Planning Commission and the township's Board of Trustees.

When asked about ways to increase the city's tax base, and the desirability of such an increase, the candidates had different views.

Gardner noted that most of the city was developed, except for limited areas in the downtown area. "We have to be concerned with the lost tax base that we have," he said, "especially from the Ford Valve Plant." He said that the city should look into retrieving that lost tax base.

"You can work with the existing areas, too," Mittman said. Increasing the desirability of living in the city, he said, would increase property values and the tax base. Development of the downtown area should be undertaken only with great caution, he said, to assure quality development.

Hartshorne cautioned against development for development's sake. "Right now," he said, "we are still paying for the developments that occurred in 1978, during Main Street '78." Hartshorne cited the figure of $185,000 as the amount the city paid this year on the bond issue for the improvements that occurred back then. "If we don't watch ourselves," he said, "we are going to wind up paying for development well into the next century."

"We shouldn't burden the residents with paying for improvements in the city," Hartshorne later said.

Johnson said that it was desirable to increase the tax base through downtown development — to decrease the tax burden on the rest of the city's residents. According to Johnson, city officials were investigating charges that assessments in the downtown area were too low in relation to residential assessments. "The city council is taking a long, hard look at that right now," he said.

Opinions also differed on the feasibility of a 44,000-square-foot community library on the Haller property. "It's obviously a very desirable gift," Mittman said. "The location, while not in downtown Northville as we had anticipated, would still be in the center of the Northville community."

Mittman did admit that the project would represent a "very big investment."

Hartshorne suggested selling the land on Beck Road to help finance development at the Haller site. That idea was rejected by council members who pointed out that the land was deeded to the city on the condition that it be developed as a community park.

Hartshorne also recommended reviewing the joint agreement with the township, before any such project was undertaken. "I'm not sure that the ratio that exists today, as far as the split cost between the city and the township, is really fair," he said.

Johnson said that discussion of development of the project was still in the preliminary stage, and that the questions raised by the other candidates still had to be asked.

There was a similar split between the candidates on the issue of the park millage defeated by city voters last year. The millage is on the ballot again this November. "I think it should be voted down at this time," Hartshorne said, "because of the development of the recreation site, and the whole idea of the joint

Providence Hospital wants to give you some tips to be sure you have a safe and happy Halloween:

- Young children should be accompanied by a parent or responsible adult.
- Older children not accompanied by parents or adults should travel with friends.
- Stay in your neighborhood and go only to the homes of family or friends.
- Go only to homes that are well-lit.
- Do not go inside a home or building to accept treats.
- Do not eat any treats until your parents examine them. Throw away any treats with wrappers that look like they've been opened, tampered with or punctured.
- Have a parent or other adult cut all fruit and candy into sections before eating.

Frost on the pumpkins?

Actually it was a whole lot more than just frost on the pumpkins and corn at the Farmers' Market last Thursday. The farmers, and shoppers, woke up to snow on the ground, which continued to fall for much of the day: In true Michigan style the weather has gone from snow shoes — to shorts, yet again.

Groups aid quake victims

The American Red Cross is seeking blood donations and the Salvation Army is seeking monetary aid for victims of the San Francisco Bay earthquake.

Red Cross executive director A. William Shafer cautioned against "unsolicited and inappropriate donations" of goods from a well-meaning public. They actually slowed down relief efforts after the recent east coast hurricane, he said.

Most southeastern Michigan Red Cross blood donor centers are open weekdays from 2-8 p.m. Donors may make appointments at any of them by calling (313) 494-2860.

Area blood centers are:

- Ann Arbor: 2725 Packard, near Eisenhower Road.
- Bloomfield Township: 2388 Franklin Road at the corner of Square Lake Road, east of Telegraph.

• Livonia: 29691 Six Mile, west of Middlebelt in the Bell Creek Plaza.

Dearborn: 25001 Michigan, between Telegraph and Gully.

Dr. Shafer said the regional chapter had sent more than 250 pints of blood in hurricane relief and that its supply is sufficient to help in California. Persons who have not donated in the last eight weeks are eligible.

Salvation Army crews were on the earthquake scene within an hour of the Oct. 17 disaster, said Lt. Col. Clarence Harvey, commander of the eastern Michigan division.

Contributions may be sent to: The Salvation Army, Earthquake Relief Fund, 16130 Northland Drive, Southfield 48075.

New craft store helps animals

The National Society for Animal Protection will be the beneficiary of a grand opening celebration for Ewe, Me & Company, a brand new craft store located at 107 East Main Street in downtown Northville.

Ewe, Me & Company will hold its grand opening celebration this Saturday, Oct. 28. Proceeds from the sale of specific items during the open house will be donated to the Animal Protection Society, according to Marge Cinader, owner of the new store.

The grand opening celebration will feature a visit from Lady, the well-known Afghan hound that almost died from starvation and neglect in Detroit several years ago. Lady was later adopted by Cinader. The Afghan has been featured on posters for the Michigan Humane Society.

Lady's friend, David Wills, president of the National Society for Animal Protection, will be on hand from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. to meet and welcome customers. Wills cared for Lady in his home for five months while she recuperated.

Artist Kathy Lanza of Petpoint will set up a canvas at the store during the grand opening. She is well-known for her realistic, hand-painted renderings of pets on needlework canvasses. Ewe, Me & Company will donate a portion of the proceeds from each painting sold during the grand opening to the society.

Ewe, Me & Company carries a wide variety of yarns, needlepoint canvasses, knitting and crocheting materials, Amish quilts and gift items.

A driver on the track at Northville Downs, exercising his horse before the evening race

Racetrack renovations

A face-lift for Northville Downs

By STEPHEN KELLMAN

"Lay your money down," a driver shouted as he drove his horse past the people gathered at the railing. "I got it in already," a man in the crowd replied. "You're five to two!"

Such banter is common at the newly-renovated Northville Downs, where a small-town carnival atmosphere persists despite the racetrack's state-of-the-art facility. Many patrons gather at the railing for a race, rather than sitting in one of the 3,000 new seats in the grandstands.

Which is not to say that the recent $15 million renovation has gone unnoticed. Several of the visitors to the track one recent Saturday praised the renovations, comparing the facility favorably to others in the area.

"They cleaned it up real nice," said George Preiss of Canton. "And the racings good, better than Windsor." James Sonnega of Plymouth, a patron of the track for years, agreed.

According to Lou Carlo, director of operations at the Downs, the track's entire grandstand was refurbished during the renovation. "Everything we've done is for creature comfort," he said, and the grandstand area reflects that. The majority of the 3,000 seats — 2,400 of them — are free to patrons. The 400 padded blue seats — located near the finish line — can be had for a dollar apiece, while the 200 "super deluxe" seats in the front rows cost two dollars each.

The deluxe seats, as comfortable as the first-class seats on a 747, offer one other amenity — video. Every four seats there is a small color monitor, providing the lucky few with a bird's eye view of the race in progress, instant replays, and access to other sports channels as well.

"We also have direct feeds from the pari-mutuel wagering," Carlo said. "Without going to the infield board they can see what's going on."

Many of the deluxe seats are sold by the season, Carlo said. "Every seat in this place is new," he added.

Record/STEPHEN KELLMAN

Interior of the Downs' grandstand area, showing monitors in the "super deluxe" seats

The state's racetrack industry is a profitable one, and Northville Downs is no exception. When asked if the track was profitable, Carlo said "You bet it is." With an average attendance of 450,000 yearly, he said, Northville Downs takes in about $75 million every year.

The track is one of six harness-racing tracks in the state.

The state has traditionally taxed race tracks six percent of their "handle," or the total amount of money bet. Local communities then receive 20 percent of that six percent, or 1.2 percent of the total money bet. In 1986, state officials dropped their take to 4.5 percent, to encourage renovations at the tracks. Racetracks are currently allowed to keep about 13 percent of the handle.

The city of Northville typically receives between about $700,000 and $900,000 annually through the state from the racetrack, depending on how large a percentage of the handle state officials decide to return to the local communities in a given year.

According to Carlo, the current renovation is not due to urgings from the state. "The renovation program was part of an agreement between the landlord and the tenant," he said. The property is owned by the Northville Driving Club. "We wanted to bring it into the 20th century," he continued. "It needed to be done."

The results speak for themselves. Carlo said "Ask anyone," he said. "I'll take my chances that they'll tell you it's the nicest racetrack in the state."

So far, the track's grandstand and barn have been the only sections renovated. The clubhouse and dining room, which can seat an additional 1,000 people, are scheduled to be redone next year.

From October through December, the track is operated by officials from the Jackson Harness Raceway, with Northville Downs officials running the facility from January through April. The track is closed from May through September so as not to interfere with the racing season at Hazel Park Racetrack.

Police limit media access

The thrust of the Victim's Rights Act is to protect victims from their attackers.

Police departments and newspapers have been equally jittery over publication of crime suspect names in the wake of a recent lawsuit in which a Battle Creek man successfully sued after he was arrested, but not charged, in a rape case. In his case, though, the man sued the newspaper, and settled out of court with police.

Though the Freedom of Information Act has been hailed as a media victory, it doesn't give reporters or citizens an absolute right to police information.

Police can withhold crime information if it

- Constitutes an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy
- Interferes with law enforcement proceedings
- Deprives a person of the right to a fair trial or impartial administrative adjudication

- Discloses the identity of a confidential source or information issued by a confidential source in the process of a criminal investigation
- Endangers the life or physical safety of law enforcement personnel.

The first provision — dealing with privacy rights — is the key said veteran Detroit News investigative reporter Fred Girard, who like Richard, is a member of Michigan FOI Committee.

"The key is that word unwarranted," Girard said. "There hasn't been a court challenge yet, and there should be."

In an earlier court ruling, called a key one by Girard, police lost the right to restrict information on the grounds their investigation wasn't complete. The case, Evening News Association vs. the City of Troy, involved the shooting death of an alleged crime suspect by police in the Oakland County community.

"What that ruling did was take away their crutch that information couldn't be released just because there was an ongoing investigation," Girard said.

What remains to be seen is whether a new challenge or a new ruling will make it easier or more difficult to obtain police records.

Brian Morris, of the state's commission on the handicapped

Little person stays on top of handicapped concerns

By STEPHEN KELLMAN

Northville's Brian Morris may be short in stature, but he's been filling a tall order for years.

Recently reappointed to a four-year term on the Michigan Commission on Handicapper Concerns, the self-described "little person" has been dealing with the concerns of dwarfs for years, both in the community and at home.

The Commission is an advocacy agency that speaks for the state's estimated 1.5 million handicapped citizens. The group monitors pending legislation, informs the handicapped of services available to them, and works to increase the public's awareness of the battles that the handicapped face.

"We have to wake up the public," Morris said, "particularly the politicians who make the rules, to make sure that the handicapped as a whole are not overlooked."

As the new vice-chairman for the Commission, he is looking forward to continued pressing for the needs of the disabled.

Transportation and employment are the two most important issues which the handicapped face every day, in Morris's opinion. "They both work hand-in-hand," he added, pointing out that if people with disabilities do not have adequate transportation, they often cannot find a job.

According to Morris, 60 percent of the handicapped are unemployed, and many others are underemployed, "employed way below their skill level."

One bill that the Commission is currently advocating would help remedy that situation. The Americans With Disabilities Act would prohibit discrimination against the handicapped in schools and other public buildings, and require buses to be handicapped-accessible.

According to Morris, many of those considered disabled are handicapped more by the public's perception of them and the architectural design of public facilities than by their own physical limitations.

"We've been led to believe that we're handicapped by the way society has treated us," he said. Often, simple solutions like the installation of lifts in transportation and buildings, and the rearrangement of seating in public places, removes those handicaps.

Morris himself, now 45 years old, was the only dwarf in a family of 10 children. "Until I was 19," he recalled, "I had never met another little person in my life." Morris felt that such contact was important. "Until you see yourself in another person," he said, "you don't realize that you're different. And it's best if that happens when you're a child."

Growing up with a handicap often leads to a strong need for security, he said, particularly in employment. Finding employment is often so difficult that the job itself takes on great importance. "What happens with many of us is we stay at our first job, we're so security-oriented," he said. "It's typical of little people, and the handicapped in general."

Such an orientation has both positive and negative aspects. While staying in the same position may lead to being underemployed, working with the same group of people allows those people to look beyond a person's disabilities.

"The first barrier you have to get over is acceptance of yourself as a human being," he said. "My size is only one aspect of me as a human being. That one issue about me happens to stand out."

Morris has been a member of the national organization Little People of America for years. He met his wife, also a little person, through the organization. The group, which was originally formed as a social organization for the country's estimated 40,000 to 60,000 little people, has grown into an advocacy group of sorts itself. The group offers a scholarship fund and adoption agency, as well as a medical advisory board that promotes research into dwarfism.

Though many people consider dwarfism a single disorder, the truth is different. "In fact," Morris said, "they've categorized over 120 different reasons why a person is dwarfed."

Morris has also served on the board of directors for the Westland Convalescent Center since its inception in 1969. A member of the certified public accounting firm of Burnstein, Morris and Brown in Southfield, Morris is a firm believer in the work ethic.

"Just give me and my fellow handicapped the opportunity to achieve," he said, "and we certainly will."

NORTHVILLE CITY COUNCIL MINUTES SYNOPSIS OCTOBER 2, 1989

Mayor Johnson called the regular meeting of the Northville City Council to order in the council room at 8:00 p.m.

1. PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE:

2. ROLL CALL: Present: Folino, Johnson, Mittman Absent: Ayers, out-of-town, Buckland, out-of-town. Also Present: Paul Dawson, Mike Kahn, Cathy Konrad, Glenn Long, James Long, Ted Mapes, Kathleen Otton, Greg Presley, Al Tuomaala, Steve Walters and Steve Kellman

3. APPROVAL OF COUNCIL MEETING MINUTES: The minutes of the regular meeting of September 18, 1989, were approved and placed on file as corrected.

4. CITIZEN COMMENTS: Paul Dawson, 21219 E. Chigwidden, asked Council to review the drainage problem on his vacant corner lot next to his home. The city administration will make an inspection.

5. ADOPTION OF THE AGENDA & APPROVAL OF THE CONSENT AGENDA: Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to approve the agenda as amended and the consent agenda A through L.

6. MAINCENTRE PROJECT: PARKING DECK DESIGN: Mike Kahn, V-pres on Singh Development Co., Ltd., presented the basic concept of two levels of apartments over four levels of parking. A total of 51 residential apartment units of one & two bedrooms was proposed for the large deck creating 572 parking spaces. A small deck was also designed for five levels of parking without apartments creating 485 parking spaces. Al Tuomaala, architect for the project, presented drawings of the two decks. The drawings of the large deck showed building setbacks at different levels with planting areas and a courtyard in the center. The large deck leaves a net of 111 parking spaces to the City, while the small deck would give the City 179 net parking spaces.

Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to schedule a special meeting for October 16, to study the parking deck and Singh Development's apartment concept, and reschedule the regular City Council meeting to October 23, 1989.

7. A TEMPORARY STREET CLOSING: MAIN WEST OF CENTER: Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to temporarily close West Main Street on the south side in front of MainCentre for approximately one week, with Chief Cannon participating in the alternate traffic plan and Singh Development providing the necessary signage.

8. PROPOSAL TO DEVELOP NORTHEAST CORNER OF MAIN & WING: Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to authorize the City Manager to enter into negotiations with Glenn and James Long to develop a specific proposal for the property exchange and parking credit agreement for Council's consideration.

9. SOLID WASTE DISPOSAL: Manager Walters reviewed extending the refuse contract with Mid Western Sanitation for a year on the basis of separating the pick-up cost from the landfill dumping cost. Arbor Hills Landfill's rates were increased 10/1/89. Separating these costs allows evaluation of the volume at the landfill vs recycling costs. The next twelve months will show a reduction in volume by our recycling efforts, especially in the Spring with the requirement of grass separation. CWW's recycling plan is working on hauling cost without a drop off cost.

Mayor Johnson requested the City Manager report at the next regular City Council meeting, 10/23/89, on the landfill cost and work out the details with Mid Western on separating this cost from the next contract. Manager Walters recommended that bids be taken for fencing in the recycling area at the DPW yard, and change the drop off policy at the yard for residents as to what can be dropped off, effective November 1, 1989.

City Council agreed and asked for a diagram of the placement of the recycling area at the DPW yard.

10. SIGN ORDINANCE: CALL PUBLIC HEARING: Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to call a public hearing for Monday, October 23, 1989, at 8:00 p.m. to consider an amendment to Title 4, Chapter 12, the Zoning Ordinance by adding Section 16.17, to regulate signs.

11. HISTORICAL SOCIETY MINUTES: Councilman Folino questioned the Historical Society Minutes of 8/31/89 regarding Steve Ball contacting the City to serve alcohol at the Victorian Ball. Contacts were made by phone from Steve Ball and Laurie Marrs; and the Chamber of Commerce did purchase special event insurance for the festival.

9.B. WATER DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM

IMPROVEMENT BIDS: Moved, supported, CARRIED UNANIMOUSLY, to approve the engineer's report to proceed with bids on the water distribution system improvements.

PROPOSAL A A PROPOSAL TO INCREASE THE SALES/USE TAX FROM 4 CENTS TO 4 1/2 CENTS PER DOLLAR AND CONSTITUTIONALLY DEDICATE FUNDS FOR LOCAL SCHOOLS

- 1. The proposed constitutional amendment would
- 1. Constitutionally dedicate to schools:
  - a. 1/2 cent increase in sales/use tax,
  - b. Current statutory revenue sources, including lottery profits and some cigarette/liquor taxes,
  - c. Increased share of existing sales/use tax (51% to 68%) to substantially replace annual school appropriation
- 2. Distribute dedicated funds to school districts as provided by law
- 3. Activate increased statutory penalty to deny 100% of state funds to schools not adopting core curriculum and improvement plans

SHOULD THIS PROPOSAL BE ADOPTED?

PROPOSAL B

A PROPOSAL TO INCREASE THE SALES/USE TAX FROM 4 CENTS TO 6 CENTS PER DOLLAR, REDUCE SCHOOL PROPERTY TAXES, SET PERMANENT SCHOOL OPERATING MILLAGES NOT SUBJECT TO VOTER RENEWAL, AND CONSTITUTIONALLY DEDICATE FUNDS FOR LOCAL SCHOOLS

- 1. The proposed constitutional amendment would
- 1. Constitutionally dedicate to schools:
  - a. 2 cent increase in sales/use tax
  - b. Current statutory revenue sources, including lottery profits and some cigarette/liquor taxes;
  - c. Increased share of existing sales/use tax (51% to 75%) to substantially replace annual school appropriation
- 2. Reduce property taxes in most school districts. Replace school taxes with permanent statewide millage (9 mills on residential/farm, 14 mills on businesses) plus non-voted local millage not subject to voter rollback. Limit voter-approved increases to 4 mills
- 3. Set per-pupil funding guarantees subject to change by law requiring 2/3 vote
- 4. Activate increases statutory penalty to deny all non-guaranteed state funds to schools not adopting core curriculum and improvement plans

SHOULD THIS PROPOSAL BE ADOPTED?

THE REGULAR CITY ELECTION is for the purpose of electing a mayor and three members of City Council and for voting on the following two proposals to amend the Charter of the City of Novi

CHARTER AMENDMENT PROPOSITION 1

Shall Section 9 1 of the Novi Charter be amended so as to raise the limit on annual, general ad valorem property tax levy for establishing and maintaining parks and recreation purpose from one-half tenth of one percent (1/2 mill) to one-tenth of one percent (1 mill)?

CHARTER AMENDMENT 1 EXPLANATION

The current Charter provides that the annual, general ad valorem property tax levy for establishing and maintaining parks and recreation purposes shall not exceed one-half tenth of one percent (1/2 mill). The proposed Charter amendment will raise that limit to one tenth of one percent (1 mill)

CHARTER AMENDMENT PROPOSITION 2

Shall Section 12 1 of the Novi Charter be amended so as to provide that the City Council shall establish by Ordinance those sales or purchases which must be approved by the City Council, and those sales or purchases which shall require the solicitation of sealed bids?

CHARTER AMENDMENT PROPOSITION 2 EXPLANATION

The current Charter states that City Council must approve sales or purchases in excess of $1,500 00, and that the City Council must approve sales or purchases in excess of $3,000 00 based upon formal sealed bids. The proposed Charter amendment will require such monetary limitations to be established by Ordinance of the City Council.

Absent Voter Ballots are available at the Clerk's Office.

THE POLLS of said election will be open at 7 00 o'clock AM and will remain open until 8 00 o'clock PM of said day of Election. GERALDINE STIPP, CITY CLERK CITY OF NOVI 347-0460

Funding ballots face vote

By MIKE TYREE

Michigan voters will be asked to approve or reject a pair of proposals designed to increase funding of the state's schools on Tuesday, Nov. 7.

Touted by backers as necessary for school finance reform, Proposals A and B seek to reduce the role property tax plays in the funding of public schools, compensating for that loss by raising the state sales/use tax by a half cent and two cents on the dollar respectively.

Both proposals were placed on the ballot by a two-thirds vote of the Michigan House and Senate. Adoption of either proposal would amend Michigan's constitution.

According to the wording of the House joint resolution which placed the proposals on the ballot, if voters approve both measures, the proposal receiving the most votes will take effect.

The ballot wording of Proposal A is as follows: A proposal to increase the sales/use tax from four cents to four and a half cents per dollar and constitutionally dedicate funds for local schools.

The proposed constitutional amendment would constitutionally dedicate to schools: a one-half cent increase in sales/use tax; current statutory revenue sources, including lottery profits and some cigarette/liquor taxes; and increased share of existing sales/use tax (51 per cent to 58 per cent) to substantially replace annual school appropriation.

Also, the amendment would distribute dedicated funds to school districts as provided by law.

Additionally, the adopted proposal would activate increased statutory penalty to deny 100 per cent of state funds to schools not adopting core curriculum and improvement plans.

Ballot wording for Proposal B follows: A proposal to increase the sales/use tax from four cents to six cents per dollar, reduce school property taxes, set permanent school operating millages not subject to voter renewal, and constitutionally dedicate funds for local schools.

The proposed constitutional amendment would constitutionally dedicate to schools a two cent increase in sales/use tax; current statutory revenue sources, including lottery profits and some cigarette/liquor taxes; increased share of existing sales/use tax (51 per cent to 75 per cent) to substantially replace annual school appropriation.

The proposal also aims to reduce property taxes in most school districts, replace school taxes with permanent statewide millage (nine-mills on residential/farm; 14-mills on businesses) plus non-voted local millage not subject to voter rollback, and limit voter approved increases to four-mills.

The plan would also set per-pupil funding guarantees subject to change by law requiring two-thirds vote, and would activate increased statutory penalty to deny all non-guaranteed state funds to schools not adopting core curriculum and improvement plans.

In the Northville School District, the implementation of Proposal A would have little or no effect on school operating millage and property tax reduction. According to information released by the office of 60th District State Representative Willis Bullard, Jr., the operating millage in Northville would stay at the present rate, and the area would witness no tax cut.

Under Proposal B, the school operating millage would be cut by 9-mills, and would result in a 28 per cent property tax reduction. This rate would apply only to residential and agricultural properties. Business properties would pay an additional five mills.

Based on estimates of legislative funding decisions due to be made in 1990, school funding per pupil would amount to $5,351 for school year 1990-91 under Proposal A, and $5,091 in 1990-91 under Proposal B. The school district currently receives $4,795 per pupil.

Based on information presented by the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University, the main features of Proposal B's school funding plans would include dedicating the two-cent on the dollar difference (effective Jan. 1, 1990) in the sales/use tax hike to the schools, and establishing a state revenue per-pupil guarantee for all school districts and a "charter millage" for each district that is a combination of the local "foundation millage" and a state property tax. Local school districts would also have the option of levying up to four additional mills for enrichment purposes.

Proposal B would change the way schools are funded by lessening the reliance on property tax and increasing reliance on state funding. A basic per-pupil guarantee would be implemented, which would be determined by current spending levels in each school district.

Under Proposal A, the half-cent hike would also take effect Jan. 1, 1990, and funds raised would be distributed to local school districts via a revised school aid formula and toward the 1989-90 School Aid Act. All current property tax levels, caps, limitations and requirements would remain the same.

The amendment would constitutionally specify the dedication of the following revenues to the School Aid Fund: 100 per cent of the lottery profits and interest; 60 per cent of the present four per cent sales tax; 100 per cent of the half-cent sales tax increase; and portions of the cigarette and liquor tax.

Effective Oct. 1989, an additional 25 per cent of the non-auto-related sales tax would be dedicated to the School Aid Fund.

Proposal A does not contain any provisions to change reliance on property taxes for educational funding.

School board says no to ballots

Bell said his immediate reaction was to encourage defeat of both proposals, but he feared Governor Blanchard might attempt to recapture the state's FICA contribution to the schools if neither proposal passed.

"I think the state is going to come back and balance funding through recapture, by taking Social Security contributions," he said. "That amounts to one-nineteenth of our budget, which is close to one million dollars."

Bell further called Proposal A damage control, but he harbored no ill toward the Board for their decision.

"I think the board has had plenty of time to study the choices," he said. "They can see that neither of these two proposals comes up with the answer we need for funding education."

"I don't have any problem with the board's position on my recommendation."

Board President Glenna Davis summed up the feelings of most of the Board of Education when she said Michigan has a viable funding format.

"We know it works," she said. "We want to see real results. I want to see kids in Detroit get the same chance (as those in wealthier districts such as Northville)."

Turnbull wins citizen award

A co-chairman of the Decents for the Mill Race, Turnbull is also a member of the school system's Strategic Planning Committee, one of 24 residents selected by Superintendent George Bell to plan for the system's next five years.

Turnbull's roots in the community go back even further. "My dad came to Northville in 1918," he said, "and I was born here in 1919." His father owned the Northville Electric Shop from 1918 to 1963, which was located on Main Street where Del's Shoes is now.

When asked whether he'd seen many changes in his 70 years in town, Turnbull said, "Yes and no. From Baseline Road to Orchard Heights, it hasn't changed at all in the last 50 years. Old Northville is still old Northville."

The township itself was formed in 1827, according to Turnbull. "It's as old as Chicago," he said, "but not quite as big."

Turnbull met his wife Rita in the Northville public schools, and together they raised five children in town. One of their nine grandchildren is now preparing to enter the Northville school system as well.

Turnbull is known throughout the neighborhood as a man with a very green thumb. Over the years he's grown corn, grapes, apples, pears, raspberries, potatoes, asparagus, and tomatoes in his yard, just to name a few. Last year he grew 85 quarts of strawberries. "All the kids in the neighborhood get free pumpkins," he added, making him very popular this time of year.

operating agreement between the city and township needs to be reexamined."

"I'm in favor of that particular proposal," Johnson said, "and I plan on voting for it." He mentioned the loss of Thomson Field and the impending loss of Lapham Field as illustrations of the community's need for recreation land of its own. He called the Haller property "clearly superior to the Beck Road location."

"Generally, I'm opposed to additional millage," Gardner said. "However, this millage has stipulations on it that it's to run for a certain period of time and to achieve a certain goal which I'm in favor of." Mittman agreed that the "safeguards" built into the millage made it a better bill.

"It's essential if we're going to offer quality recreation programs for our entire Northville community," Mittman said.

When asked about the city's sudden interest in building new sidewalks, Johnson said "it didn't come up all of a sudden." He described the policy as an outgrowth of the council's sidewalk repair program, and said that city officials are reevaluating the program as a result of concerns expressed by voters.

Our Opinions

Public hearing should take care of questions

To the outside observer all might look serene and peaceful in Northville these days.

But to those, both in the township and city, who pay attention, there's an awful lot going on right now.

One big thing on the minds of township, city officials and residents alike, is the Haller gift. This was the generous donation of almost 72 acres of land at the northeast corner of Sheldon and Six Mile roads.

It would appear that township and city officials have mutually embraced this donation and have begun the process of working out the details of putting the new community library, and new community park, on the site.

According to our recent interview with newly appointed Township Manager Richard Henningsen, at least one meeting between the township and city has already occurred.

Henningsen said that in discussions with the township board, it was agreed that the first steps in design development for a library on the Haller site would be taken. "In the first meeting that we had, it was set that we'd get the first two steps in the design development done . . .," he said.

Henningsen said that a conceptual drawing may be ready to show the public in April, and that sometime between April and August there is talk of putting a funding proposal for the library on a ballot for the voters to decide.

While it would be looking a gift horse in the mouth not to begin working up possibilities for this magnanimous proposal, we have some concerns about the apparent speed and certainty of the officials' actions.

Obviously members of both the city and township communities would like to maximize the use of this donation. But aren't officials rushing the determinations a bit?

When the Northville Library first established a site search committee public input was sought. Residents from both the township and the city were urged to suggest potential sites. The plan all along was for a public hearing to be held after the sites were narrowed. The selection committee had put off a public hearing until after the Ford Plant study was completed. A hearing has not yet been held.

The Ford Plant study concluded that a portion of the plant would be ideal for such community use as a library. Enter the Haller gift. Now the township has 72 acres of lovely land which also may be ideal for a library, playing fields and other community uses.

Government

It would seem that at this juncture a public hearing is the next logical step in the plan. While conceptual drawings would be wonderful visual additions to such a hearing, waiting for plans to be drawn is not a good idea.

The Ford Plant will likely go up for sale sometime in the very immediate future. Before a decision is made on where a community library is to be placed, the public should have an opportunity to give input. There are so many outstanding questions regarding both of these sites, the Ford Plant and the Haller land, that a public hearing is the only way to clear the air. Township and city officials should be present to avoid the possibility that one team may be saying one thing, and the other something different.

Residents from both the city and the township have several important decisions to make in the coming months. In November voters in the city will be asked to decide on a recreation millage. In early 1990 there may be a millage or bond issue regarding the building of a new library.

For residents to vote intelligently on any of these issues, questions must be answered. Early involvement by citizens in decisions can only help the eventual outcome.

Will the vote in November be for a millage to develop fields on the Haller site? Will the city lose its chance at the Ford Plant if the library is moved to Six Mile Road? Does the area have the funding potential and need for a 44,000 square foot library? What will happen to the Beck Road Community Park site in the future and to the Ford Plant site if the Haller land is developed? A public hearing in the next few weeks could go a long way toward answering these questions and others on the minds of residents.

A dandy game

Neil Geoghegan

As the sports editor for the Novi News and the Northville Record, I receive a lot of questions and comments when the big Novi/Northville football game approaches. And now that the winner receives something tangible — the 'Baseline Jug' — it seems like the importance placed on this clash is magnified even more.

I've been around to see the last four meetings between the two schools in person, and I learned very quickly that this is more than a run-of-the-mill, non-conference game. In the last four games, there has been a little bit of everything — like when Northville took a safety with time running out to preserve a 7-2 defensive struggle in 1985. And what about that goal line stand by the Novi defense the following year? It helped the once-beaten Wildcats hold on to a 12-7 squeaker over a 2-7 Mustang squad that featured All-Star Tony Briningstool, but little else.

The most interesting of them all, however, was last year's big upset. Some people didn't give Northville a chance in the game but I steadfastly assured everyone that the inaugural battle for the 'Baseline Jug' was going to be a dogfight. Unbeaten Novi had secured its third straight KVC title and had already assured itself a spot in the Class A playoffs the week before in an emotional win over South Lyon. The team was primed for a letdown and Wildcat Coach John Osborne knew it.

The Mustangs had struggled through a tough year but had the kind of talent to spring the upset. Despite a 4-5 mark, Northville had a slew of very talented players in '88. Keep in mind that guys like Bob Dudley, Mike Hale, Shawn Starkweather, Mike Karfis, Randy Jones, Sam Khashan and others are now playing collegiate ball. The Mustangs were battle-scarred and hoping to salvage their season against Novi.

The outcome was a 22-18 Mustang win — one that really wasn't all that surprising when you took into consideration the circumstances.

The quest to get first possession of the 'Baseline Jug' seemed to spur Northville on. For the Wildcats, they seemed more concerned with the playoff standings than anything else, and rightfully so.

But all that has changed. Now that Northville has 'The Jug,' Novi wants it, and Osborne has been using it as part of his pre-game motivational speeches — along with the obvious revenge aspect. Unlike a year ago, both teams are focusing on the ceramic jug because it is a symbol for the winning team to parade about for at least a year — and of course there's the bragging rights.

By virtue of their appearance in the semifinals, it only makes sense that Novi was one of the top four Class A teams in Michigan in '88. I'd venture to say that Northville was probably the best 4-5 team in the state. I don't think Novi is quite as powerful as last year's squad — but at 7-1, the 'Cats are obviously a talented team. By the same token, the Mustangs don't have as many pure athletes as they did a year ago, but their schedule has been as tough as anyone's in the state.

Novi has two big advantages: the home field and the revenge factor, and that's why they will probably win it. The 'Cats are also trying to sneak into the playoffs for the third straight year, and that should provide additional motivation. Northville is a proud program that always seems to give Novi fits, and they will battle to the end. A second-straight win over favored Novi would soothe the hurt of yet another losing season.

As John Osborne is fond of saying, 'It should be a dandy.'

After the fact

By Phil Jerome

I don't think he was really thinking when he suggested it. He couldn't have been. I was at the lawnmower repair shop when the head mechanic walked over to express his condolences about the long list of mechanical woes that have plagued my riding lawnmower this summer.

"Been a tough year," he said. "I can't ever remember anyone having as much trouble with their lawnmower as you've had this year."

And that's when he came up with the suggestion that just won't work. "Why don't you make a list of everything that's gone wrong this summer," he said. "Then we can haul your tractor in during the winter and look it over with a magnifying glass."

Nice idea, right? Helpful. Concerned. Only problem is it just won't work.

"You want me to make a list of everything that's wrong with this tractor?" I asked incredulously. "Who's going to interpret it?"

"You guys all going to sit around and laugh when I write about the red thing with the thingamajig near the big black round thing by the left wheel?"

"Who's going to figure out what I mean when I write that the funny-looking spiral gadget near the gas tank seems to be making a 'pocketa-pocketa' sound when I start the engine?"

"And who's going to figure out what I really mean when I write that the silver-colored gizmo by the black hose near the battery keeps coming unhooked and making buzzing sounds?"

"I see the problem," he said. "I think what you're saying is that maybe it's something we're going to have to talk about."

"The way I see it," I replied, "is that talking and pointing are the only hopes I've got."

Zoning board ruling irks resident

To the Editor:
Although it is too late to help our neighborhood, I am writing this letter to warn Northville Township residents about what may happen to them.

Ours is a neighborhood with lot sizes exceeding one acre, and most of the people have left the back portions of their properties in an undeveloped state to encourage the presence of wild life. We have been rewarded this year by frequent visits from deer and heron, as well as numerous smaller species. This is certainly one of the few remaining areas in the township which can boast its own wildlife preserve, thanks to the cooperation of the property owners.

Last Monday, the Northville Township Zoning Board of Appeals granted a variance to a Beck Road resident which will enable him to build a house behind his existing home, impinging upon the undeveloped area. Neighbors are unanimously opposed to further development of this property, and have attended three sessions of the ZBA to express their objections. Monday night, three neighbors were unable to attend because of illness, but wrote a letter to the board so they could be represented. Although their letter was presented to the board before the meeting began, it was conveniently "forgotten" until AFTER the vote had been taken.

This irresponsible action of the ZBA made one resident happy, but diminished the quality of life in the entire neighborhood. We wonder just what the meaning and value of restrictions can be in Northville when it is so easy to have them set aside without any evidence of hardship on the part of the petitioner. We fear that one variance is only the beginning. The door has been opened for further building, and the character of our lovely neighborhood will be destroyed forever.

Paraphrasing Mr. Shakespeare, there is something rotten in Northville Township. Could it be our Zoning Board of Appeals?

Helen I. Schneider

Decison blasted

To the Editor:
It would appear that the presaged computer virus of last week has invaded our local software, specifically that of the Northville Township Zoning Board of Appeals. This would explain the malfunctioning of a viable program which has in the past responded responsibly to the will of the majority rather than the avarice of the few.

The case in point concerns the granting of a variance to a Beck Road property owner to enable the construction of an additional home in back of the existing one. This in spite of the unanimous objection of all neighboring residents. This dubious decision of the board was in direct contrast with that rendered on the same property on each of two previous occasions.

Of additional concern is the "glitch" in the software which allowed a vote of the board prior to the entry in the minutes of the objections of additional neighbors by proxy in absentia.

One can only hope that community awareness of this rapacious virus will result in the development of a vaccine before the remaining vestiges of our WALDEN are no more. Our move to this area of the community was prompted solely by the restrictions which are now so easily altered.

Horst G. Schneider

EDITOR'S NOTE: The variance granted at the ZBA meeting in question allows an 8 foot variance on a 60 foot easement. This variance will make possible a future lot split. The ZBA does not have the authority to grant a lot split (which would be necessary to allow the building of another home on the parcel). Any lot split application would go before the Township Planning Commission.

Yes to wetlands

To the Editor:
The members of the Northville Township Planning Commission are to be commended for their leadership and vision of this community. Two proposed ordinances reported in the Thursday, Oct. 13, Northville Record demonstrate this vision of the preservation of natural beauty in this area.

First, bravo to the planners for considering wetlands ordinances on a local scale. These wetland areas are critical to maintaining our wildlife populations. In addition, wetlands are crucial in preserving the quality of ground water and the health of the people. Second, the planners are to be praised for considering increasing lot sizes in the area. Large lots ensure lower density and greater tranquility.

The desirability of the Northville area is largely the result of its spacious, natural beauty. We do not believe that total development will result in a proportionate increase in the value of the properties in this area. This quiet, uncongested community is desired by many. Ironically, it is these qualities which will lead to expansion in the community. The times have changed and communities now have an ethical responsibility to preserve the environment. It is the responsibility of us all to support the planners in balancing development with preservation.

Thomas and Alice Griebie

Recreation plan

To the Editor:
The Citizens for a Better Northville feel that the purpose of the Northville Community Recreation Department should be to promote and enhance recreational programs for residents of the Northville community, with the funding provided by fees from participants, not from increased taxes on Northville property.

To enhance recreation in the community, we offer the following suggestions:

1. SEEK RECIPROCAL AGREEMENTS WITH RECREATION DEPARTMENTS FROM NOVI, PLYMOUTH AND LIVONIA.

This scheme works simple. Northville residents could sign up for any recreation program in any reciprocal city without non-residence fees. Residents of reciprocal cities could participate in any Northville program without non-residence fees. This would result in increased recreation opportunities for residents of all cities involved, with no added cost.

2. NEGOTIATE FOR USE OF

OTHER FIELDS, FOR USE WHEN NEEDED.

• Northville Public Schools, for use of fields and gyms at their seven facilities.

• Plymouth-Canton Schools, for use of fields at Nancy Tanger School on Five Mile Road in Northville Township.

• Schoolcraft College, for use of fields at the college on Haggerty.

• Wayne County Parks, for use of fields at Northville, Cass Benton, Waterford Bend, and Haggerty Fields, in Edward Hines Park.

• Wayne County, for use of fields along Sheldon Road.

• State of Michigan, for use of fields at Mayberry State Park on Eight Mile Road.

3. SEEK A DEVELOPER FOR A "SOFTBALL CITY" TYPE FACILITY ON THE BECK ROAD PROPERTY.

Private developers have recently built softball facilities in Canton, Milford and Sterling Heights at no cost to the taxpayers. In fact, they are tax contributors. The same could be done in Northville, providing softball programs at no taxpayer's cost.

4. Based on recent developments concerning the possible development of the park, it is encouraging to see that there are definitely ways of providing services to citizens other than through tax levies. If however, the current approach does not yield all the money needed to completely finish the project, there are numerous avenues that can be pursued to fill the void. One very simple approach would be as follows:

An additional $10.00 surcharge on each fee for soccer and baseball for however long is needed to fulfill the shortfall. Based on 1,000 baseball players and 1,500 soccer players (current estimates) this would yield $25,000 a year in added revenue. At this rate it would not take long to fill the financial coffers. Consider that it costs around $30,000 to light an existing field. Also, consider, how much money would now be on hand if this approach had been started 4-5 years ago. When you factor in the amount of time children spend in supervised practice and game play, this is still one of the great bargains around when compared to such endeavors as piano lessons, skating, dancing and so on. An added note of interest is that a well managed, lit field can easily accommodate 630 players. These figures are arrived at by multiplying (3 time slots daily) x (7 days a week) x (2 teams) x (15 players per team). These are conservative figures when compared to private facilities such as Canton Softball City which cycle 1050 through a field weekly.

We would like to congratulate John Anderson and the members of the Recreation Board for their effort in finding an avenue of funding for the park other than through the use of tax dollars. Even if their current endeavor yields a partial shortfall in needed funds, the Recreation Board has shown that they are totally capable of engineering creative funding solutions for the proposed park. Saline, Michigan, a community of only 7,000 residents was able to raise $2.8 million in pledges for their recreation complex. Northville can surely match this accomplishment.

Citizens for a Better Northville strongly encourage a no vote on the upcoming park millage proposal. The defeat of the park millage proposal last November necessitated that the Recreation Board pursue alternate means of financing the project. A no vote this November will insure that the incentive to foster creative solutions will remain the major focus of attention.

Jeff Hampton, spokesman,
Citizens for a Better Northville

Thanks aplenty

To the Editor:
The residents of Beal Town would like to thank Follmer-Stone Associates for their donation of shrubs and evergreens to the VFW park on Verkes. These plantings have beautified this park and also serve as a screen to block the view of the parking lot from neighbors.

We would also like to thank Mr. Steve Walters for his time and help in coordinating this work with the VFW; Don Wortman, City Planning Consultant, for drawing up the plans; and Karen Gallagher also of Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May, for all her time and help with the planting. Thanks to the VFW Post 4012 for allowing this landscape plan to become a reality. Last but not least the biggest thank you to those residents who lent a hand with the planting.

Mrs. Carol Strauch,
Chairperson
Beal Town Residents' Association

Fair a big success

To the Editor:
The Tivoli Fair is the Northville Historical Society's biggest annual fund raiser. It is a time when society members get to work closely with one another, and it has proven to be not only a successful fund raiser but a successful group effort also. The society manages Mill Race Village on Griswold Street, a point of interest listed on various brochures sent out by the City, Township and Chamber of Commerce. The buildings at the Village are a part of the history of this area and need to be maintained. The Society's function has been to restore the buildings; manage the use and upkeep, mostly with volunteer help; and raise money for specialized services to keep the buildings in working order.

Last July, flood waters raced through the Village and damaged several of our furnaces and destroyed the brand new sump pump in the basement of our new saltbox. It is, therefore, very important for us to have such a successful fund raiser as the Tivoli Fair to raise the needed funds.

We wish to thank the various groups and society members who volunteered their time to make the 20th Annual Tivoli Arts and Crafts Fair a success. Northville Driving Club; Mrs. Zayti and her staff - Northville Downs; The Northville Merchants Association; The Northville Chamber of Commerce; Detroit Federal Savings; Boy Scout Troop No. 775 and their leaders; Kay Moilanen, Hostess; Pat Guy, bake sale; Rita Turnbull, Society merchandise; Fran Gazlay and his crew for clean-up; Ron Omar & Wes Henriksen, set-up; Historical Society Directors & Members.

Parents should discuss family history

This is another in a continuing series of columns by Northville Public Schools' Student Assistance Program Coordinator Charlie Stilec.

For those families who are able to communicate with love and understanding, there are major categories of facts that need to be covered in those on-going discussions between parent and child that build the foundation for a meaningful and productive adult life.

1. Facts on family history in terms of biological, medical and health issues. Families who have a history of alcoholism or other drug addiction have children who are at high risk for developing problems with their own use of alcohol and/or drugs.

A major task for families is to communicate the family history of alcohol and drug taking behavior to the children. Many adults do not know their own family history and are reluctant to drag out family skeletons and examine those "unspoken" incidents from the past. Talking helps each other understand and opens a way to heal old wounds.

Some positive ways to help family members open up about family histories could be:

- Look at old family photograph albums etc., and ask about people, settings, events and activities.
- Do a family genealogy or "tree" and document anecdotes, professions, living conditions, socioeconomic levels, nicknames, health conditions and reasons for death.

The most important concepts to convey to your adolescent on family abuse issues are:

A. Family members who have a history of addiction are at high risk to develop those problems themselves. The best choice for them may be to not drink ever!

B. The earlier a person starts drinking, the faster the time it takes to become addicted.

C. If a family member chooses to drink, and starts getting into trouble, they need to know there is help available. This illness is a medical problem and there is medical treatment for it.

2. The facts on the effects of alcohol and other drugs on personal health and growth.

The young person needs to know from his parents or concerned persons that alcohol and other drugs harm the body.

A. The smaller (younger) a person is the more damage alcohol does.

B. The more alcohol that a person drinks, the more damage it does. Four drinks may make a young person drunk, twelve drinks may kill him/her.

Alcohol and Drugs effect:

- Sexual hormones and sexuality
- Mind and brain and behavior
- Cardiovascular system and liver
- Alcohol, other drugs, sex and AIDS are linked.

We will in the forthcoming issues continue to talk about alcohol and drug effects.

In the meantime if readers have a problem or a concern then ask someone for help, a friend, a neighbor or a professional. Waiting only increases the pain for you and the abuser.

About one fourth of all American homes have been afflicted by an alcohol-related family problem. Children of alcoholics have a four time greater risk of developing alcoholism than children of non-alcoholics.

The first drinking experience today usually occurs around age 12. In the 1940-50s it was age 14. It is no longer unusual for 10-12 year olds to have serious alcohol problems. About 36 percent of fourth grade respondents in a 1987 "Weekly Reader" poll reported other kids their age pushed them to drink beer, wine or liquor. About two out of every five people in the U.S. will be in an alcohol-related crash in their lifetimes.

I feel it's important to share these facts. The greatest fact for families to know is that there is help available. Hope is there when there is early intervention. The longer the abuse period the greater the problems and the harder the recovery especially for the young.

If you have concerns or need assistance please call Charlie Stilec at 344-1825, the Community Commission on Drug Abuse 261-3760 or the Adolescent Recovery Center 425-0636 and ask for Jackie or Steve.

Day care Centers seek warmth

By DAVE WASKIN

A burst of laughter here, an infant crying there and a blur of activity elsewhere. Like home, the Little Cottage day care centers in Milford are places filled with the sights and sounds of children growing up. Like home, they are places where the heart is.

"The centers that I have in Milford — The Little Cottage and The Little Cottage Two — focus on the children of working parents first and foremost," said Jane Hudson, who owns the centers with her husband, Dan Cornilia. "So we are open from quarter to seven in the morning until six at night."

"We're licensed by the state of Michigan, the Department of Social Services. We have a director on staff who has the academic credentials (an associate's degree in child development) that qualify her as a director. The other workers here range in age from their early 20s to their 40s. Their education is anywhere from being a high school graduate to having a college degree," Hudson continued.

Hudson also refers parents interested in enrolling their child to parents who already have a child attending one of the centers regularly.

The Little Cottage, located at 311 Mill Street, accepts children from 2½ through 9 or 10 years of age and allows flexibility in scheduling the child's attendance.

Rates are $19 for each full day and $13.50 for each half day.

The Little Cottage Two, located at 848 East Commerce, accepts infants as well as school-age children but requires that all attend the center five days a week in order to provide a more stable environment for the infants present.

The cost of five full days at the center for children 2½ through school age is $78 and $130 for infants up to 2½ years of age.

Both Cottages also accommodate children who attend school at rates lower than the full day prices. Staff members walk the children to and from school each day — all part of making the center a protected and productive environment for children.

"We are here to meet the emotional and developmental needs of the children on an ongoing basis. We try to be a home away from home," said Hudson, on whose shirt sat a cartoon mouse under the caption, "Big Cheese."

Breakfast at the center usually consists of toast, cereal and juice. The lunch menu varies but is always nutritional. "We don't serve Jello, for example," Hudson said.

Although activities differ for children according to their age, a typical day at the center includes storytelling, arts and crafts, a nap after lunch and exercise.

"We go outdoors twice a day, every day. We have a fenced-in play area with a lot of fun things for them. The kids are always supervised. The staff is out there with them."

Both centers are in large houses with big rooms, thick carpet and an atmosphere that seems snatched straight from the best childhood dreams.

Hudson, whose original child care center in Milford opened in the fall of 1977 with nine children and three staff members, including herself, did not have trouble making the business grow.

"There was such a need for child care — and still is — it didn't take long before the two centers employed 16 staff members and have more than 100 children enrolled. The Little Cottages seem to be an important part of their community."

"It's a nice neighborhood and we're able to take care of the children in the neighborhood. We have several families who just live down the street whose children come. So we are a neighborhood center. I think the parents are really happy to have a place like this. Some children stay with us for a long time. We've had children from infancy through school age, continually coming for many years."

Despite the enormous amount of work involved in child care, it is the kids themselves who make the business worthwhile, Hudson confirmed. Memorable moments can come at any time, such as when the staff took the kids on a field trip to see the sights of fall.

"It was just a simple little trip," Jane Hudson smiled. "We put the children on our bus and we drove through Kensington Park and it took us a good half hour through the park to our destination because we were stopping to look at deer."

"The kids were just thrilled. They were so receptive and excited. The deer were close to the road and we could see them. We got out of the bus and took a little walk along the lake and stopped and had a snack — cider and doughnuts. I said to the other staff: 'This is what it's all about.'"

Possessions don't tell whole story

To their neighbors, Bob and Helen appear to be living examples of the "high life."

They own the biggest house on the block, a vacation home in the mountains and a Mercedes Benz to boot. What's more, they've just spent a few weeks vacationing in the South Pacific.

If this description makes you green with envy, take another look. Bob and Helen are up to their ears in mortgages and personal loans. And the credit card bills for that South Pacific vacation may sink them further into debt.

According to the Michigan Association of CPAs, lifestyle is a poor reflection of wealth. If you have only a small mortgage on your house, your car loan is paid off, and you have a solid nest egg of IRAs, savings accounts, and some stocks and bonds, your net worth is probably much more than the free-spending Jones'. In other words, you may not be as rich as Rockefeller, but you may be worth more than you think.

WHAT IS NET WORTH? Simply put, net worth is the difference between what you own and what you owe. What this means is that sometimes the true measure of wealth is not who owns more, but who owes less.

Let's look at an example. Bob and Helen purchased their $200,000 home with a $30,000 down payment and $170,000 mortgage. Thus, the house accounts for only $30,000 of their net worth. On the other hand, Joe and Sara own a $100,000 house and owe just $5,000 more on the mortgage. As a result, their home represents a healthy $95,000 in net worth.

CALCULATING AND EVALUATING YOUR NET WORTH: Of course, net worth cannot be judged solely by one's real estate holdings and mortgage balances.

To calculate your net worth, you have to add the market value of all your assets. In most cases, these will include your home, car, the cash surrender value of life insurance policies, personal property such as jewelry or furs, bank accounts and other types of investments.

If you have IRAs and other retirement plans, be sure to add in the cash value of each account. Pension funds should also be included in your list of assets, but only if they have a present value. If you are not yet vested and the funds have no current measurable worth, you should not view them as assets.

The same is true of any other resource that you will be able to access only if you eventually satisfy a certain requirement, such as working a minimum number of years at one firm or reaching a specified age.

After you determine the total value of your assets, subtract your liabilities, including such items as mortgages, car loans, consumer loans, taxes owed and credit card balances. The figure you obtain is your net worth.

By itself, a net-worth statement is simply a snapshot of your financial standing at one particular point in time. But don't underestimate its importance. Your first net-worth calculation serves as a benchmark against which all future calculations will be measured. By comparing "snapshots" of your finances taken at different times, you will be able to gauge your financial progress — or downfall. In other words, if you are striving to reduce consumer debt and accumulate assets, a semi-annual or annual net-worth calculation will provide you with a vivid and indisputable account of how close, or how far, you are to obtaining your goal.

IMPROVING YOUR FINANCES: Let's assume that you have calculated your net worth and, to your horror, you discover that you actually have a negative net worth. Should you worry? The answer depends on your age and circumstances.

If you have just obtained your first job and your first home, there is nothing unusual or alarming about carrying a student loan or purchasing new furniture with credit cards. Remember, most of us build net worth slowly over the years. As a result, younger individuals tend to have a much lower net worth than older people, who have had time to establish themselves.

If you are young and concerned about your net worth, CPAs recommend that you save at least five percent of your after-tax income. In addition, you should start building an emergency cash fund equivalent to three months of living expenses.

If you are nearing retirement, you had better take a long, hard look at your net worth statement. Make sure that you consider not only the bottom line — how much you are worth — but also the types of assets you hold. In most cases, you should probably begin transferring assets to investments that will generate dividend payments that can supplement your retirement benefits.

For example, if you and your spouse are the only ones living in a four-bedroom house, you may want to sell it and trade down to a smaller, more manageable home. Such a move will enable you to convert the equity in your home into cash for investments.

And if you are age 55 or older, you may be able to turn your home into an income-producing asset without having to pay taxes on the capital gain. As long as you meet the age, use and ownership requirements, you can generally exclude from your taxable income up to $125,000 of the profit you realize from selling your home. Your CPA can provide you with all the details about this valuable once-in-a-lifetime tax break.

Business briefs

HARRY A. CIKANEK of Northville was a recipient of the 1989 Arch T. Colwell Merit Award presented by the Society of Automotive Engineers (SAE). Cikanek is a Ford Motor Co. engineer and a member of the research staff in Dearborn.

Cikanek was recognized as co-author of SAE Paper 880495, "Direct Injection Ignition Assisted Alcohol Engine." The paper was written as a result of completing research investigating the potential of converting diesel-type engines for alternate fuel capability, with one category of fuels being alcohols.

The award is presented annually to authors of papers of outstanding technical or professional merit presented at a meeting of SAE or any of its sections during the calendar year. Papers are judged primarily on their value as new contributions to existing knowledge of automotive engineering.

The award is named in honor of Arch T. Colwell, a past-president of SAE who was recognized as an outstanding engineering industry executive.

Cikanek earned a BSME degree with honors from North Carolina State University and his MSME from the University of Southern California in 1966. He joined Ford Motor Company in 1972 and has participated in research and development of gas turbine engines and internal combustion engines. It is his second Arch T. Colwell award. The first was received in 1984 for work conducted on diesel engine emission controls.

'Making water aesthetically pleasing'

Water softeners produce several different benefits

You've just moved into your first new home and suddenly you notice your clothes are turning yellow instead of white in the weekly wash. What's a new homeowner to do?

How about calling one or more of several "water softening and conditioning" experts in the local area?

These experts will be happy to have a representative come in and test your water to see if iron is the culprit. If it is, the conditioning representative will figure out for you what size water softener you need for your family. The representative's recommendations can put you on the right track to brighter washes and possibly lower electric bills.

If you want to go one step further, you can call your county's health department and receive instructions on how to send them a sample of your water for testing. They will send you back a report of the results and give you an indication of just how hard your water may be.

Maybe your particular problem isn't iron. Have you noticed "floaters" in your water — little flecks of a white sediment? These tend to appear especially in a glass when ice cubes have melted in a drink.

According to Dean Brisbois of Country Water in South Lyon, these particles are probably calcium carbon or limestone.

Whether you have both iron and lime problems or just one or the other, water conditioning by the sodium exchange method (or "softening" as it is popularly known) can take care of several headaches for you.

"Making water aesthetically pleasing (to the senses) is our goal," commented Jerry Schwenk, manager of Culligan Water Conditioning in South Lyon.

Schwenk said the history of water softening (the term "purifying" is a no-no in the industry) goes back to the early days of the Greek Isles when the Greeks discovered that ashes from their fires would help take the hardness out of their wash water.

Both Brisbois and Schwenk explained that "softened" water cannot be referred to as "purified" since the softening process does not remove impurities such as bacteria or elements which might cause disease. Other types of systems are needed for this type of purification.

"The benefits of water softening haven't really changed that much and neither have the techniques used for achieving that purpose changed a great deal," Schwenk added.

Basically, water softeners which work on the sodium exchange method, have one tank containing resin and one tank containing salt. Water for household use flows through the resin which filters and cleans it before it is used.

"The impurities (things like iron and lime) are washed out," Brisbois explained. "The water from the sodium tank goes into the resin tank at pre-set intervals (usually in the early morning hours) so that the resin is always ready to clean water as it is needed."

He and Schwenk said most city water systems already contain an iron filtering system, but many individual wells in the country are the ones requiring softening for iron problems.

However, whether you live in the country or the city, you probably can benefit from "softened" water, the experts say.

Hard water causes rings on bathtubs and soap curds in washing machines and dishpans. Soft water does not.

Less soap usage and more suds are two of the benefits of softened water, according to those who deal in water conditioning. In addition, hot water tanks and household faucets stay in good working order longer when the water is "conditioned" by a softener since they do not experience the lime build-up which occurs with hard water.

Even clothes and towels last longer when washed in softened water. Hard water greatly reduces the life of washables, dims bright colors and makes fabrics feel harsh because it attacks the fibers of the material, Schwenk explained.

"If you have noticed a lot of lint in your automatic washer's lint trap it is because the hard water breaks down the fibers (in materials)," Schwenk added.

Likewise, he said a good water conditioning system will help stop those ugly spots from appearing on glassware washed in a dishwasher.

"People think water softeners are expensive, but if they realized that softening can reduce water-heating costs by approximately 16 percent (if lime deposit inside water heater is one-ninth of an inch) and cut detergent usage from 35-75 percent, they would see the savings about equal the cost of softening," Schwenk said.

"We usually tell customers to cut soap usage by about half," Schwenk added. "Also many of the other cleaners used to remove lime and other deposits can be eliminated with a softener."

Where to put a softener if your home, duplex or apartment is short on space can be a problem. The Culligan system of replacing the resin tank at regular intervals eliminates the need for the salt tank installation in the home.

The resin tank (which is relatively small) is picked up by Culligan service people and exchanged for a newly recharged tank. The used resin tank is then taken back to the Culligan location for recharging. This service is also an advantage to the homeowner who does not want to be concerned with taking care of the softener himself.

Homeowners with enough space and the capability of adding salt to their brine tanks as needed usually opt for purchasing their own systems. Eighty to 100 pounds of salt per month is the amount needed for the average household to keep the system recharged, Schwenk said.

Salt runs from $5 to $8 per bag, depending on weight and type of salt used. The correct kind of salt for the individual softener should be discussed with the vender from whom the softener was purchased.

For many homeowners the water softener is as necessary a part of the household equipment as the hot water heater. The mechanical softener can also add up to worry-free wash days and lower maintenance costs for hot water and the detergent used in washing.

Salt makes the water softener world go 'round

Around the House: Designs for Living

Variety is this home's spice

By James McAlexander

The Socorro offers a number of distinct living environments, while avoiding the redundancy seen in some large homes.

A large tiled entryway overlooks a sunken, vaulted living room with hearth and wood stove. This is the formal introduction to the house.

Behind the living room, and four steps above, is the oak floored dining room. French doors allow a view of the back yard or garden from the room.

The adjacent U-shaped kitchen offers a full range of appliances, a pantry closet and a garden window. Informal meals can be served across an eating bar into the large skylighted family room.

Two identical bedrooms and a semi-private bath comprise a three-room suite off the dining room. This arrangement allows children or guests an unusual amount of privacy. A half-bath off the landing above the pantry serves the rest of the main floor.

A palatial master suite occupies the upper story. Its private bath features a compartmentalized water closet, double vanity and raised tub. Laundry can be sent directly to the utility room on the main floor via a laundry chute in the walk-in closet. Sliding doors open onto a private hanging deck.

Next to the master suite at the top of the stairs is a comfortable study with fireplace and view window. This study and downstairs den offer the entry allow considerable flexibility in work and living space. They can be treated as offices, libraries, hobby centers or auxiliary bedrooms.

The Socorro is a revision of an earlier design called the Emerald II. Its front bay windows in the den and living room present a more dramatic exterior, while retaining the size and major features of the older plan.

For a study plan of the Socorro (207-14), send $5 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307 CN, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name and number when ordering.)

Stretching space in tiny dining area

By Rose Bennett Gilbert

Q: My kitchen is so small there's not even room for an eat-on counter. The only remotely possible place is on the enclosed porch next to the kitchen, but the washer and dryer already live there.

A: Any ideas on how I could make it work?—Cramped in California

A: Do what you can to dispel the businesslike attitude most laundry rooms assume. Color and fabrics are your best allies when it comes to making the space look—and feel—appetizing.

Study the room we show here; it offers a number of charming ideas on dining in a tiny space.

First, there is almost no furniture beyond the requisite table and chairs. The old-fashioned tiered serving stand holds things handy without taking up much floor space; the wall-hung cabinet takes up exactly none.

The table itself is just bite-size; what makes it such a center of attention is its flowing skirt and top cloth, part of an entire wardrobe of covers that coordinate with the wall coverings and window curtains. Also in scale, the dining chairs are comforted by tie-on cushions.

Since everything is made of easy-care fabrics (all from Waverly), it makes great sense to let your laundry and table be "roommates." You can just strip everything down and pop the covers into the washer hidden behind the standing screen (left).

Q: We have a very large living room with dinette attached, all paneled in unfinished redwood paneling. We would like to paint or wallpaper.

A: What must we do to prepare for it? Also, please tell us if it would look wrong.—M.C.

A: Let's answer the second question first. Of course, you can paint the paneling (you'll need a primer, discuss that with your paint dealer—the type you use depends on the kind of paint you buy, latex- or oil-based).

Painted paneling will add interesting texture to your room, since the graining will show through. Which answers the second question: It will look just fine.

Wallpapering also is an option, although you don't really mean "paper." Today's wall coverings are more likely to be made of vinyl, or at least coated with vinyl to make them easier to install and wash.

If the surface of the paneling is highly textured, ask your wall coverings dealer about lining paper. These are inexpensive, plain materials that go under your decorative wall coverings and smooth out all the glitches.

A final hint: Choose a wall covering with an all-over pattern and a surface texture of its own, the better to hide what is underneath.

Q: My 11-year-old son announced at breakfast this morning that he wants to do his room over and do it all in black. Blame it on "Batman," I suppose (he's too young for heavy metal rockers).

A: I don't have to tell you how I hate the idea. But then, I've been trying to reason with myself all day, I'm not going to live there, he is, and if that's what he really wants...

Holy confusion! Would an all-black room be totally depressing?—M.G.

A: Unless your son is a bat, indeed, I'd say yes.

There are two schools of thought when it comes to decorating children's rooms: One says, "Let them express themselves." The other: "Environment is a major influence on growing children; make it warm, comfortable, attractive, colorful."

Welcome to Compromise City,

Sprightly fabric and wallcovering coordinates from Waverly brighten a tiny breakfast area-cum-laundry room wherein so many parents dwell. Don't argue against black. You'll just increase his determination. Let him have enough black to make him feel grown-up. (Don't we grown-ups love black for little dresses and books? He has gotten that message from us, not just Batman.)

Walls glazed black aren't all bad

Window blinds in black can be sophisticated. Even a black throw rug and bedspread aren't the end of the world.

Chances are when he sees it all together, you'll find an opening for small touches of bright color—throw cushions, wall posters and such—to brighten the "blackout."

Besides, he'll probably grow out of it.

How to get fireplace accessories to shine

By Gene Gary

Q: After 11 years of fires in our fireplace, the antique brass around the glass doors has become scratched from logs, but the main mess is on the bottom brass plate where a fire log fell out one time; before I could get to it the brass was scorched.

Please, what can I do to shine or refinish the surface?—L.M.W.

A: The cleaning method will depend on whether your fireplace accessories are lacquered or unlacquered.

First, clean away dirt and grime by washing with sudsy water. If the brass is not lacquered, try rubbing discolored areas with a paste made of hot vinegar and salt (these ingredients together form hydrochloric acid, which dissolves tarnish).

You may have to add enough flour to make the paste thick enough to leave on the stained area for a period of time. Rub the area vigorously with a soft cloth, followed by polishing with lemon oil on a cloth.

You can simplify the procedure by using a good decorative metal cleaner. Check labels for a cleaning product that specifies brass.

If your brass has a lacquered finish, this is a different problem. First remove the lacquer by using a lacquer thinner, amyl acetate or acetone. After one or two treatments, the lacquer will peel off. Then remove the tarnish and polish as directed above.

If this process fails, try a portable buffing machine, which is much like the electrical hand buffer used on automobiles. Buffing paste is applied to the spinning wheel and the stain will be ground off. This is the type of equipment than can be rented at a tool shop.

Halloween feast for you

By Desiree Vives

The startling contrast of orange and black can mean only one thing—Halloween—and for a proper Halloween party, you must decorate with the colors of the day.

Black is the color of witches' hats, bats and spiders, while orange is for pumpkins, the autumnal fruit of jack-o'-lantern faces and creamy, spiky pies.

Other holidays are pretty hearts and flowers for Valentine's Day, rich red bows and green boughs at Christmastime. But for Halloween, you want all the macabre and spooky trappings you can scare up.

Hang orange and black streamers from the ceiling and let black paper bats dangle from strings. Carve eerie grinning faces in round pumpkins and light a glow with small fat candles. Fill a candleabra with orange and black candles and hand black window spiders from wispy webs in the corner. Don't forget a few rubber snakes and skeletons here and there for effect.

For extra fun, have the foods you serve reflect the theme, and go for all the orange and black goodies you can think up. The relish tray might include carrot sticks and rip black olives (and black caviar, if you're a particularly sophisticated ghoul.) Set out pumpkin pie alongside a chocolate mousse, and offer black licorice whips in the candy dish.

If you really want to go all out, try the spectacular Pumpkin-Chestnut Soup-in-the-Shell as a first course at a sit-down Halloween supper. (If you can't find—or afford—expensive porcini mushrooms, sauté 1 cup regular chopped mushrooms with the butter, onion and garlic.) This recipe comes from Patricia Tenneson's "Glorious Vegetables in the Microwave," Contemporary Books, 1987.

(Recipes in this column are tested in 625- to 700-watt microwave ovens.)

Pumpkin-Chestnut Soup-in-the-Shell
1/2 ounce porcini mushrooms
1 cup hot water

2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup diced onion
1 teaspoon minced garlic
2 cups diced fresh pumpkin
1 1/2 cups dried celery
1/2 cup diced carrots
1/2 cup fresh button mushrooms, chopped
1 1/2 tablespoons minced fresh parsley
1/4 teaspoon ground allspice
1/4 teaspoon freshly ground white pepper
2 cups chicken broth
2 cups beef broth
1 (15-ounce) can chestnut puree
1 cup heavy cream
3 tablespoons cognac
Salt to taste

Yields 6 to 8 servings.
Preparation time: 30 to 35 minutes.
Cooking time: 30 to 37 minutes.
Oven setting: HIGH (100 percent power)

Soak porcini mushrooms in hot water in small bowl for at least 15 minutes. Put butter, onion and garlic in 3-quart microwave-safe casserole. Microwave 2 to 3 minutes, until tender. Add pumpkin, celery, carrots, mushrooms, parsley, allspice and pepper. Cover. Microwave 10 to 15 minutes, or until vegetables are tender, stirring every 4 minutes.

Strain mushrooms, reserving soaking liquid to vegetable casserole. Cover and microwave 10 minutes. Stir in chestnut puree. Cover and microwave 5 minutes. Until chestnut puree is incorporated.

Cool slightly. Puree in blender or processor. Stir in porcini mushrooms, cream, cognac and salt to taste. Microwave 3 to 4 minutes to heat through, but do not boil. Serve hot in pumpkin shells.

Note: To make pumpkin serving shells, cut off top of each pumpkin and scoop out seeds and stringy center. A 2-pound pumpkin will hold about 1 1/2 cups of soup. Mini-pumpkins hold about 1/3 cup if you scoop out flesh, leaving a 1/4-inch shell. Replace tops.

Halloween Cake

1 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup light brown sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon pumpkin pie spice
1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup milk or half-and-half
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1/2 cup chocolate chips
1-1/4 cups water
1/4 cup light brown sugar, packed
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
2 teaspoons grated orange rind

Yields 18-inch cake
Preparation time: 15 to 20 minutes
Cooking time: 13 to 18 minutes (plus 1 hour standing time).

Oven setting: HIGH (100 percent power)
In large mixing bowl combine first 7 ingredients. Blend in pumpkin, milk and half-and-half, and vegetable oil, beat until smooth, then fold in nuts and chocolate chips. Spread mixture evenly in 18-inch round microwave-safe baking dish. Set aside.

Measure water into 4-cup glass measure, microwave 5 to 7 minutes, or until water boils. Add all remaining ingredients, stirring to dissolve sugar and melt butter. Pour immediately over pumpkin in baking dish.

Microwave 8 to 11 minutes, rotating dish 1/4 turn every 2 minutes. When done, cake will be set around edges but will still appear damp in center (standing time will complete cooking.) Let stand in baking dish until thoroughly cooled (do not remove from baking dish).

Serve with whipped cream or Chocolate Fudge Sauce and pumpkin ice cream, if desired.

Note: If you don't have "pumpkin pie spice," substitute with 1/4 teaspoon each ground cinnamon, ginger, cloves and allspice.

Chocolate Fudge Sauce

1 (5-ounce) can evaporated milk
1 cup light brown sugar, packed
1/8 teaspoon salt
2 (2-ounce) squares unsweetened baking chocolate
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla

Yields about 1 1/2 cups
Preparation time: 5 to 10 minutes.
Cooking time: 4 to 6 minutes.
Oven setting: HIGH (100 percent power)

In 2-quart microwave-safe casserole combine evaporated milk, brown sugar and salt; stir to blend well. Microwave 4 to 6 minutes, stirring every 2 minutes, until sugar dissolves and mixture boils vigorously. Add chocolate, stirring until completely melted, then blend in remaining ingredients. Serve warm.

The problems of animal abuse just get bigger...and bigger...and bigger.

Studies show animal abuse can lead to human abuse.

On the morning of February 18, 1986, a 40-year old Dearborn man became annoyed at the barking of his sister's 9-year old German Shepherd, Toro. So annoyed, in fact, the man fashioned a spear out of an 8-inch knife taped to a 5-foot length of pipe and stabbed the dog repeatedly until he dropped to the floor. The stabbing was so severe, Toro later had to be destroyed.

But the cruelty didn't end there.

Just 10 months later, the same man approached a 56-year old Dearborn woman outside a local shopping center. Throwing her to the ground, he attempted to gouge her eyes out and choke her. He proceeded to stab a responding Dearborn police officer and had to be shot twice before being apprehended.

Disturbing? Yes.

Coincidental? No.

A recent study by Dr. Alan R. Felthous, M.D. of the University of Texas and Stephen R. Kellert, Ph.D. of Yale University concludes "a pattern of substantial animal abuse may conceivably be associated with a pattern of recurrent violence against people."

Granted, every case of animal abuse doesn't lead to human abuse. But too often, evidence shows that those who commit crimes against another human being have abused an animal in the past.

One such example is a 10-year old Boston youth who took perverse pleasure in trapping puppies and kittens in orange crates and shooting arrows into the box. The young man's name? Albert DeSalvo, later known as "The Boston Strangler."

Unfortunately, such animal abuse is usually unreported or ignored until it escalates.

The problem is that violence inflicted upon an animal, especially at the hands of a child, isn't always considered a problem. It's dismissed as a childish prank or rationalized as an error in judgment.

At the Michigan Humane Society, we do consider it a problem. Because animal abusers all too often grow into human abusers. That's why the MHS, as the only defense against animal abuse, is the first line of defense against human abuse.

That's why we continue to battle for stronger legislation, vigorous prosecution, tougher punishments and mandatory counseling of offenders.

The fact is, normal people don't abuse animals. Such actions are an early sign of deviant behavior. Recognized, it can be corrected. Ignored, it gets worse.

If you want to help prevent animal abuse, support the MHS with a generous contribution. If you're concerned about the increasing violence in our society, support the MHS.

Because if we can allow someone to commit an act of violence against an animal, we shouldn't be surprised when that individual strikes out against another human being.

The hard truth is, left unchecked, the next victim could be your pet, your child or even you.

Yes, I want to help prevent animal abuse.
Yes, I'm concerned about violence in our society.

THE HALLOWEEN SCENE

Haunting events planned

A full moon rises high into the mid-night sky.

Mysterious howling sounds echo throughout the night. Devilish, smiling jack-o-lanterns cast dancing shadows as flickering candles illuminate their carved orange faces.

It's the season for spooking. And the communities of Novi and Northville are celebrating in true Halloween spirit.

Following is a list of activities planned by both cities.

Trick-or-treating: Hours for trick-or-treating in the City of Northville and Northville Township run from 6-8 p.m. In Novi, trick-or-treating starts at 6 p.m. or slightly earlier and concludes at about 8:30 p.m.

Residents of all communities are requested to turn their porch lights on at 6 p.m. and extinguish them no later than 8:30 p.m., or earlier if their supply of treats runs out.

More tricks and treats: Those who prefer to trick-or-treat inside are invited to a "Wizard of Oz" costume contest at Twelve Oaks Mall on Sunday, Oct. 29.

Dubbed the "Calling All Munchkins" contest, the event begins at 1:30 p.m., when entrants should gather at the Lord & Taylor Court. Judging begins at 2 p.m. If interested in entering the contest, register at the Twelve Oaks Information Center.

There will be nine separate costume categories — Munchkin, Wizard of Oz, Wicked Witch of the West, Glinda the Good Witch of the North, Tin Man, Scarecrow, Cowardly Lion, Dorothy and Toto. Each costume will be judged in three age groups: infant-10, 11-17 and over 17.

Entrants can win a $500 shopping spree at the mall or more than two dozen prizes from mall stores.

After the contest, participants are encouraged to stay for the mall's "Spooktacular," featuring the Farmington Community Band, followed by trick-or-treating to all of the mall stores.

Haunted House: Located between Perfumia and Flowers & More at the Novi Town Center, the house features a maze of about four to six rooms.

The haunted house, sponsored by the Novi Jaycees, is open through Halloween night (Oct. 31). Hours are 8-11 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8 p.m. to midnight Friday and Saturday.

Admission prices are $3 adults, $2 children 12 and under. Groups consisting of 10 or more people should contact 348-NOVI for information about group rates and reservations.

Money collected from the haunted

Another Haunted House: Located at West Oaks II Shopping Center, across from Twelve Oaks Mall, the house is near Toys 'R Us.

The house opens at 6 p.m. every day through Oct. 31.

Proceeds benefit Children's Hospital of Detroit.

Design-A-Pumpkin Contest: Sponsored by Lisa Foote, Novi's annual Design-A-Pumpkin Contest takes place Saturday, Oct. 28. Goblins and ghouls of all ages are encouraged to participate.

Winners will be determined by local "celebrities" in the categories of — funniest, scariest and best design.

Refreshments will be available. Other activities include a costume contest and hay rides.

Events begin at 1:30 p.m. at the Novi Civic Center. Cost is $4 for the purchase of a pumpkin.

Participants must be pre-registered. Age divisions are adult/child team: 5 years and under; child only: 6-8, 9-11 and 12 and up.

Halloween Party: Local preschoolers are invited to Novi's annual ghostly Preschool Halloween Party. There will be two parties with a limit of 150 kids at each.

The parties will be held today (Thursday, Oct. 26) and Friday, Oct. 27 at the Novi Civic Center. Party times are 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Activities include games, costume awards and refreshments.

A $1 program fee will be collected at the door.

Evening activities include a magic show, a costume contest (at 7:15 p.m.), candy and refreshments. Hauntings begin at 6 p.m. in the Novi Civic Center.

Kids and parents are invited to stop by any time between 6-8:30 p.m.

The City of Northville Fire Department hosts its annual Halloween Costume Judging Costume Contest on Halloween night (Tuesday, Oct. 31) at the Northville Community Center.

The youngest goblins will be judged first, beginning at 8 p.m. First through third place trophies will be awarded by a panel of judges.

Kids and adults are welcome to attend.

Halloween Party: Preschoolers and their parents are invited to attend a Halloween party on Monday, Oct. 30, at the Northville Community Center from 2:30-3:30 p.m.

Planned activities include refreshments, games and stories. Children and adults are encouraged to wear costumes.

Pre-registration is required. Cost is $3 per student. There is no charge for parents.

Puppet show: MASK Puppet Theater presents "Halloween Mischief," a puppet show, on Saturday, Oct. 28, at 10:30 a.m. at the Northville Community Center.

Following the show, children will have a chance to make a puppet of their own to take home.

Volunteers

Allen volunteers for causes

By DOROTHY NASH

If you let word out that you have time on your hands and would like to volunteer some of it, you are apt to start your telephone ringing.

But before you commit yourself, here are some cautionary words from an experienced volunteer, Betty Allen, who is a Northville native, a housewife, and the mother of a grown daughter. "You have to hold your own line." Do only what and how much suits you.

Her volunteering, she said, started with "knocking on doors for March of Dimes. Then I was a Brownie leader. I was a Room Mother. I joined the Mothers Club; I was president for one term. I got into the Chamber of Commerce. I'm now a past president, and I still attend meetings — breakfast and luncheon — twice a month.

"Four years ago a friend suggested volunteering on the Advisory Board of Women for United Way." It meant, among other things, visiting in the Detroit Metropolitan Area where United Way funds are donated to find out how the money is being used.

And that volunteering lead her into Project Health-O-Rama which is funded and promoted by WXYZ-TV, Channel 7 in Detroit, Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Michigan, and the United Health Organization.

Every spring for four days at various sites Project Health-O-Rama sets up shop and provides mostly free health tests and services for anyone over the age of 18.

"I have been co-chairman of the Livonia Mall site," she said, "and I'll be there next spring, but I'm going to cut down to one day from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m."

"I enjoy volunteering," Allen commented, and she said she does it largely because "I'm grateful for what I have and I want to give something back."

For people who want to get into volunteering, she said, "You can always get active if you want to." Call or write agencies that interest you and offer your help.

Northville gardeners to present annual Greens Mart

By BRENDA DOOLEY

It's that time of year again . . . time to decorate with greenery. The Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association is continuing the tradition of hosting its annual Greens Mart.

Orders for wreaths may be placed through members of the club. Orders may be picked up Nov. 13-14 at Mill Race Village.

Members also will sell wreaths in conjunction with the Northville Street "Open House" — or Christmas Walk — on the Sunday before Thanksgiving, Nov. 19 at the corner of Center and Main streets.

The popular greens sale includes hundreds of wreaths of varying sizes, decorated with large velvet bows and fresh pine cones. Members share the work of creating the wreaths.

In recognition of its Greens Mart, the Northville Branch recently received first place awards from the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association in the category of marketing.

The group was judged in competition with other clubs with 65-99 members and also received first place awards in conservation and ecology.

Local artist wins awards

Artist Linda Banks Ord of Longridge Road in Northville received first place awards in final jurying at the Swords Into Plowshares Gallery for her painting, "Untitled." The juror, artist David Barr, also is a Northville resident.

She also was awarded first place for an oil painting "Dancer Series, 1" at the Prestige Art Show XII, a statewide art exhibition displayed at the Macomb Center for the Performing Arts in Mt. Clemens through Nov. 13.

In addition, she was elected president of the University of Michigan Alumni Society Board of Governors. Her position will enable her to work directly with the school of art, overseeing all alumni activities. Ord will also be responsible for maintaining and developing programs that benefit the school of art and its student body.

Library celebrates 100th birthday

With a little help from its Friends, the Northville Public Library is preparing to celebrate its 100th birthday Nov. 6-20.

Children and adults are invited to participate in a host of special programs in recognition of this event. The library will be decorated with banners and balloons for the occasion.

On Monday, Nov. 6, Northville residents Treva Womble and Robert Williams will perform at the library. Both are members of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Williams is a bassonist, while his wife, Womble, plays the English horn and oboe. Pauline Martin will accompany the couple on keyboard.

The concert begins at 7:45 p.m. at the library and will be followed by a punch and cookie reception.

In other library activities, Friends members are preparing for a used book sale on Saturday, Nov. 4 in the Northville City Council Chambers. Doors will open at 9 a.m. for Friends, 10 a.m. for the public. Volunteers are needed to lend a hand at the sale and prior to the event.

Sorters are now meeting every Wednesday from 1 to 3 p.m. at Cooke School. Residents are welcome to help out. Report to the school office if interested. Cooke School is on Taft Road, just north of Eight Mile Road.

Also, plans are under way for the fourth annual book and author luncheon, scheduled for early spring.

New York City trip set

Residents who have an itch to begin Christmas shopping may want to take part in a "New York Pre-Holiday Shopping Spree," sponsored by Northville Recreation Department.

Trip date is Nov. 28. Cost is $135, which includes round-trip airfare between Detroit and New York, transfers from the airport to Manhattan, a complimentary gift at Macy's and more.

The plane will depart Detroit at 7:30 a.m. on Nov. 28 and arrive in New York at 9 a.m. Travelers can expect to return to Detroit at 11:30 p.m.

Deposits should be made payable to the Northville Community

Recreation Department, 303 W. Main St., Northville, MI 48167.

Pine cone workshop planned

Members of the Northville Branch of the National Woman's Farm and Garden Association will take part in a pine cone and bow workshop on Monday, Nov. 6.

The workshop will be held at Mill Race Village, beginning at noon. Social chairpersons are Trisha Hopkins, Shirley Green, Gerry Kohs, Mary Lou Laruwe, Linda Lestock and Patricia Nolan.

This is also guest day for members of the group.

Members of the group also are asked to call Rosemary Palarchio for Christmas luncheon reservations by Nov. 17.

Woman's Club to meet

Northville Woman's Club members will be treated to a special presentation on Friday, Nov. 3, when Dr. Grover Niergarth of Schoolcraft College will discuss the topic "Your House is For the Birds."

The presentation takes place at Mill Race Village at 1:30 p.m.. This is also guest day for members of the group.

Chairperson of the event is Barbara Jackson.

Thanksgiving lunch planned

This year's Thanksgiving luncheon will take place at the Northville Community Recreation Building on Nov. 8.

Lunch will be served at 12:30 p.m. A $1 donation is requested and will be accepted at the door on the day of the luncheon.

The menu consists of roast turkey, mashed potatoes, gravy, dressing, cranberry sauce, sweet potatoes, vegetables and pie. Reservations must be made by calling the Northville Senior Citizens Center at 349-4140.

Deadline for reservations is 2 p.m. Nov. 3. The luncheon is offered to the first 200 residents of Northville or Northville Township who call in reservations.

The event is sponsored by the Northville Area Senior Citizens Advisory Council. Entertainment will be a sing-a-long by Mr. Richard Caroly.

The Constitution.

For 200 years, through war, the Depression, even civil unrest, the Constitution has influenced every Presidential decision.

It's what the framers of our Constitution wanted. They knew what it was like to live in a country governed by a king. So when our Founding Fathers created the Constitution they wrote Article Two specifically to define the powers of the Presidency.

Single Place sponsors ongoing fall workshop

NORTHVILLE — A special six-week fall workshop entitled "Our Disappointments With God" is presented by Single Place with Bill Greenman and J. Harold Ellens.

The workshop continues through Dec. 2 at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

During the workshop, Greenman and Ellens will explore the following topics:

- Our expectations of God.
- Our expectations of the world.
- Our expectations of ourselves.
- Security versus control.
- Success and sensitivity.
- Trust in relationships compared to cynicism and naivety.
- Why is God so obscure?

□ Relating the problems of pain with our being made in God's image.

Greenman will speak on Oct. 26, Nov. 16, 30 and Dec. 7. Ellens will speak Nov. 2.

The speakers will also explore the book "Joshua — A Parable For Today" by Joseph F. Girzone. Based on readings of the scripture, the book has been called life-changing, engrossing, inspiring and entertaining.

Cost of the workshop is a donation of $20, which includes the book "Joshua," a notebook, speakers, refreshments and child care. For more information and a registration form call the Northville Presbyterian Church at 349-0911.

FOR THE PURPOSE OF ELECTING THE FOLLOWING OFFICERS AND PROPOSAL IN THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE:

MAYOR — 2 year term

NORTHVILLE COMMUNITY PARK MILLAGE PROPOSITION
"Shall the total millage assessed in any one year against all properties in the City of Northville be increased by nine-tenths (9/10) of a mill ($.90 per $1,000 of State Equalized Valuation) for a period of two (2) years (1989-1990 inclusive) to be used for the construction and development of a park to be known as Northville Community Park, which millage shall not be assessed unless the voters in the Charter Township of Northville approve an identical proposition?"

Should this proposal be adopted?
AND THE FOLLOWING TWO STATE PROPOSALS IN THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE AND THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE:

PROPOSAL A
A PROPOSAL TO INCREASE THE SALES/USE TAX FROM 4¢ TO 4½¢ PER DOLLAR AND CONSTITUTIONALLY DEDICATE FUNDS FOR LOCAL SCHOOLS.

The proposed constitutional amendment would:
1) Constitutionally dedicate to schools:
a. ½¢ increase in sales/use tax;
b. Current statutory revenue sources, including lottery profits and some cigarette/liquor taxes;
c. Increased share of existing sales/use tax (51% to 68%) to substantially replace annual school appropriation.
2) Distribute dedicated funds to school districts as provided by law.
3) Activate increased statutory penalty to deny 100% of state funds to schools not adopting core curriculum and improvement plans.
Should this proposal be adopted?

PROPOSAL B
A PROPOSAL TO INCREASE THE SALES/USE TAX FROM 4¢ TO 6¢ PER DOLLAR, REDUCE SCHOOL PROPERTY TAXES, SET PERMANENT SCHOOL OPERATING MILLAGES NOT SUBJECT TO VOTER RENEWAL, AND CONSTITUTIONALLY DEDICATE FUNDS FOR LOCAL SCHOOLS.

The proposed constitutional amendment would:
1) Constitutionally dedicate to schools:
a. 2¢ increase in sales/use tax;
b. Current statutory revenue sources, including lottery profits and some cigarette/liquor taxes;
c. Increased share of existing sales/use tax (51% to 75%) to substantially replace annual school appropriation.
2) Reduce property taxes in most school districts. Replace school taxes with permanent statewide millage (9-mills on residential/farm; 14-mills on businesses) plus non-voted local millage not subject to voter rollback. Limit voter-approved increases to 4-mills.
3) Set per-pupil funding guarantees subject to change by law requiring ½ vote.
4) Activate increased statutory penalty to deny all non-guaranteed state funds to schools not adopting core curriculum and improvement plans.
Should this proposal be adopted?

Northville elementary schools report busy schedules

SILVER SPRINGS ELEMENTARY

Silver Springs Elementary School is off to a great start with 433 students in 16 classrooms. Students and staff enjoyed purchasing "Silver Springs Spirit" T-shirts and sweat-shirts in the blue and white school colors at the open houses. Leslie Bazini coordinated the sale for the PTA.

We were happy to welcome the following new staff to school with flowers: Pamela White — Kindergarten; Debbie Jagusch and Jeff Laurer — Second Grade; Chris Krueztberg — Fourth Grade; Connie Wall — Fifth Grade; Kris Parkison and Joyce Dunkerly — Physical Education; Stephe Ruitter — Wondergarten; and Sandra Wrosch — Teacher Aide.

Our first PTA meeting was held Sept. 19, under the direction of President, Marcia Cromas. The following officers were introduced to the members: Meg Coponen — Vice President; Carolyn DeCoster — Secretary; and Cindy Wagner — Treasurer. The membership chairpersons, Rhonda Rosser and Peggy Quick are hoping for a record membership year. The Holiday Shop committee of Pam Pinkerton, Yvonne Kochoian, and Karen Langdon are busy setting up craft workshops for handmade gifts for the students to purchase in December.

The kindergarten and first grade students of Chris Modrack, Cheryl Rosinski, Pamela White, Pat Collins, Debbie Heist, and Bev McKenzie participated in a bus safety program by the district's transportation department on Sept. 29.

The third graders from Diane Vanston's and Phil Demski's classes extended their study of local history (they participated in the Victorian Festival) by spending a day learning at the Wash Oak School in the Mill Race Historical Village. Tom Rice from the Giftfiddler shared his knowledge of folk instruments with students.

Pamela White's and Cheryl Rosinski's kindergarten students enjoyed a visit to Erwin Orchards. They were able to pick their own apples and pumpkins.

The second grade students of Wendy Kelly, Debbie Jagusch and Jeff Lauer spent Oct. 19, at the University of Michigan Museum of Natural History learning more about dinosaurs.

Marcy Aller, our Librarian — Media Specialist, has been teaching the kindergartners, first graders and second graders about fire safety. The second grade students had the opportunity to hear Northville Township Volunteer Firefighter, Guy Balok, talk about fire safety.

Haunted library

Marcy has been busy organizing reading programs for the students. Students will be able to participate in the World Book Reading Program (Partners In Education) and/or the "Book It" program offered through Pizza Hut.

Who will read the most this year? Marcy has been fortunate to have parent volunteers help her this fall. Mayumi Umemoto has been helping make piggy banks out of milk jugs with the students of each class. Donna Rice's artistic talents are evident in the Media Center. We now have a "Haunted Library" for students to use. It is worth a trip to school to see!

Our Instructional Technology chairperson, Paula Stachura, has been holding training sessions for parents and staff to learn how to use various software programs in the classroom. If you are interested in becoming involved call the school office.

The first J.E.S. assembly sponsored by the PTA was held Oct. 17. The entire school population was able to listen to vocalist Michael King perform.

The first Roller Skating Party for Silver Springs students and their families will be at the Skating Station, on Oct. 29, beginning at 5 p.m. There will be a special treat of a Haunted House. Cathy Cardinal and Debbie Peloso have made arrangements to have face painting taking place also. See you there!

Whew . . . ! The staff, students and volunteers have had a busy two months!

Join us at our next PTA meeting on Nov. 21 at 9:15 a.m. in the music room, everyone is welcome.

— Meg Coponen

WINCHESTER ELEMENTARY

Winchester PTA held their second board meeting on Oct. 4. We are pleased to announce that we received 100 percent membership to date. We would like to thank all those who participated in our gift wrap fund raiser for making it such a great success. Again, thank you for all your support.

On Nov. 15 we will begin our first Junior Enrichment Series. "By George and Everybody Else" is a historical puppet show presented by the Detroit Institute of Arts. It is presented for grades K thru 3. The program presents Ben Franklin, Betsy Ross and George Washington. Parents are welcome to attend the performance. It will be an evening presentation.

All of our committees are busy at work and the chairpersons would like to extend the invitaton for those who would like to volunteer their time. There is always room for more.

Winchesters next PTA meeting will be held on Nov. 1 at 9:30 a.m. in the teacher's faculty room. All are welcome.

— Christy Stroh

AMERMAN ELEMENTARY

Thank you to all residents who voted "YES" on Oct. 5. Passage of this bond will benefit all Northville schools with some of the benefits already apparent.

Profits from our Sally Foster gift wrap fund-raiser have exceeded $9,000. The support received will help PTA do some special things for Amerman. Money from a fund-raiser is channeled back to our students for classroom needs, playground equipment and the Junior Enrichment Series. Your help is much appreciated.

Were you ready for our "fall" roller skating party? Wheels rolled Oct. 24 and 26 as the first roller skating parties took place. Amerman and Moraine schools will be sharing the nights so it's a good chance to see some friends you may miss because of the split.

Room parents have already begun helping teachers plan the Halloween parties that will be held Oct. 31. Roaming our halls you may find a ghost, witch or even a Batman or two — but don't be frightened by those scary masks — one of those creatures could be yours!

Congratulations to the following student council officers: president, Ricki Hugener; vice president, Erin Moore; secretary, Erin Bowdell. A representative from each classroom will serve on the council. First business they tended to was choosing a school mascot — the bobcat.

Parent-teacher conferences are scheduled for the week of Nov. 6. Students will have half days of school Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. Before you head home after your conference be sure to stop in the school lobby and take a look at the Amerman sweatsuits for sale. Orders will be taken and delivery will be in time for Christmas.

"Flap" you calendar forward to Nov. 18 and plan to attend our pancake breakfast. It is being held from 9 to 11 a.m. at a cost of $2.50 per person. While you are enjoying a hot, made-for-you breakfast, the Santa Shop will be open and ready to help Amerman students buy that perfect gift. There will be plenty on hand including some handmade items.

Silent disease

Local doctor discusses osteoporosis

By BRENDA DOOLEY

Ladies, drink your milk
That's the advice offered by Dr. William Conley, a Northville physician who specializes in osteoporosis, a bone dysfunction which he terms the "silent disease."

Conley spoke to members of the Northville Woman's Club on Friday, Oct. 20 about new hopes for treating osteoporosis, a condition that leaves many women over the age of 50 vulnerable to bone fractures.

Called the "silent disease" because it is often without symptoms, osteoporosis — more technically known as Postmenopausal Osteoporosis or PMO — results from loss of bone mass. Older women experience this loss six times more rapidly than men. A woman can lose up to 70 percent of her bone mass in the 20 years following menopause, according to Conley.

"A lot of times women don't know they have the symptoms (of osteoporosis) until they break a bone," he added.

Conley is director of the American Osteoporosis Institute, based in Farmington Hills. He also has been in general practice in Northville for 30 years.

Asked why he has made diagnosing and treating the disease somewhat of a personal crusade, Conley said "because nobody is doing anything about the disease."

Women ages 51-52 who have osteoporosis are commonly treated with estrogen, often in combination with progesterone. However, older women often resist taking estrogen because it causes the reoccurrence of menstruation, Conley said.

As a result, women over 60 can now be treated with calcitonin, a normally-occurring hormone produced in the thyroid. To be effective, the drug must be injected — in the same process insulin is injected — three times per week. Calcitonin can inhibit bone loss and increase bone mass.

— William Conley,
Northville physician

Other drugs that can be used to offset osteoporosis include sodium fluoride and biphosphonate. Both treatments are considered experimental, however, and lack approval from the Food and Drug Administration.

"Calcitonin does have FDA approval," Conley reported.

As a result of new technology and therapy, low bone mass can be diagnosed earlier.

While most people tend to think of bone as a fixed substance, it is actually in a constant state of flux between formation and resorption. Until the age of 35, the result is increase in bone strength. After 35, more bone is removed than formed, resulting in loss of bone mass. Acceleration of this process in women after menopause increases the risk of fractures and the collapse of vertebra that causes loss in height, resulting in "dowager's hump."

Not only is osteoporosis physically painful, it can be emotionally scarring as well.

"People lose their independence, which is another problem of the disease," Conley noted. "So it becomes not just a disease of the individual, but a disease of the family as an older woman must rely more on her relatives."

The disease also is rather expensive, costing about $7 billion annually for treatment of fractures in older women, Conley said. Of women over 65, one-fourth will experience a fracture. Three women in 10 will break a hip and of these, only 50 percent will recover normally.

But there's good news. Early detection is the key to treating the disease — detection made easy by Dual Energy X-Ray Absorptiometry (DEXA), which measures bone mass. With only one-tenth of the radiation of a chest x-ray, the machine scans the body and can predict a patient's risk of fracture.

The procedure involves laying on a table and having an x-ray taken, which takes 15-20 minutes, Conley said. He recommends that all women over the age of 50 take the test.

Conley said he's only had the machine for about a year, a valuable addition to his practice. Prior to using the new procedure, a woman had to lose 30 to 40 percent of bone mass before it was detected by an x-ray. The new machine detects it much sooner, Conley noted.

Younger women should drink a lot of milk and take calcium supplements to prevent osteoporosis later in life, Conley advises. He also suggests moderate exercising, such as walking.

"Young girls should drink milk, too," he said. "Often they don't drink it because their peers don't. Instead they drink pop, which has a lot of phosphorus that is absorbed by the body. Instead, they should be absorbing calcium."

Residents earn military honors

PHILLIP P. DONAHUE, son of Patrick and Deloris Donahue of Woodhill in Northville, has entered the United States Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program.

According to Technical Sergeant Michael Gasparetto, the Air Force recruiter here, Donahue's entry into the program allows the Air Force to schedule an opening for him to attend basic training and be assigned to a job or skill area.

Donahue is a 1989 graduate of Farmington High School and will enter the Regular Air Force on Jan. 29.

Following graduation from the six-week basic training course at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas, he will receive technical training as a

Navy Fireman DAVID S. BUSH, son of Ronald G. and Susan L. Bush of Ladywood in Northville, has completed recruit training at Recruit Training Command in Orlando, Fla.

During Bush's eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic fields.

Bush's studies included seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college

A 1988 graduate of Detroit Catholic Central High School in Redford, he joined the Navy in May 1989.

Army Capt. ELIZABETH ROMANIK has assumed command of the 137th Ordnance Company in West Germany.

Romanik is the daughter of John H. and Carol M. Romanik of Beck Road in Northville.

The captain is a 1980 graduate of Our Lady of Mercy High School in Farmington Hills and a 1984 graduate of Michigan State University.

Watch for characteristics of disease

Women having one or more of the following characteristics are at risk for developing osteoporosis, the "silent disease."

- Age: 50 years and older
- Race: Caucasian or Asian

- Body structure: Thin or petite.
- Family history: Parent or relative is an osteoporosis victim.

- Life cycle: Menopause/postmenopause
- Life style: Cigarette smoker, limited exercise, alcohol user or abuser, inadequate calcium intake, taking cortisone; taking thyroid medication

Tourists can prevent travel illnesses

Checking out ancient ruins, art museums and native markets may be part of your foreign vacation. Checking into a hospital is not.

Yet 25 percent of international tourists suffer travel-related illness, many of which might be prevented with simple common sense precautions, advises Diana Kryszak, manager of AAA Travel Sales and Promotions.

"Preparation is the key to ensuring a healthy, enjoyable vacation," Kryszak said. "Even a toothache or upset stomach can ruin an otherwise perfect trip."

She recommends that while applying for a passport and booking hotels, travelers also should:

- Update immunizations. Many adults were not inoculated properly as children and lack immunity to certain diseases still prevalent abroad. Some vaccines require a series of shots spaced weeks apart. Also, schedule your last shot at least a few days before departure so your body can adjust to the vaccine.

- Have medical, dental and optical examinations well before the trip and carry copies of your records in case you must consult a foreign physician, dentist or optician.

- Get all prescriptions filled and put extra doses in a carry-on bag in case of misplaced luggage. Also take commonly used over-the-counter medications such as aspirins and laxatives, which may be difficult to find outside large cities.

- Pack an extra pair of eyeglasses or contact lenses

- Be wary of what you eat or drink. Diarrhea is a frequent and sometimes severe problem for travelers in certain countries. If in doubt about unfamiliar food, don't eat it. Avoid brushing your teeth with tap water. Drink beverages without ice.

- Pack insect repellent and sunscreen lotion with a 15 sun protection factor.

- Determine if foreign medical expenses are covered by your health insurance.

Ask your AAA Travel Agent about TRIP, the insurance designed for travel-related emergencies.

Northville kids invited to puppet show

The MASK Puppet Theater presents "Halloween Mischief," a puppet show, on Saturday, Oct. 28 at 10:30 a.m. at the Northville Community Center.

Following the show, children will have a chance to make a puppet of their own to take home. Refreshments will be served. The program is recommended for children ages 4 and over. Adults also are welcome.

Tickets are available at the Northville Recreation Department or at the door at $3 per person.

HALLOWEEN EVENTS — Borders Book Shop in Novi presents a "Spooky Saturday Party" on Saturday, Oct. 28 at 3:45 p.m. Magician Doug Scheer will visit to entertain kids with Halloween magic.

On Monday, Oct. 30, Alvin Schwartz, author of "Scary Stories to Tell in the Dark" and "More Scary Stories to Tell in the Dark," will visit the book shop from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Participants are invited to visit the Town Center's Haunted House following Schwartz's visit.

ARTS SERIES — Northville Arts Commission presents a lecture series called "Your Favorite Artists," featuring art historian Michael Farrell. He will share insights on various famous artists, accompanied by slide shows.

tation on Van Gogh and concludes on April 12, 1990 with a presentation on Andrew Wyeth.

All lectures will begin at 7:30 p.m. at Northville City Hall. Following is a list of scheduled presentations.

Van Gogh, Oct. 26; Gauguin, Dec. 7; Raphael, Jan. 18, 1990; Goya, Feb. 8, 1990; John Singer Sargent, March 8, 1990; and Andrew Wyeth, April 12, 1990.

Farrell is professor of art history at the University of Windsor, adjunct curator at the Detroit Institute of Arts and instructor at the Art House of Detroit. Season tickets are available for all six lectures for $30. Individual tickets are $6 each and available at the door on the evening of the lecture.

Tickets are available at Grandma Betty's, Edwards Caterer, Bookstall on the Main, Traditions and IV Seasons. For more information call 349-6104.

FILM SERIES — Novi Arts and Culture Committee welcomes in the fall season by hosting a family film series saluting the dog.

The series is held on the second Friday of every month through May 11, 1990. All films will be shown in the 136-seat council chambers at the Novi Civic Center.

Following is a schedule of films: "The Magic of Lassie" on Nov. 10; "Digby, the World's Biggest Dog" on Dec. 8; "The Courage of Kavic" on Jan. 12; "Big Red" on Feb. 9; "Pluto" cartoons on March 9; "Where the Red Fern Grows" on April 13; and "The Incredible Journey" on May 11.

Westland Jaycees to host haunted house

Westland Jaycees are hosting Halloween fun with a Haunted House on Ford Road, just east of Newburgh, open through Oct. 31.

Hours are Sunday through Thursday from 7 to 11 p.m. and Friday and Saturday from 7 p.m. to midnight.

Guest speakers include Freddy, Frankenstein, Wolfman and assorted other monsters. Psychic readings also are available at the house.

Proceeds from the event will support the group's activities, including Christmas food baskets, children's Christmas shopping tours and Easter egg hunts.

For more information call 722-1630.

ZOO BOO — Detroit Zoo hosts its first annual "Zoo Boo" on Friday, Oct. 27, through Halloween night (Tuesday, Oct. 31). The event runs from 6-9 p.m.

Admission is $1. Tickets may be purchased at the zoo ticket office — they must be purchased in advance.

Activities include treat stations for kids 12 and under, the Wizard Pumpkin of Oz, a pumpkin patch showcasing hundreds of jack-o-lanterns and more.

For more information call 398-0900.

CRAFT SHOW — Madonna College Women's Society sponsors a holiday craft show on Saturday, Nov. 4 and Sunday, Nov. 5 from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the college activities center.

The show will feature different exhibitors each day, with more than 160 in all. Items will include country folk art, woodcraft, jewelry and stained glass. Santa Claus will be on hand to hear holiday wishes.

A luncheon, bake sale and raffle also will be held, with proceeds to be used for the Madonna College Scholarship Fund. Parking is free. Admission is $1.50 per day, children under 12 free. For more information call 591-5126.

Madonna College is at I-96 and Levan Road in Livonia.

Nearby

Santa is expected to visit the upcoming Madonna College arts and crafts fair.

THEATER — Meadow Brook Theater presents "The Boys Next Door," the recent off-Broadway hit by Tom Griffin. The play opens on Nov. 2 and runs through Nov. 26. Showtimes are at 8 p.m.

Tickets are $14-$23. For tickets and more information call 377-3330.

KENSINGTON — Two nature events will be held at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropark near Milford and Brighton.

"Nature Sketching," a program for 8-11 year olds, will teach youngsters who to draw from nature. The session will be held Saturday, Nov. 4 at 1 p.m. "Feeding Birds at Home," a 1½-hour program including a short walk and discussion on feeding birds that spend winter in the area, will be held Sunday, Nov. 5 at 2 p.m. For more information call 1-800-24-PARKS.

DINNER THEATER — Schoolcraft College's fall theater season features Edward J. Moore's romantic drama, "The Sea Horse," and Lucille Fletcher's mystery, "Sorry, Wrong Number."

Four evenings of dinner theater will be offered, on Oct. 27-28, and Nov. 3-4. Dinner is served at 6:30 p.m., followed by the play at 8 p.m. Tickets are $14.50 for all dinner theater shows.

Tickets for the theater only are available for Nov. 10, 11, 12, 17 and 18. The shows begin at 8 p.m., except Nov. 12, which begins at 7 p.m. Tickets are $5.50.

The Northville Record

Improved Rocks crush Northville grididers

Battle for 'Baseline Jug' on tap next

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The second annual battle for the 'Baseline Jug' appears to be a mismatch — but that's what many said a year ago.

When Novi and Northville meet on the gridiron, it's always special. The old saying 'you can throw out the records for this one' certainly applies. Last year's stunning 23-18 upset by the Mustangs provided the only blemish on the Wildcats' regular season record. The two will wrap up the '89 regular season tomorrow (Oct. 27) at 7:30 p.m. in Novi.

The game pits neighbor against neighbor, friend against friend and community against community. In an effort to add to the rivalry, the Novi News and the Northville Record introduced the Baseline Jug prior to the '88 clash. To the winner, possession of the ceramic jug for display, complete with the scores of each game. It's to remain in the winning school's trophy case until the opponent can win it back.

The idea was to create a local traveling trophy, like 'The Old Oaken Bucket' or the 'The Little Brown Jug' — similar traditions from the world of collegiate football.

The game has always been an emotional one, but in the last few years, it has become even more meaningful. Under coach John Osborne, Novi has developed into one of the state's most successful programs over the past four years. The Wildcats have an incredible 34-5 record in that span, and two of those losses have come in the MHSAA Playoff games. Novi — the four-time defending Kensington Valley Conference champion — has entered the regular-season finale with playoff hopes riding in the balance in each of the last four meetings.

Northville, on the other hand, hasn't had a winning season since 1985. A loss tomorrow would give the Mustangs their third 2-7 campaign in the last four years and three losses to Novi in four tries. But Northville plays in the brutal Western Lakes League, and beating their neighbor to the north is always different.

On the surface, all indications point to a blowout — but that probably won't happen. The Mustangs seem to have their best effort of the year for the Wildcats, and it has traditionally been one of the hardest-hitting, most competitive contests each season. A year ago, undefeated Novi entered the game ranked among the top-10

Northville's Steve Bastian (top) scored a touchdown against Salem Friday, but the Mustangs had little else to celebrate

Record/CHRIS BOYD

Class A teams in the state, and were poised for an easy game over 3-5 Northville. What they got was a war.

"We're going to prepare for a war this time," Osborne said. "(Northville) has earned our respect — we have great respect for their league and their players. They play their best game against us and that is of considerable concern."

"It doesn't matter what either team's record is."

By winning the first annual battle for the 'Baseline Jug,' Northville will now have to deal with a Novi team out for revenge. But the Mustangs know another upset victory over the 'Cats would put the finishing touches on an otherwise disappointing season.

"We're going to need our best game to beat (Novi)," Northville Athletic Director Dennis Colligan said. "They are the overwhelming favorites. We surprised them last year and they have that revenge factor on their side."

If the '88 upset did nothing else, it proved to both sides that anything can happen. Novi will approach the game with more caution and more respect for the Mustangs Northville will enter the battle knowing they have a chance — just like they did a year ago.

"I know Novi will be interested in getting 'The Jug' from us," Mustang Coach Darrel Schumacher said. "It's a tangible thing that you can point to if you win it — it adds to the game and the motivation."

"I think (Novi) is coming into the game for revenge, but we play tough competition all year and we're hoping maybe we are a little better than they expect. Novi is still in the running for the playoffs and that should provide them with the incentive. Our incentive is pride."

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Perhaps the best thing about Northville's 35-8 loss to Plymouth Salem last Friday (Oct. 20) is that the Mustangs are now another step closer to ending a frustrating season.

The WLAAC crossover game was a rematch between the two teams. Back on Sept. 9, the Rocks edged Northville 14-0 in a hard-fought defensive struggle. The second time around was anything but.

"It gets to be a long season when you lose like we have been," said Mustang Coach Darrel Schumacher. "It's to the point now where we have to buckle up the helmets, have some pride in ourselves, and play out the rest of the season as hard as we can."

In the six weeks between meetings, the Rocks (7-1 overall) have shown a vast improvement offensively with their high-powered option attack. It appears that Northville, on the other hand, has taken a few steps backward in that span.

"(Salem) is an excellent team," Schumacher pointed out. "And to put it bluntly, we didn't defend the option like we should and I think the blame falls on me. Since we first met, they have improved more than we have."

If it's any consolation, the Mustangs' 1989 schedule has turned out to be one of the toughest, most brutal, in the entire state. Five of the team's six defeats have been against premier teams considered among the best around — like South Lyon, Plymouth Canton, Farmington Harrison, and Plymouth Salem (twice). Those four teams have a combined won-loss record of 28-4, and with 7-1 Novi up next, the nightmare continues.

"It hasn't been easy, but we face a tough schedule every year," Schumacher said. "It's nothing new to us."

Just like the first meeting, Salem tailback Ryan Johnson was the difference. But last Friday, he came up with big-play after big-play, including two rushing touchdowns, an interception and a 40-yard fumble recovery for another T.D. It was a game of big plays and Salem was making them all.

"We had more first downs and the total yardage numbers were almost identical," Schumacher said. "We moved the ball, but we had too many missed assignments and turnovers and almost every single one resulted in a big play for Salem."

"The turnovers killed us and if you do that against a good team, they will capitalize."

In the second quarter, Salem pounced on a fumble by Neil White after the Mustangs had moved the ball into scoring range. A 37-yard run by fullback Pat Bowie set up a two-yard plunge by Johnson. In all, the drive covered 77-yards.

Johnson then picked off a pass by Ryan Huzjak to set up the third score — a four-yard burst by Bowie. With time running out in the half, the Mustangs marched down to the Rocks 13, but Noel Korowin fumbled the opportunity away and the half ended 21-0.

The big plays continued in the third quarter when Bowie rambled 48-yards to make it 28-0 on Salem's first possession.

"(Bowie) made an excellent run," Schumacher said. "We had it defended and he got away, so all the credit goes to him. He made a great cut against the grain and he was gone."

From that point on, the game turned into the defensive struggle. But from Northville's point of view, it wasn't the most effective come-from-behind atmosphere, especially when trailing 28-0.

"We controlled the ball most of the third quarter, but it hardly matters when you don't put any points on the scoreboard," Schumacher said. "We had 25 offensive plays in the quarter to Salem's eight."

Before the quarter ended, Johnson delivered his final big-play, but it was a highly-controversial ruling. A pass from Huzjak to Jamie Miller appeared to be an incomplete pass, but the officials ruled it a catch and a fumble. Johnson was there, on the spot, to pick up the loose ball and run 40-yards for Salem's final score.

"I didn't see how they could call that a complete pass," Schumacher complained. "It was a poor call, simple as that. It was clear that the ball was never in (Miller's) possession. When it's an obvious call, you expect it to be made."

The play really didn't effect the outcome of the game, but it did add even more frustration to the Mustang contingent.

Early in the fourth, Northville broke the shutout with an impressive 13-play drive that covered 68-yards. Steve Bastian culminated the march with a four-yard run and then Huzjak took it in from the three on the three-point conversion.

"It was nice to end the game that way because we played hard and came back with a nice drive," Schumacher said. "We felt good about it because we didn't do anything to disgrace ourselves, like getting into scuffles or anything like that."

White led the Mustangs with 63 yards rushing on 18 carries and Bill Kelley added 54 on nine tries. Huzjak had one of his least-productive passing outings of the season (3-of-7, 45 yards).

Cagers use defense to defeat Churchill

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Defense was the best offense last week for the Northville girls' basketball squad.

In victories over Livonia Stevenson and Livonia Churchill, the Mustang defense held its opponents under double figures in six of the eight quarters and allowed only 55 total points in both games.

"It was a great defensive week," Northville Coach Ed Kritich said. "To give up an average of less than 30 points in two games is outstanding."

Defense was certainly the name of the game in the 52-23 win over Churchill on Oct. 19. Northville put the Chargers away in the first eight minutes of the contest by building a 17-3 lead. The margin hovered in the 15-point range through the next two quarters before the Mustangs delivered the knockout blow in the fourth.

"We beat (Churchill) by 24 the first time we played them," Kritich recalled. "This time, we got the early lead but then we weren't able to shake them in the middle two quarters."

The first quarter explosion was led by Maria MacInnis and Kate Holstein, who combined to score 12. But midway through the second, Holstein was whistled for her third foul and was forced to take a seat on the bench. Kritich brought in sophomore scoring-machine Kara McNeil and she poured in seven of the team's nine points before intermission.

"We needed someone to pick up the slack offensively and Kara did a great job," Kritich said. "It remained fairly close in the third but then I think (Churchill) kind of gave up in the fourth."

The Mustangs outscored the Chargers 17-4 to complete the rout.

MacInnis led all scorers with 16 (including two three-pointers) and McNeil chipped in 13. Holstein had eight points in limited action but did haul down 11 rebounds.

"Our defense shut them down," Kritich said. "We held them to five field goals for the game."

NORTHVILLE 39, LIVONIA STEVENSON 32: Two days earlier, the Mustangs (9-5 overall, 4-3 in the WLAAC) struggled offensively against the Spartans, but won the game at the defensive end — holding Stevenson to just 17 points through the first three quarters.

"It was a game where we didn't play our best," Kritich said. "It was nice to be able to win a game like that. These kind of wins make me smile because we had the guts to hang in there, be competitive, and win."

A three-pointer by point guard Sue LaPrad turned a 5-4 deficit into a 7-5 lead at the end of the first period, and it grew to 21-11 at halftime. In the second quarter, MacInnis and Holstein came to life offensively to score six and five points respectively.

Holstein scored five again in the third, but it was the only production Northville could manage. With two minutes remaining in the game, Stevenson pulled to within six, at 36-30, but never got any closer.

Holstein had another fine outing with 20 points. MacInnis was the only other player in double figures with 11.

"Our defense was able to shut them down in the first three quarters and that's why we won," Kritich said. "We're so young that we can't take any game for granted. With McNeil in the line-up, we have three juniors and two sophomores out there, and we are still able to be competitive. "Our goal is to have a winning season. We need one more to at least break even, but our next three games will be very tough. It will be a challenge because it's three teams we haven't beat yet — Plymouth Canton, Livonia Franklin and Walled Lake Western."

Fall tourney assignments announced

The Michigan High School Athletic Association (MHSAA) has released team assignments for all fall sports tournaments. As it has been for years, Novi and Northville High Schools will again be paired together at almost every junction throughout the district, regional and final tournament levels.

Here's a closer look:

FOOTBALL: Unlike the rest of the fall sports, football has its own points system and is designed to allow only 16 teams from each of the four classes into the playoff format. Both Novi and Northville are in Region II, but the Wildcats are the only legitimate contender for a berth in the playoffs. As of Oct. 18, Novi (6-1) was eighth in the Region II points system and will need to move into the top four in order to make its third straight appearance in the Class A tournament. Northville, who's never made the MHSAA football playoffs, has no chance of making the field with just two victories so far this season.

BASKETBALL: For the first time ever, Novi and Northville will be hosting their own Class A District Tournaments in the same year. Northville will play host to four other teams on Nov. 13-18, including Plymouth Canton, Plymouth Salem, Livonia Ladywood and Livonia Stevenson. The winner will move on to Regional play on Nov. 20-22 at Trenton against the Romulus District representative. From Nov. 13-18 Novi will be the site of a five-team district field including Farmington Hills, Mercy, North Farmington, Walled

League Line

Soccer: Northville Cup results

BOYS UNDER 18: Marc Bernal scored a goal for the Northville Hot Spurs but the team fell to Livonia 3, 1-0. Jason Crandall, Jason Abbott and Josh Minard were the standouts for the Spurs. The Northville Express rolled over Livonia No. 5 2-1 thanks to goals by Ryan Schreiber and Bobby Allan. The defensive MVPs for the winners were Mark Trudell and Enck Marold. Plymouth No. 9 edged Northville Arsenal 2-1. Eric Rietzbach scored the lone Arsenal goal on an assist from Garrett Brun. Plymouth No. 7 nipped the Northville Rowdies 1-0. The MVPs in the game included David Cook, Miguel Martinez and Michael Teagan.

GIRLS UNDER 18: In Northville Cup first round action the Northville Express blanked Northville United 3-0 on goals by Enca Winn (2) and Carne Wasalaski. Kelley Dunkerley was the defensive standout. Northville Arsenal received goals from Lori Carboit and Emily Howland on route to a 2-1 victory over Plymouth No. 1. Jessica Hultman and Amanda Shepard were cited for their fine play. Northville United and Lakes No. 2 battled to a scoreless tie. The Defensive standouts included Melissa Ponder and Blakely Barry. Gena DelTatto scored twice to lead the Northville Express to a 2-1 triumph over Farmington. Enca Winn and Brandi Beckwith were the offensive and defensive MVPs respectively.

BOYS UNDER 12: In the Northville Cup championship game Arsenal slipped past the Express 2-1 on a goal by Adam Blotkamp. The game-winner came on a penalty kick with no time remaining in the first half. The first Arsenal goal came from Justin Schlanser. Andrew Weyer scored a pair of goals (on assists from Chris Luebke), but it wasn't enough as the Northville Sting fell to Lakes 4-2. Mark Russell, Jeff Husak and Steve Wecksel all had an impressive game. Northville Arsenal and Farmington tied 1-1. Justin Schlanser scored the goal for Arsenal and the MVPs were Bobby Smith and J.D. Robison. Eric Arnold and Ben Szostek scored goals to help the Northville Express tie Plymouth No. 2. The standouts included J.J. Lin, Tim Burke, Ryan Rettman and Nick Kothan. In a true defensive struggle, Northville United and Now No. 3 played to a 0-0 tie. The United goalkeepers — Gabriel Cnstol and Brad Inman — shared the shut out.

COLTS: J.V. improves to 4-1

VARSITY: The Nov-Northville Colts dropped back to their losing ways after winning the season's first game a week earlier. The Colts were shutout 21-0 by the Plymouth-Canton Steelers despite playing a fine defensive game.

JUNIOR VARSITY: The J.V. Colts improved their record to 4-1 with an impressive 19-7 win over the Plymouth-Canton Steelers. Brandon Spence opened the scoring with a 70-yard run on the second play from scrimmage. Justin Cataldo's extra points made it 7-0. Midway through the second period, Todd Zayti hit Cataldo for a 40-yard reception and that set up a quarterback sneak by Zayti for a touchdown. The score was 13-0 at the half. The final score for the Colts came in the third quarter when Ryan Van Poperin connected with Brett Inland for a 35-yard touchdown pass. The Steelers added a late TD to provide the final margin of victory. Spence rushed for 202 yards on 12 carries in the game and was the MVP.

FRESHMAN: The Colts freshman squad had little trouble with the Steelers as they cruised to a 21-0 shutout. In the first quarter, Nick Biagini's 31 yard pass to Brian Cody set up the first score. Cody scored the Colts' second touchdown in the second quarter on an 11-yard run and added a third later in the game on a 33-yard run. Defensively, the Colts were led by James Zayti, Pat Powers, John McMahon and Biagini.

Mustang runners suffer one-point defeat

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Human nature is such that one-point defeats are much more painful than being on the short end of a 20-point blowout.

The Northville boy's cross country squad found that out on Oct. 19 against Livonia Franklin. Despite placing five runners in the top 10 places, the Mustangs fell just short, 27-28, against the Patriots. Northville Coach Ed Gabrys admitted "it was a heck of a meet," but that fact didn't make the outcome any easier to swallow.

"So far this season, we've lost to Franklin and Churchill by a combined total of four points," Gabrys lamented. "If we could have pulled out one of those, we'd be tied for third place in the division instead of down in fifth.

"I'm tired of moral victories."

On the surface, it's kind of hard to figure out how the Mustangs lost the meet. The team looked strong, ran well and placed two runners in the top three places.

"But we needed either our third, fourth or fifth runners — one of them — to place fifth, seventh or ninth overall," Gabrys explained. "We were one place short in each instance. If we'd have done that, we would have been the one-point winner."

Cass Benton Park was muddy, with snow along the sides of the course. As a result the turns were a bit slick and that drove the times up.

"It was not ideal conditions, but our top five kids all averaged within 40 seconds of their personal bests, so I can't complain about the times," Gabrys said.

The highlight of the meet was sophomore Steve Coon's incredible effort. Coon won the race in 17:32 and his time was just eight seconds off his Cass Benton record.

"Steve had his mind made up that he was going to run well and he did it," Gabrys said. "I believe running in the snow or in the mud is more of a mental barrier than a physical one. You know the times are going to increase so you have to go out for positions. We just came up a little short."

Jon Meek was the next Northville runner to cross the finish line, and third overall, in a time of 19:01. He was followed by Jason Hoose in sixth place (19:42), Karl Goerky in eighth (19:55) and Aaron Wiseley in 10th (20:37).

"(Franklin) is a good team — it was just one of those things," Gabrys said. "We'll get another shot at them and Churchill at the WLAA Meet."

The conference championships are scheduled for Oct. 25 (after Record deadline). The Mustangs will then travel to West Bloomfield for the MHSAA Regional Meet, to be held on Oct. 28 at Marshbank Metropark.

"With Coon running as well as he has been, he'll do well as an individual in both," Gabrys said. "He's peaking at the right time. As for the team, I think we're going to head into the WLAA Meet fairly hungry, so I don't foresee any letdown."

Patriots slip and slide past harriers 17-40

When the Northville and Livonia Franklin girls' cross country teams met at Cass Benton Park, the runners could have used snowmobile boots instead of cleats.

The conditions were terrible, with snow on the ground, frozen rain falling and temperatures hovering near freezing, but all that didn't stop the Patriots as they crushed the Mustangs 17-40.

"I thought it would be a little close, but we were without our number three runner, Lisa Brown, and that made a difference," Northville Coach Nick Dunwoodie said. "It was slippery and we ran about as well as we could. Franklin has a pretty good team."

The first Mustang to cross the finish line was Marcie Dart. Her time of 22:38 was good for fourth overall, but was only 26 seconds off the pace. The rest of Northville's top five finishers included Rozann Staknis in seventh place (23:46), Cheryl Mittman and Angie Nelson in 10th (24:38 for both) and Rachel Davis in 12th (25:00). Brown was slowed by an illness and missed the meet.

"I've really got nothing against our performance," Dunwoodie said. "The conditions were lousy and we had a hard time adjusting to it.

Franklin is a lot like Plymouth Canton, they are a big team as far as numbers, and we couldn't keep up with that kind of depth."

Northville (3-2 in the WLAA, 3-3 overall) will get a chance to see all 12 conference teams in the WLAA Meet on Oct. 25 (after Record deadline).

"If we can get everybody healthy, we could place as high as sixth or as low as ninth," Dunwoodie said. "It all depends on how healthy we are and how well we run. It's hard to tell because there are several teams we haven't seen much of this season."

Golfer battles weather at MHSAA Class A Meet

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

Jason Sherman learned a few things the hard way last weekend in his appearance at the MHSAA State Golf Meet at Forest Akers Golf Course in East Lansing

The Northville junior was the only local golfer to qualify for the meet as an individual, but 25-mile per hour winds, and near-freezing temperatures greeted him on Saturday. Sherman came away with a 46-40 — 86 effort for the day, despite the conditions, but left the meet feeling a bit disappointed.

"All things considered, I did O.K., but I'd like to go back next year and prove that I can play even better," he said. "There were only five sub-80 scores out of 140 golfers, so I guess an 86 is alright. The thing that bothers me is that I know I can play even better."

Sherman conquered the 6,400-yard, par 71 West Course on the campus of Michigan State University very effectively for the first seven holes — but then disaster struck. A pair of triple-bogies, back-to-back, took him out of the running for a top-10 finish.

"I was playing at even par for the first seven holes, but then I four-putted the next two holes and that was the end," Sherman recalled. "I don't think I could have won it, but after that happened, I took myself out of it — I could have vied for a top-five finish."

As it was, Sherman placed somewhere in the middle of the pack. At press time, even Sherman didn't know exactly where.

Sherman's problem's started on the eighth hole. He reached the green of the par-five hole in four shots and had an eight-foot putt for par.

"The conditions made the greens very unpredictable," Sherman explained. "I put my par putt past the hole by six feet and then it took me three more to get it down."

"Then, I made the same mistake on the next hole I was very upset with myself — it was really just a lack of concentration."

Sherman headed into the meet on the hot streak, but the weather conditions (snow, wind) prior to the weekend prevented him from getting in any practice rounds.

"The conditions were almost intolerable, but Jason didn't use that as an excuse," Northville Coach Don Morgan said. "He lost his composure a little bit when he had those two, triple-bogies. But he got it back and played pretty well, and that's a credit to him. With the weather the way it was, you can't be too unhappy with an 86."

Sherman had never played at Forest Akers before, but he was familiar with the course. Back in 1986, he caddied for Northville's Kevin Telepo at the State Meet.

"I was a freshman and Kevin was a junior," Sherman said. "It gave me a good idea what to expect."

Win streak reaches 3 for soccer team

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

It's never to late to turn around a season

That's what Northville soccer Coach Dave Yezback has been preaching lately and it appears the Mustangs are listening. It was just a few weeks ago that Northville dropped five games in a row to fall to 4-9 overall. In that skid, the Mustangs managed to score just one goal.

But since then, the team has built a modest three-game winning streak — including a pair of victories last week over capable teams like Novi and Walled Lake Central. And in those three games, the Northville offense has scored five goals. It may not seem like much, but it's a big improvement.

"Five goals in three games isn't a lot, but it ended an awful scoring drought we were going through," Yezback said. "One of the big differences is that we are playing teams that are competitive with us, but not able to overpower us. In our losing streak, we played teams like Livonia Churchill, Catholic Central and Ann Arbor Pioneer — some of the best teams in the state — and that was a big factor."

In WLLA cross-over playoff action on Oct. 18, the Mustangs beat Central, 2-0, for the second time this season. It was the battle between the fourth-place Western Division team (Northville) and its Lakes Division counterpart.

"Walled Lake Central is an up and coming program," Yezback said. "The first half was very close, but I thought we started to dominate things in the second half."

Neither team scored in the first 40 minutes, and even though the Mustangs had a 10-5 shots on goal advantage, it seemed much closer because the Vikings made the most of their opportunities with good, quality scoring chances.

But that changed early in the second half. Just three minutes in, Brad Maliszewski broke the tie with a goal off a pass from Steve Lang. A minute later, Maliszewski then fed Dan Brugeman with a cross in front of the Central goal, and he guided the ball into the open net. Although Northville had several more scoring opportunities the rest of the way, the game ended 2-0.

"We moved the ball in and had some nice chances in the second half," Yezback said.

In the final 40 minutes, the Mustangs had 11 shots on goal to Central's three, and ended up with a 21-8 advantage for the match.

The win gives Northville (5-6 in the WLLA, 7-10 overall) sole possession of eighth place in the WLLA.

NORTHVILLE 1, NOVI 0: The Mustangs lost the statistical battle on Oct. 16 against the Wildcats, but won the war with the kind of hard-fought tussle you expect when these two neighboring schools hook up on the athletic field.

"We were happy to get the win but it didn't come easy," Yezback said. "Novi is a good team — they were a very good match for us."

The lone goal of the game happened about 10-minutes into the second half. Matt Mills took a crossing pass from Chris Hinz and beat Wildcat goaltender Nat Scapatucci to the wide side.

"The Novi defense was stiff," Yezback said. "They held us to mostly ineffective shots, but we did get the one that made the difference."

"I thought we played fairly well. We moved the ball around with good passing, trying to develop some offense. Our problem is still our inability to finish — getting into the scoring third of the field and actually converting."

For the match, the 'Cats had a 12-9 edge, but goalie Larry Osiecki had another fine game.

"Larry's done an outstanding job all year," Yezback said. "He's stopped 170 of 190 shots so far — that's not a bad percentage of saves. Nobody should have to turn back that many, but our defense is young and we have improved remarkably in the area."

"Larry made a couple particularly good saves. I'd say Novi had four real good shots and Larry stopped them all. Two of them, I still don't know how he did it."

Yezback was also pleased with the play of sophomore defensive halfback Brandon Cuadra.

Northville is the host of the local MHSAA District Tournament this weekend. The Mustangs were scheduled to take on the winner of the Churchill-North Farmington game in the semifinal round on Oct. 18 (after Record deadline). The finals will be held at 2 p.m. at the Northville field on Oct. 28.

Mustangs of the Week

MARIA MACINNIS

The development of junior forward Maria Macinnis as an offensive threat has been one of the key factors in Northville's resurgence on the basketball court. Macinnis is the Mustangs second leading scorer (7.1 points per game) and leads the area in three-point shooting. In a 52-23 win over Livonia Churchill last week, Macinnis poured in a game-high 16 points, including a trio of three-pointers. In a 39-33 triumph over Livonia Stevenson earlier in the week, she added 11 points. We think Macinnis is a worthy recipient as one of our 'Mustangs of the Week.'

BRAD MALISZEWSKI

A lot of criticism has been directed at Northville's offensive players during the 1989 soccer season, but last week, the Mustangs won a pair of games and the biggest was a 2-0 WLLA Playoff triumph over Walled Lake Central. The offensive star of the game was senior forward Brad Maliszewski, and we think he deserves 'Mustang of the Week' honors for his performance. Early in the second half of the game on Oct. 18, Maliszewski took a pass from Steve Lang and put it into the back of the net, breaking a scoreless tie. Not more than a minute later, Maliszewski fed teammate Dan Brugeman for the game's only other score. The win gave Northville solo possession of eighth place in the conference.

Tankers scramble for victory over Novi

By NEIL GEOGHEGAN

The Novi tankers didn't win their dual meet against Northville on Oct. 17, but the Wildcats performed surprisingly well and had the highly-favored Mustangs scrambling. Northville went on a 26-6 run midway through the contest to erase a 10-point deficit and eventually slip past stubborn Novi 96-76, but it certainly wasn't easy.

"We kind of surprised them at the beginning of the meet and they had to scramble a bit in the middle to regain control," Wildcat Coach Larry Teahan said. "It was a good meet."

After four events, Novi had built a 36-26 lead, but Northville's superior depth in events like diving and the 100-yard butterfly turned it around. The 'Cats managed to take six of the 11 firsts, but were outpointed on a number of occasions due to the depth situation.

"They really picked it up a notch in diving and the 100 butterfly and there really wasn't much we could do," Teahan recalled. "We swam very well but Northville has a lot of depth and we couldn't keep up with them in some areas."

Senior Debbie Buell paced the Mustangs with individual wins in the 100 butterfly (1:05.28) and the 100 breaststroke (1:14.56). The rest of the wins came from Allison Sieving in the 200 IM (2:23.86), Barb Woodruff in diving (176.55 points) and Claire Cryderman in the 500 freestyle (5:30.49).

The Northville seconds included Jodi Wesley in the 100 butterfly (1:05.28) and the 100 backstroke (1:07.32), Kathy Lang in the 200 freestyle (2:12.54), Megan Holmberg in the 50 freestyle (26.69), Beth Frayne in diving (169.55 points) and Pam Holdridge in the 100 freestyle (59.00). The thirds came from Erica Anderson in the 200 freestyle (2:17.74), Mia DeHart in diving (169.45 points), Teri Juhasz in the 100 butterfly (1:07.12), Lang in the 100 freestyle (1:00.28), Kristen Woodsum in the 500 freestyle (6:02.6), Holmberg in the 100 backstroke (1:08.59) and Michelle Fetterman in the 100 breaststroke (1:29.39).

"(Northville) was swimming pretty easy in the early part of the meet, but when things got tight, they took control," Teahan said. "They are a very tough team."

NORTHVILLE 50, PLYMOUTH CANTON 33: The tankers rebounded two days later to beat the Chiefs at home in a crucial WLLA Western Division clash.

The Mustangs registered eight victories, including a pair by Wesley in the 200 IM and the 100 freestyle. The other wins came from Holmberg in the 50 freestyle, Frayne in diving, Holdridge in the 100 butterfly, Juhasz in the 100 breaststroke and the two relay teams. The 200 medley squad — with Holmberg, Juhasz, Holdridge and Lang — were victorious, as was the 400 freestyle team featuring Cryderman, Buell, Lang and Wesley.

The Northville runner-up finishes included Buell in the 200 freestyle and the 100 butterfly, Juhasz in the 200 IM, Cryderman in the 500 freestyle, Holmberg in the 100 backstroke and Holdridge in the 100 breaststroke. The thirds came courtesy of Cryderman in the 200 freestyle and Lang in the 500 freestyle.

Northville (6-2 overall) will host Livonia Franklin tonight (Oct. 26) in another key WLLA dual meet.

CHUCK DALY SAYS, "CHOOSE MET AND EMPIRE OF AMERICA FOR AFFORDABLE COLLEGE TUITION!"

Chuck Daly knows the smart way to finance your MET is with a loan from Empire of America!

We'll deliver a credit answer in just two days, so there's plenty of time to meet the November 30 MET deadline. What's more, you'll find a variety of loans for the full finance amount, all at competitive rates!

Visit your nearby Empire of America branch for complete details. Or call SMARTLINE® toll-free at 1-800-843-2443, seven days a week from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. And get tomorrow's tuition at today's prices!

VARIABLE RATE*	FIXED RATE
9.75% <small>A PR up to 18 years</small>	11.95% <small>A PR up to ten years</small>

*This is our October 1989 starting A PR. A 14.75% A PR Cap applies. The starting A PR is a special introductory rate for the first six months of your loan, at which time the regular A PR (10.87% in October 1989) goes into effect. For example, based on the current index, the regular monthly payment for each $1,000, borrowed on an 18-year loan would be $9.94 for the first six payments (based on a 9.75% A PR) and $10.56 for the remaining 210 payments (based on a 10.87% A PR). The overall A PR for the entire loan term in the example would be 10.84%. Of course, A PR and payment changes after the introductory period may occur if the index varies at the time rate changes are determined.

**If you choose a fixed rate ten-year loan, your monthly payment would be $14.32 for each $1,000 borrowed.

RECREATION BRIEFS

COACHES WANTED: Northville High School has two coaching vacancies: ninth grade girls volleyball and varsity wrestling assistant. Anyone interested should contact Northville Athletic Director Dennis Colligan at 344-8403.

BOYS BASKETBALL: The Northville Recreation Department is accepting registration for boys basketball through Nov. 22. The games will be played on Saturdays from January through March and coaches are needed for all grades.

Fees are $28 (4th-7th grade) and $33 (8th-12th grade).

INDOOR SOCCER FACILITY: Instructional, recreational, select, premier, coed and over-30 men's and women's soccer leagues are available at the Total Soccer Indoor Facility on 23996 Freeway Park Dr. in Farmington Hills.

League play begins Oct. 27 and the facility is open seven days a week. A special instructional group for players age 5-8 is also offered by former World Cup player Rocco Mitkov.

For more information, call Kathy Coyne at 427-3336.

NORTHVILLE SKI TEAM: The Northville High School Ski Team will have an organizational meeting on Nov. 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school forum room. All male and female students (and parents) interested in forming a coed downhill ski team to compete against other area schools are asked to attend.

The meets would be mid-week and the season would start in January and run through part of February. For additional information, please call Sue Kissinger at 348-2258 or Bob Neff at 348-1977.

ADULT BASKETBALL: Registrations for the Northville Adult Winter Basketball League will be accepted through Nov. 8. All teams may register during these dates. Returning teams will be guaranteed a space if registered by Nov. 8.

Games will be played on Sundays at the Northville Community Center beginning Dec. 3. League entry fee is $275 plus $15 officials fee per team, per game.

Call 349-0203 for more information.

NOVI TRACKERS: Membership in the Novi Trackers Running Club is open to all interested individuals regardless of age, sex or skill level.

Prospective members are invited to join the Trackers for either or both of their twice-weekly runs. The group meets Wednesdays at Novi High School at 6:30 p.m. and Saturdays at O'Sheehan's on Seven Mile in Northville at 8 a.m.

More information about membership in the Trackers is available by calling the Novi Parks and Recreation at 347-0400 or Larry Molloy at 474-8277.

VOLLEYBALL FESTIVAL: Northville Charley's will sponsor a mixed volleyball tournament on the front lawn of the restaurant nightly from 6-8 p.m. through Oct. 27.

Northville Charley's is located on Seven Mile in Northville Township. Proceeds will be given to Our Lady of Providence Center For Handicapped Children on Beck Road in Northville.

BOATING EDUCATION COURSE: The United States Coast Guard is conducting a public education course to educate the boating public and create safety-awareness when operating a boat.

There will be a fee for the textbook and all classes will be conducted by qualified Auxiliary instructors. For more information call 533-0579.

Mardossian wins at Ohio tournament

For all those wrestling fans in the area who were thrilled by Northville's championship performance last winter, there could be more to come.

A precursor to success this season is how well the Mustangs have performed in off-season tournaments. On Oct. 14, three members of the 1989 Northville team traveled to Westerville, Ohio for an Early Bird Tournament, and the results were very encouraging indeed.

The three were senior Garnet Potter, junior Brandon Mardossian and freshman Matt Allison, and all three placed among the top three in their age and weight classifications, with Mardossian leading the way with an individual title.

Mardossian went 7-0 in the under-16, 119 weight class to take the title. He registered 16 takedowns in the seven matches and added four pins and three decisions (scores were 12-2, 4-0, 4-0). In the finals, Mardossian grabbed a 4-0 decision over Mike Wilson of Graham, Ohio.

"Ohio is a very tough wrestling state, so to place first in a division

'Ohio is a very tough wrestling state, so to place first in a division featuring 17 guys is quite an impressive accomplishment.'

— Bob Boshoven
Northville Wrestling Coach

featuring 17 guys is quite an impressive accomplishment," said Bob Boshoven, who was the Northville assistant coach last season and is expected to take over the head coaching reins, replacing the retired Jack Townsley. "To have 16 takedowns and only one against means that Brandon dominated things."

For Potter, his third place finish in the under-18, 162-pound division was quite incredible. Less than 24-hours earlier, he was the starting linebacker for the Northville football team, who fell to Livonia Franklin 23-7. Potter won four of five matches, including a win over Saul Alvarez, a three-time state meet qualifier from Hamilton, Ohio.

"You could see that by the final match of the day, the only one Garnet lost, he just ran out of gas," Boshoven said. "It's tough on your body to play a football game and then come back and wrestle the next day."

Allison took third place in the under-16, 105 pound division, and could be a star of the future for the Mustangs.

"All three of the guys did a fantastic job," Boshoven said.

Hit the gym before the ski slopes

By STEPHEN KELLMAN

Attention, skiers Before you head out to the slopes this season, consider hitting the gym. A proper exercise regimen could help keep you from hitting the slopes harder than you'd like.

Skiing, both downhill and cross-country, requires different sets of muscles than many other sports, and both skiing experts and fitness club officials recommend a pre-ski regimen of lower-body workouts and aerobic routines to prepare for the coming ski season.

"Skiing is a lot of cardiovascular exercise," said David Sicheneder, manager of the Bavarian Village Ski Shop in Novi. He suggested an exercise routine that included jogging or walking to exercise the heart and keep the lower body in tone.

Sicheneder insisted that a person does not need to be an athlete to participate in the sport, due to the wide variety of terrains available to skiers of all types.

Mike Nowak, manager of the Bavarian Village Ski Shop in Farmington Hills, recommended a routine that increases lower body strength and balance. "You want to work on aerobic situations so your heart rate and air intake are good," he added. "That allows you to ski up in the thin air at high altitudes."

Ski magazines also advertise exercise equipment that can be helpful in keeping yourself in shape throughout the year, he said. For example, ski machines let users imitate the arm and leg motion of cross-country skiing, and exercise the required muscles.

"Soccer's a good sport, too," Nowak said. Any competent fitness instructor can design an exercise routine to help skiers, he added.

Though few area health clubs offer a program designed specifically for skiers, several club managers described the types of exercises that would be helpful. "You'd want basically to do an overall workout," said Scott Elliot of the Vic Tanny Health Club in Novi. Such a workout would include circuit and cardiovascular training, and the use of rowing and climbing machines.

Darcy Todd, assistant manager of the Vic Tanny Health Club in Plymouth, suggested several types of exercise. "You need to strengthen up the thighs," she said, "because they're going to absorb the shock from the skis."

Aerobic dancing would be a particularly helpful exercise, she said, "because at that point you're developing body awareness and balance, important skills for skiing moguls."

Like the others, Todd recommended a combination of strength training and aerobic conditioning.

Once you're in shape, you should have plenty of opportunity for quality skiing this season. "If the moisture content earlier this year is any indication," Nowak said, "we could be in for a real heavy winter."

Last year was a record-setting season for natural snowfall to the north, according to Nowak, and a successful skiing season despite a slight thaw in January.

This year, the state experienced its earliest recorded snowfall of over one inch, when the region was blanketed with nearly a quarter foot of the white stuff on Oct. 19. Forecasters are predicting a colder winter and more precipitation than usual, Sicheneder added, which should add up to more snow.

Alpine and nordic buffs also have a wide range of ski areas to choose from in the area. Maybury State Park, Oak Point and Brighton Country Club all offer cross-country skiing, as do nearly all of the area's metroparks. Many of the metroparks also offer rental of cross-country ski equipment.

Mount Brighton is one of the nearest downhill areas, 15 minutes away from Northville and Novi, while Alpine Valley in Highland, Pine Knob in Clarkston, and Mount Holly in Holly are all within an hour's drive.

Fitness club officials recommend a pre-ski regimen of lower-body workouts and aerobic routines

Hopital offers series on blood pressure

Learning how to control your blood pressure is the subject of "Low Down on High Blood Pressure," a series of five classes offered at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia.

Classes are held Tuesdays from Nov. 7 through Dec. 5, from 7-9 p.m. A course fee of $30 is required. Register by calling 464-4800, ext. 2297, by Oct. 31.

CHOLESTEROL CLASSES: Learn to lower your cholesterol. The Oakland County Health Division is offering cholesterol education class at its Southfield office and at Troy High School. The Southfield class will meet Oct. 25, Nov. 1 and Nov. 8 from 7-9 p.m., and the Troy class will meet Nov. 2, 9 and 16 from 6:30-8:30 p.m. The cost is $6. For more information, call 858-5306.

CPR CLASSES: Botsford General Hospital in Farmington Hills is offering adult CPR classes and infant/child CPR classes.

The adult program is offered the first Thursday of every month in the Administration and Education Center from 7-10 p.m. Pre-registration is required.

The infant/child program is offered the first Monday of every month in the Administration and Education Center from 7-10 p.m. Pre-registration is also required.

Fee is $5 for each class. Call 471-8090 for more information.

A cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) class is also offered by Schoolcraft College on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6-10 p.m.

An American Red Cross CPR certification card is issued upon successful completion of the course. Cost is $18. For more information call 591-6400, extension 410.

FREE HEALTH SPEAKERS: Catherine McAuley Health Center is offering health care professionals to speak to clubs, community groups and schools interested in learning more about health care and other medical issues through McAuley's Speaker's Bureau.

Fitness Notes

"Speakers are provided free of charge to keep audiences up to date on the latest in medicine, technology and the rapidly changing business of health care," said Liz Peterson, director of community relations.

Just some of the topics the speakers can address include: "Eating Economically and Nutritionally," "Superwoman Syndrome," "AIDS," "Stress," "Heart Disease: Treatment and Prevention," "Alzheimer's" and "Characteristics of Chemical Dependency."

Speakers are available for groups of 15 to 200 and will adjust their presentations to the needs and time requirements of organizations.

OPEN SWIMMING: Open swimming at the Northville High School pool has resumed. The fee is $1 per person and is payable at the door.

The fall open swimming schedule through Nov. 15 is as follows: Monday from 7:15-8:15 p.m., Wednesday from 7:15-8:30 p.m., and Saturday from 1:30-3 p.m. An adult lap swim is also slated for Wednesday from 8:30-9:30 p.m.

HEALTH CLUB: Schoolcraft College is offering a "health club" the whole family can use.

The college offers a "Sunday Health Club" designed to enable families to enjoy unstructured activity in a modern, fully equipped physical education facility that includes gyms, racquetball courts, weight machines, a swimming pool and a sauna. The Sunday Health Club runs 13 weeks and began Sept. 17. The cost is $25 for individuals and $65 for families.

"Thursday Gym and Swim" is an open program organized around the use of health facilities (gym, pool, weight training equipment, handball / racquetball courts and a sauna). The pool is used primarily for swimming laps. The gym and pool will be open Thursdays from 6-9:40 p.m. for the next 11 weeks. The cost is $35 for individuals and $100 for families.

The "Saturday Gym and Swim" Program makes the gym and pool available on Saturdays from 8 a.m. to noon. A $2 fee will be charged at the door. The pool is used primarily for swimming laps.

Schoolcraft College is located at 18600 Haggerty Road between Six and Seven Mile in Livonia. For more information call 462-4413.

BREAST AND SKIN CLINICS: Breast and skin clinics will be held at St. Mary Hospital at Five Mile and Levan Road in Livonia on the following dates: Oct. 25, Nov. 8 and Dec. 6. All sessions will run from 3:10 to 5:10 p.m.

The clinics include breast examination by a staff physician, a risk / history evaluation for breast and skin tumors, and breast self-examination instruction. The fee for the clinic is $10.

Appointments are necessary for the clinic. For an appointment or additional information, call 464-4800, ext. 2433.

PRE-NATAL EXERCISE: Debra Hoppe leads pre-natal / post-partum exercise classes at the Providence Hospital Novi Center every Saturday at 10 a.m.

Hoppe is a member of IDEA (the association for fitness professionals) and certified through the IDEA Foundation.

Classes are ongoing, and participants may enroll at any time by calling 227-7284. A physician consent form is necessary to participate.

Fitness Tips

Osteoporosis affects women more than men

By SYLVA DVORAK, M.S. and MARGARET FALAHEE, R.N.

Osteoporosis: how do you prevent it? How do you know if you have it? What can you do to help it if you do?

Osteoporosis is a disease that is caused by weakening bones. As bones weaken and diminish with age and calcium loss, they may collapse and break. The bones that are most often affected by this process are the spine, the wrist, and the hip bones.

Although some men do develop osteoporosis, women are affected by the disease far more than men. This is because men generally have larger bones and muscles, get more exercise and consume more calcium than women.

Although osteoporosis is not usually diagnosed until age 60 to 65, it can begin much sooner. Until early adulthood, bone is being built, but by the mid-30s both men and women begin to experience a slight and gradual loss of bone mass. After menopause, women lose bone mass much more rapidly than men. Then, around age 65, bone loss slows down.

Below is a list of risk factors associated with osteoporosis.

Primary

- sex (females more likely)
- slender body build

Secondary

- alcohol abuse
- tobacco abuse
- calcium deficiency
- family history
- sedentary life-style
- excessive drug use (anti-convulsants, thyroid hormone)

Once osteoporosis develops, nothing will return bone to its previous strength; therefore, the emphasis is on prevention.

Upright activity, like walking or jogging, causes gravity to produce movement and muscle pull on the bone in such a way to help preserve bone mass.

A diet that is high in calcium-rich foods and which includes a calcium supplement is recommended for all women.

Sunlight — it is important to spend time outdoors whenever possible. Sunlight helps the body create the active form of vitamin D that helps metabolize calcium.

Most bone specialists recommend 1,000 mg of calcium a day for premenopausal women and up to 1,500 mg of calcium for post-menopausal women.

A supplement which has calcium carbonate is most efficient in its delivery of calcium.

Foods high in calcium:

- dairy products including skim milk and cheese
- early green vegetables-including broccoli, collards and spinach
- salmon and raw oysters

The Northville Record is working with medical authorities at the University of Michigan Medical Center (M-Care) in Northville to provide up-to-date information on a variety of health-related topics. The series is coordinated by Peg Campbell of the M-Care staff.

TAX DEDUCTION for your Used Ski Equipment

Your Tax Deduction is Their Big Break

This is your chance to clear out all your used ski equipment and clothing and trade it in for a tax deduction.

We're donating it to the SIA Ski Educational Foundation, a charitable organization, which will distribute it to other organizations such as the Special Olympics.

You get the tax break and some special athletes get a whole new start on the slopes.
